Filibuster Ends In Austin

AUSTIN (UP)—Sen. Henry Gonzalez today ended his one-man filibuster against a key measure of Gov. Price Daniel's special session segregation program at 7 a. m., 20 hours and six minutes after he started talking.

Since 10:54 a. m. Thursday, Gonzalez had denounced a measure creating a $50,000 fund to defend local school districts named in anti-segregation suits.

'Massive' Missile Output Rushed

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. missile expeditors pushed today toward a production order which a key congressman said would gear missile output for the first time on a "massive" basis.

There were indications the order would put both the Army Jupiter and the Air Force Thor 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missiles into full scale production, instead of eliminating one of them. Both have been tested successfully.

The nation's defense was a primary target for President Eisenhower, tackling a pile of work after his Georgia golf vacation. He held a regular weekly cabinet meeting this morning and was to confer this afternoon with the National Security Council.

A Pentagon conference between Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Missile Director William M. Holaday Thursday gave a hint something may be in the wind for the missile program.

Expectations Action Soon
Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) forecast top-level production decisions "very soon" probably in a few days, Mahon is chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee investigating the U. S. missile lag behind Russia.

After secret hearings with top defense officials Mahon and members of his committee said they would not be surprised to see the Thor-Jupiter controversy resolved by an order to build both.

The subcommittee is flying today to the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., where the Jupiter was developed and later will inspect the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile test range and a missile tracking station in Puerto Rico.

At the same time administration officials lifted the lid on more developments in the missile race with Russia.

Missile Base Started
A huge missile base will be started next year at Cheyenne, Wyo., apparently for use in case of war to fire the 5,000-mile Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, which is still being developed.

Air Force Production Chief Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine said the Air Force right now could develop and launch a space ship of "considerable size." Irvine said research is being conducted on both "manned ballistic missiles" and "space platforms" to orbit around the globe.

Mahon said he was encouraged by what he learned at the hearings. He said there is no doubt this country now lags behind Russia, both in the intermediate and the intercontinental range missile, but that he believes the lag now can be overcome.

Reds Strengthen Ties In Fight On 'Imperialism'

By WHITMAN BASSOW
United Press Staff Correspondent
MOSCOW (UP)—Leaders of the Communist world, except Marshal Tito, called today for the strengthening of military ties in their fight against "imperialism."

A 12-nation communique which was not signed by Yugoslavia also called for "the strengthening of the unity and fraternal cooperation" of Communist and workers parties, the international working class and national liberation movements.

The Communist leaders gathered in Moscow as part of the 40th anniversary celebrations of the Bolshevik revolution. Those present included Mao Tse-tung of Communist China, Wladyslaw Gomułka of Poland and Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

Lists Signers
The communique itself was signed by Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Viet Nam, East Germany, Communist China, North Korea, Mongolia, Poland, Romania, Russia and Czechoslovakia.

Noticeably absent was Tito who did not attend the Moscow celebrations or the Communist meetings because of an attack of lumbago from which he is now reported recovering.

The communique warned that if "bellicose imperialist maniacs" venture to start a war "imperialism will doom itself to destruction."

"The socialist countries are against the division of the world into military blocs," the communique said.

Great Propaganda Value
"The prestige and propaganda value to be gained from a premier launching of an earth satellite, whether instrumented or not, undoubtedly present a circumstance far too attractive for the opportunists in the Kremlin to ignore," the report said.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of a House Information subcommittee, sharply criticized the Air Force for failing to act on the warning and for following a "policy of being damned" information public in not alerting the American people.

Funeral services for Thomas Walker Alexander will be held at 10:30 tomorrow morning in the Duenkel-Carmichael Chapel with Rev. Jerry Spears, former pastor of the Barrett Mission, officiating.

Mr. Alexander was found in the charred remains of his residence at 219 1/2 W. Craven at approximately 2 yesterday morning by local firemen after they extinguished a blaze in the small house.

Local officials believe that the fire started near a heating stove and when Mr. Alexander either attempted to put out the fire or to leave the burning residence, he fell onto the stove.

Survivors include one son, Walter Edward Alexander of Stratmore, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Jennie Hopkins of Greenville; four nephews, James and Bill Alexander, both of Pampa; Earl Alexander of White Deer, and Carl Alexander of Borger; and seven nieces, Mrs. Lester Leonard of Mobeetie, Mrs. S. Shell Guiley of Amarillo, Mrs. B. C. Moyer of Schute, Tex., Mrs. Audrey Powell, Mrs. Juanita Powell, Mrs. T. H. Murray and Mrs. Lawrence Scribner, all of Pampa.

Burial will be in the Mobeetie Cemetery.
Coroner Bill Graham ruled yesterday afternoon that Mr. Alexander's death was the result of burns received in the fire.

Air Force Told Of Red Satellite Plans

By NEIL MACNEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A research firm doing top secret work for the government advised the Air Force last June 21 Russia would launch an earth satellite probably on Sept. 17.

Russia launched Sputnik No. 1 17 days later on Oct. 4.
A copy of the report to the Air Force, made by the Rand Corporation of Santa Monica, Calif., was made available to the United Press. The concern is an independent non-profit organization doing secret research and development including contracts with the Air Force and Atomic Energy Commission.

Contained Dog Sketch
The 24-page report summarized recent Soviet publications which, the Rand Corp. study said, indicated the Russians were about to send a satellite into orbit around the earth. The report, given to the chairman of a House Information subcommittee, sharply criticized the Air Force for failing to act on the warning and for following a "policy of being damned" information public in not alerting the American people.

DIGGING OUT—Typical of what residents of Pampa encountered this morning as they prepared to go to school and work was the job Terry Niemier, 1216 Williston, found waiting on him, removing the snow from the family car. The low temperature last night resulted in the snow freezing and made the job of removing it from car windows a difficult task. (News Photo)

3-4 Inches Of Snow Gauged

The first heavy snow of the season in Pampa and the Top o' Texas resulted in between three and four inches of snow on the ground in Pampa today.

The snow, which began falling yesterday morning, continued throughout yesterday and into last night.

The low temperature recorded in Pampa last night was 22 degrees and the moisture content of the snow was .21 of an inch.

Visibility was reduced yesterday by the snow and local motorists had to use extreme caution.

This morning streets and highways in the area were covered with ice and the local police department reported at 11 this morning that four accidents had been investigated as a result of the hazardous driving conditions.

City crews were busy placing sand on the streets in an effort to keep traffic moving. Early this morning, several traffic snarls resulted on the streets where there are slight hills. Motorists, without chains on their tires, were finding it difficult to make it up the hills.

Highways in the immediate area around Pampa were covered with ice. The Highway Department reported that all of the roads in Gray, Carson, Potter, Oldham and Hutchinson, Moore, Dallam and Harley Counties were covered with ice and extremely dangerous.

The roads in parts of Wheeler, Roberts, Hemphill, Hansford, Sherman and Donley counties were covered with the ice but in Lipscomb and Ochiltree counties there was no ice on the roads.

The highway department informed The News that as soon as the temperature rose today the ice and snow would be removed from the highways in Gray County as soon as the equipment could cover the highways.

Ralph Thomas, county agent, stated that the snow and cold was another hazard to the maize and cotton crops in the county. Several of the crops were still in the field, he reported, and the snow and cold will probably result in a loss to the farmers.

Over Texas, one of the earliest and bitterest winter storms in years pelted the Texas countryside with snow as far south as Dallas and Fort Worth today and drove the thermometer down to 5 degrees below zero. (See SNOW, Page 2)

Four Million Unemployed Seen By End Of February

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Government economists predicted today that close to four million Americans will be out of work by the end of February.

Labor Department forecasters said one reason unemployment may shoot well beyond the present 2,500,000 jobless figure is because of the waning boom in industrial expansion.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, indicating labor's concern over the job outlook, called on President Eisenhower to take immediate steps to bolster the nation's economy.

In Seattle, top organizers of the Teamsters' Union met to discuss the unemployment situation which is increasing all across the country.

Outgoing Teamsters President Dave Beck said today's meeting was one of a series called by him over the country's economic condition.

In other economic developments: The National Association of Manufacturers told a Senate-House Economic Committee Wednesday the nation's economy was hindered somewhat by government spending since "it is a withdrawal of manpower and other productive resources which might otherwise be used in expanding the economy."

The House Small Business Committee summoned Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, Federal Reserve Chairman William McCh. Martin and other top government economic experts to hearings on financing problems of small business. Committee Chairman Wright Patman (D-Tex.) said Wednesday more U.S. business firms failed in September than in any September since 1953.

Says Output Was Steady
—The Commerce Department said the gross national product—the output of goods and services—continued at a steady record high level during the July-September period. It said output ran at an annual rate of 439 billion dollars during the period—five billion dollars over the rate in the previous quarter.

The Labor Department economists based their prediction for a rise in unemployment on the fact that jobless totals failed to drop significantly in September and October. Normally unemployment dips to its lowest levels in those two months.

February usually tops other months in unemployment because bad weather hampers much outdoor work and the Christmas rush is over.

There is another match point complication. Hearts count more than clubs and you want to explore heart possibilities also.

The hand should be easy, yet cause of the waning boom in industrial expansion.

Control over spending could be strengthened, he said, if Congress would authorize the President to veto selected items in appropriations bills. Under present practice the President must sign or veto an entire money bill.

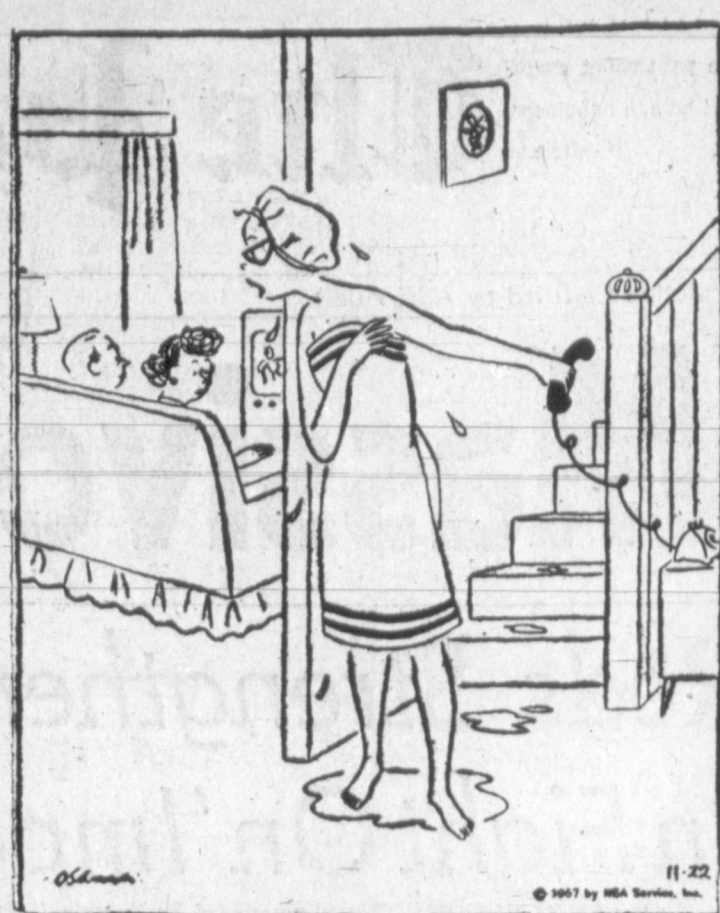

Brundage reiterated his attempt his partner to go to seven. Hence his five-diamond bid. This showed the ace of diamonds all right but did not encourage Mrs. Wheatcroft since she was void. All she bid was five hearts. Now Mr. Wheatcroft was able to close the bidding with six hearts.

There was nothing to the play. The heart finesse lost and exactly six was made.

When it was played in the Hudson Valley championships at Poughkeepsie, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wheatcroft of Kingston earned a top score by bidding six hearts.

Mrs. Wheatcroft held the South cards and her second bid was a jump to four hearts. This bid is most unusual but it worked perfectly. Mr. Wheatcroft visualized his wife's hand as a good six-card club suit plus a good five-card heart suit.

This left her with only two other cards and his aces would take care of them. Therefore, he decided to get to six hearts but was a little afraid that a jump directly to the small slam might

Economy Knife Is Aimed At Subsidies, Benefits, Houses

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation's budget chief has pointed the economy knife at farm subsidies, veterans benefits and housing to obtain more defense money.

Percival F. Brundage, the budget director, is the first administration official to name specific non-defense programs which President Eisenhower said will have to be cut back to finance the expanded space age military contest with Russia.

Brundage gave the three as examples of federal "benefit" programs which would have to be reduced. He said all the programs account for 17 billion dollars, or 23 per cent, of the current budget.

Brundage discussed control of the National Assn. of Accountants. Control over spending could be strengthened, he said, if Congress would authorize the President to veto selected items in appropriations bills. Under present practice the President must sign or veto an entire money bill.

Reds Seek Trade With Africa Nations

FOREIGN NEWS COMMENTARY
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia is developing its attempt to penetrate Africa by seeking trade agreements with two more of the continents' new republics.

Egypt already has tied its economy dangerously close to Russia. Now Russia is trying to establish footholds in Ghana, on the west coast of Africa, and the Sudan, Egypt's neighbor on the south.

A Soviet mission arrived in Accra, the capital of Ghana, on Tuesday to bid for an economic agreement and possibly for the establishment also of formal diplomatic relations.

For several weeks, the Soviets embassy in Khartoum, the capital of the Sudan, has been angling for a similar agreement.

Ghana, New Republic
Ghana, the former British colony of the Gold Coast, attained its independence on March 6 last. The Sudan, formerly ruled jointly by Britain and Egypt, became independent on Jan. 1, 1956. Britain has close economic ties with both countries.

Russia has just promised to "aid Egypt in building up its national economy." This commitment was made in Moscow, where Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, Egyptian war minister, was given red-carpet treatment when he went there as President Gamal Abdel Nasser's envoy.

Nasser is represented as worried over Russia's tightening hold on his country's economy. Egyptian delegations are negotiating with Britain and France in an attempt to restore normal trade relations with those countries.

Black To Mediate
At Nasser's request Eugene Black, president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development—the so-called World Bank—has undertaken to act as mediator in negotiations for payment by Egypt of compensation to stockholders of the Suez Canal which Nasser seized. Hence it may be that Nasser will use the Russian promise as a bargaining point in an attempt to reach favorable economic agreements with the United States and Britain.

Just what success Russia will have in its bids to Ghana and the Sudan remains to be seen. There seems good reason to believe that as regards the Sudan, Russia's new attempt at penetration may fail. Prime Minister Abdullah Bey Khalil is quite friendly toward the United States.

SNOW

Three inches of snow and 35-mile-an-hour winds assailed El Paso, forcing the closure of every school in the city, including Texas Western College.

Radio stations in El Paso broadcast continuous warnings to motorists to stay off of underpasses and bridges, all of which were dangerous.

The thermometer hovered at 25 degrees in El Paso, so the snow was sticking, covering the mountains and all the countryside in a premature blanket of white.

Snow on Many Fronts Weather bureaus reported it snowing in Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Wink, Midland, Abilene and San Angelo. It was snowing briskly in Fort Worth, but the snow melted as soon as it fell because the temperature was above freezing.

In Dallas and Mineral Wells, the rain also was mixed with snow. It was raining in South and East Texas. Snow also was reported in Sherman, Gainesville and Big Spring. Brenham reported nearly three inches of rain in the last few days.

Chief Meteorologist M. C. Harrison of the Dallas weather bureau said the clearing would spread south and east and temperatures would drop.

Low Temperatures Predicted Temperatures in the mid-20s were predicted for North Central Texas tonight and freezing temperatures much further south.

Snowing started falling in the Big Bend area early today and the ground at Alpine was covered by 8 a. m. The temperature sank to 18 degrees during the night at Alpine and a 25-mile-an-hour wind was whistling out of the north.

Visibility was almost zero. The highway department said all roads in the Big Bend country were open but dangerous.

Dr. West entered the office at that time and gave Mrs. Van Alstine an adrenalin injection while Mrs. Nash frantically sought an antidote. But Mrs. Van Alstine was already dead.

Dependable Employee Dr. West said Mrs. Nash was a dependable employe of long standing and the unfortunate death was a case of "mistaken identity" of the drug bottles.

Police said no charges would be filed but that the case would be given direct to a grand jury today for possible action.

Mrs. Van Alstine was visiting a daughter in Houston. She lived at a summer camp she owned near Big Rapids, Mich., and had planned to sell the property and move to Houston.

The body will be returned to Michigan for interment.

Denton of Pitcher, Okla.; three sisters, Mrs. Dell Gaut of Pitcher, Mrs. Floe Morris of Miami, Okla., and Mrs. Lois Colley of Coffeyville, Kans.; one brother, Duff Coble of Pitcher; and seven grandchildren.

Woman Given Poison Dose By Mistake

HOUSTON (UP)—A grand jury planned to look today into the "mistaken identity" death of a 67-year-old woman who was given a lethal dose of poison in a doctor's office yesterday.

The woman, Mrs. Margaret L. van Alstine, died in agony in the doctor's office after Mrs. Emily Nash, 48, a laboratory technician, gave her sodium cyanide instead of a glucose mixture. Mrs. Nash, technician to Dr. Joseph West since 1928, frantically tried to find an antidote and became hysterical when the woman died. She was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Explains Mistake Police said Mrs. Nash, while still coherent, said the mistake was made because she had mixed a fresh glucose solution in preparation for tests of Mrs. Van Alstine for diabetes and had placed it next to the cyanide solution on a shelf.

Mrs. Nash said she realized something was wrong when Mrs. Van Alstine drank the potion, made a wry face and said "oh, that tastes horrible!" Then she fell to the floor.

In the dorm at college or home for the holidays, a girl can look her best in the new fashions only if she has the slick look provided by a good girdle. This girl, when she goes home for a visit, likes to wear fairly sophisticated at-home clothes (left). Here, she is wearing black-and-white printed tunic with slim pants of black velvet. Under the slim pants she wears (center) a new zipper panty girdle of sleek latex which trims and slims. It has waist panels but no boning, stitching or seaming. At college, she wears (right) pants like dancers' lights which are really pants and hose in one. They're knit of stretchy yarn in red-and-black barber pole stripes. Over them goes a little kilt of gray wool and on top, a freemantled cotton shirt. It's a warm, cozy and comfortable outfit for either leisure or study hours.

DEW'S DIARY
MONDAY: 10:15 a.m. Went over the bus station to wave good-bye to the local PTA group, who were leaving to attend the state PTA convention in Galveston this week. Locally, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. R. A. Mack, John Evans, Mrs. Kenneth McGuire, Sam Begert, Mrs. Elmer Darnell, Mrs. William Leonard, Mrs. Bill Lovell and Mrs. G. L. Carter, and Mrs. Roy C. Cribbs boarded the bus. This is strictly a business trip to bring back new views and ideas to the local units, but, knowing this group, imagine they will manage to mix a little pleasure with business.

4:20 p.m. Joan Jones, Linda Skewes, Kay Waggoner, Linda Joyce McDonald, Cora Mann, all Sub Deb members, dropped by the office to tell us about the football dance, which will be held following the game Saturday night in the Episcopal Parish Hall. Since this will be the last football game attended by the seniors, as seniors, they will be especially honored at the game and at the dance. The Sub Debs are also planning a reunion of all ex Sub Deb members on Nov. 29th. Some special activities are being planned for the occasion.

TUESDAY: Comparatively quiet. Usual routine.
WEDNESDAY: 11:30 Went out to St. Paul Methodist Church to look in on the Woman's Society of Christian Service members busily preparing for their Bazaar, which will be held on Dec. 5 in the Fellowship Hall. Mmes. W. I. Gilbert, Joe Autry, S. T. Holding, Charles Norton, Kit Autry, J. W. Hopkins, Bill Matejowsky, W. F. Gains, W. J. Fletcher were making all sorts of glamorous and useful items, such as, Christmas tree aprons, Santa socks, frilly and practical aprons, children's chenille house-slippers, bean-bags, yarn tote, pillows and the most attractive felt purses.

4:30: At the invitation of Girls Scout Troop 78, we went to the home of Miss Georganne Perkins and met Miss Henrietta DeNardini from Hungary, who came to the United States just seven months ago. She spoke to the troop on Hungarian customs and had a most attentive audience.

THURSDAY: 11 a.m. Received a card from Georgia Mack and Beesie Lewis, who are in Galveston at the PTA convention stating, "Wish you were here. Having a wonderful time. Everything you hear about Texas is true. (now, what have they been hearing?) Keep the home fires burning. Love."

2:00: Still racing to meet a Friday noon deadline for Sunday's paper but took a brief respite to go to Sam Houston school, where thanks to the excellent cooperation of L. C. Davis, school principal, who found two pilgrim's and two Indian Maid costumes for us, we were able to set up a picture with a Thanksgiving motif.

3:45 p.m. Undaunted by snow and slush, Mrs. Don Rupert picked us up at the office to attend the birthday party of Brownie troop 60 in the Church of the Brethren. The troop was celebrating its second birthday together. They had the prettiest birthday cake with the Girl Scout emblem in the middle and lighted by two candles. Mrs. James Minnich is leader of this troop assisted by Mrs. Rupert and Mrs. John Ramsey. Each Brownie received her star pin representing two years in Brownies.

Mrs. Lyle Zmotony Honored At Dinner
 (Special To The News)
SKELLYTOWN — The Rebekah Lodge observed "Family Night" recently following its regular meeting.

Mrs. Lyle Zmotony, guest of honor, was presented with gifts from lodge members. Mr. and Mrs. Zmotony are moving to Oklahoma the first of December, when Mr. Zmotony retires from Skelly Oil Co.

A barbecue supper was served buffet style. The tables were laid with white cloths and centered with autumn foliage.

Attending were Messrs. A. and Mmes. Howard Wedge, W. S. Berry, C. C. Hoskins, John Nickols, Clifton Hanna, Johnnie Wyatt, R. S. Maglar, and Mmes. Fred Genzel, R. E. McAllister, George Allen, Roy Sullivan, J. W. Weaver, W. H. McBee, Rosalie Wedge, Everett Crawford, Lyle Zmotony, Walter Niver, Ross Neugin, Clifford Coleman and Gertrude Huck.

Choose a sleeveless blouse with care. Otherwise, though you may be comfortable, others may not. It is distracting, especially in an office, to see low-cut blouses or those with gaping armholes.

RUTH MILLETT

"It's really disgraceful what poor housekeepers most of today's young mothers are," said an older woman. As a baby sitter she sees the homes she goes to not when they are slicked up for company, but when they are left "as is" by a mother hurrying to keep an appointment.

Unless you stop to examine her charge that today's young mothers are poor housekeepers you might mark them down as a lazy lot. But the truth of the matter is that most young mothers don't have the time to be the perfect housekeepers their grandmothers were.

Being a model housekeeper isn't their one big aim in life, nor is being a housekeeper all that is expected of them.

As a young matron today a woman is expected to take a part in community projects. She is expected to make a place for her family socially. She is expected to be a companion to her husband, which may mean she is off hunting instead of staying at home to give the house a thorough housecleaning while her husband goes without her.

She is expected to take some part in all of the activities that involve her children. And today children are involved in plenty of activities, most of which in some way involve their parents.

Today's young mother is expected to do all of the family's chauffeuring which, if the family lives in a suburb, keeps a woman on the jump.

And to top it all, she is supposed to look as much like a glamor girl as she can manage for as long as she can cheat time.

Is it any wonder then that today's young homemakers aren't always good housekeepers?

Keeping a house in perfect order is no longer a woman's big concern, or the ultimate accomplishment by which she is judged.

Many women still refuse to brush their hair from the time they get a permanent until it is time for another one. Sounds ridiculous but it is true. Brushing actually makes a hair setting look more normal.

Using an eye wash at home calls for an eye cup. To avoid any chance of infection, always sterilize the eye cup in boiling water before using it.

School Set Find Glamor In Slacks And That Light Foundation Aids Sleek Look

BY ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Slacks, jodhpurs and blue jeans have been holding their own as comfortable outdoor sportswear for many seasons.

Women, over the years, have developed a good deal of common sense in fashion, garments that can be comfortable as well as attractive are certain to achieve popularity. Hence the enthusiastic reception for pants for at-home wear.

High school and college girls, either at home or off at school, will be delighted with the new, cozy, warm glamorjams for late study sessions. They come in exciting colors and can be worn with a bright little play kilt.

For special home entertaining, velvet pants can be topped with lush faille coachman tunics, elaborate sweaters or exotic print silk shirts. You'll be as comfortable as you would be in slacks, and look more glamorous than you've ever dreamed you could.

While trousers of all types take top honors in fashion, they need that neat seat and tidy waistline. The stout woman will avoid them altogether unless she wants to look like a ferry plowing into the slip. And even the slimmest gal will have to look to her lines when she puts on pants for leisure wear. Any kind of bulge is unightly.

There's a new lightweight panty girdle, molded of latex, which should be perfect for wear under pants of any type. It's boneless and fit sleek as a second skin, permitting you to loll gracefully, relaxed and comfortable during your at-home evenings.

Most of us dislike girdles under smooth-fitting pants because seams and bones show through. This panty girdle has no bones or seams, and slips on and off easily because of a flat zipper fastener.

The slight restriction of a girdle is not uncomfortable. Any girl who wants to look sleek in pants should be practical enough to realize that bulges fore and aft will destroy the effect completely. She should know, too, that they are, in most cases, unavoidable without a molding foundation of some kind.

So choose comfort, but not sloppiness, for your leisure hours. The approval of your at-home audience will assure you that it was worth the effort.

CFW Has Annual Holiday Dinner

PERRYTON — The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met for its annual salmon supper recently in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The salmon was furnished by the White Swan Indians at Uakima, Wash. A love gift was taken to help in the mission work among these Indians. The center decoration in the hall featured an autumn scene, composed of a cornucopia filled with fall fruit backed with an open Bible and flanked with autumn leaves and pumpkins.

The tables were covered with white cloths and centered with cornucopias filled with fruit and flanked with Indian totem poles. Indian placemats were used to make the seating arrangements. The place-mats were crossword puzzles, which the group worked in as part of the entertainment following supper.

Mmes. R. T. Correll, Spencer Whippo and A. K. Wilson, dressed as Indians, greeted the guests and each guest was presented with a pair of miniature moccasins.

Mrs. Jim Anderson, vice president, presented the program. Mrs. Roy L. Johnson gave the devotional on "The Spirit of Thanksgiving." Mrs. Whippo spoke on the "White Swan Indian and the Yakima Mission." The evening closed with mission benediction.

Approximately seventy guests were present for the supper and a mission study.

Pink-Blue Shower For Mrs. Frazier

A pink and blue shower was held recently for Mrs. Jim Shirley in the home of Mrs. Henry Frazier, 1032 S. Hobart.

Pantomime games were played and refreshments were served. Guests attending or sending gifts were Mmes. Leonard Cable, Bob Burrows, Dewey Bullard, John Christner, James Gann, Wayne Cook, Floyd Bettis, Boyd Stewart, Marvin Ingle, Benny Jones, R. E. Klingenburg, Bill Lankard, K. D. MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
 Placing clean school socks in Bette's bureau drawer, her mother saw a crumpled paper; a bag stuffed back in its far corner. In it were a dozen chocolate caramels.

She felt sudden strong dislike for Bette. She thought, "What a sneaky child she is! Obviously she's hiding this candy to keep it secret from Sissy and Bobby so that they won't want to share it and she can keep it for herself."

This was precisely Bette's idea. And a practical one it was. It invariably occurs to people when a breakdown of law and order makes it impossible for their community to protect their private property. Then, to prevent looters from seizing their valuables, they hide them, not by stuffing them in bureau drawers, but by burying them in gardens, sinking them in wells and stuffing them up chimneys.

By taking these steps to insure their belongings against marauders they are not "sneaky" but resourceful.

Why hasn't Bette's mother thought of this?

"Well, it's a lot more comfortable to call Bette 'sneaky' than to see her secretiveness as a response to her home's disrespect for private property. We parents don't always realize knowing that our demand for 'generosity' from children is our own resentment at having to share so many of our possessions with them.

We should think about it. For in America we are supposed to be aware that communism's enforced sharing of property has produced not brotherly love among the people who live under it but murders, divisions and a rather nasty kind of mutual suspiciousness. To expect it to produce good will among Bette, Sissy and Bobby is really not too reasonable.

A child develops the willingness to share his property to the exact degree that we safeguard his rights not to share it. When he hides it, he is accusing us of failing to defend these rights. Like any other victim of a breakdown of law, requiring respect for private property, he is compelled to take its protection into his own hands.

Communists aren't the only people who create hatred by making unrealistic demands on undeveloped human nature. American parents do it whenever they enforce sharing on children either by spoken or unspoken demand.

Pretty Frames Add To Feminine Charm

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Many mothers don't care for the notion that their small daughters must wear eyeglasses. They realize it's important to sound eyesight but they feel that the glasses may damage a little girl's appearance.

Year by year, eyeglass frames for children have improved. This year, they're prettier than ever. One optical firm makes a series of pepper-and-salt design frames in pink, beige or blue especially for small girls.

The frames are done in a modified harlequin design to avoid a grown-up look. The idea is for mother (with daughter's help) to pick the color most flattering to both hair and skin coloring.

The little girl who's made to feel that glasses are pretty and therefore fun to wear will never regard herself (or be regarded) as an ugly duckling. She'll change her frames as she goes along, growing up, and arrive at maturity thinking of herself as attractive, just as she should.

Four Major Conference Titles To Be Decided Over Week End

Four major conference football championships will be decided Saturday, but they may be overlooked by fans watching a bunch of those no-holds-barred "old rivalry" games that pack a whole season's drama into one game.

At stake are crowns in the Pacific Coast, Atlantic Coast, Missouri Valley, and Ivy League conferences.

But even in some of these, it's the game itself and not the title that will produce most of the excitement. Oregon vs Oregon State, for instance, will settle the PCC champion and Duke will be shooting for the ACC crown in its game against North Carolina. But winning over an old foe means more than winning a league crown, especially since Oregon and Duke already have landed bowl berths.

One of the headliners, of course, is the "granddaddy" of all tradition games, Yale vs. Harvard, which once again has nothing but glory and the "Big Three" title at stake.

Another highlight is the always rugged battle between Iowa and Notre Dame. Although Ohio State dethroned Iowa as Big Ten champion last week, the Hawkeyes are seven-point favorites over Notre Dame for the men who make the odds feel the Irish must suffer a letdown after their startling 7-0 upset victory over Oklahoma.

Oregon, which plays Ohio State in the Rose Bowl in five weeks, is an even-money bet against Oregon State. Duke, looking forward to its Orange Bowl clash with Oklahoma, is a seven-point favorite over North Carolina, but North Carolina State, like Duke unbeaten but tied in conference play, is a one-point choice over South Carolina and can back into the championship if Duke loses.

The Dartmouth-Princeton winner will take Ivy League honors, with Princeton a three-point choice. Houston rates a seven-point edge over Tulsa, and a victory would keep the Missouri Valley Conference championship at Houston.

Rice and Tennessee, each a strong bowl candidate (Cotton, Sugar and Gator), also are favored—Rice by three points over Texas Christian and Tennessee by seven over Kentucky.

Ohio State, ranked second behind Michigan State by the United Press Board of Coaches, is only a three-point choice over Michigan. Michigan State (which plays Kansas State) and third-ranked Auburn (which plays Florida State) are such strong favorites that the odds-makers declined to establish a line.

Oklahoma, its 47-game record winning streak now only a line in the record book, tries to start a new one against Nebraska, which has beaten only Kansas State this year. Oklahoma is favored by 28 points.

In regionally televised games: East-Yale favored by 14 points over Harvard.
Midwest—Iowa at Notre Dame, Midlands—Missouri favored by one point over Kansas.
South-North Carolina at Duke.
Southwest—Baylor favored by one point over Southern Methodist.
Far West—Oregon State at Oregon.

Fearless Fraley's All-American Team

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—On the threat of losing my franchise in the experts club, I'm acceding to the demands of practically no one today and naming Fearless Fraley's All-America football team for 1957.

These guys you probably will be ignored by every one else in the nation—including my under-worked barber who is announcing his team next week at the canarse coiffure conclave. The fact that I have seen absolutely none of them is to be ignored.

Given annually to the outstanding member of the Harvester team. Last year, the honor went to Robert Langford, the teams' senior fullback this year.

Reservations can be made in the Chamber office, with tickets being priced at $1.50 each.

So here they are:
Ends: Dick Wallen, UCLA, and Jim Phillips, Auburn.
Tackles: Alex Karras, Iowa, and Lou Michaels, Kentucky.
Guards: Roy Hord, Duke, and Al Ecuver, Notre Dame.
Center: Don Stephenson, Georgia Tech.
Backs: John Crow, Texas A&G; Clendon Thomas, Oklahoma; Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State; and Don Clark, Ohio State.
Name: Second Team.
The second team, just in case you're still with me, includes: ends, Jim Gibbons, Iowa, and Dave Kaiser; Michigan State; tackles, Charley Krueger, Texas A&G; and Bob Reifsmeyer, Navy; guards, Aurelius Thomas, Ohio State, and Bill Johnson, Tennessee; center, Charley Bruckman, Pitt; and backs, Bob Anderson, Army; Tom Forrestal, Navy; Jim Shanley, Oregon, and Jim Pace, Michigan.

Let it be said right now that, being one of the nation's leading Monday mourning coaches, I am completely satisfied with my first team. The line is big, fast and mobile with a 207-pound average while the backs are meaty enough at a 198-pound average to make their own holes if somebody falls down on the job.

Phillips and Wallen are not sky-scraping ends but get the job done. Phillips is six-two and 206 pounds while Wallen is only six feet and 185 but is a growing lad of a mere 20.

Brawny Lads, All
Karras, the Iowa tackle, is going to make everybody's team and the Gary giant has good company in Michaels, who toted his 235 pounds all the way to Kentucky from Swyersville, Pa., a region which is not exactly a stranger to producing good football players.

Hord at six-foot-three and 220 pounds, makes a good running mate at guard for Ecuver, the 195-pound Notre Dame dandy, while Stephenson is outstanding among a good crop of centers.

The backfield is full of vim and vigor. Crow looks to be the top back of the year and at six-two and 210 pounds is the biggest one of my ball toters. Kowalczyk at

Football Banquet To Be Tuesday Night

Persons planning to attend the annual banquet honoring the Harvester football team should purchase their tickets as soon as possible, in order that final plans can be made for the affair.

Featured speaker for the banquet will be Frank Kimbrough, head coach of the West Texas State Buffaloes. Along with the speaker, other entertainment is being planned for the program.

Highlighting the evening will be the annual presentation of the Fighting Heart Award, which is

NOW ON DISPLAY

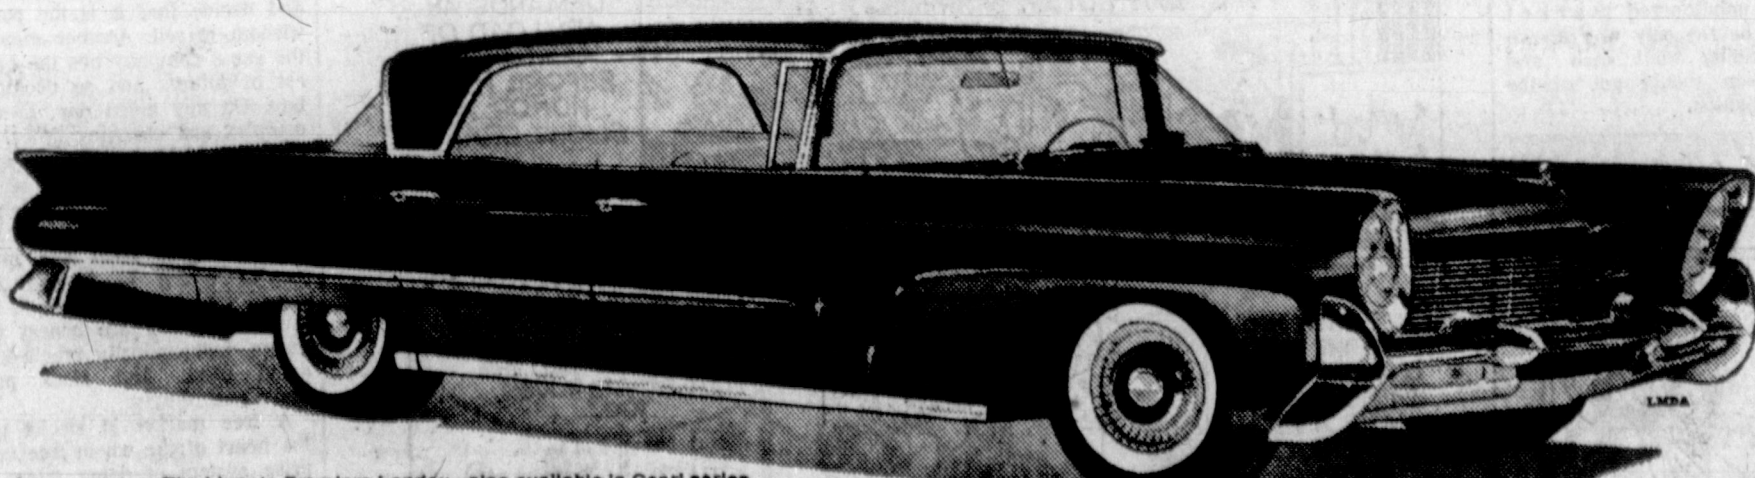

We invite you to see—to drive—the only completely new cars in the fine car field . . .

Look again. You can afford to. For in 1958, the classic Continental Mark III (above) and the Continental-inspired Lincoln Premiere and Capri (below) are priced within the reach of nearly everyone who is considering a fine car. The reason? This is the year we have opened a modern new plant to build Lincolns and only Lincolns. Now, not only can more Lincolns be made with the scrupulous Continental eye toward elegance and detail, but they can be priced within the means of everyone with a feeling for gracious living. Behind the wheel lies a thrill of performance and handling ease that once came alive only in the hand-built Continental of yesterday. Under that long, low hood, a new engine designed for closer tolerances and more torque than any other fine car. A new transmission with silken sensitivity. And between you and the road, a new suspension that dampens shock and noise like no other car before it. In every respect, here is an uncommon car with uncommon elegance. A Lincoln with the clean line and sweep of the classic Continental. A Lincoln with a length, breadth and spaciousness unmatched in the fine car field. A Lincoln with a richness of detail and over-all luxury that mark it, at once, America's outstanding automotive achievement. Make your fine car dreams come true. Today, see how easily you can own the completely new Continental Mark III or the Continental-inspired Lincolns for 1958. Unmistakably . . . the finest in the fine car field

Pajarito Blasts Ike Chestnut

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Mexico's Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, a reputed murderous puncher, upset the world's second ranking featherweight, New York's Ike Chestnut, Thursday night when he was awarded a knockout victory at the end of the sixth round of a scheduled 10 round bout in Olympic Auditorium. Moreno, a 10-7 underdog, thrilled a partisan crowd of some 10,000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium when he ripped continuous left hooks and right crosses into Chestnut's body and head.

Escaping to Australia bombings had annihilated with 10 other U.S. Navy ships, submarine Cmdr. Dwight Towers learned lethal radiation was re-radiation from cobalt tentacles drifting south.

Placing himself under command of the Australian Navy, Towers was assigned an Aussie liaison officer, Lt. Cmdr. Peter Holmes.

Holmes introduced him to Moira Davidson, a vivacious blonde disturbingly reminiscent of Dwight's wife. Dwight preferred to believe that Sharon Towers and their two young children were still alive in West Mystic, Conn.
