HOLY WEEK SERIES:

Easter Creates New Vision Of Greatness

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of six meditations by prominent clergymen on the climactic events in the life of Jesus Christ which Christians commemorate during Easter week. Today's author is the bishop of the Los Angeles area of the Methodist Church.

By Bishop GERALD KENNEDY
 Written for the United Press
 The easiest thing in the world is to lose the point of living.

Pilot Narrowly Averts Air Collision

NEW YORK (UP)—National Airlines pilot dived his loaded passenger plane at 300 miles an hour Sunday to avoid a head-on collision with a smaller plane.

The DC-6B airliner was approaching New York on a flight from Florida with 58 persons aboard when Capt. Jack A. Guthrie saw the two-engine plane dead ahead.

He put his four-engine airliner into a steep, 100-foot dive and passed safely beneath the other plane, which was not identified.

A number of passengers were thrown from their seats amid flying coats, hats and small luggage. Eleven passengers were treated by an airport doctor for cuts, bruises and shock.

Guthrie apologized to the passengers over the plane's public address system immediately after the jolting dive.

The pilot said he couldn't say how close the other plane was but "I saw it just in time to get out of the way."

Both Guthrie and Civil Aeronautics Authority officials at Idlewild Airport said there was no violation of flying rules in the head-on encounter and that no complaint or investigation would be made.

CAA spokesmen explained that both planes were flying under visual flight rules—they could see the ground—and the airline pilot was free to pick his own altitude.

"There was no negligence on the part of the other pilot," said Guthrie. "It was just one of those things."

Evidence Reported Of Life On Mars

WASHINGTON (UP)—The head of the U.S. satellite programs says there is evidence there may be "some form of life" on Mars. He said this country may be able to probe to Mars by 1960 or 1961.

Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the U.S. earth satellite program of the International Geophysical Year, also said he thinks the United States and Russia are at a "draw" right now in their earth satellite programs.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Navy Vanguard satellite program, agreed the satellite contest at this point is "going along pretty much even-steam."

Hagen also estimated the United States could send a rocket to the moon "within a year or two." But he said it would be "very, very much" longer before a man was landed there.

had any big idea about themselves, it has been long forgotten. We may have started with a sense of the wonderful gift of life, but the years have brought us to an acceptance of petty actions. We worry about things which do not really matter, and we work for things we do not want.

On this Monday of Holy Week, we remember that Jesus cleansed the temple. He overturned the tables of the money-changers and he drove out those who bought and sold doves for the sacrifices.

By his action He was proclaiming that the temple was for the worship and service of God. It was not for financial profit or for economic gain.

An End in Itself
 It is not only the church that loses its purpose. A government can forget that it is "for the people" and assume that it is an end in itself. Along that path lies tyranny. Law courts can be manipulated into becoming the servants of the powerful, the rich, the status quo. Business can turn aside from its obligation to serve the common welfare, and seek to enrich a class at the expense of a people. We are forever in need of a clear voice calling us back to examine the purposes of our institutions. God sends his prophets into society every generation to confront us with his will for his children.

On this day we look at all our activities but not through eyes blurred with selfishness and compromise. We look with the eyes of Jesus Christ and we recover the vision of greatness. We are ashamed but we are put into a mood of repentance and humility. We must hear his voice of condemnation if we are to walk with him through the rest of the week to our redemption.

Talks to Deal-Makers
 And He seeks each of us personally to restore our lost purposes. He comes to us who have made a deal with the world and thereby have lost our souls. He speaks to all who have sold their spiritual birthrights for a temporary advantage. He appears to those who have wasted their heritage in cheap living and are now filled with despair.

Once again we are met by one who says to us, "You were made for faith, hope and love. You have lost the way in the darkness of the world. Here is light to bring you back to the straight path. Here is the vision of what you might be and what deep in you." (See EASTER Page 3) who testified for five weeks in the inquiry into the Kohler Co. strike in Wisconsin which starts its fifth year this week.

The committee's public hearings on the Kohler strike ended Saturday with auto union President Walter P. Reuther accusing some GOP committee members of plotting to destroy him and his union.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), a committee member and former union official, said Sunday the Kohler hearings had accomplished "very little" and there may be more bitterness now than before the committee "stirred up old hatreds."

McNamara, interviewed on a television program, also said the Perfect Circle hearings would only "stir up trouble and open old wounds" without serving much legislative usefulness.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) also a committee member, said on another Sunday TV program the "place for the Kohler hearing" was in the National Labor Relations Board and it was "impossible for us to settle the strike."

Asked if the hearings accomplished anything, he said the committee "exposed the fact that there have been abuses on both sides" and that the NLRB is

Firemen Called To Oil Well Fire

Pampa firemen answered a call this morning at 10 at an oil well two miles west of town.

A. A. Box was drilling carbide when floorboards caught fire and then some tubing on pipes by the holes.

Box and one of his helpers, Billy Phillips, both of Pampa, first tried to put the fire out with a fire extinguisher and when this didn't work called the fire department. The rig is owned by the Southern Petroleum Co.

US Discounts Soviet Move To Halt Nuclear Testing

Bulganin Now Is State Bank President

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia demoted former Premier Nikolai Bulganin to the sinecure post of state bank president today and appointed a rising young Communist from Leningrad to be first deputy to Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The new first deputy is F. R. Koslov, 50, who has been head of the Leningrad Communist Party and premier of the Russian Republic—the largest of the constituent states that make up the Soviet Union.

Bulganin, instead of getting a predicted cabinet job, was sent back to the bank post which he held previously from 1937 to 1941.

Koslov will be Khrushchev's top deputy alongside Anastas Mikoyan, who had been a first deputy premier since the first cabinet of Georgi Malenkov after Josef Stalin's death in 1953.

Relatively young and bustling, Koslov is reckoned one of the most handsome of the Soviet leaders. Little is known of his personal background.

But he was known to have been in the academy in recent months. It even was predicted he might succeed Bulganin as premier when the latter stepped down last week.

Two Items On Agenda For City Commission

Two items are on the agenda for tomorrow's meeting of the City Commission.

The third reading of electrical ordinance 489 will be one item taken up by the commissioners and the Messia Park Plat will be the other item on the agenda.

The meeting will be held at 9 a.m. in the Commission room in City Hall.

SKATE'S HOME WITH TWO RECORDS

Navy's atomic submarine USS Skate ties up at Groton, Conn., after breaking east-west and west-east records for underwater crossings of the Atlantic during a 34-day shakedown cruise. The first of the nuclear fleet to make the crossing submerged both ways between Nantucket and Lizard Head at the southern entrance to the English Channel, her times are: east-bound, 203 hours; westbound, 173 hours. East-bound, Skate bettered her previous time by about 30 hours; westbound, she topped USS Nautilus by more than 20 hours.

Third Major Report Meeting Of Center Is Set Tomorrow

E. E. Shelhamer, Ed Myatt and Ray Duncan, Division leaders in the Pampa Youth and Community Center Campaign, meet with their divisions at 10 a.m. in City Hall, Tuesday, for the third big report meeting. Over coffee and doughnuts they will call on the 90 team captains to report new pledges for the construction of the new Center.

By the last Report Meeting, Friday, the community had contributed $71,334 to the Center-building program. At the first Report Meeting, Tuesday, the figure was $39,633. In the two days between meetings, contributions practically doubled. Campaigners have been working hard over the weekend and expect an even more marked improvement.

Of the $71,334, $31,757 came from E. E. Shelhamer's Advance Gifts Division, $32,428 from Ed Myatt's Special Gifts Division and $7,331 from Ray Duncan's Business Employees Division.

Advance Gifts kicked off Mar. 13 and Special Gifts, Mar. 14. Business Employees entered the Campaign at the General Campaign Kickoff, Mar. 21. The three weeks campaign will end Friday with the Victory Report. The Palm Room of City Hall has been reserved for the 7 p.m. Victory Banquet.

Although the Campaign ends Friday, pledges will be paid over a three year period, ending Mar. 31, 1961. Since the Center is incorporated as a charitable institution, any contribution will be deductible on the Federal income tax.

A break down of the Division totals reveals that on the Advance Gifts Division $14,110 was raised by the team captained by Paul Crouch, $8,450 by Frank Culbertson's team, $5,850 by Calvin Jones' and $3,347 by Quentin Williams' group.

In the Special Gifts Division, Bob Spert's team came through with $750, Joe Fischer's with $2,655, Yorel Harris' team with $180 and Paul West's with $375. The major in charge of the four teams in Dick Stowers.

In Joe Tooley's majorship, Paul Keim's team registered $2,100, Jim King's, $1,260; Jack Miller's, $234 and Frank Smith's, $4,150.

J. B. Veale's four teams registered a total of $6,119. Of that, $2,640 came from the team captained by Jack Foster, $175 from Dr. Raymond Laycock's, $2,600 from Judge Bruce Parker's and $504 from Dr. Williams.

In Floyd Watson's majorship of four teams, John Lee Bell's team, has brought in $2,850; Kirk Duncan's $5,800; E. L. Henderson's, $3,248 and Clayton Husted's, $2,525.

The total for Ed Myatt's Special Gifts Division is therefore $32,246, as of 10 a.m. Friday.

Said Decision Came To 'Embarrass' US

By DONALD J. GONZALES
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States today discounted Russia's decision to halt temporarily its nuclear tests, without waiting for international agreement. The State Department said Russia's action offered the world no assurance against cheating on a test ban.

The department said Russia's unilateral but temporary ban "can be evaded in secrecy and altered at will."

It said the free world should not give up its collective capacity to defend itself, merely in exchange for a Soviet promise.

A statement issued by the State Department and approved by President Eisenhower called on Russia to negotiate on disarmament through the United Nations and to stop flouting the world organization.

The Kremlin's move, coming immediately after completion of Russia's latest series of Siberian nuclear tests, was seen by officials here as a move to embarrass the United States, which plans a series of H-bomb and other nuclear tests in the Pacific this spring and summer.

A State Department spokesman said Saturday, in response to a Soviet protest against holding the American tests in a U.N. trust territory, that this country intends to go ahead with them. The department publicly rejected each point in the Soviet note.

There was no reference to the forthcoming U.S. tests in today's State Department statement.

It was prepared in advance and read to reporters about an hour after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko announced in Moscow Russia's decision temporarily to halt all nuclear weapons testing.

"It is elemental that free nations which want to remain free will not, and should not, forego their indispensable collective capacity to deter and defend against aggression merely in reliance on a Soviet statement of intention for which there is no system of verification, which can be evaded in secrecy and altered at will," the United States said.

Walter Rogers Files For Re-Election

Walter Rogers of Pampa, incumbent United States Representative for the 18th Congressional District, filed today for re-election.

Rogers asked Jimmy Thompson, Gray County Democratic Chairman, to place his name on the ballot in the July 26, 1958, Democratic Primary.

Rogers' request for a place on the ballot was accompanied with the required affidavits and information.

Walter Rogers was elected to the House of Representatives in November, 1950, and took office the following January. He has held the office since that time.

Armed Bandits Rob Cafe In Groom

The Longhorn Cafe in Groom was held up this morning at 5:40 a.m. by two armed bandits who made off with approximately $120 in cash. The men made their escape in a light colored 1953 Ford.

Shortly after the robbery two men in a light colored Ford were picked up in Dumas and are being held in the Dumas jail.

Sheriff John Nunn of Panhandle and two of his Deputy's, Grady Stapp and Ray McCaskey, left for Dumas this morning to get the suspects and will bring them back to Panhandle for questioning.

Congress To Grant Powers To Batista

HAVANA (UP)—Congress meets in special session tonight to grant President Fulbright Batista "exceptional powers" to deal with a rebel threat of "total war."

Informed sources said the general strike which the President's foes had been expected to start today has been postponed while its leaders study his demand for emergency authority.

The national legislature, dominated by supporters of the government, is considered sure to give Batista the powers he wants.

The best information available indicates Batista will proclaim a state of national emergency to enable the army to deal with the strike, which rebel leader Fidel Castro says is likely to plunge Cuba into a "blood bath."

Ninth Of GI Turncoats Return To US

HONG KONG (UP)—Larance Sullivan, the first of three U.S. Negro turncoats who chose Communism in Korea to return to the Western world, told a news man here he was well treated by his "comrades" in Red China.

"They treated me more than sufficient," Sullivan said on his arrival in this British colony Sunday.

He said he is satisfied that he learned all about the international situation while he was working as a lathe operator in an auto factory in Wuhan.

"I think the world is in a state of ardent stirring for peace," he said.

Sullivan is the ninth of 21 ex-GIs choosing to remain with their Red captors at the end of the Korean war who have since decided to return home. He has been a dishonorably discharged from the U.S. Army.

VFW To Show Review On War Films

Pampa Post 1637, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presents its Second Annual War Film Review at 8 p.m. today in the Junior High School Auditorium.

In its War Film Review, the VFW will present actual combat film from World War II.

The ticket price of $1.50 will benefit the Building and Relief Fund.

Tax Cut May Be In Late May

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower may wait until late May before submitting any tax cut plans to Congress, high administration officials said today.

Some quarters expected the President to come up with tax cutting plans soon after Congress returns April 14 from its Easter recess. But key officials charged with preparing the administration anti-recession program told the United Press this is highly unlikely.

Presidential economic adviser Gabriel Hauge said Sunday night he did not expect a tax decision for "several weeks."

The President and his advisers anticipate that statistics to be announced in mid-April will show the slump continued its downward pace in March, but at a slower rate than previously.

April conditions, to be reflected in figures announced in May, were expected to show some signs of improvement. This could reduce some of the pressure for a relatively big tax cut.

Farm Support Freeze Vetoed By Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments at last year's levels.

The bill, strongly endorsed by many farm state Republican and Democratic members of Congress, was an attempt to block cutbacks ordered and planned by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Supporters of the measure have conceded they do not have the votes needed to override the President's veto. A two-thirds majority in both houses is necessary to override a veto.

The bill sought to freeze all 1958 price supports and 1959 planting allotments at not less than 1957 levels. This would have reversed cuts ordered by Benson for nine farm commodities, including dairy products, wheat, rice, beans and several feed grains. It also would have prevented 1959 acreage cuts for cotton and rice.

The President, in rejecting the congressional move, again defended his controversial agriculture secretary. Backers of the measure have conceded they don't have the votes to override a veto.

Rockets Are Accident Problem

CHICAGO — A new accident problem literally has arrived with a bang — the home-made rocket.

And the National Safety Council reported today its files are beginning to bulge with cases of injuries to amateur rocketeers.

The Council, like a lot of other organizations, is concerned over the flurry of amateur experiments with junior Jupiters — and the resulting casualties.

"The rockets and rocket fuels being handled so unconsciously by today's scientific-minded teenagers are extremely dangerous," it said, "even in the hands of qualified scientists working with the strictest controls."

Daniel Urges Aid To Cancer Drive

AUSTIN — Governor Price Daniel has strongly urged all Texans to join in the Crusade to conquer cancer by designating April as Cancer Control Month in Texas and Tuesday, April 15, as Texas Cancer Control Day.

Urging all Texans to join in the Crusade against this disease, Governor Daniel called attention to the fact that in 1957 alone cancer killed more than 10,000 Texans. "It is estimated," he said, "that there are more than 60,000 cancer cases in this State, and the number continues to grow."

Praising the present Texas Cancer Control Program now supported by the annual April educational fund-raising Crusade, Governor Daniel stated, "Remarkable advances have been made in the control of cancer, to the extent that the disease can now be cured in one out of three cases. The American Cancer Society has played a significant role in these advances through its threefold program of education, service to the patient, and research."

Pointing up the fact that "the medical resources of our nation are centered today on developing a cure for cancer," he emphasized that with our present knowledge of the disease, "half of those who develop cancer could be saved if they would accept the personal responsibility of informing themselves of the dangers of cancer and heed the message of the American Cancer Society to have regular health checkups."

Through the efforts of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society," he continued, "lives are being saved — and many more will be saved in the future."

To continue support of its attack on cancer, the American Cancer Society is seeking $30,000,000 nationally during the April Crusade to intensify its program of research, education and service to cancer patients.

The Texas Division of the Society was successful in raising over $1,084,000 last year for Research, education and service in Texas, and anticipates that it will reach or exceed this figure through the coordinated efforts of its 89,000 volunteers in Texas this year.

First ready writer was Karen Dian's Rusty Wilson, Second, Clarendon's Judy Benson, Third, Canadian's Jimmy Winfield and, Fourth, Clarendon's Bill Dolma.

First ready writer was Kare Bill Abraham from Canadian, Third, Carolyn Parker from McLean and Fourth, Mickey Archer from Lefors.

Andria Pinkerton took first for Clarendon in junior girls' declamation, Sue Davis, for Canadian, took Second, May Pearson took Third for McLean and Amy Earhart, for Lefors, took Fourth.

Top junior boy in declamation was Mickey Archer of Lefors, Next was Tommy Herron from McLean, Shelby Bell from Clarendon came in Third and Weldon Waiser from Canadian took Fourth.

supervision of qualified instructors, endangers not only the participants, but the general public as well.

"Most of the 45 states, and many municipalities, have legislation outlawing the manufacture, sale and firing of fireworks by unlicensed persons.

"Since rocket fuels and rockets are infinitely more lethal than fireworks, the National Safety Council calls on parents, teachers and responsible public officials to ban amateur rocketry."

The Council believes it is up to science teachers and professional organizations to decide if it's wise to experiment with amateur rocketry in schools. But it urges officials to weigh carefully "the real hazards."

"The Council does not oppose encouraging teenagers to study the chemistry, physics and mathematics of rocketry," it said.

"On the contrary, we strongly urge that the youth of the nation be given every opportunity to study in these fields — and to study

2. A Brooklyn, N. Y., lad, compounding rocket fuel in his bedroom, lost two fingers and part of a third when the fuel exploded.

3. In Floydada, Tex., a high school physics teacher was killed and 13 of his students were injured, two critically, when an experimental rocket exploded.

Across the nation — in hamlets and in metropolitan centers — amateur rocketeering is endangering lives, the Council said.

Why? "Because of projects unsupervised by qualified persons — and projects supervised by unqualified persons.

"Few chemists or physicists are qualified to conduct such experiments, or to supervise them," the Council pointed out. "The science of rocketry requires specialized knowledge and training the average person obviously does not have.

Students Give Holy Week Drama

A band of student players revived Harold Bassage's "On the Eve of Holy Week" Sunday in the church of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, High School and junior high school of the Young People's Service League and both choirs, re-enacted the events of Holy Week, beginning with the first Palm Sunday in Jerusalem and ending with the Easter Resurrection.

Under Claudia Moorman's direction, the players formed the voices of a young shepherd, a middle aged merchant, Jesus of Nazareth, Simon Peter, the High Priest, Pontius Pilate, a thief and the centurion at the foot of the cross. Thespian John Mead put over the corky role of Jesus and soloist, Corky Camber, also, of the Thespians, played a Galilean shepherd to Robert Collette's Jerusalem merchant.

Trudy Roraback had the words of Simon Peter and Mary Price, the voice of the High Priest, Mike Moorman spoke the few words of Pilate. The ninth voice, that of a thief on the cross, came from Jay Followell. The voice of the Centurion from the foot of the cross, was Linda Zmotny's. Kathy West is heard as a servant in the house where the last supper is eaten. Jim Cook represents the voice of the New Testament.

With the aid of organ and choir, the scene quickly changed from the road to Jerusalem to the appearance of Jesus in Jerusalem to a street near the Upper Room to Pilate's palace to the road to Calvary.

"On the Eve of Holy Week" is a streamlined version of a pageant originally presented in Latin by the Medieval Church. In the Bassage version it is done as an interpretive reading with choral singing, organ chords, three solos and audience participation in song. The words of the Biblical characters are poetic without being quaint and pick up a little more poetry as they are spoken.

Mrs. George Casey starred on the organ.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday the ten singing players will do a repeat performance of "On the Eve of Holy Week." The place is St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, 727 W. Browning. Refreshments will be served in the Parish House following the performance.

"Our youth have worked hard on this service and deserve our complete support," says Father William E. West, rector.

Everyone in town is invited.

Thespian John Mead put over the corky role of Jesus and soloist, Corky Camber, also, of the Thespians, played a Galilean shepherd to Robert Collette's Jerusalem merchant.

Trudy Roraback had the words of Simon Peter and Mary Price, the voice of the High Priest, Mike Moorman spoke the few words of Pilate. The ninth voice, that of a thief on the cross, came from Jay Followell. The voice of the Centurion from the foot of the cross, was Linda Zmotny's. Kathy West is heard as a servant in the house where the last supper is eaten. Jim Cook represents the voice of the New Testament.

With the aid of organ and choir, the scene quickly changed from the road to Jerusalem to the appearance of Jesus in Jerusalem to a street near the Upper Room to Pilate's palace to the road to Calvary.

"On the Eve of Holy Week" is a streamlined version of a pageant originally presented in Latin by the Medieval Church. In the Bassage version it is done as an interpretive reading with choral singing, organ chords, three solos and audience participation in song. The words of the Biblical characters are poetic without being quaint and pick up a little more poetry as they are spoken.

Mrs. George Casey starred on the organ.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday the ten singing players will do a repeat performance of "On the Eve of Holy Week." The place is St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, 727 W. Browning. Refreshments will be served in the Parish House following the performance.

"Our youth have worked hard on this service and deserve our complete support," says Father William E. West, rector.

Everyone in town is invited.

Advantages In Having Back Yard Garden

By FRANK SPENCER
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP)—Things aren't bad enough, here's a man who is trying to talk you into planting a garden.

A comparatively small expenditure for seeds and equipment, plus a little time in the sunshine and fresh air, can bring you hundreds of dollars worth of home-grown vegetables," James E. Massie, chairman of the National Garden Bureau, said today.

"Any harvest you reap from a backyard garden for your own use is not figured in taxable income," Massie continued.

Massie is employed by an organization interested in selling seeds, but he said aside from that angle he'd like to see more people in the garden because it's so healthful for them to be there. And gardening, he said, is getting to be more popular every year.

"Dwellers in the hundreds of thousands of new homes springing up now find room for a garden and many of them are turning to vegetable gardens as a means of stretching the food budget a little further," Massie said.

"One 15-cent packet of vegetable seeds can fill the family larder with well over $5 worth of food," he said. "A packet of broccoli seed can result in 125 plants, cauliflower seed 150 plants, tomato seed 100 plants.

"It has been estimated that it costs roughly 25 cents to grow a bush of tomatoes in a home garden. An average of 14 quarts of juice can be home-canned from a bush of tomatoes," he said.

Anybody who has priced tomato juice in a restaurant lately can easily see the savings.

"A small plot of only 10 feet by 24 feet, if properly managed, can produce two bushels of tomatoes, one bushel of leaf lettuce and a half bushel each of onions, carrots and beets," Massie said.

To produce these 4 1/2 bushels of vegetables would cost about $3 in seed and fertilizer, he said.

There are apt to be hidden costs, however, in such enterprise, and you might want to figure $20 or $30 for liniment, $150 for a dog to keep the kids out, $250 for a fence to keep the dog out, $15 for a shotgun to scare the sparrows, 98 cents for a hoe and $3,592 for a station wagon to haul the seeds home. Chances are your neighbor has a mule you can borrow to do the plowing.

Israel, Syria Have Full Battle On Shores Of Sea Of Galilee

By UNITED PRESS
Israel and Syria fought a 75-minute battle with tanks and mortars Sunday on the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

The fighting appeared to be symptomatic of the growing restlessness of the Middle East nations, with Soviet Russia expected to make a major new bid for Middle East oil when President Gamal Abdel Nasser visits Moscow next month.

In Cairo a United Arab Republic spokesman warned that Israel is planning aggression against Syria. Arab League Secretary General Abdel Khalek Hassouna warned that Israel might try to seize the divided city of Jerusalem from Jordan.

There was an official statement from Israel, which is concerned that Egypt and Syria might seek a land connection in the future.

A Syrian military spokesman said in Damascus two Syrians were killed and two wounded in the Israeli clash which ended when United Nations officials called a truce. He said the Israelis suffered "heavy losses." Israel said two Israelis were slightly wounded.

The clash took place in the Huleh Basin in the central sector of the demilitarized border zone between Syria and Israel.

The clash was the sharpest since Syria united with Egypt last month. It was the first time in many months that tanks have been in action on the Israeli borders.

Youths Escape From State Boy's School

GATESVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Eighteen young men armed with knives broke out of the state school for boys Sunday night and nine of them still were at large this morning.

Highway Patrolmen said nine had been captured, the latest group to be caught being three picked up about 5 a.m. on U.S. 84 east of Gatesville.

They grabbed two unarmed attendants in a game room at their dormitory and escaped after forcing the men to unlock the reformitory door, highway patrolmen said.

Blind Man Killed By Hit And Run Driver

GALVESTON (UP)—A dark sedan roared down a Galveston street Sunday night, hit and instantly killed a blind man and carried his body for a block before it fell off the car's bumper.

Harry J. Ragone, 63, and his wife, Margaret, were walking to an ice cream parlor when the speeding automobile, described by teen-age observers as a dark green 1957 (Chevrolet) sedan, suddenly came upon them. Mrs. Ragone was brushed by the car. Sheriff's deputies, city police, and highway patrol units started an immediate search for the vehicle.

Galveston Police Commissioner Walter Rourke and Galveston Police Chief O. E. Henson each offered $50 of their own money for information leading to the capture of the hit-and-run driver.

Ragone retired in 1951 due to his blindness.

And I thought that if my own heart could be seen, there might appear the idols of pride, bitterness, and selfish ambition. Then I remembered the word of St. Paul: "What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God." (2 Cor. 6:16). So on this Monday of Holy Week, may all our temples be cleansed and may their true purposes be restored in our minds.

fore midnight whether to allow the dairy support cuts. As provided in Benson's original order—effective April 1—the support prices for manufacturing milk would fall to $3.05 per hundred pounds and for butterfat to 56.6 cents a pound. The supports for the past year have been fixed at $3.25 and 58.6 cents respectively.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he would offer a bill calling for a "vast" conservation program designed to ease unemployment in both cities and countryside.

Humphrey's measure would provide for setting up a "Youth Conservation Corps" of up to 150,000 young men, similar to the Civilian Conservation Corps of pre-World War II days.

The Senate Rackets Committee turned to another dispute involving charges of violence on both sides during a strike by the United Auto Workers.

It began a two-day hearing on the UAW strike against the Perfection Circle Corp., a piston ring manufacturing firm with plants in three Indiana communities.

No more than 10 witnesses from the company and the union were expected to testify on the 1953 strike.

The President said that "what the farm economy needs is revising rather than a freeze."

List Bill's Consequences
"Improvements have been made in farm legislation in recent years," he said. "The keys to these improvements have been expansion of markets and greater opportunity for our farm people to exercise their own sound judgment."

He proposed to further these aims with a five-point program of his own. He said many farm problems could be alleviated if Congress acted on the proposals which he set forth in his special farm message to Congress last Jan. 16.

The President said the vetoed bill would have had "such consequences as these":

- "1. It would pile up more farm products in government warehouses."
- "2. It would restrict the growth of markets."
- "3. It would postpone the day when agriculture can be released from the straight-jacket of controls."
- "4. It would by-pass the problems of the small operator who produces so little for sale that price supports have scant meaning."
- "5. It would hold up the needed transition to modern parity and would in fact disregard the parity principle."
- "6. It would be unfair to those winter wheat growers who signed up under the 1953 acreage reserve program with the understanding that price supports, which had then been announced would be the effective rates."

Three Killed In Texas City Explosion

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (UP)—Three men died Sunday in a chemical plant unit that exploded with an earth-shaking roar the day before it was to have been closed for repairs.

The three men inside the two-story brick building were control board operators. Today the building was to have undergone repairs and there would have been 100 men in it, officials of the Union Carbide Co., a division of Carbide Chemicals Corp., said.

Damage was estimated at over a million dollars. The blast, which shook buildings 12 miles away at Galveston, took place three miles from the harbor where explosions, fires and a tidal wave killed some 560 persons in 1947.

Liquid oxygen and liquid nitrogen were made in the building for producing polyethylene, a plastic. Company spokesman—Herold Kerst said "not a brick was left standing on the walls."

The explosion was believed to have occurred in a cracking unit. "When you're dealing with oxygen and nitrogen you are dealing with highly volatile stuff," Kerst said.

The three men died instantly and their dismembered bodies were recovered by more than 200 rescue workers who went through the wreckage.

The victims were S. B. Crider, 39, of LaMarque, father of five children; R. E. Stoner, 35, Texas City, and Horace F. Smith, 37, of Houston.

The President said various separate but related actions are necessary under the five-point program which he said should be undertaken. He said some of these actions are the responsibility of Congress; some are administrative. He said some require legislation while ample authority exists for others.

He proposed that:

1. The old basic farm law be revised and include some of the following changes he proposed in his January farm message:
- Authority to increase acreage allotments up to 80 per cent, and to widen the range within which price supports may be provided.
- Elimination of acreage allotments for corn, to permit farmers to plant according to their needs, with price supports to apply to all corn grown.
- Abolish the law's escalator clauses which, the President said, "keep farm people continually under the shadow of price-depressing surpluses."
- Extension of the program for overseas disposal of surplus crops.
- Base price supports for cotton on the average of the crop.
- Enlarge Export Program
2. "When these necessary legislative changes have been made, 1959 acreage allotments would be established at levels as high or higher than those prevailing in 1958. Cotton and rice allotments would be substantially above the levels which would otherwise prevail."
3. The special export program for surplus crops will be enlarged as soon as the new requested authorization is voted by Congress. He said that large stocks of wheat and other surplus staples "can alleviate hunger and need and should be so used."

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It should be consistent with the fruits expressed in such great moral guides as the Ten Commandments, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence. This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Aggressive Power

(Third of a series)

As we look at government we find that men have organized for the purpose of protecting themselves and their property. Government is the tool of this protection.

Also, since government is always an agency which plans to use and, indeed, must use force, we have noted that government derives its power from a compulsory unification. All persons under the jurisdiction of a particular government are compelled to agree with whatever that government does. The agreement can be enthusiastic, tacit or inescapable. But the agreement must be there. Government's power to protect is based upon that agreement, however secured. Power, to be effective, cannot permit exceptions.

Thus, the government is inevitably opposed to individuals. The individual is the natural prey of the organizational tool. And we have shown that when the individual is immoral, mentally retarded or physically aggressive against others, the government can employ its cohesive power in a manner which is pleasing to society in general.

In short, it can act defensively, taking a position against the one, on behalf of the many.

So long as the matter is simple, the case clear cut, the individual obviously out of order, and the protection of the people generally the paramount issue, government is fulfilling its normal role.

But matters are rarely simple and cases have a way of being complicated and fogged over with a combination of motives, behavior patterns, backgrounds and prejudice. Thus, more times than not, an individual will object to some particular government, only to find himself, by reason of his objection; the object and the victim of governmentalism.

A peaceful and law-abiding citizen, for example, may have perfectly sound and moral reasons why he does not wish to share his money with the government or the politicians of Yugoslavia. His conviction can be logically derived, morally certain and sincerely maintained. In holding to his conviction, the individual is harming no one. His belief is not inimical to the welfare of society. Actions which might spring from his belief are not aggressive. In other words, physically, mentally and morally, such a citizen can be above reproach.

Yet, when the government adopts a policy which prescribes the sharing of his earnings with a foreign government, the man who objects to this can be treated in precisely the same manner a bank robber could be treated and for the same reason. The government cannot brook a deviationist.

If the government decrees against bank robbing, it can permit of no exception. It will use its full force of unified power to prevent bank robbing, or, at worst, to apprehend and punish the robber should one appear. And if the government decrees a universal sharing of its citizens' wealth with the politicians of another country, it can permit of no exception here. It can and it will use its full force of unified power to collect whatever sums it deems advisable and will punish any person refusing to provide those sums, with arrest, fine or imprisonment, and in the event of resistance, with death.

Thus, in practice, the tool of protection, which men have devised out of their weaknesses, can be employed and is employed with equal vigor and ferocity against both the criminal and the good and harmless citizen. Here the bank robber and the patriot who loves his country are equaled.

For government has but a single standard, obedience. Its decrees, good, bad or indifferent, are enforceable. And the men in government cannot recognize a difference here. If the government has adopted a policy, the policy must be enforced, even though one policy may be aimed at social stability and the other, at social injustice.

This is one of the characteristics of weakness contained in man's nearly universal tool of strength. The device of protection can be employed as a weapon, both defensively and aggressively.

A Visit With A Correspondent

A correspondent uses the phrase "Dog eat dog ethics of Free Enterprise Capitalism." To succeed in free enterprise, one must produce better goods or superior services than others are offering. He must serve his fellows and he who serves most and best is most successful. It is a process of cooperation wherein each man, in order to do the most for himself, must do all he can for others. It is not "dog eat dog." It is "dog help dog." On the other hand, in a Socialist or Welfare State type of society men get what they want by using the power of the State to dispossess others. Pressure groups succeed in getting their subsidies for farmers, tariff protection, control of interest rates, banking, public works, utility enterprises, and a bewildering variety of handouts in the form of subsidized housing, schools, social security, payments to veterans, old age pensions, and many others. All of these are legal means whereby some people get a portion of the wealth of others, not by rendering service to them, as in the free market, but through the coercive power of government. That is "dog eat dog."

Later our correspondent says: "No one can in good conscience favor continued segregation in our schools." Does our friend have the insight to determine what others can or cannot do "in good conscience?" The writer has spent many weeks in the South in the past few years studying this very complicated matter, and has found many Negroes as well as Whites who do not favor integration by force. Many thoughtful Negroes believe that they have much to lose and that method. Would our correspondent's "good conscience" lead him to force them to accept integration? Many Whites and Negroes believe that the slower method of voluntary solution of this vexing problem is far wiser and more permanent.

Many in good conscience and with full integrity based on extensive knowledge, will not agree with our correspondent when he declares that one who opposes the present plan of forcible integration "hates his brother."

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES "The Spirit Of Humility"

Since I believe most of our economic trouble comes from presumptuousness and arrogance on the part of individuals who do not even know they are lacking in humility, I want to quote from an article in the Freeman magazine under the heading of "The Spirit of Humility." It was written by Frederick Walker, a public relations consultant and journalist much concerned with the methodology of freedom. This is the way Mr. Walker puts it: "Well, the Chinese question is still with us, and Adolf Berle did not settle it. We did not expect aim to; what surprises us is that he thought he could. Such delusions denote a serious shortage of humility.

"How often, in thumbing through history, we can see leaders and followers alike shed all humility as they relentlessly drive to impose their well-intended reforms on a skeptical and reluctant society. Roman soldiers are seen crucifying One whose message was love and persecuting those who sought to practice the ideal of peace on earth, good will toward all men. Add to this the violence of the Crusades, the horrors and atrocities of religious wars, mass murder of innocent men and women and children, the physical and mental enslavement of man by man, the burning of 'witches,' the purgings by guillotine and machine gun. Certainly, the power of the sword, of the mob, and of mighty armies is seldom, if ever, wielded in humility.

"Nor is the historical evidence of ruthless, arrogant action confined to these examples of war and forthright violence. The destructive force often is concealed and works indirectly in the area of public affairs, political action, government enforced reforms of all kinds.

"The modest sense of his own significance, displayed by many a person in his private life, seems to desert him when he turns to public affairs. A man who can't or won't make a simple personal decision, or advise his wife or child concerning small matters of his own household, can and will tell emphatically how he'd run the state or the nation if he were governor or president.

Arbitrariness Breeds Trouble

"One soon learns, when dealing with family or friends or business associates, that arbitrary action and a cocksure attitude may lead to trouble. At that level of affairs, a mistake comes home to roost in a hurry. But there isn't that same direct personal confrontation in case of an error in public policy, even though it affects millions of people and causes untold harm. The impersonality and vastness of public affairs may explain why they tend to be advocated and conducted with so much arrogance — so little humility.

"For example, who ever heard of a farmer's killing his own little pigs, or urging his neighbors to slaughter theirs, as a sound business procedure? But this destructive theory once was enforced on a national basis by farmers' who had lost all humility when put in charge of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"The organization of United World Federalists, designed to tell everybody from Madagascar to Omsk how to achieve a peaceful utopia is perhaps the most grandiose and lofty political concept of all time. Yet, this is a principal enthusiasm of suburbanites who face insoluble local problems.

"If the good intentions of such persons were accompanied by an equally fine sense of humility, they might attend to the problems on their own doorsteps before remodeling the rest of the world.

"Whereas I formerly believed it my bounden duty to call other persons to order, I now admit I need calling to order myself." Dr. Carl Jung, in making this statement about himself, also might have offered it as a basis for political action. What would have happened in this century if the demonic political figures who have led the world into confusion, war, and chaos had felt as Dr. Jung does? Conceivably, if you can, such a humility in a Marx, a Hitler, a Lenin, a Stalin; they were all too certain that they must call other people to order. The results are all about us. Coming home, we have heard our leaders, supposedly confident of their own rightness, tell us that war "would end war" and "make the world safe for democracy."

BID FOR A SMILE

The Christmas season was opened so early this year that most people finished their Christmas shopping by Dec. 1.

Surveys show that regular cross-switching of tires can save you a good percentage of the cost during the life of your car. It's best to cross-switch tires every 5,000 to 8,000 miles for the first 10,000 miles; after that every 4,000 miles.

The five age of man: Heel of broth, ground state, sirion, ground steak, beef broth.

terial wellbeing in our country than anywhere else. Should all this now be endangered by the substitution of crude force, generating a degree of hatred and ill will that has not been known for generations, for the mild persuasive voluntary appeal of Jesus which is slower but certainly far more thorough and permanent?

Many in good conscience and with full integrity based on extensive knowledge, will not agree with our correspondent when he declares that one who opposes the present plan of forcible integration "hates his brother."

Nasser Is Aiming Next At Oil-Rich Kuwait

WASHINGTON — Dictator Gamal Nasser's next target, in his grandiose machinations for an empire of satellite states, is oil-rich Kuwait.

This small but immensely wealthy skelldon, at the northwestern tip of the Persian Gulf, is under furious propaganda and subversive pressures to align with the Nasser-ruled Arab combine of Egypt, Syria and Yemen.

These operations, following what has just occurred in this meeting, are causing U.S. authorities far greater concern than they are letting on.

Secretary Dulles made no bones of grave apprehension at a private meeting with the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The State Department chief did that particularly in response to direct questions.

Significantly, this revealing discussion is heavily edited in the subsequent transcript of this meeting. However, it can be reported Dulles cited the following disturbing events:

With both the Suez Canal and the Syrian pipelines now in Nasser's hands, he has complete control over "the two principal means whereby the oil of the Middle East gets to Europe."

The Egyptian dictator has taken over the long-drawn-out negotiations between Syria and Iraq over the pipelines which transport the latter's oil to Mediterranean ports.

Nasser's ultimate aim is the "nationalization" of all Middle East oil in a so-called "cooperative," which he would dominate.

King Saud turned over virtual rule of Saudi Arabia to Crown Prince Faisal after he made it unmistakably clear he has the "military backing" of his close ally Nasser.

Five Iraq and one Saudi Arabian pipeline run through Syria. OMINOUS SITUATION — Iraq and Syria were on the verge of a pipeline agreement when Nasser blocked it.

Secretary Dulles told the Foreign Affairs Committee the Egyptian dictator is now using these crucial negotiations to exert economic and political pressures on Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait.

In these sinister machinations, Russia is definitely playing a potent role.

"In your opinion," asked Representative James Fulton (R., Pa.), "are Nasser's policies more favorable to the Soviet than to the West?"

"I would say that is certainly true regarding his activities against such countries as Iraq, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait," replied Dulles. "We are greatly concerned about the economic, propaganda and subversive operations that agents are now conducting in these countries."

"Is Nasser's aim to take over the entire Middle East? Is that what he is really after; to make himself the master of this strategic region?"

"If you will read Nasser's book on the meaning of revolution," said Dulles, "you will get a clear idea that this is certainly his objective. I believe that is the only conclusion which can be drawn from Nasser's book."

Nasser's secret plan to gain control of Middle Eastern oil was a pointedly hinted at in his newspaper. Al Gomhouriah recently discloed that Nasser is convening a meeting in Cairo for the purpose of "adopting a common policy for Egypt and the Arab states in all oil affairs."

This is another step, the House Committee was told, in Nasser's grandiose scheme to make himself the ruler of the Middle East.

ANTI-BENSON GOP — Ring leader of that extraordinary 17 to 14 Senate Republican vote against Agriculture Secretary Benson was Karl Mundt.

The South Dakotan raised the explosive farm issue after the GOP Policy Committee meeting had been in progress for an hour. Mundt did this by bluntly asking Senator William Knowland if the bill, passed by Congress to freeze dairy price supports, had been discussed at President Eisenhower's weekly conference with the Republican congressional leaders.

"Yes, the President did refer to it briefly," replied Knowland, "but he gave no indication what he plans to do about it."

Mundt's reply was a vigorous demand that the President approve the measure.

"Practically all legislation is a compromise," pointed out Mundt, "and this bill definitely calls for that. The President should not be rigid on this. He must take into consideration our political problems. There must be some give and take, and we need political help and he should extend it."

This view was warmly seconded by Senators Carl Curtis, Neb., Gordon Allott, Colo., and John Brickner, O.

"I am against this bill and I shall vote to sustain a veto," declared Brickner. "At the same time, I consider a veto very unwise. It will be most harmful to Republicans throughout the Middle West. I earnestly hope the President does not reject this measure."

"I have always supported Secretary Benson," pointed out Senator Allott. "But with all these anti-recession measures being enacted, particularly for the unemployed, I see no reason why something should not be done for farmers. If this is to be the only farm legislation which is going to be adopted this year, then the President should sign it."

"Not only that," urged Senator Curtis, "but we ought to let the President know how we feel about it. Both the farmers and the country as a whole will be done a great disservice by vetoing this bill. This should be told very clearly to the President."

Senators Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., Styles Bridges, N.H., and Jacob Javits, N.Y., advocated sending a delegation to discuss the matter with the President. But this got nowhere. It was pointed out that both House and Senate members had personally talked with the President about the farm problem, and had been plainly told he heartily supports Secretary Benson.

"A veto will be disastrous to the party," warned Senator Andrew Schoepel, Kans., chairman of the GOP Campaign Committee. "This bill must be looked at from a political as well as an economic viewpoint. That should be explained to the President."

Senators Bourke Hickenlooper and Thomas Martin, Iowa, opposed that. They had voted against the freeze bill, and held the President should be given a free hand

The moon, which once was serenaded by young couples in canoes and hammocks, has become a subject of serious concern of late. Months before the Russians launched their satellite, Bruce Elmsore a young Cambridge University scientist, discovered that, contrary to tradition, the moon HAS an atmosphere, though it is much too thin to sustain human life. In 1949, Walter Haas of the University of Mexico reported seeing changes on the moon's surface. And in 1952, Dr. H. H. Nininger advanced the theory that there is a glass-lined tunnel, several miles long, through one of the lunar ridges. He suggested that it might have been cut by a meteorite. But others, remembering that POWERFUL LIGHTS were seen on the moon a hundred years ago by reputable members of Britain's Royal Astronomical Society, have wondered if it has not already been visited by spacemen from a more distant planet. JACK MOFFITT

To veto it if he deems that advisable. "Telling him how we feel won't tie his hands," retorted Mundt. "There is no reason why we Republican senators shouldn't let him know what we think."

At Mundt's insistence, a vote was finally taken, with 17 hands being counted in favor of the freeze bill, and 14 for a presidential veto.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

Mac Belongs To More Groups Than He Thought

A man representing a research organization flattered me with a visit recently, and graciously took up an hour of my morning asking me questions usually reserved for one's lawyer, doctor, or pastor.

After probing into the more intimate details of my life, the house-to-house busybody got around to asking broader questions, one of them being, "Are you a joiner, and if so, what organizations do you belong to?"

I was amazed, when I started jotting down the groups whose buttons I wear, pennants I fly, grips I know, and passwords I use, to find there were so many of them. There were over a hundred, and in a score of them I hold offices ranging from sergeant-at-arms to corresponding secretary.

Some of my clubs probably aren't familiar to you, but they are active all the same. For example, I am Permanent Secretary (unpaid) of The Society For the Prevention of Magazine Publishers Inserting Those Stiff Cardboard Subscription and Renewal Blanks In The Middle of Magazines.

These blanks have been a nuisance to magazine readers for too many years. Try to yank them out and they hang on to the binding like a bulldog. Try to read around them and they flap and flip and get in the way.

Worse still, most of them make a sucker out of you by offering the magazine to you for six months or a year at much less than what you paid for your subscription. We members of this club may be recognized by the button we wear in our lapels. It shows a circulation manager being roasted on a bonfire made from these infernal subscription blanks.

Another club in which I play an active part is the one whose aim is to make illegal the manufacture, sale, or use of an ashtray less than eight (8) inches in diameter. And those that buy tin y, teeny, cute ashtrays would be subject to a heavy fine, even if they were women, which they would be.

Still another organization which has my wholehearted support is the one devoted to the improvement of shoelaces. Today's shoelaces are untrustworthy on two counts. They break if you frown at them, and when they aren't breaking they are losing their tips.

It may interest you to know ehavior ko m liwoma 11 law that well over a million work hours were lost last year through men licking the ends of their shoestrings and trying to push them through holes before they dried out and spread apart like a map. Yet another of my clubs is pre-buttered toast, in restaurants, the one devoted to the abolition of especially the ones where a little paint brush is used to swab on the butter. Not only is the butter questionable, but the painters of the toast never hit the corners, and that is where the butter is needed the most.

I also belong to clubs whose aims are: (1) to permanently eliminate guest towels; (2) to abolish the foam rubber bed pillow; (3) to require doctors to see a patient within three hours of the time of the appointment; (4) to brighten the plumage of the English sparrow; and (5) to increase the size of the average supermarket lamb chops to what they furnish two bites, and not one.

Mama gets all the blame for the drive to keep up with the Joneses. But that's not fair.

More often than not it's Papa who falls for a new car and decides it's time to trade the old one in. More often than not it's Papa who wants the weekend place, the motor boat and all the expensive sports equipment.

More often than not it's Papa who gets big handed when he plays with a crowd and insists on playing host at some expensive bar or restaurant.

More often than not it's Papa who brings home the expensive hi-fi equipment or the camera that is good enough for a professional.

And even in the field where Mama is the easy mark for the latest thing, such as in furnishing the home, Papa is often the one who beams the brightest when guests are complimentary.

Wanting something just as good or a little better than what the neighbors have isn't a strictly feminine trait. It comes as often from the man of the family as from his wife.

Yet women get all the blame for it. And they take it, too. Why? Perhaps because, while it is considered all right for a woman to want to impress others with possessions and to lead the style parade, it's considered more masculine for a man to appear oblivious to such things.

So women play the game. Let Papa get by with pretending to be plain as an old shoe, if that's the way he wants it. Let him put all the blame on Mama for the struggle to keep up with the Joneses. But that doesn't mean that Papa isn't trying just as hard to keep up with Mr. Jones as Mama is striving to match Mrs. Jones.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Soon after Betty's 11th birthday, she experienced a new sexual development that startled and frightened her.

Though it seemed a time for reassuring sex instruction by her mother, none was offered. To Betty's first anxious question, her mother responded with an impatience that suggested she resented the new development. So Betty stopped asking her mother questions and, on a classmate's advice, asked them of her school's hygiene teacher.

After answering them, her teacher said indignantly, "It is certainly too bad when mothers can't discuss these matters with their daughters!"

It is too bad, but our modern scorn of mothers who can't discuss them is just as bad. Meticulously sabotaging our children's sexual health, in most cases we are struggling with a very old and cruel feminine illusion—the age-old belief that our bodies are the devil's temptation to sin.

It is quite impossible to talk happily to a daughter about her feminine sexuality if we believe it to be the cause of the world's sins. So for mothers who feel this way, I am quoting from a just published book by a 70-year-old woman who, to her experienced understanding of us as an analytical psychologist, adds sisterly compassion.

I've titled "Women and Sometimes Men." In it, Florida Scott-Maxwell writes, "Man's need to see woman as the source of evil to him could not help but play a decisive part in her attitude toward herself. Taught that the sexuality she represented was evil, she still quivers under it and seems dazed by the contradictions it implies. Somewhere it creates a discord in us that makes us ill at ease with ourselves. We carry shame of the body as though it were our fault that bodies exist—but we are impatient with this."

I hope that American women will make a best-seller of Mrs. Scott-Maxwell's book, needing as we do its comforts and insights so badly.

Our uneasiness with sex instruction of our children is our long-buried impatience with the idea that our birth-giving bodies are the source of sin for man.

Film Illustrates Free Enterprise For Twentieth Century Culture Club Meet

Twentieth Century Culture met recently in the home of Mrs. V. L. Hobbs with Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer as co-hostess. Mrs. E. L. Henderson introduced the study program, "Our American Heritage" illustrated with the film, "It's Everybody's Business," which explained the free enterprise system as part of the American Heritage.

The film brought out that the truths upon which "our forefathers founded our government were listed as: freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, the right to own property; privacy in the home; equal opportunity; the right to go into business; and the right to bargain."

Other points brought out by the film were, "This system of free enterprise, based on the principles guaranteed by the government, has enabled the average worker to produce better merchandise and twice as much today as he did at the turn of the century. This has brought about a shorter work week, giving the worker more leisure."

"Big business has made it possible for the worker to purchase

Dieting For Those Springtime Styles?

Newspapers and magazines and in apparel shops this time of year have a way of making the lady of the house determined to change her diet so she'll be slim in time to wear the new clothes.

If you've determined to lose weight to be ready for the Easter parade, better watch your diet lest your anxiety to be slim for Spring does you more harm than good. If you diet sensibly, you'll follow your doctor's suggestion to eat less food, rather than eliminate any one food from your daily or weekly menus.

Regardless of whether you diet to lose or gain weight, you need certain nutrients each day. Protein is required for tissue repair and maintenance, and adults require 1 1/2 ounces of protein for each hundred pounds of body weight daily. While proteins are found in many foods, it is generally agreed that proteins found in animal foods such as meats, fish, eggs, milk and cheese, are superior for repair and maintenance of body tissues.

Vitamins are required to enable the body to "carry on" to function properly, and ward off illnesses. Since most vitamins are not stored in the body to any appreciable amount, they must be supplied daily. Minerals are needed to preserve the proper balance in the fluids of the body; to keep the blood in proper condition; and to avoid weakening of the bony structure of the body. The body requires a small amount of carbohydrates each day in order to consume its own fat, and it needs a certain amount of bulk foods—fresh and cooked fruits and vegetables—to assure proper elimination.

Its debut, Daroff said, in a 6-ounce fabric as light as shirting and with a silky luster that belies its rugged character. A fine tropical wool worsted fabric is a sound Easter choice for men in the southern or southwestern states, he said. Mohair- and worsted blends will give luxurious crease-resistant wear all through the summer.

Daroff has a final tip for the little women who will be lending a helping hand in suit selections. He urges them to restrain their men from repeating the same color and pattern they already own. A little variety is the spice of every wardrobe and a new suit should look completely different from the old to give the maximum of morale as well as dollar value.

BLEU CHEESE CABBAGE SALAD (Makes 6 servings)
Three-quarters cup crumbled American bleu cheese (about 4 ounces), 4 cups shredded cabbage, 1/4 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons honey.

Combine cheese and cabbage; toss lightly and chill. Combine remaining ingredients; blend. Add to cheese mixture. Toss lightly, but thoroughly.

PEACH HALVES WITH BLEU CHEESE DRESSING (Makes 6 servings)

Arrange peach halves on lettuce leaves. Garnish peaches with watercress. Chill. Combine French dressing, salad dressing, cream and cheese; mix well. Serve with peach salad.

Another cabbage salad: shredded cabbage, drained, diced, 1/2 onion, a little finely sliced sweet onion and crumbled bleu cheese. Serve with French dressing.

Proper Balance Insures Beauty

True beauty is achieved when all the features of the face are in proper balance, says Max Factor, noted Hollywood beauty expert. If the nose is a trifle too long or wide, diminish its prominence with a hair style that leaves the forehead clean yet softens the feature with waves or wisps of curls. Keep make-up colors away from the nose by blending rouge out toward the hairline. Begin your eye-shadow application on the upper lid directly above the center of the pupil, diminishing it toward the outer corner of the eye. When the cupid's bow when applying lipstick, and add just a touch of brown eye-shadow beneath the nose tip for evening, and your nose will appear shorter and more classic, like that of such naturally beautiful stars as lovely Ann Miller.

dew tell! by Doris E. Wilson Pampa News Women's Editor

Thousands of men will use the Easter season as an excuse to add new clothing to their wardrobes and more than half of them will rely on their wives for advice and counsel in their selection, a major men's clothing manufacturer reports.

For the woman bewildered by this wily task, Michael Daroff, maker of "Botany 500" clothing, offers a few simple pointers.

The color pattern and style of a man's suit are factors, which a woman can submit to her own good taste. It is the choice of fabric that will determine the suit's special performance value in the months ahead, he said.

The man who lives in a temperate climate will find one of the new "10-month" suiting fabrics exceptionally comfortable, according to the clothing executive. This fabric is woven by a special reverse weave to give it lightness and porosity for moderate weather with the wool giving it sufficient warmth for cooler periods.

The star of the spring season is the dacron and worsted blend suiting. This miracle blend combines the strength of dacron with the find hand and suppleness of wool to make a suiting that is light and rugged and highly crease resistant, he said. It is ideal for traveling and the heat all around spring suiting for the average man. A wide variety of color and patterns gives every man a wide choice.

This year, a new summer weight of this fabulous blend will make

TWO FOR THE SEESAW

Who Do You Like In The World Series?

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Well, now that the baseball season is over, who do you like in the World Series?

What brings me to this question, even before the pennant races get under way, is the apparent fact that they are already decided. This is the tenor of all the reportorial juice oozing from the grapefruit circuit.

And Fearless Fraley has to go along with those who predict that the New York Yankees and the Yankees of the National League, the Milwaukee Braves, are "in."

These two apparently are in a class by themselves. The Yankees usually do prove it. The Braves, off their world championship, have the faith which they lacked previously.

How The Races Appear

In this corner, the races shape up like this:

American League
1. New York Yankees; 2. Chicago White Sox; 3. Detroit Tigers; 4. Boston Red Sox; 5. Cleveland Indians; 6. Baltimore Orioles; 7. Kansas City A's, and 8. Washington Senators.

National League
1. Milwaukee Braves; 2. St. Louis Cardinals; 3. Cincinnati Reds; 4. Los Angeles Dodgers; 5. Philadelphia Phillies; 6. Pittsburgh Pirates; 7. San Francisco Giants, and 8. Chicago Cubs.

The Yankees are, as usual, "loaded." They are so "loaded" that Casey Stengel's problem is what to do with some of his young stars.

Pitching is Chicago's forte but the team lacks power and you don't win many games if you can't score any runs.

Billy Martin figures to lift the Tigers. Yet the pitching may not hold up and the club could be hurt fatally by any injuries.

The Red Sox have Ted Williams, infield problems and lack left handed pitching.

Cleveland's hopes depend greatly on Herb Score's comeback and the result of the operation on Bob Lemon's arm.

That takes care of the contenders. The Orioles are hopeful but their dreams look like an anemic nightmare; the A's will discover that spirit is no substitute for talent and the Senators are still the Senators.

Gobs of Everything

In the National League, Milwaukee has gobs of everything, has strengthened and has that new belief which comes to a champion.

Cardinal pitching is a question and the club lacks outfield defense.

The Reds sacrificed power to improve their pitching and fell short in both departments.

The Dodgers' old pros will keep them respectable but the loss of Campanella is a killing blow.

Philadelphia may make a bid as last year, but it is doubtful.

After that you have the real also-rans. Pittsburgh lacks pitching; the Giants are "shooting for pennant" and using blanks; while the Cubs have a poor outfield, poor power, poor pitching and fair defense.

In the series, I'll take the Yanks in six games.

LOTS OF STAMINA

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UP)—For a 63-year-old golfer, E. H. Roberts of Rochester, N.Y., sure has stamina. Roberts won the American Seniors championship Saturday by beating John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, in the final in the seventh extra hole.

Who Will Be New Marquette Coach?

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Marquette Athletic Director Larry Mullins called it "conjecture" today that the university has made a final decision on a head basketball coach to replace Jack Nagle.

Mullins commented on rumors and a signed story in a Milwaukee newspaper that John Bennington, basketball coach at Drake University, will be the next Marquette cage boss after Nagle's resignation becomes effective in June.

"The story was just conjecture," Mullins said. "There are still others in the running along with Bennington."

Any announcement now is premature, Mullins said, because it is up to the athletic board to make a final choice "and it has not been made yet."

Mullins said Marquette had contacted Bennington, who didn't submit an application for the post.

Palmer, Johnson In Playoff

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UP)—Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., and 32-year-old golfer "youngster" Howie Johnson face each other today in an 18-hole playoff for the 10th annual Azalea Open golf championship and the $2,000 first prize that goes with it.

Johnson, of Glenwood, Ill., who hit the golf circuit only last year, and defending Azalea champion Palmer scrambled to a deadlock at 282 over the regulation 72 holes of the event which was supposed to have ended Sunday afternoon at Cape Fear Country Club.

The loser of today's playoff will receive $1,500 second prize money.

Third prize of $1,200 went to Billy Casper, Apple Valley, Calif., who fired 286.

Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., shot a 287 to tie with George Bayer, San Gabriel Calif., Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., and Roberto De Vicenzo, Mexico City.

Bob Jones To Leave Hospital

ATLANTA (UP)—Old master Bobby Jones was expected to leave the hospital here today and doctors said he still may be unable to attend the Masters golf tournament he founded.

Jones, 56, was taken to the hospital Friday. Physicians said he suffered a "circulatory collapse" described as "a mild shock-like state characterized by a drop in blood pressure."

But the winner of golf's first grand slam has recovered quickly, his doctors said, and there have been no serious complications. He will be confined at his home here after leaving the hospital, but doctors indicated there was a possibility he might be allowed to attend the 22nd Masters, which opens in Augusta later this week.

It was feared at first that the seizure might be a recurrence of the heart attack Jones suffered in 1952. But the doctors said there apparently was no heart damage.

One physician said in his opinion Jones "suffered nothing more than a circulatory collapse, which is not unusual for a man of his age and with a spinal ailment as serious as his."

The golfer was crippled by a mysterious spinal ailment that nearly paralyzed him some years ago.

It was in 1934 that Jones originated the Masters. And until he became ill that was the only tournament he played in following his retirement at the age of 28.

Jones' (and golf's) first and only grand slam came in 1926 when he won the British and U.S. National Open championships. He repeated the feat in 1930 — and then started the golf world by retiring.

Channel Swim Is Recognized

FOLKESTONE, England (UP)—Ethel Lowry today was the newest member of the charmed Channel swimmers circle — 25 years late.

The then Miss Lowry staggered ashore on the English south coast in August, 1933, and said she had set out 15 hours 41 minutes earlier from the French shore.

Nearly everyone but the Channel Swimming Assn. believed her. The association ruled "insufficient evidence."

Celtics Down Hawks Sunday

BOSTON (UP)—Near-perfect teamwork gave the Boston Celtics a rousing 136-112 victory over the St. Louis Hawks Sunday in their National Basketball Assn. championship series.

The two teams now move into the third game of the best-of-seven series Wednesday night at St. Louis tied at one game each.

Boston offset a tremendous one-man performance by Cliff Hagan of the Hawks, who sank 10 baskets and 17 of 18 foul attempts for 37 points.

Bob Cousy was high scorer for Boston with 25 points. Bill Sharman and Bill Russell had 22 points apiece.

Pat O'Connor of Vernon, Ind., holder of the world's record for 100 miles, spun out on the second turn in his eighth lap. He was among four cars fighting for the lead at the time.

Len Sutton Wins Auto Club Race

TRENTON, N.J. (UP)—Len Sutton of Portland, Ore., went all the way without one pit stop to win the 100-mile U.S. Auto Club Grand National championship race at Trenton International Speedway Sunday.

An estimated 15,000 persons watched at the one-mile oval track as 13 starters dwindled to seven finishers.

Sutton, ahead most of the distance, covered the 100 miles in one hour, two minutes, and 48 seconds. He averaged 95.501 miles per hour despite 19 caution laps during the race.

Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., finished second and held the lead at several stages of the race.

Third place went to Johnny Thompson of Boyertown, Pa.

Chuck Rodee of Speedway, Ind., plunged into the fence on the outer stretch of his 43rd lap and suffered fractures of the right arm and left ankle and possibly a fractured skull. Although he managed to bring his badly-damaged car under control, it was 10 minutes before pit attendants could extricate him from the car.

At St. Francis Hospital, Rodee's condition was described as serious.

Pat O'Connor of Vernon, Ind., holder of the world's record for 100 miles, spun out on the second turn in his eighth lap. He was among four cars fighting for the lead at the time.

Bums Seek Catching Help

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Battle Royal Tonight

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who apparently have given up all hope of luring Ed Bailey or Smokey Burgess away from the Cincinnati Reds, today looked to the Philadelphia Phillies for catching help.

General Manager Roy Hamey of the Phillies met with E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, the Dodgers' vice president and general manager, during the weekend, thus lending support to reports of a pending trade between the two National League clubs.

The Dodgers reportedly offered catcher Rube Walker and infielder Don Zimmer to the Phillies for catcher-first baseman Stan Lopata.

Bavasi said there was "nothing right now" to report on negotiations with the Phillies, but very definitely did not rule out the possibility of a deal.

Games Washed Out

All six scheduled exhibition games in Florida was washed out Sunday, giving all hands except the general managers a day off.

The Milwaukee Braves purchased 32-year-old southpaw Dick Littlefield from the Chicago Cubs for "slightly over" the waiver price of $20,000. The world champions wanted another lefty because their only postwarers were veteran Warren Spahn and rookie Juan Pizarro, a spring disappointment.

In Littlefield, the Braves get a bullpen worker who will be appearing with his 10th major league team. He had a 2-3 record last year with Chicago.

The Detroit Tigers completed a trade with the Cleveland Indians, acquiring infielder Milt Bolling and pitcher Vito Valentinetti for pitcher Pete Wojey and an estimated $20,000.

Meanwhile, Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, huddled for two hours with Calvin Griffith of the Washington Senators. The Red Sox, too, would like some catching help and the Senators are carrying four capable backstops — Clint Courtney, Lou Berberet, Ed Fitzgerald and rookie Steve Korcek.

Tom Sheehan, veteran scout for the San Francisco Giants, showed up at Tampa to discuss moves.

Peoria Cats Head Tour To Russia

DENVER (UP)—Coach Warren Wornble and five members of the national champion Peoria Cats head a Russia-bound AAU team, dominated by the National Industrial Basketball League.

The Cats grabbed the title from Denver in the fourth overtime of the National AAU finals Saturday night by a 74-71 score.

Of the 12 players named Sunday by Wornble and the AAU national basketball committee to tour Russia next month, only Bob Jeannerd of the U.S. Air Force is not from an NIBL team. — And Jeannerd is a former Phillips Oiler who expects to return to Phillips after his hitch with the Air Force.

The team will assemble in Peoria on April 12 and leave New York by air for Russia on April 20 for six games, including stops in Leningrad and Moscow.

Wolfe, although he only got 7 points before the Denver-Peoria regulation game ended in a 53-54 tie Saturday night, was the Cats' hero of the evening.

The 63 North Dakota graduate, playing on a broken toe, swiped the title from the Truckers four times.

In the first overtime, Denver stalled for one shot, and got two points on free throws by Joe Belmont with 2:42 left. Wolfe moved down court on a fast break and tied it with a layup 13 seconds later.

In the second overtime, Denver stalled until 15 seconds were left, and then Frankie Kuzara scored on a layup for 62-60 lead — and apparent victory. But with only eight seconds left, Wolfe took a pass and hooked it in from four feet out.

In the third overtime, Ken Jaksy put Denver ahead 64-62 with a hook shot with 3:33 left. Wolfe tied it 26 seconds later on a hook shot.

Denver apparently had it sacked away again in the fourth and final overtime as Jimmy Asmore dropped four three throws for a 68-64 margin. But again it was Wolfe, scoring on two successive shots, making it 68-68. Then Jim Palmer and Allen Kelly scored baskets to win the game.

It's Far-Fetched To Place The Athletics Higher Than Seventh

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Everyone agrees that Harry Craft is a nice guy, and that he won't finish last — as long as the Washington Senators are in the league.

Placing his Kansas City Athletics any higher than seventh in the American League, however, seems far-fetched.

Craft, starting his first full season as a major league manager, isn't aiming for any position, much less the pennant.

"I'm only hoping we will win 70 games, and if we do that I'll be satisfied, no matter where that puts us in the standing," he said.

As usual, the A's have been one of the most active clubs in the trade market. But then too, they are short of ball players of major league caliber. While their farm system is starting to show some signs of life, the youngsters they have coming up are still a year or more away.

Castoffs and Youngsters
So for 1958 the A's will try to get along with a bunch of veteran major league castoffs and promising youngsters.

Who Will Be New Marquette Coach?

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Marquette Athletic Director Larry Mullins called it "conjecture" today that the university has made a final decision on a head basketball coach to replace Jack Nagle.

Mullins commented on rumors and a signed story in a Milwaukee newspaper that John Bennington, basketball coach at Drake University, will be the next Marquette cage boss after Nagle's resignation becomes effective in June.

"The story was just conjecture," Mullins said. "There are still others in the running along with Bennington."

Any announcement now is premature, Mullins said, because it is up to the athletic board to make a final choice "and it has not been made yet."

Mullins said Marquette had contacted Bennington, who didn't submit an application for the post.

Fire Destroys Lumber Firm

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP)—Fire, fanned by a high wind, destroyed the John Farrell Lumber Co. early Saturday. Four fire companies continued to hose down the smoldering ruins through most of the day. The first alarm was turned in at 1:38 a. m. by two police officers who saw the flames coming through the roof of the building. Winds up to 25 miles an hour whipped the fire out of control.

W. C. Handy Has His Own Reward

By DOC QUIGG United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—"You just go ahead and do your work and live your life," W. C. Handy once told me, "and if somebody wants to give you a reward, that's all right."

The man who wrote the blues has his own reward. The evening sun will never go down on his words and music. He had the gift of words and he claimed he got it "from the man farthest down—I suffered as he suffered—and I got a purer poetry than you could write."

W. C. Handy's father was a preacher and his grandfather was a preacher. And although he broke away from it as a formal occupation, the Word of God was always with him, and he preached it in his own way. Whatever words may be said over his 84-year-old body at his funeral Wednesday, W. C. Handy has written his own requiem many times over.

I was privileged to be one of those who got Christmas cards from him, always with a bit of verse from the man who said he got the spirit of the people when "providence, for some reason, threw me down in the gutter."

Blind, aged, and ill in recent years, he kept the faith. Here is a part of what he wrote on a recent Christmas:

A Christmas Poem

My path was mighty dim, I never failed to see the light. Each time I looked for him, I'm thankful to the Gracious One

Who guides me and sees fit To keep my outlook ever bright— Like Christmas candles, lit.

Sixth-five years ago W. C. Handy, an Alabama Negro boy, arrived in St. Louis. I sat once at the bedside of the old man and listened as he spun out the tale in his soft, husky voice—a voice that was always filled with poetic cadences. Smiling up at me, he wrote "St. Louis Blues" in a

"I had been beat out of my money. I was a tramp and lousy. I threw my shirt and part of my clothing off the Eads Bridge, and that night I slept in a horse's stall at the race track."

Slept Outdoors "I went to live on the levee and slept on the cobblestones. If I could get an occasional nickel or dime, I could get aloof of bread and a wooden dish with butter and molasses to dip the bread in."

"But the man far down, it was right from the heart he talked. And out of his heart I took that music. In St. Louis, I heard a woman say: 'A man's got a heart like a rock cast in the sea.' I asked another woman: 'What's she mean about the heart?'"

"The other woman said: 'Law, honey, she means it's hard. It's gone far from her and she'll never reach it.' I maybe heard a plantation Negro say, 'I hate to see that evenin' sun go down.' And I heard the songs of the songs of the boats at the levee."

Emerg'd In Song "Those things and pictures stay'd in my mind, and 21 years later, in 1914, they all went into one piece of music in one night."

Handy said that night he "rented a piano and had me a nice little bottle of liquor" and he wrote "St. Louis Blues" in a Memphis rooming house. Next day he orchestrated it on a cigar counter in Pee-Wee's Saloon on Beale Street.

I never saw the old man when he wasn't smiling. "I took out my trumpet the other day," he said, "and just made a note on it just to show I could."

Maybe he'll make a horn note in heaven, just for Gabriel. Anyhow, the place should be a little brighter now, like Christmas candles, lit.

Bids To Be Asked On Work At Base
Tulsa District Army Engineers plan to invite bids April 8 on construction of an operations building addition at Amarillo Air Force Base, Amarillo. The building will add approximately 2,500 sq. ft. to the operations building. Other work to be performed will include utilities, air conditioning, heating, grading and site work, bituminous surfaced flexible pavement, concrete sidewalks, curbs and gutters, security fence, and security lighting. The contract will cost less than $100,000 and will require approximately 270 calendar days to complete. Tentative bid opening date is scheduled for May 7.

Golden Esso Extra will improve the performance of your modern car

... in any price class

What you paid for your car has little to do with the gasoline you should use — it's the engine compression ratio that counts. If your car has a compression ratio of 9 to 1, or higher, it will pay you to use Golden Esso Extra gasoline. Golden Esso Extra leads all other gasolines in quality. It has highest octane rating. It develops maximum power. It gives quickest starting and warm-up. And users say, it delivers more miles to the gallon. It's a better gasoline than "premium," a better gasoline than "super-premium." By every standard, Golden Esso Extra gives you more performance value for your money. Fill up under your neighbor's Humble sign.

THREE FAMOUS GASOLINES: Golden Esso Extra, world's finest gasoline; Esso Extra, No. 1 "premium" in Texas; Humble Motor Fuel, second to none among the "regulars."

World's finest gasoline!

Plains Aluminum Storm Windows Stop Cold, Dust

Harold Smith brought the first aluminum storm window to Texas in 1946. At that time Storm Windows were unheard of in this part of the country. Now 12 years later in 1958 there are still thousands of people who are still putting up with sweating windows, wasting fuel in winter time and needless house cleaning after sandstorms, when the answer is so simple, Dust Stoppers.

Mr. Smith set up the first plant in the Texas Panhandle which is better known as Plains Aluminum Industries, to completely manufacture a full line of storm windows.

Mr. Smith served as an apprentice in the weatherstrip business 27 years ago in Detroit Michigan. And has spent his life working with windows. Since that time he has worked on just about every kind of window that has been made. And from the ideas gained over this long period of time, the idea of the Dust Stopper storm window was developed.

Dust proofing is accomplished by the style and type of weatherstrip which has made the Dust Stopper famous today. He uses a combination of wool pile, special weatherstrip felts and neoprene plastics, a new material designed for both extreme cold and heat. Every part of this window was designed to do a specific job and it does it. Hall was taken into consideration with the Dust Stoppers. With the result that four lines of the windows are designed to go under the screens.

The new Hollywood line features a half screen. Plains Aluminum Industries also builds the most complete line of

Capitol Building Face-Lifting Urged

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP) — It is mighty encouraging to observe how we Americans—the world's sturdiest people—can stand up to shock and crisis. Take 'em in our stride!

Consider, for example, the shock and sense of crisis which attend the current dispute about a face-lifting job proposed for the U.S. Capitol Building.

The proposal is that the central section of the east front of the Capitol be extended outward, thereby creating within additional office and other space which, presumably, is urgently required for the enactment of legislation.

The Washington papers are full of it, some for and some against. The nation's architects are divided and squabbling. There is, if you read the Washington newspapers, and listen to the local newscasts, a terrible argument going on. Even the members of Congress are in disagreement.

Standing Up Well The east front, it should be remembered, is where presidents are inaugurated and the central section of the east front is the precise place at which these ceremonies take place. So, the dispute is joined between those who would give the national legislators more elbow room and those who would maintain the historical east facade of the capitol building, as is.

And how are we sturdy Americans standing up to the shock and crisis of this situation? We are standing up well, doing nobly.
