City Commission:

Auxiliary Air Field Will Be Purchased

The Pampa City Commission voted this morning to purchase the old auxiliary Army Air Field no. 2, four miles south of town near the Clarendon Highway.

The purchase, from the US Health, Education and Welfare Department, will be at 60 per cent of the appraised price, costing the city $19,300.

The purchase does not include mineral rights but does water and surface rights. The city plans to eventually drill water wells on the property, which also could be used for other purposes.

City Engineer Monroe Moore reported at the meeting that citizens of Pampa have requested 49 paving units to be included in the 1958 paving program.

"Two or three of the units include two blocks," he said.

The commission will set a date for a public hearing on proposed paving and to let paving, as well as seal coating, contracts in the near future.

Senate Calls Up Second Major Anti-Recession Bill

Provides Five Billion Aid To Highways

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate called up for debate today its second major anti-recession bill-legislation providing that $5,500,000,000 be committed for federal aid highway construction this year.

Sen. Albert Gore D-Tenn., floor manager for the bill, said its approval would be "a major step toward putting America back to work."

Republican congressional leader expected to get President Eisenhower's views on the measure at their weekly conference with him this morning. It represents a compromise between a more ambitious speeded-up highway program offered by Gore and a less ambitious proposal advanced by the administration.

To Discuss Pressure
The GOP leaders also expected to discuss growing pressure within and without Congress for a tax cut and the President's still unfinished plan for paying supplemental benefits to workers whose compensation is exhausted.

The AFL-CIO Executive Committee called Monday night for an immediate tax reduction of six to eight billion dollars to help end the recession. The eight-man committee, headed by AFL-CIO President George Meany predicted a "continuing worsening of the economic picture."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President will send to Congress late this week his plan for extending unemployment pay. Hagerty gave no details, but it is expected to provide up to 13 weeks of additional unemployment benefits with the states or employers eventually picking up the tab.

Says Study Being Made
Hagerty also said administration experts were studying anti-recession bill No. 1 from Congress—a $1,850,000,000 housing bill which Eisenhower is expected to sign despite some features objectionable to him. It is designed to spur construction of up to 200,000 new homes and provide an estimated $1.5 billion in tax breaks.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the chapel at Duenkel Carmichael Funeral Home, Rev. Edwin Hall, formerly pastor of St. Paul's, and now of Muleshoe, and Dr. Burgin Watkins, present St. Paul's pastor, will officiate. The body will arrive here Wednesday morning. Interment will be in Memory Gardens. Eastern Star services will be conducted at the graveside.

Businessmen On Panels In School

Forty-eight local businessmen making up sixteen panels of three men to the panel, spent an hour with students in the various home rooms this morning, telling the story of the free enterprise system, and emphasizing the benefits we enjoy under our American form of government as part of the Chamber of Commerce - sponsored Business - Industry - Education Days.

The group of businessmen met in the High School Cafeteria at 8:45 for coffee and briefing by H. V. Wilks before going to their respective assignments. Jack Edmondson, high school principal, spoke briefly in expressing appreciation on the part of the school system to the businessmen for their presence and interest in bringing the story of American business to the school system.

Fiery Airline Crash Kills Nine Of Twenty Four Aboard

MIAMI (UP)—A flaming Braniff Airways passenger plane smashed with exploding fury into the swampy Everglades today, killing nine of the 24 persons aboard.

Several of the 15 saved walked away from the broken chunks of the big four-engine DC7 that had taken off only two minutes before the crash, en route to Rio de Janeiro. The accident happened shortly after midnight.

Just as the cabin lights flashed that the passengers could remove their seat belts, a ball of fire shot out from an engine on the right wing. The plane, burning brightly on the right side, plummeted to earth.

Branch officials said the nine dead included an official of the airline from Dallas, three pilots and a pilot's wife, all flying as passengers. The five crew members operating the plane escaped death.

Airline officials said that at least five of the dead were burned.

Three Coast Guard helicopter teams being lifted the injured and dead, from the scene nine minutes after the crash was reported.

Witnesses reported a tremendous explosion rocked the big silver and blue plane as it plunged into the mud and sawgrass, some four miles from the airport. Flames leaped skyward for 200 feet, casting an eerie glow over the low-lying swamp fog.

The explosion apparently threw the flaming right wing of the plane some 50 yards from the main cabin compartment. This fact may have saved additional lives.

The tail compartment broke off in a third huge chunk separated from the remainder of the wreckage some 200 feet away. Four persons walked away from this bit of wreckage.

The gasoline-fed flames from the right wing lighted the clear, dark night while rescue workers a few yards away fought in oozy, black slimes to get the survivors aboard helicopters and ambulances.

Most of the survivors—as well as the bodies of the victims—were covered with the smelly muck when they reached hospitals.

The plane with 15 passengers and nine crew members aboard was en route to Rio with scheduled stops at Panama, Lima, Peru, and Sao Paulo, Brazil. A company spokesman said the flight was actually delayed 24 hours because the airplane scheduled to make the flight did not arrive in Miami in time.

The original flight had been booked to near capacity but the delay caused several passengers either to cancel or to take other lines to South America.

The highway bill already carried heavy bipartisan support despite a bitter dispute over one provision to provide financial inducements to states to regulate billboards along the interstate highway system.

The bill itself provides $1,500,000 more than Congress had committed or would commit under existing programs for road construction.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Gore said the federal funds which would be made available, when added to state matching funds, would provide for a $5,400,000,000 construction program on federal aid systems. Another 100 million dollars would go for roads in national forests and parks and similar areas.

Lions Minstrel Will Display A Wide Variety Of Talent

At 8 a.m. Thursday and then again Friday the curtain will go up on the Annual Lions Club Minstrel. For the big show at Pampa Junior High School the Lions have borrowed seven dancers from Jeanne Willingham's Beaux Arts Dance Studio. Mrs. Maxine Millton plays piano in the Dixieland Jazz Band while Sisay Milliron does a torch number.

Dr. Malcolm Brown's hot trumpet, "Razzamattas" of the Milliron Trio and Sheriff Rufe Jordan's rendition of "Anytime you're feeling lonely..." keep the show on the go.

Dr. Joe Donaldson steps up to the mike for a very special number about the feet no one can love. Between the songs and patter Mack Preston performs a Minstrel dance.

Lions swear you've seen nothing until you see Homer Craig and J. C. Roberts "Ballin' the Jack." The Barber Shop Quartet of Hanford Owsley, Howard Buckingham, C. R. Howard and Director Bunny Schultz give them the words for it.

Phyllis Parker and Sara Gordon from Jeanne Willingham's Beaux Arts Dance Studio form a comedy team for "Side By Side" and Linda Moore, another of Jeanne's girls, does a jazzed-up version of "Sunny Side of the Street."

Six Beaux Arts Dancers open and close the performance. Laynette Loftus, Anita Guidry, Carmelita Hogan, Glenda Finkelstein, Sara Gordon and Phyllis Parker appear in the opening dance number and the Grand Finale.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at Richard Drug.

Churchill Seems To Be Over Last Illness

ROQUEBRUNE, France (UP)—Sir Winston Churchill appeared today to have all but recovered from a return of lung trouble. His local physician said a few weeks of good weather would "make him a very well man."

Dr. David Roberts of Monte Carlo, a Welshman who looks after Churchill when he is visiting the Riviera, described his famous patient as having suffered a "mild recurrence of a former illness that has been passed off."

He said the 83-year-old statesman is "in very good shape, eating well and is a very happy man." Furthermore, he added, Churchill once more is smoking his famous cigars.

Despite Rackets Committee Report

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chances are slim Congress will pass new labor legislation this year despite prodding from the administration and the Senate Rackets Committee.

A source close to the Democratic leadership said the Senate may approve a few mild proposals if it gets a bill from the labor committee. But it was considered unlikely the House will act on labor legislation of any type.

The Rackets Committee report on its first year's investigation drew an angry blast Monday night from AFL-CIO President George Meany, who called it a "disgraceful, sensational smear" showing "anti-labor bias."

Meany said the report raised grave doubts as to the "impartiality, objectivity and integrity" of the committee's future operations. However he said the AFL-CIO supports most of the committee's legislative recommendations.

Kennedy Begins Hearings
The committee, in a first installment of its report Monday, charged that officials of five unions investigated during the past year stole, embezzled or otherwise misused more than 10 million dollars in union funds. It also said gangsters and hoodlums had infiltrated most of the unions, and some firms had "engaged in a number of illegal and improper activities."

A Senate Labor subcommittee headed by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is scheduled to open hearings Wednesday on a host of measures including recommendations by the Rackets Committee. Although this is late in the session to begin work on such a controversial subject observers believe there still is time for Senate action.

They gave the best chance of passage to a bill to provide more protection for union welfare and pension funds. Such a step was recommended both in President Eisenhower's Jan. 23 labor message and the Rackets Committee report.

Kohler Study Edging
Other Rackets Committee proposals would control management of union dues, promote democratic union procedures, extend unfair labor practice penalties to so-called middlemen employed by management and expand national labor relations board jurisdiction.

Kennedy's subcommittee hearings pose a new complication for the Rackets Committee in its effort to wind up its four-week-old Kohler strike investigation this week.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the senator, said the rackets group should be able to complete its study of a union boycott of Kohler Co. products today.

This would make it possible to end the hearings Wednesday or Thursday with the long-awaited appearances of company President Herbert V. Kohler and President Walter P. Reuther of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers. The UAW has been on strike against the Kohler, Wis., plumbing fixtures firm for almost four years.

Solons Urge Ike To Limit Oil Import

AUSTIN (UP)—Texas Gov. Price Daniel and the heads of 21 other states sent a telegram to President Eisenhower Monday urging prompt action to limit foreign oil imports to the 1954 ratio.

Daniel pointed out the same governors had joined in a telegram plea to the President last June 24, but the voluntary imports program instituted by the government had failed to reduce petroleum imports enough to protect the domestic economy and the national security.

"Many of us have asked Congress to require mandatory limitation of foreign oil imports, but the President does not have to wait for additional authority," Daniel said in a statement.

"He has the power now and should use it as Congress intended when it debated this very subject and adopted the National Security Amendment in 1955," Daniel added.

The governors' telegram said "continued imports of crude oil and products above the 1954 ratio between total imports and total domestic production are severely damaging and exceeding the limit recommended for the national security."

In addition to Daniel, the telegram was signed by Govs. William G. Stratton of Illinois, Joe Foss of South Dakota, James T. Blair, Jr., of Missouri, Milward L. Simpson of Wyoming, Frank Clement of Tennessee, J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, Joseph B. Johnson of Vermont, Charles H. Russell of Nevada, George Docking of Kansas, Harold W. Handley of Indiana, John E. Davis of North Dakota, George B. Clyde of Utah, Robert D. Holmes of Oregon, Earl K. Long of Louisiana, Mike Stepovich of Alaska, Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky, Victor E. Anderson of Nebraska, Albert D. Rosellini of Washington, and Steve McNichols of Colorado.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Spotlight Once Again Is Upon The American Farmer

The American farmer is living off the fat of the land, receiving subsidies from the tax coffers, receiving high prices for his products, and escaping a number of taxes. This is not the first time in our history that this has happened. It has happened several times, and everytime it occurs our country pays the same identical price, to wit, a recessionary period that, on several occasions, has evolved into a first-class depression. We must not let this happen again.

The entire question was fully debated in the Congress last week. The Administration had indicated that it intended to reduce farm price supports to a lower level than 1957 supports. The resolution before the House simply provided that the Administration could not reduce price supports or acreage allotments until Congress had the opportunity to make appropriate changes in the price support and acreage allotment laws. The need for this resolution was based upon the uncontrollable facts that farm income has been steadily declining with the cost of living steadily increasing.

The complete falsity of the argument that farm price supports are causing high prices in the market is reflected by the fact that in 1948 wheat was $2.81 a bushel, yet the average price of a one-pound loaf of bread was slightly under 14 cents. Yet in 1957, with wheat at $2.00 a bushel, the average price of a loaf of bread was almost 19 cents. In other words, the price of a bushel of wheat was reduced almost one-third, yet the consumer was required to pay almost one-third more for a loaf of bread. It might be pointed out here that the farmer gets only about two and three-fourths cents out of the 19 cent loaf of bread. This example could be used in almost all farm commodities.

The record will also show that every year from 1952 to 1956 farm income went down and income from interests and dividends went up, as well as the cost of living index.

Much more could be said on the subject, but the cold, bare truth is, whether you like the farmer or not, you cannot drive the agricultural people off the land and into the metropolitan areas without doing violence to the economy of this country. Statistics can be produced to prove or disprove anything, but the facts of life remain the same whether it be 1958 or 1930. Our present economic troubles can be cured, but in order to provide the proper remedy, we must get to the source of the difficulty. Stabilize agriculture, and it will do more to correct the economic situation than any other thing that could be done.

Miss Channing Gravel-Voiced But Beautiful

By FRANK SPENCER
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP) — Her voice is like gravel hitting the bed of a dump truck and she eats raw hamburger regularly for supper. But she's beautiful because she's Carol Channing.

She's also distinctive in that she's making money for her current employer, the Empire Room of the Palmer House, in an otherwise depressed Chicago night club season.

"My hair is, I guess, ecru," Miss Channing said in an interview in her suite at the hotel. "I guess I'm 6 feet tall in my shoes, and I'm usually in my shoes. I leave here April 2 to go to New York and I'll be on the Como show April 12. Next October I open in a show at the Shubert in New York. 'Many Happy Returns.' That's the name of the show."

Miss Channing, Seattle-born, was schooled in San Francisco and at Bennington College in Vermont. Stagerstruck, she left college for New York. She didn't make the grade for six months at I. Mangel's as a model. Then she went to Los Angeles, got a part in "Lend an Ear," New York-bound, and then to "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" and upward.

She wore a black chemise dress for the interview and on her it looked good. She would look good, however, in a shower curtain or a pup tent.

"No, I don't diet," she said. "I get plenty of exercise. I wear a leotard in my numbers and it's soaking wet when I'm finished. I've got six of them so I always have a dry one."

Polio now is almost a worldwide disease; in the tropics, it prevails all the year round.

Perry Como Not Really On Way To Star During TV Show

By FRED DANZIG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — Although Perry Como sings about being on his way to a star each Saturday, everyone knows he's really on his way to another song.

Helping him get there is comedy writer Goodman Ace, TV's top blender of badinage.

"They don't call us gag writers anymore," says Goodie in his familiar Kansas City-cum-cracker-barrel voice. "We're comedy writers, or just writers. But when I worked with Tallulah (Bankhead)," he added with a dreamy look "she called us authors."

Always On The Way
No matter what he's called, Goodie tries to limit the between-song rally on Como's NBC-TV show to two or three minutes. "We write economically because Perry is always on the way to a song. And we use stools because he's uncomfortable standing and more at ease sitting down," Goodie volunteered.

The 59-year-old comedy craftsman, an old hand at feeding funny lines to others, also is remembered for his own comedy show, when he and wife Jane glided into our living rooms via "Easy Aces," back in the pre-disk jockey days of radio. The Aces still keep in practice by making radio commercials — the kind that's joy to hear.

But of them all, the Como show "is the least chaotic show I've ever been with," says Ace. "I was with Berle and you know how chaotic that can be."

"Today, people ask me, 'What do you do?' And I say I write the Como show. They say, 'Yeah, and what else do you do?' I used to feel hurt by that, but now I take it as a tribute. I'm glad they think it's as easy as it sounds."

Pulling out a sheet of legal-size yellow paper, Goodie said, "Here's how we make a show." One side of the paper had pencilled down time slots from 8 to 9 p.m. e.s.t. and many of the minutes were filled with notes about station breaks, commercials and music.

Goodman Ace and three colleagues just have to sit around in his office and fill in the gaps with crisp, witty lines week after week.

crude oil and products. He made an excellent statement, pointing up the problem well, and supporting his position with an outstanding array of information and figures.

The plight of the independent oil producer is very much akin to that of the American farmer. Both are being required to borrow money and to buy equipment, goods and wares of all kinds on a highly protected market, while at the same time, they are being required to compete in the sale of their own products with foreign markets where the standard of living is far, far below that in the U. S., and where the cost of production is equally below that in the U. S.

The Governor, in his closing remarks, made a statement that should be weighed well by all, including those against whom these remarks were directed. I quote the exact words that were contained in Governor Daniel's statement:

"Today foreign imports are determining the amount of production to be permitted from domestic wells, and five large American owned companies and one foreign firm control over 90 percent of the oil imported into this country. They and their desire for big profits should not be permitted to destroy the conservation, economy and security of our nation."

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In case some people think barbers are a bunch of numbskulls who can't do anything else, let me get them straight. It takes brains to be a barber. The licensed barber has to pass an exam that is as tough as any Pre-Med course for an Eye-Ears-Nose and Throat specialist. He has to know all about skin disease and scalp disease and anatomy. I'll wager a good barber could make as fine a set of dentures as a dentist, but I'd like to see a dentist who could give a man a decent haircut.

FIRST RATE BARBER
DEAR ABBY: My barber is the only man I want in my hair and my dentist can stick to the same old grind.

DEAR ABBY: I've got a complaint against my son-in-law. We live in the same house which happens to be my house. He is wonderful to me but the trouble with him is that on Sunday he walks around all day in his pajamas. I spoke to him and my daughter and she says he is comfortable and he says the same thing. Should I start walking around from Friday to Monday in my nightgown to show him how terrible it looks?

MOTHER MAE
DEAR MOM: Walking around in your nightgown will not stop him from walking around in his pajamas. It probably will give him the idea that it's perfectly all right. Have you ever thought of buying your son-in-law a bathrobe?

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am just a silly old fool, but I am 59 years old and have buried two husbands. I am so in love with a handsome white-haired old gent of 74 that I can't sleep nights for thinking about him. He's had two heart attacks and they say everything comes in threes. When he leaves me I cry like a baby for fear he will die in his sleep and I won't be with him. Please, Abby, what shall I do? I know he loves me, but he is too proud to ask me to marry him on his social security check and I know if we live on my assets my family will say I bought myself a husband.

A LADY IN LOVE
DEAR LADY: If you love each other, tell it to the preacher. Put your assets and his social security check in a box — shake it up and share it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14 who always had a pretty fair complexion. I started going with a boy also 14 and he has pimples all over his face. My mother says she doesn't see how I can stand to kiss him. I am getting a few pimples on my face and my mother says I got to quit this boy because I am getting the pimples from him. Are they catching?

DEAR GETTING: Pimples during the adolescent years are usually normal and not catching. Keep your face clean and go to see a skin doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I work for a man who is very nice but he is getting too friendly. He keeps giving me compliments on my clothes and my figure and my hair in front of the other employees and it embarrasses me. He is married and has children. He tells me he likes me very much and I remind him of his wife. What should I do? I need this job.

DELIA
DEAR DELIA: Say, "Thank you" — keep your distance, and keep on REMINDING HIM OF HIS WIFE!

CONFIDENTIAL to Earl: Don't hire her until you find out for whom this belle toiled.

Did you know that with instant sweet milk cocoa, all you do is add hot water, and cocoa is ready to serve? This is cocoa with delicious, hot chocolate flavor, the kind you remember from childhood — the type your mother bought you to drink at the confectionery shop after a long winter's walk. So delicious in itself is this cocoa that you need no fancy refreshment with it. Your favorite boxed crackers of the shortbread or wafer types are all the accompaniment one would wish. Cocoa is fun to top in interesting ways. Marshmallows and whipped cream are classics. But try topping the whipped cream with shredded orange rind for a terrific taste combination — rich chocolate pierced with the tang of orange. Another delicious variation is to sprinkle cinnamon on top of the dollop of whipped cream that floats on your cocoa. Instant sweet milk cocoa is not a mix. It is a blend of fine quality cocoa, whole sweet milk and sugar that has been cooked and pre-processed to give you a perfect cup of cocoa with the mere addition of hot water. No skin forms on this cocoa made with water. It's the easiest answer to refreshments you'll find — fun for your family and friends in an instant.

Lions Club In McLean Has Meeting

(Special to The News)
McLEAN — The McLean Lions Club welcomed W. L. "Bill" Smith, district governor of district 2T-1, Lions International, at the regular meeting recently. Other guests present were Hendricks from Ralls, Larry Fuller of Boise City, Okla., Ralph Thomas of Pampa, the Rev. John Hill, father of Lion Jerry Hill, of Lewisville and Orville Cunningham of Samnorwood.

Lion Boss Amos Page extended the club's appreciation of the float committee, composed of Bruce Cook, Cliff Day and Jack Dyer. The Lions float took first place in the St. Patrick's Day parade at Shamrock.

Lion Cook's Tiger Band also won first place honors in its division at the parade.

Several announcements were made prior to the main address which was delivered by Dist. Gov. Smith.

Lion Ralph Thomas of Pampa expressed his thanks to the local club for their support of the recent county-wide junior livestock show and also invited the club members to attend the Pampa Lions Minirel scheduled Thursday and Friday.

Lion David Fultz extended an invitation to everyone to attend services at the Church of Christ during the gospel meeting which began March 23.

Lion W. C. Simpson announced that the Lions Beauty Contest would be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Lion Boyd Meador introduced Gov. Smith, who gave a very interesting talk. Smith's district 2T-1 includes 90 clubs and he emphasized that Lionism was next to the church in his life. He said that he was proud to be one of some 600,000 members of 85 countries and political subdivisions throughout the world.

The subject of his talk was "The Four Steps in Lionism," in which he pointed out the good that the international organization is doing through the world.

He stressed the importance of the Lions' sponsored crippled children's camp at Kerrville which is "only one of the many worthwhile things for which Lions are responsible."

He said that there are approxi-

Army May Be First To 'Shoot The Moon'

News Outlook
By UNITED PRESS

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead to the news that will make headlines.

Moonshoot

Insiders bet the Army will get first crack at the moon with its Jupiter-C missile. Prospects are good for a moon shoot by the United States this year and the Army seems to have the inside track with the type of vehicle that launched the first American satellite, although the Air Force Thor still is in the running. The object is to get some kind of missile to the moon to regain the prestige lost to the Sputniks and pave the way to the research essential for supremacy in the space race.

Summit Summary

Bank on some new Russian moves to make the idea of a summit conference more acceptable to Washington. Probable gambits: A proposal to hold it in the fall, rather than this spring, to give the diplomats more time to thrash out details. And a proposal to stage the meeting in Canada or Mexico. Reasoning behind this is the known fact that Eisenhower doesn't want it in Washington. While the United States favors Geneva, Switzerland, Ike doesn't want to get too far from home base. The Russians, so the belief is, figure Canada or Mexico might be more enticing to him. And they don't care much where they go.

Deal

The Japanese government will okay a private trade pact between Japanese firms and Communist China, objections from Nationalist China notwithstanding. Nothing political, just dollars and cents. Japan will try to soothe Formosa by suggesting a resumption of their presently severed trade relations.

Cloak and Dagger

Expect more cloak and dagger charges out of Korea. The hijacking of a Republic of Korea airliner last month by the North Koreans was only one incident. The Reds have been kidnaping South Korean fishermen. Object by both sides of course is to pick up information. The Reds have made some loud squawks about it, so you can judge the better of the deal.

APPLE OF THEIR EYE—Miss Daphne Fairbanks, daughter of actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr., of Los Angeles and London, will reign as Queen of the 31st Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., April 1-2. The 18-year-old brunette is a student at Briarcliff Junior College, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y.

Revolving Door

Give French Premier Felix Gaillard a shade over a 50-50 chance to survive the French political whirl for another few months. Some pundits even give him six months, with the help of the Easter parliamentary vacation, political side attractions in local elections, and the summer recess which lasts until October. After that, no one can guess.

Fight

If Sugar Ray Robinson takes back the middleweight title from Carmen Basilio in Chicago, he'll bring back the old million dollar gate—doubled. A Robinson win would clear the way for a rubber match, outdoors, in New York later this year with an estimated gate of two million dollars.

GEORGE DRIVES TO VICTORY

DAYTON, Ohio (UP)—Elmer George of Indianapolis, Ind., won the 30-lap feature race at the Dayton Speedway's 1958 spring car opening event. George also won the opening eight-lap race to earn $1,002.50 of the total $5,000 purse. Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa., was runner-up in the feature.

CAN BE QUIET

While feeding the forest, elephants make a great din, with branches cracking like pistol shots and trees crashing to earth, yet the herd can move away almost in silence when danger is scented.

CHOW CALL—Dinner guests are not slow to respond to an invitation at Treasure Island, Fla., located in the Gulf of Mexico. These hungry gulls swoop in with lowered gear for a handout from Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Whitaker, who are exchange teachers from Lancashire, England.

HIGH-FLYING SUCCESS—Armless pilot Jerry Leavy steps from his plane at Memphis, Tenn., hoists his briefcase with one of the hooks which serve him as hands, and he's all set to call on a customer. The 32-year-old Santa Clara, Calif., man, who lost both arms because of gangrene when he was 13, has become so proficient in using artificial limbs he had little trouble securing a pilot's license. Now he flies cross-country as a representative of a firm which manufactures artificial arms and hands. There are no special controls in the plane. Leavy, who has been flying solo for 14 months, operates all the instruments with the hooks.

The 'Oscar Derby' Wednesday Night

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Shades of P. T. Barnum!

The Greatest Show on Earth rolls into the nation's living rooms Wednesday night with 90-count 'em, 90-dazzling movie stars, more film heroes and heroines than ever gathered in one place before.

Glamor girls galore: Kim Novak, Doris Day, Anita Ekberg, Rhonda Fleming, Lana Turner. Maltinee idols: Gregory Peck, Burt Lancaster, John Wayne, Tony Curtis.

Singers: Tommy Sands, Johnny Mathis, Shirley Jones, Eddie Fisher.

It's the 30th annual Academy

Award shindig—1 hour and 45 minutes of whoop-de-do and razzle-dazzle for Oscar's big night.

90 Million Viewers

Ringmaster Jerry Walls says the cast of his million-dollar production reads like the Beverly Hills telephone directory. A man who delights in tossing big figures around, he estimates 90 million viewers (a record) in the U.S. and Canada will watch the glitter set strut its stuff.

"Instead of saving all the big awards for the end of the show we'll start handing out important Oscars early," Walls said. "Ten minutes after we go on the air Lana Turner will announce the best supporting actor.

"This will be no stuffed-shirt affair. No expense has been spared. Where else on earth could anyone see Rock Hudson, the top boxoffice star, sing a duet with Mae West. And who could afford to lure stars like Clark Gable and Gary Cooper to make their television debuts?

Plenty of MC's

"Instead of soloists singing the top songs we'll have sextets of big stars belting them out. For instance, Shirley Jones, Ann Blyth, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Tab Hunter, Tommy Sands, and Jimmy Rogers will sing "April Love."

"For masters of ceremony we have Jimmy Stewart, Bob Hope, David Niven, Rosalind Russell and Jack Lemon. Natalie Wood and Bob Wagner, the newlyweds, will be custodians of the Oscars.

"Every place you look there'll be stars, stars, stars. The Pantheon Theater will be filled with them."

"MADE MEDICINE"

Sitting Bull generally is given the credit of opposing General Custer in the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Actually, Crazy Horse was the Sioux leader in that battle and Sitting Bull acted only as the holy man who "made medicine."

DOWN PAYMENTS DOWN—Newchart above shows the new and old down payments required on home mortgage loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. In a twin move designed to spur home buying and create 500,000 more jobs, Congress approved and sent to the President a $1,850,000,000 housing bill. In the bill FHA interest rates remain at 5 1/2 per cent. Interest on GI loans was raised from 4 1/4 to 4 3/4 per cent.

HOW DO WE STAND?—Overall picture of the nation's economy for 1957 is shown in Newschart, above, as reported by Real Estate Trends, Inc. Two-sided character of the economic picture is indicated by such comparisons as the growth of multifamily housing construction, as opposed to single-family; or the rise in prices, income and defense spending, offset by declines in profits, retained earnings (corporate profits not paid out in dividends) and stock prices.

Krebiozen Controversy Solution May Be Near

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP) —The eight-year-old controversy over "krebiozen," a mysterious chemical substance which proponents claim is effective against cancer but established cancer experts say is "worthless," may be on the way toward a solution at last.

Dr. A. C. Ivy, professor of physiology and director of clinical research at the University of Illinois, krebiozen's principal scientific proponent, has submitted a proposal to the American Cancer Society for a "double blind" testing of the substance in cancer patients.

He was responding to a statement which Mefford R. Rynyon, executive vice president of the society, made to this reporter last July. Rynyon said then that the society would undertake settling the controversy once and for all by setting up a rigidly scientific testing of krebiozen in cancer patients. He made several conditions. One was that krebiozen proponents formally ask for such a testing.

Confirms Proposal

That a proposal has been made was confirmed to this reporter by Ivy and by a spokesman for the cancer society. In reply to a question, Ivy said any comment beyond a confirming, "yes," would not be "appropriate at this time."

The society spokesman said a proposal had been received and was under study by "appropriate scientific committees" of the society.

The "double blind" is a scientific method of finding out whether any given drug is active against some specific condition of the body. It rules out "bias" on the part of physicians administering the drug and of patients receiving it. The results of properly designed "double blind" tests are accepted as conclusive by all scientists.

Describes The Tests

Roughly it works this way. First, you put the drug to be tested into identically appearing containers. Then you put an inert chemical substance into more of these containers. All containers are given code numbers and the only possible way to know which container has the drug and which the inert substance is by the container's number.

These containers, half of one kind, half of the other, are turned over to physicians who are kept in ignorance of the identifying code. The physicians then proceed to treat a given number of patients who are as ignorant of what they're getting as the physicians. After all results—or lack of results—have been tabulated, the code is "broken" and you can add up which substance did what to which patients.

Ivy told this reporter last summer that he would accept the results of a properly designed "double blind" test of krebiozen, but he made it clear he would continue fighting the all-but-unanimous rejection of krebiozen by organized cancer research until there was such a test. Before the controversy began, in 1961, he was a leading cancer research scientist and a director of the American Cancer Society.

"CAMEL" SHEEPY

Sheep often graze where there is not enough grass for cattle because sheep like to eat woods and shrubs. They also can live without water for long periods.

The cadet who ranks scholastically at the foot of the graduating class is referred to as the "anchor man" at the U.S. military academies.

Harvester Baseballers To Meet Borger Today

Return Friday For Home Game With Frank Phillips

With a 2-1 record for the first three games of the season the Pampa Harvester baseball team goes into its fourth contest today as they meet the Bulldogs of Borger there in a single game scheduled to get underway at 4. Opening the season last Friday afternoon the Harvesters defeated the Mangum, Okla. Tigers, 6-4. On Saturday afternoon they split a double header with the Childress Bobcats, winning the first game, 6-4, and dropping the second, 7-4.

Kippy Williams, a left-handed sophomore with one win to his credit, will be starting on the mound for the Pampans. Williams hurled the Harvesters to the 6-4 score in the first four innings of the opening game with Mangum to earn credit for the victory. While in action against the Tigers he allowed four hits and two walks in facing 18 batters.

Scheduled for probable relief against Borger will be Gary Hill, who also finished the game with Mangum. Hill is also a sophomore. In his initial three innings he faced 12 batters, allowing four hits and two walks.

Probable starters for the infield are Mike Conway catching, Ray Stephenson at 1B, Merle Terrell at 2B, Robert Langford at 3B, and Bill Brown at SS.

In the outfield will be Bobby Stephens in center field, Terry Joe Haralson in right field and Larry Curise in left field.

HERB SCORE "He'll have to set strikeout records to win."

Only One Way For Chicago Cubs To Go This Year... Up

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
MESA, Ariz., March 25 (UP)—Manager Bob Scheffing and his Chicago Cubs share one comforting thought: the only direction they can travel in the standings is upward.

Scheffing and the front office feel the Cubs "are on the road back." But the first division still appears a long way off. If the Cubs can climb a few notches this season, they'll be satisfied. Last year they finished in a tie with Pittsburgh for last place.

Oscar's Oscars For Outstanding Sports Theatrics Of The Year

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—One jump ahead of Hollywood, which used to be in the Pacific Coast, at the absolute request of nobody we give you today the unheralded Oscar's Oscars for the outstanding sports theatrics of the year.

Best production: "Kwei Me A River," starring the Milwaukee Braves. A moving story, in technical, about a bunch of reformed night club patrons who heat a bunch of night club patrons while people in places like Brooklyn and Manhattan "kweided" and "kweided" and "kweided."

Best actor: Walter Francis O'Malley for a superb performance in "Say-oh-no-ah," which is Brooklynesque for goodby and get lost, you bum. The O'Malley was particularly convincing as a man who wanted to repay the loved one who supported him for years but couldn't because baseball is a sport and not a business where heartstrings are used as purses.

Best supporting actor: Horace Sluaghman, for his supporting role to O'Malley in "Say-oh-no-ah" and the co-lead in "Go West Young Man."

Second best supporting actor: Ray Robinson in "a farewell to harm." Unsurpassed acting talent in the 14th and 15th rounds of his losing middleweight fight to Carmen Basilio tonight in the most fabulous...

Basilio, Robinson In Title Bout

and potential thrills.
By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson will try to recapture the middleweight crown from Carmen Basilio tonight in the most fabulous...

Basilio, the tough and aggressive son of an onion farmer who took the title from Sugar Ray on a split decision last September, will try to be the first man to beat the glamorous New York boxer-puncher twice.

Whether the great Robinson, in the sunset of his career, can salvage enough prowess to turn the tables on 30-year-old Basilio, apparently at his peak, is a question that caused a near-split in opinion among sports writers.

Tale Of The Tape

CHICAGO (UP)—Here's the "tale of the tape" for tonight's Carmen Basilio-Ray Robinson fight:

	Basilio	Robinson
Age	30	36 or 37
Weight	153	160
Height	5' 7 1/2"	5' 11"
Reach	67	72 1/2"
Chest	36 1/2"	36 1/2"
Chest (exp)	39	38
Waist	29	28 1/2"
Neck	15	15
Thigh	20	19 1/2"
Calif	13 1/2"	13 1/2"
Biceps	13 1/2"	11 1/2"
Forearm	10 1/2"	10 1/2"
Fist	11	11 1/2"
Ankle	10	9
Wrist	7 1/2"	7 1/2"

Each fighter will get 30 per cent of all net receipts—expected to reach at least $250,000.

31st Annual Texas Relays Set Friday

AUSTIN (UP)—Trackmen are expected to break meet records in the high jump, pole vault and broad jump in the 31st annual Texas Relays Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

The broad jump field will be headed by National AAU champion Ernie Shelby of Kansas, in a Friday night event. Shelby has jumped 26 feet, 1 1/2 inches. The Texas Relays mark is 25 feet 8 1/2 inches.

CHANGING FACE OF THE ARAB WORLD — King Mohammed V of Morocco has proposed another federation of Moslem nations, this time to include Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia. He asked that a conference of leaders from the three states be held at an opportune moment to outline the form such a union should take. A union along the lines of the recent Egyptian-Syrian and Iraqi-Jordanian mergers has been urged by nationalist circles as a possible counterweight to the influence of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, now president of the United Arab Republic. Although the Moroccan king has never denounced French rule in Algeria, he has warned that unless a peaceful solution to the French-Algerian dispute is soon found, Morocco could no longer maintain its reserved position. His proposal for the new federation indicates he does not consider France capable of achieving that solution, and that a merger among North Africans may be necessary.

Educator In Defense Of 'Child's Play'

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—The man- nent woman educator comes to the defense of junior as he heads for the sandlot instead of the spelling book.
Mrs. Rowena Shoemaker, mother of two children now grown, says the "breathing space" provided by play is a must in any education system, even though many authorities are demanding longer school hours each day, longer terms each year to see that U.S. children match Russian in book learning.

"I once asked a group of teachers here to define play," she continued. "One spoke up and said that play is something you do not need to take seriously."
"Yet we must. Play is the child's attempt to learn more about the world around him; to create, to live with his surroundings. It teaches team-work, develops sportsmanship, provides the place to test ideas, to experiment."

Must Avoid Vacuum
"Certainly," she added, "there is a lot of time wasted in our classrooms. But it's because of classes too large, supplies inadequate, not enough teachers."
Mrs. Shoemaker believes, however, that the new concern over our educational system is valuable.
"Any comparison with Russia helps us to evaluate our methods," she said. "We can't keep education in a vacuum, grow complacent. But to use all this as an excuse to return to the dark ages in teaching only increases the pressures on our children."

FIAT RADIO REPORTER
Lionel James, of the London Times, was the first reporter to cover war by radio. He chartered a ship, equipped it with a radio system and covered the Russo-Japanese war at the turn of the century.
"Play is childhood," she said. "I'm not talking because of my job," she said, in an interview. "But nowhere have I heard the time for play defended. And I'm certain it must be, if we are to have children grow to full maturity."
"Play is childhood," she said. "But if we stop naturalness, we harm the children. They do learn while playing, but in different ways."

Plenty Of Sunday TV Shows On 'The Education Crisis'

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Almost any Sunday afternoon of TV dialogue these days will turn up at least one show devoted to the crisis in education.
Sunday's contribution was from CBS-TV's "Twentieth Century," and was called "Class of '58." It struck me as a pretty standard number of its kind and I want to touch on only one portion of the show because it tied in so directly with Leonard Bernstein's discussion of grand opera on NBC-TV's "Omnibus" Sunday.
Like most shows about education, "Class of '58" devoted part of its time to the complaints of a panel of teachers. Their squawks were familiar—low pay, lack of respect and lack of status.
Failed to Admit
But, of course, what the members of this gathering failed to admit (and what all of these gatherings about teacher-problems fail to admit) is that the com-and enthusiasm. He not only knows what he is talking about, he likes to talk about it, as a result, he makes you like it and want more.

I don't like opera particularly. I think it started and stopped with Mozart. But Bernstein made the puffings of a Wagnerian soprano and tenor bearable and he eased me through the gummy pasta of "La Boheme" with the minimum of psychic wounds.
As Bernstein has shown not only on "Omnibus" but on his occasional outings on CBS-TV on Saturday mornings with the "Young People's Concerts," he is a Babe Ruth of teachers. He hit only a triple (because, I think, his subject lacked starch), but he is still a giant among teachers, many of whom, unfortunately, are pop-outs.
The Channel Swims: Joan Blondell, former wife of the late Mike Todd, didn't appear on the CBS-TV "Ed Sullivan Show" Sunday night, as scheduled. Pat Boone signed a new lease with his sponsor for the 1958-59 season on ABC-TV. Tennessee Ernie Ford, who underwent minor leg surgery in Burbank, Calif., last week, expects to be sprung in time for his NBC-TV show Thursday.
Mike Wallace rescheduled his interview with Lillian Roth for April 22. George Fenneman, announcer for NBC-TV's "Groucho Marx Show," is shaping up as since of "Anybody Can Play," an upcoming ABC-TV quiz.
April 6 is the date in which ABC radio will knock off all of its live shows except the "Breakfast Club". Frank Sinatra finally signed on a female singer with talent for his ABC-TV show — Ella Fitzgerald on May 9.

PERFECT PEARLS
Perfectly round pearls are considered the finest. Drop or pear shapes, oval shapes and button shapes are next in value in the order named. Irregular shaped pearls, called baroque pearls, are the least valuable.
BALL LIGHTNING
Floating or ball lightning is true lightning. Balls of fire, the size of balloons, fall slowly from the clouds until they strike the earth and explode. Sometimes they roll along the ground and do not explode until they hit some object.
The letters Q, W, X and Y are not included in the Esperanto language.

THE MAN OF TOMORROW—This artist's drawing may be a true picture of man in the 85th century, if predictions of biology professor Jay M. Savage work out. The University of Southern California professor foresees man becoming a bald, big-domed, spindle-legged, nearly toothless, bug-eyed sight. Savage arrived at his unflattering picture by projecting present trends of changes in the human form. Heads, he says, are already getting larger to house more brains. The bug eyes? From watching television, maybe?
