PARTISAN GREETING

Fidelito Castro, 9-year-old son of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro, is lifted to the shoulders of partisans of his father as he arrives in Havana from New York. The Rebel leader enters Havana today.

WITH .22 RIFLE

BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLS GRANDMOTHER

McLEAN (Sp.)—Funeral services for Mrs. Virginia Elizabeth Hooper, 74, who died Tuesday in an accidental shooting near Alameda, have been set for Friday, at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist church in Clyde, Texas. Rev. Les Crouch, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Clyde cemetery, under direction of the Richerson-Lamb Funeral Home of McLean. Mrs. Hooper died shortly after 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Ben Money home where she lived, about 2 1/2 miles southeast of Alameda. She died about ten minutes after a bullet accidentally discharged from a .22 caliber rifle had struck her in the neck. The rifle was handled by Mrs. Hooper's 11-year-old grandson, Jeff

Castro, The Triumphant Rebel, In Havana Today

Heads Armored Cavalcade Of 2,000 Tough Guerrillas

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—Rebel leader Fidel Castro, bolstered by U. S. diplomatic recognition, makes his long-awaited triumphant entry into Havana today at the head of an armored cavalcade and 2,000 battle-tested guerrillas.

Shooting was heard in Havana during the night, but no trouble was expected between the troops arriving with Castro and the thousands of other revolutionary forces now occupying the city.

President Manuel Urrutia called a midnight meeting of the various rebel factions to settle minor differences that developed among them at the last minute. The meeting assured a unanimous welcome for the victorious leader of the revolt.

Urrutia announced at a press conference earlier that the revolutionary capital would be moved to Havana from Santiago in Oriental Province where the rebels scored their first victory against former President Fulgencio Batista.

He also said his government was opposed to Havana's gambling casinos because of gambling's corrupting influence and he announced that the revolutionary government would conduct war criminal trials of Batista wrongdoers the same as the United Nations did against the Nazis.

The rebels announced that a firing squad had executed Santa Clara police chief Col. Cornelio Rojas, who had been condemned by a summary court martial. This brought to 20 those reported shot following such trials. Another 20 Batista followers were reported slain by militiamen without trials. Some shooting was heard in various parts of Havana Wednesday night, but no casualties were reported. The police radio said the shootings were caused by "confusion" on the part of a police patrol and that "all means" would be used to prevent similar incidents.

Castro arrived at Matanzas, 50 miles east of Havana, Wednesday night on his triumphant march across Cuba.

GAMING HALT IS PROBLEM

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The revolutionary suspension of gambling in Cuba posed both an employment and a residence problem today for some of the United States' busiest expatriate racketeers.

Meyer Lansky, who helped depart President Fulgencio Batista, organized Havana's nightclub industry, arrived in Florida Wednesday night "to see a doctor." He expressed some hope the new government would reopen the casinos at least for tourist gambling. Some of his fellow gaming house operators were less eager to come to this country.

At least one of them is wanted here for questioning by three law enforcement agencies about the murder of gangland's "executioner" Albert Anastasia and the Apalachin, N. Y., gangster convention that closely followed it.

New York Dist. Atty. Frank E. Hogan has said he wants to talk to certain Havana gamblers who conferred with Anastasia a few days before the killing. New York police say they'd be interested in talking to almost any Cuban gambler in the interest of solving the Anastasia murder mystery. They consider Anastasia's reported attempt to muscle in on the lucrative Cuban gambling take as "one of the likeliest reasons" he was shot to death in a barber chair. He is believed to have laughed off a "keep out" warning from Lansky's representatives shortly before he was slain.

Discuss Cuban Gambling. Cuban gambling was also believed well up on the agenda at the Apalachin convention held less than a month after Anastasia's death.

Lansky didn't attend that meeting, and he has already been questioned by police investigating the Anastasia case. A long-time racketeer with business ties to such big guns as Frank Costello, the late Mopert brothers, reported by Adonis, Phil Kessel and others, Lansky apparently enters and leaves the country with impunity, if not without surveillance.

CONQUERING HEROES

FIRE KILLS 16 IN ONE HOUSE

BOSWELL, Okla. (UPI)—Fire swept a four-room frame house here today, killing 16, a mother, her 10 children, and five

City Marshal Stanley Shoemaker said most of the children died as they huddled about the mother, Mrs. Ailsa Gardner.

The father, Booker Gardner, 45, was away on a moon hunting trip, and was not located until after all the bodies had been recovered.

Boswell Constable J. R. Richberg, who arrived first on the scene with the town's only fire truck, said the roof had already caved in when he got there, and that the "sides were just burning away."

Helped along by 20 mile-per-hour winds, the flames leaped to the roof of a neighbor's house, that of Charles Ware and five men were forced to play their homes on it rather than the Gardner home.

The house was located about three blocks from the last water main in this little farming village of 1,000, and when the water in the truck's tank was used up, the volunteers had to leave the neighborhood to return to town for a refill.

Authorities waited until daybreak before entering the ruins, Geo. Nesbit, a reporter for the Hugo Daily News, said the house had been "levelled," except for an odd straggler standing at the back of the house.

Shoemaker said the bodies of the children included a pair of 7-week-old twins, was grouped about the bed of the mother. All the victims were Negroes.

Richberg said the fire apparently started from a wood stove.

This year, the National Foundation expects that March of Dimes coffees will raise much more money than last year," he concluded.

Mikoyan Will Negotiate, Say Germans

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI)—An East German leader said today Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan is in the United States to try and settle the East-West dispute over Berlin. Gerald Goetting, general secretary of the Communist-dominated Christian Democratic Union of the Soviet Zone, made the statement in an interview with the East German news service.

YOU HELP DECIDE ON CITY'S TWO FRIENDLIEST EMPLOYEES

You can help to answer two questions.

(1) Who is Pampa's "friendliest, most courteous" woman employee?

(2) Who is Pampa's "friendliest, most courteous" man employee?

Cast your votes for your favorites today. Honor the man and woman in any service role in the city who deserves recognition in helping make Pampa a friendly city. Just turn to page 2 and use the Award Voting Ballot, then either mail your ballot to the Daily News or drop it in ballot boxes at the Chamber of Commerce, Citizens State Bank & Trust Co., First National Bank or the Daily News.

The two winners determined by your votes will each receive $50 and a framed award certificate.

IN AND OUT

City Grows With One Home Per Day

Pampa in 1958 grew at about the rate of one new home a day, according to a year-end report issued Wednesday by City Engineer Monroe Moore. There were 329 new homes built inside city limits last year, and another 60 homes built on land then outside Pampa but now inside city limits. Valuation of Pampa's 99 w homes is set at $4,351,825. In addition to 329 homes, 17 new business buildings were constructed in Pampa last year, and construction of all kinds totaled $5,808,645. In December alone permits were issued to build 45 new Pampa homes with a total valuation of $543,825. During the year the city engineer's office issued 654 permits for building or remodeling. That figure is nine higher than the total for 1957. However the valuation of construction in 1957 was higher because of the erection of $1.5 million Robert E. Lee school. The valuation of construction in 1957 was $6,904,964.

WORDS CAN PARALYZE

Congress Has Hot Battle

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anti-filibuster senators, who lost their first round skirmish at the opening of Congress, said today they had "other weapons in the arsenal" to use in their fight to change Senate rules.

The controversy threatened to paralyze the Senate in the first days of the new session. The bipartisan liberal bloc which wants to curb filibusters planned to take the initiative today when the chamber met two hours earlier than usual.

The liberals said they would try to set aside a compromise proposal offered by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and substitute a motion by Sen. Clinton B. Anderson (D-N.M.) for the Senate to adopt new rules.

With the exception of the Senate battle, Congress marked time until President Eisenhower delivers his State of the Union message to a joint session Friday. The House, was in recess.

Have Other Weapons. In the filibuster fight, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), one of the liberal spokesmen, said his forces had "other weapons in the arsenal" they could use if the

Pampa Bank Deposits Are Reported Up

Bank deposits in Pampa at the close of business Dec. 31 totaled $26,456,880, or about $1.4 million higher than a year ago, spokesmen of Pampa's two banks reported today.

Both banks have in past years had more money on deposit for short intervals, but this year closes their books with record amounts. Deposits at the First National Bank totaled $17,533,311, while deposits at Citizens Bank and Trust were $9,253,569.

One year ago, Dec. 31, 1957, deposits at First National were $16,497,260, and deposits at Citizens Bank and Trust totaled $8,973,522. Loans are also at near record highs. First National reports its loans now total $5,100,351—about $600,000 less than at this time a year ago.

Citizens Bank and Trust reports its loans (not including Commodity Credit loans) total $3,447,542, or about $127,000 more than a year ago.

Representatives at both banks credit higher deposits on an excellent year on area farms and ranches, and on Pampa's tremendous growth the past year.

COUNTY JUDGE IS RECOVERED

County Judge Bill Craig is expected to be released from Highland General hospital Saturday where he has been treated since Friday for a light case of pneumonia.

Craig, who succeeded Bruce L. Parker as county judge, was sworn into office the day before he was admitted at Highland General.

42 Restaurants Percolating For Coffee Day Tomorrow

Most of Pampa's 42 restaurants are perking today with preparations for a March of Dimes Coffee Day to be observed Friday.

Also, various business establishments have agreed to contribute to the March of Dimes during coffee breaks, according to L. O. Smith, coffee day chairman.

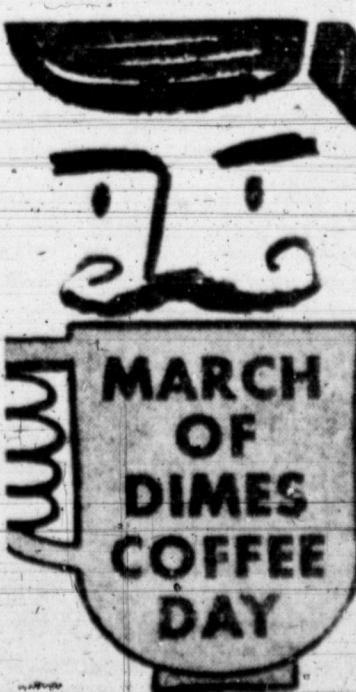

Each participating restaurant will have a special March of Dimes canister on the counter. Each coin spent for a cup of coffee will go into the canister instead of the cash register.

Other businesses, like Security Federal, have requested registers for use during morning coffee breaks.

Proceeds from this month's March of Dimes campaign will help combat arthritis, birth defects, virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system, in addition to supporting continued aid to polio victims.

Friends and neighbors in our county have justifiably proud that they contributed individually to the speech-making development of Salk polio vaccine and to the aid of polio patients.

E. Roy Smith, county Campaign chairman, said today, "Coffee parties produced a substantial part of these contributions. But we must have many more coffees for the March of Dimes this year if we are to do our share to support the added responsibilities of the National Foundation."

MANHUNT ON IN AMARILLO

AMARILLO (UPI)— Amarillo police today searched for John Beason, 20, who broke jail Dec. 29 in Hutchinson, Kan., with another man. Police reported that Beason and the man pulled a gun on him. Police chased their automobile. England said he and Beason left Hutchinson in a stolen car which they abandoned for another stolen car in Omaha. He said they burglarized three or four filling stations in Omaha and 10 or 12 between Omaha and Toledo, before picking up the girls. He said they next robbed three or four more service stations and headed for Oklahoma City, where they robbed about 20 places. He said they robbed three or four more places in a small, unidentified town south of Oklahoma City and left with the police behind them. When the car they were in ran out of gas they stole another from a farmhouse to reach Amarillo Monday. England was awaiting trial in Hutchinson when he escaped. Beason was accused of 30 robberies and car theft and a postal offense.

Businessmen's Clinic Ends With Dinner

A Business Management Clinic, sponsored by the Industrial Committee, Pampa Chamber of Commerce, will end Friday night with a graduation dinner. Frank Carlson, committee chairman, announced today. The dinner will be held in the Pampa Hotel at 9 p. m., following the last session of the clinic. The last session will be held in Cabot Auditorium at 7 p. m., with D. A. Stonebarger, chairman of the Business Management Center, University of Houston, in charge. At the dinner, certificates will be presented to graduates of the ten-hour course. Those taking the course are Henry McLelland, Luke McLelland, Frank Culbertson, Dick Stowers, Paul Crouch, E. L. Henderson, A. A. Darby, Ed Chapman, Jay Thompson, Aubrey Greer, Floyd Watson, Gene Inel, John Kozintz, John Gikas, Ted Gikas, James Evans and Jack Osborne.

Scout Commission Meets Tonight

The Commissioner's staff, Santa Fe District, Boy Scouts of America, will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the City Commission Room. Dr. George Snell, District Commissioner, announced today. The agenda includes a discussion of roll calls and inspections. Coming events, such as "Boy Scout Week," Feb. 6-12, and an Amarillo Air Force Base trip, will be covered. The remainder of the meeting will be spent in planning. The staff is organized for the purpose of strengthening the quality program of Scouting, according to Snell. Three of the commissioners have acquired Scout uniforms. These are M. G. Burns, W. L. West and Snell.

Police Seek Sex Slayer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)— Police today sought a sex slayer in the slaying of a young mother whose husband gave her a "night off" to attend a sorority party while he baby-sat. The body of Mrs. Charles E. Montague, 32, was found in the back seat of her car Wednesday. The car was parked in front of the home where Mr. Montague, a former student at Washington University School of Journalism, had attended the party Tuesday night. Montague, 34, told the authorities he had dozed off while sitting with their two children, Charles, 10, and Linda, 9, and he awoke when he awoke at 2:15 a. m. Wednesday and discovered his wife had not returned from the party. A search was organized and Mrs. Montague's mutilated corpse was found hours later by her brother, Donald Jones. Officials from the coroner's office said Mrs. Montague, a social worker, apparently had been strangled either with a chain or rope. The slaying occurred while police were investigating another college-connected murder in St. Louis, second in less than a month. James Bullock, a night student at St. Louis University, was found shot to death and run over by a car outside the city art museum several weeks ago.

Three-Car Crash Occurs Wednesday

James T. Crouch, 516 N. Wynn, was tagged by Pampa police officers Wednesday afternoon following a three-car accident in the 700 block on W. Foster. Crouch was cited for making an improper start from a parked position after his car collided with a 1956 coach driven by Edgar A. Dixon, 730 S. Reid, at about 4:48 p. m. A third car, properly parked at the curb, was struck during the mishap but sustained only $20 in damages. The parked car was owned by Riteway Motors. The Dixon car had $175 damage; the Crouch car, a 1956 GMC, had damages estimated at $150.

Gas Rate Hike OKed

The Amarillo City Commission has granted formal approval to an increase in general service gas rates requested by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. The new rate represents an average increase of approximately 11.5 percent above the former rate which has been in effect two years. Norman Henry, manager of the Pampa office, reported the increase will raise the minimum monthly bill in Amarillo from $1.51 to $1.80 per month, with a two percent increase in each rate step above the minimum bill. It is estimated that the average domestic gas bill will be increased $8.78 per year, under the new rate.

Minor Damage Suffered in Fire

A fire inside the walls of a Pampa home Wednesday did minor damage, Pampa firemen reported today. The fire was at the R. E. Kirkpatrick home, 1037 E. Clark. Blaze began about 1:55 p. m. Kirkpatrick attempted to smother the fire with a fire extinguisher.

Nuclear Tests Are Undetected

By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)— Two U. S. atomic explosions which unexpectedly mimicked earthquakes may have torpedoed chances of an international nuclear test ban. They also have raised the possibility that the Russians, while engaged in test ban talks at Geneva, could be conducting secret underground atomic experiments unsuspected by the West. In any event, they have triggered new demands in this country for resumption of U. S. tests aimed at perfecting small nuclear weapons for missile defense and limited warfare. Technical experts of the West and East agreed at Geneva last summer that a ban could be policed by 180 detection stations appropriately situated on land and sea. The biggest problem tackled by the experts was underground

Police Spot 3 Burglaries

Police officers on routine checks discovered three burglaries in Pampa early this morning. Police Chief Jim Conner and Lt. Denny Roan drove to Perryton about 8:30 this morning where three suspects have been apprehended. They are expected back in Pampa this noon. The burglaries were at the Wallis Automotive Service Co., 220 N. Somerville; the H. F. Trimble Gulf service station, 1701 N. Hobart; and the Weaver Brothers station, 600 W. Foster. Two of the burglaries were discovered shortly after midnight by Sgt. D. L. Day. One of the break-ins was discovered by Officer H. L. Kay. Weaver Brothers reported the loss of about $10 in change and cigarettes. Wallis reports the loss of $60 in quarters and nickels, and the Trimble station reports about $5 was taken from a cigarette machine.

Davis, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duental Carmichael Funeral Home.

Pickets Greet Soviet Envoy

DETROIT (UPI)— More than 500 pickets and a coffin awaited Russia's first deputy premier, Anastas I. Mikoyan, here today. Mikoyan was scheduled to make a whirlwind tour of Detroit industrial plants. The visit, the second in a series of stops at cities across the United States, aroused a reaction by one-time freedom fighters from Hungary and refugees from other Communist-dominated nations who are now living here. Members of the nationalistic groups met for the past two nights to discuss plans to greet Mikoyan and display their hatred of him. Tibor Magyar, a former member of the Hungarian parliament during the Hungarian revolt against Communism in 1956 and leader of the anti-Mikoyan demonstration, said no violence was planned but no doubt would be left about their opposition to all the Soviet leader stands for.

Radioactivity Is Confined

Atomic explosions on the surface or in the air are fairly easy to spot because of the telltale radioactivity they spread through the atmosphere. In deep underground blasts, however, all radioactivity is confined.

NEGOTIATE

(Continued From Page 1) to eradicate world trouble spots through negotiations. Goetting said. The East German leader's statement partially tended to confirm reports from Washington that Mikoyan has given hints of a softening of the Soviet position on Berlin. Goetting made no other mention of Mikoyan's trip in his 700-word interview. Nor did he show any sign that the East is backing down from its demand that West Berlin be made a demilitarized, free city. He said Western rejection of the proposal could make its execution difficult but would not be able to block it. He repeated that East Germany will assume control of the air and land routes to West Berlin. The Communists today charged the West with misusing the vital lifelines from Berlin to the West for aggressive purposes. Read The News Classified Ads.

ARRIVES FOR BRIEFING—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) arrives at the White House for a meeting of congressional leaders. Senate and House leaders of both parties were summoned for a briefing by President Eisenhower on the administration's defense and foreign affairs proposals for the 86th Congress which opened yesterday.

'MISTER SAM' STILL SPEAKS LOUDLY AT 77

SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN—Man With The Gavel
United Press International
He is known in some quarters as "Mister Democrat" or "Mister Sam."
But most of the public knows Sam Rayburn as speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives. He has been given the job again at the age of 77.
Rayburn has led the Democratic Party in the House since Sept. 16, 1940, but his activities as speaker are relatively new when placed alongside his 15 years of service in Congress. That's quite a record for a country boy, born in the hills of Tennessee and reared on a cotton farm in Texas.
Politics is Rayburn's lifetime work. He campaigned by horseback to win election to the Texas Legislature at the age of 24. Seven years later in 1912 he came to Congress and he's been there ever since.
He spends most of his time when Congress is not in session on his 40-acre farm near Bonham, Tex., not far from the original 40-acre family homestead.
Rayburn's trademark is his bald head, and his scalp serves as a political barometer—if fluffed, the danger signal is showing.
He displays few of the classic characteristics of his profession as a politician. He is shy, quiet spoken, but he can wield a wicked

HALLECK IS ON RISE AGAIN

United Press International
Charles A. Halleck has seen his political fortunes dip and rise in recent years.
Right now they are going up again. He outmaneuvered one of the savviest old pros of all—Joseph W. Martin Jr.—to walk off with the job of House Republican leader.
But Halleck can look back on a series of "almos" dating from 1948 when he believed he had received the nod as GOP vice presidential candidate. Then, in a period of four years, moves to boom Halleck for House GOP leader collapsed twice.
Short, peppery Charlie Halleck—politician, lawyer, soldier, fisherman—was born 58 years ago in Jasper County, Ind.
He married Blanche White of Indianapolis, Ind., in 1927. Their twins—Charles and Patricia—were born two years later.
He now has seven grandchildren.
Halleck first ran for Congress in 1935 in a special election. At that time he was the only Republican congressman from Indiana. He has been reelected to every Congress since then.
House Republicans elected him to their leadership in 1947. But the role actually meant playing

Limping Flynn Not Swashbuckling These Days

HAVANA (UPI)—Hollywood star Errol Flynn is modestly displaying a minor leg wound these days which he says was inflicted by government bullets while he was roving with a rebel band last week.
Flynn told a press conference here that he had been out three times since Christmas with rebel raiders in the service of Fidel Castro, whom he says he has known for eight years.
There was some strafing (in a New Year's Eve raid) and, as usual whenever bullets are flying, I took refuge," the actor said.
"Unfortunately, one bullet slipped some chunks off a pillar, and either a fragment or the bullet itself grazed me.
"It's really nothing, but judging by the fuss you'd think I was about to lose a leg."
He said he is sure Castro is not a Communist, although he conceded the possibility that some members of his organization may be.

Expert Willing To Repair Liberty Bell
LONDON (UPI)—A bell expert at the foundry which produced America's Liberty Bell 207 years ago said today he'd gladly repair its famous crack if Philadelphia authorities would ship it here.
Master founder Albert A. Hughes of the Mears and Stainbank Foundry said he would recast the bell-free of charge as a gesture of gratitude for America's role in World War II.
He said, however, that he doubts the Philadelphia's would be interested. They rejected a similar offer 13 years ago.
The famed bell, manufactured at Mears and Stainbank (then known as the Whitechapel Foundry) in 1752, cracked while it was being tested in Philadelphia. It was recast by American Founders and served until 1835, when it cracked again while tolling for the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall.

US Grocery Bill May Drop This Year, Food Sales Increase

NEW YORK (SpI) — The nation's food bill in 1959 will be about the same, or slightly lower than in 1958. In the new year, food sales are expected to climb five per cent, and profits probably will grow a little faster.

These predictions are the consensus of food company presidents polled by Food Engineering, McGraw-Hill publication. Other highlights of the study include:

A rise of nine per cent in advertising outlay, a 17 per cent increase in market research, a 13 per cent jump in technical research and a ten per cent gain in capital spending by the food industry.

The industry hopes to get the increased sales and profits without higher prices. Close to two-thirds of the leaders feel that prices will remain stable or lower.

However, the others contend strongly that they have absorbed as much of the rising costs as they possibly can, and that further increases will have to be passed along as higher prices.

Although the gain in sales does not appear sensational compared to the ten and 15 per cent hikes that have been predicted for other industries, the magazine points out the increases represent a further improvement on what was a good year in 1958, not a depressed one such as hit most other industries.

For the first ten months in 1958, retail food stores pushed sales 5.8 per cent ahead of 1957, while food and beverage manufacturers edged their dollar volume up a smaller 3.9 per cent.

Food industry leaders expect tougher competition from within and outside the industry, hence the nine per cent increase planned for ad budgets, and the stepped-up research tempo.

A sizeable part of research funds is slated for new products. Seventy-seven per cent of the surveyed food men said they plan to bring out new products or improved versions of present items in 1959. The trend will continue toward convenience foods since the quick-fix specialties came through the recession with their sales allure undimmed.

One internal industry force fueling stepped-up promotion is the threat of growing retailer and wholesaler brands. Ad programs also will be tool to counter the stronger big brother consumer goods industries will make for a bigger share of the family spending dollar.

The outlay for market research will gain in an attempt to make merchandising and marketing dollars more productive. This is part of the continuing drive to make marketing operations more customer centered.

But before products can be matched successfully to consumers, food makers have to build up their fact library on why the housewife buys what she does, what she is looking for, and what she expects from her products.

Paralleling the increased emphasis on marketing research is the surge in technical research. The chief aim here is to streamline plant operations to off-set the steady gain in labor costs. Higher price tags on material and supplies are also adding to the cost squeeze.

Company presidents told Food Engineering, the industry is putting 48 per cent of research dollars into product development, nine per cent into packaging, 25 per cent into processing, and 18 per cent into "miscellaneous."

The payoff from this stepped-up research, plus the expected higher sales volume, brightens the profit outlook, food executives told the magazine. Some 87 per cent of the companies believe that 1958's thin, net-down profits will get a little better in 1959.

Measure Food Purchases By Food Value, Says Texas Beef Council

How much food are you getting for your food dollars? This is the question which the Texas Beef Council feels every homemaker should ask herself — and to which he should know the answer.

Statisticians compile figures relating today's costs with those of 20 years ago, producing statistics to balance one cost index against another. But, to the housewife buying 1959 meals with 1939 dollars, all these interesting statistics are just that — interesting. They don't help her decide what to have for dinner Tuesday night — or how to get the most for her money.

When the British were muddling through an unpleasantness which the rest of the world called World War II, they feared they would be unable to import enough food. They counted the number of people they had to feed and the number of acres on which they could produce food — and immediately stopped production of certain items which did not furnish enough essential food value to justify the amount of land and time required for their cultivation.

This same sort of criterion may be necessary for 1959 food budgets, the Beef Council feels. Those grocery items which offer little essential food value should be eliminated first from a limited food budget. All human beings require certain food essentials in their diets — proteins for building and repairing body cells, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins. Unlike some of the other food essentials, protein is not stored in the body, but must be replenished every day. For growing children, many dietitians suggest that protein be included in every meal.

Beef, one of our most complete protein foods, is the one food we have which is versatile enough to be served in a hundred different ways, delicious enough to be palatable every day, and varied enough to balance the budget.

Balancing the budget with beef is possible, according to the Beef Council, because of the variety of cuts available. Since there is as much essential protein in the economical forequarter cuts as in a prime steak, children fed a low-budget stew are just as well nourished as if they had eaten a rib roast — and they are far better nourished than on foods, which, although possibly more expensive, contained less actual food value.

And, since beef combines well with an almost limitless combination of vegetables and spices, beef stew served by budget-conscious homemakers is not just a stew, but an exciting and delicious meal which will encourage children to enjoy the meals bought with carefully budgeted food dollars.

Here's the chance for homemakers to give their favorite cold weather dishes, such as stuffed pork chops, a new face. Don't hesitate — pork chops adapt easily to many different partners. A traditional stand-by during the holiday season is mincemeat, so why not combine the two — pork chops and mincemeat. Together they're called Mincemeat Stuffed Pork Chops.

Let's see what unique flavors are captured in the stuffing. Soft bread crumbs, mincemeat and chopped onion comprise the list of ingredients in the stuffing. Actually, the extra work entailed in stuffing pork chops is so small, yet the results are so gratifying. A stuffing adds that certain elegance which cannot be acquired by preparing the chops in any other manner.

In this particular instance, pork rib chops are a must. The chops are best when cut 1 inch thick. To make the pocket, make sure you cut into the chop right along the bone. Be careful not to cut all the way through.

In experiments, it's been proven that chops cut in this manner hold the stuffing better.

COOKING RULES

In most any undertaking, it's usually the best and the safest way to play by the rules.

In preparing pork, either roasts or chops, it's been recommended that it's cooked to the well-done stage.

To be sure the chops have been cooked this way, first brown them slowly in lard or drippings. Make sure the chops acquire an even brown as possible. Next, season the chop with salt and pepper. After the drippings have been removed, cover the pan tightly and

Italian Lasagna Combines Cottage Cheese And Rice

We often forget that rice is an Italian food favorite and that much rice is grown in the Po Valley in Italy.

You are urged to try this new recipe. It uses rice in a recipe for a Lasagna-type dish — that's pronounced "La-sahn-ya." It's an unusual combination because it combines cottage cheese and rice. But it is so exceptionally delicious that only a heaping fork helping with seconds will satisfy your appetite after that first heavenly bite.

This sumptuous casserole is made up of layers of tender white rice, creamy cottage cheese, succulent browned ground beef and a super tomato-mushroom sauce. The canned spaghetti sauce is used so this is truly a quick and easy main dish. Over the top is a generous sprinkling of Parmesan cheese.

MENU

- Hot Bread Sticks
- Brick Ice Cream

Italian Lasagna Combines Cottage Cheese And Rice

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 2 1/3 cups water
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 lb. creamed cottage cheese
- 2 cans (8 oz. each) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms (no spaghetti)
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Put the rice, 2 cups of the water and 1 teaspoon of the salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 45 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes. While the rice cooks, brown the beef in a skillet. Cook until the beef is done. Sprinkle the beef with the monosodium glutamate, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. Stir in the remaining 1 1/3 cup water.

Place half the rice in a greased 2-quart glass baking dish. Top with half the beef and half the cottage cheese. Pour on 1 can of the spaghetti sauce. Add the rest of the rice, the beef and the remaining cottage cheese. Pour on the other can of spaghetti sauce. Sprinkle the Parmesan cheese over the top. Bake in a preheated 375 degree F. oven 30 minutes or until piping hot. This recipe makes 8 to 9 servings.

Harping On The Subject, The Saints Are Marching In

By CHESTER SELTZER
United Press International

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI)—Timoteo Garay, a gray-haired street musician, manages to make a living in Juarez thanks to his harp and the Saints.

His harp and the Saints have been his best friends for 52 years—the harp because listeners say he plays it well, the Saints because there are so many.

Timoteo, a quiet, gentle man, who numbers his friends by the hundreds, sits on a chair on Avenida Juarez playing his harp from mid-morning till dusk.

Many tourists pay to hear his songs. But Mexicans celebrating their Saint's Days submit most requests for his music.

Since ever day of the year is some Saint's Day the demand for his songs seldom lags.

But Timoteo said requests are heaviest on the "Day of the Lutes" and the "Day of San Juan."

"On Dec. 12 I always work over time playing songs for my many countrymen named, Guadalupe," he said. "And it is the same on April 20 when the many Juanes and Juanas of Juarez ask me to play special songs for their Saint's Day."

Up Before Dawn
Then, too, on both of these days as well as the Day of San Jose, the Day of the Manifest and many other Saint's Days besides, Timoteo gets up before dawn to play the traditional "La Mananitas" (little morning songs). He plays the song at the homes of persons observing their Saint's Days.

"In my work I see people at their very best," Timoteo said. "Even men with tempers like 20,000 demons are softened by Mexico's music."

Born in Santiago, Durango, Timoteo set out to make his living as a wandering musician when he was 15.

"I played my harp all through the revolution and back in those days when cries of 'Viva Villa and Viva Madero' thundered over Chihuahua I learned the truth of the Mexican adage that says: 'De musico, poeta y loco, de todo tenemos un poco' (we all have touches of the musician, poet and madman)," he said.

In the days of the revolution, Timoteo played his harp for such famous Mexican revolutionaries as Gen. Panfilo Natera and Gen. Petronilo Hernandez.

Accompanied Army
"Once Gen. Hernandez made me play for almost 30 hours in the plaza, streets and cantinas of Santiago along with other members of the Agustin Gonzalez orchestra," he said.

Timoteo said Gen. Hernandez liked their songs so well he forced all the musicians to travel with his army for a month giving campfire concerts on the Durango sierra.

"I wander over Durango, Chihuahua and Coahuila for many years before settling in Juarez 28 years ago," he said. "I came to the city because they put so many juke boxes in the villages it was hard for a musician to compete with them."

Only once did he try to make a living at anything other than music. That was in 1925 when he went to Flagstaff, Ariz., to work as a carpenter.

"But the American boss saw my harp and asked me to play for him," Timoteo said. "And once when I played 'La Adelta' I thought of the beautiful fiestas at Parral, Chihuahua back in the days when Guillermo Baca plaza was called 'Juan de Dios' and got homesick."

So after six weeks he went back to Mexico where he's been playing the harp ever since.

HEAVY CATTLE IMPORTS ENTER
LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—The heaviest cattle imports of 1959, totaling 7,705 head, entered the United States in December. M. E. Winters of U.S. Customs Import said today.

Meat imports from Mexico totaled 2,695,012 pounds for the month and perishable imports exceeded 670,000 pounds, Winters said.

Carlot rail imports in December also increased reported J. B. R. Leary, inspector in charge of the Plant Quarantine Division.

U.S. Agricultural Research Service in Laredo.

Iron ore headed the import list with 280 cars but it was a decline of 30 cars from November.

Three carloads of elephants, monkeys and other circus animals also came across the border when the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus returned from Mexico.

THE BOOKS ALMOST BALANCE—Uncle Sam, it turns out, isn't too far in the red after all. True, the national debt is a whopping 276 billion dollars but, as of last June, federal agencies owned land, buildings and other items worth 262 billion. Map, top, illustrates how much real estate the government owns throughout the world. Put together, it would total all land east of the Mississippi River plus Arizona, California and Oregon. The debt comes out to $1,572 for each man, woman and child in the country compared to $1,493 credit (see drawing, lower right). Graph, lower left, shows how the government's assets have grown in the last few years. They include some 67 billion in real estate and 195 billion in personal property.

Mikoyan Indicates Reds Willing To Bargain On Berlin

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — High U.S. officials said today that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has indicated Russia is willing to bargain on its demand the West quit Berlin by June 1.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported cautiously optimistic that Mikoyan's talks here may lead to a break in the Berlin crisis and easing of other cold war tensions.

These impressions of the No. 2 Kremlin official's views were reported following his 95-minute conference with Dulles Monday and an unusual dinner meeting with American legislators and business men.

Authoritative informants said Dulles was encouraged by the fact that Mikoyan took the initiative at their conference in suggesting a thorough discussion of Berlin and other European issues.

There are indications, these officials said, that the Soviets are open to negotiation on their Berlin ultimatum. The Allies have rejected the Soviet demand they leave

Berlin and proposed a broad conference on all German problems and European security.

Attends Dinner
Mikoyan discussed world problems privately and informally Monday night with guests who attended a dinner given in his honor by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), one of those present, said Mikoyan was in a negotiating mood. But, he added, what the Russians "may be willing to do is still problematical."

Other sources also said the Soviet official took a flexible position. One guest explained: "I sensed no yielding exactly but at the same time Mikoyan was not militant and that is a hopeful sign."

Dulles and Mikoyan planned to confer again after the Russian official makes a ten-day swing through the Midwest and Far West. President Eisenhower will meet with the Soviet visitor about Jan. 19, the White House said.

Informants said Mikoyan opened his discussion with Dulles by declaring that the Soviet Union believed there was a possibility of a peaceful solution of the Berlin crisis and desired a full discussion of the problem.

Discusses Trade Matters
He indicated, these sources said, that Russia wanted its Berlin proposition considered as a basis for discussion rather than an ultimatum.

The 63-year-old Communist then went on to say that discussions on German reunification and European security could be most useful and added that he would like to talk about increasing trade between the two countries.

Each side was obviously feeling the other out to see if there was any weakening in the rigidity in the positions so far outlined in Washington and Moscow.

Mikoyan's schedule here today was not disclosed by Soviet officials. The State Department said he had no appointments there.

DISCONTINUE INTEREST
HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Jackson Dudley and Bonnie Heath announced Tuesday that their D. and H. Stable will soon discontinue its racing interest and devote full time to thoroughbred breeding. The D. and H. Stable gained national recognition when Needles won the 1956 Kentucky Derby.

US Visitor, Mikoyan Leading Russian Roulette Authority

United Press International
The world's foremost authority on Russian roulette is a 65-year-old Armenian named Avastis Ivanovich Mikoyan. For more than 30 years he has guessed correctly which chamber was loaded when Communist purge guns went off. Mikoyan is now Russia's No. 2 man. He is the highest ranking Soviet official to come to the United States since World War II. And Washington's diplomatic and social set are in for something novel.

BIRD DOG—There must be a little bird dog in Squire, a fox terrier who's right at home in a tree in New York's Central Park. Squire went out on a limb, chasing a squirrel.

him frequently remark that if he had migrated to America he would probably be a millionaire businessman by now. Khrushchev's closest collaborator, Mikoyan gives every appearance of now being Premier Nikita Khrushchev's closest collaborator. How he got that way is one of the success stories of modern-day Russia. He is one of the old Bolsheviks. Most of the rest are dead or banished.

Mikoyan has survived through a variety of talents, the most important being his tremendous ability in running the economic side of the Soviet state. He negotiated the multi-billion lend-lease agreements with the United States and Britain in wartime, then wrenched 30 billion dollars out of the East European satellite after the war to put Russia back on its feet.

But also figuring in his survival have been his engaging personality, his personal popularity with party members and the Soviet people and his great ability to know when to jump and where. Although at Stalin's side for 24 years, Mikoyan was the first—even before Khrushchev—to denounce the deceased dictator at the 20th Communist Party Congress in 1956. In the post-Stalin struggle, he passed Georgi Malenkov and Nikolai Bulganin and stuck with Khrushchev.

Amusing, Alert Man
Mikoyan is an amusing, alert man. He seems always full of energy. He is known as a boy-vivant and appreciates good wine. He is an agile dancer and adept at flattering the ladies. As an embever of diplomatic parties in Moscow, he is second only to Khrushchev.

Luck is one reason for Mikoyan's survival. Even he admits Stalin died in the nick of time for him.

"Stalin held us in his hand," he once said. "Only one escape was left to us—a suicide. At the end of Stalin's life, I was about to be executed."

But it is his uncanny flair for trading and business that has taken him so high. At the age of 31 in 1928, he held the post of commissar of internal and external trade. Mikoyan had the job of feeding the vast country at the same time Stalin was exterminating the Kulaks and forcing peasants to make their farms collective.

Mikoyan visited the United States once before. That was in the depression year of 1932, but he found America stimulating and he liked its initiative, inventiveness and ability to get together. He took back for production in Russia samples of ice cream, corn flakes and canned crab along with machinery to bottle, preserve, can and pack food.

As Khrushchev's right hand man, Mikoyan now is in the midst of political as well as economic decisions. Western experts believe Mikoyan is responsible for the foreign policy of trying to win over neutrals through trade and aid.

Mikoyan has never tried to build his own political machine. Perhaps the main reason he is still around is that he apparently has no desire to be No. 1.

PREDICTS DEATH
NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Funeral services were held Tuesday for the Rev. Juan Alberto Garay, who said in a sermon Sunday that many of those present would not live until the end of 1959.

WALTER ROGERS SAYS: Domestic Oil, Gas Industry To Face Grave Challenges

The Domestic Oil and Gas Industry will be faced with some grave and severe challenges in the new Congress. Like the American farmer, it is one of the favorite whipping boys of the large metropolitan areas. Many political hopefuls look upon it as a splendid target for further abuse and willification. Many of them figure that since none of the stuff is produced in their particular areas, they are free to engage in a flagrant and wanton attack on the industry as a whole and, if need be, to put the Congressmen from the big city areas on the spot, politically speaking. Their analysis of the situation might be correct, strictly from a political standpoint, but it can play havoc with the economy of this country. They fail to realize the tremendous purchasing power are created by the active oil and gas up an average American commu-

ity, and these are the people who are going to be hurt if some of the inlets against the oil business, that have been voiced by some politicians from the metropolitan areas, are carried out. The oil and gas business is in bad enough condition at the present time—thanks mainly to the total ineptness of this Administration to deal effectively with the import problem. It is now generally conceded around Washington that the so-called "voluntary import program" that received so much publicity when it was instituted has fallen flat on its face as I said it would a year ago. Anyone who expects the owners of foreign oil to stick hot needles under their own economic fingernails, is whistling in the dark. The fact is that the program has been a dismal failure, and there seems to be no relief in sight. This was as well as admitted when the Administration extended the program for an additional two months, although the oil and gas people had been promised many times that a new program was in the making and would soon be announced; that it would be a program acceptable to all phases of the industry and one that would carry out the objectives of the President's Cabinet Committee Report. No such program has been announced and, so far as is known, no concrete program is in the making. A letter was issued by the department of Interior, Office of Oil and Gas, under date of December 4, 1958, announcing a meeting of the National Petroleum Council to be held on Monday, December 29, at 10 a.m., in Washington, D. C. It was hoped that some information would come from that meeting that would enable the oil and gas people to at least be able to guess what the future might hold. But, alas and alack, those who went down to the meeting were unable to find it. It seems that for some reason, a quorum could not be gathered together during the holidays, so the meeting was just not held but postponed until January 27, 1959. Finding out about the postponement of the meeting was almost as difficult as finding out what the plans are for a new oil and gas program. Those who had been invited were not advised of the postponement. This sort of vacillation simply means that the domestic oil and gas industry can expect quite a number of attacks from some segments of the Congress and very little help from the Administration. I sincerely hope that both the Administration and the Congress will weigh the matter carefully and try to appreciate the true picture, before doing something that should not be done or failing to do something that should be done.

NEW ENGLAND STYLE—A Yankee weekend in Old Sturbridge Village, Mass., includes a sleigh ride to whet appetites for wonderful eating.

Yankee Diet 'Keeps Body, Soul Together'

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

A country sleigh ride along the 18th-century roads of Old Sturbridge Village is a Massachusetts winter experience. It will banish hum-drum care. On a Yankee weekend there's also "sugaring off" (maple syrup on the snow) and hot mulled cider and New England food.

Eat well—listen to the belting and clapping at the Village Tavern in the big-beamed room where the logs roar:

Hot bits of old-fashioned pea soup served from the ox-size fireplace. Yankee chicken pie with brown gravy—and boiled country-farm-flavored by scalloped potatoes. Be patient, we've just started. Remember that sleigh ride sharpened the appetite and tramping through the general store, grist mill and ancient blacksmith shop made us ravenous. Now take up your fork again—Boston baked beans, tiny omelette cakes, macintosh, the Indian dish of Colonial days, red pepper relish, watermelon rind and spiced black cherries (good for the cornsticks or homemade wholewheat bread). No dessert? Now listen, the 18th-century Yankees were manifold eaters. Certainly there's dessert—baked Indian pudding with thick cream; maple butternut cake and just to keep everything in place, hot apple pie with hints of cheddar cheese. Coffee? Gallons of it!

Later in the afternoon we munch warm molasses cookies, just to keep body and soul together until we return to the nearby Publick House for dinner. There, Louise Coggeshall, the most knowing of innkeepers, has a roast pheasant stuffed with wild rice waiting, plus currant jelly and corn sticks like you never eat before.

After dinner? Well, anyone for square dancing? MULLED CIDER (Serves 8) —One quart sweet cider, dozen whole cloves, 4 or 5 sticks cinnamon. Bring to slow boil and let simmer 10 to 15 minutes. Serve. Tomorrow's Dinner: Roast turkey with stuffing, cranberry sauce, currant jelly, baked potatoes, green beans, rolls, butter or margarine, celery and radishes, green apple pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Wesleyan Service Guild Emphasizes Christian Concern

Lillian Mullinax was hostess to thirteen members and one guest of the Wesleyan Service Guild at its regular meeting January 5 in the parlor of the First Methodist Church, Pampa.

Minnie Allen opened the meeting with prayer, and then conducted the business session. The group sang the "Guild Hymn" and "Count Your Blessings," after which Mrs. Sherman White gave a devotional, advocating the counting of your blessings in all of the New Year.

Inez Clubb gave an introduction to the new study, "Christian Concern" for our "North American Neighbors," allowing most of the study time for the showing of colored slides by Mrs. Ray Dickerson of Lefors. In her introduction of the guest, Mrs. H. Smith explained that Mrs. Dickerson spent several months in Alaska with her husband, who was stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska from 1954 to 1956.

The pictures are typical of the geographical aspects of various parts of the 49th state and depicted the beauty of the sunsets, sunrises, and the long winter snow scenes, the Eskimos in their fur attire and their trained dogs.

Refreshments were served to those mentioned and: Mmes. Harold Wright, Ben Ogden, W. C. Hutchinson, J. M. Turner, W. B. Fountain, Malcolm Denison, and Misses Alma Wilson and the Pool.

Cooking, The Product Of Habit, Says County Home Demonstrator

"Cooking is a family trait," said Miss Louella Patterson, Gray County Home Demonstrator agent, at a meeting of the Meriten Home Demonstration Club, Tuesday, Miss Patterson said that most women cook as they have been taught by their mothers and mothers in law and according to their nationality.

Women of German, Italian, French, Indian, Scotch, Irish and English extraction were represented at the meeting. Miss Patterson gave recipes from many nations and, in a demonstration, prepared two Mexican dishes: enchiladas and Mexican rice. The recipe for enchiladas follows:

Heat two cups of chili. Dip 12 soft tortillas in the hot chili, placing two tablespoons of grated American cheese and two teaspoons of chopped onions in the center of each tortilla. Roll each tortilla like a jelly roll and place the rolled tortillas, seam side down, in a shallow baking dish.

Cover the tortillas with the remaining chili, top with grated cheese and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes or until the cheese melts.

Enchiladas and Mexican rice were served to members and guests. Mrs. Bob Brandon, Club president, opened a business meeting with the Club prayer, and appointed demonstrators and leaders for the coming year. Mrs. Archie Maness and Mrs. B. Smith are the new food demonstrators. Mrs. Clyde Edmondson and Mrs. Jack Prather were named to attend a demonstration school in Lefors Jan. 11. This meeting will take place in the Civic Center at 10 a. m. Each woman is to bring a sack lunch.

The Meriten Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Jack Howard in the Sinclear-Meriten Camp Tuesday morning. Other members in attendance were Mrs. Walter Murphy and Mrs. Sanford McQuigg. Guests were Mrs. D. F. Flynn and seven children. The next club meeting will take place in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather, south of Pampa, at 9:30 a. m., Jan. 20.

Round Steak Sits In Recipe Hall of Fame

It's not without fanfare or celebrated distinction when a recipe enters the distinguished hall of fame.

Beef round steak is the choice in this gourmet specialty that can easily achieve renown.

A well-known connoisseur of fine foods, Reba Staggs, places this round steak recipe among some of the recipe greats.

A round steak is first cut into 8 pieces, 1/2 inch thick and each piece rolled like a jelly roll. The steak rolls are then "wrapped up" in bacon slices. First browned, the beef rolls are then braised slowly in a mixture of catchup, water and bouillon. Onion is added for seasoning.

BEEF AND BACON ROLLS
1 beef round steak, cut 1/2 inch thick
4 slices bacon
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3/4 cup water

2 tablespoons catchup
1/2 cup bouillon cube
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon flour

Music Teachers Meet

The Pampa Music Teachers Association will meet at 11:30 a. m. Friday for lunch in Johnson's Cafe. Mrs. Bob Perkins, president, made the announcement today.

If your hips are just a touch too wide, get out the tape measure and find the widest point. Never, but never, let your suit jacket end at that point. It would only emphasize what you wish concealed.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

'DEAR ABBY: The new dress styles are bad enough, but at least they don't do any PHYSICAL harm. How about those pointed shoes? I went from shoe store to shoe store trying to buy a pair of shoes but I was told all they had were the new pointed shoes. So I went home and had my old shoes re-heeled and re-soled and I'm going to keep right on having them re-heeled and re-soled until I can buy some shoes that fit me. My TOES do not grow in a point—and neither does a man's HEAD:

ROUND TOES

'DEAR ABBY: The man in the shoe store told me to TRY the new pointed shoes so I tried them. I brought them back and told him they hurt. He said they hurt only in my head. Then he did me a favor and exchanged the same style shoe for another pair of size larger. Now I ask you? I normally wear an "8 A" but in the new style shoes I take a "9 A." If they were oxfords I would get them mixed up with my husband's. What do I do now?

ALL FEET

Dear All: Send me a postcard and join Abby's W.W.F.S. Anonymous Club (Wom't Wear Freakish Styles) already has thousands of members (men, too) who protest the new styles and refuse to wear or buy them. Try the suggestion offered by "Round Toes" above.

'DEAR ABBY: I am a member of your W.W.F.S. Anonymous Club (Wom't Wear Freakish Styles) and I went shopping because I wanted a new dress for my sister's wedding. They told me the SACK dresses were OUT but they had something new which was very feminine, flattering and lovely. I was shown the EMPIRE style which is a nightgown tied under the armpits with a string. Is THIS their idea of something lovely? It's worse than the sack. STILL LOOKING

'DEAR ABBY: What are you trying to do? Ruin the Ladies Dress business? Your W.W.F.S. Club, encourages women to stop buying and that is very bad for the nation's business. I own a ladies dress shop and I have to sell what the manufacturers give me. They have to manufacture what the dress designers give them. Women are very susceptible to suggestion and when millions of women get together and quit buying a major depression could result. Please reconsider and put a stop to this Club.

Dear Retailer: If you saw the thousands of letters I've received from women who say they short pants haven't bought a dress in two years because they couldn't find anything "decent," you'd realize that I am trying to help you—not hurt you. I DO know that the sooner you get those beautiful, flattering feminine styles back into your store, they'll sell like hot cakes. I don't know whose idea it was to sabotage us women, but I hope you'll take this to your leader.

'DEAR ABBY: I've heard a lot of arguments about who's smarter, men or women. You don't see men falling for every crazy new style that comes along. They tried to give us embroidered shirts and ruffled cuffs, but nobody went for it. In the past 35 years men's styles haven't changed much. Suits are a trifle lighter (or looser) and buttons moved an inch or two and lapels are varied, but men haven't looked ridiculous since they threw away the powdered wigs and sat in knee-britches. Women have ruined their looks with the flat-look, chemise and trapeze. Their shoes are submarines and their hair-dos look like unmade Army coats. Who's smarter? The answer is obvious.

Refugee Children Get New Clothes

Thousands of Arab refugee children all have new clothes in 1959, thanks to the response of women's church groups across the nation to Lutheran World Relief's "Dorcas Project." More than 60,000 garments are now being sewn by Lutheran women in America from patterns made in Jordan, for youngsters in refugee camps in the Middle East. "The project has caught the imagination of our women's groups," reports Dr. Ove R. Nielson, project secretary in New York. The response has been excellent, exceeding all our expectations. "The Dorcas Project is named after the woman of old Joppa who, according to Acts 9:36-41, made coats and garments for the poor. Through the program, women's organizations buy packages costing $25 that contain

PIERSON IS AL ROOKIE OF YEAR

By BOB SALMON
United Press International
BOSTON (UPI) — Albie Pearson, the jaunty little Washington Senators outfielder who made the major leagues despite his fire hydrant size, today held in the American League's top rookie award for 1958.

Pearson was named on 14 of 24 votes by baseball writers, the results being announced Wednesday by Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe, secretary-treasurer of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The selection came as a distinct surprise to many baseball followers. New York Yankees reliever pitcher Ryne Duren had been considered the leading candidate.

Duren, who compiled a miserly 2.01 earned run average for the Yanks while hurling brilliantly as a fireballing fireman, placed second in the voting with seven votes.

Right-handed pitcher Gary Bell of the Cleveland Indians, who had a 12-10 record, was the only other player named, getting three votes.

"This is the best news I ever received in my life," said Pearson when he learned of his selection in Havana, Cuba. "The most thrilling moment for me was when they announced it over the loud-speaker here in the Havana park."

Pearson, the littlest player in either league at 5-4 1/2, who packs a solid 160 pounds on his short frame, started his rookie season with Washington like a house afire, and though he tatted off in hitting ended up with a .275 average.

His forte was in the field, however. Playing between a pair of big but slow men — Roy Sievers and Jim Lemon — Pearson covered a good part of both left and right field in addition to his center field post.

He collected 146 hits including 25 doubles, 5 triples and 3 home runs for the last-place Senators, driving in 33 runs and scoring 63. One of his greatest thrills came last Sept. 5 when he ran a country-mile to grab Mickey Maule's 465-foot poke at Yankee Stadium.

The rookie award may have been a surprise to many, but not to Pearson. He knew he could do it all along.

The first Annual Merchants Invitation Bowling Tournament, for women bowlers, is scheduled to begin Saturday, Jan. 10, at Harvester Bowl, with 62 teams from Pampa and area towns entered.

Local merchants sponsoring the tournament are C. A. Husted, Owl Liquor, White Way Cafe, Black Gold Motel, Caldwell's Drive Inn, Gilbert's, Cretney Drug, El Capri Motel, Tex Evans Bulok, Lewis Shamrock Service, Smith's Shoes, Behrman's Shoppe, Purvey Motor Co., Davis Gift Service and Harvester Bowl Coffee Shop.

Trophies will be given to all first place winners, with the prize fund to be returned .100 per cent. A $10 1st place team guarantee was donated by Groninger and King Inc.

Team events are scheduled for 6:30 and 9 p.m., Saturday Jan. 10, and Saturday Jan. 17, with singles and doubles to be bowled on the corresponding Sundays from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. A Ragtime Doubles event is to be held on the same dates. Ragtime Doubles may be bowled with two women or a man and a woman, with a 75 per cent handicap.

Spectators are invited to come out to Harvester Bowl and watch these events.

Bowling Meet Set Saturday

Boyd Calls For 'Shot'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Middleweight Bobby Boyd said today he wants a title fight and Holly Mims, who lost Wednesday night's split decision, said he wants "any fight just so it ain't in Chicago."

Unranked Boyd, campaigning to regain the No. 1 spot he held in 1956, was awarded a narrow decision over the seventh ranked Mims in a 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium.

Boyd, a 25-year-old Chicagoan who has always failed in the big ones, came near missing again, picking up most of his points in the middle rounds sandwiched between a shaky start and a 10th round in which he served as a steady target for the 29-year-old veteran from Washington, D. C.

But Boyd and manager Bernie Glickman figured it was good enough.

"We certainly deserve a move into the rankings now," Glickman said.

Boyd, joining in after a shower, was asked if he agreed with his manager.

"I agree, I think I fought to get a shot at the title," Boyd said. Manager Nick Trotta did most of the talking for Mims.

"I won't say we were robbed," he started off. "Let's just say Boyd wouldn't be allowed to fight in Miami Beach, Fla."

Coyotes Dominate 4A All-State Team

State champion Wichita Falls placed three men on the first unit and two more on the second as the Coyotes dominated the Texas Sports Writers Assn. 1958 Class AAAA all-state schoolboy football teams.

Coach Joe Golding's single-wing exponents placed tailback Johnny Genung, the man who made the offense click, tall and talented Leland Allred at end and Bennie Shields, a stocky 218-pound tackle and defensive specialist, on the first team.

And on the second team were guard Chafie Edmon, the stout 177-pounder who opened the holes

Allred's running mate at the other end was Carl Choate, leading scorer on Pasadena's finalist team. The Eagle wingman lacked only one vote of being a unanimous choice.

Mike Gieb of Garland, a second team all-stater in Class AAA last season, won the other tackle spot opposite Shields. Despite his 208 pound bulk Gieb was a sprint relay man in track.

The other guard spot went to Butch Couch of Corpus Christi Ray, where he was rated on a par with former all-America guard Bill Glass of the same school.

At center, the honors went to Johnny Cole of Fort Worth Carter, described by his coach as the "central force" that kept the Eagles going to the quarterfinals. Shields, Gannon and Green of the first team and Turner of the second are juniors and will be back next season.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

According to some of the general scoop coming from northern sporting writers, it seems if a fisherman is successful he must know how to make and tie his own flies. He also must know how and when to place the fly in order to successfully catch fish. Not being an expert on the subject it would be out of order to disagree but, nevertheless, I do.

In the first place, it is my contention that anyone can catch more fish with live bait than artificial, provided, of course, that they have the knowledge and use same in the art of angling. A lively four to five-inch shiner will catch more fish in the four to seven-pound bucket than will any artificial bait if the shiner is properly utilized.

Only last week I tried my luck in a good bass pond with lively small minnows and brought home exactly nothing. I still believe that if I had been using some of the giant type minnows, the six or seven-pounders would have struck.

The Canadian River is chuck full of choice bait, a few miles up the river from Borger, on to the New Mexico line. It also, contains large numbers of small to extremely large minnows eastward from the bridge north of Pampa. The chief specie found is listed as the "silver dace."

The silver dace are more or less nomadic in their habits. They are usually found in deep holes, 12 inches up to five feet, in water that connects to the main channel of the river. When they are sighted by an observer they usually go upstream in a school at a fast clip much like a flock of frightened sheep.

Another odd thing about this specie of minnow is that they are usually uniform in size according to the particular school. The schools will run from less than one inch, at this late date, to more than six inches.

Dogs Aren't Perfect

I have had some good work from my bird finders but at the same time I have had some poor work. No spectacular performances have been seen this fall. When the earth is saturated, and when there is either a heavy frost or dew on the ground each morning, and before nightfall the damp atmosphere begins to settle, the dogs will have ample opportunity to display their wares.

When there is a faint fog of dust following each hunting dog as he quarters the countryside in search of game, the dog is hunting at a great handicap and the handler should consider these factors.

Of course, I have heard of many dogs performing to perfection but I haven't seen any of this yet. I took old so-and-so out last week and he found eight coveys, pointed his singles, we didn't lose a dead bird out of the hunt and we killed our limit. It is sort of the way some of the hunters remark about their dogs. I can't bring my dogs in to hunt dead birds half of the time.

Of course, I am like almost every other fellow who owns dogs—matched my dog, Tex, against Jim Bell's setter, Amarillo High-tone Joe, and got high-toned.

Joe found more birds than did my dog, he also searched the ground better and performed more desirably. Nevertheless, true to the dog owner's standpoint, I wouldn't swap dogs. Joe is a great dog. He proved himself in winning the $500 cash prize at the open-to-all-conditions recently at Bethel, Texas, in the shooting dog stake.

Rabbit Hunts Return

Rabbit hunts are back in style in the Panhandle, according to an article appearing in the December issue of Texas Game and Fish.

Public hunts have been held on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area near Canadian for two years. This was the idea biologists had in trying to cope with high rabbit populations on the area.

Being a modern refinement of the "drives" of 25 years ago, the hunts are controlled and strictly supervised by Commission personnel. During the first hunt in 1957, 88 hunters bagged 346 cottontails in three days of hunting.

Although cottontails were not abundant in 1958 the hunt went ahead, but the 38 hunters that showed up got only 11 rabbits due to high weed cover.

The upcoming hunt in January and February should be very good, the article states, since the rabbit population is high again. Gene Howe Area personnel recommend that participants bring beagles to flush rabbits from the high-weed growth.

Jimmy Brown Named NFL's Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns, possibly the most powerful runner in National Football League history, today was named the professional football's "Player of the Year" for 1958 at the annual United Press International poll.

Brown, a 200-pounder who runs through the line with a fullback's power and in the open with a halfback's speed, set an all-time NFL rushing record of 1,527 yards in 1958. He led the league in scoring with 108 points. His 18 touchdowns included scoring runs of 65, 40, 59, 55, 52, 41 and 38 yards.

This performance against football's smartest and toughest defenses earned him 21 of the 29 votes cast by sports writers who covered the campaign in the 11 league cities.

John Unitas, quarterback for the champion Baltimore Colts, was second in the voting with five votes. Bobby Layne, Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback, was third with two. The other vote went to Del Shuman, speedy offensive end for the Los Angeles Rams.

Brown won the NFL rushing crown with 947 yards during his first professional campaign in 1957 and won "Rookie of the Year" honors by a landslide vote for that performance.

In 1958, the former Syracuse All-American showed that his brilliant 1957 showing was merely a warmup. During the past season he shattered the old NFL rushing mark of 1,146 yards set by Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1949 by 381 yards.

First Pro Cage Game is Played in Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—The St. Louis Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 49-47 Wednesday night in the first professional basketball game ever seen in Houston.

The Lakers, who out-rebounded the world champion Hawks, 52-41, held a slim 35-34 halftime lead in a game watched by some 5,000 spectators.

Cliff Hagan was high scorer for the night with 22 points for St. Louis. Minneapolis' rookie Elgin Baylor was close behind with 21.

Shortly after St. Louis tied the game 48-48 on a field goal by Hagan 5:13 into the third period, Hawker Jack McMahon hit a set shot to put St. Louis in front for the rest of the night.

Midway in the final quarter St. Louis led by 12 points.

S. Cal Hit With 2-Year Probation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Disappointed football players to Los Angeles while already on probation. The first probation ended two-year probation by the NCAA last Nov. 13.

Wednesday, were resigned that "there was nothing to do now but comply."

The action by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Committee on Infractions came during the week-long convention being attended by top collegiate sports figures.

"I am greatly disappointed and deeply hurt, but there is nothing we can do but stand up and take it," USC Athletic Director Jess Hill said.

The committee ruled that USC violated NCAA bylaws by paying transportation costs to two prospective football players to Los Angeles while already on probation. The first probation ended two-year probation by the NCAA last Nov. 13.

Dr. Norman Topping, USC president, said in Los Angeles he was "astonished" at the NCAA action.

"We are not denying the accusation," Hill said, "but we do feel that there are possibly different conclusions that could be drawn."

He said he was disappointed that "certain evidence" came up before the committee which "we did not have an opportunity to investigate ourselves." He did not say what that was, nor would he identify the players.

Hill said he was "sorry" for the swimming, basketball and track teams, all defending NCAA champions.

USC teams will not be eligible to participate in any television programs subject to NCAA control, nor be allowed to make commitments for such appearances, during probation. In the first year, USC may not enter athletes or teams in any national collegiate championship event or invitational.

Points Out Seriousness . . . Walter Byers, NCAA, executive secretary, tempered the seriousness of the violations. He said "The thing that made the case of some seriousness is the fact that USC was still on probation at the time of the infractions."

In other action, the NCAA ruled that quarterback Don Fuent, center running up an 11-point lead midway through the second half, the leading scorer, A. P. Kirchner to widest of the evening.

TCU Raps Arkansas, 52-45

United Press International Texas Christian emerged the sole undefeated basketball team in the Southwest Conference with a 52-45 victory over Arkansas in the only "loop action Wednesday night.

The Frogs jumped to an early lead in the Fort Worth game and hung on to it. TCU led 27-20 at the halftime.

Arkansas successfully employed a tight zone defense to hold TCU's leading scorer, A. P. Kirchner to five points, and seven shots for the night.

Frogman Derrill Nippert was high scorer for the game with 13 points and Ronnie Stevenson hit 11. For Arkansas, sophomore Clyde Rhoden was high scorer with 12 points.

TCU went into a stall the last six minutes of the game, after that quarterback Don Fuent, center running up an 11-point lead midway through the second half, the leading scorer, A. P. Kirchner to

WIN SPORTSCASTERS AWARDS
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Sports Broadcasters Association has chosen Roy Campanella and Warren Spahn for its two top awards. Campanella will receive the Ted Hising Award for "extraordinary achievement" and Spahn the Graham McNamee Award for an "outstanding contribution to sports."

SERAIN SIDELINES HAWKINS
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame's top scorer, will be out of the Irish basketball lineup for two more weeks. Hawkins sprained an ankle in the North Carolina game last Saturday.

Forms Of Government

Respecting government, there are two general themes that have accompanied all forms since the beginning of history. There is also a third idea, which was outlined by the great Greek sage, Zeno...

What Right To Strike?

The Freeman magazine carries a very interesting article under the heading of "What Right To Strike?" It was written by Anthony Lejeune...

I believe there are few things that need to be frankly discussed and better understood than the ethics of striking...

There has been much talk lately about the trade unions and their chief weapon, the strike...

It has been suggested that 'unofficial strikes' (a strange phrase; what would an unofficial revolution be like, I wonder?) and perhaps strikes in public services should be made illegal...

There are enormous flaws in both of these basic concepts. The republican form was calculated to protect us from these flaws...

The idea espoused by Zeno is worthy of consideration. He championed the cause of individual liberty and suggested that each man was competent to rule himself...

Reds Attempting To Undermine Economy

WASHINGTON - A new Communist menace is threatening West Berlin. The Reds are attempting to undermine the city's economy...

They are trying to do this in two ways: Through extensive manipulation of the West Berlin stock market, and through buying into every strategic business they can get their hands on...

Both of these undercover stratagems present the gravest kind of threat to West German economy, because they lay it open to a Communist-instigated crash...

Following Premier Khrushchev's six months ultimatum calling on the West to get out of Berlin, the stock market tumbled. But within several days it regained all the lost ground...

Looking Sideways

By Whitney Bolton

NEW YORK - The Chinese have an excellent rule which very few Occidentals can comply: they pay all their debts by midnight, Dec. 31 each year...

In the year to come I will try very hard not to be wheedled into interviews with self-esteeming actresses who have nothing to say. Seven times in 1938 this infuriating situation arose and none of us emerged from the encounter with unalloyed happiness...

I will try to keep out of Mexico in 1939, but this is going to be hard to do. I will deny myself, as often and constantly as possible, the dubious joy of interviewing international beauties who, if they had as many brains as they had diamonds or mink, would still be useless on this earth...

I will not drive myself crazy by accepting invitations to drive imported automobiles I cannot afford. Once driven, the urge to possess them is a compulsion both painful and irritating...

I will not get tangled up with people who erode time the way water runs through sand. I haven't that much time left. I will, so far as distance and opportunity allow, come closer to those few friends Fate has allowed me. Like them, I am getting along in time and the cultivation of friends is at best always a sparse garden...

I will not review, as a drama critic, any play in which my bride appears. That way lies explosion. You can't win. I will try to understand my teenage daughters. That way lies difficulty. I will, so help me, get my copy in on time.

Refrigerators Have Come A Long Way!

By HENRY McLEMORE

One of the major problems our family must face up to in 1939 is the selection of a new refrigerator.

In no field has such glacial strides been taken as in household refrigeration. From a simple box with an ice chest on top and a drip pan underneath, the refrigerator now challenges the space missile for complexity and the gothic cathedral for beauty.

There is tremendous rivalry in the refrigerator business. Each manufacturer stays up all night, with an ice pack on his head, trying his best to out-do his competitors.

Incidentally, most people who write to me on this subject do not have any symptoms of illness in connection with the alleged low blood pressure. When they do have headaches or something of that kind, there is grave question as to whether there is any connection between the low blood pressure and such symptoms.

As a general rule, low blood pressure is an asset rather than a liability. There are only a few definite disease conditions which are connected with low blood pressure. Most of these can be readily identified by the skilled physician.

Among these is a rather rare condition known as Addison's disease. This results from trouble in the tiny adrenal glands lying next to the kidneys. However, it is associated with other symptoms and does not come in question in most of those who have a blood pressure slightly below normal.

There are a few - but very few - other diseases which are associated with persistent or temporary lowering of the blood pressure. And these, too, are unusual and can usually be identified without great difficulty.

Once in a while someone will have a drop in blood pressure when moving from a lying or sitting position to a standing one. This may require some attention. It has the tongue-twisting name of chronic orthostatic hypotension.

It is doubtful that there are any symptoms which can be blamed on low blood pressure and nothing else. Some people who have low blood pressure may complain of lack of pep, but this is more likely to arise from some other cause than it is from low blood pressure.

There is no effective safe way to raise the blood pressure. Consequently, low blood pressure should be left alone unless some other condition is present which should be treated on its own account.

Unless definitely tied to some physical abnormality - and this is the exception - low blood pressure of itself is associated with a long life and generally above average health.

Too many people worry about low blood pressure. If they were not told about the condition, it would save a lot of trouble.

Garry Moore Variety Show Developing Own Personality

By WILLIAM EWALD, United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The CBS TV Garry Moore hour, after an initial case of sputters and fits of the wobbles, has settled down into an estimable addition to the Tuesday night schedule.

As a variety entry, the Moore show lacks the sharpness and occasional brilliance of the Steve Allen Show, the careful glide of the Perry Como Show, or the trapeze blockbuster guest list of the Ed Sullivan hour. But perhaps more important, it is beginning to develop a personality of its own—genial, snug, comfortable.

I guess the point of view of the Moore hour could be called, "sub-urban corbali." It is a show TV, cheerfully constructed a round as the cool set puts it at the Mayo jokes about the husband-wife war.

When the Moore show was launched last fall, it had an oddly halting, stop-and-go quality. The show changed producers a few weeks back and as a result, it now has flow and pace and seems all of a piece. It also continues to boast the presence of Moore, an affable and unsticky gentleman and a big asset to any TV enterprise.

Short Shots: The Rev. Billy Graham took Jack Paar to task early Tuesday night on Paar's NBC-TV show for what Graham called occasional risqué touches on the show and strangely enough Paar got into some muddy waters only an hour later with Mrs. Bernarr MacFadden. However, I must confess I didn't mind at all—some of the impromptu MacFadden-

Pair banter struck me as pretty funny. I can't say as much for the intentionally blue long underwear and bosom jokes on the CBS-TV Red Skelton Show Tuesday night.

The Channel Swim: One of the new shows definitely set for CBS-TV next season is a 90-minute, once-a-month program called "Biography." The series will dramatize the lives of famous Americans and probably will start in October.

Roncom: Perry Como's firm will turn out a 60-minute special for NBC-TV on Feb. 28 that'll star Marge and Gower Champion, Ginger Rogers, Louis Jourdan and Elaine and Mike—It's tentatively titled "A Look at the Lighter Side of Love". Keenan Wynn has been added to the cast of the Feb. 5 NBC-TV special, Berkeley Square.

CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan flew to Cuba Tuesday to record an interview with Fidel Castro for his Jan. 11 show. The test film for a new TV series, "The Secret Life of James Thurber," will be shot in Hollywood on Jan. 12 with Arthur O'Connell as star—an independent outfit. Screen Gems is backing it.

Margaret Truman will guest on ABC-TV's Peter Lind Hayes Show the week of Jan. 12 to 14. Her father, Harry Truman, is ticketed in for a Jan. 14 appearance on NBC-TV's Today when that show marks its seventh birthday.

The Mariners, a quartet once given the heave-ho by Arthur Godfrey, have been quietly sneaked back on to Godfrey's morning CBS-TV show where they've been performing the past couple of weeks. Two of the original members, however, are no longer with the quartet. CBS Radio will present a special 35-minute study of prostitution, "The Business of Sex," on Jan. 19 with Ed Murrow as narrator.

rose in November for the second installment credit outstanding in November for the second successive month with expanded credit purchases of automobiles, playing an important role, the Federal Reserve Board reported.

The auto installment credit rose by 34 million dollars, the first upturn in such obligations since December, 1937.

A rebel stockholder group seeking representation on the board of New York Trust Co. said it had the support of the "largest single ownership interest" in the bank. It said this represented nearly 3 per cent of the outstanding stock.

Sales and profits of department and specialty stores rose substantially in the quarter ended Oct. 31, according to Sam Flinn, general manager of the National Retail Merchants Assn. He predicted sales and profits would continue to rise through the spring season.

The Du Pont Co. went along with four other rayon tire yarn producers in raising prices 2 to 3 cents a pound on the material, effective with March shipments.

Other producers posting higher prices are American Enka Corp., American Viscose, Beaunit Mills and Industrial Rayon.

The steel market is tightening up with some mills talking about near-capacity operations at some time during the first half of the year, Iron Age said. But "the buildup... will be gradual," it said. Mills hesitate to start up additional furnaces until they have orders in hand.

Reds Want To Catch Up In Milk, Meat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—To hear First Deputy Soviet Prime Minister Anastas I. Mikoyan tell it, Russia's primary ambition is to match the United States in milk and meat production.

"We want to catch up with America so far as production of milk and meat per capita is concerned," he claims. "Will it be a danger to the United States if the Russian people eat as much meat and drink as much milk as the people in your country?"

The question was put to more than 30 dinner guests invited to a dinner in Mikoyan's honor held by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America. The guests and a small group of Russians headed by Mikoyan gathered in business suits for the largely informal dinner at the association's headquarters here.

Mikoyan's remarks were in response to a welcome from Johnston, who said the task before the two nations was to replace the explosive forces that now divide us with a superior force that could unite the world in the years ahead.

Mikoyan then replied that the Soviet Union was interested in lifting the living standards of its people and denied that his country constituted either a military or an economic threat to the world.
