

Machine Has Claimed Other Victims

'Moving Sidewalk' Crushes Tiny Tot To Death

DALLAS (UPI)—The father of a two-year-old girl who was ensnared and crushed to death by a Dallas Love Field moving sidewalk said Saturday he had talked to a lawyer about possible legal action against the city.

"I don't want to get anything out of it because of her, but I think something should be done about that machine," L. C. Brandon said.

Blonde Tina Marie Brandon apparently fell and her clothing became caught in the step-off plate of the moving walkway in the lobby of the modernistic air terminal late Friday. Her left hand, left wrist and half of her left forearm were pulled below floor level.

Hospital officials said the child had a crushed chest and shoulder. An officer on duty at the terminal said her clothing was drawn so tightly around her body that not even a knife blade could be inserted to cut the material loose.

How she became caught was not immediately explained. There normally is less than an inch of clearance between the heavy rubber moving ramp and the step-off plate.

Mayor R. L. Thornton and two other city officials promised action to prevent more moving sidewalk accidents.

"My child was murdered and there was nothing in the world we could do to help her," Mrs. Brandon, the child's mother, said. "They have no tools out there at all, not even a crowbar."

The accident was the latest and worst of a series of mishaps that have occurred on the three moving sidewalks since the terminal opened two years ago.

Several persons have been caught in the sidewalk. A small dog suffered a broken leg in the mechanism and a woman once had her skirt and slip ripped off.

The sidewalk is a heavy rubber belt that moves over rollers to carry passengers to and from airplanes. The sidewalk in which the girl was caught was closed for repairs today but the other two sidewalks were still in operation.

"It was a very unfortunate accident," City Aviation Director George P. Coker Jr. said. "But, just as on escalators and stairs, children must be closely attended on the sidewalks."

However, Thornton, Mayor Pro Tem Elgin B. Robertson and Councilman Joe Geary collectively agreed that something must be done.

"We don't need discussion, we need action," Thornton said. "Any thing that can be done to prevent a tragedy of this kind from happening again will be done."

Both Geary and Robertson

agreed that the city council would investigate the accident. Geary termed the accident "horrible."

Officials of Hewitt-Robbins, designers and manufacturers of the mechanism, were expected to be called on the matter.

The Brandon family had gone to the airport with a small party of friends to see Mrs. Brandon's sister off to Belgium. They also have a son, Wilfred, 5.

Brandon said they were walking toward the main lobby of the terminal with Tina, Wilfred, and their friend, Mark DeRagge, 10, ahead of them. "We heard Wilfred cry out, 'Tina's caught, Tina's caught,'" he said.

"I couldn't see what was happening, but I knew the way he was hollering something awful was wrong."

Brandon ran to where his daughter was caught and tried to find a cutoff button.

"But by the time I had it stopped, I knew my daughter was beyond help," he said. "I rushed back to my wife then. I knew I had to be with her."

Kennedy Makes Bid For Democratic Nomination

Confident Senator Challenges Rivals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Front-running Sen. John F. Kennedy formally declared himself a candidate for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination Saturday and challenged other party rivals to meet him head-to-head in a series of state primary contests.

In throwing his hat into the ring, the 42-year-old Massachusetts senator voiced confidence he can "win both the nomination and the election."

He also said firmly that he would not accept the vice presidential nomination "under any conditions."

Kennedy is the first Roman Catholic to make a major bid for the presidency since 1928 when the late Alfred E. Smith won the Democratic nomination but lost the election to Herbert Hoover.

In reply to a news conference question about this, Kennedy acknowledged religion will be "a matter of discussion" during his campaign. But he predicted it would be a topic more among politicians and the press than among the voters.

The Harvard-educated son of a Boston Irish multi-millionaire said he already had expressed his view that there must be separation of church and state in the U.S. government.

"When a candidate has given among the voters," Kennedy said.

Two Texas Democratic leaders from opposite ends of the state Saturday predicted Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson will win the Democratic presidential nomination and then beat Richard Nixon for the presidency.

Temple, Tex., attorney Byron Skelton, Democratic national committeeman, and Democratic state chairman J. Ed Connally, an Abilene oilman, agreed Johnson is a sure shot to lead the Democrats back into power.

They also agreed Nixon is the man the Democrats can most easily beat in the 1960 presidential election.

Skelton indicated four candidates would be in the running for the Democratic presidential nomination, while Connally trimmed the race down to three.

"The lineup at the convention looks like Johnson, John Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson, and Stuart Symington," Skelton said. "But taking them one by one you always end up with Johnson as the man who has more co-operation from all the interests in the parties."

Roti, Skelton and Connally predicted Johnson would win the Democratic nomination on the convention floor. "Nixon is the man the Democrats are sure to beat," Skelton said. "He has control of the party machinery and is sure to get the GOP nomination."

148 Violent Deaths By Late Saturday

Texas 'Operation Deathwatch' To Fall Below Estimated 200

United Press International—Automobile smashups, a plane crash and the asphyxiation of three elderly sisters at Houston Texas' holiday violent death toll Saturday as "Operation Deathwatch" moved into its last stretch. Slip highways and spotly grizzles increased travel hazards for thousands of Texans heading home after holiday trips.

The Department of Public Safety counted 148 violent deaths at 3 p.m. with 33 hours remaining in the death watch it began last Wednesday.

The toll was well below the DPS estimate of 200 such deaths over the 12-day period. At 3 p.m., the DPS reported 73 traffic

A plane crash at San Antonio killed a part-time pilot and painter who paid him $10 to take him on a short flight. Carl A. Lister, 32, a lineaman for the San Antonio Public Service Board, and the painter, Clifford Dwyane (Tommy) King died when their light plane crashed Saturday just after taking off in drizzle and fog from a San Antonio airport.

Lister, the father of three boys, owned the four-place Piper Clipper. The plane, lacking landing lights, took off before dawn under a 100-foot cloud ceiling. Mrs. Lister, who identified her husband's burned body at a hospital, said King offered her husband $10 to take him on a short flight.

The plane crashed in a cornfield. City employees, investigating a power failure in the San Juan housing area, found it.

In Houston, Gertrude Smith, 88, and her sisters, Dora and Becca Amolsky, aged 76 and 74, were found asphyxiated in their apartment.

Near Abilene, Bernice Marie Starker, 19, Amarillo, died when the car in which she was riding hit a calf, crashed through a fence and then plowed into a utility pole.

A car smashed into a tree west of Huntsville, killed Clyde Murphy McGowan, 19, of Huntsville. A head-on crash on U.S. 59 in Bee county killed Margarito Lopez, 42, Corpus Christi early Saturday.

Mrs. Joseph A. Hall, 70-year-old north Uvalde housewife, died when her car crashed into a truck loaded with cattle on U.S. Highway 90 near Katy in Harris county.

Speeding Vehicles Crash; Nine Dead

SOUTH BAY, Fla. (UPI)—A tourist car and a station wagon collided at high speed on an Everglades highway Saturday killing nine persons in the nation's worst traffic tragedy of the New Year's holiday period.

The force of the impact equivalent to hitting a brick wall at 130 miles per hour—killed eight persons instantly, scattering the teeth of one victim 50 feet from the body.

A ninth victim died shortly after arrival at a hospital at Belle Glade, Fla.

The car, a 1957 Ford sedan, carried tourists from Pennsylvania bound for Miami. The station wagon was occupied by real estate investors and a salesman en route to inspect a land development at Fort Myers. The highway patrol said both vehicles were travelling about 65 miles per hour, the legal speed limit, in opposite directions.

They collided in bright sunshine on a straight stretch of U.S. 27, about 17 miles south of Lake Okechobee.

The wreck scene was on one of the best highway stretches in Florida, a main thoroughfare through the open swamps prairies of the Everglades south of the lake. But nine persons were killed in a smash-up near the same spot in December, 1958.

The victims were from Pennsylvania, New York, Minnesota, Missouri and Florida.

State Highway Patrol Cpl. Register Windham identified the victims as: Theodore, 49, and Catherine Goodwin of Wellsboro, Pa.; Lewis, 48, and Gladys Schmidt, of Geneva, N. Y.; Silas Howard Lakin, 35, real estate salesman, of Miami Beach; Marvin Rex Tadlock, 74, and his wife, Mrs. Ethel M. Tadlock, St. Joseph, Mo.; Robert Arthur Kay, 32, of North Miami, Fla., and Alma Fenske of Brainerd, Minn.

The Everglades wreck was the shaker of a holiday period blood bath in Florida.

With thousands of motorists streaming into the Sunshine State and on the move, at least 24 had been killed in traffic accidents. In addition four perished in a plane crash (See SPEEDING, Page 3)

Dimes Drive Starts Friday

Distribution of the new March of Dimes coin canisters began Friday throughout Pampa as part of the National Foundation's appeal to raise funds to prevent crippling polio, birth defects and arthritis.

J. C. Roberts, county campaign director, announced that more than 800 collectors are being placed in stores, markets, restaurants, offices and other locations by members of the Pampa Key Club, under the direction of President "Butch" Dunham, who were so successful recently with the Pampa Pilgrimage. The New March of Dimes drive runs through January.

The brightly-colored collectors consist of a cylinder and an attached card which carries a photograph of Mary Beth Pyron of Florence, Ala., a birth defects child who symbolizes all victims of crippling.

Farm-Market Road Project Taking Shape

Heavy rains the past week slowed down the county's Hoover Road project northeast of Pampa, but officials expect the $134,950 job will be completed on time in early June.

The work, which involves straightening and widening 5.7 miles of the Hoover farm-to-market road, has been undertaken by Cooper and Woodruff Inc., of Amarillo. Work began the first week of October.

The county's consulting engineer, Wayland Merriman, said Saturday he expects the Hoover Road will be one of the most valuable roadways in Gray County when the project is completed. At present the county has few farm-to-market roads running north and south.

The completed project will extend from U.S. 80 through Hoover to the Roberts county line, running roughly north and northwest.

Cooper and Woodruff was awarded a contract for the work by the county commissioner's court Sept. 14. Base work on the road will be started later this month and an asphalt surface will be poured later (See ROAD, Page 3)

Speaker Changed For Inn Opening

Final touches will be made this week on Pampa's Coronado Inn by contractors and plans are being completed for the opening, manager Stu Kines announced Saturday.

A change was made in the speaker for the banquet, Jan. 19, due to the illness of Tom Collins of Kansas City. Collins has been ordered to the hospital by his doctors. Jeff Williams, after-dinner speaker from Chickasha, Okla., was engaged to fill in.

Ferris C. Oden, president of Western National Life Ins. Co., Amarillo, will deliver the dedicatory address at 3 p.m., Jan. 18, to be followed by an open house.

The workers' buffet dinner will be the first meal served in the hotel, at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 18, in the Starlight Room with Myron D. Hockenbury of Harrisburg, Pa., as speaker. Following the dinner, directors of the hotel will conduct a guided tour of the building.

The opening banquet and dance will be held in the Starlight Room Jan. 19, with Williams presenting the main address and special music being provided by the Hardin-Simmons Trio.

Landscape by Bruce Nurseries of Alameda is scheduled to get underway, with planting of shrubs this week which will be in place for the opening.

Oil Industry Is Recovering From Oversupply Problem

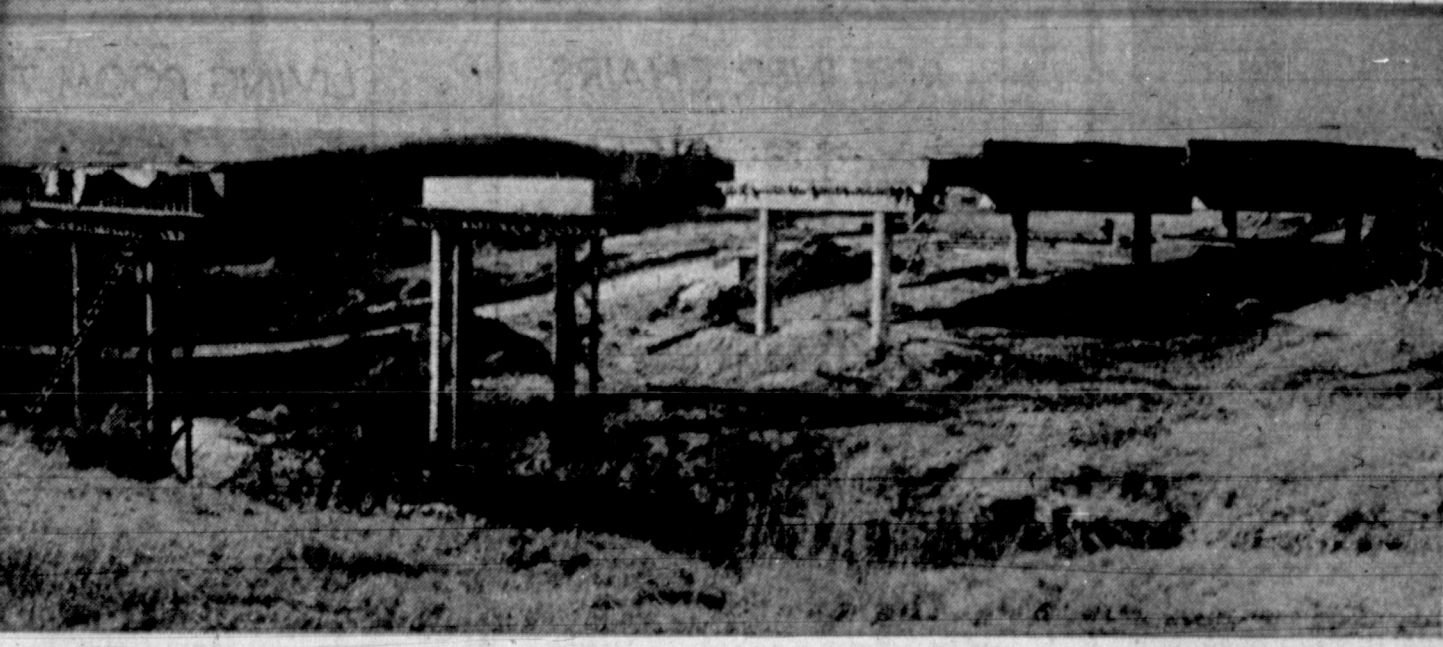

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas oil industry made a recovery on paper but not in the pocketbook during 1959, Harry C. Jones, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said Saturday.

"Independents who looked for a substantial improvement over 1958 allowances as a result of the mandatory imports program have been disappointed," Jones said.

The Railroad Commission reported that the Texas allowable increased one day during 1959 to 123 days and that total crude production was expected to increase some 32 million barrels.

"Statistically, the industry is continuing to recover from condition of over-supply," Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said.

Stocks Rally At Year End For New High

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed higher on the week, the year, and the decade of the 1950s with industrial shares setting an all-time high in the final session of 1959.
It was a terrific effort to cross the Aug. 3 high but the industrials made it in the final session of 1959 and thereby carried on the tradition of a year-end rally.
This rally lacked enthusiasm largely because of uncertainty in the steel industry where management and labor are just as far apart as ever in arriving at a wage settlement that would preclude resumption of the strike when the Taft-Hartley injunction expires on Jan. 26.

Wall Street is convinced there will be a settlement. It expects a forced one that will result in a sharp wage rise and higher prices for steel. That would mean a new inflation spiral unless something else intervenes such as a price deflator, which some economists anticipate.

Industrial production was curtailed again by the short week, although steel operations held high as demand continued for this metal at a rate which warranted record output. Steel capacity rose for the year for the 13th time in a row but the gain was the smallest of the 13.

Money ruled firm right up to the last minute. Business loans rose and gold stock declined by 11 million dollars, bringing the gold loss of 1959 to $1,078,000,000. In 1958, the gold loss amounted to $2,247,000,000.

Practically all the indexes and statistical figures on business are higher on the year. Records were set by gross national product, national income, personal income, disposable income and consumer spending. Savings declined on the year as spending increased.

The market declined on Monday when electronics issues were running into trouble. They had some hard sledding later but came back from their lows with a few outstanding strong spots.

Individual strong spots appeared in the electrical equipments, chemicals, rails, motors, aircrafts, steels and metals.

Industrials Lead Way
For the week, the industrial average closed at 879.38 up 3.67 points from the previous week; railroad 154.05 off 0.23 point; utility 87.83 up 0.82; and 35 stocks 219.52 up 2.03.

For the year 1959, the industrials showed a gain of 95.71 points; rails lost 3.60 points; utilities lost 3.17 points and 65 stocks gained 17.09 points.

From the 1949 lows to the close of 1959 the industrial average showed a gain of 817.76 points or 320 per cent; railroads a gain of 113.92 points or 278 per cent and utilities a gain of 84.47 points or 163 per cent.

Oil shares managed to close the week with gains ranging to more than four points in Standard Oil of Ohio.

In the electronic section, Motorola gained 10% and Collins Radio 4% points, Ampex lost 4% and Texas Instruments was down 6%.

DuPont lost 1 1/4 in the leading industrials. Westinghouse Electric gained 4% points, American Telephone 3 1/4 and Woolworth 2% points. American Tobacco dipped a point and Morrell lost three.

APARTMENT HOUSE PROJECT — Jim Hendrix of Pampa, who two years ago built the Black Gold Motel, began construction last month on a 14-unit apartment house project just west of the Coronado Inn. The project, for upper-income families, will be completed late this spring. Pictured above is the first of four structures to be erected around a central outside swimming pool. (Daily News Photo)

Apartment Units Ready By April

A four-structure apartment house project, now going up west of the Coronado Inn, probably will be completed April 1, builder Jim Hendrix reported Saturday. Hendrix, who built and operated the Black Gold Motel two years ago, reported that one of the four buildings will soon be completed. Barring bad weather the other three buildings and a swimming pool will be completed early this spring. The $100,000-plus project, Hendrix said, is aimed at higher income families. Materials used "will be first class and no corners will be cut to bring down the cost," he added. The project will house 14 units, each with two bedrooms and at least 1,100 feet of floor space. At present the project, tentatively named the "Desert Inn," lies outside city limits but Hendrix said it will be brought into the city at the same time as the neighboring Coronado Inn, probably this month.

INDUSTRY

(Continued from Page 1) "The significance of these figures," Jones said, "can best be illustrated by noting that each 1 per cent loss in Texas' share of the national market means $2,600,000," Jones said. The national market means $2,600,000 less tax revenue annually for the state government. On the basis of the 4 per cent decline, the state lost $14,400,000, a sum that would have paid the full annual salaries of 4,800 teachers. "To Texas independents, the loss of income traceable to the declining share of the domestic market totalled $312,000,000," Jones said. "Texas producers had to try to live with the knowledge that though the state holds 48 per cent of the nation's oil reserves and almost 50 per cent of its reserve capacity, it is producing just over one barrel out of every three emerging from domestic wells," Jones added. Estill S. Heysler Jr., Dallas, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, said in 1960 "all segments of the Texas oil and gas industry will be under strong competitive pressures which have marked its operations in the past year." "The industry continues to face several important problems, which include percentage depletion, the tax provision which enables operators to seek new fields," Heysler said.

Lewis Seeks Reelection

Earl Lewis, constable in precinct 2, announced his candidacy Saturday for re-election to that office. Lewis has been constable for two years. He formerly held the office from 1940 through 1948. In a statement to the News, Lewis said he has attempted to conduct the duties of the constable's office in an orderly and efficient manner, and if re-elected will continue to do so to the best of his ability. Lewis said he appreciates the support given him by the voters in the past, and hopes to merit their favor and confidence in the future. The inventor of spectacles is now known, but bifocals are the invention of Benjamin Franklin.

Bold Flights To Cosmos Predicted For New Year

MOSCOW (UPI)—Leonid Sedov, Russia's leading space scientist, Saturday predicted the United States and the Soviet Union would make "bold flights into the cosmos" that would lead to major discoveries in the new year. Sedov, president of the International Astronomical Federation, made his forecast in the Communist Party newspaper Pravda on the first anniversary of Lunik I, the moon rocket that went into orbit around the sun. "We are confident that this year will be noted for new, bold flights into the cosmos and new discoveries," he said. "It must be noticed that the U.S. research work connected

KENNEDY

(Continued from Page 1) his views on that, I think the subject is ended," Kennedy commented. He added that there would be no value "for the United States to become involved in matters that were settled 150 years ago." Kennedy was the second Democrat to bid openly for the party's big 1960 prize, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota announced his formal candidacy last week. In the wings are such unannounced candidates as Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and twice defeated presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson. Kennedy's entry was no surprise. On Dec. 17, United Press International obtained a copy of a letter he had prepared for his backers in which he advised them he would announce his candidacy Saturday. His challenge to other potential rivals was undisguised. "I believe that any Democratic aspirant to this important nomination should be willing to submit to the voters his views, record and competence in a series of primary contests," he declared. Kennedy, who has led other Democrats in almost every public opinion poll, said he would file in the New Hampshire direct presidential preference primary on March 8 and enter other state contests later. Two significant ones will be Wisconsin on April 5 and Oregon on May 20. As of now, and assuming he won the nomination, Kennedy's opposition in November would be Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The latter was all but handed the Republican nomination when New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller withdrew on grounds GOP leaders had already chosen Nixon. Kennedy said he based his conviction of winning both the nomination and the election on his talks with "Democrats of all walks of life" during 40 months of speaking in all 50 states of the union. The firmness of his rejection of a vice presidential spot was surprisingly strong. He said: "I will not be a candidate for vice president under any circumstances and that is not subject to change under any conditions. I will not be a candidate, I will not be the nominee, I will not accept the nomination for vice president under any conditions. I am a candidate for president and if I fail to achieve that with prospective problems of cosmic flights are being carried out extensively and on a large scale," he said. "The new project on which work (in America) is now being done promises great possibilities." Sedov, who returned recently from a visit to the United States, urged increased international cooperation on space problems as a "major contribution to the consolidation of peace." He credited the "remarkable Soviet successes" in space flights to the Communist system, "which makes for the flourishing of science..." Man Held After Citizen Arrest

Joe Ellis Stanley, subject to a citizen's arrest Friday by Pampa appliance dealer Paul Crossman, is expected to be charged Monday with burglary of an automobile. Crossman, with some of his employees, made the arrest after observing Stanley in the act of driving two cars parked at the rear of his store. Police said when apprehended, Stanley had in his possession a box of eight spark plugs, a sack of groceries valued at from eight to ten dollars, and a trouble light. Stanley has been in the New Mexico state penitentiary twice for forgery and once for grand larceny, authorities said.

nomination, I shall return to the Senate." The still-boyish looking senator predicted the "number one issue" in the 1960 election will be U.S. relations with the Soviet Union and Red China, along with the state of national defense. It would be a mistake to recognize Red China today, he said, "but we ought to indicate a willingness to do so if they are willing to alter their policies toward us and South Asia...I don't think we should freeze our policy for the future." Kennedy said that for the next president "the most crucial decisions must be made in the next four years." "The presidency is the most powerful office in the free world," he said in his announcement statement. "Through its leadership can come a more vital life for our people. In it are centered the hopes of the globe around us for freedom and a more secure life."

A Negro physician pulled Mrs. Schmidt from the shallow water of a roadside ditch, but she died at the Belle Glade Hospital. The others were dead. Windham said the station wagon, driven by Lakin, and the Sedan, driven by Goodwin hit "in a cloud of dust."

The station wagon tried to cut back into its lane but swayed back into the path of the sedan which had time only to get about two feet off onto the shoulder before it was hit, witnesses said. Windham said bodies were "crumpled and mingled in with parts of the automobiles" so badly that it took wreckers and ambulance attendants 45 minutes to get them out.

Oscar Hendricks, a City of Miami employe, said he was forced off the road by the crash. The highway patrol praised him for directing traffic until officers arrived about 10 minutes later.

J. R. Barrett A Candidate For Sheriff

James R. (Jim) Barrett Saturday announced his candidacy for election to the office of sheriff of Gray County.

Barrett said he has been solicited to make the race by many leading citizens who told him they believe it is time for a change.

He said he solicits the vote and support of every Gray County citizen in the coming primary election. Barrett's statement: "I have had many years of experience in this line and for four years as deputy sheriff of Gray County. While serving in that capacity I was jailer, fingerprint man, and outside deputy. The last two years I am thoroughly qualified in every way to be your sheriff, and will appreciate anything you do in my behalf.

"My solemn promise to you is that I will enforce the law without fear or favor, and will employ only sober, efficient Gray County men as deputies.

"I will give 24-hour service, will cooperate with all law enforcement agencies, and will administer the office of sheriff in a diligent manner in the best way essential to the betterment and welfare of Gray County for continued progress and freedom.

"I am the son of J. B. (Ben) Barrett, pioneer farmer and rancher, and was reared and educated and have made my home here most of the time. I am married to Irene Barrett, and have reared my family here."

Mrs. Coulson, a resident of New Orleans for the past six years, died there Friday.

She is survived by a son, Carroll Coulson, New Orleans. The body will arrive in Pampa Monday morning with services to follow in the afternoon. Interment will be in Memory Gardens beside her husband, W. Marshall Coulson.

Car Strikes Child Friday

Linda Lanell Wright, 9, injured at 1:05 p.m. Friday when struck by a car in the 800 block of Browning, was listed in good condition Saturday by Worley Hospital attendants.

Linda was hit by an automobile driven by Aden Eddie Luna, 3, Sunset Dr. She was taken to Worley by a local ambulance service where her injuries were found to be serious. Luna was given a ticket for exceeding a safe speed under existing conditions. In a statement to police, Luna said he saw the child standing on the curb, but looked away from the road briefly to adjust his car radio. He said when he looked the little girl was out in the street in the path of his car.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (FHTNC)—John F. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Greer of 809 Malone, and Robert E. Shirley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Shirley of 412 W. 11th St., are scheduled to graduate from recruit training Jan. 8 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp", will include a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Enlists In Navy

Jerry Dwayne Woods, son of Mrs. Genevieve Strickland, 625 N. Hobart, has enlisted in the Navy through the Pampa Navy Recruiting Station. Woods was sworn in at the main Navy recruiting station in Albuquerque Dec. 22. Seaman Recruit Woods is now receiving recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Upon completion of nine weeks scheduled training, he will be granted 14 days leave prior to reporting to his first duty assignment.

Young Couples Can Save On Purchase Of Used Houses

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—A top builders' spokesman has come up with a plan to help young families acquire homes, and at the same time increase the volume of new home sales.

Frank A. Clauson, president-elect of the Long Island Home Builders Institute, said this could be accomplished by modernizing older homes and placing them on the resale market.

He pointed out that one of the major problems facing the building industry and the nation in the next decade is how to provide adequate housing at a price they can afford for a vastly increased population, as "war babies" come of age and from families of their own.

Constantly increasing costs of labor, materials, land and overhead are steadily forcing prices of new homes upward to levels where it is difficult for young families to buy them, according to Clauson.

Philippines.

In 1946, William Joyce, the notorious "Lord-Haw-Haw" was hanged in London for his treasonable acts in broadcasting for the Nazis during World War II.

A thought for today: George Bernard Shaw wrote: Silence is the most perfect expression of scorn.

New families will be formed in increasing numbers, he continued, but since these are young families, they will not have accumulated funds for high down payments on the homes they will need.

And their learning power will not immediately be sufficient to permit them to qualify credit-wise for carrying mortgages on high-priced homes.

However, the builders' spokesman declared, by putting large numbers of thoroughly modernized used homes on the market, "it is possible that young families can afford them." On Long Island for several years, he noted, demand for used houses has been strong and steady, and nearly all the buyers have been young families.

Clauson noted that the used home generally sells for more than the present owner paid, but added that the selling price usually is less than the cost of comparable space in a 1960-model home. And it's for this reason that young families find used homes within their financial means.

All the used house needs to become a highly desirable home, at a price a young family can afford, he explained, is modernization with present-day equipment and conveniences — many of which did not exist when the house was built even as recently as 10 years ago.

Meanwhile, Eugene E. Kurtz,

KING'S ROW—There's no question about the favorite subject of this Tehran, Iran, sidewalk artist. Portraits of the Shah abound. A white-veiled woman hurries by in front.

president of the Home Manufacturers Association, said the only mass market for home sales in 1960 will be in the low cost housing market.

Kurtz, whose industry in 1959 had its best year with an estimated 135,000 units produced, said home builders should profit from the experience of the auto industry, which in 1959 bowed to consumer demands for a low cost family car and now is profiting handsomely from the move.

The executive pointed out that nearly all home manufacturers have complete lines of model homes from $9,000 and $29,000, or even $39,000 if the buyer wants that type of housing, but said that in his opinion "there is no sustained market for homes in any range above $13,500."

BETTER LATE THAN...

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's post office, cable and wireless services formally announced today that it will no longer transmit messages which come from ships by the semaphore flag code. A spokesman said the announcement was only "for the record" because no one had taken advantage of the service for at least half a century.

Merit System Of Teacher Pay Raises In Controversy

"Education U.S.A."
By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

It's hard to argue with the proposition that superior teachers deserve higher salaries than average or inferior teachers.

But a school board that tries to translate the idea into public policy, by tying teacher pay schedules to some sort of "merit rating" system, will find itself in the midst of heated controversy. And the sharpest objections are likely to come from the teachers themselves.

Before getting into the pros and cons of this controversy, it will be helpful to get the terms defined.

All school districts provide for some differences in teachers' pay. But in most cases, the only factors which are taken into account are (1) professional training and (2) experience. Typically, this is that a teacher with an M.A. degree gets paid more than one with an A.B., and one who has had several years in the classroom draws more than a beginner.

Merit rating plans introduce a third factor into the situation — salary differentials based on the teacher's ability and performance.

There are two kinds of merit differentials — negative and positive. The negative type provides for penalizing unsatisfactory teachers by withholding normal seniority raises or in extreme cases by cutting their pay. A recent survey by the National Education Association (NEA) showed that 13 per cent of urban public school districts have salary plans which theoretically provide for penalizing unsatisfactory teachers. But only three per cent of them reported that this provision was actually used in the past school year.

The positive type of differential seeks to reward superior teachers, either by accelerating their promotion to maximum salaries or by granting them bonus pay above the normal maximum. About six per cent of the urban school districts have such plans in operation.

Many proponents of merit rating are school board members, legislators, and other laymen who are sincerely interested in improving the schools. Their argument goes something like this:

It is unjust to pay outstanding teachers at the same rate as lazy or incompetent teachers. Lock-step salary schedules which are based solely on degrees and seniority are bound to encourage mediocrity, and drive the most talented teachers out of the profession.

Opponents of merit rating are led by the NEA, which has some 700,000 teachers as dues-paying members. Their argument goes like this:

No objective method of rating a teacher's performance has ever been devised. Merit ratings based on the subjective opinions of school administrators are subject to unfair personal bias. Merit rating leads to "apple-polishing" and "grand-standing" by teachers, creates an unhealthy rivalry rather than harmonious cooperation among the many teachers who must work together to educate each child, and in general causes dissension and poor morale among faculties.

As for the "incentive" argument, opponents of merit rating reply that every good teacher is already giving his utmost to his work, and is not going to try any harder just to earn a few more dollars. A poor teacher, on the other hand, isn't likely to be made into a good one with financial bait.

Triangle Was No. 1 Film Story

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The year 1959 held the usual number of Movieland milestones — marriages, divorces, bizarre brannings, deaths and eyebrow lifting romances.

Number one story of the year was the riotous Debbie Reynolds-Eddie Fisher — Elizabeth Taylor romance — divorce — marriage misadventure. But the biggest event to hit town was Nikita Khrushchev's visit and subsequent complaint that he couldn't visit Disneyland.

The Crosby boys kept things hopping by forming a quartette. Then, after a succession of battles, they broke up.

Sterling Hayden provided a sideshow of his own by defying a court order and sailing off for the South Seas with his children.

And Robert Mitchum was good for laughs when a runty Irishman clobbered him in an Irish pub.

Mickey Rooney and Jack Parr jarred televiewers with a display of bad manners while Gracie Allen retired as partner of husband George Burns. Little Evelyn Rudie ran off to Washington, D.C. (aboard an airliner) — but was sent home disappointed.

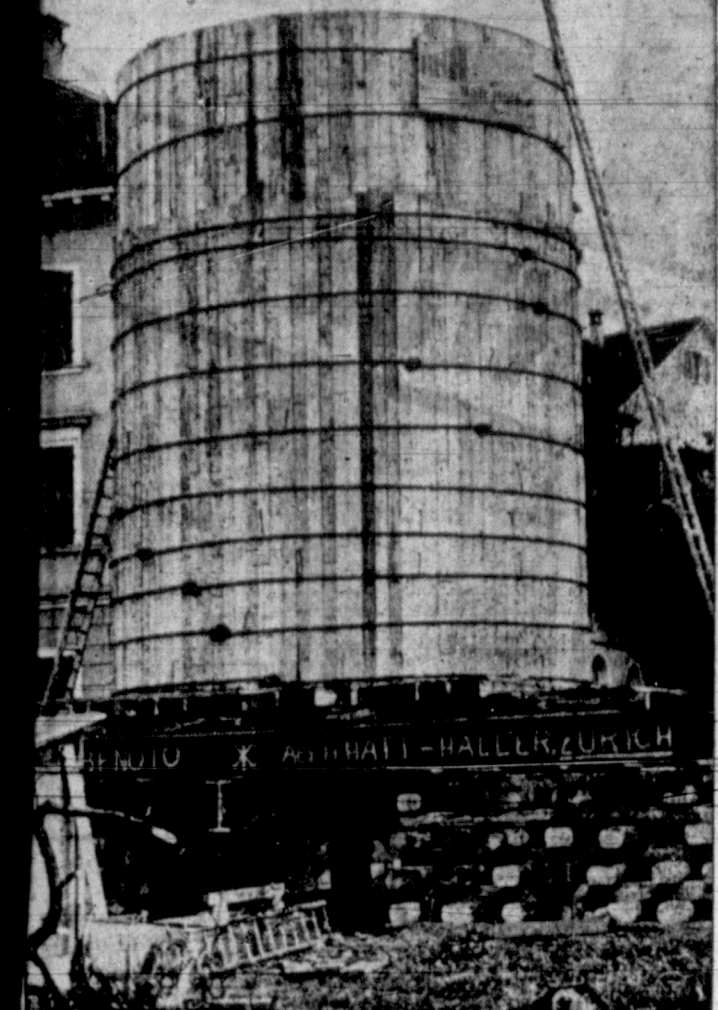

Divorces and separations were as abundant as ever. The following stars were in the 1959 list: Terry Moore, Marion Brando, Joan Caulfield, Vera Miles, Jim Arness, Deborah Kerr, Ernest Borgnine, May Britt, Vic Damone, Ariane Dahl, Sammy Davis, Glenn Ford, Betty Hutton, and Efron Zimballist Jr.

Taking the plunge to the altar '59 were: Vic Mature, Rod Steiger, June Lockhart, Margaret O'Brien, Gia Scala, Dorothy Malone and Jacques Bergerac, Nick Adams, Dale Robertson, Barbara Rush and Ariane Howell.

Eggplant is said to have originated in Burma or India.

Farm Issues Many For Coming Year

"On The Farm Front"
By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wheat surplus problem tops the list of farm issues which will face the 86th Congress when it opens its election-year session Jan. 6.

But it won't be the only farm question on the congressional agenda.

The lawmakers, faced with the need to adjourn in time to get to sessions in July, will also be asked to deal with bills on wheat, tobacco supports, sugar controls, farm research, and government aid of farm land under the soil bank program.

There may also be proposals to raise interest rates on rural electric and telephone loans and to create a new, non-government bank for making these loans, and to revamp the conservation subsidy program.

These are by no means the only farm bills likely to pop up, but they are among the most important.

Here is a glance at the major issues:

Wheat — By midsummer of 1960 the wheat owned or controlled by the government under the present price support program will be worth a record $2,500,000,000. There is a chance that stepped-up exports could keep the surplus from growing in the succeeding year, but virtually no success can be expected. The administration proposes to eliminate all present production controls and to slash price supports from an average of $1.77 per bushel for the 1960 crop to about $1.40 per bushel.

The price would be cut by dropping the farm parity formula as a basis for supports in favor of a formula based on actual market prices. Democrats last year turned down similar proposals.

Tobacco — The present price support law is forcing supports steadily upward. To halt this climb and prevent loss of foreign markets, the administration wants a new price support plan based on past actual market prices. Tobacco Democrats had been willing to freeze prices at current levels, but not to accept the rollbacks possible under the administration plan. The American Farm Bureau Federation now has come up with a compromise that would drop parity formula but would permit support prices to advance above 1959 levels if farm operating costs rise.

Sugar — The act under which the government controls all U.S. sugar marketing and allocates shares in the domestic market to both domestic and foreign growers, expired at the end of 1959. Congress is expected to renew it early this year with some increases in domestic growing quotas. The biggest problem is how to deal with the big Cuban share of the U.S. market. The turbulent Fidel Castro government's seizure of foreign-owned properties might figure in this decision.

Farm Research — A bill to encourage more farm research, with a special advisory committee to assess progress and recommend new projects, has passed the House and is pending in the Senate. The Senate, however, has indicated several times it prefers a bill concentrating on stepped-up studies of new uses for surplus crops.

Soil Bank — Unless Congress acts this year, the Agriculture Department's authority to sign additional land retirement contracts will expire at the end of the 1960 crop season. The administration wants this authority extended for three years. It will also ask Congress to raise the annual expense ceiling on the program from the 1960 level of $375,000,000 to a figure high enough to rent a total of about 40 billion acres in 1961. At present about 28 million acres are idle under the program. Agriculture Department officials believe the extra land rentals will help curb overproduction of food and feed grains.

this year, the Agriculture Department's authority to sign additional land retirement contracts will expire at the end of the 1960 crop season. The administration wants this authority extended for three years. It will also ask Congress to raise the annual expense ceiling on the program from the 1960 level of $375,000,000 to a figure high enough to rent a total of about 40 billion acres in 1961. At present about 28 million acres are idle under the program. Agriculture Department officials believe the extra land rentals will help curb overproduction of food and feed grains.

Conservation Subsidy — At present the government spends about 250 million dollars on cost-sharing payments to farmers to help them carry out approved conservation practices. The administration may suggest that this fund be used in conjunction with the soil bank program which has a separate system of payments to farmers for putting conservation crops on "banked" land.

Rural Electrification — The administration has been trying to build grass-roots support for its plan to repeal the fixed 2 per cent interest rate on loans to cooperative rural electric and telephone systems. The rate under the administration plan would be set to match the interest rate paid by the Treasury when it borrows money.

NEW YORK CITY'S Department of Health lined up the bottles, cans and boxes which held household substances that their records show children have swallowed. Not all contained poisonous substances, but all produced injury ranging from upset stomachs to death.

Children The Victims, Parents Guilty In Most Household Poison Accidents

By JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Mrs. Housewife, beware! Some of those soaps, polishes and cleaning fluids in your kitchen cabinet may be poisonous.

In the last four years, household fluids, powders and sprays like the ones you use in your daily cleaning chores have killed or injured more than 3,000 persons. Most have been children under five years of age.

The situation has become so serious that Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R - Mo.) has introduced a bill to require manufacturers to put a warning label on any product that contains a poisonous substance. It is expected to come up for consideration when Congress convenes in January.

Federal laws already require warning labels for drugs, insecticides, rodent killers and substances such as lye and sulfuric acid. But cleansers, polishes, bleaches, detergents, rust removers and paints are not regulated. Many of these products contain poisons, say officials of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Adults aren't likely to swallow these substances. Curious children are.

FDA officials believe warning labels would alert parents to make sure these products are out of their kids' reach. Otherwise they foresee many more such tragedies as these:

—In Salt Lake City, an 18-month-old boy died after swallowing several teaspoons of household bleach containing chlorine.

—A two-year-old Louisville, Ky., boy ate a handful of laundry soap. The soap contained a strong detergent which severely burned the inside of his mouth.

—Recently a New York youngster became critically ill after drinking some carbon tetrachloride which his father used to clean radio parts. The chemical is also used as a dry cleaner and spot remover. The child found an uncapped bottle of the fluid on the window sill. It took a week's hospitalization for him to recover, and at that he was lucky. For carbon tetrachloride emits fumes that can cause fatal damage to a person's liver and kidneys.

—Another man made the mistake of keeping carbon tetrachloride in a vodka bottle. One day he forgot what was in the bottle and poured himself a drink. Ten days later he was dead.

Some furniture polishes are especially hazardous since they contain ingredients that make them look and smell good to children. A few years ago furniture polish deaths among children averaged 40 a year. Today, doctors report, the death rate is higher.

Doctors explain that many household poison fatalities could be prevented if the family knew how to treat the victim until the ambulance arrives. That's why they are enthusiastic about a provision in the new bill that requires the antidote for a poisonous product to be put on the label.

Doctors agree, though, that passage of the new labeling law will be only one step toward stopping accidental poisonings in the home. Children can't or won't read the labels. So it's up to adults to prevent the tragedies from happening, they say.

Here are three ways which officials of the U.S. Public Health Service's Accident Prevention Bureau say that you can do this:

—Keep all products not used for cooking out of the reach of children.

—Don't place them beside products that you do use for cooking. This precaution may save you from accidentally seasoning your soup with powdered cleanser.

—Never pour household cleaning products into another container. You, like the man who kept carbon tetrachloride in a vodka bottle, might forget about the switch-

Scientists Rank Study Of Sea With That Of Space

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Before man can hope to control the weather he must learn more about the oceans.

Before he can hope to banish hunger he must learn how to get more food from the seas.

To understand the stars he must wrest secrets from beneath the waters which cover 71 per cent of the earth.

Better oceanic forecasting, the committee said, would improve "practically every weapon system now used or being developed by the Navy."

These are some of the practical reasons for investigating the oceans. A further reason, the committee said, is that "men have always wanted to venture into the unknown to find out what has never been known before."

Scientists already have achieved some success, of vital importance to fisheries and merchant shipping, in predicting oceanic events and conditions. These include tides, currents, water density and salinity, and wave, swell, surf, and ice conditions.

Avoid Soap Bath For Baby

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — To prevent rashes and other skin troubles, the sensitive skin of newborn babies requires special care.

Dr. Seymour L. Handling, chief of dermatology at the East Orange (N.J.) General Hospital, defines "special care" this way: "a minimum of irritants, less soap and as little water as possible."

In a report to the American Academy of General Practice, Handling lists the basic principles of infant skin care as follows:

—Bathe no more than twice a week. This is because babies and young children have little oil secretion and never develop "body odor." Sponging may be done as needed.

—Use a non-irritating and non-drying detergent or soap.

—Cleanse a diaper area with all rather than with soap and then, only when needed, using cotton balls and not the diaper itself.

—Grease all hairless skin surfaces once a day.

—Change the diaper as often as necessary to keep the infant dry. At night, even if the infant is sleeping, place him up at your bed time, change him, putting on two or three diapers to keep him from being drenched by morning.

—Use powder freely to act both as a drying and slipping agent. The powder acts like tiny ball bearings, decreasing friction.

—Allow only soft cotton cloth to contact the skin. Be sure the blankets have cotton covers. If the child rubs his face on the sheet, place a soft flannel cloth under his head.

—Be careful of organdy dresses and hats, and of woolen scarfs, hats and gloves. Many synthetic clothes are potentially irritating to the infant's skin.

—Rather than using baby lotions and creams, Dr. Handling recommends the use of any edible fats to replenish baby's skin oils.

"Some of the best are hydrous lanolin, the various salad oils... and hydrogenated shortening. The availability of these two groups," he said, "makes them my favorites."

A non-greasy mixture, according to the dermatologist, cannot contain oil and is therefore not likely to add nourishment to the skin.

SETS FLAGPOLE RECORD

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI) — The 1960's opened here with an announcement which sounded as if it came from the 1920's. Perry Will, a 26-year-old truck driver, Friday claimed the new world's flagpole-sitting record — 232 days atop a 41-foot pole. Will said he will stay up eight more days, coming down Jan. 9.

Those Furious Fifties

And The Lessons They Taught Him

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Roving Correspondent

ROME (NEA) — Like most Americans on the eve of a New Year, I take time out to reflect on a year dying. Or, as the round "1960" begins, on a decade. Generally, personal triumphs and tragedies are recalled, a daughter married, a mortgage foreclosed, those of us perpetually pursuing international news collect begonia stickers instead of grandchildren. Our lives, our memories, are private as a hotel lobby.

Allow me to remember some oddities witnessed and lessons learned during the Furious Fifties. 1950. I remember a rickety cart North Korea being loaded with frozen bodies of American Marines. A leatherneck, directing naval laborers in the grim task...

1951. I remember a West Berlin sidewalk covered with exhausted East German refugees wrapped in tattered blankets or newspapers, seated in peasant frocks...

1951 taught me: China, the sleeping giant, was awake at last!

1951. I remember the crowded Biltmore of Manhattan's Biltmore Hotel on Election Night and a devil chalked blackboard, and a Cabot Lodge yelling: "A telegram has been received from the Soviet Union... he concedes... (Hysteria)."

1953. I remember the thatched hut of burning and still smoking cigarette in the fingers of a dead man as we waded through the paddy and entered the Vietnamese town.

1954. I remember Joseph Welch, attorney for the U.S. Army, saying: "We are trying to show that Senator McCarthy's aide used his position in the Senate committee investigating communism to win special favors..."

1954 taught me: Anyone who tries to twist popular issues for political profit is heading for bankruptcy.

1955. I remember one soft Alabama dawn when thousands and thousands of Negroes — domestic bank presidents — walked to work, even five, 10 miles, through Montgomery. They were boycotting the city's transport, protesting traditional rear-of-the-bus seating.

1956. I remember sailing into the Port Said mouth of the Suez Canal on one of her Britannic Majesty's gunboats. We passed sunken wrecks scuttled by Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser to block British and French invaders.

1956 taught me: Gunboat diplomacy is an outdated as the Bengal Lancers.

1957. I remember pilgrims entering the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Old Jerusalem past sandbags and armed soldiers of the Arab Legion. Too often bullets singed and died against the ancient walls; a few hundred yards away the city was divided.

1958. I remember the ball of blue-yellow flame at the base of the massive missile as we finally put into orbit our first satellite — Explorer I. Scientists and GIs cheered and cried as it climbed the heavens above Cape Canaveral.

1958 taught me: The exploration of tomorrow will be to the countdown rhythm of the space age...

1959. I remember how they "ahashed" the juke box silent and turned on the TV set in the little Roman bar and there was the traveling Ike smiling as his interpreter translated his speech into Italian. It was simple, unpretentious, humble. Words of peace and freedom and a better way of life for all peoples.

1959 taught me: You can negotiate with dignity — even with the devil — if your guns are loaded.

Pro Declares Hot Rodders Safe Drivers

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't cringe with fright upon seeing a hot-rodder or racing car enthusiast on the highway. They may be the safest drivers on the road today.

Johnnie Parsons, veteran racing driver and holder of two championships, is convinced that these two types of motorist know more about driving, take better care of their cars and have more consideration for others than the average person behind the wheel. "They are less hazardous than other drivers," Parsons said in an interview. "They are by far the better drivers. The hot-rodders have clubs that fine them and suspend them from membership if they get any tickets."

"Most sports car drivers also belong to clubs. A true sports car driver is experienced. Generally, he is a little older man than the hot-rodder, because only an older man can afford an expensive sports car. That puts him in a different category. He's more conservative."

DEATH IN KOREA

ELECTION NIGHT, 1952

Parsons, former national racing champion, winner of the 190 Indianapolis Memorial Day Race and survivor of a speedway crash in 19 years of competition, claims that he is ultra-conservative on the highway.

He never drives without strapping himself into the seat of even a conventional automobile with a safety belt. He never exceeds the speed limit. He yields the right of way to any other driver who wants it.

Actually, Parsons admits, driving on highways scares him stiff. "It is more hazardous than on a race track," he said. "We racing drivers are professionals. We know what we are doing. On the highway, we can't tell if a person is drunk, blind, asleep, an idiot or just has poor coordination."

ing for a living. He has been giving safe-driving lessons to high school children as part of the Champion Spark Plug Company's national highway safety program.

"The kids are getting driving education today their parents never had," he said. "Young people will make better drivers. Their cars are better and safer. The highways are better."

IRS Tells Who Must File in '59

Requirements for filing federal income tax returns for 1959 were announced today by Wiley E. Davis, Pampa agent of the Internal Revenue Service.

"To sum it up, most people with $600 or more of gross income for 1959 must file a return with Uncle Sam," Davis said.

WONDERFUL WORLD OF KIDS—Forgetting her leg braces for the moment, four-year-old Julie Davis oohs and aahs over Blackie, a Belgian hare. Blackie arrived last Easter at the United Cerebral Palsy Center in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where Julie is under treatment.

Every citizen or resident of the U.S.A., whether adult or minor, who had $600 or more of gross income in 1959 must file; if 65 or over, $3,200 or more.

"However," Davis continued, "if you're self-employed, you file a return if your self-employment income was $400 or more, even though your gross income was less than $600."

Broncos, Pampa Split; Streak Broken

Smith Scores 33 In String Snapper

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Thursday night, the midnight chimes ended the old year. Friday night, the Denton Broncos celebrated the beginning of the new year by breaking Pampa's 63-game winning streak.

Some 1,500 stunned fans watched the inspired Broncos hand the Harvesters their first home court defeat since Jan. 9, 1957, and their first loss since Jan. 15, 1958. The score was 78-63.

Börger was on the other end of both Pampa streaks. The Bulldogs defeated the Harvesters in 1957, 63-62 in Pampa, and whipped Pampa 69-63, in 1958 in Borger.

Pampa scored the first point of the game, on a free throw by Craig Winborn, but Denton then pulled away to an 11-3 lead, and was never behind after that. The Broncos led 20-13 at the end of the first quarter, 39-29 at halftime, and 57-43 at the end of the third quarter.

Dan Smith, a 6-foot, 6-inch human jumping jack, led Denton to its shockingly one-sided triumph by scoring 33 points, controlling almost all the jump balls in which he was involved, and helping the Broncos control the backboards.

Smith sank 13 field goals on hook shots, jump shots, tip-ins, and follow-through shots, and made his great night complete by dunking seven of 12 free throws.

When Smith wasn't hitting his shots from fairly close to the basket, three other Denton players were hitting from the outside. Craig Harris tallied 19, Al Neale 12, and King Neale 10.

Denton's defense, as well as its offense, was superb. The speedy Broncos were so successful with their man-to-man defense that the Harvesters got only a handful of shots under the basket.

Only sharp shooting from the outside by Pat Carter kept the score from being more one-sided than it was. Carter scored 12 buckets, two each in the first and third quarters and four each in the second and fourth, for 24 points, to keep the Harvesters in the game.

Pampa's other big gun, Craig Winborn, started the game although he was still weak from a virus infection he contracted Thursday. He made only one field goal before fouling out with 39 seconds left in the first half. He scored five free throws for a total of seven points.

Joe Timms, the only Pampa player who had much success in getting near the basket, tallied nine points, four of them on field goals. Larry Stroud, who replaced Winborn, made three field goals and a free throw for seven points. Phillip Gist and Allen Wise each netted six points, and Hershel Terrell scored four.

Pampa was beaten at the free throw line for the first time this year, as Denton hit 19 of 24 while Pampa made 13 of 18. Denton also had the edge in field goals, 30 to 25. Pampa had a slightly better shooting percentage, 46 to 44, but Denton made up for this through control of the backboards.

Denton was never in any real danger of losing its lead after the first quarter, although the Harvesters hit their shots consistently and kept the pressure on. After the first quarter, Denton's lead was never less than nine points and never more than 16.

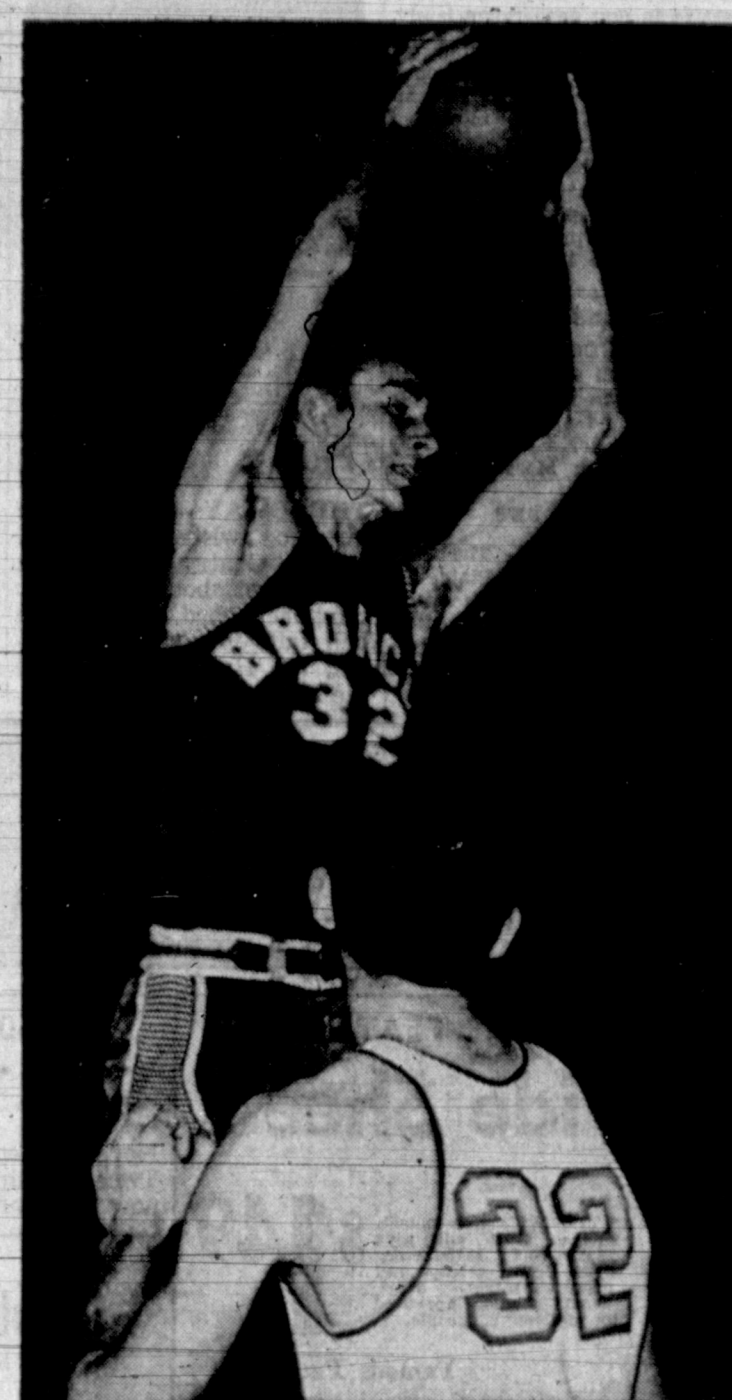

During the first quarter, Pampa was off in its shooting. Winborn made the first Pampa field goal after 4 minutes, 30 seconds had elapsed. Denton's leads in the first quarter varied between one and nine points.

During the fourth quarter, the Harvesters put on a full court press and were successful, to a certain extent, in rattling the Broncos. But Denton continued to match Pampa point-for-point, so Pampa's hustle just wasn't enough to turn the tide.

Harvesters Use Ball Control To Reverse Setback, 50-38

Pampa's Harvesters played a deliberate, ball-control game against the Denton Broncos Saturday night, and played it to perfection. The Harvesters won, 50-38, and avenged Friday's 78-63 loss to the Broncos.

The Harvesters took only 24 shots during the entire game, and made 16 of them. They had 19 free throw opportunities, and connected on 18 of them, missing on the last one of the free. From the floor, their percentage was .667. From the free throw line, it was .947.

Their ball control offense, in addition to keeping Denton from playing a fast-break game, kept the Broncho defensive players away from the backboards and allowed the Harvesters to grab 18 rebounds to Denton's 13.

Pampa's zone defense stopped Denton's 4-4 center with only 18 points, after Smith had scored 23 Friday. Alen Wise and Craig Winborn double-teamed Smith most of the time on the zone defense.

Don Holt, who had scored only three points for Denton Friday, took some of the slack by tallying 13 points, but it wasn't enough. Denton hit a respectable 40 percent of its shots but that average also wasn't enough.

Pampa took almost all of its shots Saturday night from near the goal. Winborn sank six buckets and a total of 18 points, to lead Pampa's attack. Winborn had scored only seven Friday before fouling out, and had gone into Friday's game weak from a virus infection, as he showed no signs of weakness Saturday night.

Phillip Gist hit his highest point total of the year, on four buckets and five free throws, for 13 points, and became Pampa's number two scorer. Joe Timms scored nine, Pat Carter eight and Wise four.

Pampa led almost all the way Saturday. Denton briefly grabbed a three-point lead, 9-4, in the first quarter, but Pampa came back to take a 13-10 quarter-time lead on two buckets and a free throw by Gist and a bucket by Wise.

The Harvesters increased their lead to 31-10 at halftime, as Gist sank seven points on two buckets and three free throws, and Timms made six points on one crisp shot and four charity tosses.

Winborn tallied nine of Pampa's 11 points in the third period, as the Harvesters kept the same 11-point lead, 43-31. Winborn made eight of his on four shots from near the goal.

In the fourth quarter, there was little scoring, as Pampa slowed its game to a snail's pace. The Harvesters tallied eight points, Denton seven.

In the personal battle for rebounds, Winborn and Wise both bested Smith. Winborn grabbed seven of the boards, Wise six and Smith five.

Broyles Happy With Arkansas Bowl Victory

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said he "never dreamed we could move the ball as well as we did, but I knew we had to to win."

The 24-year-old sophomore coach, slated over Arkansas' 16-7 victory over Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl, said "the difference was the difference that provided the victory."

He said he was "glad we won, but I am sorry that it had to be Bobby Dodd's." Broyles' college coach who he served under as an assistant for six years.

Broyles made his comments to the press as he stood ringing wet in the Arkansas locker room after his slated Razorback team tossed him into a post-game shower, clothes and all.

On the opposite side of the field, Coach Bobby Dodd said he may have taught his former student "how well." But the eight-time bowl game winner, who said "I'm glad it ended in the family rather than anywhere else."

Broyles, a red-haired former quarterback, said the key play in the victory was halfback Lance Alworth's eight-yard run with fourth and seven that set up the winning touchdown. The 19-year-old sophomore punched across for the first down on the Tech 35 and halfback Jim Mooty scored five plays later on a 19-yard scamper up the middle.

Dodd praised Mooty, Alworth and fullback Joe Paul Alberty, but he said "their whole ground game beat us—not any one of two men."

3 Teamers Nin Ninth

The Shockers won their ninth victory in 11 games here Saturday night, defeating the Denton B team, 51-39. The Denton team played most of the fourth quarter with only three men.

Denton was forced to play with three men when two starters fouled out. The Broncho B team had no reserves with which to replace the two men lost via the foul route, so they had to continue the game two men short. Denton was trailing by five points when the two players went out of the contest.

The game was close all the way until the fourth quarter. The Shockers led 27-22 at halftime. Jim Stephenson led Pampa's scoring with 21 points. For Denton, Rombach had 15 and Wilkinson 15.

John Unitas Named Best Pro Player

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Johnny Unitas, the Baltimore Colts top passer, was named professional football player of the year and Nick Pietrosanto of the Detroit Lions was chosen rookie of the year Saturday to receive the Sporting News Marlboro awards.

The selections were made by a panel of 12 leading football writers in the National Football League cities.

Unitas received a total of 83 points in the voting, far ahead of Charley Conerly of the New York Giants who placed second with 18 points. Sam Huff, the Giants' outstanding linebacker, edged out Cleveland Browns' Jimmy Brown for third place, 15 points to 14, and Bobby Layne, star quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers, was fifth with 12 points.

Pietrosanto gained 587 yards in total offense, more than any other first-year back in Detroit's modern football history. He won the rookie award by a substantial margin, getting 33 points.

Six players were bunched behind Pietrosanto in the rookie balloting. Richie Petitbon of the Chicago Bears edged Eddie Dove of the San Francisco 49ers for second place, 14 votes to 13. They were followed by Billy Stave, of the Chicago Cardinals with 11 points; Boyd Dowley, Green Bay Packers, 15; Dave Baker, 4ers, 11; and J. D. Smith, Philadelphia Eagles, 10.

Rymkus To Coach Houston Gridders

HOUSTON (UPI)—Lou Rymkus, Rams' staff the past two seasons assistant head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, was named head football coach of the Houston Oilers of the new American Football League.

K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Oilers, revealed he had signed Rymkus to a three-year contract at undisclosed terms.

Rymkus, 49, has been on the Oilers' staff since 1954. He coached the Oilers' defense in 1954 and 1955. He coached the Oilers' offense in 1956 and 1957.

Adams said he was "pleased to have Lou Rymkus join the Oilers' staff. He has been a very successful coach and a very good person."

Shocks Take 60-46 Win

The Shockers salvaged something out of "Black Friday" by taking a 60-46 win over the Denton B team in a preliminary game.

The Shockers led most of the way and had a 32-26 margin at halftime. Crinklaw tallied 20 points for Coach Terry Culley's squad, and Jim Stephenson was also in double figures with 11. For Denton, Wilkinson had 14 and Rombach 17.

LSU's Robinson Inks With Dallas

DALLAS (UPI)—Johnny Robinson, all-America Billy Cannon's halfback running mate at Louisiana State, has been signed to play with the Dallas Texans of the new American Football League.

Texas owner Lamar Hunt announced Friday.

Hunt said Robinson, the No. 1 draft choice of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League and the third man picked in the draft behind Cannon and Notre Dame's George Izo, had signed with Texas coach Will Walls on the Sugar Bowl turf Friday immediately after LSU lost to Mississippi 21-0 in the bowl game.

Robinson was the 13th player signed by the Texans, who will be coached by Henry Stram. He gives the Dallas entry three top grade running backs who were high draft choices of the old NFL league. The other two are Texas Christian fullback Jack Spikes and North Texas State halfback Abner Haynes.

TWO FOR CARTER — Pat Carter drives in under the basket to score two points for the Harvesters in Friday's 78-63 loss to Denton. Carter was the Harvesters' leading scorer, with 24 points. Red Griggs the pipeline

One of the longest winning streaks in Texas high school history is at an end — and judging from the way Denton played Friday night, one of the greatest basketball teams ever assembled in Texas may have broken it.

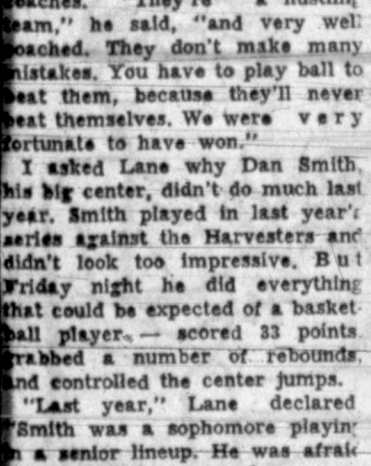

It was almost three years ago — Jan. 9, 1957 — when Pampa lost the last previous game on its home court. That loss was by only one point, 63-62, to a fine Borger team. Friday's loss was by 15 points — and it was certainly no fluke.

The amazing thing to me is that Denton has lost five games this year. Beating any Pampa team on its home court is quite an accomplishment. Defeating a hustling, accurate shooting team like this year's on its home court by 15 points is something almost unbelievable. It's something you have to see to believe.

It's true that Craig Winborn, Pampa's leading scorer and rebounder, was weak from a virus infection and that he fouled out in the first half. But the way Denton played, it's doubtful that even if Winborn had been in top shape, played the entire game, and had the best night of his life, that it would have made much difference.

The Harvesters actually played a fine game, one of their best of the year. They hit 46 percent of their shots and played heads-up ball all the way. But Denton's 6-6 center, Dan Smith, and the Broncos' tight defense were just too much for them on this particular night.

Denton Coach Praises Pampa

VERN LANE
... streak breaker

I talked to Denton Coach Vern Lane Saturday, and he had nothing but praise for Pampa's team and coaches. "They're a hustling team," he said, "and very well coached. They don't make many mistakes. You have to play ball to beat them, because they'll never beat themselves. We were very fortunate to have won."

I asked Lane why Dan Smith, his big center, didn't do much last year. Smith played in last year's series against the Harvesters and didn't look too impressive. But Friday night he did everything that could be expected of a basketball player — scored 33 points, grabbed a number of rebounds, and controlled the center jumps.

"Last year," Lane declared, "Smith was a sophomore playing in a senior lineup. He was afraid to shoot. This year, we've encouraged him to shoot, and it seems to have done the trick."

"Actually," Lane continued, "the 33 points he scored Friday against Pampa are the fewest he's scored against good opposition this year. Against the good teams like Pampa, we feed him. Against the weaker ones, we let our other boys shoot."

Lane said that Smith has hit between 70 and 80 percent of his shots this year, in marking up his 23-points-per-game average. "He's taller than most boys to start with," Lane declared, "and to go along with it, he's an excellent jumper. I hope he makes all-state, because I certainly believe he deserves it."

Bronchos Weren't Fired Up?

Lane was disappointed about one thing. He learned after the game that the individual scoring record for the Pampa court was 38 points. "I believe Smith could have broken it if we had fed him a little more consistently," Lane said. (Probably few of the 1,500 fans who saw the big center in action last year because of headaches, man jumping jack, led Denton to its shockingly one-sided triumph by scoring 33 points, controlling almost all the jump balls in which he was involved, and helping the Broncos control the backboards.

Loeffler Names Two Kinds Of U.S. Basketball Coaches

By STEVE SNIDER
NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Ken Loeffler, former top college basketball coach who had Tom Gola at LaSalle and later moved to Texas A. and M., says there are only two kinds of basketball coaches in America today. "First, there are the ones who have been tired," he said with a wink, "and second, there are those who will be tired. It's that kind of business."

Ranks of assistant coaches in the National Football League are likely to be depleted this winter on "raids" by clubs looking for new head coaches... that includes both the NFL and proposed new American Football League... almost sure to go somewhere is Tom Landry, New York Giants' defensive coach.

Joe Dey of the U.S. Golf Association says the biggest problem involved in starting new golf courses, as well as keeping alive the old ones, is meeting the bills for rising taxes and labor maintenance costs. "Only the most soundly organized clubs can stay in business when there's even a slight slump in the economy," he says.

his own deals but Sugar Ray Robinson hasn't been exactly impressive in that department lately.

The late John Helaman, for whom football's Helaman Trophy is a memorial, should be remembered for even more important personal contributions to the game... a long-time coach (1922-1928), he originated the spinner play, the direct pass from center, and under his pressure, the forward pass was legalized in 1908.

Pro Football War Now In Full Swing

United Press International

The money and talent scramble between the National Football League and the new American League was in full swing Saturday with Billy Cannon the prize in a threatened legal war between the rival professional circuits.

Cannon, all-American halfback from Louisiana State who was drafted first last month by the Los Angeles Rams of the N.F.L., said after Friday's Sugar Bowl game he planned to play for the Houston Oilers of the A.F.L.

The Rams, inferring Cannon accepted a bonus last month when he appeared at the N.F.L. draft meeting and announced he would play for them, said they were ready to go to court.

"The Rams have fulfilled their part of the bargain and expect Cannon to respect his part of it," said Pete Rozelle, Rams general manager. "The Rams intend to enforce the contract. Due to the possibility that this may be taken into court, I am not at liberty to disclose when Cannon signed the contract."

While Cannon took part in the Optima Bowl game Saturday at Tucson, Ariz., K.S. (Bud Adams, the oil millionaire who owns the Houston Oilers, said his attorney, Adrian Burk, got Cannon's signature on a contract under the goal posts as soon as the Sugar Bowl game ended.

A bevy of unsubstantiated reports immediately swirled around Cannon, who recently was voted the nation's outstanding college player in United Press International's annual poll for the second straight year.

While the reports flowed like Adams' oil wells, Richie Lucas and Charlie Flowers — two other All-America stars — also were reported signed by A.F.L. teams.

Lucas, No. 1 draft choice of the Washington Redskins of the N.F.L., signed a three-year "no release" contract with the Buffalo Bills. Terms were not revealed but the Penn State quarterback reportedly will receive $50,000 for three campaigns.

Flowers, Mississippi fullback who had been drafted by the New York Giants last January when he was a junior, was one of four players the Los Angeles Chargers announced under contract after the Sugar Bowl game. The Chargers also said they had signed tackle Butch Tepinka of Mississippi and two Louisiana State tackles, Capt. Lynn LeBlanc and Duane Leopold.

In addition to Lucas, Ralph C. Wilson, owner of the Buffalo club, announced he has signed Harold Olson, a Clemson tackle.

Boston of the AFL landed two of the stars from the top-ranked Syracuse team. Ger Schwedes, a halfback, and Bob Yates, a tackle, were slated to sign Saturday at Dallas before getting married on the Southern Methodist campus.

Schwedes also had been drafted by the Baltimore Colts, the NFL champions, and Yates by the Giants, the NFL's Eastern Division titleholders.

Jerry Stalcup, University of Wisconsin guard and co-captain, was signed Saturday by the Los Angeles Rams.

Publisher Bert Ross who signed Stalcup said he will be used as a linebacker by the pro team.

Johnny Robinson, Cannon's tightback running mate at Louisiana State, has been signed to play with the Dallas Texans of the A.F.L. Texan owner Lamar Hunt announced Saturday.

Hunt said Robinson, the No. 1 draft choice of the Detroit Lions of the N.F.L. and the third man picked in the draft behind Cannon and Notre Dame's George Igo, had signed with Texan coach Will Wells on the Sugar Bowl turf Friday.

Friday would doubt Lane on this point.)

The Denton coach declared that Smith's performance was not his best of the year. He also denied that Denton was particularly "fired-up" for the Harvesters, or that they had played their best game of the year Friday.

"This team has been a spiler all year," said Lane. "Fort Worth Poly and Birdville were both undefeated before the Broncos played them, and Bowie had lost only two Pampa when we beat them."

Asked how his team has managed to lose five games this year, he replied, "partly because several teams have gotten hot against us. We've actually lost games in which we hit 50 percent of their shots and partly because of sheer exhaustion."

He explained that he had not expected to have a winning team this year, and had scheduled a large number of games to get his team ready for district play.

"They played about 16 games the last three weeks," he said, "and they were just too tired to play good ball in a couple of them."

Who'll Win State This Year?

Getting back to Smith, Lane said that he had scored 40 points against some of the best teams Denton has faced. "No one has really stopped him yet," he said, "although some have tried to do so by putting two or three men on him. That hasn't done any good, because he just jumps over all of them to get the ball and shoot."

Even if Smith is stopped, that doesn't necessarily insure a victory over Denton. Three other Denton players hit in double figures Friday against Pampa. Another who usually hits in double figures, forward Don Holt, took very few shots.

Lane, in four years of coaching at Denton, has never won a district championship, but he has hopes of doing so this year. "We've been co-champs twice," he said, "but we've beaten both times in the playoffs."

Lane named Highland Park, Garland, and Sherman as the top threats to Denton this year. "So far," he said, "the team has been playing erratically. They're young (four starters are juniors) and inexperienced. If we're lucky, they may jell during district play this year. They certainly should next year, anyway."

Smith will be among the four juniors who are returning next year. With this, plus Friday's game in mind, it's hard to see how Denton can miss being state champion at least by 1961 — unless Clifton McNeely can pull a minor miracle out of his bag of coaching tricks.

It's hard for us to see how Denton can miss making it this year, despite the fact they've lost five games, and that they'll have such powerhouses at Midland and Dallas Hillcrest to contend with. Denton is extremely tough at home (hasn't lost there in more than 10 years) and in more than 10 years can also be rough on the road.

Someone may beat Denton in the bi-district or regional playoffs or in the state tournament. But I'd hate to have the grocery money for the first two weeks in March bet on it.

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, reached the final round of the Asian lawn tennis championships Thursday by defeating Sweden's Ulf Schmidt, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

DALLAS SIGNS HALFBACK
EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Abner Hayes, North Texas State's star left halfback, has signed a professional contract with Dallas of the new American Football League.

HAZLETON, Pa. (UPI) — Tom Hemans, leading scorer of the Eastern Professional Basketball League, was traded by Hazleton to Williamsport Thursday for Jack Molinas and Tom Hart.

BORGER — Borger's Bulldogs whipped the Dimmitt Bobcats here Friday night, 77-64. John Kent scored 23 points for the Bulldogs. Don Seamster and Tracey Cox made 13 each.

STRATFORD — Stratford's Elks topped Perryton Friday night, 51-45, although Mike Bryant of Perryton led the game's scoring with 16 points. Perryton B took the opening game, 54-35.

Scribes Name Lamar Hunt Southwesterner Of Year

DALLAS (UPI) — Lamar Hunt, the young Dallas millionaire who was a scrub as a college football player, today was named Southwesterner of the Year by the Texas Sports Writers Assn. for his role in organizing the new American Football League.

Hunt, who was on the Southern Methodist grid squad during his college days, won out over a field of 14 nominees voted upon by the state's sports writers.

He will be honored along with other sports figures at the annual Sports Achievement Dinner of the Club at the Downtown YMCA here, probably in February.

Hunt polled 13 votes to 14 each for University of Texas track star Eddie Southern and Wally Moon, former Texas A&M baseball star who played last season with the Los Angeles Dodgers — Don Meredith, SMU passing ace, was fourth with 11 ballots.

Others nominated included baseball stars Ernie Banks and Bob Will; golfer Betsy Rawls; national champion swimmer Carlene; this country's top-ranking tennis ace, "Tut" Bartze; race car driver Carroll Shelby; jockey Willie Shoemaker; college golfer Dick Crawford; basketball player; H. E. Kircher, and national AAT president Kellum Johnson.

Hunt owns the Dallas franchise in the new pro league, but he also was the moving force behind organization of the circuit in the face of heated opposition from the long-established National Football League. The AFL will start operations next fall with clubs in Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, Denver, Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York, Buffalo and Boston.

PHILIP SIGN CATCHER

SMU's Meredith Pulls A Merriwell For West Victory

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Southern Methodist's brilliant Don Meredith threw two "do or die" touchdowns passes in the last three minutes of the game to give the underdog West a bone-crushing 21-14 victory over the East in the 35th annual Shrine Classic Saturday.

Packing all the drama of a great game into the last quarter, Meredith, end Chris Burford of Stanford, and halfback Dick Bass of College of Pacific brought the 20,000-partisan fans in Kesar Stadium to their feet with their heroics.

When a pass interception gave the West the ball on its own 35, Meredith pulled in a nine-yard touchdown pass in the last three minutes of the game to give the underdog West a bone-crushing 21-14 victory over the East in the 35th annual Shrine Classic Saturday.

CHARGE ACCOUNT—While the Bruins shaded the Rangers, the puck rested undisturbed in the foreground and players crashed to the ice when this particular Boston attack failed at Madison Square Garden. Don McKenney, 17, of the Bruins and the Rangers' Lou Fontinato, partly hidden, hit surface. Leo LaBine of the visitors glided along with his stick in the air.

For his fine playing in the victory, Meredith was chosen the game's outstanding player. Lou Cordileone, 245-pound Clemson tackle, was named the outstanding lineman. He spent a good part of the day in the West's backfield, throwing Look and Notre Dame quarterback George Iso for sizable losses.

Nearly all of the spectacular play was reserved for the second half of the game. The lone first half score came in the second period and gave the West a 7-0 halftime lead. Wilcox recovered a Look fumble on the East 18. Five plays later, fullback Jack Spikes of Texas Christian plunged over for the score.

During this drive the line play was so vicious and hard hitting that the crack of helmet against helmet and shoulder pad against shoulder pad could be heard above the din clear up to the press box.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba has been signed for a 16-round rematch with Charley Scott of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden, Jan. 29, Paret decided Scott in their earlier meeting.

Big College Stars Disdainful In Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Fullback Merlin Priddy and quarterback Richie Lucas romped almost fully through the small defenses Saturday to give major college all-stars a 53-0 win in the second annual all-college bowl.

Dwight Nichols of Iowa State raced 10 yards and Fran Curci of Miami went 30 for third-period touchdowns. Priddy added two more touchdowns in the final stanza on a 37-yard pass from Lucas and a 1-yard run. Lucas entered the act with a 7-yard scoring run and hit Paul McGuire of The Citadel for 20 yards and the final touchdown just as the final sounded. The victors didn't bother to try for the extra point, with the field already covered by fans.

The rugged major school line was led by tackle Jim O'Brien of Boston College, the game's most valuable lineman, and guard Bill Burrell, all-America from Illinois. In defeat, Garney Henlez of Huron College was voted the top small college back and Al Badger of Southern Connecticut State the leading lineman.

Cage Coach Asks For Little Man

NEW YORK CITY (UPI)—In these days of altitudinous basketball players, it's flabbergasting to hear a big-time coach pleading: "Give me a good little man! Just give me one good little man!"

But that's what famous Jack Gardner was doing today as he prepped his mighty University of Utah basketballers for their season opening against Los Angeles State at the Einar Nielson Field House Saturday night.

The Utah Utes—the Runnin' Redskins—have a satisfactory supply of elongated sky-scratchers like Billy McGill, 6-9, and Carney Crisler, 6-7.

Nevertheless, handsome Jack Gardner is moanin' low because he lacks a proven little playmaker like Dick Shores, whose graduation from Uteville "just yanked the sparkplug right out of our team."

Gardner's defending champions in the Skyline Conference have a little man in six-foot Joe Morton of Indianapolis but the coach doesn't know Morton has enough speed, agility and lightning reflexes to be a worthy successor to Shores in the backcourt.

"Morton had a knee injury last year," Gardner explained. "And he didn't see much action. But if he can come through now, or if sophomore Gary Lambert develops in a hurry, we'll have a GOOD TEAM. Otherwise—"

Otherwise, the Utes will have great difficulty keeping their title in the tough Skyline Conference, where Gardner rates Denver and Utah State as the most dangerous opponents for the '59-60 campaign.

In his six years as head coach of the Utes, Gardner won three conference championships, placed second twice and in his first year—while boosting the team out of the doldrums—wound up fourth. In conference play his Utah teams won 64 and lost 20, for a percentage of .723—tops in the league.

In addition to their conference triumphs, Gardner's Redskins gained fame nationally as the only team to have won all three major titles: The NCAA, the NIT and AAU.

DENY NEW COACH REPORTS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams have denied reports that Bob Waterfield, former Ram quarterback, is the top choice to succeed Sid Gillman as head coach.

The lone first half score came in the second period and gave the West a 7-0 halftime lead. Wilcox recovered a Look fumble on the East 18.

During this drive the line play was so vicious and hard hitting that the crack of helmet against helmet and shoulder pad against shoulder pad could be heard above the din clear up to the press box.

Religious Resurgence Continues

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press-International

The year just ended was, on the whole, a good one for America's churches.

The resurgence of religious activity, which has been one of the most striking phenomena of American life since World War II, seemed to continue unabated throughout 1959. Government reports show that expenditures for new church buildings climbed to an all-time high of nearly one billion dollars.

Statistics on membership growth, Sunday school enrollment and giving compiled by the churches themselves and it will be some months yet before the 1959 figures are available. But it appears likely that they also will set new records.

If any churchman is tempted to complacency by all this evidence of institutional prosperity, he may find it a sobering antidote to look ahead at some of the formidable problems which confront the churches in 1960.

Space permits the listing of only a few of the more important ones:

The inevitable frictions may be major political parties should nominate a Catholic candidate for President or Vice President.

Although Catholic-Protestant relations have improved considerably in recent years, as the recent birth control controversy demonstrated, there still are a number of issues on which they disagree, and on which each side feels conscience-bound to uphold its position vigorously.

Many churchmen feel that this problem cannot be solved by trying to declare a moratorium on public discussion of the real and important questions that divide Christians. They feel the only solution is to air these questions with full remembrance on both sides that Christ's first commandment to his followers was to love one another.

Clergymen are increasingly conscious that the postwar revival has brought into their congregations many new members who are sincerely interested in investigating the relevance of religion to their lives, but who are not yet, by any means, committed believers.

It was this situation that prompted one minister to say recently that "the biggest task the church faces today is converting its own members."

In many cases, conversion must be preceded, or at least accompanied, by an adult education program. Surveys indicate that millions of church members have extremely vague ideas about the central affirmations of the faith they have embraced on trial. One California pastor, for example, was profoundly shocked recently by the discovery that not a single adult member of his congregation could make a passing grade on a test composed of 20 simple questions about the Bible.

Virtually every denomination is suffering from a growing shortage of trained clergymen. The Methodist Church, for example, needs at least 2,800 new ministers each year to replace those who have died or retired or to take charge of new congregations. But its seminaries are graduating only 900 a year. The National Council of Churches estimates the total clergy shortage in all Protestant bodies at more than 2,000.

Miss Artis Barnard (daughter of the R. C. Barnards) in a sky-blue floor-length dress of net with a ruffled bodice;
Miss Majorie Word (daughter of the Wesley Lewis) wearing a floor-length gown of white tulle with a molded satin bodice.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" formed the theme for the ball. Decorations consisted of wood-carved statues of Snow White, the Seven Dwarfs and their home. New pledges entered the presentation scene from the doorway of the house and were escorted down a green pathway to a garden swing decorated with flowers and green net. The ceiling was swagged with green net and angel hair to resemble the sky in a forest with small birds placed around the walls of the ballroom.
Pledges were escorted to the swing by George and Pam Bailey where they were presented with wristlet corsages. A poetic introduction was made of each honoree by the president, Miss Nancy Bailey, who was assisted in the ceremonies by Miss Sallie Parsley vice president.
Following the presentation, the Velvets played for dancing until 1 a.m.
Sponsors attending were Mrs. Lee Nichols, Mrs. Betty Brake, and Wayne D. Irwin as well as parents of the members and guests.

Diggs-Mitchell Say Marriage Vows

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Zephyr Adele Diggs, 808 E. Gray, and Herman Mitchell of Amarillo on Dec. 18 at eight o'clock with the Rev. F. L. Nelson, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, officiating.

The single-ring service was performed in the church parsonage. Mrs. Mitchell is employed as an assistant at Bobette Beauty Salon. Mr. Mitchell is an employee of Crow-Guide Cement Co. in Amarillo. After the first of the year, the couple will make their home in Amarillo.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"This term," the letter says, "a new bunch of kids at my high school have made friends with me. I like them a lot. But most of them go steady. One of the boys who doesn't brought me home from a party last night. He got mad because I wouldn't smooch as much as he wanted to. I can't tell my mother about this because she'd say not to see him again. But I want to keep in with this crowd."

Dismissing a boy who wishes to neck is, of course, one way of dealing with his wish.

But there's another way — and if we want to become happy women, the sooner we discover it the better.

The second way of dealing with a boy's premature wish to neck is to become certain of our right not to share his wish.

It's when we feel obligated to share it that we become nervous and uncomfortable with him. Unsure of our right to different, reserved feelings, we may either indulge him resentfully or plead for his patience and understanding of ours. We'll make speeches about our wish to know him better or tell him our views on sex.

In all this talk the boy, of course, recognized our uncertainty about our right to feelings of our own — and may press his more aggressively upon us or get disgusted with us. That's when everything gets terribly grim.

But when we are sure of our right to our more reserved, feminine feelings, we can be gay instead of grim toward boys' masculine ones.

Christmastime Nuptial Vows Said By Couple

Miss Donna Ruth Tarpley

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tarpley, 601 N. Frost, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Ruth, to Jarvis Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Johnson, 1433 Williston. The wedding is planned for January in the First Baptist Church.

A mother who makes believe with her children often has the upper hand. If children hate to have their ears washed, get them to pretend their ears are rooms needing careful cleaning. They'll have more fun when it's bath-time. Of course, there is a magic word to use. It's "march."

The United States owns worldwide property which cost about $38,000,000,000.

Poinsettia blossoms and nativity scenes formed the setting for the Christmas wedding of Miss Alby Ann Kuehler and Donald L. Peters on December 29 at six o'clock in St. Joseph's Church, Amarillo. Monsr. Wilfred Rosen officiated at the reading of double-ring vows.

Miss Kuehler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin M. Kuehler of Route One, Amarillo. Mr. Peters is the son of Mrs. Alfred J. Peters, 3019 Julian, Amarillo, and the late Mr. Peters.

St. Joseph's choir provided the nuptial music. Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white taffeta designed with a v-neckline, edged with seed pearls and sequins, brief sleeves complemented with elbow-length mitts. The princess lines of the gown flowed from a fitted waist into a floor-length skirt which swept to a chapel train inset with lace and topped at the back waist-line with a sash. Her finger-tip Veil of Illusion was secured to a scalloped Queen's Crown encrusted with pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses interspersed with Lily-of-the-Valley.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Charles Acker of Hereford, college roommate of the bride, attended as matron of honor, wearing red taffeta fashioned along princess lines and carrying a cascade of white mums. Mrs. George Kuehler of Amarillo, bride's sister-in-law, was bridesmaid. Miss Ann Williamson of Amarillo, bridegroom's niece, was junior bridesmaid. They were dressed as the matron of honor and carried a cascade arrangement of white mums. Belton Peters of Houston, bridegroom's brother, was best man. Grooms-men were George and Johnny Kuehler, bride's brothers. Ushers were Fred Begert, Jerry Davis and Don Kuehler.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kuehler wore a red suit with black accessories. The mother's corsage were of white carnations.

RECEPTION
St. Joseph's School Hall was the reception scene immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was laid with a red taffeta cloth centered with the attendants' bouquets.

Mrs. Fred Begert and Miss Ella Latta provided background music during the reception. Misses Barbara Smith and Jane Cheyne presided at the coffee and punch service. Miss Lou Ella Patterson served cake. Mrs. Arthur Vineyard was guest registrar. Sisters of the bridegroom were in charge of the gift display.

For a honeymoon in Central Texas, the bride wore a cocoa suit with pink accessories and a white rose corsage.

Mrs. Peters was graduated from Canyon High School and West Texas State College. She was a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. For the past year, she has been serving Gray County as the assistant home demonstration agent. Mr. Peters was graduated from Price College and has just returned from Korea and has been discharged from the US Army. He plans to enroll as a junior in WTSC in January. The couple will be at home to friends 114 E. 39 in Amarillo.

RUTH MILLETT

She has been married less than a year and she is already finding that the common complaint of the working wife, the one who holds down a full-time job, is of always being tired.

I'm sorry to have a sound so pessimistic. But, judging from my mail, the longer a woman tries to be a combination homemaker and wage-earner the "tired" she gets.

As she trades the first small apartment for a home of her own, as she is pressed into community work, as the young couple's social circle widens, as children come along, the biggest load the working wife finds herself carrying.

So here's a tip for "working wife": Instead of figuring out all the things you and your husband can achieve on a double pay check, quiet evening and see if you can't why don't you sit down some quiet evening and see if you can't figure out how you can live on one pay check, namely, the one marked "HIS"?

Sure you can have more on a "HIS" and "HERS" income — at least in the beginning. But why get used to a way-of-living that makes your holding a job an absolute necessity?

Why face years of being a tired working wife when, by trimming your sails a little right now, you could look forward to years of being a full-time homemaker, giving your most important job the best you have to offer?

If the idea of giving your best to the job of being a wife and mother appeals to you strongly, you had better start figuring how to live on one income right now, before your living pattern becomes set.

The longer you work the harder it is going to be to quit. Because it is mighty easy for both a husband and wife to get used to the luxuries a second income provides.

Only living quintuplets are the Diligent children of Argentina.

proverb... if you can print it... Freely translated, it says she should be a hostess in the living room, a domestic in the kitchen, a lady in public and a mistress in the bedroom.

RUTH MILLETT
The four of us who were sitting in the hotel dining room having lunch all have children in either high school or college. So we understood what she meant when one of the mothers remarked, "I guess I'm getting to the age when I'm grateful to have a teen-ager go out of her way to greet me or seem pleased to see me."

The remark was made after a pretty 18-year-old, a friend of the group of friends to come over to our table and say "hello."

It's a very unimportant incident and yet it might surprise a lot of teenagers to find out just how much their smallest courtesies are appreciated by adults.
Teen-agers today are so busy in their own little world that many of them scarcely know that adults are people who have feelings, too.

Eligible Females Start Brushing Up On Fair Game As Leap Year Looms

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)— Leap year is a-comin' in and it's only fair to tell all eligible females about the newest in the fair game department.
Name? Theodore Bikel. Age? 35. Looks? Tall (six feet, one inch), black-haired, blue-eyed, and handsome. Personality? Charming in the continental manner. Education? Vienna and London, with a speaking knowledge of six languages, singing in 18.
Also going for him? Money? Bikel plays opposite Mary Martin in "The Sound of Music," which opened recently with the largest advance ticket sale in Broadway theatrical history, and in which he is assured employment for at least two years. Plus, assorted other income — an established screen career, his own radio program of folk music, his recordings, and a book soon to be published on the history of folk tunes.
But there is one hurdle, before all you Janes head for the stage door with man traps.
Bikel sets pretty steep standards for the girl who catches him.
"What does one look for in a woman?" said Bikel in an interview at his bachelor apartment. "Well, the impossible of course. It is ridiculous to expect perfection, but unless one dreams high, one may reach lower."
"Of course, when she catches me, she just may have bow legs. How does one know what determines love?"
"But if you asked me to define the ideal woman," he continued, "I would refer to a Chinese

ARE WE JUST SEEING THINGS after the New Year, or is there a perfect rash of pink cars around? ... seems to us that every fourth car is pink ... we have seen pink Cadillacs pink Plymouths ... and pink Ramblers ... and several other unidentified pink cars ... but no pink elephants, so we guess we are all right! ... anyhow, a Happy New Year on this third day of January, 1960.

HOW new year's and this past week since Christmas have flown by so fast, we don't know ... and speaking of flying ... heard that Oscar Shearer and two of his airplane-owning buddies have flown to Dallas for the Bowl game this past weekend ... as many others did ... for instance ... the James Evans family went to view the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, California ... and the John Hatchers were "bowl"-ing over New Year's Day ... and there are so many people visiting HERE over the holidays, we can no more than scratch the surface.

BUT SCRATCH we will do ... Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Huff, Dr. Oscar Huff's youngest brother, were visiting the Huffs here from New Mexico ... and so were Mrs. Ed Kirsch of San Diego, California ... and Claris Glick of Tempe, Arizona ... Miss Glick was formerly a teacher here in Pampa ... and is now teaching at the University of Arizona ... a house-full-of-company in anybody's language ... and so nice to have visitors ... while we are on the subject ... visiting also were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson ... from Hutchinson, Kansas ... who were visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Coberly ... Ruth and Harvey Nenstiel had all five of their grandchildren visiting during the holidays ... and what a household that was ... but their beautiful home is well able to stand up under the strain, we feel sure ... Dorothy Statton Ponce visited with Ann Heskew on Christmas Day and we bet the craft ideas flew thick and fast in the conversation.

It is only giving that stimulates. Impart as much as you can of your own spiritual being to those who are on the road with you, and accept as something precious what comes back to you.

Albert Schweitzer

LET'S CATCH our breath just a little bit ... we were pleased to see substantiating evidence in an issue of Reader's Digest one time, of our fear of having small children in the front seat of an automobile when driving around ... we have mentioned it in the past as being one of our pet peeves, that mothers let their children ride standing up in the front seat ... and the Digest article pointed out that many thousands of children are killed that way, when a fast stop is necessary ... Mother cannot always fling out a restraining hand ... and if she does, she may really lose control of the car and have a more serious wreck ... hope you haven't minded our sermonizing, but we feel that this is a very important subject ... it has been proven over and over again, that the back seat is the safest place in an auto.

BACK TO THE lighter side ... the most interesting sight we have seen here in quite a few days was the influx of students from the three trains that stopped here a week ago today ... they were carrying the students from the University of Wisconsin en route to Pasadena, California, for the Rose Bowl game ... we happened to be driving around downtown that morning and suddenly we saw floods of students pouring into the streets ... all with cameras slung over their shoulders ... two of them were in the act of taking a picture of the railroad station ... others were wandering around downtown, looking in the store windows ... and there was a group walking down to the Methodist Church from the station behind a large white placard with black lettering announcing their church destination ... most of the young men had on beige trench coats and matching trousers ... and the girls were wearing slacks ... we are wondering if perhaps this wasn't the first stop in Texas for them ... and that most had not seen Texas before ... they were certainly ogling things ... then the school busses pulled out ... and the local church congregations were certainly flooded with people that day! ... Herschel Wilks and Warren Hosse welcomed them in fine style ... anyway, it was fun to see it and we were glad we happened by.

JUST NOTICING things around town ... we see that, at the time of this writing, the Coronado Inn sign was all ready to put up ... probably is up by the time you read this, for there was a group of men standing around the spot where the sign lay on the ground last week ... noticed golfers Frances Hoffess and daughter, Ann, and her husband, Robert Murray ... the Murrays were visiting from California for the Christmas holidays ... and very welcome, indeed, we know ... Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tynes, Jr., of Houston visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tynes, Senior ... and Evelyn Nace's sister, Miss Anna Pierce, of Wichita, Kansas, visited in Pampa last week ... the Fred Sloans had a houseguest or two ... Lenora's sister, Vernie, and her husband, Hubert Lively, of Lyons, Colorado, spent Christmas and New Year's here ... let's call a short halt and rest our fingers.

NEWCOMERS TO our "fair city" as they always say in Mayor's language ... are Bill and Peggy McKeown ... and their two children ... recently moved here from Oklahoma City ... he is with the local office of Baroda and Page Chemical Company ... and someone you would like to know is June Gilbert ... cute wife, married not so long ago, of Wade Gilbert ... she is from Australia ... the Gilberts entertained a small group of friends on New Year's Eve ... isn't Calvin and Katherine Jones' house beautiful? ... we think it is just marvelous what a covering of brick can do ... bet the T. J. Wrights and Gladys Harvey are getting excited about now ... they are supposed to leave January Fifth from New Orleans on a Caribbean cruise ... Icie and Raymond Harrah visited Raymond, Jr., and Marie in Dallas over the holidays ... and speaking of houses, which we were, a few sentences ago ... hear that Pat and Bill Broly are building a home in Mesilla Park addition ... and Katherine Reeve has some cute switch plates in her kitchen-den ... they are black with small replicas of fruit and vegetables in bright colors all around the switches ... really clever idea, don't you think?

WE HAVE HEARD glowing reports of the beautiful job of decorating done for the recent Sub-Deb Presentation Dance ... a rose theme with hundreds of beautifully made paper roses climbing fences ... and whole trees of roses and a satin carpet for the new members to tread upon ... understand Jeanette Aftergut and Wanda Hudson as sponsors, were responsible ... what a job!

GUESS THAT is about all for the time being ... we will be back next week with more information for you ... until then ... don't take any wooden nickels ... although you could probably buy as much with one as you can with a real nickel these days ... oh, well ...

Love, Peg

Mrs. Neil Lawrence Jolly

Sandra Wilson Bride Of Neil Lawrence Jolly

With vows repeated on December 27 at three o'clock Miss Sandra Wilson became the bride of Neil Lawrence Jolly in First Methodist Church, Borger. The Rev. Lloyd Hamilton was officiant for double-ring vows said amid a setting of baskets of white mums and holly lighted by white tapers in candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wilson, 1229 Jackson, Borger. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jolly, 810 N. Somerville.

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride was gowned in white pearl de sole and lace. The molded bodice of Chantilly lace appliqued with seed pearls and sequins was designed with a bateau neckline and long sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands. The princess lines of the peau de soie bouffant skirt was fashioned with a carriage back sweeping into the traditional train.

Her Juliette cap of seed pearls with a pearl drop low on the forehead held secure her chapel-length Veil of Illusion tulle edged with a deep band of Chantilly lace. She carried cascade of white roses centered with an orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Ross Parker, bride's sister, as matron of honor wore waltz-length Holly Green velveteen fashioned with a full, gathered skirt topped with a short jacket designed with brocade, puff sleeves. Matching brocade half-hat and brocade shoes complemented her attire. She carried a nosegay of Mum petals and Holly.

Miss Joy Gunter, Miss Ginger Jolly, bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Marshall Nelson attended as bridesmaids dressed as the matron of honor and carried identical mums and holly nosegays.

J. W. Usher served his son as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Ross Parker, Gene Schneider, Marvin Overton III, Ralph Cearly and Hal H. Hervey.

Misses Karen Parker, Denise and Lisa Schneider, nieces of the bride, were flower girls dressed in green velveteen fashioned with full, gathered skirts, puffed sleeves and white satin collars.

Mrs. E. M. Copeland, organist, played pre-nuptial selections and the traditional processional and recessional. Allen Greer, soloist, sang "One Alone," "Ah, Sweet Mystery," and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt for the benediction.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilson chose a mint brown wool crepe suit-dress trimmed in brown tones of satin. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jolly, wore beige wool sheath with matching accessories. The mothers' corsages were fashioned from orchids.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Rendezvous Room of the Borger Hotel. Miss Glenda Keith presided at the punch service. Mrs. James Wetzel served cake. Mrs. Gene Schneider, bride's sister, was guest registrar.

For a wedding trip, the bride traveled in a mint trimmed brown suit with matching accessories and wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Borger High School; attended North Texas State College and Tampa University, Tampa, Fla. She was graduated from Grodwohl School of Medical Laboratory and X-Ray, St. Louis, Mo, and until her marriage was employed in North Plains Hospital, Amarillo.

The bridegroom was graduated from Pampa High School; attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock; and was graduated from North Texas State College. He is employed by Warren-Tee Pharmaceutical Co. in Phoenix, where the couple will make their home at 1638 E. Monte Vista Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly, parents of the bridegroom, entertained with a rehearsal dinner in the Borger Hotel for members of the wedding party.

Pampa News Women's Editor

If you haven't cried real tears this week, your beauty rating is dropping, declared Yvonne Aumont, beauty counselor to theatrical stars. She has launched a campaign to make weeping popular with the ladies.

"Working women have lost the ability to cry because they believe that tears don't mix with business," Miss Aumont explained. The result is that the beauty of their eyes diminishes and that within a few years they require sun-goggles and spectacles.

"Tears beautifully not only thins eyes but also the face when they are rubbed into the skin," she said. Sentimental of joyous weeping is preferable because it is accomplished with relaxed facial muscles.

"I advise my clients to buy photographic records that make them romantically sad," said Miss Aumont. "Listen to them in a relaxed position when the lights are low and let the tears come."

Men also should learn the advantages of tears to both the eyes and the spirit.

"Most men probably cry in private," she insisted. "It softens their nature so that they can get along harmoniously with women." The beauty expert herself cries two or three times per week but allows no more than 20 minutes per session.

Twelve New Pledges Presented At Ball

Miss Betty Lou Overall

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Betty Lou Overall to Kenneth D. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, 1142 S. Dwight, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Overall, 422 W. Brown. Wedding vows will be solemnized on Jan. 21 at seven o'clock in First Assembly of God Church with the Rev. J. S. McMullen, pastor, officiating. (Photo, Call's Studio)

The number of honorees was twelve and the party was the 21st annual presentation of Sigma Delta Sub Deb Club pledges. The ball was held in Pampa Country Club on Dec. 29 with an enchanting theme "Enchanted Garden."

Honorees were Miss Sandra Whelchel (daughter of the John Whelchel) wearing a floor-length gown of blue tulle circled endlessly around the skirt with tiny rows of ruffles accented on the edge of each row with darker blue velvet bows;

Miss Donna Walsh (daughter of the Chris Walsh) wearing a gown of red net over taffeta with a sheer ruffled overskirt;

Miss Marilyn Scott (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott) wearing a formal, full, green and white skirt with a fitted lace bodice;

Miss Susan Quible (daughter of the George Quibles) wearing a gown fashioned of pale pink tulle with a bouffant skirt covered with tiny ruffles;

Miss Kathy Naud (The Walter Nauds) wearing a bouffant light-pink tiered skirt with a pink satin cummerbund and a ruffled pink bodice;

Miss Beverly Moore (The D. N. Moores) wearing an orchid net over white taffeta gown with a bouffant overskirt;

Miss Martha Lou Kelley (The Dr. Frank Kelleys) wearing a fitted satin bodice gown with gold design and a two tiered full-length skirt;

Miss Carolyn Jelneck (The Harry Jelnecks) in a pink eyelet full, ruffled skirt with fitted bodice covered with ruffles;

Miss Diane Fenton (The Gene Fentons) in a gown fashioned of blue chiffon tulle with a tulle drape bodice and full skirt with vertical net ruffles;

Miss Wilma Carlile (The Lloyd Carliles) wearing a yellow gown with fitted taffeta bodice and yellow ruffled skirt draped from the waistline to hemline with yellow roses; Miss Myke Ashby (The Dr. Charles Ashbys) wearing white chiffon over taffeta with a chiffon draped overskirt scalloped at the bottom;

Guests familiar with the presentation ceremony awaited the naming of the Best Pledge for 1959 as Miss Priscilla Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goodwin, who wore a gown of floor-length white nylon tulle with a bustle entwined with white roses. Miss Jan Hall, 1958 Best Pledge, presented Miss Goodwin with a dozen red roses.

Sultans of Swing of Lubbock played for dancing. During the presentation ceremonies, the band played "Some Enchanted Evening," as each pledge entered the scene through a huge silver-glitter rose-covered garden gate where they were met by their escort for the evening and escorted back down the white-satin covered aisle lined with trees of white roses.

Miss Mary Sturgeon, club president, emceed the presentation ceremony and read a poetic description of each pledge as she was presented. Miss Frances Aftergut and Miss Carolyn Hudson admitted the pledges through the gate and gave each a white Bible encribed in gold with their name and a long-stemmed white rose.

Proceeding the ceremonies, Miss Kristi Brown and Miss Linda Warden lighted white tapers entwined with roses in shades of pink and white in black wrought-iron candelabra for the garden scene which was completed with white wrought-iron furniture arranged in front of a rose-covered fence.

Adult sponsors attending the ball were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aftergut, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hudson, as well as parents of members and pledges.

Proceeding the evening's festivities, pledges were entertained at a dinner in White Way Restaurant at 5:30 p.m. and following the dance the new members met in the home of Miss Susan Quible for a Midnight Feast. The junior and senior club members met in the home of Miss Nancy Williams for a party after the dance.

Subdued Color For Teen Girls

Probably the most difficult time for a girl to make-up properly is during her teen years. She wants to look just as well groomed as the older girls, but doesn't want to look too made up for her age. Here are a few tips from Max Factor, Hollywood's master of make-up artistry, to help the girl in her teen look as lovely as possible without being overly made up.

Use lipstick in pastel shades and learn to use a lipstick brush so you can apply the lipstick perfectly. For a pale face, add a touch of rouge to give a healthier look. Apply only a little foundation powder in a shade that matches your own coloring, but at all times guard against using too much make-up. Youngest members of this age group should use just a light application of lipstick and face powder.

Jeannie Gail Reames Repeats Vows With George Blocker In Double-Ring Vows

Wedding vows were said by Miss Jeannie Gail Reames and George R. Blocker on Dec. 19 at five o'clock in Evangelistic Tabernacle with the Rev. Bill Sparks officiating for the double ring vows.

Miss Reames is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bowers, southeast of the city. Mr. Blocker is the son of Mrs. Lois Blocker, 811 E. Jordan.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore aqua nylon fashioned with a low, rounded neckline, three-quarter length puff sleeves with the molded bodice enjoined to a full circular skirt. Her aqua net veil of illusion was secured to a pearl headpiece. She carried an arrangement of white carnations on a Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Wayne Worley attended as matron-of-honor wearing a blue and green floral print dress with a white carnation corsage.

Jack Dye served the bridegroom as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Artis Abernathy of Perryton, soloists, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bowers chose a beige dress with beige and brown accessories. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Blocker, wore a navy blue suit with black accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A wedding party was held in Amarillo immediately following the ceremony.

The bride attended Pampa schools; Pampa Modern School of Business; and for the past three months has been enrolled in Isabella's University of Beauty Culture in Lubbock; the bridegroom attended Pampa schools and the University of Alaska. At present he is stationed with the United

Impulse Spending Adds Up To Big Outgo So Milady Resolves To Save In 1960

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The odds are that one of any woman's New Year's resolutions is to save money in 1960.

Making the resolution is easy; keeping it calls for the will power to care for the pennies as well as the dollars; impulse spending adds up to a big outgo over a 365-day period.

So go ahead, be cheap and count the small coins. It's your money, and here are 10 small methods for saving it:

Resist the impulse to grab a cab for every trip to town. This means advance planning to give yourself a few more minutes which the bus will require.

Make a list and take it with you when you shop; and in making your list, follow the newspaper ads carefully for special bargains and sales. It's not a bargain unless it is something you need.

Buy small sizes of new cosmetics—cold creams and lotions—you want to test.

Stock up on stamps when you're at the post office; save the extra pennies the vending machine takes.

Buy food in amounts to suit your family. "Family size" canned goods are no saving, if yours is a family of two. Plan your buying long range—for a week or two at a time, especially if you own a freezer — and you'll find fewer foods going into the garbage pail. Follow your newspaper food pages for guidance.

Try hoofing these short trips instead of cranking up the car; it's good for your health as well as your pocketbook.

A spot remover and steam iron can help toward good grooming and cut cleaning bills.

How about doing your own shampoo and home permanent occasionally? Turn out those electric lights behind you.

Do minor alterations on new clothes and save the costly labor that goes into moving over a button or taking up a hem. And fabric inserts and hem let-outs can do wonders to expand the life of children's clothes.

More than 100 billion folding paper boxes are consumed annually in the United States.

Predictions—All Wrong—Of Coming Events For 1960

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jerry Lewis squinted into his foggy crystal ball today and fearlessly predicted the events and trends of the coming year.

Busy with a new motion picture, and preparing a TV show, the comedian modestly admitted his predictions for 1959 were 100 per cent incorrect.

Herewith, Jerry's prognostications:

The TV show "Peter Gunn" will win an Emmy Award as the best show to dance to.

There'll be a summit meeting between the Big Three: Eisenhower, Khrushchev and Lawrence Welk.

Rock and roll will go out and Fabian will be stuck with that hair.

Jack Paar will apply for statehood.

Wallet makers will go out of business. There'll be so many credit cards money will become obsolete.

Convict Caryl Chessman will star in his own quiz show, "Beat The Rap."

Radio will come back and the government will buy up millions of surplus TV dinners.

The Russians will sink a shaft through the center of the earth—so Khrushchev will be able to get into Disneyland.

There'll be a quiz show guaranteed against rigging—no questions, just answers.

Churchill At 85 Lacks Most Of Old Spark

NICE, France (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill arrived for a month's vacation on the Riviera Saturday looking pale and tired.

The 85-year-old elder statesman of Britain carried the Churchill trademark, a fat cigar. But there was no customary victory wave as he moved slowly down the ramp from the airliner that brought him from London to Nice. He hardly seemed to notice the small crowd which gathered to welcome him.

Bundled up in a brown overcoat and brown hat, despite the mild sunny weather, the former prime minister was taken by car to the plush Hotel de Paris in Monte Carlo, Monaco, where Creek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis and a chauffeur assisted him up the five steps to the lobby.

Churchill, who was accompanied by Onassis from the flight from London, moved into a sunny apartment on the eighth floor, overlooking the Mediterranean.

His wife, Clementine, was to join him Tuesday after attending to private business in London.

Churchill usually uses the villa of his publisher, Emery Reves, at Roquebrune, when he takes his annual vacation against London's cold and damp winter weather.

But Reves has suffered a heart attack and this year, it was decided he would go to the hotel instead.

It was Sir Winston's first visit to the Riviera since he and his wife went on a six-week cruise last summer on the Onassis yacht with the shipping magnate, his wife and opera star Maria Callas.

It was shortly after this that the Callas and Onassis marriages went on the rocks.

Two years ago, Churchill suffered a bout of pleurisy while on the Riviera. Last fall, he suffered an "indigestion" at his home in London. But he was able to pay a visit to the House of Commons on his birthday, Nov. 30.

He still retains flashes of the old Churchill. Just before he boarded the regularly scheduled jetliner flight at London, he dangled a 2½-year-old girl on his knee and seemed delighted.

New Army Recruiter

MSGT. Bill Barker, a 12-year veteran who has served in the Navy and the Army, was assigned recently to the Pampa recruiting station. He will serve with the additional duty of Army counselor for Gray, Hutchinson, Wheeler, Roberts and Hemphill counties, SFC SFC John C. Dills, present counselor said yesterday. Sgt. Dills has been on duty here since February and will leave soon for Roanoke, Va.

Barker, a native Texan from Clarendon, has served in Germany, Japan, Hawaii and Korea.

Sgt. Barker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walton, Stinnett. He and his wife, Jane, have a daughter, Naomi, and two sons, Billie Jr., 5, and Flint, 2.

Sgt. Dills has been reassigned as operations sergeant in Roanoke, his home town.

VIBRANT LOVE STORY — Frank Sinatra and Italy's beautiful Gina Lollobrigida form the electric romantic team of "Never So Few," which opens Wednesday at the Lavista. Against a backdrop of guerilla-jungle fighting in Burma during World War II, the picture is filmed in CinemaScope and color. Co-starred in a big cast are Peter Lawford, Steve McQueen, Richard Johnson, Paul Henreid, Brian Donlevy and Dean Jones. Steve McQueen, presented here in his first co-starring role, is probably better known as "Josh Randall" in the TV series, "Wanted — Dead or Alive."

Lack Of Oxygen Kills 3 Sisters

HOUSTON (UPI)—Dr. Joseph Jakimczyk, Harris county pathologist, said Saturday three elderly Houston sisters died of asphyxiation when an open gas heater and a gas stove used up all the oxygen in their apartment Friday.

The bodies of Mrs. Gertrude Smith, 84, Miss Dora Amolsky, 76, and Miss Becca Amolsky, 74, were discovered in the apartment late Friday by Mrs. Smith's son, Percy Smith.

Small Fire Reported

The fire department answered a call at the home of James Fuch, 913 Rham, at 10:45 a.m. Friday. A highline from the main electrical circuit to the house shorted out and separated.

Your Tax Primer

(Seventh of 12 Chapters)
By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service

Chapter Seven

A complicated but very useful provision in the tax law permits a taxpayer to postpone paying tax on the gain from the sale of his residence.

This provision can be a real help in this day of rising prices. It is not unusual for a man who bought a home for $7,500 in 1940 to find that it is worth $15,000-$20,000 today.

That sounds good for the homeowner, but it could result in a real hardship. Suppose such person were suddenly transferred to a job in another city. Under the old law, if he sold his home he would be taxed on the gain. The capital gains tax on a profit of $10,000 could run as high as $2,500.

This would mean that without putting up additional cash or borrowing money, he could not buy as nice a new home.

The law has been changed so construction contract begun by another person) before the expiration of one year after the sale of the old residence, the taxpayer may have an additional six months in which to complete the new house and move in.

This tax break applies only on the sale of your residence, and if you live in more than one place, it must be your principal residence. The term "residence" includes a house, houseboat, or house trailer.

When part of your principal residence is used for business purposes or is rented out, only the allocated gain on that part of the property used as the principal residence is not taxed. The gain on the business or rented part of the property is taxed.

EXAMPLE OF HOW TO REPORT GAIN ON SALE OF YOUR HOUSE

On May 4, 1959, you sold your residence for $18,000. You had incurred fixing up expenses of $350 in April of 1959 and the commission on the sale was $900. The house had cost you $9,500 in 1939. On May 5, 1958, you purchased a new residence for $15,000.

Selling price of old residence	$18,000
Less: Selling expenses	900
Amount realized on the sale	$17,100
Less: Basis of old residence	9,500
Gain realized on sale	$7,600
Amount realized on the sale	$17,100
Less: Fixing up expenses	350
Adjusted sales price	$16,750
Less cost of new residence	15,000
Amount of gain shown on Schedule D, Form 1040	$1,750
Basis of New Residence	$15,000
Cost of new residence	$15,000
Less: Portion of gain on old house not taxed ($7,600-$1,750)	5,850
Basis of new residence	$9,150

that now, even though you sell your principal residence at a gain, the gain is not taxed if you buy a new residence within a period beginning one year before the date of sale and ending one year thereafter and if the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence is less than the cost of the new one.

As usual, this general rule needs some explanation. "Adjusted sales price" of the old residence means the selling price less expenses of sale and less any "fixing-up expenses." The latter means expenses for work performed within 90 days before the date of the contract of sale on the old house and such expenses must be paid within 30 days after date of the contract of sale.

The rule also applies if the seller constructs a new home which costs as much or more as the adjusted sales price of the old residence.

In this case, if the taxpayer begins construction of the new residence (but not by taking over a

For example, if a taxpayer rents a one-third of his residence selling it for $6,000 profit, he must report one-third of the gain, or $2,000 as capital gain. Tax on the remaining $4,000 can be postponed if he otherwise complies with the special rules on the sale of a residence.

Even though you sold your old home in 1959 but did not purchase a new one by Dec. 31, if you think you may either buy or build within the required period, you need not show a tax on the profit on your 1959 return. You must, however, show the sale of the old residence in Schedule D, Form 1040, Enter "none" in the gain or loss column of Schedule D.

If it subsequently develops that you don't buy or build within the specified time, then you must file an amended 1959 tax return and pay a tax on the profit.

NEW YORK—It was a small dinner party. Not a mink coat in the house, and the diamonds were modest stones in engagement rings.

After dinner, the girls went to see some little gifts the hostess had bought for various people. Scarves, gloves, houses, things like that.

We lit cigars and slipped some Mexican coffee liqueur and a tall, lean man the kind who automatically causes you to look at his upper coat pocket to see if a slide-rule stands there, came over to the couch and sat down.

"It's my notion they are playing with trouble," he said. "Those fellows who want to drill down into the core of the earth. They plan a 'sink' somewhere near Puerto Rico. You read about it?"

"Trouble, pretty certainly," he said. "It's not the cost or the problem. It's the hole they will open up into cold sea water. Once they drill through that rock layer and get down toward the hot, liquid center they weaken the envelope, and they may hit a cracked fault. And then the melt has to come through. It could break through if the envelope is made thin enough. Throw that molten core into cold water and Pandora's box becomes a box of virtues by comparison. Worries me."

Alone-Like A Garlic Eater In Diving Bell

by HENRY McLEMORE

I wish I had one of those new compact cars. I believe I could rent it to the Republican party for their 1960 convention. With Governor Rockefeller out of the running, there isn't much use in hiring a giant hall, bringing in brass bands, and delegates from all 50 States to tell Mr. Nixon that he is "it".

It could be that the memory of Nelson's grandfather, old John D., was to blame for Rockefeller's rather cool reception by voters on his "feeling out" tour of the country.

John D., you remember, handed out dimes to everybody he met, and in this day of million-dollar hand-outs by politicians, lots of folks don't want to line up with a man who is connected with ten-cent pieces.

Nixon now stands alone as a garlic eater in a diving bell, which hardly seems right. With the millions of registered, adult Republicans in this country, there must be at least one more who has sufficient qualifications to be considered as a nominee.

They'll Do It Every Time

Rogers Sounds Anti-Trust Alarm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers has raised an anti-trust alarm against interstate oil pipelines but put it up to Congress to do anything about it.

"In fairness to the lines, which transport most of the nation's vital crude oil, Rogers said he could pinpoint no evidence that they had transgressed the anti-trust laws. But he said their reciprocal arrangements could lead to control of the crude oil market."

He suggested that if Congress wants the problem looked into, it should arm the Justice Department with powers to force the companies to supply complete information on their operations.

"Though available generally to all oil producers, most of the lines are owned by big integrated companies, Rogers called them. He said the lines are singularly suited to legislative action."

Rogers brought up the matter in his fourth annual report to Congress on anti-trust aspects of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. The 29-state group, which he again gave a clean bill, was set up 24 years ago to stop wasteful practices in the oil and natural gas industry as long as it was not done through price rigging, regimentation or monopoly.

The attorney general's suggestion is certain to find receptive ears in the House Judiciary Committee, whose chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), tangled with the pipelines in 1957. The issue then was whether the lines had violated a 1941 federal consent decree with illegal dividend practices.

The federal courts, in rebuffing a series of suits filed by the Justice Department, said they had not. But Celler was not satisfied. His anti-trust subcommittee issued a report in May, 1959, repeating charges the courts had quashed.

Rogers' latest suggestion could give him a new line of attack. The committee automatically goes into action Wednesday when Congress reconvenes.

Rogers conceded that there are sound economic reasons why the present pipeline system is warranted. He said for example that it would be foolhardy for pipelines to compete at a well whose life is uncertain. And he said the circumstances "logically impel building one large diameter line to a field or area, sufficient to carry anticipated production and therefore preclusive of economic operation of other lines."

At the same time he said trouble was inherent in cooperative arrangements because the pipeline system "is the crude oil market."

Now, with the national economy booming and the cold war showing signs of thawing under Eisenhower management, Republicans are claiming credit for peace and prosperity. And Democrats are no longer so confident their party will have the issues with which it can ride to the White House in November.
