Clutch Sticks; Injuries Are Slight As Auto Slams Tree

Local Attorney Hurts Chest As Vehicle Runs Out of Control on Kingsmill

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Pampa Attorney C. E. Cary, 71, suffered injuries to his chest and left knee Saturday afternoon when his car accelerated out of control into a tree at 814 W. Kingsmill.

Doctors at Highland hospital reported X-rays have been taken. It is believed no bones are broken.

Cary, a former Gray county judge who lives at 450 N. Sumner, was pulling to a stop in front of the Tip Top Cleaners, 824 W. Kingsmill. He told police officers Dan Lewis and P. E. Bailey, his "clutch stuck" and his car raced out of control.

The car went through a small wire fence, over a driveway and across W. Kingsmill. It knocked over wooden fences at 817 and 815 W. Kingsmill before striking a tree.

Fannie Fay Parks, visiting at the Carrie Wright home, 815 W. Kingsmill, said she saw Cary's car racing toward her home.

"I didn't know whether to run outside or into the living room," she said. "I thought it would certainly hit the house."

Two other witnesses were William Shaw, 14, and his sister Mary Louise Shaw, 19, both of 647 N. Christie.

"Just prior to the mishap Cary had pulled into the dirt driveway of Tip Top Cleaners. Apparently, instead of touching the brake pedal, Cary's leg pressed the accelerator. Marks in the dirt showed the car picked up speed in short time.

Police officers believe Cary's right leg hit the accelerator rather than the brake when the car came across Kingsmill. Cary has an artificial right leg.

The car, a 1947 Dodge, was damaged in the front end and about the steering wheel. Cary's chest struck the steering wheel and his left knee hit the dash-board.

Veteran School Principal Succumbs Of Wreck Injuries

J. Aaron Meek, principal of Lamar elementary school and a prominent Pampa citizen most of his life, died Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in St. Anthony hospital, Oklahoma City.

Mr. Meek, who was 56, died from injuries suffered New Year's Eve in an automobile collision on the Turner Turnpike near Oklahoma City.

His condition had been listed as "improving" until Saturday when he died unexpectedly.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist church in Pampa. Rev. E. D. Carver will officiate. Burial will be at Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Meek had been principal at Lamar since the school opened in 1953. Prior to that, since 1927, he had been principal at B. M. Baker elementary school and later principal at East Houston.

He was born in Texas and raised at Mobeetie. After high school he attended Wayland College at Plainview and received his degree from W. Texas State college at Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Meek lived in Pampa at 1345 Williston.

Mr. Meek was a member Pampa Masonic Lodge No. 966, a member and deacon of the First Baptist church, a life member of the National Education Association and the Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers and a member of the Turner Turnpike near Oklahoma City.

Survivors include his wife, Gladys; one son, John of Houston; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Meek, Mobeetie; and two sisters, Mrs. George Trimble, Bovina; and Mrs. Clarence Dyan, Mobeetie.

Pall bearers Monday will be Owen Johnson, Bob Allford, Homer Craig, John Evans, Joe Page, McHenry Lane, H. Cameron Marsh and Herman Whaley.

Honorary pall bearers will be employees of the Pampa school system, the board of deacons of the First Baptist church, and members of the Masonic Lodge.

Anti-U. S. Sentiment Sweeps Cuba Over Criticism Of 'Trials'

Strikes May Hit US Firms; Castro Plans Giant Rally

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — Anti-American sentiment swept across Cuba Saturday in reaction to criticism of "war crimes" trials and executions by revolutionary tribunals.

Transport workers in Camaguey Province threatened to strike against an "imperialist Yankee-company" running the consolidated railroads of Cuba.

The newspaper "La Tuya" blasted Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) for suggesting the United States intervene to stop the executions of accused henchmen of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Fidel Castro who led the revolutionary government into power, was arranging for a giant rally of half a million Cubans in Havana Wednesday night to protest the "insolent" foreign interference.

Attitude Softens

Four American Protestant clergymen, alarmed at the developing resentment, issued statements endorsing the type of justice being administered by revolutionary courts and urging Americans to keep silent.

Despite their angry defense of the executions, the revolutionists indicated a softening and more cautious approach on handling accusations against supporters of Batista.

Castro estimated Friday night that the total number of executions would be less than 450—about double the present number.

He said this would be fewer than the number Batista agents killed in a single town in Oriente, Minas de Boyecito where 450 bodies were discovered at the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft. Most showed evidence of torture, he said.

Out of Sick Bed

Castro got out of his sickbed against the doctor's orders for his second straight day and set off in a motorcade to keep a promise to visit Pinar Del Rio Province, the only one of the six Cuban provinces he has not visited since Batista was overthrown.

As he left, Maj. Juan Nuyri, the new adjutant general of the rebel army, said trial of prisoners in Cabana Prison would not be carried out for a few more days pending completion of investigations of the accused men. They had been scheduled to start Friday.

In Oriente Province, which suffered the brunt of the civil war, Castro's brother, Raul, announced that executions had been halted there too while evidence was being collected and set off in a motorcade to keep a promise to visit Pinar Del Rio Province, the only one of the six Cuban provinces he has not visited since Batista was overthrown.

Fourteen more suspects — both civilian and military — were picked up in Malanzas where five major "war-crimes" suspects may face the firing squad. Reports from Camaguey indicated additional executions of condemned persons there could be expected within 24 hours.

If it comes from a hide, store, we have it. Lewis Hdw. adv.

BALLOONS BRING POLIO $81 MORE

By WALLY TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

Pampa teenagers brought out a thousand helium filled balloons Saturday and raised $81.45 for the Pampa March of Dimes. Girls from three High School sororities smiled their prettiest in an eight hour street sale that ended at 5 p.m.

The sales girls, representing the Kit Kat, Sub Deb and Las Cerasas sororities, were led by Jan Hall, a member of the Teenage Committee.

Next Saturday teenagers will push Peanuts for Polio, with the sophomore, junior and senior classes vying to see who sells the most. Bags of peanuts will be on sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Cuyler. Jim Scott, Terry Joe Harrison and Betty Barnes will manage the peanut sale. Nita and Rita Cartwright are in charge of posters.

The big thing in the teenage campaign will be a musical style show called "Around the World in 80." Mrs. Bob Hamilton will direct the show with the assistance of Martha Marsh and others.

"Around The World" will feature nine models and five dancers," Miss Marsh told the Daily News. The show will be in the form of a revue. It will be presented at Pampa High School in the near future and admission will be charged.

Miss Marsh said that a number of details still have to be worked out but that "Around the World" will be the biggest thing in the March of Dimes since helium filled balloons.

The dancers dressed in leotards, will wear bows in their hair and be seated on stools to match their bows. Five boys will come in and give them plane tickets to Paris. Naturally, it is every dancer's desire to go to Paris, Miss Marsh explained.

The style show will be presented. (See BALLOONS, Page 3)

PAMPA POSTER GIRL

Betty Jo Pate, 11, stricken with polio at the age of two, holds a handful of March of Dimes "mailers" received Saturday at the Pampa post office. Betty Jo, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pate, 523 Red Deer, is one of the five local youngsters who have benefited by March of Dimes contributions. Last summer the Pampa girl had three operations to both legs with funds from the National Foundation. (Daily News Photo)

14 DAYS TO PAY COUNTY TAXES

With the deadline 14 days away, Gray County taxpayers have already paid 94 percent of their county taxes, County Tax Collector Jack Back reported Friday.

Back said $838,172 have been paid of the total levy of $910,210. The total levy includes both state and county taxes. Final date to make payment is Jan. 31.

Back said the levy was figured on a valuation for tax purposes of $52,329,110. The tax rate, Back said, is $1.71 for each $100 of property value on property outside the water district. Inside the water district, the rate is $1.74.

A breakdown of payments since October shows $816,629 was paid in October. Tax payments in October were given a three percent discount. The discount rate is lowered to two percent in November and one percent in December.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER DWYER FOUND DEAD

McLEAN — Funeral services for John William Dwyer, 61, recently installed Gray County Commissioner will be held at 2:30 p.m. here today in the Church of Christ.

Dwyer was found dead Friday afternoon on his ranch about five miles northwest of here with self-inflicted injuries.

His throat had been slashed three times.

Dwyer, who defeated O. L. Tibbels in the Aug. 23, 1958, Democratic primary by a 417 to 285 vote count, had been in failing health for the past seven months and under the care of a physician the last three months. He was commissioner of Precinct Four.

A highly regarded citizen and veteran cattleman, Dwyer left his ranch house here about 8 a.m. Friday to go out and feed his cattle. When he didn't return for lunch his wife and brother, Arthur, and Mrs. Arthur Dwyer began searching for him. The body was found lying outside of his pickup, driver's side. Dwyer had driven the truck into a ravine of the range land known as Majors Section, which he leased.

The searchers followed truck tracks through snow and underbrush before coming upon the body. Dwyer was found with a 2 1/2-inch bladed stockman's knife clenched in his right fist.

Investigating the incident were Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, deputy Buck Haggard, deputy Jimmy Shelton, and Texas Ranger Bill Henslee. Precinct Four Justice of the Peace Cliff Day, returned a verdict of death by self-inflicted wounds.

FOR FRIENDLY FOLK

'Employee' Votes Pouring In Here

Courtesy and friendliness have been as plentiful around Pampa these days, with the gauge of the Pampa Daily News' contest to find this city's "friendliest, most courteous" employees building up like the measurement of snow since the contest opened two weeks ago today.

Interest in the contest is gaining momentum every day as votes continue to pour in daily by the hundreds for Pampa's choicest of the friendliest and most courteous employees.

Many more votes are needed to push favorite employees ahead in the big race to name the top vote-getters and the man and woman employee who'll receive $50 each and a framed certificate. Voters can cast as many ballots as they like from the official awards ballot that can easily be found in each and every edition of the Daily News. Today's ballot is on Page 2.

The ballots can be mailed to the Daily News or dropped in handy ballot boxes at the News, the First National Bank, Citizens Bank & Trust Co. or the Chamber of Commerce.

Every person who is nominated receives a "Courtesy Club" membership card. Managers and store owners are not eligible for the awards. This contest is strictly to find Pampa's most courteous and friendly employees.

One-hundred and twenty-five names have already been published in the Daily News. More will be published Tuesday and Thursday of this week. Here are 30 of others:

Ralph Alexander, Tri City Office Supply; Homer Anderson, Buddy's Super Market;

Ray Babs, Ideal Food Store No. 3; Eula Bailey, Hi-Land Pharmacy; Mrs. James Barrett, Pampa Studio; Anna Balch, Layman's Drug; Lloyd Bennet, IGA Food Store; Gordon Bayless, Wilson's Drug; Lloyd Bennet, IGA Food Store;

Evora Crawford, B&B Pharmacy; Travis Clement, Culberson Chevrolet; Irene Cox, Security Federal Savings & Loan Association.

FOUR FACES OF ANASTAS IVANOVICH MIKOYAN

Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, the man Premier Khrushchev calls his "Armenian Rug Dealer," is in the United States sampling our wares, diplomatic and material, rugs and all the rest of it. Shrewd enough to weather purges and counter-purges since 1926, Mikoyan shows frank curiosity about America and enough amiability to win over interviewers. These are some of the many faces he has shown to America—harsh, bargaining, coy, laughing Mikoyan. Saturday Mikoyan talked with President Eisenhower about the East-West "cold war." For the complete story see page 3.

IKE, MIKOYAN CHAT

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan exchanged cold war views for an hour and a half Saturday. Well-placed informants predicted the talks would lead to a Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin and German reunification.

The White House emphasized after the talks that "no new proposals" were exchanged. But it joined with Mikoyan in terming the discussions "useful" in reaching a better understanding of East-West positions.

Authoritative sources voiced belief that what Mikoyan learned in talks with Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles might lead to some softening of the Soviet position on Berlin, German unification, European security and disarmament.

They said they believed this could bring Soviet acceptance of the Western proposal for a four-power conference on Berlin and Germany before May 27. This is the deadline Russia has set for withdrawal of U. S., British and French forces from West Berlin.

No Summit Meeting
However, these sources got the impression that there would be no summit meeting at least within the foreseeable future.

Mikoyan, who has talked freely with reporters during his "unofficial" American tour, declined to answer questions after his talk with the President.

He said they exchanged views on "many matters of mutual interest."

But the Soviet official said, "We did not conduct negotiations but rather tried to find out what the positions of our countries were on various international matters."

Mikoyan told reporters that he passed along to the President the best wishes of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for "better relations" between this country and Russia.

He said Eisenhower thanked him "most cordially" and asked that similar greetings and hopes be conveyed to Khrushchev.

Won't Pull Troops
Authoritative sources said Mikoyan has learned that the United States, with full backing from its allies, will not pull its troops out of West Berlin under Soviet terms.

He must now know, the sources said, that nothing the Soviets can do will make the Americans change the position that the allies will remain in Berlin until Germany is unified under free elections.

Mikoyan gave some of those with whom he talked the definite impression that he is leaving Washington with a much clearer understanding of the long-term American policy on Germany.

This is that a unified Germany will pose no threat to Soviet security if it is tied in with other West European powers in such organizations as NATO and the Economic Union.

Youths Look For Way Back To Boys Ranch

DENVER (UPI) — Several boys from Cal Farley's Boys Ranch were wondering Saturday how they would get home to Amarillo, Tex. But they were certain the return trip would be much simpler than their drive to Denver.

Sherman Harriman, assistant general manager of Boys Ranch, revealed Saturday that a truck carrying boys and livestock to the Denver show overturned during a blizzard about midnight Wednesday near Lamar, Colo. Neither the boys nor the livestock were injured.

But sheep, cattle and hogs took off in every direction, with the boys right after them.

The boys rounded them up in five hours, a job that included chasing one steer for five miles, and rained a trailer to haul them to the Denver show. A station wagon from the ranch, which had been following the truck, was also pressed into service.

"The kids were tired, wet and hungry," Harriman said. "The stock was in a state of shock. Some of the animals wouldn't eat or drink water. One steer refused to drink for 33 hours."

Harriman said two adults, Bill Jackson and Jerry Jackson, brothers and both teachers at the ranch, were with the boys. But Harriman did not know how many boys were in the truck at the time of the accident. About 14 boys from the ranch arrived at the show.

Their immediate problem, since the truck was demolished and sold for junk, was the return trip. But the boys believed they may have it solved. They plan to sell the livestock.

South Bend Digs Itself Out Of Paralyzing, 17-Inch Snowfall

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — The city of South Bend, almost isolated by a 17-inch snowfall and drifts up to 10 feet deep, plunged into the task of digging itself out Saturday.

Although the paralyzing storm had ended, occasional snow squalls were predicted for the area and a state of emergency remained in effect.

Army reservists manned five-ton trucks to plow through the drifts to aid the marooned in snow-bound rural homes, delivering emergency fuel and food supplies.

Some traffic was moving along main streets and highways of the area, which were still hazardous. But side streets and many country roads were either closed by drifting snow or almost impassable.

Cold Grips East
The storm was part of a massive cold front that numbed the eastern third of the nation with sub-zero temperatures, snow and high winds. Slamming inland off Lake Michigan, the storm also battered Niles, Mich., with about 17 to 18 inches of snow in the past two days while dumping lesser amounts on other cities of the area.

Snow also fell across much of Pennsylvania and New York state, the U.S. Weather Bureau said, and was scattered southward into Tennessee. But weathermen warned that heavy squalls near the lee shores of the Great Lakes might produce near blizzard conditions in portions of New York.

Factories, offices, and stores in the South Bend-Mishawaka area were closed by the storm. Notre Dame University and St. Mary's College, as well as all city and parochial schools at South Bend, were closed Friday.

Additional highway workers were utilized to combat the heavy snow. Army reservists with their heavy duty trucks also helped in clearing roads of snow and patrolling highways. The big Army trucks nudged many semi-trailer trucks, which had jackknifed on the slippery highways, to the side of the roads to permit traffic to pass, and freed drift-trapped autos.

An Army sergeant, Francis Maxwell, 28, of Wichita, Kan., drove a truck through four and six-foot drifts to reach the home of Mrs. Wanda King, 39, who was suffering from a severe cold. Maxwell then plowed a path to the hospital for Mrs. King's husband to follow in his auto.

But one father, Grayson Brown, turned doctor in the emergency and delivered an 8-pound, 13-ounce daughter into the world when an ambulance got stuck in the snow en route to his home. The ambulance showed up later and took Brown's wife and child to a hospital, where both were reported in good condition.

Temperatures Drop
In the Niles, Mich., area, all highways and country roads were open Saturday. But the roads were snow-packed and slippery. A few stores in the area were closed, and a foundry was shut down because of impossible working conditions.

The fury of the cold front, which dropped temperatures to 30 degrees below zero at International Falls and Bemidji, Minn., was felt from Minnesota to Florida. As the bone-chilling cold moved into the Middle Atlantic states, temperatures dropped into the teens in Alabama and Georgia, below freezing in north and central Florida, and into the 40's in the winter playground of Miami, Fla.

Florida's rich vegetable and citrus crops apparently were spared.

TANKS HIT BUENOS AIRES MEAT STRIKE

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — More than 1,000 soldiers and police battered their way into a meat-packing house with four Sherman tanks Saturday and threw out 6,000 sit-down strikers in a four-hour clash.

Officials reported 30 workers were injured in the furious melee in which police fired tear gas shells and animals ran loose through the sprawling grounds of the government-owned Lisandro de la Torre packinghouse, chief supplier of inexpensive meat.

Police were armed with sub-machine guns but denied that they fired them. Most of the injuries were caused by the tear gas bombs and by police clubs.

Most of the strikers quickly evacuated the plant when the tanks tore through the iron gates of the main entrance, but some holed up on the fourth floor and it took police three more hours to dislodge them.

Fires started and burned through wooden partitions fed by highly combustible animal fat.

Residents of the neighborhood around the national meatpacking plant joined the fray against the authorities and blocked streets, adding to the confusion.

Mounted police charged groups of workers to scatter them.

The workers, who had threatened to reduce the plant to ashes in a dispute over government plans to sell the enterprise to private industry, were met with a barrage of tear gas spewed from a launcher on a small tank, as well as with standard tear gas shells.

The 62 labor unions still loyal to ousted dictator Juan D. Peron immediately declared a three-day general strike effective Sunday.

President Arturo Frondizi, who takes off Sunday on a 12-day state visit to the United States, conferred with police officials. Two previous Peronist strike calls last November were smashed by the government.

The packinghouse workers began their sit-down strike Friday to protest a government decision to sell the plant under Frondizi's new austerity program. The plant, which supplies most of the cheap meat in Buenos Aires working class districts, has been losing money.

Cuban Woman Free From Revolutionary Justice Saturday

MATANZAS, Cuba (UPI) — Revolutionary justice released Saturday and freed Julianna Munoz Garcia, when persons who accused her of informing for Batista agents refused to testify in court against her.

Capl. William Galves, who rejected her sobbing plea for mercy last week and said, "She must die," personally signed the order freeing her, at least temporarily.

Mrs. Munoz, 42, a hospital secretary and mother of two boys, was accused of giving agents of former dictator Fulgencio Batista information that led to the slaying of two teen-age boys in Matanzas.

Her accusers said she informed for $15 a week.

But when investigators sought the witnesses to appear before a revolutionary tribunal against her, they declined although they had leveled the accusations earlier.

Her case had brought worldwide attention when a picture of Galves rejecting her sobbing plea for life appeared in foreign newspapers.

Men Trapped In Elevator During Blaze

DETROIT (UPI) — Three men burned to death and 14 other persons were overcome by smoke Saturday when flames raced through the lobby of the Hotel Tullier in downtown Detroit.

The dead were trapped in an elevator which stopped only inches from the lobby floor.

Chief Medical Examiner Dr. Edward Zawadzki tentatively identified two of the victims as John P. McDermott, 47, assistant manager of the hotel, and George Washburn, 65, Farmington, Mich.

Harry Paulsen, hotel general manager, estimated there were 300 guests in the hotel when the blaze broke out in a hat shop off the lobby. In addition, about 70 hotel employees were in the 14-story building.

Flames raced through the lobby in a matter of minutes as clerks and other employees dashed from floor to floor to alert the guests.

Police and firemen estimated they helped 200 persons from the hotel, many of them brought to the ground from upper stories on ladders. Dozens of others, including elderly women guests and maids, climbed down outside fire escapes from as high as the top floor.

The admitting office at Receiving Hospital said 14 persons were treated for smoke inhalation. None was burned.

Local Jaycees Urge Payment Of Poll Taxes

The Pampa Jaycees will begin a week of mouth campaign Tuesday, urging Mexicans to pay their poll tax, according to Gene Holzar, president. Plans are to send a sound truck through town on the last day that poll taxes are payable.

There seems to be some uncertainty in Gray County as to when the poll tax deadline falls. Officially, Texans have through Jan. 31 to pay their poll taxes. However, Jan. 31 falls on a Saturday this year and the County Tax Assessor's office would be closed. County Tax Assessor Jack Back has not indicated that his office will be open for the convenience of poll tax payers.

So far 605 persons have paid their poll taxes and 400 have received exemptions. Tax paying began in October when 232 persons paid up. The figure was 80 in November, 93 in December and 200 in January.

Poll taxes are $1.75 per voter. Persons must have resided in Gray County for six months and paid their poll tax to be eligible to vote.

Holzar said that the right to vote would become important if a any kind of local election, such as a bond election, came up.

FIE ON CASTRO!

Pampa's Cubans, Tony Mira and his sister Mildrey try to keep up with Fidel Castro's progress in Cuba. Although not politically minded, the Mira's are against Castro's wholesale executions of other Cubans. (Daily News Photo)

Fidel Castro No Saviour, Pampa's Cubans Reveal

By WALLY TRUEDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

Fidel Castro may have Cuba in the palm of his hand—but Pampa's Cubans still sympathize with Batista. Batista has two partisans in Pampa, Tony Mira and his sister Mildrey who live at 1806 Coffee.

Tony and Mildrey were deeply shocked when they read in the Daily News that Castro is executing his enemies. "Batista never did that," they say. And Batista would still be in power if he hadn't pardoned young Castro for massacring some soldiers at an Army Post.

Mira left Cuba three years ago to get a better job. He is employed as an oilfield worker in Lefors, a job similar to the one he had in Cuba under Clayton Husted.

Most of the major oil companies have operations in Cuba. Husted, who was a Kewanee superintendent in Cuba, signed for Mira to come to Pampa. Mira works for Gene Triplehorn.

Miss Mira, a former high school teacher, has been in Pampa for three months, clerking at Anderson's Western Wear. Here also is Mrs. Mira, the only one who does not speak English.

Mira is looking for a chance to go back to Cuba and marry his sweetheart. He went to Cuba last year to bring back his mother and sister.

Miss Mira has a hectic existence as a school teacher, losing some of her students to the 26 of July movement. Some of them were killed. And the police sent several troublemakers home.

Cuba is only 90 miles by ferry from Key West, Fla. However, not many of the people are leaving except the ones who actually have to—Batista men—flee the choice of joining Castro or getting out of the country. The rest have been shot.

At the time that the last of the

Wedgeworth To Install C-C Officers

PERRYTON (Sp.)—An installation banquet to be held Monday evening in the Harvester Room of the Hotel Perryton, Bob Queener will be installed as the new president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Queener was elected to replace Travis Baker. At the same meeting Dr. Bill Parker was elected to serve the Chamber as vice president and John Mayfield was re-named manager.

E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, will be the installation speaker. He will challenge the new officers and directors as to their responsibilities to the organization and to the community.

Wedgeworth will also preside at the swearing in ceremonies for the newly named directors who are Queener, Parker, Robert Lemon, George Saled, Dick Harr, Bert Neelley and Howard Holt. Other directors to serve are Travis Baker, Irvin Buchanan, Alton Witt and Dr. Manse Wood.

Miras left Cuba, the rebels were still 500 miles from Havana, near where Miss Mira taught school.

After Batista pardoned him, Castro left for the States and began organizing his revolutionary movement, and on July 26, 1953 landed in Oriente Province. Until December, 1955 he remained in the Sierra Maestras, conducting guerrilla warfare against the regime of Fulgencio Batista. When the rebels took Santa Clara the Army showed signs of going Castro. Batista fled for the Dominican Republic, fearing for his life.

Castro couldn't have done it if he hadn't had the army behind him, according to the Mira's. Still there was no need for him to have everyone shot since Batista did no such thing when he took power in 1952. Pampa's Cubans will tell you.

Christians Pray For Family Unity In U.S. This Week

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International—Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox Christians around the world will pray this week for the reunion of the long-divided Christian family.

But in the very act of praying for unity, they will dramatize their disunity.

To Catholics, the period Jan. 18-25 marks the annual observance of the "Chair of Unity Octave." During this period, Catholics offer special prayers for the "return" of Protestant and Orthodox Christians to the "one true church." The name of the observance signifies Catholic insistence that unity can be achieved only if other churches acknowledge the authority of St. Peter's "chair"—the papal throne in Rome.

Simultaneously but separately, the 171 Protestant and Orthodox denominations in the World Council of Churches will observe their own annual "Universal Week of Prayer for Christian Unity." Implicitly rejecting Rome's terms, they will pray that the Catholic church may be led to a less "intransigent" stand.

Termed "Unfortunate Spectacle" World Council leaders admitted in their formal call to prayer that it is an "unfortunate spectacle" for two great bodies of Christians to be praying for unity, at the same time but "with apparently contradictory purposes."

But they said that "realistic recognition of our tragic divisions" can be a good thing if it leads to sincere prayer for God's guidance and help in healing these divisions.

Catholic theologians doubtless would agree. And therein lies one hopeful aspect of the situation.

Next week's prayers for unity, even though offered on a seemingly competitive basis, reflect a mutual recognition that the fragmentation of the church is an affront to God and a scandal to man. While differences are still wide and deep, there is a growing conviction on both sides that they must somehow be bridged. Refers To "Separated Brethren" In his Christmas message a few weeks ago, Pope John XXIII referred to members of the Eastern Orthodox churches as "our dear separated brethren." He said he would "pursue humbly but fervently" a "loving invitation" for reunion of the Orthodox churches with Rome.

The Orthodox Patriarch of Constantinople replied on New Year's Day. He expressed "joy" at the Pope's overture and said "it would be the dawn of a really new year in Jesus Christ" if such a reunion could be accomplished. Each time it outgrows a shell.

Bread, Butter Issues Have Little Appeal For Scientists

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press-International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor leaders are frankly puzzled over how to organize scientists and engineers in research laboratories of America's biggest corporations.

Old-line union officials concede the bread-and-butter issues which appeal to the factory hand or truckdriver don't make the same impression on the research men.

Labor spokesmen report that it's the same general problem they face in enlisting white collar workers in union ranks—a matter of status and prestige.

Two AFL-CIO conferences recently discussed the challenge of signing up clerks, technicians, engineers and scientists who now outnumber "blue-collar" workers.

Increasing self-criticism by unions was evident at these sessions, conducted by the AFL-CIO organizing department and its industrial union branch.

Terms Approach Outmoded
Speakers agreed that scientists and engineers would look to unions to help overcome their economic problems only if unions provided a non-controversial, non-violent way to settle disputes with management.

Mrs. Sylvia Gottlieb, research director of the Communications Workers of America, said labor's approach to the eggheads was outmoded.

"We are still using a corny sales approach by depicting an employer as a fat man sitting on pots of gold. This nonsense," she said. "We must see that loyalty to a union is not incompatible with loyalty to a company."

Russell M. Stephens, president of the American Federation of Technical Engineers, said labor has fallen on its face in trying to sign up these workers.

He said unions should send emissaries onto college campuses to preach the labor viewpoint to students in engineering school before management can get its story told.

Have Different Desires
Union leaders believe that the increasing tendency toward mass research — hundreds of scientists working as a team — will encourage future organization.

John J. Patz, director of the United Steelworkers' office and technical department, said he was tired and repeated psychological and sociological analysis of white collar workers.

He said labor has been guilty of calling these workers "snobs" and they resent it. His union, he said, has 45,000 office and technical salaried employees and expects to get more.

An independent union leader, president Joseph Atkinson of Engineers and Scientists of America, said he has found professional employees had different desires at the bargaining table.

"They want credit for their work and the right to patent their inventions. They rebel at punching time clocks and eating lunch on schedule. They want merit raises and the opportunity to attend seminars and meetings of professional societies at company expense."

Amman said this list of priorities might discourage a business agent for a craftsmen's union but could not be ignored if scientists and engineers were to become part of organized labor.

Marsh Names Five To District Meeting

Five official delegates have been named for a district meeting of the American Cancer Society, set for Tuesday in Pampa Junior High School. These delegates will represent the Gray County Chapter, according to President Cameron Marsh, who made the appointments.

Fifty persons are expected from the three county area of District 1 North. Jack Skelly, chairman of the meeting, invites all Gray County members to attend. The meeting will take place from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium.

Named to officially represent Gray County are Mrs. R. E. McKernan, Mrs. N. G. Kadlango, Mrs. W. A. Spoonmore, John Evans and Jack Skelly.

The delegates and District cancer leaders will discuss the problem of developing an ever more effective program of cancer control in the District.

Pampan Ready For West Texas Industry Meet

Roy Bourland, Pampa director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be one of some 300 civic leaders expected at the sixth annual West Texas Industrial Conference Thursday in Abilene. The program will be based upon suggestions from those attending previous conferences.

"The Drouth Is Over — Are You Ready?" is the topic for Rex Jennings, manager of the Fort Worth industrial department of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Douglas Orme, vice president of the Casden Petroleum Corporation of Big Spring, will follow with an address on "Dies That Shape West Texas Industry."

A former official of Fantus Area Research, Inc., and former president of the American Industrial Development Council, Harry W. Clark of Dallas, will present "Do's and Don'ts for the Industrial Committee." Clark is industrial consultant with Texas Power and Light Company.

Young Dan Hartmann of Fredericksburg, freshman student at John Tarleton College in Stephenville, will read his essay on "What My Town Can Do to Have More Industry" which won first place and a $250 scholarship in the WTCC committee's contest last year.

After lunch, a panel will answer questions from those in attendance. A. C. Bishop, manager of the Sweetwater Board of City Development, will be moderator. Panel members are J. A. McCall of Dallas, director of industrial development for Texas & Pacific Railway Co.; James R. Wyatt of Fort Worth, supervisor of community and industrial development, area development division, Texas Electric Service Co.; Bill Styles of Abilene, area development representative, public service department, West Texas Utilities Co.; and Raymond W. Hedger, general manager, Ordessa Chamber of Commerce.

4 TKO's Pace Pampa To Split At Borger

Rick Pezdirtz
purely paydirt

A year ago, if someone had said, "Rabbit Ramirez," you would have got up maybe to do a sure-footed combination of the bunny-hop and cha-cha-cha.

For all you knew, he was the second-string grunter in Perez Prado's gourd band. He sounded like it, much more than he sounded like a game little scrapper for Pampa's Optimist Boy's Club boxing team.

The lithe, little Latin hasn't exactly been in hiding from the ring game lately, but the way things have been going a change of scenery to Obscurity City might be welcomed.

An unfortunate incident in his Friday night Golden Gloves scrap at Borger should have been the straw to break any camel's back-bone.

It was in the second round of a heated ring battle with Borger's Charlie Moore. There had been no knockdowns in the fight and there were to be none. None that is, except that one in the second round which flattened Rabbit flat on his fan-tail.

It was the "sorriest" sports episode we've ever had the misfortune to witness, when Referee Doug Graham of Amarillo flung Ramirez to the canvas in a fit of rage.

That's right gentle readers. The only knockdown of the Ramirez-Moore match was scored by the ring arbitrator who lost the little self-poise which he might have had when he entered the ring.

Not Playing It Cool

The "knockdown" came early in the second round, Graham, a balding citizen who peers out of steely eyes, had warned both fighters in the first round to break clean.

In the heat of battle, the two Bantam-weighters locked arms and bodies time and again in a protection device widely known with box-fighters.

Graham screamed at the two fighters to break there in the second stanza. When they didn't he grabbed Ramirez, and thanks to a good 50-or-more pound weight advantage tossed him across the ring, the young Pampa kid's feet skinned against the middle rope and he tumbled to the canvas a dazed and puzzled look spread across his face.

The fight was halted momentarily while spectators drew in their breaths at the sloppy scene that had just unfolded before their eyes.

Then Rabbit rose, shook himself like a big collie dog, and returned to the business at hand, one very tough Mr. Moore.

Ramirez lost the fight. It was his eleventh straight loss but still left the ex-Marine with a fine 60-31 record.

"I wanted that win," wanted it bad," said Ramirez later in the dressing room to a friend. "I had probably heard the same words many times."

"I don't have any hard feelings towards him (Graham) but he sure must be after me. I lost a split decision to a Clovis Negro (Wally Nelson) in Amarillo last September with Graham working my bout."

He kept harping at me that night too," Rabbit sighed.

Price of Error: 1 Decision!

"You cost us that fight," Pampa boxing coach Oren James challenged Graham after the brawl was finished. Graham, realizing he was in the wrong, had come by to apologize to James and coach Cliff Dunham. His apology was readily accepted, but James was quick to point out the difference.

Probably the unhippiest individual about the entire affair was the fight's opponent, Charlie Moore. In the dressing room, Moore mumbled with head hung, "I'm sorry Rabbit, that yet should have never thrown you down like that."

Ironically, Moore is a nephew of Pampa boxing coach, Cliff Dunham. "He's my nephew and a real fine kid," Dunham said, "but I wanted Rabbit to win because he's on our team."

Holding No Grudges

Instead of bearing any personal grudges, however, Ramirez is anxiously looking forward to another crack at Moore, either in this week's Pampa Golden Gloves tournament or at the Amarillo regional.

Ramirez, at 21 has been fighting for nine years. He was state runner-up at Fort Worth in 1956 and earned a trip to the nationals in Chicago. In 91 fights he has never been knocked out or lost on a TKO. He has 8 KO's of his own and 15 TKO's.

Among his titles Rabbit claims championship trophies from Panhandle in 1951, Shamrock in 1952, Pampa and Shamrock in 1953, Wellington and Borger in 1954, Amarillo and Wellington in 1955, and Borger in 1956. In addition, he's been runner-up nine times in tournament action.

Emotions were mixed on the unruly second round referee's knockdown. "I'm not mad at anybody. It's just one of those unfortunate things that happens every now and then," Ramirez insisted.

A ring-side viewer said, "That's the rottenest thing I've ever seen anywhere."

Shockers Topple Tascosa Raider B Team, 60 to 37

The Shockers rolled to their 15th victory in 15 starts here Friday, demolishing the Tascosa Raiders, 60-37.

This game was as much of a breeze for the Shockers as the varsity game was for the Harvesters. Eleven Shockers saw action.

The Shockers grabbed a 36-17 halftime margin, and increased it slightly in the second half.

Four Shockers scored in double figures. Pat Carter led the Raiders, 60-37.

Jan Wise hit 13, Herbel Terrell meshed 11, and Jim Wilburn, who isn't even a regular, tabbed 10. Lanny McCrary of the Raiders scored 13.

CAGE SHOW IS SET HERE

One of the hot-cold college basketball teams in Texas is slated to meet one of the best amateur basketball squads in the nation here Feb. 11.

The West Texas State Buffaloes meet the Phillips Oilers' on that date in Harvester Field House.

Also on the bill will be a game between the famous Wayland Flying Queens and the Clarendon Junior College Comets.

West Texas is among the title contenders in the Border Conference, and is best known for scoring more than 100 points in knocking off defending champion Arizona State.

The Oilers are a perennial contender for the national amateur championship. Last year they went to the semi-finals of the AAU tournament, and tied for first place in the National Industrial Basketball League.

Wayland has long been the best known women's basketball team in the country. The Flying Queens at one time had a winning streak of more than 100 games.

Since the winning streak was broken, they have lost a few, but not many. Last year they finished third in the AAU tournament. This year they have an 11-2 record, including wins over last year's national women's champion, Nashville Business College.

Clarendon, while not quite ranking with the Flying Queens, has one of Texas' best women's basketball teams.

Tickets to this twin bill, one of the best basketball attractions ever presented in this area, in one package, are now on sale.

The Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the Feb. 11 doubleheader, and individual Kiwanians are selling tickets. The tickets are also on sale at Richards Drug. Prices are 75 cents for students, $1.25 general admission, and $1.50 for reserved seats.

No less than eight of the Phillips players are AAU All-Americans, or former college All-Americans. They are 6-8 Bruce Halderman, forward, formerly of Colorado; 6-8 Jerry Harper, center, Alabama; Dick Miller, 6-4 guard, Wisconsin; Red Murrell, 6-4 forward, Drake; Arnold Short, 6-3 guard, Oklahoma City; Jim Spivey, 6-5 forward, SE Okla. State; Gary Thomson, 5-10 guard, Iowa State, and Grady Wallace, 6-4 forward, South Carolina.

West Texas has been a surprise team this year, leaping from a poor 3-18 season last year into the thick of the Border Conference race. Mill Pitts, 6-5 junior, center, is the sparkplug for Coach Gordon Price's Buffs.

Wayland has been a great defensive team this year, holding its opponents to an average of 35 points per game while scoring 30. Margaret Odum of Dimpitt is considered as their top defensive player. Their two leading scorers, for the first 13 games, had 125 and 106 points, respectively.

By opening a deep gash over the left eye of San Miguel, Crites had earlier floored the Latin for a short count.

Results of other high school matches are: Ronnie Lytle, 112, of Borger, decided Roy Brown, of Borger; Don Leslie, 118, of Hereford, decided Joe Johnson, Borger; Don Ward, 160, of Borger, knocked out Jim Yates, Borger, in 0:53 of the first round; James Morris 126, of Pampa, decided Corky Morris of Pampa. Other open division results are: Durwood Williams, 126, of Borger, decided Lucky Dunham of Pampa; Robert Francis, 135, of Borger, knocked out Joe Lira, Amarillo, in 1:12 of the second round; Gary Willis, 147, of Pampa, slugged his way to a hard-fought decision over Richard Hodges of Hereford.

In Pee-Wee bouts, Carl Smith, 65, of Borger, decided James Reedy of Pampa; Donald Dunn, 70, of Pampa, decided Ronald Dunn, Pampa; Ronnie Goodwin, 80, Pampa, decided Tim Wood, Pampa; Joe Landis, 85, Borger, decided Dickie Powell, Pampa; John Mathis, 95, Pampa, decided Paul Garcia, Pampa; David Howard, 100, decided Curtis Jones, Borger.

Gary Willis Marks Up Lone Pampa Semi Win

By RICK PEZDIRTZ Daily News Managing Editor

BORGER — Six weeks ago Gary Willis could have posed for the "before" side of a lose-weight quick advertisement. Today the handsome Pampa High athlete could easily pose for the "after" side of that same ad.

For six weeks ago, Willis weighed a highly 165 pounds. Today, he weighs only 148. But you could with a solid three rounds to easily have fooled Borger's Carrol Steegall here Friday night in the semi-final round of Borger's Golden Glove district tournament.

Steegall would have sworn Willis was throwing one-ton sledgehammers at him all night. And for a youngster who's trimmed 17 pounds off his waist-line, Willis did put on a real heavy performance, in scoring the only Pampa victory against outside competition at Frank Phillips College gym here.

It was the toughest night decision-wise the Optimist Boy's Club swiftness from Pampa ever suffered. They lost three straight fights before Willis came through with a solid three rounds to easily outclass Steegall, although even the latter landed several key blows that momentarily staggered Willis at the outset.

Willis spent most of his time in the initial round feeling his opponent out and dancing and weaving in and out, trying to set up a target for a combination of deadly punches.

The roughest brawl of the night was staged by Willis' younger brother, Dickie, in the 125-pound class. Young Willis lost a slug-fest decision to a mighty rugged Durwood Williams of Borger. Both fighters dealt out plenty of misery to one another, however, before the end came.

Two of the matches on a 13-fight card were exclusive Pampa events.

In the opener Ronald Dunn landed three damaging first round blows and then went on to hold off a rallying Jess Reed in the 70-pound class.

In the "bloodiest" show of the night, Clark Morris exchanged crimson noses with Billy Washington, the former taking a TKO verdict when Washington failed to make it out of his corner for the third round.

Pampa's other two losses came when Charles Hooten of Borger decided Freddie Morgan in the 75-pound class and Rabbit Ramirez dropped a hotly contested and widely disputed bout to Borger's Charles Moore.

In the first round Ramirez landed three head-snapping licks but swung wildly on several other occasions as his timing and coordination appeared badly off.

In the second round both Moore and Ramirez forced three clinches. On the third referee Doug Graham of Amarillo yelled at the fighters to "break it up." When they didn't step back to fight, Graham lost his head and grabbed Ramirez and threw him across the ring. The Pampa youngster hit the deck with a resounding thud, and Moore blinked twice, his eyes not believing what they had just seen.

Ramirez climbed to a shaky pin, and went on to finish the bout, but his early round fight was gone and his energy sapped from the unfortunate incident.

In other results: Paul Garcia of Dumars decided Jerry Wilson, Borger; Don Lee of Hereford TKO'd Johnny Smith, Borger; Joseph Johnson of Borger decided Ronald Ward, 132, and Art Smiley Quick, Los Angeles and Morgan Barkley, San Francisco; Marvin Ward, San Mateo, Calif., and Harvie Ward, San Francisco; and Ford and Art Anderson, Studio City, Calif.

In the pro-amateur division early scores included Art Bell and Bob Ross, San Francisco, of Borger; Jimmy Bryant of Borger; Pete Garcia, Dumars; Sam Lilly of Borger; decided Jeff Gomez Hereford; Richard Hodges of Hereford decided Larry Foster, Borger.

With many of the golfers still on the court, Wall had a six-stroke lead over the rest of the field. Gene Litter, San Diego, was the closest with a 210 after rounds of 73-67-70.

Wall had rounds of 69-65 and 70. But as well as he played Saturday, he was no better than Coe, the current National Amateur champion.

For the 54 holes played, Wall and Coe now have a best-ball of 287.

Among the early finishers in the pro division, Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., had 211 after a 70; and at 215 were Gardner Dickinson, Panama City Beach, Fla., Doug Ford, Crystal River, Fla., and Jim Ferrer, Winston-Salem, N.C.

Veteran Jimmy Demaret, who had that great 61 Friday at Monterey Country Club, made a run at Wall Saturday, but couldn't get a putt down on the last five holes. He came in with an even-par 70, and still was four strokes off the pace with a 208.

With many of the golfers still on the court, Wall had a six-stroke lead over the rest of the field.

BUCKS TOP WELLINGTON

WELLINGTON (Sp) — White Deer High's boys and girls cage teams' chalked up their second wins each in as many nights by tripping Wellington High teams here Saturday night.

The Bucks of Coach Sam Christy had easy sledding in turning in a 52-34 decision over the Skyrockets while Coach Bob Moore's White Deer girls had to rely on a free-throw to win, 24-19.

Winborn, Cr. 4 3-8 5-11 The Harvesters had almost complete control of the backboards, and they often stole the ball before the Rebels could take even one shot. Tascosa scored only 10 field goals.

Mike Sims, a deadeye shot from the free throw line, kept the Rebels from being worse than it was. He sank nine of ten charity tosses and four field goals, to lead all scorers on both teams with 17 points.

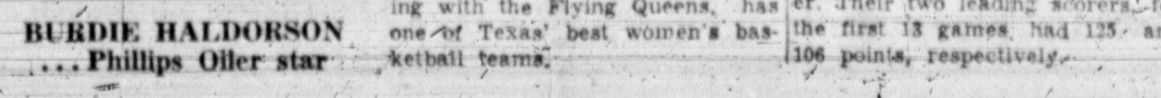

The Harvesters' offense ranged from sharp to just fair. They often made the hard shots look easy, but they occasionally made the easy shots look hard, by missing them.

Pampa led 20-6 at the end of the first quarter, and 35-17 at halftime, on the way to their sixth district win. Tascosa has lost all four of its district starts, and is now 2-14 for the season.

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals, if we can come through as we expect to with a few "ifs" for the club, definitely should be considered one of the top contenders for the 1959 National League pennant.

We're not going to be in there this year just to get into the first division, but to win the pennant. But it would be too early at this time for me to definitely predict we will win it.

Bucks Topple Lefors, 72-46

WHITE DEER (Sp.)—White Deer swept a basketball double-header from Lefors Friday, taking the boys' game 75-59 and the girls' contest 72-46.

Lefors stayed within striking distance during most of the boys' game, trailing only four points at halftime. The Bucks took a 10-point lead at the end of the third quarter, but Lefors cut the margin to four early in the fourth.

Miami Zips By Wheeler

MIAMI (Sp.)—Miami captured two one-sided triumphs over Wheeler Friday night, as the Warriors won the boys game 4-35 and the Miami girls took a 52-46 triumph.

The Warriors were never in danger, as they led 12-4 after the first quarter, 22-9 at halftime, and 50-26 after three quarters. Larry Anderson led Miami's scoring with 19 points, and Jimmy Atherton had 17 for Wheeler.

When you improve from second place, what's left but first place? The backbone of the 1958 Pirates will be the 1959 Pirates who played 432 ball coming from seventh place to second by winning 48 and losing 28 in the last half of the season. I shudder, however, to recall that Milwaukee played 642 ball at the same time!

Texas Loop Wants Waiver On Walks

DALLAS (UPI)—The Texas League has no desire to feud with baseball over its new "automatic intentional walk" for a year, sampling opinions of rule book writers and sports writers periodically should be given a chance for a if will speed up the game and slowness has been one of the main complaints against baseball.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

The Pampa District Golden Gloves boxing tournament opens here Wednesday—and judging from the showing made by Pampa boxers at Berger it should be a great meet.

Thursday night's Lucky Dunham-Kenny Powell fight has been described by area boxing experts as one of the greatest bouts ever held in the Panhandle.

Oren James, Pampa boxing coach, said it was the best fight he had seen in many years, with the possible exception of the Bobby Wilhelm-Hernandez bout.

James checked with the judges and the referee after the fight, and all three agreed that it was one of the Panhandle's classics.

The three officials—Doug Graham, Dean Webb, and Ladell Pugh, have all seen enough boxing to know what they're talking about.

An almost unbelievable number of punches were thrown in that fight, as both boys were in there slinging leather from start to finish. Lesser boxers wouldn't have lasted one round at that pace.

It was a well-earned decision for Dunham, and a great losing effort for Powell. Both boys are from Pampa, but they weren't the least bit buddy-buddy in the ring.

Three KO's in a Row! Wow!

Dunham and Powell will be available for the Pampa District Golden Gloves bouts, along with many other top-notch fighters. The tournament begins Wednesday and continues Thursday and Saturday, at the Optimist Boys' Club.

The Boys' Club is sponsoring the tournament, and Oren James is in charge of advance ticket sales. The tickets may be obtained at James Feed Store or at Richard Drug, or by calling James at 5-5904 or 5-5851.

General admission tickets are $1.25 for Wednesday and Thursday, and $1.50 for Saturday's final. Tournament general admission tickets are $3.

Ringside seats are $1.50 for Wednesday and Thursday, and $2 for the final Saturday. Tournament ringside tickets are $4.

Three of Pampa's big attractions, besides Powell and Dunham, will be Thursday night's knockout artists—Norman Rexroath, Charles Coffee, and James Morse.

These three boys, fighting in the 12th, 13th, and 15th fights of the night, scored three first round knockouts or technical knockouts. The 14th fight did not involve Pampa boxers, so it could be said that Pampa scored three straight first round knockouts.

Coffee and Morse are not known as knockout artists, and the referee did stop their fights before they scored an actual 10 count knockout. However, there's no doubt that both would have flattened their opponents, if the referee hadn't wisely decided to stop the fights, to prevent possible serious injuries.

Rexroath already had quite a reputation as a solid, knockout puncher, and Thursday night's bout didn't exactly detract from his fame.

Stopping three straight opponents in the first round is quite an accomplishment—one you're not likely to see very often.

PD, Plainview Coming Up

In addition to Dunham, Powell, Morse, Coffee, and Rexroath, many other fine Pampa boxers will be in action. Among those who will probably box are the ring-wise Gary Wilhelm, rugged Gary Willis, ferocious Glenn Ward.

Also hard-punching Herman Gelse, aggressive Duke Mills, and the smooth-working Dickie James, as well as many others.

Three nights of fine boxing are in store for Pampa fans.

With their only easy game on the district slate behind them, the Harvesters hit another pair of "meanies" next week—Palo Duro and Plainview. Palo Duro is here Tuesday, and Plainview is here Friday.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The ring's real "golden boy," 34-year-old Jack (Doc) Kearns, has a gold watch today, given him by the Boxing Writers Association for his half-century contributions to color and class that helped boost leather-tossing into a major sport.

There's some debate about who was the greatest all-time fighter; but there's no argument—anywhere—that who was the greatest all-time manager. Kearns will go down in history as king of the ring's brain-guys. Even his severest critics admit that.

The dapper, slender and still springy man who accepted the

Moore Wants Bout With Henry Cooper

NEW YORK (UPI)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, recipient of the Edward J. Neil Trophy for "Fighter of the Year," took a verbal punch at England's Henry Cooper today and offered him $150,000 for a fight in London or anywhere.

Dapper Archie, 42 or 45, said, "I'm dead serious about this. Jack Kearns and I will definitely give Cooper a guarantee of a hundred and fifty grand if he'll fight me. It'll be the first big step in my campaign for another shot at the heavyweight title."

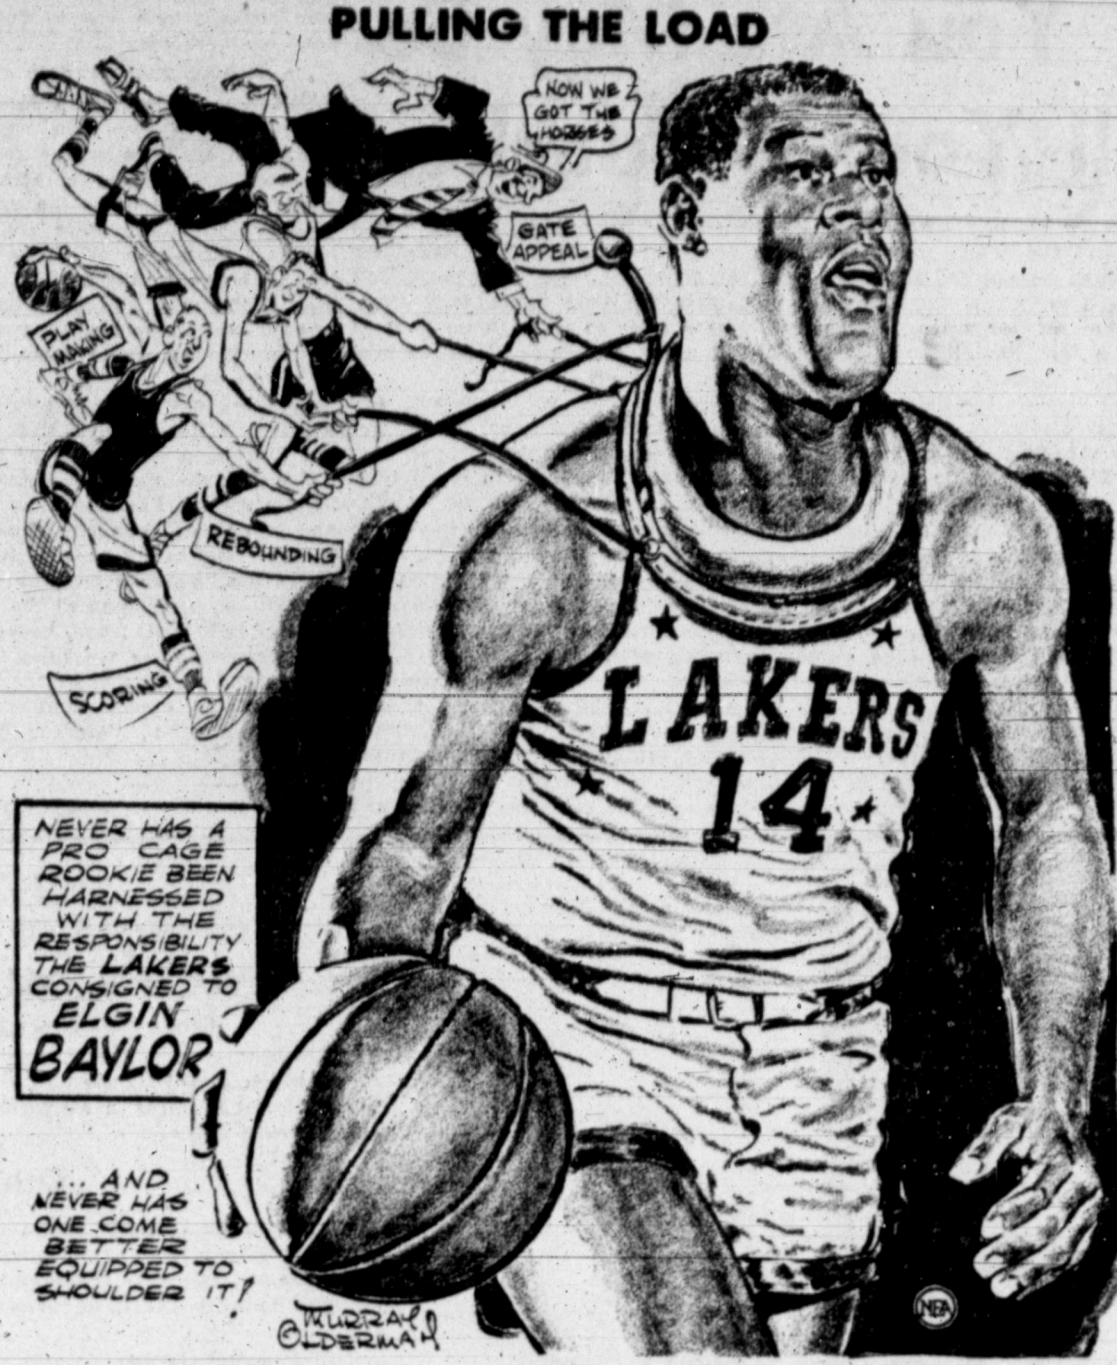

Moore, the ring's all-time knockout king with 127 kayoes, stressed the seriousness of his offer today because at Thursday night's annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Association it seemed that the tuxedoed champion with the Castro whiskerettes might be indulging in whimsy.

After Gene Ward of the New York Daily News, president of the writers association, had presented him with the Neil plaque, Archie said he would offer Cooper $150,000 and would be willing to fight Slingamer Johansson, Sweden's unbeaten European champion, a week after licking Cooper. "And then maybe an American contender."

Lakers' Elgin Baylor Goes On Strike Against Segregation

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Rookie Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers faces possible disciplinary action from National Basketball Association authorities today for his "sit down strike" in protest over the segregation policies of a local hotel.

The 23-year-old ex-University of Seattle All-American sat on the sidelines Friday night as his Minneapolis teammates bowed to the Cincinnati Royals, 95-91. Two other Negro members of the Lakers, Ed Fleming and Boo Eells, played in the game and each scored six points.

Baylor staged his "sit down strike" after he and his two Negro teammates were refused admittance to a local hotel. Baylor, who was involved in a similar segregation incident at Charlotte, N.C., last month, said he had warned Laker owner Bob Short he would not play if he ever was barred from a hotel again for racial reasons.

Coach Johnny Kundla of the Lakers refused to comment about Baylor's action but telephoned a full report on the incident to NBA President Maurice Podoloff in New York. Podoloff called the situation "deplorable" but told United Press International, "I cannot say what action—if any—a league office can take until I have studied the situation completely."

Kundla refused comment. Podoloff explained there were two possibilities of disciplinary action—the Lakers themselves might take and, of course, action by the league president. At 1:30 a.m., e.s.t., a UPI reporter spoke to Kundla, who still refused comment but shook his head sadly when pressed for comment over Baylor's action.

Baylor and all his teammates walked out when the Negroes were barred admittance to the hotel and registered at a nearby Negro motel. Later, a crowd of 2,600 turned out in snow and cold to witness the first regularly-scheduled NBA game ever played in Charleston's new Civic Center. There were no incidents and few in the crowd were aware of the reason Baylor did not play.

A little white boy tagged Baylor and told the 6-foot, 8-inch, 225-pounder, "I'm very disappointed you didn't play."

"Son," said Baylor, "I'm disappointed myself."

Baylor emphasized that he was sure Laker owner Short was unaware of the segregation situation here. Schools in Charleston have been desegregated for four years but American Association baseball clubs regularly house their Negro and white players in different hotels when they stop here.

"They were not even polite at the hotel," said Baylor in recounting the incident to the UPI. "And we had been assured we wouldn't be asked to play in any place where we might run into such situations."

After registering at the Negro motel, some of the Lakers asked where they could eat.

"You won't find any place to eat where everyone on the team can eat," the woman desk clerk told them.

"So we went to a colored restaurant," said Baylor. "It was not a very appealing place. We then went to a nearby store and bought some food and made some sandwiches before we went to the Civic Center."

The Minneapolis players all indicated their support of Baylor by sticking by him at the hotel but some would discuss the incident.

"No comment," said Hot Rod Hundley, an ex-West Virginia University star who tallied 17 points in a losing cause before his hometown folk. Jack Twyman scored 32 points and Med Park made eight of eight free throws in the fourth period to lead the Royals.

A&M RIPS TEXAS, 73-29; RICE NIPS BAYLOR, 46-45

Texas A&M clobbered the University of Texas 73-29 in Southwest Conference action Friday night, while Baylor knifed ahead in the final minutes after losing a strong lead to take a one-point game over Rice, 46-45.

The Aggies completed their slaughter before 8,200 fans, the largest cage crowd ever to attend a game at College Station.

Early in the contest the Cadets tied things at 3-3, but by intermission had piled up double the Longhorns' score, 31-17.

Then as the second half opened the Aggies hit 12 out of 13 shots in the first 10 minutes of play. When the second team took over in the final 10 minutes of the game, the shooting percentage dropped to 80 per cent.

Archie Carroll hit 23 and Wayne Lawrence hit 18 for A&M, but the Aggies' leading scorer, Neil Swisher, was held to 11 points by Billy Davenport.

Only Senior Bobby Puryear, only senior in the Texas starting lineup, led the Longhorns with 10 points.

The Aggies rounded out their domination by sweeping the rebounds, 50 to 29.

A free-throw by Gene McCarley with 43 seconds left to play gave Baylor the game in a mistake-filled contest with Rice, played at Houston.

While taking their third straight conference game, the Bears lost a 10-point lead when they couldn't make a field goal for 13 minutes of the second half. The Owls lost their fourth game in five conference starts when they were unable to capitalize decisively on the Bears' cold spell.

The Bears held Rice's high scoring center, Tom Robitaille, to 12 points with a tight zone defense, but were themselves able to score only four field goals during the entire second half.

Baylor led 31-24 at the half.

TEXAS COACH HUNG IN EFFIGY

AUSTIN (UPI)—Marshall Hughes, basketball coach of the University of Texas Longhorns, who took their latest defeat Friday night at the hands of Texas A&M, was hanged in effigy in front of his school's main building Friday, before the game.

The Longhorns have won only three of 11 games this season. Friday night they were crumpled by the Aggies, 73-29.

Around the effigy's neck hung a sign saying, "For Hughes, Longhorns Lose."

Dean of Student Life Arno Nowotny said he had heard no reports of dissatisfaction, either from students or others, in regard to Hughes' cage record this season.

Hughes has been head coach of the Longhorns since 1956. Last year his team finished with a 10-13 season record.

The effigy was tied about 14 feet above the ground.

Something You Ate May Be Causing All Your Headaches

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The "something you ate" theory of what causes headaches is in new prominence in medical science which is chronically headachy over its failure to produce 100 per cent workable remedies for the most common and most wearing of man's lesser ailments.

Dr. Raymond L. Hilsinger of the University of Cincinnati made the theory attractive to his colleagues by showing how a person a little allergic to a particular food could keep on eating it for years without ever realizing it was responsible for his headaches.

And the man's physician, even though he specialized in allergies, could miss the cause because the skin test for allergies is not always reliable for allergic foods; and besides, the food allergy could exist and still not be detectable by skin test, he said.

What this adds up to is that "the nature of food allergy is poorly understood and incompletely investigated." Let medical science find out more about how any given food can "sensitize" a person either intermittently or in cycles, and it may then come up with the sure-fire answer to a kind of allergic headache which can stay with its victim for life, Hilsinger urged.

React Differently
People who get headaches because of something they ate will react differently to that something at different times. If they haven't eaten the food for a long time, there may be no reaction to it at all because their sensitization to it has worn off.

But if they eat it again, say about four days later, they'll get a lull of a headache because they had been sensitized to it all over again. Maybe five or six months will pass before they have the food a third time. Their sensitive state is wearing away but is not quite gone and so the headache is slight, and they may have only "a feeling of fatigue."

If it is difficult to decide that a food allergy is giving the man his headaches, then it is much more difficult to track down the specific food which is doing it, since he is not dramatically and overwhelmingly allergic to it, the way some people are to cucumbers or tomatoes.

Hebong Nose A Sign
The time to suspect a food allergy is when the man has an itching in his nose or the roof of his mouth; when he is attacked by severe headache in the middle of the night; when there are prolonged flare-ups of headache lasting 18 hours to three days. And also if the man had been having unexplained headaches most of his life, since they would begin early in childhood.

To track down the specific food which is a headache to this man, put him on a basic diet of foods which his chemistry is known to handle without harm to him. Then add other foods one at a time until you come to the one which produces the headache reaction. This should be supplemented by skin tests of individual foods, he added.

Hilsinger's ideas are being widely circulated among medical scientists and physicians by the technical publication, "Modern Medicine."

Peg O' Pampa

WE THOUGHT IT WAS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE that the weather would last so nice and warm, lulling us into a false sense of security concerning winter and then it tears loose with a mean, nasty day like last Thursday was and its aftermath of mud and ruts and messy streets and so forth we wish at times of rain and snow that we had a board stored in the car, for fording the gigantic lakes in gutters down town after getting out of a car, one sometimes has to walk for two blocks to find a place to reach the sidewalk that is, if you are forgetful (to put it kindly) and forget your rain boots.

NEW LIFE IN PAMPA and we don't mean anything except a crop of babies, very interesting to their parents and we hope interesting to you seems Ben and Perne Fallon have a boy Ben Junior we understand born last week let's see, don't they have three children now? and a report on one who has been around for a few weeks, and is doing beautifully, Curt Beck that is, the little baby Curt he's a doll of a child the Bill Ellis' have a new baby boy as do the Ray Brownings out on Williston and while not born in Pampa, a certain young man born in New Mexico is of interest to Ruth and Harvey Nienstiel a new grandson, they are still waiting for a granddaughter but that's the way it is sometimes heard also that Ray and Marcell Hudson have a new baby boy making them two boys and two girls, if we remember correctly, all kinds of little ones coming to Pampa to live.

Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable.
—Mary Baker Eddy

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE just for your perusing do you know where to find the nickel hamburger now-a-days? it's not disappeared it's merely on the end of a toothpick in the canape tray that's also what became of the nickel hot-dog, we're thinking AND WE have come to the conclusion that an adult western is one in which the outlaw turns out to be a good guy after all.

Example is more forcible than precept. People look at me six days a week to see what I mean on the seventh.
—Richard Cecil

RUMORS RUMORS we have heard some nice rumors going around for instance is it true that Charlie Neal Young is going to be married? we are thrilled to hear it indeed heard the lucky guy is George Ghee we think Charlie is very attractive and nice and what's this we've heard about the honeymooning in Honolulu of a certain Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertolind Mrs. Bertolind is the former Margaret Payne but they had a marvelous time on the islands and rumors of another nature while this contest for courteous and nice employees is going on, there have been a few comments on nice BOSSES and apparently some orchids are due to one Mary Lindsay who is a wonderful boss according to the working girls and she has done such nice things as, for instance, whomping up a huge three-layer German chocolate cake and bringing it to the office, the girls and others could purchase a piece of the luscious confection for a donation to the March of Dimes, and other thoughtful and nice things like that it is these little things that make the wheels spin smoothly like going to bat for the employees, and remembering birthdays, and so on and baking goodies for the coffee break let's have a contest for the boss.

A word or a nod from the good, has more weight than the eloquent speeches of others.
—Plutarch

MORE AND MORE about the town heard that the Music Teachers' Association is going to have a fine reception after concert Tuesday night Richard Cass, pianist, is on the program, and if should prove to be an evening of very interesting listening Panhandle Penwomen are meeting in Amarillo that day too, and we expect the members from here to be going Lorene Locke, prexy, and Evelyn Nace and Maisie Pickett, and Marcella Hudson and Helene Huff and so on heard Clyde Oswald bragging about his hunting prowess seems when he goes hunting he leaves a trail of feathers and the birds don't mind him, because he is always careful not to hurt them and speaking of hunting Floy Heath has been out shooting up the shells in her new gun, and she is quoted as saying that she will mount the first quail she bags Bethel Shirley and Madeline Pursley are going to talk to one of the art clubs in Amarillo on copper enameling or some such subject what's this we hear about Ruth Spearman and her daughter, Nina just getting out of Cuba by the skin of their teeth on the first boat to Key West they were in Havana at the time of the fall of the Batista government they then took a plane to Dallas they report that the general atmosphere was of a New Year's celebration and that at midnight in the hotel lobby there was a short pause while the Cuban national anthem was played some excitement, if you like excitement and we do!

ANOTHER LAP and we're almost to the bottom of the page the Ted Herriman's recently had a fine visit with their daughter, Nancy and her family in Oregon and Mrs. Dillman is enjoying her new home at 2234 Mary Ellen hear she has lush white carpeting and some beautiful antique-white furniture sounds wonderful and speaking of new homes, the Bob McCoy's are snug as bugs in a rug in their new home in the 2300 block on Charles it was a fine occasion when Billy Frost blew out the candle on the Senior Citizen's birthday cake the other day we think everybody in Pampa feels a sort of proprietary interest in Billy Thelma Berry is visiting D. C. Houch and her sister, Thelma Branson here hear they're playing lots of bridge and while we are on the subject don't you wish you had the hind-sight or clairvoyance, etc., that those players in the bridge-advice columns have they are always leading the right card, or trumping at the right time, etc. Francis Throatt and Laraine Fite and Pauline Quible drove to Oklahoma City this past weekend guess they saw some snow here will you look at the proud smile Nita Luna has been wearing lately could be that new Cadillac in Georgian Blue don't you think my oh my and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Myatt were vacationing in Colorado recently my word, hope they took their skis along and speaking of us we are of travelers Disneyland was invaded by the W. D. Price, Jr. family Mary and Janie, recently but they have had a fine time there Shirley Rae Wilson left for Fort Worth to visit with her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Phillips and members of the Knife and Fork Club were treated to a very, very interesting history of the development of rockets and missiles very plainly told by Willy Ley saw a beautiful hat on Leone Davies it was visitors night that night, and many, many young people were present to hear the talk don't know when we have heard a speaker who could express himself so plainly, and make clear a complicated subject well, this is just about all for the week see you next time if we are still surviving.

Love,
Peg

Mary Ann Becker, Jerry Ardell Tipton Pledge Nuptial Vows In Central Baptist

Miss Mary Ann Becker, repeated wedding vows with Jerry Ardell Tipton on January 10 at 7:30 p. m. in the Central Baptist Church. Rev. Carroll B. Ray, former pastor now residing in Perryton, performed the double-ring vows amid a setting of floor-baskets of bronze and yellow mums and candelabra holding yellow tapers. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Becker chose peach lace over taffeta with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Tipton wore a brown dress complemented with a tan duster and brown accessories. Their corsages were of white roses.

Friends were received in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the exchange of vows with the bride's chosen colors of bronze and yellow carried out in the table appointments. The five-tiered cake, baked by Mrs. Paul Skidmore, bride's aunt, was decorated with bronze and yellow flowers and served by Mrs. Sheila Lemons Williams, former room mate of the bride at West Texas State College. Mrs. Sally Cahill Smith, also a former roommate of Panhandle.

Among the out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Carroll B. Ray of Perryton; Miss Judy Tipton, Davenport, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Becker and Jan of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ledbetter of State College; Mrs. Sally Cahill Smith, also a former roommate of Panhandle.

Miss McConnell Is Feted With Shower

DECEMBER VOWS TOLD

Mrs. Jerit Neal Wohlford
Miss Frances Elizabeth Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hulin H. Fuller of Canadian, and Jerit Neal Wohlford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Wohlford of San Angelo, were united in marriage on December 20 at five o'clock in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard officiating at the double-ring service. Mrs. Raymond D. Rutherford served her sister as matron of honor. Donald L. Williams of San Angelo, bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. The bridegroom is employed as a petroleum engineer by San Oil Co. Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple are at home at 612 Bradley Drive. (Photo, Call's Studio)

"World Of Ideals" Illustrates Fabric Designs For Civic Culture Club Coffee

Civic Culture Club entertained wardrobes. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. L. Robinson was awarded a beautiful dress-length of material.

The program, consisting of colored slides entitled "World of Ideals" presented through the courtesy of the Consumer Relations Department of Celanese Corp. of America. The slides were projected by Mrs. R. E. Dauer, club president, with narration by Mrs. Emmett Osborne.

"World of Ideals" was filmed as a guided tour through Denmark, Spain, Austria and countries in Asia to illustrate how ancient customs, architecture, and colors of these countries have been translated into fabrics and room settings suitable for American homes.

The film illustrated for guests how the "amusing ceramic bird" typical of the humor which Danish ceramic artists inject into their work, had been accurately copied in a motif on towels and shower curtains to accent the bathroom.

In Spain, wrought-iron gates and chandeliers inspired many beautiful fabric designs. Unique painted wall plaques found in Madrid were interpreted into wall to wall draperies.

The film pointed out that "Austria gave the idea of the 'Salzburg' print, an antique silver framed mirror hanging in a shop in Vienna became a dainty motif for a print, tiny, golden temple bells from Bangkok, an exquisite Sari from New Delhi and an ivory inlaid chess board from Calcutta were the incentives for a versatile fabric, which would be at home in a traditional setting or in a contemporary room."

In concluding narration, Mrs. Osborne pointed out, "As we think of the chess board and the many other articles, which we have seen translated into beautiful fabric design, it probably occurs to us for the first time how much work effort and planning go into the creation of the lovely fabrics we use every day in our homes and

Tillery-Lovinggood Say Nuptial Vows

Wedding vows were pledged by Miss Linda Tillery, daughter of Mr. Aubrey Tillery, 1633 E. Brown, and Dewayne Lovinggood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lovinggood, 128 S. Faulkner, on December 23 at eight o'clock in the Harrah Methodist Church with Rev. Olin Butler performing the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a pale blue suit of wool crepe complemented with a pale blue satin hat with bugle beads and a seed pearl trim. She wore a white carnation corsage and a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Beverly Humphrey served the bride as matron of honor wearing a pale blue sheath with a pink carnation corsage. Jerome Humphrey was best man.

For her step-daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tillery chose a slate gray suit with black accessories and a blue carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lovinggood, wore a navy blue dress with a mauve pink hat and accessories. She wore a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, the bridal couple took a brief wedding trip to Amarillo.

The bride is a senior in Pampa High School and plans to graduate this Spring. The bridegroom graduated from PHS in 1956 and is attending Texas Technological College in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Lovinggood plan to make their home in Pampa.

The club's project for the month was making novelty caps from a wash cloth and bar of soap.

A new member, Mrs. Betty Fletcher was welcomed into the club.

Members present, in addition to those mentioned above were Mrs. M. J. Williams, J. R. Newinger, Bud Holmes and Bob Hanning.

Miss Brooks Feted At Bride's Party

Miss Meredith Brooks, bride-elect of James Parrish, whose marriage will be performed on Jan. 24 in Central Church of Christ, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower given recently in the home of Mrs. C. P. Pursley, 1701 Mary Ellen. Hostesses were Mrs. Weldon Adair and Mrs. Loyse Caldwell.

In the receiving line were the three hostesses, the honoree, Mrs. T. M. Brooks, bride-elect's mother, and Mrs. R. H. Parrish, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The honoree was presented with a corsage of white rose-buds; the mothers wore white gardenia corsages.

Miss Molly Cornutt presided at the guest register. Mmes. Kay Lynn Brooks, Ann Hutchens, and Caroline Bailey provided background music during the evening.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over satin appointed with a wide old standing in front of a silver candelabra holding turquoise tapers. A floral arrangement of turquoise and white was used on the buffet. Napkins were inscribed with "Meredith and Jim."

Mrs. J. T. Cornutt and Mrs. Ervin Pursley presided at the Spiced-Tea service. Mrs. Rex McKay served individual cakes decorated with tinted rosebuds.

Miss Brooks assisted with the serving. Mrs. Ronald Lee James directed guests to the gift room. All members of the houseparty wore white chrysanthemum corsages arranged with turquoise ribbon.

Approximately 100 guests attended or sent gifts.

Arthritis And Birth Defects Included In Future March Of Dimes Research

Mrs. Rufe Jordan, chairman of the Women's Division of the Pampa Chapter of the National Polio Foundation, introduced the film "The Challenge" at the noon luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club on Monday in Pampa Hotel's Pine Room. In introductory remarks Mrs. Jordan brought out the fact that this year, with funds derived from the March of Dimes campaign, that the polio research foundation was going beyond polio suffering to come under the foundation's microscope to study are birth defects and arthritis, two severely crippling diseases, which "cried out for help when the Salk vaccine was perfected." "This year," Mrs. Jordan said, "the foundation has a future goal of 65 million dollars to launch its all-out attack against arthritis, and birth defects."

Mrs. Jordan further stated that there were more polio cases in 1938 than in 1937, because many had not taken the three required shots of the vaccine. She urged each member to have vaccine shots.

The film, illustrating the devastating effects of birth defects and arthritis, was projected by H. V. Prince of the Industrial Relations Department of Cabot Carbon. The program was introduced by Mrs. H. Smith, Altrusa, vocational information chairman.

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, president, presided during the business meeting, which opened with the introduction of the Altrusa Girl-of-the-Month for January, because of her outstanding scholastic and leadership ability in high school. She is captain of the Girls' Volleyball team; president of the Future Nurses Club; member of the student council and during the summer months has worked as a nurse's aide in Highland General Hospital. Miss Eslick's future plans, upon graduation from high school, are based upon the desire to become a nurse. She hopes to be able to attend the Methodist School of Nursing in Lubbock.

Altrusians welcomed Mrs. Jess Clay, introduced by Mrs. Mark Heath, as a new member. Mrs. Jack P. Foster, District Nine vice governor, brought greetings and a report from a recent Altrusa conference she had attended in Chicago. She stated that Altrusa International had requested written reports of the club's two outstanding projects, Senior Citizens and Youth Counseling, to be used in the Altrusa Club's monthly magazine. Minutes from a previous board meeting were read by Mrs. Smith, recording secretary. Mrs. Hobbs announced that new members would be initiated at the evening Jan. 26 meeting under the direction of Mrs. Grant Anderson. She also announced that Mrs. Frank W. Shotwell, Mrs. Roy Kay and Mrs. Marion Osborne had been elected to the executive committee.

ALMOST a "must" ingredient in a green salad is the fresh western pear. It combines with just about any other food.

Versatile Western Pears Are Ideal For Salads

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor Here's a tossed salad that offers many variations. Fresh western pears give the flavor accent. Combine with crisp salad grapefruit segments. Vary the recipe with a few salted nuts for a crunchy quality, or use pineapple or orange segments instead of grapefruit. Or add a few slices of avocado. Certainly the fresh western pear is one of the most versatile fruits known to man. It's difficult to think of any other food that it can't be combined with. These fresh pears are delightful in salads, with seafood, cheeses, meats, poultry, other fruits, either fresh or canned, and vegetables of all types.

Fresh western pears range from the russet-colored Bosc to the green-skinned Anjou.

MATURE PARENT

Nine-year-old Fran came home from skating with her friend Dot sporting a sparkling bead necklace. Asked where she'd got it, she said she'd bought it with some allowance savings. But later her story turned out to be a lie. Dot's mother telephoned to say that the necklace had been charged to her account at a specialty store. She said, "Apparently the kids saw these beads in the window, and Dot wanted to show off by buying them for Fran."

HDC Recreation School In Lefors

LEFORS (Sp) — A Recreation Leadership Training School was held on Wednesday in the civic center, sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of Gray County with Misses O. O. Bishop and A. T. Cobb of the Lefors Club and Mrs. Earl Taylor of the Worthwhile Club in charge of the all-day affair.

Representatives from all other civic clubs and churches of Lefors were invited. Clubs represented were The 20-30 Club, Art and Civic Club, Merten M.D. Club, Worthwhile H.D. Club, Bell H.D. Club, Goodwill H.D. Club, Lefors H.D. Club, and representatives of all churches.

The material presented by the leaders was obtained in Armstrong County at a school taught by Mill Lucille Moore, state extension-service recreation leader. Information taught included games of all kinds, songs, and skits.

A sack lunch brought by each guest was served with coffee furnished by the Lefors Club at the noon hour.

The purpose of the school was to demonstrate forms of recreation to be used in the various clubs and for other types of entertaining. Present were Misses M. L. Rippey, Ray Frazier, Earl Taylor, T. E. Maness, T. G. Groves, Carl Smith, Lester Reynolds, A. M. Dickerson, L. D. Rider, J. L. Lantz, Jack Prather, R. J. Fiehl, A. T. Cobb, Charles Roberts, C. H. ### career girl charge accounts take up to 6 months to pay!

why career girl accounts? here's what it is...

so many girls have said "I wish I had a charge account that I wouldn't have to pay in full each month... I could make monthly payments for my clothes, but it is hard to pay everything out in a month..."

this is exactly the convenience of a career girl account... monthly payment on purchases to fit your budget... you know exactly what you spend each month... this is just another progressive service of Bentley's!

a new and different credit account to use just like a regular charge account, but you have the added benefit of an extension of time granted to you... you need only pay a part of the balance each month instead of the full amount... by paying the proper amount each month you are able to go ahead and make any additional purchases you wish... you can see how simple it is, and the cost is nominal... a small service charge is added based on unpaid balance.

come in tomorrow and let us further explain the advantages of a career girl account

White Elephants Highlight Meeting

Central Baptist Women's Missionary Society met Thursday night for a White Elephant social in connection with Focus Week. The program opened with Mrs. Charles Thomas, who called on a few of the ladies to discuss "why they didn't go to WMS." Mrs. Curtis Liles gave a talk on why she "likes to go to WMS and why everyone should go." Kitchen equipment was used to compare how Christians are measuring up to life.

Numbers were distributed for the white elephant gifts, after which each guest revealed what she had received. Refreshments were served during the social hour. Those attending were Misses Mitchell Phillips, Vern Pendergrass, Sam Bateas, Bob E. D. Gene McClendon, Johnnie Simmons, M. O. # Varietas Study Club Members Hear Crafts And Hobbies Topic Discussed

Varietas Study Club met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. S. C. Evans, 1803 Charles. During the business meeting, Mrs. Joe Weaver, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Dow King, president, as the slate of new officers for 1959-60 were submitted by Mrs. J. C. Doggett, in behalf of the nominating committee.

Unanimously elected by the club to serve during the next club year are Mrs. Cecil Dalton, president; Mrs. H. H. Bratcher, vice president; Mrs. H. W. Hampton, secretary; Mrs. Price Dosier, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Thomas, reporter; Mrs. Luther Pierson, library chairman.

To open the business meeting, Mrs. Price Dosier gave a thought for the Day entitled, "Prayer for the Middle-aged." Mrs. Weaver welcomed two new members, Mrs. C. D. Drew and Mrs. P. E. Yarbrough. Mrs. Otis Nace reported on the Christmas box sent by the club to the Wichita Falls mental hospital. Mrs. H. W. Hampton gave a report from the Club Woman magazine.

Mrs. Doggett and Mrs. Weaver presented the afternoon's program on "Crafts and Hobbies." To open her portion of the program, Mrs. Doggett expressed the theme "The Value of Things is the Peace of Mind it Gives You."

"There is a difference," she said, "in crafts and hobbies. Craft is best defined as a trade or work requiring a special skill while a hobby doesn't necessarily take great skill, but is more of something a person especially likes to work at, or study in spare time."

"In early America, crafts were an essential part of everyday living and had a definite purpose. It was necessary for survival, as only a few could import their furnishings. After their first year's work, their imagination and creative expressions were stimulated. In the 1700's craftsmen developed simplicity and sturdiness in wood, silver, pewter and glass products that were distinctly American."

"The early Americans," she continued, "did all this along with spinning and weaving of cloth, because there was a need for it and helped to make America what it is today. What with the coming of mass production, shorter hours, smaller families and more leisure time, the hobby became a part of every day living."

"There are four general classes of hobbies," Mrs. Doggett pointed out, "doing things, collecting, making things, studying or learning about things. People take up hobbies because it brings happiness, friendships, knowledge and relaxation; promotes mental and physical health and even wealth; also, valuable inventions come from hobbies. In conclusion, Mrs. Doggett advised, "Select a hobby which holds your interest and use your abilities, but the greatest gift we can make to our loved ones is the gift of ourselves."

Mrs. Weaver continued the program with the discussion of hobbies. "Many hobbies have given pleasure to me," she said, "but the greatest is gardening, which gives satisfaction and peace of mind. It gives a zest for life, vitality that crowds out the disagreeable to make room for the love of mankind; for the soil is older than recorded history. Doctors recommend gardening to restore health."

"To own a plot of land; to plant seeds and watch the renewal of life is the most common delight of the human race and the most satisfying that man can do."

Mrs. Weaver compared the soul of man to gardening: "Did you know each life is a garden and we must sow as the days go by, seeds for a future harvest to be gathered with a smile or a sigh. What is the soil of your garden? Is it fertile, or stony and old? Will it bring forth the thorn or the thistle or the grain of a thousand fold? Have we done the best we can about sowing that marvelous seed of love, love for both God and man? Then know that life is a garden and you sow as the days go by, seeds for a future harvest to be gathered with smiles or a sigh: So, make yourself a garden as far as you can, though you work never alone. Perchance whose plot is next to think; will see it and mend his own."

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program from a table covered with a floor-length cloth of pink net, sprinkled with sequins and centered with pink compote filled with a floral and fruit arrangement.

Attending were Messrs. Otis Nace, C. L. Kenney, Luther Pierson, H. H. Bratcher, Price Dosier, J. G. Doggett, Jim Hopkins, Ralph Thomas, H. H. Butler, Joe Weaver, R. W. Lane, W. A. Waggoner, Sherman White, J. R. Spearman, Cecil Dalton and the two new members, Mrs. C. D. Drew and Mrs. P. E. Yarbrough.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. Those attending were Messrs. Roy Bourland, Bob Curry, Joe M. Daniel Jr., E. J. Dungan, Jr., H. C. Federer Jr., William T. Fraser, R. G. Hughes, Homer D. Johnson, W. Calvin Jones, Frank Kelley, D. M. Lawrence, John B. McCrery, Henry J. Rose, Aubrey Steele, Felix J. Vendrell, C. V. Wilkinson, and J. R. Holloway.

Discussion Of Art, 'Bits From Fitz,' Program For Twentieth Century Forum

"Bits From Fitz" was the program topic presented by Mrs. H. C. Federer Jr. and Mrs. Aubrey Steele at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Twentieth Century Forum Club in the home of Mrs. Arthur Teed.

Following a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. W. Calvin Jones, president, Mrs. Federer in her opening remarks told the club that "we are most fortunate here in the Golden Spread to have an artist among us like 'Dor' Fitz. First, Mr. Fitz says we must become aware! Aware of shape and color. Perhaps, it hadn't occurred to you that as you apply your makeup you are merely dividing areas into shapes; the furniture in your home divides areas and makes up part of what is space. Space must be in order just as chords of music are in order and it is a result of combination. "Nature divides space into shapes with hills, lakes, shadows, and trees," she continued. "Even the flattest prairie is made of hundreds of shapes. A key to successful living is awareness. Everyone is endowed with a high degree of awareness, for all children seem to have it in quantity. Most adults have lost this birthright in varying degrees depending on how much they have exercised it. Mr. Fitz has been teaching classes in the Panhandle for a number of years and has attempted to create this sense of awareness in all of his students."

Mrs. Federer said that she felt that Mr. Fitz was a teacher with a mission . . . "trying to help people to better enjoy or appreciate the things we live with."

Mrs. Steele added that Mr. Fitz was arousing his students to "think beyond your ability to do. This helps, he believes, his students to believe that all the fundamentals of art given to a class will sometime add up and one might be able to really paint knowingly."

Mrs. Steele pointed out, "to understand an abstract painting most of us must forget what it is. If you are sensitive to color, just see if the colors appeal to you; or if the lines are interesting . . . do they remind you of something . . . or is there an oriental feeling of color?"

"If we just let ourselves enjoy the sensation of color and line," she said, "we may learn to enjoy abstract art. We seldom completely understand those who are members of our families. We may live a lifetime without ever knowing the deepest feelings and desires of those we love dearly. Why should we feel exasperated and be ignorant over not understanding this type of expression?"

Mrs. Federer and Mrs. Steele exhibited some of their classroom problems, showing the different steps that a beginner goes through before one can really understand painting.

An abstract painting by Charles Bunnell was exhibited. It was announced that Mr. Fitz is bringing several top-selling paintings to conduct classes and discussions with his students in February.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. Those attending were Messrs. Roy Bourland, Bob Curry, Joe M. Daniel Jr., E. J. Dungan, Jr., H. C. Federer Jr., William T. Fraser, R. G. Hughes, Homer D. Johnson, W. Calvin Jones, Frank Kelley, D. M. Lawrence, John B. McCrery, Henry J. Rose, Aubrey Steele, Felix J. Vendrell, C. V. Wilkinson, and J. R. Holloway.

Glowing Cross Dramatizes Devotional At First Christian Sharp Group Meet

A glowing cross in a darkened room emphasized the devotional, "The Light of Life" given by Mrs. George Taylor at the Monday evening meeting of the Sharp Group of the First Christian Church. Members met in the home of Mrs. L. C. Wassell.

Mrs. Crystal Crow presented the program on South America.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Walton Bailey, newly named leader of the group for 1959, members elected to continue with the Hazel Green Academy project for the year; members also decided to make toys for the church nursery during the year.

Mrs. Bailey reminded members of the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting to be held on Jan. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. John Gill, CWF president, urged members to attend. Mrs. Bailey also reminded the group to bring General Mills coupons to the church for stainless steel flatware for the church kitchen. Members were urged to cooperate with the church kitchen cleanup, the date to be announced later.

Yearbooks were distributed after which corrections and changes were made.

Mrs. G. W. Vance volunteered to replace Mrs. L. L. Lockhart as telephone chairman; Mrs. C. C. Dunham was named to the banquet committee; and Mrs. K. L. Green replaced Mrs. Leon Howell as card chairman.

Following the business meeting, the group presented Mrs. Green with a gift of appreciation for her service as group leader last year. The meeting closed with the group repetition of the CWF benediction.

Refreshments of coffee, hot chocolate, and apple pudding were served to members, Messrs. Cecil Deist, Burl Graham, Norman Schale, Leon Howell, O. H. Odum, Walton Bailey, John Gill, C. C. Dunham, Crystal Crow, George Taylor, L. C. Wassell, Robert Trampe, Don Meador, Lloyd Laramore, G. W. Vance, E. K. Haner and K. L. Green.

It was announced that the next meeting for the group will be with Mrs. Walton Bailey, 2115 Chestnut, on Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When I knew her she'd just divorced her husband. At first you were charmed by her good looks, her flawless grooming. Then you began to note that she couldn't sit in your living room without recommending new furniture arrangements.

If you mentioned your family, she felt at once obliged to remind you that her grandfather had been a British general. If you spoke of religion, you immediately learned that hers was better than yours because it studied all religions. When her alimony was late, she'd say intensely of her son, "I always tell Eddie I'm his only real friend."

And on those occasions when she wasn't letting you know that her background and tastes were superior to yours, she expounded endlessly on Eddie's superior brains, wit and prospects.

So when Eddie got bounced out of prep school for insubordination, she said, "He just couldn't take the type of boys he was forced to associate with."

Her need to glorify herself was so compelled that Eddie was spared all contact with reality.

Recently, a mutual acquaintance met Eddie stumbling out of a cheap bar, a shabby, middle-aged man lost in the alcoholic haze he obviously needs to tranquilize the pain of many other humiliations and restore his mother's image of his grandness.

I have a letter from a mother who may be in danger of strait-jacketing her child in another kind of parent-glorifying image.

She writes, "Last year in a school play my 13-year-old girl acted the lead so brilliantly that our local paper mentioned her. This year she's given one line to speak in another play. I've advised her to turn it down. Don't you agree that this is the self-respecting thing for her to do?"

"No, I just think it's a self-glorifying thing for her mother to tell her to do."

Your daughter's school, madam, has faced you with the possibility that her dramatic talent is ordinary, not superior. Why is this so objectionable to you? Why can't you just let your daughter twinkle modestly in her school play instead of blazing above everybody else?

Why is your child only self-respecting when she demonstrates her superiority to other people's children?

Lutheran Ladies Name Officers

PERRYTON (Sp) - Ladies Aid of the Lutheran church elected officers for the coming year at the regular meeting, held Monday in the Sunday School building. The Rev. H. E. Driessner, pastor opened the meeting with scripture reading followed by prayer.

The lesson topic discussed for the afternoon was "Benevolent Institutions of the Lutheran Church."

Officers elected during the business meeting were Mrs. Leo Hill, president; Mrs. Sid Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Roland Shearer, secretary; Mrs. R. H. St. Aubyn, treasurer and Mrs. James Miller, reporter. Mrs. B. M. Ray was welcomed as a new member.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Leo Hill.

Other members present beside the ones mentioned above were Mrs. Marvin Lindsay and W. H. Jennrich.

Bridge Club Tells Week's Winners

Pampa Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening in St. Matthew's Episcopal Parish Hall with nine tables playing the Mitchell Movement.

Top scorers in north-south positions were Messrs. Haskell McGuire and P. V. Rowe, first; Messrs. Louis Burns and Greeley Warm-Hendricks, third.

Winners in the east-west positions were Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Williams; first; Messrs. A. T. Parson and Lorena McNaughton, second; and Mrs. P. V. Rowe and Bill Craig, third.

The club extends an invitation to bridge players to join the bridge sessions held weekly on Mondays at 7:30 in the parish hall.

Rockefeller And Pulitzer Dynasty Topic For Twentieth Century Cotillion Program

Twentieth Century Cotillion Study Club met with Mrs. Don Morrison, 2101 Christine, on Tuesday afternoon for a program presented by Mrs. N. J. Ellis and Mrs. Bob Price.

Mrs. Ellis gave an account of the life of Joseph Pulitzer and his son. She reported that "Joseph Pulitzer was born in Budapest, Hungary of a Jewish father and an Austro-German mother. In the 1860's, he came to St. Louis, a penniless adventurer. He studied the bar, was naturalized and became a reporter on a newspaper. Within five years, he was a managing editor and owned stock in the paper. Soon he had purchased and merged two St. Louis papers; thus, founding the Post-Dispatch."

Mrs. Ellis' report continued, "Though he had gained money and power, he had lost his sight and good health. He worried, not because of death, but because he feared his newspaper dynasty would fall to his three sons, who had been reared as millionaire's sons. Often sons of great men seemingly lack luster in comparison to the brilliance and renown of their sires. This is quite untrue in the case of J. P. Jr. He has maintained in flourishing style, his inheritance of the newspaper dynasty."

In reporting on the lives of the Rockefeller's, Mrs. Price began with the Rockefeller family in the year 1836. "John D. Rockefeller was 97 years of age," she reported, "and was worth approximately a billion and a half dollars, and in 1937 was laid to rest in Cleveland, Ohio."

"To the Rockefeller's, wealth is something you spend on society. John D. believed it a man's duty to get all the money he honestly can and to give all he can. This family's influence touches us all more than we suspect. Few people or libraries know of library gifts to Geneva and Tokyo; much less to the Library of Congress."

Her account continued, "The Rockefeller's were devout people. Their lives revolved around morning Bible reading, weekly prayer meetings and sessions.

"John D. Jr. was a great lover for the outdoors. For America, this resulted in some National Parks: Maine's Mr. Desert Island, The Shenandoah, The Great Smoky Mountains, the Great Tetons and California's 3,000 year-old Redwoods."

"John D. Jr. had one daughter and five sons; the daughter being a silent partner in the business. Each son had his own primary interests both in business and in private life, ranging from Rockefeller Foundation's to rockets. The Rockefeller's are like a solar system. Each one is a planet, but cannot get away from the pull of the system."

"John D. Jr. was very conservative in money matters with his five sons and one daughter. At Christmas-time, there were always inexpensive gifts exchanged. They only had one tricycle among them; they kept detailed records for their weekly allowance of 25 cents and set aside 10 per cent for church and charity and another 10 per cent for savings."

"In continuing with the Rockefeller account, Mrs. Price said, "The Rockefeller fortune, based on petroleum and boomed by the motor car, is the creation of one individual, the late John D. Sr."

"John D. Jr. once told the fathers of Princeton undergraduates that just about the best thing a man could do was to give society a fine son. He, himself, had given five: impulsive Nelson, inventive Lawrence, fun-loving Winthrop, and serious, studious David. Each of whom in his own way is out saving the world somewhere."

Members present were Messrs. Weldon Adair, Alvin Agan, Gene Barber, Thelma Bray, Bill Caffey, Cleo Coffey Jr., Jim Campbell, N. J. Ellis, Harbard Cox, James Gallemore, J. E. Maguire Jr., Ralph McKinney, Bob Price, Dale Thut, Jack White and Don Morrison.

YOU and YOUR HOME

by Jack Foster

MADE FOR EACH OTHER

Which comes first in planning a room, the background or the furniture? We are asked this question very frequently. Our answer is, usually—the furniture. Why? Because if you are starting from scratch, chances are you'll decide on a particular style of furniture and build a suitable background around it. Or, if you already have furnishings, there will always be some pieces that you feel you must get along with, and/or others that you cherish for sentimental reasons and want to keep. Often these set the mood and tone of the room and suggest the background. This was the case in the provincial dining room sketched above. The lovely maple drop-leaf table, an heirloom, was used as a starting point. To this was added the open hutch, chairs, and server all maple—all faithful reproductions of tried-and-true favorites. Then green was chosen for the dominant background color to play up the burnished beauty of the maple pieces. The painted dado (soft green) was topped by a small print provincial wallpaper that repeats the rich tones of green and yellow in the braided rug. Here is a room where the background and furnishings were literally made for each other.

BEGINNING: No Nonsense Diet

'Fight Against Fat Must Start In Teens'

Advices Expert In First Of Diet Series

The foundation for obesity is often laid in childhood.

Editor's Note: There's no nonsense about losing weight, a realistic, sensible, and attractive to men, young men, and attractive to women. But excess fat on their growing bodies defeats them. Often it results in emotional frustration. It indicates they may be fat when they're adults, also. That is why prevention of overweight in boys and girls in their school years is so important in the life-long battle against obesity.

Research shows that most fat children were not overweight at birth, even though they were born to fat parents. They grew fat, in most cases, simply because as infants they were taught and encouraged to eat more calories than they needed.

The foundation for obesity is often laid in early childhood, according to Dr. W. H. Sebrell Jr., director of Columbia University's Institute of Nutritional Sciences. "In spite of the doctor's advice, MIAMI (Sp) — In a Winter Wonderland setting in the Miami High School gymnasium, decorated with white streamers and "snowflakes," Future Homemakers of America Chapter held its annual presentation program with Phil Phillips and his orchestra from Amarillo furnishing the music for dancing.

Willis Clark, master of ceremonies introduced each girl and her escort as they came through a "snow" covered arch. Snow covered evergreens and a "merry" garden bench completed the setting.

FHA members and their escorts presented were:

Miss Barbara Holland, president, wearing a floor length orchid net trimmed in ribbon of the same color, was escorted by Wiley Bailey.

Miss Kathy Harris, vice president, wearing a gold metallic and white, was escorted by Jimmie Seitz.

Miss Sue Clark, secretary, dressed in a pink tiered nylon with black lace edging, was escorted by Gerald Anderson.

Miss Jennie Mathers, treasurer, wearing a floor length white primers style taffeta, was escorted by Toby Cunningham.

Miss Carol Looper, parliamentarian, wearing a waltz length orchid taffeta was escorted by John South.

Miss Glynda Dodson, historian, wearing white net and taffeta was escorted by Tommy Holla.

Miss Kay Arrington, reporter, wearing a floor length dress of white satin and lace, was escorted by Theo Mayo.

Miss Joan Bryant, in a floor-length formal of deep coral net and lace was escorted by Billy Lead.

Miss Sarah Ellzey, wearing a white nylon ballerina length formal, was escorted by Cesarille Christopher.

Miss Verna Bridwell, in champagne satin, was escorted by Larry Rogers.

Miss Karen Lyons, wearing a white and orange embroidered organza was escorted by Scotty Daugherty.

Miss Annette Hays, wearing lavender embroidered lace was escorted by James Strahan.

Miss Glenda Lari, wearing blue lace over taffeta was escorted by Bob Williams.

Miss Holland presented the chapter mothers. Mrs. Willis Clark and Mrs. W. R. Holland, with a corsage. She announced that Larry Rogers had been chosen FHA Sweetheart and presented him with an identification bracelet.

Approximately 200 people attended this affair.

"Once the teen-ager has been reduced to his normal weight for his age and height, then convince him of the lifelong importance of sound eating habits. The rewards in vigor and good looks will encourage him. So will the promise that, in all likelihood, good eating habits established in youth will mean that as an adult he will avoid unsightly and unbecoming obesity," Dr. Sebrell stated. "Fatness, whether in a child or an adult, is a definite sign of malnutrition and bad for health," he concluded.

RUTH MILLETT

Did you ever notice that — The most popular household in the neighborhood, so far as the small fry are concerned, is never presided over by the neighborhood's most perfect housekeeper? The women who talk the most usually have the least to say? There seems to be little relationship between how beautiful a wife is and how attentive her own husband is? Spur-of-the-moment parties are often more fun, than the most elaborately planned ones? The women who have the most friends do the least gossiping? Husbands who try the hardest to please their mates often have the most discontented wives? The shyest of men can be taken in by a woman who couldn't fool even a stupid woman for five minutes? The size and beauty of a home is no indication that it is necessarily a happy one? The women that men regard as intelligent conversationalists are actually good listeners? A girl's popularity with boys depends more on her self-confidence than on her looks? A woman gets more real admiration from other women for keeping her figure than for any other single accomplishment? The man who is always the life of the party usually has a bored-looking wife? The men other women regard as "the nicest men" they know are often married to the most demanding women? Men in their 40s and 50s often have younger interests than men in their late 20s and 30s? The hostess who isn't afraid to have one or two good-looking unmarried women at her parties never has to worry about the men sneaking off from the women to be by themselves?

Bible Study Led By Mrs. Pettifils

Circle Six of the First Methodist Church met in the church parlor recently for new study on "Leah" conducted by Mrs. Arnold Pettifils, study leader.

Mrs. R. P. Hunt opened the meeting with prayer and conducted a brief business meeting. Mrs. Coy Palmer gave the devotional. Hostesses during the evening were Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Donald Nantel. Mrs. Jack Dodd and Mrs. Verie Downey were welcomed as guests.

It was announced that hostesses for the Jan. 26 meeting will be Mrs. Otis Petty and Mrs. C. F. Richardson.

Members present other than those listed above were: Mmes. John Brewer, Weldon Carter, Don Duggan, R. H. Dyson, J. D. Kenworthy, Fred Martin, Opal Lee Shelton, James Smithers, Bill Stephens, George Whitten and Bill Tate.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who has one more year of college left. I'm in love with a reliable boy who has already graduated. He wants to marry me when I graduate but my parents object to him for a reason he cannot help. He has diabetes. He explained that his diabetes is "under control" but my parents think I am taking a big risk by marrying a diabetic. They tell me I will be a "diet cook" and a "nurse" for the rest of my life. I love this boy, Abby. What can I do?

washing her hair every single night. We've had many heated arguments over this, but she won't listen to me. If you feel as I do that it is not good for the hair to be washed every night, I wish you would say something about it in your column. Maybe you can convince her.

UPSET: Your parents should have a long talk with the boy's doctor to find out how severe his case is. Diabetes can be "controlled." When your parents know more about it they will be less prejudiced.

EXHAUSTED MOM: Expert hairdressers agree that excessive shampooing can be harmful to the hair. Don't work yourself up into a lather every night and I advise your daughter to follow the same advice.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 1936 nickel. Could you please tell me how much it's worth?

CONFIDENTIAL TO MINNESOTA MAX: You are getting what is commonly known as the original "Mason-Dixon Line." Don't trip on it.

DEAR WILBUR: Five cents.

DEAR ABBY: At Christmas time my husband's boss gave our five-year-old boy a puppy. I know nothing about training dogs and my husband travels so he's no help. This gift has been more trouble and expense than it's worth. He's spotted my carpet and is leeching on the legs of my dining room chairs. My husband is afraid if we give it away his boss might find out. To make matters worse, our son is getting attached to this puppy. I wish you'd tell us what to do. Also, put this in the paper to wake up folks who mean well but cause others headaches by giving them a gift they can't refuse but find almost impossible to keep.

DEAR STUCK: If you don't know how to train or care for a pet, either take the trouble to learn — or give the pet to someone who will. Living creatures should be given only to those who sincerely want them and will care for them properly. People should think twice before giving away puppies and kittens. This goes for baby chicks and rabbits at Easter, too.

KIWANIS COMMITTEES SET FOR THE YEAR

The Pampa Noon Kiwanis Club viewed film slides of the Panama Canal Zone and heard a narration on the colored slides by Nick Chunko, Navy Recruiter here at their regular weekly luncheon Friday.

Thirty-six Kiwanians volunteered for duty with the March of Dimes "Bucket Brigade," to be held on Saturday, Jan. 31. Teams of four men each will work for one hour in the fund raising drive against polio.

Kiwanians were issued tickets to sell Friday for the upcoming basketball attraction which will match the Phillips 66 Oilers against West Texas State College in Harvester Field House here Feb. 7. A preliminary event will send the famed Wayland College Flying Queens against Clarendon Junior College's Comets.

Tickets are available from each Kiwanian and reserved seats will be sold at Richard Drug.

It was pointed out at the Friday meeting that four local Kiwanians, Ed Vicars, Malcolm Denson, Dale Stone and E. B. Bowman made an official visit to the recently formed Perryton Kiwanis Club, which now boasts of 45 members.

Ray, William West, secretary of the club also released the complete committee membership lists for the civic organizations in functioning units.

They include:

Richard Cass Will Play Here Tuesday

Pianist Richard Cass, one of the rising young stars on the American musical scene, will play in Pampa Tuesday under the auspices of the Pampa Community Concert Association. C.C. President Dr. Carl Lang has announced that Cass will appear in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

Cass, a young pianist from Greenville, S.C., rocketed into the national spotlight five years ago when he won the Twentieth Biennial Young Artist Auditions of the National Federation of Music Clubs and went on to win international honors in two years of study abroad.

It was in New York's Town Hall on April 11, 1953, that Cass, then only 21, was selected from a large field of outstanding young artists from all over the United States for the Federation's coveted honor in these famous competitions that for 40 years have been bringing to the fore the best in native American musical talent.

On the same day, the artist was offered a contract for a concert representation by Columbia Artists Management Inc.

A second honor followed hard on the heels of the first one. Cass was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship for study abroad. Although the judges of the Federation contest and his managers felt that he was ready for a concert career, and engagements for his first tour were already flowing in, Cass preferred to take advantage of this signal opportunity to broaden the base of his musicianship and to deepen the understanding of his art. The Fulbright Scholarship was renewed for a second year, and the artist spent two seasons at the Ecole Normale de Musique where his pianistic artistry won the approval of such great musicians and teachers as Jules Gentil, Nadia Boulanger and Alfred Cortot.

In Europe, the young artist quickly added fresh laurels to his fast-growing reputation. He soon won his "licence de concert" at the Ecole Normale and, as a result, was presented in his Paris debut recital. It was a highly successful event. The great French master, Alfred Cortot, who had taken an active interest in the young American, was moved to write that he considered Richard Cass a "remarkable young pianist" and to predict a great future for him.

Cass took another step up the ladder of fame when he was chosen a winner in the Viotti International Contest in Verreili, Italy, where he competed with young musical representatives from 18 countries all over the world. While in Europe, he filled many professional engagements, including recitals in such cities as Bordeaux, Rheims, Bourges, Poitiers and Cannes in addition to Paris, and broadcast performances over the facilities of radio Paris and Radio Bordeaux.

In the summer of 1955, Cass returned home to open his first nationwide concert tour. His first engagements were both with orchestra and both re-engagements. In July he appeared as a soloist with the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra under Walter Hendl and a month later with the Pennsylvania Orchestra at the Brevard Festival. According to the critic of the Daily Chautauquan, "Richard Cass returned to Chautauqua in glory and added another cubit to his musical

BINDING—This is the official badge for North Africa's newest self-governing nation—Northern Nigeria. Called the Northern Knot, it will appear on official documents, robes of office and government property of the former British possession starting in March, 1959.

Influence From '1313'

We have long held that however big and powerful our federal government becomes, the danger from socialism is locally grown and nourished. It is, of course, true that some discover enormous amounts of socialism in the federal government. The District of Columbia reeks with centralism and collectivism of every known variety.

But the real bedrock of this house growth will inevitably be found in local communities. And therefore, it was without surprise that we found an article in the December edition of "The Greater Nebraskan" which pinpoints the issue and reveals that centralism has made its greatest and centralizing great numbers of small communities around the nation actually have a central office where the programs are drafted and implemented.

The article to which we refer is called, "The Story of 1313." Presumably, it is written by George Thomas, the publisher of the magazine and the executive director of the Congress of Freedom.

He says, in part:

"In a building now becoming well-known as 1313 in Chicago, there today exists a beehive of organizations working feverishly to secure the elimination of elective and representative government at the local and state level in the United States."

"The building known as '1313' is located on the campus of the University of Chicago at 1313 East 60th Street. It is the home of some twenty-two organizations, staffed with so-called social science 'experts.' These might well be described as the 'visible departments' of the invisible regional government."

"The names of the twenty-two organizations, whose operations are financed by tax-free billionaire foundations, are as follows:

"American Committee for International Municipal Cooperation; American Municipal Association; American Public Works Association; American Public Works Association; American Society for Public Administration; American Society of Planning Officials; Conference of Chief Justices; Council of State Governments; Federation of Tax Administrators; Governor's Conference; International City Managers Association; Interstate Clearing House on Mental Health; Municipal Finance Officers Association; National Association of Assessing Officers; National Association of Attorneys General; National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials; National Legislative Conference; National Association of State Budget Officers; National Association of State Purchasing Officials; National Institute of Municipal Clerks; Public Personnel Association; Public Administration Service."

The article goes on to point out that the main project to which all of these various organizations are dedicated is the establishment of "home rule" in various cities and counties across the nation. At present they are concentrating on a merger of the city of Chicago with the six counties in and about the tip of Lake Michigan in Illinois.

Their greatest achievement to date, according to this article, was the establishment of "Metro" in Dade County, Florida, which has resulted in the emergence of a virtual dictator for all urban affairs in and around this nation's southernmost metropolis.

"The Greater Nebraskan" quotes Harry T. Quinn, executive director of the Dade County Research Foundation, which was organized to carry on the propaganda which resulted in the merging of some 26 municipalities in the area with the county of Dade.

"The new government will be of the commission-manager type. All department heads, except the county attorney, will be appointed by the manager, who will also have power to appoint and remove... all other administrative employees of the county. The board (of county commissioners—the only elected officers of the county government save the county attorney) and its members are specifically prohibited from directing or requesting the appointment or removal of any employees... A number of county offices, heretofore elective, are to be abolished as a result of the merger. Their functions are transferred to the manager. These include the offices of county assessor, tax collector, surveyor, planning agent, and supervisor of registration..."

It would appear that the move to centralize power and to remove what little resistance is left in the voters is going to receive considerable emphasis before 1959 has run its course.

There's a curious bit of reasoning going the rounds these days. It is to the effect that if we want better teachers in our schools, we must pay the ones we have more money. This same sophistry is being repeated locally in our police and fire departments. If we want better policemen and better firemen, we must arrange higher taxes so that the ones we have can get more money.

It would seem, almost, that the advocates of higher taxes have it in mind that teachers, policemen and firemen are paid on a commission basis in relationship to the end product they produce, which is simply not so.

And since there is no movement under foot to fire all existing teachers, policemen and firemen so that they can be replaced by men and women of competence who demand higher pay, we marvel at the syllogism which seems so logical in the minds of so many.

It goes like this: 1. If you want the best, you must pay a high price. 2. What you are paying now, however high, is not high enough. 3. Therefore, to improve the teaching, law enforcement and fire fighting proclivities of our government professionals, we must pay them more.

Is this not a tacit admission that those who are presently so employed are only doing a halfhearted job? Isn't this move a bland admission that untapped resources for excellence lie buried in the laps of our professionals which excellence can only be stimulated by the sight of larger sums of money?

This entirely fallacious syllogism is comparable in every way to the manner in which many of our unformed populace conduct their shopping expeditions. Since they have no means of determining true merit, taste and discrimination, never having been taught, them they judge the excellence of a product by the amount of money they are asked to pay for it.

Money Ability

Two sacks of sugar, side by side on the shelf, one priced at $1.00, the other at $1.10, will almost inevitably bring the reaction: "I wanted the best; therefore, I bought the sack that cost $1.10." As tho that had anything to do with it, necessarily.

The supposition is that price creates quality, rather than that quality assists in determining price. Having put the cart before the horse, the shopper is fair game for any exploiter who simply has to raise his prices and flunk the raise with a sales talk, and the purchaser finds himself buying "Quality" merchandise, marked "Down" from $1.99 to $2.37.

If we apply this same exposure to the teaching, policing and fire fighting professions we come up with the same result. Money does not produce excellence; rather, it is excellence that tends toward creating an adequate monetary reward.

Thus, if we examine our schools, our policing, and our fire guard, in fact, it simply serves to determine the extent of a man's lack of ambition. Rather, the man or woman of ability would find ample opportunities for demonstrating ability, having that ability recognized and thus advancing rapidly in direct ratio as he delivered the goods.

There is no way within the political structure to permit the laws of the free market to act. Therefore, if our professionals fancy that they are being underpaid, they have a clear course of action before them. They have only to resign and enter some field of endeavor in the free market where ability is rewarded with comparable pay. The matter can never be decided by the force of tax collections. For under government control, the worthy and the unworthy will always be rewarded equally. And a raise in pay will produce no excellence at all.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOULES
Morals and the Welfare State

No. 4
Here is the continuation of F. A. Harper's essay on "Morals and the Welfare State." Under the heading of "To Steal Or Not To Steal," he writes:

"As a means of specifically verifying my impression about the basic, intuitive morality of persons, I would pose this test of three questions:

"1. Would you steal your neighbor's cow to provide or a known present need? Would you steal it for any need reasonably within your expectation or comprehension? It should be remembered that, instead of stealing his cow, you may explore with your neighbor the possible solution to your case of need; you might arrange to do some sort of work for him, or to borrow from him for later repayment, or perhaps even plead with him for an outright gift.

"2. Would you steal your neighbor's cow to provide for a known case of another neighbor's need?

"3. Would you try to induce a third party to do the stealing of the cow, to be given to this needy neighbor? And do you believe that you would likely succeed in inducing him to engage in the theft?"

"I believe that the almost universal answer to all these questions would be 'No.' Yet the facts of the case are that all of us are participating in theft every day. How? By supporting the actions of the collective agent which does the stealing as part of the Welfare State program, already far advanced in the United States. By this device, Peter is robbed to 'benefit' Paul, with the acquiescence if not the active support of all of us taxpayers and citizens. We not only participate in the stealing—and share in the division of the loot—but as its victims, we also meekly submit to the thievery.

"A Confusing Process"

"Isn't it a strange thing that if you select any three fundamentally moral persons and combine them into a collective for the doing of good, they are liable at once to become three immoral persons in their collective activities? The moral principles which which they seem to be intuitively endowed are somehow lost in the confusing processes of the collective. None of the three would steal the cow from one of his fellow members as an individual, but collectively they all steal cows from each other. The reason is, I believe, that the Welfare State—a confusing collective device which is believed by many to be moral and righteous—has been falsely labeled. This false label has caused the belief that the Welfare State can do no wrong, that it cannot commit immoral acts, especially if those acts are approved or tolerated by more than half of the people, 'democratically.'

"This sidetracking of moral conduct is like the belief of an earlier day: The king can do no wrong. In its place we have now substituted this belief: The majority can do no wrong. It is as though one were to assert that a sheep which has been killed by a pack of wolves is not really dead, provided that more than half of the wolves have participated in the killing. All these excuses for immoral conduct are, of course, nonsense. They are nonsense when tested against the basic moral code of the five postulates. Thievery is thievery, whether done by one person alone or by many in a pack—or by one who has been selected by the members of the pack as their agent.

"Thou Shalt Not Steal, Except..."

"It seems that wherever the Welfare State is involved, the moral precept, 'Thou shalt not steal,' becomes altered to say: 'Thou shalt not steal, except for what thou deemest to be a worthy cause, where thou thinkest that thou canst use the loot for a better purpose than wouldst the victim of the theft.'

"And the precept about covetousness, under the administration of the Welfare State, seems to become: 'Thou shalt not covet, except what thou wouldst have from thy neighbor who owns it.'

"Both of these alterations of the Decalogue result in complete abrogation of the two moral admonitions— theft and covetousness—which deal directly with economic matters. Not even the motto, 'In God we trust,' stamped by the government on money taken by force in violation of the Decalogue to pay for the various programs of the Welfare State, can transform this immoral act into a moral one."

Money shouldn't be called legal tender—it's too tough to get it.

Ike, Queen Disagreement Puts Strain On Relations

WASHINGTON—A new disagreement, directly involving President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth, is putting fresh strain on the already discordant relations between the U.S. and Canada.

Basis of this latest and unusual dissension is who goes where to officially open the great St. Lawrence Seaway in June.

The British monarch is coming to Canada expressly for this historic event. The Canadian government proposes to make the most of her presence, and has elaborate plans for that.

But the State Department has its own ideas about the President's participation in these ceremonies, with resulting sharp bickering on both sides.

A compromise has been suggested, but nothing has come of it yet.

Chief U.S. objection to the Canadian plan is the requirement that the President go to Montreal where they want to stage their big ceremony.

In the Canadian Capital, the President would board the royal yacht, Britannia, and with the Queen and Prince Phillip sail up the river to Massena, N.Y., for the U.S. dedication. Massena, site of the Eisenhower Locks, is this country's headquarters of the Seaway.

The State Department is balking at this on two grounds: The President doesn't want to travel too much, and prefers having the ceremonies as brief as possible.

To these complaints, the Canadian retorted with several of their own: The Queen already has approved the Montreal plan, and they feel very strongly the President should spend at least as much time on their side of the border as the Queen does in the U.S.

Under the State Department's compromise, Montreal would be eliminated.

Instead, the joint dedications would be held, first at Massena, and then at Cornwall, Ont. A key Canadian power station and several locks are located there.

In the private discussions, Canadian officials are making no bones about being miffed at the State Department's proposal to exclude Montreal from the St. Lawrence dedication. They consider that a slight to both their Capital and their Queen.

But so far the State Department is standing pat, and asserting it has the full backing of the President.

HOW IT'S TRIMMED—Six "categories" are being slashed a total of $4.2 billion in the new budget. President Eisenhower is sending to Congress on Monday.

That's the inside word the Budget Bureau is giving Republican congressional leaders, so they can prepare pronouncements supporting the already hotly controversial budget.

As tipped off to the GOP legislators, the principal cuts are as follows:

Agriculture and related activities, $1.9 billion.

Commerce Department and housing, $1 billion.

Labor and Health, Education & Welfare Departments, $1 billion.

General government, $300,000,000.

The President will also urge there be no further extension of emergency unemployment payments, which expire in April. On his recommendation, Congress voted last year, but he now deems they are no longer needed.

The $4.2 billion reductions will be stressed by the President on the following grounds:

The increased spending in the current budget was due chiefly to the recession and repair program. It is not anticipated these factors will prevail in the coming fiscal year.

Congress should "take a breather" in large-scale spending until the budget is balanced or "we can again afford" expanded expenditures.

Housing should be left to private enterprise. It can and will meet requirements, and should be encouraged to do so by ending federal legislation in this field.

The Doctor Says:

by EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The proteins differ from the fats and the starches in that they contain nitrogen in varying amounts. Nitrogen is necessary for life. Although nitrogen makes up about three-fourths of the air we breathe, this nitrogen is merely breathed in and out with the air and cannot be used by the body. It must be obtained from food in order to be used.

Some of the many kinds of proteins are extremely complex. They are made up of varying numbers and combinations of the 22 known amino acids, which are sometimes called the building blocks of proteins.

An insufficient protein diet over a long period of time leads to improper distribution of water in the body. This causes the development of edema, or edema, in which water accumulates in the body tissues.

A wasting of tissue also occurs. There is a decline in the ability of the body to produce heat.

Protein deficiency may follow some illness which does not allow the food to pass to the digestive tract and be absorbed.

Loss of appetite is a common cause—or sometimes a sign—of insufficient protein in the food. In most illnesses in which there is fever, an excessive breakdown of the body protein occurs. The production of hemoglobin, which is the coloring matter of the blood, depends largely on the amount and quality of the protein in the diet.

Thus anemia is another sign which develops either when there is insufficient protein in the diet or when it is poorly absorbed by the body.

Probably the best sources of protein for the human body are the animal proteins such as meat, eggs, fish and cheese. These are usually considered of greater value than the proteins of plant origin which are contained in cereals, nuts and certain vegetables.

However, cost and availability have to be considered. Animal proteins are obtained only by feeding large quantities of plants to animals. Consequently, the cost of animal proteins is high. Fish and other proteins containing sea foods, however, are in a class by themselves.

Obviously, many people have to obtain their proteins from plants rather than from animals or fish. No matter how you get them, protein foods are needed by the human body.

RESOLVED TO BE FREE

At few times in the history of this nation has there been the need for making and keeping resolutions as exists at the beginning of this new year. For the most part, New Year resolutions are light-hearted things—jokes that people bandy among their friends. Only in times of great national crisis, as in the midst of a foreign war, have Americans committed themselves at the beginning of a new year to serious resolutions of high importance.

As the year 1959 opens, Americans do not find themselves locked in any shooting war across the seas. Nevertheless, silent war between the forces of freedom and tyranny is taking place in every American community. There is a fifth column in the United States. It is dedicated to the overthrow of individual liberties, state rights and the free enterprise system. This fifth column is aided by many citizens who mistakenly regard assaults on freedom as progressive reforms.

I am not speaking of any communist conspiracy, though communists have played their part in its origin and development. I am speaking mainly of the campaign being launched by a handful of arrogant union bosses to fasten a hold on American government at every level.

There are 175 million Americans today. Only 15 million are members of unions. Of these 15 million, only a select band of union political agents wield any power. The real power of decision are vested in a few hands—in the persons of men such as Jimmy Hoffa and Walter Reuther. Despite their small numbers, they hold most of the political power in the country. They do so because they are organized. They have a political apparatus in the AFL-CIO that enables them to raise money and participate in political campaigns from precinct to precinct election. They are able to buy the services of every sort of political worker—from blackjack-equipped thugs to clever, smooth-speaking economists.

Every fifth column is infiltrating this area of American life. Jimmy Hoffa has announced that he intends to organize policemen and municipal employees. Victor Reuther, brother of the United Auto Workers chief, tells educators that a corps of speakers is being formed to take the union message to college audiences. The union bosses are planning to deploy 100 paid lobbyists in Washington to bend Congressmen to their will. Many Congressmen arriving in Washington this month for the first time will be owned outright by the AFL-CIO.

The aim of the union bosses is to completely centralize the American government and the American economy, as is the system in Russia. For the time being, they are content with working through existing political parties. But last month President George Meany of the AFL-CIO warned that the union bosses might start a labor party.

If this country were at war with an enemy overseas, every patriotic citizen would resolve to resist with all his might any tyranny over America. People would be willing to spend unlimited time and money to preserve local government, free business and grass roots independence.

But a war is raging within this country and these same citizens must resolve to fight right here. The way to fight is by supporting men in public office who won't appease the union tyrants, by joining letter-writing campaigns for worthy causes, by urging the local press to investigate the tactics of the unions on the local level, and by actively promoting free, conservative government in every tract and be absent.

Loss of appetite is a common cause—or sometimes a sign—of insufficient protein in the food. In most illnesses in which there is fever, an excessive breakdown of the body protein occurs. The production of hemoglobin, which is the coloring matter of the blood, depends largely on the amount and quality of the protein in the diet.

Thus anemia is another sign which develops either when there is insufficient protein in the diet or when it is poorly absorbed by the body.

Probably the best sources of protein for the human body are the animal proteins such as meat, eggs, fish and cheese. These are usually considered of greater value than the proteins of plant origin which are contained in cereals, nuts and certain vegetables.

Don't Try To Teach The Wife To Drive!

There are two things a man should never, never do.

—Beat his wife in a race, and try to teach her to drive in the other.

The first is punishable by a fine, or jail, or both, and the second by temporary loss of the mind and permanent loss of the temper. And by both parties.

In his monumental work, "Maids, Motor Cars, And Madness," on which he worked 12 years and wrecked 17 cars, Dr. Luther Limpenberger has a fascinating chapter devoted to driver instruction by husbands.

"In studies on four continents," Dr. Limpenberger writes, "we found that wives who go into hysterics after five minutes of teaching by their husbands, submitted docilely to driving instruction by such variegated types as (1) deaf pygmies, (2) defrocked railroad firemen, (3) abandoned bank tellers, (4) third chefs, (5) out-of-work landscape gardeners, and (6) lance corporals a waiting court martial.

"These men, and others, could criticize the driving technique of the wives without upsetting the beginners, but once a husband put in his two cents' worth, eyes though spoken in a gentle and loving tone, the wives, yelled, howled, threatened to jump out of the car, and generally had tantrums."

Inflation Should Be Halted For Good

Inflation should not be "fought" it should be stopped. Government can do this forthwith by refusing to increase the supply of money and credit. It is, however, very difficult for government to take such action as long as capital, labor and we the people keep demanding subsidies and more, bigger and better "handouts" in the form of welfare state payments of many kinds, all of which increase inflationary pressures.

We cannot expect labor to refrain from demanding higher wages, as long as it is possible to get them. We cannot expect industry to refrain from seeking as much profit as the market will afford. We cannot expect industry to bring upon itself long costly strikes when it is easier to grant labor's demands for increased wages and to pass the cost on to the public in the form of higher prices. We are in a vicious circle of increasing wage and prices because government feels incapable of resisting the pressure to expand the quantity of money and credit. But this will lead straight out through the roof to the destruction of the American dollar, if we do not stop it.

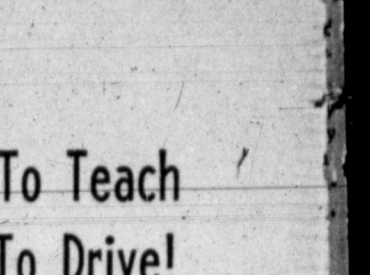

We suggest that the leaders of our government call into consultation the leaders of industry and labor and face this matter, frankly, publicity and with all pretenses abandoned.

Let them all say to one another: We must call a halt to the practice that is destroying American prosperity, threatening our way of life, and betraying us into the hands of our enemies. We must return to the traditional way of improving living standards in America by reducing unit cost of production, lowering prices to the consuming public, increasing real wages to labor, and offering sufficient return to savers to further encourage capital accumulation.

Then let us have the courage to take the final step—return to the gold standard—the only effective means ever discovered for limiting the spending proclivities of government. If a government must redeem its paper money in gold, it cannot spend more than it's income plus what it can borrow from the people who have saved money. That will stop inflation, put an end to the spiral of rising wages and prices, encourage thrift, speed up capital formation and lay the foundation for rising and permanent prosperity.

One-fifth of all U.S. consumer goods are purchased by families with an annual income averaging $4,000 to $5,000.

McCullough Slates Address In Borger

G. W. McCullough, Manager of the Natural Gasoline Department, Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla., will speak on the subject, "Management Engineering" at the regular monthly meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at the Bunka Vista cafeteria in Borger Monday, at 4:30 p. m.

McCullough was graduated from Oklahoma State University in 1925 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering. He was employed by Phillips Petroleum Company immediately following his graduation. Since that time he has held many jobs in the field of engineering and management.

He was Assistant Manager of Phillips Petroleum Plant Division and Superintendent of Phillips Butadiene Plant, Borger, in 1942 and 1943. Following that he was Manager, Defense Plant Division and Assistant to the Manager of Natural Gasoline and Gas Department, Phillips Petroleum Company, Executive Vice President and Chairman of the Operating Committee, and his present position of Manager of the Natural Gasoline Department.

McCullough is affiliated with many organizations including National Gasoline Association of America, Independent Petroleum Association of America, Independent Natural Gasoline Association of America, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Rotary, Bartlesville Chapter of Engineers, and Sigma Chi.

He is married and the father of five children. His original hobby is hunting and fishing. This hobby is by an outstanding meeting and all interested to be held at the home of Mrs. Jeffrey in Borger on Wednesday, Jan. 14, with had so much alcohol in his blood stream it served as anti freeze.

McCullough is the author of several papers relative to natural gasoline plant operation, hydrocarbon separation and distillation, safety program's instrumentation, and control of process, and fertilizer from petroleum. He is holder of a number of patents pertaining to natural gasoline production, recovery, separation of both process and equipment nature.

86th Congress Got Off To A Slow Start

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A lot of people apparently got the impression that the 86th Congress started last week. Let's say rather that it convened last week. Any day now it'll be organized and can get down to business.

The senators, as usual, encountered delays. First they had to talk a while. As a matter of fact they talked until Tuesday, settling such issues as how long to talk about how long to talk about how long to talk before closing debate.

They finally got that worked out, with results you have read elsewhere. The agreement roughly was that a nifty Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas thinks they have talked long enough, the voting will begin, two-thirds of those present assenting.

Another problem also has been happily solved. Little Beagle Johnson, who was missing two days, is back.

This relieved widespread concern among Senate functionaries and brought joy to the hearts of the aforementioned Sen. Johnson. Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, his wife, and Lucy Baines Johnson and Lynda Bird Johnson, their daughters.

The news no doubt will be well received also by Lady Beagle Johnson and little Beagle Johnson Jr., other members of the Johnson family who reside at a place known as the LBJ Ranch in town known, somehow, as Johnson City, Tex.

Little Beagle Johnson disappeared from the Johnson home Monday. Somebody turned him in to a vet two days later, limping from a bruised leg should income-tax item in cost of service.

As to intangible drilling costs, he said "These may be expensed or capitalized for tax purposes" but "they must also be capitalized for rate purposes." He added that both tangible and intangible drilling costs of productive wells "also recovered from the consumer by depreciation or depletion." Hence, "no further recovery is permitted."

Kelly asserted that United "recovers every well drilling cost, whether for dry holes or productive wells, for both tax and rate purposes," and that "for tax purposes it recovers additionally the depletion allowance of its 'washing capital asset.' In addition to all this, he added, "it recovers for rate purposes every penny of its actual income taxes paid, so that the consumer pays its rate base entirely net."

"Now," said Kelly, "United asks still more—something it would not be entitled to under the established rate-making criteria of the commission, nor by any intent or policy of Congress."

He said United's case involved three income tax provisions: realized depreciation, intangible drilling costs, and the depletion allowance—plus amortization of emergency facilities where, he said, the commission also strayed from its policy of allowing as a cost only actual income taxes paid.

He said the amortization provision was harmless because it aided the company without hurting the consumer. He also said that realized depreciation "was the intent of Congress."

But on depletion he said there is nothing in the income tax code nor any intent by Congress that depletion "was to be treated any differently than an ordinary business expense in computing the rate base. He said that the commission's final decision is adverse to the company's free to seek redress in the courts."

United was given 30 days to file exceptions but on appeal, was granted an extension to Feb. 6. If the commission's final decision is adverse the company is free to seek redress in the courts."

Father Crosby Unites Debbie And Bob Wagner In Marriage

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Debbie Reynolds and Robert Wagner were married in a solemn Catholic ceremony this week with Bing Crosby performing the rites.

Though Wagner is happily married to Natalie Wood, Debbie's divorce from Eddie Fisher is far from final, and Crosby is a crooner, not a priest, the magic of movies made the nuptials possible.

The "marriage" is part of a new movie which co-stars Crosby, Wagner and Debbie, marking the third time Der Bingle has portrayed a priest.

"Not easy playing a man of the cloth," Bing observed in his casual manner. "Gotta be careful not to offend anybody. Also gotta take a lot of ribbing from some of my priest friends. They watch my every move and hid the socks off me if I goof."

Crosby first played a priest in the academy award winning "Going My Way" back in 1944 with such happy results he again assumed the role in "Bells of St. Mary's" a year later.

"No danger of type casting," No danger of my being typecast," the groaner said. "It's been 14 years since I played my last padre part.

"But I've got to watch myself more closely this time than ever. I won't slip into my own characteristics. The picture basically is a story of show business, and a priest who is closely associated with theatrical people."

Bing's role in "Say One For Me" at 20th Century-Fox is patterned after Father Leonard of St. Malachy's Church at 47th and Broadway in Manhattan.

"I have to be especially careful in my scenes with Debbie. We do a song with Debbie wearing loretador pants and looking very attractive. Naturally, I can't make it look like a boy and girl number."

"Also in this picture I perform in the traditional Mass. That'll give my clergymen friends a field day criticizing my technique."

Attends Church Regularly
Bing, a Roman Catholic, attends church every Sunday, and has donated generously to his faith. He has a ready answer for queries as to why Catholic priests are most frequently portrayed in films as compared to other religions.

"There seems to be more comedy around Catholics," he grinned. "I guess it's because the Irish and Italians are more voluble than other people."

"Then, too, our religion has great drama in it, and our services contain pageantry and color."

Crosby sat back in an easy chair in his dressing room, running a finger inside his Roman collar. He looked uncomfortable, and no wonder. Bing almost lives in sports shirts when he's not before the cameras.

United Press International
Dollar earnings of U.S. film companies from films distributed in Italy will increase under a new export agreement between the Motion Picture Export Association of America and the Italian Motion Picture Assn. Under the new accord, Italy will ease its blocked currency restrictions and permit

"If the right story comes along I'd like to make a picture with my boys—all of 'em or any one of 'em," he laughed, "including little Tex. But I doubt very much if it would be a religious picture."

American firms to take out up to seven million dollars in profits, compared with three million under the old agreement.

The nation's oil and gas producers have served notice they plan to fight any "unwarranted" reduction in the 27% depletion allowance they now can claim on income taxes. Gordon Simpson, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said a possible move in Congress to cut the allowance is one of the major problems facing the petroleum industry this year.

WANTS MUSTACHE WAX
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. Howard B. Turner said she received the following letter from her husband who is working on the Distant Early Warning System in Cold Bay, Alaska.
"Honey, please send me some mustache wax. I've shopped all over this place and can't find any."

WHAT'S THE RUSH?
LONDON (UPI)—Sculptor Jacob Epstein said "I've turned being hurried" when he turned down a $5,600 job for a shopping center decorative panel.
The center had given him the commission three and one-half years ago and recently asked to see at least a sketch.
