Ambassador to Fight for Free Czech State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Czech Ambassador Juraš Slavik resigned his post today to fight for a free Czechoslovakia.

Slavik announced at the embassy that he is sending his formal resignation to the new Communist-led government at Prague.

He said he also is informing the State Department of his action. At a news conference, Slavik said he is convinced that Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovak President, was under "duress and terror" when he agreed to formation of the new Communist government headed by Premier Klement Gottwald.

The envoy did not say what he proposed to do in his "fight for a free Czechoslovakia."

"But," he said, "I am confident I don't stand alone."

Slavik told reporters: "I know there will be more colleagues who will act as I do now. There will be Czechoslovak patriots who will fight for our ideals of freedom. The great majority of our people in Czechoslovakia have these ideals."

"I wish to live as a free man and I want my nation to be a community of free men."

Slavik has been ambassador since June, 1946. He was twice minister of interior in Czech government, holding that post during the war in the London exile government.

Canadian Donates to Scout Camp

At a meeting last night at Canadian of Scouters and civic leaders it was announced that Canadian groups were donating $1,500 to the Adobe Walls Camp for the purchase of a Camp Kiowa campsite at Lake Marvin.

The site to include 50 to 60 acres. In 1940 the Hemphill County Commissioners Court gave the council an easement on approximately 40 acres for a camp site, for use as long as it was used for Scouting purposes.

The Game Fish and Oyster Commission is scheduling a dam and other improvements at Lake Marvin, and it is necessary for that agency to have a clear title to the land, although they offer boating and fishing rights to the Scouts.

Meeting were the Canadian Chamber of Commerce board of directors, the Rotary Club and other civic groups, with a delegation including A. W. Parris, chairman of the council camping committee; W. B. Weathered, past president of the council; Joe Gordon, council attorney; Douglas Carver, president; C. A. Huff, treasurer; Paul Beisenherz, executive; and A. M. Ammerman, of the Dallas regional office.

Scout Executive Paul Beisenherz commented on the strong backing offered the Scouting program by the people of Canadian. See CANADIAN, Page 10

Plans Made for Rodeo Stock

Goat Mayo of Petrolia, Tex., was in Pampa this morning completing negotiations for the handling of the stock of this year's Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show to be held Aug. 4-7.

Mayo, who furnished the stock for the Top of Texas show last year, stated that he would do his best to furnish stock to make this year's rodeo even better than last year's, which was considered one of the top amateur rodeos in the nation.

A veteran rodeo performer, Mayo's stock is considered to be among the finest in the country.

Finland Nears Negotiations On Treaty

HELSINKI (AP)—President Juho Paasikivi was described by responsible sources today as growing impatient at Parliament's delay in informing him of the government's proposed military pact with Russia.

Political leaders are said to be in favor of negotiating on the pact, but emphasize that acceptance of Prime Minister Stalin's proposal would not necessarily follow.

The 78-year-old President was said to fear that undue delay might irritate Russia and destroy a favorable basis for negotiations.

Government circles said they thought Paasikivi might urge parliamentary groups today to speed formulation of their attitude toward the pact.

Parliamentary groups from the far right to the extreme left have spent hours discussing the proposed defense and mutual assistance pact plus its consequences for Finland.

Chairman of the party blocs told newsmen they had no intention of employing delaying tactics, but that the question was serious it required careful consideration.

Conservative Party newspapers condemned Communist-organized worker meetings in support of the pact as useless and extra-parliamentary tactics.

No demonstrations have been reported yet in Helsinki, but the Communist papers carried accounts of such meetings in small towns under the sponsorship of the far left "popular front" bloc.

Information from the government was receiving telegraphed resolutions from the meetings urging acceptance of the pact.

Spokesmen for the three major parties in the government bloc indicated they feel that under the circumstances Finland must negotiate.

One of the "big three" parties, the powerful Social Democrats, issued a statement last night accusing Finnish Communists of trying to "provoke unrest with high pressure propaganda."

Communist circles have shown their intention to use this situation for the purpose of national conflict and discord among the classes, the statement said.

The chairman of six political parties have affirmed that Finland has little choice but to begin negotiations. They emphasize, however, that "acceptance of negotiations does not mean acceptance of the pact."

Arab-Jewish warfare continued elsewhere in Palestine. Arabs demolished a highway bridge five miles west of Jerusalem, cutting all communication with Tel Aviv and Jaffa, except through Arab territory.

The highway has been the scene of heavy fighting between Jews, supported by British Army units, and Arab snipers dug in on hillsides. Ten Arabs were slain in yesterday's fighting in the area.

An armed Arab band attacked the Jewish village of Magdied in Sharon last night with grenades and mortars, killing two Jews and injuring three.

Eye-witnesses of the Haifa blast said two army-type trucks were driven up to the Salameh Hotel.

Name Is Needed For New Hospital

How would you like to name a hospital? Well, you have that opportunity if you live in Gray County.

The county is going to build a hospital, and at a meeting of the Hospital Board yesterday afternoon, they decided they need your help in selecting a name.

The name should be suitable for the entire area the hospital will serve. It should be a name all the people in the county will take pride in.

A big order? It is. The Hospital Board thinks so. That's why they are asking your help.

You may address a post card or letter to "Hospital Editor, Pampa News." Your suggestions will be turned over to the board.

The next meeting of the Hospital Board has been set for 9 a. m. March 13. At this time the board members, representative doctors of the county, and the architect, will meet to discuss planning and go over blueprints.

New World Agency Proposed

Texans Fight Tidelands Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texans expect to file other suits in the near future.

"It is unthinkable," he asserted, "that the Congress of the United States will give away, without any consideration, without a real knowledge of the size of the rights, valuable rights in oil and perhaps other essential minerals, necessary to the defense of the nation and to the welfare of all the people of the country."

"Texas Attorney General Price Daniel preceded Clark in testimony before the committee."

Daniel detailed Texas' right to special claim to its tidelands, dating from the agreement that allowed it to retain public domain when it came into the union in 1845.

Clark said the tidelands issue was not "states rights." He said matter is entirely foreign to the problem.

Governor Beauford J.ester of Texas attended the hearing which will be continued today. Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) asserted today that the federal government claimed the off-shore submerged lands within state boundaries only to get oil.

"If oil had not existed off the California coast, the federal government never would have brought suit against that state to claim ownership of the off-shore lands," the senator said.

Under questioning, Clark denied McCarran's suggestion that oil motivated the attorney general's part in the California suit.

Clark said he inherited the case when he took office, that he had "no motive of power, no motive of oil."

When McCarran repeated, shaking his finger at Clark, that "what you want now is the oil," the attorney general replied that his purpose is to see that the Supreme Court's decision in the California case is carried out.

Clark said he "definitely" believes that ownership of the lands is included in the court's ruling that "paramount rights" in the coastal belt belong to the federal government.

Clark conceded to Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.) and other members of the subcommittee that "Texas has a special defense," but he said that can be presented to the Supreme Court or other courts of the country.

The special claim of Texas to submerged coastal lands stems from its former status as an independent republic with boundaries 10.5 miles into the Gulf, and the fact that Texas retained all its public lands upon admission to the union.

Idea Offered As Amendment To Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new, veto-free world agency with power to curb Russian expansion was proposed to the Senate today.

The idea was offered as an amendment to the Marshall Plan by a group of Republican senators.

They called for the United States to take the lead in creating a Supreme International Council apart from the United Nations.

The chief job of this "Supreme Council" would be to combat either "aggression or subversion in any form."

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) announced he would offer the plan formally when debate resumes today on the $5,300,000,000 European Recovery Program.

The text of the amendment goes as follows: "Russia, by name, but the intent is obvious."

Senator Brewster (R-Maine) defined the proposed new agency as an "offensive-defensive alliance."

He said it would provide for "collective security without the paralyzing power of veto."

Russia on several occasions has made use of the veto she holds as one of the "Big Five" permanent members of the U. N. Security Council.

During yesterday's Marshall Plan debate, Ball assailed the spread of "Russian tyranny" and said Western Europe must be offered a means of political security as well as economic stability.

Ball's amendment would direct the President and secretary of State to open immediately negotiations with other members of the United Nations.

The aim would be to try to win agreement among as many countries as possible on the new power-backed security agency.

Specifically the agreement would provide:

1. That a Supreme Council should be set up. It would consist of eleven members, just as does the U. N. Security Council. Those nations holding a permanent seat on the Security Council would receive the same position in the new group—but only by signing the agreement.

Other nations elected to the U. N. Council would hold membership in the new group also upon ratifying the agreement.

Vacancies caused by the refusal of any Security Council member to go along would be filled from the ranks of other countries taking part in the new venture.

2. Each Supreme Council member would have one vote. Decisions of the council would be made when seven members, including a majority of the permanent members, agreed.

3. All signers of the agreement would promise to make their armed forces and resources available whenever the Supreme Council decided they were needed to preserve peace or to defend a member state against "aggression or subversion in any form."

In addition to the Supreme Council proposal, Ball said, there was general agreement at the revisionist session that the $5,300,000,000 contemplated for the first year of the European Recovery Plan should be slashed.

Red Speech Sidetracks Force Issue

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Russia's renewed support and a slightly stronger American stand brightened the prospects today for Palestine partition.

A long-awaited Soviet speech yesterday seemed to clear the air and gave Security Council delegates something new to discuss at today's meeting (2:30 p. m. EST).

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko dodged the issue of sending a United Nations armed force into the Holy Land. He did accept a portion of the American plan supporting the principle of partition. He also agreed to Big Five consultations on the subject.

Gromyko's speech was unusually conciliatory. Twice he accused the United States of attempting to confuse the issue, but his counter-suggestions appeared to offer a basis for settlement. He also omitted previous charges that the British are obstructing partition.

The United States wants the council to establish a Big Five Committee to look into the Palestine problem, talk with the Arabs and Jews, and report back to the council.

Gromyko says the Big Five should meet independently of the council and should not bother trying to mend differences between the Jews and Arabs at this late stage.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin reserved comment on the Russian speech. He was understood to feel that the differences were not insurmountable and that once the council went on record as supporting partition, other agreements would unfold gradually.

The British, however, remained firm in their stand not to take part in any discussions designed to enforce partition. Arthur Creech Jones, colonial secretary, said his government could not serve as the American-suggested committee.

Before moving to Odessa last year, he was manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce and director of the city's youth program. He also was president of the U. S. Highway 66 Association for Texas.

Future of Palestine Partition Plan Brightened by Latest Soviet Stand

Civilians Are Killed In Explosion

Jerusalem (AP)—A truck load of dynamite exploded in an Arab residential section of Haifa today, and police said the blast killed 11 Arabs and wounded 15.

Police said the extremist Jewish underground group, the Stern Gang, had taken responsibility for the blast.

Several children were killed. It was the heaviest toll of life from a bombing incident since the blasting of Jerusalem's Ben Yehuda Street Feb. 22, in which 55 Jews were killed.

The seven-story Salameh Building, near Haifa's Central Police Station, was wrecked. The explosion also crumpled the front half of a building across the street housing the Arab Division of the Government Welfare Office. A wide area was shaken by the explosion.

Several hundred rescue crews tore at the wreckage, fearing more victims were trapped in the debris.

The blast coincided with an announcement by Jerusalem police that a partition proposal by the United Nations Secretariat had arrived by air in the Holy Land. They are to be quartered in Jerusalem.

Russia's renewed support of the partition plan, American stand and heightened prospects at Lake Success, N. Y., for cutting Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.

Arab-Jewish warfare continued elsewhere in Palestine. Arabs demolished a highway bridge five miles west of Jerusalem, cutting all communication with Tel Aviv and Jaffa, except through Arab territory.

The highway has been the scene of heavy fighting between Jews, supported by British Army units, and Arab snipers dug in on hillsides. Ten Arabs were slain in yesterday's fighting in the area.

Skelly Schafer Plant Employees Honor Colorful Price Brooks

The fellows out at the Schafer Plant of the Skelly Oil Company gave a party the other night in honor of Price Brooks, who is retiring after working with the company since 1928.

Brooks, a Cherokee Indian, is the subject of many Skelly legends. They reminisced about some of those at the party, where Brooks was presented a radio, watch and other gifts.

When Brooks first applied for work with the company, he was told they didn't need anyone. He reported for work anyway, and the crew was a man short that morning. They put him on.

His first job was applying "no-oxide" paint. For many years he was known simply as "no-oxide."

John Rush, district superintendent, told an incident about Brooks' loyalty.

One day, after a nine-hour shift, Brooks was called on to dip some water out of a hole, so a pipe would be made next day. The water had been turned off, but was still running from the pipe, because of the back pressure extended over a long area. It was thought the water would run out in a couple of hours.

When the morning crew came on in 10 hours later, Price Brooks was still there, keeping the water dipped out of the hole. He had worked a 25-hour stretch without considering it anything to get excited about.

Brooks likes guns, saddles and spurs, and he has a fine collection. His interest dating from his days on the best-known ranches—the 3D, the old Dan Waggoner outfit, the FA Bar in charge was dismissed.

Man Held for Investigation

Alfonso B. Hernandez is being held here pending investigation of immigration officials.

An immigration officer saw Hernandez get off a bus in White Deer, and in making a check, could find no record of his having entered the states through proper channels.

Hernandez, who is "19 or 20," speaks but little English, and will make no statement concerning whether or not he is a "wetback." It was learned, however, that he has been in the states since last May 7, Chief Deputy Rufe Jordan said this morning.

When he was taken into custody he carried a guitar, a suitcase, and some correspondence from Mexico.

Three Teams Share Loop Cage Title

By the Associated Press
East Texas, North Texas and Sam Houston State share the Lone Star Conference basketball championship.

Sam Houston clinched a portion of the title last night by defeating Trinity University, 84-65, as Murry Mitchell cracked the conference scoring record.

Mitchell counted 33 points to eclipse the mark of 32 set last year by Guy Lewis of the University of Houston. The six-foot-seven-inch Mitchell sank points from every angle.

The three-way tie poses a problem for the selection committee of the regional National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Fort Worth this weekend. It will have to pick one of the three to represent the conference in the meet.

North Texas and East Texas finished in a tie for the 14th Monday night. All three teams won nine and lost three in conference play.

Such mishaps happen occasionally in a while. But it was a particularly blushing matter to Felipe. He happens to be Youkers Central's stand-out and season scoring leader.

Former Champion Al Getz To Grapple on Wrestle Royal

Al Getz, former Southwestern states junior heavyweight wrestling champion, is undefeated in the local ring.

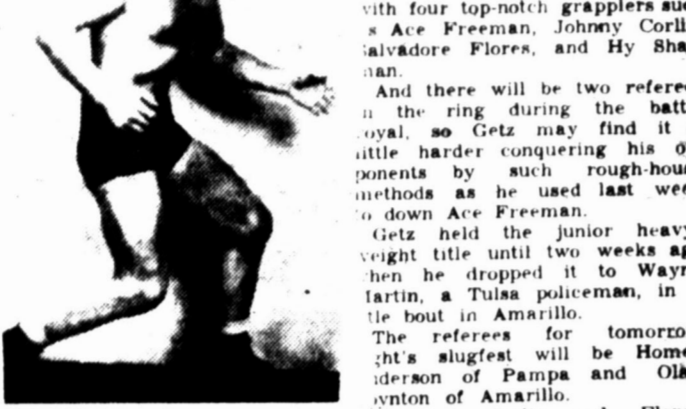

But Thursday night Getz, who will be making his fourth appearance in the local ring on promoter Vic Burnett's wrestling royal at the Sportatorium, will find the going a little rougher when he steps into the ring with four top-notch grapplers such as Ace Freeman, Johnny Corlin, Salvadore Flores, and Hy Sharman.

And there will be two referees in the ring during the battle royal, so Getz may find it a little harder competing his opponents by such rough-house methods as he used last week to down Ace Freeman.

Getz held the junior heavyweight title until two weeks ago when he dropped it to Wayne Martin, a Tulsa policeman, in a win three in Amarillo.

The referees for tomorrow's slugfest will be Homer Anderson of Pampa and Olan Boynton of Amarillo.

Freeman, Corlin, and Flores have made appearances in the local ring. Sharman, a Salt Lake City fireman, will be making his first.

Highest-Scoring Team Lacked 24 Points for Title

DALLAS (AP)—Ironically, the highest-scoring team in South-west Conference basketball lacked just 24 points of winning the championship.

Southern Methodist's seven-point lead over one to seven points. There were two one-point deficits, two two-pointers, one five, one six and one seven.

SMU averaged 52 points per game, statistics from the office of James H. Stewart, executive secretary, show. That was two-tenths of a point better than Baylor, which won the championship.

But defensively, the Methodists gave up 49.4 points fourth in the conference. Baylor was tops in this department with an average of 42.0. Second was Texas with 45.7 and third was Arkansas with 48.0.

Sports Round-Up

HUGH FULLETON, III, WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—It isn't exactly a novelty for a pitcher to switch to the outfield, although pitchers traditionally are weak hitters. But it does seem strange when a guy who wants to make the change encounters stiff resistance.

Zebulon V. Eaton Jr., who is trying for a place in the Philadelphia Athletics infield, had that happen to him.

"I wanted to play the outfield in 1946 when the Tigers sent me to Buffalo," Zeb explains. "They wouldn't let me, so I had to wait until last year at Birmingham. Of course I had filled in for a game or so before then when somebody was out."

Eaton, who pitched in 17 games for the Tigers in 1945, did all right other than let him make the change.

"He was going strong when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball and injured so badly he didn't get into uniform again in until last Monday," but that 358-batting average for the Baron doesn't look bad when compared to some the A's compiled last summer.

Rams Say LaSalle Best Team They Met

FORT WORTH (AP)—Texas Wesleyan's "traveling team" in the nation, thinks the best basketball team they met in jaunts over 13 states and the District of Columbia this season was LaSalle of Philadelphia.

The Rams also chose Larry Foust of LaSalle as "the best basketball player we've played against all season—if he isn't All-America, well no one is."

Against TWC, Foust made 19 points. When LaSalle beat Arkansas, Foust outscored the Razorbacks' George Kok, 29 points to 25. The Rams' E. F. Parham outscored Foust 32 to 19, and Parham fouled out with four minutes to go.

The Rams have played so many games that when they voted for an all-opponents team they named six on the first and six on the second. The only Texas honored on the first was Burt Rollings, Southern Methodist guard. Here are the Rams' all-opponent teams:

First team—Jim Lacy, Ballimore Loyola; Mickey Marty, Loras College (Ia.); Larry Foust, LaSalle; Burt Rollings, Southern Methodist; William Catena, Duquesne; or Johnny Orr, Beloit (Wis.).

Second team—De Nutt, Abilene Christian; Sam Trombatore, Loyola (New Orleans); Ace McCann, LaSalle; Renner, Seaton Hall; John Erickson, Beloit; Smith, Long Island.

Conspicuously missing is Norm Hankins of Lawrence Tech, the nation's high scorer and all-America candidate. The Rams reported he was overrated—weak on defense, a player who "blatantly shows his points on 'snow-bird' courts (staying at his end of the court while the other nine players were on the opposite end).

Training Camp Roundup

Four out for Musial's Post
NEW YORK (AP)—While St. Louis Cardinal slugger St. Louis Cardinal star continues to hold out, four players are battling for his first base job.

Dick Slater, who was groomed for the first base job in 1946 only to flunk out in favor of Musial, is one of the four striving for the position at the Cardinals' St. Petersburg camp.

Other contenders are rookies Glen Nelson, Mike Natolin and Nippy Jones, who finished the 1947 season at second base for the Red Birds.

Nelson played for Lynchburg and led the Piedmont League in batting last year with a nifty .377. Natolin batted .312 and clubbed 22 homers for Columbus of the American Association.

Bevens Out for Six Weeks

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees may be without the services of righthander Bill Bevens for six weeks.

Bevens injured his right leg officiating a basketball game three weeks ago.

Notes from the Other Camps

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Elmer Riddle, a castoff from the Cincinnati Reds, stole the pitching show as the Pittsburgh Pirates went through their second training day. He impressed Manager Billy Meyer with the fastest ball seen in the Cub camp.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies has put big Al Blair on first base, saying "this is your job until you convince me you can't handle it."

Blair was purchased conditionally from New Orleans.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bill Dietrich says his arm now feels fine and he is looking for a good year with the Athletics.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The question of who will play third and short for Boston's Red Sox still is a mystery. Manager Joe McCarthy had Johnny Pesky and Vern Stephens working at short with Bill Hitchcock and Johnny Ostrowski at third yesterday.

Sain Still a Holdout
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Boston Prave Pitcher Jimmy Sain still is a holdout at his Pine Bluff, Ark., home despite a reported $25,000 offer. The right-handed flinger, a 20-game winner last year, is the only major holdout on the club.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R. (AP)—Preston Ward, rookie first sacker up from Pueblo of the Western League, highlighted the Brooklyn Dodgers initial infield drill. The 21-year-old first sacker looked especially good in a batting drill.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Ewell Blackwell and Bukey Walters each pitched about 10 minutes for the

Varietas Study Club Has Varied Program

The Varietas Study Club held its regular meeting last week in the home of Mrs. F. E. Imel, 310 N. Gray, with a varied program. Mrs. Imel was assisted by Mrs. H. P. Dossier and Mrs. Felix Stalls as co-hostesses.

The president conducted the business and Mrs. F. W. Lane gave the opening prayer.

One part of the program was a discussion of the disease of tuberculosis, presented by Mrs. Clyde Vanderberg. In her talk the speaker stated that 85,000 people die in the United States each year from the disease and that 3,000 of these die in Texas.

This means that in our country someone dies every ten minutes from TB and that in the war-torn countries the destruction is much worse.

Mrs. Vanderberg pointed out that the age of the group affected most by TB is rising. The disease is most prevalent now among women from the ages of 15 to 44. This rise in age is due to a large extent to the careful check made on school children and the early treatment given where symptoms are present. The speaker cleared up one commonly mistaken idea about TB, emphasizing the fact that the germ and is not hereditary, that the germ may lie dormant for years until reactivated by fatigue or exhaustion from cold.

Mrs. Vanderberg stressed the fact that tuberculosis need not be the dread disease it was once considered because it is preventable, curable, and controllable, but she added that it is the most neglected epidemic.

The speaker told about the tax-supported sanatorium near San Angelo with a thousand beds for adults and the "preventorium" with a 187 beds for children. She said that since 1912 forty thousand people have been treated there and have gone out trained to take care of themselves or members of their families. She stressed the importance of fresh air, ample rest and proper diet in the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis.

The other part of the program consisted of a debate on the question, "Resolved, that Russia will equal the United States in Ten Years." Both sides of the questions were discussed, with parts taken by Mesdames C. W. Andrews, J. C. McWilliams, Loyse Caldwell, E. J. Haslam.

At the close of the formal program, a refreshment plate of ice cream, decorated cake squares, mints and coffee were served. About twenty ladies were present.

More Light, Less Glare

For comfort and efficiency the modern home requires maximum daylight with reduced glare. Windows alone do not always serve the purpose. They reduce privacy and in cold weather lose heat. To obtain flattering daylight where a view is desired, architects install windows with panels of glass block (above). The block admits softly diffused daylight which is less likely to fade drapes and furniture. Smart-looking panels also conserve heat and, being non-transparent, obstruct vision.

Attlemen in Good Business in 1948, Says Veteran Economist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cattlemen are in a good business in 1948, says a veteran economist and analyst of the Agriculture Department.

Livestock today is in the sound position of any branch of agriculture," said Burmeister, who has been with the government's graduation from Texas A. M. College in 1908.

All of the factors that make a favorable outlook are present. The population of the country is increasing. There is a strong demand for meat which increased sharply during war years. Labor is high and there is a lack of import competition.

"Unless a sharp recession or depression develops and drastically reduces consumer purchasing power, added, meat prices will lean high and likely will rise again for the next two or three years.

"The recent drop in prices could be attributed to a seasonal decline.

Prices will naturally go up unless consumer demand is off," he continued.

"The only way we could have a surplus this year is to have a bumper crop of livestock," he added, "most prices will rise and likely will rise again for the next two or three years.

JANICE'S new visitor stopped short at sight of her, standing still to stare, without saying anything.

"Aren't you even going to say hello?" Janice asked. Her heart was thudding so loudly beneath the lovely bed jacket that she was sure the sound of it filled the quiet room.

"H-hello," Ben said. His voice sounded queer, as though it had a difficult time getting through his windpipe.

"Hello, yourself," Janice returned.

"You—you look swell," he said, still standing and staring.

"Thank you," Janice smiled on him. "Won't you come in and sit down?"

He came in and sat down, rather stiffly, on a chair.

She had never known Ben to be tongue-tied before. Probably it was because most men were uneasy in a room where someone was ill.

"Aren't my flowers lovely?" Janice tried to put him at ease.

"Thank you so much, Ben, for the ones you sent." She did not know which ones were his, but she knew he had sent some of them.

He seemed to be looking at the largest bouquet, a white vase filled with crimson roses with stems that must have been three feet long.

But Ben had not sent those. They had come at suppers, between Janice's afternoon visitor and her present one. There had been a card with them. It had read:

"I am sorry that you do not want to see me but I do not blame you, my sweet. I shall always feel for you what these couldn't keep that up. It will be difficult to get back to our maximum production again in less than 10 years.

"In my judgment the long-time prospects indicate a need for greater livestock production to take care of future demands."

He expressed uncertainty as to how much longer cattle numbers will decrease, but added:

"The downward trend will end when producers have more confidence in future price stability and when they find it necessary to retain cattle to obtain the maximum net return from their pastures and crops."

"Assuming that the present downward trend in cattle numbers is not likely to end before 1950, there is reason to expect that supplies of cattle and calves for slaughter will probably continue to decrease until 1952 or 1953."

Other data Burmeister pointed out included these facts:

The past year ended with prices up 7 percent over December of 1946 on hogs, 15 percent on lambs, 18 percent on cattle, and 30 percent on calves.

Except on calves these increases were only about enough to offset the rise of 14.5 percent in prices of goods farmers buy. The purchasing power of lambs decreased 1 percent and that of hogs 6 percent. Purchasing power of dairy products and poultry declined even more.

4-Room House Is Constructed For $1,300

By REX THOMAS

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—With $200 in cash, a $750 loan and a willingness to work, a Negro farmer near here was swapped his shabby home for a two-bedroom bungalow as up-to-date as a modern city dwelling.

He built it himself in the first practical application of Tuskegee Institute's "Low cash cost home" program, an experiment made possible by an abundance of native materials and free labor of relatives and friends.

The idea has worked well for farmer Rush York. And Tuskegee Institute President F. D. Patterson, who conceived it, says the project can go along way toward ridding the South of the poverty-borne shack, too prevalent among its rural population.

The most important feature, says Dr. Patterson, is that it doesn't require a large cash investment: that would be prohibitive for low-income families in this predominantly rural section.

York, under supervision of Tuskegee Institute officials, built his concrete block home with sand, rock and gravel from a nearby creek bed. Homemade wooden forms were used to fashion the building blocks.

His wife and high school daughter helped with the construction, and students from the college chipped in during their spare time to carry out the cooperative program of Patterson's housing program. But neighbors could do it just as well, and that's the basis on which other "self-help" homes will be built.

The York family was chosen for the experiment because of respect they had won in the community and because they had saved $250 out of their meager farm income to put into a new home.

As far back as York can remember, he had always lived in a decaying unpainted wooden cabin.

Dr. Patterson had the York family in mind and thousands of others like it throughout the South when he set to work on a program to replace them with clean, weatherproof dwellings. By using native materials available without cost, and taking advantage of a community willingness to work together, he figured a four-room house could be built for only $1,000.

Installation of plumbing and toilet facilities ran the cost to some $1,300, but the college paid the difference, Patterson said, to keep its bargain with York.

Child Suppressed By Modern Urban Life, Says Wylie

GREENVILLE (AP)—State Senator G. C. Morris expects to pass House Minority Leader Rayburn in the Fourth Congressional District this year.

Rayburn, former speaker of House when Democrats were majority defeated Morris, 24 to 18,798, in 1944.

Morris said yesterday Ray had repudiated the best interest of the South in his failure to speak out in opposition to certain parts of the proposed civil rights bill.

Fourth of July, which destroys "the most emotionally potent national fiesta America ever had, the day of greatest boyhood dependence."

The one discipline which a child must have, he asserts, is natural discipline of cause and effect—"the perfect honesty nature and the inviolability of laws. Children have the right to observe and experience every form of nature in environs where they can dig, pluck, build, walk, swim or chop without let or hindrance.

But in modern urban life expressions of a child's instincts are necessarily illegal. "If a boy peels the bark off a tree to make a toy boat to float on a pool, he destroys somebody's birch, his dad has to pay, and the old lady who owns the goldfish pond has him chased by policemen."

Without such basic experience, adults lack self-reliance, the author maintains. Adult fears, ranging from an anxiety about crossing the street to panic over the possibility of another war, are projected upon children, in the shape of parental tabus and restrictions of the very activities essential to youngsters. Cited as an example is our "safe and sane" cost, and taking advantage of a community willingness to work together, he figured a four-room house could be built for only $1,000.

Installation of plumbing and toilet facilities ran the cost to some $1,300, but the college paid the difference, Patterson said, to keep its bargain with York.

Young Con Gets Special Quarters

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Jimmy Melton, second youngest person ever sentenced to the Colorado Penitentiary, began serving his sentence Thursday—but in Warden Roy Best's home, not in a prison cell.

The boy, convicted of killing his 16-year-old sister, Phyllis Marie, with a rifle last Dec. 15, spent Wednesday night in the warden's house.

Soon after his arrival he sat down to dinner with Best, Mrs. Best and their 17-year-old nephew. The warden told reporters Thursday that young Melton "is smart and should have an education. He is not the kind to put in a cell."

English Goes Modern; Science Comes To Aid

By BOB McPHERSON

Book reports, Shakespeare, thesaurus, diagrams, verbal conjugations, transitive and intransitive verbs—these are just a few of the things about which most of the 850 students enrolled for the course in English can be heard moaning.

To try to increase the student's interest in the course and to aid in teaching effectiveness, the school has purchased a new radio-phonograph combination and has an excellent supply of records for the department which include the albums of Julius Caesar, Iliad, Legend of Sleepy Hollow, Silas Marner, Evangeline, The Rime of the Ancient Mariner, Macbeth, Treasure Island, A Tale of Two Cities, and others.

The shorthand department team is being coached by Mrs. M. C. Pattillo, shorthand, and Miss Mabel Torvie, typing.

The shorthand group will be organized and a team will be picked at a later date.

The typing group has been practicing dictation in the practice room to develop speed and accuracy. The group now trying for a place on the typing team are Gerald Mayo, Virginia McNaughton, Maxine Crossman, Martha Parks, Betty Simmons, Geraldine Perkins, Wadean Thomas, Margie Dixon, Dorothy Dixon, Joann Applebay, Mary Keough, Ola Mae Smith, Vivian Ann LeFevre, Jeanette Ford, Jesse Schillings and Violet Riegel.

The regular writers are in charge of Mrs. Mable Torvie, English instructor. Those working out for this contest are Mary Jo Stewart, Mary Jo Coffman, Bob Epps, Naneen Campbell, Cantrell Nash, Darrel Husted, Vaunclis Moore, Elaine King, Edwina Emerson, Pat Bolin, Arlin Givens and Dick Oden.

Other students who would like to enter this contest are urged to see Mrs. Torvie. The run-offs will be held next Thursday during the first and second periods.

Communitic Rule—Is This Tomorrow?

By PATTY BOLIN

Ed's Note "Is This Tomorrow?" is a magazine which has been circulating among PHS students during the last week.

Did you know that there are 85,000 official members of the communist party in the United States or do you care? Did you know that one half of the peoples of the world are living under communist domination or do you care? Did you know that communism can happen in this country or do you care?

Most people do care. Most people in this country are just silly enough to rather be free than slaves; healthy rather than starving; or an individual among individuals rather than just another speck in the mass of humanity.

People are agreed upon this. You will find no one to argue with over the above issues. The people of this country know what they want, but what they don't realize is that communism is more than a word in the dictionary. It is a decided threat to our way of life, to the way of life tomorrow may bring.

Now someone has come along and asked, "Is This Tomorrow?" "Is This Tomorrow?" is a simple book with a big wallop. It is required reading for all of us. If you haven't read this book yet, get it and read it.

"Is This Tomorrow?" shows the United States and how the Communist could gain control. It shows that this country has no magic word which makes it immune to the parasite of communism. Is this country doomed to be another Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland, or Russia. The answer lies with tomorrow and you. "Is This Tomorrow?" Is it indeed?

The math, commercial and English departments are now beginning work for the coming interscholastic league contest to be held in Amarillo in the spring.

In the math department, Mrs. E. L. Norman is in charge of the group who are working Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons for the number-sense contest. The contestants are tested by a series of mental questions.

A team will be chosen from the following students: Harold Smith, David Lamb, John Allen, Joyce Harrah, Barbara Malloy, Evelyn Forbau, Joan Ryan, Patsy Ellis, John High, John Friau, Jimmie Howard, Erwin McDowell, Kenneth Williams, Patsy Silyman, Kelvin Neil, Jean Cornelius, Betty Nelson, Patty Bolin, Gregory Keys and Mary Keough.

The commercial department team is being coached by Mrs. M. C. Pattillo, shorthand, and Miss Mabel Torvie, typing.

The shorthand group will be organized and a team will be picked at a later date.

The typing group has been practicing dictation in the practice room to develop speed and accuracy. The group now trying for a place on the typing team are Gerald Mayo, Virginia McNaughton, Maxine Crossman, Martha Parks, Betty Simmons, Geraldine Perkins, Wadean Thomas, Margie Dixon, Dorothy Dixon, Joann Applebay, Mary Keough, Ola Mae Smith, Vivian Ann LeFevre, Jeanette Ford, Jesse Schillings and Violet Riegel.

Other students who would like to enter this contest are urged to see Mrs. Torvie. The run-offs will be held next Thursday during the first and second periods.

Communitic Rule—Is This Tomorrow?

By PATTY BOLIN

Ed's Note "Is This Tomorrow?" is a magazine which has been circulating among PHS students during the last week.

Did you know that there are 85,000 official members of the communist party in the United States or do you care? Did you know that one half of the peoples of the world are living under communist domination or do you care? Did you know that communism can happen in this country or do you care?

Most people do care. Most people in this country are just silly enough to rather be free than slaves; healthy rather than starving; or an individual among individuals rather than just another speck in the mass of humanity.

People are agreed upon this. You will find no one to argue with over the above issues. The people of this country know what they want, but what they don't realize is that communism is more than a word in the dictionary. It is a decided threat to our way of life, to the way of life tomorrow may bring.

Now someone has come along and asked, "Is This Tomorrow?" "Is This Tomorrow?" is a simple book with a big wallop. It is required reading for all of us. If you haven't read this book yet, get it and read it.

"Is This Tomorrow?" shows the United States and how the Communist could gain control. It shows that this country has no magic word which makes it immune to the parasite of communism. Weather Changes Cause Untimely Conditions; Sunshine Beginning To Look Like a Mirage

By ARLIN GIVENS

Principal topic of conversation for the past two or three weeks has been the weather.

First it snowed, then it cleared, a little and gets extremely cold, then comes a freezing rain, more snow, fog, and finally a faint ray of sunlight worms its way through the overcast and for a few days it is warm. You think it is all over; then you arise one morning and it's foggy. Before the fog clears, we have three or four days of drizzle and rain.

Things have got to the point, what with so many weather changes, one doesn't know whether to fan himself or shiver. It changes more often than Mom changes baby brother.

Many students have been known, as soon as they arise each morning, to make a wild dash to their radios. They dial frantically for KFDY and the "Curststone Farmer," in hope that there will be no school that day.

If it is clear, every morning students pray that the weather will change, sure enough, by the time you get out in the afternoon, it has.

People don't know whether to get out their ice skates, or to grab their golf clubs and try a few holes of golf, or to wear their warm sweaters, scarves, and pea-jackets; besides summer slacks and sandals.

Thursday night the volleyball club had the installation of officers in an impressive candle-light ceremony. The club was seated in a semi-circle facing the lighted candles which represented the past three years of volleyball and this year. The captain, Dottie Jones and Co-captain Edelyn Pryor, took the promise and they in turn gave it to the girls in the club, after which they lighted each girls candle from their own. Each girl then made a wish and the candles were extinguished.

An hour's practice of volleyball then followed and then games with the exes. The games showed improvement in both the "A" and "B" squads.

The games were exciting, especially the game between the "A" and "B" squads. The game ended with a score of "B" team 15 and exes 10.

Vineyard Advises Seniors At Baptist Banquet Friday

"Opportunity doesn't knock." Mr. Pinkey Vineyard told the seniors at the third annual banquet given by the First Baptist Church Friday night. "You have to make the opportunities yourself."

"Be prompt, have an objective and be grateful," are a few of the other rules Mr. Vineyard suggested for a successful life.

The theme of decorations used in the church was "Twisted your wagon to a star." The ceiling was covered by strips of twisted crepe paper which radiated out from two large centrally located silver stars. Over three thousand small silver stars were attached to the strips of paper.

The table decorations were blue candles in silver star candle holders. The nut cups were tiny wagons made of blue crepe paper, which were attached to stars. In the center of the tables was a strip of blue crepe paper decorated with all sizes of silver stars.

There were white napkins on which were written "Seniors, 1948", in silver, and menu cards which were made of heavy blue paper and decorated with silver stars.

Mr. Herman Whitley served as toastmaster. Others on the program were Rev. E. Douglas Carver, who gave the invocation, Mrs. R. L. Edmondson, who gave the welcome address, and Don Lane, who gave the response.

The group was held in singing "Star Dust", "Stars Fell on Alabama", and "The Star Spangled Banner" by Miss Lyndelle Smith. Mrs. Douglas Carver accompanied the group on the piano.

Further entertainment was presented by Mrs. Luana Harrison from Borger. She presented a boy's quartet who sang "Tiger Ray", "The Whiffenpoof Song", "Will Dance at your Wedding." Accompanied by Pat Boles, a soprano, they sang "Now is the Hour" and "How Slow."

Girls serving at the banquet were Patsy Cox, Catherine MacNamara, Johnnye Sue Hart, Lea Ward, Mary Lou Hanks, Donna Nease, Barbara Coonrod, Nadine Pierce, Ottolene Patton, Arvella Patterson, June Brown, Phyllis Scheig, Pat Groninger, Bobbye Tucker, Joan Jack, Billie Groninger, Charlotte Young, Janice Ann Fahle, and Naneen Campbell.

A banquet of this type is given each graduating class by the W.M.U. and is sponsored by the church.

Book Salesmen Come To Sell Those Things

During the last two weeks the principal's office has been a busy place for Mr. Frank Wilson because of so many visitors.

Since this is the year new textbooks are to be chosen, many book salesmen have entered the office making strong attempts to put over the good points of their books.

The State Board of Education selects five books for each course. The school board, superintendent, the principal, and the teachers decide which one of these five books will be the new textbook for that course.

Although many of the courses will retain their present texts, some will get new books for next year. Among these courses are: English, all grammar departments; foreign language, Spanish I and II; social science, world history, commercial geography and economics; science, biology and general science; home economics; foods and clothing; public speaking; physical and health education; music orientation; and art appreciation.

SANDERS DINNER GUEST

June Sanders was guest of honor at a tea Thursday afternoon in the Home Economics kitchen. June Myatt and Janice Doggett were co-hostesses. Refreshments of hot chocolate and rolls were served.

Procrastination of the Student Can Be Stated In Simple Terms—One Excuse After Another

By BOB EPPS

"I feel like writin' a book" thought Joe (our imaginary goop) as he walked out the front door of PHS on Monday. "I tell my 1001 ways to get by on school work."

This cynic, and perhaps you, too, have felt the same way. You wonder how those task masters think up all the torture for you in the yellow brick slave house on the hill.

"Gee," thought Joe as the idea rebounded again and again in his brain. "I'll do it."

Many students never get a book written but they do know 1001 ways to skip school work. This collection represents many bright hours wasted that could have been put to constructive use.

One of the oldest (and possibly still the best) fix going home in the evening to find Mom and Pop busy other places at the moment, so you just get busy (?) and scatter a sheet or two of paper around where they can see it and then wait. Then comes good old Mom home from shopping and good old Pop home from work and here the skill of the trick begins.

"Mom, guess what?" you say. "I don't know," she replies. "It's working fine, so far, you think."

Thinclads Work For District Meet

In a statement which very much resembles that of a tobacco commercial, one could very easily say, "In District 1-AA, football is the Red Mayses, 2 to 1, and in 1-AA basketball, it's Derral Davis, 2 to 1," since both of these athletes led this district in scoring in each of their respective sports.

Now that the last cries of "Watch that end run," and "Block that crisp shot" have faded until they can no longer be heard, a new sports fad has made its debut and the question confronting sports fans could easily be, "What if the track team that our district 1-AA in the coming track season?"

With regular track practice being held every afternoon, despite the bad weather, Coaches Tom Tipps and Aubra Noncaster are striving to mold a track team that can represent Pampa High in the district track meet scheduled to be held in Canyon.

Most of last year's thinclads have returned for competition this year, although discuss hurler Bill Speer made Pampa High goodbye last May.

Hansel Kennedy and Jackie Williams are the two boys who will probably have the big job of filling Speer's shoes, while strong arm men Zeke Griffin and Ralph Hutzel have been brought in for the heavy job of shot put tossing.

Grid star Carl Mayses, entrant for the last two years in the Fort Worth Stock show, will again be burning up the cinders as one of the top 100-yard dash men in the state.

Lanky Derral Davis returns for the second time to lead the Pampa hurdlers, while a newcomer to the Pampa track squad, Dan Roche also shows promise of being a top-notch miler in the recent workouts. Lamar Lively, Jack Williams and Bob Hinkley car also be expected to turn in some good hurdling performances, while Rocky Anderson also has jumped and at times broad jumps in an effort to garner more points for Pampa High.

Another newcomer who was unable to participate in last year's track affairs due to an appendectomy as Harold Cox, a 440 meter, Grider Ralph Hutzel also runs the 440.

Several boys who are not specializing in any specific field of track are spending their afternoon getting in shape for next year's grid season.

Hughes to Have Panel At PHSPA Convention

Richard Hughes, Little Harvester sports editor, will be in charge of the sports sectional meeting during the afternoon session of the PHSPA convention March 6 in Canyon.

Approximately 22 members of the journalism department of Pampa High will attend this annual convention.

Don Lane, Little Harvester co-editor, will preside over the morning session.

The group will travel in a school bus, arriving in Canyon before nine, registration time.

Richard's Almanac

A story of the 1948 Harvester football team will appear in a national magazine in next fall. The publishers of the National High School Football annual, printed in Shelby, have chosen the Harvesters to be among a select group of high school teams from all over the country.

The school colors, coaches, cheerleaders, and the football managers will be recognized in the annual. The 1947 season's won-lost record will be published along with the squad roster. Poor Richard will write a short summary of the games for the annual.

The publishers also offer a money-making project that would give some high school organization a chance to make a good profit. If you are interested in details, get the information bulletin from Poor Richard.

You sports fans may be called upon to be pallbearers in the near future. The Letterman's Club idea is reportedly in very poor physical condition, and might pass on at any time. The physician's diagnosis—neglect.

Enthusiasm about the approaching baseball season are Charlie Lafoon, Derral Davis, G. W. Gamblin, and Ramon Hernandez. Coach Tipps states that practice will probably start between the first and fifteenth of April. No district schedule has been set up as yet.

Some PHS students seem to think that spring training will be held again this spring. A rule to abolish spring training went into effect this year. The no-spring-training rule was adopted to give the baseball, track, tennis, and other sports a chance to thrive.

Tracksters are vying for chances to participate in the Fort Worth Stock Show track meet on March 18 and 20.

Carl Mayses did a dance in the track dressing room last Tuesday. For details, consult Zeke Griffin.

Pampa has been a leader in discussing the future of the state. Miss Gladys Armstrong, a career advisor from America, visited the Pampa Home Economics department Friday afternoon. She had just returned from Washington where she attended a National Advisory council meeting.

28 Percent of Distillate Is of Texas Origin

DALLAS — Ray L. Miller, Dallas regional director of the Department of Commerce, has announced publication of an exhaustive study of the petroleum refining capacity of the United States.

The department's report, "United States Petroleum Refining—A Study of the Industry during the Years 1940-46. Changes in ownership and in types of production, new patterns of product demand, new techniques, geographical shifts of refining capacity, and the basic economic factors responsible for them, are covered in the report, which also projects anticipated 1950 petroleum product requirements.

The report estimates that: The 103 refineries in Texas in October, 1946—23 percent of the United States total—account for 28 percent of the Nation's crude distillation capacity. The crude capacity of these plants is 1,300,000 barrels a day, or 28 percent of the total capacity of the United States. Twelve of the 18 principal companies carry on refining operations in Texas; their plants making up three-fourths of the state total.

Capacity increases of 178,000 barrels per day at nine plants (eight in the principal company group) and a newly constructed government plant of 20,000 barrels per day not only offset the dismantling of 72,000 barrels per day but also accounted for four-fifths of the state's net increase since the beginning of 1940.

Crude production in Texas in 1945 amounted to 756 million barrels—44 percent of the United States total. Almost three-fifths of this production was delivered to refineries within the state and approximately 325 million barrels were supplied to plants in 19 other states, principally Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Indiana, Louisiana, and Illinois (in that order) which received about three-fourths of the out-of-state shipments.

Analysis of trends leading to ownership by fewer firms during the period studied reveals that on October 1, 1946, 18 large companies owned 75.8 percent of total U. S. refining capacity, as against 74.1 percent owned by the same companies on January 1, 1940. This seemingly small increase in their ownership of the total, is shown to have represented a gain of 17.8 percent in the capacity of the 18 firms. The remaining 233 refining companies, during the same period, increased their aggregate capacity by only 8.8 percent.

Booklet Points Up Bank Dealings

DALLAS — "The Small Businessman and His Bank," a booklet just released by the Department of Commerce, is designed to provide information and suggestions to small businessmen on bank loans—an important phase of their operations.

Care has been taken to verify the contents of this booklet with a number of representative bankers in order to insure an accurate picture of bank lending as an aid to small business. Ray L. Miller, Dallas regional director of the Department of Commerce, said in announcing the availability of the publication at a cost of ten cents per copy.

Small businessmen generally are not as familiar as they should be with the opportunities for borrowing needed funds which are available to them through the business loan policies, programs, and requirements of banks in their localities, Miller said.

Subjects discussed in the booklet include: desirable characteristics of a credit worthy business; typical business situations requiring credit; banks' requirements for prospective borrowers; types of financial data and forms required by lenders; a general credit basis for small business loans.

Also included are sample forms of balance sheets, profit and loss statements and loan application form.

Prisoner, Picture And Wall Disappear

ABERDEEN, Miss. —(AP)—Day after day a prisoner has been living in his bank, an admiring audience watching him from a magazine and put on the jail wall.

Now the prisoner has disappeared. So has the picture.

So has the portion of the wall which the picture covered.

The report states: Despite the large proportion of capacity owned by a relatively few companies, no one of them held more than 10 percent of the total, the report says.

The department's estimate of 1950 demand for gasoline and oil, based on analysis of consuming groups, indicates requirements totaling 2,180,000,000 barrels. To meet this figure, it will be necessary during the next two years to add 200,000 to 400,000 barrels daily to present refining capacity, according to the report.

Total demand for motor gasoline in 1950, exclusive of aviation uses, is placed at 936 million 42-gallon barrels. This represents an increase over present use of perhaps 15 to 16 percent, and is based on assumptions of a sound economic situation and high level of employment, with resulting use in 1950 of 34 million passenger cars, 7.2 million trucks and 3.2 million tractors. Demand for gasoline for passenger cars alone is expected to reach 604 million barrels, nearly two-thirds of all anticipated requirements.

The report estimates that in 1950, 4.5 million residential oil heaters will burn 213 million barrels of distillate oil, an average of 47 barrels each. Approximately 121 million barrels were consumed in domestic heaters in 1945, latest period for which consumption figures are available.

The report contains details of the ownership, location and capacity of the nation's refineries which should be of interest to consumers generally and particularly to businessmen who deal directly with the industry or whose operations are affected by the availability of petroleum products.

The 136-page volume includes many tables of basic statistics and a number of illustrations. Copies may be obtained from Department of Commerce field offices at 30 cents each, Miller said.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—The recovery shift continued for selected stocks and industrials in today's stock market as though plenty of opposition was encountered.

Trends were the strongest in the forenoon. Leaders wavered when springing commodities turned around but there was some hardening in the final hour.

Dealers, lively at intervals, showed after midday but volume for the full proceedings of around 500,000 shares was one of the largest since mid-February.

While gains of fractions to a point or more were well distributed at the close, numerous leaders edged into the minus column.

St. Louis Southwestern Railway common and preferred enjoyed a belated upswing when directors voted the first payment on the senior stock since 1930.

A. O. Smith common jumped several points on a few transactions in the wake of a proposed 100 percent stock dividend. Stocks pushed up in the morning but failed to follow through.

Better performers included Mission Corp. and Pacific Western Oil, on a revival of merger talk; Standard Oil (N.D.) Port, Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Paramount Pictures and Illinois Central.

County School Board Criticizes Appointment

WACO —(P)—J. E. Batson, McLennan County school superintendent, criticizes the appointment of John C. Young, manager of the Texas Power and Light Co. office here, to the statewide advisory committee of the Gilmer-Aliken Legislative Committee for the study of education.

Appointment of Young, vice president of the Texas Power and Light Company, was announced by State Senator James E. Taylor, committee chairman, from Kerens, Texas.

At a meeting of the School Board Batson stated: "Young and people like him on the committee represent big money and are willing to do anything they can for education so long as it doesn't cost them money."

Batson added that there are several representatives of big money on the committee and are "Too many of them," Dr. Lorenz Stretch, Baylor University professor and member of the County School Board, stated.

At the meeting Batson informed the School Board that McLennan County schools face the probability of closing a month early because of a shortage of $2,225,000 state teacher aid funds. The board adopted the following resolution:

"It being the understanding of this board that insufficient funds have been provided by the state Legislature for maintenance of our public schools for the current year, and it being the opinion of this board that it would not be best to ask teachers to teach our children without pay; now therefore be it resolved by this board that our Governor be requested to complete such plans as may be necessary to insure that our schools shall operate this year for their full terms with full payment to the teachers for their services."

Congress Is Hit On Subject of Coastal Waters

WASHINGTON —(P)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) has said Congress should speedily take the "cloud" off title to land under the nation's coastal waters.

Knowland asserted in a prepared statement before a Senate-Home Committee that Congress should approve legislation to give the states clear title to such lands.

The issue came to a head last summer when the Supreme Court held that the federal government has primary rights in the land and oil resources under the waters off California's coast.

The California senator argued that, while other states were not directly involved in that decision, the same reasoning that applied there could be applied to the other 47 states.

Representatives of more than two score states expect to testify in support of the bill to give the states clear ownership to coastal lands.

"A major encroachment has been made upon the sovereignty of the states," Knowland said.

"Unless the challenge is met now the precedent established will spread like an atomic chain reaction and no man can possibly predict with certainty where it will stop."

Turkey Production To Decrease in '48

SAN ANTONIO —(P)—Turkey production in Texas during 1948 will be approximately 25 percent less than last year, F. Z. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist, Texas A & M extension service, has declared.

Beamblossom who last year developed the boneless turkey steak production method, said the drop in production would help wipe out the surplus of turkeys in cold storage. He said approximately 140,000,000 pounds of turkeys and turkey meat were held in storage Jan. 1, 1947, as compared with approximately 70,000,000 pounds this year.

Texas and Oklahoma lead all southern states in turkey breeding, he said.

Oil Production Sets New Record

TULSA, Okla. —(P)—The United States production of crude oil set another new record last week, the Oil & Gas Journal has reported.

The Journal said the output for the week ended Feb. 21 averaged 5,379,320 barrels daily, 3,775 barrels more than the previous week's all-time high.

A 5,480-barrel increase in Wyoming, which had an average production of 135,970 barrels, was a big factor in the climbing production.

Other sizeable increases were in the Eastern Area, up 1,570 barrels to 62,700; Illinois, 2,300 to 174,800; Kentucky, 2,100 to 27,000; Mississippi, 1,450 to 120,700; Oklahoma, 1,200 to 110,000; and Colorado, 1,970 to 46,950.

Michigan, Indiana, Alabama, Florida and Montana had gains of 950 barrels or less.

Only four states reported declines: They were: Kansas, down 12,800 barrels to 216,650; Arkansas, 2,000 to 86,800; Louisiana, 1,480 to 132,800; and California, 1,300 to 132,800.

Production in Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas was unchanged.

WASHINGTON — Southern rebels have shown a great degree of skepticism over President Truman's reelection prospects in their recent discussions with National Chairman J. Howard McGrath. They have pooh-poohed his solemn warnings that a Dixie desertion might create a domestic and world uncertainty at this grave moment in history by tossing the decision to the 435 members of the House.

COCKY — Margarine lobbyists on Capitol Hill have become so cocky that they are demanding federal taxes on the colored variety of their product that they are fighting among themselves over the spoils. In fact, they are even offering a compromise to the hostile and powerful butter-and-egg men.

LUCK — With Henry A. Wallace running strong in such states as Massachusetts, New York, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and California, Southern spokesmen have told Mr. McGrath flatly that they do not think Mr. Truman can roll up 150 electoral votes north of the Potomac and west of the Ohio Rivers. In short, they do not believe that he can be reelected, whether they revolt or not.

SO THEY SAY
Leisure alone can't ease us free; and only in Russia is there any legal right to leisure.
—George Bernard Shaw, British playwright.

DESERVE — "Anyway," Mr. McGrath usually concludes in these weary arguments, "why help to elect a Republican when they favor the same civil rights program that President Truman does? It will be Republican votes on

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NRA) — There's no big mystery about Robert Walker's six-month vacation from the screen, as some would have you believe. Bob is back at work now in "One Touch of Venus" at U. I., and laughing at all the rumors that made the rounds during his absence. He told me:

"It was simply that I was fed up with bad roles. I'm a ham and I like good one. I was in one stinker after another at the G-M and called them up one day and said:

"Let's call it quits for a while. Take me off salary and I'll see if I can't find a play. I tried but I couldn't find a play I liked. This is the best role I've had in a long time."

Ava Gardner is Venus, the statue that comes to life. Her robes for the role are so filmy that a fellow follows her around the set with a portable electric heater. The studio hired a sculptor and Ava herself posed for the statue. As a finishing touch, the sculptor added a filmy robe to the nude to keep the censors from bursting any blood vessels.

Director Anatole Litvak asked his prop man for some pigeons for an Italian set in "Sorry, Wrong Number." He needed them Wednesday, said Litvak, and I need them to look like the same kind of pigeons they have in Italy.

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

The New York Herald Tribune formerly was known to the profession and the laity as a pillar of the Republican Party. The British Empire and the Church of England. It was stodgy, elderly, and, according to its own lights and heresies, holy.

A change began early in the New Deal which has now become lodged as though some incredible old spinster with corkscrew curls and lace mitts had suddenly gone tarting in the taverns, picking up and talking sex in a way to embarrass the very professionals lurking in the booths.

Whatever its formal party affiliation, the Herald Tribune, as of now, must be judged by its company and its editorial manners and these are inconsistent with the old girl's past.

In brief, and ignoring a weed growth of trivial signs to the contrary, this paper reflects the editorial and political policies of Joseph Barnes, whose title is foreign editor. An aggressive foreign editor is likely to be quite different on any metropolitan paper in these days of great alarms, and the household rank and protocol on the Herald Tribune since the death of H. V. Hodson, who enlarged the power of Mr. Barnes. Of himself, he says in Who's Who that he is now 41; Harvard, '27 (and thus a prodigy, he warned); studied also at Universities of Grenoble and London (the old world); Patristic study and travel in London and Russia, 1927-29; returned to Russia, 1931; on staff of Institute of Pacific Relations, including travel through Manchuria, China, Japan, 1931-34; deputy dir. overseas branch, Office of War Information, 1941-44; accompanied Wendell Willkie to Russia and China, 1942; foreign editor, H.T. since 1944.

Joe Davies in his "Mission to Moscow" reports that both Barnes and his wife were radicals and says he was "informed" that Mrs. E. was much more radical than her husband. He described her, a little fearfully, as a woman of "very definite opinions" and a "determined woman." He favored Mrs. Davies might have been that she had formerly been the wife of Frederick Vanderbilt Field, a millionaire who was cited 25 times in the reports of the Dies Committee on un-American activities up to 1946 as a fellow affiant in the current of Russian, totalitarian and communistic affairs in the United States. Field is an associate in the ideological and political movement, the voluminous paradox of Wall Street and Union Square who gets an income of about $60,000 from the sentimental providence of his late father, Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the Board of J. P. Morgan and Co. Corliss lives like a rich Hollywood illiterate struck with social conscience, and maintains a group of 15 CIO union publications in New York whose policies might offend Americans but never a Muscovite.

I bow to the dictum of those who hold that there is nothing so fine or, anyway, so imperative, in the life of a man as the counsel of a woman wise and good. Accordingly, I take it that Mrs. Barnes, of the Board of J. P. Morgan and Co., Corliss lives like a rich Hollywood illiterate struck with social conscience, and maintains a group of 15 CIO union publications in New York whose policies might offend Americans but never a Muscovite.

STRANGE DREAM WORLD
WASHINGTON (NRA) — Henry Wallace left out a whole paragraph that is apparent in the House Foreign Affairs Committee to read his 12,000 word statement against the European Recovery Program.

Through page after page of his statement runs this same note of unreality. He's an optimist, he says. He thinks both capitalism and communism can survive in the same world. There doesn't have to be a showdown. This is a religious war, like in the 1500's.

club car of the Wall Street special to Greenwich.
It was first interesting indications rather than declarations of policy.
A few months ago, one of the executive editors of the H-T went on the air in a discussion with William S. Gailmor. That is anyone's privilege.

Such "recognition" of course, is understood to confer prestige on the rogue who got it. The responsibility therefore lies with the New York Herald Tribune for whatever conclusions the public may draw.

Lewis Gannett is the book reviewer. Gannett's selections of books seem whimsical. In a review of a book by Robert S. Allen, formerly a professional political gossip in Washington, Gannett remarked gratuitously that "the church-ridden city (Boston) is one of the most corrupt in America."

The church that Gannett plainly means is the Catholic Church and the intention plainly was to suggest that the Catholic clergy of Boston were morally guilty in this corruption. A much worse corruption has existed before Gannett's eyes.

But only a few weeks ago, driven and deviled to desperation, the New York guild finally did vote the election dodgers which did the trick carried the summons: "Let's clean Communist influence out." This ran right alongside a letter from Gannett saying: "It's the same old gang again; the boys who in 1941 supported the North American strike, etc. It's time the New York guild was run by men who think their own thoughts for themselves."

He still doesn't call a Communist a Communist, although the Herald Tribune did not hesitate to identify the Catholic Church as a degrading institution in Boston. It might be observed here that there is no force in the United States more vigorously opposed to communism than the Catholic church which Mr. Gannett damned as a corruption.

JUST LIVE RIGHT

NEED FOR NEW FACES
It is that the Communist Party in the 16th century—not the 20th or the 21st? Wallace said he thought there was no danger Russia would penetrate Western Europe.

Everything would be all right if there were just some new faces in the executive end of the U. S. government. They'd have to get together with the Russians to discuss the whole world problem and get an understanding.

Air Force Recruits On Reduced Basis

Enlistments for the U. S. Air Force have been placed on a reduced monthly basis, M/Sgt. Otis S. Cook, recruiter here, said today. This quota applies to all men enlisting for the U. S. Air Force other than those re-enlisting within 90 days from date of service, and unmarried high school graduates who enlist for a specific Air Force school under the provisions of the aviation career plan. Married personnel who have had no prior service are not eligible for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force. However, this applies only to the Air Forces and does not apply to the Army Ground Forces. Mr. Cook said.

Air Force applications that are received by the local recruiting office will be placed on a waiting list and will be accepted as a vacancy exists, it was said.

Texas Has Most Nation's Disasters

AUSTIN —(AP)—Texas' boastful claims of "more and better" of everything were sobered with the addition of another—the most natural disasters. In its Texas Report to the Governor for 1947, the American Red Cross declared Texas "by far the worst" afflicted state in the country in a year when natural disasters made more headlines than at any time in the past decade.

The Texas claim was bolstered with explosive fires, tornadoes, windstorms, hailstorms, tropical storms and wrecks.

A short time later there was a terrific boom, the witness said.

Jewish sources said the Stern Gang declared the attack was carried out because the Salameh building housed Arab military quarters. A police official said this was nonsense. He said until recently the building's roof had been used by the British as an army observation post.

Where the U.N. Assembly Will Meet in Paris

Paris' famed Palais de Chaillot in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower will be the meeting place of the 57-country United Nations General Assembly next fall. Shown here is one of the semi-circular structures of the main buildings. Below the terrace is the modern, 3000-seat theatre where the General Assembly's plenary sessions will be held.

County Stock in Good Showing

Opening day of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show saw Gray County and Pampa taking some of the honors. In the sale of 71 commercial calves, top-selling animal was run through the auction arena by Brent Caruth, son of A. B. Carruth.

The Panhandle Packing Co. here, through its representative, W. H. Burden, gave the most consistent support to the sale, it was said. Burden purchased 15 animals from A.H. and P.F.A. owners.

In the parade of brooder stock, Combs-Worley entries stood near the top. Reserve champion bull went to Combs-Worley; and the Gray County firm took both the grand and reserve championships in the female classes.

Chambers County Gets Deep Well

HOUSTON —(AP)— An oil well with a total depth of 12,100 feet has been established in Chambers County and is believed to be the deepest in Texas.

The well, drilled by the Humble Oil and Refining Company, was completed at 12,021.26 feet in Lower Frio sand for 135 barrels of 49.2 gravity oil daily.

The previous record in Texas is believed to be Slick-Urschel-Plymouth's No. 1 Alford, discovery well of the new Benedum Field in Upton County. Total depth was 12,022 feet.

ago and that bone cancer was found in a patient in whom cancer had not been indicated by X-rays.

The physician described the test as "electrophoresis" and said it was made by passing an electric current through blood samples. The current causes proteins to move to the negative and positive electrodes.

Dr. Hugh J. Creech, another researcher, said he and other scientists at the hospital's institute have immunized mice against some types of cancer and are studying ways of applying the same methods to humans.

Cancer Detected By Blood Test

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Human cancer has been detected in one instance by a blood test. Dr. Stanley P. Reimann, director of Lankenau Hospital's Institute for Cancer Research, has disclosed.

Dr. Reimann emphasized, however, that no new cancer cures have been found and said "we must guard against raising false hopes."

Dr. Gail Miller, a scientist at the hospital's institute, said the blood test was made two weeks

Expansion of Water System Is Planned

For the development of Pampa's water supply, City Manager Steve Matthews has announced that the city has purchased 21,800 feet of water pipe at a total cost of $87,406.

With the promise of delivery within six months, the city purchased 16,400 feet of 16-inch (classification 150) concrete pipe at $4.45 a foot and 2,800 feet of 14-inch concrete pipe (classification 100) at $3.75 a foot from the Crawford-Hill-American Inc., of Dallas.

Delivery in 12 months has been promised the city on 2,600 feet of 8-inch transite pipe (classification 100) from the Johns-Manville Transite Pipe Co.

The classification number of the pipe is the number of pounds pressure per square inch.

A resolution directing the city engineer to prepare and file estimates, rolls, etc., in connection with proposed improvements on portions of streets, avenues and alleys in the city was passed before the city commission at their weekly meeting yesterday.

This program will be in addition to the present paving program which the city is carrying out. It will include the paving of ten miles of additional streets in the city and the paving of seven alleys.

The ordinance and the street to be paved will be published in the legal notices, at the time the estimates are presented to the commission on "Labor and Industry."

A bill of $665 to be paid the Park-Owen Construction Co. for the laying 1,800 feet of sewer lines to the Talley Addition during the month of February was approved by the city commission.

The average depth of the ditches ranged from 14 to 22 feet.

The commission also approved the payment of a bill to the W. R. Colville Construction Co., of $1,409.16 for 1,361.5 feet of curb and gutter paving laid during the month of February.

Safety Check May Save Your Neck!

(Third of a Series)
A safety check may save your neck!

That was the terse advice offered today by W. J. Elliott, chief of the Texas Highway Patrol, in urging motorists to keep their cars in tip-top shape.

"We are cooperating with safety authorities throughout the nation in a 'Learn and Obey Traffic Laws' program during February," Chief Elliott said. "This program assures that your car has certain equipment for safety, and it's there when the manufacturer delivers the car. But it is up to the driver to keep it working properly."

He said National Safety Council figures show that 18 percent of all vehicles involved in fatal accidents are defective. A recent nationwide police check-up showed one out of three cars defective, and one out of seven with bad brakes.

The major safety equipment was listed as brakes, lights, mirror, windshield wiper, horns and safety glass. Many of these items will wear out or become damaged with use, and the motorist must see that they are maintained in good condition.

"Periodic inspection by trained mechanics is the answer," Captain Polk Ivy of the Amarillo District said. "Professional drivers, such as truck drivers, inspect their vehicles before every trip. That's a good idea for every driver, and it would save a lot of lives."

Diaper Service Proposal Blocked

BOSTON —(AP)— The Massachusetts Senate has rejected a proposal allowing diaper services to make emergency deliveries on Sundays.

Even the strange alliance of two bachelors and father of twins couldn't sway the measure. Sen. Philip G. Bowker, a bachelor, said he was all wrapped up in the subject and didn't intend to pin anything on anybody.

"But it's time for a change," he added.

"This measure," Bowker said, "will provide relief for the little folks."

Waving a baby doll and a diaper, another bachelor, Sen. Charles W. Olson, seconded Bowker's remarks.

Lake Marvin is 16 miles east of Canadian, and the civic groups of Canadian have expressed keen interest in both the camp site for the Scouts and the development of the lake program by the Game Fish and Oyster Commission.

Texas Christian and Southern Methodist wind up their Southwest Conference basketball seasons tonight in Fort Worth.

City Purchases Motor Sweeper

A Wayne Motor Sweeper has been purchased by the city of Pampa from the Conley, Lot, Nichols Machine Co. of Dallas and Lubbock.

The new sweeper is powered with a Ford industrial motor, and is equipped with two gutter brooms, two pick-up brooms, one 165-gal. water tank with eight nozzles and hydraulic control.

The machine will be delivered to the city April 5 at a cost of $7,750 FOB Los Angeles.

The city has two sweepers on order but have been notified that a delay of 12 months in the delivery of these two machines is expected. With reference to the above, the city commission has authorized the city manager to cancel the orders for these two machines upon the arrival of the Wayne Sweeper.

Operation of the sweeper will be restricted to the residential area in the day time, and to the business section between the hours of one and 6 o'clock in the morning. The above schedule will prohibit parking in the business section during the hours the sweeper will be in use.

A little care saves a lot of wear!

A Spring change from contaminated, old winter oil to Nth Motor Oil protects from grit and dust that can ruin the inside as well as the outside finish of your car!

Conoco Nth Motor Oil (Patented)* contains a special added ingredient that fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that metal surfaces are actually OIL-PLATED!

This OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls while you're running hot and when you're not... won't all drain down into the crankcase even overnight! That's why Nth Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from sludge and carbon caused by wear.

So, for extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles...

Make a date to OIL-PLATE!
