Kickoff Breakfast Wednesday Will Launch Pampa-Lefors United Fund

By WALLY TRUEDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The Boy Scouts will make about 115 phone calls Wednesday to get campaigners up for the United Fund Kickoff breakfast. Clyde Dickerson, general campaign chairman of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund, told the Daily News today. The $64,000 United Fund Campaign will kick off at 7 a.m. in the Pampa High School Cafeteria, with Jon Jones, minister of the Mary Ellen at Harvester Church of Christ, as the main speaker.

Major, captains, volunteers and members of the eight United Fund agencies will meet for breakfast and a distribution of prospect cards to get the campaign on its way.

The agencies are the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Heart Fund, Milk Fund, Salvation Army, USO and the Welfare Index. They all pool their efforts in the annual drive and so have no need to conduct drives of their own. The United Fund this year, E. E. Shelhamer, president of the United Fund Board, will emcee the kickoff and Rev. Dick Crews, pastor of the Pampa First Christian Church, will give the invocation. A woman sure to be seen when the solicitation cards come out will be Mrs. Emmett Gee, the year round worker in the United Fund office. Six divisions will carry the United Fund drive to its completion. By name they are the Industrial, Retail, Oil & Gas, Services, Professional and Wholesale Divisions.

W. L. Loving, a vice president of the Carbon Black Plant, Cabot Carbon Company, heads the Industrial Division. His captains are H. V. Wilks, Calvin Whitley, Ken Reeves, G. F. Branson and H. D. McWaters. Wilks will head solicitation at Celanese and Whitley at Cabot. They consequently have a great responsibility in the success of the drive.

The major of the Retail Division is Travis Lively Jr. Lively has seven captains. Dale Thut, Melvin Jayroe, Tom Beard, Neil Johnson, Mabel Ford, John Gikas and J. C. Roberts. Workers are Bill Elkins, Jack Miller, Bill Rutledge, Al Doucette, Bill Chambliss, James Gallemore, Jim Crouch, Buck Worley, Dick Wilson, John Truby, Jerry Crawford, Clarence Qualls, Bill Barber, James Chenoweth, Charles Thompson, Tom Atkin, Bob Black, Ray Fowler, Mrs. Dorothy Francis, Mrs. Audrey Osborn, Mrs. Bob Gordon, Mrs. Calvin Whitley, Mrs. C. E. Boswell, James Hart, M. H. Taylor, Bill Garrett, David Crossman, Dick Zimmerman, Ed Cleveland, Mrs. Winnie Cole, Jean Robins and Russell Kennedy.

Major of the Oil and Gas Division is Max Bolick, District superintendent of Cities Service, C. S. Youngblood is at the head of the Service Companies Subdivision and M. O. Wilson leads Supply Companies. Louis P. Clark, Paul Wiley and Gris Rogers are the men on the Major Oil Companies Subdivisions.

Newt Secret, Services major, has three captains, Lewis Hackley, Jerald Sims and W. T. Seitz. Workers are Sherron Haralson, J. C. Roberts, Suna Lee Moores and P. O. Gault.

The Professional Division major is A. J. Carrubi Jr., an associate of Gordon, Gordon and Buzard. Carrubi's division is made up of ministers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and teachers. Melvin Peels heads the ministers group, J. B. Maguire, the Lawyers; T. M. Whiteley, doctors; Pat LeBlanc, dentists; and Jack Edmondson, teachers. H. Cameron Marsh is in charge of solicitation at Pampa Junior High School and Jack Nichols at Robert E. Lee.

The Wholesale Division has Gene Pathrose for a major. His captains are Dr. J. L. Chase and Jack Hood.

CLYDE DICKERSON SPEAKS

United Fund Chairman Tells Of Red Cross' Importance

Clyde Dickerson, general campaign chairman of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund, stressed the importance of Red Cross participation to the United Fund drive, today. A. J. Carrubi Jr. introduced Dickerson at the early morning meeting of the Pampa Red Cross Board. Carrubi is a major in the campaign as well as Red Cross fund chairman.

In the course of his talk, Dickerson pointed out other board members in key spots. Newt Secret, major of the Services Division and Herschel Wilks, who, as a captain in the Industrial Division, is in charge of the solicitation at the Celanese Plant. Carrubi is major of the Professional Division.

Dickerson said he would be seeing all the Board members again at the kickoff breakfast Wednesday at 7 a.m.

The Red Cross gets a large part of its budget from the United Fund and therefore does not conduct a separate fund drive. The part of its budget it does not get from the United Fund, it derives from voluntary contributions and from memberships.

At this meeting, Bob Blackburn, Red Cross field representative from Amarillo, presented Chapter Chairman John Gikas with a certificate of honor for distinguished achievement in the 1958 campaign for members and funds. Executive Secretary Mrs. F. W. Shotwell commented that the last time this honor came to the chapter was 1952. The achievement came about during the term of Johnny Campbell as Chapter chairman.

The Red Cross has been an agency of the United Fund for the six years that the fund has operated in Pampa. Mrs. Shotwell made this reply to a question by Kay Fancher, chairman of the Public Information Committee.

The Board conducted its usual business, hearing reports from chairmen of the operating committees.

Miss Sylvia Grider, president of the Pampa High School Junior Red

Cross, has been named a resource person with the Midwest Advisory Council of the Junior Red Cross, Sam Beget, Junior Red Cross chairman, reported. Beget said that the annual breakfast for JRC members, principals and teacher sponsors would take place Nov. 4.

A new class of Gray Ladies, ready for caps, will be honored at a coffee in Lovett Memorial Library, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Oct. 29, according to Lorene Locke, chairman of volunteers.

W. C. Puryear and Roy Russell are conducting standard first-aid classes at the Celanese Plant. E. V. Pemberton, First Aid chairman, reported. And Mrs. Wayne Jones will begin a course Nov. 17. Pemberton recommended that the chapter provide two more instructors with the mobile first aid units. The Board voted to purchase the two units, bringing the total in instructors cars to 15.

Herschel Wilks has spliced all the water safety films taken since the program started, according to Water Safety Chairman James Hart. The spliced film will be available to PTA and other interested groups.

The Board chose Mrs. Shotwell and Mrs. Suna Lee Moores as its official delegates to the Red Cross Conference in San Antonio Nov. 14, 15.

Twelve registered nurses have pledged their services to the Red Cross as home nurses. Mrs. Harry Hoyler said in a final announcement.

PHONE INCREASE PASSES ON ITS SECOND READING

Ordinance 509, a proposition to hike Pampa telephone rates, was passed at its second reading this morning by the Pampa City Commission. If passed the ordinance will raise both residential and business rates in Pampa about 20 percent. A third reading is needed for passage.

Appearing at the meeting to boost the ordinance was Bill Stephens, Pampa, a union employee representative for the Communications Workers of America. He told the commission the rate raise was "long overdue," but, he added, so was a hike in pay for the 108 Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. workers in Pampa.

Stephens said the telephone

$33 Loss In Burglary

A burglar at the H and C Magnolia service station, 120 S. Chrysler, passed up an open cash register sometime last night while taking two chamois rags, the tools and several cans of oil.

Operator Oscar Hamon told police he discovered the burglary at 7:10 this morning. Articles stolen totaled about $33. Officer Bob Crouch, who investigated, said entrance was gained by breaking a window glass in the station's grease and wash rack room, and then breaking down a barred inner door.

POLICE, FBI MIGHT CRACK BOMB CASES

Air Force, Defense Dept. Admit Goof

By CARLES CORDDEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department and Air Force admitted today they committed what was probably a historic blunder Saturday when they announced that the "Pioneer" moon rocket had escaped the pull of earth's gravity.

About 90 minutes after the rocket was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and when it was some 20,000 miles above the earth's surface, a previously prepared press release was issued proudly asserting that the lunar probe rocket was "the first man-made object known to escape the earth's gravitational field."

It was no such thing. And officials acknowledged today it was never intended to escape from gravity since it was headed for the moon which itself is within the earth's gravitational influence.

The blunder was a sample of difficulties encountered in handling the sensational rocket launching. Some reporters and several officials considered that information on the whole lunar probe program could have been handled better and faster.

Hold Back Information

For example, many rocket authorities suspected and probably knew 24 hours before it was announced that the Pioneer would not go farther than about 80,000 miles and that its speed was a few hundred miles an hour less than intended. But the world was deprived of that information until 3 p.m. a.d.t. Sunday news conference at the National Academy of Sciences here.

The rocket was launched at 4:42 a.m. e.d.t. Saturday. After midnight that day very little information on its position or scientific findings was released prior to the Sunday news conference for which the data apparently was being held back.

Asked by United Press International for an explanation of the blunder about escaping gravity, the Pentagon said today its press release of Saturday "was technically inaccurate in that it was never intended that Pioneer should escape the earth's gravitational field completely."

Admits Mistake

Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Atlantic missile range at Cape Canaveral, said Monday the mistake simply "slipped by all of us."

"One thing is clear," said Yates who is rapidly becoming one of the military services' better experts in public relations: "Before the next moon probe, those of us charged with reporting our own operation to the press and other news media must familiarize ourselves with the new terminology of space flight."

"I sincerely hope this slip will be excused and, as such, that it will not dull our honest appreciation of the tremendous achievements of the Pioneer's flight," he said.

Yates, whose statement was issued through the Pentagon, sought to take on a share of the blame. He said the offending press release had been "thoroughly coordinated" throughout rocket and space circles.

Atlanta Blast Thought Set Last May 5th

By LEON BURNETT
United Press International

ATLANTA (UPI)—Police disclosed today they have corroborated a suspect's statement that a bomb plot against the Atlanta Jewish temple was hatched at a meeting of an anti-Semitic underground organization here last May 5.

Officers have the names of the five men who attended the meeting.

Authorities appeared to be on the verge of cracking wide open a terror attack on Jewish synagogues and temples in the South.

Local authorities, working with the FBI, were confident they were on the right track of a solution. They have been working around the clock on the case since dynamite ripped a huge hole in the fashionable temple shortly before 4 a.m. Sunday, causing $200,000 damage.

Detective Sgt. M. W. Blackwell said a suspect had signed a statement, whose details have been corroborated (confirmed) by police, about preliminary plans for the temple bombing.

Blackwell said the man, whose name was not revealed, told of a "small but very well organized" anti-Semitic group at work in the south. He said this group was responsible for the Atlanta job.

The suspect said most large towns in the South have a few members, in most cases "just a handful in a town."

Blackwell said the FBI is checking on information from the suspect that links members in Michigan and Florida. He said the dynamite for the temple job was to have been procured in Harlan, Ky., a coal mining center where explosives can be obtained in quantity. He said the man who was to have actually touched off the blast was from Birmingham, Ala.

The suspect said he personally was not in on the blast, although he attended the May 5 strategy session here. He was not invited to other meetings, he said, because he objected to such violence as dynamiting.

Atlanta Detective Lt. J. L. Moseley would say only that officers were continuing to question suspects in the bombing of a Jewish temple here Sunday, and that "with the cooperation of other enforcement agencies, we hope to break the case."

But the atmosphere in the Detective Bureau, nerve center of the probe, was one of subdued elation and optimism.

"There are several more persons we want to talk to that we

Mentally Twisted Person Is Blamed

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Explosion of a homemade bomb damaged the windows and interior of a Jewish temple early today and police and FBI agents planned to question a youth involved in a bomb scare at another temple last year.

The explosive in the bomb, packed into a short iron pipe, was black powder, police determined. It went off in a stairwell leading to the basement of the Arshai Emeth Temple on the near north side of this city.

Rabbi Joseph Ginsberg, whose congregation numbers about 250 families, said he thought the bombing was conceived by a "twisted mind." Mayor Eugene Letter of Peoria agreed with the rabbi that "we have had no history here" of anti-Semitism and that the bombing must be the work of a mentally twisted person, although it was "regrettable, of course."

Rogers Raps Communism In Address Here

Police Capt. George Johnson said that a bomb, also homemade, was found last year where another Jewish temple was being built. It failed to explode.

Johnson recalled that this also was a black powder bomb, and he said that among the first persons to whom police would talk would be two teen-age boys. One was questioned about the bomb found at the other temple last year. The other was injured last year in an explosion of powder which he had in his possession.

Police investigating the blast spotted two men fleeing in an alley behind the temple. Officers fired at the men when they failed to halt, and patrolman Paul Fisher said he believed one of the men was wounded.

However, authorities discovered a drug store at the rear of the temple had been burglarized at about the same time as the explosion, and police believed the men were fleeing the store. In a car apparently abandoned by the two men, police found a loaded .38 caliber pistol and burglary tools.

Police Question Suspects

City Police Capt. George Johnson recalled a homemade bomb had been found last year at the construction site of an orthodox Jewish synagogue, but the bomb failed to go off.

Johnson said police would question a number of suspects in today's blast and he indicated they were persons who had come under suspicion in the earlier incident.

Court Rejects Water Issue

ALTON, Tex. (UPI)—The Neches River Conservation District has revealed that the Supreme Court rejected its pleas for a trial of issues in the controversy over construction of a multiple-purpose dam at McGee Bend on the Angelina River.

Water district president Gus Whiteman of Alto said the Supreme Court informed the district of its rejection Monday.

These were Judge Bruce Parker, chairman of the County Commission, O. L. Tibbets, J. M. McCracken and G. L. "Nat" Lunsford, County commissioners; Ed Myatt, Bob Olson, and G. K. Parkley, City commissioners; Mayor Lynn Boyd, Grainger McIlhenny, representative of the 57th Legislative District, and State Senator Grady Hazelwood from Amarillo.

E. L. Henderson, president of the Pampa C-C, gave "A Tribute to Our Public Officials," saying that citizens have the responsibility of communicating their will to the officials they put in office.

Attorney Arthur Teed introduced Rogers. The meeting closed with Mrs. Lavinia Webb's rendition of "God Bless America."

Johnny Belinda Rated Over TV Production, Bernadette

TV SPECTACULAR — It's no western drama or murder mystery that is showing up on the screen in upper left. What is being watched is a medical breakthrough. A newly developed X-ray machine for the first time allows an entire internal organ to be viewed as it functions, in this case a heart. Technician Bob House and a model, Erma Bowersock, demonstrate the machine in Cleveland, Ohio.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Last night you had to choose between the 90-minute "Johnny Belinda" on NBC-TV and the 60-minute "Bernadette" on CBS-TV's "Desilu Playhouse." They overlapped. Last week, I attended a preview of the filmed "Bernadette" and I couldn't recommend it. It struck me as a botched job — clumsily written, stiffly directed and, with only a couple of exceptions, awkwardly acted. I had read the script of the live "Johnny Belinda" which stars Julie Harris and Christopher Plummer, actors of enormous skill. "Johnny Belinda" gets my vote.

Ed Murrow's "Small World" unbuttoned Sunday on CBS-TV and although the opener had its limp spots, it's a show with great potential. Sunday's episode offered Murrow in a four-way chat with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, author Aldous Huxley who was in Italy and Thomas E.

Dewey who was in Portland, Maine. It was done through the use of film and long distance telephone and radio, all of it recorded earlier in the month and spliced together.

The principal fault of the opener was that the participants didn't engage in much of a conversation — there was very little feeding back and forth and as a result Murrow had to keep pushing things along. What the show needs is an hour instead of its present 90-minute so that there'll be more of a feeling of flow. What it also needs in each group is a balloon-buster who'll keep the talk from getting pompous and provide some leaven.

NBC-TV bunched "Swiss Family Robinson" into a one-hour special Sunday and it was pretty soggy going, enlivened only by a rather waspish relationship between Mama (Laraine Day) and Papa (Walter Pidgeon). Dennis Hooper in the role of the older son checked in with his usual skillful performance. I caught two one-hour Westerns over the weekend and one of them, ABC-TV's "Maverick," was quite good. Its script, "The Belcastle Brand," was written by Marion Hargrove and it had bite and wit. Jim Garner, Reginald Owen and Joan Egan turned in dandy jobs.

The other Western was the debut of NBC-TV's "Cimarron City" with George Montgomery and guest stars Fred MacMurray and Audrey Totter. Its script was a good deal meatier than most Westerns, but no matter how well the series shapes up it's in for a tough season — for some strange reason it's been slotted opposite two successful CBS-TV Westerns, "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke."

There were three premiers on Friday: CBS-TV's "A Package Deal" "You're Hit Parade" and it was in-offensive pap if your taste runs in that direction. ABC-TV trotted out "77 Sunset Strip," a show that looked like the second half of a movie private eye series with the usual quota of corpses, fist fights and cumbrous wit. It has a good chance of making it.

The third debut was ABC-TV's "Man With A Camera," another standard adventure series with one notable exception: It stars Charles Bronson, a gentleman with a weird-O haircut who ranks as one of the most offbeat TV heroes ever.

The Channel swim: Kermit Bloomgarden, producer of such Broadway vehicles as "The Music Man," "Look Homeward, Angel" and "Death of A Salesman," will turn out two live special shows for NBC-TV over the next two years. Mac Hyman, author of "No Time For Sergeants," will prepare a new TV series, "Promenade Home," for Screen Gems, an independent outfit. The series will be a family comedy set in Ozarks. Noel Willman, originally scheduled to play the title role in

Pope's Tomb Lies Below Peter's Grave

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The tomb of Pope Pius XII lies below St. Peter's Basilica in the grottoes where the Pontiff himself announced discovery of the grave of St. Peter, the Galilean fisherman who is revered as the first pope.

The body will remain for a year in a temporary crypt near the remains of Pope Pius XI — then it will be moved to its final resting place, a tomb to be constructed during the coming year by Vatican workmen. Both temporary and final graves are on the upper level of the grottoes, a subterranean church still following the outlines of the basilica of Emperor Constantine who built the first St. Peter's. The Constantine Basilica was covered up later by the Renaissance architects who built the present church and is now 18 feet below ground level. Another 32 feet below are the lower grottoes with the earliest relics of Christianity which Vatican archeologists explored by order of Pope Pius XII and where in 1950 they found the tomb of Peter.

The Masonic Bodies of Amarillo will be host to the Masons of the Panhandle and South Plains at a Thursday dinner meeting with Brother Fred F. DeVaney, Grand Secretary-Recorder of the Grand Chapter and Grand Council of Texas, as the guest speaker.

DeVaney is an Ordained Baptist minister having held pastorates at Reagan, Marquez, Whitney, and the Oak Lawn Baptist Church of Waco.

He is a member of the various Masonic Bodies in Waco and served as Grand Scribe in 1957. On the death of the Grand Secretary-Recorder, Frank Oldham, he relinquished his position in the Grand Chapter line where, in the normal course of events, he would have been elected Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter, to serve as Grand Secretary-Recorder of the two Grand Bodies. DeVaney is one of the outstanding Masonic orators of Texas today.

Invitations have been sent to all Blue Lodges in this area to attend the meeting which will be held in the Amarillo Lodge No. 731 at 10th and Travis Streets. The meeting is scheduled to open promptly at 7:30 and following the address by Mr. DeVaney, a buffet dinner will be served to all in attendance.

'Dino' Is The Play

(Special to The News)
PERRYTON — "Dino," a three act play, adapted from "Studio One," will be the senior play of Perryton High School, according to M. Howard Gann, High School drama sponsor. Try outs will begin next week for the fall production.

"Dino" is the tale of a young boy who has just graduated from reform school and returned to his Brooklyn home. The playwright tells of his readjustment to society and his friendship with Shirley Wallace, a shy 16 year old girl from the settlement house who tries to give him love and understanding.

Sal Mineo, the teenage singing idol, recently starred in the movie version of "Dino."

haven't been able to locate yet," Moseley said. Some of those already questioned had been released, but several others still were being held.

There were reports, on which officers declined to comment, that the investigation already had turned up information on a small but fairly organized anti-Semitic group operating in a number of Southern cities.

Atlanta police said they have had such a group under surveillance here for several years. A growing reward fund in Atlanta brought the total now offered for useful information on the series of bombings in the South to $45,000. Investigators are going on the theory that the Atlanta incident was tied in with a recent blast in Tennessee, Florida, South and North Carolina and Alabama.

Bombs Blast Negro Homes In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two bombs, exploding almost simultaneously, shattered the neighboring buildings housing two Negro families in a South Side neighborhood early today.

Both were black powder bombs, police said, and were believed to be home made. Officers did not have an immediate damage estimate, but believed it would total about $10,000 in the two blasts.

None was injured in either blast.

The neighborhood was described as a changing one, into which a few Negro families had moved in recent years.

One bomb shattered the doorway and windows of a brick duplex apartment, owned by elderly John and Emma Schmidt, at 6819 S. Morgan. The downstairs apartment had been occupied since Oct. 2 by a Negro family, Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels and their children. Daniels is a post office worker.

The other bomb, at 6823 S. Morgan, shattered windows and caused other damage in a building owned by Kit Johnson Jr., 25. The downstairs apartment in this building has been occupied since Aug. 1 by another Negro family, James Branch, a packinghouse worker, his wife and five children. The owners also lived in their respective buildings.

Rehabilitation Plans Aid Handicapped Women To Carry On Important Jobs

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Not even the terrible paralyzing effects of polio or the loss of an arm or leg can conquer the spirit of the American woman.

...crippled girl holds secretarial position.

A recent nationwide health survey shows that female determination, medical science and vocational training have combined to help thousands of crippled women hold down important jobs.

Officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Labor Department's Women's Bureau credit the medical and educational victories to the work of numerous vocational rehabilitation programs.

These are the unique health projects which combine the skills of doctors, psychologists, physical therapists, teachers and social workers to help disabled persons learn how to lead useful lives.

Increased emphasis has now been placed on treating handicapped women to help them compete for rapidly expanding job openings. One of the many rehabilitation projects involved in the program operated jointly by Uncle Sam and the states.

Over 90,000 handicapped women have been helped by this medical-vocational system in the last four years. Their afflictions have ranged from heart ailments to the loss of arms and legs.

IN ADDITION TO complicated medical treatment, these federal-state health agencies provide job training and then find employment for many patients. Thus, thousands of afflicted women, who once would have faced with a lifetime of idleness, are now working as teachers, secretaries, nurses, artists, and accountants. Others have jobs as telephone operators, cooks, maids and dressmakers.

Health officials explain that training for jobs in the business and professional fields is only one of the program's triumphs. Equally important, they say, is the success that vocational specialists have achieved in teaching these women how to be good homemakers.

Paralytic housewives, who must remain in wheel chairs, are taught how to cook, keep house and take care of the family laundry. Mothers who have lost a hand or an arm learn how to dress and bathe their small children. About 18,000 disabled homemakers have been rehabilitated during the last three years.

THE MANY PROBLEMS faced by crippled housewives have resulted in the start of several research projects to find ways to ease their tasks. For instance, a university is designing special clothes which small children can put on and take off with little or no help from mother. Another research group is analyzing house-keeping activities in order to find the easiest ways to perform them.

Labor Department officials explain that the numerous rehabilitation programs have created a demand for well-trained people to help operate them. To help relieve this personnel shortage, Uncle Sam is financing training grants for college students who are interested in entering the rehabilitation field.

(Copies of the HEW-Women's Bureau report, "Help for Handicapped Women" can be purchased from the U.S. Government Printing Office. The price is 40 cents a copy.)

Almost 85 million dollars in state and federal funds have been earmarked this year to operate the program. About two-thirds of this amount will be supplied by Uncle Sam, who also sets many of the program's professional standards. State governments, however, supply the medical personnel, teachers and treatment facilities. Agencies operating under the federal-state set-up usually offer medical examinations, counseling, training and job placement services to patients free of charge. But patients are expected to pay for such things as surgical operations and artificial limbs if they are able to do so.

OTHER REHABILITATION programs are conducted by private agencies and community groups. Also, many civic, professional and business organizations have banded together in the President's Committee on the Employment of Physically Handicapped to encourage employers to hire disabled workers.

Full-Length Mirror Pays Big Dividends "To See Ourselves As Others See Us"

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A full-length mirror can be a teen-ager's best friend and is worth baby sitting in order to accumulate the cash for one. For this is the mirror that gives you a complete check on yourself, head to toe.

A hand mirror or the mirror in the bathroom will show your head and neck. That's not enough. What looks fine in a close-up may look all wrong full-length. Proportion is important and proportion means that hairdo, clothes, heel height and posture all work together to create a pretty picture.

Your mirror will offer a check on other things, too. It will show you uneven hemlines, a bit of slip, run over heel lifts or ladders in your nylon. It will tell you which coat looks best with which dress, which sweater teams best with which skirt and what jewelry does the most for that plain black dress.

It will also tell you when you need to shed a few pounds or step up your exercises in order to banish bumps and lumps.

Your diet can be a positive factor in beauty in ways other than aid you to shed pounds and thus gain a trim figure. It can give you glowing skin and beautiful hair, strong fingernails and steady nerves, clear eyes and lots of energy. Poor diet will give you the reverse of all of these.

Why? Because the foods you should eat each day contain vitamins essential to beauty. You've heard this many times. But did you know that a lack of vitamin A can cause poor skin and dull hair? That a lack of vitamin B means shaky nerves and that not enough protein is responsible for many cases of fatigue?

It's as simple and direct as that. The skin that you most likely think of as old (dry, wrinkled and sagging) is in reality skin that has been neglected. In other words, you need not have such skin if you give yours proper care.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The following concerning my sister-in-law, may sound absurd but it is true. My brother earns over $8000 a year, but by the way my sister-in-law hangs on to every nickel, you'd think they were on welfare. When the kids take a bath, she throws in socks and towels, to be washed along with the kids, to take advantage of the soap suds. You could break your neck in her house because she is too cheap to keep a light burning anywhere excepting where they are sitting. She uses a hand sweeper because it costs money to plug in the vacuum. I can't go on and on. I told my brother he should talk to her, but he said to mind my own business as he's the one who has to live with her.

TOLD OFF
DEAR TOLD: When you can get such sterling advice from your brother, you don't need me.

DEAR ABBY: What is a husband supposed to do when his own wife sides with their two teen-aged boys against him? We have been eating either hamburgers or hot dogs for Sunday supper every Sunday for three years. Why? Because the boys like them. I travel and eat home only two nights a week. They will not eat steaks or chops or chicken, although I pay the bills and never said anything was too good. But my wife won't fix it. I complain they say, "Let's vote" and I'm outvoted.

DEAR ANN: Be available... but not aggressive... be sweet, but not sugary. Let him know that you like him — but don't let him know how much. Good Luck!

Confidential to Miss Shuga: A man who will step out on his wife (to whom he has given his sacred vow to love and cherish until death) certainly would not hesitate to lie to you. Get wise!

Lourdes Tour Described By Guest Speaker

A group of parishioners and guests of Holy Souls Church heard the "Lourdes Message" presented recently by Monsignor L. T. Mathiesen, of Amarillo, editor of the West Texas Register, in the Parish Hall.

The "Lourdes Message" was a movie picture account of the West Texas Pilgrimage to Lourdes of the past summer in which Monsignor Mathiesen took part. The pilgrimage took the group to ten countries in Europe and spotlighted Catholic points of interest as well as the usual tourist attractions in each of the countries. As the movies were shown, Monsignor Mathiesen gave a descriptive explanation of all the points of interest.

Following the program, coffee and cake were served to the group with Mrs. C. L. Sullins in charge.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh at my problem as it is very hard to figure out. For me, at least, my girlfriend sent me her picture. She wrote across the bottom, "You're, till eternity, Love, Doris." Only she spelled "ETERNITY" "ETERNUTY." A few people have noticed this and I am

Briton Urges Trade, Not Aid

By PATRICIA REHL, United Press International
DALLAS (UPI)—Sir Pierson Dixon, British ambassador to the United Nations, Monday urged America to channel its help to foreign countries to favorable trade agreements, rather than direct financial aid.

Dixon, who officially opened the British-Fortnight festivities here Monday, addressed the Dallas Council on World Affairs at a noon luncheon.

The ambassador commended the U. S. moon rocket achievement, said his country was grateful for economic assistance given in the past, and stressed that the current need of the free world is to build up economies by freer exchange of goods.

He told his American audience that even more important than direct aid are "the opportunities which you give other countries to sell their goods in the United States."

"The potential aid to underdeveloped countries from an expansion of their overseas sales far exceeds any conceivable level of assistance by loans or grants from all available sources," Dixon said.

Dixon said economic interdependence played an important role in the political struggle between the Communist and Western worlds.

Many of the new countries in Asia and Africa are still uncommitted to the free Western world or to the Communist world, the ambassador said.

"The future course of history will be influenced by our success in convincing these new countries that our way of life has more to offer," he said.

Dixon said the U. S. is making great efforts toward strengthening economic links which bind

Farmers Hit New Heights

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Successful farmers climbed to new heights because of a well-planned educational program based on individual needs, 1,000 Future Farmers of America were told today.

FFA Executive Secretary William Paul Gray of Washington, D.C., praised the organization at its 31st convention for "hard-hitting rural leadership in an exceedingly complex society and agriculture."

The week-long convention began Monday and closes Saturday prior to the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show at Kansas City.

"The knowledge and abilities used by today's successful farmer have been obtained through a well-planned educational program based on the needs of the individual," Gray said.

"The fact that farm production has increased over 30 per cent since the FFA was organized offers ample proof that our members are not only learning to produce farm commodities efficiently, but they are becoming proficient in organizing and coordinating their entire farm into a well-organized and skillfully managed

Parr Sworn in As Sheriff

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (UPI)—South Texas political boss George Parr has been sworn in as sheriff of Duval county, climaxing a two-year battle for the office.

Amador Garcia was sworn in as county clerk during the same ceremonies Monday after a battle of about the same length.

Immediately after the ceremonies Parr found himself facing a restraining order filed in 79th district court in San Diego by District Attorney Sam H. Burris, of Allice.

Burris said the order will keep Parr from actively performing the duties of his office until a court hearing is held Thursday, but Parr denied the order would have that effect.

The swearing-in ceremonies were conducted by county judge Dan Tobin, Jr., a former bitter enemy of Parr who joined Parr's "Old Party" after being defeated in the July primary.

Tobin cast the tie-breaking vote in Commissioner's Court balloting earlier in the day.

Parr replaces P. P. Stockwell, and Amador Garcia replaces Rafael Garcia (no relation) as county clerk. Both were elected in 1956 but the Commissioner's Court refused to seat them on grounds they both owed the county money.

The case has been in courts since then and was recently kicked back to 79th district court by a court of appeals in San Antonio. The case was scheduled for another hearing Oct. 23.

Parr also has been involved in three assault trials in recent years.

Parr has stated intentions of firing five deputy sheriffs, including Chief Deputy Sedencio Perez. He said he intends to hire San Diego Police Chief Manuel Amayo as his chief of deputies.

Duval county's judge-elect is Archer Parr, George Parr's nephew. The rest of the Democratic slate in next month's general election are Old Party members, assuring the party a firm political hold once again.

Chrysler, UAW Seek New Pact

By JACK VANDENBERG, UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—Negotiators for Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers sought today to combine two contracts now covering the company's 8,500-salaried workers into a single pact.

The negotiators met for three hours Monday night before recessing to allow subcommittees to work on the problem of combining contracts covering the main body of Chrysler's office workers and engineers and the salaried workers in plants which Chrysler purchased from Briggs Manufacturing Co. several years ago.

They scheduled subcommittee meetings throughout the day today, with the main negotiating teams, headed by UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Chrysler vice President John D. Leary, scheduled to meet again tonight.

Most of the Chrysler office workers and engineers are covered by a contract which was negotiated specifically for Chrysler. But 600 office workers and 450 engineers are covered by a contract which was negotiated specifically for employees of the former Briggs plants.

Company and union spokesmen said there were still 17 issues separating the negotiators.

The company and the union reached agreement on a new contract covering Chrysler's 75,000 production workers and other hourly rated employees of the company early this month, but left the contract for the office workers unsolved.

The negotiations were resumed Monday night after a recess called by the union last week to get Chrysler employees throughout the nation back to work. Scattered local strikes throughout the nation had hampered Chrysler production but the last of the striking workers returned to their jobs Monday.

General Motors, which reached agreements with all of the unions representing its employees earlier, appeared headed for a resumption of full production too, but it was still a long way away from that goal.

PROMOTING OIL PROGRESS

W. H. Butcher, 1245 Wilcox, makes an adjustment on his working model of an oil pump, now busily pumping to a six-inch depth on the county courthouse lawn. Butcher's son, Fred, 13, watches. Butcher, a pumper at the Magnolia plant, built the display in his spare time. "It's a sort of reminder how important oil is in Pampa," he said. Butcher plans to keep his model in operation until Saturday. Not seen in the background are three other pumps connected to a power house by four power and rod line jacks.

Post Office Unconcerned With Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postal officials said today they are unconcerned about a reported move by magazine publishers to bypass second class postal rate increases by hand-delivering their periodicals.

Officials said the plan has been kicking around for some years. They said it had not proved economical to publishers in the past and they doubted the proposal would be cheaper than mail even at the new higher postal rates.

Under the proposal publishers would either use existing wholesalers or set up new wholesalers to deliver subscription copies by hand. Some magazine publishers believe smart wholesalers could pick up a lot of extra business by such personal contacts.

Postal authorities said the plan would take a lot of new manpower and the cost would be exorbitant to publishers.

"From what we know of distribution costs," one official said, "such a plan would not be economical."

Three successive 15 per cent increases in second class mail rates were authorized by Congress to take effect over the next three years. The first goes into effect Jan. 1, 1959. The increases are expected to increase postal revenues about 10 million dollars during the first 12 months and 30 million dollars annually by the end of the third year.

Even at that postal officials said they will still be losing 200 million dollars a year on second class service because of recent postal employees' pay increases and hikes in railroad mail hauling costs.

They indicated they are not worried about loss of second class business if magazine publishers decide another manner of distribution would be cheaper. They said such mail service now pays less than 20 per cent of its cost.

Water Holds Key To Texas Expansion

HOUSTON (UPI) — The nation's top reclamation expert has said today the continued economic development of Texas can be linked directly with the state's willingness to control the available supply of surface water.

"The future growth of Texas population, industries, farms and ranches is directly related to an adequate water supply," W. A. Dexheimer, commissioner of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, told members of the Texas Water Conservation Association at their 14th annual convention.

Dexheimer said Texas has enough water for the foreseeable future, but said it must be stored and transported from basin to basin to meet total requirements of the state.

He said control of the rivers in the state can prevent "terrible tolls" caused by both recurrent drought and devastating floods.

Because of the difference of rainfall in various sections of the state, Dexheimer said surface water must be stored and transported from basin to basin as requirements dictate.

One plan already being considered is a major canal or system of canals reaching from the Sabine river to the Lower Rio Grande Valley which could transport sufficient water to Houston, Corpus Christi and valley areas, and add 850,000 acres of new irrigation below Corpus Christi. The association also was ex-

Flood Flows Break Nine Year Drought

EL PASO (UPI) — Rio Grande flood flows coursing into Elephant Butte and Caballo Dam reservoirs broke a nine-year drought period in the El Paso Valley this year and enabled New Mexico to reduce its water debt to Texas.

W. F. Resch, director of the Rio Grande project, said the flooding river has lifted combined water storage totals at the reservoirs up to 1,200,000 acre feet, highest since 1950.

The Rio Grande, swollen last spring by melting snow along its northern New Mexico and Colorado watershed, sent more than one million acre feet of water rushing into the reservoirs from which the Rio Grande project draws its irrigation water.

Torrential rains measuring more than 14 inches in the summer and fall sent arroyo floodwaters swirling into the river, keeping storage at a high level. Resch said as a result of the rising water storage total farmers working the project's 159,650 acres of land got an irrigation water allotment of four acre feet during the season just past and are virtually certain to get even more next year.

The 1958 irrigation water allotment, he said, was the highest since 1951 when prolonged drought led to the opening of a water allocation system to conserve diminishing storage supplies.

Resch said in 1956, one of the El Paso Valley's most severe drought years, the irrigation water allotment for project lands dropped to 4.7 inches, lowest on record. An excellent Rio Grande runoff touched off by melting snowpacks along the river's watershed enabled New Mexico to deliver almost 56,000 acre feet of water to Texas reducing its water debt to 473,900 acre feet. Resch indicated New Mexico will again be able to meet its water delivery schedule to Texas next year.

Cites Water Needs
About 3.1 acre feet of water is needed each year to properly irrigate Rio Grande project land, he said.

The project banks heavily on Rio Grande flood flows for the bulk of its water supply.

"The 'law of the river' gives Colorado and New Mexico the right to divert water upstream," Resch said. "But when floods increase, the river's rate of flow to a point where they can't divert it then the water rushes into the reservoirs to augment our supply and the bigger the flood the more water Texas gets."

"CAMEL" SHEEP?
Sheep often graze where there is not enough grass for cattle because sheep like to eat woods and shrubs. They also can live without water for long periods.

Quads Are Doing Fine In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Quadruplet girls, all born within 14 minutes, were reported doing fine Monday at the northwest branch of Grace Hospital. The mother, Mrs. Julia Ullman, 33, of suburban Clawson, also was reported in excellent condition.

The babies, all of whom weighed 4 pounds or more, and described as strong and healthy, arrived between 7:41 and 7:55 Sunday night. They were delivered by Dr. L. H. Spencer, of Royal Oak, who attended Mrs. Ullman throughout her pregnancy and who had discovered the approaching multiple birth through X-rays about a month ago. Mrs. Ullman remained conscious throughout the delivery. She has two other children, Charles, 2½, and Louise, 1. The father, Chester H. Ullman, 34, is a carpenter.

All the infants were placed in an incubator and will remain there until their weight exceeds 5 pounds.

Roy Taylor, Harold Miller, Wyatt Lemons and Ted Gikas are the new men. Snell said that other neighborhood commissioners might attend.

At this meeting Snell's assistants Joe Fischer, Roy Russell and Cleo Mitchell will instruct the recruits on the neighborhood commissioner service.

Santa Fe, N. M., founded in 1610, is the oldest state capital in the United States.

There is a great deal of luck in duplicate, but the winning player is the man who gives luck the greatest possible encouragement.

When Generous George sat West he did not take his king of clubs the first time and South became careless. He returned to dummy with the ace of spades and finessed the nine of clubs. This time George took his king and led a third diamond. South still made three spades, three diamonds and three clubs, but he was unable to gather in three heart tricks because he had no entry to dummy.

Pius XII Someday May Become Saint

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Pius XII may someday become a saint.

An unprecedented vision of Christ and a vision of the "Fatima miracle" of the revolving sun have been the only supernatural events in the Pope's life announced by the Vatican. However, there has been insistent mention of the Pope bringing about two miraculous healings as well.

Visions do not in themselves enter the cause of canonization, but they often speed the cause. Vatican circles believed the cause of beatification of the Pope might be introduced shortly. Unofficial Catholic quarters said a dossier of "miracles" attributed to Pius XII already had been collected.

Process Is Long
Beatification is the first step toward sainthood, and both beatification and canonization can take centuries before completion.

The Pope's first vision came on three successive days in the Holy Year 1950. Federico Cardinal Tedeschini told a crowd of pilgrims in Fatima in 1951 the Pope saw the sun revolve on three separate occasions—Oct. 30, 31, and Nov. 1, 1950. He said the vision came on each occasion while the Pope was walking in the Vatican gardens, each time at 4 p.m.

The vision was the same which three little shepherds had in Fatima, Portugal, on Oct. 13, 1917. The vision of the shepherd children climaxed a series of appearances of the Virgin Mary they had seen earlier, starting May 13, 1917.

Gulf Oil Brands Charges On International Cartel Erroneous

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gulf Oil Corporation, Pittsburgh, has branded as completely erroneous charges that a seven-company international cartel including Gulf, controls world oil prices.

The allegations were made recently by President O. A. Knight of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, in the AFL-CIO industrial union department's quarterly, "The Digest."

"It would seem by 'free trade' in this instance," a Gulf spokesman said, "he (Knight) means 'competition' because he says that oil is dominated by a worldwide cartel consisting of five American companies and two European companies. This is an old accusation which has been thoroughly discredited."

The spokesman cited a recently published study by Leonard M. Fanning, editor of World Oil Politics, listing 200 American companies searching for oil on foreign continents.

"If the so-called seven-company cartel dominated world oil, the spokesman said, 'by no means would they have permitted such an enormous number of companies to enter into competition with them, mostly within the past five years... in the marketing of foreign oil... more recently there has been a rise of other companies, such as Petrofina, which are growing rapidly and taking a share of the world oil market, apparently without hindrance by any dominating group of companies.'"

To Knight's charges that pricing fixing has abolished the law of supply and demand and that crude oil prices are determined by arbitrary state production controls, the spokesman replied:

FPC Control Stands As Big Danger

DALLAS (UPI)—Complete federal control is the main danger facing oil and gas producers, an oil attorney reports.

"If producers of oil and natural gas do not close ranks and fight propaganda with facts, the Federal Power Commission will take over the business," said Martin Row, general attorney for Sun Oil Co.'s southwest division.

Speaking to members of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. at their 39th annual convention, Row said, "The general trend is toward complete control by the federal regulatory bureau."

He said the last session of Congress failed to secure any relief for the oil and gas producers since it contained many "left-wing" or "liberal" members. "Some leaders in Congress," he said, "have gone so far in their social philosophy as to think that producers do not own the gas or oil they produce, but that the federal government really owns it."

Row said the Federal Power Commission will be aided by the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and the AFL-CIO, to gain tighter control over the oil and gas business. "Facts prove that gas will be cheaper to consumers if producers are freed from regulation and allowed to compete with each other again," he said.

Claude C. Wind, Jr., general counsel for Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., told members that if the present attempt by consumer groups to remove the 27 1/2 percent allowable for oil and gas is successful, the effect would be "catastrophic."
Wind, who practices law in Washington, said some new members of the House and Senate are hostile to the oil industry.
As you can see, there are only 12 apparent tricks in the hand. The spade finesse would give George his 13th, but obviously that was not going to work. Yet George made the grand slam and there was no defense to beat him. See if you can find the play.
Here it is. George ran out dummy's hearts and clubs and discarded the queen and ten of spades from his own hand. This caught West in a criss-cross squeeze. He could only hold four cards. If three of them were diamonds he would be down to a singleton spade and George could cash his ace of spades, return to dummy with the king of diamonds and make dummy's two remaining spades. If two were spades the queen of diamonds would be unguarded and George could take dummy's king and then get to his own hand with the spade to cash the ace and jack.
Before I receive a lot of letters, I know that a diamond opening would kill the squeeze, but West certainly had a natural heart lead.
