UN's Dag To Get Mideast Strife

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Britain and the United States Saturday helped hammer into shape a western proposal to turn the Middle East political turmoil over to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The Americans, meanwhile, were reported preparing to pull another battalion of Marines out of Lebanon.

Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States carried on the negotiations as their two chiefs, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd left the city for brief weekend respites from the emergency Assembly debate on the Middle East crisis. The U.N. session will be resumed Monday morning.

Lodge and Dixon conferred at U.N. headquarters with Hammarskjöld and Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen. The Norwegian is the author of a resolution which would have the Assembly instruct Hammarskjöld to take urgent steps to safeguard the independence and political integrity of Lebanon and Jordan and permit the United States and Britain to withdraw their military forces.

Lodge said after the conference, "We are really moving along." He predicted that the watered-down Norwegian formula would secure widespread Assembly back-

Hart Joins Adobe Walls Council

Roy Hart has transferred from Kerville to fill the gap in the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, left when Mike Strickland left Borger for Barstow, Calif. Hart was a District executive in the Alamo Area Council.

He has been a professional Scout for three years, in the Comanche District, and was a volunteer for several years before entering scouting.

Hart has a wife and two children. Strickland, who he replaces, is working in the Arrowhead Council.

Moon Probe Rocket Ready

NINETY MINUTE FRAY

Refugees Shoot It Out With Enemies

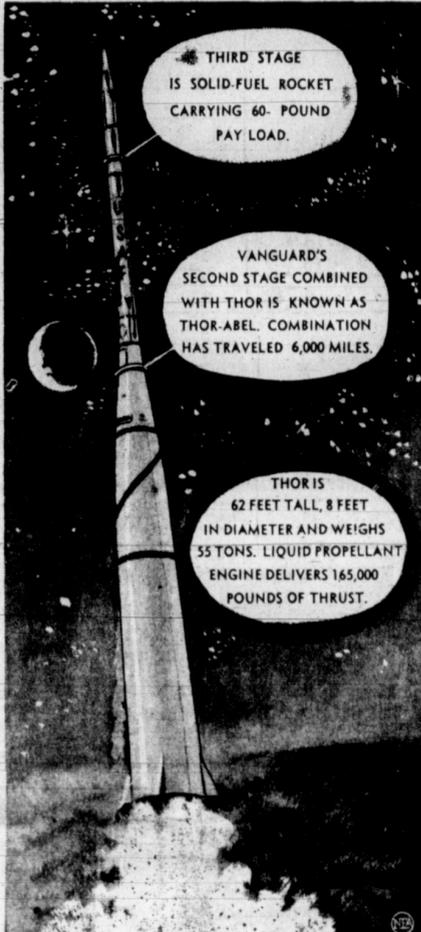

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Two young Hungarian refugees invaded the Hungarian Legation here Saturday and shot it out with Communist officials for 90 minutes. One of them was critically wounded.

Endre Papp, 21, and Sandor Nagy, 22, got past the Legation guards by pretending to be interested in going back to Hungary. Swiss police said they apparently planned to get away with documents that would discredit the Budapest regime.

Hungarian Minister Josef Marjal waived diplomatic immunity to permit a police tear gas squad to enter the Legation and break up the gun battle. Nagy was found lying face down on the floor of the bullet-pitted reception room where he and Papp had retreated. Nagy had bullet wounds in his head and neck. He apparently was no relation to Imre Nagy, Hungarian rebel premier who was executed recently for his part in the October, 1956, uprising.

Papp put the muzzle of his pistol in his mouth when police entered the room, but was per-

REACHING FOR THE MOON...

Bad Weather Could Cause Postponement

By RICHARD F. ROOPER
United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Months of secret preparation reached a climax Saturday night as America's moon probe rocket appeared ready for blast-off on an unprecedented 220,000-mile journey through space.

Bad weather could cause a postponement in launching the towering rocket built for the shoot, the deepest penetration of space yet attempted.

A thick fog enveloped Cape Canaveral Saturday and showers were forecast for Sunday morning, which informed sources have predicted as firing time. But it appeared that hurricane Cleo, far at sea, would not veer close enough to affect the rocket's flight.

JOHN MEAD ... To Tulane

The Air Force has said it can launch a rocket safely from the missile test center if the sky is free of clouds up to 2,000 feet, and that rain could force postponement only if it were heavy enough to affect a rocket's electronic system.

Long Countdown Begins

Air force, given the staggering task of trying to make the United States first to probe the earth's natural satellite, continued to maintain official silence on the shoot.

But unless there was a last-minute change of plans, the missile men charged with launching the immense three-stage rocket reported to their stations late Saturday to begin the long, tedious countdown that would lead up to blast-off.

On nearby Cocoa Beach, "moon talk" was the only topic of conversation. Motel operators, grocery clerks and service station attendants speculated on "whether the big one will make it."

The Air Force has pinned its hopes on an unwieldy-looking rocket, shaped like a giant telescope with a knobby device containing the "payload package" on top.

Mead Gets Scholarship To Tulane

On a $750 scholarship, John Mead, Pampa High School valedictorian of 1958, will attend Tulane University, New Orleans, La. The year's scholarship to Tulane carries with it a $450 loan fund.

Mead, who was a chemistry lab assistant in PHS, intends to major in physics. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mead, 313 E. Brown.

In Pampa High School, Mead had some very interesting activities, ranging from participation in the Slide Rule Club to the Thespians. Last December, when the Thespians staged "The Grass Harp," Mead had the part of Charlie Cool.

As PHS valedictorian, Mead had a four year average of 96.53. In his junior year, he was elected to the National Honor Society.

One of Mead's favorite diversions is chess, as he is a member of the Pampa Chess Club.

In Tulane, Mead hopes to continue his interest in chess, good books and scientific thought.

Expert Hopes Damage Will Be Repaired

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—A radiation expert expressed the conviction Saturday that scientists will find a means some day of undoing the damage inflicted by atomic rays upon the apparatus of heredity.

Up to now geneticists have assumed that radiations like those generated by nuclear tests or medical X-ray machines caused inevitable and irreversible damage to the germ cells which transmit hereditary characteristics from generation to generation. They say this is dooming untold millions to defective lives.

But new information disclosed at the first international congress of radiation research concluded here Friday night has shaken some concepts heretofore considered all but gospel.

This fact and the mushrooming of world research in radiation, as reflected at this congress, moved Dr. Austin M. Brues of the Atomic Energy Commission's Orgone National Laboratory to observe:

"I think we're going to find a way to repair genetic damage from radiation. I don't think it's a fantastic idea at all."

Dr. R. A. Conrad of the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratory told the Congress that 82 Marshall Islanders dusted with fallout from the 1954 Pacific bomb tests still are radioactive.

Conrad said part of their radio-

Roaring moonward in this drawing by NEA artist John Lane is the Air Force's hybrid Thor-Able, designed to orbit the moon. The rocket, 100 feet tall, combines the Thor, intermediate range ballistic missile, with the second stage of Vanguard, plus a so far untested third stage of Vanguard. In its 60-pound payload it will carry a TV-like device to photograph the back side of the moon. Space director Roy W. Johnson cautions that this first moon rocket may have no better than a one in 10 chance of success. Preparations were being made Saturday for this nation's first spectacular moon shot.

PAMPA INFANT KILLED, MOM HURT IN WRECK

CHANDLER, Okla. (UPI)—A 22-year-old Pampa, Tex., mother was injured and her two-week-old baby killed in a freak collision on the Oklahoma Turnpike Saturday, just 7.5 miles short of her destination.

Peta Carlisle Sukovsky, son of Mrs. Arlene Sukovsky, Pampa, died in the crash. Mrs. Sukovsky suffered cuts and bruises.

A daughter, Lisa, 3, suffered burns from the car's exhaust pipe which pushed through the floor.

Mrs. Sukovsky's sister, Sandra Kay Calvin, 11, Chandler, Okla., also was injured.

Patrolman Glen Alt said Mrs. Sukovsky was en route from Pampa to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Calvin in Chandler.

He said Mrs. Sukovsky attempted to pass a car on a bridge on the Turner Turnpike and the right front tire blew out.

The car skidded to the end of a bridge banister, which pushed the floorboard up and crushed the baby between the floorboard and the front seat.

The baby was the 397th person to die on Oklahoma highways this year. The count was 407 at this date in 1957.

Airplane Crashes Claim 213 Lives In One Week

Friday Crash Kills 23

A flash fog closed in on a Northeast Airlines Convair Friday night moments before it crashed and killed 23 persons while trying to land on Nantuxet Island, investigators said Saturday. Eleven others were injured.

Investigators said Northeast Airlines officials frantically tried to radio a last-minute fog warning to the plane's pilot, but he apparently never heard it because he had switched his radio to a signal approach beam after being told the weather was clear.

The disaster brought to 213 the number of persons killed in six airplane crashes throughout the world within a week.

All 24 persons aboard the resort-bound plane were either killed or injured. Doctors feared they might not be able to save some of the

4 Commercial, 2 Military - Air Tragedies

United Press International

Major aircraft disasters in seven days have taken a heavy toll of human life around the world. A total of 213 persons died in the wreckage of 4 airliners and 2 military planes. In all but one instance, the planes burned before or after impact.

The worst disaster of the week—and the worst single commercial airliner crash in history—was the mysterious crash of a KLM Royal Dutch airlines Super-Constellation off the coast of Ireland Thursday. It killed all 99 persons aboard. There was no fire.

Died Before Hitting Water

United Press International

GALWAY, Ireland (UPI)—Autopsies on 34 battered bodies fished from the North Atlantic Saturday showed that a Dutch airliner which crashed with 99 persons aboard was destroyed in flight and that everyone on the plane was dead before hitting the water.

Just what caused the destruction of the plane was unknown. Theories ranged from an explosion, perhaps caused by a lightning bolt, to thunderstorm turbulence that caused structural failure and decompression of the cabin at the 16,000-foot cruising range.

Dr. K. Van Dieger, chief medical officer of KLM Royal Dutch Airlines who flew here with a Dutch government investigating

Woman Is Injured In Accident

A 50-year old Midland, Texas woman, Mrs. Audrey Curry Wood, was reported as being in a fair condition in Highland General Hospital today recovering from injuries she received when her car overturned one mile west of White Deer yesterday afternoon about 2:50 p.m.

Mrs. Woods, 43-year old husband, H. L., who was riding in the car with her was not injured in the accident.

Investigating Highway Patrolman, Royce Logan, said that Mrs. Wood, "apparently lost control of the car, skidded into a bar ditch, hit a telephone guy wire and then turned over." Logan said that "Mrs. Wood somehow fell out of the car."

The Highway Patrol is still investigating the accident.

School Tentatively Sets Open House

The open house in Robert E. Lee Junior High School is tentatively set for Aug. 28, according to Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa Schools.

The new building is complete with auditorium and classroom seating. If all goes well, the building will be open to the public for three hours Aug. 28, prior to the Sept. 2 grand opening.

In 'Chevy Showroom', Andy Williams' Drive Is Contagious

Television in Review
By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pat Boone's summer replacement on ABC-TV, the Andy Williams "Chevy Showroom," is in many ways a better show than its higher budgeted winter cousin.

Boone's show picked up considerably in its production savvy as the season wore on, but still at its best, it was just a friendly puppy dog kind of show. It lacked flair and spark and salt.

Williams, on the other hand, swings. Like Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, two fellow grads of Steve Allen trupe, Williams drives spurs into a song. While other popular TV singers like Boone or Patti Page or Bob Crosby lull the viewer into gentle somnolence, Williams jolts the viewer into emotional participation. That's good. There's too much sleeping in front of the TV set anyway. Yes, I mean you over there—sit up, I'm talking to you.

Williams' drive is contagious. Dick van Dyke, who has always been a medium-funny comedian, seems funny, period, as a fixture on the Williams half-hour. The dancers on the show slink around stylishly without encumbering the screen with too much visual garbage. And even though the chatter on the program is as idiotic as it is on most musical shows, it's at least squashed to a minimum.

I can't think of any higher tribute to the Williams show than its surmounting the appearance Thursday night of Anita Wood, Elvis Presley's girl friend. Miss Wood is a delightful looking dish, but her singing is strictly cuddly bear—without imagination, intelligence or style. She could become a big hit. It's sad to note that, and Williams hasn't—he fades off the air at the end of September.

Short Shots: NBC-TV's "Buckskin" is a half-hour of corncake. I could do, too, without that caddy little hat the boy hero wears stop his shock of hair—it makes him look like a retarded Tom Sawyer. I wish emcee Johnny Gilbert of NBC-TV's "Music Bingo" would quit winking and smirking at me each Thursday night—we haven't even been properly introduced. And I also wish he'd quit shouting—"Everybody Plays Music Bingo!" I don't.

The Channel Swim: The first Bob Banner special for CBS-TV will be "The Ginger Rogers Show," a one hour live musical-variety one-shot on Oct. 15.

Robert Saudek Associates, packagers of "Omnibus," landed an auto sponsor for its new taped series of New York Philharmonic concerts. The series, called "Previews," will be seen at least four times during the season on graphing.

Sunday afternoons, probably on CBS-TV, "Omnibus," incidentally will unbutton the NBC-TV season of 15 shows on Oct. 26.

MGM's "Thin Man" series, slated for the beyond on NBC-TV after the summer, got a reprieve and will continue in its present Friday slot.

Quotes In The News

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, stating that the cruises made by the nuclear submarines Nautilus and Skate under the polar ice pack proved that the 30-foot-thick polar ice can hide missile-firing submarines.

"If anyone dares to declare war on us, and we inf he were successful in wiping out our whole country, he himself would be inevitably destroyed because he could never locate the submarines. He knows, too, that these subs can fire missiles at him."

OAKLAND, Calif. — John F. Linehan, who battled for more than three years as a guerrilla in the Philippines, explaining why he will fight a suit which the Justice Department plans to file to collect on a promissory note he signed in 1944 in return for transportation from Australia to the United States:

"I don't want to appear belligerent. I just know the charge is not morally justified. I guess they have forgotten the intelligence information on enemy forces I gave to Gen. MacArthur's G-2."

VACAVILLE, Calif. — Floyd Hall, notorious gunman of the 1920's at his release Thursday from prison following his return there last year as a technical parole violator:

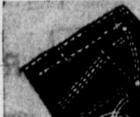

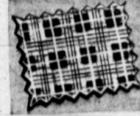

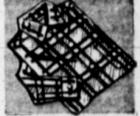

"I feel a lot differently now than I did when I was paroled before. I found out then that the best way to make good on the outside was to act just the same way as the people who have been outside all the time."

WASHINGTON — Cmdr. John H. Nicholson of the atomic submarine Skate, expressing pride when his craft surfaced in the front yard of America's Ice Island scientific station only 300 miles from the North Pole, after a long trip under water:

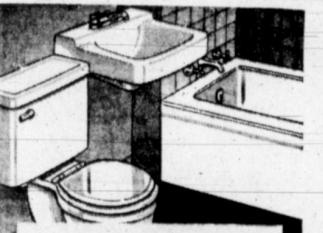

It was an incredible sight when my periscope broke water to see quonset huts of the ice station all around. In a few minutes all 20 members of the ice station personnel were on the banks waving and photographing."

Mrs. W. F. Kline, Dick Kline of Goodland, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Bud Malone, Diane and Kelly, Liberal, Kan., were among the out-of-town guests attending the Etta Frances Haney-Richard R. on a wedding performed last night in the First Methodist Church.

FRIDAY

(Continued From Page 1) radio channel from ground-to-air talk to a signal approach circuit. Closed Radio At 11:28 p.m. Burnham talked by radio to Northeast Airlines officials at Nantucket Airport. They told him there was "sufficient visibility" for a landing. He closed the radio and put the airliner's fate in the control of the approach signal, in the belief that the airport weather was clear. Then the fog closed in. Airline technicians rushed into action. They frantically radioed messages warning Burnham of the fog. That was at 11:30 p.m. But Burnham apparently never heard the warning. He was tuned only to the approach signal.

DIED

(Continued From Page 1) which was the worst single commercial airliner disaster in history. There were no burns on the bodies, indicating that there was no fire aboard the plane. A salvaged instrument panel and nosewheel from the huge Super Constellation which measured 116 feet long with a 123-foot wingspread, were receiving exhaustive tests by technicians at Galway. Airline Doubts Sabotage A KLM airline spokesman said it was "legitimate" to speculate that the plane crashed when its pressurization system failed, but said it was too early for "hard facts." The airline has tentatively ruled out sabotage. Medical authorities were reluctant to speculate further. A formal inquest was scheduled for Monday in Galway. It was postponed from Saturday because the coroner's office said it was "not ready." American aviation safety experts in Washington leaned to the theory that a violent, sudden and almost freakish thunderstorm turbulence caused the crash. The airliner—almost 100 miles off course when it crashed—was known to have pierced a thunderstorm area. There were no radio messages from the plane although it had four radios aboard. The last word from the Dutch pilot had been that all was well.

YOU... and YOUR HOME by Jack Foster

MAKE COLOR WORK FOR YOU "I don't want a rubber stamp room. One that looks like dozens of other rooms. I want a room with individuality. How can I achieve it?" Our answer to this question is: with color — used imaginatively. You can apply the new color effects of today to traditional rooms, to modern rooms, even to those Provincial styling. Remember, the way YOU choose and combine colors is what makes your home a true expression of you. Don't settle for restrained colors if they don't fit in with your temperament. Color is dramatic! Don't be afraid to let it express YOU. The room sketched above was just an ordinary square room with no distinguishing architectural features to individualize it until color was put to work. Wallpaper with horizontal stripes of jade green and Larkspur blue was used effectively on the window wall. Bands of blue and green, matched to the wallpaper were stitched on rough-textured cotton draperies. Soft white window panels were used to soften the glare, insure privacy. Other walls were painted oyster white, Jade green wall-to-wall carpet and blue upholstery fabric on sofa and chairs complete the striking color scheme. Wood tones of furniture provide color accent. JACK R. WHITE ... Awardee

Ex Pampan Wins Masons' Scholarship

Jack R. White, a May graduate of Coolidge (Ariz.) High School, has received a $500 scholarship from the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Arizona. White is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis, 335 N. Faulkner. His mother, Mrs. Alvis T. White, lived in Pampa for 37 years before moving to Coolidge in 1951. White attended Pampa and Mobeetie schools for seven years. The award was based on White's character and leadership abilities as shown by his participation in school and community activities. He plans to use the one year scholarship in Arizona State College, Tempe, where his sister Fanny is a senior. Since he hopes to be a teacher or coach, he will major in physical education or recreation. For the past four years, White has been a life guard at the City pool. In Coolidge High, he has played four years of varsity football, three of varsity baseball and two of varsity basketball. Other activities were the Hi-Y, Future Teachers of America, Drama Club and Student Council. For the past school year, he was senior class president. He was sports editor for the newspaper and the annual. He also was active in the Future Farmers of America and the DeMolay. Last month he attended the Red Cross Aquatic School at Sequoia Lake, Calif., where he earned his Water Safety instructor rating. The scholarship award was established last October by the Royal Arch Objectives Committee of the Grand Chapter.

Leaders of Cub Pack To Meet

McLEAN — Leaders of Pack 25 will meet tonight in McLean City Park to prepare themselves for the fall membership Round-Up. Cub Master Sam Haynes announced. The men and women will meet at 7:30 p.m. to organize the Pack for participation in the Round-Up program that all units in the Santa Fe District will put on in the fall. Pack 25 is new to the District, having transferred from the Comanche District recently. Dale Stone, District Scout executive, is expected to be on hand for the meeting. Haynes will meet with Felton Webb, institutional representative, Aynne McElroy, committee chairman, and R. C. Parker, Guy D. Hester, John M. Haynes and Clyde Magee, committeemen. The den mothers are Mrs. Clyde Magee, Mrs. Guy Hester, Mrs. Felton Webb, Mrs. Truitt Johnson, Mrs. Jim Hathaway, Mrs. A. J. Dwyer, Mrs. Bobbie Simpson, Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Mrs. R. C. Parker.

Hathaway To Head McLean Scout Drive

McLEAN — McLean finance chairman for the Boy Scouts Finance Drive will be Jim Hathaway, rural mail carrier of McLean. Hathaway has been in Scouting several years and has a son in Troop 25 of McLean. He is serving as institutional representative for the McLean Lions Club and helps with other Troop activities. Other campaign workers are now being selected and will plan to attend a District Finance Training meeting on Sept. 4, in Pampa, according to Gerald Sims, District Finance chairman.

HOPES

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

Farmers can now sign up under the conservation reserve portion of the Soil Bank Program. Farmers have until Sept. 26, 1958 to sign up for this program. Farmers may sign a contract to take some portion of his cultivated land or all of it in some cases, out of production and seeding it to some kind of permanent grass. This contract is for a five or ten year period. There is no grazing allowed on this land as a farmer draws an annual payment for taking the land out of production. This is an land established back in grass or to give some cropland a needed rest and rotation until it is needed at a later date. For more information on this program contact one of your local agricultural agencies. With the good rains and good season during the first part of this year there are some good native grasses that have made good seed. Some native grasses are ready for harvest now. Farmers and ranchers need to look around to see if they have any good patches of native grasses that seed could be harvested from. The seed grams have made very good seed and some cooperators within the Gray County Soil Conservation District have made plans to harvest the seed. Grass seed prices are high and there is a good demand for the seed. Sidecoats grama may yield 50 to 60 pounds of good seed. At a dollar a pound there are some good returns to be picked up from good patches of grass. Blue grama is also another grass that is ready for seed harvest. Some of the Bluestems will be ready before long. If you think there is a possibility of any seed harvest contact your local Soil Conservation Service technicians in the Pampa Courthouse. There are a number of farmers with combines who can harvest grass seed. Also a number of seed dealers are available who will harvest and buy the seed.

All Weather Route To Be Completed

(Special to The News) PERRYTON — An all-weather route between FM 377 and SH 15 will be available after the paving of the remainder of the industrial road at the east edge of Perryton. The Ochiltree County Commissioners Court voted this week to pave the remainder of the road. The north half of the road, approximately one-half mile, was paved last summer, and has been in developing the new industrial area at the east edge of town. This spring the Chamber of Commerce purchased the right-of-way for the road which extended south to connect with farm to market road No. 377. The County set back the fence and graded the road bed and this dirt road has been used by equipment of firms in the industrial area since that time. The unpaved portion of the road has been impassable at times this summer due to the rains. Specifications call for a 12-inch caliche base and asphalt topping, the same as the existing half of the road. Since last summer, when the road was completed, there have been 13 companies located on this road, with the lots sold on a non-profit basis by the Chamber of Commerce. County Will Get Road Money (Special to The News) PERRYTON — Ochiltree County will receive $19,924.55 as its share of the State road bond fund for this year, according to a letter received this week by County Judge H. R. Slaughter. The letter, from the State Board of County and District Road indebtedness, pointed out that this amount represents the County's share of the state fund to retire road bonds, and since Ochiltree County has no road bonds, the cash will be sent upon request by the commissioners court. This money must be used for construction or improvement of county lateral roads and the $19,924.55 will become available on Sept. 1.

Theme Of Month Will Be Rodeo

The City Hall Palm Room will look for all the world, like a rodeo arena Tuesday when the Boy Scouts move in with their "Cub Scout Corral." In this phase of the Theme of the Month Round Tables, Scouts from the Santa Fe District will have a little lab session among themselves on what Cub packs can expect for a month to come. The program will open at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with a general assembly for Cub, Boy Scout and Explorer leaders, according to George A. Snell, District commissioner. Boy Scouting for the month will have the theme "Gathering Time." Explorers will take up "Fall Activities." The Cub theme will be the liveliest both Tuesday night and through the month as some of the features will be a roping horse contest, with wooden horses, and a rope snake guessing contest, with a toy snake as an added attraction at the end of a length of rope. Demonstrations, investiture ceremonies, inter-patrol competition, summer camp review and a flag folding ceremony will be involved in the Boy Scout theme. Explorer leaders will take up the New Explorer emblem, the coming National Rifle Match, social events and service events. For everyone there will be program quarterly, notebooks and the annual Council program. The Cub Scout Corral in the Palm Room will involve the leaders in how-to demonstrations in various cowboy crafts that leaders will carry back to their packs, beginning with the next meeting. The Round Tables are held the third Tuesday of the month. Snell asks all advisors, assistants and crew leaders to attend. GETTYSBURG, Pa. — President Eisenhower, who normally walks the first hole or two when playing golf, confessed his fatigue at the first tee of the Gettysburg Golf Club: "I guess we had better start riding right away."

McCausland Is Friday Speaker For Kiwanians

John McCausland, local insurance man who only recently came to this country from London, England, spoke at the Pampa Kiwanis Club's noon meeting Friday. McCausland, making a plea for world peace, told of some of the horrors of war and his family had suffered during the London Blitz in World War II. McCausland asked that calm heads prevail in circumstances where in some call for war, saying the results of war in no way make it preferable to the tense situation of today. In fact, he called for cold war tactics, saying that it is a much better way to settle differences than on the battlefields. McCausland's address was attention-compelling and thoroughly "taken in" by the club members. Guests for the day included Bill Tidwell, Ken Eller, Master Skelby, Clyde Dickerson, Ricky Smith, Pat McCausland, Cameron March and Reed Steele.

MUDDY GOING—That pet duck atop the steps of this combine ought to be a muddier. Abnormal rains halted the wheat harvest in central Missouri early in July. The Boone County Missouri Farmers Association estimates that half of the wheat grown in the county is still in the fields. LeRoy Kircher, seen on combine, and his brother Allen, who farm near Columbia, are getting out some wheat after equipping their self-propelled combine with half-tracks. These enable them to get through fields where ordinary combines and tractors would bury themselves in the mud.

Ice May Block Submarine Route Under The North Pole

By DARRELL GARWOOD United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy indicated today the new submarine route under the North Pole may be blocked by shifting ice part of the year. "The entrance to the Barrow sea valley, leading from Point Barrow, Alaska, into the true Arctic basin, is only four or five miles wide and very restrictive," the Navy said in reply to questions posed by United Press International. "During the Arctic winter this 'lead' would be more difficult to penetrate due to shifting ice conditions." The Navy did not answer directly a question whether the USS Nautilus, prior to its successful voyage under the North Pole Aug. 3, had been turned back in a previous attempt by an 80-foot-thick wall of ice. Such reports originated in letters home by crewmen of the nuclear-powered submarine. Picked With Care But the Navy made it clear the time for the Nautilus' successful voyage was selected with care. The USS Skate became the second nuclear submarine to cruise under the North Pole Monday while exploring undersea routes beneath the ice cap. The Navy said the Nautilus sailed from Seattle, Wash., last June 8 to explore ice conditions and make preliminary under-ice excursions in the Bering Straits and Chukchee Sea "to determine feasibility of a cruise all the way across the polar basin." Following these preliminary investigations, Nautilus returned to make the first visit of a nuclear-powered submarine to Pearl Harbor. While the ship was in Pearl Harbor, the Navy conducted a series of aerial reconnaissance flights to keep a check on ice conditions to determine the optimum time for the departure from Pearl Harbor, July 23, for the first trans-polar crossing. Seeks Endurance Record The Navy said security would not permit releasing information concerning "conclusions as to the practicability of a trans-polar submarine cruise at any given time of year."

Hero Fights Government Transport Cost

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—A war hero who fought the Japanese as a guerrilla in the Philippines said today he will fight a government demand for $545—the cost of his transportation home. "I don't want to appear belligerent," said John F. Linehan, 61. "I just know the charge is not morally justified." "I'm going to fight this thing through." The government has ordered Linehan to pay up or to face a lawsuit. The $545 represents the cost of bringing Linehan home from Australia, where he was taken after a submarine evacuated him from the Philippines. U.S. Atty. Robert Schnacke said in San Francisco that Linehan signed a promissory note and that officials in Washington have ordered him to take legal action, if necessary, to collect it. At the time the Japanese attacked the Philippines, Linehan was a civilian laborer at the Cavite Naval Base. His contract of employment did not cover transportation. "Our government took on an obligation for my safety, which I feel must be recognized regardless of any formal contractual obligation," he said. He claimed this obligation was created when he was ordered into four different target areas to work under bombing and strafing. When the Japanese forced the Americans to retreat, Linehan took his Filipino wife, their infant daughter and a 15-year-old son by a previous marriage into the mountains. There he joined the guerrilla forces of Lt. Col. Milencio Santos of the Philippine scouts.

Taylor Will Be Speaker

George Taylor will be the speaker of a fellowship dinner at 8:30 Monday, announces Lamar Christian Church. The Christian Men's Fellowship will stage its social at 7:30 p.m. on the Raymond Maddox Farm, 18 miles south of Pampa on the Clarendon Highway. Speaker Taylor is education director of the Pampa First Christian Church. The Fellowship invites all men of both churches to attend and bring their friends. CHICAGO — Judge Daniel Co. well, indicating the inexorable course of the law to Mrs. Patrick Karam who refuses to reveal the hiding place of her nine-year-old daughter, whom she had spirited away in defiance of a court order: "You can stay in jail until you are 90 if you don't tell us where the child is."

RONALD DEAN ELLIOTT ... at Eniwetok

Ronald Elliott On 30-Day Leave

Ronald Dean Elliott, En. FN. of the US Naval Amphibious Base on Coronado Island off California, has returned to the states after six months in the Marshall Islands. While there, he participated in the atom tests at Eniwetok. After spending a thirty-day leave with his parents, he will go to Pearl Harbor, where he has been assigned to a destroyer-escort ship. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, former Pampans who now live at 1518 S. Baylor in Perryton.

'Hardening Of Arteries' Is In Evidence At Disney Studios

Television in Review By WILLIAM EWALD United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Views and reviews: I watched repeats of four Walt Disney cartoons — "Casey at the Bat," "Casey Jones," "Johnny Appleseed," "Martins and the Coys" — on ABC-TV's "Disneyland" and I was struck by their thinness. It seems to me there has been a gradual hardening of the arteries going on at the Disney studios since about the time of "Snow White."

Disney's products in recent years — however admirable they may be technically — have an air of mechanical slickness, a formula-strapped sense of fun that adheres too closely to what have become Walt Disney cliches. There has been very little art evident in the recent Disney product — series of nature films — only a including — his cloying, kittenish series of nature films — only a fast buck assembly line product that walks a dreary tightrope between monotony and mush.

Jack Klugman blew breath Wednesday night into an NBC-TV "Kraft Mystery Theatre" he-did-it, "Night Cry," a piece about a crop who accidentally knocks off a suspect and tries to conceal it. As the cop, Klugman turned out a portrait of considerable merit — aggressive, spiky, pungent, with

Services Stress God's Readiness To Supply Good

Assurance of God's readiness to supply all good to man will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul."

The ever-availability of divine goodness is set forth in the Scriptural readings, including this one from Luke (12:32): "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares (60:29): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

The Golden Text is from Psalm (104:1): "Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified."

You are cordially invited to attend the 11 a.m. Sunday morning service at First Church of Christ Scientist, Pampa, and the Wednesday evening meeting at 8:00, when testimonies of healing are offered by members of the congregation who have been benefited by Christian Science. The Sunday School is open to young people up to the age of 20.

REMODELED

This is the top floor of Dunlap's newly-remodeled store. Ladies and children's wear can be found on this floor. The remodeling included all new fixtures, more floor space and an overall cleaning up of the store. Other new features are also included in the firm's remodeling work. (News Photo)

Pampa Firms Take On 'New Look'

By RONNIE CROSS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Pampa — The City at the Top of Texas. This is most certainly a good nickname for our fair city. We are at the Top of Texas and doing everything we can to stay there in ways other than geographic.

Two of the main reasons Pampa is a popular city is that (1) people in Pampa are well known for their friendliness and (2) the beauty of the city.

The beauty of the city not only means nice yards in front of houses but the clean appearance of downtown Pampa stores.

The stores in Pampa not only keep their stores looking clean and neat for better business reasons but because it is expected at the Top of Texas.

New buildings are being constructed in our city now and many stores in Pampa are completely remodeling and putting "new faces" on their stores.

Dunlap's, White's, Field's Men Wear, and C&M Television will have remodeled stores before long.

The Dunlap's store, managed by Jerry Cole, has completely redone its appearance. The remodeling of the Dunlap's store was started at the top and then worked down. The top, or third floor, is finished and on this floor are ladies and children's wear, Ladies millinery and lingerie and all children's and infant's wear can be found on this floor.

The mezzanine floor is completed and this is where the piece goods, house hold furnishings and gift wear can be found.

The first floor is not quite finished but it will feature men's, boys' wear and ladies' shoes and accessories. The first floor remodeling is now 50 percent complete.

An elevator is being installed in the store and will be in operation for the first time this Friday. About half of the first floor will be in operation Monday.

Manager Cole said "we hope to have a formal opening about the 15th of September. The cost of remodeling a store like this runs into many, many thousands of dollars," Cole said.

Another store putting on a "new face" is White's Auto Store.

White's is completely remodeling the whole store from top to bottom.

A new all-glass front is being put in to replace the old wooden one.

The second floor is being extended 60 feet to give more display room for the furniture. Ten feet will be added to the rear of the building for most storage room. All of the store will have new fixtures and will have a new coat of paint. There will be some new lines of merchandise added and manager Lucien Young said, "it will be easier for people to shop in our store. We are having a new sign installed so that when you look up the street you'll know there is a White's Store in town."

Young added that, "we're building a new ceiling on the third floor and a new freight elevator. The cost of our remodeling job is several thousand dollars. We hope to be finished about Sept. 20th," Young concluded.

Field's Men Wear is also doing a remodeling job. New fixtures are being put in the store and, as a whole, it will be about a third larger. The cost is approximately $7,500.

Many stores in Pampa are moving to new locations to try and perk up their business. Others are expanding to take care of normal growth.

A new Furr Food store is under construction on N. Hobart and should be complete within the next six to eight weeks, according to Earl Barnett, the manager of Furr's downtown store.

The downtown store will be vacated and all of the personnel will work in the new store.

Barnett said that all next fixtures and all of the latest supermarket equipment will be featured in the new store. There will be a floor space of 1,900 feet in the new store and parking space for 100 cars.

This is a several hundred thousand dollar project, according to

NEW POOL

Shown above is construction work now being done at Pampa Hotel. In this picture, workmen are busy building a new swimming pool which will be one of the main features of the hotel. The hotel itself is being completely remodeled. The new pool will be 22' by 42' and will be second to none in it's class, according to hotel representatives.

Barnett, and the store would have been almost finished it is hadn't been for some high winds last month. The winds blew down one wall of the store.

Even though the present Furr's building will be vacated it won't be that way for long.

The C&M television store will be moved into the Furr's building after it is vacated. The store will be remodeled for a television and furniture store. There will be a complete line of GE and RCA appliances.

The business district is not the only place "doing things up brown."

One new bowling alley has been built and another one is under a new ownership and has been remodelled.

The Harvester Bowl, a brand, spanning new $250,000 building, has been built on S. Hobart. The new bowl has all of the latest equipment and a very nice coffee shop. Automatic pinsetters and scorers are a couple of the main features of the New Bowl.

The Pampa Bowl, now under the ownership of Ed Burgund remodelled at a cost of approximately $150,000. A new coffee shop has been added and a new and well lighted parking lot has been added, as well as scoring viewers visible to spectators.

Construction of houses is also being done at a great pace in Pampa.

Also the Pampa Hotel, under the new management of Roy Vermilion, is being re-done.

New rugs and carpets are being put in all of the rooms and new tile in the bathrooms. The whole front of the building will be torn down and remodelled with stainless steel doors put in place of the old wooden doors.

All of the rooms in the hotel are being painted, a television lounge and new equipment in the kitchen will make the hotel one of the niciest in Pampa. There will also be an enclosed party room built on the same order as the Pine Room in the basement of the hotel.

The main attraction of the hotel will be the new swimming pool in construction now across the street east of the hotel. The new pool is being built by the Texas Blue Lake Pools of Amarillo and will be finished in approximately two weeks, according to J. W. Marsh, owner of Blue Lakes. The pool measures 20 by 42 and will be heated.

This is by no means all of the business in Pampa doing remodeling work or planning it. Others will get underway in the near future.

Trips are awarded to the highest scoring 4-H junior leaders from each extension district in each extension district. Trips are also awarded to 12 junior leaders from other counties on a basis of outstanding leadership as demonstrated in 4-H club work.

The department announced there were 17 cases of polio in Texas last week, as compared with a five-year average of 45.

All range feed was reported at $1 per cent condition on Aug. 1. This was off 3 per cent for the month and compared with 78 per cent last year. The 10-year average for that date is 73 per cent.

Cattle and calves, in "good to excellent" condition, were rated at 86 per cent, down one point for the month but five points ahead of the 10-year average.

Ewes and lambs were reported in "good to very good" condition. The rating of 82 per cent compared with 85 per cent a month earlier and the 10-year average of 78 per cent.

Does Term 'Jew' Designate Race, Creed Or Nationality?

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Does the term "Jew" designate a person's religion, race or nationality?

This question currently is the subject of lively controversy among Jews, both in Israel and in the United States.

The dispute in Israel was touched off by the government's decision to issue new identification cards to all citizens. Each card shows, among other things, whether the bearer is Jewish or non-Jewish. The Ministry of Interior has instructed its clerks to let each citizen make the determination himself. In other words, any person who considers himself a Jew will be officially recorded as one.

The ruling has produced sharp protests from some orthodox rabbis. They charge that the government has abandoned the traditional tests prescribed in Talmudic Scriptures. According to these rules, a person is a Jew only if (1) he has been dedicated to the faith of Judaism by the rite of circumcision; and (2) he has a Jewish mother.

Few Jews would argue with the first test, which is a purely religious standard. It is like saying that a Catholic is one who has been baptized into the Catholic Church.

But the second test signifies that Jewishness also is a matter of race. And this idea is repugnant to many people (non-Jews as well as Jews) who remember how Hitler used it as an excuse for exterminating six million people.

In the United States, the question has become involved in a larger controversy between Zionists and non-Zionists over the relationship of American Jews to Israel.

Zionists regard Israel as the "Jewish homeland" to which all Jews owe the same loyalty and affection that a Scot feels for Scotland or a Frenchman for France. This concept of "Jewish nationalism" has been heavily stressed in U.S. campaigns to raise funds for Israel.

Non-Zionists believe Jewish nationalism inevitably will revive the "Hitler myths" of a Jewish race, and will lead in time to a new wave of anti-Semitism.

Under the leadership of Lessing J. Rosenwald, former board chairman of Sears Roebuck & Co., a non-Zionist organization called the American Council for Judaism is trying industriously to persuade American Jews that their common bond is not national, nor racial, but strictly religious.

"Judaism is a religion of universal values, not a nationality," says the council. "What makes one a Jew is voluntary adherence to that religion."

Fifth Grade Now Has Two Teachers

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — Three replacements have been made in the Lefors faculty for the coming year according to Jerry Jacobs, superintendent, completing the entire teaching staff for the school term which will begin on Sept. 2.

Eddy Clemmons is replacing Eugene Collingsworth as social science teacher for the seventh and eighth grades; Keith Geisler is replacing Keith Wolfe in high school English; and Paul Walden will be the science instructor in place of A. W. Shoffit.

Shoffit is attending the University of Texas and Wolfe, Texas Tech, while Collingsworth resigned to be employed by Producers Chemical Co.

Mrs. Wanda Williams has also been employed to teach fifth grade with Mrs. R. V. Bull. The present fifth grade teacher as it is anticipated that two classes will be required for the number of pupils in this grade.

On The Business Scene

United Press International

The Federal Reserve Board in a major policy switch approved a hike in the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. The increase was seen as an official signal that recovery from the recession is underway and inflation looms as the principal danger. The rate had been at 1 1/2 per cent since April.

More than half of 1,500 executives surveyed by Dun & Bradstreet look for sales in the fourth quarter to top those of the same period last year. Manufacturers, as a group, were most optimistic; retailers least.

Retail trade this week matched the similar period last year as gains in major appliances, linens and housewares offset declines in apparel and furniture. Interest in new passenger cars slipped slightly during the week, and sales were noticeably below a year ago.

Americans gulped a record 189,200,000 bottles of soft drinks per capita in 1957, according to Sales Management magazine. This represents a volume increase of 130 per cent over the past 12 years.

Shamrock Will Lack Water Unless Action Is Taken

(Special to The News)

SHAMROCK — The City may soon be without water unless relief measures are not taken immediately, according to John H. McMorris, the City's consulting engineer from Amarillo, met with the City Council Monday to say that the situation will be alarming if a new water supply is not found at once.

McMorris had five suggestions. 1. Inform the citizens of Shamrock of the conditions that exist. 2. Employ a reputable bonding company to make a detailed and complete financial survey. 3. Drill a test well of permanent type to the water bearing formations in the area where the City holds options, preferably near test hole 13. 4. Call a bond issue for the purchase of new water rights, drilling at least four permanent water supply wells and installing no less than a 14 inch water supply line, including a 500,000 gallon ground storage tank. 5. Ration water immediately in order to prolong the life of the present well field as it will take approximately eight months to complete the drilling of the wells and the laying of the pipeline.

All residents were immediately asked to stop watering their lawns. Pumping at full capacity around the clock, the present wells are failing to produce as much water as was used the first three days of the week. The swimming pool will be closed Monday. "Please use water sparingly and do not waste a drop," said Mayor Seibert Worley. "Every gallon is important for the next few weeks."

Wheatheart Entries Received By Chamber Of Commerce

(Special to The News)

PERRYTON — The first five entries in the Wheatheart of the Nation contest have been received by John Mayfield, Chamber of Commerce manager, a number of other entries have been promised. The first entry was Miss Jean Ann Quinn of Guymon, sponsored by the Guymon Chamber of Commerce. She is 17 and was reared on a wheat farm north of Guymon. She is a former Texas county Farm Bureau queen and at present is the Panhandle District dairy princess. She graduated from Guymon High School this spring where she was "Girl of the Month," an honor student, member of the band and mistress of ceremonies for the school bi-weekly radio program. She plans to enter Panhandle A&M College this fall, majoring in home economics.

Entering from Plainview was a Miss Carolyn Cooper, sponsored by the Plainview Junior Chamber of Commerce. The 17-year-old beauty is a senior in Plainview High School and is serving her second year as cheerleader.

She is queen of the Plainview Junior Rodeo Association and a queen of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Virginia Sweet of Wellington will represent the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce in the Aug. 23 contest. She is 16 and was runner-up for Miss Wellington in 1957, winning that title this year. She will be a junior in Wellington High School next year, where she is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Dramatics, and Student council.

The contest will be staged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 23, in the school auditorium.

The Four Teens from Lubbock, a group noted for their youthful personality and musical style will be the main feature of the program. Master of ceremonies for the program will be Dean Kelly, young Cora recording star, who will sing two of his releases, "Love Can't Live Alone," and "If the Shoe Fits." He was master of ceremonies for both the Miss Amarillo and Miss Texas contests.

4-H'ers Will Have Lab. Session

(Special to The News)

PERRYTON — Six Ochiltree county 4-H club members, will represent this Extension Service District at the 1958 Texas 4-H Club Junior Leadership Training Laboratory at Bastrop State Park near College Station.

The three boys and three girls will go to the camp today — and will return Sunday. Delbert Timmons, County Agent, and Miss Lou Ella Patterson, County home demonstration agent, will accompany them.

Representing Ochiltree County and the Extension District will be Earlene Schwalk, Carol Ann Gippson, Bonita Dunning, Bobby Schwalk, Glynn Sell and Jimmy Latham.

Trips are awarded to the highest scoring 4-H junior leaders from each extension district in each extension district. Trips are also awarded to 12 junior leaders from other counties on a basis of outstanding leadership as demonstrated in 4-H club work.

4th Polio Shot Said 'Good Idea'

AUSTIN (UPI) — A fourth "booster" shot of polio vaccine might be a good idea, according to the State Health Department.

The fourth shot means "added protection" for persons who have already completed a regular three-injection series a year or more earlier, the department said Friday.

Health officials say such protection "will be particularly important in individuals living in or going to high incidence areas or where other personal factors make the greatest margin of safety desirable."

The department announced there were 17 cases of polio in Texas last week, as compared with a five-year average of 45.

YOU DON'T "OUTGROW" SERIOUS AILMENTS

One of the most common and yet most unscientific statements to plague us today is the one that says, "the child will perhaps outgrow it in time."

How can they "outgrow" such disorders as Asthma, or Epilepsy, or nervousness? Just what process will be at work while the child "outgrows" it?

This reminds me of a father of a good sized family that waited from age one to age thirty-six to "outgrow" Asthma. It twisted his features and humped his body and just Miller D.C. kept right on smothering him, year after year. His Asthma was supposed to have been "outgrown" many years ago he stopped having Asthma, but not because he outgrew it, he has not had it since shortly after he came to the Miller Chiropractic Clinic to tell us he was tired of waiting to "outgrow" it. The Asthma just stopped coming around when Dr. Miller found and removed its cause.

Parents that are waiting for their child to outgrow an ailment have been confused by someone and are doing a grave injustice to their loved ones.

Let someone help you. Do something about its cause. Consider this actual case from the Miller Chiropractic Clinic, files, then personally investigate. It costs nothing to learn the truth.

Bill Byerly, right, shows Paul Brauchle some plant life which probably did not grow in Holy Ghost Canyon where the boys had a camping experience that they never had with the Boy Scouts. With them in Trip Camp were 14 boys and 14 girls from the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference. The R. M. Byerlys, 1324 N. Starkweather, and Charles Brauchle's, 1206 N. Russell, don't know quite what to do with their boys, who in a few months time, have switched allegiance from rocketry to radio.

Pampa Pair Set Up Camp In Holy Ghost, N.M., Canyon

By WALLACE TRUESDELL
Pampa News Staff Writer
Thirty boys and girls went into the "wilderness," among them Bill Byerly and Paul Brauchle of Pampa. They took their tents into Holy Ghost Canyon, near Santa Fe, N.M., and set up for an eight-day stand.
Brauchle is a junior and Byerly, a sophomore in Pampa High School. In the First Methodist Church, 201 E. Foster, they are active members of the senior Methodist Youth Fellowship.
The boys were quite excited when they got the invitation to Trip Camp as not everyone from the Northwest Texas Conference can go. On July 23, they were on the train to Lubbock where they joined the other campers on a chartered bus.
Arriving in Holy Ghost Canyon, at the headwaters of the Pika River, the crew divided into three groups of five boys, five girls and two counselors. This was to be a new experience, far from the familiar surroundings of their home towns, around council fires in the New Mexico mountains.

"There wasn't anything there except picnic tables," said Brauchle, who helped put up a tarpaulin for the kitchen.
Although everyone, with the exception of the cooks, made their own schedule, the boys declared this was the best organized camp they had ever been upon. And they are no strangers to camping, having gone with the Boy Scouts.
Some of the girls had never been camping before but "they made out alright," as Brauchle puts it. "They were pretty good cooks - pretty good dishwashers too," he adds.
Life of the camp was informal and spontaneous, from the mountain trails to the council fires each night. Hugh Daniel, pastor of the Overton Methodist Church, Lubbock, was camp director. The counselors were Methodist ministers and, in the case of the women, college students.

Recognizing a need for the church, the group held two short Sunday services complete with the singing of spirituals. But the life of the camp centered around the council fires where the teenagers were free to discuss their problems, be they family, social or spiritual.
The weather was good, the moon was full, the sky was loaded with stars. As Byerly learned, "There are some things we have to decide for ourselves."

SEATO Confronted With A Challenge

By K. C. THALER
United Press International
LONDON (UPI) — SEATO, the South East Asia Treaty Organization, has been confronted with a severe challenge that may seriously hamper its freedom of action against Communist subversion in the treaty area.
The challenge has come from SEATO's secretary general, Nal Pote Sarasin, who declared subversive activities the responsibility of a member country's own national forces.
Sarasin, a former provisional prime minister of Thailand who is on an official visit to Australia, was reported from Canberra today to have termed political coups a "domestic affair" of the country in which they occur, which could not involve other members.
It appears this interpretation would limit SEATO's right of intervention, for instance, in the event of a Communist engineered or backed coup in a member country.

with considerable interest in government quarters.
Britain appears to agree with the broad outlines of this interpretation of SEATO's Thai secretary general.
A foreign office spokesman let it be understood that he had "no quarrel" with this viewpoint.
But views within the treaty organization were expected to be divided.
Some of the western SEATO nations were expected to accept the interpretation only with considerable reservations.
The text of the treaty itself is hazy on this point, according to expert opinion.

CHICAGO (UPI) — A twin-ribbed speedway, the first completed leg of Illinois' new 187-mile, $441,000,000 tollway system, will be turned over to motorists Wednesday.
The four-to-six-lane, limited-access Northwest Tollway stretches 76 miles across the corn, soybean and dairy country of northern Illinois from the northwestern outskirts of Chicago to a point near the Wisconsin state line at South Beloit.
Gov. William G. Stratton, leading a several-hundred-car caravan, will preside at ribbon-cutting ceremonies in towns and cities along the right-of-way 23 months after he broke first ground for the project.
A second section of the tollway system will be opened to traffic Aug. 27. It is a 30-mile connection between Edens Expressway, which serves Chicago's north shore suburbs, and U.S. 41 at the Wisconsin line.
At the outset, Chicago-bound tollway travelers on both the Northwest Tollway and the Edens Expressway - to Wisconsin line segment of the Tri-State Tollway will find themselves dumped off the high-speed expressways into a maze of traffic-clogged streets miles from the downtown "Loop."
But eventually by 1960 or 1961 they will roll to the heart of the city over the toll-free Northwest Expressway now being constructed by Chicago and Cook County.
Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission, promised that the remainder of the tollway system will be opened to use by next Jan. 1. These projects include completion of the Tri-State Tollway, a "belt" road from the Wisconsin line south of Milwaukee around the Chicago metropolitan area to the Indiana line—and an East-West Tollway running west from the Tri-State Tollway to Aurora.

Back Stairs At The White House

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: The crops on President Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm look fine. In fact, the corn is so tall that it interferes with news coverage his arrivals by helicopter. Last week, the descending whirly-bird disappeared behind the waving corn and newsmen missed the actual landing.
Some newsmen moved up a dirt road to a field along a fence enclosing the President's farm house. They had a clear view of the main house and lawn, but Secret Service agents soon chased them away. Although fenced off from the President's house, the field also is his property.
Newsmen covering the President regularly may get a compensating break in Washington, however.
The White House press room may be remodeled for more efficient use of its limited space.
Although more headline stories come out of the White House press room than from any other in the capital, its facilities are among the poorest. It has only seven typewriters and nine desks. And the desks are cluttered with telephones and the cameras and other equipment of news photographers.

The press room, crowded on routine days, is packed with milling newsmen when there are big news breaks at the White House.

Stock Market Ends Week Lower

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market advanced in three out of five sessions this week but still ended the week lower as each decline exceeded 4 points in the industrial average.
The top development shaping market sentiment this week was the trend toward tighter money. On Thursday the Federal Reserve reversed its easy money policy and approved a discount rate increase in the San Francisco area.
The "Fed" action, coupled with last week's rise in margin requirements and the steady rise in interest rates on short-term loans, confirmed that the recession is over and that inflation has again become economic enemy No. 1.
A number of poor earnings reports and some dividend cuts and omissions also contributed to the market's decline, as did some old-fashioned profit-taking. Bullish factors included President Eisenhower's appeal for peace in the Middle East, the successful voyages of two atomic submarines under the polar ice cap, rises in industrial production and personal income, and the proposed firing of a moon rocket on Sunday.
The market began the week by rising to new highs for the year. Profit-taking sent it down sharply on Tuesday, but the market recovered most of this loss on Wednesday and Thursday. It fell back again on Friday.
A good sign this week was the fact the volume declined on the contractions and increased on the advances. This indicated that the market is not under heavy pressure.
Individual losses in the list ran past 4 points in Kennecott. Losses of 3 points or more were fairly numerous and included Amerada, Corning Glass, Dow Chemical, Pfizer, National Lead, Newmont Mining, Sunbeam and United Aircraft.
Among the leading groups, oils were one of the hardest hit. Richfield lost more than 5 points. It was named in a government suit accusing some 400 oil producers with sinking a Navy shipyard in California. Kerr-McGee and Gulf Oil each lost 3 1/2. Amerada fell 3 and Royal Dutch more than 2.
Autos were easier with the exception of American Motors, up 1 1/2, and Studebaker Packard, up a small fraction. Schenley was firm on favorable congressional action on a bill to extend the period of tax-free bonding to 20 years. Railroads had losses running past a point even though President Eisenhower signed into law legislation designed to help that industry.

Perryton School Board Approves Record Budget

PERRYTON — A record school budget was approved by the school board Tuesday night to operate the Perryton schools during the 1958-59 term, with a total of $540,363.00 set for operating expenses.
This does not include the amount of money that will be needed to retire school bonds. There will be approximately $50,000 needed to retire old school bonds, and another $110,000 to pay on the new $1,750,000 bond issue recently voted, making a total of $160,000 for debt service during the 1958-59 term.
The $540,363.00 for current operating expenses is an increase of about $70,000 from last year's budget. The 1957-58 budget was exceeded by approximately $41,000, the first time in the past ten years that the school expenses have exceeded the budget.
The increases were caused by more enrollment, new teachers and additional school facilities needed during the year.
The 1958-59 budget shows a sharp increase in teachers' salaries, because there will be more new teachers on the faculty. Salaries in the elementary and junior high school are $192,200 for the coming year and teachers' salaries in senior high are $125,465, representing an increase in teachers' salaries of more than $50,000 from last year.
School enrollment is expected to reach 1,650 this year, a boost from last year of about 200 students. Instruction costs, including teachers salaries, textbooks, and supplies, library expense, will be $362,765 this year compared with $302,769 during the year just ended.
There will also be an increase in the cost of maintenance of the school plant, with raises in janitors salaries, utilities and supplies. Along with the increase in enrollment will come an increase in state aid, with the per capita payments estimates at $123,500 this year compared with $118,787 last year. The foundation fund payments from the state will be $312,600 this year compared with $311,609 last year.
Local taxes will rise from $215,356 for the 1957-58 school year to $278,830 for the current year. Most of this increase is due to new construction and increase in oil valuations.

CHILDRESS—For a fellow who looked every ounce the picture of placid peace just minutes before the 9th annual Greenbelt Bowl's opening kickoff here Friday night, Arlington State's Claude Gilstrap, performed in such a manner that would have turned any old quick-change artist all shades of light green.

With envy that is, you understand. Familiarly known as "old Chena" by his football fraternity brothers, the Arlington State Coach, who possessed the East All Stars against the West here, looked like he'd just been run under the nearest cold shower with his clothes on.

Wiping a string of sweat-beads from his leathery brow Chena found it in him to laugh, "No suh," he mumbled in his deep East Texan drawl, "you can't pick a good time to get beat . . . it just hurts more when it happens like this. Always tougher to lose 'em in the last minutes."

Chena's West squad had fought brilliantly for 47 minutes and eight seconds, before the six-point favored West crew hard-nosed over a tiring touchdown, and then broke the Easterners backs with a game winning conversion.

The score was 7-6, and they're calling it the most thrilling Greenbelt Bowl Game to ever be staged in this lush little city of some 7,000.

Chena Wuz 'Real Proud'

"We really put out the big defense in holding them (the West) without a score up until there at the last," Gilstrap remarked after the game as he stood eyeing the chewed pencil eraser he'd been nibbling on all night. "Our kids hustled real hard and I'm proud of every one of them. I thought it was amazing the way both clubs played. Why, I'll bet there weren't a half dozen mistakes made by both sides together," Gilstrap commented. He displayed pleasure with his players unity after only four days of practice together. "They worked real good together," Chena stated, adding, "I thought our pursuit was a lot better than theirs and we gang tackled a lot better too. Our kids hit that ball carrier in 4's and 5's almost every time. Any coach likes to see that kind of stuff."

Liked Langford's Looks

Before the game, Chena stood in the West dressing room helping pull the tight green game jerseys over some of the players' heads. "You dang right it's been hot down here. We worked out in 103 heat one day. But the kids never seemed to mind it as much as we coaches. They worked harder than we thought they would all week," the Arlington State mentor related. "Yeah, this Langford boy from Pampa has looked good for us all week. He's got good speed and hits like he really means business. That's why we've got him on the kickoff team," Chena informed as he stood with one foot propped on a trainer's medicine kit. Changing the subject for a minute, Chena mused, "That's right, them big shots in Dallas and Fort Worth are being mighty considerate thinking of building a major league park in Arlington, halfway between the two cities. We'd certainly appreciate them putting us in the big leagues," he chuckled.

Belts Andrews' Ace Twice

Pampa's Robert Langford helped set up the West's only touchdown when he cracked into Tommy Jackson of Andrews who was returning the game's opening kickoff. Jackson fumbled the ball, and Abilene's John Paul Young pounced on it on the 20-yard line. Seven plays later the West had a 6-0 advantage. Langford, again racked up Jackson on the ensuing kickoff after the latter had dashed off a nifty 23 yard sprint and made a slight threat of breaking into the clear. In his only offensive chance of the night, the 160-pound Langford bulled his way up the middle for three yards in the 4th quarter. He understood for Vernon's 192-pound fullback, Jim Hollingsworth, during the game. Hollingsworth averaged 3 yards per carry, churning under 39 yards of real estate in 13 trips with the ball. Langford remarked before the game, "Those other guys (the West) seemed to work a little harder than we did this week, but that doesn't mean anything. Maybe their coaches thought they needed it more than ours did. Coach Gilstrap is a fine man to play under. He doesn't push to hard, but yet is firm enough." Langford, who hasn't bagged a grid scholarship said he'd probably enroll at West Texas State next month. When asked if he'd try out for the football team he said, "Yes, I plan on playing, if they'll have me."

Fighters Pulling Out For LA Scrap

ARROW SPRINGS, CALIF. (UPI)—Roy Harris boxed his final two training rounds Saturday and then broke camp to head for Los Angeles and Monday night's fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

STAGG TUMBLES TERRIFIC ODDS

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, revered elder statesman of football, celebrated his 96th birthday today much to the surprise of two insurance companies. Stagg, silver-haired and hearty, beat actuarial odds of 100-000 to 1 by collecting on his life insurance policies as his own beneficiary. One policy, issued in 1903 by a young agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company named Harold L. Ickes, was for $10,000. Another was issued in 1892 by the New York Life Insurance company for a lesser amount. Checks were mailed to Stagg as birthday presents which the companies calculate they only have to send to 3 of every 100,000 policy holders, based on the average life expectancy. Stagg seemed more pleased by the pile of mail from well-wishers than by the fact he beat the insurance "odds makers." After a quiet afternoon at home, he was honored at a football game—a fitting tribute to a man who devoted his life to the sport.

Thomas Breaks Leg

CHICAGO (UPI)—The results of an X-ray examination revealed today that Oklahoma halfback Clendon Thomas suffered a broken left leg while playing with the victorious All-Stars against the Detroit Lions. Thomas was removed from the game Friday night after returning to a kicking early in the third period. Soldier Field and rushed to Alexian Brothers Hospital.

West Nicks East In Greenbelt Bowl 7-6

Score In Last 52 Seconds

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Sports Editor

CHILDRESS—The clock ran a minute too slow for the East All Stars here Friday night in the 9th annual Greenbelt Bowl Game.

The favored West Stars, stymied without a score for 47 minutes and eight seconds, muscled into that promised land beyond the double stripe on a one-yard right end sweep by Lubbock's Pug Mahon and used Andrews' Tommy Jackson's perfect conversion from placement as the wrecking bar in winning a 7-6 thriller.

The underdog East team had scored on a short yardage play early in the game, and held a 6-0 advantage after missing their extra point attempt, until the waning seconds of the heated struggle witnessed by an estimated 3,600 sweltering spectators in muggy weather that had the thermometer flirting around the 90 degree mark all night.

It was Quarterback Billy Ryan of Seymour who crashed over left tackle for the East's lone touchdown from one yard out with 8:17 remaining in the initial stanza. Abilene's Chuck Colvin missed the conversion, his boot from placement sailing low and off to the right of the uprights.

SWAN SONG—Slinging Sammy Snead, even with all his years on the pro golfing trails behind him, still body Englishes his putts and moans when they miss the cup as he does here before the St. Paul Open tournament crowd.

BY 1-STROKE

Snead Leading St. Paul Open

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Sammy Snead, making his swan song on the 1958 professional golf tour, fired a six-under par 66 over Keller Golf course Saturday for a 54-hole total of '97, 19 under par, and a 54-hole lead in the $25,000 St. Paul open. Snead, the event's all-time leading money winner and winner of the event 21 years ago, held a one-shot lead over half-way leader, Mike Souchak, whose last tournament victory was in this tournament two years ago. Souchak shot a 68 Saturday for 198. Tied at 200, 16 under par, were Ernie Vossler, the halfway pacesetter, and Ken Venturi, a defending champion. Vossler, who posted a second round 64, had a 69 today while Venturi followed consecutive rounds of 66 with a four-under-par 68.

Royal, Iba Will Speak

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Coaches Darrel Royal of Texas University and Hank Iba of Oklahoma State Saturday were named top speakers for the 26th annual Kansas Coaching School, sponsored by the state High School Athletic Association. The school will open Monday morning with Iba speaking on basketball defense and other basketball strategy. Royal will make his first speech at 1 p. m. Tuesday on the split-T offense. The school will run through Thursday morning. PGA champion Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., was one of three competitors with a 64. Finsterwald's eight-under-par third round effort put him at 202, 14 below par. Other players who notched 64s were Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., and Tony Lema of Napa, Calif. Grouped at 202 were Paul Harnsey, Tommy Jacobs, and Cary Middlecoff. In the 203 bracket were Julius Boros, Doug Ford, Art Wall Jr., and Frank Stranahan.

Curfman Starting Staff Meetings

Babe Curfman, the man who's hoping to lead Pampa High out of the doldrums of football oblivion this fall, stood bare-chested and in Kakhi shorts Saturday afternoon, supervising the watering of his front lawn. He appeared a man without worry as he dashed to escape a spray of water from his modest sprinkler system. "We'll start having daily coaches-meeting Monday," the big man exclaimed as he sunk his toes into the cool green grass underfoot. The former Idaho University head task-master begins his first season at the helm of the Harvesters in Wichita Falls in less than four weeks and that'll only be the beginning of treacherous Friday night foes trying to rattle the Babe's dream castle for at least a 500 season. The 5-5 or better Curfman's shooting for would be a vast improvement, of course, over the dismal 2-8 mark hung up by last season's Green and Gold outfit. "We've got our equipment pretty well ready for distribution already," the Pampa High grid mentor said. He pointed out he'll have no spare time before the opening game on Sept. 12 against the Coyotes in Wichita Falls, especially since he has a green squad reporting for initial practice sessions on Sept. 1. Class AA, A and B schools open drills on Aug. 25 since they didn't partake in the 21-calendar days spring training sessions like the AAAA and AAA schools did. Curfman said Saturday afternoon he wasn't exactly sure yet whether he'd work his gridders out twice or three times daily prior to the Wichita Falls opener. "In any case, we'll only work with the pads on once a day," Babe added.

Naples Clings To 2-Stroke Lead

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla., clung to her two-stroke lead in the $5,000 Heart of America women's golf tournament Saturday when play was postponed by rain. With heavy rains falling overnight and showers continuing through the day, play was called off at 1 p. m. with the second round scheduled for Sunday and the 18-hole finals set for Monday. Miss Randolph shot a 35-35-70 in the first day of play to lead by two over Mary Lenä Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Ruthie Jensen of Seattle. Following their Sept. 12 date in Wichita Falls, the Harvesters hit the road for Fort Worth to meet Arlington Heights in a Sept. 19 tilt before playing their home opener here against Bowie of El Paso on Sept. 26. The Tacoma Rebels, expected to be the doormat of District 3-AAAA this fall invade Harvester Park on Oct. 3 to open conference play. On Oct. 10 Pampa travels to Lubbock to meet Monterey High and then go to Amarillo for their grudge-game with the potent Sandies on Oct. 17. Following an open date on Oct. 24, the Harvesters host Palo Duro on Oct. 31, travel to Lubbock for a game with the Westerners on Nov. 7, play host to Plainview on Nov. 15 and close out in Borger on Nov. 22.

FLOYD 5-1 FAVORITE OVER ROY MONDAY

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Floyd Patterson, a question-mark champion, and Roy Harris, lightly regarded challenger, finished training Saturday for their puzzling heavyweight title fight at Wrigley Field Monday night.

Woodman from Cut and Shoot, Tex., a modernized backfist, is unbeaten in 22 professional bouts; but whether he could make even a decent showing against the inactive champion from Mt. Vernon, N.Y., was entirely uncertain.

Young Floyd was favored at 5-1 and higher. Equally uncertain were the prospects for a crowd and gate at Wrigley Field and for the sale of seats at 151 theaters in 136 cities where the scheduled 15-rounder will be shown by closed-circuit TV.

There will be no home TV or radio. Promoter Bill Rosensohn, 38 and attempting his first fight presentation, was still hoping for a crowd of 18,000 and a gate of $300,000.

But persons close to the box office said he would be lucky to wind up with as much as $228,500—the California record set by Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson at Wrigley Field, May 18, 1956.

Large Guarantee Reserved tickets range from $10 to $30. Regardless of the gate or theatre-TV sales, Harris has been guaranteed $100,000—so that he wouldn't pull out of the fight if approached by the rival International Boxing Club.

And Patterson has been assured at least $210,000, with chances of making more on an involved percentage deal with the Telepromer Corporation, which has the television, radio and movie rights.

Black-haired, glittery-eyed Harris — a strange combination of Lt. Abner, college graduate, 2nd Lieutenant in the Field Artillery Reserve, backwoods school teacher and prize-fighter — broke camp Saturday at Arrowhead Springs, Calif., and motored into Los Angeles with his entourage.

He will be making his first fight outside the state of Texas and his first fistie appearance on television.

Although he is an unbeaten challenger, he is also an obscure contender because practically no one outside Texas ever saw him in action.

Didn't Show Much And in his sparring sessions at Cut and Shoot, at Camp Holden, Tex., and at Arrowhead Springs, he did little to boost his stock. He displayed "awkward cleverness," fast hands and a sneaker right-but little power and a weak defense.

He is an upright fighter with "good legs," who prefers to let his feet keep him at long range for counter-punching. At close quarters, he merely tries to tie up his opponent.

Nevertheless, his 22 victories include wins over 112-ranked Willie Pastrano, Will Besmanoff, Big Bob Baker and Charley Norkus. He registered nine knockouts. He expects to weigh 192 pounds.

Should he beat Patterson, he would be the second Texas-born heavyweight ruler. Jack Johnson, champ from 1908 to 1915, was born near Galveston, Tex. The only other Texas-born champion in any division was lightweight Lew Jenkins from Sweetwater, Tex.

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Cus D'Amato let it be known today that he would be "through with boxing," one way or the other, if his boy, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, loses the title to Roy Harris Monday night.

D'Amato will concede to no one that Harris will beat Patterson, but had a ready answer when asked what would happen if Floyd was defeated.

"If Floyd loses, I'm out of boxing, overnight, I'm through," the champ's manager said. Patterson is a heavy favorite for the bout. D'Amato's comments came as Patterson put the finishing touches on his training for the title bout. The champion boxed two rounds Friday, but planned only routine conditioning today before breaking camp and heading for Los Angeles.

Thomas Slaps Three Homers, Pirates Win

Pirates 13, Reds 4

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Frank Thomas clouted three home runs Saturday to bring his season total to 32 and pace the surging Pittsburgh Pirates to a 13-4 victory over the slumping Cincinnati Reds.

Thomas hit his last homer during a five-run ninth-inning rally that was almost washed out by a sudden violent rainstorm, but the teams managed to get the full game in even though the players got drenched in the ninth.

The big third baseman had a 450-foot shot off starter Harvey Haddix in the second, and another homer off Willard Schmidt in the sixth. His last, with two aboard came off Alex Kellner in the ninth.

Thomas also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly to total six for the day.

Bosox 7, Yanks 4

BOSTON (UPI)—Mickey Mantle slugged his 34th home run of the season to take the lead in the American League homer derby but it wasn't enough as the Boston Red Sox posted a 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees behind Tommy Brewer's eight-hit pitching.

The Red Sox collected 15 hits off Don (perfect game) Larsen and reliever Zach Monroe, including four doubles and Dick Gernert's 15th home run. Larsen was charged with his sixth loss against eight victories.

The 26-year-old Brewer struck out six and walked only two while notching his seventh win. It was only his third triumph over the Yankees in a five-year career, opposed to 11 defeats.

Mantle's homer, a 450-foot poke into the right-field bleachers with one man on in the sixth, moved him one ahead of Washington's Roy Sievers and two in front of Boston's Jackie Jensen.

Orioles 9, Sens 0

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Left-hander Billy O'Dell pitched a two-hitter and Gus Triandos drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and a single Saturday night to pace the Baltimore Orioles to a 9-0 victory over the Washington Senators.

O'Dell permitted only one Senator to reach second base and recorded eight strikeouts while walking only one to win his 11th game against 10 losses. Three Orioles made it easy for him as they knocked out Washington starter Pete Ramos with a six-run third inning, highlighted by Dick Williams' base-emphy homer and a two-run double by Triandos.

Even Willy Miranda, the league's lightest-hitting regular with a .170 average entering the game, found Ramos and reliever Hal Griggs easy to solve as he got three singles.

A's 8, Tigers 7

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A base-loaded double by Roger Maris in the bottom of the seventh inning Saturday night paced the Kansas City Athletics to an uphill 8-7 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Maris' blow, his second double of the night, drove in three runners and erased a 7-5 Detroit lead. It was the third time in the game the Athletics had come from behind.

The victory went to Ray Herbert, the third Kansas City pitcher. Frank Lary suffered the loss, his 12th of the year, in relief.

Detroit opened the game with a run on Harvey Kuenn's single, a double by Coot Veal and Frank Bolling's sacrifice fly.

Braves 2, Phils 1

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Southpaw Warren Spahn won his 16th game of the year Saturday when Hank Aaron singled home Felix Mantilla from third base in the eighth inning to give the Milwaukee Braves a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

It was the second straight game in which the Braves had scored in the eighth to beat the Phillies in pitching duels. The fifth straight victory kept Milwaukee rolling toward its second pennant in two years.

Mantilla opened the eighth for the league-leading Braves with a single, the first hit off left-hander Curt Simmons since the third. Casey Wise sacrificed Mantilla to second and Eddie Mathews layed down a perfect bunt along the first-base line for a hit that sent Mantilla to third.

Aaron, who is runnerup to the Phillies' Richie Ashburn in the National League batting race, then lashed his second hit of the game to easily score Mantilla. Aaron now has hit safely in 13 consecutive games.

IN DAVIS CUP

Barry, Sammy Click Together

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International

RYE, N. Y. (UPI)—Young Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Sammy Giammalva of Houston, clicking like a pair of twins, clinched the American zone Davis Cup final against Argentina, 3-0 Saturday by punching out a quick doubles victory over Enrique Morea and Eduardo Soriano, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Hamilton Richardson of Arlington, Va., earlier had made it 2-0 by downing the 34-year-old Morea, 6-1, 6-2, 7-9, 6-2 in the completion of a match postponed because of a rainstorm Friday with Ham trailing, 4-5, in the third set.

Then MacKay who knocked over Soriano in the opening singles Friday, led America's promising young doubles team in a romp to apply the clincher in the five-match series. The remaining two singles Sunday strictly are for the records books.

By sweeping its preliminary series against Venezuela, Canada and Argentina, the U.S. team, directed by Perry Jones of California, qualified for a trip to Australia where in mid-December the Yanks will have to turn back the Italy-Philippines winner before challenging the cup-holding Australians.

Richardson started fast when his singles match with Morea was resumed Saturday and he evened the third set at 5-5 with no strain. Morea, however, pulled out the set at 9-7 with a tremendous attack on Ham's highly-regarded backhand. The effort seemed to tire the Latin veteran, who was seriously ill for two months this spring, and he was an easy victim as Ham ran out the final set, 6-2.

In the doubles, MacKay and Giammalva never once dropped a service. They hit the ball low and at treacherous angles that forced the Argentine into numerous errors. Their particular target was the less experienced Soriano but when they had to they duelled with Morea and often beat him to the point.

Brown Named Trainer's Head

DALLAS (UPI)—The Southwest Athletic Trainers Association Saturday elected Bobby Brown, of Houston, as president to climax their fourth annual convention.

More than 100 high school, college and university representatives attended the two-day gathering at SMU which ended Saturday.

Wayne Rudy, of SMU, was named national director, and Weaver Jordan, of Baylor University, was chosen vice president. Other new officers are secretary-treasurer, Billy Pickard, of Brazosport and publicity director, Don Bennett, of Spring Branch.

In recognition of service to the association, special awards were voted to Wayne Rudy, Elmer Brown of TCU, and Charles Yocum of New Jersey.

3 Future Pros Pace 35-19 All-Star Win

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Three potential pro greats, Jim Ninowski, Bobby Mitchell and Bobby Joe Conrad, sparked like satellites Friday night to lead the College All Stars to a 35-19 win over the Detroit Lions, but the Cleveland Browns and Chicago Cardinals will reap the future rewards.

Ninowski, from Michigan State, completed 14 of 20 passes for 243 yards and two touchdowns and Mitchell, from Illinois, hauled in five of his tosses for 145 yards and two touchdowns. Both have been drafted by the Browns for the coming pro season.

Conrad, from Texas A. & M., never had tried a field goal before. He attempted four against the 1957 pro champions and made every one, from the 19, the 44 and twice from the 24 yard lines, and he converted after each of three All Star touchdowns. He belongs to the Cardinals.

Stars Were Polished

All of the Stars displayed polish, but these three and others were standouts. Jim Jones of Washington intercepted three passes by Bobby Layne, Alex Karras of Iowa tackled Tobin Rote in the end zone for a safety for the Stars. And Chuck Howley of West Virginia returned another intercepted Layne pitch for 29 yards and a touchdown.

"Ninowski proved himself on the field," coach Otto Graham of the Stars said. "And he'll be around for a long time. It was a great team and played as a unit."

George Wilson, coach of the Lions, who couldn't talk to his team for more than four minutes at the half due to a power failure, said that "we played like the lights were out all over the field."

"It comes down to the same old story. We didn't block, we didn't tackle. They were keyed

Kempa In Finals Here Today, 2:30

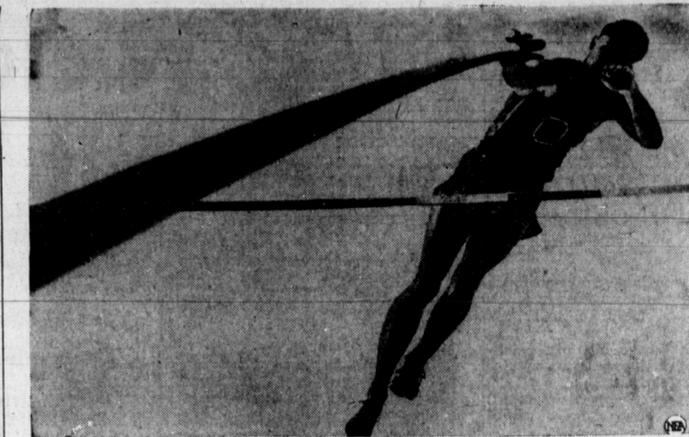

Kempa Humble of Pampa plays the winner of a late Saturday night game between Coors Beer and Phillips Men's Club in the 2:30 p.m. finals of the annual Top of Texas Softball Tournament today at Harvester Park.

Kempa whistled into the finals as the only undefeated club left in the meet when they spanked the Phillips Men's Club in a tight 3-1 tilt Friday night. Phillips won the meet the last two years and would still have an outside chance at the title by beating Coors late Saturday night and then upset Kempa in two games Sunday.

A Kempa win Sunday in the 2:30 tilt will end the meet, while a loss will force a second Sunday game, probably at 5 p.m.

Coors Beer ousted a cross-town Amarillo counterpart Saturday night in a double one-hitter, 2-1. Ray Howard notched the win and had six strikeouts while allowing but one hit and Clancy Williams also allowed only one single and posted an even dozen whiffs, but absorbed the loss.

Phillips Plant of Pampa lost out in the quarterfinals to Phillips Men's Club, 3-0, in another Saturday night game.

AMERICA'S BOB GUTOWSKI... caught on the end of a short pole!

Lindman Says Record Had To Be Accepted

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Bob Lindman, chairman of the International Amateur Athletic Federation's Rules and Records Committee, said Saturday that Yuri Stepanov's leap of 7 feet, 1.2 inches in the high jump was accepted as a world record because there was no rule forbidding "elevated" shoes when the Russian set the mark in Leningrad in July 1957.

"We had no choice—we had to recognize Stepanov's leap," Lindman said. "It is similar to American Bud Held's javelin record of a few years ago. His record was recognized but his type of javelin was ruled out like the elevated high jump shoe."

Lindman said that the official reports on Stanislaw Jungwirth's 1,500 meter race (3:38.1), Derek Ibbotson's mile race (3:27.2), and Olavi Salonen and Olavi Salonen's 3:40.2 for the 1,500 meters showed that there was no pace-making as had been suspected earlier.

American Bob Gutowski's 15 feet, 9 1/4 inch pole vault mark was not recognized because the committee by letter not to approve it as a record Gutowski holds the official record of 15 feet, 8 1/2 inches set on April 27, 1957 at Palo Alto, Calif.

"Gutowski used a pole that was short and his jump thus could not be approved," Lindman said. "Still, of the 36 marks accepted as world records by the committee Friday, Stepanov's was the one which raised most eyebrows among Europe's track observers. Official Soviet report on the performance denied allegations that Stepanov had used elevated shoes."

Even though the I.A.A.F.'s Rules and Records Committee had no regulation forbidding the use of elevated shoes, some observers felt the mark should not have been recognized. Ruling or no ruling, however, Russian officials denied all along that Stepanov had used an elevated shoe.

Air Academy To Meet SMU In 1961-62

DENVER (UPI)—The U. S. Air Force Academy and Southern Methodist University will play football games in 1961 and 1962, AF Academy Athletic Director Col. G. B. Simler announced Saturday.

The games will be played in the Dallas Cotton Bowl on Oct. 7, 1961 and Oct. 6, 1962.

Simler said the series will be extended if the games work out to the satisfaction of both schools. He added that the games could become one of the outstanding attractions of the Texas State Fair.

Earlier this year, the Academy announced the signing of a horse and home series with Baylor University, like SMU a member of the Southwest Conference.

The Baylor games will be played in 1960 and 1961.

Browns Topple Steelers, 10-0 In Exhibition Go

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—A recovered fumble that led to a touchdown and a 22-yard field goal by Lou Groza gave the Cleveland Browns a 10-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers here Saturday night in the opening exhibition game for each team.

The Browns took a 3-0 lead late in the third quarter on Groza's kick and then recovered a Pittsburgh fumble midway through the final period that led to the game's only touchdown.

Buzz Guy recovered Earl Morrall's fumble on the Steelers' 28 and one play later Milt Plum's pass to LeRoy Bolton moved the ball to the Pittsburgh 15.

Four plays later the Browns had a first down on the five and three more running plays moved the ball to the two.

Billy Reynolds skirted right end on fourth down for the clinching touchdown. Groza added the extra point.

Sanders To Be Buried In LA Monday

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Arrangements were completed Saturday for memorial services and a final tribute to U. C. L. A. football coach Henry (Red) Sanders, who died here Thursday of a heart attack.

The 2 o'clock services Monday in the Westwood community Methodist Church will include a eulogy by author Paul Wellman, a personal friend of Sanders.

Dr. Alfred W. Painter, minister of the church, will deliver a memorial talk.

After the services, the body will be flown to Nashville, Tenn., for services at 2 p.m. the following day at West End Methodist Church, with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery. Sanders' widow, Ann, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Dye, Decatur, Ala., will fly to Nashville for the final rites.

Dr. Theodore J. Curphey, Los Angeles County coroner, said today there would be no inquest into Sanders' death. An autopsy showed the 53-year-old Bruin coach, who collapsed in a Los Angeles hotel room, had a greatly enlarged heart, although he apparently was unaware he had a heart condition.

45-year-old chief assistant to Sanders, is expected to head the staff in the 1958 season.

WEST

West's spirited drive when it took 16 plays to roll under 62 yards to the West nine where a fourth-and-six pass went astray. The big gainers in that series were a 16-yard sprint by Ryan on a keeper, and a 19-yard pass from Ryan to End Tom Nash of Electra.

Before the half the West sandwiched drives to the East 17 and to their own 42 around a march by the East to the West 34.

The East blew a golden opportunity to sew up the game midway in the third quarter when they used a pass interception by James Holder of Wichita Falls on the West 22 to moments later creep within the shadow of the West goal.

The Easterners had a fourth-and-two situation from the two-yard line but a bootleg play by Ryan netted only one run and the ball was forked over.

The West punted out of trouble, and the East stepped down to the West 18 before they were stopped on downs. The West reached the East 19 and the East made it out to their own 31 before punting out on a third-and-22 situation.

It was at this point the West drove 40-yards for their winning score.

After Mahon's TD and Jackson's PAT, the East managed to get off four plays with the game ending as Matador High's Franklin Thrasher intercepted a last second-down desperation pass off the arm of sub signal-caller, Jerry Don Trentham of Electra.

Budge Bops 'Em

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris scored a 4-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Giuseppe Merlo of Italy Saturday in a quarter-final match of the International Bavarian Tennis Championships.

Top-seeded Mervyn Rose of Australia, who was suspended by his National Association last Tuesday, continued play anyway and defeated Andres Gimeno of Spain, 6-2, 6-2.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

September 1 at 12:00 noon marks the beginning of the 1958 mourning dove season. The season will last until October 20. The daily bag limit will be ten doves and the possession limit will be 20.

Panhandle dove shooting should be far better this fall than the last few previous seasons.

Some dove hunters are of the opinion that the season should be opened at least two weeks earlier due to the usual first cool snap that arrives about the opening day of the season and causes the doves to fly south.

Most of this line of thought doesn't hold water from the dove's standpoint. It is correct that we usually have a cool snap in late August or early September.

It is also correct that many of the doves drift south with the norther but at the same time there are many doves that drift south from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and points north.

Many of these birds in flight stop over for a few days or weeks in this part of the country.

Laws Can't Help Here!

The Panhandle of Texas, in general, will never be as good a dove hunting country as some parts of the lower plains. State and Federal laws will not change the migrating habits of the mourning dove. The hunter will have to accept the condition for what it is.

Suppose the season was opened in the middle of August in the top part of the Panhandle. How many nesting doves would be killed, together with the young birds in the nest that would starve?

Just for an idea of a few facts on the nesting habits of mourning doves, consider the findings of Wildlife Biologist A. S. Jackson and assistant a few years back in the Ochiltree County cemetery. Mr. Jackson counted 12 dove nests that contained either eggs or young doves on the 10th of September. The season had been in progress ten days.

What is your answer to opening the season earlier than September 1? This survey of a dove nesting area represented the general habits of this bird.

Sanitary Commission, Yet!

Woody Pond, State Game Warden at Canyon, made me wonder recently about some of the things that he had been advocating. Mr. Pond, former County Judge in Roberts County, has taken it upon himself to regulate some of the other wardens to a degree.

For the past few autumn, 35 to 40 game wardens arrive from all parts of the state at Dalhart at the Casa Mia Courts and check in a day before the antelope hunt. These wardens are needed to assist with the regulated hunt.

Judge Pond, being a native of the Panhandle, has accepted the responsibility of keeping this part of the state pure when it comes to ticks. "We can't have those east Texas tick-scratchers here unless we dip them," said the warden. There isn't a dipping vat handy so Warden Pond has a hand-pumped flysprayer ready.

Antelope Hunters Get Ready

The antelope hunts for the Panhandle will be October 14 through 16 and then October 17 through 19. There will be two three-day hunts for the antelope hunters in this

Ten Years, But Who Can Forget

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ten years ago today, at precisely 6:45 p. m., Babe Ruth had a premonition.

Slowly, almost tediously, he swung his body around and tried to get off his hospital bed.

"Where are you going?" a doctor asked anxiously.

"I'm going over the valley," the Babe said simply.

Those were the last words anyone ever heard him utter. An hour and 16 minutes later, he was dead.

At Rest in Stadium

At 3:46 p. m. the following day, a shiny, low-slung hearse cruised quietly up to the main entrance at Yankee Stadium.

Eight pallbearers then solemnly carried Ruth's body into the rotunda of the ball park.

The Babe was back in the house he built — back for the last time.

They're sure to tell stories about the Babe for as long as the stadium stands, even for as long as baseball ever is played.

Ruth was a physical phenomenon. He could break all the rules in the book the night before and then sock a pair into the right field seats the following afternoon. And how the fans would roar when he'd give 'em that appealing "home run trot" of his around the bases.

There are those who say the Babe was a little boy who never grew up. Could be.

H-SU Landing Top Grid Foes

ATHLENE — Hardin — Simmons University displayed its intentions of continuing to meet many of the outstanding football teams in the nation by announcing Saturday that the Cowboys will play the University of Georgia in 1959.

The announcement was made by H-SU athletic director Bill Ledbetter, the man responsible for this year's schedule which is said to be the toughest in the history of the Athlene university.

The Cowboys will meet the Bulldogs in Athens, Ga., on Oct. 10, 1959 — Georgia is the second Southeastern Conference team on the Hardin-Simmons schedule for 1959. Earlier it was announced that Auburn, the nation's No. 1 team in 1957, would host the Cowboys on Oct. 3, 1959. Wallace Butts is head coach and athletic director at Georgia. It will be the first meeting of the two inter-sectional schools.

Hardin-Simmons is playing two other Southeastern teams this season — Mississippi and Louisiana State University. The 1958 non-conference schedule also includes games with two Southwest Conference schools, Arkansas and Baylor, and Tulsa and Wichita of the Missouri Valley Conference.

"We are happy that the University of Georgia saw fit to add us to their 1959 schedule," stated Ledbetter. "Georgia is a good school and has a fine football program. The addition of such a fine team to our schedule conforms to the wishes and thinking of our entire coaching staff, administration, athletic committees and friends."

Pair Of 'New Faces' Wrestle Familiar Fighters Monday

A couple new faces appear on the Pampa wrestling scene at the Top O' Texas Sportsman Club Monday night and it may mean double-trouble for a couple of old faces.

The new faces belong to strapping Doug Donovan who tackles hapless Tommy Phelps in a 20-minute one-fall opener. Phelps, of course, has been refereeing matches here for a long time and only recently decided to stick his finger in the pie for a percentage of the purse as an active grappler. Probably because the grunt-and-grainers were giving him such a bad time anyway, with loose elbows and at times doubled fists.

Phelps, however, hasn't managed to turn in a victory yet, losing to Rickey Romero in last week's opener match here.

Romero, the tricky belter from Mexico, squares off against the other "new face" in a best two-of-three semi-final match against Hard Bolled Haggerty.

In the main event Monday night a pair of heated enemies collide as Iron Mike DeBaise meets Tokyo Joe.

Last week, Tokyo Joe, won a disqualification decision over Iron Mike's tag-team partner, Art Nelson. DeBaise leaped into the ring in last week's final match and tried to help out his buddy, Nelson, when it looked like the Jap was going to make mince-meat of the big fellow.

This week, Iron Mike, who clobbered Al Sevatch in last week's semi-final match, gets a chance to halt Tokyo's four-week winning skein here, and his pal Nelson won't be around to give an illegal helping hand should Tokyo get the best of DeBaise.

FLOWER SHOW COMMITTEE—Beginning last June, the Pampa Garden Club and The Pampa Rose Society began making plans for the flower show, which will be presented on Saturday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. All during these summer months, committee meetings have been sandwiched in between working in their gardens in order to have prime specimens and beautiful arrangements. The fruits of their efforts will take shape Saturday afternoon when the doors open at 2 p.m. to allow the public to view the floral efforts of local gardeners. At a planning session held in the home of Mrs. Martin Stubbe, 1718 Hamilton, Garden Club Flower Show chairman, extreme left, are left to right, Mmes. Henry Gruben, advanced record; Tom W. Price, staging; Isla H. Campbell, schedule; Joe Z. Weaver and Bert Robinson, judging; and Waldon Moore, staging. Unable to be present, when the picture was made, were two committee chairmen, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, hospitality and Mrs. Lee Moore, classification.

EIGHT FOR '58—The Pampa Rose Society had as one of its goals for its members this year the planting of eight rose-bushes for each Rose Society couple. Complying early in the year with this goal were the Martin E. Stubbe family, 1718 Hamilton. To illustrate that rose-gardening can be a family-fun affair, Miss Betha Lee Stubbe works around her very own rose-bush, as her father loosens the soil with a hoe and her mother prepares a bouquet for their home. The Stubbes are planning entries in the specimen class and artistic arrangements of the Flower Show to be held Saturday.

Panhandle Reflections

The Pampa Garden Club and The Pampa Rose Society will stage a late summer flower show, entitled "Panhandle Reflections" this Saturday afternoon from two until eight o'clock in Lovett Memorial Library. The public is invited to attend the free display.

Displays of floral specimens and artistic arrangements built around the show theme will be entered by local gardeners in women, men, and junior divisions with prizes awarded in each division. The clubs extend a cordial invitation to members and non-members to make entries.

"Panhandle Reflections" takes its theme from the tales by the many "young" old-timers, who still reside in this area to pass on the historic and brave legends upon which our present spiritual and material wealth is based.

The show will be dedicated "to the men and women who were actually here in the burgeoning hours of the Panhandle's opening history."

Artistic floral arrangements will also hark back to those conquistadors, who passed this way; to those brave Comanches and Kiowas, who fought with ill weapons to preserve this last stand against the decimation of their entire way of life.

"Black Gold" to interpret the oil boom; "In All Kinds of Weather" to illustrate the wonderfully versatile Panhandle climate; "Industries On Parade" to highlight celanese helium and carbon products; "Pampa Beauties On Parade", which will allow local green-fingered "Burbanks" to display their special beauties; these are among the suggested arrangements to be featured in the show.

"Panhandle Reflections" is being directed by Mrs. Martin Stubbe, Pampa Garden Club Flower Show chairman, whose club president is Mrs. Thelma Bray and by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Brandt of the Pampa Rose Society, whose president is Mrs. H. H. Boynton.

ROSE DEVOTEES—A pleasant view greeted the eyes of passers-by out on Duncan Street this Spring and early summer by the lovely blooms on the rose bushes surrounding the dental offices of Dr. Weldon Adair. Dr. and Mrs. Adair are pictured here grooming the bushes and nipping off withering petals in preparation for an original entry in the artistic arrangements of the flower show. Mrs. Adair is a member of the Pampa Garden Club and both are members of the Pampa Rose Society.

ARTISTIC ARRANGEMENTS—Artistic arrangements created around the "Panhandle Reflections" theme will be one of the highlights of the Saturday afternoon flower-show. Mrs. Thelma Bray, Pampa Garden Club president, smiles her approval of the entry her daughter, Debbie, has created. Miss Molly Cornutt, standing, who will also have an entry in the Junior Division, is receiving some pointers on floral arrangements from Mrs. Jimmy McCune, seated, in whose home at 811 N. Frost, the picture was taken. Entries in all three divisions, women's, men's and juniors' will be judged separately.

HORTICULTURE—The proof of a beautiful garden filled with lively blossoms is in the can of a good anti-insect spray, illustrated here by Mrs. H. H. Stull as Mrs. S. W. Brandt, Pampa Rose Society flower show chairman, watches. All types of insects, whether the flying, hopping or crawling variety, were made very unwelcome in the Stull garden this summer. Spraying for insects and plant diseases is stressed for healthy gardens. The clubs wish to point out that less points will be deducted at the flower show for a specimen, which leaves show the spray than for specimens whose leaves are insect riddled. Mrs. Stull and Mrs. Brandt are pictured in the garden of the Stull home, 2016 Williston.

Miss Effa Frances Haney, R. W. Roman Say Nuptial Vows In Church Ceremony

A background of jade palms flanked with seven branched candelabra; floor baskets of white gladioli flanking the altar and prieu was the formal setting for the nuptial vows repeated by Miss Effa Frances Haney and Richard Walter Roman last night in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church. Reverend Woodrow W. Adcock performed the double-ring service. Family pews of honor were marked with white satin bows.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Bailey Haney, south of the city. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Oscar Roman, of Mercedes and the late Mr. Roman.

Tom Atkin, organist, listed among his pre-nuptial selections: "Sinfonia (God's Time Is Best)" (Bach); "My Heart Ever Faithful" (Bach); Caprice Viennoise (Kriessler); Traumeri (Schumann) and Serenade (Schubert).

Mrs. Jane Branson Ward, soloist, presented "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" (Gounod) and "O Perfect Love (Barnby)."

Wedding processions by Mr. Atkin were "March Romantique" (Gounod) and "Bridal Song" (Lohengrin) by Wagner. For the recessional, the wedding march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn was played.

modal bodice was styled with the neckline outlined with floral medallions centered with iridescent sequins and three-quarter length shirred sleeves. Her fingertip Veil of Illusion tulle was secured to a tiara encrusted with pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride carried a white Bible arranged with white roses, stephanotis and showered with white satin streamers tied in Lover's knots.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Marvin Haney, sister-in-law of the bride, of Stamford, attended as matron of honor wearing a waltz-length pink chiffon dress fashioned with a fitted bodice, bouffant skirt encircled at the waistline with a cummerbund and a deeper shade of pink. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink carnations and red Sweetheart roses.

Howard Roman, bridegroom's brother of Mercedes, was best man. The bride's brothers, Marvin and Wesley, both of Stamford, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Haney chose a street-length costume suit of ice-green Italian silk with a pink hat and black accessories. She wore a corsage arranged with pink carnations and Sweetheart roses.

RECEPTION

A reception was held immediately following the exchange of vows in the church parlor with Miss Betty Boswell presiding at the punch service. Mrs. Wesley Haney, sister-in-law, Stamford, served cake. Mrs. Howard Roman, bridegroom's sister-in-law, was guest registrar. They were assisted by Mrs. John Hesse, Mrs. Albert Berry, and Mrs. Herman Jones.

Following the ceremony, the couple will fly to Venezuela, where they will make their home, by way of New Orleans and Miami. For travel, the bride chose a Dior blue Italian silk suit, complemented with a white feathered hat and navy accessories. She wore the white roses from her bouquet.

Mrs. Roman was graduated from Pampa High School; attended West Texas State College and graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in elementary education. For the past four years she has been librarian in the Houston school system.

Clothing Donation By Sharp Group

The Sharp Group of the First Christian Church met Monday evening with Mrs. C. C. Dunham, 2125 Duncan. Mrs. K. L. Green gave the opening prayer. Devotional was given by Mrs. Lloyd Laramore.

The program, "Here In Real Life, The Twelve Disciples" was presented by Mrs. O. H. Odom.

During the business session, Mrs. George Taylor and John Gill reported on the Christian Youth Fellowship conference held recently in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Green read a card from the Hazel Green Academy expressing appreciation to the group for items sent to the academy. Members were asked to bring additional items for the academy to the next meeting.

Members were also reminded to bring new and used school clothing to the church to be sent to the Juliette Fowler Children's Home in Dallas, and used clothing for the United Church Clothing appeal.

Mrs. Laramore announced that a Family Camp would be held at Ceta Glen on Aug. 24-27. All families of the Church are invited. CWF benediction repeated in union concluded the business session.

Mrs. Dunham served refreshments of iced tea and ice cream cake-roll to Mrs. Richard Crews, a guest and to members. Mmes. John Gill, George Taylor, Lloyd Laramore, O. H. Odom, K. L. Green, L. L. Lockhart, E. K. Haner, and Cecil Deist.

Next meeting will be held in the church educational building at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 8 with Mrs. Buri Graham Jr. as hostess.

Yard Landscaping Topic For HDC

"When planning to landscape your yard, the most important step is to first draw your plans on paper, as you would your house plans" was one of the points emphasized by Miss Helen Dunlap, County Home Demonstration Agent, in a talk on "Planning The Home Yard" to members of the Goodwill Home Demonstration Club on Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. James Smathers, Cabot-Kingsmill Camp, west of the city.

Several other points brought out were, 1) Plan landscapes that are easy to keep. Good landscaping adds to the value of property and the attractiveness of the community; 2) Plant only what you can take care of. Plant some each year and not all at once. "It is important not to plant too close"; 3) Make trenches around the base of trees to make use of all the

Central Baptist Church Nuptial Scene For Miss Gayla Gray, Donald Wallace

Central Baptist Church was the wedding scene for the marriage of Miss Gayla Ann Gray and Donald Dean Wallace on August 9 at eight o'clock.

Miss Gray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, 1300 E. Browning. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wallace, Lawndale, Calif., are the parents of the bridegroom.

A candlelighted archway holding blue tapers, baskets of white gladioli, and palms formed the decorations for the double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Dean Franklin.

Miss Mary Ann Becker, at the organ, played the traditional marches and was accompanist for Mrs. Peggy Martin as she sang, "The Lord's Prayer," "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

BRIDE
Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gownned in white satin and lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves, with a bouffant skirt of lace over satin with a panel of pleated tulle inserts. She wore opera-length lace mitts, which came to petal points over the hands and carried a garland of carnation petals. Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was secured to a tiara encrusted with pearls and rhinestones.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Martha Robertson, maid of honor, and Miss Sandra Cotton, bridesmaid, wore blue waltz-length taffeta dresses with blue net mitts and matching headpieces. They carried white carnations arranged on blue fans.

Jack Lindeman served as best man. Ushers were Hershall Bogie and Johnny Quarles.

Miss Carla Hollis served as flower girl wearing a dress and accessories like the bridesmaid's. She wore a carnation wristlet and carried a white basket showered with blue streamers.

William Gray, brother of the bride, and Miss Dana Searight, dressed as the other feminine attendants, lighted the candles at the altar.

Mrs. Gray, mother of the bride, wore beige lace with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wallace, chose a powder blue with black accessories. Their corsages were of carnations.

Mrs. Vincent Has PM Gavel Club

Past Matrons Gavel Club met in the home of Mrs. Katie Vincent on Thursday evening for a covered-dish supper. Mrs. Lillian Murphy and Mrs. W. M. Voyles were co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Ed Railsback, presided during the business meeting as Mrs. L. H. Musgrave and Mrs. Iva Head were received as new members in the club.

Secret paj gifts were exchanged, after which games were played.

Attending were Meses. Roy Sewell, W. S. Kiser, Ethel Alexander, Oscar Shearer, Dennis Stiwell, L. H. Musgrave, J. S. Fuqua, Rosalie Wedge, Bill Flewelling, R. A. Hankhouse, Guy Andis, G. C. Crocker, O. A. Wagner, Perla Mitchell, Otto C. Rise, Earl C. Casey, Katie Vincent, Lillian Murphy, Ed Railsback, W. M. Voyles, Mrs. I. E. Byars was welcomed as a visitor.

'Bundle From Heaven' Party Theme Honoring Mrs. Richard Bright

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — "Bundle From Heaven," in the colors, blue, white, and silver, was the theme of a baby shower given in honor of Mrs. Richard Bright recently in the civic center.

Hostesses for the event were Meses. R. C. Ogdin, W. R. Combs, C. E. Fenno, D. W. Willis, Burt Davis, Carl Barnett, A. J. Carlton, Bill Crabtree, L. E. Welborn, H. R. Barnes, A. L. Finchum, A. W. Chisum, and W. G. Hughes.

A corsage fashioned of blue carnations around a tiny stork was presented to the honoree.

The receiving room was decorated with blue stars sprinkled with silver glitter dangling from the light fixtures, with a half moon and stars in the center, and the inscription "Bundle From Heaven," in letters of blue and silver over the serving table.

The serving table was covered in a white crocheted cloth over blue centered with a baby wrapped in a blanket lying in a blue cloud of angel hair. Blue and silver candles flanked the arrangement. Favors were white mint cups decorated with blue stars. The cake was cut in squares with a blue star on each piece and served with the punch from a crystal service. Table appointments were blue pastel plates and silver.

Guests were Meses. E. G. Fenno, Annie Fenno, James Welborn, A. M. Miller, Carl Wall, Ernest Taylor, James Jinks, Luke Glover, Charlie Tutor and Nancy Ellen, O. R. Henry, Roy Nobles, Ed Brock, B. J. Thacker, John Roberts, and R. T. Jinks. Twenty-four invited guests sent gifts, but were unable to attend.

RUTH MILLETT

Jimmy, who will be a high school senior this fall, got a summer job with a construction company. He was working with married men who supported families on the same hourly wages Jimmy had to spend on dates and his souped-up hot rod.

He listened to the men worry out loud about the difficulty of getting by from one pay day to the next. He saw them stuck in poor paying work that in not too many years would be beyond their strength. He realized that these grown men had nothing more to bargain with in the business of earning a living than a 16 or 17-year-old kid. As a result, Jimmy got a respect for education his parents and teachers had never been able to give him.

I'm telling Jimmy's story because I have before me a letter from a mother who says that she and her husband can't persuade their son that he ought to go on to college this fall.

They are wondering if they ought to force him to go or give up their dream of seeing that he has the opportunity for a better education than either of them were able to get.

Maybe the answer is to let the boy get a job and find out a few of the financial facts of life for himself.

It's a gamble, of course. But it isn't any more of a gamble than sending him to college against his will.

It is hard for parents to tell an 18-year-old anything.

But it is amazing how much they can learn from observation and experience when they get in a situation where they are on their own.

LITTLE LIZ

A man always knows what his wife expects of him. The trouble is most of them can't afford it.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES... notice the new paint being applied to the streets around the school crossings... that is a sure sign that we mothers are going to have to rustle up some new clothes for the school children... and buy a new pair of shoes to fit the summer-sandal-widened feet... and start the breaking-in period for getting the youngsters out of bed a little earlier (that is, if you are lucky enough to have late-sleepers in the summer)... and time, too to crack down if any summer reading has been neglected... we always get the urge to buy some of the nice, new paper and pencils and notebooks that are going on display now in the stores... reminds us of our school days, and the exciting odor of new textbooks, with the adventure of finding out what is inside that is to be packed within the head of the student during the coming year... a hectic, but nice time of year.

GUESS THE PLEDGES of the clubs around town are a little happier for the time being... for instance, the Emancipation Dance for the Sub-Deb Club was held... with the room decorated as a jail... they made birds in cages with members' names on them... and now the mothers of the pledges can relax a little... wonder if it isn't more of a trial for the families than it really is for the girls... egg on hair and hairbraided actions of their daughters prescribed by duly qualified members of the clubs for the express devilmint of the pledges... the Ralph Sidwell's have bought a new home on Aspen... it is still in the construction stage... but they have a very nice corner lot... and what looks like a very nice, large home... all you people out in that "neck of the woods" can get ready to welcome the new neighbors when they move in... heard about a surprise birthday party given for Don George the other day... his first surprise party!... Ray and Shirley Welsh have a new dog... a miniature French poodle... named Chou-Chou... at least, that is the way WE spell it... it sounds like it... they also have a Dalmation, or Coach Dog named Trudy... quite a pair... also we have heard of the Golden Spread Kennel Club newly-organized here and in Borger, we think... they want to have a series of training for showing, and obedience classes for dogs and their owners... and also they would take an active interest in preventing "cruelty to animals" and in providing care for stray animals... at least that is what clubs of a similar nature other places do... and the plan is to try to have an "experimental" show sometime in September... there will not be time to plan a show that would be accredited or whatever it is to award points, but it won't be long if all you dog-owners get on the leash-end... MUSH!

WASN'T IT A shame that Edwinna and Lynn Boyd's home was damaged inside recently by an unlucky stroke of lightning... or something... they're not really sure what hit them... it is a good thing they were not at home when it happened, or they could have been injured... they have had to redecorate... and speaking of redecorating... Leah Behrman started out to do a retouch paint job and ended up re-doing the kitchen and bath completely... a beautiful job, too... that's the trouble with starting... it leads to more and more... but the results are worth it... the O. W. Applebys returned the other day from a trip to Taos and Santa Fe, New Mexico... they had a wonderful time, and visited art galleries... Frances is all excited, now, and enthusiastic about returning to painting study with Dord Fitz... his classes, incidentally, are beginning September 7th... we'll have more details later, in case you're interested... Arthur and Janette Aftergut and the children visited Disneyland a week or so ago... the Bob Triplehorns, David, and Carol, went to San Francisco... we overheard Nita Luna commenting on the nice job the Sub Debs did in putting on a Bridge tournament... and that she felt that one of the things these little clubs do, which is often overlooked, is give the girls a chance to learn to do social things which help them so much later on... organizing, and serving, and so forth... we think Nita is very brave, too... for the last five years or so she has helped with the "Kangaroo Court" held after the Freedom Dance, until five a.m... this year's, by the way was at Jan Hall's home... Jack and Judy Miller are happy with their new home on Aspen... guess their parents are, too... there are parties for the Horace McBees, who are leaving Pampa after 33 years... one was given by S. G. Surratt, aided by his sisters-in-law Grace and Harriett McCarthy... from Oklahoma City... and the Pampa Rose Society, of which the McBees were enthusiastic members, gave them a very nice party... the McBees will be missed very much... speaking of missing people... we were a little shocked to realize that it has been more than a year that Daisy Bellamy has been in the hospital... she has a color-television set in her room to help the long days along... and visitors are certainly welcome... we leave you this week, you card playing fiends, with this thought... Columbus brought playing cards to America on the Santa Maria and his sailors whiled away the hours at sea playing cards... so you see, you all antedate the Mayflower! With that cheerful thought we say,
Love,
Peg

Miss Carol Rankin Exchanges Vows With James Robert Lawley Junior

Miss Carol Rankin, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. W. A. Rankin,

Bride's Shower Fetes Mrs. Duff

(Special to The News) PERRYTON — Mrs. Forrest Duff, the former Ruth Ann Smith, was honored with a bridal shower on Monday evening in the parlor of the First Baptist church in Perryton.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Meses, Thelma Davis, Carl Blackmore, Herbert Key, Coralee Wright, Spencer Whippo, Lester Portwood, Loren Allen, Chester Cooper, Verlie Copeland.

Guests were received by alternating hostesses and registered by Miss Nancy Wright, Miss Earlene Anderson and Miss Joyce Maberry assisted the honoree with the gifts.

Corsages of carnations tied in green were presented to the honoree, Mrs. H. E. Smith, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Duff.

The tea table was laid with a white lace cloth over green center with an arrangement of pink asters flanked by pink tapers in crystal candelabra. The bride's colors of pink and green were carried out in other decorations.

Mrs. J. F. Duff and Mrs. Smith presided at the crystal punch service.

Approximately seventy-five called or sent gifts during the receiving hours.

1617 Charles, became the bride of James Robert Lawley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lawley, 6256 Martel, Dallas, with vows exchanged on August 10 at five o'clock in the First Methodist Church.

Reverend W. W. Adcock read the double-ring vows amid a setting of gladioli in white urns, palms, and huckleberry entwining the altar rails.

Tom Atkin, at the organ, provided a medley of pre-nuptial airs and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Robert Ward sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in Chantilly lace over taffeta and tulle fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, short, shirred sleeves, and molded bodice enjoined to a bouffant skirt. Her imported veil of English Illusion was secured to a Juliet cap of pearls. Operalength mitts of Chantilly lace came to petal points over the hands and she carried a white pearlized Bible topped with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS
The bride's attendants were Miss Joy Byrne, Houston, as maid of honor and Miss Connie Joe Kelly, Miss Monte Belle Burns, Huntsville, bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of blue organdy encircled at the waist with a cummerbund of a deeper shade of blue satin. They carried white glabella bouquets. Howell B. Payne, Houston, served the bridegroom as best man, Ushers were Gabe Utz, Edinburg, Wayne Young, Fort Worth, Glenn Whitcomb, Baytown, and Ben Ganit, Houston.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Rankin, chose a pink lace dress with pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lawley, wore blue lace with a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION
At the reception, held immediately following the exchange of vows, in the parlor of the First Methodist Church, the wedding table was covered with a white net cloth over white taffeta caught up at the corners with blue bows.

Mrs. John Rankin presided at the punch service. Mrs. Barney Burgess served cake. Mrs. Malvin Stewart was guest registrar. Others assisting with the reception were Meses, W. R. Morris, Guy Andis, and I. E. Byars.

Following the reception, Mrs. and Mrs. Lawley left for a wedding trip to New Orleans. Upon their return they will make their home in Houston.

Mrs. Lawley was graduated in 1953 from Pampa High School; in 1956 from Sam Houston State, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Phi and Alpha Chi. She was employed in the Pasadena school system.

Mr. Lawley was graduated in 1951 from Crozier Technical High School and the University of Texas in 1955 with a BS in chemical engineering. He was affiliated with Tau Beta Pi, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Cambda Upsilon, Omega Chi Epsilon. He is employed by Humble Oil and Refining Co., Baytown.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady for six months and my boyfriend's religion doesn't permit him to go to movies or to dances. There is nothing much for us to do except to sit out in a car and neck. I like him a lot but this is getting dangerous. What should I do?

DEAR ABBY: Get together with other couples and play records (you don't have to dance, even if they do), play scrabble, watch TV, engage in sports (swimming, tennis, bowling) picnic with others. Too much alone time is dangerous indeed and you are smart to know it.

DEAR ABBY: I need you help on a subject concerning my husband. He is getting bald but he refuses to do anything about it. I say he should get a hair piece and cover up his head as he isn't even thirty yet and he is too young to be bald. He is very stubborn and says if he is going to be bald he will take it like a man and he doesn't care how it looks. I think just to spite me he brushes his hair more than he has to and harder than usual just to make it fall out. Please help me to convince him that he needs his head covered.

HATING BLADNESS
DEAR HATING: If he is getting bald, he is wise to accept it. The only way you'll sell him a hair piece is to show him someone on whom it looks so real he could never believe it.

DEAR ABBY: I am in search of feminine companionship. I'd like a good-looking, clean girl between 20 and 35 who is interested in some fun on week-ends and holidays. No chance for marriage. I've had it. Thanks.

LONESOME AL
DEAR AL: Where do you think you are going to find a CLEAN, GOOD-LOOKING GIRL who would go for a deal like this? Sorry, Friend, you are barking (and I did say barking) up the wrong tree.

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a boy who has money. His birthday comes before mine. I am afraid if I give him a gift he will think I am doing it just so he will give me one. I hate to let his birthday go by without giving him anything, but I don't want him to get the wrong idea. Please help me.

NOT HINTING
DEAR NOT: Send him a telegram or mail him a birthday card.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WALLY: A woman's tears have been known to generate more power than Niagara.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
A neighbor of Mrs. W. has an "untrained, neglected" child named Rosie, about the same age as Mrs. W.'s 7-year-old Joyce. The other day Joyce broke down and confessed that Rosie has been imparting sex information to her. Mrs. W. writes, "How can I erase the filthy impression made on Joyce by this child?"

No, I am going to shock a lot of people. I think that sex talk among children of the same age is more wholesome than our grownup, "scientific" sex discussions with them.

Parent-child sex discussions are inevitably artificial. Between sexually experienced adults and inexperienced children is such a gulf of different feeling toward the subject matter that we just can't jump over it — and shouldn't have to try.

A youngster's startled but comradely giggles over another's revelations are more appropriate to childhood than the uneasy or bored or mystified patience he brings to our efforts to extract from the facts of life the life they contain for us.

So in my opinion "filthy" is not what went on between these two little girls.

No, I'm not against sex instruction by parents. I'm just against idealizing it as the most hygienic way to introduce a child to a subject which is charged with emotional meaning for us that he cannot possibly share.

Parents who take pride in their ability to dispense cool, "objective" sex instruction may resist this idea. To encourage them to give it some new, original thought, I am going to quote from the best child guidance book I know — "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child," by psychiatrist Dr. Hilde Bruch. (Incidentally, excerpts from it will appear in this space during my coming vacation.)

Dr. Bruch writes: "There is cause to wonder whether the fact that parents have taken over sex instruction may not have deprived children of something essentially necessary; namely, to learn about sex as a shared experience with their contemporaries. What a child hears from other children, even though it may be incorrect, may better satisfy his curiosity because it may be more in keeping with his own way of thinking and current notions."

Haven't you ever wondered?

Rho Eta Chapter Entertains With Morning Coffee

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority honored its pledges and sponsor, Mrs. Inez Carter, with an informal coffee in the home of Mrs. Bill Gabelmann, 2306 Mary Ellen, on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock.

Crystal and silver were used on the serving table with floral arrangements of cut roses and potted greenery to emphasize gay, summer colors. Name-tags in the form of yellow coffee cups were pinned on each arrival at the door.

Mrs. Gabelmann was assisted by Mrs. Jim Wallace and Mrs. Vernon Bell.

Eye Emphasis Is High Fashion

Eye emphasis, which is high fashion this year, largely depends on your eyelash make-up and its application, says Max Factor, world-famed Hollywood beauty authority. Therefore, select one which will provide you with the following glamour points.

1. Make sure that your eyelash make-up is flexible and will allow the lashes to bend. If they are brittle, they will often break off and their luxury will be gone.
2. Demand a make-up which will not burn your eyes.
3. Insist on one which is tearproof and will not run.
4. Make certain your eyelash make-up applies easily so that each lash stands apart instead of sticking together in a mass.
5. Be sure it is removable.

Study Units Held By Mission Circles

Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met in mission study sessions this week: Mrs. Howard Randall was hostess to the NORMA JEAN BRADLEY CIRCLE on Wednesday opening with group singing, "Send The Light", followed by prayer by Mrs. John Pharr. Mrs. W. R. Bell led the business meeting. Bible study was given by Mrs. E. G. Alberta. Mrs. T. C. McGlohn closed the meeting with prayer. Six members were present and one visitor, Mrs. J. O. Watson.

The DARLENE ELLIOTT CIRCLE met with Mrs. Reuben Hilton, opening with prayer by Mrs. A. A. Day. Mrs. Lida Ramsey presided during the business meeting. The lesson on soul winning was taught by Mrs. Lewis Hollar. Mrs. Doshia Anderson led the closing prayer.

The VIRGINIA OWENS CIRCLE met with Mrs. Mattie Heath, 218 E. Foster, for Bible study. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Orval Batson and a special prayer for missionaries was given by Mrs. Herman Whatley. Bible study was taught by Mrs. Earl Dodson. Group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. C. E. Powell. Eleven members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Ophelia Morris.

Manners Makes Friends

If a friend seems reluctant to accept something you offer him, don't insist. Chances are he doesn't want the gift, and is hesitant to come right out and say so. Unless he accepts your offer enthusiastically, it's best to drop the matter. The person who accepts something he doesn't really want often does so for fear of hurting the feelings of the one who gave it to him. Read The News Classified Ads.

Tribute To Ralph Gwinn

There is a gray-haired, leonine-countenanced man from Bronxville, New York who is retiring from politics this year. His name is Ralph Gwinn. He is 74 years of age.
Mr. Gwinn has been a representative of his district in the halls of Congress for the last seven terms. That gives him 14 years as a public servant. It is entirely possible that the courage and

Looking Sideways

By Whitney Bolton

NEW YORK — Although no commercial enterprise ever on equal in largesse the mounds of goodies distributed by David O. Selznick when he was ready to launch "Duel In The Sun," it seems to me as an old-time and long ago user of commercial aviation that the air lines are running him a close and a narrow race. It has got so a man scarcely can hustle his raincoat and briefcase aboard an airplane before someone thrusts a bottle of champagne into his hands and asks him what type of hors d'oeuvres he likes best.

Just the other night, on TV, a Southern woman who seems to be the undisputed Bible knowledge champion of the United States appeared to pick up her airplane tickets for an international Bible Quiz show in the Holy Land and they were handed to her in a soft leather, reusable, hand-blocked case of obvious attractiveness and value. Most of us get our tickets in paper envelopes, but a few lines around the world are delivering them to the passengers in fancy cases. And, for years, each line has vied with all others in the attractiveness, shape, color and charm of free overnight cases.

Once flew to London, planning an extension all the way to Athens, and between the two airlines involved, I was traveling down with half-point pens, weighted down by ball-point pens, travel guides to London and Athens, shaving kits and all manner of small trappings, all without fee.
There is no shrill quarrel with any airline that wants to gift its passengers with objects of any kind, but I fear that they are running themselves into a race for who can donate the most valuable items. Before you know it, you will spend $500 for a ticket and get back $35 in largesse.

Back there when transcontinental air travel was a rugged, sput, and easy, casual transatlantic flight was only a dream on the drawing boards (except for Alcock and Brown, Lindbergh, Byrd and a few like that), you got a bucket seat in an unpressurized plane and your luggage, if any, was a three-month-old copy of the Literary Digest or a dog-eared out-dated copy of Readers Digest. You flew from Newark to Fort Worth, on one particular line, got off in the evening, hauled down a dog-wagon supper of tough steak in the airport, and then got aboard a biplane in the night and your berth either was a hanging shelf three feet off the floor or you had the lower, which was a mattress on the floor of the plane. During the night the sleeper, as it was called, made several trips between Fort Worth and Los Angeles and the yawing over the desert floor was not calculated to soothe one into a deep sleep. They gave you a small paper cup of orange juice, a mug of coffee and, sometimes, an overnight-staled breakfast bun as you woke in California sunshine. One morning the breakfast fare was half a cup of orange juice, a chocolate-cocoa muffin, which was not then and is not now my notion of an ideal breakfast. The flight time was around 18 hours or maybe it was 17.

Now you have a choice of several deluxe airlines which will whisk you to California about the states and the strife in about eight hours, will play you with guinea hen and wild rice, cocktails and other delicacies and bring you everything you want to read but the Encyclopedia Britannica. That weighs too much.
On flights to Europe you get pens, overnight cases, champagne, dictating machines, piped music, fancy reading matter and meals that must have come from First Table at Le Pyramide or the Tours d'Argent. Pheasant, wild rice, wild strawberries in clotted cream, all manner of table d'hôte. The flight to personalize and make valuable the envelopes in which tickets are delivered is fierce. It has to be only a short time before you get a monkey leather envelope, passport size, with 14-kt gold corners and your name in at least rubies or emeralds.
All of which is dandy and makes you feel important, but I have the

Free Rider Argument Examined

The "American Enterprise Association" has just published a book on "Labor Unions and Public Policy."
The "American Enterprise Association" known as AEA, was organized in 1943 by a group of industrial leaders, members of Congress and representatives of the academic world. AEA is a nonpartisan research organization which studies national policy problems.

This book contains the writings of four students of economic questions. They are: Edward H. Chamberlin, Philip D. Bradley, Gerard D. Reilly and Roscoe Pound.
The part of the book that expressed new ideas to me was written by Philip D. Bradley. The book, in introducing Mr. Bradley, says he "is the author of 'Involuntary Participation in Unionism.' For many years a member of the Department of Economics at Harvard University, he is now a Visiting Professor at the University of Virginia. His study comprises a systematic economic and legal analysis of the logic underlying involuntarism."
Can Labor Unions Raise Wage Levels
Mr. Bradley has considerable to say on whether labor unions can enrich all those who work for wages. He believes and I think he gives plenty of evidence, that labor unions cannot improve the lot of the workers as a whole. It is just simple mathematics to me that they cannot, because they have never added to the wealth of the world and have prevented billions of dollars' worth of wealth from being created. Of course, what is not created cannot be distributed. And if union members' lot is temporarily improved by reducing profits, then they retard the accumulation of wealth which the employer wants to invest in better tools in order to reduce his costs, in order to better serve his customers and have more of them; and to enable him to pay more wages to his workers and also to make more profit. In fact, he has to pay more real wages to his workers in order to get workers from those who have less efficient tools.

He uses the word "intuitive" and "empirical" in discussing this problem, and these words seem to have flexible meanings. "Intuitive" really means that you form a judgment by intuition rather than on a scientific plane. "Empirical" means you not only have your own experience but the experience of others and then you use reason to draw logical conclusions. With this explanation, this is the way Mr. Bradley puts it:
"Intuitive belief is not a rational basis for the formulation and execution of policy. What then do the congressional records — the testimony before congressional committees and the debates in Senate and House — reveal in the way of evidence which provides a factual foundation for the majority belief? Astonishingly enough, the answer is — none. No evidence is displayed on the record tending to show that union has gained anything but a surplus of economic benefits. Claims, theories, and opinions are to be found almost without limit, but even elementary demonstrations tinged, but it ever so lightly, with empirical data are missing."
Higher Than What?
"Repetitious" claims are dispensed with in the brief filed by the Department of Justice. The Solicitor General and his colleagues rest their judgment on a simple, communicable standard, namely, unions obtain benefits — i.e., higher wages and better working conditions." The answer to the question "higher than what?" is presumably appropriately left to the higher courts for on this point the brief is not only brief but also silent.
"Thus the investigator who assumes the existence of facts supporting the legislative judgment on the matter of the union — created surplus is bound to be disappointed by the poverty in this respect of the congressional records. Nor will his disappointment be relieved by anything offered by the Justice Department. Nor yet can he turn, as might reasonably be expected, to factual demonstrations provided by the union advocates of involuntary unionism, for, as previously indicated, union sources have created a substantial body of empirical data tending not to prove but to disprove the proposition under review. Nevertheless the persistent investigator need not be wholly disappointed. Empirical studies do exist and with their aid judgments concerning the union-created surplus may be shaped by more rational consideration than personal feelings. Evidently the studies referred to have been undertaken by university economists and the presumption is that they are the product of scholars."
He lists some 18 references from which the conclusions in his book are drawn. He continues:
"Among the several conclusions concerning the economic consequences produced by the exercise of union bargaining power two assist in providing an answer to the question 'Do unions create or obtain economic benefits?' The conclusions are:
"1. Unions have not raised the general level of real wages in the United States.
"2. Unions have not increased labor's share in the national income."

Robert Allen Reports:

Iron Curtain Countries May Get Strategic Goods

WASHINGTON — The bars are again being let down on selling strategic goods to Iron Curtain countries.
Britain is taking the lead in doing that, with an impending announcement.
Other NATO allies will follow suit.
The U.S. is not joining in this latest easing of trade relations with the Reds. U.S. restrictions remain unchanged.
Under Britain's forthcoming announcement, stated in the next few days, some 100 items of previously-banned heavy machinery and equipment will be added to the list of goods that can be bought by Communist nations, including Red China.
Foremost among these new additions are transportation equipment, road-building machinery, electrical supplies and motor vehicles.
The backstage agreement to further ease East-West trade barriers was reached last month at a NATO conference in Geneva. Representatives of all NATO countries were present, including the U.S.
No announcement was made of this latest embargo-relaxing understanding. That was left to each nation to make known.
Prime Minister Macmillan's government has decided the time is ripe now for such an announcement. This impending action is fully known to the U.S., with whom it has been discussed.
The U.S. is making one exception in continuing to prohibit the shipment of strategic goods to Communist countries.
Yugoslavia is being allowed to obtain U.S. heavy machinery and equipment.
As reported in this column last week, that is being done under the new foreign aid budget. An unannounced State Department plan proposes to supply Yugoslavia with more than $200,000,000 in transportation, mining, road-building and other heavy machinery — that was to have been supplied by Russia under its abruptly-cancelled $285,000,000 credits.
The State Department would finance this huge equipment transaction in two ways:
(1) A $75,000,000 grant from the new multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget; (2) Using $125,000,000 (or more if necessary) in counterpart funds resulting from previous U.S. economic aid to Yugoslavia. Since 1951 that has totaled $650,000,000, with counterpart funds amounting to $200,000,000 in Yugoslav currency.
An estimated 90 percent of this heavy machinery would be purchased in the U.S. The remainder would come from Western European sources.
The State Department's plan has the backing of U.S. steel and equipment makers.
No new military aid is contemplated for Yugoslavia. So far, it has received $800,000,000 in such supplies.
NOTE: Intelligence reports a lot of Soviet rocket activity in both Polar regions. Since July 1, the Russians have fired a total of 59 rockets in these areas: 14 from Hays Island in the Arctic, and the

Has Congress Gone Spending Crazy?

By Thurman Sensing

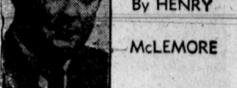

The current Congress, as a whole, seems to have gone "spending crazy." By the time the session ends, it will undoubtedly be recognized as one of the most recklessly extravagant and spendthrift — gresses of recent history.
What has happened to Congress? Has it been brain-washed by do-gooders at home? Has it been fear-washed by events abroad? Is it all just because it is an election year — a year during which Congress is traditionally in a generous mood with the taxpayers' own money? Has Congress lost all regard for the future financial stability of the nation, and at the same time for the future welfare of generations of our people unborn?
Events have been piling up to make all these questions both necessary and pertinent. We ended the last fiscal year on June 30th with a deficit of $2.8 billion. It is generally conceded we shall end the current fiscal year next June 30th with a deficit of at least $12 billion. And now it is reported that preliminary work is already under way on another $80 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1st that will entail an additional deficit of $8 billion to $10 billion. All this means a deficit for these three years alone of $23 billion to $25 billion!

All this means, also, that our national debt will have increased by the same $23 billion to $25 billion in three years time. Already the debt limit has been increased to $280 billion to take care of what has happened thus far, and the Administration has requested that it be raised to $388 billion to take care of what is patently going to happen in the next few months. After that, under our present way of doing things, it will have to be increased again.
And thus the nation runs headlong down the road to overpopulation and "disastrous" inflation. What is the answer? If there is a solution? The natural response is that the people can stop it, if they will only demand that it be stopped. But can they? A great outcry came from the people to Congress in the Spring of '57 about the proposed budget for the ensuing fiscal year. Congress seemed to pay attention. Proposed increased spending in many directions was not approved. The people were happy. But then the hullabaloo died down — and Congress slipped in the appropriations which they had not dared make while the people were excited. As a result, the budget was larger than ever and the deficit was incurred.
And so, as matters now stand, the answer does not lie in the hands of the people. And certainly nothing can be expected from the government. It is the nature of governments, any and all governments, to spend all they can get their hands on. And to borrow more — if they are permitted to do so.
The answer, therefore — so far as our government is concerned — lies in an amendment to the Constitution requiring us to pay out way as we go along. A law making it impossible for us to spend more than we receive.
This means that if we want to spend $1 billion for foreign aid, and our income does not permit us to do it without incurring a deficit, taxes must be raised by an amount sufficient to bring in an

By HENRY McLEMORE

What Kind Of Welcome For Nikita Khrushchev?

Ever since Nikita Khrushchev first indicated a willingness to visit New York to discuss the Middle East problem I have been besieged by people wanting to know what sort of welcome the Soviet premier should be given if he comes.
My opinion is sought, I imagine, because of my experience as a protocol expert. Not in any official capacity, you understand. It's just a hobby.
I used to advise Jack Curley, late professional wrestling czar, how to set the various grand- and groan champions under his control at publicity banquets. It was not an easy job. Should Gorgeous Gus, champion of the Malay Peninsula, have the place of honor? Or should it go the Archangel, whose boss constructor hold had at least — the championship of Madagascar, Nebraska, and the tide-water section of Virginia?
Even earlier, I served as volunteer adviser on protocol for the Rochelle, Ga., grammar school. It was a pretty toughy business, what with such important personalities as the head cheerleader, the director of the fife and drum corps, the volleyball coach, and the class valedictorian, demanding the place of honor on welter roasts, hayrides and fish-fries.
But enough of my past. Let's get to Khrushchev.
My own personal choice for the type of welcome to be given Khrushchev would be patterned after the one you and I and most other Americans get when we step off a plane in New York — the silent treatment. Pay no more attention to him than if he were Ed Buckboard from Rutland. No heads turned. No crowds outside or inside the terminal. No placards for or against the man.
Nothing more than the courtesy our government is obligated to give him. No 24-gun salutes unless, of course, they could be accidentally aimed at him. In short, treat him as if he didn't matter to the American people.
My second choice would be a laughing welcome — a "laughing at" welcome. Everyone along the sidewalks would laugh long and when he went by. And in the crowd would be a few banners advertising "Joe's Place — We Serve The Biggest Slug of Vodka in Town."
Many of the people who have sought my advice have offered their own ideas as to the type of welcome due Khrushchev. One suggested a ticker tape parade up Broadway with the tape made of fudge that failed to set, or medium-sized sashweights. I frown on these. Fudge and sashweights are too expensive.
One thing I hope, and that is that there will be no autograph seekers. Anyone who would seek Khrushchev's name on anything (and that goes for treaties, too) should have his head examined by a graduate quack, and then told to hold it under water two hours at a time, three times a day.
But if there are autograph seekers, I advise them to proffer a pen that will write under blood as well as water. More in keeping with Mr. K's character.

AS CLEAR AS MUD (Chicago Daily Tribune)

We would have less difficulty understanding why American marines have been landed in Lebanon if those who are trying to define our policy in this action showed some signs that they understood it.
Mr. Eisenhower says that the marines are there, first, to protect some 2,500 American nationals, and second, to assist the government of Lebanon, thru this showing of support, in preserving Lebanon's territorial integrity and independence. "which have been deemed vital to United States national interests and world peace."
The unrest within Lebanon, directed against the government of President Camille Chamoun, began almost 10 weeks ago. In that period no American citizen has been hurt or, as far as we know, even threatened. But sending in the marines may actually accomplish what the President intends it shall not. It may stir up such anti-American feeling among those in revolt against Chamoun as to jeopardize the safety of Americans. Certainly embassy personnel seem to be acting in that belief. They are getting out their families as fast as possible.
As for maintaining the territorial integrity and independence of Lebanon, the president holds office for a six-year term and may not succeed himself. Opposition to Mr. Chamoun resulted in part from belief that he intended to amend the constitution to obtain a second term. He has not done so and on July 24 the Lebanese parliament is scheduled to meet and elect a new president. That means that Mr. Chamoun will be thru in precisely one week.
It was Mr. Chamoun who appealed to Mr. Eisenhower to send troops, but now the president of the Lebanon chamber of deputies has notified Mr. Eisenhower that the parliament disassociates itself from Mr. Chamoun's appeal and

Firm Sells Properties To Gas Company

A transaction between Southwestern Public Service Company and Lea County Gas Company will effect several communities in the Top of Texas area, including Skelkettown, Berger, Magic City, and Miami.

The Southwestern Public Service Company has entered into an agreement to sell all of its gas properties and all of its water properties, except Clovis, N.M., to the Lea County Gas Company. It has been announced by J. E. Cunningham, president.

The sale, which Cunningham said involves about $5,000,000, is a buy-out of the Southwestern Public Service Company's gas and water properties in the Top of Texas area, including Skelkettown, Berger, Magic City, and Miami.

"Southwestern Public Service Company is primarily an electric light and power company, with more than 95 percent of our business coming from the sales of electric service. It has been our desire for some years to become 'all-electric,' so to speak, but we have wanted to be certain that those customers for whom we provide gas and water service would have a dependable and efficient supplier, such as Lea County Gas Company," Cunningham said.

"The money received from the sale of the gas and water systems will be invested in additional electric facilities. We expect our electric system to continue to grow, because we know our area will continue to grow," he added.

The Lea County Gas Company has its headquarters in El Paso, where it was formed in 1938, and has been one of the fastest growing natural gas utilities in the Southwest.

The company served 465 customers with three employees when it was formed 22 years ago, and its present territory, prior to the purchase of Southwestern's gas and water properties, has more than 20,000 customers and the company employs about 100 people.

In the same period, the plant and equipment of Lea County Gas Company has grown from less than $100,000 to more than $3,500,000.

Lea County Gas Company presently provides natural gas service in Silver City, Hurley, Bayard, Central and Anthony, N.M., and to certain irrigation areas in Luna and Hidalgo Counties. It also serves a large portion of the city of El Paso and the suburban areas.

In addition, the company has franchises to provide natural gas service in Grant, Luna, Dona Ana and Hidalgo Counties in New Mexico.

Calvert C. Tucker is president of Lea County Gas Company. Tucker has spent 42 years in the gas business, getting his start in Canada, although he is a native-born Texan.

Underwood-Neuhaus & Company, Houston investment bankers, will underwrite the financing that Lea County Gas Company will use to purchase the water and gas properties of Southwestern Public Service Company. Milton R. Underwood, president of the investment house, is a director of Lea County Gas Company, and vice president and financial officer.

There are about 21,000 gas customers and 6,000 water customers in the communities which Lea County Gas Company will serve after it purchases the properties from Southwestern Public Service. Berger and Roswell are the largest communities involved in the sale receiving gas service, while Guyton is the largest community in which Lea County will provide water service following the sale by Southwestern.

Weather Is Key To Good Crops In US

ON THE FARM FRONT
By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite acreage cuts and soil bank deposits, give the American farmer good weather and he'll raise a bumper crop. That's the situation on American farms this growing season.

Acreage has been cut drastically through federal controls. More land has been retired from production through the acreage reserve of the soil bank. The planted acreage for the 1958 crop is the smallest in 40 years. But good weather—plenty of moisture and adequate sunshine at the right times—has combined with the American farmer's know-how with soil to set up for harvest the largest crop in history.

The Agriculture Department's August crop report estimated the 1958 crop would be 113 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This compares with the previous record crops of 1948, 1956, and 1957 which were 106 per cent of the base period.

Record Wheat Crop
The wheat crop this year will be about 1,421,000,000 bushels, the largest of record. It will be 59 per cent more than in 1947, and 27 per cent above average.

The corn crop, estimated at 3,487,000,000 bushels, will be second only to 3,605,000,000 bushels harvested in 1948. This year's crop will be 11 per cent above average.

Oats will be 4 per cent above average, sorghum grain three times the average, hay 10 per cent higher, soybeans 81 per cent higher, potatoes 14 per cent higher, rye 29 per cent larger than a year ago, rice 11 per cent above 1957, popcorn 65 per cent higher, peanuts 3 per cent higher, cotton 6 per cent higher, and tobacco 4 per cent more than a year ago. That upward trend seems to be standard for practically all crops.

How does the farmer do it? Is weather the sole factor in producing a good crop? Without good growing weather, crops are stymied. The years-long drought in the

Many Adults Are Enrolling In Schools

UPI Women's Editor
By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Look who's answering the back-to-school bell this fall. Mom, pop, grandma and grandpa, along with their youngsters.

So many adults are enrolling in colleges, universities and public school programs for grown-ups that one educator joked, "Life begins at 45." For some, classroom life begins anew when they've reached their 60s, 70s and 80s.

Dr. John B. Holden of the adult education division, the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, Washington, gave these statistics on "older" back-to-schoolers.

HEW's latest survey showed that between the ages of 45 and 59, there are 1,913,000 students. In the 60 to 74 bracket, 465,000. In the 75 and older, there are 50,000.

"And the totals grow each year," said Dr. Thomas J. Gilligan, assistant executive secretary of the adult education program, the National Education Assn., Washington.

"Some people go back specifically for a high school diploma or college degree," said Gilligan. "But a lot of them are people facing retirement with time on their hands and a feeling they might just have missed something from their earlier school days. The world has changed so much."

"And some of the parents just don't understand their kids, especially in talk about science and international relations," said Dr. David Rauch, of the adult education department of the Great Neck, N.Y., public schools system.

Holden said his researchers find the older students are most interested in peoples and governments. More than one million of the over-45 students are in civics and public affairs classes.

He said interest in trade and business courses decreases as age increases although 14 per cent of those 75 and over are taking courses which help them earn a living. Men show a lively interest in agriculture and vocations; women in general and recreational subjects.

YES... YOU!

SLOW DOWN and LIVE!

Great Plains proved that. The drought dissipated a couple of years ago, and naturally farmers are producing more in the Great Plains than they did during the dry spell. But the nation has suffered droughts many times, and despite comebacks, there never has been production prospects as in 1958.

Guide To Good Buys In Food

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fruits and vegetables continue to top the best food buys across the nation as summer nears its end. Some economical cuts of beef are runners-up.

Among the budget-priced vegetables are increasing supplies of potatoes from a late summer crop about 10 per cent greater than last year. Green cabbage is plentiful, also carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, snap beans, peppers, squash, tomatoes, and corn.

Delicious fruits for summertime eating continue abundant, and include peaches, watermelons, cantaloups, grapes, pears, lemons, and limes. Several varieties of new-crop apples are appearing on August markets.

Among the protein buys for summer shoppers are ground beef,

De Gaulle Expected To Win In Election

By ARTHUR HIGBEE
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—The momentum that carried Gen. Charles De Gaulle to power June 1 is expected to bring his strong-executive constitution into effect in a nationwide vote Sept. 28.

It is also expected to sweep De Gaulle himself into office a few days or weeks later as the first president of the fifth republic.

Except for the Vichy regime, the constitution will be the least liberal that France has had in nearly a century.

The key clauses give the president the right to pick the premier (whose job will be reduced to that of executive officer rather than chief executive), to dissolve the parliament as often as once a year, and to take over executive and legislative functions in time of national emergency.

Who decides if an emergency exists? Under De Gaulle's draft, it was the president himself. But ex-premier Paul Reynaud persuaded De Gaulle to leave this up to a constitutional court.

"It is not Gen. De Gaulle we are afraid of," Reynaud said. "He would never, in my opinion, abuse the powers granted him. But I have told him we are not making the constitution for one man."

He is one of the few men who can talk to De Gaulle so bluntly. Reynaud, 79, is the premier who brought Brig. Gen. De Gaulle into the government in 1940 in a too-brought Brig. Gen. De Gaulle into the government in 1940 in a too-late attempt to stop the Nazi panzer divisions.

Reynaud's reform, and others, have eliminated some of the most-criticized features of De Gaulle's projected constitution.

But people like ex-premier Pierre Mendes-France still say that if it ever goes into effect, it will mean "a figurehead cabinet and a parliament that is only a facade."

Despite such criticisms, De Gaulle is expected to win through. The world is fed up with the spectacle that France has made of himself in the past 12 years. Many of them feel that nearly any change toward stability would be a change for the better. There will be many who will argue that the new constitution gives De Gaulle the powers of a dictator. There will be more who will argue that it does not—or that, if it does, it is preferable to the circus of the past dozen years. De Gaulle probably will win. That leaves a couple of questions unanswered: What other Frenchman but De Gaulle would be entrusted with such powers, and what will happen when he is gone? More immediately, what about Algeria? The present constitution, on paper provides stable government. But it did not stop every French government in the past three years from coming to grief over the Algerian rebellion. In the long run, unless this issue is solved, it may bring a quicker and more violent end to the fifth republic than it brought to the fourth.
