'Conditions Unstable'

Americans Asked To Leave Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — The U.S. Embassy warned all American dependents Saturday to leave Jordan unless they had an "im-pelling" reason to remain in this country.

An American Embassy spokesman said the warning was issued "in view of unstable conditions in the area."

The advisory was circulated by officials to all U.S. families in Jordan connected with the Em-bassy, Consulate, aid programs, U.S. Information Service, chari-table groups and private organi-zations.

(In Washington, a State De-partment spokesman said the advisory to U.S. dependents was a "pre-cautionary move." He did not indicate any specific deterioration of the situation in Jordan where about 2,000 British troops are sta-tioned to safeguard King Hussein's nation against outside threats. But conditions there have been a mat-ter of increasing concern.

(The Jordanian government re-ported to the U.N. Security Coun-cil Friday that armed infiltrators had been caught crossing into Jordan from the United Arab Republic and that Syrian agents had been captured in Amman. The report also called attention to terrorist bombings in Amman and the capture of an arms cache on the Syrian border. Jordan did not request any council action on the report.)

An Embassy spokesman said the warning did not constitute an order for evacuation. He added: "In view of the unstable condi-tions in the area, unless there are impelling reasons for dependents to remain in Jordan, ordinary prudence would seem to urge their departure."

"It would be incorrect to say the Embassy ordered evacuation of United States dependents," the spokesman added.

"But it has called to their at-tention the fact that the U.S. State Department considers con-ditions in the area sufficiently unstable that it has prohibited travel by dependents of American employees into Jordan, Lebanon and Iraq."

About 150 American dependents were affected by the warning.

Mother Loses Tug-Of-War With Bear

EDMONTON, Alta. (UPI) — A heart-broken mother told Saturday how she tried to snatch her 7-year-old daughter from a giant bear's jaws in a frantic tug-of-war in Jasper National Park. The child died from the mauling.

Mrs. Jack Coates, whose hus-band was away fishing, was sum-moned by the frantic cries of her 7-year-old daughter, Allison Friday. Allison ran into the tour-ist cabin where the family was vacationing and screamed, "It's a bear."

The terrified mother ran out the back door and found Barbara lying on the ground. A full-grown bear stood over her, nuzzling her neck.

Mrs. Coates seized the child's legs and tried to pull her clear. But the bear clamp his teeth on Barbara's back and backed down a trail with the mother desper-ately trying to pull the child free.

About every 10 feet, Mrs. Coates said, the enraged bear stopped and looked at the mother. Then the animal would shake Barbara, who by then was unconscious.

After the bear had pulled back about 50 feet, Mrs. Coates said she lost her grip on Barbara. The bear dragged the child down the trail.

Three girls from a neighboring camp rushed to the scene and chipped the animal away. It dropped Barbara's limp body as it fled down the trail.

Moments later, the tourist camp owner appeared and shot the bear.

Barbara died in an ambulance that was rushing her to a hos-pital. Doctors said she died of shock, internal bleeding and a fractured spine.

34 Killed In Crash Of Plane

BENGHAZI, Libya (UPI) — A Central African Airways Viscount airliner carrying 34 persons on a London-bound flight crashed in flames early Saturday in the Lib-yan desert hills six miles from Benghazi airport.

Report from the scene said 34 persons were killed, including four of the seven crew members. Some of the survivors were reported seriously injured.

Officials said the survivors in-cluded Sir Alfred Savage, former governor of British Guiana, his wife, four infants and the air-liner's two hostesses, Sir Alfred is "a crown agent" who represents the colonial governments in Lon-don.

Almost all of the 47 passengers and crew of seven were English. Injured survivors were taken to the British military hospital at Benghazi.

Marines, Sailors, Troopers 'Invade' Beirut On 1st Leave

By LARRY COLLINS
United Press International

BEIRUT (UPI) — More than 2,000 American Marines, sailors and paratroopers "invaded" Beirut Saturday on their first liberty in Lebanon—and were met with open arms at shops, cafes and bars.

Restricted to battle-ready camps outside Beirut since the first American landings July 15, the U.S. servicemen swarmed happily into the "gold coast" seafloor of the Lebanese capital.

Word of their coming spread rapidly. Merchants dusted off their souvenirs and removed the price tags. Everything was made ready for the biggest day of business since the Lebanese revolt broke out three months ago.

2,000 servicemen brought in to town by officers and non-coms and permitted to wander freely from noon to dusk in the "on-limits" area represented 15 per cent of the total American strength of 14,300 in Lebanon.

The U.S. Military Command, realizing that the men could not be kept restricted indefinitely to small areas without recreation, has authorized liberty passes issued to 15 per cent of the man-power strength every day.

Salam: Fears Consequences

All the men given liberty were coached to be on their best be-havior.

Lebanese businessmen welcomed the Americans. But Saeb Salam, leader of the rebels in Beirut, said: "It will lead to inevitable incidents between the population and the Army of Occupation on its soil."

Saeb claimed that supporters of the present Lebanese government were trying to stir up trouble by firing on the Lebanese army, and that a blaze Friday night at a Lebanese dock warehouse was the result of their activities.

Elsewhere in the Middle East: —Murphy Cooled Heels

—The Iraqi revolutionary govern-ment announced a new law giving special military courts sweeping powers to try leaders and supporters on the former Baghdad regime. A spokesman hinted that the trials would start within two weeks.

—Cairo newspapers said that when U.S. Presidential Envoy Robert Murphy arrived in Cairo on Wednesday for talks with Pres-ident Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, Nasser agreed to see him only after as-ertaining that "the United States would not continue its slander campaign against the U.A.R." in the United Nations.

The explanation followed reports that Murphy was handed a deli-berate snub by being made to wait for 10 hours before Nasser would see him.

—The Rome newspaper Giornale D'Italia said Nasser was likely to visit Italy at the end of Sep-tember.

—Jordan officially refuted re-ports that it was considering join-ing the Baghdad Pact.

Sirens Alert Nationalists On Matsu Isle

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Air raid sirens alerted the Chinese Nationalist Matsu Island garrison into full battle positions Saturday amid reports that Red China has moved bombers into coastal air-bases threatening Nationalist China.

The sirens sounded when four communist MIG fighters were sighted southwest of Matsu, Na-tionalist China's northernmost off-shore island group.

Nationalist troops on Matsu were ordered to battle posts but the Red planes disappeared with-out combat. The alert lasted for 10 minutes.

Three similar air alerts had been sounded on Matsu, 12 miles off the Red China coast, within three hours Friday afternoon.

Authoritative sources, mean-while, said the Chinese Commu-nists had sent more Soviet-built MIG fighters to Lungchi Air Base, only 20 minutes' flying time from Formosa.

The sources also said the Com-munists had deployed additional bombers in recent days to air-bases near Shanghai and in Lun-chiao and Chekiang provinces.

The new deployments of com-munist warplanes were disclosed following a U.S. State Department charge that Communist China was building up its air strength op-posite Formosa to "increase ten-sions and raise the specter of war."

Coastal gun positions and sen-tries on the Nationalist-held Pes-cadore Islands just off Formosa's west coast were ordered into dou-ble alert against a possible Red invasion attempt.

The United States is pledged by treaty to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, but a U.S. decision to defend the offshore islands can be made only by President Eisen-hower.

New Section At Ft. Sam Houston

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—A sec-tion for detecting and identifying radioactivity has been installed at Fort Sam Houston.

Called the Radiolotope branch of the Fourth Army medical lab-oratory, it serves the five-state area of Texas, Arkansas, Louisi-ana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Its functions will be to improve medical techniques, research in the field of radiobiology, and to detect in wartime radioactive con-tamination.

Boat Floated Away; He Went Right After It

Late Friday afternoon when the rains came, Michael Luther, five, was sailing his boat in the stream that runs under the Duncan Street bridge.

Water, roaring from the cul-verts, soon swelled the stream to a near-torrent, taking the boat with it.

Young Luther, unperturbed, went out after it, despite the fact that he can't swim and under he went. There were several boys standing on the shore. One among them was not stunned. Ten-year-old Harry Hoyer III went in after him, dragging him to the bank.

It came out later that Hoyer had taken intermediate swimming in the Red Cross program this summer. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoyer Jr., 2238 Chris-tine. Luther's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Luther, live across the street at 2245.

Luther never did find his boat. But otherwise he was quite hap-py.

Texas Leads In Export To Japan

DALLAS (UPI) — Texas leads all other states in exports to Japan, the U.S. Department of Com-merce said Saturday.

It reported that Japanese pur-chases in Texas totalled $106,330,000 in 1957. Manufactured cotton was the largest item, accounting for $59,873,000. This was 25 per cent of the cotton Japan pur-chased from the United States.

Other big items included petro-leum products, iron and steel products, scrap metals, vegetable products and machinery and ve-hicles.

TOP COWGIRL

One of the fastest events of the Top O' Texas rodeo was the barrel racing which constituted the Sponsored Cowgirl Contest. On her mount "Skeeter," Warttie Cordell, above, captured the saddle which goes to the top cowgirl of the two rounds. Sponsored by the Childress Chamber of Commerce, Miss Cordell rode into the arena last night to claim her award. (News Photo)

Rodeo Roars To A Climax

A green-sealed saddle came to Warttie Cordell as top cowgirl of the Top O' Texas Rodeo as the second go round drew to a close at last night's final performance. To a sell-out crowd of 6,000, contestants climaxed one of the keenest shows in the 14 seasons of the Top Rodeo.

Afterward in the National Guard Armory, performers and spectators kept time with the dance music of Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys, while in the Pampa Hotel headquarters of the Rodeo, officials and judges wrangled over the choice of a top cowboy.

Later, Rodeo officials passed the prize belt buckle to the top cow-boy, Bill Simmons of Woodward, Okla. Simmons was high man in three events, calf roping, double muggin and bull doggin.

Rain failed to dampen Pampa's biggest production. With the arena awash Friday, the third perfor-mance waited until yesterday after-noon, when 10 begrimmed but happy farm boys led their new calves out of the beef calf scramble as prizes. The single scramble of this year's Rodeo may grow to four performances in the 1959 show.

Soon after the second go round in the Sponsored Cowgirl Contest last night, Mrs. Thelma Hopkins, Rodeo hostess, awarded prizes to the top cowgirls of the Rodeo. A Childress cowgirl, Warttie Cordell, secured the prize saddle on her horse Skeeter, Janie Cruzan, from Waterford, N. M., was the winner of the second prize, a belt buckle. Lou Ann Taylor was in third for her boots. A fourth place tie recognized Barbara Bitton and Sis New-som.

The two performances yesterday determined the second go round winners in the cowgirl sponsor, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, bulldoggin' and double muggin' events as well as the go rounds in the cutting horse and bull riding events.

First in calf roping was Ed Sims of Post; second, Bill Simmons, Woodward, Okla.; third, Wayne Frazier, Roscoe; fourth, Spice Grip, Levelland.

Tommy Fleneken was first in Double Muggin; John McCardie, second; Walter Arnold, third; Sonny Phillips, fourth.

Foremost bulldogger was Buddy Cockrell; second, David Hummer; third, Bill Simmons; fourth, Ace Winters.

John Ferris and Jimmy Moore tied for first and second place in saddle bronc riding. J. R. Ed-wards came in third and Skip Wyatt, fourth.

First man in bull riding was Ronald Bass with Bobby Wed-king, Wendell Mayo and Dee Stamps tying for second, third and fourth place. Then came a fifth and sixth place tie among Jimmie Moon, Hershel Wilson and Polly Holler.

First in bareback bronc riding was Dan Pearson. Ted Cave and Pete Hennigh tied for second and third place. Jimmie Moore and Bud Coffee tied for fourth.

John Carter, riding Pocoman, and James Kennedy, on Joe's Last, tied for first and second in the Cutting Horse Contest while Bill Jdler on Skipper, came in third and Jack Newton, on Poco Stampede, fourth.

The winners in the Beef Calf Panhandle; Billy Tidwell, Pampa; Scramble were Rudy Robinson, J. W. Henderson, Pampa; Jerry Goldston, McLean; Bill Herron, McLean; David Young, Canadian; Billy Barnett, Panhandle; Jimmy Hudson, Groom; Orpus Tate, McLean. In addition Stock Producer "Goat" Mayo gave a calf to George Thompson of Pampa because of his sportsmanship in scrambling for but losing a calf.

Pampan Aboard USS Nautilus

William Joseph Brown, Seaman, was a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Nautilus when the world's first atomic powered submarine steamed under the vast Arctic ice pack to make a record-shattering voyage from the Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean by way of the North Pole.

Brown is the son of John M. Brown of 1229 Charles St., Pampa, and Mrs. Beulah E. Nelson of 2321 Willow St., Moses Lake, Wash.

He enlisted in the U.S. Navy in May, 1955 after attending Texas State College, Canyon.

Dulles Confers With Aides On Peace Plan

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said Saturday that President Eisenhower may personally address the United Nations General Assembly emergency session next Wednesday on American proposals for settling the Middle East crisis.

A firm decision will be made later, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who will head the U.S. delegation, spent Saturday with his aides drafting what was described as a "double-barrelled" peace plan for submission to the Assembly. He consulted on the details with the President, who was at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The American program prob-ably will be presented to the Na-tional Security Council Monday. It consists of two basic ap-proaches:

Outlaw Indirect Aggression

To get immediate Assembly ac-tion outlawing indirect aggression and setting up a special U.N. commission to deal immediately with this and other political issues of the Middle East.

A proposal for U.N. efforts over the long haul to coordinate economic steps to increase the standards of living through the Mideast.

The approach represents a com-promise between ideas advanced by Dulles, the White House and some members of Congress.

Dulles has insisted that the pri-mary task is to deal with the threat of indirect aggression of the type which brought about American intervention in Leb-anon.

Economic Assistance

The President, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and some members of Congress have wanted the United States to take a more "constructive" approach by offering to support enlarged eco-nomic assistance programs in the area.

High officials denied there had been any administration "split" on basis principles but said there was some argument over empha-sis which now has been resolved.

While a final decision on details of the American program will not be reached before Monday, the outline approved by Dulles and (See IKE, Page 3)

Union Agent Arrested In Arson Case

By DAVE CHUTE
United Press International

FLINT, Mich. (UPI)—A Team-ster Union business agent was ar-rested Saturday as a suspected participant in the bungled arson job that killed another teamster business agent, Frank Kierdorf. Jack Thompson, 41, described as Kierdorf's "closest friend" was booked on suspicion of arson. Both Thompson and Kierdorf were bus-iness agents of Teamsters Union Local 332 in Flint and worked to-gether on organization. Both also went before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington last November and were Fifth Amend-ment witnesses.

Kierdorf, 56, an ex-convict, died last Thursday from burns over 85 per cent of his body 3-1-2 days after stumbling into a hospital at Pontiac, 36 miles away, and telling a story of being set afire by two strangers.

Burned Settling Fire

State Atty. Gen. Paul Adams pulled together evidence that Kier-dorf was burned while trying to set fire to Lattreille's cleaning es-tablishment in Flint and that he had two companions who pulled (See UNION, Page 3)

Hoffa Accused Of Power Grab Try

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Team-ster President James R. Hoffa was accused Saturday by a Sen-ate rackets investigator of trying to expand the power of his "honi-um controlled" union to "take over America's transportation in-dustry."

The charge was made by Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate Rackets Committee which is now engaged in an extensive investigation of Hoffa and his associates.

"There is no question that he plans to take over the transpor-tation of the country," Kennedy said in a television interview with Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.). "He's taken the first couple of steps along those lines."

He referred to Hoffa's proposed alliance of rail, dock and truck unions.

"The leadership of the Team-sters is gangster and hoodlum con-trolled," Kennedy said. "The high-est officials of the union are gangsters or are controlled by gangsters or hoodlums, and there is no way at the present time to deal with them."

Stranglehold On Country

"It's impossible for the union membership to do anything about it."

"Even at this point the Team-sters unions have a stranglehold over the economy of the country. If Hoffa joins up with the Long-shoremen on the east coast and the west coast, it will spread the Teamsters' tentacles even outside the United States."

Kennedy said Hoffa "has al-ready joined up with the Long-shoremen on the east coast who were thrown out of the International because they were racketeer and gangster dominated."

Now, he said, Hoffa is seeking a tieup with the west coast union "which was thrown out of the International because of being Communist dominated."

"This is the kind of an alliance and control that's beginning to creep in over the United States," he said. "I think it's something that couldn't be of more vital importance to all of us."

Underworld Ties Probed

Kennedy told newsmen the com-mittee would continue its on-again-off-again questioning of Hoffa next week as it inquires into some of his "business deals."

He said one of the main wit-nesses would be 300-pound Barney Baker of Detroit. He said Baker, a Teamsters organizer "in the broad sense of the term," has operated in Nevada, Kansas, Mis-souri, Michigan, New York and Florida as a representative of Hoffa.

He said Baker had been ordered off the docks in New York City for using violence and had been arrested several times. He said the committee would look into "this tie with Midwest underworld figures."

Teamsters officials from Indiana, Missouri and Michigan also would be called as witnesses during the week, he said.

The hearings resume Tuesday.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

Nautilus-US Answer To Sputnik

By HERBERT W. CHESHIRE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (PI) — The submarine Nautilus Saturday sym-bolized a great surge forward by the United States in countering Russia's lead in deadly long-range missiles.

Adm. Elton W. Grenfell, Pacific submarine commander, hailed the Nautilus voyage under the North Pole's ice cap as "America's answer to Sputnik."

The feat means that atomic-powered subs — and this country alone has them so far as is known — could bring most of Russia with-in missile-firing range while oper-ating from under the Arctic ice pack relatively safe from detec-tion.

Russia has a wide and acknowl-edged lead over this country in developing the continent-spanning, 5,000-mile range intercontinental missile. It boasts of having fully operational ICBMs while this coun-try's equivalent, the Atlas, is still in the testing stage and not ex-pected to become operational until 1960.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrush-chev recently made much of this lead in trying to frighten the United States into pulling its troops out of Lebanon.

Russians Apparently Speechless

But the dramatic Nautilus saga proved this country's capability of taking shorter-range, 1,800-mile missiles to Russia's back door. All of the Soviet Union spreads out like a great fan below the polar region.

The United States has six nuclear submarines built, 13 more under construction, and seven more authorized.

Russia remained conspicuously silent on the Nautilus cruise al-though several Communist news-papers in Western Europe gave it prominent display.

The Navy already has demon-strated that its Polaris missile can be fired from a submerged sub-marine. This means that a craft such as the Nautilus could ap-proach the Soviet Union under the polar ice cap, emerge and fire from beneath open water, then dart back under the protective ice.

Fire and Run

The missile it fired, simply be-cause it would cover a shorter distance, would be much more accurate than the longer-range ICBM.

Without an atomic submarine, Russia cannot match this capabil-ity. Only an A-powered craft has the ability to remain under the polar ice for long periods and move under it for great distances.

A submarine-borne missile also has the great advantage over a land-based missile such as Russia is putting its greatest reliance on at present: The former is fired from a launching site which can quickly "run," the latter must be fired from a fixed base.

This military significance of the Nautilus voyage was one of the principal reasons the sub's accom-plishment was so highly praised by President Eisenhower, mem-bers of Congress and newspapers throughout the free world.

New Law In Iraq To Try Opposition

By HERBERT G. SPENCER
United Press International
BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — The revolutionary government of Iraq announced a new law Saturday giving special military courts sweeping powers to try leaders and supporters of the old regime. The five-man courts were empowered to pass sentences ranging from fines, confiscation of property and removal from public office to life imprisonment. They also were given the right to try persons under any provision of the old penal code, which would include treason punishable by death. Among those liable to prosecution were Iraqis who attacked "heads of state" of other Arab countries "in international circles." (Observers in Western capitals said this provision appeared to be aimed against criticisms of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.)

Tea Face Trials
The "special high military courts," each to be headed by an officer holding the rank of Colonel or higher, were empowered to hold secret hearings whenever necessary and dismiss defense witnesses who prolong trials. The new law was announced by Guidance (propaganda) Minister Seddik Shanhal, who said it was decreed by the Revolutionary Council on Thursday. Shanhal hinted that the special trials would commence within two weeks. The new law concerned itself mostly with past or present elected or appointed officials. At least 10 former government ministers and many more members of the former Parliament are known to be under arrest and awaiting trial. But the provisions of the law were so sweeping as to make any supporter of the old regime liable to trial if the present authorities decided that he was impeding the progress of the July 14 revolution, observers believed.

UNION

him from the fire that started prematurely, tried to treat his burns, then drove him to the hospital.

Herman Kierdorf, 67, Frank's uncle who disappeared after visiting his nephew at the hospital last Monday, is a definite suspect in the arson job.

A secret witness has told authorities he saw two men running from the burning Latreille place before midnight last Sunday, and hearing anguished screams from a third man inside. Thompson and Herman Kierdorf are believed to be the two men who ran from the building. Adams has admitted there is not yet enough evidence to warrant an arson charge against the missing Herman, but he still believes Herman was in on the job.

Funeral Saturday
Adams ordered that Thompson be permitted to attend the funeral of Frank Kierdorf Saturday afternoon.

Authorities, searching for a motive for the burning of the Latreille cleaning establishment, questioned other cleaning store owners. Included was Herbert Harrison, whose plant is across the street from the Latreille pickup station. Harrison, who was questioned for about three hours, has the largest cleaning business in Flint. Latreille opened his pickup store across from Harrison's main plant eight weeks ago.

Among the theories the authorities were working on was one that Kierdorf may have been hired by one or more of many competitors. Another was that Kierdorf was selling "protection" against union organization to some Flint cleaners, and that the protection included discouraging new competition.

Rain Causes Tourists To Miss Rodeo

Although an unexpected shower beginning about 4:30 p.m. Friday afternoon marred the planned schedule for Pampa's third Tourist of the Day couple, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon of El Monte, Calif., they thoroughly enjoyed their brief stay in the Top O' Texas city following their "arrest" by police chief Jim Conner and chief deputy sheriff Shirley Nichols Friday afternoon about 4 p.m.

Dixon is an El Monte painting contractor and Mrs. Dixon is a linotype operator for the El Monte newspaper. The California couple was on the way home on US Highway 80 traveling west when spotted by local officers.

The Dixons were guests Friday evening of George Murphy at Murphy's Motel No. 2 on East Frederic. John Pitts hosted the couple at his Court House Cafe for supper Friday evening. The Dixons also received flowers courtesy of the Clayton Floral Company. Their car was completely serviced by Tom Kitchens Gulf Service Station.

Scheduled to attend the 8 p.m. performance of the Top O' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Friday evening as guests of the Rodeo Association, the Dixons were entertained in Pampa by their official hosts, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Trimble.

generally endorsed by the president goes along the following lines:

1. The United States will suggest that the Assembly set up special U.N. commissions to deal with basic aspects of the Middle East problem such as "indirect aggression," economic development and, possibly, ideas for political stability based on a guarantee of existing borders against change except by negotiation. The idea, at present, is to get the emergency assembly to create the commissions to do intensive work on the specific problems without having the Assembly itself plunge into debate on how to solve them.
2. Call For Neutralization
The American delegation also is expected to seek some form of indirect resolution condemning indirect aggression and calling for all members of the world organization to refrain from meddling in the Middle East while U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the special commissions try to solve the specific problems.
3. The United States also may, if all officials agree it is wise, seek a specific Assembly resolution calling for the neutralization of Lebanon and continued U.N. responsibility for that country to protect its integrity against threats from any sources.

The United States apparently has decided against seeking any specific U.N. endorsement of President Eisenhower's action in sending American troops into Lebanon at the request of President Camille Chamoun. The view in high quarters here appears to be that any U.N. recognition of the responsibility of the world organization to increase its activity in Lebanon will constitute implied recognition that the United States was right in sending in its soldiers to protect that country.

American officials still had not produced any specific solution for the problem of Britain, which seeks some form of U.N. action to enable it to evacuate its forces from Jordan. However, the President and Dulles are under the compulsion to find some formula because they have promised London that the United States will not pull out of Lebanon in such a way as to leave the British in an exposed position in Jordan.

UAW Board Defers Action On Requests For Strikes

By JACK VANDEBERG
UPI Automotive Editor
DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers International Executive Board voted Saturday to defer action on requests by the UAW's Chrysler, Ford and General Motors councils for strike action.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union did not feel this was the time to call a strike. He said the union wants to give the companies "one more chance to bargain in good faith before calling a strike."

Reuther said, however, "the day of decision is fast approaching," and the executive board would meet again before the last week in September and set a definite strike date and a target company if negotiations have not progressed more rapidly by then.

Contrary to Statement
The decision of the executive board was directly contrary to a statement made by Reuther before meetings of the international councils earlier Saturday. At that time, he said he expected the councils and the executive board to authorize strike action.

When asked about his earlier statement after the board decision Reuther said he intended to say that strike action ultimately would be authorized, "but not necessarily Saturday."

"When we authorize a strike in the future, we will set a strike date and pick a target company," he said.

he said. "A strike will follow shortly after any strike date we set. We will try to minimize the hardships of a strike by striking only one company at a time."

When asked why the board delayed authorization of a strike at this time, Reuther said the union did not feel the time was ripe and wanted to set a specific date and a specific target when it authorized a strike.

Time Not Ripe
"The time is not ripe now," he said, "because the industry is not committed to its 1959 models."

UAW members have stayed on the job at "Big Three" auto plants for the past 10 weeks despite the fact that there was no contract between the union and the companies.

The contract with General Motors expired at midnight May 29 while contracts with Ford and Chrysler ran out at midnight June 1.

Before the contracts expired, the auto companies proposed a two-year extension with no change in terms. But workers would have received cost-of-living and annual improvement factor wage boosts during the extension.

A. C. Smith Dies In McLean

McLEAN — Mr. Alvin Claud Smith died at 6:30 p.m. yesterday in his McLean home.

Born April 10, 1888, in Newport, Tenn., Mr. Smith moved to McLean from Grady, N. M., in 1917.

Funeral services will be held in the McLean First Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m. tomorrow with the Rev. Jerry Hill, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Richardson-Lamb Funeral Home of McLean.

Mr. Smith is survived by one sister, Mrs. Zada Bengé of Redland, Calif., two brothers, Haskell of McLean and Guy of Amarillo. His parents and one sister preceded him in death.

Americans Love Visitors' Ways

By BRUCE RATTENBURY
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — Hans is a flier. Bill's a champion bicycle rider and skier. Co Rows. Giacomo's an auto racer.

These active European youths are taking America — 7,800 miles of it — sitting down.

Well, not altogether. Although they're motoring cross-country and back as "Ambassadors of Friendship," the four young men have a refreshing way of tossing off bouquets, and brickbats, that would cause most diplomats to lose their credentials. And Americans love it.

"Children are children until they're grownups," says Co Rentermeister, 22, a rowing champion from Arnhem, Holland. "In America, parents treat them like 'little adults,' pleading with them to do what they're supposed to do."

Not All Little Rock
On the other hand, Co and his fellow visitors, Giacomo Gambino, 27, a Rome railway conductor and sometime auto racer; Bill Eric Nyland, 20, Stockholm, a champion skier and bicycle rider, and Hans Elsaesser, 27, Zurich, Switzerland, an air force pilot, said they've had their eyes opened about many aspects of the United States.

"When we return," Giacomo said, "we'll tell everyone that Little Rock is not the entire United States. We'll also tell them about the girls here," he added, kissing his fingers expressively. The others nodded solemnly.

The four young men are touring the country accompanied by two Americans, Harry W. Morgan, 23, Salinas, Calif., and Ernest S. Quick, Montclair, N.J., a fellow student at Rutgers. This is the third year Morgan has conducted his "Ambassadors for Friendship" plan, a personal project to bring Europeans to this country for an informal look-see. Money for the trip was raised by private subscription.

One of the highlights of the trip was a luncheon with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt last Sunday at Hyde Park, N.Y. Giacomo, who has no racing car of his own in Italy and usually "borrows a friend's car" in competition, buzzed around the grounds in Mrs. Roosevelt's sports car. Later, the group went swimming, borrowing some old swim togs of FDR's.

Girls Lovely, But Not Serious
The normally active youths spend most of their time writing letters while on the road, grabbing some exercise during stopovers. Co and Bill, the more physical culture-conscious of the four, do morning callisthenics.

Their itinerary, which takes them from Chicago onward to Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Fe, Kansas City and Washington, provides for staying with friends when possible, camping out the rest of the time.

American girls they found to be attractive, friendly, but "not very serious in the head... talk, talk," Hans said.

"We are here to see and observe," Bill said. "Frankly, that's all we do. We need some first-hand experience and perhaps we can give a better report on our women." They have had no dates so far.

They said the most rewarding portion of their trip so far has been the new picture they now

Cost Of Covering Wars Is High, Too!

EDITORS NOTE: This dispatch was requested by a United Press International client. This editor, following day-to-day dispatches in the Middle East crisis, became intrigued with UPI correspondent Dan Gilmore's taxicab ride across the desert, the flow of UPI correspondents into the crisis area and the wordage required to report events. He wanted to know something about costs.

LONDON (UPI)—The cost of covering war and crisis is an expensive business today. A 600-mile taxi ride across the desert... telephone calls at $3.40 a minute... $100 "urgent press" rate cables... they all add up. These were some of the items involved in covering the Middle East flareup in Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon.

Immediately after the Iraqi revolution July 14 Daniel F. Gilmore, United Press International Rome manager, and Dieter Hesse, UPI photographer normally based in Frankfurt, were ordered from Beirut to Baghdad.

The problem was: How to get there. There was no Beirut-Baghdad air, rail or ship service. They hailed a taxi.

The cabbie took them from Beirut to the Lebanese-Syrian border and then quit. They hitched a ride on a potato truck to Damascus.

In the Syrian capital they found another cabbie who was willing to risk the ride over the desert where the only roads are cow paths and the bleached bones of animals remind one of the price of failure. The cabbie demanded and got $100 each.

Strict Censorship
The correspondents bought water jugs, filled them with lemonade and started out. But by the time they reached Baghdad, the 620-mile trip from Beirut had cost the two UPI men a total of $272. Then there was the problem of getting the story and pictures of the revolt out of Baghdad uncensored.

Routine dispatches were filed under strict censorship and were delayed from 24 to 36 hours. While Gilmore worked for two days reconstructing the story of the revolution and Hesse took and bought pictures, UPI correspondents Anthony J. Cavendish and Larry Collins were working to help them back in Beirut.

They chartered a private airplane to make a single trip to Baghdad and back. The cost including liberal "gifts," ran to $2,350, but because other newsmen went along the UPI share was $850.

The "UPI Special" returned to Beirut the same day carrying Gilmore's uncensored dispatches and Hesse's first pictures.

Circuits Jammed
But the telegraph circuits between Beirut and London, the main relay point for news bound for the United States, were jammed with stories about the Lebanese insurrection.

So in the interests of speed, Gilmore's dispatches and Hesse's pictures were air freighted to Rome on the first available commercial air liner.

Heart and blood vessel diseases are the Number One public health enemy in the United States.

'Kraft Mystery Theatre' Turns Out About Average TV Show

Television In Review
By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Views and reviews:

NBC-TV's "Kraft Mystery Theatre" churned out an above-average thriller Wednesday night, "Death For Sale"—a little short on suspense, but well-constructed, deftly dialogued and for the most part, well-acted. Shepherd Strudwick and Joanna Moore, who played a scrappily married couple, and James Congdon as a young killer, all turned in glossy jobs. Pamela Curran, a member of the international silly set, appeared in a medium-sized role and did a medium-sized job.

"April is the cruellest month," said T. S. Eliot, but obviously he never subjected himself to TV in August. Wednesday night, the following network shows had reruns: Wagon Train, Disneyland, Twilight Theater, Leave It To Beaver, Johnson's Wax Theater, Father Knows Best, Tombstone Territory, The Millionaire, Ozzie and Harriet and Armstrong Circle Theater. This, T.S., is the real wasteland.

NBC-TV topped CBS-TV in one respect Wednesday night: CBS-TV's "I've Got a Secret" unveiled a great-great-grandmother who was 92 and a half-hour later NBC-TV's "It Could Be You" came up with a lady guest who was 95. One further nod in the direction of "Kraft Mystery Theatre"—this time to Rose Tobias, the show's casting director, who manages to come up with able young actors week after week.

I thought I had seen everything on TV, but Wednesday night on "It Could Be You" a fellow won two horses and a Roman chariot.

He should be a big hit at his local drive-in theatre. Jack Paar on his NBC-TV show Wednesday night said he wasn't supposed to tell—but he was protected by an armed guard during his entire stay for his recent broadcast from Cuba. Paar's tussle with a pro wrestler on Wednesday night's show as a very funny bit and mention should be made also of Orson Bean's off-the-cuff rendition of "Once In Love With Amy"—a charming piece of squeaking.

The Channel Swim: CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan takes off Aug. 18 for Paris, Rome and Israel on a two-week hunt for talent. Wayne and Schuster will emcee Sullivan's show on Aug. 24; no Sullivan substitute has been selected yet for his Aug. 31 show.

Thomas Gomez will play Malenkov and Luther Adler will play Molotov in "The Plot to Kill Stalin" on CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90" Sept. 25. A couple of other properties ticketed in for "Playhouse 90" this season are Henry James "Wings of the Dove" and a factual piece based on the war criminals trials at Nuremberg, Germany.

Home Ec Department In Research

By GAYLORD F. GODWIN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A small research agency tucked away in the Agriculture Department is doing a monumental job for 34 million housewives and homemakers, the nation's largest occupational group.

It is the Institute of Home Economics, an arm of the Agricultural Research Service. It puts science to work for better everyday living. The work is carried out in three divisions—human nutrition, clothing and housing, and household economics research.

Task of this organization is to develop through research new knowledge about efficient household management and ways to make best consumer use of food, fiber, and other products of the farms.

The home economics research staff numbers about 230 employees. Most are scientific specialists who with their aides, work on projects selected for the current program. Many are home economists, but most have an added major or minor in some specialty, such as nutrition, experimental cookery, chemistry, physics, bacteriology, textiles, housing, household equipment, economics, and statistics. Specialization is necessary in research.

Besides home economists, the research staff includes men and women expertly trained and experienced as chemists, physicists, physiologists, bacteriologists, architects, and statisticians.

The staff follows three roads to progress in carrying out assignments:

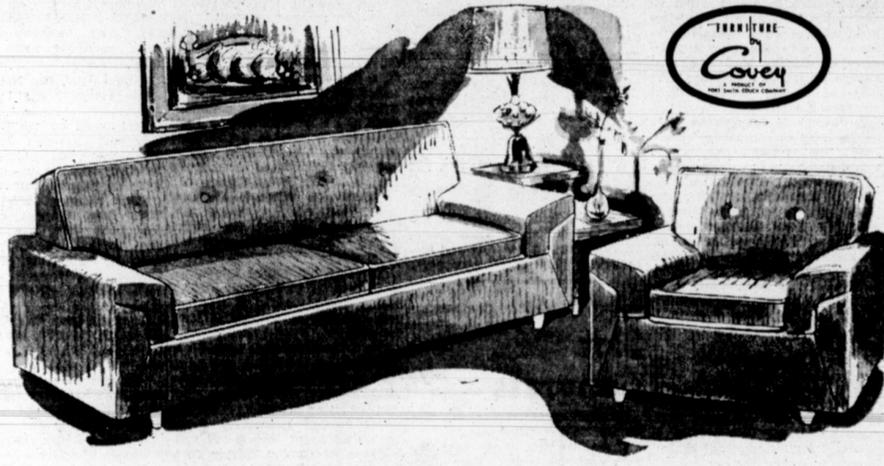

1. More knowledge is sought about basic needs for food, housing, and other goods and services that figure in everyday living as guideposts for planning by the nation's families.
2. More knowledge is sought about these goods and services for increasingly effective use of the nation's resources.
3. Statistical pictures are taken at intervals to show what families buy and use in everyday living, to see how the nation is advancing toward being better fed, housed, and clothed.

Applications For Licenses Are Returned

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today that it is returning applications and fees for renewal of Texas Driver Licenses at the rate of one-thousand per week because of information insufficient to identify the applicant.

The wholesale return of DL applications is brought on by the omission of a number of factors that must be included for the proper identification of the person desiring to renew his driver license. The department reported that it must have the full name of the individual, the person's birth date and current address. The number of the old license is a quick means of identification.

Most of the information needed is already included on the renewal notice that is sent by the department to the motorist prior to the expiration of his license. A space is provided for that license owner to change his address.

H. C. Smith, manager of the DPS License Issuance and Driver Record section reports that most of the difficulty comes when a person applies for renewal without returning a renewal notice. In this type of renewal application the individual simply writes a letter and includes the fee.

Insufficient information in renewal applications received by the Texas DPS sets up a chain reaction of processes for identification of the individual asking for a new license. But in many instances the search is hopeless.

When a man gives the name of A. B. Smith in his renewal application, file clerks of the Driver License service of the state police organization set to work in an attempt to identify the individual by birth date, address, or other information contained in his permanent file. However, if all identifying information does not correspond, the applicant must be returned to the individual.

You can imagine the task that awaits a DL clerk who must search through a file that contains more than five-million individual records, and more specifically, to look for the name of A. B. Smith in 35 trays with each containing 700 personal record files. There are 36,400 files in the

FLY MAKER'S ART

L. B. Penick, 1810 Chestnut, takes the shears to a peacock plume so that he'll have just enough for a fishing fly. Penick once took a course at Gunnison College in Colorado, which enables him to tie fishing flies which not only stay together but catch trout.

Pampan Ties His Own Fishing Flies

By WALLACE TRUESDELL
Pampa News Staff Writer

Peacock plumes and chicken feathers are the stuff of fishing flies. L. B. Penick, 1810 Chestnut, uses a peacock feather in 90 per cent of his home made flies.

The Penicks have just returned from a two weeks' fishing trip in Gunnison, Colo., where they once did four summers of advanced work in education, including, for Penick, a course in fly tying and trout fishing. In this Gunnison College course, Penick learned to tie five flies in 30 minutes or else. Out on the football field, he cast for accuracy and distance, completing the exam.

Now Penick teaches sixth grade at Sam Houston and, at least part of the time, feathers his Royal Coachmen, Black Gnats and Backward Renegades.

"You go out in somebody's chicken pen and cut the feathers off the back of the neck and head of an old rooster," claims Penick. "You can buy them if you can find them."

Fly tying seems very simple but as Penick will tell you it's very close work. Gripping the hook in a special vise, he wraps thread around the hook for a base and then glues it. More thread and the feathers follow.

Penick prefers to make his own flies for two reasons. They cost less and last longer since he glues every twist firmly in place.

Flies really go for the peacock colors, says Penick. They think they have a beautiful insect when all they have is a hook.

West Europe Glad Meet To Be At UN

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International

BONN, Germany (UPI)—West European governments generally seem relieved that the Middle Eastern crisis will be debated in the United Nations General Assembly rather than at a more exclusive "summit meeting."

France would have been the only West European government participating in such a "summit" session.

Paris was claiming for itself the right to appear at that meeting as West Europe's "spokesman." But most other West European governments are sympathetic with the French posture in North Africa. They feared France would try at a "summit" meeting to commit other West European governments to actions in which the latter did not believe.

With the great debate now to be held in the 81-member General Assembly, the West Europeans are to a greater degree, masters of their own destiny.

On the minus side, however, West Europeans realize that a General Assembly debate must end with a counting of noses. That could put the West Europeans, most of whom are allied with the United States and Britain through the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance or the Organization for European Economic Cooperation, in an embarrassing situation.

Landings Annoyed West Europe West European governments were annoyed that the U.S. landed troops in Lebanon without consulting its allies first. And even post-facts consultation and explanation has failed to convince all European leaders that the American action was the best possible move, legal though it may have been.

But it is one thing for the West Europeans to carp at the U.S. behind closed doors. It is quite another thing for them to vote against the U.S. in the United Nations but it might be equally difficult for many European leaders to justify to their own constituents a vote for a resolution expressing full support of the American actions in Lebanon.

Much will depend on the wording of any resolutions the U.S. may bring before the General Assembly. Probably the U.S. will have to "water down" its resolutions considerably, as it did its resolutions on the Hungarian question in late 1956.

West Germans Relieved

The West Germans are probably more relieved at latest developments than any of their neighbors. Bonn has always held that the United Nations was the proper forum in which to handle Middle Eastern questions, political and economic.

For that reason, Germany in general supports the plan of Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani to channel economic aid to the Arab states through the U.N.

And West Germany is in the politically advantageous position of not being a member of the United Nations. As an accredited observer at the New York headquarters, it can make its influence felt, but it doesn't have to stand up and be counted.

West Germany also feared that a summit conference might degenerate into horse-trading in which there would be an agreement to neutralize the Middle East in return for similar neutralization of Central Europe.

Official Bonn opposes neutralization of Central Europe, and sees less chance of such a deal being arranged at the U.N. than at a "summit" session.

Recognition Of Red China As World Power Commie Goal

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—There are signs that the Communist bloc is readying a full dress campaign to force recognition for Red China as a world power.

For years the Kremlin has tried unsuccessfully to get the Chinese Nationalists booted out of the United Nations. Moscow wants their permanent Security Council seat switched to Red China. That, at least, would insure that Russia would not always find herself in a minority of one in that body. But the Communist campaign now appears to be pushing for something bigger. Quite simply, Communist China is trying to stake a claim for herself as a world power with a finger in the global politics pie.

Like it or not, the Russians are having to push Peiping's campaign. That appears to have been one of the main results of Nikita Khrushchev's hush-hush conference with Mao Tse-tung last weekend.

The tip-off came early in the Mid-East crisis. The British Charge d'Affaires in Peiping was called in and handed a note from the Chinese Communist government ordering Britain to get out of Jordan immediately and warning that the results would be "grave" if she did not.

Mystified British officials wondered whether Red China was planning a Far East diversion to help out Moscow at a moment when both the United States and Britain were fully occupied in the Lebanon and Jordan. The more pessimistic view was that Red China might even launch an attack against Hong Kong or Formosa if the West became seriously involved militarily in the Middle East.

But Peiping's move took on a wider significance following Khrushchev's visit to Mao.

The Soviet leader's notes to the West on Tuesday killing all prospects of a summit meeting re-marked pointedly that the U.N. Security Council includes "instead of the legitimate representatives of the great Chinese people's republic, the representative of the political corpse, Chiang Kai-shek."

Small Gains On Last Week's Market

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market surmounted a hurdle of increased margins during the past week and scored small gains on average with the close near the high for a year. The margin rise was a steep one, amounting to 40 per cent. It came after the close on Monday after four million shares of turnover had left the market at new highs since July 26, 1957. The Federal Reserve set the new margin at 70 per cent which means one must put up $70 on each $100 of stock bought, at least if he wishes to trade on margin.

This brought a moderate decline on Tuesday on 4,400,000 shares. Then on Wednesday when the effects of the margin rise seemed to be wearing off President Eisenhower frightened the market into a decline when he talked against indiscriminate price and wage rises.

The market got over that too and it rose on Thursday and again on Friday. The Friday market would have set new highs, it is believed, except for a bit of disappointment over the announcement from Washington on the Nautilus' trip under the ice at the North Pole.

Wall Street didn't mean to be little the Nautilus accomplishment.

In the Monday market when prices were spurling to new tops the best performance was turned in by the industries which recently had raised prices—steel, aluminum and copper. Copper prices wavered later in the week and there was considerable selling of the group but they managed to close the week with gains.

Business news contained a long list of favorable items with statements by economic experts that the recovery movement was gaining steam faster than had been anticipated. Practically every major industry but coal showed a gain for the week but just about every one slipped off from a year ago except electricity output which set a new high record.

When the toll was taken of the market on Friday, it was found that of the 1,394 issues traded, 732 had advanced, while 494 declined and 168 held unchanged. A total of 427 issues made new highs and 14 new lows.

Generally speaking, men are three times more susceptible to heat stroke than are women.

BROWN LEADS YANK UPSET, 53-49

Rick Pezdirtz

purely paydirt

It's all very well to stand up in the front pew and shout, "A new full-sized lighted baseball park for Pampa!" And such things as "Hot ziggy dog!" and "Amen!" and "Bring on that semi-pro team."

But somewhere beneath that hot-eyed hollaring, there has to be some cold, fish-eyed practical thinking.

How? How do you get a new lighted diamond? Well, it ain't going to be easy, but it can be done.

First off, you might beat it down to the Optimist Boy's Club about 7 p.m. Tuesday night for the big kick-off meeting, where they'll be gabbing about where to put the park and how much to pay for the same.

John Pharr, that hard-hustling kid baseball enthusiast, sez for all Optimists to report in their work-rags today at 2 p.m. to do some cleaning up about the Optimist grounds and building.

After all, company's coming Tuesday night, and we don't want the place looking like just any old rat-trap, now do we? Well, do we?

No Wagers, Please!

Were this bony-fingered typewriter slave not slipping out of town today for a week's vacation free-loading off comrades in Dallas, Houston, Galveston and Austin, we'd shudder at the very thought of putting down the way we forecast the unpredictable Southwest Conference football

We too have jumped on the Dandy Don Meredith band-box or something.

TCU was picked by a majority of the sportswriters to win the Southwest Conference championship, according to a late Saturday night United Press International report out of Fort Worth. SMU was picked for second, Texas third, Rice fourth, A&M fifth, Arkansas sixth and Baylor last.

Here's the way our smeared-up ballot, returned to Jim Brock and the TCU Sports News Service, looked.

  - 2) Texas Christian
  - 3) Texas A&M
  - 4) Texas A&M
  - 5) Rice
  - 6) Arkansas
  - 7) Baylor
- Yes gentle reader, that's right.

Together We Stand???

We don't look to be standing alone about our fingering SMU as most likely to succeed for the SWC championship.

It'll be a surprise to see Blackie Sherrod, Jere Hayes and Louis Cox of the Dallas Times Herald or Bill Reeves and Charles Burton of the Dallas Morning News going for anybody else but SMU.

Joe Kelly, sports editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal likes SMU to win the title, or so he writes in the 1958 Football Guide. He thinks TCU, Texas and Rice will press the Red and Blue steeds mightily, however. But then ain't title claiming in the SWC always been a press-ing business?

Putt Powell, sage of the Amarillo Globe - News sports staff spotlights Texas as the next SWC champ with TCU, SMU, Rice, A&M, Baylor and Arkansas ranking in that order to the rear.

Flem Hall of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram isn't quite as flattering to SMU. He sez it'll be Texas and TCU scrapping for the crown.

Spec Gammon, who many of you remember as holding down this desk some years back, writes in his column, Athletic Avenue for the Odessa American that it'll be TCU, SMU, Texas, Rice, Texas A&M, Baylor and Arkansas in that order.

If SMU doesn't come in first, please don't sue us. After all ain't we one of the guys who had (See PAYDIRT, Page 9)

Pampa Ace Hits 14; Named MVP

HOUSTON—Flashy Bill Brown, a sharp-shooting 6-footer from Pampa, became the "hero of the underdog" as he led the South All Stars to an unexpected 53-49 upset triumph over a highly-favored North All Star team before 5,227 excited spectators in Rice Field House here Friday night.

Brown, who helped guide Coach Clifton McNeely's Pampa High Harvesters to the state 4-A basketball crown last March, was voted the "Most Valuable Player" in the annual Texas High School Coaching School classic.

He received 22 of 28 votes cast as the "Most Valuable Player" on the strength of his snaring high-point honors for the game with 12 points on four-of-eight field goals and four-of-four from the free-throw stripe.

The Pampa slicker turned in a top-notch floor game, setting up almost all of the Yankee's scoring plays. He also hauled in his share of the Rebel rebounds.

Wood Elected Coaching Head

HOUSTON (UPI)—Gordon Wood of Victoria has been elected president of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Wood, elected Friday at the group's general meeting, succeeds Catfish Smith of Longview. The organization registered 2,792 members at its 26th annual meeting here.

Spring Branch high school's Darrell Tulley succeeds Wood as vice president.

11 Softball Teams Enter Meet

The annual Top O' Texas Invitational Softball Tournament kicks off here Thursday night with ten games being played at four parks.

Eleven teams have entered the double-elimination meet, with Borger's Frank Phillips Men's Club, winners the past two years again rated the odds-on favorites to cop the championship.

Two other Borger teams are entered, Borden's Milk and the Rice Plant.

Three teams from Amarillo will compete in the four-day tourney. They are, Coo's Beer, Furr Food and Cook Book Bread.

Five Pampa teams, four of which finished in the first division of the Industrial League here, round out the 11-club field.

The Pampa teams entered include loop champion Kempa Humble, runner-up KP Lodge, third-place Richardson's Sinclair Oilers and fourth place Phillips Pampa Plant.

The 11th team is being sponsored by the Electric Supply of Pampa.

Play Thursday night will be held at the Hobart Street Park, Lions Park and Bowers City Park. However, no games are expected to be played on the Bowers diamond after the opening round Thursday night.

Tournament director, Travis Lively, said he has hopes of landing Harvester Park for the finals next Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

A 2:30 p.m. meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Office here today so Industrial League directors can map out plans for the coming tournament.

Brown was elected captain for the Yanks by team mates prior to the opening tip-off.

The South, a 17-4 favorite by a vote of sports scribes covering the coaching clinic here this week, trailed most of the game but did manage to throw a king-size score into the North, gaining a 43-42 advantage with 5:23 left in the game.

But with Brown hitting on a follow-up shot and then pulling down a rebound off the Rebel backboard and feeding in to Graham's Bob Bernard for a clear crisp, the North rallied ahead for keeps.

However, it took two free-pitches by Brown with only 46 seconds left in the contest, to put the torrid game on ice, giving the Yanks a 52-49 lead. The last North point came on a free-throw. Brown, who never fouled during the game, drew the foul while trying to dribble out the clock.

Actually the North won the game at the free-throw line, hitting a fair 15-of-23 while the South managed only a poor 9-of-24 house shots. The Rebels had 20 field goals to 19 for the Yanks.

The North led at the end of every quarter, but never had much breathing room in doing so.

They had a 13-10 edge after the first eight minutes and a 27-24 margin at halftime. Entering the final stanza, the Yanks owned a 41-37 grip. Both squads tallied 12 points in the final eight minutes of the hard-fought scrap.

TV FIGHT DUCATS SELL

(Special to The News)

Amarillo — The closed circuit telecast of the world's heavyweight title brawl between champion Floyd Patterson and Roy Harris of Cut 'N' Shoot, Texas, on August 18 is attracting considerable attention in the Pampa area.

Veteran fight man, Art Dana, who is staging the closed circuit telecast on a giant screen being erected at the Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo has announced that he is very well pleased with advance ticket sales.

Pampa's Gene Brown fought both Harris and Patterson, losing to the latter in 1952 at the Kansas City Olympic tryouts and splitting in two matches with Texas' Harris.

Special equipment is now being delivered to the Auditorium, and the engineers from Telegin to arrive in Amarillo next week to make their final inspection.

Prices to the "live screening" of the title bout are $5.50 for reserved seats and $3.50 for general admission.

There will be no home TV or radio broadcast of the championship battle.

Tickets are on sale in Amarillo at the Maxor Drug Store.

Callan's Pirates District Favorites

HOUSTON—If that was a wrinkle you saw spreading across H. W. Callan's brow Saturday, don't be alarmed.

He was just fretting about being picked by sports writers attending the 26th annual Texas High School Coaches School here this week, jolting down his Lefors High Pirates for a high finish in the state Class A schoolboy football playoff wars this fall.

The Pirates, co-champs of District 2-A with Canadian last year but conference representatives in bi-district by virtue of a 14-13 win over the Wildcats, were rated "the team to beat" in this year's loop grid chase by Memphis High's Coach John Paul Jones, who served as spokesman to the press here.

Jones fingered Lefors for first, but was quick to point out that either White Deer or Canadian could sweep the title.

White Deer, the District 1-A champ last season and bi-district winner over Lefors, was transferred to District 2-A for this year.

Pampa's Robt. Langford Set For Greenbelt Bowl Friday

CHILDRESS, Tex. (UPI)—Forty-eight high school football stars, including Pampa High full-back Robert Langford, will be arriving in Childress Sunday to prepare for the annual Greenbelt Bowl football game Aug. 15.

The Greenbelt Bowl pits top high school football stars from the western half of the state against their counterparts from the east. Both squads will have 24 men for the ninth annual game.

Coaches for the West team are H. A. (Sandy) Sanford and Johnny Dunn of Tarleton State College. For the East it will be Claude (Cheena) Gilstrap and Burley Bearden of Arlington State.

The squads:

West
Ends—Ronnie Payne, Breckenridge; Leslie Bevel, Littlefield; Tommy Richards, Paducah; Terry Morris, Ralls, Tackles—Tony Moyers, Lubbock; Randall Gilcrease, Spur; Harold Smith, Borger, Dory Funk, Canyon; Lee on Anglin, Groom, Guards—Dudley Gillespie, Memphis; Daniel Birdwell, Big Spring; Murray Wise, Quitaque; Ken Vardell, Dallas Highland Park, Centers—Franklyn Thrasher, Malador; Franklin Brunson, Amarillo, Backs—Dayton Graham, Malador; Bobby Goswick, Breckenridge; Jerry Behrens, Clarendon; Don Seymour, Perryton; Jesse McGuire, Plainview; Pug Mahon, Lubbock; Keith Lowe, Dimmitt; Dickie Polson, Amarillo.

East

Pampa's Robt. Langford Set For Greenbelt Bowl Friday

The Memphis mentor listed McLean for a fourth place finish, Clarendon for fifth, and named Panhandle and his own Memphis Cyclones to battle for the basement.

Callan's Bucs were put on the spot mainly because they've been found "guilty" of being loaded. The Pirates have eight of last year's starters returning, and could very possibly develop into one of the big threats for the state championship in Class A which White Oak and Mart tied for last December, 7-7.

The White Oak crew, however, was rated right along with Mart as good bets to be back in the running for the title again. Both coaches, Cotton Miles of White Oak, in East Texas near Longview, and Cotton Lindloff of Mart, in Central Texas, near Waco, said they would probably be contenders but that they wouldn't be as strong as last season.

Other possible strong challengers named were Albany, Ozona or Henrietta from the north and Sugarland, Trinity, Vanderbilt, and George West from the South.

Don Light, head coach at Stinet, ranked Spearman and Gruver as the top teams in District 1-A. He told the writers he thought his club and Stratford would slug it out for third with Sunray listed last.

None of the coaches from 1-A, 2-A, and 4-A, however, thought their district winners would be able to creep past the 2-A champ into the state semi-finals.

Lefors, winners of six of 11 last season, will have their starting backfield returning intact. Tommy Johnson at quarterback, Dave Smith and Tex Nolan at halfbacks and Junior Taylor at fullback, who was a regular last fall as a freshman, are back to give the Pirates a top-notch quartet of backs.

The biggest loss by the Bucs by graduation came from the loss of Ed Stanley Coleman, an all-District and all-Regional performer, and Halfbacks James Waring and Bill Fulton.

Top O' Texas Golf, Bowling Meets Are Set

Pampa can get ready for three Top O' Texas sporting attractions in the next three months running.

The Top O' Texas Invitational Softball Tournament starts here this Thursday (see story elsewhere on this page) and the 22nd annual Top O' Texas Golf Tournament is slated for August 29-September 1, with a West Texas Pro-Am meet scheduled to kick-off the event on August 28.

And the first annual Top O' Texas Open Bowling Meet has tentatively been carded for the last two week-ends in October.

Tournament directors for the rich, $2,000 Top O' Texas Golf Tournament are H. M. Luna and Leslie Hart. Entrance fee for the four-day meet is $12.50 and for other information or to make reservations to enter, golfers should (See TOP O' TEXAS, Page 9)

ROY HARRIS ... needs introducing

NOT CUT-N-SHOOT'S HARRIS!

Who Ain't Been Introduced?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

Despite the most imaginative ballyhoo campaign since the days of Tex Rickard, interest in the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris fight in Los Angeles, Aug. 18, remains largely confined to downtown Cut 'N' Shoot, Tex. (pop. 192).

It would be interesting to know just how many seats Irving B. Kahn has sold for the closed television circuit Teleprompter.

The trouble with the Patterson-Harris show starts with the fact that there is no demand for it. Harris may turn out to be quite all right as a challenger, but the Lion of the Alamo, as someone nicknamed him; has not been formally introduced. The backwoods school teacher required a couple of more coming out parties.

This is a meeting between Patterson, the forgotten man, and one the public, outside of Texas, has never met.

Inasmuch as the success of this production depends entirely on theater TV, Bill Rosensohn, the embryonic promoter, made a mistake in not taking Gus D'Amato, Patterson's crusading manager, into staging the match at Cut 'N' Shoot, which has been the most stimulating part of the story.

That would have taken the heavyweight championship back to the old days which saw situations like Bob Fitzsimmons knocking out Peter Maher on an island in the Rio Grande River and Jack Dempsey outboxing Tommy Gibbons while breaking the bank at Shelby, Mont.

The best stuff written on Patterson and Harris thus far came out of the boxing writers' junket to the woods and shacks of Cut 'N' Shoot, on the outskirts of Conroe, the Toots Shor's of which is a musty saloon, The Corn Dog, where patrons drink from the bottle.

Theater-wise, Rosensohn would have found Cut 'N' Shoot and Harris' rustic relatives much easier to sell than the unqualified challenger. Cut 'N' Shoot offered an unlimited source of good yarns.

Talk about protecting Khrushchev in New York. Who would have protected Patterson, D'Amato and the outlander writers from the "best fist, knee, knife, club and heel fighters" of The Big Thicket, where "if a city slicker stands around long enough, he'll get cut up and if he runs, he'll get shot?"

Yup, Bill Rosensohn positively missed the bus. Regardless of the performance and outcome, Floyd Patterson and Roy Harris in Cut 'N' Shoot would have been the most exciting thing ever shown on TV.

As things are, this is just another fight being fought in Los Angeles and for no reason at all.

SOFTBALLING—Ready for this week's annual Top O' Texas Invitational Softball Tournament are, left-to-right, tournament director Travis Lively; Frank Kempa, with the trophy his club won in copping the Pampa Industrial League championship, and Garland Pool, with the runner-up trophy which was won by KP Lodge in the regular season. Lively holds the trophy which will be awarded the Best Sport following balloting today. James Shew won the Best Sport Trophy the past two years. (Sports Photo by Red Cross)

PICK 'EM TO WIN SWC

Have Writers 'Hexed' TCU?

HOUSTON (UPI)—Texas Christian turned up as the odds-on favorite Saturday to whip Southern Methodist and Texas for the South Conference championship.

Oil Bowl Cagers Are Selected

LAWTON, Okla. (UPI)—Coach Joe Turner of Kilgore, Tex., Junior College Saturday night announced the names of his 10-man Texas schoolboy squad who will play in the annual Oil Bowl basketball game between Oklahoma and Texas All-Stars here Aug. 20. The game is sponsored by the Lawton-Fort Sill Shriners and Oklahoma Coaches Association.

The Oklahoma squad will be named by Coach Woody West of Tulsa Will Rogers following the All-Star game in Oklahoma City next Wednesday. The Texas squad included: Centers—Carroll Broussard, Port Arthur; Elbert Kirk, Cayuga and Jim Hammond, Houston Belaire. Forwards—David Warnell, Galena Park; Rick Martin, Dallas Woodrow Wilson; Bob Grace, Plainview and Tom Osborne, New London. Guards—Phil Reynolds, Waxahachie; Bill Wilbanks, Belton and Bill Reeves, Plainview.

This fall in a poll of sports writers who listened to conference coaches moan about 1958 prospects. Coach Abe Martin's Horned Frogs, who have only two returning starters among 20 lettermen from a sixth-place team whose big claim to fame was an early season victory over national champion Ohio State, were the choice of 18 of the 26 writers to emerge on top next Nov. 29.

SMU and Texas were the only other clubs to get a first-place nod from the writers, who picked SMU, Texas, Rice, Texas A&M, Arkansas and Baylor to finish in that order.

SMU got six first-place ballots, Texas got two. None Put Low No writer picked the Frogs lower than third, while none dropped the Mustangs and Longhorns lower than fifth.

On the basis of one point for first, two for second, etc., TCU wound up with 37 points, SMU 60, Texas 77, Rice 102, Texas A&M 136, Arkansas 148 and Baylor 168.

Actually, Martin was the only one of the coaches who did not paint a dismal picture of his team's prospects.

Martin said his optimism for a "hit better team" was based on the hope that quarterback Hunter Ellis' great spring training passing perfection would carry over into the fall, and that the Frogs would have a better offense and more stronger reserves to offset a slight decline in defensive strength.

SMU got 10 votes for second, seven for third, two for fourth and one for fifth despite a gloomy picture painted by assistant John Cudmore of the Methodists' "very disappointing" spring practice and "no defense to speak of" on a team that will start six to eight sophomores.

RUSSELL RUNS WILD

North Gridders Slam South In 21-16 All Star Classic

By ED FITE UPI Sports Writer HOUSTON (UPI)—Darting David Russell, running like a Panhandle jackrabbit, sparked the favored North to a hard-earned 21-16 victory over the South Saturday night before an estimated 18,000 fans in the 24th annual Texas Schoolboy All-Star football game.

The pert, 5-11, 160-pounder from Amarillo set up the victors' first touchdown with a weaving 64-yard punt return, romped 31 yards for a personal six-pointer in the second period and contributed 30 vital yards in the North's seven-play 62-yard drive in the final quarter.

Other Award Russell got 19-1-2 votes to 7-1-2 for Coan. Outstanding lineman award also went to a North player—end Ronnie Payne of Breckenridge, who got 22 of the 32 votes for his sterling defensive play that included five unassisted tackles.

Mike Cotten of Austin scored both of the South's two touchdowns, one after a blocked punt by his end, James Street, had set up the situation in the third period.

Final Play It came on the final play of the first half when Robert DeSha, of San Antonio Jefferson, calmly booted one from the 27-yard line to pull the South to within four points of the lead at 13-9 at halftime.

The game also saw the first two point conversion in Texas football under the game's new rules when the North's Guy (Sonny) Gibbs flipped a flat pass to end Ronnie Payne after the fourth-quarter north touchdown.

The South had tried for two points by running in the opening quarter, but the play was smothered.

The triumph was the fourth along with a tie in the last five games for the North, which now leads the series with 12 victories against nine losses and three ties.

The game, marked by numerous thrilling running plays on the part of Russell and teammate Tommy Minnier of Gladewater for the North and Bert Coan of Pasadena for the South, also saw the first field goal since the All-Star game was inaugurated in 1937.

Russell won the outstanding back award by a wide margin—not only for his offensive, but for his defensive play that saw him make a touchdown with a second-period tackle that chopped off a spectacular run by Bert Coan of the North 12 after the Pasadena flash had sped 32 yards.

He splashed to a 2:05.2 clocking in winning the 200-meter freestyle. It was a meet and—American record and better than the accepted world record, though a faster time was being considered.

The Los Angeles Club captured the 800-meter freestyle relay in meet record time of 8:42.7 compared to 8:51 set by the New Haven Swim Club at Detroit in 1951.

The second-place finish gave the Hoosiers 33 points, and a commanding lead over the Angelenos who had 39. Cincinnati Coca-Cola was third with 14.

Each of the other eight members, Idaho voted against the motion which was put forth by Washington and seconded by Oregon State.

There was no discussion of reorganization at the morning meeting, Seaborg said.

Two Meet Swim Records Snapped

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Athletic Club paced by two Australians broke two meet records Saturday in the National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving championships.

But despite the flashy performance, defending champion Indianapolis Athletic Club pulled away to a big lead in team scoring, using its great depth.

Jon Henrichs, who teams with Murray Rose to give Los Angeles a one-two freestyle punch from down under, turned in the top individual performance of the day.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUND-UP

Red-Hot Indians Cop 10th Of Last 12; Braves Beaten

Indians 3; A's 1

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Rookie Gary Bell fireballed the Cleveland Indians to their 10th victory in their last 12 starts, 3-1, Saturday over the sagging Kansas City Athletics.

It was the fifth straight defeat and the eighth in the last nine games for the Athletics. The win boosted the Indians to the .500 mark for the first time since May 30.

Bell, who scattered five hits, was locked in a 1-1 duel with Ralph Terry until the sixth inning when Bob Avila's double and Mickey Vernon's single pushed Cleveland ahead, 2-1.

The Indians added a cushion tally in the eighth on Billy Hunter's double, Bell's sacrifice and another sacrifice bunt by Avila that Terry mishandled in an attempt to nail Hunter at the plate.

Phils 5; Braves 4

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Dave Philley's bases-loaded single after pinch hitter Wally Post's two-run homer to tie the score in the ninth inning, gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Saturday night.

The Phils were trailing 4-2 with one out in the bottom of the ninth when Stan Lopata walked and Post, pinch hitting for reliever Jim Heath, lined his fifth homer of the year to tie the score.

Richie Ashburn singled, stole second and went to third on Del Crandall's throw. Crandall was ejected from the game arguing that Solly Hemus interfered with the throw. Hemus and Ed Bouchee were walked intentionally before Philley drove his game-winning hit against the left field wall.

Ed Matheu's 24th homer with Red Schoendienst aboard in the fifth inning had provided Milwaukee with its lead. Schoendienst, who hit safely in his seventh straight game, also scored in Milwaukee's two-run opening inning when he doubled and came home on Felix Mantilla's single. Hank Aaron singled Mantilla home from second.

Cards 3; Cubs 2

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rookie Curt Flood belted his ninth home run of the year in the 10th inning Saturday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The win was the sixth straight for the rampaging Cards and the 14th setback in 20 games for the Cubs.

Flood's homer was his second in two days and came off left-hander Bill Henry, who came on in the eighth to set the side down in order after Cub starter Glen Hobbie had loaded the bases.

Flood put his homer into the left field bleachers after Henry had gotten Phil Paine and Gene Green on infield grounders. Flood hit Henry's second pitch.

Chixos 9; Tigers 3

DETROIT (UPI)—Sherman Lollar Saturday drove in six runs with his second grand slam homer this season and a pair of singles to boost Dick Donovan to his sixth victory, and give the Chicago White Sox a 9-3 decision over the Detroit Tigers.

The Sox capitalized on starter Herb Moford's wildness to wipe out a 2-1 Tiger lead in the 5th with five runs.

Jim Rivera walked, stole second, and went to third when Red Wilson threw the ball into center field. Al Smith also walked and Luis Aparicio scratched a single to score Rivera.

With two down, Moford walked Jim Landis to load the bases and Lollar drilled his 16th homer of the year—tying his major league best—into the stands.

Bucs 5; Reds 2

RAYDON posted his third straight pitching victory and rookie Harry Bright contributed his first major league home run Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates continued their sensational streak of home victories, beating the Cincinnati Redlegs 5-2.

Raydon, who gave up only six hits, needed help from Roy Face in the closing innings to curb the visitors' bid for an uprising. The loser was the veteran left hander Al Kellner, who was chased in the second inning.

The Pirates batted around on Kellner in the second to prevent Raydon with a 4-0 lead. Bob Skinner led off with a single and Bright homered over the left field wall. Bill Mazeroski and Dick Kellner followed with singles.

Raydon was awarded first base when umpire Vic Delmore ruled catcher Ed Bailey had tipped his bat.

Bosox 9; Yanks 6

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gene Stephens, filling in for sidelined Ted Williams, rocketed a two-run homer and Frank Malzone followed with another in a four-run fifth inning rally that carried the Red Sox to a 9-6 victory over the Yankees Saturday before 67,916, the American League's largest crowd of the year.

Dave Sisler was credited with his seventh victory although he was knocked out in favor of Leo Kiely in the seventh and Murray Wall had to come on in the ninth to check a final Yankee threat.

Mickey Mantle drove in four of the Yankees' runs and after his ninth-inning single produced the final New York run, Wall was called in from the bullpen and induced Elston Howard to hit into a game-ending double play.

The Red Sox staked Sisler to a 7-0 lead and it seemed that his father, Hall of Famer George Sisler, who was watching him pitch for the first time in the majors, might see his youngest son turn in a shutout.

Galveston In Legion Finals

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Galveston beat Pharr 12 to 2 in the American Legion tourney here Saturday. Galveston meets Fort Worth Sunday in the championship game.

Jerry Warren and Mike Nusenbatt combined to pitch a three-hitter for Galveston. Warren struck out eight batters.

Buddy Haney led the batters for Galveston with a triple and a single in five trips to the plate. Galveston had nine hits and Pharr pitchers gave up six walks.

Pitcher Tisdale was the loser for Pharr.

The game starts at 6:30 p. m. Sunday. If Galveston defeats Fort Worth, a second game will be played to decide the tournament victor.

Roy's Trainer Mad Over Plan For LA Visit

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Bill Gore, trainer of heavyweight challenger Roy Harris, threatened to "walk out of camp" Saturday if Harris is forced to move his training headquarters to Los Angeles for two days.

Harris, the undefeated Cut and Shoot, Tex., youngster who fights Floyd Patterson in Los Angeles Aug. 18, has been training on the grounds of the plush Arrowhead Springs Hotel.

But Friday promoter Bill Rosenbush asked that Harris do his sparring in Los Angeles for two days so boxing fans could get a look at him. Harris' manager, Lou Viscusi, offered to compromise with the young promoter by letting his charge box in Los Angeles just one day—Monday.

Gore and his assistant, Denny McMahon, said they'd have none of it.

"What do they think this is, a circus sideshow?" Gore asked.

Cotton Bowl May Get Moore Fight

MIAMI (UPI)—Fight manager Jack (Doc) Kearns said Saturday "there's a good chance we'll stage the Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle match in the Dallas Cotton Bowl."

Kearns said Montreal and Philadelphia also are trying to land the light-heavyweight title scrap for which champion Archie Moore is demanding a $100,000 guarantee.

Kearns said he would like to see the fight staged in the Cotton Bowl during the Texas State Fair in October and has been talking to theater owner Bob O'Donnell in Dallas about it.

The fight manager said he also would like to stage the Joe Brown-Kenny Lane rematch for the lightweight title in the Cotton Bowl.

Orioles 12; Nats 5

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gus Triandos ramed his 22nd homer of the season Saturday to set a new individual Baltimore club high as the Orioles broke out of a hitting slump to defeat the Washington Senators, 12-5, and snap their 11-game losing streak.

Senators, 12-5, and snap their 11-game losing streak.

Waco Scribes Top TSWA Honorees

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Waco News-Tribune today won the lion's share of awards presented by the Texas Sports Writers Association meeting held in conjunction with the 26th annual Texas High School Coaches' Association convention.

Dave Campbell, sports editor of the News-Tribune, took two first place awards and Al Ward, also of the News-Tribune sports staff, took another to grab three out of the four top awards.

Dan Jenkins, sports editor of the Fort Worth Press, took the other first place award for his feature on Doug Ford at the Masters golf tournament.

Swoon's Son Ranks 4th As Money Horse

CHICAGO (UPI)—Swoon's Son vaulted into fourth place in racing's all-time money-winning list Saturday with a surprising upset victory over the odds-on favorite, Round Table, and eight other horses in the $133,150 Equipole mile at Arlington Park.

Swoon's Son carried the second-highest weight in the field, 120 pounds, and still was timed at 1:34.4 for the distance, the fastest in the 19-year history of the stake and only 2.3 of a second off the track record set for the distance 26 years ago by the famed Equipole.

It was the second straight year that Swoon's Son won the stake, each time under the driving ride of jockey Dave Erb, and his purse Saturday, $87,675, set a record for the stakes.

Saturday's victory increased Swoon's Son's lifetime earnings to $938,604, exceeded only by Nashua, Round Table and Citation, all in the million-dollar class.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

Never have I seen a more perfect camping and fishing place than on the San Saba River, six miles southeast of Richland Springs on the Ward Ellis Ranch. The river is about one hundred feet wide in most places and from two to twenty feet deep.

Practically all species of fish are found in the waters with white and black bass being abundant, plus channel and flat head catfish, buffalo and drum. Mr. Ellis, the ranch owner, allows the public to camp and fish on the ranch for the sum of fifty cents per day per person.

This is one part of the state and one river where the big catfish are caught. Ward Ellis said that a few weeks ago he had a trotline stretched across the river and was using specially made large hooks and that two of these hooks were straightened.

"I have caught fifty-pound catfish and larger on the same kind of hooks but maybe these fish were hooked in the hard part of their mouths so that they could break loose.

I am going to re-set the line in a few days and see if I can't catch the fish that straightened out these hooks."

Paradise Lost!

After looking back over our trip to the San Saba River and three days of fishing, I can't see why we didn't set out a few large hooks in the deep water, baited with large bait, and attempt to catch a large yellow catfish (these types weigh up to more than a hundred pounds).

If you are interested in a fishing trip where you have a chance to enjoy the solitude of the outdoors, privacy, beautiful scenery and a gracious host, then I could not think of a better place to go than this particular ranch. Of course, you have to "rough it" in a way but that is why outdoors-men enjoy the sport.

About the only modern convenience furnished is drinking water from the ranch headquarters. It is but a few miles to Richland Springs where food and supplies can be purchased.

If you wish any further information pertaining to this scenic ranch with ideal fishing, contact Rev. T. D. Whitehorn, Booker, Texas, or myself. (P.S. Mr. Ellis didn't solicit any publicity. This is just an honest evaluation of what I saw and enjoyed on the outing and I wanted to pass it on to the fishermen of the Panhandle who were looking for such a place.)

Hawks Coming Back

The autumn months are just around the corner. This is the time of the year when many of the migratory hawks return from their northern nesting grounds and are winging their way back to their southern winter quarters. Each year along in late August, September and early October large flights of hawks can be observed.

It is not uncommon to be driving along the highway and casually note a red-tailed hawk sitting in a wheat field. Upon closer observation you will notice another, and then another, until finally sometimes there are a score or more of these migrating hawks seen.

These hawks are on their way south and are searching for food and resting up until they can travel on southward.

It should be remembered by all true outdoor sportsmen that a vast majority of these birds are highly beneficial to the sportsman and should not be killed. Morally, they should be protected and they are protected legally.

Ninety percent of the hawks that are found in Texas are legally protected and the penalty for shooting one of these birds runs from $10 to $200, plus court costs.

There are more than a score of species of hawks found in Texas, including the sparrow hawk, pigeon hawk, duck hawk, sharp-shinned, Cooper's, red-tailed, red-shouldered, broad-winged, rough-legged and marsh hawks, hawks and others. Each species of hawk has certain "field marks," physical characteristics that distinguish it from other similar species.

Once you've learned them you will find identification of these birds surprisingly easy.

The July issue of the TEXAS GAME AND FISH MAGAZINE has an unusually good feature called, "Introducing Hawks of Texas," complete with pictures and illustrations. Outdoor sportsmen who are interested in hawks and falcons should certainly appreciate this article.

Vet Sportsman Passes Away

Goldie Blevins, veteran driller for the Gulf Oil Company by profession, and a true outdoor sportsman by choice, recently passed away. Mr. Blevins and D. T. Fuller for many years have hunted the bob-white quail through the Texas Panhandle.

These two veterans of the field participated in this sport before many of the modern day hunters were born. This twosome has long been known for having some of the best quail hunting dogs in the top part of Texas. The field trial boys and the upland game bird hunters will miss seeing Mr. Blevins around.

I can say from personal knowledge that he was a bona fide wildlife conservationist and enjoyed training dogs and observing game as much if not more than he did hunting quail. I shall greatly miss his cooperation and friendship.

PAYDIRT

The Bears, of course finished so far down the ladder last season, that it's doubtful they'll be able to climb even one step out this year. But the majority of the writers in the TCU poll had them as the No. 1 club. Which all means about as much as our telling you our selections at Raton will all come in today. The "men-in-the-know" have pegged the SWC champ in only four of 24 pre-season polls. They got lucky with TCU in 1938, and Texas in 1943, 1945 and 1950. And pal, that's all.

No disagreeing phone calls, now please. We'll be long-gone for a week. Ynaaa.

contact Hart Warren, pro at the Pampa Country Club.

The Championship Flight will be 72-hole medal play while all other flight action will shoot two rounds of match play and then swing into medal play in the semi-finals and finals.

H. M. Watson, president of the Pampa Bowling Association announced Saturday that between 50 and 75 teams from a five-state area, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas would be looked for in the first Top of Texas Bowling Meet.

He said the meet would be classified into Class A for bowlers above 175 averages, Class B for bowlers under 175 and that no handicaps would be applied.

The match play will be held at the Harvesters Bowl with a special Ragtime Doubles side-meet rolled at the revamped Garden Lanes.

Watson also issued an invitation here Saturday for all local persons interested in learning to bowl to contact any of the PBA officers or either of the bowling alley managers to sign for beginner's classes.

CARY MIDDLECOFF ... he gets red-hot

Cary Cards 29 To Lead Miller Open

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Tie-hungry Cary Middlecoff came home with a record 29 for the last nine holes to give him a four-under-par 68 and the lead all by himself in the $35,000 Miller Open Saturday.

Middlecoff, who shared the lead at the start of Saturday's play with young Paul Harney, slammed home an eagle and four birdies on the final nine for a three-day total of 197. This was three strokes ahead of Billy Casper Jr., Apple Valley, Calif. pro golfer's second-leading money winner this year, and freshman Bob Goalby, of Belleville, Ill.

Harney, Worcester, Mass., slipped to a par 70 for a 34-hole score of 201, which he shared with Joe Conrad, the 1955 British Amateur champion from San Antonio, Texas.

Middlecoff, 37, Hollywood, Fla., one of golf's big names who hasn't won a tournament since he took the National Open in 1956, was luckluster on the first nine with a two-over-par 37. He parred the 10th, then started blazing, winding up with his 13-under-par total.

His 197 was a record for 64 holes on the Tripoli Country Club course and gave him a chance to crack the tournament record of 263 he set in winning the first Miller Open at Blue Mound in 1955.

Harney, who had been a co-leader in the first two days, rang up three bogies in skidding to his first par round.

Goalby, who had considered a professional baseball career, tossed in a 25-foot iron shot for an eagle along with four birdies for his 66 Saturday.

paced the South scoring with ten points and was the only player besides Brown to hit double figures.

The winning Yankee squad poured through 18 of 47 shorts for a .404 shooting percentage while the Rebels found the range only 20 times on 58 shots for a miserable .367 field goal average.

Mrs. Smith, of Bootle, England, and widow of an airlines pilot, stretched the two-day tourney to the last second, needing to halve the 18th hole of their afternoon round to give the overseas visitors a rallying deadlock. She parred the final hole as Miss Riley hit into a sand trap on her second shot and took a bogey 5.

It was the second tie in the 10 cut competitions held in alternate years. The British Isles was defending champion, having won in 1956 at Sandwich, England, for only the second time.

The British Isles carried a 2-1 advantage into Saturday's play at Brae Burn Country Club, winning two of Friday's three foursomes battles.

Smith Gives British Tie

NEWTON, Mass. (UPI)—Accurate-hitting Mrs. Francis (Bunty) Smith bested veteran Polly Riley, 2 up, in the final match Saturday to give the British Isles a 4½-4½ tie in the international Curtis Cup competition against the United States.

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Roy Harris, challenger for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's crown, doesn't think a role in the musical "Li'l Abner" would be along his line.

The Cut and Shoot, Tex., fighter who is a school teacher when he's not in the ring, said he had received an offer from Gus Greenbaum, president of the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., asking him to appear in the show "Win or Lose."

But the laconic Harris said he never had any particular interest in dramatics and planned to go back to Texas after the Aug. 18 bout in Los Angeles.

Red Diplomatic Offensive Spreads

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—The Communist diplomatic offensive has been officially and formally extended from the Middle East to Latin America. The propaganda war is now officially on in America's "backyard."

The new move stems from a joint decision of the Kremlin and the Red Chinese regime in Peiping.

It was taken at the secret three-day talk last week in Peiping, between Soviet Premier and Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and Red Chinese Leader Mao Tse Tung.

What can be expected from it is an all-out propaganda assault on the Latin American nations, with the United States as the chief target of the attack.

Within 48 hours of the decision, Peiping in fact opened up its guns with a broadside attack on the United States' alleged "enslavement" policy on the Latin American continent.

The red bloc's decision emerged from the joint Sino-Russian communique issued in Peiping Sunday at the conclusion of the Mao-Khrushchev secret talks.

Red China and the Soviet pledged themselves formally then and there to "give firm support to the just struggles of the peoples of the United Arab Republic, the Republic of Iraq, and the other Arab countries as well as the national independence movements of the peoples in Asia Africa and Latin America," the communique announced.

Retail trade in the week ended Wednesday ran from 1 per cent below to 3 per cent higher than a year ago. Attracted by extensive sales promotions, shoppers stepped up purchases of apparel, furniture and linens. There was another slight decline in sales of new passenger cars.

U.S. Steel Corp. cut stainless steel plate prices an average of 6 per cent because of "competitive market conditions." The plates are used chiefly for tanks and other equipment in the chemical, oil and petroleum industries. The reduction follows price increases for a wide variety of steel products.

The House unanimously passed and sent to the Senate a bill to extend for six months to June 30, 1959, the government's authority to renegotiate defense contracts to recapture "excess profits." The bill would extend the program to cover contracts let by the new federal space agency.

The Federal Reserve this week snipped up the huge amount of bank reserves it created with its recent support operations of the U.S. government securities market. The decline in the central bank's bill holdings of $648,850,000 was the largest since Sept. 30, 1950, when a sell-off in that week amounted to more than 700 million dollars.

The United States produces approximately 40 per cent of the world's goods and services.

78-Year-Old Grandmother Is A Dynamic Personality

By MIKE FOSNER
United Press International

NEWINGTON, Conn. (UPI)—The most dynamic personality in this suburban town is a 78-year-old great grandmother who has walked again.

Since then, Mrs. John Nordquist has conquered Scandinavian mountains on skis and America's Rocky Mountains by car on an 161,000 mile motor trip just completed — alone.

This widow pulled through a serious illness in 1950 and has returned to being an "outdoor girl."

On June 7, she jumped into her Ford and pressed the accelerator for California. She returned in July.

"I was sailing through Nebraska at 85 miles an hour," she said,

"when a car pulled out from a side road. I hit the brake and my car spun around several times. I straightened it out and kept on going, smiling at two Nebraskans ogling me with open mouths."

She said she considers driving a "sport . . . relaxing" and does not feel she is alone "because God is my companion."

Since she got her first automobile license in 1940 she has never had an accident.

Four years ago she skied in the Scandinavian countries and toured Europe in a small Volkswagen she labeled a "vegetable dish with wheels."

She said if she skied in this country too many eyebrows would be raised. "I've skied since a girl when I made my on skies. Flying through the air makes me feel like a butterfly."

Mrs. Nordquist, a widow for four years, is a "Swede from Finland" who arrived in New York City in 1897 with 35 cents.

Her life has been an adventure since then. She is the mother of three married girls—her "baby" is Mrs. Howard Gibson, 40, of Laurinburg, N.C. She has 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

While mowing her "yard and a half" with a hand mower, she said she stays young in heart because she "doesn't take her children's advice" to take it easy.

She says old people should "go out . . . see America . . . to stay young and stop saving their money for their children. Let them save it themselves."

President Warren G. Harding drove the last spike in the construction of the Alaska railroad, on July 15, 1923.

Construction of the original White House cost the American taxpayers $400,000.

He Fled 'Justice' Twenty-Five Years

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—The strange story of a German businessman who has been fleeing "justice" for 25 years was unfolded today after his return here to confess a "killing" that never occurred.

Prosperous Karl Mende told police he had killed a man at the beginning of the Nazis' successful fight for power in Germany.

"I want to atone for my crime," said Mende on his return from long years of hiding in the French Foreign Legion, Australia and South America.

Mende told this story: On the night of Jan. 31, 1933, while returning home from night school, Mende became involved in a street fight between Nazis and Communists. He threw a wooden post ripped from a fence at a Nazi Storm Trooper in self-defense. The next morning a newspaper said the Nazi had been "murdered." Frightened, Mende fled the country, joining the Foreign Legion. Then Arab friends "smuggled" him onto a freighter bound for Australia. When World War II broke out, he was in Peru.

He sent letters with money to the Nazi's family. Then he feared the letters were intercepted and he fled to Brazil, making a fortune in real estate.

He sent letters with money to the Nazi's family. Then he feared the letters were intercepted and he fled to Brazil, making a fortune in real estate.

Recently, he said, his worries caused a nervous breakdown, and after recovering he decided to return to Germany.

Investigation by police showed the newspaper which had reported the death of the Nazi printed a correction the day after Mende fled, saying the man had been injured. The Nazi, it turned out, died on the Russian front in 1942.

In most cases, the size of the brain seems to have no direct bearing upon intelligence.

Peg O' Pampa

disappearing from the local scene and things should be back to norm this week, that is, only half-hecktic ... wasn't it exciting, though, to see Grandma Florence Reynolds at the head of the parade on her prancing horse? ... now there is a Texas Lady for you ... we saw a couple of father-daughter teams proudly parading ... Bob Andis, president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Ass'n, flanked by his two beautiful daughters, Linda and Bobbie Lee ... They looked so attractive in their white cowgirl outfits ... and Dr. E. Douglas Carver with his pretty daughter, Gwen, riding side by side and wearing matching, colorful shirts ... gee, we hate to see the week end ... nothing around these parts matches the excitement and color of rodeo week.

SO MUCH HAS BEEN HAPPENING this past week ... our news noggin is so full of happenings that we hardly know where to begin or how ... so, in that case, how about starting just right here ... about the happiest family to be found anywhere were the W. C. Mosleys, the Jim Campbells, and the Louis Tarpleys, when their daughter, sister and daughter-in-law (all one person really), Jewell, stepped off the plane recently with her brand new daughter, Carol Ann ... fresh from a two years' stay in England, thanks to "Uncle Sam" ... Carol's father, Glen, or Buz, as he is known to his friends, joined his family here last Wednesday ... and speaking of jolly old England, Patricia McCausland from London was welcomed to these shores on Wednesday, too, by the John McCauslands with whom she is to make her home ... Little Iris-Lee Page ... and some day real soon we are going to have to stop calling her "little" ... is cuddling a new pet these days ... a miniature Dachshund, whom Iris, with the aid of her parents, Joe and Marilyn, have named "Madame Duchess" ... a long, fancy name for a fancy, long dog ... we are sorry to learn that Beth and Hobby Killingsworth with their young son, Kim, are leaving Pampa to make their home in Wichita, Kan. ... It was always so heartwarming to see Hobby every now and then, out in the evening, pulling young Kim along in a little red wagon ... Marion Osborne with her daughters, Vicky and Sharron, have returned from New Orleans just in time to leave with the Mariner Scout Troop on a camping expedition to Red River ... believe we heard that the R. C. Griders are to go along, too ... and though they have been at home for a couple of weeks, the memory of their nice vacation still lingers for the Collum family, Mildred, Cecil, Ray and Judy ... their journey took them to Canada and to Michigan, where they toured the Kellogg's plant in Battle Creek ... and the Oldsmobile factory in Lansing (meant to ask Mildred if they were giving away any free samples on that day!) ... and just returning from a vacation in North Dakota are the William E. West family ... who spent some time on the Rosebud Indian Reservation and in Yellowstone National Park ... we heard that Thelma Ballinger was back on a visit this week seeing old friends ... as was Mickey St. Aubyn.

A LITTLE MORE OF THIS AND THAT ... why change our format in the middle of a column? ... we aren't saying where or when it happened ... but we certainly must mention the pride with which 13-year-old L. D. Steele recently pulled a nine pound, 26-inch catfish from a lake nearby ... the last time we saw Van Vanderberg she was wearing the smartest "hair-do" called the "chemise cut" ... it featured a halo of hair wisps over the top of her head with a silvered streak forming a band in front of the halo ... very attractive and becoming ... there was a pretty Dinner Bridge that Gail Einkelstein, assisted by her mother, Betty and sister, Rhona, gave recently for Lynn Cornelius ... Blue Birds of Happiness formed the centerpieces for the individual tables; where, after dinner, games of bridge were played by Marilyn Moser, Shirley Boddy, Vivian Copeland, Sue Keller, Joyce Cokrell, Greta Arrington, Pat Reynolds, Carol Ann Gallemore ... Lynn is to exchange vows with Frank Cooksey in an early September wedding ... we wonder what Isla Campbell meant at a party this week, when she refused a sweet roll and said "I can't, Georgia would get me!" ... Nomination for the nicest smile in town ... post or pre-election ... that of Johnny Campbell's ... which reminds us, Twentieth Century Cotillion Club, of which Johnny's wife, Wanda, is a member, is planning an Autograph Party for her when her new book, "Mystery Of McClelland Creek" comes off the presses this month ... and another nomination for the wittiest sense of humor is that of Jean Metz's ... and two nominations for lovely, golden tans ... Elaine Ledbetter's and Kitty Veale's ... end of nominations for this week anyway.

The best way to do good to ourselves is to do it to others; the right way to gather is to scatter. —Seneca

OUR GOOD NEIGHBOR DEPARTMENT ... Bob Richardson's Good Deed a couple of weeks ago of changing a tire for a helpless female driver has brought to our attention a flurry of good deeds ... which we are always glad to pass on ... Mrs. Raymond Lash and Mrs. John Pierce, who work as nurses' aids in Highland General hospital did a very nice turn for a friend of theirs the other early morning ... now they didn't tell us about it ... but good deeds as well as the bad ones have a way of traveling around if we will just let them ... to get on with the story, the other morning, after working eight hours, from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m., as they were leaving the hospital to go home, they noticed a tire going down on one of their co-worker's cars ... tired and sleepy, but thinking that the owner might drive off without noticing it ... they made the long trip back into the hospital to tell the owner of her predicament ... and here is a story of another Tip-Top Top O' Texas Good Neighbor ... Mary Keith returned home last Sunday evening from a day spent at Lake McClelland to find that her next-door neighbor, Virginia Lotz, had canned all of the peaches that Mary had hurried home to take care of ... and the good neighbor deed was balanced when Mary, in turn, helped Virginia string beans for canning ... it is a Nice World, isn't it ... anything nice been happening to you lately?

SOUNDS LIKE A lot-of-fun party the Creel Gradys, the Joe Franklins, the Joe Leverichs, the Bill Matejowskys are planning for the Buffet dinner to be given next Saturday evening in the Country Club ... invitations are going out asking members to come as their favorite melody ... thing we'll put on our rose-colored glasses and go ... see you.

Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. —Mary Baker Eddy Love, Peg.

Miss Carolyn Ann Price

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Price Jr., 1906 Williston, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ann to John Stanley Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Chambers of Canadian. Wedding vows will be solemnized on September 5 in St. Matthews Episcopal Parish Church.

BETROTHED

Brummett Group

Discusses Jamaica

Miss Susie Tucker

Misses Helene and Ruth Huff were hostesses for the Brummett Group of the First Christian Church at its mission study held Wednesday morning in the church. Mrs. W. G. Kinzer conducted the business meeting during which members were reminded to bring new and used clothing to the church to be sent to the Juliet Fowler Home. Plans were made for the August 27 Christian Women's Fellowship for which Rev. Degaldo, minister of the Mexican Christian Mission Church, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Kinzer led the mission study on Jamaica. Mrs. Osea Shearer gave the devotional, "Widen Your Hearts."

Apricot Bread, small doughnuts, fruit tid-bits were served by the hostesses to the following members, Mmes. Kinzer, H. J. Pickett, Roberta Talley, Oscar Shearer, L. C. Mason, Stella Bastin, and H. H. Kessinger and Mrs. L. B. Robertson, who was welcomed as a guest.

FALL WEDDING

Miss Ruth Mounce

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mounce, 222 W. Craven, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Ruth to Wallace Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of San Jose, California. A fall wedding has been planned by the betrothed.

Leatrice Ann Urbanczyk, Freddie Reck Pledge Vows In Nuptial High Mass

The Reverend Clifton J. Corcoran read the double-ring service and was celebrant of the Nuptial High Mass uniting in marriage Miss Leatrice Ann Urbanczyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Urbanczyk, who reside south of Pampa, and Freddie Reck, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reck, north of Claude, in the Holy Souls Catholic Church on July 31 at seven o'clock in the evening.

Music was provided by the Holy Souls Choir under the direction of William Haley Jr. Mrs. Jack Edwards, organist, accompanied the choir in a High Mass and played the traditional marches by Rossini. Pre-nuptial music was played by Mr. Haley. Soloists were Mrs. Lynn Boyd and W. R. Sligar.

Altars were decorated with white mums and white asters interspersed with Bells of Ireland greenery.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported lace and tulle trimmed with a Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves pointed over the hands. The bouffant skirt featured tiers of pleated tulle with a wide row of imported lace extending the full length of the back skirt falling into a chapel train. The Veil of Illusion, high-lighted with veils and pearls, was secured to a flattering, brimmed Charmen of Chantilly lace. She carried a magnificent bouquet of pink roses. For something old, the bride wore her great-grandmother's wedding ring which is seventy-five years old.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Norene Urbanczyk, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing a white - length gown of silk organdy over taffeta styled along princess lines with a full skirt and three vertical rows of shirring in back accented with bows.

Bridesmaids were Miss Roberta Kretzmeier and Miss J'Non Urbanczyk, both of Pampa. They wore gowns of pink and mint fashioned identically to the maid's of honor. They carried hand bouquets of carnations to match their gowns. Corsages were taken from the center of their bouquets and worn at the reception, which followed.

Dwain Urbanczyk, brother of the bride, served as best man. Charles Cobb and Richard Kelley of Claude were groomsmen. Ushers were Elbert Bryant of Panhandle, Donald Dillman of Pampa and Joe Pafford, Claude. Altar servers were Ronald Urbanczyk, brother of the bride and Michael Sullins of Pampa.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid with a floor-length net cloth over white satin with pink and mint tulle draped around the top of the table and caught up in three places where bouquets of carnations showered with ribbon streamers were placed.

The centerpiece was a large bride's doll sitting in a gold wedding ring. The large four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom encircled with tiny pink roses. Mrs. Dora Fagan served cake as Miss Norma Jean Dillman presided at the punch service. Mrs. Henry Urbanczyk was guest registrar.

For their wedding trip, the bride traveled in a blue linen sheath trimmed with rhinestones, with matching sweater and white accessories. Her corsage was the pink roses taken from her bride's bouquet.

"Barred Doors"

Topic For Meet

Central Baptist Women's Missionary Society met for a business meeting and Royal Service program on Wednesday. Opening with a group singing, Mrs. Bob Callahan read the prayer calendar and offered prayer for missionaries with birthdays for the day.

Reports were given by Mrs. Ralph Prock, secretary and Mrs. Sam Bateas, treasurer.

The Opal Miller Circle presented the program "Some Barred Doors," with Mrs. Curtis Liles in charge. Participating on the program were Mrs. J. B. Hilburn, Mrs. Tommy Phillips, Mrs. Kenneth Gray; Mmes. J. B. Lea, Fred Clark, Wayne Cobb and W. C. Gooding. Mrs. Prock and Mrs. E. C. Cox concluded the program and meeting with prayer.

Thirty-three members were present.

LC Pledges Tear At Heart Strings

Pledges of the Las Cressas Club presented a program for members of the club at the Tuesday evening meeting in the home of Miss Mary Hefflin, 324 N. Hobart.

The program followed the TV and radio theme, "Queen For A Day" with "Back Jailey" (Miss Wiletta Lowther) as master of ceremonies.

Among the sob stories presented by pledges, using members names but switching initials, were Gary Merick (Leite Roberts), "who had 14 kids and needed money since her husband died"; Honna Derr (Carol Dawson) "whose little dog was run over and since the owner was blind, needed another dog"; Sarilyn Melton (Tricia Flowers) "who wanted help to find her family. She was the youngest of 50 children and had been unable to locate her family, since the day she fell out of a bus and became separated from them"; Harry Meffin (Jean Gerik) needed $25 to get her son out of a trash can into which he had fallen."

The last candidate, Pally Saraley (Idella Lane) appeared a bit more desparate than the other candidates as she stated that she was suffering sheer torture by pledging a club called the Las Cressa Club and needed aid because she must raise $25 for the club and found it impossible.

Club members, due to circumstances beyond their control, were unable to help grant her wish, but the applause indicated that she had won first place.

Following the program, pledges gave reports of shut-in visits they had made.

Pledging routines concluded the evening meeting.

Silhouette Pictures Displayed At Club

Jelly-making and silhouette pictures were the subjects discussed by Goodwill Home Demonstration Club members in the home of Mrs. Herschel Wilkes, 1201 Charles, on Tuesday morning at 9:30.

Mrs. Wilkes led the discussion on the various methods of making jelly and preserves. Mrs. O. B. Smith demonstrated how to paint silhouette pictures using the husband's and wife's name. She distributed patterns to members which may be painted on heavy paper with tempera paint and then framed. According to Mrs. Smith, these pictures are especially nice for anniversary gifts.

Mrs. A. P. Coombes, president, conducted a brief business meeting during which announcement was made of a training school on "Dried Flower Arrangements" to be held on Aug. 11 in the Court-house.

Refreshments of rolls, nuts, minis, coffee, and Coke were served during the social hour by the hostess.

Members present were Mmes. Herschel Wilkes, Leland Diamond, James Smathers, A. P. Coombes, J. M. Hahn, Mmes. O. G. Smith and Rosie Postom were welcomed as guests.

The next meeting for the club Smathers, Cabot - Kingsmill Camp, will be held in the home of Mrs. on August 12 at 9:30 a.m.

ANNOUNCES BETROTHAL

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nix

Miss LaJohna Ellington, Fred Nix Repeat Vows In Church Ceremony

Nuptial vows were read in Halle Church, Spring Creek, for Miss LaJohna Ellington and Fred Nix at eight o'clock on July 11. Rev. J. D. Hill, pastor, officiated at the double-ring service before an arch of palm leaves and white chrysanthemums flanked by baskets of gaidoli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ellington. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nix of Spring Creek.

Miss Henrietta Leach, pianist, played traditional wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace dress styled with a ballerina-length skirt and basque waist, featuring a high neckline with rounded collar and long, tapering sleeves that ended in points over the hands. Her white lace and nylon tulle veil of illusion was attached to a tiara. She carried an orchid bouquet.

Mrs. Bennie Vaughn attended the bride as matron of honor wearing a pink and white dress with a white carnation corsage. James Cornelius of Borger was best man.

Mrs. Ellington chose an aqua suit with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Nix, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

The wedding reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Jimmy Fowler and Miss Carolyn Leach presided at the bride's table, which was laid with a lace cloth centered with a floral arrangement and featured a bride and groom pair in a musical automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Nix left immediately for a wedding trip to New Mexico. They will reside in Borger.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. W. Cornelius, Clarendon; Mrs. J. D. Fowler, Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Matthews Jr., Fances Lee and Stevie of Hitchcock.

Mrs. Seitz feted by Opti-Mrs. Club. Opti-Mrs. Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Lester Mason, 420 Magnolia.

Projects for the coming fall and winter were discussed. Plans were started for a party honoring Opti-Mrs. members and their children. Mrs. W. A. Gipson was named to head the planning committee. Mrs. Mabel Crossland volunteered to chair the annual Gift Sale, the date to be set later.

Following the business meeting, a surprise Lullaby Shower was given for Mrs. Bobby Seitz. Members attending: Meses, Gipson, Cliff Dunham, Ray Browning, Ben White, Norma Schale, James Lewis, Bill Garrett, Newt Secrest, Bill Dodd, Bobby Seitz, Jerald Sims, Bill Stephens, Bill Jenkins, and Larry Parsley.

Refresh Menu Memory. You probably will never forget those famous fritters made by your mother or grandmother. Next time you're planning menus, be sure to include a luncheon meal of panfried slices of Canadian-style bacon accompanied by either banana or pineapple fritters.

Makes Friends Manners. When you are parking your car in a residential neighborhood, be careful not to block a driveway or the sidewalk leading up to a house.

Some guests are careless about this when parking places near the host's house are hard to find.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

In a recently published child guidance book, its "expert" author tells a story about a certain Mrs. Williams who went to collect her daughter Lois from the house of a kindergarten friend. Arriving, she found Lois and another child, playing without their hostess, who'd been removed to her room for becoming too wild and excited.

On the way home, Lois said, "Mommy, couldn't Nan's mother have taught her that lesson some other time?" "Surely Lois was right," intones the expert.

Then, criticizing the removal of an overexcited child from the presence of others as humiliating, she writes, "No doubt Nan's mother was hard pressed, but she might have found some other way to control her excitement instead of sending her to her room."

Maybe the expert has tranquilizers in mind. Anyway, I found her bland, patronizing comment misleading and silly. Sometimes a child does get overexcited by the presence of others. Sometimes, having our own affairs to take care of as well as his, we don't register his growing intoxication until it's got out of his control. Then we remove him from the environment that's overstimulating him to the quietness of a room that will help to calm him down.

We take this action, not to humiliate him but to protect him against humiliation. Children don't like going wild in the presence of others who have retained control of themselves any more than we like getting drunk in the presence of people who don't drink. If we permit their wildness to get out of hand, they get scared — and will themselves want to withdraw under the protection of someone they can trust to govern their impulses for them.

But dealing with children's over-excitement isn't the subject of this column. It's the experts who make pronouncements on action we should take toward children — like Moses coming down from Sinai with the Word of God. They're not experts but egotists. The value of any action we take toward Nan depends on the feeling behind it. And experts like this lady presume greatly in judging our action without knowledge of our reason for taking it.

RUTH MILLET

You're sure to please a woman if you ask her for the recipe of a dish she has served you. You tell her how much her daughter looks like her. You marvel at the fact that any one so young looking as she could possibly be a grandmother.

You ask her advice on a problem of your own. You pay her a nice compliment in the hearing of her husband. You guess her age as ten years younger than it actually is.

You listen attentively when she is talking about her children. You comment on how well-behaved her children are. You admire the way she has decorated her house.

You credit her with a green thumb, if she happens to be a gardener. You tell her she must have married very young when you hear the ages of her children.

You tell her you want to hear all about her vacation, her operation on her new grandchild. You tell her you don't see how she manages to accomplish all she does, no matter how much or how little it is.

You ask for the name of her hairdresser, dressmaker or decorator. She'll be even more pleased if it turns out that she gave herself her permanent, made her own dress or did her own decorating.

You tell her something you haven't told another soul. You tell her that no one else could handle a certain volunteer job as well as she could. This is almost sure to please her so much she'll take the job and not wonder until later why she ever said "yes."

PLANS AUGUST VOWS

Miss Amy Jo Durning

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. (Buck) Durning, Skellytown, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Amy Jo, to Caryl Dwaine Clemens, US Army, who is stationed with the First Battalion, 21st Infantry in Munich, Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Clemens, Skelly Crawford Camp. The wedding is planned for August 23 at eight o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Skellytown.

Merits Of Green Olives Highlighted During National Green Olive Week

Attractive garnishes make the difference between dull and tempting looking food. It's not necessary to go to a lot of trouble to make garnishes if you have a jar of pimiento - stuffed green olives on hand.

National Green Olive Week, being celebrated August 7-16, is the time to be sure you have a good supply of olives. Chopped olives add a gay note of color sprinkled over soups, salads and openface sandwiches. Whole olives alternated with slices of carrot and pickled onions on cocktail picks comprise a pretty garnish for meat platters. Spanish olives and radish fans arranged in lettuce cups are a nice sandwich or salad accompaniment. In addition to relish and garnishes, the Spanish Olive is an excellent ingredient in many dishes. Have you ever tried chopped pimiento - stuffed green olives in breads? They add delicious flavor, interesting texture and, of course, a bright color note. Try these recipes easily prepared with hot roll mix.

Alexandre, Czar of All Hairdressers, Fits Royalty With Revolutionary Heads

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
PARIS (NEA) — Despite recent turbulent history this city is still the most exquisitely (and expensively) maintained head in the world. In these troubled times, the house of Alexandre still takes care of about 300 clients a day.

Alexandre is the czar of all hairdressers. The crowned and uncrowned queens of Europe, the wives of multimillionaires, top theater and movie stars turn to this 36-year-old headmaster. Stylists across the continent follow Alexandre's lead. His creations make their way to every hairdressing salon in the world. His was the chrysanthemum hairdo, his are the wigs that will be worn at all of next season's big parties. Hardly any royal marriage or state ball can take place without the Alexandre look.

Alexandre's appointment book reads like a Who's Who in the peerages of Europe. Wigs cost $250. Fee for a state function is about $1,000. His mansion — easily the most luxurious in Paris — is usually one of the first stops for important visitors to the city. It would seem that Alexandre was born with a silver comb in his hand. His most prized reward for good behavior as a small boy was permission to brush and comb his grandmother's silky silver hair.

But in his native town of Saint Tropez, a small fishing village and artists' colony on the Mediterranean, these interests and talents had little in common with the way of life. He decided to forsake the family's grocery store for richer lands to express himself.

Alexandre arrived in Cannes on the Riviera at the outbreak of World War II. He soon was graduated from picking hairpins from the floor to full-fledged coiffeur. He turns on a whimsical smile when he remembers those days. He would ask his clients to pay him in beefsteaks, sugar, butter and eggs — commodities that could only be obtained on the black market.

It was through confidence inspired in a pretty young manicurist that he gained his first reputation. She was more than happy to lend him her head for long hours while he tried his revolutionary styles. Success came soon after. Women discovered that in Alexandre was more than an artist. Here was a diplomat of the old school. No matter how demanding the client, he never lost patience. No matter how many heads he shaped during the day, he was as charming with the last as with the first.

The result: wealthy patrons showered him with gifts — old masters, fine porcelain, jewelry — and spread his name abroad. Today, his installation outdoes the luxurious salons of the heyday of the Versailles court. Every salon is paneled in heavy, lustrous satin-pasteel green, yellow and Nattier-blue. The parquet flooring, lustres and light fixtures have been copied from those of the apartments of Marie Antoinette. This luxury was bought at the price of a cool 100 million francs — big money anywhere.

Today his staff of 48 takes care of a tremendous volume of business he has attracted. The master himself snips and shapes about 30 heads each day. More than 20 crowned and important heads have a yearly contract with Alexandre. Among the women who have come to him, Alexandre considers Elizabeth Taylor and ex-Empress Soraya the most beautiful.

Farewell Fete For Mrs. A. D. Parsons

(Special to the News) SKELLYTOWN — A farewell party was recently held in the fellowship hall of the Community church for Mrs. A. D. Parsons, whose family is being transferred to Spearman. Hostesses for the occasion were Meses, Bill Price, Frank Genett, Clarence Kaiser and Oscar Downs.

A Shasta daisy corsage, tied with yellow ribbon, was presented to the honoree. The program included a duet sung by Mrs. Clarence Kaiser and Mrs. Frank Genett. Joan Jarvis and Melva Batson sang "Invisible Hands", and the program closed with everyone singing "God Be With You".

Guests were served from a table laid with a lace cloth, centered with yellow sweetpeas and gladioli. Those attending were Meses, Earl New, Jack Hutchinson, R. C. Heaton, Al Shubring, Gilbert Morris, C. M. Mercer, LeRoy Allen, Melvin Beigle, A. E. McCreary, D. D. Johnston, Edith Beigle, Bill Carey, R. C. Willis, Bill Harlan, Buford McGee, and Joan Jarvis, Beverly Heaton, Melva Batson and Myrna Shubring.

Mrs. Leigh Gives WOM Program

The Mooseheart Alumnae had charge of the chapter night program given Wednesday evening for the Women of the Moose. Mrs. Gene Leigh gave an interesting and informative demonstration of Grapho Analysis.

A formal initiation ceremony followed with the chapter welcoming Mrs. Helen Rittenhouse into the Defending Circle. During a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Verna Quinn, senior regent, plans were discussed to sponsor a Halloween Dance on October 31, at which time a portable television set will be given away.

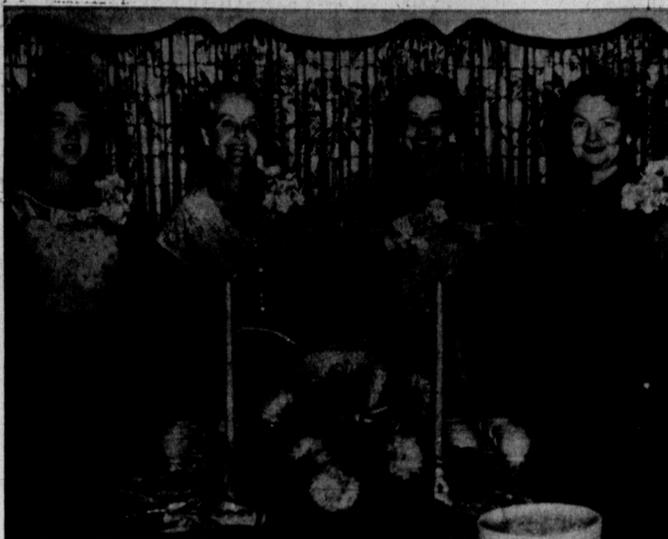

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mooseheart Alumnae served refreshments in the social room to the ten members attending.

Fruit Drinks Add Glamor To Summer

Preparing the beverages attractively requires little or no effort. With the variety of canned, frozen and bottled fruit beverages in grocery stores, the makings for such refreshing coolers are easy to keep on hand.

Easiest of all, perhaps, are the fruit drinks some dairy companies deliver to your doorstep along with milk. The Meadow Gold people, for example, put up such fruity collars as lemonade, orange-ade and grapeade in the same size cartons as milk for convenient refrigerator storage. They're fully prepared and need only be well chilled before serving.

But to serve them with style, try these tricks:

Impale a bright red maraschino cherry on the edge of a lemonade glass.

A gay sprig of fresh mint goes well with orange-ade, of course, both color-wise and aromatically.

Frosting tall glasses before filling them is effective, too. To do this, rub a lemon wedge around the edge of the glasses. Tint granulated sugar with a drop or two of vegetable food coloring, then dip the glasses into the sugar. Chill a few minutes before filling with fruit drink.

If you have little time for fussing, here's a palatable garnish recommended by Meadow Gold home economists, for special occasions.

FRUIT KEBABS

Using narrow drink-stirrers or thin skewers, thread onto each a whole maraschino cherry, a pineapple chunk, a small lime wedge, a piece of banana and a whole strawberry. Set one kebab upright in each fruit-ade filled glass.

ITALIAN STYLE PICNIC

Italy, land of warm gaiety and music, will lure many tourists this summer. But you may enjoy being a contented "stay-at-home" and bring the best of Italy right to your backyard in the form of spaghetti supper picnic.

You're all set when you buy cans of rich, spicy spaghetti with meatballs. Its smacks of mouth-tingling flavor. Lavishly-sauced spaghetti and tender tempting meatballs marry most delightfully in this dish. So simply heat—and heap the platters high. Two kinds for a help-yourself-tray.

If you can't resist "fancying" it up, slip in a bit of cooked celery or mushrooms. Better yet, pour in a can of spaghetti sauce with mushrooms for every two cans of spaghetti with meatballs.

Great serve-withs—a large tray of antipasto and crunchy Italian-style bakers bread.

Spaghetti Sicilian
2 cans (15½ ounces each) spaghetti with meatballs
1 can (10½ ounces) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms.
Grated cheese

Place spaghetti and sauce in a lightly greased shallow baking dish. Sprinkle cheese on top. Bake in a 400° F. oven about 20 minutes. Pass additional grated cheese. Makes 4 generous servings.

Spaghetti Americano
2 cans (15½ ounces each) spaghetti with meatballs.
1 cup diced celery or ½ cup sliced mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Gently frizzle the celery or mushrooms until tender in butter. Stir in the spaghetti with meatballs. Heat to good and hot. Season with soy sauce if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Matching Make-Up, Fashions With Tan Opportunity For Gal To Look Loveliest

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

This year's colorful summer fashions, whether they be gaudy blues and yellows, delicate pastels or stark white, give every gal a chance to look her loveliest. And if she's lucky enough to tan without difficulty, her tan will be a striking contrast against any of the summer shades.

As a rule this is no problem at all for brunettes. But for the blonde, whose skin is more delicate and easily damaged by the sun, tanning is a grim business. She must be careful to guard her skin against the damaging rays of the sun. But she CAN achieve a lovely honey tone if she goes about it carefully—gradually increasing the time she spends in the sun each day, turning herself constantly so that no spot gets to "well done," and using a protective lotion, always.

One such lotion, offered by a famous beauty house, is claimed to be both sun and windproof, and can be used both as a protection and make-up base.

For both blondes and brunettes, lipstick that will accent a tanned complexion and not clash with the summer fashion colors is an important consideration. There is a flattering new pink-coral shade currently on the market that will blend perfectly with almost any of the season's gay colors, and set off your tan to perfection. The texture will prevent drying from sun and wind, the makers say.

Working at being well-groomed is even more important in summer than in winter, for the heat and the additional activity play havoc with our appearance constantly.

If you're going on a picnic in an open-top car, or spending a day at the beach, be wise and use a hair spray before you leave the house. You can't look pretty if your hair is blowing every which way.

Crisp cotton daytime fashions, and delicate frothy summer evening dresses give us a chance to look more beautiful than at any other time during the year. And there's no point in not showing them off to their best advantage.

Choose a flattering lipstick shade, don't let a day at the seashore ruin your hairdo, and above all, if your skin is sensitive, go easy in the sun.

Party Compliments Miss W. Wehrung

Miss Wanda Wehrung of Amarillo, bride-elect of Bob Bradshaw, was complimented with a miscellaneous bridal shower on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Haggard, 1301 N. Russell. Assisting hostesses were Meses. H. A. Gilliland, Dick Sullins, Guy Farrington, Loyd Bennett, W. R. Bell, E. L. Anderson, R. E. Anderson, L. B. Haggard, J. P. Heath, Ernest Baird, Nell Earp, H. M. Stokes, John Volmert, Edwin Nelson, D. A. Caldwell.

Wearing carnation corsages in the receiving line were the honoree, Mrs. E. W. Laughter, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Bob Bradshaw Sr., mother of the prospective bridegroom. Mrs. Sullins presided at the guest register.

The serving table was covered with a yellow linen cloth centered with an arrangement of white mums flanked with yellow tapers in white milk-glass holders. Miss Martha Gordon presided at the punch service. Miss Becky Skelly served cake.

Approximately 35 guests attended.

Liver In Wine Just Plain Good

Liver is so frequently served as something "good for you" that a great many homemakers forget that liver is also just plain "good."

The Texas Beef Council recognizes this perfectly normal reaction that something good for you must be a little dull. Liver, long known as one of the most valuable nutritional sources of iron, phosphorus and vitamins B and C, is a little less so from its own good reputation. For this reason, the Council recommends "Calf's Liver in Wine." It's a taste so delightful the family can forget food value entirely and just eat it because it's "good." This recipe serves 4:

CALF'S LIVER IN WINE
2 slices calf liver, cut ¼ inch thick
Flour, seasoned with salt and pepper to taste
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup consommé
1 cup cooking sherry or Burgundy
1 cup water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt

Dust liver lightly with seasoned flour and saute in butter until slightly brown. Add other ingredients, cover, and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve on toast points.

Summer Meeting Held By WMU

The executive board of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Wednesday morning for its monthly meeting followed by a Royal Service program with Mrs. H. M. Stokes leading the opening prayer. Group singing, "Make Me A Channel of Blessing," and scripture reading by Mrs. J. B. Davis concluded the devotional period.

Introduction for the program, "Some Barred Doors" was given by Mrs. Ed Miller Jr. Participating on the program were Meses. O. V. Batson, James Futch, Lee Moore, Earl Dodson and Miss Alice Mae Wilford.

Mrs. C. E. Powell closed the meeting with prayer.

Fifty members attended.

VIEWPOINT OF BEAUTY

Did you ever stop to consider what a tremendous part windows play in your decorative scheme? Aside from being a structural part of the room and having architectural significance, when treated with distinctiveness and taste, windows can do more toward establishing the type and atmosphere of a room than almost any factor.

Today the trend is toward having more and more light in our rooms. We no longer shroud our windows with curtains, draperies and over-draperies which was one of the practices of the past. We now keep our window treatments simple, and make them contribute their full share of charm and decorative appeal to the room's background.

The picture window in the room sketched forms a perfect setting for the Provincial-type sofa. The pale citron color on painted walls was picked up from the floral print of the sofa and matching draperies. Ceiling has been painted a soft blue to harmonize with the deeper blue broadloom carpet. These background colors are a complementary foil for the rich burnished tones of the maple tables, writing desk and chairs. Glass shelves in picture window form a repository for treasured glass collection.

Window treatments have become one of the most important elements in creating an attractive home. Whether your home is Traditional, Provincial or Contemporary, our trained decorators can tell you about new, interesting ways to handle windows. Come in for a chat... anytime.

Recipe Treasure

Barbecued lamb riblets are an excellent summer dish. Use your favorite barbecue sauce. First, brown the riblets in their own fat. Then pour off drippings, cover with barbecue sauce and cook slowly on top of the range or in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours.

Suggestions To Follow
Through research and study, it has been shown that (1) smoked meats are best stored tightly wrapped in the refrigerator; (2) steaks and chops should be salted after broiling; (3) all meats should be cooked at low temperatures; (4) frozen meats should not be refrozen after they are completely defrosted; (5) meat should be carved across the grain.

Rebekahs Donate To Pilgrimage

(Special to The News)

SKELLYTOWN—Rebekah Lodge met recently in the IOOF Hall with Mrs. Fred Wall, vice-grand, in charge of the meeting. Those reported ill this week were Mrs. R. L. Marlar, noble grand of the lodge, and W. L. Hill. Six sick visits were made by the members.

It was decided by the members to have a card report each week at the same time the number of sick visits were taken.

A card was signed in lodge by all the members, to be sent to the noble grand, Mrs. R. S. Marlar, who will undergo surgery at the M.D. Anderson Clinic in Houston this week. Her address will be 5707 Flamigo Street, Houston 21, Texas during her stay at the clinic.

A letter was read from the president of the assembly stating that James L. Elliott, sovereign Grand Master of the State of Texas, rendered the following decision: "If the flag ceremony is used, the pledge of allegiance to the flag, singing of the national anthem and saluting of the flag, it should be executed after the flag has been placed in the standard, and not after lodge is opened, as this ceremony is not a part of the ritual." Mrs. Pauline Ragdale enclosed a brochure about the Orphans Home, and the Old-Folks-Home in a letter in which she extended an invitation to the lodge to attend the annual pilgrimage for the homes to be held on August 31. Funds donated to the Pilgrimage will be used to install an elevator in the Old-Folks home, a swimming pool for the Orphan's home, furniture for the lobby and office equipment. Miniature keys with the names of the lodges on them will be attached to a large replica of an open-book at each home. The Skellytown lodge voted to send Mrs. Beadie McBee a report on the Ways and Means committee.

Those attending were Meses. R. E. McAllister, Fred Genett, Floyd McCoy, Roy Sullivan, Howard Wedge, Fred Wall, Johnny Wyatt, Clifton Hanna, R. C. Heaton, and W. H. McBee.

Manners Makes Friends

If you want your husband to enjoy playing bridge with you and another couple, don't insist on gossiping with the other wife all through the game. Most men take

"If we're going to talk, let's talk, but if we are going to play cards let's keep quiet and play." the attitude.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a big-hearted, empty-headed husband. Our former neighbors wrote and asked if they could visit us for a week this summer. We said yes, so they came. Every meal was a banquet. I washed and ironed their clothes, picked up after them and made them feel at home. I am 63 and get tired easily but I never complained. I got up at 5:30, packed my husband's lunch bucket and waited on the company all day. When they left, my husband asked them to stop on their way back and visit us again (in about six days) which they sure did. He said he never dreamed they'd take him up on it. I am very mad at him. Did he have the right to invite them back so soon without consulting me?

I took the bus down there and when I walked in and he saw me you'd think he'd seen a ghost. I made a pass at her and he stopped me with his left. We had a few words and next thing I knew I was in the hospital with four broken ribs and six stitches over my eye. I spent three days and nights in the hospital. My husband came up to see me the first night with his parole officer and he brought me a dozen carnations and a watermelon. Its' sweet things like that that make me love him so much. Do you think I should press charges against him, leave him, or give him another chance?

A FOOL IN LOVE
Dear Abby: If a dozen carnations and a watermelon can make you forget four broken ribs and six stitches in your head, I think you ought to see one more doctor—a psychiatrist. Women who love men in spite of physical beatings are sick.

DEAR ABBY: I have a boyfriend who wants to grow a "VanDyke" beard. I am very much against this idea. He claims it will aid him in his profession as it will make him look older. As far as I am concerned, I think he should consider my feelings in the matter since he is supposed to love me. Which should come first, his love or his profession?

PUTURE DELILAH
Dear Future: Van Buren is also against the VanDyke. Tell him it scratches—and if that doesn't help—scratch HIM till he grows up.

TO BE ENGAGED
Dear To Be: A pearl, a fraternity pin or a simple reply in the affirmative to a proposal of marriage constitutes an engagement. A girl who insists on a rock for her finger, has rocks in her head.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine called me up one night when my husband was supposed to be at a Lodge meeting and said if I wanted to see my husband and his girlfriend to go to a certain bar.

NEW CITIZEN

Welcoming a new citizen to Pampa is Bob Hudson, right, shaking hands with Pat McCausland. Pat arrived in Pampa Wednesday from England. She was sponsored to the U. S. by the Pampa Kiwanis Club and co-sponsored by Bob Hudson. (News Photo)

Club, Individual Are Sponsoring English Girl, Pat McCausland

By RONNIE CROSS
Pampa News Staff Writer
"I think the people in Pampa are the friendliest I have met anywhere."
Everyone who comes to Pampa seems to be saying these same words.
This time the words were those of a new citizen of Pampa who has just arrived from England.
Pat McCausland, a pert, 5'4" brown-eyed English lassie arrived in Pampa just four days ago and already thinks that Pampa is the friendliest people she has had the pleasure of meeting anywhere.

Miss McCausland, 21, left England July 26 and came by boat to New York, immediately hopped on a big ol' Greyhound but headed for Pampa.
She took the bus because, as she put it, "I wanted to see America, and I figured that by taking the bus it would be the best way."
Pat was sponsored to the United States by the Pampa Kiwanis Club and co-sponsored by Bob Hudson. She has a brother, John, who came over from England last year and was sponsored by Hudson. John sells insurance here.
Pat was a guest of the Kiwanis Club Friday and heard her first Western music. Leon McAuliffe and his boys did the honor and Pat said she thought the music was very good.
She seems to know her music, being the president of the Eddie Fisher fan club in England in 1953. "I like rock and roll music, it's the big craze in England right now," Pat said.
"Your rodeo was the first one I ever saw and I don't see how they could get any better," Pat stated. "It was a very good performance."
A Roman Catholic, she was a secretary for an English Insurance Company prior to coming to America. "I hope to be a secretary for someone here in Pampa in the near future but first I want to see all of this country that I can," she said.
For Miss McCausland it was a long, hard fight getting to come to America. First a sponsor had to be found. The Pampa Kiwanis Club, along with Hudson, "came to her rescue."

Pat said, "I most certainly appreciate the Kiwanis club sponsoring me to the U.S. and I will be glad when the five year period is up so I can be a citizen of the United States."
The club will have to see that Pat gets a job and has a place to live for the next five years.
After the five years is up, she can then apply for citizenship papers. If she passes the required test she will not have to be "watched over" any longer. She will be "on her own," so to speak.
Pat is living with her brother John at 607 Warren and, as she said, "I am really enjoying Pampa."

Cities Service Locates Test

Fourth in a 10-test well drilling program by Cities Service on its 62,000-acre oil lease on the famous Burnett Four Sixes Ranch in Carson County, Texas, is being located.
The test is Burnett Ranch E-54 No. 1, located SE NW NW Section, 54, Block 5, I&GN Survey. It is approximately nine miles northwest of nearest production and 28 miles due west of Pampa, Texas.
The tests is scheduled to drill to the Granite Wash, expected at about 3,500 feet.

They Laughed At Benson

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The politicians laughed when Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson asked a Democratic Congress in an election year to reduce price supports for farmers.
Benson today had the last laugh.
The House Agriculture Committee, last stronghold of the once powerful farm bloc, capitulated late Friday to Benson. The committee by a 28-0 vote approved a bill to permit lower price props for cotton, rice and corn—three of the so-called six basic crops.
The price supports under the bill would be set only slightly higher than provided in an administration-endorsed bill which passed the Senate last Friday night.
Democratic committee leaders, all Southerners, had no choice but to surrender.

Biggest Change in Corn
They were under heavy pressure from cotton growers and textile manufacturers anxious to head off scheduled sharp cuts in cotton planting allotments. The legislation would avert cuts in 1959 planting allotments for both cotton and rice.

They realized from bitter experience that this could be accomplished only if they included the legislation in a bill to lower price props. President Eisenhower vetoed one farm bill earlier this year and the House refused to consider a second bill which did not include these concessions.

The biggest change made in the Senate bill by the House farm law writers related to corn. It provided that the lower price props for corn could go into force only if approved by a majority of commercial growers voting in a referendum next December.
The new bill will be rushed to the House floor for approval Monday under a procedure which will limit debate and bar amendments.
Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) predicted it would pass. He termed it "far better than the Senate bill."

Like the bill approved by the Senate, the measure after an interim period of two years would provide alternate support "floors" for cotton and rice under which price props could be set below the present legal minimums of 75 per cent of parity.

During the interim in 1959 and 1960, cotton growers would have a choice between two different support and planting allotment programs.

Higher Cotton Minimum
If they elected to accept moderate planting reductions based on a 16-million-acre national acreage allotment, they would be assured 80 per cent of parity. But they could get planting allotments increased as much as 40 per cent by accepting a price support of 65 per cent of parity.

In 1960, the alternate interim plan would offer supports of at least 75 and 80 per cent of parity.
At the end of the interim period, supports for all cotton could be reduced to 70 per cent of parity in 1961 and 65 per cent in 1962 and thereafter. But the supports never could be reduced below 30 cents a pound for the average of the crop. This is slightly higher than the minimum provided in the Senate bill.

As for rice, the present program under which supports range from 75 to 90 per cent of parity would continue for two years with one major change. The so-called escalator clause which would otherwise force supports next year

Columbus carried playing cards to America on the Santa Maria and his sailors whiled away long hours at sea playing cards.

Logging industries operate 30,000 miles of private railroads in the United States, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Flag Day, June 14, is observed as a legal holiday in Pennsylvania.

above the present rate of 75 per cent of parity would be repealed. The new corn plan, if approved by growers, would abolish all planting restrictions, allowing farmers to plant all they wished next year, with supports based on the highest of the three "floors." Ohio ranks second to California in number of bee colonies.

Complete Meals

from "extra" food made possible with my food freezer!"

says Mrs. Marvin Shurbet, PETERSBURG, TEXAS

"Frozen meals stretch our food dollars, and give me more free time to enjoy my family and our guests."

What housewife can always measure exactly how much of each food her family will eat? Even the most exacting woman will occasionally have vegetables, meats and desserts "leftover." It's a shame to throw good food away and no one really likes to do that. Well, Mrs. Shurbet has solved that problem. Here's what she says, "When I cook more than my family eats at a meal, I put remaining servings on foil, divided plates, seal in SARAN WRAP*, and store in my food freezer. If additional portions are needed to make complete dinners, I simply add them from various meals."

*SARAN WRAP — A trademark of the Dow Chemical Company, Midland, Mich.

"When I am away from home, my family always finds good meals in the freezer. It is so easy for them — just unwrap, heat and eat."

False Capitalism

The so-called American Committee on United Europe, redolent with socialist intent, as it is, has recently published what it classifies as a "debate" on "Capitalism, Communism and Socialism."

The "debate," in point of fact, is nothing of the sort. It is a triple broadside aimed at the advancement of socialism and unfortunately may influence a number of minds to accept the idea that capitalism is out-moded and virtually inhuman.

The three exponents of socialism are: Paul G. Hoffman, who needs no introduction to us; Palmiro Togliatti, secretary-general of the Italian Communist Party, and Andre Philip, now international president of the socialist movement for the United States of Europe. Mr. Philip hails from France.

The first article, the best of the three, comes from Paul Hoffman. His is entitled: "The new capitalism; its aim is a classless society."

Even in the title, Mr. Hoffman misses the point of capitalism. For the aim of capitalism is not a class or a classless aim at all. The aim of capitalism is to provide the greatest good for the greatest number at the lowest possible price, in a manner which proves that the gain of one is the gain of all.

The capitalist, fundamentally, is interested in profits. But he has discovered that profits come only when his service or product will be willingly purchased by his customers.

Thus, the exponent of true capitalism has finally realized that it is not villainous to make profits; rather, it is the highest of economic virtues, for by making profits, he can reinvest his profits in further productive enterprise, thereby making still more profits for himself while his money goes to work to create more jobs, more products and more services for more people.

The earmark of true capitalism is that it must not be coerced. To whatever degree it is coerced, it falls short of the capitalistic goals.

And to be entirely candid, it must be admitted at once that so long as we have a system of governmental control of production and distribution, so long will capitalism be unable to cope with the enormous satisfactions demanded by all its customers. In recent years we have seen the rise of vast new schemes aimed at controlling production and distribution, and of milking capitalists of their profits via the taxing route.

This "new" system, which is as old as the hills, is what Mr. Hoffman extols as the "people's capitalism."

Mr. Hoffman utters a great number of statements which are utterly untrue. For example he says: "... these men have had a constantly expanding opportunity to realize on their capacities intellectually and spiritually, as well as materially." What he fails to say is that since the advent of the New Deal, there has been a solid curtailment of these opportunities with the resultant decline of productivity.

Then he extols as a virtue the rise of socialism via the New Deal. Not, of course, in so many words. But he upholds the idea that one of the things American capitalism has provided is this: The workers "are protected in periods of unemployment by unemployment compensation insurance and against the hazards of old age by liberal pensions."

He fails to note that in this provision which has been foisted on the capitalistic structure by self-seeking politicians, freedom has been removed and, instead, predation and plunder are endorsed as national policies.

These are socialist aims and purposes, as even Mr. Philip points out later on, and have done much to hamper the greatness of capitalism in this country as it could have been and still could be.

Hoffman says, additionally, that "more than four million businessmen are... uninhibited by governmental or other fiat"... and that they have the exclusive power of determining "what they shall spend, what they shall save... What about taxes?"

He says that we have "divided the political power equally between the executive, the legislative and the judicial authorities..." and he fails to mention the inordinate growth of the executive branch as well as the fiat of power recently delivered by the judicial branch of the government.

There is much more in Hoffman's approach that is unsound, objectionable and untrue. In actual fact he is uphold-yesterday, rather than from the world of today. He does cap-yesterday, rather than from the world of today. He does capital-ism a great disservice.

Meany Wants Hoffa Thrown Out

United Press International carries a story of a statement by George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, demanding that James Hoffa be thrown out of his office. Meany contends that "honest and decent" elements in the Teamster's Union should rebel against Hoffa and throw him out of office.

It is a little hard to see how there can be any harmony in striking labor unions unless one gets complete control over the lives of all members of unions and over all rivals in these unions. This is true because labor unions completely repudiate the Coveting Commandment, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Another thing that stirred up Meany was the prospect of a complete combination of teamsters, warehousemen, railroads, airlines and sea transportation. Any combination like that would completely put even the AFL and CIO at their mercy, as well as every other worker.

"Human Events," in quoting statements from labor officials, shows the power in a big transportation union and the real character of the leaders of organized labor. I quote:

"If the teamsters and the two dock unions got together they'd represent more economic power than the combined AFL-CIO. They are so concentrated. An economic squeeze and pressure can be exerted that puts any employer in a very tough spot - and furthermore, puts the U. S. Government on a tough spot. If the AFL-CIO meets us head on, we'd knock the stuffs out of them. We'd fight on their own ground and win." - Harry Bridges; Wall Street Journal, Aug. 1, 1957.

"Every other nationwide strike from now on will be not just a one-union strike but a strike of the entire American labor movement." - James B. Carey, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; IUD Digest, July, 1956.

"The future of labor-management relations is big labor and big business, for there is no room for the small business or the small union. That is unfortunate, but true. We have reached the saturation point. Now we have to organize what doesn't belong to us to stay in business. We are in business to make money - not for profit, we are a non-profit organization, but to expand. We are out for every quarter we can get." - James R. Hoffa, Teamster vice president; in an interview with The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, March 4, 1956.

"Mr. Hoffa announced, at a meeting of the AFL-CIO constitution committee, that if he was elected he would fight for an all-embracing council of American transport unions - air, land and sea - for joint action. 'You cannot have a one-city strike any more,' he said. 'or a strike in just one kind of transportation. You have to strike them all.'" - James R. Hoffa, vice president, International Brotherhood of Teamsters; New York Times, August 8, 1957.

"This is not going to be any milktoast movement. We are going to seek these things in a militant manner. In the militant manner in which our organization was founded." - Walter Reuther, New York Times, December 8, 1955.

"We as American trade unionists have much to learn from the European experience as regards mobilizing our labor political strength for social gains at the political level, if we want to benefit by the experience of our European colleagues." - Walter Reuther, in opening address to the delegates of an International Automotive Conference, held by the Automotive Department of the International Metalworkers Federation, May, 1956.

"More and more, the answers to labor's problems are political. What is true of labor is equally true of America. In such a situation, labor's political action will become increasingly important. I do not want our movement to be the tail of any party's political kite. I want it to be able to influence the political behavior of our parties. Our job will take us into the community agencies, into local and state politics, into social planning, into the bloodstream of American life." - James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, speech at Rutgers University; Daily Labor Report No. 151, Aug. 3, 1956.

"Your chairman is not going to pay the least attention to any of these court injunctions. The courts are being used in this instance by people who want to destroy the courts. And it is high time that the officers and locals of this organization take steps to defy these irresponsible actions by irresponsible, confused and ignorant judges." - James Carey, president, International Union of Electrical Workers, commenting on

Robert Allen Reports:

House Will Get Vote On Labor Reform Bill

WASHINGTON - The House is going to have a chance to vote on that Senate-passed labor reform bill after all.

House leaders have decided on that in a series of private discussions.

Participating in them were Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., Republican Floor Leader Joseph Martin, Mass., Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., and top members of the Labor Committee - where this embattled measure is now stalled.

Despite those widespread reports that the prospects are nil for the House voting on this far-reaching labor legislation, these bipartisan leaders are definitely planning to bring it up. For this purpose they are considering two possible parliamentary procedures:

On August 11 to move suspension of the rules to take the Kennedy-Ives bill from the stymied Labor Committee and place it directly before the House for a showdown. This will require a two-thirds majority of those present.

In the last few days of the session, resort to a little-known rule under which the Speaker can recognize any member for the purpose of allowing him to move that the House immediately consider a certain bill. This also requires a two-thirds vote of those present.

Which of these methods will be used depends largely on the Administration.

In the backstage talks between Speaker Rayburn and GOP Leader Martin, the latter was asked if he would support the August 11 rules-suspension plan. Martin indicated that while he personally favors that, he would have to take the matter up with other House Republican leaders and President Eisenhower.

Outcome of either procedure is problematical. However, if the bill is placed before the House, its approval in some form is virtually certain.

Sponsored by Senators John Kennedy (D., Mass.) and Irving Ives (R., N.Y.), the measure was enacted by the Senate on June 17. Speaker Rayburn detained it on his desk for 41 days before sending it to the House Labor Committee - where it promptly ran into a deadlock.

The legislation would require public accounting of union funds, secret balloting in union elections, and limit the term of union officials.

Both labor and industry are widely split on the bill. AFL-CIO President George Meany supports it, but John L. Lewis, veteran United Mine Workers ruler, and James Hoffa, Teamster boss, are strongly against it. Also opposing it are the National Association of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

DULLES TELLS ALL - Key basis of U.S. foreign policy today is to force a showdown with Russia on putting an end to its worldwide tactics of subversion and indirect aggression.

This frankly admitted risky strategy is being pursued because of the conviction that the U.S. "is in a better position to face up to the Soviet now than we will be in a few years when missiles begin to dominate the globe."

Outcome of this grim policy is unpredictable. But one thing is certain: Unless an effective understanding is reached with the Kremlin, then the U.S. must gird itself "for the most terrible war in the history of mankind."

These are the extraordinary candid views voiced by Secretary Dulles at a private discussion with the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The State Department chief minced neither words nor opinions. In response to questions by both Republican and Democratic Committeemen, Dulles laid it squarely on the line on a wide range of vital subjects. Illustrative of his exceptional bluntness are the following highlights:

The seriousness of the present world situation cannot be exaggerated, and "it is impossible to know UEW requests for injunctions against IUEW; New York Times, Nov. 30, 1949."

"The critical industrial decisions which must be dealt with by democratic industrial planning would have to include production levels, investment levels, employment levels and the rate and nature of mechanization and technological change... the nature and quality of goods produced. They would include the labor-management relations and the foreign relations of our big corporations. They would include the policies of these corporations in respect to natural resources, and in respect to the size and location of industrial plants. The whole program, of course, would call for the adoption of extensive federal legislation." - John Brophy, Industrial Union Councils, explaining the 'Reuther plan,' 1952.

where present events are going to end."

The U.S. has lost support of the neutral nations, particularly as regards our military intervention in the Middle East.

With the exception of Britain, our European allies are becoming so frightened over the possibility of a general war that they are increasingly tending toward appeasing the Reds. Because of the latter's growing military strength, many of these allies and all the neutral nations are preparing to seek peace with Moscow at any price, rather than risk a general war.

REVEALING DISCUSSION - In Secretary Dulles' remarkable comments, he vigorously defended the U.S.-British military intervention in Lebanon and Jordan.

This question was raised by Senate Republican Leader William Knowland, Calif., and Senator Warren Magnuson (D., Wash.). Dulles asserted that the landing of troops in the two Middle Eastern countries as both moral and legal.

"To say these measures are similar to the British and French attacks at Suez is ridiculous," declared Dulles. "Surely there is a vast difference between attacking a nation and going to the defense of a nation which is attacked, as we are doing in this instance."

"But suppose the United Nations doesn't back us up on this?" demanded Magnuson. "We went into Lebanon, and the British into Jordan, unilaterally."

"The UN charter invites people to come to the help of those who are being attacked," retorted Dulles. "In each of these instances, we are conforming precisely to the letter and the spirit of the UN charter. We sent forces to Lebanon following a request from the duly constituted government of that country."

"We would never have gotten UN consent to do that with the Soviet deliberately bent on balking it. We have never gotten UN consent to send U.S. forces in any of the 30 or more countries where they are now stationed. We don't have UN consent for American troops in Italy, France, Germany, Japan, Formosa, etc. There is no rule in the world that forces cannot be sent at the invitation of a friendly nation."

Senator Henry Dworshak (R., Idaho) asked about Iran. "A coup there would be a grave danger," explained Dulles. "It would out-flank Turkey and would have the most serious consequences."

Senator John Stennis (D., Miss.) expressed astonishment "over the lack of support in Europe for our position." He asked if Dulles "wasn't surprised and disappointed by that."

"Not entirely so," replied Dulles. "They would rather have us give in at any point where there seems to be the possibility of general war. They apparently feel that the fact we stood firm in Lebanon may bring a general war nearer. In my opinion, that is the explanation why many of them are shrinking from what has taken place."

Senator Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.) raised the point that if the U.S. arms Middle Eastern countries, it cannot consistently oppose others doing the same thing.

"We have never sent arms to a country in order to foment revolt against its lawful government," replied Dulles. "If we are going to sit quietly by and say it is all right for that sort of thing to be done, I say to you there will soon not be many friendly countries left in the world. Their leaders will be murdered and their bodies dragged through the streets as happened in Iraq."

"But what can you do in a country like Iraq?" continued Humphrey, "where the large majority of the people are apparently on the other side?"

"It remains to be seen whether that is the case," said Dulles. "Iraq is not the only country where people who seem to be on top draw the plaudits of the mob. I am quite prepared to admit that what happened in Iraq was not only very shocking but has in many ways shaken governments in other countries because it represents a technique that is extremely difficult to combat."

Senator Milton Young (R., N.D.) asked what happens in countries "where we lose support." "Frankly, I don't know how much support we have lost," replied Dulles. "There is the so-called neutral bloc of nations whose support we've lost, but which I don't think we ever had. Then there are people who are frightened by what has happened. I don't blame them for being frightened. But you must remember that there are always people who try to avoid trouble by giving in to it peacefully."

"That is not our policy. I think we are carrying the flag in Lebanon for every small nation in the world. I only hope they realize it."

Senator Theodore Green (D., R.I.), Foreign Relations chairman, asked about the outlook for a summit conference.

Loony Mac Sorry He Volunteered To Cook

By HENRY McLEMORE

Any man who has ever told his wife that he would gladly swap jobs with her, with him doing the housework and her going to the office or driving the truck, is crazy, and he had better be glad he wasn't taken up on the offer.

Two days of the swap and he'd renege, even if it meant acting as a live target in a shooting gallery. I know, because with Mary and a nurse staying upstairs caring for our new baby, I am the loony volunteer who said he'd take care of the downstairs, which means that, among a lot of other things, I am doing the cooking.

Never mind why I thought I could cook. I guess it was because most husbands think they can. We forget that helping out in the kitchen-cooking a breakfast of bacon and eggs-is seventeen miles from assuming the responsibility of fixing three meals a day.

A kitchen is a mean thing to take care of. If I kept it as neat and clean as it is in normal times, I never would get around to fixing even a plate of food a day. Turn your back and plates hop off the shelves and dirty themselves, pots and pans run to some mysterious places and get greasy and caked

"I can't say," said Dulles. "All I can tell you is that we are facing up to very serious trouble. It is impossible to know where these events are going to end. But we do know that we are in a better position to face up to Russia now, than we will be in a few years when missiles begin to dominate the world."

Senator Allen Ellender (D., La.) inquired about efforts for an Arab-Israel settlement.

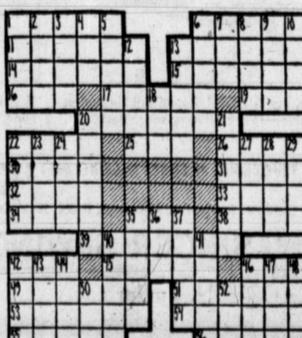

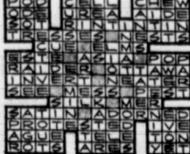

"If conditions remain as they are now," pointed out Ellender, "sooner or later we are going to have to choose sides. We are going to have to pick between the Arabs and the Israeli."

"We have tried to get them together," declared Dulles. "We've been trying for several years to get them to accept proposals, either as a whole or separately step by step. So far it has been impossible to bring about any results."

70 Dusters In Texas Last Week
AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas wildcat completions 78 exploratory wells last week, but 70 of them were dusters, the Railroad Commission reported today.
Out of 78 wildcat wells, seven were producing oil.
There were 212 oil well completions in the state. This pushed the total for this far this year to 7,653 as compared with a tally of 7,971 for the same period last year.
Gas well completions for the year rose to 1,425 as compared with last year's comparable count of 1,131, with the addition of 42 new wells.
The total average calendar day allowable as of today was 2,936,026 barrels, an increase of 3,336 barrels daily for the week.

Dry Hole Necessary In Seeking Oil Today

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International
TULSA (UPI)—A "dry hole" once was the dread of every shoestring wildcatter.
Drilling an expensive hole only to find no trace of oil or gas ruined an individual or a small company in a hurry.

Today, small and big operators alike often pool the risks of wildcat drilling. Major companies often agree to stand some of the loss suffered by a neighboring wildcat driller.
If the driller strikes oil, the majors don't get any of the profit.
If he goes bust, they figure it's worth standing some of the loss just to find out the oil isn't there.

Despite risk-pooling, drillers big and small are finding the dry hole to be more and more of a problem, financially speaking.
The Humble Oil Co. of Houston, for example, finds the dry hole to be a perplexing paradox: unavoidable, enormously expensive, yet necessary to the search for oil.

Last year, dry holes cost Humble nearly $62 million, roughly $13 million more than in 1956.
Dry holes cost the entire oil industry about a billion dollars a year—almost 40 cents for every barrel of oil produced. But oil can't be found without drilling for it—and when you drill, the odds are strong you will find nothing.
In 40 years, Humble has poured half a billion dollars down long, dry holes. That's nearly half as much as the company's total assets today.

Approximately 10,000,000 Americans have heart or blood vessel diseases.
The trend is clear. In 1937, dry holes represented only 10 per cent of drilling costs—in 1957, they soared to 42 per cent.
As many as 80 tornadoes per square mile occur annually in some prairie states, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Pipeline Firms To Challenge Appeal Of Federal Court Edict

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Service Pipeline Co., Tulsa, and two other pipelines will shortly challenge the government's appeal from a federal district court edict upholding their dividend payment practices.

The Department of Justice lost on all counts last spring and subsequently appealed to both the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court in hopes of an early decision.
At issue is whether Service, Tulsa, and Arapahoe Pipeline Co., Brush, Colo., can pay 7 per cent dividends to oil company owners, who also are their principal shippers, on a company's current valuation rather than its original investment.

The government sued last October, charging the pipelines had violated a 1941 consent decree under which 83 pipelines and 36 company owners agreed not to pay inflated dividends on an inflated valuation formula.
The case carried such grave legal and financial implications that 11 other companies intervened as "interested parties."

On March 23 Federal District Judge Richmond B. Keach denied three government motions and ruled that Service and Tulsa had done no "violation" to the judgment. On March 27 he also upheld Arapahoe. Substance of his opinion was that during the past 17 years the Justice Department apparently "had acquiesced to the companies' methods of computing dividends and now had done an about-face."
In its appeal the department raised three questions:

Raise Questions
1. Whether a shipper-owner's investment in the pipeline or in the pipeline's total invested capital, includes unpaid loans.
2. Whether the pipeline, in valuing its "owned and used" property, can include property which it uses but does not own.
3. Whether a pipeline may use different periods to arrive at its final valuation.

These were the same points argued before Keach.
Service and the other two companies will file answers in both the Appeals and Supreme courts on Aug. 23. The Justice Department appealed to both tribunals because it wasn't sure which has jurisdiction. If the Supreme Court takes the case, the final decision will, of course, be hastened.

NAMED BY IKE—Bertha S. Adkins, above, has been nominated by President Eisenhower to be Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare. At present assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, she would succeed John A. Perkins, who resigned. Nomination is subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Quotes In The News

United Press International
 LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The Most Rev. Bishop Robert J. Dwyer, warning Roman Catholics against the trend toward nudity and indecent entertainment along the famed Las Vegas "Strip":
 "There is no vacation from the Ten Commandments."
 HOLLYWOOD — Actress Marilyn Monroe, expressing happiness at the dismissal of a contempt of Congress conviction against her playwright husband, Arthur Miller:
 "I'm very happy for my husband, but I am even happier for the truth and justice that do exist in our country."
 NEWPORT, R. I. — Capt. Karl Anderson, skipper of the tanker Graham which collided with another tanker and exploded, causing the death of 15 crewmen and injuring 38 others:
 "It's an awful thing to think about. All those men dead and all that damage."
 UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge, indicating this country's position in the forthcoming General Assembly discussion on the Middle East:
 "We believe the General Assembly will want to deal constructively with the fundamental, broad problems involved and not be satisfied with mere stopgaps."
