

Vessel Capsizes; Seven Correspondents Missing

By AL KAFF
United Press International
TAIPEI (UPI) — A Nationalist vessel capsized in the Formosa Strait today during a Quemo Island military command operation with eight Chinese and foreign correspondents aboard, the Quemo military command announced. The announcement said only one of the seven missing correspondents was rescued.

The military command announcement issued on Quemo said the vessel capsized because of "rough seas and mechanical trouble." It said a search was underway for the seven missing correspondents.

The missing men were not immediately identified. But preliminary and unconfirmed reports from Quemo said that no American correspondents were aboard.

A Nationalist Defense Ministry spokesman said here tonight that the capsized vessel was an LVT (landing vehicle tracked) — one of 18 landing barges which was ferrying supplies to Quemo beach from an LST vessel.

United Press International correspondent Charles Smith, in a dispatch from Quemo, said the LVT capsized while attempting to come ashore from landing ships about a mile off Quemo. In another Quemo dispatch, UPI correspondent Norman Williams reported that the capsized craft was loaded with ammunition.

It had been announced earlier that three Nationalist ships cracked the Communist blockade of Quemo today and unloaded badly needed supplies despite a murderous Red artillery bombardment. The Nationalist air force also claimed its second victory of the week in a battle between Sabrejets and Communist MIGs.

The Nationalist convoy was the first to reach Quemo since Monday. Three LSTs (landing ships tanks) lowered landing barges a mile offshore for the run to the beach while 100 or more Soviet-made MIGs swarmed overhead but did not attack.

In the new air action, the Nationalist air force claimed four of its F86 Sabrejets battled 16 MIGs over the Swallow area, 120 miles south of Quemo. The Nationalist reported that one Communist plane was shot down and another damaged.

The air force said no Sabrejets were damaged. It specifically denied a claim by Peiping Radio that one Sabrejet was shot down. Another Peiping report said an F86 and two C-46 transports were damaged. Peiping also issued its "13th warning" to the United States and said eight U.S. planes violated Chinese territory over Amoy Thursday.

Today's convoy was important because the blockaded islands were so low on supplies they were being forced to dip into their reserves for daily purposes. American officers on Formosa said the Quemois would "withstand the siege" unless a better way was found to supply the offshore islands.

QUEMOY CLOSE-UP
This close-up of the Quemo island area off the coast of Communist China shows how those islands can control Red shipping in and out of the important port of Amoy. As follow-up to bombardment of the Quemois, Communists may invade the Tatan islands.

SIZING IT UP — Comparison map above gives a good idea of the size of Quemo, current focal point of the East-West hot-and-cold war struggle. The Nationalist Chinese island is compared with Santa Catalina, Calif., 75 square miles in area and Long Island, N. Y., 1,400 square miles.

IN LITTLE ROCK

NAACP Lawyer Makes Demands

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The NAACP's chief attorney for Arkansas said today that he is going to demand even broader integration of Little Rock's public schools if the high schools are turned into private, segregated institutions.

The attorney, Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, said a private corporation, operating the high schools privately, probably will not have the protection of a court-approved gradual integration plan.

"Technically, we might have more integration if they were turned over to a private corporation, although personally we would hate it because of our objections to private control of schools," he said.

"But the minute they (school board) relinquish control over the high schools, we are going to move against the junior high schools because the plan has been abandoned and the high school phase is no longer under their control."

Branton said he had not determined yet whether he will appeal a federal judge's rejection of the NAACP's request to forbid the Little Rock School Board to lease four closed high schools out for private operation.

"I may wait until Monday, after the election," he said.

Gov. Orval Faubus has ordered a special election for Saturday in Little Rock on the integration question.

School Board attorney Archie House said he and the board were still "stunned" by U.S. District Judge John E. Miller's decision Thursday.

"I have never been so shocked in my life, to think that a court would hand down an order, then tell you that the court cannot tell you what to do," he said.

governors have closed some schools to prevent integration as ordered by federal courts.

The President said school closures in the two states had caused a "material setback" in national progress toward the goal of equality of man. The continued use of school shut-downs as a weapon in the integration fight, he said, could eventually bring "disastrous" consequences to the entire nation.

"I fervently hope that soon the schools will reopen and that progress toward our goal will resume," the President said.

Behind the scenes, the President hoped his statement would produce new encouragement for recently organized parent groups in both states dedicated to reopening of public schools instead of attempting establishment of private, segregated educational establishments.

The President's public position was stated in a letter to J. Albert Rolston of Charlottesville, Va., chairman of "The Committee For Public Education."

This group was formed recently to pursue every legal means of keeping public schools open "while neither encouraging integration nor perpetuating segregation."

The committee sent the President a message earlier this month reporting on its aims and praising his stated belief that "good judgment and civic responsibility" would play a vital role in solution of the integration issue.

U. S. May Act

If Washington encouragement of the private groups committed to re-opening on any basis does not produce results, the President and Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers may undertake federal action.

The President opened his communication to Rolston by telling how deeply he regretted the closures in Virginia and Arkansas.

"The direct consequences to the children in those schools and the eventual consequences to our nation could be disastrous," he wrote. "Their education seemingly has no present prospect of early resumption."

"For this cessation, they are given a reason which is contrary to one of the generally accepted basic ideals of our country," Eisenhower said.

Ike Appeals To Southern Parents

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower made an indirect appeal to Southern parents today to increase their pressure on state and local governments to reopen closed public schools.

The Chief Executive, in his strongest words to date dealing with the desegregation battle, aimed his message at parents in Arkansas and Virginia where the governors have closed some schools to prevent integration as ordered by federal courts.

The President said school closures in the two states had caused a "material setback" in national progress toward the goal of equality of man. The continued use of school shut-downs as a weapon in the integration fight, he said, could eventually bring "disastrous" consequences to the entire nation.

REFLECTIVE MOOD!

This candid portrait doesn't record the usual grinning Harry S. Truman. It shows the veteran 74-year-old campaigner in a reflective mood. Harry continues his nation-wide swing, beating the drum for democratic candidates with his accustomed vigorous technique in a door-to-door trudge in San Francisco today.

Teens Riot In Texarkana; Negroes Suffer

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UPI) — Some 300 high school teen-agers, who gathered at a downtown intersection when their football rallies were canceled, smashed windshields and banged up the cars of Negro motorists Thursday night.

They broke taillights, and ripped off radio antennas and mirrors of seven cars before police broke up the crowd.

Two 16-year-old boys were arrested for banging up the automobile of Negro minister, Rev. H. Green, of the Red Springs Baptist Church. Police chased the youths on foot.

Suffer Minor Injuries

Green was unhurt, although some of the other Negroes suffered minor cuts from breaking glass and one white boy who pushed his fist through a windshield received a long gash on his wrist.

The trouble started over two football rallies that were canceled earlier in the week to prevent the kind of mischief that took place last night.

In past years, rallies at Texarkana, Tex., High School and Texarkana, Ark. High School preceded the football game between the cross-town rivals of this town, which is divided by the Texas-Arkansas state line.

But school officials this year decided to call off the rallies in order to prevent the spontaneous downtown gathering of students from both schools after the rallies.

Turn On Negroes

The rallies were not held Thursday night, but the downtown gathering formed anyway, and the youngsters turned on Negroes driving through the intersection of Broad and State Streets.

When the crowd moved on the car of a white man and his pregnant wife, the man hit his brakes suddenly. A car with two Negro women right behind hit the bumper of the car ahead, and the youths turned on the colored pair.

Several boys carried aloft a foreign-made sports car with the motor still running, and turned it around with the driver still inside before setting it down. It roared off.

The football game takes place tonight.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

BOOMS DEMO DRUMS

Harry Hits 'Frisco Today With Bell-Ringing Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Former President Truman planned to tackle today the lowliest but most important job in politics—pushing doorbells.

The former President was scheduled to begin calling on householders in the 200 block of Francisco Street in the heart of San Francisco's North Beach, or Italian quarter.

Truman was out to persuade voters to vote Democratic in California's Nov. 4 election, contending they'd be better off if they voted for Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown for governor, Rep. Clair Engle for U.S. senator and so on down the line.

Truman made a hard-hitting partisan speech Thursday night at the Fairmont Hotel before 500 cheering party faithful, including the leading candidates in California.

He delivered a vigorous attack against California's proposed "right to work" initiative on the November ballot. The initiative, proposition 13, has the firm support of Sen. William F. Knowland, Senate minority leader who is resigning to run for governor of California against Brown.

"It ought to be called the 'right to wreck' law," he said, "because its real purpose is to wreck the trade union movement."

"You will find some people saying they are for the so-called 'right to work' law, but that they also believe in labor unions. This is absurd. It is like saying you are for motherhood but against children," Truman said.

At one point, Truman departed from his prepared text to take note of the California newspaper support won by Brown.

Truman turned to Brown and said: "You've done something I was never able to do; you've got some metropolitan newspapers behind you."

"If they were ever for me—I knew damn well I was wrong."

The negotiations were held in Amarillo since more than half of the company's employees live here, the company's headquarters are in Roswell, N. M.

Over 11,000 New Phone Directories Being Distributed

Over 11,000 copies of the new Pampa telephone directory were mailed to subscribers in Pampa, Lefors and Skellytown today, according to Clyde Dickerson, local Southwestern Bell Telephone manager.

The new directory contains approximately 11,200 alphabetical listings, rising from 9,150. The new book has 64 white pages and 160 yellow or classified pages as compared to 61 white and 144 yellow in the last edition.

This year, around 18,350 copies have been printed. This includes a number of extra copies to be used as replacements in public telephone booths and other places where much use occurs.

Old directories should be thrown away as soon as the new issue is received. However, care should be taken to remove any items such as photos, letters and notes which might have been placed between the pages, the manager advised.

Dulles Puts Peace Probe To The Reds

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles put the question of war or peace in the Far East squarely up to the Communists Thursday night.

The United States, he said, is ready to negotiate a settlement with Communist China in the Formosa Strait.

At the same time, he warned U. S. forces may be used more actively if the Communists step up their attacks on Quemo and other offshore islands.

"Although the United States is not prepared to retreat in the face of armed force, our position is otherwise flexible," Dulles said in a speech before the Far East American Council of Commerce and Industry. The council is a non-profit association of businessmen dealing with Asia.

Washington diplomats were divided over whether Dulles was softening the U. S. position in the crisis or standing pat. Both possibilities found some support.

"We are prepared," said Dulles, "in accord with our United Nations Charter obligation, to settle the dispute by peaceful means in such a manner that international peace and security, and justice, are not endangered."

Seventh Vanguard With Weather Gear Set Aloft By Navy

No End In Sight For Bus Strike

AMARILLO (UPI)—Striking bus drivers and their union leaders today were pessimistic about an immediate settlement of their four-month-old strike against the New Mexico Transportation Co.

"We are at a standstill and there is no telling how long this thing could run," said H. T. Chandler, negotiator for the Amalgamated Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, AFL-CIO, who represented the striking drivers.

Chandler's statement came after another series of negotiations talks Thursday failed to end the four-month wage dispute which has suspended the company's traffic in New Mexico and West Texas for four months.

The union rejected the company's offer of 7 1/2 cents per mile to top-paid category of drivers retroactive to Jan. 19, 1958. The company's offer also included a raise to 7.8 cent per mile starting Jan. 19, 1959.

The drivers are asking for an 8 cent per mile pay boost. They were receiving 7.35 cents per mile before the strike.

The negotiations were held in Amarillo since more than half of the company's employees live here, the company's headquarters are in Roswell, N. M.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Navy's seventh Vanguard blasted off today in an attempt to place in orbit a 20-inch satellite that could soon be giving the world the latest weather forecast including advance hurricane data.

The Navy in Washington announced that all three stages of the rocket fired successfully. The Navy said "test range instruments indicate that each of the three-stage rocket's engines were fired in proper sequence."

The slender rocket — the same Vanguard that barely escaped disaster 10 days ago after a false start — was given only a one in four chance of putting its delicately instrumented baby moon in orbit.

Navy missile men, longing for success after five failures in six Vanguard launchings, began an anxious wait for word on how their temperamental "bird" behaved.

The trim Vanguard roared up at 10:39 a.m. c.d.t. into a hazy sky. It rose slowly at first, but picked up speed and thundered into a high cloud bank and disappeared about two minutes later.

A wait of about two hours was expected before it would be known whether the new artificial moon had begun circling the earth. If it did go into orbit, the Navy had hopes it would revolutionize the tricky science of weather forecasting.

Success would also mean that the nation could at last point to a visible moonlet traveling in space with Russia's starbright Sputnik III. The Navy said the satellite would twinkle like a "fifth or sixth magnitude star," and "might be observed with a good pair of binoculars."

A spokesman said that the two hurricanes now boiling through the Atlantic would have absolutely no effect on the Vanguard launching. The spokesman said both Helene and Ilsa were too far away to make any difference.

The Navy said it did not expect that the new satellite would achieve an orbit as large as that of Vanguard I, which is expected to stay up 200 years. That moonlet, which began its long journey March 17 in the only successful Vanguard launching, swings out 2,460 miles from the earth at the most distant point of its orbit and never draws nearer than 407 miles.

A smaller orbit was calculated, the Navy said, because the latest Vanguard was attempting to orbit 71.5 pounds around the earth, compared to 53.4 pounds for Vanguard I. The new satellite weighed only 21.5 pounds, but the third-stage Vanguard rocket casing would follow it if an orbit was obtained.

Two other satellites were making regular trips around the globe when the new Vanguard was fired. These were the 80-inch, tube-shaped Explorers I and IV launched earlier this year by the Army's Jupiter-C, which had a record of three successes in five tries.

Col. Hess Will Speak Here Saturday Night

Tomorrow will be a big day for Col. Dean Hess and for many a Pampa and Amarillo Jaycees. With tomorrow proclaimed Col. Dean Hess Day at the Tri State Fair, Hess will appear at Gold Sox Park to accept farm implements and other contributions for the Orphans' home that he founded in Korea. Later he will speak in the Palm Room of Pampa City Hall.

The Jaycees will welcome Col. Hess to Pampa to lead off the drive for the operation of the Korean Orphanage. The Region 1 Jaycees and others will hear Col. Hess at a 7:30 p.m. banquet here. With $2 tickets on sale at the door, preliminary reservations are being made through the Pampa Jaycees.

Another banquet speaker will be Dr. Douglas Guthrie Jr., president of the Texas Jaycees. Touring Texas with Col. Hess, Guthrie will speak in support of the proposed amendment to the State Constitution that would bring the legislature into session every year and raise the salary of representatives.

Grand Jury Makes Junk Rulings

In a report issued Wednesday, the Gray County Grand Jury made some recommendations concerning junk iron and stated that no irregularities had been found in the operation of Precinct 2.

Inquiring into the collection of junk iron in Precinct 2 by employees of that Precinct, the Jury recommended that all junk iron collected in the County by County employees while on the County payroll and using County vehicles, be considered as property of the County. The proceeds from the sale of such iron would be rendered to the offices of the County auditor and County treasurer.

The Grand Jury further recommended that a copy of its report be submitted to each commissioner of the County and to the Commissioner's Court and that a policy concerning junk iron be immediately established by the Commissioner's Court.

During its session, the Grand Jury inquired into informal accusations concerning irregularities in the management and operation of Precinct 2 and found no violations (See GRAND JURY, Page 3)

Typhoon Ida Strikes Tokyo

TOKYO (UPI) — Typhoon Ida, the worst Pacific storm in 24 years, struck the Tokyo area tonight with powerful winds and torrential rain.

Early incomplete reports listed at least 23 dead or missing. Nine persons were reported killed in Tokyo alone.

At least two other persons were missing and 22 injured in Tokyo.

US TROOPS READY TO LEAVE LEBANON

By LARRY COLLINS
United Press International
BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—U.S. officials prepared today for the rapid evacuation of American troops from Lebanon, indicating the four-month revolt has come to an end.

A reliable military source predicted the last American soldier and Marine will be out of Lebanon by Oct. 17, if sufficient shipping is available.

The Marines were loading fuel reserves, ammunition and heavy equipment for their imminent departure. Army units were reported preparing evacuation plans.

The long-dormant Lebanese army patrolled Beirut under orders to shoot armed civilians at sight, and it appeared Wednesday's outbreak, in which at least 30 persons were killed, would be the last gasp of the revolt.

The rebels, jubilant over the installation of a government dominated by their leaders, tore down the barricades that isolated their section of the city for months. The army moved into former rebel areas to take over police duties from the insurgents.

New Premier Raahid Karami, himself a former rebel leader, ordered the removal of the barricades.

The "Phalang," a rightist private army that supported ex-President Camille Chamoun, still had its barricades up and was trying to promote a "general strike."

However, Phalangist leader Pierre Gemayel conferred Thursday night with President Fouad Chehab and it appeared his organization's remaining grievances probably could be settled by negotiation.

Sunny & Cool

Pampa basked in the sunshine again today, with recent rains dried from the streets. The News rain gauge since yesterday noon recorded five hundredths of an inch of rain.

There is still some chance for thundershowers, however, and cooler temperatures tonight.

you whether or not something will be in violation of that order."

Won't Sit Back

Judge Miller handed down the original Little Rock integration order.

Judge Miller's decision Thursday apparently left the door open for opening of the schools, perhaps by Monday, under Faubus' plan for side-stepping the Supreme Court's immediate integration order.

"We definitely will not ask for a three-judge court," Branton said. Miller declined to grant the NAACP's request because he said that to do so would be to rule on whether three Arkansas state statutes, one of which dates back to 1875, are constitutional. The judge explained he could not do that. He said three judges are required for such a ruling.

Miller also declined to advise the Little Rock School Board on whether it would be in contempt of court if it leases out the four schools. But he sympathized with the board as being "between the horns of a dilemma."

Branton said the NAACP "will not sit back and let a private corporation take over the schools. Although it could get an order forcing the corporation to admit Negroes to the private schools, we would like to see all the kids—both white and Negro—start school at the same time."

Greeted By Students

Faubus returned from the Southern Governor's Conference at Lexington, Ky., late Thursday. He was greeted by about a dozen teen-agers who chanted: "Faubus! Faubus! He's our man! If he can't do it, nobody can!" They displayed huge portraits of Faubus on their cars. He shook hands with them and told them to go home to eat supper.

Faubus told newsmen he hopes to get Little Rock's closed schools opened next week. He said the prospects were "bright if the school board will lease out the schools."

Faubus scoffed at appeals by several groups of Little Rock voters to vote for integration in Saturday's special election. The approximately 42,000 voters in the school district will decide for or against integration.

Auto Strikers In Show Of Violence

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—Widespread local strikes in the auto industry, marked by violence for the first time Thursday night, were blamed today for postponement of the introduction of four lines of Chrysler Corp. cars.

A Chrysler spokesman said the company decided three weeks ago to delay introduction of its 1959 Imperials, Chryslers, De Sotos and Dodges because of the "erratic labor situation." The spokesman said introduction of Plymouths also might be postponed and unveiling of the other four lines further delayed if the situation does not clear up soon.

United Auto Workers president Walter P. Reuther, who entered negotiations with General Motors in an effort to head off a national strike only four days away, indicated he was concerned about the violence in the local strikes, which idled a total of 84,520. He blamed the strikes on the fact the workers have been without contracts with their employers for nearly four months, but he had no excuse for violence in the strikes.

Won't Condone Violence

He supported the actions taken by UAW vice president Leonard Woodcock, head of the union's GM Council, when the violence was first reported Thursday night. Woodcock immediately sent two top union officials to the picket lines to halt the violence.

"The UAW does not and will not condone violence in a strike," Woodcock warned the strikers. "Violence does not solve a worker's problems. It only creates new and unnecessary ones."

The violence occurred at the Cadillac assembly plant in Detroit, where 7,640 workers halted all production of Cadillacs by walking off their jobs Thursday.

Pickets milled around the plant peacefully until Dr. Douglas J. Wood, medical director of the plant, left after completing his work.

Cars Damaged

Wood reported the windshield and two side windows of his car were broken and the side panel was kicked in by pickets after he refused to open the trunk of his car so they could see he was not carrying Cadillac parts out of the plant. He said the pickets hurled stones, beat on the car with their fists and kicked at the sides.

Police dispersed the pickets and Wood was not injured.

A short time later officials at GM's technical center in Detroit reported pickets had lifted the hoods of their cars and pulled wires loose.

The strike at Cadillac left that GM division with just under 2,500 new cars to market.

GM was hardest hit by the strikes in terms of numbers of workers idled. It reported 46,630 idled at 14 plants while Chrysler reported 26,240 idled at 17 plants.

Progress In Talks

The Chrysler total included 350 truck drivers in the Detroit area, however. Company spokesmen said this strike could idle all Chrysler plants in the Detroit area if it continued.

Ford, which reached an agreement with the UAW Sept. 17, reported 11,650 still idled. But Ford's situation was improving and expected to continue in that direction because the UAW's Ford Council approved the contract agreement Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the negotiators at GM reported they were "inching" toward an agreement.

A top union negotiator said the union had reached a tentative agreement with GM in the fields of pensions and insurance but supplemental unemployment benefits still were tying up the talks.

Agent Faces Charges Of Assault Plus

GLADEWATER, Tex. (UPI)—Billy Means, 25, an undercover liquor control agent from Dallas, faced charges today of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of another liquor control agent. He was held without bond.

John Hoyt, 35, district liquor control board supervisor from Longview, was shot in the stomach and critically wounded in an identification mixup at a Glade-water motel Thursday.

Hoyt underwent surgery Thursday afternoon in a Glade-water hospital and several inches of his damaged intestine were removed. He was wounded by a .38-caliber bullet.

Means told Dist. Atty. Ralph Price at Longview that he did not know Hoyt but shot him because he "got excited."

Acting on a report that two men had been posing as Liquor Control Board agents, Hoyt and two other LCB officers went to the motel shortly after noon Thursday.

Means said in a statement that he was asleep when Hoyt knocked on the door of his cabin.

"When I opened the door," Means said, "there was a man standing at the door who had on a western-style hat, a light-colored shirt and was wearing a pistol.

"There was a badge on his shirt and he said he was a state officer. He said that was his business and he had his foot against the door and pushed it open. I guess I got excited at that time and brought the gun around that I had in my hand, which I had carried from the bed, and I shot the man standing in front of me at about the belt line."

The defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued against them barring them from handling or promoting the stock in this country.

Former Pampa Resident Dies At California Home

Will Mottin, former long-time resident of Pampa, died suddenly in the yard of his home at 1493 Katy Lane, Fresno, Calif., on Monday at 4:15. He was recuperating from an operation performed six weeks previously. Mr. Mottin was a carpenter at the time of his residence here.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, two daughters, one son, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Lisle Funeral Home, in Fresno with interment in the Belmont Memorial Park.

Car Leaves Road, Hits Guard Rail

A 1957 Ford station wagon left the road yesterday and knocked over two guard rails before coming to rest in a mud bank. The vehicle's driver was Martin Scott of Orange Park, Fla.

Scott was driving west of Alameda on Highway 66 when he lost control of his car on a shoulder and, knocking down two guard rails, wound up in the mud. W. A. Richardson, of the Pampa Sub District, Texas Highway Patrol, estimated the damage at $400.

The mishap occurred at 11:20 a.m. yesterday 10 and four-tenths miles out of Alameda. Scott, his wife and three children were uninjured.

GOP, Demos After Political Benefits

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic Party leaders have fallen into two schools about how to get the most political benefit from the Sherman Adams case. But both agreed it could yield them political dividends right up to election day.

There was grumbling among some Democrats because party chairman Paul M. Butler asked and took equal radio and television time Tuesday night to reply to Adams' Monday night speech. Adams at that time announced his resignation as chief aide to President Eisenhower and said he had been a victim of a campaign of vilification.

Butler's Democratic critics feared he might damage the Democratic cause by an unrestrained partisan attack on Adams. These complaints were muted when they discovered Butler was making, for a party chairman, a fairly mild reply.

Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN did not regard Butler's speech as soft on Adams. "After planning and executing a political lynching, he (Butler) insisted on free television time to be seen in the front row of the mourners," ALCORN said.

Butler was given the same 15 minutes time by two television and three radio networks that Adams had been allotted. Another radio-TV network gave equal time to Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House subcommittee which revealed Adams had accepted gifts from his friend Bernard Goldfine, the Boston businessman who had troubles with government agencies.

Butler said "political expediency" and not a Democratic plot had forced Adams out of the White House. Both he and Harris said the clamor for Adams' resignation came not from Democrats but from Republicans running for office this year.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There are two young business girls who ride the same bus to work with me in the morning and they are both obviously pregnant. Since the bus is packed by the time I get on, I have no seat to offer them, but it just kills me to see them standing up all the way to work while dozens of healthy young men sit clamorously reading their papers and looking the other way. I can understand why a man would hesitate to give a woman his seat when he knows she is out in the business world competing with men on equal terms, but I think in the case of expectant mothers, a concession should be made. One man on the bus muttered, "Why should I give up my seat to them? They should be home anyway." Have you any thoughts on the matter?

ALFRED G.

Dear Alfred: Expectant mothers would RATHER be home so I think it's safe to assume they are working because they have to. Only a boor would remain seated while a pregnant woman stands.

DEAR ABBY: I want to say to that woman who complains because her husband is getting bald. "Now, isn't that terrible!" Look yourself over, Lady. Is your shape what it used to be thirty years ago? Isn't your own hair a little gray and didn't you have a few wrinkles? My husband is bald all right and he wears glasses and has store teeth, but he has a heart of gold and I love him. When he comes over to me in the evening while I'm watching TV and puts his bald head on my shoulder, I am the happiest person in the world. It's not what's ON his head but what's in his heart. HAPPY WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to a man who loves to slap women around. He gave me three black eyes (not all at once) and I missed my kid sister's wedding because I was so beat up I didn't dare to let my family see me like that. He has lots of good qualities, such as being a very good father to our children. I really love him, but when he gets mad he starts swinging. Do you have any suggestions on how to calm him down a little bit?

BEAT UP

Dear Beat: Don't irritate him. Learn to duck and don't take his abuse so good-naturedly or he might get the idea that you like it. (Do you?)

DEAR ABBY: What does a man do when he is married to a back-seat driver? My wife accuses the life out of me by grabbing for the wheel, or pulling at my arm, or letting out screams when we are in no danger whatsoever. We can't talk in the car because she is always butting in with, "Watch that man behind you" or "Move over to the right!" It's getting so I'd rather take a beating than drive my old lady anywhere. Have you any suggestions?

DRIVEN NUTS

DEAR DRIVEN: Back-seat drivers belong in the back seat. Tell the little woman if she can't control herself she will have to take the bus or a taxi. Her "helpful" suggestions are just a nuisance.

Harrah Methodist Circles Plan Autumn Christmas To Benefit Wesley Center

"Christ's Message for Today" was the theme of the devotional program presented by Mrs. H. V. Pigg at the Circle One meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Harrah Methodist Church on Thursday morning. Mrs. O. M. Butler, first speaker, discussed "Eighteen Years of United Endeavor", as was brought to the fifth assembly of the Woman's Society of Christian Service by the first president, the immediate past president and the president of the Woman's Division. The second speaker was Mrs. Bill Gray, who used "The Social Witness of the Church in the Community and Nation" as her topic. "The Methodist Church is a world Church," she said, "and we must practice brotherhood at home, or cease to preach it abroad." "O W: Witness: Here and Abroad" was the subject of Mrs. D. S. Buckner's talk. "Our witness leads us to share love and knowledge through service to all mankind, rising above fear and ambition," quoted Mrs. Buckner. The benediction was given by Mrs. Lela Reed. Circle Two of the Harrah WSCS met in all-day session on Thursday. Early morning meditation was held in the sanctuary of the church. The theme, "Lord, Give Us Strength The Road to Build," was led by Mrs. Johnnie Pierce. Mrs. G. O. Hall at the organ provided music for the group singing of "O, Master Let Me Walk With Thee."

RUTH MILLETT

With married students no longer a rarity on college campuses, here's a problem that must arise fairly often. A mother writes: "My daughter, who finished her freshman year in college, is engaged to a boy she met at school who will also be a sophomore this fall. "My daughter tells me that they want to be married and figure it they could manage it if we increased her allowance and the boy's parents increased his. "He has already talked it over with his parents and they said it was up to us. If we were willing to pay half of the young couple's living expenses, they would pay half. "My husband and I have talked it over and we aren't sure whether we should agree to the plan or whether we should tell our daughter they will have to wait to marry until they can support themselves. We would like your opinion on this question. I can't give an opinion on this matter as it affects your daughter because I don't know either the girl, the young man or either set of parents. Such a plan might work out well for one young couple and give another young couple the idea that their parents will always be there to fall back on. This is a matter the six of you will have to decide for yourselves. But I will say this - I don't think you have any responsibility for subsidizing a marriage between two young people who have three years of schooling still ahead of them. Having to wait a while to be married never hurt any young couple who are really in love. And a marriage, supported by parents, isn't really a complete marriage.

Hoe Down

The purpose of pruning roses is to put the energy of the plant into those branches and buds or eyes which can best use it. If you would have high quality and continuous bloom - learn how and when to prune. For a good job of pruning certain items of equipment will be needed. Heavy gloves, pruning shears (scissor type with two cutting edges), a sharp picket knife, keyhole saw and some sort of wood protectant are essential. The time for pruning varies greatly depending on climate and other factors, and one of the greatest mistakes is to prune too early. Do not prune in the Fall nor before the last freeze in Spring. The habit of most roses is that new growth starts at the top of the cane and gradually sends out growth from eyes farther down on the plant. If frost damages these first breaks no permanent harm is done as this portion can be cut away in the final pruning. But when you prune quite hard the lower buds are forced into growth too soon and are liable to be damaged by frost. This results in retarding the plant and lessening its vigor for the coming summer or even killing it, as it does not have any reserve supply of food left on which to draw. The "whackers" who advocate hard pruning tell you to prune your roses to the nub to get exhibition blooms. But after much experimenting and observation the authorities say that high pruning will give a greater number of better quality blooms than low pruning! The larger the bush, the bigger, more shapely, more highly colored, longer stems and more numerous the bloom. The plant has spent all the previous year manufacturing food, much of which is stored during the dormant season in the canes. Consequently, the more of the sound, healthy wood we remove from our plants by hard pruning the more we are robbing our roses of the food they need to get off to a good start in the spring. Proper pruning is simply removing superfluous twigs and branches from the bush. Hybrid Teas and all varieties in which Tea blood is dominant resent hard pruning. All that is needed is to open the center of the plant by removing all in-growing or dead or diseased wood and twiggy growth. Thin out two-thirds of the top growth (the area, and not the height). All pruning cuts should be made on a slant and one-fourth inch above the eye pointing in the direction the new shoot is to grow, usually a way from the center of the plant. This is to keep the center of the plant open to the sun and for circulation of air. Leave two to four healthy canes two-thirds of their original height and paint all wounds with some protectant such as orange shellac, paraffin or pure white lead. Polyantha, Hybrid Polyanthas, or Floribunda roses usually have China blood dominant in their makeup and tend to throw many thinned rather than pruned. However, if these plants are to be used as a low border they may be cut as low as six or eight inches from the ground. Whacking will cut down the quantity of bloom you would otherwise have. To prune Rambler type roses such as Dorothy Perkins, American Pillar, etc., remove all three-year old wood or any weak or diseased two-year old wood. Do not trim or cut back any canes which grew this past year as these are the ones that produce the bloom. Climbing Hybrid Teas and Large Flowered Climbers require very little pruning. Most of these are sports of bush roses with Tea blood dominant and will revert to a bush if hard pruned. Then again others will start growing wilder instead of blooming if you prune them severely. Merely shorten laterals or branches but not canes. Of course basal canes. These types should be if there is diseased or dead wood you will remove it and paint all wounds. On extra heavy strong growers remove all but two or three of the better branches or laterals on a single cane, and remember to always prune to a plump outside eye pointing in the direction you wish the branch to grow. When great roses do not perform satisfactorily for their owners it is often because of thoughtless hard pruning. In moderately mild climates most Hybrid Teas can be built up into large plants often the size of pillar roses when properly grown and judiciously pruned, thus increasing the quantity of roses from the larger plants. Roses do not need to be coddled - just give them a chance to grow.

CWS Rushes Aid To Victims Of New Floods In Far East

(Special to The News)

NEW YORK — Large supplies of clothing, food and medicines contributed by American Protestants — bulwarked by $30,000 in emergency relief funds — have been rushed into two new Far East disaster areas where torrential rains and resulting floods have swept away homes and belongings of more than 80,000 persons.

Announcement of the new disasters — one north of Lahore in West Pakistan, the other in the Han River area on the outskirts of Seoul, Korea — and of the immediate action taken by the churches to aid the thousands of afflicted was made yesterday by Dr. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, National Council of Churches, at CWS office, 215 Fourth Ave., New York City.

The immediate action through Church World Service to relieve hunger and suffering was made possible, Dr. Wilson said, by the stores of clothing contributed through the American churches, foods provided from U.S. surplus stocks and by the CWS Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) and through monies given in response to the One Great Hour of Sharing and other similar appeals of the 35 major Protestant denominations for which Church World Service acts cooperatively.

In West Pakistan more than 800 villages were devastated, affecting 13,000 families, following a 16 inch rain earlier this month which caused rivers to break their banks and inundate a wide area, Dr. Wilson said.

All available reserve stocks of food, clothing and vitamins were immediately sent into the flood zone by CWS representative Dwight Swartzendruber, acting in cooperation with the West Pakistan Christian Council. All of these having been depleted, an emergency relief fund of $5,000 has been sent through Church World Service for expenditure for additional relief materials, particularly food and drugs to prevent epidemic diseases induced by malnutrition and exposure.

The West Pakistan lands devastated, Dr. Wilson reported, were similarly water-swept in 1956 and '57, and it is feared that the new floods may affect the Friedel Pateland reclamation project in that area.

In the Korean flood disaster, characterized as the worst in 25 years, shack homes of more than 15,000 Han River refugees were completely demolished and swept away.

In addition to immediate material relief with supplies on hand, an emergency grant of $25,000 has been cabled to care for any additional immediate needs and to enable the erection of 80 permanent concrete-block, multi-unit dwellings to house the flood victims.

Wayland Choir Is Preparing For The Road

(Special to The News)

PLAINVIEW — The 46 voice Wayland Baptist College International A Cappella Choir is rehearsing daily for its first tour of the 1958-59 season which is highlighted by an appearance at the State Fair of Texas on Oct. 9, according to Don J. Adams, director.

This trip will also include appearances at First Baptist Church, Vernon; First Baptist Church, Grand Prairie; Seymour High School; and First Baptist Church, Ralls.

At the State Fair of Texas, the Wayland choir will sing at 1 p.m., Oct. 9, in the Garden Center, as part of the Higher Education in Texas emphasis that is being made for the first time on such a wide scale.

The first stop on the tour will be Wednesday night, Oct. 8, at First Baptist Church, Vernon, for the mid-week service, Thursday night, Oct. 9, will find them at First Baptist Church, Grand Prairie, where the church choir will act as host. Following the musical program, the Wayland students will have charge of a youth fellowship at the invitation of Dr. J. H. Wright, pastor. On the return journey, the Wayland singers will have a noonday stop at Seymour High School, where they will sing and have lunch with the high school students. That evening they will appear at First Baptist Church, Ralls, and return to the campus following the concert.

Dr. Carver To Bring Messages

Dr. Douglas Carver will bring the message at both worship services of the Pampa First Baptist Church Sunday. During the 11 a.m. worship hour his sermon will be "Spending a Night With Jesus" based on John 1:35-40. During the 7:30 p.m. service his sermon topic will be "The Pragma Test" based on John 8:45-51.

Special music during the morning service will be presented by the choir singing "Glorious In Excelsis" by Mozart and the men's quartet will sing "What's the News," which is also the number this quartet will sing during the State Brotherhood Convention in Dallas. Special music during the evening service will be presented by the choir singing "It Took A Miracle." Offertories during the morning services will be played by Miss Eloise Lane, organist, and an "Andante Religioso" by Thome and "Ave Verum" by Mozart. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. and Training Union begins at 6:30 p.m.

Sunday will see the annual promotion of all departments in Sunday School and Training Union. One new Sunday School department will be the Junior age boys and girls will be started along with several new classes in various departments. Two new departments will be started in Training Union, one for the junior age boys and girls and another for Married Young People. A large attendance is expected in both Sunday School and Training Union.

The chapel choir will have its first rehearsal of this season Sunday at 5 p.m. The Training Union directors will meet at 6 p.m. in Bob Stroble's office.

Monday evening at 8:30 the Training Union will have its monthly council supper. A supper will be served at the beginning and department meetings will follow.

The men's quartet from the church will leave Monday to sing for the State Brotherhood Convention in Dallas. This quartet is composed of Joe Whitten, director, Paul Barrett, Dr. N. J. Ellis, and J. R. Stroble. Mr. Stroble will also assist in a conference for pastors and educational directors. Wednesday the closing session of "Preparation Week" will be held at 7:45 p.m. Officers and teachers meetings will precede this class session at 7 p.m.

Wednesday morning at 9:30 the Women's Missionary Union of the church will have their installation of new officers and a Royal Service program.

The Business Women's Circle of the church will have its regular monthly dinner meeting at 8:45 p.m. Thursday.

Dr. Burford Hands Over ACC Chorus

(Special to The News)

ABILENE — Dr. Leonard Burford, founder and director of the Abilene Christian College A Cappella Chorus, is handing over the chorus direction to Vernon W. Moody, instructor of music at the College.

The chorus, founded by Dr. Burford in 1932 is believed to be the second oldest such group in Texas. Increased enrollment at ACC and growth of the Music Department has caused Dr. Burford to devote full time to being head of the Department and teaching piano and voice.

Dr. Burford holds the B.A. from ACC and the M.A. and Ed. D. degrees from Columbia University, once came to ACC in the fall of 1957 from North Texas State where he received the B.M. and Master of Music Education degrees.

ACC Will Have Three Groups At Texas State Fair

(Special to The News)

ABILENE — Three groups from Abilene Christian College will participate in activities at the Texas State Fair in Dallas in October.

These organizations are the ACC A Cappella Chorus, The Concert Band, and a dramatics group.

The A Cappella Chorus, a group of some 45 mixed voices, will be under the direction of Vernon W. Moody. The chorus will present both religious and secular numbers.

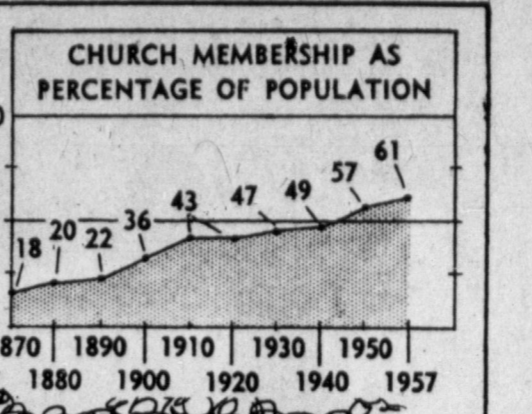

The A Cappella Chorus will appear at the Dallas Garden Center, Tuesday, October 14 at 3 p.m.

The 78-member Abilene Christian College Concert Band will be directed by Douglas Fry. The band will present a program of varied numbers, including marches, more serious works and selections from current Broadway musicals including "Music Man." The band will appear at the Hall of State Plaza at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 14.

A dramatics group composed of members of the ACC M.E.W.P. and Players, will present "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." They will give three productions of it at Theatre 58 on Wednesday, October 15 at 2, 4 and 9 p.m. Dr. Gaylen Collier will direct the production.

CHURCHES IN AMERICA

Over 104 million Americans — an estimated 61 per cent of the population — were listed as members of churches and synagogues in 1957. So reports the National Council of Churches, an interfaith organization embracing 33 constituent communions, in its latest Yearbook of American Churches. This percentage is the second highest on record (62 per cent in 1956) and nearly double that at the turn of the century. Chart above shows some of the figures connected with the council's Bureau of Research and Survey, covering 255 church bodies in this country. One difficulty in assembling membership figures is the fact that churches use different methods of counting, some including all baptized infants and others only those who have sought and attained membership. Besides membership rise, there were increases in Sunday School enrollment, contributions and new church construction, the latter at an all-time high of $68 million dollars.

Prize Film Opens Here Wednesday

The prize winning documentary "Albert Schweitzer" will open Wednesday at the LaNora Theater for a two day run, sponsored by the United Church Women of Pampa. Tickets are now on sale and will be available at the box office on the days of performance.

The film has collected some prize notices in its circuit such as the one by Archer Winsten of the New York Post. "Beyond the power of critical words to assess," Winsten conceded.

"Albert Schweitzer" is the first feature length film of a great man's life, featuring the man himself. Schweitzer's words though spoken by actor Frederick March are his own and he is seen working among the lepers at Lambaré, French Equatorial Africa.

A word about Schweitzer: Few can equal his career either for genius or sacrifice. And the question arises, what sort of man is this who can turn his back on very present glory to risk obscurity as a medical missionary. Through Schweitzer's words and actions, the film answers this question.

The United Church Women at the study clubs are selling tickets at 40 cents for students and 60 cents, adults. Box office prices will be student 60¢, adult, 75¢.

Ike Will Partake In Election

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said Thursday that President Eisenhower will take a major part in the forthcoming congressional election campaign, including a speaking trip to the West and Middle West.

At the same time, Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN also disclosed a GOP plan to enlist the political support of the more than 15 million "senior" citizens over 65 years old. ALCORN said it has the President's "very enthusiastic approval."

Major political speeches by the President were scheduled for Oct. 20 in Los Angeles, Oct. 21 in San Francisco and Oct. 22 in Chicago.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters, following a long huddle between the President and ALCORN, that "These three dates are not going to be the only ones."

The White House was not ready to announce it, but the President reportedly was considering one or more major political appearances in the East with his choice involving Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

Hagerty said such details as this remained to be worked out later, possibly including one or more nationwide television campaign speeches by the President.

ALCORN said plans were well under way for organizing "senior Republican clubs" as a counterpart of the young Republican organizations, but aimed at luring the political support from the large age-group of persons 65 and over.

Sunday Will Be Special Day At First Methodist

Sunday will be Rally Day and Promotion Sunday at the Pampa First Methodist Church. "John, the Apostle of Love" will be the sermon topic discussed by Woodrow Adcock at the two morning services. The 8:30 a.m. service is broadcast over Radio Station KPDN. The special music for this service will be the anthem, "The Lord's Prayer" by Williams sung by the Carol and Wesley Choirs. The 10:55 special music will be the anthem, "Psalm 150" by Franck sung by the Sanctuary Singers.

"From Words to Experience" will be the subject Rev. Adcock will use for the Sunday night service at 7:30. The special music will be the anthem, "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn sung by the MYF Singers.

The following activities are scheduled for the coming week: Sunday, Rally Day and Promotion Sunday; 8:30 a.m. Worship in the Sanctuary and Broadcast over KPDN; 9:45 a.m. Church School Classes; 10:55 a.m. Worship in the Sanctuary; 6 p.m. Methodist Sunday Evening Fellowship; 6:30 p.m. Adult Bible Study; 7 p.m. MYF Choir; 7:30 p.m. Worship in the Sanctuary; 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. MYF "Afterglow." Monday: 8:15 p.m. Fishermen's Club; 7 p.m. Troop 80; Tuesday: 10 a.m. Kindergarten Choir; 2:30 p.m. WSCS Circles; 4 p.m. Carol and Wesley Choirs; 7 p.m. Commissions meet; 8 p.m. Official Board. Thursday: 4 p.m. Primary Choir; 7:30 p.m. Sanctuary Choir; Friday: 7:30 p.m. Harrah Class Party. Saturday, 11 a.m. Bell Choir.

Priest Slates Radio Message

"Reality and Formality" will be the message theme for Sunday's Soul Winner Broadcast. Delbert Priest has announced. The program is broadcast at 7:45 a.m. Sundays over KPDN.

The LaSars Assembly of God Church, of which Priest is pastor, will begin a revival meeting Oct. 5.

India has more than 225 languages and dialects, with 24 major tongues being used by 96 per cent of its population.

Vacancies May Be Filled By Pope

By ERNEST SAKLER
United Press International

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The appointment of the Most Rev. Albert J. Meyer as archbishop of Chicago stirred fresh predictions Thursday of a consistory in which Pope Pius XII would fill the 15 vacancies in the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Magr. Meyer, at 5 the youngest archbishop in the United States, would be one of at least four Americans likely to be considered for the red hat of cardinalship, are Magrs. Richard J. Cushing, John F. O'Hara and Joseph E. Ritter.

The Pope announced appointment of Msgr. Meyer as archbishop of the largest U.S. archdiocese Wednesday, four months almost to the day from the death of the previous Chicago archbishop, Samuel Cardinal Stritch.

3 U.S. Cardinals

Stritch's death in a Rome clinic May 27 reduced the numbers of the sacred college to 55 members, 15 below its statutory full complement of 70. It left only 3 American cardinals, Francis Spellman of New York, Edward Mooney of Detroit and James McIntyre of Los Angeles.

Although Msgr. Meyer's appointment as Chicago archbishop did not automatically imply a red hat, Chicago has had a cardinal, ever since the late George Mundelein was raised to the sacred college in 19-4.

Other American archbishops which are without a cardinal now but which have had one in recent years are Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis. The archbishops of those cities, all of whom were likely to be at least considered Dallas (UPI) — University of Texas geologist Dr. Peter T. Flawn has indicated there may be an undiscovered oil and gas field along the margins of a buried mountain range in Texas.

Speaking at a meeting of the Dallas Geological Society, Flawn said the buried range is the Quachita structural belt, a continuation of the rugged Quachita Mountains of Arkansas and Oklahoma.

He said the belt runs from the Red River, Lamar and Bowie counties in northeast Texas, southwest into Central Texas, curving northwest and then into West Texas.

Flawn said recent discovery of a big gas field along the northern margin of the Ouachita structural belt in Terrell county (West Texas) has sparked interest in similar areas along the Ouachita belt in the Val Verde, Kerr and Fort Worth basins to the east.

He said there is now no commercial production in Texas from the Ouachita belt because it is difficult to locate prospects by geological or geophysical means.

It is "the largest unexplored trend in Texas," Flawn said.

Dallas Will Hold Downtown Rites On Day Of Prayer

DALLAS (UPI) — Dallas county has an unusual observance planned for the National Day of Prayer proclaimed for Tuesday, Oct. 1, by President Eisenhower.

Four blocks in the heart of Dallas' downtown business district will be roped off and a 30-minute inter-faith meeting held, Eugene McElvany, chairman of the Dallas county observance, has announced.

In a telegram to Eisenhower, observance leaders said: "We plan to make it one of the most unusual programs of its kind to be held anywhere in the country. Business and civic leaders of the three faiths — Protestant, Catholic and Jew — will join as brothers to seek divine guidance through the wonderful instrument of prayer."

Hospital Is Made Of Old Hotel

MENARD, Tex. (UPI) — Citizens of this Hill Country city of 2,000 persons have converted "a four-story tombstone to a dead town" into its first hospital.

The 20-bed hospital in the former Bevans Hotel building opened last Wednesday, 24 hours ahead of schedule, to accommodate an ill traveler.

Before the day was out, the hospital had a second patient when 8-year-old Mary Lynn Yarborough came in with a broken arm.

Scheduled for opening Oct. 1 in the same building is a 40-bed retirement home.

The hospital and retirement home will be operated by the Texas Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists on lease from Menard county.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Elder R. A. Jenkins
Pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church

"THE FAMILY ALTAR"

Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know Thee not, and upon the families that call not on Thy name. Jeremiah 10:25

It is man's chief duty and greatest privilege to worship God. Individual, personal communion with Him is of supreme importance. Equally important is it that families engage regularly in worship and prayer. The balance wheel of our home life is pivoted on the morning watch and the evening worship. There should be a prayer altar in every home. The influence of these brief moments spent at the family altar generates affection between each of us, cushions the rough experiences, and inspires through the day. It strengthens the love that binds husband, wife, and children together. It draws us closer to God.

Realizing man's great need in this solemn hour in which we live Jesus said, "Watch ye therefore and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the son of man." Luke 21:36 God blesses those who spend some time with Him each day. The often repeated slogan is so true which says, "The family that prays together stays together."

"I've never known divorce to break a home
Where man and woman pray,
Kneeling together by their fireside
At close of day,
Or reading in the early morning there
God's Word to help them through
The hours ahead.
I have never known divorce
To break such home, have you?
A man and woman and their children
Side by side, heeding God's Word,
Are truly fortified."

Harvesters Host El Paso Bowie, 8 p.m.

Rick Pezdirtz

purely paydirt

If these baby blue eyeballs have dulled their glimmer. If these shaggy locks suddenly show a bald spot. If we no longer skip-to-milou on the way to the candy store, then you must realize the melancholy days have come, saddest of the ever-loving year.

Ain't nothing a citizen in this typewriter dodge had rather do than pick football games, unless its wrestle a tiger on a tight wire over the Grand Canyon once after each meal. But, having freshly run out of tigers, we must hereby embark upon another cruel week. We jest, of course. It really hasn't been so bad. Not unless you call picking a stinkin' 26 right and missing on 21 other games. You can throw in a tie for last week too. Just show us any toothless six-months old girl who couldn't do better!

There was of course that glorious 13-1-1 week before last. It's kept us from falling below the drabby .500 mark. The season's sawed-off limb has us at .639 going into another frightening week. The record stands 46-26-2. Phew!

The smart lads are flipping coins over the Pampa-El Paso Bowie wrestling match this eve. We're just flipping.

With the thought that the Harvesters may be sick of losing, we lean shakily toward a Pampa win, then jump back in bed, and tug the covers over this battered old head.

Like the marine said: Who wants to live forever? Just happen to have the answer right here. We do.

The 3-AAAA Selections

Last week we were only 4-3 with District 3-AAAA games. Thanks, Monterey for being idle. It could have been even worse. How!

This week it's:
Amarillo 16, San Angelo 14... the Bobcats are rated as high as 4th in the state, but the Sandies are at home.
Arlene 26, Monterey 22... who ever heard of the Eagles losing two in a row.
Palo Duro 29, Carter-Riverside

Area Pickins

The area games were our best friends last week, but nothing to yip about. We were 7-4-1.
This week it's:
Lefors 37, Wellington 0... its Homecoming time in Pirate land.
White Deer 38, Shamrock 13... the Bucks snort.
Canadian 14, Stinnett 13... the home field advantage.

SWC Forecast

In the Southwest Conference last week we were a poor 2-3. But, when you wasn't stuffed with the 15-14 Texas Tech win over A&M. De Witt Weaver, maybe.
This week it's:
Iowa 22, TCU 14... the classy Horned Toads mistreated in Corn Country.
Ohio State 17, SMU 13... Don Meredith hasn't got the soup none warmed up yet.
Rice 26, Stanford 7... the Owls hoot.
A&M 21, Houston 12... the Cats bounce back.
Arkansas 12, Tulsa 0... so do the Razorbacks.
 Baylor 29, Hardin Simmons 3... Bears mau Cowboys.
Texas 22, Tulane 0... Longhorns do better in New Orleans this time.
Texas Tech 35, West Texas State 7... Red Raiders rock-roll at home.

Phillips Lowers Boom On Shockers In 30-6 Scramble

The Phillips High Blackhawk B-team took advantage of its third straight District 3-AAAA B-squad at Harvester Stadium here Thursday night, nicking the Pampa High Shockers, 30-6.

Phillips had previously licked Palo Duro's B's, 26-0, and Tascosa's reserves, 16-6.

The Pampa Shockers, however, were up against a much tougher club than either Palo Duro or Tascosa faced, since several of the Phillips varsity reserves were in the lineup here due to the Blackhawk varsity's open date this week.

The loss leveled the Shockers' season record at 1-1. They sped past Perryton, 19-12, two weeks ago in their season opener before enjoying an open date last week. Playing in ideal football weather, Pampa marched with the opening kickoff a couple yards into Elackhawk territory before punting. Phillips went to work almost immediately through the sky, setting up their first TD with a neat 30-yard aerial, scoring on a ten yard pass and adding the two-point conversion via the air-lines for an 8-0 edge at the end of the first period.

Another pass, on a fourth down and five situation on the Pampa 21 netted the scrappy Phillips crew a second quarter score and still another aerial brought the two conversion points for a 16-0 lead. The Shockers of Bird Dog Trice and Deck Woldt then put their noses to the grind stone, narrow-

Out Of The Past

Whatever Happened To... —GUY BUSH— United Press International

Guy Bush, a right-handed pitcher known as "The Mississippi Mudcat," stayed in the National League for 16 seasons ending in 1938. He even came back for a war-time twirl in 1945 with Cincinnati but with little success. Bush, out of Aberdeen, Miss., put in 12 seasons with the Cubs starting in 1923 and there achieved his greatest stature, winning a total of 87 games in one three-year span including a 20-12 record in 1923. All told, he won 176 and lost 136. In the 1929 World Series against the Athletics he scored the only Cub victory. Whatever happened to Guy Bush? Now 53, long the proprietor of a string of gasoline stations in Chicago, he is doing public relations work for a sporting goods retailer in Chicago.

TWO OF THREE — Brothers have headlined Pampa High football tradition for many years, and lending to the family ties this year are brothers Harold Stokes, left, and Larry Stokes, right. Harold, a junior, will start at a defensive end tonight against Bowie High's Bears of El Paso. Larry, a senior, is ticketed for reserve duty at tackle. Another of the Stokes brothers, Alton is a center with the Pampa B-team. Alton is a sophomore.

Bufs Bump Off Reapers By 28-0

AMARILLO — The Harace Mann Junior High Buffaloes put one touchdown a quarter on the scoreboard here Thursday afternoon in a damp football clash with Pampa's Junior High Reapers, and that was enough.
The big Buff line never faltered, holding tight at all times, and the visiting Reapers of Coach Gene Chance and David Kelly absorbed a sound 28-0 spanking.
Terry Morton paced the Amarillo attack, scoring twice and also running over a conversion for half of the winners' points.
Morton bulled his way for a conversion after Lonnie Thomas had sped seven yards for a first period Horace Mann tally. In the second stanza, Morton sprinted 14 yards for the No. 2 Buffalo TD, giving the home club a 14-0 half-time grip.
In the third quarter, quarterback Randy Clark scored on a keep play from five yards out and then ran over the two-point conversion himself.
Morton brought the crown to their feet in the final canto when he took a handoff and breezed around end, swivel-hipped two tacklers out of position, broke into the clear and outran the Pampa pursuit to the goal line. The play covered 81 yards.
The Reapers' deepest drive of the afternoon came in the third period, and only then reached the Buff 28.
Guard Danny Mahaney played a sterling defensive game before suffering a wrist injury. Also showing up good on defense for Pampa were tackles Danny Mathus and Corky Godfrey, and fullback John Arthur.
Halfback Gerald Been was the only consistent ground gainer for the Pampa juniors all afternoon.
The Reapers travel to Borger next Thursday to open Panhandle Junior High Conference competition.

Pampa Boxers Set For Meet

First bout competition for the Pampa Boys Club boxing team has been set for Oct. 8 in a four-team tournament at Amarillo, coach Ollie Wilhelm announced Thursday night.
"We'll have at least one boy entered in each weight division," Wilhelm said of the upcoming gloves tournament. Rounding out the four team meet will be punchers from Clovis, N.M., Amarillo, and Borger. Wilhelm said a few boxers from Plainview and Levelland may also enter the meet.
Winners of the Oct. 8 matches will return to face each other in the finals on Oct. 15. Both boxing dates are Wednesdays. The losers from the Oct. 8 bouts will also square off in consolation title events on Oct. 15.
The Amarillo team which will host the meet at the Amarillo Sports Arena is the Eastside Club, coached by Jeff Underwood, a West Texas State Journalism student who works for the Amarillo Globe-News. Underwood boxed under Wilhelm several years ago while the latter was living at Clinton, Okla.
Wilhelm, said his Pampa boxers were working out in a pair of sessions every Tuesday through Saturday, from 4 to 6 p.m. and after supper a couple hours.

Pampa Hoping To Cut Off Bear Passing For 1st Win

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Sports Editor
Don't stop the world and let the Pampa High Harvesters off. They're figuring on cutting down the invading El Paso Bowie Bears here tonight, and that's just about the ticket for the determined young charges of Coach Babe Curtman to go scrambling to the top of the world.
Kickoff for both winless club's third game of the season comes at 8 p.m., Harvester Park.
"We've really worked good all week. It's been hard, but there've been no gripes. Yeah, three kids quit, but that happens to any team that's lost a few. It's not fun losing. The workouts are longer and tougher to take, but it's the men that stay with it from day to day. It's the guys who love football and want worse than anything to improve themselves and their team, who are out there every afternoon bumping heads and helping one another, and having a good time too."
That's the way Curtman summed up his young Harvester squad as they lie in wait for their first home tilt.
"We'll be content to go for the short yardage play all night if necessary, Babe commented, explaining that four yards at a crack would be satisfactory enough with him and his staff, Duain Lyon and Eural Ramsey.
"The idea with us from now on is going to be ball control. Did you realize we ran 44 plays in the second half last week at Fort Worth against Arlington Heights, and that doesn't count punts. We only had it for 21 plays in the first half. The same thing happened at Wichita Falls two weeks ago. We got out there and made good with our short-yardage game to control the ball most of the time in the second half," Curtman exclaimed.

The Harvesters don't have the big break-away threat many good teams use with devastating effectiveness.
In practice this week, the little time the Harvesters spent on grooming their defense to stop Bowie's talented passer, Hector Porras, young Terry Haralson was impressive with his broken-field running.
The junior, who leads the Pampa ground game through two games with 75 yards, will start his first varsity game tonight at left half.
"Haralson's learning not to try and run over the secondary man every time he breaks clear of the line," Curtman chuckled. "He's learning little footwork tricks every day."
Joining Haralson in the starting corner, Duain Urbanczyk, who's also been impressive in drills the past four days.
Buddy Rawls will open at quarterback and old reliable, Mert Cooper, will be stationed at his fullback post.
Clovis Shipp and Gary Willa have both been alternating between right half and fullback this week and are due to log plenty of playing time tonight.
Sherrill Miller has also been looking good as Haralson's understudy. Fullback Keith Yager, who suffered an injured ankle before the season opener at Wichita Falls will miss the game tonight, but may be ready to resume workouts next Monday.
Pampa's starting offensive line remains the same from the past two weeks with DeWayne Glover and Paul Brown at ends, Delbert Simmons and Jim Scott at tackles, Gary Matlock and Bailey Clements at guards and Dickie Watkins at center.
Seeing double duty with the defensive platoon are Glover at end, Scott at tackle, Watkins as a corner man, Simmons and Matlock at linebacking posts and Haralson and Rawls at halfbacks.
Specialists on defense are Benjie Stout at tackle, Harold Stokes at end, and Bobby Stephens as an outside linebacker or corner man.
Other players expected to see service with the defensive platoon are Richard Newberry, who has been shifted from left guard to left tackle; center Duke Garren at left linebacking post and Kent Mitchell, a junior, at left end.
Bowie returns 15 other lettermen besides Porras to this year's outfit from a club that was 4-5-1 last autumn.
The Bears that bear watching here tonight are Porras at quarterback along with Bobby Perez and Hector Holgun; ends Pete Chavez, Nolan Richardson, Gilbert Teyes and Robert Rodriguez; tackles Jorge Sanchez, Felipe Jordan and Rafael Robles; guards Edward DeBruhl and Ben Rodriguez; center Breunio Sepulveda; halfbacks Fred Hernandez, Bobby Rodriguez, and Eduardo Sanchez.
Yes, you might say the Bears have a few solid Spanish names on the club.
Their coach is Lou Robustelli, who claims his main strength lies in a balanced offense while his biggest weaknesses are a leaky defense and a lack of backfield speed.
The Bears, who run off the straight T and slot T formations, fell to Los Cruces, New Mexico, by a 35-14 score in their opener two weeks ago and then absorbed a 56-16 pasting at Phillips last week.
Tonight's tilt is the third consecutive road trip for the Bruins, and who is Pampa to break up a losing combination. Let the Bears win in their own home opener next week.

Rebels Win Again, 14-0

AMARILLO — The Robert E. Lee Junior High Rebels of Pampa may be a brand new football team, but they're using an old tool to make up grid victories in their first season together.
The Red and Grey of Coach Norman Phillips and Lester Ramsey are becoming firm believers that a good defense is the best offense.
The Rebels hung their second shutout win of the infant season on the scoreboard here Thursday afternoon in the rain and mud, slamming Sam Houston Junior High's Rangers, 14-0.
Last week the Rebels scored in the first quarter, through an ironwalled defense, and went on to clip Bowie Junior High in Amarillo, 8-0.
Here Thursday, Robert E. Lee scored again in the first quarter, marching 64 yards with the opening kickoff, and then added a second period tally, before settling down to serious defensive work.
Phillips cleared his 35-man bench in the second half, and still the solid defensive duty was given.
Dennis Mills, 135-pound right half, took a handoff from Quarterback Butch Crossland early in the initial stanza, and hit through a gaping hole at left tackle on the drive play. Ripping open the huge hole for Mills were guard Curtis Smith and tackle James Webb. Mills never stopped to catch his breath as he raced 31 yards to score.
Robby Robinson, the Rebel right half, tried the same hole with a

ROBT. E. LEE 8th GRADE WINS: 7th GRADERS FALL

Scores of 14-0 decided all three games played Thursday afternoon by Robert E. Lee Junior High teams.
Besides the Rebels' 14-0 win over Sam Houston Junior High in Amarillo, the Robert E. Lee 8th graders plastered a similar 14-0 setback on Borger at Harvester Stadium here while the school's 7th graders were suffering a 14-0 pinning on the Rebel practice field at the hands of Lefors.
The Rebel 8th graders scored in the first quarter with left half Jon Pitts taking a pitchout from quarterback Robert Pullin and dashing 16 yards around end to score. The same play, however, failed to click for the conversion.
The little Rebels came back from their 6-0 halftime lead to post another TD in the third with fullback Gordon Black circling right end from four yards out to put the finishing touches on a long 72-yard drive. Pitts picked up the two-point conversion on a dive play over left tackle for the 14-0 score.
Halfback Travis Tucker helped spearhead the 72-yard march.
Borger reached the Pampa 16 yard line early in the game, but a toughened defense led by tackles Jack McNeil and John Osborne, guards Wilburn Walls, John Brown and Carl Clark, and end Jerry

Thru Socialist Eyes

As we turn to the problem of communism or socialism in our midst, we must recognize at the outset that there is no geographic boundary that can be evoked for purposes of limiting the spread of any idea. The so-called "iron curtain" of Russia is not a curtain which represses ideas.

Mutual Gain

Behind the envy and the greed of the socialist banner lies the central thought. Those persons who have much, have acquired what they have at the expense of others. Let us examine this conclusion.

Is It A Constitution Or Is It A Sham?

"U. S. News & World Report" in their September 19 issue has a very clear summary of the statement made by 36 out of the 48 state chief justices on the question "Is It A Constitution Or Is It A Sham?"

David Lawrence, the Editor, in introducing the article, wrote the following:

"The question, 'Is it a constitution or is it a sham?' was asked at the Conference of State Chief Justices in a report approved last month by a vote of 36 to 8. It severely criticized recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"When the Chief Justices of three quarters of the States of the Union declare that the present Supreme Court is overstepping its bounds, such a pronouncement is well worth the attention of the American people.

"Because of the Supreme Court's ruling last week disregarding the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution, added significance attaches to the following excerpts from the conclusions reached by the 36 State Chief Justices."

Since he refers to the Tenth Amendment, it reads as follows: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

The summary follows: "We believe that in the fields with which we are concerned, and as to which we feel entitled to speak, the Supreme Court too often has tended to adopt the role of policy-maker without proper judicial restraint. We feel this is particularly the case in both of the great fields we have discussed — namely, the extent and extension of the federal power, and the supervision of State action by the Supreme Court by virtue of the Fourteenth Amendment.

But what we really want is wealth for ourselves. We convince ourselves that the man with more than we have, has obtained what he has at our expense. How sadly lacking is our understanding of the true nature of life and of material things on this planet if we succumb to these unworthy envies. Socialism, in all respects, is a theory based upon envy and greed. It is not, as is supposed, a means to offset envy and greed. It is, rather, a political and economic device which rewards the envious and the greedy and in the process impoverishes all.

But since we are convinced that the successful man of means has accomplished his success by villainy, it is a simple step to convince ourselves that if we wish to accomplish, we too should employ villainy. Believing that the man of wealth has what he has thru robbery and exploitation, we do not hesitate to call upon the government to act as exploiter and robber on our behalf.

We reason that what has been amassed thru villainy, can with moral justification be un-amassed thru villainy. What is wrong, we think, with taking from the capitalist thief that which is rightfully our own?

But now we are in the midst of socialist fallacy. To overcome these erroneous conclusions, knowledge is the one essential.

We will deal with these essentials in subsequent editorials.

Robert Allen Reports:

Ohio Political Pot Warms Slowly

Robert S. Allen is on vacation. During his absence, his column today is by a leading Ohio editor on the gubernatorial and senatorial battle in that strategic state.

By WAYNE JORDAN Editor, The Lorain Journal

There is no one in our view that the Court, in many cases arising under the Fourteenth Amendment, has assumed what seems to us primarily legislative powers. See Judge Learned Hand on the Bill of Rights. We do not believe that either the framers of the original Constitution or the possibly somewhat less gifted draftsmen of the Fourteenth Amendment ever contemplated that the Supreme Court would or should have the almost unlimited policy-making powers which it now exercises.

Republicans have been using the same tent-show approach that he used in 1956, when he beat DiSalle decisively and thus became the last in Ohio's long succession of governors elected to two-year terms.

At 11 picnics strategically staged on Ohio's map, Bill has fed the multitude and taken Joe Citizen's picture. It works this way: Joe Citizen and 10,000 or so of his compatriots are presented with "$2 tickets" to a picnic, although it is claimed that $2 rarely changes hands.

At the picnic, Joe — who may be genuinely hungry — is halted in his progression to the mass tent. His hand is shaken, then he receives a pack of postcards bearing the "me and Bill" picture, which he is privileged to mail to any friend or foe he can think of.

Mike DiSalle, the former Federal price stabilizer, has a county — to county political caravan, but no tents. Without free food for his followers, he has been asked where the money for the O'Neill show line is coming from.

Many Republicans have been asking that too, while complaining that Bill's picnics (which include free pony rides for the kids) were making a sorry spectacle out of both the GOP and the State of Ohio.

Mike says the O'Neill picnic provender has cost at least $200,000. Two Cleveland caterers have estimated that such fare would cost at least $2 a plate. The O'Neill caterer, however, insists it can be handled for as little as 85 cents per stomach in groups of 5,000 and over.

That figure is quoted for the following menu ("same as we have been serving Gov. O'Neill"): roast beef, baked ham, corned beef, salsami, assorted cheeses, baked beans, potato chips, coffee, cakes, relishes, bread and buns.

High or low, the state Republican organization does not pick up the tab (even though Bill did present the party with $25,000 worth of unpaid bills last summer as a legacy from the 1956 campaign). The picnics are strictly one-man shows, and other candidates on the GOP ticket are barred from any share of the limelight.

Some of his friendliest critics say that, since O'Neill can't possibly run on his record as governor, the "me and Bill" techniques are his only hope.

And, since certain of Ohio's district highway chiefs have admitted to bid the bite on contractors for "voluntary" contributions — a bid since such zealots have been told to sin no more — it will still be a good story when O'Neill or somebody else in the know reveals where all the money is coming from.

the fact that a senator is to be elected.

Bill O'Neill has been using the same tent-show approach that he used in 1956, when he beat DiSalle decisively and thus became the last in Ohio's long succession of governors elected to two-year terms.

At 11 picnics strategically staged on Ohio's map, Bill has fed the multitude and taken Joe Citizen's picture. It works this way: Joe Citizen and 10,000 or so of his compatriots are presented with "$2 tickets" to a picnic, although it is claimed that $2 rarely changes hands.

"Anyone wishing to speak like an expert on the Ohio scene at this juncture may unhesitatingly say such things as these:

What happens to Bill O'Neill in November will depend mainly on how much strength union labor can muster at the polls. Bill is in the AFL-CIO doghouse because of his attitude toward Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB).

Looking Sideways

By Whitney Bolton

NEW YORK — Love letter to a red-haired actress.

It seems to me I haven't written one of these in a long time. Three years? About that. It isn't because I didn't want to — or think of it. I did both. But the last three years have been plaguing, busy years, with both of us scrabbling for time. Time for this, time for that. Just time. You had two TV series, then the play, then the road tour, then girls into their teens. Time became a jewel that was lost and had to be found. It seems to me that time has been a black witch riding me for a broomstick, too.

We did get in two summers in Mexico; long, casual, wonderful summers, without blueprint or itinerary or even reservations most of the time. The last circumstance led to the best. We wound up in odd, little-known places talking to warm-hearted, simple, beautiful people untouched by tourists or tensions. The Indian Indians in the middle of the rugged wracking Isthmus of Tehuantepec. No one there had many clothes, and they wore the least possible of the ones they had. They spoke Zapotec, and Spanish was incomprehensible to most of them. But they received us, gave us shelter, exclaimed over a camera, passed shivering fingers over the polished fenders of a station wagon and broke into grins of pure delight when I showed them an electrically operated tailgate window. One or two, as naked as their birth moment, but tall, stalwart and filled with friendship, had tears in their eyes when we left. They pressed folded hands to their foreheads in farewell. We did the same. I often wondered and still do if such communication the world around might not prevent wars and turmoil and chaos. A little roof, a little food, much love.

We talked of Herman Cortez when we left them and plowed through the mud and rocks of the Isthmus to Tehuantepec itself. I said the little anarchist, the little pouter pigeon with the matches always ready in his pocket, had a lot to answer for in murdering and destroying such lovely human beings. You said that was the way of conquest and it was an ugly way and not even now, 400 years later, had humanity learned any better.

We talked of the time we had had together. The years piling up and the girls growing up. We spoke frankly of the tough times and simply of the good times. I remembered a day when we had $1.07 and owned $4.00. You said: "Oh, well, it has turned out. I think no one can taste or see or feel until such time has been lived. Two people must come near to the bottom of things in order to look up and see the golden hue of the peaks."

I am proud of them and the way in which they do it, as I am proud of you for what you do and how well you do it. The sum of a human being is that he or she contributes something to his time, however modest, instead of marring and defiling his time. Great heroes do not abound, nor do shimmering heroines. But beings doing their best under the circumstances of their times, are the real heroes and heroines in the end. If this sounds a little dewy of me, so be it. I feel this for you and them.

And now we have come to a full 15 years of marriage, in a marriage that was by our closest friends given not more than six months to last. I have tried you painfully at times. I must have seemed strange and bewildering to you. But you have given me a steadfast loyalty and a sort of easy way of living, a conviction that you were with me and there was good reason to protect and keep the relationship. I don't suppose there is much more to marriage than that. Loyalty, reason, concern, affection.

For all of it in all its forms and ways, I thank you. I was nothing at all until I met you.

Ah! For An Easy Folding Road Map

By HENRY McLEMORE

The first oil company that comes up with a new and easily handled road map is going to be so popular that its filling stations will be able to sell kerosene for high-test and get away with it, charge for air, and make the patrons do their own windshield scrubbing.

To those of you who have been reading my column for ten years or more, my mistress over road maps is nothing new. You will remember that on more than one occasion I have worked myself into such a stitch over them, that I have had to abandon an auto trip when half-way to where I was going and place myself under the care of a roadside physician.

With a transcontinental trip coming up shortly, I stopped at a filling station a few days ago and asked for a batch of maps. Not having taken a long trip by car for several years, I was sure that American know-how had improved road maps, and that I would be given some which did not require a professional parachute folder to undo, and put back together again, and a skilled contortionist to hold when spread out.

But I was mistaken. The maps of today are the same as they were two years ago, which means they are identical with the ones issued 25 years ago.

I do not know the name of the man who invented the road map, but he had a touch of madness in him. Completely sane, he could never have thought out all the layers into which one is folded. No bigger than a man's handkerchief when folded, they balloon out like a peacock's tail, and I defy any driver to read one whole moving along the highway. He'll wind up in a ditch if he does.

No motorist in his right mind ever tries to refold a road map except once. Once is enough. And if they aren't folded correctly they become as bulky as a two-dollar order of buckwheat cakes. There was a time when the used road map could be checked out the window, but no more. The anti-litter laws have put a stop to that.

Now you have to keep them, and after a few States have been crossed there are bales of them in the back seat, fluttering their wings against the windows in a mad attempt to escape.

The mileage figures on road maps are as cunningly placed as if there were a grand prize for the man or woman who could first figure out the distance between two points.

Road maps show too many roads. No one but a bank robber could ever want to use of those little blue, blood vessels of a road that run every which way. Most of them lead to places where beads and gingham are still the medium of exchange. I am sure they are put on there purely to make the user think the oil company went to a lot of trouble surveying.

The day will come when road maps will be obsolete. It is my guess that some day the cities that people request will be connected by heavy, brightly colored string, which motorists will be able to follow.

New York to Chicago — a good, stout yard of yellow.

Dallas to Los Angeles — the same, only in red.

Miami to New Orleans — an ochre ribbon.

There'll be no getting lost then, no bending under the dash light, peering at a map half as big as a county, and seeing nothing.

It's a good thing I am not on a trip at the moment. I'd have to pull off the road until I cooled off.

The Doctor Says:

Dr. Edwin P. Jordan

The biggest reason for the improved life expectancy today over that of 50 years ago is the result of the decline in deaths from the so-called childhood diseases.

This in turn is largely the result of protective inoculations or vaccinations. They have increased the resistance of millions of children to some of the most serious killers of the past. We cannot afford to let down these barriers.

Most children are given several of the vaccinations they need in the first months or years of life. Many of them, in order to insure continued protection, should be repeated one or more times during the school age period.

Furthermore, new developments continue to occur. It may be that some youngsters of college age did not receive the toxoid injections against tetanus or lockjaw which are now so commonly given to small children and therefore could profit by them.

Vaccination against smallpox is usually done within the first six months after birth. After this vaccination, immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus (lockjaw) are often given.

Certainly no one should forget today the desirability of immunizing against polio. It has been a disappointment that more have not availed themselves of this preventive measure. Anyone who has ever seen a person crippled with this disease would make sure that all members of the family under 40 were protected against it.

In this connection I might add that recently a preliminary study has been published involving the possibility of combined immunization against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. The early results of such a method look promising.

Today there is a tendency to give many of these protective immunizations earlier and earlier. All of them, including smallpox, should be repeated in the later years of childhood to reinforce the resistance.

Among other possible immunizations is that against typhoid fever. This is a germ disease usually contracted from contaminated water, milk, fruits or vegetables. If a person is going to some part of the world where the sanitation is poor, inoculation against typhoid, and possibly other diseases, may be desirable.

The advice of the physician who takes care of the child from birth should be followed regarding what inoculations to take and when to give them.

Latin Warn Long Range US Aid Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Latin American foreign ministers have warned that the Communist economic challenge demands positive new action by the United States to help combat underdevelopment in the Western Hemisphere.

But they pointed out that what is needed is a sustained, long-range program and not emergency action. The warning was sounded at a two-day meeting of the foreign ministers of the 20 Latin American republics and the United States.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, speaking at a formal dinner which opened the meeting, said he had the ministers, echoed the sentiment when he said: "Some have said that we are meeting under good auspices; others have denied it. Let us be frank about it. We are meeting under adverse circumstances. There are trouble spots everywhere in the world, and there are trouble spots right here in our hemisphere, where the economic situation is not good."

The ministers met against a background of increasing willingness by the United States to give more vigorous support to the neighbor republics in their efforts to improve economic and social welfare.

President Eisenhower assured the ministers at a White House lunch Tuesday that their problems are receiving top-level U.S. attention.

The conference is planning to issue a statement later today expressing the determination of the 21 governments to strengthen the economic machinery of the Organization of American States through the establishment of a special committee. It will also call for more frequent informal meetings of the foreign ministers to closely follow economic progress, in line with a Colombian proposal.

The main task of the committee will be to study the sweeping development recommendations outlined in Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek's "Pan American Operation." It includes the creation of an inter-American bank, measures to deal with the instability of prices of raw materials, increased technical assistance and expanded private capital investments in underdeveloped lands.

HAS OWN TEST
DUNN, N. C. (UPI) — Police Chief A. C. Cobb has his own special sobriety test.

The screen door at headquarters opens from the right; the main door opens from the left. Any person suspected of being drunk is placed under arrest if he has trouble getting through the doors.

New Donna Reed TV Show Caters Around The Kids

Television in Review
By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)— ABC-TV's new "Donna Reed Show" bowed in Wednesday night. It's an orthodox situation comedy built around the family of a pediatrician.

The series has one principal asset: Miss Reed, an actress who happily combines Hollywood screen with cornfed wholesomeness.

Like almost all of TV's situation comedies, the new show is child-centered. Family comedies almost always pivot around the kids and with good reason: Mother and father aren't very interesting people. Their world is limited, circumscribed by their homes and jobs and a tight circle of neighbors who also lead lives of homes and jobs. It's all a kind of well-adjusted desperation.

The children, however, are mobile. They wander beyond set boundaries, get into scrapes, probe new emotions and generally, are not quite tamed.

Not Quite

But the trouble with centering 39 plots each season around kids is that they are not that interesting. As a result, after you've watched half-a-dozen situation comedies — complete with hack gags — you've seen them all.

The only lure left is watching the personalities. Jane Wyatt or Robert Young or Harriet Nelson or Donna Reed, a form of entertainment akin to bird-watching, although not quite as invigorating.

ABC-TV also unbottled its new "Patli Page Show." It was, in the main, a triumph for producer Ted Mills who managed to surmount the bland personality of Miss Page and turn out a charming half hour.

Particularly good was a "September Song" number that featured the chanting of Walter Pidgeon and the dancing of Melissa Hayden.

Too often on TV, production just clutter the delivery of music. But Wednesday night's camera and scenic effects reinforced the mood, adding another dimension. It's a show with possibilities.

A side note on Wednesday night surprise tribute to Steve Allen on NBC-TV's "This Is Your Life": Wednesday, Allen couldn't understand why he was unable to reach his wife, Jayne, in New York by telephone.

The reason—Jayne had sneaked into a Hollywood hotel under the name, "Jane Courtney."

Afraid that Allen might get wind of the tribute, a phony long-distance call was set up in which Jayne pretended she was speaking from Manhattan. It was quite obvious from Allen's astonishment Wednesday night that the ruse worked.

The Channel Swim: Dick Clark, a very hot property, may get another half-hour evening show on ABC-TV — Clark currently helms a Saturday night show and a daily daytime show on ABC-TV... Ludi Claire is adapting Thornton Wilder's novel, "Heavy's My Destination," for a future CBS-TV "Desilu Playhouse."

NBC-TV's "Jack Paar Show" is loaded with guests for its stay in Hollywood from Nov. 3 to 14: Bob Hope, Eddie Cantor, George Burns, Jerry Lewis, Liberace, Phil Harris, Ben Blue, Carol Channing, Meredith Wilson and Oscar Levant.

Steve Allen will star on ABC-TV's "Stars of Jazz" Oct. 2 ... CBS-TV is trying to reschedule Mary Martin's "Rodgers and Hart Songbook," a 60-minute special, for January or February — it's now listed for Dec. 12.

Milton Berle may originate one of his Wednesday night NBC-TV half-hours from Las Vegas — NBC-TV's "Bat Masterson" is trying to land Hugh "Wyatt Earp" O'Brien for a future episode ... Jackie McKeever and Syd Chaplin signed on for CBS-TV's "Wonderful Town" Nov. 30.

Hilltop Home On The Market

APALACHIN, N.Y. (UPI) — A fancy hilltop home that is famous for more than its lavishness or architecture is on the market here. It is the 58-acre estate of Joseph Barbara, and the site of the notorious "gangland convention" last Nov. 14.

The large fieldstone house, two tenant houses, stone-and-glass "banquet hall," stable, corral and carpeted garage is reported to be available for somewhere between $125,000 and $135,000. It is being offered for sale by Russell C. Terry, real estate agent in nearby Vestal, N.Y.

The home bounded into the news when state police broke up a convention of about 60 known hoodlums just as they were about to eat steaks fried at the 14-foot stone barbecue outside the summer house. The raid touched off state and federal investigations.

French Drive Set Following Sunday Voting

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle's government is preparing a drastic crackdown on Algerian rebels who have terrorized France during the past month, it was reported Thursday.

The drive to stamp out the Algerian underground is expected to start after next Sunday's referendum on De Gaulle's "strong-man" constitution.

Information Minister Jacques Soustelle in a speech Wednesday night called for political action against France's big Communist Party.

He urged an alliance of right, center and leftist parties to reduce the Communist's parliamentary strength "as much as possible" after the referendum and "prevent the Fifth Republic from sharing the fate of the Fourth."

Soustelle repeated charges of Communist "collusion" with the rebels.

The government will have to start making preparations for legislative elections, probably in November, soon after the referendum results are in.

In the 1956 elections, the Communists won one-fourth of the total vote and 150 of the 495 seats in the National Assembly.

The right-wing newspaper Aurore said De Gaulle would move against the terrorists under special powers granted him by the new constitution.

Other reports said the anti-terrorist plan calls for establishment of internment camps for suspected terrorists, rapid military trials for captured suspects and their accomplices and quick execution of sentences.

As many as 15,000 underground suspects would be herded into the internment camps, it was reported. There are about 300,000 Algerians living in France.

The Algerians launched their terrorist campaign in France a month ago in protest against the new constitution, which makes no provision for Algerian independence.

Since then, 12 Frenchmen were killed and 35 wounded by terrorist bullets.

Laredo Lawyer Files For Spot On Ballot

AUSTIN (UPI)— Laredo attorney William C. Wright has filed a brief seeking to have his name put on the Nov. 4 general election ballot as an independent candidate for district judge.

Wright contended in the brief filed with Secretary of State Zolie Steakley, that he had been relieved of any moral or legal obligation to support the Democratic nominee, E. James Kazen, now district attorney at Laredo.

He said he was "legally and morally entitled, if not obligated, to undertake his (Kazen's) defeat in any manner," as a result of statements made by Kazen against Wright's father, R. D. Wright, who is judge of the 49th judicial district.

Kazen defeated Judge Wright in the July 26 Democratic Primary.

The younger Wright alleged that Kazen had made charges of corruption against his father.

Wright said in view of Kazen's "unprofessional attacks... personal moral obligation of William C. Wright to undertake the defeat of E. James Kazen by any means available far transcends the objective moral obligation to support a successful nominee of a Democratic Primary."

Wright's brief pointed out he had voted in the July 26 Democratic Primary, but added that he had never been a candidate for public office and had never contributed to any political party.

Thus, he said, he is a "true independent" and entitled to certification as an independent candidate for the judgeship.

Steakley was expected to announce a decision later today, or tomorrow. Wright filed a petition last week with Steakley carrying the names of 486 eligible voters from Webb county, supporting his request to be listed as an independent candidate.

Gaylor Announces Letter Writing Week, Oct. 5-11

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Pampa during the week of October 5 to 11. Postmaster O. K. Gaylor has announced.

Twenty-one years ago, realizing the importance of written communication, the Post Office Department joined in the observance of an annual letter writing week — an event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a link between people throughout the world.

Postmaster Gaylor explained that by participating in both International Letter Writing Week and National Letter Writing Week this worthwhile objective is promoted between all peoples elsewhere.

"As we all know so well," Mr. Gaylor said, "a personal letter is next to an actual visit, the most intimate means we have to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between our citizens and between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings.

"I urge all citizens of Pampa, to join in this celebration of International Letter Writing Week. And at the same time, don't overlook your friends and relatives in America. Write them a letter too!"

American Pavilion At Brussels Fair To Be Dismantled

BRUSSELS (UPI)— The American Pavilion at the World Fair will be torn down next month unless the Brussels city government reverses its earlier refusal to accept it as a gift.

The circular pavilion and the 1,200-seat adjacent theatre, which is one of the most modern in the world, were designed by Edward Stone and cost nearly six million dollars.

The Brussels city council has so far balked at accepting on the grounds it would take an estimated one million dollars to transport the pavilion into an art museum—one of the suggested uses.

Reds Oust Plotter In East Germany

BERLIN (UPI)— Communist East Germany has fired Deputy Premier Fritz Selbmann for taking part in a plot to overthrow Communist leader Walter Ulbricht.

The plot and an attempt to start a "counter-revolution" in the Soviet Zone were disclosed today by Ulbricht in an article in the new international Communist ideological magazine "Problems of Peace and Socialism."

Ulbricht said two separate groups of plotters planned to change the leadership of the party and government, dissolve collective farms, relax state controls over industry and remove East Germany from the Soviet bloc.

Warrent Out For Oil Heir

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)— A warrant is out for the heir to a Texas oil fortune who allegedly failed to keep up his child support payments.

The warrant was issued Tuesday against Frank Wesley Russell II, 36, son of the late oil magnate of the same name who died last November in Texas. His estate was estimated at more than 15 million dollars.

The action was brought by Mrs. Henrietta Russell, 29, a former Hollywood starlet who married Russell seven years ago in Mexico. They were divorced in 1956.

She has been living at Inverness, Calif., with their two children.

At the time of the divorce, Russell was ordered to pay $225 in child support. Mrs. Russell said. In 1957, a warrant was issued for his arrest because he had not kept up on his payments. In January of that year, he agreed to pay Marin county $370 in welfare payments it had made his family and also promised to pay at least $140 a month for child support.

Instead, Mrs. Russell said, her ex-husband disappeared.

Women Can Bear Testube Babies Biologist Says

PARIS (UPI)—A French biologist says it is now possible for a woman to have children by her husband years after his death.

Jean Rostand, a well-known French biologist, announced to the Paris medical faculty that it is now possible to keep human reproductive cells indefinitely in a solution of 30 per cent glycerin at a temperature of minus 79 degrees centigrade.

"I know a woman biologist who has recently made the experiment on herself, thus having two children by him a long time after her husband's death in a car crash," he told his audience.

Rostand would not name the woman or disclose her nationality. "If this principle had been known in the 19th Century" Rostand said "men like Victor Hugo and Pasteur could still be having children."

Ministers Ask For Economic Developments

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The foreign ministers of 21 American republics have urged prompt movement toward greater economic development in the Western Hemisphere.

The diplomats met for two days with President Eisenhower participating. Late Wednesday they issued an official statement praising Eisenhower's assurance that the United States was ready to give "its most decided cooperation to bring about concrete results."

They also agreed that the Council of the Organization of American States should set up a special commission to study "Operation Pan America" which was proposed last month by Brazil.

Earlier, Dr. Jose Gutierrez Gomez, chairman of the OAS council, told a lunch meeting in honor of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that he was confident the conference paved the way for an all-out battle against underdevelopment in the hemisphere.

Gutierrez Gomez thanked Dulles for the new attitude the United States has taken toward hemisphere problems.

Farm Prices Due Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Agriculture Department report Thursday forecast further declines in farm prices this fall, raising the prospect of lower prices for some foods.

With a record crop in prospect, a seasonal pickup in hog marketings and egg production running above a year ago, prices to farm-

WELL, IT'S BETTER LATE THAN NEVER!

HOUSTON (UPI)— A letter written by a lonely, 19-year-old serviceman during World War II to his high school girl friend finally was delivered Thursday 15 years late.

The letter was recovered recently from a crashed Navy plane in Alaska. It was addressed to Miss Mary Lois Adams, but the elements had obliterated the address during the years it lay in the wreckage of the plane.

Mrs. Mary Lois Adams Watkins, 31, appeared at the post office and claimed the letter. Mrs. Watkins is a registered nurse and operates a convalescent home in Houston.

The sender of the letter turned out to be Don Lee Everett, then 19 years old and stationed in Alaska with the Navy.

Mrs. Watkins said she was 16 years old when the letter was written. "I had known Don Lee in high school. We had dated several times and we wrote each other while he was in the service. I sent him my picture."

Everett appeared to have been a bashful young man at the time. He started the letter, "Dear friend," He also scolded her for not answering his last letter, and asked for her picture.

Miss Adams married William Richard Watkins in 1946. They have a boy 10, and a girl 9. Everett is married, has a son and is an airline employe in Los Angeles.
