All America Goes To The Polls Tomorrow

12 Gray County Polling Places Open Doors, 8 a.m.

By WALLY TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The time has come, if you are a registered voter, to cast your ballot in the general election. The polls will open at 8 a.m. Tuesday in the 12 precincts of Gray county and remain open until 7 p.m. The 11 hours of voting will determine what little was left undone by the Democratic Primary. As the nation goes to the polls, Texas voters will elect one of the 33 of the 98 senators serving in Congress next year, Texas' choice will be the Democrat Ralph Yarborough or the Republican Roy Whitteburg, the Texas trotting campaigner, or it may be Bard A. Logan, the choice of the Constitution Party. The battle will be fought to finality Tuesday on the battleground of the ballot.

Things are a little quieter in Gray County. A little excitement may be generated by the Fete Bond - "Nat" Lunsford race for County commissioner. Lunsford won out over several opponents in the primary and is faced by Bond, a write in candidate.

The choice for governor will be Republican, Price Daniel, or Democratic, Edwin S. Mayer. Although the Constitution Party has no nominee for governor, it has come in strong on the other State races with Philip Lee Eubank facing Democrat Ben Ramsey for Lt. Governor and Muckelroy McDonald opposing Republican Will Wilson for attorney general.

Here is how the races stack up: Commissioner of Agriculture, John C. White, Democrat; Grover C. Carothers, Republican; or H. W. Vogan, Constitution.

Land commissioner: Bill Alcorn, Democrat; or W. C. Miller, Constitution.

Treasurer: Jesse James, Democrat; or Bill Ellis, Constitution.

Rail Road commissioner: Olin Culberson, Democrat; or Howard Bumbaugh, Constitution.

Comptroller of public accounts: Robert S. Calvert, Democrat; R. Glenn Florence, Constitution.

Supreme Court, Place 1: Robert W. Hamilton, Democrat; John Q. Adams, Republican.

That is all. Much light has been thrown on the nine Constitutional amendments that will be thrown before voters Tuesday. The Texas Jaycees are battling for Amendment 1, annual sessions, adequate salaries for the State Legislature, with a provision thrown for the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house of representatives to establish temporary residence in Austin.

Price Daniel and Texas realtors are talking Amendment 9, which, by abolishing a civil war amendment, would give Texas the right to use State funds to promote its historical, natural, agricultural, industrial, educational, recreational and other resources.

GOP Hopes High For Giant Upset

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 1958 political campaign ends today with the Democrats confident and the Republicans hoping for upsets in Tuesday's elections.

Despite close races in some states, practically all the polls and other political barometers indicated the Democrats will increase their now slender majorities in the House and Senate.

Almost 50 million voters in 47 states will ballot Tuesday to elect 33 U. S. senators, 432 House members, 32 governors and many other state and local officials. Maine elected a senator, a governor and three House members Sept. 8—all Democrats except one House member.

Last minute appeals came today from the candidates. But the big guns in both parties were silent except for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, campaigning in the soon-to-be new state of Alaska which holds its first election Nov. 25.

In a dispatch written today for United Press International, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler predicted his party will gain at least 8 to 12 Senate seats and at least 40 House seats.

On a television program Sunday he used more specific figures and said he expected a gain of 11 or 12 Senate seats and 47 House seats. On a radio program, Chairman George A. Smathers of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee predicted a Democratic pickup of at least 12 Senate seats, not counting the one already won in Maine and those at stake in Alaska.

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn told another television audience reports from GOP leaders showed Republicans would "do better than the polls indicated." He said these reports promised "some very startling upsets" and showed that the GOP "could conceivably recapture control of the House." He admitted regaining control of the Senate "would be very difficult."

Names Not Set The Senate lineup is now 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans. The House is divided 232 Democrats, 195 Republicans and eight vacancies. Alcorn named no states as the locale for upsets. Smathers said his party had its best chances to displace Republican senators in Connecticut, New York, West Virginia (two seats), Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, Wyoming, Wisconsin, California, Arizona and Nevada.

Although Democrat Frank Hogan might win the senatorial race in New York over Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, that state still provided the GOP with at least one bright spot in an otherwise gloomy picture. Bookmakers reported Sunday night the odds had risen to 2-1 on Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller to unseat Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman.

BURGLAR KICKS IN OFFICE DOOR Police reported this morning that a burglar broke down an office door in the First National Bank building sometime over the weekend, but apparently fled before taking anything of value.

W. B. Colwell, whose office was broken into, was out of town Sunday and could not make an estimate of any possible loss. An employee of the office was called and said it appeared nothing was lost. Colwell, a tax consultant, has his office on the second floor.

El Paso Youths Are Nabbed Here Four El Paso boys, who said they were unhappy at home and were running away, were picked up in Pampa Sunday afternoon by Sgt. E. C. Albers and Patrolman W. A. Richardson of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Parents of two of the boys arrived in Pampa this morning to bring the foursome back to El Paso. The boys, ages 14, 15 and 16, said they left El Paso about 2 a.m. Sunday and were on their way north, to either Missouri, Minnesota or Michigan.

They were picked up here when service station owners reported the boys were pawing accessories and tools from their car to buy gasoline. The car belonged to the parents of one of the boys.

17 LIVES ARE LOST

Probe To Begin In Cuba Over Airliners' Sea Crash

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador East T. Smith announced today he would send a plane today to the area of Cuba where four rebels seized a Cuban airliner Saturday and caused it to crash into the sea with a loss of 17 lives, seven of them Americans.

Earlier, Smith said he would fly to the scene himself. There was no reason given for this change of plans, although observers noted he would have placed himself in danger of possible capture by the rebels had he gone.

There also was no reason given as to why he was sending a plane to the scene, although it was presumed it would carry personnel to help in investigating the incident so far as it affected the Americans aboard.

Three persons survived, including one American. The bodies of the victims were believed sealed in the fuselage of the huge British-made Viscount turboprop plane in ten feet of water in Nipe Bay near the Preston Airfield on the north coast of Oriente Province.

Authorities were trying to raise the fuselage today in hopes of identifying the rebels who forced the pilot off course at pistol point and tried to make him land near rebel-controlled territory. All four rebels apparently were killed in the crash.

Authorities said one of the survivors, Osiris Martinez, a naturalized American of Chattanooga, Tenn., told them the four rebels forced pilot Ruskin Medrano at pistol point to head for Preston. The plane left Miami Saturday afternoon on the 45 minute flight to Varadero Beach, a resort area 17 miles east of Havana. Preston airport had no night landing facilities but the pilot was given the choice of trying to land the big plane there—or being shot. He tried and failed and the plane plunged into the shallow bay.

The survivors included Martinez and two Cuban citizens, Martinez' wife, the former Betty Haney of Chattanooga, and their three children were killed along with American Edmund Ponce de Leon, 22, of Miami, Fla.

The survivors were under medical care in a United Fruit Co. hospital at Preston. They were reported in good physical condition and without apparent injuries though suffering from shock. None at first was able to give a coherent account.

CUBA GOES TO THE POLLS

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—Voters in strife-torn Cuba went to the polls today to choose a new president and hundreds of lesser officials. Rebels opposing the government called off their campaign of violence for the day. But they did not say what would happen in the future. The rebels had threatened death to those taking part in the election, either as voters or candidates. But Cuban law requires that everyone must vote.

Women were heavily predominant in the early voting lines in the Havana area, indicating a likely pro-government trend in the balloting. Observers recalled that in the 1954 election, women were chiefly responsible for the majority run up by President Fulgencio Batista.

The balloting by midday was quiet and orderly. Greater Havana's 1,500 polling places were guarded by rifle-bearing soldiers, while radio-equipped police and army cars circled through the city streets continuously.

General business was almost at a standstill because the larger establishments were closed down to enable their employees to vote. Bars and restaurants were closed because no alcoholic beverages may be sold while the polls are open. They close at 5 p.m. c.s.t.

Rebel promises of a peaceful election day failed to impress a nation shocked by the weekend rebel hijacking of a Cubana Airlines plane which crashed off the north coast of Cuba with a loss of 17 lives, seven of them Americans.

There were four candidates for president, but only one was given any chance of winning. He was Dr. Andres Rivero Aguiar, backed by President Fulgencio Batista and the ruling four-party government. (See CUBA, Page 3)

New United Fund Total Reported

The United Fund Campaign has raised $27,230.90 for its eight agencies, General Campaign Chairman Clyde Dickerson reported today. Representatives in the colored section raised $35.65 of the amount. Since Saturday UP workers have raised $1,219.40 toward the $64,000 goal.

Agencies get a large part of their operating expenses from participation in the United Fund Drive. The Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Welfare Index, Milk Fund, Heart Fund and the USO are the agencies involved.

Girl Hit By Auto

Four-year-old Bobbi Lynn Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray, suffered minor bumps and scratches Sunday noon after she was knocked down by a car near her home.

Bobbi was taken by ambulance to Highland General hospital and was found in good condition. She was taken home by her parents this morning.

Driver of the car was Trendo Arredondo, 36, 815 S. Russell. Arredondo told Officer Bob Crouch he saw the girl near the curb, slowed down and used his horn, but the girl started across the street at the last moment.

Price Daniel and Texas realtors are talking Amendment 9, which, by abolishing a civil war amendment, would give Texas the right to use State funds to promote its historical, natural, agricultural, industrial, educational, recreational and other resources.

It's A Privilege To Vote; And There's Little Work Involved

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

It was John Pierpont, an outstanding American poet and clergyman of the last century, who once said . . . "A weapon that executes a freeman's will, as lightning does the will of God; and from its force no doors nor locks can shield you—'tis the ballot-box."

There is as much truth as poetry in Pierpont's brainy verse, also in the statement that the work done by election officials far exceeds the effort put out by the "freeman" who merely casts his vote.

Making ready for Tuesday's general election is no easy task for county officials. Among the numerous duties of County Clerk Charlie Thut before an election is to unseal, unlock and unload ballot-cans from the previous election. Old ballots are burned.

District Clerk Helen Sprinkle performs a similar duty with the stub-boxes from previous elections, emptying and burning the contents. This all mounts up to more work than meets the eye, what with four cans provided for each of Gray County's 12 precinct polling places, excluding absentee cans.

Absentee voting has been extremely light this year. That pointed out Monday morning, with only 67 ballots cast. "If that is any indication of how the voters will turn out Tuesday, we'll have a very slow year at the polls here," Thut exclaimed.

The County Clerk, however, quickly pointed out that 7,300 voters are registered—and can cast their ballots in the general election if they will. This number does not include approximately 350 poll tax exempt voters who may also turn out, including those over age 60 and the physically handicapped.

Following each election, Thut said the ballot-cans must remain locked for six months, pending any formal inquiries. When the ballot and stub cans are delivered to the polling places by the Gray County Sheriff's Department, Thut said what happens to the ballots, during the election process goes something like this: District Clerk Sprinkle seals the stub-boxes with her office's seal. Then the containers are distributed along with their corresponding ballot-cans by the sheriff, to their assigned polls.

The stub-boxes must remain sealed to provide a means of checking the authenticity of the ballots; in case a contest of the election should arise, but the election process goes something like this: (See VOTE, Page 3)

REDS POUND QUEMOY WITH HEAVY BARRAGE

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Chinese Communists pounded the Quemoy islands today with 36,431 shells in the biggest one-day barrage since early September, the Defense Ministry said. Civilian loss of life was feared heavy.

The Defense Ministry said the massive bombardment hit the 14 offshore island between noon and 6 p.m., the biggest oombardment since Sept. 12 when Red artillery blasted the islands with more than 58,000 rounds.

The Defense Ministry said 15,436 shells fell on Big Quemoy and more than 8,000 on Little Quemoy. Other islands in the group were hit with bombardments ranging from a few hundred on the pinpoints of land to thousands on the other.

Effort to Discredit U.S. The bombardment was believed here to be a noisy protest against U.S. government policies and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the eve of the American elections.

Nationalist sources claimed that counterfire from American-supplied, eight-inch self-propelled howitzers and other artillery "suppressed" some of the Communist guns but intensity of the Nationalist counterfire was not disclosed.

It was the third Nationalist announcement today on the shelling. Earlier the Defense Ministry said Big Quemoy received 7,613 shells in a three hour and 35 minute period starting at noon. The bombardment varied from light at one moment to "furious" the next, the ministry said.

Civilians Caught By Fire The Communist bombardment broke a 38-hour lull in the Quemoy's during which thousands of Communist soldiers could be seen building up Red defensive positions on the shore opposite Quemoy and the Matsu islands.

Many of Quemoy's 45,000 civilians were caught out in the open on roads and at work in the fields, far from the shelters where they took refuge during the heavy bombardments of August and September. Peiping radio said it broadcast a "warning" Sunday but it was not reported here.

Nationalist supply ships Sunday landed several thousand tons of ammunition and supplies in the first resupply operation in two weeks. But Communist artillery remained silent then and did not interfere with the ships or the unloading.

The girl, right, will be named Theresa Ann, while the boy will be christened Mark Edward. The youngsters, now two days old, join three other Nolte boys, ages two, four and six. DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As a minister I am sometimes disturbed by the number of people who come to me and expect me to do something in twenty minutes (equal to adjusting a carburetor) that will solve all their personal and family problems. I think your readers should realize that all ministers have some knowledge of elementary psychology, but the minister's prescription is the Gospel he preaches. Which means anything he preaches is going to call for "grit" on the part of the person taking it, and that one ingredient in the prescription will be worshipping God regularly at least once a week for the rest of your life.

Yours truly,

ANOTHER MINISTER

DEAR MINISTER: Thank you for your fine letter and may I add a quote from a minister friend of mine? "The help a minister gives will not be a bed to lie on... it will be a sword to fight with."

DEAR ABBY: I am a truck driver and I know truck drivers are not considered perfect gentlemen by the general public, but I don't know of one who would not jump up to give an expectant mother his seat on the bus. A very good friend of mine who is now a truck driver, but at one time drove a bus, told me this story. He said one day the bus he was driving was very crowded and he stopped to pick up a lady who was very pregnant. He didn't make a move to start the bus, but waited for someone to stand up and offer her a seat. Nobody made a move to get up, so this bus driver finally got up and said, "Here, Lady, take my seat." He got out of the bus and sat down on the grass adjoining the sidewalk. Finally some man figured out that they weren't going any place so he got up and offered her his seat. I think this should be standard procedure for all bus drivers. It's not up to us to judge whether pregnant women should be home or not. a truck driver

DEAR ABBY: I have two children by my first marriage and my husband never lets me forget it. His mother lives with us and my husband says that he accepted MY children and I have to accept HIS mother. My children are out all day and go to bed early, but his mother. My children are out all day and go to bed early, but his mother. My children are out all day and go to bed early, but his mother.

HAD IT

DEAR HAD: When a man marries a woman with children, he knows the children go with Mama (sort of a "package deal"). But a man's mother is not usually "packaged" with the man. Unless you agreed before your marriage to "accept" his mother on a live-in basis, you have every right to ask for a new deal.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who thinks she is clean because the brass pipes under her sink are polished, but you should hear the language she uses! Her kitchen sink is cleaner than her mouth by a far sight. Don't you think that cleanliness should start with a person's own mouth? Your opinion in the paper would be appreciated. Thank you.

"CLEAN MOUTH, DIRTY SINK"

DEAR CLEAN MOUTH: A clean mouth is far more important than a clean sink, but it shouldn't be necessary to choose between the two.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. L.: Make up your mind — do you want this woman's FRIENDSHIP or do you want her HUSBAND? Find yourself a single man to ride to work with or — take the train.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Victoria Lady Lost 21 Pounds with Barcentrate

You may eat plenty and still take off ugly fat, just as Mrs. Frank N. Crabbe, 3205 Wildwood, Victoria, Texas, did. Here is what Mrs. Crabbe wrote us:

"I highly recommend Barcentrate as a weight reducer and I also find it a wonderful tonic. I lost 21 pounds after taking five bottles, which is my desired weight. I now eat any and all kinds of sweets and fattening foods and never gain any weight."

Just ask any Texas druggist for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Take according to directions. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off unwanted pounds, safely, easily and without starvation diet, return the empty bottle for your money back.

RUTH MILLETT

Have you ever met a woman for the first time, spoken to her, and then described her to a friend as "charming"?

How does a woman make a charming first impression? She does it by the warmth and friendliness of her manner when she meets a stranger. She does it by showing genuine interest in the other person. She does it by listening attentively when the other person talks, and responding in such a way that it is apparent she is a good and appreciative audience.

She does it by asking questions that show a lively interest in the other person and by avoiding the kind of questions that might seem prying or snobbish or too personal. She does it by being so at ease herself she doesn't have to strive to make a good impression or doesn't say just the obvious or commonplace things.

She makes a charming first impression with a pleasant voice, eyes that smile, a manner that is relaxed, instead of tense and nervous.

She charms by not trying to impress others, but by being willing to let them make the impression.

And, of course, she isn't too hurried or rushed or concerned with her own affairs not to have time to be gracious.

In these days when most women rush around trying to do too much, it is a real pleasure to meet a woman who still takes time to be charming, who can forget herself and her affairs long enough to give another human being her complete attention.

A Halloween party was held following the lodge business with Mmes. Helen Lamberson, Myrtle Johnson and Bernice Ladd in charge of games. A covered dish supper was served.

Mrs. Alma Giddison's name was called for the travel fund. Team captain, Mrs. Mary Dell McNeil, asked all members of the team to be present at the next meeting for initiation.

Ideas Shared By Kindergarten Staff

A profitable exchange of ideas was shared recently when kindergarten teachers from Borger, Phillips, and Buena Vista schools met in Pampa with Mrs. L. L. Harkins, owner of the Lollypop private preschool, and her staff, Mrs. C. C. Fitzgerald and Mrs. J. E. Scarbrough.

"Although the schools represented are not organized on the same plan as the Lollypop School (some are church, some cooperative, some privately owned), the teaching technique and training of young minds and personalities were discussed with mutual interest and common goals in mind," Mrs. Harkins reports.

Mrs. George D. McCarroll of Phillips, president of the Borger, Phillips, Buena Vista group of teachers, had the Lollypop staff as guests at a monthly meeting in September in the home of Mrs. Tex Hanna, Borger. "The Borger public school coordinator of materials for first grade meets with them to help in choosing material most appropriate for a pre-school program of readiness," Mrs. Harkins explained.

Pampa guests at the Monday night meeting were Miss Mary Lou Douglass and her mother, Mrs. R. K. Douglass. Also attending were Mrs. J. L. Martin Jr. of Borger, Mrs. Cecil Little of Buena Vista, Mrs. G. D. McCarroll of Phillips and Mrs. Tex Hanna, also of Borger; Mrs. C. C. Fitzgerald and Mrs. J. E. Scarbrough and Mrs.

DID YOU KNOW?

- That our system of biennial sessions was set up 82 years ago?
- That 1,442 bills plus dozens of resolutions were introduced in the last session of the legislature and all were to be acted upon during the regular 120-day session?
- That tax and appropriation measures must be planned up to 30 months in advance?
- THAT AT PRESENT 14 STATES, INCLUDING ALMOST ALL OF THE STATES THAT ARE AS HEAVILY POPULATED AS TEXAS (California, Michigan, New York) HAVE ANNUAL LEGISLATURE SESSIONS.
- SHOULD WE CONTINUE TO REQUEST THAT STATE'S RIGHTS AND POWERS BE RETURNED FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO OUR STATE WHEN WE ARE NOT EQUIPPED TO MEET THOSE RESPONSIBILITIES?

ANNUAL SALARIES

Should Texas continue to pay its legislators one-fifth as much salary as New York state pays its legislators or a salary equal to the expense allowance Pennsylvania provides for its legislators? EVERY TWO YEARS the members of the Texas Senate and Texas House of Representatives are paid at the rate of $25 a day while the legislature is in session, but they cannot be paid after the first 120 days. THIS AVERAGES OUT TO $1500 per year, plus a small expense allowance.

At present 31 states use a salary plan but Texas remains one of the few states continuing to pay on a daily rate during actual sessions of the legislature. Exclusive of Texas, the eight most populated states average payments in excess of $5,500 per year for legislative salaries and expense allowances.

States comparable to Texas in wealth and population have the following salary and expense schedule: New York, $7,500 annual salary plus $1,000 annual expense allowance; California, $6,000 annually plus $18 per day during session; Pennsylvania, $6,000 annually plus $3,000 per biennium expenses; Ohio, $5,000.00 annually.

Annual Sessions and Annual Salaries Endorsed By:

- State Bar Association—1956
- Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce
- A Majority of the Leading Texas Newspapers
- Many leading Citizens and Public Officials

Those who oppose this amendment, give as one of their reasons for opposing that this would give the legislators an unlimited expense account. The fact is that the legislature always had the power of setting its own expense allowance. This will not change under amendment No. 1, but continue this practice. As far as the additional cost is concerned, the raise in salary will amount to an increase of 9/100 of 1% of the annual budget which is infinite compared to the 2 billion dollars we spend every 2 years for other state expenditures. The Texas Jaycees have no ax to grind. We are just interested in better State Government.

GOOD NEWS IS BAD NEWS—Despite determined government cutbacks on wheat acreage, this year's harvest looms as the largest on record, 500 million bushels more than can be consumed at home or by export. This means that America's mountain of surplus wheat will be hiked up to 1.3 billion bushels. This is enough, says the Department of Agriculture, to fill all our needs for 1959 and still have 300 million bushels for 1960. But already another bumper crop is being predicted for next year. The government at present holds $2.5 billion worth of wheat in storage bins worth $20 million, costing $450,000 a day to maintain.

Mine Diggers Continuing Rescue Work

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (UPI)— Grimy workers today continued their fevered digging into the wrecked Cumberland mine in the dim hope that a third miracle would occur and still more entombed miners might be found alive.

Twice all hope had been abandoned, but digging workers found two groups of men still alive, deep beneath the earth.

Mine officials held little hope today that more miners would be found alive, but they vowed work would continue until the last missing body was found. They hoped to finish the grim task by the end of the week.

Forty-six bodies have been recovered and 100 men have been rescued, including 7 who were trapped almost nine days, and 12 others who were found after more than six days. That left 27 unaccounted for since the Oct. 22 cave-in.

During the weekend, officials of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co. and its parent, the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp., said they were certain no men were left alive in the mine.

After Saturday's rescue, crews of highly trained rescue workers brought here were called off the search. They left for their homes Sunday, leaving local mine rescue squads to end the search.

The rescuers dug in five different directions in the wrecked mine in the final digging operation.

The seven men found alive Saturday after spending almost nine days without food or water in a cramped airpocket were reported gaining strength and were in good condition, considering their ordeal.

The roped-off area around the airhead was all but deserted today, a sign that even the most hopeful of the town's population had given up any idea of finding the missing men alive.

Doctors said 10 days was the maximum time a man could survive without food and water.

Bodies were brought out at intervals during the weekend. Many had been sighted earlier, but were left where they were until efforts to recover possible survivors were completed.

PSLA Will Meet Next In Pampa

The Panhandle School Leaders Association will hold its next meeting in Pampa, Homer Craig, president, told the Daily News. Craig and other members of the Pampa School System were in Amarillo Saturday for a meeting of the Association.

In January, the group will meet in Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Jon Jones, minister of the Mary Ellen at Harvester Church of Christ, will speak on the responsibilities of leadership. The meeting date will be Jan. 24.

With Craig in Amarillo were Elementary Principals Sam Berger, D. V. Biggers and John Evans, Secondary Principals L. D. Edmondson, Jack Nichols and Floyd Smith, Curriculum Coordinator McHenry Lane and Counselors Mrs. Evelyn Milam and Mrs. Kenneth Walters.

Craig attended the business managers' session where the new accounting system was discussed. According to Craig, the new system changes accounting numbers given the State uniform numbers to rely on when auditing school accounts.

The Association met in Fannin Junior High School Saturday. After the 9:30 a.m. general assembly, the group split into six discussion groups, such as "The Gifted Child," "The Individual Problems of Youth Today" and "Grading Systems."

At a luncheon, Robert Ashworth, superintendent of Amarillo Schools spoke on "The Tentative Legislative Program of the Texas State Teachers Association."

Gilbert Mize, superintendent of Perryton Schools, served as program chairman.

VOTE

tion cans are opened by judges at the polls so that the voters can be counted. This is done in shifts, while fresh cans are exchanged for partially filled ones, to speed up the counting process.

Once the returns are totaled, the completed tally for the county is sent by the county judge (Judge Bruce Parker) to the Secretary of State in Austin.

When the poll lists and tally sheets for the voting places are returned to the court house, the filled ballot and stub - cans are at the same time placed in the custody of the county clerk. The sheriff keeps the keys until just before the next election at which time the keys are turned over to the county clerk who empties and burns the old ballots.

Upon the first Monday after each election, the County Commissioners meet to canvass the returns (check the tally sheets and poll lists for possible errors made in the counting).

The county judge, clerk, and sheriff make up the board which is in charge of getting the ballots printed.

"We usually have one and one half times as many ballots printed as there are poll tax receipts," Thut said, "because of the exempted voters and because on a few occasions ballots are smeared and have to be destroyed so that the voter may be issued a new one. The law says you have to print up at least 10 percent more ballots for such cases." Thut concluded.

ment coalition. He has promised to continue Batista's policies.

The nation, gripped by civil war for many months, was electing a new president, a congress, several provincial governors and a mayor of Havana. The rebels have opposed the election and threatened death or jail for Cubans daring to vote.

Government security forces were well prepared for violence and it was estimated at least half of the nation's 2,870,675 registered voters were expected to take part.

Rebel activity in the interior of Cuba appeared to have slackened off as the election began. A report from Santiago reported the rebel slaying of two bus drivers on a highway near here—far less than the usual daily quota of such slayings.

Rebel forces surrounding Santiago were still blockading the provincial capital, cutting all communications, but telephone and telegraph services was restored between Havana and the important interior cities. It was in these interior areas the rebels forbade travel to the polls on pain of death.

yond a year-to-year ban, and then only provided a control system is functioning and progress is made towards general nuclear disarmament.

The West's main objections were said to be:

—Signing of an all-time ban here and how would leave the way open to indefinite haggling for months, perhaps for years, over the control system which the West feels is essential.

—The Russian plan made no provision for the possibility that a further power — say, France or Red China—might explode a bomb shortly.

—The Russian plan left no loophole for nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes. The U.S. considers this essential to any nuclear ban agreement.

The West had to reply today to the Soviet call for an immediate unconditional ban on nuclear testing for all time. The Soviets presented their plan at the conference's opening session last Friday. It contained a draft agreement ready for signature pledging all three powers to halt nuclear testing at once forever. It also contained the draft of a control agreement to police the ban along the lines of the control system proposed by a meeting of East-West nuclear scientists here last summer.

The U. S. and British delegations studied the plan during the two-day recess and cabled their governments for new instructions. Informed sources said there also were consultations being held in Washington and London.

Statement Is Expected In Fugate Trial

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Caril Ann Fugate's unsigned statement about her part in her boy friend's slaying of 10 persons was expected to be offered this week as evidence in her first degree murder trial.

Caril, 15, refused to sign the statement she made to Deputy County Atty. Dale Fahrbruch after her return from Wyoming, where she and Charles Starkweather, 19, were captured last Jan. 29.

But Dr. Vance Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, was a spectator while Fahrbruch took the statement and is expected to testify that Caril was not coerced in any way.

Caril has said she was unaware of some of the 10 murders committed by Starkweather in his week-long rampage last January, and that in others she was an innocent hostage, unable to stop him.

MUD AND SNOW TIRES

As you can see, Central Tire Works, 618 E. Frederic, is all ready to serve you with its recapped and serviceable mud and snow tires. These tires have certain advantages beyond the low cost. They will go forward or backward in mud and snow and they will not sing on bare roads.

You can also have your truck, car or tractor tires recapped for a fraction of the time and cost that would get them done elsewhere. You get real recaps at Central Tire Works, recaps with quality rubber and workmanship that keep your car on the road without bumps.

Mud And Snow Grip Tires For Everyone At Low Prices

Central Tire Works, 618 E. Frederic, has mud grip tires at a price anybody can afford. In his modern tire shop, Ward Maddox makes available a large stock of recapped tires at a fraction of new tire cost.

Tires like these give you a smoother, quieter ride. Unlike other snow tires, they do not sing on bare highways.

You will also find that Central Tire Works is the right place to have a tire recapped, that in terms of price and efficiency. With such precision as tires rounded, after recapping, that they have no thump from being out of round.

After the tires are buffed, they are balanced to determine the light point and this is where extra rubber goes. Premium grade, long lasting rubber goes into all recaps.

Lots of people don't know when to have a tire recapped," says Maddox. "The way to tell when a tire is worn down enough to be recapped, is to put a dime in the center groove. And if you can read the date, it's time to recap."

Maddox and son Vernon can recap any truck, passenger car or tractor tire. You can get a new recapped tire at Central Tire Company or you can have your old tire recapped fast. If you're in a hurry, Maddox will loan you a tire to use while yours is being fixed up.

Central Tire makes short work of tubeless tires and the smaller tires that come with new automobiles. No harm will come to white sidewalls. No heat touches the body of the tire in the vulcanization process. White sidewalls are left unscorched and all the elasticity remains in the tire.

Improved section molds repair breaks, bruises and dents in low pressure tires. Adjustable to the contour of your tires, they cannot stretch tires out of round.

The new skid resistant, recap tread is made from live, cold rubber to precision requirements.

Nor does the Central Tire process damage the cord body of your tire. Each retread tire requires a close inspection before the new tread is applied. Safety and economy are always first.

Central Tire can also salvage ripped or punctured tires with the simple application of a Davis Truck or Tractor Tire Retiner, also designed to cover weather cracks.

Ward Maddox has been in the tire business for 34 years, 19 of them in Pampa. Before coming here, he operated a tire concern in Elk City, Okla.

Now Maddox operates a tire shop that is one of the first in the Panhandle and has received wide recognition in trade journals. Maddox or his son Vernon will be glad to show you around the factory. There is some very fascinating machinery operating at all times.

Zale Company Opens 100th Retail Store

With the formal opening of its 100th store in November, Zale Jewelry Co. marks a major milestone in its 34-year history.

During the past decade, the number of new retail jewelry outlets operated by the Texas-based chain has quadrupled, with the most rapid acceleration occurring during the past ten months.

Since January, new Zale stores have been opening at the rate of three every two months. The company today has 17 more stores than it had when the year began, with five additional ones currently in various stages of design or construction—three in Texas, one each in Louisiana and Iowa.

The 10th store is located in the Blue Ridge Shopping Center of Kansas City, and follows within a month the opening of the 99th Zale's, a suburban store in El Paso, Texas.

The importance of this achievement to each store in the chain lies in the customer savings possible through the buying power of more than 100 stores.

A single store founded in Wichita Falls in 1924 by Morris B. Zale initiated what is now the nation's largest jewelry chain, with a sales volume averaging $1 million more per month than its nearest competitor.

Growth initially was slow, but by 1950 the Zale chain had 30 stores located in eight states of the Southwest and the Middle West, with a heavy concentration in Texas and Oklahoma.

Then, in 1955, Zale's moved into the mountain states, opening stores in Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado. In the same year the company reached the West Coast with an outlet in Seattle, Wash.

The following spring saw the East Coast included, with a store in Georgia. Other Southern states added at the same time were Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi.

In 1957 the first Zale stores were opened in Oregon and Arkansas.

This year, outlets have been established in California, Arizona, and Virginia, the latter making the chain literally coast to coast, with Norfolk and Newport News on the list.

Rebs Accuse Government Of Kidnapping

HAVANA (UPI) — The Fidel Castro rebels have accused the government of seizing "hundreds" of hostages and threatening to "assassinate" them in the event of rebel violence in Havana during Monday's presidential election.

Rebel sources said the rebels had appealed to the International Red Cross, the United Nations and the Organization of American States to use their good offices to assure the safety of the hostages.

In the midst of a flareup of fighting in Oriente and Camaguey provinces, police were reported to have assigned 1,000 prowler cars to the greater Havana area to head off any rebel attacks and sabotage.

The bloody battle that raged Friday between government forces and Castro rebels on the outskirts of Santiago de Cuba, the country's second largest city, slackened off Saturday after 33 men were reported killed and a number of others wounded.

Army troops dug into heavily fortified positions. Sources in Santiago province said the rebels were deploying in the hills surrounding the city for another attack.

Fighting was reported in Bayamo in southwestern Oriente and at Holguin in the northeast. Holguin lost radio contact with Havana. Both are major cities linked by a central highway.

A rebel radio broadcast said a Castro lieutenant was killed in a 90-minute clash in the Jiguana-Bayamo area.

Castro forces in Oriente province and Camaguey province near Francisco were waiting for reinforcements, the rebel radio said in a broadcast that was heavily jammed by government stations.

In Santiago, a tense quiet prevailed. Havana, 600 miles to the west, also was quiet.

NAMED FOR BROTHER

BLUE LUSTRE THE ANSWER

The swift, gentle cleansing action of Blue Lustre foam restores old forgotten colors to new brightness and beauty.

More And More Housewives Turning To Blue Lustre For Rugs

More and more housewives of this city are finding that Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner is the best solution they have found for the cleaning care of fine furnishings.

It's so simple and inexpensive to make an old carpet or rug look new again by using the modern Blue Lustre method.

This new cleaner is a liquid concentrate which when mixed with water creates a billowy foam. The cleaning action of this foam when brushed in the carpets or upholstery instantly brightens colors dulled by soil, separating the dirt particles from the fabric to allow easy removal by vacuuming.

Since only foam is used, there is no matting of the fibre, no rinsing needed and carpets are soon dry and ready for use again.

Since Blue Lustre removes all of the carpet soil, housewives have found that carpets and upholstery stay cleaner longer because there is no oily or gummy residue to cause rapid resoiling.

Blue Lustre can be used in any type of shampoo rug applicator with excellent results or applied with an inexpensive long handled brush that is available. It's safe to use on the finest oriental rugs as well as wool, cotton, rayon and other synthetic fibres.

There is no lingering scent after cleaning with Blue Lustre for it is absolutely odorless—and so safe to keep around the home because it is non-inflammable too.

When those soiled pathways appear, leading sometimes from the front door to the kitchen, it is not necessary to go over the entire carpet again because with Blue Lustre as your cleaning companion, homemakers have found they enjoy the advantage of cleaning only that part of the floor covering that needs attention. That's why so many housewives keep Blue Lustre on hand all the time for little cleaning emergencies.

Cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre costs very little because it is so economical to use. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate is sufficient to clean three 9 x 12 rugs. It's also available in other

Voters Faced With Three Alternatives

Editors: The following dispatches were written for United Press International by the chairman of the Republican and Democratic national committees. They are offered for side-by-side publication.

By MEADE ALCORN
Republican National Chairman
Written for UPI

Three clear-cut alternatives face the American voters as he goes to the polls Tuesday.

1. Should President Eisenhower, who brought peace to Korea and has maintained it with firm policies based on moral principles, be saddled with a radical-dominated Congress loud with Democrat voices of appeasement? Or should Congress be in the hands of Republicans who stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the President against appeasement and for firmness, the only policy which will maintain the peace?
2. Should legislative power be entrusted to men of such little faith in America that they preach "depression" in an attempt to frighten and divide Americans? Or should the Congress be guided by Republicans who believe in and trust the capabilities of Americans and the economic system which has given us record a high living standards?
3. Should Congress be controlled by men who, through dependence for campaign contributions, blindly vote the line of the labor bosses whose excesses have shocked the conscience of America. Or should the Congress be controlled by Republicans whose party has brought America's workers their greatest level of income and security. Only a GOP Congress will have enough fortitude to pass legislation to protect union members against bossism and racketeer raids.

and returned to the less personally disturbing role of chief executive.

Eisenhower naturally will watch the Tuesday election results with intense interest, but his target now is devising a 1959 legislative program with maximum appeal not only to Republicans in Congress, but to the Democrats as well.

If the Democrats live up to the polls and their own campaign Congress, Eisenhower will be up against a familiar situation. But this will not relieve its painful aspects. Another Democratic victory at the polls will mean that six of the President's eight years in the White House were spent with his political opposition in power on Capitol Hill.

Obviously Happy

The President obviously was happy to see his part of the campaign over. This did not mean that he criss-crossed the country for the GOP unwillingly. He simply is not his happiest in the role of a political prosecutor or partisan avenger.

He punctuated his political charges with feeling, and while his writers got a lot of public notice during this campaign, he supplied some of the more pungent ripostes himself.

Eisenhower realizes this sort of thing is necessary and expected of the titular head of a party during a campaign, but he does not give the impression of combative enthusiasm when he steps into the steamy political world of public charge and counter-charge.

The President has no reluctance about belting the daylight out of his political opposition in a campaign, but still there is something about cross-country stumping that grates on his deep sense of dignity. He flinches when a photographer yells at him to put his arm around the favorite local candidate.

Having his back thumped and his sleeves tugged at by comparative strangers is apparently quite unpleasant to the President. He likes to think that the ideal way to campaign is a straight forward recital of the accomplishment of his administration, peppered with the necessary oratorical arrows at the faults of the Democrats.

Too Much

But baby-dandling, kiddie-kissing, pictures in sombreroes or feathered caps—too much.

Like it or not, Eisenhower put his shoulder to the Republican wheel with far more energy and time in this off-year campaign than any other political endeavor of his career except for his own two election campaigns.

He traveled over 6,000 miles by train, plane, helicopter and an assortment of limousines. He made 16 talks, ranging from closed-door chats with GOP money-raisers to full-dress nationwide TV appeals for a Republican Congress. All in all, he conferred and posed for pictures with top GOP candidates of 11 states. He personally visited Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, California, Illinois, New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland. While on one of his two trips to New York, he also met with the ticket-leaders from New Jersey and Connecticut.

The number of votes he swung to the Republicans from whom he spoke and appeared will always be a matter of conjecture, but there was no doubt whatever that he gave sagging Republican finances a much-needed transfusion. The money rolled in when he began booming away at the Democrats in Los Angeles on Oct. 20.

again if those policies of weakness, retreat and appeasement were followed.

If the Democrats win the Congress, those who follow the Acheson line on foreign policy would subject the administration to two years of heckling, criticism and sabotage which would weaken the hand of the President in dealing with the Communists.

Illusion of Disunity

Already this year, these men have voiced words which were quickly picked up by the international Communist propaganda machine which is trying desperately to picture Americans as divided in the face of challenge.

Democrats will use the Congress as a sounding board with which to fabricate issues for the 1960 election. In the realm of foreign policy alone, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee already has allocated hundreds of thousands of dollars for a so-called "investigation."

Can anyone doubt this would be used as an official forum by every Democrat politician intent on undercutting the President? While the President faces the Communists with his firm policy for peace, the Democrats would be yapping at his heels constantly and a false illusion of disunity might be produced.

As the President said in his letter to Senator Green, creation of such an illusion of disunity might make "almost inevitable" conflict which all thinking Americans are working to prevent.

That's the big 1958 issue—insure peace with a Republican Congress.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has put away his political shotgun until another season of vote-hunting for his party.

A Force Takes Big Progress

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force has reported making such progress with its revolutionary Minuteman missile that it may lead the intercontinental weapon race ahead of earlier forecasts.

The Minuteman is intended to be an intercontinental ballistic missile that can be fired with the simplicity and safety of a rifle, and can be stored in concealed holes in the ground known as "sunken silos." The magazine "Missiles and Rockets" reported in its current issue that "Minuteman promises to be ready in the 1961-62 zone."

Editor was prepared by Executive Editor Clarke Newlon who recently retired as an Air Force colonel.

Up to now the unofficial expectation has been that the solid-fueled Minuteman would be ready for operation in 1963.

The weapon, which if successful will make "Model T's" of today's liquid-fueled missiles, will be dispersed throughout the United States. It is capable of striking targets up to 5,000 miles distant. It is expected to serve the Strategic Air Command as the deterrent to World War II in the 1960's and beyond, just as bombers and advanced missiles had done in the 1940's and 1950's.

The Air Force has no official comment on Newlon's forecast. It authorities pointed out that scientific breakthroughs are needed to develop the Minuteman. They said the guidance methods are well known and the problem of getting the nuclear-weapon carrying missile nose through the atmosphere without burning up had been solved.

Also, they pointed out, they now know how to get sufficient power from solid fuels and how to control the fuels so that they will burn at the proper rate to cause the missile to go accurately to its target.

Today's liquid-fueled ICBMs, the Atlas which goes into service next year and the Titan a year later, are enormous weapons filled with complicated plumbing and requiring a relatively long countdown before firing. When they were designed, liquid fuels were the only kind that could provide the power for intercontinental range and which could be controlled to achieve accuracy.

With its solid fuel, the Minuteman is expected to require no countdown and to be constantly ready for immediate firing. It will be about half the size of the Atlas and is expected to cost only a fraction as much.

The Amendments

The amendments to the State Constitution which will be voted upon tomorrow can be broken down into two main categories. The first category has to do with various procedures of election and the filling of unexpired terms within the subdivisions of government.

Social Security

Virtually everyone in the United States now pays a social security tax. In theory, this payment is for the protection of the individual himself. Therefore, in theory, everyone should want to pay the tax.

The fellow who says you can't take it with you must never have tried to travel very far without it.

An Analogy Between Reuther And The Coolie
by WESTBROOK PEGLER
NEW YORK — There is a dramatic analogy between Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers, the dominant union in the right-to-work campaign in California, and the six Chinese "companies" that dragged Coolie laborers from Chinese slums in the homeland and shipped them into California in the latter's squalid days of the gold rush.

The question of congenital defects is a matter of vital concern to thousands of parents and to the youngsters involved.
Among the more common of these congenital malformations are harelip and cleft palate, club foot, and what is called congenital heart disease.

Rhee Pledges US Will Never Be Alone

By SAMUEL KIM
United Press International
SEOUL, (UPI)—President Syngman Rhee pledged today that the United States will "never be alone" in its fight against Communism.
The United States and other "free" nations can count on the support of South Korea with its 720,000-man armed forces in any war against Communist China, he said in an exclusive written interview with United Press International.
The graying statesman vehemently denied that the United States would ever have to fight without allies in Asia. Pointing to recent developments in Burma, Pakistan and Thailand, he said "those who fight for right and

Reuther To Emerge The Most Known Non-Office Politician

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One sure thing bet on Tuesday's general election is that Big Labor's Walter P. Reuther will emerge from it as the most widely known non-office holding politician in the United States.
The reasons, however, why Reuther's name and fame, so terrorize many Republicans and most political conservatives are not generally known to the voters. The basic fact is that Reuther is a brilliant political strategist possessed of large funds with which to implement his strategems.

Exhibit A in support of that fact is Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, a shoo-in Tuesday for a sixth term. Williams personifies Big Labor's power in Michigan politics and in that state Reuther personifies Big Labor.
The Convention Statement
Exhibit B is what happened in the 1956 Democratic national convention one midnight after former President Harry S. Truman had brought proceedings to a dead stop by his maneuver to make Gov. Averell Harriman of New York the party's presidential nominee. Except for those delegations already openly committed to Harriman or to Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic politicians gathered in Chicago took safe shelter where they could find it, awaiting the outcome of Truman's political game.

Uncommitted delegations remained uncommitted. Delegations prudently and safely committed to favorite sons, remained so. The convention was in stalemate. The big Michigan delegation, of which Reuther was a member, was committed to favorite son Soapy Williams. The convention situation justice will never be alone," Rhee said. "Korea believes in freedom and will fight for it because of principles as well as self-interest.
"Even if the only motivation were self-interest, we and other free men and women would still have to fight, because if the United States and the other Allied powers go under, neither Korea nor any other single nation will be able to survive as democratic and anti-Communist in a Soviet-dominated world."

Big Talk, Little Action Looked For

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—When the returns from tomorrow's election are in, there is likely to be a lot of Republican talk but no action about the Big Labor's campaign spending.

Section 304 of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act prohibited unions, banks and corporations from making contributions or expenditures in connection with a federal election. Section 304, although a part of the Taft-Hartley Act, actually was an amendment to a long standing statute, the Corrupt Practices Act of 1907.

Both labor and corporations, however, are spending in this campaign with considerable freedom and liberality, the sums being reported and on record in the office of the clerk of the House of Representatives. If this seems to reflect a confused situation in which the known facts seem each to contradict the other, that is correct.

Key Word: Expenditures
There is a confused situation which came about like this:
The hottest, fastest and most successful labor challenge to the Taft-Hartley Act was directed against Section 304. Malcolm C. Moose, who is now one of President Eisenhower's speech writers, explains the events leading up to the current confusion in a book, "A Grammar of American Politics," which Moose wrote jointly with Wilfred E. Binkley.
Key word in the controversy over Section 304, Moose relates, was the word "expenditure." The section forbade both expenditures and contributions, Moose continued:
"The inclusion of this word (expenditures), according to union
