ALCATRAZ MANHUNT

Two Convicts Jump Guards; One Caught, One On Loose

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sixty guards, armed with carbines and revolvers, prowled fog-swept Alcatraz Island today in search of a convict who with a companion tried to "beat the rock."

The missing man was Aaron Walter Burgett, 28, a rangy gunman from St. Louis. His companion, Clyde Johnson, 40, a Memphis, Tenn., bank robber, was caught several hours after they overpowered a guard and disappeared.

Aiding in the all-out search were squads of FBI men rushed to the island prison from San Francisco. A Coast Guard helicopter and four Coast Guard cutters circled the island to prevent a getaway by boat.

Burgett and Johnson flashed a knife in the face of guard Harold Miller shortly after 3 p.m. Monday.

"They jumped me with a knife and told me I'd be all right if I was good," Miller said. "Then they slipped away in the fog."

Both men were outside the prison walls and working on a garbage detail at the time. They told Miller a getaway launch was waiting for them.

The escape came to light about 5:40 p.m. when prison officials realized Miller and his two charges had failed to return from their work.

Associate Warden Joseph B. Latimer sounded the alarm. The prison whistle hooped the news that an escape had been made. All the other convicts were immediately locked in their cells.

Latimer said he doubted Burgett could have swum from the island through the man-killing tides of San Francisco Bay to the mainland 1 1/2 miles away.

About 15 minutes after the search began Miller was found, his eyes and mouth bound tightly with cloth and his wrists and legs bound with rope. He was lying in the brush just below some guards' houses on the southeast side of the island.

The search had been going on for about an hour when a sharp-eyed crewman of a Coast Guard patrol boat spotted Johnson.

He was standing just offshore.

Commission Passes On New Rates

The Pampa City Commission, meeting this morning, passed on the first reading Ordinance 508, involving changes in the garbage and trash rates as set down in the approved budget.

Wednesday Oct. 15 has been set as the date for bid taking on N. Hobart paving. The bidding will be at 10 a.m. in the City Commission Room.

The commissioners approved some routine salary changes for City employees and authorized City Manager John Kooz to order a hundred copies of the Southern Building Code to be used in the building inspector's and engineer's offices. The codes will be on sale to the public.

Pampa Youth Fined On DWI

A 16 year old youth of Pampa was picked up last night on charges of Driving While Intoxicated and fined in Corporation Court this morning.

Police arrested the youth on the 300 block of N. Wells. His fine was $25. The boy will not be able to apply for a driver's license for the next six months, according to Police.

Federal Ruling Locks Doors Of LR Central High School

Plan For Private Schools Thwarted

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Dr. O. J. Raney read the obituary of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' private school plan in a driving rain in front of Central High School today.

A little later a truck pulled up and two men put up a 4-by-6-foot sign in the center of the schoolyard. It said: "This school closed by order of the federal government."

Raney is president of the Little Rock Private School Corp.

It planned to reopen Little Rock's four high schools, closed since Sept. 2 in the integration controversy, at 8 a.m. today.

But the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals intervened and ordered the school board not to transfer the buildings to the corporation.

Raney did not finally announce for the corporation until today that the schools would not open as planned. The enjoined Little Rock School Board announced it Monday night.

"Through the concerted efforts of the government of the United States and the NAACP, the Little Rock Private School Corp. has now been enjoined and prohibited from operating Central High, Hall High, Technical High and Horace Mann High," he read from a prepared statement.

"... The closing of our senior high schools is now the full responsibility of the federal government and the NAACP. It is quite evident that they are ready to sacrifice the educational opportunities for 4,000 students to satisfy their consuming desire to mix the races in our school, public or private."

About a dozen students listened as Raney read the statement in front of Central High.

"We are now restrained from permitting the private school corporation to operate the schools," School Board President Wayne E. Upton announced Monday night.

Did that mean the schools will remain closed today?

"You have seen the order," Upton said. "I presume it does."

U. S. deputy marshals rushed about Little Rock serving copies of the restraining order.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus' name was on one copy. Two state policemen turned U. S. Marshal R. Beale Kidd back Monday night when he tried to serve it and told him to see Faubus in his office today.

Copies went to members of the private school corporation, the school board, school officials and even to school teachers.

If any had had anything to do with reopening the four schools today on a private basis, they would have been in danger of a contempt citation from the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Two circuit court judges handed down the order Monday in Omaha, Neb., at the request of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The restraining order is good until next Monday, when the circuit court, meeting at St. Louis, will consider the question of an injunction.

Mercury Hits 41 At Dalhart

United Press International

Fall's first real norther blew into the Texas Panhandle early today while residents of the Big Bend country fought the worst floods in their history.

The mercury dipped to 41 degrees at Dalhart early today, only nine above freezing, and in the Oklahoma section of the Panhandle a freeze was predicted for tonight.

The cold front moved rapidly at about 25 miles per hour across the state and was expected to reach the upper coast tonight with cold air over the state by Wednesday.

15,000 Isolated By Record Flood

ALONG RIO GRANDE

Presidio, Tex. (UPI)— An estimated 15,000 persons were isolated by record Rio Grande floods today on both the U.S. and Mexican sides of the river.

The Mexican consul at El Paso and U.S. officials made the estimate.

Three more Mexican villages were isolated early today as a Rio Conchos flood torrent swirled toward Presidio posing a new flood threat in the already inundated Presidio Valley.

But the Rio Grande flood crest dropped two inches in five hours at Presidio early today although a new rise was expected when the swollen Conchos empties into the Rio Grande three miles north of Presidio.

Three Villages Isolated

At least three drowning deaths have been caused by the flood and cotton crops on both the U.S. and Mexican sides of the river have been virtually destroyed by six days of wild floods.

The Rio Conchos, gorged by torrential rains along its northern Mexican watershed, swamped the villages of Santa Teresa, Val Verde, and San Juan, located within a radius 18 miles south of Ojinaga, Mexico leaving hundreds homeless.

The floods caused a food crisis along the 18-mile long Rio Conchos Valley.

A transport plane from Chihuahua City carrying food to Ojinaga yesterday was unable to land because of high water.

Utilities Out

Authorities at Ojinaga, Mexico, a city of about 14,000 located across from Presidio, today asked the American Red Cross to send in food supplies.

Early today a flood crest of 21 feet was reported at the Alamito Creek gauging station six miles below Presidio.

SUPREME RULE KO'S MANY LEGAL DELAYS

With Stand On Integration

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Top administration legal experts said today the Supreme Court's strong new integration stand should hasten school desegregation in the South by knocking out many legal delaying moves.

There was no attempt to minimize the long uphill road desegregation still faces in many southern states, nor the bitter resistance that will be put up by many southern officials and private citizens.

Schools that are not integrated now will not necessarily be integrated in a day, a week or even by next year.

But a high-ranking Justice Department official told United Press International the court's stern pronouncement served notice on segregation backers that all efforts, direct or indirect, to nullify the tribunal's desegregation edict will wind up in the legal waste basket.

Schemes Won't Work

He said the court now has made it crystal clear to southerners their ultimate choice is between integrated public schools or no schools with any kind of public support — financial or otherwise.

The only remaining alternative, he said, would be truly private schools and these, he said, would mean education only for the rich.

"We've passed that stage in this country," said the official, who asked he not be quoted by name.

Strongly pro-segregation southerners, in the very sharpness of their comments, gave pointed emphasis to the court's warning to governors, state legislatures, judges and school boards that "evasive schemes" won't work.

Georgia Governor - nominee Ernest Vandiver said the "political-ly constituted court" had sought "to rule on a whole host of questions and to resolve them finally even before they could be heard and decided by the lower courts."

Will Rely On Opinion

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), 1948 States' Rights presidential nominee, declared the court "has attempted to render a decision on private schools which are not in being, and on facts which have not yet arisen."

This was the very point made by the high-ranking justice official. He voiced belief that henceforth virtually all federal district courts, and certainly all federal appeal courts, would rely on Monday's Supreme Court opinion to rule out private segregated schools with any type of governmental support whatsoever.

President Eisenhower probably will have something to say on the subject at his news conference Wednesday — his first since Aug. 26.

The main effect of Monday's opinion, in the eyes of government

Nixon Says To Come Out Fighting

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)— Vice President Richard M. Nixon told Hoosier Republicans Monday night to come out slugging in the congressional campaign by warning voters that election of Democrats will mean higher taxes and radical legislation.

Nixon said he disagreed with some of his Republican friends who have suggested he pass up the congressional campaign to "avoid being associated with a losing cause."

"I can think of nothing more contemptible than running from a fight when things are tough," the vice president told an Indiana Republican fund-raising rally.

"We will lose," Nixon said, "if we continue to backpedal and to allow ourselves to be a punching bag for the cheap below-the-belt cracks of Harry Truman and his ilk. We aren't going to win by giving the voters a diet of dishwater and milk toast."

Calls Democrats Slanders

Instead, Nixon urged Republicans to "start slugging with the truth about our own record and the truth about the frightening alternative offered by our opponents."

He said if Democrats strengthen their hold on Congress this year, it will be through election of "radical ADA-type Democrats" who control the party in the Northern and Western states.

"You will be in for a wild spending binge by radical Democrats drunk with visions of votes and not pink but dead elephants," he said.

"This means that when you vote for more Democrats in the House and Senate you are voting to raise your taxes, cheapen your money, and to stifle the new investment and enterprise which means more jobs and more progress for the American people."

Nixon said that under the Truman administration, prices went up 38 per cent, but they have risen only 8 per cent under the Eisenhower administration.

Marines Land On Quemoy With Eight-Inch Howitzers

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)— United States Marines landed on Quemoy with eight-inch howitzers and turned them over to Nationalist Chinese artillerymen, informed sources in Taipei said today.

The sources said the Marines landed the self-propelled eight-inchers at night about 10 days ago and set them in position where Nationalist gunners could reply to Red artillery that has pounded the Quemoy since Aug. 23.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry, without mentioning any new type of guns, reported today Nationalist artillery destroyed 13 Communist guns and four fortifications Monday.

Deadly accurate

The American-supplied weapons, described as deadly accurate and with a range sufficient to hit any of the Communist gun emplacements shelling Quemoy, were installed during a barrage by the radar-controlled Red artillery but there were no American casualties.

The big howitzers were delivered by U.S. Navy landing craft and were brought from Okinawa because the Nationalists' smaller and less accurate 105 and 155 millimeter artillery was no match for the Communist guns, the informed sources said. The 105s and 155s are conventional artillery of a U.S. Army division.

The eight-inchers scored one of their first Quemoy victories on Sept. 26 when they blew up a Communist ammunition dump across one of the narrow necks of water separating the Quemoy Island complex from Red territory.

Convoy Reaches Quemoy

Other developments: Gen. Randolph M. Pate, commander of the U.S. Marine Corps, arrived in Taipei today for five days of military conferences with Gen. Wang Shu-ming, Chinese Nationalist chief of staff, and other military leaders.

UPI Correspondent Charles Smith reported from Quemoy the first sea convoy since Sunday reached Big Quemoy today and started unloading from small landing barges at shell-splattered Liao Lu Beach.

Smith also reported one Nationalist cargo plane was shot down Monday night when a flight-braved Communist shelling to parachute supplies on Big Quemoy and on Little Quemoy where officials estimated Sunday there were only 25 days of food left.

withdrawal as a retreat under fire, he said, would not be desirable because of the impact it would have on other countries.

Dulles added, however, that if there were a reasonably dependable cease-fire, it would be foolish to keep these large forces there.

Dulles' remarks on the offshore islands were made to a news conference at which he also said: "We love peace as much as anybody else. We have our fund of common sense."

"It is not our thought that the 10 million people on Taiwan (Formosa) should be pitted against the 500 or 600 million on the mainland. We have no reason to fight against our brethren on the mainland."

"However, when our people on the mainland rise in revolt as the Hungarian people did two years ago and call for our help, we shall fight side by side with them for their freedom."

Nationalists Will Defend Every Inch

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)— Nationalist China said today it would defend every inch of its territory but would await a revolt against the Chinese Communists before invading the mainland.

"We are realists," Chinese Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang told the United Nations General Assembly. "We love peace as much as anybody else. We have our fund of common sense."

"It is not our thought that the 10 million people on Taiwan (Formosa) should be pitted against the 500 or 600 million on the mainland. We have no reason to fight against our brethren on the mainland."

ALMOST BLEW HIS TOP

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Truck driver Ronald Matthews was a bit peeved Monday when he picked up 25 punctures in two of his tires right outside a tire factory.

Factory representatives, looking at hundreds of nails scattered all over the road, denied they were trying to drum up business.

A sack of nails had fallen from a truck as it turned into the factory gate, they said. Matthews' two new tires and fixed punctures on three other cars which came along before the nails could be swept up.

LEVIN'S

LEVINE'S—Shown above is the Levine's store building, 101 S. Cuyler. The firm is celebrating its 31st Anniversary with a gigantic sale. Levine's store is one of Pampa's most modern, inside and out. A remodeling program is carefully followed by Levine's to make goods and services more attractive and accessible to patrons.

Levine's Employees Have Many Years In Retail Field

Some of Levine's key personnel have years of experience in the retail field totaling more than 300 years.

Many of these people have been associated with Levine's for years, dating back to the original days of the company.

"The success of any store," says Morrie Silver, store manager, "is largely dependent upon its people, and we at Levine's in Pampa are indeed proud to be the senior department store of the chain serving the people of Pampa and surrounding area for 30 years."

Lucille Turner, fashion manager, has 25 years of experience. Virgie Thorpe, home furnishings manager, Velva Williams, men's manager, Ruby Doggett and Anna Bajch are all long time residents of this area. Joy Enloe, office manager, is now serving her 18th year with Levine's in this capacity.

Levine's attitude toward employees is that it takes many years of experience to properly serve a customer, just as a doctor spends years in college and a lawyer spends years of preparation for his work. Levine's employees, therefore, have spent many years learning their trade in order to "give better service to their community."

"It is upon this creed and the loyalty of our employees that I rely in predicting that Levine's will become the largest popular-priced department store organization in the Southwest," he concluded.

The progressive Southwest department store chain also has a trainee program that is tapping high quality college graduates to train for positions as store managers in the Levine stores over a four-state area.

The program has been termed "one of the finest opportunities for young men in the nation" since Levine's store managers share with the firm on a profit-sharing business plan.

The men are trained in buying, advertising, merchandising and other phases of store operation. The teaching staff is drawn from ranks of the firm's executive's who indoctrinate the trainees into Levine's methods and make it possible in their jobs.

Dragon Lady Brings Back War-Memories

By WILLIAM D. MILLER
ABOARD THE CARRIER MIDWAY (UPI)—A sultry-voiced Chinese "Dragon Lady" is beaming a mixture of sex, propaganda and soft music to the men of the U.S. 7th Fleet from a powerful radio station in Red China.

"It's just like old times," a pilot-veteran of World War II told UPI. "This gal is even better than Tokyo Rose."

Peiping's latest contribution to the airways, dubbed "Dragon Lady" or "Peiping Polly" by sea-going U.S. listeners, apparently has a wide audience among bored 7th Fleeters.

She plays soft, 3-year-old hit tunes or American classics, throws in five-minute Communist-style news round-ups and lectures and scolds the American servicemen in a voice oozing sex and seduction.

Her listeners apparently enjoy the sex and music but find her slanted news and propaganda amusing.

"She speaks damn good English with no accent at all," a sailor said.

"She keeps telling us how nice things are back home and that we should be ashamed of ourselves coming out here as aggressors and stirring up trouble. Most of the fellows get a big kick out of her."

Occasionally an English-speaking male voice, also without an accent, interrupts the Dragon Lady with late "newscasts." They generally last for about five minutes and give the Communist version of the Far East situation.

Starved For News
One of the obvious reasons the Dragon Lady enjoys a wide listening audience is that most of the men of the 7th Fleet are starved for news.

They are sitting right on top of the explosive Formosa situation, but they probably know less than anybody else about what is going on.

Officers aboard this carrier show little concern over the Dragon Lady broadcasts.

Staff Is Best Asset Says Levine Boss

Employer relations is one of the many features of the Levine chain of which the management is justifiably proud.

According to William Levine, chairman of the Levine board of directors, the employees of the company are its biggest asset.

"We at Levine's are proud of each and every employee connected with this organization," Levine said. "We like to feel that this is just one big family. The management is always interested in the welfare of each employee."

"In my opinion, Levine added, "our employees rank above average in honesty, integrity and ability. Their loyalty and trust in us is our finest asset."

It is the duty of the management to see that employees are happy and to feel responsible for them to advance rapidly.

Another feature of the Levine operation which makes the training program attractive to trainees is the rapid growth of the chain in the Southwest. The rapidly with which new stores are being open-

Pampa Community Theatre slates an ultra important planning meeting for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Gray County Courtroom. Anyone with theatre interest may attend.

It is the expectation of the group that this will be the last meeting before try outs are held for "The Traveling Lady." Theatre people will meet Thursday to accept new members and to take definite action.

Meanwhile, PTC is preparing its first service club program for the Jaycees Tuesday. Program chairmen can make bookings by calling Miss Martha Marsh. Comic readings, skits and other numbers are available to all organizations.

The production of "The Traveling Lady" will require a cast of six men and four women as well as a large production staff. A large turnout is looked for Thursday to get the season off to a roaring start.

Scene of the meeting will be the County Courtroom, located on the second floor of the Gray County Courthouse. People from Pampa and adjacent towns are eligible to participate.

Cub Pack Four Sets Expansion

Preparations will be completed at the monthly meeting of Cub Pack 4 tonight for next week's expansion meeting, according to Max Calloway, Pack Committee chairman. At 7:30 p.m. the Pack will meet in Fellowship Hall of the Pampa First Christian Church.

The program will include an opening ceremony, western skits by Mrs. H. H. Haskell's den and a pennant count conducted by Ray Brady.

Following a presentation of awards by Worth Nelson, the meeting will end with a business session, making way for the Pack expansion meeting to be held next week for all parents and prospective Cubs.

Pampa Boy Reaches Captains Meet Scholarship Semi's For Scouting Finance Drives

Merit Scholarships and other awards with an estimated value of $5 million were one step closer for 10,000 of the nation's high school seniors today, as the National Merit Scholarship Corporation named the Semifinalists in its 1958-59 competition. Among the Texas named are Bob Jernigan, Pampa High School; Andrea Jackson, Canadian; and Beverly Harrell, Groom.

The 10,000 brainy youngsters outscored 479,000 other students in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, the nationwide examination measuring educational development. It was given in over 14,000 high schools last April 29th. The group of Semifinalists is composed of the highest scorers in each state, prorated according to state population.

The Semifinalists now face another rigorous three-hour examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, which will further substantiate their high scores on the NMQST. This second test will be given in testing centers throughout the U. S. on December 6, 1958. Those who repeat their high scores on this second test will become Finalists in the competition.

John M. Stalnaker, President of National Merit Scholarship Corporation, predicts that over 95 per cent of the Semifinalists will get past the second hurdle — the Dec. 6 examination — and become finalists.

"This year our search for talent has been the most extensive we have ever conducted. Nearly one-third of the entire national senior class has been tested. The Finalist group will be composed of youngsters of superior ability. Our goal is to help as many as possible, and through the help of others, make it possible for all of them to enter college next fall. This program would not be possible without the outstanding cooperation of the nation's secondary school administrators," declared Mr. Stalnaker.

As Finalists, the students will be eligible for an estimated $5 million in scholarship awards sponsored by over 80 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, the conductor of the annual nationwide competition.

In the final phase of the competition, high school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship and leadership of the students will be evaluated, along with the scores on the tests.

About May 1, at least 735 fortunate young people will be named the Merit Scholars of 1959.

All finalists will receive Certificates of Merit attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified, thus enabling these students to be considered for a wide range of other scholarship awards.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award covering the four undergraduate college years, and each award carries a stipend tailored to the need of the individual winner. The stipends have been averaged about $850 a year. Minimum awards, for students who have been determined to have no financial need, are $100 a year; and maximum awards, for students who have been determined to have maximum need, are $1,500 a year.

Merit Scholars make their own choice of college and are free to choose any course of study leading to one of the usual baccalaureate degrees.

The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars also receive cost-of-education grants ranging to $500 per year to help defray the actual costs of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship Program is now in its fourth year. It was founded in 1955 with grants of $20 million from the Ford Foundation and $500 thousand from The Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Sponsors have thus far awarded $12 million worth of scholarships, and have pledged an additional $4.5 million. Over 2,300 of the nation's most able students are now holding Merit Scholarships at some 325 colleges. Nearly one million high school students have been tested in the massive talent hunts.

The competition is open to students in any public, private or parochial high school in the U. S. and possessions.

Firemen Answer Three Calls

The awnings of Richard Drug Company, 107 W. Kingsmill, caught fire yesterday and were extinguished by the Pampa Fire Department. Firemen speculate that someone tossed a cigarette onto the awnings while passing by.

Other blazes involved a pot of beans at 432 N. Crest and a smoke bomb in a Denver trailer house. The awning fire was reported at 9:18 p.m. yesterday. Earlier the Department went to the Edith Jones residence on N. Crest where a pot of beans was the source of the blaze.

The tribunal, in its unusually strong opinion signed personally by all nine justices, left no doubt of its meaning when it said:

"The constitutional right of (Negro) children... can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executives or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted 'ingeniously or ingenuously.'"

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently buried my husband after twenty-three years of a happy marriage. All of a sudden his ex-wife appears on the scene dressed like a widow in mourning. She screamed and cried on at the funeral like her husband was her husband and I had to go and bury everybody from thinking she was being harder than me. As far as I know he was dead and finished with her years before I met him. I hear she goes out to his grave every day in her widow's outfit and cries and prays. Can I have her locked up?

REAL WIDOW

Dear Real: It must be obvious to everyone that this poor creature is sick. Let her live with her memories and pay no attention to her.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, while at my job as a secretary, a friend who is a newspaper editor called me and asked me to write a column and stated that he believed the column was probably written by a man and the letters were "made-up." If there are other "Double-Double" readers may I say that about a year ago I wrote to you for advice about my engagement. You told me to break it, and I did. I didn't take your advice, but got married anyway. The marriage lasted four months and now we are separated. I hope and pray that other advice seekers will benefit by my experience and heed good advice when they get it.

Very Truly Yours,
C. J. P.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle an argument that has been going on for four years? How often should a gown man change his socks?

FIGHTING MAD

Dear Fighting: Every day - if he wants to put his best foot forward, this is.

DEAR ABBY: I was called away from home to be with my ailing mother. Every night my husband calls me long distance and asks me when I'm coming home. I can't tell him because I don't know how much longer my mother will last. When I left I intended to stay till the end, but nobody knows Breathes There A Woman With Figure So Perfect That Doesn't Need Girdle?

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Boys don't like sloppy girls. Every teen-ager should know that there are no exceptions to this rule. So, if you're wondering why the dates are scarce and the phone's collecting cobwebs, better give your grooming some solid thought.

You should have a daily acquaintance with the bathtub and a good scrub when you get into it, not just a pass with a washcloth. Your hair should be thoroughly shampooed at least once a week and your nails filed and manicured weekly, too. But your nails should be scrubbed clean each day and your hair brushed daily.

You need a reliable deodorant.

Sorority Conclave Has Plan Session

Mrs. Ben Ogden was hostess to the executive committee of the Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority in her home at 1608 Chestnut.

Mrs. Homer J. president, presided during meeting as committee chairman presented reports and plans were made for the activities of the organization for the year.

Discussions were heard regarding local dues, scrap-book expenses, and attendance goals.

The hostess served refreshments during the social hour to the following officers and building representatives, Mrs. Clyde Rodcaps, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Enns, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Clowell and Mrs. Rhy Sparkman, scrap-book chairmen; Mrs. Fred Ammeter, City Council representative.

Other representatives present were Mrs. Ben Ogden, Austin; Mrs. D. V. Bagers, Horace Mann; Miss Alma Wilson, Baker; Mrs. Floyd Smith, Lamar; and Mrs. Herbert Coker, Woodrow Wilson.

a dependable mouthwash (it might be salt and water) and an electric shaver or a good razor. You need fresh lingerie each and every day and clean clothes to go over the lingerie. You need to alternate the shoes you wear so that they stay fresh.

Does this sound like lots of work? It isn't, really. And it should be so much a part of you that it's simply a habit.

The girl who can get along without a girdle doesn't exist. This may sound like an extreme statement but actually, it isn't.

Not one of New York's top designers will let a model show clothes without wearing a girdle. And these girls, remember, keep their weight way down, their bodies well-exercised and they have good bones and muscles to start with. Still, they need the curve - control, the tummy - flattening and the smoothing out of the hips and derriere that a good girdle provides.

Most of these models own large wardrobes of girdles to give the right look to many different silhouettes. The average girl can't afford as many, but she can afford a basic girdle wardrobe which will do the most both for the clothes she wears and her figure.

The best heel height for daily wear is one that is neither too flat nor too high. You should neither waddle like a duck nor teeter a long with your body thrown out of alignment.

In fact, you're in luck because the fashion these days is a medium heel shaped like a high heel. The new Spanish heel, which is very graceful, is about the same height as the well-liked Louis heel.

Build your shoe wardrobe around this heel height if you want pretty feet and legs as well as graceful posture. You'll find, too, that you tire less easily when you wear the mid-heel.

Sheath Offers Endless Variety

So many variations are possible with this flattering sheath that you can build a wardrobe around this stunning style. And it's a joy to sew whether you're an accomplished seamstress or just learning to sew. Try it for daytime wear with short sleeves and a collared yoke in contrast; for dress-up time, make it sleeveless and no yoke, and you can also add a bouffant skirt in tulle or lace. Our Coordinator shows you different ways to vary this attractive

BREAKFAST for six hungry boys is a real project for the Jenkins family of Glenview, Ill. Yet they all eat well and hearty.

Cooperation Is Keynote Of Large Family Breakfast

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Breakfast is important in any family to maintain health, spirits and growth. So all doctors and nutritionists warn. That's why the Jenkins family of Glenview, Ill., takes it so seriously. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, there are six active sons to feed every morning. The Jenkins week-day breakfast is served in three shifts: Dad eats with the three and four-year-olds. Then the six, eight, and 10-year olds eat together and lastly Mom and the baby. But on week-ends the entire family eats together.

Mrs. Jenkins says she serves both hot and ready-to-eat cereals every morning. Quick-cooking oatmeal or hot wholewheat cereal are prepared early and kept warm in a double boiler or casserole. She also offers the boys a choice of several ready-to-eat cereals.

How does she manage to feed such a large family? Cooperation is the keynote, she says. Mr. Jenkins does the weekly shopping every Thursday night. Bread and meats are purchased once a month and stored in the freezer. Fruit crisps are a popular dessert of the busy Jenkins family. Her cranberry-apple crisp is a variation of apple crisp. The topping can be prepared in the morning and combined with the fruit just before placing it in the oven.

Ike Expected To Make One Appearance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower is expected to make at least one major campaign appearance in the East this fall, to balance an announced schedule of three speeches in Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The chief executive was believed to be considering speaking engagements in one or more of three major Eastern seaboard cities — New York, Philadelphia and Boston — to help the uphill Republican drive to wrest control of Congress from the Democrats in the November elections.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, in announcing the October speeches in California and Chicago, said those "are not going to be the only ones" for the President although no others were ready for announcement.

In addition to still-to-be-announced speaking dates, Hagerty said Eisenhower will deliver one

LOVE ME, LOVE MY DACHSHUND

HEREFORD, England (PI) — A Dachshund named Otto was the happiest dog in England Monday and a bridegroom named Ron knew the full meaning of that old saw, "Love me, love my dog."

Maureen Prece, 21, cut short her honeymoon in Wales with bridegroom Prece, 27, after four days when she learned that Otto was grieving his heart out for her.

Maureen had telephoned her mother every day on the honeymoon to ask about Otto. Her mother reported that Otto refused to eat or drink and had crawled into a cupboard and just whined.

Maureen and Ron hurried home. Otto bounced from his cupboard to greet them, barking with delight. Then he wolfed down his first meal in four days.

"All the time I was courting Maureen, Otto wouldn't let her out of his sight," Ron said today with a note of resignation.

"He used to smuggle between us on the sofa, follow us if we went for a walk and even come to the pictures with us. Once I felt I could shoot him, but I never thought he could have ruined my honeymoon."

Although the Sahara Desert in northern Africa is often likened to a sea of sand, it can in no way be called a smooth sea. The broad stretches of undulating sand for the most part cover a rocky plateau, which in its central portion thrusts through the sand to mountainous heights. About half the desert is more than 1,000 feet above sea level and its highest peak is more than 11,000 feet above sea level.

Hagerty said the President will speak in Los Angeles on Oct. 20, in San Francisco the night of Oct. 21, and in Chicago Oct. 22. The two West Coast speeches will be carried by radio and television to western states. A similar regional network will be set up in Chicago.

TV Ellery Didn't Seem Very Queenish

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — I seem to remember Ellery Queen in the long ago of books and radio as a rather elegant young gentleman who solved tidy murder puzzles with a kind of modest appoggance.

On Friday, NBC-TV unsealed its "Further Adventures of Ellery Queen," a one-hour series that, sad to say, did not seem very Ellery Queenish at all.

Its hero — played by George Nader — came over as a typical TV sleuth complete with big knot in the tie and big wave in the hair.

The fastidiousness, the faint trace of world-weariness, the casual pomposity of Queen were missing. In Queen's place we were given an Everyman detective without any hint of distinction.

The fault was not Nader's alone. The opening script was weak — convincing and uningenious. Its writing was patchy and the direction of the piece was untasteful. It simply was not a very intriguing puzzlement.

I submit, too, there is something offensive about describing an elderly lady corpse in the following manner: "Brains, Mr. Queen... brains spilled all the way down her smock." Offensive, not because it shocks but because it's such a trite method of juicing up a listless script.

Funny As Ever

On Friday's credit side, CBS-TV's "Phil Silvers Show" moved in for the season with a typical Sgt. Bilko outing — wildly improbable and wonderfully funny. It's a pleasure to have the Bilko crew back.

Sunday's episode of NBC-TV's "Northwest Passage" struck me as a step in the right direction for the series. Its plot was drawn on a small canvas and its characters seemed closer to life size. I was prepared to dislike Sacha Distel, Brigitte Bardot's current beau, but after catching him on the CBS-TV "Ed Sullivan Show," I would say the boy has that extra plus. With the proper handling, he could become a successful personality — that is, someone who doesn't have to sing or dance or act to be a star.

The Channel Swim: Johnny Mathis pulled out of Tuesday night's opening "Garry Moore Show" in a dispute over script and songs. Some of the guests Moore has lined up for his CBS-TV hour this season include: Myrna Loy, Ford and Hines, Rocky Graziano, Melvyn Douglas, the McGuire Sisters, Hal March, Tommy Sands, Jose Greco and William Bendis.

Paper Shortage May Be Coming UN Report Says

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Unless pulpwood resources and paper production facilities are expanded at a much faster rate, consumers around the world are in for some lean years, according to a United Nations report on the pulp and paper industry.

The report was issued in the U.S. Food and Agriculture Organization's forestry division magazine, Unasylva. It noted that world consumption of pulp and paper products probably will increase at an annual minimum rate of between 4 and 6 per cent in the coming 20 year period.

At this rate, consumption will double in approximately 18 years although only "minor changes" in the supply pattern can be expected during the period. The report said most of the increased production will be absorbed by consumers in North America and Europe.

The report said the United States, despite increases in pulp and paper production, is still a deficit nation which must rely on imports. Europe's share in the total world pulp production is continually decreasing, and the big increase in production in Japan and China may be threatened by increasing scarcity of raw materials.

Latin America's future in the paper industry is brighter than Asia, but expansion there will be hampered by lack of capital. Africa and Oceania have expanded their production facilities but still cannot satisfy their own requirements. Russia has the largest unexplored resources of coniferous woods for paper pulp but domestic demands will outstrip supply for some time to come, the report said.

Eartha Asks For Tax Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sultry singer Eartha Kitt has asked the U.S. Tax Court to rule on the government's claim that she owes more than $30,000 in 1954 income tax.

The revenue service has challenged $42,162.14 in deductions which Miss Kitt claimed for that year. The Negro singer-actress, whose full name is Eartha Kit Nome, filed a 1954 tax return agreeing to pay $32,187 in taxes on a taxable income of $157,156. But in a letter dated June 25 the government told her she had a much higher taxable income and owes another $34,539.78 because some of her deductions were not allowable.

The road runner bird takes its name from its habit of running along the road in front of wagons and other slow vehicles.

Air Defense Official Claims Anti-Missile System Ready

A year ago the chief of America's Air Defense Command said that the American continent stood "naked," defensively, against any possible all-out missile attack. What's the situation today? The following dispatch gives the answer.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—A high staff officer of the North American Air Defense Command (NOAD) said today that an anti-missile system can be in operation prior to any significant threat of a massive use of the Russian intercontinental ballistic missile.

Gen. Harvey T. Alness, deputy chief of staff for plans and operations for NORAD, said that as recently as a year ago there was considerable doubt that such an anti-missile system could be constructed.

But, he added, progress in the last year—since the Russians put up their Sputnik last Oct. 4—has indicated there is now certainty that our anti-missile defense is paralleling the development of any enemy missile capability.

"We must maintain maximum effort if this problem is to be solved," said Alness. "We can't relax. We have a long way to go."

Military officials acknowledge that the defense of the United States and Canada is the greatest challenge ever undertaken in time of peace.

The threat of an effective air attack appeared to be markedly increased a year ago by the revelation—through Sputnik—of Russia's rocket missile capability. The massive rocket that carried Sputnik into orbit was the first glimpse of Russian potential in the ICBM field. The Soviets had upset our predicted timetable by a sudden and unexpected advance in weapon technology.

The question was immediately asked: "How effective is our present air defense system against missiles?"

At that time there was no answer except the grim one from Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander-in-chief of NORAD, who said: "If the aggressors' weapon is the ICBM the continent stands today almost naked as it did in 1946; for I have no radar to detect missiles and no defense against them."

But that was a year ago.

The response of the United States and Canada to Russia's new challenge was to promptly meet this threat of Russian weapon technology. Contracts were let to various U.S. and Canadian industries for the development of an effective anti-missile defense.

Military officials say the present system of air defense now in operation for the protection of the United States and Canada will not become obsolete in the foreseeable future. This system, built at a cost of 18 billion dollars was designed to combat the manned bomber. The bomber will continue to be a threat even after the Russians have operational ICBM's in significant numbers.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith announced it hopes to switch from a partnership to a corporation early next year. Under the partnership arrangement the firm is faced with the problem of maintaining capital when any partner withdraws from the business.

America's problem therefore is to speed up the capability of the present air defense system. The four basic actions for air defense—to detect, identify, to intercept, and to destroy—must be executed in a few seconds rather than in many minutes.

It is now estimated that the nation's warning time against a bomber attack is in the area of three to four hours. In the era of missiles this will be reduced, it is officially stated, to a maximum of 30 minutes, "from launch to point of destruction."

TV Show, Not Debbie Is Big Thing In Eddie's Life Now

Editors Note: This is the first of two interviews given exclusively to UPI Hollywood reporter Vernon Scott by Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds. It is the first interview they have allowed since announcing their divorce plans.

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Eddie Fisher, still shell-shocked from his explosive marital entanglement, is working overtime preparing for his first TV show of the season Tuesday night.

The singer admits he has more than the usual number of butterflies flapping around in his stomach.

"I'm always a little nervous about an opening show," he said. "But this one has special implications I guess."

Eddie has recovered from his bout with mononucleosis (a blood malady) and his throat infection has cleared up. He's gained six pounds and says he has overcome his personal difficulties by working until 2 and 4 a.m. rehearsing for his opening program.

He carefully avoided mention of Debbie Reynolds and Elizabeth Taylor, except to note that Mike Todd's beautiful widow is being unfairly accused of breaking up his marriage.

Have Better Programs
"The show is the important thing in my life right now," says Eddie.

"This year we'll have some surprises, and I'll be playing it straight. It was foolish of me to play a comedian last season in sketches with George Gobel. There are enough comics around without an amateur like me getting into the act."

Gobel and Eddie will swap guest stints only six times this season, compared with their weekly exchange in 1957-58.

"NBC arranged the 'Ike and Mike' act last year. We learned a lot from the experience," he said. "But this year George and I will have better programs because we'll have more time to devote to our own acts."

"We were kind of stuck with one another last season, but it was worth it. I found a real friend in George."

Jerry Lewis and Ernie Kovacs will lead off with Fiddie Tuesday night, as will Broadway singer-dancer Helen Gallagher.

"Autumn in America"
"Helen will be a big star one of these days, and if Jerry and Ernie play their cards right they might make it, too," Eddie quipped. "I'll have three guests along every week—people like Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Gary Crosby and Ethel Merman."

Eddie sipped a "Bloody Mary" cocktail and ran his hand through his thick, wavy hair. He grinned boyishly.

"I won't be standing in front of a curtain to do my singing either. Every show will have a basic theme. The first one is 'Autumn in America,' using various cities for backgrounds."

He pointed out that his show is one of five musicals returning to the air this season after a disastrous glut of singers filled the networks last year.

"So it's work and more work for me," Eddie concluded. "My rehearsals run into the small hours of the morning because I don't believe in working-regular hours."

"Besides, it keeps my mind off of other things."

Dixon To Open Britain For Night

DALLAS (UPI)—Sir P. Dixon, British ambassador to the United States, will open Neilman-Marcus' "Britain Fortnight" Oct. 13-27 at a special ceremony at the store.

Dixon will make a major address on the same day at a noon luncheon sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs.

The specialty store is presenting a variety of British products during its annual event, and other Dallas institutions will join in.

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts will feature an English print exhibition.

The Old Vic Company will make its first Texas appearance with three of Shakespeare's plays at the State Fair of Texas, and British films will be featured at several Dallas Theaters.

There's Big Money In Hats

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Hatters for the hatless are creating a boom business for the novelty manufacturers.

And the millinery industry approves.

"Thank goodness they're getting SOMETHING on their heads," said Babe Vierhaus, of the Millinery Institute. Milliners are hoping "something" will help convert the die-hards to wearing hats also.

The head coverings are known variously as whimsies, hatters, toppers, coil veils or block veils. And some of them are getting so elaborate they match real hats in price.

"I sell 1,500 coil veils a week," said Don Marshall, a milliner who makes hats and coil veils for Princess Grace of Monaco, Helen Hayes of the stage, and Mrs. William Knowland of politics.

Marshall showed some with sable and jewel trim priced at $125. But the airy head covers are available for $2.95 and $3.95 also.

Some makers starch the veils to bird-cage stiffness; others prefer a limper version. But all work with one aim—to create a becoming head-dress light enough to protect the hair-do with something more than spray, and yet not crush it.

AND THE RAINS CAME

For the second time, the entire farm of a young Hindu father was devastated. This time he lost his wife. How could he care for a sick infant daughter? Perhaps if he had her by the roadside someone better able to care for her would find her. And someone did...a nurse from a relief organization operated by one of America's religious faiths. Slowly the little body became stronger. The young father was traced and helped to make a new start. Texas Grid Team Escapes Injury

United Press International
The University of Texas Longhorns today held their first practice after their Friday night victory over Tulane, and found no significant injuries on the squad.

The entire starting lineup against Tulane was working out in the first unit. Clifford Grubbs was back in uniform after a three-week layoff as a result of a broken foot bone.

The Southern Methodist University Mustangs worked out in preparation for their game in the Cotton Bowl Saturday against Notre Dame.

Henry Christopher, who caught two touchdown passes in the Ohio State game Saturday, was promoted to the SMU first string. Dave Sherer, injured in the game last Saturday at Columbus, will miss the coming contest. Sherer led the nation in punting last year.

Hard Workout
Instead of their usual Monday light workout, the Rice Owls went through a stiff scrimmage concentrating on defense against Purdue University plays.

Coach Jess Neely called the coming game with the Big Ten team the "biggest team Rice has played in years and strong in every respect."

Rice made it through its meeting with Stanford in California last week with no serious injuries. Coach Neely said he would work the team hard again today, then try to taper off early in the week so the players will be as rested as possible Saturday.

The Baylor Bears prepared for their encounter with Miami University with an extra long and tough practice Monday.

The Bears emphasized offense as linemen had a lengthy full-line session. Backs, erks and centers concentrated on passing. The full team practiced timing drills and passing in dummy scrimmage.

Sweet Sets
Texas A&M gridgers worked out in sweat clothes, polishing passing and defense in preparation for the opening home game against Missouri this weekend.

Coach Jim Myers said "We were very disappointed in the play of our entire line," but added that he was pleased with the improvement of wingbacks Jim Few and Randy Sims. Blocking back Richard Gay also earned the coach's praise as the best Aggie player in last Saturday's 7-3 loss to Houston.

Texas Christian University Coach Abe Martin announced Monday that he plans to alternate his first three quarterbacks in the Saturday game with Arkansas.

Martin also predicted further spot substitutions in the contest, as the team watched film and worked on offensive drills and pass defense Monday.

War Dance Slated

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Madcap fans of the world champion Milwaukee Braves will stage a "war dance" tonight for their favorite tribe in a low budget civic celebration with a two-fold purpose.

The mayor's civic progress commission, has put together a program for less than $5,000 that includes a motorcade, a score of bands, Indians from Wisconsin tribes in full regalia and 45 minutes of fireworks.

The first reason:
The city is paying tribute to the Braves for winning the National League pennant for the second straight year.

The second reason:
An old-fashioned, rah-rah style "pep rally" to send the Braves into combat with the New York Yankees to decide the 1953 baseball championship of the world.

The Yankees arrived in Milwaukee Monday afternoon and went immediately to their World Series headquarters at Browns Lake resort, 30 miles southwest of the city near Burlington.

City fathers here have not invited the Yankees to take part in the civic celebration. The New Yorkers will have to make their own series "celebration" out at the resort where they have assembled an entourage of about 250 people.

"This is strictly for the Braves," said Ray Markey, chairman of the commission. "That's our team and we want to honor the players and manager Fred Haney and wish them well."

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees conceded that "I don't think they want us." He said the Braves "did it all alone" in winning the National League pennant, and "they should celebrate alone."

A remark attributed to him a year ago came back to haunt — and annoy — Stengel when he arrived here.

"Do you still think this is Bushville?" Stengel was asked as the Yankees were greeted by a quiet crowd of less than 150.

"I didn't say that," Stengel snapped, "and I don't answer questions like that."

However, Casey and his boys haven't been forgotten. Burlington can be considered outside the jurisdiction of "Bushville" proper and the Burlington city fathers leave for Milwaukee County Stadium. Casey gets the "key to the city" and the Yankees get a Kiwanis band send off.

Heiskell Cops Meet

Grover Lee Heiskell is the new Pampa Country Club golf champion. Heiskell defeated Dr. Foster Elder Sunday, 2 and 1, in the championship finals.

James Deaton beat Tommy Adkins, for the A flight title, and George Thompson defeated Jim Triplehorn for the B-4 flight championship. Ralph Gardner topped L. L. Garren for C flight honors, and Gene Groom downed Ed Myatt in D flight finals.

E flight finals are yet to be played. Grover Austin Sr. is scheduled to play the winner of a match to be played later in the week between Charlie Cook and D. E. Holt.

Torres Win Ires Ray

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson protested slugger Jose Torres' latest victory today, but Cus D'Amato proclaimed the young Puerto Rican middleweight a "potential champion."

Torres, 22, registered his win with straight professional triumph Monday night on a fifth-round technical knockout over Otis Woodard of New York before a near-sellout crowd of 3,216 at St. Nicholas Arena.

Middleweight champion Robinson was in Woodard's corner. D'Amato, manager of heavy weight champion Floyd Patterson and young Torres, was at ringside. Torres and Woodard each weighed 160 pounds.

Dr. Samuel Swetnick examined Woodard in his corner before the bell could ring to start the sixth round. The doctor asked referee Petey Della to stop the bout "because Woodard doesn't know where he is. He can't answer my questions. He's befuddled."

Sugar Ray protested angrily to the doctor in the ring: "He's all right! He's all right! Let him fight!"

It was the first fight at St. Nick's since Aug. 4, when a television contract expired. Promoter Teddy Brenner resumed weekly operations Monday night without benefit of TV.

Torres, former national AAU and Golden Glove champion and 1946 Olympic finalist, staggered Woodard in every round.

Baseball's Best Lefties To Meet In Series Play

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The two best lefthanded pitchers in baseball were matched for a World Series renewal Wednesday with the "country hick" Milwaukee Braves out to prove their victory over the "city slicker" New York Yankees last year was no one-shot wonder.

There was plenty of joy in "Bushville" when the word came from manager Fred Haney of the Braves that he would lead off with his 22-year-old pitcher, Warren Spahn, the only southpaw who has won 20 games nine seasons.

He'll face the "Ice-man" of the Yankees, Whitey Ford, when the two major league pennant winners square up at 1 p. m. e.s.t. Wednesday in this baseball mad metropolis.

"That's the way it was last year, and although Ford won, 3-1, the Braves came back to win the series in seven games.

after today's workout before announcing his starting lineup. He wanted to take another look at three of his crumples — outfielders Wes Covington and Billy Bruton and first baseman Frank Torre. All have asserted injuries but are expected to be able to play.

With Ford going for the Yankees however, Joe Adcock who bats right-handed is expected to start at first base instead of Torre.

The advance weather forecast for Wednesday called for fair and chilly, with the temperature in the low 60s.

Starting times — Milwaukee games start 3 p. m. (e.d.t.); New York games start 1 p. m. (e.d.t.), except Oct. 5 game which starts 2 p. m. (e.d.t.).

Last year's winner—Milwaukee, 4 games to 3.

Series favorite—Yankees, 13-10. First game odds—Even money.

First game pitchers — Braves: Warren Spahn (22-11); Yankees: Whitey Ford (14-7).

Rival managers — Braves: Fred Haney; Yankees: Casey Stengel.

Weather Forecast — Fair, temperature in low 60's.

Estimated winning player's share—$9,500.

Estimated losing player's share—$5,800.

Braves Feel More Confident Than in Last Year's Series

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The hawk-faced man leaned back, loose and easy, against the corner of his locker and there was deep conviction in his voice.

"One year ago we were as jittery as we could be," said Warren Spahn, who will pitch for the Milwaukee Braves when they open World Series against the New York Yankees Wednesday.

"These were the 'Mighty Yankees,'" he added, emphasizing the words and yet accenting them without being sarcastic. "We were as tight as an elephant in a telephone booth."

Games dates and sites—1st and 2nd games County Stadium, Milwaukee, Oct. 1, 2; 3rd, 4th, and 5th (if necessary) Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 4, 5, 6; 6th and 7th (if necessary) at County Stadium, Oct. 8, 9.

up they figure this time the Yankees have the burden of proof on their shoulders.

Spahn, a 22-game winner, once again is the Milwaukee wheelhorse. This was proved when manager Fred Haney named him for the opener against Whitey Ford — the "Little Iceman" of the Yankees who beat Spahn in last year's opener.

Has Changed Style
With a day off for travel after the second and, if necessary, the fifth games, Haney hinted broadly he would count on Spahn for three appearances if the Series goes that far.

"I've got some ideas about how to pitch to the Yankees but they're my secret," said the 37-year-old southpaw. "I've changed my style of pitching in the past year, although I don't want to say how specifically. They'll find they can't set a pattern against me."

"As for what I'll throw," he added slowly, "that depends on what's working when I warm up. It's a rare occasion when you can master four or five of the pitches you throw. Most times you only have one or two pitches working well and you throw those one or two pitches through most of the game."

Braves Feel Different

He didn't say either who he would pitch in the second game. The pitching was it would be bullet Bob Dickey, or perhaps Don (Perfect Guy) Larsen.

Has Changed Style
With a day off for travel after the second and, if necessary, the fifth games, Haney hinted broadly he would count on Spahn for three appearances if the Series goes that far.

"I've got some ideas about how to pitch to the Yankees but they're my secret," said the 37-year-old southpaw. "I've changed my style of pitching in the past year, although I don't want to say how specifically. They'll find they can't set a pattern against me."

"As for what I'll throw," he added slowly, "that depends on what's working when I warm up. It's a rare occasion when you can master four or five of the pitches you throw. Most times you only have one or two pitches working well and you throw those one or two pitches through most of the game."

Quarterback Club Meets Tonight

The rapid expanding Pampa Quarterback Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Robert E. Lee Junior High gymnasium.

Travis Lively, secretary of the organization had 41 members pay up their yearly dues to the organization and he said Tuesday morning that he expects some 60 to have paid up memberships taken by the end of tonight's meeting.

Coach Babe Curfman will again talk to the Quarterback Clubbers and show a film of last week's 22-8 triumph over El Paso Bowie. Curfman will also present a scouting report on this week's first conference opponent, Tascosa of Amarillo.

Sooners Grab Top UPI Poll Position

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Oklahoma's prairie powerhouse, shooting for its third national college football championship within four seasons, took over the No. 1 spot in the United Press International ratings today with Michigan State second.

Ohio State's defending national champions, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Auburn was fourth in a close vote. Only 64 points separated the top four teams in the balloting by the 35 outstanding coaches who comprise the UPI rating board.

Army, Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Iowa, Pittsburgh and Mississippi rounded out the top 10 in that order. The select group thus included four Big Ten teams.

Oklahoma, which displayed a new "pro type" offense in its impressive 47-14 season-opening victory over West Virginia, was the

No. 1 choice of 13 coaches. Michigan State attracted five first-place votes, Ohio State had six, Auburn three, Army four, while one each went to Notre Dame, Iowa, Oregon and Wake Forest. Oregon and Wake Forest were tied for the No. 19 ranking.

Wichita Falls Cops Number One Spot

DALLAS (UPI) — Port Arthur returned to the top 10 and Corpus Christi Miller and Orange made it for the first time this week as Wichita Falls took over the No. 1 spot in the United Press International coaches board Class AAAA schoolboy football ratings.

But, the Jackets dropped to 14th last week after being upset by Baytown.

Wichita Falls will be idle this week, but Highland Park hosts Fort Worth Arlington Heights, Abilene entertains Class AAA's No. 1 power, Breckenridge, Longview is at Grand Prairie, Dallas Wilson plays at San Antonio Jefferson, Port Arthur is at Corpus Christi Miller, Dallas Jefferson Plays Dallas South Oak Cliff, Orange hosts Vidor and Austin takes on Corpus Christi Ray.

Barons Lead Dixie Series

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI) — The Birmingham Barons, not bothered at all by the "less lively" ball used in the Texas League, will be after a commanding 3-1 lead in the Dixie Series tonight as they go against the Corpus Christi Giants for the fourth time.

Birmingham laced the Giants 13-2 Monday night to take a 2-1 game lead in the best-of-seven series.

There had been some talk about the Barons having trouble with a "heavier" ball used here, but they showed no signs of trouble Monday night, when they got to four Giant hurfers for 20 hits.

Corpus Christi's two runs came on bases-empty homers in the first and third by Eric Rodin and Art Dunham.

The difference in the regulation Southern and Texas League balls caused some comment earlier. The Southern Association ball, used in the Series games in Birmingham, is supposed to be lighter and livelier.

Mel Clark powered a homer in the Barons first with one man on against starter Eddie Fisher, but Birmingham failed to score again until the seventh, when they pushed it 3-2.

The Barons added three more in the eighth and really cut loose in the ninth, when they scored seven runs to make the game a rout.

The series has two more games scheduled here before the teams return to Birmingham.

BUD REVEALS NEW OFFENSE

By JACK BRANNAN
United Press International

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Oklahoma has added another twist to its winning yarn, providing a new mystery for future football opponents to unravel.

Coach Bud Wilkinson, however, doesn't think his new offense is as complicated as it seemed last week when Oklahoma humiliated West Virginia, 47-14.

"It's really nothing new or novel," Wilkinson commented on the wide-open multiple attack. "It enables us to move a little number of errors with it, however."

Hines, Starr Win Wrestling Matches

In Monday night wrestling matches at Top O' Texas Sportsman's Club, Bud Hines defeated Tommy Phelps and Kathy Starr won over Helen Hill in a double pin.

There was a little extra-curricular activity after the Hines-Phelps match — a battle in the spectators' section.

Colorado was unimpressive in its 13-3 victory over Kansas State last week in the season's first Big Eight game. Colorado was out-rushed and out-passed by the Wildcats but managed the victory on the strength of its defense.

Three other Big Eight teams won inter-sectional games. Missouri defeated Idaho, 14-0; Iowa State blanked Arizona, 27-14; and Oklahoma State defeated North Texas State, 21-14. Two Big Eight teams were shut out in inter-sectional clashes. Purdue whipped Nebraska, 28-0, and Oregon State stopped hapless Kansas, 12-0.

Houston, favored to win the Missouri Valley championship, backed up its pre-season rating last week by blasting Texas A&M, 39-7.

Tulsa, the league's "unpredictable" team, got a long-awaited victory over Arkansas, 27-14. It was Tulsa's first victory over Arkansas in six years and its first in Fayetteville in 39 years.

Wichita and Cincinnati tied 16-16 in the only valley conference action last week.

One league game—Houston at Cincinnati—is scheduled Saturday. Other action finds Arizona at Tulsa, Drake at Iowa Teachers, and New Mexico A&M at North Texas State. Bradley has an open date.

Red Ideology Is Soaring Rapidly

By K. C. THALER
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)—Mao Tse-tung's position as a foremost spokesman of Communist ideology appears to have soared since November, 1957, when world Communist chiefs gathered in Moscow to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

This was the meeting that issued the manifesto outlawing "revisionism."

At the time, attention was focused on the meeting largely because of Yugoslavia's refusal to sign along with the other Communist countries.

But, as Yugoslavia herself was to learn a few months later, the decisions taken at Moscow were of the most fundamental importance. And, as one Eastern European source put it, Mao played the leading role in getting them approved.

"It was not so much that Mao spoke to the meeting as that he lectured the others on the question of ideology," he said. "His prestige was already on the rise, but it increased enormously at the Moscow meeting."

Full effects of the new resolution against "revisionism." Russia was a leader in criticizing the draft program prepared by the Yugoslavs for their own Communist party congress.

But when criticism was shifted to violent attack, when Yugoslavia was again denounced in terms reminiscent of the great Cominform split of 1948, it was Communist China that took the lead.

On May 5, the Peoples Daily of Peiping broke out with a blistering attack on Tito's brand of Communism and concluded that the Cominform had been "basically correct" in expelling Yugoslavia in 1948.

It was only on the following day that Pravda joined the attack in Moscow, not with an assault of its own but by printing the text of the Peoples Daily article.

Tito, the man with whom Khrushchev made peace in 1956 with apologies and confessions of error, was once more beyond the pale. This time the most telling blow had been delivered not from Moscow but from Peiping.

Last month came the secret meeting in Peiping between Khrushchev and Mao. Subsequent events tend to confirm the belief that Mao persuaded if not forced Khrushchev to abandon his projected summit meeting and virtually won a blank check for Russian support in the Far East.

while Khrushchev stresses the brother solidarity of the two nations. But Eastern European sources who geographically are closer to Moscow than Peiping, say that today it is Mao who is accepted everywhere as the top authority on Communist ideology.

Why, in view of China's continued dependence on Russia for economic and military support, can she exercise such apparent pressure on the Kremlin. These sources reply that the economic equality has been offset by a series of political and personal factors. They cite as especially important Moscow's loss of prestige by the zig-zagging of policy in the post-Stalin struggle for power.
