

Registration Dates Set For Youths Reaching 18

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—President Roosevelt fixed three separate registration periods today for youths who have reached or will reach their 18th birthdays in the last half of this year.

those who became 18 in November and December will register in the week starting December 26 and closing December 31.

Here Are Points To Remember In Ration Sign-Up

Last minute instructions to all passenger car owners and motorcycle owners for registering for basic ration books Thursday, Friday and Saturday have been issued by the War Price and Ration Board and the city and county officials in charge of the procedure.

Item one for applicants to remember, the ration board announced, is that all applications must be made out in pen and ink, on the typewriter, or in indelible pencil.

Item two to remember, is that if the car registration receipt is made out in another name other than the present owner, an additional certification card, which can be secured at the ration board, must accompany the application and receipt.

Farmers Who Leave Jobs Reclassified

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced today that men deferred as essential farm workers must get approval of their draft boards if they wish to leave their jobs or else be classified as available for immediate military service.

This applies to married men with children as well as to all other men, Hershey's aides said, and is effective immediately.

The regulation was revealed in an announcement of instructions sent by Hershey to local boards covering provisions of the new draft act which lowers the minimum age to 18.

The 18 and 19-year-olds who registered last June 30 are to be called for induction in the order of their birthdates so far as practicable, with the oldest being called first.

In addition to ordering local boards to reclassify men who quit essential farm work without advance notice, the instructions forbade the boards to release any farm-deferred men "for voluntary enlistment in either land or naval forces."

Hershey's action also cleared the way for classification of farms themselves so as to distinguish "essential" from "non-essential" farms.

Asserting that farm workers would "not lose their deferment if they change from one 'necessary' farm job to another or from one 'necessary' farm to another of the same nature," his announcement added:

"But if the deferred farm worker seeks to move from his 'necessary' farm to a job in industry or to a non-necessary farm or elsewhere, he must first obtain the permission of his local board."

President Roosevelt yesterday asked all federal government agencies and departments to cancel any military deferments that had been given government employees by reason of such employment.

If any were found irreplaceable by women or older men, the president asked for full details so that their cases could be passed on individually.

Traditional Bonus At Christmas OK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—You can still get (or give) that traditional Christmas bonus, and federal approval isn't necessary.

But note that it must be traditional. In other words, this is not the year to start a bonus custom, just because business is good.

It is not the year to increase it either. Of course, if bonuses have been based on a percentage of salary, and the salary has increased, then the amount of bonus also increases, but not the percentage. But if the bonus has been a fixed amount, it cannot be increased above the sum given in the last bonus year.

40 EXECUTIONS

LONDON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Czech government sources said today that 40 executions within five days had been reported from Prague in a new wave of Nazi terrorism which they believed was intended to curb the enthusiasm of Czechs over allied successes in Africa.

Nazis Massed For Defense

Yanks Off To Front—Wearing their camouflaged uniforms for jungle fighting, American infantrymen sit in trucks somewhere in New Guinea as they headed for the front to fight with Australians against the Japs.

Pacific Offensive Believed Nearer

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 18. (AP)—Japan, despite a mighty concentration of air and sea borne power in the South Pacific, has failed to shake plans for an American offensive.

The Japs appear to have lost the initiative in that sector, paying heavily in planes, ships and men.

General Douglas MacArthur has taken the field in New Guinea for a growing land offensive there. The great Solomon victory of Nov. 13-15 demonstrates clearly allied command of the sky, sea and land in the Guadalcanal sector. All these things point to the shaping of plans to break into the greater Asia sphere of Japanese conquest and roll the enemy back.

The comment by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, relative to future action "that 'maybe it will be of our choosing, not their choosing,' is regarded as highly significant.

Those in charge of operations point out there is a long hard fight ahead and there is no reason to assume that progress will be made by leaps and bounds. Guadalcanal merely is an outpost of Japan's area of conquest. Despite their losses, the Japs still possess strong naval power and tremendous resources of fighting men.

Japanese loss of life has been heavy—5,000 in the battle of the Coral sea; more than 10,000 at Midway; and perhaps between 20,000 and 40,000 in the crumpling of the Guadalcanal-bound invasion force; as well as more than 5,000 on Guadalcanal.

But even this is far less crippling than losses in flying personnel and carrier-based planes. It is believed that an important part of the trained naval aviation strength of the Japs has been destroyed. This may be the explanation why no carriers were used by the Japanese in the showdown effort last week.

The new director of training here is a native of Union City, Tenn., and a graduate of West Point. He trained at Randolph and Kelly Fields and from 1938-42 was an instructor at Kelly until being moved to Midland and thence to Big Spring to become commanding officer of the first provisional training group.

His successor will be Maj. William R. Boutz, who was originally commanding officer of the 817th school squadron here before being elevated to the position of executive officer of the first provisional training group a month ago. Capt. Dwin Rockie succeeded Maj. Boutz as CO of the 817th.

Small Gains At Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Nov. 18. (AP)—At the end of the first week of renewed offensive thrusts into Stalingrad, the Germans today had gained only a few yards in persistent and costly efforts to occupy the northern factory district for winter quarters.

The army newspaper Red Star said the nazis had been concentrating their attack on a sector less than 400 yards wide, trying vainly to break through to the Volga.

Although ice floes in the river have complicated the Russians' supply problem temporarily, the defenders have been holding their lines generally and taking a heavy toll of Nazi lives and equipment. It was reported.

The Germans have been held largely on the defensive for the past week in the Caucasus where the Russians have been harassing them with counterattacks in the Nalchik area and with scouting raids around Tuapse, battle dispatches said.

Generally the broad picture of a stalemate costly to the stalled axis armies holds from day to day with the minor changes in the lines tending to offset one another.

Darlan Deal Is Temporary, FDR Assures

Says French People Themselves To Set Up Future Govt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Free and Fighting Frenchmen had President Roosevelt's categorical assurance today that political arrangements made with Admiral Jean Darlan in North Africa were "only a temporary expedient," dictated by military necessity.

In a statement obviously designed to allay mounting unrest over the part being played by Darlan, who was a Vichy collaborator until he was captured by American troops, the president said the "present temporary arrangement should be made with Admiral Darlan, x x x."

"We are opposed to Frenchmen who support Hitler and the axis," Gen. Charles De Gaulle, leader of the Fighting French, had declared in London that he and his followers could not accept any arrangements that would "in effect" set up a Vichy regime in North Africa.

The president said that without exception the temporary arrangement made with Darlan apply to "the current local situation only," and added:

"The future French government will be established—not by an individual in metropolitan France or overseas—but by the French people themselves after they have been set free by the victory of the United Nations."

Spotlight Guides Lost Flier To A Safe Landing

PALESTINE, Nov. 18. (AP)—An alert policeman used the spotlight on his patrol car to signal a lost navy flier to a safe landing here last night.

Lieut. J. B. Rainey, Jr., of Houston missed Dallas on a flight from California and had only an hour's supply of gasoline in his tank when he arrived over Palestine. He flew low, his landing light burning.

Night Police Chief Elton Corley decided the flier must be in trouble. He drove his car into a residential district, away from the glare of downtown lights, and flashed the spotlight beam upward, flicking it on and off.

Rainey caught the signal. Then Corley drove toward the city's new airport. By that time several other cars were following Corley, whose spotlight beam guided Rainey to the air field.

Award Made For Two New Hangars At Air Base

Award of a contract for construction of two additional hangars at the Big Spring Bomber School was announced Wednesday by John W. Sergeant, engineer in charge of the airport project.

Ross Construction company of San Angelo was awarded the job. Work likely will get underway next week, Sergeant said.

Cost of the work could not be announced for publication. The two new hangars will be similar to the three already in use.

Allies Get Many Ships In Africa

LONDON, Nov. 18. (AP)—The ministry of economic warfare announced today that the Allies had acquired between 300,000 and 300,000 tons of merchant shipping as a result of their entry into North Africa.

Gov. Coke Stevenson and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann suggested the postponement, pointing out that tabulations from 100 per cent of the state's 284 counties would be needed to determine the results of the close constitutional amendment contests.

Allies Sending In Parachute Troops To Lead Attack

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler was reported massing a fleet of more than 1,000 planes in southern Italy, Crete, Sardinia and Sicily in an attempt to defend the last Axis bases in North Africa today as the Nazi-controlled Paris radio announced that German troops had "captured" Bizerte in Tunisia.

Use of the word "captured" appeared to refute previous Berlin assertions that the Germans moved in "to defend their French compatriots in Tunisia" and met only cooperation from French soldiers in the vital North African buffer state.

Tunisia lies between American-held Algeria on the west and Italian Tripolitania on the east. Simultaneously, British parachute troops borne by huge American transport planes were reported swarming down on key points in the Mediterranean coastal colony, spearheading an advance by perhaps 150,000 allied soldiers from Algeria.

American sky troops had already occupied an airport on the Tunisian frontier. Military secrecy hid the extent of the Allied thrust into Tunisia, but a British broadcast quoted Lt. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson, commander of the British 1st army, as declaring himself satisfied with a "very good start" by his forces.

German broadcasts boasted that axis troops were well established and ready to meet the Allied offensive. "Following the occupation of Bizerte, the initiative now is in the hands of the Germans and Italians in Tunisia," a Nazi broadcast said.

Reports of intensified British submarine activities indicated that Hitler was desperately seeking to rush sea-borne reinforcements across the Mediterranean to the Dark Continent, as well as concentrating great numbers of planes for a showdown battle.

But the axis claim that only a few months ago threatened to squeeze the entire Middle East was now steadily withdrawing its burnt fingers.

While Anglo-American troop columns drove eastward into Tunisia, British headquarters announced that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th army advanced 80 miles across the Libyan desert yesterday to reach a point only 70 miles from the axis base at Bengasi on the Gulf of Sirte.

The new British sweep in pursuit of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's tattered armies narrowed the axis "escape gap" between Tunisia and Libya to about 820 miles.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, British Middle East commander-in-chief, told newsmen that only 15 of 500 axis tanks in Egypt escaped destruction or capture, but predicted that Rommel would attempt a stand near El Aghelia, at the bottom of the Gulf of Sirte.

Alexander said Rommel had erected "strong defensive positions" in the El Aghelia area, and he added:

"The enemy is groggy, but not knocked out. The battle will not be ours until the enemy is lying senseless. He is a good fighter and will keep up his rearguard action in an effort to hold us back as long as there is a possibility of his getting reinforcements by air and sea."

Rommel himself was reported in Tunisia for a last-ditch attempt to stem the Allied offensive.

Conflicting reports variously pictured the French in Tunisia as aiding both the Allies and the axis, some responding to Hitler's appeal for help while others accepted Admiral Jean Darlan's invitation to fight on the side of the United Nations.

A broadcast from the radio in American-occupied Algiers said French patrols clashed repeatedly with German reconnaissance forces operating out of Bizerte, big Tunisian naval base, and drove the nazis back in one skirmish.

GOVERNOR GETS DEER

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson was back from a hunting trip today with this report: "One shot, one buck." He bagged the deer, a nine-point, in Sutton county.

75 Turkeys To Be Freed To Crowd Here Thursday

Several thousand people are expected to jam downtown streets here Thursday afternoon for the second annual Turkey Day event sponsored by the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce.

Around 75 birds are to be released simultaneously as the commitments of a two score Big Spring business firms to the persons who are lucky enough to catch them.

Rules of the event are simple: Just be downtown at 3:44 p. m. Half a minute later traffic lights will flash to caution to freeze traffic and avoid the possibility of car and pedestrian accidents. At 3:45 p. m. the fire siren will wail—and the air will be filled with turkeys.

Some will sail into the arms of unsuspecting persons. Others will fall into the midst of a sea of grabbing hands. A few will flutter to signs and tantalize an anxious public.

There will be some pushing and shoving, there may be a scrap or two. But in the end 75 persons will go away with the piece de resistance for a Thanksgiving dinner under their hand.

Two Mexican Children Die In Road Crash

Collision of a car bearing a family of Mexican farm laborers with an oil truck on the highway two miles south of Ackerly Wednesday morning resulted in the death of two children and injury to several others.

The dead were Hortencia Segovia, 4, and Caritina Segovia, one year old. Five other members of the family were under treatment for injuries and two others received first aid at the Big Spring hospital.

The accident occurred about 8 a. m. when the car containing members of the Segovia family attempted to pass another car on the highway. Early morning fog obscured the road so that the driver of the car, Manuel Segovia, didn't see the approaching truck and met it almost head on, investigators said. Names of occupants of the other machine figuring in the crash were not obtained immediately.

Charmen Segovia is being treated for probable internal injuries and Estanislao Segovia for lacerations. Another man, Leo, received a broken hand; Manuel, an injured shoulder; and Belen, was shaken up but not injured.

Of the two little girls, Caritina was killed instantly and Hortencia died before arrival at the hospital. Both were thrown from the car.

The Segovias resided near Ackerly. Funeral services for the two girls will be held Thursday from the Eberly Funeral home with the Rev. George Julian, pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church, in charge.

Poll Tax Is 'Fundamental'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Opponents of a bill to abolish state poll taxes as a voting qualification decided at an informal caucus today to get their views before the country in a formal speech in the senate by one of their number as soon as possible.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said that as soon as parliamentary maneuvering could be dispensed with, the southern opponents of the measure wanted to make their views clear to offset charges that they were carrying on a petty filibuster.

"Some fundamental issues are involved in this fight," Connally told reporters. "If the country knew what they were, I think we would be supported in our stand."

The southerners, using every parliamentary device, have prevented for five legislative sessions consideration of a motion by Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky to take up the controversial bill.

Gas Allotment In The East Reduced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Uncle Sam is going to hold back more gasoline from the basic ration allowances in the east to help make certain that American war machines in Africa keep rolling.

Acknowledging that "this cut is going to cut," but that "it is absolutely essential," the office of price administration announced last night that beginning Nov. 2 an "A" coupon will be worth three gallons of gas instead of four as at present.

The order will not affect the rest of the nation where gasoline rationing begins Dec. 1 nor will it alter the value of the "B" and "C" coupons.

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONFIELD

Chapter 28
Telephone Booth
Todd didn't get much out of his 2 o'clock economics class. In fact he got nothing. He sat there staring out the window, still trying to figure out why he hadn't hung on to Talbot's chin. Maybe it was the direct approach. Talbot had made. Or he didn't want to create a scene. Or—

Hold it, Malone! he told himself. You're not going to bits at that other stuff. That phoney loyalty stuff Talbot was talking about.

So what if Talbot was right. A little. What if it would be fairly easy to swing. Was that any reason to even give it a second thought?

Easy to swing... Yeah, the right guy might have worked it out. When two teams were as evenly matched as State and Michigan it might be worked out. But you're not the right guy, Malone. You had a good cause to be the right guy but you're not. Even for $2000 that the Duke could use. Talbot was right about it being an easy two thousand....

Todd forced his attention back to the professor lecturing up front. He riveted his eyes on the prof's face, making himself listen to every word even though the lecture wasn't making sense. A good many things failed to make sense in the next day or two.

Then, on Thursday night Ben Talbot walked into a drugstore near the entrance to the campus and went to one of the phone booths in the rear.

He hesitated for a moment, his finger on the dial, then dropped his nickel and closed the door behind him. Almost at the same instant Anne Trevor walked into the booth next to his.

"Let me speak to Todd Malone, please..." Talbot said. "Anne Reports"

There was a knock on Susan's door. "Come in," she called. Anne Trevor entered and looked at Amy Bassett, then at Susan. "Can I see you for a few minutes in my room, Susie?" Anne said.

"Sure thing," Susan put down her notebook and wondered at the queer expression on Anne's face. She followed Anne to her room.

"What's doing?" Anne lit a cigarette nervously. "I stopped in at a drug store at the other end of the campus just a while ago and went into a phone booth to get an address from information. I had just dropped my nickel when I heard someone in the booth next to me ask for Todd Malone. Well—I was only human; I listened."

"So now you're repenting your sin as an eavesdropper," Susan joked. "No, it isn't that, Susan—I overheard a good part of the conversation that took place at my end. The man in the booth next to me asked Todd if he'd changed his mind. He said something about two thousand dollars and then raised it to twenty-five hundred. He said 'all you got to do is call one wrong at the right time—that's the one that might do it.' Then he said, 'there won't be a soul in the stadium who'll be able to spot it, including Michigan.'"

"He told Todd he'd be a sap if he passed up a good thing." Anne stopped and looked at Susan helplessly. Susan's lips were dry. She hardly dared think about what was in her mind. "Did you hear anything else?" she asked.

Anne nodded. "Just one other thing. The man next to me finally said, 'so think it over—for the Duke.' Then I saw him go out with a smile. I don't know who he was. I never saw him before."

They were both silent again for awhile. "I don't know what's going on but I thought I ought to mention it to someone—so—well, I told you."

"I understand, Anne. Thanks very much. But I want you to promise me you won't breathe a word of this to anyone. Absolutely nobody. I want to think about it for awhile. Tomorrow we'll talk about it again."

When Susan went to bed that night she turned her face to the wall so Amy couldn't see that her eyes were wet.

Two Troubled Girls
The alumni started coming Friday afternoon, not as many as in recent years but in sufficient numbers and in the proper frame of mind to insure a real homecoming week-end. A couple of the more recent graduates showed off new husbands.

But it all didn't quite jell with Susan. She didn't even feel like going to the gigantic rally that night, the grand-daddy of all State rallies according to the billing, with a bonfire scheduled to assume the proportions of the burning of Rome.

Anne took her aside after dinner. "Susan," she began uneasily. "About that—what about that—"

She wasn't quite able to really frame her question but Susan knew what she meant. There was a note of resignation in Susan's voice. "Maybe we seem to be sure what that conversation meant. Maybe I should put it up squarely to Malone."

"Oh, Anne, I don't know what to do," she added fiercely. "If anything happens I'll never forgive myself for having kept this quiet, but I just can't bring myself to confront Todd; or tell Ed Luttrell, or anybody."

Susan leaned on a chair and stared out the window. "Shall I tell you what this really means, Anne? What we really have to do? If there is something to it—if he does have an opportunity to—sell out the team—then he's got to overcome that temptation himself. I'm not a professional soul-saver or anything like that but the only way he can really do himself any good is to lick it himself. Maybe you have an idea what I mean."

Anne was not quite convinced, although she understood Susan's reasoning. "But perhaps, if we let him know that a conversation was overheard—"

"What would you think at the best, it would just mean that we didn't trust him enough to let him decide." Susan frowned and her voice trembled. "And you did say that—that man went out smiling?"

"Yes," Anne thought a moment. "But you're right, and heaven help us if—"

"He can't do it," Susan interrupted tersely. "He just can't."

Periodic pain is no longer a forbidden topic. So learn about CARDUI, which may help in one of two ways: (1) as a tonic, it may pep up appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build energy for the "time" to come; (2) started 3 days before the time, and taken as directed, it may aid in relieving prurient functional, periodic pain. # Porkers Getting Ired At Tulsa, Plan To Smash That Win Record

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 18 (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks read in the paper where Tulsa considered them easy victims.

Baylor, said the chronicler, was the last tough team on the Hurrican's schedule. Tulsa, he indicated, figured on taking Creighton and Arkansas in stride.

Well, says Coach George Cole of the Razorbacks, that made the Arkansas boys mad. It is to be remembered that the last time Arkansas got mad a sports writer had his hair clipped off.

The Porkers have no particular designs on the flowing locks of Tulsa's undefeated, untied Hurrican but they do plan to do a little barber work on that perfect record.

The Razorbacks have lost 16 straight Southwest conference games. They haven't won inside their own circuit since October of 1940. But in nine victories out of 25 games in three years, eight of them have been against inter-sectional foes and twice they beat Tulsa.

Arkansas, despite its record, has been one of the toughest teams in the Southwest against outside opposition. For instance the Porkers have won only two games this year and both were against inter-sectional opponents. The six they lost were inside the conference.

The Razorbacks close out the season with Detroit at Detroit Saturday and Tulsa at Tulsa Thanksgiving Day.

They probably won't beat Detroit since it doesn't have a perfect record and has made no cracks about their football ability. Tulsa, however, is another matter.

Georgia Tech Freshman Bids For Top Honors

ATLANTA, Nov. 18 (AP)—Case, a freshman football star make all-conference?

This is the question being kicked around Southeastern conference gridiron huddles today—and the little guy they're talking about is Georgia Tech's plucky, Cannonball Clint Castleberry.

Tech partisans rate him equal to Georgia's Frankie Sinkwich, argue that he should not only make all-America as well.

If the slender southpaw fires Tech to a convincing victory over Georgia 10 days hence—as he did against Alabama, Duke, Navy and Notre Dame—he certainly will be boomed for national recognition, regardless of his freshman status.

Unusual is Castleberry's brilliance as a defensive player. He prevented at least two Alabama touchdowns by sensational leaps to bat down forward passes.

In earlier games he helped beat Notre Dame with a touchdown pass to Pat McHugh. Against Navy he sprinted 92 yards with an intercepted pass to score a touchdown. Against Duke he set up a touchdown with a 21-yard southpaw pass to Jack Marshall. Against Kentucky he scooted 40 yards to enable one touchdown.

Mack To Trade Off Star Outfielder

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18 (AP)—Connie Mack and Big Bob Johnson, the Philadelphia Athletics' hard-slugging Indian outfielder, came to a peaceful parting of the ways today after ten long, and sometimes hard, years.

Connie announced that the pride of the A's will be traded at the Chicago major league meeting opening December 1, if a suitable deal can be arranged, and added: "He deserves a chance to play on a pennant contender."

New Leaders In Southwest Statistics

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 18 (AP)—New names are moving into the top statistical lists of Southwest conference football.

The old standbys—Roy McKay of Texas, Leo Daniels and Cullen Rogers of Texas A. and M.—continue to hold leadership in major divisions of ball-carrying, passing and pass-receiving but there's a new punting leader, a new pass interception king and all along the line the fellows you haven't heard much about are closing in.

Bob (Chic) Forte of Arkansas gained 87 yards against Southern Methodist last week to bring his total to 426 for the season and third place in the ball-carrying race. He advanced from fifth.

McKay still is well out in front with 671 yards and his teammate, Jackie Field, is second with 590. Barney Welch, the sensational Texas A. and M. sophomore, took over the punting leadership when he kicked for an average of 47.4 against Rice. His average now is 42.1, four-fifths of a yard ahead of Stoop Dickson of Rice. Dean Bagley, of Texas Christian, the leader last week, fell out of the first six in combating a high wind at Fort Worth against Texas Saturday.

Bill Coleman of Baylor became the top punt returner on the average basis, replacing Daniels. He now has a mark of 39.7 per return. Max Sellings of Arkansas still is the leader in yards gained, however, with 246.

Daniels stayed out in front in passing by completing seven for 67 yards against Rice. He now has 61 completions for 697 yards. Emory Nix of Texas Christian is second with 55 for 545. Abel Gonzales of S. M. U. went from fifth to fourth with 110 yards against Arkansas. His total now is 402.

Okla. Ag Coach Wants To Let The Cage Rules Alone

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 18 (AP)—Most basketball coaches will temper with the rules at the drop of a chairman's gavel.

So it's surprising to learn that Henry F. Dea of basketball returned Oklahoma A. and M. College wants the rule book status quoed for the duration. Shortage of material, either for remodeling the gymnasium or the team, makes innovation too difficult, he insists.

Dea especially hopes the baskets are kept at their present height, proposals to boost the buckets have dribbled in repeatedly from coaches who feel tall players now have too much of an advantage.

Push up the hoop, they argue, until the tallest has to jump for it. Aggie teams in the past often have been rapid but rusty. This year they will have height supplied in one liberal chunk by a 7-foot, 214-pound freshman, Bob Kurland of St. Louis. He hopes the baskets stay right where they are so Kurland can continue to fan them with his ears.

A. and M. always travel minded, goes east again this year, opening Madison Square Garden's college season Dec. 12 in a game with City College. Other opponents on the trip will include Niagara at Buffalo, St. Joseph's at Philadelphia and George Washington at Washington, D. C.

Ward Schools Clash Today For Title

West Ward and Central Ward, arch gridiron enemies of the elementary school league, will fight to the finish in a play-off session for the loop championship at 4:30 p. m. today.

The two fought a scoreless tie in the first game of the season and then went on to win the rest of their games. Their offensive and defensive showings have been similar over the stretch.

Stevenson May Be Out Of Lineup For Game With Abilene

Two members of the regular backfield may be missing when the Steers line up here Friday for a renewal of their ancient grid rivalry with Abilene.

With Ernest Bostick out of harness for the season, more backfield grief appeared to be in store due to failure of Dewey Stevenson's leg to heal as rapidly as hoped. Dewey got a charley horse in the San Angelo game and the frog just won't go away. He thinks he will be ready to go but Coach John Dibrall thinks not.

This means that Hugh Cochran probably will be shifted to quarterback, and Bobby Barron will fill in at the left half slot to replace Bostick. Billy Mims will stay at his right half job, and Hunk Stewart will be in there at fullback.

The line, although bruised up, will be intact. Glen Brown, whose hip had a bad lick in the last tilt, probably will be ready to start and it appears that Peppy Blount's ankle will be strong enough for him to function.

There is a possibility that the game will be played at night instead of afternoon as originally scheduled. Dibrall said that weather prospects Thursday morning would determine if the shift would be made. He talked with Vernon Hilliard, Abilene coach, and Hilliard is agreeable to any changes.

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (AP)—Georgia Tech, Alabama, Tennessee and Missouri are considered the teams most likely to receive bids from the Cotton Bowl as plans go forward for staging the Dallas gridiron classic Jan. 1.

James Stewart, executive secretary, has ordered tickets printed, and officials will meet soon to extend preliminary feelers to teams deemed most noteworthy.

The game will pit the Southwest conference champion against an opponent to be selected—and indications are the bowl officials are leaning definitely toward the Southeast and Big Six.

Also there is considerable agitation for Tulsa to be invited and there is some talk about Hardin-Simmons.

But while nothing definite has been done, reportedly there has been some missionary work done toward Alabama, which played in the bowl last year and this season has lost only to Georgia and Georgia Tech, the No. 1 and No. 2 teams of the nation; Missouri, which has a good record in the Big Six; Tennessee and of course the two Georgias.

Just who will represent the Southwest is a moot question. Right now three teams are virtually tied for the lead and it may be Thanksgiving day before a champion can be determined.

Some statisticians estimate that the population of South America, which in 1940 was about 100,000,000, will double in the next 29 years.

OIL IS AMMUNITION... USE IT WISELY

Oil-PLATING doesn't all quickly go draining off down to the crankcase. Oil down there in the depths is still trying to "get a move on" as the engine starts, while OIL-PLATING is already faithfully fastened clear up to the topmost piston rings. Simply because OIL-PLATING doesn't all go away, it's there ahead of time, to get ahead of rampant wear in starting cold. It's there the rest of the time, too. And so the strong liquid-type film of Conoco Nth oil is sliding between OIL-PLATED surfaces. Not much look-in for wartime wear. Better change to an OIL-PLATED engine, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. He knows your correct Winter grade of Conoco Nth oil. Continental Oil Company

DON'T flunk an easy one!... This is worth thought... The prize at stake is your car!
...Today's sensible top speed of 85 for patrolots is a cinch for your engine, compared to unlubricated solid starting—way down at 00 miles an hour!
People in dead earnest to battle wear from the very start, are having their engines OIL-PLATED. Without using up extra moments or money, they simply change to Conoco Nth motor oil—patented. And this oil's added modern synthetic—with apparent "magnetic attraction"—closely bonds lubricant to inner engine parts. That's called OIL-PLATING because it resembles any good protective plating in not all "going elsewhere" while the car stands cold.

Film and Is Rolling In 'Poverty'

By ROBBIN COONS
 HOLLYWOOD—It's going to be tough and maybe it's going to be full but doubtless we'll get used to this poverty-stricken, leveled-off town.

The picture's confused and cloudy but this is what I get: Everybody's making $25,000 so nobody knows who's better than anybody else. The Hollywood social register is climbing wallpaper in confusion, just like most of the folks who tried to figure out the ramifications of the $25,000 limit decrease. Nobody can snoot anybody any more.

There are no $300,000-a-picture gals to condescend graciously to poor little $2,000 a week featured players, and even the extras can show up to fame with a chummy feeling. After all, when you get down to it, there's not so much difference between $25 a day and $25,000 a year—only three digits. That's practically hello-there distance in these times.

"Who, him?" you hear a chorine mutter scornfully. "Why, that hunk of ham is just a 25-grander. Definitely not my type. I'm leaving this cheesy business to go after one of them signs of wealth."

"Signs? You mean scions?" you say.

"Sure. Dollar scions."

The course of true love will get into the rough. How is a gal going to know if her steady date would have been better than a 25-grander?

For a while there's a faded aristocracy, like White Russia's Dolly Deliculous swaggers into the moon-boosters' in her old ratty mink, and people whisper that there goes a gal who in her time made mighty marmosa. Dolly glows with prideful memory as she snuffles her 75-cent Blue Plate Special and the old juke box plays on.

There are no more autograph hounds. The 25-grand monotony has driven them to gin-rummy, drink, or paper dolls, for Art with a Capital F has gone and they won't know who's really an actress.

The producers are having fun. No more annoying, vulgar money talk, and they can get a dozen stars for the old-time price of a Garbo smile. The agents all have gone crazy.

And so, perhaps, has all the rest of Hollywood except those who're crazy anyway. Crazy over pictures.

Wildlife Exhibit Presented Here During Week

There's a howl going up on Third street, and a wolf by the name of Buster is making the most noise. Buster's got a howl coming. He's a meat-eater facing rationing.

The wolf and 200 other animals and birds are in a wildlife exhibit being shown this week in the old J. C. Penney building, having opened here Monday on its tour from Washington, D. C., to create interest in wildlife.

Local people witnessing the exhibit will meet Rochester, a black squirrel, and Jack Benny, a rare white squirrel.

Then there is Joe, an old black crow, who's a woman hater. He'll talk, but not in the presence of the women. He says, "Joe, Joe, Joe" and, for variety, "What, what, what." One woman Joe tolerates is the manager, Mrs. Floyd King, who gives the bird's beak 100 strokes or more daily.

Another rare animal is a white raccoon. The raccoons are vegetarians. All of the animals except Buster and the foxes are vegetarians. Bravest of the lot is a huge badger, gray with white stripes on its nose.

A skunk by any other name would smell as sweet, but not Sweet Fetuna and Rosebud. These two skunks with the exhibit have been deodorized, as shocked visitors discover on closer smell.

Popular attractions are the pheasants in three different varieties, Chinese golden, ringnecked and Lady Amherst. A couple of little gray foxes that never sleep on one hand with their brother silver, gray and red foxes.

The exhibit is sponsored by a group of Washington sportsmen. No entrance fee is charged, the exhibit being supported by subscriptions and donations. The animals and birds were assembled from game preserves over the country and donations from private sportsmen.

Showing in Big Spring continues through this week.

Friendliness Can Persuade Soldiers This Is A Good City

The program of having a soldier in local homes here last Sunday is a perfect example of what the community can do to build morale—for ourselves as well as for the boys in uniform.

One of the finest things about the undertaking was that we who have spent most of all our lives here in West Texas were impressed with a variety of interests represented by our visitors. We found out that the guy behind that clipped brogue was a pretty swell fellow after all, and that he thought our drawl was just as funny as we took his staccato talk to be.

We learned that the soldier who joked with nervous energy was a product of crowded existence in a big city where a man has to stand up and scrap to get along; and that quiet youngster came from the lake region along the northern border where his folks wrestled a living out of a few acres of rich soil.

Yes sir, we found out that they just got at things differently than we did—but that underneath it all they were the same fine sort of young men that all Americans are.

Being just that, the men naturally appreciated the gesture a whole lot. It was a pleasure to sit down to a table with a table cloth on it let alone digging into a pile of good home cooked food. This, topped by an afternoon of fellowship in a home atmosphere, really rounded out a day for them.

It taught us a lesson. There's no use wasting time pretending that Big Spring is the best place in the world for a soldier to be stationed—but the people in Big Spring can make a soldier prefer being stationed here to any other place in the land. If last Sunday was just a beginning of inviting the men into homes, then it can be done.

Workers with sons or brothers in the service call on the absentees at one plant and give them a friendly talking-to. In another plant, absentees without an excuse of illness are greeted with a vari-colored "AWOL time card" which instructs them to report to the personnel director for a conference.

In several factories, absentees are "paid" for the days they missed in "Hitler money," with a note from Der Fuehrer thanking them for their contribution to HIS war effort.

Contests with bonuses in war bonds for perfect attendance records are common. In some plants, they give little badges.

But the problem still is with war production in a big way. Some of the increase is believed due to the greater number of women and older persons employed, but most of it comes from those big increases in the pay envelope and that perennial inclination of American youth to play hooky once in a while.

Washington Daybook— "Absenteeism" Big Production Problem

By JACK STINNETT
 WASHINGTON—Over at the War Production Board and in a thousand war plants, officials, labor-management committees, personnel directors and foremen are battling against one of production's greatest headaches. Officially, it is referred to as "absenteeism."

Actually, it consists of taking "French leave," playing hooky, or going AWOL from a war job—for reasons other than illness or injury.

Joe (War-Worker) Jones wakes up in the morning. It's the kind of day when the fish are biting or the ducks are flying 'OR maybe it's just the morning after the night before. "To heck with it," says Joe. "I got plenty of dough. I been working hard. I need a day off." He takes it.

Multiply Joe by several thousand every day and it means approximately 6,000,000 man days lost a month. In the shipbuilding industry alone, absenteeism is costing the war effort two cargo ships a month.

In Butte, Mont., copper mining officials estimated that absenteeism resulted in the loss of 60,000 pounds of copper a day.

Apply those same percentages to practically every war industry and wonder no longer why the WPB, labor-management committees, and personnel directors are so concerned.

Remedies there are and they are numerous. Some of them have cut absenteeism in some plants by more than half. In one western mining town, closing the bars on Sunday cut Monday absenteeism down to 60 per cent.

In many plants, there are various forms of personnel interview.

Some of the same and danced and one song she sang was "White Christmas," which was something pretty special because Marcy has a good range.

The way it worked out, the screen writers and a lot of others got to following her around, and asking her to sing for them. Marcy is about as high-hat as last year's carpet slippers, and she takes root in a hurry. The inevitable happened, of course. Marcy came down with laryngitis, which is known in Des Moines and in my home town as a sore throat. Nearly everyone who comes to New York between fall and spring gets a sore throat in a couple of days. It's the damp climate.

Marcy's mother, in close head curls and hair ribbon, looks like a big sister, and acts like one. Instead of talking about Marcy like a little precious, she was filled with news of her husband who recently sold his printing business in Chicago to get a vacation before he anticipated call from the army.

Man About Manhattan— Only Nice Things Should Happen To An Irish Miss

By GEORGE TUCKER
 NEW YORK—When a girl is reheaded and freckled-faced and Irish and has Marcy McGurie for a name, only nice things should happen to her. Quite a few nice things have happened to Marcy McGurie in the last couple of months, and I wouldn't be surprised if they were only beginning.

Marcy is 17 and is from Des Moines. She was discovered by an RKO talent scout, singing in a Chicago night club, while the scout was killing an hour between trains. She was taken to Hollywood and tossed a part in a little gem called "Seven Days' Leave," which has for its star Lucille Ball, the pride of Butte, Montana, and that was that.

Marcy, however, took over. She has been taking over since. Her part was fattened three times, meaning she got more lines to speak and more songs to sing. She looked like a good investment, although she is only five feet tall and has some growing to do, so she and her pretty mother were hurried off to New York. This is what is known as the build-up and gets to be pretty routine stuff. But nothing about Marcy is routine.

She got off the train with her Scottie's leash wrapped around her ankle soles, and had you seen her you would have thought the thing to do would be to take her to the nearest Automat and show her how to save a dime on leonade by combining ice water with free lemon slices set out for tea. I mean, she looked like a school-girl out for a big time in this big town.

One of the first items of business was a cocktail party, and Marcy had the grand old-fashioned idea that the hostess at a party should try to do something about enter-

Capital Comment Patton Works For Etext Iron Project

By GEORGE STIMPSON
 Herald Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Today is needless day in Washington, so don't expect much meat in this piece. . . . How can editors expect me to do much writing when it takes all my time keeping up with war news. . . . Tension in manpower situation will be eased when defeated members of Congress are released for other jobs after Jan. 3. . . . Think I'm entitled to medal of honor or something, never have written anything about second front.

Lyndon Johnson, able Congressman from Johnson City and Austin, gave me a copy of George Sessions Perry's "Texas, A World In Itself," good reading. . . . Ewing Thomson, pride of El Paso, gave me cigar today; boys catching on. . . . Wonder if war department is collecting typewriters to put us typewriter strategists out of business. . . . Cousin Nat Patton of Crockett, took Senators Tom Connally and W. Lee O'Daniel over to see Don Nelson about getting some action on East Texas iron project; Cousin Nat has been trying to iron out iron business for over a year.

Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls doesn't pull punches; says Ed to Etext: "If we develop a food shortage in this country it will be due solely to the shortsightedness of Washington bureaucrats"; again: "The 40-hour week in wartime is an insult to American character and a disgrace to our war effort."

Only 25 per cent war department personnel can get off for holidays, employes drawing lots to decide who gets leave.

Guy Allison, Congressman Paul Kilday's able secretary, becomes attorney for San Antonio rationing authority; succeeded in Paul's office by Irene Williams, competent, popular Texas girl who has been secretary to Charlie South of Coleman.

Mildred Yeager, first graduate Hardin-Simmons school of journalism, publisher Putnam News in Callahan county, worked on Abilene Reporter-News, now in Washington with bureau of immigration and naturalization. . . . Vanice Broyles or Malakoff in Henderson county has joined Senator O'Daniel's secretariat.

If rumbungs and mumbungs on Capitol Hill signify anything, will be concerted effort made next session to repeal or suspend all farm quotas.

Remember good old days when Prince of Wales made headlines by falling off horse; wonder what ever became of him. . . . Come March 4 Speaker Sam Rayburn and Helton Summers will have been members of house for 30 years straight, longer, I believe, than any other Texans in history. . . . At Texas delegation luncheon met George Shannon, Amarillo attorney, used to be law partner of William Pfeiffer who got self elected republican congressman in Gotham before had time to find place to live or to change Texas auto tags. . . . We have good chance to win war if can prevent Italy from joining our side. . . . Talked today with Jim Baldwin, architect buildings at Baylor University, Perkins hotel at Marshall, Hilton courthouse, Methodist churches at Ranger and Denton, remodeled courthouse at Bonham. . . . Matur Mavrick, Jr., son of former Bexar county congressman and present WPB official, off to Pacific scene of action. . . . Yankees pronounce name Bexar "BEX-er."

C. T. Lake, San Angelo, and Charles E. Mills, of Del Rio, visitors on Capitol Hill. . . . How would you like President Roosevelt's job of taking care of a flock of 75 lame ducks? . . . Congressman George Mahon, Colorado City, chief speaker Armistice Day memorial services at second division monument in Washington; made good speech. . . . Republicans embarrassed by gains in house, won half a dozen more seats than they wanted, sounds phoney, but true. . . . Otis Boyer, Dallas lawyer, in town; originally from Baird. . . . Remember very well visit of Lera Laval to Washington in 1932, guest of Press Club, then premier of France, ratty-eyed, shifty, cunning, didn't have good impression of him at time.

Senator Tom Connally is leery of any joint congressional committee on war problems that would interfere with military and naval operations and gum up works. . . . # Son Of British Leader Reported To Be In Berlin

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—The German radio broadcast a report today that the son of the British secretary for Indian, L. S. Amery, "is in Berlin."

The Berlin broadcast gave no explanation.

John Amery, son of the British official, last was reported living at Grenoble, in southern France, and he might have been seized by the Germans when they moved into the former unoccupied zone last week.

The Lyon radio broadcast a statement attributed to young Amery last March 9 in which he was quoted as saying the RAF bombings of Boulogne and Billancourt "have filled us with sadness and shame that our air force has lowered itself to undertake such an enterprise."

This Is The Time To Keep Fighting, President Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (UP)—President Roosevelt sized up a fortnight's "good news" from the battle zones last night as indicating that the turning point of the war had been reached. But he tempered his analysis, presented in a radio speech to the New York Herald Tribune's annual forum, with cautious phrases. He said it would continue to be an uphill fight—"all the way"—that there could be "no coasting to victory," and that it was no time for exultation. "There is no time now," Mr. Roosevelt said, "for anything but fighting and working to win."

He described the encounter between Japanese and American warships Nov. 13 to 15 as "one of the greatest battles of our history." At a press conference earlier he had said that the engagement, in which the navy listed enemy losses at 23 vessels against two of our light cruisers and half a dozen destroyers, represented a major victory. It was the first time he had used the word "major" in referring to any of the battles in the Pacific theater.

Despite this crushing blow administered to a numerically superior Japanese fleet, the president said in his speech that a "gigantic job" remained to be done. He said battle lines stretching from Klaka to Murmansk and from Tunisia to Guadalcanal would lengthen as our forces advanced. The president paid tribute to his former naval aide, Rear Admiral Daniel J. Callaghan, who was killed in last week's battle. Callaghan was aboard the cruiser San Francisco which engaged and hit three enemy vessels, including a battleship, sinking one of them.

They have to be moved for the winter to other districts—where honey flowers can be found.

Parallel Parking Plan Pondered

Plans to inaugurate a system of parallel parking on a number of streets in the downtown district will be laid before the city commission at an early date if the idea does not meet with too much opposition from local merchants, city officials have disclosed.

Pointing out that angle parking usually results in the obstruction of traffic when the automobile is backed from the curb, the commission is seeking to eliminate as much of the confusion as possible during hours of heaviest traffic.

A survey of opinion will be conducted among local merchants, however, before the system is put into effect.

Slow Signs Will Replace Lights Near School

Traffic lights at intersections near the high school are to be removed and replaced with "slow" signs within the next few days, City Manager Boyd McDaniel announced today.

Involved in the switch are the lights at 11th and Johnson, at 10th and Johnson and on Runnels street directly in front of the school. Operated from the school by time clocks, the lights long have been the subject of controversy, since they were allowed to run throughout Sundays and at other times when not needed, yet never seemed to be functioning properly at times of heaviest pedestrian traffic to and from the school.

McDaniel listed as another reason for removal the fact that many motorists approached the intersections at high speed trying to make a green light and then were unable to stop when youngsters stepped unexpectedly into the street.

If necessary, he said, a policeman will be stationed at the schools to insure observance of slow signs.

Local Group At Waterworks Meet

City Manager Boyd McDaniel, J. D. Stemberger, fire marshal, and two employees of the municipal water works, left this afternoon to attend a night meeting of the Permian Basin Waterworks Association in Lubbock.

Formed two years ago, the association has met monthly with an attendance of some 30 employees of the engineering, water and administrative departments of cities in this area.

Officials have announced tonight's meeting will be the last for the duration.

Approximately 50 persons are expected to attend the sessions including the county administrative officers and the county committee-men.

Bob Fields, recently with the San Angelo and Big Spring bombardier school fire departments, has returned to his old position with the local department with whom he has been associated for the past 14 years.

H. J. Stephens, formerly a carpenter at the bombardier school, has assumed his duties as a night watchman for the city police department. City Manager Boyd McDaniel said the city planned to engage four nightwatchmen to handle regular beats in view of the shortage of patrolmen.

Three men were fined $15 each in corporate court this morning on charges of drunkenness. City police picked up and arrested another early this morning for affray.

Her son, Robert Carroll, was originally assigned to that ship and was only transferred to another destroyer the first of the year. He is signalman, third class in the navy.

Bob Schermerhorn, Dallas, former resident, visited here briefly Wednesday. He was returning from a deer hunt on the lease held by Dr. G. T. Hall of Big Spring. "For once in my life," he said, "I got a deer on the first day."

Mr. Thomas had been residing in Phoenix for several years. His family formerly resided near Vincent, where burial is to be made. Immediate survivors include three sisters, Mrs. A. W. Rowe and Mrs. W. L. Brown of Coahoma and Mrs. E. F. Rice of Spartenburg; and two brothers, Curtis Thomas of Coahoma and Pete Thomas of Big Spring.

Seven Recruits Are Shipped By Navy

Seven men have been shipped to Dallas to complete their application for enlistment. Fred Baucum, recruiter in charge of the Big Spring sub-station for the U. S. Navy, said Wednesday.

They included John Joe Walker, Midland; Frank Earl Lord, Midland; and Perry Herschaft Land, Lamesa, all for V-6, construction; Clifton Monroe Ledbetter and Brooks Garfield Bedell, of Big Spring; and J. C. Nock, Hymar, for V-8, apprentice seaman; and Alter Boy Preston, Jr., Midland, for V-5, aviation cadet.

Two Big Spring women have been shipped to Lubbock for examinations for enlistment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

They were Shirley A. Sherman, 507 Runnels, and Mary E. Tolan, 906 Scurry.

Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, army recruiter, said that he also had accepted two 18-year-old youths for service in the air corps, unassigned. They were Jack C. Chatwell and Robert L. Cobb, both of Big Spring.

Women contemplating enlistment in the WAAC, where they may be fitted into one of 40 classifications to free men from desk work for combat duty, may be interested in the increase in pay levels. These now are comparable to the army, ranging from $50 to $125 per month for non-commissioned officers, said Sgt. Turner.

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. These gas bubbles in your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

It takes those good, old Colman's Little Liver Pills to get those 2 pints of bile flowing freely. Your food will "up and up" and a package today. Take no other medicine. Colman's Little Liver Pills. 25c and 50c.

Additional Gasoline Boards Named For Howard County

Supplemental panels to function in special industrial areas and in some communities outside of Big Spring were announced Wednesday by the Howard county gasoline rationing board.

M. S. Goldman, chairman of the gasoline board, said that the supplemental panels or "boards" had been named in conformity with a suggestion from Mark McGee, Fort Worth, state ration director. By reason of their familiarity with constituents in smaller areas, these units may give valuable assistance to and reduce congestion for the central gasoline board, Goldman added.

He and E. F. Robbins, general ration chairman for Howard county, announced that there would be a meeting of the board and all supplemental panels Saturday at 3 p. m. in the district courtroom. They said that this was "a very important meeting."

Announced as supplemental panels were: Coahoma—Norman H. Read, E. T. O'Daniel, Bob Marshall and A. D. Silva.

Forsan—R. F. Townsend, R. M. Brown, Pat Patterson and Mr. McKinley.

Lomax—A. J. Stallings, C. Korngay, J. O. Rosser.

Knott—John Allred, Earl Castle, Frank Hodnett, and Mrs. Airhart.

Vincent—Lloyd Brannon, Chester Jones, Charley Brown.

The army post will use the same committee as has been serving as its advisory board on three with the addition of one member. Cosden Petroleum Corp. will use its same board, and Elmer Cravens, H. Hinman, S. H. Newbergh, and Charles Vines will serve as the T. & P. supplemental unit.

Members of the gasoline board, other than Goldman, are L. B. Patterson, W. J. Garrett, W. E. Cook, R. E. Satterwhite, C. W. Guthrie, E. L. Deason, and all were at a breakfast session with J. A. Selkirk, J. L. Hudson, A. Glenn, A. V. Karcher, Lieut. Myrl M. Reeves, S. T. Eason, Tracy Smith, B. F. Robbins, R. F. Townsend and Walter P. Wilson, ration board chief clerk.

Goldman urged that people follow this procedure in seeking gas ration cards: Apply for basic rations during the next three days, and if more gasoline is needed to carry on business operations, secure supplemental application blanks at that time. When supplemental applications are completed, they should be submitted to the individual's supplemental panel for review. Recommendation of the panel will be made to the county board for action. Later an appeals board will be named. Goldman stressed the importance of making correct applications in order to save time and avoid inconvenience for anyone.

Workers Needed On Railroads

United States Employment Service has issued an appeal for 2,000 railroad laborers to be employed on roads from here to California, stating that applications, for the first time, may be made at the local USES office.

Only three applicants have been received toward the total quota of 25, and others interested are urged to contact the office immediately. Transportation will be furnished to the point of location, and free housing facilities will be furnished workers after their arrival on the job.

Manager O. R. Rodden, who spent all day yesterday in Dawson county on business in connection with labor plans of agricultural activities and private industries, reports the urgent need in this and surrounding areas of office workers, skilled and unskilled laborers and domestic help.

Cotton harvest is proceeding smoothly with less than 15 per cent of the pickers having returned home because of Selective Service calls, contracts to be filled elsewhere or fear of impending gas rationing. Many have migrated to Lubbock county to fill contracts after having assisted materially in the harvest in this vicinity.

Vane C. Burnett, farm replacement representative, who has been assisting the USES at Lamesa during the cotton-picking season, has returned home, Rodden said, leaving E. C. Whipple in charge of activities there.

Rural Carrier Sells Students War Stamps

Paul Attaway, who carries rural route No. 1, is right proud of the record Moore school students have made.

Each week Attaway pulls up at the school and has a war stamp sale. In the two months he has been following this practice, Attaway has sold $109.60 in stamps to the 45 pupils of the school.

To other schools and to individuals—those who actually wait at the mailbox to make purchases—Attaway has about equalled the amount sold to Moore students. He carries around $55 in stamps with him just to accommodate his constituents and help the war program—and maybe Uncle Sam can be just as proud of him as he is of the Moore students.
