Chicago Jeers At Claim LA Has Become 2nd Largest City

By WILLIAM GRUBER
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI)—Chicagoans sprang to the defense of their city today against a claim that the Los Angeles metropolitan area has replaced it as the nation's second largest city.

"If they are, they're growing only because Chicagoans who made their bundle in the world's most productive market are going out there to retire," retorted Thomas H. Coulter, director of the Association of Commerce and Industry.

"I hear everyone is moving out of Los Angeles because of the smog," scoffed outspoken Al. Charles Weber. "It sounds like another Hollywood publicity stunt to me."

"Besides, Los Angeles is the dirtiest city in the world. When you fly in there it's like flying into a mudpen because of the smog. I know. I used to live there."

"What difference does it make?" The city of Chicago is far larger than the city of Los Angeles," replied Ira Bach, head of the Chicago Planning Commission.

The controversy started Thursday when the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce announced the two-county Los Angeles area now has 85,000 more people than the seven-county Chicago area.

The chamber based its estimate on official population trend studies and past records of the bureau of the census. Surveys showed some 240,000 new residents arrive in the area each year, the chamber said.

It figured 6,450,000 persons now live in the Los Angeles area, compared with 6,395,000 in Chicago.

Yuan Liang, a statistician for the Chicago Planning Commission, said his estimates over six million automatically incur an error of about 100,000, which would explain the difference claimed by Los Angeles.

"I'm sure they are underestimating the Chicago area, because it had 6,348,000 persons in 1937, and we certainly gained more than 47,000 since then," Liang said. No figure has been released for 1938.

He said the city of Chicago, as of July, 1937, had 2,746,000, whereas the city of Los Angeles reported as of September, 1938, its population at 2,797,000.

"I'm not going to argue about it," Coulter said. "I don't know, and they don't, either. We'll have to wait until the 1960 census. But I'm sure we are over 6 1/2 million now."

Coulter said metropolitan Chicago probably would include at least two more counties in the next census. Estimates made now, he said, are based on telephone and electric meter installations, building permits and the average size of families as determined by the Bureau of the Census, he said. At best, they are only an indication.

"But Chicago is the richest, most productive city in the world," he added. "People come here to work and make money, and then they go to California to retire and spend it."

"If they do," said Weber, "they'll be crying for the rest of their lives from the smog."

Business Views

United Press International
Machine tool orders in November fell 27 per cent from both the preceding month and a year ago to $20,700,000, the National Machine Tool Builders' Assn. reported. For the first 11 months of 1938, the total volume of orders was 50 per cent from the similar 1937 period. Several firms, however, reported an improvement in December. Next year volume is expected to rise 20 to 25 per cent over 1938.

The free market in Paris for the franc fell to a 1938 low of 472 francs to one dollar, against the official rate of 420 to the dollar. The free market rate had held fairly steady for several months at about 445 to the dollar until it started slipping about a week ago. The decline has spurred rumors of devaluation by year-end.

World steel production in 1938 will drop to 297 million tons from 321 million in 1937 and the U.S. share of the total will fall to less than 30 per cent, Iron Age reported. In 1937 the U.S. produced 35 per cent of all the world's steel and in 1935, a year of record output here, U.S. output was nearly 40 per cent of the total.

Nearly one-half of the 48 states of the Union are coastal, 21 of them bordering on salt water seas.

Body Chemistry Hoardes Vitamin C

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—The veil may be lifting at last from the mysterious role vitamin C plays in our body chemistry to keep us going.

We can't do without the C vitamin. Therefore, our body chemistry hoards it. A new discovery shows that the main storage depots are the outside shells of the adrenal glands. Those glands manufacture and secrete hormones which are chemical policemen that keep much of body chemistry behaving in the ways it should.

The new discovery suggests the glands are unable to secrete those hormones unless they are holding vitamin C in storage, and it may be they're unable to make the hormones without vitamin C. That's why the discovery is exciting biochemists.

Leads To Scary
There is no need for well-fed Americans to worry because the common American diet provides body chemistry with ample vitamin C, but they can cheer the discovery. More light on the still mysterious processes of that chemistry would mean better health or all.

The discovery was made by chance by two English surgeons, Drs. Digby Chamberlain and N. V. Addison. They removed the adre-

WALTZ CITY'S HULA HOOPING

VIENNA (UPI)—Hula hoop finally has reached this city of the waltz.

While the fad has ebbed in the United States, and is on the wane in most of Western Europe, storekeepers here report that the hula hoop appears to be the most desired item this Christmas season.

STAMP NEWS

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Vatican post office asked the world's stamp collectors today to stop mailing money for the first stamps of the reign of Pope John XXIII. No stamps will be issued before next February, and orders for the stamps should not be sent before then, the post office said.

PARTY LINE

LONDON (UPI)—Michael Hughes, 20, and Henry F. Kerridge, 24, were fined $20.60 Wednesday for stealing a milk churn, an ash tray, two telephone books and a pepper pot.

They told police they were taking the items to a party.

by adrenal hormones injected from the outside.

The hormones regulate the conversion of our food into fuel for our bodies and into building materials which repair the wear-and-tear damage of our tissues. Among many other duties, they mobilize body chemical defenses against invaders, such as infectious bacteria. If the ability of the glands to secrete these hormones depends upon vitamin C being present, then vitamin C has been pro-al vitamins.

Murders, Accidental Deaths Occur on Holiday Weekend

United Press International
Greed, drunkenness, lust and pride—these are the true Christmas spirit is singularly today occupied police and families following a wave of holiday violence.

Air Force Grid Team Is Grounded

DALLAS (UPI)—An Air Force plane, bringing Coach Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy and part of his team to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl football game, had to land short of its destination today because of a falling engine.

The plane landed at Carswell Air Force Base near Fort Worth, which is about 35 miles from Dallas. One engine was losing power and the pilot thought it advisable not to try to fly on to Dallas.

Twenty-two persons, not including the crew, were reported to have been on the plane. They included Col. George Simler, the academy's athletic director.

They boarded a bus for Dallas. The academy's first workout was scheduled this afternoon.

Many other academy players went home for the holidays and were coming in on commercial planes.

The Texas Christian team will arrive from Fort Worth next Tuesday. The game is Jan. 1.

northern tier of states provided sections of the northland with a traditional white Christmas, but elsewhere skies were mostly fair and roads clear.

Weathermen predicted rain for the Pacific Northwest and northern California today with scattered light snow likely from the Rockies into the northern Great Lakes. Fair to partly cloudy weather was seen for the rest of the nation with the exception of some rain over the Gulf coast region.

Most of the highway toll came in one and two death accidents. However, there were a few high fatality wrecks.

One of the nation's worst occurred near Roanoke Rapids, N.C. where a fiery collision Thursday killed five persons, four of them members of one family returning from a Christmas visit.

Four persons were killed Christmas Day when two cars collided head-on near Michigan City, Ind. The victims included a young Chicago couple and their son.

Another family tragedy occurred at St. Petersburg, Fla., where a mother and two children suffocated from gas fumes early Christmas morning.

A little girl at Liberty, Ind., tried out her new ice skates Christmas morning and drowned when she fell through thin ice. A similar mishap Thursday claimed the lives of two young brothers who drowned at Quincy, Ill.

out its fiscal decisions without the risk of panicky speculation on the franc.

Business quarters believed the decisions under study included a 10 per cent devaluation of the franc—from its present nominal value of 24 of a U. S. cent to around 21—perhaps coupled with the creation of a new "heavy" franc worth 100 times as much as the present currency.

The franc was down to 21 of a cent on the free market Wednesday.

SOME experts believed the French devaluation would be announced at the same time as Britain's expected decision to make the pound convertible—that is, freely exchangeable for dollars on world money markets.

SATELLITE STILL OVER HOLY LAND
WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's Atlas satellite was silent Christmas Day as it soared through space on a course that took it over the Holy Land.

But the 4½-ton satellite was expected to get back in the communications business again soon.

stances in which children were involved.
A Chicago father wept as he told of accidentally shooting and killing his infant son Christmas Eve while practicing fast draws with a loaded gun in the family living room. Dead was 14-month-old Wyatt Earp Bender, whose cowboy-loving father named him after the legendary western hero. The father, Jack, 29, allegedly had been drinking before shooting Wyatt Earp.

In San Francisco, 5-week-old Mark William Netherby died when his father William, 22, over his wife Rita's protests, muffled the boy's sobs with a pillow, the mother told police. The infant was dead when she went to pick him up this morning.

In Mobile, Ala., expectant mother Mrs. Troy Bolt, 34, apparently made light of a giant carton her intoxicated husband brought home on Christmas Eve, police reported. A subsequent quarrel resulted in death by gunshot wound, said authorities. They held her husband in connection with Mrs. Bolt's shooting and also the death of their 3-week premature infant, delivered by caesarian section following the shooting.

Police at Spartanburg, S.C., reported that Jimmy Lee Jones, about 38, hacked his wife and mother-in-law to death with an axe to climax a pre-dawn argument Christmas Day. Victims were identified as Helen Jones, 35, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Rice. All three had been drinking, authorities said.

An apparent murder-suicide left a 6-year-old girl homeless in Glendora, Calif. Police said her stepfather of four months, John Moll, 42, apparently shot her mother, Mary, 39, early Christmas Eve. The girl discovered the bodies on Christmas morning.

Apparently trivial issues were at stake in two murders:
—A quarrel over Christmas dinner in Paramus, N.J., climaxed when Mrs. Therese Olinsky, 31, plunged a 10-inch blade carving knife into her husband, Edward, 32, police said. Investigators revealed the couple had been drinking before the argument began.

—A dollar debt started a Washington, Wis., fight which ended in the death of Adam Ahneman, 80, the sheriff's office said. Preliminary investigation, officers reported, showed Lauren Severson, 28, and a friend, Bernard Moe, 40, were visiting the elderly bachelor when Moe claimed Severson owed him a dollar.

When Ahneman tried to call police to stop the fight, said investigators, Severson struck Ahneman twice on the head, killing him.

Two-car collision injured woman
A Pampa woman, Mrs. Josephine McPherson, 329 E. Francis, suffered lacerations about the head and legs Thursday night in a two-car collision west of Pampa. She was taken by ambulance to Highland General hospital where her condition is reported good.

Mrs. McPherson was injured when a car driven by her husband, Earnest McPherson, rammed the rear of a second car driven by Jimmy McDowell, 23, Rt. 2 Pampa.

Damages to the McDowell car were estimated at $125. McPherson's 1954 Ford was a total wreck. McPherson was tagged for driving while intoxicated.

The mishap was investigated by Patrolman Royce Logan. He reported two other collisions on highways in the Pampa area Thursday.

At 6:15 a.m. a 1957 model car driven by Willie James Hickey, 22, 720 S. Gray, missed a curve near Skellytown and rolled once into a ditch. Hickey and a passenger escaped injury.

The mishap occurred on Highway 152 about 3 miles east of Skellytown near the White Deer Creek bridge. Hickey was tagged for speeding.

Two cars collided at 3 p.m. Thursday one-half mile west of Kingsmill. No injuries were reported.

The drivers were Milton Raglin, 52, of Amarillo, and Arthur Lee Barkley, 39, 420 N. Zimmer. Patrolman Logan tagged Raglin for following too closely. Damages to both cars totaled about $420.

Liquor Transporter Is Fined $100

An Oklahoma resident, Charlie Boyle of Okemah, paid a $100 fine Wednesday in county court after entering a plea of guilty to charges of transporting liquor in a wet area without a permit.

Boyle was arrested in the 200 block on Brown St. by state liquor control agents. Action has been taken to confiscate the liquor for the state of Texas.

Informal Hospitality Flourishes During Season With Unexpected Guests Calling

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Informal hospitality flourishes during the holidays, and a smart homemaker will be prepared to practice her skills as a hostess. Casual invitations to drop by are accepted readily and our friends are apt to call unexpectedly.

If the unscheduled visit throws you into a tizzy, your appearance, you'll miss half the fun of the holidays.

Homes appear unusually nice at this time, thanks to decorations and gay Christmas trees. With a little extra effort, most homes can be presentable for callers by mid-afternoon.

Remember, too: this is one time when scattered toys can be shoved under the tree and considered part of the decoration.

Many homemakers with earned reputations as gracious hostesses have the provisions for a welcoming cup of tea on hand, and the details of how and where to serve clearly planned.

This enables them to reproduce refreshments with the last amount of confusion which, in turn, puts guests at ease.

The larger is overloaded with goodies now, but you'll probably want to reserve the fanciest cakes and prettiest cookies for the tea tray.

If you have a silver tea or coffee service, don't be afraid to use it for any festive visit, no matter how casual.

Porcelain or a homey, earthenware does as well or use a glass coffee-carafe on a candlewarmer base with glass cups, for a change.

The important thing is to have them ready — clean and easily reached. Brewing the beverage and setting out cookies or cake is quickly done.

Sometimes, where storage of party service is awkward, you might find it simpler to set a buffet where you can combine serving and storage.

Lacking a true dining buffet, you can turn almost any corner of the living room into a charming serving area. The top of a low bookcase is a possible spot, as is a chest or sideboard.

An unusual but quite inviting place is a drop-front desk.

Deck the top with coffee service, the desk with a tray of cookies and cups and saucers, and the pieholes with dessert plates, forks, spoons and napkins.

Trim with a few sprays of greenery.

Whatever silver you have you'll want to use. Flatware patterns may suggest suitable Christmas decorations.

Rose patterns can be tied to a Christmas rose theme; a leaf-and-scroll pattern speaks of garlanded holly; a new, silverplate, silver-flower pattern with a spaced border to tiny star-like flowers sug-

Mrs. Yoder Has Piano Parties

Mrs. H. A. Yoder recently entertained two groups of piano pupils for Christmas workshop parties in her home, 1215 Williston.

Serving as hostesses for the younger pupils were Mrs. Ralph Prock and Mrs. Wayne Maddox. Each guest had prepared a Christmas song, which they played as the group sang.

Participating in this group were Beverly Langley, Jimmy and Lyla Beth Gage, Janie and Jean Prock, Russell and Kay Maddox, Harriet Henderson, Prudence Skelly, Cynthia Plaster, Joyce Fischer, Gene Key, Jo Hubbard, Mary Lou Watkins, David and Andy Wilks and Lynda Gunn.

Parents attending were Rev. Ronald Hubbard; Mmes. Vernon Langley, Lyle Gage, John Skelly, John Plaster, Joe Fischer, Burgin Watkin, H. V. Wilks, J. W. Gunn and the hostesses.

At the party given for junior and senior high school pupils, guests played solos. Mrs. Yoder read an article entitled, "Piano-Playing As A Sport."

Mrs. J. E. Flynt and Mrs. C. E. McClelland were hostesses for this group.

Guests presenting solos were Jimmy and Nannette Flynt, Cecilia McClelland, Joyce Prock, Carol Chase, Joretta and Loretta Baird, Linda Skewes.

Parents attending were Mmes. Ralph Prock, J. L. Chase, A. W. Skewes, and the hostesses.

At each party, gifts were exchanged and later presented to Pampa's needy children.

At the conclusion of each musical program, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Few persons have pearly white, straight teeth. However, there is little excuse for stained teeth which detract from your smile when talking to people. Proper brushing of teeth, gum massage and regular visits to a dentist will keep your teeth clean.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Although I am a mother and grandmother I still can't figure out a way to solve my problem. We have a neighbor and she has three children. She works steady and so does her husband, but every day they send one of the children over to borrow something. It's either eggs, bacon, bread, butter, sugar or flour. Even matches and cigarettes. They never return a thing. Once she did return two carrots because she was ashamed to ask for a quart of milk without returning something. I have offered to make her up a grocery list when I make mine up so she won't be caught without some item, but she says, "Don't trouble yourself." What can I do? I haven't the nerve to tell her off.

TELEPHONE SWEETHEART

DEAR TEL: As long as he can get a "thrill" for a dime, he is not going to ask you out. Don't trip on his line — next time he calls give him the "busy" signal.

DEAR ABBY: My first husband passed away and I remarried. The parents of my first husband have kept in touch with me and still treat me like a daughter. The parents of my second husband resent this. They say my deceased husband's parents belong in the past and I should forget them. My present in-laws do not conceal their displeasure when I have a family party and include the first in-laws. I want to stay on the right side of my present in-laws, but don't know how to handle it.

NO NERVE

DEAR NO: As long as you are short on nerve, you'll never be long on groceries. Simply tell the borrowers you are "out" and after a while they'll catch on and realize they too are "out" (of luck, that is.)

DEAR ABBY: I've got my type man all picked out, but I can't find him. I want a Western type man and he has got to be slim and tall. I can't stand a man who has a big stomach and wears a tight belt. And also I wouldn't mind taking orders from a man if he had a deep voice. He can be anywhere from 40 to 55. I own a nice little cattle ranch all by myself, so I don't need no more income to mess up my taxes. Where is he?

OVER IN-LAWED

DEAR OVER: Your present in-laws are wrong to resent your continued friendship with your deceased husband's parents. Don't rankle them by inviting them to the same parties, but make it clear that out of respect to the memory of your first husband you will not drop them.

DEAR BABE: He's probably looking for YOU!

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 and have liked this man who is 27 for almost two years now. We work in the same place. He calls me almost every night and we talk on the phone sometimes two or three hours. He talks sweet words and love talk on the phone, but he never asks me out. He makes good money and lives at home so I know he isn't hard up. He says the sound of my voice on the phone gives him a thrill. How can I get him to ask me out?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "COLLEGE GRAD": You remind me of amateur photography — exposed but underdeveloped. The school of experience has some distinguished

Officers Installed At Christmas Fete

LEFORS (Sp) — Mrs. O. O. Bishop was officially installed as president of the Lefors Home Demonstration Christmas party held Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. T. Cobb.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson presided as installation officer with Mrs. A. T. Cobb, vice president; Mrs. W. K. Davis, secretary; Mrs. E. J. Deihl, treasurer; Mrs. J. D. Smith, council delegate; and Mrs. Charles Roberts, reporter, taking part in the service.

New year books were distributed. It was voted to fill them out in the home of Mrs. Bishop at the next meeting on Jan. 8. "Water and Soil Conservation" will be the program topic on that date by Mrs. Ted Kendall.

A farewell talk was made by the outgoing president, Mrs. L. D. Rider. One new member was welcomed, Mrs. Jack Thacker.

The recreation school report was given by Mrs. Bishop, who stated that the school will be held Jan. 28, in the civic center, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with representatives from all clubs invited.

A thank you letter was read from Mrs. Morris, for the funeral flowers given at the time of her Mother's death. Mrs. Sam Cokerly was reported in the hospital.

The home of the hostess was decorated in the Christmas theme and fruit cake, coffee, sweet waffles and dainties were served.

Members present were Mmes. H. L. Braly, A. M. Dickerson, L. D. Rider, W. K. Davis, B. J. Deihl, Wanda Schebella, A. T. Cobb, Lois Roan, Charles Roberts, O. O. Bishop, D. T. Pfeil, Ted Kindell, Jack Thacker, J. D. Smith, and Cora Bradford.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One weekend evening 5-year-old Karen made a bedtime scene. Her mother said, "But you've already stayed up later than usual." Her Aunt Joyce said, "It's her way of getting attention." Finally her father said, "Do what you're told, March!"

Karen marched — but cried so long and penetratingly that her parents' guests conveniently remembered they had big days to-morrow and had to go home. Later, in her own bed, her mother kept saying to herself over and over, "Why is Karen so difficult? Does she feel rejected? Is she afraid of the dark? Why does she hate going to bed so much?"

But not once did she say quite simply to herself, "I am feeling very discouraged over Karen." She was trying so hard to understand Karen's feelings that she was wholly incapable of experiencing what she was feeling herself.

Actually, the discouragement she feels over Karen is her release.

For example, to actually feel the discouragement aroused by Karen's disappointing behavior could lead her mother to see that she wants a child who never disappoints her.

It might then occur to her that, although this wish is understandable, it's never been granted to any parent in the history of the human race. She might begin to see that she wants the impossible for herself, and that the tension that's keeping her awake is her infantile anger at Karen's refusal to give it to her.

But, of course, it's much easier to try to figure out a disappointing child than it is to surrender to our feelings of discouragement over him.

They're very unpleasant feelings. That's why it is productive to feel them. We start to wrestle with them — and out of the wrestling comes the truth we need: the absurdity of our wish for a never-disappointing child.

Once we see its absurdity, we're not embarrassed by Karen's bedtime resistance. Our relatives' criticism of it no longer upsets us but seems a little absurd, too.

Legal Checkup Is Safety Measure
Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration", something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your Lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Newsprint In '59 To Exceed Past Records

MONTREAL (UPI) — World newsprint demand in 1959 will exceed 14,200,000 tons, a new annual record, the publication Newsprint Data: 1958 estimated today.

The annual review of the world newsprint situation published by the Newsprint Association of Canada, said that world supply in 1958 decreased for the first time since the war. The decrease was less than 2.5 per cent and was due largely to a drop in demand by North American newspapers, which use more than half the world output.

Newsprint consumption in 1959 was estimated at 7,300,000 tons, the same as in the previous peak year of 1956. The review said, however, that purchases might be less than in 1956 by the 225,000 tons which they added to stocks during that year.

Newsprint taken by North American publishers in 1958 was some 6 per cent less than in 1957 and about 9 per cent less than in 1956. This decline followed a two

Church Ad: Only Five Giving Days Left Before New Year

By LOUIS CASSELLS
United Press International

If churches operated like department stores, they would run ads in the papers today pointing out that there are "only five giving days left before the new year."

This is the time of year when forethoughtful taxpayers begin to brood about the fact that they will soon have to render an accounting to the Internal Revenue Service of their income—and their deductions—for 1958.

Gifts to churches are tax deductible. They come under a special provision of the internal revenue laws which permits deductions of up to 30 per cent of adjusted gross income for contributions to churches, schools or hospitals.

No one is likely to give to a church solely for tax purposes. Giving always costs something, no matter how high your tax bracket. But the tax deductibility of religious contributions is an added inducement for anyone who feels like making up, with a year-end check, for some of the Sundays when he put nothing in the collection plate.

Cites Examples

Here are a few examples of how the tax laws operate to make it easier to give liberally to your church:

Suppose you are married and making a joint tax return. If your taxable income is $5,000 a year, you can give $100 to the church for an out-of-pocket cost of $78.

In the $10,000 a year bracket, the same $100 contribution costs you only $74.

The wealthier you are, the less it costs you to give. Those whose taxable income is $30,000 a year recover, in tax savings, almost half of their religious contributions.

The taxpayer's share gets progressively smaller until, in the bracket, he is giving dollars that actually cost him only 10 cents.

Tax savings can be even greater if, instead of giving cash to the church, you sign over some kind of property like stocks, bonds or real estate which has gone up in value since you acquired it.

This way you (1) receive a tax deduction for the fair market value of the property and (2) avoid having to pay the capital gains tax which would have been due if you had converted the property

St. Matthew's To Sponsor New Series

THE SEARCH, a new weekly radio series, will have its first broadcast over station KPDR at 5:15 p.m. on Sunday, December 28th. The first drama in a play series, each complete in itself, will be OLD SOURPUSS co-starring Robert Young, Herbert Marshall, Agnes Moorehead and Barbara Ruick, in a dramatic story about the Golden Rule.

The National Council of the Episcopal Church and St. Matthew's Episcopal Church of Pampa, present the series as a public service.

Robert Young will be the program's permanent host, appearing weekly, and will also enact starring roles in various plays from time to time.

The new series is designed to combine entertaining stories with underlying, purposeful themes covering realistic day by day problems of people in such areas of their lives as marriage and divorce, family, health and sickness, employment and old age.

Other stellar performers who will take part in THE SEARCH plays in future weeks include Joseph Cotton, Charlie Ruggles, Lyle Talbot, Laurence Tuttle, Ian Fre-

Methodists Will Hail New Year

From every walk of life, Texas Methodists will gather in city, town and rural churches at 11 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 31, to launch their 1959 church attendance loyalty campaign. Sponsored by the Texas Council of Evangelism, Margaret Howell of Waxahachie, chairman, and Quay Farmer of Fort Worth, director, the services are being held for the second year with leaders asking every Methodist church in Texas to have a New Year's Eve communion and watch night service.

By television, radio, movie screen and all other available forms of communication, an invitation is being issued to active and inactive Methodists, the unchurched and the general public to worship in a Methodist church on New Year's Eve.

Each service is to feature a message by Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, and Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, who head Texas Methodists. Individual pastors will read the messages from the bishops and determine other features of the program.

Student Night Set At First Baptist

Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will bring a New Year's Sermon Sunday morning. His topic will be "Virtues Of A Waste Basket."

Sunday night is the annual Student Night Program with the theme, "Ties That Bind." Students to appear on the program are: Benny Cartwright, David Whitley, Mrs. Sheila Lemons Williams, Delma Franklin, Zelma Franklin, David Cartwright, and LeVada Naylor. Special music will be presented by a girls' trio from the High School, and a girls' sextet composed of College girls and High School girls. Dr. Carver will use the thought, "United By Commitment" for the closing message.

At 5:00 Sunday afternoon, the Training Union will have its monthly Council Supper. Special program helps will be presented for each department during this meeting. A light supper will be served at 6:00.

Tuesday night there will be a party given for the Young People of the Church to honor those in College and in the service. This party begins at 7:30 in the Youth Building.

FELLOWSHIP MEET SET FOR LEFORS

At the Lefors Assembly of God Church on Jan. 1 at 7:30 p.m., there will be a Fellowship Meeting for the North Plains Section of the Assembly of God.

The public is cordially invited. For the Soul Winner Broadcast this Sunday, the Message Theme is "The Secret of Keeping Our New Year's Resolutions."

Freedom From Fear Will Be Subject

How to gain freedom from fear by following the words and works of Christ Jesus will be a theme presented at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlated passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science."

Scriptural selections will include the Psalmist's words (58:3,4): "What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me."

From Science and Health will be read the following: "Christian scientific practice begins with Christ's keynote of harmony, 'Be not afraid' (410:29-30)."

A cordial invitation from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pampa, is open to all of you at the church services on Sunday morning at 11:00, and Wednesday evening at 8:00. The King James Version of the Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room located in the church building at 901 North Frost Street.

Protection Needed From Grampaws!

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I am Grampaw to a nest of four worshipping little children, and it occurs to me that it is time someone started a movement to protect the very young from the corruptive influence of me and my kind. I bribe 'em; buy their love.

Grampaws, as a class, are scratchy old men who crave respect and affection but who have lived long enough to disappoint themselves and their contemporaries in just about every way. Exposed old Grampaws to little grandchildren and he resorts at once to bribery.

The bribery is to arouse in the little tykes an idolatrous affection and to convince them that Grampaw is the world's greatest man, likely, next time around, to be nominated by both political parties for president.

That is not a far-fetched conception for a little guy or a little gal who knows Grampaw will arrive in his car a couple of times a week and begin to unload loot.

As Hope Fahey, the kids' teacher, they come running accompanied by the neighbor kids, of course. The neighbor kids know that toys and candy are about to be served up and that they will get their share.

Hopefully they scan the interior for packages and on the old man's pockets for any promising bulge. If the car lacks packages and there are no obvious bulges in Grampaw's pocket, the little ones will try again.

There will be in their voices this time, however, an accusing note, a downward, hopeless inflection as they sound off. This signifies anxiety and doubt as they get to the point:

"Grampaw, what did you brought us?"

That cues their mother, if she is on the scene, to smush them all against such forward conduct. For Grampaws, however, the clue is to go into his magician act. He planned it that way. When the little kids almost have abandoned hope, old Grampaw unlocks the trunk of his car and, presto, the loot is there.

Protection Needed From Grampaws!

"Hey, Grampaw," hollers Barry, "did you brought us any toys?" Barry's mother smushes him some more. All the kids are squealing by now and the neighbor kids are opening packages. A small riot ensues. From this riot, 3-year-old Connie emerges victor. Connie wins because she has no inhibition against seizing anything she can lift with which to whack over the head any brother or neighbor kid discovered opening a package she regards as hers. Connie can lift the lug wrench which came with her father's little French car.

Peace returns when the loot is divided. The grandbabies—Barry, Dave, Connie and Chris—climb up and over Grampaw, whispering in his ear and rubbing crackers or melted chocolate in his hair. What they whisper are invitations to return for sure tomorrow and, if possible, tonight. Grampaw beams. Sometimes they whisper, "We love you Grampaw" and Grampaw kind of squinches up his eyes.

I know it is wrong to buy their affection and I suspect that I am warping the children's characters, making gold diggers of them all. But I'm not going to stop. Not, anyway, so long as I can make those kids believe I am really a great man.

LEGISLATION GROUNDED

ATLANTA (UPI)—Mayor William Hartsfield, scheduled to help draft the nation's proposed airport appropriation bill in Miami next week, may not be able to make it. Because of the airlines strike, he's been unable to get a plane ticket.

PAGE UNIVAC

LONDON (UPI)—Because of faulty subtraction, Hyman Davis, 41, must stand trial on charges of drunken driving.

Police said Davis was booked when, asked to subtract seven from 100, he replied "135."

104 hands to win the event.

Here is one of their most spectacular results. Of course, the six-n-trump contract they reached is a lay down, but most other pairs that bid the slam either made it in clubs or went down in hearts or spades.

Louis had a sound, although access, opening bid. Wilson's three-club response and the three-spade rebid were normal.

Now Wilson decided not to bother with his five-card heart suit and simply rebid his clubs whereupon Louis decided to take full control of the hand and used the Blackwood Convention to ask for aces.

For a moment the partnership trembled in the balance. Wilson considered a seven bid, but eventually assumed that his partner knew what he was doing and passed.

Red Griggs the pipeline

Returning to work, dazed by an overdose of Christmas turkey, we vaguely remember something about the Harvesters going after their 24th straight victory tonight.

It looks safe right now to say that they'll run it to at least 26 before they run into any real trouble. The real trouble will be Borger, here Tuesday, Jan. 6, in the district opener.

Borger was the last team to beat the Harvesters at home, way back in the 1956-57 season; and though the Bulldogs don't look quite as powerful as they did last year, they are not to be sneezed at anytime, especially when they're playing Pampa.

The Curse Of Winning

This winning streak is a fine thing for the team and the school, of course, but sometimes we wonder if it's not a mixed blessing.

In other words, do people get just as tired of seeing their home town boys win 'em all as they would of seeing 'em lose them all?

Judging from the crowds which have shown up for the home games so far, this may be the case. The stands haven't exactly been empty, but they haven't been overflowing either — and certainly nobody can say that it's because Pampa doesn't have a good team.

Maybe the fans are just so sure that nobody will give the Harvesters a run for their money that they don't bother to come out. If that's what the fans have been thinking, they've been right so far, because nobody has given the Harvesters a run for their money.

Cole Stars at Schreiner

Carroll Cole, a Harvester ex at Schreiner, is proving to be one of the outstanding junior college guards in Texas.

CARROLL COLE... Schreiner cager

Cole, Schreiner's only returning starter from the '57-'58 campaign, has scored at a 17.9 game clip in the seven contests he's played. He is also doing a great job as a playmaker and defensive guard.

Last year, Cole's main value to the team was as a defensive guard, and as a maker of long shots. He had a 13.1 points per game average.

Schreiner will play in the Howard County Junior College Tournament in Big Spring Jan. 1-3, then they'll return to Kerrville to start their Texas Junior College Conference season.

FOUR BOWL CONTESTS SCHEDULED SATURDAY

College football's annual post-season holiday competition gets into full swing Saturday with four games, three of which will be televised nationally for armchair quarterbacks.

Saturday's features are the Gator Bowl game at Jacksonville, Fla.; the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.; the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco, and the North-South night contest at Miami, Fla. All except the Miami game will be carried on national TV and radio networks.

Mississippi (8-2) will meet Florida (6-3) in the Gator Bowl before about 40,000 and a national CBS television audience at 2 p.m. e.s.t. The Blue-Gray game before a capacity crowd of 25,000 at 2 p.m. e.s.t., and the East-West clash before a capacity crowd of 60,000 at 4:45 p.m. e.s.t., will be NBC TV - radio features.

The North-South game at Miami, which figures to draw a crowd of 40,000, will be a radio feature of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Thus the four games figure to draw 165,000 fans in addition to large TV and radio audiences.

Predict High Scores Mississippi, which depends mainly on its passing game, arrived in Jacksonville Christmas Day and held a light workout. Florida, which arrived at Ponte Vedra Beach near Jacksonville Monday, also held a light workout. Florida made its reputation this year on defense but most observers look for a high-scoring, wide-open Gator Bowl game.

Coach Johnny Vaughn's Mississippi team, led by quarterback Bobby Franklin, halfbacks Jim Woodruff and Kent Loveland and fullback Charley Flowers, led the Southeastern Conference in rushing yardage this year. Franklin, equally adept at running or passing, scored six touchdowns and completed 56 of 121 throws for 10 touchdowns.

He may have some fun Saturday because pass defense was Florida's big weakness this year. Florida has a tiny but capable passer in Jimmy Dunn, a 142-pound quarterback.

West Suffers Blow The West suffered a serious blow for its clash with the East in the Shrine Game at San Francisco when it lost Buddy Dial, star end from Rice, sprained an ankle Wednesday and it was learned Thursday that he definitely will not play. Bill Steiger, who played both end and in the backfield for Washington State this year, may have to play at both spots at various times Saturday because of the loss of Dial.

Lee Grosscup of Utah will start at quarterback for the West while Bob Placek of Michigan probably will be the starting signal-caller for the East.

Dick Longfellow, West Virginia quarterback who ranked sixth among the nation's passers this year, will lead a favored North team against the South in the 21st Blue-Gray game. Jim Wood of Oklahoma State and Gene O'Pella of Villanova are expected to be Longfellow's favorite targets. Bill Austin of Rutgers, the North's key runner, is hampered by a torn leg ligament.

Share Quarterback Chores Billy Holclaw of Virginia Tech, a quarterback who ranked sixth in the country in total offense this year, and halfback Bobby Cravens of Kentucky appear to be the South's key offensive performers. Holclaw is expected to throw most of his passes to Sonny Randle of Virginia and Doug Padgett of Duke.

Bill Kaliden of Pittsburgh and Al Jacks of Penn State will share the quarterback chores for the North in the Saturday night game at Miami while the South's signal-caller will be Buddy Humphrey of Baylor. Buddy led the major college passers this season.

The Miami contest will be played under professional rules. The teams will use unlimited substitutions. The team that is behind also may elect to receive kickoffs at any time.

Pampa to Play Denton Tonight

Second Broncho Game Slated Here Saturday

The Harvesters will be shooting for their 24th, and possibly their 25th, straight wins tonight and Saturday night in Harvester Field House.

The intended victims will be the Denton Bronchos. Game time for both contests is 8 p. m. Both will be preceded by B games at 6:30 p. m.

Denton had a fine ball club last year, as they forced Wichita Falls into a playoff for the district championship before settling for the runnerup spot. However, they have been only so-so this year.

The Bronchos have a 6-6 record for the year. Two of the losses were to Bowie, the team which gave the Harvesters their only real ball game of the year. Scores of the Denton-Bowie games were 76-63 and 51-44. The Harvesters defeated Bowie, 66-56, in the Lawton tournament finals.

Denton's team averages about 5-10 in height, and has only a couple of men over six feet. The Bronchos have been scoring about 48 points per game.

Their two top men are Dwain Riney, who has scored 209 points, and Judd Holt, who has tallied 127.

The defending state champion Harvesters have won 10 straight this year, and have been in mid-season form for most of their games. However, they looked ragged in spots in their last game Tuesday night, against Phillips.

All-state forward Coyie Winborn has led the Harvester attack in almost every game. He has scored 182 points. Against Phillips, he played his worst game of the year, but still netted 15 points in three quarters.

Center Mack Layne, Pampa's biggest man at 6-4, slacked off Tuesday from his re-act fast pace, but still tallied 10 points — or a total of 65 in the last four games, and 128 for the season.

Bobby Gindorf, 6-4 forward, was high scorer against Phillips. He meshed seven field goals and three-for-three at the free throw line, for 17 points. Charley Minor hit double figures for the ninth time in 10 games, with 12 points, and now has a total of 139.

Phillip Gist, a reserve forward, looked the best of any of the Harvesters Tuesday night, as he sank seven points in his 11 minutes on the floor.

Craig Winborn, 6-3 forward, has not yet returned to his early season form, since a severe attack of flu laid him low a couple of weeks ago. He scored eight points Tuesday.

Moore May Box a Heavy

DALLAS (UPI) — Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore has reacted favorably to an offer from promoter Ralph Smith to meet the winner of a heavyweight bout scheduled Dec. 29 in Memorial Auditorium.

The bout matches Art Swiden of Pittsburgh and Bert Whitehurst of Baltimore. It is one of four 10-round fights opening Cotton Bowl Week.

Smith said he spoke with Moore Tuesday and offered the fighter $7,500 plus 35 per cent of the box, to take on the winner of the Whitehurst-Swiden match on Jan. 26 in Dallas.

Smith said Moore was "favorable" to the offer but wanted to reserve commitment until details of a tour of South America early next year have been worked out.

The feature fight on next week's card is between ranking featherweight Paul Jorgensen of Fort Arthur and Bobby Bell of New York. A light-heavyweight bout will pit Tommy Sims of Dallas against Chief Alvin Williams of Oklahoma City.

Featherweights Irish Tommy Bain of Hollywood and Junior Flores of Port Arthur, complete the card.

Phillips Is Sandie Coach

AMARILLO — O. A. Phillips is the new head football coach at Amarillo High School. Phillips' last coaching job was at Jacksonville, but he is best known for building Nederland into a state power.

Phillips was head coach at Nederland from 1951-56. His teams won 56, lost 15, and tied one; and also captured the district title four times and reached the state finals in '56.

In 1957, Bear Bryant hired Phillips as assistant coach at Texas A&M. When Bear left Aggie land, Phillips returned to schoolboy football, taking a job as Jacksonville coach. Last year, Jacksonville won three, lost six, and tied one, breaking a long consecutive losing streak.

Phillips has a three-year contract, calling for $3,250.

Herb Elliott is Outstanding Athletic Performer of 1958

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australia, the amazing athletic "down under," produced the world's outstanding athlete in 1958 in a rangy, running automation named Herb Elliott.

There were eye-popping performances in every field of sports. Name your favorite and there was a top performer.

But Elliott, the health diet addict who trains by running a mere 20 miles a day, stood head and shoulders over the field.

The 20-year-old kid ran 10 miles in the four-minute barrier. Then, at Dublin on Aug. 6, he lowered the world mile mark to a fantastic 3:54.5. They were efforts which stole the track thunder of Rafer Johnson, who set a new world record in the decathlon which many regard as the toughest individual event of them all.

Lists Top Athletes Baseball — Bob Turley, whose "iron man" pitching swept the New York Yankees to their 18th world championship.

Football — Jimmy Brown of the pro Cleveland Browns and Pete Dawkins of Army.

Golf — Dow Finsterwald, the "professional of the year," and Charley Coe, winner of the U.S. Amateur.

Tennis — Australia's Ashley Cooper.

Boxing — Ancient Archie Moore for his thrilling comeback knockout of Yvon Durelle.

Racing — Willie Shoemaker, the riding champion, and Round Table, the horse of the year.

Hockey — Maurice (The Rocket) Richard.

Basketball — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas and George Hardley of the pro Detroit Pistons.

Aids Yankee Comeback Turley, a 20-game winner, was keyed in the second game of the World Series against the Milwaukee Braves. But he came back out of the doghouse to win the fifth and seventh games and help "save" the sixth in a tremendous Yankee comeback made possible by Turley's strong arm.

Brown's 1,627 yards gained wrote pro football history for one year, smashing the old mark by 381 yards. Dawkins sneaked the top player.

Finsterwald beat Sam Snead in a head- and -head final round match to win the PGA championship, ousting Tommy Bolt as golf's big man because of Tommy's spanking for unbecoming conduct.

California Preps For Rose Bowl

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — University of California Coach Pete Elliott promised today to have the "spare parts" to his Bear football machine in working order for the Rose Bowl game.

Elliott and most of his boys were to take off for Pasadena this morning to gather with some 15 Cal footballers who took advantage of a one-day Christmas break to spend the holiday at their southern California homes.

Elliott has been giving all 46 members of his squad plenty of hard work during the training period with the thought in mind that often recently the Pacific Coast Conference representative in the Rose Bowl has played splendidly during the first half and then folded.

"I want these men to play together as much as possible so I can spell any man who gets tired without weakening the overall team strength," Elliott said. "I figure that if any man is needed at any spot on New Year's Day he'll be ready and anxious to get into the game."

His rotating is such that even at this late date there are still a couple of starting assignments open.

McGUIRE AND GIST—Don McGuire, left, and Phillip Gist, are two of the seven Harvester reserves, who have seen quite a bit of third and fourth quarter action this year. Gist is the top scorer among reserves, with 34 points.

Texas Christian is Favored In SWC Basketball Tourney

By KYLE THOMPSON United Press International

HOUSTON (UPI)—Three tall men from Texas Christian University, who between them have averaged better than 45 points per game this season, made the Horned Frogs a near unanimous choice to repeat as champions of the eighth annual Southwest Conference basketball tournament which opened today at Rice Gym.

The big guns in the TCU attack are 6-10 H. E. Kirchner, with an 18-point average; Derill Nippert, 6-4, who has averaged 14 points per game, and 6-5 Ronnie Stevenson, the 1957 tourney's outstanding player.

Although Stevenson has been unable to crack the conference's top 10 scorers with a 13.3 average, he is the Frogs' top rebound man with 74 to his credit, for an average of better than 12 per game.

TCU met Baylor in the 2 p.m. c.s.t. opener today. Other first round games found Southern Methodist going against Arkansas, with Rice vs. Texas in the early nighter and Texas A&M vs. Texas Tech in the late night game.

The winner of the A&M-Tech game was expected to go against TCU for the tournament crown. TCU Coach Buster Brannon, admitting the Frogs are strong on the boards this year, said Stevenson's shooting has been limited because "we've changed our offense a little."

"We're running more single post than last year and splitting a lot," he said. "That throws Ronnie outside instead of under the basket. He isn't scoring as much, but the other boys are scoring better."

Brannon noted that Kirchner is scoring more this year, and this was substantiated by the fact that his 18-point average gives him a second place tie with Texas Tech's Leon Hill among top scorers in the league. Tommy Robitaille of Rice is top man with a 22-point average.

Aggies Look Good Four of the six-man 1947 all-tournament team were back this year. They are Stevenson, Gerald Myers and Hill of Texas Tech, and Robitaille. Myers is averaging 14 points and Hill's 18-point average hit a season high of 30 in a nationally televised game against Missouri last Saturday.

TCU and Texas A&M each has a 5-1 record for the season, and the Aggies, if they get by Texas Tech in the first round, definitely would be favored to give the Horned Frogs a run for the tournament championship.

Texas A&M has never won the tournament since it was started in 1951, while TCU has won it three times. Southern Methodist also won three of the holiday tourneys and Rice won it in 1953.

GIANT BOXING SHOW SLATED IN DALLAS

DALLAS (UPI)—The first of the fighters who will appear on promoter Ralph Smith's "appreciation" 40-round boxing card here Monday night were due to arrive today.

Smith has booked four 10-round bouts to show his appreciation to the fans for their turnout at eight live and two televised fight cards here this year.

Smith said he has "name fighters coming in here from coast to coast and I hope the fans will be happy with the show."

The card matches Paul Jorgensen, No. 2 featherweight, against Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in the feature spot. Art Swiden, clownish tough heavyweight from Pittsburgh, against Bert Whitehurst of Baltimore; Tommy (Hurricane) Sims, a light heavyweight now fighting locally, against Chief Alvin Williams of Oklahoma City, and Junior Flores of Port Arthur against Irish Tommy Bain of Hollywood, Calif.

Smith said he will try to match the winner of the Swiden-Whitehurst fight with light heavyweight champion Archie Moore on Jan. 26.

The Bell-Jorgensen fight will be a return match, since Jorgensen took a decision over Bell in a Houston bout.

Jorgensen, Bell, Whitehurst and Bain have been seen on nationally televised bouts. Williams' claim to fame include three bouts with Floyd Patterson before Patterson became heavyweight champion. Williams lost all three.

'Lights Out' Tourney Set

A men's "lights out" doubles bowling tournament will be held Saturday at Harvester Bowl, at 10 p.m. No lights will be used, except lobby and pin deck lights.

Prizes will be awarded as follows: $50 for first place, $30 second place, $15 third place, and $9 fourth place.

An entry fee of $5 per team will be charged; all entries must be in by 6 p. m. Saturday. A 75 per cent handicap will be used to determine scores, using the highest league average as of Dec. 1.

Giants Clash With Colts Sunday For Pro Grid Crown

By EARL WRIGHT United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — "They've got big, fast linemen on both offense and defense."

That's the real reason Coach Jim Lee Howell believes his New York Giants will have their hands full with the Baltimore Colts in Sunday's Yankee Stadium game for the National Football League championship.

Of course, Howell usually opens any discussion of the Colts by mentioning their star quarterback, John Unitas, and their elusive pass-receiver, Lenny Moore.

But if you ask him for the main reason he picks the Colts as tough customers, he'll talk about those big linemen.

"We think the Colts have the best blocking in the league," Howell said. "You take their big offensive tackle, Jim Parker. In a game, he doesn't seem to be doing too much out there."

Good Pass Protection "But when you look at films of Baltimore games, you usually see the defensive end hung up on Parker's shoulders with his feet spinning."

"Unitas gets rid of the ball quicker than the Cleveland quarterbacks we played the last two weeks. But he doesn't actually have to because he gets tremendous protection from his blockers."

Howell watched his own defensive linemen destroy Cleveland's Eastern Division hopes in last Sunday's game as they repeatedly threw quarterbacks Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski for losses. He has the same respect for Baltimore husky defensive linemen — Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb (258), Art Donovan (270), Don Joyce (259) and Gino Marchetti (240).

Intercept Many Passes "Baltimore's defensive backs have intercepted a lot of passes this season," Howell said. "They were able to make those interceptions because Baltimore's defensive linemen got into the other team's backfield and made the quarterback hurry his pass. That's the only good pass defense."

Would Howell like poor weather to help combat Baltimore's offensive speed? "No, sir," he said with a grin. "We want the best weather. I always want a fast field."

Drum Corps to March At Cotton Bowl Game

DALLAS (UPI)—The Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps, from Bolling AFB, Washington, D. C., will march during halftime ceremonies at the Cotton Bowl football game on New Year's Day.

The Air Force Academy will meet Texas Christian University. The Air Force marching unit has participated in almost every major parade in the United States.

NEW CHEMICAL AGENTS ARE BEING DEVELOPED YEARLY

EDITORS: The following dispatch, reporting on progress in cancer research, was written for United Press International by the director of the National Cancer Institute. The institute is one of the seven research divisions of the U.S. Public Health Service's famed National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md.

By JOHN R. HELLER, MD
Director, National Cancer Institute
Written For UPI

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two of the most promising areas of modern cancer research are chemotherapy — treatment with drugs — and virology — the study of viruses as a cause of cancer.

Within the past decade a number of chemical agents have been developed that are temporarily effective in the treatment of such malignancies as leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, cancer of the breast, and prostate gland.

To date, no case of human cancer has been cured by treatment with drugs alone. However, many cancer patients have experienced prolongation of life and relative freedom from suffering owing to therapy with anti-cancer drugs.

Suppressor's Rare Cancer — One of the most dramatic results of cancer chemotherapy is the suppression of a rare form of uterine cancer, chondrosarcoma, by the drug methotrexate. This disease usually kills the patient within a year; but a few women, whose disease had spread to the lungs and brain by the time drug treatment was started, has shown no evidence of cancer for months. One of these patients has manifested no sign of the disease for 2½ years.

The federal government, independent research institutions, colleges and universities, and American industry are now joined in a massive, nationwide research program aimed at developing safe, effective anticancer drugs. This undertaking was begun in 1953 when Congress allocated one million dollars to the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service for a centrally directed research program in the chemotherapy of acute leukemia.

In 1955, the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center was created in the National Cancer Institute, and was given the responsibility for developing a cooperative chemotherapy research program in laboratories and hospitals throughout the United States and abroad. For the present fiscal year, the appropriation for the center is 23 million dollars.

Center In Full Operation

The research program of the chemotherapy service center is now in full operation after completion of a three-year "tooling up" period. Essentially, there are three phases in the program: (1) the acquisition and initial testing in mice of thousands of chemicals each year to identify those few that possess anticancer activity; (2) further testing in animals and the laboratory to learn more about these chemicals and to develop safe procedures for their use in humans; and (3) evaluation in extensive clinical trials with patients in hospitals of the still fewer drugs that are safe and show promising anticancer activity.

The magnitude of this research effort is reflected by the fact that each year some 40,000 different materials are being tested in animals for anticancer properties. Experience has shown that only about one in a thousand substances tested will find its way ultimately to clinical trial, and even then, many will prove to be inadequate for use in treating human cancer.

At the present time, there are about 60 drugs undergoing clinical evaluation in about 150 hospitals throughout the country that are cooperating in the chemotherapy research effort. In these studies, drugs already well known to the medical profession, such as methotrexate, nitrogen mustard, and the sex hormones, are used as references to determine the effectiveness of newer materials.

Industry Participates

One of the most important aspects of the national chemotherapy program is the active participation of private industry. Many pharmaceutical, chemical and allied firms, with their special facilities and talents for carrying out drug research, are making an invaluable contribution to the program.

The chemotherapy program will accelerate the search for anticancer drugs and may make it possible to develop additional, more effective, perhaps curative chemical agents for the treatment of malignant disease.

The suggestion that cancer may be a virus disease, such as polio or influenza, was first made more than 50 years ago, and is today the basis for another important, rapidly expanding area of cancer research.

Many investigators have demonstrated conclusively that some forms of cancer in animals are caused by viruses. Within the past few years, scientists at the National Institute of Health, at Bethesda, Md., found that a single virus, obtained from the tissue of a leukemia mouse, causes a wide variety of tumors, not only in mice but also in rats and hamsters.

Develop A Vaccine

In another study, a scientist working at the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, New York City, has developed a vaccine that protects about 80 per cent of mice challenged with a leukemia-producing virus.

These two studies are illustrative of a great deal of virus research now in progress in the cancer field.

HOME OF THE FEE

CHICAGO (UPI) — Domestic Relations Judge John Hershenson told John S. Fronsak, 34, Tuesday that he not only had to pay reasonable costs of his wife's Christmas gift buying, but also baby-sitter fees for their two young sons while she shops.

Natural gas occurs alone in many different sections, including the Appalachian, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas.

ON THE ALERT—While the island still undergoes shelling by the Communists on the China mainland, Chinese Nationalist frogmen stay in shape by making shore landings day and night on the beaches of Quemoy. Frogman above emerges from the surf literally armed to the teeth.

Surplus Of Rice Is Headed Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The rice surplus is headed down again for the third straight year, with a big assist from Uncle Sam.

The Agriculture Department reported today that domestic and export sales of rice in the current marketing year will total about $3,500,000, hundredweight, or $3,500,000 hundredweight more than the amount American farmers grew in 1958.

This extra 4,500,000 hundredweight of rice will pull down the surplus, reducing the carryover by nearly one-third, from more than 18 million hundredweight at the beginning of the current marketing season down to less than 12 million hundredweight next summer.

The major factor is an increase of nearly 50 per cent in exports this season, up about 27 million hundredweight, largely as a result of expanded government-aid programs, barter sales and exports for foreign currencies.

The Agriculture Department estimates the spring pig crop at about 58 million head, up 13 per cent from last season. Department experts believe this will send prices down substantially below 1958 levels, but they don't expect anything like the price collapse of 1955.

America Becoming Debutante Crazy!

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — America is becoming debutante crazy, says one woman who helps steer "coming out" parties for teenage socialites.

"Deb debuts are now part of the holiday tradition in almost every city of any size," said Beatrice Joyce, executive chairman of the International Debutante Ball. She believes the deb business is thriving because the debut remains one strong symbol of gracious living; every father wants his daughter on a social pedestal above the crowd; and every mother wants her daughter meeting the right people.

Last Fling Of Season
"And after all," she said, "when you're 18 it's the time to have fun...when you're old, all you have to look back on is memories."

Miss Joyce directs a party, set for Dec. 30 this year at the Hotel Astor, which is one of the last flings of the season for the deb.

The fall season begins with Thanksgiving, when the girls come home for the first long college vacation, and reaches its peak during the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Debutants fall in two general types, she said. There are the private debutants in which pop foots the whole bill, and the mass debut in which as many as 50 or 75 debts will bow. Usually the big parties are benefits for some charity; profits from the International Deb Ball, for instance, will go to the Kidney Disease Foundation of New York.

18 Countries Represented
Debs planning to bow at this party include the daughters of Gen. Curtis LeMay, vice chief of staff of the Air Force; Sir Pierson Dixon, ambassador room Great Britain; other assorted am-

Skip The Drama Lessons, Girls

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Girls, if you plan on an acting career forget about drama classes. Your chances are better if you spend a few months on a ranch learning to ride horseback, shoot guns and topple down cliffs.

In order to break into TV nowadays pretty young things are forced to appear in westerns — either that or give it all up and get married.

Nancy Hadley, a wholesome cutie who aspires to stardom, has made a career of playing heroines in video horse operas. Look carefully at the frightened filly on "Wyatt Earp," "Have Gun — Will Travel," "Bat Masterson" or "Jefferson Drum" — odds are pretty good it will be Nancy.

She'd prefer to play heavy drama or comedy, but there's no home choice.

"If I didn't work in westerns, I wouldn't be working very often," the brunette beauty explained. "A young actress doesn't get many offers for modern roles. Those parts are all taken by star names.

No Chance To Act
"So we have to settle for the saccharin girls to the west who are rescued while the bad guys are doing terrible things to their fathers, husbands or brothers—depending on the script.

"Except or screaming, and running from the heavies into the arms of the hero, there's no opportunity for acting.

"Once in a while I get a chance to beat out a fire or fall off a horse. And I've been shot a couple of times, too. I've only been killed twice though.

"Romance is out of the question. The hero usually gives you a slight kiss at the end of the show, but nothing very passionate because he has to have another girl in the next episode."

If the scripts are tough on actresses, working conditions are even worse. On location ranches outside Hollywood, actors and actresses report for work at daybreak and toil until after dark.

"Sometimes I have to get up at 3 and 4 a.m.," Nancy pouted. "You get used to wearing heavy wool skirts when the temperature is in the hundreds. I've been on locations where there aren't any powder rooms for girls to use. I've fallen into anthills and come home black and blue after fight scenes with the bad guys."

"It takes tremendous stamina and good health to appear in horse operas. Once I had to climb a cliff half a dozen times before they filmed the scene.

"Despite all the problems I enjoy working in westerns, but I can't honestly say they're fun to watch. Most women I talk to don't like them either.

"Women like to watch other women — to check on the clothes, mannerisms and to see how they can improve themselves.

"The way it is now, only male viewers, and maybe horses, can find anything for self-improvement."
