STILL UNTOUCHED

The moon still hangs in space untouched by man-made devices as the Army's Pioneer III rocket falls short of its trip past the planet. Artit's drawing compares the flights of the Air Force's Pioneer I rocket, launched Oct. 11, and the most recent venture into space. Although reaching speeds of 23,606 m.p.h., an error in trajectory and a misfiring caused Pioneer III to fall short of the record mark by some 14,000 miles.

By DARRELL GARWOOD United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Army is planning to wait at least two months before trying to send another rocket soaring toward the moon and possibly beyond, informed sources said today.

The Army's Pioneer III, the second U.S. space vehicle to reach enormous altitude while falling short of its goal, soared to a height of 66,654 miles before plunging to a flaming death Sunday over French Equatorial Africa. The Air Force's Pioneer I, launched in October, reached an altitude of 71,000 miles.

Earlier reports said the Army would try to launch "Pioneer IV" January or even late this month. But top Army sources made clear today that the second Army lunar probe cannot be expected until February. Several Degrees Off Course

One source said no delay would result from modifications needed to correct the errors that caused Pioneer III to fall short of its goal of by-passing the moon and becoming a man-made planet orbiting the sun. The rocket failed by several hundred miles to develop enough speed. It also was three and one-half degrees off

The source said the Army never planned to fire a second moon rocket in January.

"Pioneer III (launched at 12:45 a.m. e.s.t. Saturday) was within one minute of a schedule made five months ago," he said. "The second Army lunar probe will also be on schedule."

Meantime, a Vanguard earth satellite launching is expected to highlight the January firing schedule at Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile test station.

Hail Scientific Results

Army scientists hailed the scientific results of Pioneer III's flight into space while conceding "engineering disappointment" that it did not at ain the velocity hoped for.

BETTER JOBS By R. C. HOTLES Rep. Shafer on Subversion

I want to quote what E. Merrill Root reproduces in his book, Brainwashing in the High Schools," of the late Rep. Shafer's speech before Congress on March 21, 1952. Root reports it this way: "Representative Shafer's speech entitled 'Is There a Subversive Movement in the Public Schools: The Documentation of a Call to the Teachers of the Nation to movement in American schools which opposes free enterprise and fosters collectivism. He calls this movement 'subversive': " 'Basically, the fact here documented is that a significantly inluential segment of public-school ecdership in the United States proclaims - as it has been proclaiming for some 20 years—the right and duty of teachers, school dministrators, and educational eaders to undertake to remake American society and government hrough the agency and medium of the public schools. . . " 'Certain basic premises char-ecterize this movement: " First. It proclaims that capitalism in the United States is doomed - that it is dead, or dying - and that its replacement by some form of collectivism, by some form or degree of planned economy, government control, or putright socialization, essentially new and different in character, is both desirable and inevitable. " 'Second. This movement and its sponsors hold that the schools should participate actively in building a new social order along these collectivist lines, that this activity should be carried on either through outright indoctrination of these premises and concepts or through processes of guided group study and discussion and uncoerced persuasion within the classroom, and that the schools, through both the content and methods of instruction, should prepare and condition the child for participation in that new so-" 'Third. The movement calls for such revision of the educational system, and of its philosophy, procedures, and subject matter, as is necessary to advance and accomplish these purposes. "Representative Shafer continues his listing, nine items in all. The ninth is especially perti-

"In the body of his speech he documents his points.' Then Root remarks: "Representative Shafer has a startling and persuasive word for the movement of which he speaks. " 'I use the term "subversive" in the connotation of "undermin-ing allegiance and faith".

" 'America is not perfect — but believe that an educational movement and philosophy which 'accentuates the negative," which minimizes, ignores, or denies the strengths, accomplishments and our economic system and our social arrangements, is subversive. "'I believe that an educational movement and philosophy which pits class against class in America, which attributes only evil and viciousness to one class or group of citizens and only virtue to an other class or group, and which proposes that the schools teach

OPEN LETTER TO ALL PAMPA & LEFORS CITIZENS

For the first time in its six-year history your United Fund is faced with the possibility of raising less than its minimum goal.

The 1958 campaign originally scheduled to end Tuesday, December 9, as of today is still $12,500 short of the $64,000 minimum goal set by the United Fund Board . . . therefore, this campaign must be extended to December 19, which is the absolute deadline.

Unless there is immediate and widespread response, for the first time in six years the already minimum budgets of the 8 agencies will have to be cut back in ratio to the shortage. These agencies are essential, every service is essential to community's well being. Pampa and Lefors cannot afford to curtail these programs.

Therefore, we make this earnest entreaty:

To those who have not yet contributed ... do so immediately. Mail your contribution Today, or telephone MO 9-9522 and a volunteer messenger will call for the contribution.

To those who, in light of the serious situation, can increase the gift already made ... do so today. Only you know if yours was a fair share gift.

To executives of large firms ... please check now to be sure a solicitation was made among your co-workers. If the United Fund volunteer worker has not visited your firm, or if he has not picked up the contributions, please contact United Fund Headquarters at once at MO 9-9522.

A record of 5 consecutive successful campaigns is behind your Pampa and Lefors United Fund ... successful in the sense that we have never failed to take care of our own. We have established our reputation as a community with a heart.

Think of this proud record by Pampa and Lefors citizens. Think, too, what would happen if the minimum goal were not reached and the Fund agencies were forced to give less than essential service to these needs. Do we want to go back to the eight separate annual fund raising campaigns. Think ... and act now!
