WHERE ARE THEY?

NO WORD!

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (UPI) — Ships and planes within a 100-mile radius of here were on the alert today for the balloon "The Small World," unreported since Monday on an epoch-making flight across the Atlantic.

The balloon and its four-member crew were believed still in the air and traveling steadily on course. It was believed, however, that its radio batteries were exhausted.

Seething Unrest In East Germany

By STEWART HENSLEY United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—High official sources said Saturday that seething unrest in Communist East Germany may force the Russians to negotiate in good faith for reunification of Germany if they wish to avoid a disaster.

These sources said that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now resting in Jamaica after attending the Paris NATO meeting, believes the Soviet Union may have the choice of withdrawing its 22 divisions from East Germany or risking a serious Hungarian type explosion there.

Agents Check For Sabotage

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Federal agents Saturday checked the possibility of political sabotage in an explosion that demolished the swank La Ronda restaurant killing six persons including a young American woman.

A total of 24 persons were injured, four of them critically, including the young woman's American companion.

The American woman was identified as Betty Arnold, of Houston, Tex. Identification was made through a 1957 Rice Institute graduation ring. She died on the way to Central Red Cross Hospital.

Her companion was Richard Ray Herrin, about 30, also of Houston. He was reported in critical condition at the hospital after an emergency operation.

The other dead were Mexican. Miss Betty Powers, a U. S. embassy employe from Camilla, Ga., was dining in the restaurant but escaped without injury.

Dulles and the foreign ministers of Britain and France decided at Paris, with NATO approval, to reject the Russian demand. But the Western Big Three are reported ready to give the Russian premier a face saving "out" if he is looking for one.

Britain, France and the United States are expected to offer the Russians another opportunity to agree to reunification of Germany under free elections on a basis which will not place the Soviet Union at any military disadvantage.

Dulles and some of his colleagues are reported to believe that Khrushchev or others in the Soviet hierarchy must be increasingly aware of the fact that Russia is sitting on a powder keg in East Germany and be willing to soften their attitude on reunification if they can get a guarantee against the German militarism which Russians fear.

However, the Western Allies are expected to insist that any (See GERMANY, Page 5)

Atlas Is Equal To Sputnik I In Prestige

By CHARLES W. CORDRY United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Jubilant scientists and military experts were convinced Saturday they have achieved a spectacular breakthrough by sending a "talking satellite" aloft and have re-established U.S. prestige damaged by Russia's initial Sputnik successes.

Without deprecating Soviet satellite achievements, they compared this week's feat of putting the four-and-a-quarter-ton Atlas missile into orbit with the outlook 14 months ago when Sputnik I was announced by the Russians.

Furthermore, U.S. authorities confidently predicted that American space vehicles may be going up at a rate of more than two a month during the coming year.

Next: Man In Space? It will be several years, officials said, before the U.S. will try to rocket a man into space. But that seems very near indeed compared with the outlook when the 184-pound Sputnik I orbited in October, 1957.

Something like hysteria gripped America then. All the United States had planned was the 21-pound Vanguard satellite which was not faring well. The program was on a near-starvation budget. Satellite development was not to interfere with the big ballistic missile programs which are now paying off. Critics said the administration had been caught flat-footed and seemed not to appreciate what the Russian satellite meant in prestige and propaganda value.

The American response paid off dramatically this week when President Eisenhower used the Atlas to broadcast a Christmas message to the world. Although many critics contend that not enough has yet been done, it is a fact that shock gave way to action.

At present, on the public record, America seems to have taken the lead. Russia has made no move in space since last May when it launched its 2,900-pound satellite.

Space Race Box Score The space race box score after 14 months shows:

The Soviet Union has launched three satellites, on Oct. 4, 1957, Nov. 3, 1957, and May 15, 1958, weighing respectively 184 pounds, 1,120 pounds and 2,900-plus pounds. The first two have perished in the atmosphere and only Sputnik III is in orbit.

The United States has launched five satellites. Explorer I last Jan. 31, a test Vanguard last March 17, Explorer III last March 26, Explorer IV last July 26 and the Atlas this week. They weighed, respectively 30.8 pounds, 3.25 pounds, 31 pounds, 38.43 pounds and about 4,700 pounds. Four of our satellites still are in orbit.

The United States also has sent two space rockets toward the moon in the deepest penetrations made by man-made objects. The Atlas and Air Force's lunar probe went 71,000 miles October and the Army's 63,000 miles this month.

YOUTH TO SPEND XMAS, BIRTHDAY WITH MOM

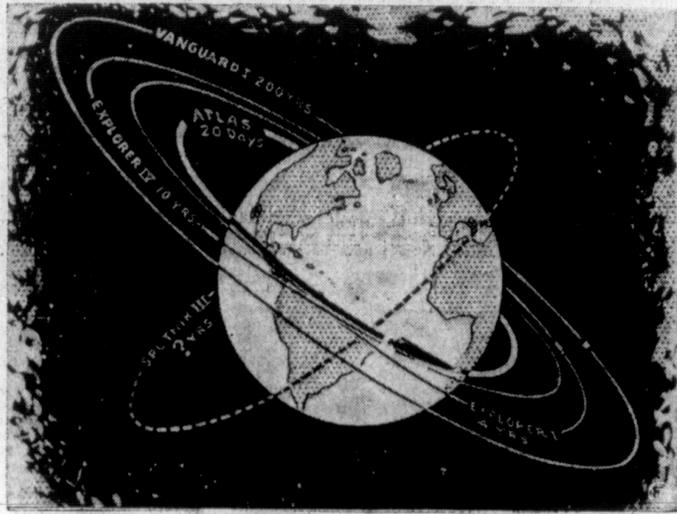

Sixteen-year-old John Luttrell Jr., who in defense of his mother Thursday night, ended his father's life with a shotgun, will spend Christmas at home with his mother. Dec. 25 is also the Pampa High student's 17th birthday.

At 3:30 Friday afternoon young Luttrell was released from Gray county jail.

He had been held in custody since Thursday night's tragedy at the Luttrell home in Pampa when a single blast from a 12-gauge shotgun brought death to his father, John E. Luttrell, 47.

The shooting occurred at about 7:29 p.m. Young Luttrell told Police Chief Jim Conner he shot his father while in fear for his mother's life.

Mrs. Luttrell said her husband, in a violent rage, had a knife and had threatened and abused her.

Satellite Scores New Space Mark

By TOM NELSON United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The giant Atlas satellite opened a revolutionary new era of communications Saturday. It successfully picked up and re-routed a radio message over the West Coast, then beamed it back to earth twice as it zoomed over the United States.

The feat was a new space triumph for the United States. It demonstrated that satellites can be used as relay stations for radio—and eventually television—communications.

The latest experiment was staged shortly after 5 p.m. est when the huge satellite made its 28th trip around the globe.

The Army Signal Corps station at Corona, Calif., re-transmitted to the satellite a recorded version of President Eisenhower's "peace on earth" Christmas message which the Atlas had beamed back from outer space Friday.

Store's President's Voice The Atlas picked up the President's voice and "stored" his words on a tape recorder.

At about 5:39 p.m. est, as the satellite continued its west-to-east path above the United States, the Signal Corps station at Ft. Sam Houston near San Antonio, Tex., directed the satellite to broadcast back to earth what it had received from California.

The Pentagon said the satellite did so and that the President's words were received "loud and clear" both at Ft. Sam Houston and at a station at Ft. Stewart near Savannah, Ga.

Flying to Florida Deputy Sheriff Rose Kitts Jr., one of the first persons to reach the crash scene, said that he had talked by telephone to "a man named Barnum" in Toledo who owned the plane. "He said that Black had borrowed the plane to take his family on vacation," Kitts said.

Mrs. Edmund Bettinger, a neighbor in Toledo, said the plane left there at 5:30 a.m. Saturday. She said the family was en route to visit Black's sister in Miami, Fla.

Maj. George Hutson of the Civil Air Patrol in Oak Ridge said he had been advised by helicopter pilots who surveyed the crash scene that they would not be able to move the bodies from the side of the mountain by helicopter.

He said the helicopter pilots from Sewart Air Force Base at Smyrna, Tenn., reported that tricky wind currents and heavy foliage prevented their landing.

It was reported that two of the bodies were still trapped in the wreckage.

Capt. James Sprain of the

The Georgia station then told the satellite to relay the message and the satellite repeated it. Again, Georgia received the transmission.

"This is the first successful courier type communication — ground station to a satellite and re-transmission to another station at a later time," the Pentagon said.

Georgia Station Gets Message The experiment was repeated successfully on the satellite's 29th pass. The California station sent the same message to the Atlas and then ordered it to broadcast the message.

On this occasion, the Defense Department said, the message was heard at Ft. Sam Houston and Ft. Huachuca, near Tucson, Ariz., and briefly at Ft. Stewart.

The satellite will not be in a position for further tests until Sunday afternoon.

Deputy Kitts said the plane crashed into a cliff near the top of the mountain.

Plane Wedged Into Cliff "The plane wedged right into a cliff," he said. "The wreckage wasn't scattered around much. It was mostly in one spot. The plane didn't burn."

There were no survivors in the plane.

The pilot of the plane was identified as Leo Black, the owner of a dry cleaning establishment at Toledo, Ohio.

Others dead were believed to be Black's wife, his sons Michael, about 10, and Jeffrey Paul, about 4, and his daughter Kathy, about 8. The body of an elderly woman was taken from the wreckage and was believed to be Mrs. Black's mother, Mrs. Merrill, about 60.

Lynda Graham DeBajilgethy, 41, 411 Hill St., miraculously escaped injury Saturday evening when her car plunged off Sunset Drive, front end first into a creek bed.

Car damages were set at $650. The Pampa woman, a secretary at Cabot Shops, was only "shaken up."

She told Pampa police officers her car struck a small bridge in the 200 block of Sunset Drive. Just before the mishap she said she had reached into the back seat to straighten a floor polisher rolling along the car's floor.

Device Saves 90-foot Missile

By RICHARD W. HATCH United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Air Force attempted a firing of the mighty Titan ballistic missile for the first time Saturday but a flaw in the first-stage rocket prevented its launching.

A new automatic device cut off the engine, and saved the multi-million dollar missile from being destroyed.

Smoke and vapor belched from the striped first-stage, which was the only engine fired. But the 90-foot Titan, static and ground tested many times, was never released from its pad boltings. Thick clouds billowed about the base, then cleared and the Titan stood motionless.

Trouble developed in the critical first five seconds. The Titan is kept bolted for five seconds after ignition, then released to flight if the firing check is perfect.

"A malfunction occurred shortly after ignition causing automatic cut-off of the engine while the missile was still on the launch pad," the Air Force said.

It was the first test launching of the super-missile, designed to be mightier than the satellite Atlas ICBM. Its flight range Saturday was to be only some 200 miles in length at a maximum altitude of only 50 miles.

My Be Moon Rocket Even if successful, the flight would have lasted only about 10 minutes. An Air Force spokesman said the flight would have been considered 90 per cent successful had the huge missile merely lifted from its pad on its maiden test shot.

The Titan may be the vehicle which will first take man to the moon and back.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Shriver, Air Force missile chief, had said that the first stage of the Titan "could provide a manned flight around the moon and back to earth."

It is designed so that its engines could be added in additional stages for greater thrust, and its builders believe this may be utilized for launching into a moon orbit, reaching across the face of the earth, to the moon or a planet.

It stood on its pad against a sky-blue cape horizon with its copper-colored second stage gleaming in the Florida sunlight.

The first stage was white with vertical black stripes to make visual tracking easier.

Weight Classified The weight of the Titan is classified.

There was high excitement surrounding the test firing, with expectations of the unusual heightening of Thursday's satellite launching of the Atlas "talking" moon.

There was a silvery half-moon hanging tauntingly in the heavens.

The Air Force said the Titan's first stage was packed with instruments to record data on friction, stresses and strain and other factors to be measured in flight at thousands of miles per hour speed.

Despite the failure to release (See DEVICE, Page 5)

Marathon talks between company representatives and negotiators for the Air Lines Pilots Assn. were "suspended indefinitely" early Saturday after 17 hours of bargaining talks.

Coupled with strikes by flight engineers and machinists against Eastern Airlines, the walkout left only two of the nation's "big four" airlines still operating for what normally is the busiest traffic weekend of the year.

Rail Travel Booms Other air carriers promised to do what they could to alleviate the skyway snafu, which brought increased pressure for space on railroads and buses.

Although only scattered demands for travel accommodations were noted in the East some western railroads received numerous calls from stranded American passengers and planned to add extra cars.

Most railroads, however, reported business was "booming" before the strike began and said they had pressed in operation all available passenger cars.

Airlines added extra flights and honored reservations of American passengers. American personnel worked night-long in many cities, making substitute arrangements for its passengers. At Memphis, Tenn., workers said "telephones were ringing off the wall" all night.

The bus lines, particularly Greyhound, also reported calls from air travelers, and promised to press extra equipment into service wherever needed.

At New York, United Airlines and Trans World Airlines—the other big air carriers still in service—were swamped with requests for transportation to western points. But both airlines said their waiting lists were closed until Dec. 25.

American, in halting its flights, said service also would be cancelled each day the strike is prolonged, allowing a seven-day margin in each instance.

A company spokesman said 20,000 employees of American were still on the payroll. But he didn't reveal if any would be furloughed if the strike continued.

Community MOD Chairmen Named

Rev. Gerald Hill of McLean and Boyd Beck of Lefors have been appointed their community's chairmen to head up the forthcoming drive for the March of Dimes, it was announced Saturday afternoon by E. Roy Smith, Gray County Chairman.

Rev. Hill, the McLean Presbyterian Church pastor, is now in the process of organizing his campaign and Beck will work largely through the Lefors Lions Club.

Smith, in making the announcement, emphasized that the March of Dimes has expanded to not only include polio but arthritis and birth defects, the latter still being one which has had little attention over the years.

Walk-Out Of 1,500 Pilots Grounds AA

By FRANCIS X. BRENNAN United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—A strike by some 1,500 pilots grounded all planes of American Airlines Saturday and further strained already overloaded airline, train and bus traffic for the Christmas holiday rush.

American immediately cancelled all passenger flights through Dec. 26 and declared an embargo on air freight and air express shipments when pilots walked off the job at 11:59 p.m. (local time) Friday.

Marathon talks between company representatives and negotiators for the Air Lines Pilots Assn. were "suspended indefinitely" early Saturday after 17 hours of bargaining talks.

Coupled with strikes by flight engineers and machinists against Eastern Airlines, the walkout left only two of the nation's "big four" airlines still operating for what normally is the busiest traffic weekend of the year.

HAPPY CAMPERS

At the close of each camping session awards are made to the best all-around boy and girl campers. Above are the two proud winners holding trophies presented by the Lions' Club Camp for Crippled Children.

LIONS CLUB CAMP BRINGS HAPPINESS

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

High in the cool Texas hill country, three miles south of Kerrville, is built the Lion's Club Camp for Crippled Children, a $50,000 project set up for one purpose — to bring happiness into the lives of thousands of handicapped Texas children.

Next summer, with a financial boost from Pampa's Evening Lion's Club, it is hoped one or two more Pampa youngsters will be sent to the Lion's camp.

Bob Hamilton, president of the Evening Lions and long a devoted friend of Lion's Camp for Crippled Children, this winter is heading an active program to sponsor a Pampa youngster.

Last month the Evening Lions held a highly successful light bulb sale — a bagful for $1 — and cleared just short of $900. The entire proceeds have been sent to the Lion's Camp.

The Evening Lions now would like to find and send at least one Pampa youngster next summer to camp. Since Lions Camp was established (1953) the Lions have not been able to locate a qualified Pampa youngster.

"This year," Hamilton said, "we have very high hopes of finding one or more qualified kids

With a little publicity I think we will. Best of all, as far as the youngster is concerned the Evening Lions will pay all their expenses."

The qualifications? According to "Helping Hands," a brochure describing Camp For Crippled Children, they are:

"Any crippled, blind, deaf or mute boy or girl in the state of Texas from the ages of 7 through 16 is acceptable except those with contagious diseases, those who are mentally retarded, or those who are bedfast or nursing-care cases. Every camper should be able to participate in and enjoy a carefully planned camping program for handicapped children."

Are there any Pampa youngsters who fill those qualifications? Hamilton and the Evening Lions club of Pampa would like to know.

Kerrville camp, to all who have seen it, is described as nothing short of amazing. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tooley — Tooley is president of the day Lion's club — visited Kerrville, about 40 miles northwest of San Antonio. There are now 13 permanent buildings of stone, steel and concrete, and a king-sized swimming pool.

A crippled child learning to walk has often achieved a miracle in itself, but last year 237 out of 481 youngsters learned the additional skill of swimming in two weeks at Kerrville.

Hamilton says the camp now operates six summer sessions starting the first Sunday in June. Each camping period is 13 days. A typical day for Kerrville campers begins with "reveille" at 7 a.m. and breakfast at 8. Before the weary camper has slipped into bed at 8:30 that night he (or she) has sung at the camp sing, attended classes in arts and crafts and swimming, has learned stunts for a nightly program and has topped off his day with an afternoon banquet.

Are the youngsters happy? Look at their sunny smiles and happy faces.

Club's Name Is Tri-Sci

Bob Jernigan, Pampa High School senior, spoke at a recent meeting of the school science club at which time the name Tri-Sci was adopted. The club's title stands for three sciences: biology, chemistry and physics.

Jernigan discussed the value of projects and ways of overcoming problems in projects. Curiosity is a tremendous asset in fulfilling a project, stated Jernigan, to whom a project is "an exercise in problem solving."

Jernigan also told a little about his own project. He is expanding the electrophoresis exhibit which won him a medal in the PHS Science Fair last school year.

This summer Jernigan was a member of a special class of high school juniors who attended the University of Texas. While in Austin, the teenagers furthered their education in the sciences.

Wattles is the term applied to the fleshy skin hanging from a turkey's throat.

PARTY NIGHT

During the first few days at Lions Camp, the campers sometimes have to be encouraged into party activities, but soon even the most solitary-minded camper is ready to sing, dance, or play games with the other campers when Party Night is at hand.

Motorists Funnier Than Pedestrians

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Motorists spent 1958 again proving that motorists are funnier than any other group.

Such as the 17-year-old in Madison, Wis., who was nabbed for driving a station wagon on the sidewalk. His explanation: "I was looking for a pair of glasses I lost."

Embarrassed was the word for some drivers. In Oklahoma City, a teachers' meeting was interrupted when someone announced that a car outside was parked illegally.

The man who got up to move the car was the school's driving education instructor.

But he wasn't as red-faced as Fred Fuqua of Miami, Fla., who dropped his sun-glasses inside his car and caused a three-car collision when he bent over to pick them up. Fuqua is a specialist in solving traffic accidents.

Unlucky was the word for Mrs. Luttie Clay Berger of Pasadena, Calif. Completing her driving test, she turned into the department of motor vehicles parking lot and rammed a police car. She flunked.

Even unluckier was Richard Wheeler of Atlanta who hit one car and knocked it into a third. Both the other drivers were policemen.

Funniest traffic sign of the year was contributed by the Rev. Frank Baker of South Haven, Mich., who posted this in front of his church:

"Thou shalt not park from here to corner."

Boy Has The Alibi
Then there was 11-year old Thomas Cline. He came up with the alibi of the year when police asked him why he rammed his bicycle into a moving car.

"You won't believe this," said Thomas, "but I fell asleep over the handlebars."

What's in a name? In Richmond, Va., Sherlock Holmes reported his car had been stolen. In Denver, a Mr. Monty R. Sinner wound up the year with 27 tickets for overtime parking.

In Memphis Mrs. Walter J. Burke was cited as "safe driver of the day" while her husband was getting a ticket for speeding.

East Orange, N.J., motorists nominated Police Chief John F. McGinty for "meanest law enforcement officer of the year" overnight parking — after a 13.3 inch snowstorm.

In Flint, Mich., Oscar Lawrence had a logical excuse for running away from a state trooper who was chasing him for speeding. Explained Mr. Lawrence:

"I was rushing to complain I was being followed by a driver exceeding the speed limit."

Frankster Erects Sign
Police in Grand Rapids, Mich., couldn't understand why a sudden avalanche of motorists descended to pay various parking tickets

Public Kissing Not Disorderly

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — A kiss in public is not a disorderly act, a Norfolk judge has decided.

The ruling came in the case of Lettie Louise Atkins, charged with disorderly conduct after she kissed a sailor seated beside her in a tavern.

Judge Savory E. Amato commented:

"If kissing is disorderly there are a lot of people in trouble." Amato then dismissed the case.

JIMMIE A. SILLS
... returns from NY

Sills Back From Course

Jimmie A. Sills, 1129 Varon Drive, representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has returned from New York City where he participated in a two-week training course on advanced life underwriting techniques and practices.

Among the topics under discussion during the sessions were the newest developments in the field of estate planning for the conservation of both business and personal assets. Included was a detailed study of business life insurance for sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations, and for the indemnification of business concerns against financial loss resulting from the deaths of key men in the organization.

Sills has had an outstandingly successful record in rendering services to policyholders. Recently he was appointed to the position of Metropolitan insurance consultant, in which capacity he will continue to be associated with the company's Amarillo district office, which is under the supervision of Manager Charles W. Dean.

Church Will Issue Bonds

PERYYTON (Sp) — The First Baptist Church members have voted to issue bonds in the amount of $200,000 to finance their building program.

The Rev. Carroll B. Ray, pastor, announced that the bond campaign will get underway the last two weeks of January. The bonds will bear six per cent simple interest, payable semi-annually. They will be printed in $100, $250, $500 and $1000 denominations and will bear maturity dates varying from six months to 13 1/2 years from date issued.

The Providence Church Band Plan, represented by Bro. Philip McGahey, will prepare and print the bonds, and will promote the bond sale campaign for the church.

Debbie Reynolds, Getting Her Growth

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Debbie Reynolds has done more growing up in the past six months than she has in the past six years—both professionally and off-screen as well.

The chipper little cutie who has spent 10 years playing well-scrubbed teen-age roles is snapping out of the mold but fast. Right now she's starring with Bing Crosby in a picture that calls for more maturity on her part than any she's ever played. Following her movie with Der Bingle, Debbie plays as sophisticated a role as possible.

"I play a soiled dove," she said. "That is, er... a prostitute, Tony Curtis will be my leading man in the picture (Rat Race)."

Her current film with Crosby, "Say One for Me," is a musical—Debbie's first since "Singing in the Rain" in 1951.

"I was prepared to play mature roles years ago," the pigunt. Actress said, "but MGM held my contract and gave me pictures they thought would be best. I guess the fact that I looked so young didn't help either."

"Bing and Cary Grant have always been my dream leading men, and I'm thrilled about working with Bing—just having the dressing room next to his is exciting."

Though Debbie is playing mature roles, she still is a bright-eyed gamin, albeit somewhat more subdued than she was a year ago.

Debbie sat in her 20th Century-Fox dressing room while a hair-dresser whipped her strawberry-blond locks into a fancy coiffure. She's cagey when it comes to answering personal questions.

"Anything I say about my personal life would sound maudlin," she said, "and I want no part of that."

Did the romance between Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor have anything to do with her new-found maturity, both on and off-screen?

"Life gives you knowledge you can never learn in drama schools," she answered. "Time takes care of other things, too. I don't want to give the impression that I've changed a great deal. You'll just have to draw your own conclusions."

Four men, Clayton Husted, Bill Mullin and C. A. Huff of Pampa, and A. J. Dwyer, McLean, have been named to serve as jury commissioners for the upcoming January term. The selections were announced by District Court Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

The commissioners each term draw names for petit and grand juries. Goodrich also announced the January grand jury term will begin Jan. 5.

Over A Million Students Will Get Training Credits

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

More than 1,250,000 U.S. high school students will receive credits toward graduation this year for learning to drive a car.

Driver training courses are now a regular part of the curriculum in 11,846 high schools. That is slightly more than half of the high schools in the country.

Is teaching young people to drive a legitimate function of public schools? Or is it a "frill" that should be eliminated to make room for greater emphasis on science, mathematics, languages and other academic subjects?

While hardly anyone questions the desirability of training young people to drive safely, many people believe that this instruction can and should be given outside the schools. In the post-Sputnik battle for higher educational standards, driver training has become, for many critics, a symbol of the tendency of U.S. high schools to clutter up their curriculum with "how to do it" courses at the expense of solid intellectual disciplines.

This viewpoint was succinctly expounded by Adlai E. Stevenson in a recent article for the New York Times Sunday magazine.

"I taught my three boys to drive a car," the former Democratic presidential candidate said. "I think they can do as much for my grandsons—and let their high school teachers concentrate on some things that are more important, or at least harder to teach."

On the other side of the debate are the National Safety Council and the American Automobile Association.

"We have no quarrel with the objective of providing greater science training in this dynamic era," says AAA President Harry I. Kirk, "but certainly this can be accomplished without sacrificing the proved accident-reducing potentialities of driver education in the schools."

"Driver training is too important to be left to haphazard outside-the-classroom teaching," says a spokesman for the National Safety Council.

Training Is Not New
Although driver training has only recently become a burning issue, it is not really a new feature of public education. The first high school course was started 2 years ago, at State College, Pa., by Amos E. Neyhart. Neyhart is now AAA consultant on driver education, and has been a prime mover in getting courses installed in high schools across the country.

Has driver training in high schools substantially reduced ac-

Canape-Candlelight Ferver Spreads Through US Capitol

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: With the winter social season properly opened by President and Mrs. Eisenhower this month, the canape and candlelight fervor spreads throughout the better up-holed sections of the city. Next to politics and saloons, the biggest business in the nation's capital is party-giving. It is more than a social instrument; the party and the dinner have become part of government.

Washington hostesses can dream, but they really have no hope whatever of attracting President Eisenhower as a social guest at one of their affairs. He goes to an occasional banquet or to the embassy of a visiting head of state, but nothing more.

This is a social supply-and-demand situation peculiar to this town. Since a president, in effect, must be a social recluse, members of his staff become prime bait for capital society. Some White House staff members find the burden of party-going too much and are as difficult to snare as the chief executive, himself.

Among the more indefatigable party-goers of the present White House staff is Robert Gray, secretary to the Cabinet, and Homer Gruenther, one of the President's key congressional liaison men. It is good business for officials in Gruenther's position to get around a lot, particularly with members of the House and Senate.

Gray, a debonair bachelor, is in demand not only because of his White House status, but because he is a highly eligible "extra man" in a town where such social commodities are frequently in short supply.

Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary, Mary Jane McCaffree, also goes out quite a bit in Washington. As head of the White House social office, naturally she is flooded with invitations. She accepts many of them with her husband, Floyd, a doctor of philosophy who directs research for the Republican National Committee.

JOHN CANTRELL
...TCU Favorite

Local Boy TCU Class Favorite

FORT WORTH (SpI) — With Freddy Martin's well-known version of Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto as background music, John Cantrell, Texas Christian University student from Pampa, made his official bow as senior class favorite at the university's annual Presentation Ball recently.

A large ice palace and hundreds of glittering stars suspended from the ceiling highlighted a silver and blue decoration theme at the dance held in the ballroom of the Brown-Lupton Student Center where Freddy Martin, his "Singing Saxophone" and his orchestra held forth.

Dancing was also extended to the cafeteria on the first floor of the Student Center where couples danced to the music of Sumpter Bruton and the Ambassadors. Four favorites — two boys and two girls — were presented from each class: freshman, sophomore, junior and senior. They made their appearances from the raised entrance of the ice palace. The favorites will be featured in the 1958-59 Horned Frog, student yearbook.

Cantrell, a geology major at TCU, is a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity at the university, past president of the junior class, and has been both a sophomore and junior class favorite. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Cantrell, 1100 Garland, Pampa.

Farmers In State Make Use Of Sun

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Texas farmers took advantage of clear skies this week to make much progress in preparation of land for spring planting.

Harvest is virtually complete, but the teeth-rattling temperatures earlier in the week sent cattlemen to their winter feed supplies, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

Except for a need of rain for wheat and other small grains in the Plains and Panhandle, and the low dip in the temperature which did heavy damage to tender vegetation in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, agricultural conditions in the state are generally good for this period of the year, said Director John E. Hutchison of the Extension Service.

District agricultural agents report livestock in good condition but beef cattlemen have begun supplemental feeding in most sections except far West Texas where ranges and small grains are adequate.

Cotton harvest will end in a week or 10 days in the Lubbock area, winding up harvest of 1958 crops. A few acres of peanuts remain to be dug, and pecans are still being gathered in some sections.

Tractors with discs or plows were busy in every section of the state getting soil ready while moisture conditions are favorable.

Small grain growth is satisfactory. However, some disease damage is showing up in the Gulf Coast area and North Texas. Rats still are damaging fields in many parts of the state.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley lost most of its tender vegetation including tomatoes, field peas, peppers, squash and eggplant, and citrus trees in low areas had light damage.

Winter vegetables in the Houston area are growing good and volume.

Pine seedling planting has begun in East Texas where moisture conditions are favorable for their growth.

Mount Etna, on the eastern coast of Sicily, is the largest active volcano in Europe.

Vicuna Is Still Booming

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vicuna, the luxury cloth not so popular in official Washington, is having a boom season in other parts of the country.

"Vicuna ales are at least three times what they were last year," said Peter F. Lynch, president of A. Sukka and Co., a custom haberdashery chain.

The soft fabric, which is made from the wool of a goat-like South American animal, was relatively unknown until last spring when a man named Goldfine was reported to have gifted some prominent Washington political figures with the cloth.

"We've been carrying vicuna for almost a decade," said Lynch. "But we've never seen such interest in it as there is this year."

Lynch said Christmas buyers cleaned out early stocks and the company had to re-buy. "We've sold 15 lounging robes at $750 each; and several smoking jackets at $500," he said. "We've had orders from our catalogue for vicuna cardigans sight unseen." Cardigans are a mere $150.

Vicuna items include mufflers ($30) and dummies ($18.50) which look like turtle-neck sweaters when worn under sports jackets.

Retail Sales Lag; Construction At All Time High

AUSTIN (UPI) — While retail sales lagged behind last year, construction pushed to new record highs in Texas during November, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported Saturday.

The 11-month cumulative sale figure for 1958, estimated at $10,995,000,000 was 2 per cent under the 1957 period.

However, construction topped the comparable 11-month period last year by 16 per cent, and rose to a new monthly high in November.

Estimated retail sales for the month were pegged at $1,064,300,000, "not significantly changed" from either October of this year or November of last year, the bureau said.

Durable goods sales, up 3 per cent, showed a gain for the second consecutive month, but remained off 2 per cent from last year. Sales of non-durable goods made a 1 per cent seasonal decline for the month, and were unchanged from last year.

Urban construction in November, estimated at $89,168,000, exceeded the previous monthly record of November, 1954, by 9 per cent. It also marked the fifth consecutive monthly construction record.

The November figure was 34 per cent greater than authorizations for the same month last year, but seasonally off 11 per cent on the monthly comparison with October.

Surplus Wheat Scheduled To Grow Larger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The record pile of surplus wheat is scheduled to grow larger with harvest of the 1959 fall-planted crop.

The Agriculture Department's first report on winter wheat production for 1959 showed a crop of 857,369,000 bushels was in prospect. This was sharply below the 1958 record crop of 1,179,924,000 bushels, yet it would be the fifth largest of record and almost enough to meet domestic and export demands.

If such a crop materializes and the 1959 spring wheat crop equals 1958 production, the total wheat crop for next year would be in the neighborhood of 1,240,000,000 bushels. A total wheat crop of this size would add about 200 million bushels to the wheat surplus.

Present wheat stocks plus the 1958 record production of 1,462,000,000 bushels are scheduled to create a carryover of more than 1,300,000,000 bushels on next July all wheat crop added, the surplus on July 1, 1960, will be roughly 1,500,000,000 bushels.

Friday's report on prospective production in 1959 is expected to add impetus to demands that Congress and the administration come up with a new wheat program that will be more effective in cutting down surpluses.

The department based its 1959 winter wheat estimate on 45,063,000 planted acres, almost one million acres more than the 1958 planted acreage, conditions as of Dec. 1, and expected normal growing conditions next year. It estimated the yield for 1959

NATIONAL GUARD HAS MADE STEPS

By WALLY TRUEDELL, Daily News Staff Writer

On the morning of Nov. 28, 1951 Pampa National Guardsmen surveyed the black ruin of a wooden mess hall that had served them for three years as an armory. Twisted gun barrels protruded from the rubble. This was all that was left of some once proud Army equipment.

There was no place to go but up. At this time the Pampa Guard was one unit of the Dumas Battalion. When organized in 1948, it had two officers and 16 enlisted men. The armory was a gift from the wartime Pampa Air Base.

Like the myth-making phoenix, a new Guard rose from the ashes of the wooden Armory. Nine months from that black November morning, a new fireproof armory was dedicated on the road to Recreation Park. That was in March. In April the Battalion headquarters was shifted to Pampa.

Monday the 474th Field Artillery Battalion observed its 10th anniversary. Since Monday is the regular meeting night, the celebration consisted of drill, boarding an officer and viewing a training film.

Boarding and officer, horrible though it sounds, is merely an interview given when an officer is up for a change in rank.

The Pampa Guard, with units in Shamrock, Dalhart and Dumas, has had its share of action since its inception in 1948.

bed, still asleep. In Pampa, motorists sought shelter in the Armory and cleaned out the candy machine while waiting for relief.

If we had to, says Chief Warrant Officer Bill Leonard, we could string miles of telephone wire through town.

Another accomplishment of the Guard was the crowning of Miss Thunderbird, a local drug store clerk, on the stage of the LaNora Theatre when "The Thunderbirds," a screen story of "America's heroic citizen soldiers," showed here.

And one young Guardsman nearly flunked High School English when he turned in a book report on "The Code of Honor," a statement of principles that all Guardsmen know by heart.

Guardsmen meet once a week for drill purposes and take two weeks off during the summer to go on maneuvers at Fort Sill, Okla.

The Battalion has an annual payroll of $90,000. In the whole Battalion there are 278 enlisted men and 30 officers.

The Battalion commander, Lt. Col. Dock A. Stuart, took over in 1954. Major Charles L. Robinson has been Battalion executive officer since Jan., 1954. Captain Lawrence W. Hurdle heads the Headquarters Battery; Captain Robert E. Imel, Service Battery; and First Lt. Terrence R. Culley, the Medical Detachment.

On its tenth anniversary the guard enlisted two new men and accepted applications from two more. The enlistments were SP 3 John L. Davis and SP 2 Jimmy L. Fowler.

'Messiah' Set For Sunday

PERRYTON (Sp) — The Rev. Duane S. Bruce, pastor of the First Methodist church has announced that "The Messiah," written by G. F. Handel in 1751, will be presented by the Wesleyan Choir of the church, Sunday at 7 p.m.

The words of this famous oratorio were taken from the Bible from Isaiah 40:1-3 and will be sung by Bill Day as a tenor solo.

The bass solo, "Thus Saith The Lord," will be sung by Lawrence Ellzey, the choir director "There Were Shepherds Abiding In The Fields," will be sung by Mrs. Vance Apple.

A soprano solo, "Come Unto Him," will be presented by Mrs. Claudia Boerjack. Mrs. Ruby McCelvey is the organist for the evening's program.

Other members of the choir are Mrs. Howard Holt, June Gardner, Mrs. Sue Ragan, Mrs. Don Calvert, Mrs. Don Thurman, Mrs. Lawrence Ellzey, Mrs. Gerald Betty, Mrs. George Zoller, Pat Haywood, Mrs. C. W. Watches are clocks small enough to be "worn" on the person. The very first watch was probably made in 1504 by Peter Henlein, the same Nuremberg locksmith who is given credit for the invention of the mainspring. The first watches were made of iron and were so large they had to be worn hung from the belt. Later the cases were decorated, but the watches still kept time poorly.

'You Are What You Eat' Says Hollywood's Healthful Bob

By VERNON SCOTT, UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It's been said I'm a nut on diets and vitamins, but I'm not," said Bob Cummings, sipping a glassful of vinegar and iodine.
"I believe in the old saying, 'you are what you eat.'"
That being the case, today Bob is vinegar, iodine, cottage cheese and pineapple — his lunch.
"When you're an actor you have to keep taking inventory of yourself," the youthful appearing

Business Views

United Press International General Electric's sales have been improving steadily and results for the full year will be second only to the record 1957 level, Chairman Ralph J. Cordiner reported. Heavy backlogs of apparatus and defense orders sustained the company's production levels in 1958 even though sales of consumer goods and components fell during the year, he said.
New car sales by dealers averaged 17,100 daily in the first 10 days of December. This was 46 per cent above the rate in November's initial period and 11 per cent above the daily average for all November.
Personal income rose to a record rate of 360 billion dollars annually in November, which is $2,500,000,000 ahead of the October pace and 1 billion above the year earlier level, the Commerce Department reported. The department predicted that for all of 1958 income is certain to hit a new high of 353 billion dollars or five billion over 1957.
The Chase Manhattan Bank said it looks for a "sizeable gain" in demand for petroleum in 1959 provided the tempo of general business activity continues to accelerate. At the same time it said the stage appears set for some degree of recovery for product prices, refinery margins and earnings. Meanwhile, the American Petroleum Institute reported heavy drains were made on the country's stocks of heating oils in the week ended Dec. 12.
TV star avers, "All an actor has is his looks and his health. If he doesn't have them he is out of business. Some don't even have looks. George Arliss, for instance. All I've got is me, and how I look."
He looks great.
At 48 years old Cummings hasn't a wrinkle in his face. His crewcut hair shows no trace of gray, and there isn't an ounce of suet around his waist.
"Vitamin F keeps my hair from turning gray," he explained.
"I've weighed 173 pounds since I was 25 years old. The secret is in my diet. I never eat starches and protein together. It confuses the stomach."
Bob launched into a highly technical discussion of the stomach's activities when confronted with various foods. He sounded like a TV commercial pitch for a patent medicine.
"You see, I experiment all the time, using myself for the tests. Then I know whether certain foods and vitamins work out right."
"This vinegar is made from apples that have never been sprayed, so I don't absorb any poison. Also it's never been distilled. The claim is that two teaspoons of this vinegar a day will reduce a man's paunch," he said.
Bob was reminded he doesn't have a paunch.
"Hmmm," he mused. "That's right. But I'm testing it anyway. When I'm through I'll send the results to the Cummings Foundation for Nutritional Research. I'm very serious about the organization."
Drinks Raw Milk
"Instead of eating three big meals a day I frequently drink three or four glasses of raw milk with powdered protein and vitamin tablets — natural vitamins!"
Bob again veered off on a discussion of the beneficial elements of natural vitamins as opposed to the artificial variety. But he shied away from admitting how many pills he takes a day.
"Just enough to see my through my work," he said. "My father was a doctor and one of the early research biochemists. So I was raised on vitamins."
"That's probably why I'm so healthy. If I'm youthful it's because I take care of myself."
"Does that mean I'm a fanatic, a nut on pills and vitamins? go into manufacturing natural vitamins. It would be a million-dollar business."

Citizens Have More Cash But Have Less

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans had more cash in their pockets this year than ever before in history. But it didn't buy as much as what they had last year.

The Commerce Department reported Wednesday night that personal income this year rose an estimated 1 1/2 per cent higher than last year—mostly due to higher federal benefit payments. However, the department said the increase failed to offset a 2 1/2 per cent increase in the cost of living.

The report underlined that the dollar has continued to shrink in value—a situation that has caused Senate Democratic leaders to call for a full investigation of means to curb inflation. The report also bolstered the view of government economists who believe the nation's economy has gained pre-recession proportions and is poised on the threshold of expansion to new highs.

One top-level source estimated that the gross national product—the total value of all goods and services produced in the nation—would hit an annual rate of 453 billion dollars in the final three months of the year.

Even when this estimate is adjusted to allow for price increases, the figure is just a shade below the mid-1957 record.

Actress And Mate Set Paris Reunion

By Gay pauley
UPI WOMEN'S EDITOR

New York (UPI)—Actress Suzy Parker and that "dear friend" Pierre de La Salle who turned out to be her husband of three years plan a holiday reunion in Paris.

This beautiful, red-haired model and movie star disclosed in the first interview she has given since the automobile-train accident last June in St. Augustine, Fla., in which her father, George Lofton Parker, 63, was killed. The 25-year-old actress suffered broken arms.

In registering at the hospital, the girl who had said numerous times she would never marry, identified herself as Mrs. De La Salle. De La Salle, 30, a French count and a writer, denied the marriage and said he and Suzy were just "dear friends" who sometimes occupied the same "very large" apartment in Manhattan, just a few floors above one in which Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller live.

But a few days later, records at the New York marriage license bureau cleared the confusion—Miss Parker and De La Salle were wed Aug. 6, 1955.

Why all the secrecy and denials, I asked her this week.

"Well," she said, "at the time we were married, it was not a news item. When it became one, we figured it was our own business."

She will be in Paris for Christmas and New Year's, she said, and may stay on to be photographed in some of the Paris spring fashions, unless Hollywood calls her back to work in January. Her husband is on the staff of the magazine Paris Match, she said, "following De Gaulle around."

"He hopes to get transferred to the United Nations staff," she added. "That way we can be together more."

I asked her whether keeping a "long distance" marriage going is pretty difficult. "We're used to it," she answered. "Are we happy? Well, on my own side, I am... I can't speak for my husband."

She implied that this too was their own business.

Franklin Pierce was U.S. president when the Republican party was founded at a meeting in Ripon, Wis., Feb. 28, 1854.

White Deer Takes Class A Crown

Six Bucks Named To 2-A All-Stars

Six of the state champion White Deer Bucks have been named to the District 2-A all district team, selected by the coaches.

Twenty-two men were picked. There was no first or second team. McLean and Panhandle each placed four men, and Canadian and Clarendon each landed three. Two Lefors players made it.

Left ends are Jeff Bearden of White Deer and Roy Bonner of Panhandle. Bearden, an all-state candidate, caught nine touchdown passes in White Deer's first 13 games.

Left tackles are Calvin Stracner, Lefors, and A. G. Sullivan, Panhandle. Stracner, who has been nominated for state honors, was a team leader who was seldom fooled on defense.

Left guards are Kent Wiggins, McLean, and Milton Mann, Clarendon. Wiggins was regarded as a team leader and McLean best defensive lineman, by Tiger Coach Jack Riley.

John Richardson, Clarendon, and Jimmy McKernan, White Deer, were named as centers. Right guards are Bryan Coday, White Deer, and Jimmy Wright, Panhandle. Coday, an all-state candidate, has been a defensive stalwart for White Deer, though he's only a junior.

Benny Wood, McLean, and Bob McCreary, White Deer, are the right tackles. Right ends are Ronnie Cade, White Deer, and Clois Beaty, Canadian. Cade caught six touchdown passes for the Bucks, to gain all-state nomination.

The quarterbacks, Tommy Johnson of Lefors and Kenny Abraham of Canadian, are among the top boys in the state at that position. Johnson scored 130 points, and gained over 1,800 yards in total offense. Abraham scored 125 points and tossed nine touchdown passes.

Hershel Powell, White Deer, and David Croskett, McLean, are also a pair of top-notch backs. They're at the left halfback positions. Powell made more than 2,000 yards rushing, and scored more than 130 points. Croskett scored 90 points.

Right halfbacks are Leland Adcock of Panhandle and Hobby McPherson of Canadian. Billy Crockett, McLean, and John Morrow, Clarendon, are the fullbacks. Crockett, a potential all-state star, has tallied 106 points.

Coaches picking the team were Otis Holliday, White Deer; Clint Williams, Panhandle; Grady Burnett, Canadian; Jack Riley, McLean; H. W. Callen, Lefors; John P. Jones, Memphis, and Tom Jinks, Clarendon.

Basketball Roundup

VERNON — The Amarillo Sandies were outscored by eight points in the fourth quarter here Friday night, as they lost to the Quannah Indians, 47-40, in the Vernon tournament.

NORMAN, Okla. — Norman downed the Borger Bulldogs here Friday night, 68-53. It was Borger's second defeat, against seven wins.

WHEELER — Briscoe squeezed past Wheeler, 47-46 Friday; but Wheeler won the girls' game, 55-46. Jimmy Aherton sank 15 points for the Wheeler boys, and Tillie Green netted 27 for the Wheeler girls.

BROWNWOOD — Plainview moved into the semi-finals of the Howard Payne tournament with a 41-34 win over Carter Riverside of Fort Worth. Lee Richards tallied 23 points for Plainview.

SLEEPY TIME, ALMOST—Glenn Ward, Pampa welterweight, connects with Theo Nance, Clovis, and almost puts him down for the count, near the end of the first round. However, Nance got up at the count of nine and finished the fight. There's some confusion in this picture, as to just where Ward's fist is, but there was no confusion in Nance's mind, as to where it was. (Daily News Photo by Marvin Olsen)

Bucks Rout Elgin, 44-22; Mark up 30 in Last Half

SWEETWATER (Sp) — White Deer won its first state championship here Saturday night, as the Bucks walloped Elgin's Wildcats, 44-22, for the class A grid title.

The Bucks scored a touchdown in the third quarter, and tallied two more in the fourth, to make a rout of what had been a close game during the first half.

The Bucks went off the field at halftime leading 14-0, but Elgin came storming back moments after the beginning of the second half to cut the margin to 14-6.

But White Deer racked up four in a row to take an insurmountable 44-6 lead midway of the fourth quarter. At that point, coach Otis Holliday pulled out his starters and sent in reserves. The Wildcats tallied two touchdowns against the substitutes.

First Half
On White Deer's first play from scrimmage in the first quarter, Allen Harmon tore through Elgin's nine-man line, broke into the clear, and scampered 86 yards for a touchdown. Ronnie Cade threw a key block on the linebacker, the only man standing between Harmon and paydirt. Tommy Lester ran the conversion, giving the Bucks an 8-0 first quarter lead.

The second Bucks tally was set up late in the second period, by a pass from quarterback Jackie Burns to end Jeff Bearden. Burns passed from his own 38 and hit Bearden, then the all-state end ran to the Elgin 7-yard line before being chased out of bounds.

An offside penalty put the ball on the Elgin 2, and on the next play Harmon burst through the left side of the line for a touchdown, with 31 seconds remaining in the half.

A Burns-to-Ronnie Cade pass went incomplete, on a conversion attempt, and the Bucks led 14-0 at halftime.

Elgin made a real ball game of it in the first half, thanks mostly to the terrific running of all-state fullback Harry Krennek. The 175-pounder carried the ball about

Banquet Here Monday Will Honor White Deer Gridders

The state champion White Deer Bucks will be guests of honor at a congratulatory dinner Monday, in the Palm Room of Pampa City Hall.

Reservations can be made for the dinner by calling MO-5-5297, today. The public is invited.

Special guests at the banquet, in addition to White Deer football players and coaches, will be the White Deer school board and school administrators.

The Pampa Daily News

51st Year SUNDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1958

Rick Pezdirtz
purely paydirt

Most citizens receive a couple gross gaily-bedecked Christmas cards of good cheer each and every season about this time.

Not so, is the case with ole buster here.

Uncle Sambo's fearless gents in grey, who hardly ever ring twice except maybe for movie titles, forge through the morning chill with the same cold dispatches for this jet-age Christmas Scrooge.

Icy ballots at this time of the year do little to warm the already frigid heart cockles. But it's the code of the fraternity to accept such trivial things with stiff upper lip and hot little quill in hot little hand.

So waken us early just the same mother dear, for this is the day when we make like the patriotic-type citizen and trot down to the little typewriter, thinkbox ablaze with ideas and ready to exercise the American Prerogative.

This we do occasionally, even in the political elections, just to make sure nobody will stop us from eating apple pie and boozing the Dodgers and sitting in the kitchen in our undershirts.

This time it's three matters pertaining to ye old sporting world that lay on the desk, screaming for attention and cockeyed caresses. There's the annual Texas Sports Writers' Assn. ballot; the Class A all-state team; and nominations for the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

To arms warden voter, the hour of decision is nigh upon you.

All-State, A Breeze

It was not a difficult task naming the first team Class A all-state grid delegation. We voted: ENDS, Jeff Bearden and Ronnie Cade, both of White Deer. TACKLES, Scott Barnes, White Deer; Paul McLendon, Rallis 1987 all-stater.

GUARDS, Calvin Stracner, Lefors; Bryan Coday, White Deer. CENTER, O. C. Haley, Poteet. Only three were nominated.

QUARTERBACK, Tommy Johnson, Lefors.

HALFBACKS, Kenny Abraham, Canadian; Hershel Powell, White Deer.

Mitchell, McNeely Picked

2 TKO's, 3 Knockdowns Add Spice to Fight Card

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Two TKO's and three knockdowns added spice to a lively boxing card here Friday night, as Pampa boxers took eight of 10 matches from Clovis, N. M.

The Clovis small-fry salvaged some prestige by coping five of seven decisions in preliminary matches.

The night's match of champions — Carl McClure vs. James Stepp, didn't include a knockdown or TKO but it was far from disappointing. Both fighters abandoned any pretense of putting up a defense, and slugged it out toe-to-toe for three rounds. McClure got the nod.

McClure, the Texas Golden Gloves runnerup, moved in against his 210-pound opponent, and got the best of most of the leather-slinging Stepp, a colored southpaw, was national quarter-finalist last year in the Golden Gloves.

Pampa welterweight Glenn Ward came closest to knocking his opponent to sleep. He battered New Mexico novice champ Theo Nance against the ropes several times in the first round, finally flooring him for a nine count.

Nance made a quick recovery, and held his own for the next two rounds, but Ward copped the decision.

Juan San Miguel, Dumas heavyweight fighting for Clovis, decided he wanted to quit early, so he TKO'd Herman Guise in 48 seconds of the first round.

Norman Rexroat of Pampa got the other TKO, at 48 seconds of the third round, when he opened a cut over the eye of Doug Aldridge. Rexroat outboxed his heavier, rangier opponent all the way, in the middleweight bout.

Dicky James fought one of his best matches of the year, as he had bantamweight Jimmy Griego in trouble several times, and decked him in the second round. James won the decision easily.

Dicky Willis was knocked down in the second round of his lightweight scrap with Wade Stephenson, but rallied in the third round to cop the nod; and in another close match Tom English of Clovis won a hair-breadth decision over welterweight Charles Kimbell.

In the best boxing match of the Gary Willis' nighting got the best of middleweight Tunney Bayles; and in a great slugfest match, Trent Olsen pounded out a decision over Joe Garcia.

James Morse, Pampa featherweight, decisioned Clemente Montoya of Clovis.

After Win, Valdez Says He's Champ

NEW YORK (UPI)—Big Nino Valdez of Cuba, ecstatically elated over his first-round technical knockout of Pat McMurry, announced today, "I am claiming the professional heavyweight championship of the world."

The explosive giant, who tagged McMurry of Tacoma, Wash., with the first knockout of his career at 2:39 of the first round Friday night in Madison Square Garden, declared:

"I'll defend at any time against Floyd Patterson, who is really only an amateur champion because he defends only against amateurs. And I'll kill him because I'm an assassin—a knockout assassin."

Valdez, who flew home to Havana this morning for a two-day visit, charged that Patterson was afraid to fight him because "he pulled away from a fight with me that was almost closed for the Garden on Dec. 5 or 12. Now he can get $400,000 for fighting me at Havana."

Nino, who weighed 213 pounds, is rated second among contenders by Ring magazine and fourth by the NBA. He was favored at 13-10 Friday night.

Referee Harry Kessler stopped the nationally televised and broadcast bout Friday night because of New York state's three-knockdown provision. He ruled that 26-year-old Pat, who never had been on the canvas before, was officially floored three times.

Everyone admitted that Kessler acted correctly in stopping the massacre when he did. Pat, who weighed 188 pounds, was in a floundering stupor at the time.

Baylor Picks Opponent Team

WACO, Tex (UPI)—Baylor's 1958 all-opponent team includes Duke's Wray Carlton and Southern Methodist's Don Meredith as top backs and Duke guard Mike McGee and Texas A&M end John Tracey as top linemen.

In voting by the Bears Friday, Carlton lacked only two votes of being unanimous choice, while the other three were a mere two votes behind the Blue Devil half-back.

Ashburn Gets Baffling Title

CHICAGO (UPI)—Richie Ashburn of the Phillies, a notorious "leg hitter," was credited officially with his second National League batting title Saturday thanks to a strong finishing "kick."

Locked in a virtual tie with Willie Mays of the Giants a week before the end of the 1958 season, Ashburn beat Willie to the wire with a .350 average that gained him his second batting crown in four seasons by a mere 3 points.

Official National League averages released here Saturday showed Mays second to Ashburn with .347, followed by Stan Musial of the Cardinals who was the 1957 champion, with .337; Hank Aaron of the Braves, .326; and Bob Skinner of the Pirates, .321.

Ashburn's .350 average was the highest of his major league career and represented an increase of 85 points over his 1957 mark of .297. Ashburn, who won the title in 1955 with .338, collected only 39 extra base blows among his 216 hits. Two of his extra basers were homers, 13 triples and 24 doubles. He drove in only 33 runs.

The real big gun in the league was shortstop Ernie Banks of the Cubs, winner of the most valuable player award.

Hill Hits 30; Tech Tramples Tigers, 80-70

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Podd Hill, 6-6 Texas Tech forward, poured 30 points through the nets to lead the Red Raiders to an 80-70 victory over the University of Missouri Saturday in a nationally televised basketball game.

Hill scored 20 points in the first half as the Red Raiders, midway through the period, surged in front to stay. Tech held a 37-28 lead at the half.

The Raiders, playing strong defensive ball, held a 47-31 edge in rebounds and hit 48.7 per cent while the Tigers managed 38.9 per cent.

Each team had three players in double figures. Guards Charley Lynch with 15, and Gerald Myers with 13 helped Tech stay in front most of the game. For Missouri, Cliff Talley had 22, Charles Henke had 16 and Joe Scott 13.

Giants Meet Browns For Title, Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants will try to climax a late-season surge Sunday by defeating the Cleveland Browns for a berth opposite the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League championship game and a player Christmas jackpot that could reach $200,000.

The Giants tied the Browns for the Eastern Division title last Sunday and set up a playoff game in Yankee Stadium when Pat Summerall booted a 49-yard field goal through falling snow with 127 seconds to go. The Colts clinched the Western Division title Nov. 30 and probably will be favored whether they visit the Giants or Browns for the Dec. 28 championship game.

A crowd of 70,000 will jam Yankee Stadium Sunday for a game which probably will be played in 30-degree temperatures on fairly solid turf if the weather forecast holds true. Additional hundreds of thousands of fans will see or hear the game on CBS TV-radio, beginning at 2 p.m., e.s.t.

Giants Favored

New York was favored at 6 to 5 in man-to-man betting. Broadway oddsmakers quoted the Giants as 5½ to 6½ favorites. This meant a New York backer would have to risk $6.50 to win $5, while a Cleveland roofer would get $5.00 for a $5 wager.

If the score is tied at the end of the regulation game, the teams will go into "sudden death" overtime with the first team to score qualifying to play host to the Colts.

Summerall's field goal last Sunday gave the Giants a 13-10 triumph. The Giants also won Nov. 2 at Cleveland, 21-17, and Sunday they will try to become the only club to whip the Browns three times in a season.

The players split the net receipts from the Dec. 28 championship game, which will be played at Yankee Stadium or Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

That means Sunday's winners probably will collect about $3,000 each even if they lose to the Colts and could receive nearly $5,000 apiece if they defeat Baltimore.

Harvesters Have Rabbit Stew, 66 to 56

Sooners Have Top Bowl Team Record

By JACK BRANNAN
United Press International

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma may be the elite of football's bowl society, out it knows no "manners" on the gridiron. The Sooners, a band of raw-boned youths from farms in Oklahoma and Texas, take advantage of others' mistakes, use gang-up tactics and practice deception.

Nevertheless, Oklahoma will be appearing in its seventh bowl game in the last 11 years Jan. 1 against Syracuse in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.

No other team has played in as many bowl games during the same period. Oklahoma has won five of its six New Year's Day ventures since Coach Bud Wilkinson took charge in 1947. The only defeat was a 13-7 setback by Kentucky in 1951 Sugar Bowl.

Syracuse, however, will give Oklahoma its first bowl test in Eastern football standards. All other Oklahoma bowl opponents during Wilkinson's tenure have been from the South.

Returns To Basic Formula
After an early experiment with a multiple offense, Oklahoma this year returned to its basic formula of using the power of the split-T formation and the frequent substitution of fresh teams.

But the defense won almost as much notice as the offense because of its stinginess. The opposition this year scored only six touchdowns and 49 points, while Oklahoma accumulated 279 points and a 9-1 season mark.

Wilkinson, habitually calm and philosophical about the game he coaches, has a simple explanation for Oklahoma's continued success.

"We always play as well as we can," he said, "because we always expect to meet a fine football team."

The driving force of both phases of Oklahoma's machine is All-American center Bob Harrison. The 211-pound co-captain has won acclaim throughout the Southwest for his ability to diagnose the offense from his linebacking position and to open holes in the middle of the line for his ball carriers.

Oklahoma's offense this year is more versatile than it was at the end of last season when the Sooners crushed Duke, 48-21, in the Orange Bowl.

Wear Down Opponents
The ability of Oklahoma to wear down its opponents by sheer winning is indicated in the fact that the first and second units played almost equal amounts of time this year during the first three quarters, while the reserves handled most of the fourth quarter chores.

The first team scored 18 touchdowns and yielded three, and the alternate unit scored 17 times and gave up two touchdowns.

The ability of halfbacks Brewster Hobby and Jimmy Carpenter to throw the running pass has improved the aerial game, and fullback Prentice Gault's explosive running has added considerable power to the ground attack. Gault, the first Negro to play for Oklahoma, was the team's leading rusher for the season, averaging six yards in 105 carries.

The loss of starting quarterback David Baker, who was expelled from school earlier this month, has created a problem at that position which Wilkinson said he will wait until the last minute to solve.

Bobby Boyd, who led the team in scoring and passing even though he was alternate quarterback during the season, and sophomore Bob Cornell are the most likely replacements for Baker.

More than a million people visit Mount Vernon, George Washington's estate, every year.

Top Bowie In Lawton Finals; Phillips to be Here Tuesday

LAWTON, Okla. (Spl)—The Pampa Harvesters, in their roughest ball game of the year, won the Lawton tournament Friday night.

The Harvesters defeated the Bowie Jackrabbits, one of the top AA teams in the state, 66-56 in the tournament finals. Duncan, Okla., beat the hometown Lawton Wolverines in the third-place game, 43-34.

The Harvesters will play a three-game home-stand this week, starting with Phillips here Tuesday night. Denton will be here Friday and Saturday.

The Jackrabbits were never ahead at the end of a quarter, but they kept leaping right at the Harvesters' heels. Pampa led 17-12 at the end of the first period, and kept the same five-point lead, 33-28, at halftime.

Coyle Winborn, Pampa's all-state forward, fouled out early in the third period, but the Harvesters still managed to up their lead 48-40 after three periods.

Coyle Winborn and Bobby Gindorf did an excellent job of guarding Tommy Thompson, Bowie whiz who dunked 43 points Thursday night against Lawton. This time he got only eight, four each against Winborn and Gindorf.

Bobby McKinley picked up some of the slack for the Jackrabbits, as he scored 22 points to lead the basketeers from both teams.

Guard Charlie Minor, who's been number two man for the Harvesters all year, got his chance to break out of the shadow of Coyle Winborn, and he took good advantage of it.

Minor dunked seven field goals and all five of his charity tosses, to lead the Harvesters with 19 points. Winborn, in his abbreviated playing stint, tallied 10 points.

Mack Layne continued to shoot at his torrid pace of the last two games. The big center tallied 18 points, and now has a total of 58 in three games.

Craig Winborn, apparently well recovered from an attack of flu, meshed five field goals and three of five charity tosses, for a total of 13 points.

REESE DIDN'T WANT TO WIND UP LAST

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fearless Fraley's facts and figures: Leo Durocher took a lot of raps a few years back for his printed philosophy that "nine guys finish last" yet this same feeling by Pee Wee Reese, one of the nicest guys ever to wear cleats, is what kept him from wanting to be a manager.

Reese, who has stepped off the playing field to be a coach for Los Angeles, could have had the managerial spot with the Dodgers. But Pee Wee was smart enough to know that a winning manager has to get tough with his players from time to time—and realistic enough to know he just couldn't do it. He didn't want to be one of the nice guys to finish last. In these days when professional bowlers are making big money, Steve Nagy recalls with a chuckle that when his team captured the Cleveland city championship 25 years ago each man won $2.

"They gave us a nice watch fob, too," he chuckles. "Well, I went out and bought a dollar watch so I could wear the fob. The rest of the team kidded me so much that I heaved the watch up against the wall. . . . In other words, medals and such are fine, but no substitute for cold cash. . . .

Four new "super" country clubs may set a trend in "commercial" country club development, the National Golf Foundation reports. NE Oklahoma Takes NAIA Grid Title, In Holiday Bowl

By ROBERT S. MCNEILL
United Press International

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Quarterback Johnnie Allen, a full-blooded Indian, led his Northeast Oklahoma State Redmen to a 19-13 victory over Arizona State in the Holiday Bowl Saturday to win the NAIA football championship.

Allen, a Sac- and Fox Indian from Tahlequah, Okla., passed for one touchdown—and sneaked for another as the Oklahoma overpowered the speedy Flagstaff team.

The Redmen, whose offense was not as deceptive as Flagstaff's tricky "Fly-T" formation, scored in the first, third and fourth periods to claim the NAIA championship.

Led by quarterback Ted Sorch, the Lumberjacks scored their touchdowns in the third and fourth periods, but were never able to match the crushing offense of the Oklahomaans.

Scores on First Effort
Northeast Oklahoma state marched 94 yards to score the first time it got the ball. Allen was aided by halfback Dan Smith, a fleet-footed 175-pounder who swept the ends, and by fullback DeLoyd Reed, who ripped huge holes in the middle of Arizona State's line.

Sorch, engineering the tricky "Fly-T" formation in which the ends pass by for hand-offs just like halfbacks, passed to end Al Rex for the Lumberjacks' second touchdown. He helped set up the first, which was scored by halfback Ron Cote on a 29-yard end run.

The Redmen took Arizona State's first punt of the game and drove 94 yards in 17 plays for the score, with halfbacks Smith and Bob Jackson, Reed and Allen mixing the running plays.

Kick Wide
The drive, sparked by Jackson's 17-yard run, ended when Allen sneaked over from the one. But quarterback Frank Phelps' kick was wide.

The Lumberjacks missed two scoring opportunities, the first after they had received the opening kickoff. With Sorch leading the way, they marched 67 yards in nine plays, only to bog down on the Oklahomaans' six.

The second came later in the second period when Phelps got a bad pass from center on fourth down and was tackled by the Lumberjacks on his own 17. But Sorch failed on two pass plays and the ball went over to the Redmen on the 11.

Northeast Oklahoma took a short kick and drove 35 yards early in the third period, with Allen passing to Jackson in the end zone. Phelps' kick was good.

With inches to go for a first down in the fourth period, on their own 15, the Lumberjacks failed to make it. The Redmen took over and five plays later Phelps sneaked over for the score. But Phelps' kick was wide.

Arizona State 0 0 7 6—13

Scoring:
Okla.—Allen 1 sneak (kick failed)
Okla.—Jackson 14 pass from Allen (Phelps kick)

BOBBY GINDORF ... sparkles defensively

No Jim Brown This Time, For Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—The last time Syracuse played in a bowl game, a power runner named Jim Brown put on a superb one-man show, scoring 21 points in a 28-27 losing cause against Texas Christian.

It was generally conceded the Syracuse team which played in the Cotton Bowl in 1957 was pretty much a one-man array.

Not so the Syracuse Orangemen who meet mighty Oklahoma Jan. 1 in the Orange Bowl at Miami. There is no one in sight with the all-around talent of big Jim Brown, now the scourge of the National Football League.

The present Syracuse team depends instead on a balanced squad. But an unheralded sophomore from the Cotton Bowl club should play a vital part in the Orange attack. He is Chuck Zimmerman, senior quarterback and captain of the Orange.

Zimmerman, the only regular from the '56 club, will have a totally different role Jan. 1, 1959, than he did three years ago when he threw but three passes—one for a touchdown—and the rest of the time looked for Brown.

While not a spectacular performer, Zimmerman played consistently good football this season and earned a berth on the United Press International All-East team. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder says: "Zimmerman is the guy who makes us tick. For most of the season he was the most underrated quarterback in the East, rated probably because he fits so well into our attack you hardly know he's there."

Zimmerman was "there" long enough to post a .605 passing completion mark, a school record. He hit on 46 of 78 attempts, good for 645 yards and seven touchdowns. He carried for nine others to lead the team in scoring. The Syracuse native, an honor student in accounting, threw 65 passes before he had one intercepted.

Zimmerman had ample backfield help from Gerhard Schwedes, a German-born junior who first saw a football when he was 10 years old. That was one year before his family moved to Whitehouse, N.J. Tom Stephens, a senior from Mohawk, N.Y., and sophomores Art Baker, Ed Keiffer and Mark Weber showed well during the season.

Syracuse, in building its 8-1 regular-season mark, set a school record by averaging 29.3 points per game. The Orange won four games by lopsided shutouts, took squeakers from Penn State, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, beat Boston College by a touchdown and lost 14-13 to Holy Cross.

In the five close ball games, Syracuse suffered from faulty pass defense. It was mainly the passing of Tom Greene which spoiled the Orangemen's record. Don Allard of Boston College, Richie Lucas of Penn State, and Ivan Tonicic and Bill Kaldien of Pitt well against Syracuse.

For the 60,000 fans in Kezar and the millions watching on the national TV network, this should prove interesting.

Also, one of the head coaches of the game is going to finish out the reason with a smile. As Curtice points out:

"They picked two of the longest coaches in America to coach these teams. It is going to be a relief for one of us to win a game."

Daugherty had a 3-5-1 record this year; Curtice 2-8.

AIR BATTLE SCHEDULED IN SHRINE BOWL GAME

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The biggest aerial battle in bowl game history is expected to take place in Kezar Stadium next Saturday when the East meets the West in the 34th annual Shrine football classic.

Because the teams will have only a week of practice, coaches of both squads anticipate building aerial attacks rather than the more complicated ground games.

On top of that, head coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, who leads the East squad, and head coach Jack Curtice of Stanford, guiding the West, each have outstanding passers on their clubs.

Two of the Finest
The pass-minded men for the West are Lee Grosscup of Utah and Bob Newman of Washington State—two of the finest in the country all through their collegiate careers.

For the East it will be Bob Placek of Michigan and Frank Kremblas of Ohio State. Kremblas was the man who guided the Buckeyes to the upset victory over the Rose Bowl-bound Iowa Hawkeyes.

"With only a week of practice," says Daugherty, "we will have to rely a lot on the air game this year. But that doesn't mean we'll ignore the running game entirely."

"We have some fine running backs on this team, too. Fellows like Tom Lorino of Auburn, Don Clark of Ohio State; Sid Williams of Wisconsin; Dick Haley of Pitt; Jon Hobbs of Wisconsin and Wray Carlton of Duke are bound to pick up yardage."

Have Talented Receivers
The West running attack will feature Leon Burton of Arizona State University; Clarence Beamer of Oregon State; Larry Rickman, Baylor; Don Stone, Arkansas; and Boyd Dowler and Eddie Dove, Colorado.

All these men are pass catchers, too. But most of the receiving probably will be done by the ends. Here the East quarterbacks have Art Gob, Pitt; Tom Frankhauser, Purdue; Bob Pepe, North Carolina State; Jerry Wilson, Auburn and Sam Williams, Michigan.

Stamford Blanks Angleton, 23 to 0

WACO (UPI) — The Stamford Bulldogs won their third state Class AA schoolboy football championship in four years Saturday as they combined a rock-solid defense with a powerful ground game that buried Angleton's hopes 23-0 in the state finals.

It took two fourth-quarter touchdowns to break the game wide open for the victorious Bulldogs, although their defense had kept the South Texas Wildcats safe at bay as a crowd of 5,000 watched in Baylor Stadium.

Stamford, which put state titles back to back in 1956 and 1957 and eliminated defending champion Terrell in last week's semifinals, scored on a 22-yard drive in the second quarter and surged 20 and 50 yards fourth quarter touchdowns.

Angleton's only threat came in the closing minutes when the Wildcats drove from their own 25-yard line to the Stamford two where Bulldog Don Davis blunted the threat with an interception.

Fullback Charlie Helmer didn't get any of Stamford's touchdowns, but his 93 yards in 24 carries were tops among the individual performers as his team piled up 301 yards to 115 for Angleton on the ground.

Halfback Tab Bunkley scored the opening Stamford touchdown with a 28-yard scamper while Davis skirted right end for six yards and the second and quarter-back Fred Uphaw followed the same path for 21 yards in the third.

Runs for Points
Davis, who netted 76 yards in 22 carries, ran for two extra points after the first touchdown and place-kicked for one point after the third, while Uphaw passed to Bunkley for two points after the middle Bulldog score.

Uphaw, working best on rollout plays, netted 81 yards in 11 carries for the Bulldogs, while John Ivy got 45 yards in 11 carries to lead Angleton's meager ground threat.

A 37-yard pass from Randy Curson to Bobby Gustavson was the key play in Angleton's only threatening drive.

Stamford 0 8 0 15-23

Scoring:
Stam—Bunkley 28 run (Davis run)
Stam—Davis 6 run (Bunkley pass from Uphaw)

HERSHEL POWELL ... all-Southern mention

Powell Gets All-Southern Hon. Mention

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Hix Green, described as the "great-est back to come out of the Alamo City since Kyle Rote," has been selected as the No. 1 Texas football player on the 1958 All-Southern High School squad.

The San Antonio Jefferson star is the first junior ever selected, said Texas chairman Puit Powell of the Amarillo News and Globe-Times. "But the 165-pounder was so outstanding it was impossible to name anyone else. He lacked only four yards of gaining a mile."

Four other Texas schoolboy players made the 51-man squad, including quarterback Arlan Flake of Lubbock Monterey, tackle Joe Miller of Dallas Jefferson and halfbacks Don Dipeky of Odessa and Ronnie Goodwin of Odessa.

Six other Texans were given honorable mention, including backs Johnny Genung of Wichita Falls, Billy Gannon of Highland Park, Donald Davis of Stamford, and Hershel Powell of White Deer; tackle Duane Cook of Amarillo Palo Duro, and guard Gene Gifford of Amarillo Tascosa.

Breck Routs Kingsville By 42 to 14

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (UPI) — Blinding speed and canny knack at springing its backs loose on "trap" plays carried the Breckenridge Buckaroos to a remarkably easy 42-14 victory over Kingsville Saturday and earned them the Class AAA state schoolboy football crown.

Halfback Joe Ed Pesch, who was the game's leading ground gainer with 157 yards in 14 carries, spearheaded two of the Bucks touchdowns, while quarterback Jerry Gibson, fullbacks Dick Rogers and Maurice Mehaffy and end W. H. Roberts counted once each as Breckenridge rang up its fourth undisputed state title to go with one co-championship.

The Bucks, ranging for 371 yards on the ground to 183 for the Brahmas, gave the hometown capacity crowd of 7,000 a taste of what was to come early in the game when Pesch raced 20 yards with 8:23 gone in the first quarter to cap a five-play 65 yards drive.

Go Way Back
The champs, who were figuring in state finals play as far back as 1929 when they shared the crown with Port Arthur in a scoreless duel in the snow, built the lead to 14-0 in less than three minutes and were never headed.

Rogers got that one from eight yards out after the Bucks' half-end, 140-pound Larry Parker, had recovered the kickoff after it had brushed a Kingsville player on the Brahma 37. Gibson ran for the two extra points.

The Bucks built their margin to 20-0 when Pesch crashed over from the two a third of the way through the second quarter. But Kingsville got that one back just before the half when Preacher Pilot, the South Texas' great Negro halfback, whipped 50 yards on a fourth-and-two situation and fullback Doug Harvey ran for the extra points with 85 seconds left.

Fast And Furious
That left Breckenridge time to score, however, and the Bucks moved 77 fast and furious yards with the score coming on a 37-yard pass from reserve quarterback Jim Wright to Roberts. The same combination picked up the two extra points.

Kingsville threatened to make it close late in the third when Harvey hit Woody Houston with a 46-yard pass-and-run scoring play. But that was the Brahmas' last menacing move.

Gibson plunged over from the one with a minute to go in the third quarter and Mehaffy from the same spot with eight minutes left to wrap up the scoring. Buck substitutes flooded into the game the final few minutes.

Breckenridge 14 14 8 6-42
Kingsville 0 8 6 0-14

Texas is our selection for Senior College Coach of the Year over Abe Martin, Bili Sikes of East Texas State, J. B. Higgins of Lamar Tech and Bob Rogers of the Texas A&M college mentor.

Kilgore Junior College's Joe Turner, who's led the Rangers to a pair of national championships in three years, gets the Junior College plaudits from here over Floyd Wagstaff, Tyler Junior College; and Johnnie Frankie, Wharton Junior College.

The High School Coaches of the year were easy.

In football we took Berger's amazing young Mr. Gene Mayfield over Bill Ellington, Tascosa; Larry Wartes, Stamford; Wilford Moore, Port Neches; Buster Dixon, Fort Worth Carter-Riverside; James Lyda, Elgin; and Tugboat Jones, Highland Park. And why wasn't White Deer's OTIS HOLLADAY on the list?

In basketball we had to go along with Pampa's own Clifton McNeely over AAA champ Waxahachie's J. W. Williams, AA champ Belton's Mack Birtcher, A champ James Bowie's James Taylor, B champ Blossom's B. C. Essary and Metz LaFollette of Seminole.

In track it was Groom's Weldon Bates, who was Class B runner-up despite an enrollment of only 96. Over Lee Mitchell, Gladeswater; Max Goldsmith, Andrews; Don Scheller, Wharton; Herman Mullins, White Oak; and Edwin Nixon, Midland.

The rest of the Texas Sports Writers Assn. ballot had to do with elections within the organization. Candidates for Region I include this writer, Toby Drun, Berger; Puit Powell, Amarillo; and Joe Kelly, Lubbock. Mercy no, we shall not disclose how we voted here lest we be unjustly incriminated against. Hee, haw!

Coyotes Claw Pasadena, 48-6

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI) — Wichita Falls' powerful Coyotes sparked by John Genung, Dickie Turner and a bruising line, crushed Pasadena 48-6 Saturday to win the Class AAAA state high school football championship.

Genung counted three touchdowns on scoring runs of 55, 85 and 8 yards and set up another with a 60-yard pass to end Walter Maness. Turner scored twice on one and four-yard plunges. Jimmy Walker also picked up two touchdowns on 16 and six-yard scampers.

Wichita Falls amassed a total of 426 yards on the ground and 66 in the air, to Pasadena's 119 yards rushing and 117 passing.

The Coyotes of Coach Joe Golding annexed their fourth state schoolboy crown before a crowd of 8,000 fans in Memorial Stadium. Wichita Falls previously won titles in 1941, 1949 and 1950.

Score in Every Period
Wichita Falls, scoring in every period, launched touchdown drives behind a powerful forward wall that punched wide holes in the Pasadena line and gave Coyote backs ample running room.

Pasadena's lone touchdown, tallied in the first period, came on a 60-yard drive marked by a spectacular leaping catch by end Carl Choate of a 40-yard pass from quarterback Randal Kerbow. Kerbow plunged over from the one five plays later for the score.

The Pasadena touchdown tied the score at 6-6 but Wichita Falls opened its ground-and-air attack full throttle in the second period.

Open Scoring Early
Genung piled up 150 yards on the ground and Turner accounted for 57 yards rushing. The Coyotes' superiority was demonstrated by the fact that they averaged 7.3 yards on their 59 rushing plays.

Wichita Falls opened its scoring spree from the initial kickoff and Turner climaxed a 70-yard drive by bouncing over from the one. Genung led an 11-play march early in the second quarter, scoring from eight yards out as the Coyotes started rolling up their lead.

Midway in the second period, Genung sprinted through right guard, cut back and raced 35 yards to score standing up. Late

WF—Genung 8 run (Turner run)
WF—Genung 35 run (run failed)
WF—Turner 4 run (Maness pass from Genung)

American Davis Cuppers Win
PERTH, Australia (UPI) — America set up a Davis Cup Australia for the 15th straight time Saturday when Alex Olmedo and Ham Richardson defeated Italy's Orlando Sirola and Nicola Pietrangeli in doubles, 7-9, 6-4, 13-11, 7-5.

The triumph gave the Americans an insurmountable 8-0 lead over Italy in the inter-zone final. The Yanks will be underdogs when they meet Australia for the Davis Cup at Brisbane, Dec. 29-31.

Immediately after the victory, Perry Jones, 70-year-old manager of the U.S. team, said he planned to substitute Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, for Richardson in one of Sunday's two windup singles matches, which now have been relegated to exhibitions.

Rice Names Net Coach

HOUSTON (UPI) — Sammy Giammalva, sensational University of Texas tennis star who won three Southwest Conference singles championships, Saturday was named tennis coach at Rice Institute.

Announcement of the 24-year-old Giammalva's appointment was made by Rice Athletic Director Jess Neely.

Perryton Nips Pampa Shooters

In their second league match, Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club lost by eight points Friday to a strong Perryton team — 1434 points, to 1426.

Although the Pampa team was edged out in the final stages of the match, by the consistent shooting of Perryton, two men on the Pampa squad took individual honors.

F. I. Crum of Panhandle, shooting for Pampa, shot 373, the high individual score. W. F. Huff of Pampa had the only perfect match score, 100 in the prone position. The league will discontinue its shooting until after the holidays. West Texas State will fire against Pampa "A" team Jan. 12 and Berger National Guard will shoot against Pampa "C" January 16.

All-State Band

PERRYTON (Sp) — Miss Lu-Nette Castle, a senior in Perryton High school is to represent this region in the concert section of the all-state band at tryouts held last week in Pampa. Two other members of the Ranger band, Kenny Jones and Earlene Schwalk, will go to Lubbock January 17 to try out for a place in the band after winning the right to go at the Pampa tryouts. Fifteen Perryton band members won places in the regional band and had the largest number selected from any of the 47 bands entered in the tryouts. In the all-regional band from Perryton were Kenny Jones, Earlene Schwalk, Lu-Nette Castle, Carolyn Lollis, Billie-mae Gray, Kay Balzer, Jarry Murphy, Brenda Gray, Frances Crawford, Janice Skaggs, Gary Balzer, Pat Haywood, Mary Lee Mitschke, George Elke and Pat Malapue.

Peg O' Pampa

THE OLD fingers are still kind of frosty from all the cold weather we've had... seemed as if we would never have any real winter weather... hope it snows in huge, lazy, beautiful flakes on Christmas Eve, so we can have a white Christmas such as the ones on all the cards we have been receiving... at we're really popular with a view like that, aren't we... the children have enjoyed seeing again the scenes set up and lighted in central park... they are always a thrill to see... Pampa is fortunate in having something like that, as not many cities of any size have such a thing... hooray for the season!

It is good for us to think that no grace or blessing is truly ours till we are aware that God has blessed someone else with it through us.—Phillips Brooks.

THINGS SEEM TO BE SLOWING down a bit just prior to the big day... except for frantic Christmas Shopping... guess you have just about completed yours... the P.T.A. organizations have been in high gear for the year... at Stephen F. Austin elementary school, there as a program by the fourth and fifth grades... a choir under the direction of Mrs. Roy Sullivan, which sang appropriate songs while the students posed in tableaux representing various aspects of the Christmas story... very nicely done indeed... and over at Woodrow Wilson... ninety third graders put on a fine Christmas pageant... ah, this delightful season, as we've said before, we think... last Sunday another ramification of the season presented itself for inspection... the annual presentation of The Messiah by choirs of the First Baptist... the First Methodist... the First Presbyterian and the First Christian Churches... directed by Bill Hunt, and Joe Whitten... we were certainly happy to see a nice crowd there to hear the chorus... the members worked very hard rehearsing for more than a month before the presentation... and it takes a lot of time, willingly donated by everyone concerned... and it is up to the rest of us to show our appreciation... herewith we say thank you for a memorable performance.

Goodness and benevolence never tire. They maintain themselves and others and never stop from exhaustion.—Mary Baker Eddy DISSA AND DATA... to begin with, what a Christmas! Ellen Campaign was presented by her ever-lovin' hubby, Bill, with a cute little Vauxhall for her Christmas present... some people have all the luck... Mrs. H. H. Stull and Mrs. Fred Hart are visiting in Fort Worth, Dallas... and Houston... they'll be back just in time to hang up their stockings on Christmas Eve... and one who won't be here to hang up a stocking, perhaps, is Mary Ann Kelley, who is going to attend a Youth Rally in Okmulgee, Oklahoma... over the holidays... and while we are on the subject of young people... Jo Ann Jones is expected home from Stephens College... Columbia, Missouri, for the holidays... and Maynette Loftus will be home, too... Carol Triplehorn will hostess a New Year's party, too... and excitement is running at fever pitch to be trite, over the up-coming Sub Deb Presentation Dance... which will be the 22nd at the Country Club... of course, the theme is a vast and well-kept secret the Big Night... but we hear rumors that it is going to be absolutely "out of this world"... could it be that it is a space theme? Peg is just guessing... anyhow, the girls are working hard on that on top of everything else they have to do for the holidays... We're tired just thinking about it...

The one who will be found in trial capable of great acts of love is ever the one who is always doing considerable small ones.—F. W. Robertson.

FOR ALL YOU TELEVISION fans... particularly those who love to watch the late movies, or the early movies on that one-eyed monster of the living room... did you know that there is published, in a paperback edition, a guide to all the old movies... we happened to see it on a news stand the other day... it gives the plots and ratings of all the old movies that have been released for television purposes... and if you want to know whether to stay up or not, consult the book... neat, eh?... now back to business... we always like to give helpful hints to the homemaker, and sometimes we let it get out of hand... The Triplehorns, Bob and Jim, and the Missuses and the Clinton Evans... and the Malcolm Browns' certainly had a nice cocktail party before the Christmas Dance at the Country Club... enjoyed every minute of it... as you may know, Laura V. Hamner author of the new "Light and Hitch" book about the Panhandle pioneers... was in town for an Autograph party at the News Service last week... and she visited Mrs. Katie Beverly briefly on Friday morning... the party was a success, with many, many dropping in for a chat and to swap stories with the chronicler of the Plains... Lorene Locke, President of Panhandle Penwomen was there to help... Miss Hamner says she does not feel old at all... and she must be over eighty... a marvelous woman.

WE ARE GOING TO STEAL A MARCH ON SPRING already, before the Christmas holidays are over... is it sacrilegious?... but we were looking at a gardening magazine, and there were listed new flowers for the year... some of which sound wonderful... a new petunia, with flowers nearly five inches in diameter, is the "Sabre Dance" petunia... bright crimson with crimson "star" in the center... and there is a "Merry-Go-Round" zinnia which is two-toned... cactus and semi-cactus flowers tipped with contrasting color... fire-red with gold... clear purple with white, and so on... and, what seems the most fascinating to us, and beautiful, too... is the "Silent Night" Gladiolus, their color is two-toned blue!

AFTER JANUARY 1, you may get out your seed catalogs... have you seen a jaunty Ted Gikas out hopping around in his new Corvette sports car?... wow, what fun... we have seen Connie McDaniel downtown three times, shopping, each time with a different child in tow... guess it is easier to take 'em one at a time that way... saw, also, at a different time... Johnnie Donaldson... with two very attractive daughters in tow... we think she is a very beautiful woman... and looks so capable... she always has such a pleasant smile for every one she meets... and orchids also, to Mrs. H. H. Boynton whom we vote as one of the nicest women in Pampa... Say, girls... remember our list of eligible bachelors in this town?... well, we have ferreted out two more for your inspection... they are Frank Vitran... and Bobby Fletcher... and they can cook too... heard that they brewed up a gigantic mess of wonderful spaghetti last week for friends of Dewey and Peggy Palmifer... and a salad... and cookies... and goodies galore... and they like good music... and are frankly open to suggestions about pretty girls in town... so, what are you waiting for?... did you see the notice in the paper about the Girl Scout television series on handicraft and so on... sounds wonderful... Saturdays at 9-30... don't forget your contribution to the United Fund... they can take contributions any time, whether a formal drive is on or not... guess we are getting wind-baggy... so Merry Christmas to all!

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS—Stehen F. Austin Choir under the direction of Mrs. Roy Sullivan and the fourth grades of Mrs. Glenn Cox, Mrs. J. E. Gunn and Mrs. A. W. Skewes presented "The Story of the First Christmas" at the December meeting of the PTA in the school auditorium. Appearing in "The Mother Mary," a scene from "The Story of the First Christmas" were, seated, left to right, Sharon Barton, Linda Gail Geoffroy, Hattie Betsy Goodwyn, Jan Henderson, Lynda Colville; standing, left to right, Gail Donaldson, Karen Hoover, Debra Dorsett, Susan Jack, Barbara Veale and Cindy Miller.

MATURE PARENT

To Joe the top of the living room mantel was territory as unknown as Dr. Livingstone's Africa was to Stanley... a place of vagueness into which his jar of peppermints always disappeared after meals. One afternoon his mother left the jar in full view on the mantel instead of shoving it back against the wall. Like Stanley aroused to the hope of reaching Dr. Livingstone, Joe went into action. With his 3-year-old brain he made quick estimates of the reach he could add to his arm by standing on the back of a chair. With his 3-year-old muscles he pulled and tugged at the chair until he'd got it placed where he wanted it. Then, clambering up on its back, he leaned away from security to grope across emptiness for the jar of candy, anxious but persevering like any other explorer. His mother found him in the midst of this risky negotiation. She got very quiet. Tiptoeing over to him, she sat down in the chair and gripped his legs. It was the support he needed to reach the jar. He felt toward his mother exactly as Columbus felt toward Queen Isabella. Triumphant and proud, he shouted, "I got it, Mommy! I got it! Can I have one? Can you have one?" We can't always be equally extraordinary in these situations. Our fear for the child who's playing with the hose, standing on the porch rail, using sharp scissors will be too much for us... and we'll yell at the darning of young muscles and brains we don't trust. But if we can't always give child explorers Queen Isabella's support, we can at least remember the gratitude it inspired, not to mention its productive result, and try just once in a while to control our rushes of suspicion and distrust. Last evening I heard Dr. Rollo May say this to a group of other psychoanalysts: "Children count risk to test themselves against the challenges of the world. They invite risk out of their intuitive knowledge that the anxiety involved in risk must be overcome to get anywhere." Often we scream at children's risks because our own have ended in hurt. We cling to security because we've stopped hoping to get anywhere.

RUTH MILLETT

Some marriages go on the rocks because a wife doesn't make the effort to "live up" to her husband's success and to assume the responsibilities that go with being the wife of a successful man. If your husband is moving up the success ladder and you don't want him to leave you behind, look for these danger signals: You make excuses for not entertaining enough to keep up with your social obligations. You don't like the wives of your husband's business associates and tell your husband to get along with them. You aren't a good enough housekeeper so that your husband can ever feel free to bring home an unexpected guest. You resent the time your husband has to spend away from home in addition to his working day, and let him know it. You aren't in the least concerned about your looks, and don't even bother to buy a new dress when your husband tries to get it you to. You resent women who have more education than you do—instead of realizing that any woman can educate herself through reading and study, going to art exhibits, and listening to good music. You aren't satisfied with the way your house looks, but you have made no effort to learn how to make a room seem comfortable and pleasant—instead of just ordinary. You refuse to go on business trips with your husband on the grounds that you can't leave the children—when you honestly could find someone competent to look after them for a few days. All of these are signs that you are dragging your heels instead of keeping in step with your husband—and they may be more dangerous signs than you realize.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You may say this is not my problem but I am very much disturbed and don't know what to do. Our son, who is 15, started to avoid his cousin and when we questioned him he said the boy can't go into a place downtown without stealing one or two small articles. We know my brother and his wife have no idea their son does these things. We hate to tattle-tale, but we are afraid if we let it go on, the boy will be caught and taken to the police station. His father is a well liked, prominent businessman in town. Should I give them some hint or stay out of it altogether?

DEAR ABBY: This is not time for "hints". A frank heart-to-heart talk is the only solution. For the boy's own good, and as a favor to his parents, I urge you to tell them at once.

DEAR ABBY: Is it right for a husband to avoid poker games which he doesn't care for with the excuse, "My wife objects." He also tells salesmen to "talk to the wife" after he's instructed me to turn them down. Isn't there more to being "the man of the house" than just signing the checks?

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister whom I call on the telephone and she is my problem. The minute she hears my voice she says,

"Wait a second until I find a cigarette." When she returns I ask her what she is doing and she says, "Nothing." About half an hour later she says, "I have to run, there is someone waiting outside in the car for me!" and bang goes the receiver. Is this a nice way to treat an elder sister?

DEAR ABBY: I see so much about married men getting mixed up with single women who'd just as soon break up their homes as not. I have been around a lot and would like to say that no man has to break up his home if he doesn't want to. Here are THREE good excuses he can use when his girlfriend puts the pressure on him. (They work, too, because I have used them.)

DEAR ABBY: Why do some parents object to ROCK AND ROLL? There is nothing wrong with it and let me tell you something—my mother has a pile of old records and I played them and if you think rock and roll is bad you should hear the one that was popular in her day called "MINNIE THE MOOCHER." Wow!

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister whom I call on the telephone and she is my problem. The minute she hears my voice she says,

"Wait a second until I find a cigarette." When she returns I ask her what she is doing and she says, "Nothing." About half an hour later she says, "I have to run, there is someone waiting outside in the car for me!" and bang goes the receiver. Is this a nice way to treat an elder sister?

Polish Mistletoe Manners With Few

Pointers On Holiday Do's and Don'ts

NEW YORK — How are your mistletoe manners?

To help teens polish their Christmas manners, the December issue of Seventeen Magazine offers these answers to some frequent questions about holiday do's and don'ts:

Q. Would it be proper to send a Christmas card to my beau's parents? I have only met them twice and don't know them well.

A. Not only proper but very thoughtful. Whenever in doubt about the niceties of doing something nice, follow the rule: When in doubt — do.

Q. How can you say 'no' nicely when a boy you don't want to kiss catches you under the mistletoe?

A. Don't let him catch you! An ounce of prevention, as they say. . . However, if it's unavoidable, give him your cheek. If he can't seem to take your hint, well — "turn the other cheek."

Q. How soon after receiving a present should you write a thank-you note? And do you have to write if you thank someone in person?

A. Always write the same week you receive a gift. If an older person or a friend you can't see often has given you the gift, a note or a phone call — in addition to a personal thanks — is usually expected.

Q. My older cousin and I have always exchanged Christmas presents, but she married and moved away recently and my question is: do I have to send her a Mr. and Mrs. present or may I send her something personal, for her alone, like gloves?

A. Don't you think she might appreciate more a gift that includes her husband — at least in thought. A book or record you know she'll like is quite properly "Mr. and Mrs." and yet personal too.

Q. I'm giving a New Year's party and am sending out separate invitations to all the boys and girls on my list. A friend of mine dates a boy I don't know. Should I ask her to invite him or should I do it?

A. Since you are including him only because of your friend, it would be better to extend the invitation through her.

Holiday Fashion Spotlight On Lovely Legs With New Focus on Hemlines

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

The sack is out, and the Em- pire line is in, but there's one thing current fashions still have in common with the roaring 20s: short skirts. Not since the days of the flappers have legs been more in the spotlight.

The leggy look is accented, too, this year by extreme footwear, rainbow-hued hose and trimmed hemlines. For that reason extra care must be taken to make sure that your legs are lovely.

If you have heavy legs, select your hosiery carefully. Be sure there is a clearly defined seam up the back, and don't choose shades that will call too much attention to what is obviously not your best feature.

But if your legs are good to be- gin with, take special care to do their shapeliness justice.

To help insure foot beauty — in frivolous evening slippers and, more important, to add comfort to walking, a weekly pedicure is a must.

We all know, too, that regular leg grooming can't be omitted.

Holiday Clothes for Young Carolers

NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) — She may not act like an angel on Christmas Day but she can look like one.

That's the idea behind the frothy concoctions for little girls to wear on the holiday occasions where they mingle with the grownups.

Without actually harping on the angel theme, these dresses convey an ethereal look through means of lace, embroidery, bows, ruffles and pinafors. The impression created is that daddy's little doll behaves the way she looks.

While children's fashions in this country tend to follow the trend of adult fashions, it's difficult to say that these wee dresses are influenced by the current Empire waistline. The reason for this is that the normal waistline of a small girl is more or less Empire anyway.

But there is a hint of the Empire in the dresses we show here, both by Nannette. Made of sheer white nylon over a multicolored nylon petticoat, it has pin-tucked yoke and satin sash. Dress in Christmas red, cotton (right) has its own white pinafore trimmed with Venise lace and a banding of embroidered flowers.

If you carry most of your weight below the waist, wearing light-colored blouses and dark skirts will help give an appearance of better proportions.

Living Will Be Better Than Before

On the Farm Front
By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department's outlook experts paint a generally rosy picture of family living next year. They say living will be better than ever, with the possible exception of farm families facing reduced income.

There will be plenty to eat, food will have better nutritional value, new forms and types of food will continue to appear on the family table, more married women will be employed, and prices of goods and services will be about what they are now. So says the department.

Agriculture and the food industries are expected to supply consumers with an abundant and varied supply. Per capita consumption of meat is expected to be a little higher than in 1958, with the increase chiefly in pork. More broilers also are in prospect.

With normal weather conditions, supplies of vegetables and fruits should be somewhat higher. Lower prices for meat, vegetables, and fruits may reduce the retail food price index slightly below the 1958 level.

The nutritional quality of per capita food consumption will be about the same, perhaps a little better. An expected increase in consumption of citrus fruit and of vegetables may provide slightly more vitamin C in the average diet. The average amount of this vitamin has been trending downward since the peak reached at the end of World War II. It dipped precipitously in 1958 because of the unfavorable weather conditions early in the year.

The expected increase in pork supplies may result in slightly more thiamine, one of the B vitamins, and maturity, and dry fall weather aided a rapid harvest. Producers came up with record yields per acre for corn, wheat, oats, soybeans, barley, rye, sorghum grain, rice, cotton, hay, peanuts, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and tobacco.

warrant officer living in Memphis—has aired a desire to move to the West Coast. But nothing was definite. Gaunt, haggard and sunken-eyed, Pete McKenzie returned to Texas Dec. 10 and promptly turned himself over to state authorities.

He came back on a one-way plane ticket purchased with $50 provided by his brother after deciding prison in Texas was better than the acute asthma suffered while on parole in Memphis.

But parole authorities, after checking his record, quickly assured him that something better than a return to prison could probably be worked out. McKenzie was convicted of two killings. He was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1923 following the slaying of a "merchandise policeman" at El Paso. In 1927, he escaped from a prison system farm, and during his apprehension shot and killed a San Antonio detective. His death sentence resulting from this conviction was later commuted to life imprisonment. In 1937, after being credited with saving the life of a prison employee attacked by an inmate, McKenzie was paroled.

Since his arrival in Austin, McKenzie has been started on a series of medical checks which are still continuing. McKenzie is unable to work because of his acute asthma, and is spending his days in a boarding house under parole supervision. His future plans, authorities said, depend on the arrival, probably in the next few weeks, of his brother from Memphis.

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By JIM SMATHERS
Gray County SCD News Reporter

Trees for planting farmstead windbreaks in the Gray County Soil Conservation District should be ordered now. The supply is short, so people interested in planting should get their orders in soon.

Application blanks for ordering trees from the Texas Forest Service are available at the county agents' office and at the Soil Conservation Service office.

Trees available from the Texas Forestry Service are Ponderosa pine, Austrian pine, Red Cedar and Chinese elm.

Farmstead windbreaks serve as a barrier against high winds, protect farm buildings, gardens, orchards and livestock, and prevent damage from drifting soil and snow.

Farmstead windbreaks are applicable around any farmstead needing protection. Adequate water however must be available for tree growth. This may be from irrigation or by favorable soil moisture conditions due to soil type and depth. Farmstead windbreaks need to be established perpendicular to the prevailing damaging winds and must include at least one row of low branching evergreen trees. Windbreaks on two and three sides of a farmstead will give maximum protection.

There are a number of specifications that need to be met in establishing a windbreak, so contact your local Soil Conservation Service technicians in planning your's now.

American Farmers Produce Third Straight Record Crop

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American farmers produced a record crop in 1958 for the third straight year. Good weather and modern technology accounted for the increased harvest.

Despite the smallest planted acreage in 40 years, U. S. farms produced 11 per cent more than last year's record output. The estimated farm value of the crop was $5.5 per cent above 1957.

New high yields per acre for 14 crops, resulting from good weather, better seed, improved fertilizers and advanced cultivation techniques, brought the total farm production to the record level.

The Agriculture Department's final 1958 production report Wednesday showed this year's crop to be 118 per cent of the 1947-49 base period and far above the previous record crops of 1957, 1956, and 1955.

The planted acreage for 1958 was 330 million acres, the smallest since 1918. The harvested acreage for 59 principal field crops was 321 million acres, compared to 319 million acres in 1957 and 1956.

The estimated farm value of this year's crop was $18,826,583,000. This compares with the revised valuation of $17,335,258,000 for the 1957 crop. Corn easily held its position as the nation's number one cash crop. The record production of 3,799,844,000 bushels had an estimated farm value of $4,068,553,000.

Wheat, with a record production of 1,462,218,000 bushels, was second in value at $2,509,288,000. Hay, with a record production of 12,924,000 tons ranked third in farm value at $2,207,973,000.

Cotton and cottonseed combined for a farm value of $2,128,428,000 to rank as the fourth largest cash crop.

Other billion-dollar commodities were the record-breaking 574,413,600 bushel soybean crop valued at $1,334,281,000, and the 1,757,810,000 pound tobacco crop valued at $1,039,598,000.

Included among other big cash crops were oats, 808 million dollars; sorghum grain, 602 million dollars; barley, 412 million dollars; potatoes, 337 million dollars; and citrus—oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, and tangelos—304 million dollars.

The Agriculture Department said weather generally seemed to be working for farmers throughout the entire crop cycle. Soil moisture was generally more adequate for seed germination and plant growth. Irrigation water supplies were ample. Moderate temperatures favored full growth

Letters To Santa Stymie Post Office

By JAMES BAAR
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Washington post office's dead letter office had a Christmas problem.

As usual, thousands of letters addressed to Santa Claus were arriving.

But something had gone terribly wrong. Every other year one volunteer organization or another had come forward to do the job that busy post office clerks had no time to do: Read the letters.

Members of the organizations would spend hours reading letter after letter in search of ones from needy children. The organizations then made certain that those children's Christmas Day was far merrier than it ordinarily would have been.

However, this year no organization seemed interested.

The flurry and sparkle of the holiday season filled the city. Shoppers hustled down the rich streets in the shadows cast by the marble government buildings. No one heeded the mounting pile of sacks crammed with letters that began with the scrawled words "Dear Santa."

Unless something were done quickly, the letters never would be read. The post office would burn them after Christmas.

Then Wednesday it happened. A group of Pentagon naval officers volunteered to do the job. They would read the letters. They would investigate apparently needy cases. They would distribute clothing and toys in time for Christmas.

Santa Claus had come through after all.

No Food Shortage In Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department reports there is no shortage of food and feed in the Soviet Union.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service estimated total 1958 crop production in the Soviet Union at record levels, permitting a sizable buildup of government stockpiling, increased livestock feeding, and possible exports in 1959.

No official production figures are available. But FAS analysts, writing in the department's publication, "The World Agriculture Situation 1959," said Friday all indications point to increased production and a buildup of usable supplies.

The indicators include known acreage figures, statements by Soviet officials, observations of exchange teams sent to Russia last summer, common knowledge of weather and growing conditions, and historical facts.

NEW HUMBLE OFFICE BUILDING—The local management of Humble Oil & Refining Company has announced that construction of a new and modern single-story office building will begin in the near future. The building, to cover 5,000 square feet, will be completely fire-proof and provide for year around air-conditioning.

The building is to be located on a 1.8 acre tract which fronts on Sumner and Gwendolyn streets, just southwest of the proposed new Hobart Street Hotel. Completion date has been set for June or July of 1959. The contract for construction will be awarded to L. K. Stout, local building contractor.

Oil Strike Decision Rests With Union President Knight

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President O. A. Knight of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers must decide soon whether his union strikes the oil industry for unsatisfied wage demands.

The decision could come early in January. The union's 100,000 oil workers would settle for a 25-cent-an-hour wage increase or a 3.4 per cent cost-of-living increase plus more fringe benefits and job protection.

The industry, unified as never before against wage hikes, is singularly undisturbed. It has been dealing from a position of strength due to recession-spurred surpluses, weak markets and prices, and dependence more and more upon automation to replace manpower.

As a result, Knight's bargaining committees have had no luck in bringing key companies around the conference table. They have been trying since last February to win a wage pattern acceptable generally.

Strong Clue
A strong clue to the industry thinking dates back to a speech made last October by President Henderson Supplee Jr., of the Atlantic Refining Co. He said then that between 1959 and 1957 oil labor payrolls jumped from 14 to 21 per cent, with no leveling off in sight.

Supplee called these "unrecoverable" wage costs and asked: "How can we help ourselves?" He figured the most effective way to meet the problem head on first by opening company financial records to bargaining representatives to show them that if the wage-price squeeze continues, rank and file workers will "risk falling behind inflation and losing their jobs."

More significantly, he urged oil companies to exchange information on what they were doing or planned to do on wage negotiations. "On this point," he said, "your union opponents are way ahead. The international (Knight's) Union and even the independent unions (several committees on 600 terminated contracts were willing to negotiate whenever they could get companies to sit down with them.)

"We still believe peaceful solutions to our differences are possible," he said. "We intend to explore these fully before strike action."

Study Being Held On Effect Of Peak Gas Loads To Pipeline

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International

TULSA (UPI)—When you turn up your gas heat on these frosty mornings, will there be enough gas in the pipeline to serve every one who has the same idea? Usually, yes. But what will happen if it really turns cold and the mercury drops out of sight? The answer to this question is being sought at the University of Oklahoma with the aid of an IBM computer.

Working in cooperation with the Lone Star Gas Co. of Dallas, a University of Oklahoma chemical engineering research team is helping the gas industry find out what effect such peak gas loads have on pipelines.

Gas Is Compressed
The project also is being partially sponsored by the American Gas Association through contract with the OU Research Institute, and is under the direction of Dr. John E. Powers, OU chemical engineering school chairman.

Gas in long transmission lines is compressed, so the pipe itself acts as a storage tank. When demand suddenly goes above the supply being fed into the pipe at the other end, part of this stored gas is used.

Long gas pipelines are designed to take advantage of this "surge capacity."
Chemical engineers at OU have spent more than two years writing and testing a program which will allow the University of Oklahoma's electronic computer to answer a number of important questions about gas flow.

Pressure Drop Explained
The OU researchers have broken down the problems of a compressor station supplying a distribution point into the mathematical language understood by the IBM computer. Such variable factors as gas velocity, density, position of the pipe and the total amount of gas in the pipe must be considered.

When demand increases sharply, pressure at the outlet of the pipeline drops sharply, Powers explains. How much "extra" gas is available in the pipe—and how fast it can be used—must be estimated to determine if the "stored" gas in the pipeline is enough to supply the surge demand.

The Lone Star Gas Co. is supplying data to feed the computer from actual experiences.
The results of the study might some day help the gas company to keep the home fires burning no matter how frigid the night.

40 MILLION FOR POCHES

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The nation's 26 million dog owners are expected to spend nearly 40 million dollars on their poodles for luxury gifts at Christmas.

In addition to this amount another 30 million dollars will be spent as the regular monthly prepared food bill for dogs, according to Bob Bartos, prominent dog authority and manager of the Friskies Research Kennel.

First U. S. treaty with Japan was negotiated by Matthew Calbraith Perry in 1854.
The United States averages 175,000 forest fires annually.

LOSSES DEER

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—Captain Ferris Cudworth of the tug Cavalier may be the only man who ever lassoed a deer in the middle of Chesapeake Bay. The tugboat crew spotted a 225-pound, four-point buck riding a cake of ice in the bay. Cudworth lassoed the animal, hauled it aboard his tug and brought it safely to port.

"Buffalo Bill" Cody fought his famous "duel to the death" with a Cheyenne warrior named Yellow Hand or Yellow Hair.

Card of Thanks

I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead, he is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, he has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very far it needs must be, since he lingers there. And you—Oh you, who his wildest yearning for the old-time step and glad return. Think of him there on, as dear in the love of Theres as the love here. Think of him still as the same I say. He is not dead, he is just away!

MR. R. C. MCKITTRICK

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind during the loss of our husband and father, to those who brought food to our home and for the lovely flowers. We would especially like to thank Dr. McDaniel, Rev. Burton, Wainwright of the St. Paul Methodist Church and to Daniel and Mrs. Wainwright. May God bless each of you.
Mrs. R. C. McKittrick and Sons

Red Tape Doesn't Faze GI's In Love With Japanese Girls

By RONALD P. KRISS
United Press International

TOKYO (UPI) — American servicemen are hacking their way through jungles of red tape to marry Japanese girls at the rate of 4,000 to 5,000 a year, an unofficial survey showed Saturday. The number of such Japanese-American marriages since the beginning of this decade has reached 35,000.

The question of inter-racial marriages arose when it was learned that some military chapels were distributing a pamphlet called "If I Marry a Foreigner," from marrying foreigners.

Only four hours after U. S. authorities learned of the pamphlet a few weeks ago, the senior military chaplain in Japan ordered it removed from chapel shelves.

Pamphlet Issues Warning
The pamphlet warned Americans that their foreign mates might be beneath them socially, culturally and morally. It also objected on religious grounds, warning that the children of such a union might be brought up as "heathens."

The feeling here was that servicemen, as well as the Japanese girls they intend to marry, certainly should be advised of the obstacles facing any mixed marriage. The key issue, however, is the method by which this should be done.

Dr. Leroy M. Martine, a former Army colonel who married a Japanese woman and retired in Tokyo, said he needed a special act of Congress before he could marry her.

Martine admitted that the procedure for a military man to marry a Japanese girl was simplified enormously in the early 1950's and has been streamlined additionally since then, but he said: "The command still put every impediment it could in the way of a person." Under U.S. Army regulations in effect today, a soldier and his Japanese fiancée must go through a nine-step routine that generally takes three months before they can wed. The other services have similar requirements.

A key man in the procedure is the soldier's commanding officer, who could hold up the marriage for months if he did not approve. The commanding officer interviews the soldier once and handles application forms filled out by him twice. He sends the final documents to Army headquarters in Japan with a recommendation for approval or disapproval.

An Army spokesman said that if a commanding officer disapproved of such a marriage on the grounds of personal bias, he would quickly be overruled by higher authorities.

One former soldier who married a Japanese girl told of a friend whose marriage application was delayed so long he finally was shipped back to the U. S. He later paid his way back to Japan as a civilian to marry the girl. CROWS DISLIKE ROCK 'N ROLL WINONA, Minn. (UPI)—Only the nuts love rock 'n roll music on the farm of Charles H. Aldridge III. Aldridge said he hooked his radio to a public address system in his peach orchard and found that rock 'n roll records were terrific for frightening crows.

ORNAMENTAL—Surrounded by hedge apples, Pamela Thorp, 4, of Topeka, Kan., has an eye toward the holidays. The hard, inedible fruit can be painted, making unusual Christmas tree decorations.
