Man Is Found Dead

David A. Lutz, 45, a Pampa construction worker, ended his life Monday night with a 22-caliber bullet through his right temple. His body was found in a 1951 Chevrolet in a maize field three miles west of Pampa.

In a note found in his shirt pocket, Lutz wrote: "May God bless us. I know he will forgive me."

The Pampa man, a resident here three years, lived at 1101 S. Hobar. He had separated from his wife Ella, a nurse at Worley Hospital, and it is believed he took his life because of domestic worries.

Mr. Lutz, who was employed by the Clayton Husted Co. as a dozer operator, was discovered dead by Paul Miller and O. T. Gist about 7:30 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies believe the man shot himself while his car was in motion. The car was found wrecked against a light pole in a field about one-half mile south of the Borger highway. It is estimated Lutz ended his life between 7 and 7:30 p.m. At his side was a .22-caliber pistol. One shot had been fired.

Justice of Peace Bill Graham returned a verdict of death by a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Lutz was born June 15, 1913 at Arnett, Okla. He married June 15, 1940 and was the father of four children, Marsha, Emmett, Davarou and Lindsay. His parents, three brothers and four sisters survive. The note found in his shirt was dated March 30.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the First Christian Church at Arnett. Rev. Jim Mitchell, Canadian, will officiate, and burial will be at Arnett.

Panhandle Girl Hit By Auto

AMARILLO (SpI) — Roseann Urbanczyk, 7, of Panhandle, is in critical condition in St. Anthony's Hospital after being hit by a car at 2:45 p.m. Monday. The girl was on her way to an Easter egg hunt when she stepped in front of the car at a Panhandle intersection.

The car was driven by Fred Powell of Skellytown. With him were his wife and son, Donnie; Rev. and Mrs. Bill Sparks and their daughter, Brenda Jo, of Pampa.

Powell, in a state of shock after the accident, said that he put on the brakes but could not stop or dodge the child. Mrs. Sparks said the injured girl in her lap until an ambulance and doctor arrived on the scene.

Roseann and her sister, Marsha, 9, were on their way to the Bernard Gordon Memorial Home, southeast of the intersection. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Urbanczyk who farm north of Panhandle.

Kissee Has Low Police Car Bid

Kissee Ford Co. of Pampa, which under-bid Culberson Chevrolet by $1,115, this morning was awarded a contract to supply the City police department with three Ford patrol cars.

The City Commission opened bids from Kissee, Culberson Chevrolet and Tom Rose Motors before making its decision.

AROUSSED WOMEN

Angry women in the Burmese state of Karen are out to prove that sticks and stones can break bones. . . . the bones of Communist insurgents. Some 500 women turned out with bamboo spikes, stones and bows and arrows to form a volunteer defense group. They are, however, no match for the heavy artillery of the Reds.

Ocean Liners Are Hit By Storms

NEW YORK (UPI) — A titanic 5-day-old storm that is disrupting Atlantic shipping schedules has taken at least four lives and injured a score of persons aboard harassed ocean liners.

The captain of the North German Lloyd liner Berlin, en route from Bremerhaven to New York, radioed today that four crew members were washed overboard and presumed drowned last Saturday.

The report said the men were lost in spite of immediate rescue attempts when a giant wave swept over the 19,100-ton liner 700 nautical miles northeast of the Azores.

The Berlin is scheduled to dock here April 4, but most luxury liners were running from 12 to 24 hours late due to the massive disturbance which veteran seamen described as one of the worst in memory for the normally stormy spring season.

The liner Queen Elizabeth will arrive here 12 hours late tonight, delaying the arrival of many delegates to the Washington NATO conference.

Even the 83,673-ton Elizabeth, the world's premier liner, was staggered by the hurricane-force winds and mountainous waves that have marked the current storm.

The captain of the Argentine liner Rio Tuyuan, which was forced to return to New York Monday, reported that he encountered 100-mile-an-hour winds and 60-foot waves 600 miles off Cape Hatteras, N.C., last Saturday.

Thirteen passengers were injured on the 11,300-ton cargo and passenger ship which listed 60 degrees at the peak of the storm and was in danger of capsizing. An estimated 70 per cent of the Rio Tuyuan's passenger accommodations were damaged by the shifting of furnishings that had been torn loose from their moorings.

The Queen Mary reported on her arrival in Southampton, England, that she had been hit by an immense wave in mid-Atlantic which rolled her 22 degrees and then back 18 degrees. Passengers and crew were tossed around and several received cuts and bruises.

Both the America and the liner Constitution were reported delayed in arriving in New York by as much as 24 hours.

College Joes Have New Squeeze Fad

NEW YORK (UPI) — College boys, having outgrown the craze for parking themselves into telephone booths, have a new squeeze fad.

Eighteen members of the Tau Delta Phi fraternity at New York University packed themselves Monday into a small European car, a Renault Dauphine.

Fatheree In Race For School Board

Pampa school board candidate C. Warren Fatheree, 31, along with most other candidates is alarmed at the apparent apathy of residents toward the upcoming school and city elections.

Fatheree, who is waging a vigorous campaign for a seat on the Pampa school board, is a native of Pampa. He and Mrs. Fatheree and two youngsters reside at 2128 N. Russell. His wife is a former Pampa school teacher.

At present Fatheree works as an independent geologist. He attended high school here and has a bachelor of science degree from Oklahoma University.

His platform is rather well defined and centers around the following statement:

"As you know," he states, "too few people in Pampa are aware of the immensity and importance of our school system. I believe the board should play a larger role in informing the people of these facts, and encourage more local interest."

Fatheree's campaign statement goes on to read:

"The duties of a board member should consist of a willingness to participate in certain school activities and to welcome comments and criticism from all people, especially teachers, on problems which exist."

Fatheree, along with candidate Elmer Wilson, is perhaps waging the most active campaign for a school board seat. Neither have curricula with incumbent candidates, Rex Rose or Jim Nation. But both believe they have the backgrounds to make Pampa's board "as good as possible."

BOOTS STOLEN

A pair of size 7½ cowboy boots were stolen overnight from the Goodyear Shoe Shop, 115 W. Foster, police reported this morning.

The shop was entered overnight through a rear window. Police described the boots as black with red top and trimming.

RED CHINA AS FRIENDLY MODEL IN ASIA IMAGE CRUMBLING

By RONALD P. KRISS
United Press International

TSUKYO (UPI) — Red China's image as a friendly model for neutral Asian nations was crumbling today under withering criticism of its bloody tactics in Tibet.

Editorial writers from India to Indonesia attacked Peiping in unusually outspoken terms. The restraint once shown in criticizing the Communist giant on the mainland was gone.

"Forced conversion to Communism at the point of the bayonet will not go down well in the neutral countries which are China's mainstay in international politics," said the influential Times of London.

"The ruthless suppression of the Tibetans . . . will be remembered by the peoples of Asia and the world and Peiping's action will not redound to its advantage," said Japan's nationally circulated Mainichi Shimbun.

Ask Who Is Next
In New Delhi, Ashok Mehta, parliamentary leader of India's Praja (Socialist) Party, gave voice to a fear that hangs over many Asian nations:

"Today it is Tibet. Tomorrow it may be Nepal, and the day after it may be us."

Asia's swift and negative reaction to the Tibetan revolt added up to Peiping's worst beating since it blossomed out as an Asian power at the Bandung Conference of 1955, and possibly since the regime came into being 10 years ago.

Whether this signals a revision of past policies of neutrality, however, is doubtful.

All of these nations sit practically on Red China's front doorstep, and they will think for a long time before abandoning an attitude of cordial—if not particularly friendly—intercourse for one of hostile defiance.

But what is clear is that the reservoir of goodwill Red China has assiduously built up among neutrals, especially since the Bandung Conference in Indonesia, is drying up fast.

What remains when the shock of Tibet wears off may be a thick sediment of distrust and wariness toward Peiping.

Reds Warn India Of Interference In Tibet

SPREADING REVOLT!

Newsmap shows geographical relationship of Tibet to India and China with the Chinese provinces of Chinghai and Sikang indicated by shading. The anti-Communist revolt in Tibet has spread to Communist China. The uprising has spread across the border of Chinghai and Sikang provinces. In New Delhi, India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has expressed concern for the Dalai Lama's safety.

Revolution Is Still Smoldering

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press International

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Communist China admitted today the Tibetan revolution is still smoldering and warned foreign nations—chiefly India—against interfering in China's "internal affairs."

The warning broadcast by Peiping Radio coincided with reports the Dalai Lama was nearing the Indian border and that he might seek asylum in India once India's position is clarified.

The Chinese Communists were reported seeking to cut off the Dalai Lama in his flight to the border and unconfirmed reports said the Reds had dropped paratroops south of the Brahmaputra River to try to cut him off.

The London Daily Telegraph in a dispatch from Kalimpong said the Dalai Lama was believed to have crossed the great river into rebel-held areas the Chinese Reds have not previously managed to penetrate.

A group of 100 Tibetans called on Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today and handed him appeals asking him to take the Tibetan issue before the United Nations.

Nehru previously refused to meet the Tibetan delegations but today they called at his home and asked him to use his influence to guarantee the safety of the Dalai Lama, to protest the destruction of Tibetan monasteries by the Communists and to try to preserve Tibetan autonomy.

Nehru told the visiting delegation India had no power to "intervene" in Tibet and in fact would not like to take any steps which might aggravate the situation there. But he expressed hopes the Tibetan present difficulties would end peacefully.

Nehru Monday expressed sympathy for the Tibetans and rejected Chinese Communist warnings that the Indian Parliament should not discuss China's "internal affairs."

The Communists warned that once the rebellion is suppressed Peiping will abandon its policy of "magnanimity and patiently waiting for comprehension" on the part of the Tibetans and would introduce sweeping reforms.

Tibetan Revolt Reports Handled With Restraint

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Communist governments of Eastern Europe are handling their reports of the Tibetan revolt with restraint and, apparently, some embarrassment.

Most of the satellite governments have been telling their people as little as possible and have largely confined themselves to reproducing the language of official Chinese Communist communiques.

The Red radio and press are richly equipped with a store of invective suited to every occasion and words like "imperialist," "reactionary" and "Chiang Kai-shek clique" are not missing.

TIME IS RUNNING OUT

Motorists have until 5 p.m. Wednesday to get their 1959 B. license plates, according to Jack Back, Gray County tax collector.

The tax office, located on the ground floor of the Courthouse, is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The penalty for driving with old plates is 20 per cent of the license fee plus a maximum fine of $200. But this penalty will not be enforced unless the car is driven.

Since Feb. 1 the tax office has put out 10,000 AU and AV plates. Back estimates that there are 13,000 vehicles in the County. License fees are based on the weight of the vehicle.

MAKING MASTER PLAN

Ike, Advisors Confer On Berlin

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower conferred with his top foreign policy advisers today as the West's Big Four foreign ministers assembled here to iron-out a master plan for negotiating a European settlement with Russia.

The President met with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary C. Douglas Dillon at the White House for about an hour.

Their talks dealt in part with the foreign ministers conference starting this afternoon and the meeting of NATO foreign ministers which begins on Thursday.

The April 8 meeting of SEATO powers in Wellington, New Zealand, also was discussed. Dillon will head the U.S. delegation.

The West's Big Four representatives were to tackle the job of settling minor differences in their major plan for negotiating with Russia at Geneva an overall settlement of the Berlin crisis and other European problems.

The United States, Britain, France and West Germany were reported in general agreement on a long-range U.S. formula for a step-by-step approach which would disarmament and European security to various stages in the reunification of Germany.

However, Allied officials acknowledged that they still differed

TWO VEHICLES ARE DAMAGED

A truck and car were both heavily damaged Monday in a collision at Francis and N. Hobar.

The crash involved a 1958 Dodge truck driven by Othel Jones, 355 S. Ballard, and a 1955 Ford driven by Carl Jeter, 717 LeFors St. Neither driver was injured although damages to the truck were $375 and damage to the car were estimated at $500.

Police reported the wreck took place at 12:45 p.m. No tickets were issued.

Southwest Is Leading In Economic Growth, C-C Told

By WALLACE TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The southwestern area seems to be leading the country in economic growth, Dr. Philip E. Coldwell, a Dallas research director, told members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Monday. Dr. Coldwell spoke at the Chamber's March membership luncheon held in the Palm Room of City Hall. He is director of research at the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Dr. Coldwell said that three new branches have been added in the 11th Federal Reserve District and that floor space has been doubled in the head office in Dallas.

"Our business is dependent upon yours," he said. "Your business feeds through your banks and your banks feed to us."

Although unemployment is low in Texas the picture is not so rosy for the rest of the country. "We can expect to maintain fairly high levels of unemployment for the next six or eight months," he said. The auto business is pricing itself out of a market and the steel industry is having to compete with German imports.

"We are becoming a substantial market for foreign goods," the speaker declared. "How far can we go with this? Prices must be kept on a realistic level or we're going to be losing more and more markets."

Dr. Coldwell attributed high prices to an increase in costs but noted that all groups have not been granted uniform wage increases. Investors have begun to put more money into the stock market than into the basic, gilt-edged securities of our Federal government, he stated.

"What good is a dollar bill if the Federal government's credit is no good?" he asked. "Once confidence is destroyed in government bonds, it is destroyed in dollars. These are the things that bother and keep a few of us awake nights."

He holds that the government should not finance road and farm projects unless it has the money to do so. "This government of ours should not be running at a deficit. It should be getting more in taxes than it is spending," he said.

One hundred and fifteen Chamber members attended the noon luncheon. Dr. Coldwell was introduced by Floyd Watson, vice president of the First National Bank. Chamber President Warren Hasse introduced Don Beaman, March program chairman; Floyd Inel, president of the Citizens Bank; and A. A. Schumaker, First National Bank president.

Hasse announced the next membership luncheon for April 27, the first day of the Chamber's Membership Round Up. Chamber directors will meet April 20 to map the membership drive.

Princess Grace To Undergo Operation

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco arrived today in Lausanne, where she is expected to have her appendix removed. But no one would say anything about an operation.

The former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, Pa., and her family flew from the Nice airport near Monaco to Geneva and then came to Lausanne in three American cars.

Princess Grace, her husband Prince Rainier, her parents Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia, and the Kelly family physician Dr. James A. Lehman and his wife swept up to the swank Hotel Beauvillage at mid-afternoon.

Grace and her husband went through the revolving doors and, without formally checking in at the hotel, disappeared into an elevator and went to their rooms on the third floor overlooking Lake Geneva.

The princess, who was wearing dark glasses and a fur coat in the chilly but sunny weather, declined to talk to newsmen.

Her mother, however, simply said that she, at least, was here "for a good time."

Mrs. Kelley added she had "nothing to say" to reports Grace was going to have an appendectomy.

Grace's sister, Mrs. Donald C. Levine, said in Philadelphia Monday Grace would undergo an operation in Lausanne today and that it would be performed by Lehman.

"Since Princess Grace has been suffering from a slight attack of appendicitis, it is possible that during her stay in Switzerland she will undergo a surgical operation consisting of the removal of the appendix," a palace spokesman at Monaco said.

Grace is popular with her husband's subjects in Monaco and it was believed news of the operation was delayed to prevent their worrying.

Fireman Fight Four Fires Here

Four fires, two involving automobiles, were fought Monday by Pampa firemen. Damages were at a minimum in each case.

At 12:20 p.m. a band wheel caught fire behind the Pampa Concrete Co., 620 S. Russell. No damage was reported. At 12:30 p.m. the ignition and carburetor of a car owned by James Barrett, 723 N. Banks, began to smolder at 900 Alcock. Damages were confined to car wiring.

At 12:55 p.m. trash in an alley behind a home at 716 Albert caught fire. Monday night, at 9:22, the front seat of a 1953 Pontiac caught fire when a "short" developed in an underseat heater. The car owner was J. D. Hale. The car was parked at 809 S. Barnes.

US Protests 'Red' Buzzing Of Transport

BONN, Germany (UPI) — The United States has protested the buzzing of an unarmed American Air Force transport plane by three Soviet jet fighters during a flight to and from West Berlin last Friday, informed sources said today.

The Soviets have countered with a protest declaring that no American plane may fly above 10,000 feet when crossing East Germany to and from West Berlin, the sources added.

The buzzing occurred last Friday about 3 p.m. and was witnessed by hundreds of West Berliners out for an afternoon stroll. Informed sources said the incident occurred during the first of a series of supply flights to the U.S. garrison in West Berlin of C-130 turbo-prop transport planes.

The C-130 is a high altitude plane, and is now being substituted throughout Europe for the twin-fuselage C-119 which formerly were the supply mainstay.

The Pampa Association promotes travel on Highways 60, 70, 152 and 273.

Cub Pack 27 Inducts Ten New Bobcats

A Bobcat induction ceremony highlighted a recent meeting of Cub Pack 27 in the Sam Houston Elementary School auditorium.

The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Jack Benton in the absence of her husband who is the pack awards chairman. Mrs. Benton was assisted by her son, Jim Bill, and Randall Martin as "Baloo" and "Bagheera" respectively. The ceremony was begun and ended by the traditional wolf howl of the Pack.

Inducted as Bobcats and receiving Bobcat badges from their parents were: James Patterson, Don Redinger, Dennis Patterson, Jan Miller, John Scott Skelly, David White, Danny Hobbs and Danny Fite of Den 1. Also Richard Gordy and Randy Terry of Den 2. The new cubs from Den 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Bob Johnson, led the pack in the flag ceremony as their first accomplishment as Cub Scouts.

Canada was the theme for this month's Cub Scouting. Den 2, under the leadership of Den Mothers Mrs. Chas Duenkel and Mrs. Valton Martin, presented a skit in which David Hennen played the fur trapper who stole gold from miners Mike Cooper and Carl Lang. Cub Scouts Randy Terry and Richard Gordy reported the theft to Mounties Randall Martin and Jim Bill Benton.

The Mounties captured the thief and returned the gold to the miners declaring they had lived up to the motto "Uphold the Right" and "The Mountie always gets his man"; whereas the Cub Scouts stated they too had a motto "Do Your Best."

'Sue' Writes Letter From Early Pampa

A letter written from Pampa is included in "Letters From A Texas Oil Driller's Wife" by Ella Carl. The volume was released Monday by Comet Press Books, New York City, New York.

"Letters Of A Texas Oil Driller's Wife" is a one-sided correspondence. The letters, all written by "Sue", are addressed to a friend called Stella. The correspondence spans a period of more than four years. The first letter, addressed from Borger, is dated May, 1927; the last, written from Pampa, is dated December, 1931.

Within this short span, these letters catch the flavor of a crucial interlude in American life. In these warm, intelligent, and lively documents, Sue depicts her life in the dusty, storm-swept Texas oilfields and nostalgically compares it to the fresh beauty of Longview, Washington, where she once lived.

Under Mrs. Carl's touch, the reader is able to see the writer of these letters as a full-blown personality and to get a vivid and exciting picture of the environment in which she lives. Mrs. Carl, in this unusual book, has brought to the fore an almost lost art — the art of letter-writing.

Ella Carl was born in Douglas, Wyo. Orphaned at an early age, she was taken to Riverside, Calif., and received her early education there. A dyed-in-the-wool westerner, she has lived in many parts of the far west, southwest and northwest. She currently makes her home in Longview, which figures so prominently in "Letters Of An Oil Driller's Wife."

Zale's Jewelry Company, celebrating its 35th birthday, is featuring a month-long "anniversary spectacular." It was announced today by Al Metz, local Zale manager. This merchandising event will start Thursday, April 2, and has been in the planning stage for the last six months, according to Metz.

Green Co., has an apparent deficiency in its books "approaching three million dollars," H. L. Green charged. The deficiency was made public at a news conference at New York Securities & Exchange Commission headquarters. There is the possibility of criminal action against Olen officials.

Construction contracts in February rose to $2,300,000,000 or 100 per cent above the year-ago level and a new high for the month, according to F. W. Dodge Corp. Housing furnished the strongest element. Dwellings put under contract spurred to 85,206 units — up 44 per cent from February, 1958.

Commercial exports of the U.S. last month fell to the lowest level since September, 1955, the Commerce Department reported. Foreign trade experts expect further declines as the result of rising European production and higher domestic costs.

Oliver Services Set Wednesday

Funeral services for Jay Oliver, 75, 1234 S. Gray, will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in Macedonia Baptist Church with Rev. J. N. Haynes, pastor of the Church of God in Christ officiating. Mr. Oliver died Sunday at 9 p.m. in a local hospital.

Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery. It has been announced by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

CRASHING REPORT

WINCHESTER, England (UPI) — When George Williams stopped his automobile Monday to report a two-car accident to a police patrol, three other cars struck his.

since September, 1955, the Commerce Department reported. Foreign trade experts expect further declines as the result of rising European production and higher domestic costs.

A well-planned schedule is one way any teen-ager can organize her active life sufficiently to allow for a regular grooming program. For instance, homework can be done (left) while your hair is drying in rollers and pin curls. Shampoo it before you start studying. This will guarantee that you go to class with clean and shining hair. Drip-dry fashions (center) make your personal laundry easy to handle. Best time to do your own laundry is right after school so that the bathroom isn't cluttered up in the evening when the family wants to wash up for dinner. Five minutes each night before bed will take care of setting up exercises (right). And this nightly routine will work wonders in trimming down bulges.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am eleven years old and get one dollar a week allowance but I might as well get nothing because I have to put it all in the bank. My girlfriend gets 50 cents a week but she can do anything she wants with it. Don't you think a person should be able to do what they want with their allowance? If I had my way I'd save most of it anyway because I have been taught to save. I know what you are going to say but I want my parents to see it.

DEAR ABBY: I met a guy in a uniform because I just don't like him in that uniform. To tell the truth it brings back memories about the time I was young and foolish in Quantico, Virginia, and I'd rather forget it. Should I ask him to wear civilian clothes all the time or not?

DEAR LIKES: Don't knock his uniform unless you are willing to tell him why if this man plans a career in the Marine Corps, you'd better land a civilian if you intend to keep the situation in hand.

DEAR LIKES: Don't knock his uniform unless you are willing to tell him why if this man plans a career in the Marine Corps, you'd better land a civilian if you intend to keep the situation in hand.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that young lady who is so worried because she dreams about her old boyfriends not to lose any sleep over it. I'm a grandmother and I have asked Frank Sinatra to put his arms around me and hold me tight and tell me that he loved me. I promised in my dreams that I would be his slave. I could go on and on, but I just want to say, Abby, that dreams don't mean a thing. My old grandpa is really the only one for me — when I'm awake.

DEAR ABBY: I met a guy in civilian clothes and fell for him. I could not later he was a Marine. I like him much better in civilian clothing. When he shows up in his uniform it spoils everything.

Miss Shewmaker
Claude Rhoades
Say Nuptial Vows

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Shewmaker of Tulsa, Okla., announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker to Claude C. Rhoades at eight o'clock on March 20. Vows were spoken in the First Methodist Church in Panhandle with Rev. James T. Carter, pastor, reading the single-ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Grant of Amarillo served as attendants.

The bride, a resident of Pampa since 1930, is an employee of the Natural Gas Department of Phillips Petroleum Co. and is a member of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club having served this organization in many capacities.

Mr. Rhoades is an employee of the E. B. Cantrell and Company, Architects, Inc. and is presently engaged in the construction of the Pampa schools' additions.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades will make their home at 1200 S. Hobart.

But Smart Gals Correct Them Pronto

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Beauty is important to a girl in her teens. She wants to be pretty and popular, for school days aren't much fun if you're left out of the social whirl.

Unfortunately, the teen years are often the time when it takes a lot of effort to make the mirror give back a contented reflection. Baby prettiness is gone, and mature beauty has not yet formed. And so you have to work hard to look attractive.

The tools that will serve you best are soap and water, immaculate grooming and well-balanced meals.

Figure faults often crop up for a teen-ager because she is still growing. But the smart gal will correct them with proper food and exercise. But for the girl who needs to gain weight, a word to the wise: Be careful to choose nourishing food for your in-between snacks. Too many sweets will play havoc with your skin.

Complexion problems are unwelcome guests during those all-important years. The best way to insure a healthy, glowing skin is to wash frequently with a clean, soapy cloth, rinse thoroughly and finish up with a final cold splash.

If your face breaks out occasionally, be sure to keep your fingers away from it. It will greatly lessen the chance of spreading the infection. If acne is your problem, don't try to take care of it yourself. Consult your doctor.

The perfection of her grooming can make even a plain girl attractive. This means being clean from the skin out, with daily changes of lingerie and underwear made of fabrics that can take the necessary sudings.

Any teen-ager worth her salt can do her own laundering in the modern washers and dryers. She doesn't have to wait for mom to do it for her. Wear jeans and casual clothes if the rest of your group does, but be sure that yours are fresh and clean each time you put them on.

Careful make-up is necessary for women whose skin has lost the glow of youth. For you, it will only detract from the fresh charm that is naturally yours. So restrict your make-up to lipstick and a light dusting of powder. You don't need any more than that except for an occasional formal evening.

Daily baths and weekly shampoos will add to your glamour, and should never be omitted. So on school days, why not take your bath and get into clean night clothes just before you sit down to do your homework. This way you won't be too tired to take care of your personal grooming before you go to bed. Your homework will seem less difficult, too. For you'll be relaxed and fresh when you open that weighty textbook.

Just remember that cleanliness, grooming and proper eating habits are your means to beauty — and you'll be as pretty and sought after as any girl in your class.

Clothes Need After-Work Touch-Up
To Insure Months Of Extra Wear

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

When you come home from a rugged day at the office, you want to get out of your clothes and into loose, comfortable garments. It's possible that the only concession you'll make to your wardrobe is to hang up your dress.

But no smart woman depends entirely on the cleaners to keep her clothes in good order. Remember that your clothing went through the same hard day that you had.

You wouldn't leave your living room undusted and cluttered after the family had used it for the evening. And, by the same token, you should never hang up a dress you've worn without first giving it a good brushing and looking it over for small tears.

It might seem like an exhausting procedure when you've just returned from eight hours at the office, but 15 minutes devoted to your clothes after you remove them each night will give you months of extra wear.

Besides, what could be more pleasant than opening a closet or drawer, knowing you'll have the full choice of your wardrobe in readiness for the next wearing at any time?

Any well-groomed teen-ager will have well-kept hands. But does she know what to do with them?

Your hands can be smooth and soft, your nails beautifully manicured, but if you cannot use your hands in a gracefully relaxed manner, you'll find they're unattractive.

There's nothing attractive about a girl who is always picking at her clothes or patting her hair. And there's nothing more annoying to watch than someone who is constantly drumming her fingers on the nearest table top.

When you're seated, hold your hands lightly in your lap, fingers relaxed, or keep one hand in your lap and the other on a chair arm.

SHAMROCK (Sp) — Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met in the home of Mrs. Jack Stone with Mrs. Doug Rives as co-hostess. Mrs. Robert Bain, president presided at the business session as officers were elected by secret ballot. The group planned a brides' home chest to be given away sometime in May.

Mrs. Sparky Mabe was in charge of the lesson on radio. Assisting with the program was Mrs. June Harris, on "Era of Public Speaking" and Mrs. Doug Rives, "Now We Talk on Radio and TV." Mrs. Clark Bumpers, manager of Radio Station, recorded the program, and played it back for the members to hear.

Mrs. Bledsoe, Cottie Tarbet and Barbara Strickland gave parliamentary rules of the Sorority. Mrs. Neely received the door prize.

An Easter theme was carried out in table decorations. Each guest was presented an Easter Chicken corsage.

A refreshment plate was served to two guests. Mrs. Bumpers and Fae Cross and the following members: Mmes. Cottie Tarbet, Barbara Strickland, Mary Bledsoe, Doris George, Betty Harrah, Sparky Mabe, June Harris, Neva Neely, Pauline Nichols, Doretha Ellison, Kay Bain and the hostesses.

It's no fun to greet friends with strained, heavy eyes. There are many ways to avoid this look. One is to use eye compresses soaked with witch hazel pressed over the eyes. Dashing cold water or holding cool compresses against the eyelids also will tighten the skin and refresh the eyes.

Harvesters Lead District

Pampa Plays Borger Today In Non-District Ball Game

Pampa, picked sixth in a pre-season poll of District 3-4A baseball teams, went into today's game at Borger as the only unbeaten team in the district.

Deck Wold's Harvesters lead the district with a 4-0 mark, in unofficial season standings, after a highly successful road trip into Oklahoma last weekend.

Pampa edged Altus 3-2 and Hobart 12-10, and swamped Clinton, 9-2.

In their only other game this season, the Harvesters stopped Borger in Pampa, 6-4. The Bulldogs, picked in the pre-season poll to finish ahead of Pampa, will be out for revenge in today's game, a non-district tilt.

Pampa has three other games scheduled this week. The next game will be a home contest against a fairly weak Dumas team Friday. Then Saturday, the Harvesters go to Clovis, N.M., for a doubleheader.

District favorite Monterey added four games to its victory string last week, but lost its second of the season, 6-5 to Odessa. The Plainsmen have two doubleheaders scheduled this week, hosting Snyder today and Abilene Saturday.

The Amarillo Sandies took two out of three games last week, and all were fairly high scoring contests. The Families' Hobart Clovis, 14-2, were routed by Albuquerque Highland, 13-4, and beat Levelland, 8-3.

Borger won three straight games last week, to boost its season mark to 3-2. Palo Duro won two games, but lost to the tough Albuquerque Highland team. This was their first loss of the year.

Tasocosa dropped two games out of three, and Lubbock broke even with two wins in four tries.

Plainsview lost its only two games.

Today's contests, besides the Pampa-Borger game, are Palo Duro at Dumas, Tasocosa at Hereford, Lubbock at Lamesa, Snyder at Monterey (2), and Levelland at Plainsview.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Tuesday
Pampa at Borger; Palo Duro at Dumas; Tasocosa at Hereford; Lubbock at Lamesa; Levelland at Plainsview; Snyder at Monterey (2).

Friday
Dumas at Pampa; Hereford at Plainsview; Amarillo at Odessa; Oklahoma City Northwest Classen at Tasocosa; Lubbock at Snyder.

Saturday
Pampa at Clovis (2); Spearman at Borger; Plainsview at Hereford; Abilene at Monterey (2); Amarillo at Odessa (2); Oklahoma City Northwest Classen at Palo Duro (2); Dumas at Tasocosa; Midland at Lubbock (2).

Detroit Tigers Sharpen Claws In Citrus Circuit

By FRED DOWN

Their sharpest critics concede the Detroit Tigers won't roll over like kittens when the American League season gets underway.

Tabbed as perhaps the New York Yankees' chief pennant rival, the Tigers have won seven of their last nine exhibition games and have an overall 11-6 Grapefruit League record. They've had uniformly good pitching and Al Kaline now shows promise of making a fast start.

Kaline, who got off to a woeful start last season, drove in five runs with two doubles and a sacrifice fly Monday when the Tigers scored an 8-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. It was the fourth straight loss for the Dodgers who won 10 of their first 13 games.

Paul Foytack, a 15-game winner last season, became the second Detroit pitcher to go nine innings with a steady enough 10-hitter. Johnny Podges, who inherited a 1-0 lead from Art Fowler in the fifth inning was hammered for six runs and seven hits in three innings.

Braves Blast Cards

The Milwaukee Braves, smarting under charges that they were loafing in spring training, took it all out on the St. Louis Cardinals with a 11-0 triumph that produced a three-run homer and four hits by Del Rice sparked the assault while Carlton Willey and Bob Rush limited the Cardinals to six hits. Chuck Cottler handled 13 chances flawlessly to further his bid for the Braves' regular second-base job.

The New York Yankees blanked the Cincinnati Reds, 4-0, the Boston Red Sox pulled out a ninth-inning 8-5 decision over the Cleveland Indians, the Chicago Cubs outslugged the San Francisco Giants, 10-8, in a near dust storm, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Washington Senators, 11-7, the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-4, and the Chicago White Sox edged out the Kansas City Athletics, 8-7, in other games.

Winning Streak Ended

Bobby Shantz yielded five hits in seven shutout innings for the Yankees and Virgil Trucks completed the whitewashing. Don Newcombe allowed four runs and as many hits in seven innings for the Reds, whose five-game winning streak was ended.

Dick Donovan allowed one run and six hits in seven innings for the White Sox, who scored all their runs off Ned Garver. The White Sox announced after the game that they are sending rookie Jim McAnany, Joe Hicks and Chuck Lindstrom to their minor league camp at Hollywood, Fla.

touches on the Phillies' win. Kralick had pitched 18 scoreless innings this spring before the Phillies caught up to him.

Kline Goes Distance

Ron Kline became the second Pittsburgh pitcher to go nine innings although tapped for 14 hits by the Orioles. It was a messy game in which the Pirates combined eight hits, five walks and three Baltimore errors for their runs. Ted Kluszewski had three of Pittsburgh's hits and Kline drove in three runs.

Dick Donovan allowed one run and six hits in seven innings for the White Sox, who scored all their runs off Ned Garver. The White Sox announced after the game that they are sending rookie Jim McAnany, Joe Hicks and Chuck Lindstrom to their minor league camp at Hollywood, Fla.

IN FEM AAU MEET

Wayland, Dowells Both Play Today

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI)—The favorites kept in the running today as the second round began in the National Women's AAU Basketball tournament.

Defending champion Nashville Business College goes against Ray Smith Ford of Kansas City, Mo., at 2:30 p.m. today with little trouble expected for the top-seeded Tennessee crew.

Second-ranked Iowa Wesleyan College meets Novelty Food Bar of Columbus, Ohio at 1:15 p.m. in a game that may provide some excitement.

And third-seeded Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., shooting for its fifth title in six years, plays Look Magazine of Des Moines, Iowa at 3:45 p.m. today.

The Texans walloped Little Rock Retail Merchants 63-28 in a first-round game that ended shortly before 1 a.m. today.

The Ohio club Monday night skinned past Dana College of Blair, Neb., 37-38 in one of the scrappiest games so far. Iowa Wesleyan beat Jayhawk Lettering of Kansas City, Kan., 51-15.

Eight second-round games were on tape today including:

8:45 p.m. — Rosendale, Mo., and Dowells Hills, Amarillo, 10 p.m. — Clarendon, Tex. Juco and Platt College.

SMU DEFENSE TOPS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southern Methodist for the third straight year has won college basketball's honor of committing the fewest personal fouls per game.

Final NCAA statistics show the Mustangs had only 13.3 fouls per game called on them in contrast to the 22.7 called on last place New Mexico and Eastern Kentucky.

WALL TAKES AZALEA OPEN BY 3 STROKES

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)—Art Wall Jr., the putting magician who captured top money in the Azalea Open golf tournament here, will carry the largest winnings in PGA history into the Masters tournament at Augusta Thursday.

The serious-minded student of golf pounded out a 72 Monday on the wind-blown, rain-soaked Cape Fear Country Club course to add $2,000 to his status as golf's top money-winner. He now has won $18,814 so far this year.

The Pocono Manor, Pa., pro's 73 was one strike over par 72, but his 72-hole total of 282 was six strokes off par and more than enough to give him a comfortable margin over his closest opponent.

RING RESULTS

United Press International

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Chico Vejar, 155, Stamford, Conn., stopped Sergio Rios, 151, Havana, Cuba (6).

NEW YORK (UPI)—Candy McFarland, 135½, Philadelphia, outpointed Chico Rollins, 135½, New York (10).

CHICAGO (UPI)—Joe Hemphill, 192, Rockford, Ill., outpointed Chuck Garret, 187, Chicago (8).

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bobo Olson, 174½, San Francisco, outpointed Rory Calhoun, 168½, White Plains, N.Y. (10).

WALL TAKES AZALEA OPEN BY 3 STROKES

Making a last-round bid for the championship was his former Duke University, roommate, Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y. Souchak closed down Wall's Sunday five-stroke lead to three with a 36 on the front nine while Wall had a 38.

Souchak picked up $1,500 for second prize. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., closed with a brilliant 68 and a 72-hole 287 for the $1,200 third place money. Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., with a final round of 72 for 290 was fourth and took away $1,000.

Defending champion Howie Johnson of San Marcos, Calif., played his second straight poor round but won $400 fifth place money with a 296.

Out Of The Past

Whatever Happened To . . . FRANK BOUCHER

United Press International

Frank Boucher was hockey's "gentleman on skates" during his playing days with the New York Rangers in the late 20's and early 30's. He won the Lady Byng (sportsmanship) Trophy seven times in eight years and was a league all-star center for three straight years. He was coach of the Rangers' Stanley Cup championship team in 1950 and later served as general manager of the club.

Whatever happened to Frank Boucher? He is still in hockey, serving as general manager of the Saskatoon Quakers in the Western League.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT YANKEES

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT!

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—"Don't take too much stock in any other club but the Yankees."

"They say I've got problems. Well, then who says it should have the same ones. They'd be happy. My problem is to decide which players to keep. We only have major leaguers. The other clubs have to decide what minor leaguers they want to carry."

Wants More Pitching

Stengel admits he would like more pitching, but adds "what team doesn't?" He thinks he has enough as it is, but as insurance he would like to pick up Dick Hyde from the Senators in case his relief specialist of last year, Ryne Duren, should not recover completely from his knee operation.

He also has to consider Whitey Ford's sore arm and Don Larsen's ailing shoulder. Casey, however, isn't worried about either. Bob Turley, the hero of the Yankees' come-from-behind World Series triumph over the Braves last year, will be his No. 1 pitcher. He had a 21-7 record in 1958 and looks better than ever this spring.

For other starters there are Ford (14-7), rated one of the best clutch pitchers in the business; Larsen (9-6); Johnny Kucks (8-8); Tom Sturdivant (3-6); Duke Maas (11-8) and Art Dittmar (9-8).

Backing up Duren (6-4) in the bullpen, he has Bobby Shantz (7-6), who also can be spotted as a starter; Zack Monroe (4-2) and two veterans, Murry Dickson (10-7) and Virgil Trucks (2-2).

Of the Yankee rookie hurlers, Mark Freeman, who won 13 right losing 10 at Denver last season,

Ted May Not Open Season

BOSTON (UPI)—Red Sox slugger Ted Williams remained hopeful today that he would be in Boston's opening day lineup, but physicians attending him did not share his optimism.

The 40-year-old American League batting champ entered New England Baptist Hospital Monday to begin treatments for a painful neck ailment.

Dr. Charles A. Fager, neurosurgeon at the famed Lahey Clinic, a part of the hospital, decided to hospitalize Williams Monday after viewing X-rays of the injury.

Though Ted stoutly maintained that he would be "back" for opening game, consulting physicians indicated treatments would take 10 days to two weeks at the very least. There appeared to be little hope that he would make it for Boston's first game.

has the best chance to make it. One Position Set—Mantle's

Actually no position on the Yankees, outside of centerfield where Mickey Mantle will hold forth, is set. It looks like it will be Hank Bauer, in right and Norm Siebern in left with the 43-year-old Enos Slaughter in reserve.

Stengel has more outfielders than that. Yogi Berra, long the Yankees' No. 1 catcher, can play right field and Elston Howard, who probably will take over for Berra as the top catcher this season, can play left. Any way Stengel wants to shift them, he isn't hurting.

John Blanchard, who hit 291 at Denver last year with 19 homers and 96 runs batted in, also is in the catching picture, as is last year's No. 3 man, Darrell Johnson.

Until Tony Kubek gets out of service, which will be within a few weeks—Stengel will shuffle his infield around. Moose Skowron figures to start at first, but Howard also can play that position.

Also there is Marvin Throneberry.

Another Yankee Pennant

Bobby Richardson probably will be at second; Gil McDougald at short and either Andy Carey or Jerry Lumpe at third. But when Kubek returns, he figures to take over the shortstop post with McDougald taking over second from Richardson.

Stengel has a fine glove man in Fritz Brickett, who can play either short or second and who hit .286 at Denver last season. Then there is Cletis Boyer, who batted .284 at Richmond and who can play the infield or outfield.

The Yankees have plenty of other possibilities—so many in fact that Stengel admits he does have "one problem."

"They're all so good, it's going to be hard to decide which players to keep," he explains.

Whoever ones he decides to keep, they figure to make a shambles out of the American League pennant race in 1959—just as they did last year.

Quotes In The News

HAVANA, Cuba—Actor Errol Flynn replying when asked why he did not eject Cuban tourist policeman Jack Shea from a party that Flynn said Shea crashed in a drunk and disorderly fashion: "I'm a hero in all of my films, but I will not argue into the bars, rei of a .45, particularly when held by a drunk."

DALLAS, Tex.—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson saying that the West must increase its strength and have the capacity to settle more than just one crisis:

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). South Plains, Tex., Man Reports —
Maize Yields Increased
1800 Pounds Per Acre

Bryan Karr, who farms 600 acres near South Plains, says: "By side dressing my maize with 90 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia, I've increased my yields on an average of 1800 pounds of grain per acre. Year before last, the average would have been raised considerably, because I cut a 4050 pound crop after it was beat down by a high wind. I usually side dress my maize around July 1, when the plants are about 6 inches high."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that clings higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be applied pre-plant or as a side dressing. It can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia . . . it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Self-Management

Arthur Herzog, in a brief review in the magazine "Think," has reminded us of the amazing Frank Gilbert and his equally amazing wife, Lillian.

It was the life of these two people that inspired Hollywood to produce the picture "Cheaper by the Dozen" some few years ago.

Frank Gilbert passed on in 1924, but Lillian stepped into his shoes and still at the age of 80 (she'll be 81 in May) is traveling around the world, hurrying here and there trying to interest people in one of the most fascinating and rewarding ideas relating to management. This is self-management.

Mr. Herzog's piece concerns Lillian, and he has covered his subject colorfully and well. But being thus reminded, we recalled the career of Frank, the bricklayer apprentice, who discovered that he could save time if he used two shaving brushes and lathered both sides of his face at the same time.

But this wasn't all that Frank discovered. Being interested in the subject of bricks, he instituted time and motion studies respecting the art of bricklaying.

He devised a scaffold on which the bricklayer would stand, and which had an automatic platform that would raise the pile of bricks to a height with a handy waist height, thus eliminating the back-breaking bend for each new brick to be mortared.

Next, Frank secured the cooperation of the hod carriers, so that in stacking the bricks they would always stack them with the facing side in the same position. This eliminated the age-old chore of the mason, who prior to this had to pick up each brick, examine it for its best side, mortar it properly and then put it into place.

Next, Frank devised a trowel which was the exact proper size for the precise amount of mortar needed for each brick.

By making use of the scaffold, the trowel and securing the cooperation of the hod carriers, a brick mason could multiply the number of bricks laid in a work day by as much as five times.

This enormous advance in efficiency lasted only a brief while. Labor bosses, discovering this tremendous speed up—which had continued, would most certainly have helped to popularize brick buildings and might have placed the construction of brick homes within the financial reach of many more persons—stepped in and took action.

Union members were forbidden to use the Gilbert scaffold or the Gilbert trowel. So today, the time and motion studies of Frank are so much useless impediments, cluttering up the files of interesting Americans.

Despite this set-back, Frank and Lillian continued to devote their lives to the idea of self-management-improvement. True, unions and government regulations will invariably interfere with such improvement, but they can be made for all of that, if one perseveres.

We are thinking of such things as the wide brushes which could be employed by painters to cut down the time spent in applying a coat of pigmentation. Wide brushes have been banned by most union bosses, along with paint sprayers and such labor-saving devices.

And we are thinking of the use of time-consuming surveys, reports, blank forms and what not, put out by the government to amass great piles of information which serves no good purpose and results in further dependence and subservience.

Despite these conditions which exist about us, people like the Gilberts are an inspiration. There's a big field in the area of life-planning which relates to self-management, and it's one which most of us should take a keen interest.

Altogether too much emphasis is placed upon city and county zoning and planning experts who are granted political authority to plan the lives and the uses of property for all of us. Altogether too little emphasis is placed upon self-management, and the way each of us can improve our own operations, whatever they may be, so that we live more fully, more productive, happier lives.

In the end, the only person any of us can plan for, is ourselves. No human being can successfully control anyone but himself. Self-control and self-management is the core of individual freedom. We would do well to remind ourselves of this fact.

Aim Of Education

We are beginning to suspect that such a chasm yawns between the public at large and the few dedicated wags who are striving desperately to awaken a love for learning. These wags may take years to bridge the gap, if it can be bridged at all.

First of all, there seem to be two widely divergent views as to the true purpose of education. And, in fairness, it should be noted that there are parents, students and instructors on both sides of the abyss.

Some people seem to feel that the purpose of education is to teach youngsters how to make a living by imparting certain skills to them, to keep them out of the street in a broad, general way. And to make them relatively self-sufficient and happy.

Others hold that the purpose of education is to develop and train some thoroughly sound intellects, capable of grasping some of the deeper problems and potential solutions to problems posed by the world of the 20th century.

These two objectives are far removed from each other, and our suspicions have been aroused to the point where we are inclined to doubt if the public at large comprehends the meaning of intellectual achievement.

One day when he was speaking at our government in Denver, Father Tipton suggested indoctrination system. It is plain to see that vocational guidance stimulated so that they desire and the imparting of skills has become more serious intellectual pursuits. He said that ward intellectual development, an annual check made since 1953. Even in many of our private and independent schools, emphasis is placed on life-adjustment, hobbies and crafts, cooking, carpentry.

And we hope that at least a few high school where they begin to understand when we suggest suspect that they might have in that a student could go all the way through high school, for example, specializing in these "cup writing and spelling, but they take" courses without ever having experienced a challenge to settle for sports, shop, vocational training, or just plain entertainment.

Father Tipton presented some slides containing what he called "horrible handwriting." It is more than that. It is the handwriting of a student who writes, "My school years a big laugh. Most of time I did classes and when I did go I didn't study." Another wrote in a theme, "Me as a student wasn't too good." The attitude of the students appeared to be, "You're paid by the government to teach us so why should we study?" Theonus appears "thus to be placed upon the teachers to perform some kind of cranial operation and force education into the skulls of the students rather than to awaken a yearning for intellectual achievement which can only be attained thru the energies of the student.

Certainly, if we are to make something of our future as individuals or as a nation, we are writing and spelling, that they devote to have to cut out this good die that passes for education and begin preparing some thoroughly grounded intellectuals. We hope there are a few who read these words who can discern the difference.

Editor's note: This is another of the series from the transcript of questions and answers on economic and moral issues between Frank Buck, for many years a member of the Carpenters Union, and R. C. Holles, president of Freedom Newspapers. In the first series, Holles answered Buck's questions. Currently, Buck is answering Holles.

28. Holles: Just how do you arrive at how high wages ought to be? Should the prosperous employer have to pay more than the man who is just breaking even? If so, how is he going to select the fellows he's going to give the gift wage to?

Western Ministers Still Stand Far Apart

WASHINGTON — The Western foreign ministers are opening their momentous Berlin crisis deliberations here this week a lot farther apart than official pronouncements would indicate.

For example: Their governments are still far from agreed on the key issue of a summit conference with Russia.

It is still a toss-up whether such a parley will take place.

This crucial question was not settled in the personal talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan.

Authority for that inside information is none other than Macmillan.

The British government had disclosed this profoundly significant disagreement during a 90-minute discussion with a group of top Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress.

In some respects, this unannounced meeting was as important as the Camp David, Md., sessions of the President and Macmillan.

The backstage conference of the bipartisan congressional leaders was arranged by Vice President Nixon, and took place in his home. This friendly but frank exchange of views revealed two grave facts:

The Macmillan government is determined to hold a summit conference with the Soviet regardless of the outcome of the preceding foreign ministers parley. Whether anything comes of that or not, the British are insistent on a summit meeting.

This adamant stand largely explains why no official communique was issued at the close of the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks. Such a statement is customary, but there was none this time because the President flatly disagreed with Macmillan's position.

Present at the meeting with Macmillan in Nixon's home were the following:

Republican: Senators Everett Dirksen, Ill.; Styles Bridges, N.H.; Alexander Wiley, Wis.; Thomas Kuchel, Calif.; and Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa; Leverett Saltonstall, Mass. Democratic: Senators Mike Mansfield, Mont.; Hubert Humphrey, Minn.; Russell Long, La.

Democratic Representative: John McCormack, Mass. Paul Kilday, Tex.; Republican Representative: Charles Halleck, Ind.; Leslie Areeda, Ill.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — Back in more spacious and certainly giddier days, a feckless crew of us used to settle down about sunset in an Italian restaurant in West 54th Street called the Santi Lucia. A robust haven frequented by braves from advertising, ladies who raised tiny Yorkshire terriers, girl stage managers from Broadway musicals, a shy young actor named Ben Gazzara, not yet become a star, and other flambeaux and flambelles, notable among whom was an Armenian named James P. Terzian. Terzian was a voice addict. No singer, no shouter. He merely had a rooted passion for collecting onto records and on tape famed voices of our times.

He used to send me some of these, such as bright moments with the voice of the Second Elizabeth and a cherished item called "The From Abilene." He also used to send me an occasional note voicing his regret that science was unable to provide him with the authentic voices of the Apostle Paul and of Caligula. And now Jimmy has sent me a book. A novel. He wrote it himself in his house at Englewood, New Jersey. It is called "Caravan From Ararat," the tale of a rusting tub of a ship lying between Athens and New York and the time is 1906.

Jimmy has written a fascinating book, fascinating in its characters, their strengths and weaknesses, their gentleness and violence, and most fascinating in its uses of languages ranging from Greek to Turkish to Armenian to Arab. And English for the main body of the story, of course.

In this regard it betrays Jimmy's consistent love for voice and language. He must, I think, have nine or a dozen languages under his skilled control. This is not an autobiographical novel, since the Terzian family itself did not sail from Athens until 1924, the end of a six-year flight from persecutions then being visited upon the hapless Armenians. The Jimmy began in Asia Minor, with Jimmy at 3 years old in 1898, and a succession of towns including the then Constantinople and the still existent Athens being among their refuges.

Jimmy not only tells a compelling story in "Caravan From Ararat," but explores saucily and intelligently a long tender spot in the Christian world of missionaries. There are, and have been,

Fair Enough

Goldwater, Stylish Cool Campaigner!

TUCSON — Arizona normally is Democratic and in the last election the unions poured in money to beat Barry Goldwater, the Republican senator who has fought for the open shop in the Senate committee hearings has been called Walter Reuther with everything from his letter advocating a Soviet America to a standing invitation to meet him in a locked room. So Barry's re-election by a plurality of about 40,000 over Ernest McFarland, who then was governor, has made him one of the most important Republican senators. He is a stylish, cool campaigner and henceforth he will be courted for help in election.

Forty thousand votes would be Democratic, Barry is a handsome, flat-bellied figure with frosting on the temple of his dark hair and a way with voters which is not tainted with the bellicose cheapness of Soapys Williams, who ran Michigan into bankruptcy, or with Nelson Rockefeller's incoherence on matters fiscal.

The Democrats had all the money last fall and the union rackets sent in one conspicuous ex-convict to lend a hand who proved a handicap in the long run. For that matter, the Democratic candidate for governor, a lawyer known as Robert Morrison, who had served as Democratic Attorney General, was not only an ex-convict, from California, but a two-time loser as the saying goes in such circles. His weakness was check-bouncing. Apparently Democrats among the new pioneers of the Southwest boom wouldn't stand for this. The old-line Democrats, gag at nothing.

Nevertheless there was some little surprise when Paul Fannin, the Republican, who was little known beyond his personal circle, romped in ahead of Morrison and Wade Church, a third Republican, became attorney general.

During the campaign, Goldwater gave him McFarland to beat instead of Stewart L. Udall, an incumbent Congressman from Tucson, an up-and-coming type who probably will become important in the national lineup ere his career is closed.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

At any one time millions of women are in the stage of life known as the menopause, which probably accounts for the large number of letters I receive on that subject.

I have questions before me asking whether the menopause is responsible for dizziness, nervousness, panic, and a whole lot of other unpleasant symptoms.

At the start, it should be emphasized that most women pass through this phase of life without either serious physical or mental disturbance.

It is properly considered as a normal change in the physiological functions and represents principally a decrease in the activity of some of the hormones manufactured by feminine glands and not simply as the cessation of the menses.

Considered this way, the change of life, or menopause, is a gradual process and does involve changes in the physiology or functioning of the human body, as well as mental adjustments.

The most constant reflection of the change of life is the cessation of the menses and the impossibility of further reproduction.

However, this should not lead to concern. Nature has provided these changes for the benefit of both of the individual woman and for mankind as a whole. It would hardly seem beneficial for a woman to be able to go on producing children into her 60s or 70s.

If symptoms related to lessened hormone production do develop, the most common are hot flashes, abnormal menses, a tendency to melancholy, putting on weight, headaches and sleeplessness.

However, glandular products are now available which can be given by injection or by mouth which will help most of those whose symptoms are severe enough. They act by supplying some of the internal secretion which the patient's own glands fail to manufacture. Adjusting the size of the dose to this need is desirable.

Many women are greatly concerned about the possibility for pregnancy during the latter stages of the menopause. Just exactly when conception is no longer possible, and pregnancies have occurred as late as 55 years of age or beyond. In general, however, there is little chance of conceiving when a year or more has passed since the last period and the woman is over 50.

During the usual two or three-year period of adjustment to the menopause, a woman should be active, both mentally and physically. At this time old interests can be renewed profitably and new ones developed.

It should NOT be considered as the beginning of old age.
