Berlin Crisis Eases Some

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

West German hostility to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's views on settling the Berlin crisis eased today with new British assurances that West German rights would be protected.

The assurances came as Macmillan flew to Bonn with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd for conferences with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The principal differences arose over West German — and French — belief the Macmillan mission to Moscow might do more harm than good. Since then Macmillan has firmly stated Britain's determination to stand united with its other Western allies.

Another difference developed when Macmillan signed a communiqué with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promising to study a partial "disengagement of forces in Central Europe. West Germany feared that might seal the division of Germany.

Troop "Thinning Out"

Official British sources in London today made it clear Macmillan was not talking about an out-and-out withdrawal of Allied troops but meant an arms freeze in Central Europe and possibly later some troop "thinning out."

Moscow also took note of the disengagement plan today and a broadcast today predicted Adenauer would attempt to "pressure" Macmillan into dropping plans for a restricted armaments zone in Central Europe.

In Washington, officials said President Eisenhower's grim warning of the danger of nuclear war had strengthened the Allied hand in future negotiations with Russia on Berlin.

They said the President brought into sharp focus the disastrous possibilities of the Kremlin's course when he declared Wednesday he would not fight a ground war in Europe if the Berlin crisis led to hostilities but would resort to "other means."

Miss Marilyn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brown, Saundra Lease, and Bob Jernigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Jernigan, 42 S. Russell, won first place in solo singing at the West Texas Competition Festival, sponsored by West Texas State College for students from all over Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. The festival was held on West Texas State campus Saturday.

For her winning selections, Miss Brown played Sonata Op. 38 No. 3 (first movement) by Clements and "Scott Poems" (McDowell). Mr. Jernigan's winning selection was "Lento" (Cyril Scott). Miss Brown and Mr. Jernigan are the private piano pupils of Bill Haley.

The United States already has drafted a plan for sending a test convoy through a Berlin blockade if the Communists impose one. The plan calls for sending a normal size unarmed convoy over the road to West Berlin and to send in tanks if the trucks are stopped.

What would happen if the tanks were fired on was not known, but the 330,000 American military men in Europe have been placed on increased alert.

Khrushchev, who ends his eight-day East German visit today, issued a communiqué with East German leaders Wednesday guaranteeing access to West Berlin if the Allies agree to make it into a "free city."

But Washington dispatches made it clear the United States was not buying the Khrushchev plan, which still calls for forcing the West out of Berlin and perhaps signing a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

A safe-cracking, described by Sheriff Rufe Jordan as the "Biggest mess I've ever seen," netted an undetermined amount of money from a safe at the Pampa Lumber Co. sometime early this morning.

Jordan estimated that damage to the safe and tools used in the safe-cracking will total about $2,000.

The safe-breaking was the second at Pampa Lumber in the past three weeks. Two men confessed to the first break-in and remain in custody.

The lumber company, at 1301 S. Hobart, was entered this time through a side window. Jordan said the safe was dragged into a rest-room.

The "crackers" used numerous lumber company tools — including screwdrivers — to peel the safe door open. The job was called "the work of an amateur."

Employees of the lumber company said the full loss has not been determined. It was believed the loss was not extensive, however.

ROYAL LOOK-ALIKES!

Spotting her fashion double supposedly throws milady into a decline cured only by a new and different ensemble. These sisters, however, aren't chagrined at the similarity in their dress. Queen Elizabeth II, left, and Princess Margaret, right, arrived at a charity film performance in London, each wearing a black velvet dress and fur stole.

They said they attempted to sell the car at Groom, but were unsuccessful. Before leaving town they broke into a building and stole four new tires.

Two Are Captured With Dope Here

Two young Tulsa, Okla. men, one an ex-convict, are being held today under $2,000 bonds, on charges of possession of narcotics, Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported.

The men, Lonnie Sledge, 23, and Leonard McFarland, 18, were arrested on Highway 66 near McLean by Constable J. D. Fish.

At the time of their arrest Sledge and McFarland had 15 ounces of marijuana in their possession.

Under questioning, they confessed they purchased the narcotics in Mexico during a trip last week to Juarez, Mex. The marijuana was found between the tire and inner tube of a spare tire in the men's 1949 Chevrolet.

Their arrest followed a series of misfortunes that plagued the Oklahoma men during a trip from Juarez that finally ended near McLean Friday night.

They told officers their car began to give them trouble near Groom Thursday.

Teen-Age Trio Questioned For Auto Stripping

Three Pampa teen-age boys, arrested early this morning at the City Lake, are being questioned by police today in connection with numerous recent thefts of car accessories in Pampa.

The boys, one 17 and the other two age 16, have so far admitted taking hubcaps, fender skirts and at least one car muffler.

A large collection of hubcaps was found in the attic of the 17 year old's home. Police Chief Jim Conner said all three boys have been in trouble with the law previously.

The arrests were made by Lt. Denny Rogan, who spotted the boys in a parked car along the shore of City Lake. Inside the car Rogan found fender skirts and two cases of soft drinks.

They were questioned about their possible connection with this morning's safe-cracking at the Pampa Lumber Co. but denied any knowledge of the offense.

The teen-age threesome are expected to be brought to the sheriff's office later today for further questioning.

West Warned Of Resistance

Venus Sits In Mr. Moon's Lap!

DALLAS (UPI) — Hundreds of moon and Venus are the two brightest objects in the sky and "when you get them together in this fashion, you've done just about the best you can do."

It prompted one wag at the Weather Bureau to issue this advisory:

"For the information of the public, Venus could not go between us and the moon unless all bets were called off as Venus at the closest is 100 times further away from the earth than is the moon."

Astronomers said the planet will be 12 degrees off of the moon tonight, and the show would not be repeated until 1974 to 1976 and may not be seen then unless skies are crystal clear.

Sign of Spring

It might be a sign of spring to the southland. Venus is the ancient Italian Goddess of Gardens and Spring.

Meteorologists at Love Field Weather Bureau in Dallas said the two heavenly bodies came closest at 7:39 p.m. They said it could be seen along the 35th latitude, but overcast skies from Texas east probably kept it from being seen in other parts of the South.

Don't Solve Problems By Force—Nikita

By JOSEPH R. FLEMING
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev warned the West today it would meet with "appropriate resistance" if it tried to solve any of the major world problems by force.

Khrushchev delivered the warning shortly before he flew home to Moscow from eight days of conferring with East German Communist leaders and visiting the Leipzig spring trade fair.

"If the aggressors should try, in spite of everything, to carry through their adventurous aims and—as they say—try to 'break through' anywhere, they would meet with the appropriate resistance," Khrushchev said.

"We would like to believe, however, that those on whom it depends will not permit any irresponsible acts and will take decisions in the interest of all countries which fought against Hitlerite Germany."

Khrushchev repeated earlier pleas to the West to end the cold war on his terms by signing a peace treaty with Germany and winding up the occupation of West Berlin.

He said Russia would "continue obstinately" trying to persuade the West to sign a treaty with both German states. He denounced as "irresponsible" those in the West who have charged him with increasing international tension and threatening the world with a war by his latest proposals on Germany.

"Such statements can only be made by those who are deliberately distorting the Soviet Union's peace-loving policy," he charged.

United Press International correspondent Henry Shapiro reported from Moscow that the diplomatic consensus there was that Khrushchev had softened his attitude on Berlin and East and West now may be able to work out a means of living together through negotiations.

He said they regarded the joint declaration Khrushchev signed with the East Germans as particularly mild.

Thousands of East Berliners who were marched into the streets and handed paper Russian flags cheered Khrushchev's farewell interlude in East Berlin.

Our Far-Flung State - To - Be....

Straddling the Tropic of Cancer, the 1,500-mile chain that comprises the Hawaiian Islands soon may become the 50th state of the Union. Extending from the sugar-producing island of Hawaii to uninhabited Kure, many points of this oceanic complex are little more than stopping places for migrating birds. Sixty per cent of the islands' 570,000 population live on Oahu, with its capital city of Honolulu and naval base at Pearl Harbor.

Though removed from the Hawaiian group by Congress in 1953, Palmyra Island, almost 1,000 miles southward, may be included in statehood plans. More than 70 per cent of the Hawaiians are of Oriental or native extraction (see Newsmap, upper right). One-quarter of islanders are Caucasian. News-map, lower right, super-imposes the islands on the United States. Though smaller in land area than New Jersey, they would extend from New York State west to Wyoming and south to Florida. Largest industries, in order, are sugar, pineapples, tourism, livestock and fishing. Hopes are high for favorable Congressional action.

including hula dancing, fireworks and a gigantic bonfire as soon as news of final congressional action was flashed to the territory.

Senate passage of the statehood measure came after brief opposition from Southern Democrats. Thirty Republicans joined 46 Democrats in voting for the bill while 14 Democrats and one Republican were opposed.

President Eisenhower is expected to issue his official statehood proclamation this fall. Chances are good that Hawaii will have selected its congressmen before Congress adjourns this summer.

Statehood will end 40 years of frustrated efforts by Hawaiians to throw off their territorial status. The first statehood bill was introduced in 1919.

Under the statehood bill, Hawaii's 612,000 residents would be represented in Congress by two senators and one representative. The territory is now represented by a voteless delegate.

With a land area slightly larger than Connecticut and Rhode Island combined, Hawaii paid $166,300,000 in federal taxes last year, more than 10 other states.

AS 50TH STATE!

HAWAII NEARLY IN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress moved swiftly today to vote the mid-Pacific vacationland of Hawaii into the Union as the 50th state.

The House was expected to pass a statehood bill by nightfall, less than 24 hours after similar legislation sailed through the Senate on a 76 to 15 rollcall vote.

There was a possibility that a final measure could go to the White House today, but this depended upon backers getting unanimous consent for House acceptance of the slightly different Senate bill.

Ill-fated Hawaiians stood ready to launch off a two-day celebration

SOMETHING NEW IN BARBECUES

There is Oriental magic in the air when you barbecue egg rolls and Chinese hamburgers on an outdoor grill. Make an aluminum foil boat for Chun King's crisp egg rolls. Fashion hamburgers, and add sliced pineapple and halved bananas to the grill. Green onions, mustard and Chinese Burger Sauce, give added zest to the miniature luau. To make enough Chinese Burger Sauce for four generous hamburgers mix:

- 1/2 Cup Chun King Soya Sauce
- 1 Clove of garlic, crushed
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger (or a little slice of fresh ginger root finely minced)
- 1/4 Cup sherry wine (optional)

Use sauce to baste hamburgers and to brush pineapple slices and bananas.

'Nuclear' Warning Strengthens West

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's grim warning of the danger of nuclear war was viewed today as strengthening the Allied hands in negotiations with Russia on Berlin.

Officials said the President brought into sharp focus the disastrous possibilities of the Kremlin's course when he declared Wednesday he would not fight a ground war in Europe if the Berlin crisis led to hostilities but would resort to "other means."

These officials said they hoped the blunt statement finally would convince Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the United States is determined to hold Berlin against any Russian threats.

They said it should make it clear to the Russian leader that the United States is not bluffing and has considered the ultimate consequences.

Another indication of U.S. determination was the disclosure that the United States has drafted detailed plans for putting its 330,000 military men in Europe on increased alert and sending a test convoy through any Berlin blockade the Communists impose.

Very little military mobilization, as distinct from planning, is taking place now, however. The administration wants to avoid any appearance of making "provocative" military moves while the Berlin question is in diplomatic negotiation.

The need for a test convoy would arise if Russia abdicated its Berlin responsibilities, signed a treaty with East Germany and

District Attorney Speaks For Bills Pending In House

District Attorney Bill Waters today returned from Austin where, as a member of the Legislative Committee of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, he had appeared as a witness before the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee of the House of Representatives. Grainger McIlhenny, State Representative from this district, is a member of the House Committee.

Several bills are being sponsored by the District Attorneys Association, and, according to Waters, the aim is to plug up some of the loop-holes of the existing law.

"We are not interested in taking away basic rights of individuals. What we are interested in is removing loop-holes through which known guilty offenders may now escape the full impact of the law. Sometimes the legislatures become so zealous about protecting rights of individuals that the right of society as a whole suffers," Waters stated.

Twelve bills have been introduced in the House and have the active backing of the District Attorneys. Last Monday the House passed a bill making theft of oil field or pipe-line equipment a felony.

Camp Kiowa Will Have New Chapel

The foundation for a 120 square foot redwood chapel will be laid this weekend at Boy Scout Camp Kiowa. The funds for the construction were furnished by the Borger and Pampa Rotary Clubs, according to Yorel Harris, local Scout executive.

Five men of the Order of the Arrow, an honorary campers society, will begin work Friday afternoon. Besides Harris, the group includes Bill Eller of Wellington, Bill Hoyt and Vard McGlaugh of Borger.

Fifty older boys of the Order are expected to join the men next weekend to begin the actual construction. Each boy is to bring a stone to be used in the speaker's rostrum.

The new chapel, described as an Adirondack type shelter, will be open on three sides. It will be used for morning worship services this summer.

Council Primary Set For Tuesday At High School

Candidates for president of the Pampa High School Student Body will be nominated in homeroom meetings Tuesday morning. The five top vote getters will be eligible for the March 25 election, according to Mrs. Ruby Capps, sponsor of the Student Council.

Campaign managers will speak for the candidates at a political rally the morning of the election. Juniors will vote in booths on the first floor and seniors in second floor booths.

The president and vice president will be elected on a preferential ballot. The Council will elect a secretary in the fall.

Commissioners Discuss Roads

County Commissioners at their meeting Wednesday discussed the future purchase of right-of-ways for a number of farm-to-market roads in Gray County.

Judge William Craig said today the right-of-ways will be 100 ft. wide. The cost of purchasing rights will be paid by the county, while the cost of building roads will be assumed by the state, Craig added.

In addition to right-of-ways the commissioners discussed a proposed "loop route" highway that would eventually circle Pampa.

The first part of the loop would extend from the Lefors highway south of Pampa to Highway 70 east of Pampa. At present a 60-ft. dirt road joins the highways.

The loop is intended to relieve future traffic problems in the Pampa area. It would eventually re-route certain highway traffic around Pampa rather than through the city.

McCarley Infant Rites Friday

Infant Paul Ashley McCarley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCarley, 211 Cook, born Mar. 10 in Highland General Hospital died Mar. 11 in the hospital.

He is also survived by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. El-McCarley, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Marier.

Rotary Hears Ragsdale Talk On Jobs

The Pampa Rotary club yesterday heard a talk by Bill Ragsdale on the operation of the Pampa office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Ragsdale told the group that during their last operating year, 1,719 individuals were placed in jobs through his office and during the same period, $264,000 was paid in unemployment compensation.

The speaker explained the workings of unemployment payments and told how employer rates are determined.

In recognition of Girl Scout Week, Mrs. Joe Wells, adult leader of troop 27, introduced three girls who spoke on the Girl Scout Round-up. Those giving short talks were Anna Jo Watson, Martha Kelley and Elizabeth Graham.

Junior Rotarian for the month of March, Mack Layne, was introduced to the club by his predecessor, Bobby Gindorf.

After being introduced to the club by Floyd Watson, Gene Imel was inducted into the club as a new member by president Don Cain.

Visitors and guests for the day were Darryl Kisse, Bill Crow, Gene Hollay, Lester Wilde and J. M. Cone.

Water Safety Training Set For Tuesday

Water Safety training will begin Tuesday in Amarillo for prospective lifeguards and Water Safety instructors, according to James Hart, WS chairman of the Pampa Red Cross. Anyone who is 18 years of age and has a senior lifesaving card will be eligible.

Parts I and II of the training program will be held in the Amarillo YWCA on Tuesday and Thursdays for three weeks. Students will then be eligible to begin the Water Safety Instructor Course April 22. This program will be held in the YWCA for five nights.

Italy's Sunny Clime 5,000 Miles Away As Hostesses Learn Of Tuna Neopolitan

"TUNA NEOPOLITAN SUGGESTS ITALY'S SUNNY CLIME"

Bring Italy to your home with a package of noodles, a can of tomatoes and delicate Parmesan cheese. Blend compatibly with favorite American ingredients and form an Italian-American treat... Tuna Neopolitan.

Here's a new way to enjoy the romance of sunny Italy.

By plane or boat, Italy is 5,000 miles from the United States — more or less. But by way of a package of noodles a can of stewed tomatoes and delicately flavored Parmesan cheese, it's only thirty minutes away.

Nothing more truly signifies an Italian meal than broad, flat egg noodles; a selection of tasty cheeses; plump, juicy tomatoes, sweet red onions; pimiento and a rich, spicy sauce. Tuna Neopolitan contains all of these Italian favorites plus other ingredients. Layers of tender green beans and tuna flakes, a generous portion of sharp Cheddar cheese and mushrooms lend the American touch to Tuna Neopolitan.

Sound expensive to prepare? Not this delicious dish because the basic sauce is made with one of the most economical of foods — evaporated milk.

- noodles, cooked
 1 1/3 cups (10 oz. can) stewed tomatoes
 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan cheese
 1 package frozen French-style green beans, cooked
 2 7-ounce cans tuna, drained and flaked
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees; saute onions and mushrooms in butter. Blend in flour; slowly add evaporated milk, stirring until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add Cheddar and Parmesan cheese. Place two-thirds of the noodle mixture in bottom of a 2 quart casserole. Layer green beans over noodles. Place flaked tuna on green beans and pour cheese sauce over all. Decorate top of casserole with remaining noodle mixture. Warm in a preheated 350 degree oven for 10 minutes.

Honey Egnog Is Spring Harbinger

Tuna Neopolitan is a tasty delight any time of year, but makes an especially good and filling lunch dish. Why not serve it to your family tonight, with freshly tossed vegetable salad and a hard crusted loaf of buttered garlic bread as accompaniments.

TUNA NEOPOLITAN

- 6 servings
 1-3 cup chopped onion
 1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms
 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 2-3 cups (1 large can) evaporated milk
 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
 1 3/4 cup shredded Parmesan cheese
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
 1 8-ounce package broad egg

Corned Beef, Cabbage To Honor St. Pat

There's a bit of Irish in every man, they say, and you can believe it each St. Patrick's Day. Was there ever a man who could turn down a traditional corned beef and cabbage dinner?

This March 17th, why not have a get-together in your home to honor the good St. Pat? Spread a Kelly green cloth, serve good hearty corned beef and cabbage and mugs of beer, that favorite Celtic beverage. Although this is tops on male menus, you'll find the ladies not a bit hesitant about seconds of both the fine food and beverage.

This brisket of corned beef is especially flavorful because beer is added to the liquid in which it simmers.

Corned Beef and Cabbage

- 1 4-pound corned beef brisket
 1 12-ounce bottle or can beer
 1 small onion, sliced
 1 bay leaf
 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
 4 peppercorns
 2 stalks celery with leaves
 2 quartia shredded cabbage (1 large head)
 1/2 cup broth (reserved from corned beef)
 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Put brisket in deep kettle; add cold water just to cover. Add onion slices, bay leaf, cloves, peppercorns and celery. Cover, bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 4 to 5 hours, or until tender. Remove from heat. Put shredded cabbage in large skillet. Add 1/2 cup of the broth; sprinkle with salt. If desired, slice corned beef and place over top of cabbage. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Cook over medium heat 15 minutes.
- Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Sters asking for second helpings.

HONEY EGGNOG
 Simply beat two eggs well, gradually add three tablespoons of honey, and two cups of milk. Blend thoroughly. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla if desired. This makes enough for four cereal bowls.

Authorship of the Old Testament Book of Ruth never has been established.

Frosted Lemon Bars Capture Tropical Island Flavor As Dessert Companion

More and more people now spend vacations in the Caribbean area, creating an interest in dishes native to the islands. But, since foreign recipe instructions often are difficult to follow, homemakers prefer easily made, American-style dishes which capture the island flavor in tropical fruits.

One such dish is Frosted Lemon Bars. A bar cookie, it combines coconut and nutmeats, spread over a crunchy crust of packaged Corn Flake Crumbs and baked. Frosted with a lemon-flavored icing, these bars make a tropical accompaniment to mixed fruit desserts.

Combine flour, sugar, butter and Corn Flake Crumbs; mix well. Press evenly in bottom of 13 x 9-inch pan. Bake in very slow oven (275 degree F.) about 10 minutes. Remove from oven.

Mix together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine eggs, sugar, coconut and vanilla. Add flour mixture and nutmeats; mix well. Spread over baked layer. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) about 20 minutes. Frost with Lemon Icing while warm. Cool and cut into bars.

Yield: 36 bars, x 1 1/4 inches

FROSTED LEMON BARS

- 1 cup sifted flour
 1-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
 1-3 cup soft butter or margarine
 1/2 cup packaged Corn Flake Crumbs

 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
 1 cup chopped nutmeats

LEMON ICING

Catholic Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal

For American Catholic Bishops' relief fund appeal, his Holiness Pope John XXIII made his first address to the United States on Ash Wednesday directed to the school children and in which he asked the children to make Lenten sacrifices for the world's needy children.

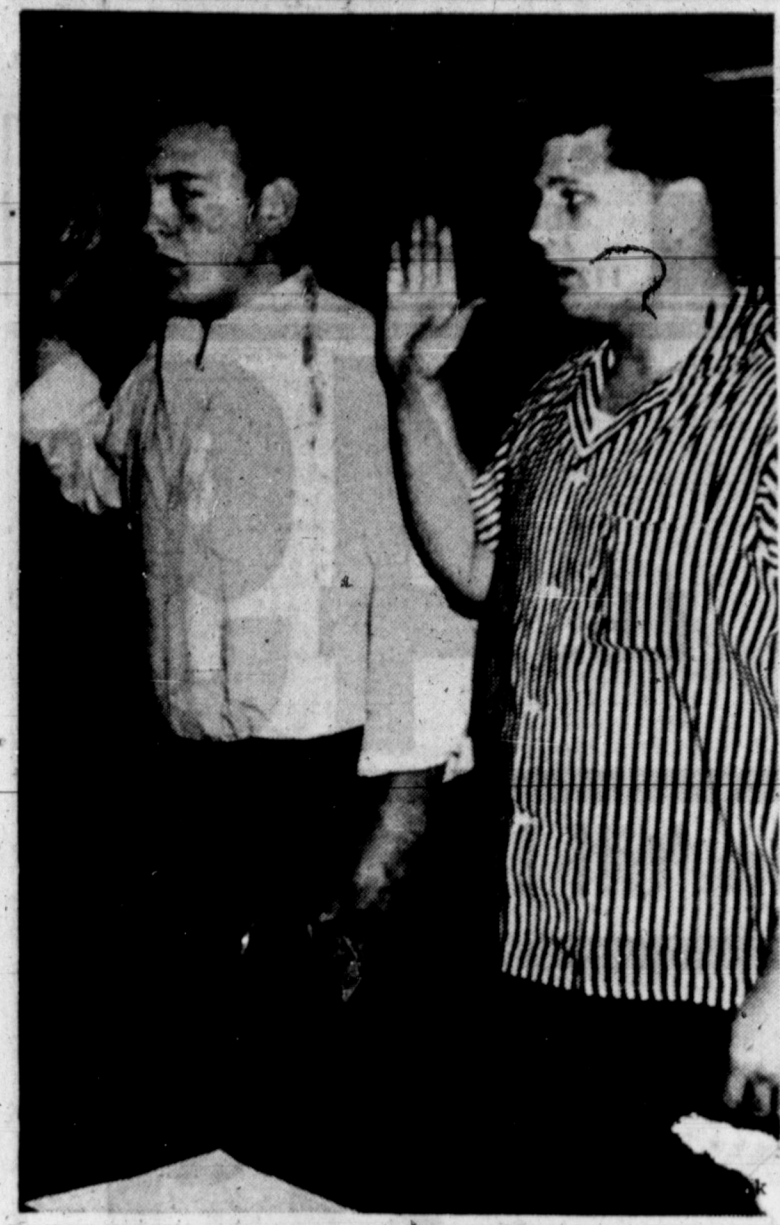

The Pope is shown in a special photograph taken in the Vatican examining the 1959 Appeal poster. Its theme, "Your Charity... Their Hope!" Other photographs show various activities of the Bishops' overseas relief agency. Assistance programs providing clothing, surplus foods, medical supplies and other relief services are carried on in fifty-one countries.

His Holiness stated, "The message we bring to you is a message of love-God's love for all mankind, and especially for you, and your duty to love God in return and your neighbor for His sake." You can help the person-to-person relief programs with a contribution to the nearest Catholic church or the Bishops' Relief Fund, Empire State Building, New York 1, N. Y.

Profit-Taking Should Be Light

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI)—We could have a technical correction in the stock market at any time, but so long as we continue to have reactions in the high-flyers which have advanced so sharply, there is not apt to be more than an average amount of profit-taking in the general list, says W. E. Hutton & Co.

Standard & Poor's notes that informed speculation is that there may be a stock split late in the year in U. S. Steel, accompanied by an increase in the dividend from current 13 annual rate.

American Radiator's powerful financial condition and its long-term record of high earnings pay-out implies that another dividend increase is likely in the latter part of the year should current building activity persist, says E. F. Hutton & Co. The company raised its quarterly dividend from 10 cents to 15 cents a share in February.

Contracts for 20th Century-Fox's sale and leaseback of studio acreage to Webb & Knapp are reported close to consummation, according to Variety.

United Merchants & Manufacturers showed a decline in net in fiscal 1958 but a good improvement is expected in the current year, reflecting not only better outlook for manufacturing operations but also rising profits from its expanding chain of clothing stores, says Reynolds & Co.

LOVE FINDS A WAY—Barbara von Nady, 19, fled to Vienna in 1936 from her native Hungary when Russian armies moved in to quash the revolt. While playing a role in a motion picture being filmed in Vienna, Barbara met another actor, Dimitry Fedotoff, a young Russian expatriate who now makes his home in Paris. The pair is shown in the French capital, where Barbara visited Dimitry after completion of the film. Now, they hear wedding bells.

Stars Say 'Thanks' To Late Benefactor

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television holds its first benefit performance next Tuesday when 15 stars pay tribute to the late Emanuel (Manie) Sacks, the man who provided most of them with their first break-in-show business.

Unlike telethons where of-the-cuff appearances are made to raise money for charitable causes, "some of Manie's friends" is a full-blown spectacular. Participating in song and dance acts, sketches and tributes are Sid Caesar, Rosemary Clooney, Nat King Cole, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher, Harry James, Betty Grable, Bob Hope, Tony Martin, Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Kay Starr, Danny Thomas, Jack Webb and Jane Wyman.

During the year the stars demand guest-shot pay in the thousands of dollars. They all are working for minimum salaries on this show.

The 90-minute program will net $200,000 for the Emanuel Sacks Foundation for research into mental diseases. The tab will be picked up by the sponsor (Liggett & Myers).

The foundation was established by Sacks several years prior to his death. During his lifetime Sacks and his many friends made substantial contributions for research for all physical and mental diseases.

Sacks, who died of leukemia a year ago, was little known to the public, but he built his reputation as a star-maker through the recording business.

It was Sacks who engineered the first hit records (via RCA Victor) for Clooney, Cole, Como, Fisher, Shore, Sinatra and James. The show's producer, Bob Finkel, who will have spent six weeks putting the program together, worked for nothing. Eddie Fisher donated his hour time slot to the project.

"Eddie, Dinah and Frank started the whole idea," Finkel said. "They wanted to show their appreciation for what Manie had done for them."

Before his death in February, 1958, Sacks headed Columbia Records, was programming chief of NBC (which presents the show) and staff vice president of RCA.

"It was Manie who started the trend of building TV and movie stars by making their reputations in the recording field," Finkel said.

"Today records provide the single most important bridge to TV stardom. If a performer comes through with a big-selling record television appearances automatically follow.

"Manie provided the opportunities to hundreds of entertainers, and they'll be saying their 'thanks' Tuesday night."

Fatherless Turkey Now Proud Poppa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A few years ago the Agricultural Research Service produced a fatherless turkey. Now, the Agriculture Department said today, a bird of this type has become a father.

In fact, the research center at Beltsville, Md., has produced 37 young turkeys which have no paternal grandfather.

The sire of this unique flock was hatched a year ago, sans services of a gobbler. He developed parthenogenetically in a non-fertilized egg. The turkey hen that produced the egg from which the parthenogenetic sire was hatched had never been mated. Parthenogenesis is the spontaneous development of embryonic tissue in infertile eggs.

The fatherless sire is one of 20 parthenogenetic male birds hatched in the spring and fall of 1958. Although five survived and grew to maturity, only one thus far has produced viable spermatozoa. This was used to inseminate virgin turkey hens artificially. The young turkeys were hatched from fertile eggs produced by the inseminated hens.

Dr. M. W. Olsen, a poultry scientist at Beltsville, said the research with turkeys was part of a long-range basic study of fertility and hatchability. He said the studies contribute to a better understanding of chromosomes and cell growth in all forms of life.

The department delayed announcement of the fatherless turkey's parenthood to make certain the offspring were actually the progeny of a parthenogenetic sire and were not themselves the result of parthenogenetic development from infertile eggs.

Olsen said he was certain the fatherless bird was responsible, because two of the young turkeys hatched were females. True parthenogenesis in birds produce only males, he said.

High Potential Suggested For Stock Market

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI)—The intermediate stock market outlook continues to suggest a potential well above current levels, says J. W. Sparks & Co.

Investors Advisory Institute says more stock splits are expected in 1959 than at any time in history.

A corrective market reaction of sizeable proportions becomes a strong possibility, says Alexander Hamilton Institute.

Reactions are unable to gather any momentum, Van Atstyne, Noel & Co. notes.

A steel wage settlement that would be based on worker productivity would take some of the inflationary steam out of the stock market and bonds would find increasing favor, says Reynolds & Co.

Seniors Star In 'Father Of Bride'

WHEELER (Sp) — The Senior Class of Weeler High School will present two performances of its annual play, "Father of the Bride," March 12 in the school gym. The matinee will begin at 1 p.m. and the evening performance at 7:30.

"Father of the Bride," a three-act comedy by Caroline Francke, will star Dean Sims as the father of the lovely daughter, Kay, played by Sondra Jones, who is engaged to a ham with a pair of shoulders, Buckley Dunstan, played by Paul Harding.

Conflicting opinions arise as the type of wedding Kay and Buckley should have. Kay wants her wedding to be lovely and simple, Buckley wants to take Kay as she is, maybe even in her dungarees to a little ivy-covered church around the corner.

Mother, Annette Hutchison, wants a small wedding to which everyone is invited, and Father is willing to pay Kay and Buckley $1,500 to elope.

The matter is further complicated by the two teen-age sons, Tommy and Ben, played by Jackie Johnson and Kenneth Childers and their friends, Sharon "Peggy" Beauty and Buck "Buzz" Rogers and the maid, Deliah, portrayed by Betty Cook.

It is finally agreed to invite Miss Massoula, Tillie Green, of the Buckingham Caterers to help with the wedding arrangements, assisted by Mr. Bank's secretary, Nelda Riley, Joe of the Circulation Department, played by Larry Henderson, and the movie, Red and Pete, played by Garry Satterfield and Jim Erwin. The representative from Tina's Flower Shop is Carol Caswell and the dress designer for Kay's wedding dress is Miss Pultzki, Amy Lewis.

The backstage crew includes Shirley Meadows and Carolyn Faris. The play is under the direction of Carroll Killingsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Boynton are Senior Class Sponsors.

Men Taking Up Hobby Of Gardening

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Look to your barrels, ladies. The men are digging their way into gardening in rapidly growing numbers. You still outdo them, but at the rate the men are cultivating this hobby, one day they may be walking off with the blue ribbons for begonias, roses, orchids and other flora.

This I gather from a man fittingly named Spader, who is executive secretary of the Men's Garden Clubs of America. "Sure I take a lot of kidding because of my name," said George A. Spader, Morrisville, N.Y. "But I also capitalize on it."

Spader, a retired professor of horticulture, said the men's clubs have 9,000 members in 196 affiliations around the country. "The ladies," he added, "have about 43 clubs to one of ours. But we're increasing rapidly."

"It's impossible to estimate the number of men hobbyists. We know it's enormous. And a lot of experts say that gardening is the most important pastime or avocation in America today."

Men are taking up the hobby for several reasons, said Spader. Their basic love of growing things — "it is watching the miracle of life unfold," said one esthetic hobbyist. Retirement age for men comes earlier and gardening is the man still physically active. And all of us have more leisure time.

"But you're trying to put me on a spot when you ask which sex makes the better gardener," said Spader. "The men are more apt to do the hard work—weeding and hoeing. Ladies go in more for flower arranging."

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is duly advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SENATOR KEATING FLUNKS LESSON IN SPACE PHYSICS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senator Kenneth E. Keating (R-N.Y.) is an eminent lawyer—a war hero and brigadier general—and a political genius who got elected to the Senate as a Republican at a time when it looked like nobody but Democrats could win election to anything.

It is sad to report, however, that when they were teaching rudimentary physics in high school the distinguished senator from Rochester must have been out playing hooky.

Keating, who was a member of the House for 12 years before his graduation to the Senate last November, like all ex-House members probably finds the rarefied air of the Senate hard to take as a regular thing. Anyway, he can't resist going back to the House now and then.

So there he was Thursday, in the role of expert witness before the House Space Committee, of which he once was a member.

Argues For Agreement

He was arguing, most persuasively, the need for quick world agreement on control of space. He said this ought to be a lot easier now than it will be after the Russians, or even the Americans, land a man on the moon with a flag and maybe a gun.

Keating said international law now is that each nation controls the "air space" over its territory. He said nobody knows where this space ends and where "outer space" starts. Unless we get an agreement on this, he said, people may start extending their air space toward the stars.

And this is where he ran into trouble.

"Because of the curved surface of the earth," he said, "the extension would produce an inverted cone which would grow bigger and bigger. At some point these cones would overlap and more than one state would be occupying the same air space."

As any space-minded school boy could have told him, and as Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) did tell him, this wasn't right.

"At one time," said Fulton, "drafting and dissecting with radial lines a reasonable facsimile of a globe, I was going to be a scientist and a math teacher. I don't believe the gentleman is correct in saying the cones would overlap."

"The idea is not original with me," replied Keating. "I picked it up from a scientist."

Fulton, obviously entertaining the hope this scientist was one working for the other side, explained that perpendicular lines drawn from various points on the earth's curved surface would diverge rather than meet.

Keating wasn't so sure. Neither was Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario (D-Conn.). He said Einstein demonstrated that parallel lines eventually meet. Fulton said Keating's boundary lines weren't parallel. He asked Keating where they would go if extended downward into the earth.

Calls For Vote

"I'm not going that way at all," said Keating, who seemed a little disturbed at the thought. "I'm going up."

Fulton, who favors settling things in an orderly way, called for a vote on the issue. Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) stumped off the demand.

"Let's ask our physicist," demanded Fulton, indicating (and at the same time promoting) Richard Hines, a staff consultant who is an engineer but doesn't quite rate the term physicist.

Hines, who would rather have been somewhere else, held reluctantly that Fulton was right. Brooks still wasn't sure.

"I'll appoint a special subcommittee to look into it," he announced, adjourning the session.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm a bride of three months and my husband is very good to me, when he's awake. After dinner he stretches himself out on the sofa and watches TV and then falls asleep. He doesn't do this every night. Two nights a week he plays league basketball and I don't see him at all. I feel so unneeded. Seriously, Abby, I'd like your advice.

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: When a groom of three months falls asleep right after dinner in front of the TV set, it's a pretty poor commercial for his wife. If he's got the pep to play league basketball, he's got plenty of vitality. I'd say it's your move.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five. My husband traded in a perfectly good five-passenger sedan for a two-seater sports car. What would you say he had in mind?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Himself.
DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I fell in love with a married man, and at the time I didn't know he was married. Naturally when I found out I quit seeing him. I never stopped loving him though. Last week he called to tell me he had his divorce and he wants to see me. I still care for him, Abby, but my parents do not approve of him because he didn't tell me he was married when he first went with me. I am 24 and have a good job. I would like to see him. Please tell me what to do.

TORN

DEAR TORN: There are two possibilities. This man could still be married in which case he's poison. He could be free now but if you married him he could "forget" to tell the next young lady who looks good to him that he is married to you. Lose him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young woman of 22 and am nothing special. The man next door is in his sixties and has cancer. The doctor says he can't last more than a year. He's not bedfast yet and drives a car and goes to work half-days. He's not married and has a nice home and money in the bank. He wants me to marry him. I am not in love with him and I tell out on the sofa and watches TV and then falls asleep. He doesn't do this every night. Two nights a week he plays league basketball and I don't see him at all. I feel so unneeded. Seriously, Abby, I'd like your advice.

NOTHING SPECIAL

DEAR NOTHING: To marry a man (whose kisses make you "sort of sick") and wait for him to die so that you can get his money reduces the holy sacrament of marriage to a cold dispassionate business deal. Your preacher is right.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BABY DOLL: Never mind the orchids. Hold out for orange blossoms.

CARL LOSES FINAL MATCH

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI)—A pair of Toledo amateur boxers, middleweight Wilbur McClure and flyweight Gil Yanez, held Western Golden Gloves titles for the second consecutive year today after a televised final card which drew 11,243 fans despite local video.

McClure, the classiest of the eight fighters who appeared in the title bouts on TV, put on the best show of the night in fighting in flurries to beat Herbert Wills, Cincinnati, Ohio, and retain his title.

McClure scored fairly heavily with punches to Jones' midsection, but Jones countered with effective hooks and jabs to take the decision. "I don't think he had me at all," McClure said after the fight. "He was more surprised than I was. I'm ready to fight him again right now."

Despite the loss, McClure was chosen to fight with the Chicago team in Inter-city Golden Gloves bouts with New York, March 25.

Yanez, who had to fight twice, was hard pressed to trip Oscar German, Grand Rapids, Mich., in the final. The performance by the two titleholders helped Toledo to a share with Cincinnati and Nashville of the team title with 14 points each.

Other individual champions were heavyweight Jimmy Jones, Chicago, victor over Carl McClure; Fort Worth, light heavyweight Cassius Clay, Louisville, Ky., winner over Jefferson Davis, Nashville; welterweight Don Sargent, Minneapolis, Minn., who beat Ferd Hernandez, Omaha; Neb.; lightweight Freddie Davis, Champaign, Ill., winner over Norman Springs, Cincinnati; featherweight Pat Moore, Kenosha, Wis., who defeated Jack Range, Nashville; and bantamweight Don Edgington, St. Louis, victor over John Joiner, Cincinnati.

Clay's victory gave Louisville its first individual championship in the western bouts and Freddie Davis came through as a winner for Champaign in the first attempt by the city to compete for the title.

Only one of the 14 bouts went less than its scheduled three rounds. This was a semifinal match in the 118-pound class when Range got a TKO win over Sonny Duncan, Canton, Ill., at 1:37 of the second round.

N. Mex. State Is Eliminated

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (UPI) — Idaho State beat New Mexico State 62-61 in the last 20 seconds last night to earn its seventh straight berth in the NCAA Western Regional basketball tournament.

Forward Jerry Griffin dropped in two free throws to clinch the victory and end a 39-game home-court New Mexico State winning streak.

Murtaugh Says Bucs Can Go All The Way

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—Manager Danny Murtaugh feels his Pittsburgh Pirates can go all the way this year if "we come up with a big bat at first base."

He's pretty sure he's going to get it, too, from among Dick Stuart, Ted Kluszewski, Rocky Nelson and R. C. Stevens.

"We need a long-ball hitter at first to make up for the loss of Frank Thomas," Murtaugh reasoned. "There's no doubt we will miss his bat. So I figure whoever wins the first base job will have to plug the gap."

Thomas was traded to Cincinnati along with four other lesser lights for pitcher Harvey Haddix, third baseman Don Hoak and catcher Smoky Burgess.

"We made the deal because we believe we improved our defense, got the left-handed starting pitcher we lacked last year in Haddix, and a fine catcher and hitter in Burgess."

Counting On Stuart, Klu
The players he is counting on most at first is Stuart, who hit 16 home runs and batted in 48 in 57 games with the Pirates last season, and Big Klu. Stuart has the power, but he strikes out a lot.

Kluszewski seems to have overcome completely the back ailment which has hampered him the past two years.

"I'm swinging freely for the first time since I hurt the back," he said.

Murtaugh backed him up. He took four swings his first time up in batting practice and each time lined the ball against the fence.

"I sure liked the old Kluszewski," Murtaugh said. "I'm sure that among Stuart and Kluszewski we'll do all right at first. Then I also have Nelson and Stevens. We'll get the job done all right."

Murtaugh rates his second base combination of Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski as "the best in the business."

Hall of Famer
"There isn't a shortstop and a second baseman around who can win more games for you in more ways than Groat and Mazeroski. I'll tell you what I think of Bill. If I had to name one player on the Pirates today who is the most likely candidate for the Hall of Fame, it'd be Mazeroski. He's destined to become one of the best second basemen of our times." Murtaugh explained that he wasn't selling Milwaukee or the other clubs short.

"But I feel we can beat 'em all. Milwaukee has great pitching, but ours is all right, too. Last year we started out with only three starters — Bob Friend, Vernon Law and Ron Kline. Now I have three more — Haddix, George Witt and Curt Raydon. And in Elroy Face we have one of the best relief pitchers in the game."

"We've proved last year that we were on the move. Now I hope to move up one more notch."

That would be first place, for last year the Pirates finished second, eight games behind the Braves.

NEW YORK (UPI)—This has to do with what a difference four years makes in international athletics—and the question of what happens in four more.

Back in 1952, at its private village deep in Finland's pine forests on the outskirts of Helsinki, the Russian Olympic team had a mammoth score board. There was consternation when the United States shot to the top of the board.

So the Russians changed their scoring system.

The next day, even under the new system, the United States again went to the top of the Soviet scoreboard in the "unofficial" race for the "mythical" team championship in the international contests.

So the following day the Russians tore down the offending board.

Four years later, at Melbourne, the Russians went to the top of the scoreboard—and they stayed there.

Our officials tried to work the same mathematical magic which the Russians had attempted at Helsinki.

Russians Too Strong
"I used seven different systems but no matter what I tried the Russians still came out on top," confessed one member of the U.S. Olympic delegation which, officially, decries the award of an unofficial team title.

"They were just too strong in the places, even though we took our share of gold medals."

So, for the first time, the Russians won the scorned but highly coveted "mythical" team championship at the last Olympic games.

The Russians made athletic hay of this in the world wide cold war which the Soviet wages on all fronts. It was an international black eye to America's muscular prowess.

"We are highly aware of this," admits one U.S. official. "and we are more concerned than ever as we get closer to the 1960 games at Rome. The Russians haven't been standing still. They want to really buy us this time. Which means that we must work harder than ever before!"

U. S. Needs Money
One of the strategic devices to be employed is to gather the men—7, as well as to gather the competitive clans in an early training for the Rome spectacular.

The U. S. Olympic Committee needs $1,500,000.

"This money has to be raised by public subscription," an official explains. "The Russians can be state supported, but we have to live up strictly to the amateur code. This means no government subsidy."

Just in case you're interested, donations can be sent to: U. S. Olympic Committee, Biltmore Hotel, New York. Because up to now we haven't even scratched the surface."

In the wealthiest nation in the world it is, quite surprisingly, money.

To brush our competitors in Pan-American Games, July 27-Aug. 7, as well as to gather the competitive clans in an early training for the Rome spectacular.

The U. S. Olympic Committee needs $1,500,000.

"This money has to be raised by public subscription," an official explains. "The Russians can be state supported, but we have to live up strictly to the amateur code. This means no government subsidy."

Runnerup Race Tight In AHL

United Press International

The battle for second place in the American Hockey League may go right down to the final buzzer.

The Cleveland Barons, last year's runner-up team, leaped into the No. 2 spot one point ahead of Hershey by edging the Bears, 3-2, at Hershey in Wednesday night's only league action.

The Barons and the Bears have two more games to play with each other in the regular season, including the curtain-closer at Cleveland on March 22. The high-scoring Rochester Americans, who are only four points in back of Cleveland in fourth place, still have an outside chance of grabbing second.

Campanella Helps LA Pitching Staff

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Don Drysdale, one of the biggest flops of the 1958 baseball season, is exhibit A today that Roy Campanella can help the Los Angeles Dodgers even from a wheelchair.

The partly-paralyzed Campanella, serving as a Dodger coach this spring, insisted at the start of training that he could help the 22-year old Drysdale recover the form that made him one of the National League's most effective pitchers in 1957.

Drysdale slumped to a 12-13 record and 4.16 earned run average last year after a 17-9 and 2.69 slate in '57.

Campanella insisted that Drysdale was losing his effectiveness because he had unconsciously discarded his three-quarter motion in favor of a sidearm delivery.

He and Drysdale discussed the problem shortly after Campanella arrived at the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., base and the 6-foot, 5-inch, 210-pound right-hander decided to follow Roy's advice.

Extends Shutout Innings
How correctly Campanella analyzed the case was demonstrated again Wednesday when Drysdale stretched his string of shutout innings in exhibition play to eight with five scoreless frames in a 7-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Don Demeter singled with the bases filled in the ninth to cap a three-run rally and give the Dodgers their third win in five games. Johnny Temple led the Reds' attack with four singles.

The 1958 tallenders in each league "had a ball" for themselves, meanwhile, as the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the National League champion Milwaukee Braves, 13-7, and the Washington Senators shaded the world champion New York Yankees, 13-12.

Wally Post hit two homers and Gene Freese hit one to pace a 17-hit Philadelphia attack on four Milwaukee pitchers. The Braves announced after the game that Mel Roach, the ailing substitute who was being groomed to replace Red Schoendienst, will fly to Milwaukee Thursday to have his left knee examined by Dr. Bruce Brewer, who operated on it last August.

Mickey Mantle Keating
Rookie Bob Allison, a former Kansas fullback, rapped a two-run homer off Murry Dickson in the eighth inning as the Senators handed the Yankees their third straight setback. Norm Zuehlke also homered for Washington while Gordon Windhorn hit two and Norm Siebern one for New York. The Yankees played without ailing Mickey Mantle who remained behind at St. Petersburg, Fla., to rest his sore right shoulder.

The San Francisco Giants clubbed out a 10-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs, the Boston Red Sox edged out the Cleveland Indians 4-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, in other exhibition games between major league A-teams.

St. Louis Takes 3rd In Bowling

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The Leonard Sales team of St. Louis stole the spotlight from Buddy Bomar's Munstingwear team Wednesday night by rolling its way into third place in the open team division of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

The St. Louis club scored 3,142 after coming back from a poor 969 start to connect with 1,035 and close with 1,138. The total placed the team behind the Pfeifers of Detroit and the Budweisers of St. Louis.

Frank Lucido led Leonard Sales with 691. Harmon Blocker chipped in with 670, Ted Boese 632, Joe Pallardy 581 and Bob Remke 568.

Their 1,138 game was the ninth highest single game ever bowled in 56 years of ABC competition.

The famed Windy City Munstingwear club failed to land among the leaders, but three of its members will carry 600 totals into today's minor events play.

Bomar and Bill Bunetta each rolled 613 and Chuck Hamilton added 601 as the club totaled 2,947. Stan Gifford had 595 and John King was left with 525.

Dairying contributed 25.07 per cent of the total farm income of Ohio during 1956.

Basketball Banquet Plans Completed By Committee

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Arrangements were completed Tuesday for the Harvester Appreciation basketball banquet, at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce sports committee.

The banquet will be held in the high school cafeteria Monday, at 7:30 p.m. O. E. (Red) Wedgworth, Chamber of Commerce manager, reported that fewer than 50 tickets remain to be sold. More than 450 of the 500 available tickets have either been sold or distributed on a complimentary basis.

Features of the banquet will be crowning of the basketball queen, presentation of the Hustling Harvester award by Coach Clifton McNeely, and a speech by Bob Rogers, basketball coach of Texas A&M College.

Rogers, who is in his second year as Aggie coach, has already made quite a name for himself in Southwest Conference circles. Taking over a perennial doormat squad last year, he immediately turned it into a contender.

Last year, the Aggies beat the conference leader on three different occasions, and ended SMU's 44-game home court winning streak.

This year, the Aggies finished fourth in the conference and had a 16-8 season record.

In addition to crowning of the queen, award presentation, and Rogers' speech, each member of the Harvesters' state champion squad will be introduced, along with coaches McNeely and Terry Colley.

Entertainment will be provided by Bill Tregoe's Pampa High School Pep Band and by Ray C. Johnson Jr., an Amarillo baritone. The Pep Band will provide dinner music, and Johnson will present special music.

Master of Ceremonies
Master of ceremonies at the banquet will be Jon Jones, minister of the Mary Ellen-Harvester St. Church of Christ, Dr. Burgin Watkins, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Ralph McKinney, chairman of the sports committee, will introduce special guests; and Malcolm C. Douglas will introduce the speaker. The basketball queen will be crowned by Harvester co-captains Mack Layne and Coyle Win-

The basketball mothers are working with Aubrey Jones of the sports committee, on decorations for the banquet.

Committee Members
Members of the sports committee, the banquet's sponsoring group, are McKinney, chairman; Jones, New Secret, LeRoy Ogden, Arthur Aftergut, Babe Curfman, James Gallemore, Travis Lively Jr., Charles Robinson, Joe R. Donaldson, Rufe Jordan, Deck Woldt, Joe Fisher, McNeely, George Whitten, Cecil Shirley, Warren Patheer, Hart Warren, A. L. Smalley, Marvin Bowman, and Elmer Fisher.

Chamber of Commerce officers are Warren Hasse, president; H. V. Wilks, vice president, and Don Cain, finance director.

TONIGHT IN NATIONAL INVITATION ST. JOHN'S TO MEET VILLANOVA

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International

St. John's, coached by "old pro" Joe Lapchick, is an eight-point favorite over Villanova and Fordham is a two-point pick over Butler in tonight's opening games in the National Invitation Tournament—the nation's oldest post-season basketball jamboree.

And looking ahead to Friday night's second-round action in the NCAA's major college tournament, the oddsmakers have installed national champion Kansas State a whopping 16-point favorite over DePaul, Kentucky is a nine-point choice over Louisville, and upstart Navy is a seven-point pick over Boston University in the key games.

The odds on the other five NCAA second-round games, which will be staged at four different sites, are West Virginia by three over St. Joseph's, Michigan State three over Marquette, Cincinnati six over Texas Christian, California four over Utah, and St. Mary's (Calif.) is 14 over Idaho State.

Villanova's First Appearance
St. John's, which has a 16-6 record this season, is expected to have too much poise for Villanova (18-6) in their NIT opener at Madison Square Garden. Villanova will be making its first appearance in the New York Tournament. The Redmen have appeared in 13 previous NIT shows and nine under Lapchick, whose teams won the event in 1943 and 1944.

In addition, Al Seiden and sophomore Tony Jackson provide St. John's with the greatest 1-2 scoring punch in the school's history. Seiden is the highest scorer in the tournament with a 23.2-point average; Jackson has been averaging 20 points a game and is a great rebounder.

Villanova has good eight up front in 6-foot-8 John Driscoll and 6-foot-6 George Raveling but will have to find a way to stop Seiden and Jackson, who will have an added advantage of playing on their "home" court. St. John's plays most of its regular-season

NAIA Quarterfinals Will Begin Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Eight survivors of a field of 32, including defending champion Tennessee State and hottest contender West Virginia Wesleyan, opened the NAIA tournament quarterfinals today.

Top-seeded Tennessee, Wednesday beat Youngstown of Ohio 88-80, and goes against Illinois Normal at 8:30 p.m. today.

The seventh-ranked Illinois team Wednesday night clubbed upstart Fairleigh Dickinson of New Jersey, 68-61.

In other second-round games Wednesday, second-seeded West Virginia Wesleyan stopped Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota, 90-75; Southwest Texas defeated Westminster of Pennsylvania, 61-58; and Georgia Teachers upset sixth-ranked Indiana State, 73-70.

Pacific Lutheran downed Central Oklahoma State, 66-57; Lenoir Rhyne of North Carolina upset fourth-seeded Grambling, 88-78, and Fort Hays State of Kansas beat Arkansas Teachers, 59-48.

Today's schedule begins at 8:30 p.m. with Southwest Texas, ranked fifth in the week-long championship competition, going against 16th ranked Lenoir Rhyne.

West Virginia Wesleyan and Fort Hays State collide at 7 p.m., and Georgia Teachers takes on third-seeded Pacific Lutheran at 10 p.m.

Eaves May Be Texas Coach
AUSTIN (UPI)—Joel Eaves, Auburn basketball coach, said he is looking into the possibilities of coaching at the University of Texas.

Eaves conferred Wednesday with Ed Olie, university athletic director, Dr. O. B. Williams, chairman of the athletic council, and council members.

Texas Coach Marshall Hughes resigned from the post.

Dr. Williams said the talks with Eaves was "in keeping with our policy" of searching for a new coach.

"I'm merely looking into the situation," Eaves commented.

Reversal of IC4A Decision Pleases Pennsylvania State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—Pennsylvania State University athletic circles viewed with satisfaction today the decision awarding Penn State the IC4A track and field team championship 11 days after the meet was held.

But there was no victory celebration—only the restrained feeling that justice had been done.

Penn State was declared winner over Manhattan College Wednesday in New York by the IC4A executive committee, which ruled in favor of the Nittany Lions' protest to the reversal of the original decision in the 60-yard high hurdles.

Manhattan was awarded the team championship when the revised decision gave the Jaspers' Henry White third place instead of fourth in the controversial finish. That gave Manhattan 21 points to 20 17-36 for Penn State in the meet Feb. 28 at Madison Square Garden.

Penn State athletic director Ernest E. McCoy was in accord with the executive committee's decision Wednesday which placed New York University's Mike Herman ahead of White. The committee dropped Manhattan to 20 points and gave the team title to Penn State.

Pettit Breaks NBA Record For Season Scoring Average

United Press International

Bob Pettit continued his fabulous record collection in the National Basketball Association tonight through the final game of the season.

Pettit's last mark in a bountiful campaign was established Wednesday night when he scored 27 points to lead the St. Louis Hawks to a 132-130 overtime win over the Syracuse Nationals. The former Louisiana State University star emerged with a 29.2 points per game average, topping the 28.4 previously held by George Mikan.

Dolph Schayes of the Nats also set a record as he played in his 759th game, one more than Arnie Risen. The durable Nat has been in every game for the last seven seasons and tops all scorers with 14,091 points.

In the only other game Wednesday night, the Detroit Pistons beat the Minneapolis Lakers, 123-118.

Cliff Hagan was the Hawk hero in the win over Syracuse. Hagan's tip-in of a rebound with 16 seconds left in regulation time tied the score at 121-all and his basket at the final horn in the extra session gave St. Louis the decision.

Schayes was high man for Syracuse with 29 points.

Detroit downed Minneapolis in the last minute of their warm-up for Saturday night's Western Division playoff opening. A basket by Dick McGuire gave the Pistons a 117-116 lead and then Phil Jordan and Joe Holup each connected with a pair of free throws to sew up the game. Jordan's 21 points were high for Detroit, while Elgin Baylor led Minneapolis with 39.

Field For Research

An area of human endeavor which should be the object of extended research is that area of nature's laws which lies between physical fact and moral fact.

There are, for example, certain rules of nature which are absolute. The physical sciences give us the greatest information we have on such laws.

On the other hand, there are certain of nature's rules which do not appear to be amenable to human tampering. An effort expended in these areas is wasted, or worse, results in a reaction more deadly in its effect than the original harmful procedure of the law itself.

Still, if we cannot prevent the law of nature, we have at least discovered ways and means of seeing to it that this law is momentarily suspended for our benefit.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES THE TRANQUILIZED COWS (Tulsa Tribune)

Now they are feeding tranquilizers to cows. A major company claims that mixing a special tranquilizing drug with ordinary feed will make cows happier - and consequently fatter - on less food.

This opens new realms. Until now we had imagined that "cow-like" placidity was the ultimate - even though we've seen many a peaceful cud-chewer scared clear across the pasture by a train whistle.

Perhaps train whistles, burrs and herdsman's ticks will no longer disturb the cows' tranquility. Maybe the tranquilizer will put them in a pink mist of well-being - a kind of Seventh Heaven for cows - in which their huge brown eyes will grow rounder and browner, and their horns wither away from sheer lack of aggressiveness. They will be fatter and happier than ever before. And dumber.

That may be all right for cows, but what about human beings? We are getting to be a nation of tranquilizers - users and a lot of people can't quit. Is this just because tranquilizers are newly on the market - a novelty which everyone must try - or is it symptomatic of an age which doesn't have the guts to face up to its problems? Are we, too, growing too fat, dumb and happy for our own good, so that the horns of our initiative lose their sharpness and purpose?

Bear in mind that there have always been tranquilizing drugs of one sort or another. Wine is almost as old as civilized man. The South American Indian has chewed coca leaves longer than anyone can remember the hotel but has been sucked for years by orientals seeking the mellow glow, and the mescal bean has long been preferred eating for many Mexicans.

There have always been drugs of one-kind or another, but never have we given in to them quite so extensively as we now seem likely to do on pseudo-medical grounds. Now, when we hit a rough problem head-on, we take the easy way out where we can. And where we can't, we too often take a pill.

We excuse ourselves by saying we are "highly strung" or in a state of "nervous tension." Hell, so was Abraham Lincoln. He was full of what we now call "nervous energy!" But instead of quelling that energy with drink or drugs, he put it to work as the indefatigable driving force behind his great leadership.

The Founding Fathers would not be proud of us. The noble pursuit of happiness has become an addiction to easy living, "good times" and happy-pills.

The symptoms of these addictions are everywhere. School children often let children choose what they want to learn, instead of what older and wiser heads tell them they need to learn. And the schools are not alone to blame for this. It is the parents who allow fine, strapping boys to take cookery courses instead of chemistry or literature. It is the parents who shuffle onto the schools the responsibility for teaching their children car-driving, in place of history and philosophy.

You can be sure that if parents had the moral fibre to insist on real scholarship and hard work, most teachers would take it from there with a whoop and a holler.

You see the same symptoms in politics. Our elastic morals allow us to confuse what is desirable with what is needed and - more important - what we can afford. In the midst of the most widespread prosperity in history, thousands of families have no savings simply because they see in the misty glow of the Welfare State an assurance that the state will take care of them. They are convinced some benevolent power in Washington will and should care for them from the cradle to the grave, buffering them against hard times, producing a worker's paradise on four days a week and leading them to retirement to some Valhalla where state pensions will enable them to feed with the gods.

Congress, right now, is engaged in such a test of waning moral fibre. It has somehow sold itself on the illusion that - regardless of the laws of economics that bind ordinary men - the country can spend more on welfare projects than it earns, simply because they are desirable or necessary. The price of such serenity is the declining value of the dollar.

Aldous Huxley has done more to puncture the image of the benevolent Big Brother state than most people. And he wrote an article recently on drugs that control men's minds, pointing to the fearful potential of drugs in a tyrannical welfare state. You subjugate the masses with brainwashing and drugs to the point that their will to object to the erosion of their freedom is completely quelled.

George Orwell, also a hater of the welfare state, portrayed another aspect of benevolent totalitarianism in his brilliant satire, "Animal Farm." It concerns the struggle of a few animals to dominate the other animals "for their own good" in the fight against that wicked common enemy, the Farmer.

The thought brings us back to our tranquilized cows. When we too are tranquilized and brainwashed to the point that we lose the very instruments of human endeavor - pride, indignation, ambition - and when we lose the capacity to be alarmed by the train whistle, we too shall be ripe for Big Brother. We, too, shall be fat, dumb and happy. And like the cows, we shall make easy killing.

The Kindhearted Pirate

Robert Allen Reports: Hegerter Will Give Report On Visit

WASHINGTON - An inside report on Prime Minister Macmillan's hectic visit to Russia will be given the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Acting Secretary of State Christian Hegerter.

The first account of Macmillan's talks with Khrushchev will be given the Committee next Tuesday at a closed-door meeting.

That was arranged by Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.), chairman, after a discussion with Hegerter. Fulbright pointed out it was customary for Secretary Dulles to keep the Committee informed of major foreign developments, and strongly urged the Acting Secretary to continue doing that.

Hegerter agreed to do it, and meets with the Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday to relate what the State Department has learned about Macmillan's trip to Russia.

The Doctor Says:

by EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. Noise has been defined as "sound without agreeable musical quality." Although widely used, this definition is not really adequate.

The currently accepted definition is "noise is unwanted sound." If that is right, there is certainly a lot of noise around.

What is pleasant to one person, such as loud music on the radio, may be an unpleasant "noise" to a neighbor who is trying to go to sleep. But the fact that noise produces annoyance does not mean that it is bad for health.

The most important thing about noise is its possible effect on hearing. This is particularly true in certain industries.

"If you have to shout to be heard" in your industry, it has been said, "you have a noise problem."

Under such circumstances the noise should be controlled either by stopping it at the source with isolation, changing methods of operation, quieting the machinery, sound-treating the environment or stopping the noise at the individual level by protection of the hearing apparatus through earmuffs, plugs or similar devices.

In one discussion of this subject, it has been recommended that every employe in industry be given a pre-employment hearing test with periodic checkups to detect changes.

By following this procedure, hearing impairment as a result of a noisy environment - or anything else - can be detected relatively early and so it can be an important method of hearing conservation.

To quote from an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association: "The auditory (hearing) effects of noise exposure are a serious threat to health of a large segment of the industrial population. Permanent, incapacitating hearing loss can be produced by extended exposure to many industrial noises... when employes are exposed to continuous noise for at least five, six hours a day, five days a week, 50 weeks a year, for several years a program of hearing conservation is needed."

I still feel that even that noise tyrannical welfare state. You subjugate the masses with brainwashing and drugs to the point that their will to object to the erosion of their freedom is completely quelled.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON NEW YORK - CLIFF NOTES:

Whenever the boys get together in a watering hole while waiting for their dinner dates to show up, you can count on some fairly pointless conversation - ranging across a plateau of flat topics... But in Absinthe House the other night, with six men awaiting their divorces, your correspondent, who is not waiting for one, got onto the subject of sherry... It turned out that everyone present knew something about it - but not too much.

A man whose wife is in Mexico getting an unwinding contributed the nugget that sherry is the only known wine the taste of which is NOT marred by tobacco smoke... A man whose wife is in Reno said all he knew was that sherry vintners are the world's most constant gamblers; they never know and they have no way of knowing whether new wine fermenting in casks will turn out dry or sweet... It cannot be predicted... A third, whose wife is in Las Vegas, Jerred Spain and sherry will result from it - the same grape, grown anywhere else in Spain - will result in white wine, not sherry.

A man whose wife is going to sue right here in New York claimed, with a debonair air, that sherry is the only wine that can be left uncorked indefinitely without damaging its taste or bouquet... A man whose wife is going to Trinidad, having heard that divorce is easy and swift there, said he himself had no fondness for sherry whether dry or sweet but he took a pencil and drew the perfect glass for it a tulip-shaped form gathered in slightly at the top to hold the bouquet for the nose... And added that this should be held by the stem so that the hand would not warm the bowl while the sherry was being swirled to release its bouquet... The last man, whose wife hadn't decided where she is going but is certainly going to go, contributed that it is a gross breach of manners in Spain to offer a guest "a last glass" of the evening... The Spanish hold that the last glass is taken only at the moment of death... Your reporter, whose wife was cluttered in evening traffic somewhere in the streets of New York, added his only bit: it is impossible to turn sherry into vinegar and that 80 per cent of the wine that is exported goes mostly to England, since Americans have not acquired the large taste for it, although they should instead of belting down those lethal, stiffening, starching cocktails they boil themselves in... And if your love about sherry has been helped by this report, the committee is pleased... As to reciprocating by advising the suffering six how to repair their marriages, don't try... They seem to like what is happening to them... In fact, the one who was as arrogant as all get-out because his marriage achieved some sort of record: it lasted seven weeks and two days.

Comes a card from Mexico City announcing the opening of a new restaurant at 123 Liverpool St. and with vast pride it says: "All types of hickory - smoked steaks and barbecue specialties"... And all I want to add is "Why"... An American can get those at home without traveling a few thousand miles... What is wrong with serving authentic, non-bill parlor, honest Mexican cookery, which is superior... Or cooking customs as obtain in Oaxaca, where at certain times of the year you buy bunuelos, sort of flaky pancakes, eat them with pleasure and no haste, and when you are done you spectacularly smash the plate on the floor, street or sidewalk as the case may be... This is an ancient rite which accounts for the mounds of broken crockery and clay dishes found at archaeological sites who claim the shards prove that early Mexican Indians did not know how to make good crockery... The heck they did! And where else in this advanced age can you find an old-fashioned, hand-cranked, perfect ice cream freezer?... In Mexico, of course, made in Sweden.

And, on this note, you rise to meet your bride as she enters the restaurant and she has with her Pepe Brujo, an old friend, who for years has been crying out that the best, and only one in Mexico is the best... Zhiuatun... You agree as he reneges his cries of enthusiasm; but point out two barrels a few hundred yards short of our goal. We are only a block off target. Remember, the scientists were happy to come as close as 38,000 miles... I'll not worry about anniversaries too much any more. What matter if I bring home a box of July 14th, our wedding day? A scientist would say I was near perfect, and should draw praise, not condemnation.

Nor will I fret about bringing home a size 48 blouse for a surgeon just back on Pioneer IV and mention how jubilant it made the brainy man who fathered it... A burned steak will be a matter of pride from now on. The difference between medium rare and burned up is nowhere near 28,000 miles.

So, thanks for Pioneer IV. It is gone from us now, never to return, but it shall not be forgotten. Each year, on its anniversary, I will fire a Roman candle - or within a month or two of its anniversary, which will be close enough.

Wives are great ones for not understanding mistakes on the part of husbands. To wives, a husband is a creature who is never supposed to forget an anniversary, never make a wrong turn in a car, never hang a picture crooked, never be untidy, never, in short, make a mistake of any sort.

Now, thanks to Pioneer IV, husbands may fall back on the scientists when they are accused of negligence, which is quite often. And scientists are good to fall back on, for they have long had a reputation for thoroughness and exactness. There's nothing untidy about a scientist. He does things right; or not at all. And what he says carries weight.

The next time my wife gets annoyed when I turn left instead of right, and wind up on the wrong street, I'll simply say, "But, my dear, my error has placed us only a few hundred yards short of our goal. We are only a block off target. Remember, the scientists were happy to come as close as 38,000 miles..."

I'll not worry about anniversaries too much any more. What matter if I bring home a box of July 14th, our wedding day? A scientist would say I was near perfect, and should draw praise, not condemnation.

Secrecy Is Enjoyed Only At Our Peril

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

A personal experience at a meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO and the newspaper coverage of the recent consistency of these predators in Puerto Rico bring up a serious criticism of our journalism in this phase of our national life. The newspapers have conceded to this job-trust the same respect that is shown the president in a cabinet. We also learn to touch our forelocks and withdraw to a respectful distance when the American Bar Association, federal judges, and the magnates of the major leagues are consulting their ideals.

I would revise the deference we show these latter, too, holding that they enjoy secrecy only at our peril. Therefore, whatever privacy we may grant them should be revocable at our discretion.

The AFL-CIO, however, is fundamentally vicious, as the McClellan committee's records abundantly show, and as a fuller inquiry by more honest men would prove beyond any faker's ability to haggle.

Like the iceberg, this iniquity is much more concealed than revealed and the newspaper custom of treating the whole body and its individual members with formal dignity has been a mistake of carelessness and imitation. The New York papers long ago adopted a rule of according the meaningless but influential title of "Mr." to all persons as those about to be executed for murder. Other papers have followed this lead. Thus, George Meany, who grew up in a sort job in an office between Joe Fay's on one side and a Joe Ryan's on the other, is called "Mr. Meany," and Walter Reuther, the author of notorious comments in favor of the Soviet system, is "Mr. Reuther."

That, however, is but a symptom of the basic error of treating these people as dignified fiduciaries and accepting handouts and pre-arranged versions of their deliberations as God's truth when at last they leave their smoke-filled rooms.

The reporters on this run have a preferred job. Most of them are highly paid and their expense accounts are generous. Their assignment is, on the whole, easy. But they never think of bugging a conference room of the executive council or blackmailing any vulnerable member or bribing a bellhop or porter on gobscon detail to eavesdrop the truth. I come of an era when a city editor rewarded a reporter for keyholing a jury in a murder trial. Another time, a journalist, more enterprising than I, put a stethoscope to a door of a room in the Sherman House in Chicago to learn what certain hypocrites of the western conference were going to do as most of the other universities were doing in regard to salaries for football players.

The jury may have been sacrosanct by law, although many jurors are sedentary Robin Hood's robbing the rich for the malicious fun of it. And the federal courtiers: (a) only Indians can pronounce it and (b) there is no way to get there - otherwise, it is fine... Even if in its present spelling, it's easier than the Aztec original: Zhiuatun Nejol... If you can say that without wanting to cough afterward from constricting vocal chords, you may have Aztec blood from way back... Try it: zee-WATTLE-neHOTLE. It is 147 miles from Acapulco and the first 100 miles are only back-breaking in a car... The last 47 will break your legs and arms, too.

One of the strangest of all trees is the banyan, a member of the mulberry family and a native of India. Such a tree may have as many as 350 large trunks, besides thousands of smaller ones. It may grow to a height of 100 feet and cover a wide area. A banyan has been known to shelter 7,000 men at one time. The Hindus regard the tree as sacred.

When you read Mary Astor's memoirs, you sort of get the impression that most men are dedicated to the proposition.

Eastern Children Ask About West

By KYLE THOMPSON

HOUSTON (UPI) — Western knowledge of the modern-day youngster, even those in the East, would soon separate the cowboy from the drug store cowboy, Jim Johnson believes.

Johnson, who picked up his own knowledge while punching cows on his uncle's ranch in West Texas for eight years, said a group of kids from the East even had him on the spot with some of their questions.

"These eastern kids are a whole lot more adult about westerns than most people think," Johnson said. "Even those people who write the television westerns."

Deep Interest

Johnson recently returned to Houston from the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, where he was treated for tuberculosis. Before leaving, he made a personal appearance at the medical center's one-room school.

"I figured they'd want to know all about gun fanning, Billy the Kid and Sitting Bull," he said. "But their interest went a lot deeper."

Richard Berger, 13, of Palmyra, N. J., for instance, wanted to know how much grazing land it takes to fatten one cow, Johnson, who conducts a western music band as a hobby, told him one and one-half acres of good land or five acres of "scrub" land.

Explains About Horses

"How many cowboys are needed on a trail drive?" Patricia Hill, 9, of Chicago, wanted to know. "A cook, a wrangler to care for the horses and about 15 cowboys for every 300 cows," he told her.

Johnson also explained that each cowboy takes three horses on a drive because a horse tires in a few hours of hard riding.

Johnson, who did his cowboy work on the C. F. Limberger ranch near Kerrville, Tex., said after leaving the classroom: "I'm glad I'm a Texas cowboy. That bunch would have had a Hollywood cowboy in trouble."

The road runner bird takes its name from its habit of running along the road in front of wagons and other slow vehicles.
