uban Court Gives Freedom to Buchanan

By JOSEPH A. TAYLOR
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — A Cuban court-martial sentenced Miami Herald reporter James Buchanan Tuesday night to 14 years' imprisonment at hard labor for consulting information about an American prison-breaker, but suspended sentence on condition that he get out of the country within hours.

The newsman spent the night in a cell at army intelligence headquarters here, apparently because his trial ended too late for formalities accompanying his release to be completed Tuesday night. It appeared likely that he would be released about mid-morning, and that his 24-hour period of grace would start at 11 a. m.

Buchanan and John McMullan, assistant managing editor of the Herald who came here after his arrest, plan to leave for Miami later today.

The American newsman was arrested after he had interviewed Austin Young, a Miami soldier of fortune who broke out of Pinar del Rio prison two weeks ago and was at large for 36 hours.

Oscar Fernandez Jordan, prosecutor at the Buchanan trial in the western provincial capital of Pinar del Rio, said the defendant's own testimony proved that he came to Cuba "intending to aid a criminal."

Fernandez asked for a suspended sentence of 20 years, two-thirds of the 30 years Young had been sentenced to serve. The court handed down the lesser sentence in a matter of minutes.

The sentence was read in Spanish. Buchanan, although his knowledge of the language is spotty, understood that the Cubans did not intend to hold him.

"I heaved a sigh of relief," he said. (See BUCHANAN, Page 3)

BLIND DATE — President Eisenhower kept a blind date with 7-year-old Rosa Marie Jimenez Calvo in Madrid, Spain, that made him late for breakfast with Generalissimo Francisco Franco. The little Spanish girl planted a kiss smack on the President's lips in a burst of affection, causing him to blush noticeably. It all began back in September when Rosa wrote to President "Esiyaguer" — which is how his name sounded to her — and asked to see him when he visited Spain. U.S. Ambassador John Davis Lodge arranged the meeting.

Johnson Drive For President 'Snowballing'

AUSTIN (UPI) — Leaders in a drive to make Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson a presidential nominee said today the effort is "snowballing" through Texas and is spilling into other states.

Members of the executive committee of the Johnson-for-President Clubs held their first meeting today in their new six-office state headquarters in the Littlefield Building in downtown Austin.

Johnson has yet to announce any intention to be a presidential candidate, but his followers have not been deterred by lack of formal announcements. Piled in the headquarters are thousands of Johnson-for-President cards, county club petitions, and other printed cards and pamphlets pushing the Senate Democratic leader.

Byron Skelton of Temple, Democratic national committeeman and a co-chairman of the executive committee, told a news conference, "we feel Senator Johnson is a man everybody could support and everybody could be proud of as President. He has support from people from all different shades of political philosophy."

A committee member, Jake Jacobsen, Austin, echoed Skelton's statement, saying membership of Johnson-for-President Clubs comes "from people of every shade of political thinking."

Eisenhower Will Report To Nation Today

Eisenhower Trip Assessed By Newsmen

By MERRIMAN SMITH and STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower was acclaimed Tuesday morning in Madrid by the newspaper, ABC, as "salesman of the peace." In India, big signs across teeming streets of New Delhi hailed him as "prince of peace." And in Morocco there was a sign beneath which Berber tribesmen slouched on their horses. The sign said simply "Ike peace."

These signs and slogans, some of them inspired by the local government, some straight from the people, tell pretty well what Eisenhower set out to do on his trip.

They tell, too, why he returned home Tuesday night dog tired but happily convinced that more than

Last Reb Laid To Rest Amid Strains Of 'Dixie'

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Today marks the end of an era with the burial of Walter (Old Reb) Williams, 117, the last veteran of the Civil War.

The blue and the gray stood shoulder to shoulder Tuesday night at memorial services honoring the old rebel who fought with the Texas Brigade at the age of 22.

A file and drum corps from Mount Vernon, Ohio, played "Dixie," "Johnny Reb" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" during the service.

Hundreds of persons were on hand to pay homage to the honorary Civil War general including representatives of President Eisenhower and each of the 11 states that formed the Confederacy.

Men dressed in gray stood as an honor guard beside the casket of the thin-faced, silver-haired soldier. Others carried U.S. and Confederate flags.

After funeral services today at the South Main Baptist Church, a motorcade was to take the blue and gray decorated coffin containing Williams' body to the Franklin, Tex., for burial.

Included Will Be His Annual Yule Message

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, back home with his countrymen's cheers echoing ovations he received overseas, will give his first report to the nation today on his 23,000-mile "peace and friendship" mission.

Eisenhower planned to discuss his 19-day trip, at least briefly, in his annual message at the lighting of the national Christmas tree on grounds south of the White House. The ceremony will be carried by radio-television networks at 8 p. m. e. s. t.

The Chief Executive, bearing a message of "Merry Christmas and good will" to all Americans from himself and the people he visited on his three-continent tour, landed at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at 11:25 p. m. e. s. t. Tuesday night.

After receiving a kiss from Mrs. Eisenhower and a rousing welcome from some 200 greeters headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, cabinet members and members of Congress, the President drove to the White House for further applause from several thousand sparkler-waving admirers.

The welcome home, late at night in sub-freezing weather, fell short of the plans of capital officials. But Eisenhower, chipper after a 10½-hour flight from Morocco, waved with enthusiasm and was full of smiles at the White House door.

At the airport, the President said he had arrived too late at night "for an erudite and informative speech."

"I do want to say one thing," he said. "Everywhere we went, people sent this back — a message of Merry Christmas and

First Thrill Was His Last

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — The speed of a sled racing down a snow-covered hill is an unknown quantity for a young lad from Pao, Tex.

Billy Nichols, 7, was understandably thrilled when he awoke Tuesday to see four inches of snow blanketing the ground around his grandparents' home here. It meant he would get his first ride on a sled.

But in a split second, thrill turned to terror and tragedy.

As Billy coasted into an intersection, a moving van rumbled into his path.

A church janitor screamed helplessly as he saw the child's sled hit the side of the tractor-trailer. Billy's head struck the truck's rear wheel with a thud.

Billy, the son of an Army major stationed in Germany, was dead of a fractured skull when a passer-by took him to Citizen's General Hospital.

The father, Maj. Edwin Nichols, planned to welcome Billy, his three brothers and their mother to a new home in Germany early in January. Instead, he is flying here to his son's funeral Saturday.

Awaiting him is a heart-sick wife who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Redmond, for four months before departing for Germany.

Steel Firms 'Quickie' East-West Summit Meet Seen

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — British officials predicted today that the East-West summit meeting in Paris next April will be a "quickie."

In fact, they indicated belief it would be too short to achieve much in the way of concrete results.

But they said the meeting is certain to be followed by another East-West foreign ministers conference and other meetings along the lines of the "continuous chain of summits" suggested by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Macmillan himself indicated on his return Tuesday night from Paris that he expected the proposed summit meeting in Paris to be a short one.

"I would like to see the conference last only four or five days," he said. "That would be quite hard going."

The 1958 summit meeting in Geneva lasted six days.

The reason the April-in-Paris summit would have to be brief, British officials said, is the already heavily loaded diplomatic calendar.

President Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle and Macmillan proposed April 27 as the date for the opening of the summit meeting in invitations to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Western diplomats believe Khrushchev would feel obliged to return to Moscow by May 1 to take the salute at the annual May Day parade in Red Square.

Even if Khrushchev agreed to skip that event — one of the two biggest on the Communist world's annual calendar — Macmillan would have to return to London for the Commonwealth prime ministers conference opening May 3. The British government has indicated this was a date that Macmillan must keep.

East 'Treated' To Winter Weather

United Press International

Cold and heavy snows paralyzed New York City and the East today, slowed Midwest holiday travel to a crawl and surprised the normally dry Southwest.

Winter showed up officially only Tuesday morning, but the new season lost no time in announcing its arrival.

Seven inches of snow crippled New York City's intricate traffic pattern, curtailing air, rail and road transportation.

Nearly 200 domestic and international flights were suspended or diverted from LaGuardia and Idlewild airports. Commuter trains ran an hour and a half late and hundreds of cars were involved in traffic-choking collisions on ice-paved streets.

At least 14 deaths were blamed on the snow in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Eight died in auto crashes, three in falls, two from apparent heart attacks and a boy was killed on his first sled ride when he slid under the wheels of a truck.

From four to seven inches of snow fell over most of Wisconsin and northeast Iowa. The storm, propelled by stiff winds, left one to three inches across Minnesota, northern Illinois, and northern Indiana.

The Weather Bureau predicted the storm would move through Indiana into lower Michigan and northwest Ohio today, slicking highways with ice.

New Mexico, hit by its worst snowstorm in history last week, reeled under "another seven-inch fall and fresh snow put a fresh coat on hard-hit Vaughn, N. M., still digging out from last week's blizzard.

The storm brought sub-zero temperatures to many northern areas. Northern New England reported readings near 15 degrees below zero this morning and the mercury dropped 15 degrees from western Texas through the Dakotas.

Vote Counted In Gulf Coast Dock Walkout

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A last-minute contract offer while strike ballots were being counted averted a walkout by 15,000 longshoremen here today. But other Gulf Coast ports appeared to be heading for strikes.

The New Orleans Steamship Assn. granted the overall 41 cent wage increase shortly after midnight today as ballots from members of the International Longshoremen's Assn. were being counted to see whether they would accept the association's "final offer" made earlier.

Union officials had advised against accepting the earlier offer and predicted the longshoremen in the nation's second largest port would walk out at midnight Sunday.

That would have been the date that the Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling-off period, invoked during a longshoremen's strike from Brownsville, Tex., to Maine, would have ended.

The East Coast longshoremen settled their troubles during the cooling-off period.

But at Houston, Tex., and Mobile, Ala., strikes were in the offing as soon as the cooling-off period ends.

Ballots from longshoremen from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville were being counted at Houston and at Mobile the latest offer from the Mobile Steamship Assn. was rejected.

AJ Houston, 5,000 longshoremen were set to walk out. There were 2,000 involved at Mobile.

Cure Costs More Than Diagnosis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans paid more last year for pills, powders, potions, eyeglasses and braces than they did to the doctors who prescribed them.

It was the first time in history that the nation's medicine bill was larger than its doctor bill.

The government reported that last year physicians collected just over $4,300,000,000 in fees from patients compared with $4,362,000,000 spent for medicines and medical appliances.

Such items now represent the biggest out-of-pocket expense in America's health budget since they are not covered by most types of insurance.

Two Among Worst In State All Year

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UPI) — "Stop it! Stop it!"

But no matter how much Frances Marie Kelly, 14, shouted, the young boys throwing rocks at her home in nearby Whaley wouldn't quit. They laughed at her.

She rushed inside her house and got her father's .22 caliber revolver. She fired once at the boys, and Steve Fleids, 9, crumpled to the ground, fatally wounded in the stomach.

"I didn't mean to..." Frances Marie sobbed. She threw down the gun and ran back inside to a medicine chest and swallowed almost a whole bottle of sleeping pills.

The boy died Tuesday before he could be taken to a hospital. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Lee Fields of Garland, Tex., were in Whaley, about 15 miles north of Texarkana, visiting relatives for Christmas.

Sheriff W. J. Watlington said the boys were apparently playing and the girl got a "little excited."

He said her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Kelly, were not at home at the time of the shooting.

Hotel Offices Occupied Today

Offices of the new Coronado Inn are being transferred from city hall to the Hobart St. site today.

Manager Stu Kines said there will be seven offices in the hotel, including a suite of three that will be occupied by Kines and his secretary, Mrs. Ruth Rice, plus an auditing office.

In other areas of the hotel an office in the Pampa Club area of the building will be occupied by assistant manager, Bill Riggs. An office in the storage room will be occupied by Steward Jack Weibe, with chef Floyd Mason in an office in the kitchen. A housekeeper's office will be set up in the linen room.

Kines said the offices will be occupied this afternoon, with telephones installed, all "open for business."

Retirees Have Backing Of Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Eisenhower administration has told Congress it will back a 24 million dollar a year raise in benefits for an estimated 100,000 retired military personnel.

The decision, an about-face by the administration, was disclosed by Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates in a letter to Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Gates told Vinson the Defense Department had "restudied" the issue and concluded it would be "only equitable and fair" to back legislation to equalize the pay of retired servicemen.

The legislation would apply to men who retired after Oct. 1, 1949, and before June 1, 1958, and did not get the full benefits of the military pay hike voted by Congress last year.

In 1958, the administration proposed a sweeping revision in the military pay system for active duty personnel only. But in rewriting the bill, Congress also provided a new pay scale for retired military personnel, beginning June 1, 1958.

Roaring 20's Sweetheart Dies Tuesday

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — She was born of humble parents in Poland and she died in relative obscurity in a modest apartment in Hollywood.

Her real name was Wanda Michalska, but to a whole decade of hip flask carrying sports she was the sex appeal girl of the day and "queen of the shimmy."

Gilda Gray was the name she used and the zany decade of the Roaring 20s was hers.

Only 18 when she starred in a Shubert musical on Broadway, the lovely blonde-haired Miss Gray ran through three husbands and an estimated four million dollar fortune before World War II.

Death came Tuesday for the once celebrated dancer and singer, but the party had been over for a long time.

Her body was found in the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Antonio Raito with whom she had been staying for the past week recuperating from an illness. Death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Still trim, Miss Gray's age was given as 60, although it was estimated she could have been anywhere from 59 to 65.

The curvaceous dancer rocketed to fame by gyrating her hips in an abandoned dance called the shimmy. She said she invented the dance in her teens when she was entertaining in a saloon in Cudahy, Wis.

Money Missing After Sales Visit

A $10 bill stuffed in a mailbox to pay a milk bill was reported missing Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Owen Carter, 806 E. Murphy.

Police Chief Jim Conner said that neighbors reported the money was taken by a pair of door-to-door solicitors posing as representatives of a local church.

Mrs. Carter said directions for finding the money was left in an empty milk bottle.

Conner warned residents that numerous bogus solicitors make their appearance during the Christmas season. He asked residents to be doubly careful that the solicitor is "really what he pretends to be."

Boys Provoke Suicide Try

Eleven persons were killed and six injured in the space of four hours in two North Central Texas collisions Tuesday afternoon.

The mangled bodies and twisted wreckage were a grim warning as Texas safety officials prepared for the crush of holiday traffic that shifts into high gear Thursday — Christmas Eve.

Six persons were killed in a grinding head-on crash near Snyder and five died and two are critically injured from a smashup at Olney, 120 miles east of Snyder.

The Snyder crash victims were: M. Sgt. Elmo Carrel Buford, 44, stationed at Altus, Okla., Air Force Base.

His wife, Katherine Hope Buford, 38, and their 7-year-old daughter, Ellen Winnell Buford.

Robert J. Bearden, 24, Snyder, a student at Texas Tech.

Donald Ray Haney, 23, Snyder, a farmer.

His wife, Mrs. Barbara Brown Haney, 24.

Bearden was riding with the Haney's. Their collision at the crest of a small hill approximately three miles south of Snyder on State Highway 350.

"There were no skid marks," highway patrolman W. L. Cleveland said. "One of the cars was just on the wrong side of the road coming up over that little hill. There were no witnesses that we know of, and everybody in those two cars died before they could be taken to a hospital."

There were no skid marks on State Highway 251 near Olney either, and highway patrolmen said the weather was clear and the road straight. One of the cars had apparently gone off the highway and tried to get back on and whipped into the path of the second car.

Killed were: Mrs. Martha Tubbs Musgrave, 49, driver of one car; her daughter, Linca Pauline, 14, and a friend, Sue Jo Coop, 19; James Martin Reynolds, 32; Andrew Jack Neal, 49. Both Neal and Reynolds were riding with George Wendell Terrell.

Doctors said Mrs. Georgia Ann Morgan, 51, and Flo Smith, 18, were critically injured and may not survive.

An ambulance driver said when he arrived at the scene the "highway that littered with the dead and injured."

The car containing the women was headed toward Olney, and the other automobile was returning to Newcastle from Wichita Falls.

Three persons were killed and three injured earlier at Kilgore in East Texas. Dead are Dr. Samuel Perkin, 57, of Carthage, and his

Train, Car Hit; 3 Youths Killed

LYFORD, Tex. (UPI) — A car carrying five young high school students on a Christmas hunting trip crashed into the side of a Missouri-Pacific freight train today, killing three of them and injuring the others.

Highway patrolmen identified the victims as Willis Hein and Paul Henry Unland, both 17, of Alamo, Tex., and another youth identified only as Vanderpool.

Charles Vanderpool, 17, brother of one of the dead youths, is in critical condition at a Raymondsville hospital.

John Badaux, 15, of Donna, Tex., is in fair condition at Valley Baptist Hospital at Harlingen.

The freight train, about a mile long, dragged the wreckage of the car nearly 1,000 yards. Highway patrolmen said the accident happened in heavy fog, two miles south of Lyford.

1959 CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

The holiday season is the party season. A winter party can mean anything from a small gathering of close friends to a large and dressy affair. It can be an egg nog party, a dinner party or a ball. We show here clothes intended for the less formal evenings but nonetheless festive. Bright red chiffon lights up the evening (left) in a dress with modified Grecian lines and crystal-pleated top. It has its own red taffeta lining. A pale beige dress (center) in wool flannel has sheath lines, easy top and dolman-cut sleeves. Deep V neck and midriff are bound in matching satin. Silk organza in a misty, moss green (right) is used for this classic shirtwaist dress with tucked bodice. Tucking is outlined with bugle bead trim. Dress has very deep hem and its own underlining of matching taffeta.

Study Concluded By Women's Units

Presbyterian Church Women's Circles concluded study courses recently with luncheons or suppers in the homes of members. Also, new circles were organized and lists of new members in each circle were announced.

CIRCLES ONE AND TWO held a combined luncheon in the home of Mrs. Bruce Pratt. Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. S. P. Caldwell taught the Bible lesson from "The Spirit Speaks to the Church." Mrs. Edgar Hubbard of White Deer presented a book review of "A Pint of Knowledge" authored by Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Ann Lindberg.

Mrs. Henry Gindorf was hostess to a luncheon for CIRCLES THREE in her home. With Mrs. Joe Fischer, R. E. Thompson and Jim McCune as assisting hostesses, Bible study was led by Mrs. Homer Johnson with Mrs. Bill Gething giving the concluding chapter, "What Are We Doing About Getting Together?" from the mission study book, "Conversations On Town and Country." The guest list included Mrs. Gary Fraser, K. R. Castanren, Glen Larson, H. P. Larsh, and W. F. Smyth, mother of Mrs. Thompson, visiting here from Iowa.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. W. L. Heakew for CIRCLES FOUR AND FIVE with 22 members attending. Mrs. Glenn Ritchhart, past president of the Women's Association was guest. Mrs. J. O. Miller gave the invocation. Mrs. F. D. Heckman presented the mission study and Bible study was given by Mrs. W. S. Dixon. A short business meeting was conducted by chairman, Mrs. Dick Walker.

Presbytery Anna, the evening circle, met Thursday for salad supper in the home of Mrs. H. A. Yoder. Mrs. Edgar Hubbard presented the program with a review of "A Pint of Knowledge." Thirteen members attended.

Relaxed Hostess Has The 'Mostest' Fun At Own Party

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The hostess who gives the most successful Christmas parties is the one sufficiently relaxed to enjoy her own parties. There's only one way to achieve this: by planning. By making lists both weeks and days in advance and checking off each thing as it's accomplished, you relieve yourself of strain and worry. You also provide yourself with an automatic check which prevents last moment disasters. Don't decide however, that you can get by through being sloppy about food, drink or surroundings. Your guests won't appreciate indifference in these matters.

Planning will allow you to make your appointment with your hair-dresser in advance. It will allow you time for a nap on the day of the party. It will give you a check on the dress and accessories you're wearing that evening. It will allow you to greet the first of your guests looking pretty, relaxed and refreshed.

And that's just the way it should be.

Recently, a beautiful actress named Dolores Del Rio was married. The news cameras, none too kind at the best, showed her to be a real beauty. But the astonishing thing is that her age is given as 64. She was a star in motion pictures of the 1920s.

Today, Miss Del Rio is slim, with lovely dark brown hair and flashing black eyes. She looks a good twenty years younger than her age. So it's easy to deduce that she is a firm believer in rest and relaxation. She is undoubtedly disciplined about her beauty care.

But the interesting point in all of this is that Miss Del Rio's beauty has not faded in the years when many other Hollywood actresses have lost their looks quite completely. Though she is endowed with beauty to start with, so were the others. So it's clear that she took care of the good looks given her.

The middle-aged woman who insists on behaving like a teenager only attracts unfavorable attention to herself.

Christmas Party Held At Center

Senior Citizens of the community were guests of honor at a Christmas Party held Thursday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library with Altrusa Club members.

Altrusa Girls-of-the-month as hostesses.

Gifts were presented to each of the 57 guests present and refreshments of sandwiches, Christmas cookies, homemade candy and coffee were served from Christmas appointed table.

Guests were entertained by students of Lollipop Pre-School under the direction of Mrs. Gladys H. Hines; and by the Bell Choir directed by Tom Atkin of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Arnold E. Hittles, assisted by Mrs. Julian K. presented "Raphael, the Holy Angel."

Door prizes were won by C. Roop, Mrs. Georgia Barkard, Mrs. F. M. Heaston, Mrs. H. Walker, Mrs. Beasie Nicholson and Billy Frost.

Red Cross Gray Ladies assisted with the transportation of guests to and from the center.

Mrs. W. A. York, Senior Chairman, announced that the group will meet next on Jan. 7, 2:30 in the Library for a January birthday party.

Hopkins Students Present Pageant

"And Then Came Christmas" was the theme of a pageant presented by the students of Hopkins School directed by Mrs. Marguerite Cleghorn on the Dec. 17 meeting of Hopkins PTA in the Phillips Community Hall.

The program opened with a devotional topic given by Mrs. C. McMasters followed with prayer by the Rev. McMasters, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The program was climaxed with a visit from Santa Claus, who presented each student with a sack of candy, nuts, and fruits.

Mrs. Buster Sublett, president, presided during a brief business meeting and announced that the next meeting will be held in February.

Fun Fashions For Holiday Parties

NEW YORK (NEA) - Holiday parties give the gals a chance to do something that comes naturally to most of them: get all dressed up.

Maybe that's one reason why women so cheerfully take on the extra burdens of shopping, cleaning, decorating and entertaining during the holiday season. How else could they show off new clothes, new hairdos, new jewelry and a dazzling new makeup scheme?

They get, fortunately, fine cooperation from this country's designers, from the very top to the modestly priced. In fact, one of the many blessings of the efficiency and ingenuity found in this country is that a gal can be beautifully turned out for very little money.

This year, for instance, she can have her pick of an enormous and beautiful collection of holiday dresses bearing price tags in low figures. Fabrics include pure silk organza, silk faille, pale wool jersey and flannel, brocades, chiffon and printed silk sarais.

Shirtwaist dresses are prime favorites for the holiday season but they're shirtwaists with a difference. Many of them have tucked and beaded bodices. Others gain drama from fabric: a paisley printed crepe, silk organza or silk broadcloth.

Polly's Quiz

By POLLY CRAMER

Dear Polly: I thought artificial flowers were considered tacky. But the stores are showing them. Could I use some to brighten up my house this winter?—Mixed Up.

Dear Mixed Up: Why not? Artificial flowers have improved with the years and now appear in the smartest homes. Be choosy about your selection and your colors. And don't fill the house with them. A few will turn the trick.

Dear Polly: What should I do with the woodwork in my bedroom and my son's bedroom? Woodwork is dark varnish. Should I paint or refinish it? One end of the room has varnished sliding doors for a big closet. My room has gray tweed wallpaper with a touch of pink. Undecided.

Dear Undecided: Please, out with the varnish! It can turn any room into a Charles Addams horror chamber. Paint that varnished woodwork and the doors the same shade of gray as your wallpaper. Remove the varnish and then finish your son's woodwork in a soft, natural wood tone. Your paint dealer will tell you how to do this.

Dear Polly: Our kitchen is long and narrow. We want to redecorate it. What can we do to make it seem as large as possible?—Homemaker.

Dear Homemaker: Light colors (soft blue or green, pale gold or white) will push back those walls and make the kitchen seem larger. Paint the end walls a slightly deeper color.

Dear Polly: In our new home, the living room and dining room are separated by a low divider. In the living room, I have green chairs with exception of one red wing chair. We have a red brick fireplace with white bookcases on either side. A white louvered door leads into the kitchen, which has pink cabinets. What color shall I paint the living-dining room and the kitchen? My husband favors autumn gold but still has some thinking to do about this. We also need new draperies. —Mrs. R. J. H.

Dear Mrs. R. J. H.: While you're thinking about colors, give a little thought to that husband of yours. He shares the house with you. Work out a compromise with him so you'll both be at home. White walls would be best in the living-dining room. Then you could have autumn gold carpeting. Have your kitchen.

Dear Polly: I can only speak for myself, but I am a girl who was married when I was a junior in high school. Yes, I had to get married and before very long everybody knew it. I tried to come back after the baby was born, but everyone made it so miserable for me, I dropped out. But I went to night school and got my diploma after all. I would advise a girl who was in my position to quit school if she gets pregnant.

Dear Abby: If a student is denied his (or her) public school education on the grounds that he (or she) has entered the respected institution of marriage, I think if that person were to engage the services of an attorney, he (or she) would have no trouble proving that he (or she) is being deprived of his (or her) constitutional right.

Dear Abby: It sounds to me like the girls who wanted that married high school girl expelled were a little bit jealous.

Dear Abby: I think our young people should make up their minds. If they want to go to school, they should go to learn, and keep their minds on their studies. If they can't wait to "grow up" before becoming husbands and wives and parents, let them give up their childhood privileges and assume the responsibilities of adult married people. Why should we taxpayers let them eat their cake and have it too?

Dear Abby: I loved your answer to the Girls of South High. Just who do they think they are anyway? Why should a girl be cheated out of an education just because she falls in love and gets married? I got married recently to a wonderful guy. It was with my parents' permission along with my promise that I'd finish high school. I would like to say that I didn't have to get married either. So please don't get the idea that just because kids get married in high school the stork is flying over their heads.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As the father of a teenaged daughter, I would like to express my opinion about married teenagers going to school. I send my daughter to school to get an education, and I don't want her associating with childbrides who, by their own moral weakness, got themselves in trouble.

ONE GIRL'S FATHER (Mason City, Ia.)

DEAR ABBY: Please tell those high school girls to quit acting like a bunch of old maids. What's wrong with a married girl continuing her education? She'll probably need it more than a lot of other girls.

Last year we had a married girl in school who was going to have a baby. The kids didn't bother her. It was the faculty. They were sure it was going to ruin the morals of the whole school. They never asked us if it was hurting us any. We all lived through it nicely while the teachers got gray.

NOT BOTHERED (Philadelphia, Pa.)

...000 miles of grueling travel and constant speaking were well worth the effort.
These two UPI reporters who traveled the full circuit with the resident came home decidedly weary, jaded somewhat by one colorful mob show after another, but not without some personal news on what Eisenhower may have accomplished, and on possible plus and minus factors for the future.

After 19 days of watching and listening to Eisenhower drum on the theme of "peace and friendship in freedom," here's how we sum up the results:
HENSLEY — "The diplomatic talks of the President's frighteningly long tour to sell the United States and peace came at opposite geographical sectors of the journey — in India and later at the Western summit conference in Paris.

In India, Eisenhower's peace appeal seemed really to reach the earstrings of the restless and impoverished millions who turned out to squint in his presence and absorb the atmosphere of a man they called "The American King." The Indian people showed him with adulation wherever he went. "And, more specifically in the world of diplomacy, the President and the neutralist prime minister of India, Jawaharlal Nehru, tanks in part to the truculence of the Chinese Reds, apparently reached much closer understanding on international affairs.

"As for the Western summit meeting in Paris, we won't know for some time just how much the conference pushed back the threshold of Communist threats and expansion. The Western Big Four decision to invite Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to an April 27 meeting in the French capital was a source of considerable satisfaction to Eisenhower.

"His visits to the other countries along the route were highly important locally, but in retrospect they seemed to have been largely matters of back-slapping and listening to cautious explanations into the field of additional American aid."

SMITH — "It was a most difficult trip to appraise, particularly when we had to do it from the middle of a howling crowd or while looking at scenes of Asiatic splendor like the Taj Mahal or the palace lancers in New Delhi. "My feeling is that from the standpoint of foreign mass consumption, the Eisenhower trip was a big success. Sure, some of the crowds were manufactured, but a lot of them were not. No matter how Eisenhower's motives and accomplishments may be argued, it is undeniable that millions of people on three continents turned out to cheer him.

"Not at any time in his career has he been praised so highly in public. "It seems logical that when millions turn out to cheer an American president in foreign lands, the United States as a whole benefits.

"With this adulation, however, comes responsibility and expectation. The cheers of today can turn awfully sour if those doing the cheering are led to expect something in return — and they don't get it.

"To keep some of this pro-American sentiment in flower undoubtedly will require the help of Congress. And there is reason to doubt the President will get any unusual support from a Democratic Congress in a national election year."

Laycock Infant Service Today

Stephen J. Laycock, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Laycock, 2205 N. Wells, died 2:30 p.m. yesterday in Highland General Hospital. Graveside services were to have been held this morning at 10:30 in Baby Gardens with the Rev. M. B. Smith, pastor of Highland Baptist Church, officiating.

In addition to the parents, the infant is survived by two brothers, Randy and Dennis; sister, Sherrilyn; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Laycock of Twitty, Mr. and Mrs. Owen White of Pickley, Calif.

Misconception Of New Marriage Law

Gray County Clerk Charlie Thut said today there is a misconception of the new Texas marriage laws.

Thut said some persons believe they must have a blood test before they can make application for a marriage license. He said this is untrue, and those who are of legal age can make the application, then take their blood test. Thut stated that under age persons must make application three days before obtaining a license, and one of the parents must be present when the application is made.

said later. "Thank goodness I didn't understand enough Spanish to know that I had first been sentenced to 14 years hard labor on the Isle of Pines. . . . I particularly want to thank my lawyers, Orlando de la Portilla and Mario Lazo, and Hugh Kessler of the U.S. embassy. I also want to thank all those newspapers and newsmen in the United States and Cuba who jumped in on my side in the fight. They helped my morale tremendously. "Buchanan was accused of "anti-state crimes" and "concealing information" about Young's whereabouts. He interviewed the fugitive in the hotel room where both Young and Buchanan were arrested.

Fernandez told the court Buchanan should have turned Young in to Cuban authorities as soon as he was sure of his identity. Instead, he said, the reporter paid the fugitive's hotel bill and bought an elastic bandage for his ankle, injured in the prison break.

"These are two kinds of newspapers," the prosecutor said. "One is characterized by honesty and truth, the other by a search for sensational news and a response to special interests. "This 'gentleman' . . . belongs to the second class."

Buchanan, speaking through an interpreter, replied that his employers sent him to Havana only to interview Young, not to give him financial aid.

He admitted paying Young's hotel bill, but said he did so with money given him by the fugitive. As for the elastic bandage, he said, that was bought by an American girl—presumably the "Evelyn Hill" who tipped off the Herald to Young's whereabouts.

Khrushchev Makes Self Felt At Western Four-Power Meet

The publicity-minded Khrushchev managed it in two ways.

In Geneva, a Soviet diplomat sought out Western newsmen to impress upon them the Soviet Union's concern and embarrassment over Red China's seizure of territory traditionally considered Indian.

Since Soviet diplomats act only upon instruction from Moscow, it may be assured that this was a message straight from the horse's mouth, and designed to re-impress upon the West Russia's desire for world peace.

Then, during the week end, the Soviet Foreign Ministry released the contents of a letter written last Oct. 15 by Khrushchev to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

It dealt directly with a question high on the agenda of the Western powers' Paris meeting — disarmament and the matter of a final agreement on Germany.

Tennessean Held In Theft

A 21-year-old oilfield worker from Chattanooga, Tenn. is in jail this morning facing a possible charge of car theft. Police Chief Jim Conner said today.

The young man was arrested by police at 8:30 a.m. today when he was found in a wrecked Windsor Servicing Co. pickup at the intersection of the Bowers City road and Highway 273.

The youth told police he stole the truck last Tuesday night, sold some equipment stored in the truck and then ran the truck off the road about 1 a.m. today. One wheel was knocked off the truck earlier in the morning when it hit a curb near the D. V. Burton station, 901 S. Barnes.

Windsor owner Elmer Wilson said he probably will prefer a charge of car theft against the man.

Guill Quits Federal Post

Ben H. Guill, formerly of Pampa, has announced he will open a public relations office in Washington, D.C.

Guill, who made history in 1950 by becoming the second Republican to represent Texas in Congress, said he will represent a group of lead and zinc smelting companies in the new job, that might involve some lobbying before Congress.

Guill helped direct President Eisenhower's campaign in Texas in 1952, and was appointed executive assistant to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield shortly after Eisenhower took office. One of Guill's chief chores was acting as liaison man between the Post Office Department and Congress.

In January, 1955, he was appointed to the Maritime Board by President Eisenhower and then elevated to vice chairman. In making the announcement of his new job, Guill said he is resigning from the vice chairman's position on the board.

Guill conceded that his new job will offer a tremendous challenge, and said the nation's lead and zinc industry has been ailing for some time as a result of excessive imports of the two minerals.

Guill, who worked his way through West Texas State College and taught school in Panhandle, Amarillo, Hopkins and Pampa, was born in Tennessee in 1909, and moved to Texas with his parents at the age of nine. Guill lived in Pampa from 1932 to 1934 — moved to Amarillo, then returned to Pampa in 1945, where he lived until 1950.

Scouts Sign For Jamboree

Scout Executive Brantley Hudson said today 38 Pampa Boy Scouts have registered for attendance to the first National Scout Jamboree in Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22 to 28. Hudson said up to the present time, Scouts have been registered on an alternate basis, but enough have been signed to anticipate a fourth troop.

Hudson said a total of 133 boys has registered from the 12 eastern Panhandle counties and the three counties in the Oklahoma Panhandle that make up the Adobe Walls Council. He said there are still 15 vacancies to be filled to complete another troop. He pointed out a complete troop will include a scoutmaster and two assistants plus 34 Scouts.

The 1960 jamboree will be held on 2,000 acres of the Reverse J Diamond Ranch eight miles from Colorado Springs, and is expected to be attended by 52,300 Boy Scouts, Explorers and leaders within sight of Pike's Peak and practically a next door neighbor to the new Air Force Academy.

PHS Tops Quannah For 5 3rd Straight

Winborn Hits 25 Points to Lead Scoring

By RED GRIGGS Daily News Sports Editor

Craig Winborn tallied 25 points here Tuesday to lead the Pampa Harvesters to their 53rd straight victory, 68-47 over Quannah.

The Harvesters' next games will be here Jan. 1 and 2 against the Denton Bronchos. Following the Denton series, Pampa will open district play against Borger, the 3-4A favorite, Jan. 5 at Borger.

Tuesday's game was the seventh, out of nine played this year, in which Winborn scored 20 or more points. The 6-3 center now has an average of 21.3 per game. Twenty-two of Winborn's 25 points were scored from the floor, on 11 buckets.

Pat Carter also hit in double figures Tuesday, with 16 points on seven field goals and two charity tosses. Herchel Terrell, who didn't even start the game, was next with nine.

Every player on the Harvester roster, plus Shocker Jim Crinklaw, saw action in Tuesday's game. Nine of the 11 players scored.

Pampa started the game slowly, and actually trailed during most of the first quarter. Despite an eight-point barrage by Winborn, the Harvesters managed only a 13-13 tie at the quarter mark, as Quannah zeroed in on its 10th shot.

A bucket by Brooks gave Quannah a 15-13 lead early in the second quarter, but a pair of free throws by Carter tied it up. In the next four minutes, Quannah scored only two points, while Allen Wise dunked two free throws and a basket; Terrell sank a basket and two free throws; Winborn scored a basket on a fast break, and Phillip Gist netted a charity loss.

Pampa led 30-17 with about three minutes left in the half, and that was the game for all practical purposes.

The Harvesters increased their lead to 34-21 at halftime, then had another big quarter in the third, scoring 20 points. Winborn paced the action with nine points. Pampa led 54-34 going into the fourth quarter, and added a point to that lead in the final period.

Pampa had fine shooting percentages of 53 in the second quarter, 64 in the third, and 53 in the fourth, after a mediocre 36 in the first. Quannah's shooting was only average all the way, with percentages of 33, 26, 33, and 29.

The Harvesters, who averaged at least an inch shorter than the Indians, led in grabbing rebounds, 32 to 26. Winborn was the top rebounder, with 11.

Shocks Win 8th Contest

Pampa's Shockers won their eighth victory of the season here Tuesday night over the Quannah B team, 43-35. Terry Calley's squad now stands 8-2 for the season.

The Shockers led all the way, and were never in any real danger. Almost every player on the team saw some action.

Jim Stephenson led the Shocker scoring with 14 points, followed by Lloyd Balch with eight, Harold Burgess with seven, and George Simmons with six. Kelley was the only Quannah player in double figures, with 10 points.

Tech, TCU Beaten In SWC Contests

The next action for Southwest Conference basketball teams will be after Christmas in the pre-season conference league tournament Dec. 28-30 at Rice gym in Houston.

There were two games Tuesday night involving conference clubs. Georgia Tech, ranked eighth nationally before losing to SMU Monday night, squeaked past Texas Tech, 63-60, at Lubbock, and the Oklahoma City Chiefs rallied in the final minutes to beat Texas Christian, 74-63.

The narrow victory over the Red Raiders gave Georgia Tech a 7-1 record this season. Tech, trailing 31-30 at halftime, 3-1-7 spurred ahead in the second half to capture a 55-55 lead with six minutes left. But the Yellowjackets regained lost ground as shot Dave Denton sharpened his shooting eye and dropped in 12 of his 17 points in the final few minutes.

Del Ray Mounts led the Raiders with 16 points and Roger Kaiser, who had 23 points overall, was high for Georgia Tech.

The young Horned Frogs, rebuilding after a conference championship last season, played the Chiefs a tight ball game and were ahead with seven minutes left. The score was deadlocked 14 times before the Chiefs could break away with a scoring spree that gave them a torrid 58 per-

Extravagance

GOVERNMENT spending, debt and inflation are our number one domestic problem. A critical test of the effort to control spending will be the next federal budget.

The Hoover Commission recommended in its Transportation Report "That the peacetime operations of the integrated Military Air Transport Service be restricted and realistically limited to persons and cargo carefully evaluated as to necessity for military air transportation and only after commercial carriers have been utilized to the maximum practicable extent."

Behind The Scenes

The steel mills are busy. Smoke is pouring from the stacks and steel production is mounting. But the air of uneasiness existing between the union and management continues.

There is nothing new in this thought — it is something the parties have known all along and considered many times.

During the course of these negotiations the union leaders have made five attempts to shift their responsibility into the hands of a third party.

The union leaders have been, and still are, anxious to abandon their responsibilities to work out agreements on a voluntary and mutually agreeable basis by turning those responsibilities over to third parties.

This brings us up to date in the historic impasse. The union bosses, having stired up the problem, now want to shift out from under it.

There's another pertinent statement from Cooper. He says: "One wonders, too, whether a major purpose of the union, in seeking government-sponsored intervention may not be to forestall the secret ballot next month, in which the steelworkers themselves would have their first—and only—opportunity to express their wishes."

This is an interesting point and we suspect that many people are not informed of it. Persons not too closely connected with union activities frequently imagine that strikes and other upheavals are the result of some kind of "democratic" procedure.

Recently (December 5) Dean Clarence Manion in his weekly broadcast from South Bend, Indiana, interviewed the wife of a steelworker. He will quote some significant questions and answers:

"Question: How long has your husband belonged to the steelworkers' union?" "Answer: He has belonged almost 17 years. The steel union came into the plant where he is employed shortly after he started to work there 17 years ago."

"Q: How many strikes has the steelworkers' union had during this period?" "A: During the time that he has worked in the steel mill a strike has been called by the steelworkers' union every time that a contract expired, which is usually every three years."

"Q: Did he make these (wage) losses back as a result of wage increases in the strike settlements?" "A: No steelworker ever makes up the amount of money lost during a strike. From one strike to the next it isn't possible for them to do so."

"Q: Are the rank and file steelworkers consulted when or before the strikes are called? Do they have a chance to vote on a strike or not?" "A: There is absolutely no such strike vote taken so far as I know. My husband hasn't even had a chance to vote either way."

Meaning Of Love And Hate As Used In Bible / One of the passages that has confused me in the Bible is Luke 14:26. It reads, according to most of the Bibles I have: "If any man come to me and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, ye, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple."

It is strange that the modern translations, with very few exceptions, leave that translation stand. George M. Lamsa has translated the New Testament, according to the Eastern text, from original Aramaic sources. He makes this paragraph read: "He who comes to me and does not put aside his father and his mother and his brethren and his sisters—and his children, and even his own life, cannot be a disciple to me."

Webster's older dictionary used one of the meanings of "hate," "to love less," but the new Webster does not give this definition. It gives as the opposite of "hate," as love, cherish.

Funk & Wagnalls gives one of the definitions of "hate" as "love less." In other words, you must put Jesus and what he taught before your own will.

The above simply shows how the meaning of words has changed and how difficult it is properly to interpret various passages of the Bible.

Frederick Nymeyer has considerable to say on the different interpretations of the word "love" as used in the Hebrew-Christian Scriptures. Under the heading of "Love in Christian Ethics Should Not Be Used To Designate A Sentiment," he writes as follows:

"In Hebrew Christian ethics the term, love, refers to an unselfish, profound policy for conduct, rather than to an affection of any kind."

"Love, in a legislated ethical sense in the Scriptures, does not refer to affections as between husband and wife; or parents and children; or between friends. It refers instead to rules of conduct between all people—those fond of each other as well as those not fond of each other; friends and enemies; lovers, parents and children; white and negro; everybody."

"Love in the Scriptures does not mean to like and does not depend on liking, because liking is a relative term, and the minute love (as a term describing policy) is based on liking, then the issue arises of liking equally, which is sure to become a preposterous demand and sanctimony."

"A difficulty is that the word love means so many things, even in Scripture, such as, (1) unlicensed sex and infatuation, (2) liking, (3) preferential treatment, and (4) profound policy."

"As an example of love in its first sense, namely, unlicensed sex, consider II Samuel 13:1: "And it came to pass after this, that Absalom the son of David had a fair sister, whose name was Tamar, and she was working closely with Connecticut Chairman Edwin Jay, Jr., to garner that state's delegation, and early next month will begin a tour of the country to contact local GOP leaders for the same purpose."

Reece is equally busy in Tennessee nailing down that delegation for Nixon, and is assisting in other Southern states. Reece did the same thing for Senator Taft in 1952.

Some of the Vice President's advisers reportedly are urging a series of nationwide broadcasts in which he would discuss measures for dealing with major domestic and foreign problems, such as defense, averting or settling strikes, the thorny farm issue, civil rights, aid to education, foreign economic and military aid, and relations with Red China.

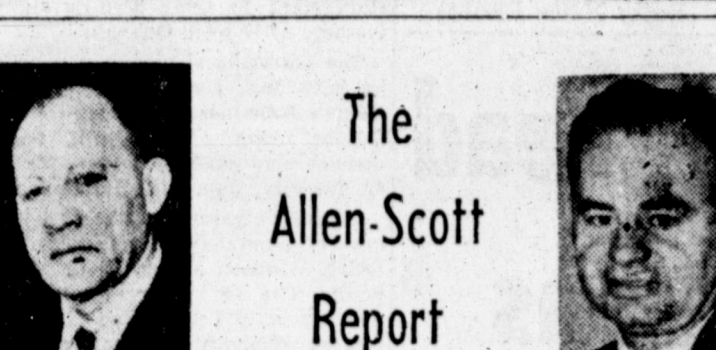

With a Republican President in the White House, such a plan admittedly faces certain personal and political limitations. But these advisers contend Nixon could properly present his views in such nationwide broadcasts while campaigning in New Hampshire's March 8 and other presidential primaries.

They are also confident there would be no difficulty in raising the necessary funds for this purpose. "POLITICALS — A vice presidential boom is being launched for Veterans Administrator Sumner Whittier. The former Massachusetts Lieutenant Governor has made an excellent record in that tough job and is popular with GOP leaders. But Whittier is up against a big obstacle: Secretary of State Christian Herter, who was Governor of Massachusetts and is far more in the public eye, also has VP ambitions. Certain of Vice President Nixon's leading supporters are strongly for Herter as his running mate — which doesn't improve Whittier's prospects. . . . Already more than 2,000 tickets, at $100 a plate, have been sold for the District of Columbia's "Dinner With Ike" on January 27, that will be addressed by Governor Rockefeller, D.C. Chairman Carl Shipley now certain the goal of 3,000 tickets will be reached."

Senator Barry Goldwater, Ariz., and a Reno, Nev., Republican gathering that he would accept the vice presidential nomination if offered him, but that a Midwesterner would be a better choice. Said Goldwater, "The logical choice would be a Midwesterner; someone like Senator Dirksen of Illinois or Representative Halleck of Indiana. We need Midwestern influence in the vice presidency, rather than New York influence."

"Mrs. Peter Cameron, co-chairman of "Marylanders For Rockefeller," who describes herself as a "conservative Republican," frankly admits her husband is not for the New Yorker. Explains Mrs. Cameron, "I haven't been able to persuade him to join the Rockefeller camp, but I'm still hopeful."

EXPERIENCED CAMPAIGN "STRATEGY BOARD" GUIDES NIXON'S DRIVE FOR NOMINATION

WASHINGTON — Vice President Nixon now has a high-powered campaign "strategy board" that includes four former Republican National Committee chairmen and two members of the cabinet.

This significant backstage group that is masterminding Nixon's drive for the 1960 nomination, consists of:

Labor Secretary James Mitchell, Treasury Undersecretary Fred Scribner, Jr., and former National Chairman Leonard Hall, N.Y. Meade Alcorn, Conn., Senator Hugh Scott, Pa., and Representative B. Carroll Reece, Tenn. Reece was National Chairman in 1948-49, and was close to the late Senator Robert Taft in his 1952 presidential race.

Senator Scott is credited by Nixon insiders as favored to be his campaign manager after he formally throws his hat into the ring in January. One of the few leading GOP victors in the Democrats' 1958 congressional sweep, Scott was National Chairman in former Governor Dewey's 1948 campaign, and head of the Eisenhower Campaign Headquarters in 1952.

While only Scott and Hall have so far announced for Nixon, the others of this "strategy board" are slated also to do "at the right time and place."

In the meanwhile, they are frequently consulted by Nixon and are actively lining up support for him in their own states and other areas. For example, Alcorn is working closely with Connecticut Chairman Edwin Jay, Jr., to garner that state's delegation, and early next month will begin a tour of the country to contact local GOP leaders for the same purpose.

Reece is equally busy in Tennessee nailing down that delegation for Nixon, and is assisting in other Southern states. Reece did the same thing for Senator Taft in 1952.

Christmas Tree Ornaments Grow Better With Age

If we were as thrifty as the appearance of our Christmas tree ornaments would indicate, I would wear seeds of a good twenty years ago and live in the most fashionable trailer camp in town.

Our ornaments, especially the strings of lights, look as if they had been purchased at a war supply store around 1866. The cords are frayed and patched here and there with bicycle tape, and the bulbs work only when the spirit moves them.

The balls have lost their luster, are full of dents, and have rusty hairpins for holders. Worst of all are the icicles. The longest strand doesn't measure more than an inch, and when draped over a branch looks like nothing so much as a tired, old worm.

The star that must have been a real beauty when McKinley was President lacks a point, and has a case of the wobbles. It wouldn't stand up straight with the aid of two crutches.

Why is it that some of us can't bear to think of throwing away even a scrap of Christmas tree ornament, but insist on wrapping the stuff each January as if they were diamond dust? We buy new cars, TV sets, and fishing rods, but not new tree decorations.

Our tree never looks very good, and because it doesn't, we try to hide it. It is not placed near the window where passersby can see it. We put it up in the most inconspicuous place possible, and this year we may decide to stand it in a closet.

The only good thing about our ancient ornaments is that we don't have very many of them, for each year sees some of them give up the ghost. As a result, we don't have to decorate a big tree.

This is a help, for I read somewhere the other day that once a man passes forty he should be careful about decorating a Christmas tree. Much too strenuous.

The Almanac Today By United Press International Today is Wednesday, Dec. 23 the 257th day of the year, with 7 more days in 1959. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Venus. On this day in history: In 1783, George Washington resigned his Army commission and retired to his estate at Mount Vernon. In 1862, Connie Mack, who managed the Philadelphia Athletics from 1901 through 1950, was born. In 1928, the National Broadcasting Company set up its coast-to-coast radio network. In 1948, ex-Premier Hideki Tojo of Japan and six other war leaders were hanged in Tokyo on the orders of an Allied War Crimes Commission. In 1953, a Russian purge resulted in the execution of Lavrenty Beria, former head of the Soviet secret police. A thought for today: American cartoonist Bill Mauldin said, "Look at an infantryman's eyes and you can tell how much war he has seen."

The Doctor Says: by EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. If we went to the ball game and our first batter hit a homer, how would you react if I said "well, that's the old ball game?" and tried to get you to leave the park? Or say the score was 1-0-0 in the third inning, would you be satisfied that the game was in the bag for our players? Well, if you're the kind of fan who's seen too many games won and lost in late innings, maybe you'll understand why older doctors aren't as impressed as younger colleagues by the first-inning home run that's hit by a new drug. Let me give you some examples of what I mean. At a recent symposium on anti-biotics, three new products were highly acclaimed. Between Declomycin, furaltadone and Colistin, successful warfare was waged on pneumonia, the venereal diseases and a variety of infections of kidneys, bladder, intestines, skin, eyes and ears. Now what troubled-olderists in the grandstand was the remembrance that most of these infections were supposed to have been already wiped out by earlier "miracle drugs." Apparently the bugs had rallied in late innings. The sulfas and penicillin, that used to fetch shoutouts against gonococci, now were being knocked out of the box by the pesky bacteria. And dihydrostreptomycin, that once fanned the fire

Fair Enough

Does History, Or Does It Not Repeat Itself?

There is a superstition that history does not repeat. Be that as it may, in Greek mythology there was a fearsome figure called a gorgon which, or who, received serious consideration from P. Homer, a well-known journalist of the time. In a controversial work called the Odyssey he had only one gorgon, but Hesiod, a later journalist, insisted there were three.

That trifle aside, a gorgon was a female figure of monstrous and, in some opinions, repulsive mien. She had a wide, ugly face, a flat nose and an enormous mouth loosely bounded by drooling or slobbering lips of great width and thickness. Her teeth were huge and projected from her mouth in a way which detracted from such natural pulchritude and charm as the gorgon may have possessed as original endowment.

The three gorgons, if three there were, were the daughters of a sea-god named Phorcy and his common-law wife Keto. No disrepute is implied toward this marital union, because the customs of that civilization were quite proper to the moral climate and, moreover, deities and their families were above the religious and civil authority of mortal beings.

The names of the sisters were Medusa, Stheno and Eurylea. Medusa was the dominant character and she alone has come down to us in sculpture and fable. She had serpents on her head for tresses, she was equipped with wings and she was regarded by a large adherence as the First Lady of the Universe. These devotees were quite impatient of unbelief and put down with great intolerance dissent from their unsupported dogma that Medusa was the first lady of all creation.

Reports are necessarily fragmentary, but whoever ventured to challenge the Medusa's divinity was at risk of being set upon as a filthy cad showing rudeness to a supernatural being; a psychopathic problem, lucky not to be put away in an insane asylum; a fascist, a fascist and a bigot.

One has to be in as good condition as a squirrel to climb under, around, and all but up, a tree, to get the lights spaced just right. And if you have the same sort of stepladder at your house that I have at mine, the business of putting the angel or star on top is as dangerous as painting the underside of the Golden Gate Bridge. I fell off our ladder last year and went right through a strum that a nephew was counting on beating everybody to sleep with Christmas night.

Too, getting a tree to stand upright is much too exacting a job for a man of middle age of these abouts. Only those men who don't care which way a tree leans—forward, backwards, to the right, to the left — should help in this detail. It should be left to younger, stronger hands.

Our trees always lean. They are as stiff as flagpoles when we buy them, but the moment they enter the house they lose their spirit. We had one tree — in 1954, I believe — that did its best to stretch out on the sofa. We had to use stout string to keep it upright, and all during Christmas week it sighed, just as if a wind were blowing through it. It was eerie.

One of these years I am going to use a whiskbroom for a tree. It'll be short, but it'll be staunch.

The mysterious disappearance of Chicago's federal judge, Lynn Parkinson, calls to mind the fact that American criminal records are thickly studded with the vanishing of jurists. One occurs in about every generation. In our own time, the disappearance of Judge Crater still remains an inexplicable mystery. But there were many before that. One of the first of such American mysteries centers around Judge John Lansing who, in the early part of the nineteenth century, left the City of Albany in New York to catch the Albany night boat and never has been seen since. Shortly before, he had presided over the sensational trial of Levi Weeks, charged with the murder of Elma Sands. It was notable for the appearance of Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton as co-attorneys for the defense. They proved their man's innocence. Whenever a judge disappears it is natural to assume that he met with foul play at the hands of someone against whom he delivered a judgment. But painstaking police investigations do not support this.

Cheesecake Queen Back In Hollywood

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jayne Mansfield has returned to Hollywood from England after her latest dramatic effort, a picture beset with legal woes and censorship problems.
Jayne, abroad for the past five months, starred in an epic called "Too Hot To Handle," but it appears the title will have to be changed for U.S. theatres because a Hollywood studio may claim legal rights to it.
Undaunted by such mundane problems, Miss Mansfield, one of filmland's all time cheesecake queens, says the picture shows her off dramatically as well as physically.
"I do hope the picture gets past the censor," she said guardedly. "I wear a dress in it that's transparent."
"For French theatres we have three little sequins in strategic places, but for America we added more sequins."
Why wear a dress at all, Jayne was asked.
"I wanted to be respectable," she said, couching her answer in a giggle.
The pretty blonde insists she's now on the threshold of great things to come.
"I've changed my whole approach to acting," she confided. "Instead of comedy, my roles are now serious."
"The cheesecake stuff has been really overshadowed," she said. "You see, in England I was given my first chance to play a real dramatic part."
Jayne is so confident of her mastery of the thespian's art, that she's planning to do three roles at the same time, something that Sarah Bernhard would have thought twice about.
Jayne allowed as to how it was strong than Mickey's idea that she essay the triple header opposite him in "The Love of Hercules."
"When I first read the script, I felt my part was too small because there were two other women in the picture chasing Mickey," Jayne said analytically.
"Mickey solved all that though," Jane added proudly. "He suggested I play all three parts."
The perpetually smiling Hungarian in the world, seems lukewarm to the whole idea.
"I'm funny about pictures," Mickey said. "One star in the family is enough."

Workers Can't Get Compensation

TYLER (UPI) — District Judge Otis Dunagan ruled Monday 97 workers idled by a 16-day shutdown at the General Electric plant here were not entitled to draw unemployment compensation.
Judge Dunagan's ruling upheld the Texas Employment Commission which refused to certify the workers' claims for unemployment compensation. The suit was brought by a labor union against the TEC and General Electric.
The union asked the court to grant one week's compensation. However, Judge Dunagan held the workers were not entitled to compensation because they got vacation pay for the first week, and were not "involuntarily unemployed."

Khrushchev To Try Boosting Russia's Farm Program

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev today opened a Communist Party Central Committee meeting to deal with a problem close to his heart—how to increase farm production in Russia's "catch America" seven-year plan.
Ex-farmer Khrushchev summoned the 239 party leaders for the third time within a year in his capacity as first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party.
Last June, as part of the seven-year plan aimed at catching up with and outstripping the United States in production in all fields, the committee mapped action to meet the boosted industrial goals set during last February's 21st Party Congress.
Today, Khrushchev, possibly spurred by the prodigious farm output he saw in Midwest America last September, directed the 124 committee members and 115 candidates to turn full attention to rural production.

The meeting coincided with the 80th anniversary of the birth of former Premier Josef Stalin, who seldom convened a Central Committee session, preferring to go it alone with virtual one-man rule.
Immediately after Stalin's death in 1953, Khrushchev publicized the critical condition of things down on the collective farms and said livestock production was worse than in 1913.

Marksman Is Sought

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — County authorities sought an expert marksman with cuts inflicted by a woman's high-heeled slipper today for questioning in the murder of a family of four.
Cliff Walker, 25, his wife and two young children were found murdered Sunday. The couple and their son were shot through the head with a .22-caliber weapon and their daughter was drowned.
State Atty. V. M. Smiley disclosed late Monday that officers had found a blood-smeared high-heeled shoe in the Walker home. He said it was believed Walker's 22-year-old wife, Christine, fought her attacker with the shoe before he was shot.
Walker was found lying on the living room floor, his 5-year-old son, James, was lying beside him. Mrs. Walker was a few feet away in the hallway leading to a sitting room. Debbie, 2, was found floating face down in the bathtub.
Officers theorized that the killer was fighting with Mrs. Walker when Walker and the two children were walked into the house late Saturday afternoon.

Little Girl Steals Purse With $5,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Was the little girl a prankster or a trained robber? Was the man who ran off with the money her father, her mentor, or just a bystander who saw an opportunity?
These questions were unanswered today because the little girl, the man and a bag containing more than $5,600 cash were all missing.
Monday afternoon Miss Catherine Bacon, 62, a bookkeeper for a West Side cafeteria, was walking to a bank to deposit $5,675 which she carried in a paper bag. While she was waiting to cross the street a girl about 8 grabbed the bag and started running.
Miss Bacon ran after the girl shouting "Help! A thief!"
A woman passerby stopped the little girl.
Just when Miss Bacon reached the scene, a man of about 40 with a black mustache appeared and said "let me help you."
In the confusion the man scooped up the money and fled.
When police arrived they found Miss Bacon left holding a $50 bill, a $1 bill — and a piece of the bag.
The light produced by fireflies is without any heat or loss of energy, an accomplishment man has not been able to achieve.

Milk Contamination Has Been Reduced Recently

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government scientists said today that the danger of milk contamination by insect killers such as DDT is being reduced.
Their statement followed publication of a 1958 government survey showing that some milk in 11 cities across the nation was tainted with substantial amounts of pesticides containing chlordane.
A spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said there was no evidence the insect killers cause cancer in humans. But he said the milk contamination was a problem "worth working on."
The scientists credited two developments with cutting down the risk of milk being contaminated by use of the pesticides on cattle feeds and in storage barns.
They said the FDA has warned the dairy industry it would crack down on any sales of impure milk in interstate commerce and an educational drive among dairymen also has been effective.
The FDA report Monday said milk samplings conducted in 1958, showed a definite reduction over the previous three years in the incidence of milk tainted with the insect killers.
Scientists said there probably has been a further dip since last year.

Of the 936 samples tested in the four-month survey of 17 cities in 1958, substantial amounts of the chemicals were found in 28 samples.
The contamination showed up in some milk in these cities: Washington, Providence, R. I.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Cincinnati, Denver; Wichita, Kan.; New Orleans; New York; Trenton, N.J.; San Francisco, and Seattle.
Cities which were surveyed but turned up no trace of milk contamination were Atlanta; Chicago; Minneapolis; Los Angeles; St. Louis, and Camden, N.J.

DEERFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — A hotly-disputed plan to build racially integrated housing in this all-white Chicago suburb was in effect, turned down by a better than 2 to 1 referendum vote Monday.
A total 85.9 per cent of the village's voters cast ballots in a referendum on whether the village should condemn land which includes 51 acres owned by a home-building firm.
The builder, Progress Development Corp., had announced it planned to build homes in the $30,000 class and sell 10 or 12 to Negroes "of an equal economic and educational level" as Deerfield residents.
