HOME BURNS TO GROUND — Flames fanned by a stiff north wind destroyed the Buck Ray home shortly after noon Monday four miles west of Pampa on the Amarillo highway. The fire apparently began in a closet about 11 a.m. while two members of the family were at home. Efforts are now under way to supply the seven-member family with clothing and a new home. Pampa Escapes First Strike, But Heavy Snow Due Tonight

United Press International

The Panhandle's worst blizzard in two years veered into West Texas today and the Weather Bureau warned four inches of snow or more would fall there by tonight.

But at Amarillo, where the snow had turned to freezing rain this morning, the storm worsened.

The rain turned to big, heavy flakes of snow as line crews from Amarillo and Pampa worked feverishly to restore electric services to 1,000 families. Amarillo is in the middle of the Panhandle.

The storm howled in from the west Monday and paralyzed much of the Panhandle and eastern New Mexico during the night. Biting winds of 20 to 40 miles an hour velocity drove residents inside their homes to wait it out.

Albuquerque, N.M., was hardest hit. It was buried under a 10-inch snowfall.

But Vega, Tex., near the border, was cut off from the outside by snow and ice. The town of Stratford, about 90 miles north of Amarillo, also was isolated. As the storm moved south, heavy rains spread to the east and south, causing sewers and creeks to flood and closing streets and roads with high water.

Rains of up to 3.5 inches fell in some parts of the state.

Dimmitt, Tex., was left without communications when ice and strong winds ripped down its telephone and power lines. The 1,000 families left without electric service in Amarillo totaled about one-fifth of the city's total population.

The freezing rain dropped a heavy burden of ice on trees in the Amarillo area and many of (See WINTRY, Page 3)

Planning Group To Study City Needs

Pampa's City Commission, over-riding the objection of Commissioner James Crawford, voted this morning to accept the bid of the Motorola Corporation on nine radio transmitters and one base station for the engineer's department.

Crawford's objection, based on the fact that Motorola's bid was roughly $700 higher than General Electric's bid, was voted down 3 to 1. Motorola offered the city nine transistorized receivers at $448 each, and a base station costing $940.

Mayor Ed Myatt said the commission's decision on Motorola legally rests on the opinion that GE's bids do not meet specifications.

Commissioner Hershel Wilks said he was more inclined toward Motorola because maintenance would be less of a problem and "it would be wisest to stay with one brand." The city in past years has purchased several other radio units from the Motorola firm.

General Electric's bids did not comply with specifications, Myatt said, in that their units were not entirely transistorized and they offered a 50-watt transmitter rather than the asked-for 60-watt plan.

A second important matter on this morning's agenda concerned the city's plans for setting up a group for "future city planning and growth."

The planning group would be supported in large part by state funds and would be set up to make plans to anticipate future city needs.

Mayor Myatt said it is important that a meeting be held prior to Jan. 1 so that Pampa will still be eligible to apply for state funds. An application made after Jan. 1 could not be accepted by the state, Myatt added, because the city's 1960 census would show Pampa over the 25,000 mark.

A planning meeting, with Chamber of Commerce backing, will be held Monday at 4 p.m. in the Palm Room of City Hall. Myatt said he hopes as many as 150 interested citizens will attend. In other business the commission approved two estimates connected with the current sewer project. It approved payment of $20,238 to the Walter D. Bellamy Co., and $1,499 to Wayland Merriman. Lewis To Quit As UMW Boss

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John L. Lewis, a turbulent titan of the labor movement for 40 years, announced today he will resign as president of the United Mine Workers early next month.

Lewis disclosed his unexpected move in a letter to members of his union published in the United Mine Workers Journal.

UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy, 72, former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania and a national officer in the mine union since 1925, will succeed Lewis.

Lewis gave no specific reason for stepping down from the post he has held since 1919, but his advanced age—78—apparently figured in the decision.

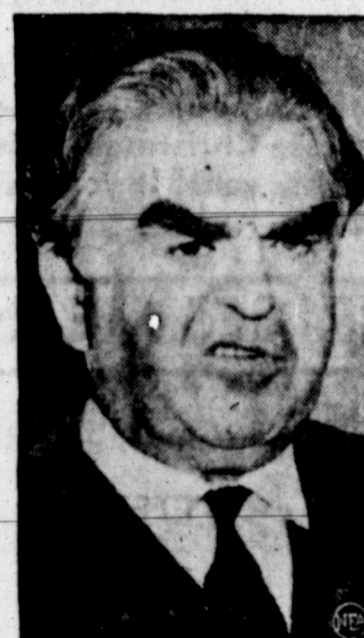

Aides said he is in good health and shows no ill effects from the heart attack and pneumonia which hospitalized him for several days last February.

"Every logical circumstance leads to the conclusion that I should begin the transfer of my obligations and duties to other and more capable hands," Lewis wrote.

"Accordingly, I will resign from the constitutional office of president shortly after the new year."

Ike To Rest Up On 3-Day Cruise

ABOARD USS ESSEX (UPI)—President Eisenhower boarded the cruiser USS Des Moines today for two days of needed shipboard rest in the Mediterranean before resuming his peace mission that has taken him halfway round the world. Eisenhower and his party, including daughter-in-law Barbara Eisenhower, one of the few women ever to travel aboard an American warship, left Athens in a helicopter that swung them past the Acropolis and other glories of ancient Greece before setting them down on the cruiser's after-deck.

Eisenhower's trip to Greece was another of the triumphs he has scored in his peace and friendship mission. He told Parliament Greece and the United States were in complete agreement on the need to be strong "militarily, economically and spiritually."

He met with Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis and in a joint communique promised to exchange views on the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean. Greece had been afraid that the U.S. decision to reestablish diplomatic relations with Communist Bulgaria would give new life to the outlawed Greek Communist Party.

Nixon Believes Ike Trip Will Reap Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today the trip will create a new "NBC's Today" that Eisenhower's trip was "worthwhile" because it allowed him to explain to the nation's Allies why the United States has given them great amounts of aid since the end of World War II.

"It's important that they know that we don't want an inch of territory, we don't want a concession from them, and the President going abroad has brought home to them a true picture of America," Nixon said.

He said Eisenhower could explain to his hosts that the United States "is interested only in helping them to achieve the economic stability which will enable them to maintain their independence and their self-respect."

Nixon took a crack at Adlai Stevenson and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson for criticizing Eisenhower's tour.

Troops Poised On Nepalese Border

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—The Chinese Communists have massed 100,000 troops and 400 planes within easy striking distance of the Nepalese border, reports reaching this Himalayan capital said today.

The troops helped put down an anti-Communist uprising in Tibet and now have rolled down to the very border in some places, with 20,000 of them stationed opposite the Nepalese border checkpoint of Wolungchungla.

Castro Uses Trial To Plead Party Merits

HAVANA (UPI)—An all-night talkathon by Premier Fidel Castro transformed the treason trial of Maj. Hubert Matos into a free-for-all debate on the merits of Castro's revolutionary regime.

Castro spent more than seven hours at the microphone, acting sometimes as a witness and sometimes as a prosecutor. He testified, he questioned witnesses and he read dozens of letters and other documents into the record. He heatedly denied Matos' charges that his regime has been infiltrated by Communists, denouncing his former comrades-in-arms as a counter-revolutionary plotters.

Matos, Education Minister Armando Hart, accused a dozen pro-Castro army officers also participated in the debate, hurling charges and countercharges back and forth across the improvised courtroom.

At one point, the president of the court had to order a knot of officers who were wrestling for a (See CASTRO, Page 3)

Padre Isle As National Park Stands A Chance

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Sen. Frank Moss (D-Utah), chairman of the subcommittee that conducted a public hearing on the proposed Padre Island National Seashore Park, said today he thinks there is a good chance for Senate approval.

"There is a great sentiment in the east and Washington for a national seashore park in this area," Moss said.

The Utah Democrat closed the hearing Monday afternoon after hearing 42 witnesses. He said he would leave the record open, however, until Feb. 1 for filing formal statements to him by mail.

Moss was scheduled to go turkey hunting today on the vast King ranch. Saturday he shot an eight-point deer, while visiting Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at his ranch in Stonehall.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.), who is sponsoring legislation to turn the 117-mile long island into a national park, warned Padre Island could become a "Miami Beach development."

"We do not want a little 50-mile park in the middle of this 117-mile long island," Yarborough said. "The nation needs at least a 100-mile long seashore."

John L. Tompkins, Corpus Christi developer, suggested that Congress authorize 50 miles in the center of the island as a park. He said tourists would go to other areas to "enjoy some of the wonders of private enterprise along with the wonders of nature" if the island was not privately developed.

Moss said he was not too favorably inclined toward Tompkins' suggestion. He took an aerial tour of the island, and said he believed the ends of the island were better for national seashore than the middle.

David M. Coover, a Corpus Christi attorney representing interests having 30 per cent of the surface on the island and 50 per cent of the mineral rights, called the plan a "waste of money" and for national seashore than the middle.

Justice's Stab At Humor Plain Corn

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The humor might not have had 'em rolling in the aisles, but it was unusual considering the austere surroundings. The setting was the Supreme Court of the United States. The jester was Justice Charles T. Whittaker.

The moment of levity in the marble-columned, ceilinged court room came when the high bench issued a decision upholding the reversal of a jury's $25,000 damage award to flagman Carl C. Inman who was hurt at an Akron, Ohio, railroad crossing.

Justice Tom C. Clark, delivering the majority opinion, began talking before Justice Felix Frankfurter had finished commenting on a previous case.

Clark apologized. He explained that he had "jumped the gun" like the drunken driver who ran through a stop light at the Akron intersection and injured Inman who was waving a lantern in each hand.

Whittaker concurred in the opinion favoring the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. He added a "word of mirth" to support the view (See JUSTICE, Page 3)

Castro Type War Seen

POSADAS, Argentina (UPI)—Paraguayan President Alfredo Stroessner Monday visited the border area where a weekend revolt apparently fizzled and where rebel forces now threaten a Fidel Castro guerrilla-type offensive against his government.

A reliable source said Stroessner flew down from Asuncion, presumably in one of two DC3 airliners which were seen landing about 11 a.m. in Encarnacion, across the Parana River from Po-

Pampa Pilgrimage A Concept Of Youth

The concerted effort of 32 Pampa churches, spearheaded by young Key Club members and adult advisers, will bear its fruits Sunday evening early when the Pampa Pilgrimage will join together worshippers in a common heralding of the Christmas season.

It is hoped that several hundred persons will leave their homes, join others along the way and walk together to the church of their choice to jointly sing hymns, then conduct worship services.

Time for separate services will be 8 p.m., following the Pilgrimage, which begins at 5. In announcing the early hour, Robbie Robison, chairman of the Key Club Pilgrimage Committee on Church Relations, said "We are anxious to have entire families walking together and by setting the hour at 8 we feel it will be more convenient for families with small children to participate."

Robison also praised the cooperation of the city's ministers who have set aside or changed regular programs to provide a uniform hour for the Christmas service.

A common meeting point has been chosen for the four major Pilgrimage routes. The four marching groups will converge at Cuyler and Browning, then move on to the parking lot of Ideal Food Store at Ballard and Browning.

Persons are to start the march at Pampa Senior High School on the north, Woodrow Wilson School on the east, Baker Elementary School on the south, Lamar School on the southwest and Horace Mann School on the west. Those gathering at Lamar School will march only to churches in that immediate area.

All who live in southwest Pampa, but attend churches in other parts of the city, are urged to drive to the gathering point nearest their church.

From the four remaining gathering points, persons will march in several directions. Those attending neighborhood churches are to walk from their school to the church directly. Those who attend downtown churches are asked to walk to the central meeting point at Cuyler and Browning.

After meeting on the Ideal store lot, downtown congregations are to walk in groups toward their churches. Ministers of churches will lead their congregations.

J. B. Denson, chairman of the Pilgrimage Route Committee, announced that his group will set a time schedule from each gathering point that will enable the different groups to meet downtown at the same time. The timetable will be announced later this week.

PLANNERS AND DOERS — The seven young men pictured above are the mainstays behind the unique Pampa Pilgrimage, a plan whereby hundreds of Pampa worshippers will walk to church in groups Sunday evening at 8 and there in joint worship services mark the beginning of the Christmas season. Rainfall Here 2.26 Inches In Last 28 Hours

Pampa had received 2.26 inches of moisture by noon today from rains that began falling at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Icey conditions were noted yesterday afternoon, but lasted only a short while.

Weather conditions have forced the cancellation of the meeting of the Top O' Texas Foundation, scheduled for 4 p.m. today. Arthur Teed, board of trustees chairman, said the next scheduled meeting will be Jan. 19.

L. J. Edmondson, Pampa High School principal, said no plans have been made to discontinue classes in Pampa schools unless weather conditions worsen this afternoon, and Sergeant E. G. Albers of the Pampa office of the Texas Highway Patrol, said all roads in his 9 county area are open but wet, with no icing conditions reported in the area.

In the southern part of Gray County, McLean reported a temperature of 40 degrees at 8:30 a.m. today, where streets were partially under water from 24 inches of rain that fell during the night. At Amarillo, where the weather cut off electrical power to 1,000 families, it has started to rain again after snowing for approximately 30 minutes.

Shamrock reported three inches of rain up to 10:30 a.m. today, with the temperature in the low 40s.

Crossan Infant Rites Wednesday

Services for Stacey Lee Crossan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Crossan, 215 Garrett, Borger, will be conducted in Baby Gardens tomorrow at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Olin Butler, pastor of Harrah Methodist Church. The infant died following birth at 8:10 a.m. yesterday in Highland General.

She is survived by five sisters, Donna Claire, Candace Ann, Beverly Jean, Linda Gay, Ardith Laverne; one brother, Donald Ray; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crossan of Abilene, and Mrs. R. M. Sexton of Minden, La.

Assault Case Dismissed

A charge of rape against Benjamin Alex Hassler, Jr., Skellytown, was dismissed in 31st District Court today. Hassler was indicted last fall.

The charge was dismissed on motion of the state, stating that the prosecuting witness failed to appear and testify, and that the evidence that might be produced by the state without the cooperation of the prosecuting witness is insufficient to warrant a conviction.

District Attorney Bill Waters said all jurors summoned on the special venire to appear Monday are excused.

most distinguished union leaders. His bushy black eyebrows, now silver with age, have darkened countless cartoons depicting him as a labor villain. Although he is venerated by the miners, the public often saw him as an ogre who shut off coal supplies in the depths of winter.

He has been in nearly continuous conflict with Congress, presidents, courts and colleagues in the labor movement during most of his adult life.

After summarizing the gains made by his union during the many years of his stewardship, Lewis said in his letter that he hoped the union's convention next October would grant him an "honorable discharge" from his duties.

There was speculation that he wanted to leave at a time when the union is free of crises and in good financial condition. Observers also felt he would be available as a "consultant" in case new UMW leaders want his advice.

them broke under its weight. So many limbs were down in Amarillo that street crews pushed them onto sidewalks and parkways temporarily and planned to pick them up later in trucks.

Many residents of Canyon, Tex., were also without electric service and long distance telephone lines between Amarillo and Hereford were down.

Scores of Panhandle travelers were stranded by wind-whipped snow that piled up in drifts six feet high. The State Highway Department manned every available piece of equipment to keep roads open and free trapped motorists.

Highway patrolmen still manned roadblocks west of Vega and west of Adrian, Tex., to keep motorists off U.S. Highway 86, one of the nation's major east-west traffic arteries.

It was closed between Vega and Albuquerque when the storm blew in. Highway department crews at first said they hoped to have it open by noon today, but the storm worsened and they abandoned that hope.

The highway was covered by two to 12 inches of snow between Vega and Tucumcari, N. M.

Highway patrolmen allowed emergency traffic to New Mexico to use U.S. 885 through Hereford. Airline flights from Amarillo and Lubbock were canceled Monday night and private planes were ordered to remain on the ground today.

Rains of 2 to 4 inches pelted the Childress area and a 15-mile stretch of U.S. Highway 287 was closed by water covering the roadway.

At least 100 travelers were reported stranded in Vega, 35 miles west of Amarillo. Motels and hotels throughout the area surrounding Amarillo were filled to capacity.

Texhoma and Milesboro, Tex., had four inches of snow during the night. Three inches fell at Vega, two inches at Dalhart, and across the border at Tucumcari, eight inches lay on the ground.

A three inch snowfall covered most of the Big Bend country. Six-foot drifts were reported near Pecos and in the Vega area.

It began snowing at El Paso this morning. It was one of the two Texas weather stations which did not report any precipitation during the night.

7 Homeless After Home Burns Down

Seven members of the Buck Ray family were made homeless Monday afternoon when fire swept through their six-room home four miles west of Pampa near the Amarillo highway.

Pampa Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said flames devoured the home and the family's belongings before firefighting equipment could be brought into play.

Mrs. Ray said the fire was discovered by her five-year-old son who picked the youngster up and fled the home after being partially burned on one hand and arm.

A stiff north wind pushed the flames rapidly out of control by the time Pampa fire trucks reached the scene about 12:30 p.m.

The Ray family, which moved into the home seven months ago from Kermit, survived the fire "with only the clothing they wore," according to the Pampa Red Cross office. Efforts were being pushed ahead today to find new clothing, furniture and a grocery supply for the seven-member family.

Ray, 41, is an employee of Cabot's Carbon Black plant, located near the Ray home. Members of the family include three boys, ages 5, 9 and 10, and two girls, ages 11 and 13. The family has been offered a new residence by the Cabot company for one month.

Destroyed in the blaze were the home's furniture and furnishings and most of the family's clothing.

Early today a second house fire was reported in the same area. Pampa firemen said the W. H. Followell home, four miles southwest of Pampa, was damaged slightly when fire sprang up under the house at 5:40 a.m.

Program Of Work For 1960 Discussed At Chamber Meet

Directors and committee chairmen of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development met yesterday at noon in the Palm Room of city hall and explored new ideas to be included in the 1960 program of work.

Twenty-one new ideas were suggested and will be screened and studied by the board and passed on to each committee for its evaluation before being included in 1960 activities.

Suggestions included parking facilities, industrial relations, highway improvement, city beautification, public relations and public improvements. The development of a junior college for Pampa and vicinity was again suggested.

A definite program of work will not be ready for publication until after the first of January. Wedgeworth said the public is invited to offer suggestions for consideration by the board and the 16 work committees.

The next membership meeting of the chamber will be Jan. 23 in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn where George Dempster, president of the Dempster Corp., Memphis, Tenn., will be the principal speaker.

Judge Craig's Father Succumbs

Funeral services are pending for William Harrison Craig, 71, father of County Judge William J. Craig. The senior Craig, a resident in Miami since 1918, died at 8:30 last night in his home in Miami.

Mr. Craig owned and operated a drug store in Miami from 1921 to 1948. He was a member of First Methodist Church, Miami Masonic Lodge, Knights Templar, Kiwanis Shrine Temple, Amarillo. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Vernie Jane Craig of Miami; two sons, Judge Craig of Pampa, Richard of Austin; one sister, Mrs. Vada Stamer of Jackboro; two brothers, M. M. Craig of Miami, F. B. of Borger; one half-brother, P. T. Craig of Amarillo; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Arrangements will be announced later by Duenkel Carmichael Funeral Home.

Home Lighting Finals Dec. 23

Loving cups will be awarded to 28 winners in the Pampa Christmas home lighting contest, sponsored by the Pampa Garden Club.

Mrs. Dorothy Francis, chairman, said Pampa will be divided into seven districts with four winners in each district. Judging will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Dec. 23, with homes being judged on best window, door, over-all religious scene, and over-all non-religious scene.

Winners will be announced Dec. 24. Prizes will be awarded at special ceremonies at the Coronado Inn Jan. 30.

The commission also passed on second reading Ordinance 533, an amendment to a 1937 ordinance governing the zone lines in three city additions.

The ordinance places the Talley addition (with exceptions) and the Country Club Heights additions in a residential zone, places the Solomon addition in a semi-commercial zone, and the south part of the Talley addition in a commercial zone.

Preliminary plans were also discussed on the widening of the Duncan St. bridge near City Park to 60 feet. The move will be a part of a plan to make Duncan St. a "main artery" for traffic into and out of the downtown area.

that there was nothing to indicate the railroad was negligent.

The only sure way for a railroad to protect its flagman, he said, "would be to provide them with military tanks and make sure they stay in them while within or moving about crossing intersections in the performance of their duties."

Even that might not be fool proof, joked the usually reserved Whittaker, because "something (sic) might shoot him."

Justice William O. Douglas took an icy view of his colleague's "attempt at humor." He said "The rather smart aleky things which have been said about this case" could not disguise the fact that Matos could have been put in an inherently unsafe position.

Chessman's Life Hangs On A Thread

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — "I don't want to die, but I don't want to hang on up there in death row either."

Caryl Chessman has "hung on" for 11 1/2 years while 88 other men and one woman walked or were dragged from nearby cells to the gas chamber.

"If they considered the case on its merits, they should let me know and let's get on with it — on my way to hell."

The convicted rapist had just heard that the U. S. Supreme Court had refused Monday to hear his appeal for a new trial. It was the high court's 13th rejection of Chessman's pleas. He talked with newsmen in a warden's office just below death row.

"I'm as close to the gas chamber as I can get. Of course, I've been there before and now something will have to give. We can't go on ad infinitum."

Actually, Chessman has been much closer. His seventh date with death was last Oct. 23 and it was only four days away when he got another stay of execution.

"I guess we will make the rounds of the courts again unless I feel I've had enough. And I don't think I've had it."

The general legal opinion is that Chessman, 38, has "had it." Assistant Atty. Gen. Arlo E. Smith said he didn't think any judge would consider new petitions. Gov. Edmund G. Brown has refused clemency and said his action was final.

"I don't want a commutation to life. I'm too old to serve more time in prison, going to the 'yard' to live like a vegetable. I want a new trial and a finding of not guilty."

Chessman has faced death since before President Truman beat Thomas E. Dewey. He was sentenced June 25, 1948, as the "red light bandit of Los Angeles" on 17 counts of kidnaping, rape and robbery. The "bandit" used the red light to imitate a police car.

"I am innocent. I am not the red light bandit."

Moore Service Set Wednesday

Burglar Robs Cafe Of $50

The Busy Bee Cafe, 410 Maple, was burglarized of approximately $50 in cash sometime last night, by what police think was a lone burglar.

Captain Denny Roan said Henry Yates, owner, reported the break-in at 8:45 a.m. today. Roan said the thief entered the building through a kitchen window on the east side, broke open the juke box and walked out through the back door, leaving it open. Roan said tracks in the mud at the cafe led police to believe the burglar was committed by only one man.

Mr. and Mrs. John Helton are the parents of a son born recently at Shamrock Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Worley and Mr. and Mrs. Helton of Briscoe.

The Misses Carolyn and Sharon Farris were visitors to Shamrock Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones and family of Pampa spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Burks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bealy are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon, to Jack D. Helton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Helton of Briscoe. The wedding will be Dec. 20 at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Wheeler.

Mrs. George Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davidson of Kelton visited Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rutherford.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wall are the parents of a son, born Nov. 25 at Shamrock Hospital. The child, named Tony Ray, weighed 9 lbs. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burks of Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wall of Letora. The father was discharged from the Navy Monday and will be home sometime this week.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a teenage daughter whose actions are so rough and careless that I don't know what to do with her. While making a simple gesture, she accidentally hit her father so hard with her elbow that she suffered a black eye.

Last night she shampooed her hair and broke the sink off the wall. She is forever breaking combs and brushes in half. Once she pulled the handle off the refrigerator door. Is there something I can do to teach her to be more gentle and ladylike or is this the way all girls her age act?

ANN'S MOTHER: Your daughter, like most teen-age girls, is bursting with energy. She doesn't know her own strength and no one can teach her. When she discovers that boys like their girls to be the weaker sex, she won't be able to gather the strength to wind her watch.

DEAR ABBY: For about four weeks I have been bothered by someone calling my house and hanging up as soon as I say "hello." I have no idea who this could be. Some times I just stay on the line and this other party stays on the line but doesn't say a word. Is there any way I can trace these calls? It has me worried.

UPSET: If you can keep the mysterious caller on the line long enough to have someone get to another telephone and report it to the telephone company, the call can be traced — but not unless it continues, ask for a change of telephone numbers.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 26 months. We have two little boys. My wife's girlfriend got married six months ago and is expecting a baby in the near future. She is also in the process of getting a divorce. Her parents won't have anything to do with her. My wife felt sorry for her and told her she could stay with us without asking me. When my wife told me this I said her friend could not stay here as this is no boarding house and we were crowded as it was. I also said if the girlfriend stayed here, my wife would sleep with her and I'd sleep at the office.

Now the wife is mad at me. The girlfriend moved in and I moved out. What do we do now?

DEADLOCKED: Don't be stubborn. Move back into the house. Buy, borrow or rent a "cot" for your wife's girlfriend to sleep on. But get back into your own bed where you belong. Then calmly discuss means of getting the girlfriend out of your house and into a place of her own.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RUNT": When you realize that moral and physical strength are not measured by a man's size, you will grow up and be much happier. Get the book "LEAD-OFF MAN" by Dick Friedlich. It's a wonderful baseball story about Willie Pardee, a five-foot, five inch-tall boy who

Gamma Conclave Entertains With Yule Breakfast

Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority held its Christmas Breakfast on Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Ann Heakew, 1120 Somerville. Guests dined in a white and gold Christmas motif setting. Hostess were Mmes. John Evans, Roy Sparkman, Herbert Coker and Dan Johnson.

Gifts were exchanged by guests in a musical chairs game. Christmas carol booklets, made by Mrs. Austin Ruddick, were given as guest favors. Singing of Christmas carols completed the social hour.

During a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Charles Meech, president, plans were discussed for a Sweetheart Banquet to be held in February.

Mrs. Doris E. Wilson and Mrs. Eunice Nutt were special guests. Members attending were Mmes. B. G. Gordon, Homer Bowers, J. E. Tatum, Floyd Smith, W. L. Parker, D. V. Biggers, Charles Meech, W. A. Rankin, O. H. Odum, M. L. Carle, Truett Ross, D. B. Mackie, Otto Mangold, B. R. Nuckols, Austin Ruddick, Clyde Rucke, L. B. Penick, Houston Price, Joe D. Costimo, Ben Ogden, F. A. E. Stowell, Lois Morrison, G. M. Walls, Leona Woods, Gay Ammetter, Misses Elizabeth Erns, Alma Wilson, Mildred Hogland and Mrs. Teresa Humphreys.

Fuel bills in the average home can be cut 30 per cent by keeping window shades drawn tight during winter.

Gavel Club Has Christmas Meet

OES Past Matrons Gavel Club held its Christmas meeting in the home of Mrs. Bill Flewelling, 502 N. Russell, with Mmes. Ethel Alexander, Howard Warner, and Earl Casey as co-hostesses.

Secret Pals were revealed and learned that he couldn't go through life with both fists swinging. I wish all under-sized boys from 13 to 17 could read it.

Mrs. Townsend Reviews Book For Civic Culture

Mrs. J. B. Townsend reviewed the book, "Faith For These Troubled Times" by Denon S. Franklin at the Civic Culture Club meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. W. C. Scott.

"With illustrations that amuse or forcefully reveal the truth through an unexpected twist, or that inspire, the author faces the problems of today; the conflicts, burdens, frustrations and loneliness, and points the way out." Mrs. Townsend reviewed. "He reiterates throughout the book that God is the only real answer today and always and love is the greatest force for any day."

Mrs. Townsend, at the piano, illustrated her talk by singing well-known hymns and spirituals. Members brought gifts for the Mental Hospital patients in Wichita Falls.

Refreshments were served during the social hour to Mmes. C. E. Atkinson, Irvin Cole, R. E. Dauer, A. D. Hills, A. C. Houchin, Frank Lard, C. F. Pennington, W. C. Scott, K. A. Sorenson, J. B. Townsend, Katie Vincent, and Willis White.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

If, after watching the Harvesters win their first six games of the year, you're all set to make your reservations in Austin—you'd better wait a while.

It's true that the Harvesters have done an excellent job in stretching their winning streak to 50—a much better job than could be expected considering the fact they have only one starter back. But several other District 3-4A teams are also coming along as well or better than expected.

To reach the state meet for the seventh time in eight years, they'll have to do it over the dead bodies of such formidable teams as Borger, Palo Duro, Plainview, Monterey, and Lubbock. None of these teams show any signs of becoming corpse in the near future.

Even should the Harvesters somehow manage to run this obstacle course in a year which Pampa coaches admit is one of rebuilding, they'll still have to face a powerful Midland team in the regional playoff.

Let's look forward too fondly to a meeting with Midland, it would be well to consider that not a single team in District 3-4A has a losing record at this stage of the season.

It's a Tough Old League!

The Harvesters are the district's seven games before losing a pair only unbeaten team, with a 6-0 record, but have played fewer games than some of the other teams. Palo Duro has a 3-1 mark, Borger 5-1, Plainview 8-2, Lubbock 7-2, and Monterey 5-4. The only non-winning teams are Amarillo and Tascosa, both with 3-3 records.

District favorite Borger won four games before losing Saturday to mighty Midland, 67-46. The Bulldogs have averaged 69 points per game in racking up Sweetwater, Childress twice, and Phillips. Borger and Pampa played about equally well against Phillips, with Borger winning 69-44 and Pampa taking a 59-32 win.

Plainview, another highly rated contender, has lost only to Midland, 55-47, and to Seminole by two points, 55-53. The Bulldogs beat Phillips, 61-52.

Palo Duro, leading the district in offense with a 70 point average, has lost only to you—Midland. The score was 89-78. The Dons beat Phillips, 64-40. Monterey, picked for the district cellar, has been a surprise team, winning five of its first

This and Point Spreads, Too!

Not only does every team in the district have an even- or better record for the season; every team has a point-spread advantage over its combined opponents. The Harvesters, although they lead the won-lost department, are only fifth in point spreads.

Pampa has beaten its opponents by an average of 12 points, averaging 60 points on offense and allowing an average of 48 on defense. Borger has a whopping 20-point average spread, to lead the district in that department. Next are Lubbock with 18, Plainview with 17, and Palo Duro with 14. Below Pampa, Amarillo has an average point spread advantage of seven, Monterey of five, and Tascosa of three.

The Harvesters are only sixth in

Craig Leads Rice Owl Cagers To 93-79 Win Over Tulane

By BRUCE MILLER
United Press International

If David Craig, the Rice Owls' fine forward, can keep up the torrid pace he set Monday night against Tulane, he's a strong contender for all Southwest Conference honors.

The 6-2 front-lineer had the best night of his career, scoring 32 points, and looked as good on defense as he did leading the Owls' attack.

The production was enough to put him on top of the league's individual scoring race with 111 points in five games, and second in scoring average behind Jay Arnette of Texas who tossed in 20 points against Louisiana State University for a four-game total of 98 and a 24.5 average.

Texas kept its record clean and claimed a share of the loop's top spot whipping LSU 64-67, Rice

Borger Wins Over Dimmitt

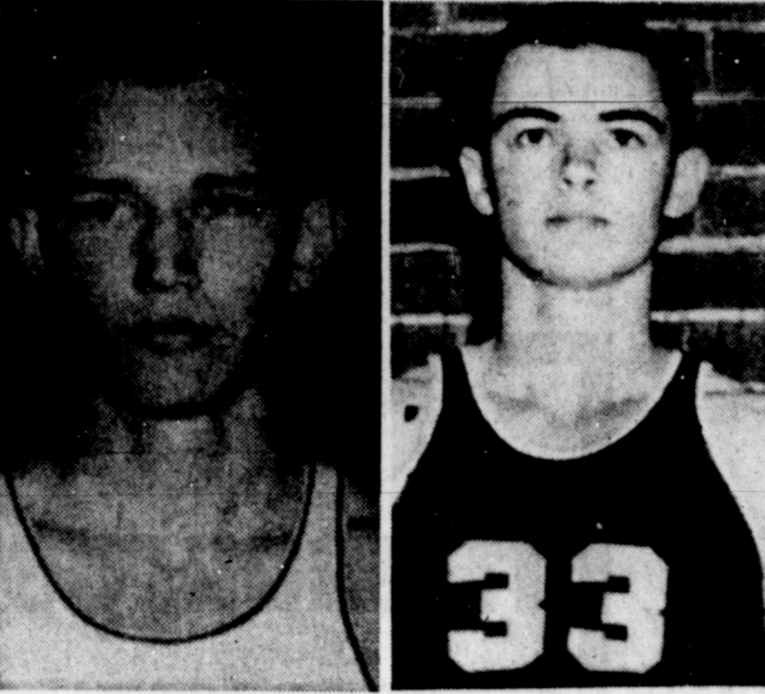

DIMMITT — Despite a 31-point scoring spurge by Dimmitt's Hal Ratcliff, the Borger Bulldogs won their fifth victory in six starts here Monday night, 70-59.

Borger led 20-18 at the end of the first quarter, 39-22 at halftime, and 51-38 going into the last period. Don Kent led Borger's scoring with 22 points.

NAMED MVPs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—End Bill Anderson, a pro two years, and tackle Bob Toney, a veteran who played his collegiate ball at Notre Dame, have been named the most valuable players on the 1959 Washington Redskins by local sports writers.

Ohio State Second

Cincinnati Again Top Cage Squad

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Cincinnati Bearcats remained No. 1 today in United Press International's major college basketball ratings and another Ohio team, the Ohio State Buckeyes, replaced California in second place.

West Virginia remained third in the latest balloting by the 25 leading coaches who rate the major schools for UPI. The coaches based their voting on games played through Saturday, Dec. 12.

California was fourth, North Carolina fifth and St. Louis sixth. Utah was seventh, Bradley eighth, Kansas ninth and Southern California 10th.

Bradley and Southern California were the newcomers in the top 10, replacing Kentucky and Indiana. Bradley was 12th last week while Southern California was 15th. Kentucky dropped from eighth to 13th after losing to South Dakota slipped from eighth to 11th after losing to Missouri.

Syracuse Captures Five NCAA Titles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Syracuse, which will meet Texas in the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1, is the first college football team in history to win five of the nine principal offense and defense championships.

Final NCAA figures showed today that Syracuse finished far ahead of the major college field in total yardage (451.5 yards a game), rushing offense (313.6), total defense (96.2), resistance to rushing (19.3) and scoring (39.9 points a game).

Bearcats, mentioned on every ballot, also received three votes for second, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth. Ohio State received two first-place votes and 255 points. West Virginia was close behind with two first place votes and 252 points. California drew four first-place votes and 243 points, North Carolina drew the other first-place vote and 217.

St. Louis received 144 points; Utah 100, Bradley 66, Kansas 45 and Southern California 43.

Plainview Wins Over Levelland

PLAINVIEW — The Bulldogs of Plainview won their eighth game in ten tries here Monday night over the Levelland Lobos, 89-59. The Bulldogs led 21-14 at the end of the first quarter, 46-35 at halftime, and 68-37 going into the final stanza. Dale Webb paced Plainview's scoring with 15 points.

Earlier Starting Time

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs announced Monday that the starting time for single games at Wrigley Field next season will be 1:30 p.m. This represented a change from the 1959 season when the games started one-half hour later.

Harvesters Shooting .472; Winborn Tops in Statistics

The Pampa Harvesters should be in good physical shape for the weekend series here with Sherman, barring further injuries or sudden illness.

The Harvesters and Shockers who had the flu last week are all fully recovered, and there have been no new cases. Members of the two squads took their second flu shots Monday, as a precautionary measure.

Phillips Gist is the only Harvester still ailing somewhat. "He's still wearing a brace for his back," Coach Clifton McNeely reported Monday, "but he's pretty well recovered from his injury."

Gist played full-time in the two games last weekend against Hobbs. Pampa's shooting average, as well as its physical condition, is top-notch. The Harvesters hit an even 50 percent of their shots in the Hobbs series (43 for 86) to raise their average 43 points, from .429 to .472.

The Harvesters' free-throw percentage, which had reached an almost fantastic .798 before the Hobbs series, dropped back to a more believable .743, despite the fact that they made the first 14 free throws they tried against Hobbs.

Craig Winborn, like his brother Coyle last year, leads the Harvesters in almost every department—total scoring, field goals, free throws, shooting percentage, free throw percentage, and rebounds. He yields the top spot only in a "minus" department—personal fouls.

Winborn, who has missed the 20 mark only once in six games, is hitting at a clip of 21.8 points per game, and has a total of 131 points.

He's the first Harvester to "break a hundred," and his 27 points Friday against Hobbs was Pampa's high game total of the young season.

Ten-Pin Tales

BY MARVIN OLSEN

McCathern and King's fine bowling team (first in the Classic League, first in the Top O' Texas) is making a strong bid to take over the lead in the fast-paced Traveling League.

The Schlitz team took over first in the Traveling League Sunday in action at the Grand Bowl in Amarillo, and McCathern moved into second. The two local teams run one-two over 19 other top teams from Amarillo, Borger and Clovis.

Bob Baker, who won the A all-events title in the just completed Top O' Texas, confided Monday that he was so nervous about his chances to win that he hesitated to call Harvester Bowl for confirmation. When informed he had won his achievement was glossed over by District Attorney Bill Waters who claimed ping-pong was a tougher sport.

At Garden Lanes
Garden Lanes bowlers came up with two 600's over the past week. Harry Hoepner added a 224-604 to his growing collection of big games, and alley owner Gil Burgund threw a 219-617.

Other big scores were Hoepner's 542, Ray Duncan's 565, George Mitten's 212-508, Carl Cox's 572, Bill Ladd's 557, Elmer Nichol's 533 and Dale Gibson's 558.

Among the women Mary Parker rolled 172-452. Bobbie Johnson had 169-405, and Mrs. Parker added another 462. Maxine Parsley picked the 6-7 split, and Metha Ward rolled a 426.

The Garden Lanes Juniors, who will be rolling in the Junior Christmas National Tournament this weekend, had another assortment of good scores Saturday. Mike King led with a 489. One of the junior teams finished with three series scores of 296, while the fourth bowler added a 278. Junior bowler Sam Johnson had a reverse staircase with 106-104-102.

Kentucky Wildcats Not Out of Picture

By FRED DOWN

Don't count those Kentucky Wildcats out of the national basketball picture!

They've suffered two early-season defeats but Coach Adolph Rupp's boys bounced back with a 77-72 overtime victory over Kansas Monday night and now go on to the week-end Kentucky Invitational Tournament in which third-ranked West Virginia, fifth-ranked North Carolina and sixth-ranked St. Louis also are entered.

A victory in that tournament plus a triumph over second-ranked Ohio State, Dec. 28, and the Wildcats would be right back among the country's top 10 teams—where they started the season with high hopes that this might prove to be one of Rupp's greatest teams.

Kentucky's third victory in five games was especially sweet for Rupp because it marked the 58-year old coach's first return to the Lawrence, Kan., campus since he won a letter on the 1922 national championship team there.

Kansas guard Bob Hickman sank a game-tying field goal with only 20 seconds remaining in regulation time so after all those years, Rupp had to wait five minutes more to win at his old stamping grounds. Then free throws by Don Mills and Sid Cohen, sandwiched between a tip-in and recovery by 6-9 center Ned Jennings clinched the victory.

Jennings was high scorer for Kentucky with 27 points but game honors went to Kansas soph Wayne Hightower who had 33 points. It was the second loss in five games for ninth-ranked Kansas.

West Virginia warmed up for the Kentucky Invitational with a 91-76 win over Virginia Military Institute, eighth-ranked Bradley nipped Providence, 57-55, 11th-ranked Indiana rallied to beat Kansas State, 67-58, 16th-ranked Illinois defeated Marquette, 89-77, Detroit topped Xavier, 85-71, for its fifth straight victory. Notre Dame downed Nebraska, 70-62, Mississippi won its sixth straight game, 75-58, over Arkansas State and Missouri beat Wisconsin, 74-66, in other top games.

Sugar Ray Kayoes Young After Being 'Shaken Up'

BOSTON (UPI) — The moral: Don't shake-up the Sugar Man.

Bob Young found that out Monday night as he served as Sugar Ray Robinson's target in the five-time middleweight champion's return to the ring battles after a 21-month layoff.

Robinson, only a few months less than 40, was tuning up for a so-called title bout Jan. 22 with Paul Pender of Brookline.

"I just goofed," said Young, who hails from Providence, R.I. and holds the New England light-heavyweight title.

Young meant the instance in the first round of the scheduled 10-rounder at the Garden, when he saw an opening, landed a good left hook and then was too surprised to follow it up.

Robinson admitted the punch hurt him.

"Yes, he hurt me in that first round," he said. "I had wanted to go five rounds after such a long period of inactivity. But I saw he was sharp and clever and I knew it was either him or me. Robinson, who admits to 36, though listed in the record book as 40 next year, proceeded to floor the 27-year-old Young three times in the second round before ending it with a kayo at 1:18.

"I knew I couldn't gamble after that first round," he said. "He was very clever."

Robinson, who weighed 161 lb. in Young's 1974, said he was "right" when he first climbed into the ring. "But I have a lot of ham in me and I loosen right up as soon as I saw the crowd (6,633 paid)."

"THAT'S RIGHT, NO BITE!"

Says MAURICE "LUTE" BAILEY, owner of the 12,000 acre JONES CATTLE COMPANY RANCH at Red Wing, Colorado.

Paar Back On Track

By FRED DANZIG United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Jack Paar show returned to New York Monday night after refreshing itself with a brief dip in Hollywood's whirlpool. Even Paar has acknowledged the obvious—that his night-blooming humor hot-house on NBC-TV needed this Western air, for things were getting almost oppressively edgy. The Hollywood venture made it fun again. I think the turning point was the celebrated, or celebrating Mickey Rooney visit.

Before this visit, Paar was in a rut. He seemed able to talk only about his professional, intramural problems and his guests also "fell into the rut with him. Cued by Paar, the guests would be called upon to deliver testimonials about how likeable a chap is Jack Paar. It all became mighty sticky.

The Rooney blow-up, or hiccup, rocked Paar out of this groove and once again his interesting, funny guests were permitted to be interesting and funny and to delve into non-Paar subjects. Like all Paar viewers, I also have some theories about the man's show and his success.

My theory is summed up in the formula: High-saturated publicity equals high spirits for Paar; low-saturation publicity equals low spirits. I say this even though Paar makes a big thing out of his contempt for newspaper publicity. Methinks he protests too much.

The longer Paar goes unnoticed, without page one publicity, the more irascible, hypersensitive and demanding he becomes. This tends to make his show a public shewazee, naked psyche. Fascinating, of course, but is it entertaining?

Remember the Dody Goodman feud? The difficulties with Walter Winchell, Newsweek, TV Guide and Jimmy Hoffa? All made news and seemed to refresh Paar's spirits for weeks. So it was with the Rooney episode. Right now, Paar is back in his all's-well-with-the-world mood. I hope it sticks, but history tells us he'll lose it and again start rattling around from one mood to another.

He has demonstrated that he can be extremely clever, witty, gracious and tactful, a master of his business. And he also has demonstrated that he can be indiscreet, tasteless, obnoxious, snobbish and, at times, even cruel.

Daniel Urging Road Safety

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. Price Daniel has urged Texans to prove traffic safety experts wrong for the third year in a row. He pointed out Texas highway fatalities have been lower for the past two holiday seasons than safety officials predicted.

He praised newspapers, radio and television stations and billboard companies for their help in circulating messages of safety. Traffic-safety officials have predicted that 111 persons would die on Texas highways during the holiday season. Daniel said in the final analysis, it is an individual effort to keep the death toll low.

That is the advice of Herbert A. Johnson, 32, one of New England's largest Christmas tree dealers. He disagrees with the theory that a tree is better preserved by putting its base in a container of water.

As soon as a tree is cut down, pitch begins to flow toward the open wound," he explained. "Then it hardens around the base and prevents water from entering the tree from the bottom.

Pressures On Schools

There's a fascinating little tidbit from the October issue of Current Magazine called "They're Stealing Time from Our Schools." Were it not for the seriousness of the situation we would have been certain that the purpose of the article by Philip Reaves was to revive the spirit of Gilbert and Sullivan. The plight of our government schools under pressure from scores of sources could make up into high comedy if it didn't result in such deplorable tragedy...

Now to the article and the malady it underlines. According to Mr. Reaves, the American school system (which means government schools) is in difficulty because of its well-meaning friends even more than because of its enemies, assuming there are such. These friends are forever in the process of elbowing into the curricula of the school with educational programs all of which are intended to accomplish some important good.

It's Still True

Chapter 78 in Book V of the Persian Wars, written by the "father of history," Herodotus, runs as follows: "Thus did the Athenians increase in strength. And it is plain enough, not from this instance only, but from many everywhere, that freedom is an excellent thing; since even the Athenians, who, while they continued under the rule of tyrants, were not a whit more valiant than any of their neighbors, no sooner shook off the yoke than they became decidedly the first of all. These things show that, while undergoing oppression, they let themselves be beaten since then they worked for a master; but so soon as they got their freedom, each man was eager to do the best he could for himself. So far it now with the Athenians." The reference relates to the death of the tyrant Hipparchus, who in 514 B.C., was slain by Harmodius and Aristogiton. It took approximately four years for the Athenians to grasp the importance of the freedom they had obtained in this matter. After they understood the significance of individual action and individual choice, they refused to accept any further depots for some time and endeavored to place emphasis upon the rights of individuals.

BETTER JOBS

The Fallocty That Revolution Cures Poverty The American Foundation has a series of articles on popular fancies written by Fred G. Clark and Richard Stanton Rimnancy.

This is the way they put it: "One of the tragedies of our century is the rash of rebellions and revolutions in the 'backward' countries where poverty is still predominant.

"In this age of artificial equality of man, it is unpopular to point out that, mentally, the masses of people in these 'backward' areas are like impulsive children, incapable of orderly, self-disciplined self-government.

"They are usually resentful of whatever government is in power, and for that reason must be governed with a rather strong hand.

"This resentment of government makes them easy prey for the revolutionary agitator, orator who promises them 'liberty' but merely substitutes one dictator for another.

"This wouldn't be so bad were it not that, today, the new dictator is almost invariably a Marxist, meaning Socialist or Communist, whose policies destroy the private ownership of the tools of production.

"Moreover, most Marxist governments, feeling insecure, want to conquer or dominate the nations around them.

"Surprisingly enough most Americans, conditioned by their 'liberal' newspapers, usually look upon these revolutions as 'forward steps of exploited populations.'

"The most recent example is the Cuban victory in Cuba. 'Everyone who looks the trouble to look, know that the Batista regime was tough and riddled with graft, but it is also true that it had attracted large quantities of foreign capital and modern tools which had raised living standards and would have continued to do so.

"Anyone who, today, takes the trouble to look at Fidel Castro's left-wing revolutionary career, knows that, although he himself is not a Communist, he (in the words of the Central Intelligence Agency) 'is certainly dominated by them.'

"And, by now, everybody who reads the papers knows that he can give Batista a long head start and still match him at the midnight-arrest, justice-by-firing-squad technique.

"As this is written, he is even spreading his reign of terror among his former comrades-in-arms who, in their innocence, really thought they were fighting for freedom.

"Under Castro, the Cuban people are no better off politically, and they are far worse off economically.

"The most persuasive arguments used by Castro in relying popular support were cheap rent and free land.

"Almost immediately after victory, he reduced rents, and as much as 20 per cent, and as much as 50 per cent.

"Regardless of how good this may have made the Cuban people feel, it has virtually halted the construction of badly-needed housing, and reduced the real-estate market to a state of chaos.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — There I was not doing anyone the slightest bit of harm, or trying not to when a shadow fell across the typewriter. I looked up and all I can tell you is that if you don't look up the next time a shadow falls across your typewriter, you may miss something. Like Stella Stevens. And if you miss someone like Stella Stevens you're missing the New Type Girl in movies.

"Are you Whitney Bolton?" she said, as simple and direct a sentence as anyone can imagine. I said I was.

"It's a silly kind of name," she said, "but I have to believe it is legitimate. No one could make up one like that. 'Some people you used to work with in California told me to look you up. I have. Let's go shopping.'"

"Miss Stevens," I said with some severity, "I cannot afford mink coats, diamond bangles or the Forum of the Twelve Caesars. What kind of shopping?"

"Not for me, for heaven's sake," she said, "for my Christmas list. I'm on a personal appearance tour for the picture, 'L'il Abner,' in which I play that less than fragment of human wreckage, Appassonata von Glomax. Tina Louise played it here on Broadway. I'm in it for Paramount in the movie. That's all the plugs there are; there aren't any more. But if they think I am going to be in New York five days and not get some Christmas shopping done, they have taken leave of their senses, as the Victorian novelists loved to put it. So let's go shopping.

"I'm not at all convinced that Gen. Forrest said it," she replied. "But I like the principle of the idea. Are we on our way?"

"Now let's dazzing happens to a newspaperman walking through his City Room. But this time I walked Stella Stevens and her $3,000 mutation coat from one end to the other and now my Managing Editor knows why the paper was 17 minutes late going to press. Work stopped at every desk and Miss Stevens was the center of all eyes. She is the kind of beauty who stuns men on sight. The women, well, they said her coat was lovely, but you know how caty women are.

"We made the scene at Saks Fifth Avenue, Cartier's, Tiffany's and similar shabby little pushcart type places, and in each Miss Stevens acquired a purchase or two. Nothing spectacular, just honest little examples of desirable and expensive goodies.

"Now let's go to Macy's," she said. "None of these places has an object I have to get or I can't go back to California."

"I suggested that worst thing could happen to her: that being forbidden to go back to California, but she said, no, she didn't think so. She liked California, the work, the money and the excitement of being a Memphis high school girl who became a starlet.

"Unless you have been a Memphis high school girl," she said, "you perhaps cannot know what I mean."

I said I'd never been one, but I had given through Memphis, together in the same co-operative have been immune from anti-trust legislation since the Clayton Act. But Senator Aiken of Vermont has recently introduced into Congress a measure which would exempt from immunity to groups of co-operatives together to fix selling prices. Of course, the Department of Agriculture has long approved of "marketing agreements" among fruit and vegetable growers which fix prices and eliminate competition.

From the point of view of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, all of this is simply "restraint of trade." It makes matters worse, back in 1937, the Miller-Tydings Act permitted manufacturers to set a price below which no one could sell their product. This was an open violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. It was destructive of competition. Eventually, "Fair Trade" broke down because it was unworkable, but the idea is again cropping up in Congress under a new name: "resale-price maintenance."

This confounding clash of opposite philosophies cannot continue indefinitely. Sooner or later Uncle Sam must make up his mind whether he wants competition and a reasonably free market or government sponsored monopoly and a controlled market. Uncle Sam cannot; always bless with one hand, he abolishes the other. Why not abolish this conglomeration of conflicting laws and commissions, and try freedom? It is time—also for the sake of "economy" or to achieve a hoped-for "efficiency" in the use of money.

Nobody Is Missed Using Henry's System

By HENRY McLEMORE

There must be a better system for sending out Christmas cards than the one employed at our house.

It is time-wasting, laborious, and doesn't work. Our system — and for heaven's sake, don't ever use it, for it will drive you crazy — calls for a November start. We usually start the creaky wheels rolling about the fifteenth of that month, but really should get underway in October.

On the surface, our system is simplicity itself and, when I thought it up several years ago, Mary was as excited as I was, and we both agreed that at least we had the problem licked.

"Every day, beginning in November, we sit down for at least an hour and write down every possible combination of Christian and surname we can think of. We start with A and try to reach Z, for what is worse than getting a Christmas card from a friend or acquaintance you overlooked on your list?"

You'd be surprised at how many combinations of first and last names there are. The "A's" alone run to hundreds of pages. Alice Adams, Arthur Abbott, Aimee Appleton, Alexander Anson, Anson Arlen...

The "B's" are just as bad, and so are the "C's" and the "D's". I wouldn't be surprised if there are several hundred billion combinations.

When we have finished our list — or better, when Christmas is so close we have to start mailing the cards, finished or not — we run through it and pick out the people we know from the names we have written down.

There are thousands and thousands of names, of course, which do not belong to any persons we know, but we do find a great many we would have forgotten had we trusted purely to memory.

The "I" list was particularly rewarding last year. In assembling all the possible "I" combinations, Mary happened to hit on Judson Jaderley, a man we spent a great deal of time with in Spain four years ago. We had completely overlooked his name, and when a card came from him it made us happy to know he had gotten one from us. I suppose he did, for we sent it care of General Delivery, Barcelona, which was where he was getting his mail when we last saw him.

We not only put down names of people, but names of firms, too. It may be wrong, but we believe that business firms are pretty well overlooked by most Christmas card senders. We feel that a hardware store, or an appliance store, or a plumbing firm that sends you a lovely and admirable city, and didn't see that California was any great patch on it. By this time our juhu had piloted us to Macy's and I followed her to the toy department.

"Saks Fifth had a toy department," I said. "What's here?"

"I have to get a Marx-Mobile, that or nothing," she said. "I have a must order."

"Aren't you a little long in the tooth to be playing with toy cars?" I said. She said, no, that wasn't it. It was for her 4-year-old son. Now I know about Tennessee marriages. They are no mirages. Stella Stevens looks 17 years old and might be as much as 20, at the most. And she has a 4-year-old son — she showed him his picture.

card should get one in reply. Certainly our TV set works a lot better since we started sending the repair company a Christmas greeting.

We are working on the "R's" at the moment, which means we are behind and will have to start working nights. Excuse me and I'll get to work right now.

Roger Rhombold, Rufus R a forty, Rip Rattigan, Roberta Ransom...

When we have finished our list — or better, when Christmas is so close we have to start mailing the cards, finished or not — we run through it and pick out the people we know from the names we have written down.

There are thousands and thousands of names, of course, which do not belong to any persons we know, but we do find a great many we would have forgotten had we trusted purely to memory.

Advertisements on the right margin including: LOUISE, BEAUTY, SIROU, RETE, Male 1, $117, Male 2, $117, Male 3, $117, Male 4, $117, Male 5, $117, Male 6, $117, Male 7, $117, Male 8, $117, Male 9, $117, Male 10, $117, Male 11, $117, Male 12, $117, Male 13, $117, Male 14, $117, Male 15, $117, Male 16, $117, Male 17, $117, Male 18, $117, Male 19, $117, Male 20, $117, Male 21, $117, Male 22, $117, Male 23, $117, Male 24, $117, Male 25, $117, Male 26, $117, Male 27, $117, Male 28, $117, Male 29, $117, Male 30, $117, Male 31, $117, Male 32, $117, Male 33, $117, Male 34, $117, Male 35, $117, Male 36, $117, Male 37, $117, Male 38, $117, Male 39, $117, Male 40, $117, Male 41, $117, Male 42, $117, Male 43, $117, Male 44, $117, Male 45, $117, Male 46, $117, Male 47, $117, Male 48, $117, Male 49, $117, Male 50, $117, Male 51, $117, Male 52, $117, Male 53, $117, Male 54, $117, Male 55, $117, Male 56, $117, Male 57, $117, Male 58, $117, Male 59, $117, Male 60, $117, Male 61, $117, Male 62, $117, Male 63, $117, Male 64, $117, Male 65, $117, Male 66, $117, Male 67, $117, Male 68, $117, Male 69, $117, Male 70, $117, Male 71, $117, Male 72, $117, Male 73, $117, Male 74, $117, Male 75, $117, Male 76, $117, Male 77, $117, Male 78, $117, Male 79, $117, Male 80, $117, Male 81, $117, Male 82, $117, Male 83, $117, Male 84, $117, Male 85, $117, Male 86, $117, Male 87, $117, Male 88, $117, Male 89, $117, Male 90, $117, Male 91, $117, Male 92, $117, Male 93, $117, Male 94, $117, Male 95, $117, Male 96, $117, Male 97, $117, Male 98, $117, Male 99, $117, Male 100, $117.

Walter Rogers Reports

Rep. Rogers Reminded Of Decay Of Moral Standards

This newsletter is being written after my arrival in Washington for a continuation of the Goldfine hearings. You will recall that Mr. Goldfine is the man who was under investigation last year because of alleged questionable practices in the operation of several businesses in purported violation of Federal laws. His activities in these businesses brought into the public limelight a number of public figures, including Mr. Sherman Adams, the Assistant President of the United States. You will also recall that shortly after the revelations uncovered by these hearings Mr. Adams ceased his connection at the White House as Assistant President. Mr. Goldfine's reappearance here to permit him to answer eighteen questions which he had refused to answer at the previous hearings. His refusal to answer the questions resulted in his being indicted, tried, and convicted of contempt of Congress. The court gave Mr. Goldfine a jail sentence and a fine, but suspended the same on the condition that Mr. Goldfine answer the eighteen questions. In other words, if Mr. Goldfine had refused to answer the questions, he would have been remanded to jail and ordered to pay the fine. Therefore, he did come before the Subcommittee and answer the questions.

The answers to the questions proved to me that the corporations in question were not being operated in compliance with the laws which other corporations are required to comply. They also proved to me that these activities had extended over a number of years. This of course gives rise to the further question of why such activities were permitted and who was in charge of them. I am convinced that the answer to this question lies in the high government circles to permit Goldfine to so operate. We attempted to get more information on this subject from Mr. Goldfine by trying to get him to tell us the names of the real parties in interest in the ownership of a valuable piece of business property in Boston. Mr. Goldsalacious literature, the increasing crime rate, the juvenile delinquency problem, the questionable practices of government contractors and government individuals dealing with those contractors. These are only a few of the things which can be mentioned. It is much better that we be realistic about the whole situation and face up to it now, then to sweep it under the rug and permit it to continue to eat at the vital structure of our government.

In the words of a taxicab driver with whom I was riding the other day, "Things might be a lot better if everyone had stayed in a small town where everybody knows each other and you have to behave yourself."

Visitors
A recent visitor in the office was Mr. Jess Hill, who came by the office while he was in Washington. Mr. Hill is from Amarillo, and we certainly enjoyed seeing and talking with him.
