

Laketon Reports First Gray County Harvest

3 Trucks Arrive At Elevators

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

First reports of the wheat harvest in Gray county began trickling in to the Daily News Saturday.

The first recorded delivery to area elevators came shortly before noon Saturday from the Laketon Wheat Growers elevator 17 miles southeast of Pampa.

About 3:45 p.m. a second report came from the Barnett-Wilkinson grain elevator in Pampa where H. C. Graham, a rancher east of Pampa, delivered 50 bushels which tested at 62 pounds to the bushel. Moisture content was set at 12.45.

Laketon elevator manager J. W. (Tots) Baird said the first truckload in Gray county reached Laketon shortly before noon from the R. C. Carter ranch near Mobeetie.

The Carter yield measured from 20 to 25 bushels to the acre on dryland acreage.

A second truckload of wheat reached Laketon about 2:25 p.m. Saturday from Bob Galmor, a rancher east of Laketon, who delivered 322 bushels weighing 27,800 pounds.

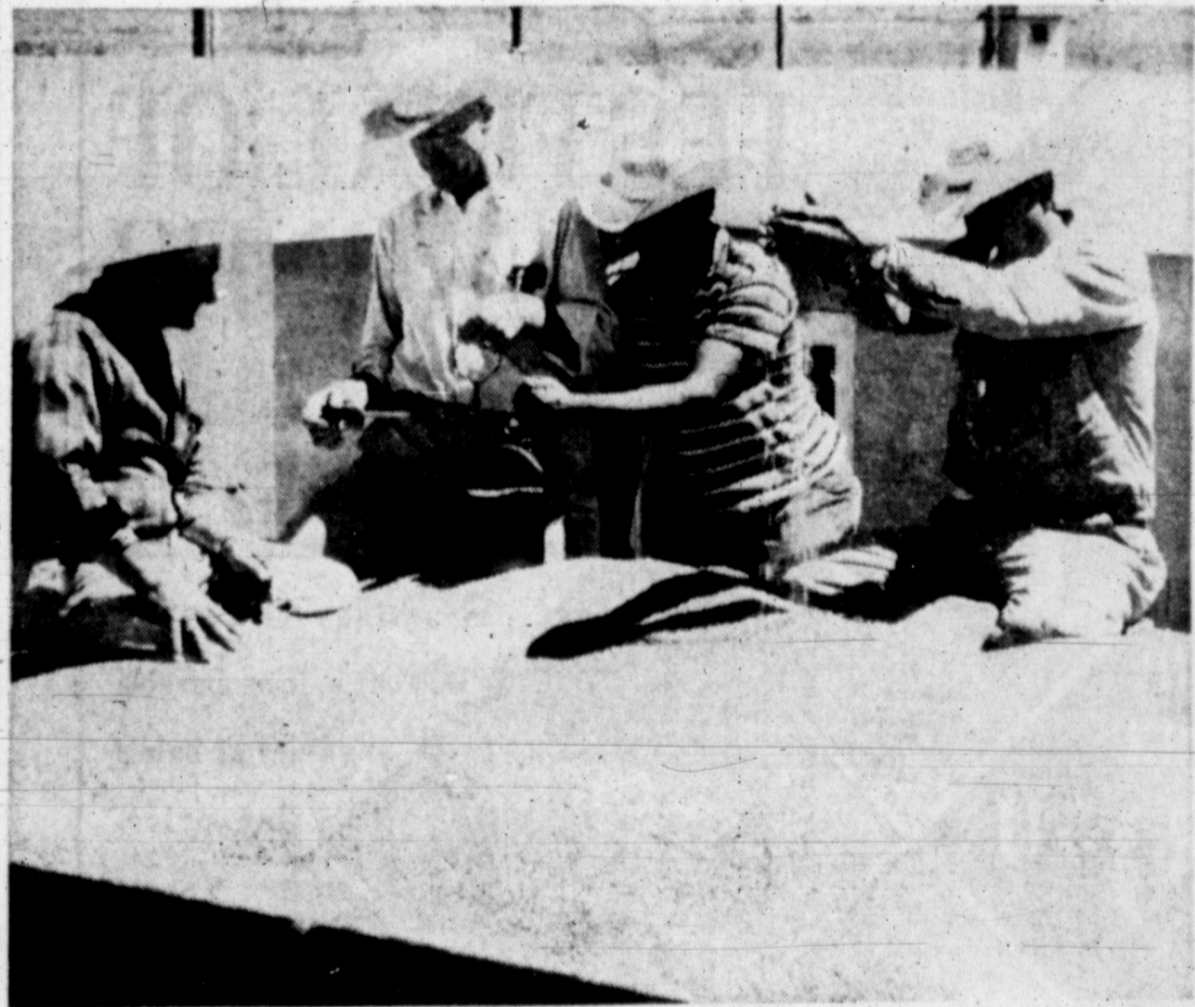

Tots Baird estimated that Carter was growing about 60 pounds to the bushel, and that Galmor was getting about 62 pounds. Both men were growing Early Wichita seed and delivered wheat with a moisture content of 13.

Baird said he believes more wheat will arrive today and that irrigated wheat will begin coming in early (See LAKETON, Page 2)

SHOULDER HIGH?

Well, not quite, but wheat in the Pampa area—where good moisture has fallen—has taken on a healthy golden color and looks nearly ready for harvest. The "prettiest" field of wheat in the area Saturday was W. C. Epperson's irrigated stand where Pampa's June Hendricks, 1313 N. Starkweather, took time for a closer look. (Daily News Photo)

62 POUNDS PER BUSHEL

The Laketon Grain Growers elevator chalked up the first truckload of wheat in Gray county Saturday, a load weighing 62 pounds per bushel, slightly higher than expected. Making measurements of the second truckload to reach Laketon are left right, "Tots" Baird, manager of the Laketon elevator; Bob Galmor, weigher and Laketon area rancher; Buster Baird, dumper and elevator operator; and Clifford Walser, who combined the wheat. The wheat, Early Wichita, grew at the Galmor ranch at about 20 bushels to the acre. (Daily News Photo)

4 Boys Fight For Lives

By JACK V. FOX
United Press International

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Four white youths accused of raping a Negro coed fought for their lives Saturday night as their sensational trial neared a white jury.

Prosecutor William Hopkins had yet to reveal whether he would demand the electric chair.

But the four defense attorneys, in closing arguments, anticipated that he would. They hammered at the theme of the girl's willingness when the whites had intercourse with her in a lonely pine woods.

"These boys are being publicized, ridiculed and sacrificed to satisfy other people in other places," city judge and defense lawyer John Rusty said. "Don't become hysterical like the northern press did. We can run our own affairs in a fair and honest manner. All this will pass away."

Could Get Death

The defendants, Patrick Scarborough, 20, David Boagles, 18, Wilton Collinsworth, 23, and Ollie Stroutamire, 16, will get the death penalty if they are found guilty without a recommendation of mercy from a majority of the 12-man jury.

Deputy Prosecutor Harry Morrison summed up the state's case.

Accidental Death Is Ruled

A Roberts county coroner's jury ruled Saturday that Frederic E. Collett, 49-year-old Pampa real estate salesman, died accidentally from a wound suffered June 5 at Miami's Five Mile Park. The decision followed one week of investigation and was announced Saturday through the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Mr. Collett was described by friends as an ardent outdoorsman

"We submit the evidence is so clear and definite and positive that actually it would hardly appear to be necessary to repeat the facts," Morrison said.

"You had occasion to observe this girl. You had the opportunity to hear her testimony from beginning to end and to hear her submit to cross examination by four of the best lawyers in Tallahassee.

He was wounded just below the heart by a bullet from a .22 caliber pistol which was found at his side near a roadside table.

He was found, still alive, by highway workmen at about 2 p.m. Friday, June 5, and was driven to Wesley Hospital in Pampa by ambulance. He died at Wesley at 10 p.m.

Konrad Stays To Scrap

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
United Press International

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Konrad Adenauer said Saturday his decision to remain at the helm of the German government was made to preserve western unity, in the wake of John Foster Dulles' death, and to meet increasing Russian threats.

"The free nations must maintain a front that is firm and strong," the German Chancellor said in an exclusive interview with United Press International.

It was Adenauer's first press interview since his about-face decision to retain his job as chancellor and the dispute which followed with vice Chancellor and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

Adenauer said no personal affection for Erhard had entered into his decision.

He spoke with emphasis on the imperative need for Western unity, but more slowly and with care in answering questions about Erhard.

"With the increasingly acute international situation, and with John Foster Dulles gone, it seemed to me wrong to step out just at this moment," he said.

Tension Too Strong

"For 10 years I have cooperated with the statements of the free world, for seven of them with my friend Dulles. I have won much experience and Germany has come to enjoy the confidence of the free world."

Switching to the third person, Adenauer added, "And with the present situation, one dare not step out. It would not be right until the tensions have relaxed."

Then he added: "I want to know that my work will be carried on. There are young people in sight coming along, but one can step out only when one knows that the work will be continued as it was begun. It is to the good of the nation that my work be continued."

Adenauer said the differences between France and the United States must be eliminated, and added:

"Differences between the United Kingdom and some other countries, while minor, can and must be eliminated. If the West remains strong, the Soviet Union will one day have to give in. But if a crack shows in Western unity, the Soviets will continue to bore in and to drive the wedge ever deeper."

Would Suspend Talks

Homeland Advice Is Sought By Big Four

Trying To Salvage Something

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Saturday consulted their home governments on whether to try to salvage something from the wrecked talks on Berlin or end them. American officials said the conference probably would wind up in recess Tuesday if Russia refuses to back down.

The five-week-old conference was at a dead standstill. It probably will get nowhere unless Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev withdraws an ultimatum to the West to get out of West Berlin in a year or "face the consequences."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville flew home for consultations with their chiefs.

Big Two Remain

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan warned in London that if Russia does not stop its threats and stalling at Geneva, "the Berlin situation still may become dangerous."

Only the big two—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remained behind in Geneva. They were studiously avoiding each other.

Herter received some cables from Washington and sent some. Presumably, Gromyko did the same.

A secret meeting of all four ministers was scheduled for Monday, but there was nothing stirring this weekend.

High American officials said Saturday that all signs point to a break-up next week. They said the conference probably would end Tuesday if Russia fails to soften its demands. But Soviet sources said Gromyko would resist a recess and possibly force the West to end it completely. The idea of a recess was meeting favor in the West.

Court Order To Give Long Chance To Talk

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — A court order Saturday directed that Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long be brought into court personally Monday to back up his charges that he was drugged, tied hand and foot and flown to a mental hospital in Texas as a governor "in exile by force of kidnapping."

If Long does show up at the hearing, it will be his first public appearance since May 30 outside the walls of John Sealy hospital, where he has been confined for mental illness.

Daniel Bobbitt, University of Texas medical branch director of hospitals, confirmed Saturday that he has received a subpoena to appear in court and that he was ordered to bring Long with him.

19 Foreign Air Cadets Tour Pampa Industries

Nineteen foreign air cadets, who are training at the Amarillo Air Force Base, toured the Pampa Cabot and Celanese plants Saturday and were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in the Pine Room of the Pampa Hotel.

The cadets and their tour sponsor, Madam Ali Ghito, from Amarillo, a former German movie actress, were welcomed on the steps of the hotel by M. K. Brown, a pioneer Englishman, and E. Roy Smith, publisher of the Daily News.

At the luncheon Brown made an impromptu speech welcoming the young men to the Top O' Texas. "We hope you will take a good report back to your country about how gracious and friendly the people of West Texas are," Brown said.

From Brown's remarks about the early history of Pampa, some of the cadets may have gotten the impression that Pampa was a British Crown Colony. But this was quickly set to rights.

A number of Pampa Chamber members accompanied the cadets and their vivacious sponsor on the plant tour. They were W. L. Veale, Lewis B. Hackley, and Horace Prince of Cabot.

The group received a red-letter invitation to return to Pampa for the Chamber sponsored Fourth of July celebration set for Recreation Park.

Madam Ghito has known the group for seven weeks, during which time she has taken them on tours in connection with the program of the Amarillo YMCA. One of their most enjoyable tours was to Taos, N.M.

The cadets are the top men in their countries and were sent to the United States for a special training. Among the countries represented are Ethiopia, Colombia, the Philippines, Iran, Portugal and Italy.

To Attend Hearing

Bobbitt said both he and Long would be at the hearing. He added that no medical doctors from the hospital have been summoned to appear.

Long, 63, was flown to Galveston on May 30 in a Louisiana National Guard airplane. His wife, Blanche, and a cousin had him committed for 14 days by court order and a hearing on a 90-day commitment was scheduled for Tuesday.

Long filed a writ of habeas corpus Friday, asking to be released from the hospital, charging that he was drugged, tied hand and foot and was "forcibly, unwittingly and unwillingly" brought to Texas and asserting that Texas courts have no jurisdiction over him.

Signs Petition

Long signed the petition personally as "Earl Long, governor in exile by force of kidnapping."

Adrian S. Levy Sr., one of Long's three court-appointed attorneys, said Saturday that Long may be correct in claiming he was kidnapped.

"We take the position that he was brought here forcibly and against his will," Levy said. "Therefore, he is being unlawfully restrained. I am not saying that it was a kidnapping but the petition speaks for itself."

"If you want my personal opinion, I think he was kidnapped."

Levy said that if the judge should find that Long is being unlawfully restrained in Texas "that will be the end of it—there won't be any hearing on Tuesday."

Land Bids Near Hotel Being Taken

Sealed bids are now being taken for two parcels of land bordering the future $1,250,000 Pampa Community Hotel on N. Hobart St., Crawford Atkinson, president of the Hotel Realty Corp. announced Saturday.

The two parcels — labeled blocks one and two — are situated on each side of the hotel, Atkinson said, and will be "ideal for the development of shopping or commercial centers."

Block One, situated on the corner of Hobart and Gwendolen streets, has approximately 650 feet of frontage on Hobart, and 520 feet on Gwendolen. The land covers 6.87 acres.

Block Two is at the corner of Hobart and Kentucky streets and covers 17.36 acres. There is about 1,000 feet of frontage on Hobart, and 725 feet depth on Kentucky.

Atkinson said that sealed bids will be opened Aug. 1, but noted that the Hotel Corporation owners have reserved the right to reject any or all bids.

Local Deelay Shooting For 'Stay Up' Mark

"I'm shooting for 131 consecutive hours without sleep," yawned twenty-three-year-old Rocky Randall as he climbed into bed shortly before noon Saturday.

"I figure if I can stay awake that long I'll break the all-time Texas record for any disc-jockey staying on the job before the mike," the new KHHH radio program director declared here just before rolling over for a long 32-hour rest.

The former TCU and Texas Tech student who majored in radio and television in college will remain in bed until 7 p.m. this evening. At that time he'll arise, shave and make ready for his assault on thing that's worthless," he said. "Somebody is lying in this case. Somebody is lying, and it's not my boy (Beagles)."

"She led him to believe there was consent—he can't be a mind reader."

Williams glanced at the packed Negro gallery above him and said that throughout the trial he had a background of "people shaking their heads and beating their fists together."

Rudd pointed to Stoutamire, the youngest defendant. "Shall we kill or incarcerate this long-legged, pale-faced, skinny little boy because he happened to be in the wrong place at the wrong time?" he asked.

He told Ollie to stand up. The boy was crying. He put a handkerchief to his eyes.

"That boy's life is in your hands," Rudd said. Collinsworth, the oldest, also was crying at the defense table as his lawyer described his father beating him as a child and growing up to know nothing but unkindness.

Harry Michels, attorney for Scarborough, held up a belt that had been found in the white boy's car.

"This belt is typical of the state's evidence in this case," he said. "You heard no testimony whatsoever as to any part of this belt played."

"There's not one iota of testimony that was bound, or tied or gagged."

Only Scarborough and Beagles took the witness stand. They swore the girl submitted to them.

Collinsworth pleaded temporary insanity. Stoutamire's attorney said his client was a frightened boy who wanted to let the girl go and that there was great doubt he was even able to have intercourse or knew what it was.

The girl told the jury she was kidnapped at gunpoint from a car where she was parked with her date and another college freshman pair, all Negroes, and raped seven times after a nine-inch switchblade knife was put at her throat.

If the jury finds them guilty without a recommendation of mercy, Judge W. M. Walker must sentence the youths to the electric chair.

If there is a mercy recommendation by a majority of the 12 male jurors, Walker can give them anything from a lecture to life.

It appeared some of the youths might get sterner sentences than their companions if found guilty. Scarborough, an Air Force man, admitted he had the shotgun.

Zalabassas was calm and hot Saturday afternoon with no crowd outside the courthouse although both white and Negro spectators seats were jammed. There was a waiting line for seats.

The Rev. C. K. Steele, local head of the NAACP, has said he fears there may be trouble if the boys are acquitted or get off with mild sentences.

Thirty-seven Negroes have been electrocuted in Florida for rape in the past 25 years. One white man has gone to the chair for raping a white woman.

Not Himself Collinsworth's blonde wife, Pearl, took the stand Saturday to fight for her husband. She shook with sobs as she described his wild behavior while drinking.

FBI Rejects Mother's Tale Of Abduction

GYUMON, Okla. (UPI) — The FBI has rejected a young mother's story about being kidnaped and has freed three persons she accused of abducting her in Albuquerque, N.M.

Mrs. Jeannette Bailey, 26, of Akron, Ohio, triggered a search for her by writing a note in Tucuman, N.M., which read: "I've been kidnaped. Please help. Headed for Amarillo." A woman found the note in a service station restroom.

Friday, Mrs. Bailey flagged down a police car at Guymon and said she had escaped from three abductors—two men and a woman—at a motel.

Police arrested Jesse Kenner and Harold Holderton, both about 35, and Lois McWilliams Stripling, 32. All three are from Farmington, N.M.

The FBI took statements from the two men and the woman and the U.S. attorney at Albuquerque. After a quick check, authorities said there was no evidence of any law violation and said no charges would be filed against the three or Mrs. Bailey.

Wesley Grapp, FBI agent in charge for Oklahoma, said he didn't know why Mrs. Bailey invented the kidnap story. "It's just one of those things," he said.

WOW, WHAT AN ANTENNA

Young Carl Clark reported that beginning about 5:15 p.m. they began receiving a "good, clear picture" from station KPPT in Oakland, Calif. on Channel Five. Flicking from channel to channel the Clarks also received strong signals from Channel Two—"someplace in Wisconsin"—and another picture on Channel Three.

"It must have been caused by atmospheric conditions," Carl commented.

Nation Indifferent To Civil Defense, States Dr. Emme

The United States is far behind Russia in its preparations for Civil Defense, according to Dr. Eugene M. Emme, from the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, Battle Creek, Mich. In a Pampa interview Saturday, Dr. Emme cited lack of interest on the part of the public and government officials.

Dr. Emme, his wife Ruth and two children will be in Pampa for a few days visiting Mrs. Emme's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Rance, 100 W. Browning.

Besides being project director of the Operations Research Office of Civil Defense, Dr. Emme is author of a widely reviewed book, "The Impact of Air Power." He is now working on a paper to be presented at the American Historical Association Convention in Chicago, Ill., this December.

He was formerly research advisor on the faculty of the Air War College.

Dr. Emme recommended putting windowless areas in new buildings, which could serve as bomb shelters. He noted that civil defense is nothing new. The cyclone cellars that Westerns build are prime examples of civil defense construction.

On the subject of aviation, Dr. Emme mentioned the "really tough problems" which must be overcome to get a man into space. These are both psychological and physiological. "In a gravity free sent talks be suspended for four weeks. With an extended interruption, perhaps we can find a new start with better chances of success."

"I do not think the Russians will go to the very limit in the present crisis, because they do not want to start a nuclear war over Berlin."

The United States is "quite right" in refusing to go to a summit meeting without new and specific Soviet guarantees of Western rights in West Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for atom-free zones is aimed at increasing Soviet security "without reciprocity," and to the defensive disadvantage of the West.

Negotiations with the Communist regime of East Germany or German reunification are "absolutely out of the question."

West German democracy is soundly based. Nazism lasted for only twelve years and the last traces have now died out. "I am fully convinced that the stability of democracy in Germany is secure."

The 77 million East Germans will regain their freedom within this generation. "But patience will be needed since the Soviets block the direct path of free elections."

Adenauer seemed completely relaxed. He received me in his large office in a former royal palace overlooking the Rhine. His health seemed good. Despite the chill of early evening, all windows were wide open.

His handshake and his voice were firm. His relatively unlined face showed neither his 83 years nor the political storm raging about his head over his decision to remain as chancellor.

Although his staff had prepared suggested answers to six basic questions which had been submitted to him, he seemed to be driven by King and Snodgrass March 20 on the Lefors highway.

In his suit King is asking $42,000 for pain and suffering that followed the collision, and $1,800 for medical and hospital bills.

King alleges that Snodgrass attempted to pass a pickup truck shortly before the crash, and drove onto the wrong side of the highway straight at his (King's) car.

Both men were seriously injured in the mishap. King suffered injuries to his legs and claimed the loss of several teeth.

Adenauer disengaged the aide memoir and answered readily and extemporaneously.

Adenauer said of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva that "the over-all situation is bad."

Expanding on his suggestion for a four-week recess, he said: "I would not suggest the conference be broken off. That would give the Soviets a wonderful opportunity to start a propaganda offensive. The West must do all in its power to prevent the Soviet ultimatum on Berlin from becoming effective."

Recalls Agreement The Chancellor recalled that in the Big Four agreement at Paris in July 1949, ending the Berlin blockade, free access to Berlin was specifically guaranteed.

"The United States and Great Britain at that time set up guard posts along the access routes and sent regular military patrols to insure that the agreement was actually effective," he said.

"For some reason—I don't know why—these measures were later dropped. Had they been continued, this business today would never have happened."

Pampan Named At Austin Girls State

AUSTIN (Sp) — Karen Capps of Pampa, a Citizen of Bluebonnet Girls State now in progress in Austin, at the Texas School for the Blind, was elected Precinct 3 Federal Party Leader of her City of Jim. She is assigned to the Federalists party and is residing and voting in Dee County.

The 1959 Session of Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference, of 94 girls held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the biggest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas.

This year, a full quota of 400 girls, the largest number which can be presently accommodated at the Texas School for the Blind, are in attendance, making a total of almost 600 girls who have participated in this top level citizenship-training program. Citizens are selected at the local levels on basis of character and leadership from students who have completed their junior year in high school each year.

He is survived by his wife, Daisy of Woodward, Okla.; three daughters, Mrs. Gladys McDowell of Pampa, Mrs. Lynett Hudson of Fort Worth, Mrs. Virgin Smith of Texarkana; three sons, Charlie of Skellytown, Elmo and J. W., both of Pampa.

Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Services Set For Dr. Davis Of Higgins

HIGGINS (Sp) — Funeral services for Dr. Jesse J. Davis, 86, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the Higgins Baptist Church. Dr. Davis died at 4:20 p.m. Saturday at his home here.

Born in Freestone County in 1873, Dr. Davis attended medical schools in St. Louis, Mo. and Louisville, Ky. and in 1902 received his medical degree from the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Immediately after receiving his degree he was married to Miss Virginia Williamson and started his practice in Fairfield. Eighteen months later he went to Lipscomb and practiced for a short time before locating in Higgins.

Dr. Davis was active in civic enterprises and served as president of the local Lions Club several years ago.

Survivors include his wife and one son, Jesse R. of Spearman, four grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Two sons preceded him in death.

The Rev. James Bryant, First Baptist pastor, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Higgins Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home, Shattuck, Okla.

Army Seeks New Wacs Says Sgt. Dills

The Women's Army Corps is seeking qualified young women with the ambition to step into a well-paying, interesting, and challenging executive position, SFC John C. Dills, announced today.

This is possible through the WAC direct commission program. This program allows college trained women, who qualify, to be appointed directly as a second or first lieutenant.

A U.S. Army commission for women provides pay, prestige and responsibilities comparable with civilian executive positions, SFC Dills explained.

Twice each year a 20 week training course is conducted for selected women between 20 and 32 years of age. The next class will begin in September of this year. It will be held at the U.S. Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.

Applications for commissions are now being accepted. All applications must be submitted before July 8 for consideration to attend the September class.

Information on the opportunities and requirements for a career as an officer in the Women's Army Corps may be obtained from SFC Dills, 112 E. Foster St., Pampa, or by calling MOhawk 5-2022, Collect.

The Navy fleet, which includes destroyers, a heavy cruiser and an amphibious force of seven ships, will visit 27 cities in the seven states bordering the Great Lakes. The ships will enter the Great Lakes on June 25 and return to the Atlantic Fleet in late July.

Pampa Pastor Is Thrilled by Flight

By WALLACE TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

From nearly getting hit by a car on West Atchison it is a relief to soar over the City with Pampa's flying preacher. "If you don't take any chances on bad weather you're fairly safe," says the Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of Pampa's First Methodist Church. "You go up there and practice a few landings and it really takes your mind off your work," he says. "You can't think of anything else hardly. No two landings are alike. It seems like the wind's a little different each time you come in. In a difficult place where you don't have much room to take off or land it helps to have wind."

Adcock finds that early morning or late afternoon are the best times to fly. When the air is thin from heat, the motor has to put forth more power, and the plane doesn't maneuver as well. Flying came easily to Adcock, who soloed in five hours in 1957. He received his pilot's license early in 1958 after taking the written test and test flight prescribed by the CAA.

He owns one-fifth of a 1946 Aeronca Chief, a two place plane weighing 1,100 pounds. The other owners and members of the Atlas Flying Club are Eric Edwards, Don Stephens, Denver Tucker and J. C. Branscum. Adcock and his partners have $1,000 invested in the plane and hangar.

The farthest he has flown is Corpus Christi, some 600 miles from here. His wife and three-year-old daughter have flown with him to Lubbock. His son Woody, 14, has flown with him more than anyone else.

"It's cheaper to fly than to drive a car," says Adcock. "You can cover 100 miles on four and one-half gallons of gas." Furthermore, the visibility is better, except around crowded airports.

Adcock has been fascinated by flight ever since 1927 when Charles Lindbergh hopped from New York to Paris. He went to Abilene that year to hear Lindbergh tell his story of the flight.

Lindbergh said that this country was on the verge of an air era, he recalls.

Thirteen year old Adcock wanted to be an aviator and read everything he could find on flying but his parents discouraged him.

As an Army chaplain during World War II, he flew with the troops in Europe.

Adcock can tell you anything you want to know about flying but can't teach you how to fly a plane because he doesn't have an instructor's license. He is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee, an active group that is working for improvements at the local airport and trying to get an airline ticket office in Pampa.

Pampa's Bogard, Osborne Receive High Kemper Honors

Earl Bogard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Bogard, 1121 E. Francis, and Jim Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne, Jr., of Pampa received high honors in the recent commencement program at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., the school reports.

Bogard was designated to two of the school's honor societies — general and military, and Osborne also was designated to two of the honor societies — athletic and military.

Bogard was designated a distinguished cadet for the 1958-59 school year for being in the upper ten per cent of his military class, MST 3 and 4, was awarded a scroll and authorized by the department of the army to wear a gold wreath on his sleeve during the 1959-60 school year.

Bogard, company commander of Co. H, the band company, received the Chicago Tribune silver medal at the close of the first semester for military merit. His company was awarded the rosette for the highest ranking company in general activities for the fourth rating period, and the company also ranked first in general activities for the entire year.

Bogard received the John Philip Sousa award for excellence in musicianship, scholarship, and service, and a certificate for meritorious work in music. He was selected as a bugler for the Standard of Honor Ceremony, one of the high-lighting ceremonies of the school year, held during commencement, and he also served as marshal in the final commencement program. Osborne received an ROTC Meritorious achievement plaque and Kemper scroll, presented selected members of the junior college graduates. An outstanding athlete, he received the Kemper K Club plaque for first place in excellence in athletics, the highest athletic award given at Kemper. Osborne is vice president of the Texas State Club at Kemper.

Both Bogard and Osborne are cadet captains in the Kemper ROTC. Osborne was a member of the battalion staff, and before being elevated to that position was commander of Company B in Kemper's ROTC.

Federal Support For Research Would Cut Building Expenses

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Federal support for research in home-building would cut costs and help check rising prices of new houses according to a prominent mortgage lender.

But top federal officials doubt that Congress or the administration is likely to do much in this direction, even next year. The current session of Congress is too far along for action this year.

Urging the government to subsidize home construction research is C. R. Mitchell of Kansas City, president of the U.S. Savings and Loan Assn.

He told the Georgia Savings and Loan Assn. in a speech that residential building costs soared 93.4 per cent from 1945 to 1958. This was exclusive of land values, which also rose, thereby putting additional upward pressure on house prices.

Mitchell pointed out that during the same 13-year period, general living costs climbed 60.9 per cent and personal incomes increased 64.8 per cent.

While living costs generally leveled off early this year, Mitchell said, residential costs continued upward.

To slow down or possibly halt this trend, Mitchell proposed a three-point federal program to stimulate research into manufacture of home building materials and assembly of the final product.

His proposals were: —The Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration "adopt, as permanent procedure, a more liberal attitude and policy on their construction standards as they relate to the use of new materials and products. This would open the door for much greater experimentation and technological changes among private suppliers to the housing industry."

FHA last year codified and revamped its building standards. FHA Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman feels his standards staff is responsive to technological changes in construction and that FHA standards by and large are proper.

"The federal government should establish a program for financing research — preferably through grants to private research groups — in building materials, methods and products."

The Housing and Home Finance Agency administered a program of this kind from 1949 to 1954. Studies were made and reports issued. Congress killed the venture. Officials are interested in reviving it but concede it has a relatively low priority. As one top ranking source put it, "budget considerations come first."

"The federal government should interest itself in modifying building code restrictions on technological developments in housing."

Builders and developers for years have complained that the wide variety in local building codes forces up their costs. There has been talk of a federal "model code" which the communities might be induced—but not obliged—to follow.

Sales of electronics products so far this year are running 13-15 per cent ahead of a year ago, a Wall Street Journal survey showed. Most of the 20 companies contacted said they expect the uptrend will continue the remainder of the year, with military and industrial items leading the way.

Hot weather throughout most of the nation brought out shoppers and sent volume in the week ended Wednesday 5 to 7 per cent over the similar 1958 period, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Best sellers were men's and women's lightweight apparel, lawn furniture, barbecue supplies, air conditioners and summer food specialties. Purchases of new passenger cars were sustained at a high level.

'Battle Of N.O.' Holds To Top

CHICAGO (UPI)—The history-flavored ballad, "Battle of New Orleans," was firmly entrenched atop the United Press International top 20 record survey Saturday for the fifth straight week. But hard on the heels of Johnny Horton's successful recording was Lloyd Price's rocking novelty, "Personality," firmly holding down the No. 2 spot.

Two records, however, were slowly gaining on the top two. They were Bobby Darin's waxing of "Dream Lover," ranked third, and Paul Anka's rendition of "Lonely Boy," now in fourth place.

"Kansas City," the blues recording of Wilbert Harrison, remained in the No. 5 spot while Martin Denny's "Quiet Village" dropped from third place to sixth.

The top 20 included (numbers in brackets indicate position this week, rating last week and number of weeks in survey):

- (1-1-6) Battle of New Orleans, Johnny Horton (Columbia).
- (2-2-5) Personality, Lloyd Price (ABC).
- (3-4-7) Dream Lover, Bobby Darin (ATCO).
- (4-3-3) Lonely Boy, Paul Anka (ABC).
- (5-3-9) Kansas City, Wilbert Harrison (Fury).
- (6-3-7) Quiet Village, Martin Denny (Liberty).

Repatriation Talks Could Help Commies

By JON RANDAL
United Press International
GENEVA (UPI)—The United States is vitally interested in another conference in Geneva whose success, ironically, could weaken free world defenses in the Far East.

The "other" conference, obscured by the Big Four foreign ministers deliberations on Berlin and Germany, has been muddling on for months between Japanese and Communist North Korean Red Cross representatives.

Aim of these marathon talks is the repatriation of those persons among the 600,000 Koreans living in Japan who want to go to North Korea.

So far no workable solution is in sight. This is not without its benefits, for the Red Cross talks here have worsened relations between Japan and South Korea, two of America's allies in the Far East defense line against Communism.

Rhee Promised to Stop South Korean President Syng-man Rhee has promised to stop repatriation—to be carried out by Soviet ships "by any means." And Rhee's lieutenants, both here and in Seoul, have made it clear they will resort to force if necessary.

South Korea accuses Japan of purposely playing into the Communists' hands. It fears that repatriation would be a stepping stone to recognition of the Pyongyang regime.

The United States finds itself in a hapless position reminiscent of the only recently resolved Cyprus crisis.

Cyprus severely strained British and NATO ties with Greece and Turkey. The Geneva repatriation talks are doing much the same to U.S. relations with Japan and South Korea.

But unlike Britain's case in Cyprus, the United States is not directly involved in the negotiations.

Tortuous Negotiations
The negotiations are tortuous. Basically, they involve the 600,000 Koreans in Japan who were brought there as forced labor before and during World War II. They are thus neither refugees nor citizens.

General Douglas MacArthur cut through a Gordian knot of complication and sent 14 million Koreans back to South Korea during the postwar occupation regime.

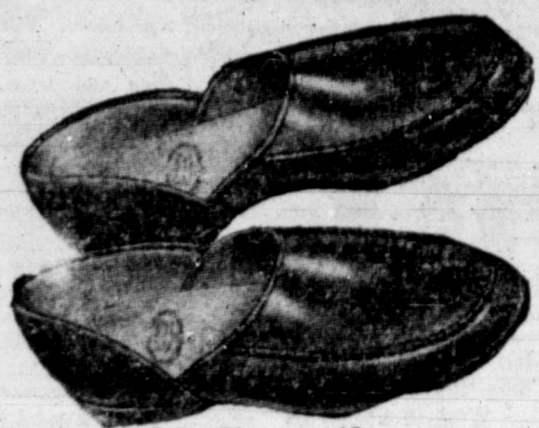

Since then, the South Koreans have refused to allow further repatriation unless Japan pays indemnities. Japan suddenly brought the repatriation problem to Geneva last February and sought support of the Red Cross (ICRC).

The Case Of The Loaf Of Bread

(A modern detective story in twelve episodes, presented with regard to the many authors of detective fiction and a nod of approval to reporter Paul Harvey, who had the original idea.) I was sitting in my office in Chicago when the phone rang. "A woman's on her way in to see you." That was what my secretary, Cordelia Rhodes, had to say. "Tell me about her."

First Suspect

(Continued from preceding episode) I did some quick arithmetic. There are 175 million people in the U.S.A. Just about every one of those persons eats at least a loaf of bread a week. A shake-down that's rooking every buyer out of thirteen cents for each loaf adds up to $22,750,000 per week. This was big. Multiple twenty-two and three quarter million by fifty-two weeks in the year and you come up with something better than 11 billion bucks.

Mrs. Body. You've made it sound as tho you were being robbed for a long time, but that you didn't even know about it until recently. That's a little far-fetched. Most people know when they've been robbed. "Perhaps. But in this case I doubt it. I found out about it myself only the other day. It was when I went in to buy a loaf of bread."

public. I'd heard plenty about farm subsidies and rake-offs. I could earn my fee in a hurry if I could lay the crime right at the door of the ordinary wheat grower. In my car, I wove thru traffic, finally got clear of the last stop light and headed out into the open spaces. After a few miles I pulled up alongside a likely looking farm house where acres of waving grain indicated the possible complexity of the owner. I stopped, got out and rapped on the door.

BETTER JOBS

By K. C. HOLLIES The Need Of Understanding What Coveting Does To Man

There are few words in the English language that are less understood and cause more confusion than the word "coveting" as used in the "Coveting Commandment. The meaning of words, of course, change with time and place.

One reason coveting is so little understood is because it has two opposite meanings. One is a good meaning, such as Coveting understanding, and the other is Coveting something that injures another person. In this discussion we are talking about the coveting as used in the Commandment. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's property." That is the one that is little understood.

Why Words Are Important It is my opinion that if people did not covet, we would be in almost continuous wars. We would not have unemployment. We would not have tyranny of government. We would not have a dollar buying less and less. We would not have labor unions that practice strikes. We would not have schools that are based on coveting. We would not have tariffs or immigration quotas if people understood the harm that comes from coveting. We would have less illness.

Robert Allen Reports:

Tough-Talking Hoffa May Get Full Treatment

WASHINGTON — Tough-talking Teamster mogul James Hoffa has been asking for it for a long time, and he is going to get it. The Justice Department is invoking the Sherman Anti-Trust Act against him. A federal grand jury will shortly be empaneled here for the purpose of seeking an indictment against Hoffa on charges of violating the anti-monopoly law.

Down South

A CHALLENGE TO DECENCY Jimmy Hoffa's threat to call a nationwide strike of organized labor if Congress harnesses unions with anti-trust laws is a forecast of things to come. In recent years the ruthless and brazen boss of the Teamsters Union has gathered enormous power into his hands. Life Magazine recently devoted a special issue to documentation of growing Teamster power in the United States. Hoffa has not been at all bashful in explaining the enormous power-grab that he has in mind. Unlike some union bosses who prefer to hide behind false fronts of respectability, Hoffa plainly announces he wants power and more power.

They found him in his bedrugged room on a tawdry street in lower Manhattan and the best guess was that he had been dead as much as eight or ten hours. The whining of his tiny Chihuahua led them to the door and, when he did not answer the knocking, they forced their way in and there he was. No newspaper carried as much as one sentence about his death. Why should they have? He was nobody and didn't have much.

The Doctor Says

by EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A timely question involving possible prevention of unnecessary difficulty is brought up by today's first letter. Q — My son's best friend had pink eye several months ago and now my son seems to have the same difficulty. Is it all right for me to use the same eyewash on my son that cleared up the condition in his friend's? A. No, this is not safe. Recently a University of Chicago eye specialist warned against this very practice. The eye condition of the two boys may not actually be the same at all. Furthermore, if the medicine available is not just the right one, it may cause further difficulty with your son's eyes which will make it even more difficult to treat with other drugs.

Tax Cutting Experiment May Be Basis For Tax Relief In '60

"Wall Street Perspective" By ELMER C. WALZER UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A tax-cutting experiment being tried in a real-life laboratory before our very eyes may be the basis for tax relief in America in 1960.

The "laboratory" is the United Kingdom, a nation that once was the pattern for our own confiscatory individual and corporate tax structure.

Britain realized before the U.S. did that high taxes stifle initiative, make for inflated prices and inflation, and bring general economic debility.

She started to cut taxes in 1953. This year she went all-out and granted her over-taxed citizens a billion dollars in relief. The U.S. has not had a general tax reduction since 1954.

Britain carved down individual tax rates, granted corporations tax relief and a realistic depreciation policy, and lowered taxes on dividends. There are no capital gains in Britain.

Citing this tax adjustment, First National City Bank of New York described it as the lowest British tax level since 1939-1940 and said, "It produced a new spirit of optimism in the business community, and helped regenerate confidence in the pound sterling."

Watch Experiment
And, having watched the experiment, the first nation's economists find:

"Far from being depleted by the steady succession of tax cuts, the British exchequer revenues have flourished.

"Britain's experience provides support for those in the U.S. who believe that a creative program of tax reliefs could pay its own way by freshening the flow of revenues."

In America corporations are taxed at 52 per cent of profits. This has been described as a form of socialism. Socialism involves government ownership.

In the U.S., the government gets more than half the income of industry without the risks of ownership.

We have a major election coming up in 1960—and that is a good excuse for a tax cut. Britain has an election in the offing too, and its tax leniency may be a part of the campaign. But the British have made adjustments not only for voters of the masses, but also for corporations which from the low-bracket tax payers, have no votes. because there are so many of them.

What is feared here is that the U.S. change in tax, if any, will need in cuts in corporation taxes be limited to a sop to get votes which would fight inflation through paving the way for price cuts and a return to our place in foreign trade. Today our High taxes, forcing prices, up are pricing us out of world trade.

Another pressing need for the U.S. is a more realistic approach to allowances for replacement of worn out industrial plants.

Our industrial investment in plant and equipment is estimated at 300 billion dollars. A recent McGraw-Hill survey showed that corporations would replace 100 billion dollars, or one-third of that, if they could take the proper depreciation deductions.

This 100 billion dollars in new construction would be a boon to the nation's prosperity. It alone could eliminate our unemployment that seems to be our biggest obstacle just now to full recovery from recession.

Rains During Week Favor Crops, Stock

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Widespread rains during the past week generally were favorable for continued improvement of crop and livestock conditions in Texas, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

Only in the South Plains and lower Panhandle areas where an estimated half a million acres of cotton was lost to hail, high winds and excessive rains was the damage excessive. Too much rain was also hurting crops, especially tomatoes, in far East Texas, said director John E. Hutchison.

Field work in practically all sections of the state was delayed by the rains but the favorable moisture now existing will mean a continuation of the good growing conditions for both crops and ranges.

Cotton Outlook Good
The destroyed acreage in West Texas will be replanted as soon as possible. Earlier cotton in the state is fruiting heavily and the annual insect and weed fight is on. Early season applications of insecticides are common over the state. Prospects look good at this time.

Grain—sorghum is headed in southern portions of the state and being planted in the Panhandle area. Corn has reached the "lay-by" stage as far north as the Northern Blacklands.

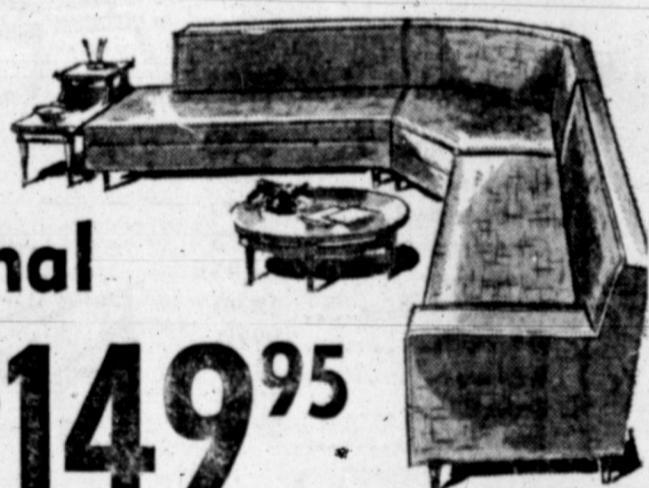

The wheat harvest is from 5 to 75 per cent complete in the Rolling Plains and North Texas and beginning to ripen in the Panhandle.

Water Supplies Improved
The melon harvest in the valley is in full swing. Early peaches are being marketed in East Texas and most vegetable crops are making good growth with harvesting underway in the earlier areas.

Range and stock water supplies have improved during the past week. Only in isolated areas are stock tanks still low. Lamb marketing is increasing as the shearing season nears completion and good weights are being achieved. Hay baling and clover seed harvesting was stopped by the rains but will begin as soon as weather permits.

Athlete's Foot Can Be Cured From Within

SCIENCE TODAY
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Athlete's foot and other fungus infections of the skin can now be cured from the inside out by an antibiotic from the family of fungus which produced penicillin.

For almost 20 years since its discovery, it was thought of no medicinal value except for some diseases of lettuce and tomatoes. But four medical scientists reported to the annual meeting of the American Medical Association today that when taken as a pill it attacks and destroys the surface fungus of human beings from underneath.

They cited the case of a girl with a fungus infection of the scalp. Usually the head is shaved for that, but this presents difficulties for a pretty girl. She took the antibiotic by mouth and in due course it was found in her hair. Meanwhile, the fungus disappeared.

Dr. Harvey Blank, reporting for himself and his associates at the University of Miami School of Medicine, listed 200 cases in which superficial infections by the variety of fungi which cause athlete's foot, ring worm, and such afflictions were cleared with a pill a day for from three weeks to six months.

Penicillin acts marvelously against bacteria but not fungus. This new antibiotic, not named griseofulvin and is related to penicillin, won't harm bacteria, but it is death for surface fungus. But, disappointingly, it is not effective against the fungus which now and then infects the deep organs of man.

He said none of his patients had any "significant toxic manifestations." Nevertheless, he recommended that other doctors should make regular blood counts for anyone taking the pills—as he does.

Queen Elizabeth, Eisenhower To Open St. Lawrence Seaway

By GREGORY JENSEN
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—The world's best-known working wife, not even excepting Marilyn Monroe, flies off to Canada and the United States next week (June 18) for one of her most important jobs this year.

This 33-year-old housewife is known and revered in parts of the world where Miss Monroe never has been heard of.

Her name is Elizabeth, or more precisely, her most excellent majesty Elizabeth II, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of her other realms and territories queen, head of the commonwealth, defender of the faith.

She is going to North America to make history. With President Eisenhower, she will formally open the great St. Lawrence Seaway June 26 and 27.

For Elizabeth, making history is just part of her job. Most of the royal tasks on her six-week tour are familiar. Elizabeth herself has made the duties of a travelling queen well known.

In her seven years and four months on the throne she has become the most-travelled monarch in British history, visiting more of her "realms and terriories" than any sovereign before her.

Busy Shaking Hands
But there are other parts of her job fewer people know about.

She meets and shakes hands with more people than perhaps any other person alive.

She deals daily and hourly with problems and policies affecting 600 million people, and as "head of the commonwealth" she takes these considerable problems seriously.

Just one relatively minor item of her responsibilities would stagger many a corporation executive—her household budget.

Like any housewife, the Queen has a budget. Hers totals about $2,500,000 a year.

Out of that, she administers vast estates, the world's largest inhabited castle, with 690 rooms and 10,000 windows and Buckingham Palace. In the palace her household staff of 27 includes everyone from her lord chamberlain to her swimmer, who has charge of the swans on the River Thames. Her servants have their own trade union branch.

Assumes Responsibility
Every place source agrees that the Queen delegates little of the responsibility those facts imply. She supervises her multi-million-dollar household very closely, dealing with details as well as policies.

The Queen is one of those working women who "lives above the ship," living in the same building where she works. At Buckingham Palace she walks to work from her breakfast room to her study down a corridor 15 feet wide and a third of a mile long.

But strictly speaking, the Queen's work is wherever she is. It follows her wherever she goes—especially "the boxes."

Every day, whether in Chicago or at Windsor Castle, in Ottawa or Sierra Leone, the Queen must plow through "the boxes"—cases of state papers sent to her from every government department.

These square leather boxes, red for very important and brown for not so important, each contain as many as 200 documents for her attention. And there are from three to 15 boxes every day.

Their papers tell the Queen everything that goes on—literally—in her home government and those of her commonwealth. They are studied carefully and endlessly, and make the Queen the best-informed official in the commonwealth.

Britain's kings and queens traditionally complain they are slaves to their boxes. One king George once swore roundly when a servant knocked at his bath-

Agriculture Show, A Big Hit In Washington, D. C.

On the Farm Front
By GAYLORD F. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There's a month-long show under way in the patio of the Agriculture Department, and it's a big hit.

It actually is an exhibit featuring new uses for farm products. This is the department's way of showing publicly some of the results of its relatively new utilization research program. It shows new ways of using farm surpluses. The theme centers on the role of utilization research—now and in the future—as a means of developing industrial markets for such major agricultural commodities as cotton, wheat, and corn, and improved markets for fruits, vegetables, milk, and wool. The exhibit stresses recent research findings that are broadening the industrial market for farm products.

For more than 50 years the department gave major attention to research to aid production. The result was more abundance from fewer acres.

About 25 years ago department officials began to realize that more abundance than necessary would result under the production research program. Hence, there was a gradual shift toward research for consumption, for utilization of the bounty. The department now feels that utilization research has advanced enough so that it can boast justifiably of progress in finding new uses for farm commodities. The economic implications of some of the new uses are obvious.

The signal to move ahead on finding new uses came in 1938 when Congress provided funds for four research laboratories. These are near Philadelphia, in Peoria, Ill., in New Orleans, La., and in Albany, Calif.—began operations about 1941.

The laboratory at New Orleans studies cotton, tung nuts, rice, sugar cane, peanuts, rice, citrus fruits, sweet potatoes, and other commodities suited to relatively warm sections.

Stengel Wins No. 1,000

Yanks Top Tigers, 6-4, On Tony Kubek's Homer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tony Kubek's home run, one of three smashed by the New York Yankees, carried them to a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday in a game called in the ninth inning because of rain.

The victory marked the Yankees' 1,000th since Casey Stengel took over the management in 1949.

Kubek's homer came off loser Jim Bunning with Bill Skowron on first base in the fourth inning and it gave the Yankees a 5-2 lead.

Bunning, who suffered his fifth loss against six victories, also was tagged for a two-run homer by Mickey Mantle, his 13th, in the first inning and for a bases-empty circuit blow by Marv Throneberry in the third.

Don Larsen gained his sixth victory against one defeat although he gave way to reliever Art Ditmar in the seventh. Larsen yielded four of the Tigers' eight hits and three of their runs during his time on the mound.

Lou Berberet socked his seventh homer following a single by Al Kaline in the second inning and Charley Maxwell led off the eighth with his 13th homer of the season off Ditmar.

The Yankees scored their final run in the sixth at the expense of reliever Pete Burns as when Skowron doubled and came home on Gil McDougald's single.

The game was called in the ninth inning because of rain following a one hour, 13-minute wait. Frank Bolling had led off the ninth with a single when rain halted play.

The victory put the Yankees at the .500 mark again and boosted them into fifth place over the Athletics, who dropped a 6-1 decision to the Red Sox. The Tigers, still in fourth place a game ahead of the Yankees, suffered only their second loss in the last nine games.

Tribe Victorious

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ray Webster's wind-blown triple in the ninth, followed by Jim Piersall's pinch sacrifice fly, gave the Cleveland Indians an 8-7 victory over the Washington Senators Saturday in a slugfest marked by six home runs.

Rocky Colavito hit a grand slam for the Indians, his 19th, but Harmon Killebrew, the American League leader, walloped his 20th to stay in front. Rookie Bob Allison got his 13th for Washington; Vic Power connected for his sixth for the Tribe while Granny Hamner hit his third and Webster got his second.

Pedro Ramos, Washington's starting pitcher, had to leave the game in the fourth when he was hit on the right arm by Tito Francona's line drive. Ramos may be out for a week to 10 days.

Hal Griggs, fourth Washington pitcher, got the loss, while Jim Perry picked up his first major league victory.

Bosox 6, A's 1

BOSTON (UPI)—Tom Brewer flirted with baseball fame, for nearly six innings Saturday en route to a 6-hitter that gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-1 win over the Kansas City Athletics.

Brewer, 27-year-old righthander, didn't allow a Kansas City batter to reach first until one away in the sixth. Then, Joe DeMaestri legged it; to second when Gary Geiger dropped his short fly to center field. A starter Ray Herbert singled for the first hit but Brewer got out of the jam without a run.

The last-place Red Sox snapped out of a three-game losing streak with a 13-hit assault on three Athletics pitchers, Herbert being the loser.

Don Buddin singled twice and tripled to drive in two runs while sparkling at shortstop. Pete Runnels returned to the lineup after a two-day absence with a groin injury and rapped out three hits to lift his average to .344 and move up on the American League's batting leaders. Pete Daley hit his first home run of the year with the bases empty in Boston's three-run seventh.

Spahn Tops Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI)—Don McMahon came on in the ninth inning to save Warren Spahn's eighth victory of the season Saturday, a 4-2 triumph of the Milwaukee Braves over the Chicago Cubs.

Spahn scattered seven hits over eight innings. But he issued a lead-off walk in the ninth to Dale Long and Hank Aaron lost the first of two fly balls in the sun when pinch-batter Earl Averil flitted to right field.

HARMON KILLEBREW ... hits number 20

Spahn retired the next batter and Tony Taylor's high fly went for a double when Aaron was blinded by the sun again. Long scoring on the play. McMahon came on and the Cubs sent left-handed pinch-batter Jim Marshall to the plate for Al Dark in an effort to send another fly in Aaron's direction. Marshall popped out and Lee Walls fled to end the inning.

Cards 7, Reds 0

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Right-hander Larry Jackson and veteran first baseman Stan Musial pitched and batted the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-0 win over the Cincinnati Reds Saturday.

Jackson scattered eight hits as he hurled a shutout for his fifth win in 11 decisions. He fanned six. It was the Cardinals' fifth victory in their last six games.

Musial, benched for the last week because of an anemic .245 batting average, paced the St. Louis attack with a home run and a single, good for four runs batted in. He round-tripped in the fourth inning with the singling Gil Cunningham aboard gave the Cards a 3-0 lead.

Stan batted two more runs across with his single in the fifth inning.

Cardinal outfielder Gino Cimoli hit his sixth home run of the season in the first inning. Another St. Louis outfielder, Bill White, doubled in the seventh frame to bat safely in his 14th straight game.

Bucs 5, LA 3

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Don Hoak singled with the bases loaded in the 8th inning Saturday off reliever Art Fowler to score a pair of runs that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Fowler had allowed only one hit in two previous innings after replacing starter Stanley Koufax in the 8th inning, but the late-rally Pirates worked him over good in the 8th.

With one out, Dick Stuart singled and Dick Schofield ran for him. Bob Skinner also singled and took second on the throw to third from the outfield.

Fowler walked Bill Mazeroski intentionally to fill them up and Hoak rifled a clean single past shortstop to left to chase home the winning run.

The Pirates might have won by an even wider margin if it were not for two spectacular fielding plays by Dodger second baseman Charlie Neal, who robbed Dick Groat of two base hits and on each occasion turned them into a double play.

Kissee, One Bull Run Close Race In Western Little Loop

The Western Little League race remained a tight two-team monopoly last week, as loop-leading Kissee Ford and second place One Bull both won their Friday games. One Bull took one of the most one-sided victories of the Little League season over E. M. Keller, 21-1, but Kissee had to go into a seventh inning to edge Rotary, 6-3, in the first extra inning game of the year.

One Bull set a season high of six home runs in walloping Keller. Herman Waite collected home runs number five and six of the year, including one which traveled almost 250 feet, probably the longest Little League hit of the season.

Jim Arthur was a one-man show for Duncan Friday, as he tossed a four-hitter and drove in six of Duncan's seven runs with a three-run homer, a solo round-tripper, and a two-run single. Jack Thompson collected two of Celanese's four hits.

Don Perkins, the winning hurler, allowed only six hits, all singles. Don Frazier got two of those six hits. Perkins struck out six men while walking only one.

Jack Cook pitched a very creditable game for Kist in relief. He came on in relief of Bobby Price in the third inning, and allowed only one run, two hits, and three walks the rest of the way, while striking out seven.

Madrid and Kenny Hebert of Cree both collected doubles, and their team mate, Larry Gregory, got two singles. Mike Stewart scored both Kist runs, one on a solo homer in the first inning and the other on a single by his brother, Rickey Stewart, in the sixth inning.

Both starters pitched a creditable game before being taken out. Owens batted 11, and Steve Mohlberg whiffed eight.

Leading hitters, besides Mohlberg and the home run hitters, were Randal Johnston, Ken Davis, and Ronnie Pierce of Kissee, two singles; and Daniels of Rotary, two doubles.

Rex Rose In Farm Win

Rex Rose walloped Tom Rose, 4-4 Saturday, in a Farm League game. Vick Keyes was the winning pitcher, as he hurled a four-hitter and struck out nine men.

Nash led Rex Rose's attack with a home run, a double, and a single. Darrell Luster had a double and single, and Keyes hit a double. Alexander of Tom Rose also had a double.

G. K. Trucking took undisputed possession of first place in the Farm Loop by routing Compton Mobli Service, 18-9. Leroy Slater was the winning hurler, allowing only five hits. He walked in all four trips to the plate and scored three runs.

Leading G. K.'s 17-hit attack were Adams with 4-for-5, Goodwyn with 3-for-5, Harris with 2-for-5, and Johnson with 3-for-5. D. Moore and Mahaney doubled for Compton, and Garcia tripled for the losers.

W. R. Parrish routed Radcliff Supply, 20-5. Veale, Green, and Kuhn led Parrish's 10-hit attack with doubles. Bray got a triple and Cowan a double for Radcliff. Mike Carter, the winning hurler, allowed only five hits, and struck out nine.

Patterson, Merkel Are Much Alike

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press International NEW YORK (UPI)—There is a grim parallel today between a badgered ball player named Fred Merkel and heavyweight champion of the world Floyd Patterson.

Kempa, 66ers Tied For Lead

The Somerville 66ers moved into and dropped out of the undisputed lead in the Pampa Industrial Softball League last week, about as fast as a team possibly could do those two things.

The 66ers grabbed the lead Wednesday night by beating Kempa Humble, 8-5, then lapsing back into a first place tie with Kempa Thursday as they were routed by Electric Supply, 13-3. Kempa, at the same time, beat Phillips 7-2. Kempa and Somerville are now tied for the top spot with 6-2 records.

This week, Kempa plays the Panhandle Packers and Electric Supply. Somerville plays the Sinclair Oilers and the Packers. In other games, Phillips meets Electric Supply and the Sinclair Oilers.

Red Griggs the pipeline

A few weeks ago, when the unbelievable happened and Casey Stengel's mighty Yankees plunged into the American League cellar, many people began to doubt Casey's managing ability for the first time.

Stengel reported that some New York baseball writers were actually telling him how to manage a team. (Stengel, of course, has won nine of the last 10 American League pennants, and wouldn't appear to need much of that type of advice.)

What many fans don't know, or have forgotten, is that Stengel is no stranger to the second division. He was dead last once in the minors, and finished seventh a total of six times—once with the Dodgers, four times with the Boston Braves, and once with Kansas City of the American Association.

Stengel has been in baseball for 50 years (34 of them as a manager, with all types of teams.) He didn't panic when the Yankees went into the cellar, and he really had no reason to. They stayed in the basement a grand total of 11 days.

Everything at Once

Stengel, in an interview with an NEA reporter, explained the Yankee's nosedive by saying that "everything went wrong at once. There wasn't a 300 hitter on the club and the pitching was streaky. I've seen times when the big men weren't hitting and the small fry picked them up, or vice versa, but on this occasion you saw eight regulars with their poorest averages."

Stengel went on to explain that while he could accept that for a week or so, it was hard to take for more than a month, especially with an experienced team like the Yankees.

"Our strikeouts were way up," said Casey, "and we couldn't buy a walk. We couldn't even beat pitchers who were off form."

Orioles Going Strong

One man, however, who isn't willing to roll over and play dead for the Yankees — or anybody else — is Paul Richards, Baltimore Oriole manager. Richards, himself, thought that his team was at least a year away from being a contender, but they're up there right now fighting for first place.

The Orioles are looking better than any Baltimore team since the legendary "Old Orioles" of the 1890's — John McGraw, Wee Willie Keeler, Kid Gleason, Big Dan Brothers, etc.

One of the big reasons is a Giant castoff named Hoyt Wilhelm. The knuckle ball specialist has baffled just about everybody in the American League with his pitches, including his own catchers, to win his first nine games.

Billy Loos is another castoff pitcher who has come around un-

Casey said that Mickey Mantle's hitting has had a lot to do with New York's comeback. The Yankees have always relied on the big players like Ruth, DiMaggio, and Mantle.

New York pitchers are also going the route more than they were during the early part of the season. Their only big worry now is their failure to win at home.

The Yanks have actually won more games on the road this year than they have at home. They're not even breaking even at Yankee Stadium.

However, the Yankees also played better ball on the road than at home last year, so maybe that doesn't mean much. If the Bronx Bombers continue to win for much longer, the party may be over for the rest of the American League.

der Richards' expert guidance. The erratic and temperamental hurler has been turned into a fine relief pitcher.

Mostly, though, Richards has depended on the platoon system for his victories. The only "big name" players on the team are hard-hitting catcher Gus Triandos and Wilhelm. But Richards has substituted quantity for quality, and so far has gotten away with it.

He recently used 81 players in four consecutive games, and won three of them. He has used as many as 18 in one game. These patchwork teams usually don't win by much — usually one run — but they do win, and that's what counts.

Richards' quantity may not stand up against the Yankees' quality. But a lot of baseball fans are hoping it will.

the Randall Clay career, but now this meal-moocher has come in contact with the writer's cramps and that'll never do, 'cause we've just gotta be able to swing that fork tonight.

NATIONALIST DEFEATS
TOKYO (UPI)—The New China news agency reported today that a Nationalist Chinese army sergeant "defected to the Communist Chinese army by swimming across to the China mainland from Quemoy. The agency quoted 34-year-old Ho Yeh-chen as saying he "saw no future in remaining in the Chiang Kai-shek armed forces."

Clang, Clang, Of Trolley Diminishing To A Tinkle

"TROLLEYS"
By ROBERT J. SERLING
UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—G is ready to say goodbye to the real "vanishing American"—the streetcar.

The clang-clang - clang of the trolley is diminishing to a tinkle. A quarter of a century ago there were 62,800 streetcars operating over 40,900 miles of track in virtually every American city with more than 20,000 population. Today, only 15 cities have streetcar lines and most of these are gradually being abandoned. The number of active trolleys has shrunk to less than 2,000; trackage has dwindled to about 4,000 miles. The bus was the vehicle that killed the streetcar. Washington, D.C., which still operates the nation's most modern streetcar system, is a perfect example. The capital's D.C. Transit System a few years ago operated 508 fast, quiet, roomy streetcars. It now has 310 in active use, with only 270 running at any one time. The company has been told by Congress to shift to all bus operations by 1963. But indications are that D.C. Transit won't even wait that long. The company says it is cheaper to replace the entire fleet with buses as soon as possible.

Transit surveys have shown that buses are far cheaper than streetcars, costing up to 25 per cent less to run. Buses are faster in traffic, more flexible and permit scheduling of limited or express runs. A streetcar can go only where there are tracks, not only limiting their routes but exposing them to traffic delays.

Buses don't interfere with such traffic-expediting devices as one-way streets, and don't require such traffic blockades as center-of-the-street loading platforms.

There still are streetcar defenders, who point out that modern trolleys are roomier than buses, ride smoother, and don't give off unpleasant exhaust fumes. But offsetting this are the big "E's"— economy and efficiency. cities eliminating streetcar service. Since 1936, Detroit, Cleveland, Kansas City, Milwaukee and Dallas, Atlanta, New York and Johnstown, Pa., are in the process of Minneapolis have been among the notable holdout: San Francisco, whose cable cars are considered more of civic institution than a transportation system.

OCCUPATIONAL HAZARD
BRADLEY, England (UPI)—The 26 members of the Bradley and Deighton prize band blasted and thumped their way up the main street Friday. Then suddenly the thump was gone. The 25 other members, on investigating, found that bass drummer Ronnie Liversidge, unable to see ahead over his drum, had fallen into a manhole. Wattles is the term applied to the fleshy skin hanging from turkey's throat.

The wedding was performed before a predieu with white pedestal urns filled with white chrysanthemums flanking the wedding party a large tree candelabra holding white milk-glass votive cups centered the decoration. Spiral candelabra were spaced among woodwardia palms to complete the background. A hedge row of Huckleberry, white tapers, with a fan-shaped bouquet of white chrysanthemums decorated the choir rail. The center aisle was covered with a white alse cloth with four-branched candelabra holding milk-glass votive cups to light the bridal path.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in elegant silk organza over taffeta with an Empire bodice made of exquisite French Alencon lace embroidered in seed pearls and sequins and featured a low scalloped neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The bodice was accented with an organza band terminating in the back with a small flat bow and double streamers. Appliques of the lace cascaded onto the bouffant bell-shaped skirt, which swept to a deep chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of imported French illusion was fashioned into a flattering Queen's Crown of lace outlined with tiny seed pearls and dotted with sequins.

She carried a cascade bouquet of deep crimson Happiness roses and white Stephanotis. Following the ceremony, a rose for both the bride's and bridegroom's mother was taken from the bouquet and given to signify unity of the two families.

Peg O' Pampa

HELLO THERE out in Newspaperland how's that for a dripping-with-corn greeting? it's one of the good reasons why Peg of Pampa must remain so secret... no one wants to be credited with such a remark... but to get on with the business of anonymity.

WISH YOU COULD HAVE seen Irene Harrah's face when it was announced that she had been selected for the Service Achievement Award by the Altrusa Club... you've never seen such a look of utter surprise blending immediately into pleased pride... her selection had been kept secret until minutes before the announcement... she had been bid to the dinner meeting on the premise that all Red Cross Ladies were to be honored... and so they were... among them Pauline Brandt, Jessie McKinney, Louise Sewell, Gladys Harkins, and Floy Heath... but then, after they had been greeted by Libby Shotwell and presented with a corsage... Irene was singled out for the significant honor of being a valuable citizen to her community for over a period of years... Ann Kay did such a beautiful creation for the serving tables, where food was served buffet style... two oval, white satin-covered tables flanked a pink satin-covered table, which held an inspiring Cathedral arrangement of white and pink tapers towering above a spiral bouquet of white Shasta Daisies... the floor-length satin cloths were draped with Baby Breath sprays caught to white Shasta Daisies... just very, very pretty, as only Ann can do things... Floy Heath, who is the new incoming Altrusa Club president, looked so attractive in a Kelly Green two-piece Shantung dress accented with green crystal earrings and necklace... and her beige shoes were tipped across the toe and up the slender heel with a dainty floral touch... we were sorry to hear of Jane Kading's resignation as Girl Scout executive director... she has done such a wonderful job during the past two and a half years with enlarging and enlightening the local council... yet we're happy for her, too... she'll be a Lady of Leisure now awaiting the arrival of a Little Girl Scout or Boy Scout... she will be missed... of course, now, she will be around until August 1.

Solitude is as needful to the imagination as society is wholesome for the character.
—James Russell Lowell

WISH WE HAD THOUGHT OF IT FIRST... upon occasion we have the opportunity to read "The Flame" a house-organ published by Cabot, wherein they have a column entitled "B, B, and B" (Betrothals, Brides and Babies)... would be a proper beginning for your next trend of news if we had only been smart enough to think of it first... anyway, have you ever seen such a covey of beautiful brides who are waltz-stepping down bridal aisles in Pampa this month?

Nancy Jean Goodnight said "I do's" with Wayne Lee Harrison... pretty Jean Hopkins received a wedding band from Paul L. Moore at the same time she slipped one on his finger... Rose Smith walked back up the aisle on the arm of her new husband, Don Hillin Nelson after repeating vows in the Presbyterian church... Twin Delma Kea Franklin traded twin-vows with Earl Wayne Evans on June 7... but not all of the pretty brides were in Pampa, however... two local swains took brides in Fort Worth and Denton... Joe Tynes Jr. took unto himself a pretty, blonde bride, Barbara Baker, in a ceremony in Denton and Bill Hogan was wed to an attractive brunette, Judy Ford in Fort Worth... a little bird told us (it was a love-bird turned stool-pigeon) that there are more lovely brides in the offing... Doris Ann Bullard became Mrs. Jim Murray in a ceremony held last night in Holy Souls Catholic Church... and Joy Vandenberg is now Mrs. Ronald Dean Rice as of eight o'clock last night... one of the prettiest bridal showers was given for Joy by Mrs. Turner Kirby and Mrs. James Hopkins in Mrs. Hopkins' home... glamorous Mock orange blossoms were used with rainbow-hued swags on a pink satin, floor-length cloth centered with a tall, silver two-tiered pedestal vase filled with arrangements of Mock Orange... her wedding must have been simply beautiful... we understand Roberto's used small violet cups backed with candelabra on the pews to help make the guests a part of the wedding scene... and Joy used one of the sweetest touches we've heard of in her wedding and one which, we believe, is derived from an ancient Indian custom... as soon as the ceremony was completed Joy presented her mother and the bridegroom's mother with a red rose from her bridal bouquet signifying the uniting of the two families.

The happiness of married life depends upon making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness.
John Selden

LET'S COME DOWN now from the clouds of satin and tulle back to earth... and to gardens... three of the garden clubs, Pampa Garden Club, Top O' Texas Garden Club and the Pampa Rose Society are planning a Flower Show for June 27 in Lovett Memorial Library... to display their pretty arrangements and specimens... they always select such provocative names for their shows... last year, remember, it was "Panhandle Reflections" and this year, they've chosen "Desserts in June"... Lorene Price, Martin Stubbe, and Mary Lee Osborn are chairmen of the show... while the rest of the nation labors under the illusion that West Texas is a barren, unvegetated spot, our garden clubs go blithely along and stage flower shows filled with fabulous blossoms from their own gardens... might check Saturday, June 27, as a date to visit the show and see the results of Spring's long labor of Love.

Art is like a border of flowers along the course of civilization.
—Lincoln Steffens

OUT OF THE CORNER OF OUR EYE... now we can appreciate the true merit of a station wagon... saw the Joe Donaldson's youngsters riding around with their mother the other morning... each sitting quietly and sedately in a seat all to himself... hear that Buzz Barton is becoming quite a duffer, we mean, golfer... and we have it on good authority from a bachelor friend, Marvin Olsen, who attended the recent cow-calling contests in Miami that that town has the prettiest girls!!!... saw Aleith Curry plucking some posies from the pretty border around her home on Charles... and we hear, too, that Uncle Billy Frost's family was increased by a sizeable amount recently when his white housecat, Trixie, presented him with a litter of kittens born under a lilac bush... saw cute Judy Robison this week and she has her long, long hair cut to a Pixie style... her pony-tail must have been all of 16 inches long... the new hair-style is so becoming though and quite less trouble for these swimming-pool days.

See you,
Peg

White Wrought-Iron Candelabra Lights Nuptial Scene For Franklin-Evans Vows

Double-ring wedding vows were repeated by Miss Delma Kea Franklin and Earl Wayne Evans on June 7 at three o'clock in the First Baptist Church with Dr. E. Douglas Carver, officiant. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Franklin, 915 E. Fisher are the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Evans, 625 S. Barnes, are parents of the bridegroom.

The wedding scene was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and white mums against a background of tall white wrought-iron candelabra holding light-blue tapers, tropical jade foliage and two large blue sheered net fans sprayed with white ivy leaves and blue bows. The couple pledged their vows before a white satin-covered prayer bench. The bridegroom was wearing a white tuxedo and the bride was wearing a white and blue and covered with a white aiste cloth.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle overlay tulle fashioned with a Sweetheart neckline, dusted with tiny pearls, and lone, tapering sleeves coming to bridal points at the wrists. The molded bodice, fastened with ivory covered buttons, came to points in front and back and was enclosed to a bouffant shirt fashioned with panels of hand-clipped lace and a deep scalloped lace hemline. The dress was designed and made by the bride's mother. Her veil of tulle illusion was secured to a white lace half-hat covered with sequins. She carried a magnificent cascade of gardenias and roses arranged on a white fan. For some time old, she wore a 1921 Indian penny which belonged to her grandmother.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Zelma Poe Franklin, twin-sister of the bride, served as maid of honor wearing a bright blue Chrysalis de peau dress, which featured a high neckline, dipping low in back, with a flared skirt designed with an Empire waistline. She carried a bouquet of white Daisies on a white fan.

Miss Daisy Brown, college roommate and Mrs. Pat Ward, bride's sister, were bridesmaids in dresses fashioned as the maid of honor's but in lighter shade of blue. They wore matching headbands and carried white Daisies arranged on white fans.

Woodrow Northcutt of Hereford served as the bridegroom's best man. Groomsmen were Darrell Franklin and Stanley Butler. Ushers were Darrell Kirby and Butch Frazier.

Miss Cynthia Ward, bride's niece, was flower girl wearing a light blue floor-length dress of Chrysalis de peau, scalloped around the hemline and adorned with bright blue bows.

Doyle Ward, bride's nephew, carried the rings to the bride on a tiny heart-shaped, lace-covered pillow, which matched the bride's dress.

Miss Eloise Lane, at the organ, provided the pre-nuptial and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Lonnie Richardson sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Eilene Butler and Jancee Franklin, cousins of the bride, were candlelighters in dresses of bright blue Chrysalis de peau. Mrs. Franklin, mother of the bride, chose a one-piece dress of honey beige lace over tulle complemented with blue accessories. Mrs. Evans, bridegroom's mother, wore a one-piece dress of navy blue with white accessories. Their corsages were fashioned from white and blue carnations accented with pearls.

RECEPTION

An arrangement of white gladioli accented with miniature blue fans highlighted the bride's table at the reception held immediately following the ceremony. Miss Lynn Strobel provided background music during the reception. Mrs. Allen Young of Skellytown, bride's cousin, presided at the cake service. Miss Carolyn Utt of San Angelo, college friend of the bride, served punch. Miss Sally Pullen was guest registrar.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Dorothy Henderson, Miss Eilene Butler, Jancee Franklin and Jean Franklin.

For a wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., the bride traveled in a bright blue dress of Chrysalis de peau topped with a short jacket

Yard Topic Given By Mrs. Bishop

LEFORS (Spl) — "Yard Improvement" was the program topic discussed by Mrs. O. O. Bishop, at the regular meeting of the LeFors Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. B. J. Leininger, Wednesday.

"Have a turnbuckle on clotheslines, have shrubs to create privacy, have outside eating tables, and plan your yards early in the year and follow through," were some of the points brought by Mrs. Bishop.

"No pillow is so soft as a clear conscience," the thought for the day was led in unison by Mrs. Leininger. After the meeting was called to order by Mrs. O. O. Bishop, president, a prayer was led by Mrs. Charles Roberts. A discussion was held on the city park, and it was learned that the weeds are to be sprayed, and a bar-b-que pit is to be built by J. Diehl. Members were reminded to start looking for materials for dried flower arrangements. The next meeting will be held in the morning of June 25, in civic center, with Mrs. W. E. DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am thirteen and am in love with the paper boy. He says he wants to be a newspaper reporter and is starting at the bottom. The trouble is there are two other girls who are also after him. They are both prettier than I am and have nicer clothes. They say they don't like him but the way they look at him. Wow! One night I was walking home alone and he was behind me. I could have slowed up but I didn't have brains enough. I got home and could have kicked myself. How can I get him to like me?

FRUSTRATED
Dear Frustrated: Next time you see him (be sure he's alone) say "Hi" good and loud! and follow it right up with a question about the newspaper business. ("How are collections? Are there any contests going?") Show an interest in HIS interest and watch him thaw out.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you think a man should be before he stops kissing his mother hello and goodbye? My husband is almost 40 and every time we go to see his mother (she lives 12 blocks from here) he kisses her hello and when we leave he kisses her goodbye. This man is my husband and I think it is time he stopped that little boy stuff. I have two sons and I am not raising them that way. Is my husband too old to change his ways now?

WIFE
Dear Wife: I hope you are young (and wise) enough to change

yours. There's nothing wrong with a man kissing his mother — at any age.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who is mature in almost every respect except in his driving. He is a very fast driver. He passes cars on the right and follows other cars too close and tries to make every green light. I have spoken to him about his driving habits but he gets mad and drives all the more reckless. In one year he's had four accidents, was arrested for reckless driving and has had his insurance cancelled. I do not drive myself so it makes it pretty tough on me and the kids. My heart is in my mouth every time I get in a car with him. Is there any cure for this?

RECKLESS DRIVER'S WIFE
Dear Wife: Walk, take the bus, taxi, or depend on the generosity of friends, but do not ride with him unless he promises to drive carefully and is willing to heed your warning when he gets out of hand. The cemetery is full of drivers whose luck ran out before their gas did.

DEAR ABBY: My last letter to an Army friend with whom I have been corresponding for many years was returned marked NO RECORD. Perhaps you can tell me which office of the ARMY to contact for the present address of my friend? It would mean a great deal to me.

MRS. P. V.
Dear Mrs. V.: Write to the Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D.C.

Confidentially To Virginia: Apparently, your conscience doesn't prevent you from doing anything — just from enjoying it. Better behave yourself.

Sound Waves Are Now Pumping Oil

Southwestern Oil
By MAC SEBREE

United Press International
TULSA (UPI)—Sound waves which engineers long ago discovered were good for more than just making noise—are now being put to work to pump oil.

Sonic pump was invented by A. G. Bodine Jr. of Los Angeles. After experimental work, Sonic tests in the Bird Creek Field of Tulsa county, southeast of Oklahoma, Okla., and preliminary results indicate the idea basically is a success. Field use has shown a high operating efficiency and flexibility.

The sonic pump was used in this revolutionary pump's string tubing to lift the liquid to the surface.

A power plant runs an oscillator, which in turn causes parts of the tubing to vibrate up and down in time to the sound impulses sent by the oscillator. The vibrations impel the liquid upward through a series of check valves, each higher than the last. The liquid thus makes its way upward, sort of like salmon swimming upstream.

The sonic pump certainly looks different from other pumps. It has no walking beam, no sucker rods, no down hole pump. It's smaller, neater looking.

The sound waves travel through the tubing at the speed of sound, and the rate of upward flow of fluid through the tubing depends on both the frequency of the pulses and the amplitude of the stroke.

Pump of Future
For its field trial, the pump was installed on a well that produces 200 barrels of fluid a day through 2 1/2 inch tubing from the Bartlesville sand around 1,200 feet. The sand is under waterflood.

Experience already indicates that the power requirement for a sonic unit is about the same or even slightly less than conventional bottom hole pumping installations.

And sonic equipment is cheaper to make and install than all the grass-roots type of sucker-rod pumping equipment.

In previous California tests, the sonic pump lifted oils of extreme low gravity—some of it carrying up to 60 per cent sand.

Other test installations have operated for two years without tubing failure.

Pump Co. was formed by two Tulsa firms, Keener Oil Co. and Service Drilling Co., for field tests. Later, Johnston Testers, Inc., a subsidiary of Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp., bought into the project.

WARNS ABOUT INFLATION
GENEVA (UPI)—U.S. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told the 43rd International Labor Organization convention Friday that the United States had locked its 1958 recession, Mitchell warned there still were dangers of inflation.

Records Opened
The complaints charged Davis with attempting to circumvent the lease restrictions by having other persons obtain the leases in their names while he actually held the controlling interest.

The Interior Department said the Featherstones opened their leasing records to inspection "in an effort to clear up the matter as quickly as possible."

In each case the accused were given 30 days to answer the complaints. If the Bureau of Land Management recommends lease cancellation thereafter the defendants can file appeals with the Interior Department. If this ruling is adverse, they can then appeal to the federal courts.

The mineral leasing law was enacted in 1920. From 1926 until 1946 the acreage limitation was 7,680. Seaton said his department has evidence of a considerable number of acres being held illegally.

Vandiver received a letter from Jacksonville, Fla., Friday — 96 hours after it was sent by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield in a Regulus missile fired from a submarine to the Mayport, Fla., naval station.

Jacksonville is only 350 miles from Atlanta—less than two hours by air.

Shamrock Oil And Gas Issues Joint Statement

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation issued a joint statement Friday with Hilton Credit Corporation that the two companies had entered into a credit agreement making Hilton's more than one million "Carte Blanche" credit cards acceptable at Shamrock's retail service stations.

The agreement, which goes into effect July 1, is among the first to be made by Hilton with oil companies.

Shamrock, 30 years old this year, is a fully integrated oil company and one of the largest independent oil companies in the country. Its retail marketing area extends into parts of eight states in the Southwest and Rocky Mountain area including Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona, Wyoming and Nebraska.

Shamrock products include both regular and premium grades of gasoline and a wide variety of motor oils and greases. The company's agreement with Hilton will not affect Shamrock's own credit system.

Hilton is affiliated with the Hilton Hotel and restaurant chain and insures its "Carte Blanche" credit cards for nationwide credit purchases of meals, rooms, car rental, gas, gasoline, flowers, books and other services.

Seaton Rough On Violators Of Act

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Last Jan. 8 Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton pledged a crackdown on alleged violators of the Federal Mineral Leasing Act.

He has kept his word. To date he has ordered 491 oil and gas leases covering 284,721 acres in Wyoming and Montana cancelled in actions against 254 persons and that is not the end. Bureau of Land Management field investigators are digging into other cases, with legal action in the offing.

Involved are alleged breaches of the acreage limitation provision in which individuals or corporations obtain leases through dummy applicants, employees, and sometimes even relatives.

Under the law no person or company may hold more than 46,000 acres in federal oil and gas leases in any one state or more than 100,000 in the new state of Alaska. Until 1954 the limitation was 15,360 acres.

Previous Cases Mentioned
The latest case—and one in which the accused cooperated with the government in an effort to clear it up—was filed in Cheyenne, Wyo., against Olen F. and Martha Featherstone of Roswell, N. M. The charge was that their 1943 acres in Wyoming exceeded the acreage limit. Seaton asked that 371 leases be cancelled.

Named with the Featherstones were 146 "contestees" whom the Interior Department defines as firms or individuals who either aided or conspired with the Featherstones in obtaining the leases.

Two previous cases involved Walter G. Davis of Casper, Wyo. He was accused with 19 other parties in a complaint filed at Billings, Mont., of fraudulently obtaining 34 leases embracing 27,142 acres.

The other case against Davis was filed at Cheyenne. It accused him in connection with 86 leases on 631,459 acres in Wyoming. Named with him were 35 "contestees."

Records Opened
The complaints charged Davis with attempting to circumvent the lease restrictions by having other persons obtain the leases in their names while he actually held the controlling interest.

The Interior Department said the Featherstones opened their leasing records to inspection "in an effort to clear up the matter as quickly as possible."
