Yarborough In Pampa Briefly

The state's junior senator, Ralph Yarborough, was among several hundred area residents who thronged downtown streets Tuesday night for Pampa's second annual "Turkey in the Mall" promotion.

Turkey's IQ Low, But He Tastes Good

ATLANTA (UPI)—Now father, you'll just get your mind off that delectable a rogan coming from the oven. I'll fill you a few things about that bird.

Everything you've ever heard about the turkey being a strange and funny fowl is true, and then some.

From the way he acts, it's a wonder there are enough turkeys alive to give back to the Indians who, of course, are supposed to have introduced this delicacy at that first Thanksgiving spread.

The turkey is best described as a bird with a tremendously low IQ and an equally high curiosity. The combination makes it mandatory for turkey farmers to watch their charges with utmost care.

A silly turkey, for example, will stand in a rainstorm and drown his feet from a warm, dry shelter.

A few years ago, a turkey grower in Douglasville, Ga., pur-

TALE OF A TURKEY

Wonder what's going on here. Food's been too good lately.

Thanksgiving—what's that? Never heard of it.

What... they want me! Sounds like my goose is cooked.

Glub. Oh well, I hope you folks enjoy me.

Daniel Testy In Statement To Solons On Teacher Pay Hike

Cost Of Living Continues To Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs climbed to an all-time peak in October, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said its consumer price index rose two-tenths of one per cent last month to 125.5 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. It was the sixth increase in the last seven months.

As a result, an estimated 1,250,000 workers in the auto, farm equipment, aircraft and electrical industries will get penny-an-hour pay boosts.

Prices of every major group of goods and services except food went up in October.

About three-fourths of the increase was attributed to the impact of new 1960 cars and a one-cent-a-gallon rise in the federal tax on gasoline.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, predicted further price increases in steel-made items because of the severity of the basic metal due to the steel strike.

Clague explained that dealers do not give discounts on 1960 models as they have done for several months on 1959 cars. This causes the index to rise, he said.

Rents showed the biggest monthly change in two years to push up housing costs by three-tenths of one per cent.

Fiscal Budget In Black Ink

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has approved that federal revenues may jump by four billion dollars in fiscal 1961 to a record $3-billion dollars.

Washington Floods Abate, Threat Eased

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Western Washington's rain-swollen rivers continued to recede today, but not fast enough to permit flooded lowland residents to start all-out mop-up operations.

The flood, termed Western Washington's worst in 27 years; inundated hundreds of valleys, crippled cross-state travel and drove over 1,100 persons from their homes. One person was feared dead in the disaster. He was George Shaake of Ellensburg, Wash., whose car was buried in a slide. The auto was found empty.

The rivers began their slow drop Tuesday and still were falling early today.

The Green River had gone down about two feet, the Snoqualmie a little over a foot, and the Shosholish about the same.

Most secondary highways were cleared and some primary roadways were coming out of the flood.

There was virtually no east-west travel across the state. Snoqualmie Pass still was closed due to a slide and Stevens Pass was open only to one-way traffic. These are the two main mountain passes in Washington.

Philippines Harrassing U.S. Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) charged today that the "graft-ridden" Philippine government has embarked on an open program of harassing U. S. troops stationed in the islands.

Weaver, who recently returned from a trip to the Philippines, said any American living on a U. S. base there "must hire armed guards to patrol his home or property will be looted and his family molested or murdered."

The lawmaker, a member of the House defense appropriations subcommittee, said the State Department had not told Americans "about the true conditions because some fear trading on a friendly government."

The truth is that the (Philippine) government is not friendly."

In New York, Eddie Martelino, press attaché of the Philippine Embassy, branded Weaver's charges "the wildest and most ridiculous ever to come from an American visitor to the Philippines."

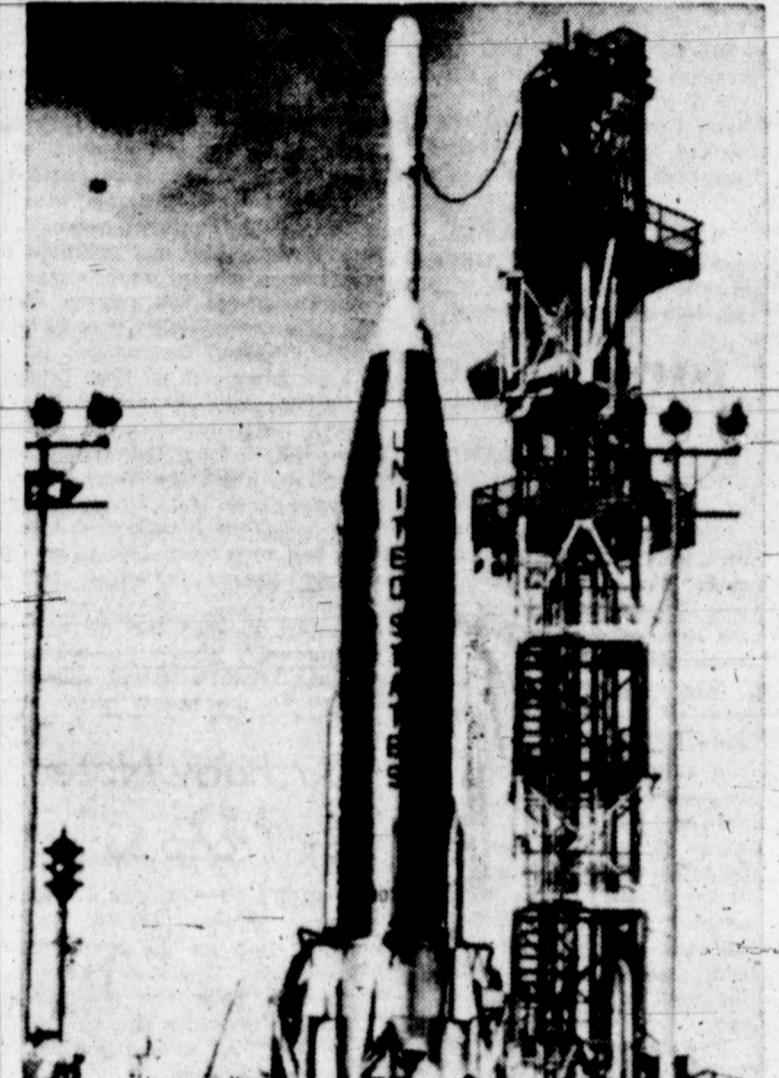

Officers Drown In Rough Seas

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (UPI)—Two Air Force officers apparently drowned Tuesday night after they plunged 80 feet into rough seas while trying to board a Texas Tower in the Atlantic 100 miles east of Cape Cod.

Two civilian engineers also were thrown into the sea when a cable lifting a "doughnut" stinger snapped. They were saved by lifeboat crews standing by for such an emergency but suffered minor injuries.

Listed as missing and presumed dead were Capt. Lewis V. Barker, 34, of Bourne, Mass., and CWO Owen L. Morgan, 45, of Fairview, Mass.

Barker was to be officer in charge of the lower for the next 31 days while Morgan was taking over as utility superintendent. It was Morgan's first trip to the offshore warning post.

THANKSGIVING FIRING SCHEDULED — The Atlas missile, designed to go into orbit around the moon and transmit an outline of the moon back to the earth, is shown on its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., with payload mounted under a plastic-nose fairing, top. The rocket is scheduled for launching Thanksgiving Day. The missile stands nearly 100 feet tall and will weight more than 260,000 pounds at launching.

Holiday Driving Care Urged By TSA

AUSTIN (SpI)—Thanksgiving Day and the following weekend will be marked by the greatest highway travel upsurge since last Labor Day weekend, J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, predicted today.

"By auto, bus, train and plane, thousands of Texans will be drawn by the magnetic power of this holiday to get 'back home' with relatives and friends, who mean the most in their lives," he declared.

"No one figures he will become one of the holiday weekend traffic fatalities," the safety expert warned. "Somehow, accidents—especially those which bring death—always are events that occur to other people."

Musick pointed out that many cars on the road this weekend will be carrying full passenger loads. Family automobiles will be carrying father, mother and the children—bound for a visit with grandparents. College students will be sharing rides back to the home town, many of them for the first time since they enrolled in school back in September.

"The U. S. Bureau of Public Health, the American Medical Association, the National Safety Council and other groups, who believe in reducing highway deaths and injuries in spite of seemingly inevitable accidents, are campaigning to get more people to install safety belts in cars," Musick said.

"A good portion of fatalities in our traffic accidents today arise out of one-car tragedies in which victims are thrown from vehicles which have gotten out of control," (See HOLIDAY, Page 3)

Nehru Hurls Challenge At Interlopers

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru warned Communist China today that "if war is thrust upon us we will fight with all our strength."

The aroused premier, raising his voice to emphasize India's determination, spoke in Parliament at opening of a debate on India's border dispute with Peiping.

As Nehru was speaking hundreds of socialists who have protested his mild approach to the crisis gathered outside Parliament and shouted anti-government slogans. Police prevented their storming into the building.

"Inside Parliament pandemonium broke out when Nehru accused the opposition socialist party of using the Peiping troubles to further their own political ends. The uproar died when he quickly apologized.

U.S. Officials Concede That: Effective Disarmament Plan Includes Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American officials conceded today that any effective disarmament plan would require recognition of Red China in fact if not in law.

They expressed this view after Secretary of State Christian A. Herter refused to answer the question at his news conference Tuesday. Herter said only that this was "very much of a question."

The importance of Red China in working out any arms pact also was emphasized in a special report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by the Council on Foreign Relations, a private group.

The report, made public Tuesday night, said the U. S. government "will have to have lines of communication open" to Communist China if only to bring Peiping into any international arms agreement.

The 21-page report said this country must conduct serious negotiations from arms control despite the negative results of 15 years of negotiation and the unhelpful prospect ahead.

Disarmament talks are to begin next year in Geneva between five Western nations and five Communist nations, not including Red China.

Officials in Washington said the basic concern now was to work out an end to nuclear tests with the issue of a control system for disarmament possibly years away.

However, they said there was no doubt that China would have to be brought into a nuclear control system which calls for some 180 control stations spread over the world. Some, obviously, would be in the China mainland.

'Put Up Or Shut Up' Is His Attitude

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. Price Daniel told the Legislature Tuesday to put up or shut up about a teachers' pay raise and public school improvements.

Daniel sent letters to each of the lawmakers and said a special session of the legislature early next year depends on the answers he receives.

He warned of possible federal intervention into education.

"It remains for those of us who believe in local control and operation of our public schools to put our money where our speech is," he said.

Daniel earmarked for the special session three issues already recommended by the Hale-Alkin Educational Study Committee. He said the program would cost $30 million the first year, and $34 million the second.

The issues are:

- An increase in the minimum teachers' salary of $45 a month to a starting salary of $3,600 with a $12 per month increase for each year of teaching service.
- An increase of $50 per teacher for maintenance and operation of schools.
- An increase of $190 per bus in transportation reimbursement to public schools.
- Daniel polled the legislators also on when the session should be called, and how the program should be financed.
- He pointed out 100,000 new students will enter public schools next year, and 10,000 new teachers will be needed.
- "The minimum beginning salary of 23,204 has not proven sufficient to attract enough qualified teachers to the profession," he said.
- "If Texas schools are to be operated and controlled by Texas people, they must be adequately financed with Texas money."

SIC Transfers Gardner, Hires New Manager

Jack Gould, formerly assistant branch manager in Houston, has been named branch manager at Southwest Investment Company's Pampa office. R. Earl O'Keefe, S.I.C. president, announced Gould's promotion today.

currently with Ralph Gardner's transfer to Abilene.

Gardner, a nine year resident of Pampa, will head SIC's 45th branch just opened in Abilene. He and Mrs. Gardner came to Pampa in Sept., 1956, when he assumed management of the Pampa office. Gardner has been active in Pampa civic affairs and is a long-time member of the Kiwanis Club. The Gardners have two sons, Richard, employed by a local automobile agency, and Jim, a sophomore at Texas Tech.

The new Pampa branch manager, Gould, joined SIC in early 1957 at San Antonio. He has recently been assistant manager in the Houston branch. Gould was reared in Waco, and attended Brownsville Junior College. He is married to the former Anne Van Cise, and they have two girls, Rebecca and Anne, 5, and Karen Leigh, 3.

Soviets Softening Demands On Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter says the Russians have "come a very long way" in altering their position on Berlin since they jockeyed off the German crisis one year ago.

Herter told a news conference Tuesday that he based this assessment on two points:

Atlas Firing Heartens U.S.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—An Atlas ICBM scored its fifth straight test success Tuesday in preparation for one of its biggest roles to date—boosting a rocket and a 375-pound satellite toward an orbit around the moon.

The shot appeared perfect. It apparently was slated for some short burst of standard intercontinental range of 4,300 statute miles.

The Air Force described the flight as "routine" for the Atlas, which has been operational since early last September. There was no special equipment aboard, nor was any attempt made to recover the nose cone.

As the Atlas blasted away, missiles were busy at a neighboring pad gearing an Atlas-Ame rocket for an apparently imminent trip designed to orbit around the moon a payload including a television scanner designed to take pictures of the lunar "far-side."

The "Double-A," consisting of the 360,000-pound-thrust Atlas booster and upper stage parts from the highly successful Thor-Able space rocket, is expected to be launched within a few days.

It will seek the first U.S. moon shot success in six tries. Meanwhile, Russia already has scored a direct hit on the moon with its Lunik II, and orbited the lunar body with the Lunik III to secure the first "far-side" pictures available to man.

Steel Peace Talks Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Top government peacemakers meet today to talk turkey about ways to settle the six-month-old steel dispute before workers are free to resume their strike in late January.

Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of President Eisenhower's steel fact-finding board, was scheduled to confer on strategy with Federal Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

The session is the administration's first formal effort to find a solution to the stalemate since 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers returned to their jobs Nov. 7 under a Taft-Hartley back-to-work order. They had been on strike for 116 days.

Union leaders have warned that there is little likelihood of a settlement during the 30-day "cooling-off" period. They have warned the government to stockpile steel for defense needs while the mills are operating.

But the rush! Get your Safety Inspection today. Bring your car to 411 S. Cuyler, Pampa Safety Lane.

HELP FIGHT TB CHRISTMAS SEALS

1959 CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have already started my Christmas shopping and the same old problem has come up again. We have only one child but that's a fault of ours. We'd have welcomed a dozen if the good Lord had sent them to us.

I married into one of those families that makes a fuss over Christmas. My husband has four sisters and three brothers. They have only one sister and she has one child so she's not mixed up in this.

let me quit when I was twelve. I am 42 years old now and I will never forgive my parents for not giving me a good swift kick in the pants and making me go on.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great one for hunting. Last year he got a deer and I have had my freezer full of deer meat all winter. My husband is very fond of deer meat but I haven't fixed him any because I am not sure I know how to prepare it. It is all cut up into roasts and steaks. I feel so foolish asking my friends. Can you tell me?

DEAR WIFE: Season and cook deer roasts exactly the same way you'd prepare "utility" cuts of beef. Roast venison is best when cooked slowly. Deer steaks are prepared the same as beef steaks.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelop.

DEAR ABBY: This has been bothering me for a long time so I decided to write to you and get your opinion of it.

While I was at a friend's home watching the World Series on television, when the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner," I stood up. Everyone told me to sit down. I felt very foolish because I am a War Bride and was advised that Americans were supposed to stand up when "The Star-Spangled Banner" was played. Please tell me if I was wrong.

WAR BRIDE DEAR BRIDE: It is not necessary to stand up in the privacy of a home when the national anthem is being played. But having stood, your friends were rude to have told you to sit down.

DEAR ABBY: The girl who signed herself "HATES PIANO" could have been me when I was a kid. Only I am a man. My parents actually struggled to give me piano lessons when I was eight years old. I despised it and threw tantrums and acted like I was doing them a favor to practice an hour a day. I finally got them to sign their names to the piano. Most of our troubles derive from mistaken methods for realizing good wishes. If my husband shows attention to another woman, I may make a jealous scene with him.

Though my wish for his love is an innocent one, my method of realizing it is so mistaken that he'll become disgusted with me instead of appreciating it. This response of his will discourage me as much as our disgust with a cheating child will discourage him. The child and I do not need disgust, but some appreciation of our original wish.

So much antagonism is associated with words like "cheating" and "lying" that we don't give ourselves a chance to consider their real meaning. A child's lie is his mistaken method for keeping us proud of him. If we credit him with his original wish to please us, he's usually so grateful that he corrects the method.

We find this hard to do because we're so ashamed of our own mistaken methods. We feel so awful after the jealous scene with our husband that we can't think.

"All I want is Bill's love. Though my way of realizing this wish was mistaken, I certainly don't have to apologize for the wish itself."

TURKEY, plump as a butterball, cranberries, pumpkin pie and nuts are traditional symbols of our American Thanksgiving.

Cook's Nook

Lightweight Turkeys Are More Abundant This Year

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor Thanksgiving is a day of deep meaning for Americans. Throughout the country the spirit of the day is traditionally expressed by a massive turkey dinner with "fixings" of cranberry sauce, harvest vegetables and pumpkin pie.

Latest market reports are that turkey prices will average about 1 cent a pound higher than last year. Even though the number of turkeys produced in 1959 (about 82 million) will set an all-time record, the number to be marketed in the October-December period will be about the same as in the same period last year.

The number of heavy bred turkeys is less than 1 per cent over last year, but light breeds increased 26 per cent.

Most modern turkeys are sold "stuffed." The drumsticks are slipped into a slit of skin at the base of the breast bone. Therefore, the cook no longer needs to truss the bird. No bother with needles, string or skewers, or burning fingers in undoing the "rigging" before serving.

Frozen tucked turkeys are available both ready-to-stuff and already stuffed. For those who have a family favorite, the unstuffed bird will be most suitable. For those with limited time, the already stuffed turkey is the best choice.

When buying, allow 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of unstuffed turkey for each person, and 1 1/2 to 2 pounds for the stuffed style. This will allow plenty of extra meat for repeated dishes.

Here's one way to enjoy turkey the second day:

TURKEY PILAFF (Yield: 6 servings) Two cups diced roasted turkey, 1/2 cup butter, 1 medium onion, thinly sliced; 1 cup rice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups chicken bouillon, 1/2 cup shredded sharp cheese, 1/4 cup thinly sliced green pepper.

Melt butter in a heavy pan. Add onion and cook one minute. Wash rice in cold water. Drain well. Add rice, salt, and pepper and cook slowly for 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Add bouillon to rice mixture and bring to a boil. Add turkey. Cover and cook over low heat or bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes, or until rice is tender. Remove cover and stir in cheese and green pepper. Serve hot.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Turkey pilaff with cheese and green pepper, broccoli, seeded rolls or bread, butter or margarine, grapefruit and lettuce salad, chocolate walnut cake, coffee, tea, milk.

"Most roses bear only two years unless in very favorable conditions and should be replaced that often. They require heavy be live such as strawberries or something like peat moss. Pruning should be avoided because less lighter and single flowers may result."

TURKEY'S Train Splits Truck, Driver Out Unhurt

(Continued from Page 1) chased a fancy new automatic feeder—the kind usually used for chickens and decided to fry it with his turkey flock. The grower set the gadget, filled it with feed and left for the day in confidence that his birds would be well fed at just the right time. When he returned, he found 37 turkeys stretched out dead around the feeder. It developed that the feeder had run dry of oil and had set up a dry-bearing squeak. The noise had so aroused the curiosity of the turkeys that they had piled on top of each other and smothered while investigating the sound.

Arthur Gannon, one of the Georgia Agriculture Department's experts on the habits of the turkey, recalls the first time he drove his automobile to a turkey run. Gannon parked his car and left it for an hour while he inspected the run. When he returned, dozens of turkeys were having the time of their lives climbing up on the shiny top and hood and sliding down the slick fenders to the ground. The paint had been ruined by their sharp claws. A few years later, Gannon went to a similar run with a friend who knew all about the turkey's childlike curiosity. The man left the motor running, the doors open and the car radio on full blast. When Gannon remarked about leaving the car in such condition, his friend told him: "The music keeps them away from the car. Sure enough, they returned to find the turkeys circling the automobile but at a safe distance. Despite the many troubles with this temperamental bird, I am happy to report there will be plenty of them for Thanksgiving. And right down South, we'll be furnishing 12,738,000, a million and a half turkeys to supply our local needs. Now father, this is all you need to know about that bird in the oven—except how to carve the blasted thing. This you'll have to learn from experience.

Bids Taken On McLean Rental Units

McLEAN (Sp) — The apparent low bidder on McLean's low-rent housing project Tuesday was the Hayes Construction Co. of Lubbock. The firm bid $132,500 on the 12-unit duplex project. Bids will be sent to the Federal Housing Authority in Ft. Worth for checking and approval. A contract is expected to be signed within 10 days, according to Bill R. Reeves, chairman of the McLean Housing Authority. Present at the bid opening were Jack C. Whitworth, architect from Ft. Worth, and Henry H. Davis, project planner for FHA in Ft. Worth. Rental of the units will be for persons with incomes less than $2,000 per year. The need for rental housing in McLean has been acute since the town acquired a manufacturing plant several months ago. Each unit is to have a gas range, refrigerator and washing machine.

Seat-belts are being used increasingly by organizations operating fleets of cars, because their worth has been proved in preventing or minimizing injury in previous accidents. Although a majority of the public has been obstinately reluctant to secure and use these important safety devices because of confusion as to their merits, those motorists who have them are sold on their value—not only as protection from lurching forward in case of sudden stop or accident, but as a means to more comfortable riding on long trips because fatigue is reduced. The impetuous decision of the majority of the driving public remains to be seen. Musick also urged that travelers making trips over the Thanksgiving weekend "make certain their cars are in good condition, ready for any unusual weather changes which may develop." He said he hoped the weather would be fine, but warned that motorists should always be prepared for the worst from now through February.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

Sports fans in Borger have never been known as particularly good losers. But now it seems that some of them don't even know how to be good winners.

The Borger paper Sunday carried the most badly distorted account of a football game that I have ever seen. We were shocked to read this because when Toby Drun was the sports editor, he always gave a fair account of the games—though he had plenty of bones to pick with Pampa. His successor, however, does not seem to have the same sense of accuracy and fair play.

Even more surprising than the distorted story in the Borger paper were the quotes attributed to Borger Coach Gene Mayfield. Although Mayfield is a tough man to deal with on the football field (as last year's Pampa team and last year's Lubbock team can testify), he has never before been known to make derogatory remarks about a beaten opponent.

If Mayfield actually did say the things attributed to him, which we doubt, he was not only being a bad sport by running down a beaten foe, he was twisting the facts to do it.

Before we make any comment on the alleged remarks Mayfield, or the story written by Borger sports editor Ted Bach, we'll quote you both the story and the headline word by word, so there won't be any misunderstanding about what he said or meant.

Borger Sez They Stomped Us!

The main headline of the story reads: "Bulldogs gather in Harvest Point, 28-0 win." And the smaller headlines under it read: "Hapless, 120 yards and a touchdown, and gunned Pampa easy mark for 'Borger boys'."

Here, now, are the first five paragraphs, just as they're written:

PAMPA—The hand crowned queen here Saturday afternoon then sat in the bleachers to watch Borger's Bulldogs crown their football squad with four lightning-like strikes to make up a 28-0 win.

The Bulldogs gave Pampa a lesson in passing offense also, slapping the Harvesters' vaunted defense with a fine show of aerial precocity. They completely overwhelmed the host team on rushing plays.

Coach Gene Mayfield cleared the air of fifty boys in an attempt to lessen the defeat. . . but he was mounted as the Bulldogs netted three tallies in the second half to take the game going away.

Pass defense was what the Harvesters were noted for, but they

Just What Does 'Most' Mean?

Now we will take each bit of information and analyze each at a time.

First, and most obvious, is the assertion that Pampa was "hapless, outgunned, and an easy mark." If this was true, Borger should have been loafing inexcusably for the first 45 minutes. With a 28-0 lead, they could conceivably have lost if Pampa had scored a touchdown and extra point.

Second, there's the statement that Borger gave Pampa a lesson in pass offense and that the Harvesters had better look for a long point other than pass defense. It's conceded that "Pampa knock down a few aeri-als," is then alleged that "most of the 11 incomplete aeri-als were dropped or fell short of the mark."

We don't know if Leach was keeping count of which passes were knocked down and which were dropped or fell short, but if he did, he evidently doesn't know what the word "most" means. "More than half" of the 11 Borger passes which were not completed, two were intercepted and five were knocked down. That leaves four of 11 that were "dropped or didn't hit the mark," compared to seven that were stopped by Pampa defenders.

I had not heard that four is more than seven, but perhaps Leach is using a new number system (invented by the Russians for counting votes, maybe?)

Mayfield "Couldn't See A Thing"

Mayfield "couldn't see a thing" on the 11 incomplete aeri-als. Pampa's pass defense. It's possible he might have seen it a little more clearly if Pampa had driven to touchdowns after intercepting passes in Borger territory. That would have more than offset the ONE damaging completion which Borger made (the "pass" which bugged down the Harvesters, which didn't score two times, but that's the highlight of Pampa's offense (which concede wasn't working), not a pass defense.

Overall, Pampa's pass defense is the finest we've ever seen, for any one game, high school or college. Never before can we recall seeing one team knock down a pass and intercept two of another team. You might argue that better showings have been made, but you can't say the show-ers weren't plenty good.

As for the one damaging comple-

Did You Really Say That, Gene?

Pampa Coach Babe Curfman, in giving Borger a game, trailing by such a fantastic score going into the last quarter and all that. But maybe the day will come when Pampa has a team like Borger did last year, and Borger has a team like Pampa did last year.

Under those conditions, we might not disappoint Borger fans. We might be able to give them a game—like they gave us last year.

CRITICIZE PLASTIC HELMETS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Washington Redskins owner George Preston Marshall and Coach Mike Nixon may ask National Football League officials to ban the use of plastic helmets.

WAR PARTY—Six of these seven Miami Warriors may see some action Thursday against Weinert, in the regional championship six-man football game. The game is set for 2:30 p.m. in Haskell. All are ready for action except Hollis, who is out with a broken leg.

Pistons Set Swift Pace In NBA Race

The Detroit Pistons are setting a fast pace in the National Basketball Association because of the steady scoring of Gene Shue, fourth leading scorer in the NBA, tallied 43 points Tuesday night in leading the Pistons to a 104-91 victory over the hapless Cincinnati Royals.

The Syracuse Nationals dumped the Knicks, 120-107, in the second half of a New York doubleheader.

Detroit, increasing its Western Division lead to a game over St. Louis, built a 51-36 margin at halftime as Shue contributed 26 points.

Cincinnati narrowed the gap to 72-62 with three minutes to go in the third period, but it was a dying gasp as Shue and Bailey Howell scored six straight points to sew up the game.

The third quarter was enlivened by a slugfest between Detroit's Walt Dukes and Cincinnati's Jim Palmer. Dukes came out ahead in the fight with two rights to one, but Palmer won the court dispute as he was allowed two free throws. He sank both.

Jack Twyman, leading scorer in the circuit, was limited to 20 points as Dukes rebounded brilliantly against the Royal point-maker.

New York suffered its third straight setback and dropped four games behind the third place Nationals in the Eastern sector.

Frank Selvy, who, like Shue, is a former Knick, sparked the Nets just before intermission when New York rallied to close a Syracuse lead to 55-51.

The former Furman star scored six points in the last two minutes of the half and nine more in the next seven minutes to put the game out of reach.

Tonight's games feature the second battle of Philadelphia's Witt Chamberlain and Boston's Bill Russell. Chamberlain is the league's third leading scorer and leads Russell in rebounds.

Syracuse meets Minneapolis and St. Louis plays Detroit in the other games.

Miami, Weinert to Clash Thursday For Region Title

HASKELL (Sp)—The Miami Warriors, champion of six-man District 1 and winner of last week's bi-district game, meet the Weinert Bulldogs Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the regional playoff game.

This game will be the end of the line for both the winner and the loser. Six-man and class B teams do not advance past the regional finals. If the Warriors win Thurs. they will close this season as the only undefeated football team in their area.

Coach Jim Parsons' Warriors went undefeated through District 1, encountering a serious opposition only from Booker, and won three non-district games. They then whipped Nazareth last week, 59-36, in the bi-district-playoff game, to give them a 10-0 record for the year.

Weinert, which defeated a good Miami squad last year for the regional championship, has many of the players back from that squad, and has again marked up an impressive record this year.

Miami will probably depend on passing against the Bulldogs. Six men on the 18-man roster threw the ball at least five times during the season, and five different men threw passes in last week's bi-district game.

The Warrior passing attack may be somewhat handicapped by the loss of their number two receiver, and Tommy Hollis, who broke a leg in last week's bi-district game. Hollis was injured when he collided with another Miami player while both were trying to intercept a pass. He caught eight passes in district games, and scored seven touchdowns.

Still available for pass-catching duties will be the number one receiver, Larry Anderson, along with Paul Thompson, Jimmy Bowers, Charlie Christopher, and Mark Arrington. Gerald Anderson has done most of the passing, but Thompson has also thrown quite a few.

The Warrior ground game, though secondary to the passing attack, has been far from weak. Thompson scored two touchdowns from scrimmage last week on the ground, and Tuck Seitz added another one.

Miami's defense, led by Larry Anderson and Seitz, has been exceptionally good for six-man ball. The defense, as well as the offense, may be weakened by the loss of Hollis, but Thompson, Christopher, Arrington and Bowers will be available to strengthen the defense. All collected 25 or more tackles in district play.

Football Coaches Pick All-Americans

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

CHICAGO (UPI)—The South, with four players and the East, with three, dominate the 1959 All-America football team selected today by the American Football Coaches Association.

Chosen as the finest 11 collegiate players in the land by the 500 coaches who are members of the association were:

Ends—Chris Buford, Stanford and Bill Carpenter, Army.
Tackles—Dan Lanphear, Wisconsin and Don Floyd, Texas Christian.
Guards—Roger Davis, Syracuse and Zek Smith, Auburn.
Center—Max Baughan, Georgia Tech.
Quarterback—Richie Lucas, Penn State.
Halfbacks—Ron Burton, Northwestern and Billy Cannon, Louisiana State.

Fullback—Charles Flowers, Mississippi.

All are seniors. Cannon, who was the only junior on the coaches' All-America team last season, is the only repeater.

Baughan, Smith, Cannon and Flowers gave the South the strongest representation geographically with the East following with Davis, Lucas and Carpenter, the "lonely end."

The Midwest, which usually dominates most All-America teams, placed only two men—Lanphear and Burton. The Southwest and Far West each won one berth—Floyd and Buford, respectively.

Davis is the giant of the team standing 6-3 and weighing 228. The line averages 215 pounds. Buford is the only lineman below the 200 pound mark. The backfield averages 194 pounds and also the tallest at six, one.

This 1959 All-America team is the 70th annual selection in the tradition originated by Walter Camp at Yale in 1889 and popularized for more than a half century in Collier's Magazine. Camp made the selections until his death in 1925, when he was succeeded by Grantland Rice.

In 1948, the coaches association undertook the responsibility of selecting the All-America team on the basis of a new and impartial principle—rating the leading All-America candidates week by week in slow motion game movies.

Amarillo Sandies Move Up To Sixth in Schoolboy Poll

DALLAS (UPI)—Three teams which didn't even make the playoffs wound up in the final United Press International coaches board Class AAA schoolboy football ratings.

Bay City, unbeaten but tied by La Marquet, which won the playoff spot via the penetration rule, was No. 6; Beaumont French, beaten out in a tough showdown final by Nederland, ranked No. 7, and twice-beaten, Phillips which conquered playoff winner Levelland but lost two district games, finished in a tie with Lamesa for 10th.

Wichita Falls, displaced a week ago by Corpus Christi Ray, regained the No. 1 spot on the final week end of play and Ray finished to No. 2 in the Class AAAA ratings, while Breckenridge returned to a unanimous role as the state's No. 1 Class AAA team.

On the basis of the coaches' pickings, Wichita Falls will defend its 1958 title against Ray in the final, while defending champion Breckenridge will face Nederland, rated No. 2 in the AAA finals.

The final week end saw Port Arthur, Dallas Samuel and Temple take over AAA Top 10 roles in place of beaten Dallas Sunset, Houston Reagan and Waco; and Kilgore, Mount Pleasant and Lamesa moving into the AAA top group as Brownwood and Beaumont gave ground.

Behind Wichita Falls and Ray, Abilene held to third by a narrow margin despite its upset loss to San Angelo; Highland Park Neches, Waco and Borger (3 stayed No. 4; Fort Worth Carter (3

George Washington Grid Coach Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eugene (Bo) Sherman resigned as George Washington University football coach Tuesday for "personal reasons" after the Colonials' worst season in 30 years.

Sherman, who leaves GW with a 21-58-3 overall record, said "I really don't know what I will do." He said he would have to think about it a while.

The wily Bo was voted Southern Conference Coach of the Year in 1956, and he coached the Colonials to his best record in 1957 (65 with an 8-1 season mark, including an 18-0 upset win over highly-favored Texas Western in the Sun Bowl).

The Colonials tumbled from third place in the Southern Conference in 1958 to last place this year with an 0-5 conference record. The Colonials scored a lone upset victory over Boston University and lost eight games.

"The Religious Foundation Of A Free Society" Since this column has repeatedly contended that all economic and political questions resolve themselves into a question of eternal principles of right and wrong—or religion—an article appearing in "The Freeman" magazine under the above heading written by Edmund A. Opitz, member of the Foundation for Economic Education, was helpful to me in understanding the foundation of our religious background. This is the way Mr. Opitz puts it: "We live in a time of great uneasiness, when the values of the free society which we cherish are being seriously challenged; challenged not only by imperial communism abroad but also by dubious ideologies here at home.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

WASHINGTON — An extraordinarily effective, and relatively harmless new pain-killer — Phenazocine — is soon to be made available for public use by doctors' prescription. Arthritis sufferers particularly will benefit from this new drug, officially designated NIH 7519 and pronounced "fenazocine."

ing morphine, while not demonstrating any adverse effects, such as nausea, vomiting or respiratory depression. "Other instances indicate that the drug administered to cancer patients in doses of two milligrams, sufficed to control pain for 12 weeks, with no increase in dosage during that period, indicating the patients did not build up a tolerance to the drug. When it was withdrawn no abstinence symptoms occurred.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK—There was a story in our papers, and probably yours, the other day about someone who drove a car from Mexico to Manhattan with $150,000 worth of marijuana stuffed under the seats and behind door panels and how customs men at the border plus local police all the way to New York kept an eye on this sedan and grabbed it and the men at the critical moment. All I could think of was Laredo. I took two round trips to Mexico. I used the border towns of McAllen-Reynosa, for entry and re-entry three times and could have swung a million dollars in jewels through in either direction. The Reynosa inspectors were less than alert. One I spoke in Spanish, and the McAllen group of U. S. inspectors leaped through some luggage but didn't make a detailed search. They acted as though the average American tourist wasn't likely to be hustling narcotics or other contraband and why make a federal case of Joe Citizen?

Hankering

When I read that the Wimbledon Tennis Club had voted to make its celebrated tournament an open one, with amateurs competing against professionals I had to have a pot of tea, three crumpets and a sniff of household ammonia to keep from fainting away. I couldn't have been more surprised had I read that the Royal Family was going to open and operate a laundromat in the basement of Windsor Castle, or that the Tower of London was going to be used as a skating rink on Friday nights. Only those Americans who have been sportswriters, and reported the All-England championships at Wimbledon, can fully understand the enormity of the change at that sacred citadel of amateurism. To Wimbledon officials an amateur was a gentleman and a professional was not. A man who made his living swatting a tennis ball had no more right to mingle with amateurs than a septic salesman with the Duke of Norfolk.

The Nation's Press

Hoffa in Politics (N. Y. Daily News) The heat of the courts is scorching the neck of Teamster Union chief James R. Hoffa and Hoffa is reacting by making loud and angry noises about going into political activity in a big way. He will, says James, set up political action organization in his union, and this outfit will after the scalp of every member of Congress who voted for the Landrum-Griffin labor relation bill, which was aimed at labor racketeers like Hoffa.

The Almanac

United Press International Today is Wednesday, Nov. 25 the 329th day of the year, with 36 more days in 1959. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening star is Saturn. On this date in history: In 1780, the British frigate "Husar" sank in New York harbor with 900-thousand gold guineas aboard. In 1835, industrialist and philanthropist Andrew Carnegie was born. In 1907, Scottish soprano Mary Garden made her American debut in New York. In 1920, a radio station in Texas (WTAW of College Station) broadcast the first play-by-play description of a college football game. In 1944, the U. S. Horn Of Plenty In Sour Voice

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The United States has told its European and Asian allies that the horn of plenty is running low.

Not low enough as yet to be a danger to the American economy, but enough to bring about a serious reappraisal of U. S. military and foreign aid expenditures and for the United States to tell its allies that they now must help to shoulder some of the burdens formerly borne by the United States almost alone.

The result has been that in world capitals from Tokyo to London, other governments also have faced up to a reappraisal and with surprising unanimity have decided that the United States has carried the burden long enough. They will help.

Since 1949, with the exception of one year, the United States has had a trade deficit with other nations which by the middle of this year had reached a staggering total of nearly 15 billion dollars.

Accompanying the deficit has been a flow of gold away from the United States totalling nearly five billion dollars.

It has been a cause for growing concern for the reasons that no nation can exist forever on a deficit and that an unbroken outflow of gold eventually must be reflected in reduced faith in the U. S. dollar.

So it was for these reasons that U. S. Under Secretary of State Douglas Dillon warned in a speech last October that either other nations must put their financial shoulders to the wheel or face the possibility the United States would take steps to protect itself.

In their extreme, these steps could mean a return to high U. S. tariffs and the development of a kind of economic isolationism.

The warning was aimed at those nations who have received unstintingly of U. S. aid, while at the same time erecting barriers against U. S. goods to protect their own recovering economies.

And it pointed up the inequality of a situation in which the United States in 1959 alone suffered a four billion dollar trade deficit while others prospered.

These nations were quick to take the hint.

In rapid-fire order Japan, Britain and France announced moves to lift restrictions against the "made in U. S. A." label.

Sweden noted that five times this year, she has reduced restrictions against U. S. goods, the latest this month lifting barriers against import of coal, coke, some woollens and some farm products.

In the just concluded meeting of the GATT nations (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) it was announced that eight other

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Speculation is a business where it takes a surprise to make a new price trend, says S. B. Lurie of Josephthal Co.

"... A well known uncertainty is almost always reflected in the going price level," Lurie notes.

Thus, the fact that the threat of a nationwide steel strike in January still persists — that even the better managed companies will be "in the red" in the December quarter — is far from news, he points out.

He says the confusion of today's events can easily obscure two significant facts — that steel output has built up at a much faster pace, and with much happier working forces, and the pressures for settlement are greater than ever before in labor history.

Standard & Poor's sees good recovery for Lockheed; New York Air Brake profits rebounding; feels Beech Aircraft, Cessna and Piper Aircraft are undervalued.

"The outlook is reasonably favorable for both business and the stock market during the opening months of 1960," according to United Business Service.

"Some attractive buying opportunities are being developed in overdepressed stocks during this period of tax selling."
