Truck Hits School Bus Near Cooper

COOPER, Tex. (UPI)—A truck heavily loaded with salt crashed into a busload of junior high school children on a curve Tuesday night, killing eight and injuring 20.

The victims included Mount Vernon (Tex.) Junior High School principal Jack Henry, 45, and his 1-year-old son, Billy Max Henry. Henry was driving the bus on a football trip.

Also killed outright were Mrs. Felba Meeks, a teacher at the Mount Vernon school; and three students, Zach Taylor, 12; Kenneth Hightower, 14; and Rex Weatherford, 12, all of Mount Vernon.

Two girls, Audrey Turner, 12, and Juquita Rainey, 12 or 13, died later at a Cooper hospital.

Lex Weatherford, Rex Weatherford's identical twin, was injured.

The injured were taken to two Cooper hospitals and a Sulphur Springs hospital.

"There's a bunch of broken bones, bones and cuts," highway patrolman Max Womach said. "The seats all tore loose when they hit."

The children, most of them between the ages of 12 and 14, were killed onto the highway.

None of Injured Critical

The crash occurred at the intersection of State Highways 154 and 155. Womach said the truck rounded a curve on Highway 154 and crashed into the bus, splitting the open.

The driver of the truck, J. M. Farrington, 39, of Grand Saline, Tex., was hauling a load of salt from Pryor, Okla., to Grand Saline. He was injured and taken to hospital at nearby Sulphur Springs, Tex.

Womach said none of the 22 injured was believed to be in critical condition, but many were listed as serious condition.

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS speaks to C.C. Jaycees

Glad Nikita Visited U.S.

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

"Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is completely convinced he can whip us in an economical battle. He doesn't want to turn the current Cold War into a Hot War because he doesn't want to destroy what he considers a potential customer for Russian goods."

Those were the words of Pampa's Walter Rogers, 81st District Congressman, as he spoke before a sell-out throng Tuesday at a joint Chamber of Commerce and Jaycee luncheon in the Palm Room of the City Hall here.

Appearing in a conservative, dark blue suit and tie, Rogers touched on several important subjects, stressing his reaction to the recent visit of Premier Khrushchev to this country and discussing the labor reform bill.

After being introduced by Chamber of Commerce president, Warren Hasse, the 81st District Congressman quipped, "It's always good to come back home and get your battery recharged."

On the matter of Khrushchev's visit to the U.S., the congressman stated, "It was a calculated risk taken in the hope of better understanding and peace for President Eisenhower to invite Khrushchev to visit and tour the U.S. A great number of people were bitter about his visit, and I received many letters on the subject. I was however, very deeply pleased with the manner of welcome he (Khrushchev) was given by American citizens when he arrived in Washington."

Congressman Rogers did tell his intent listeners of one case where they were arrested for waving a skull-and-crossbones flag on the street sidelines as Khrushchev arrived.

"The couple was arrested for attempting to incite a riot. I didn't agree with this. They had rights as Americans to voice or show their opinions."

After pausing for a drink of water, Congressman Rogers continued, "I'm happy that he (Khrushchev) did get a chance to come over and see the U.S. I think that from now on he'll walk a little more softly. He will continue, of course, his braggadocio and bluff as he must retain face in the Kremlin."

"The most important thing about Khrushchev's visit was his keen desire to learn more about the foodstuffs and the distribution of foodstuffs in America. The U.S. farmer can produce enough food for twenty persons. In Russia one farmer can feed only three. Khrushchev would give his eye-teeth if he has any, if one Russian farmer could provide for ten persons. Then he could turn loose more manpower for industrial development."

'Gracie' May Bring Floods

By ROBERT E. GATELY
United Press International

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Hurricane Gracie, now a tropical storm pushing tons of rain water on gale winds, threatened today to cause flash floods from North Carolina, to central and eastern Pennsylvania.

Gracie, which left an untold amount of damage in her wake in South Carolina around the Charleston area, entered North Carolina near Charlotte about 4:30 a.m.

Gracie, weakened but still carrying some of her original punch was slowed down to 12 m.p.h. but was expected to head northeast later today with increasing speed across Virginia.

The weather bureau warned at 8 a.m. the eastern slopes of the Appalachian Mountains will cause local flash flooding in western North Carolina, western Maryland and central Pennsylvania because of the rains.

Gale warnings were ordered on the coast as far north as Cape May, N. J., and small craft were warned to remain in port up to Block Island, R. I. Tides will rise to about two feet above normal in the lower Potomac and Chesapeake Bay and along the coast.

The advisory said that except for a few local squalls with winds up to 50 m.p.h., the highest within 200 miles of the center will be 40 m.p.h. as the storm moves across North Carolina.

Gov. David L. Lawrence ordered Pennsylvania state agencies on an emergency stand-by basis. His code included civil defense, state police, military and highway departments.

Bonnie Huff, vice president of the South Carolina Electric and Gas Co. of Charleston, said today "I couldn't say," when asked about extent of damage to power lines.

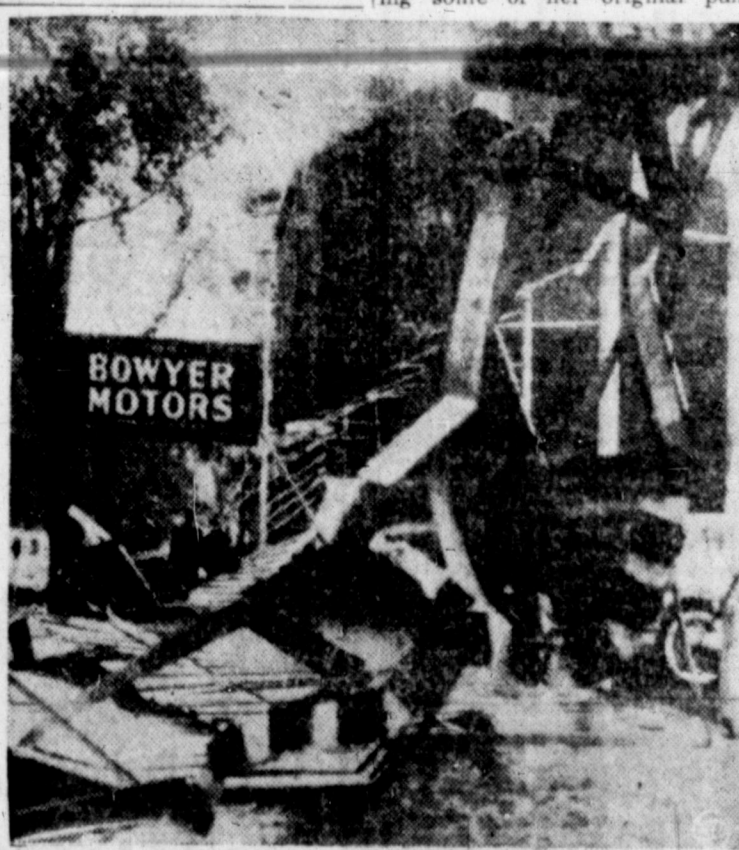

W. D. Dibrell, assistant director of disaster services for the American Red Cross at Charleston, said "we're going to get a realistic figure of damage today."

Dibrell said early estimates are "strictly a guess."

In immediate danger was North Carolina's yet unharvested 218 million dollar farm crops, not including the harvested 400 million dollar tobacco crop. Experts said the heavy winds and rains could damage nearly all growing crops.

Gracie appeared initially today to be taking the same course of Hurricane Diane in 1955.

Diane, which struck Aug. 17, 1955, entered at Wilmington, N.C., and cut northwesterly in a semi-circle path that took it through central Virginia and extreme eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

GRACIE DID IT

Gale force winds are lashing the metropolitan Savannah, Ga., area as Hurricane Gracie moves inland toward Charleston, S.C. Power is out, communication are down and traffic is blocked by fallen trees in Charleston. Many business houses have lost signs and awnings as 60 mph winds and driving rains lash the area. At least one person has been reported killed in the storm.

Death Toll in Japan Over 5,000

NAGOYA, Japan (UPI)—The toll of dead and missing in typhoon-ravaged Japan soared above the 5,000 mark today. Typhoid and dysentery swept through the area, adding new deaths to a stricken people unable even to bury their dead.

Japanese police released new casualty figures from Typhoon No. 1, the worst in Japan's recorded history, showing 3,265 dead and 1,770 missing. More than 2,000 persons were injured and a million and a half were homeless.

The government aided by foreign countries including the United States was rushing aid to the disaster area but flood victims complained that help was slow in coming.

Morale was at rock bottom and discouraged refugees said they even more helpless at the lack of immediate aid and the lack of help around them.

"Where do you begin?" asked an official Taro Iwamoto of the city of Yoshida, once a rice paddy, now a sodden mass of mud like having your arms and legs torn off. All we know is that the whole district is under water and the bodies are buried under it."

Nagoya was the hardest hit with more than 1,000 persons drowned. Floodwaters still swamped Minato and Minami wards and small boats sailed across what was once prosperous streets.

"Help is too slow in coming," said Eiji Hirano, a teacher. "The local ward office has its hands full disposing of the bodies. It is more important to help the living."

The living were short of drinking water and food and died with outbreaks of the two water diseases — typhoid and dysentery — from drinking contaminated water.

The U. S. Navy sent the aircraft carrier Kearsage to give assistance with its planes. American and Japanese helicopters dropped food and supplies and hoisted up the stranded, but it was not enough. Commercial air flew in supplies free of charge.

Giant Airliner Falls Near Buffalo

BUFFALO, Tex. (UPI)—A Lockheed Electra plane bound from Houston to New York, exploded in the air late Tuesday night, sailed across the sky like a flaming meteor and crashed in a scrub oak thicket.

All 34 persons on board — six crew members and 28 passengers were killed. They were bound for Dallas, Washington and New York. Recovery crews found bodies and parts of bodies hanging from the oaks.

A state Department of Public Safety patrolman thought the falling Braniff International Airways plane was a meteor or as it fell.

A man and his wife, who live near where the main body of the wreckage fell, heard debris falling on their roof and then the impact and blast of the wreckage hitting the ground.

"Wreckage, bodies and mail are scattered over an area a mile square," E. H. Pickens, 49, who runs a feed store at Buffalo said. "There are just pieces of bodies. I had just gone to bed (when the plane crashed)."

"I raised up and saw a light in the east and heard a terrible explosion. I thought maybe he had hit the ground, but the wreckage looks like it exploded in the air. It must have happened in the air, because it blew all over the countryside."

Looked Like Meteor

The Texas Department of Public Safety said one of its patrolmen also thought the plane exploded in the air. He thought at first it was a flaming meteor going down.

The Civil Aeronautics Bureau ordered four men, headed by John Zirochi of its Miami office, to investigate the crash. In view of the explosion-in-air reports, it was understood that they will look for signs of sabotage.

The CAB men were en route and due before daybreak and the Department of Public Safety blocked off all approaches to the scene so the wreckage will be intact for them to examine.

Braniff also dispatched a six-man investigating team to the scene. Capt. R. V. Carleton, vice president of operations, "was in charge."

Although bits of wreckage, bodies and mail were widely scattered, the tail section of the two-and-a-half-million-dollar Lockheed Electra was reported to have escaped total destruction.

Crew Identified

Two fires were reported as far as a quarter of a mile from where the tail hit. Pickens thought the fires may have been burning engines.

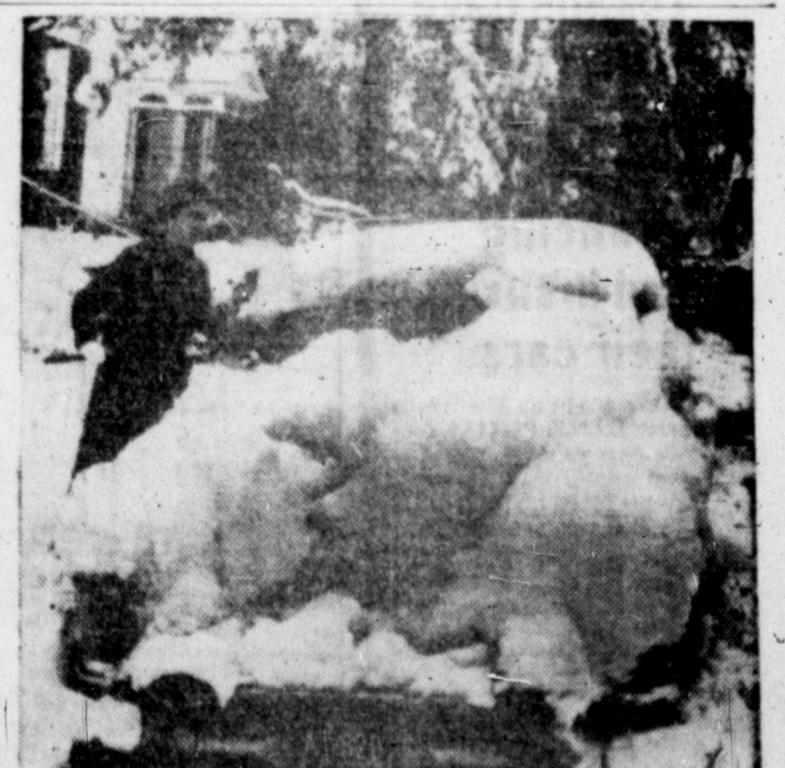

The captain of the plane was W. E. Stone, 47, who had flown for 20 years with Braniff. Don Hollowell, whose 28th birthday was Tuesday, was first officer. Rollin Longhill, 29, was second officer. The three stewardesses on board were Leona Mary Windler, 25; Betty Rusch, 23, and Alvlyn Harrison, 25.

Wendell J. Ide, a maintenance engineer who had been working in Houston, was flying back to Dallas on the plane. He and all the other Braniff employees, except Hollowell, lived in Dallas. Hollowell lived in Grapevine, west of Dallas.

Ground Shaking Blast

The crashing plane fell four miles southeast of Buffalo, which is 4 miles from Waco, Tex. The bulk of it hit the earth near three houses, but no wreckage of any size touched any of the houses.

"It was the terrible (sic) explosion and ground shaking we saw," according to State Highway Patrolman Travis Underwood. (See AIRLINER, Page 2)

IT'S 'SNOW' JOKE

Nancy Petch of Denver, Colo., had to use a broom to sweep the snow from her car before driving to work after the first snowfall of the year blanketed the city with nine inches of snow. The snow melted on the pavement and traffic was not affected to any great extent.

Sims Heads Scout Group Meeting Here

Jerry Sims, district Boy Scout finance chairman, was in charge of a finance training meeting here Tuesday for the towns that will conduct independent campaigns for Adobe Walls Council in Santa Fe district.

The Pampa council is supported by United Fund. To kick-off Oct. 20, the money raised by other communities not covered by United Fund or Community Chest will go toward the total council budget, $86,843.

The training team which instructed leaders, in each of the communities represented, on how to conduct the finance campaigns included E. E. Sheilhamer, vice president, Adobe Walls Council, Warren Hasse, public relations chairman, Brantly Hudson Scout executive, Hollis Alford, assistant executive, and Jay Leath, district executive, all of Pampa.

Rob Curry, district chairman of Santa Fe District, opened the meeting.

There will be independent campaigns at all 15 counties of the council that do not have United Fund. All necessary supplies and materials. (See MEETING, Page 2)

Almost an Inch

A steady early morning drizzle that began at 2 a.m. today had dumped .95 inch of frigid rain on Pampa by 11 a.m., according to the Daily News rain gauge. At 8 a.m. the gauge had measured .80 inch.

Denver Digs Out From Big Snowfall

DENVER (UPI)—Students eyed ski slopes on the western horizon today, dog tired repairmen were still busy restoring electric service and traffic signals, and homeowners assessed shrub, tree and roof damage which may exceed seven million dollars in Denver, which was caught unprepared for 10.6 inches of heavy, wet snow.

The storm began in the early hours Tuesday. By dawn, every tree and bush in the city drooped beneath the weight of clinging snow.

Lamb's eight inches thick broke from trees. They crashed onto roof and car tops, across sidewalks and streets. Power and telephone lines went down all over town. Unpruned shrubbery was flattened.

In the high Rockies, snowslides and snowfalls of as much as 15 inches closed roads. Fraser, Colo., had 24 inches of snow on the ground Tuesday night.

Several mountain areas started up chair lifts and rope tows, as winter sportsmen showed up for their earliest crack at the ski slopes in recent memory.

Highway crews opened a mountain road west of Denver in time for Mrs. Thomas Holbrook, 28, to give birth to a son in a city hospital.

Four runaway boys in their early teens, believed to have been living off food found in mountain cabins west of Denver for the past week, were still unlocated after the storm subsided.

velopments and purposes." Rogers said.

Congressman Rogers told of his 1955 visit to Russia at which time he saw box car-loads of Communist women going toward Helsinki, Finland, to open a new territory for the purpose of growing corn. "The soil was fertile but the growing season was too short and ears of corn couldn't mature, so they had to give up this idea. This pointed out their lack of production to me," commented Rogers.

The Pampa and District 81 delegate to Washington remarked he thought Russia stayed out of the Korean War because they realized we had them whipped badly on foodstuffs which we could supply our allies if needed.

Touching on the growing problem of world trade, Rogers pointed out that the European market can undersell us because they can make their goods cheaper due to a lower labor cost. He quickly added, however, that Europe can't match our quantity or quality of goods, and that Russia and her satellite countries in particular are worried about this.

"We're losing some of our world markets today. We can't afford to lose too many," Rogers explained.

Speaking on the labor reform bill, the Congressman said, "Americans will tolerate mistakes and laziness, but won't stand for corruption. Thank Heaven for that." He said that labor leaders knew they were going to be taken to the woodshed by congress, but didn't know how many licks they were going to get.

Swinging to other matters, Rogers informed he fought against statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. "But now that they're in I'm of the opinion if these territories are to be states they are deserving of all the federal rights of other states."

With a chuckle Rogers announced that Puerto Rico and Washington, D.C., have plans now for statehood someday. "Who knows, next it may be Cuba wanting in," joked the congressman.

After giving some background on Ike's Veto powers, Rogers drew a loud round of applause when he said he voted against the new Gas Tax.

Rogers admitted he was one of the four congressmen in a landslide 382 to 4 vote that turned thumbs down on the Federal Em-

Before closing out his 45-minute talk, Rogers touched briefly on the Traffic Safety Committee and their wild plans to have the government design U.S. vehicles for safety purposes; and on the developing water problems of the U.S.

This Dalhart Lady Tells How To Reduce

Mrs. Alvin F. Childers, Route 1, Dalhart, Texas, wrote as follows: "I have lost 17 pounds taking Barcenate and I feel so much better. I continue to take it as a tonic. It gives me the pep and energy I need. It is pleasant to take and the results are wonderful."

Get Barcenate at any Texas drugist. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce safely, easily and without starvation diet, return the empty bottle for your money back.

THE BARE TRUTH

BELLEFLOWER, Calif. (UPI)—Stripper Sally Ann O'Neil complained to police today that she can't go off with the show because she hasn't a thing to wear. The clothes she takes off on-stage were stolen from her car, she reported.

their home and trees and then explosions.

"We thought it was a jet when we first heard it," White said. "The reflection from the explosion lit up the sky. The redness lasted a good while."

Temporary Morgue Set Up

Five ambulances went in to pick up the bodies. They located 15 fairly close together and brought them out first.

A temporary morgue was set up in the Buffalo High School.

The plane, which could carry 75 passengers, crashed at 11:13 p.m. (est).

Clean Lines Highlight 1960 Oldsmobile

A trim balanced design of clean flowing lines highlight the modern styling of the Oldsmobile for 1960. This side view of the "58" Holiday Sport Sedan shows off the smooth, uncluttered lines to their best advantage. The low and level design of the hood affords better forward visibility and the rounded contour of the front fenders aids parking maneuverability. The low-level design also is incorporated in the expansive "Clean-Sweep" rear deck. Sport Sedan body styles also are available in the Dynamic "55" and the Super "68" series Oldsmobiles for 1960.

Big 2 Meeting Brings Some Fringe Benefits

EDITORS NOTE: The chief diplomatic correspondent of the United Press International reports on the behind-the-scenes analysis of what Eisenhower and Khrushchev accomplished in their talks.

By STEWART HENSLEY United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev appear to have taken some of the chill off the international atmosphere but there is no sign yet that they touched off any real thaw in the cold war.

That was the diplomatic consensus today on the secrecy-shrouded sessions between the two leaders at Camp David, Md.

The Russian press and radio was busy hailing Khrushchev's U.S. visit as an unalloyed triumph and the Camp David meeting as the most "momentous" event since World War II.

But American officials took a more cautious attitude.

MAD AT REVENOERS

ATTAPULGUS, Ga. — C. T. Johnson, 34, of Blountstown, Fla., has two gripes against Federal Revenue agents.

The "revenoers" who arrested Johnson for operating an illegal still didn't move in until he'd worked all day dismantling it to move to a new location.

SCENTED CATALOG

CHICAGO (UPI) — A mail order house today sent out a catalog that smells of something besides printer's ink.

One page of the Christmas book mailed by Spiegel, Inc., was scented with a perfume called "Danger."

It wrote: "Every movement with great aims has anxiously to watch that it does not lose connection with the great masses."

Sectors of the economy hit badly by the steel strike today looked toward a quick resumption of steel production following President Eisenhower's decision to take a hand in the strike.

The railroads expect freight loadings of iron and steel to jump 22.8 per cent in the fourth quarter provided the strike ends soon. Bethlehem, second largest producer, expects to start shipping finished steel from most of its departments the first day the strike ends.

Major appliance makers, in many instances, will have to close up shop Oct. 15 if the steel strike continues, according to a survey released by the Commerce Department. It indicated that at least 11 manufacturers will have to stop production by mid-October unless their steel supplies are replenished.

Americans will smoke a record 465,900,000,000 cigarettes this year despite charges linking tobacco use and cancer, the government reported. Last year a record 436,300,000,000 cigarettes were consumed in this country.

Aint Easy Staying Married In Hollywood Where Gossipers Reign

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

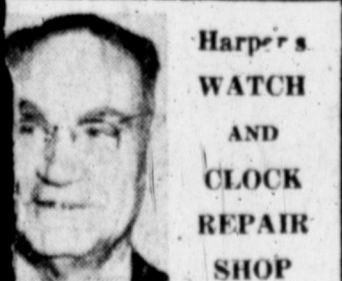

NEW YORK (UPI)— Making a name for herself in Hollywood is no simple task. It's a struggle to get the spotlight, and once you're there, it's a struggle to stay there.

June Allison came to town to do a job with said sponsor. The "Front Co." which is financing the first big plunge into television, show series produced by her husband. It will begin on CBS Oct. 21. Miss Allison will star in dramas, and act as hostess.

Are working wives becoming a closed group who look down their noses at the wife who gives up her job to become a full-time homemaker?

A working wife who quit her job a year ago writes: "In a year of being a full-time homemaker I've lost a number of friends. The moment I quit my job these friends started asking, 'How in the world do you ever expect to be able to get along on one pay check?'"

"They also kept needing me with such remarks as, 'Don't you get bored with just a little housework to do to keep you busy?' and 'I can't imagine giving up a job to sit at home all day.'"

"Actually, I don't miss my job at all. I've been taking some courses, doing a lot of reading and working in the yard. I'm learning to be a really good cook (which pleases my husband). But I do miss my lost friendships and I'm afraid that if I don't go back to work I'll always feel 'left out' as I do now."

Join a woman's club or two to get started. Get acquainted in your own neighborhood. Do some volunteer work. In short, make a new place for yourself and new friends to replace the old ones.

Jewelry Takes To Fall Necklines

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The relation of fall jewelry to the new necklines is a very close one. They're first cousins, in fact.

A collarless coat, dress or suit takes an sparkle when a "collar" of crystals and pearls is added. After all, a girl doesn't want to look like a giraffe in order to wear the latest thing from Paris.

Colors for the new costume jewelry glow. There's one group of stained glass pieces that is everything the name suggests. The richness of a medieval stained glass window has been transferred to necklace, earrings and brooches in topaz, pine, lapis, and smoky gray.

Then there are the tin-cut crystals in all their glory. Wild mink is smoky, glowing brown which reproduces the expensive fur. Amethyst is a purple that hints at ruby; piné is a soft bottle green.

For women who like the look of real jewelry at a costume jewelry price, there is a whole group of earrings, necklaces, bracelets and pins done in hand-notched pearls enhanced with jadelike carved medallions.

We show here some pieces from Marvell's fall collection. Clear water crystal and smoky pearls are combined (left) in a five-strand collar, earrings and brooch. Button earrings are taped, like butterflies, on her shoulder. Satiny pearls and tiny fluted-oval crystals form a collar (right) that's ideal fill-in for this neckline.

Mrs. Crowell Leads WS Guild Meeting

CANADIAN (Sp) — The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church met in the church recently with Mrs. Erbin Crowell, president, presiding.

Friendship Class Has Annual Birthday Fete

Friendship Class of the First Methodist Church met Saturday afternoon in the church parlor for its annual birthday party.

Guests registered, as they entered, in a hand-decorated birthday book and each were presented with a gift. Children's games comprised the afternoon's entertainment and prizes were awarded.

Birthday cake and coffee were served during the refreshment hour.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when you find you have fallen out of love with your husband? We were very much in love when we got married nine years ago, but now it has all worn off. We have three children, ages 8, 6 and 5.

I have no grounds for divorce because he has never hit me or refused to support me. I just don't love him any more.

I am young and considered pretty and I don't see why I should spend the rest of my life living with a man who doesn't appeal to me. Should I leave him while I am still young enough to find romance? Or should I wait until the children are on their own?

DEAR WANTED: It's too bad your mother never told you that marriage is not an endless honeymoon. If the "romance" has gone out of your marriage, it is as much your fault as it is your husband's. There are marriage counselors, doctors and good books to help put the zing back into your marriage. Preserve this marriage, Lady. It's probably the best one you'll ever have.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 18. While I am asleep my mother goes through my wallet. I have nothing to hide and dislike this very much. I have caught her red-handed many times. She says she has a right to know what is going on in my life. Do you think this is right of her?

DEAR SON: A boy of 18 is entitled to privacy. Your mother has no business in your wallet, but she is your mother. So be careful how you tell her.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in a sanitarium with a nervous breakdown. He tells the doctors and nurses that the reason he is there is because of me. He tells the other patients that I had him put in there so I could run around. This is not true! We have always gotten along fine together and I wouldn't look at another man.

I just hate to visit him because of what all those people at the hospital must think of me. Should I stay away or not?

TALKED ABOUT
DEAR TALKED: Your husband is a sick man or he wouldn't be where he is. The doctors and nurses know that he is not responsible for the statements he makes, so don't worry about them. Continue to visit him. He needs your support and understanding more than ever now. Good luck!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEWILDERED": For goodness sake, wear white, put pin a little black bow on your slip.

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

Hopkins HD Club With Mrs. Terry

Hopkins Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Leon Terry with Mrs. J. L. Ethridge, president, presiding. Roll call was answered by each member telling of some interesting place she had been or wanted to go.

Mrs. Wayland Acker, program leader, discussed "Picture Making." She said, "First you must select where you are going to hang the picture; how it will harmonize with its surroundings; and what one picture is to depict. She demonstrated twelve finished pictures, showing which rooms they were for.

Cakes and cookies were served during the social hour. Those present were Mrs. J. L. Ethridge, Mrs. Wayland Acker, Jimmy Hopkins, Marvin Rowan, D. C. McCarthy, W. O. Terry and Conner Hicks.

It was announced that the next meeting will be on Oct. 12 in the home of Mrs. Hopkins.

COLD WEATHER COOKERY

Have you ever thought of making your own onion soup? It can be done with relative ease. Just saute 3 medium sized onions, which have been sliced, in 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine for about 15 minutes. Add 1 quart of meat stock and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Now pour the soup and onions into a 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cover the top with slices of toast. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Then bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F) for 15 minutes.

EATING BREAKFAST is the important thing. These youngsters like bowls of presugared cereal, milk and fruits.

Cook's Nook Teen Breakfast Aids Youngsters Dispel Mid-Morning Hunger Pangs

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Even though mothers realize the vital importance of an adequate breakfast for all the family, getting all of them fed before school or work is often a problem.

At the Kevin Murphy household in Minneapolis, they have worked out a practical plan. Mrs. Murphy describes it for our readers, many of whom report similar breakfast problems.

"Our biggest project in the morning is to get our two children, 3 and 5, off to nursery school and kindergarten happily and on time without rushing or nagging them," she said. "So we eat breakfast on a first come, first served basis. Luckily for us, Brian, the slower eater, is also the first one up, so he's the first to start in. I give them a choice of just two cereals to avoid too much confusion. Steve, our two-year-old, pours his own milk on the cereal and can polish off big helpings while Brian is still toying with his. Sometimes during the breakfast, all of us overlap and manage to be at the table at the same time."

Nothing free and easy in the healthy Murphy home. The rule for the children is "whatever Daddy eats, we eat." Therefore, to get his children to eat better breakfasts, Daddy Murphy started eating cereal every morning to set an example for his sons. It worked.

Mrs. Murphy saves the bacon and eggs on Sunday. On Saturday, because of no school, she lets the boys eat anywhere they like. She gives them bowls of presweetened cereal to eat out of hand like popcorn, fruit and glasses of milk to take anywhere in the house. Then everyone is happy. She is a stickler for wholesome sweets and says the boys have developed a liking for her cereal gum drop bars.

A reader asks if it is all right to decline a last minute invitation when you know other guests were invited days ahead. You shouldn't be offended. The fact that the hostess invited you means she wants you.

LA Wins Flag; Series Starts Thursday

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Dodgers finally took care of the Braves and their promise today was "Now we'll take care of the White Sox."

They plan in here today after having defeated Milwaukee, 6-5, in 12 innings at Los Angeles to win the National League pennant and their first playoff in three tries.

Manager Walter Alton, who said, "I thought we'd win it all the time," had his World Series pitching plans all mapped out.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox today named big Earl Wynn their starter, in the 1948 World Series opener against the Los Angeles Dodgers, playoff conquerors of the Milwaukee Braves for the National League crown.

"I don't know what the other guy is going to do, but I'm going with my big guys. That means Roger Craig in the first game Thursday."

"After that it will be Larry Sherry, Johnny Podres and Don Drysdale. They will do the job." The Dodgers did it the hard way in smashing the Braves, in a four hour and six minute marathon at the sunswep then shadowed Los Angeles Coliseum Tuesday to climax the greatest comeback in baseball history.

For no other National League team ever before had fought its way back from seventh place to the flag in one brief season's jump. And it was a battle, because as late as the last half of the ninth inning the Dodgers—beaten twice before in playoffs for the flag—again faced failure.

But, after 155 games and nine innings they had squared it up with one of those wild and wonderful finishes which were their trademark back in the old days in Brooklyn. And after 12 innings which ended a 156-game campaign in ear-jarring jubilation, they had earned the right to face the rested White Sox in the best-of-seven classic opening Thursday at Chicago.

It was—in the final analysis—a gift as well as a hard-won prize.

For there were two out and two on in the 12th inning when Carl Furillo crashed an infield single just wide of second base. Felix Mantilla had no play on what should have been a bases-filling single still leaving reliever Bob Rush and the Braves alive.

But the slender Puerto Rican took a daring gamble and fired to first—fired it into the dirt and past straining Frank Torre as Gil Hodges trundled all the way home from second with the run which completed the Dodger odyssey and sent them winging off to Chicago for the Series.

There it will be another knock-down brawl against an American League champion which has had time to rest its staff and had sent 22-game winner Early Wynn against them in the opener.

Craig To The Mound
For the Dodgers it will be Craig, the 28-year-old fastball pitcher who has an 11-5 record

Los Angeles Celebrates Victory Of Its Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — There was joy unconfined in Dodger town today.

There also were a few hangers collected by fans who celebrated the Los Angeles Dodgers' winning the National League pennant Tuesday in a playoff series against the Milwaukee Braves.

Movie stars, executives, the man-in-the-street and just plain ball fans all sang the praises of the Dodgers.

Walter O'Malley, head of the Dodgers, went to St. Vincent's Catholic Church immediately after the victory.

"There were two persons in the church at that time," O'Malley said. "A church is never empty, you know."

this season—and who sat in the bull pen idly Tuesday as five Dodger pitchers trudged to the mound before 23-year-old Stan Williams won it with three innings of shutout relief pitching.

Lew Burdette, the loose and easy man from the mountains of West Virginia, almost squared it up against the Dodgers in that second game Tuesday—almost made it necessary for Craig to go out and face Milwaukee in an endgame of the road third game today. But Burdette, staggered often yet never quite put down, finally took the count in a dramatic ninth inning which turned the tide and set up the heroics—and collapse—in the 12th.

Wally Moon, Duke Snider and Hodges chased him with three straight singles which filled the bases. Don McMahon came on in an attempt to stem the tide but Norm Larker singled off the screen in left to send Moon and pinch runner Bob Lillis racing home and Hodges to third. The Braves came next with Warren Spahn, their great lefthander, and Furillo flied deep to right, Hodges scoring after the catch with the tying run.

Now it was sudden death and the crowd of 36,528 groaned into the lengthening shadows as the Braves filled the bases with two out in the 11th. Williams got them out, though, and the groans changed to cheers as the Dodgers filled 'em up in their half and then couldn't pull it off.

Then it was the 12th and, after the Brave's went down in order, so, too, did the first pair of Dodgers. Now it was Hodges and he drew out, though, and the groans and sing'ed to left, Hodges going to second.

That put Furillo, one of the old Flatbush heroes, in the box and he rapped that hit on which Mantilla took the greatest losing gamble of the season.

INDIANS SIGN AGREEMENT

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians have signed a working agreement with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League. Toronto replaces the Pacific Coast League's San Diego Padres, who announced last week they did not wish to renew their working agreement with Cleveland.

100 Attend Meet Of Quarterbacks

A Ladies' Night audience of 100 at Tuesday night's Quarterback Club meeting, heard Coach Babe Curfman of the Harvesters praise his team for their spirit, and for their fine play last week in beating El Paso Bowie, 41-6.

This was the largest attendance of the season for the Quarterback Club, even without counting the 35 wives of club members who were present.

Curfman, besides praising the Harvesters for their victory, also said that Monday's workout was "the best and most spirited that I've ever seen, anywhere."

He also put in a good word for his assistant coaches, Dwan Lyon and Weldon (Bird Dog) Trice. "They deserve at least as much credit as the head coach," said Curfman. "They've done a tremendous job this year, especially in improving our team's defense."

The Harvesters mentor then turned to the Tascosa game, scheduled Saturday in Amarillo. "Tascosa is the district favorite," said Babe. "They're bigger and faster than we are; they throw better; they kick better, and they have a better defense. Our only chance is to outsize them."

Curfman added that the Harvesters are in excellent physical shape, with only end Kent Mitchell out with illness or injury. Mitchell had just put the best dishes in the clothes washer by mistake.

Also: Washington over Utah, Wyoming over Utah State, Idaho over Arizona, Brigham Young over Montana and Colorado State over Denver.

THE SOUTH

LSU over Baylor—The World Series attendance record for one game is Cleveland's 86,288 in 1948. Duke over Rice—Los Angeles had 3,103 for Campanella night. Miami over Florida State. They'd have trouble beating that even in the World Series.

Also: Clemson over Georgia Tech, Tennessee over Mississippi State, Georgia over South Carolina, Auburn over Hardin-Simmons, West Virginia over George Washington.

THE SOUTHWEST

Texas over California—Win, lose and no draw, the ball players are glad it's almost over. TCU over Arkansas—The losers are sorry for the team that has to expend all that energy in the series. SMU over Navy—As the man said, it's only money. Also: Air Force over Trinity, Oklahoma over Colorado, Texas Tech over Tulsa, Texas Western over New Mexico, Arizona State over Montana State.

STEELERS TRADE GLICK

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League traded defensive halfback Gary Glick to the Washington Redskins Tuesday for a future draft choice and picked up halfback Jack Call, a free agent who previously played with the Baltimore Colts.

ell had his appendix removed Friday in El Paso. "We're fortunate," said Curfman. "Usually at this time of the season, most teams have a few injuries." Curfman concluded that the Harvesters are in good condition to play 48 minutes of football, and that if conditioning and spirit count for much, the Harvesters will have a fairly good chance against Tascosa.

Shooker assistant coach Deck Woldt gave a scouting report on Tascosa. "They're tough," he said, "but not invincible. They make a lot of mistakes. They've lost eight fumbles this year, and an alert team might be able to take advantage of their mistakes."

He added, however, that while Tascosa makes mistakes, they are also quick to cash in on opponents' mistakes. They have started several touchdown drives after recovering fumbles.

Woldt described Tascosa's defense as excellent, and said that they run from a variety of formations on offense. "They don't pass much," he added, "but they hit pretty well with their passes when they do take to the air."

After Curfman's talk and Woldt's scouting report, a film was shown of last week's 41-6 win over Bowie. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners"—along with a few rambling observations on the National League pennant scramble.

GAME OF THE WEEK

Northwestern over Iowa—This is looking for the upset, what with Iowa rated a two-point favorite, but Dick Thornton and the Wildcats showed a devastating attack in walloping Oklahoma—despite that food poison excuse—and this could be the team of the year.

THE EAST

Pitt over UCLA—It's easy to understand why there was a National League pennant playoff. Princeton over Columbia—Neither the Braves nor Dodgers looked as if they wanted to win. Dartmouth over Penn.—The blue-plate special. Also: Syracuse over Maryland, Yale over Brown, Penn State over Colgate, Holy Cross over Villanova, Cornell over Lehigh, Harvard over Bucknell.

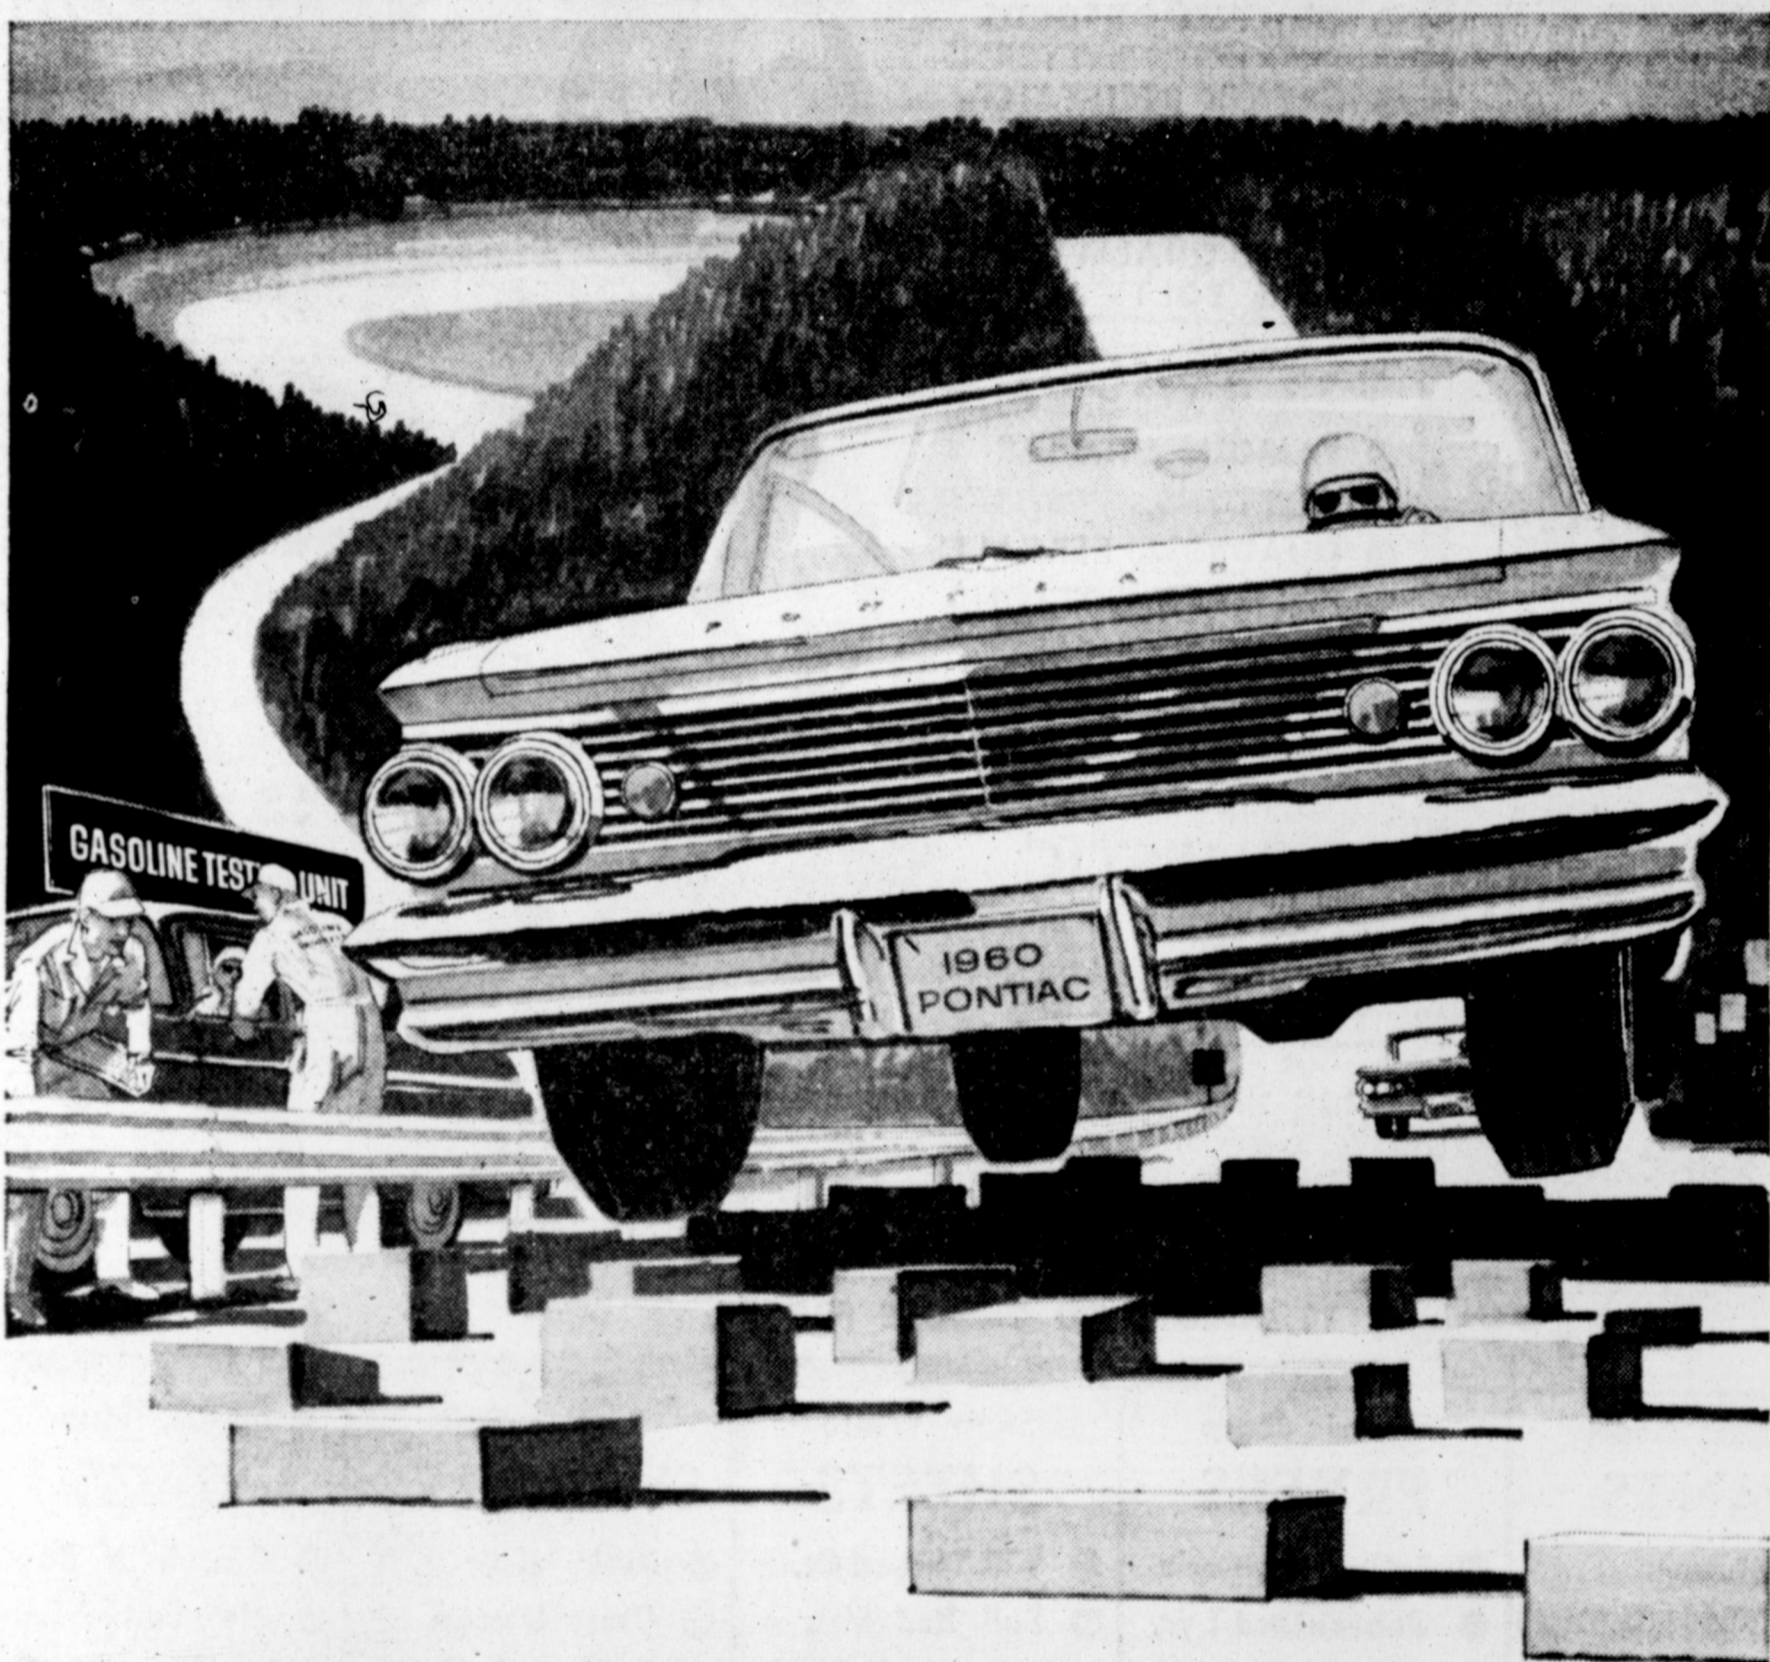

THE MIDWEST

Michigan State over Michigan—The left field fence is a horror. Indiana over Minnesota—It's a very easy nine iron shot. Also: Purdue over Notre Dame, Missouri over Iowa State, Kentucky over Detroit, Wisconsin over Marquette, Baldwin Wallace over Toledo.

THE WEST

Ohio State over USC—The Dodgers went into the second playoff game as if they had it won. Nebraska over Oregon State—The Braves were a grim-faced lot. Oregon over Washington State—They looked like a husband who

Two Games Slated Here This Week

Three of Pampa's five "B" and junior high football teams will play on the road this week, and two others are to perform before the home fans.

Thursday, the Lee Junior High Rebels meet Phillips Junior High at 4 p.m. in Harvester Park; Lee eighth plays Phillips eighth at Phillips; the Shockers clash with Borger B in Borger; and the Pampa Junior High Reapers take on Houston of Borger in Borger.

The Lee seventh graders play Houston of Borger at 4 p.m. Friday here, while Pampa Junior High's seventh graders have an open date.

Norman Phillips, whose Shockers had an open date last week, may be without starting quarterback Butch Crossland Thursday. Crossland's father reported Tuesday that his son may have the mumps.

Both Junior High varsity coaches, Earl Peeler of the Reapers and Lester Ramsey of the Rebels, said that the attitudes of their squads have improved since last week.

Ramsey said that overconfidence contributed to last week's 12-0 loss to Houston of Borger, but that his players have buckled down to hard work this week and are showing the proper respect for their upcoming opponent.

Peeler said that a lack of interest on the part of some players, and failure of some to do their best blocking and tackling, contributed to Reapers' three losses this year. However, he said Tuesday that more boys are showing up for workouts, and that their attitude is improving.

Bill Kennedy, coach of the Lee eighth graders, had nothing but praise for his squad, the only undefeated team in town. He said:

that last week's 6-0 win over Dalhart was a fine team effort.

Frank Craig, PJH seventh grade coach, and Harold Moore, Lee seventh grade pilot, had different opinions on the effects of missing workouts. Both squads had only two days of workouts last week.

Moore said the loss of workout time hampered his squad, which lost to Austin Borger, 20-14. Craig, whose team gained a 6-6 tie with Phillips after losing the previous week, said that "maybe we'd better miss some more workouts."

HANGING UP SPIKES? — It was rumored that Ted Williams, shown here at left chatting with Washington Senator slugger Harmon Killebrew, has quit baseball, after a man who had been virtually his personal attendant was fired by the Boston Red Sox. Johnny Orlando, the attendant, was given no reason for his dismissal, but there was speculation that his firing meant that Williams will definitely not return next year. Williams, the Red Sox' 41-year-old home run hitter, was not available for comment.

7th-Ranked Tascosa Has Excellent Defense

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Tascosa, the team Pampa meets Saturday night in Amarillo, is rated as the number seven team in the state, and as such could be the Harvesters second toughest opponent of the season.

The Tascosa team, in its second year of existence, has risen to such great heights mainly because of one thing — a rock bound defense.

In three games, the Rebels have allowed three touchdowns, but all three have been against reserves, after the regulars had already built a comfortable lead. Tascosa has defeated Arlington Heights of Fort Worth 21-6, Odessa Permian 13-0, and El Paso Austin, 36-14.

Chief hatcher men of Tascosa's defense are a pair of returning all-district linebackers, Don Broom and Don Mobbs. The defensive team is of only medium size, averaging about 168 pounds, but they make up in speed for any lack of great size.

On offense, the Rebels average 170 pounds per man in the line and 169 pounds per man in the backfield. The Rebel offense, while confined mostly to the ground, is by no means routine. According to Shock-er assistant coach Deck Woldt, who has scouted the Rebels in 17 or 18 games, Tascosa used 15 separate formations in one game.

The most unusual thing about the Rebs' offense is their "lonesome end," who lines up 15 yards to the right of his tackle. Tascosa also makes much use of floaters and flankers.

Broom, the fullback, is Tascosa's top ball carrier. He is a powerful runner, as well as a fast one. James Morgan, the left halfback, is used on power plays when Broom is not. Right halfback Geary Taylor is the Rebs' shiftest runner, the one they use to sweep around the ends.

Nicholson, the quarterback, can pass but hasn't done much so far. Woldt reported that he threw only 10 passes in the two games which were scouted, completing four.

The Rebels are a very experienced team, with many of their top men back from last year's good (6-4 for the season) squad. Of the 11 men in the starting offensive lineup, 10 are seniors, six are returning regulars, and four others are lettermen. The only non-letterman in the lineup is Taylor.

and the only junior is Joe Thompson, 185 pound tackle.

Tascosa has a fast, hard-charging line, anchored by 185-pound left guard Durward Epps, a returning regular. Woldt reported that several men were in on most tackles.

The Rebels, according to Woldt, are an alert team which takes advantage of its opportunities. They are quick to cash in on opponents' fumbles, and have started scoring drives after recovering fumbles several times.

However, they are also prone to fumble themselves. They have lost eight bobbles to opponents this year. Woldt said that this may be their biggest weakness, and added that because of this, they are not invincible.

Tascosa's offensive starters so far this year, with weight and experience, are left end Tommy Eck-

CHICAGO (UPI) — The 1959 World Series will open under cloudy skies but otherwise generally mild weather, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

Weather officials said a 10 m.p.h. south to southeasterly wind, which would blow from home plate at Comiskey Park out to right center field, was expected Thursday along with highs in the 60s.

Tascosa is Seventh In Schoolboy Poll

United Press International DALLAS (UPI) — A general shakeup marked the lower rungs of both the Class AAA and AAAA top 10 United Press International coaches board schoolboy football ratings this week as Wichita Falls and Breckenridge continued to hang firmly to their No. 1 spots.

In fact, there was no change in AAAA's "big-five" of Wichita Falls, Abilene, Corpus Christi Ray, Highland Park and San Antonio Jefferson, or in AAA's "big four" of Breckenridge, Levelland, Nederland and Bay City.

But Port Arthur dropped out of the AAAA Top 10 after its second loss with Houston Reagan moving up to the select list; and Sweetwater and McKinney dropped out of the AAA listings to make room for newcomers Snyder and Brownwood.

Odessa topped Port Arthur 7-6 and wound up in a tie for 11th with the defeated Yellow Jackets; Sweetwater fell for the third straight time, 8-6 to Stamford, and McKinney lost 30-15 to Arlington. In AAAA, the Top 10 was rounded out by Galena Park, Amarillo Tascosa, Longview, Fort Worth Carter and Reagan in that order, while Cleburne, Snyder, Brownwood, San Marcos, Brenham and Phillips completed the AAA roster.

Breckenridge again commanded the maximum 160 points, but its 7-6 squeaker past Levelland in the final 10 seconds lifted Levelland's point totals from 121 to 137.

Wichita Falls, which pulled only nine first place votes a week ago, got 14 this week with the two strays being split between Abilene and Ray. The Coyotes got 158 points to Abilene's 135 and Ray's 132.

The Father Image

The political father image is what plagues the minds of thousands of conservatives. Having learned in their school days that the Constitution of the United States was a fine and noble document, they have imagined that their future with incontestably intertwined with the preservation of a Constitutional political father-image.

We will reduce this image to family-size to more graphically convey our meaning. Let us suppose that we are members of a fine family, our father a splendid, honorable, perhaps even a regal figure. We love our father. We admire him. We would not wish to see harm come to him.

We should never depend upon it. It means that we should be independent, able and self-sufficient. We add neither to its stature nor to our own by running whining to the father-image whenever we stub our toes.

This is our problem in a national sense. Having been born and reared under the aegis of most lofty sentiments, which have now become enthroned in a political father-image, have we the courage and the strength to forsake our father's house and make our own way in the world?

Who Owns What?

Let no one misunderstand the central theme of our generation's major problem. The question being asked and being answered by today's thinkers and expositors is this: Who is to own what?

The question has its economic, its moral and its political overtones. And any answer to be found must be found in these three areas where a degree of consistency can bring all into harmony with nature's laws.

Who owns what? The answer is the law which says that each laborer is the OWNER of whatever he produces. To suppose that man labors so that others may take their ease is both unnatural and immoral.

Man is entitled to the full product of his energies. The more products he can produce, the more fully can he enjoy himself.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HODGES

Voluntary Collectivism

Since it seems to me we will have better jobs and goodwill among mankind if we better understand the Hebrew-Christian law of love, I want to continue to quote from Frederick Nymeyer's essay on the subject. Under the heading of "Voluntary Collectivism," he writes:

"If collectivism was not hypocrisy it would be possible to find at least a limited number of people who voluntarily practiced full-fledged collectivism. Such people cannot be found. They have never been found. They will never be found.

"People will make great sacrifices at times for certain individuals, but they will not make egalitarian (equalizing) sacrifices all the time nor for everybody. Genuine collectivism requires just that; egalitarianism for everybody all the time.

"The churches send missionaries to far countries where the standard of living is much lower. No denomination expects its missionaries to reduce their standard of living to that of the native population. And none does. If it were required it would be impossible to get enough candidates for mission work. If a man might think he had the fortitude for it, his wife would rebel. If his wife did not rebel, father and mother both would object to their children being subjected to such observations. To teach egalitarianism as a missionary is to be patently inconsistent with one's own life as a missionary. That is one of several reasons why missionaries from the Occident are no longer wanted in the Orient. Egalitarianism is often taught as a standard but is never lived as a standard.

Our Great Magician

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK - As a man who, in a professional way, gets to meet a lot of pretty women, it often has occurred to me to ask some personal questions. Like: "How do you stand those ultra-pointed shoes?" or "Wouldn't you be more comfortable with less harness?" Obviously, these are questions best left silent and the result is I never know much about them except that they are attractive. Finally I did pin one down: Rise Stevens, opera singer. Who did her hair?

"Sure," I said. "William Shakespeare cuts mine."

"No, a paracheuteer," he said. "It translates down into hair-dresser, though?"

"In a way. It involves more. He was putting a large, black cigar (non-Italian) and was having a moment of rest, of which he doesn't have many. Women come from all corners of the world to see him and, once he'ven't went to Russia to see them. Oddest appointment he ever had was with a noted woman of New York society who had no appointment.

"She smashed her car onto the sidewalk and into my awning," he said. "She was assisted upstairs and said: 'Well, now that I'm here I might as well have you do my hair.' Great poise. I asked her if the car had been removed. She said, no, she just left it there. I had no choice. I did her hair there and then."

"What happened in Russia?"

"Well, you see, I was there for our exhibition this summer, hopeful that I could persuade some Russian women to get away from those efficient and useful but de-glamorizing bobbed hair nouns they have. They look as though they'd been chopped out with an axe. Good for keeping the hair cut of machinery, I suppose, but terrible to look at in lots of 10,000 women at a time. Anyway, I had a moment of illness and went to my hotel and in the lobby I saw Rise Stevens' husband. He grabbed me and said: 'Thank God, you're here. Go up and help her back to sanity.' So I went up to her suite, knocked, and when Rise Stevens asked who it was I said 'Caruso.' The door flew open and she almost cried in relief. She had been having a horrible time. She sat down there and then, and we went to work on her and she looked fine. Then I went downstairs and the chief beauty operator asked me to do her just for experiment. The result was such that all the girls there then wanted the same. Why do Russian women all want the same, even if it is attractive?"

Was he the authentic character who introduced the Italian Boy and Poodle cuts to this country?"

"Well, yes, if you put it that way," he said. "Yes."

"Didn't all American women want them, too? Women are women. What are you squawking about?"

"What becomes one woman does not suit all," he said. "Heppburn has her own way. Most of the women I have as clients want individual work as clients wish copies. Each knows what suits her best and the only thing they have in common they also share with me: a vast, bitter distaste for the 'beauty parlor' look. The look that tells everyone to sign a woman has just come from a beauty parlor. Awful."

"Did he know that Nina Khrushchev was here with her husband?"

"Yes, he did."

"Would he work on Mme Khrushchev?"

"Now, you see, it's this way," he said. "We are rather busy in the fall. The new season and all. If an appointment could be squeezed in, well, maybe, but I'm sure the books are closed for weeks."

THE RESPONSIBILITY for working out the living conditions and many other details often rests principally with the younger generation, though elderly people, however, if their health is mental condition warrant, should take some responsibility.

A particularly good discussion of this subject is contained in the book, "You and Your Aging Parents," written by Edith M. Stern and Mable Ross, M.D. and published about 1952 by A. A. Wyn, Inc., New York.

For those in their mid-fifties or early sixties who are considering retirement, I should suggest the series of "Notes for After Fifty," which have been prepared for distribution through the state and local affiliates of the National Assn. of Retired Persons, Colonial Building, Fifth Street, NW, Washington 5, D.C. publishes an attractive monthly magazine and often provides other benefits of the person over 45 for an annual dues of two dollars.

THE RESPONSIBILITY for working out the living conditions and many other details often rests principally with the younger generation, though elderly people, however, if their health is mental condition warrant, should take some responsibility.

A particularly good discussion of this subject is contained in the book, "You and Your Aging Parents," written by Edith M. Stern and Mable Ross, M.D. and published about 1952 by A. A. Wyn, Inc., New York.

Here's Moving Without Usual Trouble, Bother and Anger

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — As one of the estimated 35 million persons to change residence in 1959, my chapeau is off to a former model named Gertrude Palmer.

For most of us, there is all too much truth in the old saying that "thru moves are as good as a burn-out." Moving means chaos and clashing tempers no matter how well the planning ahead, I've found.

Yet Miss Palmer is supervising one of the most unusual moving jobs of the year—and not a hair of her auburn tresses seems ruffled. She is responsible for the transfer of an entire company—its office equipment, home furnishings, families and pets — from New York to Los Angeles.

"Just say this is organized bedlam," she said calmly at her office with National Telefilm Associates, Inc. "But the jet age helps."

Open Again Monday

The first stages of moving began six weeks ago, she said. It will be climaxed this weekend when the last of the 70 adults, 29 children, three dogs, two goldfish, one cat and one parakeet heads west by jet plane.

"We close the offices here today," she said. "Monday morning, the staff reports to work at the same desks, the same typewriters, even the same pencils in Los Angeles."

Behind this "organized bedlam" lies plenty of planning on the part of the 35-year-old Miss Palmer, who is personnel director for NTA. It took her several trips to Los Angeles to plan the decor and furniture placement for the new headquarters. She also surveyed new home prospects, driver license requirements, taxes, churches, school locations and starting dates—"since the move was to be around the start of school this was important," she said.

Leaving Greenery
All such information on the new environment was put into booklet form for each employee from president to secretary. Each couple or single employee also get a free one-week trip west, to ease the new surroundings and shop for home or apartment.

Meanwhile, at New York headquarters, experts from a moving firm were calling on the households of each family to work out details of packing. The experts also started tagging with shipping instructions every desk, chair, rug and picture in the office.

"The only thing we're not taking is the greenery," said Miss Palmer. "They won't let it in California."

HIT BY CONCRETE

DETROIT (UPI) — Police arrested Salvatore Parrinello, 62, on charges of felonious assault for dropping a 19-pound chunk of concrete on his neighbor's head from a second floor window. His neighbor, John Sustich, 62, who suffered a three-inch head wound, said they had been feuding lately.

ASKS POSTAL BAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — New York City Postmaster Robert K. Christenberry said Tuesday "it ought to be just as illegal to sell youngsters smut as to sell them alcoholic drinks." Christenberry said Congress should immediately pass legislation against the sending of smut through the mails.
