Firemen To Hold MD Drive 300 Workers Will Solicit Monday Night

Pampa firemen and scores of volunteers will begin a door-to-door solicitation for funds Monday night to open the 1959 March for Muscular Dystrophy.

Chairman Raymond Dalton said at least 300 volunteers will be needed to cover the city adequately. Last year's drive gave the Muscular Dystrophy Association $830 and hopes are high that more than $1,000 will be collected this week.

Dalton said that 75 per cent of funds collected will be used for research, while 25 per cent will stay in the Pampa area for local patients.

There are currently 25,000 MD patients in the United States "and the majority are children," Dalton added. He said there are three MD patients in this area, including Rob Roy Cannon, 14, of Pampa.

Muscular dystrophy is a disease which attacks the voluntary muscles, progressively crippling its victims. Eventually, they reach a state of almost total immobility and weakness in which even a slight cold may mean death.

In addition to Monday night's "March for MD," firemen are distributing coin canisters in many of Pampa's business establishments.

Dalton said, "People must recognize that a formidable segment of our population is doomed by this mysterious and, as yet, incurable disease. A cure must be found quickly to save these stricken children and adults, as well as to protect future generations. By wholeheartedly supporting the program of MDA, we are assuring the scientific research needed to find the solution to this tragic problem."

AF Can't 'Field' Ejected Capsule

'Cactus Jack' Garner, At 91, Feeling Fine

UVALDE, Tex. (UPI)—John Nance Garner celebrates a quiet 91st birthday Sunday and vows he won't have another big party until he reaches the ripe old age of 100.

The white-haired former vice president is confident he will attain the century mark, and attributes his longevity to his daily custom of eating grapefruit.

Nothing was scheduled for Garner's birthday, except visits by friends at his modest white frame home, and a traditional birthday cake.

This was in sharp contrast to the festive celebration of his 90th birthday last year, when 3,000 persons turned out to greet him, including former President Harry Truman, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Texas Gov. Price Daniel.

But Garner wants Sunday to be "just another day."

"I'll go all out again when I'm 100," Garner told a visitor this week.

That is a new goal for Garner, who for years has made it known that his goal was living to be 85, so he could boast he had spent more years as a private citizen than in public life.

His public career spanned 46 years, and saw him go from county judge to Congressman and finally to two of the top jobs in the nation—speaker and vice president.

Garner served as vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1933 to 1941, and when he left Washington in 1941 he vowed never again to cross the Potomac River.

Since that time he has lived the quiet life of a private citizen.

His daily routine includes shell-picking, reading newspapers and watching television. He receives visitors seated in a weathered white and green metal lawn chair in the front room of his simple home.

Garner's home is located on spacious grounds at the rear of an imposing brick home he built originally for his wife, Elsie. After she died in 1948, Garner gave the home to the city of Uvalde and it is now a museum.

His son, Tully, said Garner is "feeling fine."

"He is really feeling better now than he was last year," Tully Garner said. He says that sometimes his father will say he "feels terrible, that he doesn't know how long he will live, then that afternoon he'll be hitting on all cylinders."

Berry Sleuths Race Calendar

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (UPI)—A dozen experts are racing with the calendar here, taking the rest of the time is devoted to chemical "fingerprints" of cranberries to keep contaminated ones off the Thanksgiving table.

When the samples arrive, labels are applied, showing where each originated, along with other data. Then a small amount of sauce or fresh berries is taken from each lot and combined with chemical agents in a blender.

The mixture is filtered and a tiny sample is placed in a container for analysis.

The spectrometer passes light through the sample. This light goes through an optical system, where a gadget called a photomultiplier converts it into an electrical signal.

It takes the chemists two days to test each cranberry sample, although the actual analysis is a matter of minutes.

The chemists are with Hazelton Laboratories, Inc., which was hired by cranberry brokers to test berry samples for traces of aminotriazole, a weed-killer that touched off a major cancer scare.

The work is being done in the Gray Candler block laboratory where it was first discovered that aminotriazole can cause cancer of the thyroid in rats.

Still Hope To Recover It From Sea

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—An attempt to snatch a capsule hurled earthward from space from the Discoverer VIII satellite was frustrated in the air Saturday.

But a vast air-sea search was started immediately southeast of Hawaii for the 310-pound scientific package.

"We never saw the capsule," an Air Force spokesman said. "It's too early to say where it fell."

Chances of the aerial recovery were admittedly slim; it was conceded by the Air Force after announcement of the initial failure. The statement said it still hopes to recover the capsule from the sea.

The Air Force said "preliminary indications" were that the 300-pound capsule was successfully ejected from the satellite over Alaska at 4:20 p.m.

However, the Air Force conceded at 5:40 p.m. that air recovery was "no longer possible."

The failure was the fifth in the Discoverer series. Four previous satellites have ejected capsules. Two others failed to get into orbit. In another case ejection was not attempted.

The text of the Air Force statement:

"There are preliminary indications that separation of the capsule from the Discoverer VIII satellite occurred at approximately 4:20 p.m. and an air-sea search of Hawaii is underway. Aerial recovery of the capsule is no longer possible."

The Air Force had announced earlier that it would attempt the aerial catch on the 15th orbital circuit of the satellite instead of on the 17th pass as originally planned.

The satellite had more than "a dozen" passes around the globe as the aircraft took off from Hawaii. Ejection was scheduled on the 17th pass.

First announcement of a "successful" recovery was expected to come directly from the White House or Pentagon in Washington some time after 5:25 p.m. EST.

It would be a notable event inasmuch as neither the U.S. nor (See HOPE, Page 3)

Gasoline Tax Hike Has Foes In Auto Dealers

AUSTIN (UPI)—C. B. Smith, president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Assn. Saturday said his organization would fight a proposed one cent increase in the state gasoline tax.

Price Daniel has recommended a one cent increase as soon as the temporary federal increase of one cent expires in July, 1961.

Daniel wants to earmark the penny increase for a teachers' pay raise.

Smith said the automobile dealers would battle the proposed increase if it was used to retire a general fund deficit or to expand any non-highway program.

He said $42,400,000 annually is now being diverted from gasoline taxes for non-highway use.

One fourth of all gasoline tax money is earmarked for the state's public schools. During the last fiscal year, the state collected $169,800,000 in gas taxes.

"The automobile is a necessity," Smith said. "It is a direct means of making a living, or the only means of getting to the place where one makes his living, for untold thousands of Texans. Including federal and state taxes... it is estimated that taxes represent nearly one-fourth the value of a motor vehicle."

"If additional revenue is needed for general government purposes it should be collected on an equitable basis. This does not result when a portion of a road user tax is diverted from building highways to non-highway purposes," he said.

"The inequity of further taxing gasoline for general fund purposes is easily illustrated," Smith said. "Under our system of diverting one-fourth of the gasoline tax to the general fund, the user who drives 50,000 miles per year is required to pay 50 times as much as the one who drives only 1,000 miles."

Selby Accused Of Conspiracy To Kill Wife

HOUSTON (UPI)—A Negro woman told police Saturday she and her husband collected $2,250 from Joseph W. Selby, 51, on the pretense they would hire someone to kill his wife, Wilma, whose body was found in their fashionable Houston home Monday night.

Homicide detectives arrested Selby and charged him with conspiring to commit murder.

Mrs. Selby, 48, was shot twice. Selby himself reported finding the body.

The Negro woman denied she and her husband had gone through with the deal, however. They had not been charged by noon Saturday.

The woman said Selby came to her home in April and told her he wanted to hire a killer. She (See SELBY, Page 3)

'Payola' Tipsters Swarm To Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House subcommittee investigating alleged payoffs to radio-TV disc jockeys to plug certain songs reported Saturday it is being deluged with "clues and leads" from newspaper reporters across the country.

Subcommittee counsel Robert W. Lishman said the newsmen generally accompanied their leads with a request for the first break in the story when, and if, investigators are assigned to look into the charges.

Lishman, who has been fielding the long distance telephone calls on the payola inquiry, said he has "no authority" to make any such arrangements. He said that "we welcome all clues and leads, but we want to treat all the payola fairly."

Payola is the word used in the music trade to describe payments made by music publishers, record manufacturers or salesmen to disc jockeys, station music librarians or others who select tunes to be played over the air. It also is used to describe cases in which disc jockeys have a secret financial interest in the records, music or singers they plug.

The subcommittee, which previously investigated rigged TV quiz shows, turned its attention to payola in response to a complaint from the American Guild of Authors and Composers.

Burton Lane, guild president, contended that "commercial bribery has become a prime factor in determining what music is broadcast on many programs and what music records the public is surreptitiously induced to buy."

Subcommittee aids said complaints involving all kinds of radio-TV "situations" have been pouring in by mail and long distance phone.

On the basis of the leads received to date, by the subcommittee staff has concluded that seven of the nation's largest cities would provide the most profitable areas for field investigations.

The field investigations are not expected to swing into full action until the staff has analyzed the mass of clues and leads and drafted a plan of investigation for (See PROBES, Page 3)

Attack Fatal To Max Baer, 50

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Max Baer, happy-go-lucky former heavyweight champion of the world, died Saturday at the age of 50 from a heart attack in his Hollywood hotel room.

The former champion was preparing for a day of visiting with Southern California friends when he was stricken as he was shaving in his poolside room at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

Baer suffered the heart seizure at 8:10 a.m. and managed to stagger to the telephone and notify the hotel's switchboard which immediately called Dr. Edward S. Korzol, the house physician.

The doctor rushed to Baer's bedside, arriving within 10 minutes and began medication as the ex-champion complained of severe chest pains running up his shoulder. The fire department rescue squad had arrived minutes before the doctor and administered oxygen.

But Baer began showing signs of recovery and joked with Dr. Korzol who urged him to go to a hospital for a complete examination and treatment.

It was while the doctor was at his side that a second attack struck him and he died at 9 a.m., less than an hour after the first attack.

"Just as I was talking to him he slumped on his left side, turned blue and died within a matter of minutes," Dr. Korzol said.

Pampan 'Stars' At Ft. Worth

A Pampan "did the honors" Saturday at half-time during the TCU - Rice football game in Ft. Worth.

It was homecoming for the Horned Frogs and the Rev. Richard Crews, president of his sophomore, junior and senior classes in 1937-38-39, was picked to escort the homecoming queen to her court at midfield. The Class of 1939 was honored this year.

Crews appeared on television earlier Saturday morning along with members of the mythical national champion TCU football team of 1939. Others to have been interviewed were T. E. Hale, Ki Aldrich and Davey O'Brien.

Appeals For Halt To Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations General Assembly voted 60-to-1 Saturday to appeal to all powers to stop nuclear weapons tests voluntarily.

The lone vote against a 25-power Afro-Asian resolution was cast by France, which plans to hold its first atomic test in the Sahara Desert soon. The United States and Britain abstained.

The resolution appeals to the United States, Russia and Britain, now negotiating a permanent nuclear test ban at Geneva, to continue their voluntary suspension of tests and asks "other states to desist from such tests."

The 60-1 tally at an unusual Saturday session duplicated the result of the vote in the resolution in the Assembly's main political committee. Twenty countries abstained Saturday, three who were absent in Friday's committee vote joining that column.

Roof-Lifting Job

The Capri Theatre, now under construction at N. Cuyler and Francis, appeared to "lose its top" Saturday morning. Actually, with the aid of 14 jacks and 10 chain hoists, the roof of the Capri was boosted up 10 feet in a morning-long operation. The Capri will be opened March 1. The $142,000 Capri will seat from 900 to 1,000 movie-goers. (Daily News Photo)

Missile Lag Cause To Be Told In Film

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department and the Army have agreed to cooperate in making a motion picture blaming bureaucratic red tape for the U.S. space lag, it was revealed Saturday.

The film is to be released next Spring and deals with the life of German rocket expert Werner Von Braun. It depicts him as a missile genius frustrated by official bungling both in Nazi Germany and this country.

The disclosure coincided with reports that Von Braun has been urged by Soviet rocket scientists to make a tour of Russia and that he might accept. He is now being transferred from the army to the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Entitled "I am at the Stars," the new movie will be made by Morningside Productions.

The Army-Navy-Air Force register, in a preview of the picture, said it "starkly shows that the United States lost the space race to Russia because of bureaucratic bungling."

Unique Approach To Christmas Worship Planned By Key Club

"A Walk With God," was the more than 40 churches. The Key Club, Cooper said, is not looking for either individual or group recognition in this project. All the club wants to prove, he said, is that "we have not forgotten to be humble; for we dare to be different, and love of God is not old-fashioned."

"You go to your church, and I'll go to mine—but let's walk along together," Cooper appealed in concluding his talk. Cooper was introduced by Key clubber, Jimmy Watkins.

Guests introduced Friday were Bob Rhodes of Kellerville, Rex McKay; Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club members, John McCausland, Edd Miller and Wallace Bruce; Junior Kiwanian for November Bill Neslage, and Don Curry and Wayne Denson, Key Club members.

The plan is believed unique in this area and was planned and will be executed by the young club members.

"You go to your church, and I'll go to mine," young Cooper urged, "but let's walk along together." It scores a point in reminding "twain" that too often the "guest of honor" during the Christmas season is not invited to participate. "One wouldn't give a birthday party and forget to invite the guest of honor," Cooper told his audience.

It is expected that upwards of 5,000 persons will take part in the spectacle. There are 12,000 to 14,000 church seats in Pampa's

ATTACK

Dr. Kozio said, "His last words were, 'Oh God, here I go...'"

The physician said that Bear had rejected his request that he be taken to the hospital and told him he had suffered similar but lighter attacks in the past at his Sacramento, Calif., home.

The burly ex-champion came there Thursday, a day after he had fished the nationally televised art at Phoenix, Ariz., between Joe Foley and Alonzo Johnson, and had commitments for several television appearances in the next few weeks and indicated he intended spending some time here before returning to Sacramento where he had numerous business dealings.

But the former champion lived to fulfill a 13-year-old promise to a son of his former sparring partner, Curly Owen. Bear had spent most of Friday at nearby Garden Grove, Calif., where he dined with Owen and his friend's 7-year-old son, Ron.

When Ronnie was five, the boy's father disclosed, Bear had promised him that when the boy became 18 he would give him an automobile. True to his word, Bear Friday presented a small foreign-made car to Ronnie before the youngster appeared in a high school football game which the ex-champion stayed to witness.

Bear won the heavyweight title from Primo Carnera on June 14, 1934, in one of the most savage bouts in the American ring in which he knocked out the huge Italian in the 11th round.

He held the championship for only one year, losing it on June 9, 1935, to James J. Braddock on a 15-round decision in New York City. Bear continued fighting until 1942, quitting the ring after being knocked out by Lou Nova in eight rounds.

But Bear did not drop out of public sight when he quit boxing. He continued as a referee, a television performer, worked in occasional movies—and even had his own television breakfast show in San Francisco.

Bear expressed his pride in his son, Max Jr., who despite being almost as powerfully built as his father, showed no interest in boxing but is a good golfer. The son is in the Air Force. His brother, Buddy, also was a well-known heavyweight boxer although he never reached the heights that Max did in the ring.

In addition to Max Jr., 21, he has survived by another son, James, 17, a high school student in Sacramento, a daughter Maudie, 15, and his widow, Mary.

Man, Wife Die In Highway Hit

Two Amarillo residents were victims of a head-on collision Friday night three miles northeast of Amarillo on the Fritch Highway.

Guinn Edward Landers, 34, was pronounced dead at the scene of the tragedy, while his wife, Mrs. LaRue Landers, 28, died at St. Anthony's Hospital at 5:30 Saturday morning.

Their two surviving youngsters, Rickie, 9, and Roger, 11, are in good condition.

Two other persons injured in the grinding crash were R. B. Bohannon, 33, and Jimmie Howell, 24, both of Berger. The two Berger men were headed south on Highway 138 when their car collided head-on with the Landers car.

Howell told investigating officers he and Bohannon started to pass a westbound vehicle when a car with one headlight loomed up in front of him.

approval by the nine-man subcommittee. The subcommittee's next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 9, but it could be summoned earlier by Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.).

Staff investigators so far have conducted on-the-spot inquiries in only two cities—Philadelphia and New York.

Two investigators went to Philadelphia to talk to TV star Dick Clark and others. This came shortly before the teenage idol disclosed he had agreed at the request of the American Broadcasting Co. to give up his financial interest in a record company and in music publishing companies.

New York City is a special case. The subcommittee has set up a field office there to follow up on any information it receives.

Couple Injured On Berger Road

Two Pampa residents, both in their late 20's, were brought to North Plains Hospital in Berger Saturday afternoon following a one-car accident about 2.5 miles east of Berger.

Doctors at North Plains said both were in good condition late Saturday night.

Deputy Sheriff C. A. Heron of Berger said that at 3:30 p.m. the Ringwald car went out of control on a straight stretch of state highway 152 and rolled three times off the right side of the road.

Heron said Ringwald will be charged with driving while intoxicated. The car was demolished.

Budget Talks Held By Ike, Defense Trio

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower acted Saturday to give the Defense Department a more clearly defined role of responsibility for executing the Military Assistance Program overseas.

The chief executive named Gen. Williston E. Palmer, Deputy Commander in Chief of U.S. European Forces, as Director of Military Assistance in the office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for international security affairs.

Eisenhower met for two hours and 10 minutes Saturday with Deputy Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and the three armed service secretaries in an effort to reach an inter-service agreement on the defense budget for the next fiscal year.

Gates said the conferees still were talking in general terms of a military budget of about 41 billion dollars for fiscal 1961. He said he expects the budget to be wrapped up by late next week.

Creation of the new military assistance post in the Defense Department stemmed from recommendations by a special presidential commission studying the entire military assistance field in relation to this country's overall foreign aid program. The commission was headed by William H. Draper, a retired Army general and now head of a utility company in Mexico.

The Draper Commission in its last report expressed the belief that the Military Assistance Program, heretofore handled in some detail by the State Department, should become an integral part of the defense system.

The commission recommended making the Defense Department responsible for carrying out details and expediting a program, the policies of which were to be laid down by the State Department and the White House.

The State Department, under the Draper Committee report, would be responsible for policy guidance and diplomatic implications involved in military aid.

The White House called the appointment of Palmer "a step toward this goal of the Draper Commission."

Missile Bases On Moon Would Be Virtually Impossible To Hit

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent

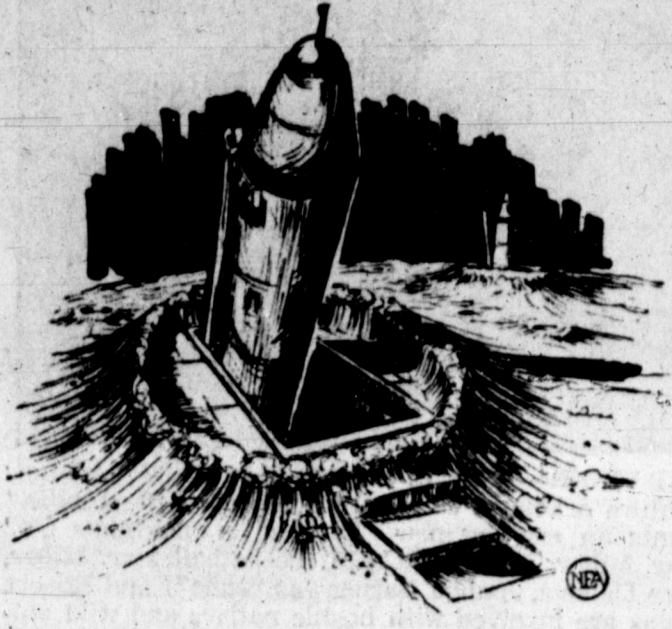

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Make no mistake about it: the Russian race to the moon may be a serious military consequence one day in the future.

As fantastic as it seems today, U.S. military strategists are already worried about the balance of power if the Soviet Union sets a permanent military base on the nearest neighbor a decade or two from now.

Here is the way these men reason:

Military bases on the moon would be relatively safe from attack. The pitted surface of the moon is ideal for concealment. The rear of the moon, which never faces the earth, would be virtually impossible to hit. Yet missiles — properly guided — could be fired to the earth from any point on the moon — front or rear.

Elimination Of Leprosy Is Aim Of Burma

YANGON (UPI) — Burma has launched a major campaign to wipe out the dreaded disease of leprosy.

There are a staggering 200,000 leprosy patients in the nation today, more than one out of every 100 people, the government hopes it may eliminate leprosy within a generation.

Burma is working with material from the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and technical advice from the world health organization.

UNICEF is furnishing a new type of sulfone for treatment of the disease. It claims that one U.S. dollar's worth of sulfone can cure an average leper in two or three years.

At present, 54,000 Burmese lepers are taking sulfone tablets. Five years from now the number receiving treatment is expected to hit 100,000, half the total leprosy population.

According to UNICEF, "it is possible that this notorious disease will be reduced to relative rarity by a generation from now."

Seven years ago, by comparison, the government was treating 4,600 patients. One reason for this was that lepers themselves were completely segregated and afraid to seek help.

Now, however, some of the old stigma attached to it is disappearing. The doctor himself took to the road recently for a 300-mile visit to 15 villages and three schools where the leprosy rate is high.

He pointed out that children are principal target of the disease. Approximately one out of every 15 cases is contracted before the child is 15.

Charge of Burma's national anti-leprosy campaign is Dr. Tha Saing, assistant director of health services.

He has a full-time field staff of working under him in 30 districts where the incidence of leprosy is high.

Economists Call Production Of Arms A Sheer Waste

By ELMER C. WALLER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Could the United States thrive without its $46 billion defense spending?

Economists have been doing some thinking on that subject since the United Nations produced its resolution on "General and Complete Disarmament."

Their answers so far have chorused "yes."

No one expects the U.N. hopes to be fully realized.

"But," say the economists, of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York. "The present setting for disarmament discussions, seemingly more auspicious than it has been for some time, quickens hopes that some relief may be obtained from the staggering financial burden and the appalling threat to human life represented by present levels of military might."

Economists call arms production sheer waste. As the Morgan Guaranty experts put it in the current survey of the bank, "Everything that is produced represents a sacrifice of something else that could have been produced instead."

"It is easy to overlook the billions of dollars worth of schools and colleges, improved transportation facilities, factories, and consumers' goods and services that are not coming into existence because of the tremendous outpouring of human and material resources for national defense."

"The security of the nation against attack is, of course, a prime objective and one never to be slighted whatever the cost, but it should be recognized for what it is—an unpleasant and burdensome necessity, not a stimulant to prosperity."

A review of our history shows sharp cutbacks in arms spending after every war. The smallest was after Korea and it has been built up sharply since.

The experts note big cutbacks in defense after the Civil War and after World War I. In each case there were seven years of prosperous conditions. World War II brought a cut from $9 billion to $11 billion in arms spending and the civilian economy took up the slack with a vengeance. A brief recession after Korea was followed by a sharp upturn in the economy.

Hence the Morgan Guaranty experits conclude that our post-war experiences give no support whatever to the view that heavy military spending in itself is in any way essential to prosperity and economic growth.

So far no one is even mentioning a prospect of a complete disarmament. If that should happen by some miracle, there could be a swift and deep dislocation in our economy.

But as the Morgan Guaranty economists view the situation, "The more conceivable prospect of limited and gradual reduction in armaments need rouse no fears as to economic consequences."

"To the contrary, if any appreciable degree of disarmament can be achieved on a basis consistent with national security, it promises great and lasting economic benefits."

TIGERS SIGN ROOKIES

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers have signed high school stars Virgil Wood of Detroit and Alan Bunke of Milwaukee to 1960 contracts. Wood, a first baseman-outfielder-pitcher, will report to the Duluth-Superior club of the Northern League next spring. Bunke, a catcher, has been assigned to Decatur of the Midwest League.

TV Off Camera

Meredith To Portray Eli
Whitney

By DOC QUINN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Burgess Meredith, the celebrated actor, once portrayed a great man named Ernie Pyle. This was in a movie. And he once played James Madison. This was in a film with Ginger Rogers, called "Dolly Madison."

Now he's another great man, Eli Whitney. This will be live, Sunday night on NBC-TV, in a play named "The Practical Dreamer." And curiously enough, there's not a cotton gin in the whole hour-long caboodle—although there is a model of one in the opening scene.

The play is one of the series of specials called "Our American Heritage." Each takes a period of the American background and makes theater out of one person whose works are still influencing our lives.

What manner of man was Whitney?

"He seems," said Meredith, "to have been a highly energetic, fast thinking hombre, who knew when he had a good thing. He was short tempered and impatient—qualities that may not be too nice but are very necessary if you are driving toward a goal."

"Too many times when the theater gets an American hero, it makes him so very good—never with any frailties. A hero is never duller than if he's all good. An audience can't identify with a man unless he has weaknesses."

"In playwrighting, something or somebody is different at the end than he is at the start. That's the only rule there is. In heroes, you've got to unmask them a little."

Just as the premiere of the series, last Oct. 18, about Thomas Jefferson, stayed away from his writing of the Declaration of Independence and his years as president, so this one about Whitney avoids the cotton gin.

"I consider my temper normal," he said in the living room of his apartment. "but I think that what I have to learn is a lot of discretion."

Reports of the young man's terrible temper kept newsmen away from him in droves during the filming of his latest picture, "The Story on Page One."

But Franciosa, at his charming best as his wife Shelley Winters sat across the room from him, explained:

"I'm always surprised when I hear reporters stay away from me, and I'm completely confused as to why. I don't mind talking about things like my plans for the future. But when people ask me intimate questions—like my relationship with my wife, well..."

The dark-haired, 31-year-old actor, now appearing in "Career," conceded he had "discussions" with director Clifford Odets during the filming of "The Story on Page One."

"But," he said, "whenever I have a heated discussion with any director, I don't mean it in any bad way. It's just my particular way."

"Then I hear people saying, 'my goodness, isn't he a violent man?' Of course, this town thrives on gossip. There's nothing to do here, so it's the favorite indoor sport."

Franciosa, who was born in New York City, confided that he really thinks "the press is a tremendously noble profession"—except for the photographer, whom he'd probably bop again if he had it to do over.

The actor's friends maintain that Franciosa is actually the symbol of gallantry for not bringing up the real reason he slugged photographer Bill Walker.

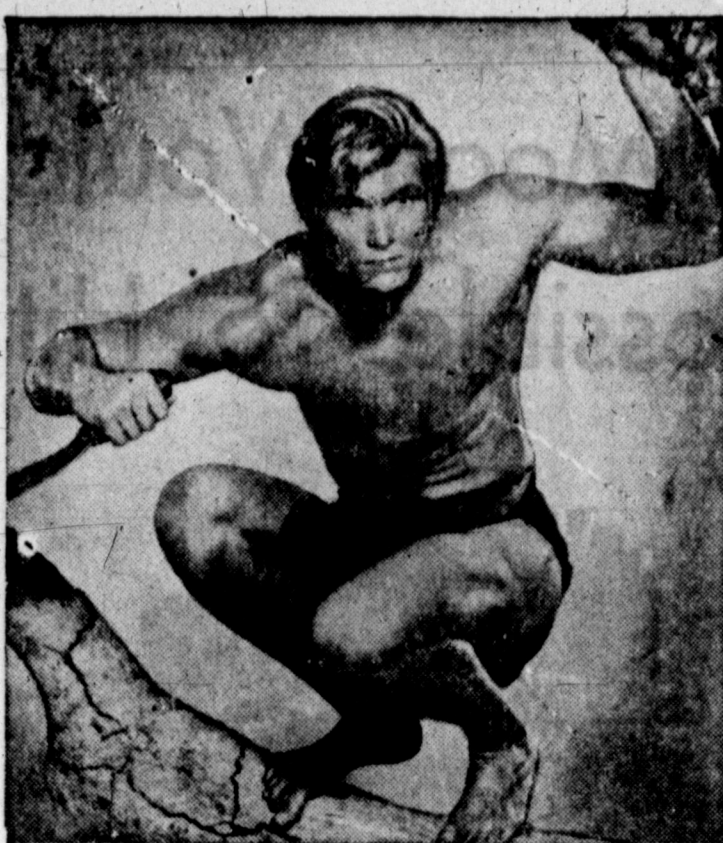

They say Franciosa didn't want Walker to snap Miss Winters because she didn't have any make-up on and was dressed up when they went to a courthouse to bid on a home. Walker snapped, and Franciosa bopped.

"I have absolutely no regrets about what happened," said the actor. "It's not that our privacy was invaded in a courthouse. People are always invading your privacy—but it depends on the way it's done."

After the incident, Franciosa's press agent issued a statement quoting the actor as being "sincerely sorry." But Franciosa will have no part of that.

"The apology was for political reasons," he said "I wasn't sorry."

Nevertheless, said Franciosa, he's not the angry young man he once was.

NEXT WEEK—"Tarzan, the Ape Man," MGM's all-new adventure drama in color of the "King of the Jungle," presents an exciting new "Tarzan" in handsome 6'4" Denny Miller, former U.C.L.A. basketball star. Della Reece Hit
Tops Record Poll

CHICAGO (UPI)—Della Reece's "Don't You Know," an eight-week of United Press International's "top 20" survey, became the nation's number one song this week.

The fast-climbing "Uh! Oh!" by the Nutty Squirrels moved into the seventh position.

Dinah Washington's "Unforgettable," not even on the survey last week, vaulted all the way back into the number eight spot.

Four newcomers to the top 20 were the Drifters' "Dance With Me," Marv Johnson's "You've Got What It Takes," Rocco Granata's "Marina," and Toni Fishers' "The Big Hurt."

Hollywood Marriages Can Be
'Normal,' Says Movie Couple

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Film-land's high divorce rate tends to prove the old adage that marriage and careers don't mix, but singer Gordon MacRae claims the opposite is true for him and wife, Sheila.

The MacRaes, 17-year veterans of the marital state, teamed up in 1956 for a nightclub song and dance act which has received some good reviews.

"Bringing Sheila into the act certainly helped me after my picture career came to a standstill," Gordon said, tossing a bouquet at his pretty blonde wife.

"She was always behind the scenes," he admitted. "But her coming on stage with me has given us a whole new approach to show business."

"One thing it did was to open up the eyes of a lot of people, including my agents, to the fact we could do a TV series. We've already been approached for five different ones."

Gordon expresses no surprise over his wife's talents, claiming she was an accomplished performer before their marriage.

"My wife sacrificed her career when we got married, even though she had golden opportunities," Gordon beamed proudly. "She been where she wanted to be, a home raising the children."

The MacRaes recently completed a 63-day tour, the longest time they've been away from the kids since the act started.

"The youngsters are well cared for while we're gone," Gordon said. "But even so, we try to take them along if possible."

fact some of our dates are scheduled for school vacation time when we can travel together."

Sheila's not the only member of the MacRae family who's boosted Pop's show business stock.

Gordon's 14-year-old daughter, Meredith, gave dad an idea that resulted in a hit record and quite a few dollars.

"For years, I was doing reggae ballads and Meredith suggested I try something different for change," Gordon recalled.

It happened when I brought home a demonstration record "The Secret," a rock and roll ballad, and played it for her.

"She insisted the tune would sell to teenagers and badgered me to record it," Gordon said, a smiting he was wary of the idea.

"I made it though, and the record sold 500,000 copies for me!"

Diplomatic Immunity Is
Unalterable Law Of Nations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The departure of 21-year old David Patrick Hearne for Ireland will not still the debate over diplomatic immunity prompted by his clashes with the law.

David, a good looking college freshman, was driving his 1949 model sedan at dusk Nov. 11 when it struck and killed a Negro maid. Charges of homicide and colliding with a pedestrian were dropped when police discovered his identity and his immunity from prosecution under U.S. laws.

An inquest was cancelled later when the coroner decided David's immunity made it an exercise in futility.

As public interest in the case mounted, David and his father, Irish Ambassador John J. Hearne, attended the victim's funeral. The ambassador expressed deep sympathy to the woman's family and pledged "to take care of damages."

On Tuesday, the ambassador issued a brief statement announcing that he was sending his son back to Ireland to continue his education there. David is expected to leave within the next two weeks.

State Department and diplomatic sources generally agreed David's return to Ireland was the best solution. They said it would have been "impossible" for Hearne to have asked his government to waive David's diplomatic granted such a request.

They noted that the immunity given foreign diplomats here also applies to U. S. diplomats abroad. It is mentioned as the "law of nations" in the U. S. Constitution and was pinned down specifically by a law passed by the first Congress in 1790.

The need for such protection stemmed from the days of warring kings and rulers who would hold an envoy of a country as hostage until his nation paid a ransom or surrendered a point on some diplomatic dispute.

But one of David's classmates at American University, disagreed with the diplomatic solution to the problem. He said David wanted to get out from under the protection of his immunity "but they wouldn't let him." But he says no one knows this and thus thinks the worse of David.

The classmate, who asked not to be identified, said a witness had been prepared to testify at the inquest that the victim ran in front of David's car. One police officer also implied that an inquest might have established that David was not as much to blame as most people thought.

David also had several previous minor brushes with the law. The classmate attributed this in part to a "ribbin" he got by a policeman because of his diplomatic immunity. One such case was said to have occurred last month when David and some friends were escorted from a restaurant on complaints of boisterous behavior.

Unions Pass
Along Data On Monthly Dues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The typical American union member pays monthly dues ranging from $1 to $14 a month with the average coming out to $2.50, an AFL-CIO survey showed Saturday.

The poll also indicated that 69 unions pay strike benefits ranging from $10 to $70 a week. Most of the payments run about $25 weekly.

AFL-CIO Secretary - Treasurer William F. Schnitzer, who made the figures public, said they were based on replies to questionnaires sent to 112 unions accounting for 48 per cent of the federation's membership.

The report said the average local union has considerable leeway in establishing monthly dues, the report says. In more than half of the reporting unions, however, the international union sets a minimum dues rate.

Sixty-three of 88 unions which answered the questionnaire said their dues payments ranged from $2 to $5 a month. Dues were less than $2 a month in only four instances.

Schnitzer and other AFL-CIO leaders recently warned that rising costs of running a union would force dues increases in the future.

In 12 unions with monthly dues of $6 or more, the union usually pays for pension, strike or death benefits. Craft unions, with an average of $4.75 a month, generally set higher dues than industrial, white-collar or government unions.

More than two-thirds of the unions reporting "strike benefits" said their members were entitled to these payments as a matter of right, not need, if they were involved in a work stoppage.

Borger Rips PHS, 28-0, On Fourth Period Surge

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

The Borger Bulldogs chewed on the Pampa Harvesters here Saturday afternoon, 28-0, before one of the best crowds of the year (about 6,000) in Harvesters Park.

The loss put Pampa on the losing side for the season with a 4-2-1 record, and gave Borger a 6-2-1 record for the year. Pampa remains in fifth place in the district with a 2-4-1 district mark, despite the loss. The sixth, seventh, and eighth place teams (Palo Duro, Plainview, and Lubbock) all lost their final contests.

The win kept Borger in a tie for third place with the Tascosa Rebels, who whipped Plainview, 36-0. Both finished with 5-2 marks. Despite the one-sided score, the Harvesters were very much in the ball game until the last five minutes of the final quarter. Borger scored once on a long pass play in the second quarter, but didn't scratch again until 7:30 deep in the fourth period. Then they scored three touchdowns, all on long runs, within two minutes and 30 seconds.

Borger struck swiftly for its first touchdown, from its own 24-yard line. Quarterback Darrell Phillips passed to end Buzzy Baker at the Pampa 45. Baker cut to the right sidelines and raced the remaining distance to the goal line, for a 76-yard scoring play. The snap-back for an attempted kick was fumbled, and Phillips was stopped, by Bobby Stephens, attempting to run the conversion.

Borger's next tally, almost 23 minutes later, came just as suddenly. Stephens fumbled at the Pampa 29 and Borger recovered.

On the first play from scrimmage, Jim Bonifield went up the middle, hit into a host of tacklers, but somehow managed to escape. He then spun off to the left sidelines and went across untouched. Larry Dyke ran the conversion and Borger led 14-0 with 4:30 left in the game.

A minute and 10 seconds later, Borger had the ball at midfield. Larry Reed skirted left end, went down the sidelines, and raced 50 yards untouched, eluding a desperation lunge by Buddy Rawls at the 17.

The conversion try was missed, and Borger led 20-0 with 3:20 left. A minute and 15 seconds later, Borger took over at the Pampa 45, and after two incomplete passes, went for broke again. Randall Hall went around left end and raced 45 yards for the final tally. J. T. Tillman converted.

Despite the "big one that got away" for a 76-yard touchdown pass, Pampa's overall pass defense was by far its best of the season. Cornerman Jimmy Storms and linebacker Duke Garren each intercepted a pass, and halfback Bobby Stephens knocked down three, at least two of which were marked "touchdown." Storms and

The Short Line

By RED GRIGGS

Gene Chance, former Pampa Junior High football coach, has successfully completed his first season as coach of the Grand Prairie B team.

Chance took over a team which hadn't had a winning season in several years, and guided it to a 7-2-1 season record. Duane Nutt, former SMU football star, is Chance's assistant coach.

Chance's main job, that of track coach, begins soon. He'll be taking over a team which, unlike his football squad, has a winning tradition. His prospects are pretty good this season, with several fast boys out.

Gene was to be in Pampa this weekend to visit his father, G. W. Chance of 613 Dean Street.

Big Mo 'In' As Orange Bowl Host

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI) — Missouri rode the passing arm of quarterback Phil Snowden into the Orange Bowl Saturday as the Tigers turned back Kansas 13-9 to the disappointment of 40,000 Jayhawk homecoming fans.

Snowden, a gambling 6-3 senior from Kansas City, passed for the first Missouri touchdown and set up the second, with his pinpoint tosses.

By winning, Missouri nailed down second place in the Big Eight and won the right to represent the conference in the Jan. 1 classic at Miami, Fla. It marks the first time in ten years that the Tigers have gained a post-season bowl berth. Oklahoma took first place by beating Iowa State but is ineligible to return to the bowl.

The loss was a heart-breaker for the Jayhawks, who saw their bid for a tying touchdown fall one yard short in the last quarter.

Kansas was its own worst enemy, however, committing eight fumbles and losing possession of five of them.

Missouri grabbed a 7-0 lead in the opening minutes of the second quarter, driving 58 yards in ten plays. Snowden was the key man in the march, picking up 11 yards rushing and passing for 26 more, including a 12-yard throw to halfback Donnie Smith for the score. Gordon Smith kicked the extra point.

The victory gave Missouri a 6-4 record for the season overall, and a 4-2 conference record. Kansas, by losing, wound up with a 5-3 season mark.

Porkers Equal Best Season, Wallop Texas Tech, 27 to 8

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Bowlbound Arkansas unleashed a fleet of jackrabbit backs on Texas Tech Saturday to bury the West Texans, 27-8, and finish the season with an 8-2 mark, equaling the winningest season in Razorback history.

Senior quarterback James Moore engineered the Porker spread on first-half drives of 59 and 40 yards and halfback Jarrell Williams twisted 31 yards to another touchdown as the Porkers took a 21-0 halftime lead.

Arkansas' next stop will be the either the Gator Bowl, where they have already accepted a Jan. 2 date or the Cotton Bowl if Texas A&M beats Texas Thanksgiving.

Jim Mooty, Lance Alworth, Curtis Cox, and Williams were brilliant in the Razorback offense. Mooty, whose ball carrying was limited to the third quarter, gained 62 yards on 6 carries. Alworth, who scored the first touchdown gained 56 yards on 11 tries, and Cox plunged for 43 yards and 2 touchdowns in 10 carries.

Williams made the game's most electrifying run, a 31-yard waltz in the second period. He shook off Tech's Dickie-Polson on the 34 and sidestepped 7 would-be tacklers before cutting back in and outdistancing Jerry Mohan the last few yards. He received key blocks from Cox and Johnny Fields.

The only Tech touchdown was a 35-yard pass run from quarterback Glen Amerson to Dan Gurley with 4:16 left in the game. It was the game's longest play. Arkansas scored its first touchdown on a 30-yard pass play from Monroe to Alworth to highlight a 12-play 69-yard march. The second came less than a minute later. Darrell Williams recovered a Polson fumble on a kickoff return on the Tech 35. Two plays later Darrell's twin made his fancy scamper. The next touchdown was an 11-yard run by Cox in the second quarter to top a 4-play 40-yard series. Mooty, who raised his collegiate rushing total to 1,049 yards, set up the final touchdown with a 37-yard jaunt to the Tech 28. Cox carried 7 of the next 10 plays, going over for the 1.

The game's outstanding defensive performance was by Tech All-American candidate E. J. Holub despite the fact that he did not play for the first time in his college career. Entering the game midway in the first period he was on 23 tackles in 52 defensive plays while he was in the game. Holub, suffering a virus attack, had been hospitalized until Friday.

Leading the Arkansas defense were John Childers, Wayne Harrier, Marlin Epp, and Jim Hollander.

3 Notre Dame Touchdown Passes Beat Iowa, 20-19

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — Quarterback George Izo, making his first start of the season, tossed three long touchdown passes Saturday to give Notre Dame a stirring 20-19 comeback victory over the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Izo tossed the clincher with just 3:25 left in the game when he hit halfback George Sefcik on a 56-yard sideline toss. Sefcik then protected the victory with a pass interception which broke Hawkeye quarterback Olen Tredeaway's record-setting streak.

Izo, who has been plagued with injuries all season, was both the hero and the dimmy of Irish fans in the crowd of 55,500 fans. Two of his passes were intercepted in the first half to set up Iowa touchdowns.

But, in the end, the big blond passer prevailed. The third touchdown pass tied the score at 19-19 and giant end Monty Stickles booted the winning conversion point.

The Hawkeyes had seemed to be a sure winner earlier in the

Washington Grabs Spot in Rose Bowl

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Bob Schloredt, Washington's one-eyed magician, rolled up 209 yards running and passing Saturday as he led the Huskies into the Rose Bowl with a 20-0 victory over arch-rival Washington State before the largest crowd in Washington history.

Schloredt made 110 yards rushing and 98 more with his passing arm. He scored one touchdown himself on a one-yard quarterback sneak and played a key part in Washington's other two scoring drives.

A crowd of 56,000 gave him a standing ovation when he left the game midway in the final period. Schloredt paced an 80-yard drive that resulted in a touchdown when Don McKeta bulled his way into the end zone from the Cougar four on the first play of the second period.

Badgers Will Go Bowling

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Limp-legged quarterback Dale Hackbart ran and passed Wisconsin Saturday to win the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl. The Badgers gained their first undisputed Big Ten title since 1912 and sure selection to the Rose Bowl in a last-period, come-from-behind surge sparked by Hackbart's 51-yard pass play to Al Schoenover.

Until the last nine minutes of play, Wisconsin was on the ropes and the title appeared to be going to Michigan State, which rounded out its season last week with a 4-2 record in conference play.

Northwestern, leader or co-leader of the Big Ten since the start of the season, was falling before Illinois in a 28-0 rout and to fifth place in the final standings. The Gophers, who end in the Big Ten cellar with only one conference victory, were ahead of Wisconsin, 7-3.

That was when Hackbart, a senior who has been a Badger standout for two seasons, lifted Wisconsin to the title with an 80-yard scoring parade in which he passed and called the plays to perfection.

Tascosa and Borger finished in a third place tie, with 8-2 records. Pampa remained in fifth place, with a 2-4-1 record, and Palo Duro in sixth with 2-5. Plainview finished seventh with a 1-5-1 mark, and Lubbock is in the cellar, with a 1-4 record.

Happy Nips Groom, 12-6

GROOM — The Happy Cowboys, unable to move through Groom's tough line, took to the air Friday night to whip the Tigers in a bi-district playoff game, 12-6.

After a scoreless first half, the Cowboys struck quickly for their first tally in the third period. Taking over at the Groom 40 after a punt, they went the distance in only one play. Bob Frost fired a 40-yard pass to Don Middleton, who outraced the Groom defenders and grabbed it in the end zone. The conversion run was stopped, and Happy led, 6-0.

Kentucky Blanks Vols

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky made a shambles of Tennessee's favorite weapon, the kicking game, Saturday to upset the Vols, 20-0, as Calvin Bird scored all three touchdowns, one on a 42-yard punt return.

It was a triumph of epic proportions for a Kentucky team that had lost all six of its previous Southeastern Conference games, and coming on the heels of a 37-7 trouncing by Ole Miss which have cost Tennessee a bowl bid.

The victory was the fifth in six years at Kentucky for Coach Balmont Collier and should go far to quiet guttering from Kentucky followers unhappy over a season that previously had produced only three non-conference wins.

The Kentucky touchdowns all stemmed directly from misfired Tennessee punts, including two quick kicks in the first period, through which a suddenly ferocious Kentucky gained a 13-0 half-time lead.

Bird put the clincher on early in the third period when Gene Etti kicked to him on the Kentucky 38. He slipped between the first two men downfield, cut back to the center and was in the clear for a 42-yard gallop. Jimmy Johns kicked the conversion.

It was the first time this season Tennessee had been shut out.

The Warriors, six-man district champions, are undefeated for the season with a 10-0 record. They are the only unbeaten football team in the Pampa area.

The Warriors met Weibert, the champion of six-man District 3, at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in Haskell, for the regional championship. The same Weibert team defeated Miami last year for the regional crown.

The Warriors built up a 39-6 lead early in the third quarter, before Nazareth rallied to make the score a little more respectable, against Miami reserves.

Four players, including a center, scored for Miami. Halfback Paul Thompson scored three touchdowns, and Larry Anderson three, and center Charlie Christopher two and halfback Tuck Seitz one.

Jimmy Bowers kicked two conversions (good for two points) in six-man ball and Tuck Seitz ran one (good for one point).

Miami's highly-rated passing attack made the difference in the game, as the Warriors completed 19-of-30 tosses. Several different players were on the receiving end, Gerald Anderson and ground game to crush the Indians. The Bulldogs outgained Quannah on the ground, 383 yards to 141.

Stinnett's powerful Rattlers tackled a sad post-script on to the McLean Tigers' success story here Friday night, as they beat the Tigers 22-6 in a bi-district playoff game.

The defeat ended the season for the Tigers, who won the District 2-A championship after being picked for no better than fifth place. The game was played before a good crowd of about 3,500.

Stinnett was fairly successful in holding David Crockett, McLean's breakout runner. Crockett made only 68 of the Tigers' 148 rushing yards, although he ran well when he had the ball. O. K. Lee and Jimmy Watson, the halfbacks accounted for most of the Tigers' running yardage.

Crockett did, however, make the key defensive play of the game for McLean in the first quarter, when he intercepted a Stinnett pass at his own goal line, to stop a Rattler threat.

McLean wasn't able to hold Stinnett's hard-running halfbacks, Don-

Pigeon Racing Club Closes Season; Seeks New Members

The Top of Texas Racing Pigeon Club finished its first full season of racing Nov. 7. The season was a very successful one, considering the fact that members were competing for the first year.

The first race was flown from Woodward, Okla., and Walt Thomas of White Deer won first and third places. Jim Cantrell came in second.

The second race, flown from Alva, Okla., was a tough one, since the birds encountered 30 to 40 mile per hour head winds.

Only three birds finished the race. Jim Cantrell clocked the three birds.

Thomas swept the first three places in the third race, from Alva, Oklahoma, and Buddy Epperson had the first place bird in the fourth race from Wellington, Kansas (236 miles). The next race, flown from Alva, Okla. (150 miles) was won by Bill Dycus' entry.

Most of the races have been fast ones (about 25 miles per hour). The times have been especially good, considering the fact that most of the races were run against head winds.

The top race of the year, the Top of Texas Futurity, was won by Jerry Bonasal's entry, Buddy Epperson's bird was second. Birds which fly in this race are picked when they are born. There were 18 birds in the race.

The Top of Texas club welcomes anyone interested in the sport of pigeon racing. The club has monthly meetings. Anyone interested in knowing more about pigeon racing can contact Bill Dycus at MO 5-4062.

Pittsburgh Upsets Penn State, 22-7

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh turned loose sophomore sensations Bob Clemens and Fred Cox on touchdown runs of 35 and 86 yards Saturday to upset bowl-bound Penn State, 22-7.

It was a long afternoon for the fifth-ranked Penn Staters, who came here with a Liberty Bowl bid in hand and with hopes of improving their 8-1 season record. But the defeat was even more stinging than the two-point loss to powerful Syracuse two games earlier.

It also was a bad day for quarterback Richie Lucas. State's all-America candidate was outsparked by Pitt quarterback Ivan Tonic.

The upset-bent Panthers spilled Lucas for a safety in the first period after seeing a Pitt drive stopped on the Penn State one-yard line. Minutes after the safety, Pitt drove 40 yards for a touchdown with Tonic sneaking over from the one. Clemens cracked off right tackle on a 35-yard scoring jaunt in the second period and Cox twisted and turned down the left sideline for 86 yards in the third quarter to wrap it up.

Penn State, which also had its ear turned towards the Orange Bowl, averted a shutout late in the third period by recovering a Pitt fumble and marching 27 yards for a touchdown with mostly second stringers in the game.

The payoff was a nine-yard run by sophomore halfback Dickie Pae, of Harrisburg, Pa. Guard Sam Stellatella kicked the conversion.

In the personal duel between Tonic and Lucas, the Pitt signal caller completed three of four passes and ran for 13 yards. Lucas, who also was jinxed in two previous appearances at Pitt Stadium, hit on only 4 of 13 passes, had one intercepted and unofficially lost three yards rushing.

Meanwhile, the ground-chewing combine of Clemens and Cox along with the other member of Pitt's "Three C's" backfield, Jim Cunningham, hammered Penn State's once-proud defense for 277 yards rushing.

Cox carried the ball 12 times for 129 yards, Clemens ran 11 times for 101 yards and Cunningham travelled 20 times for 57 yards. All told, Pitt ball carrier rolled up 330 yards on the ground.

As a crowd of 46,109 fans watched in surprise, Pittsburgh started its first scoring thrust following a poor punt by Lucas in the first period that travelled only 20 yards. After the try fumbled of the Lions one and State took over, Ron Delfino and center Sergio Fazio pounced on Lucas in the end zone and two points flashed on the scoreboard.

Following the kickoff, the Panthers stormed 40 yards for a touchdown in nine plays with Tonic leading the way.

Then the long runs by Clemens and Cox settled the issue as they gave Pittsburgh an even 5-3 lead for the season.

Pitt — Lucas tackled in end zone 35 run (Cox kick); Cox run (kick failed).

McNeely Says Harvesters Must Rebuild

CLIFTON MCNEELY ... head coach

Nothing lasts forever — not even a Pampa basketball winning streak.

The Harvesters' winning streak has now reached 44. Pampa won its last 13 in a row in winning the 1958 state championship, and captured 31 victories last year without a defeat in repeating as state titlists.

However, Pampa basketball coach Clifton McNeely doesn't think the streak can last much longer. McNeely regards this season as one of rebuilding, and does not think his squad will be top contender for the District 3-4A championship — much less the state title.

The Harvesters, with only one returning starter from the 1959 state championship team, open their '59-60 campaign Saturday at Quanah. This year's schedule includes 25 games (16 at home and nine on the road).

Pampa lost four starters, including three all-state players, from its 1958-59 squad. Those who graduated were forward Coyle, Winborn, 6-4, who was named to both the sportswriters' all-state team and to the class 4A all-tournament team; Charlie Minor, 5-11 all-state guard; Mack Layne, 6-6 all-state center; and Bob Gindorf, 6-4 second team all-district forward.

The only returning starter from last year's squad is Craig Winborn, a 6-3 forward who is being converted to a center.

Winborn is the tallest player on this year's squad, which also includes two returning lettermen from the '58-59 team, Phillip Gist and Joe Timms. Both are 5-11 guards. Both saw quite a bit of action last year, but neither was a regular starter.

Two boys up from Terry Culley's Shockers will round out Pampa's top five. They are Pat Carter, 5-10 guard who led the Shockers to a successful season with an average of almost 20 points per game; and Allen Wise, 6-2 forward who was a top rebounder last year for the Shockers.

This probable starting unit averages only a fraction over six feet in height. It will be among the shortest squads ever coached by McNeely, who is starting his 13th year as Pampa coach. Last year's state championship squad, one of the tallest, averaged 6-3.

The other six men on the Harvesters roster average exactly six feet in height. Four of them are up from last year's Shocker team. One 5-9 guard Hersell Terrell, was a squadman last year, and 5-11 guard Jim Crinklaw played for Lee Junior High. The former Shockers are 5-11 forward Bill Neslage, 6-1 forward Larry Stroud, 6-3 center Leslie Stanfield, and 6-2 center Don Curry. Crinklaw is also listed on the Shocker roster.

McNeely is more concerned about the squads lack of experience, speed, or reserve strength than with its lack of height.

"We have some boys capable of playing good basketball," he said, "but most of them are still at least a year away. It will take us at least another year to build a contender, and possibly two years."

"We don't have any speed that will compare with that of the district's top teams," he added, "and our reserves are too inexperienced to give us much bench strength."

The Pampa coach thinks Berger, Palo Duro, and Plainview will fight it out this season for the district title. "They're more experienced than we are," he explained, "and they have taller boys."

If the Harvesters fail to win the district championship, it will be their first season without a title in eight years. The Harvesters have dominated the district for the last seven years, going to the state tournament six of those seven years.

Pampa won the state championship in 1953, '54, '58, and '59. The Harvesters finished fourth in '55 and second in '57. Only in 1953 did they fail to reach the state tournament, and that year they won the district title before being defeated by Odessa in bi-district play.

Since coming to Pampa during the '47-48 season, McNeely has the best record of any high school coach in Texas. His teams finished second in the district during the five years before 1953.

Culley's Shocker team is even shorter than the Harvesters (an average of 5-11 per man) but the tallest man on the team, 6-4 center Jim Story, is taller than Winborn, the "giant" of the Harvesters. Story and 5-9 guard Max Patton are the only Shocker players up from the Pampa Junior High squad. The rest played for the Robert E. Lee team.

Other Shockers, all sophomores, are center Bob Neslage, 6-1; forward Harold Burgess, 6-0; forward Crinklaw, 5-11; guard Jim Stephenson, 5-11; guard George Simmons, 5-9; guard Russell Jay 6-0; center forward Lloyd Balch, 6-1; guard Charles Fant, 5-7; and guard Mike Stewart, 5-9.

Culley said that the Shockers will play B team games on the same nights that the Harvesters play their games. However, he added that he may schedule two or three games when the Harvesters are not playing.

Don Meredith Powers SMU Past Baylor Bears, 30 to 14

By LLOYD IARRABEE
United Press International
WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Passing yard Don Meredith and a burly powered Southern Methodist 30-14 victory Saturday over Baylor in a Southwest Conference thriller before 25,000 fans.

Meredith flipped touchdown passes of 45 and three yards, and kicked another scoring drive with a 34-yard aerial as the Mustangs registered five touchdowns in the first half, and stymied frantic second-half comeback attempt by Baylor.

Baylor, held to minus 11 yards rushing in the first half, came alive late in the second quarter and in the last half on the passing of sophomore Ronnie Stanley but was unable to overcome a 24-0 lead posted by SMU in the second period.

The lanky Meredith put Southern Methodist on the scoreboard on its first play from scrimmage 2:15 deep in the first quarter with a 45-yard pass to halfback Glynn Gregory.

Meredith flipped three yards to halfback Billy Polk late in the first period for a quickie marker set up when Baylor, rushed by a hard-driving SMU line, fumbled on its own 9.

Gregory darted four yards for SMU's third tally early in the second period, a touchdown set up by Meredith's 34-yard aerial to Gregory one play earlier.

The Methodists, chalking up their second Southwest Conference victory against two losses and one tie, widened their bulge to 24-0 midway in the same period when Bobby Hamm, a 197-pound guard, gained a moment of glory by intercepting a Baylor pass and lumbering 31 yards for the touchdown.

Stanley cranked up a 71-yard scoring drive late in the second quarter, polishing it off with a 25-yard touchdown pass to halfback Austin Gonsoulin.

But SMU bounced back and chalked up a fifth touchdown with a 44-yard pass from second-team quarterback Ken Lowe to halfback Toney Wilemon with only 2 seconds left before halftime.

Baylor gambled on fourth down midway in the third period, and fullback Jim Evans, working from a fake deep punt formation, passed to Ronnie Bull on a 46-yard touchdown play. Stanley passed to end Albert Witcher for a two-pointer.

Boos from a partisan crowd halted the game briefly late in the third quarter after Baylor center Kenneth Hays intercepted a Meredith pass and ran 23 yards into the end zone, but officials ruled Meredith had been downed before throwing the pass.

Illinois Blanks Northwestern, Outwisconsin in Rose Bowl

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—Illinois played football for the last time under coach Ray Elliot Saturday and burst Northwestern's Rose Bowl bubble in a 28-0 rout. A capacity crowd of 65,697 men to see a close match that would help decide the Big Ten championship but instead watched Illinois defeat their traditional rival with monotonous ease.

It was revenge for the Illinois who were knocked out of a Rose Bowl bid by Northwestern in 1950. The defeat also knocked Northwestern, which had led the Big Ten from the start of the season, off first place to fifth in the standings. Illinois finished in tie for third with Purdue.

The Illinois delivered a steady one-punch of fullback Bill Brown up the middle and halfback John Counts around the ends. The Illinois worked the combination with routine precision and came up with a new twist in the last period when Brown found a wide hole in the Wildcat line and sprinted 69 yards for a touchdown.

It was the second touchdown of the game for the junior fullback, whose scoring plunge in the final second last week delayed Wisconsin's rush to the conference title.

The twin victories ended Elliot's coaching career at least for the time being. The Illinois' coach since 1942 is changing jobs next year and will become the university's assistant athletic director.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—UCLA capitalized on a 46-yard pass interference penalty in the fourth period Saturday to score. The game's only touchdown and knock Southern California from the ranks of the undefeated by a 10-3 score.

USC Dropped From Ranks of Unbeaten

Trailing 0-3 from the first six minutes until the fourth period, UCLA first tied the score on a 31-yard field goal by Ivory Jones and then gained the disputed touchdown before 55,917 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

The defeat snapped a streak of eight straight victories for Southern California that had boosted the Trojans to second place nationally.

Kilmer did not get into the game in the first half because of an ankle injury in a physical education class during the week. And when he did come in for the second half, he was wearing sneakers instead of cleated shoes.

But the junior tailback drove the UCLA team late in the third period and into the fourth from their own 13 to the USC-15 to set up the Jones' field goal that knotted the score.

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Stan Leonard, a balding little Canadian from Vancouver, spent two hours at the "19th hole" Saturday and then ambled back on the course to defeat Australia's Peter Thompson on the first hole of a sudden death playoff for the International Golf Association championship.

Thomson and Kel Nagle won the team trophy, the Canada Cup, for Australia with a two-man total of 583. They finished a record-10 strokes ahead of Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff of the United States (573) with Leonard and Al Balding of Canada third at 574.

Snead fired a par 34-36—79 in Saturday's final round to finish third in the individual standings with a 281. Middlecoff also finished with a 34-36—70 for a 292 and a share of sixth place.

But it was Leonard, a 45-year-old part-time player on the United States professional circuit, who made golf history Saturday with an added touch of the laughter Walter Hagen brought to the game in the Golden 1920's. Leonard stunned himself, Thomson and 15,000 Australian spectators who scrambled over the Royal Melbourne course in 91-degree temperatures.

Carver Tops Clarendon 5

Carver High of Pampa soundlyounced Clarendon twice Friday in a pair of basketball games. Carver boys won 36-9 and the girls took a 23-10 victory.

After a slow start in the first quarter, the Carver boys pulled away for an easy victory in the last three periods. Carver led 4-2 at the end of the first quarter, 15-6 halftime, 26-8 after three quarters.

Dunn was Carver's leading scorer with 14 points. Brown had 6, and Cash and Woods 2. Claudette Cash led the Carver girls with 13 points, followed by Kay Duke with 5, Jewel Colbert 3, and M. Roland and L. Coltr with 1 each.

The girls led 10-2 at the end of the first quarter, 11-4 at halftime, 16-8 after three quarters.

Syracuse Routs BU

BOSTON (UPI)—Cotton Bowl-bound Syracuse crushed Boston University, 46-0, Saturday on triple touchdown spread by its one-two power punch of halfbacks Ger Schwedes and Ernie Davis.

The top-ranked Orange, held to 12 points in the first half, barely flexed its muscles during a five-touchdown second-half explosion in winning its ninth successive victory.

Syracuse faces UCLA Dec. 5 before going to the Cotton Bowl against an as yet unnamed opponent.

Schwedes, German-born senior halfback, hit the Boston University end zone on a 17-yard pass play, a 41-yard end romp and a one-yard dive.

Davis' tallied on five and one-yard plunges and intercepted a pass to score from 23 yards out. Boston University, held to negative rushing yardage by the national leading offensive team, had one fourth-period touchdown called back. The Terriers also threatened three times on a desperation passing attack, some of it from punt formation to preserve its passes from the "sizable Seven" Syracuse line.

Schwedes, key to the Syracuse belly series, ran his season's scoring total to 88 points on his 18-point binge. Davis, lanky high-stepping outside specialist, rolled his scoring total to 89 points. Syracuse improved slightly on its 28.5 scoring average over its first eight games.

The Orange performing before 22,000 in 40-degree temperatures, were unhampered by a mud-slicked field. They rolled up 30 first downs and gained 511 yards, mostly on the ground.

N. Mexico Upsets Air Force, 28-27

DENVER (UPI)—New Mexico's devastating ground attack, spearheaded by high-striding Don Perkins, ripped off three touchdowns in a last half rally Saturday to upset the Air Force, 28-27, before 16,000 fans.

The Air Force led, 21-7, at halftime and almost pulled it out in the closing minutes.

New Mexico's victory broke the Falcons' two-year domination of collegiate football in the Rocky Mountains. The Air Force has won five, lost three, and tied one game this season. New Mexico closed out its football season with its seventh victory in 10 games.

Perkins, a 177-pound senior from Waterloo, Iowa, scored two of his three touchdowns in the second half comeback. The New Mexico halfback also established a Skyline Conference rushing record over a three-year varsity career.

New Mexico tied the game, 21-21 when Perkins sprinted 64 yards with a screen pass from quarterback Billy Brown late in the third period.

Earlier in the second half halfback Bob Crandall smashed one yard for a New Mexico touchdown, ending a 44-yard drive.

Perkins crashed over from eight yards out with the winning touchdown early in the final period.

Perkins carried the ball 22 times and gained 128 yards. His three-year rushing mark of 2,001 yards broke the previous Skyline high of 1,903 rolled up by Jay Van Noy of Utah State from 1946 through 1948.

South Carolina Nips N. Car. State, 12-7

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—South Carolina co-captain John Saunders came off the injury bench Saturday and led the Gamecocks to a 12-7 victory over North Carolina State. Saunders powered a 79-yardouth Carolina touchdown march at the game-winning touchdown. The big fullback, who had been held sparingly and who missed out of the season with a shoulder injury suffered in the first, carried seven times and gained 52 of the yards.

A 30-yard burst by Saunders carried it to the 18, and on a crucial fourth down and two play he bulldozed to the three yard line.

NEW CARDINAL POST

Oklahoma Tops Kansas State, Wins Big Eight Championship

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma won its 12th straight undisputed Big Eight Conference championship Saturday, crushing Iowa State with a potent ground attack, 35-12, before 47,000.

Fullback Prentice Gault and Ronnie Hartline accounted for 168 of Oklahoma's 348 yards rushing and helped in a gang-tackling defense that bottled up Iowa State's double ground punch of Tom Watkins and Dwight Nichols.

The loss knocked Iowa State out of Orange-Bowl contention, and into a third place tie in the Conference with Kansas, which lost Saturday to Missouri. Oklahoma is ineligible for the bowl this season.

Watkins, the nation's leading rusher going into Saturday game, gained 63 yards in 19 carries, but Nichols could muster only 35 yards in 12 tries in defense of his second place national rushing position.

Gault was the leading rusher with 110 yards in 14 hauls. He climaxed Oklahoma's steady ground advances with a 48-yard touchdown burst late in the fourth quarter.

Oklahoma defenders limited Iowa State to 126 yards on the ground.

Oklahoma stayed on the ground for all but two passes thrown by quarterback Bobby Boyd. One was intercepted and the other fell incomplete.

Oklahoma put together scoring drives of 82, 74, 59 and 38 yards. Gault capped the longest with a two-yard scoring plunge in the first play of the final period.

Minutes later, he popped through the left side of the line for his 48-yard scoring dash.

Center Jim Davis capped each in 11 plays with a two-yard touchdown plunge. The conversion again failed when Nichols' pass fell incomplete.

Watkins' 68 yards boosted his rushing total for the year to 813 while Nichols raised his total to 716 yards.

Brewster Hobby scored in the second period from four yards out.

Iowa State scored first in the second period on Nichols' 19-yard pass to wingback Mike Fitzgerald. ISU—Fitzgerald 19 pass from Nichols (kick blocked).

Oklahoma—Hobby 4 run (Davis kick). ISU—Watkins 2 run (pass failed). Oklahoma—Gault 2 run (Davis kick). Oklahoma—Gault 48 run (Davis kick).

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Billy Casper Jr., playing the safe shots all the way, fired his second straight 68 Saturday for a 62-hole total of 207 and a two-stroke lead in the $15,000 Mobile Open Golf tournament.

Casper, winner of three of his last four starts, took 31 putts and one bogey to wrest the lead from newcomer John Gaudin, tied with Casper for the lead at the halfway mark, and West Ellis Jr., who set a new record here with a blistering 66.

Ellis, from Albercres, N. J., took over second place with his 72-71-66—209 and Gustin, Crystal River, Fla., pro, dropped to a 72 to go with his opening 71 and second round 68 to put him in third place at 111.

Casper, U. S. Open champ from Apple Valley, Calif., riding the hottest winning streak on the tour, birdied the par four 14th and the par five 15th on sure putts.

Three other pros climbed to a tie for fourth place with 212 or better, the 6,383 yard two-year old Municipal Course here.

Jim Ferree, of Crystal River, Fla., fired a third round 68 to go with his opening 73 and 71 to join Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn. (71-72-65) and Dave Ragan, Orlando, Fla., (72-70-70) at 212.

Miller Barber, El Dorado, Ark.; Bob Goetz, of Tulsa, Okla.; and Monte Bradley, of Hillsboro, Tex., were knotted at 213.

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., last year's Masters' champion and leading money winner who climbed into a tie for third place at the halfway mark, fell to a 74 and 214 Saturday with Johnny Pott, of Shreveport, La.; Gay Brewer Jr., of Crystal River, Fla.; and Walter Burkemeier, of Franklinton Hills, Mich.

Texas Finds Jobs

For 8,627 In Oct.

AUSTIN (UPI) — Despite "unfavorable economic conditions," the Texas Employment Commission found jobs for 8,627 persons over the age of 15 during October, Commissioner Maurice Acers said today.

Steel shortages as well as near-record idleness because of labor-management disputes cut down job placement activity, Acers said.

A month earlier, the TEC found 10,212 jobs for those over 15. So far this year 86,019 "order applicants" have found jobs through the TEC, Acers said.

APPROVE INDEPENDENCE

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Belgian parliament approved eventual independence for the United Nations trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi Thursday by a vote of 111 to 70.

The African territory has been the scene of bitter battles between the ruling Watutsi tribe and their former serfs, the Bahutus, with more than 200 deaths.

Peg O' Pampa

WE SHALL BEGIN WITH A CHEERFUL NOTE THIS WEEK

Let us be the first to remind you that there are only thirty-free, and we mean 33, days until Christmas... and don't think for a minute that it is SHOPPING days... 'cause it isn't! It is thirty-three plain old days, Sundays and all, 'cause that's that give you something to be thankful for? That there are that many... after all, it could be 15 days!

WE WERE reading the article in the paper last week about the work Pampa people are doing with retarded children... very worthwhile thing... and happened to see also, the article in the Saturday Evening POST about the help given retarded children in the medical field... we think Pampa people are to be praised highly for developing a program of aid... Mrs. Joe Curtis, president of the Amarillo Council Training Center, encouraged local members of the Exceptional Child Association to work toward a special building for these unfortunate children... let's cooperate.

DOWN TO BUSINESS... with the latest, we hope... have seen Hilda Duncan, trim and slim, in a wool skirt and a wool-stripe sweater to match, in an unusual and lovely shade of light pink... or perhaps cerise is the better word... suppose she is rehearsing with many, many others in the inter-urch production of the MESSIAH for the Christmas season... have heard that this year's is to be the largest group and the finest production yet to be held in Pampa... Joe Whitten, choir director of the First Baptist Church, is one of the directors... plan to attend the program if you possibly can... there will be more on it later... we would really like to see the MESSIAH at Easter-time, too.

ADDING about were Ethel and Tom Eller recently... they have returned from a trip to San Antonio... to Padre Island and to Rockport... at the latter place, Ethel visited an old school... and came back saying that the people of the neighborhood should be proud of the things Dord Fitz is doing, because they are better than she observed in Rockport... and Lenore Sloan have returned from a vacation in Colorado... Earl and Helen Clayton have betaken themselves to Hawaii... and speaking of Hawaii... members of the Book of the Month Club are offered a book on Hawaii as the December monthly selection... and it will probably be in the library, too... it is by the famous Pacific Ocean writer, James Michener... "check your local library for information" as they say.

QUESTION: Who is the salesman in Dunlap's department store who looks just like George Gobel?

COMMENTS... we would like to point out one of Pampa's best, friendliest people right now... Emily Coston... and he has been known to hand out a cookie to a tiny boy or girl who has been hungrily eyeing all the goodies in the display cases in the bakery... saw Henry-Gindorf around town last week... he's a member of the Breakfast Optimist Club, we understand... everybody went to the Episcopal Bazaar we held... and there were crowds eating the wonderful chili and cobbler for lunch... saw Felix Vendrell, whose wife, Doris, was a hardworking booth-tender and waitress during the bazaar... having a bowl of chili with one of his sons... Lorene Johnson was sipping a cup of coffee with Ruth and Helen Huff and Lorene's sister-in-law, Mildred (Mrs. Hale) Somerville who is visiting from West Virginia... later on we saw that they had put Mildred to work behind the coffee-pot for a while... she was wearing one of the prettiest red suits and matching top-coats we have seen... all in all, there was a gala, holiday atmosphere about the whole bazaar, with the red and white paper streamers making a real bazaar atmosphere... and the items for sale were lovely.

PEEVE OF THE WEEK... we were peeved last week... after we had mentioned the pretty little tree across from the new nurses home on Hobart, workmen moved in with a big crane and dug around in the ditch and destroyed the little tree... such a display of hard-heartedness... and we couldn't see where they did anything significant to the ditch except mess things up.

OWLERS IN PAMPA are holding the spotlight in the big annual Open Bowling Tournament going on now in Amarillo... as to date Marshall Johnson is holding second place in the singles division... and Ray Stephenson and Dale Laynes are in FIRST place, way ahead, in the doubles division... the pair bowled a 1305, which is shooting good enough to match the television stars you may see on the bowling programs... we are proud of them indeed... and did you know, concerning bowling, that there are twelve teams of five women each who bowl regularly on Tuesday mornings at one bowling alley, to say nothing of the league at the other?

MASS EXODUS of people interested in art went to Amarillo on Saturday... when Dord Fitz Gallery had an "Advanced Criticism" course... with artists Charlie Bunnell of Colorado... Wolcott Ely of Santa Fe... and J. J. McVickers of Oklahoma... were present to discuss painting... Lorene Johnson and Ruth and Helen Huff and Alva Saterwhite... were among them... heard that Evelyn Nace has sold another story, to Ace publications... also that she and Oris were doing a little bird hunting in Kansas recently... Curt Beck has returned from an extended business trip in Canada... Bob and Mary Norton are on a trip to California where Bob will attend a convention of chemical engineers and they will visit friends... who goes the world.

TOY SHOPS here are popping at their seams... and the parade of fantastic new toys is absolutely incredible... everything from plastic models of the human body, complete with blood vessels... to the latest in rocket equipment... next thing you know, they will be putting out a model of an atomic reactor complete with Uranium... or maybe the Erector sets of the future will include a small atomic engine... perhaps we should make this comment on Christmas shopping... Well, since I'm always late with shopping, at least I've thought of what to do... This year I'll buy each friend two presents and label one for next year, too!

AND WE ALSO LEAVE YOU WITH THIS THOUGHT... from Rebecca McCann... "I'm filled with gratitude today... though dark and drear the sky... because I'm filled with turkey... and also pumpkin pie."

Happy Thanksgiving Day
Peg

Spiritual Values In Home And School Outlined By Robert E. Lee Speaker

The Rev. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, spoke on "Strengthening Homes Through Spiritual Values," at the Thursday afternoon meeting of Robert E. Lee Junior High PTA. He pointed out that the PTA offers great opportunities for parents to share interests with teachers and to work with the schools. "One opportunity," he said, "that is open to teachers and parents alike is strengthening the spiritual value of the student in the home and school."

Rev. Crews quoted excerpts from the "Open Letter To Teenagers" by Judge Philip B. Gilman of Denver.

"If spiritual values are to be strengthened, parents must spend time at home with their children," Rev. Crews stated. "Parenthood is the incredible compliments that God has paid us by placing in our hands a new life, which is ours to mold by giving to it much attention, physically, mentally and spiritually. A child has developed his basic pattern by the age of six years. He has made his decisions concerning honesty and spiritual values by what he has seen exemplified in his own home. Parenthood is a great responsibility, but we need to quit pushing and pulling usly a gentle hand on the child's shoulder and guide them in the way in which they should go. The best way to guide is to lead."

The Rev. Crews mentioned three pathways that children may be guided. "First, try to teach them to wonder at all the beauty of God's vast world. Let's take time to help our children find the answers to their many questions; second, try to lead them to worship, one of the highest arts of which man is capable. Third, we must lead our children to witness for the great values of our way of life here in America. Let them see in your life a spirit of tolerance."

In concluding remarks, Rev. Crews said, "Boys and girls need to be given a spiritual anchor; and love expressed in firmness and authority. Teach them to pray."

Preceding the program, parents visited in eighth grade classrooms.

Mrs. J. R. Holloway conducted the meeting which opened with a Thanksgiving prayer given by Mrs. Kermit Lawson. Mrs. Joe Sears introduced Tommy Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thompson, who gave the Thought For the Day, "Only God Can Give a Friend."

The eighth grade choir under the direction of Mrs. James Webb with Misses Elaine Hawkins and Carol Chase accompanying at the piano, sang four numbers, "Behenangoah," "Honkiah," "Somebody Is Knocking At Your Door" and "Timber."

Miss Kern is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Kern of Chanute. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sug Cobb, 1108 N. Russell.

The Rev. L. Glen Ahlf, pastor of the church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Carolyn Ahlf, organist, accompanied Miss Anita Weber, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, hooped gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin styled with a scalloped Sabrina neckline accented with pearls. The lace sleeves tapered to a point over the hands. The skirt was accented with panels of tulle ruffles. Her double-tiered veil was held by a coronet of apple blossom seed pearls. She wore a single strand pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet of yellow rose buds tied with white love knots topped a white Bible.

Miss Kay Tooley of Pampa attended as maid of honor wearing a ballerina-length gown of ice pink velvet styled with a full skirt, puffed sleeves and a moderately scooped neckline. She carried a colonial bouquet of dark rosebuds showered with pink streamers.

Misses Linda Fain and Sandra Dodd, both of Pampa, served as bridesmaids in identical dresses of dark rose complemented with corsages of ice pink roses.

Best man was Bob Smith of Pampa. Dick Wallins and Gary Matlock, also of Pampa, were groomsmen. Raymond Kern of Chanute and David Kern of Pampa, both brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Acting as miniature bride was the bride's niece, Connie Kern. Her dress and veil, made by her mother, Mrs. Robert Kern, were designed after the bride's. She carried a smaller bouquet of yellow roses on a white testament.

Steven Kern, bride's nephew, was ring-bearer.

Men's Clothing Is Revelation Of Self, According To Psychologist

WOMAN TO WOMAN
By MARY PRIME
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — At last! Someone has come up with a guide to look at their clothes. What a man wears reveals his hidden desires and ambitions, says Dr. Murray Sherman, a psychologist who made a study of the Freudian aspects of the male wardrobe. The study was part of a motivational research project for the sportswear manufacturer.

"By dressing in a casual, professional or highly individual way, a man reveals how he wishes other people to regard him," Sherman said.

Do you recognize the type who wishes he were a big business executive? He wears conservative suits — and often vests.

On the other hand, many successful executives play down their importance. They prefer casual sportswear. It helps relieve tension and fosters the impression that they are "good Jews."

Then there's the fellow who wears sports clothes on the assembly line. He may be a steel worker or missile engineer, but he'd like to be a rugged individualist. Increasing mechanization makes the craftsman's job more and more routine, so wearing casual garb relieves the monotony of a push-button job, the psychologist said.

Do you wonder why some teenagers and young men are turning to the lean-and-hungry type of slacks with tapered legs, pleated styling and no cuffs?

In the case of teenagers, they want to be as tough and slick as

Mrs. Anderson Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Richard E. Anderson was honored with a stork shower on Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Ray Cales, southeast of the city.

The serving table was covered with a nylon net cloth over yellow satin centered with a toy monkey was presented to the honoree as a gift from her father-in-law, C. D. Anderson.

Hostesses were Meses. Dave Kerns, Sam Goodan, Paul Hollahan, Clyde Martin, Ronnie Martin, Charles Martin, Gene Quinn and Mrs. Cales.

Favors were miniature pacifiers attached to baby-kimonos fashioned from nappies.

Refreshments of Blarney Stones and coffee were served to the following Meses. Ralph Paxson, Hupp Clark, George Hofsees, Travis Patterson, L. C. Wassell, R. N. Life 'Down Under' Is Topic For TC Allegro

Australia was the topic of study for Twentieth Century Allegro Club conducted Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Jack Reeve, 1811 Dogwood. Mrs. Earl Schmieding and Mrs. Ewert R. Duncan were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Schmieding opened the discussion with the statement, "Australia, the 'down under' land is nearly as far away from America as it is possible to be; three weeks by fast steamer from the west coast of the United States, or a few days by air."

"Human history began on this continent," she continued, "perhaps ten thousand years ago when the aborigines came in. It is believed these people reached the island continent in an uncommonly low stage of civilization. And therefore, practically ceased to evolve save in their extraordinary physical condition. The Australian aborigines have abnormally thick skulls and correspondingly small brains."

"However, Mrs. Schmieding went on to say, "despite his lack of intelligence he has developed remarkable powers of sight and smell, together with an instinct that is almost uncanny in its working. The wonderful ability displayed by a native in tracking is at times beyond belief."

Mrs. Schmieding noted that the Australian aborigines are destined to die out before the advancing tide of civilization. "Each state of Australia has its Aborigines Protection Board, so that government care is exercised over the remnants of the tribes and mission stations with native schools that have been built. It cannot be many generations, however before the aborigine becomes extinct."

In describing the geographical aspects, Mrs. Schmieding stated "Australia is subject to drought, seasonal or occasional. The best watered parts are along the east and southeast coasts where most of the people live. On vast areas, farming is impossible for lack of rainfall, but Australia is the greatest sheep country in the world. By world standards it is not an efficient manufacturing country although her industries produce three times as much wealth as her pastures and fields. This results

Chinese Religious Philosophy Topic For Twentieth Century Culture Club

Mrs. J. W. Edminster spoke on "The Philosophy of China" at the Twentieth Century Culture Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. E. Dobbins. Mrs. J. L. Chase was co-hostess. In opening remarks, Mrs. Edminster said, "The Chinese are not a passionately religious people; they have concerned themselves less with the hereafter than with the proper conduct of affairs and attainment of happiness in the here and now. There have been no great apostles in Chinese history, no martyrs, no saviors and only a very few who could be called religious leaders." "The most respected person in the average Chinese community has not been the priest, but the scholar. Confucius himself was no monk-like figure, but a merry companion who delighted in lute playing, group singing, hunting and fishing and riding about in a chariot." "There are three pillars of thought in China," Mrs. Edminster continued, "Confucianism, Buddhism and Taoism. The first of these (Confucianism) is less religion than a formal ethical system defining personal relationships in an ideal moral order. Outlined by the Confucius in the 6th century, B.C., its precepts have dominated every aspect of China's thought and cultures; Chinese society, solidly founded upon the unity of the family, has been a Confucian society." Mrs. Edminster in describing the second element, Mahayana Buddhism pointed out that it was imported from India, "probably in the last century AD introducing religion into China for the first time, a formalized religion, containing a priesthood, prayer, gods, and the use of images." "The third element, Taoism, is less easily defined," Mrs. Edminster said. "In its original sense, Taoism refers to the philosophy of Tao Tzu, supposedly a contemporary of Confucius, who preached a retreat from civilization to nature in order to attain harmony with Tao, the eternal way. In its broader sense, Taoism defines a mixture of magic and religion dating from the 2nd century, A.D." "The three have several doctrines in common," Mrs. Edminster concluded, "all teaching the original goodness of man; and all believe that man can attain salvation through the realization of his essential nature." "As a follower of Confucius wrote, 'The tendency of man's nature to good is like the tendency of water to flow downwards. There are none but have this tendency to good, just as all water flows downward. If men become evil, that is not the fault of their original endowment. The sense of mercy is found in all men, the sense of shame is found in all men, the sense of right and wrong is found in all men. Charity, righteousness, propriety and moral consciousness are not something that is drilled into us, we have them originally.' Mrs. Warren Hasse, president, presided during a brief business meeting. Members attending were Mmes. Jeff Bearden, J. L. Chase, G. L. Craddock, R. E. Dobbins, J. W. Edminster, Philip Gates, H. H. Hahn, L. H. Hart, W. L. Hasse, E. L. Henderson, V. L. Gussie And Becky Take Giant Step In Fashion Designing World

By GAY PAUBEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — From patchwork potholders to party apparel is a giant step in a design career. But a couple of young and attractive New York girls, who bill themselves as "Gussie and Becky," made it in a year. The two, whose tiny factory in Manhattan's lower east side is dubbed "The Looney Bin," specializes in "far out" fashions for the woman who wants to break from the traditional in-at-home or informal party clothes. "Most of us conform like the man in the gray flannel suit during the day," said "Gussie," who New Yorker, a portrait artist on is Elaine Moore, 27, a native New Yorker, a portrait artist on the side, and a former advertising production manager for a shoe company. "But a lot of women want to be a little wild. Indulge a fancy. Be exotic when they get home. That is where we come in." "Everything we make has a guarantee," chimed in "Becky," who is Mrs. Ruth Graves. "If you're not the hit of the party, bring it back." Mrs. Graves, 31, blue-eyed and dark-haired, is a native of Safford, Ariz. She modeled in Mexico City and danced on the West Coast before she decided on a career in New York. She has been married "for three years and two months" to an industrial engineer. The pair's approach to fashion is flamboyant and uninhibited—yet practical. Their full-cut skirts, for instance, fit any figure without alteration because they are wrap-arounds, tied with a wide sash at the waist. Skirts come in vivid patches of brocade, satin or velvet in their "Squaresville" series; are made from bedspread jacquard; or from boldly-colored rug swatches which an importer furnishes them from Persia, India and Italy. Swatches of brocades or heavy silks and metallic braid are combined for "Crusader" tops, for wear with leotards or other skin-pants. These are overbushes copied from the collarless, tunic-like garment of medieval days. I interviewed the pair at a Greenwich Village shop, the Stark Valla Emporium, which gave the girls their start. Now, their clothes are in some of the better shops around the country. They started last November with potholders, decorative matchboxes, place mats, and even a velvet and rhinestone decorated hoola hoop "for the woman who wants to exercise glamorously." Eventually, they decided to design clothes. If you have outfitted yourself with a new muted-tone wardrobe, be sure to change your make-up coloring so that just the right contrast will be maintained against the smoky greens, browns and blues of the new fashions.

DEAR ABBY . . .

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Already the stores are showing gifts for Christmas. It is a blasphemy to preach that December 25th is the birthday of Jesus. Jesus was born in October when the shepherds were still out with the sheep. Christ never asked or wanted his birth celebrated by gift-giving. That idea was invented by man, not God. Christmas is a racket and is getting worse every day.

A CHRISTIAN

DEAR CHRISTIAN: The real Christmas spirit is "Peace on earth, good will toward men." If people wish to exchange gifts at Christmas time they need no commandment from the Scriptures to do so. Theologians have neither proved nor disproved the accurate birth date of Christ. Volumes have been written on this subject. But the last sentence always ends with a question mark.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about girls having to take showers together? After every gym period we have to take showers which, of course, we should. But there are no curtains or partitions for privacy and all the girls have to shower together. Some of the girls think nothing of it. But I was taught modesty at home and I do not like this idea. My mother doesn't like it either. Can something be done about it without causing a big fuss?

"MODEST"

DEAR MODEST: In my opinion, no girl should be compelled to shower with other girls if she doesn't want to. Yours is not the first letter I have received from a girl protesting "mass showering." Have your mother talk to the school authorities. Something CAN be done. But it will not, unless someone complains.

DEAR ABBY: I know a young woman who is 36 years old and is still wearing her sorority pin. Everyone laughs at her because she wears it on every dress and suit she owns. I think it is quite childish, but I feel it is her business. Some of the girls say that because I am very friendly with her I should tell her to put it away. Should I? Or must I defend her every time someone makes fun of her when her back is turned.

NOMINATED

DEAR NOMINATED: To each her own. If your friend wants to wear her sorority pin on her nose, let her. Don't permit the other girls to "stick you" with the job of wising her up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEELING FOOLISH": The only "stupid" questions are those that aren't asked. Send me your name and address.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE ADAPTABILITY OF MAPLE

All too often, when we think of maple furniture, we think of it only in an Early American setting. This is a mistake. The adaptability and versatility of maple are almost boundless. It is a good mixer and accommodates itself gracefully to almost any type of informal room.

Simple and sincere in spirit, it blends beautifully with Colonial New England styles, with Early Chippendale, French Provincial country style, the simpler Queen Anne styles, and informal modern. Elegance and informality are effectively combined in the bedroom sketched above . . . and much of the success of this room is due to the rock maple furniture.

The color scheme is composed of a harmonious range of blues—running the gamut from a pale pastel shade to the deep blue-violet carpet. Three walls and ceiling were painted a pale sky blue (to make the room appear larger) and to give a cool feeling to a sunny exposure; on the fourth wall, two badly placed windows were attractively disguised by covering the entire wall from floor to ceiling with white casement curtains and fabric-covered valance ties the entire Institute of Technology. Temporary setting the maple furniture has a true sense of belonging.

The beautiful simplicity, the classic lines of furniture, crafted with a master's touch are evident in every piece in our new map collection. We are proud to offer you pieces for every room in your home . . . at prices that make them truly outstanding value. Come in today.

Pampa News Women's Editor

At holiday time nearly everybody's thoughts turn naturally to food. But in the nation's oil fields the question of "when do we eat?" is not only a Thanksgiving topic but is a year-round preoccupation of hard-working drilling crews. It's not surprising then that the oil field lingo, which is full of picturesque terms, has many expressions relating to food.

This has led the editors of "Petroleum Today," new publication of the American Petroleum Institute, to whip up a sample menu composed of words that are a part of the language heard around oil fields.

Probably most everyone knows "soup" is an explosive and it might not be too hard to guess that "spaghetti" is a small pipe and "macaroni" big pipe.

But how about such terms as "rabbit" for a tool that cleans out pipe or "duck" . . . a portable pumper for oil wells. Then there's "cabbage," a term for bearings on a connecting rod and "beans," a word for valves or chokes. "Eggs" are charges of dynamite; "tabasco sauce" is an acid used to dissolve limestone and "catsup" refers to red lead.

Such terms as "biscuits", "apple butter", "watermelon", "pineapple", "cheese" and "doughnuts" are sprinkled through an oil field menu-lingo.

The menu finishes the meal with "coffee" which is what a drilling crew has to buy when it makes a mistake.

We are not recommending the following menu as a Thanksgiving Day suggestion, but here is a sample menu made up of words that are part of the workday language one hears wherever a drilling crew "makes hole."

- APPETIZERS
Soup (TNT)
ENTREES
Rabbit (a tool for cleaning out pipe)
Duck (a portable pumper for oil wells)
Eggs (charges of dynamite)
Choice of:
Beans (Valves or chokes)
Cabbage (Bearings on a connecting rod)
Macaroni (Big pipe)
Spaghetti (Little pipe)

- CONDIMENTS
Tobasco Sauce (The part of a rotary bit that bites into rock formation)
Cheese (Paraffin saturated with oil)
Doughnuts (Round tubing)
BEVERAGES
Coffee (A mistake, the drilling crew member who makes one must pay the penalty of treating the others to coffee)

Members voted to meet regularly on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.; places to be announced until year books are made and distributed.

It was announced that the December meeting will be concerned with "Modeling Techniques." Mrs. Jerome Stout, Mrs. Vena Poore, and Miss Adelaide Williams have been assigned the following subjects to do research upon, prepare and deliver a three-minute talk at that time: "Party Manners," "The Eyes Have It," and "Appropriate Glove Wear."

Guests attending the installation ceremony and program were Mmes. S. B. Hall, Luke Reid, L. E. Parker, Bill Anderson from the Amarillo Chapter and Miss Martha Hanneman.

During the program, which followed, Mrs. McDonald instructed group in correct procedure of singing one's self at a dinner, per club, or restaurant and responding placement of hands feet.

The group was further instructed in carrying out the aims and poses of the American Beauty Charm Club, which is an organization for women desiring to make most of themselves through organized personal improvement efforts.

Mrs. Newman is Study Leader

Central Baptist Church Women's Missionary Union met Tuesday in the church for Bible study by Mrs. A. R. Newman.

The meeting opened with song by Mrs. E. B. Davis followed by Mrs. Bob Callahan reading the year calendar. Mrs. Sam Barton led the prayer for missionaries.

Mrs. Newman, in conducting the study on "A Dedicated Life," explained that the motive for a dedicated life should be "the mercies of God." Compare the blessings you have with the blessing you actually deserved. God's love has truly covered a multitude of sins.

"We do not serve to gain salvation, but because of our salvation," said.

Scriptures from Romans, Hebrews and Philippians, showed that a dedicated life is a privilege; that it involves the whole personality; that it is unshaken by hate or prejudices; that the fruit of dedication is service to the Lord; and that a dedicated life's principal desire is to please God, not to please man."

Mrs. Charley Thomas, WMU president, dismissed the 45 members present with a poem called "Faith" and prayer.

The Oil Outlook

By MARVIN OLSEN Daily News Oil Editor

Conoco Buys Westac

A telegram Friday from Emeron G. Smith of the Continental Oil Company announced that Conoco has purchased the Westac Oil Company of Odessa. The telegram read: "Purchase by Continental Oil Co. of Westac Oil Co., Odessa, a small petroleum marketing firm in West Texas, was confirmed today (Friday) by W. O. Ham Jr., Ft. Worth, and Ted O. Groebel, president of Westac. "Westac oil owns 25 service stations in West Texas and southeastern New Mexico and formerly distributed Shell Oil Co. petroleum products. Personnel at the stations will be retained and conversion of the stations to Conoco outlets is expected to be completed by Dec. 1."

Honored By Gulf

Five longtime Pampa employees of the Gulf Oil Co. were honored Friday night at a banquet in the Hotel Texas in Ft. Worth. The veteran Gulf employees from here honored were Ed Edging (40 years); E. Menafee and Ed W. Ray (both 35 years); and D. S. Coberly and W. A. Fugate, both 30 years. The banquet was held for 93 Gulf employees with service records from 25 to 40 years. Diamond and ruby lapel emblems and engraved certificates were presented as a token of appreciation of long and loyal service.

Promoted

Staff additions and promotions within the Noco Chemical Co. of Odessa were announced Saturday by A. A. (Art) Townsend, co-owner. H. W. (Jack) Gray has been named general sales manager; Weldon E. Trahan was named technical manager of plant and lab; J. D. Crawford becomes chief chemist; and Mrs. Betty J. Gobe becomes head technician at the Odessa home office.

Safe Drivers

W. D. Grainger and J. T. House, both with Phillips Petroleum, were presented safe driving awards for driving 100,000 and 150,000 miles respectively without an accident. Grainger and House are residents of Phillips' Pampa Camp. R. Z. Grainger is area maintenance superintendent, and House is area superintendent in the Panhandle district.

Oilmen Ready For Blizzards

By MAC SEBREE United Press International TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — When blizzards sweep down from the north, the oilman is ready. The early onset of cold and snow in the Rockies-caught few drillers unprepared. Tulsa scouts boasted this week. As for the rancher, cold weather brings problems for the oil industry. But for a business which operates in the Venezuelan jungle, the Sahara sands and the choppy Gulf waves, cold presents no special obstacle. In Canada, cold and freezing weather is eagerly awaited as a boon to production. H. T. (Tommy) Hunter, operating superintendent of Tulsa's Pan American Petroleum Co., said his firm's wintering operations are well under way in the Rockies. Winterizing "usually consists of boxing in the bottom part of the derrick, installing heaters and paralleling all water and drilling mud lines with steam pipes, to avoid freezing. "After we do that, we're ready for whatever mother nature throws at us," said Hunter. "The roughneck hardly ever has to get out on top of the derrick in the cold, and when he does he doesn't stay long." Hunter recounted. For the Canadian operations of Pan American and other countries, the onset of winter is the starting gun for full operation. "When it gets cold enough to cut the crude with a hatchet, that's when we like it in Canada," said Hunter. Canada's mule-kick is too mushy and soft in balmy weather to move crews and heavy equipment in and out, so oilmen must wait until it freezes up before starting big operations. As for the drilling itself, it makes little difference whether the outside temperature is 20 below or 110 above. The oil or gas in the hot wells will flow readily to the surface regardless of the air temperature. An official of a Tulsa company with extensive operations in North Dakota agreed that cold weather brings no unusual problems. "Once in a while a ground blizzard will make it impossible to get drilling crews in or out, but we don't shut down," he said. He explained that drilling crews no longer live on the rig but are housed in nearby settlements or towns. "We have drilled successfully in below zero temperatures," he added. Winter often brings the extra expense of laying steam lines and hiring boiler tenders, but this

WALKIE-TALKIE HELMET — An oilfield engineer models the latest in safety hats developed by the Dowell division of Dow Chemical, Oklahoma City. What makes the helmet unique is the compact two-way radio nestled in the top of the specially designed helmet. One of the helmet's features is a sound-cancelling device making it possible to transmit voice effectively when the surrounding level is unusually high. El Paso-Pipeline Merger Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal Power Commission examiner Friday recommended approval of the proposed merger of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. of Salt Lake City with El Paso Natural Gas Co. of El Paso. The recommendation, made by examiner Daniel J. Kelly, is subject to review by the commission. Kelly concluded that El Paso's proposed acquisition and operation of Pacific's pipeline system would further "the public convenience and necessity."

El Paso operates a pipeline system in the Southwestern United States selling gas to dealers serving markets in Arizona, California, Nevada, New Mexico and Texas. It already had acquired 99.8 per cent of Pacific's common stock under an exchange offer dated May 1, 1937. Despite the fact that El Paso owned most of Pacific Northwest, the Texas firm still must get FPC approval of a formal merger. Pacific's system extends from the San Juan Basin in New Mexico through Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washington to the U.S. Canadian border. Kelly said the attachments to El Paso's expanding markets of the Canadian gas supply and the reserves of the Rocky Mountain area would be "definitely in the public interest." It would also be in the public interest for the expanding California market to have access to gas reserves reached by Pacific's transmission system. Any opponents of the merger

Wildcats Total 410, TRC Says

AUSTIN (UPI) — Wildcaters brought in 10 oil wells the past week to run their total for the year to 410, well ahead of their comparable 1938 total, the Railroad Commission reported today. Through the same week last year, wildcaters had hit 1350 wells. The commission said the wildcaters also hit 77 dry holes during the week to bring the total to 3,198 for the year compared to 3,335 last year. There were 245 oil well completions during the week for a total of 10,291 for the year. Gas wells numbered 39 and for the year 1,868. Drillers hit 143 dry holes during the week for a year's total of 5,481. The commission said the allowable increased 7,646 barrels daily during the week to 2,791,079 barrels.

Immoral Shows Hit By Actors

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — "Immoral shows" in Tijuana are the target of a campaign launched by the National Actors Assn. here. Officials made this announcement after a visit to the border city, where they said, "public spectacles offensive to our country, are passing as entertainment." The officials said such "immoral exhibitions" are not necessary to bring tourists to Mexico. is considered a normal hazard. With the promise of huge oil developments north of the Arctic Circle in Canada and Alaska, oilmen consider nature's icy rampages in the northern U. S. just a small sample of what may lie ahead.

12 Deep Intentions, 19 Completions Reported By Railroad Commission

Twelve of the 34 intentions to drill filed the past week were for depths over 7,000 feet, the Texas Railroad Commission office in Pampa reported Saturday. Nineteen completions and seven plugged wells were also shown on the commission's report. The deepest wells, both between 9,600 and 9,800 feet, are reported in Lipscomb and Ochiltree counties. Four wells are being drilled in Gray county, three by the Texaco Co. The commission's report follows:

DON HENRY ... Parkersburg salesman

Rig Firm Opens Sales Office Here

A district sales office for the Parkersburg Rig and Reel Co. was opened in Pampa the past week, the company's Houston office reported. The office, located at 116 S. Ward, is staffed by District Salesman Don L. Henry. A native of Chillicothe, Texas, Henry has been with the Houston company since 1935. He is a graduate of Texas Tech. "The Pampa office is a part of our overall expansion plans," Vice president J. W. Robbins said in making the announcement. "Continued expansion of all oilfield operations in the Panhandle necessitates this location especially necessary."

Competing Materials Edging Lumber In Building Industry

By EDWARD COWAN United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Housing Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman has laid it on the line for the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. In a recent speech to the association's convention here, Zimmerman warned that the industry has not kept up with the growth in homebuilding. As far as FHA is concerned, he said, "whether America's homes are built of lumber, aluminum, steel or some other new material, "May I suggest," he said, "that your problem of conservation is going to be solved in a most unexpected and undesirable way unless you find ways and means of being more competitive." The FHA head went on to remind the lumber men of some facts with which most of them were already painfully familiar: "Houses being built today are using considerably less lumber than they did 10 years ago. "Many of the changes taking place in homebuilding today are bad news for the lumberman. During the past half century, lumber lost 70 per cent of the roofing market to asphalt shingles and other types of roofing materials. It lost about half the window market. Steel and gypsum are replacing wood lath. Concrete slab is replacing wood flooring in many instances. Aluminum is now challenging wood as siding and roofing." Zimmerman recounted that the proportion of materials going into a new home accounted for by lumber has dropped from 63 per cent in 1920 to about 50 per cent now. This review of the competition facing wood products was not exactly news to the lumbermen. They have been keenly aware that lumber production has hovered around the 35-36 billion board feet a year since World War II, while construction generally expanded.

The association has already embarked on a national wood promotion program, expansion of which to $1,800,000 a year was approved by the convention. Bigger efforts to develop new uses for wood and new wood products may be in the offing. The association's headquarters staff laid out for the delegates a one-year plan "to put wood ahead of its competitors in the race for new markets of the 1960s." It calls for the spending of about $12,500,000 a year — 10 times the present amount — for: "Technical services to inform architects and builders of the latest advances in wood technology. "Research to find new ways of using wood. "Mass media advertising to get the public more aware of and interested in wood. Final decision on the big promotion program was put off until the association's May meeting in San Francisco. Meanwhile the association's 17 regional affiliates and their 1200 lumber and wood products will consider the program and weigh its cost against the likely profits it can be expected to yield.

First American Into Space Probably Will Be A Chimp

By JOSEPH MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The first American in orbit probably will be an ape—a chimpanzee named Able to some such name as Ichabod, Mike, Bobo or Tom III.

It could be some Mickey or Mable among the laboratory mice being trained for space tasks but the odds are that a chimp will make it first.

And when the first American man sets foot on the moon, he will do so with the assurance that an animal astronaut has preceded him.

The role of animals as space pioneers began back in 1902 when two mice were sent aloft aboard Aerobics rockets in New Mexico. Experiments of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) are planning ever more crucial jobs for a wide assortment of living things ranging up the scale from bacteria to himps.

The Russians already have put a dog into orbit around the earth and have sent dogs and rabbits to great altitudes to test their reactions to weightlessness, radiation and the great pressures of acceleration.

The most dramatic space job performed by American animals took place on May 28, 1959. Two native-born monkeys, Able and Baker, rode a Jupiter nose cone 300 miles up and 1,700 miles down range from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

They survived the 15-minute ride, but Able died later during surgery to remove an electrode.

DURHAM TO RETIRE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Carl T. Durham, senior House member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, will retire from Congress at the end of his present term.

Injured By Train
Clifton, a Grand Prairie attorney, was injured today when a freight train slammed into the side of his car on Jefferson Street in Grand Prairie.

Police said Clifton was driving east on Jefferson and apparently didn't see the train behind him. He made a left turn in front of the locomotive, which was on the tracks in the center of the street.

Admits Slaying
SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Belen Solis, 47, signed a statement Saturday admitting he killed Albert Davila, 32, out of a tavern and shot him to death.

"I didn't mean to kill him. I only wanted to scare him," Solis said.

Solis told police the shooting climaxed a feud over Solis' 30-year-old wife. Davila walked out of the tavern and was shot twice with a .22-caliber rifle.

He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Police said Solis would be charged with murder Monday.

Honesty Pays Off

DALLAS (UPI) — Who says honesty doesn't pay? Three young Garland found nine $1,000 U. S. Savings Bonds at the bus depot early Monday. They turned them over to police.

A short time later, Joseph Tyll, a retired Chicago Businessman, claimed them. He opened his wallet and handed each of finders—Rebel Moore, James Davis and Jerry Davis—a bill.

Tyll, 65, said he was enroute "Miami to buy one of those retirement homes" when he retrieved the bonds.

TEST TRACHOMA VACCINE — WASHINGTON (UPI) — A team of American and Chinese doctors has developed a vaccine which may help stop the spread of trachoma, an eye disease which often leads to blindness.

The Navy said the vaccine "tremendous potential" as a preventive and may also be a cure but still needed a year of testing.

Khrushchev Goes Along On Summit Date

By K.C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has set a new puzzle for Western diplomacy. An ardent advocate hitherto of an early summit, the dynamic Soviet leader has quietly resigned himself to Western insistence on a postponement of the heads-of-governments parley for many months.

French President Charles De Gaulle's announcement that Khrushchev's visit to Paris will not materialize until March put the summit off until April or, more probably, May or June of next year.

The quantity with which Khrushchev has reacted to allied delaying tactics contrasts sharply with his earlier impatient pressure for an immediate top level get-together.

Soviet affairs experts believe the Soviet leader is silent because current developments suit the secret book of Moscow's long-term policy designs.

Khrushchev apparently feels quite happy because he is getting something in return for the delay of the summit which could prove well worthwhile to him.

He has managed to lay down a series of bilateral top-level meetings with allied leaders in coming months in which he can hope to "jog" the allied front.

Moreover, the delay which affords the West some time to mend its own fences also gives the Soviets an opportunity to defer commitments on far-reaching policy decisions.

Western diplomatic experts believe the Kremlin does not want to firm up its over-all policy at this stage of uncertain international developments.

First indications that Khrushchev was changing the tune on the summit theme came when arrangements for his meeting with President Eisenhower were completed last summer.
