Rail Unions, Management Skirmishing

By FRANK SPENCER
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Front line fighters from management and labor forces skirmished today in battles that may herald one of the nation's most bitter railroad labor wars.

Although contracts covering many rail union members expire Sunday, the Railway Labor Act will forestall an immediate strike.

But around conference tables and in hotel rooms, each side will attempt to hammer home to the other the idea of no concessions.

Under terms of the labor act, mediation began this week in separate disputes involving the Locomotive Engineers, Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and the Switchmen. These unions have asked 12 per cent pay increases and other improvements.

The fight went into mediation when national negotiations got nowhere.

Robert O. Boyd, National Railway Mediation Board chairman, and three mediators met Monday with officers of the 50,000-member Engineers Union, and then with representatives of the Eastern, Western and Southeastern Carriers conference committees.

Today the mediators meet with committees from the railroads and from the 30,000-member Conductors and Brakemen unions. Wednesday they will meet with the Switchmen.

Other unions waited back of the front. A three-year "moratorium" with the railroads signed by 16 non-operating unions in 1956 expires Sunday. These unions (See RAILS, Page 3)

County tax office employees, working overtime Monday night, prepared slightly over 13,000 tax statements for property owners and persons with royalty interests in Gray County.

Assessor Back said the total valuation in the county jumped about $1.5 million the past year to $53,208,747. Tax rates, as set by the County Commissioners court Sept. 14, remained the same as a year ago, $1.74 per $100.

As in past years county taxpayers will be given a three per cent discount if the tax is paid during October, a two-per-cent discount if paid in November, and a one per cent discount if paid in December.

Taxes paid after Jan. 31 are subject to a penalty.

Back estimates that close to 90 per cent of all assessments will be paid this month.

Allies Tell Reds To Keep Off Formosa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Australia and New Zealand have served notice on Red China that they will regard any armed attack on Formosa as an international problem.

The three allies said that Communist China's "destructive violence" in Asia and war-like moves in the Formosa Strait pose a "serious threat to the peace of the world."

The warning to Peking came in a joint communique issued Monday night after a one-day meeting of the council of ministers of the Anzus Treaty.

Leading the delegations were U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, New Zealand Prime Minister Walter Nash and Richard G. Casey, Australian minister for external affairs.

They also said "Communist incited disturbances" in Laos were a threat to the stability of the Far East, which requires utmost vigilance both by the United Nations and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Union Ready For A Ruling

T-H Injunction Order Would Bring On High Court Appeal

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Company-by-company negotiations resumed in the 105-day steel strike today with one major producer signed and an appeals court ruling on a back-to-work injunction expected this afternoon.

Individual bargaining sessions between the United Steelworkers and management representatives began at 10 a.m., the fourth straight day such talks have been held here in an effort to end the most costly strike in steel industry history.

Before the separate meetings began, an industry spokesman told United Press International the court ruling on the back-to-work order "probably will be in favor of the government." He added, however, that the union has arranged for an immediate appeal and that the U.S. Supreme Court "has agreed to hear arguments virtually immediately." The union would not comment.

Kaiser Steel Corp., a member of the industry's steel companies coordinating committee, put increased pressure on the other firms by signing a contract agreement Monday night in Washington, following day-long talks.

The remaining major steel producers, despite the Kaiser pact, appeared adamant in their unified stand against the union's demands. But reports persisted that one other company was ready to sign a separate agreement.

The two-year Kaiser contract provided 2 1/2 cents an hour in wages and benefits. Edgar F. Kaiser, who made the joint announcement with USW President David J. McDonald, said the cost to his firm in the first year would be 10 cents an hour in insurance, pension and supplemental benefits.

The pact provides 1 1/4 cents in benefits for the first year and 1 1/4 cents, mostly in wages, in the second year. The wage plan, previously rejected by the other 11 producers as "inflationary," also included a 3.44 cent cost of living boost.

The third U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia will announce this afternoon its decision on a USW appeal against a Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction. However, the court said it would not make its decision known until 4:45 p.m., 15 minutes after the Midwest stock exchange closed in Chicago.

Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg here last Wednesday granted the union's injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act for a return to work under an 80-day cooling off period. But the USW filed an immediate appeal until arguments could be heard.

The arguments were heard in (See UNION, Page 3)

May Set Pattern

Kaiser Steel Inks No-Inflation Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Kaiser's 7,100 employees at the Fontana, Calif. plant, its only steel-making facility.

In the second year, workers will get at least 7 to 9.17 cents an hour in wage boosts. Depending on possible rises in the cost of living, they also may get up to 3 cents more.

Kaiser and the union agreed Tuesday night on a two-year contract to cost 2 1/2 cents an hour. Both sides said it was non-inflationary.

Union President David J. McDonald promptly invited the rest of the industry to agree to the same terms.

With Kaiser accounting for only 2 per cent of steel industry capacity, management doubted that the breakaway settlement would scare the bigger producers—U.S. Steel, Republic and Bethlehem—into quick agreements.

The Kaiser contract was expected to put new settlement pressure on some of the smaller companies, which have been negotiating jointly with the larger firms.

One Kaiser contract feature that may catch on—possibly among all in-still struck firms—was the establishment of a union-management committee to negotiate changes in work rules.

The work rules issue has been the thorniest in the long, bitter strike. Led by the bigger companies, management has insisted on the right to change work practices without the union's consent. The union has adamantly opposed this.

The Kaiser agreement was announced jubilantly by Edgar F. Kaiser, the company chairman, and McDonald after all-day negotiations here.

It provides for a wage-benefit package of 1 1/4 cents an hour a year with the two-year contract retroactive to July 1 and expiring June 30, 1961.

In the first year, all of the 1 1/4 cents will go into improved insurance and pension benefits for (See UNION, Page 3)

Cuba To Revive Firing-Squad Justice For Regime Opponents

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro called in his cabinet today to revive firing squad justice for traitors to the revolution and for the pilots of American-based planes he said are bombing Cuba.

The bearded revolutionary leader revived the thought of revolutionary justice in an angry, three-hour denunciation of the United States Monday night before a crowd of 250,000 peasants and workers jammed into the plaza in front of the presidential palace.

Castro charged American officials were "accomplices of murderers" or else were "defenseless" to prevent planes from raiding Cuba in spite of the vaunted U.S. radar defense screen.

He again questioned indirectly the right of the United States to hold the giant naval base at Guantanamo. "What do you think?" he asked and the crowd roared, "no, no, no."

Castro asked for a show of hands on the revival of the revolutionary trials under which more than 600 "war criminals" were executed by firing squads early this year.

"To the wall, to the wall," the crowd thundered as a sea of hands was raised.

Castro then announced the Council of Ministers (Cabinet) would meet today to discuss a decree to re-establish the revolutionary tribunals. This touched off chants of "yes, yes" and "to the wall, to the wall."

Castro said he realized the action would bring criticism but "we have no alternative for defending the country and ourselves."

Castro dramatically announced that he had handed a communication from army headquarters in Pinar del Rio reporting that a plane had dropped several home-made explosives and an incendiary bomb on a sugar mill at Nagara. He also said a grenade was tossed at the office of the official revolutionary newspaper, Revolution, causing casualties.

Castro was the last speaker at the rally which was whipped to near-fever pitch by preceding orators.

Tax Speaker Abhors Oil Industry Burden

HOUSTON (UPI)—Dr. Arthur A. Smith, Dallas banker and economist, warned Monday that the oil industry can no longer be expected to absorb further tax burdens.

"If the petroleum industry had fared no better than the average industry in improving its products and refining costs... consumer prices of its products would be much higher than they are," Smith told some 700 tax experts gathered here for the 52nd annual session of the National Tax Assn.

"I am thinking more particularly of the producer who must search and find new oil reserves under far more trying conditions than ever before," he said.

"It is he who must encounter greatest risks in the entire industry because he spends vast sums to find oil and gas he is not certain he actually will find. On the other hand, the pipeline company knows its capacity to transport and the refiner knows how much he can refine."

"Take away statutory percentage depletion now allowed under income tax laws and the burden of state and local taxes would most certainly weigh more heavily upon the producer," he said.

Smith noted that taxes, and especially state taxes, have already "reached staggering proportions" on petroleum products.

"We cannot go on taxing promiscuously our natural resources," Smith warned.

He noted a "rather unique situation" has developed in which state and local governments impose substantial taxes on oil and natural gas, while at the same time the federal government has set depletion allowances to offset the risks in finding and producing petroleum.

The meeting will last through Thursday. Other speakers included U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of Weatherford, Charles F. Cannon, head of the Federation of Tax Administrators, and Harold F. Swartz, assistant commissioner of internal revenue.

'ARMED' FOR UNICEF — Chances are that many of Saturday night's ghosts and goblins will be wearing an orange and black emblem on their arm come Halloween eve. Quick Action Saves Plane Passengers

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (UPI)—The decisive action of a former combat officer and quick work by firemen led to the miraculous escape Monday night of 19 of the 20 persons aboard a Pacific Airlines twin-engine plane that crashed on takeoff.

"It was a miracle that everyone was not killed," said a fireman who was among the first at the scene. "They — everything plane and passengers — were just floating in gasoline."

Co-pilot Joe Flanagan, 31, Mountain View, Calif., was killed and pilot Capt. Charles Craig, 42, San Mateo, Calif., was injured seriously. But all 18 of the others aboard escaped serious injury.

There were 3 crewmen and 17 passengers aboard the Los Angeles to San Francisco craft.

Phillip French, Paso Robles, Calif., a rancher and former combat Army captain, told newsmen that after the crash he turned to the other passengers and announced: "Everybody be calm. Just follow me."

The plane had smashed through some trees and nosed into the ground, leaving passengers looking "straight down." It's gas tanks split and inflammable fuel was pouring out when French made his announcement.

Soviet officials released the photographs taken by the third Russian moon rocket but failed to speculate that the Lunik camera-work had spotted any signs of life on the side of the moon which man never had seen before.

The official photograph was dotted with Russian names of craters and valleys on the moon, and the Communist Party newspaper Pravda headlined: "The Soviet Union has achieved a new brilliant victory."

Modern Facade For J. C. Penney

An "extensive remodeling" of the J. C. Penney department store, 201 N. Cuyler, began Monday and will be completed in 35 days.

Manager Rue Samples said this morning.

Samples said Penney's will be given a modern front with center doors. The girls' department will be re-located and Penney's eight aisles will be reduced to four aisles leaving room for 40 additional tables.

Work will be completed "well before" the Christmas rush, Samples added.

Muscovites Rush For Moon Pictures

MOSCOW (UPI)—Muscovites lined up in freezing pre-dawn temperatures today to snatch up special editions of newspapers showing the Lunik III photograph of the never before-seen back side of the moon.

Soviet officials released the photographs taken by the third Russian moon rocket but failed to speculate that the Lunik camera-work had spotted any signs of life on the side of the moon which man never had seen before.

Freeze In Panhandle

United Press International
A mass of cold Canadian air spread over Texas today and was expected to hold temperatures down to the 60s and 70s over the entire state.

Dalhart, in the Panhandle, reported the first below-freezing temperature of autumn at 5 a.m. today. The mercury there dropped to an even 30 degrees. Gage, Okla., in the western part of that state, had a 25.

Other lows before daybreak included Amarillo, 38, Childress 36, Lubbock 37 and Alpine 38. The maximum overnight temperature — 69 — recorded at Corpus Christi near the coast, was 39 degrees higher than Dalhart's 30.

Injured In Gun Mishap

A young Pampa woman, a 21-year-old, was accidentally shot Monday night at the Steer Inn Drive-In on W. Brown, was reported in satisfactory condition this morning at Highland General Hospital.

Janice Hankins, 208 1/2 A I c o c k, was hit in the chest by a .38 caliber slug about 7:10 p.m. in a storeroom at the Steer Inn.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Bowers said the gun was being cleaned by her stepfather, Bill W. Kelley, owner of the drive-in.

Miss Hankins, about 20, was rushed to Highland General Hospital where surgery was performed last night. Doctors said the bullet entered her chest, punctured the right lung and lodged in her right arm. The arm was badly fractured. Her condition this morning was described as "very satisfactory."

Deputy Bowers said both Miss Hankins and Kelley told him the shooting was accidental. Later in the evening the victim again told officers, "It was an accident."

Sheriff R. Jordan said, "There is nothing to indicate it was anything else." The bullet was fired from a five-shot Smith and Wesson revolver.

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Dr. Harold Lubbock, showing little interest in the dramatic testimony of his trial, was scheduled to begin today as the prosecution's witness against his former partner.

Lubbock is accused of gunning El Paso attorney Ted Andress last week at the El Paso International Airport as the lawyer and his wife returned from a convention.

Appeal Ready

Philadelphia last Thursday by a three-judge court. All seven members of the court must rule on the decision which will be announced today.

However, it was understood no matter what the appeals court decided, the USW or the firm would file an immediate appeal with the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington.

Other steel developments: Alwyn F. Franz, president of Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp., died Monday night that his firm has broken from the industry to issue its third-quarter report and sign a contract.

He died as "entirely untried" results that Colorado Fuel would be terms similar to the settlement.

U.S. Steel Corp. officials will announce in New York today their earnings. The firm has no advance estimate on whether the strike has cut earnings for the first nine months.

Bethlehem Steel Co. said it will issue its third-quarter report in New York Thursday.

Pittsburgh Steel Co. a recent addition to the industry coordination committee, reported Monday the strike inflicted heavy losses during the third quarter.

The company in its report placed third-quarter deficit at $4,105, compared with $291,638 in the same period of 1958.

At Fontana and Montebello, 11, about 500 maintenance men returned to Kaiser Steel Corp. plants at midnight Thursday.

The Kaiser force of 7,800 men is expected to be back at work about two weeks to a month.

RAIL UNIONS

There are indications both the unions and the carriers consider the coming talks a test for survival. The railroads, smarting under unrelenting competition, have charged that union practices cost them millions of dollars annually in money spent for work not received.

They charge that many workers engage in "featherbedding," collecting big pay for little work, and thus putting the carriers into an untenable position with the competition.

The Railway Labor Executives' Association has countered that railroad employment dropped from a peak of two million in 1920 to 797,000 last month, lowest in 64 years, and that these workers are handling up to 60 per cent more traffic than during the top employment period of 39 years ago.

The rail unions are staging a giant labor rally here Nov. 5, 1959. President George was specifically named as the main addresser. The theme of the rally is charged with the shoplifting of a "labor answers the railroads," dress at Montgomery-Ward. The referring apparently to the question of featherbedding.

The closing services Sunday, Nov. 8, will be held by Pastor Grace. A cordial invitation to hear revival speakers is extended to the public.

Shoplifter Fined

Patsy Elvajan Haynes, an 18-year-old arrested Saturday for a shoplifting, entered a plea of guilty in county court Monday and was fined $25 and costs.

Mrs. Haynes was specifically named as the shoplifter of a "labor answers the railroads," dress at Montgomery-Ward. The referring apparently to the question of featherbedding.

Inventor Can't Sell Stock For Manned Flight To Moon

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I'm afraid a manned flight to the moon that was scheduled for Dec. 7 won't be taking off after all. You know how much it costs to travel these days. And the government has said a Baltimore inventor who worked out the trip can't sell any more stock to meet his expenses.

The inventor and three associates were to make the flight on a space ship powered by "free energy," a type of propulsion which unfortunately the government in its own space work, has not been able to match.

Records of the Securities and Exchange Commission indicate that only $185,000 had been obtained from some 400 investors in this project before the agency got around to blocking the sales.

Even with "free energy," that's probably not enough to cover a moon trip. One way, maybe. But in this case the travelers planned a round trip, with the return set for Dec. 15.

The SEC hasn't made any comment on the announced itinerary or other details of the trip. Its only complaint, when it went into court, was that the inventor had neglected to register his securities before offering them for sale, as the law requires.

SEC is a federal agency set up 25 years ago after investors in the pre-crash era had displayed more enthusiasm than judgment in looking for places to put their life savings and sometimes all they could borrow.

With the stock market booming again, the SEC more and more lately has been acting the killjoy. Needless to say, its efforts aren't always appreciated.

Some of those who put money behind the moon flight for instance were bitter when the government started snooping around, interfering with science. The SEC is accustomed to this.

While back it prosecuted a fellow for fraud in connection with his fuelless engine and an atomic water machine to treat cancer. It was the people whose money he took who rushed to defend him.

But SEC is out to protect us, whether we like it or not. Just this week, the 30th anniversary of the big break in the market in October, 1929, the agency is launching an educational campaign. The message is, investigate before you invest. Beware of tips from strangers by long distance phone. Buy only through reputable brokers.

The law says securities generally can't be offered for sale until facts laid out on the table. Also, it's contrary to law to make false claims in trying to sell them.

There is always somebody though who doesn't seem to know about this.

In July, SEC blew the whistle on an outfit locating oil with gravity waves. Until the agency stopped him another oil man was doing all right with a magnetic logger.

Cuba May Ask United States To Vacate Guantanamo Base

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the foreign editor's notebook:

CARIBBEAN SIGNPOST

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's recent television attack on the United States, and the thought that even more vitriolic attacks may be in store for the future, raises speculation that Cuba eventually might demand that the United States get out of the big Guantanamo Naval Base it occupies at Cuba's eastern end. U.S. dollars flow from the base into the Cuban economy, and such a move might be harder on Cuba than the U.S. Navy has another huge base at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, which has been on a caretaker basis since World War II. It has a big harbor area, a drydock and the basic facilities only waiting to be developed. In 1948, the United States abandoned its big air bases in Panama and pulled out almost overnight after wearying of its role as football for Panama politicians.

TIGHTER CREDITS

Look for a general tightening on West Germany's credit market. The decision, effective last Friday, to increase the discount rate from three to four per cent is an attempt to bring the West German boom under control, especially in the construction industry. The new rates are expected to lower materially new demands for credit.

STRIKES

A new wave of strikes is feared in France. The retail price index rose this month to the point where the legal minimum wage went up automatically. The index is still rising, and another minimum wage boost is likely before Christmas.

RESTLESS POLITICIANS

Indonesia's major political parties, disaffected with the increasing restrictions imposed by the government and the army, will campaign hard for lifting the country's state of emergency law. The Communists will lead the campaign. But the politicians are not likely to succeed. The Army draws much of its power from the emergency situation law which was adopted in 1957 and extended last year for one year. It is scheduled for another extension in December.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has turned down a request from the Joint Council on Educational Television for a special probe of TV channel allotment for non-commercial use.

The FCC said Thursday it already was studying the problem with a view to formulating new rules and standards for both commercial and educational TV.

Army, AF May Ban A Movie

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army and Air Force may ban the movie "They Came to Cordura" from military post theaters on the ground that the film degrades the Medal of Honor. Spokesmen for both services said today no official decision has been made yet but such action is under consideration as a protest against the picture. In any event, however, the Navy is not going along with the other services. It plans to buy copies of the film for showing at naval bases and on ships. The movie, set on the Mexican border in 1916 during the American expedition against Pancho Villa, stars Gary Cooper, Rita Hayworth, Van Heflin and Tab Hunter. The Army and Air Force apparently object to the idea of having Cooper, playing an Army major, select five men to be given the Medal of Honor so that ready-made heroes would be available when America entered World War I. The picture deals with Cooper's troubles with the men he selected.

Red China Nemesis Of North India

Foreign News Commentary BY PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor

Pakistan believes that Red China will be in a position to attack both Pakistan and India in five years. Both countries share a common apprehension over the network of roads being built by Soviet Russian engineers in Afghanistan and by the Red Chinese in conquered Tibet. One road newly built by the Red Chinese allegedly with Tibetan slave labor cuts directly across the disputed territory where Indian and Chinese troops already have clashed. The latter runs from China's Sinkiang Province to Tibet, through the towering Himalaya Mountains where any road at all is a major engineering feat. It, like the Russian-built roads in Afghanistan, points south, toward the heart of Pakistan and India. Red Chinese airfields also dot the area.

The fear uniting the two nations provides the best possibility now that they will settle their own frequently bloody differences in a common defense against a greater enemy.

One immediate result has been an announcement of settlement of a long-standing border dispute between India and East Pakistan. There are indications that a better atmosphere has been established for settlement of the Kashmir dispute between the two nations, each of whom now holds a part of Kashmir territory along a shaky cease-fire line.

The long-standing dispute over use of Indus River waters also seems virtually settled. The Indus has its headquarters in the deep gorges of that part of Kashmir held by India. Thence it flows into Pakistan's Punjab which without it would be desert.

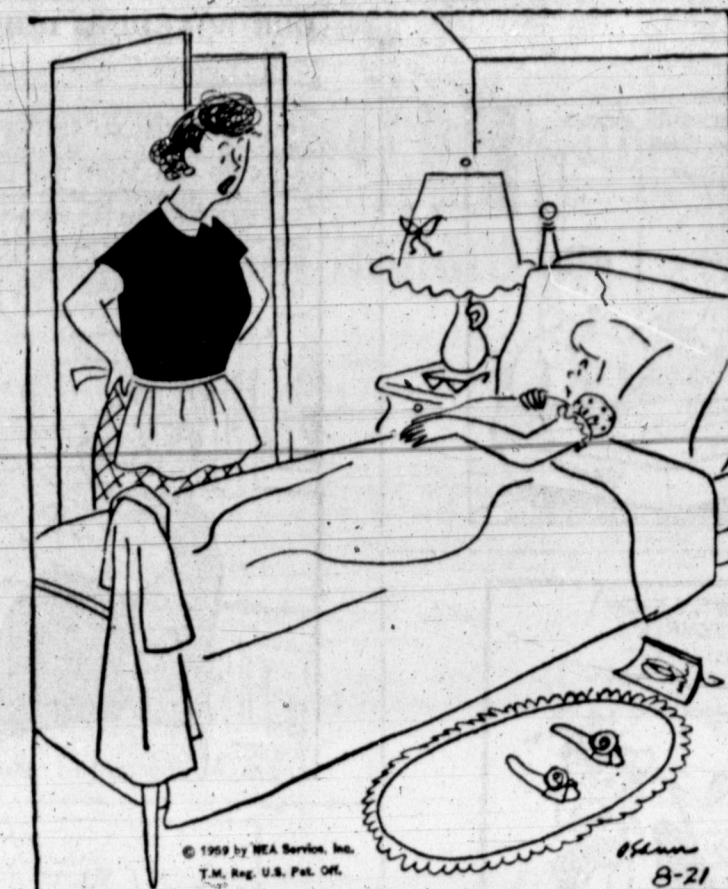

Both nations have a vital interest in the areas now claimed by China. No formal demands yet have been made on Pakistan by the Reds but Red Chinese maps claim Pakistan as well as Indian lands.

The Ladakh area where Red Chinese surprised an Indian police patrol, killing two of its members and taking others prisoner, is valuable only strategically. It has little arable land and is thinly populated by a people who have been the pawns of conquerors for 2,000 years.

Its huge mountain peaks include such famous names as Godwin Austen (K2) and Broad Peak, all noted challenges to ambitious mountain climbers. The general area long has been known as Indian Tibet. Its people are of Tibetan origin and its forbidding geography also matches that of Tibet. For hundreds of years the people of Ladakh, itself a part of Kashmir, paid tribute to or were under the domination of Tibetan rulers at Lhasa.

Moslem, Chinese and other conquerors have fought through its narrow valleys for hundreds of years, as often as not falling to the murderous weather rather than to the sword.

But it is the gateway to India and it is territory Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has said he will never give up. As for Pakistan, a Pakistani leader summed up the Red Chinese-Indian territorial dispute simply. "We share the same fate," he said.

"Your brother has several fiendish plans for getting you out of there, and I don't intend to restrain him much longer!"

'Wintersel' Is Good TV

By FRED DANZIG United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The poetic melodrama of Maxwell Anderson's "Wintersel" received a surprisingly faithful reading Monday night as the season premiere of NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall of Fame series. To find the fire and blood of this 24-year-old drama sponsored along in a TV drama bunched by greeting cards — where fluffier stories were presented in past seasons — was noteworthy in itself.

Anderson's allegorical "Wintersel," of course, is a showcase for the bitter dialogue and cynicism born of a spiritual and economic depression. But it ends in a triumphant path of newly-discovered love. The going gets sticky at times, but the message is worth it.

Robert Hartung's adaptation remained true to the original, although references to radicals, overtones of political corruption and a sharp discourse of judicial expediency were missing. Still, Hartung was extremely skillful in his editing and his script was given a mighty assist by the gloomy setting of a New York City bridgehead and the delicate touches of producer-director George Schaefer.

Since Anderson's characters are highly-charged types who synthesized many of the attitudes of their times, I think some of the acting went overboard, especially for the TV tube's intimacy.

Don Murray, as Mio, the revenge-seeking son of an executed man, was generally convincing.

Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has said he will never give up. As for Pakistan, a Pakistani leader summed up the Red Chinese-Indian territorial dispute simply. "We share the same fate," he said.

but he had trouble pacing his anger in the second act. As Miriamne, who brings love to Mio, Piper Laurie was sensitive and sensitive, except for an awkward final scene. Charles Bickford was an excellent Judge Gaunt. Martin Balsam and Anatol Winogradoff handled their assignments as the Messrs Esdras, son and father, with skill. George C. Scott, the perennial TV villain, was as evil as ever, although he managed to work in a smile now and then. It was most becoming.

The Hall of Fame and its new producer for 1959-60 gave us something different Monday night. And the nice thing about this was — it came off in fine style.

The Channel Swim: Comedienne Carol Burnett, who made her network TV debut on Garry Moore's daytime show back in 1955, — becomes a permanent member of Moore's Tuesday night cast starting Nov. 3. "George Burns In The Big Time," is an NBC-TV special slated for Tuesday, Nov. 17. George's act will include three newcomers: Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor and George Jessel.

ABC-TV reports that its Friday night detective series starring Robert Taylor scored a 25.7 Tindex, better than the combined ratings of CBS-TV's Twilight Zone and NBC-TV's fight.

"Murder and the Android," a science fiction drama that gets an NBC-TV Sunday Showcase airing Nov. 8, will star Kevin McCarthy, Rip Torn, Vladimir Sokoloff and Suzanne Pleshette. CBS-TV is expected to alternate hour-long specials with Desilu Playhouse after Jan. 1, when Desilu goes to alternate-weeks.

WAIF 'Mom' Is Glamorous Jane Russell

By VERNON SCOTT UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Motherhood and Jane Russell seem to go together about as well as Liz Taylor and Debbie Reynolds — but beneath the sex goddess veneer buxom Jane is something of a mother to 7000 youngsters. As president of WAIF, an international organization for homeless children, Jane has placed some 7000 orphans with adoptive parents.

This week the brunette screen siren put the finishing touches to the annual WAIF ball Nov. 7, to raise more than $50,000 for the organization. Jane began the WAIF nine years ago when she encountered difficulties adopting a child of her own. She went to England and brought home with her a wriggly-little guy named Tom. Since then she has adopted two more children. And if things work out, she hopes to bring home a fourth.

"I just put two and two together," Jane said. "There were thousands of couples in this country who wanted children, and thousands of children in Europe who needed parents. It was that simple."

Working through International Social Service, Inc., Jane and WAIF have invaded 72 countries finding orphans for adoption. "Countries fall in one of two categories — those with too many orphans and those with too few for the number of people who want to adopt," she said. "England and Scandinavia now have a shortage of adoptable kids."

"This year most of our children are coming from Germany, Greece, Italy, Korea and Japan. It changes from year to year."

"Two things we always do, place children with people of their own religion, and keep brothers and sisters together. Several times we've placed families of four youngsters with new parents."

Jane went on to say her organization has more parents lined up in this country than it can supply with children. "We don't need more parents," she said. "We need money to bring the youngsters over here. And that's why we're putting on the Imperial Ball — at $100 per person."

"The Chrysler Corp. helps us raise the money to finance our adoptions, and this year to keep the international flavor we've invited Princess Marie Cecille of Prussia to be the royal guest of honor. Last year Queen Frederika of Greece was present and helped bring in $55,000."

"To me this work is far more fulfilling than acting. And in its own way, more exciting."

Whiskey Mixup Costs Ex-Chief

MCKINNEY (UPI) — Former McKinney Police Chief Jack Pike was free today after paying a $200 fine and pleading guilty to charges that he stole confiscated whiskey.

But he pleaded guilty in accord with an agreement with the prosecution which dropped felony charges against him. The whiskey theft conviction is a misdemeanor.

Then he issued a statement in which he said he might be "technically guilty" as he did give away some of the whiskey to clubs and organizations who were having gatherings and he thought anything he could do to further the interests of McKinney was right.

Pike was indicted by a grand jury two months ago on four felony charges. He resigned from his post after several city commission attempts to oust him failed.

Organization has more parents lined up in this country than it can supply with children. "We don't need more parents," she said. "We need money to bring the youngsters over here. And that's why we're putting on the Imperial Ball — at $100 per person."

"The Chrysler Corp. helps us raise the money to finance our adoptions, and this year to keep the international flavor we've invited Princess Marie Cecille of Prussia to be the royal guest of honor. Last year Queen Frederika of Greece was present and helped bring in $55,000."

"To me this work is far more fulfilling than acting. And in its own way, more exciting."

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Darrell L. Graham 27, accused of murdering his 18-month-old stepdaughter, quoted by police as denying the charge: "I didn't kill her. She just sort of died."

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Rep. John E. Moss Jr. (D-Calif.), a member of the House subcommittee proving TV quiz shows, stating that the appearance of Charles Van Doren will not affect the group's plans for legislation. "We already know what the problem is."

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Pro-Castro youth groups have burned a large quantity of the records of Chilean singer Lucho Gatica in protest against his alleged desertions backing deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista. Gatica has been one of the most popular singers in Cuba and has made several successful personal appearances.

Recent Study Gives Interesting Information on Indians

The American Indian—1950. Ask the average man in the street today questions relating to the history and the current status of the American Indian and the chances are his answer will be the result of knowledge gained from either the television or motion picture screen. This method, though often a pleasant pastime, does not often produce a broad understanding of the American Indian, his problems, his advances, his contribution to our present day society, nor the present relations of the Federal Government to the American Indian.

Annual direct expenditures by the Federal Government for Indian

The House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, which has legislative jurisdiction in matters concerning American Indians and of which I am a member, has undertaken a study recently to determine information not currently tabulated and which is necessary to legislate intelligently and with understanding. The completed study is much too lengthy to cover in this news letter, but some facts were brought out which are most interesting. They were assembled from many sources including all the Federal Government Agencies having any jurisdiction in Indian affairs, State and Local Governments and from private organizations devoted to Indian welfare.

The Indian population in the U.S., though comprising only a fraction of the population total, is so widely scattered through the states that it may be truly considered nation-wide in its distribution. That the Indians cannot be treated as a single group is brought out by the following:

Indian reservations range in area from approximately 1/2 acre to over 15,000,000 acres. Per capita assets vary from $18.12 to $339,577, while per family assets range from $59.59 to $764,049. Population on the reservations ranges from 1 to over 80,000. Education achievement levels vary from those unable to speak English to Indians with Ph.D. degrees.

One of the most perplexing problems encountered in the study proved to be one of definition—Who is an Indian? As most of us know, the term originated with the landing of Columbus when he mistakenly assumed he had arrived

Doughnut Scarecrow Keeps Halloween Goblins Away

By GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Occur, the giddy Halloween scarecrow, is the ideal guest when the goblins and black cats arrive. To make him, follow these instructions:

Materials to build scarecrow:
One styrofoam block (4 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 3 1/2 inches)
1 styrofoam triangle (1 1/2 x 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches high with a 2 1/2 inch base)
1/2 inch thick, 3 1/2 inch skewers, toothpicks.

Ingredients: Thirteen plain baked doughnuts, 1 sugared doughnut, 2 red candied cherries, (2 1/2 inch) piece of carrot, 2 large marshmallows, 1 tablespoon corn starch, 1 black cone-shaped gumdrop, 3 red cone-shaped gumdrops, 3 whole cloves with long stems, 2 (2 1/2 inch) pieces of celery, celery leaves.

Body: Cut block and triangle from styrofoam. Stand triangle upright on its 2 1/2 inch base. Insert skewer, vertically, at top point of triangle, carefully push down through exact center. Slide triangle up to head of skewer. Thread five doughnuts on same skewer and stand it upright in the styrofoam block base.

Arms: Thread four doughnuts on each of other skewers. Insert one of the skewers into each side of styrofoam triangle at an angle to resemble arms.

Head: Cut a small slit in one edge of sugared doughnut, place vertically, over head of upright skewer to resemble scarecrow head. Cut small oval sections from cherries for eyes; fasten to sugared doughnut with short pieces of a toothpick. Shave about 12 very thin strips, about 1/4 inch wide, from length of carrot piece and lay over top of sugared doughnut for hair.

Trim: To make hat brim, roll a marshmallow in cornstarch and flatten with a rolling pin. Stick a toothpick through center. Fasten other marshmallow to one toothpick end for crown of hat; stick opposite toothpick end into sugared doughnut. Fashion hat band from remaining pieces of cherry and place between brim and crown. Stick two toothpicks into the black gumdrop to make a pipe. Insert opposite ends of toothpicks into sugared doughnut at mouth area. For bottom: Slice the round top from each red gumdrop, through which push the stem of a whole clove. Arrange buttons in a row down scarecrow front by punching clove pieces into narrow strips, leaving other ends whole. Gently push the solid end into hole of outside doughnut on each arm. Arrange celery leaves around styrofoam triangle, where sections join, to resemble whiskers. Yield: 14 servings.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Casserole of tuna with green olives, steamed rice, peas with onions, French bread, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, ginger pears, doughnuts, coffee, tea, milk.

For the first time in this area, hairdressers will have an opportunity to see on display the newest in jewelry.

Approximately 1200 hairdressers in District One are expected to attend.

A Halloween costume party will be held on Saturday night with a $25 cash prize awarded to the best costume.
Felix M. Hocker of Lubbock, show manager, Rebecca S. Wise of Amarillo, show committee chairman and Ethel Marshall of Plainview, district chairman, join the ten units in this district in welcoming all hairdressers to attend.

Peanut Butter Tops At Breakfast

Breakfasts and after school snacks take on new attraction when peanut butter is included in waffles, French toast sandwiches or muffins, just for example.

And this October, it's a happy coincidence that high-protein peanut butter is plentiful during Best Breakfast Month.

To prepare peanut butter waffles: Simply stir creamy or chunky peanut butter into the batter before baking. Serve with lots of butter and honey.

Peanut butter French toast sandwiches also are made easily: Spread one slice of bread with butter and the other with peanut butter. Press together, sandwich portion. Dip into egg-milk mixture and brown to golden crispness. Serve with strip of honey.

The following is an account of a recent trip Parent Education Club took to Boys' Ranch in Amarillo. The report was submitted by Mrs. Fred Vanderburg, publicity chairman for the club, and because of its interest and information, we are printing it as received from her.

Mrs. Vanderburg's account reads: "Thirty-three members and guests of Parent Education Club met in the home of Mrs. William Arrington. After a brief social period they went in cars to Boys' Ranch in Amarillo, where they were the guests of Carl Farley.

Upon arriving at the ranch, members were taken to the new dining hall where they were given the opportunity to visit with the boys and to learn of their background. Parent Education members were then taken by bus on a tour of the ranch, where they saw the church, school dorms, barns, farmlands and the pet cemetery.

It has happened many times at Boys' Ranch that a seemingly unmanageable boy will respond when given a dog or a pot of his own, which will be his responsibility and will love him in return. For this reason, each boy is allowed a pet and there are 87 dogs now at the Ranch. The boys' love for their dogs became a problem when the dogs started visiting the chicken coops. The questions were asked, "which will it be? No chicken for Sunday dinner or keep the dogs?" The boys considered it no problem.

Boys' Ranch now has fenced-in coops for the chickens. The school system at Boys' Ranch is copied after public schools. The school teacher and the dorm parents work together and for this reason seldom have a boy with an unprepared lesson. Should this happen, the boy is simply kept in after school until he has prepared the lesson that he missed as well as the lesson for the next day.

Boys' ranch is engaged in a building program. The old type dorms, where the boys could not be properly supervised, are being replaced by family-type dorms, where groups of 36 boys live with a family with children of their own. The dorm mother does the same as any mother with growing boys; listens to their problems; sews on buttons; and is responsible for each boy's birthday celebration.

The chapel at the ranch is the center of activity for the boys and although they are not required to attend church, they all do a majority of the time and take an active part in the services, even to conducting a complete service when the pastor is ill.

It was a wonderful day, Mrs. Vanderburg reports, and the comments heard as Parent Education members returned home were such as these: "Such devotion! To be a mother for 36 boys!" "What wonderful manners the boys have!" "Everyone should visit Boys' Ranch and see what a wonderful thing is being done here in our own Panhandle."

Auxiliary Hears Civil Defense Talk

Women's Auxiliary to the Top of Texas Medical Society held a dinner meeting on Tuesday evening in the Berger Hotel. Sheriff Hugh Anderson of Berger spoke to the group on County Civil Defense and pointed out that Hutchinson County has combined emergency organizations, such as the County Red Cross and the Salvation Army, plus local law enforcement agencies, to provide a civil defense program for the County.

"The Civil Defense program is operated by strictly voluntary personnel and is on a budget with funds provided in a governmental matching program," he said. "It has also provided for emergency evacuation of the county in a disaster situation through the local motorcycle club and other organizations. The program has also been concerned with prevention and control of fires at local plants and has plans for most emergencies including H-bomb attacks. The most important phase of our local civil defense program, Sheriff Anderson stressed, is mutual aid; that is, aid between communities for evacuation, medical care and for feeding and sheltering the homeless."

During a brief business meeting, a Christmas dinner - dance was announced for Dec. 5 in the Berger Country Club. Recipes for the state auxiliary cook-book are to be turned into local chairmen by Nov. 1, it was reported. It was announced that the next meeting of the Auxiliary and the Top of Texas medical group will be in the Pampa Country Club on Nov. 17.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that a man who has a wife will pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady? Then he will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp?

DISGUSTED
Dear Disgusted: If your husband feels no moral obligation to you, your only hope is that he has a legal one. A lawyer can tell you what your rights are under the circumstances.

LYDIA
Dear Lydia: A man picks up a "tramp" because he wants a female companion who is no better than his is. In her company, he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her "like a lady."

He treats his wife (who is a lady) like a "tramp" because he feels that by degrading her, he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty. So in order to "get even" with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I have a buddy who is 18 years old, but his family treats him like he was about ten. His father says if he has anything to do with girls before he is 21 he will break his neck for him.

Now you know, Miss Abby, it isn't natural for a boy to stay away from girls until he is 21. In fact, I don't think it can be done. My buddy and I go out with girls (twice ones) once in a while, but we have to lie to his parents. Is there any way I can convince this boy's parents to let him go with girls? I am a minister's son and they like me.

BUDDY
DEAR BUDDY: I can think of no quicker way for well-meaning parents to drive their children into "bad company" than by "forbidding" them to associate with the opposite sex. The parents of your Buddy are not likely to appreciate your suggestions with regard to raising their son. Perhaps your father could talk to his father.

DEAR ABBY: I married a man 14 years my senior. He used to be a sot and I have left him twice for that reason. The last time I left him he got mad and cashed in his Life Insurance and all his bonds. He sold all his property and turned everything into cash. He made a will leaving me one dollar! He doesn't know I am aware of his will, but I know it is true. If I mentioned it to him he would refuse to discuss it. I am 51 years old and am not trained to go to work. I have no other source of income. I am disgusted and have lost all respect for him. Have you

Pampa Coach Babe Curfman is one person who isn't taking the Palo Duro Dons lightly, despite the Dons' 1-6 season record. "They beat Plainview last week, 14-7," Babe points out, "and that's almost the same score by which the Sandies beat Plainview."

Curfman expects the Harvesters to face a tough ball game when they meet the Dons Friday in Amarillo. "No bad team could beat a squad as big as Plainview," Curfman says.

Babe is especially impressed by the Dons' speed and hustle. "I think they're a little faster than either Amarillo or Tasco," he says, "and they're hustling all the time—especially on defense."

Curfman isn't overly optimistic about the Dons' losing record because, as he points out, they've played some pretty good teams. "They'll have the home field advantage," Curfman declares, "and they'll be playing just a little bit harder to beat Pampa—just like we always play a little bit harder to try to beat the Amarillo teams. We can't afford to get over-confident."

If the Harvesters do beat Palo Duro, they could be on their way to their first winning season in several years.

Bucks, McLean Are At It Again

This is where we came in. White Deer and McLean are playing for the District 2-A title again this year, just like they did last season. Last year, both teams were expected to be strong, but this time, McLean's showing has been a surprise.

Few coaches or writers named McLean as a contender in the pre-season picks, but the Tigers are undefeated in district play—despite having one of the lightest, most inexperienced teams in the district.

Panhandle, picked as a contender, hasn't won a game yet, and Canadian was knocked out of the race last week by White Deer, after making a good early showing.

Now, only Clifford Bradshaw's Lightweight Tigers stand between the White Deer Bucks and their third Straight District 2-A championship.

Olsen Picks All The 'Big' Games

This area doesn't have a monopoly on championship games. The Texas-SMU game Saturday in Dallas could well decide the Southwest Conference crown. Texas is undefeated, with a 2-0 loop mark, and SMU tied Rice 13-13 in its only conference game.

Don Meredith of SMU is the conference's total offense leader, with 711 yards (674 of them passing). Texas' "touchdown towns," Jack Collins and Rene Ramirez, are fourth and sixth, respectively, in total offense, with 362 and 277 yards.

Texas will be favored, but winter's coming on, so don't bet the rent money on them.

Ticket applications for the Cotton Bowl will be accepted until Nov. 2. There is no limit on the number of tickets that can be ordered. Each ticket costs $5.50, and each application must be accompanied by a 25-cent mailing fee. Applications, accompanied by checks or money orders, should be sent to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, box 7185, Inwood Station, Dallas 9.

Mary Olsen, our Pick-it-Line partner in crime, has pulled a grand slam which neither Rick Pezdirtis nor I was ever able to accomplish. Olsen, in only his third week as a forecaster, picked every one of the Southwest and national games right.

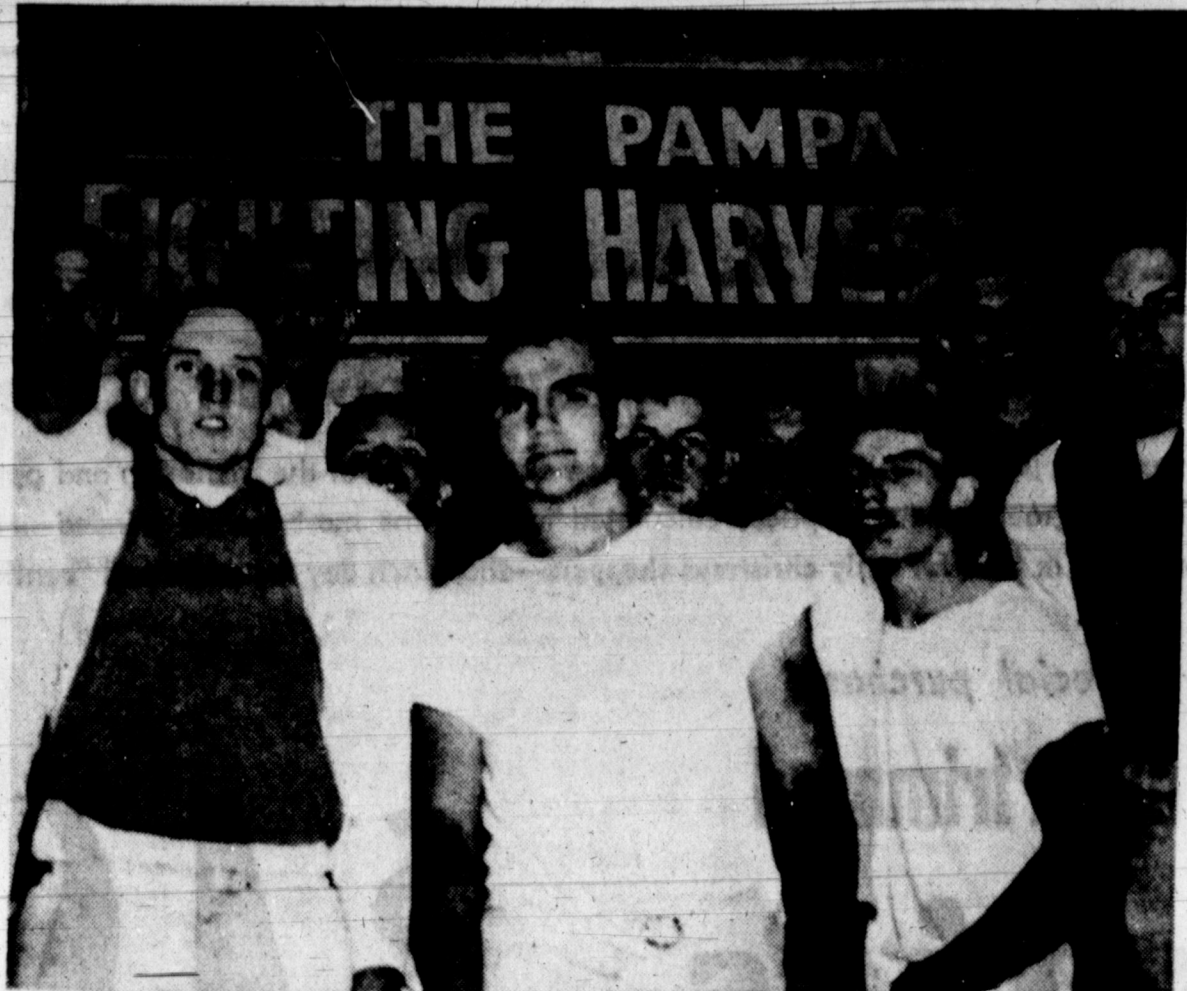

Mary missed only four in the district and area, giving him a whopping 25 right, four wrong, 862 percentage. I had 24 right, six wrong for 800.

Meredith, Spikes Lead SWC In Total Offense, Rushing

United Press International — Texas A&M who is SWC runner-up with 50 running and 424 passing yards for a total of 509.

Meredith is second to Meredith in passing yardage and also ranks No. 2 with his 23 completions out of 60 throws. Baylor's Ronnie Stanley dropped to the No. 3 slot because he didn't throw any last week to increase his 30 hits.

Spikes pulled 47 yards out of Pittsburgh ground defenses last week and parlayed his season total to 294 yards. That leads runner-up Jim Mooty of Arkansas who marked up 242. Texas' Jack Collins has 316.

But Collins still owns the best punting average—45.9 yards on 18 kicks. He is also the leading scorer with 42 points. Rice's Gordon Speer is next with a 42.1 average.

That's more than 200 yards in excess of Charlie Minstead of In the intercepted pass department.

Spikes and Mike Cotten of Texas have both snared four. But their 8 and 33 yard runbacks are only samples of the 122 yards SMU's Turey Wilmon has traveled in three returns after grabbing misdirected passes.

Marshall Harris of Texas Christian leads the field in the kickoff return business. He has averaged 19.2. That's three yards over Mooty's 16.2 average. Both have five runbacks each.

Rice's Bill Buck and Speer have averaged 11.2 and 9.8 yards respectively in punt runbacks.

Glynn Gregory of SMU holds the top pass reception mark—12. That's one more than Baylor's pair, Gerald Moore and Ronnie Bull.

The Mustangs replaced the Longhorns as total offense leader with a 297.4-yard-per-game average to 291.8 for Texas. The SMU group continues to lead in passing with a 160-yard average. Texas' 244.5-yard rushing average is still tops.

LION COACH CHARGED WITH GIVING 'INCENTIVE PAY'

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI) — The Detroit Lions may be in hot water with the rest of the National Football League because Coach George Wilson "gives" players $100 extra so that they can buy things for their families and friends.

"Why anyone would want to concoct such a story about incentive pay for winning is beyond me," Wilson went on. "We've got a good team and don't need $100 extra to make us win. If it would have to be at least $1,000 to make it worth their while."

Wilson said he gave the money to the players Monday following their 17-7 victory over the Rams. It was Detroit's first league victory in five starts.

The Detroit News carried a story last week saying that Wilson was holding back the customary gift of $100 apiece before last Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Rams.

As a result of Wilson's "mental lapse," Detroit may have to answer charges that they held the money back as an incentive to beat the Rams. Incentive payments are against NFL rules and Acting Commissioner Austin Guse is reportedly investigating the matter.

Wilson explained from the Lions' training camp here that the Detroit club officials customarily give each player $100 when they make the trip to the coast.

He said he was given the money in Detroit before the club left for Los Angeles last week and was directed to give the money to the players when the team arrived on the West Coast.

"When you're not winning, you don't think of everything," Wilson said.

"We've been doing this for the players ever since we started coming out here to the coast. It is just the goodness of the Detroit management that they give every player $100 extra so that they can buy things for their families and friends."

"Any kind of incentive pay is against league rules and we know it," Wilson said.

"The two key factors are financing and a place to play," Marion said. "We have been told that the present stadium in Houston would be acceptable on a temporary basis only, and that a new stadium would have to be assured before Houston could get a franchise."

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Louisiana State Tigers, who meet third-ranked Mississippi Saturday night in a clash of perfect-record football teams, today topped United Press International's major college ratings for the sixth straight week.

Northwestern, only unbeaten team in the Big Ten, remained second for the fifth straight week. Mississippi, which has scored 189 points while allowing only seven in sweeping six games, advanced from fifth to third. LSU will play host to Mississippi with a squad that has scored 103 points while allowing only six in winning six starts.

Many Teams Trying For AL Franchise

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you're thinking of applying for a franchise in the American League, you'd better get in line.

Every since league President Joe Cronin announced the formation of a fact-finding expansion committee last week, almost every minor league city with major league ambitions has requested consideration if and when the AL opens its doors to additional members.

First, a Minneapolis group approached the committee with hat in hand. This annoyed officials of the Continental League, and for Minneapolis is a founding member of baseball's new third major league.

Then Houston, another CL member, got into the act. Marty Marion, the old St. Louis Cardinals' shortstop and manager who is president of the Houston Buffs of the American Association, announced Monday night he was prepared to present "definite plans" to the American League committee for a franchise.

"We haven't heard from Anchorage, Alaska, or Tokyo yet," an American League spokesman declared facetiously, "but maybe their applications were lost in the mail."

The same league official ridiculed a report that Minneapolis and New York would be granted the next two franchises in the AL, with the New York group then switching to the National League in exchange for rights either in Pittsburgh or Philadelphia.

Geigel Finally Finishes Savich

Bob Geigel made it two out of three over Danny Savich Monday night at Top of Texas Sportsmen's Club to climax a series of ring battles which threatened to go on indefinitely.

Commissioner Doc Miller has no plans at present to bring back Savich and Geigel for the fifth straight week. However, Nick Roberts and Tony Morrell, along with a Russian grappler who will be appearing here for the first time, are tentatively slated next week.

Geigel's decision over Savich Monday night was a clear-cut one, in two straight falls. The previous matches had all been indecisive, since both were disqualified in the first match, Savich was disqualified in the second, and Savich won a questionable victory in the third. Savich lost the first fall Monday as a disqualification, after repeated warnings to cease using dirty tactics. In the second fall, Geigel used a body slam to pin his opponent, a 4-0 win for the fall, the match, and the series.

In the semi-final, Ripper Leone had some illegal help in beating a wrestler who isn't exactly an example of good sportsmanship, himself — Nick Roberts.

Each won one fall; then in the third and deciding fall, Leone's partner in crime, Tough Tony Morrell, entered the ring and hit Roberts. This set up Roberts for an easy pin by Leone.

Roberts may have a chance to strike back at Morrell for his illegal tactics next week, if the two are matched against each other.

In the opening match Monday, Morrell won a one-fall match over Tommy Phelps, after giving Phelps a sound beating throughout the event.

Ten-Pin Tales

BY MARVIN OLSEN

The powerful McCathern and King team, fresh from a four-game sweep over the Dunlaps a week ago, took four more Monday night from C and M Television in the Harvester Bowl Classic League.

As most bowlers are aware, the Classic is Pampa's first attempt at fielding an "all-star" league. On its eight teams are a good percentage of Pampa's best bowlers, and the scores week after week bear that out. Three 600's were turned in Monday with Keith Robinson's 643 showing the way. Howard Musgrave had a 622, and Larry McCathern topped 600, McCathern and King, incidentally won first place and $500 in the recent LaMea tournament. The team scratched 2909 — a 3146 with handicap. The scorers were Dale Haynes, 593; Larry McCathern, 551; Howard Musgrave, 595; Ray Stephenson, 551; and Jess Smart, 618.

More honors came Pampa's way over the past weekend when the Cabot-Franks women's team No. 2 finished third in the Western Open tournament at Amarillo. Local teams also garnered a trophy for entering the most teams from one city.

In the singles sweep at Amarillo Eileen Greer placed second with 877, and Dorothy Followell finished third with 874. Mary Pryor won the class D all-events with 1409.

At Garden Lanes

The Panhandle Lumber team, one of the finest at Gil Burgund's establishment, scratched 906 Wednesday night, the highest recorded this year at the Garden Lanes. The total was raised to 1124 with handicap. Carl Cox paced Panhandle with a 240 single.

In the junior league the week's best effort was Dwight Mackie's 180-508. Jo Burgund's 427 was high for the women. Fay Cook was second best with 421.

One of Garden's old pros, Ed Parker, turned in a 589 for men's honors, while Allen Duroy posted a fine 582. Duroy, by the way, knocked three 232's in three nights the past week.

Back At Harvester

Jack Kenner, our news source in the Wednesday Night League, reports that Don Rochelle rolled a triplicate 153 — the first triplicate of the year at Harvester. High team series was Sun Oil's 927, while Jim Clifton was high individual with a 581. Dale Watkins (132 ave.) rolled a big 502.

Red Watson, proprietor at Harvester, announces that Keith Robinson and Jean Patton won Harvester's Bowler of the Week awards. Robinson posted a 683, and Jean a 670, both with handicaps.

Watson also reports that the Traveling Queens league will be at Harvester Nov. 1 (Sunday) at 1 p.m.

Notable Scores

High games — Keith Robinson, 254; Clara Cox, 202; Bill Abernathy, 236; Al Duroy, 232; Larry McCathern, 223; Elaine Riddle, 182; Ed Parker, 212; Carl Cox, 240; Rennie Havens, 214; Quita Hurst, 214.

High Series — Keith Robinson, 623; Buck Riddle, 619; Howard Musgrave and George Gray, both 612; Peggy Kastein, 589; Larry McCathern, 597; Peggy Gowdy, 508.

The two men currently holding the highest averages in the city are Jessie Smart and Howard Musgrave, both at 192. Pacing the women is Elaine Riddle with 165.

10 Million Barrels-Per-Day Oil Production Seen For 1960

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — The Independent Petroleum Association of America estimated today that the total domestic and export petroleum demand in 1960 will total 10,040,000 barrels a day.

It is the first time in the American petroleum industry's history that demand for a full year is expected to exceed 10 million barrels a day, the IPAA's Supply and Demand Committee, which made the estimate, said.

The IPAA is holding its annual meeting in Dallas.

The committee expects the 1.60 domestic demand to average 9,802,000 barrels a day, 3.4 per cent above the 1959 demand. Exports for 1960 are expected to be 248,000 barrels a day, 2 per cent less than the 1959 export demand.

It assumed "for purposes of analysis" that total imports in 1960 will average 1,990,000 barrels a day.

"To whatever extent total imports deviate from this level, domestic production would be increased or decreased correspondingly," the committee said.

The committee explained that it cannot estimate what import levels will be for 1960 because the government has not set import levels for 1960.

It based its 1,600,000 barrel-a-day estimate upon the level set for the second half of 1959.

Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) established in a speech efforts to establish a "national fuels policy."

He said "most other (oil and gas) issues pale by comparison" with the proposed fuels policy advanced in the last session of Congress.

He referred to a resolution which would have created a joint congressional committee to establish such a federal policy.

Alger said the resolution was supported by the so-called "national Coal Policy Conference."

He said this is a "naked effort to impose end-use controls on energy fuels" and warned against "entrusting our destiny more and more to the bureaucrats and the politician."

On the issue of federal regulation of natural gas production, Alger said another effort must be made to "get together on a workable gas bill."

He said the mandatory oil imports control program is working out "about as well as any such program can."

He said there are mounting demands in Congress for a reduction in the depletion allowance and "there's going to be a fight."

Lowell Stanley of Beverly Hills Calif., a petroleum economist, said that "even critics" of the

Shirley Jones Saves Career, Turns From Sweetness To Sin

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Sweet-faced Shirley Jones' professional life was being saved this week by director Hurl Lancaster and director Richard Brooks.

Both men virtually are saving the blonde beauty from movie oblivion.

Up to now Shirley has been a bucolic milk-maid who pranced through four pictures in starring roles — singing a great deal and acting almost not at all.

As star of "Oklahoma!" "Carousel," "April Love" and "Never Steal Anything Small" Shirley was an ineffective innocent little cutie in typical Hollywood froth.

This week she became a sleazy harlot in her fifth film, "Elmer Gantry."

At Lancaster's insistence, the Jones girl ditched her type-cast mold for the role of a prostitute. And just in time. Movie offers had ceased coming her way, and it wouldn't have been long before Shirley was a forgotten little gal who "used to star in musicals."

The transformation is amazing. Shirley plays all but one of her scenes dressed only in a clinging slip which reveals more of the actress than if she were wearing a bikini.

"The first day I was embarrassed to walk out in front of the crew," Shirley admitted, blushing. "I wasn't wearing a thing under it. Nothing." But now I'm used to parading around in my costume, and they've allowed me to wear a sheer pair of panties underneath.

"If this role hadn't come along I'd probably not be doing any more pictures. I'm a very fortunate girl."
