

Stevens Resigns After Crime Probe

Effectiveness As Judge 'Destroyed'

AMARILLO (UPI) — Randall County Judge Roy Joe Stevens, the principal figure in a three-day hearing on time and vice by the Texas House General Investigating Committee, handed in his resignation late Saturday.

"I herewith tender my resignation as county judge of Randall County, Texas, effective April 1, 1960," his statement said. "Due to the unfavorable publicity directed at me, I believe my effectiveness as county judge has been destroyed."

Stevens was named by a panel of witnesses as being a partner in a plush gambling empire and accused of creating the life of a handyman if he testified at the hearing of planning a prostitution which would cater to airmen nearby Amarillo Air Force base and plotting a revenge bombing.

A teenage girl capped off the hearing with testimony that she had seen several pictures in the office of the Amarillo law office. A 21-year-old woman told of intimacies with the judge.

The House committee, headed by Rep. H. L. (Doc) Blanchard Lubbock, held the investigation to determine how organized crime could flourish in Amarillo in defiance of Texas laws.

The committee turned in a preliminary report at the conclusion of the hearing Friday that Judge Stevens was guilty of misconduct and of unethical practice and that he associated with known criminals.

The report also branded Amarillo as a city where gambling went unchecked for 10 years and named Lester Davis as the spin gambler.

The hearings had the Panhandle on its ear. Two television stations carried the hearings, by play, and business practically came to a standstill while hearings were in progress.

Saturday Randall County District Judge A. W. Lair said his office was working on the possibility of suing Stevens out of office by means of a civil suit.

However, the judge's resignation precluded any such action. This resignation is not to be construed as an admission of guilt of any of the allegations, charges and insinuations that have been made against me," Stevens said in his letter of resignation handed to County Commissioner C. T. Johnson.

It is felt however, it is in the interests of the citizens of the county that under present conditions (See ST1 EN5, Page 3)

AMARILLO (UPI) — Business went on as if nothing had happened in the days of crime hearings televised live in Amarillo last week.

It looked like World Series the way people were glued to their television sets. Bob Watson, manager of Station KGNC-TV, said, "I have televised all of the rings-on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—and Station DA-TV televised most of the rings on the last two days."

TV sets for rent were quickly snapped up. Downtown Amarillo streets were virtually deserted, and stores did little business.

ACCUSED JUDGE — William Gerald Miller, right, accused of murdering his wife, told the Texas House Investigations Committee in Amarillo last week that Randall County Judge Roy Joe Stevens, left, threatened to have him killed if he testified before the committee. The judge in turn accused the committee of trying to assassinate his character.

Macmillan Terms Visit Imperative

WASHINGTON (UPI) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived here late Saturday for nuclear test ban talks with President Eisenhower which the Briton said "may, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

Macmillan landed at 5:45 p.m. EST in a sleek Royal Air Force jet transport plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. He and Eisenhower will begin their talks Monday at Camp David, Md.

'Sugar Talk' For Castro

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's sugar workers Saturday called a mass meeting in Havana Sunday to pledge support to Premier Fidel Castro "in the face of the aggression the American imperialists and their consorts are preparing against us."

Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos and Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez were expected to attend the televised meeting which could turn into another mammoth anti-American rally. Castro was expected to speak.

The island has about 50,000 members of the National Sugar Workers Federation. There was no indication how many would attend. The group took full page ads in the semi-official newspaper Revolution Saturday accepting wage freezes to fight "American aggression."

In other developments: —The government intervened television Channel 4 Saturday, bringing four of Havana's six channels under government control. Only station CMQ's Channel 6 and affiliate Channel 7 remained free and they were under attack for using anti-Communist commentators like Luis Contador Aguero, Channel 4 Manager Alberto Hernandez Cata resigned when the intervenor entered the studio.

Non-Whites In A Victory

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) — South Africa's native Negro population won a massive victory Saturday when the government suspended a 151-year-old law requiring them to carry passbooks at all times and in all places.

Native resentment at the law—which applied only to blacks—touched off widespread massive resistance and violence last Monday when police opened fire on a peaceful native demonstration and killed at least 80.

The Allied Big Two will hammer out final details of such a program in the seclusion of Camp David.

The White House mountain retreat was the site of the Macmillan-Eisenhower talks which opened the way to the Summit Conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris this coming May 16.

Youth Center Board Gives Go-Ahead For Construction

By JIM T. LACY
Daily News Managing Editor

The Pampa Youth and Community Center came several steps closer to reality late last week when Moore & Hollar, architects and engineers, submitted and received approval of preliminary plans for the community project.

Estimate of the cost of the youth center, including land, plant and equipment, will be in the neighborhood of $150,000 for the first stage. Additions to the present plan have been anticipated and are now in the discussion, stage.

The center itself will be situated on a 10-acre plot of ground bounded by Wells St. on the west, Highland Baptist Church on the east, Harvester Ave. on the north and Kentucky Ave. on the south. The land was donated in the early 1950's by Mrs. Inez Carter, a mainstay in the development of the center since the idea was originated in 1939. Mrs. Carter in the interim has made several cash donations, the most recent in excess of $20,000 toward the furtherance of this project.

The architects plan to announce an invitation to bid date early in June. The board of directors of the youth center hopes to award contracts sometime in July and finish the project within six to nine months.

In announcing completion of floor plans, the architects pointed out that working drawings and specifications will be prepared between now and bid time.

The youth center structure, pictured elsewhere on this page, will be 100 by 100 feet, with a basement area of approximately 44 by 100 feet. The superstructure will be pre-fabricated rigid frame steel, with concrete block exterior and interior walls.

Included under roof will be a recreation room 44 by 53 feet, public rest rooms, manager's office, snack bar and game room, 30 by 44 feet. The building will face northwest.

To the southeast will be an enclosed swimming pool area, 56 by 100 feet, with a ceiling height of from 20 to 24 feet. The pool is regulation size for competitive indoor meets recognized by the AAU, 20 by 75 feet.

The structure will be tri-level. (See YOUTH, Page 3)

Architects will advertise for bids sometime in June and the board will award contracts in July. Cost of the 100 by 100 foot structure, above, will be approximately $150,000.

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION — Construction of the Pampa Youth and Community Center is scheduled to begin this fall, according to the board of directors. Architects will advertise for bids sometime in June and the board will award contracts in July. Cost of the 100 by 100 foot structure, above, will be approximately $150,000.

Dixie Chief Pledges War On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, field general of the Senate's embattled Southern bloc, said Saturday his forces will "fight to our last breath" against the House-approved civil rights bill which the Senate considers next week.

The Georgia Democrat said in an interview that "we don't like any part of this bill" but that his Dixie forces will concentrate their main fire on the Administration's federal voting referee plan and a section providing federal penalties for obstructing court-ordered school desegregation rulings.

He told United Press International that the latter is a "cheap manifestation of political motivation" and "class and sectional legislation of the worst sort." It is, he said, "the cheapest sort of politics."

The voting referee section, Russell said, is not constitutional and I don't believe even the Supreme Court could declare it constitutional because it denies duly constituted election officials the right to discharge the authority of their officials by setting up a "privilege class of voters."

Despite the Southerners' determined opposition, there were growing signs that the House and Senate will get together on a measure closely following the five-point House bill.

Lines had already begun to form Saturday at the tax office, and Back expects them to get longer as the deadline draws near.

Care For Aged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three Republican senators Saturday ignored President Eisenhower's opposition and announced they were drafting a plan to provide medical care for the aged.

The plan was advanced by Sens. John Sherman Cooper (Ky.), Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) and Hugh Scott (Pa.) who urged the President to support it.

Negroes 'Sit' In Marshall

MARSHALL (UPI) — A group of 13 Negroes staged two sitdown demonstrations at lunch counters here Saturday but Sheriff Earl Franklin said both were short-lived.

It was the first time that sitdown demonstrations had been staged so far east in Texas.

Franklin said identification cards showed that two of the sitdown demonstrators were from out of state. One was from East St. Louis, Ill., and the other was from Orlando, Fla.

But all were students at Bishop and Wiley colleges, Negro institutions in Marshall, the sheriff said.

The sitdown demonstrators first showed up at the F. W. Woolworth store.

Midwest Dems Chance A Split With The South

DETROIT (UPI) — Midwest Democrats dished up a strong civil rights platform proposal Saturday and in effect told Southerners in the party to take it or leave it.

Michigan National Committeeman Thomas H. E. Quimby said the proposal would be submitted to the National convention in July "come Hell or high water."

"This does not lend itself to compromise," Quimby said after the platform committee of the 14-state Democratic Conference advanced a broad program covering voting, education, housing and employment.

"You can't have half a civil right," Quimby said.

The program endorsed the lunch counter sitdowns by Southern Negroes and backed legal moves to enforce civil rights.

This put the Midwesters at odds with former President Harry S. Truman who only this week repeated to Negro leaders here his statement that if anyone came into a store owned by him and interfered with business he would throw them out.

Many proposals that almost caused a walkout of Southern Democrats in the 1956 convention were included in the policy statement of the Midwesters, which was expected to be approved without change by the entire conference Sunday.

"This is a tough statement but it seems to me we have no choice," said Mrs. Geri Joseph, (See MIDWEST, Page 3)

Khrushchev Stumbles During Visit To Bordeaux Saturday

PAU, France (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev's hand-shaking trip around France got off to a bad start Saturday at Bordeaux when 1,000 outbursted cheers, and students chanted "Budapest! Budapest!"

It was the first organized hostility Khrushchev has encountered since he arrived in Paris Wednesday to begin an 11-day official visit.

He and Mrs. Khrushchev left Paris Saturday for a 5 1/2-day tour of the provinces before returning to Paris and more talks with Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

During his three days in Paris Khrushchev spoke frequently and forcibly of the growing threat of West German "militarism" and of the need for close Franco-Soviet ties to replace the close alliance between de Gaulle and Chancellor Khrushchev got in another lick at the Germans Saturday but he also met more ordinary Frenchmen, women and children than during his stay in Paris.

White Child Taken By Negro Couple

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Negro man and wife were arrested here Saturday by the FBI in company with a five-year-old white girl who was taken from her Deal, N. J., home Friday night.

Deal Police Capt. Dominic Torchia said charges of kidnaping and grand larceny would be filed against Elmer Gene Pollard, 32, and his wife, Lola.

The missing girl, Darcy Green, was described by an FBI spokesman as "calm, cool and collected" after her all-night adventure. Safe and unharmed, she remained at FBI field office headquarters here while waiting for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Green.

The Pollards and Darcy were found by FBI agents at the home of a relative of the Negro couple. Both lived at the Green home. Mrs. Pollard had been a servant there for less than two months. Her husband was a porter at a nearby country club.

Radar Catches Fast Drivers

Fifty-two warnings and 16 tickets have been issued in three days of radar operation last week.

Captain Denny Roan said 23 warnings and five tickets were issued Wednesday, the first day of operation of the radar unit, 18 warnings and nine tickets were issued Friday, and 11 warnings and two tickets were given Saturday.

The unit operated on W. Alcock Wednesday, Alcock, Hobart, E. Francis and W. Brown Friday, and in the 1800 block N. Hoabrt Saturday.

Weather A Spur To Building Business Face Growing

Many new buildings are nearing completion in Pampa.

The Standard Service station at 119 E. Brown, being constructed at a cost of approximately $25,000, is 75 per cent complete, with daily landscaping, pump and equipment installation left to be completed. The building is 50 x 27 feet, with a 50 x 21 foot canopy over gas pumps.

Another station is under construction on N. Hobart, south of the Coronado Inn. However progress on this one has barely begun, and little more than walls and roof are up.

The building slated to house Ideal Food Store No. 2, at the intersection of Brown and Gillespie Sts., is well under way. The 15,000 square foot structure was begun the latter part of October. No completion date has been set.

Safeway's first store in Pampa, under construction at Duncan St. and Georgia Ave., is proceeding according to schedule with an opening date set for next month. Exact date has not been announced.

When completed, the new Safeway store will have 15,125 feet of floor space, parking for 196 cars, a 3 x 3 full air conditioning.

Probably the most elaborate construction project since the building of the Coronado Inn is the new Capri Theater on North Cuyler St. According to the Dodge Reports, remodeling of the building alone will run more than $150,000, with another $150,000 expected to be used for equipment.

One unusual aspect in the remodeling is the use of pre-cast concrete. (See GROWING, Page 8)

Paint-Making Advanced By Oil Industry

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—The ancient art of paint-making has been brought up to date the past few years by rapid scientific advances in the oil and chemical industries.

The stuff that brightens up this drab old world with every color of the rainbow has actually been used by mankind for at least 25,000 years — and perhaps as long as 100,000 years.

Yet paint technology has advanced further during the last 40 years than in all the previous years of painting. Much of this progress has been made possible by the petroleum and chemical industries.

Today, paint is one of the most widely-used creations of man. Shell Oil Co. is in with a progress report in the current issue of its Employee Magazine which describes something of the role of the oilman in the pigment game.

Man first used paint for decoration only. Archeologists have found specimens of prehistoric paint in cave drawings and etchings on crude rock utensils in Southern Europe.

Their studies have identified the art work as that of Cro-Magnon man, who lived between 25,000 and 55,000 years ago. Cro-Magnon paint was made of simple earth pigments such as mineral oxides, pounded fine and mixed with animal fat.

It wasn't until the 20th century that paint-makers turned to chemistry. By the early 1920's a scientific investigation had revolutionized the paint industry.

The reign of turpentine as the paint industry's most important solvent ended during the 1920's. It was largely replaced by hydrocarbon solvents, produced in the manufacture of gasoline.

Hydrocarbon solvents are used primarily to make the ingredients in a paint easy to apply to a surface. Paints designed for application by brush have slow-evaporating solvents — to make brush marks disappear; spray paints have quick-evaporating solvents to prevent running.

The oil industry has been able to produce paints without the familiar "fresh paint odor" and these have become popular for household use. Other special types of paints developed by oil and chemical men include rustproofing, metal adhering, protective lacquers and even speckled paint.

Progress in a paint pot has been the continuing story of the paint industry, with many chapters by the oil industry.

GI Loan Extension Bill by Yarborough
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, (D-Tex.), Thursday introduced a bill to extend the G.I. home loan guaranty bill for World War II veterans to Jan. 31, 1965.

The present law will expire July 25 this year.

Yarborough said he was submitting the bill because there were still nine million veterans who have not used their entitlement to buy a house. He said another reason was the impact the extension would have on the home building industry.

modeling of the building, was raising the roof of the old building more than 10 feet. This was accomplished by the use of a series of pulleys set at intervals at top steel beams surrounding the building. The roof was then hooked onto the pulleys and raised a few inches at a time.

When completed, the Capri will have seating space for approximately 1,000 persons, a 24 by 40 foot screen, a snack bar, lounge, rest rooms, two offices, an art room and two storage rooms.

Seats are the leather upholstered, lean-back type, that can be pushed back to allow other persons to move down the aisle freely.

Construction began on the Capri August 10, and completion date is expected to be about the second week in May.

the pool being some eight feet lower than the recreation level, and the dressing rooms being three feet lower than the pool area and directly under the recreation portion of the building.

The dressing room area will be equally divided — facilities for girls on the west and boys on the east end. Each section will have adequate showers and locker facilities. The central portion of the area will be used as a gymnasium area.

Plans have been made for handball courts in future expansion.

One tennis court, to the east of the main building, will be constructed. Two more tennis courts are to be added as funds become available.

There will be a paved parking area, at the north entrance for approximately 90 automobiles.

The entrance treatment is designed functionally to permit it to be utilized in future expansion. A court type area will be constructed at the entrance and will be conducive to outdoor relaxation, with permanent seats at the perimeter of the L-shaped screen wall.

One side of the entrance walk will be treated with solar tile.

McIlhany served as chairman of the House Livestock Committee during the 56th session of the Legislature last year when seven animal bills were passed. He was author of the area brucellosis control, vesicular exanthema eradication and auction market inspection laws.

Bob Lilly, Texas Farm Bureau legislative director, said, "Through his leadership and hard work, many of our most recent beneficial agricultural laws have been passed. Flying Public Alarmed At Jet Failures

EDITOR'S NOTE: Air lines flying the Lockheed Electra admit that some passengers have cancelled reservations to Electra flights because of the publicity given the plane after the Tell City, Ind., crash March 17, that cost 63 lives. The following dispatch answers questions being asked about the plane.

By ROBERT J. SERLING United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Is the turbo-prop Electra a well-tested, safe airliner? Read on and answer that question yourself.

Q. News stories point to clear weather turbulence as causing not only the Tell City crash but one in Texas last September. Does this mean the Electra has a structural weakness?

A. The Electra met or exceeded every Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) requirement for structural skin and wing spars are almost strength. The thickness of its skin and wing spars are almost as great as the pure jetliners which travel at even faster speeds.

Q. Then how could turbulence wreck such a powerful plane?

A. Clear weather turbulence is a relatively new problem to commercial aviation. There is no previous case on record of an airliner being destroyed by such turbulence, although some experts think it could have explained some unsolved crashes. Its possible significance in the case of the Electra is that the plane is the first turbo-prop capable of cruising easily at speeds of more than 400 miles per hour. Encountering severe or extreme turbulence at such speeds may be a problem the engineers had not reckoned with fully, although the Electra is one of the most powerfully-built airliners ever designed. It also should be remembered that at this point, turbulence is only a suspect. Sabotage still is a possibility.

Q. If turbulence theoretically could endanger 400 m.p.h. turboprops, how about the pure jets that cruise at least 500 mph?

A. The jetliners like the Boeing 707 and DC-8 have swept-back wings specifically designed to absorb high-speed turbulence.

Q. Then why didn't Lockheed put swept-back wings on the Electra?

A. Because the swept-back wing has its disadvantages, too. The pure jets, because of their wing design, need longer distances for takeoffs and landings. The Electra's straight wings enable it to operate at almost every civil airport in the country, including many that jets cannot serve because of short runways.

Q. Did the Federal Aviation Administration order imposing speed restrictions on all Electras make them safer?

A. If clear weather turbulence was the cause, the FAA order appears to be pretty good insurance. What the restrictions do, in effect, is reduce the Electra's maximum cruise speed to that of the fastest piston-engine airliner, the DC-7—and as already pointed out (1) piston-engine planes have never been bothered by such turbulence and (2) the Electra is just as strong if not stronger than older planes.

Tennessee Prison Hostages Not Mistreated in Ordeal

EDITOR'S NOTE: The 18 hostages held for 25 hours by two convicts in the Tennessee state prison all were impressed by the courteous treatment given them. Here are the reactions of four of the hostages.

Lenten Devotion

By The Rt. Msgr. FRANCIS J. LALLY, Editor, The Pilot, Official Organ Of The Boston Catholic Archdiocese Written For UPI

As we move toward Easter Sunday, the spirit of rejoicing seems about to burst upon us with the news of the risen Christ. We should recall, however, that Easter Sunday is only one day in three. There is first the day of the cross — the day of suffering. Then, the day of the tomb — the day of darkness. And finally the day of the Resurrection — the day of light.

The final day is meaningless unless we appreciate the significance of the two that preceded it. Before He conquered darkness and death, Christ was in a sense their victim. In the fact of His redemption, by His sufferings on the cross and His death, He gave new meaning to all suffering and put an end to the terrors of dying. By His burial in the tomb He gave himself up to death and darkness so that in breaking the bonds of the tomb, He opened up a new world of light and life.

Ever since the Resurrection the world has been charged with a new meaning. Easter was the end of a struggle in which Christ conquered sin, suffering and death itself. All men now could find, through the mystery of the road that leads to eternal life. Redemption, the God-designed road that leads to eternal life. The true joy that comes with Easter does not fear to look back upon the cross of Calvary and the darkness of the tomb, because the anguish of the hours spent up in a Divine and eternal victory.

'They Hold Hands With Every Criminal In Town'

Police ID Bureau Up-To-Date

By CHARLIE CROSS
Daily News Staff Writer

More than 7,000 suspects have been fingerprinted by the Pampa Police Department since the inception of the identification bureau about 20 years ago.

Chief of Police Jim Conner said 4,832 of these were processed since he began his career in the department in 1944, in charge of the bureau.

Patrolman Bob Crouch "handles most of the actual fingerprinting, mugging and filing since it falls on his shift and he's doing a real good job," Conner commented.

"However, the printing, and so forth, is just the first step in the process of identification."

When a person is arrested, man or woman, the fingerprinting index system is checked to ascertain whether the suspect previously has been "printed" in Pampa. If there is no card for that particular person, he is then fingerprinted, a picture taken, and three cards with assigned numbers are prepared. One card is retained in police department files, one is sent to the Department of Public Safety in Austin, and one to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington. Accompanying the fingerprint card is an identification sheet, containing a complete description of the person, addresses of relatives, sex, number, last place of employment, whom to notify in case of death or other emergency and other information.

If Washington or Austin has a record of the person arrested, they send a rap sheet to Pampa, showing where the suspect was fingerprinted, names and aliases used, the suspect's number, date, charge and disposition of the case. If the person is wanted in another city, they also send a "hold" along with the rap sheet.

Conner said, "These holds sometimes cause us to really get in high gear, because if Washington or Austin sends one back and we've already released the suspect, we have to get out and look for him."

He said if the department has reason to believe a man is wanted in some other town, the information is telegraphed to the agencies, and a telegraph is returned informing the Pampa department as to whether the suspect is wanted or not.

When asked if anyone ever gets arrested without being fingerprinted, Conner said, "Not very many."

"Sometimes in the case of a local man, where the offense is insignificant, we might let him get by and sometimes when Bob Crouch, the regular fingerprint man is off duty, we might not, but every felony suspect is processed."

Conner said, "The identification job is not particularly glamorous or dangerous, but it does have its moments. For instance, if you have a drunk in jail, and he's not quite sober when you take him out of the cell to process him, he may want to give you some trouble. However, as a general rule there will be other officers around to lend assistance if needed."

The chief stated, "To my knowledge, no one has ever escaped from the city jail while being fingerprinted."

As the chief very aptly put it, "We hold hands with every criminal in town."

Stanford Cowboy Reunion Scheduled

The 31st annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford will be held July 1, 2 and 4, according to Gene Swenson, new president, who replaces his father, W. G. Swenson, who served in that capacity 30 years.

The reunion has never met on Sunday in its 30-year history, hence the open date July 3.

Last year's reunion included more than 340 actual working cowboy contestants. This year it claims the largest number of working cowboy contestants of any rodeo meet in the world. Professional riders are barred and only cowboys from the ranges take part.

"PRINTED" — Chief of Police Jim Conner fingerprints "suspect Jake Smith," who is in the department's traffic records division. When real suspects or criminals are arrested, they are processed by being fingerprinted and photographed, or "mugged," and the information is sent to the F.B.I. in Washington, and the Department of Public Safety in Austin for checking.

U.S. Performs Good Job On Inflation Check

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is doing a better job of checking inflation than most other free nations, a Labor Department official said Saturday.

Robert J. Myers, Deputy Commissioner of Labor Statistics, said consumer prices in this country have increased 9 per cent from 1953 through 1959. But comparable statistics show a rise of 28 per cent for France, 30 per cent for the United Kingdom, 12 per cent for Italy, 11 per cent for Germany and 9 per cent for Japan, Myers said.

In a related announcement, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the average weekly earnings of U.S. factory workers have increased by 12 per cent since mid-1953 after allowing for federal taxes and higher prices.

Mitchell said the U.S. economy has shown "phenomenal growth" in the past six years to surpass the fast-rising increase in population.

Total personal income after taxes showed a 21 per cent gain in this period, Mitchell told Congress in his annual report.

Myers said the government's index of living costs—now at an all time high—has been held in check by relatively low food prices in recent months.

The index for February was 125.6. In bargain basement language, this means it takes $12.56 to buy the same item that cost $10 about a decade ago.

Much of the increase in American consumer prices took place during the Korean War when shortages caused by defense production forced up prices. Similarly, inflationary trends in France were linked to that nation's Algerian crisis.

Myers said there are no statistics available to compare U.S. consumer price changes with those of the Soviet Union.

"The dictatorship in the Soviet Union has spread the gains on productivity through lower prices rather than increasing wages," he said. This form of price-cutting, he added, can be done only in countries with a state-controlled economy.

Government experts believe consumer prices here will rise about 1.5 to 2 per cent in 1960. This will be about the same as the increase last year.

Berlin Problem Not A Basic Issue

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the approach of the East-West summit meeting, now less than two months away, the question of Berlin again comes into the spotlight. In the following interview with a UPI vice president, the mayor of West Berlin says the dispute over his city can be solved only in the context of other cold war problems.

By LEROY KELLER
United Press International
BERLIN (UPI) — Mayor Willy Brandt said today that Berlin actually is a "minor" world problem and useless as a key for solving the basic issues which divide East and West.

He stressed that the "Berlin issue" cannot be solved by itself. The East-West dispute over Western Allied occupation rights in the city is not the cause of the cold war, only a symptom of it, he declared.

"There can be no separate solution for Berlin because this problem is a result of the split of Europe and of Germany," Brandt said.

In an exclusive United Press International interview in his well-appointed but business-like office in the huge old Schoenberg rathaus, Mayor Brandt stressed this point.

"If the free powers could solve the more important problems then the proper atmosphere would exist for the solution of the minor problems as Berlin," he declared.

Brandt smiled when he asked if he really thought Berlin is a minor problem.

"Berlin is the most important thing in the world to me, but in the whole context of world problems, Berlin is a minor problem, listed as major problems disarmament, East-West trade, and aid to underdeveloped nations.

The mayor was asked if thought these larger issues could be solved.

The Children's Bookshelf

The following books have recently been added to the Children's Department of the Lovett Memorial Library:

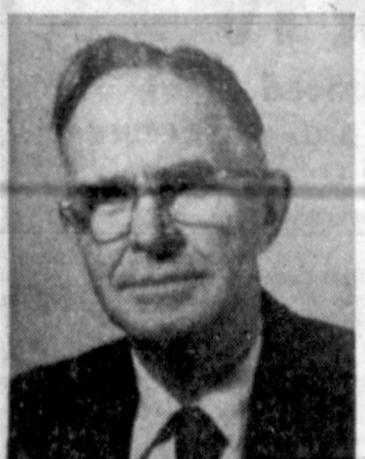

"Research Ideas for Young Scientists" by George Barr is a book chock full of ideas for boys and girls who want to explore unusual science projects. Answers can be found to questions concerned with gasoline mileage of your family car, the light of fireflies, the speed of ants, the distance sound can be carried in the ground, etc. It is fun to discover all the science in our surroundings and to experiment in the fields of electricity, safety, etc., and the book will provide transportation, sound, weather, etc., and the book will provide many ideas for presentations in science fairs, science clubs, and other science projects.

"Tent Under the Spider Tree" by Gene Inyart is a lively story of a summertime adventure of three girls—Mary, Jane, and Lou, away from home and camping by themselves for the first time. A treacherous spider, war with a neighbor boy, and a night raid make this an exciting story with an ending that will surprise the reader as much as it did the three girls.

"The Rachel Field Story Book" presents three stories—"Polly Patchwork," "Pocket," "Handkerchief Park," and "The Yellow Shop," each showing all the elements of Rachel Field's special magic and warm everydayness that have made her children's books modern classics.

"The First Book of the Earth," by O. Irene Severy is a beginner's book about the earth—how it was formed and its relationship to the sun, moon, and stars. Mildred Waltrip's two-colored drawings show how the earth is formed, how mountains and volcanoes are made, what rivers and glaciers do to the face of the earth, and what fossils tell us.

"The Cabin at Medicine Springs" by Laila Crawford Pitchett is an excellent story of pioneer life in Colorado in 1879. The author has painted a lively warm-hearted picture of her own ancestors, who founded the town of Steamboat Springs despite Indian uprisings culminating in the Meeker Rebellion of 1879.

45 Boys Out For Lee Track Team

Lester Ramsey, like the old woman who lived in the shoe, had so many boys he didn't know what to do.

Ramsey is the Robert E. Lee Junior High track coach. When track workouts began a couple of weeks ago, more than 70 boys came out to try for a spot on the Rebel eighth and ninth grade teams.

Reluctantly, Ramsey decided that he had to cut the squad. "I didn't want to do it," he said, "but with that many boys out, we couldn't do any really worthwhile work with any of them."

Despite the cuts made last week, though, the Rebel eighth and ninth grade track squad still numbers a hefty 45.

The Rebel squad has had 10 days of outside workouts, and Ramsey has some idea now of which boys will enter which events.

The probable Rebel sprinters (100 and 220 yard dashes) are Ralph Palmer, Dickie Hatley, Arnold Phillips, Howard Reed, Wilbur Walls, Travis Tucker, Jerry Vance, Dale Mercer, Joe Gallett, Jim Lollar, Jerry Glover and Don Sears.

One 440-yard relay team will probably consist of Palmer, Sears, Gallett and Phillips, and another will include Tucker, Mercer, Glover and Hatley...

Among the better winning times and distances were 19.6 in the low hurdles, J. B. Doyle of Midland; 14.7 in the low hurdles, Doyle; 12 feet in the pole vault, Bob Penn, Midland; 52 feet, 3 1/2 inches in the shot put, Robert Hodges of Tascosa; and 21 feet, 10 inches in the broad jump, Marshall McCrummen of Monterey.

Exhibition Baseball Games

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics nullified the Washington Senators' heavy gains in a 7-5 victory Saturday.

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Frank Bolling pounded out four hits, boosting his spring average to .558, Saturday as the Detroit Tigers beat the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, before a turnout of 1,290 fans.

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Al Schroll and Dick Drott teamed to pitch a five-hitter Saturday to give the Chicago Cubs a 2-0 exhibition triumph over the San Francisco Giants.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Veteran shortstop George Strickland drove in the winning run in the last of the ninth Saturday as the Indians defeated the Red Sox 2-2.

DUMAS (SpI)—The Pampa Harvester baseball team blasted away in three big innings to beat the Dumas Demons here Saturday, 12-7.

Dumas went ahead 3-0 with a three-run second inning, but the Harvesters came back with six runs in the third, three in the fourth and three in the fifth.

The win boosted Pampa's season record to 3-1. Dumas' baseball squad has now completed its non-district competition. The Harvesters open district play at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Amarillo, against the Amarillo Sandies.

Dumas opened the scoring in Saturday's game when they got three runs off left-hander Kippy Williams, on two hits and two walks.

Pampa came roaring back in the third with its six-run barrage. With Ruben Strickland and Williams on base, Bobby Stephens tripled deep to left-center, scoring both runners, and came in home on an error by the shortstop, Larry Stroud and Jimmy Hill both walked, and advanced on a dropped infield fly.

Terry Haralson then doubled to left-center, scoring both runners. Haralson scored the final run of the inning on a single to left by Roy Don Stephens.

In the fourth-inning the Harvesters scored three runs on doubles by Strickland, Stroud, a walk, an error, and a fielder's choice. Williams hit the first homer of his high school career for the Harvesters to lead off the fifth inning. The blast, over the left field fence, made it a perfect day for Williams, who also became the first Harvester pitcher of the year to go the full seven innings.

Strickland then doubled and scored on two wild pitches; and the final Pampa run was forced in on a single and three walks.

Dumas scored single runs in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings. The sixth-inning score was on a long home run over the left field fence, by right fielder Dick Rector.

Barber Leads DeSoto Open

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Jerry Barber, playing the best golf of his life at 45, took a two stroke lead over the field Saturday after three rounds of the $40,000 DeSoto Open.

Barber stroked a two under par 69 for a 69-68-69-206. He bogied just one hole, the second, after becoming ruffled at a news photographer.

Sam Snead, Boca Raton, Fla., shot the best round of the day, a four under par 67, but missed a chance to tie for the lead when he muffed two short putts on the Morgan 2 1 0 1 2 par-four 15th and par-three 17th, making bogeys on both.

Hawks Cop West Division Of NBA

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The St. Louis Hawks qualified for the final round in the National Basketball Association championship playoff by winning the seventh and deciding game of the Western Division semi-finals with a 97-86 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

The first game of the best-of-seven finals between the Hawks and the Celtics, the Eastern Division titlist, will be played in Boston Sunday afternoon. The second will be played Tuesday in Boston, with the teams returning here for the games four and five next Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday's game was played before a national television audience and 6,195 fans in the Washington University fieldhouse where the Hawks had not previously played this year.

Bob Pettit sparked the winning offensive with 28 points, but it was a balanced attack which enabled the Hawks to eliminate the Lakers. Particularly outstanding were guards St. Green and Johnny McCarthy who ball-hawked for St. Louis and fed the big men easy baskets.

Green finished with 16 points and also had 13 assists. Elgin Baylor was the big gun for the Lakers with 33 points. Clyde Lovellette made a hook shot with 2:14 before the half to give the Hawks their biggest lead, a 17-point cushion at 47-30. St. Louis was on top at halftime, 51-38.

In the third period, the Hawks ballooned their edge to 20 points, 65-45. The Lakers then rallied, narrowing the gap to 12 points twice and to nine points on Jim Krebs' goal 51 seconds before the period ended.

Lovellette's basket on a floor-length pass from Green put the Hawks in front 73-64 going into the final period. Baskets by Cliff Hagan, Larry Foust and Pettit in the opening moments of the fourth period put the Hawks 17 points up again, 81-64. Minneapolis never got closer than 10 points the rest of the way as St. Louis gained revenge for the upset they suffered at Lakag hands in last year's western playoffs.

Long Breaks Shot Record

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Bury Dallas Long, Southern California sophomore, broke the accepted world record for the shot put Saturday with a toss of 64 feet, 6 1/2 inches—longest on record for the event.

Long made his record toss in a relay meet between Southern California and the University of California at Berkeley. To turn the trick, he beat Dave Davis, despite the latter's awesome throw of 63 feet 10 1/2 inches, also well beyond the accepted world record.

There had been some doubt about the shot put area having a downward slope that would invalidate the long throw. But it was surveyed by a civil engineer and declared well within the limits set by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

The recognized world record is 63 feet, 2 inches, held by Parry O'Brien. O'Brien did not compete Saturday.

Long's mark will be forwarded to the AAU and the International Amateur Athletic Organization for world approval. Other marks pending include one of 63 feet, 10 inches by Bill Nieder, former Kansas star, set last week, and Long's throw of 63 feet, 7 inches a few weeks ago.

Tech Coach Will Speak At Banquet

... basketball banquet speaker

Polk Robinson, the featured speaker at the March 31 Harvester-Shocker basketball banquet at the Coronado Inn, has an enviable record for a member of the coaching profession — he's held the same job for 16 straight years.

In a field where one usually wins, or else, Robinson has pleased Texas Tech basketball fans to such an extent that he's been head coach there continuously since 1944. He went there as an assistant in 1941.

In many ways, the past season was one of the best Tech has had since Robinson took over as Raider coach. Although the Lubbock college didn't win the Southwest Conference title, it was the "spoiler" of the race.

The Red Raiders knocked both Texas A&M and SMU out of the conference race by beating those two teams in the late stages of the season.

Robinson has had many other seasons which were as good or better. Tech won the Border Conference title in 1954, was co-champion in 1955, and won the crown again in 1956. In 1954 Tech was the highest scoring basketball team west of the Mississippi.

In 1954 a long-time dream of Tech fans was realized when that school was admitted to the Southwest Conference. Basketball competition began immediately, in the spacious Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Before that time Robinson's teams, because of the small seating capacity in the old Tech Gym, played most of its games on the road. Despite that handicap, though, Robinson coached teams that have compiled a record over the years of 213 wins and only 152 defeats.

The Red Raider teams have been recruited mostly from "home-grown" talent in the Panhandle and South Plains. Robinson's teams have always been open to unheralded students who want to try out during the season.

(This policy has paid big dividends. For instance, this year's Southwest Conference scoring leader, Del Ray Mounts, didn't even come to Texas Tech on a basketball scholarship. But he broke into the starting lineup and became a sensation as a 5-11 sophomore.)

Robinson's knack of "jazzing up the act," as he terms it, wrote attendance history for the Southwest Conference in Tech's first year of official Southwest Conference competition. In 11 games the Raiders attracted to Lubbock Coliseum 82,496 fans, including three crowds of more than 10,000. The Raiders were also a top draw on the road. Modest himself, Robinson evidenced showmanship through the Raiders' flashy, daring play and by the pre-game ceremonies and attractive halftime performances.

Robinson, now 47 years old, played basketball, football, and tennis and ran track at Ranger High School, under Coach Blair Cherry, who was later to lead Texas to gridiron fame.

He finished high school at Lubbock, then entered Texas Tech. In his senior year at Tech, he was co-captain of the Border Conference champion basketball team.

After graduation, Robinson coached at Burk Burnett High School, then went to Tennessee to work for a cement company. Texas Tech hired him as assistant football and basketball coach in 1941. He has since relinquished his football duties.

Robinson is married to the former Stephanie Corley, a Hardin-Simmons graduate, from Eagle Lake, Texas. They have three children and two grandchildren.

Some tickets to Thursday's banquet, which begins at 7:30 p.m., are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office for $2.50. Features of the banquet, besides Robinson's speech, will be presentation of Coach Clifton McNeely's 1959 coach of the year award, presentation of the Hustling Harvester award, and the crowning of the basketball queen.

Barry Says 'I'll Be Back'

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Enough is enough," says Jack Barry. "They should let us now. We've been punished, we've learned our lesson. How long do we have to go on being Peck's bad boys?"

Except for the foregoing Barry exuded peace and contentment. This one moment of bitterness—it rushed out like a flood—was counterbalanced by many moments of philosophical serenity.

Nowadays, with Twenty-One finished and the once-flourishing production concern of Barry and Enright virtually dissolved, Jack Barry earns his living with a concern that deals in odors. He once was merely an investor in the company but, when things were at their blackest for him, he began working there seriously.

Barry proudly shows the results of his firm's research. There's a bit of plastic, impregnated with the smell of perfume. A toy elephant, perfumed, and a newspaper ad for grape juice, smelling of grapes.

Barry wants to come back to television. He feels it is his life. And he has been heartened by the public — "nobody ever made a bad comment to me personally" — and recently by TV and advertising executives.

Jack says, in looking back at the scandals and the programs which precipitated them, that any comment now would necessarily be dictated by hindsight.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Earnings and dividends for the first three months of 1960 will hit new peaks, but will tend to level off in the second quarter, according to the International Statistical Bureau.

The stock market, the bureau says, will recognize the more favorable earnings while also taking into account the less dynamic business trend indicated for the last part of 1960.

The bureau expects the nation's production of goods and services to reach a new high this year. "This new record high in gross national product will not be the result of higher prices. Quotations will show very little change. It will be due mainly to greater physical volume," the bureau says.

"For participation in Europe's vigorous economic recovery, a seasoned equity such as Woolworth has appeal," says Hornblower & Weeks. "Foreign operations account for 40 per cent of reported net income," the investment firm says.

Principal Lawson Shaw of White Deer was in charge of the contest. Directors of the plays were L. A. Sparks, Panhandle; Hobart McDonald, White Deer; Miss Kay Brown, Lefors; Mrs. Lee Mustick, McLean; Lawrence Overcast, Canadian; Mrs. Sue Shields, Clarendon; and Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, Memphis.

Lefors Civil Defense Meet

LEFORS (Sp) — The first civil defense meeting of 1960 was held by Lefors civil defense group under the direction of Paul Blankenburg, Red Cross civil defense chairman for Lefors. The meeting was in the community center Tuesday night.

Blankenburg announced that a program giving more details would be held at a later date.

To clarify the mistaken idea that all wounded are to be taken to a clinic in Pampa, Blankenburg stated, "Slightly wounded will be housed in the civic center and given first aid, or in the high school building in case the civic center should be blown away or be overcrowded."

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Gray county Red Cross office manager, explained the duties of Red Cross after a tornado. She stressed the need for identification of persons at the scene of an accident of disaster.

Sheriff and Mrs. Rufe Jordan explained the need for policing in times of disaster and the moving of wounded individuals.

Mrs. John Melton, public schools nurse, has prepared 500 copies of pamphlets on "What To Do in Case of Tornado," which are available to the public.

John Archer, fire chief, explained that the new radio equipment for the city ambulance and fire trucks will be on hand to be used in all emergencies.

Siren signals were reviewed on blast for fire, two for a fire meeting, and three for storm warning. The next meeting was set for Tuesday, April 12, 7:30 p.m.

Optional Credit Plan

An All-New Concept in Credit Service

We believe that your charge account should be a real convenience to you. You have a right to expect of us a credit plan which has flexibility, adaptability to your personal needs, which may vary at different times of the year.

The new OPTIONAL CREDIT PLAN is just that! ... a 30 day account with flexible payment terms whenever you need additional time!

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

When you receive your statement each month, you may pay your account in full just as you've done in the past. OR, if you want extra time, you may make payments of 1/2, 1/3 or even 1/4 of the balance. YOU make the decision ... taking advantage of the optional terms only when YOU so desire. You may make a partial payment one month and pay in full the next.

* Minimum payment is 1/4 of balance owing, as shown on statement, or $10.00 whichever is greater.

If you choose to use the partial payment feature at any time, a small service charge will be added to the UNPAID balance. For example, if you paid $15.00 on a $60.00 account, the unpaid balance would be $45.00 ... The service charge added would be just 68c. All cash payments and credits will be deducted before the service charge is computed.

HERE ARE ITS ADVANTAGES

- If your account has been carried heretofore as a regular 30 day account, without option terms, it was payable in full each month. Now you may, if you wish, send partial payment as outlined herein. No service charge is added if your account is paid in full by the 10th of the month following date of purchase.
- Your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is always ready when you need it ... even though you may choose to use its privileges only a few months a year.
- You'll need no other "Special Credit Plans" ... your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT has all the features of ALL special credit plans.
- You needn't come in to make "extra" arrangements for "extra" credit ... your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is automatic.

ANY QUESTIONS?

MAY I TAKE LONGER THAN 30 DAYS TO PAY MY BILL AT DUNLAP'S?

Yes indeed! That's the main point. You may take a longer period any month or months that you wish ... even up to several months for this month's purchases.

DO I NEED TO CALL THE CREDIT OFFICE WHEN I WANT "EXTRA" TIME?

No, your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is automatic.

CAN I USE THIS AS A TIME PAYMENT ACCOUNT FOR EXTRA LARGE PURCHASES?

Yes, that's one of the reasons you'll enjoy OPTIONAL CREDIT ... it's a 30-day account when you want it as such, or an extended terms account when you desire.

WHAT MUST I DO TO CONVERT MY ACCOUNT TO THE OPTION PLAN?

Nothing. All Dunlap's accounts now have "optional terms".

Peg O' Pampa

THIS WEEK the cheeriest note we can possibly imagine to you is this: ... we were absolutely astounded one day when we passed Icie Horrah's home on Charles, to see the row and white and blue crocus blossoming out along the curb. ... they must have popped out on the warm days of last week, and if you don't think those beautiful spring flowers were a sight for sore wintered eyes, then you had best take a look. ... they are the first blooms we have seen this year. ... and what more marvelous reminder that Spring WILL come here eventually. ... we understand that Icie has over a thousand bulbs planted in the area. ... and, oh, what a wonderful sight to see.

IN SPEAKING OF things to see, we spent some time at the looking at the "Seven Deadly Sins" painted by Lorene Johnson, and we think that they are very, very good. ... don't miss seeing them. ... and Bethel Shirley has done a most interesting 3-paneled "picture" in ceramics and glass, called "Walls of Jericho" also hanging in the Inn lobby. ... the display of having the works of local artists on display is certainly bringing off in interest. ... keep it up.

IT MUST HAVE seemed like Pampa Day at the fair last Sunday, or rather, Saturday a week ago, at the Dord Fitz studio in Amarillo. ... for attending the art exhibit were at least all these people: ... Alva Saterhite ... Ruth and Helene Huff ... Bubs Lang ... Lorene Johnson ... Eleanor Anderwald ... Marge Brauchle ... Mary and Olive Hills ... Ethel Tom Eller ... Icie Horrah ... Marion George ... and food at the smorgasbord served that night was marvelous. ... a committee of people from each surrounding community had charge of the food. ... and it was a real success.

THE NEW KETTLE ... where we throw in anything and everything. Well ... this is the latest and last bulletin on the Delta Pampa Gamma book review scheduled, as reported last week, for next month. ... Edith Deen's husband is ill and she cannot come to do the review, so the whole thing has been canceled and will, members hope, be scheduled sometime next year. ... it has been an unfortunate series of mishaps. ... we certainly hope things will work out better next season. ... busy, busy garden club members out on a sunny day this week planting all sorts of things in the city parks they have taken over. ... summer-time should be pretty around here. ... we have heard rumors of a very elaborate dinner planned for workers in the Community Concert Association membership campaign which is coming up next month. ... maybe we'll have some more scoop on it for you later. ... the Duncan and Linda-Drive park has been full of young baseball players lately. ... there are ten resident nurses who are really enjoying the facilities at the new nurses residence out by the hospital. ... and we hope there will be more.

THE SH ... where we throw in anything left over from the stew. ... Pat Ludeman, seventh grader, and winner of the Gray County Spelling Bee, will be competing in Amarillo next Sunday. ... Marilyn Milliron is the junior champion. ... the Pampa Art Club has a guest day tea coming up the fifth of April. ... to be held in the library, and there will be an exhibition of the things the members have been working on the past year. ... we'll be there to see what goes on. ... Mr. and Mrs. McAnnally are visiting in Pampa. ... Mrs. McAnnally is Juanita Hill's mother. ... the McAnnallys are planning to come to Pampa in the next few months, we hear. ... there was a surprise birthday party for Mary Hill's one morning a week two ago. ... a group of friends popped in on her for morning coffee and with it. ... and a good time was had by all, be trite but true.

THE WING UP ... (and we don't mean the stew or the hash) beginning Sunday, April third, it is National Library Week. ... and plans are being laid right now for an Open House to be held the third from 3:00 to 6:00 Sunday afternoon. ... Mary Ann Kelley and Julia McKernan and Maxine Rose, members of the library board, have been making the arrangements. ... Margaret Steele will be on hand along with the aforementioned women to serve coffee in the morning from 10:00 to 11:00 during the week. ... so go and take your coffee break and see what is to be seen. ... Jimmy McCune is president of the Library Board, and Art Teed, Joe Gordon and C. P. Eckler make up the masculine side of the Board. ... this is the third annual nationwide observance of the Reading Development Program of the American Library Association. ... this program is designed to increase the appreciation of the vital role played by printed matter of all sorts in our national life. ... the slogan of National Library Week this year is "Wake up and Read" ... but we think perhaps it should be "Turn off TV and READ" ... anyhow, there are many, many new books which will be ready to be read. ... some of which have been purchased through the Cabot Foundations contribution, and interest on which is used each year to buy books.

THE ASSERT ... coming to town is Don Lane and his family. ... he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lane, and is an attorney. ... he has been living in Oklahoma City. ... College students Sara Gordon (University of Utah) ... and JoAnn Jones are in town for Spring Vacations last week. ... and we saw Non Urbanczyk in town. ... she looked very beautiful in a mint green two-piece suit and matching accessories, so pretty that her ash-blond hair. ... guess she must be making some final plans for her wedding this spring. ... Curt and Will Beck are proud of their new baby, Ann, who was born last Wednesday. ... Ann's big brother, Curt, is one of the cutest little first-beginning-to-toddle-ers we know. ... guess there must have been thousands of youngsters who saw Walt Disney's "Toby Tyler" last week. ... amongst them were Mike and Jerry and Pam Ward. ... Bobo and Ronnie and Mark Lang. ... Bobby and Becky Tedrow. ... it was a very good show for the children. ... and it made us rather nostalgic for the good-old-days of the touring circus with the fancy wagons and the callope music.

WE SURELY DO yakkyt yak. ... but then, that's what we're supposed to do. ... wonder how the "voting" is going on the new club to have its stomping grounds at the Pampa Hotel. ... one gets started, members would certainly be treated to good food there. ... that's for sure. ... that is, if the lunches are any indication. ... we have heard lots of people say that Kirk and Jean Duncan's new home is one of the most livable, beautiful homes they have seen. ... and rumor hath it that it may be on the agenda of the tour of homes planned for the next month or so. ... Twentieth Century Club is planning an exhibition of the works of local artists soon. ... more on it later. ... we seem to be full of up and coming plans that are in the planning stage.

THAT'S about all the scoop we can round up for the time being, but just give us another seven days, and we'll have more, for we are your hard-working (?) Peg

- Mrs. Archer Has 20-30 Meeting
Lefors, (Spi)—Mrs. Joe Archer was hostess to the 20-30 Club in her home recently. Plans were made to serve the Credit Union Organization Meeting Tuesday. Refreshments of cookies and coffee were decided on. The club is still in the process of raising money for park funds by selling Stanley products. Five dollars was contributed to the fund to be used for the purchase of a city mower. Mrs. Jimmy Stanton was accepted as a new member. Mrs. Joe Watson won the door prize. New secret pal names were drawn. Members present were Mrs. Tony Brims, Billy Cox, Ray Dickerson, E. E. Foshes, Ed Lehnich, J. M. McPherson, Bud Means, Wayne Sims, Joe Watson, and the hostess.

LENDING A HELPING HAND—Mrs. Roy McKernan, center, Woman of the Year for 1959, assists Beta Sigma Phi Sorority members, Mrs. Ted Knox, left, and Mrs. Jack Vaughn with the loan of table appointments for Woman of the Year Tea to be given April 3 at three o'clock in City Club Room. As most hostesses know when giving a party of any large size, it is necessary to "borrow" a few items of glamor. It was just this time last year that Mrs. McKernan was experiencing the same feeling of gratefulness and humility, tinged with a touch of excitement that the Woman of the Year for 1960 is experiencing now. Invitations are out, tea arrangements are nearly completed, the Woman of the Year has selected her tea dress, and the curtain of secrecy is about to be withdrawn from Beta Sigma Phi's annual selection. Pampa's First Lady will be introduced in this paper on the morning of April 3 and will greet friends and receive the sorority's recognition at a tea in the afternoon.

Fashions For Ladies-In-Waiting Modeled At Party

A humorous fashion show illustrating four different personalities of mothers-to-be entertained guests at a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Murray Castleberry on Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Lanehart.

The fashions were modeled by four hostesses: Mrs. Robert Trampe, as a Riviera-type expectant mother, spending her days in shorts on the beach; Mrs. Bob Swanson, as a sophisticated type lady-in-waiting dressed in an extravagant gown completed with extended cigarette-holder; Mrs. Walton Bailey costumed as a middle-aged lady-in-waiting with aches, pains and a cane to aid in walking; Mrs. Charles Lanehart as the modern beatnik mother-to-be wearing tight and jersey shirt with an odd hairdo and carrying paint brush and easel. The style show was narrated by Mrs. Arnold Pettifila.

Guests submitted names for a boy or a girl from which Mrs. Castleberry might choose a name; the girls' names outnumbered the boys' names. A second game was played with guests naming baby items which they felt in a paper sack. Mrs. Charles Palmer was awarded the prize for this game.

Mrs. Castleberry opened gifts which were presented in a playpen decorated with pink and blue crepe paper.

Coffee, punch and cake were served.

Garden Club Members Share Flower Tips With Varietas Club Members

Varietas Study Club met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. S. C. Evans, 1800 Charles. Mrs. H. T. Hampton, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Cecil Dalton, who, with Mrs. Joe Z. Weaver, were attending the District Federated Club meeting in Lubbock.

Mrs. Henry Butler, program chairman for the afternoon, introduced Mrs. Donna Cornutt, president of Pampa Garden Clubs, who discussed gardening.

"Few hobbies are so easy to share as flower growing," stated Mrs. Cornutt. She asked members to notice evergreens recently set out in the park near Stephen F. Austin school. "These were purchased by the Garden Club and it hopes soon to have a shell and bridge built."

At the request of Mrs. Cornutt, Mrs. Loyse Caldwell repeated a workshop demonstration on making cuttings. "which," she said, "is an inexpensive way to add plants to the garden and also a very satisfying hobby."

"In preparing any cutting," Mrs. Caldwell stated, "make slanting cut below a node or a joint. Remove most of the leaves and dip into a root stimulant then place in dirt or sand, or mixture of vermiculite or spognum moss. Keep moist and cover with plastic bag. Do not over water," Mrs. Caldwell warned.

Plans were announced for the club's Friendship Tea to be held April 12 in Lovett Memorial library at 2:30 p.m. The club voted to join with other federated clubs in extending an invitation to the District Federated Clubs' convention to be held in Pampa in 1961. MATURE PARENT

We'd had a battle, my daughter and I. She was about seven, I think. She had a paper doll dress-designing outfit including patterns, veiling, laces and sheets of paper ingeniously printed to look like tweeds, satins, gingham— even fur.

She was in the throes of substituting ermine for the lace collar she had affixed to a black-satin evening creation when I came home and saw, not an artist absorbed with a vision of her imagination but a bothersome child who had littered the living room rug with meaningless snippets of paper.

I ordered their removal—and the removal of the dress-designing station to her bedroom. I won the battle.

But a little later upon opening one of my bureau drawers, I found that I'd been punished for winning it. Into my stockings, slips and nightgowns had been tied knots as hard and clenched as my daughter's resentment. I was badly shaken. Shocked by her vindictiveness, I thought:

"Oh, if this child is going to resist discipline so venomously as this, evil fortune will surely befall us!"

I demanded that she untie the knots of vengeance. She preferred to spend the rest of the day in bed.

Last night, recalling that old battle, I said to my now grown child: "Goodness, how mean you were, Judy!"

"Not so mean as I might have been," she said. "You see, mother, there was a pair of scissors on your bureau that afternoon. I was so angry at your impatience that I wanted to cut holes in your clothes. But I didn't."

"As I stood looking at the slips, stockings and nighties in your drawer, I thought, 'She has to work for these things. She needs them. If I cut them up, she may not have the money to buy new ones. So I must think up a hurt to give her that can be mended instead of giving her one that can't.'"

After a moment, I said, "You seem to have considered my needs more responsible than I consider yours."

"Yes," said my daughter. "But I don't think there's anything special about that. Kids are always trying not to hurt parents. The thing is, you people never seem to know about it."

'The Strangest Secret' Reveals Success Key

A recording of "The Strangest Secret" by Earl Nightingale created program interest at Twentieth Century Club's Tuesday afternoon meeting held in the home of Mrs. Tom Rose, 2228 Beech.

In introducing the recording, Mrs. Joe Gordon remarked that "higher levels of thinking encourage people to higher goals. Even homemakers need to be inspired to higher goals. Earl Nightingale set his goal when he was 12 years old. He set 35-years-old as his retirement age. At that time that seemed very old; however, when he reached that age he realized how young he was. He retired, however, and now enjoys his family an dtravels at will. Success is due to thought and if one will study he will find opportunity. Life need not be boring even if it is tedious. If we will think our problems through and find the need, then we can find the solution."

In the recording, "The Strangest Secret," Mr. Nightingale states that only five men out of each hundred will ever become successful. He defines success as a progressive realization of a worthy ideal. He states that courage is the opposite of conformity and conformity is one of the reasons for not succeeding. "The reason for this is we tend to conform to the wrong group or the 95 per cent. Remember the one who succeeds is the one who realizes a worthy ideal," the recording of Mr. Nightingale continued. "Some of the most successful people are the corner filling station operator, the housewife, the grocery clerk or any other person who is doing what he chose to do and is enjoying the doing of it. The key to success is a definite goal and to know in which direction that goal lies."

"Most human beings can alter their lives by altering their thoughts. Our thoughts are what we become. We can attain anything by remembering if we care enough about the result, we attain it. We should always think positively and know to believe is to succeed."

"Everyone is the sum total of his thoughts. You are guided by your own thoughts. If we can control our thoughts we can control our lives. We can do nothing without paying the price. This being the case we must decide what is important to us and then be willing to do more than you have to, or more than is required of you. Always act as though it were impossible for you to fail and remember persistence is another word for faith."

"Many people think to make money is to be successful, but this is not the case. Making money is the result of being successful. We must always be of some service before expecting money to come to us. For every action, there is a reaction and no man can be rich without enriching others around him. If one wants more, he must be of more service to others. You, like the earth, get back what you put into it. It is easy to be a success if you would act the part of the person you would like to become."

Mrs. Culberson closed the meeting by expressing the thought that preoccupation with tests in our schools leads to conformity and that a successful man always starts in time to finish the job. A discussion of the record closed the meeting.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Robert Sanford, members voted to dispense with the April 12 meeting in order to attend the organizational meeting in Amarillo, which is being held for the purpose of forming a new district. New officers will be elected and a name for the district will be chosen.

In brief comment, Mrs. W. R. Campbell expressed the club's regret that Mrs. E. L. Campbell is moving to Wichita Falls and appreciation was expressed for her faithful work in the club for the past many years.

Mrs. Bill Roota was welcomed as a new member. Other members attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. Bob Andis, G. F. Branson, E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, F. M. Culberson, Kirk Duncan, Jack Foster, J. W. Gordon, Lloyd Hicks, Roy McKernan, Fred Neslage, Walker Pung, Tom Rose, R. H. Sanford, H. E. Stanfield and V. J. Jamison.

Mrs. Carl Shafer continued with the study of the Gospel of Luke at First Methodist's Wesleyan Guild held in the home of Mrs. Roy Kilgore on Monday evening.

Mrs. Shafer made application to "our lives" of many of Luke's most effective verses and brought out that "each one of us is called for a definite purpose" and that the Kingdom of God would come so quickly if we did not care who got the credit.

Miss Ila Pool discussed Luke as the Christmas biographer and "I beloved physician."

Mrs. Lillie Mae Fowler arranged the worship and gave as the devotional scripture from Luke, which reads, "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Bill Caffey modelled costume which she had made for entry in Vogue Pattern competition at the district convention of the district convention held Tuesday in Lubbock.

First Methodist WSCS Notes 20th Anniversary

Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church celebrated its 20th anniversary of organization in the church chapel with a Book Review and Coffee. Charter members were honored guests and each was presented with a gold and white daisy corsage. Mrs. J. L. Colville greeted and registered guests.

Mrs. Reed Echoles and Mrs. Ed Juenger sang a duet "Were You There?" as an offering was taken for Conference Daughters.

Mrs. Colville, vice president, introduced Mrs. Paul Bowers, who reviewed "Dear and Glorious Physician" by Taylor Caldwell.

As an introduction, Mrs. Bowers said, "It is a book that was 46 years in the writing. Miss Caldwell began the final version five years ago after she and her husband visited the Holy Land where she did more intensive research for the book. The result of Miss Caldwell's many years of meticulous research and study is a brilliantly developed portrait of Luke in all his greatness and the complexities of his life, as well as a colorful re-creation of ancient Roman life as it contrasted in its decadence which the new world Christianity was bringing into being."

In laying a background for the review, Mrs. Bowers continued, "Luke was the only apostle who was not a Jew. He never saw Christ; never visited Israel until almost a year after the crucifixion, yet he became one of the greatest of the apostles."

"Today, we think of Luke mostly as the author of the third book of the New Testament. The apostle who was a doctor, but 2,000 years ago, he was Lucanus, a Greek by birth, a physician of repute."

Mrs. Bowers continued with the review to portray Lucanus as a "dear and glorious physician" who endured a pilgrimage of suffering, anguish, bitterness and sorrow and who was filled with doubt, cynicism, rebellion and hopelessness. "All this he endured to arrive at last at an understanding knowledge and complete love of God," she said.

Mrs. Bob McCoy was in charge of the social hour which was held in the church parlor following the book review. The serving table was covered with a white lin-cut-work cloth centered with a gold and white floral arrangement highlighted with the numerals "20."

Mrs. Ed Williams, WSCS president, presided at the silver coffee service.

During a brief business meeting preceding the book review, Mrs. Williams presided as the following WSCS officers were elected for the coming year: Mmes. Kermit Larson, president; J. L. Colville, vice president; R. E. Hamm, conference treasurer; Grundy Marriss, local treasurer; W. H. Nichols, secretary.

TC Culture Continues Studies Of Religions

Twentieth Century Culture Club's course of study for the year, "Faith and Religion" was continued in reports given Tuesday afternoon at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. J. C. Chase with Mrs. Rufe Jordan as co-hostess.

The first of three reports was given by Mrs. Jeff Bearden who stated that "the heart of the Seventh Day Adventist's belief is that of Jesus Christ's second advent. The structure of this belief rests on the texts of Daniel and Revelations. The Adventist movement was awakened under the leadership of William Miller."

"The fourth Commandment, that of remembering the Sabbath Day, is vital to the Adventist's belief in Christianity," Mrs. Bearden continued. "According to their belief, the Sabbath is said to be God's seal that He is the Creator of the Universe and Christ's that He has the power to save in the new creation. On the other hand, keeping the Sabbath is man's sign to accept God's work to save man from sin through Christ."

"The Religious Society of Friends founded in England about 1652 by George Fox was tagged with the name Quaker derived from their 'trembling at the word of the Lord or from their habit of quivering with religious emotion," were the opening remarks by Mrs. J. D. Merchant in discussing the subject of Quaker beliefs, "which," she said, "do not require its members to accept a written or spoken formal creed."

"The essentials of Quaker unity are the love of God and the love of man, conceived and practiced in the spirit of Jesus-Christ," she said. "The fellowship of the spirit can and does grow, develop and change because it has within it the inward power of expansion. They believe that God can be approached and experienced by the individual directly through the Inward Light which is the Spirit of Christ within. This resembles the doctrine of the Holy Spirit and is known directly without any mediation by prophet or priest. For Friends, it is the source of all religion in religion, leading immediately to the experience of God."

Mrs. Merchant described a Quaker meeting in detail, emphasizing the simplicity of the meeting reflected in the lack of ritual, an ordained minister, outward sacraments or a formal program; and of church structure in lack of altar, pulpit, organ pipes, steeple or stained glass windows.

She said, "Silence prevails which promotes the philosophy that silence is a means of quieting the tumult of life and letting the inner light shine. During this silence, each would direct his own private devotions, in prayer, meditation or pondering the scriptures, then if as one was 'moved of God' he would rise and preach a sermon. The meeting is broken by everyone shaking hands with his neighbor following the lead of those sitting on the front benches."

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs told of Joseph Smith having a vision of a messenger, Moroni, in 1823, who told him of buried gold plates, which were located and in 1830; these became the Book of Mormon.

"Joseph Smith claimed no authority by succession from any church," Mrs. Hobbs explained. "He inferred no authority from the Bible. His Mormon following looked upon him as a prophet, commissioned of God to effect restoration of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Mormons believe in the Holy Trinity; they practice baptism by immersion; their communion is simply administered with bread and water; they believe there is no principle more basic to the gospel of Jesus Christ than the God-given free agency of every man."

"All people are welcome to worship in Mormon chapels," Mrs. Hobbs continued, "but their temples are not places of worship. They are used for marriages and other sacred ordinances. Marriages performed in the temples are covenants that lasts not only until 'death do us part' but continue for time and eternity."

"The church," the speaker stated, "is financed by the scriptural tithing and work thrift and industry are taught as the best cure for want. A code of health and conduct, given in 1833 known as the Word of Wisdom, disapproved of the use of tobacco, alcohol, and hot drinks like tea and coffee."

"Joseph Smith lived only long enough to see his people migrate west as far as Nauvoo, Ill., to find their promised land. Brigham Young, one of his disciples picked up from there and travelled to what is now Council Bluffs, Iowa and where they made their winter quarters. Continuing on West, they came to Salt Lake Valley, where Brigham Young historically stated, 'This is the place.' And thus a great Mormon faith grew in Utah and has now spread far and wide," concluded Mrs. Hobbs.

National Park Wonderland Described By Merten Home Demonstration Guest

history and beauty were described by Mrs. Carl Latham for members of Merten Home Demonstration Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather, southeast of the city on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

In telling of the history of the park, Mrs. Latham said it was discovered by John Colter. He recorded his findings, which were published in St. Louis in 1807. Sixty years later the place was re-discovered by an expedition of 19 men, and it was while sitting around a campfire that the place was suggested for a national park.

In 1872, Mrs. Latham continued, "the president signed the measure giving this wonderland to the American people. In 1894, a law passed to protect the wild life in the park."

"The park covers an area of 3,472 square miles. It is located in the northwest corner of Wyoming and extends into Montana and Idaho."

"Nature puts on her most beautiful variety of shows," the speaker described. "The best known wonders are the geysers; especially Old Faithful which erupts every 23 to 24 minutes. Sapphire Pool, which was lifeless before the earthquake in August, 1959, now spurts 150 feet into the air. About 100 hot springs erupted for the first time after the tremor; there are over 200 geysers found in the park now."

"Second in fame," Mrs. Latham said, "is the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone. Here one can see rock tinted with red and every shade of yellow visible to man."

"There are museums, hospitals and churches in the park. The bear on the highways are quite familiar to everyone. But sight-seers are warned never to feed

Brief Reviews Are Given For Forum

Early Christians depicted as average people with real life problems was brought out in a review of "Saints In Aprons and Overalls" written by William F. Barker and given by Mrs. John B. McCrery at Twentieth Century Forum Club on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Bourland. And in a second brief review, Mrs. Gene F. Groom chose "Only In America" by Harry Golden, which covered the subjects of anti-semitism, segregation, religion, foreign people and immigrants of every nationality, philosophy and history, politics.

Mrs. McCrery began her review of "Saints In Aprons and Overalls" with the remarks, "Saint" was a favorite word of Apostle Paul and in the Bible it means Christian believers and church members. But, perhaps, the definition of a saint as a "forgiven sinner" makes it easier for us to accept the fact that we might be called saints."

"Paul knew many of the early Christians," Mrs. McCrery reviewed. "They were average people with real life problems, typical people like you and me."

She then told the group about four of the "fellow workers with Christ Jesus. She told of Barnabas, who accompanied Paul on his missionary journeys, reached a period of complacency and carelessness such as people today might do after 10, 20, or more years of Christian living. Tradition says that he had a new start and rejoined Paul. He later went back to Cyprus where he quietly and effectively preached and built up the Christian Church."

"John Mark, 'nephew of Barnabas, who deserted Paul," Mrs. McCrery continued, "soon learned what it was like to be considered a failure and disgrace. He is an example of the fact that when a man starts with God, no matter how poor a reputation he has, God gives that man new opportunities. John Mark became able to stand the strain and face the pressures of life without flinching."

Mrs. McCrery told of Eunice, mother of Timothy. "She was a widow, who with her mother, Lois, made their home a God-centered one, instructing young Timothy in the faith. Eunice shows us the power er of a Christian home. She illustrates that christianity is passed on principally by the family in a Christian home."

Mrs. McCrery concluded her review by telling about Timothy, the sensitive young lad whom Paul selected to assist him in spreading the Gospel. "This timid lad of Lystra had many disappointments in the ministry and it was necessary for Paul to encourage him many times. However, he grew to be strong enough to stand any kind of set back because of his faith in Jesus Christ."

To begin her review of the book, "Only In America," Mrs. Groom described the author as "jewish born on New York's Lower East Side. He now lives in Charlotte, N.C. and has been described by Carl Sandburg as a 'cigar-chomping, scalpel-wielding liberal with a built-in independent way of thinking.'"

"In this book," Mrs. Groom said, "Mr. Golden covers everything. In an essay on Irving Berlin, he tells how Mr. Berlin rose from a waiter in a Bowery joint to a position where he earned $15,000,000 for Army relief work in his show, 'This Is The Army', all within the lifetime of an immigrant boy."

"In his essay entitled 'I Felt Very Close To This Man,' Mr. Golden discusses racial segregation. In one called 'Fathers and Sons," he concluded that "this buddy-buddy stuff between father and son will never last."

"In an essay on education called 'Let's Take Bubble Gum Out of Schools,' Mr. Golden says he would like to go back to the old system when the parents were afraid of the teachers. The crying need at this moment in our history is, first, to qualify our teacher; second to give them a living wage; third, to divest the little darlings of their bubble-gum, comic books, zip guns; and fourth, to turn them over to teachers without any interference."

The reviewers were introduced by Mrs. Felix Vendrell.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Joe Daniel Jr., president, it was announced plans were made for entertaining Senior Citizens at their April 14 meeting in Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. Daniel announced that she and Mrs. H. C. Federer Jr. would attend the meeting in Amarillo on April 12 for the purpose of reorganizing federated clubs in this district.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Come to Church

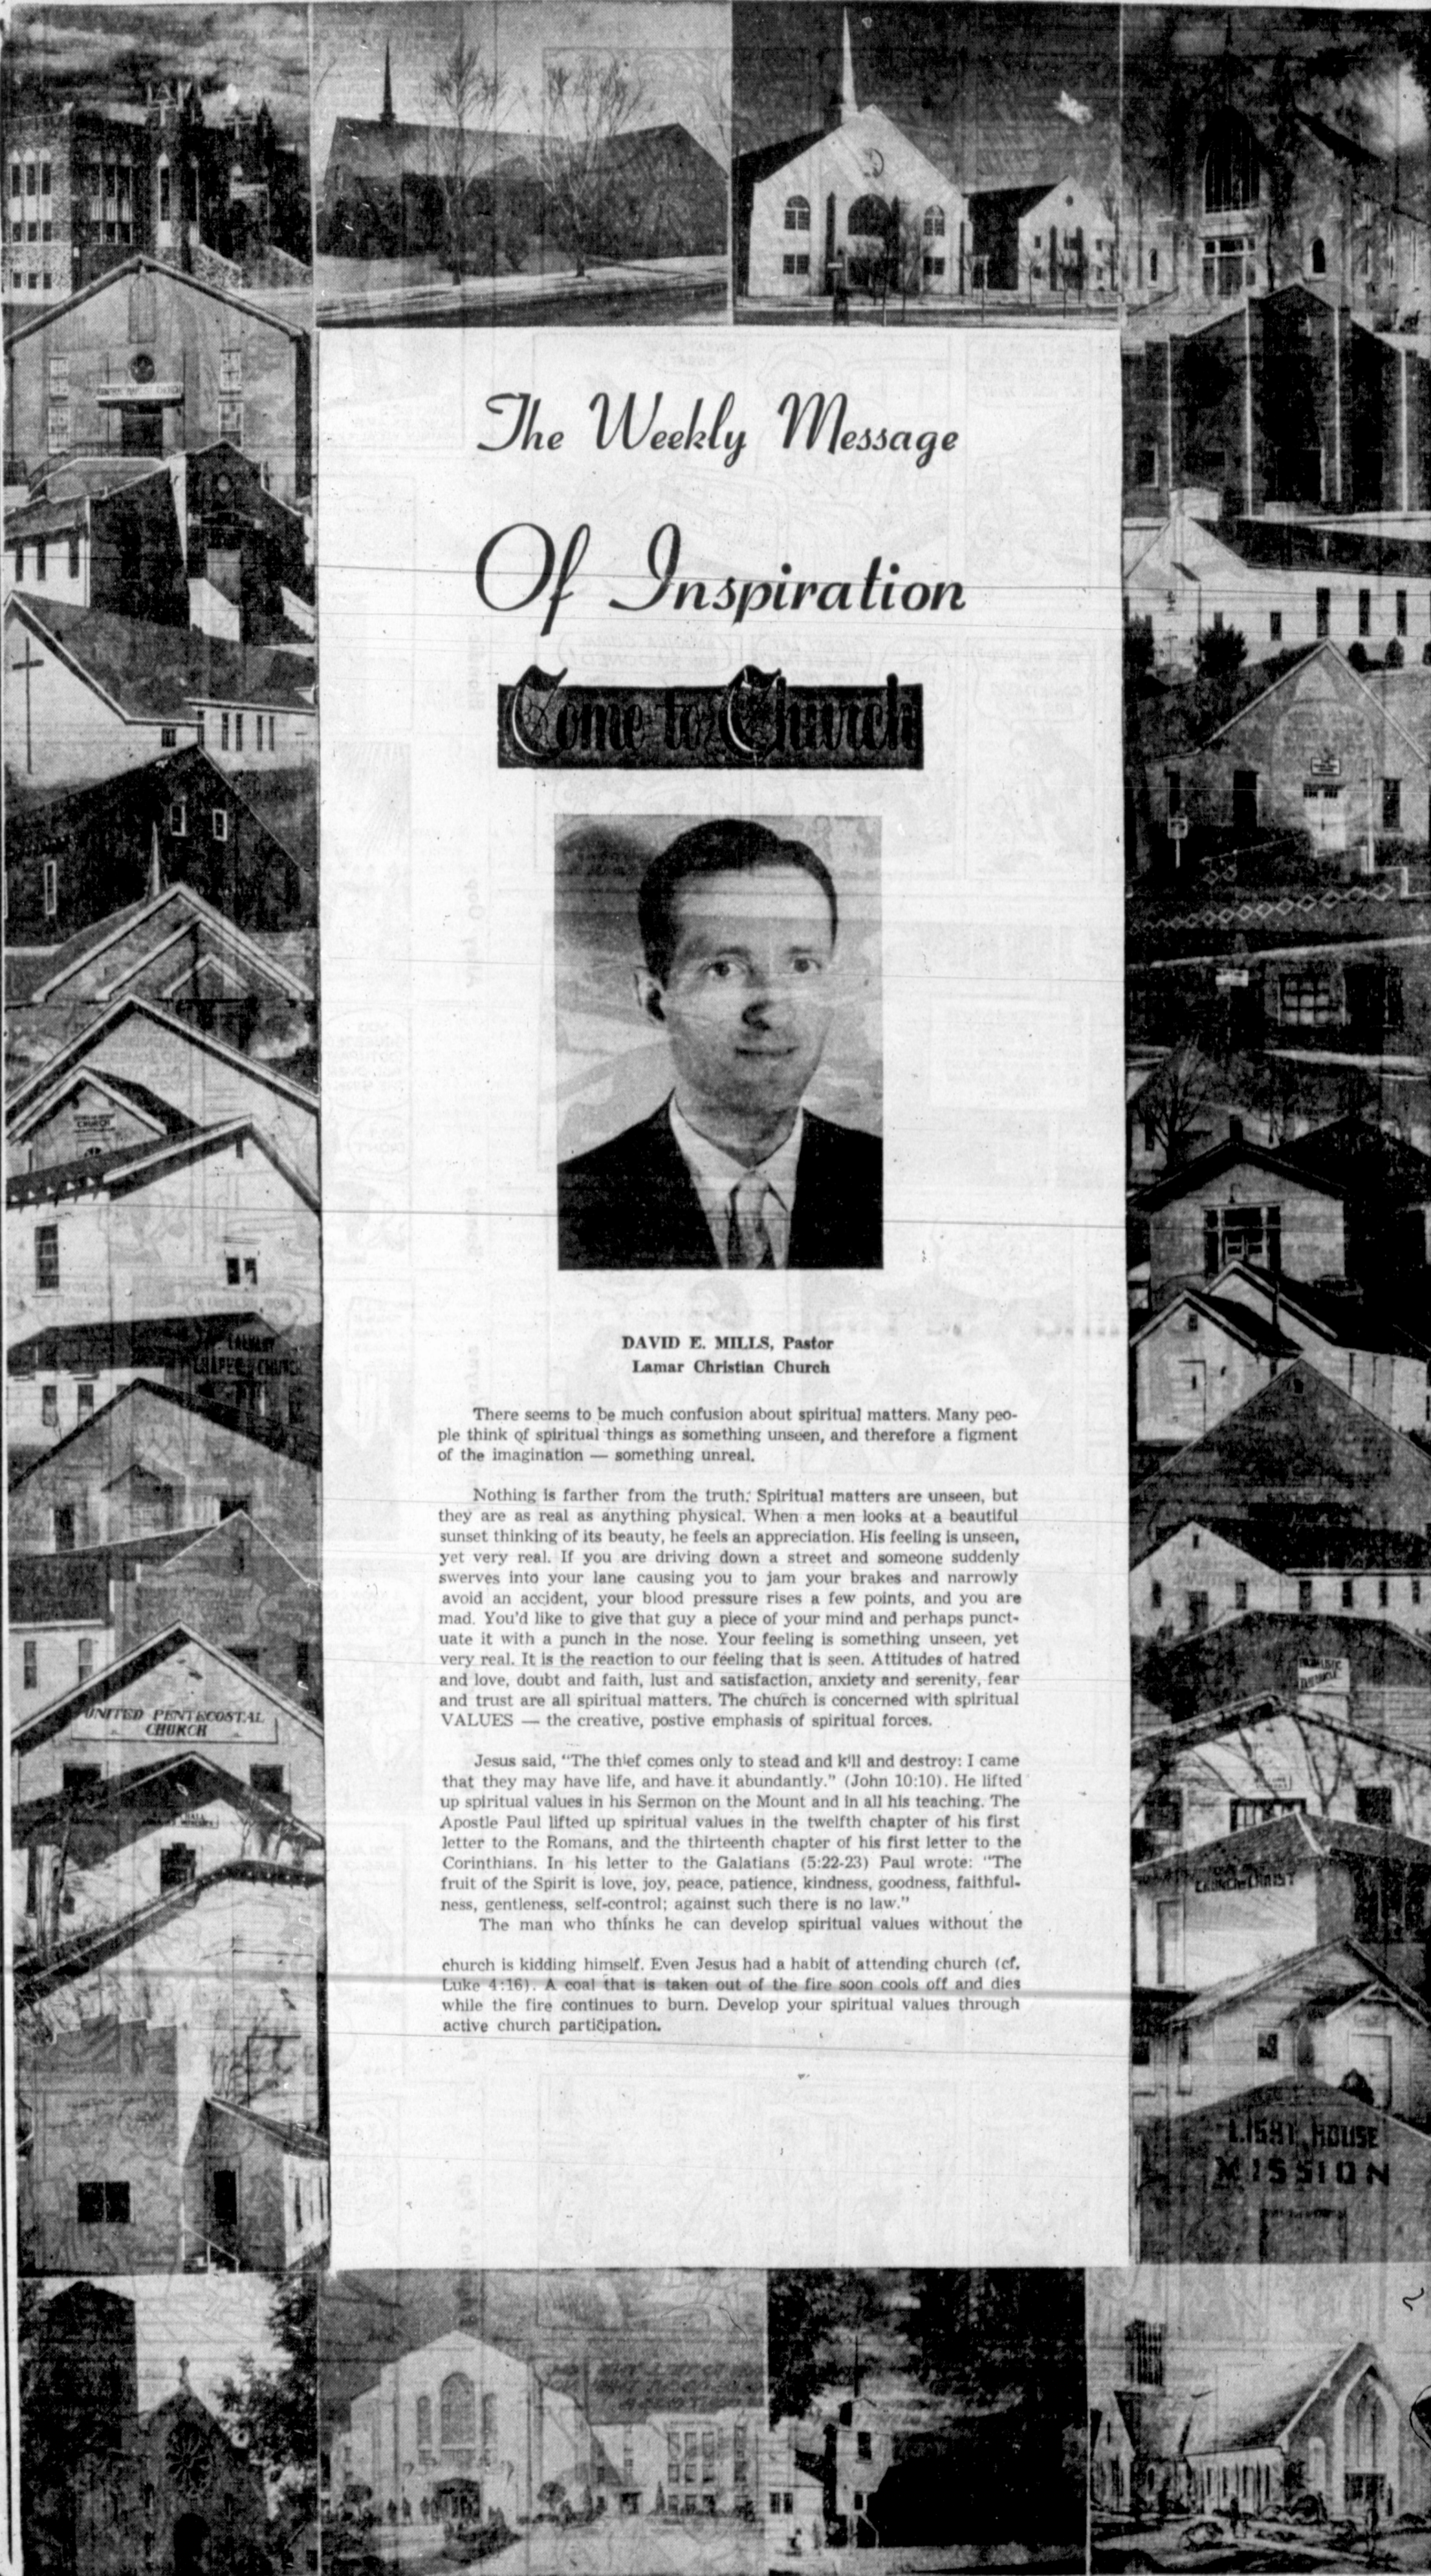

DAVID E. MILLS, Pastor
Lamar Christian Church

There seems to be much confusion about spiritual matters. Many people think of spiritual things as something unseen, and therefore a figment of the imagination — something unreal.

Nothing is farther from the truth: Spiritual matters are unseen, but they are as real as anything physical. When a man looks at a beautiful sunset thinking of its beauty, he feels an appreciation. His feeling is unseen, yet very real. If you are driving down a street and someone suddenly swerves into your lane causing you to jam your brakes and narrowly avoid an accident, your blood pressure rises a few points, and you are mad. You'd like to give that guy a piece of your mind and perhaps punctuate it with a punch in the nose. Your feeling is something unseen, yet very real. It is the reaction to our feeling that is seen. Attitudes of hatred and love, doubt and faith, lust and satisfaction, anxiety and serenity, fear and trust are all spiritual matters. The church is concerned with spiritual VALUES — the creative, positive emphasis of spiritual forces.

Jesus said, "The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy: I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." (John 10:10). He lifted up spiritual values in his Sermon on the Mount and in all his teaching. The Apostle Paul lifted up spiritual values in the twelfth chapter of his first letter to the Romans, and the thirteenth chapter of his first letter to the Corinthians. In his letter to the Galatians (5:22-23) Paul wrote: "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such there is no law."

The man who thinks he can develop spiritual values without the church is kidding himself. Even Jesus had a habit of attending church (cf. Luke 4:16). A coal that is taken out of the fire soon cools off and dies while the fire continues to burn. Develop your spiritual values through active church participation.

'Mansion' For College Prexy To Be Modified

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—There was hope today that the taxpayers of Texas might get a bargain on the $120,000 home planned for the president of Sam Houston State Teachers College.

J. H. Sears of Hereford, chairman of the board of regents for state teachers colleges, has stated that plans for the home may be modified at the board's May 5 meeting.

Sears has been under fire from a Senate investigating committee for the board's "cold blooded" defiance of the legislature's intent to halt needless state spending.

Cost estimates of the home, described by its architect last week as "comparable to the governor's mansion," has been variously estimated at $120,000 to $172,000, including interest on the bonds necessary to finance its building.

The money would have to come from ad valorem taxes which Texans pay on their homes and property.

Sears defended the proposed size and elegance of the home, saying it was needed for receptions, teas and entertaining dignitaries.

His testimony angered several of the Senate investigators.

Sears said the board did not want to build the home without the consent of Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislature's Budget Board, as required by the last Legislature. But he added the board had gotten an opinion from the attorney general's office that the consent was not needed if the board spent money already earmarked for colleges by constitutional amendment.

Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney, who heads the Senate cost of government committee making the study, wanted to know if the regents "recognize any responsibility to the Legislature?"

Sears said they did, but add-

DODGE DEALER—John E. Parker, owner of Parker Motor Co., 748 W. Brown, has been appointed Dodge dealer for the Pampa area. A new building will be constructed at 301 S. Cuyler to house the firm. The company will handle Dodge, Dart, Chrysler and Imperial automobiles and Dodge trucks.

ed that the state could "save a lot of money" by setting up a board of regents for each of the teachers colleges instead of having one for all six.

Marketing Becomes Big Problem For Stockmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Livestock growers are winning the battle of efficient production, but where and when to market their product still is a problem for many of them.

The Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) reports that new developments in animal breeding and nutrition have eliminated many of the livestock growers' production problems. But marketing problems have become more complex. For years the principal livestock outlets were the big terminal markets or local buyers who bought small lots and assembled shipments for the terminals.

The owner frequently accompanied his livestock to the public stockyards and watched trading as it progressed.

Nowadays when stock is ready for market the grower is faced with the problem of where, as well as when, to market. To make a wise decision he needs to know about livestock supplies, movement and prices, not only at terminal markets but at nearby auction markets. He should know the prices paid by local packers or by buyers at farms or at feedlots or other buying stations in his area.

Information about market conditions at most livestock buying and trading centers is available through newspapers, radio, television, telephone and mail using the facilities of the Agriculture Department or Federal - State Market News Services.

The department has been gathering and distributing market information for more than 40 years at the principal terminal markets. Since the early 1930s this information has been available in direct buying areas. In more recent years, through the cooperation of state departments of agriculture, auction and other markets have been greater coverage. AMS said that in doing the best job of marketing, producers gather and compare information on the market outlets available to them and then make a decision as to where to sell or ship. This requires close attention to prices at various marketing outlets, especially just prior to time of marketing.
