Top Steer Owned By West Texan

FORT WORTH (UPI) — A freckle-faced West Texas ranch boy pocketed $6,100 for the grand champion steer of the 1960 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Friday and buyers of other steers paid prices well above the regular market.

The sale of champions featured the show's 10-day run here.

Wilburn Holloway, an 11-year-old 4-H Club boy who lives on a ranch near Abilene, pocketed more than $6 a pound for the 1,000-pound Hereford which won the grand championship.

Wilburn said he bought the Hereford named "Champ" for $300 less than a year ago.

Jesse Roach, a former Fort Worth councilman, bought the champion Hereford for the restaurant he owns in Dallas and Fort Worth.

The Coca-Cola company bought the reserve grand champion, a 1,050-pound Angus brought here by Harvey Harter of Carlock, Ill., for $3,000 bid by Clyde Welch.

Wilburn Holloway's sale of "Champ" matched that of his sister, Kay who two years ago sold her grand champion steer for the same price Wilburn got Friday.

The sale made the Holloway boy $7,435 richer. The American Hereford Assn. gave him $750 as a reward for showing his steer to the title. He also got $500 from Allied Mills, Inc.; $75 from the Fort Worth stock show; $20 from Armour & Co.; $20 from Swift & Co.; for winning the junior show championship and $45 from the stock show for winning in the class.

The Texas Livestock Marketing Assn. also awarded him a trophy.

The show's top lambs and barrows were also sold. Fort Worth Trained Co. paid $400 for the champion fine-wool lamb shown by Neal Montgomery of Midkiff.

Bell Helicopter Corp. bought the champion Southdown lamb for $400. Lewis Gregg of Plainview bought it to the show. The champion medium-wool lamb, shown by Lanny Savage of Plainview, was bought by Thomas S. Byrne for $300.

Lane Star Brewing Co. paid $500 for the show's grand champion barrow owned by Harvey Richardson of Elmore, Okla.

Wrong Man Charged In Assault Case

CHICAGO (UPI) — James Upchurch, who spent three months in jail on a rape charge, went free Friday when his accuser admitted "I made a terrible mistake."

"I identified the wrong man," the woman gasped when Upchurch was to have been sentenced. Circumstantial evidence was overwhelmingly against him.

"I had intended to give Upchurch 25 years," Criminal Court Judge Harry G. Herbenstein said.

Upchurch, a 47-year-old interior decorator, walked into his apartment building last October to be confronted by a woman screaming, "That's the man!"

The woman said Upchurch had raped her in an elevator. A taxi-cab driver said he saw Upchurch getting into the elevator with the woman.

Upchurch protested he had just returned from picking up his wife at work. His wife backed him up, but nobody believed them.

So Upchurch went to jail while his wife, a nurse, worked overtime to scrape together lawyers' fees.

The lawyer she hired, M. W. Garrett, read in the newspapers that Jesse Partee, 40, had been arrested on two charges of rapes in elevators. Garrett interrupted Upchurch's trial Friday to ask that Partee be brought into court.

The two accused rapists were placed side by side on a bench. Both stood 5'7", weighed about 150 pounds and had bushy hair and mustaches. They looked enough alike to be twins.

The victim peered at the men, disbeliever on her face.

"I think I made a terrible mistake," she said. "I identified the wrong man."

Upchurch embraced his wife and with unashamed tears of relief streaming down his face, walked from the courtroom to freedom.

Chessman Decision Monday

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Cary Chessman, who has spent nearly 12 years in a San Quentin death row cell, will be told Monday whether he will get a new appeal hearing.

Federal Judge Richard H. Chambers was scheduled to rule then on Chessman's request. Chessman is to be executed Feb. 19.

A. L. Wirin, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, said Friday Chessman should be granted an appeal hearing before the full U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and not only Chief Judge Chambers.

The appeal seeks a stay of execution, permission to present the case in typewritten documents rather than printed ones, and a certificate of probable cause. The certificate of probable cause would have the effect of the court's formally accepting the appeal.

Deputy California Attorney General Arvo E. Smith, in opposing the motion, said the U. S. Supreme Court's refusal to review the case made it clear it considered the disputed transcript was accurate.

Chessman was given the death sentence on a 1948 murder-kidnap conviction. He contends the transcript of his trial was inaccurate because of the death of the court reporter during the proceedings.

Volume Off; But Stocks Up Slightly

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored a minute gain in the past week without the benefit of volume.

Trading fell off steadily no matter which way the market traveled. Market experts said the list fell of its own weight with demand lacking most of the time.

On Tuesday bargain hunters invaded the market and bid stocks up as much as 1.72 points in the industrial average, the best gain in four months. But the rise failed to hold because of unpopularity of the general market.

Business did well during the week in all lines. There were gains in carloadings, retail trade, coal production, and construction. Auto output slipped because of a strike at a Chevrolet supplier. Oil output dipped a bit but was high compared with last year.

Construction stocks were helped by a rise in mortgage insurance applications which made a seasonal rise in December. This indicated higher building early this year against expectations.

Automobile sales failed to hold the high rate that the experts had predicted and this brought out some pessimistic predictions for the future. However, L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler, looked for production in 1960 that would show a rise to seven million units in line with predictions made earlier in the year.

At the close of the week the Dow-Jones industrial average was at 626.77 up 4.13 points from the previous week. Railroads dipped 0.10 to 191.50. Utilities were up 0.19 at 85.75, and the 65 stocks in the three averages recorded a weekly gain of 0.86 at 207.28.

The narrow change in the railroad division reflected the move of locomotive engineers to arbitrate their wage problem. Management also agreed to the arbitration.

During the week many companies increased their dividends, adding to the total of favorable dividend actions since the turn of the year.

Automobile issues led in turnover and ruled steady to firm. Studebaker Packard firm 3/4 point while its when-issued stock, in third place, eased 1/4 point. American Motors had a gain of 3/4 points and General Motors was up 1/2.

In the blue chips, U.S. Steel lost 2 1/4 points and Du Pont fell nearly two. Union Carbide rose nearly four and gains of more than two came into American Tobacco, General Foods and Eastman Kodak.

Negro Minister Kept From Moving Into New Home

DALLAS (UPI)—The Rev. T. L. Young, a Negro, said Saturday he wants returned the money he spent to buy a house in what he thought was an integrated neighborhood but which turned out to be an all-white block. A group of whites kept Young and his family from moving into the house near the Dallas airport Friday night. They congregated in front of his house and finally persuaded the family to return to their old home in a Negro neighborhood. Young, pastor of the Emmanuel Church of God in Christ, said he would tell his side of the story Sunday over the Negro radio station KNOK at 11 a.m. Young indicated that he might ask federal authorities to investigate to see if his civil rights were violated. But he indicated that if he could get his money back he would forget about the house. "All I want is my money back and to live where I'm wanted," he said. Young said one of the white men told him Friday night in a friendly way that there would be trouble if he moved into the block. Young called police when the white crowd grew and the whites left quietly after police arrived. But the Negro family went back to their old home.

LEGISLATIVE

member Senate are running for re-election this year, while the other 15 are enjoying holdover terms, in the middle stretch of their four-year tenure. Of the 16 Senators up for new terms, six are unopposed while 10 have opponents. Unopposed are Sens. Charles Herring of Austin, Culp Krueger of El Campo, George Moffett of Chillicothe, Preston Smith of Lubbock, Frank Owen III of El Paso and Grady Haslewood of Amarillo. Those drawing opposition were Sens. Neville Colson of Navasota, Bill Wood of Tyler, Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, Jarrard Secret of Temple, William S. Fly of Victoria, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, Abraham (Chick) Kazen of Laredo, Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford, Henry Gonzales of San Antonio and Hubert Hudson of Brownsville. Of the House members not seeking to return to the lower chamber, six are running for other offices. They include Reps. V. L. (Bo) Ramsey of Beckville, running for state comptroller; J. C. (Zeke) Zbraneck of Daisetta, opposing Sen. Colton; Jerry Sadler of Palestine, running for land commissioner; Jim Bates of Edinburg, opposing Sen. Hudson; R. L. (Bob) Strickland of San Antonio, opposing Sen. Gonzales, and Speaker Waggoner Carr, running for attorney general. Confusion of names may reign in some legislative races. Gonzalez is opposed in his San Antonio Senate race by three candidates—two bearing the same name of R. L. (Bob) Strickland, as well as former Sen. D. E. Latimer. Rep. Bill Jones of Dallas drew two opponents—another Bill Jones as well as Robert E. White. In another Dallas contest, Rep. Robert E. Johnson faces opposition from Jack Johnson. The race to determine a successor to Rep. W. N. (Bill) Woolsey of Corpus Christi, retiring from the house, drew the largest field of candidates—nine. One was listed as Honest John Bagwell. Others were Walter Chastain, Alton Herrin, Henry B. Hicks, Jr., Travis A. Peeler, W. A. Pilcher, Mrs. Virginia Ridgeway, Bill Wilkins, and Paul Vogler. All

DREAM SCHEME

My bedroom is too small to be made attractive. It's too cramped and cluttered. Scarcely a week goes by that we don't hear this complaint. Actually, it's a mistaken notion. Even a tiny bedroom can be transformed into an enchanted haven of rest, decorated to beguile the eye and pamper the sensibilities, and furnished to gratify the needs for comfort and convenience.

When planning the color scheme for a small bedroom, or any small room for that matter, avoid bold and vivid combinations. Choose pale receding colors that give the visual effect of more space. Pale shades of green, peach, sand and white.

If possible use a wall-to-wall carpet. This gives an enlarging effect, also. Don't use massive furniture. Remember, the furniture should always be in scale with the size of the room. Low, small-scaled pieces are best for small rooms. In the bedroom sketched above, every inch of space has been utilized advantageously. Low chests grouped with corner unit and dressing table have been arranged to leave the most free floor space possible.

Color scheme is composed of pink and cornflower blue. Note how the muted horizontal lines on one wallpapered wall add to the feeling of restfulness and tranquility.

Start today to pamper yourself with all the bedroom comfort and convenience you desire. Choose the pieces you need now from our open-stock group of chests, corner units, dressing tables and cabinets.

Auto Racing Serves As 'Test Tube' For Engineers

By JACK VANDENBERG UPI Automotive Editor
DETROIT (UPI)—Auto racing, considered by many as an adjunct of the horsepower race, is gaining more and more attention from auto engineers, automotive supplier firms and the public. Despite the Automobile Manufacturers Association's ban on stirring public interest in the horsepower and speed capabilities of new cars, auto engineers regularly attend the major races and keep close tabs on the performances of their cars. The most recent evidence of this renewed interest in auto racing is the entry of the Electric Autolite Co. into the racing field to meet competition from other spark plug manufacturers. A spokesman for Autolite said the rivalry between the two Toledo, Ohio, firms would fatten the purses of race drivers and encourage more drivers on the nation's tracks. "Already car racing is attracting more spectators each year than professional baseball. With more drivers participating in the sport, spectator interest is expected to increase. "Both the racers and the motorist are going to benefit from this participation," said Edwin R. Stroh, vice president of Autolite. "We will have 30 NASCAR championships at the sportsman-modified race at Daytona Beach Feb. 1. Each of their cars will be Autolite equipped with installations checked by our engineers." Stroh said the equipment will be dismantled from the cars after the race and a thorough examination will be made of each item. "This will allow us to closely study performance of our products after actual field testing that is most certainly more rugged than any test an average motorist will give our products," Stroh said. "Car racing," he said, "has long been used as a test tube for the automotive industry and from it has come many developments. We at Autolite feel that even more automotive equipment improvement can come from future race cars, hence our interest." Chrysler Corp. has developed a special engine package, including a four-speed transmission, which pushes the horsepower of its Chrysler 300-F to 400. Chrysler officials admit they expect to sell this package only to drivers who are interested in really high performances, like race drivers. There are fewer men than women in the United States.

One Nerve Nails Miracle Of Medicine

HAYWARD, Calif. (UPI)—Some day Billy L. Smith will be able to tell his children that he almost took part in an unprecedented near-miracle of surgery. In fact, a tiny nerve was all that barred the 25-year-old metalworker from a chapter in the book of medical history. Smith was repairing a furnace in a foundry last July when he was struck by the heavy steel hook of a moving crane. His right leg was crushed so badly it fell below the knee that doctors said it would ordinarily have been removed "with two snips of the scissors." However, surgeons at Eden Hospital decided to take a long chance. They removed a two-inch section of shattered bone and then sewed the leg back on. For a time, it appeared as though the operation would be a success. Never to the knowledge of doctors here, had a leg so completely severed been restored successfully. Last week the hospital announced that the leg healed fairly well—but the main nerve never did function and infection developed. Smith's leg was amputated. The young man—an avid swimmer, bowler, golfer and softball player before the accident—accepted the decision of the doctors calmly. "From all I hear about artificial legs they can make now," he said, "a person who has enough

Mexican President Mateos Named As Top Man Of Week

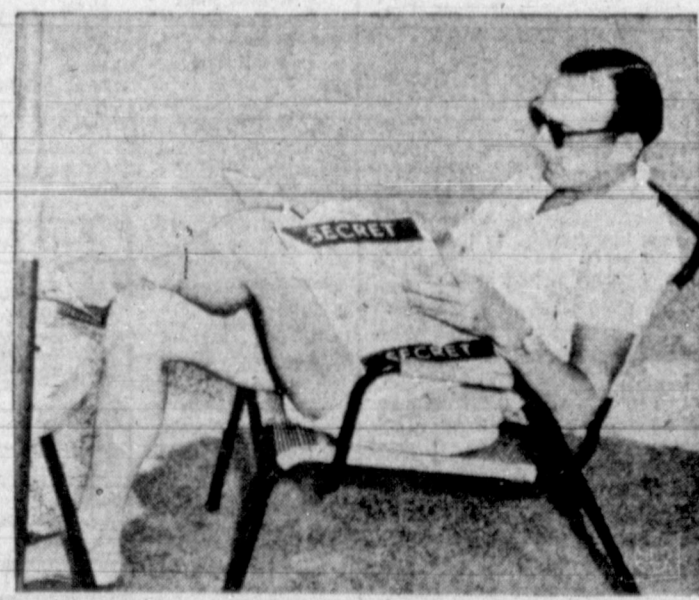

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor
The man-of-the-week: President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico. The place: Santiago, Chile. The quote: "(I call for the union of all Latin American peoples, all equal, all united and serene and all great.)" From the day he left Mexico City and arrived in Caracas, Venezuela, first stop on a six-nation Latin American tour, the handsome, 49-year-old Lopez Mateos had been showered with honors by the governments he visited. The eloquence of his oratory impressed parliaments and drew admiring comments in those Latin lands where every man is born an orator. But there was more than oratory and cheering crowds in Lopez Mateos' tour. Everywhere, he hammered on the single theme of continental unity—a common market, greater interchange of goods and culture. Generally, he avoided political subjects, and by the time he reached Chile, fourth stop on the tour, it was plain he was making friends for Mexico. In nearly every capital, he signed new cultural agreements. It was considered certain trade agreements will follow. Lopez Mateos is the handpicked successor to former President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines under whom he served as secretary of labor. will-power can do just about anything he wants with one."

Cost Of Food Products, Services Is On Increase

"On The Farm Front" United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department predicts the annual cost of food products and services may exceed 100 billion dollars by 1970. This is nearly 30 billion dollars more than consumers spend for the same things in 1958. Much of the increase will result from a growing population and rising per capita income. Of course, there are other reasons—the farm to city movement, more working women, more away-from-home eating. But more people with more money to spend is the chief reason. Higher incomes account for not only slightly larger food purchases, but for a different type of purchase. The housewife who has plenty of money will add more meats, dairy products, fruits, and vegetables to her shopping list and turn more frequently to the frozen food counter, the bakery, and the stocks of ready-to-cook items. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson says these convenience items constitute "built-in aid service." The department said the food industry is spending nearly 100 billion dollars a year in production. Search in answer to growing consumer demand for more convenience foods and for new and different products. About one-third of the food store volume now comes from foods that were not on the market 10 to 12 years ago. This trend is expected to extend through the 1960's. About three-fourths of all foods are now processed or manufactured in some way. In addition, increasing proportions of fresh fruits and vegetables are being canned, washed, and pre-packaged in bags, boxes, or over-wrapped trays. Marketing surveys show the

Pampa Boxers Win Regional High School Title

AMARILLO — Only one Pampa boxer came through with a victory in the open division finals here Saturday in the Regional Golden Gloves tournament, but the Pampa team won the high school division by capturing four title bouts.

Lucky Dunham was the only Pampa open fighter who made the grade. Dunham fought his best bout of the year to decision defeating champion Robert Vialle of Levelland for the 126-pound crown. Dunham moved in on his taller opponent and got far the best of the night.

Dunham, who won the first two rounds handily before Vialle began doing some damage in the third, will be eligible to enter the state Golden Gloves tournament.

Trent Olson, James Snider, Dean Henderson and Norman Rexroat captured high school titles to lead Pampa to the team championship in that division. However two other Pampans, Kenny Powell and Ronnie Morgan, lost in the finals of their weight divisions.

Henderson, Pampa's only high school division rookie, gained the quickest victory — a TKO over Charles Speer of Levelland in 14 seconds of the first round. The fight was stopped when Henderson opened a cut on Speer's forehead. This bout was for the 155-pound championship.

Rexroat fought his typical aggressive fight in gaining a decision over Robert Welty of Hereford.

Both boys slugged it out for the first two rounds, but each could take what the other dished out. In the third, however, the rain of blows began to take effect on both boys. Rexroat floored Welty twice in the third round, and Welty floored Rexroat once. This fight was for the 160-pound crown.

combination, to capture the 112-pound high school championship; and James Snider took the 147-pound high school crown by winning a decision over Ronnie Morgan of Levelland.

In the 135-pound high school battle, Donny Lesley of Hereford came on strong in the third round, to beat Morgan. Lesley had Morgan in trouble during part of the third round, after landing some damaging punches. The first two rounds had been cautiously fought.

In the open division Charles Snider was a hard-luck loser. He appeared to be winning his 147-pound fight over Gary Watt of Levelland in the third round. However, Watt opened a cut over Snider's eye and the bout was stopped with only 16 seconds remaining. In the second round Snider had opened a cut on Watts eyelid, but Watt was allowed to continue.

In other open fights involving Pampans, Landro Martinez lost a decision to Dale Gardner of Amarillo's D&D Pharmacy in the 112-pound class; and Albert Cavazos of Plainview decided Dickie James in the 118-pound fight.

Plainview captured the open division team title.

In high school fights not involving Pampans, results were as follows: Carlos Hooten, 105, Borger decided Paul Garcia, Dumas; R. C. Welty, 118, decided Johnny Chavez, Amarillo Boxing Club; Wayne Bomar, Hereford, 175, decided Leon Volger, Hereford.

In open fights not involving Pampans, results were as follows: Manny Perez, 135, ABC, decided Gilbert Lopez, D&D; Martin Berzewski, 160, D&D, decided Paul Pulley, D&D; Elmer Clements, Canyon, won the 175-pound title unopposed; heavyweight Gilbert Gonzales, Plainview, knocked out George Cook, D&D, first round.

Carl McClure of Dumas, last year's national heavyweight runner-up, lost a special exhibition match to Pete Peterson of Sherman, the man who beat him in the national finals.

AMARILLO — Pampa Optimist Boys Club fighters won five of six fights here Friday night against "outside" opposition, in the Regional Golden Gloves tournament.

Two of Friday's semifinals bouts involved a pair of Pampa team boxers. Glenn Ward, a former Pampa fighter now boxing for Borger, lost a decision in another bout of interest to Pampa fans.

Shocks Lose To Cowboys By 66-54

LUBBOCK — The slumping Pampa Shockers lost their fifth game in the last six starts here Friday to the Lubbock Cowboys, 66-54. The Shockers are now 31-11 for the year.

Coach Terry Culley used two Harvester reserves, Larry Stroud and Bill Neslage, in an effort to put some punch in the Shockers attack. The operation was successful, but the patient died anyway.

Stroud led Shockers scoring with 19 points, on eight field goals and three free throws. Neslage aided the cause with nine points. Sandwiched in between were Jim Stephenson with 12 and Jim Crinklaw with 10.

Three Cowboys hit in double figures — Henderson with 18, Demment with 15 and Oldham with 11.

Three PHS Cagers Foul Out; Game Lost At 'Charity' Line

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK — Pampa's luck was all foul here Friday night, as the Lubbock Westerners took a free (throw) ride to a 33-46 victory over the Harvesters.

From the floor the two teams were even, hitting 15 buckets each; but Lubbock outgunned Pampa from the free throw line, hitting 23 of 34, compared to 16 of 22 for the Harvesters. Seven of Lubbock's charity tosses were made in the last minute and 30 seconds.

Lubbock had a slim 42-39 lead with four minutes left in the game, but Pampa still was very much in the contest. However, it didn't help matters — any when Pat Carter fouled out with 3:51 remaining.

Mehel Terrell came in to replace Carter, and Pampa held its own for the next two minutes. However, the Harvesters were dealt another blow when Allen

NFL Official Might Jump To Rivals

DALLAS (UPI)—Lamar Hunt, founder of the American Football League, said Saturday he knew nothing of reports that a high-ranking official of the rival National Football League would move over to the AFL.

The rumored shift involves Austin Gunsel, the former FBI agent who acted as NFL commissioner after the death of Bert Bell. Gunsel was re-elected treasurer of the NFL after losing out in a race for the commissioner's post to Pete Rozelle, former general manager of the Los Angeles Rams last month.

Hunt said he "wasn't familiar with the reports about Gunsel. I don't do the hiring for the NFL," he said. "This matter is strictly up to Commissioner Joe Foss and the AFL office."

Hunt said Commissioner Foss was believed to be at his home in Sioux Falls, S.D., and wasn't due back in Dallas until Sunday.

Gunsel said Foss called him on the telephone after the Miami meeting in which Rozelle was named commissioner. He quoted Foss as saying "if they (the NFL) don't want you, we do."

When asked if he would consider going with the AFL, Gunsel replied: "I would have to know what job was involved and what the salary was before giving an answer."

Chamberlain Near Record

By United Press International

Wilt Chamberlain, the rookie who plays like a veteran, figures to set a one-season National Association Basketball Association scoring record during the coming week.

Going into Saturday's game against the Syracuse Nationals at Philadelphia, the 7-11 Waikiki rookie had collected 2,011 points in 83 games and was only 84 shy of the NBA season high of 2,105 set during the 1958-59 campaign by Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks.

Chamberlain, averaging more than 37 points a game, will play against the Hawks Sunday at St. Louis in a nationally televised game. He probably will crack Pettit's mark Tuesday or Wednesday nights, Feb. 9 and 10. The Warriors play the Pistons at Detroit Tuesday night and the Knickerbockers at New York on Wednesday night. The Warriors play at home against the Hawks next Thursday but Wilt scoring record when he appears in that game.

Fowler has roped and tied his two calves in 30.2 seconds and so far is tops in the field of one of the hottest competitions in the show.

Fowler Tops Calf Ropers In Exposition

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—H. W. Fowler of Irving, Tex., has two serious threats to his calf roping lead to face Sunday in the final two performances of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo.

Bill George of Canadian was the only area money winner Saturday in the Fort Worth Rodeo. George was tied for second in bareback bronc riding.

Sunday is the day the cowboy championships and the final split of $67,200 in prize money will be decided.

Fowler has roped and tied his two calves in 30.2 seconds and so far is tops in the field of one of the hottest competitions in the show.

The threats to his title are from Jack Proctor of Gilmer, Tex., who has wrapped up his first calf in 14.8 seconds, and from Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, with a 16.8 second timing on his first ground round.

Tom NeSmith of Bethel, Okla., tied his second calf in 14.2 seconds in Saturday's matinee. The fast time is expected to give him a slice of the second ground round money, but he missed his first calf and isn't in contention for final money.

Clifton Smith of Tell, Tex., has the best time in the second ground round. He tossed and tied his doggie in 12.1 seconds.

Bill Feddersen of El Reno, Okla., holds the lead in another hot contest—the steer wrestling division. He slapped down a pair of Longhorns in 14.1 seconds total time.

Jim Painter of Checotah, Okla., who twisted down his steer Saturday in 7.7 seconds, turned his first in 8.3 seconds and appears to have final money in his pocket with a total time of 16 seconds flat for the two.

Meanwhile, Don L. Wilson of Buffalo, Wyo., is the high scoring man on two horses in the bareback bronc event. He won $687 as top man in the second ground round Saturday.

Wendland Captures 'Life At 40' Meet

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—Ronnie Wendland of McAllen unseated defending champion David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas 4 and 3 Saturday to win the eighth annual Life Begins at 40 golf tournament.

The Valley golfer birdied the first hole and from there never allowed Goldman, a three-time champion, to deadlock play.

Both men played their normally good games from the tee, but Wendland dazzled his Dallas opponent with near perfect approach shots and then put him away on the green.

Goldman, one of the state's finest match players, fought his putter for three hours, but could not come up with the sharp game he had displayed through four previous windy rounds.

Ironically, Saturday was windless with cloudless skies and temperatures in the upper 70s.

Only Friday Goldman had expressed his preference for the high winds, saying that they "made him bear down."

After going one-up on No. 1, Wendland halved two—and then went two up on No. 3 when Goldman bogeyed.

Goldman chipped in from 75 yards out on No. 4 for an eagle to cut Wendland's lead to one five and six to three down in both cases Goldman missed short putts which would have given him halves.

No. 7 was halved, but Wendland birdied eight to four up. Goldman birdied nine to cut the lead to three-up at the turn. Wendland was out in 31, three under par, while Goldman was even for the front nine.

Wendland went four up when Goldman bogeyed 10. They halved the next two holes with pars, but Wendland birdied 23 for a five-hole lead. Once again Goldman missed a short putt.

Goldman birdied No. 14 for a short reprieve, but both shotmakers parred the 15th to give Wendland the crown. Wendland had a meal score of 67, four under par. Goldman finished with a one-under 70.

Finsterwald Top Winner

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., starting 1960 like he finished 1959—a leader in the ranks of professional golfers.

The Professional Golfers' Association announced Saturday that the 30-year-old Finsterwald is leading in money-winnings, is tops in the T.T. (top tournament) standings, ranks second in Ryder Cup points and is fifth in Vardon Trophy averages.

In 1959, Finsterwald was the PGA champion, professional golfer of the year, Vardon Trophy winner and T.T. performance point standing winner.

So far in 1960, Finsterwald has earned $6,487. Ken Venturi is second with $5,840 and Mike Souchak is third with $4,393.

Finsterwald had 21 T.T. points, compared to 23 for Julius Boros and 21 for Bob Goalby.

Souchak, the 1960 San Diego Open winner, leads the Vardon Trophy race with an average of 71.50 for 16 official rounds. Art Wall Jr., the 1959 winner, is second with 71.56.

Jay Hebert leads in the Ryder Cup race with 178 1-6 points. Finsterwald has 177 1-5, followed by Boros with 148 2-15.

Ski-Shooting Event Added To Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—For centuries men in Arctic lands have combined skiing and shooting as a means of hunting food and skins for clothes. About 50 years ago, soldiers in northern Europe made a sport of the pastime.

Now the ski shoot has come into its own. For the first time in history, it will be an Olympic Games event, just two years after the first world championship at Saalfelden, Austria.

The name given the ski shoot is "biathlon" and it is no sport at all for a guy who is frail and suffers from nerves.

Participants must be superbly strong in wind and limb and expert marksmen to boot. The event calls for 20 kilometers (12.4 miles) of skiing over rugged terrain—a course that is half uphill and half downhill. It includes many peaks and valleys ranging in altitude from 6,800 to 6,700 feet, heights at which most persons would pant after a brisk stroll.

A total of more than 1,500 feet must be climbed.

Then, at four points along the route the contestant stops, whips his rifle from his shoulder and shoots at a target. For every miss two minutes are added to his elapsed race time.

The day of the biathlon is the fourth day of the VIII Olympic Winter Games, Sunday, Feb. 21. The competitors—from nine nations—start early in the morning from the Olympic Ski Stadium at McKinley Creek, 12 miles south of here.

"We must start early—probably at 8 a.m. (p.s.t.)," said Birger Torriensen, race chief, "because the sun can quickly soften the snow and slow the race." An early start also helps contestants avoid the glare of the bright sun.

Bermuda Dunes and had a 72-hole total of 274.

Arnold Palmer, said, "I had a wild round. I had eight birdies and three bogeys. There aren't many pars on that card."

Arnold said he thought for a minute he had a hole-in-one on the 203-yard 16th hole, when his tee shot stopped a foot from the cup.

Added money of $50,000 was posted for an ace in this tournament, billed as the world's richest.

Young Joe Campbell of New York got a grip on the hole-in-one prize money Friday when he fired an ace on the 205-yard fifth at the Tamarisk Country Club.

Any other pros who get an ace will share the $50,000 with Campbell, who already is due for a cut because he made a pre-tourney agreement to go 50-50 with another pro Buddy Sullivan, Yuba City, Calif., if either hit the pot of gold.

Arnold Palmer came from behind last year to win the Thunderbird Invitational here with a last round of 62.

Reapers Nip Dumas By 2

DUMAS — Pampa Junior High's Reapers came through with a 36-34 victory over Dumas here Friday in a nip-and-tuck contest. The Reapers trailed 11-5 at the end of the first quarter and 16-14 at half-time, but came back to take a 23-22 lead going into the fourth quarter and go on to win.

Larkin Miller led Pampa's scoring with 12 points, followed by C. E. Cantrell with nine. Dwight Thompson with eight, Randy Matson with six and Jimmy Weatherly with one.

The Pampa eighth graders won in sudden death overtime over Dumas eighth, 26-25, as Eddie Barnes scored a free throw just before time ran out. The score had been tied 23-23 at the end of regulation time and 25-25 at the end of the first overtime. Kenny Hebert's basket set the game into the sudden death overtime.

Scoring for Pampa Junior High were Hebert with 12 points, Gary Davis with six, Charles Price with four and Eddie Barnes with four.

The Reapers, 26-9, led in the season, play Perryton Tuesday in Pampa. The Planters, who have a 4-1 mark, will play Perryton eighth the same day.

Giant Track Meet Slated

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A nine-event program featuring the first indoor appearance of Dallas Long competing against world's champion shotgutter Parry O'Brien in the first annual Los Angeles indoor games track meet.

In addition to the normal indoor program of individual track and field events, the meet features nine university relay teams competing in three events that include the mile relay which could possibly decide the indoor championship of the winter season.

MIAMI (Sp) — Miami's basketball teams took a pair of victories over Allison in District 11-B competition here Friday night. The boys were victorious, 49-27, and the girls won, 44-35.

The Warriors will play their last conference game against Wheeler Tuesday. Miami is second in the district with a 6-3 record, but Wheeler has already clinched the season title. Miami could, however, still win the district championship by taking the district tournament next weekend and then beating Wheeler in a playoff.

In the boys game, Larry Anderson led Miami's scoring with 22 points. Charles Hardin had eight and Jimmy Bowers seven. Barbara Holland led the Miami girls' scoring with 26 points, and Donny Byrum netted 14.

BORGER — The Borger Bulldogs moved a step closer to clinching the District 3-4A basketball championship here Friday, as they edged the Palo Duro Dons, 39-36.

Borger now has a 10-0 district mark, compared to 8-2 for Palo Duro.

Borger, which pulled away in the last three minutes to win Friday's game, had three men in double figures — Tracy Cox with 15, Frank Schaffer with 19 and Don Seamer with 13. For the Dons, Steve Carter scored 16 points, Bill Kiser 16 and David Dearing 10.

AMARILLO — The Plainview Bulldogs retained their slim District 3-4A title hopes here Friday night by whipping the Tascosa Rebels, 55-47. Plainview is in second place, two games behind Borger, with an 8-2 record. The loss dropped Tascosa into sixth place, with a 3-7 district mark.

Rice Grid Practice Monday

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rice Institute Coach Jess Neely is expected to take up where he left off last fall at trying to find the right man for the right spot Monday when the Owls open spring football practice.

Placement of personnel is expected to be the big question again for the Owls, who finished last season with a dismal 1-7-2 mark. The 1960 season opens against Georgia Tech in Houston Sept. 24.

The spring drills will be devoted to heavy duty fundamentals, to placement and to integration of last year's freshmen into the varsity squad to fill spots left by graduation of 10 lettermen.

The Owls are best off at the end position, where six lettermen are returning. They include Tommy Steilman, Billy Simmons, Johnny Burrell, Ronald Waters, John Windrow and Ronny Schultz.

Perhaps the biggest question mark is the tackle spot, where only one letterman — Robert Johnson — is returning. Altogether, some 75 candidates, including 20 lettermen, are expected for the opening drills.

Among the more experienced players returning are all-conference guards Rufus King, center Boyd King, quarterback Al Hartman and halfbacks Max Webb and Bob Wray, among others.

Trying To Buy Wismer's Stock

Creighton Miller, Saturday confirmed reports he is negotiating to buy broadcaster Harry Wismer's stock in the Washington Redskins.

Miller, lawyer for the National Football League players organization, said he was retained by a group of clients to purchase Wismer's estimated 25 per cent holdings in the Redskins.

Wismer, nationally known radio and television sportscaster, also owns part of the New York Jets in the new American Football League and is seeking to sell his Redskins stock.

Miller declined to identify his clients or the amount of the offer, rumored to be $350,000.

February, although a short month, will be a busy one for the male bowlers of the city.

The Men's City Bowling Tournament will get underway Feb. 20, with teams bowling Feb. 20, 26 and 27, and doubles and singles being held Feb. 21 and 28, according to Stanley Brake, City Association secretary.

Entry blanks for the tournament may be obtained from either Harvesters Bowl or Garden Lanes, and deadline for all entries is Feb. 12. Trophies will be awarded the sponsor and each member of the winning team; and also the first place winners in singles, doubles, scratch all-events, and handicap all-events.

Prize money will also be awarded according to the number of entries in the tournament.

A special feature of interest to both men and women at Harvesters Bowl is a "Lights Out" classic, held on the last Friday of each month, in which only the lights on the pins are used, and score is kept by candle light. The entry fee for this event is $5.20 per couple, and reservations can be made by calling Harvesters Bowl.

First-place winners last month were Manny Holden and Dee Watson, who received $25 and trophies.

Those planning to enter the event will please note the date has been moved up to the 19th of this month because of the City Tournament.

Out at Garden Lanes this week, the Garden Lanes team, in Merchants League, bowling against K&H, had the highest game and series of the year at that alley, a fine 1200 - 3285 (with handicap). Members of this team are Allen Duroy, Jack Delaney, Orban Epperson, Ted McDonald, and Pete Cole.

Five Garden Lanes juniors, John Pierce, Jack Criss, Dwight Mackie, Mike Clark, and Mike Maguire, will meet today at 1 p.m. in a return match with the Coca Cola team of Amarillo. The Pampa juniors traveled to Amarillo last week and took three out of four games.

High games for the women at Garden Lanes last week were Mary Heffin's 171, Jo Burgund's 173, and Barbara Edwards' 178 in the Ladies League; Ruth Lassiter's 167, Darlene Vespstad's 170-436, and Marie Parsley's 169 in the Nite Owl League.

In the mixed leagues at the Garden, Cecil Ikero's 503, Al Staus' 231, Ruth Blumer's 457, and Beulah Nichols' 162 were high in Northcrest; and Gil Burgund's 539, John Texas Tech's gigantic project—moving the entire football stadium—is progressing well. Five of the seven sections slated for moving have already been moved. The sixth section will be moved Tuesday or Wednesday, weather permitting.

As far as is known, this is the first time anyone has tried to move an entire football stadium. However, the builders consider it as a routine job, involving the moving of seven buildings.

Don Rossi, Texans' general manager, said Miller who retired from pro football in 1957 after a four-year hitch with the Los Angeles Rams is bent on making a comeback. Miller, now working for a Baton Rouge, La., business firm, stands 6 - 2 and weighs 230.

The Short Line

By RED GRIGGS

Pampa fans will have a chance to see ex-Harvester Bobby Gindorf in action when Texas Tech's freshmen play the West Texas freshmen at Canyon Feb. 11.

Gindorf is a leading scorer for the Picadors, averaging 18 points per game. As far as is known, this is the top average of any Harvester ex in college. Bobby, who got 18 points in his last game, has a total of 126 for the year.

In addition to having a high scoring average, Gindorf also has a high shooting percentage. He is leading the Picadors at the free throw line, with a .808 percentage.

Gary Wilhelm of Pampa continues to win boxing tournaments at the University of Wisconsin. Wilhelm won the all-University tournament recently, beating in the 147-pound finals the boxer who won the Fightingest Fighter award of the tournament.

The fighter Wilhelm defeated is considered a strong contender for the U.S. Olympic team this year. Earlier, Wilhelm had been named the outstanding fighter in the contenders' tournament at the University. That tournament was for first-year men only.

Elliott In Another Four-Minute Mile

BENDIGO, Australia (UPI) — He wasn't ready; he was tired from an auto trip; and there was a strong southwest wind to contend with — but Herb Elliott managed to run the 12th four-minute mile of his career Saturday.

Elliott surprised himself by posting a time of three minutes, 58.8 seconds in winning the invitation mile on the grass track at the Bendigo Show Grounds.

"I am really very happy now," said Elliott after the race. "I thought my lack of condition, also stiffness after the long, fast drive (100 miles) from Melbourne, would slow me down. But I felt really good after the first half-mile."

The race was Elliott's first four-minute effort in several months because he deliberately took a vacation from training in order to start a program aimed at this year's Olympic Games in Rome. Saturday's effort was more than five seconds slower than his world record of 3:54.5 but fulfilled an observation two weeks ago by his coach, Percy Cerutti, that Elliott "is ready to run a four-minute mile right now."

It also served as notice that the record holder is ready for his first clash of the year with his Australian arch-rival, Merv Lincoln, in the Victorian Mile Championship next Saturday. Elliott will run in a trial heat Tuesday with Lincoln running in another heat.

Labine Signs With Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The World's Champion Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday reached the halfway mark in signing players for the 1960 season with the receipt of pitcher Clem Labine's contract.

Labine, considered the busiest pitcher on the club for five straight seasons, has appeared in more games than any other Dodger hurler with a mark of 288 games over that period.

Despite his many appearances last season, Labine took an estimated $5,000 cut in pay as he fell slightly below previous years in the games he saved and won. He reportedly signed for around $23,000.

Last season was Labine's 10th with the club and he had a record of five wins and 10 losses, with five games saved to his credit in 56 games.

In addition to Labine, Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi announced that outfielder Don Miles, up from Victoria of the Texas League, had signed his 1960 contract.

Mrs. Fitton Wins Palm Beach Tourny, Despite Poor Round

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Mrs. Barbara Fitton, a tall, dark-haired school teacher from Hamilton, Ohio, outscrambled Mary Ann Downey 1-up to win the Palm Beach women's open golf championship Saturday in the worst played round of the tournament.

Mrs. Fitton was six over par and Miss Downey, of Baltimore, seven over a nine holes. Several holes were won with bogeys so poor were the scores.

"We really scrambled," admitted Mrs. Fitton. "Mary Ann is a very good golfer. At no time did I feel I had the match."

It was her first major tournament win and she said it was "like a dream." But it was an especially disappointing loss for Miss Downey, who has tried vainly to win this tournament 10 times, once before reaching the finals.

The two players were even at the turn but Mrs. Fitton went ahead on the 10th when her opponent drove out of bounds. They halved the next two holes and Miss Downey evened the match when Mrs. Fitton was short of the green in one approach shot, and hit a trap with the next.

The match went even down to 17 when Miss Downey experienced a crushing disappointment. Her approach shot landed in a trap but she blasted out of the sand nearly perfectly to lay her ball on the green only six feet from the hole. There she missed the putt. That gave her a bogey five and Mrs. Fitton played the hole safe for a par.

Miss Downey still had a chance to prolong the match by winning the 18th hole. She was on the par four green in three with a 10-foot putt left. Mrs. Fitton was on to 25 feet from the hole. But the tall school teacher rolled her putt up to within inches of the hole and Miss Downey conceded the short putt and the match.

Radiation Imitating Chemicals May Aid Fight Against Cancer

"SCIENCE AND YOU" By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new class of chemicals, which appear to imitate the effects of radiation in all its damaging effects, may help science to discover the causes of cancer. They are the nitrogen-mustards, fruits of World War II efforts to improve on the blister-raising poison gas of World War I known as mustard gas. Dr. Peter Alexander, staff member of the Chester Beatty Research Institute of the Royal Cancer Hospital in London, reports on the nitrogen-mustards' strange properties in "Scientific American."

Power Commission Sets Up Principles On 'Windfall' Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission has laid down a new principle on so-called windfall taxes in the rate structures of natural gas pipeline companies. Court tests on this issue already are pending, with more in prospect. In its newest ruling, the commission upheld the right of United Fuel Gas Co., Charleston, W.Va., a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, to any tax saving resulting from the 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance and intangible drilling costs. But at the same time it refused to give United all the taxes claimed on grounds the company had stipulated only a 6 1/2 per cent return on its investment. The commission said that this exceeded the tax benefits.

Recovery Plan To Be Enlarged

TULSA (SpI) — The board of directors of Sinclair Research Laboratories, Inc., moved to broaden the company's search for new methods of finding and recovering crude oil. To carry on the enlarged research program, the directors elected Dr. George H. Associated with Dr. Fancher in the group of scientific personnel which will administer the program will be Bruce F. Grant, laboratory manager; Dr. Virgil J. Ford, director of the Texas Petroleum Research Committee in 1949, and chairman of the petroleum engineering department in 1956.

Minor Changes Made In New Merit Insurance Plan

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Board of Insurance backed down a bit Friday on its controversial merit auto insurance plan, but stood behind the plan in principle.

It made only five minor changes, and retained a loudly protested provision that traffic violations be used as the basis for auto insurance rates.

The board announced, however, it was reserving the right to make "other possible alterations."

The plan became effective Jan. 1. As adopted, it based insurance rates on a sliding scale of points awarded for accidents, minor traffic violations and major offenses, such as drunk driving and driving without a license.

The most important change announced was one eliminating a clause that allows insurance companies to deny coverage because of inaccuracies in rating information.

It will be replaced April 1 by a new system. Under the present system, a driver must outline his complete traffic record in his application for insurance. If the underwriters find an error in the information, they can refuse to cover him.

After April 1, errors detected in the applications will cost the driver an additional premium, but will not be grounds for canceling his insurance.

The board also: —Eliminated so-called "merit" points for accidents a driver may be involved in while behind the wheel of a car that is not his own, or his family's. That change applies only to drivers of "fleet" cars owned by their employers.

—Added a clause to prevent points from doubling up on risks that are assigned through the Texas Motor Vehicle Assigned Risk Plan. (A male driver under 25, for instance, is assigned insurance through the assigned risk plan. Any points charged against his car would not be charged against other cars in the family.)

—Eliminated points for damages to an automobile caused by wild game animals. —Simplified the rating information form.

Angus McDonald, actuary for the three-member board, said the next annual rate hearing will be held in late June. If any more changes are to be made, they will be made after that meeting, he said.

indicated. The plan as it now stands has come under fire from lawmakers, some insurance men and numerous citizens. Its most vociferous opponent is Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo.

At a public hearing Jan. 14, Hazlewood urged the board to throw out a section that bases insurance rates on the driver's record of the past three years. The board ignored that plea.

Proponents of the plan believe it will reduce traffic accidents, and at the same time reward the careful driver with lower rates.

Farmers Get Short Break In Weather

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Texas farmers and ranchmen got a long awaited break in the weather during the past week but it was much too short, said director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The director said all district agents reported moisture as adequate to excessive except Joe Roth from Westlaco in South Texas. All counties in this district except Dimmit, Frio and Zavala counties are very dry.

Small grains made good growth in some areas of the state but fields remained too wet for grazing until late last week. In the Rolling Plains areas the supplemental feeding of livestock was decreased as grazing became available.

In East and Northeast Texas, the heavy feeding of livestock is continuing and moisture is excessive. All areas of the state reported a need for more open weather, so farmers could get into fields.

Land preparation on the South Plains became extensive with the weather break. Wheat made little progress in the Panhandle and heavy cattle feeding continued as an aid to hold down shrinkage. Generally, livestock conditions in the state ranged from fair to good.

Over 1,000 acres of onions were planted in Reeves county and several hundred in the El Paso Valley last week. In Frio county, 6,000 acres of land were being prepared for watermelon planting. Prices of cabbage and lettuce were described as good. Tomatoes are going into the hot beds in South Central Texas.

Flax showed improvement during the past week but open weather is needed to push it along.

The return of colder and wet weather by midweek again stopped most outside farm and ranch activities and caused a further delay in land preparation.

PARDON US, while we blow gently against our tapered nails and brush them smartly across our shoulder... the story behind this gesture is the pride in our sex for their Mother's March which was conducted so efficiently by Georgia Mack for her third consecutive year, we believe... not only did local mothers exceed their quota for last year but went over the top in the quota assigned to them this year... we know that Georgia would be the last person to want praise for a project which could not have been so successful without the wholehearted support of all the mothers who did march... but it works the other way, too, if it had failed... the responsibility for organizing, sparking and completing it was all hers... so a tip of our prettiest bonnet to Georgia... as a comparative case in point, the little city, thriving up-hill to the south of us, failed in its initial Mothers' March and had to conduct the same march a few days later... so you see why we are so proud of our local Moms.

WE VOW we have never seen two chairmen have as much fun with a civic drive as have J. C. Roberts and George Kleeburg... they have had a Ball with buckets, balloons, coffee, dieting, floathon, wheelbarrows, and dance gimmicks... and their good humor was infectious... but may we register one small gripe to prove we are American and human... next year, may we suggest car-stickers for motorists who have contributed to the bucket brigade once... we found it necessary on Saturday last to pass the bucketeers several times, and after putting our contribution into the first bucket, we felt duty-bound to explain to all the other hard-working bucketeers, as we passed, that we had already contributed... our other alternative next year, we guess, is to get a bill cashed early in the day and save a contribution for each one... instead of putting all "our coins in one bucket."

EVERYONE IS TALKING about the colorfully-gay Mardi Gras Dance which is looming on the social horizon... but soorree, no tickie left... it was a sell-out on Feb. 1... the affair sponsored annually by St. Vincent dePaul Home and School Association, will be staged in Coronado Inn's Starlight Room... Ray Hudson is overseeing all of the dance plans with the capable assistance of Marie Jamieson... Carolyn Davis... and Mahunta Hills, who are working on decorations that will bring the Old French Quarter atmosphere right into the ballroom... and Twentieth Century Cotillion has set George Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, as the date for their first Fashion-Luncheon... but the clothes that will be shown will be such that his wife, Martha, never dreamed of... the Fashion-Luncheons are to be held monthly in Coronado Inn with a different dress shop each month showing their latest seasonal fashions... and after the luncheon, guests are invited to form their own foursome for Bridge, Canasta... or whatever suits their fancy... wouldn't wait too late to get a ticket from any Cotillion member... and if their names escape you for the moment... just ask Betty Ellis or Thelma Bray... this thought just crossed our mind, imagine there are a lot of cute little kittens sleeping late this morning after attending the Hep Cat's Presentation Ball last night in the Inn... and speaking of the Inn, which we seem to be doing more and more often, we hear that Stu Kines, Inn manager, is most pleasant and accommodating to work with and goes out of his way to help hosts and hostesses make the most of the Inn's facilities.

STAG PARTY Uncle Billy Frost turned the tables on his very good friend, E. J. Dunigan Jr. this week at a stag, surprise birthday party given in the Al Schuneman's home... it was really a birthday party for both of them, since Uncle Billy was out of town on his birthday, January 10... but it was given on Ed's birthday and Uncle Billy presented him with a small, two-candle birthday cake and a very pretty little speech, we hear... since it was a stag affair, naturally Peg wasn't invited, but her favorite Mata Hara filled her in on the details... but try as we did we couldn't get a very colorful description of the male fashions... mostly blue, brown, and grey business suits with a sprinkling here and there of sport coats and trousers... "By golly!" (Uncle Billy's favorite expression) we bet it was a fun affair.

PAMPA ROYALTY we hear via the college grapevine that Thera Warner will be a Duchess in the Court of Southern Flowers during the ensuing Buccaneer Days which the city of Corpus Christi will be celebrating April 28 through April 30... it sounds so exciting!... we have learned that the traditional Buccaneer Days celebration is fast becoming a Texas Institution... it begins with the landing of pirates in the Sean Lafitte manner, who capture the city for a week of frivolity... the celebration theme is rooted in the salty legends of the sea... and the coronation, presented first in 1954, is the city's largest and most spectacular social event... Thera will share honors at the Coronation Ball and other social activities with all members of the Court... The King, a man of social and civic prominence; the Chancellor of the Realm, who crowns the King; and the Lord High Chamberlain, who serves as the master of ceremonies, are selected by the King's Men, a Corpus Christi social organization... The Queen, Princess, ten In-Town Duchesses and twelve Out-Of-Town Duchesses are daughters of prominent people and are selected by Las Donas de la Corte, an organization of women active in the social life of Corpus Christi... The Royal Court will reign over all social festivities beginning with the Coronation and Ball on April 28 and ending with an illuminated parade on April 30... imagine Alice and Ben are very proud of their pretty Duchesses... AND MORE NEWS of our younger generation, Mary Beth Harris captured the 1960 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award in Pampa High School... the award was based on her knowledge of homemaking skills... now her examination paper will be submitted for competition with other high school winners to name the state Homemaker of Tomorrow... our congratulations to Mary Beth.

HAPPY HAPPENINGS anyone who makes a local beauty shop a weekly "must" is aware that this is National Beauty Week... local beauticians, members of Unit 81, Texas Beauty Association, have several interesting and worthwhile projects planned this week to make the public aware of this vastly important-to-women business... throughout the year, the Unit does many nice things for others that are not generally known... so in this, "their week," we'd like to turn the spotlight on a thoughtful activity they are doing... they have invited the children from Bernard Gordon Memorial Home in Panhandle to our city today and plan to give them the "works"... permanents, hair-styling, shampoo and sets... anything that their guest-patrons desire or need... a nice gesture, we think.

DID YOU KNOW THAT the Garden Clubs of Pampa have established a Memorial Rose Garden in the Community Rose Garden on Duncan and Lynda Streets... and invite those wishing to do so to plant a rose-bush in memoriam of a loved one... we are assured that the memoriams are not closed to Garden Club members only... several are already planted and more have expressed a desire to have a rose-bush planted... for more information on this worthwhile project, Dona Cornutt... Juanita Caldwell... Shirley Welch... or any Garden Club member can give you the details... we have heard that Horace and Maisie Pickett are making plans to leave Pampa after many years of residence here... they are retiring to a farm in Southern Louisiana... and they will miss for they have made a large spot for themselves in the hearts of many friends... Maisie, who is an accomplished writer, is a member and quite active in the affairs of Panhandle Women's Club... we hear that luncheon will be "on-the-house" for her at the Pen Women's meeting Feb. 16 in the Amarillo Country Club.

Love, Peg

Mrs. Ray E. Stephenson Jr. nee Brenda Gayle Grimsley

Miss Grimsley Bride Of Ray Stephenson

Miss Brenda Gayle Grimsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Grimsley of Mason, and Ray E. Stephenson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Stephenson of Pampa, exchanged wedding vows on January 30 at eight o'clock in First Methodist Church, Mason, with the Rev. Raymond Taylor, pastor, officiating.

Double-ring vows were exchanged before an altar arrangement of arched frosted Chico boughs and pink mums surrounded with frosted palms flanked by white candelabra holding pink tapers. Snow-white baskets of pink mums and frosted palms; a white satin prie dieu completed the scene.

Mrs. Reuben Loeffler of Mason, organist, played Prelude and "The Bridal March." Miss Janet Lefeste, also of Mason, soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride was gowned in floor-length, bouffant peau-de-sola fashioned with an inset bodice of alencon lace. Long, tapered sleeves of poi de seau set off the molded lace bodice with applique motifs embroidered with tiny seed pearls beginning at the Sabrina neckline and cascading to hemline of skirt in front. The back interest featured a bustle bow and a sweeping chapel train. Her three-tiered fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of hand-draped Alencon lace bordered with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by cascading Stephanotis entwined with white pearls.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Katherine Schmidt of Mason attended as matron of honor; Miss Judy English of San Angelo was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Field of Chickasha, Okla., Miss Jeanette Schrieber of Mason, Miss Joan Davis of Midland. The attendants were dressed identically in gowns of Dubonnet velvet fashioned with molded bodices with full pink silk organza skirts worn over pink silk taffeta. Their slippers were Dubonnet sat.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by cascading Stephanotis entwined with white pearls.

Players Tally High Score In Bridge

Winners were Mrs. W. L. Craig, Mr. Jim Hendrix, first; Mmes. Fred Richmond, P. V. Rowe, second; Mmes. W. B. Murphy, Tom Wade, third.

RUTH MILLETT

"Edna Wallace Hopper, Darling of the 90s, Dies," said the headline over a brief news story.

No one knows how old Miss Hopper was — for her age was a secret she guarded — but she was old when I interviewed her more than 20 years ago.

Not that she looked like an old lady then or ever, so far as I know.

For after her Broadway days were over, Miss Hopper spent her life trying to hold onto youth. Her hair, which should have been snow white, was a shining, reddish brown.

Her face, which should have shown the marks of years of living, was without a single wrinkle or character line. How many times it had been lifted I do not know, but the skin was stretched so tightly over the bones that it was completely without expression — like the face of a doll.

She was prouder of her figure than most women her age are of their grandchildren, and indeed it was a dainty little figure.

But instead of covering it with clothes suitable for a woman her age, the day I visited with her, she was wearing a bright red velvet party dress with a Peter Pan collar, exactly the kind of dress that would have been appropriate for a young girl's birthday party.

Seeing Miss Hopper (who was probably then in her seventies) across a hotel lobby, you might have thought you were looking at a petite schoolgirl. But, talking to her face-to-face, you knew you knew you were talking to an old lady who had succeeded in convincing herself that no one ever has to grow old.

For the eyes that looked out of the unlined face were faded, old eyes. The skin that had no wrinkles still looked old. The young girl's clothes looked so incongruous that it seemed as though an old lady were playing dress-up in her grand-niece's wardrobe.

I always think of Edna Wallace Hopper when I see a woman pathetically trying to deny her age. For even if you spend your life trying to hold onto youth it can't be done.

Role Of United Nations In Solving Water Problem Discussed At Guild

Mrs. Carl Shafer gave the opening prayer at the Wesleyan Service Guild meeting held in the home of Mrs. Iri Smith on Monday evening. Mrs. F. W. Shotwell was co-hostess.

The study of the United Nations was continued by study leader, Mrs. Lee Harrah, who opened with the quotation of President Eisenhower, "The United Nations is still the world's best hope for peace. Its record shows it is on the right track."

Mrs. Harrah then reviewed the two-fold purpose of the UN: 1) To end war; 2) to create a climate in which wars cannot flourish.

She stressed "the importance of oil and water in our civilization and the part the UN plays through the work of the FAO and the Technical Assistance Program in preventing conflicts between nations where these resources are either in abundance or lacking."

Mrs. Harrah continued by saying, "While one-fifth of the world's surface is water, there is not enough water to go around."

Lillian Mullinax pointed out in the devotional that "next to the air we breathe, water is the most important element of our existence."

The group sang "The Church's One Foundation" and "In the Garden" led by Mrs. Carl Shafer, ac Smith.

Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson explained battle against growing old. All of those years of living and daughter's clothes. And she had nothing to talk about!

I always think of Edna Wallace Hopper when I see a woman pathetically trying to deny her age. For even if you spend your life trying to hold onto youth it can't be done.

ed the work of the Technical Assistance Program in relation to the water distribution problem.

Inex Clubb discussed the issue of the admittance of Red China into the United Nations.

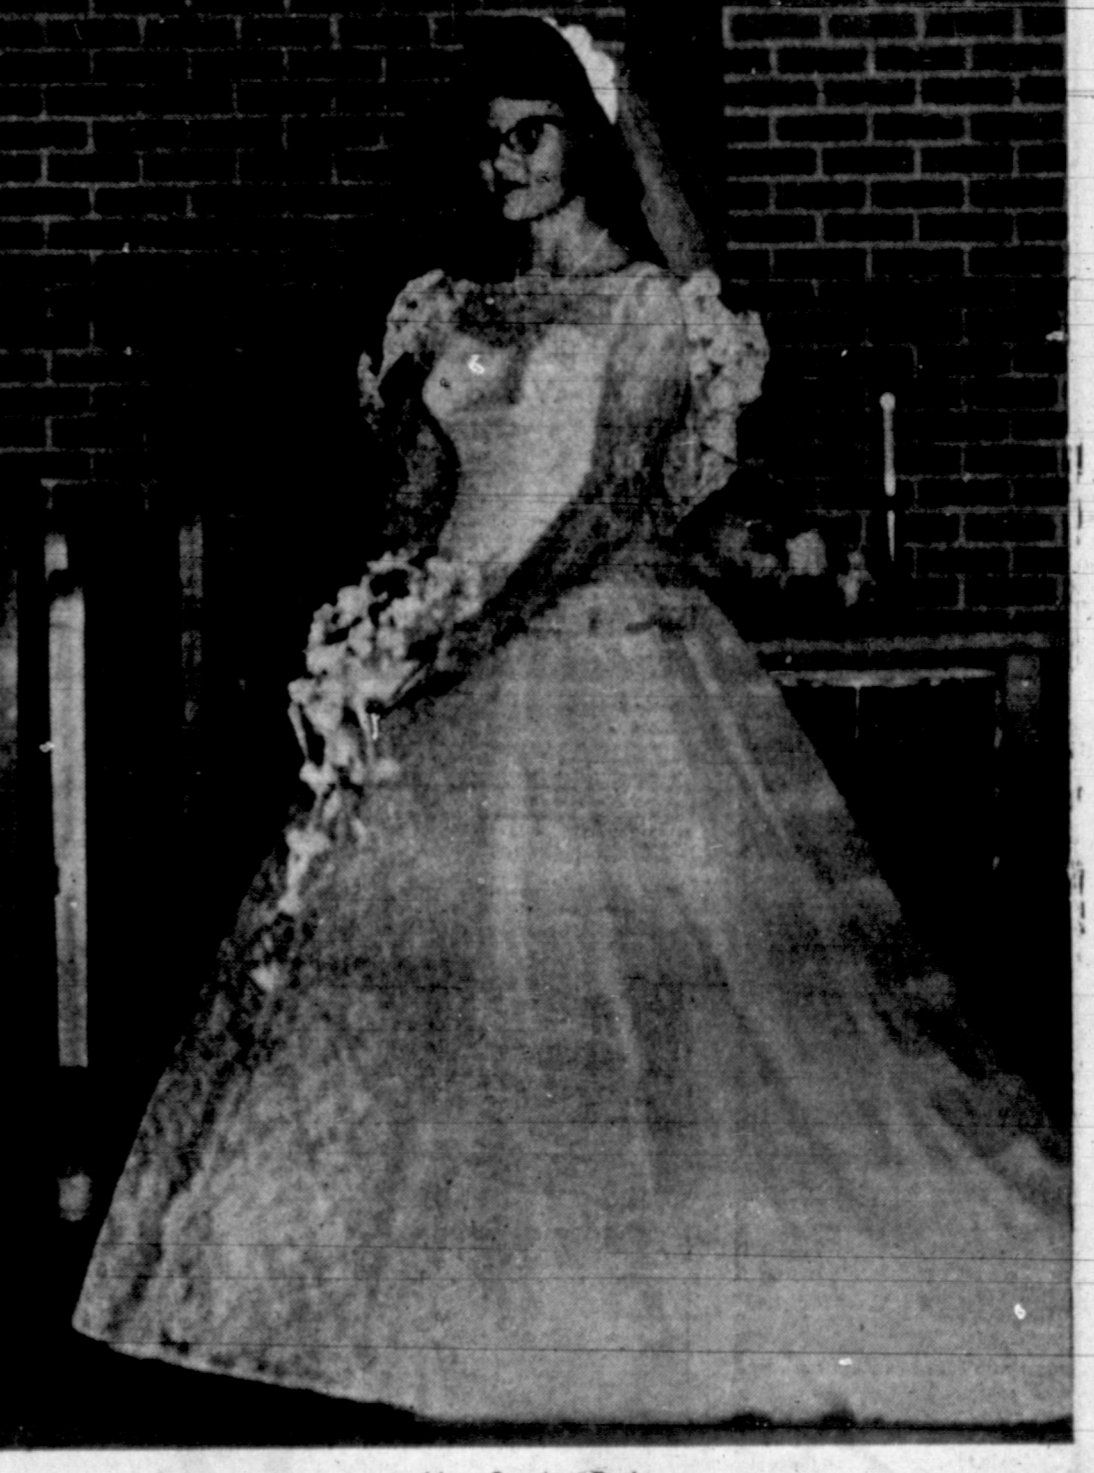

Mrs. Harrah brought out that the lack of water brings distress "but the control of water alleviates tensions; that poverty anywhere is a threat to prosperity everywhere."

She listed seven goals that the United Nations is working toward in relation to water conservation: 1) the control of flood waters; 2) development of irrigation without extensive financing; 3) proper distribution of water making use of the Nile River into which the water of seven different nations flows; 4) process of distilling sea water; 5) deep well drilling; 6) conservation of dew; and 7) the re-use of water.

The meeting concluded with news items concerning the United Nations given by Mrs. Ben Ogden and Alma Wilson. The concluding business session was conducted by Mrs. Smith.

Those attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mrs. Heston Hestand, Aubrey Jones, Lillie May Fowler, L. B. Penick, W. B. Fountain, Grace Boston, Zelma Poston, Sherman Campbani at the organ by Mrs. White, Malcom Denison, J. M. Turner, Misses Ila Pool, and Minnie Allen.

Mrs. Stanley Butler nee Judy Chase

Chase-Butler Vows In Harrah Methodist

With single-ring vows repeated on January 29, Miss Judy Chase became the bride of Stanley Butler in Harrah Methodist Church with the Rev. O. M. Butler, bridegroom's father, officiating at the seven o'clock rites. Vows were repeated amid a setting of baskets of white mums, palms and candelabra holding white, burning tapers.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion was edged deep with Chantilly lace and fell from a tiara encrusted with sequins and pearls. She carried an arrangement of roses and gardenias atop a white Bible.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's chosen colors of orchid and white were carried out in the table decorations with a white lining cloth, centered with an orchid and white floral arrangement.

Miss Chase is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chase Jr., 912 Varnon Drive. Mr. Butler's parents are Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Butler, 659 S. Barnes.

Mrs. G. O. Hall provided the traditional wedding music at the organ. Mrs. A. L. Patrick Jr., soloist, sang "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Misses Linda Hyatt and Gloria Rasco presided at the punch service. Mrs. A. L. Patrick served from the three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Miss Rasco was guest registrar.

Wayne Butler, bridegroom's brother, was best man. Groomsman were Ronnie Chase, bride's brother, Jimmie Watkins and Louis Isom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Chase chose a Royal Blue princess-style dress with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Butler, wore a Navy dress with Royal and navy blue accessories. Their coronages were fashioned from white carnations.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Shew, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. J. D. Anthony and children; college friends of the bridegroom; his roommate, Harvey, and Don Hassen.

TC Allegro Continues Study Of South America

White Deer Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Floyd Ulrich with Mrs. Alvin Lewis, president, presiding.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Leon Nickolson was elected Texas Home Demonstration Ass'n delegate and will attend the district meeting of the Ass'n to be held in Claude April 7.

Mrs. Lloyd Collins was elected the club's nominee for County THDA chairman; also elected was Mrs. Donald Booth as an alternate council representative.

Secret Pal names were drawn for the coming year.

The program for the afternoon was on "Mary Stewart Collect."

It was announced that Mrs. Charles Warminski will present the next program on Feb. 15 in the home of Mrs. Donald Booth. The topic will be "Shoe Covering."

Roll call was answered by naming "Prominent Women in Gov-

"South America" was study topic for Twentieth Century Allegro conducted Tuesday in the home of Mrs. David W. Price, 1188 Terrace.

Mrs. W. G. McComas and Mrs. Don George were in charge of the program.

Mrs. McComas discussed the life of Eva Peron using the book "The Woman with the Whip" by ernment" by Mmes. Alvin Lewis, Donald Booth, Lloyd Collins, Lowell Bynum, John Hamlyn, Leon Nickolson, Ray Armstrong.

Maria Flores. She stated that Eva first met Peron when he was a member of the G.O.U., a society of military elite, said to be the power behind the government. "Later Peron was named Secretary of Labor," Mrs. McComas continued.

"He slipped into his political position so discreetly that no one knew quite how he came to be there or what his politics were. There is no doubt that Eva inspired confidence in Peron from the very first. His cause was hers. His schemes and his enemies became hers. Eva proved to him that she was not only useful to him, but indispensable. And so they were married. After their honeymoon, they plunged into the presidential campaign, and Peron was elected."

"She continued by describing a trip made by Eva Peron to Europe. To Argentine society a yearly trip to Europe was a must. She took with her 3 or 4 exquisite costumes for each day of her two month trip. The plane she traveled in was completely refitted for the journey. There were two bedrooms and a dining room, all beautifully furnished. Mrs. McComas described "With Eva went a lady companion, her brother, a friend, a couple of aides and a secretary. Traveling ahead was her priest, her own doctor, maids, hairdresser and dressmaker."

"She was warmly received in Spain. On the day Franco decorated her, she stood on the balcony in the sweltering summer sun wearing her mink coat. She wore her fur coats and jewelry whatever the climate, or occasion."

"In Rome her audience with the Pope was to be the climax of her stay. She went with the hope of receiving a papal marquisate, an honor that she knew would be a smack in the eye to her many social enemies in Argentina. However, the church did not go out of its way to honor."

"In Paris it was difficult for the French to take her seriously. In their country no woman could gain the power that Eva held. There were so many petty annoyances that she cut her visit short. From there she went to Switzerland and received the most disrespectful reception of all. When the President drove her from the station, stones smashed the windshield and later tomatoes were thrown. She cut her visit short again."

"She did not go to England because she could not stay at the palace. On her return to Argen-ina, no statesman could have been received with more acclaim. To make sure the crowds would be large enough, all the working people were forced to be at the port."

Mrs. McComas concluded by stating that Peron ran for a second term in 1952 and Eva was nominated for vice president. "She did not accept the nomination for it was now evident that she was on the verge of collapse. She was later operated on for cancer and died in July 1952. The story of Eva Peron is a tragedy. The tragedy was not in the manner of her death, it was in her life, the life of a destroyer who must be destroyed."

Mrs. George discussed the life of Simon Bolivar, the liberator of South America. She stated that the life of Simon Bolivar was an absorbing romance; "to tell his story is necessarily to shorten a great drama which was actually lived," Mrs. George stated.

"Of all the generals of America's romantic period, he was the most modern. He was the southern embodiment of the sacred American conception — the right of man to be free. He gave his mind and soul to liberating his country."

She continued by saying that Bolivar was born a blue blood; his ancestors had all been Spanish except perhaps one great great grandmother, who may possibly have been an Indian. No child in Venezuela was better born. Few were richer. But he was to use all of his fortune for the liberty of his country."

After tracing Bolivar's career through law study, a leading part in the Venezuelan Declaration of Independence, and putting down Royalist Rule in Caracas and New Granada up to the year 1819, when Bolivar was proclaimed president of the Republic of Columbia, Mrs. George concluded by saying, "Bolivar died of tuberculosis at 47, yet his spirit will never die. It is the great star of the South which guides the continent. Millions reverence his name and his likeness is stamped not only upon the coins of many countries but upon the hearts of the people in them."

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Gentry, the following officers were elected to serve in 1960-61: Mrs. David W. Price, president; Mrs. John Gentry, vice president; Mrs. Carl Hillis, secretary; Mrs. Jack Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Bill Braly, reporter; Mrs. Don George, parliamentarian.

Plans were discussed for the Guest Day Tea to be held March 15th at Lovett-Memorial Library. Refreshments were served during the social hour to twelve members by the hostess, Mrs. Price, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Bridges.

It was announced that the next meeting will be on February 16 with Mrs. Hillis in her home, 2324 Mary Ellen. There will be a continuation of the study of South America.

Merten Members Told To Simplify Housework Tasks

"More Work With Less Effort" was the program Mrs. Jack Howard brought to the Merten Home Demonstration Club at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bob Brandon, Cities Service Camp.

Mrs. Howard gave a demonstration on a work-saving plan to make a bed. "All the bedding should be placed in a chair nearby. The bottom sheet should be folded in half on the bed, then the corners should be mitered. Finish one side of the bed-making then go to the other side. This method," she said, "saves many steps."

Mrs. Howard outlined four steps for work simplification: 1) break down job; 2) question every step; 3) develop new methods; 4) and use new methods.

She also advised "to make your motions count. Leave out any part of a job that you can. Sit to work, whenever possible. Use the best tools and make both hands work."

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Brandon, president, Mrs. A. M. Nash was elected to serve as secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Howard was appointed chairman for bed-room improvement; Mrs. Brandon was named family economic chairman and Mrs. T. C. Groves, homestead improvement chairman.

Clanging Midnight Raids On Ice-Box To Be Hushed With Thudology Science

"WOMAN TO WOMAN" By PATRICIA MCCORMACK Unit: d Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Look for the science of thudology to quiet some clatter on the homefront. So promises Jerome E. Ruzicka...

The principle is demonstrated by dropping a half-dollar on the kitchen sink. It clinks and rings. But drop a half-dollar piece of the tranquilized metal on the same sink and you have to strain to hear—a thud.

Joan Crawford, Miss America 1960 Discuss Elusive Quality Of Glamor

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two women whose faces are their fortune agree that beauty is a prescient of nature.

The two are Joan Crawford, a spellbinder in the grand manner, and Lynda Lee Mead, who as Miss America of 1960 is a relative newcomer to the field.

The movie queen and the beauty queen met for the first time this week, when Miss Mead, an English major at the University of Mississippi, came to New York for the annual Pepsi-Cola convention.

The movie queen and the beauty queen met for the first time this week, when Miss Mead, an English major at the University of Mississippi, came to New York for the annual Pepsi-Cola convention.

Over soft drinks (what else?), the three of us sat in Miss Crawford's suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for some "girl talk" on the ingredients of beauty, glamour and sex appeal.

"Well," said Miss Crawford of the big eyes and red-gold hair, "I don't think that confection-ery prettiness—that candy box look—is beauty."

"On the long haul, it's bone structure that counts. And that, you're born with."

"Both dismissed the Brigitte Bardot types as something less than beautiful, male votes to the contrary."

"The baby doll face is not my idea of beauty," said Miss Mead. "Nor is the unkempt look."

"I'll tell you the first ingredient of glamour," said Miss Crawford. "It's cleanliness."

"Amen," said Miss America, a 20-year-old brunette who looked like she had just stepped from a shower.

"And," continued the actress, "glamour is planning." She cited as an example hers for the convention, at which she was official hostess.

"Every dress, every hat, purse, pair of shoes, jewelry. Everything planned right down to the last hanky," she said. "Time consuming, yes, but you have to do it. You have to be so prepared that you walk into a room, completely

What's Ahead
In 1960's For Homeowner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Everybody has been making glowing predictions for the economy and business in general in 1960. But what's ahead for the homeowner?

House & Home Magazine has taken time out in its latest issue to let us know how much of the miracle of the '60s we will see.

In appliances, the professional housing magazine states, the miracles are familiar: washers that handle as many as 11 different laundering routines at the push of a button; refrigerators that never frost up, and ranges that do everything but peel potatoes.

On interior walls, there will be new, almost indestructible finishes with the look of hand-rubbed wood to make inexpensive plywoods and hardboards compete with luxury paneling.

In bath fixtures, there are new round lavatories, new wall-hung bowls, new cabinetry; and behind the clean-lined look, new leakless, dripless tank and lavatory fittings.

For structural use, wood and aluminum are teaming up with new plastic glues and finishes to keep the battle of materials on an even plane, and make better products for today's houses.

In windows, the package will be more complete; there are multi-track units which make storms and screens part of the prime window. Plastic sash and plastic slides also are making news.

For heating, there are more compact furnaces and boilers that put out more heat per dollar with less smoke and odor. Some come packaged for one-step installation.

In electronics, the intercom has become a top extra, and more and more it will include complete music systems.

Series Of TV Specials
Will Feature Satires

By DOC QUIGG
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—"I am a purveyor of frivolities," said Max Liebman, "and I am to keep busy."
If a purveyor is to keep purveying, he has to have ideas, and Liebman's latest idea is a series of specials on TV presenting comic portraits of figures easily identifiable to the public.
Such as: The American businessman, the lover, the chorus girl, the career girl, the college boy, and the cowboy. The lover now is being considered for a Liebman show—a satire on how he behaves in literature, song, the movies, and real life.

The cowboy has already made it. He will be spoofed for an hour Wednesday night on a Liebman-produced special on CBS-TV. Against a sort of documentary background, the show will poke fun at cowboy legends, put the cowboy in an atmosphere such as he seldom is connected with, lampoon TV westerns. Wally Cox will play Billy the Kid.
One skit will show the method of going through the first day of rehearsal of a cowboy show.
Liebman became famous for this kind of thing early in the history of television. He was the producer of "Your Show of Shows" and created the first "spectaculars," and he has received 65 awards for TV producing and directing.
He did a bit of research on the cowboy in general and came to some conclusions about the stories that built up around the old-time bad men.
"Most of it is hearsay—legends and folktales," he said. "There is no such thing as a folk villain. All bad men in the legends are heroes. Most of them were gangsters, unattractive, and represented the equivalent of our current hoodlums. And those that lived on in the stories were glorified."

What is quickly discernible is that through the years there also has been an exodus from New York to California and with it there has been a great deal of Hollywood thinking that has gone into TV. What's Hollywood thinking? It's essentially related to picture making.
"There are many more story-telling shows now, and they have the personality of pictures rather than the theater. We have lost the opportunity for TV to develop as a new medium of its own—its own facets, style, technique, and advertising people."
"In this last year, because of the accent on special shows, there's been an attempt made to bring the show people back—Broadway and movie producers—to head up many of the specials. I guess the wheel is turning again."
