Senate To Continue Civil Rights Debate

Weather Outlook Is Grim Trouble Seen Moving East

A thin, dangerous sheet of ice from border to border today and meteorologists expect a new possible source of trouble building up in the north.

The Panhandle was heavily hit and occasional snow showers pelted the countryside. South Plains were expected to get light freezing rain and dry weather.

It was also hazardous because as far south as the Rio Grande the ice extended westward in the Big Bend country and a belt 200 miles wide and miles long.

At least one death and scores of injuries were blamed on the storm.

Forecasters in Amarillo kept a watch on a low pressure center in New Mexico to see what happens. It is expected to develop there and move eastward.

Northwest Texas minimum temperatures in North Central Texas were expected to range between 20 and 30 tonight.

In the northwest portion of Central Texas, 25-32 degrees were predicted. In the south portion, 32-42 degrees were predicted.

East Texas 25-32 degree temperatures were predicted in north portion with 32-42 degree readings in the south portion.

Coated thousands of miles power and telephone wires over Dallas early today because of the longest and most persistent spell of winter weather.

Further north, it was late March weather. Usually a single case in January.

Thelma Marshall, 53 of Terrell was killed Monday night when the car in which she was riding skidded on ice.

Hundreds Feared Dead In Morocco Earthquake

CASABLANCA, Morocco (UPI)—Devastating twin earthquakes, a tidal wave and fire struck the sleeping Atlantic port city of Agadir Monday night and fragmentary reports trickling in over shattered communications lines today told of a major disaster.

The reports placed the causalities somewhere from thousands to tens of thousands.

Panic swept the city of 40,000 as roofs and walls tumbled down on victims in their beds in the first shock which hit at 11:39 p.m.

Within moments a giant wave smashed 300 yards inland from the ocean.

A second earth shock followed quickly, and then flames began to eat through the wreckage of houses and business buildings.

Hotels built by the French along the coast's radio station at Las Palmas, in the Canary Islands, said it had heard a report from a Moroccan radio announcer saying there were 2,000 dead.

The shock crumpled the city's biggest hospital, some of the largest hotels and the Chamber of Commerce building. The crowded Moslem section of the city was 90 per cent destroyed.

"It was horrible," sobbed one woman tourist who reached Casablanca after a 240-mile flight north by car.

The tidal wave rolled in from the Atlantic shortly after the shock and smashed into the seaside edge of the city like a giant fist. Fires broke out in various places throughout the city.

Land communications with the stricken city were wiped out and radio channels were filled with calls for help and fragmentary reports of the disaster. The full extent may not be known for days.

Morocco is part of the Mediterranean earthquake belt that extends to Greece, up through Italy, and into southern France. The Melouza region of Algeria, 850 miles from Agadir, was hit by a quake eight days ago. Forty-seven persons were killed.

Markus Baath, director of the Uppsala University seismologic office in Sweden, said the effects of any quakes in the Mediterranean area can be severe because the earth is loose.

The French naval base at Agadir said the old part of the city—the Arab quarter and its poor Moslem suburbs—was 90 per cent destroyed and 70 per cent of the modern European sector and 30 per cent of the industrial quarter were in ruins.

The city's biggest hospital was destroyed and the injured and dying had to be removed to the French naval airbase just south of the city.

Eighteen French warships on a visit to the Canary Islands were ordered to proceed at top speed to the stricken city to render aid. The ships sailed minutes after receiving orders.

Commissioners had a rather light agenda at their meeting today in city hall.

A proposed addition, unofficially named Bethune Heights, was discussed but tabled without action as a proposed tennis court at Carver School.

Commissioner H. V. Wilks called the commissioners attention to an economic study of Pampa, prepared in 1955 and pointed out its accuracy.

He said several of the predictions in the survey are true today and proves "planning can be accurate, therefore reliable, and the study should be made available to the planning commission."

Issue Behind Great Debate:

A hard core Southern bloc is fighting all proposals on grounds that they violate state sovereignty and that present federal laws are adequate.

On the third time through the roll of the Senate, the vote was announced as 55 to 5 in favor of the necessary quorum and making the instruction unnecessary.

Johnson predicted earlier that after "much debate and some delay" the marathon civil rights session would result in legislation to "guarantee every American citizen the right to vote."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the southern bloc, told the Senate during the all-night session that two parts of the administration's civil rights proposal, dealing with Negro voting, were relatively inoffensive to the South.

Johnson, fresh from a breakfast of Hoppicks and milk, told reporters the Senate was prepared to go "as long as necessary for every senator to give his viewpoint and his recommendation."

Johnson said he was "very reluctant to shut off debate" until all the senators had done so.

"Our nation has been struggling with the (civil rights) problem for 100 years," he said, "and you just can't wave your hand and have it go away."

Johnson said he felt "fine after the all-night session. He caught only snatches of sleep in his office near the floor.

Many of the senators slept on cots and couches in the Senate cloakrooms, the old Supreme Court chamber and the Senate Appropriations Committee hearing rooms as well as in their own offices.

They were awakened twice during the night to answer quorum calls at 3:29 a.m. and 5:45 a.m.

Johnson said some of the senators complained that their cot-leagues snored too loudly.

Russell told the Senate that Attorney General William P. Rogers referred to protect Negro voting rights in the South was "down the line in the order of being obnoxious to me and my associates."

Vote Is Victory For LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate voted overwhelmingly shortly after dawn today to go on with its around the clock debate designed to wear down southern opposition to civil rights legislation.

The vote came just before 7 a.m. when the chamber had been in continuous session for almost 19 hours, on a motion by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) that the Senate adjourn at 8 o'clock tonight. It was voted down 55 to 6.

It was an overwhelming vote of confidence for Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen. The rights supporters showed they had ample votes to hold the Senate in session indefinitely and thus keep pressure on the 16 southern senators trying to talk civil rights legislation to death.

Another roll call, started at 8:40 a.m. was requested by Morse to determine whether the sergeant-at-arms should be instructed to "invite" absent members to attend.

U.S. Spending Panel Topic At C of C Meeting

By CHARLIE CROSS Daily News Staff Writer

A panel discussion on government spending was held yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development in the Coronado Inn.

Members of the panel were delegates to the Airside for Congressional Action meeting Friday in Ft. Worth. Don Beaman acted as moderator for panel members E. Roy Smith, Arthur Smalley, Floyd Watson and Earl Schmedding. Others who attended the Airside from Pampa were H. V. Wilks, president of the chamber, Camer on Marsh, chamber financial director, James McCune, W. A. Morgan and Beaman.

The Airside is a series of meetings in various parts of the country designed to give businessmen a better understanding of the issues facing this session of Congress, especially those concerning business matters.

Beaman told the group the Airside meeting was "an enlightening experience." He said the group discussed four points of "The American Way of Life," including limited government, individual freedom, free competitive markets and steady economic progress.

Watson, discussing control of federal spending and inflation, said "Federal spending will play a major role in the control of creeping inflation. Revenues may not be what we anticipate, neither will our spending. An alarming amount of money is being spent on our national defense, and certainly I, nor anyone else, would want to cut too sharply money spent on defense." He pointed out, however, that a great deal of our defense money is "just plain wasted."

Schmedding, discussing tax reform, said "Our tax reform are a hodge-podge." He pointed out that the largest progression of taxes is in the middle classes. He said about twelve and one-half million people in the United States are currently receiving social security benefits which cost the government between two billion and two and one-half billion dollars.

He said that the government is spending more money on defense than it is on education. He said that the government is spending more money on defense than it is on education.

Emerges As Spokesman

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—President Eisenhower was expected to emerge today as a spokesman for South America in the council tables of the major powers.

He also was promoting hemispheric solidarity by emphasizing in his talks with President Jorge Alessandri Rodriguez of Chile and other South American leaders that he will take their views on international affairs to the next summit meeting.

Eisenhower was guest of honor Monday night at a state banquet in Casa Moneda, Alessandri's presidential palace. In proposing a toast to his host he bore down on a theme that seems to be producing results in South America—that he will keep South American opinions in mind when he meets Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the Western Allied leaders in Paris in May.

"I wish to go to Paris with a clear understanding of the views of our friends in this region," he told Alessandri and the elegantly-lad dinner guests.

While I am too realistic to expect miracles, I do hope that in Paris we may reach some agreements which will lessen the tensions which divide and vex the world."

They were being joined later by Burma's Premier-elect U Nu who was due this afternoon from Hong Kong.

U Nu was coming here ostensibly on a pilgrimage to Buddhist shrines, but a Rangoon dispatch said he might discuss with Khrushchev and Nehru arrangements for holding an Afro-Asian conference before the Paris summit talks in May.

There was no official word as to the subject of the Nehru-Khrushchev talks, but presumably India's border dispute with Communist China would be discussed.

Immediately after Khrushchev's recent visit Nehru invited Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai to discuss the border crisis and Chou accepted. Previously Nehru refused to talk with Chou until some of their dispute was ironed out.

They were being joined later by Burma's Premier-elect U Nu who was due this afternoon from Hong Kong.

South Faced With Explosive Situation

By United Press International

The South today faced one of the most tense explosive racial situations since the Little Rock crisis.

Calls for action by Negroes spread throughout the South. Threats of violence and demonstrations by both whites and Negroes mounted steadily.

Negro college students, expressing dissatisfaction with the speed of integration in the South, threatened a protest march in the "cradle of the Confederacy," Montgomery, Ala.

At a rally in Rock Hill, N.C., Negro student Abe Pullimer told his cheering listeners "If we fight now, we'll be free by '63."

Demands for integration were coupled with threats of boycotts in Alabama, Florida and South Carolina, for voter registration in Alabama and a hint the Negroes will attempt to integrate the University of Alabama.

As the Negroes opened the second month of an all-out campaign against racial segregation, more than 700 students at Alabama State College (Negro) in Montgomery pledged to quit school if any of 35 who engaged in lunch counter demonstrations were expelled.

"There are not enough jails to hold us. There are not enough roads for us to leave the state," one of the 35 told the crowd.

The Rev. Solomon S. Seay Jr., said Negro youth would "make news soon, we don't mean at Kresses or Woolworth, but at the University of Alabama."

"The cradle will rock," shouted another speaker.

Students In March

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—More than 1,000 Negro students from Alabama State College marched from the campus to the steps of the state Capitol today, singing the National Anthem and the Lord's Prayer, then returned to their campus.

There were no incidents although several automobiles filled with whites drove slowly around the building, their horns blowing.

The students returned to their campus just as they came walking quietly two abreast in a line that covered three city blocks.

Carolyn Showers, a soprano, led the singing of the Lord's Prayer.

Two state highway patrol cars slowly circled the white-columned Capitol while Jefferson Davis signed the oath of office as first president of the Confederacy 99 years ago. A sprinkling of city policemen was seen on the fringes of the Negro students.

The Capitol was closed for Mardi Gras a legal holiday in Alabama.

Directors of the Top O' Texas Breeder's Association and members of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce were scheduled to be at Recreation Park today at 1 p.m. to put buildings and grounds in shape for the Top O' Texas Livestock Show and Sale scheduled next week.

Eighty-one calves, 275 hogs and 60 head of breeder cattle have been entered.

Groups Ready Park Grounds For Livestock Show, Sale

The judge of the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show will be Charles Smallwood, head of the Department of Agriculture at West Texas State College, Canyon. Harry Winston of Snyder will judge the Hereford breeder's show.

Forty-five teams from Area One of the Future Farmer's of America are scheduled to compete in the livestock judging contest Tuesday.

The program will be devoted to explaining the current exchange project of bringing a foreign exchange student to study in Pampa.

The program includes visitation with teachers in their rooms from 7 to 8 p.m., the panel discussion in the auditorium from 8 to 8:30, and refreshments in the cafeteria from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Ivis Says Goodbye To Army Life

RIEBBERG, Germany (UPI)—Lt. Elvis Presley began his new life in a Hollywood-style press conference at which he said he liked his life so well he was thinking of writing a book about it.

The rock and roll singer leaves many Wednesday after 18 months as a soldier with the U.S. 3rd Armored Division during that time he rose from private to acting sergeant.

He won plaudits from all for his singing.

His lights faded and flash cameras popped as Elvis, trim in a form bearing his three new faces, faced questions from more than 200 newsmen in a large barracks building.

Groups Ready Park Grounds For Livestock Show, Sale

Directors of the Top O' Texas Breeder's Association and members of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce were scheduled to be at Recreation Park today at 1 p.m. to put buildings and grounds in shape for the Top O' Texas Livestock Show and Sale scheduled next week.

Southern Vote For Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The basic issue behind the Senate's historic around-the-clock civil rights debate is the right of Negroes in the South to vote.

Republicans and Northern Democrats both want credit for federal action to insure wider Negro suffrage in this presidential election year.

But many civil rights advocates from big Northern states want to go much further. On the other hand, many moderates are willing to settle for some kind of voting rights bill.

A hard core Southern bloc is fighting all proposals on grounds that they violate state sovereignty and that present federal laws are adequate.

Officially before the Senate is President Eisenhower's rights program, offered by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) as a substitute amendment to an unrelated minor bill affecting a Stella, Mo., school district.

More than 200 proposals—bills, resolutions, amendments, etc.—pertaining at least vaguely to civil rights have been introduced last year and this. Most of them could be offered as amendments to the Stella bill unless the Senate voted to cut off debate by imposing its rarely-used cloture rule.

The Eisenhower proposal would: Make use of force or threats to obstruct court ordered school desegregation a federal offense.

Permit federal officers to cross state lines for arrests in "hate" bombings of schools, churches, etc.

Empower the attorney general to inspect local voting records in federal elections and require that the records be preserved for a "reasonable period."

Provide for temporary financial and technical aid to localities trying to integrate schools.

Extend the federal Civil Rights Commission until 1961. (Congress already did this last year.)

Make the President's committee on equal job opportunity under government contracts a permanent organization. It is headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Establish federal voting referees to insure Negro suffrage in their public schools are closed because of integration disputes.

Mardi Gras - New Orleans Gives It Up

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — "I am stop that," gasped a girl in the middle of the street.

"But honey," replied George Washington, "it's Mardi Gras."

And indeed it was, as half a million persons, their inhibitions off with a chilly wind, ran wild through the streets of New Orleans.

Dressed in costumes, wearing masks they won't have to face the mirror Wednesday, visitors and natives alike took advantage of the yearly open season on Mardi Gras that is Mardi Gras Day of Shrove Tuesday.

A clown kissed a cannibal on the cheek and Dracula fell off a lamp post in the French Quarter. A sea of humanity rolled before the magnificent floats of wax, king of Mardi Gras, clowns, king of Mardi Gras with his parade through the streets.

Two floats from a tugboat pulled this morning herald the rival of King Zulu, monarch of the Negro Krewe, who wallows up a Mississippi on a barge and marks to form his parade.

Where the ensuing parade will be anybody's guess. It has probably never gone the same way twice and generally follows a route containing the most bars, particularly the most bars, particularly the most bars, particularly the most bars.

It generally ends when the king is led or when his followers sink gently to the pavement and are removed and revived for another round, even less organized, sometime later.

All of the past week has been at a preparation for today — all the parades, all the gaiety that would last most cities for a long, long time.

Everything has gone according to schedule, just like Mardi Gras as gone since 1827.

One-half billion dollars annually. Beaman asked Schmieding about a program of specialized medicine. He replied: "In England, where they have socialized medicine, each doctor has between 2,700 and 3,500 patients, and certainly I don't think our doctors here would care to treat that many."

Smith told the audience that "The United States Chamber of Commerce is fighting a holding action against federal intervention in business and community affairs."

He said, "Most of us are unaware of the fantastic spending schemes that are laid before Congress each year, but we who pay the bill had better inform ourselves." He pointed out that the national debt is actually closer to a trillion dollars than the 290 billion estimated.

"The bulk of the nation's wealth is situated in the cities of America so it's a sad situation when these cities have to go to Washington to secure aid," Smith asserted.

When Beaman asked Smith if there is a real need for federal aid to our schools, he replied, "The word 'need' is the bugaboo, and it's the U.S. Chamber's position that the 'need' does not exist." He pointed out there are 40,000 school districts in the United States, and only about 200 actually need federal assistance.

Smalley told the group they actually have two choices in participating in labor legislation. He said, "You can either become an invested capitalist or a socialist by default. We must have industrial peace, which can be brought about only by better relations between labor and industry."

"The United States Chamber of Commerce is consulting all members of industry, and will prepare a several point program on industrial peace. There have been several proposals to federalize unemployment compensation, and remove it from state's hands. If this is accomplished, it will make unemployment very attractive, since a person will be able to work long enough to earn $1500, then draw $500 from the government on unemployment compensation. In this way," he explained, "a person could lead a large part of the year, and still make about $3,000."

When queried by Beaman on the subject of right to work laws, Smalley replied that "chances are not good for a federal right to work law."

covered State Highway 16 near Fredericksburg, and overturned. She was crushed in the wreckage. The Weather Bureau today renewed hazardous driving warnings for Northwest Texas and that part of Southwest Texas from the upper Pecos Valley eastward. Glaze warnings were issued for East, South Central and North Central Texas.

Robert Bland, a meteorologist at the Fort Worth Weather Bureau, said the current surge of cold weather has been the longest of the winter for North Central and Northwest Texas.

At Fort Worth, the mercury has climbed no higher than 50 degrees for a week.

Highway department crews in the icy areas worked overtime sanding streets and bridges to prevent auto accidents, but they still happened by the dozens. Motorists were hampered not only by skidding tires, but by ice - over windshields.

At last report there were three persons injured in accidents at Midland, one of the cities hardest hit by the freezing rain and sleet.

Spaulding, 24, a Midland policeman, was standing between two wrecked cars when a third car skidded on ice and rammed the wreckage, pinning him between the cars. His knee was crushed.

Frank B. Green, 24, suffered minor injuries in a Midland auto accident, and Charles Long, 61, of Seminole, Tex., slipped on an icy sidewalk and broke his hip. He was returning from his mother's funeral.

The mercury climbed no higher than 17 degrees at Amarillo Monday, and early today it fell to 14, but the rain there had stopped. It was 15 at Dalhart. The highs were 48 at Houston and Galveston.

At last report freezing rain was falling at Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Mineral Wells, Abilene, Midland, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Tyler and Texarkana.

Snow fell at Childress and Dalhart, while Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Laredo, San Antonio, and Austin had light rain. Skies were cloudy over the entire state, except for the immediate El Paso area.

In a special glaze warning for North Texas, the Weather Bureau warned drivers to use extreme caution.

quire state election officials to preserve voting records for three years.

In fact, Russell said he saw little wrong with this section except for some increase in the attorney general's power.

But otherwise the well-organized band of 16 Southern senators continued to oppose stubbornly new rights legislation. They worked in relays to keep part of their forces on the floor at all times.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) indicated the Southerners were prepared to keep up their talkathon for days. After talking for more than four hours Monday night, he said he planned to speak again Thursday.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), who spoke in the hours between midnight and dawn, hinted that new civil rights laws might spark racial violence in the South. The South hasn't had any race riots yet, he said, but it is "apt to have."

Sen. Everitt B. Jordan (D-N.C.), who followed Holland, complained that governors and other state officials had not been given a chance to testify at congressional hearings on civil rights legislation.

Dillinger Nemesis Is Dead

FLORENCE, S.C. (UPI) — John Dillinger, the notorious bank robber who eluded numerous traps set by law enforcement agencies in the early 1930's, never had a chance to come face-to-face with the man responsible for his one-way ticket to the morgue.

If Dillinger had, he probably would have been shocked. The FBI agent credited with setting the trap that resulted in Dillinger's death was 5-foot 7-inch, 127-pound attorney by the name of Melvin Purvis. He died Monday.

Purvis, who had become agent-in-charge at Chicago in 1932, disclaimed credit for ending the infamous career of America's public enemy No. 1 near a Chicago movie house on the night of July 22, 1934. Dillinger was shot to death as he tried to escape from FBI agents.

Man Jailed For Worthless Check

Two persons paid fines, one of them drawing a jail sentence yesterday, on charges of swindling with worthless checks.

Don Grifone, Amarillo, was assessed a fine of $10 and costs, and sentenced to 90 days in jail. He was charged with giving a worthless check to R. L. Pugh in the amount of $10.15 Dec. 23.

In the other check case, L. G. Culbertson, White Deer, was fined $5 and costs and directed to make restitution on a check given to Wilson Drug in the amount of $5 Nov. 15.

Five Smashups On City Streets

Five collisions were reported to the police department yesterday as the result of snow-slick streets.

A three-car crash at 3:44 p.m. yesterday caused no injuries, but did considerable damage to one of the cars involved.

The accident happened at the intersection of Browning and Davis involving vehicles of Lloyd L. Stamps, of Groom, Eugene Baumgardner of Rt. 1, Pampa, and James E. Young, of 307 N. Dwight. No damage was caused to Stamps' car, but Baumgardner's automobile suffered approximately $400 damage. Damage to Young's vehicle amounted to approximately $50.

Another crash at the intersection of N. Frost and Finch Sts. caused minor injuries to Mrs. Rose Scoggins, 929 S. Russell. Mrs. Scoggins was a passenger in an automobile driven by James Henry Scoggins, when it was in collision with a car driven by Harold Don Shultz, 443 Hazel. Mrs. Scoggins was treated at Highland General Hospital and released.

The other three accidents were described by police as minor with practically no damage to vehicles and none to drivers or passengers.

EARTHQUAKE

Minister Abdullah Ibrahim flew from the capital at Rabat to personally direct rescue and aid operations. U.S. Air Force rescue teams at Moroccan bases stood by.

The Agadir radio messages picked up at Las Palmas said the "strong earthquake" that all but devastated the city left an urgent need for doctors and medicines for the injured.

Although a slight tremor had rumbled beneath the city only 12 hours before the disastrous earthquake struck at 11:39 p.m. (6:39 p.m. e.s.t.) the thousands of tourists jamming the winter resort's spas and hotels were apparently caught sleeping.

A young woman who fled to Casablanca with three companions by car gave an eyewitness account. She asked that her name not be used.

"It was horrible," she said sobbing. "The shock came about a quarter to midnight. It must have lasted only eight or 10 seconds but it seemed to go on forever."

"Walls shook and collapsed like houses of cards. Part of our villa tumbled down. In most houses the doors were jammed and people had to leap out of their windows. The streets were blocked with rubble. Fires broke out."

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our cousin is getting married. He asked my brother and me to be ushers at his wedding.

We just found out that the bride's sister (we call her "Horseface") is going to sing.

"Horseface" takes singing lessons but when she sings people laugh at her. Her voice is high and screechy. When she reaches for the high face turns purple. Every time my brother and I even think of "Horseface" singing, we go into hysterics.

The ushers will be right in front, facing the people. Our mother says if we can't control ourselves when "Horseface" sings we should accept the honor of being ushers. Would it be wrong of us to ask our cousin if he can get "Horseface" off the program?

WANT TO BE USHERS

DEAR WANT: If you can't control yourselves when "Horseface" sings, say "neigh" to being ushers. It is out of order to express your opinion of the vocalist. Especially since she is the bride's sister.

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I have just read your book, DEAR TEEN-AGER, and think it is the best book I have ever seen on the subject of modern teen-age problems. You supply the answers in language that teen-agers will understand and accept. Our school guidance departments are using it in their classrooms. I am sure it will help steer many a youngster in the right direction.

Superintendent of Public Schools, Sincerely, W. F. Johnson, Spencer, Iowa.

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls who works with me asked my advice and I don't know what to tell her. You guessed it. She's going to have a baby and she isn't married. The guy says he will marry her but according to this girl she doesn't care for him enough. But she wants to give the baby a name. She plans on marrying him and then divorcing him later. I told her she'd be ahead to apply for help from a local agency and forget about marrying him because in this day and age an unwed mother has a better chance than a divorcee. She's from off a farm and her father is a minister so she can't go home. Is my advice what you'd call good or not?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Marriage should be forever. To marry a man with the intention of divorcing him (even to give a child a name) is unwise. Your friend should call her local Family Service Association, or a home for unwed mothers for help in making arrangements. She can probably get support money from the baby's father.

CONFIDENTIAL TO 'MISS FORTUNE COOKIE' According to the Chinese calendar, this is the year-of-the-rat. What did you expect?

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sports coats go horsey this spring. Designs inspired by the blatantly loud horse blanket make their appearance in bold plaids of many hues, including new greys and olives. Zefran acrylic is used in the coat, above. Coat is equally at home at track or cocktail lounge.

Sport Coats Go Horsy This Spring As Designers' Eyes Focus On Horse

By DECK KLEINER Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — The ever-roving eyes of fashion designers have focused on the horse. And the forecast for spring is that the well-dressed man, consequently, will be horsey.

It is the horse blanket which has attracted the designers. In the big, bold plaids that decorate most of these coil-warmers the stylists have found their inspiration for new sports jackets.

For leisure wear, these horse blanket plaids, as they're called, give one a feeling of boldness, which is a pleasant effect.

The colors, for this season, are following the general trend—muted tones, with emphasis on the two big shades for spring, gold and olive, plus the more orthodox grey, navy, beige, white and black.

One of the big manufacturers is making a line of jackets, in these plaids, from a 100 per cent Zefran fabric, adding ease of care to the other qualities of the jackets.

There are two styles: a modified Ivy look, and a more interesting jacket which copies some English and continental touches, such as hacking pockets and a double vent.

Be careful if you get yourself a horse-blanket plaid jacket—careful of what you wear with it. Since the jacket itself is so bold, you'd be wise to keep your other items on the sober side—a plain white shirt, a solid tie that matches one of the jacket colors, a pair of conservative slacks in solid color.

Boldness, remember, should be confined to only one apparel item at a time.

Spring is the big convention season, so it might be advisable here to give some advice to convention-bound travelers. Victor Barrett, vice president of the Man-appeared in Concert in First Methodist Church. It was one of 18 concerts planned by the group in their annual spring tour.

David Miller, Pampa FFA member, took top honors at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show when his barrow entry was named grand champion in the Poland-China Class.

French Actress Combination Of Monroe-Gabor Starts Comeback

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor NEW YORK (UPI) — In her as famous as Brigitte Bardot, but for different reasons.

Here, she is just another actress struggling for the big chance and candidly admitting it's elusive.

"I am like starting all over again," said the woman who for nearly two decades was a star of the 300-year-old Comedie Francaise. "For a foreign actress, breaking into the movies might be easy, but breaking into the theater is a real challenge. And I am basically of the stage."

Blonde Miss Dalmes looks like a combination of Zsa Zsa Gabor (in facial structure) and Marilyn Monroe (in figure) and has dubbed the voice of Marilyn for Miss Monroe's films distributed in France.

The actress hardly considers curves a handicap for a "serious actress," but neither will she capitalize on them. "I am five feet four inches tall," she said when asked her measurements "which is about average for a French girl and a little smaller compared to Americans."

"But we do not make our bias and waist measurements part of the record as some of your stars do," she added. The actress, born in Paris, the daughter of a construction engineer, was starring at the Comedie by the time she was 20. At the time she reigned, she would do as many as 40 roles in one season, ranging from Shakespearean tragedy to modern farce.

She said she decided to come to the United States for domestic reasons — she and her American husband wearied of committing themselves to residences in Paris and New York. The actress for seven years has been wed to Claude Philippe, formerly an executive with the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and now with the William Zeckendorf enterprises.

So far, she admitted, the going had been tough because "every producer looks at me and says 'Oh, for you, we have to find a French part.'"

"Don't they realize that French people can speak English. I can do any type role, except maybe the All-American girl."

Why this desire for stardom of the American stage, with all the hard luck and hard work it might involve?

"Because," she said, "acting is part of me, and I wouldn't feel comfortable in America if I weren't busy. Here, everyone is so rush, rush, rush. Anyway, I don't see the housewife type. I don't cook."

Kennedy's Campaign Flies High Plush Plane Family Gave Him

WARD BAIRD: Kennedy's high altitude chauffeur.

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is flying for President in high style. Like aviation-minded business executives and N.A.S.A. executives and N.A.S.A. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, the Senator often travels in his private airplane. Kennedy's two-engine executive airliner, a Convair-440, is a present from his four sisters and two brothers. The gift includes a personal pilot co-pilot and stewardess-secretary plus all expenses for gasoline and maintenance. Convair-440s cost about $339,500. They have a top speed of 270 mph and can travel 2,000 miles without refueling. The accessories on Kennedy's two-tone brown and white number include an automatic pilot, auxiliary power unit and radar. The plane is based at LaGuardia Airport in New York.

plane would give an estimate of the cost of maintenance and operation. The craft's interior resembles a plush office. Furnishings include two luxurious couches and four chairs that convert into beds. One side of a large desk is fitted with a typewriter and another with a typewriter for the stewardess-secretary. The other side is used by Kennedy. A filing cabinet and mimeograph machine are located nearby. Topping off the furnishings are a television set and hot food and drink service similar to those used on commercial airliners. The inside color scheme is in shades of brown and tan. It was designed by decorators for Frederick G. Ayer and Associates, the company which made the sale to the Kennedys, and now maintains the plane. The unique feature of the company's package deal is the flight crews it supplies customers. Kennedy's high altitude chauffeur is Howard Baird, a graying, 37-year-old former Navy and commercial airline pilot. A calm man of few words, Baird looks like the strong, confident flight captain pictured on airline posters. He describes Kennedy as "the perfect passenger" and says the Senator never worries about flying. "He comes up front once in a while," Baird says, "to ask how things are going and to sit for awhile. He is always prompt for his take-offs."

Community Property Law On Tax Defined

The Internal Revenue Service reports that many Texans become confused on the community property law requirements at tax filing time. As many as 5,000 audits are expected in the Dallas district alone due to taxpayer confusion on this point.
H. B. Hamill, administrative officer of the Amarillo office, explained that many new Texans find it hard to believe that Texas community property law requires them to file their income tax return differently from most other states. He assured these new Texans, as well as the old ones, that the community property law does not apply to their income tax. He gave this explanation—
(1) Texas community property law gives both husband and wife one-half of the total income, and withholding credit each one receives.
(2) This means that in Texas the husband and wife must either file a joint return including all income or split equally but each file a separate return and each file a separate return and each file a separate return and each file a separate return.

Baird explains that he follows no special flight procedures when flying Kennedy "except meeting higher safety standards than the normal airline carriers. We have never had particularly bad weather, flying problems or plane trouble." He explains that he never leaves the controls during a flight.
Baird, a pilot with 15 years commercial flying experience, was born in Gerber, Calif., and raised in Nevada. After being discharged from the Navy in 1945, he flew for airlines in Alaska, Kansas City and Chicago.

In 1960, he signed for a five-year lease with a U.S.-owned airline operating in Saudi Arabia and Ethiopia. His last job before joining Ayer was piloting for an oil company. He, his wife and two children live in Port Jefferson, N.Y.
The co-pilot, 40-year-old Roland Dumais, hails from Pawtucket, R.I. An Army Air Corps fighter pilot in World War II, Dumais was shot down over Italy and spent six months in a prison camp. Upon returning to civilian life, he flew for airlines and private corporations.
Stewardess - hostess is brown-haired Boston beauty, Janet des Rosiers. Before joining Kennedy's staff, she was a secretary in New York.

Holland's Dicks
Holland has three kinds, or series of Dicks: Hugs, ones by or in the sea, fend off the first assaults of the waves and, if these crumble, a second bulwark takes over, followed by last-resort defenders of the individual farms.

airborne flavor was arranged on two days notice at Lusaka, capital of Northern Rhodesia. With a loudspeaker wired to a microphone atop a ramp, Graham preached to a crowd of seven hundred for fifteen minutes and then asked those desiring to accept Christ to raise their hands. Several dozen responded.
Another unscheduled meeting at Livingstone saw five hundred pack out Victoria Hall on two days notice.
While Graham was resting a few days in Victoria Falls, he came near to being dumped into the Zambezi River. He was riding in a replica of the rig in which David Livingstone had been carried by four Africans during his last journey. One of the poles broke as the procession, manned by a movie-making crew, proceeded along the river.
A few small stones were tossed and catcalls were heard as demonstrators sought to diminish Graham's audience at Kitwe. Sixty police, some with riot equipment, were on the scene to quell mild disorders outside the sports arena. Most of the people inside were unaware of the small disturbing element. Hard showers fell intermittently all day but the only weather phenomenon at the meeting consisted of distant lightning flashes.
Rhodesian cities are as modern as the cities of Europe. The atmosphere of the small town is like that of the American West, fifty years ago. The street is broad enough for a span of oxen, pulling a wagon, to turn around it.

In central Africa, the unifying forces of the English language and the airplane are opposed by divisive tides of racial misunderstanding and competition. Many Europeans fear that the Africans, aided by the British Colonial Office, will get too much power too soon. They freely predict economic chaos if this happens.
On the other hand, Africans are demanding "a place in the sun in keeping with their numbers and the fact that Africa is their homeland."
If tensions in Central Africa can be resolved, there is almost no limit to the future of this section. Top leaders admit that their problems are beyond solution on merely a human level. They see that only God-sent fellowship and love can make progress possible. Graham's meetings have served to mobilize and unify the Christian forces of this region in an unprecedented fashion.

Dryland maize yield increases 1100 lbs. per acre

KENNETH BROSEH of Lockney, Tex., reports that 60 lbs. of Ammonia helped make 3200 lbs. maize per acre

"A test was conducted on 250 acres of dryland maize to help determine the benefits of ammonia. On 30 acres, 60 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia per acre was applied pre-plant. This land averaged 3200 pounds maize per acre. The rest of the acreage that received no ammonia averaged 2100 pounds," according to Kenneth Broseh, who farms 785 acres.

"Cotton increased 1/4 bale per acre," he says, "where 40 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia was applied pre-plant. Using ammonia is just like selecting top quality seed and carefully cultivating the soil—it's a key part of a sound program to produce top yields."

Thousands of Texas farmers are now using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre—on irrigated or dryland fields... in wet or dry years. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) produces more high grade lint (2) increases sorghum grain yields (3) boosts wheat and small grain yields (4) stimulates pasture growth for more meat and milk.

See your local Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia Distributor now. You can make more money this year with this 82% nitrogen fertilizer. It can be applied by you or your distributor.

California Tops UPI Cage Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — The California Bears led the runner-up Cincinnati Bearcats by 13 points today in the next-to-last United Press International major college basketball ratings of the 1959-60 season.

The 25 leading coaches who rate the major schools for UPI gave the defense-conscious Bears 22 first-place votes and 334 points. They gave the Bearcats nine first-place votes and 316 points.

The coaches, who based their latest ballots on games played through last Saturday, will vote for a regular-season national champion after next Saturday's games.

Ohio State, which has an outside chance of leading the final balloting if the two top-ranked teams stumble badly this week, was third with three first-place votes and 281 points. Bradley was fourth with 214 points and Utah was fifth with 194 points.

West Virginia remained sixth with 151 points, Utah State seventh with 70 and Georgia Tech eighth with 62. North Carolina was the only newcomer in the top 10, moving from 12th to ninth with 51 points for its first appearance in the select group since Dec. 14.

The Short Line

By RED GRIGGS

The Australian Olympic Ice Hockey team will be in Amarillo for games Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Ice Arena, against the Amarillo Wranglers. Both games will be played at 8 p.m.

In the Olympics the Australian team had the misfortune of meeting the champion U.S. squad in the first round, and lost. However, the Aussie squad is still considered among the best amateur teams in the world.

Tickets for the two games are $2.50 for students and $3.50 for adults.

John Shackelford, a sophomore from Shamrock, will play with the Texas Tech golf team in the Border Olympics this weekend. Shackelford was a member of the Shamrock squad which won the state class A golf title for Shamrock High School.

A record number of entries will run in the Border Olympics at Laredo, the first major college track meet of the year, Friday and Saturday in Laredo. More than 1,200 entries have been received, topping last year's 1,108 record.

Meet records are expected to fall in the two-mile and mile runs. Al Lawrence and Barrie Almond, two Australians attending the University of Houston are the men who'll shoot for the record.

Lawrence has run the two-mile race in 8:46. The present record, set last year by Jan Albert of trying to crack Joe Villareal's mark of 8:13.7 in the mile, set by the University of Texas in 1958.

Del Ray Mounts of Perryton took over the Southwest Conference scoring leadership last weekend. Mounts scored 33 points in leading Texas Tech to 45-41 win over Texas A&M (which almost knocked the Aggies out of championship contention).

The 5-10 sophomore now has a total of 228 points in conference play, six more than Arkansas' Clyde Rhoden. Carroll Broussard of A&M is third with 210.

3 Texans Win Bouts At Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — Welterweight middleweights and heavyweights from the West and Middle West were scheduled to take the ring tonight in the second phase of the 33rd annual Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

Two 1959 champions saw action Monday night but one was eliminated—115-pound champion Pat Moore, Kenosha, Wis., lost a decision to Max Fibb, Billings, Mont.

The other returning champion, Don Eddington, 128-pound titlist from St. Louis, decisioned Paul Alba, Fort Worth, Tex., in his first bout, then went on to win his second bout by default from James Anderson, Champagn, Ill.

Two Texas flyweights won their first bouts. Humberto Barrera of Fort Worth posted a technical knockout win over Ray Pezel of Des Moines in the first. Carlos Rodriguez, also of Fort Worth had to work harder in outpointing Frank Glover of Zanesville, Ohio.

Another Texas, Fort Worth featherweight Reggie Davis won his way into the second round with a first round technical knockout win over Jerry Walters of Springfield, Ill.

LL Baseball Meetings Set

A series of meetings for managers, umpires and scorekeepers in the Optimist Club's summer baseball program are being held this week at the Optimist Boys Club.

The first meeting begins tonight at 7 p.m. Others will also be held Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. The purpose of these meetings is instruction in Little League rules, for those taking part in the program.

Baseball Commissioner Ben Hamilton urged that all managers, umpires and scorekeepers attend at least one meeting.

Baseball registration is being held earlier than ever this year. Friday will be the first day of registration — from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Optimist Boys Club. Registration will continue from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, and will be completed March 11-12-13.

Drills Postponed

DALLAS (UPI) — SMU's spring football drills have been postponed a second time because of continued fog-weather. Coach Bill Meek said Monday he was setting the opening date back to March 29. The drills will end April 30.

Champs-leave 'em cheering

and that's how the "Big O" said goodbye to Cincinnati.

Playing his final campus home game at the University of Cincinnati, Oscar Robertson, ripped off 43 points Monday to pace a 110-64 rout of Tulsa and assure Cincinnati of at least a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

A crowd of 4,126 gave Robertson and his mates a standing ovation at the end of the game in tribute to one of the most amazing careers in court history. Robertson has one road game and one Cincinnati Garden game left in the regular season before leading Cincinnati into post-season competition.

The NCAA tournament, which seems to be Cincinnati's destination, added Texas, New Mexico State and De Paul to its field Monday, making 13 spots filled in the 25-team carnival.

Texas clinched its berth by nailing down the Southwest Conference championship with a rousing, 86-62 victory over Rice at Austin as second-place Southern Methodist dropped a 71-69 decision to Texas Tech.

The Longhorns will meet the Big Eight Conference champion in an NCAA tournament game at Manhattan, Kans., March 31.

New Mexico State clinched the Border Conference title with a 76-46 win over Arizona and will meet either Oregon or Oregon State (selection will be made Sunday) in a first-round tournament game, site and date to be picked.

De Paul received a "member at large" journey berth and will face a similar team in a first-round game for the right to meet the Missouri Valley champion.

Ohio State, already in the tournament, saw its dreams of a perfect season in the Big Ten smashed by Indiana, 80-83, at Bloomington, Ind. The Buckeyes had won 12 straight league games in their attempt to be the first team to go through the league season unbeaten since Illinois' 1943 "whiz kids."

Kansas State took a half-game lead in the red-hot Big Eight race by beating Oklahoma State, 74-65. However, the Wildcats will have to share first place with the winner of tonight's Kansas-Oklahoma game and the race could end in a tie next Monday.

Bradley clinched second place in the Missouri Valley Conference with an 85-80 victory over Auburn Wichita. Bradley must beat St. Louis Saturday night and hope Cincinnati loses to Drake in order to tie for the league lead.

Jordan Ready To Defend His Title

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Welterweight champion Don Jordan's first defense of his crown since last July appears to be close at hand today.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner announced in New York Monday night that arrangements were nearing completion for Jordan to meet the winner of a March 15 battle between Federico Thompson, of Argentina, and Benny (Kid) Parete, of Cuba.

Parete and Thompson, who kayaked Jordan last December when the pair met in Buenos Aires, Argentina, will trade punches in Madison Square Garden in a 12-round bout.

Brenner said the winner would challenge Jordan in a Las Vegas, Nev., match, probably June 10.

The way for the title bout was cleared for Jordan Monday when the California Athletic Commission gave him a clean bill of health and the NBA withdrew a threat to vacate his title.

Cage Coaches Quit At Cal, San Francisco, San Jose

United Press International

Three resignations, all jammed within two hours, left the San Francisco Bay area short today of some of its top-notch basketball coaches.

The biggest jolt was turned in by Pete Newell, towel-chewing strategist for California's top-ranked Golden Bears, who announced Monday that he would quit the post after this season to become the school's athletic director.

Scarcely had Newell given his reasons for "staying as far away from the bench as possible" than the University of San Francisco announced that Phil Woolpert would not return. The Dons' famed strategist took a year's leave of absence on Nov. 28 and now is director of sales and public relations for a local vending machine firm.

Then came news from San Jose State that Walt McPherson was stepping down after 17 years as the Spartans' coach.

Newell, who will guide the Bears through the coming NCAA tournament as they battle to keep the crown they won last year, is scheduled to become athletic director on July 1. He will replace Greg Englehard, who is to be given another post at the school. His nature will be disclosed later.

Rene Herrera, his 23-year-old aide, will move into the head coaching job next season. It was Herrera who helped lead USP to the National Invitational Tournament championship in 1949 when Newell coached there.

Pete directed the Dons four years and put in another four at Michigan State before coming to Cal where he has a career record of 113 wins and 43 losses. His lifetime mark stands at 223-21 and like Woolpert, who was his assistant at USP, Newell is acclaimed as one of the game's defensive geniuses.

Woolpert had played it cozy on his plans. Recently he told the United Press International "I don't know if I'll return or not" after he knocked off three months ago with an aching "back and jangled nerves." Monday he wrote the Dons that he would stay out.

Woolpert succeeded Newell as head coach at USP in 1950 and in five years' turned out some record-smashing teams. These included powerhouse of 1955 and 1956 which sported such stars as Bill Russell and K. C. Jones and breezed to a pair of NCAA titles.

Ross Gindlice, a teammate with Herrera in the 1949 NIT tourney, now coaches the Dons but said he didn't know if he would remain there.

McPherson's resignation had been rumored for about the past month. He will remain at San Jose State.

Cincinnati Fans Give 'Big O' Standing Farewell Ovation

Champs-leave 'em cheering

and that's how the "Big O" said goodbye to Cincinnati.

Playing his final campus home game at the University of Cincinnati, Oscar Robertson, ripped off 43 points Monday to pace a 110-64 rout of Tulsa and assure Cincinnati of at least a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

A crowd of 4,126 gave Robertson and his mates a standing ovation at the end of the game in tribute to one of the most amazing careers in court history. Robertson has one road game and one Cincinnati Garden game left in the regular season before leading Cincinnati into post-season competition.

Texas Grabs SWC Crown

By United Press International

Texas clinched the Southwest Conference basketball championship Monday night with an almost effortless 86-62 triumph over last place Rice and an able assist from upset-minded Texas Tech.

The Red Raiders turned in their second upset in less than a week, polishing off Southern Methodist 71-69 in a game played a vital role in putting Texas at the top in the late-season title scramble and assuring the Steers a berth in the NCAA playoffs at Manhattan, Kan., March 11.

It was the Red Raiders' 65-61 victory over Texas A&M last Friday that all but knocked the Cadets out of contention and set Texas up for a showdown race with SMU. But Monday night's Tech victory erased that problem for the Longhorns.

SMU and Texas A&M will now have to battle it out for second place.

Arkansas Monday night produced an uphill 83-74 victory over Baylor and thus assured itself of at least a tie for fourth place. And Texas A&M, still not looking like it did earlier in the season, fell 15 points behind lowly Texas Christian before rallying for a 64-56 victory.

Carroll Broussard, the Aggie sophomore who pumped in 18 points in that game to become the first 400-point scorer in A&M history, though he still is playing third fiddle to Tech sophomore Dal Ray Mounts and Arkansas junior Clyde Rhoden in season scoring in conference games.

Mounts and Rhoden each hit 21 points Monday night.

Monday night's win gave Texas its first undisputed title since 1947, though it shared the crown with Rice in 1954. And the Steer season has been in marked contrast to last year, when they won only two of 12 conference games.

Texas now has an 11-2 mark, and if previous performances mean anything, the Longhorns will notch their 12th win of the season Thursday night against TCU (3-10). But win or lose, they face the Big Eight champion—still undecided—in the NCAA playoffs.

Texas trailed only once Monday night, at 7-6 with three minutes gone, then started one of its typical hot streaks to win easily. Albert Almanza took high scoring honors with 22 points, while seniors Jay Arnette and Brenton Hughes hit 20 and 17, respectively. David Craig led the Owls with 13 points.

Sophomore-laden Texas Tech allowed SMU only two brief leads, the last coming at 63-62 with seven minutes left. Tech quickly put up eight points to take a 71-63 lead, then staved off a futile Mustang rally. Dan Loudermilk paced the Pones with 14 points and Max Williams had 15.

Arkansas had behind by the time its game was three minutes old, and gained its first lead with little more than four minutes remaining. Jerry Carlson, Hog sophomore who amassed 18 points, put the Porkers on top to stay, 71-69.

All five Bear starters hit in double figures, with David Pierce and Richard Tinsley contributing 14 each.

TCU's 15-point lead over A&M came early in the game, and the Cadets steadily chipped away until Pat Stanley hit a field goal with 10:45 left and added a free throw about a minute later.

David Warnell led the Horned Frogs with a 14-point effort.

In other games this week, SMU (9-4) plays Arkansas (7-6) at Dallas Wednesday night. Baylor (6-7) goes against A&M (9-4) at Waco Thursday night, and Rice (1-12) entertains Texas Tech (6-7) at Houston, also on Thursday night.

The week's action will wind up the 1959-60 season.

South Park Picked In State Tourney

South Park will play Dallas South Oak Cliff Friday. In the other opening round game upset-minded Borger goes against S. F. Austin of Austin.

League officials completed pairings for the five-division cage classic Monday.

The tournament opens Thursday morning with opening round Class B play.

Beaumont (27-2) is making its first appearance in Class AAAA after previous tournament experience as an AAA club. Beaumont won favorite's status after Borger (26-4) knocked off undefeated Midland in the regional playoffs.

South Oak Cliff enters the tourney with a 23-7 record and Austin has a 25-7 sheet.

The Beaumont-South Oak Cliff game will get underway at 4:05 p.m., and Borger will meet Austin at 9:25 p.m. Friday.

Class AAA play gets underway at 8:10 p.m. Friday when South San Antonio (29-4) meets Fort Worth Castleberry (23-9) and at 4:35 p.m. when Aldine (30-3) plays Lamesa (23-7).

Belton (25-4) opens first round Class AA play at 7:30 p.m. Thursday against Dimmitt (24-7) and Linden-Kildare, undefeated in 29 games, plays Clear Creek (38-2) at 8:50 p.m.

Huntington (25-13), the defending Class A champ, plays Ingleside (34-3) at 3:10 p.m. Thursday to open warfare in that division, followed by a battle at 4:35 p.m. between Sunny (27-5) and Liano (25-5).

Class B defending champion Midway of Henrietta (41-5) plays NATAIS (18-3) at 7:45 p.m. contest Thursday. Class B play opens with McAdoo (33-2) going against Wink (14-8) at 8:45 a.m. Kyle (27-6) tangles with East Mountain (22-6) at 10:10 a.m., and Jim Ned of Tuscola (29-4) plays Danbury (28-4) at 11:35 a.m.

Class B second round contests will be played Friday morning along with Class A consolation.

Phillips Nets 500th Point

HOUSTON (UPI) — Gary Phillips Monday night became the second University of Houston cager in history to make 500 points in a season as Houston whipped Drake 89-70 in a rough-and-tumble Missouri Valley Conference game.

Although Phillips was not the Cougar's high scorer for the night, he hit 14 to run his season total to 513 points.

Officials called 81 fouls during the game, 31 of them against Drake. The one that hurt the Bulldogs most was the fifth on Gus Guydon, who left the game with more than 10 minutes to go.

He had scored 15 points at the time and Drake was behind by 12.

Houston grabbed an early lead and held it throughout the game. It was the season finale for the Cougars, who wound up with a 13-12 overall record and their first winning season since 1954, when they won the league championship.

Their league mark this season was 6-8.

Ted Luckenbill scored 18 points to pace the Cougar attack and Dave Terre had 18 for Drake.
