One Bureaucracy Leads To Another, Says Rogers

CONTROVERSIAL CURLS—With sisterly affection, Valerie Braithwaite, 20, touches up the curls of her brother, Anthony, 11, before he leaves for classes at Whitefriars Council School in Wealdstone, England. The school's headmaster complains that Tony's girlish locks are a menace in the school around Bunsen burners and lathes. Counters Tony's mother, Mrs. Katharine Braithwaite: "They'll be his trademark on the stage."

One Bureaucracy Leads to Another. As many of you know, the Congress again faces a series of measures which would put another nail in the coffin of individualistic government. I've received a good many letters from folks who are understandably concerned about the growing of many of our leaders have for bigger and better bureaucracies. Many of you protest legislation which would put the federal government more and more directly into the affairs of the towns, cities, and counties of the 18th District.

But efforts to centralize in Washington seem to have become so commonplace that many forget just what a big-and-getting-bigger central government can really mean. Many people all over the country seem to have grown so accustomed to seeing new bureaucracies in Washington that they no longer grasp even the fundamentals and causes of the basic problem.

Now I've never said that the local governments should only do the things they want to do with no regard for all the people. I think that the idea which brands everything in the federal government corrupt, insincere, or foolhardy is highly undesirable. I've seen our country's political system, working properly as it usually does, carry out some of the finest measures that history has ever seen a government produce.

But whatever else might be said about the size to which government has grown, two things are painfully clear. The first is that no agency or bureau can successfully work in the best interests of all the people. When a job is turned over to the federal government you may be sure that a great many people somewhere will be short-changed. Second, and perhaps most important, federal bureaucratic control almost inevitably becomes an end in itself and means a disheartening reduction of millions of people to the "average." Our people always get either more than they want or need, or they are not allowed to get as much as they could if left to themselves.

There are, of course, many reasons for the agitation favoring more of this government manhandling. These reasons are all derived from commonplace developments and features of our life, but are quite deceptive in the ways they are then applied to support this or that legislation.

First, since more and more families are moving from one state to another, the advocates of centralism argue that the federal government should establish laws, educational systems or whatnot, thus placing conditions in one state on a level with all the others. This ignores the fact that many families aren't moving across a state boundary every six months.

A second impulse behind the call for more government is the notion that an individual state can't or won't do something on its own. In most cases this is pure nonsense. The people of Texas can be proud of the advances which have been made in their own ways and without coaching by Uncle Sam's hopeful salesmen of more "this is good for you" legislation.

Third, many parts of the country are forced under the federal wing simply because people in another region genuinely need help. Powerful interests in one section of the country may be so strong that the Congress is drawn into the belief that a certain program would be good for everyone. But I have always felt that the people who really need help could get it faster and better from a government closer to the problem than Washington ever could be.

Finally, we have the familiar "special" or "emergency" measures which are urged on us to help solve some short range difficulty. They somehow always seem to be around years later. The "wartime" transportation and communication taxes are an example of this situation. The government often seems to be so captivated with "temporary" interference that it can't bear to part with even an outdated particle. This sort of thing is not only unnecessary, but grossly unfair as well.

Resisting the almost incessant efforts to enlarge the federal government's share in local affairs is more than a matter of sheer determination on the part of a few people. It rests primarily on the ability of all of us to be willing to depend on ourselves once again.

Helium

You may recall that one of my recent newsletters dealt with the subject of legislation I introduced which, if enacted into law, would make it possible for private industry to develop facilities for the extraction and conservation of helium.

This bill passed the first major hurdle last week when it was reported favorably from the full House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

Our good friends Wes Tizard and Tommy Thompson from Amarillo were in Washington last week in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. We also appreciated seeing Dr. C. W. Seibel from Amarillo, who was for many years head of the helium division of the Department of Interior.

Pending High Court Ruling Could Affect Labor Unions

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Supreme Court has accepted for decision a legal dispute which indirectly could invalidate all union shop labor contracts in the United States.

The court heard arguments last week in what is known, for short, as the "Beaumont" case, the individual rights of union members. The now-pending case arose in Georgia.

A few employees of the Southern Railway sued to forbid their union to spend dues money for political objectives which the complaining union members opposed.

This is a union shop situation. The complaining union members, therefore, may not withdraw their financial support of the union membership. If they resign their union membership, they also resign their jobs. That is what makes the Loper case a hot one.

The narrow area of individual rights in which the issue is raised contributes also to the political importance of the case.

The court now has heard arguments and has agreed to decide

Merger To Produce Dallas Giant

DALLAS (UPI)—Temco Aircraft Corp. and Ling-Altec Electronics, Inc., announced plans Tuesday to merge and become one of the largest employers in the Dallas area.

The merger of Temco with the up and coming Ling-Altec is expected to give the new company to be called Ling-Temco Electronics, Inc., a work force that will surpass Chance Vought Aircraft and Texas Instruments, which is currently the largest with 9,600 employees.

In 1954, a year after Ling-Altec was organized, the company had nothing more than a capital deficit, no earnings and a production essential to further misdeeds.

Net sales last year were $48,084,785 and it has assets of nearly $23 million. Temco, on the other hand, recently voted not to pay a quarterly dividend for the first time in 11 years.

Robert McCulloch, Temco president, told stockholders net earnings for 1959 declined. However, combined sales for the year for both companies were nearly $148 million, with a backlog of orders on Dec. 31 of about $133-million.

Rumors of the merger triggered a wave of buying on the New York Stock Exchange and sent prices soaring.

LAUNCH MISSILE SHIP BAY CITY, Mich. (UPI)—The third of four guided-missile destroyers built by De Foe Shipbuilding Co. on a $8-million-dollar contract slides down the ways today. The vessel will be commissioned the USS Robison in November.

Lost 25 Pounds Without Dieting

Here is a letter from Lillie Brown, Route 10, Box 646A, Ford Worth, Texas: "I lost 25 pounds taking four bottles of Barcenate and I feel a great deal better. I ate anything I wanted and did not go on a long diet. Barcenate is a good tonic as well as a reducer." Get Barcenate from any Texas druggist. Follow directions on label and watch the ugly fat just seem to melt away. Money-back guarantee on first bottle.

Our people always get either more than they want or need, or they are not allowed to get as much as they could if left to themselves.

Not many folks fit the "median" which the government seems to so habitually establish.

'Mall Milling' Might Bring Back Old Style Campaigning

The good old days — when politicians campaigned by kissing babies and shaking hands with the voters — may return in the near future.

"A politician can't do that now," says Pampa's Congressman Walter Rogers. "The babies he used to kiss and the people he talked to are at home watching it all on television or riding around in their cars and listening to it on the radio."

The new style of developments in cities has largely been responsible for the decline of heated political campaigns.

"Back in those days people would park their wagons or buggies out on the edge of the town and walk to the court house or park," Rogers said. "That's where they would visit with one another and transact their business."

"But now towns are being built along the lines of shopping centers on the outskirts of the city."

"With traffic getting so bad you can't drive down main streets, they're going to have to start building these pedestrian malls in downtown areas," Rogers said. "Then people will leave their cars on the edge of town and they'll be able to meet and mill around in the downtown area."

"This is probably going to bring back the old style of campaigning."

Rogers said the extension of tenure in office from two to four years has helped cool off political campaigns.

McLean Has Career Day

McLEAN (Sp) — Mrs. Mary Tom Riley announced the successful completion of a "Career Day" project under the direction of the McLean Chapter, Future Business Leaders of America.

Mrs. Riley is director of the business education department of the McLean High School. She points out this is the second important project for the Chapter. The first was a modern business machines show held in March.

Both of these events were well received and are expected to become annual events.

Bill Herron, president of the Chapter, introduced each of the speakers. Due to numerous interests, the lectures were broken up into section and students attended those of most interest to them.

Speakers and their topics included: Wynn Yeale, Pampa, Retail selling; William Ragsdale, Pampa, Job Opportunities for the high school graduate; Miss Elsie Plants, Pampa secretarial opportunities; Capt. Richard Mauerer, U.S. Army, A Career in the Service; Lt. Swartz, Women's Army Corp., A Career in the Service for women; Guy Hardin, Shamrock, A Career in Law; Farris Hess, McLean, Ranching; Tom Greenwood, McLean, Fields in Engineering; and J. B. Roach, Opportunities with the larger corporations after graduation.

asked who now ruled the country and whether it might be the martial law commander.

Under the constitution of this country, the senior member of the cabinet acts as president.

Huh said Huh is the senior member as foreign minister.

Rhee, plagued by six weeks of violent protest to alleged fraud in last month's presidential election, sent a terse message to the National Assembly saying he was bowing to its demand that he resign. He said he would retire to private life.

The assembly had adjourned when the announcement came but was expected to approve the resignation speedily Thursday.

Asked if he considered Rhee as president until that time, Huh replied, "of course not."

ELECTIONS

Officials said that it would require a new resolution of the U.N. General Assembly to authorize the U.N. Commission on Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea (UNCURK) to set up and supervise the election machinery.

The five-nation commission now has authority only to observe and report to the General Assembly on whether elections are honest.

Some diplomats believed a solution might be found, now that Rhee has resigned and called for assembly elections, through setting up an interim military government until conditions are placid enough for balloting.

At the State Department meeting, the United States and its allies called for early action to "permit the orderly functioning of democratic government" in South Korea.

Date Changed For Red Cross Meeting

The annual meeting of the Pampa Red Cross will be held at the First Methodist Church May 5, instead of May 10 when originally scheduled.

Tickets for the dinner meeting are $1.25. They may be purchased at the Red Cross office in city hall, from any board member or at Johnson's Cafe.

City, Red Cross Get Workers Data Files

Names, addresses, telephone numbers and blood-types of 200 city employees have been recorded in City Manager John Koontz's office and the Red Cross office.

Koontz said the information was recorded for use in the event of a tornado or other disaster in the Pampa area.

Records were made available at the hospital for scratches and bruises.

Placed Under Bond

Ronnie Embrey, 342 E. Locust, was placed under $500 bond in Gray County Court today, after pleading not guilty to a charge of aggravated assault.

Eckroat was charged with the offense on a complaint signed by Linda Reed, Pampa, after an altercation April 22.

Three Slightly Injured In Crash

Three persons were treated and released from Highland General Hospital yesterday after a one-car accident five miles east of Laketon on State Highway 152.

Investigating highway patrolman Vernon Cawthon said a car driven by Mrs. Eunice Holland, 65, of Rt. 1, Miami, skidded into graded dirt at a construction project and overturned.

Mrs. Holland, Mrs. W. R. Combs, 65, of Lefors and Mrs. Myrtle Coates, 65, of Mobeetie, were all treated.

Area Posts In Red Cross Go To Pampa Pair

Two Pampa residents were named as area officers at a Red Cross meeting at Amarillo Air Force Base Tuesday.

John Gikas was named vice president of the area chapters and Mrs. Mack Harmon was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. J. S. Pope of Borger was elected president.

The theme of the meeting was to work in a disaster area.

Cecil Van-Dusen of Dimmitt discussed the Red Cross work following the recent tornado at the Sunnyside community.

He said the Red Cross had spent $4,500 on medical care there so far and that the rehabilitation of the community probably would cost $20,000.

Gikas led a discussion on fund raising in a disaster area. J. E. Howard of Amarillo talked about rescue operations and shelter and Mrs. Helen Boninger of Borger discussed the use of Gray Ladies in a disaster region.

The group also voted to change the date of their next area meeting, which will be held in Ferris, by the third Tuesday in September. It originally was set for the last Tuesday in October.

General G. O. Pottinger, commanding officer of Amarillo AFB, spoke at the noon luncheon on the operation of the flight line, technical maintenance and the Air Force training center's operations.

Seventy-one Red Cross members representing 12 chapters, attended the meeting, along with 30 service men and guests.

Kiwanis Hear Crow's Views On Foran Bill

George Crow, a member of the Chamber of Commerce's congressional action committee, discussed two controversial bills currently before Congress, at the Top of Texas Kiwanis meeting at Coronado Inn Tuesday night.

The guest speaker covered the Foran Bill, which deals with hospitalization care for persons over 65 years of age and the minimum wage bill.

Crow said 85 per cent of people over 65 are now eligible for group hospital protection.

He urged the members to write their congressmen about their views on these bills.

Charles L. Wilkerson announced that the official visit of the district government of Kiwanis International would be May 26 at Coronado Inn.

All clubs in this division will visit Pampa for this event.

Two Receive Arrow Awards

Gold Arrow awards were presented to Ronnie Reity and Rod Crow at the monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 20 at the First Baptist Church.

Mike Buck and Daniel Bely received enrollment cards.

New officers for the pack also were named. They include George Ehrbridge, Cub master, Joe Nye, assistant Cub master, and committee men Arley Benly, Dave Redus and Q. C. Rogers.

The theme of the meeting was the Great Lakes. Ehrbridge read a history of the lakes, and Redus showed a movie about them.

Airman's Bodies Found

ENCINAL, Tex. (UPI) — Bodies of two Air Force fliers were found in the wreckage of their T-33 jet trainer Tuesday eight miles north of Encinal, La. William B. Marshall, Port Chester, N.Y., and Lt. Robert H. Ward, Houston, were on a training flight when the plane crashed Sunday. The pilot of a T-33 trainer from Laredo, AFB, found the wreckage.

McLean Gets $116,000 Loan Project

McLEAN (Sp) — Bill Reeves, strong man of the Housing Authority form an, announced the Authority has signed a $116,000 contract with the Barker Construction Co., Pampa, for the erection of 40 White low rental units.

Work is expected to begin about May 1. The only thing holding up the start of the project is a work order from the Federal Housing Authority regional office in Ft. Worth.

The project has been in the planning stage for over two years. It will consist of six brick veneer duplex apartments and will be available for rental to workers whose income is less than $3,000 per year.

Also included in the project is a manager's residence and a utility building. Mrs. Stella Lee is project executive.

Camp Kiowa Site Of BSA Annual Meet

Some 325 Boy Scouts from West Texas and New Mexico begin converging Friday on Camp Kiowa, near Canadian, for the annual meeting of Area 2A Order of the Area.

The meeting is designed for first class Scouts who have a minimum of 15 days and nights camping experience.

Plans call for an Indian dance contest, ceremonial team contests and a camp-wide field day to be conducted during the three-day convalescence.

Scout Executive Brantly Hudson said he expected 75 Boy Scouts from his Adobe Walls Council to attend the convalescence. The Adobe Walls Council will be the host group at the meeting.

Any member who has not sent in his registration can mail the $2 fee to the council office, Box 712, Pampa.

Post-Lenten Ball Set For Coronado

"Blossom Time" will be the theme of the post-Lenten ball at the Coronado Inn May 7.

The dance, the second such event this year, is sponsored by the home and school association of St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic Church.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Vic Jamieson or Mrs. Cy Conklin.

The proceeds from the affair will be used by the text book organization for the parochial school.

Good Turnout At Charm Clinic

A total of 185 women attended the chamber of commerce's charm clinic at the Coronado Inn Tuesday night.

"We were very pleased with the turnout," E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, said. "Most of the women were very enthusiastic about it and stayed out there until after 10:30."

"The response was so good we are going to consider making this an annual event."

Mrs. Mickey McDonald, a former Powers Agency model from Amarillo, conducted the clinic.

Placed Under Bond

Ronnie Embrey, 342 E. Locust, was placed under $500 bond in Gray County Court today, after pleading not guilty to a charge of aggravated assault.

Mr. Maddox Rites Set In Colorado

Funeral services for Claude Elmer Maddox of El Campo, Colo., retired rancher and stockman, will be held Thursday 2 p.m. in First Baptist Church, El Campo.

Mr. Maddox, who had been living temporarily in Pampa, died 5:35 p.m. yesterday at 400 N. Dwight.

He was born Sept. 19, 1887, in Clair, Mo. He moved from Hansford County to Colorado in 1911 and had been living there since that time with the exception of occasional visits with his brother, Winfrey Maddox, north of the city. He was a member of Baptist Church in El Campo.

In addition to the brother in Pampa, he is survived by another brother, Dick of Stinnett and one sister, Mrs. Mattie McClain of Albuquerque, N.M.

Interment will be in El Campo Cemetery. It has been announced by Duenkel Carmichael Funeral Home.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What can be done with a daughter who picks the worst people she can find to be her friends?
We have always gone by the old saying: "As the twig is bent, the tree will grow." But it hasn't worked with us.
My husband and I have sacrificed so that our daughter could dress well and go with the best crowd. She is 18 now and goes with the commonest bunch in town. Where have we failed?
HER PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: Many parents (with the best of intentions) are overly-critical of their children's friends. Then, out of spite (or a feeling of "loyalty" to the friend), the child deliberately strengthens the friendship. Sometimes when the "twig is bent" too far it breaks.
DEAR ABBY: Whenever my husband and I are with other couples, he turns on the charm and gets all the attention he can from other women. I know him. He does this just to make me jealous.
Do you think I should play up to other men and teach him a lesson?
ELEANOR
DEAR ELEANOR: Before you consider "teaching lessons," you'd better get yourself a teacher's certificate. Be your sweet self and let your husband have a good time. He is probably making a bid for the ego massage he so desperately needs.
DEAR ABBY: I am an eligible bachelor. I own my own home, don't gamble or drink and have money in the bank. A neighbor of mine is a young widow with three little boys. I asked her if she would go out to supper with me and she said she would if I could take all her kids. Naturally I objected. (She could have left them with a neighbor.)
How can a man court a woman when she's got her kids with her?
Did I make a mistake in refusing to take her kids? I am still interested in her but don't want to be taken for a fool. Should I ask her again and take her kids if she'll go?
LONESOME LOU
DEAR LOU: This woman is obviously interested in a man only if he is interested in her children.

You struck out there. If you want to "court" her, ask her again and include the boys. If she likes you, she'll see you alone (in time). The way to a young widow's heart is usually through the hearts of her children.
DEAR ABBY: To the girl who is afraid to put her hair up at night because she doesn't want her husband to see her: My hair is also straight and baby fine and I have to put it up every night. I don't know about her husband, but MY husband sleeps with his eyes closed. I put it up after he has gone to sleep and comb it out in the morning—before he gets up.
NO BIG DEAL

RUTH MILLETT 'Housewives' Guardian Angel Urges Inspection Of Food, Drugs, Cosmetics

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A dedicated government gal is teaching housewives how to safeguard their health and pocketbooks when shopping for food, drugs and cosmetics. She is Mrs. Carla Williams, new director of consumer programming for the Food and Drug Administration. Her job is to assist FDA's watchdog activities by teaching consumers how to protect themselves.
"One of the principal safeguards they are teaching is how to detect impure products," Mrs. Williams explains. "Some types of contamination can be spotted only by scientific experts, but many others the housewife can detect."
Pieces of lacquer floating in a freshly opened can of orange juice were found recently by a housewife. She did what Mrs. Williams advises all consumers to do in such cases. She notified her local FDA office.
The woman had saved the can's lid on which was printed the shipment number. This figure enabled inspectors to locate all retailers from the shipment and take the cans off the market.
By calling the FDA's attention to her discovery, the housewife helped protect scores of fellow consumers, Mrs. Williams explains.
Mrs. Williams urges consumers to read a product's label. Manufacturers are required by law to list the contents of all drugs, cosmetics and canned and packaged food. Checking the label may prevent you from consuming a product that contains something to which you are allergic, she explains.
High on Mrs. Williams' list of dangers are quick medical devices. She often warns which of these gimmicks which at first glance look like a piece of costume jewelry.
Actually it is a two-inch-long brass spike. Before FDA officials stopped their sale, these spikes were being advertised as having cure-all radioactive powers. Worth no more than 10 cents, these gimmicks were selling for $750 apiece.
"There are many therapeutic devices on the market which falsely claim to have curative powers," Mrs. Williams says. "Not only do these devices bilk consumers of their money but they keep many seriously ill people from going to see a doctor. We hope to erase this type of gullibility through our consumer-education program."
FDA officials believe that Mrs. Williams' wide experience in dealing with the public makes her ideal for insuring the program's success. Her first job was with the personnel testing research branch

Pilot School Objectives Outlined By Speaker

McHenry Lane of Pampa Junior High School was guest speaker for Stephen F. Austin's Father's Night at its PTA meeting on Thursday evening. Dr. J. Foster Elder, president of the organization, presided as invocation was given by Rev. William E. West, rector of St. Matthews Episcopal Church.
R. K. Swanson introduced Mr. Lane, who spoke on "The Pilot School in Pampa."
He began by saying that in Jan. 1958, the state board of education authorized the appointment of eleven Curriculum Commissions; the English Language Arts Commission was established in May, 1958. "This was composed of 22 members including administrators, elementary teachers, junior high and senior high school teachers, college teachers of English and Education, and school board members."
"The Curriculum Commission was asked to study the present curriculum and make recommendations for teaching of grammar, writing, literature and journalism," Mr. Lane said and continued, "to describe pupil competencies desired at the several levels in grades one through twelve; to make recommendations concerning library materials; to develop plans for locating and educating pupils with superior ability or below average achievement."
"Local schools," Mr. Lane went on to say, "were asked to establish in-service study groups of local teachers to assist the commission."

ty and growing acuteness of thought by increased emphasis on proper English usage, a twelve-year sequence in reading, an extension of developmental reading at the upper grades; an increased emphasis on written composition."
Mr. Lane pointed out the conclusions of the commission, "It does not recommend a radical change in the English Language Arts program in Texas public schools. The objectives and recommendations of the commission are worthy; some are attainable at the present time; some are not immediately attainable but are worth working toward in the future."
During the brief business meeting, it was announced that new officers for the 1960-61 PTA year will be installed in a joint installation of all PTA groups in Travis School on May 3.
Sixth grade won the room count by having the most parents present.

Exceptional Children

Mrs. Gene R. Barber, president of Exceptional Children's Association in Pampa, has contributed this statement concerning Parent Education Club's project, "Tour of Beautiful Homes" to benefit exceptional children.
"The Exceptional Child Association was organized out of the desire of many persons who wanted an all-inclusive educational program for exceptional children. The membership is composed of parents, teachers, doctors, ministers, civic leaders of our community. With monetary help given by civic clubs and with the wealth of knowledge offered by the combined membership of Exceptional Child Association, the exceptional child in Pampa has had a very good first year."
"Special equipment has been purchased for each individual as it is needed to further his education. Special swimming classes have been held by Red Cross; Bible School was provided by First Baptist Church; a diagnostic speech clinic was conducted by Logopedic Institute from Wichita, Kan.; special speakers from out-of-town came to talk to our group; one new special orthopedic class was added to the public school system... the ECA has obtained these opportunities for our children this first year."
"As long as we have groups like Parent Education Club, which is sponsoring the 'Tour of Beautiful Homes' for the benefit of the exceptional child, we can have special opportunities as a permanent thing in our community. We never know who will need it next. Support the 'Tour of Beautiful Homes' on May 7 so that our children might have that special costly time he or she will need to obtain a better education."
Mrs. Gene R. Barber, President, Exceptional Child Association.
The tour on Saturday May 7 is one to 5 p.m. Tickets at $1 each are available from members of Parent Education Club.

Lee Parents Hear Informative Talks

Mrs. J. R. Holloway, president of Robert E. Lee Junior High PTA, presided at that unit's April meeting Thursday in the school auditorium.
Jack Nichols, school principal, opened the meeting with prayer. Following a City Council report given by Mrs. J. A. Sears, members voted approval of the council's recommendations of purchasing Community Concert students tickets for the school's music department; and to participate in the Council's joint installation service of all PTA officers.
Mrs. J. T. Cornutt, program leader, introduced Mrs. Lavinia Webb, who directed the ninth grade students' choir in vocal numbers.
Mrs. Ed Williams gave the thought for the day.
Jack Edmonson, Pampa High School principal, as one of the afternoon's speakers, advised eighth and ninth grade students how to best shape and plan their next four years in school.
Miss Evelyn Mitam, high school counselor, gave an informative talk concerning problems of the next four years and how to organize subjects for the high school years.
It was announced that a special program is being planned for sixth grade mothers, who will have children entering Lee Junior High next year. The meeting is scheduled for May 19.

Foreign News

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The barracks-like dormitories of the Marienfelde Refugee Camp in the American sector of West Berlin bulged this last week with the infirm, the aged, the young and the very young refugees from the latest surge of Communist brutality.

There have been many examples of such in the past—the Chinese communes, jamming millions into state-run cooperatives, for one; Stalin's action condemning millions of restive Ukrainians to starvation for another.

And alongside these must come the campaign of the last few weeks which in one savage sweep completed the collectivization of every farm in East Germany.

From April 15 to April 19, more than 5,000 East German farmers fled their former lands and reached the haven of Marienfelde refugee center.

Statistics fail to tell the story. The church and the ruggedly individual peasant with his intense love of the land have provided two of the greatest stumbling blocks to the communization of eastern Europe.

Now, in East Germany, at least, the farmer no longer need be considered a factor.

At Marienfelde one of the refugees produces a picture of the farm machinery he wrecked before fleeing.

Another tells of hours under siege in his barred cottage while Communist teams on 24-hour shifts outside blare through loud-speakers demands that he sign away his lands to the collective.

Suicides were commonplace.

But for East German strongman Walter Ulbricht there was one overriding consideration. It was the plan he could hand Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the eve of the four-power summit meeting.

With this, Khrushchev could point to an East Germany whose economy at last was totally divorced from the West. Independent labor unions had been replaced by state unions. Private farming had vanished and now the last of the small businessmen soon would vanish, too.

And for Khrushchev there also was a side benefit. For as tension mounted in Berlin over the flow of refugees, he could cite it, too, as a threat to world peace.

GOP-Backed Health Plan Said Extreme

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eight Republican senators who are pushing a government-subsidized health insurance plan for the aged voiced opposition Saturday to what they called a "watered-down" Democratic compromise.

They expressed "great concern" over a plan by key House Democrats to offer social security pensioners who are 72 or older a choice between hospitalization benefits or higher cash retirement payments.

The administration came out against the new Democratic proposal Friday. It has not taken a strong stand on the eight GOP senators' plan but Health Secretary Arthur S. Flemming has indicated it too goes too far.

Some informed Republicans said they would be surprised if Flemming did not come up with a new alternative when GOP congressional leaders have their regular weekly meeting with President Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

Lawmakers in both parties have attached great political importance to election-year proposals for some sort of health insurance measure for old people.

The latest, and least costly, Democratic idea would provide 60 days of hospitalization benefits after a 10-day waiting period. It would apply only to persons 72 or older on social security. They could take either the health benefits or a $20-a-month increase in cash benefits.

Under this plan, the combined employer-employee payroll tax, now set at 6 per cent of the first $4,800, would have to be boosted to 8.14 per cent.

The House Ways & Means Committee is expected to make a decision next week on the Democratic compromise. It already has rejected a bill sponsored by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.) and backed by the AFL-CIO which would tie a broad health insurance program to the social security program.

Probe Into Activities Of Disc Jockey Clark Starts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators Tuesday began their long-awaited public inquiry into charges that TV disc jockey Dick Clark is seriously involved in payola.

The payola investigating subcommittee, however, rejected the teenage idol's request to take the stand immediately "to tell his story and get it over with." Clark will be questioned later in the week.

The subcommittee called as the first witness at the public hearings Leonard P. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters Inc., parent company of the American Broadcasting Network on which Clark's two TV shows appear.

The lawmakers held an eight-hour closed-session Monday to question three witnesses, including Alan Freed, a former New York disc jockey known as the king of rock 'n' roll music. He lost his job after he refused to swear he had not accepted payola.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.), a subcommittee member, charged six weeks ago that Clark was "obviously quite seriously involved in payola" and demanded a thorough investigation. Payola is a slang term for payments in money or gifts to plug certain records on the air.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock action during election years usually undergoes a stronger-than-average summer rally, according to a report by Arthur Wiesenberger & Co.

Just how vigorous any rise this summer will be still depends on the trend of near term business activity and how low stock prices go on the next decline, the report says.

In any case, Wiesenberger indicates, the probability appears better than even that some buying opportunity at least for potential short term profits may present itself over the coming weeks.

Standard & Poor's "outlook" indicates that patient holders of oil shares in time could be well rewarded. It says probably much time will be required to establish a base from which a more favorable market performance can be realized although good values can be obtained from the strongly situated oil producers.

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis reports that earnings of leading cement companies are expected to compare favorably with 1959. Attractive purchases in this group, it says, are General Portland Cement for growth, Lehigh Portland and Lone Star for income and growth, and Penn-Dixie for persons emphasizing income.

Abandoning Foreign Aid Said Unsound

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Saturday that while mistakes have been made in administering foreign aid, "the worst mistake of all" would be to abolish the program.

The committee said foreign aid must be continued because "there is no reasonable alternative" to the program "as an instrument of U.S. foreign policy."

There has been "marked improvement" in handling of the program although "more remains to be done," the committee said.

"In the meantime, nothing is to be gained, and a great deal is to be lost, by abandoning or emasculating the enterprise," the group said.

The committee's views were contained in a 65-page report on the $3,145,500,000 foreign aid authorization bill it approved Wednesday. The Senate may begin debate on the measure next week.

The House Thursday passed a $4,024,500,000 version of the same measure, which places authorized ceilings on the amounts which can be spent on various aid programs in the coming fiscal year. Actual money must be voted later.

The Senate bill actually allows $1,425,500,000 in new authorizations. The remaining funds in the total were authorized in previous years.

The Senate committee, headed by chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) noted that the aid program has been supported by both Democratic and Republican administrations and "most of the private citizens groups that have studied it."

"Yet there is unmistakable evidence that the program is misunderstood and disliked by large numbers of the American people," the report added.

Part of the explanation, the committee said, "lies in faulty administration of the program."

But the committee argued that mistakes were inevitable because "except for a handful of missionaries and businessmen, the American people as a whole were rank amateurs at this business as recently as 12 years ago."

The Almanac

Taxes: President Eisenhower was likely to discuss at his regular Tuesday meeting with GOV congressional leaders two tax proposals that would offset each other's effect of the Treasury. One is a House-passed bill to give a tax break to self-employed persons saving for retirement. It would cost the government 250 million dollars annually. The other proposal would bring 250 million dollars a year into the Treasury by requiring corporations to withhold income taxes on dividends.

Cranberries: Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson was scheduled to undergo congressional questioning about a government plan to pay cranberry growers 10 million dollars for the crops they did not sell because of the cancer scare last fall. Benson was to appear before the Senate Agriculture Appropriations subcommittee, headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.). Russell has cautioned in his prepared testimony that further investigation was needed. Upjohn makes orange.

By United Press International: Today is Wednesday, April 27, the 118th day of the year, with 248 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1791, inventor Samuel Morse was born.
In 1822, Ulysses S. Grant, 18th president of the United States was born in Point Pleasant, Ohio.
In 1850, an American-owned steamship, the Atlantic, inaugurated a schedule of regular transatlantic passenger service, the first American ship to offer competition to British liners.
In 1898, the American fleet under the command of Commodore Dewey left China for the Philippines.
In 1937, the first Social Security payment was made.
In 1947, baseball fans observed "Babe Ruth Day" throughout the nation in honor of the seriously ill former Sultan of Swat.
A thought for today: U.S. President Ulysses S. Grant said: "Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men who disgrace labor."

Many Entitled To SS Benefits

Some people in the Panhandle may be losing social security benefits to which they are eligible, according to that region's office of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

A person who has been totally and continuously disabled for a period of at least six months and who has been employed or self-employed in work covered by the Social Security Act for approximately five out of the ten-year period before disability began, may be entitled to a disability freeze. April 1960 is the first month farm operators can meet this requirement. Freezing means protecting the person's social security retirement and the period of disability will not count against him. This applies to persons under 59.

"If you are at least 50 years of age and meet the requirements for a disability freeze, you may be entitled to a monthly disability benefit," Gelson said.

Glendon emphasized that all disabled workers including farmers who have questions regarding the disability protection under the Social Security Act should get in touch with their local social security office now. The district office located at 1006 Adams, Amarillo, serves the 26 Texas Panhandle counties.

Cowboy-Type Gunman Sought

NEWARK, Tex. (UPI) — Police are searching North Texas for a cowboy-type gunman and his girlfriend who held up the postoffice at Newark.

The pair, both about 25 years old, apparently slipped through roadblocks thrown up within a few minutes after they fled in a black and white automobile with $14 in cash and 19 money order blanks Monday afternoon.

Norene Hazelwood, the postmaster, was alone when the man walked in, pulled a gun and handed her a note. It said: "Be calm. Hand over all bills. Put the money in a paper sack."

The girl came in the post office and stood by the door as Mrs. Hazelwood handed over the money, then was forced into a back room.

She said the gunman wore a cowboy hat and blue jeans.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH

ALICE (UPI) — Eligio Escobar and Manuel Soliz Jr., both 29, were killed and three other persons seriously injured Friday in a head-on crash five miles north of Alice on Highway 281. Soliz was the son of an Alice school board member.

Research And Taxes

From the magazine "Science," for March 15 of this year, comes an article which is not at all reassuring, particularly as we view the complex of problems underlying this nation's position vis-a-vis the Soviet Union.

Steps To Freedom

Edwin Vennard, managing director of the Edison Electric Institute, has made a useful contribution to our understanding of the economic processes. The offering of Vennard began as a public address. It is now a pamphlet, beautifully illustrated and simply organized. The title is: "What Shall We Do To Preserve Freedom?"

Our Enemy The State

Albert Jay Nock wrote "Our Enemy The State" in 1935. It has been republished three times since then. The fourth printing was just published last year. I read it at the time it was first published, but in 25 years I had forgotten most of what I had read, so I read it again.
