Nikita Could Be Out

MOSCOW (UPI)—A lengthy editorial in the Communist party newspaper Pravda Wednesday reopened the Soviet Union's ideological quarrel with Red China, suggesting failure of the Communist leaders' summit conference and a setback for Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

There were unconfirmed rumors that Red Chinese president and ranking theorist Liu Shao-chi might already have returned home, abandoning the conference. He has not been seen in public since Nov. 7.

At any rate, the Pravda editorial indicated a serious rift between the Russians and the Chinese at the top secret summit meeting which has been dragging on for the last two weeks.

The editorial defended Khrushchev's position that the Communist camp is now so strong it can prevent war and conduct the struggle for eventual victory through peaceful co-existence.

The editorial stated bluntly the need to "strengthen the struggle against opportunists current in the international Communist movement and against revisionism which is, under present conditions, the main danger."

It added that "dogmatism and sectarianism could also be the main danger at a certain stage of development of a given party."

Spare-Dollar Move Goes On Into France

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Treasury secretary Robert Anderson, fresh from failure of his money-making negotiations with West Germany, pursued his "spare-dollar" mission in Paris Wednesday night behind a near-total information blackout.

Anderson, accompanied by Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon, flew into Paris Wednesday afternoon from Bonn where the West German government resumed in three-day negotiations Tuesday morning to appropriate funds to ease the U.S. dollar drain abroad.

Informed sources in Bonn said the United States got none of the 600 million it sought from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government to relieve some of the dollar expense of maintaining U.S. forces in Europe.

A high German official told a news conference in Bonn Wednesday night that the U.S. balance of payments deficit is a structural one that the Americans must solve themselves.

Foreign Ministry Secretary of State Albert Hilger van Scherpenberg said West Germany is unwilling to pay any of the costs of maintaining an American military establishment of a quarter-million men in that country.

He said the United States must export more and in the meantime, West Germany is prepared to use its own foreign aid program to help promote markets for American goods in underdeveloped areas.

The clamor aroused by the failure of the Bonn talks appeared to have prompted both the French and American sides to cover up the vital Paris talks.

GOP Braces For Illinois Vote Recount

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican party's top legal adviser said Wednesday he has "no doubt" that a recount of allegedly fraudulent and irregular ballots in Illinois could swing the state's 27 presidential electoral votes from Sen. John F. Kennedy to Richard M. Nixon.

Meade Alcorn, general counsel for the GOP National Committee, said that "on the basis of all the ground investigations, I have no doubt that Illinois... could was a recount of allegedly fraudulent and irregular ballots in the state.

The statement was made by Meade Alcorn, general counsel to the Republican National Committee, who said the claim was based on "on-the-ground investigations."

Alcorn said "some of the votes in other states look equally suspicious," and added that recounts would be demanded in each case where the evidence indicates fraud or irregularity in the Nov. 8 balloting.

New Jersey GOP chairman Charles R. Erdman conceded in Trenton, however, that chances "were not good at all" that his state's 16 votes would swing to Nixon. The GOP is financing a recount in five counties in hopes of reversing Kennedy's 22,000-vote triumph in New Jersey.

In Illinois, Kennedy has a 9,801-vote lead over Nixon with the official canvass completed for all but Cook County. One prominent Illinois Republican remarked that

Kennedy 'Ducks' In With Gifts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy, bearing two ducks as birthday gifts for his daughter, is in Washington after flying there from his Florida vacation spot.

The ducks, white muscovies with pink bills and black flecks on their heads, were among a variety of gifts Kennedy bought in the Palm Beach, Fla., area for daughter Caroline's third birthday anniversary.

Caroline's birthday isn't until Sunday but it will be observed in advance. Kennedy planned to return to Florida Thursday night after a combined Thanksgiving-birthday dinner at his Washington home with wife Jacqueline and Caroline.

It was possible the president-elect might take some time out during his overnight stay for a closer look at the problem of a budget director, a key post in setting up a new administration.

A junior high school band and several hundred spectators gave Kennedy a send-off at the Palm Beach airport.

Also on hand was a crate containing two ducks. (See KENNEDY, Page 4)

Tiros Puts 'Eye' On The Universe

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—America's Tiros II satellite survived a shaky start Wednesday and turned its television "eyes" toward earth's cloud cover to test a system for forecasting weather from stations in space.

The 280-pound moonlet, launched aboard a three-stage Thor-Delta rocket before dawn, swung into a near-perfect orbit ranging from 406 to 431 miles above earth making one circuit every 98.2 minutes.

But after the first pass, the drum-shaped moonlet with two small television cameras jutting from its bottom sent eight blank pictures of space instead of earth. Scientists said it was tilted at an angle.

On the second trip around, the satellite was back "on the level" and the smaller of its two cameras, carrying a narrow-angle lens, relayed photographs to a station at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

However, hours later the wide-angle "vidicon" still had not obtained any pictures. Federal space agency officials said the camera was expected to start functioning at any time.

Tiros I, fired into orbit last April 1 as the world's first weather satellite, also experienced troubles with one of its TV mechanisms. The problems cleared away after a few days.

Teams of meteorologists of the U. S. Weather Bureau and military weather services were standing by at the Ft. Monmouth and San Nicholas Island, Calif., ground stations to study photographs relayed by Tiros II.

Scientists said these teams would select the most significant photographs for use in preparing maps showing cloud distributions and patterns over various parts of the United States.

Some of this information was to be relayed on a facsimile wire to the Weather Bureau's national meteorological center in Washington, for use in preparing forecasts.

Tiros I took nearly 23,000 cloud-cover pictures, but none was used. (See TIROS, Page 4)

Louisiana Legislators Assign Tag

By GERALD MOSES

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—The Louisiana House of Representatives, foiled at every turn in its efforts to end integration of New Orleans schools, Wednesday accused President Eisenhower and the federal courts of being involved in a Communist conspiracy.

The resolution stopped just short of calling them Communists. But it bogged down in the Senate, where one lawmaker said it was "the worst piece of legislation I have ever seen" and was toned down to more vague terms.

The House, meeting under the watchful eyes of black-clad mothers and children "mourning" for their integrated schools, passed the resolution unanimously.

It said that the "U. S. Supreme Court, supported by the entire federal judicial system and the executive branch of the federal government, is making common cause with the Communist conspiracy to destroy our public school systems and our standards of education."

In the Senate, it was toned down to read "some" of the federal judiciary and "some of the Congolese Violently Rake U.N.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Angry Congolese shouted "down with the U.N." here Wednesday during a funeral procession for four Congolese soldiers killed in Monday night's fighting with United Nations troops.

U.N. officials were conspicuously absent from the funeral for Lt. Col. Joseph Nkoko and three Congolese enlisted men. It was learned that Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu had promptly advised U.N. authorities that their presence would be "unwise."

Three U.N. helicopters circled local U.N. command headquarters to spot any signs of trouble as more than 150,000 persons lined the streets to see the funeral cortege.

As the cortege made its way to the African Protestant church for the "national funeral" rites decreed by Mobutu, bystanders cried "U.N., go home" and other slogans hostile to the world body.

Red Rift No Help To West

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials said Wednesday the apparently continuing ideological rift between Russia and Communist China was not likely to produce any early developments advantageous to the West.

Officials agreed with European interpretations that an editorial Wednesday in the Soviet Communist party organ Pravda showed that the lengthy Red summit meeting in Moscow has failed to narrow the gap between Russia and Communist China.

But they cautioned against expecting any dramatic developments as a result of the division of opinion between the two Communist giants. They said it was best to view the matter as a long range development which might have tremendous implications for the future.

In the eyes of officials here, the Pravda editorial was significant for two major reasons. One was the fact that its wide dissemination by Moscow radio, plus the decision to allow critical analyses to pass through censorship, showed that the Kremlin placed unusual importance on the subject matter at this particular time.

Secondly, it followed by only two days an article in the official Chinese Communist paper, "People's Daily," which renewed the attack on "revisionists" who seek to water down original Marxist doctrine.

Pravda, on the other hand, condemned "dogmatism and sectarianism," which it claimed afflicted the Communist parties at "certain stages" of their development. This was interpreted here as a direct slap at China's insistence on following the strict letter of Marxist dogma without making allowances for changes of the past century.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

As expected, but not without a twist of irony, the Japanese people have voted to retain their close ties with the United States. Irony, because all four Japan's major political parties made for foreign policy the chief issue of the campaign. This policy has as its keystone the United States-Japan mutual security treaty.

It was this pact which led to last spring's violent demonstrations, which in turn led to cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Now the Japanese people have endorsed the pact and returned Premier Hayato Ikeda's Liberal-Democratic party to power with an even greater majority than before.

It is good news for the United States, for without Japan its whole system of Pacific defenses would have to be revised.

There also were notes of warning, for the opposition Socialists gained 23 seats with a campaign which relied heavily on slogans and demanded neutrality and closer ties with Red China.

The Communists, running a full slate of parliamentary candidates, went from one seat to three.

The neutrality issue has increased in direct proportion to the intensity of the arms race between the United States and Soviet Russia. It is a shuddering emotional withdrawal from the knowledge that inter-continental, nuclear tipped missiles can reach any place or any people on earth.

Therefore, it is a tribute to the Japanese people, on the doorstep of Red China and Soviet Siberia, that they can reject it so overwhelmingly.

There are, of course, other issues that may have weighed just as heavily with the Japanese people. There were local and regional issues, and conservative rural voters leaned naturally to Ikeda's Liberal-Democrats.

Further aiding Ikeda's forces was Japan's current prosperity, and the promise of the Liberal-Democrats to double Japan's income in 10 years.

Ikeda, now comfortably back in office with a good majority, is a blunt-spoken man who gained his early reputation as a financial expert. The Japanese voters decided he was the man who could keep them on the crest of peace and prosperity.

Chessman's Pal Fights Extradition

AUSTIN (UPI) — A man said to have been a confidant of executed red - light bandit Caryl Chessman asked the Supreme Court today not to extradite him to California to face a burglary charge.

The state, through assistant El Paso Dist. Atty. Edwin F. Berlinger, told the Supreme Court Mario Terranova should be sent to the West Coast to stand trial.

Berlinger said a national magazine (Argosy) has carried stories in which it said Chessman confided in Terranova during a period in which both were in jail. The magazine said Chessman may have told Terranova the identity of a man Chessman said was guilty of the crimes for which Chessman was convicted.

Terranova has refused to make any statement concerning the Chessman case, Berlinger said. Terranova is represented by El Paso attorney Al Truex.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 100 day about which some of President-elect Kennedy's more enthusiastic supporters are talking refer to the special session of Congress called by Franklin D. Roosevelt upon his inauguration in 1933.

That session began on March 9, ended June 16. There had not been anything like it before. To expect the new Kennedy Congress which meets in January to match or even closely to approach the record of FDR's curtain raiser is pure nonsense.

It is good that this is so. FDR's special session accomplished a great many things and did it incredibly fast. But the methods employed were not always wholesome. And some of the end results came to nothing, finally, because they were found to be counter to the Constitution.

Moreover, some of the remedies enacted failed to cure the diseases attacked, notably the appropriation of great sums to stimulate employment by making work to absorb the unemployed.

This device was a notable failure. Unemployment remained high until the U.S. economy got a shot in the arm when private industry became a major part of what FDR termed the arsenal of democracy.

Circumstances often demanded speed of FDR's special session as on that first day. The banks were closed, you may remember, and it was up to Congress to enact legislation pronto to permit the solvent banks to open up. Congress did just that in a single day, in a matter of a few hours, in fact.

Congress enacted that legislation without a glimmer of understanding of what the bill contained. There was not physically present in the House chamber a copy of the bill when it was passed by the House. Senate Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas appeared on the Senate floor a few minutes before the special session began with one copy of the bill, still damp from the presses.

The late William K. Hutchinson of the also late International News Service plucked that copy from Robinson's excited grasp unbeknownst to the senator. That stolen copy was hurried to the Senate press gallery where it was ripped into three pieces, one each to the United Press, International News Service and Associated Press.

Francis Stephenson of the AP and I had made a deal with Hutchinson that each would seek a copy of the bank bill and the man who found it would whack it up with the others so the text could go to anxiously awaiting newspaper readers.

The senators passed the bill that day equally as ignorant as the representatives of what it contained. Readers of late afternoon newspapers surely knew more of the bill's contents that day than did the legislators who had enacted it.

It is reasonable to hope that the new president and the new Congress will do better this time.

No man can resist that mood when he unwraps his packages and finds it so dazzlingly expressed in a fun-inviting sports shirt, corduroy jacket and slacks set, lounging pajamas with complementing bathrobe, princely slippers or a host of other handsome things to wear.

Most adults of the shrimp family apparently spawn only once and have a life span of one year.

Globe Seen In Midwest Is Balloon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Air Force spokesman said today that authorities here agreed that a brightly lighted object seen over the Midwest before dawn was a balloon launched in connection with the new satellite, TIROS II.

Air Force authorities at the Pentagon, at the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., and Trux Air Force Base in Madison, Wis., reached this conclusion after conferring by telephone. The high altitude weather balloon was sent aloft from Sioux Falls, S. D. Before the Air Force report, other authorities had speculated that the Midwest reports of the unidentified object may have been the early sun reflecting from the balloon.

Texas Due Fair Weather For Holiday

By United Press International Clearing, skies and mild temperatures were forecast Wednesday for most of Texas over Thanksgiving Day. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted temperatures would plunge to freezing in parts of Northwest, North-Central and extreme Southwest Texas Thursday morning but would warm up to the 60's and 70's during the day. A high pressure ridge from the northeast covered the state Wednesday. Skies were partly cloudy to cloudy along and east of a line from Dallas to Austin to Laredo, and over the Midland-Abilene-El Paso area, but generally clear elsewhere.

J. William Fulbright, D - Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Johnson and Fulbright are in Paris for the conference of NATO parliamentarians.

The real parleys started at 5:30 p.m. when the American Treasury officials called on President Charles de Gaulle's finance minister, Wilfried Baumgartner, at his ministry.

The meeting lasted nearly two hours, but afterward the Finance Ministry issued only a brief non-committal communique which said that Baumgartner "had an exchange of views on economic and financial problems of interest to the two countries."

Population Hike At 182 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. population should reach 182 million at about 5 a.m. EST Thursday, the Census Bureau said Wednesday.

It based the estimate on results of this year's population count and birth, death, and migration rates.

The nation's population stood at a record 179,323,175 on April 1. Influencing the population total are births, one every 7 1/2 seconds, deaths, one every 29 seconds, the arrival of an immigrant every 1 1/2 minutes, and the departure of an emigrant every 23 minutes.

These figures are averages and round-the-clock representations. Their net result is that the U.S. population grows by an average of one person every 10 1/2 seconds.

taining Caroline's two ducks. It was turned over to Kennedy by 9-year-old Barbara Bim, daughter of the merchant who sold the birds to Kennedy for a dollar each.

At one time, the Kennedys planned to spend Thanksgiving at the Kennedy home on Cape Cod, Mass. But they switched the celebration to Washington because it would be less rigorous for Mrs. Kennedy who is expecting their second child next month.

It was the president-elect's first visit to Washington since the election except for a brief stop-over on Nov. 11 when, en route from Hyannis Port, Mass., the plane set down briefly to let Mrs. Kennedy off. She has been in Washington since then.

After returning to Palm Beach Thursday night, Kennedy was expected to stay there at least until Dec. 1. He wants to relax further in the vacation atmosphere and apparently finds it less distracting there while he works on establishment of a new administration.

members of the executive branch" before it passed 23-11. The House had already adjourned until Sunday, so it could not vote on the Senate amendments, which leaves the resolution hanging in limbo.

The Legislature passed another resolution ordering $2,535,312 be deposited with the Legislature to pay the teachers of the embattled New Orleans schools. The resolution ordered that when the teachers' checks are mailed to them, the envelope include a note pointing out that the Legislature, not the school board, was paying them. Segregationist leaders said that New Orleans School Superintendent James F. Redmond and school attorney Sam Rosenberg wouldn't get paid.

New Orleans lawmakers led the Senate opposition to the resolution condemning the federal government. It got another portion, which said that "atheistic, communist menace... has infiltrated the highest councils of our nation" to read "some of the highest councils..."

"This is too strong," said Sen. Robert Ainsworth. "It implies a charge of treason."

Another senator said that "calling Eisenhower a Communist just because I don't recognize a Supreme Court decision is not my way of doing things."

The resolution said that when the Supreme Court made its original integration ruling, it did so on the authority of alleged "Communist writings" and therefore adopted the Communist conspiracy against the American people.

The Legislature also voted to give $25 apiece to the state policemen who, at the Legislature's instructions, tried to enforce a school holiday when two elementary schools were integrated by four Negro girls last week.

The state policemen, who took no action when school officials ignored their announcements that schools were supposed to be closed, will get a total of $1,350.

Rotarians Hear A Capella Choir

The Pampa Rotary club yesterday heard 15 members of the high school A Capella Choir in musical selections as its program for the day. A quartet, the Four Flats, also presented several numbers.

Club visitors and guests were Kimsey Davis, Ralph O'Neil, Roy Hart, J. B. Watkins, Reg Yauch, Earl Wade, Wayne Phelps, Ray Webster, Ed Galloway, John Conway, Eddie Chattin, Grady Doyle and R. S. Williams.

in a direct attempt to help make weather forecasts.

One more shot is scheduled in the TIROS series, probably early in 1961. After that, the federal space agency will shift toward development of a more advanced series of "Nimbus" meteorological satellites to establish a worldwide 24-hour weather watch starting in 1962.

TIROS II also carried seven infra-red sensors, some designed to help map cloud covers at night when the TV cameras cannot work, and others to study the very source of earth's weather, the so-called "heat balance" of radiation distribution around the globe.

The infra-red devices cannot see, but rather "feel" out cloud layers by the amount of radiation that passes through. Scientists will try to piece together bands of this data for a map. Nimbus will include a more elaborate and more sensitive infra-red system.

Wednesday's shot was the 14th space success of the year for the United States. Dr. Morris Pepper, chief of the meteorological satellites program for the federal space agency, said it was "a very happy occasion" for his organization.

Alcorn was "not saying anything we don't already know."

The GOP attorney said Republican headquarters had received an unprecedented flood of more than 35,000 telegrams and letters demanding recounts in various areas. He said many of the authors cited specific cases of alleged fraud and offered to testify in court.

Alcorn said one complaint charged that it was "common practice" to buy votes for $5 each in some Chicago wards. Another charged that "in Clinton, Tenn., about 35 miles from here, people were made 'dog drunk' and taken to the polls to vote."

A southeastern Missouri Republican said he had been told by two persons in two counties that they used their cars or trucks to haul men "from one polling place to another, and paid them to vote the Democratic ticket, paying them each time they voted."

wind up in the Nixon column some of the votes in other states look equally suspicious."

The Republican official added in a statement that recounts would be demanded in each case where the evidence indicates fraud or irregularity in the Nov. 8 balloting.

"All fair-minded citizens in the states are determined to take every legitimate and reasonable step to see that the final result in each case is recorded correctly," Alcorn said. "There can be no place in America for vote fraud—or even the suspicion of fraud."

The teens are the time for a girl to start learning how to handle skin care, make-up, hair care and styling. True, you won't be adept at it in the beginning but with practice, you'll have the routine set. Start with skin care (left) since this is a beauty basic. This girl is careful to remove stale make-up with mild soap and lukewarm water before applying fresh make-up. She learns to use a lipstick brush for a clean outline (center) by propping her little finger against her chin for balance. For a party, she sweeps her everyday pony tail into a high hairdo (right). You won't get this or any other hairdo switch right the first time. But don't give up. You'll soon learn to handle any hairdo suitable for the teen years. This is important both in teen-age and in the years that will follow.

Mrs. Thurman Is Feted At Party

GROOM (Spl) — Mrs. Billy Thurman, nee Portia Harden, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Marvin Talley on Saturday afternoon.

In the receiving line were the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Preston Harden and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. E. T. Thurman.

Hostesses were Meses. Marvin Talley, Jimmy Masland, Max Wade, Felix Ludwig, Bennie Valentine, Gene Wade, Truett Fields, Bill Hammers, Henry Merrick, Jeff Gray, Charley Fields, and Mrs. Britten of Amarillo.

Coffee and tea were served from a silver tea service on a table appointed with blue organdy cloth centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations. Crystal completed the table appointments.

Key Make Up To Look Of Natural Beauty

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

It's always fun to do something we don't HAVE to do. Reading a book for a school book report can seem a chore. Yet you might have read the same book with enjoyment if you hadn't been told to read it.

Well, it's the same with make-up. A girl in her teens gets a kick out of experimenting with all the new cosmetics she can get her hands on. But it's an enjoyable pastime chiefly because she doesn't really NEED them to be beautiful. When she's older, her approach will be far more business-like. Her reaction will be one of gratitude rather than a feeling of fun.

The purpose of make-up is to achieve a beautifully natural appearance. And running the whole gamut of cosmetics can mean trouble. Fool around with them all you like at home. But when you leave the house, don't dip into the powder and paint too deeply or you'll end up with a beauty-minus.

Remember that the first rule of beauty is scrupulous cleanliness. Start your make-up with a clean face. Get and keep clear skin, with a two-minute fingertip wash-and-soap massage at least twice a day. True soap, containing anti-septic deodorant, helps chase the bacteria that may cause blemishes.

When you apply face powder, press it on generously, but remove the excess with a soft brush. Then pat your face with a damp cleansing tissue. This trick keeps your powder on you, not on your clothes.

During classes, don't overdo the back-browed, eye-lined look. If you're a brunette, petroleum jelly on your brows and lashes will give you a dewy look that will be repaid in glowing glances from your favorite fullback. Blondes can get the same results with a little brown mascara and a subtle touch of eyebrow pencil. In the evening, under artificial lighting, heavier eye make-up will not look so harsh.

Keep your hair clean and shining. There's no periodic, set time for a shampoo. Wash your hair whenever it needs it.

For daytime, wear your hair simply enough so that it can be set right with the flick of a comb. There's no end to the mess a gym class can make of a complicated hairdo.

Be careful that your nail polish is always in good repair. A combination of sports and the chemistry lab can be hard on it. It only takes a few minutes to cover unsightly chips, but if your schedule doesn't permit you take the time, shun bright polish that makes every nick so obvious.

Nurses and those who wear white uniforms on the job can keep them sparkling with a heavy-duty soap. Soap is recommended rather than detergents because it helps preserve antistatic finishes present on most white nylon uniforms. Use a water softener when using soap, though, so soap curds won't discolor the uniform.

Dessert and coffee were served during the social hour. Also attending were Meses. LeRoy Snodgrass, Gertrude Huckins, Fred Wall, M. E. West, W. S. Berry, Everett Crawford and Elizabeth Tinsley.

The program, "Great Religions of the World," taken from the book "The Religions of Man" by Huston Smith, was presented by Meses. Orville Allan, G. E. Huckins and Glenn Fish.

Dear Abby... French Poodles Can't Read English

ABIGAIL VAÑ BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I hid my paper address, the card would be returned very quickly after reading the many letters from readers who gave various reasons why French poodles made poor pets. You see I have a French poodle, and he doesn't know he's supposed to be high-strung, temperamental and noisy. If he had seen those letters, it might have been disastrous.

MARtha: You didn't have to hide the paper. French poodles can't read English.

DEAR ABBY: I've seen many opinions expressed in your column about what to call one's in-laws. Here is how I feel about it: I raised three sons and two daughters. As each was about to be married I let it be known that I was "MRS. BROWN" to the wives and husbands of my children.

The first time I heard my own son call HIS mother-in-law "Mother" it almost broke my heart to think he could call another woman "Mother" while his own mother was still living.

I don't think it's possible to call anyone except one's own parents "Mother and Dad" and be sincere.

MRS. BROWN: You have a right to your own opinion, but thank heaven you are in the minority.

DEAR ABBY: Last year when it came time to mail out our Christmas cards, my husband and I had an argument. I put our name and return address on the back of every envelope. My husband said that it looked like we were hinting for them to send US a card. The reason I did it was in case the front of the envelope got smeared and the postman couldn't read the bear the name and address of the sender so that if the address is illegible, incomplete or incorrect, the letter can be returned to the sender.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HANK Love cannot be preserved in a coloh. Get wise.

Getting married? For Abby's new pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, BOX 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper. She answers ALL letters.

Broken Promises Leave Their Mark

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

This week I want to write more about what goes on in a child to whom promises are persistently broken.

Suppose you are the child. In the corner store you have seen a red pencil box you passionately covet. I am your mother; you ask me for the dollar to buy it, I say, "I'll give it to you when you get home from school this afternoon." On your arrival home from school, I say, "I had to give all the change in my purse to the milkman."

You expected this disappointment. You now know that I don't really want you to have the pencil box.

But you have to believe that I wanted you to have it. You have to believe that I've told you the truth. You are 7 years old. You are dependent on me, not only for orientation in this overwhelming grown-up world.

To know that I lie to you about wanting you to have things that I don't want you to have would equal chaos for you. It would be the shattering awareness that all my words may be as false and treacherous as quicksand.

So you must reject your secret knowledge that I have lied again and accept my excuse. You bury the knowledge deep where you hope it will not trouble you and cling to me with what seems to be renewed and unspoiled trust. But that buried knowledge begins to make itself felt in an increase of haunting anxiety.

You may start biting your nails. You may find it hard to concentrate in school. You may have fantasies about my being you step-mother. You become defensive with other people. Somehow, you can't feel safe with them.

This sense of mysterious threat will become acute whenever others make promises to you. You will not know that it derives from your buried knowledge that they will break their promises.

You will often feel this uneasiness in the course of your life because your trust of unreliable people will continue to involve you with them.

You may never discover the root of this anxiety.

YUM YUM—Boonlua, a four-month-old elephant, went after a bagful of goodies held by Patty Duke, young star of the Broadway hit, "The Miracle Worker," at Idlewild Airport. The four-footed baby had been flown from Zurich, Switzerland, en route to Buffalo, N. Y.

NOTED CRAFTSMAN—One of the world's foremost violin makers, Clifford Hoing shows his skill to 9-year-old Juris Silaraj at High Wycombe, England. Hoing, whose violins have taken prizes in international competitions, spends up to six weeks in the building of a single instrument.

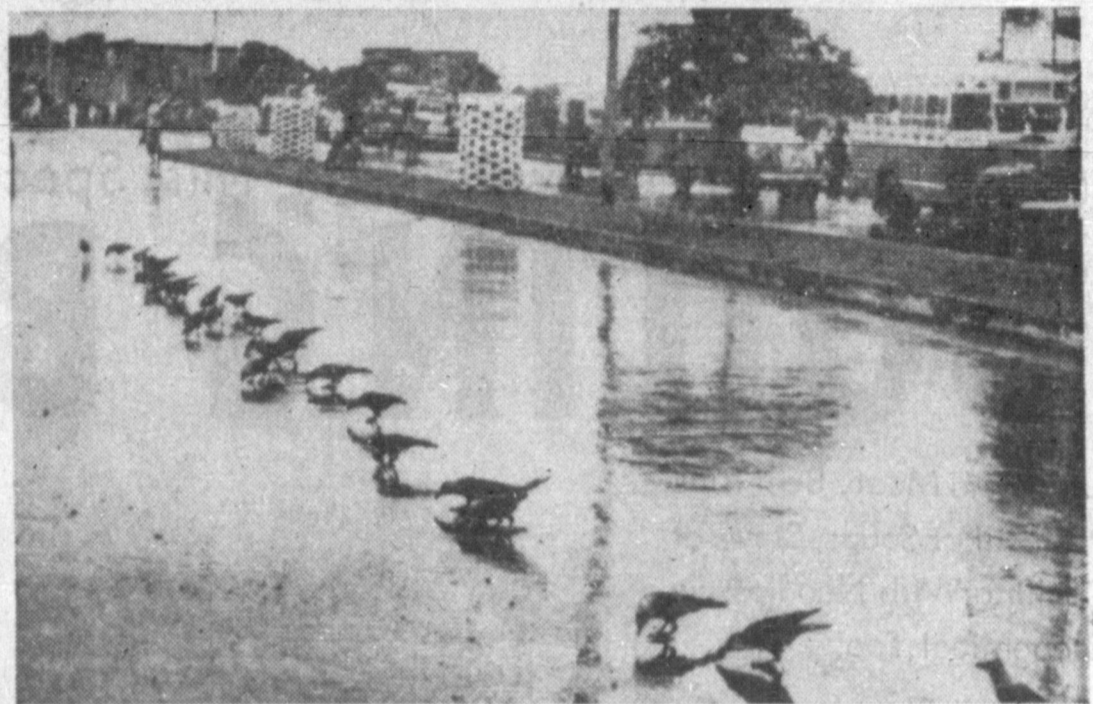

ON ITS WAY—A sign of things to come is illustrated by George Rogers as he shovels away a snow drift from his car near Mt. Washington, N. H. The area had received its first heavy snowfall, and Rogers will be doing a lot more of this shoveling.

STUCK ON CACTUS—Gardening's a sticky business for Reginald Gully, whose hobby is growing cactus in window boxes at his home in Beckenham, Kent, England. Some of the 45 varieties of his spiny plants have brought many prizes in garden shows.

THIRST QUENCHER—Jeannie, a calico cat in Southern Pines, N. C., has a unique method of getting a drink. She dips a paw into a glass of milk, then licks it off, rapidly repeating the process until she has had enough.

FOR THE BIRDS—These crows have a good reason to be lined up on a street in Dacca, East Pakistan. They're gobbling up a thin stream of rice that leaked out of a food truck. It caused the birds to get hurriedly into this follow-the-leader formation.

AROUND THE WORLD

TAPED TO MEASURE—It shouldn't happen to a dog, but it has at Clarkson, Ont., Canada, where Scamp, a beagle, is on a diet. The pooch has to lose 20 pounds for health reasons, and David Deeth, 11, is measuring his tummy with a tape. The over-size Scamp is losing a pound a week.

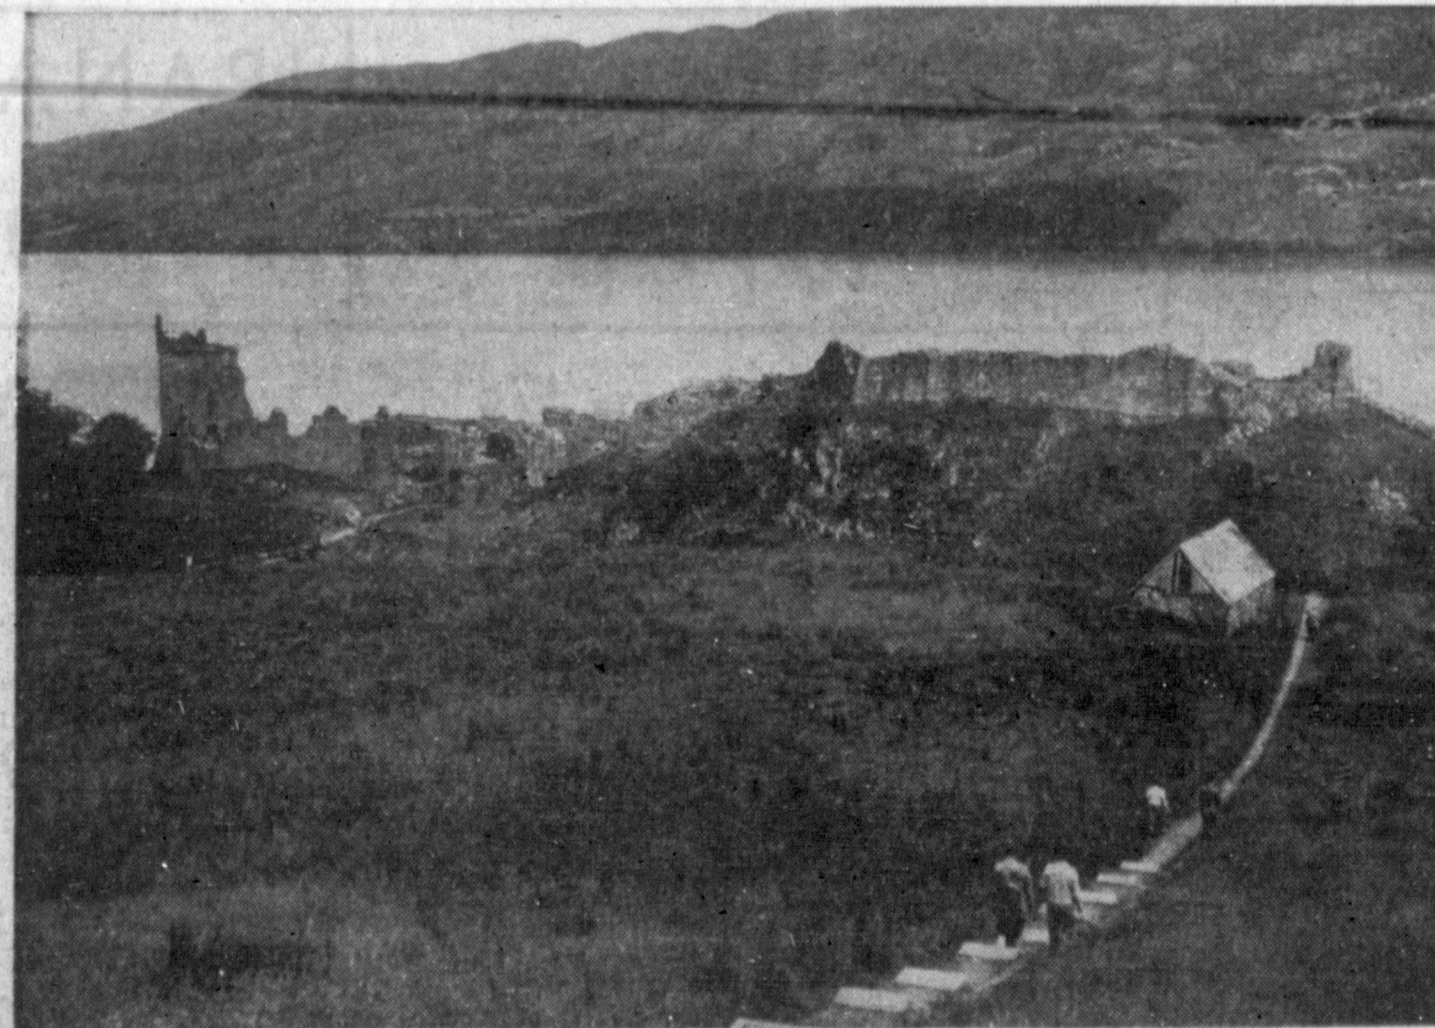

SHOOTING BACK—Turn about is fair play for movie star Gina Lollobrigida, who is holding a long-lens camera to snap back at news photographers in Rome. Gina has on the wedding gown she wears in "Come September," in which she co-stars with Rock Hudson.

IN THE BAG—New buses come in plastic bags at a vehicle factory in Munich, West Germany. Lined up for shipment, each bus is covered with a bag weighing about 30 pounds and costing $170. They're used as protection, and keep the vehicles bright and shiny on the rail or truck journey to their eventual buyers.

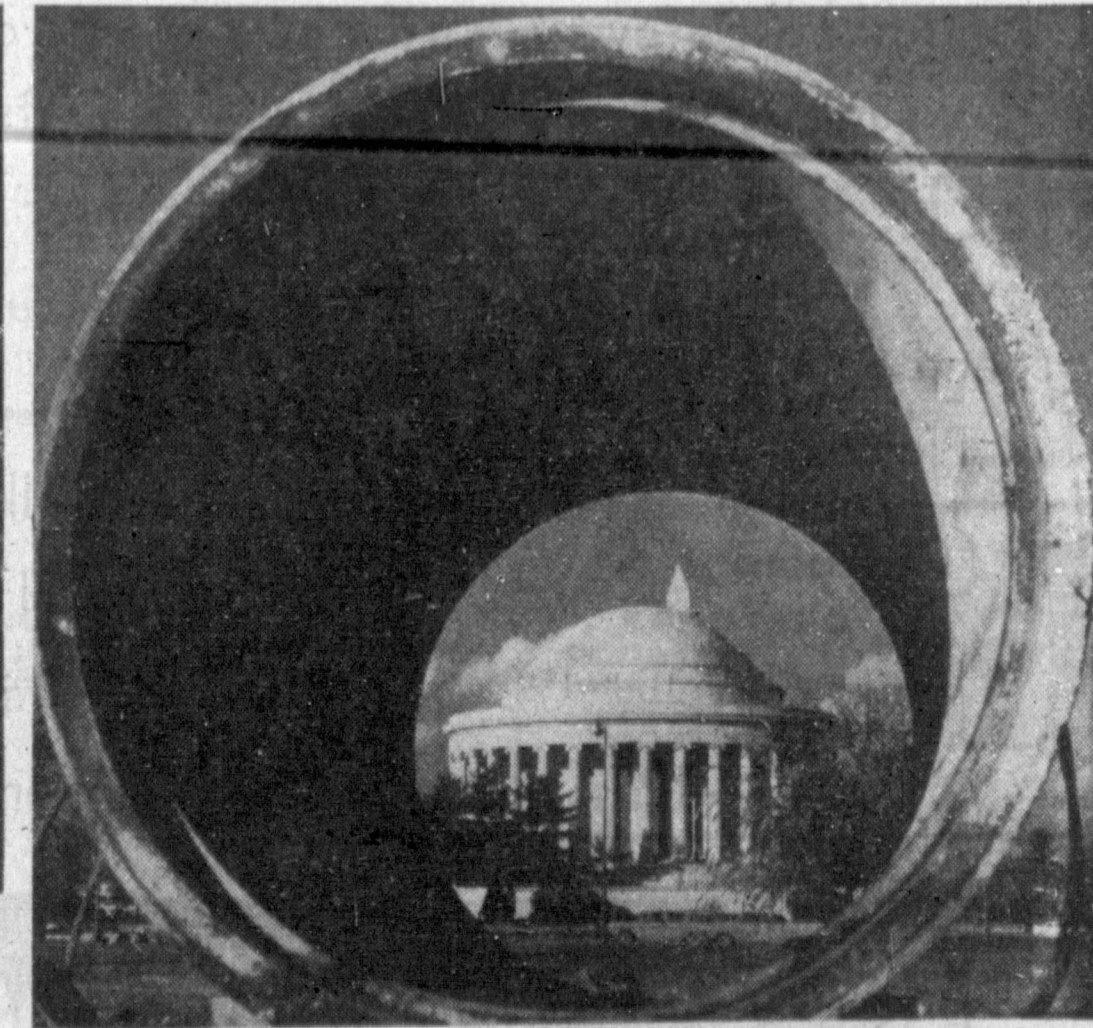

A FALL GUY—Up a tree in Sun Valley, Idaho, this little bear had better rustle himself up a bed in which to sleep the long winter away. There may be a few leaves left on that golden aspen tree, but the first winter snows have already fallen, and it's bedtime for all smart bears.

MONSTROUS SETTING—The waters that are supposed to be home for the Loch Ness monster seem quite calm, but the surrounding Scottish countryside is mysteriously somber and desolate enough to inspire many a chilling tale. At the edge of the lake, where some persons claim to have seen a sea serpent, lie the ruins of Urquhart Castle.

RESTING IN PEACE—As it stands on one leg, a flamingo resembles a piece of modern sculpture in Chessington, Surrey, England. The tall bird has stretched that long neck to rest its head on its back.

LAI TO REST—Soon to be buried on its unglamorous job, this sewer pipe has a brief moment of glory. It is framing the Jefferson Memorial in Washington, D. C. The 96-inch section of pipe is part of a new sewer main under construction.

Texas, Cactets In Grudge Battle

Longhorns Shaky Pick In Thanksgiving Game

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—The annual Thanksgiving Day grudge battle between the Texas Longhorns and Texas A & M goes before the national television cameras Tuesday with the Longhorns a shaky 12-point favorite.

A crowd of 53,000 plus the ABC television audience are expected to watch a game marked more by defense than offense when the two teams collide at 1:30 p.m. est.

Texas built its season on a "pussyfoot" offense around halfbacks James Saxton and Jack Collins that never materialized. Without a quick scoring punch, the Longhorns have dropped three of nine games so far by a grand total of nine points.

The Southwest Conference wind-up for both teams, the result of the game will probably make up Texas' mind whether it has been a good or bad season, and may leave the door open for a victorious Longhorn team to snag a bowl invitation.

The Aggies have had it tough this season, winning only one of nine starts, but managing three conference ties.

But when the pitched battle of the two old rivals hits its peak, the 12-point favorite stuff could go right out the window. The Aggies were 10-point underdogs last season, and had the Longhorns trailing 10 points by halftime before losing in the final minutes, 20-17.

The Aggies also have had their offensive troubles this season and loss this week of fullback Sam Byer won't help them any. Byer, who has been the team's leading rusher, will be replaced by sophomore Lee Roy Caffee.

Aggie Babe Craig, the conference's leading punter, will also be hampered and may be held to limited action.

Texas defense may be hurt by the absence of Bobby Oliver, a wild-card defensive specialist. He will be replaced by Drew Morris, a mere 155-pounder.

Although the field should be damp from steady rains the past few days, forecasters call for a break by game time with partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures in the 48-70 range.

Utah State In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)— Utah State, a strong running team with a 9-1 season record, accepted the visitor spot yesterday in the Sun Bowl to be played Dec. 31 at El Paso, it was announced by Sun Bowl officials.

Bob Kollner, of the Sun Bowl committee, said Utah State athletic director H. B. Hunsaker accepted the bowl offer.

The host team for the third oldest bowl in the nation will not be named before this coming Saturday's play.

New Mexico State appears to have the inside track, but bowl officials are waiting for the result Saturday night of the New Mexico State-Texas Western at university Park, N. M.

Utah State was a co-champion for the Skyline Conference this year.

New Mexico is favored to win Saturday and cop the Border Conference title. New Mexico defeated North Texas State 28-8 last Dec. 31 in the Sun Bowl.

Utah State's only loss this season came at the hands of Utah University last Saturday, 6-0.

In Six Bowls CHICAGO (UPI)— Linebacker Bill George of the Chicago Bears, an eight-year veteran of the National Football League, has played in the circuit's pro bowl game six times, from 1955 through 1960.

Basketball, which has been waiting in the wings since mid-October, moves into the limelight in Pampa next week when the Harvesters open their 1960-61 season in Quannah on Dec. 2.

Pampa plays Childress the following night, then opens its home season against Phillips on Dec. 6. In all, Coach Terry Culley's crew will play 13 games—five away and eight at home—before District 3-4A action begins Jan. 3.

Culley will field a squad that has only two lettermen—Alen Wise and Pat Carter—and only four seniors on his 15-man squad.

In his first year as Harvester head coach after eight years as apprentice to Clifton McNeely, Culley finds his team ranked in sixth place in the pre-district poll, the lowest that a Pampa team has been rated in memory.

Poll Picks Sandies

The poll, voted on by coaches in the district, put Amarillo in first place, Borger in second, Plainview, third and Palo Duro, fourth, to round out the first division.

In the second division came Monterey, Pampa, Tascosa and Lubbock. Monterey and the West-erners lived up to their advance billing Tuesday night by losing to Odessa, 58-48, and Odessa Permian, 64-52, respectively.

Amarillo has the horses to take its first district championship in 12 years with three starters back, but we learned long ago never to discount Borger. In fact, we used to think that Borger and Pampa were the only two schools that played basketball in the Panhandle as one or the other usually won the district flag.

As far as Culley is concerned, sixth place is fine—for a pre-season pick. With other teams shooting for the top four leaders, Pampa will have the psychological edge—if nothing else—on most of its opponents.

The Harvesters probably will open the season with Wise, Carter, Bill Neslage, Larry Stroud and Lloyd Balch. However, sophomore Randy Matson probably will dislodge one of the five when his broken foot completely mends.

Culley has high hopes for Matson, a strapping 6-3, 190-pounder, especially on defense. The coach feels that Matson won't mind mixing it up under the backboards and many coaches will tell you that defense wins more games than offense does.

While we wouldn't like to wager any pesos on it, we'd like to make a figurative bet that come the end of February, the Harvesters aren't in sixth place—and the Sandies aren't in first.

Poor Old Midland

SPORTS NOTE: Midland High School may be one of the biggest "snake bit" schools in the state. Last year, their basketball team—acknowledged as the best in the state—lost to Borger, 56-55 in overtime in the regional game; last week, they lost the district football championship when Odessa High beat them, 7-6.

Speaking of Borger, the Bulldog footballers will have to play much better than they did against Pampa to stay in the same field with Wichita Falls Saturday. For a district champion, Borger was very unimpressive, especially in the first half.

A wire story filed out of Amarillo last Saturday was a real jewel. Briefly it stated that Amarillo won its 15th district title in 25 years by beating Palo Duro and that Borger tied the Sandies by beating Pampa. I thought it was just the opposite, seeing as how Borger whipped Amarillo, 27-11, when the two teams met. Nice try, Putt.

And, thank heavens for big favors: DeWitt Weaver is supposed to resign at Texas Tech tomorrow. Maybe Tech can forget about playing Border Conference football now and concentrate on the Southwest Conference. Basketball coach Polk Robison is supposed to be the new athletic director (he's now assistant) and J. T. King is rumored to be the next head coach.

Bull Lone SWC Pick On Second Team

East Tops Coaches All America, Holub, Lilly Make First Squad

CHICAGO (UPI)— The American Football Coaches Association today announced its 1960 All-America team, choosing as the finest 11 collegiate football players in the land:

Ends: Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh, and Dan Larose, Missouri.

Tackles: Ken Rice, Auburn, and Bob Lilly, Texas Christian.

Guards: Joe Romig, Colorado, and Tom Brown, Minnesota. Center: E.J. Holub, Texas Tech. Quarterback: Jake Gibbs, Mississippi.

Halfbacks: Joe Bellino, Navy, and Ernie Davis, Syracuse. Fullback: Bob Ferguson, Ohio State.

They were selected on the basis of balloting by more than 1,500 members of the coaches' association. The project is sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company and the coaches' team is distributed exclusively by United Press International.

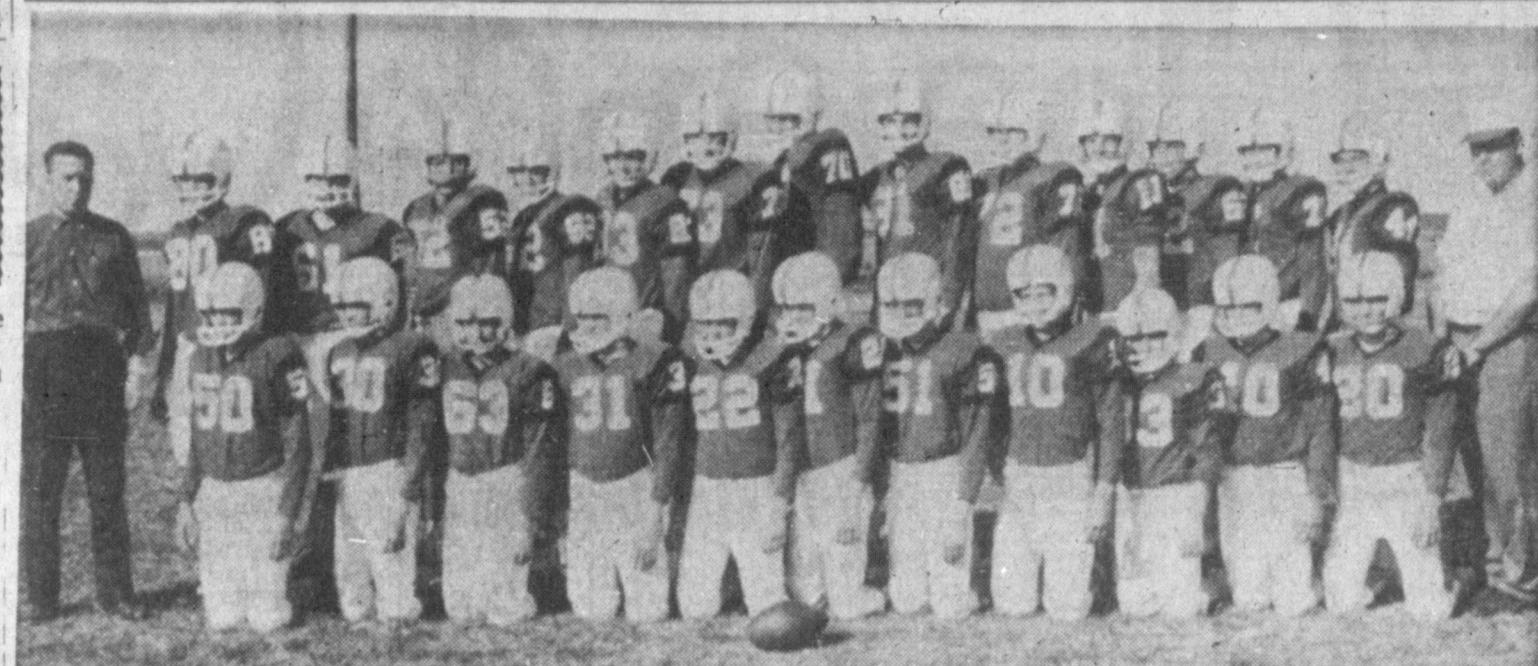

For the first time in years, the East dominated the coaches' dream team with three players—Ditka, Bellino and Davis. The Midwest, South and Southwest have two players each while one each was chosen from the Rockies and Midwest regions.

Brown and Ferguson are the Midwest representatives, Rice and Gibbs the South's and Holub and Lilly the Southwest's. Romig is the Eastman Kodak Company and the coaches' team is distributed exclusively by United Press International.

Stinnett Top Favorite To Continue Unbeaten

By United Press International
Monahans, Carrollton, Denver City, Stinnett, Plains and Mount Vernon occupy favorites roles in the six games Thursday and Thursday night that will kick off a 32-game schoolboy football play-off week end.

All but one of the Thanksgiving Day games will be afternoon affairs, the other one being ticketed under the lights. The night game will find the deadly Stinnett Rattlers from the Texas Panhandle trying to clear the second hurdle in what is expected to be a march to the state Class A championship. The Rattlers, picked last summer as the team most likely to succeed Katy in the Class A throne room, have lived up to all expectations to date with 10 straight regular season victories and a 42-0 bi-district victory over Lefors.

Three Area Teams Go For Regional Titles

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

Three area football teams open regional battles on far-flung points today when Miami's eight-man Warriors meet Jayton at Childress, Groom plays Anton at Tulla in a Class B tilt and Stinnett's potent Rattlers take on Farwell at Borger in a 1A contest.

DON LIGHT eyes state title

Both the Miami - Jayton game and the Groom-Anton struggle are slated for 2:30 p.m. Stinnett and Farwell meet at 7:30 p.m. in Borger's Bulldog Stadium.

The winner of the Stinnett-Farwell game alone will advance on in state play; the other two winners will be crowned regional champions as their two classifications play to regional titles only.

All three area teams will be favored to win their respective games, with Miami a two-point favorite over Jayton; Groom a one-point pick over Anton and Stinnett a conservative eight-point choice over Farwell.

Miami will carry a 11-0 record into today's game and a 31-3 record over three years. This is Miami's third successive shot at the regional crown, losing to Weinert the last two trips.

Jayton will match the Warriors 11-0 mark for 1960. It is also the only team to tie Gall, a team that ran up 44 straight wins before Miami stopped the string, 19-8, last weekend.

Groom, in good physical shape, finds itself in regional play for the first time in three years. The Tigers have won district for the past two years but both times Happy dethroned them in bi-district battling.

Optimists Set Friday Bouts

Pampa's Optimist boxers, due to a mixup with Hereford pugilists, will meet battlers from Lefors and Amarillo in a full round of matches at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Optimists Boys Building.

Hereford had been scheduled as Pampa's opponent but Hereford had made previous plans to fight in Amarillo and thus the change. However, Optimist Coach Ollie Wilhelm promised a good card tomorrow.

Wilhelm said that both Dickie and Gary Willis would fight tomorrow. "Even if they have to fight each other," Both are contenders for Golden Gloves crowns in the regional tournament.

Claims Neutrality Frick's Single Vote May Decide Move

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commissioner Ford Frick proclaimed his neutrality Wednesday in the tug-of-war between the American and National Leagues but warned them both he'll fight any plan that smacks of a fly-by-night scheme.

Frick, who is sitting in the driver's seat now and knows it, once again reminded that he holds the deciding vote in the event the two major leagues can not get together in their current controversy over adding new franchises.

"I'm in a unique but rather comfortable position," Frick said, regarding the present wrangle between the two leagues. "As Uncle Charlie Moran, the old umpire used to say, 'It ain't nothin' until I call it.' Frick, without making direct reference to it at first, obviously was talking about the revolutionary proposal made by American League officials Tuesday. The AL moguls agreed to delay moving into Los Angeles until 1962 provided that the NL agree to expand to nine clubs and engage in inter-league competition in 1961.

Claims Neutrality Frick's Single Vote May Decide Move

"I don't think that's a perfect solution," the commissioner said, "but it gives them (the American League) time and I can support it." Frick, however, was far more concerned with amending rule 1 of the major league agreement.

Story Says Weaver Out

DALLAS (UPI)— The Dallas Morning News said yesterday in a copyrighted story by Sports Editor Bill Rives, that Texas Tech's athletic director and head football coach, DeWitt Weaver, will resign within the next few days.

NEXT: In the Beginning

In the quest for more knowledge about the workings of life, man has had to enter worlds we normally never see.

One of the most wonderful of man's artificial extensions to his senses is the microscope. But the ordinary optical microscope is limited. It can only magnify objects about 1,500 times. The indispensable tool today is the electron microscope, which magnifies up to some 200,000 times—capable of penetrating deep into the living cell and of revealing the smallest of organisms, the viruses.

Viruses illustrate the fact that it is difficult to say just what the difference is between living and nonliving things. For scientists have actually broken viruses down into their separate chemical parts, then reassembled them—literally manufactured viruses off the shelf.

No microscope, of course, is powerful enough to reveal atoms. In a certain experiment, however, physicist Dr. E. Muller of Pennsylvania State University succeeded in obtaining the amazing magnification of 2 1/2 million. His "field-ion" microscope projected an image of the actual atomic structure of the tip of a tungsten wire that was so thin as to be almost invisible.

Biologists are drawing near to an understanding of the way in which the cell reproduces itself. Present-day research indicates that the key is a long, chainlike molecule in the cell called deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA for short). Two Britons, J. D. Watson and F. H. C. Crick, have made a "model" of this molecule. It looks like two interlocking spirals. The spirals are connected by four nitrogen compounds known by their initials: A, T, C and G.

It is believed that these four compounds are the "code letters" of life. A few thousand of them make up a gene; thousands of genes in the cell spell out the characteristics of every organism. Thus these four letters, arranged in seemingly endless combinations (possibly five billion in man), determine the shape and behavior of every thing that lives, ever did live or ever will live.

To crack this code is one of the greatest challenges of modern science.

Political Fires And Revolutions Don't Deter Determined Tourists From Visiting

By PATRICIA CONNOR
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you were a 30-year-old female from New York visiting France this summer you were squarely in the midst of the largest tourist bloc from the United States.

State Department passport office figures show more Americans traveled overseas this year, more women, more of them flew, more went to Europe, particularly France, and more came from the northeastern states.

About 13 per cent more Americans applied for passports or renewals from July to September, 1960, than during the same vacation months last year; the department announced. The figure was up 19 per cent for the January to September period.

Apparently world tensions, political fires and revolutions don't deter determined tourists from their appointed rounds. However, this may depend on where you live.

Take residents of the Dakotas—35 per cent more North Dakotans applied for passports this year, but 41 per cent more South Dakotans decided to stay home. World sights lured Milwaukee residents away in droves but more Pittsburgh people stayed home to watch the Pirates rather than see the Eiffel Tower.

Of the summer travelers, 79 per cent flew to and from their less-than-two-month trips. If you were among the 157,345 passport recipients during those months, the odds are you were a housewife or independently employed, between 20 and 40, and you expect to do it again in about five years.

According to department figures, the largest increase in travelers came from the Pacific states, mountain states and north-eastern states in that order. In contrast, more residents of the south central states stayed home. Mississippi, New Mexico and Montana all showed large drops in the percentage of travelers compared to 1959.

Most American overseas tourists—78 per cent—choose to visit Europe. France, Italy, Switzerland, Britain and Germany were the most popular in that order. The American continent and the Far East tied for second place in attracting U.S. tourist dollars. Africa ran last.

Evergreens have long been symbolic of eternal life. But various types of evergreens have other specific meanings as well. Holly symbolizes joy and merriment; laurel for triumph, rosemary for protection and mistletoe for good will and friendship.

The young of the shrimp, pass through 10 larval stages.

A&M Accepts Donated Funds

COLLEGE STATION (SpI) Two new research grants have been received by the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology, Texas A&M College, through Texas A&M Research Foundation, Dr. Dale F. Leipper, head of the department, has announced.

The National Science Foundation has awarded $50,000 for research titled, "Investigation of Dissolved Organic Sorption by Minerals Natural Waters." The work will extend over a period of approximately three years under the direction of Dr. Richard G. Badger, professor of geological oceanography.

Danger Seen In Ruling On Urban Renewal

AUSTIN (UPI)—Attorneys for the city of Laredo warned the State Supreme Court today that if an appeals court ruling is allowed to stand it will jeopardize urban renewal programs throughout Texas.

The Court of Civil Appeals, in deciding state urban renewal laws are unconstitutional, has "materially and mistakenly endangered" programs in Waco and Lubbock as well as Laredo, they said.

Gerald Weatherly and William Allen represented the city in arguments for a writ of error in the appeals court decision. The city won a victory in a trial court over three citizens who objected to the urban renewal election.

Plan Early! Shop Early For Merrier Christmas

Once again it's wonderful Merry Christmas time — that joyous, delightfully happy, miraculously exciting time — when suddenly all the world takes on an inspiring glow.

If you've any doubt about it just look around you. . . at the store windows stacked with beautiful gifts, at the side walk Santas with their kettles for coins. . . at the crowds hurrying to see everything.

It's a thrilling time, and you'll not want to miss any of it. The shops "knew you were coming" and are ready to welcome you — ready with the most varied, most dazzling gifts in history. So slip into your most comfortable walking shoes and get right into the midst of it!

Sounds like fun? It is! Start right now with this special section and you'll find it crammed with good ideas. . . helpful hints on what to pick for just about any list you could write out. Big gifts, little gifts, all sizes and all prices. The only thing you have to do in the entire "game" is match the present to the individual — and with so many inspirations, how could you possibly miss?

At this point, the smart thing to do is take out pencil and paper and jot down the names of people you want to remember. . . family friends and co-workers. Next comes the one-and-only unglamorous part of this otherwise fun story: considering your budget.

Perhaps you've been wise and joined a bank Christmas Club last year. If so, you're ahead of the game — and there's no better way to use your new found wealth than to share it at Christmastime by remembering the people you love.

Now you're ready for the next step! Shopping early simplifies so many things. It assures you better selection and ample time to pick and choose while sales people can take extra time to show you the super values.

Lay-away plans are part of every store system today so you can select your presents early and pay for them later on easy terms. It's a great boon to your budget.

Or you might open a charge account or use the instalment plan. Credit sales managers at your favorite stores will gladly help you make the arrangements.

The important thing to remember is GET GOING! Time slips around fast. So — join the Big Show, join the crowd, join the fun! You'll find gift items galore. New models in TV, hi-fi sets, beautiful furniture for the home, lamps, washers, dryers, freezers — cameras and movie projectors — shimmering, shining purses, jewel-like clothes — new shapes in watches and charm bracelets.

Possibly the most rewarding part about shopping early in having time to wrap your purchases in "personalized" covers and glamorized, glittering trims — in having time for shipping those which must be mailed to distant corners — and, best of all, having time to enjoy Christmas on your own — time to relax because you know you've picked the perfect gift to make your recipients happy.

Organs Now Popular As Yule Gift

Christmas carols this holiday season will be sung in many homes around brand-new electric organs, placed under the Christmas tree by a thoughtful "Santa."

Many of the new electric organs are so easy to play that they are a welcome gift for all members of the family — from youngsters to oldsters.

The new organs also are within the price range of a budget-minded Santa and are handsomely styled, to compliment any decor.

Most popular new organs utilize a built-in, self-teaching playing system that nearly anyone of any age can master in minutes. Chords are lettered and keys are numbered, so that the beginner has no difficulty in following the music in the specially prepared books. . .

With a little parental guidance and the aid of "music by numbers," even first-graders can pick out a tune on one of the many new portable electric chord organs.

Last year, this intriguing instrument attracted more than 350,000 musical beginners — and this Christmas organs will strike happy notes for many new organists.

Comfort Gives Pop Pleasure

Jingle, jingle, jingle, what to give Kris Kringle! Since Dad is the guy who loves, counsels and provides for his family all year 'round, he is a real Santa Clause—so, what's more appropriate than a gift of "comfort" for him. Present him with his very own easy chair, or contour chair — to be reserved exclusively for him. Then, at his feet you might put a pair of cozy slippers, handsome robe, and at his side — a tobacco canister, pipe rack and a good reading lamp.

Gourmet Foods Are Gifts That Express 'Taste'

Just about the time you're sure you've checked off all the names on your gift list, even tucked cards inside the fancily wrapped packages, you suddenly remember you've overlooked the couple down the street. . . your neighbors and those friends, who seem to have EVERYTHING.

Now's the time to show your ingenuity — your talent for selecting the "perfect" gift. Simply send a connoisseur's classic. . . a beautifully packaged gourmet basket.

Loaded with fine wines, imported cheeses, cocktail chips and caviar, salted nuts and other party needs, these glamorous packages can be truly exciting to receive; compliments and thanks will flow your way.

After all, Christmas is a festive holiday, and what could be gayer, more colorful, more sparkling than a bottle of Champagne sticking out of a wicker hamper?

Now add more deluxe delicacies . . . wine jellies, biscuits, mammoth ripe olives stuffed with almonds . . . all tied with bows of bright ribbons and bedded in gay colored cellophane. . . and you have glamorous gift fit for a king.

You'll also find a choice selection of fruit packs which are good looking and even better eating! Glace fruits and roasted nuts, orange blossom honey — they're all treasures of treats.

You'll find most of these on the shelves of fine grocery stores, liquor shops or in special firms which feature their own products and name brands at holiday time. In the case of fruit packs, rare fantasy preserves or the fancy cheeses, you can have them shipped for you, gift-wrapped, to any part of the country.

Toyland Is Wonderful For All The Children

Buying toys deserves priority on your Christmas list, even if you are only a cousin once removed or a casual family friend. Time invested in the selection of suitable toys can yield lifetime dividends of value to a child.

This advice comes from Dr. Philip Lewis of the Chicago Board of Education and Toy Guidance Council's Advisory Committee, who also suggests a preliminary reconnaissance of Toyland before buying.

Because of the air of excitement surrounding a toy department during the holidays, it's a smart idea to list the ages and habits of the children you want gifts for, and outline the basic play interests at each age level. Then look for toys that fit them individually.

You'll find it rewarding, in your role of Assistant Santa Claus, to study the information on toy packaging. Read leaflets like "Learning Through Play" — Toy Guidance Council's outline on toy selection which gives special play needs of each age of childhood.

Toys designed for very young children whether they are safe for sucking. There should be no loose parts, and edges should be smooth. Lightweight toys are best for the crib.

Toys For Tots In Wide Range

If toddlers could write their notes to Santa Claus, they'd have a really glorious time this year . . . with hundreds of exciting new items to list. Starting with a very tiny infant and going up to the six year old, the choice is wide.

Cuddly animals and unbreakable plastic toys are still the most popular for a baby under eighteen months, and the more colorful the better. Very little children respond happily to bright, cheery shades. But be sure the toy is safe.

Blocks, small battery-driven cars, music boxes or simple take-apart toys are best for this age group. Also, there are soft paperback picture books and wonderful cuddly life-like dolls.

Mechanical figures which can dance are a constant delight, and little eyes always sparkle at the sight of a colorful, hand painted wooden train.

For the group just under six, the emphasis again is on educational toys and those which teach the child coordination. An easy-to-assemble car kit, blackboard desks, peg boards, alphabet building sets are always good.

Doll furniture, tea-sets, and little seamstress' sewing kits are ideal for training children at an early age.

Finally, if there already are toys galore under your toddler's Christmas tree, you might consider "wearables".

A visit to the "small fry" department of a store will open up another world of suggestions.

Rompers, robes, dresses, suits, sweaters, sweater sets, slippers, slipper socks, snow suits and many, many other items will make you a "sensible Santa" this Christmas.

and play pen crowd whose muscles are just beginning to develop. children should be labelled as to

A new category of toys — from the land of science — should ease your gift selection for teenagers. It includes lab equipment on a home scale. . . even group viewer microscopes for family participation.

Balance is important in a toy just as it is in nourishment. From babyhood on, children require varied play activities; so, in making up your gift list, consult leaflets at good stores or get advice from parents with children in similar age groups.

By scheduling this important part of your Christmas shopping early, you will find a broader selection of "correct" toys and a store personnel with time to be helpful.

Cuff Links Rate As Wanted Gift

French cuffed shirts are increasing in popularity. This will help in solving your Christmas gift problems for the men on your list. With the return of the French cuff, cuff links are increasing in popularity, too.

An exciting, greater-than-ever collection of cuff links is waiting to bring an extra touch of elegance to the discriminating man's wardrobe.

Then, of course, there are tie clasps to match. A visit to a men's store will show you a never-ending variety of jewelry for the man on your list. Look for matching belt buckles and key chains, too.

GIFT OF ELEGANCE! A gathered 14K mesh "cuff" bracelet enhances the simple oval contour of this watch with its diadem of 22 selected diamonds. Quality crafted with a 22 jewel movement.

PAMPA'S FASHION CENTER

HANDSOME PAIR ON CHRISTMAS MORN! Junior's jacket is warm, but lightweight in an all-cotton shell and Curon lining. Features a zip-front, hacking pockets and tri-color rib knit shawl collar. Dad's all-cotton jacket reverses to corduroy and features attached hood that tucks into zippered pocket beneath the shawl collar. And in the box—a button-down shirt.

You can make a traditional Kluge Ball by poking sprigs of evergreen into a foam ball. Tuck a bit of mistletoe at the bottom; attach a big bow at the top. It's ready to hang from the ceiling.

For a sick friend, or one who can't get around easily, try giving a package of post cards and stamps. The amount you spend can be big or little, and it's one gift ANY one can surely use.

Elegant Gifts Need Not Be Too Expensive

Elegant gifts need not wear a high price tag. But finding such gifts sometimes requires more than a hurried shopping trip to your favorite store. You'll find the time and effort well worth it however when you see you've presented the "exactly what I wanted!"

Woodenware has long been popular with people of good taste. For warmth and sheer beauty, there is nothing quite as nice. Unusual wooden cheese boards, often with lovely glass or ceramic covers are wonderful gifts, especially for those who entertain. Salad servers, chopping boards, candle holders, pepper grinds and salt shakers are also grand choices.

Ceramics have never enjoyed such popularity as they do today. . . and no wonder. Modern ceramics, such as demitasse cups, candy dishes, ash trays, tea sets and vases, come in a tremendous array of shapes, colors and designs.

There are many "affordable" gift-possibilities in silver and copper too. Trivets, drink stirrers, tea kettles, letter openers, espresso makers and small serving bowls are very much in fashion for 1961, and make marvelous gifts.

In glass, the gift choices are practically limitless, but here are a few suggestions for that "something different" (makeup mirrors with ornate frames, bottles and decanters in every shape and size) and just purely decorative items that serve no function.

To many, and especially men, nothing surpasses leather for beauty. For him, choose an unusual attache case, cigar humidor or cigarette case, or one of the many other leather items that go beyond the billfold or belt category.

For her, an exquisite leather jewel box might be just the thing. Very small ones, about traveling size, are not expensive. You can give the lady on your list a leather billfold this year that will be quite new. . . in leopard or something more unique than calfskin.

Basketry items, in rattan, wicker, straw, etc., are ordinarily very inexpensive and there are some extremely smart items to be had. For example, a small size hamper with a handle is not only decorative in the kitchen or living room, but it is also very handy for many purposes. . . for storing items before ironing, to carry on a picnic, as a sewing or handicraft carry-all.

Small baskets may serve as containers for guest towels in the bathroom; to hold bread or crackers on the dining table. . . the variety of baskets and their uses are almost endless.

Even paper offers some truly elegant items. There are lovely "throw away" guest towels, gay Christmas tablecloths, party napkins, and lasting decorative items. Shop with imagination this year. . . you'll stretch your budget and boost the appreciation your gifts receive.

If you're completely out of ideas, why not surprise a friend with two tickets to the theatre? Show your care!

For Mother: Peace, Quiet

Kitchen sounds are a definite part of the holiday season! The clatter of pots and pans and the hubbub of children and guests make the kitchen a scene of happy confusion.

While such gaiety is fun, it may leave Mother wanting nothing more for Christmas than a few moments of peace and quiet. An easy and effective way to pliances; building them into a crescendo of nerv-jangling din.

Acoustical ceiling tile, which absorbs up to 75 per cent of the sound striking it, soaks up the excessive noise before annoying reverberation can begin.

Yes, today's acoustical ceiling tile can bring new quiet to your home at Christmas, and throughout the year.

Plan On Giving A Pet?

...which one shall I take?

BY JOHN MORRISSEY
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you decide to give an animal as a gift, first make sure you're not marking up the wrong alley. While it's a rare person who doesn't like animals, not everyone has the time or facilities to care for them. If you still want to give a pet, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may have the answer to your problem — adopt one. Cats, dogs and other animals are waiting at shelters for someone to take them home for Christmas — and they're free. The only money involved is the cost of a license where necessary.

This doesn't mean you can solve all your present-giving problems by running down to your local shelter and asking for a dozen cats and dogs, gift wrapped. There's a little more to it than that.

Janice Paprin, a spokesman for the ASPCA, has some suggestions, whether you buy or adopt an animal.

"Make sure the one receiving the animal really wants it," Miss Paprin warns. "They may take it only because they don't want to hurt your feelings."

"When picking a pet, take into consideration the size, breed, disposition of the animal, the size of the home or apartment and the age of children in the home."

Miss Paprin recommends small (but not tiny) to medium size dogs for children. Children under five are usually too young for a live pet. Handling of pets by older children should be supervised. In the case of a dog, it should be about six months old. Children like to pick up puppies and this could lead to an injury to the pup. An older dog has a better chance to fend for himself.

If you choose a female, consider having her spayed to prevent unwanted puppies.

It's a good idea to buy a book on pets and their care before you select an animal. Have the person book beforehand so that he'll know how to care for the new friend book beforehand so that he'll know how to care for the new friend when he arrives.

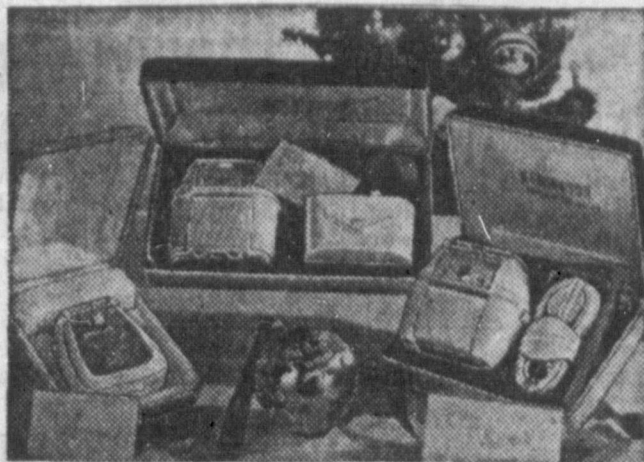

"The animal should be introduced into the household in an atmosphere of calm," Miss Paprin says. "Bring him home a few days before or a few days after Christmas so that he can receive undivided attention and get acquainted with his new surroundings without a lot of hustle and bustle going on around him.

"It may look cute," Miss Paprin says, "but never hang the animal up in a stocking or put him in a box under the tree. You may walk away and forget all about him." Prepare a place ahead of time where the pet will be kept. Have feeding dishes, a bed and of course, food on hand.

Don't forget that puppies are just like little children. You have to have patience when it comes to housebreaking them. You'll find the housebreaking information in your dog book.

"Children should be taught how to handle animals with kindness and consideration," Miss Paprin says. "And last but not least, warn the youngsters that the pet's tail is not the leash."

Imagination, Gadgets Give Decorations Flair

There are a great many exciting Christmas decorations you can make with ordinary items in your home.

For example — set a boxtype vegetable grater in the center of a square cake tin. Place a candle inside the grater to flicker and twinkle through the holes. Around the end, inside the pan, lay glittered pine cones or other types of Christmas "fancies." Top the grater handle with tiny tree balls, wired on.

Bottles are the beginnings of many interesting decorations too. They need not be especially attractive. . . you can make them so by covering them with pretty paper.

Use them as candle holders, vases for evergreen cuttings, or attach foam plastic "heads," which you can easily make. . . to create a Santa Claus, an angel, or one of the Three Wise Men.

Thin aluminum pie tins may be clipped with ordinary scissors into many lovely designs. You can wrap a hat box like a drum. . . make big candles by rolling a piece of large cardboard and covering it. To form a flame, crinkle yellow or orange paper, attach with tape.

Put your imagination to work as you look around your home. . . you will see many possibilities for clever Christmas decorations.

It's not necessary to spend a lot of money for wrapping paper and ribbon. . . imagination can replace cost. Use a sheet of newspaper, such as the page you're reading, for novel and masculine gifts. With the addition of a bright red bow or raffia, it's very smart.

Let Your Banker Help Your To Be 'A Jolly Santa'

Even if your list of presents is longer than your bankroll . . . you can still fill Christmas stockings bountifully.

Banks today grant loans for almost any reasonable need — and that includes the cash to pay for the high cost of Yuletide giving.

You don't have to be a depositor of the bank to get a personal loan. Having a substantial savings account makes it easier. But all you need really show is your ability to repay the loan safely and comfortably out of current income.

Don't hesitate to borrow this Christmas, but don't get caught short of funds again. Start saving for next December 25 now! You'll have a year to save, a little at a time.

To help you stick to good intentions, many banks around the country now provide special accounts under programs called Christmas Clubs. They make you save for Christmas in spite of yourself. You save in much the same way as installment loans.

FEMINE FRAGRANCES such as Chantilly, a lacy scent, are always delightful gifts for ladies. Liquid sachet, eau de toilette and dusting powder make up this lovely gift set.

ROCKET MEN INTO SPACE is a new idea in game fun for the younger set that bases competition on rocket riding adventures. Boys, especially, will go for this gift.

Old Standbys Are Still Popular, But There Are Many New Toys

WATCHING BIG BROTHER — Enchanted little girl watches as her brother builds a radar scanner with his Erector set.

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK — (NEA) — Don't be alarmed Christmas morning if a robot should squeak into your room and ask to be taken to your leader. He's probably something Junior knocked together with his Erector set, which, after many years, is still popular with youngsters (and grownups, too).

The Erector set has graduated to the space age. A boy can still build the familiar bridges and elevators, but when he tires of these he can put together aircraft engines or a radar scanner.

You might as well admit it — the Wild West is here to stay. Most boys still like to find a six-shooter or rifle under the tree. Though talks just like a real little girl. She says 11 phrases at random.

Mother's little helper can learn good homemaking and proper grooming with some of the new kits on the market.

The Let's Do the Dishes set has a white modern sink and drain-board, equipped with a realistic dish drain and sink strainer. Sis can wash her toy dishes and dry them just like mom.

To make herself a living doll a little girl will love a Beauty Bar which can be installed in the bathroom with adhesive hangers. The white cabinet with sliding doors has a place for everything from tissues to lipstick and natural nail polish. Be sure you hang the cabinet low enough so the child can reach it.

If the girl should like to entertain company there is a full-course breakfast set for two. When it's time to feed her dolly she can give her a TV dinner (a lot of dads get these, too).

For youngsters, five years old and up, there is a Whirling Worlds mobile. It includes materials for assembling of the sun, earth, the other planets and their satellites revolving around the sun.

For boosters or squares there are all types of new musical gimmicks. Without a single lesson, anyone from six to 60 can join the fun and play songs immediately on a professional size three-foot Flamenco Guitar. This six-string instrument comes with its own music book and has gear action tuning pegs and features Spanish dancers in full color. Sounds like just the thing to start dad's day off with a bang.

Strum-Fun Getar offers children an easy way to learn rhythm and music disk. There are eight easily changeable disks of favorite songs.

Slippers Rate With Everyone

Exhausted from Christmas shopping? Then ease into the slipper department and rest your weary feet while you select handsome gift slippers in glove-soft, comfortable leather for those special people on your gift list.

The dozens of exciting slipper styles for women are not only more luxurious this season but kind to your budget as well, reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

New slippers double for fireside relaxation and informal entertaining; indoors or out.

Suede flats, gold and silver thong sandals and mules, richly jeweled and embroidered in metallic thread are available in a wide range of bright colors and handsome leather textures. They go with chiffon hostess gowns or velvet slacks.

Slippers make ideal gifts for men, too. Extremely popular are leather-lined glove leather opera style slippers. Another masculine favorite is a soft, moc-toe shoe with folded-over tongue and hand stitch detailing. Many men like a more formal slipper of polished or grained leather with horizontal pillow stitching across the vamp.

The man who travels will welcome the luxury of a pair of soft saddle leather slippers that weigh but a few ounces and tuck easily into any corner of his cowhide suitcase.

There are warm, shearing slippers for every member of the family. Dad and brother will like shearing-lined "highrider" slippers in the softest smooth leather.

All the girls will delight in shearing-lined slippers — light-as-down shearings in bright pink, lipstick red, electric blue, pale champagne, or dozens of bright new colors.

These handsome new slippers invite tired feet to relax, yet give firm, comfortable support so important to foot health.

Incidentally, it will look prettier if you keep the dowels at different heights. The effect is like about a dozen lovely Christmas cards!

The Mistletoe Legend

Mistletoe, which can strangle a tree and kill it, has been hailed as a symbol of eternal life since ancient times.

This inconsistency is easy to understand though. . . for in the dark, barren, cold days of winter, mistletoe, along with evergreens, is generally the only greenery to be seen.

mother and child, father and son, brother and brother, sister and sister.

The ancient Arabians showed their devotion to the gods with kisses as a part of their sacred rites. In the Roman Empire too the kiss indicated reverence and respect.

In the rite of the Druids, mistletoe was broken into small pieces and given to the people to hang over the entrance to their dwellings. Among the early Scandinavians this sentiment toward mistletoe was widespread.

Also in many countries from time to time, mistletoe has been used as a medicine. . . to "cure" almost anything.

Few people in the modern world really consider mistletoe a symbol of eternity or anything else. . . but it is fun to have it hanging in your home at Christmas, and very pretty as well.

EVERY MEAL IS A "PARTY" — to the child who has his very own silver to use and cherish. A charming place setting and silver drinking cup are a gentle help in learning good manners.

Tips On Buying Gifts For 'Difficult' Listed

It's wonderful, but very unusual, when there is no one on your Christmas gift list who presents a problem of "what to give."

Quite often it is the "senior citizen" who is most difficult to buy for — but it needn't be so. Gifts that "look ahead" are always appreciated . . . gifts such as a subscription to a magazine or book club, or a roll of postage stamps in a pretty container.

Two types of gifts to avoid for this age group are (1) any gift that points to the fact they are old or have a disability . . . such as a cane, shawl, smelling salts, etc. And, (2) any gift that shows you think they are lonely . . . such as one fancy cup and saucer (always give two), or for that matter one of anything where most people would be given at least two!

Second problem group is often the teenager . . . too old for toys, too young for many grown-up gifts. But, if you select something in the way of a "fad" gift, you can't go wrong. The best idea is to check through several current issues of one or more of the "young set" magazines.

One of the most satisfactory ways to do your Christmas shopping, no matter who you are shopping for, is to plan on paper first. List about three possible gift ideas for each person, unless you are certain of what you want to buy, and that you will be able to find it for the price you want to pay.

Lastly, carry along a list of clothing sizes when you go shopping. The best memory can sometimes fail in the midst of the hustle and bustle of shopping.

YEAR 'ROUND CHRISTMAS GIFT — Luggage knows no season and will be used for years. Select a case to match a set the recipient already owns, or start them on a collection. Shown here are a pair in white vinyl bound with black cowhide; two leather duffel bags; and a handsome tapestry satchel.

Flowers Are Always Welcome As A Gift

America's favorite Christmas bloom is the brilliant poinsettia. The scarlet blooms, which have become the very symbol of the Yuletide season, ranked number one in a recent survey by Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association to discover the most popular Christmas floral decorations.

Named for Joel R. Poinsett of South Carolina, the magnificent plant is surrounded by legend.

One describes a poor child who wished to give a gift to the Virgin and was heartbroken because she had nothing of value or beauty to present. As she approached the Mother of Jesus, in desperation she plucked some of the scrawny flowers at her feet. As she did so, the flowers were transmuted into the scarlet brilliance of the poinsettia.

When someone wires you an arrangement of greens and holly, you may take pleasure in reflecting that the wreath still means, as it did in Roman days, that good wishes and esteem are entwined in the leaves.

Holly, which has grown in America for hundreds of years, is considered a universal herald of the holidays.

When you send blooms for Christmas, consider a flowering plant. Gaining in seasonal popularity during the last few years, according to the FTD survey, are azaleas, Christmas begonias, kalanchoe, cyclamen, and pepper plants (also called cherry plants). These blooms add to the festive air and endure beyond the holidays to brighten any room in the home.

In cut flower arrangements for the Yuletide holidays, there is little doubt that the leader in the dazzling array of red blooms is the Happiness Rose.

The survey also reveals that red and white carnations and varicolored chrysanthemums are great American favorites.

Florists now group cut flowers in combination with holly, pine sprays and berry clusters in charming, individualized arrangements for mantels, tables and door adornments.

Don't forget that children love to receive Christmas flower arrangements designed especially for them. You can order a child's size tree fashioned of boxwood and garlanded with carnations and silver beads, or even a flowering lollipop bush created to be eaten as well as sniffed.

And if you're in doubt, you'll never go wrong by remembering: The gift that invariably pleases young and old is the poinsettia — the brilliant bloom of Christmas.

Discretion Due In Giving Cash

Comes Christmas time and it's the right time to remember the many folk who have served the family in some way or another throughout the year.

If you are going to give gifts of cash, make sure you secure crisp, new bills ahead of time — put them into a special cash folder card or a friendly Christmas greeting card.

Little Girls In Wonderful Doll World

Maybe it's the mother complex in her, but every little girl wants — and deserves — a doll. This year, reports Toy Guidance Council, the perfect, oh-so-wonderful doll will be waiting for her. . . exceeding anything she may have fancied in her most elaborate dreams.

Dolls not only resemble children, they walk, talk, cry and drink like children. Manufacturers have exceeded the already near-human realism of previous seasons, now creating models with such muscular agility, they actually perform ballet routines.

Another amazing development is a versatile 3-foot high doll, exact counterpart of any real youngster her age, designed to walk alongside a carriage pushing a smaller doll! Magic on the family scene.

Speech versatility is still another development in the doll world. This year Chatty Cathy, young Miss America of the play pen set, makes her entry on the holiday scene speaking whole sentences in small child chatter! Another female with a talent for talking.

Still more marvels have entered the field. . . accessories, even furniture, copied from current "grown-up" models; kits with instructions on the "care and feeding" of dolls. . . even diets and scientific baby care; and still another thrill — a baby's bath with nozzle spray.

High fashion takes over the miniature doll group, with a boom in carrot-tressed dolls, bangs and beehive coiffures, even needle-pointed shoes and bulky charm bracelets. 1960's doll is a career girl carrying a brief case!

Stuffed animals have personalities, too. Patterned after zoo counterparts, they look amazingly real. Others have come from outer space, or a fantasy group, and some are TV characters named Huckleberry Hound and Quic Draw McGraw.

With so many "Jet age" developments, it should be a record year for the Doll. . . First Lady of The Land.

If Pop doesn't have an electric razor give him one for Christmas. There are many new models available — you'll surely find one that's just right for light or heavy beards, to give Dad just what he's always wanted, "A close shave!"

Boots rate high as gifts with the sportsman. Check his shoes for the size — or if in doubt, you can always give him a gift certificate and he can select his own.

"MERRY CRISPNESS" is the theme of these two pretty dresses. They're designed in Kodol, Eastman polyester fiber, and 50 percent cotton, to insure ease of laundering and freedom from wrinkling. The frilled peter pan collar and ruffled bodice will always look perky; the skirt aways crisp.

Children's Toys Ante-Date Our Earliest Civilization

Where did the toys that children love so much such as dolls, kites, blocks, etc. . . . come from? Records and archeological excavations show that children have been playing with dolls, and many other toys we still see today, since many thousands of years ago. The Egyptians were perhaps the first to have dolls. These were not dolls, they were strictly items to entertain the children. Kites originated in the Orient. At one time kite flying was a national sport in China. Blocks, which were once called building bricks first appeared minus an decoration. Most were somewhat larger than the average ones today. Generally as soon as something new appears for adults, it is duplicated in miniature for children. It was not too many years after the first appearance of the locomotive that a child's replica was designed. The earliest steam engine, however, far preceded this . . . records

Men's Jewelry Widely Varied This Yuletide

Jewelry gifts for men are gifts of function as well as beauty. There is a wide selection to select from — in a wide range of prices. Personal accessories are pure flattery for any man, and this year's fashion changes point the way to some new gift ideas for pampering the male. The new, elegant ties call for something special in the way of a tie clasp. Tie bars, often discretely decorated with smart masculine stones, are perfect accents. The tiny tie tacks in a wide variety of designs have won the favor of men of all ages. These little decorative accessories have a practical value too for they hold the tie neatly in place. Because of their small size they tend to add to, rather than detract from, the pattern of the tie. They range from a single, classic cultured pearl to beautiful gold tacks set with a gleaming diamond. The Continental trend in men's fashions has sparked more elegant cuff links. Textured gold effects and links set with real or simulated stones give a new touch to his appearance.

Be careful in arranging the centerpiece for your holiday dining table — make sure that the guests can see over it and that it looks equally attractive from all sides.

GAY BALLOONS float on this sheer party frock with pretty lace-edged neck and puffed-out sleeves. It's designed for her very special holiday parties.

Inside, Outside Decor Creates Festive Look

This Christmas all over America, homes will be like young butterflies spreading their wings. . . . unfolding a blaze of color and light! Outdoor decorations will range from large, expensive, mechanically powered displays, to one small wreath on a door. . . . but both are signs of neighborliness and hospitality at this Holiday Season. Doors, and a picture window if you have one, are the best spots to start your decorating. They are "naturals" as focal points. Your walk serves as a "frame" for the doorway as seen from the street. . . . so don't forget that. Lights are, of course, the most exciting and festive ways to dress up your home's exterior. But, there is virtually no end to the many ways you can decorate if you let your imagination go to work. But, here are two important hints to keep in mind: (1) Be sure your display is not a clutter. Feature one design, and use all other items to enhance that. And, (2) be sure your displays are weatherproof. This is particularly important where lights are used. Besides lights, tinsel greenery, cut-outs, etc., which you know work for good displays, . . . you can use casein paint to decorate your door, garage, windows, or what-have-you. . . . it goes on easily and washes off quickly. Remember, that rain and snow can smear it or wash it off. . . . so use casein paint only where it is protected. Test it on a small area first. . . . just to be sure! Consider talking to your neighbors this year about having a coordinated display. It's a good "excuse" for getting to know your neighbors better. . . . and can make yours a neighborhood the whole town will be proud to show off!

Many Men Like Pipes

Figures recently released indicate that our nation is going up in smoke! According to The Pipe and Tobacco Council, there are 18 million pipe smokers who buy an average 2.5 pipes per year.

Generally, it's a masculine story, but at Christmas, women crowd the picture shopping for gifts. So the Council sends up these smoke signals of advice. First of all, styles in men's clothing have changed considerably, with a slim, continental line heavily stressed, leaving scant room for carrying excess articles in pockets. Choose a pipe to fit this new fashion trend. Another major change-over is special tobacco blending kits. Most men like trying something new, especially if they've had a hand in it themselves! These kits holding 2-ounces of tobacco make ideal gifts for the man of the house, a young smoker, or even grandpop. But — rely on the judgment of a tobacconist. He's a specialist on blends. He's also a good guy to advise you on the four basic types of pipe men prefer, briar, corn cob, meerschaum or cherrywood. Meerschaum, always white, is a rare Turkish mineral, highly porous, but has a hard consistency. Costs on these run from $10 to several hundred dollars. Briar, most popular of all, is the core of the bruyere bush grown in the Mediterranean area. Aged for two years, it's imported and has a price range to suit any purse. Corn cobs, made from dried ears of corn, are soaked and hardened in a sweeter process prior to carving. Men like their sweet smoke and women like the price — generally from 25 cents to $1.50. Cherrywood, made from tree bark, grew popular in World War II when briar was hard to obtain. Like corncobs, they're inexpensive. Other suggestions sure to please any men on your gift list include pipe racks, lighters, humidors, pouches and pipe cleaners. In a man's world they all rate praise.

FOR FARM OR HOME Give Dad a break this Christmas — give him something that makes shoveling snow from the sidewalks and driveways a cinch. There will be no winter worries this year with a 1961 snow thrower, says Moto-Mower, Inc. The Machines pick up snow and slush and hurl it up to 16 feet away to the right or left through a reversible chute.
