RELUCTANT PACIFIST — Police in New Haven, Conn., drag one of nine "pacifists" from a bus and into U.S. District Court where all nine were arraigned and held in jail. Mother Abandons Tots In Store's Toy Section

NEW YORK (UPI)—"I left my children when I left my children, but I wanted to do as was run." Eileen Weiss, 29, a jobless secretary who had been cut off from city relief, tried Thursday to explain to police why she abandoned her two brown-eyed children, Michael, 5, and Maria, 4, in the glittering toy section of Gimbels department store on Thanksgiving Eve.

But whether the little tots themselves would understand appeared to be another matter. Even with the diversions of 400 other children at the city shelter, watching the big Macy's Thanksgiving parade on TV and lots of turkey at dinner, they still asked, "Where's mommy?"

Police refused to let Miss Weiss see her children after booking her on abandonment charges. Police also said that a man who identified himself as Salvatore Adriloli, 31, a baker's helper, of Brooklyn, told them he was the father of the children and wanted to care for them.

While Michael took care of his little sister at the children's shelter, fighting back his tears so she could cry her own. Miss Weiss

Body Of Boy Slain By Dad Is Recovered

POPULARVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—Albert Hall Sr., his face gaunt, his hands in his pockets, turned to a police officer and asked, "Are you sure it's him?" The officer replied, "It's him."

Eules, Tex., Police Chief W.M. Sustaie led the 35-year-old former mental patient away from the spot where his son's body was found under a pile of pine cones in a weedy, swampy area near here.

Hall, who throughout the search remained calm and seemingly unaffected, burst into tears and refused to look at the body of his 12-year-old mentally retarded son, Albert Jr.

At the foot of the crude grave, Hall had placed a pine twig, bent in the shape of a cross. Only the right upper part of the body was visible. The boy wore a blue jacket.

The discovery Thursday ended three days of searching and speculation. Hall admitted killing his son last Friday after he brought him here from a Texas institution for retarded children.

DIFFERENT VIEWS — Leaders of two different factions in the New Orleans integration crisis express their views on the situation. Louisiana Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, left, told a meeting of the Louisiana Teachers Association at Baton Rouge that "recent developments should not be interpreted in the light of prejudice or ill feeling between our two races." In New Orleans, Mayor Delesep Morrison, right, appeared on a national television program and accused outside agitators of stirring up trouble in New Orleans. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

New Orleans Awaits Court's School Ruling

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A defiant Louisiana Legislature and an uneasy New Orleans citizenry today waited impatiently for a three-judge federal panel to rule on whether the city's public schools could return to racial segregation.

The three-judge court, which includes Judges J. Skelly Wright, the man who ordered integration, has been pondering the case since Monday when the harried school board pleaded for the return to segregation.

The board, caught in the middle of a state declaration of interposition and the adamant Judge Wright, wants to de-integrate until it is determined if the state or federal government will call the shots regarding operation of the schools.

Louisiana's segregationist legislature has addressed out of office board and fired the New Orleans school superintendent. They remain in office because of a federal injunction halting the legislature from interfering with integration.

Mission To 'Save' Dollar In Europe Is In London

LONDON (UPI)—U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and State Department Undersecretary C. Douglas Dillon arrived here today on the last lap of their thus-far fruitless mission to Europe to "save the dollar."

France and Germany have both rejected U.S. pleas for greater financial support to NATO and help pay the costs to maintain American soldiers in Europe. And Britain is expected to do likewise.

The purpose of Anderson's mission with other top American officials is to cut down U.S. costs overseas and keep Washington's gold reserve from slipping away.

Informed sources said the French refused to contribute to the costs of maintaining American troops on French soil. The French also turned down an appeal to take over a bigger share of the burden of aid to underdeveloped countries.

Anderson and Dillon arranged to meet today with Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd at the treasury.

But there were indications that Britain would follow France and Germany in rejecting U.S. pleas for more financial support. The British were expected to argue that this country has gone to the limit of its capabilities in defense contributions.

Next to the United States, Britain claims to carry the largest per-head share in the Western alliance. British officials also maintain they have already extended considerable aid to underdeveloped nations.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democrats may go into the 1962 battle for Congress with a decided edge — thanks to population changes and a time-honored political gimmick known as gerrymandering.

The main required skill of the game is an ability to carve a state's congressional districts into shapes, however unlikely, designed to benefit the party in power.

The rewards for the winners are considerable. The penalty for the loser frequently is political oblivion.

It all comes about because of the constitutional requirement for a national population count every 10 years and, if warranted, a redistribution of congressional seats among the states.

Because of population changes in the 1950's, nine states will pick up seats in the House of Representatives in the 1962 election while 16 will lose strength.

A UPI survey showed that the Democrats have an excellent chance of coming out ahead in the forthcoming redistricting because they control 12 of the 25 states involved. The Republicans control four and control of nine is split.

Most important, the Democrats control California, which picks up eight seats, and Florida, which gains four. They hope to reshape as many as two thirds of California's 38 seats in their favor and to grab all of Florida's four new seats.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists today studied information radiated from the Tiros II weather satellite to determine what's wrong with one of the TV cameras and whether it can be remedied.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) reported there had been "some indication of improvement" in the quality of cloud cover pictures being transmitted by the wide-angle camera, which has failed from the start to provide clear photos.

The narrow-angle camera, meanwhile, continues to send back good pictures of weather patterns around the world as the 280-pound drum-shaped satellite circles the earth at an altitude of about 400 miles. Tiros II was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday.

In an effort to find out what's causing the malfunction in the wide-angle camera, NASA Thursday "interrogated" the satellite—sent an electronic signal to which Tiros II responded by radiating back certain scientific information.

POPE JOHN
...79 years old

Pope John Celebrates Birthday

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII celebrated his 79th birthday today brimming with activity and apparent good health. No special ceremonies were arranged and the Pope planned to spend a normal working day. Not the least of his projects at the moment is coordinating the forthcoming ecumenical council of Roman Catholic prelates from around the world.

The Vatican City newspaper "Osservatore Romano" gave its best wishes to the Pope in an editorial Thursday night, paying tribute to his modesty and confidence.

The newspaper recalled these words of the Pope several years ago when he was archbishop of Venice:

"(I have had) the grace of good physical health, a bit of good sense which allows me to see things rapidly and clearly, a disposition to love men which keeps me faithful to the law of the Gospel, respectful of my own right and that of others, prevents me from doing harm to anyone and encourages me to do good to everyone."

This verbal self-portrait has been the guideline of the Pope's reign.

He was in excellent spirits Thursday when he addressed 18 cardinals and 10,000 Roman Catholics in a mass audience in his capacity as bishop of Rome.

Earlier this week he received West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Saturday he will see French Premier Michel Debre and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The data from the satellite is being analyzed at ground stations near Belmar, N.J., and Oxnard, Calif., where pictures from Tiros II are being received. A NASA spokesman said the study "may make it possible" to do something about the malfunctioning camera.

Police Give Thanks For No Accidents

PAMPA (UPI)—Police expressed their own personal thanks today for one of the quietest Thanksgiving Days in many years.

"This was the quietest Thanksgiving I've seen in 17 years," J.O. Dumas, assistant chief of police, said today. "It was a beautiful day and we didn't have any accidents nor did we issue any tickets."

"It was the type of day that every person can be thankful for and we'd like to have many more like it."

Mother And Boy Are Doing Fine

By WARREN DUFFEE And HELEN THOMAS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The wife of President-elect John F. Kennedy gave birth today to a "healthy, beautiful" boy — their first born son — while he raced back from Florida in a drama-laden midnight flight.

The 6-pound-3-ounce child, who will be named John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., was delivered by Caesarean section at 12:22 a.m. EST, at Georgetown University Hospital. The future first lady had not expected the child before Dec. 12.

"The baby is fine... my wife is fine," a weary, but proudly happy and smiling Kennedy said after his dash to the hospital four hours later.

Kennedy, who had celebrated Thanksgiving here with his wife and three-year-old daughter Caroline, was 13,000 feet over the east coast of Florida on a quick turnaround flight back to Washington when he got news of the birth over the plane's radio.

After the plane touched down here at 4:02 a.m. he sped to the hospital in 14 minutes.

The president-elect visited the drowsy Jacqueline for eight or nine minutes, took a loving peek at his first son through a glass nursery window and then jubilantly proclaimed that both were "fine."

The 31-year-old Mrs. Kennedy was described as "resting comfortably and in excellent condition."

The child will be kept in an incubator for 24 to 48 hours as is customary with Caesarean deliveries.

The president-elect had left Washington at 8:20 p.m. EST, Thursday after apparently receiving assurances that his wife Jacqueline was well enough for him to resume his post-election vacation at Palm Beach, Fla.

But, 2½ hours later, she was carried from her Georgetown home in a stretcher and rushed to the hospital by ambulance.

As Kennedy's plane approached for a landing at Palm Beach, he was notified by radio that an important telephone call was awaiting him at the airport. When he stepped from the plane, he went to the phone immediately and was told that his wife was in the hospital. He boarded another chartered plane immediately and winged back to Washington.

After he arrived at the Washington airport, a white sedan sped him—sometimes at 60 miles an hour—to the hospital some six miles away.

Hatless, and with no topcoat, he raced quickly up the steps to the main entrance of the hospital and plunged through a crowd of reporters, photographers and well-wishers, including nurses and nuns who run the hospital.

Castro Foes Rock Havana With Bombs

HAVANA (UPI)—Foes of Premier Fidel Castro who have vowed they will not let him sleep in peace set off 11 bombs around Havana Thursday night, the newspaper El Mundo reported today.

One person was reported injured by the blasts, which damaged a water main, a beauty parlor and a service station.

Earlier, the army intelligence service (secret police) had announced the arrest of 12 persons in western Cuba on charges of "counter-revolutionary activity."

The announcement said intelligence agents who made the arrests captured a quantity of small arms, a supply of American dollars as well as "checks and various documents." No details were made public.

Congo Strongman Threatens Ouster Of Other 'Interfering' Diplomats

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu's military regime threatened today to follow up its ouster of Ghana's diplomatic staff with the expulsion of other diplomats accused of interfering in the internal affairs of the Congo.

The warning that "others" will be expelled in a "few days" was sounded even while President Joseph Kasavubu was on his way home from New York after winning recognition for his delegation from the U.N. assembly.

Joseph Nussbaumer, commissioner for the interior in the Mobutu-appointed high commission, told a press conference that the expulsions would be directed at personalities and not at breaking off diplomatic relations with the countries concerned.

He did not single out the accused diplomats by name. But observers said he obviously was referring to the representatives of Guinea and the United Arab Republic. They recalled he had linked the two embassies with that of Ghana in announcing the expulsion of the Ghanaian diplomatic staff last Friday.

Nathaniel Welbeck, Ghana's special envoy, and his staff left only after a bloody clash between U.N. troops guarding his residence and Congolese army forces. Two Tunisian and six Congolese soldiers were killed in the fighting Monday.

Nussbaumer said the clash "does not change our relations with Tunisia." He said neither the Tunisian U.N. soldiers nor the Congolese troops were to blame "because they are soldiers" who carried out their orders.

Nussbaumer took an indirect swipe at Brig. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye, senior U.N. military representative here. "Those who command and sent the soldiers are to blame," he said. "It was unfounded intervention to send 300 soldiers to protect the Ghana embassy."

The clash worsened already strained relations between the United Nations and Mobutu. Congolese troops arrested dozens of United Nations military and civilian personnel and confiscated between 50 and 60 vehicles, but all were released later and the vehicles returned.

German Troops On French Soil Are Hand Picked

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

France — (NEA) — Once more German boots ring on the cobblestones of this tiny Normandy village (pop. 2,000) in France, scene of some of the bloodiest fighting in modern times.

About 1,250 West German paratroopers are training here. This results from an Adenauer De Gaulle deal throwing open a huge French army camp to German troops, who are hand-picked for room to maneuver on their own soil.

Another 1,250 German armored infantrymen are nearby at Sissonnes.

Mourmelon had been invaded by Germany three times in 90 years. Its church steeple has been destroyed twice. The Germans set fire to it in World War I, then whipped it off with shellfire some 25 years later.

The German troops, primarily officers and non-coms, here today generally are hand-picked. Their behavior is terribly correct. The new-style German paratroopers eat pommes frites with their steaks and they have nothing but praise for French girls and French beer.

"I was seven years old when Hitler died in his bunker," one of the West German paratroopers told me, after we had broken the ice by exchanging cigarettes. "All I know about the Nazis is what my parents have told me."

What do the villagers think about the Germans?

Initial resentment and bewilderment have died down and Mourmelon is now prepared to be civil, if not friendly, to its guests.

There have been awkward moments. Some French wartime deportees donned the striped uniforms they wore in German concentration camps and demonstrated. And then there are those like the patronne of the Hotel du Commerce.

"Ah, no, this is too much," the hefty, red-faced woman said vehemently. "We have seen these boches before, and it is not gay, you understand."

During the Armistice Day ceremonies in the village square, the German paratroopers were restricted to their quarters.

But the novelty of the Germans has worn off. Mourmelon now takes them in stride. Mourmelon is an old army tramp. War is the only industry this village has ever known. Soldiers, both friendly and enemy, have wiped their boots on her since the Franco-Prussian war of 1870.

To distract the German garrison in off-duty hours, there are bistros with names like Bijou, the Blue Pavillion and the Tango Bar, and a store called The Chic Parisian. There is the Tivoli Cinema where "The SS Knocks in the Night," the film scheduled for the week the Germans arrived, was hastily replaced by a Laurel and Hardy comedy.

Business, after all, is business.

Expelled Catholic Bishop In Miami

MIAMI (UPI) — Archbishop Francois Poirier, ranking Roman Catholic official of Haiti who was expelled, remained in seclusion today with Miami churchmen.

Poirier, 56-year-old French citizen, arrived at Miami Sunday night with his passport, a book, $1 and the white robes of his office that he wore.

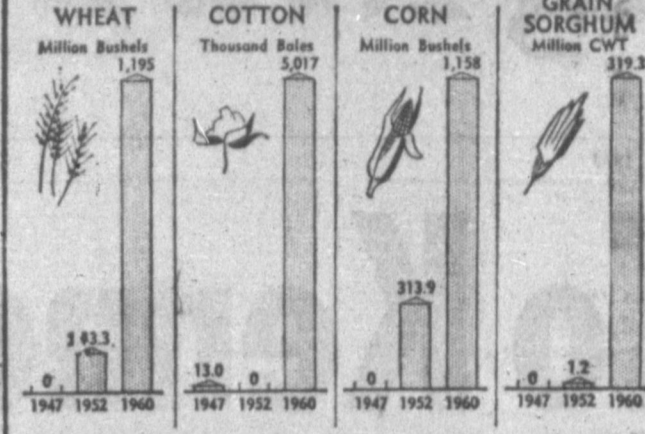

He said police of the government of President Francois Duvalier entered his office, whisked him to the airport and put him aboard a plane after refusing his request for time to pack.

The archbishop was expelled for allegedly giving $7,000 to a Communist student group plotting to overthrow the Haitian government. He emphatically denied giving money to Communists.

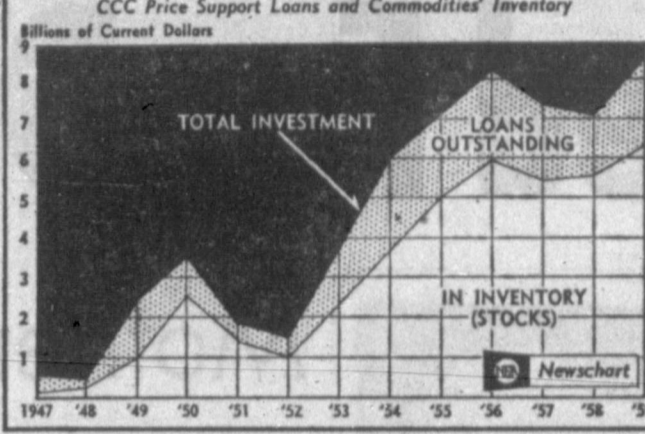

"The whole thing is absolutely false," he said through an interpreter. "I made no contributions to any student movement."

Cost Of Living Report Due Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government today issues its monthly report on the cost of living which has climbed in all but one month this year.

The report will cover October prices of about 300 goods and services purchased by the average middle-income city family.

Compiled by the Labor Department, the consumer price index measures month-to-month changes in the cost of these items. The pay of thousands of industrial workers is tied to the report through cost-of-living salary raise provisions.

In September, the index hit a record of 126.8, meaning prices averaged 26.8 per cent higher than in the 1947-49 base period.

The cost of living has moved up every month this year except August, when it held steady.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

If you do not provide for the proper defense of all who are accused of crime, then the innocent, when falsely accused, have no way to prove their innocence. So, under our law, we look on a man as innocent until he is found guilty under proper court proceedings.

From this, it follows that all of us have the right to be represented by a lawyer. Since the lawyer has a duty to represent you, much criticism of him is unjust.

Should a lawyer defend persons in court if he knows or thinks they are accused? Yes, the worst criminal has a right to a fair trial. This he cannot have unless a lawyer sees that he has a fair jury and that is hears only lawful evidence against him.

Sometimes the defense counsel arouses public feeling by his sincere efforts to see that his client has every proper legal safeguard. The public may misunderstand these legal moves. For the public they seem to be an unethical effort to defeat justice, by delay or by taking advantage of certain "technicalities." Attorneys should tell people that it is one of our basic democratic rights to be considered innocent until legal evidence proves our guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

All who are charged with crime have a right to an attorney's aid. An attorney swears to see that the accused gets each protective legal right to which he is entitled.

Earth, Stars and Man (22) In the Beginning

by Don Oakley and John Lane

ORIGIN OF THE SOLAR SYSTEM

THE OLD COLLISION THEORY

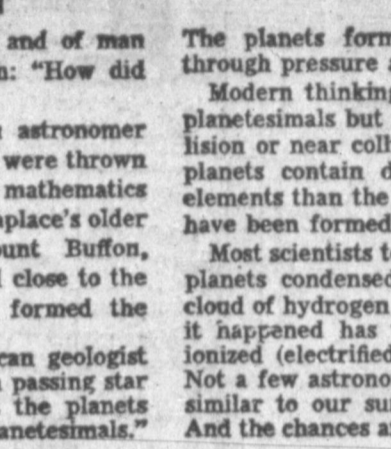

The story of the origin of life and of man eventually comes to one question: "How did the world itself come to be?"

The great 18th-century French astronomer Laplace theorized that the planets were thrown off by a rapidly rotating sun. But mathematics has shown this to be impossible. Laplace's older countryman, the naturalist Count Buffon, thought a comet may have passed close to the sun, drawing off material that formed the planets.

In the 20th-century, the American geologist Thomas Chamberlain substituted a passing star for the comet. He believed that the planets began as bits of matter called "planetesimals."

THE MODERN GAS CLOUD THEORY

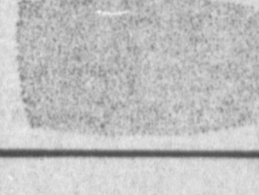

The planets formed cold, later heating up through pressure and radioactivity.

Modern thinking has kept the idea of cold planetesimals but rejected the theory of a collision or near collision with another star. The planets contain different proportions of the elements than the sun and therefore could not have been formed from matter torn out of it.

Most scientists today agree that both sun and planets condensed at the same time from a cloud of hydrogen and other particles. The way it happened has to do with the behavior of ionized (electrically) gases and magnetic fields. Not a few astronomers believe that most stars similar to our sun have a family of planets. And the chances are that many of these planets are in the right position with respect to their suns to allow life to gain a foothold.

The moon may hold clues to how our solar system began, because that body is relatively unchanged since its creation. A series of "Ranger" rockets is planned to be sent to the moon in 1961. Some of the rockets will make seismic recordings to determine its structure.

On a vast scale, the way in which the solar system formed is illustrated by the way galaxies evolve. Galaxies, like our Milky Way, are great collections of stars (some 200 billion in the Milky Way). There are literally millions of galaxies within range of our telescopes, in different stages of development—perhaps, also, with stars harboring life in different forms. NEXT: Suns and Universes

169 Violence Deaths Mar Thanksgiving

By United Press International

Thanksgiving 1960 found Americans united in quiet gratitude for another year of unconquered tradition and a reminder of Thanksgivings to come.

While part of the nation returned to work Friday, safety officials feared closing days of the "unofficial" holiday week end could send the highway death toll skyrocketing.

Another kind of tragedy hit western Oregon, where Thanksgiving Day rains swelled waterways to flood and near-flood levels and forced at least 50 families from their homes.

And while some grandmothers cleared away the last of traditional Thanksgiving dinners for their families, President-elect John F. Kennedy became a father for the second time when his 6-pound 2-ounce boy was born shortly before midnight in a Washington hospital.

Traffic accidents marred the day for families of at least 127 victims.

A United Press International count of accidental deaths during the 30-hour period from 6 p.m. Wednesday night to midnight Thursday:

Traffic 127
Fires 18
Miscellaneous 24
Total 169

Pennsylvania led the nation in traffic fatalities with 10. Nine persons died on Missouri highways, and New York, California and Indiana each recorded eight highway victims.

BJ, Two West Leaders To Meet

PARIS (UPI) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson expanded the incoming Kennedy administration's contacts with two more top Western leaders today.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak.

Johnson arranged to confer with Spaak in Paris this morning before flying to London to talk with Macmillan at the invitation of the British prime minister.

The Texas senator, who President-elect Kennedy has said would fill a major role in the next U.S. government, already had met with President Charles de Gaulle of France. The two talked for an hour last Tuesday.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

How to Say "Thanks"

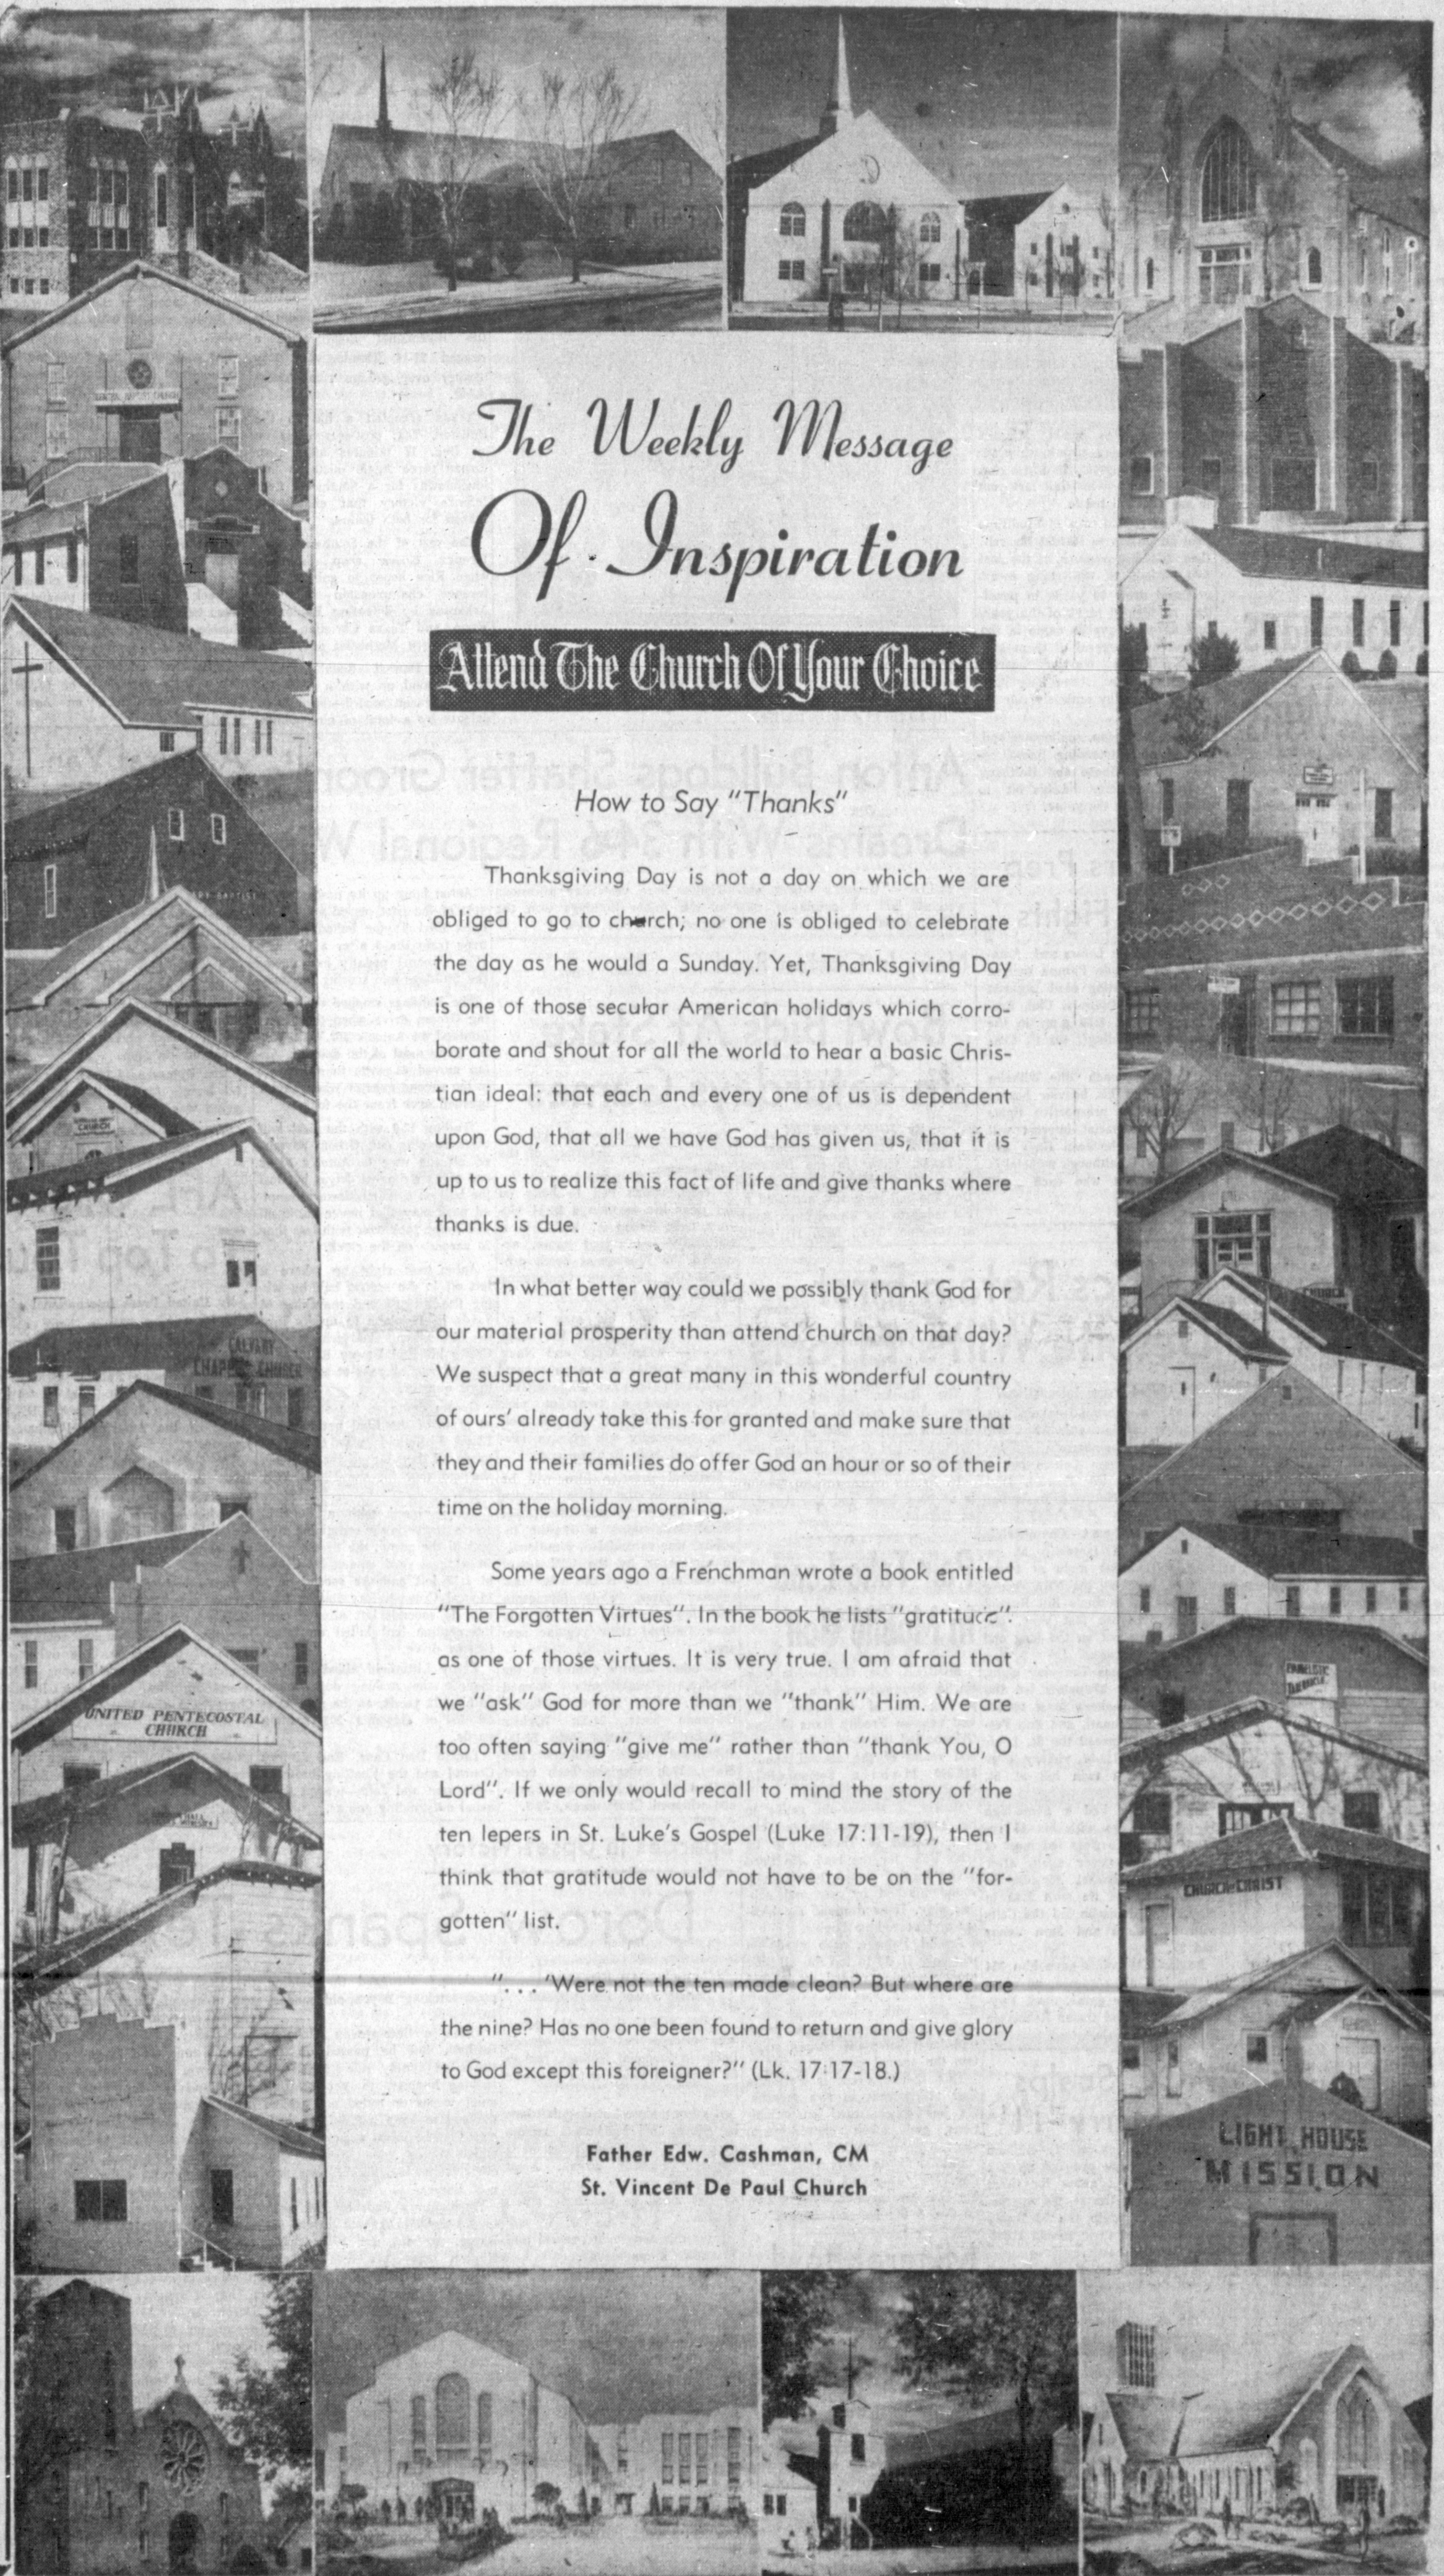

Thanksgiving Day is not a day on which we are obliged to go to church; no one is obliged to celebrate the day as he would a Sunday. Yet, Thanksgiving Day is one of those secular American holidays which corroborate and shout for all the world to hear a basic Christian ideal: that each and every one of us is dependent upon God, that all we have God has given us, that it is up to us to realize this fact of life and give thanks where thanks is due.

In what better way could we possibly thank God for our material prosperity than attend church on that day? We suspect that a great many in this wonderful country of ours' already take this for granted and make sure that they and their families do offer God an hour or so of their time on the holiday morning.

Some years ago a Frenchman wrote a book entitled "The Forgotten Virtues". In the book he lists "gratitude" as one of those virtues. It is very true. I am afraid that we "ask" God for more than we "thank" Him. We are too often saying "give me" rather than "thank You, O Lord". If we only would recall to mind the story of the ten lepers in St. Luke's Gospel (Luke 17:11-19), then I think that gratitude would not have to be on the "forgotten" list.

"... Were not the ten made clean? But where are the nine? Has no one been found to return and give glory to God except this foreigner?" (Lk. 17:17-18.)

Miami Stumbles To Jayton, 28-0

CHILDRESS—Miami's Warriors ran into their regional jinx and a strong Jayton team here yesterday afternoon to fall, 28-0, in the Class B eight-man regional championship.

For Miami, yesterday's game marked the third time in as many years that the Warriors had advanced to regional before losing. They lost to Weinert in 1958 and 1959.

The loss also ended Miami's 11-game winning streak while the victory was Jayton's 23rd in a row, counting a tie with Gail last year in the regional battle.

Jayton roared to a 14-0 halftime lead on passes to Harold Murrell, then added two more in the last two periods to win going away.

Miami drew 90 yards in penalties, its highest mark of the year, and 60 of the yards came in the second half, several of them killing potential Warrior scoring thrusts. In fact, three long runs were nullified by untimely rule infractions.

Mark Arrington, sophomore end, played an outstanding game, especially on offense and Halfback Scotty Daugherty did his bit to keep Miami in the game.

Stinnett, Monahans Cop Wins

By ED FITE
United Press International

Monahans and Greenville in Class AAA, Denver City in AA and Stinnett, Plains and Mount Vernon in A owned quarterfinal berths today as the Texas schoolboy playoffs hit the weekend peak period with 20 games scheduled today and tonight.

Monahans, the state's fifth-ranked AAA team, overpowered Levelland 22-14 for the Lobos' 11th straight victory, while Greenville, ranked No. 10, mauled fourth-rated Carrollton 33-6 in a stunning upset.

Denver City, the state's highest scoring grid machine this fall, bettered its 50-point average with a 58-0 romp past previously unbeaten-until Otton to pose a major threat to favored Olney in AA.

Stinnett, ranked as the prime Class A favorite all season long, continued to live up to its rave notices with a 33-0 whitewash of Farwell and set the stage for a quarterfinal meeting with Plains, which blasted Wink 59-18. Mount Vernon disposed of Honey Grove 30-7.

Nineteen of the 20 games scheduled today and tonight will be played under the lights with only the Snyder-at-Brownwood contest set for afternoon action.

The weekend's activities won't end, however, until Saturday afternoon and night when the remaining five games will be played.

Class AAA's one-two teams, Jacksonville and Bay City, both will open their playoff bids tonight, Jacksonville playing at Corsicana and Bay City entertaining La Marque.

Class AAAA's No. 1 outfit, the Wichita Falls Coyotes, won't be in action until Saturday afternoon when they meet Berger at Wichita Falls, but second-ranked Port Arthur hosts Galena Park tonight.

Texas Fights Off Strong A&M Surge

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Longhorns today pointed for a still unnamed opponent in the Bluebonnet Bowl after a rugged 21-14 Thanksgiving Day victory over grudge rival Texas A&M.

Texas accepted a bid to the Houston, Tex. post-season classic on Dec. 17 minutes after they turned three Aggie mistakes into touchdowns for a Southwest Conference victory that ended the season for both teams.

The rest of the Southwest Conference closes shop Saturday when Rice hopes to gain a conference championship tie with Arkansas by defeating Baylor at Waco, and Texas Christian takes on Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Coach Darrell Royal's Longhorns wound up with a respectable 7-3 season record—those three defeats by a total of nine points.

The Aggies' dismal year included only one victory but three conference ties. Texas was 5-2 in conference play—and could wind up tied for second in the conference if Baylor should whip Rice Saturday.

The post-season game will mark Texas' third bowl appearance—all in different bowls—in Royal's four years as head coach of the Longhorns. His 1957 team was trounced by Mississippi, 39-7, in the Jan. 1, 1958 Sugar Bowl, and his 1959 tri-Southwest Conference champions bowed to national champion Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl, 23-14, last Jan. 1.

Royal freely conceded his Longhorns whipped the Aggies on "tremendous breaks," but elusive halfback James Saxton predicted Texas will be "ready" for their Bluebonnet Bowl opponent—whoever it is.

A national television audience and a stadium crowd of 53,000 watched Texas turn an Aggie fumble, a pass interception and a bad pass from center into scores.

Saxton, who has been described as a hummingbird in cleats, scored from three yards out in the first period to put Texas out front after he set up the touchdown push on the Aggie 34 with a pass interception.

A bad pass to Aggie punter Babe Craig left Texas with the ball on the Cadet 34 in the second period, and fullback Ray Poage added the touchdown on a 19-yard romp.

Tackle Dan Petty muffed his attempt to kick the first extra point, then faked a kick after Poage's tally and Mike Cotten passed to Jerry Cook for two points.

Texas scored seconds before the half ended after guard Marvin Kubin recovered Lee Roy Caffey's fumble on the Aggie 11. Cotten went one yard for the tally and Petty converted, putting Texas ahead 21-0.

The Aggies marched 69 yards for their first touchdown in the third period, with third team halfback Jon Few cracking over from the 6.

Admiral Van Wins Anapra

ANAPRA, N.Y. (UPI)—Admiral Van thrilled a holiday racing crowd of 3,985 fans Thursday at Sunland Park, by sprinting to a four-length victory in the $5,000 Thanksgiving Day Handicap in a record time of 1:08 4-5.

Admiral Van, ridden by Dave Rushlow, eclipsed the old mark held by his stablemate Vic Mon, who finished third. Masud finished in second place a length in front of Vic Mon.

The winner paid $7.50. The total handle for the 10-race program was $194,408.

With Perfect Record

Ohio U. '11' Hailed As Small College Champs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Ohio University Bobcats, with a perfect 10-0 record that included a key victory over last year's champions, today were hailed as the 1959 national small college football champions by the United Press International board coaches. The board, composed of small-college coaches throughout the nation, rated Bowling Green of Ohio, the defending national champion which lost a 14-7 decision to the Bobcats, No. 2 in the country and unbeaten Lenoir-Rhyne of North Carolina a close No. 3.

Ohio University, coached by alumnus Bill Hess who was formerly an assistant coach at Ohio State, will receive a permanent trophy from UPI emblematic of the national championship. Previous winners of the award were Mississippi Southern in 1958 and Bowling Green in 1959.

Ohio U., Bowling Green, a Lenoir-Rhyne had been ranked 1-2-3 by the board of coaches in the last seven weeks of the season. The big game came up two weeks ago with Ohio rallying to win on a fourth-period touchdown at Bowling Green, thus averting a 13-9 loss to the Falcons last year.

En route to the perfect season the Bobcats defeated Dayton 35-0; Toledo, 48-7; Kent State 28-8; Boston University 36-6; Xavier of Ohio, 6-0; Miami of Ohio 21-0; Western Michigan, 24-14; Marshall, 19-0; Bowling Green 14-7; and Southern Illinois, 48-0. It was the Bobcats' first perfect season since 1935 and they were the Mid-American Conference champions.

In the final ratings, Ohio received the first-place votes of 6 coaches, and had a total of 5 points against 250 for Bowling Green and 236 for Lenoir-Rhyne.

AFL Oilers Favored To Top Tough Boston

By United Press International
With George Blanda back at quarterback, the Houston Oilers were 6-point favorites to beat the resurgent Boston Patriots Friday night and clinch at least a tie for first place in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

The Patriots, who have only a faint mathematical chance for the division title, have won their last three games and could play the role of "spoilers" in their two remaining games with Houston.

That's just what the New York Titans did Thursday when they defeated the Dallas Texans, 41-35, in the AFL's highest-scoring game of the season. The defeat dimmed the Texans' hopes of overtaking the Los Angeles Chargers in the Western Division of the league.

The Chargers now can pull two games in front of the race by beating the Oakland Raiders Sunday. Los Angeles was the AFL's favorite at home. In the AFL's other Sunday game, the Denver Broncos were 3 1/2-point choices over the visiting Buffalo Bills.

Blanda, who has thrown 21 touchdown passes and leads the league in scoring with 89 points, was sidelined with an ankle injury last Sunday. Jackie Lee, his untired understudy, threw three touchdowns passes in a 20-10 victory over the Broncos.

Al Dorow, another quarterback "old-timer," was the big man in the Titans' upset victory over the Texans before a Thanksgiving Day crowd of 14,344 at the Polo Grounds in New York.

Dorow passed for two touchdowns, set up two more with his aeriels, and carried over for another on a roll-out run as the Titans snapped a four-game losing streak. In all, Dorow completed 21 out of 33 passes for a total of 301 yards. He gained another 40 yards in 12 rushes.

Sparkles In Upset Victory

Dorow Spanks Texans

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Al Dorow, who always has played second fiddle in financial football, had to be regarded today as a one-man band.

It's been almost a decade since he proved his touchdown talents by leading Michigan State on a 28-game winning streak. And ever since then—as a pro grinder—he has stood in somebody else's shadow.

Until this season in general and Thursday in particular. For the durable Dorow put on a one-man Thanksgiving Day show as he led the New York Titans of the American Football League to a breathless 41-35 victory over the Dallas Texans.

All he did was: —Pass for two touchdowns, set up two others with his aeriels and score another. —Complete 21 of 33 passes for 301 yards.

—Pick up 40 yards rushing to personally account for all but 38 of the Titans' 399 total yards gained. —You don't do it without the blocking," shrugged the balding, cigar-smoking 28-year-old modestly.

That's a time-proven cliché in football. But he passed off the times he nimbly side-stepped on-rushing linemen to get off pin-point tosses or rolled out around the end to keep the defense honest. For his was a performance which made you wonder why other teams had him playing second fiddle.

Washington's Redskins did when they used him behind Eddie LeBaron. So did the Philadelphia Eagles, who gave first call to Norm Van Brocklin. And even Toronto of the Canadian League had him only as a relief for Tobin Rote.

True, the American Football League doesn't play the brand of ball they do in the long-established National League. In its first season it has many weaknesses; many soft spots. But it is, on the whole, good football with its full share of professional ruggedness. When a 235-pounder hits you it doesn't matter whether his name is Bronko Nagurki or Joe Zilch. It hurts and you've gotta go.

Thus Dorow as the keystone of the Titan attack was the number one target of the Texans and he earned everything he got. Which was plenty.

The Titans went 75 yards for a touchdown. Dorow passed for 36 yards and ran for three in that drive, capping it with his 45-yard touchdown pass to Don Maynard. The Titans went 84 yards to score. Dorow passed for 61 of those yards and rolled out from the three to score it.

Detroit Slaps Montreal Down

By United Press International

The Detroit Red Wings knocked the Montreal Canadiens out of first place in the National Hockey League Thanksgiving night and the largest crowd in the history of the Detroit Olympia watched them do it.

Cheered on by a crowd of 15,859, the Red Wings beat the Canadiens, 3-1, and broke the three-way tie that had existed for third place. The Chicago Black Hawks moved up to second place with a 2-1 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers climbed out of the cellar with a 5-3 victory over the Boston Bruins.

Detroit thus was the only team in the league which wound up Thanksgiving Day in the same position it started the holiday night game.

New York drove 57 yards to score. Dorow's passes contributed every inch and, from the one, he crossed up the Texas defense by pitching to Art Powell.

Then it was a 70-yard drive Dorow ran for 14 in two tries and passed for 45 yards—meaning he figured in 60 of the 70 yards which ended when Bill Mathis banged over from the one, where Dorow put it with a 12-yard run.

The Titans scored finally on a 55-yard march. Dorow passed for 38 yards which put it on the two. Dewey Bohling carried it in. Throw in Roger Donahoo's 57-yard touchdown sprint with a Texas fumble and Bill Shockley's five placements and that gives you 41 points. Making quite a soloist out of the second fiddle.

Do you ever pause in your appointed rounds of home, school and supermarket to dream of the day you'll get out of this rut and pursue culture? I know; we're going to read all those good books and go to the big city and see the museums and art galleries and theaters. Well, it's a nice day-dream but it's out of date.

In a recent conversation I had with Dr. Richard McLanathan, I learned the modern approach to the brighter cultural life. Instead of pursuing culture at some distant date, you nab it now in your own community.

Dr. McLanathan is the young, vigorous director of the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute in Utica, N.Y., a shining example of what a modern museum can mean in a relatively small community.

For months he traveled the country visiting museums in towns from 2,000 to 100,000 population to borrow works of art for the widely acclaimed "Art Across America" show which opened the new institute building in October.

He told me, among other things, that there are small towns from coast to coast supporting a lively, cultural program through their museums; that many others could be more active if they had the grass roots supports of women. He says that almost any area in the country has its quota of artists and craftsmen who merit wider audiences.

When he talks about a "museum," he uses it in its literal translation: "house of the muses" or, in modern terms, a community art center.

"Enthusiastic, dedicated women are the key to a successful community museum program," he emphasized. "But amateur enthusiasm alone is not enough. Professional direction is needed."

I protested that many small towns just couldn't afford a professional director. If a town can't swing a full-time director, he explained, there are trained consultants who can outline a program, evaluate art collections and explain the proper care and storage of art objects (a prime need in many small museums, he said).

Help in locating a consultant community museum program," he emphasized. "But amateur enthusiasm alone is not enough. Professional direction is needed."

Professional direction and enthusiastic volunteers are necessary to small community arts programs. Dr. Richard B. K. McLanathan, above, director of the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute in Utica, N.Y., discusses with a volunteer worker the merits of a local craftsman's work.

Christmas Gift Tips Sure To Please HIM

BY KAY SHERWOOD
Staff Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Don't you really have your Christmas cards signed and mailed? Well, neither do I. But some well-organized homemakers have because we've already received their cards.

The early mailer is the heroine of the Post Office Department and hats off to her! Wonder what she does with all the time she saves by not having to stand in line at the stamp window?

Opening these first greetings does revive the whole subject of sending and receiving Christmas mail. While we may be tardy mailing cards at home, I do know there's not a moment to lose if you have friends in foreign countries to send cards or packages. Regular mail and parcels may take weeks to arrive.

Before you shop for gifts (especially if those abroad are not members of our armed forces), check with the post office to learn postal rates for shipping and any restrictions on merchandise.

One year I innocently bought water pistols for my nephews in Venezuela, only to learn from the postmaster that sending guns of any description, including water pistols, to Venezuela was taboo.

Shipping rates, too, encourage me to seek light weight gifts. A "flood" of Christmas mail is never a problem abroad.

But here at home, with few restrictions on packages and all types of delivery available, the story is different. Our decrepit mail box is under an impossible strain when Christmas cards are added to the regular load of second and third class ads and notices.

This year we shall make better provision for the holiday mail and small packages. I've been looking for a receptacle which would be large enough to corral parcels, strong enough to resist cold weather and yet not look awkward beside a gaily decked front door.

One solution is a handsome heavy plastic wastebasket with tapered, star-cut sides. It's not expensive but it is smart looking and, with a red ribbon collar, will serve the purpose admirably. This basket comes in several colors but I like it in white. After the holidays, of course the basket can return to its original duties.

For a modern rustic ranchstyle home, a covered wicker basket and Christmas balls could take the overflow of mail.

If you have the time, a temporary mail box could be made by covering a cardboard carton with the adhesive-backed plastic in a bright color. Christmas motifs or lettering can be cut from plastic in other colors and stuck in place.

Unusual Floral Arrangements Highlight Meeting

LEFORS (Spl) — The 20-30 Club met in the home of Mrs. R. E. McDonald on Monday night, with Mrs. E. L. Foshee presenting a program on "Flower Arrangement."

Roll-call was answered by showing an arrangement previously made. Mrs. Foshee showed an arrangement of white and yellow mums arranged in a black skillet with silver sprayed okra; Mrs. Ed Lehnick's arrangement used a pair of balance scales for an early American arrangement.

"Never cut flowers with scissors, use a sharp knife and cut on the slant. Refresh flowers by wrapping in a wet newspaper, and by dipping stems in hot water as soon as cut," were some of the points given by Mrs. Foshee.

RUTH MILLETT

Dick Kleiner recently wrote an interesting article about the comeback radio has made in the last few years. Considered doomed 12 years ago, radio refused to lie down and die and is in such good shape that a record number of sets were sold in 1959.

For this remarkable comeback radio owes a lot to the teenage segment of our population. It's the teen-ager who finds the radio indispensable.

For a teen-ager a car radio is an absolute must. It provides a cheerful background whether he is driving alone or has the car loaded with friends.

The teen-ager also flicks on the radio in his room when he settles down to study, carries on a 40-minute telephone conversation, or has an hour to kill between going here and going there.

And a little transistor set is likely to go along on any kind of teenage outing—on bus trips to ball games, on picnics, in boats, and, of course, to the slumber parties teen-age girls are always having.

The truth is teen-agers don't like quiet—so if they never get far from a radio, they can provide themselves with a noisy background no matter what they are doing. TV sets are cumbersome and so are record players—but a tiny radio can be slipped into a pocket and taken anywhere.

Radio and teen-agers have a natural affinity for each other because radio offers teen-agers an easy way of filling silence with sound.

And teen-agers offer radio a large and loyal audience. Even when this generation of teen-agers marries and settles down and becomes addicted to TV, there will be another crop of teen-agers to keep radio healthily alive.

Mrs. Edwards,
Ex-Olympic Star, Dies

FORT WORTH (UPI)— Mrs. Julian Edwards of Fort Worth, a Fort Worth ballet instructor and former two-time member of the United States Olympic swimming team, died late Wednesday in a Fort Worth hospital after a long illness. Funeral services will be held today.

Mrs. Edwards competed as Dorothy Colter in the 1928 Olympic games in Amsterdam, Holland, and the 1932 games in Los Angeles, Calif.

She founded the Dorothy Colter Edwards School of Ballet in Fort Worth shortly after moving to that city in 1948. She was born in Detroit.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Jewel Merritt, and a son, Julian Edwards Jr., all of Fort Worth; a brother, Jack Colter of Pensacola, Fla., and a granddaughter.

Use Outline Map In Parlor Game

...now locate Washington, D. C.

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Hey, gang. Here's a nifty new parlor trick anybody can do. And it's guaranteed — sadly — to amaze your friends.

Just hand out a blank map outlining the U.S. and ask folks (preferably high school graduates and elementary school teachers) to draw in the states and name them. You can add a little more excitement by asking for Washington, D.C., Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

According to James Matthai of the geography department at Columbia University, who has been trying this exercise around the country, there is a vast confusion among Americans about their nation.

And in a time when Red China is an air-day away hand Europe an afternoon, our understanding of world geography is practically nonexistent.

Matthai says that far, far too often the people he queries (mostly teachers who will be called on to teach geography) put Washington, D.C., in Puget Sound or call Florida California or place Oregon between Texas and Kansas. And like that.

This reporter, summing up popular opinion via Matthai's trick, is forced to conclude that Hawaii is a ferry ride from Balboa Island and the Philippines — the first big link in our western defense line — are at most an air-hour farther west.

Now, how did we get this way? Text book publishers say it's simple. We haven't taught our children geography for about 15 years. Instead, we've been trying to sweeten the taste of down-to-earth facts with "integrated studies" like social history under titles like "Our Little Ethnic Neighbors."

A salesman in one of the world's biggest map and atlas companies reports his long career this way: "This country goes through cycles of learning geography. Some years we're interested and some years we're not. It changes with the same kind of reasoning women use in selecting hats."

And from an editor of a mammoth geography book company: "Since the end of World War II there's been real resistance in colleges to buying a geography for more than $5."

Even then, students want to make sure the maps won't be out of date at the end of the term so they can resell the book. After all, who wants an atlas cluttering up the bookshelves at home?"

Now, if you're smirking at all this ignorance, brother, get an outline map of the world. The Worldmark Encyclopedia of the Nations lists 22 new independent countries that have been born in the past two years. So, in a steady hand, please draw the Malagasy Republic, Gabon, Upper Volta and the members of what was supposed to be the Mali Federation.

Worldmark encyclopedialist Moshe Sacht, trying to keep up with rapidly changing geography, says you can't. His statistics show you probably understand only half of what you read in the foreign news section of your paper because you're behind in your geography.

In little ways, however, there are signs of change.

Worldmark is bringing out an eight-pound, $30 atlas-geography-almanac of everything. Rand McNally has just spent a quarter million dollars on creating new texts "because the teaching cycle is due to swing back to geography again."

Cadillac

Grandest way in the world to get there!

It has been remarked that the most delightful distance between departure and arrival is a journey in a Cadillac car.

And if this has been recognized in years past, it will be more apparent in 1961.

For in all the things that make a motor car a pleasure to ride in—the current Cadillac is clearly in a class of its own making.

It's a pleasure just to sit in a new Cadillac! First of all, there is the wonderful roominess of the car's interior. Space reaches out in every direction—above, in front, and to the sides.

Here, in motordom's most generously proportioned passenger area, you can really take your comfort and your ease in abundance.

Then there is its great luxury. The seat cushions are soft and gentle . . . and a wonderworld of personal conveniences is in attendance.

And what a treat the interior compartment is to the eye. Choice fabrics and leathers . . . exquisite patterns and textures . . . color and chrome—all blend into a vision of perfect beauty.

And in motion on the highway, these interior delights seem doubly pleasurable.

The car is incredibly smooth and level of ride . . . and it is so quiet in operation that it is actually possible to whisper and be heard!

Have you as yet made a journey in a 1961 Cadillac? If you haven't, you should do so soon.

It's one trip that every motorist owes to himself!
