The theft was discovered when she returned home from the hospital Saturday. Stolen were $6,000 in church construction bonds, two diamond rings valued at $1,500 and $150 in cash.

Parole Violator Must Serve Time

Violating his parole will cost 18-year-old H. C. Florence of Lefors five years in the state penitentiary at Huntsville. Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Florence was arrested last May for armed robbery and subsequently convicted of the charge in 31st District Court. He was given the five-year sentence and placed on parole. The sheriff said Florence was arrested last Monday in Lefors for breaking into a service station. District Judge L. M. Goodrich revoked the parole Friday and ordered Florence to serve out the original sentence.

Teaching Change In 1980 Is Seen By Educator

LUBBOCK (Spl) — A teacher in 1980 will rank professionally with doctors and lawyers, have a small class and all the equipment he wants to do his work, Dr. Paul Mort predicted at Texas Tech recently.

The public will demand this, Dr. Mort, a Columbia University professor, told a regional meeting of the Associated Public School systems.

The "father" of regional school-study councils reasons this way. Society is coming to depend more and more on professional training and on bigness of operations.

No longer can many fathers leave their sons a farm or a business. An engineer in a large firm cannot leave his job to his son. A doctor can leave his son to an education.

More and more a person's success will depend on his education.

"Educated people with IQ's 90 are doing jobs today that geese couldn't do in 1960," Dr. Mort pointed out.

The school of 1980 will emphasize learning by the individual rather than mass instruction by a teacher, Dr. Mort prophesied.

Classes will become smaller with a teacher working much as an athletic coach, seeing and working on individual needs as well as the needs of the class as a whole.

Likewise, redundant curricula, academic featherbedding, and grade mills will disappear by 1980, Dr. Mort said, because the fit will demand teachers that are qualified.

Education's problems of laymen won't exist by 1980, he conceded. More than 90 superintendents, principals and other administrators from five states attended the three-day meeting.

States represented include Arkansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas.

Dr. Worthington Sheffield, dentist, invented the toothpaste tube in 1892.

BY RECOVERED
ALE (UPI)— The Department of Public Safety reported Saturday that a body tentatively identified as that of James E. Bryson, 32, of Wickett, Tex., had been recovered from the Rio Grande about 15 miles below Presidio. Wickett was crowned while on a fishing trip.

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — With a few roadblocks now being cleared, the natural gas industry has trained its sights on duplicating the fabulous growth of the past decade.

The $23 billion gas industry now is the nation's fifth largest in terms of plant investment — but further and more rapid expansion is yet to come.

Natural gas fulfills about 30 per cent of total U.S. energy requirements, against 14 per cent in 1946. The nation's energy requirements are expected to increase 72 per cent by 1975, and in order to meet this need, the natural gas industry hopes to increase its competitive position by raising its output about 80 per cent.

The way is being paved by the recent speed-up adopted by the Federal Power Commission to settle more than 113 pipeline rate cases, involving increase of around $420 million a year collected under bond.

Also significant is the FCC's raising of the permissible return above the historic 6 per cent on invested capital. In several decisions the return was boosted to 6½ per cent. The FCC also announced that it will allow properties, subject to future drilling and depletion, to be included in a larger return on production properties, subject to future drilling and depletion.

It is going to take substantial sums of money to finance the industry's goals. Present schedules are for capital outlays of more than $8 billion in the four-year period 1960-63—26.6 per cent more than the $6.7 billion spent in 1956-59 period.

The American Gas Association estimates that 39 per cent of required funds will be generated internally, 45 per cent from sale of bonds and debentures, and 16 per cent from the sale of common and preferred stocks.

With the addition of Alaska recently, the natural gas industry now serves 28 million customers in 47 states. The number of household customers has more than doubled in 10 years, and more than quadrupled since 1940.

There are more than 8,000 natural gas producers, but about half of the proven recoverable reserves are owned by 30 major oil companies.

Simulated Shots Set Crows Flying

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The scare crow, which in its heyday fazed few crows, has a modern rival that seems to handle the job very ably.

But whereas the scare crow was thrown together with a little straw, an old hat and clothes and a couple of sticks, the rival is a noise machine.

The hi-fi scare crow, called the Zon, looks like a large truck horn linked by tubing to a box and a canister. It is gas-operated and can be adjusted to deliver simulated shotgun blasts at varying speeds.

Farmers have found that if they intersperse the blasts of the Zon with some actual old-fashioned shooting, the birds soon get the idea and don't dally around to see birdshot.

Chariot Race To Feature Stock Show

FORT WORTH — A spine-tingling chariot race between two powerful four-horse teams from the movie "Ben-Hur" will be one of the outstanding attractions during the 1961 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo.

The Fort Worth rodeo, Jan. 27-Feb. 5, will feature more than 300 top cowboys competing for approximately $80,000 in prize money. Besides the spectacular chariot race, spotlighted entertainment will include Jay Siler's nimble dogs, five colorful trick riders and two outstanding clowns.

Forty-one pretty ranch girl barrel racers will add a dash of color and excitement. Cutting horses will pit their intelligence against determined calves, and a number of horse show events are scheduled.

The chariot race will find the hard-driving white team originally driven by Charlton Heston challenging the movie's four dappled greys. The race will be staged in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum at all 20 performances of the Stock Show rodeo, beginning Friday night, Jan. 27.

'Gift' Memorandums Jar Auto Administrative Men

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — Christmas will be comparatively bleak for the families of administrative personnel of the auto companies this year.

All of the auto companies have sent out special memorandums advising these employees that company policies forbid acceptance of any gifts of more than nominal value from any of the companies doing business with their employer.

The renewed emphasis on this policy obviously is a result of the controversy over conflicts of interest at Chrysler Corp. Earlier this year, which ultimately led to the forced resignation of former Chrysler President William C. Newberg.

One Chrysler purchasing department employee said: "Last year it took me about 2½ hours just to open all the gifts I received from various supplier companies. But this year I can't accept anything more than a cigarette lighter or a fountain pen. It's going to seem awfully different when we open our gifts on Christmas."

Like the other companies, Chrysler sent a "reminder" of its policy in this regard to all employees and all vendors dealing with the company.

The memorandum, signed by Chrysler board chairman and President L. L. Colbert, said: "We believe that buyer-seller relations should be on a friendly and cooperative basis. But we feel the acceptance of gifts or favors beyond advertising novelties of nominal value (so-called remembrance advertising) may be subject to misinterpretation.

"Therefore, our policy, which is in effect at Christmas time and throughout the year, is that our employees are not to accept gifts or favors of any kind beyond such remembrance advertising from those with whom the corporation does business.

"If any gift beyond remembrance advertising is received by any employee of Chrysler Corp. it will be returned to the sender or will be donated to some charitable organization. Only in this way can we avoid the consequences that will result for both parties if the policy is violated."

Although the "consequences" were not specifically stated, employees were given to understand that it meant dismissal for them and the loss of Chrysler's business for the supplier.

Ford, General Motors, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard circulated similar memorandums this year. Some of these companies said they circulated similar memorandums just before Christmas every year but others admitted that there was more emphasis on the policy of not accepting gifts from supplier companies this year.

"The guys at Chrysler aren't the only ones who are going to be hurt at Christmas by the Newberg affair," an employee of one of the other auto companies said. "I may have to buy my own liquor next year and I'll probably even have to go out and get my own turkey for Christmas dinner. I haven't bought liquor or a Christmas turkey in over five years."

HUNTSVILLE (SpI) — Approximately 500 Texas Future Farmers of America will compete for top honors at the Twenty-ninth Annual Leadership Contest, Saturday at Sam Houston State Teachers College.

Contestants will form 60 teams representing the ten areas of Texas.

Two divisions in the State Leadership Contest are the Greenhand division for students enrolled in Vocational Agriculture for the first time, and the Chapter Farmer division for the more experienced students.

Mexico Opens Through Travel To Yucatan

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Through cities as Ciudad Juarez and Laredo, motor traffic from U.S. border to Mexico's southeasternmost cities to Puerto Juarez, in the point," a spokesman for the Tourism Department said.

The link, stretching all the way from Mexico City to Puerto Juarez, was formally inaugurated by Luis E. Bracamontes, assistant communications minister and the comfortably from such border governors of the state of Tabasco, Campeche and Yucatan and the territory of Quintana Roo.

After the opening ceremonies, the four governors boarded a special bus at Ciudad del Carmen, Campeche, to come to Mexico City and "congratulate the federal administration for the conclusion of this important road."

Artist Has Two Endings To His Christmas Story

NEW YORK (NEA) — This is a Christmas story. It begins with a steel mill hand named Stevan Dohanos who overcomes certain obstacles to make it big.

Some Christmas stories have two endings — one happy, one sad. This is a story like that.

"I thought I had a little talent," Dohanos said, "so I finally decided to go to art school. But when you come from a family of nine and your people are immigrants, it's not that easy.

"I used to drive 60 miles a night from the steel mill in Lorain to the art school in Cleveland and back again to be at work at 6:30 in the morning.

"But it was the right thing to do. I got a job in an art studio in Cleveland and got married and we had two kids. It was wonderful. And then I got a big break — a chance to go to New York."

Within days, however, Dohanos was in a sanatorium. Tuberculosis had cut him down.

"You can't tell about TB," he said. "It killed my next younger brother and my next older sister — the three of us middle children — but it never touched anybody else in the family."

It was 1932. Effective anti-tuberculosis drugs were unknown. Dohanos had to quit work for bed rest and quiet for nearly a year.

"Then we decided to go to New York anyway," he said. "I got a job in a studio and things started to look up again. I was drawing everything under the sun. It was wonderful, exciting, hectic for 10 years."

And then tuberculosis hit him again. By then, one of his wife's brothers had died of TB. Another had been sent to a sanatorium with drugs. Once more Dohanos was sent to bed. Work stopped. Income stopped.

"I decided I had had enough," he said. "If I were going to live, I'd better work at home, even if it meant less work and less income. I just couldn't risk any more stress."

Since that decision, Dohanos has become one of the top free lance artists in the country. You have seen his covers on the magazines you read. You have mailed letters with postage stamps he has designed. You've seen his work in many museums, books, encyclopedias.

Today, when highly effective drugs against TB are finally available, Dohanos has become the symbol of the old, long fight against the disease. He is the 1960 Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman of the National Tuberculosis Assn.

That's the happy ending. The other ending is: At least 35 million Americans are infected with TB germs today.

More than 60,000 new active cases are reported each year. Better than 11,000 Americans die of TB each year — even though the disease can be detected in its earliest stages and completely cured. Even if it has progressed too far for cure, it can be arrested.

Why this waste of life? According to the TB Assn., because you can't force people to take a painless, harmless, effective skin test once a year.

ARTIST AT WORK — Steve Dohanos works on picture of child in prayer. A former steel worker, he had to struggle to reach his goal in life — to be a good artist.

Timms Completes Combat Training

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (FHTNC) — Marine Pvt. Joe I. Timms, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Timms of 430 N. Rider St., recently completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The course included the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

Billy G. Rextroat First In Navy's Star Program

Billy Gene Rextroat, SM3 of the USS Kemper County (LST 854) became the first enlisted man to reenlist under the Navy's new Selective Training and Retention (STAR) Program. An outstanding signalman, Rextroat was accepted into the STAR Program by the Chief of Naval Personnel and has agreed to serve six years.

Because Rextroat has already attended the six-week signalman school prior to coming aboard the Kemper County two years ago, he has requested and received a quota for the four-week Petty Officer Leadership Course given in San Diego. He is highly praised by the Commanding Officer, Lieutenant I. Maggay Jr., and well respected by all his shipmates. A man who will continue to be of increasing value to his division, his ship, and to the Navy.

Rextroat is married to the former Joan Ila Pendleton and they have a daughter, Cheryl Denise. Both Billy and Joan are formerly from Pampa, and currently reside on Orange Ave., San Diego.

Byrd Dares Demos To Purge Him

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., challenged Senate Democratic liberals Saturday to try to purge him for his objections to what he called the "radical" Democratic platform.

His first detailed indictment of the platform was sure to be interpreted as a go-slow warning to President-elect John F. Kennedy. Byrd refused to endorse the Democratic candidate during the election campaign.

The powerful and conservative Byrd, who battled former Democratic presidents Roosevelt and Truman for what he regarded as their radical policies, offered a public display of his current attitude in a 1,000-word letter to Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Byrd did give one friendly pat to Kennedy, who he said faces many great problems.

"It is my strong desire to give him my full support in all measures he proposed which I believe to be in the best interests of our nation and our people," he said.

Clark has proposed that Democratic senators who refused to endorse the Democratic presidential nominee and platform be barred from party caucuses. He also would bar senators opposed to specific platform planks from the chairmanship of committees handling legislation to carry out those planks.

War Orphans Education Plan Broadened By VA

War Orphans Education, originally for the sons and daughters of deceased war veterans, has been broadened by a new law to include the children of deceased veterans of peacetime service, Robert W. Sisson, manager of the VA Regional Office at Lubbock, stated.

However, eligibility requirements for peacetime service under the new law will be stricter than for wartime service, he explained.

The wartime veteran must have died in military service or as the result of a service-connected condition after he was discharged. Death of a peacetime veteran, however, must have been caused by the actual performance of military duties or resulted from extra-hazardous service.

Actual definition of wartime and peacetime service is given in the new law as follows:

World War II for War Orphans Education purposes, begins Dec. 7, 1941, and ends Dec. 31, 1946. The Korean Conflict begins June 27, 1950 and ends Jan. 31, 1955.

Peacetime service begins Sept. 16, 1940, (date of the Selective Service Act); excludes the war dates and continuous to run on into the future until such time as young men "are no longer liable for induction for training and service in the Armed Forces under the Universal Military Training and Service Act."

Children of deceased veterans generally must be between 18 and 23 to go to school under the War Orphans Education program. They may receive up to 36 months of education. The Federal government pays up to $110 a month for their schooling.

The new law for the first time also gives the Government's stamp of approval to courses given on television for college credit — so long as the war orphan student is working toward a regular college degree and so long as the major portion of his studies require classroom attendance.

Sisson pointed out that for the administration of the War Orphans Education program, an "orphan" is considered to be the child of a deceased veteran whose other parent may still be living. Death of both parents is not necessary for a child to be eligible under the War Orphans Education program.

Producer Says Filmland Is A 'Sausage Factory'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sam Gallu adds it up to 208 half-hour television shows he's put on film in less than six years.

"It's like making hamburgers or something," Gallu said. "It's a manufacturing business. You can't be artistic, let's face it. You don't even have time to think what shoes you've got on today."

Gallu has, nonetheless, an eager enthusiasm about the work he's doing now and his hopes for the future, and he finds time somewhere for singing, sculpting and family life.

Nor is he unpride — within their limitations — of the two filmed series which represent most of those half hours: "Navy Log," which ran for three years, and "The Blue Angels," a current syndicated-adventure show starring the famed Navy flying team of the same name.

"I love making pictures. I get a big charge out of it. I love to get up in the morning and go out on location. The more challenge there is the better I like it," Gallu said during a visit here from Hollywood.

"But I hope to do something better sometime. I don't want to be judged on a picture made in two and a half days on a limited budget."

"Hollywood has always been a sausage factory, and it always will be," Gallu said. "By the way, economics of Hollywood it has to be."

His own TV series, he said, "is a commercial piece of adventure merchandise which the average audience likes. You do the best you possibly can without the amount of money you have. It's as simple as that. You don't cheat on it. I've been accused of being too arty. I love interesting complex shadows; I love camera angles. But you can't pour everything into something like that. In a novel, a painting, a symphony, an opera, yes. Or a play I would like to produce — there wouldn't be enough sweat in my body."

Gallu produces, directs and oc-asionally writes the TV show which he's been turning out at a rate of one every 10 days.

He'll take a month off next spring for another artistic endeavor — singing the tenor lead in Bizet's Opera "The Pearl Fishers" at the Peabody Art Theatre in Baltimore.

Gallu said he spent one season in the Metropolitan Opera workshop and sang one performance under the baton of the late Arturo Toscanini with the NBC Symphony.

But he decided, "I'd go nuts if I had to put up with these singers all the time. Most singers have big heads for resonance and no brains."

childhood. Her early career was her mother's idea, but Cara would do her little impersonations only when her mother bribed her with dolls.

"Perhaps because of that," Cara says, "I would quit whenever it looked like I was getting somewhere with my career. Then, two years ago, I suddenly realized I enjoyed it, so here I am."

Another woman who's made a good thing of show business is Dorothy Lamour. She's currently trying to become a business woman, as well.

"I have three careers now," Dottie says. "I'm a housewife, an entertainer and an executive."

She started a cosmetics business, and she says it's a dream come true.

"I've wanted to do this for a long time," she says. "When I made my first picture, I played a South Sea islander in a sarong. I had to use body make-up all over, and I broke out in the worst case of make-up poisoning ever. I'm still allergic — if I use the wrong stuff my scalp and my ears break out."

"Right then, I said someday I'd find a make-up that was good and pure, and I have."

Dottie is the executive director of her firm, a member of the board of directors, a member of the executive board. She's not the president, "because I feel a man should be president."

Her husband is a vice-president, but he's not on the board.

"You know how boards are," she says. "There are always arguments, and I don't think a husband and wife should bring their arguments home. They have enough at home as it is."

One more show business girl with an unusual story is nightclub and TV singer Joanne Gilbert, who has resumed her career after several years out of the business.

And the reason, she temporarily retired? "I'd gone too far too fast — I needed to study."

Joanne started her career accidentally. She's the daughter of a prominent Hollywood songwriter and she had no yen for a career.

She'd been planning to be a high fashion model. But one day she accompanied her father to a nightclub, where a performer for whom she's written an act was rehearsing. She "kibitzed" around while they waited for the performer, and the club owner thought her kibitzing so good that he made her an offer. On a dare, she took it.

Prison Inmates To Be 'Featured' In TV Plays

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Veteran motion picture and television producer Collier Young has begun filming a new type TV series which uses prison inmates as the principals and allows them to tell their own stories without a script.

In addition the 30-minute programs are so designed that there will be no break in the middle for a commercial.

The program has been named "Crime and Punishment" and is being made with the cooperation of California Gov. Edmund B. Brown and California Director of Corrections Richard A. Magee.

"Every prisoner who appears before our camera does so willingly," said Young. "In fact, he signs a full release in front of the camera."

Although the prisoner will not receive payment for his appearing, Young's company will give what he would normally receive to the prisoners' welfare fund.

At the end of each prisoner's story, Magee will give his evaluation of the story, based upon his knowledge and the records available.

Young plans to expand "Crime and Punishment" beyond the shows filmed inside prison walls. He said he plans to follow a paroled "lifer" into the outside world after years of confinement, interview relatives of murdered persons, and visit the colony of women waiting outside prison walls for visiting days.

"Very early in the game we discovered that 'Crime and Punishment' would never run dry of story material," said Young. "We do not plan to limit our operations to prisons in California. After the show has been on for a while we expect to receive cooperation from governors of other states."

The only paid performer on "Crime and Punishment" will be Cleve Roberts, a nationally known newscaster whose reporting has taken him over 350,000 miles. He will interview the subjects, much as he would handle a news interview, and attempt to draw out as much as possible.

Young plans on marketing "Crime and Punishment" on a syndicated basis — that is by selling to individual stations.

"That is about the only free TV market left," he said. "Most of the market is controlled by the networks."

Stars Are Lacking Hollywood Isn't Making Talent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For starting all over again, so to years, producers and directors speak, hunting for new talent. "I began with 'Thirteen Smart Girls,' starring Deanna Durbin, 25 years ago," he recalled.

But, as is the case with many projects in filmland, nobody has done much about it. And the price of hiring established stars has gone up and up to the point where some are being paid close to one million dollars a picture.

In the days when major studios had large contract lists of actors, it was possible to bring in youngsters with the aim of making them into box office attractions.

However, with the demise of the star system, caused in part by actors going out on their own, major producers cut down on development programs.

Also, banks, which provide much of the production money, have been reluctant to risk cash on unknowns.

Metro Goldwyn Mayer producer Joe Pasternak, one of the town's famed talent builders, is turning out a big budget picture minus any prominent stars.

Pasternak, who developed such stars as Deanna Durbin and the late Mario Lanza, is looking ahead.

"For a long time, especially in the last ten years when TV came into the entertainment picture, movie exhibitors have been asking what about tomorrow," Pasternak said.

Pasternak, now celebrating a quarter century in pictures, is

Repeating Himself
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dorothy McGuire, who played the role of mother to Tommy Kirk and Kevin Corcoran in Walt Disney's "Old Yeller," takes up the same role as Tommy's and Kevin's mother in "Swiss Family Robinson."

Broadway to Film
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Warner Brothers reports it will film two top Broadway plays, "The Music Man" and "Gypsy."

"The Music Man" will be produced by Morte DeCosta, and "Gypsy" — the story of Gypsy Rose Lee — will be produced by David Merrick and Leland Hay-

George Peppard, last seen in "Home From The Hill," falls in love with a confused Leslie Caron in "The Sunbather's Paradise," which opens Wednesday at the LaVista Theater for a three-day engagement. Based upon Jack Kerouac's much discussed novel of today's "new bohemians" the picture also stars Janice Rule and Roddy McDowell. Filmed in CinemaScope and color the production has a San Francisco background. A highlight of the picture is its authentic progressive jazz score played and sung by a number of America's top musical artists, including Gerry Mulligan, Carmen McRae and Andre Previn.

Only 'Actress'
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The only "actress" in Walt Disney's "Ten Who Dared" is a mutt named Chickie — who is a newcomer to motion pictures.

The dog plays the part of a stowaway in the picture story of the first expedition to traverse the Colorado River through the Grand Canyon. Chickie's mother starred in the recent picture "Toby Tyler."

Rehearsal Preference
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Director Delbert Mann, who received an Oscar for his work on "Marty," finds the stage method for a rehearsal period most effective.

"It is a tremendous advantage for players to have worked together before actual production begins," according to Mann.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS United Press International

A lame duck Congress met in Washington Dec. 3, 1860, uncertain and nervous. This second session of the 36th Congress, meeting nearly a month after its successor had been elected, but not yet sworn in, accurately reflected the perplexity of the country.

On that winter day in the capital, pigs still wandered in the muddy streets. The unfinished dome of the Capitol bore a construction crane like a waving statue, and this was the State of the Union.

—Five Southern states had started the process of secession — South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia. Hot heads in Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina and Louisiana were on the verge of disunion. Texans were pushing their governor, Sam Houston, staunch unionist and Indian fighter, toward the same decision.

—Abraham Lincoln, president-elect and three months away from power, sat silent in Springfield, Ill., spasmodically working behind the scenes. —James Buchanan, lame duck President torn by indecision and away by a Southern-dominated cabinet, prepared his State of the Union message with a two-nibbed pen.

Why was the country in this predicament? Buchanan asked. Because of Northern anti-slavery agitation, which had harried the South until:

"Many a matron throughout the South retires at night in dread of what may befall herself and her children before morning."

The spirit of John Brown, hanged this one year and two days, was marching. It wasn't the election of Lincoln, but Northern state laws recognizing the Negro as a man instead of a chattel, that had endangered the South, Buchanan wrote. Unless these laws were repealed, the South, having used all peaceful means for redress, would be justified in revolution.

Buchanan held that federal forts in the South were government property beyond question and cited the fact that the South Carolina forts had been purchased with the consent of the legislature and the authority over them had been granted to Congress.

The President made one recommendation to meet the crisis. He suggested a constitutional amendment would recognize the right of property in slaves in states where slavery existed or where it might exist, guarantee the right of slave owners in territories until they were admitted as states and declare all Northern laws abridging the Fugitive Slave Act unconstitutional.

Reaction was immediate, all against Buchanan. A half dozen Southern senators quickly arose to denounce the message. Way out west in Springfield, Lincoln made no recorded comment. But his position on the two main points of the message were pretty well known. Where Buchanan was ready to meet the demands of the South for extension of slavery, Lincoln was pledged against it, personally and by the Republican party. He said that the President must execute the laws but that he was unable to do so constitutionally, Lincoln held that it was the President's duty to do so.

The first of several attempts to find a compromise out of the crisis came the same day Buchanan sent his message. On motion of Alexander R. Boteler, Virginia aristocrat elected in opposition to the regular Democratic slate, the House voted, 145 to 38, to set up a committee of one member from each state to consider the perils of the moment. All the opposition votes came from the Republicans. Some of the Southerners abstained.

On Dec. 6, Speaker William Pennington made his appointments to the House committee which would be known as the Committee of 33. Pennington's choices were unfortunate. While balanced with 16 Republicans, 14 Democrats and his Southern choices were denounced as unrepresentative.

His choice for chairman, Tomo Corwin of Ohio, was a strong one. He had been governor of Ohio, a U.S. senator and secretary of the treasury in the early '50's. There would be much talk about compromise before this lame duck session of Congress was ended but

Living 'Above' Store Becomes Fashionable

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new concept of downtown development promises to make it fun — and fashionable — to "live above the store."

This should be good news for many small businessmen, workers who really would prefer to live within walking — rather than commuting — distance of their jobs and for folks who just plain enjoy city life.

The first example of this new type of "city within a city" building, which combines stores, offices, family living and recreation facilities, is under construction in metropolitan Chicago, on the north bank of the Chicago River, to be known as Marina City.

Architect Bertrand Goldberg of Chicago sees his project as "a giant step toward the rebirth of the idea that a city is a good place to live."

Goldberg conceived Marina City as the answer to several problems. A major problem in developing downtown city areas, he notes, has been the fact that huge office buildings, limited in use generally to 35 or 40 hours weekly, and expensive to operate, require expensive rents that most smaller businessmen can not afford.

Much of the housing built in downtown locations necessarily has been high-priced, luxury units. Downtown construction has forced more and more city dwellers to move either to distant areas of the city or to the suburbs, many of whom, Goldberg feels, really enjoy and want the advantages of urban living.

The combination of housing, store and office, parking and recreational facilities is expected to result in lower rental costs for all. All of the apartments will be medium income. There will be one and two-bedroom units and "efficiencies," with rentals expected to start at $115 a month.

Each of the 900 apartments in the two towers—tallest apartment buildings in the world—will have outside windows and its own balcony arc overlooking metropolitan Chicago. The apartments will fan out from a central service core, with each having an all-electric kitchen, thermostatically controlled year-round air conditioning, dressing room and other built-in conveniences. There will be special laundry and storage areas for residents.

Calendar

All the Catholic nations of Europe adopted the Gregorian calendar in 1582; the various German states retained the Julian calendar until 1700; the American Colonies changed calendars in 1752 when the British dominions did likewise.

1960 Crop Year Ends With Rush

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Harvesting machinery hummed in near perfect weather in all sections of West Texas during the past week to rush the 1960 crop season to an end.

The backlog of unginned cotton grew by leaps during the week as gins were unable to keep pace with harvesting, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

Rain, fog and cloudy skies continued to hamper farm and ranch activities in the southern sections of the state but conditions were improving at midweek as the brisk norther cleared skies and brought in drying winds.

Open weather is needed in these areas for completing harvests and cotton stalk destruction programs. Also to permit flax planting and field preparation and vegetable harvests in the southern areas.

Surface moisture is needed in the panhandle to maintain the excellent wheat crop prospects and also in some Rolling Plains counties and in the western counties of both North Central and Central Texas districts, the service said.

Livestock conditions generally are good. In the upper gulf coastal counties, the continuing wet weather has kept all field work at a standstill and caused some deterioration of pasture grasses but cattle are holding their own. Very little supplemental feeding has been reported at this time. Small grains and legumes are making good growth in most areas and are providing good grazing.

Formal Ball Introduces Kit Kat Klub Pledges

On the Friday evening, after Thanksgiving, the Kit Kat Klub presented its pledges for the 1960 season at a formal ball, "The Blue Velvet Cotillion" held in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Fifteen pledges were presented to members and guests.

The ballroom was decorated in majestic fantasy with large clusters of dark blue, white and pale blue balloons representing fluffy clouds. The stage of the ballroom featured a three-dimensional view of a castle with a pathway of blue velvet leading from the castle into the aisle. Bordering the front of the stage was a large stone fence with swinging iron gates with a rod-iron dome suspended featuring the theme "Blue Velvet Cotillion."

The gates were opened by Miss Beverly Stephens, club vice president and Miss Sue Maxey, club secretary, as each new member was presented.

Pledges were introduced by Miss Carolyn Jones, club president, with a cleverly-rhymed jingle. Little Miss Joan Maxey presented each pledge with a dainty fantasy wand of white feathered carnations.

BEST PLEDGE

Each year, Kit Kat members select a Best Pledge from the season's pledge group. The honor is given to the girl who shows the best traits of a good member; her willingness to work for the betterment of the club; and how well she performs the duties of the club.

This year the honor was bestowed upon Miss Janie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thompson. A dozen red roses were presented to Miss Thompson as the Kit Kat Crown and cape were placed around her shoulders by Miss Janice Cope, Best Pledge for 1959.

Miss Thompson, wearing a formal of scarlet tulle over taffeta, was escorted by Jerry Glover. She was introduced with the jingle "To know her is to love her. These words are true, but true. If you know Janie Thompson, you know we're not foolin' you."

Travis Choir To Present Program For PTA Meeting

The fifth and sixth grade Travis School choir, under the direction of Miss Florita Young, will present a program entitled "Christmas Around the World" for the PTA meeting to be held Thursday 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The choir, costumed to represent foreign countries, will present selections identified with that country. A special number, "Lullaby of Babauchka" will be given by the sextet Marilyn Milliron, Kathy Ball, Terry Allen, Vicki Autry, Linda Jones and Jeanne Sheppard. Mrs. Joe Parker will be accompanist.

The Rev. Richard Crews, pastor of First Christian Church, will give the devotional.

Mrs. Brantley Hudson, unit president, will conduct the business meeting. Mr. Glen Shave will give the devotion.

Other business planned for the agenda is a report by Mrs. John Dobson and Mrs. Hudson of the recent PTA state convention held in Austin.

An executive board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. preceding the general meeting in the office of the school principal, Wendell Alt Miller.

Music Of Mozart To Be Featured At Treble Clef Club

The music of Mozart will be featured at the Treble Clef Club meeting to be held Tuesday 7:45 p.m. in the City Club Room.

The program is planned in keeping with the course of study for the year, "From Madrigal to Modern Music."

During the social hour, preceding the meeting, recordings of Mozart's music will be played.

Appearing on the evening's program will be the following Mozart selections: Mrs. Bruce Riehart, accompanied by Mrs. E. B. Alleman, will sing "Voci che sapete" duet, "Su L'Aria" from the opera (Say Ye Who Borrow); vocal duet, "Su L'Aria" from the opera "Marriage of Figaro" sung by Mrs. John Conway and Mrs. Lonnie Richardson, accompanied by Mrs. John Gill; and a piano duet, Sonata No. 1, played by Mmes. Alleman and H. V. Wilks.

Included in the program will be Mozart selection played by Patrick of the Mozart Music Club, one of the Junior Music Clubs in Pampa, affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs, which is counseled by Tracy D. Cary.

Hostesses during the social hour will be Mmes. Lois Fagan, W. H. Fuller, John Branham and Miss Juanita Haynes of Miami.

Miss Jackie Faye Fikes Repeats Vows With B. E. Tidwell Jr. In Home Rites

Miss Jackie Faye Fikes became the bride of Billy Eugene Tidwell Jr. in a ceremony performed at eight o'clock on November 23 in Highland Baptist Church with the Rev. M. B. Smith performing the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fikes of Denton, former residents in Pampa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy E. Tidwell, east of the city.

For her wedding, the bride wore a wool jersey dress of Punjab Green fashioned with a rounded neckline, three quarter length sleeves and slim skirt. A black Halo hat encircled with a nose veil and black accessories complemented her costume. She wore a corsage of white split carnations accented with leaves edged with seed pearls.

Mrs. Wayne Phillips attended the bride as matron of honor. Wayne Phillips served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Miss Dianne Tidwell, bridegroom's sister, and Miss Lou Ann Taylor, student at Eastern New Mexico University, presided at the cake and punch service.

For a wedding trip to Denton, the bride traveled in a blue cotton dress and wore her bridal corsage.

Mrs. Tidwell was graduated from Pampa High School in 1960 and attended Texas Women's University.

Mr. Tidwell was also graduated from PHS in 1960 and is employed by Four R. Industrial Supply Co. They will make their home at 619 N. West St. in Pampa.

Milk For Mixing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Milk needs to have its status raised to that of a social drink, the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station reports.

The report is based on interviews with teenagers and young adults in one Pennsylvania city. The teens said soft drinks are more appropriate than milk on dates, when dining out or at parties. The Pennsylvania report recommended special attention be given to party use of milk to improve the liquid's status.

Peg O' Pampa

WELL... did you enjoy the Santa Day Parade and the Pancake Supper? ... we got there, cold though it was, and on Thursday, too... sometimes we wonder how children can keep their faith in Santa Claus without being disenchanted by the sight of so many Santas all over the towns and cities... and on TV, too... and why don't they (or do they?) wonder how in the world Santa can get all his toys made if he is taking so many trips, and how he has time to pack his sack.

IT IS PARTY TIME NOW... and just a few that are going on, or have gone on, or will go on, are: a lovely tea dance this afternoon at the Country Club, with hosts and hostesses Jimmy and Lucille Massa, John and Edith Rankin, Dick and Dot Stowers, and Joe and Ann Lee Gordon... and on Wednesday will be a morning coffee given by Margaret Hoff, Roberta Pugh, Marge Reynolds, Myrtle Roberts, Francis Threath, and Mary Williams... also at the Club... tomorrow, the fifth, there will be a luncheon and bridge party at the Coronado Inn, given by Janetta Hickman, Pearl Clark, Betty Dunbar, Jewell Nance, and Mary Wheatly... a wonderful bridge luncheon was given recently at the Inn by Dorothy Neslage, Eunice Pierson, Margaret Thompson, (Mrs. Chester), June Homer, and Mary Kinard... we were delighted to see that Mrs. Lula Ewing, who was there looking so pert and nice, won the prize which was the gorgeous centerpiece of bronze and white mums... we were pleased no end about that... so there is a small bit of the party round so far.

NEWS ABOUT PAMPANS... Tracy Cary, local president of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society was honored in Fort Worth last week by being elected second vice president of the state organization, the Texas State Genealogical Society. Ruth Nienstiel has been busy last week because daughter Phyllis is visiting with her children... and speaking of grandchildren... what if all the children decided to come "home for Christmas" to see Frank and Fern Hogsett... with the grandchildren... all TWENTY-FIVE of them!... the newest arrival, making the twenty-fifth, was Joseph Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hogsett of Bartlesville, Oklahoma... born on November 25th... the oldest grandson also has this day as his birthday, Danny Burton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Derrel Hogsett of Pampa... how's that for a record?

GOLFER'S BIT... I'm taking up the game of golf... I use my moshie with such force I heard a catty person say I'm also taking up the course! (Rebecca McCann)

DOWNTOWN SHOPPERS last week... preparing for the Christmas holidays, we suspect... Edwinna Boyd, Per Stubbe Hilda Duncan... Barbara Dobbin (cute white hat she had on)... Becky Schuneman... Marion George and her mother, Mrs. M. P. Snider, who is visiting from Connecticut... the Georges and Mrs. Snider visited in Nebraska over Thanksgiving holidays and were blown home by the "high winds" we had all over the Plains on Sunday last.

EXCITEMENT IS GROWING in the families of band members... as you know, the famous Pampa Harvester Band is to attend the National Band Clinic in Chicago... December 12 through 17th... and this is quite an honor, and a well-deserved one, we may add... band mothers, to help with a portion of the finances for the trip, held an apron and Bake Sale last Thursday... and a rummage sale was held for the same purpose in the VFW hall... the main expense contribution comes from the Chamber of Commerce... the band parents' contribution to the trip expense is providing funds for meals for the 94-member band... The Harvester Band, with 14 superb directors, Bill Tregoe, is one of eight bands in the United States to be invited to the Clinic... of course, you probably know all this, but we feel that we can't mention the band often enough... those children work so hard and persistently to become the fine organization that they are... it is an honor to be a member of it, and they are an honor for our city.

NEW AROUND TOWN... big grins were on the faces of two Pampans recently as they drove around in their pretty new Merry Oldsmobile... Audrey and Charley Robison... and Curt and Will Beck are the owners of a new Buick also... a pretty tan one... and Santa Claus came early to the Melvin Munns with a Renault... you may have seen it parked in front of the new FM radio station, where Melvin is program director... hey, Santa... any left over? Huh?

ONE PARTY we omitted in the party catalog mentioned above was the Holiday Buffet held last night in the Country Club... hosts and hostesses for the party, one of the first club affairs since the remodeling, were Anne and Hobart Fatheree... Carol and James Galloway... and the Elmer Wilson's... a good time was had by all, to be trite.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS... I can't afford economy—I save a dollar now and then, which makes me feel so virtuous I'm always moved to squander ten!... but with all the Christmas merchandise coming in the stores now, who can help it?

BITS AND PIECES of news here and there in our city... Edwinna Boyd entertained with a coffee at her home recently for a guest from Phoenix, Arizona... Mrs. Ed ("Bess") Gavin... Leah Behrman took a trip to Wichita Falls a few days ago... you may have read that the Tex DeWeese family will be back in Pampa now... he is the new managing editor of this paper... the DeWeese family lived here for a number of years... they have been living in Dallas... it's nice to have them back!... why don't you buy some Fall bulbs now from the Pampa Garden Club... they are on display at E. W. Hinton's Garage on South Hobart... then next spring you will have pretty posies poking their noses up through the cold ground... the decorations being lit in downtown Pampa now, it really seems like Christmas.

NEWS NOTE about a former Pampan... Louise Lawler, daughter of Josephine and John Lawler, was married on November 30th in San Jose, California, to William E. Pyncheon... Louise is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis of Pampa... she has been with the San Francisco Ballet group and has toured South America and the Orient and Europe with the company... Kay and Chuck Bruce, who are now living in Corpus Christi, write that they are enjoying the weather there... wonder how the big fish in the fishpond at the Coronado Inn fared during the cold weather... people are still wondering how the big bass got in there, and their grave suspicions concerning Pampa fishermen who may have been responsible for it... we heard from a birdie that its name is Gertrude... and speaking of the Inn... there are new paintings up in the lobby... including some fine enamels by Peggy Palmittier... take a look next time you are there. Guess that is about it for this Sunday... see you next week.

★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

A new vinyl that looks just like those old blue-and-white Dutch tiles can inspire a decorative scheme for almost any room in the house. Used on the floor of an entrance hall with white walls and provincial furniture, it would add color and design interest. Few women could resist the charm of a kitchen with these blue-and-white tiles on the floor. They could also be used as a stove backplash if the walls are white, cabinets blue and accessories copper. In a blue-and-white living room, this vinyl was used all around the fireplace for decorative wall panels. Women seeking inspiration for a different-looking bathroom will find the backbone of innumerable schemes in this one product.

Dear Polly: We need your help with the furniture we are buying for our first new home. How far can we go in mixing different periods? Should we use Colonial furniture all through the house? We'd like a brass bed in the guest room. Is brass definitely modern?—Newlywed.

Dear Newlywed: Brass beds are definitely not modern. My grandmother had a brass bed. Did yours? Definitely, you can mix periods and styles in furniture. You can have Colonial in one bedroom and other styles in other rooms. Many can get along well in the same room. Some of the smartest new rooms display modern furniture and antique accessories.

Dear Polly: I'm an avid reader with a problem of my own. My beautiful divan is covered with forest green that has a fruit pattern in pale blue and pink. I'd like to use indoor shutters at the windows. What colors do you advise for rug, walls, woodwork and shutters? I have a lovely Siamese pink wing chair. Shall I use this?—Mrs. N. H.

Dear Mrs. N. H.: Do use your lovely pink chair. A forest green rug and pale blue walls with white shutters and woodwork would be smart. When you get another chair, choose a plaid or stripes in pink, blue and green. Some blue cushions would be pretty on your sofa.

Dear Polly: I have a problem. For 18 years, I have had tieback curtains in the living room. Room is traditional. The walls are pink and I'd like green drapes. Can I use drapes with window shades and not have panel curtains? Should I have one wide pair or two pairs of draperies at the double window? I have a gray English floral rug, hunter's green divan, gray chair and green chair. What color to recover the sofa?—M. B. H.

Dear M. B. H.: After 18 years, you definitely need a change of curtain styles. Have two pairs of curtains so that shade brackets and wood casing between the windows will be hidden. You need not have panel curtains. I suggest new draperies of a heavy white textured fabric edged with green fringe. The sofa slip cover would tie in with your colors if done in floral print with pink flowers, a dash of gray and green leaves on a white ground.

Miss Ila Fern Grimsley D. L. Woods Say Vows

MCLEAN (Sp) — Miss Ila Fern Grimsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grimsley, and David Lawrence Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. June Woods, were united in marriage with vows repeated in an evening ceremony on November 24 in the Church of Christ.

David Fultz, minister of the Quannah Church of Christ, read the double-ring service before a bank of greenery flanked by tall baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and tiered candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers.

A quartet composed of George Saunders, Jim Weatherford, Miss Janice Saunders, and Mrs. Charles Henderson sang raptorial selections and the traditional march.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bridal white peau de soie fashioned with an elongated bodice of re-embroidered lace; scalloped neckline edged with crocheted satin ribbon; and long, tapered sleeves, which ended in petal points over the hands. A deep, hemline tuck held the bouffant skirt, which swept to a chapel train.

Her shoulder-length veil of French Illusion was held by a Queen Anne's coronet of orange blossoms outlined with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid arranged with lilies-of-the-valley atop a white satin covered Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Linda Grimsley served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wesley Masters of Cotton Center and Miss Cheryl Grimsley, bride's sister. The maid of honor wore a dress of frosted mint green satin-back silk organza with a veil of matching tulle attached to a half coronet of orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were attired in dresses of creamed coffee satin and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Wayne Woods of Seattle Wash., served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Donnie Woods, also brother of the bridegroom and Oran Durham. Ushers were Charlie Warlick, Joe Harvey, Ken Cobb, Jim Rudmann and Roland Thomas, all students at Texas A&M College.

Candlelighters were Phyllis and Gene Bench, bride's cousins. Vickie Lynn Smith attended as flower girl wearing a frosted mint green frock fashioned as the dress of the maid of honor.

RECEPTION
A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was laid with a beige lace cloth over mint green satin centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and bronze candles, with appointments of crystal and silver.

The bride chose wool jersey dress with toast accessories for the wedding trip to New Mexico. Mrs. Woods was graduated from McLean High School and was employed at Marie Foundations. Mr. Woods was graduated from McLean High School and is attending Texas —A & M, where he is studying to be a veterinarian.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods are making their home in the Hensel Apartments, College Station.

Interest In World Day Of Prayer Is Sparked By First Methodist Program

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held its general meeting on Thursday in the chapel.

The worship center was a lighted world globe encircled at the base with dolls from different nations depicting the theme "Into All The World Together." Mrs. W. H. Nichols Jr. gave the devotion.

A letter was read from Mrs. J. F. Tillman, WSCS national president, which reminded members of the 75th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer planned for February 1961.

The program for the day was presented to better inform members of the date. Mrs. Wiley Davis, as hostesses. Mrs. Kermit Lawson, WSCS president, presided at the Coffee Service.

Following the social hour, members adjourned for a business meeting in the chapel. New WSCS members, who have joined the Society since September, were introduced. Announcements were made of the Children's Workers meeting to be held in Berger on Dec. 2 and of the Sub-District meeting to be held Dec. 8 at 9:30 a.m. in Candian.

It was announced that the church circles would meet Dec. 7. Approximately fifty members attending the general meeting.

The right hat and the right coiffure complement each other. When you buy a hat consider how it will top off not only your ensemble but your hairdo as well.

Challenge Of Soaring 60's Tossed To Club

"Woman Power In the Soaring 60's" was discussed by Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Gray County Home Demonstration agent and member of the Vocational Information Committee of the Pampa Altrusa Club at its dinner meeting held Monday in the Coronado Inn.

Miss Patterson was introduced by Mrs. Vera Lard, Vocational chairman.

Using flannelboard illustrations to effectively emphasize and highlight major points in her talk, Miss Patterson stated "The 1960's bring high hopes for a Better World to people everywhere and it is opening up new vistas of service to Altrusans. There have been few times in the history of Altrusa commerce, especially in cities, there is an increase in women who work. They are changing from work in home industries and agriculture to new industries and business. During the 50's, 13 1/2 per cent of the labor force were women.

"In Guatemala, too, which is changing from agriculture to industries in cities, the labor force was comprised of 13 per cent women. In both Mexico and Guatemala, the largest number of women workers are teenagers 14-19 years of age."

"In Puerto Rico," Miss Patterson pointed out, "which was formerly dependent on agriculture is now undergoing a great industrial development. There is a shift in labor force from 45 per cent agriculture in 1940 to 36 per cent agriculture in 1954. The new industries, garment manufacture, light industry, service occupations and tourism are bringing women, young and mature, into labor forces. There is a stepped up need for professional women such as teachers, nurses. And there are similar trends in all countries where Altrusa exists."

"In Great Britain, where women made a wonderful record during war years, they are making an equally significant contribution to the economy now. 32.7 per cent of the working population are women workers; the largest per cent engaged in manufacturing industries, services occupations, the next largest."

"There are already an unprecedented number of women workers in the United States with 33 per cent of workers being women. If the trends continue there will be almost 30,000,000 working women by 1970."

"What service can Altrusa offer these working women?"

The local club co-sponsors a Career Clinic annually, which brings in professional people to discuss careers with high school students; and for the mature woman, who must re-enter the business world to provide for her family, the club's project of "Grants-In-Aid" provides funds with which she may be re-trained for a specific job.

"Pampa Altrusa Club faces a great challenge in doing what it can to help the woman power of Pampa and surrounding areas. We must meet the needs of the Soaring 60's," Miss Patterson concluded.

by Doris E. Wilson
Pampa News Women's Editor

It was with deep regret that we learned of the death of Earl Allison, our first newspaper "boss", who was managing editor of the Daily Republican Register in Mount Carmel, Ill.

Mr. Allison, a kind man in his late 70's, had been managing editor for the Daily Republican Register for more than 50 years. He had worked first for the senior owner of the paper and later for his son. He was more than a managing editor, he was sort of a father advisor and confidante of the people.

Mr. Allison's heart failed while he was seated at his old-fashioned rolled-top desk. We can still envision that desk, which was continually in a state of complete chaos. Papers bulging from every pigeon-hole, spilling out of every drawer and filed deep on a half-dozen spindles. You see, he never refused a story. Perhaps, he didn't use it, but he was always careful to explain why it was not acceptable; or how it might be amended to make it acceptable. Untidy, though his desk was, he knew where he could lay his hand on any item he wanted for reference. It might take a few minutes to find it, but find it he always did.

We are sure his familiar figure is missing from the downtown scene. He had a daily "beat" which he covered rain or shine. . . . he would stop by the Post Office for the day's mail. Then by Hadley's Cafe for a cup of coffee where he gathered in the latest over-night tidbits. It was often rumored that if everyone in town could make it into Hadley's early in the morning, it would not be necessary to publish a paper. But Mr. Allison did it for them. The County Courthouse was another of his daily stops before returning to the office to "wrap it up" for the day's paper.

The most insignificant story received his undivided attention at the moment. We remember the night our daughter's bike was stolen. Kim, who was then 7 years old, called the paper the next morning, and asked for Mr. Allison, no less. He listened quietly as she excitedly reported the theft. He asked for the description, the serial number on the bike and forthwith wrote a

"We shall always think of him kindly . . . as a man of infinite patience, wisdom, with a genuine concern for his fellowman. He was admired, respected, . . . and yes, often criticized."

On the evening of his death, Mr. Allison had gone home to dinner. Shortly after dinner, he complained of feeling ill. His wife and son put him in the family car and drove him to the hospital, where a thorough check found nothing amiss. Before returning home, he asked his family to drop him off at the newspaper office because he had a little work that he wanted to clear up before the next day's edition.

Within a short time, he signed -30- to this life, while seated at his old-fashioned desk. Which is the way, we think, Mr. Allison would have wanted it.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An ointment with a built-in bandage has been designed by Dr. Joe E. Habberle of the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy. The researcher calls his development a kind of bandage in a tube.

The white cream dries in four or five minutes, leaving a rough, tough, flexible, plastic film that sticks tightly to the skin.

PEO Entertains With Guest Day

CANADIAN (Spl) — The annual PEO Guest Day was held recently in the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Ansel McDowell was guest speaker of the afternoon. About ninety members and guests heard Mrs. McDowell review "Farewell to Fear." Following the review guests were served open-faced party sandwiches, assorted cookies, mints, nuts and coffee from a table decorated in the fall theme. The colors of brown and gold predominated. Mrs. Jack King, PEO president, presided at the coffee service. The short evening gown continues to rate far ahead of the long length in popularity. It's easier to wear, easier to pack and sees service on many more occasions.

Dear Abby...
Old And Foolish?
Or Young And Selfish?

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our mother, age 70, eloped with the real estate dealer who sold her lovely big home for her. He claims to be 65, but he looks much younger. No one knew she was even interested in getting married again. She had been a widow for 14 years.

Mother isn't the smartest woman in the world and we think perhaps she has become old and foolish. This man is pretty fast talker and since he knows there is community property in this, he put over a pretty sweet deal for himself. All mother's holdings were to be divided equally among her children when she goes, but we understand that has been changed. Is it possible for children to get a parent's marriage annulled?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: It's possible, but you'd better talk to a lawyer about the probabilities. Are you sure your mother is "old and foolish"—or are you children just young and selfish?

DEAR ABBY: I don't claim to be an expert cook, but one thing I make that everybody raves about is spaghetti. I entertain very informally, and always include some single people who eat out a lot, so maybe that's the reason why they are so appreciative and lavish in their compliments.

Well, I had my brother and his wife here for supper last night and I served my spaghetti. My brother literally licked his fingers and said, "No wonder everyone raves about your spaghetti!" My sister-in-law said, "Don't tell me you serve SPAGHETTI to dinner guests!" I said I frequently did.

can I give him? I hate to say, "My mother won't let me." (It sounds so babyish.) Please answer soon, because he wants to know right away.

BARBARA
DEAR BARBARA: Tell him you can't go steady because you mother doesn't "approve." There's nothing babyish about respecting your parents' wishes.

DEAR ABBY: I changed doctors and now I would rather have the first one. The first one knows I went to another doctor. Could I change back without having to explain anything? I have more faith in the first one than the second one. I will not go back to the second one if I can help it.

DUMMY
DEAR DUMMY: No explanations are necessary. Ask your first doctor for an appointment.

Getting married? For Abby's new pamphlet, "How To Have A

ITHACA, N.Y. (SpI) — Two Pampa eating and lodging establishments will receive national recognition in the new 1961 editions of the Duncan Hines Travel Books "Adventures in Good Eating" and "Lodging for a Night" coming out this month, according to an announcement from Roy H. Park, editor-in-chief of the Duncan Hines Institute here, publisher of the travel books.

The Pampa establishments are among 9,200 eating and lodging places in North America recommended by Duncan Hines. They are: Coronado Inn — listed in "Adventures in Good Eating"; Ranchhouse Motel — listed in "Lodging for a Night."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

Josip Broz Tito, whose defiance of Josef Stalin made "Titoism" a dirty word in international communism, once again has invited the wrath of Moscow and Peiping.

Tito, who is both president of Yugoslavia and secretary general of the Yugoslav Communist party, has announced that, effective in 1962, a new Constitution will reduce the role of the state and give more power to the worker.

The new constitution, he said, would recognize that "the citizen has the undeniable right to work and acquire an equivalent for his work."

The announcement made Tito no less a Communist than Nikita Khrushchev or Mao Tse-tung, and Yugoslavia no less a Communist state. But it was sure to draw the anger of both Moscow and Peiping, who themselves are engaged in a struggle over interpretation of Communist doctrine.

In the Communist lexicon, Tito is a "revisionist," which means that on his own road to socialism he departs from the sacred teachings of Marx and Lenin.

On the other end of the ideological spectrum is "dogmatism," which, according to Moscow, is the refusal to adapt to changing times. This is the crime of which Moscow accuses Peiping.

Tito first earned Stalin's ire when he held that there were different roads to socialism.

Now he defies Moscow to declare that the state can begin to "wither away" even as a strong Socialist nation is being built. The Moscow theory is that a perfect stateless, classless society can be achieved only through a period of transition beginning with a "dictatorship of the proletariat" in a strong central government.

Therefore, in Moscow's eyes, the new Yugoslav Constitution reducing the power of the state must be premature.

Further heresy is Tito's statement that the individual has the right to "acquire an equivalent for his work."

This smacks of private enterprise, a condition of which only remnants remain in Soviet Russia or Red China.

Aside from artists and authors who may collect individual rewards, the last private businessmen in the Soviet Union are the peasants. From the small plot of land which surrounds each of their homes they can harvest and sell the fruits for whatever they can get.

Hart To Deliver Episcopal Sermons

James Hart, a layman of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church will deliver the sermon "Why Read the Bible" during the two services in the church Sunday. The first service is at 8 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m.

The second candle on the Advent Wreath will be lighted as a member of the church reads the story of the Angel Gabriel telling Mary she has been chosen to be the Mother of the Christ. The topic for the adult Sunday School lesson will be The Holy Communion.

Seven members of the Episcopal Youth Fellowship, accompanied by James Chenoweth and the Rev. Mr. West will attend the annual convention of Episcopal Youth which will be held in Abilene, this week-achieved only through a period of
