Rogers, Jordan In Big Victories

By JIM T. LACY
Daily News Managing Editor

Voters turned out in moderately strong numbers Saturday, more to exercise their franchise than anything else, in the earliest Democratic primary in Texas history.

Going against a statewide trend, which saw Gov. Price Daniel nominated to a third term, Gray County voters endorsed Jack Cox of Breckenridge and gave him a 61-vote plurality. Only 10 of Gray County's precincts completed their count and, conceivably, Daniel could carry the county when final returns are tallied today. Cox received 2,658 votes and Daniel 2,597.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Pampa's U.S. Representative Walter Rogers scored overwhelming victories over their party opponents in the only two races of prime importance to countians.

Jordan was nominated to his fourth term by 2,705 votes against the 1,541 combined total of his three opponents. Louie Allen gave Jordan the closest competition by gathering 934. James R. Barrett polled 538 and A. V. Craig garnered 71 votes.

Congressman Rogers smothered his Amarillo opponent, Arthur Glover 4,066 to 906. If district totals follow the Pampa trend, Rogers will be nominated to his fifth consecutive term in Congress.

W. C. Breining won the nomination for county commissioner of precinct 1 by 103 votes over his four opponents, George C. Duncan (17), Fred Browning (51), Edward J. Gething (1) and Joe K. Clarke (45).

O. W. Stapp was victorious in the commissioner race in precinct 4 with 199 votes. His opponents to date: Truitt Johnson (193), Harris King (109), Raymond Smith (159), Earnest Beck (183) and Ed Clifton (54).

J. M. McCracken, commissioner of precinct 3 was unopposed. He received 104 votes.

H. A. Duggert, the incumbent, was victorious in his bid for re-nomination for constable in precinct 2, getting 2,760 votes. His opponents, M. L. Turner and Earl Lewis, received 1,740 and 1,203 votes respectively.

In precinct 5, J. D. Fish won the nomination (738) over his opponent I. F. Geisler (81).

In Lefors, incumbent constable C. S. Clendennen lost his place on the Democratic ballot to E. Ben White, 142 to 48. Other precinct 1 candidates for the post were W. R. Combs (75), W. B. Griffith (13), and Ray DeGray (37).

Candidates running unopposed and their total vote: State Representative Grainger McIlhenny, 5,346.

State Senator Grady Hazlewood, 5,371. District Attorney Bill W. Waters, 5,344. County Attorney Don Cain, 5,385. Herbert O. Willborn, member State Board of Education, 18th District, 5,364.

In other state contests, Gray County Democrats, in up-set abdications, picked Waggoner Carr of Lubbock 2,612 to 2,158 over incumbent Will Wilson for state attorney general. In another upset vote, which was statewide, Gray County voters was state-wide, Gray County voters (See CANDIDATES, Page 3).

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba and the Soviet Union have formally re-established diplomatic relations on the embassy level, it was announced Saturday night.

The announcement was made by Foreign Minister Raul Roa.

The Russians broke off relations on April 3, 1952, after two couriers were barred from Cuba when they refused to allow customs men to inspect their luggage.

The following November the government of Dictator Fulgencio Batista outlawed the Communist party in Cuba.

The possibility of reestablishment of Soviet-Cuban relations was enhanced when a trade mission, headed by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, visited Cuba last year. A trade pact was signed between the two governments, primarily for the sale of Cuban sugar, shortly after the visit.

A statement issued by Roa said relations had been "tacitly re-established" in 1959 when the USSR recognized Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.

This was ratified by Mikoyan during his visit and by Castro as representatives of their governments.

The statement said the Soviet ambassador to Mexico, Vladimir Basikin, arrived here Saturday "to effect the exchange of notes that culminated in the USSR-Cuban trade pact."

GOP Has Meeting

Gray County Republicans re-elected Clayton Husted county chairman Saturday at precinct 7 and 9 conventions.

R. M. Barrett was elected chairman of precinct 7 and, along with Mrs. Barrett, will represent the precinct at the county convention May 14.

In precinct 9, R. T. Coley was named chairman, Coley, along with E. E. McDowell, secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Payne, also were named county delegates.

The senatorial district Republican convention will be held in Galveston Sept. 20, according to Husted.

Demos Endorse Daniel For Third Term As Governor

Ramsey, Wilson In Apparent Victories

By DICK HARDWICK
United Press International

Gov. Price Daniel, 49, seeking a third term as Texas governor, appeared to be sweeping to victory Saturday night over young Jack Cox of Breckenridge in the Democratic primary election.

Daniel held a steady lead of about 55 per cent of the total vote over Cox.

Candidates Spend $2,866

Gray County candidates spent $2,866.40 in campaigning for office, according to expense figures filed with County Clerk Charlie Thut.

Vote Totals For Precinct Chairmen

Democratic precinct chairmen elected Saturday and their total votes (all unopposed):
Pct. 1—Mrs. J. A. Davis, 320.
Pct. 4—Marvin Hall, 718.
Pct. 5—Amos Page, 718.
Results in precincts 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 were not given with results of primary totals Saturday night.

Unofficial returns at 10:30 p.m. to the Texas Election Bureau gave Daniel 239,737 votes to 141,433 for Cox, 38. These were from 158 out of the state's 254 counties with 34 complete.

Daniel said in Austin that the steady lead indicates "a good majority in my race for re-election."

The governor, checking returns with friends at the mansion, said

BULLETIN

Texas Democrats nominated Gov. Price Daniel to a third term Saturday night. Unofficial returns from 221 of 254 counties, 100 complete, to the Texas Election Bureau at 12 midnight gave Daniel 535,149 votes to 371,931 for Cox. Ramsey had 503,302 to 336,931 for Don Yarborough, 34, and Wilson had 450,704 to 342,930 for House Speaker Waggoner Carr and 53,574 for Robert L. (Bob) Looney.

he was "highly pleased with early returns."

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, seeking an unprecedented sixth straight term, and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, seeking a third term, held substantial leads over their opponents. It appeared that Wilson, who had two opponents, would win without a runoff.

Ramsey had 221,265 votes at 10:30 p.m. to 159,697 for Don Yarborough, 34, a Houston lawyer.

The total for Wilson was 202,786 to 157,473 for House Speaker Waggoner Carr and 21,806 for Austin attorney Robert L. (Bob) Looney.

FUTILE EFFORT — Rescue workers seek vainly to revive Bobby Brown, 16-year-old Amarillo worker who was electrocuted yesterday while drilling manholes in the Highland Homes addition. Brown's body is lying about 50 feet from the scene of the accident. (Daily News Photo)

Highline Contact Is Fatal

Amarillo Youth Killed Saturday

By LEE GRIMSLEY
Daily News Staff Writer

Bobby Brown, an Amarillo teenager, was electrocuted Saturday morning when the drilling tower of the truck on which he was working came in contact with a three-phase, 13,200 volt power line in the Highland Homes addition.

Rescue teams tried for more than an hour to revive the youth, but their efforts failed.

Brown, 16, who had worked for the A-1 Drilling Co. of Amarillo about a month, came to Pampa with Doyle Bozeman, also of Amarillo, early Saturday morning to dig man-holes along a sewer line being laid about 150 yards west of the intersection of 19th and Christy.

Brown was leaning against the truck while Bozeman raised the drilling tower from the back. The tower came in direct contact with the over-head power line, killing Brown.

Bozeman jumped to safety, landed on an exposed sewer pipe and fell behind a light pole. One rescue worker said he hadn't hit the pipe and fallen further away, the electrical charge probably would have killed him.

"I didn't jump from the truck, I leaped," Bozeman said. "When I saw that electric arc I yelled at Bobby to jump but it was already too late."

Bozeman then ran some 150 yards to where Glen Hamlin was working on the roof of a house and asked him to call for help.

Hamlin had to go the Highland Homes office to telephone for an ambulance. It was approximately 10 minutes after the accident before rescue workers could reach Brown.

The attending physician said if he could have been reached immediately, the chances of survival would have been greater.

Plane On Spy Mission?

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States admitted Saturday that an American plane shot down in Russia last Sunday "probably" was on an intelligence mission "to obtain information now concealed behind the Iron Curtain."

U.S. Will Resume Underground Tests

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Eisenhower announced Saturday—without advance notice to Russia—that the United States would resume underground nuclear tests this year.

He said this was necessary to obtain needed research data on chest-proof detection systems and on peacetime "non-weapon" uses of atomic energy.

The surprise announcement meant an end to the voluntary atomic test ban moratorium that began in October, 1958.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that plans for tests will be spelled out in detail next Wednesday when experts of the United States, Russia, and Britain—the three big nuclear powers, meet again in Geneva to discuss research activities of the three nations. France recently joined the atomic club with two small tests.

The difficulty of detecting small scale underground atomic blasts has been one of the main stumbling blocks to the negotiation of a three-power agreement for a permanent ban on all nuclear tests.

Hagerty declined to say whether this country anticipated Soviet protests. But he said the Russians were aware of the possibility because the matter was discussed at the Geneva talks.

Board Meet Monday

The Pampa Board of Education will meet Monday at 10 a.m. in Pampa Junior High School, according to Knox Kinard, schools superintendent.

Khrushchev said Powers hailed out after a "remarkable" Soviet rocket hit his plane and, after parachuting safely, confessed that he had been on an espionage mission. (See PLANE, Page 3)

But, in a statement approved by President Eisenhower, the State Department denied Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's accusation that the flight was authorized by officials in Washington.

The statement contained absolutely nothing to contradict Khrushchev's charge that the unarmed U-2 observation plane piloted by Francis G. Powers, a civilian, had flown 4,300 miles into Russia to "spy" on that country.

Instead, the statement left the impression that the report on the incident furnished the State Department and the White House by the civilian space agency two days ago, was not entirely accurate.

The agency had said that Powers, flying on a weather mission in Turkey along the Soviet border, was missing since reporting an hour after takeoff that his oxygen was failing.

Khrushchev said Powers hailed out after a "remarkable" Soviet rocket hit his plane and, after parachuting safely, confessed that he had been on an espionage mission. (See PLANE, Page 3)

Democrats Stamp Approval On Johnson For President

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International

Texas voters began stamping their official approval on the "Lyndon Johnson for President" movement Saturday as hundreds of precinct conventions adopted resolutions to support the Senate majority leader.

Early reports showed that Johnson will have the complete support of at least 27 counties when the state Democratic convention gets underway June 14 in Austin.

Countless other precincts over the state added a helping hand but it was not enough to assure that the entire county delegation would be for Johnson.

Two counties, Terry and Upshur, gave Johnson 100 per cent support from all precincts. In 25 others he won the approval of enough precincts to control county delegate strength.

Voters also gave the senator an overwhelming vote of approval in his uncontested race for a third term in Washington. Johnson was in West Virginia, and unavailable for immediate comment.

Along with the resolutions supporting Johnson, dozens of other precincts went on record against the poll tax as a requirement for voting, and for moving primary elections back to the old dates in July and August.

Saturday's primary elections, gateway to the precinct conventions, were made to order for Johnson. The legislature moved the primary dates up six weeks to free Johnson from a possible campaign for re-election during the time the Democratic national convention will be held in Los Angeles in July.

Never Conceded So Bluntly

U.S. Intelligence Activity Admitted

By SAM FOGG
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department's statement Saturday night on the Soviet plane incident was the most candid admission yet from a government that both sides are carrying on intensive espionage activities in the Cold War.

"Intelligence collection" has been going on, has been acknowledged fact, but never been conceded so bluntly in an official public declaration. While insisting there was no authorization from Washington for the flight of a U-2 plane which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said was shot down on a spy mission, the department said:

"It is certainly no secret that given the state of the world today, intelligence collection activities are practiced by all countries and post-war history certainly reveals that the Soviet Union has not been lagging in this field."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently had too much evidence on the American plane incident for the United States effectively to do anything but admit that the plane had been caught on aerial intelligence work inside Russia.

The State Department, with White House approval, emphatically denied any suggestion that President Eisenhower or any other

Cancer Drive Is Over Goal

The Gray County cancer fund drive has already topped its goal of $5,200 by more than $280, and there is more money still to be counted.

At present the county chapter has deposited $5,482.35 in the bank.

Of the total collected so far, $3,770 was raised in the recent house-to-house campaign. The Webbs community raised $30. Alan Reed $32.05 and Grandview $20.

Funds from McLean—and the Hoover community will be turned in Monday.

Washington "authorities" ordered this particular flight—It shifted this responsibility to someone in the field. It abandoned the traditional attitude of all governments that "such things just don't happen."

Some diplomatic observers believed that the imminence of the Big Four summit meeting, which begins a week from Monday in Paris, may have influenced the United States' action in acknowledging intelligence activities.

Trotsky Killer Out Of Prison, Goes In Hiding

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—Jacques Mornard, the man who murdered Leon Trotsky, went into hiding here Saturday with the apparent cooperation of the Cuban government following his release from a Mexican prison.

Also under wraps with Mornard were two Czechs, carrying diplomatic passports, who flew with him to Havana Friday for a stop-over en route to Europe—with Communist Czechoslovakia their reported destination.

It was believed that Mornard and his traveling companions would continue their voyage to Europe aboard one of three Russian vessels — two tankers and an iron ore ship — currently reported in Havana harbor.

The Cuban semi-official newspaper Revolution said Mornard, who served some 20 years in prison in Mexico for the pick-up murder of Trotsky, came to Cuba "with a transit visa."

The newspaper carried a two paragraph story at the bottom of page 2 saying only that Mornard was accompanied by the two Czechs it identified only as Noviky and Fuchs.

Cuba, Soviet Union Relations Resumed

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba and the Soviet Union have formally re-established diplomatic relations on the embassy level, it was announced Saturday night.

The announcement was made by Foreign Minister Raul Roa.

The Russians broke off relations on April 3, 1952, after two couriers were barred from Cuba when they refused to allow customs men to inspect their luggage.

The following November the government of Dictator Fulgencio Batista outlawed the Communist party in Cuba.

Thieves Take Tools, Money

Vandals broke into two business establishments Friday night, taking $200 in tools and money.

Two trucks were unlocked and ransacked at the J. D. Wright Trucking Co. The thieves took a tool box valued at $150 and a hydraulic jack worth $50.

At McCloskey Service Station vandals stole the mechanism of a soft drink box, and took $2.75 in coins from it.

Meg To Be Less In Public Light Now

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Like any other honeymooning couple, Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones were up in the clouds Saturday—but they will have to come down to learn that their wedding Friday was something of a swan song. Margaret will figure less in royal life from now on.

The sister of Queen Elizabeth and her commoner husband were enjoying their $2,800-a-day honeymoon aboard the royal yacht Britannia. The ship ran into a sea mist that cut visibility but the sun later came out.

A low flying plane reported Margaret and Tony found their deck chairs a bit too chilly and went back to their suite after a few moments.

But they were only 100 miles or so off the coast of Britain and in a few days they will begin to hit the warmer weather of the Caribbean where they plan to spend three of four weeks cruising about the islands the Princess loves so well.

Home in London, as the wedding decorations began to come down, everybody was too busy wishing the newlyweds well to engage in so churlish an activity as speculating on what the future holds for Margaret and the slender man who used to take her pictures as the royal family's photographer.

Next week, however, the House of Commons meets again and leftwing Laborites are expected to renew their charges that the $70,000 spent for the wedding at Westminster Abbey and the $12,000 spent for the honeymoon hits

Presence At Crime Scene Admitted

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI) — A detective testified today college student Jon Mattox said he was accused of killing an attractive socialite "because I was there."

Detective Lewis Harper said Mattox told officers after his arrest, "I'm not the only one who could have committed this crime."

"I asked him why is the finger being pointed at you," Harper testified.

He quoted Mattox as replying, "I'll tell you why—because I was there."

However, Harper said Mattox had denied being in the garage where the victim's body was found.

A blue sports shirt previously had been the state's chief evidence in the murder trial.

Mattox, a physics major at Mississippi State University, was on trial for his life in the garrotting of Mrs. Gene Cain Tate, 31, a prominent social leader and former high school beauty queen. State prosecutors expected to close their case against him today.

The blonde Mrs. Tate, mother of four, was found in the garage of her fashionable home Jan. 31. A scarf and a coat hanger had been twisted so tightly around her neck that her husband said it took two men to remove them. Police found seven blue cotton fibers on her clothing.

Khrush Says Captured U.S. Pilot Admits Spy Charge

U.S. Explanations Mocked As 'Clumsy Fabrications'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita S. Khrushchev said Saturday an American pilot shot down Sunday is alive and has confessed he was spying on guided missile bases 1,300 miles deep in the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Premier, ridiculing official American explanations as "rather clumsy fabrications," told cheering members of the Supreme Soviet Parliament that pilot Francis G. Powers, 30, of Albany, Ga., was a $2,500 a month agent of the U.S. intelligence agency and he recommended he be tried for espionage. The maximum penalty for spying in Russia is death.

Khrushchev said maps in the downed U-2 jet plane showed a path over the Ural Mountain area stretching across Russia from the Aral Sea to Murmansk. And that Powers' stow jet was brought down at Sverdlovsk.

(The Urals are believed to shelter much of Russia's nuclear and missile plants.)

(The United States said Powers, a civilian had taken off from a base in Turkey on a weather mapping mission and may have drifted into Russia because of an oxygen failure. Sverdlovsk is 1,300 miles from the Turkish frontier.)

Khrushchev denied Powers had fled from lack of oxygen and said he had withheld information on the pilot until Saturday to get the State Department to get on a limb with "explanations."

"The Americans have been caught red-handed," he said. "A poor preparation for the summit and for the President's (Eisenhower's) visit to the Soviet Union."

Khrushchev said the plane had not taken off from Turkey at all but from a base in Peshawar, Pakistan. He charged Powers has "flagrantly violated" Afghanistan's airspace as well as Russia's on the flight.

Khrushchev quoted the pilot as saying: "I had to take off from the aerodrome at Peshawar in Pakistan, to cross the state frontier of the U.S.S.R. and to fly across Soviet territory to the aerodrome at Bude, Norway. I had to fly over definite points in the U.S.S.R., and of them I remember Murmansk and Archange. During the flight over Soviet territory I had to switch some apparatus on and off over definite landmarks which were shown on a map. I think my flight over Soviet territory was intended for the collection of information on Soviet guided missiles and radar stations."

Khrushchev said the plane was over Russia for four hours and was under observation every minute of the time until the order was given to shoot it down.

The pilot bailed out from an altitude of five miles, he said, and was brought to Moscow where he is now.

It was the third day the United States was under attack before the 1,400-member Parliament meeting in the St. George Hall of the Kremlin.

Shouts of "disgrace, disgrace" rang through the hall as Khrushchev waved photographs of military installations and charged they were taken by cameras aboard the wrecked plane.

He said Powers bailed out after being shot down and landed safely to surrender, although he carried a "noiseless pistol," a dagger and a poisoned pin with which he was supposed to commit suicide if faced with capture.

Tear Gas Routs Korean Students

By CHARLES R. SMITH United Press International

SEOUL (UPI) — Republic of Korea Army troops fired two bursts of tear gas bombs Saturday to break up a sit-down demonstration of students in front of the Seoul City Hall.

A force of some 100 troops moved in to disperse about 100 demonstrators. The troops then advanced with bayonets lowered to break up a crowd of some 2,000 who had been watching the demonstration in City Hall Plaza.

One student was reported injured. The demonstrators were demanding the resignation of their high school principal, Kim Jun Joon, who they charged had been affiliated with the Liberal Party of former President Syngman Rhee.

The troops, armed with rifles and bayonets had rushed to the plaza from the adjoining Duksoo Palace, where they have been stationed since the declaration of martial law April 19.

The students dispersed as soon as the troops fired several tear gas bombs. The demonstrators soon regrouped and tried to rush again, only to be met with another burst of tear gas.

The Seoul demonstration followed a series of student protest actions in big Korean cities this week demanding the resignation of the National Assembly in the wake of bloody student uprising that forced the resignation of Rhee.

Identify Of Wreck Victim Still Sought

Highway Patrol officers believe the unidentified victim of Wednesday's car-truck wreck near Kingsmill is a native of New Jersey, and currently are attempting to find his parents in that state.

Patrolman Stanley Schneider said the victim, who is still in a semi-conscious state and in poor condition at Highland General Hospital, mumbled something about his father in Jersey City, N. J.

Schneider said he has asked the Amarillo Highway Patrol office to contact New Jersey authorities in an attempt to locate the parents.

"He seems to respond to the name 'Jack,'" Schneider said, "and from what we gather his last name is something like 'Forkner'."

The driver of the car, 22-year-old Kenneth Dale Gaston of Perryton, told officers he picked up the stranger when he saw him hitch-hiking on the highway.

Gaston is still in the hospital, but his condition is listed as good.

Gaston's 1957 automobile collided Wednesday night with a truck owned by Crowe-Guide Cement Co. of Amarillo about one mile east of Kingsmill.

CHECKING BEGINS — County Clerk Charlie Thut and District Clerk Helen Sprinkle could look forward to totting up a lot of figures in these ballot boxes when this picture was snapped last night following the closing of the polls here. Bozeman said he didn't believe the tower of the truck came in contact with the power line.

"It looked like it was about 12 or 14 inches from it when the arc started shooting," he said.

But power company men in an ad hoc incident place six inches long and about 10 feet out from the pole, where the tower struck it.

The electrical charge knocked the rain-soaked dirt from around the wheels on the left side of the truck and left the vehicle buried in fender-deep holes on that side.

It also interrupted electrical service in most of the Highland Homes addition.

Scout Troop Wins Honors

Boy Scout Troop 120 at St. Paul's Methodist Church won the buckskin award Saturday for compiling a perfect score in scouting skill competition at the spring camporee held at the Billy Davis ranch near Letors.

Competition was held in such events as first aid, signaling, map layout and water purification.

Troop 120 members participating in the event were Patrol leader John Thomas, Donald Hicks, Alan Richter, Alan Davis, Harlan Fesse and Jerry Davis. Conner B. Hicks escorted the group.

The Soviet Premier, absolving Eisenhower — said Powers made the flight "at the assignment of his superiors" and as a spy for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The State Department said, however, that "It has been established that in so far as the authorities in Washington are concerned there was no authorization" from here for any such flight.

"Nevertheless," the U.S. statement said, "it appears that in endeavoring to obtain information now concealed behind the Iron Curtain, a flight over Soviet territory was probably undertaken by an unarmed civilian U-2 plane."

In making this admission — the first U.S. acknowledgment that observation flights along the Turkish-Soviet border and similar areas had intelligence as well as weather-surveys "purposes" behind them — the statement said:

"It is certainly no secret that given the state of the world, intelligence collection activities are practiced by all countries and post-war history certainly reveals that the Soviet Union has not been lagging in this field."

The United States said such activities are made more necessary "by the excessive secrecy practiced by the Soviet Union in contrast to the free world."

The statement gave no hint as to what kind of information the U-2 was trying to get.

The state department announced, without answering the question whether the U-2 had aboard it spy-type aerial reconnaissance equipment of the type alleged by Khrushchev.

It also left the impression that the report furnished the State department and the White House two days ago by NASA was not entirely accurate.

Officials here appeared to be in the dark regarding any further details and they were not speculating for publication.

Earlier high officials had said the United States would demand a chance to talk to Powers.

Wheeler, Hemphill, Roberts Vote Total

By BOB DUNBAR Daily News Staff Writer

An estimated 3,500 voters went to the polls Saturday in the Democratic primary races in Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts counties and followed the statewide trend which gave Gov. Price Daniel his nearly 55 per cent plurality over opponent Jack Cox.

Daniel polled 1,248 votes to Cox's 589 in Wheeler, 630 to 389 in Hemphill and 217 to 141 in Roberts.

Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey was favored by the voters of Miami and Hemphill counties but got edged out in Roberts County by an 890-840 margin for his opponent Don Yarborough.

Attorney General Will Wilson also failed to land the majority in all three counties. He took 1,181 to 1,442 to 822 to 589 to 441.

Three other county offices were up for re-election but the incumbents were unopposed in their bids. They were Tax Assessor and Collector Thurman Rives, County Attorney Guy Hardin, and County Democratic Chairman A. B. Crump.

Wheeler County voters went against the incumbent again in the state race as they did in the lieutenant governor contest when they polled 619 votes for Sadler to Allcorn's 679 in the Land Commissioner voting.

Calvert was their choice for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court with a 890-899 decision over Hughes.

Comptroller Calvert swamped his opponent Ramsey in an 1,141 to 405 landslide.

Davidson had an easier time in Wheeler County in his bid for reelection to the Court of Criminal Appeals than he did in Roberts County as he polled 562 votes to McDonald's 418.

Rogers piled up a 1,516 to 205 rout of Glover in the Congressional race while Owens polled 839 to Denton's 532 for the Civil Appeals court bench.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson tallied 1,595 votes in Wheeler County, as he made his bid for re-election unopposed. No totals were available from Roberts and Hemphill Counties for Johnson.

Roberts County followed the pattern in the state-wide voting by giving Rogers a 292-65 edge over Glover.

Owens defeated Denton in Roberts County for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 126-143.

Wilson got the nod here for Attorney General with a tight 165-153 win over Carr.

doubt." They were the races for land commissioner and criminal appeals judge.

State Rep. Jerry Sadler, a tobacco-chewing East Texan from Percilla, held a lead over incumbent Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn of Brownwood. Sadler had 187,372 votes to 176,097 for Allcorn.

Judge Lloyd W. Davidson of the Court of Criminal Appeals took the lead in his race over District Judge W. T. McDonald, 48, of Bryan, and Jim D. Bowmer of Temple.

Davidson, who has been criticized for remanding cases to lower courts on "technicalities," had 123,547 votes to 123,716 for McDonald and 92,662 for Bowmer.

Robert S. Calvert had 244,053 votes to 112,354 for V. L. (Bo) Ramsey of Beckville in the race for state comptroller, and Robert W. Calvert was beating Robert G. Hughes, 230,018 to 132,764 for chief justice of the supreme court.

Wilson, in his campaign, stressed his fight against "loan shark" operations, outlawing naturopaths and cracking down on gambling and other illegal activities on Galveston Island.

CANDIDATES

Picked Jerry Sadler of Anderson County over Bill Allcorn, 2,871 to 1,749, for commissioner of the General Land Office.

Voters in the area followed the trend, however, in choosing Ben Ramsey (2,872) over young Don Yarborough (2,171) for lieutenant governor.

In a resounding vote of confidence, which Democrats hope will win him the presidential nomination, area Democrats gave Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson 5,225 votes, assuring him at least of another term in the Senate.

Other races:

Chief Justice State Supreme Court — Robert W. Calvert, 3,123; Robert G. Hughes, 1,503.

Associate Justice Supreme Court, Place 1 — Clyde E. Smith, 3,314 (unopposed).

Butler Calls Civil Rights 'Greatest Moral Problem'

ATLANTA (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, almost on the eve of his retirement, delivered a Deep South plea Saturday for the nation to find an answer to the civil rights issue which he called the greatest moral problem of this age.

Butler's Republican counterpart, Sen. Thurston B. Morton, told a gathering of the nation's weekly and small daily editors that Vice President Richard Nixon is the nation's best hope of carrying out the "sound" domestic and international policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Speaking from the same platform at the closing session of the National Editorial Assn. convention, Butler said the two great issues in this election year are "sorting fiction from fact" — which he said is the job of the press — and moving ahead on the job of providing "the same natural personal rights" for all people.

Morton struck at Democratic charges that the nation is weak militarily as a political trick designed to create a "wave of fear." The GOP chairman, answering accusations that the Eisenhower administration is weak on foreign policy, said it had actually been so firm that there was no chance of a potential enemy "miscalculating" where the U. S. stands.

Morton said miscalculation had been responsible for two world wars and the Korean war.

Now, ten years later the predictions of the NEA and the rest of the tax-spend-elect educationalist group are shown up as pretty flimsy arguments. Eugene F. Rinta, director of research for the Council, was moved to comment: "Noting that the House refused to be pressured into enactment of a general school construction measure during the mid-1950's when 'great alarms' were sounded, it is incomprehensible that the House should enact such a measure now when the classroom problem facing the states and their school districts is not nearly as great as it was then."

Our own point of view, which is well known, relates to the immorality of forcing people to provide classrooms by the powers of government. We are, of course, strongly in favor of adequate classrooms for students attending school. We simply wish to see the abolition of coercion in the educational picture. We don't like violence applied to raise money for schools nor to force children into schools.

CURRAN TO DEFEY AFL-CIO BAN TO ACCEPT SOVIET WORKERS' INVITATION WASHINGTON - The AFL-CIO Executive Council is confronted with a head-on challenge of its long-standing policy against U.S. labor leaders making official visits to Russia.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council is confronted with a head-on challenge of its long-standing policy against U.S. labor leaders making official visits to Russia. That's what is contemplated by Joseph Curran, head of the 40,000-member National Maritime Union, vice president of the AFL-CIO, and an Executive Council member.

In the past several years, the Kremlin has repeatedly sought to overcome this opposition. A number of invitations have been extended to labor leaders and organizations - all to no avail.

LABOR FLASHES - Both Republican and Democratic leaders of the House say a bill will be passed raising the $1-an-hour minimum wage, but apparently they still have quite a way ahead of them getting such a measure out of committee.

Never one to go back on an old friend, I asked the executives at the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus in Madison Square Garden if they had any act to compare with the Cuneo act in the matter of unpredictable jungle dynamics.

LABOR FLASHES - Both Republican and Democratic leaders of the House say a bill will be passed raising the $1-an-hour minimum wage, but apparently they still have quite a way ahead of them getting such a measure out of committee.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK - Within another 24 hours, New York will have three circuses at its beck and call which proves, among other things, that we are a glutinous set of island dwellers who never know when to leave a good thing alone.

John Cuneo Jr. is the son of the family that owns the Cuneo Press in Chicago. Twenty years ago he was a sick little boy and they sent him out to Arizona to pick up some health. He found the ranch swarming with unemployed goats, so he gave them a job-learning how to do things in a union.

He assumed that in time he would be active in management at Cuneo Press, so when he was old enough he went to Georgetown University and studied business administration.

It would be easy to say that an heir to a printing fortune, with no more to do than get in there and learn the family business, probably turned to taming and training mutually murderous species "because they are there."

Fair Enough

Succinct Answer To A Long Letter

This effort will consist of a clear, strong statement by an intelligent union operator of heavy machinery who is a member of one of the worst racket unions in the entire roster, and my reply based on many years of diligent inquiry.

"I suspect you of being in the pay of heavy industry such as steel, oil and coal," he begins. "I am a happy member of the Operating Engineers and have been for years. I paid $100 initiation and I pay $8 a month dues. I know there are corrupt, crooked men as well as a lot of good men as leaders in the unions but that doesn't scare me half as much as what is on the other side."

"Now I'll tell you what made me a happy union member in 38 was a non-union cat-killer, a heavy equipment operator. A firm of contractors got a contract on the Black Canyon of the Red."

ANKARA - Turkish opposition leader Ismet Inonu stating he still wants to see the government by legal means. "Such means are becoming less and less effective, but we are not going to give up."

WASHINGTON - Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) on what he thinks would happen if the Republican-opposed bill to aid distressed areas if President Eisenhower should make a personal tour of such areas. "I am confident that with such information and with his warm heart he cannot fail to see the importance of signing this measure into law."

ELY, Nev. - Interior Secretary Fred Seaton hinting that he might be willing to run for the vice presidency even though he is not a candidate. "Anyone in his right mind would never turn it down if he were."

Stamp Collector Reforms A Club

By LEE GRIMSLEY
Daily News Staff Writer

January, 16-year-old Gary decided Pampa needed a stamp collectors like him, so he formed one — or revived one is a better club here, but it ceased to function. Then Gary hit upon his idea, and now there is a thriving young club composed of 21 collectors.

Not all of the members are Gary's age. Some are younger, and some, like Mrs. O. H. Booth, who is 83, are older.

The first official meeting of the club was Feb. 14. Now it meets the second and fourth Sunday of each month in the cafeteria of St. Vincent's parochial school.

"Our meetings usually consist of regular parliamentary order," says Vince Johnson, 16-year-old secretary of the group.

"We discuss old and new business, and talk about things we'd like to do. Then the members can trade stamps if they want to."

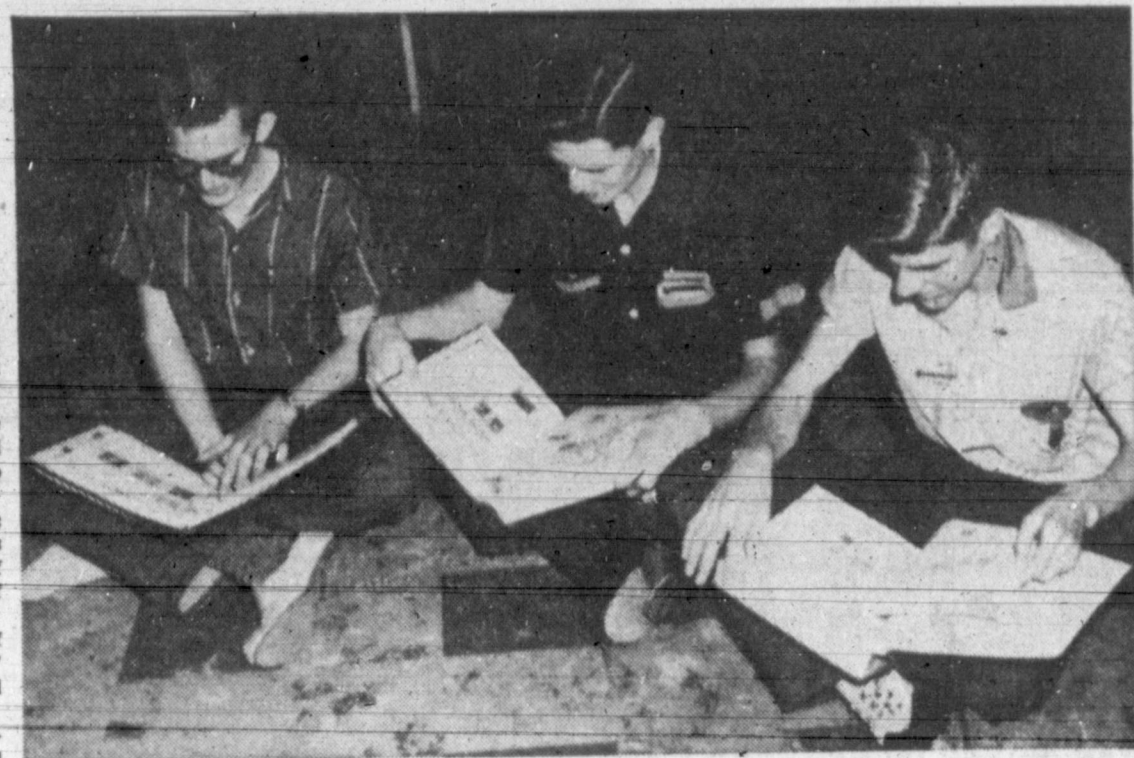

"We have an association with the Golden Spread Club in Amarillo," Vince said, "but so far we haven't done any trading with them. I don't guess we've progressed that far yet."

Vince might be considered a typical stamp collector. He has a few valuable stamps, but if he sold them it wouldn't put him in the upper income tax bracket.

"I have one envelope cover with the six-cent air mail stamp they used during the war printed on it," Vince said, "and it's worth $7.50."

"I have a stamped envelope (a two-cent Washington stamp) that I think is worth about $20. It's hard to track down the value of them in a catalog though."

for five years, although he "quit for a little while during that time."

Club President, Walter F. G. Stein plans to take the club to the Canadian Hobby Show today to look at the stamp collections on display there.

"Maybe we'll even find some to buy or trade for," he said.

W. Va. Vote May Decide Faith Issue

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia Democrats vote Tuesday in a presidential primary which may go far toward settling the question of whether a Catholic can be elected to the White House.

The Catholic involved is 42-year-old Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, still the man to beat for the Democratic presidential nomination, who is matched against Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota who is 48.

The vote probably will be the most important test of the so-called religious issue in advance of the Democratic National Convention, although the state's 25-vote delegation will not be bound by the result.

West Virginia is 95 per cent Protestant and contains Bible Belt pockets of fundamentalist prejudice against Catholicism.

The candidates have conducted vigorous, personalized campaigns for a month and have revealed little difference of opinion about major issues. Both the wealthy nation of Massachusetts and the presented by the University of Texas.

A social hour at 6:30 p.m. will precede the dinner at 7:30 and business session to follow.

The principal speaker will be W. S. Pickrell, special petroleum representative of International Business Machines. His topic will be "The Application of Computers to Exploration and Production Engineering."

Reservations may be secured by calling E. M. McGuire, Cities Service Oil, in Pampa.

Born in Comanche County, he was honor graduate from the Bronte high school. He also completed a course in gas representation.

Morse's Entry Clouds The Picture

Runner-Up In Oregon Will Be Real Winner

By BRUCE BIVISAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PORTLAND, Ore. (NEA) — The May 30 Oregon primary, a test often decisive in the past, this time offers odd contradictions which may largely rob it of value in the 1960 presidential race.

Intended by its framers as a free-for-all among all legitimate candidates, the primary shapes up as almost exactly the reverse. Nearly every real candidate is entered. But, on the Democratic side, so is Oregon's controversial Sen. Wayne Morse. As "favorite son," he is expected to win, and thus relegate the top Democrats to secondary roles.

These include Sens. Stuart Symington, John F. Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Yet while Morse, the remote prospect, is present to blur the lines, one genuine darkhorse Oregonian would like very much to see on the ballot isn't there. He refused entry.

The name: Adlai Stevenson. He won this primary in 1956. Some think Oregon his greatest single reservoir of continuing strength. Said one political figure:

SEN. WAYNE MORSE quit the Republican Party in 1952 to support Adlai Stevenson, but in the 1960 Oregon primary Morse is running as a favorite son and Stevenson isn't entered.

Thought Should Be Given To Task Before Painting House

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The improvement in the weather brings out the painting skill of most homeowners — some through desire, but most through necessity.

Painting the outside of a house is a chore no matter how you look at it, however. Using the right paint on the right material can go a long way in widening the span between paint jobs.

As yet there is no such thing as an all-purpose paint which will perform equally well on all surfaces.

One of the most important things to know about paint selection is that it pays to buy quality paint, since the largest item in the cost of painting is not the price of the paint but the cost of labor, either your own or that of a hired painter.

For the convenience of the do-it-yourself painter, the national paint, varnish and lacquer association has prepared a guide to paint selection:

Wood Siding — Here we have a wide choice. First there's the conventional oil-based house paint; one or two coats.

Then there is the all-modified flat-finish alkyl-based house paint, which is similar to the above but preferred for deeper colors.

And now there also is water-thinned house paint which is being widely introduced this year. This paint requires a special primer, and directions must be followed to the letter. It is highly blister resistant and dries in 30 to 60 minutes.

Masonry — Paints for masonry must be resistant to alkali present in concrete, mortar and asbestos-cement. The association recommends exterior water-thinned paints; solvent-thinned masonry paints; portland-cement paints (over the concrete only); and colorless, protective silicone-based coatings.

Iron and Steel — Bare metal must be primed with a rust-inhibitive primer, and the top coat can be any exterior paint. Should be primed with zinc chromate before the top coat is applied.

Asphalt shingles and siding — Exterior water-thinned paint through which asphalt will not bleed is best. Latex can be used as a primer.

Screens — It can be an easy job by using screen enamels which are thin and won't clog openings.

Wood shingles — If house paint is desired seal first with a knot sealer or exterior aluminum paint to prevent shingles stain from bleeding through.

Porches and Patios — Porch and deck enamels are the favorites.

New Type Transmission Is Hailed

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor
DETROIT (UPI) — U.S. motorists may get the benefits of an American inventor's genius in the next few years because a British car manufacturer has made a success of it.

Although the electromagnetic transmission originally was conceived by Jacob Radinow of the United States Bureau of Standards, it has been largely ignored by American car makers until recently.

It might have gone on in obscurity except for the fact the British company, Smiths Motor Accessories, Ltd., developed it and put it into production for the Hillman Minx, which is now being imported into this country.

Now Eastern Manufacturing Co., which patented Radinow's idea after developing it, has convinced some American auto makers they should look into the possibilities of using the electromagnetic transmission on American compact cars.

It has been installed on a number of U.S. cars on an experimental basis. The experimental version being tested by American car makers is simpler than the one on the Hillman Minx but it is still expected to take at least two years to work out an acceptable version.

Clifford S. Steadman, general manager of the English firm which makes the electromagnetic transmissions for the Hillman Minx told Automotive News recently that this type of transmission wasn't practical for engines with displacement greater than 2½ liters — 150 to 160 cubic inches. This would limit it to compact cars in the United States.

Steadman said the electromagnetic transmission was impractical for larger engines because manufacturing costs and the size of the transmission mount faster than its output. Just the opposite is true of the fluid couplings and torque converters used in automatic transmissions in American-made cars today.

The transmission is filled with a magnetic powder which, when energized by electrical current, creates a bond between the power shaft of the transmission and the shaft which delivers power to the wheels of a car.

This solid bond eliminates the slippage found in all fluid transmissions, and the lack of slippage increases the efficiency of the transmission. It avoids wasted gasoline and makes it ideal for economy cars where gasoline economy is an important factor.

The electromagnetic transmission also eliminates the "creep" that is common to all cars with fluid transmissions.

Handicaps of the transmission include the use of different transmission for standard-sized cars and compact cars made by the same manufacturer. This would decrease volume in production and increase unit costs.

San Antonio Hilton Sold

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The Hilton Hotel in San Antonio has been sold for $3,700,000, a member of the hotel staff said Saturday.

The staff member, who was not identified, said the sale was revealed at a staff meeting Friday.

The name of the purchaser was not revealed at the meeting, the source said.

Tom Powell, the hotel manager, was in Galveston attending a convention.

The Hilton Corp. bought the 16-story 425-room hotel about four years ago from the Plaza Hotel Co. Hilton spent some two million dollars on remodeling and adding facilities.

One of the major additions was the Hilton Inn, a 50-room motel-type building, adjacent to the hotel in downtown San Antonio.

Before Morse's Entry, the Oregon Match Loomed as the Biggest Primary of the Year After Wisconsin

Then emphasis shifted to the May 10 West Virginia battle between Kennedy and Humphrey, neither finding much time for Oregon. The text here is further downgraded by the decision of Symington and Johnson to make no effort at all.

Most sources today put Kennedy second and Humphrey third. Both appear well organized, but Kennedy has more top Democrats with him and has canvassed Oregon more often in the past two years. A few even think Kennedy may press Morse hard.

On the surface Morse can't match either man for organization. The three Democratic congressmen oppose him. Other party men, annoyed at his bias at virtually every Democrat but Stevenson, offer him back to the Republicans, whence he came. There are no takers.

Morse nevertheless has a sizable hard core of followers working for him. Like an iceberg, they mostly don't show, but they're there. He also enjoys good labor backing, which some feel may help him more at the polls than the equally sound labor support behind Humphrey and Kennedy.

Morse is drawing big crowds, and in the past this has spelled votes for him. He even pulled 200 businessmen at a recent breakfast meeting. It was widely presumed they came to stare in fascination at their declared enemy.

If Morse does win, national attention then will focus on the runner-up and the size of his vote.

For, despite its multiple confusions, the Oregon primary seems to deserve a good look for one chief reason: it's the last contested primary in which to gauge the real contenders' vote potential before they crash head-on at the Los Angeles convention July 11.

Buying A House Need Not Be Costly With Know-How

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The home buyer who manages to surmount a couple of it's can purchase a brand new $15,000 house for as little as $600 down.

The catches are these: the buyer must find a lender who will agree to give him an FHA loan and to take the smallest down payment allowed under new, reduced FHA standards.

It's easier to get mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration that it was a few months ago. A rising volume of applications for FHA backing testifies to that.

But lots of lenders still shy away from that 3½ per cent maximum FHA interest rate. Despite the attraction of having their risk underwritten by Uncle Sam, they are tempted to put their funds into conventional home loans which pay a higher return.

The home buyer who does get a lender willing to make an FHA loan may find he wants more than the minimum down payment. That's one sign that money is tight enough for lenders to be choosy—and in most parts of the country such is the situation.

A few months ago the mortgage money supply was even tighter than it is now. That, FHA Commissioner Julian H.

Zimmerman said, was reason enough to hold off putting into effect a reduction in FHA down payments authorized by Congress in the summer of 1959.

A week ago, reporting the supply of FHA loans had increased and was likely to fatten still more in the next few months, Zimmerman put the new cash payment schedule into effect.

The new formula for computing the cash payment is this: 3 per cent of the first $13,500 of value, 10 per cent of the next $4,000, 30 per cent of everything above $18,000.

The effect of a lower initial payment is twofold. It means a family can buy a house sooner because it needs to save less for the down payment; it also means a bigger loan to pay off and heavier monthly payments for interest and amortization.

Argument Ends In Gunshot Death

HUDSON, Wis. (UPI) — A filed murder charge against a 22-year-old mother admitted killing her husband because he was impatient lunch.

Authorities said Mrs. Be Gengler, 22, of Rural Somers, Wis., shot her husband, Willis, to death with a 12-gauge shotgun Thursday after he complained his lunch wasn't ready and went out of their farmhouse.

Mrs. Gengler, the mother of a 2½-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, was held pending arraignment Monday.

Menderes Gave Us Bread, But Robbed Us Of Freedom

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ISTANBUL (NEA) — A grimaced student leader stamped out his cigarette and said bitterly: "Menderes gave us bread but he robbed us of our freedom."

As he spoke, students were counting their casualties in prisoners and wounded and ignoring to continue their fight against the repressive regime of Premier Adnan Menderes. An uneasy truce prevailed in this city whose bustling life is familiar to me from years of residence and many return visits.

The fabulous Golden Horn was again teeming with humanity and ferry boats were playing the narrow strait separating Europe from Asia — but one sensed the tension as tanks and armored cars roamed the streets and grim-faced soldiers, carrying clubs and rifles, continued patrolling.

Why did the students riot? Were Communists behind the demonstrations?

Student leaders with whom I talked said Turkey has waited too long for political reforms. They asserted that their aims were exactly like those of recent rioters in Egypt, Iran and South Korea — greater political freedom.

The Communist hand is hidden. And yet experts on Soviet tactics say it is more than coincidence that there are riots in Turkey when the NATO ministers are here for a meeting. Turkey is staunchly pro-West. With an army of half a million seasoned soldiers, it is the anchor of NATO defense in the Middle East. Russia would like nothing better than to alienate Turkey from NATO.

So, too, do NATO experts on

DEMONSTRATOR struggles with soldiers in Istanbul.

Red strategy regard the recent wave of swastika painting in Germany. They believe Nikita Khrushchev wants to point to Turkey and Germany and say:

"See, fascism is not dead. Are these your allies?" Western diplomats have no inclination to accept fear of communism as a valid reason for Premier Menderes' failure to institute reforms. His Democratic party was first elected to office in 1950 after Premier Ismet Inonu decided to abolish the dictatorship set up by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Turkey's liberator.

The Democrats were overwhelmingly reelected in 1957. During the past decade Turkey has achieved remarkable progress. There is still widespread poverty of a type unimaginable in the West, but there is a much greater abundance of consumer goods.

Inflation, a perpetual curse in underdeveloped countries, has been effectively curbed. When President Eisenhower visited Turkey last December he promised continuation of U.S. aid in the amount of 80 million dollars a year plus 40 million dollars in agricultural surpluses.

Menderes has promised to bring water to every village of arid Anatolia.

However, while there has been economic progress, political progress remains at a dead point. The anti-government riots in Istanbul and Ankara, the capital, are regarded even by Turkey's staunchest friends as justifiable in view of the curbs placed upon freedom of press and assembly. Menderes insists these were necessary to stamp out subversion by Inonu's Republicans.

NATO diplomats are hopeful Menderes will recognize the validity of complaints against his regime and even call for new elections. These are now scheduled to be held in 1961. But elections alone would fail to satisfy critics of the regime.

One opposition leader told me nothing would suffice except for Menderes to:

Abolish all restrictive decrees. Take effective measures to protect freedom of speech and assembly.

Prevent harassment of Republican opponents of the government party.

On The Farm Front

Ag Reports Are Costly To Prepare

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Crop Reporting Board puts out dozens of reports every year on practically every segment of American agriculture.

The big attention-getting reports are those on crop and livestock production and farm prices. The information contained therein is costly to gather, tedious to compile. When reduced to overall statistics, it is regarded as sound and unbiased fact without which the entire industry concerned in producing and marketing food and fiber would be thrown into chaos.

Yet it seems that the American farmer produces plenty of food and fiber—more of some things than are really needed. So, why does the government maintain the crop reporting board? Why not just tell everyone that there is plenty of everything and let it go at that.

Sterling R. Newell, long-time chairman of the board, knows the ins and outs of crop reporting probably better than any other person. Here is his answer to such questions:

"If we would just keep our big mouths shut," Newell said, "no one would know whether we produce half a billion or a billion bushels of wheat, 2 or 4 billion bushels of corn, whether we have $30 million or $100 million head of livestock, and so on and so on."

"If we would stop the price reports, no one would know whether farm prices were up or down—and, of course, no one would know the average cost of fertilizer, tractor, or binder twine, or harness, or grain cradle."

"Yes sir, if we just quit making reports, we could go back to the 'good old days'—say, around 1830 when no one knew what was going on anywhere except right close to home. If there was a big crop locally, everyone could keep real quiet and let on that there was not so much available; but if there was a short supply, they could shout it from the rooftops. We could go back to that nice homey situation where every one could 'shoot the market' to suit himself."

"Oh, sure some rumors and bits of information would filter through from the outside. No one would pay any attention to that, though, because they would have long since learned that that sort of information was biased, either on purpose or because the person didn't have broad enough information to cover the real situation. When the hogs, or apples, or potatoes were ready to go, a farmer could very easily call up the railroad or the trucking firm and ask for a couple of cars, or a truck or so.

Maybe it would take two or three days, or a week or more to get it, and in the meantime some things would spoil and some feed would be wasted. But naturally the farmer wouldn't complain too much. And then the handlers, the processors, and all those people who are responsible for getting the supplies to the market would have a time. Naturally, their costs would go up, because they would have to try to find out something about the whole supply situation.

"As a result, your favorite market might run out of things, but your wife would just love to chase around the countryside or drive to the next town to do her shopping."

"Yes, if there were no crop and livestock reporting service, everyone could 'shoot the market' as the saying goes, and I am sure it would be shot deader than a salt mackerel."

"But aside from the market, how would anyone be able to appraise the real situation or arrive at a sound policy for agriculture, which with all its ramifications is our biggest and most fundamental business?"

Bullets Removed From Verwoerd

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI)—Doctors successfully removed two bullets from Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's head Saturday, a month after an attempt on his life.
Doctors said the condition of the 58-year-old Verwoerd was satisfactory.
A wealthy farmer, David Pratt, allegedly fired two shots at the prime minister April 9 shortly after he finished making a speech as part of the union's 50th anniversary celebrations.

But if there is a late movie can and the guitar and bodger sessions continue — past midnight — Ricky's stand-in takes over until the final whistle.
Off the set, the stand-in functions as a sort of linesman for Cameron in the backfield.
It is said, however, that a call to Cameron will bring him rushing back into the fray in case of such emergencies as loss of ground via new and deceptive plays, illegal holding, backfield in motion or encroaching.
Leaving the Nelson manse for DAVID's apartment apparently has Ozlie and Harriet's approval since Ricky moved in when David moved out for two months service in Texas with the Air Force National Guard. When David returns the story is that the lads will then share the apartment.
I assume this is all wrapped up with "Young Emotions," which just happens to be the title of Ricky's current song-hit.
"The Wackiest Ship" is Ricky's first movie since last year's "Rio Bravo" in which he helped John Wayne clear up a town. Now he's helping Jack Lammon win World War II in the Pacific and it's his biggest role to date.
The script gives him more words, I'd guess, than he's said in six years. On and OFF screen.
Ricky leaving the teen-age ranks May 8 apparently has not caused a big policy meeting of his career guides. No one has been able to detect any worry lines on the lad's face about moving into the "old bracket."
Wasting no words, as usual, he's SMILING the far from earth-shaking opinion:
"I don't think I'll feel any different."
Well, maybe that's at least a fan magazine headline.

Maureen Enjoys Mother Role: Big Things Coming For Keefe

NEW YORK (NEA) — Trying to be both an actress and a mother when you're divorced is tough, Maureen Stapleton admits, but she's managing.

We were sitting in the homey living room of her West Side apartment. The conversation was about her career, which has lately blossomed. She was saying how she wanted to be an actress from the time she was seven, how she worked for a year after high school in Troy, N. Y., and asked $100 with which she invaded New York. It didn't last long.

At that point, her 9½-year-old son, Danny, came home from school. He h o o k - h a n d s all around, carefully selected two model airplanes from a shelf and scooted upstairs.
"I'd been telling my parents all along I was going to act," said Maureen, returning to her theme. "At first, they didn't take me seriously. But, like water wearing down a rock, I gradually got them used to the idea."

This was the cue for 5½-year-old Kathy to enter. She was carrying a paper sack in which were some kindergarten drawings and a soggy dress. She presented mother with a note from the teacher, explaining that she'd spilled milk on her dress, and was wearing a pair of borrowed blue jeans.

Exit Kathy.
Maureen gazed up the stairs fondly, listening to the sounds of the children playing.

"Lately," she went on, "I've begun to wonder if it's all so important as I used to think. Did I really want to act so badly, or was it stubbornness—I'm very stubborn. I'm not thinking of retiring, but neither am I looking for another play after "Toys in the Attic."

Down the stairs came Danny and Kathy. The little girl was now in a cowgirl suit; she quizzed a coloring book and a cigar-box full of crayons and sprawled on the floor and colored. Danny threw a black shawl around his shoulders and made like Dracula.

"It used to be," Maureen went on, "that between shows I'd get restless. No more. The only problem is—I can't afford not to work. I'm being careful now, but I wasn't before. Last year, my best financial year, I went wild—I bought a mink coat. But I learned my lesson."

And so it went in Maureen Stapleton's living room—the actress and mother, existing together, and the mother seemed to be the dominant figure.

post. She learned so much that during the press conference at which her appointment was announced, she was able to answer questions that the doctors in attendance couldn't — such as how long the disease has been known. (A cousin of Queen Victoria's, Shirley said, was the first-known patient.)

Although CBS' "Be Our Guest" is soon to fold, it has served as a fine showcase for Keefe Braselle, and definitely means bigger things are coming for him.

The story of how he got the assignment is a wild one. Braselle was on a train for New York from Los Angeles when George De Witt and the show parted company. He knew nothing about it.

When he arrived in his New York apartment, there was no word CBS had been frantically hunting him—the phone had been disconnected.

Harvesters Shaping Up

The Pampa Harvesters start their second week of spring football drills tomorrow as Coach Babe Curfman gets a line on the material he will have on hand to face a tough 10-game schedule in the fall.

The pre-practice starting offensive eleven chosen tentatively by the coaching staff appears to be a sound choice judging by performances in the first week.

The interior line built around Center Duke Garren, while not as strong as the coaches would like, it moves well and should match humps with the best in the district.

Captain Charley Giese is anchored at the shortside guard slot while Bryan Speck will handle the chores of the strongside tackle and end.

DUKE GARREN

Stephens Top QB

ROY DON STEPHENS

In the backfield, Roy Don Stephens, very clearly is the top candidate for the signal calling spot. The slightly built senior throws well rolling out in either direction whether his target is a hooking end or a deep man.

Butch Crossland, the number two candidate for the quarterback berth, is younger than Stephens but lacks his passing finesse and ball handling poise.

Crossland will see plenty of action this fall, however, as a defensive halfback. He will team up with Stephens at the twin-safety slots in the Harvesters' 5-4-2 defense.

Stephens, incidentally, was one of two casualties of the opening week drills. He came up with a strained back muscle and worked out without pads the last two days. Curfman said the injury was nothing serious and Stephens should be back in full gear tomorrow.

The other casualty was Jimmy Boyles, first string strongside end, who suffered a broken nose. Actually, the honker was injured last season in a scrimmage session but Boyles complained that it was bothering him last week. X-Rays revealed the break and Jim has been ordered to sit out the drills until it mends. He is expected to be ready for action in the Future-Exes game.

Steve Dobbins appears to have nailed down the fullback slot as Terry Joe Haralson's replacement but he could find himself pressed hard by a real tough little sophomore.

Mills A Real Prospect

One of the pleasant surprises of the week's action has been Dennis Mills, a hard-nosed youngster built along the lines of a fireplug. He stands 5 ft 5 inches and weighs 150.

The hustling fullback has made it clear to the coaching staff that he came to play football. His desire and spirit, along with a good deal of natural ability, are the kind of things that make coaches think it's all worth while.

The breakaway back, if there is to be one, will have to be Sheriff Miller.

Stout Lends A Hand

Benny Stout, the Harvesters' All-State tackle in 1959, has been assisting the staff and working himself into shape for the Future-Exes battle May 20 under the lights at Harvester Stadium.

Bubba Hill, coach of the Exes, is scouting the varsity and appears pretty confident that his gang can rack up the Future Harvesters.

Benny found out Thursday that coaching isn't all whistle-blowing. At the end of the season the job of hauling the bulky blocking dummies to the equipment shack is left to the coaches when the players scatter for the showers.

Line coach Dwain Lyon recruited Stout to lug one of the dummies with the observation that he may as well find out now that coaching involves work.

Pampa Junior-High assistant Roy Eller has moved up to help the varsity since it appears the Resapers are not going to field a 9th grade team this year.

Darrell Henson and the Windsor team had luck turn against them. Henson struck out 14 and hurled a six-hitter, but still dropped a 4-3 decision to Dixie.

Kiesse struck for a pair of runs in the first and third frames in stopping Hoover-Johnson, the winning pitcher, aided his own cause by blasting out a single and double.

Roy Harper was the big gun for the victorious Dixie team, collecting three hits in four trips to the plate.

The line scores:
Kiesse 202 000 — 4 8 0
Hoover 000 002 — 2 4 0
WP — Johnson; LP — Holmes.
Dixie 101 011 — 4 6 1
Windsor 000 003 — 3 6 2
WP — Everson; LP — Henson.

Venetian Way's Stretch Run Earns Derby Win

Tompion Big Flop; Bally Ache Second

By RAY AYRES
United Press International

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Venetian Way, plagued by injury and sickness throughout most of his career, unleashed a powerful run on the turn in the homestretch Saturday and blasted his way through the straightaway to a four length victory in the Kentucky Derby.

With jockey Bill Hartack in the saddle, Venetian Way swept past Edgemoor Farm's Bally Ache as the field of 13 of America's best three-year-olds circled the big band in the first of the Triple Crown classics.

A desperate Bobby Ussery, the jockey on Bally Ache who had gone to the front at the start, lashed his mount severely. But Bally Ache just didn't have the stuff to stay with the winner.

Bally Ache, whose vaunted front-running speed earlier in the year had carried him to victory in the Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby, easily was best of the others for there was a gap of eight lengths back to Windrift Farm's Victoria Park, the third horse.

Then came C. V. Whitney's Tompion, the favorite of this crowd estimated at about 75,000. Tompion's failure made it the 11th time Whitney has tried to win the Derby but failed.

This was the fourth time Hartack has ridden in the Kentucky Derby and his second victory. He won with Calumet Farm's Iron Lies in 1957.

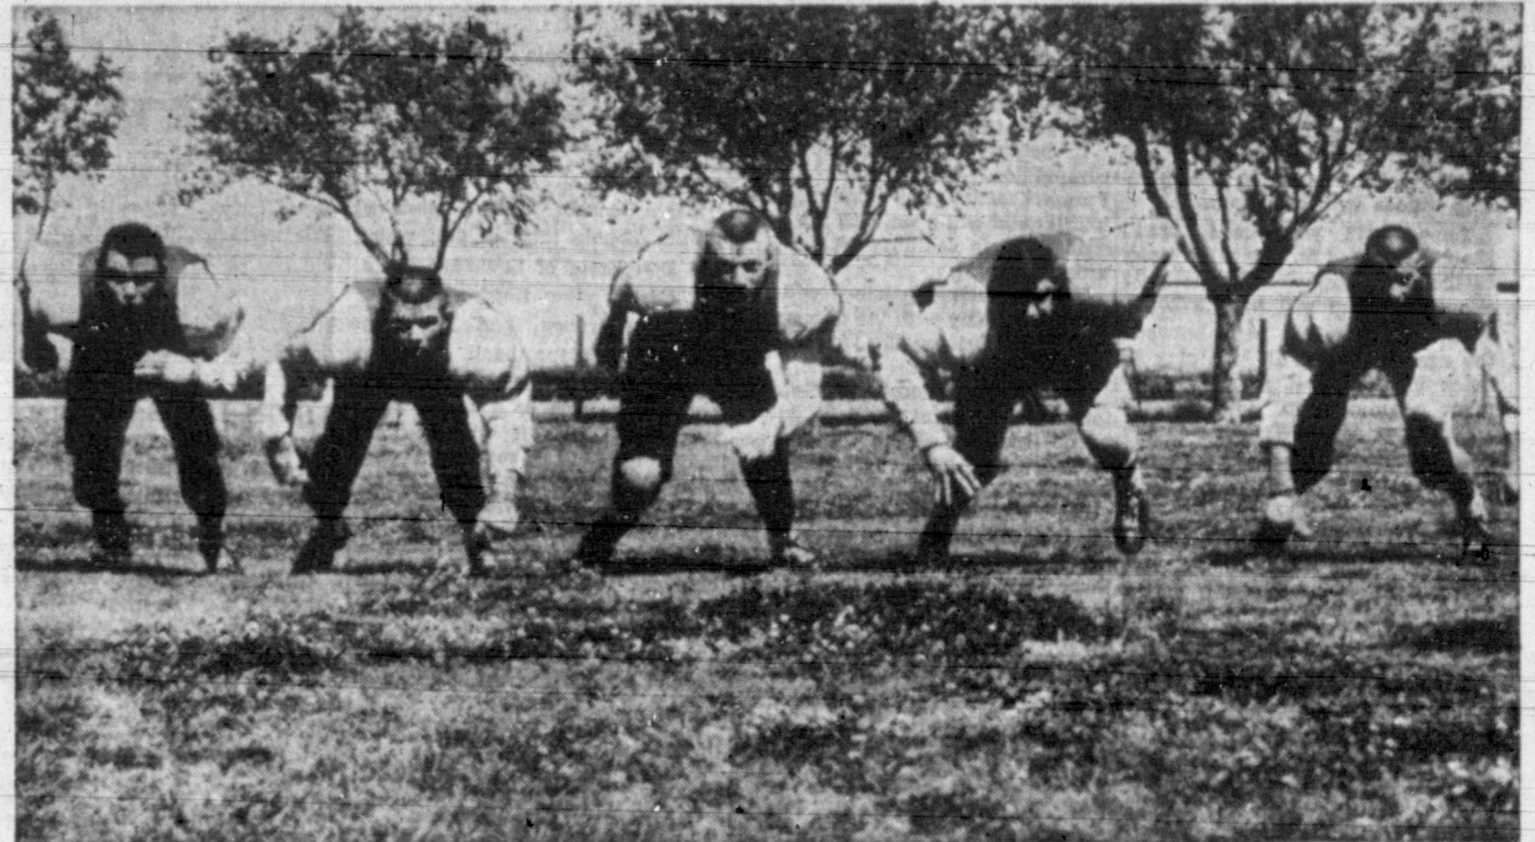

For owner Isaac Blumberg, master of the Sunny Blue Farm, it was the first victory in the one race thoroughbred owners would rather win above all others. He had another start in the rostrum two years ago when his Lincoln Road finished second to Tim Tam. But Blumberg was ill at that time and did not see his horse beaten.

He was on hand Saturday to see one of the great closing runs in Kentucky Derby history. For when Venetian Way started to run you almost could feel the power of his drive.

That drive carried him across the finish line in 2:02 2-3 — 1-5 second slower than the record of 2:01 2-5 set by Whirlaway in 1951 — but it still ranked as one of the fastest of the Kentucky Derbies and was turned in on a track labeled "good" after heavy showers Friday night.

Venetian Way, who has suffered everything from bucked shins to bloodworms, was third choice behind Tompion and Bally Ache in the betting and he paid $14.60, $4.60 and $3.10 across the board.

Bally Ache, who had everything going his way throughout the week with one good break after another, paid $3.00 and $3.00, the same to place and show. Victoria Park returned $5.00.

WRECKING CREW — That's what head coach Babe Curfman hopes these five husky linemen will be when 1960 Pampa High School football season gets underway. Currently leading candidates in Coach Dwain Lyon's forward wall are: (from l to r) Jimmy Storms, end; Charley Giese, captain and guard; Duke Garren, center;

Bryan Speck, strongside guard; and Jim Webb, strongside tackle. The other tackle, known as the strongside end, Jim Boyles, wasn't suited up for the drills when the picture was taken because of a broken nose. The seventh line position, wide end (similar to Army's lonesome end) will be handled by Roy Dyer. (Daily News Photo)

Barber Leading In Las Vegas Golf

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Wee Jerry Barber, complete master of the greens for the third day in a row, topped his lead in the $45,000 Tournament of Champions to two strokes Saturday as he posted a 54 hole total of 201.

Locked in a tense duel with Jay Hebert coming down the home at 69 for his lead. The bespectacled little shotmaker from Los Angeles, who seldom Hebert finally fell back with a double bogey six on the last hole after hitting his tee shot in the water.

That left Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., in second place with a 203 after a brilliant round of 68. Hebert had 204 with a 68.

Barber had his second straight 66 to go with an opening round of 69.

Behind the leaders came National Open Champion Billy Casper, who also had a 68 for a 206, and Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., who looked like he might catch the leader for a while, but faded to a 70 for 206, Venturi, at one time on the back stretch, birdied four out of five holes.

Third round results in the $45,000 Tournament of Champions:

Barber's balanced team completed 81 points to repeat as AAAA champion, while Iowa Park won Class A with 96 points and Bangs dethroned Wink in Class B with 83 points. They joined Andrews, also a repeater, in Class AAA and Bowie in AA as team titlists. The latter two won their crowns Friday night.

Rhodes' record broke a mark of 1:55.4 first set by R. L. Bush of Dallas Sunset in 1933 and equalled two years ago by Dick Menchaca of San Antonio Lanier. The Abilene ace has been clocked as low as 1:52.9 this season.

Guynes has been consistently above 13-6 in the pole vault this season, and the Grand Prairie senior easily topped the old state standard of 13-5 1-2 set by Fred Hansen of Cleuro last year.

Trailing Abilene in the AAAA team race were Blytown with 45 1-2 points, Midland with 42 and Dallas Sunset with 39 1-2. Anahuac's second-place total of 37 points was far back of Iowa Park's 96, while Hughes Springs counted 23 1-2 and Thorndale 20. Wink was runnerup in B with 65 points, followed by Masonic Home raised his own Class B mark of Fort Worth with 36 and Van Alstyne with 32.

Andrews and Bowie had little trouble winning Friday night with three men only a second apart. Tevis Herd of Midland won interscholastic sprint relay mark it in 4:27.9 just steps ahead of teammate Phil Barrett and Paul Mora of North Dallas. The time lowered the AAAA mark of 4:30.8 set last year by David Deboer of Houston Bellaire, who finished sixth today.

Iowa Park's 440-yard relay team cut four-tenths of a second off Andrews' 1959 Class A record with a 4:24.4 timing and the same standards also fell today. James Howard of Masonic Home won the standard to 3:25.5. Bangs' mile relay event with a heave of 56-3 1-4, lay team also set a division record while Bobby Evans of Thorndale of 3:28.1.

PHS Volleyball Team Cops Second In State

ABILENE — The Pampa High School girls' volleyball team lost to Big Spring here Saturday, 23-21, in an overtime match at the Hardin-Simmons statewide invitational tournament.

Since Pampa and Big Spring were the only Class AAAA district winners entered in the meet, the Harvesters captured runner-up honors in the event which is regarded as the state championship meet.

Coach Barbara Daugherty's crew battled the defending 1959 champions point for point and forced the overtime play when the score stood 21-21 at the end of the second eight minute half.

Pampa skipper Ann Lindsey along with set-ups Gaye Vandenberg and Zoy Coronis were named to the all-tournament team in Class AAAA.

Tournament director Miss Billie Shirley, physical education director at HSU called the Pampa-Big Spring game the best in the day's action.

In other classes, Lamesa defeated Andrews 31-20 to take the Class AAAA crown and New Braunfels was awarded third place in the final class standings.

FT. STOCKTON defeated Caldwell 27-16 to capture the AA title. Duncanville won the consolation round by default when the Gilmer team failed to appear.

Waller romped over Coahoma 33-13 for the Class A title while Plains faced Hale Center 36-20 in the consolation game.

The Class B title went to Buffalo who downed 1959 defending champion Imperial 23-18. Baird took a default win over Woodson in the other round.

Besides Lindsey, Coronis, and Vandenberg on the all-tournament team, Coach Daugherty's team had a season record of 8-6 in dual matches and completed in four tournaments. The girls capped the district title last week when they won at Canyon.

The Pampa Roadrunners, the city's newly organized semi-pro baseball team, will play an intra-squad game at Harvester field today at 2:30 p.m.

Manager Nevt Secrest said the team, made up almost entirely of former Pampa High School athletes, will open its season next Sunday with Crawford, Okla., but the site of the game has not been determined as yet.

There were two out at the time. Then Bressoud, the first batter to face Green, sent a liner which rolled to the screen fence, some 400 feet away. Centerfielder Virion had trouble getting hold of the ball and Bressoud crossed homeplate standing up.

Ralph Terry of New York Yankees pitched his way out of manager Casey Stengel's doghouse Saturday with a 4-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics on five hits.

Terry, chastised recently by Stengel for complaining publicly about being relieved too quickly in an earlier game, struck out three and walked only one in his first victory of the season. The fourth straight for the Yankees. George Brunet, who re-tired only one Yankee in the Cincinnati while giving up two runs, was the loser for the second time this year.

The Chicago White Sox scored their 14th victory in 15 starts against Washington over the course of two seasons when they beat the Senators, 6-4, Saturday with the aid of air-tight relief pitching by Eddie Kasko and a triple and a run by Jim Hook tossed a tired only one Yankee in the Cincinnati while giving up two runs, was the loser for the second time this year.

Terry was in trouble only in the seventh inning when Whitey Herzog led off with a single and Norm Selbern scored him with a triple to left-center. But Terry retired Bob Cerv, Dick Williams and Harry Chitt on infield flies to end the inning without further damage.

The Yankees picked up two runs off Brunet in the first when Roy Kubeck and Mickey Mantle singled. Roger Maris was hit by a pitch and then Brunet walked Bill Skowron, forcing in a run. Mantle scored on Elston Howard's sacrifice fly.

In the third, the Yankees scored again on Mantle's single, a two-base throwing error by reliever Johnny Kucks on an attempted pickoff play and a single by Skowron. Gil McDougald opened the eighth with a double, moved to third on Cerv's error while trying to field the hit, and scored on a fly to right by Maris. Bill Montague pitched a brilliant one-hitter Saturday as the Boston Red Sox handed the Detroit Tigers their tenth consecutive defeat, 5-0.

Bucs Blow Lead, Lose To SF 6-5

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International

Ed Bressoud hit an inside the park homer with two aboard in the seventh inning Saturday to give the San Francisco Giants a hectic 6-5 win over Pittsburgh and move them into a tie with the Pirates for first place.

Bressoud's clout, a drive behind leftfielder Bob Skinner and centerfielder Bill Virion, capped a six-run rally that knocked starting pitcher Harvey Haddix out of the box and left relief pitcher Fred Green with his first defeat of the season.

Manager Danny Murtaugh was thrown by umpire Tony Venzon during the eighth inning after the Pirates had claimed that Bressoud missed third base on his dash for home.

Haddix had a 5-0 lead and a one-hitter going when the Giants exploded in the seventh for five hits and their half-dozen runs.

A two-run double by Orlando Cepeda accounted for the first tallies, pinchhitter Joey Amalfitano's single drove in another and then Green came in to relieve his fellow southpaw.

There were two out at the time. Then Bressoud, the first batter to face Green, sent a liner which rolled to the screen fence, some 400 feet away. Centerfielder Virion had trouble getting hold of the ball and Bressoud crossed homeplate standing up.

Ralph Terry of New York Yankees pitched his way out of manager Casey Stengel's doghouse Saturday with a 4-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics on five hits.

Terry, chastised recently by Stengel for complaining publicly about being relieved too quickly in an earlier game, struck out three and walked only one in his first victory of the season. The fourth straight for the Yankees. George Brunet, who re-tired only one Yankee in the Cincinnati while giving up two runs, was the loser for the second time this year.

The Chicago White Sox scored their 14th victory in 15 starts against Washington over the course of two seasons when they beat the Senators, 6-4, Saturday with the aid of air-tight relief pitching by Eddie Kasko and a triple and a run by Jim Hook tossed a tired only one Yankee in the Cincinnati while giving up two runs, was the loser for the second time this year.

The Yankees picked up two runs off Brunet in the first when Roy Kubeck and Mickey Mantle singled. Roger Maris was hit by a pitch and then Brunet walked Bill Skowron, forcing in a run. Mantle scored on Elston Howard's sacrifice fly.

In the third, the Yankees scored again on Mantle's single, a two-base throwing error by reliever Johnny Kucks on an attempted pickoff play and a single by Skowron. Gil McDougald opened the eighth with a double, moved to third on Cerv's error while trying to field the hit, and scored on a fly to right by Maris. Bill Montague pitched a brilliant one-hitter Saturday as the Boston Red Sox handed the Detroit Tigers their tenth consecutive defeat, 5-0.

Abilene Wins Track Title

AUSTIN (UPI) — Long striding Larry Rhodes of Abilene shattered a 27-year-old state half mile mark and Steve Guynes of Grand Prairie posted a new meet pole vault record as Abilene, Iowa Park and Bangs won state school boy track championships Saturday.

Rhodes, a 17-year-old senior, sprinted a full 25 yards ahead of the field in taking the 880 in 1:53.7 while Guynes boosted the vault mark to 13 feet 3 3/4 inches on a cool, sunny day that saw six other division records toppled and another equalled.

Abilene's balanced team completed 81 points to repeat as AAAA champion, while Iowa Park won Class A with 96 points and Bangs dethroned Wink in Class B with 83 points. They joined Andrews, also a repeater, in Class AAA and Bowie in AA as team titlists. The latter two won their crowns Friday night.

Rhodes' record broke a mark of 1:55.4 first set by R. L. Bush of Dallas Sunset in 1933 and equalled two years ago by Dick Menchaca of San Antonio Lanier. The Abilene ace has been clocked as low as 1:52.9 this season.

Guynes has been consistently above 13-6 in the pole vault this season, and the Grand Prairie senior easily topped the old state standard of 13-5 1-2 set by Fred Hansen of Cleuro last year.

Trailing Abilene in the AAAA team race were Blytown with 45 1-2 points, Midland with 42 and Dallas Sunset with 39 1-2. Anahuac's second-place total of 37 points was far back of Iowa Park's 96, while Hughes Springs counted 23 1-2 and Thorndale 20. Wink was runnerup in B with 65 points, followed by Masonic Home raised his own Class B mark of Fort Worth with 36 and Van Alstyne with 32.

Andrews and Bowie had little trouble winning Friday night with three men only a second apart. Tevis Herd of Midland won interscholastic sprint relay mark it in 4:27.9 just steps ahead of teammate Phil Barrett and Paul Mora of North Dallas. The time lowered the AAAA mark of 4:30.8 set last year by David Deboer of Houston Bellaire, who finished sixth today.

Iowa Park's 440-yard relay team cut four-tenths of a second off Andrews' 1959 Class A record with a 4:24.4 timing and the same standards also fell today. James Howard of Masonic Home won the standard to 3:25.5. Bangs' mile relay event with a heave of 56-3 1-4, lay team also set a division record while Bobby Evans of Thorndale of 3:28.1.

There were two out at the time. Then Bressoud, the first batter to face Green, sent a liner which rolled to the screen fence, some 400 feet away. Centerfielder Virion had trouble getting hold of the ball and Bressoud crossed homeplate standing up.

High School Lass Wins Beaumont Golf Second Year

BEAUMONT (UPI) — Miss Sandra Haynie, nevertheless 16-year-old from Austin, successfully defended the championship of the 29th annual Women's State Golf tournament by defeating Mrs. John Rathmell of Houston, 2-and-1, in Saturday's final at the Beaumont Country Club.

Scheduled for 36 holes, the match, ended on the 25th green when both golfers pulled out for par 3s.

Miss Haynie led all the way. She was 3-up at the end of the 18-hole morning round.

The Austin High School junior won 4 of the first 6 holes in the afternoon to grasp a comfortable 6-up margin.

Mrs. Rathmell started to rally at the 26th green. She narrowed Miss Haynie's lead to 4-up and then won three consecutive holes.

Miss Haynie was 1-up after the 32nd, and won the next to go 2-up. The match ended moments later after the golfers halted 3-4 and 25.

Little LEAGUER

Gary Johnson was a Little League of destiny Friday night. Although he pitched a four-hitter and struck out 10, he repeatedly had to work his way out of jams he caused by walking 12 batters, but it all wound up fine for him as his Kisses team mates scored a 4-2 victory over Hoover.

Darrell Henson and the Windsor team had luck turn against them. Henson struck out 14 and hurled a six-hitter, but still dropped a 4-3 decision to Dixie.

Kiesse struck for a pair of runs in the first and third frames in stopping Hoover-Johnson, the winning pitcher, aided his own cause by blasting out a single and double.

Roy Harper was the big gun for the victorious Dixie team, collecting three hits in four trips to the plate.

The line scores:
Kiesse 202 000 — 4 8 0
Hoover 000 002 — 2 4 0
WP — Johnson; LP — Holmes.
Dixie 101 011 — 4 6 1
Windsor 000 003 — 3 6 2
WP — Everson; LP — Henson.

ATTENTION, MANAGERS... A phone caller to the Daily News sports desk yesterday wanted to know why Little League standings have not been printed here. The answer is that managers of the teams have failed to turn in all figures unless all the results are available. The manager of the winning team should see that the results are in the News office before 2:00 a.m. the morning after the game. Supplies of scoring report sheets are available at the sports desk.

Favor Palmer In Ft. Worth Golf Classic
FORT WORTH (UPI) — Sports writers Saturday tagged top money-winner Arnold Palmer as the favorite in the $30,000 National Invitation Golf Tournament at Colonial Country Club starting Thursday.

Palmer, champion in five of the 15 tournaments he has entered this year and winner of more than $47,000, will head a select field in the 15th annual, 54-player classic. The ranking was accorded Palmer, recent winner of the Masters' Tournament, in a prediction poll of newspaper, radio and television newsmen covering the tournament, billed as gold-dom's most exclusive official PGA event.

Country Club Junior Golf Tournament Opens Tuesday

Nearly thirty young golfers will tee off at the Pampa Country Club Tuesday afternoon when the annual Junior Golf Tournament gets under way.

The linksmen will be divided into three separate brackets according to age in the medal play competition which is scheduled to run through Friday when the championship rounds will be played.

Ten-year-old youngsters will shoot nine holes for the title trophy in their age group while the 11-12 year old group will fire 18 holes.

The top bracket, boys between the ages of 13 and 15, will play 36 holes in the quest for a tournament championship.

Club pro Hart Warren set the deadline for registration in the event at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The first round will tee off at 2:30 p.m.

Two boys to watch in the upper brackets will be Freddie Howard and Leonard Hudson, both of whom can negotiate nine-holes in the low 40's with consistency.

Immediately following the junior competition, the seventh annual Pampa Country Club Championship tournament will open with the qualifying rounds deadline set for Saturday, May 14.

The first round pairings will tee off next Sunday with the championship to be decided the weekend of May 27-28.

Open to club members only, the tournament pairings will be decided on the basis of the player's established club handicap in the first round.

Dr. Foster Elder will be defending the 1959 title he won after making it as far as the final rounds in three previous tries for the coveted trophy.

No Sudden Death

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—Cobby Ware of Georgia shot a five-under par 67 in the final round Saturday to win the 23rd annual Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

The Georgia senior finished with a 72-hole total of 283, which tied Don Essig of Louisiana State, but Essig, after finishing earlier in the afternoon, had left town to catch a plane back to Baton Rouge. Tournament rules state that in the case of a tie a "sudden death" playoff will be held immediately after regulation play ends. Essig was not available for the playoff and Ware was declared the winner.

SIGN HERE — Pampa Country Club pro Hart Warren signs Leonard Hudson (left) and John Triplehorn for the Junior Golf Tournament slated to get under way at the club Tuesday afternoon. About 30 boys are expected to compete for trophies in three separate age brackets. Hudson is touted as one of the top junior golfers on the course, firing nine holes in the low 40's. Segrist Tops TL Averages With .500

Victoria's Kai Segrist rocketed into the Texas League's batting leadership this week with a .500 mark.

Segrist, a .251 hitter last year with Class AAA Dallas, had played in only seven games through the season's first three weeks. Among the regulars, catcher John Orsino of the Valley Giants was the only above-.400 hitter, setting a .429 pace.

Amarillo's Tony Anzaro, batting at a .392 clip, had knocked in 19 runs to lead that department. The Valley's Charis Hiller took the lead in hits with 30, while Al Paschal of Victoria paced two categories—runs, with 17, and two-baggers, with nine.

First baseman Fred Whitfield of Tulsa, fourth-ranked hitter boasting a .385 average, led in both home runs and stolen bases, with six and four respectively. Hiller rounded out the top five hitters at .367.

Artie Burnett of Tulsa held the triples leadership with three.

The Valley Giants' Ron Herbel, up from Eugene, Ore., in Class B ball, stood alone atop Texas League pitchers, with three victories and no losses. He also was the busiest moundman, having worked 38 innings.

Five other hurlers were hunched together with two victories and no defeats. They were Charlie Gorin and Henry Hemmerly of Austin, Victoria's Jim Proctor and Howace Smallwood, and the Valley's Ray Davila.

Tommy Bowers of the Giants was the only pitcher to work four complete games.

Tulsa continued to lead in hitting, at .281, and extended its domination to two-base hits, 22; triples, nine; home runs, 22; stolen bases, 15, and runs batted in, 105. Tulsa was tied in runs scored with Victoria, 107, while the Valley led in hits, 180.

Pony League

Chennie took a one-half game lead in the Optimist Pony League Friday night with its 8-7 win over Cree Drilling while the second place Lions Club was idle.

Cantrill was the starting pitcher for Chennie but the win went to reliever Jerry Simpson who came on in the fifth inning and was pitching when his mates scored the lead run in the bottom of the sixth.

Cantrill clubbed a home-run in the first inning but saw it go by the boards when he failed to touch second base. The Cree infield appealed to the umpire and Cantrill was called out, getting credit for a single.

Eugene Madrid started on the hill for Cree but had to be relieved by Larry Gegory, who got tagged with the loss.

Ronnie Oler cracked two doubles for Chennie and Steve Moiberg belted another two-base hit. Madrid laced a pair of doubles in the losing Cree cause and Myron Aftergut drove in two runs with a double.

In the second Pony game, First National Bank moved into the tie for third by beating Hughes 11-6. Winning pitcher Gary Sikes went the route for the Bankers and gave up just two hits, singles to Curtis Eastman and Roger Owen. The Bankers took advantage of six Hughes miscues and had doubles by Ronnie Goodwin, Mike Schale, and Eddie Langwell in their seven-hit total. Schale's two-base hit drove in a pair of runs.

Larry Steele started for Hughes but was relieved by Garrison in the fifth when a mixup in the records showed Steele had pitched his limit for the week. A later check revealed he could have finished the game. The Bankers were leading 4-2 when he was relieved for a pinch-hitter in the fifth.

Hughes tied the game up and

Ingo Starts Training

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson, who took things easy last year while warming up to take the heavyweight title from Floyd Patterson, started training in the same relaxed fashion Saturday for their return bout next month.

Ingo had planned to spar couple of rounds but decided against it. Instead he did a bit of roadwork and played several holes of golf. He said he would begin sparring Sunday.

Tarvin Leads ENMU Golfers

SPORTS FEATURE

PORTALES (Special) — "I hope we get to go to the National," exclaimed a young Eastern New Mexico University golfer.

The golfer is Larry Tarvin, freshman business major at ENMU and son of Lige Tarvin, 400 Powell, Pampa. The "National" is the annual National college tourney (NAIA), this year at Bemidji, Minn., during the first week of June.

Larry, playing in the number two slot on the Greyhound golf team, is the leading point-getter this season having garnered 20 points out of a possible 24 in eight matches. He thinks the Hounds will continue to master the small college golf teams in the Southwest and win a return berth in the National tourney.

ENMU was the District 7 representative last season (all small colleges in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah) in the tourney and two of the dividers — Don Crockett and Randy Womack — finished near the top of the heap.

This year Crockett returned to lead ENMU, while Womack is in dental school in Kansas City. But, the slender swinger from Pampa has taken up the slack left by the departure of Womack.

The shoes were "big ones to fill" but Tarvin has been equal to the task. Womack was the National amputee champion in 1957 and was a par shooter despite having lost a leg in a motor scooter accident as a high school junior. Larry, too, is hovering near or getting par in the Eastern matches.

The Greyhounds have won six and lost two matches. Tarvin thinks that they will win the remaining five dual matches and will do well in the Broadmoor Hotel (Colorado College sponsored) tourney. Then he hopes the Hounds will make the trek to Minnesota for the Nationals.

Larry has been an avid golfer since the seventh grade and in his second year of golfing won the Pampa Jaycee tourney, Class B, championship. He successfully defended his title the next year and then went into the Class A division to become the runner-up as a sophomore in high school and eventual champion as a senior in 1954.

Winning was not new to Tarvin when he arrived at ENMU "last fall, so he went right to work and captured the Intramural fall golf title. Then when golf tryouts were called, he fired-par 70 rounds for two days in a row and found himself in the number two slot, behind the veteran Crockett, whom Larry thinks is one of the finest competitors in Southwest college circles.

The former PHS three-letter-winner stated that if his game continued to improve he would like to take a shot at the pro circuit after graduation from Eastern. "Of course," he said, "that's three more years and a lot can happen before then."

He credits Pampa pro Hart Warren, former Pampa pro Johnny Austin, and Pampa high golf coach Weldon Trice, "for any prowess I have." "I had plenty of encouragement from my dad, too!"

How about a special golf thrill? "None! I never make any spectacular shots and no one match has provided an extra thrill. I just like to win," added the amazing freshman.

Eastern coach Joe Dickson backed up this statement when he said, "Larry is the coolest performer on the links, for a person his age, that I have ever seen. He is a reliable, steady performer."

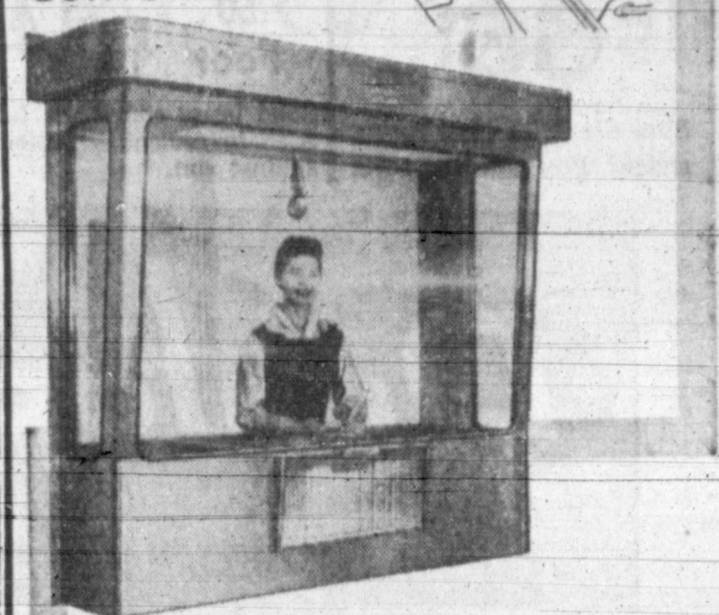

Here is his record to date: (all 18-hole matches) Won 2½ points with three over par as Eastern lost to Texas Western, 7-5. Won 3 with two over in Eastern win over New Mexico State 9-3. Won 2½ with four over as New Mexico State won 7-5. Won 3 with one over in Eastern win over West Texas State 6½-5½ on Amarillo Country club course.

Split with Tennant (1½ each) as Eastern tripped West Texas 8½-3½ — he fired a three-over par. Won three with three over against Amarillo college in 11½-1½ win. Won 2½ with two over against New Mexico Military Institute in 13-4 victory. Won 3 with par against the Institute in 9½-2½ win.

Ten Pin Tales

The trumpet of summer sounds the fledgling bowler. It means warmer weather, which makes the air-conditioned bowling palaces even more welcome. But most important it means the number of leagues in action will multiply and more openings will be open for Joe Average.

Bowling has taken a huge stride forward in the past decade. Ten years ago people considered bowling alley as shady a place as most pool halls.

Now bowling is a family affair, a chance to practice together. Thousands of families bowl on the nation every night. During the summer, when league season has curtailed, they have their own high-class operation.

And there are more alleys than in existence. Ten years ago a bowling alley, much less two modern-equipped ones. Add bowling to the Industrial League round-up this season.

The year last week with Panhandle Packing taking the league by two games over National Panhandle Industrial, which finished eighth in the standings.

WHANK GOODNESS, the British Isles finally got their princess married off this weekend... and on a honeymoon on a fabulous ship... now we can all settle down to our own affairs... and concentrate on golf and on the party conveniences to be held this summer... already the airwaves and television channels are loaded to the bursting point with so-called "paid political announcements"... of which we grow increasingly weary as the time to vote approaches... and before November is here we will be battered in mind and ears by campaign promises and carefully veiled hints about the position's shortcomings... ah, the democratic process... and how the rest of the world misunderstands about the Big game hunting of the politicians!

WE HAVE NOTICED AROUND TOWN... that the spiro, ideal wreath style, is gradually fading; its place in the limelight of the Spring sun to be taken by the iris displays we see over the place... there is some pretty purple iris on the corner where John and Sue McFall live in their lovely brick home... the number of cars around the baseball diamonds while Little Leaguers are playing is astounding... an increasing number of white-frocked females emerges at coffee-break each day from the orchid parlors of the new school of lady culture here in town... Jack and Patricia Nichols are established in their new home on Duncan... the only thing that has obscured the view of their beautiful rose garden which we used to be able to take a peek at when driving by.

MUSIC WEEK... surely went off with a blare of trumpets and a tinkle of piano keys last week... the Treble Clef music club members were in a flurry of radio performances and programs... the Music Week Committee (consisting of Lois Hagan, Rosemary Lawlor, Virginia Alleman, Jon Miller, and Louise Richards) worked like dogs all week... with results that were astounding... don't think there was a person in the city who was not aware of the fact that it was music week... there were a number of interesting posters in the window at Torpley's music store... and the display also displayed posters... and speaking of Rosemary Lawlor, aforementioned, we send word to her as one of the most interesting and charming people we know along with Virginia Alleman... who is the incoming President of Treble Clef Club.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY... I'm sure I have a noble mind and honesty and tact, and no one's more surprised than I to see the way I act!... the Cheerful Cherub.

PRETTY LADIES were at the Inn last week... three luncheons were held on Tuesday... Twentieth Century Allegro... Twentieth Century Cotillion... and the Treble Clef Board of Directors... noticed pretty Carolyn Cundith walking (understand she is a new member of Allegro)... wearing the cutest cocoa-beige cloche hat matching a dress with the becoming huge sleeves of this year's fashions... and the fashionable and adorable sailor hats we noticed was that of Mrs. W. D. Price, Jr... green and fringed and so cute... and Fran Morrison was wearing a pretty white and yellow straw pillbox-style with yellow velvet ribbon... and another addition to Betty Ellis' collection of fabulous hats was one of red roses and green netting... the hats are absolutely spectacular this year, don't you think?

ROUND ABOUT THE MULBERRY BUSH... notice that the Episcopal and Catholic Schools are accepting enrollments for NEXT year, yet... and speaking of St. Vincent dePaul School... cute Judy Gerik placed the crown of roses on the sacred statue of the Blessed Mother, in May Day ceremonies... dedicating the month of May to honoring the Virgin Mary... crown bearer was Frances Palmer... and Rock Hills and Mark Curtis carried the ribbons... some 210 children participated in the procession which was very charming and impressive... Ann Rathrop, Mary Ellen Hernandez, Andre Newell, and Sharon Rothel served as attendants in the coronation... and, again speaking of the school... Catherine Carr, who is the kindergarten teacher, is a regular whiz with the youngsters... playing several instruments and singing to interest them in music and fun.

GOINGS ON... AND OFF... going off are Ruth and Grady Morrison... by jet both ways... to Europe and back... they will spend, among other side-trips, about eleven days in Russia... seeing how the other half of the world lives... hear that these days, visiting Americans are given the royal carpet treatment in Russia... wonder if the Morrises will feel that they have been allowed to see only the "good" and none of the "worse"... and Gene and Polly Sidwell are off to travel in Europe, but we are not at this moment sure of their mode of transportation... personally, if we had the time, we'd go both ways on board a ship... only hoping that it would not sink, like the one in the movie which has been showing lately at the LaVista!... and also going off, but not foreign... are Irvin and Marguerite Askt... who are moving their family (of six children) to North Carolina, where we hear he has a fabulous job awaiting him... and Jimmy and Lyle Baldrige are coming back to Pampa to live, we hear via the good old grapevine (and where would be without it?)

AT THE MOMENT OF writing this, we can't be sure, but we have heard all week fabulous rumors of the Cabot buffet party honoring the Bill Lovings, who are leaving soon... which was held in the Country Club last Friday... Hugh and Wanda Burdette... and Gene and Virginia Green were hosting the party... and last we heard, about 300 people were expected... and speaking of the Burdettes, did you know Steve Burdette is to be married soon?... scoop on this later... so it goes.

WE ARE EXCITED about the flower show... and curious as anything for details about the unusual name, "Coronado Expedition"... the show is slated for May 14th in the basement of the First Methodist Church... but we are intrigued by the name... can hardly wait to see it... Homer and Mary Johnson are building a new home these days... just think of the yardwork connected with a new home... all that grass to get to grow... and the shrubbery to set out laboriously... and worry when black clouds may indicate hailstones on the way... have you noticed the pretty streak of silver in Mrs. Stephen McGrady's hair... very attractive, we think... many clubwomen were shown an amusing and informative film last week concerning the oil depletion allowance tax deduction... the Oil Information Committee has been carrying on an educational campaign concerning the importance of this deduction in encouraging new drilling... this is of vital concern to Pampa.

INSIGNIFICANCE OF THE WEEK... In London, a British model has been named "Miss Gum Label of 1960"... and on this cheerful and encouraging note, we leave you until next week at this time... with love.

Miss Thera Lee Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Warner

Pampa Royalty

Miss Warner was selected by a committee of socially prominent citizens of Corpus Christi to appear as "Duchess of the Cornflower" during that city's Buccaneer Days festivities held last week. Miss Warner was presented during the Buccaneer Ball wearing the gown she is pictured in above. The bodice of blue tulle was jeweled in black and white stones and the full skirt fell in tier after tier of jeweled ruffles. Her pillbox, covered with gleaming stones, held tulle leaves. She carried a fan. The setting for the coronation ball of the King and Queen of Buccaneer Week was created in glittering gold and red. Tall golden columns supported a stylized crest in rose and gold. Crimson velvet draperies hung on either side and the set extended to include two entrances, each draped in the same velvet tones. Golden thrones and red velvet ropes, framing the setting, were added accents. Miss Warner, literature major, is a sophomore student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Pampa Garden Club To Stage Flower Show

Pampa Garden Club, Pampa Rose Society, and Top of Texas Garden Club will stage an annual Spring Flowers Show Saturday afternoon from 2:15 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the basement of First Methodist Church. Mrs. V. N. Osborn has been named general chairman.

Mrs. Osborn has appointed the following committees to assist with the show: Mrs. Coy Palmer, chairman of the Staging Committee with Mrs. Albert Doucette, Milo Carlson and Jamie Deal; Mrs. Walden Moore, chairman, P. T. Collins, R. E. Anderson, artistic entries; Mrs. Lucina A. Gray, chairman, Kenneth Osborn, Stanley Brandt, J. B. Robertson, schedule committee; Mrs. Dorothy Francis, chairman, John Knox, Jack Compton, horticulture entries; Mrs. Henry Gruben and W. L. Stark will secure out-of-city judges; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, chairman, Kirby Hyman, Henry Gruben, W. E. Hinton, D. A. Caldwell, hospitality; Mrs. H. H. Boynton, chairman, Loyce Caldwell, A. E. Johnson, Fred Hinkley, F. Radcliff, classification committee; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stubbe will serve as co-chairmen of the education committee.

The Artistic Arrangements division will be centered around "Coronado's Expedition" to bring out various highlights in floral design of the explorer's adventures. The classes in the show, according to Mrs. Harold Pitts, Garden Show publicity chairman, "are designed to take you back in history and challenge your thinking, as to how much effect Coronado's expedition had in the making of Pampa's history. The last half of the classes to be entered will bring you back to today."

"The thing of primary importance in a show is the theme," Mrs. Pitts has said. "At this time, the choice of 'Coronado' seemed fitting since the Inn is Pampa's pride."

"There are many flower shows of many types, but only on standard show. A standard show is one put on by Garden Clubs which have met national requirements for their affiliations and recognition," she explained.

The show is opened to the public and entries are invited from gardeners who are not affiliated with any garden club in the city. A special division is being set up for men's and children's entries, also. A schedule of entries and divisions may be secured from garden club members.

A list of general rules are as follows: 1) as may be made by any interested person in Pampa and surrounding area; 2) entries will be received between the hours of 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. on the day of the show, May 14; 3) containers will be furnished for horticulture specimens; 4) exhibited specimens must have been grown by or been in the possession of exhibitor for at least three months; 5) flowers and foliage in arrangement classes must be garden grown, but not necessarily by the exhibitor; 6) materials on conservation list may not be used except in the educational division; 8) late entries will be for display only; 9) classified exhibitor will disqualify any exhibitor not conforming to schedule; 10) entry cards must be filled out properly and attached to exhibits; 11) all specimens must be labeled as to variety if possible; 12) in classes "a, b, c, etc.", a member will be permitted to enter one in each; otherwise only one entry to a class; 13) Men and Junior Division will be judged separately but will follow schedule; 14) no one will be admitted to the building during judging except those designated by general chairman; 15) the show will be open to the public from 2:15 until 7 p.m.; 16) all entries must be removed by 7:30 p.m.; 17) each exhibitor will be responsible for her own properties.

Moms are nice. We say this, not because we are one, but because we have one. She is charming little lady, Mrs. Letha Pearl Wayland, who lives in Fort Worth. When she is not traipsing about the country visiting with children, grandchildren and friends, she sells fancy hats in a pretty little hat shop in a Fort Worth department store. Because of her frequent travels, she has earned the nickname "Eleanor Roosevelt" in our family circle.

In searching for an idea to illustrate this Mother's Day, we tried and discarded several ideas. Then we heard that seventh grade students at Robert E. Lee Junior High had been assigned to write themes on "My Mother." This is what we thought.

We requested permission from the teachers, Miss Ruby Trusty and Mrs. Charles Hatcher to use excerpts from some of the themes. Because they were not written for the blaring spotlight of the printed word, we will not personalize them with names, but offer them for your reading for the genuine warmth and sincerity, which they evidence.

One of the themes read: "On Mother's Day most children go to town to buy their mother a gift. But some can't buy things because they have no money. There is an old saying that money can't buy everything, but love can. That is what I can give my mother the most of."

"She is understanding and is always ready to help. If I could write a poem about Mother's I would be saying most of it about my mother. She may not be the best to you but to me she is 'topa.' I could write 5,000,000 words but I could say it all in one word 'love.'"

"Who does the dishes, makes the beds and cleans up after you? Just think! If you had no mother what would you eat? Who would you ask to take you somewhere, think sometimes that she dislikes me, but it always winds up that she is right."

"My life will rest in her hands for the rest of my life because I like my mother."

Another theme read: "My mother means very much to me. She is kind, gentle and understanding. She does many things for me, such as providing me a good home with love which is very important in a young girl's life. What would a home be anyway without a mother to love and who loves and understands you? She is kind for she does not shout at and make her children do everything as some mothers do. She pitches in and helps my sister and me if we have a problem. She does not smoke or drink, which I think is very respectful in this day and age."

A young man wrote of his mother: "My mother is the nicest, sweetest, dearest person I know. She has, since my father's death been both a mother and father to me. She has made a living by herself for us both. Although she does more than I, together we keep up the house, clean it regularly, mow and clean the weeds from the yard, sweep the walks and keep our car clean. She helps me with my problems and keeps my secrets . . ."

One young lady summed up her theme with this thought: "This is Mothers' Day. You should treat your mother especially nice. You should treat her nice at all times. You should be nice to her although it is not Mothers' Day."

Another student wrote: "My mother is sweet and understanding at times, but sometimes she can be a real meany. She thinks I always get to do too much and she is always talking about how sweet and nice she was when she was my age. I'm not saying she wasn't; she might have been for all I know, but every once in a while I remind her this is the 1960's and not back when she was a girl and that was a pretty long time ago . . ."

Sage words were written by another student: "My mother is very kind and lets me do most of the things I want to, but sometimes she says no! I am glad that she does that because if she did not I would want to do all the things I want to do when I am grown."

A young man wrote: "My mother is the type that thinks twice before she says I can do something. Therefore, I don't get to do many things, but what I may do is enough."

A young lady penned: "My mother is as sweet as she is busy and believe me she is busy. But busy as my mother is, she always has time for me . . ."

Another theme brought out these ideas: "My mother is a very fine person. She is very popular among the women of Pampa. This is because she owns two beauty salons in Pampa. She is good-natured person with a sense of humor and pleasant talk, which wins her very many friends."

"My mother, to me, is the greatest woman on earth. She is very understanding about everything. Most mothers still live back in times when they were young. But my mother understands that times have changed," one young lady wrote in her theme, "She, and my father also, set me on the most wonderful path of life. The path is a Christian life, which she practices every day of her life . . ."

"My mother is a wonderful person," was the thought expressed in a theme by a young gentleman. "She is always ready to help me in school work, play, and even when I am in trouble. She is always kind to me except when I am not kind to her. There are some things she does that I don't think I could do. Some mornings, I say to her, 'would you want to go to school for me and let me iron and clean house?' But really, I think I would rather come to school than do some of the hard things she does . . ."

Another theme included these thoughts of love: "I love my mother very much. She is the sweetest person I have ever known. She heard my first word, saw my first step, and took me to church for the first time and did many other things to help me get used to this new world I was born into. As I grew older and started to school, mother was there. Mother always helped when I couldn't catch on to something with my studies. Mother took me to my first party and bought me my first pair of skates. The years have gone by and I am a young lady in junior high, but mother is still here to help me in troubled times . . ."

"So, from out of the mouths of babes . . . oops, we're sorry . . . of young ladies and gentlemen come these words of wisdom, which reveal what our children really think of us!"

One young lady gave this opinion: "If I didn't have a mother I'd be in bad shape . . ."

"Many boys would say their mother is a 'grouch.' One boy wrote, 'If you look at her side for just a minute I think you would change your mind.' A mother has to be a person who doesn't have a temper. Raising a child is one of the many jobs of a mother. Another's life isn't all work. Nowadays, there are automatic things to help her, but when they break, watch out!"

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband retired four months ago and he is driving me out of my mind. He sits around all day looking through magazines to find things for me to cook for him. I have lost all my women friends because he insists on going everywhere with me. Even to the beauty parlor. You know, no matter how much you love a husband there are times when you'd like to get away from him, but he wants me at his beck and call every minute. If I get out of sight he comes looking for me. Please tell me what to do about this situation before I have a nervous breakdown.

GOING TO PIECES
DEAR GOING: Find SOMETHING to keep your husband occupied. Try to interest him in a hobby. Gardening, or stamps, or coins, or model trains, or crossword puzzles or some kind of volunteer work, [church or youth group]. Men his age have even taken up painting (don't laugh) and there are adult education classes if he's so minded, and annual training classes if he's not. Let going before he dies on the line and takes you with him.

DEAR ABBY: My brother (let's call him John) has been running around with a woman whom I shall call Sally. John is married to a peach of a girl. They have three children.

I am not the type of person who "buts in" on other people's business but I can see my brother's home being broken up and I can't stand it. If I spoke to John, he would probably tell me to mind my own business, and he would be right. Should I talk to Sally about it? I know her, but not too well. What would you do?

JOHN'S SISTER
DEAR SISTER: Talk to your brother like a Dutch uncle. It is permissible to involve yourself in somebody's else's business in the interest of saving a family. This is constructive intervention — not "butting in". Tell your brother that since you know what's going on, others probably know, too. A.N.

NATIONAL PIANIST — Miss Patsy Berry, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Berry of Lefors, was selected pianist from Area One to represent Texas Chapters at the national meeting of Future-Homemakers of America in Washington, D.C. in July. The honor was accorded Miss Berry at the recent Texas Ass'n of FHA annual state meeting held in Austin. She competed with candidates from nine areas for the honor. Miss Berry is a member of the Lefors FHA Chapter, which is sponsored by Mrs. O. W. Nowlin and has studied piano for a number of years, the last three with Bill Haley. She has served as pianist for the high school choir club and for the First Baptist Church in Lefors. She will graduate from high school this Spring. For four years, she has been a member of FHA, which she has served as vice president, reporter, and parliamentarian. (Daily News Photo)

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
She's 13 and recently passed a stiff entrance exam into an excellent private school. She passed it with 5-A's. Everyone has been showering her with compliments. Her parents have reported the triumph to all her relatives. It is the constant subject of her mother's conversation. All this has had its effects. Not long ago, overhearing her mother's telephone announcement to an out-of-town friend, she went to her door — and opened it to better listen to the publicity on her remarkable success. But two days ago a curious thing happened. Home from school, she bitterly denounced a classmate's mother who is forcing four hours of concentrated study every night as preparation for her own child's entrance exam into the excellent school. Crying, "I hate parents like that," she burst into tears of rage. Said her father to me: "Dot is such a sympathetic kid. It is nice of her to feel such sympathy for another girl's effort to do what she did, isn't it?"

"I almost lost my temper and replied: "No, I don't think it's nice at all. Because I think that Dot's tears are not for the girl who may fail but for the person in herself who may one day fail. "You'd better cut down on this flattery of her brain if she's to ever tolerate it for what it is — a working but limited human organ." Dot was deeply relieved by the suggestion that she does not have to maintain an infallible brain but is free to possess one whose failures will be as acceptable as the failure of her stomach or bronchial tube when she overeats or catches the flu. We really must beware of extravagant praise of children's achievements. For such praise always contains the hidden demand for bigger and better successes. And poor Dot gets pulled into conflict between her induced taste for flattery and her own realistic knowledge that she can't sustain our expectations. Small wonder she broke down into angry tears at the world which used her hard-won success to cry, "More, more, more!" Don't go out dressed any old way on a rainy day. The weather itself will be depressing enough. You can cheer up your friends and yourself by wearing a trim, colorful rain outfit and carrying a gay umbrella.

Princess Margaret's Royal Trousseau To Be Top Fashion News This Spring

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—American women in a dozen or more cities will see in the next two months the fashions from which Princess Margaret selected her trousseau.

Both Norman Hartnell, who is designing Margaret's wedding gown, and Victor Stiebel, who is doing other costumes for the royal trousseau, are represented in Britain's first American road show of fashions.

All costumes were chosen from the 132 creations in the traditional spring show for British royalty. This year, it was held March 22, at Osterley Park, Middlesex, with Margaret and the Queen Mother attending.

Just what Margaret selected for her wedding to Antony Armstrong-Jones May 6, still is a top secret. But American women will see the work not only of Hartnell and Stiebel, but of nine other members of the Incorporated Society of London Designers.

The New York fashion group and its regional branches are sponsors of the show, which opened here with the Britannica Ball last Wednesday, continued to Washington and the British Embassy on Friday, and will be in New Orleans Sunday.

Other cities and dates: Miami, April 26; St. Louis, April 29; Philadelphia, May 2; Detroit, May 9; Portland, Ore., May 13; Los Angeles, May 17; Cleveland, May 19; Oklahoma City, May 24-25; Boston, June 3; Dallas, June 10, and Seattle, June 13.

The fashion group said Honolulu, Toronto and Montreal also were scheduled tentatively, and that other cities might be added "if the clothes don't wear out first."

Some 70 costumes from suits to ball gowns were shown in New York, but the number was reduced for the rest of the tour to about 40, with a shopping weight of 500 pounds and insurance of $50,000. Six British beauties are among the models.

All clothes were chosen to highlight British-made fabrics—tweeds, wools, Irish linsens, and Liberty of London silks.

State Vice President Installs PTA Officers

A joint installation service of the nine local PTA units was conducted Tuesday morning in William B. Travis Elementary School held under the direction of PTA City Council with Mrs. Julian Key, president, presiding.

Wendell Altmiller, school principal and Mrs. Odell Strickland, Travis PTA president, were hosts during the Coffee Hour.

Mrs. H. C. Green, state vice president of Texas Congress and installing officer, said in opening remarks, "This is the first joint installation I have witnessed. It gives a sense of unity to both the council and the units."

Mrs. Green likened the installation ceremony to the staging of a play. "The meeting today is like the last performance of a drama, which has been in production for the past year." She declared the critics have decided this "was a good year and predicted the running of the play for an unlimited time. The subject of the drama," she continued, "was Education, Whose Responsibility? The best play to be presented on a local stage. The plot centered around the child; the child was the star. Added attractions were the district workshops, conferences and schools of instruction. The meetings were called for practice and special training with the largest production and cast ever known. The curtain never goes down; the cast is changed and the show moves on."

"The replacements are on the board of directors and will give a new spark of enthusiasm. The drama is closing for the summer season, but the old cast is called back for a curtain call. Once a trooper, always a trooper," Mrs. Green said. "But don't let the spotlight determine the enthusiasm or lack of it, or your following will fall away and you will be playing to an empty house."

Mrs. Key represented all of the outgoing officers and called the incoming officers to the stage. Mrs. Green listed each of the cast in the following order: Top Field Director, Mrs. Carlton Nance, President City Council PTA; Local Managers and Field Managers, all unit presidents; Assistant Field Directors and office directors, all unit vice presidents; Script Writers, unit secretaries; Story Editors, historians; Field Representatives or Public Relations, City Council representatives; Financial Advisors of Play, treasurers; Those Who Keep the Lid On, parliamentarians; Technical Advisors, School Personnel; Lighting Crew, school personnel. The cast, all PTA members, who determine whether the show is a hit or flop; the Executive Producer, Mrs. James Lewis, district president.

Mrs. Green ended the installation by saying, "From my seat in the balcony, I predict another smash hit for next year."

In assuming her duties as the new council president, Mrs. Carlton requested the cooperation of all PTA units next year and announced that the Parliamentary Procedure Course will be held May 17.

Pampa City Council presented Mrs. Key, outgoing president, with a Texas life membership in PTA for outstanding work in the organization and gave her a vote of thanks for a "job well done." In her farewell address, Mrs. Key expressed appreciation to all those who worked so diligently for the council's success.

The following are the list of officers by school who were installed and will be heading up PTA activities for their units next year:

Pants Pioneer Sometimes Sorry That She Started Whole Thing

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The woman who pioneered pants for the American woman's wardrobe (no, she wasn't Mariene Dietrich) said today she sometimes is sorry she started it all.

"If I had thought of the women who would wear them...well, they just don't go with some figures," said 77-year-old Ethel Traphagen, Miss Traphagen, who this spring is observing her 50th anniversary as a fashion educator said that trousers grew from her own rebellion against the narrow, hobble skirt and from seeing on a visit to San Francisco how comfortable and cool oriental women were in their native dress. In 1914, she shocked New Yorkers by appearing on the street in a trouser costume cut like today's culottes and topped by a long tunic with side slits.

"At the time," she said, interview, "I was teaching at New York School of Industrial Art. The head of the school me on the carpet. Said I was giving a bad example."

But a few years later, she pioneer more pants. She her husband — the late V. Leigh, an artist famous for paintings of the Old West — a trip to Africa.

"I saw women in shorts, said, "and I thought, 'now cool and comfortable they be-for-sports.'" She brought several pairs, had them chid a fashion show and pants took."

"But I am afraid the trend gone too far," she sighed, "I believe in being comfortable, cool, but trousers are for le not for street wear."

MUSIC WEEK PRESENTATION—Miss Judy Gordon, president of William J. Marsh Music Club with the club counselor, Tracy D. Cary, this week presented a portrait of the composer, for which their club is named, to Mrs. Lillian Snow, Lovett Memorial librarian. Mrs. Snow accepted the portrait on behalf of the library and plans to place it permanently in the library. The Music Club is named for William J. Marsh, composer of the state song "Texas, Our Texas." Mr. Marsh, who resides in Fort Worth, is director-organist of St. Patrick's Cathedral there and is one of the most prolific composers in the United States. He also serves as music critic for the Fort Worth Star Telegram. (Daily News Photo)

American Artist Captures The Spirit Of Princess Margaret On Canvas

NEW YORK (UPI)—The only American artist to paint Princess Margaret sees here as a spirited young woman seeking a justification for her existence.

Barbara Schwinn Jordan painted the 30-year-old British Princess several months before the announcement of her engagement to Anthony Armstrong Jones.

"I found her voluble, never still," said the New York artist in an interview. "She impressed me as spirited, but disciplined. Restless always. She arranges and rearranges her hands."

"She is a soft, delicate woman with an adorable figure, tiny waistline and little feet and hands. I found while we talked that she has a most serious side. We discussed foreign affairs extensively and I got the feeling she would like to serve her government in some official capacity... maybe an ambassador."

"She seemed to be seeking a raison d'être."

Mrs. Jordan also maintains a studio in London and until recently, she and her husband spent four or five months of each year in England. One of her close friends is Mrs. Frederick Erroll, a lady-in-waiting to Queen Elizabeth. Through her, she had a chance to observe Margaret several times. "I decided there was enough in the face to interest me," she said.

She got the commission through whom she had done illustrations.

hattan and is copied full-page, in color, in the current Ladies' Home Journal.

Mrs. Jordan has permission to keep for two years the Margaret work and portraits of other English stage and society figures she did on her last London visit, in case she wants to hold an exhibit. Then Margaret may have it.

As an aid in tenderizing Swiss steak and other less tender meat cuts, marinate the meat in La Choy soy sauce for an hour before cooking. Drain and pound in seasoned flour as usual. You'll discover the flavor is better and meat cooks more rapidly.

The portrait now hangs in her duplex studio apartment in Manhattan and is copied full-page, in color, in the current Ladies' Home Journal.

Polly's Quiz

Dear Polly: Our new home has straighten things out point by point. First, never compromise on the quality of upholstered furniture. Keep the draperies you have but paint those walls oyster white. New sofa might be deep green with two matching chairs covered in a beige, green and brown textured weave.

Painted white, like your walls, your battered piano will fade into the background.

Have an old piano that needs refinishing. How do we go about it?—Mrs. E. T. S.

Dear Mrs. E. T. S.: Whew! Let's

of our home left knotty pine paneling in the kitchen unfinished. The places where they hung pictures were left lighter than the rest. Grease has splashed from the stove onto the paneling.

Is there any way we can clean the wood and shellac if I would rather not paint over it unless there is no other way.—B. H.

Dear B. H.: You're in a greasy spot. I'm afraid. The grease has evidently soaked into the grain of the unfinished wood. Tetrachloride usually removes grease from wood but most woods have a protective finish of some sort.

Paint is likely to be your only solution. Ask your paint dealer for the proper sealer so the grease won't "bleed" through the paint.

Dear Polly: I have a maple china cabinet with a pegboard back which I use as room divider between family room and dining area. The couch is against it. How could I decorate the other side?—Mrs. P.

Dear Mrs. P.: Paint the pegboard to match the family room walls. Then treat it as added wall space. A large picture or group of pictures should look well and add to the importance of the sofa grouping.

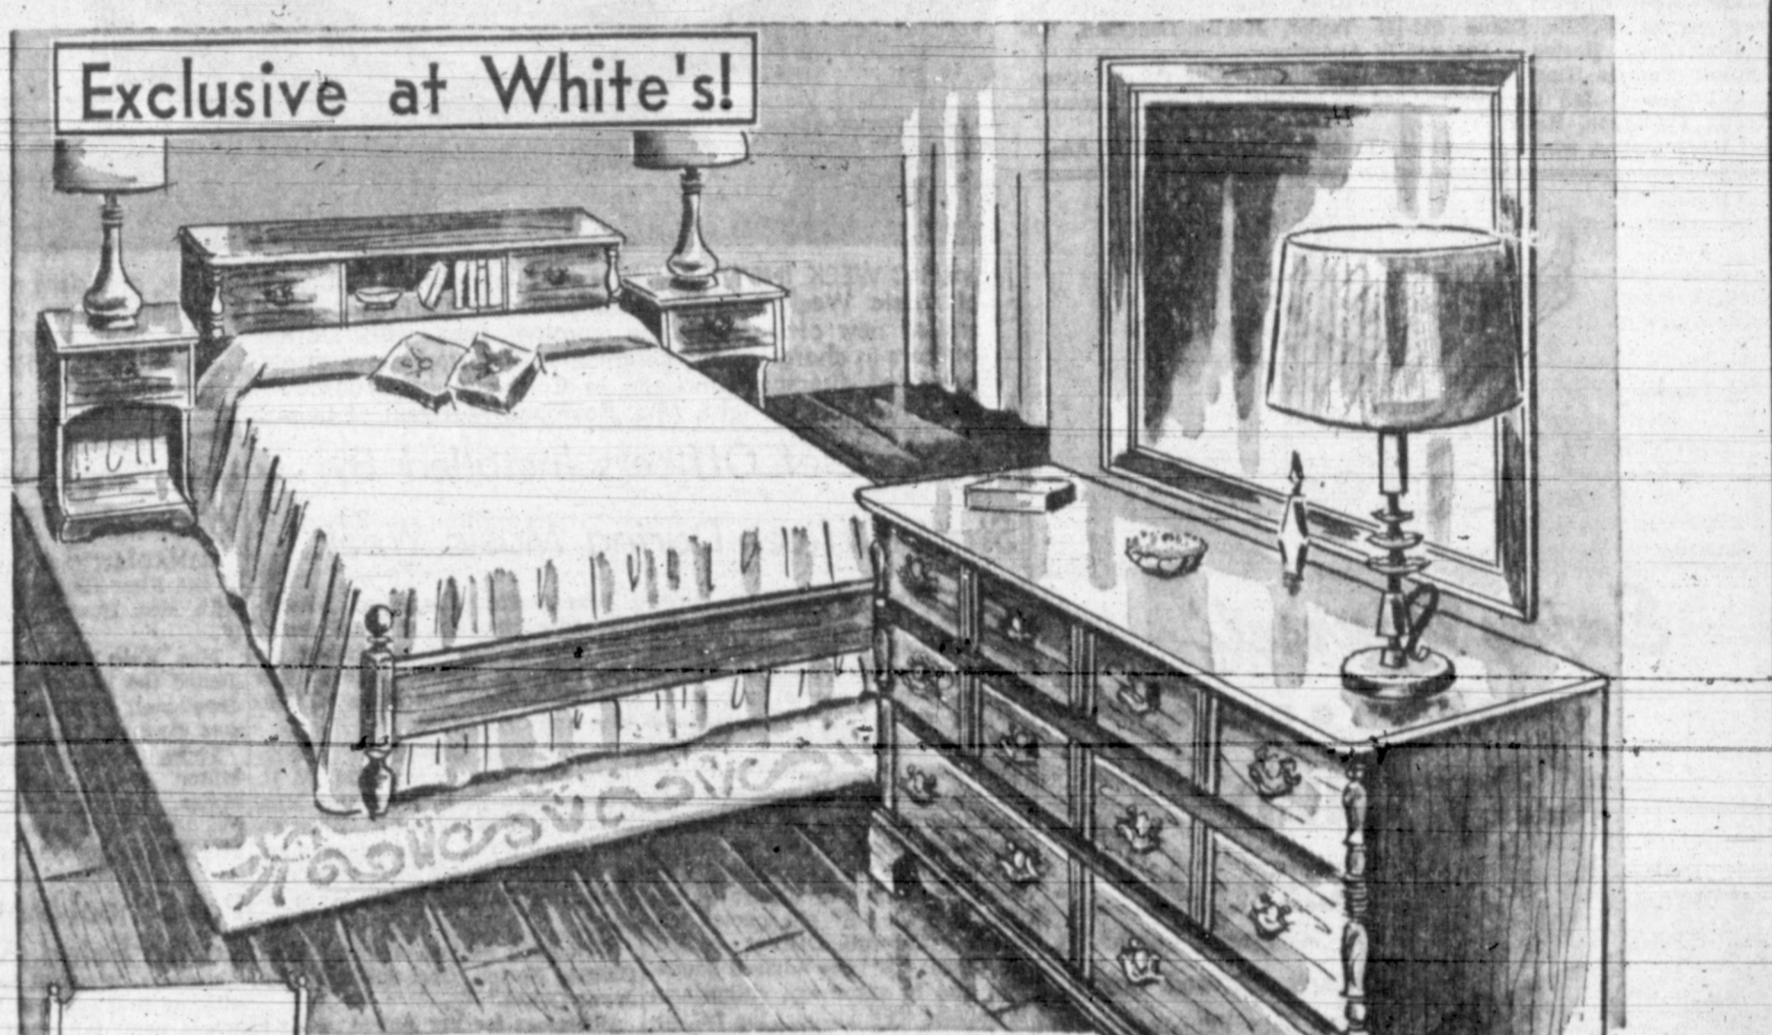

Dear Polly: Our bedroom is painted a pale turquoise. What color spreads and drapes do I use? I would also like throw rugs. Our furniture is maple.—Mrs. L. E.

Dear Mrs. L. E.: Why not have an all-turquoise and white room? Curtains and dust ruffle could be an all-over print in turquoise and white. A white quilted bedspread and ruga would carry out the crisp, clean look.

Treble Clef Officers Installed By State Officer During Music Week

Mrs. Raymond Marshall, president of Texas Federation of Music Clubs and Mrs. Jimmie Yates, Seventh District President, both of Lubbock, were special guests for Treble Clef Club's installation of officers Tuesday evening in City Club Room.

Following dinner, Mrs. Yates spoke to the group on the "Seven Spokes of Music Week" in which she used the first letter of the word "seventh" to illustrate her talk. For the "S" she quoted statistics of Seventh District of Music Clubs; "E" she advised education to encourage enthusiasm in music; "V" vision, the national federation has 600,000 membership with 8,800 clubs; Texas has 43,000 members with 158 clubs; "E" exert effort, the speaker said, never overlook opportunity to advance good music. One of the most valuable commodities in America is the investment in our youth; "N" she illustrated with the fact that the National Music Federation is the only non-governmental musical organization with representation in UN; "T" stands for time, "The world is a music book. One who knows only the music of his own country, knows only one page in the book"; and for "H", Mrs. Yates brought out several "how-to-do's" for clubs. She said, "Make America music minded. Russia put Van Clyburn into orbit, you know."

Following the talk, Mrs. Yates installed the following Treble Clef Club officers for the ensuing year: Mmes. E. B. Alleman, president; John Conway, vice president; David Mills, recording secretary; B. W. Riehart, treasurer; Miss Rosemary Lawlor, reporter.

Preceding the installation, Miss Lawlor sang "Art Thou Troubled" by Handel and "Lift Thine Eyes" by Logan. Invocation in song was also offered by Miss Lawlor as she sang "Prayer" by Guion.

Mrs. David Mills gave a background explanation of the hymn of the Month, "Lead Us Father in the Paths of Peace," which was written between the times of Mexican and Civil Wars.

Welcomed as guests were Mrs. Charles Norton, Carl Shaffer and Joyce Chase.

Hostesses for the dinner were Mmes. Paul Reimer, E. W. Riehart and John Conway.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

They didn't need the experts' help. In a report prepared for the White House Conference on Children and Youth, the people of these United States—thousand upon thousands of Americans speaking out in opinion polls, in town meetings, in letters and questionnaires—have diagnosed the true cause of our children's problems.

"It is," say our people, "the self-doubt of the American parent. The hardships of life in America today are primarily psychological."

So, having spotted the cause, they also have proposed the solution. What we Americans want, according to this published States' Report, is new action to strengthen this nation's parents in their audacious work of raising the young in the world of the H-bomb, mass production and mass thinking, of pride in "high standards of living" that instead of enriching our living have distracted us from living.

As this column is written, the final recommendations for new action by the White House Conference on Children and Youth have not been made public.

But if that new "approach" that will enable parents to recognize and deal with their most justifiable self-doubts and anxieties is not forthcoming, let us all batter at the doors of government until we get it.

Because we parents are the psychic agents of this American society. If we are going to accept self-doubts and misery as our fate, we cannot help producing an increasingly sickly American society.

If we don't start questioning our pride in "high standards of living" that is not living, children will continue to take pride in "hot rods," convertibles, and three-bathroom homes, instead of in themselves.

If we don't confess our sadness at our dropping of the first A-bomb, children will continue to be left alone with the terrifying knowledge that we did it.

If we dare not confess our blunders both private and national, children cannot admit the confusions and fears that have made their blunders.

They will become increasingly isolated and lost in their lonely struggle to comprehend this hard-pressed world we live in, never learning to feel compassion and oneness with it.

What we American parents want is help with the truth about ourselves—a new way to find skilled friends to call on when we are overpowered with the work of creating Americans.

Stocks Rally After Near Record Dip

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks rallied during the past week after the averages missed by a whisker in setting new lows for the year on Monday.

The Monday decline was the seventh in a row for industrials and the sixth for rails. The recovery reflected ability of the market to hold above the 1960 lows, a better market for automobiles, and an improvement in our foreign trade position.

Also the market was helped to some extent by indications of easier money such as a reduction in the return on government notes, a dip in bankers' acceptance rates, and a cut in brokers' loans by leading New York banks. Wall Street was looking ahead to what might bring a cut in the discount rate but it didn't come on Thursday, the day these changes usually occur.

The Tuesday market found the list just as thin on the upside as it was on the previous decline. It took only moderate demand to send stocks up sharply. Industrials rose 8.12 points in the Dow-Jones average on Tuesday and rails rose 1.25 points.

Industrials gained another 3.26 points on Wednesday, slipped 2.37 points on Thursday, and lost another 0.70 point on Friday. However, the industrial average, closing at 607.62 was up 5.92 points on the week.

The railroad average closed the week at 180.85 up 1.22 points. On Monday it had closed at 138.46, up just about one-quarter point from its 1960 low of 138.18 made March 8.

Utilities finished the week at 88.98 up 0.27. That average has held above the others consistently and it is the only one which shows a gain over the close of 1959.

The composite average of the 65 stocks in the three Dow-Jones groups finished the week at 201.92 up 1.59 points.

Recently declining markets reported a falling off in profit margins in addition to the losses mentioned above was helped by technical factors — namely, an oversold condition.

Volume was small on declines and on recoveries, reflecting a lack of liquidating pressure and of interest in the general market. Steel companies made optimistic statements despite the fact that steel operations dipped to below 75 percent of capacity. Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., told his stockholders he foresaw a "new decade of progress" for the steel industry.

The oil industry issued some unfavorable reports while companies moved further to cut their inventories of oil products. Electricity output rose on the week and the year. Caroladings rose on the week but were under a year ago. Retail trade held above 1959.

Automobile production rose on the week and was above last year — April — automobile sales showed good gains which helped the market generally.

The decline which ended Monday left the industrial average down nearly 78 points or 11 percent from the 1959 close. Rails were off 14 points or nine percent. Utility strength reflected that group's defensive qualities.

Gulf To Drill 15,000 Ft. Wildcat In Hemphill County, Says TRRC

Geologists Usurped By Engineers

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International
TULSA (UPI)—American geologists need to widen their scope to win back their place of favor in the oil industry, one of the nation's top geologists believes.

Many of the duties of the geologist have been taken over by engineers, lawyers and other specialists, Lewis G. Weeks, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists said recently at the annual meeting of that body in Atlantic City, N. J.

"Unreasonable, shortsighted

SAFE DRIVERS—These employees of Phillips Petroleum Co., Panhandle Dist. natural gas department, were presented safe driving awards for 50,000 to 150,000 miles without an accident. They are, from left, M. C. Wright, repairman for Lefors; C. O. Spalding, meterman, 834 S. Banks, and A. A. Smith, yardman, 2128 N. Dwight. Wright received the 150,000-mile award.

Drilling activity held steady last week in the Top O' Texas as the area experienced the third successive week of fair field weather.

The Texas Railroad Commission office in Pampa, in its weekly newsletter, reported that 27 intentions to drill were filed for the week ending May 5. Six of these were for depths of more than 8,000 feet.

The deepest intent is in Hemphill County, a wildcat, the Gulf Oil Co. A. Bowers et al "F" — No. 1, 1980' N & W lines, Sec. 253, Blk. C, G & MMBA survey. It is proposed to drill this well to 15,000 feet.

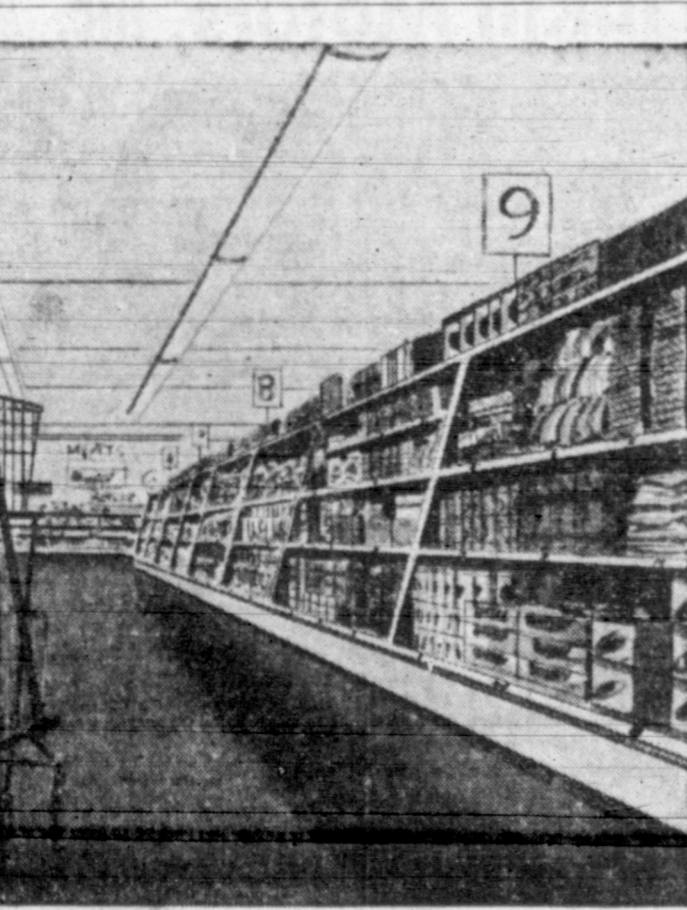

Twelve wells were completed, according to the report. Two dry holes were plugged in Ochiltree and Gray counties.

The Pan Am Petroleum Corp. well, the W. H. Tarbox No. 9-LT in the RHF Morrow, was completed April 17 and potentiated 498 barrels per day. It was perforated at 5,147-52 and plugged back to 5112. The well is in Ochiltree County.

A gas well in Lipscomb County was potentiated at 10,209 MCFD in March. It is the Humble Oil & Ref. Co. Henry Frank, Jr. "F" — 1-LC in the Lower Morrow.

Oil Industry Faces Wage Hike Demand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The oil industry may get a blueprint later this month of 1960 wage demands to be made by O. A. Knight's Oil-Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

Knight expects to call the first revolutionary rank-and-file national bargaining policy committee soon after May 15. From this will come a unified front wage policy which more than likely will meet equal union resistance from the industry.

The new bargaining committee is for the first time composed of members drawn from rank-and-file workers in five union areas. Also for the first time the union's demands will sum up the collective recommendations of rank and file workers who heretofore had little voice in wage policy.

The unique idea was approved by the union's last annual convention as a constitutional reform. All the union's local elected delegates to five area conferences which in turn elected two delegates each to compose the national bargaining committees of 10 over which Knight will preside.

At each meeting the rank and file representatives drafted recommendations which become the pattern for decisions to be made by the national committee. But even after the national committee drafts its recommendations they cannot become final policy until ratified by at least 75 per cent of the union locals.

This guarantees every union member, regardless of status, a voice in wage and benefit objectives.

Recommendations made by the area delegates covered what Knight called "many needed improvements," but major interest was in five issues:

Wage increases; better fringe provisions, with emphasis on hospitalization and medical plans; more union control over administration of fringe benefits; length of the work week, and ways to prevent the companies from using outside contractors to do work normally done by union members.
