City Approves CRMWA Cost

The city commission passed a resolution accepting the proposed allocations of water from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and the costs to Pampa at its weekly meeting today. Under the Canadian River project, water for Pampa will cost the city 13.30 cents per 1,000 gallons in addition to purification costs.

The action came after A. A. Meredith, executive secretary of the authority, and Leon Hill, engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation, spoke to the commissioners.

Commission Delays City Charter Action

A strong objection to the city commission paying $900 to have the Pampa city charter rewritten was voiced by Frank Carter, a former member of the original charter commission, at the group's regular meeting today. As a result, commissioners decided not to make a decision on the matter until they could confer with city attorney Bob Gordon again.

The current charter commission had asked that the city commission hire E. E. McAdams of Austin, a former executive of the Texas Municipal League, to rewrite the charter. McAdams' fee is $900 plus any expenses he might incur coming to Pampa to meet with the commission.

Carter branded the idea illegal and contrary to the current city charter. "We've got a good charter," Carter told the commission, "and I can't see paying someone $900 of the taxpayers' money to write a new one which the voters will probably turn down anyway. That's the same thing as taking the taxpayers' money out and burning it."

Kennedy Sets Forth Own Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, front runner for the Democratic nomination, set forth today a 12-point foreign policy program which he said would reverse the United States from "the increasing deterioration of America's world position."

Jury Indicts Two Youths In Holdups Here

Three indictments for armed robbery were returned against H. C. Florence, 17, Pampa, and Danny Royce Wilmon, 18, Lefors, yesterday by the Grand Jury.

Death For Castro Foe

SANTIAGO, Cuba, (UPI)—Rebel Capt. Manuel Beaton, a bitter foe of Premier Fidel Castro, was convicted of high treason by a military court today and sentenced to death before a firing squad.

The tribunal also found Beaton guilty of murder, sedition and conspiracy at a short trial held just three days after his capture in the Sierra Maestra, the mountains in eastern Cuba which had been Castro's main base of operations before he toppled the regime of Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

His brother Cipriano and fellow rebel Felipe Martinez Norma also received the death penalty.

Beaton's capture late Saturday night by Castro militiamen in Oriente Province climaxed a two-month search for him.

WILL GO TO RUSSIA — Oliver Powers, father of the captured U-2 pilot Francis G. Powers, is questioned by newsmen as he leaves the passport office of the State Department after obtaining a passport. Powers said he was going to Russia to see his son in about 60 days and, in a voice choking with emotion, asked reporters to stop bothering him.

Ike Engulfed By Filipinos

MANILA (UPI)—A spectacular crowd approaching two million shouting cheering, flag-waving Filipinos engulfed President Eisenhower in an enthusiastic welcome today at the start of his two-week tour of Asia.

The President responded by assuring the Philippines and all the Orient that any differences among true allies can be negotiated in the tremendous welcome at the end of Eisenhower's flight from Alaska was the greatest ever seen in this pro-American island republic.

It surpassed all expectations and got the President's Asian tour off to a rousing start. Eisenhower was obviously highly pleased and heartened by the welcome. Observers felt it proved his advisers had been correct in insisting that he make the trip despite violent objections from some groups in Japan and Congress.

Eisenhower's jet landed first at Clark Air Force Base, where he switched to the propeller-driven Columbine III for the 60-mile flight to Manila's International Airport. He was greeted there by Philippines President Carlos P. Garcia.

They inspected a guard of honor and exchanged friendly greetings. Eisenhower told the welcoming crowd that no "petty differences" would ever divide the United States and the Philippines.

Then they drove in triumph through the heart of Manila, cheered by huge throngs. Masses of enthusiastic people had blocked traffic in downtown Manila for hours, and when President Eisenhower and his host appeared through a rain of ticker tape the cheers were deafening. Police and Philippine Constabulary troopers with rifles and pistols were stationed every 15 yards. (See FILIPINOS, Page 3)

He has no idea of his fate," he said in a paraphrase of the letter. "But he understands that he will be tried for espionage according to Soviet law."

Baugh said Powers had urged his wife to visit him in Russia. He said Soviet authorities had told him any of his relatives would be welcome. The pilot's father, Oliver Powers, obtained a Soviet visa Monday for such a visit.

Powers added, according to Baugh, that it would do him "more good" to have his wife and relatives by him during and after his trial than now. It was uncertain whether Mrs. Powers will go to Russia and if so when she will depart.

Johnson, Daniel Try To Head Off Texas Dem Split

One Faction Balking At Party Oath

AUSTIN (UPI)—A last ditch showdown effort to avoid an open break in the state Democratic convention on the party loyalty pledge was reported underway today at a top level meeting in the governor's mansion with liberal labor leaders.

Only an hour before the opening gavel of the convention at 10 a. m., Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Gov. Price Daniel were reported making last-minute overtures to prevent an embarrassing split in the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention.

About a dozen cars were parked inside the grounds at the governor's mansion, several of them prominently bearing stickers booming Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Johnson's stake in the convention was a big one—carrying Texas' 51 votes to the national convention month in unified support of his thus-far unannounced bid for the presidency. A rump delegation, if it materialized, would embarrass Johnson's chances on the national level.

Johnson radiated from a tremendous welcome given him Monday night at a rousing Texas-style rally booming him for president. The Senate majority leader, his arms outstretched and his fingers flashing the "V for Victory" sign, received 40 rounds of applause. (See JOHNSON, Page 3)

City Directory Work Under Way

The Hudspeth Directory Co. of El Paso and Dallas is now in Pampa taking a census for the new Pampa City Directory which will be ready for distribution the latter part of this year.

Chamber of Commerce officials urge that the public give complete cooperation in the survey so the directory will contain a complete listing of residents. The directory is published every 18 months by the Hudspeth Co. through special arrangement with the Chamber and Board of City Development.

Powers Silent Regarding Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A distraught Virginia shoemaker, Oliver Powers, today imposed a barrier of silence around his forthcoming trip to visit his U-2 pilot son imprisoned as a spy in Russia.

Powers, 55, from the cross-roads community of Norton, Va., Monday obtained a passport from the State Department and a visa from the Soviet embassy for the trip sanctioned by Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The cobbler told newsmen he would go to Russia in about 40 days to see his only son, Francis G. Powers, whose U-2 high-altitude spy plane was brought down far inside Russia on May 1. When he made the announcement to reporters, his voice was filled.

"I want to be left alone," he pleaded. The Rev. Ronald Hubbard was named permanent chairman of the organization and authorized to appoint a public relations committee and resolutions committee to assist him.

Argentina To Petition UN On Eichmann

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Argentina probably will request a United Nations Security Council meeting to seek the return of former Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann from Israel, informed sources said today.

The formal request was expected to be made later this week. There still was a chance, however, that Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion and Argentine President Arturo Frondisi might meet on their separate tours of Europe and come to an agreement that would make U.N. action unnecessary.

Argentine Ambassador Mario Amadeo arrived from Buenos Aires Monday with instructions he said he was "not at liberty to divulge."

He was expected to ask the council to declare that Israel violated Argentine sovereignty when it seized Eichmann in Buenos Aires last month and brought him to Israel to face trial for the wartime murders of millions of Jews. Argentina already has demanded Eichmann's return in a note to Israel.

150 Attend Meeting Court Backers Win Supporters

More than 150 interested persons, about half of them men, helped get the idea of a domestic relations court for Gray County and Pampa under way in a meeting at the Cabot Auditorium in the Hughes Building Monday night.

The Rev. Ronald Hubbard was named permanent chairman of the organization and authorized to appoint a public relations committee and resolutions committee to assist him. Judge Lewis Goodrich voiced his objections to the idea of a domestic relations court after two guest speakers had appeared and were questioned by the audience.

Judge H. M. Hood, of the Hutchinson County Domestic Relations Court at Borger, explained the operations of his court to the group. "We don't wait for cases to come to us," Judge Hood said. "We get out and hear the bushes for them. If any case comes to our attention, we go out and handle it immediately."

Guy Haslett of Borger, a former state representative, explained to the group the necessary legislation that was required to establish a domestic relations court. Judge Goodrich seemed to think we were trying to put something over on the people," said Mrs. A. D. Hills, head of a women's group which first established the idea of installing a domestic relations court in Pampa.

"We're not and we can't. The people have to vote on it before a court can be established. So a group of women can't put something over on the people."

Mrs. Hills also emphasized that a large percentage of the group was men. "Women aren't entirely responsible for this," she said. "If you looked at the audience, you could tell that about half the people there were men."

Rev. Hubbard is expected to call a large demonstration of pro-Western citizens for Eisenhower's arrival. The country's second largest union, the Japan Labor Federation, announced it would go along with a request from Premier Nobusuke Kishi and welcome Eisenhower.

It said it opposed the idea of Eisenhower coming at this time but since he is a state guest "we should welcome him."

Many Changes In "Old Glory" Since Then Flag Authorized By Congress 183 Years Ago

By VIRGINIA IRWIN Daily News Staff Writer Today is Flag Day. This particular date was chosen because on this day 183 years ago, the first "Stars and Stripes" was ordered by the Continental Congress. "We meet to celebrate Flag Day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation," said President Woodrow Wilson in 1917. "We celebrate the day of its birth; and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people."

When properly made, the flag has perfect design and proportions. It is exactly one-half as broad as it is long, and the first and last stripe is red. The blue field for the stars is as broad and wide as the first seven stripes, and the stars are placed in centered rows with four rows of six stars each and five rows of five stars each. When the 50-star flag becomes official, there will be five rows of six stars each and four rows of five stars each.

No Place For Problems in Ike's Philippine Celebration

By WILLIAM D. MILLER
United Press International

MANILA (UPI)—President Eisenhower's visit to the Philippines June 14-18 will be one big three-day homecoming celebration.

Whatever the current Philippine-American problems—and there are several—there were no apparent plans to bring them up here for discussion with the American President.

The problem in neighboring Japan may be anti-American demonstrations during his visit; the problem here is holding back the mass of Eisenhower admirers and old friends.

Eisenhower served in the Philippines as an aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the late 1930s as an Army major and later as a lieutenant colonel.

And he may be surprised to learn how popular he was those two decades ago. Manila newspapers have been running frontpage accounts of his career in the Philippines—usually MacArthur pictures with Ike in the background. And he is expected to run into a constant question: "Mr. President, don't you remember me?"

Present plans call for Eisenhower to address the Philippine Congress, which will be called back into special session and to address an expected 1,000,000 Filipinos at a giant rally in Manila.

He may visit Baguio and Corregidor. If he plays golf, probably would be at the mountain resort town of Baguio, about a 45-minute plane ride from Manila.

Eisenhower will hit Manila's hottest season, and when it is hot here it is very hot. Also humid. Barring an unexpected typhoon the temperatures will be well above 100.

Eisenhower will see a far different Manila than he knew in the 1930s. The famed old Spanish section, walled by 400-year-old forts, was destroyed in the 1944 battle of Manila. In its place is a booming modern city which towers above the old Spanish churches, canals and walls.

Most people think Manila is the capital of the Philippines but legally it is Quezon City, an eastern suburb. There are about 24,000,000 Filipinos.

The Philippines are made up of 7,100 islands, most of them less than a mile square. The biggest are Luzon, where Manila is located, and Mindanao. Manila Bay is the most harbor in the East and, was where Dewey defeated the Spanish fleet in 1898.

From the foreign editor's notebook:

Political Skills:
Tokyo reports say it is beginning to look more and more as if Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is on the way out. Kishi's action in ramming the U.S.-Japan mutual security treaty through Parliament created a political storm, touched off month-long rioting and created grave doubts about the advisability of President Eisenhower going through with his visit to Japan June 18. Now sources close to Kishi say privately there is a good chance he will resign after the President's visit.

Red Tape:
Organizing press coverage for an Eisenhower tour is always a mighty job. But in the Orient, where red tape was invented, the job is even mightier. Example: Foreign Office and U.S. State Department officials were escorting newsmen on a dress rehearsal of the visit the other day. All went well until the group got to the imperial palace. The guards wouldn't let them through the gates despite the show of passes and top credentials. When the party got to the Washington Heights area, the State Department representatives couldn't get the group past the sentries.

High Diplomacy:
Disregarding Japan's political turmoil, a senior Asian member of the Tokyo diplomatic corps is circulating a petition among the members asking the Foreign Office to exempt foreign diplomats from paying the 10-yen (28 cents) parking meter fees. A question of diplomatic immunity.

Harrassing Tactics:
East German Communist are drawing up plans to eliminate elevated railway traffic in West Berlin. The Communists control elevated train service for both sectors of the divided city. The elevated is the city's principal means of transportation.

Tradition Breaker:
Some organizers of the World Eucharistic Congress opening in Munich, Germany, on July 31, are hopeful that Pope John XXIII will break another tradition and attend the congress. One million faithful are expected to attend the meeting. The Pope himself will make the final decision.

Pampa Youth Saved, Friend Drowned In Sand Lake Outing

Robert Roberson, 12, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Claude Roberson, Pampa, was rescued Sunday after the boat in which he was riding capsized, drowning his fishing companion, Cliff Harper, 38, Comanche, Okla., on Sand Spur Lake, eight miles southeast of McLean.

Verne Mangum, Kellerville, who was fishing along the shore of the lake, dove in when he heard cries for help and swam to the boy. As he brought the boy to shore, his nephew, Terry Mangum, swam out to meet them with an inflated air mattress.

Harper's boat capsized about 50 yards from shore at about 7:30 p.m. Recovery operations began about 9:15 p.m., and the body was recovered about 11:55 p.m.

Three boats were used to drag the lake. Assisting in the operations were the highway patrol, Gray County and Wheeler County sheriff's departments, and rescue units from fire departments in Wheeler, Shamrock, Pampa and McLean.

A sudden storm springing up on the peaceful evening capsized the boat, which was made from two automobile hoods welded together and was designed for use in frogging close to shore.

Officers said other fishermen at the lake had cautioned Harper against taking the shallow-draft boat into deep water.

Funeral services for Harper will be held in Comanche.

Senate Told Reds Have 300,000 In World Spy Rings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet Union, Red China and their Communist allies have a trained elite corps of at least 300,000 espionage and security agents operating throughout the world, the State Department advised a blue-ribbon Senate committee Monday.

The department sent a blueprint of Red espionage to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which held hearings on the explosive U. S. U-2 spy plane incident.

"There has never been a government in history which has placed heavier emphasis on espionage," the report said of the Soviet Union.

The report said that in addition to regular Soviet spy agents, the Communist cause is abetted "by members of foreign Communist parties, numbering some 4,000,000 adherents in the free world."

"It is plain that the Soviet Union has a vast head start in the acquisition of what might be described as intelligence data regarding the United States and the free world," the department document said.

It was sent to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) made it public in connection with the committee's inquiry into the U-2 spy plane incident and the summit collapse.

"There can be no doubt as to the scope and scale of the Soviet espionage effort directed against the free world as a whole," the report said.

"It has been reliably estimated that within the Communist bloc and the free world some 300,000 trained officers serve in the 27 intelligence and security services of the Sino-Soviet bloc states."

The department also reported that 360 persons in 11 free world countries have been convicted of espionage on behalf of the Kremlin in recent years. Included were 23 in the United States.

Optimists Install Officers

Homer Hollars was installed as president of the Pampa Optimist Club in ceremonies held last night during a dinner meeting of the club at Poole's Steak House.

Harry Castle, lieutenant governor of Zone C, was a guest at the affair which saw King R. (Bill) Dodd honored as "Optimist of the Year."

The club's selection for "Optimist of the Month" went to Eddie Lowrance.

In addition to Hollars, the Optimists installed vice presidents Larry Parsley and Bill Jenkins; secretary-treasurer John Pharr; and directors Bill Brady, Bill McDonald, Herman Jeter, Ollie Wilhelm, Virgil Frasher, Newt Secrest, and Melton Burns.

Secrest, the outgoing president, was presented a gift by the club members in recognition of his services during his tenure of office.

Floyd Watson acted as installing officer at the ceremonies. Guests in addition to the Lt. Governor included three members of the Breakfast Club, president Kendall Green, Henry Gindorf, and Vincent Simon.

The Optimists and their guests heard John Schofield give a summary of the club's progress in the past three years. The three lighted baseball parks at Optimist Park, the Boys Club building, and a number of youth programs which include Little and Pony League baseball, amateur boxing, boys' oratorical contests, bicycle safety week, Ophi-Mites bowling, and Pee-Wee basketball were cited as outstanding achievements of the group.

Reed Service Set Wednesday

Funeral services for Noah Walter Reed of Miami will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in First Christian Church, Miami, with the Rev. Howard Grant, Jr., pastor, and the Rev. Therman O. Uphaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, Pampa, officiating.

11 Pilots Face Contempt Trial

MIAMI (UPI)—A federal district judge hears a contempt of court motion today against 11 Eastern Air Lines pilots accused of master-minding a wildcat strike of pilots that is costing the airline $200,000 daily in gross revenue.

The men are accused of violating a restraining order which Judge Joseph Lieb issued June 7 barring the pilots from striking in a dispute with the Federal Aviation Agency over seating arrangements for FAA inspectors.

FILIPINOS

Eisenhower stood in the convertible and vigorously waved both hands and flashed his famous smile.

Filipinos lined the streets 20-feet deep shouting "I like Ike."

The welcome was a far cry from the one expected in Japan where leftists had threatened to try to block his arrival Sunday with violent demonstrations.

Police estimated that more than 500,000 Filipinos turned out to cheer the return of Eisenhower to the country where he once served as a young army officer. The estimate was considered conservative.

However, they agreed to wait until Gordon returns from his vacation and discuss the matter in greater length with him before deciding whether to hire McAdams or not.

"At that time it was understood that certain funds would have to be allocated to the charter commission to get the job done," Myatt said.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is with the Army in Germany, sent me a beautiful cuckoo clock. He paid $14 for it and said it would cost about $45 here. All his relatives who have seen it have gone wild over it and want one like it. Maybe I am selfish but I don't want all his relatives to have the same cuckoo clock I have. It's the only thing in my house that isn't ordinary. Should I tell them I would rather they didn't get one? Or should I say, "O.K., go ahead?" They know how much it costs and that my husband can get it for them because like a fool, I told them. Now what?

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this for the person who was in doubt about what kind of housework a man who is "all man" should do. I am not bragging and I am not complaining, but I have washed dishes, dried them, set the table, scrubbed and waxed floors, vacuumed, dusted, made the beds, done the washing, hung it out and ironed it, given the kids their baths, fed the baby, diapered him and put him to bed. My wife has this routine every day and I wouldn't be much of a man if I didn't help her out. I don't know what the person means by "all man" but I am six feet two, weigh 215 and am the father of two boys and a girl.

DEAR CUCKOO MYSELF: DEAR CUCKOO: Since you advertised the price and availability, you can't very well tell them you don't want them to have the cuckoo clocks (unless you want to be a dirty bird). The damage is done. Order the clocks and every time you visit a relative, the cuckoo will come out to remind you every 15 minutes how cuckoo you were for opening your beak.

DEAR ABBY: Is it often that a patient falls in love with her family physician, because I have fallen in love with mine. Ever since I have known him (three years), I have wanted desperately to kiss him. I don't know why. I'm sure I don't affect him the same way. I would like to get this feeling over with. Would it be wrong to tell him how I feel about him? Or should I just try to forget it? I am 33 and married.

DEAR ABBY: Love (the romantic kind) is a mutual thing. What you feel is undoubtedly gratitude and hero-worship, combined with the appeal of forbidden fruit. Don't embarrass him by revealing your feelings if you can't over come it—find another doctor (How about a woman?)

DEAR ABBY: My best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager", is on sale at all book stores.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
She was just 3 years old. On a vacation trip with her father she developed measles. He was her nurse. Though her memories of the illness itself are vague, she vividly recalls the first day she was permitted out of bed.

Her father celebrated it by hiding a fig in her hotel room. It was, he told her, wrapped in shining paper of emerald green; but before she could undertake her search for it, he warned her that she'd need a magic incantation.

So, as she started looking under chairs, dressers, her bed, she repeated the poem he'd taught her. It went like this:
"Oh, elves and fairies wherever you are,
I have grown quite pale and lean,
So please give me back my rosy cheeks
With a fig dressed in emerald green."

As clearly as though it were yesterday, she remembers the other poems that sped her subsequent delighted searches for figs wrapped in brown, blue, red and golden foil.

I know she remembers them because I was the little girl. If you are a young parent, I hope that you can recall similar delighted memories of your early childhood. It is wise to recover them into fullest consciousness in order to recover full appreciation of their importance to you. Otherwise you may neglect to create the same kind of memories for your own little boys and girls.

Relationship to them is not developed by good "baby and child care" no matter how conscientious it is. As small ones, we can be fed, clothed, scrubbed, nursed and disciplined without ever feeling the greenness of routine break into active delight in our parents—into the moment of contact with the special quality of a father or mother that makes them unique for us. And gives us the basis of abiding love.

Today, we are so anxious to deliver the proper "baby and child care" that we don't take the time to create these moments with children. We're so anxious to get home from the supermarket we don't stop to suggest stroking the pussy willows in the park outside the flower shop. We don't think of pretending that the stroller is a pumpkin coach.

To blend with the brilliant citrus color of summer, this girl chooses a coral nail polish with matching lipstick. Another bright color for both polish and lipstick this summer is violet-pink.

New Lipstick Color Adds Bright Dash

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

If you think the white lipsticks and nail polishes were extreme, wait until you see what's coming next. Brown, no less! And lipstick with matching polish.

Now, most beauty houses know full well that brown lipstick isn't for every woman. Only a small percentage of the female population will take to it, fortunately. So happily, they've given you some pretty new shades to pick from for summer.

These colors fall into two general categories: the coral group, and the pink-to-parma group. The corals are planned for wear with the citrus colors which always bloom in the summer. They'll be right, too, for the wet sand and pale beige shades. And they'll also be seen with greens ranging from pale to emerald.

For the blues and pinks and whites of summer, there are the pink to parma lipsticks and nail polishes. The new shades have been done, of course, in both plain and iridescent pearl types.

When you buy lipstick and polish, be guided both by your skin tones and the colors in your wardrobe. Then you'll never end up with a shade that's glaringly wrong for you.

Polly's Quiz

Dear Polly: Our house is a century old. I am now redecorating the library which has rose carpeting and wicker day bed covered with rose tufted velvet. We have a white wicker desk and two white wicker rockers with green cushions sprinkled with tiny rosebuds.

Would you use white walls and colored woodwork? Or should the woodwork be white? I've been advised that white woodwork in a house this age. What kind of curtains? Mrs. C. W. U.

Dear Mrs. C. W. U.: You've been given bad advice. Old American houses used the most delightful colors for walls, woodwork and paneling. Colonial Williamsburg is a fine example.

With your pleasant furnishings, white walls would be best. Paint the woodwork a soft, grayed green. Use simple white curtains with tabs of fabric to slip over the rods.

Dear Polly: While I was trying to blow out a candle, I spattered hot wax all over the top of our mahogany TV set. How shall I remove it?—V. R. V.

Dear V. R. V.: Loosen the wax deposit with a dull silver knife. Usually, the remaining film will wash away with warm, mild soapuds. Dry thoroughly.

If this fails, rub spots with a cloth dampened with carbon tetrachloride. After either method, polish or wax as usual.

Dear Polly: Our living room and dinette have gray walls and woodwork. Sofa and chair are black with silver threads. What color shall I use for draperies and rug? What color should we use to slip cover another chair?—E. H.

Dear E. H.: How drab your room sounds! It badly needs both color and warmth. Try gold draperies and carpet. Toss some deep green, white and lacquer red cushions on that black sofa. The new chair cover should be a print in gold and lacquer red on a pale gray ground.

Dear Polly: I have mahogany furniture and Oriental rugs. I like blue walls in my living room and dining room. What color drapes and furniture covers should I use? I have a sofa and two chairs. —Mrs. A. L. R.

Dear Mrs. A. L. R.: Play up the jewel-like tones in your rugs, have soft blue curtains that will blend in with the wall color. The slip cover for your sofa could repeat a glowing red from the rug. Use pale beige-and-blue stripes for the other two chairs.

Curious children often drink from strange bottles around the house. If a child drinks or eats something poisonous, call a doctor. Until he comes, have the child drink soapy water, mixed with baking soda or mustard. This induces vomiting which helps rid the stomach of the poison.

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The word from Capitol Hill on last week's Eisenhower-Rockefeller White House tussle: Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller did not read to the President the text of his criticism of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and of administration policy.

Rockefeller did not give Eisenhower a clear idea of what he had in mind other than that he would make a political statement. The governor took advantage of the President's strategy which could give the impression that Eisenhower knew what was coming but made no effort to stop it. Rockefeller, not the President, suggested last week's meeting. The significance of the meeting — of the fact that Eisenhower — constantly had agreed to see Rockefeller — should be understood in relation to this fact: The president feels obligated to receive any governor on request.

Most quoted wise crack of the week: "Rockefeller is the rich man's Stassen."

Harold E. Stassen organized a stop-Nixon movement before the 1956 Republican national convention. Like Rockefeller, Stassen first arranged to confer with Eisenhower at the White House. On leaving the President's office, Stassen fired his salvo at Nixon. This strategy enraged some Republicans and annoyed others. Rockefeller's anti-Nixon policy has had about the same effect.

There are indications that Eisenhower bears some resentment against Rockefeller. If so, the President is not alone in that feeling. Among the remarks of the week which obtained considerable currency and concurrence was this: "From Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.)."

That the senator could discern no difference between Rockefeller's approach to current issues and the approach of the Democratic presidential aspirants to those issues.

Conservative Republicans said Amen to that. The conservatives make a mistake, however, in brushing Rockefeller off as just another Stassen.

Stassen's political future was behind him in 1956 when he sought to lead an anti-Nixon crusade. He was not risking much because he had little to lose. Rockefeller has much to lose — and he has lost some of it by offending the party leaders who know that they must win this year on the Eisenhower record if they are to win at all.

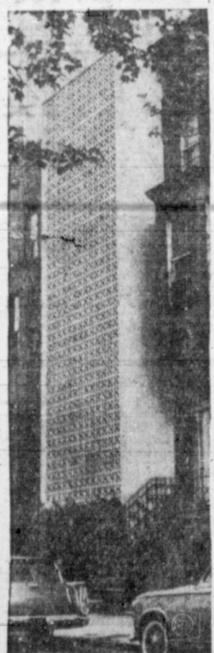

Rockefeller also has much to gain — and he probably has gained some of it in becoming an anti-Nixon, left-wing Republican symbol. That should make some political hay for him among the independents and among the Democrats.

If Nixon were nominated and defeated this year, and if Rockefeller were re-elected in 1962 as New York's governor, Rockefeller probably could win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

TRAINS USE HOSTESSES

DERBY, England (UPI) — The nationalized British Railways System will try out a new wrinkle in passenger relations this weekend at Derby's midland station.

Pretty hostesses will patrol the platforms, handing out timetables to anyone who wants to know when the next train is due.

Burdette Regains His Form To Down Giants For 3rd Straight, 12-5

United Press International
The World Series pitching heroes of 1957 and 1958 may be set to hurl the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees back to the heights.

They're Lew Burdette, the toast of Milwaukee in 1957, and Bob Turley, 21-game winner and Yankee Series minute man in 1958, and they're beginning to look like staff ace again after a wretched start this year.

Burdette, relegated to relief roles early in the season, scored his third straight win as a starter and raised his season mark to 6-2 Monday night with a 12-5 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Turley, who was dropped completely from Casey Stengel's pitching plans for a spell, gained his third consecutive victory and increased his record to 4-1 with an 8-4 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

The results of the only games played in the majors Monday moved the Braves to within 2 1/2 games of the National League lead and the streaking Yankees to within one game of first place in the American League.

Burdette started slowly and Turley finished in somewhat wobbly fashion but their overall performances were nevertheless of key importance to managers Charlie Dressen and the Yankees' Stengel.

Burdette encountered a four-run San Francisco outburst in the very first inning featured by a three-run homer by Orlando Cepeda. But he settled down thereafter to wind up with a route-going eight-hitter and the Braves' sluggers did the rest.

Turley, who shut out the Chicago White Sox in his previous start, carried a one-hit shutout into the eighth inning when the Athletics rallied for five hits and all their runs.

The Yankees had long since sailed the game away on the strength of an early attack that built a 7-0 lead in four innings. Bill Skowron homered and drove in four runs and Tony Kubek also homered for the Yankees.

In exhibition games, Herb Score pitched four-hit ball for five innings as the Chicago White Sox held the Chicago Cubs, 7-0, in six innings; the Pittsburgh Pirates downed Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, 8-2, and the Cleveland Indians edged the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4.

Cannon Caught In Middle Of Talent Battle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Billy Cannon is caught in the middle of a player talent battle between the established National Football League and the fledgling American Football League, according to his attorney.

A court session to decide whether he'll wind up with continues today before Judge William J. Lindberg, who is hearing the case without a jury.

Cannon was signed by both the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL and the Houston Oilers of the AFL. The Rams are seeking an injunction to keep him from playing with anyone but them.

The All-America halfback from Louisiana State University secretly signed with the Rams Nov. 30, 1959 — before playing his final college game in the Sugar Bowl. That contract called for him to receive $50,000 over three years and a bonus.

Chisox Trading Stamp Promotion Treat For Fans

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox plan to give away 1,000 cans of "Bill Veck's surprise dinner" to ladies attending the Sox' June 26 game against the Boston Red Sox.

Veck, White Sox president, announced Monday the club would hold its second annual trading stamp day on June 26. Stamps would go to all ladies attending and to ball players.

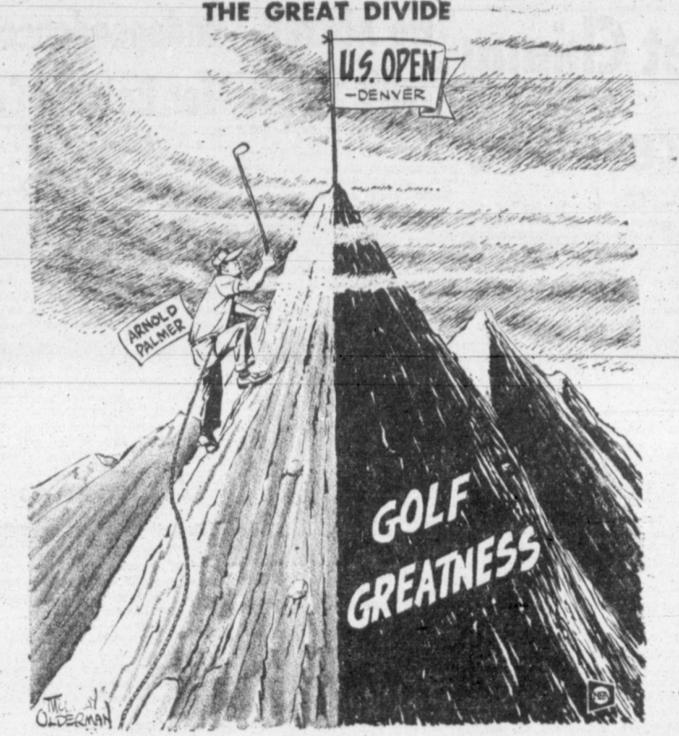

The Giants' complaint was filed in the district courts of Northern Mississippi and California. The suit is to come up in Mississippi later this month. The Giants, Eastern Division champions of the National Football League, hold a temporary injunction restraining Flowers from playing with the Chargers, an entry in the new American Football League.

McKeever now is general manager of the Boston Patriots in the AFL.

'The Hawk' Guns For Fifth Open Golf Championship

DENVER (UPI) — The shadow of "The Hawk" hung high over the U.S. Open golf championship today as the little man sought a record fifth triumph agreed with them.

Ben Hogan admitted that the men who picked him to leave ancient Willie Anderson and the immortal Bobby Jones in his wake could be right.

"I'm playing pretty well," the 45-year-old four-time winner from Texas confirmed as he "sliced out" his touch on the "putting green" at Cherry Hills Country Club where on Thursday he will start his quest for his tie-breaking fifth victory in golfing a "big one."

There is white flecking the hair at Bantam—Bena, Lempi, and yet, such is the magic of his touch with the golfing sticks, nobody is selling him short in this fairway jamboree which is about to get underway. Least of all, Bantam Ben.

"What do you mean I'm liable to tire in that second round on Saturday? He asked with some indignation. "Look up the records, and you'll see that always, and I mean always, I shoot my best round the second time around on Saturday."

Ben is high on the Cherry Hills course, which is a par 3566-71 of 7,094 yards which, because of the rare altitude in this mile high city with the snow-capped Rockies in the background, gives you 25 to 50 more yards on your drives.

"I've played a lot of opens," said the taut-jawed Texan, "and this is the first course which has been absolutely perfect. The fairways are wider by 15 to 20 yards than any course over which I have played in the Open. They contend, rightfully that the rough isn't too high, so I've got to figure it will be a low winning score."

Hogan holds the record — his winning 276 at California's Riviera Country Club in 1948 — and figures that it could be broken this time around.

Giants, Chargers Clash Over Signing Of Two Players

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ed McKeever, former Notre Dame coach, today was the center of the latest pro football controversy in which the New York Giants charged the newly-formed Los Angeles Chargers with "bribery, fraud, deceit and double dealing."

These accusations were contained in an amended complaint submitted by the Giants in their suit against the Chargers over the signing of All-America fullback Charley Flowers of Mississippi and Jim Varnado, a fullback from Southern University in Louisiana.

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Scowling Willie Hartack was laughing out loud today.

Willie won the Kentucky Derby aboard Venetian Way. Then, after the colt took a drubbing in the Preakness, he was jerked off the mount by trainer Vic Sovinski.

So Willie ("call me Bill") climbed aboard an outsider named Colby Ash and scored a smashing five and one-half length "smash" win over Venetian Way in the Belmont Stakes.

Did Sovinski do him a favor? "Not at all," snapped Willie after it was over with his usual sweetness and light. "He didn't do me any favor. I would have taken myself off that horse anyway."

But, whether you like him or not, you have to admit that the sharp-angled, little—57-year-old man from the Pennsylvania anthracite belt is quite a race rider. He is, some observers feel, a victim of his own rapid success.

For at 17 he was an undersized high school graduate who had wanted to be a major league baseball player but, lacking the stature, seemed consigned to a job as a messenger in a Johns town steel plant. There was a peed where, a rural dead end kid, he got by as well as he could by gambling and shooting craps.

Then a family friend suggested that he look for work at the race track. Certainly he was little enough, this handsome black-haired youngster who never backed up from anybody despite his lack of stature. When you're that little, particularly in an area where the kids usually come big and tough, you learn to scarp at an early age.

Willie went to Charles Town, W. Va., and picked up a job cleaning stalls. It was a long way in distance from the winner's circle at the Kentucky Derby, but not in a matter of time.

Hartack before long was working as an exercise boy and then, in 1952, he was given his first point. The third time out, Willie slashed his way to victory and almost overnight became one of the hottest riders on the half mile "bull rings" around West Virginia and Maryland.

There, he swiftly discovered, "there are a lot of tired old horses, the stewards aren't too strict and you can pretty much ride the way you want to."

Riding "practically much the way he wanted to, Willie was ready for the big time at the end of his first year. He had learned well about how to drive through

Lamotta First Ring Witness Before Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former middleweight champion Jake La Motta, with a death threat from the underworld hanging over his head, told Senate investigators today his 1947 fight loss to Billy Fox was "fixed."

La Motta testified that he was "play acting" when the referee stopped the Madison Square Garden bout in the 4th round and gave the victory to Fox on a TKO.

Grim-faced and tight-lipped, La Motta said he took the dive in exchange for a promise that "something might be arranged" to give him a shot at the middleweight crown.

La Motta said he had been offered $100,000 earlier to throw the fight, but had refused.

La Motta was subpoenaed as the opening witness in the long-awaited investigation of boxing by the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee. Before he took the stand, it was reported that an underworld figure had threatened his life.

The racketeer was said to have warned La Motta in a telephone call that he would be "hit in the head" if he talked freely to the investigators.

La Motta, one-time idol of thousands of youngsters and fight fans, said he decided to go along with the "fix" while he was in training for the Fox bout. He said his spieen was ruptured and he knew he would be in "difficulties" if Fox hit him hard there.

Actually, La Motta admitted under questioning, Fox did not harm him seriously before the TKO.

Directing the cross-examination was John G. Bonomi, former New York assistant district attorney who helped convict such racketeers as Gabriel Genovese, Frank Carbo and Johnny Dio during his career.

La Motta said he just stood

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson let out the big secret today. He said his new aggressive style had been adopted for training purposes only and not for use against Floyd Patterson in their return title fight Monday night.

Ingemar's surprising aggressiveness has been the widely publicized feature of this camp for the past five weeks as he prepared for his first defense of the crown.

His persistent attack — his relentless pressing of sparmates caused many observers here in the Catskills to believe he would tear into ex-champion Patterson Monday night and try for a quick knockout.

But he said today: "I changed my style in training this time to make me work hard — to make me throw a lot of punches in every round so I can go 15 rounds at top speed if necessary Monday night."

The fact that he is barging into his sparring partners doesn't mean that he's going to rush at Patterson in the first round, said the champion.

"What I do Monday night," he said, "depends on what he does. I'll be ready for anything. I'm in much better condition than last year. I'm an improved fighter, maybe 25 or 30 per cent."

How could he be improved, asked one of the 54 sports writers here, if he hadn't had a fight since last June 26, when he took the title from Patterson on a third-round TKO?

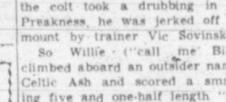

"I'm improved because I have more confidence," he explained, "and because I've trained about six weeks longer — in Europe — than I did last year. And I've practiced many new things since then."

There in the ring "helpless" while Fox threw a number of punches. Then "the referee stopped the fight."

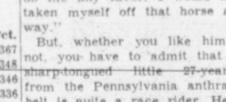

The controversial light-heavyweight match drew a storm of criticism from New York sports-writers, who charged that it was a "phony."

Sources said the hearings were moved up from August because of fear that something might happen to La Motta and because of increasing underworld resistance to the whole investigation.

Dysentery Deaths Reveal State Institutions' Plight

EDITORS NOTE: Wisconsin authorities disclosed recently that in the past two years, a bacillus-caused disease, shigella dysentery, had raged through the state's Southern Colony and Training School at Union Grove, Wis., and had been the primary or secondary cause of half of the 108 deaths at the institution in the past 24 months. To find what lay behind this death rate, United Press International sent a reporter to the colony. Here is what he found.

By JAMES S. BROOKS
United Press International
UNION GROVE, Wis. (UPI)—In Wisconsin's Southern Colony and Training School, built for 1,224 patients, there are almost 1,800.

More than 900 of these must be fed from spoons three times a day. They must be fitted with diapers. Someone must be at hand always to see they do not hurt themselves or others.

These are the mentally retarded of the charges of the state of Wisconsin. And Wisconsin's problems with them, and record in caring for them, is little different from those of the 49 other states of the union. In fact, the attention and concern shown in this state probably are far greater than in some.

This was why, after the Memorial Day weekend revelations of death and suffering from bacillus-borne disease at the Southern Colony, that Supt. John M. Garstecki got letters.

"Institution superintendents from all over the country have written sympathizing with what has happened," he told United Press International. "They all say they have experienced or are experiencing the same thing."

During the weekend, Gov. Galbreath Nelson in a speech mentioned illness among patients at the colony. The UPI found that at various times in the past two years shigella dysentery had raged through the colony, causing 1,500 to 1,800 cases of the bacillary disease, and Garstecki estimated it had been primary or secondary cause of half of the 108 deaths in the institution in the previous 24 months.

In these days when almost daily newspapers tell of some new advance in science against age-old problems of disease and its treatment, how can these things be?

It is not for lack of effort—not here, at any rate. Fredericka Bardwell chief psychologist, reported to the Board of Public Welfare this year. "Today, there is hope for these people, and we have made wonderful progress—it's just that we have so much farther to go," she said, and to emphasize, she told the colony in 1947:

"There was a prevailing tone of sobriety and quietude interrupted occasionally by the raucous, screeches or verbal barages of patients. Beneath the apparent calm there was a rampant sense of apprehension and intrigue... those were the days when patients, who had no program and did not participate in institutional upkeep, produced a motley sight seated or tied to benches which were lined against the walls and, if nothing else, they learned to be silent when silence was demanded."

But... —The budget allows for 28 nurses. Only 21 can be found to hold the jobs, and Garstecki believes 75 are needed.

A nursery that contains "a whole constellation of medical rarities" houses 31 children where there should be only 20. How do you prevent disease in this situation?

There are five staff positions for doctors, and a salary for an inexperienced medical school graduate amounts to more than $10,000 annually for a job with a 40-hour week. According to Dr. Louis J. Placek, the colony's medical director, the work "lacks prestige and too many young doctors feel it is the fatigue in private practice who turn to institutional work."

In the wards designed for the most severely handicapped there are 130 patients where there should be only 108. Some need cribs, because they will fall out of beds without sides. The cribs are inches instead of feet apart.

—The recreational area is used as a dormitory.

And Garstecki recalled that a basic medical text told of shigella dysentery as a disease "common in concentration camps, army barracks and overcrowded mental institutions."

The number of patients, and the type, combine to cause such outbreaks as the one which turned attention here. Before the discovery of anti-biotics and the "wonder drugs," the life span of a deficient child who also was suffering from physical impairment was brief. Many died in infancy, others did not last beyond their juvenile years.

Today, there are "children" at Southern Colony who were born 80 years ago. The average age of the patients is 15. Many are far into their 30's and 40's. "Today," said Mrs. Bardwell, "the patients are arriving at a younger age, many of them with multiple handicaps and most of them with handicaps that are more severe than they ever were before. They are mentally retarded and additionally are suffering from physical and mental sicknesses in many cases."

Wisconsin has spent 10 million dollars on development of facilities here in the past 10 years. The current $3,500,000 budget breaks down into a per capita expenditure of $190 per patient per month. The retarded still are not receiving adequate treatment.

The institutions in America are doing the best they can with what they have to work with," said Garstecki. "But they don't get the attention they need. Every institution wants to do a good job and they have staffs vitally interested in their work. They can do a good job if they have the staff, the equipment and the buildings they have to have. It all boils down to one question: give us the money and we'll do the job."

"The job" is one to frighten any but the dedicated souls who work in places like Union Grove. Some ask the inevitable question: why keep these children alive?

"Well, not only because they are human beings and therefore deserve such care, but because of what medical science may do for them in the future," said Garstecki.

"We are just waking up to the problems of the retarded. We're making progress, but we're still many years behind the times. How do we know what medical research will uncover in the next 10 years? How do we know how many of these children will have a chance to live full lives?"

"Would you be willing to serve on a board to decide who lives and who dies?"

VIENNA, Austria (UPI)—The Austrian government has completed arrangements for the week-long visit by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev beginning June 20 and sent a copy to Moscow for approval, a government spokesman reported Sunday.

Police plan the most stringent security measures in the history of Austria for the protection of Khrushchev. There are some 60,000 refugees from Communist-dominated East Europe in Austria.

SEUL, Korea (UPI)—Communist anti-aircraft guns fired "several rounds" at United Nations Command plane south of the demilitarized zone last Saturday, the UNC announced today. The announcement noted the Communists had called for a meeting of the secretaries of the Joint Armistice Commission on Wednesday and "it is presumed... will protest an alleged violation" by the plane.

EVERYWHERE BUT DELAWARE—With the exception of Delaware, there are TV broadcasting facilities in every state of the Union, and in Puerto Rico and Guam, too. There are "fringe benefits" for those close enough to scan some of Canada's 68 stations and three Mexican stations—one near El Paso, Tex.; two near the California border. Pending action on applications for TV channels in Delaware, transmitters in Maryland and Pennsylvania reach nicely. State totals include noncommercial educational stations, and stations with construction permits which reported plans to start this year. Data: Television Digest and selected sources.

Where Ten Miles are a Revelation!

As far as distance is concerned, it may not sound like much of a journey. But even a brief acquaintance with the "car of cars" constitutes a revelation in modern motoring.

You sense this the instant you settle into the driver's seat. For comfort and spaciousness and luxury have never been more beautifully combined in a motor car. And then you turn the key—press your toe to the accelerator—and the seat cushion presses against your shoulders to announce you're off!

The car rolls out into the city's traffic in extraordinary silence. The steering wheel moves as if your hands had been blessed with a magic touch.

Then, as the city streets blend into more spacious boulevards, Cadillac's magnificent riding qualities come more keenly to notice.

You seem almost to float over the highway. Any flaws in its surface are simply absorbed before they can make themselves known.

The car moves with an incredible feeling of substance and solidity—and with an inbred sense of mastery over the roadway.

Why not visit your dealer this week—and see for yourself how truly inspiring a motor car can be. He'll be happy to lend you the keys for the ten most memorable miles of the year!

Dow Jones Gains At Highest Ever

By ELMER C. WALZER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here we have a stock market that breaks records, yet doesn't get as much news attention as Fidel Castro does when he wiggles his ears.

Last week industrial stocks had their best weekly gain in the history of the Dow-Jones averages.

These averages go back to Jan. 1, 1897. Certainly with prices what they were back in those days—41 for the industrials and about 52 for the rails—there never was a gain previously to match last week's 25.90 points.

The news of this wide gain was carried on the financial pages but there were no banner lines proclaiming it from Page One.

Back in 1929 when on Dec. 7, the market showed a weekly gain of 24.51 points, the previous record, the news was all over Page One. And that's all one heard in the speakeasies, on the streets, in the clubs, and even the churches.

What's the matter with this market? Has it lost its news value? Aren't the people interested?

Answering these in order: There is nothing the matter with the market. Newspapers are giving the market all the space it deserves, and people are interested.

The fact that this market isn't making Page One with the streamers across the top of the page is that for its size it isn't performing as did the market of 1929, the market that made big news. This is an investment market which isn't as romantic as a speculative one that moves wildly.

When that market of the week ending Dec. 7, 1929 hit the front pages it was a rally that came after three months of decline which had knocked industrials down 142.22 points from the record high set Sept. 3, and the rails 43.22 points from their record of 189.11 set the same day.

In that 1929 week sales totalled 22,854,000 shares. If this market were to record similar sales in proportion to its listings they'd have to total 138 million shares for a week. The 1929 week rally amounted to 10 per cent. Last week's rise was only 4 per cent.

Back in 1929, by December, listings had just reached the billion share mark. Today they are above six billion. Back there the market was turning over its listings by 119 per cent. The current market is running at 12 per cent of listings.

In the three months of 1929—September through November—the period before that big Dec. 7 weekly gain, sales aggregated 314,184,000 shares. That's only 50 million fewer than the market so far this year—in about five and a half months.

Of course, that period of 1929

NEW YORK (UPI)—The economy has more vitality now than at any period in recent history, according to the International Statistical Bureau.

This vitality undoubtedly is the result of a healthy population growth, industrial creativity, the revolution in income distribution and the relative stability in prices and expanding consumer demand, the bureau pointed out.

This has been clearly indicated by the fact that the impact of the greatest declines in steel activity during a comparatively short period, has been very limited, it was noted. "The lower building and construction rates and lagging freight traffic have also had only a nominal effect."

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. recommends Pitney-Bowes which recently recorded a new high. Technical indications suggest a price level well above represented the blackest period of market history in the memory of anyone around today. It was the beginning of the end of an era of speculation the like of which hasn't been seen before or since. For some it was the end of the world. Little wonder then, that the markets hit Page One.

CLARE LUCE ILL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Author-playwright Clare Boothe Luce was "too ill" Monday night to appear at a women's club banquet where she and six other prominent women were to be honored. A convention spokesman said Mrs. Luce, former ambassador to Italy, wired from New York that she was unable to attend. The nature of her illness was not disclosed.

HEADS NUCLEAR SOCIETY

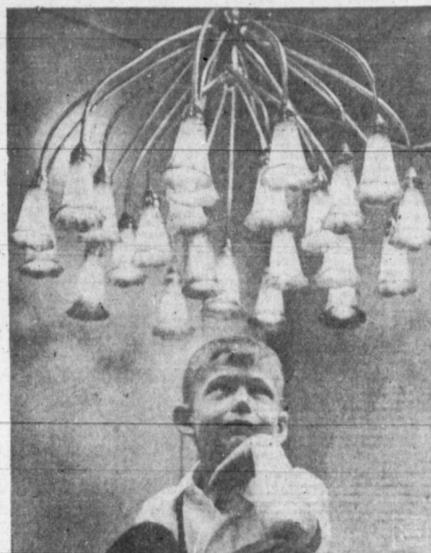

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dr. Miles C. Leverett of Cincinnati Monday was named president of the American Nuclear Society, the nation's largest group of nuclear scientists and engineers.

Leverett, a General Electric scientist, helped Dr. Enrico Fermi build the world's first nuclear reactor at the University of Chicago in 1942, and later worked on the atomic bomb at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Increases in maize yields up to 2000 lbs. per acre

Well-known West Texas farmers like W.C. LACY and SON side dress 90 to 100 lbs. ammonia on maize

W. C. Lacy of Hart, who farms 575 acres with his son, Bill Lacy, reports: "Side dressing Phillips 66 Ammonia on our maize crops has given us yield increases of 1500 to 2000 pounds per acre. We apply 90 to 100 pounds of ammonia per acre on maize land. Last year I didn't apply ammonia on 8 rows of maize. When this maize was about knee high it started firing at the bottom. We went back and put ammonia down on the rows, and they greened up right away. Believe me, ammonia makes a big difference on crops around here." Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) produces more high grade lint; (2) increases maize yields; (3) boosts wheat and small grain yields; (4) stimulates forage production.
