Castro Set To Take Over U.S.-Owned Sugar Mills

Confiscation Is Expected After Ike Signs Sugar Bill

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government prepared to seize all United States owned sugar mills in reprisal against U.S. cuts in the Cuban sugar quota. Informed sources believed that confiscation will follow as soon as President Eisenhower signs legislation empowering him to reduce or eliminate Cuba's share of the U.S. sugar market. After that, they believe all other American property here probably will be seized.

Among the most likely target for immediate seizure are the $300 million Cuban Electric Co., which is half owned by the American and Foreign Power Co., and the $125 million Cuban Telephone Co., about 65 per cent of whose stock is owned by the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The Commodity Stabilization Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture suspended all Cuban sugar imports Tuesday in a preliminary move. There was no doubt here that Eisenhower is going to make a slash in the remainder of Cuba's 1960 sugar quota.

The sources said that as soon as the President formalizes the import cut, Castro will start a "clean sweep" of American properties here.

The first step will be nationalization of the sugar mills in accordance with powers granted Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos at a cabinet session that ended in the early hours this morning.

The most immediate effect of Castro's nationalization powers will be to build a hotter fire under rapidly deteriorating Cuban-American relations.

It will intensify the latent but increasingly open anti-Americanism by Cubans as the culmination of 18 months of thorough brainwashing by Castro's propaganda machinery. This has been feeding out a steady flow of "down with Yankee imperialism" themes through the controlled press, radio, magazines, pamphlets and speeches.

All morning newspapers here gave top billing to Castro's new power, whereas the U.S. Agriculture Department's action got secondary play.

Sugar union leader Conrado Becquer said Monday that 37 of 161 mills are American owned, with a value of $260 million.

Taking over of the mills probably will mean complete cessation of sugar imports by the

Ike Says Khrushchev Crude, Meddlesome

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower charged today that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is making very crude attempts to interfere in the American presidential election.

The President told a news conference, however, that he did not believe the Democrats or Republicans were going to try to take advantage of Khrushchev's intervention.

The chief executive also told reporters he would be ready after the November election to work closely with his successor, regardless of political party, to provide for an orderly transition of government particularly in the field of foreign affairs.

Eisenhower at his first news conference in eight weeks said the degree of consultation with the new president would depend largely on the wishes of his successor. But he said he was prepared to arrange for cooperation not only on the presidential level but between members of his cabinet and appointees of the incoming president.

Eisenhower also made these high points of news:

He disagreed with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller that the United States has declined in military, economic and psychological strength as compared with Russia.

He rejected suggestions that the American economy was now in a recession, saying the only dark spot as he saw it was currently low steel production.

He reiterated the friendship between the people of the United States and Cuba, saying that only the inexplicable actions of the government of Fidel Castro was causing trouble between the two nations. He expected to act later today or early Thursday on the bill empowering him to cut Cuba's share of the U.S. sugar market or freeze it out altogether. He saw no reason for despair because of his canceled trips to Russia and Japan. He predicted

Kennedy Forces Unruffled

Johnson Packs Up Record For Trip To Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) left no doubt today that he is ready to take his record and fight it out with all comers for the Democratic presidential nomination in Los Angeles next week. If the Johnson forces were impressed by the apparent lead of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), there was no sign of it as their long-planned campaign roared into the open with Johnson's formal announcement Tuesday of his candidacy.

Johnson's announcement, however, left political circles buzzing on one point — his refusal to close the door on accepting the vice presidential nomination.

While Johnson's move left his well-organized lieutenants a freer hand with which to operate at Los Angeles and elsewhere, it left the Kennedy forces unruffled, openly at least.

A spokesman for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), the third avowed candidate, said Johnson's statement made it more important for Symington's delegates to hold fast until a deadlock develops.

A convention deadlock is Symington's only apparent hope. His forces contend that the final choice will tie between the Missouri senator and Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 nominee.

In his announcement, Johnson made it clear that he would base his fight against the younger Kennedy on the need for "seasoned" leadership in the world. And on the argument that the Democrats need a proven leader who can unite the party and "get things done."

He said the school will not seek state or federal aid, and said tuition would be comparable to state and church supported universities.

Lick 'Em, Stiek 'Em U.

BATON ROUGE, LA. (UPI) — A Shreveport trading stamp firm executive today planned trips to Washington and Tulsa to further support for an oil industry university he hopes will open in 1962 at Fort Polk, La.

He is W. C. Murphrey, president of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Savings Stamp Co., formed last month in Dallas. He said his plans for establishing what he calls the Louisiana International Petroleum University were approved by state leaders Tuesday.

He discussed with Gov. Jimmie Davis, Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, and Commerce and Industry Department Director Pat Patterson his idea for converting the abandoned Army post into a campus.

Murphrey said his new firm would help finance the university with its unredeemed stamp fund. The firm's catalogues will feature more petroleum burning appliances as premiums for its stamps, which are to be available at retail outlets after the same manner of existing trading stamp firms.

Murphrey described the proposed school as the world's first completely petroleum-oriented university, established to train personnel for the industry, particularly in the fields of marketing, petroleum engineering, geology, and petrochemistry. The university would have a four-year curriculum.

Murphrey said he planned to be in Tulsa July 13 to discuss the proposal with oil industry leaders, after he completes a planned visit in Washington with Sens. Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long.

He said the school will not seek state or federal aid, and said tuition would be comparable to state and church supported universities.

'Nye' Bevan Dead At 62

LONDON (UPI) — Aneurin Bevan, 62-year-old Labor Party deputy leader, died today after a long illness.

The fiery Labor Party leader died at his home, Ashridge Farms, Chesham, not far from London.

Bevan waged a strong fight for his life, right up to the end. The Labor Party issued the announcement of Bevan's death.

Aneurin (Nye) Bevan was a powerful British Laborite who fought his way up from the coal pits of Wales to the summit of the political scene. To do so he often used ruthless tactics and his path ever upward was strewn with the bodies of his political enemies.

Bevan was a stormy leading figure both in and out of the labor party, but in the last months of his life he was chiefly responsible for holding it together.

HE'S A CANDIDATE — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has formally announced that he will actively seek the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention getting under way in Los Angeles July 11. At right is House Speaker Sam Rayburn who will put Johnson's name up for nomination.

West Texas Gets Good Rain Supply

By United Press International
Heavy rains up to four inches drenched West Texas for the second straight day today and brought welcome relief from mid-summer heat.

General rains over North Central and West Texas Tuesday held the mercury to unseasonably low levels in some areas, and another round of cooler weather is in store. Amarillo, with a high of 67, was one of the coolest cities in the nation Tuesday.

After scorching hot weather most of the summer—and a record heat wave in which the temperature was 100 degrees or above for 11 consecutive days—El Paso had a high of only 79 Tuesday. The high in the state was 100 at Laredo, compared with a 110-degree reading at Presidio the day before.

Dalhart's high Tuesday was only 68, Alpine's was 70. Midland had 73, Lubbock 72, Wink 74 and Childress 75.

The heaviest official rainfall amount in Texas during the past 24 hours was at Abilene, a city normally not noted for its heavy rainfalls. Abilene had 3.66 inches, and some areas around the city measured unofficial totals of four inches and more.

Midland had 2.16 inches, Amarillo 1.03, El Paso .69, San Angelo .24, Alpine .75, Lubbock .45, Wichita Falls .09, Dallas .16 and Fort Worth .01.

At last report it was raining hard at Lubbock, and moderate rain was falling at Wichita Falls, Alpine, Abilene, Midland and Dalhart.

West Texas ranchers welcomed the rain as a boon to pastures

Almost An Inch Of Rain Here

A low, heavy overcast dumped .90 inches of rain on Pampa since 11 a.m. yesterday, according to the Daily News rain gauge.

Of this, .47 inches fell between midnight and 6 a.m. today.

This brings the three-day total rainfall to 1.38 inches on the Daily News gauge.

Penn, Cal Delegates Eyed By Managers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Campaign managers for the Democratic presidential contenders viewed the Pennsylvania and California 51-vote delegations with a hungry look today.

With the opening of national convention only five days away, these two pivotal states have begun to look more and more like the key-keepers to the outcome of the contest for the presidential nomination.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, favorite son candidate from California, is expected to endorse Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts by next weekend. No one yet on the convention scene pretends to know which way Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania will go.

Realists in the mill-confident camp of the front-running Kennedy concede the opposition from the powerful Lawrence could be damaging, but not fatal.

Rep. Charles H. Brown of Missouri, campaign manager for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, told a news conference Tuesday that estimates of delegate strength in Pennsylvania would be worthless until Lawrence is heard from.

In the numbers game before the convention, some wildly varying rundowns are given on how the California delegation will split after its lozen votes for Brown.

Religion Issue Destined To Arise At Convention

CONVENTION WINDOW
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The liveliest political corpse you ever are likely to encounter in the dead and buried issue of Sen. John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholic religious faith.

The issue of religion in United States politics died and was buried, you will remember, in the May 10 West Virginia presidential primary. West Virginia is an overwhelmingly Protestant community.

Kennedy won that one. He won by so big a margin that his opponent, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Min.), abandoned his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination. Humphrey had not been regarded as a strong candidate. West Virginia's religious complexion, however, seemed to offer him an opportunity to benefit from such religious prejudice as might exist there.

When the returns were in, it was logical to conclude that religious prejudice was not much of a factor in U. S. politics, not anyway, in West Virginia. Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion, however, seems to survive as a political issue. Americans are talking about it and they are responsible Americans. For example:

Evangelist Billy Graham said in Washington on June 14 that Protestants would have to face unique problems if a Catholic were president of the United States. Graham believes religion will be an underlying issue if a Catholic is nominated for president.

Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee suggested last month to a National Press Club audience that Catholic voters would punish the Democratic Party if Kennedy came to the nominating convention with almost enough votes to win but was rejected by the delegates. If Butler is right about that, religion certainly is an issue in next week's Democratic convention.

Ten days after the West Virginia primary, a Miami, Fla., dispatch to the New York Times said:

"Thirteen thousand Southern Baptists unanimously adopted a resolution here today expressing strong fears about electing Sen. John F. Kennedy or any other Catholic as president of the United States."

CASTRO

United States, observers believed, Cuba would thus be forced to sell exclusively on the world market.

The United States would be forced—and apparently is preparing to do so—to arrange bigger permanent imports from other sugar-producing nations.

Observers doubt that when and if all remaining U.S. property here is nationalized that the United States will continue to maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

The most vital point in Cuban-American relations is considered by many to be the huge U.S. Guantanamo naval base, which Castro would like to force out of Cuba or take over himself—although he has said repeatedly that "we will never attack it."

In the opinion of some military experts, the United States easily could move its fleet operations to Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, where a vast base—virtually abandoned since World War II—could rapidly be rebuilt.

However, if the United States moves out of Guantanamo, it would have to abandon vital radar defenses of the Panama Canal. Such a move also might constitute at least an indirect "invitation" to the Soviet Union to move in.

which had been dried out from record heat in June. Most of the rain was a gentle, steady fall that soaked into the ground rather than being wasted in runoff.

The rains were set off by a weak cold front that first moved into the state Monday and pushed slowly southward. Warm, moisture-laden Gulf air borne by southerly winds was pushing over the cool air coming in from the northwest.

Early today the front was centered along a line from Palestine to north of Waco and southwestward to Presidio.

Skies were cloudy over most of West Texas and the western part of North Central Texas, and partly cloudy skies were the rule over the rest of the state.

Forecast called for continued cloudiness and scattered thunder-showers in all sections of Texas through Thursday.

It's getting about time for Mamma pig to start worrying about junior, lest he stray from the sty and wind up on a football field, strongly laced.

American Football League teams are scheduled to hit the practice fields this weekend, and in less than a month the referee will be blowing his whistle for the initial kickoff of the grid campaign in Texas.

The first game will be in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Aug. 8, North and South All-Star teams square off in the coaching school classic.

Benny Stout, the Harvester all-star, will be playing for the Yankees in this contest, as well as the Greenbelt Bowl at Childress, Aug. 13 and the Panhandle Grid Classic at Amarillo Aug. 20.

In the 1960 Coaching School annual, Stout received more plaudits than did most of the other athletes.

"Benny Stout, Pampa offensive tackle and defensive end, was highly regarded throughout the season by opposing coaches and players," it said.

"That he deserved the plaudits shown by these coaches and players is shown by the fact that he was the only 3-AAAA player named to the official all-state team. This honor was double significant in view of the fact that he was an interior lineman and played for a fifth place team.

"In addition to the all-state team, Stout was also named to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's all-state squad, and was the leading vote-getter at both his offensive and defensive positions on the 3-AAAA all-district team."

Rawls To Play At Childress

One other Pampa player, quarterback Buddy Rawls, and four athletes from this area will join Stout on the west squad for the Greenbelt classic.

The area quartet includes Jerry Burnett, a 165-pound end from Memphis; Tackle Jimmy Blair from Borger; Perryton Guard Gary Cook; and McLean halfback David Crockett.

This group will help build a formidable representative for the Childress game.

Crockett made all-district and all regional teams, as did Cook and Burnett. Stout, of course, was just about all-everything.

One name on the East team roster should be familiar to the older football fans — those who date back to the 1930s and 1940s.

Stokes Gets Panhandle Bid

The Panhandle Grid Classic, which annually pits all-stars from conferences AAA and AAA against those from AA, A and B, should prove to be a thriller this year.

Harold Stokes, a guard for the Harvesters, will join Stout on the City Slickers team.

Two Borger players also will be in the lineup. They will be backs Gordon Beanguard and Bobby Landess.

The game will be played Aug. 20 at Price College field in Amarillo.

In the two previous meetings of the all-star squads, City Slickers have beaten the Sod Busters both times. The first game was a 24-12 runaway, but the City Slickers barely won a 12-6 thriller last summer.

Add sports notes: The Timneys women's bowling team recently won an area tournament at Borger with an aggregate score of 3,014 pins — 244 more than the second-place finisher.

The team is composed of Ruth Blumer, Mary Parker, Tina Timney, Li Hawkins and Monica Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry C. Ledbetter of Pampa spent a profitable four days of July holiday fishing at Posh-Kingdom.

They hauled in eight channel cat weighing up to five and one-half pounds, and 10 crappie which weighed up to a pound.

Expansion To Help Fight Fan Apathy

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Hank Greenberg, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, today described expansion of the major leagues and inter-league play as two steps to combat "fan apathy."

Greenberg, one of the American League's top sluggers at his peak, said it was "highly possible" both American and National leagues would be expanded by the start of next season.

But he emphasized "expansion must be a joint effort by the two leagues and should be gradual. I'd like to start off with two nine-club leagues."

Greenberg is a member of the American League Expansion Committee.

He explained that some wanted two leagues of 10 teams each.

"But I don't believe we have the players to stock four teams," he said.

The possibility of inter-league play also caused Greenberg to speculate on future possibilities which made no mention of the Continental League. He said there was an apathy on the part of fans. "I believe inter-league play is imperative. People want to be entertained and that's the challenge we face today. I find more support every time I bring up the idea of inter-league play."

What about the Continental League?

"I don't think the Continental League will ever get off the ground," he said on a visit here to watch the ball club's farm hands at work with San Diego's Padres.

Nelson Comes Of Age As Big League Hitter

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International

Pittsburgh's pennant-bound Pirates would love to know what suddenly happened to all those experts who agreed Rocky Nelson would never hit major league pitching.

The tobacco-chewing, 35-year-old Nelson was stamped "strictly a minor league hitter" for the past 15 years, most of which he spent kicking around the bushes.

Nelson had been given brief trials with five different major league clubs but the Pirates still felt he could help them when they drafted him from Toronto of the International League in December of 1958.

Rocky batted a respectable .291 for the Pirates last year but he slugged perhaps his finest performance for them Tuesday night when he socked successive homers in the ninth and 10th innings to produce a 9-4 victory over the Braves and increase Pittsburgh's lead to 4½ games in the National League race.

Milwaukee starter Carlton Willey took a 2-0 lead into the ninth when he suddenly was tagged for Nelson's first homer plus a two-run homer by Don Hoak. The Braves battled back to tie the score again in the last of the ninth.

But Bob Skinner singled in the 10th and trotted around the bases when Nelson deposited his fifth homer of the year into the right field bleachers off loser Joey Jay. Paul Giel, the winner, yielded the Braves' final run in the 10th before Bob Friend came on to nail down the final out.

The Dodgers blanked the Giants, 8-0, the Phillies beat the Reds, 2-0, and the Cardinals defeated the Cubs, 3-2, in other NL games.

In the American League, the Senators came from behind to top the first-place Yankees, 5-3, in 10 innings, and the Orioles

Segrist Rap Trips Giants

By United Press International

Kal Segrist, Victoria's hard-hitting third baseman, belted a two-run homer in the sixth that broke a deadlock and beat the Rio Grande Valley Giants 3-1 in the Texas League Tuesday night.

In other action, Amarillo salvaged its game with Tulsa 6-5 in 10 innings, and Austin bounced back from an eight-run shutout the night before to clobber San Antonio 11-1.

Horace Smallwood set the Giants down on six hits for the Rosebuds, which moved to within a half-game of the second place Missions. San Antonio trails Valley by seven and one-half.

Hank Hemmerly had a shutout going for the Senators until Ron Goerger knocked a homer in the bottom of the ninth for the Missions only score of the game. Austin sprouted out of danger with a seven run explosion in the seventh.

Amarillo banged in five runs at the start, then watched Tulsa tie it up in late innings with two runs in the seventh on a homer by shortstop Julio Gotay, and another pair of runs in last of the ninth, forcing the game into overtime. John Romanosky came on in the ninth for the Gold Sox and took credit for the victory.

The same teams play another set of single games tonight with Valley at Victoria, Amarillo at Tulsa and Austin at San Antonio.

Rebels Battle Hedley Friday

The American Legion Rebels, who already have clinched at least a tie for first place in the Eastern Division, play host to Hedley Friday in a district game which will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Manager Floyd Sumner's squad has a 4-0 district record. The Tascosa Sheriffs are in second place with a 2-2 mark, followed by Childress (1-3) and Hedley (0-4), with only two games yet to play.

Stunnett will be here Saturday night for a non-district game which will begin at 8:15 also. Both of the games will be played at the Optimist ball park.

Thomas Top TL Player

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Leroy Thomas, 24, outfielder for the Amarillo Gold Sox, has been named "Player of the Month of June" in the Texas League.

League president Dick Butler announced the results of balloting by sports writers and broadcasters.

During the past month, Thomas belted eight home runs and knocked in 38 runs batting at a .449 clip. He is batting .381 for the season.

The New York Yankee farm hand halls from St. Louis, Mo. He has also been selected to the Texas League All-Star team.

Four AFL Teams Set For Work This Week

DALLAS (UPI) — First games are still more than two months away, but four of the eight members of the fledgling American Football League get down to the outs this coming week.

The Dallas Texans, keystone of the league and owned by circuit organizer Lamar Hunt, breaks the trail next Friday at Rowell, N.M. and the following day the New York Titans, Denver Broncos and Los Angeles Chargers follow suit.

The Oakland Raiders, Buffalo Bills, Boston Patriots and Houston Oilers get their camps going early the following week and by July 14 some 700 or more players will be suited up in camps strung out from coast to coast.

Based strictly on the number of players signed as of June 28, the Boston entry will have the largest camp with 118 players, followed by New York with 104, Houston with 90, Los Angeles with 85, Denver with 81, Oakland with 77 and Dallas and Buffalo with 71 each.

Houston, which doesn't start until July 14, is the only club planning to train at home. Denver will set up camp at Golden, Colo., New York at Durham, N. H., and Los Angeles at Orange, Calif.

Oakland will drill at Santa Cruz, Calif., and Buffalo at East Aurora, N.Y., starting July 10 and July 11.

The infant AFL will have to fight the NFL competition in New York, Dallas, Los Angeles and Oakland, which plays its home games across the bay in San Francisco, but it managed to grab off some of the more promising rookies from the 1959 college crop to help offset the appeal of the NFL's experienced talent.

The entire United Press International "All-America" backfield went to AFL teams, although not without court battles involving two of them—Billy Cannon of Louisiana State and Charlie Flowers of Mississippi.

Cannon's contract with Houston was upheld against claims of the NFL's Los Angeles Rams and "Flowers" Los Angeles Charger pact was given court precedence over one claimed by the New York Giants.

Richie Lucas of Penn State and Ron Burton of Northwestern, the other two UPI All-America backs, were signed by Buffalo and Boston.

3 Rookies Land All-Star Berths

BOSTON (UPI) — Three rookies — two of them from the Baltimore "whiz kids" team — are among the 22 players named to complete the 1960 American League All-Star team.

The freshmen, righthander Chuck Estrada, 22, and first baseman Jim Gentile, 26, of the Orioles and relief pitcher Dick Stigman, 24, of the Cleveland Indians, were named Tuesday by Manager Al Lopez. The announcement came here through the American League office.

The league-leading New York Yankees and the defending champion Chicago White Sox each placed seven players on the squad which will meet its National League counterpart at Kansas City July 11 and at New York July 13.

Ford, Sanders Eye Golf Title

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) — The venerable 58-year-old Gene Sarazen and muscular, young Arnold Palmer set out today at the head of a slim four-man American delegation shooting for the British Open golf championship.

Besides Sarazen and Palmer, the only two Yanks able to qualify for the 72-hole centennial British Open were Bill Johnson of Provo, Utah, and Jack Isaacs, civilian pro at the Langley Air Force Base in Virginia.

Johnson was the first of the Americans to tee off today, at 5:20 a.m. e.d.t. Palmer was due off at 9:20 a.m., Sarazen at 9:36 and Isaacs at 10 a.m.

Eighteen other Americans failed to shoot the qualifying score of 147 or lower in the two 18-hole rounds that were played Monday and Tuesday on the Old and New courses at St. Andrews. These qualifying scores were forgotten for the four rounds of the championship proper which winds up with 36 holes on Friday, said Gary Player of South Africa, the defending champion, demonstrated he should make a strong bid to retain the title when he won the qualifying medal with 67-68 — 135.

But it was Sarazen, the gentleman farmer from Germantown, N. Y., who won the hearts of his American colleagues and many in the British gallery who braved the rain and the high winds to watch Tuesday's rounds.

Sarazen, winner of the British Open crown back in 1932, shot a par 72 Tuesday to go with Monday's 69 to tie for seventh place among the 74 qualifiers with an aggregate of 141 strokes.

"Gee, wouldn't Walter Hagen have loved to see this," said grinningly as he left the 18th green in a heavy downpour.

The 30-year-old Palmer, who was not quite three when Sarazen won his first British Open crown, soared to a 36-39 — 75 Tuesday after shooting a 67 Monday. That 142 left him one stroke behind Sarazen and well within the qualifying range, but he was not satisfied with his game.

"If I have to have a bad round, this is the time," Palmer commented. "All I was mainly interested in was qualifying, but I can't remember a round in which I had two sixes and a seven on the card."

Johnson shot a 76 Tuesday to go with Monday's 70 for a 146 total, while Isaacs barely made the grade when he shot a 73 to go with Monday's 74 for a 147 aggregate.

Mick Sells Keg Stock

DALLAS (UPI) — Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee slugger, has sold some of the stock in his Dallas bowling center because he feels absentee ownership is hurting the business and his ball playing.

Frank Scott, Mantle's representative in Dallas, said the stock was sold to a syndicated management group from the Far East, which includes some of Mantle's personal friends.

Scott said Mantle would remain "as big a stockholder as anybody and would continue to live in Dallas and work at the lanes during the off-season."

Teahouse Of Rising Sun Opens By Appointments Only In Capital

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — A genuine $100,000 Japanese teahouse is this town's newest tourist attraction.

This is a private teahouse, the kind used exclusively for spiritual ceremonies, unlike the geisha girl, round-the-clock type. It was built in Japan, then dismantled and shipped to Washington.

Located next door to the Japanese Embassy, the four-room structure was built to commemorate the 10th anniversary of Japan-U.S. diplomatic relations. It's considered one of the major examples of ancient oriental culture in America.

The teahouse also is considered by officials here as more representative of majority Japanese feeling toward the U.S. than the riots that led to the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit.

But unlike almost all other Washington sights, you need an appointment to see it. Embassy officials explain that not enough persons are available to act as guides all day. Consequently, they open the teahouse only on Wednesday afternoons between three and five and require anyone who wants a guided tour to write or phone ahead of time.

Japanese businessmen donated the necessary funds. Biggest expenses were the overseas shipping charges and transportation costs for the building crew.

A nine-man team of expert Japanese carpenters and gardeners were flown here to reconstruct the house and landscape the elaborate garden surrounding it. The task required about three months. The same site house in Japan costs about $35,000.

The tea drinking ceremony is one of the oldest in Japan. Established in the 15th Century, its purpose is to enable participants to commune with nature and try to reach spiritual tranquility.

The complete ceremony lasts four hours. Nowadays it is often shortened to one hour.

The ritual begins when the host meets his guests outside the teahouse. He leads them to an entrance so small that they must crawl through it. This signifies that they have humbled themselves.

The ceremony is usually conducted by a professional tea master. If the host does not know the art himself, he hires a tea master for the occasion. The tea mixing ceremony takes years to learn and is usually passed down from father to son.

Japanese Ambassador Koichiro Asakai will use his teahouse primarily for display. Occasionally tea will be served.

of the tea and the beauty of their surroundings. Such mental relaxation is supposed to bring them closer to Buddha.

Once inside the host serves small cookies. Then the guests retire to the garden to commune outdoors.

A gong summons them back inside. The host mixes thick green tea called koicha in a bowl which the guests pass from one to the other. The ceremony closes with the drinking of usucha or thin tea.

A Swimsuit You Can't Sit On In

For Your Swimsuit's Sake:
1. Rinse after each wearing in clear water.
2. Do not sit on abrasives such as concrete and sand.
3. Never put suit away wet... dry thoroughly in shade, never in the sun.

NEW YORK (NEA) — American industry may be strong on know-how, but every so often it's a bit weak on know-what.

Straight from the manufacturer's tag.

Now, unless you know of a beach made out of tapioca pudding, you're going to have a lot of trouble finding a non-abrasive place to sit. And there are precious few summer pools bordered with foam rubber. Most are trimmed with that abrasive concrete.

But do not underestimate American ingenuity. This swimsuit still has its place, even though you

And, perhaps, someday you may come across a place to sit where the ocean or the river or the pool is bordered in some nice, non-abrasive substance that this swimsuit can take.

American industry deserves a pat on the smockstack for this latest proof of its genius. It must have taken many hours in the lab, countless debates in boardrooms and millions of dollars spent on tests to turn out a swimsuit you can't sit on sand in.

Government Dole Hated By Those Who Milk It Dry

For this week's newsletter, I am taking the liberty of passing on to you an article which was placed in the Congressional Record by my good friend, Congressman Frank Row of Ohio. You will note that this article was published in the Rotary Graph, a publication of the Westlaco Rotary Club. Having been a long time and ardent member of the Rotary Club and a good friend of Frank's, I have no hesitancy in passing this story along, together with some comments of my own. Here it is:

Do You Happen To Know This Man?
The Rotary Graph a publication of the Westlaco Rotary Club, has passed along this little story, source unknown. It is almost as funny as it is tragic.

"A young man lived with his parents in a public housing development. He attended public school, rode the free school bus and participated in the free lunch program. He entered the Army, then upon discharge retained his national service insurance. He then enrolled in the State University, working part time in the State Capitol to supplement his GI education check.

"Upon graduation, he married a public health nurse and bought a farm with an FHA loan and then obtained an RFC loan to go into business. A baby was born in the county hospital. He bought a ranch with the aid of the veterans' land program and obtained emergency feed from the Government.

"Later he put part of his land in the soil bank and the payments soon paid off his farm and ranch. His father and mother lived very comfortably on the ranch on their social security and old-age assistance checks. REA lines supplied electricity. The Government helped clear his land. The county agent showed him how to terrace it; then the Government built him a fish pond and stocked it with many fish. The government guaranteed him a sale for his farm products at highest prices.

"Books from the public library were delivered to his door. He banked money which a Government agency insured. His children grew up, entered public schools, ate free lunches, rode free school buses, played in public parks, swam in public pools, and joined the FFA. The man owned an automobile so he favored the Federal highway program.

Rabbit, Dog Into Space, Back Safely

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet scientists were jubilant today over the disclosure that a rabbit and two dogs were safely returned to earth from a rocket fired 125 miles into the upper atmosphere.

The high altitude rocket shot was closely linked to the forthcoming Pacific rocket tests which have been announced for the period July 25-31.

On America's Independence Day, Soviet officials announced they successfully fired a 4,400-pound rocket last month with the animals aboard.

Director Alexander Mikhailov of the Pulkovo Observatory near Leningrad said he was "amazed" by the weight lifted by the high-altitude rocket shot.

Russian scientists said the rocket shot collected valuable information on conditions of weightlessness in space flight and other significant subjects.

Kennedy, Wife Expecting Child

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and his wife are expecting their second child before the presidential election in November.

Friends of Kennedy, a front-runner on the Democratic presidential nomination, said that Mrs. Kennedy did not plan to attend the convention in Los Angeles because of her pregnancy.

But if the senator gets the nomination, she may fly to Los Angeles to hear him deliver his acceptance speech.

The Kennedys have one daughter, Caroline, 2½ years old. She and her mother are expected to stay at Kennedy's summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., during the convention.

Riot May Have Finished Yearly Jazz Festival in Newport, R. I.

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — High society regained this famed "Queen of the resorts" from the grip of the jazz cats today, a rifle bruised but not seriously harmed.

The wild rioting by thousands of college-age men and women outside the Newport Jazz Festival at Freebody Park late Saturday night was only an ugly memory. For those who were rapped with policemen's nightsticks, it may still be painful.

An estimated 150 persons were injured in the fighting but none was hurt seriously. About 200 were arrested. Most of these were released with a warning — and a promise that a letter would be mailed to their parents or home town police officials.

Physical damage to the city was not too extensive. An accurate estimate could not be given immediately, officials said.

The five day festival cut short by the riots and probably doomed forever in this city, keeps many of the socially elite "prisoners" in their huge homes along avenues overlooking the Atlantic Ocean.

Mrs. Louis Brugere, who battled long and hard to keep the first festival out of Newport seven years ago, said today the weekend "seems to prove I was right."

"The festival is the worst thing in the world for Newport," she said. "It is a bad situation since the city is much too small and there is no place to put them (visitors)."

"I have to spend five days in the house. I can't go anywhere since the crowds are everywhere," she said.

The beginning of famed "Millionaire's row" is less than a quarter mile from the park. When the breeze is right, the jazz from the festival can be heard over much of the area.

Joseph Washington Frazier, who lives on Ocean Ave., commended the City Council for halting the Sunday and Monday festival performances. "The festival is no asset to Newport," he said.

Police said the huge riot which lasted well into Sunday morning began after some could not get into Freebody Park.

Hubert Freeman pleaded guilty of a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $25 and cost at his hearing July 2.

In other action of the court, James G. Barnes was released when his wife dropped an aggravated assault charge against him. His bond had been set at $1,000.

Two men pleaded guilty to charges in county court recently. C. L. Winbope, Pampa, charged with driving while his license was suspended on July third, was fined $25 and cost yesterday. He also was fined $50 for speeding and $25 driving on the left in corporation court.
