U.S. Ends Year With Billion Surplus

Congo To Request Soviet Troops If Belgians Not Pulled Out Today

By GEORGE SIBERA
United Press International

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Premier Patrice Lumumba said today he would appeal to the Soviet Union to send troops to the Congo immediately if the United Nations Security Council does not order Belgian troops out of the Congo tonight.

Lumumba told a press conference he would wait until the Security Council meets tonight in New York before appealing for Russian troops and troops from the Communist and Afro-Asian blocs—but he showed an immediate desire for Red help.

Lumumba accused the "capitalistic bloc" of fully supporting "Belgian aggression" against his country. He said he would not hesitate to "make a pact with the devil himself" to achieve the immediate departure of the Belgians.

Lumumba already was under heavy fire at home and abroad for his threats to call in Soviet forces and faced a vote of censure in a rebellious Parliament.

He told a room full of newsmen at his residence that "Belgium is violating the U.N. decision by refusing to pull out. We trust the U.N. since we personally appealed for their help. But how long shall we wait before Belgian troops depart?"

He said a "special cabinet meeting today with the full approval of the chief of state (President Joseph Kasu Vubu) decided to appeal to other nations for military aid" if the U.N. fails to drive the Belgians out forthwith.

"This is not a question of ideology," the young premier said. "I wish to emphasize that we are not interested in the political coloring of nations coming to our aid."

Opposition leaders hoped the chaos which has gripped the Congo in its first three weeks of independence under Lumumba's government would unite a badly splintered parliament behind their move.

Lumumba returned to the capital from Stanleyville Tuesday night to try to put down the smoldering political rebellion.

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) — President Eisenhower announced today that the government ended its fiscal year June 30 with a budget surplus of $1.1 billion.

Eisenhower, in a statement issued at the summer White House, described this as "a very encouraging turnaround" from the previous fiscal year which ended with a "recession induced deficit of almost $12.5 billion."

The President said the surplus resulted from revenues of $78.4 billion against expenditures of $77.3 billion.

"This demonstration of fiscal responsibility," Eisenhower said, "not only reinforces economic strength at home, but reaffirms to the world that the United States intends to run its financial affairs on a sound basis."

This was the third budgetary surplus in seven years.

The announced surplus, even higher than had been predicted in recent days, was far above the $217 million estimated by the President last January.

The Republicans were certain to use the surplus—the third in seven Eisenhower budgets—as a major selling point in the coming election campaign. Eisenhower and his key lieutenants repeatedly have called for "fiscal responsibility" in the face of Democratic spending proposals.

Officials kept secret the exact size of the surplus to build up maximum interest in the announcement.

But informed sources said the government's outlays in the fiscal year totaled less than $78 billion and revenues exceeded the predicted $78.6 billion.

In January, Eisenhower forecast spending of $78.4 billion. A pickup in exports of costly farm surpluses and other developments accounted for the saving.

An unforeseen spurt in individual tax payments, more than offsetting a drop in corporate tax receipts, was responsible for the increased revenue.

The surplus will be used to reduce the national debt, a prime objective of the Eisenhower administration.

Fourth Quarter Increase In Stock Market Is Seen

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market is above its lows for the year, below its highs, the dullist for a month and a half, and no one wants to guess where it is going.

It's in the summer doldrums and approaching a period where a summer rally has taken hold in nearly every year in market history.

But it has many worries which read like alliterative recitation—Khrushchev, Kennedy, Cuba, and Congo.

Actually the foregoing are seen as mere excuses. The real reasons for lethargy and declining prices is seen as an erosion of the economy which has made itself felt strongly in steel mill operations.

Reduced steel production has held down car loadings. But other major lines have done fairly well. Home building has slipped but this phase of construction has been offset by strength in other departments, notably additions to manufacturing plants and rehabilitation of existing facilities.

Automobile production has held high and soon new models will be rolling off the assembly lines.

Altogether the industrial level has held only a small distance below the record high. And gross national product and national income have achieved new all-time highs.

The situation is seen as one of those things that cannot be pinpointed. No one knows what the trading element is going to do. And the market is swayed back and forth by the collective opinion of all those who trade in it.

So far this year the market graph has presented a saw-tooth appearance — a new high record for industrials on Jan. 5—a 62.85 point decline to Jan. 29; a 14.30 rise to Feb. 2; a 25.59 point drop to Feb. 16; a 20.87 rise to Feb. 26; a 32.90 decline to March 8; the year's low; a 31.67 point rise to April 18; a 31.16 point decline to May 2; a 56.81 point rise to

Rodeo Fans To Hit Wagon Train Trail

"Wagons hot" will be the cry through Canadian at 6 a.m. Aug. 1 as the Canadian Junior Riding Club's wagon train heads cross country to the Top O' Texas Rodeo in Pampa.

The wagon train, consisting of six to twelve covered wagons, chuck wagons and riders, will stop for lunch at a roadside park between Canadian and Miami at noon on Aug. 1 and will spend the night with chuck wagon grub and sleeping on bedrolls in the vicinity of the Bill O'Laughlin Ranch, west of Miami.

The train will break camp at 6 a.m. Aug. 2 and will arrive in Pampa at about 11 a.m. that day. The group will be guests of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. for lunch.

Wagon Boss, Orval Johnson, has extended an invitation to any riders and covered wagons to join the train for the trip. He said it would be an opportunity for people to recall some of the early day experiences known only to the pioneers of this area.

The wagon train will be featured at the first night's rodeo performance Aug. 2. They will be introduced with the entire wagon train making an entrance into the arena.

"Ward Bond's wagon train will have nothing on this group," said Johnson.

Others serving the train will be: Dow Webster, scout; R. E. George, horse wrangler; Reed Errington, cook; Bruce Graham, wood chopper; and Dell Krehdiel, horseshoer.

Negro Leader Urges That Republicans Match Democrats Liberal Rights Plank

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) — A Negro leader urged the Republicans today to match the strong civil rights plank drafted by the Democrats.

The plea was made by Roy Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Appearing before a platform subcommittee of the Republican national convention he said: "The Republican Party cannot afford to produce a civil rights platform less strong than that of the Democrats."

"If you are thinking in bare political terms," Wilkins told the subcommittee, "you cannot possibly lose by adopting a strong program."

Other GOP platform subcommittees heard representatives of labor and business, farm organizations, and nearly 100 other groups on a wide assortment of subjects.

Organized labor asked the Republicans to endorse "vast" new welfare - spending programs opposed by the Eisenhower administration. Organized businessmen called on the party to move in the opposite direction by abandoning some federal spending programs already embraced by the administration.

The nation's major farm organizations outlined their views before the agricultural resources subcommittee.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, urged the Republicans to base farm policy on market prices rather than production controls.

James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, called for minimum fair price guarantees through government loans, purchase agreements, purchases, income supplement payments, and other devices.

The foreign policy subcommittee heard a recommendation for recognition of Communist China. George H. Watson, representing the Friends Committee on National Legislation, testified that such recognition would "eliminate the barrier" to settlement of the East-West conflict.

Business and labor took opposite sides on the issue of federal welfare spending.

Belgian Troop Plane Crashes

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A Belgian Army C-119 Flying Boxcar crashed in the Congo jungles Tuesday, killing 34 soldiers and injuring seven, the Defense Ministry announced today.

The ministry said a rescue column was sent to the scene of the crash 15 miles from Sake, a town at the head of Lake Kivu near the town of Goma.

Ministry sources said the detachment of troops belonged to a company of aerial defense units.

Clash Looms For U.S., Russ

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States and Russia were headed for a new clash in the Security Council today, this time over the violence-stricken Congo.

Fresh from telling each other to keep "hands off" Cuba, the two principal powers of East and West were expected to trade verbal punches over meddling in the new African state.

The Soviet attack was expected to be particularly bitter because of the rebuff it received when the Security Council voted Tuesday to transfer Cuba's complaint against the United States to the Organization of American States. The vote was 9-0 with Russia and Poland abstaining.

The Kremlin started laying the groundwork for the Congo debate by delivering a stiff note to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Tuesday demanding that U.S. troops in the Congo be withdrawn immediately.

Former Randall County Judge Indicted On 2 Perjury Counts

AMARILLO (UPI) — Former Randall County Judge Roy Joe Stevens, the central figure in a legislative probe of Amarillo crime last March, faces a two-count perjury indictment today and there is a possibility of more indictments being brought against him Thursday.

A Potter County grand jury returned the perjury indictment Tuesday, charging Stevens lied before the Texas House General Investigating Committee last March 23-25.

The committee was conducting an investigation of organized vice and crime in Amarillo and surrounding Potter and Randall counties.

In addition to the two counts of perjury, the indictment lists two alternate counts of false swearing. Stevens is accused of lying about his alleged removal of county furniture from the Randall County courthouse for his private use, and about his alleged links with a private detective agency headed by Armond James Chandonnet.

Stevens, who now lives in Albuquerque, N. M., resigned his post as Randall County judge on March 26, the day after the legislative hearings drew to a close.

The State Bar of Texas later filed a disbarment suit against him, hoping to prevent him from continuing to practice as a criminal lawyer.

MAYBE IT'S THE LINCOLN WAY — Workmen, busy with preparing the International Amphitheater in Chicago for the Republican National Convention, carefully hung this huge banner calling attention to the centennial of Abraham Lincoln's initial winning of the party's presidential nomination. There was one little error, however. The sign painter misspelled centennial.

Three Killed, 1 Missing In Blast At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (UPI)

—Firemen today finally subdued a fierce explosion-led fire that killed three, and possibly four, men and provided a grim backdrop for a two-hour helicopter-rescue drama at a row of grain elevators.

Squelching of the roaring fire diminished, but didn't eliminate, the threat of follow-up explosions. And authorities declined to ease the four-block square evacuation surrounding the tragedy site.

Firemen getting near the smoldering concrete elevators reported "the odor of burning flesh" indicated a fourth victim of the two explosions may be dead at the bottom of a grain shaft.

Two workmen were killed outright by the original explosion, another worker died as a result of burns and injuries suffered when he jumped 50 feet onto a concrete elevator roof and four other men were injured.

Second Major Blast

One man was missing and it was his body that the searchers feared they would find in the blackened debris.

Hundreds of fascinated spectators watched the stark rescue drama as one helicopter tried unsuccessfully to make contact with the trapped man before a second one succeeded in plucking him from the fire's grasp.

It was the second major explosion-fire in recent years for this town on the South Plains of West Texas. The roping off of the four-block area Tuesday night was instigated by the bitter memories of a disaster two years ago when a burning butane tank truck exploded as a crowd gathered to

Navy Seeking Answer To Destroyer Mishap

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)

—The Navy tried to find out today why two war-proud Navy destroyers equipped with radar collided off the fog-shrouded Southern California coast.

A board of inquiry was set up to look into the cause of the collision which took the lives of 11 men, all aboard the USS Ammen when it collided with the USS Collett. Seven others aboard the two ships were injured.

Both ships were able to make harbor at Long Beach.

The Ammen ironically was heading to San Diego for retirement into the mothball fleet. Both ships had distinguished records in the Pacific during World War II.

The bow of the Collett sliced midships into the leftside of the USS Ammen Tuesday at 12:44 p.m. e.d.t., about five miles from the coast and 30 miles southwest of Los Angeles.

A gaping hole was opened about 100 feet back on the Ammen and the bow of the Collett was crumpled back 20 to 30 feet.

There had been a foreboding of disaster among some of the 235 sailors and officers aboard the Ammen just before the collision.

"If we collide with another ship in this fog we wouldn't have a chance," Seanhan Royce L. Jones of the Ammen reported a sailor as saying.

Despite quick action by commanders of both ships, the heavy fog had cut visibility to about 1/2 of a mile and prevented the ships to sight each other before it was too late to avoid the collision.

Cmdr. A. T. Ford, 29, of the Collett, said his first order when he saw the broadside of the Ammen look before his craft was: "All engines full, back full rudder."

But it was too late to avoid the crash. The Collett (which also carried 235 men) was estimated unofficially to have been traveling at 17 knots at the time of the collision.

Ford said he did not know if the radar aboard the Collett had picked up the presence of the Ammen.

Passive Role For Catholics

HAVANA (UPI) — Roman Catholics arrested for demonstrating against Soviet influence in Cuba signaled the start of a passive resistance campaign against the Fidel Castro regime today by refusing to bail themselves out of jail.

Twelve women and seven men taken into custody during the first of two "Cuba yes, Russia no" demonstrations that erupted outside Havana Catholic churches Sunday and Monday refused to put up the 100 peso bonds required for their freedom.

Their action appeared to set the pattern for other Catholic faithful to follow in the face of Monday night's open declaration of war by Castro on "fascist" priests and their "counter-revolutionary" followers.

The young premier was confronted today with another sharp U.S. diplomatic protest—this one on a mob attack against an American mother and her two young sons as they drove past the scene of Monday's demonstration at suburban Jesus de Miramar Church.

Walter Rogers Reports

Lure Of Urban Life Grows, Census Show

Paying The Price The national figures for the 1960 census will tell a story that most of us have known for some time. In what may well be the greatest and most significant American migration in recent history, millions of people are forsaking the farm and crossroads to stream toward the great urban centers of our nation. And at least by the time children of these restless, mobile Americans reach high school, a map of the United States will be covered with huge well-like markings to denote the most complex and awesome cities the world has ever known.

An hour in the bus and railroad stations of a large metropolis will uncover a portion of the millions who set out for the big city each year with their high hopes — and often their every possession — carried with them. Just a short ride along the outskirts of even a moderately large community will uncover row upon row of mass produced, FHA financed homes — the hallmark of sprawling suburbia.

These are the hard facts of an important feature in American life since World War II. In some ways, the massive "urge to move" is perhaps inspiring insofar as it demonstrates that we have not lost the pioneering spirit which made America great. Our people still have the courage to venture into new environments and test new ways. Many of them, I am sure, are hopeful of benefiting their countrymen as well as themselves. We are not, as our enemies would have us believe, such an entirely contented and declining nation at all.

Skellytown Actor Cast In 5 Roles

Don Essary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Essary of Skellytown, has been prominently cast in productions of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival in Ashland, Ore. Essary will be seen in "The Taming of the Shrew," "Julius Caesar," "The Tempest," and "Richard II," and will appear in "The Duchess of Malfi," the first non-Shakespearean play to be seen on the stage of America's first Elizabethan Theatre. Now in his first season with the festival, the actor has portrayed Laertes in "Hamlet," and Captain Fishy in "Teahouse of the August Moon," at West Texas State College. Under the direction of B. Iden Payne, Essary was seen at the University of Texas as Archidamus in "A Winter's Tale."

The Oregon Shakespearean Festival was founded in 1935 by Angus L. Bowmer, the festival's current producing director. Since that time, the festival has grown to be an internationally known theatre of 41 nights running.

Sizzling 97 In Los Angeles

By United Press International Los Angeles, sizzling from a record July 19 temperature of 97, hoped today to cool off a bit. Weather officials predicted a "cold" 92 for Los Angeles today and "pleasant" temperatures for other parts of southern California. In general, clear skies were forecast to grace much of the nation, though thundershower activity appeared to be increasing in the Northeast.

A brief but violent storm caused two fires and knocked out electric power in several central New York communities including parts of Syracuse.

At Lowell, N.Y., lightning set a barn afire, killed six calves and 25 rabbits and caused an estimated $20,000 damage.

Nearly one inch of rain fell at Erie, Pa., and Harrisburg recorded half an inch, accompanied by 35 m.p.h. winds.

Some cooling took place in the upper Great Lakes area, due to a cold air mass from Canada moving in. There was generally little temperature change elsewhere, however.

Harvester Band To Give Opening Concert At National Band Clinic

The executive board by the Mid-West National Band Clinic has announced that the Pampa High School Band, directed by W. E. Tregoe, has been invited to present the grand opening concert of the 14th Annual Mid-West National Band Clinic in the grand ballroom of the Sherman Hotel in Chicago Wednesday evening, Dec. 14.

This is one of the most important events of the four-day Band Clinic (Dec. 14-17) which is in all probability the largest band convention in the world, devoted exclusively to the teaching problems of the band director and the advancement of school music programs.

Few school bands ever have an opportunity to play before such a large, distinguished and discerning audience. Music directors from grade schools through high schools, colleges and universities, municipal bands, and the major United States Service Bands, as well as world-famous artists, composers and conductors, come from almost all of the United States and Canada to enjoy and participate in this convention which has an annual attendance of well over 5,000.

Only eight of the nation's top ranking bands are invited each year to play for the Mid-West National Band Clinic. In view of the extremely high caliber of bands selected, Pampa can well be proud that Director Tregoe and his band have received this distinct honor.

This unquestionably adds even greater musical recognition to Pampa's already enviable record.

On June 25, directors of the bands that will participate in the Executive Board of the Mid-West National Band Clinic at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago for an all-day planning session.

Students Protest State Of Siege

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI)—Police used tear gas and fired warning rifle shots Tuesday night to disperse hundreds of students demonstrating against a national state of siege imposed by President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes.

The students, defying a ban on public meetings, attempted to march on the presidential palace but were blocked by cordon of police backed up by regular army troops. They turned toward the National Congress Building but ran into a curtain of tear gas.

The state of siege was clamped on the country early Tuesday following the government's announcement that heavily armed rebels had attempted unsuccessfully to capture a military base at Coban, capital of the northern province of Alta Verapaz.

Democrats For Kennedy Seek Republican Support

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — A nationwide "Citizens for Kennedy" organization was launched today to try to enlist Republican and independent support for Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy.
Byron (Whizzer) White, Denver lawyer and former All-American football star, was named national chairman of the group, which will include volunteer organizations in all 50 states.
Creation of "Citizens for Kennedy" was announced at the candidate's vacation headquarters by Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary.

The announcement was made as Kennedy called in some of his top political strategists to plan a campaign timetable.
The citizens' group was reminiscent of a similar volunteer organization which was established in 1952 to help win President Eisenhower independent and Democratic support.
Salinger said it would operate on its own but in cooperation with the regulars.
A scheduled session to photograph the candidate, his 29-year-old wife Jacqueline and their 2-year-old daughter Caroline was called off because Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy was "not feeling well."
"It's nothing serious," Salinger said, "she's just indisposed." Mrs. Kennedy is expecting her second child later this year.

PERRYTON — Mrs. Edna Ellis, 68, resident of Ochiltree County since 1912 and wife of Perryton banker Carl Ellis, died about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday in a hospital at Temple, Tex.
She had gone to Temple recently for treatment of a back injury. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Surviving are her husband, Carl, president of the First National Bank; three sons, Mayor Drew Ellis and Donald Ellis, both of Perryton, and Dr. Dan Ellis of Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Roberts of Albuquerque, N.M., and Mrs. G. Crash Kills One, Injures Three AMARILLO (UPI) — A 22-year-old Lubbock man, Thomas Wesley Galloway, was killed and three Amarillo men injured near midnight Tuesday when their sports convertible apparently missed a curve on a city street and plunged 30 yards into a pasture.

Police said survivors of the accident said Galloway was driver of the 1956 model sports car, which rolled over about six times and landed on its top.
Only one of the three injured, Carl Bond, 22, was listed as serious. The others were Bradley Lookingbill and Beverly H. Reed.

inal attorney in Amarillo. Stevens has said he will fight the disbarment suit.
The grand jury's special investigation of the evidence uncovered by the legislative committee is being directed by County Attorney Lon Moser, at the request of District Attorney Wayne Bagley.
Bagley did not conduct it himself because he was linked by one witness to some of the crimes the committee was investigating.
The grand jury met in special session to draw up the indictments against Stevens. It was to meet again today to conduct routine business and another special session was scheduled for Thursday.
Moser declined to say whether new indictments against Stevens were pending, but the fact that other special sessions are planned before the grand jury's term expires early next month led many observers to believe there would be more charges.

Turncoat GI Released On DWI Charge

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Former Army Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor, a turncoat GI who served a prison term for collaborating with the Chinese Reds, was arrested in San Antonio on suspicion of drunk driving, it was disclosed Tuesday.
Batchelor was arrested July 9, but he was freed because an alcohol test on his blood fell short of the amount required before a person can be declared legally drunk.
The legal definition of drunkenness is .15 per cent alcohol content in the blood, while the content in Batchelor's blood was .146 per cent. If he had been found guilty of driving while intoxicated, his parole probably would have been revoked.

MATURE PARENT

When John's new brother started crying, Mommy reached for the bottle she kept wrapped and warm in the baby carriage, began to feed him, and the strange lady sitting beside her on the park bench said admiringly:

"My, look at him pull at that nipple! There's certainly nothing wrong with his appetite."

"No," Mommy agreed. "This one's no trouble at all."

"With his brother we had to try three formulas before we found one that agreed with him. Even then he was always spitting up. This one never does. This one hasn't given me a sleepless night since he was born."

"But with the older one I never knew a single night's unbroken sleep. He..."

Behind the bench John went on digging at the hole he was making as though he hadn't heard Mommy characterize his babyhood as "trouble" to her.

But he had heard and felt so helpless and scared that he couldn't stand it and so began to hate the Mommy who had inflicted the frightening helplessness on him.

A little while later when she told him to stop digging and get ready to go home, he suddenly struck at her with his shovel and produced a tantrum that for the second time that week confounded her with the mysteriousness of 4-year-old temper.

It is unwise of us to complain of a child's troublesome babyhood in his hearing.

To John his infancy is a mysterious darkness in which he had no awareness of himself as either troublesome or untroublesome to Mommy. With no knowledge of himself as he was, he is utterly dependent on Mommy's knowledge of him as he was.

Thus, when she characterizes him as a "troublesome" baby, he has to accept her reproachful idea of what he was, powerless to change it. Under such frustrating circumstances it is no wonder that he strikes at Mommy with his shovel. Like us, children cannot return to the past. John cannot go back to his boyhood and reorganize his digestive and sleeping habits to spare Mommy the troubles they cause her. He is too young to know this.

Recent Violent Tokyo Riots Irk Fifteen-Year-Old Movie Actress

NEW YORK (NEA)—The violent Tokyo student riots which caused President Eisenhower to cancel his Japan visit find little support among many other Japanese students.

One of these is Haruko Wanifuchi, 15-year-old film star, classical musician and student at Onchi Middle School (high school).

To Haruko, now on a world tour the riots are puzzling and shameful. She says:

"Mostly the trouble-makers come from different families than I know. But I do not understand them, how they could do such a thing."

"I was in Europe when the riots broke out, but milder demonstrations have been going on for some time."

"Many of the rioters' mothers and fathers are very embarrassed and sad for their children. I have heard the socialists give them—what do you call them, professional students?—money and they incite the other students."

Haruko arrived here as one stop of her 14-nation tour for the Mainichi Broadcasting system which is filming family life around the world. Haruko is star of the TV series.

During her stay here Haruko learned about American life as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kostin of Westbury, L.I. The Kostin's two daughters, Karen, 16, and Kim, 10, were Haruko's principal guides.

Her tour thus far has taken Haruko to homes in Amsterdam, Athens, Paris, Frankfurt, Stockholm, Vienna and Rome. From New York her travel trail leads to Singapore, Manila, Hong Kong, Caracas, Teheran, Baghdad, Singapore, Manila, Hong Kong and then home.

Haruko is as accomplished as she is pretty. In addition to her film work, she sings, performs in ballet and Japanese dances. A piano student of no little ability, her forte is the violin. She has given recitals in Tokyo's biggest concert hall.

Haruko Wanifuchi

Haruko has five films to her credit, all as the feminine lead. Her latest is "King of the Snow-covered Mountain," co-starring Tony Sailer, the Austrian skier-actor.

She comes by her ability naturally—and through hard work. Her father is Kenshu, famed Japanese concert violinist, her mother an Austrian-born singer.

After her high school work she hopes to study music, preferably in the United States.

Romance has no part in her picture—yet.

Three Major Silhouettes Appear For Season's Basic Suits

WOMAN'S VIEW
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Suits, basics of most women's wardrobes come in three major silhouettes for the new season.

They are the suit with the boxy, hip-top jacket worn with a slim skirt, the hip length jacket belted in to accent fullness, and the walking suit with the long jacket semi-fitted or fitted. The jacket often comes to fingertip length.

Most straight skirts get a supple, fuller look through soft gathers at the waist front. Others with more fabric come pleated or flared slightly.

Collars on the jackets generally are large, set away from the neck, cut Revere style, or are scarves tied at the shoulder and usually removable. Almost every suit comes with its matching or coordinated blouse.

Jacket shoulders are natural with a tendency to slope. Sleeves come set — sometimes with slight gathering — into the yoke of the jacket, in deep armhole versions, and raglan. Most sleeves end at the middle of the forearm; a few are sliced off at the elbow.

These were trends in suit collections shown to visiting fashion reporters attending the New York couture group's semi-annual National Press Week.

Coats show in a variety of silhouettes from the fitted princess to the wide and roomy looking box shapes. Like suits, most come with standaway collars. Some have a demi-fitted front and loose swinging back. Competing with the regulation length coat are the three-quarter and seven-eighths.

In both suits and coats, fur as trim or lining is used lavishly. Some suits come with fur weskits.

Some high points of individual collections shown Monday:

Adele Simpson — an exponent of the "total look" for fall, with coats as companions for suits or two-piece dresses. Uses overblouse extensively. Shows whole range of purples, a favorite color in most everybody's collection. Features "traveler" costumes, of three pieces. The coat can double as a dress. Under it is a two-piece outfit with a daytime dress look. Peel off the over-blouse and there is a low-cut cocktail sheath. "All a girl needs to take extra are a change of jewelry, shoes, and a copy of her speech," said Mrs. Simpson.

Stress Fluid Line

Maurice Rentner — designer Bill Blass stresses the fluid line, bias cut, gored or pleated skirts and wide-shaped sleeves to give a roomy look through the bodice. Many cowl necklines. Many cocktail and evening dresses looked jazzy as the 1920's, with beading from top to bottom.

Monte-Sano & Pruzan — several daytime and late day dresses were pure chemise. But for contrast, designer Jacques Tiffieu produces another silhouette called the "sweptwing," puffed out like a turtle shell across the upper back and shoulders, nipped in at the waist or upper hip and always joined to a narrow skirt. Armholes on this group, are set deep, often to the waist. A whole group of seven-eighths length coats, and dozens of coats reversible with fabric on one side, pre-closure fur on the other.

Hears Speech Old Age Fears

"Do We Fear Old Age?" was the title of a talk given by Mrs. Kennedy at a luncheon at 9:30 a.m. Friday of the White Home Demonstration at the home of Mrs. Bert Leffers.

Those who use their middle years to lay a foundation for the old age are able to face old age with courage, said Kennedy.

Kennedy emphasized that in the middle years one should continue to learn, to acquire new skills, to widen interests, to establish oneself as a useful member of the community, to make friends, to take up hobbies and to keep abreast of the times.

"We all, she said, keep up interest in life and those about us and you will still be able to find an interesting and rewarding life."

Guests present were Mes. Kinzer, W. L. Kinney, B. H. Pearson, Pearl Ferguson, Frank Odus Skinner, Boyd Brown, A. Wagner.

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Skinner, 324 N. Ballard.

Care Dance Tracts Guests

Special guests from Borger led the Calico Capers Square Club dance Saturday.

Guests were Lorraine Alston, Chesand Leona Yell, Lee Roy and Jones, W. R. and Joyce Mike and Jo Willerton, and Mary Williams, and Dorcie Plumber, and Mary Williams, and Dorothy McFarland.

Reeves of Amarillo will be the next dance scheduled July 30. All square dancers invited.

Jordan Hosts Gas Class Supper

(SPL) — The Dorcas of the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Ben Jordan at her recently.

After a covered dish supper, a business meeting was held. R. M. Hobdy gave the devotion.

Guests were Mes. J. W. Suttim Ownbey, E. W. Crowder, Hobdy, E. W. Crowler, Lee Ham, Grace Guthrie, W. F. Gordon, H. H. Marks, C. D. and L. D. Roberts.

Requirements vary in individuals. Don't rely on your sleep for how many hours you need to sleep each night. Your hair and hair as well as skin will be tops after you follow good sleeping habits.

After sprinkling clothes for iron, fold them lightly so that you can create extra creases and lines to iron out.

Building of a "zoo" can fill many happy hours. Imagination and a bit of work create cages of cardboard boxes, with animals kept from roaming behind "bars" made from cellophane straws.

Child Values Chance To Work Alone Unlocking Wonders Of Creative Play

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Are we neglecting our children's right to privacy?

We push them into a stream of organized vacation activities. The minute school is out, summer days flow by on a tight schedule of day camp, swimming, tennis lessons and baseball games.

At home, if they flop in a chair or stretch on the lawn, we instantly remind them of chores they should be doing.

Perhaps we should slow down. Perhaps we should encourage them to explore ways of entertaining themselves.

To be able to spend time alone happily and creatively is at least as valuable a skill as learning to bat a ball.

Youngsters constantly entertained and surrounded by people never get the chance to develop their enjoyment of privacy.

I've learned it isn't enough just to hand the restless child a book you think she'll enjoy. I also know how difficult it is to take time on a busy day to dream up ideas to spark the imagination of a bored child. What was discouraging to me was the number of ideas we had to explore before I saw the light of enthusiasm.

Possibilities are many — painting, whittling, arranging collections of stamps, shells or rocks, making hollyhock dolls, reading for a special interest.

I've combed children's encyclopedias for solo project ideas and noted down school projects which could be adapted for home use.

I learned an easy way to make zoo cages for toy animals from open cardboard boxes with cellophane straws as "bars" but it didn't excite much interest until the kids actually saw a zoo.

Then the suggestion that he make a zoo carried our Charlie into a project that lasted several days. Aluminum foil pie pans became pools for seals, an old toy bird cage with twisted colored paper birds was the aviary.

A home-sized version of a school's social study project can occupy the mind and talent, too. One example is a miniature frontier village with log cabins, wigwams, Indians, cowboys and corrals.

A large sheet of cardboard can serve as background. The various components are outlined on construction paper and cut out. Then taped at the bottom edge in position on the cardboard.

RUTH MILLETT

Memo to Men:

If your idea of the perfect family vacation is "roughing it" by camping out or renting a summer cottage with cooking facilities, make sure that Mama isn't the one who gets the rough end of the vacation.

No woman who cooks three meals a day at home is going to find cooking three meals a day under primitive conditions much of a vacation.

So it's up to Papa to divide up the job of cooking and dishwashing so that Mama, Papa and the kids all do their share.

If there are small children Papa shouldn't leave Mama at the cottage all day baby-sitting while he goes off fishing. After all, Mama can baby-sit all day at home.

Most women on vacation like to do a little sight-seeing and window-shopping along the way. So Papa's idea of making 300 or 600 miles a day isn't likely to seem like much of a vacation to Mama, especially if she has to try to keep the kids from fighting on the back seat while Papa concentrates on the road ahead.

Housekeeping ought to be divided up, too, so that Mama doesn't spend her time washing out clothes, sweeping floors, making beds and so on.

Dear Abby...

These Neighborly Visits Call For Action By Wife

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: With vacation near, my husband and I are disagreeing over his friendship with a young, single neighbor. She has a cottage near ours, and she gets my husband there on various pretexts—"Stopped-up drains", blown fuses, etc. Once he's there, she takes his time discussing her problems (boyfriends, business, family) with him.

Since he hasn't enough time to listen to MY problems, or to fix my drain or replace my fuses, how can he justify giving his time to this single woman?

SUMMER BLUES
DEAR SUMMER BLUES: If your husband goes repeatedly to your neighbor's cottage to be her handy man or wailing wall, he must enjoy it. There's more than a stopped-up drain and a bad fuse involved here. Bring your grievances out in the open and find out what the woman has that you don't. Then, make up the deficiency.

DEAR ABBY: We have two sons, 8 and 9, who are perfectly wonderful, except for one thing. They just detest each other. They won't even eat in the same room. To avoid a fight I have to serve them at different times or in separate rooms.

They get along fine with the other children in the neighborhood but they can't get along with each other. Abby, I have tried everything and am at the end of my rope. What can I do? Some folks say this is normal.

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: A certain amount of hostility between brothers at this age is normal, but your boys are carrying things to a serious extreme. Catering to their demands is wrong. Set the table for the family. And if either or both boys refuse to eat "with the family" let them go hungry. An empty stomach produces "food" for thought.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope in care of this paper.

How Long Does Liston Wait?

To hear the chorus that's going around, you'd think the Sonny Liston fan club is made up of a whole bunch of people named Frank Clements.

Their favorite slogan now is "How long, oh Lord, how long?"

Of course they're not referring to Republican administration like the former Tennessee governor did in his dramatic keynote speech of 1956.

What they want to know is how long it will be before they let the Philadelphia mauler fight for the world's heavyweight championship.

Liston has lost only one professional fight, and that was at the start of his career.

No one can say how good a boxer he is; because no fighter has ever been around at the end of a Sonny Liston jam session.

Eddie Machen, Zora Folley, Roy Harris — name the leading heavyweight contenders and you'll have a list of the men Liston sent off to dreamland.

Liston's Folley In 3 Rounds

In his latest escapade Liston seemed to be below par. It took him three rounds to knock out Folley, where he had been putting his opponent away in one frame.

But you have to give Liston credit. He had Folley down once in the first round and twice more for nine counts in the second. It took only 28 seconds for Liston to finish the job after the third round began.

before the last championship fight, and the Philadelphian seems to be teeming from that indignity.

If he should get a shot at Johansson, he might just string him along for 10 to 12 rounds and try to mess up the Swede's handsome profile.

One of the key contributions to Liston's success are his massive fists — they measure a startling 14 inches across.

Liston is clamoring for a shot at the title, and rightfully so since he's whipped the best the heavyweight division can offer.

But now he thinks he should fight Ingemar Johansson and the winner of that match should get the right to battle Floyd Patterson for the title.

With hammers that size he can land a punch high on his opponent's abdomen and graze his chin in the process.

Although Liston hails from Philadelphia, he claims to be a Texan now.

Ingemar would allow Liston to be introduced at the Polo Grounds.

It seems he was so pleased with the reception he got in Houston recently when he put Roy Harris to sleep in the first round, that he wants to fight there again and to adopt Texas as his native state.

Hitters Can't Go It Alone

There has been some controversy over announcing the batting averages of Pony League players on the all-star team.

level. And when he did it was all with singles; he didn't have enough power to hit a ball any further.

Two of the players were hitting less than .200, and it was felt in some quarters that fans would think these batting averages were a little too anemic for an all-star player.

Yet he was always an outstanding star and a favorite with the fans because of his dazzling glove work.

However, just look at some of the players who have been named to major league all-star teams.

Gordon William Hunter, a shortstop for Kansas City three years back was the same way — good field, no hit.

Willie Miranda made it when he played shortstop for the Baltimore Orioles.

It's possible to overload a team with good hitters. The San Francisco Giants have discovered that this summer.

Miranda was undoubtedly one of the worst hitters to ever reach the major leagues. He seldom, without the aid of a miracle, boosted his batting average above the .200

The Giants threw defense to the wind and built a roster of terrifying hitters.

Rookie Delays Giants' Tumble

They say only a miracle can revive the San Francisco Giants, and that seems to describe Juan Marichal.

got the run he needed when Jim Davenport singled home Orlando Cepeda in the second inning. Willie Kirkland singled home Willie Mays with the other San Francisco tally in the fifth.

A Class D pitcher only two years ago and brought up from Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League just before the All-Star break, the 21-year-old fastballer from the Dominican Republic gave the Giants a shot in the arm Tuesday night with one of the most astonishing debuts in big league history.

The Braves equalled their longest winning streak of the season with a 10-hit attack featured by a homer and a single by Hank Aaron and two hits each by Del Crandall, Ed Mathews and Johnny Logan. Rookie Ron Piche shut out the Cardinals for the last 2 1/3 innings to end their four-game winning streak. Stan Musial, Curt Flood and Julian Javier homered for St. Louis.

All Marichal did was strike out 12 batters and pitch a one-hitter to give the Giants a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and revive, at least for the moment, hopes of a San Francisco comeback. Marichal had a perfect game for 6 1/3 innings and a no-hitter until pinch-hitter Clayton Dalrymple singled cleanly with two out in the eighth.

Norm Larker's two-run seventh-inning homer, his third hit of the game, enabled the Dodgers to give Larry Sherry his seventh triumph and dealt Pittsburgh's Fred Green his fourth defeat. Bill Virdon drove in three Pirate runs with two doubles and a homer.

That blow spoiled Marichal's bid to match Bobo Holloman's feat of pitching a no-hitter in his first major league appearance for the St. Louis Browns in 1933. But it didn't bother Marichal, who retired the final batter in the eighth and then pitched a perfect ninth to wrap up the win.

Frank Robinson's two homers drove in three runs and Jim O'Tool pitched a six-hitter for the Reds, who handed Don Cardwell his ninth loss. The win squared O'Tool's record at 8-8.

The Milwaukee Braves ran their winning streak to six games with a 9-5 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, and the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, in other National League games.

Bill Skowron's three-run double was the big blow of the Yankees' ninth-inning rally that climaxed an uphill struggle. Skowron also hit two homers and Roger Maris hit his 30th and Yogi Berra his 10th. Maris is two games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 1927 pace, the Babe hitting his 30th homer that season in the Yankees' 83rd game of the campaign.

The New York Yankees rallied for five runs in the ninth inning to beat the Cleveland Indians, 13-11, and retain their two-game lead, the Chicago White Sox beat the Boston Red Sox, 6-0, Pedro Ramos' one-hitter gave the Washington Senators a 9-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers, and the Baltimore Orioles scored a 10-inning, 9-3 win over the Kansas City Athletics in American League action.

NO ARGUMENT HERE — Veteran National League umpire Al Barlick knows how to enjoy an occasional off day. Here he spends one such day fishing with his daughter, Kathleen, at Lake Springfield, Ill.

Rebels Lose 2-1 In Legion Meet

AMARILLO — Four errors led to the downfall of the Pampa Rebels last night as the Amarillo Dusters won the opening game of the American Legion baseball tournament, 2-1.

Two of the miscues led directly to the Dusters' runs.

In the second inning, Amarillo plated one run when with two outs, Gene Moore came home on Keith Gregory's error.

The Dusters scored again in the seventh when Bill Overturf scored as the result of another error.

The Rebels counted only one run. That came in the sixth frame on a single by Roy Don Stephens and a double by Larry Stroud.

Butch Crossland, who got a double in the seventh, accounted for the only other Rebel hit.

All four of the Amarillo hits were singles.

Mike Clark went the distance for the Rebels, and struck out eight while walking only two.

The line score:

Borger Rips Pampa Stars

CHILDRESS — The Pony League All-Stars met a potent aggregation from Borger last night and wound up as victims of a 14-3 slaughter.

Phil Woodring, one of the supposedly weak hitters on the Pampa club, provided about the only bright spot when he connected with a towering home run in the fifth inning.

Aside from Woodring's clout, a pair of singles by Mike Schale and a ground rule double by Dee Wright were the only hits the Pampa All-Stars collected.

Wright was the starting and losing pitcher for Pampa. In his one inning stint he allowed five runs on only one hit, struck out two and walked three.

He was followed to the mound by Mike Bridges who also lasted an inning. Bridges gave up three runs on one hit, fanned one and issued four free passes.

Bobby Price worked the last four frames for Pampa, allowing six runs and six hits while striking out three and walking a similar number.

Mike Leshner went the distance for Borger and struck out 15 Pampa batters.

The Pampa All-Stars will play the loser of tonight's Childress-Borger game, tomorrow night. The winner of that contest will play the winner of tonight's game for the championship Friday night.

Palmer PGA Choice

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The long ball hitters appeared to be in the front ranks today for the PGA championship starting Thursday with Arnold Palmer shooting for a new golfing grand slam.

This 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course is built for those golfers who can hit 'em far and straight and the favored Palmer can do just that. He proved it

Tuesday when he had a practice round four-under-par 68.

Practice rounds do not mean much but as Mike Souchak, the former all-conference football player from Duke, pointed out, they tend to tell whether a golfer is on his game.

"Arnie sure is," said burly Mike, who played with him but lost despite an even par 70.

"He hit 'em long and he hit 'em straight," he added. "And that's what it is going to take to win this one."

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, who has won about everything in golf except the PGA championship, agreed that "it is going to take the long ball to win this one."

"They have the tees about 29 yards farther back than normal," he explained. "Why, on the front nine, except for that par three fifth hole, the shortest iron I used for an approach was a number five."

Palmer and Souchak, on the other hand, were using seven, eight and nine irons for their approaches.

Palmer, the Masters and U.S. Open champion, had seven birdies in the first 14 holes in Tuesday's practice round, deucing each the four par-three holes. He this although he started out with a bogey and double bogey the first four holes.

Should 1960's golfing golden win this one, it would give the three major U.S. golf titles open for a professional golfer, one ever has won the Masters the Open and the PGA in a year. Doing it constitutes a bigger grand slam than Ben Jones scored in 1930 when he the U.S. and British Open amateur tournaments.

Palmer, just two months from his 32nd birthday, turned pro after winning the U.S. amateur in 1954. This has been his biggest year with official money winnings of $66,600. Actually gold he has gotten from golf a year is much more than that cause the official winnings do take into account the fees he received from endorsements, television appearances, etc.

Naturally Palmer is favored to win this one. But the odds-makers were not counting out Souchak Art Wall, making a strong comeback after a kidney operation, sending champion Bob Rosburg and two old-timers coming to end of their long but glorious golfing trails — three-time winner Sam Snead and Ben Hogan.

Conference Of Baseball Brass Is Due

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A showdown meeting at which the proposed Continental League will say if it is prepared to meet the standards for a third major league was being arranged today with representatives of the two operating major leagues.

The invitation for such a meeting was extended by Walter F. O'Malley, the Los Angeles Dodgers as chairman of the National League's expansion committee who said he was inviting American League representatives to attend.

The proposal drew the assent of Branch Rickey, president of the Continental League who suggested the meeting be held in New York next week. O'Malley, a Democrat, had no objections but he said some Republican members of both the National and American League committees might want to wait until after the GOP convention in Chicago next week.

Rickey in a prepared statement in New York said that by its action the National League belatedly renewed recognition that expansion was necessary for major league baseball.

But the possibility that the major league might be considering "internal expansion" drew surprise from Rickey.

"I am confident that several members of the National League will join with 180 million people and the United States Congress in favoring the organization of a third major league."

Chicken Stealing -- A Way Of Life

Most of us have read Mark Twain's engaging story of 'Huckleberry Finn.' If we have, we are entirely familiar with the sagacious and villainous of Huck's father, who in anybody's language, was fairly close to a voracious hobo.

Free Trade

From time to time we have offered the observation that if we believed in a free market on a world-wide basis and hence, if we permitted absolute free trade in a global manner, we would have released into this world what might be the greatest war deterrent conceivable.

The Pampa Daily News

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — Are you a white-collar fellow looking for a job? It isn't difficult. American has medium-sized companies looking for $10,000-a-year executives the way a shad has roe. I didn't say $100,000 or even $50,000. I said $10,000, or more, but not really in the enormous hoekets.

You have to go to a party to run information of this kind. Some people gave a sort of farewell-to-the-country party for us and there I met a determined man named William A. Horton, who turned out to be president of Executive Manpower Corp.

And what was the executive job picture as of this July moment, Mr. Horton? Well, here it is: Demand for executives in the bracket mentioned, or just above it, will hold up in the next six months of 1960 but categories are shifting slightly.

Well, here it is: Demand for executives in the bracket mentioned, or just above it, will hold up in the next six months of 1960 but categories are shifting slightly.

What is curious is that in many a state there are laws prohibiting even such agencies as pawn brokers from receiving stolen goods. In fact, there's a name for such actions. It is called "fencing."

But by reason of our rather widespread acceptance of the senior Finn's point of view, there are millions of persons in this nation engaged in the nefarious business of receiving stolen goods handed to them thru the chicken stealing routine.

The government steals, and then distributes some of what it has stolen. The fact that the government does it, in no way changes the nature of the act.

One of the curious phenomena of our times relates to the rise of the class of citizens of the senior Finn's calibre, to a position almost of ruling class. We have a professional "do good" society, actively parading about the country, handing out the stolen chickens on the assumption that such deeds of goodness are apt to be politically rewarding as, indeed, they are.

Morality and political rewards are about as far apart as any two contrary ideas can be. Chicken stealing, with distribution of the chickens officially accomplished by the politicians, has become a way of life.

only, the banishment of tariffs between the states aided every state to improve its standards of living. This may have been the largest single contribution provided by the newly ratified Constitution.

But the service performed by the Constitution is found in its negative and not in its positive function. Tariffs and embargoes between states were negatively prevented. Thus, unencumbered, trade flowed easily across all state borders as they had not existed. This is no way deprived each state of its individuality or its unique characteristics. Nor did it destroy the borders. It simply created a large area of freedom in which all persons could benefit.

The serious obstacle to this marvelous area of freedom occurred, when northern manufacturers succeeded in getting a large-scale punitive tariff enacted to protect their own output from European competition. The act of tariff closed Southern ports and the Civil War was fought.

Thus, so long as we operated in the free market and practiced free trade, all was well. The Civil War sprang from the legal restraint of trade.

The same factors which function within our nation are at play outside it as well.

Were we to agree to banish all trade barriers, the world would flourish and the major deterrent to war would be operative. After such a procedure, the only probable cause for war would occur if and when tariffs were ever re-instituted.

The United Nations organization is not an organization designed to eliminate tariff barriers. It is an organization designed to use total combined force against any nation which, in the minds of majorities of "representatives" within the U.N. body, should be put down by force.

The United Nations is to all intents and purposes a larger government, using or planning to use larger means of compulsion to bring about conformity. The world in which we live cannot survive under such types and kinds of pressures. We need freedom and free trade, not world government, force and massive retaliation.

Castro's Idea Of "Aggression"

ROBERT S. ALLEN

The Allen-Scott Report

PAUL SCOTT

KENNEDY MAY CONFER WITH ALLIES ABROAD BEFORE LAUNCHING HIS CAMPAIGN HERE

WASHINGTON — Senator John Kennedy will probably go to Britain, France and East Germany, to confer with the leaders of those NATO allies, before launching his fall election campaign.

The Democratic Presidential nominee particularly wants to meet with President deGaulle and Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. Such a dramatic pre-election battle trip is strongly favored by Kennedy's principal advisers — House Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., who directed his convention strategy, Representative Chester Bowles, Conn., Chairman of the Platform Committee and an authority on foreign affairs, Representative William M. Green, Philadelphia, who played a key role in swinging most of the Pennsylvania delegation to Kennedy, and Senator Gale McGee, Wyo., who did the same thing with the delegates from his state.

These lieutenants are urging the European visit as highly desirable to stress Kennedy's knowledge of and intent interest in foreign affairs, and to counter anticipated Republican strategy of making this subject the major issue of the Presidential contest.

Actually, the Democratic nominee had planned to go to Europe early this year. He contemplated doing that as a member of the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

But the protracted civil rights battle and the turbulent primary races in Wisconsin and West Virginia upset this plan and Kennedy was unable to go abroad. Now he is doubly eager to do so, and will if it can possibly be arranged before early September when the Presidential clash gets underway.

POLITICALS — Robert Kennedy, whip-smart younger brother manager of the Democratic nominee, does not plan to seek his Senate seat, if he is elected to the White House. "Bobby" is telling intimates, "I have no thought of doing that. I hope to run for office sometime, but I am in no hurry. I can wait." Former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, father of the Senator, will sit out the Presidential race — in Europe.

question. But the figure was given: about 42.3 per cent.

Using $10,000 annually as a base, how much higher could a man reach: $10,000 to $20,000 a year for 86.4 per cent of the companies and for 13.1 per cent of them the pay will be between $20,000 and $40,000.

He said that some replies received in the poll were humnaly fascinating. Wives often objected to their husbands taking jobs in small towns, feeling that life at less money and position was happier in a city. It was found, oddly, that there was some resistance when a job candidate learned he would be sent to a subsidiary corporation in the South.

Make of that what you will. Horton made nothing of it. One corporation described itself as having such high standards that men of caliber were difficult to find — and then said the jobs paid $6,500 a year. Perhaps the difficulty was in money and not standards.

However, a corporation with a $18,000 job open said it also found it hard to find good men for it. One company was a little starchy, saying: "You are assuming that no executive earns less than $10,000 a year. Utopian, we would say."

It's Up To You

Western Idealism Helps Commies

Professor Robert Strausz-Hupe does well to point out in "Protracted Conflict" (Harper & Brothers) that the Communists are winning in the battle for the world because they know they are in it while most of our western leaders and people do not yet realize that most important fact.

Cultural interchange, summit conferences and visits by Communist leaders are mainly for the purpose of convincing the West that there is no serious conflict, that there is no need to be alarmed and that peaceful co-existence is quite possible. All these are instruments of policy used by the Communists to further their objective — our destruction.

Such tactics have so paralyzed the will of the people and the governments of free countries that they are unable to act in the face of the demonstrated facts that the Communists continually carry the conflict into our territory. They intervened in Korea, Indonesia, Indo-China, Latin America, Egypt, Syria, Laos, Iraq and in the domestic affairs of every western country; but we must never carry the ball into Red territory.

At the time of the uprising in East Germany, the rebellion in Hungary or the suppression in Tibet, it was assumed all over the West that we could not, even indirectly, extend military aid to the patriots or even moral support in the way of breaking relations with the Communist countries without triggering a world war. Why then are the Communists able to pursue their world-wide intervention without danger of setting off a general conflict? Clearly, western idealism and confusion is being turned to the advantage of the Communists. The West seems to think that the long series of aggression perpetrated by the Communists are isolated incidents and not part of a general campaign to weaken our will and erode our strength.

They have been outstandingly successful up to this time. If they are permitted to continue so doing for a few years longer, they will have won the most decisive battle in the world's history. Most of our leaders and most of our people do not yet seem to realize that our free, western Christian civilization is engaged in a titanic struggle for its life.

Already the Communists hold us in great contempt as evidenced by the attack on Law just as Khrushchev was accepting Mr. Eisenhower's invitation to visit our country. Evidently, Mr. Khrushchev had no respect for our will or our understanding of the significance of Communist actions in their strategy for our destruction.

Peace offensives to allay our fears are a part of the Communist campaign. These are followed by little wars for annexing bits of territory here and there, sometimes very large bits. Meanwhile the campaign to weaken our vitality by excessive spending all over the world is prosecuted vigorously and with the help of much of our own political, commercial and clerical leadership. Another facet of the campaign is to increase the powers and functions of the United Nations with the full expectation of member countries, we will be stripped of our remaining wealth and forced to go along with Communist-dictated policy. The western, Christian nations are now a minority in U.N. and with the admission of additional countries, now being urged even by our own leaders, the voting strength of the western block will decline. At that point U.N., with its enlarged powers, could seize our wealth by taxation and direct its military force against us if we refused to fall in line.

On the few occasions when we light pressure for at least 10 minutes or until bleeding is completely stopped. Don't keep pecking and wiping. Wait until a clot forms.

If the wound remains open, flush it with running water. Don't douse it with iodine or any other antiseptic. You'll kill very few bugs and you may get a chemical burn.

After the wound has been cleaned and the bleeding has stopped, apply a clean dressing. The inner side of a freshly laundered handkerchief will do.

And the toughest job of all, I've left for last. Start for home so as to arrive before dark. You'll avoid road delays and the accident peak at sunset.

You won't return to work the next morning feeling as if you'd been trampled by wild elephants.

Brothers Ganged Up On McClellan Committee

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES. — Sen. Barry Goldwater recently told me in Washington that Jack Kennedy and his brother, Robert, who is also his political manager, ran the hearings of the so-called McClellan Committee on union racketeering just as they pleased. Robert was counsel to the committee. The investigation protected Walter Reuther and the United Auto Workers of the CIO and brazenly sidestepped the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, whose president, Dave Dubinsky, has received from the Kennedys personally, the designation "honest." This compliment to Dubinsky was published in Robert Kennedy's book, "The Enemy Within." This is a self-serving political account of their conduct of the investigation.

By this process, Dubinsky's union and Dubinsky himself were spared the same hostile public scrutiny that the Kennedys directed at Dave Beck, a Republican, and a notorious crook, and at Maurice Hutcheson, Beck was boss of the Teamsters Union, giving way to Jimmy Hoffa after the committee performed the easy task of exposing him, already well advanced in these dispatches. Hutcheson was and remains boss of the Carpenters Union.

Kennedy has now made a public issue of his conduct and Bobby's in the management of this investigation, with special emphasis on the question of political favoritism toward Reuther. In "The Enemy Within" the Kennedys accuse Goldwater and other Republicans individually of planting lies about him and Bobby in the newspapers and some news magazines. Goldwater, on the other hand, has openly said, specifically to me, that the Kennedys would get their heads together in their political brother-act and direct the business of the committee absolutely without authority so that other senators would get their first news of important decisions only when they have shown a little strength and determination, such as refusing to surrender Quemoy, standing firm on Berlin, insisting that the Communists withdraw from Iran and going to the aid of Lebanon, we have not triggered a world war and have given encouragement to those on both sides of the Iron Curtain who are resisting Communist tyranny. This should convince the West of the wisdom of being firm, of encouraging our friends everywhere (including those in the Communist countries who have not given up their determination to be free) and of refusing to cooperate in all the Communist machinations to worry us to death, to bleed us to death and at the same time to hasten our execution by lopping off chunks of territory here and there.

We must realize that the Communists negotiate not for the purpose of seeking solutions to problems and resolving difficulties but for the purpose of weakening our position and leading us step by step toward surrender. They are determined to destroy us and they negotiate only for the purpose of advancing toward that goal.

Goldwater recently told me that he gravely feared for the future of the country if Kennedy should become President because, he said, Kennedy had neither "guts nor principles." Barry later denied that he had said Jack had no guts, citing Jack's battle record. I told Barry I had made notes immediately after our talk and that I stood by my statement in print. I said I was referring to moral courage, and reminded Barry that Jack had thrown down Joe McCarthy, but only after McCarthy was in his grave, notwithstanding a great personal and political debt to McCarthy. Barry, stood on his denial and I still stand on my assertion that he did say flatly that Kennedy had no guts.

Youth Revival Finale In Harvester Stadium

The Pampa Revival will hold its closing service Sunday night, Aug. 14, in Harvester Stadium at 8 p.m. Mert Cooper, general chairman of the youth-sponsored week of evangelism announced the plan at a meeting of the executive committee this week.

The 14 participating churches, whose youth departments are in charge of all revival arrangements, will be requested to forego their regular Sunday evening worship services, or to conclude them early in order to join in the religious rally.

Organist for the revival will be Nannette Flynt, a June graduate of Pampa High, and a member of Central Baptist Church. Dividing the duties of pianist will be Jerry Baster and Marilyn Smith.

Services will be held Monday through Saturday nights at 8 p.m., Aug. 8 through Aug. 13, in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spear & Staff, Inc. says that on the whole, business and international news is not encouraging and any worsening could bring a downside penetration of the Dow 650 consolidation area. It recommends a cautious investment policy.

International Statistical Bureau says that since capital gains opportunities are temporarily limited by Eaton Manufacturing, commitments should be switched into Champion Sparkplug, a supplier to the replacement market which grows in all years and is almost immune to economic changes. First estimates for the 1961 auto market, it notes, are running between 5.9 and 6.0 million units.

No-Roach Rids Pests

Here is a hint that may be helpful to readers who are bothered by roaches, spiders, ants and other pests.

Humid weather is buggy weather, but it doesn't take long to figure out a way to get rid of these are the items that you will need:

- Shelf paper
- Any good insecticide—treated shelf paper
- 1 pint Johnston's No-Roach disinfectant
- Monthly, paint all doors and windowsills including sashes, with liquid No-Roach. It's both invisible and odorless, and it dries fast.
- Brush around kitchen cabinets, cupboards and any appliances such as washing machines and dishwashers, where there is dampness.
- In the bathroom, be sure to put a good coat of No-Roach around the toilet, tub, and shower area and sink. It is water soluble and washes out. But just coming into contact with water does not make it lose its effectiveness.
- Insects will not come near a liquid disinfectant. Use this in diaper pails, and in your water for scrubbing floors, cleaning woodwork, etc. One trick is to take a cloth and saturate it with disinfectant. Wipe the inside of your clothes hamper and any other place where seasonal clothing is stored.

BEAT PLATFORM

NEW YORK (UPI)—The week-long convention of the Beat Party opens here today to approve a platform calling for the abolition of the working class and a $10 billion subsidy for artists.

Dark horse candidate for president, who will be beat before he even gets started, is Mr. G. A. Gorilla, who escaped from the Brookfield Zoo in Chicago, according to Slim Brundage, operator of the College of Complexes here and in Chicago.

The platform approved in plenary session Sunday also advocates "making peace with everyone, since all beatniks are cowards."

RATION MOVIES

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—The City Council decided Sunday to ration movies.

The council agreed with a local youth group that the younger generation was spending too much time at the movies. So it decided to issue passes to youngsters between 12 and 16 allowing them to see no more than four movies a month.

COURT PROCEDURE

The general practice is for the Court to hear arguments for two weeks, then recess for two weeks, alternately until near the end of the term. When cases are being argued sessions are held Monday through Friday, on the same days precisely at 12 noon. The Marshal cries the opening of court and the black-robed Judges step forth from openings in the velvet drapes behind the judicial bench to assume their duties.

In the usual case each side is given one hour to present its argument. The presentation is frequently interrupted by sharp questions from the bench and the lawyer with a weak point often finds himself seriously embarrassed by cutting remarks from some impatient Justice.

Argument continues until 2:00 p.m., when the Chief Justice announces a recess for a half-hour lunch period. Then at 2:30 court resumes and is finally adjourned at 4:30 p.m. With arguments concluded the Court then takes the case under consideration, and prepares the decision and opinion of the Court.

More Tips On Driving

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of driving tips prepared by the Education Committee of the Pampa Traffic Commission.

Don't Be A Killer

Thousands of otherwise normal Americans will become killers this year.

If you want to keep your name off that list, abide by the following eight points:

1. Be sure you are physically fit to drive. A simple ailment may affect driving judgement.
2. Be mentally prepared to drive. Driving is a full-time job.
3. Know your auto. Study its acceleration, deceleration, turning circle and "blind spots."
4. Be certain your car is in top operating condition. Check tires

SEAT COVER HEADQUARTERS

Learn the fundamentals of "freeway" and "turnpike" driving. Avoid "Highway Hypnosis."

Learn and observe the difference in night driving. Also, put glowing tape on the rear of your car.

Learn to handle your car in bad weather, slow down and use chains in snow or mud.

Don't speed, don't speed, don't speed!

LAUNCH HOUSING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government launched a $20 million program Monday to build more housing for older persons in the "lower middle income bracket" and named Daniel G. Minto, California and Hawaii businessman, to direct it.
