First-Ballot Victory For Senator Kennedy

Will Choose Running Mate This Evening

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy launched a confident campaign for the White House today within hours after winning the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

His first order of business was to pick a vice presidential running mate and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, one of his defeated rivals for top spot on the ticket, was the runaway favorite.

Truman Has No Comment

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman, with the usual bounce in his voice, declined today to comment on the nomination of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

Truman said he expected to have a statement "later," but did not know when. He indicated it might be late today or possibly not until Friday.

Reached at his office in the Truman Library here, Truman seemed, if anything, in even better spirits than usual.

"Thank you for calling, but I haven't a thing to say," he said amiably. "When I have I'll be sure to let you know."

Republican Richard M. Nixon with all of the vigor and political finesse which he displayed in gaining massive control of this convention.

He held a brief conference with top Democratic leaders from key states outside the convention hall barely an hour after his nomination was made official.

The presidential nominee also scheduled another strategy huddle with party leaders this morning to discuss his vice presidential choice.

Gov. Mike DiSalle of Ohio, an early Kennedy backer, predicted that Symington would be the vice presidential selection.

New Outbreak By Congo Mobs

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Riotous mobs rampaged through the streets of Leopoldville in a new orgy of looting and shooting today.

The new rampage by rebellious Congolese soldiers and jobless natives came as the United Nations moved to send in an international military force to restore peace and it was announced that the Republic of the Congo has broken diplomatic relations with Belgium.

The first U.N. troops were expected here shortly, perhaps in a couple of days. But Premier Noire Tshombe of Katanga province announced that they will not be permitted to set foot there, since he has pulled Katanga out of the republic and declared it a sovereign state.

Before the new outbreak of rioting, Belgian paratroopers and loyal Congolese soldiers had patrolled the city together under a "truce" arrangement designed to protect white Europeans until U.N. help arrives.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, special U.N. delegate to the Republic of the Congo, told newsmen here this afternoon that the U. N. troops would arrive in the Congo within 48 hours.

"There will be four battalions in by the end of next week," he said.

The troops will be commanded by Gen. Karl von Horn of Sweden, presently with the U.N. truce supervisory organization along the Israeli borders.

Bunche said Belgian troops will be withdrawn gradually as the United Nations contingent is built up. The contingent will consist of troops from Ghana, French Guinea, Mali and Tunisia.

"The troops will have only defensive weapons and their trucks and equipment will be provided by their own nations," Bunche said.

The announcement of severance of relations between the Congo and Belgium was made to the Chamber of Deputies in Brussels by Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny.

AIR SERVICE PLEA — Three main workers in Pampa's program to bring commercial air line service to the city look over copies of the booklets they prepared to use in their plea to the Civil Aeronautics Board. From left, they are Rev. Woodrow Adcock, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee; Mrs. Arlene Matthews, corresponding secretary for the chamber; and Jiggs Cooke, director of city public affairs works.

City Makes Application To CAB For Air Service

Pampa is one step closer to obtaining scheduled air transportation service. The city of Pampa and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce (hereinafter called Pampa) hereby apply to the Civil Aeronautics Board for the issuance, pursuant to Section 401 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, of a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing scheduled air transportation of persons, property and mail to Ft. Worth, Dallas, Amarillo and Oklahoma City and such other points as the Board might find to be required by the public convenience and necessity.

The rest of the brief contains data relative to and in support of the need for the service. Quoting a statement signed by John Koontz, city manager, and E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the chamber: "Such a service would not only serve Pampa, but a vast area containing a population of more than 50,000 people. This schedule does not include the Berger area."

Other items included in the folio are civic considerations, economic considerations, transportation facilities, oil and gas resources, manufacturing and processing, mail service, airport facilities and community interest.

Central Airlines is the company interested in bringing service to Pampa.

Following the mailing of the brief, which was produced by the chamber office, Pampa will conduct a traffic survey to determine the potential amount of airline business that might be expected. It will be submitted as a supplement to the exhibit.

Pampa's request is included in the case known as the Southwest Area Local Service Case before the Board. Several cities in the southwest are involved either asking for airline service or improvement. (See CITY, Page 4)

Ike Says Russ Lie U.S. Plane Not Spying

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — The Summer White House said today that Russia is "just lying" when it claims that the U.S. RB-47 plane shot down over the Barents Sea had violated Soviet air space.

That was the comment of Press Secretary James C. Hagerty when informed of a Moscow radio claim that Russia had "proof" that the plane was over Soviet territory. The Russian radio said the White House had "no idea where the plane was actually shot down."

Asked what facts he could provide reporters to prove the U.S. claim, Hagerty said, "That is the word of the United States government."

The bitter exchanges between Moscow and Washington were only the prelude to what is expected to be a full-dress explosion when the United Nations Security Council next week opens debate on a long series of incidents involving American planes shot down by the Russians.

President Eisenhower's prompt acceptance of Russia's challenge to a U.N. "discussion" set the stage for what is expected to be one of the bitterest debates in the history of the United Nations.

The President this morning worked at his office at naval base headquarters here. A drizzling rain fell this morning but the President was heartened by a forecast of clearing weather this afternoon which might permit him to get in another round of golf.

Soviet Ship Takes Peek

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, smarting under Russian spy plane accusations, has struck back by charging that a Soviet espionage ship disguised as a fishing vessel came snooping within 12 miles of the mouth of Chesapeake Bay April 27.

The 600-ton trawler Vega, bristling with 11 radar and radio antennas, is the same Russian ship that was reported earlier to have spied on the nuclear submarine George Washington during exercises off Long Island, N.Y., April 26.

The Navy summoned briefing to a hurriedly called Wednesday in a closely guarded section of its Pentagon headquarters to give an account of the Vega's cruise down the East Coast to the Chesapeake Bay area. (See SOVIET, Page 4)

Two Airliners Crash; 87 Of 88 Are Rescued

MANILA (UPI)—Two crippled airliners ditched at sea early today off the Philippines coast, but 87 of 88 persons aboard the planes were swiftly rescued from the shark-infested waters.

Only one death was reported and several other persons were injured. Fifty-eight persons were aboard a Northwest Airlines DC-7C plane that went down near Polillo Island, about 75 miles northeast of Manila, after it lost a propeller and an engine caught fire.

The Northwest plane was en route to Manila from New York, via Seattle, Alaska, Tokyo and Okinawa. The aircraft carried 51 passengers and seven crewmen.

The victim was identified by Northwest as Mrs. Guy Kelley of Springfield, Ohio. She apparently drowned, the airline reported. Mrs. Kelley had boarded the plane with her husband at New York City.

Among the passengers who survived were Clarence Hoffman of Miami and Edward V. Snyder of Winston-Salem, N. C. Air control officials here called the crash-landing one of the outstanding ditch operations in airline history.

Japanese Leader Is Stabbed

TOKYO (UPI)—Premier Nobusuke Kishi was stabbed in the leg and seriously wounded today shortly after a convention of his ruling Liberal Democratic Party chose Hayato Ikeda to succeed him in office.

Police arrested Taisuke Aramaki, 65, apparently a member of Kishi's party, as the assailant. He refused to say why he did it.

Police said Aramaki lunged at Kishi with a Japanese navy knife at a victory celebration for Ikeda at the prime minister's official residence.

Kishi, his eyes and mouth agape with shock, was carried from the residence by four men. He was rushed to Maeda Hospital in Azabu where it was said he had lost a considerable amount of blood.

Hospital officials said Kishi had six stab wounds in his left thigh and would be hospitalized at least 10 days.

Kishi has been the target of abusive and violent demonstrations by Communists and fellow travelers protesting Japan's military ties with the United States.

Shortly before the stabbing, a convention of the Liberal Democratic Party elected, Ikeda, 60-year-old minister for international trade and industry, as the party president.

According to the present schedule, Kishi will resign his government Friday, as he promised.

Overcame Barriers Of Youth, Money, Religion The Inside Story Of How John Kennedy Did It

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — It was ebriary, and Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic nomination was rolling with surprisingly early speed. A man telephoned a Kennedy manager and said: "Somebody's making some pretty sharp decisions. Who's doing it?"

The reply: "You ought to know by now. It's John Fitzgerald Kennedy."

Others helped mightily, above all his brother Bobby, his one real political counselor, who in Los Angeles drove the fabulous Kennedy combine to reap a full delicate harvest: Ted Sorensen, the senator's storehouse of varied talents, and Larry O'Brien, unsung field man and hard-hitting delegate rustler.

At base, however, it has been Kennedy himself the entire way. This is the story of the critical decisions he made in his tough, tireless, four-year fight to overcome the three big strikes chalked against him from the start; his Catholicism, his relative youth and his wealth.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The almost faultless strategy and the keen organization of the Kennedy for president drive was the talk of the Los Angeles convention before the first gavel fell. Bruce Blossat, Newspaper Enterprise roving political reporter, has covered Kennedy's campaign from the beginning in 1956 to its successful conclusion. This is the first of a three-part report on how Kennedy did it, based on exclusive talks with the candidate and the key men in his organization.

Along the battle trail, he left scars, heard grumblings of "ruthless pressure" yet saw professional smiles in disbelief at his chances.

But when his rivals reached Los Angeles they struck a massive wall of Kennedy delegate strength. With a shock they learned he had already grasped the hard-won victory in the field. Within three days of their grounds as Wisconsin, West Virginia, Ohio, California, Maryland, New York.

Linked with the making of the big decisions was an important pre-Christmas telephone call, a secret operational base in a seaside motel, a turning-point speech atop a car hood in a West Virginia mining town, a casual chat in a Senate office building corridor.

When Kennedy on Jan. 2 stood in the marble Senate caucus room and announced his entry into the 1960 race, it was a kind of beginning. But the real beginning went back to the sudden fame he acquired in the 1956 convention for the vice presidential nomination.

That event and its aftermath made him a presidential candidate. But his three barriers loomed large, says an associate:

"Running through everything he did was the constant conviction (See STORY, Page 4)

Province Secedes

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI)—Premier Moise Tshombe, who has announced the secession of Katanga province from the Republic of the Congo, said today he would refuse to allow United Nations troops to set foot in Katanga.

He said he sent a letter to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold informing the world body of his decision.

Tshombe said he also told Hammarskjold that Belgian troops intervened in riot-racked Katanga at his personal request.

Kennedy Wants LBJ, But Texan Says 'No'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
And PAUL SCOTT
(Special News Correspondents)

LOS ANGELES—Sen. John Kennedy's first choice for running mate is Sen. Lyndon Johnson — but the Texan is adamantly refusing to agree to that.

Sen. Stuart Symington, the Democratic presidential nominee's second preference, is willing to accept.

Robert Kennedy, brother and manager of the senator, was informed of that by Rep. Charles Brown, Mo., Symington's manager, after Johnson let it be known he did not want second place.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson's manager, is urging him not to go on Kennedy's ticket.

Rep. John McCormack, Mass., Kennedy's convention manager and, as the long-time floor leader of the House, a close friend of Rayburn, sought to persuade him to induce Johnson to accept. But more than an hour of discussion failed to move Rayburn.

"Lyndon is needed in the Senate," he insisted. "That is where he can do the most good. He can serve a great deal more effectively in the Senate than as vice president. I have advised him not to accept second place."

"I don't agree with that view," said McCormack. "Lyndon could render invaluable service to the country as vice president. And his being on the ticket would be a decisive campaign factor. I think he owes that to the country, the party and himself." But Rayburn stuck by his position and so did Sen. Johnson.

Oilmen Bid On 135 Tracts

AUSTIN (UPI)—Oilmen generally overlooked large drilling blocks Tuesday at the 42nd auction of University of Texas land oil and gas leases, but bid a total of $2,686,800 for drilling rights on 135 of the 142 tracts offered.

The Texas Gulf Producing Co. paid top prices of $210,000 and $195,000 each for quarter-section tracts in Crane County.

Bill Altcorn, state land commissioner, presided over the auction. He is chairman of the board for the lease of university lands.

One block of 988.70 acres in Reagan County was passed, and a block of 2,628.6 acres in Upton County went to William G. Ross at the minimum bonus, $25,000.

A long series of such auctions has brought more than $158 million in cash bonus payments to the university's permanent fund since 1936. The record session was $16,238,000 paid in 1953.

AAFB Adjutant To Speak Friday At Kiwanis Club

Lt. Col. Walter S. Bralley, adjutant of Amarillo Air Force Base, will be guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday. Colonel Bralley will speak on the "Mission and Future Plans of Amarillo Technical Training Center."

Prior to his assignment at Amarillo, Col. Bralley spent three years as assistant professor of air sciences at Union College, Schenectady, N.Y. Other assignments include 30 months in the South Pacific, six years at Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D.C., and a three-year tour in Paris with the France American Affairs office. The colonel is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Air Force Tactical School and Command Staff School.

In addition to having the largest jet mechanics school in the Air Force, Amarillo Technical Training Center also instructs classes in air frame repair, petroleum, supply, management, guided missiles and others.

Embargo Due On Tick-Hit Florida Cattle

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Animal Health Commission is preparing to ban shipments of cattle from Florida that are not certified free of fever tick infection.

"We are very much concerned with fever tick infestation in Florida," said Dr. R. G. Garrett, director of the commission. "Ticks were found by inspectors on cattle in three counties of that state, and we are determined to protect Texas cattle."

A proclamation will be submitted next week for Gov. Price Daniel's signature imposing the ban. Garrett said the embargo would be in effect "until such time as the extent of the infestation has been determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture."

Texas on Florida cattle brought into Texas to date this year have produced no evidence of fever ticks, Garrett said, but "that doesn't mean they're not here." So far this year, 15,000 head have been brought into Texas from Florida.

Plant Burglar 'Living Dead'

ABERDEEN, N.C. (UPI)—A boy who tried to burglarize a chemical plant here may be dying in agony today.

He may already be dead. Police do not know who or where he is.

The boy, believed to be between 14 and 17 years old, broke into the Olin-Mathieson Chemical Corp. plant some time during the past weekend. He walked barefooted across the plant floor, unaware that the floor was covered with deadly mustard gas powder used in the manufacture of insecticides and sprays.

Plant employees, who wear rubber boots and protective clothing, discovered the footprints Monday. A search began immediately and radio stations began broadcasting appeals to the boy to surrender and receive medical treatment.

Mustard gas, used with deadly effect in World War I, enters the bloodstream through pores in the skin. Plant Manager Robert T. Brock said a person exposed to the powder could live from three to five days without medical treatment.

Nixon Geared To Fight It Out With Kennedy In Fall

By WILLIAM THEIX
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon predicted the identity of his Democratic presidential opponent months ago and today he is planning a campaign to meet an expected aggressive drive for the White House by Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The fact that Nixon saw that many Democratic pros failed to recognize or underestimated may sound a warning bell for the Kennedy managers in the battle ahead.

Nixon believed the Kennedy pre-convention effort would succeed because of the New Englander's "tremendous organization," limitless financing and personal drive. He thought Kennedy was "running so fast he couldn't be caught" by his less active opponents.

He felt Kennedy's money and organization, in that order, would give him the victory in the key West Virginia presidential primary. That outcome forced Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey to pull out of the Democratic race.

The vice president also had a strong feeling Kennedy would win the presidential nomination on an early ballot, if not the first.

"The Democratic convention might end up with no more drama than the Republican," he told a friend recently. Nixon has urged that ways be found to pump more excitement into the COP convention which opens in Chicago on July 25 to nominate him.

It can be stated on the most reliable authority that the vice president does not expect Kennedy's Catholicism to become an issue in the fall campaign. But he does believe Kennedy's wealth will be a handicap for the Democratic candidate.

It will be "poor man Nixon" running against "rich boy Kennedy" so far as the Republicans are concerned. Nixon may be expected to exploit whatever contrast exists between them in age and experience, too.

Nixon, at 47, is only four years older than Kennedy. But he will contend that his 13 years in the House, Senate and vice presidency have given him more high-level governmental experience than Kennedy has collected as a House and Senate member.

In some significant respects, the two men are much alike. Both are coldly analytical politicians. Neither is bothered much by personal criticism or campaign trivialities.

Both have built effective grassroots organizations and kept them alive since the 1956 election. And both have been pretty much their own public relations directors.

Rich Venezuela Lives Beyond Large Income

By JOSEPH A. TAYLOR
United Press International

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—A country with a severe case of political gout.

This is Venezuela, whose per capita income is twice that of any other Latin American republic but whose eyes are bigger than its stomach — a country which lives beyond its means.

Like many another Latin American president, Venezuela's Romulo Betancourt has a two-edged sword dangling over his head—economic and political.

Head of a reform-minded, moderately socialist government, Betancourt must keep the national economy on an even keel while at the same time holding a tight checkrein on the political situation.

Big Money Spender
He has an answer to the first problem, diversifying the economy. The cure for the second is not as simple.

Venezuela's national income is large, thanks to its petroleum resources, but it has the hemisphere's highest cost of living index.

It has had a rapid income growth since World War II, but it has spent money even faster.

Betancourt has faced up to depleted cash reserves and a deficit budget with pump-priming measures such as a $200-million loan from the United States government, a $100-million credit from the International Monetary Fund.

He is readying the nation for a four-year plan of economic recovery based on austerity and aimed at a long-range sound economy.

In the political field, Betancourt is the people's choice.

But as a renegade leftist he is a prime target for numerically small but vocally strong opposition elements, principally Communists and other leftwing extremists.

Opposed At Every Turn
Political appetites have been whetted but Betancourt's inability to satisfy them fully have left him only the shell of a coalition government after 16 months in office.

Two vaguely defined camps have emerged — the pro-Betancourts and the anti-Betancourts.

The resulting uncertainty has left Betancourt in the unenviable position of a man with his feet planted firmly in the air.

The opposition backs Betancourt at every turn of the political road. While he emphasizes continued close ties with the United States his political opponents insist they should be reduced to a minimum; while he has sought to prepare Venezuela for the future he has been criticized for not doing more for the present.

"Protector" of Revolution
The case of the Fidel Castro government of Cuba is a point. Betancourt has carefully avoided any open declaration of hostility to the bearded Cuban premier and his revolutionary government. But he has made it plain that he is not in agreement with the path it has taken. He is represented as feeling that Castro's political excesses are harmful to hemisphere political progress.

But the opposition to Betancourt from within the government insists on Venezuela's role as a "protector" of the Cuban revolution.

Youngsters Need Good Summertime Breakfast

The need for good daily breakfasts doesn't recess when school doors close for the summer. Youngsters, just as active if not more so during vacation, have the same nutritional requirements whether at school desks or at play. Mothers, concerned about poor breakfast habits may, in fact, find leisurely summer mornings an ideal time for improving their children's attitude toward the morning meal. One of the primary reasons for failure to breakfast adequately is allowing too little time to eat.

Put this plan in action by first of all realizing the foods children, and grown-ups, too, need every morning. Begin with some of summer's plentiful fruit—berries, melons, peaches or bananas—singly or in combination. Or serve it atop the next ingredient of a good breakfast.

fast, crisp ready-to-eat cereal with milk. Include toast or other breakfast bread, eggs or meat if desired, milk and coffee.

During the first stages of your summer breakfast program plan at least one food every morning that's a little different from usual fare. Such a cereal "sundae" combination as Hot Weather Treat will be especially popular. The ready-to-eat high protein cereal which is its principal ingredient will find favor with fruit on future mornings. Bran-Ana Muffins are another out-of-the-ordinary enticement to come to the breakfast table.

HOT WEATHER TREAT
6 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
1 egg
1/4 cup chocolate syrup
6 scoops vanilla ice cream
3 cups milk

Measure ready-to-eat high protein cereal into six large cereal immediately.

Sandwich Surprise In Ham 'N Cheese

There are never enough sandwich ideas for the mother of teenagers, but this combination will win acclaim in the home where it is served.

BAKED HAM-CHEESE-TOMATO SANDWICH

12 slices white bread
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 slices (1 ounce each) cheddar cheese
6 slices (2 ounces each) cooked ham
18 tomato slices, cut 1/4 inch thick

Toast 6 slices of bread on one side only. Combine egg, salt, milk and Worcestershire sauce. Dip the untoasted side of bread in egg mixture and place untoasted side down on a heavily greased cookie sheet. Place a slice of cheese, then a slice of ham and 3 slices of tomato on each toasted bread slice. Top each with a piece of bread that has been dipped in the egg mixture, placing dipped side up. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned on the top. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork Tenderloin.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. This is a small, very tender, boneless cut from the loin. The larger end is round and it gradually tapers to the thin flat end. The fibers run lengthwise. There is a small amount of fat within the cut and on the outer surface.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. Tenderloin may be roasted, or braised. Slices cut from the tenderloin may be flattened (Frenched), then braised or panfried.

BRAN-ANA MUFFINS
Yield: 6 servings
1 cup whole bran cereal
1/2 cup milk
1 cup thinly sliced, ripe bananas
1 egg
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar

Combine whole bran cereal, milk and bananas; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add shortening and egg and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Family's Appetite Sated With Franks

Frankfurters, with mashed potatoes, from a hearty, quickly prepared dish which may be part of a meal served as a patio or porch picnic. Chopped green onion, dairy sour cream and paprika add tempting flavor.

POTATO CAPPED FRANKS
8 frankfurters
2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup chopped green onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
Paprika

Cut frankfurters lengthwise, being careful not to cut completely through. Place frankfurters, cut side up, in an 8 by 12 inch baking dish. Spread each frankfurter with 1/4 cup mashed potato. Combine sour cream, green onion and salt and spread over mashed potato, using about 2 1/2 tablespoons on each. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Sprinkle with paprika. Yield: 4 servings.

Potato Capped Franks may also be broiled. Place them 3 inches from the heat until browned, 5 to 7 minutes.

When Dad Really Lands "Big One" On Fishing Trip Give It Gourmet Touch

Vacation time and Dad's long-planned fishing expedition has the family all agog. But what if he really lands a big one? What to be done with the catch when he brings it home? For those home-makers who may be at a loss for ideas on how to serve the "big ones", we suggest the baked and stuffed method with a few gourmet touches to make a meal memorable.

BAKED FISH, GOURMET STYLE
Rub a 5-pound fish, such as red snapper, sea trout, or bass, inside and outside with the lightly salted juice of 3 limes, and chill it for at least 4 hours.

Meanwhile, prepare a stuffing as follows: In a saucepan place 1 glove garlic, crushed, in 6 tablespoons butter, and in the garlic-seasoned butter, saute 1 small onion and 2 stalks celery, all finely chopped. Add 1 1/4 cup prepared herb-seasoned stuffing, 1 1/2 cup almonds or cashews blanched and chopped, 1 cup mild cheese, grated, and 1/4 cup chopped parsley and moisten the mixture to the consistency of a stiff paste with 1/2 to 1 cup milk. Add 2 bay leaves, finely crumbled, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, and salt and cayenne to taste and blend the stuffing well.

Wipe the chilled fish dry, arrange it in a well-greased baking dish, and fill the cavity with the stuffing. Sprinkle the top with 1/2 cup herb-seasoned stuffing and dot generously with butter. Bake the fish in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes per pound, basting frequently with a mixture of 1 cup dry white wine and 4 tablespoons melted butter. Just before serving, sprinkle the fish with 1/2 cup chopped almonds or cashews, tossed in melted butter, and place it under the broiler for a few moments to brown the nuts. Serve with wedges of lime.

If desired, a 5-pound fresh-water lake or river trout may be substituted in this recipe by using the shorter baking time.

Using Leftovers Spells Economy

On a busy day, this Ham Slaw, made from leftovers, might be prepared ahead of time and placed in refrigerator for a quick supper main dish.

HAM SLAW
2 to 3 cups diced cooked ham
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup vinegar
1-3 cup water
3 cups coarsely chopped cabbage
1 medium carrot, thinly sliced
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
Cabbage or lettuce leaves

Beat eggs. Add sugar, salt pepper, vinegar and water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, about 2 to 3 minutes. Chill. Combine ham, cabbage, carrot, green pepper and onion. Add dressing and toss together lightly. Serve in lettuce or cabbage-lined salad bowl. Yield: 6 servings.

Quick, Easy Meal For Hectic Days

Ground beef is the basis of a fine casserole dish which includes green peas, noodles and, for special flavor, condensed onion soup. The noodles and peas are cooked ahead of time. The meat is browned in lard or drippings.

BUSY DAY CASSEROLE
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon flour
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed onion soup
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas, cooked
4 cups cooked noodles

Cook ground beef in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add salt, flour and onion soup. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. In a greased 2-quarter casserole, make layers of half the noodles, meat mixture and peas. Repeat, arranging top layer of peas in a circle on meat mixture. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

He-Man Bacon-Cheese Dip Offers Twist To Steak-Potatoes Favorite

Chicago — A man's first choice for an outdoor-grilled meal is invariably steak and French fries. Here's a new twist on the old favorite. Heat up a package of frozen French fries before dinner and serve as a hot and crisp appetizer to dip in a delicious cheese concoction.

Frozen fries aren't fussy about the heat of the fire, so they may be prepared while you are waiting for coals to reach steak-cooking temperature. Toss the frosty potato strips in a skillet with a little shortening or oil, or shake them in a wire corn-popper. The savory cheese dip may be carried from home in a plastic refrigerator dish or screw-topped jar. Pack some small paper plates to hold the fries and muffin cups of cheese dip.

Youngsters can be a big help to Dad by passing the appetizer while he tends to the grill. Try steak sans seasonings and sauces for a change. As long as it is not overcooked, the charcoal-permeated meat has a marvelous flavor of its own.

With the steak, serve a big green salad and a hot buttery vegetable. Frozen peas or lima beans may be heated on the grill while the steak cooks. Season the frozen block overnight or until thoroughly chilled dough 1/4 inch thick and place on a cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Yield: 6 to 7 dozen cookies.

add a good-sized pat of butter, wrap in a double thickness aluminum foil, ends folded up. This cooking method takes a five minutes more than the page directs.

Sprinkle dinner rolls with a water and heat in a covered let, shaking occasionally. A lot of cherries is a perfect dessert.

HE-MAN BACON-CHEESE DIP
1 (5-ounce) jar sharp cheddar cheese
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
1-3 cup catsup or chili sauce
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons well-drained sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon liquid smoke
6 slices bacon, fried crisp and crumbled

Crisp hot frozen French fries. Combine ingredients, except bacon and French fries, and beat well. Stir in bacon. Serve with hot frozen French fries. Yield: 1/2 cups.

Empty Cookie Jar Is Easily Refilled

Cookie Jar empty? Where do those cookies go? Well there's nothing you can do about it, Mom, but bake up another batch. Here's a good recipe!

BUTTERSCOTCH NUT COOKIES
2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 cup lard
2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup pecans, finely chopped

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and soda. Cream lard and sugar. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Add sifted ingredients and nuts. Mix well. Shape into 2 rolls about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate.

Exotic Ice Cream For Hot Day Treat

Hawaiian Holiday, an exotic crushed pineapple sherbet developed by the Meadow Gold Ice Cream Division of Beatrice Foods Co., will be the company's featured flavor nationally in July and August.

The refreshing summer sherbet is pink in color and has generous amounts of red and green pineapple cubes folded through it. It will be available in pints and half gallons as well as in bulk.

Soaps and detergents are the traveling woman's best friends. They rate an important place in every suitcase, even when your trip will be a short one.

PICTURE NEWS

FLYING TIGER—Washington Senators' Julio Becquer easily steals second base as Detroit Tiger shortstop Chico Fernandez leaps into the air to take the throw from catcher Bob Wilson during the eighth inning of the first game of a double-header between the teams in Detroit. Calling the play is Bill McKinley. The Senators bagged the Tigers, 4-2.

SIGHTING IN—Croquet is no kids' game the way Mrs. Pat Solomon plays it in London. Laying her mallet aside, she gets right down on the ground and takes a very careful look at the balls as she prepares to line up her shot during a championship match.

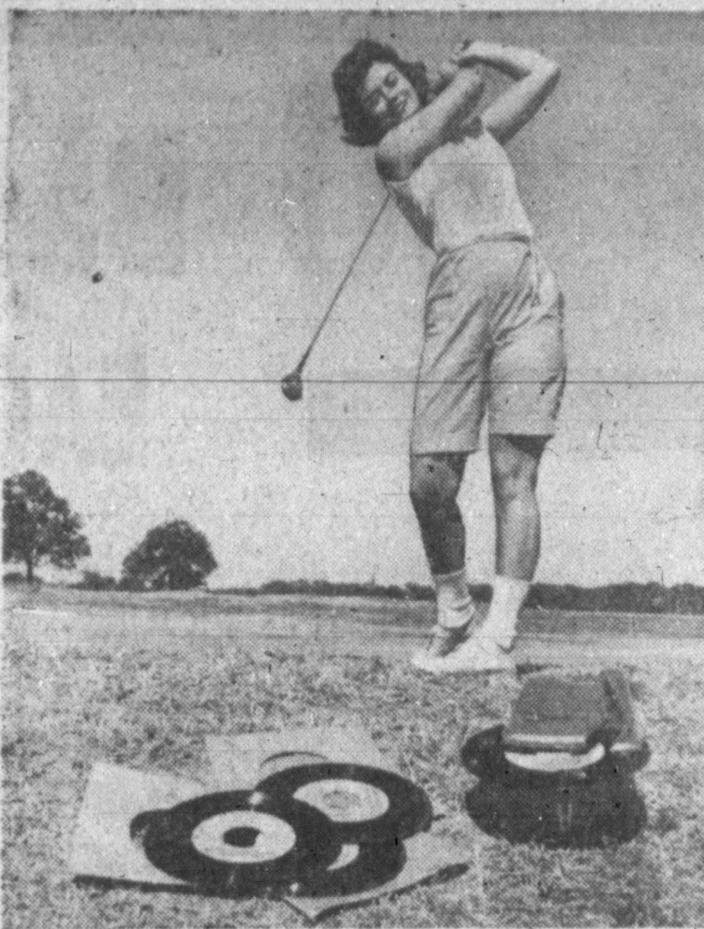

HIKERS AND BIKERS—Pedaling through the last laps of the famed tour of Italy, these bicycle racers pass a company of Italian Alpine troops wearing feathered hats at Belluno. The soldiers have to hike up and down the hills and mountains of northern Italy, and some of them probably would be glad to exchange places with the pedal pushers.

VIEW FROM BELOW—Frogmen's legs is the pictorial dish served up at a hotel pool in Miami Beach, Fla. This view from below was made as skin divers crowded around a home-made, one-man submarine during a demonstration. It looks like a fine way of moving about in a crowded pool.

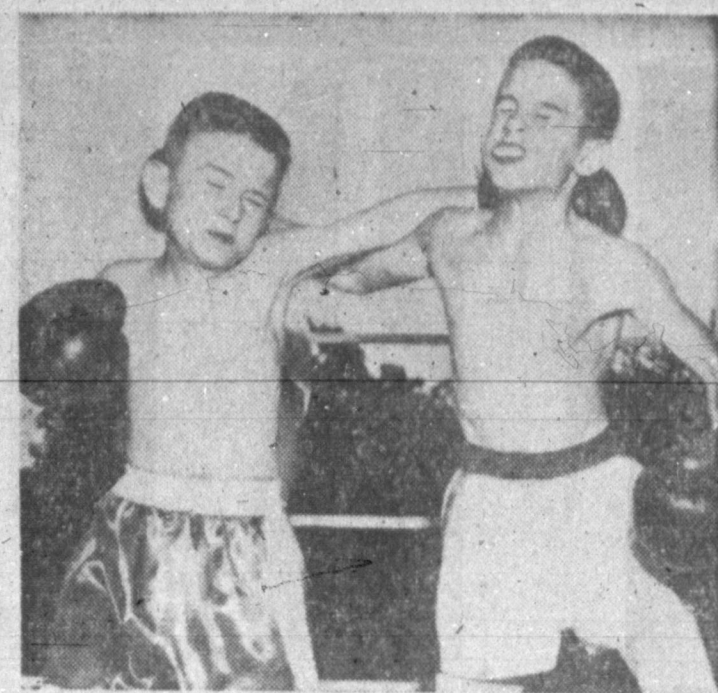

SHOE EXPERT—Yankees' infielder Gil McDougald judges shoe designs by high school students in the sixth annual shoe design contest held in New York by a shoe company. Gil was chairman of the contest in which entrants vie for a scholarship to New York's Traphagen School of Design.

MUSICAL GOLF—Music to break par by spills from the record player as Eva Maxey tunes up her golf swing in Austin, Tex. The University of Texas student is trying the school's new program of using music to improve a golfer's swing. Eva is playing Jimmy Demaret's Golf-to-Music album.

MEET THE DUKE—Returning to his old stamping grounds, Los Angeles Dodger slugger Duke Snider strolls along New York's Fifth Ave. The former idol of the Ebbets Field faithful was in town with teammates for an exhibition game with the New York Yankees.

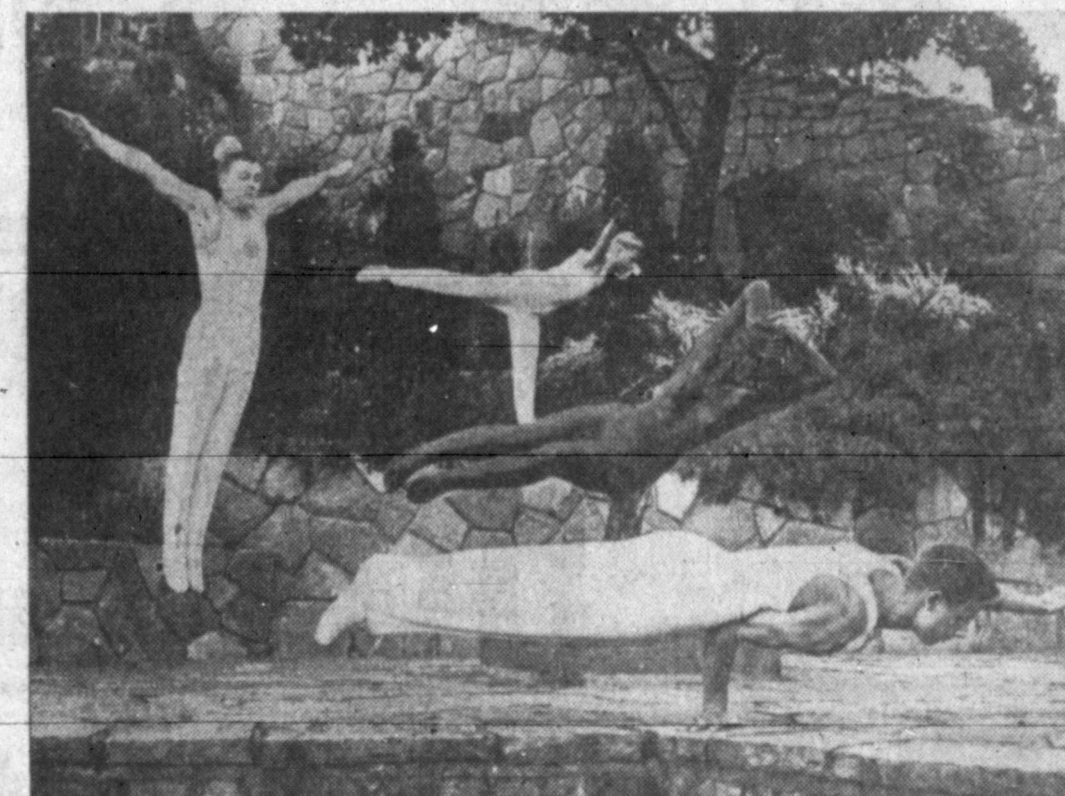

THEY CAN'T SEE IT—Danny Lorenz (left) and Robin Freschi apparently don't like to see where their blows land as they exchange punches to the back of the neck during a local school match in St. Louis. Danny weighed in at 60 pounds and Robin at 62. The match ended in a draw.

HISTORY MAKING SCHOLAR—Heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson tries out a desk in his old classroom in a New York public school as he talks to a former teacher, Miss Norma Marenstein. Patterson, who made ring history by becoming the first fighter to regain the title, received a hero's welcome at the school.

NIGHT VIEW—Agleam with light against the surrounding darkness, Rome's new Olympic Stadium passes its illumination test brilliantly. Powerful floodlights bring the brightness of day to the outdoor arena, which will house track and field events next August.

ART FORMS—Living statues add their precise lines to a reeling figure by the late Swedish sculptor Carl Milles in Stockholm, Sweden. The three white-uniformed athletes gracefully go through their paces as they take part in a gymnastics exhibition at the Milles Garden, filled with the works of the sculptor, who died in 1955.

NOSE DIVE—Taking the plunge the hard way, Timbo seems to be hitting the turf nose first in a spill during a steeplechase race in Paris. Jockey L. Bates goes flying off the fallen animal. In steeplechase racing, a fall like this is all part of the game.

WINNER—Joyce Ziske throws up her arms in Chicago after winning a sudden death playoff against Betsy Rawls in the 31st Western Open, golf tournament. Joyce, a 28-year-old professional, came out of nowhere to take the title after one of the most spectacular finishes in the history of the classic.

Key Club Convention Delegates Comment On Midwest, East Trip

By VIRGINIA IRWIN Daily News Staff Writer

After a tour of a large portion of the midwest and east en route to the 17th annual Key Club International Convention in Boston, Mass., Bill Byerly, president of the Pampa Key Club, still points to the handling of the House of Delegates session by the boys themselves as the outstanding memory of the trip.

"It was really inspiring to see how these teenage boys conducted the meeting of the group that governs the international club," he said.

Bill represented Pampa as a delegate, along with Mike Palmer. Mert Cooper was an alternate. Each club is allowed two delegates in the house. There were 1,017 boys in the House of Delegates this year. They represented 691 clubs from 41 states and four Canadian provinces.

Included on the agenda for the house was the election of officers and the consideration of amendments. John Jones of Tulsa was the only person from the Texas-Oklahoma district to obtain an office. He will be international vice president for the July 1960-June 1961 term. Steve Copple, Yuma, Ariz., was elected president.

Two of the more interesting discussions for amendments, said Byerly were one, that passed, raising dues from 50 cents a year to $1, and another, that was vetoed, which would have allowed a Kiwanis advisor to be district treasurer for the club.

"If this would have passed," Bill, "it would have been contrary to the club's purpose to have boys run it completely."

Other things that Byerly listed as the farewell address of C. William Nelson, Melbourne, Fla., this year's international president and a speech by Dr. John Furbay, director, Air World Education, Trans World Air Lines.

Dr. Furbay is on President Eisenhower's People-to-People program, has been an advisor at the Geneva conferences, is an international speaker and is known for his work on foreign policy.

"Dr. Furbay told how the communists tried to win him to their side," said Byerly. "He said that the first thing they always do is to try to relate communism to peace."

The three boys left Pampa June 28 on the special Texas-Oklahoma district tour. They drove to Oklahoma City where they joined the tour group and traveled by train to Chicago and Detroit. While in Detroit, they visited the Ford Motor Co. plant.

"The factory covers 43 acres and they make their own steel and glass," said Byerly. "We saw all aspects of car manufacturing and watched the cars roll off the assembly line."

The boys also saw the Ford test track, the Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, which was built by Henry Ford and contains authentic historical buildings moved in from all over the United States.

From Detroit, the group boarded the S.S. Aquarama for a six-hour cruise on Lake Erie to Cleveland. They continued by train to Niagara Falls, where they ate lunch on the Canadian side, and on to Buffalo, New York City and Boston.

In Boston the boys stayed at the Statler Hilton Hotel, attended the convention, toured Boston, and took a boat trip from Rowes Warf.

Byerly entered the impromptu essay contest at the convention; Palmer entered the talent contest; and Cooper, who was first place winner in the district oratorical contest, competed in the international contest. The local club also entered their scrapbook in competition and its district winning "Pampa Pilgrimage" in the single service contest.

Leaving Boston the group went to New York City where they stayed in the Hotel President. They visited the NBC building where they saw several TV programs, the RCA Building with the fastest elevators in the world, Rockefeller Center, United Nations, China town, Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building and Museum of Natural History.

The boys also saw the Rockettes perform at Radio City Music Hall. And they can now say they are among the lucky ones who have seen the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady."

"Seven Wonders of the Universe" is the title of the program at the Hayden Planetarium in Central Park that the boys saw.

"This includes all kinds of astrological exhibits, and they flash pictures of the stars on the ceiling and point out the interesting details of the universe," said Byerly.

The three traveled by train from New York to Oklahoma City via Chicago arriving in Oklahoma City Sunday.

The local club is sponsored by the Downtown and Top O' Texas Kiwanis clubs. Cooper's way was paid by the district, but the local club sent the other two boys.

They finished the trip partially by working in the slag piles of the Pampa Foundry. They recovered 19,701 pounds of scrap iron and unburned coke and received 1-cent per pound.

"We want to thank the local boys for all their work to send us," said Byerly, "because we had a wonderful and inspiring trip."

UNEMPLOYMENT CLIMBS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A flood of more than two million young job seekers into the labor force increased unemployment last month, but also boosted employment to the highest level in history, the Labor Department said Tuesday.

Unemployment climbed by 964,000—including 800,000 teenagers—to 4,423,000, a 16-month high. Employment rose by 1,371,000 to 68,579,000.

OBSERVE HITLER PLOT

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Gen. AXDOLF Heusinger has appealed all branches of the West German armed forces to observe the anniversary of the 1944 officers' plot against Hitler in an "honorable way."

Heusinger, inspector general of the armed forces, said that the individual units would determine their own observance of the anniversary July 20.

CRUSHING—U.S.S.R. atomic icebreaker Lenin forces its way through the fies of the Barents Sea. The vessel is in its first operation in the Arctic's polar basin, the Russians say.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market is beset these days with apprehensions about business, politics and the world struggle, says Bache & Co.

The firm believes the harsh realities of the U.S. position in the world will be reflected in the months to come in more sober stock prices, with more attention paid to "good facts and less to good hopes."

term appreciation prospects.

The fact that total business sales, employment and the stock market can hold at or near-record levels in the face of such a low steel operating rate testifies eloquently to the new diversity and vast size of our current economy, according to Prentice-Hall.

Levine's Celebrating 40th Year In Business

As the Levine's Department Store group celebrates its 40th anniversary this month, the Pampa store stands out as a distinguished member of the chain. It is the oldest operating store of the group, according to Morris Silver, manager.

The store has been remodeled and extended several times since it began here 33 years ago.

"Through the years we have tried to give people in the area the best service and values possible," said Silver.

To celebrate the anniversary, the local store is holding a special sale.

"This is our way of showing our appreciation to the people," said Silver.

The Levine's group covers the southwest area with 75 stores.

Movie Star Stagestruck On Kennedy

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — One movie star able to boast of having dated Senator John Kennedy is Ann Blyth — and she is outspokenly in favor of Senator Kennedy for President.

Shortly after World War II, when the senator was a bachelor and Ann was as pretty a starlet as Hollywood could muster, they had several dinner dates, and became friends.

There was no romance, but Ann, wide-eyed and soft-spoken has been a Kennedy fan ever since.

"He is a wonderful man," she said. "He's intelligent, able and sincere. I think he has all the qualities of a presidential candidate."

May Lose Fans
Ann is among a handful of movie and TV stars willing to state a preference for potential candidates. Most celebrities keep their politics to themselves.

They figure few Americans will become fans simply because a star supports a particular candidate. Conversely, many stars believe they will lose fans by stating a preference.

Among movie town's Democrats, Adlai Stevenson seems to be the favorite.

Producer-director Dore Schary has been a dedicated campaigner for Stevenson. Also working on his behalf are Jan Sterling and Shirley MacLaine.

Other Stevenson followers are Robert Ryan, Stan Freberg, Hope Lange, Inger Stevens, Jack Lemmon and John Forsythe.

Elvis Presley isn't talking. But his manager, colorful Colonel Tom Parker, is a staunch Lyndon Johnson man. Fellow Texan Audie Murphy also is a Johnson supporter.

In the Kennedy camp are Peter Lawford, the senator's brother-in-law, Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis Jr. and Milton Berle.

Doris Day put forth the majority argument best, saying, "I have political convictions, but they are my business. I don't think my support would help any candidate, so I never even state whether I am a Republican or Democrat. But I do contribute financially to the support of the man I think is best suited for the job."

There are many the Texas Panhandle, with stores in Amarillo, Dumas, Borger, Plainview and Lubbock.

The company has buying offices in New York and Dallas.

"We like to have local people as buyers in order to provide for the particular needs of a locality," said Silver.

The first Levine's store started in 1920 in Lowa Park, Tex.

The formula for the success of the chain was given last year by William Levine, board chairman of the company.

"It is not how much we can get, but how much we can give our customers," he said.

Morris Levine was 21 years old when the store began operation. He signed all the legal papers as William had not reached legal age.

By the time the depression hit, there were 13 branch stores in addition to the one in Lowa Park.

Rather than liquidating the business during the depression, the company cut back to only four stores, in Pampa, Amarillo, Lubbock and Iowa City.

The company beginning as a family store, was incorporated in 1946, and last year it went on the national stock market.

Levine's has always maintained an unconditional guarantee on all merchandise sold. Since the beginning, they have carried a complete line of men's, women's and children's clothing, domestic furnishings and other merchandise known as "the soft line" to retailers.

All managers of the stores are brought up to manager after through training and step-up policy. Many managers were formerly stock boys and salesmen, and many of them are young, the average age being under 35.

There are many long-time workers too, said Silver, with a total of experience running over 300 years.

During the waiting period, mothers-to-be are faced with three chief hazards to their well-groomed prettiness: fatigue reflected in the eyes, limp hairdos and skin that develops pigmented patches. The patches disappear after baby's birth but meantime, they need attention. This young mother wisely works in a full eight hours' sleep every single night (left). She knows it's important both to good looks and health. And she restores sparkle to tired eyes by saturating cotton balls in boric acid and applying them to eyelids. Those large freckle-like discolorations can be easily covered (center) by blending a deeper tone of your foundation lotion with a sterile cotton ball. Painless pin-curls come (right) from rolling hair on cotton balls. This makes it a cinch to sleep comfortably at night minus a headful of hardware. And unbroken rest is especially important to the expectant mother.

Dew Tell...?

Planning an outdoor party this summer?

Any affair, from a picnic to a formal garden wedding, can come off professionally if certain pitfalls are avoided this time. The Etiquette Panel of White and Wyckoff of Holyoke, Mass., a leading maker of social writing papers for over 70 years, offers these suggestions for an enjoyable time.

1. Write down everything you'll need, from garnishes to guests. This is your basic checklist.
2. Arrange your placement of chairs, table and grill. Guests enjoy the smell of cooking meat, but seem to lose their enthusiasm when overcome with smoke.
3. Doublecheck your list the day before the party. Make sure you have everything - extra salt & pepper, enough glasses, charcoal, the main course, etc.
4. Be sure the utensils provided suit the fare offered. Ever try to test a steak with the edge of a wooden fork?
5. Be sure guests will be protected from spillage. Masslinn, a new non-woven cotton and rayon cloth disposable napkin and guest towel offers a greater amount of absorbency and clingability than linen, and at a paper price. Masslinn can also be rinsed and used again.
6. Decorate appropriately. Don't let the area look like a deserted

Ribbons Awarded At Bake Show

GROOM (Sp) - Favorite foods were displayed and judged at a recent meeting of Juniorsette 4H Club held in Community Clubhouse.

Mrs. Leldon Hudson judged the Favorite Foods Project Units I and II. Blue ribbons were presented to Carolyn Brooks, Melva Asberry and Patsy Koetting; Sandra Kotara, a white ribbon. Doughnut-cutters were given each of the ribbon winners by Mrs. Carl Homer.

As project leader for Unit II, Ellen Latta was in charge of setting up exhibits and serving refreshments. Guests were Mrs. Leldon Hudson and Jane; Mrs. Janie Fletcher, County agent, Mrs. B. J. Loetting, Mrs. Sam Kotara, Mrs. J. A. Brooks and Mrs. Melvin Asberry.

It was announced that members who did not enter food in this contest will be allowed to show on Aug. 17 at the County Achievement Day program in Panhandle.

During the social period, games were played under the direction of Sandra Kotara and Ellen Latta.

Following the Favorite Food Show, Mrs. Sam Kotara conducted Boy Scout camp.

7. Keep a water pistol near the grill in case fatty meat catches fire. (Also effective when children get out of hand.)
8. Provide enough receptacles for rubbish.
9. Make provision in your timing for greetings, light conversation and the amateur photographers among your guests.
10. Try to get things to break up B.L.S. or B.J.P. (Before Late Show or Before Jack Paar). Your guests and your neighbors will appreciate it.

Ladies-In-Waiting Can Be Real Beauties With Easy, Routine Grooming Schedules

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise
Beauty Editor

If your baby is due shortly, you're probably weary of the way you look at the moment.

Fatigue, always present in the last few months of the waiting period, can rob your eyes of their sparkle, and sometimes skin which never before caused a woman's anguish develops pigmented patches.

It's shattering to a gal's morale to know she looks unattractive. But be of good cheer. It doesn't have to be that way.

In the prenatal clinic at the Jersey City Medical Center, uncomplicated recommendations for beauty care are incorporated in talks given expectant mothers. The beauty and grooming suggestions make can be carried out with no undue strain, and will do much to dispel the doldrums.

If despite proper diet, you develop patches of discolored skin, don't be alarmed. They will disappear shortly after the baby is born. Meantime, they can be hidden by carefully applying make-up. There are preparations on the market that will effectively cover most blemishes.

During the last two months, when your doctor will undoubtedly urge you to rest during the day, you can use the siesta time to restore the sparkle in your eyes, too.

Even mothers-to-be can wear sun-dresses in the hot weather. There is a new contour bra that has an all-elastic back with expansion tucks and underwiring for security. Latex foam rubber lines the base of the band as a comfort feature.

Saturate cotton balls with a solution of boric acid and apply them to your eyes while you're napping. A new brand of cotton balls comes in a sterilized handy hamper box that can be kept on your bedside table.

Restlessness at night often accompanies the last months of pregnancy. And a head full of hard curls can complicate matters considerably. Try to learn to set your hair with cotton balls instead. Separate the hair into strands, follow the outline of your hairstyle, and anchor each curl with a bobby pin and a little hairspray. You'll find sleep comes more easily.

Above all, don't try to squeeze into clothes that are too tight. It's harmful to begin with, and looks unsightly. At night, wear pretty, loose gowns and peignoirs. And don't forget to spray on your favorite light perfume.

You'll look and feel much prettier, and will anticipate your baby's arrival in a happy frame of mind.

It was also announced that the next meeting will be July 18 in the home of Mrs. George Latta.

Dear Abby... 'Round Table Decision'

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married almost forty years. We raised five children who are all married and have families of their own. I have a great problem with my husband. He comes to the dining room table with only his shorts on.

I believe in respecting the place where we eat. When a man asks the Lord to bless his food, he should have more than his shorts on. I don't approve of this and want to know if I am wrong or is my husband? He keeps saying, "A man's home is his castle."

GERTIE

DEAR GERTIE: A man's home IS his castle - but if the "King" came to the palace dining room with only his shorts on, the "Queen" would have every right to crown him.

DEAR ABBY: I am at a loss. I divorced my husband six years ago after 16 years of a very bad marriage. We decided that rather than bring up our children (we had three) in an atmosphere of fighting and quarreling, it would be better to call it quits.

Two years ago our daughter was married. She was 19 and the boy was 20. They had a baby the first year. Now my daughter comes to me saying she wants to divorce her husband. She says he isn't ready to settle down and their love is "dead".

I tried to talk her into trying to make a go of her marriage for the sake of the baby, but she throws it in my teeth that I divorced her father, so how can I tell her to stick to her husband? Can you help me, Abby? She is so young.

STUCK FOR WORDS

DEAR STUCK: Your daughter needs marital counsel from a clergyman, family counselor or some happily married person who has shown by his own example that marriage problems don't always have to be solved in the divorce courts. A very wise man once said, "Example is not only the best way to teach - it is the only way."

DEAR ABBY: Not long ago you printed the sad story of the baby girl who died from eating ordinary dishwashing detergent. I was surprised to hear how many people had this story on their lips after reading your column. Many mothers, including myself, have silently thanked you.

However, we almost lost our three-year-old boy last week. He drank ORDINARY NOSE DROPS! The label on the bottle did not state what would happen if taken internally. Not realizing how serious it was, we waited until it was almost too late before getting him to a doctor. Please find room for this in your column, Abby; so many people leave nose drops

Ladies Council Meets For Study

Ladies Council of Hiland Christian Church met recently in the home of Mrs. R. C. Taylor, 833 Barnes.

Mrs. Stella Stone lead opening prayer at the beginning of the business meeting. Devotional topic on "Saving Faith" was given by Mrs. Rosene Mason.

Debettes Entertain At Early 20's Fete

LEFORS (Sp) - Glittered invitations, shaped as sack dresses, bid rushees of Debette Club to a "Roaring Twenties" party held Monday afternoon at two in Civic Center.

As entertainment, Misses Francis Harkcom, Beverly White and Sandy Call, dressed as 1920 "flappers", performed the Charleston.

Miss LeAnn Pafford, Debette vice president, welcomed rushees and introduced them to members.

Debettes attending the party were Jan Atkinson, Mary Watson, May Barron, Sandra Elms, Judy Lane, Kaye Gilbert and sponsor, Mrs. Mayo Knight.

At a previous meeting held on the lawn of the home of Miss Beverly White, Miss Linda Poarch, club president, presided at the business meeting during which two rush parties were planned.

Miss Judy Lane was hostess during the social hour.

Miss Kay Gilbert was welcomed as a guest and Miss Ann Stubblefield, Debette, attended in addition to the members mentioned above.

32 Pampans Attended WTSC

Gray County was represented by 32 students at North Texas State College in the school year just ended, the registrar's office announced.

During the nine-month session, 8,130 students were enrolled. They came from 211 of the state's 254 counties, 37 other states and 12 foreign nations.

The campus is undergoing a large expansion program to accommodate the growing student body. A physics-mathematics building was opened last fall, and a business administration building and a 300-capacity men's dormitory are nearing completion.

Also under construction are: an education-home economics building, an additional structure for the School of Music, and two more women's dormitories.

One of the most notable, and well-cherished of the stories from the Old Testament is the Book of Ruth, a story of love, of faith and hope and of mercy and a merciful God. And now that time-honored and beautiful story is told once again, this time on the giant screen of the motion picture theatre.

It is an experience that I proudly recommend to every man, woman and child. For here is the story of stories... as it was recorded in the book of books.

Texans Take Defeat 'Big'

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Texans take defeat as they do victory—big.

Speaker Sam Rayburn displayed no bitterness Wednesday night when Wyoming's 15 votes washed away the presidential aspirations of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Maybe there was a touch of disappointment on Rayburn's face. But it was fleeting, if there at all.

"Majority rules," he said simply, when asked to comment on the defeat of his congressional colleague of 23 years.

"Majority rules," he said, "and we've all got to stand by the majority decision."

Johnson himself issued a more formal statement within minutes of the Kennedy victory that was short in words but big in meaning.

But the Texans fought to the very minute Kennedy won the nomination. National Committee-man Byron Skelton and Gov. Price Daniel kept the floor telephone of the delegation busy to other delegations.

Johnson men were seated with key delegations in which there was the slightest chance of picking up a stray vote or two.

They were carrying out to the last the tactics of the entire evening—"open up this convention by stopping Kennedy on the first ballot. We'll take it from there."

The tactics were not faulty—but maybe the strategy was. They started too late.

Kennedy Gets Johnson Pledge

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson Wednesday night accepted "with all my heart" the convention's nomination of Sen. John F. Kennedy and urged the party united behind him to "sweep the country this November."

Johnson extended his "sincere congratulations" to Kennedy with an assurance of dedicated campaign cooperation a few minutes after Kennedy's first ballot total assured him of the party's presidential nomination.

The Texan expressed his acceptance of the convention's decision in a typewritten statement. Although television cameras awaited his personal appearance, an aide told newsmen the senator had gone to bed.

In his statement, Johnson said: "We have a winner—he has proved it here."

"The delegates have made their decision and I accept it with my heart," he added.

HAPPY REUNION—Teamed again after 11 years, Bob Hope threw a "happy reunion" luncheon for Lucille Ball to mark their costarring roles in the film, "The Facts of Life"—and a kiss turned out to be the piece de resistance. The kiss—"good luck, Lucy"—was planted by ex-husband Desi Arnaz in an unexpected visit to the set.

Peru Move Aids U.S. Before UN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Peru's appeal for an emergency meeting of inter-American foreign ministers to deal with the Cuban situation may have pulled the United States out of a thorny diplomatic spot.

The Peruvian move will strengthen this country's hand in its expected request to the U.N. Security Council to refer Cuba's charges of U.S. economic aggression to the Organization of American States (OAS).

The United States fears that a U.N. debate on the Cuban charge would give Russia and other Communist countries a golden opportunity to meddle in Latin American affairs. A Security Council session on the Cuban accusation is scheduled for Monday.

The Peruvian appeal also gives the United States its long-hoped-for chance to push for action against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro by the OAS. This country is worried that if it acts alone against Castro, it will leave itself open to charges of imperialism and intervention.

Over the whole situation hangs the somber shadow of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's threat to rain rockets on the United States if it interferes in Cuba.

Peru asked the OAS Wednesday night to summon a meeting of the 21 inter-American foreign ministers to consider the Soviet warning. The request was reported to brand Khrushchev's statement as a threat to the Western Hemisphere.

Pampa Teacher Group Leader At WTSC Meeting

Mrs. Essie Mae Walters, Pampa, will be among the group leaders at the eighth annual Reading Conference scheduled July 26-28 at West Texas State College, Canyon.

Mrs. Walters will head one of the groups for junior and senior high school teachers. More than 100 area teachers and school administrators are expected to attend.

Besides daily lectures by visiting consultants, the conference will feature section meetings for different grades and junior and senior high school teachers, exhibits of library and text books, commercial exhibits and recreational periods.

Speakers and consultants include: Dr. Ralph C. Staiger, professor of psychology and director of the reading clinic at Mississippi Southern College; Dr. G. Robert Carlson, head of the English Department at the State University of Iowa; Mrs. A. E. Mallory, professor of education at Eastern New Mexico University; and Dr. F. A. Bumpass, professor of English at Texas Tech.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas Assn. for the Improvement of Reading.

Young Bandit Needles Cops

DALLAS (UPI)—Billy Doyle, a teenage bandit trying to act like a television tough guy, was shot trying to escape from police Wednesday and from a table in a hospital emergency room mocked officers for not shooting to kill.

Doyle, wanted for robbing a hamburger stand and grocery stores, exchanged shots with police Monday night, then hopped in a garage and held 50 policemen at bay by holding a gun to his head and threatening to pull the trigger.

Detectives finally coaxed him to surrender.

Wednesday afternoon, Doyle consented to show detectives where he had thrown stolen shotguns into the Trinity River if they wouldn't handcuff him.

But after he showed them several places, they became convinced he was lying, and started to return him to jail. They stopped to let Joe Cody, a detective and professional skin diver, get back into street clothes and Doyle broke away from Detective Sam Tuck.

Cody, hearing shots, joined in the chase and caught up with Doyle as he climbed a steel fence topped with barbed wire.

The detective ordered Doyle to stop.

"Go ahead and shoot," Doyle taunted, then dropped to the other side of the fence. Cody took aim with a shotgun and fired once, hitting the youth in the leg.

At Parkland Hospital, where doctors said Doyle was in good condition, the youth told Cody: "You didn't shoot straight enough."

"What do you mean," Cody asked, "You're on your back."

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvaire has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting—"at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission... and we've had no trouble with our Corvaire." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvaire's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.

Lung Disease Cause Discussed

SCIENCE TODAY
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new lung disease is more likely the indirect result of antibiotics than of the potent spray chemicals with which insects are slaughtered and women set their hair, in the opinion of an investigating team of medical scientists.

The disease has been factually named pulmonary alveolar proteinosis which means an invasion of lung air cells by a substance which chemically is protein. The first case appeared in 1953. Since then there have been 35 known cases, and the fatality rate was 34 per cent.

The scientific team represented four branches of medical science, radiology, pathology, surgery and medicine. It was comprised of Drs. Henry P. Plenk, Shelley A. Swift, Wallace L. Chambers, and Wesley E. Peltzer of the University of Utah, Salt Lake City.

The antibiotics are great life-savers, being great killers of disease-causing bacteria. Penicillin is one. The team argued antibiotics may also alter body defenses and a harmless micro-organism could thus become a sickening germ.

Or the broad spectrum antibiotics which are lethal to a wide variety of the body's bacterial inhabitants, good ones as well as bad ones, could so change this parasitic population that a harmless one which had been held in check by competition, could multiply and cause much trouble.

You have to keep in mind that some bacteria are not killed by any antibiotic, and viruses are immune to them. The scientists were unable to prove their views. They offered them as a theory which accounted for the known facts.

More facts are needed, everyone agrees. But the most striking of the known facts is that the disease appeared for the first time in 1953 and almost all of the 35 identified cases have been in the United States, a country where both antibiotics and the newer chemicals are consumed by the ton.

The new disease produces symptoms which resemble those of pneumocystic pneumonia and in fact two of the 35 cases were at first diagnosed as that form of pneumonia, which in the United States is rare. In some sections of Europe, the causative micro-organism abounds, however, and there it is common.

NEW SHOE USE

DURHAM, England (UPI)—G. B. Harding, in a letter to today's Daily Telegraph, told of his new use for fashionable shoes.

"I was considering the purchase of a spiked roller to aerate my lawn," he wrote. "This is now unnecessary. The ladies' heels at my daughter's wedding reception did the job very nicely."

PORTRAIT OF A NATIONAL PROBLEM—Of the Glasgow, Mo., high school class graduating, only two members, left, plan to stay in the community. Two are undecided. The remaining 32 of a class of 36 state they plan to move away. Here, in microscopic example, is the move from rural community to city that is a real problem. Though some will return to their own or other rural communities after more schooling, others will head directly for urban areas. This trend away from small towns can spell community ruin, and in metropolitan areas, influx adds to growing pains. At base of the rural-urban shift, say those close to the problem: The small town is in large measure dependent on a prosperous agriculture, and the farmer has not shared in the prosperity enjoyed by the rest of the economy.

New York Stock Exchange May Move Out Of State

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Plans to move the New York Stock Exchange to another state still are actively being studied.

This was indicated Thursday in a booklet published by the exchange calling for revision of New York City and New York state taxes which the exchange says are driving business away from New York.

The booklet — "The Securities Industry in New York — Worth? Or Decline?" — specifically cites the New York state stock transfer tax as a threat to its growth and expansion here.

"The tax threatens the securities industry because it literally invites out-of-state securities firms and stock exchanges to lure business away from New York," says the exchange.

In addition to the state stock transfer tax, which last year produced $60.5 million in revenue for the state, the Stock Exchange also cited the New York City tax on gross income on financial business as one which inhibits rather than encourages economic progress.

This city gross income tax has risen from 1-10th of one per cent in 1945 to its current rate of 1-12 per cent. "It taxes gross income whether a business operates at a profit or loss," says the booklet, "and its net effect is to push businesses that have suffered reverses closer to the wall."

The Stock Exchange estimates that the annual revenue to New York city and state from the securities business in 1959 — through direct taxes on personal, partnership and corporate incomes and real-estate taxes — at $160 million in addition to the amount on stock transfers.

According to the booklet, New York state needs business and industrial growth. It compares New York to California which it finds far ahead. In the period from 1947 to 1957, California showed a gain of 191 per cent in value of manufactured goods while New York rose only 67 per cent, it was noted. Personal income rose 72 per cent in New York and 120 per cent in California.

"The challenge is clear," says the exchange. "New York must chart more positive programs for growth."

Given a chance to grow, the exchange "looks forward to the end of the next decade when daily average volume could step up to 4.5 million shares from the post-war average of 1.7 million, and when the number of shares listed for trading will be about 11.5 billion — about 90 per cent greater than the present amount," says the booklet.

"In addition, the nation's share-owning population can expand by then from the current level of 12.5 million to as many as 22 million."

Khrushchev Is Angling For Latin Invitation

HAVANA (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is angling for an invitation to visit at least one other Latin American nation before he sets a definite date for his Cuban visit, diplomatic sources said today.

Cuban officials recently returned from tours behind the Iron Curtain have been saying Khrushchev would take up Premier Fidel Castro's invitation to visit Havana soon, possibly during the July 26 celebrations of the revolution movement.

However, the sources thought it likely the Russian leader wanted to have at least one more Latin American capital on his itinerary before undertaking such a long trip. He indicated this himself recently by telling Western newsmen in Moscow that he would like to visit the South American continent some day, but had not yet

Highway Toll Climbs Higher

Texas motorists, especially in this area, seem determined to do away with each other.

So far this year, there have been 15 traffic deaths as compared to only nine at the same time a year ago, according to figures released by the Highway Patrol.

The deaths were caused in nine fatal accidents which have occurred in the area this year. At the same time in 1959 there had been seven such wrecks.

A total of 180 people have been injured in 132 accidents this year, which have resulted in an economic loss of $119,889 in property damages.

In the past few days, government unions and other organization-controlled newspapers, labor unions and other organizations have been showering Khrushchev with telegrams of thanks for his promise to protect Cuba in its dispute with the United States.
