Blunt Warning From U.S. To Soviet Johnson, Kennedy Jockey For Position

Coup Scored By Kennedy In Carolina

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy flew here Saturday to take personal command of his front-running drive for the Democratic presidential nomination after forcing a major crack in Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's Southern stronghold.

As Kennedy left New York for Los Angeles, North Carolina's gubernatorial nominee, Terry Sanford, threw his support to the Massachusetts senator. He said Kennedy would get one third of the state's 37 first ballot votes, with most of the rest going to Johnson.

Issue Filled With 'Politics'

Because of the vast interest in national political conventions this presidential election year, the Daily News has devoted most of its news space today to stories related to politics, in particular Monday's Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, and later this month, the Republican National Convention, which opens in Chicago a week after the Democrats choose a standard bearer.

Johnson, Others Back Ike In Note To Russia

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and other Democratic leaders voiced strong support Saturday for President Eisenhower's warning against Communist expansion in the Western hemisphere.

"It is obvious the United States cannot back down in the face of Premier (Nikita S.) Khrushchev's crude threats," Johnson said. "Mr. Khrushchev seems determined to disrupt the peace of the world under any and all circumstances."

"I believe it came as the senator was in flight and he has had no chance to examine the statement," a spokesman said. Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, a former candidate for the presidential nomination, described the Russian leader's threat to use rockets against the U.S. if it interferes in Cuba as the "rocket and missile diplomacy of Mr. Khrushchev."

Hands Off Cuba, Ike Tells Nikita

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) — President Eisenhower warned Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Saturday night to keep his hands off Cuba.

The President, in a statement issued from his summer White House here, declared that the United States would not permit the establishment of a regime dominated by international Communism in the Western hemisphere.

The United States will not be "deterred" by Khrushchev's rocket threats, Eisenhower said, from standing by its treaty obligations to protect every nation in the Western hemisphere from domination by an alien ideology or a foreign power.

Crash Kills 5 Train Plunges Over Trestle

TUCUMCARI, N.M. (UPI) — Five hitchhiking hobos were killed and three other men injured Saturday when a freight train plunged off a rain-weakened trestle and caught fire.

The economic blockade, now declared against Cuba by the U.S.A., shall fail," Khrushchev said. "One should not forget that the United States is not, as before, an unreachable distance from the rockets against the United States" (See WARNING, Page 2)

Two of the dead were identified as Herman N. Goff, Shelby Gap, Ky., and Leslie Delmar Taylor, 31, whose last address, in 1948, was Long Beach, Calif. Fingerprints of the other dead were sent to the FBI in Washington for identification.

Over Falls And Lives

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI) — A 7-year-old boy protected only by a life preserver, was swept over roaring Niagara Falls Saturday and picked up alive in the churning water 165 feet below.

Daily News Converts To New Typography Style In This Issue

Have you noticed it? We refer to the new, larger body type and head style in this issue of The Pampa Daily News. The body type is a thoroughly up-to-date newspaper type called Intertype Imperial, designed for maximum legibility and ease of reading. We hope that you like this improvement. Announcement of the typographical change was made in Friday's paper.

To the average reader, of course, one news type looks pretty much like another. There are important differences, however, which are apparent even to the inexpert eye when columns set in different type are placed side by side.

If you were to examine a single letter under a powerful microscope you would find that the actual measurable difference is unbelievably small.

The News now boasts the largest body type of any paper in the Panhandle-Plains area.

Belgian Army Moves Against Congo Troops To Protect European Whites

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Belgian army moved Saturday against notorious Congolese troops to protect whites under attack in the new Congo republic, and more troops were ordered into the African country to cope with spreading disorders that verged on civil war and chaos.

The U.S. Embassy sent several dozen women employees and wives and children of embassy staff members to Brazzaville, capital of the neighboring Congo republic across the Congo River. Some American tourists also were sent to peaceful Brazzaville.

Other reports from Uganda and Kenya said radio calls had gone out from Stanleyville for "all available" planes to fly there to rescue thousands of threatened Belgians.

At least two Europeans were dead, nine injured and 200 held captive. Refugees arriving without baggage in Brussels told harrowing stories of rape and plunder by drunken Congolese soldiers.

able amount of equipment. Literally thousands of little molds, called matrices, are used in the composition of news type for a paper like the News and all of these must be discarded and replaced by new ones.

Remembering that the measurable difference between the old and the new may be very slight, the change might appear to involve a lot of trouble and expense for a small factor. The important consideration, however, is the big difference in ease of reading between the old type and the new. Anything that makes the News more readable and more enjoyable is worth to us any effort and any expenditure that may be necessary.

Another important factor in the choice of a news type is what the newspaperman refers to as "the word count." Naturally, newspaper space is costly, whether devoted to news or advertising, and in the case of news matter, features, etc., it is necessary to put as many words as possible into a given amount of space. On the one hand we have the desire to give our readers as much news and other material as possible, while on the other hand we have the necessity for easy reading, and in these days particularly, rapid reading.

From the standpoint of newspaper readers, the importance of news type legibility cannot be over-emphasized. This fact has been recognized by newspapers for many years, but only in recent years has the subject been given the careful, scientific study it deserves.

A survey was made some years ago, during which it was shown that fully two-thirds of the employees of a large industrial organization were near-sighted. This pioneer research, followed by other surveys, pointed up the need for an entirely new approach in designing type for reproduction on newsprint.

Still another consideration has a bearing upon the need for newspaper type legibility. We refer to the fact that much newspaper reading is done in a kind of catch-as-catch-can way.

As a matter of fact, some of the news types used years ago and then considered acceptable would be entirely unsuitable for the reading conditions of our stepped-up business age.

JOHNSON

before the convention opens Monday noon.
Before Sanford's announcement, the United Press International count of delegate votes showed Kennedy with 575 1/2; Johnson 237 1/2; Symington 81 and Stevenson 27 1/2. It takes 761 to win.

Shortly after Sanford came out for Kennedy, Oklahoma Gov. J. Howard Edmonson also endorsed the Massachusetts senator. But Edmonson noted that his state's 29 delegates committed to Johnson under the so-called unit rule which binds all to vote for the majority choice on the first ballot.

Edmonson thought Kennedy would get at least 10 of the state's first-ballot votes if it were not for the unit rule.
In the huge 114-vote New York delegation, state chairman Michael H. J. Jendergast predicted that 101 votes would go to Kennedy on the first ballot. He called a caucus for Monday morning to make the count "official."

Some of the main jockeying involved an attempt by both Kennedy and Johnson forces to woo the support of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. He withdrew as a candidate after his West Virginia primary loss to Kennedy. But he still controls some 90 votes.

Johnson conferred with Humphrey, but came out of the conference holding his silence. Johnson forces also were waging an intensive state-by-state campaign to stem the growing labor swing to Kennedy. It was reported Friday that three of the biggest AFL-CIO leaders are for Kennedy privately.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, chief of the Johnson forces, met steadily with a series of state leaders in an effort to smash what he and the other Johnson strategists regarded as the "blitz psychology" of the Kennedy camp.

One of their top targets was the powerful 81-vote Pennsylvania delegation. Along with California—another 81 vote state—Pennsylvania perhaps could determine the nomination.

Johnson's backers said privately that they were gratified, and somewhat surprised, to hear personally from a number of Negro delegates who indicated a preference for the Texas senator. They would not say how many.

There was no public surprise among the Johnsonites over Sanford's pro-Kennedy move. Johnson said he had expected it ever since he heard that Robert F. Kennedy, the senator's brother, met with Sanford several weeks ago.

A spokesman for Kennedy's headquarters called the Sanford endorsement "A major break for Sen. Kennedy in cracking Southern support for Sen. Johnson."

Soviet Union."
Khrushchev's saber rattling brought one of the bluntest warnings Eisenhower ever has delivered to a foreign power. The President said Khrushchev's remarks showed Russia had the "clear intention to establish Cuba in a role serving Soviet purposes in this hemisphere."

He went on to charge Russia flatly with trying to "intervene in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere."
Eisenhower authorized issuance of his statement by his news secretary, James C. Hagerty, after talking several times during the afternoon by telephone with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in Washington.

There was a possibility that the President might decide to meet at once with Herter and the other top aides when they arrive here around 6:00 p.m. edt Sunday. But so far, according to Hagerty, the conference still was scheduled for early Monday morning, around 8:30 a.m. edt.

Earlier the White House announced Eisenhower will appeal to congress when it reconvenes to complete work on his legislative program and to hold the line against an election-year spending spree.

CRASH

Rock Island train, which was on a run from Amarillo to Tucumcari, cleared the trestle but sheared off its wheels and skidded to a 45-degree angle stop.
The next 17 cars were derailed, eight of them plunging off the trestle into the dry creek bed about 30 feet below. These eight caught fire and the flames in turn ignited the trestle.

The wreckage tied up traffic on the line and company officials could not estimate when it would be restored.
There have been recent heavy rains in the area causing officials to believe the trestle had been undermined. Because of the soft road bed a wrecking crew with a heavy crane to clear the track required almost two hours to reach the scene. Those who approached by road found the going almost as slow because of the mud.

form," she said. "It always has been good, and I'm sure I'll want to support this year."
This is Mrs. Wilkinson's first national convention. She has served on the state executive committee for two years. She said she'll probably have many more statements to make after she has had her "delegate's-eye view" of the convention.

Kennedy, the senator's brother, met with Sanford several weeks ago.

A spokesman for Kennedy's headquarters called the Sanford endorsement "A major break for Sen. Kennedy in cracking Southern support for Sen. Johnson."

LBJ Challenges Kennedy For Cal, Penn Delegates

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, faced with a defection in North Carolina, struck back Saturday night with challenges against Sen. John F. Kennedy's strength in the big New York and Pennsylvania delegations.

Johnson backers buttonhold New York and Pennsylvania delegates throughout the day. Tammany leader Carmine de Sapio, a power in New York state politics, said Johnson sentiment was somewhat stronger within that state.

De Sapio said Johnson's position "has been enhanced in the past several days by virtue of international events that have taken place."
De Sapio said Kennedy still was his "personal preference" despite a 90-minute talk with Johnson. He said he believed the senator still had "nearly 100" of New York's 114 votes.

He said an informal poll some weeks back showed Johnson with 2 1/2 or 3 votes and "he may have a few more now."

De Sapio said if Johnson were selected to oppose Vice President Richard M. Nixon in November, he "could be elected in New York state." He added, however, that "any Democrat could" lick Nixon.

Former Arizona Gov. Ernest McFarland talked with Johnson and told him there was hope the state delegation would shift from Kennedy to him on the second or third ballot. Arizona votes under the unit rule and it would take a majority vote to make the switch.

Commie Rioters Battle Policemen

ROME (UPI) — Communist street fighters clashed with police in new riots Saturday and other demonstrators buried comrades killed in the wave of Red-directed violence that has left 10 persons dead and injured hundreds of others throughout Italy.

An estimated 50,000 persons paraded in the northern "Red belt" city of Reggio Emilia behind the banners of five Communists killed Thursday by a police barrage during street riots.

Leading the Communists at the funeral was party boss Palmiro Togliatti, who has just returned from Moscow with new orders on how to handle Italian political troubles.

Rides Four Winners

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sammy Boulmetis booted home four winners Friday to give him the Aqueduct riding leadership. Boulmetis made it 10 for the current meeting with victories aboard Realy Sumthin ($9.50), Don Poggio ($6.20), Uadipor ($5.80) and Get To It ($6.80).

Guard Breaks Two-Week Camp

FORT HOOD, Tex. (UPI) — National Guardsmen of the 36th Division headed home Saturday from two weeks' training with $797,538 in soldier's pay in their pockets and new coats of tan on their faces.

They will all be back at work at their civilian jobs Monday. Some truck convoys of soldiers who live in the most distant parts of the state left Friday.

Others left Saturday and still others who live fairly close to Fort Hood will leave early Sunday.

Maj. Gen. Carl L. Phinney of Dallas, commander of the division, told his officers at a final critique that the training was a success.

"I had prescribed an unusually heavy training mission for the division," he said. "The division accomplished this mission in a fine manner. I am highly gratified at the results."

Guard Breaks Two-Week Camp

The division moved to and from North Fort Hood almost completely by convoy for the first time. It moved into the field earlier and stayed longer than in former years. It trained 450 Army reservists along with National Guardsmen. The training included more preparation for actual war than ever before.

Bulge In Middle Of Car Not Such A Bother, Auto Industry Officials Say

DETROIT (UPI)—The auto industry has suddenly decided the motorist isn't too interested in getting rid of the bulge bisecting a car's floor from front to back. This decision represents a major reversal of an informal understanding among the auto engineers in 1958 to do everything possible to eliminate the "tunnel and hump" on a car's floor to make "real six-seat automobiles instead of comfortable four-seaters." About a year ago, auto engineers were still predicting the next big "wrinkle" they would iron out of a car would be the one which forced center passengers in the front and rear seats to sit with their knees pointed at the roof.

Market research specialists for one company reported "the hump and tunnel are not important or significant factors in a motorist's choice of a car."

Symington Called 'Next President'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Stuart Symington arrived Saturday on the Democratic National Convention scene and was welcomed by his admirers as "The next president of the United States."

The darkhorse candidate from Missouri flew here from San Francisco and motored to a rally area where several hundred fans were on hand to greet him.

Engineers from another company said they felt "united bodies would provide all the reduction in tunnel and hump size that the motorists would demand."

Symington, in a brief speech, shied away from any direct references to the convention. He said simply that he was grateful for the support of those who had "confidence in me to handle the most important job in the world."

Work on eliminating the hump and tunnel, which cover the section of the transmission extending into the passenger compartment and the drive shaft extension to the rear axle, was feverish.

Chassis engineers for the same company reported they were no longer putting much effort into work aimed at reducing or eliminating the hump and tunnel.

When a reporter asked him if he expected to win the presidential nomination, he replied that he would answer such questions at a news conference later Saturday.

Most often talked about were an engine in the rear, front wheel drive, a transaxle and a flexible like dedicated men on a mission driveshaft. The engineers acted like dedicated men on a mission of relieving the motorist of a horrible burden.

The official policy of one company was that "reduction of the hump is still important and work will continue" but individual engineers from the same company said they felt there was less urgency than there was a year ago.

Other Pampa churches are expected to join the group when pastors and church leaders return from vacations and business trips. The decision for an inter-church revival came following a conference of pastors, adult lay-leaders and youth department officers. The plan was proposed by young people and will be completely staffed by youth.

Mexican Newspaper Okays Cuban Support

By JAIME PLENN United Press International MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The government newspaper El Nacional Saturday endorsed a congressional expression of Mexico's "solidarity" with the Cuba people in the dispute between Premier Fidel Castro and the United States.

At the same time, Federal Senate President Manuel Moreno Sanchez said Mexico should supply crude oil to Cuba for the American and other foreign owned refineries Castro seized because of their refusal to refine Russian crude. Moreno told a press conference Friday night that Cuba is confronted by a social and human crisis and Mexico could not remain aloof from its plight.

NEW STANDARD OF COMFORT

All things considered, a pleasing furniture arrangement can add more beauty, more comfort and convenience to a room than almost any other factor. Good grouping and the carefully planned arrangement of groupings not only enhance the individual pieces functionally as well as appearance-wise, but also bring out the room's best architectural points. The ideal, of course, is to have the furniture groupings and the room blend so harmoniously that they appear to have been made for each other.

Behind The Scenes At The Conventions

By BRUCE BOISSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Come July 11 and 25, you'll be there. Just flick on the big tube and you can catch the finals of the 1960 presidential nominating story here and in Chicago. But they'll be a little tougher to fathom than who will outdraw whom in your favorite Saturday night Western.

As Democratic convention delegates gather first in this city's new Memorial Sports Arena, a glistening place still untouched by the sounds and sights of history, the cameras will glare hard and long.

Yet not all of the story will unfold before them. Some parts they will look at but not "see." Others they focus on will turn out to be trial.

As they get ready for the 1960 carnivals, memories crowd in from the convention past:

Ohio's George Bender wagging a cowbell for Sen. Robert Taft in 1948, until he had to swathe his aching hand in bandages. . . . The same Bender, leather lungs puffed out, intoning "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" so often it has nearly vanished from the musical repertoire. . . . Democratic promoters, in a rare burst of confidence in the bird world, loosing a flight of white doves to roost in the rafters above delegates' heads in 1948. . . . The Puerto Rican comedy act over garbled names at the 1952 GOP show.

As always, you'll get the voting and the speeches without trouble. You'll also have hotel scenes showing perspiring leaders caught in a grove of microphones as they make statements.

But there'll be no dollying into the smoke-filled rooms. And you'll have to be a wizard to figure out all the action right in front of you.

In 1948, when Taft, Thomas E. Dewey and Wendell Willkie fought it out in Philadelphia, John Hamilton, then GOP national chairman, quietly helped engineer the Willkie campaign from a neutral corner on the rostrum.

A few feet from him sat Samuel Pryor, a Willkie man and a convention officer. The two men hardily flicked an eyelash at each other. But every time a little light glowed at either man's desk, he picked up the telephone and they talked. Action followed on the floor.

Floor managers and their lieutenants play vital roles, virtually unnoticed. They scurry up and down the aisles, shoring up wavering delegates, igniting revolts against rivals, pressing for the votes that may put their man over the top.

Sometimes communication fails. In 1952 Taft emissaries trying to reach Rep. Clarence Brown in the Ohio delegation discovered him walled off by pswamen poking walkie-talkies in his face. The mission never was completed.

Floor scuffles now and then go unexplained. New York Democratic delegates at Chicago in 1952 were badly torn between Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Tammany men clustered around Smith would not let Jim Farley, Roosevelt's manager, sit down among them long enough to vote.

New York Republicans were similarly divided in 1940. A hefty upstate mayor tried to start the floor parade for Willkie after his name went in. Five Deweyites battled the 220-pounder for the biologically tossing state banner.

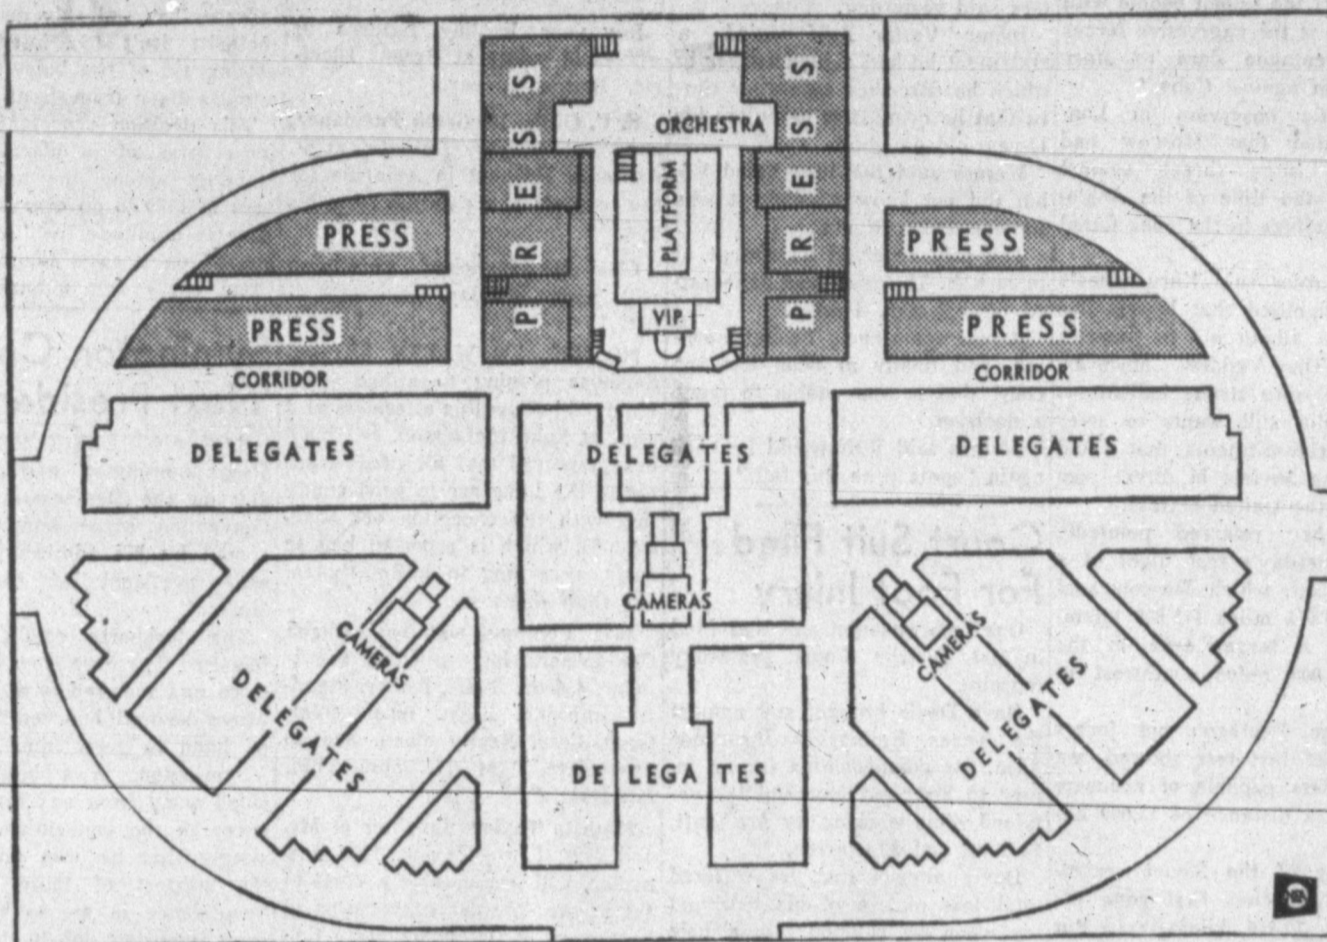

Suddenly the big man broke through and raced into the aisle with the standard. But his troubles weren't over. Thirteen times he had to pass the New York delegation. Thirteen times new fights for the banner broke out.

Many votes are won and lost just off the floor. Harold Stassen, managing for Willkie, wanted to pick up Kansas' 18 votes from Alf Landon, the 1936 GOP nominee. The hall was too noisy. So while policemen guarded top and bottom floors, the two men rode a freight elevator up and down. Landon, perhaps a bit giddy, handed over the votes.

In 1952, Taft forces seeking compromise with the Eisenhower men on a big rules change affecting the race, met with them for two hours in a steamy, windowless cubicle just behind a massive, serene picture of Abraham Lincoln.

That day no heat could melt the glacial Eisenhower spokesman, Henry Cabot Lodge. The ensuing rules change damaged Taft badly.

So you won't see or get it all. But what you do see is still one of the best and most important shows in the world.

PRESS ACCOMMODATIONS — A tremendous area of the Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena will be given to the members of the working press who will report the goings-on of the 1960 Democratic convention. Shaded areas of the floor diagram show where the newsmen and their equipment will be located. It's Los Angeles' first convention.

Pampans Make O.U. Honor Roll

Four Pampanns are included on the honor roll for the spring semester at the University of Oklahoma. Dr. George L. Cross, University president, has announced. A student must have an over-all B grade average in no less than 12 credit hours and must not have a failing or incomplete mark in any course to be eligible for the honor roll. Those listed on the honor roll are Gary Franklin Dockery, Frank Duggan Smith Jr., Ruth G. W. Smith and Fred B. Van Shoubrouck Jr.

Johnson's LA Arrival Brings On Mob Scene

By DICK WEST
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The first mob scene of the 1960 Democratic convention took place at approximately 12:15 p.m. on Friday when Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson made his triumphal entry into the City of Angels.

I should add at this point that all presidential candidates are accorded a triumphal entrance when they arrive at a convention. The important thing, of course, is to have a triumphal exit.

Using an unofficial but usually reliable crowd measurement which I perfected at previous conventions, I would estimate that Johnson received a four-rib turnout.

I mean by this that I consider myself lucky I didn't get four ribs broken.

When the convention really gets going next week, we will start having six and seven-rib crowds, which is about as big as they can get without branching off into arm and leg fractures.

But Johnson's rib rating was high enough for a pace-setter and gives the other candidates something to shoot at. I am not qualified to evaluate the political impact of his triumphal entry, but musically it was rather mixed up.

We candidate-watchers began jockeying for positions more than 30 minutes before Johnson's arrival at the Biltmore Hotel convention headquarters. We were shortly joined by a squad of musicians clad in uniforms of bright orange and fuchsia, a color combination that would only be tolerated in Southern California.

In view of Johnson's proclivity for names and titles that have his "LBJ" initials, I suppose I should describe the band music as "loud, brassy jazz." At any rate, the band heralded his arrival by lining out "Rampart Street Parade" and other Dixieland classics.

This type of music is fine for shaking dates off of palm trees and piercing the smog barrier, but it fell strangely upon ears accustomed to old convention wheezes like "The Sidewalks of New York."

The band didn't even play "The Eyes of Texas," an oversight which in the eyes of Texans is tantamount to a capital offense.

After cheering their hero on the sidewalk and in the hotel lobby, the Johnson fans followed the candidate into his campaign headquarters, located in—I swear this is true—the "renaissance room."

Groom Approves Gas Rate Hike

The City Commission of Groom approved a natural gas rate increase asked by Producers Utilities Corporation on June 30 and the new rate is now in effect.

The company serves Groom, Claude and Goodnight and rate increases also have been approved by the other cities.

The new rate will amount to a fraction over 10 per cent of the old rate.

The new domestic rate will be raised as follows: from $1 to $1.25 for the first 1M cubic feet or less; from $1.50 to $3.35 for next 59 M cubic feet; and $4.50 for over 59 M cubic feet. Delayed payment penalty will remain at 10 per cent.

Gas for irrigation purposes will show the following increase: First 2 MFC per month from $4.00 per MFC to $1.25; next 20 MFC per month from $4.00 per MFC to $4.42½; next 30 MFC per month from $3.35 per MFC to $3.77½; all gas in excess of 52 MFC per month the rate increases from $3.30 to $3.22½. Minimum monthly bill raises from $1 to $1.25.

There was another affair going on in an adjacent room and when Johnson got up to make a thank-you speech, someone over there began to play "You're Breaking My Heart" on a violin.

This concludes the musical part of my report on Johnson's arrival, but I have a footnote of interest to the beatnik set. At the airport, one of Johnson's greeters, who was wearing a beanie, carried a homemade sign which read:

"Like this Kennedy cat is really beat."

Poco Jeff Wins Horse Trophy

Pampan Bill Stockstill walked away from the Canadian Quarter Horse Show July 2 carrying a trophy for owning the grand champion stallion of the show.

His horse, Poco Jeff, had been reserve champion of the show the past two years.

Top quarter horses from Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas were entered in the show, and approved show of the American Quarter Horse Assn.

Other Pampan's horses placing in the show were Joe Monday owned by Mary Stockstill, second in Geldings four and under, and Billy Snip owned by Andrew Smith, third in the same division.

Wheeler Rodeo Opens Thursday

A free barbecue served on opening night of the Wheeler Riding Club's fifth annual rodeo will be a special feature of this year's show.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday at the arena, northeast of Wheeler.

The Thursday barbecue will be served at 6 p.m. at the arena.

Another feature will be the $20 gift certificates to be given away each night by the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce. Prizes will be good in merchandise at any store or business advertising in the Rodeo Catalogue.

Seven events are scheduled for the show including bareback Bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bull dogging, bull riding, laides barrel race and double mugging. All events will be based with a two go round average. Entry fees will be $15 in each event.

Charlie Plummer of Elk City, Okla., will furnish the stock.

A street parade will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, and a kid pony show is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday.

Missed Swim Classes Set

The Red Cross has secured use of Municipal Pool the first week in August for make-up swimming classes that were postponed this week. The classes will be held from 9-11 a.m.

This sessions classes will continue through this week from 9-11 a.m. weather permitting with the make-up classes later.

Those who have signed up for the night swimming class beginning July 18 are requested to go by the Red Cross office and complete registration. This class will be held from 6-7 p.m. and will be taught by Jackie Chisum.

Sketches From History Of Democratic Presidential Hopefuls

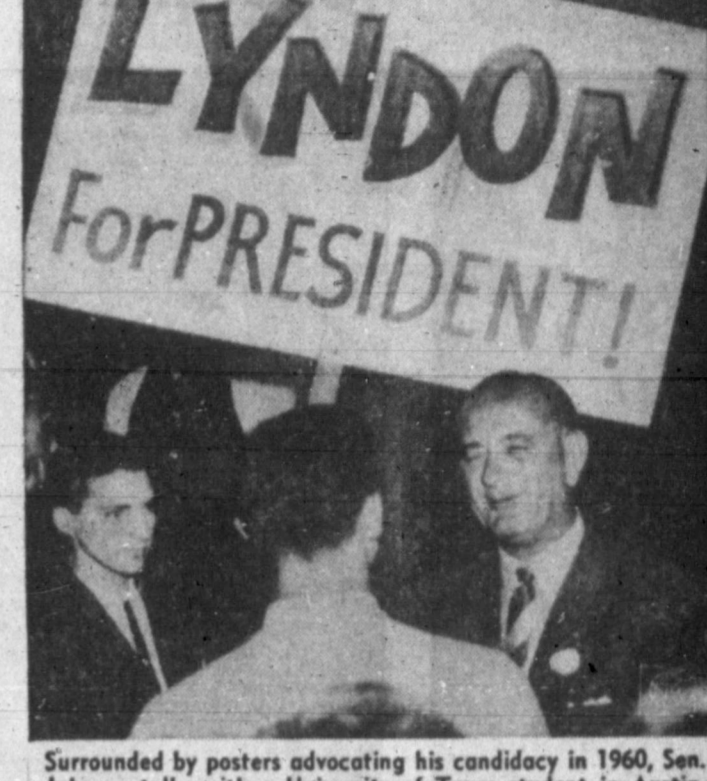

Lyndon Baines Johnson, 6-foot-3 Texan, is shown at the beginning of his 12 years as a Representative (1937-49).

The young New Dealer is hoisted to the shoulders of happy supporters June 30, 1941. Returns coming into his Austin headquarters indicated that he had won a special election to the U.S. Senate. However, Johnson lost the election by a whisker.

Elected to the Senate in 1948, Johnson soon became leader of the Democrats and, in 1955, Senate majority leader. He arrives with his mentor and fellow Texan, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, for a 1956 White House conference. A boomlet for his presidential candidacy in the 1956 election ended with his heart attack July 2, 1955. His power is second to the President's.

Surrounded by posters advocating his candidacy in 1960, Sen. Johnson talks with a University of Texas student in Austin. Though his hopes are hampered by regional prejudice, it is believed that ability will swing northern sentiment his way.

William Stuart Symington was named the first secretary of the Air Force in 1947. He championed a larger air arm.

Stu Symington weared himself in 1949 pleading the cause of a better system of defense. He is best known in Washington as the foremost critic of the Eisenhower administration's defense policies. He has advocated bigger defense budgets.

Senator Symington was first elected from Missouri in 1952, re-elected in 1958, the year this photo was taken with Harry Truman who is championing Symington's 1960 candidacy. Symington was born in Massachusetts on June 26, 1901.

GUNMAN GETS ADVICE

DALLAS (UPI) — A lone gunman took some fatherly advice but no money Saturday from an Oak Calif pharmacist, C. W. Anderson. When Anderson was told to fork over all his paper money by the youthful bandit, the pharmacist told him, "I'm not going to do it, and the best thing for you to do is to get out of here." Anderson lunged towards the holdup man, who took the advice and fled empty-handed.

How Do You Look on the Beach?

Does ugly fat embarrass you? Why not get rid of the unwanted pounds, easily, safely and without starvation diet? There is a way — the Barcetrate way which has been proven in Texas for 18 years. Just ask any Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcetrate. Follow directions and watch the fat just seem to melt away. Men and women both find Barcetrate the safe way. Dr. W. Swager, 3113 Blanco Road, San Antonio 12, Texas, states that 50 pounds were lost taking Barcetrate, reducing from 198 to 148 and further states that Barcetrate is the only method that worked for weight reduction.

News Briefs

WINS STUDY GRANT
AUSTIN (UPI) — Dr. Lewis F. Hatch, University of Texas authority on petro-chemistry, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to aid the U.S. program of technical assistance. He will go to the University of Cairo to give lectures and consultation under a 1960-61 program requested by the U. S. State Department.

PLAN STUDENT CENTER
DENTON, Tex. (UPI)—A $25,000 center for North Texas State College students will be opened this fall. The Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) has purchased two residences near the campus which will be remodeled and converted into the student center.

HAMILTON MAYOR QUILTS
HAMILTON (UPI) — Mayor Charles Eck resigned Saturday and declined to say why. But a city councilman said it was believed Eck disagreed with the council on handling of the town's water supply. T. D. (Pap) Craddock, mayor pro-tem, will succeed Eck.

Sketches From History Of Democratic Presidential Hopefuls

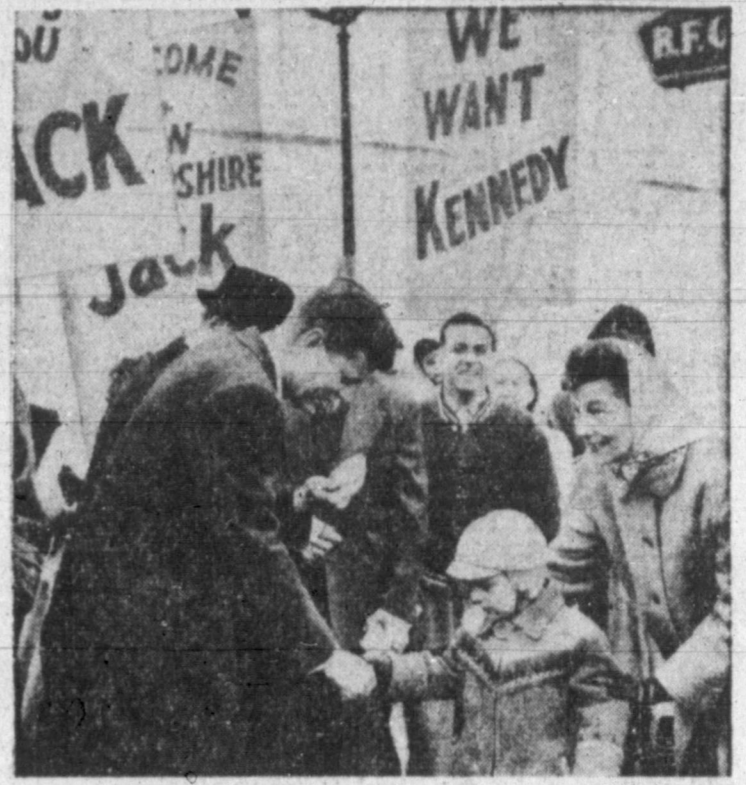

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, had returned to the U.S. after 11 months PT boat duty in photo was taken in 1944.

Senator Kennedy married Washington socialite-newspaperwoman Jacqueline Lee Bouvier in 1954. Daughter Carol was born in 1957. The son of former U.S. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy has spent 14 years in Congress, over half in Senate.

Kennedy teams up with brother Bob, left, to question Jimmy Hoffa in August, 1958. The senator was on the Labor Rackets Committee which had Bob as its chief counsel. Following the hearings, Senator Kennedy co-sponsored a bipartisan labor reform bill with Sen. Irving Ives (R-N.Y.). He has also been active in foreign affairs and social reform measures.

The senator stumps before the New Hampshire presidential primary, the first of eight he swept in his front-running campaign for the Democratic nomination. Supporters hope that his religion and youthful appearance will not be handicaps.

Happy Adlai Ewing Stevenson, wears formal attire for his 1949 inauguration ball as Democratic governor of Illinois.

Aggressive 1956 candidate Stevenson proudly poses with the symbol of his party in Chicago. He vigorously fought Sen. Kefauver through the primaries and won the nomination on the first ballot over the fervent opposition of Harry Truman.

Volunteers set up booths in New York City to solicit support for Stevenson's third try for the presidency in 1960. He is not an avowed candidate but his name can't be taken from this year's list of Democratic possibilities. If Kennedy's drive falters, Stevenson is given the best chance of picking up the Massachusetts senator's convention delegates and a third try.

Service To Rural Areas Morse's Top Concern

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN in the 1960's. He is especially concerned with a rapidly changing agriculture and how the Rural Development Program (RDP) can help families in low income rural areas better themselves. Morse is chairman of the national Committee for RDP.

Morse recently characterized the new rural America by a recitation of these trends and facts: —There are now five non-farm persons for every three farm persons living in rural America. The number of rural residences—in contrast to farms—will increase rapidly. —"Mixed income" and "diversified income" areas will become more common. They will be more actively promoted for the good of farm and town people alike. —Farm families now receive about $1 out of each $3 of total income from off-farm employment and other non-farm sources. This income from off-farm sources will grow rapidly and be actively promoted as a means for overcoming low incomes of both farm and non-farm rural people. —There will continue to be a declining need for farmers and farm workers. It is the only major occupational group for which the government forecasts less manpower demand during the 10 years ahead. —New highways under construction will put all America on "Main Street." Power, transportation, and communications now serve all communities and areas. Milk, bread, and the daily paper are delivered along the country road in growing communities. —Rural communities are being remade. Farm and non-farm families, including the people in small towns, villages, and suburban areas, increasingly work, play, worship, and study together.

All this and much more, Morse said, adds up to a rapidly changing agriculture and a new rural America.

MARINE JET CRASHES

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UPI)—A U.S. Marine Corps F9F-8T Cougar jet crashed into Tokyo Bay today just before it was scheduled to land and the pilot was reported missing, the Navy has announced. The plane was approaching Iwakuni Marine Base where it was attached to the First Marine Air Wing when it plunged into the water. The identity of the pilot was not furnished.

TOKYO (UPI)—Heavy rains lashed western Honshu Island late Thursday and Friday and 18 persons were reported dead in the resulting floods. The torrential rains in seven prefectures in the south of the island caused landslides, washed away bridges and flooded some 10,000 homes and more than 10,000 acres of farmland.

Edd Byrnes Resents His 'Kookie' Name

By DICK KLEINER Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — There are two schools of thought regarding Kookie. Some cats say he's the wildest. And others resent him, figuring that this 77 Sunset Strip character is hardly symbolic of the better things in TV.

sent it. I want to be known as an actor, not as the character I play. He has a point. They don't talk about Robert (Elliott) Stack, or James (Bret) Garner, or James (Matt) Arness. So why this Edd (Kookie) Byrnes bit?

Tin Pan Alley Goes 'Oop' Rock 'n Roll Plugs Comic Strip Cave Man

By DICK KLEINER Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — During the last week of school in most communities up and down the hallowed halls ran youngsters yelling, "Oop, Oop, Oop."

And even cartoonist Hamlin, who won't go so far as to say he likes the song, generously admits it's "catchy."

They're touring the West Coast on the strength of Oop. Kavelin is preparing a follow-up on his subsidiary label (two releases and he's already got a subsidiary; that's the record business), Trans-World. This will be called "Cholly Oop," a Chinese-flavored take-off. You simply take the same orchestral track, over-dub a voice with a Chinese lilt, add new lyrics (instead of "dinosaur," you read "rickshaw") and that's it.

Fortunately, the summer vacations came just in time to save the teachers' sanity, but now that same cheerful cry — "Oop, Oop, Oop" — is ringing out on beaches, in camps, along city streets and country lanes. This is, in case your radio is out of whack, the gist of a new song which is sweeping the nation.

As a long-time Alley Oop comic strip fan, the thought occurred to him that there was a song there somewhere. He wrote the lyrics. And he brought them to Al Kavelin, co-publisher of the big Doris Day hit, "Que Sera Sera," who just started his own recording company, Lute.

Of course, his resentment is cushioned in nice, happy pay checks, and in the knowledge that Kookie has taken him, in two years, from obscurity to great, panting fame. Perhaps because he rose suddenly, Edd is a mass of contradictions. He will tell you how he resents Kookie and, in the next sentence, offer the opinion that he loves Kookie and that the character is 100 per cent Edd Byrnes.

Alley Oop is loosely based on V. T. Hamlin's Newspaper Enterprise Association comic strip. In words and monosyllables, it tells about the cave man who is: "The toughest man there is alive" "Wearin' clothes from a wild cat's hide" "He's the king of the jungle jive."

Although the Hollywood Argylees were a unit thrown together solely to make this record, the tremendous success of "Alley Oop" has made them decide to stick together, at least until they milk the commercial possibilities of the hit. They did the song on The Dick Clark Show (and Clark spent more for the Alley Oop set and costumes than he'd ever spent on any other song production). And, currently, back and at the old writing board, Hamlin continues to draw and draw the adventures of his cave man. Despite the fact that the record is most popular with the kids, Hamlin stoutly maintains his is an adult comic strip.

Carolina Endorses Kennedy By RAYMOND LAHR United Press International LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Kennedy-for-President forces cracked Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's line of Southern presidential support today with an endorsement from North Carolina gubernatorial nominee Terry Sanford.

Sanford threw his support to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in a news conference announcement marking the front-runner's drive to win the Democratic presidential nomination by the second ballot.

Other avowed candidates — Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois. Meanwhile, the Kennedy forces worked to persuade Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who withdrew as a presidential candidate after losing to Kennedy in West Virginia, to declare for the front-runner on the first ballot. It was understood Humphrey planned to let his name go before the convention as a favorite son candidate from Minnesota before throwing his weight to Kennedy.

Byrnes is actually traveling a well-worn route. Ever since Boris Karloff rebelled at being the Frankenstein monster, actors have become worried when they are too closely identified with parts they played. In some cases, such super-identifications hurt careers.

Byrnes is aware of the danger. To guard against it, he's feverishly looking for non-Kookie movie parts (he'll play a young rebel in the soon-to-be-filmed "The Savage Streets"). He stresses to everyone he meets that he's not really a Kookie, only an actor.

Byrnes is a New Yorker, 26 years old, — "and I don't care who knows it" — who tried acting when he grew tired of odd jobs. He was a red-hot movie fan as a boy (he still treasures a Robert Mitchum letter answering a fan-type letter he wrote as a youth). After a whirl in stock around New York, he in-

KOOKIE — Need we say more?

Now, more than ever before, motion pictures are being made with an intent to entertain family audiences and a current example of this trend is evidenced by the widely acclaimed and familiar Biblical theme, "The Story of Ruth," which opens a seven-day engagement July 14 at the Capri Theater, it was announced today by Manager Paul West.

With entertainment seekers asking today for more family pictures, and as an epic of faith, love, and devotion, never has the world of the Bible opened so completely before the eyes as in this production.

Slow-Starting Sherry Now Glad He's Back In Coliseum Bullpen

PHILADELPHIA (NEA) — Larry Sherry is the victim of circumstance, the losing side of the battle of the bulge and just bad luck.

That was the explanation of the Dodgers' youthful 1959 relief phenomenon as he pensively answered questions in the visitors' clubhouse at Connie Mack Stadium as the World Champions appeared in Philadelphia on an eastern swing.

LARRY SHERRY

But when you got Sherry alone, he confessed to being a little out of shape in a tone not so enthusiastic as his prepared speeches on the winter banquet circuit.

Indeed the curly-haired strong boy could be another victim of the rubber chicken circuit. There are those who say that he got too much too soon and it went to his head. Like a lot of other quick-success kids, he took things for granted and found that it wasn't as easy as it seemed.

"I guess I've always been a slow starter," Sherry lamented. "Since I sprained my ankle stepping on that bat while covering the plate against the Cubs in Los Angeles, I haven't been in such good condition because I couldn't run. When I don't run — I was out two weeks, you know — I start putting on weight." He grabbed a couple fists of spare tire.

Sherry, brightest star of the 1959 World Series, has been lost in the mire of a mediocre showing a 5-4 record and a 4.94 earned-run average in 24 appearances.

What happened to the winner of the Babe Ruth Award?

"Ah, I don't know," he grimaced half apologetically. "Last year during spring training I pulled a muscle and couldn't get in good shape until late in the season. Stepping on that darn bat this year was a freak accident, but a bad sprain."

Has the swollen ankle hampered his pitching much?

"I've been able to throw but not like I wanted. I'm always afraid I'll have to field a bunt and twist it or something. When I'm running now, I can still feel a little pain when I come down on the left foot."

Sherry's confidence, once his trademark evidenced by a determined and cocky saunter to the mound, has mellowed since leaving the banquet tour.

"I'm glad to be in the bullpen now that I saw I couldn't help the club as a starter. Of course," he added, "I'm not helping anyone right now. If I can do more good in the bullpen I'll stay there. If (Walt) Alton wants me to start again, I'll do that."

But does Sherry, once so outspoken on getting a starting job, really like the relief role again?

"Sure. I wanted to start this year and I got a chance, but if I couldn't stay in shape, I couldn't pitch nine innings."

Leading Baseball Stars Gather Monday For 1st All-Star Game At Kansas City

BY JACK BRANNAN
United Press International

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A cross section of old veterans and new faces will make up the cast Monday when the All-Star baseball game makes its Kansas City debut in Municipal Stadium.

For the first time in Kansas City's long baseball history, first as a high-ranking minor league center and for the last six years.

At the home of the American League Athletics, the game's top stars will gather here for the drama which draws second billing only to the World Series.

More than 31,000 are expected to see the game, which will begin at 3 p.m. e.d.t. when former American League President Will Harridge throws out the first ball. Millions more will watch it on nationwide television.

The second All-Star game, an innovation last year, will be played Wednesday in New York.

Neither American League manager Al Lopez, who managed pilot Walt Alton, who managed last year's pennant winners, has named his starting pitcher. But each has a 10-man mound staff that would have delighted any All-Star manager over the 27-year history of the game.

Six Umps Get All-Star Bids

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Honochick, Nestor Chylak and John Stevens of the American League and Dusty Boggess, Tom Gorman and Vinnie Smith of the National League today were named to umpire the two All-Star baseball games next week.

Honochick will start behind the plate in the first game at Kansas City on Monday with Boggess switching behind the plate after four and a half innings. In the game at New York on Wednesday, Chylak and Gorman will divide the duties behind the plate, Chylak starting out there.

Stevens and Smith will be the four line umpires.

In addition to the umpires, Commissioner Ford Frick named the following official scorers:

Kansas City — Edgar Munzel, Chicago Sun-Times; John Drebing, New York Times and Ernie Mehl, Kansas City Star.

Threats Mean Nothing

By DONALD MAY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Under Secretary of State Douglas Dillon declared Saturday that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's threats will never deter the United States from protecting its interests in this hemisphere.

The State Department's number two official referred to Khrushchev's Moscow speech in which he told the United States not to interfere in Cuban affairs and said Russian rockets may be used if Americans intervened with aggression.

Dillon said he discussed Khrushchev's statements with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter who is holding a special conference with President Eisenhower Monday on the Cuban crisis.

"My only comment," Dillon told reporters, "is that Mr. Khrushchev ought to know that the United States will never be deterred by any threats of his from protecting its own interests and from carrying on its policy of promoting freedom and progress in this hemisphere."

At the same time, top congressional foreign policy leaders—both Democrat and Republican—bluntly told Khrushchev to "mind his own business" and stay out of the U.S.-Cuban dispute.

The "hands-off" warning was made by Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.). Dillon talked with reporters just before he left for Europe. He is attending a U.N. economic meeting in Geneva July 11-14.

Dillon said the conference with Herter, who cut short his vacation, was "chiefly" on worsening communist camp.

Khrushchev's remarks were viewed by U.S. officials as virtually declaring that Cuba was a Russian satellite and placing Fidel Castro's regime deeper into the communist camp.

Commenting on Khrushchev's address, presidential news secretary James C. Hagerty emphasized the State Department's statement Friday that the Premier appears to be trying to work "by threat rather than negotiation."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio),

past, one will have a face sore from smiling, a hand numb from shaking. She will be First Lady of the United States.

RELIGIOUS PILGRIMS KILLED; PARACHUTE JUMPER KILLED

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Twenty-five religious pilgrims riding atop a crowded train coach were killed Friday when the train went under a low overpass near Mathura, a report reaching here today said. Twenty three others were said to be injured in the accident which took place 80 miles south of here.

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—Hosea L. Jones, 27, a Montgomery, Ala., airman assigned by the Air Force to jump with members of the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, was killed Friday when his parachute landed him in a tree during a simulated airborne assault operation.

VIP Treatment For Uncommitted Few

SPORTS ARENA, Los Angeles. (UPI)—If you were a very important person, like say an uncommitted delegate, NBC would give you a ride around the Democratic convention hall on its "vip train."

ABC would invite you into its "health bar" for an energizing whiff of oxygen and a relaxing siesta in a vibrating chair. And CBS would introduce you to Betty Furness, its queen of commercials.

These services, however, are only incidental to the main rivalry among the television networks, which are moving heaven and earth and David Brinkley in a titanic struggle for electronic supremacy.

When the convention sessions open Monday, the delegates and candidates will find the huge Los Angeles sports arena crawling with cameras.

There are cameras on the catwalks and cameras on the floor; cameras on the rostrum and cameras by the door. The only places not presently in range are the rest rooms, and even these are theoretically vulnerable.

All three networks will have squads of roving cameramen equipped with portable transmitting units, which can penetrate the nooks and crannies: NBC and ABC call their mobile minatures "creepy-peepies." The CBS version is known as "eyewitness."

In addition, ABC claims to have developed an owl-like camera tube which will make it possible for the big eye to see in the dark.

Proceedings on the convention floor will flow into the control rooms from "pool" cameras which provide each network with the same basic coverage.

Peg O' Pampa

THERE'S ONLY ONE THING wrong with a long leisurely Fourth of July weekend... it's always followed by a back-to-earth July Fifth... with that dismal observation, let's launch into some of the activities that made the holiday past so pleasant... first of all, it was a heavenly-cool day... you just couldn't have asked for more perfect weather... we thoroughly enjoyed, along with many thousands, the fireworks display held in Recreation Park and planned by the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Committee... and we especially enjoyed the inspirational, patriotic pageant written and produced by Melvin Munn and presented by a group of young people... it was one of the finest presentations we have seen in a long, long time... and one that we would like to hear over again for it contained much food for thought in these grouping-for-security times... here's a big bouquet of verbal roses to Mr. Munn, which we are sure he will share with his co-players Earl Cooper... Bill Atkinson... Coy Palmer... Cynthia Duncan... Jim Scott... Diane Fenton... Joe Bourland... Brenda Stephens... John Waggoner... Paula Sealey... and Mike Wilshire... they were wonderful!

IT'S NICE TO SEE downtown Pampa all bedecked in its summer cotton costume of red, white and blue bunting proclaiming the forthcoming Rodeo Week... August 2 through August 6th... there's nothing seasonally unfashionable about our downtown section when it comes to decorations... sparkling tinsel and bright-lighted ornaments during wintertime holidays and gaily-colored cottons in the summertime... now that the Fourth is over imagine there will be a lot of concentrated activity at the rodeo grounds... as committees, Top o' Texas Girls' Riding Club and cowboys begin to put the rodeo together for another of Pampa's outstanding civic programs.

IT IS A SMALL WORLD, indeed, and something that happened to Jessie (Mrs. J. B.) White points up this fact... one morning, while she was attending a Teacher Growth Workshop on the University of Texas campus in Austin, she visited the Casis School there and was asked by a second grade student where she was from... when she replied, "Pampa"... the young lad informed her "Oh, we have a boy from Pampa"... and the "boy from Pampa" turned out to be Bill Campbell, son of Wanda and Johnnie Campbell... and to confirm our "small-world" statement, Jessie had taught Wanda, when Wanda was in the third grade.

DON'T YOU JUST love the pretty, casual straws that have been much of a part of the feminine fashion picture this summer... we've seen so many pretty ones... we noted a very pretty quartet, Jay Williams, Melba Martin, Nancy Gabelmann and Connie McDaniel, at the Country Club during the holiday weekend wearing these attractive straws... Jay looked summerly-chic in a black and white check cotton complemented with a wide-brimmed, sun-shading straw accented with a red band and red tie-scarf and a red carnation adding back-brim interest... Melba looked particularly cool and attractive in summer-white capri set with turquoise-blue accent... and the turquoise band on her fetching beach hat matched the trim of her costume... Connie's casual summer summer straw is one of the most unusual we've ever seen in that it is designed with a fluted brim and crown, instead of the usual straight one... Nancy Gabelmann has the smartest straw... it has a brief brim, styled more like a man's straw hat, with a bright-hued scarf circling over the crown and tying under the chin... Frances Fatheree has the cutest bathing hat... it has authentic-looking hair painted on and is accented with orange flowers at the temple... with the pointed-on hair, she looks well-groomed in or out of the water... we wish we had a wild, wild hat like the one we saw Dora Thomasson wearing downtown one afternoon... it was completely covered with brightly-colored, sparkling baubles that gleamed in the sun... if you wore that hat on a fishing trip you wouldn't have to bait your hook, the fish would jump right out of the water into your creel.

WEDDING BELLS in Fort Smith, Arkansas, bid a large group of Pampanos to that city to attend the July 2 nuptials of Nancy Jean Bever and Robert Eugene Imel... we are so happy to hear that they plan to make their home here in Pampa, where Bob is associated with his dad, F. E. Imel, in the banking business... the B. L. Hoovers and the Clyde Vanderbergs flew down Friday afternoon in the Hoover's private plane so they arrived just a little ahead of the other Pampa wedding guests, the Frank Smiths, the Luke McClellands, the Troy Teels, the Mark Heaths, the Paul Carmichaels, the B. R. Parrishes and the Lyle Gages... following the lovely wedding and reception, the Imels entertained their Pampa guests and others at a dinner in the Scrabble Country Club in Fort Smith.

DO YOU THINK any of our envious sisterstates would believe that this week... this second week in July... that it has been necessary to build a fire in the fireplace or to turn on the furnace... or to don a sweater or light jacket for outdoor activities????... it's even been cold enough to close down the swimming pools until things warm up... anyone else reading this, besides a Pampan, would think that the heat had overcome us for making such an observation on the weather that has been ours during the week... someone told us that they had known it to snow in Pampa during July... oh, come on, now.

CHARMING VISITORS TO Pampa... Lillian McNutt, former Pampan now making her home in Houston, visited here this week accompanied by her husband and son... somehow the local scene always seem to brighten a bit when Lillian returns for a visit to her old hometown... when we spied her she looked as attractive and charming as ever... Jean Root's mother, Mrs. A. F. Repp of Akron, Ohio, has been a summer houseguest in the Bill Root home... and she's getting ready to return to her home in Ohio... she's the most delightful person with a tangy Scottish accent... several social courtesies have been extended during her stay here... the G. M. Martins entertained Melba's attractive sister and her doctor-husband, the R. Z. Abell Jrs. of Lubbock, over the fourth of July weekend... visiting works the other way, too... Pampanos visiting other places... like, for instance, Irl and Irene Smith who are in Dallas this weekend attending the professional photographers convention in the Baker Hotel... Irl was to serve on the Print Committee and Irene was to be a member of the Hostess Committee... their daughter and her husband, Blair and Rochelle Wilkins, are attending the convention, too!

FASHION NOTE... Bea York makes the prettiest aprons... which she gives as gifts to friends and co-workers... the one we saw was a very pretty seafoam green organza rimmed with a clover-blossom print hem and pocket... covering over the clover-blossom pocket on slender wires were two very authentic-looking bees... quite a symbolic-embellish or Bea, who has been as busy as a bee this year... serving as noble grand for Rebekah Lodge and as Altrusa Club's Senior Center chairman... just to name two of the activities that have kept her busy as the winged honey-gatherer.

WE'VE HEARD that quite a few of our local people attended the Clarendon Celebration Sunday... among the Pampanos attending were the R. A. Mack family... Georgia reported to friends that it was a very pleasant day... good food and plenty of "old-time" visiting... the most outstanding part in the parade, according to Georgia, was the old-fashioned buggy from Pampa that carried a banner "Pampa Rodeo... Bust."

Love, Peg

Turnbo - Alexander Say Vows In Chapel Setting

Miss Priscilla Ann Turnbo became the bride of Jackie Joe Alexander on Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. in First Methodist Chapel with the Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock performing the double-ring ceremony.

Vows were exchanged beneath a wedding arch centered with a cluster of wedding bells. The bride was flanked by floor baskets of white gladioli with Jade palms and seven-branched candelabra completing the background.

Miss Turnbo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Turnbo, west of the city. Mr. Alexander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alexander, 1201 S. Sumner.

Mrs. Cora Mae Hood sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. Sheila Williams at the organ.

BRIDE: The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was attired in floor-length white satin and lace. The fitted bodice of fine, re-embroidered lace over satin was designed with a scalloped neckline, which came to a point in the back with tiny, covered buttons running past to the waistline. The long, tapered sleeves came to bridal points over the hands. The four-tiered skirt was of net and lace. Her Veil of Illusion, edged with lace, was attached to a Crown of pearls and sequins. An orchid cascaded with staphanotis and white satin ribbon streamers tied in Love Knots were used to fashion the bride's bouquet.

ATTENDANTS: Miss Betty Turnbo, bride's sister, was maid of honor. Mrs. Wanda Johnson, bride's sister and Miss Mary Heflin were bridesmaids. They were dressed identically in street-length dresses of

Smith-Lanham United In Polk Street Chapel

Polk Street Methodist Chapel was the scene for the marriage vows exchanged by Miss LaVan June Smith and Thomas E. Lanham, both of Amarillo, on July 2 at ten o'clock.

Chaplain Robert J. Gentry performed the double-ring service amid a setting of sunburst arrangements of white gladioli, turquoise carnations and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bowers, 422 N. Somerville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Felix Lanham of Grafton, West Va.

BRIDE: Given in marriage by her step-father with the her mother and 1 avowal, the bride was gowned in nylon lace over tiered tulle and satin fashioned with a squared Sabrina neckline outlined with scalloped lace and long, tapered sleeves which ended in petal points over the hands. The ballerina-length skirt featured insets of pleated tulle edged with lace scallops. Her elbow-length Veil of tulle illusion, edged with oat pearls, fell from a Crown a seed pearls.

She carried an arrangement of white and turquoise carnations showered with streamers of white satin edged with pearls atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS: Miss Glenda Kay Converse, cousin of the bride, attended as maid of honor wearing turquoise nylon chiffon accented with scallops of lace identical to that in the bride's skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Joe Ricco of Amarillo served as best man. Ushers were Fred Poling and Kent Bowers, brother of the bride.

Miss Eloise Lane at the organ played "True Love", "Melody of Love", "Indian Love Call" and the traditional wedding marches.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bowers chose a blue embroidered lace sheath. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lanham wore a jacket dress of powder blue lace with white accessories. White carnations were fashioned for the mothers' corsages.

RECEPTION: Following the exchange of vows, Mrs. Paul Bowers served from the tiered wedding cake. Guests were registered by Miss Sammie Joe Bowers. They were assisted by Miss Inez Clubb and Mrs. Joe Vaughn.

The couple left immediately following the reception for a wedding trip to Taos, N.M. Upon their return they will make their home at 2815 Line Ave., Amarillo.

The bride attended Pampa High School; West Texas State College, Canyon; and Draughon's Business University. She is now employed in the personnel department of Amarillo Air Force Base. The bridegroom was graduated from Grafton High School and junior business college. He has served three years in the United States Air Force and is employed as bookkeeper for Lone Star Co., Amarillo.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Felix Lanham, bridegroom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Watts, Dottie, Dottie, Donna and Debra of

Miss Betty Tom Riddle

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Betty Tom Riddle to Howard E. Graham, son of Mrs. B. N. Graham of Forwell and the late Mr. Graham, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Riddle of Altus, Okla. Wedding vows will be solemnized on Aug. 6 in the chapel of First Methodist Church, Pampa.

Dry or chapped lips present a beauty problem anytime, but during summer they become even more annoying and uncomfortable. In the morning, before applying lipstick, apply a night cream to your lips and wipe off with a damp-dry sponge.

Miss Montgomery Says Vows With Jim Jackson

Wedding vows for Miss Martha Ann Montgomery and James L. Jackson were solemnized in a ceremony performed by the Rev. C. B. Melton, pastor First Methodist Church, Shamrock, on Sunday July 3 at nine o'clock.

Double-ring vows were repeated in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Claude Montgomery in Shamrock. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jackson of Houston.

The nuptial scene was formed with an improvised altar centered with an arrangement of white stock and greenery flanked with two seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers.

For the benediction, the couple knelt on a white satin prayer bench centered in front of the altar.

Mrs. Cabot Brannon of Shamrock, at the organ, played a prelude of nuptial selections and served as accompanist for Mrs. Lyle Holmes, also of Shamrock, as she sang, "I Love You Truly," and at the conclusion of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with the her mother and I avowal, the bride was gowned in an informal ballerina-length princess style Antique Silk taffeta designed with a low neckline outlined with re-embroidered French Alencon lace, and an Empire bodice which flowed into a back drape. Her shoulder-length Veil of French Illusion was held secure to a cap of French lace and seed pearls.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by lily-of-the-valley show-ers arranged atop the bride's white Rainbow Bible.

Her only jewelry was a pearl-drop necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. For "something old and borrowed", she carried a white lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Weems.

ATTENDANTS

ed as matron of honor, wearing an ice-blue silk organza princess style dress with molded Chantilly lace bodice styled with a scoop neckline. A blue flower half-hat with nose veil complemented her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations arranged with meline and satin streamers.

Joe M. Jackson of Big Spring, brother of bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Andrew McColpin of Fort Worth, bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Bill J. Montgomery of Amarillo, bride's brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Montgomery chose a lime-lace sheath with white accessories. The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Weems, wore a Royal Blue crepe dress with black accessories. Mrs. Jackson, bridegroom's mother, selected green print on beige silk with beige accessories. Their corsages were fashioned from white feathered carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception for wedding guests was held in the bride's home immediately following the exchange of vows. The bride's table reflected her chosen color of blue and white with a Maderia and lace covered table appointed with silver and crystal. A three-tiered wedding cake completed the service.

Mrs. Andrew McColpin of Fort Worth, bridegroom's sister, presided at the coffee service with Mrs. Joe M. Jackson of Big Spring, bridegroom's sister-in-law serving from the tiered cake. Mrs. Willard Haral of Shamrock was guest registrar. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. C. L. Reairn and Mrs. Seibert Worley, both of Shamrock.

During the reception of Mrs. Brannon provided background music.

For a wedding trip to Bishop's Lodge, Santa Fe, N.M., the bride traveled in a mist-gray silk jacket dress accented with white collar trimmed with black velvet band and black patent accessories. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, they will make their home at 503 E. 15.

Mrs. Jackson was graduated from West Texas State College with BS and MBA degrees. For the past five years, she has been a business teacher in Pampa Senior High School. Mr. Jackson was graduated with a BS degree in chemical engineering from Rice Institute in Houston; is employed by Celanese Corporation of America and has been located in Pampa for the past two years.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jackson, bridegroom's parents in the dining room of the Rambler Restaurant with table appointments in the bride's chosen colors of blue and white carnations.

Among the pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bride was a miscellaneous bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. H. R. Thompson, 100 W. Nicki, with Mmes. H. R. Thompson, J. L. Holmes, J. E. Torvie and G. M. Walls as hostesses. Approximately 60 guests attended.

Mmes. J. M. Tindall, H. C. Gordon, Louis Hill, Roy Tuck, Stuart Tisdal, J. F. Shortt, Clyde Whittle, J. R. Benson, E. C. Hofmann, Roy Berten, C. T. Palmer, C. L. Reavis were hostesses for a wedding shower given in Shamrock in the home of Mrs. Tindall. Approximately 100 guests attended.

An afternoon tea was given in the home of Mrs. Seibert Worley in Shamrock with Mmes. Seibert Worley, Winfred Lewis, Miss Connie Lewis as hostess and attended by 75 guests.

Mrs. Willard Haral and Mrs. Earl Hamill were hostess for a kitchen shower in Shamrock given in the home of Mrs. Haral and attended by ten guests.

Beta Delta Hostess For Area Workshop

Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society was hostess to an area workshop on Thursday in The Coronado Inn.
Guests were greeted in the lobby of the Inn and given instructions by Mrs. G. M. Wall. Registration and luncheon tickets were handled by Mrs. Sam Irwin, Mrs. Perry Gaut, Mrs. Aubrey Jones, Miss Oleta Marlin, and Miss Ila Pool.
Coffee and rolls were served from a table appointed with large white daisies on a yellow cloth. Mrs. L. B. Penick was chairman of the coffee assisted by Meses. Robert Sanford, McHenry Lane, R. E. Batson, G. L. Pounds and Otto Mangold. Mrs. J. E. Gibson, Jr., presided at the copper coffee service.
Greetings and introductions of the chapters present were given by Miss Zady Belle Walker, state constitution chairman.
Mrs. Roy Sullivan, state music chairman of Alpha State and Chairman of all arrangements for the workshop, led the group in get-acquainted songs accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Gunn, state accompanist.
"The Challenge Ahead", was the title of the address given by Mrs.

Kenneth Walters. In her speech, Mrs. Walters said, "As the world shrinks and we are brought in closer contact with other people, our problems become more complex. Understanding of our fellow men is imperative if human distances are to decrease. The development of understanding is one of the major challenges of our time. Teachers hold at least some of the keys to the development of better human relations."
She challenged the group to produce accomplishments and above all individual growth, both professionally and personally.
Quoting Miss Hiller, international president, Mrs. Walters said "In this time of uncertainty let us not forget that teachers are surgeons of the spirit and the conscience of civilization."
The speaker's concluding thoughts challenged DKG members to make the very best use of opportunity and to make classrooms next year a place where the emotional climate would be the very best one for students.
After Mrs. Walters' talk, the group divided into buzz sessions and each person was given new insight into their future offices and assignments.

Group I Presidents and Treasurers workshop was conducted by Mrs. Velma Weaver, Clarendon, and Mrs. Sam Irwin, Pampa.
Group II Committees on Program, Music, Publicity, and Publications was led by Miss Claude Everly, White Deer, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Pampa, and Miss Carmen Ulm, Amarillo.
Group III Committees on Selective Recruitment, Teacher Welfare and Morale, Scholarships, and Ceremonials had as their leader Miss Mildred Hulsey, Tulia.
Group IV Committees on Membership, Constitution, and Legislation met with Mrs. Eloise McDougal, Hereford, Miss Zady Belle Walker, Memphis, and Miss Lucille Hughes, Dumas, in charge.
Group V Committees on Intercultural Relations, Community Service, Pioneer Women and Research. This group was given direction by Miss Jewel Foster, Dumas, Mrs. Faun Welker, Dimmitt and Mrs. Lorene Waller, Sunray.
Luncheon was served in the West

Wooten-Fisher Say Marriage Vows

In a double-ring ceremony performed June 24 in Barrett Baptist Church, Miss Juanita Wooten, daughter of Mrs. Katie Wooten of Lefors and the late Roy Wooten became the bride of Charles Glen Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fisher of Lindale.
The Rev. Gene Grace, pastor, officiated for the ceremony.
For her wedding, the bride chose a Baby Blue brocade taffeta designed along princess lines with a v-neckline and cap sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of white tulle illusion extended from a floral headpiece trimmed with seed pearls. White slippers and a single strand of pearls complemented her dress. She carried a bridal bouquet of blue and white carnations atop a white Bible.
Miss Georgie Jean Wooten, bride's sister, attended as maid of honor wearing a blue nylon over taffeta dress and carried a white split carnations bouquet.
Herman Armstrong, bridegroom's uncle, attended as best man.
Wedding music was provided by Mrs. M. Forrest.
The bride's mother chose a blue floral dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding.
The parents of the bridegroom were unable to attend the ceremony.
Mrs. Fisher was graduated in 1960 from Lefors High School and is employed by Culberson Chevrolet Co. in Pampa. Mr. Fisher attended Pampa High School; has served four years in the United States Air Force; and is employed by E. H. Schmidt Associates.
Following a brief wedding trip, the couple are now making their home in the Clay Apartments.

Ice Cream Social Planned By Class

New officers of the Builders Sunday School Class of First Christian Church will be honored with an ice cream social Tuesday 7 p.m. on the church lawn.
New officers to serve for a six-months term are R. E. Mitchell, president; B. G. Gordon, vice president; Mrs. Earl Cloud as secretary-treasurer. Also to be honored are the class teachers, Mrs. R. A. Mack and C. E. Stowell, assistant teacher.
For the next six months, the class will be studying the messages of four prophets, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah and Micah. Included in the class activities are two projects, remembering shut-ins with baskets of food at Thanksgiving and Christ-

Rodeo Entry Talked By B&PW Board

At the Business and Professional Women's Club executive board luncheon held Tuesday in City Club Room, plans were discussed for an entry in the Top of Texas Rodeo parade, which will be held during Rodeo Week, Aug. 2-6.
The business discussed at the meeting was the first to come under the direction of the newly installed board with Mrs. Jewel Dean Lewis, presiding, as president.
It was announced that all money collected from the sale of rodeo decorations are to be turned into the office of Mrs. Elsie Gee in the City Hall by July 16.
Plans were also announced for a picnic dinner to be held July 26 in the home of Mrs. W. A. York, 1236 Hamilton, at which time Secret Pals will be revealed.
All executive officers and committee chairman are asked to meet Tuesday 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mack Harmon, 2332 N. Russell, to make plans for the 1960-61 year book.
Good grooming pays off in any career. A clear, well- scrubbed skin, shining hair, fresh neat clothes, well-manicured nails — these are valuable assets in any job.

"From 3 to 13 My Dishes Get Clean.. Automatically-" says Mrs. Don Winter, 1401 W. Beaver, Guymon, Okla.

Here's an enthusiastic homemaker who fully utilizes her electric dishwasher, whether it's just the family three for breakfast or a friendly dinner group of thirteen. In either situation, Mrs. Winter merely "pushes the button" for sanitary, clean dishes. Incidentally, all the dishes used by the thirteen people in the actual dinner party pictured easily went into Mrs. Winter's electric dishwasher with plenty of room for proper washing.

"OUR ELECTRIC BILL IS THE BIGGEST BARGAIN WE HAVE"

It's the man of the house who usually pays the bills and Mr. Winter is no exception. Despite unlimited use of electric service in the Winter home, Mr. Winter is happy with the low cost of his electric service. No wonder he says, "Our electric bill is the biggest bargain we have."

BEGINNING OF WISDOM

by Janet Henry

Back when our first-born was half a year old
We thought we were experts in parenthood's fold.
We knew all the angles, and what to expect.
We had all the answers, dogmatic, direct.

Soon Number Five will appear on the scene,
And, as we look back on the years in between,
And think of the counsel we gave with such goll,
We humbly admit we know nothing at all!

Dear Abby

By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a pen pal in Holland. We have been writing to each other for three years. I enjoyed learning about his way of life and his country and he enjoyed learning about mine.

I am engaged to a man who doesn't approve of my having this pen pal after we are married. He doesn't give any reason except that he just doesn't want me writing to another man.

I think his objections are silly because I have never met this pen pal and probably never will.

Should I do as my future husband says and give up my pen pal or should I refuse?

DEAR PEN PAL: Whether your future husband is "silly" in his objections is beside the point. Good marriages are made of little sacrifices for the sake of harmony. So give up this pen pal in Holland if it will get you in Dutch.

DEAR ABBY: For 17 years I have lived with this terrible secret. My mother died when I was born and I was carted around from relative to relative. Nobody wanted me. Nobody loved me. When I grew to womanhood I gave myself to many men. I mistook their desire for love.

Finally I met a good man who really loved me. I never told him about my past. He married me and gave me a good name. We had four children. Our first baby was born terribly deformed. I knew it was God's way of punishing me for my past sins. Should I confess to my wonderful husband, who treats me like a queen, that I know this reason for our crippled child?

DEAR WIFE: God does not "punish" mothers by sending them imperfect children. Sainly mothers frequently bear "deformed" babies, and many perfect babies are born of wicked mothers. Continue to live right, forget the past and direct your confessions to the Lord.

DEAR ABBY: People are always talking about the indecent bathing suits women wear. When are they going to say something about the bathing trunks the MEN are wearing? We have seen some of the most revolting sights at the beach this summer.

A brief, skin-tight bathing suit is just as disgusting on a man as it is on a woman.

TWO DISGUSTED TEEN-AGERS
DEAR TEEN-AGERS: And to your very intelligent observation, I can only add, "Amen."

CONFIDENTIAL TO LUKE
WARM: You can BUY a dishwasher, if that's all you want. Why MARRY one?

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

If you're going abroad, why not have a color passport photo made of your smiling face (now that smiling and color are both allowed for passport pictures). You'll enjoy having a happier and prettier face peeping out of a passport.

Friendship Needle Meets For Sewing

GROOM (Spl)—Friendship Needle Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Minnie Eschle. Needlework and conversation comprised the afternoon's entertainment.

Mrs. Bertha Jones was welcomed as a new member.

It was announced that this meeting will be the last for the summer; the next regular meeting will be Sept. 8 with Mrs. Margy Emery as hostess.

Refreshments were served to two guests, Phoebe Shockley and Mrs. Anna Lou Cline and son, Kirk.
