Burdick Closes Gap On Davis

North Dakota's special senatorial election - weathervane to farm campaign year.

Burdick fought back from an 11,000-vote deficit in early returns and turned the closely watched race into a neck-and-neck contest on a steady surge of votes from slow-reporting rural areas. With 1,586 of 2,310 precincts reporting, Davis had 81,514 votes and Burdick 78,729. Democrats predicted that Bur-

Olympic Trials Slated Shotput Scrap

Looms Heavy SALT LAKE CITY, Ûtah (UPI) Blondish, bespectacled Ralph . Maughan says the year's big heavyweight fight will be staged at Stanford (Calif.) University's stadium this weekend when all four world record breakers in the shotput battle it out for the three places on the United States Olympic team.

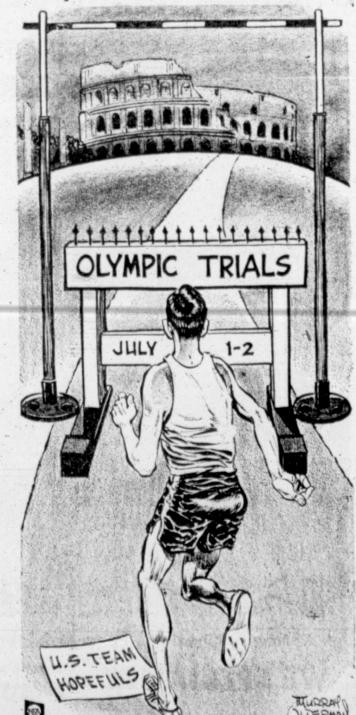

Big Ralph, track and field coach at Utah State University in nearby Logan, Utah, says the shotput competition will be so terrific that his own L. Jay Silvester has conceded the event to the "big four" and will concentrate on the discus throw, his best event.

The four giants are: Perry O'Brien of Santa Monica, Calif., two-time Olympic champion who hopes to be the first to win three Olympic shotput titles; Army Lt. Bill Nieder, formerly of Kansas, who has a new world record of 65 feet seven inches; Dallas Long, University of Southern California sophomore from Phoenix, Ariz., the NCAA champion and record holder, and Dave Davis of Los Angeles, who has beaten the others on occasion. All four have done 63 feet 5 in ches or better this spring.

Coach Maughan, in town for to night's Gene Fullmer - Carmen Basilio fight, says the competition among the big quartet for the three shotputting tickets to the Rome Olympics is so torrid that Messrs. O'Brien, Nieder, Long and Davis can hardly be regarded as "friendly rivals."

Maughan, a former National AAU champion thrower of the hammer and javelin, believes that discus-thrower Silvester - who was graduated from Utah State last year and now is a lieutenant in the Army at Ft. Meade, Md., has made a wise choice in passring up the shotput tryouts a

NEW YORK - It is always the part of tact never to inquire when suddenly you run into an old friend of dubious pursuits after not having seen him for a little better than two years. It was this way when I ran into Marble Eyes on Sixth Avenue, late the other affernoon. I had not seen this gravel-voiced charmer in 27 months by exact count and I frankly do not think he has been in Florida or Las Vegas all that time.

"Hozzit?" said Marble Eyes, with his usual verbosity. "You holding?"

"Holding, but not big,4" I said. "I'm a salary stiff, Marble Eyes. You know that. What salary stiff ever holds big? You holding?" "I managed a small score lately." said Marble Eyes, dropping his gaze in becoming modes-"Nothing to talk about." "I didn't intend to," I said. "What's new?"

"I was out of town a little while," he said, "so it figures for me to ask the questions. They tell me there are very big changes on Park Avenue. Is right?" Very big," I said solemnly.

"All the way from Grand Central to 57th they have chased out the apartment kooks and are running up these new all-glass jobs with offices in them. Very attractive."

"That's what they tell me." said Marble Eyes, with all the air of a man who has just heard the most intimate details of how to make a space ship. "Real something?"

"Why don't you go look. It's just over there three blocks." 'Who goes to Park Avenue' Park Avenue is for guys with brief cases in their hands or dolls with suitcases under their eyes I have not put a foot on Park Avenue in like 22 years, I had occasion to call on a gentleman about a little matter that time. He paid.

Third Avenue also is changing," I said, "Expensive apartment houses. All the old dumps are coming down."

"Third Avenue," he muttered to himself. "I would not have dreamed it. But, tell me, didn't Eggtie, Harry live over that way the heck and gone to Third Avenue? To tell you the truth, you know me: I never get East of Sixth or South of 42nd. I'm sort of attached to our small area."

I assured him that Eggue Harry did live on Third Avenue at one time, but now was holed up in a tiny hotel on 40th Street eking things out until his minor

'That sounds like a fair deal.' Marble Eves mused. "No chance. no gain, I always say, So Harry has 20 G's in his poke? I should call on him. In fact, Harry has a sort of ethical problem going for him with me. I was able. just before leaving town, to use my good offices in saving him from a hard fall. He asked for my services in this little matter and, happily, I was free to help him. This puts him on my book, since up to now I have not had a gesture of thanks from him. Ingrates disturb me and if put against the wall I don't honestly think Harry would be an ingrate. He maybe has not been told I am back in town. Fortieth Street, you say?: I know the flea bag he's in.
