

Leftists Mob Hagerty In Protest Against Ike Visit

By CHARLES R. SMITH
United Press International

TOKYO (UPI)—Thousands of screaming, fanatical leftists mobbed Presidential Secretary James C. Hagerty today in a violent protest against President Eisenhower's forthcoming visit, but Hagerty said the trip would be carried out as planned.

The mobs trapped Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens in a limousine for 70 minutes until they were rescued by a Marine helicopter. The mobs stoned the car and helicopter, broke windows and slashed the car's tires but did not hurt the Americans.

The frenzied mob of 5,000 overwhelmed the 2,000 police who rushed to the scene. An additional 15,000 demonstrators milled outside the airport trying to get to Hagerty, and additional thousands besieged the heavily guarded U.S. embassy.

Fighting broke out between police and the mob and between black-shirted rightists and the extreme leftwing students who led the demonstrations. The leftists sang the Communist "Internationale" as they battered Hagerty's car and tried to turn it over.

Though Hagerty said the Eisenhower visit would not be called off it was clear there would be many changes. It appeared almost certain Eisenhower would use a helicopter to avoid airport mobs when he arrives June 19.

The same group of demonstrators announced they were planning an even more massive demonstration against Eisenhower by perhaps 250,000 persons.

There was no estimate of the number injured as police clubbed students with heavy truncheons and the demonstrators fought back with bamboo sticks and stones, some of which damaged the helicopter. I saw one youth bashed in the face as he cursed Eisenhower.

He fled, his glasses broken and blood streaming down his face. The mob seized the policeman and beat and stomped him until he was rescued. Rocks hit me on the shoulder and a police truncheon whistled past my ear.

The mob — made up of members of the Fanatical Zengakuren students group, the giant Sohyo labor union confederation and Socialists — announced their move in advance. But police were helpless.

Hagerty and MacArthur sat in the car puffing cigarettes while the mob shrieked outside and cursed the United States and eight helicopters circled overhead until at last one piloted by Marine Maj. Don Foss of Sioux Falls, S.C., a cousin of Marine air hero and former South Dakota Gov. Joe Foss, made a daring landing nearby.

Newsmen later asked what would happen if the President found himself in the same situation Hagerty faced today.

"I don't think Japan would permit the President to be caught in a similar bind as we were caught in today," the press secretary said.

Was not this a risky gamble? "I would not think so," Hagerty said. He's a guest and will be a guest of Japan and I would assume that security measures for protection of the President would be adequate.

"We are sure that the demonstration in no way reflects the feeling and attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom the American people have the greatest feeling of friendship."

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi repeated his assurances that Eisenhower would be protected from mob violence. Similar assurances came from Foreign Minister (See LEFTISTS, Page 2)

Nixon Returns Rock's Salvo In Challenge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon rejected himself before the Republican Party today as a presidential candidate who knows he has the votes to win.

Supporters of the vice president said his reply to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's biting attack on him accomplished these results:

—Put the late running Rockefeller on the defensive by inviting him to engage in a television debate which Rockefeller promptly declined.

—Injected some badly needed, national convention, which had been threatening to become one of the duller affairs in modern political history.

—Demonstrated again that Nixon is a master of the "free-for-all" political exchange.

—Nixon delivered his return fire at a news conference in Camden, N. J., taking issue with Rockefeller point by point on such issues as the defense budget, aid to education and labor management matters.

—President Eisenhower and other Republican leaders in Washington rallied behind the vice president in his counter attack against Rockefeller's criticism of administration policies.

—GOP Senate and House leaders who attended a White House conference Thursday reported that Eisenhower joined them in challenging the New York governor's assertion that the nation's defenses are inadequate.

—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said he could find "no difference" between Rockefeller's approach to current issues and that espoused by the Democratic presidential candidates.

—The latest upheaval among the Republicans brought little comment from the Democrats. But former President Harry S. Truman told reporters in New York, "The more the Republicans quarrel the better satisfied I am."

He had been interviewed earlier Wednesday by the board of the Top of Texas Foundation Inc. All officers, trustees and members of the advisory committee of the Foundation were re-elected at the same meeting.

Officers are: President, Arthur M. Teed; vice president, Dr. M. C. Overton; secretary, Mrs. Nina Spoonmore; and treasurer, James A. McClane.

U.S. Getting Tired Of Cuban Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States sent a new protest to Cuba today condemning "continued dissemination of baseless charges" against this country.

The note "strongly objected" to implications by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro that the United States had something to do with the explosion of a French munitions ship in Havana harbor March 4.

It complained that Cuba has distributed to all OAS delegations here a pamphlet containing Castro's charges on the ship explosion incident.

Last Saturday a sharply worded U.S. note accused Castro's government of a "campaign of slander" against the United States.

Seek To Prevent Diplomatic Split

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion has appealed directly to Argentine President Arturo Frondizi in an effort to avert a diplomatic split over the Adolf Eichmann case, informed sources said today.

The sources said Ben-Gurion sent Frondizi a cable asking for understanding of Israel's position on the man blamed for the murder of six million Jews during the Hitler regime.

Argentina rejected an earlier Israeli explanation that Israeli "volunteers" contacted Eichmann who was living under an assumed name in Buenos Aires, and that the former Nazi S.S. colonel voluntarily accompanied them to Israel.

It demanded his return by the end of this week. It said it would take the case to the United Nations if Israel failed to comply.

In Buenos Aires, a government source said no further action will be taken until Foreign (See SEEK TO, Page 2)

Bullets Can't Down Errant Navy Balloon

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Navy's runaway research balloon drifted over the Pacific today although 50 rounds of cannon fire was sent into it by a fighter jet which sought to bring it down.

The balloon 40 stories tall, was 250 miles off shore at an altitude of 70,000 feet. It was drifting north and gave no indication when it would descend to the sea.

The balloon was carrying valuable scientific data gathered since its launching Sunday at Glynn Naval Air Station at Brunswick, Ga. It had been expected to go down Tuesday near Houston, Tex.

Four Crusader jet pilots zoomed up to the huge helium-filled balloon late Thursday and tried to bring it down as it moved out over the ocean.

Lt. Fred D. Winton of Laurel, Miss., blasted the balloon with 50 rounds from his 20-millimeter cannon, but the comparatively tiny cannon holes appeared to have no effect on the big balloon.

Twister Strikes Amarillo AF Base

No Injuries During Rain, Hail Storm

By United Press International

A vicious storm packing a small twister, 70 mph winds, two inch hailstones and more than 6 inches of rain struck the Amarillo vicinity Thursday night, collapsing walls of Amarillo Air Force Base non-commissioned officers club and causing other damage.

No injuries were reported. The Texas Highway Patrol estimated 250 cars were hit by high water around Amarillo. Early today water covered U. S. 80 and 66 between Amarillo and the base.

Fields were inundated and farmers reported much cotton was damaged.

Most streets in East Amarillo were still under water today and one underpass was still flooded. Two cars that ran into water seven feet deep that was flowing under an underpass on U. S. 66 remained submerged.

Gen. Charles Pottlinger, Amarillo Air Force Base commander, said he was looking out of a mess hall window when he saw a funnel hit the NCO Club, tear the second story from the building, and toss two cars from a nearby parking lot on their sides.

Six airplanes were damaged at the base, including two C-47 and two C-54 transports. Damage was light when hailstones punched holes in their control surfaces.

A flight of B-52 strategic jet bombers took off from the base just before the storm hit. One C-47 transport en route to Amarillo had to land at Plainview to escape the storm.

Lockheed, Douglas May Be Struck By Machinists Union

By United Press International

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Machinists Union strike against Convair today threatened to spread to two more large aircraft-missile making firms, Douglas and Lockheed.

An attempt to head off Lockheed's involvement in the growing labor unrest with International Association of Machinists members caused costly, to both sides, to schedule renewed negotiations today in San Francisco.

Lockheed was reported ready to make a new offer after talks between the groups had broken down Wednesday. The union had threatened to give Lockheed's space and missile division plants formal five-day notice today of contract termination.

Such notification would allow the IAM's estimated 10,000 members, employed mainly at Lockheed plants at Sunnyvale and Van Nuys, Calif., to go on strike any time after Tuesday. Membership meetings of Lockheed workers were scheduled for this weekend to take a strike vote.

The 4,000 IAM members employed at Douglas Santa Monica, Calif., plant Thursday authorized a strike by a 96 per cent majority. The union negotiating committee did not set a strike date.

Machinists remained off the job at Convair Atlas installations at four key missile bases across the country. The union also was striking against Convair plants here and in Pomona, Calif., where the Atlas is made.

Lockheed makes the Polaris missile and missiles for the Samos, Midas and Discoverer projects. Douglas makes the "workhorse" Thor, an intermediate range ballistic missile.

On With The Show, Broadwayites Decide

By United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The curtains are going up again on Broadway.

Actors and producers late Thursday night approved a contract agreement reached earlier in the day by representatives, thus ending an eight day Broadway blackout—the first in 41 years.

Actually, the blackout will continue through the weekend. But all 19 shows, returning of the 22 plays and musicals that were playing when the mass shutdown occurred June 2 are expected to be back in business by Monday night.

Because of the monetary gains by the union in the settlement, a further increase in ticket prices—already at an all time high—was regarded as likely. But producers said they would try to hold the line on prices.

Spokesmen for both Actors Equity, which represents 11,000 performers, and the League of New York Theaters, theater owners and managers, hailed the act-ment as a victory.

Regardless, the theater shutdown was costly, to both sides. The loss to producers was estimated at one million dollars in ticket sales. And actors lost $269,225 in salaries.

The bitterness and acrimony engendered by the shutdown gave way to exhilaration and exultation Thursday night as performers and producers gathered separately to vote on the contract agreement.

Physicians at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital said it may be weeks or even months before they will be able to determine if the operation, believed to be the first father-son transplant, was a success.

In the balance hangs the life of 15-year-old Robert Reck of Dayton, Ohio, who suffers from nephritis, a deadly kidney disease.

His only hope is that the kidney donated by his father, police Sgt. Virgil Reck, 43, will function successfully.

Hospital officials said the boy remained in critical condition today while his father was listed as satisfactory. The donor's part in the kidney transplant operation has become fairly routine.

A total of 20 surgeons, in two 10-member teams, worked more than five hours Thursday to complete the delicate surgery.

The father and son were in adjoining operating rooms. The mother, Mrs. Vera Reck, waited nervously in a nearby room.

The transplant in itself was successful. Whether the transferred kidney will "take" is another question, doctors explained.

The body tends to reject substances not grown within itself. In this case the new kidney. This tendency is greatly reduced when doctors deal with identical twins and to some extent in the cases of fraternal twins.

Should the transplant take effect, young Reck would still have to undergo further surgery for the removal of his diseased kidneys. The boy has been at the hospital since April 21 and recently was placed in a sterile room to reduce the danger of infection.

The long delay between the admission and the actual operation was to provide time for various tests and to improve the youth's general health.

To finance the intricate surgery, Reck sold his home, his automobile and took part time jobs in addition to his regular police duties. Of the transplant, he said, "After all it's the only thing that will help the boy and that's what I came up here for."

In a dozen kidney transplants between identical twins here, nine have been successful. One transplant between fraternal twins here was successful. Using techniques pioneered at Peter Bent surgeons in a few other hospitals have performed successful transplants on three occasions.

Father Sacrifices Kidney So Doomed Son Might Survive

BOSTON (UPI)—A father who sacrificed many of his possessions and a precious kidney to save his son from certain death began the longest wait of his life today.

LEFTISTS

(Continued From Page 1) Ister Aichiro Fujiyama who called today's events "the greatest disgrace that can happen to this country." with the leftists who have brought near chaos to Japan, started almost as soon as the wheels of his plane touched down at International Airport. He was under siege before he ever got off the airport grounds. When he finally reached downtown Tokyo he ran into another mob of 2,000 demonstrators at the U.S. embassy. Police had to clear a way so he could be whisked in the back gate.

The leftists were waiting for Hagerty when he arrived at 3:35 p.m. Police already had broken up two brief but bloody battles between rightists and leftists on the airport grounds. Ambassador MacArthur greeted the White House press secretary hurriedly and then police hustled both men to the waiting limousine along with Presidential Appoint-ment Secretary Thomas E. Stephens.

They were so anxious to get Hagerty safely through the crowd they nearly pushed him off his feet several times. As the limousine moved toward the airport gate a woman ran up with an interpreter shouting "Petition, petition." Police grabbed them both and arrested them. But as if on signal, a mob started converging in front of the car before it got to the airport gate and in a moment it was surrounded and could not move. The mob quickly swelled to 2,000—far more than the police on hand. The demonstrators banged on the hood and fenders of the limousine with sticks and their fists. They crawled over it and jumped on the top and the hood. They smashed windows.

All the while they hurled epithets insulting Eisenhower and shouted "Go home Hagerty. Yankee go home." For a time it appeared they would haul Hagerty, MacArthur and Stephens out of the car but they made no actual move to do so. U. S. Secret Service men stood with their backs to the car and were not molested. News-men walked freely through the mob. Overhead night helicopters circled at 100 feet of the heads of the demonstrators in a futile attempt to scare them away. Some demonstrators vainly threw rocks at the helicopters.

For 70 minutes the three men sat in the car, quietly talking to each other and appearing non-chalant. But the strain told on their faces. Hagerty smoked several cigarettes and at one point even took photographs of the swirling mob through the car windows. Finally 2,000 police reinforcements started moving in, swinging their clubs left and right. They fought their way to the car in a series of pitched battles and formed a human protective wall around it. Suddenly the air was filled with a shower of stones from the mob. The missiles rained on the car, on police and reporters. Several students screaming frantically hurried themselves at the police. One by one they were hurled or beaten back.

Prince Philip was the honored guest and Rockefeller was busy applauding his entrance with the vice president. There was no politicking in the two GOP leaders' speeches. Nixon, in fact, declared that "as Americans there is great unity among all of us regardless of party considerations." When the speechmaking ended, Nixon and Prince Philip went off to tour the vast trade fair. The governor joined the rear of the party, some distance from Nixon. At one point Rockefeller got separated from the official party for half an hour. Aides finally rescued him and the three VIPs assembled for a bit of a sit at a mockup of an English pub.

Dutch Sailors Face Murder Indictment

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Authorities said today that two Dutch sailors may have to spend two weeks in jail before a grand jury decides whether to indict them on a charge of beating and kicking a schoolteacher to death on the Brownsville waterfront.

Rodeo Celebration Set in Canadian

CANADIAN (Spl) — The annual Canadian Fourth of July rodeo celebration will be held for four days this year, starting with a parade on July 1 at 11 o'clock.

As announced by Rev. Edward Cashman, C.M., pastor of St. Vincent's, the summer school will be held in the Holy Soul's school building on E. Browning from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Ministers: Paul Klein, Albert Kemp, Carl Williams, R. M. Barrett, Miss Kay Layne will assist in presenting a planned program of studies, crafts, and recreation, under the direction of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine chairmanship of St. Vincent's Parish Council of Catholic Women.

The sailors are William H. Hoogerdoorn, 21, of Capella, and Alphonsus van Dyk, 23, of Tilburg, Holland. Their alleged victim was Salvador M. Loya, 25, former trustee of Texas Southern College.

"The fellow made an offer that made us so mad I'm not sure exactly what happened," Hoogerdoorn said.

Following the parade two performances of the Kid Pony Show will be held; one show to be held Friday afternoon and one Friday night at the rodeo grounds.

The fifth annual Quarter Horse show is scheduled for Saturday at the grounds. The rodeo will be held Saturday night, Sunday afternoon and the last performance on the afternoon of the fourth.

Other features of the celebration will be the annual Old Timers Reunion; dances on July 1, 2, and 4; and fireworks display on the night of the fourth.

The various activities are being directed by the Canadian Roping Club and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Clashes between leftists and rightists would be much harder to control than one-sided demonstrations.

Bin Akao, leader of the "Great Japan Patriotic Party" and an admirer of Hitler, said he would mobilize 2,000 members to greet the President and other tough rightist groups promised to help.

"I want to assure Eisenhower that the patriotic Japanese will fight to the death in order to protect the great leader," he said.

They were charged Thursday with murder in the court of Justice of the Peace D. J. Lerna. He set their bond at $10,000 each. They failed to make it and their ship, the S.S. Ablasserdyk, sailed without them.

Hoogerdoorn and Van Dyk must have their case considered by the grand jury, because it is a capital offense. The grand jury may be empaneled in about two weeks.

Daniel Predicts Bigger Growth

AUSTIN (UPI) — "Texas is in for fabulous growth during this decade of the 1960's," Gov. Price Daniel said today in a television appraisal of Texas' economic future.

Akao, who caused an incident on the arrival of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer by waving a swastika flag, did not say how his forces hoped to deal with the overwhelming numbers of leftists.

The fanatical Zengakuren student organization has threatened to call out 60,000 demonstrators at the airport.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the strongest reasons for expecting higher stock prices over the intermediate and longer terms is the ever-increasing demand for common stocks by institutions, mutual funds and individuals, according to the Fitch Survey.

institutional portfolios invested partly in common stocks that sixteen years ago were not allowed to purchase them, or bought them in small quantities.

Fitch also points out that individual owners have grown from about 6 million in number to well over double that amount now.

On the other hand, it says, new offerings of common stocks have been insufficient to meet this demand as opposed to an oversupply in the bond market.

Singer Manufacturing appears to have begun the formation of a consolidation pattern during which it will have to digest recent gains, in the opinion of Bache & Co. It's likely that this period of irregularity will continue during the next week or two, the firm says.

RUTH MILLETT

Mark Twain once said his wife one of the finest compliments a man can pay a woman. After her death he said of her:

"She was slender and beautiful and girlish—and she was both girl and woman. She remained both girl and woman to the last day of her life."

It is the ability to be both girl and woman at the same time that enables a wife to keep a husband in love with her through the years. And yet all too many wives lose the quality of girlishness as soon as they settle down to being homemakers, mothers and pillars of the community.

What are the qualities a man considers "girlish" and hopes his wife will never lose?

One is a sense of fun that brings forth laughter and gaiety and a happy-hearted attitude toward living. It's what keeps a woman from becoming grim.

Another "girlish" quality is enthusiasm—the ability to get excited over small pleasures. This kind of youthful enthusiasm not only brightens the world for the woman who has it but for her family as well.

Still another of the girlish qualities is the kind of femininity that enjoys leaning just a little on a man's strength and prevents a woman from ever feeling that she has to prove that she is just as smart as any man.

Another girlish quality is the desire to please—rather than to impress. Most women that we say are charming have this quality in abundance.

It is a shame for a woman to ever lose her girlishness—even if she lives to be a very old lady. For girlishness gives a woman sparkle, a warmth and gaiety that make men comfortable and happy in her presence.

You can see women of 80 who still have a girlish quality. And you can see women of 30 who have completely lost it. Girlishness isn't a matter of age—but of attitude.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is a wife supposed to do when her husband brings home unexpected company for dinner? He has done this to me several times and I get so mad at him I could break every dish in the place. There are just the two of us and sometimes I have planned a very simple pick-up supper or just left-overs.

"Don't fuss," he tells me (right in front of them). "They'll eat anything you have." Can you tell me how to handle this awkward situation?

NOT PREPARED: In this enlightened age of the freezer and canned goodies there is no reason for a woman to be caught with her cupboard bare. Keep something on hand for just such occasions. And if you are too rattled to start cooking or thawing—just start dressing and let hubby take every one out to dine. (That'll cure him.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a married man for ten years. If his wife hasn't made him happy in the thirty years she has had him, why doesn't she step aside and give someone else a chance? She knows about this affair. If I were in her place, I would never stand for it, but she has no pride.

Sometimes the "other woman" in the triangle is right. I believe I am. Why not have TWO happy people instead of THREE unhappy ones? I am tired of the few hours we have to be content with every week.

Print this. It may help the wife see things as they are.

THE OTHER WOMAN: DEAR-OTHER WOMAN: There are many reasons why a wife refuses to "step aside and give someone else a chance". First, she has respect for her marriage vow. Then, there could also be children and, finally, there is the ever lasting hope that her husband will wake up and live right! When the flame dies (and it will!) the wife will have a husband in her old age. What will you have besides a guilty conscience and an aged chassis that no man wants?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to solve my problem without causing family trouble.

I have relatives who call my doctor and ask him questions about my condition. They know more about me than I know. I am over 21 and am not in critical condition. I am not financially obligated to them and I wouldn't think of calling their doctors and asking embarrassing questions. What does a refined woman do in a case like this?

CONVALESCING: A doctor does not give out information that could be embarrassing to his patient, so leave it in his able hands and don't worry.

DEAR ABBY: Why does a woman say she's been "shopping" when she hasn't bought anything?

ELMER: Why does a man say he's been "fishing" when he hasn't caught anything?

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book "Dear Teen-ager", is on sale at all book stores.

Social Workers Find Delinquency Develops In Multi-Problem Homes

Cora Kasius

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — To lessen juvenile delinquency, reform the parents involved, some social workers now theorize.

The new targets generally are easy to spot. Most juvenile delinquency develops in households of multi-problem families plagued by almost every hardship in the book, Cora Kasius says.

Miss Kasius, of New York, is a social worker authority of Family Services Assn. of America. She suggests several reasons why the reform movement is now aimed at the parents instead of the children.

Combating juvenile delinquents themselves has failed because social workers couldn't be full-time substitutes for the parents she says. So now they are trying to go directly into the home itself and they often find the parents:

1. Living in city slums or occasionally, in rundown village outskirts under unsanitary conditions where disease, alcoholism, and illegitimate births are rampant.
2. Undereducated with low incomes, turning to relief agencies or even crime, for needed funds.
3. If not divorced, likely to be fighting incessantly.

4. Unconcerned about their children's education and welfare. Many of New York City's vicious gang members are the products of such family stereotypes, Miss Kasius says.

"The parents of this type of family usually don't want anything to do with social workers. They are as elusive as they can be," Miss Kasius says.

Most were raised in multi-problem families themselves. They deny their problems because they do not see them as such or they are distrustful and resentful, she adds.

They refuse help because all offers of aid seem like gimmicks to them. Acting like children, these parents are treated as such by social workers, Miss Kasius says.

Rehabilitation of a family usually requires two years before the social worker is accepted, parents improve living conditions, and the children are advised on how to properly relate to their parents.

But the time is well spent, Miss Kasius says, because the underprivileged people have been made happier, better parents, and the community receives a financial savings.

Rehabilitation is far cheaper than imprisoning the delinquents who become adult criminals, Miss Kasius says.

Following the program are agencies in New York, Chicago, St. Paul, Minn., San Mateo county, Calif., and Washington county, Md., which have had particular success in preventing the delinquent by reforming the parents.

Stockpile Of Colorful Ribbon Becomes Survival Kit For Tots On Rainy Days

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—When rain sentences your tots to an indefinite stay in the house, tie-up their time with bolts of gift ribbon.

Mary West, ribbon stylist for the Tie-Tie Co., suggests a basic stockpile of red, green, black and yellow ribbon of varying widths. The survival kit for rainy days also should include a package of paper plates and some colorful paper decorated with flowers, planes, boats and other eye-catching subjects.

With a little know-how, you can take these materials and create a miniature monarch in a minute. Or you can deck your darlings in trimmings making them look like junior diplomats or medal-heavy soldiers.

Here's some of the know-how:—The diplomatic sash looks irresistibly jaunty and all it takes is a wide swath of ribbon around the waist and carried over the shoulder for final flourish. If you've got an old coin pin or clip, lend it to the cause.

—Battle ribbons fit for house and garden fighters are made by cutting small strips of ribbon and circular medals from gift paper. Cut a hole in the medal, slip the ribbon through and pin the award on junior's shirt.

—Face make-up always in demand... You can provide it

Social Meeting Held By Class

GROOM (SpI) — Torchbearers Sunday School Class of Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall Monday evening for its regular social meeting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Bill Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamberson as hosts.

Conversation and games of "42" comprised the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright McGee won high; Miss Beulah Shockey, Mrs. Jack West failed low score. Refreshments were served during the social hour to Messrs. and Mrs. Walter Gorman, John Dwyer, Benton Manum, Wright McGee, Glenn D. Harrell, Austin Crowell, Jim Littlefield, Curtis Schaffer, Max Ray Faulkner, Mrs. Jack West, and Miss Beulah Shockey.

If you like the look of fine jewelry at a small price, consider a circle of crystals set in sterling silver. It's a piece you'll have for a long time.

The persistent decorators among your off-spring can do other things if the dressing up idea is "too babyish" for them.

Teach them how to cut colorful gift paper to the size of a book cover and how to fold the corners. They can pretend they are book binders until the sug pokes through the clouds again.

The Crumpackers Show Hawaii Film

GROOM (SpI) — Mr. and Mrs. Vern Crumpacker of White Deer showed colored film of their recent trip to Hawaii to members of the Carson County Farm Bureau and many other friends and guests in Panhandle recently.

Vivian and Norman Warminski also gave a demonstration of marketing cooperatives.

Miss Ashford Is Feted On Birthday

GROOM (SpI) — Patti Ashford was honored with a party on the occasion of her sixth birthday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ashford recently.

Party games were played during the afternoon. Miss Mary Sue Ashford assisted with the serving of cake and punch.

Guests were Carmon Cornett, Lanna Blackwell, Kayla Wade, Toni Howerton, Jet Brewer, Sterling Brown, Judy Brown, Kenneth Brown, Lynita Brown, Debbie Goodin, John Crowell, Meredith Hooper.

Manners Makes Friends

Someone has to be last to leave the party. Make sure you're not always that person.

As the birthday candles grow in numbers, a woman realizes that her skin is changing in texture. But, with all the modern cosmetics, there is no reason why her skin can't be more attractive and silky smooth than when she was in her teens.

"FAITH IN THE POWER OF GOD"

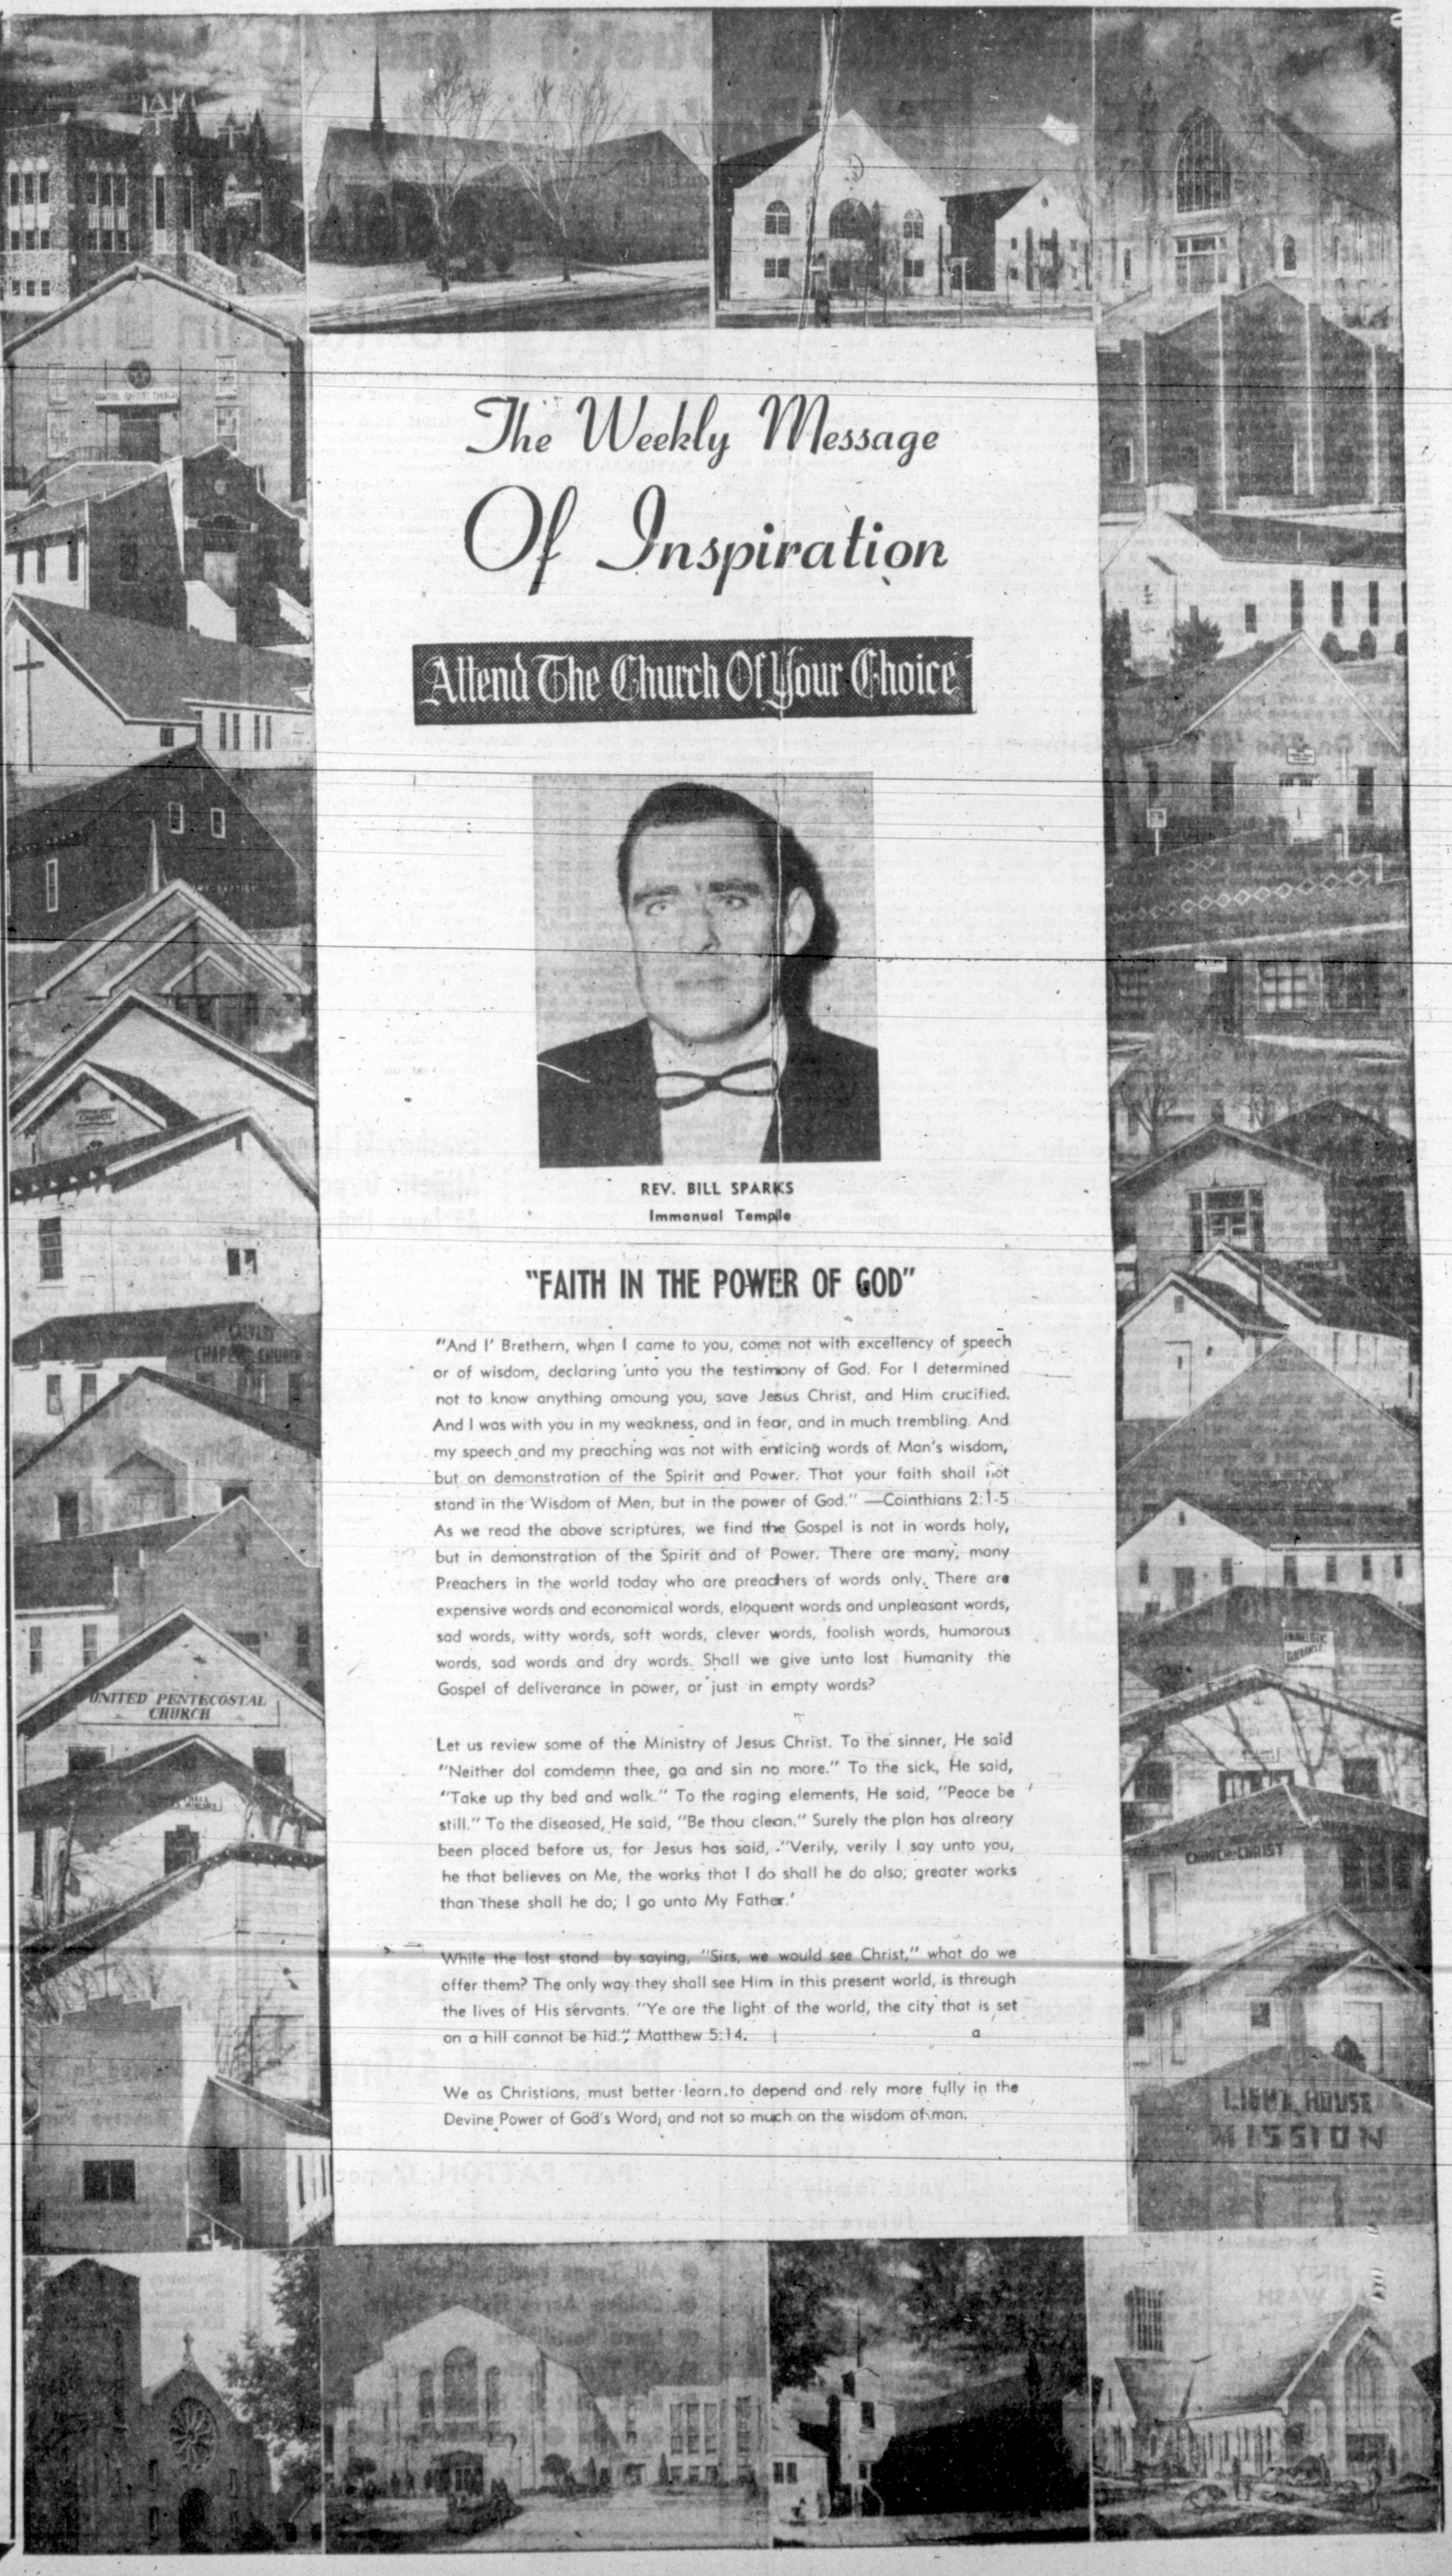

"And I Brethren, when I came to you, come not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified. And I was with you in my weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of Man's wisdom, but on demonstration of the Spirit and Power. That your faith shall not stand in the Wisdom of Men, but in the power of God." —Cointhians 2:1-5

As we read the above scriptures, we find the Gospel is not in words holy, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of Power. There are many, many Preachers in the world today who are preachers of words only. There are expensive words and economical words, eloquent words and unpleasant words, sad words, witty words, soft words, clever words, foolish words, humorous words, sad words and dry words. Shall we give unto lost humanity the Gospel of deliverance in power, or just in empty words?

Let us review some of the Ministry of Jesus Christ. To the sinner, He said "Neither do I condemn thee, go and sin no more." To the sick, He said, "Take up thy bed and walk." To the raging elements, He said, "Peace be still." To the diseased, He said, "Be thou clean." Surely the plan has already been placed before us, for Jesus has said, "Verily, verily I say unto you, he that believes on Me, the works that I do shall he do also; greater works than these shall he do; I go unto My Father."

While the lost stand by saying, "Sirs, we would see Christ," what do we offer them? The only way they shall see Him in this present world, is through the lives of His servants. "Ye are the light of the world, the city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." Matthew 5:14.

We as Christians, must better learn to depend and rely more fully in the Divine Power of God's Word, and not so much on the wisdom of man.

A Black Eye For Little League

The disclosure Wednesday that the Hamtramck, Mich., Little League baseball team has been barred from World Series competition because of illegal recruiting certainly must be regarded as the ultimate low in the world of sports.

If adults would consider Little League baseball purely in the latter sense, Hamtramck incidents and the over-emphasis on winning prevalent in many places would be eliminated.

As one who has always contended that youngsters had more fun in pre-Little League days playing with a taped ball and a pick handle in a cow pasture, I particularly enjoyed a satire on Little League which appears in the fourth annual "Worst From Mad" anthology now on the newsstands.

It may be distasteful to a lot of people who count childhood as one of our "sacred cows" but, as in all of Mad's efforts, there is a great deal of truth in this satirical poke at American parents and their offspring.

Indians Stretch Lead As Orioles Take Double Loss; Bucs Drub Cubs

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Frank Bolling, a quiet, mild-mannered type whom you would never figure to do such a thing, suddenly came around with a bat and broke up that

The slick-fielding Detroit second baseman not only broke the Orioles' hearts but also their backs by smashing a pair of two-run homers that enabled the Tigers to capture a two-night doubleheader Thursday night, 7-5 and 7-4, and complete a four-game sweep.

When Bolling was through, the once-proud Orioles found themselves 1½ games behind the league-leading Indians, who won their fifth straight by beating the Red Sox, 3-2, and only two games ahead of the third-place Yankees, who defeated the White Sox, 6-2.

Bolling, who had hit only one homer previously this season, broke a 5-5 tie in the seventh inning of the opener when he connected with one of loser Arnie Portocarrero. Then in the ninth cap, he drove one into the seats again with one on off loser Skinny Brown during a five-run inning that clinched the game for the Tigers.

George Strickland's first homer of the season in the sixth inning proved to be the winning run in Cleveland's triumph over Boston. Rookie Wynn Hawkins went seven innings and was rewarded with his fourth victory.

Mickey Mantle continued his slugging against the White Sox with a two-run homer off Frank Baumann in the fourth inning that proved to be the Yankees' margin of victory. The loss dropped the White Sox into fifth place, two percentage points behind the Tigers.

More On The '48 Borger Game

The column on the Pampa-Borger football series continues to bring phone calls from Harvester football fans. The latest to call was Dr. Harbord Cox, fullback on the 1948 team which tied Borger in the scoring column, but lost the game in official conference records.

Dr. Cox added several interesting points to the story told by Aubra Nooncaster, backfield coach under Tom Tippo at that time, and corrected me on one point— Nooncaster thought Lamar Lively was the quarterback who fumbled the snap from center with time running out to give Borger the penetration needed to win the tie-breaking statistics.

But according to Dr. Cox, the quarterback wasn't Lively... it couldn't have been since he and Cox were in the showers when the ball was fumbled.

Sometime during the fourth quarter, Dr. Cox and several other seniors including Lively, left the bench they had been occupying for almost the entire second half and went to the dressing rooms.

The Harvesters had outplayed Borger through out the first half, building up a 14-0 halftime lead. The eight senior squad members had played football together since grade school days. They attached an understandable amount of sentiment to their last game together.

The seniors took a dim view of Tippo's strategy in benching them the second half. So when the final minutes of the game were being played out, most of the seniors were in the showers.

Putt Sets The Record Straight

I'm indebted to P. M. Powell (Amarillo Globe-Times columnist, as if he needs to be identified) for another correction on the Pampa-Borger football series.

In listing the year-by-year results I said no games were played in 1937 and 1943. I was only half-right. Pampa trimmed the Bulldogs 34-6 in 1937 and Putt recalled the game from memory because of the Harvesters' great 150-pound guard J. P. Mathews.

I checked the write-up of the game in the Nov. 28, 1937 edition of the Daily News and, sure enough, the Harvesters romped over the Bulldogs, 34-0 to clinch second place in the District 1 standings.

Mathews, according to the write-up, was a candidate for All-State

Boxer, 19, Dies Of Brain Injury

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tommy Pacheco, young Puerto Rican lightweight boxer injured in his 13th professional bout Monday night, died early today of brain damage.

He was the first American professional boxer to die from injuries this year, but the sixth to die in amateur or professional bouts throughout the world, according to "The Ring" magazine. Two of the other deaths were American amateurs, and three were professionals in Mexico.

Pacheco, 19, had been unconscious since he was knocked out in the 10th round by Bennie Gordon, 21. He died at 5:05 a.m. e.d.t.

Pacheco underwent emergency surgery to remove a blood clot on his brain early Tuesday morning.

NBC Baseball Tournney Set

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Richard Lubbock, state commissioner for the National Baseball Congress, announced today the 25th annual Texas State Championship Baseball Tournament for non-professional teams will start Aug. 8 at Lubbock.

Teams will qualify through two divisional state tournaments, one at Houston and the other at Lubbock. Both tournneys are scheduled to start Aug. 4.

The 1960 champions will qualify directly into the 26th National Tournament which will be held in Wichita, Kan., in late August.

During the past three years, Texas has produced two national champions. Sinton won the T.S. title in 1957 and Houston in 1959. In 1958, the Alpine Cowboys were national runner-up.

Robinson Hopes To Regain Title

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

BOSTON (UPI)—Champion Paul Pender and Sugar Ray Robinson will meet in their return middleweight title fight at the Boston Garden tonight despite two restraining orders tying up the entire gate receipts.

Sugar Ray, 39 or 40, is favored at 8-5 to recapture the title for the fifth time before an expected 11,000, providing a probable $100,000 gate.

The $150,000 fee from television and radio of the scheduled 13-rounder (NBC) at 10 p.m. e.d.t. will not be affected by the two orders issued Thursday by Judge Charles D. Bolster in Suffolk County Superior Court.

Promoter Sam Silverman said, "We'll go through with the fight and worry about legal matters later."

Johnny Buckley, manager of Pender, declared: "We want to get this return match with Robinson out of the way so Pender can fight Gene Fullmer for the undisputed world title, which we claim."

Irish Pender of Brookline, Mass., is recognized as champion by Massachusetts and New York.

Former world champion Alan, is champion in National Boxing Assn. territory. Pender won his portion of the crown from Robinson on a disputed split decision at the Boston Garden Jan. 22.

One restraining order, against the entire gate receipts, results from a suit by Nunzio Camiolo of Boston, who seeks 20 per cent of the net gate profits as an alleged 20 per cent partner in Silverman's promoting organization.

Evashevski Named Athletic Director At Iowa University

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—Coach Forest Evashevski, who guided the University of Iowa to national football prominence, was appointed athletic director Thursday.

Evashevski, succeeding Dr. Paul Brechler, with whom he frequently feuded over policy.

Evashevski will coach the Hawks for one more season, filling the dual role of athletic director and head football coach.

Evashevski, whose Iowa teams won the Big Ten championship in 1956 and 1958 and capped both with Rose Bowl victories, won the athletic directorship after rejecting an offer to continue his coaching contract beyond its expiration in 1963.

Baltimore-Tasby Romance Is Over; Traded To Redsox

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles today traded center fielder Willie Tasby to the Boston Red Sox for left fielder Gene Stephens in a straight player deal.

Stephens, a left-handed hitter, is expected to be converted into a right fielder by Baltimore manager Paul Richards. He had appeared in 36 games with the Red Sox this season, batting .229 and driving in nine runs.

During seven years with the Red Sox, Stephens had become known as "Red Williams' caddy," sitting in for the great slugger during the late innings.

Bally Ache Won't Race At Belmont

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bally Ache was withdrawn from Saturday's running of the Belmont Stakes today when he suffered a slight injury in his final workout for the third of the triple crown classics.

Joseph Arnold of Versailles, Ky., head of the syndicate which purchased the horse for $1,250,000 a week before Bally Ache won the Preakness decided not to risk the colt in the mile and one-half classic.

"After Bally Ache returned from his workout this morning we noticed a slight swelling on his right front ankle.

"Examination revealed a slight filling and for that reason it was determined that it would be the best interest of the horse to withdraw him as an entry from the Belmont," the owner said.

"Our decision was made with great reluctance as we were confident that Bally Ache would win. However, he is too fine a horse to take even a slight chance of running him when it might injure his future racing career," he added.

Bally Ache's withdrawal reduced the field for the 92nd running of the Belmont to seven. It reduced the gross value of the classic to $150,900.

X-rays were taken of Bally Ache's injured foot but they proved negative.

After he worked three furlongs in 34.45 he was walking strangely and trainer Jimmy Pitt immediately called for a veterinarian and the X-rays were ordered.

Pony League

Pony League statistics through games played June 3 show Cree Drilling's Eugene Madrid at the front of the batting parade with a gaudy .500 average from 12 hits in 24 trips to the plate.

Mike Schale of the First National Bank nine has crossed the plate 18 times to lead the league in runs.

Scored. The Lion, Club's J. M. Lollar leads in stolen bases with 21 successful thefts and shares the RBI crown with Larry Larimore of the Bank team with 14.

Little Larry Flippo has connected for just two base hits for Cree in fourteen official times at bat, but he leads the circuit in free passes with 21. Under the old method of compiling averages used in the days Wee Willie Keeler was batting over the 400 mark in the big leagues, Flippo's average would zoom from .143 to a lusty .548.

Roadrunners Meet Liberal

The Pampa Roadrunners face the Liberal Beejays in a night game at Liberal tonight with Jimmy Walker or Gary Heiskell slated to do the pitching for Pampa.

Reports received from Liberal at noon today indicate the field is in good condition but the possibility of rain existed and may force a postponement before game time at 8:15 p.m.

The Beejays will throw right-hander Dave Busby, a sophomore at Oklahoma University as they go for their second win of the season.

Liberal opened its season Tuesday night, downing Garden City, Kan., 3-1. Manager Chel Bryan has another Oklahomaan ready to throw against the Roadrunners in Norm Rumble, basketball coach at Norman, Okla., high school.

Pampa, 6-2 on the season, will be gunning for its second straight win after having a four-game streak interrupted by Woodward last Sunday.

Managers Newt Secrest and Henry Stephens said they would not make their pitching decision until game time with Walker and Heiskell both ready and rested. Walker is 2-0 and Heiskell 2-1 for the year.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were the Hatfields and the McCoys and there are the Roosevelts and Tammany Hall—feudists all.

The Roosevelt feud with Tammany goes back to FDR's youthful service in the New York Legislature, 1910-13. Bucking against the leadership of Tammany Boss Charles F. Murphy was not recommended strategy for freshmen Democratic politicians. For FDR it paid off big in good publicity.

The Roosevelts still were feuding with Tammany as recently as this week Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was co-leader of a primary election crusade in New York City to cut down Tammany Boss Carmine De Sapio. The reformers licked three of De Sapio's candidates for the Legislature.

Boss De Sapio's political prestige was hurt badly. The next Roosevelt move will be to seek to oust him as Tammany leader and as New York's Democratic national committeeman. There doubtless will be more episodes in the feud so long as there are Roosevelts and Tammany around.

Franklin Jr. got into the act in his return from naval service after World War II. FDR Jr. wanted a New York City nomination for the U.S. House of Representatives. Tammany refused.

FDR Jr. said Tammany had a great nerve to deny a Roosevelt such political recognition. He accepted the nomination of the splinter Liberal Party and won the House seat. Tammany does not forget, however. The young man next wanted to be nominated for governor in 1954, and Tammany balked hard.

Tammany did agree that young Roosevelt be nominated for New York attorney general. On election day, Tammany withheld aid from Roosevelt and he was defeated while other statewide Democratic candidates won.

That might have been the end and perhaps it was. But, maybe of the political road for FDR Jr. not FDR Jr. wears a big badge in the Kennedy for president organization. If Sen. John F. Kennedy is nominated and elected president, look for young Roosevelt to get something pretty good. Best guess—assistant secretary of Navy.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Contingencies

In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a long look into the future and say what would "happen if."

For in your contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, escrows and the like, you had better say what would "happen if" some of your best laid plans go awry. Such events the law calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earnest money" you put down, if you cannot get through with buying that house? What if you want to pay up that loan and save interest? What happens if a partnership goes sour, or a partner gets sick or dies? What happens if the people you name in your will should die before you do, or, if you all perish in a common catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions — but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall get your property. If you leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes that you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be to the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking "what if?"

Take your will now: Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children—those nearest to you. But it won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case something happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up, or arrange with your lawyer to write in "contingent beneficiaries" — those who will receive your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you.

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have pro-lack of a studio audience. Thursday night's "Spring Festival of Music" on CBS-TV. I just thought the performers deserved to hear, even belatedly, the sound of deep appreciation.

THEY'RE NOT AFRAID—Sharon Gerbie, David Wagner and Wayne Downer, left to right, aren't afraid of Rex the dinosaur. After all, they made him. Along with other pupils in the second grade at Indian Hills Elementary School in Euclid, Ohio, Rex's six-foot-six lumber frame is covered with chicken wire and papier mache. His eyes light up, his teeth are paper cones and his toenails are silver foil over wire. Natural history museum authorities were consulted about the color of a dinosaur and Rex now sports a skin of mottled brown and green.

It was a delightful hour, filled with dazzling performances by youngish American soloists and the CBS Symphony Orchestra. Camera work that had verve, precision and charm also helped set the music off as something quite special.

The soloists were violinist Aaron Rosand, harmonica player John Sebastian, and pianist John Browning. All displayed their talents with precision and feeling. Conductor Alfredo Antonini, swayed as the camera zoomed in on his expressions of amusement and kindness.

The casual studio setting, in which director Roger Englander's cameras could be seen moving into positions around and above the performers helped establish a rapport with the viewer.

Produced and written by Robert Herridge, the hour offered a couple of unusual features. One was the kettle-drum player—a young lady. The other was the host, music editor Jay Harrison. The program was co-sponsored by an electric shaver and Harrison sported a beard. How's that for a "hands-off" policy?

As I look back on my TV week, I find it filled with a number of unusually rewarding sounds and sights.

Last Sunday, comedians Buddy Hackett, Alan King, Bob Newhart, Tom Poston and Milt Kamen talked shop and offered samples of their work on David Susskind's syndicated TV show, "Open End." It was fascinating stuff, all three hours that I saw.

One of the men this panel discussed, Mort Sahl, turned up the next night on Steve Allen's show and delivered one of the most unusual, if not the most unusual, monologues I've ever heard on TV. He broke new ground for topical TV comedy with his pointed jokes about our political leaders and established himself as our most biting commentator on current affairs.

Tuesday night, George Burns delivered a sprightly vaudeville monologue that warmed my heart. Wednesday, excerpts from "Tonight" were presented and the music was excellent.

I've covered Thursday night's superior show. Tonight NBC-TV concludes the two-part "Sacco-Vanzetti Story." I saw this at a special screening on Thursday. Magnificent fusion of acting skill, directorial brilliance and passionate playwrighting makes this hour a great viewing experience.

The Channel Swim: A series of 15 full-hour public information programs, for prime evening time presentation on ABC-TV next season, will be sponsored by Bell & Howell. The same sponsor has purchased part of ABC-TV's weekly half-hour series based on Winston Churchill's memoirs.

Dead Candidate Wins Election
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A man who was killed last month was elected to the Republican central committee in Tuesday's California primary election.

Stuart L. McClure died in an automobile accident. Final tabulations showed that McClure, a public relations counsel and former newspaper man, led six other candidates for the committee post from the 24th district.

After he was killed, it was too late to remove his name from the ballot—so the committee will fill his position by appointment.

Jones came to London's famous Piccadilly Circus fully expecting to find clowns and live animal acts.

Defense Fund Measure To Senate Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate appropriations committee today considers the vital defense money bill — now set at more than half of the entire 1961 budget. The committee was expected to approve the 40-billion-dollar measure without change.

The bill, approved by an appropriations subcommittee Wednesday, carries $28 million dollars more than the House voted and $90 million dollars more than BECKENHAM, England (UPI)—Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, a star at Trinity University of San Antonio, was one of three Americans who held berths today in the quarter-finals of the Kent Lawn Tennis Championships. McKinley defeated Ingo Buding, a stateside German, 6-4, 6-1, Thursday.

The steers were due in New York around noon today, just 3 1/2 days from when they were shipped from San Antonio to join the Western exhibit at Freedomland, USA, the East Coast's answer to Disneyland.

DALLAS (UPI)—Earnest Alquist, 38, of Evandale, Cal., buried to death early today in a north west Dallas motel room.

complained, "naming an ordinary square a circus."

President Eisenhower requested in his revised budget.

Democrats predicted that when the bill reached the Senate floor attempts would be made to add possibly another 270 million dollars, including 215 million for 50 F-106 Delta Dart fighter planes and 54 million to speed work on military surveillance satellites.

Other congressional news: Wheat: Assistant House Democratic Leader Carl Albert (Okla.) predicted the House would reject a wheat bill passed by the Senate Thursday night which would reduce acreage allotments 20 per cent. Albert said his "guess" was that the House would insist on either increasing wheat price supports or raising payments for reduced acreage.

Legislation: Informed sources said President Eisenhower would meet this week with Republican and Democratic leaders to discuss what legislation can be enacted before Congress adjourns for the political conventions. The sources said Eisenhower would brief Senate and House leaders on his trip to Japan and exchange views on legislative plans before leaving for the Far East Sunday.

Medical: Key lawmakers agreed that the House Rules Committee would clear for House action within two weeks a medical care plan for the aged. They said the program, designed to help between 509,000 and 1,000,000 needy persons over 65, would be handled under a no-amendment procedure to block liberal attempts to broaden benefits.

Sack Didn't Rattle

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Policeman D. C. Coleman, examining a car involved in an accident Thursday, found a white sack in the car trunk. He picked it up, patted it, poked it and threw it back.

Later Coleman went to the hospital to talk with the driver, James W. Furlow, 22, of Atlanta, who was injured in the wreck.

"What did you do with my rat-sack?" Furlow asked.

Turned out there was a two-foot rattler in the bag.

Instructor Course Planned By RC

The Red Cross nursing committee met with the Texas national field representative, Mrs. Willie Laritz, at a luncheon yesterday to plan for an instructor training course which will begin in October and will emphasize disaster preparation.

The course will be open to any registered nurse and people with teaching ability in the county. It will include instruction in 32 basic nursing skills and their adaptation to disaster situations. The purpose of the program is to provide teachers to instruct laymen in self-care in time of disaster.

Members of the committee are: Mrs. James Allen, chairman; Mrs. James McNurty and Miss Edith Krall, Red Cross nursing instructors; A. J. Carrubel Jr., chapter chairman; and Miss Libby Shottwell, executive secretary.

Glider Pilot Freed By Reds, To Fly Today

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—American glider pilot Richard Schreder learned today that his 20 miles of flight behind the Iron Curtain will not help his score in the world gliding championships here.

Schreder, of Toledo, Ohio, sailed over the border into Communist East Germany Wednesday on a competitive distance flight from Cologne. Soviet authorities released pilot and glider Thursday, "as though all this never happened." He planned to go up again in today's competition flights.

U.S. team Captain Paul Schweizer of Elmira, N.Y., said that Schreder's extra distance inside East Germany would not count on the Americans' team score, because scoring distance was measured only on a line from Cologne to the West German border.

But Schreder did set another kind of record in getting back across the border. He was returned less than 24 hours after landing. American pilots who stray over the Soviet zonal border usually spend days and even weeks before being released.

The U.S. embassy and the U.S. Army decided not to intercede in the incident, counting instead on contacts between sportsmen as the speediest way of getting Schreder back.

The Communist allowed Schreder's two crewmen, Andrew J. Smith of Tecumseh, Mich., and John D. Ryan of Scottsdale, Ariz., to drive across the border with a car and trailer and pick up Schreder and his long-winged white craft.

Schreder's wife Angelika was waiting anxiously at the border, peering into East German territory through binoculars. When the car crossed, she ran forward, opened the door, and flung herself in her husband's lap.

Thailand is the only country in southeastern Asia which has never been ruled by a European power.
