Airmen Hurt In Congo

Congolese Use Butts Of Rifles

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (UPI) — Rampaging Congolese soldiers beat an eight-man U.S. Air Force plane crew with rifle butts Saturday at Stanleyville and tried to lynch the injured Americans. Other Congolese wounded three whites in a raid on a United Nations office.

All eight Americans were hospitalized with injuries. Several were smeared with blood from the vicious attack and there was blood on the blacktop runway near their Globemaster plane. Two of the airmen were reported to have been kidnapped, but were found in a hospital.

In Washington, the Air Force identified the eight Americans as:

Capt. Elvert L. Mott, Glenora, La.; Lt. Kenneth E. Stickevers, Valley Stream, N.Y.; Lt. Armand A. Kelsenberg, Piez, Minn.; Lt. William M. Shaw, Asheville, N.C.; T-Sgt. Kenneth E. Bennett, of Norfolk Va.; Lt. Gerald T. Henry, Washington, D.C.; T-Sgt. Fred M. Kaiser, Smyrna, Fla.; S-Sgt. B. E. Bossa, Sarasota, Del.

The Air Force said all the men were assigned to units stationed at Dover Air Force Base, Del.

It also disclosed that two Canadians—identified as Cpl. G. W. Gavel and signalman A.L.G. Bone—were aboard the plane but gave no explanation for their presence.

A New Rift Reported Between Russ, China

LONDON (UPI)—A new rift was reported Saturday between Soviet Russia and Communist China over Russian aid to neutralist and non-Communist countries. Experts said it might lead to a slowdown of Russian aid to Peiping.

Diplomatic sources said the ideological conflict had gone beyond the original dispute over Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policy of "peaceful co-existence" and Peiping's insistence that war between Capitalist and Communist states was inevitable.

The sources said Red China apparently wants Russian economic help limited to Communist nations and Communist movements in newly emerging nations. They said Peiping also resents the limits on Russian economic aid to Red China.

Experts here on Communism said Peiping had ordered a belittling policy and a temporary halt to some of its ambitious industrial projects in anticipation of a cut in Russian aid.

Word of the new Sino-Soviet rift seeped through the Iron Curtain from on-the-spot observers. Other reports came from Moscow and Peiping publications reaching the West.

The reports were believed linked with the mass exodus of Soviet experts and technicians from Red China to Russia reported a week ago but there was still no indication whether Peiping was sending them home or whether Moscow was recalling them.

Long Stalls Aged Care Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., forced the Senate towards a late session Saturday night with a rambling attack on the medical care for the aged bill. However, Senate approval was expected anyway.

Long's speech was for the most part on the subject, but it had some overtones of once-famous filibuster speeches delivered by his father—the late Sen. Huey P. Long.

Like his dad, Long read from a book or two and from magazines articles in attacking the Senate-House compromise measure.

Long was the sponsor of a pair of amendments dropped from the bill by Senate-House conferees. His proposals would have made tubercular and mental patients eligible for federal-state assistance under the bill.

Houston In Try To Halt Integration

HOUSTON (UPI) —Houston will go to the U.S. Supreme Court in a last-ditch attempt to prevent integration of Houston's public school system Sept. 7.

The school board is under a U.S. District Court order to integrate, beginning with the first grade, this fall. The Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of appeals in New Orleans Friday refused to intervene.

The U.S. Supreme Court is Reynolds' last hope of getting an integration delay, pending a full appeal. Legal observers thought (See HOUSTON, Page 2)

'Willful Six' Hurt Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Liberal Democrats charged Saturday that six "willful" House members have been largely responsible for the collapse of Sen. John F. Kennedy's legislative program in the post-convention session of Congress.

They blamed the four Republican and two Democratic conservatives on the House Rules Committee for using the group's vast power to block action on Democratic-sponsored school construction and housing bills supported by Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate.

cut from the $3,722,350,000 foreign aid bill sent to the White House Friday, will be added to a supplemental appropriations bill the Senate will consider Monday.

The committee voted to restore everything the President asked except for $75 million for the development loan fund. This $150 million request was cut in half. The $116 million restored would be for economic aid including defense support, technical and special assistance and administration.

Overall, Congress had slashed $559,254,000 from the money bill Transfer, 809 Bradley Drive, MO 63096 or 9-9405.

Florida Whites, Negroes Clash In Jacksonville Area; 50 Injured

Violence Is Aftermath Of Downtown Sit-Ins

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Angry mobs of club swinging whites clashed with Negroes in the streets of downtown Jacksonville Saturday, setting off a chain reaction that brought more violence and bloodshed.

At least 50 persons were injured, a white youth was hauled from his car and stabbed and two Negroes suffered minor bullet wounds.

Police rushed in fire hoses and patrolmen armed with shotguns succeeded in dispersing most of the crowd of 3,000 that gathered in the downtown area.

But new outbreaks immediately were reported in Negro districts and outlying areas. Police said 33 Negroes and nine white men had been arrested by late afternoon, mostly on charges of inciting rioting and fighting.

Officers at the police complaint desk estimated about 50 suffered injuries ranging from slight to serious in the beatings and fights. The Duval Medical Center said two Negro youths, ages 12 and 18, received minor bullet wounds.

Police inspector Emmett Lee said the shootings allegedly occurred when a small group of Negroes threw bottles at a white man riding past in a car in a suburban neighborhood. The man was reported to have stopped the car and open fire with a pistol.

Three other Negroes were beaten by bands of angry whites in the downtown disorders. The seething racial unrest broke into the open Saturday after repeated sit-in demonstrations at two downtown variety stores. Friday a hair-pulling scuffle occurred between a white and Negro woman in front of one of the stores and several other white women were knocked to the pavement.

A hospital spokesman at Duval Medical Center estimated up to 20 persons or more—both Negroes and whites—were treated for cuts, bruises and other injuries. The 16-year-old white boy who was stabbed was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in serious condition about 3:30 p.m. from a knife wound in the left chest.

The hospital identified the boy as William Howard Pellham, Jacksonville. He told attendants he was stabbed by a burly Negro man who had stopped his car in a suburban area.

Police took up constant patrols of the trouble area. Saturday morning a group of about 50 white men gathered in front of the variety stores, carrying makeshift clubs and confederate flags.

A smaller group of Negroes collected on the opposite corner. The group of Negroes soon dispersed. One of the white men passed out mimeographed sheets signed by the "Segregation Forces of Duval County." The papers said "we have warned the merchants of Jacksonville with lunch coun-

LONG JOURNEY ENDS — Two youngsters who traveled thousands of miles to attend Pampa High School are pictured as they are registered for classes by Miss Evelyn Milam, a school counselor. Jarl Jens Molvar of Aslesund, Norway, and Maria Ludovica Minelli of Brescia, Italy, were pleased with the school and the idea of studying in the United States. PHS Students Welcome Two Studious Visitors

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Staff Writer

A group of Pampans realized their goal Wednesday when two students from Europe enrolled in Pampa High School.

This effort by the Pampa Chapter of the American Field Service, civic clubs and students of the high school has been going forward for some time, but one of the highlights came when Maria Ludovica Minelli of Brescia, Italy, and Jarl Jens Molvar of Aslesund, Norway, sat down with Miss Evelyn Milam, high school counselor, to complete registration so that they may become full fledged members of the student body.

Neither had much to say (they read English well, but speak it falteringly) but you could see that they were pleased.

But they weren't half so pleased as the people who worked to bring them to Pampa for a year of schooling.

"They are just wonderful children," said Mrs. Mary Capps, who was student council sponsor last year, but has been transferred to Pampa Junior High School for the coming year.

Mrs. Capps paid high tribute to students, who in the past few years have quietly worked to promote their project — bring one student from Europe to Pampa with monies they, themselves, worked to raise.

"They used money realized from the annual talent show and funds derived from sales of ads in football programs to gather the $650. I'm very proud of them," Mrs. Capps said.

Borger Youth Killed While Hunting

BORGER, Tex. (UPI)—Jerry Gilliam, 16, was accidentally shot to death Friday night as he and two companions were hunting rabbits from a car on a country road northeast of Borger.

Hudson County sheriff's deputies said another 16-year-old, Gary Jones, was taking aim through a car window and Gilliam stepped out of the car and into the line of fire just as Jones pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Gilliam in the back of his head.

Gilliam's brother Billy was driving the car. He and Jones rushed Jerry Gilliam to a hospital, but he was dead on arrival. The dead youth was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliam, who were visiting in Graham, Tex., when Jerry was killed.

Restores $191 Million To Program

By NORMAN G. CORNISH
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee partially bowed to President Eisenhower's demands Saturday by voting to restore $191 million cut from his foreign aid program.

This was only $75 million less than he declared absolutely necessary to prevent the national security from being jeopardized. The restored funds which were

Students Return To Classrooms

Registrations This Wednesday

Pampa public schools will open Wednesday, with much of the day being devoted to enrollment.

L. J. Edmondson, assistant superintendent of the Pampa Public School system, said the first day won't be a full one, but that full-time classroom activities will begin Thursday morning.

Elementary grade students will enroll, beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday, as will junior and senior high school pupils.

Earlier in the week certain incoming pupils were registered, and Edmondson said this task will be completed Wednesday in all schools.

School boundaries again were noted by the school officials. They are:

Austin School—North of Decatur and east of Hobart.

Baker School—All territory east of Barrett and West, and south of the railroad tracks.

Houston School—The alley between west and Ward; no children south of the railroad tracks will be expected to Mann School.

Mann School—The boundary remains the same.

Lamar School—West of Barrett and Ward and north to the railroad tracks. Children living south and west of the railroad tracks are included.

Wilson School—The dividing line for Wilson and Houston schools is Ballard from the railroad tracks to Browning, Browning to Yeager, and Yeager to the creek.

Travis School—The attendance area is that territory west of Hobart and south to Kentucky. Attendance areas for junior high schools remains unchanged.

Hwy. 136 Crash Fatal To Borger

BORGER, Tex. (UPI)—Harvie Davis, 39, of Borger, was killed early Saturday when he lost control of his car and it overturned several times on State Highway 136.

Davis was alone in the car. Highway patrolmen said he was dead on arrival at North Plains Hospital in Borger.

OAS Group Works To Tone Down Finding

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI)

—An 11-nation committee met Saturday to work on a toned-down hemispheric resolution condemning Red Chinese and Soviet interference in the Americas.

The original resolution, drawn up by Uruguay, Chile, Colombia and Mexico at a 12-hour all-night session here specifically condemned Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for interference in American affairs by his July 9 threat to use Soviet rockets to protect Cuba from United States "imperialism."

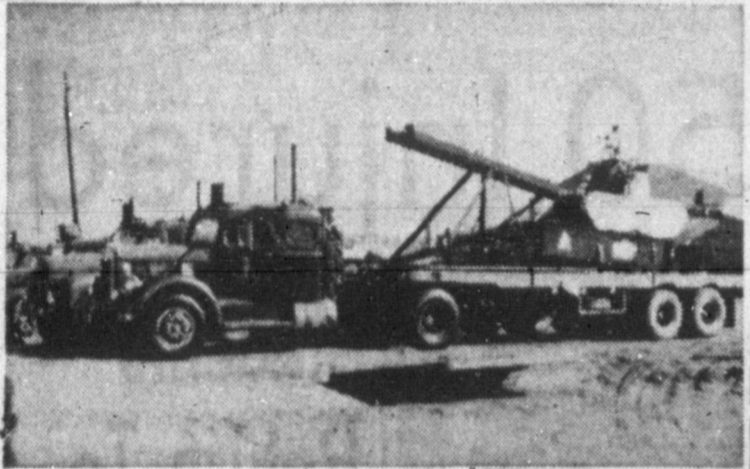

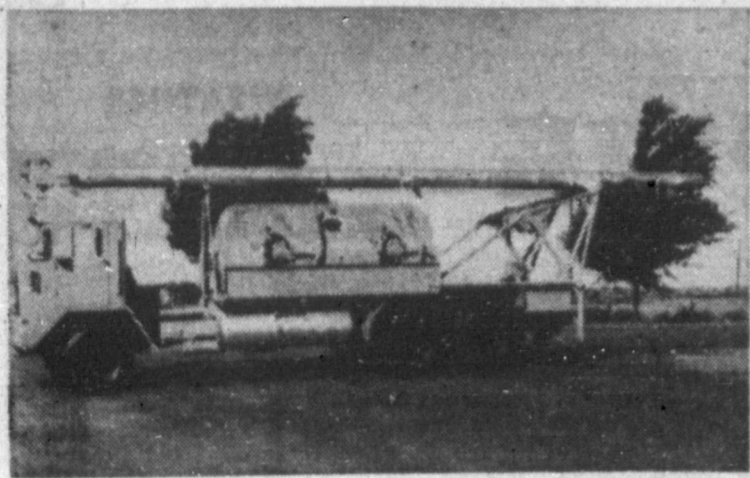

A 10-nation committee, to which Chile was later admitted, decided to remove the mention of the Soviet premier and substitute the more general term Red China and Russia instead.

The United States, represented by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference here, planned to insist on some specific condemnation of Cuba in the resolution which will wind up the two-week meeting.

But most of the Latin nations at the conference were stressing compromise in an effort to smooth over the quarrel between Cuba and the United States.

The resolution incorporated a Colombian proposal directing all members of the 21-nation Organization of American States to submit to the discipline of the Inter-American system. This proposal obviously was aimed at Cuba, where Fidel Castro has dedepts who worked on this project have been graduated. "However, I'm sure all of them feel a little prideful in what has been done," she declared.

Funds to bring the other student came from donations from Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and Lovett Memorial Fund.

Maria (call me Marica, please) has as her "parents" until next June, Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Kelley, 1715 Christine, while Jarl's substitute mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. Coyle C. Ford, 932 Fisher.

The youngsters, both 17 years old, have been in a busy whirl since their arrival at Amarillo Airport Sunday night. It was here that a "thrilling sight" was enacted, according to Mrs. Tom Braly, president of the Pampa Field Service group.

"We expected confusion. We didn't think anyone would know who was to join whom. But the children (there were eight others going to different parts of Texas) all knew their friends. They had studied pictures forwarded to them earlier, and all walked unerringly to their new companions."

Principal Cameron Marsh is well pleased with the new additions to his student group. He met with them Wednesday and when the meeting was concluded, said, "they are eager to begin study. I think they will be a wonderful addition here."

Both have been introduced to a couple of standard customs of the area: Maria has had her first hamburger, and Jarl rode his first horse earlier in the week.

Their reaction? "Good, good!"

Both were excited about the school. They could not understand its vastness until they accompanied Mrs. Capps on a tour of the huge building. Maria, especially, was delighted. She said attending a school such as Pampa High School was the fulfillment of a dream.

When asked how her school at home was housed, she said, "In an old castle."

Jarl, a bit more reserved, said "Our's at home is much smaller and older."

Schools of Norway and Italy are established on a five-year basis for high school. Following a check of previous schooling, it has been decided that they will be schooled here as seniors and will graduate—class ring, diploma and all—next June.

Their studies here will include American History, English, speech grammar and typing. And it is the last that has both enthralled.

"We don't have typing in our schools," said Jarl, "and I want to become an expert before I go home."

Marica feels the same way. Supporting the student project to bring the two exchange students here was the Field Service committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Braly, Mr. and Mrs. James Massa and Mrs. Capps, who worked with this group and with the student body.

Their task was to bring the project to the attention of civic groups, which, as Mrs. Braly said, "Wasn't hard at all. They responded quickly, joining us with all-out efforts."

How do the Fords and Kelleys feel about their new children? "We're very fond of Maria," said Mrs. Kelley. "She has a splendid personality and fits in wonderfully with the older girls—16 and 18—and gets along fine with the two younger ones."

"We're learning a lot about Italy, while we are striving to tell her everything we know about the United States," Maria's new "mother" noted.

Mrs. Ford, meanwhile, showed elation with Jarl. "He's such a nice boy. He's out water skiing with Coyle and my son now. We're pleased as punch with him."

In placing the students, the committee arranged to house them with families of comparative nature as in their homes in Europe. Marica, who has a brother nine years older than she, is the daughter of a legal adviser and attorney. Her mother is a housewife.

Jarl comes from a seafaring family, which is normal for Norway. His father is a ship captain for a large textile firm, and his mother is a housewife. He has one brother and one sister.

Finally, sports attract both. Jarl is a track and field enthusiast, being expert with the javelin (barred in Texas high school competition) and other field events, and plays football (Babe Curfman take note), while Maria enjoys tennis, swimming, skating and basketball.

These are the first of a continued line of exchange students the Field Service committee and the student body hope to bring to Pampa.

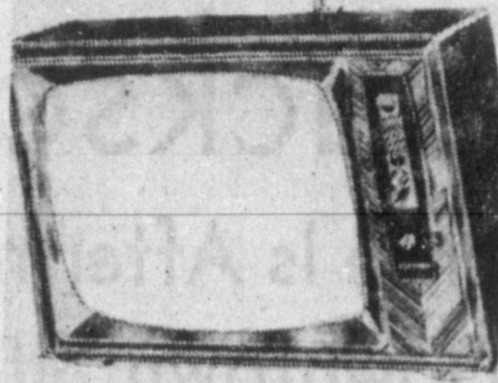

"We know this will prove a great success. We hope, too, that we can bring two students each year, but we will need financial help to accomplish this," Mrs. Braly pointed out.

Marines' Long Trek Nets Orphans Money

TOKYO (UPI) — Two U.S. Marines who walked 840 miles through Japan to raise money for a Japanese orphanage claimed Saturday their average of better than 52 miles a day was a new walking record.
 The Marines were Sgt. Howard J. Bentz, 25, of Pass Christian, Miss., and Pfc. Erwin J. Blackburn, 22, of Fremont, Wis. Their goal was to beat the 45 to 50 miles a day accomplished by the two British sergeants who walked across the United States.
 Bentz told a press conference Saturday they walked from Sasebo, in Southern Japan, to Tokyo, and that the walk took them 16 days, four hours and 23 minutes, not including a 36-hour layover at a U.S. military base en route.
 "I read in the papers about the two British sergeants who walked across the United States and averaged 45 to 50 miles a day," Bentz said. "I asked my walking partner how he'd like to try to beat that record. I asked him how he'd like to walk to Tokyo. He said 'okay' and we decided to try it."
 "We decided that if we were going to take such a walk we should make it pay off, so we decided to try to raise money for the orphanage supported by the Marine barracks in Sasebo."
 The final agreement, reached after 2½ months of discussion, was that Marines at the barracks would each contribute one cent per mile for each mile over 300 covered by Bentz and Blackburn.

Views Differ On Religion As An Issue

By CARLTON F. WILSON
 United Press International
 The question of whether religion will be a major presidential campaign issue in Texas this fall had two sharply different answers last week.
 Gerald C. Mann, state campaign director for the Democrats, said religion would be the "first issue in Texas." He devoted most of a 13-minute television speech to it.
 "Religion will not be an issue, but it will be a factor," said Republican John G. Tower, candidate for U.S. Senate.
 "We figure that at least 100 of the 130 Marines at the barracks will contribute," Bentz said. "This means $1 for each mile we traveled. So I estimate that we will receive between $400 and $700 from our buddies alone for the orphanage."
 Sen. John F. Kennedy will hit Texas himself on September 12 when he is scheduled to arrive in Texarkana. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected by Republicans later in the month.
 A series of long-distance telephone calls were made this week-end from the Austin Democratic headquarters to national planners in an effort to work out an itinerary for their presidential candidate. Texas leaders hoped to expose Senator Kennedy to as many big city voters as possible during a planned two-day visit.
 In the first state television speech for the Democrats, former attorney general Mann tagged religion as the "first issue."
 "Many who fear Jack Kennedy because of his religion do not know his record," Mann said in a film shown in Dallas and Houston.

 Mann pointed out that Kennedy has stressed that he would not be bound by his religion if elected president.
 "I tell you religion has no place among the issues except in the fertile imagination of those who have not studied the facts," he said.

HALF SNAKE-BITTEN
 ROYALTON, Ill. (UPI) — Police chief Joe Finley today nursed a finger bitten by half a snake in the grass.
 The non-poisonous reptile apparently was divided by Finley's power lawnmower and the front half bit the chief when he bent over to retrieve a broken mower blade.

ALL ONE STYLE?

We are often asked: "Must all the furniture in my living room be the same style?" Our answer to this question is a resounding "No!" While all the furnishings in a room should be related in scale (to assure balance), line and texture, it does not necessarily follow that every piece must be of the same style or period. In fact, the mingling of related styles adds variety and interest to a room plan.

Giving just a reasonable amount of attention to the distinguishing marks of different furniture styles will enable you to select styles that go well together. You'll recognize quickly that Classic Modern combines nicely with Chinese Chippendale, Sheraton, English Regency and French Provincial. That there is a relationship between Colonial New England, Pennsylvania Dutch, Early Chippendale and simpler Queen Anne, French Provincial, city style, also lives compatibly with Louis XV and Louis XVI, Duncan Phyfe and many of the simpler Georgian pieces.

Note how the Modern table, a transitional piece, bridges the gap between past and present in the Traditional room sketched. Plastic covered benches are also in the Modern mood.

Pale apricot color of walls gives room a warm glow. Wall-to-wall carpeting matches the walls. Cover on one lounge chair is beige threaded with gold—the other, a soft periwinkle blue for color accent.

Would you like some professional help in combining styles for your rooms? Advice on color plans? Help with room arrangements? We invite you to come in and discuss your decorating and furnishing plans with one of our experienced decorators. Whenever you wish.

Kiwanians Celebrate 30th Year

Awards and honors to long-time members highlighted the Pampa Kiwanis Club's 30th Anniversary banquet Friday night in the Coronado Inn.

Club members and their wives heard a past governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District deliver the principal address. He is Dr. James M. Walker of Ft. Worth.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of Legion of Honor awards to 25-year member Fred Thompson, Ed Vicars and Jimmy Massa. All past presidents of the club were seated together and paid tribute for their past services. A special recognition was given charter member Ed Vicars.

The master of ceremonies for the evening was Melvin T. Munn. Fred Thompson handled the introduction of past presidents and Les Hart, past lieutenant governor of District 6, introduced Dr. Walker. The speaker's topic was "Exemplify the Highest Moral and Spiritual Values," a Kiwanis objective.

The evening program followed a buffet-style supper attended by more than 150 persons.

The invocation was given by the Rev. William E. West, which was followed by introduction of guests by Arthur Aftergut, president of the club.

Following presentation of awards to past presidents and charter members, Joe Whitten, minister of music, First Baptist Church, provided entertainment, accompanied by Mrs. Maxine Milliron.

The benediction was pronounced by Bill Byerly of the Pampa Key Club.

Still Sweet, Even After Change To Cheesecake

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Diane Baker has jumped from "sweet young things" roles straight into the bathtub usually reserved for screenland's glamour girls.

She'll still be sweet though, but also a little better scrubbed up when she emerges from the suds in "The Wizard of Baghdad."

"Sure, I'm going to take a bath," said Miss Baker as she stood alongside a tub which had a sort of cloth shower curtain around it, wheels and a handle. The whole contraption resembled a baby carriage.

"What's the intrigue about taking a bath in a movie scene," she asked, looking at a group of males gathered on the set.

"I'll be dressed in a skin colored leotard and wouldn't wear less. Nobody will see anything."

Diane plays a Persian princess opposite Barry Coe, a role that's a far cry from the part of Anne Frank's sister in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

"Baghdad," a spoof on the world of Ali Baba, is Diane's first comedy, and entirely different from her past movies.

"I think comedy is the hardest thing in the world to do," she claimed. "I'm not good at it yet, but will be."

Taking a slap at actors who insist on tearing their hair out before a heavy dramatic scene, Diane said it was nonsense.

"You know how some actresses go into a big emotional thing before a scene," she asked. "I say you should learn your lines the night before and forget about it."

"Then, go to work the next day, crack a few jokes and do the scene. The torture of those emotional buildups before a scene drains all the energy you need for acting."

Miss Baker rebels at being identified as an ingenue usually found standing around in many Hollywood films with seemingly nothing to do.

"I'm not ingenue and couldn't be Sandra Dee," she insisted. "People say I'm such a 'nice girl' which is silly and so general. By that they mean I'm just sort of 'there' in a picture."

The 22-year-old Miss Baker has made only four pictures and wishes she had started out in the legitimate theater before entering films.

"I think I'll probably end up doing some stage work," she said, adding that "I probably started backwards."

Auto Safety Check Begins On Thursday

LUBBOCK (SpI)—The 1961 motor vehicle inspection stickers will be available to Texas motorists at inspection stations beginning Thursday.

This announcement came from the office of Capt. Alan Johnson of the Texas Department of Public Safety, who urged that motorists have their vehicles inspected early in the inspection period that extends to April 15, 1961.

Noting the importance of these inspections, Capt. Johnson pointed out that, since the beginning of the inspection periods, vehicles having a defect that was a factor in fatal accidents has decreased from 11 per cent to five per cent last year.

"There are some 4,500 official inspection stations in Texas. These points have the facilities to handle motorists without delay if everyone doesn't wait until the final days to visit the stations," Capt. Johnson said.

Kindness Wins Over Bikinis

LONDON (UPI)—The directors of Dartmoor Prison have decided it would be an act of extreme cruelty to permit two teen-aged bikini-clad girls to appear before the institution's 600 male inmates.

The girls, Brenda Delrue and Jacqueline Forster, both 18 and extremely well-rounded brunettes, were slated to appear Sunday in a two-hour musical show at the prison in a beach sketch.

Britain's Home Office, which handles the nation's internal affairs—including prisons—had given its approval for the girls to appear in bikinis.

However, Dartmoor officials, who pride themselves on keeping their inmates content, thought it over and decided it wasn't such a good idea after all.

One official said Thursday: "A lot of the chaps who are serving long sentences haven't seen bikini girls for many years. And, well, after all, you know . . ."

TRUCK FAILS TEST

GALESBURG, Ill. (UPI)—Galesburg's new $25,000 fire truck flunked its first test Thursday.

The truck broke down when a coupling popped during a trial run and it had to be towed back to the fire station by the 24-year-old engine it was supposed to replace.

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Moving mountains, changing the course of rivers and creating huge lakes are all in a day's work for the nearly 25,000 employes of Morrison-Knudsen and its subsidiaries.

The world-wide contracting and engineering firm has been a leading factor in the fabulous heavy construction boom that marked the postwar era.

And one of the fantastic things about it, according to newly elected president J. B. Bonny, is that the next decade may dwarf the "Fabulous Fifties" in the value of new construction.

F. W. Dodge Corp. estimates that total new construction will rise from $54.3 billion in 1959 to $77.6 billion in 1969. New construction has accounted for something in the vicinity of 11 per cent of gross national product in typical recent peacetime years. And if this relation holds in 1969 the G.N.P. then would be about $700 billion.

Dodge also noted that new construction during the 1960's will provide a market for more than $550 billion in goods and services.

Morrison-Knudsen currently is engaged in approximately 170 construction projects in 24 countries. The company began 1960 with a backlog of more than $400 million, a more than 100 per cent increase over the previous year.

Since the first of the year the Boise, Idaho firm has added $107 million in new contracts to its books, while completing $123 million in existing contracts.

The company is engaged in all phases of heavy construction, including dams and power plants, tunnels, bridges, highways, airports, missile launching bases, irrigation and water supply systems, pipelines and open-pit mining projects.

Kennedy Rests Prior To Campaign Kickoff

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy rested with his family Saturday in advance of an arduous two-month presidential campaign which he will preview with an invasion of Maine and New Hampshire Thursday.

The Democratic nominee will not formally kick off his campaign until next Saturday at Anchorage, Alaska. But he scheduled a busy week of activity leading up to his takeoff for the West Coast by jet plane Sept. 3.

While Kennedy relaxed at his summer home here with his wife Jacqueline and their 2½-year-old daughter Caroline, the candidate's press secretary Pierre Salinger announced these plans:

A news conference at 10 a.m. ed Tuesday in Washington at which Kennedy planned to discuss "two or three different subjects." Salinger would not comment on speculation that civil rights was one of them.

Departure from Washington at 11 a.m. ed Thursday for Manchester, N. H., where he will speak at an airport rally then fly to Maine for appearance at Presque Isle, Bangor and Portland.

Kennedy is scheduled to leave his Cape Cod vacation home Monday to fly to Boston for a private fund-raising luncheon with New England businessmen.

He is to leave Boston in time to be in Washington for a 3 p.m. ed meeting of House-Senate conferees on legislation to boost the $1-an-hour minimum wage and expand its coverage.

Salinger said Kennedy would attend to other Senate chores Tuesday and Wednesday, making out-of-town activity "unlikely" on those days. However, he said, Kennedy "might do something on Friday."

Salinger said an effort had been made to work Vermont into the Thursday swing but it proved impossible. Maine and Vermont were the only two states which the Republicans carried in the 1936 Democratic presidential landslide.

Salinger said Kennedy's first nationwide television broadcast for which the Democrats are buying time would be a 30-minute appearance originating in Washington the night of Sept. 20.

Fire Damage

Priest-Writer Noted Southwest Authority

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Staff Writer

A famed man once said that he did not expect to leave this world "a gain of monetary value that will startle. But I do hope that my efforts to leave things of the mind that can aid those in future generations will suffice."

Little did he know that he was establishing the goal of the Rev. Fr. F. F. Stanley of Sacred Heart Catholic Church of White Deer.

For this is what White Deer's highly respected "little man in a hurry" hopes to do — leave something for future generations to delve into when in quest of factual data on the Southwest, the land this bustling priest with a veritable mine of information has come to love.

To call him White Deer's man in a hurry is not showing disrespect. Fr. Stanley has been pushing along since he came to the Southwest some 22 years ago, an ailing, near broken man.

Fr. Stanley, an author of much repute among scholars of Southwest lore, was teaching in St. John's N.Y. College, in 1938 when doctors discovered spots on his lungs and told him he must move to a "better climate."

Fr. Stanley was sent to this area and it was here, as he said, "My life began."

Long a student of history, the genial cleric became interested in Southwest United States lore. He began a study of old books — novels, historical books and pulp copies of stories of the West. And here he found that some writers were writing what they termed fact when much of it was fiction.

And it was here that this "Author of the Panhandle" and the Southwest was "born." For it was then that Fr. Stanley told himself that he would, to the best of his ability, write the true story of places and times and men of this area who were, for the most part, little known to history. Little known, too, to some of the people who had written about them.

"With my work in the church, with the people, I have set one other goal: I hope to leave data of fact for scholars of the future."

To date that "goal" reads 22 books and a long list of booklets, all on the Southwest.

This, mind you, is the scholar (he speaks 11 languages, seven fluently) who was told when he applied for a Guggenheim Scholarship, "These scholarships are for those who cannot afford the extensive training the scholarships offer."

Fr. Stanley's salary is $80 monthly. "I want to talk of this before you ask me about the works I have done, for it was one of the hurts of my life," said Fr. Stanley.

"I have wanted to examine some of the thousands of letters that are stored at Salamanca, Spain, in an effort to gain more knowledge of this section of the country which I have come to love. I applied for the scholarship, listing the required two books I must have written to qualify, and listed the names of the three 'responsible' people required and explained why I wanted the scholarship. Then came the blow. The answer was only made more ironic when the last line read: 'Try again next year.'"

He didn't try. But he hasn't given up; scholarships for what he'd like to do are available elsewhere, and he will seek the assignment in that manner.

As an afterthought to a possible scholarship, Fr. Stanley said: "I could not ever tell you of my disappointment should I be transferred from this area, scholarship or not."

This from a man from New York City, for that is his birthplace. After that came a move by the Stanley family to Washington Township, N.J. He attended schools there and at Manuet, N.Y., and took his college work at St. John's and Catholic University (Washington, D.C.) where he decided he wanted to do something for the people.

"I'd studied journalism and I wanted to be a teacher. But, although I never lost the love of writing or teaching I decided that I could best serve the people while working for the church. I became a priest.

"I have never believed for one minute that I made the wrong choice. I felt that way when I was very low in spirit — when I was ordered to a drier climate by doctors. I knew that the trust I placed in my faith would support me.

"I'm sure that men of all faiths understand what I mean."

So 24 years of schooling, 23 years of priesthood, and untold hours of research have brought Fr. Stanley a stature — long and tall in the Panhandle.

In the time of his years — I'm older than I look — and we did not pin that statement down, Fr. Stanley has skipped through the learnings of English, as he said, "naturally," French, Italian, Spanish-Greek, Latin and German, acquiring fluent control of each, and an "understanding" of Hebrew, Armeanian, Romanian and Lithuanian.

From one of these languages, Spanish, comes his ability to bring services to Mexican farm workers of the area who would not, for the most part, understand the priest of the church they might attend.

It's a regular thing for Fr. Stanley to conduct such services. "It's a part of my work," he says calmly.

Now if that is a part of his work, folks of White Deer wonder where he finds time for other parts of his "work" and his goal to write this area of the Southwest "in fact."

He carries on his duties of the priesthood, conducts his services, visits the sick, aids the needy, comforts those who are suffering the mental hurt of death in the immediate family, speaks to gatherings and, in general, keeps busy as clergy of all faiths do. However, he takes time out to cause the postmaster of White Deer to shake his head in wonder.

"Fr. Stanley mailed some 9,000 pieces of mail in 1959," says the postmaster, in awe.

Much of this pertains to books he has in the making. At the present he has one ready for publication "about Christmas," and one come out about Easter.

And he loosed another on the market on Saturday, Aug. 6.

This book, "The Civil War in New Mexico," by Fr. Stanley (that's the way he signs his books) contains the little known list of soldiers who served for the Union forces in the Civil War and other pertinent data.

Much of the story of New Mexico's part in the Civil War has been told in other books. However, a role of those who participated in the Union cause has never before been listed. This Fr. Stanley obtained from Hardin - Simmons University, Abilene.

"It only proves that men of all faiths can work together if they so desire," Fr. Stanley smiled.

His research on this job was scanning 8,000 pages of microfilm, which meant days of viewing the films, noting this and that, checking dates and rollbacks for specific data.

"I was almost cross-eyed," he laughed. "But some of the boys who helped me, members of another (Baptist) faith, were eye-weary, too. I think all of us were happy when the job was done."

Fr. Stanley exhibits a vast knowledge of this area, over and above what he has published. He believes that we, as children, were taught wrong, in a sense, in that we were taught that Plymouth Rock is the symbol of the United States' birth.

"Long, long before anyone ever thought of Plymouth Rock fellows like Coronado, Cortez and Espajero were in the Southwest. They left a mark that will never be erased," he points out.

Fr. Stanley's discussion and the questions of the interview went from present day to far into the past of this nation — much of it before it was a nation. However, the talk leveled off towards the end and with it came an admission: Fr. Stanley, in a sense, drew a rejection slip in his first effort to pen a book!

His published efforts to date are: "Raton Chronicle," "The Grant that Maxwell Bought," "No Tears for Black Jack Ketchum," "On a Half Mile From Heaven," "Jim Courtwright," "Rodeo Town," "Clay Allison," "The Union, N.M.," "Ciudad Santa Fe," "Spanish Domination," "The Private War of Ike Stockton," "Socorro, The Oasis," "The Las Vegas (N.M.) Story," "Desperadoes of New Mexico," "The Picuris Story," "Life and Times of Archbishop J. B. Lamy," "The Montezuma Story," and the before mentioned "Civil War in New Mexico," plus several other books of lesser import and a long list of booklets, all pertaining to the Southwest and this area.

Rodeo Town is the story of Canadian, Texas, where, Fr. Stanley claims, despite the boasts of Pecos, the first professional rodeo was held.

The first, he said, was at Santa Fe, N.M., in 1834. But it was "All for fun and spectators were admitted free."

And then there is Fort Union. This one caused the city of Las Vegas, N.M., to raise such a hubbub in Washington for a national shrine to be made of the site that they got the job done.

So the little man goes forward in his quest to leave something other than of monetary value.

No doubt he has.

DPS Director Guesses At Death Total

AUSTIN (UPI) — Twenty-nine persons will die in the Labor Day holiday traffic next weekend in Texas, Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. predicted Saturday.

But not if the 125 extra patrolmen in the stepped-up enforcement drive of the department are successful, he added.

"It is significant to note, Garrison said, "In each of the 14 fatal accidents which occurred outside city limits last Labor Day weekend, at least one law violation was involved."

He said rural accident studies showed that excessive speed was involved in 10 of the 14 rural fatal accidents during the holiday period last year, and drinking was involved in half the rural fatalities.

"We hope the driving public will help this labor day weekend to prove that we have over-estimated the number of traffic fatalities that will occur in the three-day period," he said.

Last year's Labor Day period toll was 27, in 1958, 30, and the high for recent years was 48 in 1955.

Hopes Fade That WD Has Been 'De-Horned'

The Bucks of White Deer may not be as de-horned as some people were led to believe, even though Coach Colie Huffman has put three starters returning from last year's (8-2) squad.

Coach Huffman didn't imply as much, but he had high praise for the Bucks aspirants—46 in all—and singled out a number of linemen for outstanding efforts during practice.

Bob McAllister, Carl McAdam, Leland Knight, Dean Reed, Wayne Hughes, Larry Short, Phil Dittmer and Johnny Kotara received the coach's plaudits, along with Mike Helner, a back.

"These youngsters have shown well during training. We proud of the way they have gone at it so far. In fact, we're very pleased with the entire group," stated Huffman.

Of the nine lettermen returning to Class A Buck roster, three are starters: senior Quarterback Dickie Hanna, End Joe Grange and Halfback Tom Lester.

On the red ink side of things, Huffman has five men out with injuries. These boys have varied and when any of them will be able to enter action is not known.

Two men the coach was depending on won't be around. One quit school and the other, sprint ace Don Carter, has decided against playing ball this year.

"We'll miss Carter's speed," the coach noted.

White Deer meets Groom at 8 p.m. Friday on the Bucks' field. Of the contest Coach Huffman said:

"You know Kenny Miller. I've talked to him and he says things don't look too good. But Groom is always rough and we expect things to be hot Friday night."

The Schedule:

They'll Kill Us, Miller Says Of Bucks

Groom High School football coach Ken Miller this week summed up his squads chances against the Bucks of White Deer in this manner: "They'll kill us!"

Groom visits White Deer at 8 p.m. Friday in the season opener for both clubs.

Miller's Tigers are few in number. Twenty-five boys have been suited and of them Lloyd Littlefield, first string fullback, is sidelined for at least six weeks with a broken collar bone.

"Lloyd was hurt the second day of practice," said Miller. "We were depending on him quite a bit, and losing that boy puts a crimp in our plans."

Last season Groom took its conference crown before losing in the district, 13-6, to Happy. But Miller said "Don't expect that of us this year."

The former Howard Payne gridder has five starters back from last season: Jimmy Hudson, center; John and Herman Koetting guards; Don Case, tackle, and Robert Reed, halfback, of whom Miller says will have to be the backfield load.

Reed, at 165 pounds, isn't too fast, but Miller says he makes up for that with his power.

Groom's schedule is rough. It pits the Tigers against several Class A teams prior to going into its Class B conference play, and this, Miller says, could prove disastrous.

Club's Spirit 'Best Ever,' Says Coach

Canadian, touted as the team to beat in District 2-A, opens play Friday night against Wheeler.

Coach Grady Burnett didn't appear to be pleased with the honor handed his team, but he implied his club could take care of itself against just about all comers.

"This may not be the best team I've ever had," the coach said, "but it has more spirit and drive than any organization I've seen in the eight years I've been here."

If Canadian's gridders are hurting in any department, it is the line. In the backfield Burnett has six boys he doesn't separate, and he could take any of the group, select four to start, and they would get the job done.

At present, it appears his starters will be Terry Brown, quarterback; Delayne Stephenson, left halfback; Ron Summers, right halfback, and Sparky Eckles, fullback. But Rush Snyder and Frank Muir are pressing the veterans of the backfield and either of them could get the call.

This group is quite able. Burnett points this up when he notes that he shifts them around and they still perform well in other backfield positions.

"We've a good first team, but our reserves aren't as good as we'd like them," said the mentor.

In the line, Tom Waters and Ken Johnson, ends; Tom Lemons and John Rogers, tackles; Bill King and Marvin Longhofer, guards, and Glen Hostutler, center, will, the coach believes, have to go most of the way, for as he said, "After these things become rather dismal."

A loss that Burnett feels will be hard to overcome is the boy on whom he pinned his hopes to hold down the center slot, Bob Gober. This boy hurt his neck in a swimming mishap earlier in the year and is out for the season. Hostutler, a starting guard returnee for 1959, has been shifted to the spot Gober would have held down.

Lefors Grid Team Small But Scrappy

Small but scrappy Lefors High School gridders are working daily to get ready for their opener at 8 p.m. Friday at Panhandle, but Coach Ed Lehnick says things don't look too good for his Pirates.

"We were 1-8-1 last year. It's something that clings to the boys and you have to get that out of their heads. Thus we have a long way to go, but we should improve as we go along," said Lehnick.

Five returning starters from last season should ease the Pirate problem a bit. These boys, Junior Taylor, fullback; James Blair, end; Kenneth Fields, tackle; Wayne Timms and Doug Burress, guards, saw loads of action in 1959, and the experience should improve their play.

Lehnick is high on two halfbacks, Scott Dunham and Bill Jernigan, whom he says should aid the Pirate cause as they go through the season.

Three teams especially are bothering Coach Lehnick: Stinet, Wellington and Shamrock.

"Shamrock and Wellington are going to be rough for us. But Stinet, they're really rough! They have been chosen No. One in the state, you know," the coach noted.

Lefors' conference opponents (Class 2-A) are McLean, Clarendon, Canadian and Memphis.

Ft. Worth Fails In LL Title Bid

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—Joe Mormello, a fast-balling right-hander who can hit home runs, pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Fort Worth, Tex., 5-0, Saturday to give Levittown, Pa., the Little League world championship.

The 12-year-old Mormello struck out 16 batters and walked only two as the Pennsylvania team gained the title in its first year of competition in the tournament.

He hit a 215-foot homer in the opening inning with Chet Gardner on base to supply enough runs for victory as he throttled the Texas nine. The drive was his ninth homer in competition this year.

Only one batter reached third on Mormello, a 105-pound moundsman who chalked up his seventh straight triumph for the season. Rickey Gaither drew a walk from Mormello and advanced on a passed ball and wild pitch.

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Any lingering hope that Sen. John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholicism would not be a real issue in this presidential campaign must, by now, have vanished. That may prove to be the most significant fact of this campaign year.

The religious issue remains in the news. It seems to be solidly imbedded in the political campaign. Since Kennedy's nomination for President by last month's Democratic National Convention, the nation's newspapers have been freckled with evidence that his religion is a matter of much importance to many voters.

For example: From Danville, Va., last week came news of a group of Protestant preachers who adopted a resolution "opposing the election of a Roman Catholic to the presidency." Such groups are active in many Southern communities.

Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina is on record as believing that Kennedy would win overwhelmingly in the South, but for his religion. John B. McDermott is the well informed political editor of the Miami (Fla.) Herald, a Knight newspaper. A fortnight ago, McDermott analyzed returns from spot political checks in 12 Southern and Border states. McDermott wrote:

"The Democrats with their John Kennedy-Lyndon Johnson ticket will have trouble keeping the once solid South in line.

"The religious issue—the Catholicism of Kennedy—seems to be the dominant concern. It apparently is preying even more on the minds of voters than are civil rights or the uncertainty of the international situation, the cold war.

"The spot check survey indicates that religion is almost as much an issue as it was in 1928 when Catholic Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, went down to defeat to Republican Herbert Hoover—all of which adds up to votes for the 1960 Republican ticket."

The Atlanta (Ga.) Journal and Constitution did a similar spot check. Notable in the returns was this written by contributor Grover C. Hall Jr., editor of the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser:

"The almost unvarying testimony (of those questioned) indicated that at this time Nixon and Lodge are strong in Alabama.

Recognition For Fireman Paul Skidmore

Fireman Paul Skidmore has been awarded the Senior Fireman Award of the Pampa Fire Department by the Allstate Insurance Companies. The presentation of the award in the presence of Chief J. E. Winborne and the rest of the Fire Department, was presented by company representative Mark Buzzard in recognition of long and devoted service by safe guarding the lives and property in the community.

Skidmore's outstanding dedication to duty merits the appreciation of all the fellow citizens in Pampa. He started with the Department in 1947 and has faithfully served ever since.

Allstate began its search for the Senior Fireman in Texas about two months ago. A winner has not yet been selected as all fire departments in the State are being contacted and recommendations are still coming in. The State's Senior Fireman (length of service), when determined in the next few weeks, will be guest of honor at a function either in Dallas or Houston and will receive a weekend expense paid vacation for him and his immediate family at the Lost Valley Ranch in Bandera, Texas.

Penny In Change Worth $10,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Caro Martin, 35, paid his breakfast check of 52 cents Wednesday and may have received about $10,000 in change.

For Martin, a bank clerk and amateur coin collector, spotted a copper 1943 penny minted in Denver.

He rushed it to coin dealer Edward Baker who first offered him $100, $200 and then $10,000. A gasping Martin refused the offers so he could take time to think it over.

Meanwhile, a dispute has arisen over the coin's authenticity.

The Denver Mint and U. S. Mint in Washington have expressed doubts that there were any copper pennies minted in 1943. The pennies in that wartime year were steel with zinc coating.

Leland Howard, assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint in Washington said that other alleged wartime copper pennies have turned out to have been copper plated or else to have had their dates altered.

But Baker said he had given the coin acid, weight and magnetic tests and was convinced it was genuine. He said it appeared to show normal wear. Baker said he had reports of one other such coin.

Martin, married and the father of three, said he was "penniless—except for the one penny." He came to the United States from England in 1955.

Current plans call for Martin and Baker to put it up for auction. Other dealers have estimated that if it is genuine, it will bring up to $25,000.

Jugged By Bull

CIEZA, Spain (UPI)—Matador Luis Seguca was arrested Thursday for not fighting the bull.

Seguca, one of Spain's top bullfighters, did well with his first bull on the program, but refused to enter the ring for the second, which bullfight critics judged "ridiculous"—impossible to fight.

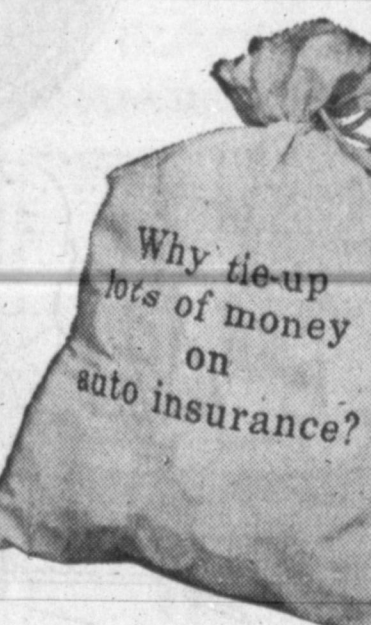

The bull was taken out of the ring alive and Seguca was taken to a police station. He faces a possible fine or jail sentence for not fulfilling his contract.

WITH ALL THE rain we have had, the trees and grass and flowers are beginning to look like Fall already . . . but the hot days belie this fact . . . if you happen to be outside late at night these days you may look up and notice the beautiful display of stars . . . somehow the approaching autumn skies are more brilliant than the summer ones . . . and one of our favorite constellations is in the South in all its glory . . . that of Scorpio or Scorpion . . . the big "fishhook" we like to see . . . pretty soon the guiding constellation of Winter will begin to appear . . . that of Orion . . . we recall a gem somewhere, that, is, a fragment of it that read . . . Orion throws a leg over the horizon and leaning on the mountains, regards the sleeping "winter world" . . . or words to that effect . . . anyhow, it is a beautiful group of stars . . . seems to us people don't look at the stars as much as in former times . . . why don't you go buy a starbook and give it a try . . . of course, what brought this up was craning my neck to see the Echo satellite the past week or so!

WE DON'T SEEM to be inspired today . . . maybe it is the summer doldrums . . . with everyone marking time until school begins this week, time hangs heavy in one sense, that seems the day will never come . . . and flies in the sense that there doesn't seem to be time enough to get all the clothes, and the notebooks bought . . . most of the children know are ready for school to begin . . . they're getting tired with summer . . . have you noticed the crop of peaches that various Pampa people have had on their trees this year? . . . the usual spring frost didn't get to them . . . and Margery Schwind, on the corner of Williston and Pecator had a peach tree so loaded we were afraid for its branches every time we drove by . . . we could see the load of fruit from the fence . . . wonder how much jam and preserves she made . . . and Bob and Johnnie Syper had a loaded tree . . . but she made some preserves . . . also, Maryl Jones' tree was loaded . . . and speaking of Maryl, her daughter Pat is in a whirl of sewing and so on, preparing to return to Rice Institute this Fall . . . Carl Kitto will be turning to Pre-Medical studies at Canyon, also, while we are on the subject of returning students . . . we really envy those going to college . . . it is hard work and so much fun . . . the best kind of combination; for both work and fun are satisfying.

SINCE WE ARE ON AN APPARENTLY semi- or pseudo-philosophical bent this morning, let us throw this out for that it's worth . . . Rebecca McCann says, "You cannot at your cake and have it. So the cautious wise ones wait, but I shall eat mine willy-nilly — Otherwise it might get stale!" . . . could be.

WE SINCERELY hope and trust in the speedy recovery of two Pampa's citizens . . . THE summer reading program of the Library was to have had its picnic celebration last Friday . . . Mrs. Helen Blewett is the children's librarian-pal and has been helping the children "build" houses of books all summer . . . when the house was built, it was "shingled" with additional books read . . . get the Chamber of Commerce will really be popping with ideas and enthusiasm in the near future . . . E. O. Wedgeworth, manager, will be full of ideas after attending a conference with the theme "New Ideas," match, in Odessa . . . a Chamber of Commerce does a big job in helping citizens of a city in many ways . . . we found out what Eleanor Waggoner has been doing of late . . . she is working on a brand new feature in the Women's section of the Sunday papers coming soon . . . a shopping column . . . watch for it about the 11th of September . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. John McCausland are having a marvelous vacation in Mexico City, we're sure . . . that is a fine place to vacation . . . maybe we'll make it, too, someday.

WHILE some students are going back to school . . . some are just getting out . . . for instance, James Lee Parrish was graduated from Texas Technological College at the end of the summer term last week . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parrish went to Lubbock to watch the proceedings . . . trouble is . . . he, James, that is, is going right back for more . . . a Master's Degree . . . we're glad to see that something concrete (no pun intended) will be done in the near future on the Community and Youth Center . . . by next March, building should be a reality, after all the hard work put in on the project . . . aren't you delighted that the Starkweather crossing of the railroad tracks is now so gloriously smooth? . . . we are . . . Laura even wore red and white shoes . . . but the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jones, "stole the show" of the guests, with a floor length white sheath dress and matching shoes and headdress . . . the flowers were magnificent . . . every third row of seats was decorated with white mums . . . there must have been thousands of them! . . . a truly beautiful wedding for a beautiful bride . . . some former Pampans we noticed at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Foote . . . and the E. Mental Health Probed At Altrusa Club Meet

A decorous sign attached to a garden fence, reading "Psychiatrist Office, Hours 7 to 9:30 p.m., Tonight Only" directed Altrusa Club members to the patio at the home of Mrs. Ray E. Wilson, 2145 Chestnut, for a salad supper on Monday evening.

The Public Affairs Committee presented a program on "Mental Health, entitled "Psychiatry-On-The-Patio" with Miss Rosemary Lawson as Dr. X. X. Xavier, the psychiatrist and Jay Flanagan as the doctor's receptionist. Appearing as "patients" were Mmes. Pampa Towne (Inez Carter); Rose Trellis (Thelma Bray); Era Aide (Dorothy Tooley); Renee Dauphine (Gladya Robinson); Demmie Strator (Lou Ella Patterson); and Nola Newsworthy (Doris Wilson). The "doctor" probed into the "patients' minds relative to content and discontent with childhood and adulthood lives. Costumes for the doctor and receptionist were furnished by Kelley-Laycock Clinic.

Prefacing the program, Mrs. Wilson, Public Affairs chairman, announced that pamphlets on mental health, which had been placed at each guest's place on the dining tables, were provided through the courtesy of The Hogg Foundation, Information Services, University of Texas, Austin.

The pamphlet entitled "The Nature of Mental Health", written by Henry A. Bowman, TU Sociology professor and consultant for The Hogg Foundation for Mental Health brought out that "mental health" may be defined as the ability to function effectively and happily as a person in one's expected role in a group. It is a condition of the whole personality and is not merely a condition of the "mind," as often supposed. It is an outgrowth of one's total life and is promoted or hindered by day-by-day experiences, not only by major crises as some assume.

"Mental health," Professor Bowman writes, "is also a matter of degree. There is no hard and fast line between health and illness. It is not a simple matter to divide the population into two distinct groups, namely, those who should be hospitalized and those who should not. Many of us at one time or another exhibit traits and patterns of behavior which, if accentuated and continuous, would make us candidates for psychiatric care."

Professor Bowman covers in the pamphlet "The Nature of Personality," "Security," "Self-Preservation," "Love," "Sense Of Belonging," "Communication," "Growth," "Maturity," "Sense of Self," "Acceptance and Development," "Maturity," of Self. "Sense of Self" (See MENTAL, Page 17)

Vows Exchanged By Martin-Mayo In Rites

First Methodist Church, Borger, was the scene for the exchange of vows repeated by Judy Kathleen Martin and N. Calvin Mayo on August 19 at seven o'clock. Miss Martin's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin Jr. of Borger. Mr. Mayo's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Mayo, west of the city. The Rev. Lolyd Hamilton officiated for the exchange of doubling vows before an altar decorated with baskets of pink gladioli and white mums flanked by candelabra. Mrs. E. F. Copeland, organist, provided the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Susie Wise as she sang "Because," "The Lord's Prayer." BRIDE Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white rosewood tulle taffeta with a bodice of imported Flemish lace designed with a Peter Pan collar, three-quarter length sleeves. The princess-style, floor length skirt, ending in a chapel train, was accented with lace motifs applied on front of skirt. A finger-tip veil of scalloped tulle was secured to a Juliette Cap of Lace encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid centered in a crescent shape bouquet encircled with white carnations and accented with velvet leaves outlined with pearls, showered with satin streamers. DRIVE WITH CAUTION

AND SAFEGUARD THE LIVES OF ALL OUR CHILDREN

SAFETY IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

WHEN IN DOUBT, "STOP"!

YOU, nobody but YOU controls YOUR car! If You are involved in an accident . . . it a child is injured or killed . . .

YOU are responsible! Remember, children are hasty, unable to exercise judgement, it is up to YOU to watch out for them, to be extra-cautious, extra-alert! YOUR judgement as an adult has qualified you for a driver's license . . . so YOU must accept the responsibility for the safety of our children by taking more than usual care, by being always on the alert! You can NEVER replace a life!

The first rule of safety is . . . SLOW DOWN AND LIVE! Those few extra moments you spend driving slowly may save a child's life, perhaps YOUR OWN! Be sure your car is in top mechanical condition! Poor brakes and slippery tires can, in an emergency, mean death instead of life! Best of all, learn to understand and obey all traffic laws! They were written for good reason . . . in the interest of YOUR safety and the safety of others!

REMEMBER, SAFETY IS NO ACCIDENT! BE SURE TO DRIVE CAREFULLY . . . TO PROTECT OUR CHILDREN

Pampa Optimists' Fine Work

With the close of the Little League baseball season, it is time to recognize that splendid group of Pampa citizens who make up the Optimist Clubs for the outstanding job they have done in constructively directing the energies of 800 young boys this summer. The whole Little League program, which embraces around 300 clubs, requires a great deal of planning, coordination and time and it is to the outstanding credit of Pampa Optimists that this effort has been so successful. Not to be overlooked are the approximately 350 interested citizens who pledge to support the

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK—More cut notes: Magistrate Edward D. Calizza is a jurist who should go far. . . A bride of three weeks was in his court the other day and she was dressed in slacks and pullover, and was lovely as well. . . Judge Calizza did not frown, yell, become icily stern or otherwise make judicial noises. . . He only said calmly: "You are much too pretty a girl to dress that way. You'd be much prettier in a dress, but you come into this court looking like a man." . . . He postponed the traffic citation hearing until the next day, suggesting she wear a dress at that time. . . "He made me think I ought to go home and burn all my slacks," she said outside court. "He is a gallant man." . . . Finance company ad in the New York subway: "Play now — pay later." . . . Is the misplacement of the "I" perhaps a clue to what is wrong with our way of life? . . . There was a time in our country when the thirty-sound rule was "pay now — play later." . . . You earned and saved your way to entertainment and relaxation. . . You bought a house for $10,000 cash, and that is what it actually cost you. . . Have you ever sat down and added up the interest you pay on a mortgage during, say, a 15-year term? . . . It takes almost nine years of that time for the interest payments and principal payments just to equalize. . . If you bought a house recently for $15,000, say, on a 15-year mortgage, add up, friend, and see what you have actually lost. . . I am not yet old enough to puff my pipe and give sage, grave but annoying advice to the young, I hope, but the credo of "have it now — pay for it some other time" covering travel, houses, appliances, cars and all other items is breaking your back just with interest charges. . . For example: a $2,500 car. If paid for in cash, that is

KENNEDY GETS DRAMATIC SOUTHERN BACKING

WASHINGTON — There was a dramatic moment at that luncheon Senator Kennedy and Johnson had with all but two of their Southern colleagues. . . .

Never So Much Alike

There has probably never been a time in American history when the American voter had so little choice between in a national residential election. . . . Great numbers of presumably conservative Americans expressed themselves as "shocked" over the outright socialist and communist policies presented in the Democratic party platform. . . . But if conservative Americans any there is some kind of "good" party of Abe Lincoln hue, they are going to have to suffer profound disillusionment. . . . Since Nixon and Rockefeller got together on that fateful day in July, the Republicans have been out and out exponents for the very same things the Democrats have called for. . . . Nixon and Kennedy stand for exactly the same things. The only difference between the two is the one based upon personalities and personal preferences. So far as issues are concerned, there isn't a difference, worthy of comment. . . . Let's take a good look at the Republican position. . . . How is it on business? . . . There is to be bigger than ever government with "massive new federal spending and loose money policies." . . . End "featherbedding practices by labor and business" both of which objectives will require new governmental bureaus and new tax money. . . . How about the budget? . . . The Republicans want to see the budget in balance EXCEPT in war or recession. In other words, government spending is to be used if the inflation hits — or if war comes. No possible surcease from pain for the wage earner or the business man is to be found here under GOP control. . . . How about labor? . . . The Republicans want to "give labor-reform laws a tryout before bringing any change." They call for corrections of "defects" in the Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act, with nothing done to eliminate the basic flaws. They want to compel a new minimum wage level and they seek to extend it to "several million" more workers. . . . They seek to assure "equal pay for equal work regardless of sex." (See the Russian Constitution for proper wording). . . . How about the farm program? . . . There is to be a "crash research program" launched at taxpayers' expense. "Rigid controls" for farming are to be rejected but there is to be an increase in soil-bank activities. . . . What about the old folks? . . . Social Security under the Republicans is to be expanded and "liberalized." There will be no age minimum now on disability benefits. . . . What about health? . . . Federal aid for building schools

About American Spending

Maurice H. Stans, budget director of the federal government, made some pretty astute remarks recently at a Chamber of Commerce meeting at Newark, New Jersey. His observations were carried in the Wall Street Journal of August 2 and are deserving of all attention. . . . Mr. Stans pointed out that there are a pair of widely-held theories respecting government and the economy responsible for much of our malaise today. . . . He lists these two theories as: . . . The viewpoint that money will solve all problems, that the faster the money flows the quicker the problems will be solved, that the best way to spend money and to solve all problems is thru the "cash" program. . . . The viewpoint that whenever we view the federal government for money we are only asking to spend "the other fellow's money." . . . Stans goes on to show that much of our thinking in this nation is now geared to the Russian potential rather than to the American potential. . . . He asks categorically, "Are we as strong and secure against economic attack, as we are militarily? Can we run the risks of laying Russian roulette with inflation? Can we continue to demand more of government than we are willing to pay for in taxes? Can we allow ourselves any longer the delusion that if money comes from Washington someone else provides it? Can we fight with full strength under a tax burden that discourages in-

of medicine, dentistry, public health, and nursing is in the works. Government is to get more power to combat river pollution. Also, the federal government will get into the air pollution problem. More power, bigger bureaus, larger expenditures of tax money called for all around. . . . What about education? . . . Federal aid for building government schools and college buildings. Student loans and fellowship programs are to be enlarged at taxpayers' expense. A new commission is to be created to advise the president. . . . Mining industries are to be subsidized. New water projects are to be developed. A "Mission 76" program to improve national park facilities is to be launched when the present "Mission 66" program winds up. . . . There's to be a citizen's board to "inventory" federal lands and study future federal requirements for parks and other recreational areas. More tax money needed for these things. . . . If all of the above looks strikingly like the Democratic Party platform we can only say that we suspect the similarity is intentional and not accidental. The Republicans have pretty well concluded that the way to win and hold office is to go the socialist route. The Democrats decided that during the days of FDR's regime, . . . erodes initiative; government by credit card, which piles up unending accumulations of debt; and the final destroyer, inflation, which if allowed to ride unchecked would wipe out the values of savings, pensions and insurance." . . . This problem of the Four Horsemen rests, Stans pointed out, not upon the president exclusively but upon all of us. True, the government has brought it about, but certainly not without private connivance and cooperation. . . . When it comes to the federal debt, Stans points out, as we have done before in this space, that the total of debt is far more than the $290 billion generally acknowledged as being the amount owed by the government. That, as he observes, is merely the interest-bearing debt. . . . In addition to this encumbrance there are contingent liabilities which run the federal obligations up to something much closer to $750 billion. And this sum of money rests like a weight upon future generations and may defy our ability ever to lift it from the shoulders of any group of Americans at any time. . . . "These enemies," says Stans, "if we don't control them, can destroy our national vigor much easier than it would succumb to Soviet attack." . . . And he concludes by saying: "Let's remember one lesson from history: Economic soundness may not guarantee national greatness, but no nation can hope for greatness without it."

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political gift from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be content with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence. . . . This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost potentials.

ROBERT S. ALLEN
PAUL SCOTT

KENNEDY GETS DRAMATIC SOUTHERN BACKING

WASHINGTON — There was a dramatic moment at that luncheon Senator Kennedy and Johnson had with all but two of their Southern colleagues. . . .

of medicine, dentistry, public health, and nursing is in the works. Government is to get more power to combat river pollution. Also, the federal government will get into the air pollution problem. More power, bigger bureaus, larger expenditures of tax money called for all around. . . . What about education? . . . Federal aid for building government schools and college buildings. Student loans and fellowship programs are to be enlarged at taxpayers' expense. A new commission is to be created to advise the president. . . . Mining industries are to be subsidized. New water projects are to be developed. A "Mission 76" program to improve national park facilities is to be launched when the present "Mission 66" program winds up. . . . There's to be a citizen's board to "inventory" federal lands and study future federal requirements for parks and other recreational areas. More tax money needed for these things. . . . If all of the above looks strikingly like the Democratic Party platform we can only say that we suspect the similarity is intentional and not accidental. The Republicans have pretty well concluded that the way to win and hold office is to go the socialist route. The Democrats decided that during the days of FDR's regime, . . . erodes initiative; government by credit card, which piles up unending accumulations of debt; and the final destroyer, inflation, which if allowed to ride unchecked would wipe out the values of savings, pensions and insurance." . . . This problem of the Four Horsemen rests, Stans pointed out, not upon the president exclusively but upon all of us. True, the government has brought it about, but certainly not without private connivance and cooperation. . . . When it comes to the federal debt, Stans points out, as we have done before in this space, that the total of debt is far more than the $290 billion generally acknowledged as being the amount owed by the government. Police Fear For Life Of Kidnaped Girl

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UPI) — Hope dwindled here that a 17-year-old girl kidnaped by a lover's lane gunman would be found alive.

"Did you ever have that feeling you would find someone dead?" Sheriff Dean West said. "I have that feeling."

West led parties of searchers, about 100 law officers and civil defense workers, on foot through the western half of the 44,000-acre Crab Orchard national Wildlife refuge. It was in this area that a young gunman kidnaped Mary Robert and shot and wounded her escort, John Bryant, 20.

Bryant, hospitalized in Carbondale with a bullet wound in the face, could give only a hazy account of the abduction.

Bryant said a stranger drove up as he and Miss Roberts were parked in a lover's lane. The stranger ordered Bryant out of the car and shot him. He took the youth's wallet and then dragged Miss Roberts into his own car and sped away.

Bryant tried to follow but lapsed from loss of blood and found by a passing motorist.
