Khrushchev Sets Down Conditions Under Which Soviets Will Drop U2 Plane Issue

CofC Installs At Banquet

New officers and directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development were formally installed last night for the 1960-61 year at a dinner meeting of chamber officials and special guests in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

CHARLEY YOUNG... installing officer

The duties of office and a guide to follow during the coming year were declared in a challenge to the incoming group by Charley Young, manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. Young set forth in his speech general objectives that he said should be sought by a chamber of commerce and described means to carry out an effective program.

In being charged with accepting the duties of officers and directors, Young told the group that one of the prime reasons for a chamber of commerce is to move "men and women to work on a voluntary basis to make a community a better place in which to live."

Chamber president Hershel Wilks presided over the meeting and introduced Young and other guests. Wilks will serve as president of the chamber until the night of Oct. 25 when E. Roy Smith will assume the presidency at the annual membership meeting in the cafeteria of Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

In accepting the presidency of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, Smith said, "It is my hope to see during my term of office a functioning organization to encourage more business and industry for Pampa." He mentioned that groundwork already has been laid in that respect and indicated that additional effort would be exercised in that direction.

American Executed By Cubans

HAVANA (UPI)—An American of seven Cubans were executed today under the rifles of the Premier Fidel Castro's first squads. Reliable sources said the U.S. embassy had asked the Castro government for clemency in the case of the American, identified variously as Anthony Salvard, Salvart Zarba of Boston, Mass. Official sources said his sister, Virginia McCrocklin, lives in Miami. In Miami, Mrs. McCrocklin said she had not heard from her brother, Anthony Salvard, for several weeks but that so far as she knew he was working on a construction job in Florida. She said she had "information which leads me to believe" that the man sentenced in Cuba is not her brother but a man named who is using her brother's name. She would not say where (See AMERICAN, Page 4)

Civil Rights Gains Praised

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General William P. Rogers today lashed out at criticism of the Eisenhower administration's record on civil rights as unjustified and harmful to this country's reputation abroad. Rogers asserted in a statement released by the Justice Department that the United States "has made its greatest strides forward in the field of civil rights" in more than 80 years under Eisenhower's leadership. Without referring to Democratic attacks on the administration's civil rights record, Rogers said: "Failure to recognize and acknowledge this is needlessly to tarnish our national standing before the world." Rogers said the administration did not only push two civil rights bills through Congress but "vigorously" prosecuted civil rights cases in the courts.

Senatorial Candidate Is Club Speaker

John Tower, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate seat of Lyndon Johnson, yesterday spoke to the Pampa Rotary Club on the subject of the essential differences between the Republican and Democratic parties. Tower pointed out that where the Democratic party emphasized the concept of the welfare state, the Republican party held to the position that the best way to foster well-being was through the voluntary enterprise system. One of the essentials of these differing philosophies, the speaker stated, was their respective views concerning money policies; with the Republicans holding to the non-inflationary position and the Democrats realizing less concern for policies which would cheapen the dollar. Tower summed up his contrast between the two parties by saying the Democrats are essentially liberal and the Republicans conservative. Visitors and guests of the club were J. C. Robb, Tom Snow, J. N. McDaniel, Frank Pheland, Fred Cary, Marvin Cooper, Frank Culbertson, W. T. Seitz, Milo Carlson and William Steger. Republican candidates for governors.

Candidates To Debate Matsu, Quemoy Issue

By United Press International The presidential candidates take to the voters tonight in the third TV "great debate" their big and bitter fight over whose Quemoy-Matsu policy could plunge the nation into war.

The question-and-answer session will be staged against a backdrop of concern by military leaders that the blazing campaign controversy could damage the U.S. military position in the Far East.

The candidates' positions on Quemoy and Matsu, outlined in their second debate last Friday and battled over ever since, basically are these: —Kennedy feels the Nationalist Chinese mainland are indefensible. He wants them abandoned before any Red Chinese invasion drags this country into a war. —Nixon believes the islands are bastions of freedom that should be defended as a matter of principle. He says the Communists would use them as way stations to the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa 100 miles off the mainland.

Irish Temper Stops A U.N. Session Donnybrook

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—An Irishman's temper very likely stopped a roughhouse Russian from turning the 99-nation General Assembly into a free-for-all fist fight.

Frederick H. Boland ended a Communist display of pyrotechnics with such an angry blow on his desk Wednesday night that it broke the head of his gavel. In a voice he obviously struggled to keep calm, the gray-haired General Assembly president snapped out: "I am sure the assembly will see that in view of the scene we have just witnessed the appropriate step is that the assembly should be adjourned at once and it is hereby adjourned."

The astounding action cut off a flow of Communist abuse and vituperation that had brought the air in the blue and gold assembly chamber—designed to foster calm deliberations—to white heat. More than one delegate said in the lounge afterward that if the ruddy-faced Irishman had not called a halt the General Assembly probably would have witnessed its first fist fight. Khrushchev started it all and he heads for home tonight leaving a vast deposit of ill will that will need months or years to soothe—if it ever can be done. Where delegates once called Kennedy labeled Nixon's Quemoy-Matsu policy (See CANDIDATES, Page 4)

Stability Of Japan Government Threatened By Asanuma Murder

By TONY KASE United Press International TOKYO (UPI)—Violent left-wing and Communist protests over the assassination of Socialist party Chairman Inejiro Asanuma forced the resignation of Japan's security chief today and threatened the stability of the government itself. Two thousand policemen armed with clubs and pistols and backed up by a dozen armored trucks scattered groups of fanatical Zengakuren students who tried to mount new demonstrations outside Parliament and Premier Hayato Ikeda's home. By threatening arrests and ordering the demonstrators to "keep moving" they hoped to head off a buildup to the type of massive bloody riots that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit last June and ultimately led to the resignation of Premier Nobusuke Kishi. Ikeda, hoping to escape the same fate, met with his cabinet and accepted the resignation of his anti-Communist state police minister, Iwao Yamazaki. The security chief was a member of the prewar jingoist "Political Friends Association" and was purged from politics by U.S. occupation authorities. Asanuma, an outspoken foe of the U.S.-Japan military pact and friendly toward Communist China, was stabbed to death before the eyes of Ikeda and about 1,000 other horrified persons during a political rally here Wednesday night. His assassin was a 17-year-old ultra-nationalist student, Otoya Yamaguchi.

The Communists and other leftists quickly seized on the assassination as a campaign springboard for the national elections expected in mid-November. A victory for the Socialists could jeopardize the military alliance between the United States and Japan. The influential Japan Times said the slaying "may perhaps obscure issues which call for calm and careful consideration" by the voters. It urged the government to take measures to prevent political terrorism from again becoming a major factor in Japan's political life. Other newspapers expressed similar worry.

U.S. Immediately Rejects Proposal To Express 'Regrets' Before Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that if the United States expresses "regrets" in the General Assembly for its U2 and RB 47 flights over the Soviet Union, Russia will drop the issue in the United Nations. The United States immediately rejected the Soviet demand. "If the government of the United States will not wish to show good will and will not condemn the practice of sending its spy planes to the Soviet Union and other countries," Khrushchev said, "the United Nations should in all strictness condemn such aggressive actions."

Khrushchev, flushed with his first UN victory achieved this morning when the Assembly unanimously approved his demand for floor debate on his proposal to immediately free all colonial peoples, pressed at once for a second victory. It was a minor victory since Khrushchev could still lose on the main issue when his plan comes up for a formal vote later in the session. Khrushchev warned in a speech today the Western powers would "try to wiggle out" of final agreement.

Khrushchev, who had indulged in a minor outburst of table-pounding at start of today's session, showed restraint as he spoke in favor of assembly rather than committee debate on his proposal. It was in sharp contrast to his fist-pounding, shoe-waving histrionics of Wednesday night. The vote was taken without a ballot after the United States and Britain withdrew their objection to taking the question up in the assembly without first sending it to the less formal Political Committee for discussion. Khrushchev took the rostrum after U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore announced their countries' decision. "I shake their hand," Khrushchev said. "I clasp it." Then he added, "I should like to give warning. This is only a procedural matter. You can see how they are going to try to wiggle their way out when we discuss the substance of the matter." Before speaking Khrushchev had applauded Wilcox's statement—perhaps the only time of this tempestuous session he has applauded an American speaker. President Sekou Toure of Guinea rebuked Communist delegates for their rowdy heckling which led President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland to adjourn the unruly session Wednesday. Boland, who broke up the session by pounding so hard with his gavel that it split, was equipped with a brand new brown wooden one today. "We deeply and bitterly regretted and deplored the fact that the last statement which led our president to adjourn Wednesday night's meeting was far from being imbued with a constructive spirit," Toure said.

Delegates Give Data To CAB

A group of Pampa and Gray County officials appeared before Civil Aeronautics Board examiner Herbert K. Bryan at Amarillo yesterday to seek north-south airline service and came away convinced that this city has an excellent chance of air service. "We believe we'll get the service, but it will probably be 18 months before it comes about," said E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, one of the men who supported the city's plea in the hearing. Gray County Judge Bill Craig presented the request and later Mayor Ed Myatt told the examiner that "Pampa is isolated from air and rail service. "If one wishes air transportation from Pampa he must go to Amarillo to catch his plane, and if he wishes rail transportation (north-south) he must either go to Clarendon or Amarillo." He pointed out that this has been the case although Pampa "has continued to grow and transportation facilities have continued to diminish." Pampa representatives pointed out that Perry Lefors Airport, five miles north of the city, is adequate for airline service. It was turned over to Gray County by the Federal government in 1950. Others supporting Pampa's request at the hearing were: E. Roy Smith, who replaced Clayton Husted in the representative group; City Manager John Kootz, who filled in for J. W. Thompson; Frank Smith, chairman of the Merchants' Activity Committee of the chamber; H. V. Wilks, president of the chamber; Hugh Burdette, vice-president of the Western Division, Cabot Corp.; Leon Fain, Celanese Co.; Floyd Watson, vice-president of the First National Bank, and Jack Miller of the Texas Railroad Commission. Working For Republicans

AUSTIN (UPI)—Former Gov. Allan Shivers said today he will introduce Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson at a speech Monday night in Fort Worth's Amon Carter Square. Shivers will also join Anderson in speaking to a lunch meeting earlier in the day. Anderson, a Texan, is to make a three-day campaign visit to the state under the sponsorship of the Fort Worth Democrats for Nixon and Lodge. Wednesday night at Hallettsville, Shivers charged the Democratic proposals are the same as those once rejected by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Shivers planned to campaign today in Corsicana, Decatur and Denton. In his Hallettsville talk, he said that even Henry A. Wallace, who served as vice president under Roosevelt, considered Kennedy's program "impossible." "The Kennedy program is too wild for me," Shivers said. He pointed out that Wallace recently said that the program advocated by the Democratic standard bearer was essentially the one rejected by FDR because it would result in "prices so high it would have been impossible to enforce." "These farm experts, young millionaire Jack Kennedy and the Harvard professor (John K. Gal- (See SHIVERS, Page 4)

Shivers Says Kennedy Program 'Too Wild'

A three-year-old boy is in Highland General Hospital today after being struck by a car in front of his home at 1309 Garland, late yesterday afternoon. Franklin Leo Burton, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Burton, was struck by a car driven by Thomas H. Glover, 328 N. Dwight, who told investigating police officers that the child darted into the path of his car from behind another auto when he was pulling from the curb. He said that he didn't have a chance to miss the young boy. Dr. Richard D. Falkenstein said the child suffered head cuts and that he was in "satisfactory condition at this time but he will have to be watched for several days." Glover was not cited, according to Police Chief Jim Conner.

Rep. Walter Rogers will be principal speaker for the meeting at 8:30 p.m. today of District 10, Texas Oil Jobbers and Commercial Marketers, which will be held in the Coronado Inn. George Scott, a local member of the organization, said that a number of out-of-town representatives of the unit will attend, along with L. K. Long of Irvine, state president.

Walter Rogers Reports

Regarding Interstate Commerce Group

Grover Cleveland, presiding over one of the more obscure eras in American history, signed an act on February 4, 1887 which established the first of the nation's independent regulatory agencies. For more than 20 years the country's railroad barons had wrapped themselves in a cloak of almost unparalleled arrogance and abuse. The existing mechanisms of both state and federal governments had failed to restrain exorbitant rates and ruthless monopolies. Public patience had thinned to the breaking point.

Thus the Interstate Commerce Commission was born. Long and diligent efforts had been made to solve the railroad problem in more traditional ways. Yet only in the previous year had the Supreme Court ruled, in the Wabash case, that the individual states could not interfere with the interstate railroads even within their own boundaries. And in every year since 1878 Congressman John H. Reagan of Texas had sought a bill to correct the more outstanding abuses without establishing a formal commission.

But when the Supreme Court decision had made the railroad situation even more demanding, Congress finally hammered out a compromise bill which added an organized commission to the Reagan proposals. Twenty states had already experimented with various types of regulatory bodies. It was believed that a federal group would offer experience, expert opinion, arbitration, and protection for the public. It was also felt that such a body would be incapable of discretion, subject to domination, immersed in politics, and generally overwhelmed by the job.

In almost three quarters of a century the ICC has seen its scope and its duties expanded many times, yet the arguments for and against its existence are essentially the same now as in 1877. The railroad carriers have been joined by trucks, busses, and other motor transports while the subtle understanding necessary for proper regulation has increased many fold. The original commission was weak and subject to the disfavor of court and railroads. But through a long series of major revisions, the most recent in 1938, the ICC in many cases has become the final authority.

The forms of transportation under jurisdiction of the ICC today enjoy in many cases a highly responsible position. This is especially true in the smaller towns and cities where the transportation choices are severely limited or even non-existent. The commission watchdogs this position and deals with such diverse matters as the establishment of time zones for the nation and the periodic inspection of locomotives.

But of foremost concern to every consumer are two major duties. The ICC can prevent a carrier from imposing an increase in rates which is held to be unjust. Thousands of rates increases are made each year, of course, with no attention from the commission. But if a protest is made the raise can be blocked. The nation's transportation lines must also maintain reasonable through routes so that a trip between two large cities is not disrupted with unnecessary delays and changes.

In addition the ICC is expected to uphold the advantages of each form of transportation and to prevent any proposed merger which would be harmful to the public interest. It supervises the operation of the countless safety devices which would be harmful to the public interest. It supervises the operation of the countless safety devices which have been invented over the years and administers railroad-bankruptcy actions. Generally speaking, it has been handed the land and water transportation problems in one gigantic bundle, together with a gay note from the rest of the government asking it to do the best it can.

Eleven Commissioners are appointed by the President, and these in turn choose a chairman and other officials. The ICC is divided into four divisions and operates with about ten separate bureaus such as the bureau of rates and practices or the bureau of finance. A number of regional offices have been established by the Commission in many parts of the country, and the ICC can allow three or more eligible employees to conduct certain activities.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, like all of the other regulatory groups, must work under some rather severe situations. It is supposed to "apply" the law as written by Congress, but this activity is so detailed that it must ultimately exercise its own judgment in relation to that law. Whether this should or even could be done by the courts has been an unsettled question for many years and will likely remain one for many more. There has been considerable agitation in recent years by the advocates of control who seek to "recognize" the ICC so as to extend its authority in various areas. It will be of interest to note that a Texan—Everett Hutchinson—may become the next chairman of the ICC in 1961.

VISITORS

It was good to see a number of Panhandle visitors in the office recently. They included: Capt. John A. Newsom of Hereford, who is now stationed at Dover Air Force Base in Delaware; Mrs. Henry Bechtold of Booker; Rocco De Salvo of Amarillo; Lt. and Mrs. Hugh Gracey, their daughter Leslie Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Robinson of Pampa.

Pair, Sentenced For Tire Theft

Two men were given 30-day jail sentences yesterday by Gray County Judge Bill Craig after they pleaded guilty to theft of an auto tire from Triple Tire Service, 501 W. Brown.

The pair, Carl R. Washington, 46, of 848 S. Gray, and George H. Oliver, 31, of 1034 S. Gray, former employes of the firm, were arrested on the charge of theft of an item valued at more than $5 and not less than $50.

In the only other case on the docket, Bill W. Wood, 405 McCullough, was fined $150 and costs and given the mandatory three-day jail sentence when he pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverage.

Wood was arrested by city police at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday after his auto struck one owned by Robert Ray Johnson, 911 E. Browning, which was parked in front of the Johnson residence.

Patrolman A. F. Strickland, the investigating officer, estimated damages to the Johnson auto at $150, and $100 to Wood's car.

"The airline officials supported our belief that we have a good chance to get the requested service. They said that they had not heard a better presentation in the hearings that have been going on throughout the state, and all of us received added confidence from that," said Wedgeworth.

Perry also appeared before the examiner to seek air service and pointed out that the situation there is similar to that faced by Pampa.

Americanism Seminar Set Here Monday

The second of five Americanism Citizenship Seminars will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Robert E. Lee Junior High School auditorium by Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of Lubbock Christian College.

Dr. Mattox attracted some 400 persons for his first lecture last Monday, when he spoke on "The Battle Ahead." His topic this week will be "The Structure of the American Way of Life."

These are all separate lectures, so designed by Dr. Mattox to be informative in the event a person only hears one of the speeches.

The program this Monday is being held in the Lee School auditorium since the Pampa High School auditorium is being used for practice of the students' presentation of "Oklahoma," which will be held Oct. 20-21. The lectures will be returned to the high school auditorium Oct. 24.

The seminar is sponsored by the National Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Scout Planning Group To Meet

Realignment of plans to better serve Scouting in the area will be discussed in a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today of the commissioners staff of the Santa Fe District of Boy Scouts of America in the commission room of City Hall.

This regular monthly meeting will be conducted by George A. Snell, district commissioner.

Club Emblem Given Moose

Pampa Lodge No. 1385, Loyal Order of Moose, last night received a new clubroom emblem, a large-moose head from a famed collection that has been a drawing card in San Antonio for many years.

It comes from the Frederick family collection that was purchased a few years ago by a San Antonio brewery firm.

The local Moose Lodge was presented the emblem by H. C. Harrison, vice-president for public relations of the firm, who explained that his firm had selected several Moose lodges of the state for these gifts from the collection that drew in excess of 1,000 daily throughout the summer in the Buckhorn Hall of San Antonio's famed old Longhorn Saloon, a landmark of that city.

Some 60 persons attended the presentation ceremony that also included food and refreshments.

Among other visitors were George Gattis, San Antonio; John Olson, former mayor; of Hutchinson, Kans., and now secretary-manager of the Amarillo Moose Lodge, and Joe Fortin of Pampa.

Ray Cales, governor of the lodge, was in charge of the program.

Rites Today For William Giles

Funeral services for William Giles, formerly of Lefors, were to be held at 3:30 p.m. today at McKinney, where he had lived since his retirement from Texaco, Inc., in 1958.

The late Mr. Giles became an employee of Texas Co. in January 1929 and served in various positions with the company until his retirement.

He was production foreman in the Berger and West Lefors area for the past 15 years.

Rites Held For Pampan's Sister

Funeral services for Mrs. M. K. Levitt of Allison, sister of Mrs. L. V. Turlington of Pampa, were held yesterday afternoon in the Allison school house with the Rev. M. B. Smith, pastor of Highland Baptist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Levitt, born Oct. 9, 1912, in Milburn, Okla., died Monday in Highland General Hospital. She had been in ill health for four months.

Mrs. Levitt was a member of Allison Baptist Church.

In addition to her sister in Pampa, Mrs. Levitt is survived by her husband, M. K. of Allison; two sons, Kenneth of Amarillo and Jim of Berger; parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Forsythe of Oklahoma City; another sister, Mrs. Hazel Raper, also of Oklahoma City; one brother, L. D. Forsythe of Colorado Springs, Colo. and four grand children.

Interment was in Zyback Cemetery in Allison.

Texas May Have To Wait For Custody Of Bandits

It appears now that Texas will have to wait its turn to have a chance to prosecute the highway bandit trio that recently spread a rape and armed robbery episode across the southwest that has not been equaled in many years.

That was the opinion today of Texas Ranger Bill Henslee who returned from California early this morning. Henslee and Wheeler County Sheriff Bus Dorman were in California, along with other Texas law enforcement officials, in an effort to return the trio to this state for trial on rape and armed robbery.

The Ranger noted, though, that a number of cases were cleared with the recent arrest of the bandits. He said the following robberies were admitted by Elton Hale, the leader of the trio that spread havoc among motorists outside El Paso: L. J. Minor, LeRoy Coates and Joe Hale, a relative of the gang leader who participated in some of the holdups.

The El Paso rape-holdup case; the April 25 robbery of three women on the highway between Amarillo and Vega; the June 2 robbery of a woman on the highway between Roby and Snyder; the June 20 holdup of a motorist near McLean, and the Sept. 29 holdup of a motorist on the highway between McLean and Shamrock.

she got the information.)

The place of execution was an army rifle range at Valle San Juan, three miles east of the provincial capital of Santiago where Zarba, the seven Cubans and 21 other co-defendants were tried. Five other Cubans were to die by firing squad in Sant Clara, northwest of Santiago, but the time of their execution had not been announced.

Verdicts in both trials were handed down Wednesday.

The 29 persons tried in Santiago were accused of "invading" eastern Cuba early this month. Cuban officials said they were "on the trail" of three other American "invaders" who escaped into the Moa Mountains.

Zarba was found guilty specifically of engaging in "activities directed toward the promotion of an armed uprising against the state."

Besides the Cubans sentenced to death, 16 of Zarba's co-defendants were sentenced to serve 30 years in prison, one to 20 years one woman to 10 and another to two years and two were acquitted.

The five men sentenced to die in Santa Clara were members of a group of 152 persons said to have been captured in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba—a center of guerrilla resistance to the Castro regime.

ing year to carry out the program of work.

In addition to the president, Gordon Lyons was installed as vice president and Lucian Young took the office of financial director.

Three-year appointees to the Board of City Development who were installed were Young, J. C. Roberts, Howard Buckingham, Jr., Clyde Carruth and Jerald Sims.

Chamber Advisory Board members installed were Floyd Watson, Aubrey Steele, E. L. Henderson, L. J. Edmondson and Arthur Teed.

Retiring members of the Board of City Development are Hershel Wilks, Jake Osborne, Ray Duncan, H. O. Darby and C. R. Hoover.

Retiring Advisory Board members are Bob Clements, Cameron Marsh, Joe Tooley, Floyd Watson and Lucian Young.

In recognition of their service to the chamber and community all retiring Advisory Board and Board of City Development members were presented testimonial plaques. Three members of these two groups were unable to attend the meeting last night.

Ralph L. Evans Dies In Crash

Ralph Lee Evans, 51, of Groom was killed in a car crash at 8:40 p.m. yesterday on Highway 60 just west of Kingsmill. Mr. Evans, driving a 1959 Oldsmobile, was driving east towards Pampa, when his car ran off the highway and hit a highway post, sidwiped a utility pole and hit a culvert head on.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the First Methodist Church in Groom with the Rev. C. R. Copeland, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Evans was born Nov. 3, 1908, in Concordia, Kan., and came to Groom from Eagle City, Okla., in 1950. He finished high school in Eagle City and was graduated from Coyne Electric School in Chicago, Ill.

Active in civic affairs, Mr. Evans was a city councilman; director of the Panhandle Grain Dealers Assn; member of Groom Masonic Lodge, Lions' Club and the First Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Velma; two daughters, Mrs. Carol Lee Horner of Pampa and Mrs. Janet Clark of Killeen; one brother, Athal of Canton, Okla.; one sister, Mrs. Cicero Fargo of Muldrow, Okla. and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be C. M. McKinney, E. J. Britten, Morley Dows, Herbert Hunt, Melvin Ashberry and C. L. Culyer.

Interment will be in Groom Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel Carmichael Funeral Home.

Frosted Doughnuts Are Favorite Witch Treat

delight that homemade doughnuts produce more than makes the little extra time they take. And Halloween is an ideal fine occasion to make a batch either for party presents or to have on hand for neighborhood goblins that drop by.

These raised doughnuts cooked in electric frypan are high and delicious. Frost them with luscious chocolate and orange glazes made lustrously smooth with evaporated milk and you'll have the finest treat of all for Halloween.

ing up dough and rolling out dough as long as there is any left. Let rise, uncovered, for 45 minutes. Pour oil in electric frypan to depth of about 2 1/2 to 3 inches. Preheat to 380 degrees F. When temperature is reached, place doughnuts carefully in hot fat (raised side down) with a fork. Fry until golden brown, about 2 minutes on each side. Drain on paper toweling, cool, then frost with Orange and Chocolate Frostings. Coat any remaining doughnuts with granulated sugar. Makes about 4 dozen doughnuts.

1 tablespoon evaporated milk
Few drops orange food coloring (or combination of red and yellow)
Place all ingredients except food coloring in a medium size mixing bowl. Beat to blend well. Add food coloring and stir to blend well. Makes enough frosting for 16 doughnuts.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING
1 package semi-sweet chocolate pieces (6 oz.)
1-3 cup evaporated milk
1 cup confectioners' sugar, sifted

Melt chocolate with evaporated milk in a medium size saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly to blend. Add confectioners' sugar gradually, stirring until thoroughly blended and smooth. Makes enough frosting for 24 doughnuts.

RAISED DOUGHNUTS
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk (1-2 cans)
1/2 pkg. dry granular yeast
1 cup warm water
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups flour (approx.)
1/2 cup oil for frying
1/2 cup butter, sugar and salt in large mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until butter is dissolved. Stir in evaporated milk, yeast, over the 1/4 cup water and let stand to soften. Stir into evaporated milk mixture along with the eggs. Stir in flour all at once and beat smooth. Add remaining flour at a time, mixing well after addition. Turn dough out on well-floured board or pastry and knead until smooth elastic, about 5 minutes. Round dough and place in a large greased bowl, turning once. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1-1/2 to 2 hours. Punch down and let rest on cloth for 10 minutes. Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with a doughnut cutter. Gather together and keep on work-

Classy Cherry Rolls Dress Up Any Eating Occasion For Breakfast Guest

Here's an easy idea to dress up any eating occasion... whether it be regular meals, a party, or a late evening snack. These Classy Cherry Rolls add a "special-occasion" touch to any dining event, especially that fancy breakfast for guests. They can be served individually, or heaped in a basket (as shown) to form a conversation piece for your table. They're attractive, tasty and easy to make.

1 No. 303 (1 lb.) can water pack red cherries
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 package hot roll mix
3 tablespoons soft butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons cream

Combine the cherries, sugar, cornstarch and salt. Cook until the mixture is thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add the almond flavoring. Cool. Prepare the hot roll mix according to package directions for rich dough. When the dough is ready for shaping, roll it to a 12 x 8-inch rectangle. Dot with a tablespoon of the butter, fold the dough. Repeat twice. Roll to about 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into 2-inch rounds. Place on greased baking sheets. Let rise in a warm place until light, about 30 minutes. Press an indentation in center of each roll. Fill each with the cherry filling. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F., for 15 to 18 minutes. Make icing by combining confectioners' sugar and cream; drizzle over baked rolls.

Yield: 24 rolls
Omit sugar if sweetened red cherries are used.

Quick-Cooking Rice Offers Many Variations For Delicious Dessert

Want a fluffy delicious dessert made with a dessert whip topping from your pantry shelf. Other ingredients are quick-cooking rice cereal—peaches and coconut. It's simple enough for a family treat and delicious enough for a special company dessert, and it is just as good the second day as the first. Using cooked cereal and dessert topping mix, you could make many variations of this pudding. Instead of peaches and coconut, you could add bananas or strawberries, or dates, or preserved mixed fruit or sliced preserved kumquats.

PEACH ALMOND FLUFF
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup Cream of Rice (quick-cooking rice cereal)
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup milk
1 envelope (2 oz.) dessert topping mix
1 1/2 cups (about) angel flake coconut

Teenagers Go For Nourishing Snack

When the crew cut-pony-tailed set comes dashing in the kitchen door after school, better be prepared with refreshments. Growing youngsters don't demand elaborate dishes, but the wise mother will see that they have sufficient, nourishing foods for snacks.

Because of its appealing flavor and abundance of extra calcium, phosphorus and protein, American blue cheese makes superb spreads on crackers and bread for after-school nibblers. Here's one, for example, which you probably can prepare from ingredients already in your kitchen.

NIPPY BLUE CHEESE SPREAD
(About 1 cup)
1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese
2 slices leftover, cooked bacon, crumbled
Dash Worcestershire sauce
Combine the two cheeses and Worcestershire sauce and beat until blended. Stir in crisp bacon bits. Use as a sandwich or cracker spread.

A colorful Orange Frost dessert is sure to steal the scene on Halloween when served at a "Trick or Treat" party. To serve it as pie, simply pour a mixture of whipped orange-flavored gelatin and chilled vanilla pudding into a pie shell and decorate with Halloween candies. Use the same filling but vary the decoration to make Orange Frost Tarts, or serve it in compotes as a chilled pudding.

Orange Frost Pie
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
1 package (3-oz.) orange-flavored gelatin
Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl firmly in ice and water. Whip gelatin with egg beater until fluffy and thick.
Add chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Pour into pie shell. Chill until firm (about 1 hour). Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Strong Men Melt At Mere Taste Of Cherry Clusters

No cooking, no testing... just mix, chill and serve. Strong men have been known to melt at the first bite of these new candies. They're sure-fire delicious, smooth, rich chocolate with nuts and cherries all through. Thanks to Pet Instant there's no tedious cooking required, you just mix them.

Try them. Then keep this recipe handy for that party coming up.

CHOCOLATE CHERRY CLUSTERS
6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces (1 cup)
1-3 cup finely cut nuts
1-3 cup finely cut maraschino cherries, well drained
1 Tablesp. vanilla
1-3cup PET Instant (in dry form)
2-3 cup finely cut nuts
Melt chocolate pieces in a 1-quart bowl over hot (not boiling) water. Stir in 1-3 cup nuts, cherries, vanilla and PET Instant. Roll teaspoonfuls of mixture in 2-3 cup nuts. Chill until firm. Makes 18 to 20 clusters.
Cherry Mint Clusters: Roll clusters in 2-3 cup finely crushed peppermint stick candy instead of in nuts.

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo

Victory In Southland Is Foreseen By LBJ

WITH JOHNSON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, pleased with his first day of whistle-stopping through Dixie, put the show on the road again Tuesday with a prediction of victory in the South and elsewhere.

"The South, like every other section of the nation, realizes that its best interests lie in the election of a truly national ticket—not a ticket which seeks to play different sections of the country against each other," the Democratic vice presidential nominee declared.

Johnson said the first day of the week-long trip, Monday, "renewed my confidence in approaching Democratic victory." He said the South is "not going to fall for the old shell game in which the Republican candidate seeks to hide in the South while he goes to the North and vice versa."

Johnson's views were noted in a statement made public on board the "LBJ Special." The statement added little substance to Johnson's off-the-cuff reply when newsmen asked if he was "satisfied" with his first day campaigning by rail.

"Satisfied!" he said. "Why, I could kiss you." After watching Johnson deliver 15 speeches plugging for the Democratic ticket, the newsmen would not have been surprised.

Employment Is High, But So Is Unemployment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Which way do the new job figures point? Democrats and some independent economists are afraid that if a recession is coming this winter, the figures spell serious trouble in the form of heavy unemployment.

Republicans stress the record number of people with jobs. This shows, according to a government expert, that a business recession is not occurring.

The situation is somewhat confused because employment is high but unemployment also is high.

The latest figures released by the Labor Department show September employment at 67.8 million—a record for the month. But there were 3.4 million persons unemployed—or 5.7 per cent of the labor force.

This is the second highest jobless rate of the year, below only August's 5.9 per cent.

The rate has been above 5 per cent in every month but two this year. This is high for a non-recession year. In the three years before the 1958 recession, unemployment averaged 4.3 per cent. It did not hit 5.7 per cent until the 1958 recession was five months old.

crowds in Virginia and North Carolina Monday seemed sparse. Aides insisted that the day's attentive, friendly, and people are turning out in numbers from all walks of life.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—When the men from Mars arrive on earth they will want for their collection a U.S. taxpayer.

They will put this taxpayer in the Martian zoo with a sign on his cage. It will read like this: "Sturdiest and most stupid earth animal found in the Western hemisphere; range, limited to the United States; caution, dangerous when aroused."

The sign will read that way if the Martians properly research the habits and environment of their captive. This research will discover that the U.S. taxpayer is a creature that is almost happily carried an incredible tax burden. He is made of sturdy stuff. This research also will discover that incredible sums of the tax dollars extracted from the U.S. taxpayer go down wasteful rat holes, mouse holes, and ant holes.

This research will not discover, however, that the U.S. taxpayer ever—at least, not recently—has done anything effective to protect himself against the wasters of his money or to ease the burden imposed upon him. That qualifies him for stupidity.

The U.S. taxpayer's government has published the nation's housekeeping accounts for the first quarter of the current fiscal year. If the head of a simple household confessed to such an accounting, chances are the grocer would cut off his credit and, maybe, the auto dealer would repossess his car.

The household accounts show that government hiked its spending figure in this first quarter to approximately $24.37 billion, about $130 million more than was spent in this first quarter. The treasury took in about $23.38 billion, which was nearly $2 billion more than was collected a year ago.

This massive flow of the taxpayers' dollars to government was not sufficient, however, to pay the government's bills. The public debt slowly is increasing as government spending continues to outstrip income.

There will be no relief for the U.S. taxpayer more any successful effort to keep government spending within the limits of income unless the taxpayers demand it. They could demand that and make it stick, if they would, because taxpayers also are voters.

No such is in the works, however. The voter-taxpayer was sold many years ago on the idea that the government was spending someone else's money, not his. Organized pressure groups get whatever they can out of the U.S. treasury. Mere taxpayers have no organized pressure group.

On the contrary, taxpayers cleave away in all directions to join pressure groups representing just about every area of national life except the taxpaying area. These pressure groups extend from farmers, labor and veterans through local chambers of commerce, associations of mayors, associations of educators. You name it, and there is a pressure group which wants the government to spend some money for it.

The U.S. taxpayer probably deserves what hit him.

Gals Say Scribe Gummed Works In Metric 'Dope'

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — I am dedicating this to Adelaide, Barbara, Ramona, Marie, James, David, Robert, Larry and Donna. Also to Susan, Marianne, Jimmy, Stanley, Mary Lou, Theodora, Francine and Gloria.

But don't be alarmed, folks. This is not Jockey Jack's keen teen sock hop platter program. This is just my way of paying my respects to a group of students who attend school at Delansog, N.Y.

In the interests of scientific accuracy, Adelaide, Barbara, Ramona, etc., have taken the trouble to send me a letter challenging some of the computations I made in a treatise I recently wrote on the metric system. The letter said their class had been studying the metric system and "we noticed you made a very slight error. Would you permit us to tell you that instead of having 2.2 centimeters in one inch, it should have been 2.54."

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The railroads are not the only ones that stand to benefit from the merger trend in that industry.

The nation's shippers are expecting to reap appreciable benefits from these marriages.

The biggest benefit will be the faster movement of freight at lower rates through the rescheduling and elimination of duplicate lines and facilities.

Additional savings to the shippers will come from the better service the bigger, healthier rail lines will offer, and the increased use of automation and modern equipment developed through the merged railroads' stepped-up research spending.

Railroad mergers are being pursued vigorously, with a total of 22 lines now involved in talks. The most recent consolidation is the one between the Erie and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western which becomes effective Oct. 17.

The effects of this merger, ac-ording to Purchasing Week Magazine, would be that duplicate lines from Buffalo, N. Y., to points leading into New England will be abandoned, with only the shorter Erie run to Maybrook, N. Y., maintained.

Duplicate freight yards in Binghamton and Elmira, N. Y., also will be abandoned, and a new electronic yard will be built in Buffalo where the two lines will be merged. There will be no duplication of trains, and more frequent runs will be rescheduled on the same route.

The magazine pointed out that "two-road" rates for such commodities as gravel and cement will be reduced. And better service should result from the expansion of the more than 30 Erie and 27 Lackawanna sales offices to 100 offices for the merged line.

The relative speed which the Erie-Lackawanna and the Virginian-Norfolk and Western mergers were completed has led to hopes that a member of other railroad consolidations would be consummated quickly.

The most important merger talks now going on are between the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Purchasing Week quoted the consulting engineer of the Erie merger as saying this merger trend means that the era of inter-railroad competition has ended. "The roads no longer have a monopoly on transportation and their problem is to meet the competition of other forms of transportation."

British Soccer Rocked

LONDON (UPI) — Britons are choking on one of their pet phrases — the phrase they used so smugly and righteously when betting scandals broke in baseball and basketball in the United States: "It can't happen here."

Well, it has happened here—a sorry tale of fixed games in the national sport, soccer football. And this nation which likes to think of itself as the homeland of sportsmanship will never be quite the same.

The mess bubbled to the surface this week as football league officials are congratulating themselves on 10 years of scandal-free play. A former idol of the game, Rosau, admitted in a newspaper article that he had taken bribes to throw matches.

This shock was bad enough—but it did not stop there. One by one players came forward to admit they had been approached to fix matches, an one of them, Johnny Hubbard of the Bury Football Club, said today that he had been offered $5,000 sterling ($6,800) if his team would lose to the Barnsley club—a 4-0 score.

Hubbard said this bribe was offered him because gamblers were hoping for a fall in the football pools and had the exact 4-0 score. This is the first time there has been any suggestion gamblers believed they might force a favorable pools result.

Pennsylvania's Electoral Votes Stir Flurry By GOP, Democrats

EDITORS NOTE: Following is another of the dispatches covering political activities in various states and areas of the nation.

By LOYD ROCHELLE
United Press International
HARRISBURG (UPI)—Both major parties are throwing all their resources into the fight to win Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes. The outlook is doubtful at this stage. Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy have scheduled additional swings into the state in stepped up campaigns.

Both sides are confident, with the Republicans pointing to the fact that Democrats have been unable to put their presidential nominee over in the state since 1944 when Franklin D. Roosevelt won his fourth term. They also point to their basic strength outside the large metropolitan areas.

But Democrats say the picture has changed, and that this is a Democratic year. The traditional Republican registration lead in the Keystone State has dwindled from its strong margin of almost one million back in 1954 to 23,000 in the primary last April 26.

The Democrats upset the 16-year hold of the GOP on the governorship six years ago, and have steadily increased their power on the grass roots level with courthouse and municipal victories since that time.

The key to victory for either side may hinge on the showing in the state's two largest cities—Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—which are Democratic strongholds and have been holding the balance of power for the Democrats in statewide contests in recent years.

The Republicans will have to hold down the expected Democratic majorities in those two heavily industrialized areas, with large Roman Catholic populations in order to push the national ticket across with the help of much of the rural and outlying counties across the state.

The state's hard-coal region with its acute unemployment problems, is also being wooed furiously by the GOP in an effort to bring it back into the party fold. Some anthracite counties have strayed into the opposition camp or have been turning in sharply reduced margins for the party.

U.S. Rep. William J. Green, the efficient leader of the Philadelphia Democratic organization, predicts a majority of about 250,000 for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the Quaker City—and he has a record of delivering on his predictions. His streamlined organization, for example, delivered a 123,000-vote margin for Adlai E. Stevenson in 1956 while President Eisenhower was carrying the state by 603,000 votes.

Green is credited with playing the major role in Gov. David L. Lawrence's victory in the 1958 gubernatorial race, by delivering a 177,000 plurality in Philadelphia. Lawrence won the governorship by a margin of only 76,000 statewide.

Political analysts in Allegheny County, where Pittsburgh is located, figure Kennedy should defeat Nixon by 50,000 votes in that area. But they emphasize that is a guess.

Unemployment, totaling about 350,000 in the Keystone State, is a big issue. But key of the imperatives is the religious issue and the effect it will have on the predominantly Protestant electorate.

Lawrence, who stayed on the fence until virtually the last minute before throwing in powerful support behind Kennedy at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles, is himself a Catholic.

He conceded before the convention that his own Catholicism had been a factor in his hesitation to run for the governorship before 1958—despite his role as "Mr. Democrat" of Pennsylvania for many years and the fact that he could have had the party nomination at any time in that period.

Herbert Hoover won Pennsylvania's electoral votes in 1928 by a margin of 987,796 votes, compiling 2,655,382 against 1,667,586 for Al Smith.

The contests for statewide offices have been overshadowed by the presidential races. At stake are the posts of auditor general, state treasurer and a seat on the state Superior Court. On the district level, Lawrence is most anxious to snare control of both houses of the Legislature. He has been plagued by politically divided legislatures since his inauguration in 1959. The Republicans have been in control of the Senate for 22 years.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
 A public service Bureau of the State Bar of Texas

PATENTS

Much of our nation's strength rests upon the brains and ingenuity of our scientists and inventors. Our Constitution and the patent laws aim to give them rights in their inventions and to encourage them to pour out new labor-saving devices.

You may have good, useful ideas, but never do much about them. You can patent your new and useful process, machine, article of manufacture, or composition of matter, or an improvement in any one of them. However, your patent application must be completed and filed in the United States Patent Office within one year after the first sale or first public knowledge or use of your device or process. If your application is not on file within one year you forfeit your right to a patent.

You may not know how to protect your rights while perfecting and patenting such items. Under our patent laws, the one who first conceives a new invention is entitled to a patent on it. If claims conflict, the patent office, and the courts try to find out who first had the idea, not who first sought a patent.

Of course, apply for a patent as soon as you can, but protect yourself while you make your drawings, plans, and such tests as you need to perfect your patent. As soon as you can, write out and date the facts, describe and sketch your invention, if possible. Have two persons, whom you can call on as witnesses, note the date and state on the statement that they have read and understood the statements and drawings. Retain the witnessed statement and drawings in a safe place. Then, if a contest should arise, the statement, drawings, and witnesses will evidence your claim.

You will thus set up a date showing when you first got your idea. After you do that, go on with your work, perfect your idea, and apply for a patent as soon as you can. In applying for a patent, you may file and prosecute your own case or you may be represented by someone authorized to practice before the Patent Office.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of any attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

3 Dead, 1 Hurt In State Crash

MCKINNEY, Tex. (UPI)—A two-car crash killed three persons Tuesday night on U.S. Highway 78 near Copeville and critically injured a fourth person.

Killed in one car were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Davis of Ladonia, Tex. In the other car Selma Brooks of Trenton, Tex., was killed and Lucille Stewman, also of Trenton was in critical condition in Collin County Memorial Hospital in McKinney.

Both of the four-door sedans were flipped over by the impact. The Trenton women were returning from Dallas where they had been shopping.

Rattlers, Bucks Vie In Headliner

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

The Bucks can counter with Lester, who has an amazing 7.1 yards per carry average with 693 hard-earned yards on 98 runs with the football. Halfback Spence is a close second with a 6.8 average (36 carries for 247 yards) and Grange makes an even 6.0 (28 for 168).

On the passing side of the ledger, Hanna has thrown for 379 yards on 21 completions which have been good for seven touchdowns and six extra-point conversions.

UT, Hogs Spotlight SWC Play

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

It's all in fun. But at the risk of offending the Razorbacks, may we point out David Kristynik has been shot.

Of course it's a worn-out joke about those barefoot boys from the Ozark hills. And nobody's suggesting that the Texas kicker was afraid he might be taken for the other side when the Steers tangle with Arkansas this weekend at Austin in the feature game of the Southwest Conference.

But still, fact is fact. When the Longhorns battled Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl last weekend, Kristynik booted the ball without the clod-hopper it takes to cover his No. 12's.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal figures it isn't how you do it, it's the results that count. And he's right.

At Arkansas, Coach Frank Broyles said his "acute" injury situation was improved with the return of Les Letsinger, the No. 2 right end and team punter. He has been out with a two week old back injury.

But the pride of the Porkers, halfback Lance Alworth, appears definitely sidelined.

"Everybody will play except Alworth and (Billy) Gramlich," said Broyles.

Baylor worked on offense for the first time this week preparing for Texas Tech. They interspersed timing and passing drills with work on goal line defense, then used the final 45 minutes for defense work and protection in punt and kickoff coverage.

Coach DeWitt Weaver said Tech looked good Wednesday on passing but still was weak in stopping a simulated Bruin aerial attack. He said both C. W. Williams and Larry Tipton, a pair of sophomore halfbacks, are sidelined for the game with rib injuries.

southern Methodist, priming for Rice, had trouble breaking up an Owl passing attack, but Coach Bill Meek said the Ponies looked "sharp" in offense and ground defense. He said co-captains Glynn Gregory and Jerry Mays, left halfback and tackle, respectively, stopped cold freshmen running Rice plays.

Colie Huffman, Buck mentor, has been working on all phases of his defensive game to prep his Bucks for this game.

"Stinnett has got a powerful, fast backfield," Huffman said yesterday. "Three of their backs can outrun my fastest man—they did it last year at a track meet," Huffman moaned.

Two Buck starters, Guard Joe Gordzelik and Bob McAlister may have to miss this one because of the flu. If so, Larry Short and Dean Reed will start.

By comparative scores, Stinnett will be favored. It beat Canadian, 46-0, while the Bucks won, 14-0, and the Rattlers downed Lefors, 33-0, while White Deer triumphed by 36-6. Otherwise, the game looms as a tossup.

Lefors, Clarendon Tangle

Miami Eyes Lakeview As Seventh Victory

Miami's unbeaten Warriors (6-0) go after lucky number seven Friday at Lakeview to highlight area football skirmishing.

In other action, McLean hosts Canadian, Lefors goes to Clarendon. Perryton faces Shamrock in the Rangers homecoming tussle. Groom treks to Turkey and Wheeler journeys to Follett.

Outside the White Deer-Stinnett headline, Miami's eight-man team will draw the most attention. In running up their win string, the Warriors have been extended only once and that was last week when they downed Booker, 18-6, after being behind 6-0 going into the second quarter.

Miami Coach Bill Hines' team seems like a shoo-in for the District 11-B grid title, but they still must face Darrouzett — the only team with an outside chance of beating them — one more time later in the season.

Sparkplugs of the Warrior attack will be Paul Thompson who scored twice against Booker, Tom Hollis and Gerald Anderson.

Mark Arrington, who is Anderson's favorite pass target, heads the line along with Don McLaughlin, Randy Day, Dennis Burnett and James Strong.

If Miami is to be stopped, Lakeview must come up with a consistent defense that can stop Anderson's passing and Hollis' running.

McLean, thought to be their way finally after upsetting Claude, 34-20, two weeks ago, dropped its homecoming game last week to Wellington, 22-20. With Quarter-

Crew-cut Babe Curfman, head mentor of the Pampa Harvesters, was doing the talking:

"I have never seen a team, with more desire, more spirit than this bunch. They've gone into every game thinking that they can win and they'll be doing the same against Amarillo Friday."

"I know how bad this town wants to beat the Sandies," Curfman told the Harvesters Quarterback Club. "And we want to beat them just as bad."

"But I'll say this much now. Win, lose or draw, I can promise you that these boys will give their best, as they have in our other games," he added.

Harvesters Act Like 5-0

Curfman knows full well that a win over the Sandies constitutes a successful season as far as Pampa backers are concerned. Last year, Amarillo tied for the 3-4A title and the Harvesters tied them, 14-14. But, that was last year.

Amarillo probably will be a two-touchdown favorite and that's minimizing it. However, don't tell any of the Harvesters that they are going to get beat; they'll only look at you in disbelief. Even with nine key men out or hampered by injuries, they still honestly feel they can beat Amarillo.

One would have thought that Pampa's record was 5-0 instead of 6-5 had they witnessed workouts this week. Noticeable gaps in the backfield and one important one in the line — Duke Garren — didn't dampen the team's spirit. Even after Curfman ended practice Monday, better than half the team remained on the field until dark personally working on their individual faults.

Wingback Lucky Dunham and

Winning Not So Important

We have personally seen teams quit when they lose one man, much less nine. We also have seen good teams spoil because of jealousy between various men. None of that is evident with the Harvesters.

A wise man once said, "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game that matters." Everybody loves a winner, but a loser seems to have to hunt for friends as the Saturday morning quarterbacks gather to replay the game. It takes a real football fan to support a losing team and, in reality, a losing team needs much more town support than a state champion.

Pampa may lose all 10 games but if it continues to exhibit the same spirit it has shown in its first five, then no one on the team will be a loser. If through football, only one boy is turned to a better way of life, then an 0-10 season is a successful one, no matter what the critics say.

As one mother said at the Quarterback club: "I'm proud my son plays football for the Harvesters. The team play and hard work means a lot to him. If he weren't playing, he'd probably be out on the streets every night."

Multiply that by 34 and you can see that Curfman is doing more than playing football games every weekend; he's also building men, which is — and should — be his objective anyway.

Pampans should not mark off Friday's game with Amarillo as "just another loss." The Harvesters haven't.

Neither rain, nor muddy field nor injuries could keep the Pampa Harvesters from their appointed duties yesterday afternoon as they prepared for their 7:30 p.m. date Friday with Amarillo's Sandies.

With water standing over the better part of the field, Coach Babe Curfman sent his troops through a hustling two hour and fifteen minute workout that had its bright spots.

"Some of the boys looked pretty good, despite the mud which slowed us down," Curfman said. "Har- job and he's going to make a good football player before he graduates."

In a scrimmage against the Shockers yesterday, Amarillo broke away for several good gains and two potential touchdowns. Quarterback Butch Crossland con-

Pampa Seventh Hosts Austin

With two full weeks of rest behind them, Pampa Junior High's seventh grade footballers return to action at 4 p.m. tomorrow when they host Austin in Berger at Harvesters Park.

In its last outing, Pampa fell to Phillips, thus Coach Frank Craig's squad still is looking for its' first win of the year.

Yank Tabs Self Lucky

By BOB RICHARDSON
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — That record of mine merely means I was lucky enough to be in the right place at the right time.

And when I say lucky that's exactly what I mean. I'd never even had a chance at the record if there didn't happen to be men on base when I came up. It seems every time I go up to the plate there are two or three men on.

Both those triples I hit Wednesday came on his fast balls. This isn't my first World Series, of course, but I can honestly say that I have never hit the ball so hard in any other Series—even during the regular season—that I can remember.

Maybe confidence has something to do with it. In such an important Series as this is, it always does a great deal for your morale when you start off well. You get a hit or two right off the bat and things start looking up.

That's the way it has been for me almost since the start of this Series. I don't intend to pop off about my hitting now or any other time, though. First of all, there is still another game to go and second of all, I know that nobody is ever going to mistake me for Babe Ruth no matter how many runs I drive in.

Curfman was greeted with three large hunks of good news yesterday when he learned that Center Duke Garren, Fullback Steve Dobbins and Quarterback Jimmy Don Stephens might be available for some action Friday.

Dobbins was discharged from the hospital late yesterday after x-rays showed that he had a small rib fracture. Garren returned from a checkup in Amarillo which showed no major injury, and Stephens' bum knee has turned out to be less major than first thought.

Even with the trio in uniform, Pampa still will be at least two touchdowns underdogs to the Sandies in this 39th renewal of a bitter rivalry.

Curfman planned to work on his offensive attack today, especially concentrating on passing and punting. No contact work was slated, due both to the slippery turf and the chance of adding another name to the ailing list.

The Harvesters will leave by bus at 4 p.m. tomorrow for the game at Dick Bivins Stadium, A. E. M.

Always Tough Pampa Worries Sandie Team

AMARILLO — Pampa may be winless on the year, but you can't convince Bum Phillips, Amarillo Sandie coach, that the Harvesters won't be difficult to handle when the two teams meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Dick Bivins Stadium.

"I don't care if Pampa was 0-9, they always give us one of the roughest battles we have, year in and year out," Phillips stated.

"Just look at last year. We had to come from behind late in the game to tie them, 14-14. I don't expect anything different this year."

The Sandies, unbeaten in District 3-4A play after a 22-0 win over Plainview in their opener, are basically a running team. They are led by Fullback George Tiffany, 175-pounder, who was an end last year on the Sandies co-championship club.

Amarillo's two halfbacks, Kent Tving (145) and Stan Sparks (165), also an end last year, are small but fast.

PLASTERED — Linda Schnitzler, 17, leaves little doubt of her feelings as the World Series goes into its final day today. The Ford City, Pa., lass played Pittsburgh across the board to beat the Yankees in the crucial seventh game.

Ohio U. Firmly Grips Small College Lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ohio University, which knocked off an eastern major college football team last weekend, replaced Bowling Green today atop the United Press International small college ratings.

Bowling Green, which led these ratings for the first two weeks of the season, dropped to second place, followed in order by Lehigh, Rensselaer and Chattanooga. After them came Idaho State, Southern Illinois, Louisiana Tech and Tufts, with Fresno State and Southeastern Louisiana tied for 10th place.

Ohio University, coached by alumnus Bill Hess and made up mostly of home-grown Buckeye talent, took over the No. 1 spot March 14-13.

Louisiana Tech, which did not receive a single vote a week ago, made this week's biggest jump by taking over the No. 8 ranking.

BRAVES SIGN PITCHER

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves have signed 17-year-old lefthander Wallace Rose of Manhattan, Kan., to a 1961 contract. The 6-0, 17-pound pitcher will report to the Milwaukee minor league training camp at Waycross, Ga., next week.

Picket Line Prognostication

Two new faces dot the Picket Line Prognostications, this week's last week's "guest" predicted a good account of themselves.

The firing line this week with Mayhew, Daily News Sports Editor, are Floyd Imel, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., and Dr. Joe Donaldson, a Pampa physician.

The new pair replaces E. O. Wedgworth, who missed 12 last week for a .647 mark, and Paul West, last week's winner with only .7 wrong for a .787 shooting percentage. Mayhew was second again—with 10 wrong (.696).

This week's upsets, according to "experts," are SMU over Rice (Imel); White Deer over Stinnett (Donaldson); and Nebraska over Army (Mayhew).

And for the second straight week, Oklahoma was picked to lose, something that in the past wasn't allowed. All three see Kansas stopping the Sooners for their third loss of the young season.

Dons Kick Off Busy 3-4A Play

Amarillo Palo Duro kicks off the weekend action in District 3-4A tonight when it travels to Lubbock for a game with Lubbock-Monterey, one of the pre-season title choices.

Monterey, after losing two games by one point, opened its district schedule on a bright note with a 19-6 victory over Pampa last week while Palo Duro fell to Tom S. Lubbock, 14-7.

District favorite Borger should have little trouble tomorrow when it goes to Plainview for both teams' second district game. The Bulldogs dumped Amarillo Tascosa, 32-22, in its last outing and Plainview fell to Amarillo, 22-0, two weeks ago.

Tascosa is at Tom S. Lubbock tomorrow night and Pampa, still looking for its first win, journeys to Amarillo for a game with the Sandies.

Big Leagues To Open Doors To Texas Teams

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The first expansion in the 60-year history of the major leagues will become a reality next week when the National League names Houston and New York as its ninth and 10th clubs and the American League does the same by plucking Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Houston and New York made formal application to join the N.L. Tuesday and will be selected at the senior circuit's meeting in Chicago Monday. The A.L. will meet either next Wednesday or Thursday and is expected to name Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul as its ninth and 10th teams.

There was some speculation that one of the new berths in the A.L. would go to Toronto.

Dallas Star Stop Player

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — David Hunter, a 215-pound rookie halfback, who came to the Dallas Cowboys by way of Prairie View College, was chosen the American Football League's player of the week today even though he played in a losing effort last week.

Hunter was the first time any player won the honor when his team lost the game for which he was named.

The Texans dropped a 20-19 defeat to the Oakland Raiders, but Webster had an excellent game. He intercepted a Raider and ran it back 80 yards for the Texans' first touchdown, and an Oakland try for a point and made several key plays in the game.

Resistance To Tyranny

Resistance to government incursions against free and honest men continues to occur.

We suspect, even in a newspaper, we are not kept fully informed as to the numbers of cases of this kind to come to pass.

The last three decades have been full of instances wherein government has done immoral and improper things which have harmed ordinary people. In the 30's when such things happened the sense of shock was so great most people wouldn't even think of resisting.

But as time has passed and as our trend toward tyranny grows more pronounced, more and more resistance appears. We cannot help but think of the John Prather case, but in which the old rancher, in his 80's, actually held off federal troops with his own guns and caused the mighty U.S. Army to back down.

We also think of Stanley Yankus who has gone into a period of self-exile rather than continue to serve under a kind of tyranny. And we think of many others from one end of the nation to another who have stood their ground in the manner and spirit of our embattled ancestors at Lexington and Concord, refusing to be subdued by a government gone wild with power.

Once more, an instance of this nature has reached our desk. Howeth Mills, on Maryland's Eastern Shore, has rallied the support of some 30 of his neighbors and is refusing to hand over his business records to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The dispute involves a milk marketing order, a price-fixing plan, and the federal program uncutting in all its many bureaus, for reducing man to serfdom and making him subservient to the master state. Mills and several of his neighbors are standing pat.

It seems that five years ago dairyman Mills led a fight to keep eastern dairymen out of the milk marketing order. In spite of his wishes and the wishes of other dairymen affected, the federal agency scooped up the dairies and required them to submit to the price control and the milk marketing set-up.

Apparently, the Agriculture Department is somewhat of the opinion that Mr. Mills and his friends may not have been obeying the federal order. This is why they want his records.

Okay—Let's Communicate!

We are not among those who believe there is merit in pampering anyone.

But we do believe in communications. And frequently there is a sort of a priori understanding before communications can occur with any degree of facility.

Thus, we are forever seeking ways and means of getting points across to people who do not seem to understand business and industry. For if ever we have lived in an age of witch hunting, it is today's age, and today's witch is the successful businessman.

Recently, there has come into our hands from an unidentified source, a copy of an article written by a worker who complains about the manner in which businessmen seek to communicate with employees. In the interests of better communication, we'd like to quote from this article.

"Writing isn't my line but I do read quite a lot. Every once in a while I read free enterprise propaganda in advertisements and in booklets that the company puts out. Some of the ideas I see there are good. Actually, deep down inside me, I believe nearly all of it, but somehow, the way it is worded always makes me want to say, 'Oh yeah?'"

This is a challenge. Let us see what else the worker says.

"Up to a certain point, I don't mind being told that I owe my job to the free enterprise system, and that high taxes and too much government are bad for the system, and that no man in any position anywhere else on earth could drive a car and own a television set like I do, and that as a customer I am the boss who decides what kind of product a company can make and what price the company can charge.

The Nation's Press

SPEAKING OF KENNEDY'S INDEPENDENCE

(The Chicago Tribune)

Senator Kennedy has taken every opportunity to declare that he is politically independent of his church, and on this we do not question his sincerity. He has done nothing, however, to show that he isn't dominated by some other elements that do offer a real threat to the national welfare.

Take, for example, his speech in San Diego, where there is unemployment in industries associated with aircraft and the navy.

"Here, as throughout the nation," he said, "the idleness of these men has meant a decline in American vitality and American strength. When these skilled production workers scatter to other jobs and other locations, our national security is the loser."

He said that strength is the only thing that impresses Mr. Khrushchev, and that strength requires "not a policy of ceilings and limitations, not a policy set by narrow minded men in the budget . . . but a policy which will keep America the strongest country in the world. That is the policy of the Democratic party."

Well, about all we can make of Mr. Kennedy's words is that a policy of strength requires that we be strong, which is not a particularly thoughtful thought. But his implications go a good deal farther. He implies that the aircraft and shipping workers should be put right back to work no matter what it may cost the taxpayers and he implies that whatever work they do will contribute to our military strength.

The truth is that, as things stand today, an unselective program of turning out planes and ships would give us window dressing but not strength. The true measure of military effectiveness is in weapons which are faster, more maneuverable, do not need local support forces, and, as a rule, cost less than ships and planes to build and maintain. As Dr. Teller and other scientists have pointed out, modern weapons can be adapted to localized wars as well as to general wars.

Building ships and planes simply because workers in those industries happen to be unemployed is not going to give us our money's worth in national strength. We do not believe that these workers can get jobs in western California only through southern government spending, but if that were true it would be better for all concerned if they did precisely what Mr. Kennedy apparently doesn't want them to do: scatter to other locations and other jobs.

What would be promoted by this kind of spending is the prestige and power of the labor bosses concerned, the strength of their union treasuries, and the good will of other labor bosses who realize that they, too, may some day want to raid the public treasury and therefore share Walter Reuther's appetite for power in Washington. In Mr. Kennedy, they seem to have found a man who is willing to do their bidding. If he really wants to demonstrate his independence, this is where he should begin.

Intervention of labor unions, large-scale unemployment has resulted. Any artificial increase in wages . . . that is when they are forced up either thru a minimum wage law or thru labor boss action . . . increases unemployment. . . adds to the tax loads . . . creates job insecurity. This is always true because higher wages which are forced; cause employers to discontinue with marginal workers who do not earn the wages which unions or government compel."

And if the worker has had stomach to go this far, we could perhaps go a little further . . . "Profits? . . . There are businessmen today in business who have not taken a profit for three to four years . . . a fact which they hide from everyone since they must not shake faith in the credit of their concern. . . In some lines, 1 percent profit would be excellent . . . yet these same businessmen are often compelled to grant wage hikes even when they are operating in red ink."

Sure, it would be wonderful if businessmen could tell workers how great it is to be in partnership with them.

The ugly fact is that union workers have abused that partnership, resorted to gangsterism, forced up prices, thus extending ruin and hardship on every hand; and now look about for sympathy and for business to tell its story in such a way as not to offend their tender sensitivities.

We're as interested in communicating as any. But we wonder if the unionized worker can stand to learn the truth about himself and what he has done via the union.

ROBERT S. ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

SIX STATES—WITH 181 VOTES—TARGET OF KENNEDY'S FINAL 29 CAMPAIGN DAYS

WASHINGTON — Senator John Kennedy has decided to concentrate 25 of the final 29 days of his campaigning in the six states in which he believes the presidential race will be won or lost — New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and California.

Their combined electoral vote total is 181, more than two-thirds of the 269 needed to win the White House.

In the four remaining electioneering days, the Democratic standard-bearer plans two one-day sorties into the South; one full day in New Jersey; and one day swooping through Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

His windup rally will be in Boston, Monday night, November 7. Graphically illustrative of the blitz-type campaigning Kennedy contemplates in the concluding phase of his presidential drive is the schedule for one day which calls for his addressing meetings in four major cities of the six states he deems so crucial, as follows:

November 4 — Breakfast rally in Detroit; luncheon gathering in Toledo; afternoon meeting in Chicago; big indoor gathering in New York City at night.

Barring changes due to unforeseen developments, Kennedy's unannounced schedule for saturation electioneering in the "fateful six" calls for:

NEW YORK (45 electoral votes) — seven days of campaigning in three separate trips, covering October 11, 12, 13, 19, 20, and November 4, 5 and 6.

PENNSYLVANIA (32 electoral votes) — six days of electioneering, starting the afternoon of October 9 in Pittsburgh and on into the next day, October 11. Returning to the state on the evening of October 27, and concentrating in the densely populated Philadelphia area the next four days. In recent elections, this section has produced large Democratic majorities and Kennedy's strategy is to repeat that in order to help swing Pennsylvania into his column.

ILLINOIS (27 electoral votes) — five days, October 22 through October 26. This period will also include some campaigning in the nearby St. Louis area.

OHIO (25 electoral votes) — 2 1/2 days, spread over October 16, 17 and 26, 27.

MICHIGAN (20 electoral votes) — 2 1/2 days, on October 14, 15 and part of 16.

Everybody's Money

By MERYLE STANLEY RUYEYER

Freedom of choice is the creative mainspring which has lifted the American economic system to global primacy. In the heat of a political campaign, any proposals under the guise of liberalizing innovations which operate to regiment people and de-limit individual free choice should be rejected.

Some capable stock market technicians, by way of illustration, think that the monetary fathers at Washington in the Federal Reserve System fell on their faces in June 1959 when they tried to put a mattress under speculators in the new rule concerning substitution of funds released by the sale of stock.

The able Jerome Metzger, partner in the New York Stock Exchange firm of Steiner, Rouse & Co., thinks that this mechanical rule tends to make the market swing to excesses in both directions.

In margin transactions, under the substitution rule, only half of the proceeds of a profitable sale can be used as purchasing power to acquire other shares. The other 50 per cent must be employed against retirement of indebtedness owed by the speculative customer to the broker. Evidently the rule, which, according to report, was originally dreamed up by Marriner S. Eccles, former chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve, is intended to protect traders against themselves.

But human motivation is more complicated than the paternalistic economic planners realize.

The rule, in practice last year during the rise, deterred traders from selling out to take profits because they didn't want to reduce their speculative position. Accordingly, during the upward phase, the market was bereft of the full impact of the stabilizing effect on prices of profit taking.

The rule, which discourages selling after a rise, operates in the other direction during declining markets. In the first place, there has been forced selling by holders of highly volatile stocks whose margin position had become impaired. Second, those with losses are reconciled into selling (especially where established losses can be offset against earlier taxable capital gains) by the effect of the capital gains tax. Third, the market, after substantial price dips, lacks the normal buying power which would have been available if speculators on the up side had felt freer to exercise their judgment, and sell out during a rising phase of the market.

These somewhat technical facts dramatize a potential new blueprint for strengthening the American economic system — not only for purposes of the cold war but for domestic aspirations to improve civilian living standards.

A whole set of social and "reforms" have operated to restrain individuals from exercising judgment in making decisions. The capital gains tax, which makes the Internal Revenue Service a partner in all capital gains to the tune of up to 25 per cent of the total, tends to discourage profit-taking during a rise. This unsound tax also reduces the volume of transactions. Because of this effect, many believe that the Federal Government would get more revenue if it cut the capital gains tax rates in half.

Likewise, the fiat power conferred by Congress on labor unions, which creates a "nuisance value" in setting industrial costs, dilutes the decision-making responsibility toward the cost sheet of managing executives of corporations. I am not arguing that, if free, executives would invariably exercise judgment wisely. But in the case of the steel strike settlement, for example, pressure was brought on industrial executives to proceed against their best judgment and to further widen the disparity in labor costs between U.S. producers and companies operating in free Europe, Japan and elsewhere.

There are other instances where government imposed rigidity is substituted for independent management judgment. In the matter of capital-structure-of-companies, judgment of the executives and the investment bankers they consult is blurred by the bias in the income tax law, which constitutes a subsidy in favor of financing by debt (bonds and notes) instead of through equities (shares of stock). Under the tax law, interest on bonds is a tax deductible expense, but dividends on shares are not treated as a cost.

A correction could be achieved by permitting companies under careful regulations, governing approved uses of new capital for job-creating projects, to deduct earnings on new stock up to a stated limit, such as 6 per cent, from net taxable income for 10 or 15 years.

It would make for prosperity and for a rise in material well being to introduce legislative and administrative changes to unshackle free

Henry Doesn't Look Forward To Super-Roads

By HENRY McEMORE

When completed, the Federal Highway System will make driving safer, easier and quicker, so I suppose I'm a nut to wish the roads weren't going to be built. But I do.

As a motorist who puts close to 50,000 miles a year on his car, I do not look forward to the super-highways with their miles and miles of four, five and six lanes, their cloverleaf, lily of the valley, and bachelor button turns, their endless stretches of straight concrete, their speedway banked turns, and their no "Stop" and "Go" signals.

What bores these roads will be. How monotonous to cross the continent without a red light, how dull to pass through no cities, how unexciting never to get lost, and how unadventurous always to eat in service area restaurants as standard in appearance and food as the feathers on a duck.

The roads will eliminate asking directions. Some will consider this a blessing, but not I. I have spent half my motoring life pulled to the curb, or along side a cop, asking which way to go to get to so-and-so.

You never get the right directions or, if you do, you forget them after the first left turn — but getting lost is the best way to see a town or city. After you have made three wrong turns, and gone by Elm where you were supposed to turn right, the best thing to do is cruise around slowly, taking in the sights, until you happen across the road you were looking for in the first place. And you always do.

The new Federal Highways will put an end to the game of "Where To Eat". Half the fun of motoring is trying to pick out a good restaurant by name or appearance or by the roadside signs displayed. There is nothing more gratifying than to happen by chance on a place that serves really fine food. You feel like a discoverer, and the whole day is made.

Even now, before the roads are fully standardized, eating is a chore, a bore, and dull beyond belief. The restaurants on the thruways, spaced as definitely as the hands on a clock, all look alike, taste alike, charge alike. Bright, trim little food treadmills.

Cute, and so efficient. Eat in enough of them and you can get out of your car blindfolded, walk through the door, slide into a booth, open the big, slick menu, and put your finger on the dish you want. It will be in the same place that it was last month, in a restaurant on another highway, in another state.

On the super-highways you will never have to wonder what lies ahead. You'll know the answer — nothing. Just more flat stretches of concrete, miles and miles of the stuff, taking the shortest distance between two points.

enterprise, and to restore to individuals and responsible business managers freedom to make decisions.

(Mr. Ruyeyer will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

The Doctor Says:

DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

On previous occasions I have called attention to the havoc wrought by a resistant strain of staphylococcus, an organism formerly regarded as a bacterial "weak sister" if not a normal and harmless inhabitant of all skin surfaces and body cavities.

Perhaps you remember columns that dealt with the alarming increase in the fire power of this once lowly and despised enemy. It has recently invaded the operating rooms and wards of hospitals, producing surgical complications of all sorts, some fatal. And perhaps you recall the column that specifically called attention to the fifth column activity of the now feared "staph" that infiltrated homes as stowaway in and on the bodies of newborn infants.

Nationwide publicity was given the "golden staph" (staphylococcus aureus) that necessitated the hospitalization of Vice President Nixon at the beginning of his campaign for the Presidency.

Now, thanks to the joint effort of Dr. John C. Sheehan of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a group of British scientists, an effective defense against the enemy is at hand. Let me try to outline the steps that led to the discovery of the new agent, to be called Staphellin in the U.S.A., and thus answer the many inquiries that have come to me requesting information on means of combating the menace.

First came the discovery of penicillin, prepared from a living mold with which scientists had been familiar for many years.

Next came clinical reports that the new miracle drug not only worked in the laboratory but effected the cure of patients suffering from a variety of infections including those caused by staphylococci.

Third came a slowly mounting group of observations from all over the world that the family of staphs was producing a strain that "paid no mind" to the new drugs and went along raising particular need just as if no one had ever heard of penicillin.

Fourth came even more alarming reports to the effect that penicillin was beginning to kick back at patients, producing serious reactions, sometimes fatal. Next, from the bull pen, came a rookie pitcher called penicillinase who was able to strike out penicillin reactions.

Sixth came the theory that maybe the pesky staph was as smart as our scientists and that the resistant strain had also learned to manufacture penicillinase.

Then came the real payoff that gave our scientists another round in this seemingly never-ending battle when they produced an antipenicillinase just as the military works on our behalf to produce anti-missile missiles and anti-anti-missile missiles.

And finally the perfection of a now available drug that combines effective penicillin with an effective antipenicillinase.

And you think your job is complicated?

Glad To See Nikita Leave

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials are glad Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is leaving the United Nations scene but they are unhappy to see the reverberations of his fantastic 25-day performance will linger on.

It is too early to tell, top officials said today, just what the long-range effects may be. Some of the time bombs planted by the Soviet premier may yet glow the world organization wide open, or tilt its influence against the West. The problem facing U.S. strategists is how to defuse them.

U.S. officials acknowledged that the next administration, be it Democratic or Republican, must find more effective ways to extend the support of the newly-independent African nations, as well as the still struggling senior members of the Asian-African group.

President Eisenhower outlined the generalities of such a program in his U.N. address. The commitments now will be watching to see exactly how the United States proposes to attain these goals.

U.S. officials believe Khrushchev failed to make any immediate inroads on the voting balance in the United Nations. But he showed enough confusion to create doubt in the minds of the uncommitted nations as to just where their best course lies.

The violence of his attack on U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld tended to repel delegates from most of the uncommitted nations. Khrushchev gained little support for his demand that Hammarskjöld be replaced by a three-member council representing East, West and neutrals. However, he did command great interest with his demand that underdeveloped nations be given a more powerful voice in U.N. affairs.

His most effective device was to identify Russia with the strong desire of smaller nations for greater representation on the Security Council and more say in the operation of the executive arm.

This appeal, along with Khrushchev's call for immediate and unconditional freedom for all remaining colonial areas, undoubtedly left a lasting impression on many Asian and African delegates. The Russians can be expected to exploit this to the full.

The Soviet premier apparently gained no ground in his effort to convince U.N. members that the West is dead wrong on such explosive issues as disarmament, Berlin and Germany. However, he undoubtedly had little hope of making any specific progress on those issues at this time.

American authorities believe Khrushchev achieved a major success in one area which has no direct connection with the United Nations.

They think his table-thumping performances and completely rigid and doctrinaire arguments were designed to reinforce his position as the leader of international communism against Red Chinese criticism that he has gone "soft" in dealing with the West.

He enlisted the satellite leaders of Eastern Europe in this campaign and even managed to improve relations with Yugoslavia's President Tito. As a result, the official U.S. view is that he will be in a much stronger position for his November meeting in Moscow with Red China's Chou En-lai and other Communist leaders.

By contrast, the only tangible Western gain from Khrushchev's U.N. operations appeared to be that once again, by the violence of his attack, he had forced the allied camp closer together.

XEROX (zee-rox) is a medium of reproducing copies of almost anything written, printed, typed or drawn that can be produced on sheets of paper up to 8½"x14". It is designed to reproduce single or multiple copies very rapidly and very economically.

Your original copy up to 17"x22" can be reduced in size by 50% (to 8½"x11"). Small documents may be enlarged as much as 150%, within the confines of the 8½"x13" XeroX plate.

Any quantity available—1—20—50—100—1000 or 5000—and up or in between, can be produced quickly and cheaply.

Come in or phone, for quotations on your printing needs.

* Up to 8½"x14" Reproductions of Your Original Copy On 16 lb. or 20 lb. paper Printed in Black Ink. This Special Process Does Not Allow Sheets To Be Numbered, Perforated, etc.
