Earl Long Dies Today

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI)—Earl K. Long, three-time governor of Louisiana, brother of the assassinated Kingfish Huey and inmate of mental asylums while in office, died of a heart attack today.

Dr. R. U. Parrott said the 65-year-old Long "just rolled over and died" under an oxygen tent. He had been in a hospital, since winning election to Congress July 23 over fantastic obstacles.

Parrott said the gravel-voiced campaigner whose wild tour of mental hospitals couldn't ruin his standing among the hill-country voters actually suffered a heart attack the night before the election.

He said he and Long denied it and announced it was only a "touch of pneumonia" because Long didn't want anybody to know.

Long had another heart attack this morning and it killed him at 7:10 a.m. He died without a murmur five days from the 25th anniversary of the assassination of his famous brother Huey.

Long's death brings to an end a fabulous era and a way of political life. His nephew Russell Long, Huey's son, is now in the U.S. Senate, but Russell and Earl were worlds apart.

Long, despite his escapades with strip teasers, his madcap vacation trip last year and the famous episode in which he bulled his way out of a state mental hospital, won election to Congress by 6,000 votes over incumbent Rep. Harold McSweeney.

It was one of the most fantastic comebacks in political history. He had trailed by nearly 4,000 votes in the first primary. Doctors said the strenuous stumping that carried him to victory killed him.

Long called himself the "last of the red-hot poppas" and he was. His death brings an end to a (See LONG DIES, Page 3)

County, City Wreck-Free Over Holiday

Gray County was free of fatal traffic accidents and had not recorded an accident during this holiday weekend as of noon today, Sgt. E. G. Albers Jr., of the Texas Highway Patrol, reported.

This was a signal honor for the county, the sergeant noted, since Texas has had 23 highway deaths to date, and ranks second in the national Labor Day weekend death count.

One fatal accident has been reported in Sgt. Albers' district. Jimmy Lopez, a 13-year-old Hedley youth died at 2 p.m. Sunday in a Memphis hospital following an accident in Hedley Saturday.

Sgt. Albers did not have particulars on the incident since investigating officers had not completed their reports.

Chivalry In Time Of Danger

CARRABELLE, Fla. (UPI)—Eight chivalrous men and two young boys spent 22 hours in the Gulf of Mexico when their fishing boat sank but they were rescued unharmed late Sunday.

The skipper of the fishing craft turned the boat's one rafter to the seven men and two youngsters who had set out with him for some gulf fishing. He took his chances in the water with a hatch cover.

The other men established the boys on the raft and got into the water, hanging to the sides of the rubber craft.

The fishing party rented a boat at Shell Point, Fla., and put out into the Gulf Saturday for a Labor Day weekend of fishing. But 30 miles out the boat sprang a leak and abruptly sank.

Hurricane Donna Veering North Of Puerto Rico, But Alert Holds

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Hurricane Donna, its movement slowed and turned slightly northward, will pass about 70 or 80 miles to the north of San Juan early this afternoon, the Weather Bureau said today.

In a special bulletin, the Weather Bureau ordered hurricane warnings continued "as a precautionary measure" for the north and east coasts of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

For the south and west coasts of Puerto Rico and St. Croix, Virgin Islands, hurricane warnings were changed to gale warnings.

The north and east coasts of Puerto Rico and the Virgins were under full alert as the mighty hurricane, packing winds of 140 miles an hour, rolled in from the southeast.

"Hurricane Donna was located by radar 75 miles east northeast of San Juan at 8 a.m. EST this morning. Weather Bureau officials said:

"It is moving toward the west-northwest at about 15 miles per hour.

"A slightly slower and more northerly movement of the hurricane during the past several hours indicates that Donna will pass about 70 to 80 miles to the north of San Juan early this afternoon.

"Strong winds, high tides, rough seas and heavy rains will occur on the north and east coasts of Puerto Rico today, and precautions should be continued until the hurricane has passed north of the island.

"People in low areas along the north and east coasts should be alert for any flooding caused by

Homeward-Bound Drivers May Set New Holiday Death Mark

325 Traffic Deaths Since Holiday Began, 70 Drownings, 52 Others

Travel-weary Americans bade farewell to summer today and headed home under threat of a record high Labor Day weekend traffic death toll.

Fatigue was a major danger for millions of motorists on crowded highways. Combined with sunburn, sore muscles and highway danger or inattention, it could be lethal.

A United Press International count at 10:15 a.m. e.d.t. showed 325 traffic deaths since the weekend began officially at 6 p.m. (local times) Friday. In addition there were 70 drownings and 52 accidental deaths from miscellaneous causes for an overall total of 447.

California traffic killed more people than traffic in any other state, claiming 36 lives. Texas was second with 23, followed by Pennsylvania, 19; Illinois, 17; New York, 16; Ohio, 13, and North Carolina, 12. States without a reported traffic fatality were Alaska, Connecticut, Idaho and New Hampshire.

The National Safety Council said the toll had been running about the same as Labor Day, 1959, until Sunday night when it took "an alarming spurt. It now appears certain that our estimate (460) will be reached and perhaps passed."

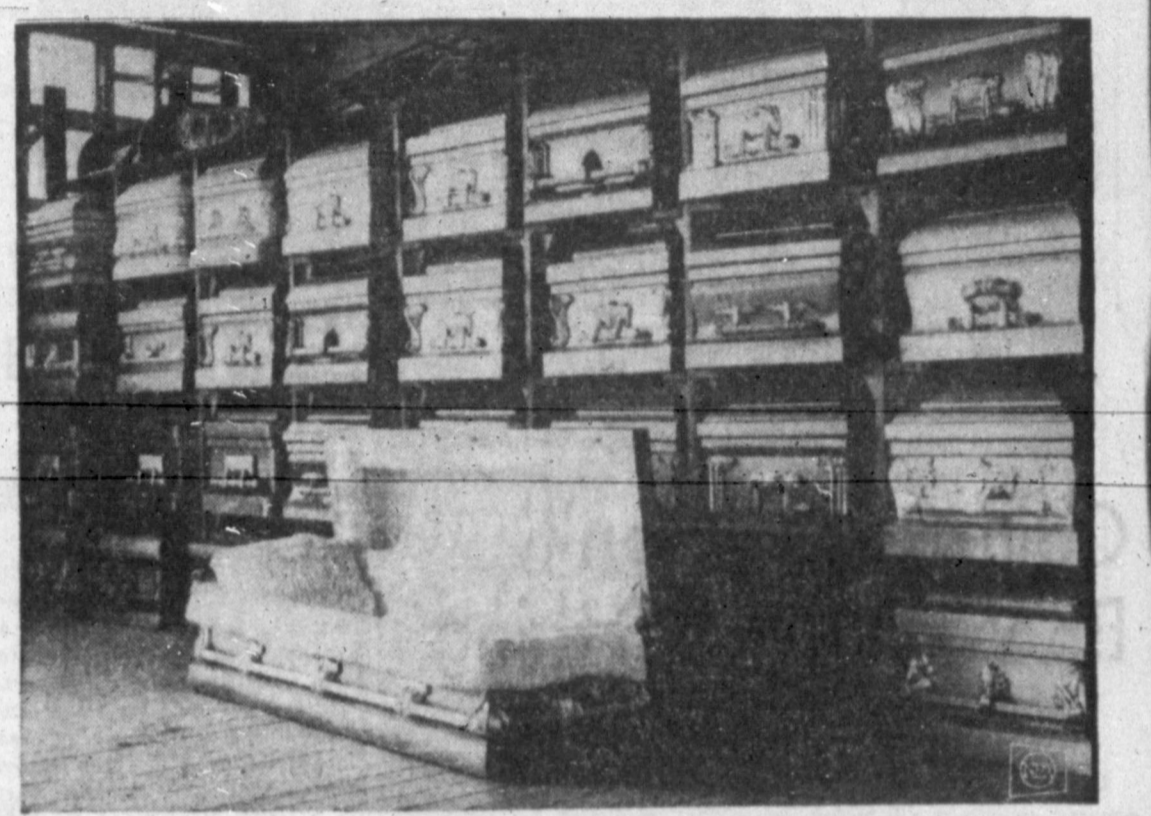

The council's estimate was higher than the all-time Labor Day weekend record of 453 traffic deaths, set in 1951. Last year the council predicted 450 persons would die in traffic over the Labor Day weekend. UPI counted 434.

The council noted the going-home hours have been shown the second most dangerous period of the weekend. Over last Fourth of July weekend, the council said, "23 per cent occurred in the final 24 hours. About 75 per cent of the fatalities came during the going and returning holiday periods."

Five youths died Sunday in two accidents within a 20-mile area in Illinois, both crashes typical of weekend smash-ups. A head-on collision at high speed killed three persons. The second accident, involving one car, occurred when the auto failed to negotiate a curve and hit a tree. Two teen-agers were killed and another was injured.

Two Stillwater, Okla., brothers, Bobby Sheppard, 26, and Horace, 21, drowned Sunday while trying to rescue a third brother from the Cimarron River. The other brother, Billy, 31, of Plainview, Tex., was saved.

In weekend fires, a young mother and three of her children died in a smoky tenement blaze at Boston Sunday. At nearby Cambridge, Mass., a 6-year-old child was burned to death in an apartment fire.

STACKED AND READY — Twenty-nine coffins, stacked in Dayton, represent the predicted Labor Day Weekend death count for the state of Ohio, traditionally one of the highest in the nation. At noon today Ohio was ranked sixth behind Texas, which was second only to California.

Near Predicted DPS Estimate

By United Press International

Texas moved today toward the three-day Labor Day holiday weekend traffic death toll of 129 predicted by the Department of Public Safety.

A United Press International survey for the period which started at 6 p.m. Friday showed 23 dead on Texas streets and highways as Labor Day arrived. With a full day of holiday activity ahead, and hundreds of thousands of motorists on Texas highways, it appeared the DPS prediction would be reached—or exceeded.

The number of violent deaths—including drownings and shootings—rose to 28. The count ends at 11:59 p.m. tonight.

Six persons died in one accident at Lufkin Saturday.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Van De Gaer and their daughter, all of Nederland; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cates of Kerens, Tex., and a nurse traveling with them, Mrs. Anna Charlene Rowan, 40, Mrs. Gladys C. Curtis, 50, of Texarkana, was critically injured.

An 80-year-old Sundown man, Sam Anderson, was killed Sunday as a pedestrian when he was hit by a car driven by Bill Shelton. (See PREDICTED, Page 3)

Lumumba's Leadership Due Airing

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The Congolese chamber of deputies scheduled a meeting today to discuss the leadership of Premier Patrice Lumumba whose Russian-supported troops were battling bow and arrow warriors in secessionist Kasai Province.

Three British newsmen arrested by Lumumba's forces in Bakwanga have been released unharmed, U.N. officials said today. They were Richard Williams of the British Broadcasting Corporation, Alexander Gall of Reuters and George Gale of the Daily Express. They were arrested for having "improper credentials" when they landed from a plane Friday at Luluabourg.

Belgian officers in Elisabethville said Baluba tribesmen, driven into a frenzy by repeated Congolese army massacres, have pinned down Lumumba's troops in the villages of Luputa, Mwenedity and Gandajika in the Bakwanga area.

Bakwanga is the capital of the "mining state" proclaimed independent in Kasai province by Elisabethville tribal leader Albert Kalonji. Lumumba rushed in 1,000 Congolese army troops to quell the revolt and dispatches from the area today said the Russians were intervening to help Lumumba.

Kennedy Talks At Traditional Detroit Fete

DETROIT (UPI)—Democratic presidential contender John F. Kennedy charged today that the Eisenhower administration has stunted the nation's economic growth to the extent it has cost each four-member family an average total of $7,000 since 1953.

The Massachusetts senator said in a speech prepared for the traditional union-sponsored Labor Day Rally in Cadillac Square that America's economic "health is obviously down — and we had better call for a new doctor in Washington."

Wayne County AFL-CIO leaders set a goal of 100,000 persons to pack the square for the rally, starting point for Democratic presidential campaigns since Harry S. Truman started the custom in 1948. Kennedy jumped the gun this year, launching an 18-day, 17-state tour Friday in New England and appearing this weekend in California and Alaska.

An admirably riotous crowd estimated by state police at 5,000 persons greeted Kennedy at Metropolitan Airport when his chartered jetliner landed at 11:15 p.m. e.d.t. Sunday night after a flight of almost six hours from Anchorage, Alaska. Tonight Kennedy will fly to Pocatello, Idaho, and Tuesday he will head on to Spokane and Seattle, Wash.

Tuesday Meeting

The City Council will convene in the commission room of City Hall at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Mayor Ed Myatt said he did not know of anything other than regular business slated for discussion.

U.S. Newsmen Killed On Congo Assignment

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Scripps-Howard reporter Henry N. Taylor, 32, was killed instantly Sunday by a burst of machinegun fire while covering a battle between Congolese troops and Baluba tribesmen, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

Word of his death was held up by the embassy until his family could be informed. His father is Henry J. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to Switzerland.

Taylor was the first American reporter to be killed while covering the turbulent Congo. He was shot near the village of Tchelenge, 17 miles southeast of Bakwanga, capital of the self-proclaimed independent "mining state."

Taylor, who arrived here Aug. 31, left Saturday for Bakwanga to cover the frenzied jungle fighting between Premier Patrice Lumumba's Congolese army and the Baluba tribesmen, most of them armed only with bows and arrows. The shots presumably were fired by Lumumba's men since the tribesmen have no automatic weapons.

A U.N. spokesman said death was instantaneous.

Before his departure he left a dispatch with the United Press.

Nixon Pepped Up By Kind Letter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"I love our country and Daddy says you can save it. Please work hard so you will be our next president." With that pep talk in mind, Vice President Richard M. Nixon today began his second week in hospital with a campaign leg injury.

One of the vice president's favorites was a message from 7-year-old Julie Witdrod of Downers Grove, Ill. Julie wrote:

"Daddy likes you. Mommy likes you. I like you. We think you can win. I am going to work for you too but I can't vote. My sister Patricia can vote. She just had twins.

"I'm only seven but can deliver folders. Please work hard so you will be our next president. I love our country and Daddy says you can save it. I will watch for you on TV, honorable sir."

Solons To Seek Funds For Dam 'Immediately'

Congressmen Walter Rogers of Pampa and George Mahon of Lubbock announced today that they will take immediate steps to obtain funds to start construction of the Canadian River Dam.

Rogers and Mahon, both of whom have been striving to make a reality of the long-sought project, pushed through a $300,000 appropriation for advance planning during the recent short session of Congress.

Rogers said that he and Mahon plan to discuss the matter of actual construction funds with Floyd Dornay, commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, from where the funds will be obtained. Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton and officials of the Bureau of Budget.

The project, instigated in 1950, was originally expected to cost some $88 million. However, subsequent changes have hiked the estimated cost to $100 million.

"I am delighted that plans can go forward for the possible early construction of the dam," said Rogers. "Its completion will mean much to the Panhandle and South Plains area, and we expect to waste no time in doing what is necessary here in Washington."

Eisenhower And Nixon Issue Labor Day Speeches

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the American working people today that their record of progress serves as an inspiration to the world.

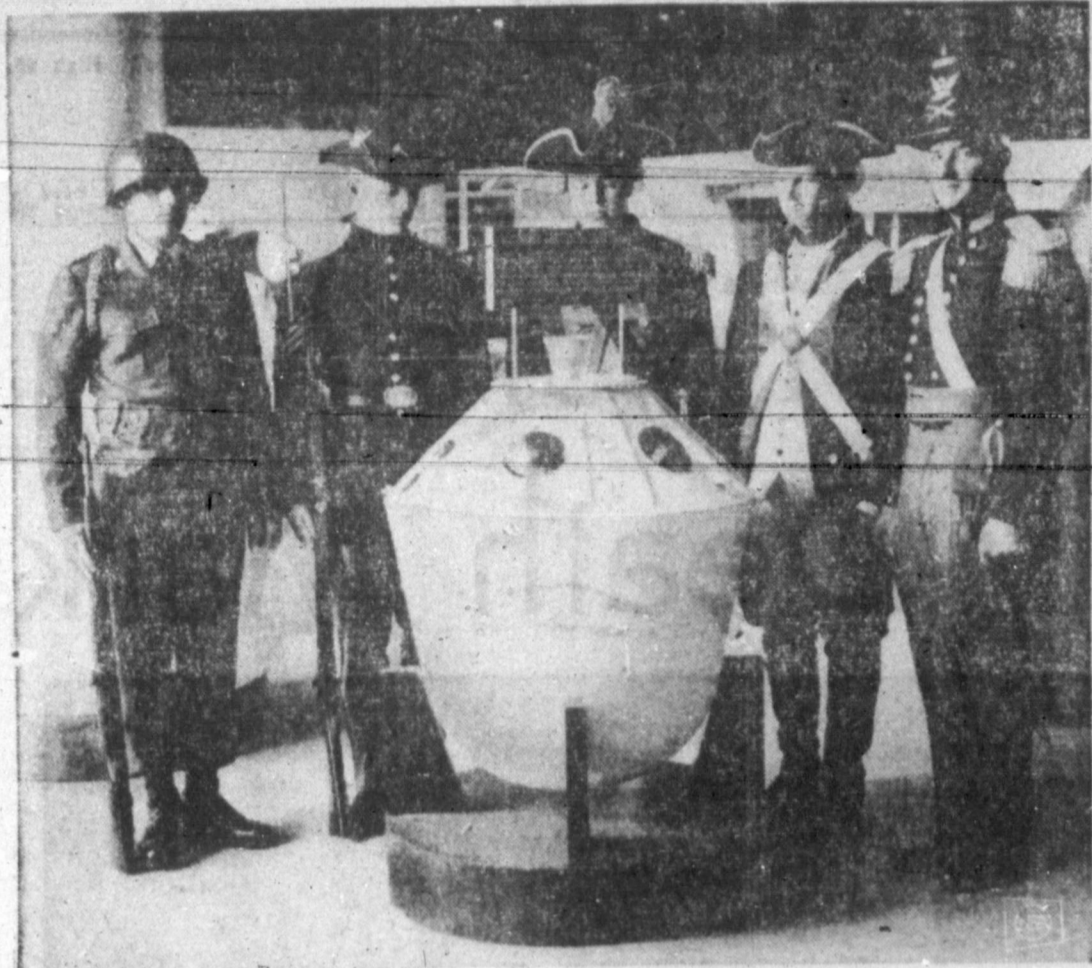

Eisenhower and Nixon, in separate Labor Day messages released Sunday night, contrasted the lot of the American workingman to that of his less fortunate cousin living under communism.

The President said workers in this country have created "a dynamic society which has earned the respect and raised the hopes of working people throughout the world."

Coin Soon Won't Be Worth A Farthing

By HARRY HOBBS
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Britain announced recently it will banish the lowly farthing (about 1/4 of a cent) from its coinage at the end of the year, but it's already apparent the four-a-penny midget won't die without a fight.

Its senior relation, the Guinea ($2.93), was dropped as a coin of the realm some 140 years ago but despite disembodiment survives today in commerce and trade.

The guinea remains the standard for all professional men. When it comes to bids at the push auctions of jewels and objects d'art, or even the sale of cattle, the standard rates still are guineas. Most of the better shops price their wares in guineas. The long-gone guinea thrives on the awkward arithmetic it involves — it being the term for 21 shillings, one more shilling than in the pound.

The one-thousand times less valuable farthing has been handed around as legal tender since about the year 1250, working its way downwards through the ranks from silver to tin, to copper to bronze.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN in accordance with the provisions of law pertaining thereto, that on the 23rd day of Sept. 1960, the Board of Directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority will pass a resolution calling an election to be held throughout said Authority on the proposition of the approval of a contract with the United States of America for the construction of the Canadian River Project, as authorized by the Congress of the United States by Public Law 865 effective December 29, 1950 and for payment by the Authority of the reimbursable costs of the construction, operation and maintenance of the project in accordance with Reclamation Law. The reimbursable cost of the construction of said project is, not including interest on the expense of operation and maintenance, now estimated at approximately $32,000,000.

A summary of the work and improvements and facilities designed to deliver or aid in delivering water to each of the constituent or member cities of the Authority, and which will be constructed by the United States under the aforesaid contract, is as follows:

1. The construction of a dam or reservoir on the Canadian River near Sanford, Texas, having approximately 160,000 acre feet of conservation storage, approximately 40,000 acre feet of dead storage, and approximately 1,000 acre feet of dead storage, and a dependable yield of approximately 160,000 acre feet of water per annum.
2. The construction of an aqueduct system for transporting stored water from the reservoir to the constituent cities, and to others who may contract with the Authority for water.
3. The construction of pumping facilities.
4. The purchase of all other material, machinery, lands and rights-of-way, property and property rights, and the construction of all other facilities, as are incidental and necessary to the accomplishment of the purposes of the Authority's project.

GOP Outlines Candidates Guide

HOUSTON (UPI) — Texas Republicans Saturday unveiled a party-approved blueprint on state water, road and school problems.

Termed a "guide for state candidates," the GOP blueprint was charged during a luncheon at the Houston Club by Crittenden Jarvis, a Dallas lawyer and member of the Dallas County Republican Executive Committee.

Jarvis authored the plan following a detailed study of state government.

"Although the program has been approved by the state executive committee, it is not a mandate to the candidates," explained J. Nolan McKean, director of publicity for the state GOP campaign. "No Republican candidate for state office is obligated to adopt this program as his personal platform."

The "GOP blueprint" calls for accelerated industrial development, better schools and possible remedies for Texas' road building and water utilization problems.

Shopkeepers will refuse them as 1960 closes; bus conductors already scorn them.

Schoolteachers are waiting the signal to drop them from the money tables. While the public probably keeps some sentimental affection for a coin that has lingered so long, few trouble to pocket them. Inflation has made them a nuisance.

Pennsylvania Strike Negotiations Drag

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Negotiations for settlement of the five-day strike against the Pennsylvania Railroad dragged today despite a blast from Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and a warning from GOP House leader that Congress may be forced to take action.

Mitchell said the Transport Workers Union has ignored "the public interest" in this strike and warned that if such actions continued, "some forces" in this country are going to demand that Congress give the federal government power to arbitrate major labor disputes on a compulsory basis.

In a nationally televised interview from Washington, Mitchell said TWU President Michael J. Quill "apparently is not used to... does not want to live with" the Railway Labor Act.

Quill promptly branded the remarks as "a flatfooted statement throwing in the full weight of the Eisenhower administration against the strikers of the Pennsylvania Railroad."

In a telegram to the heads of the TWU's 46 striking locals, Quill charged "Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has today caused further stalling in the current negotiations and has prolonged the strike."

Quill is spokesman for the unions representing 20,000 maintenance workers who walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. Thursday in a dispute over job security and working conditions. The strike which climaxed three years of fruitless negotiations, shut down the nation's largest railroad and idled some 72,000 workers in the 13-state area served by the Pennsy.

Assistant House GOP Leader Leslie Arends of Illinois said in Washington that failure to reach agreement by parties involved in

Chinese Bank Seized By Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The Cuban government prepared today to take over the Bank of China, already under protection of Cuban militia sent in to "protect the public interest."

Cuba and Nationalist China severed diplomatic relations Saturday as the Fidel Castro government announced it would recognize Communist China.

Informed sources said the assets of the bank totaled about $10 million.

The bank's seven officials are expected to leave with Ambassador Liu Yu-wan and other members of the embassy when they return to Formosa.

Government radio commentator Jose Pardo Llada, in a two hour and 20 minute television program Sunday night, denounced what he called the "dirty, lying United States press."

disputes affecting vital transportation industries could force Congress to enact legislation dealing with such controversies.

Two Burglaries Over Weekend

Two burglaries that netted the culprits less than $15 are being investigated by city police today. Operators of Mickey's Bar, 1210 S. Barnes, reported that a window on the west side of the building had been broken sometime after closing hours Saturday night, and that $8 in quarters had been taken from the cash register, and two cases of beer had been carried away.

The other report came from the Hi-Lo Gas Mart, Frederick and Barnes. Jack Bromlow, 935 Morphy, informed police early this morning that an air conditioner had been pushed from a window to gain entry to the station, and that a soft drink vending machine had been opened from which the burglar obtained some small change. Some $2 in pennies also were taken from the cash register.

Capt. Dennis Roan and Patrolman R. L. Burkhart investigated.

AF Reserve Schedule For Fall, Winter

The first class of the fall and winter training sessions of the Pampa Air Force Reserve will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 14, in the Reserve building, 208 W. Browning.

Two classes will get the program under way. One will be for officers, who will study "Staff Development," and the other is slated for airmen or non-commissioned officers training and development.

Other information concerning the program may be obtained from Major Lewis B. Hackley, squadron information services officer, at MO 5-5140.

Former McLean Resident Dies

Funeral services for George W. Faye, 65, a former resident of McLean who died at the home of a sister in Albuquerque, N.M., Saturday at 1 a.m., will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the McLean Methodist Church.

Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery. Mr. Faye, a resident of Webo, Mont., had been in ill health for several months. He spent the last six months in a hospital and recently was being cared for in the home of his sister in Albuquerque.

He was married July 6, 1919, to the former Miss Ruth Bailey of the Heald Community near McLean. Survivors include his wife, Ruth, of the home in Webo; three sons, T. J. of Glendive, Mont., Leonard of Ashland, Mont., and James of Webo; two brothers, Walter of Grants, N.M., and Charlie of Gainesville, Tex.; two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Perry of Sweetwater, Tex., and eight grandchildren.

Speeches

(Continued From Page 1) raised, working conditions improved and greater security achieved, he said, to a greater degree than in any other society in history.

But "we are challenged to show that our society can make progress in freedom," Eisenhower added, "challenged by an aggressive rival, communism."

Nixon declared the strength of this nation is greater than high living standards and vast production. It is, he said, "the strength represented in the vigor and integrity and independence of American unions, in the institution of free collective bargaining in which workers and management establish the pace of economic advance."

Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, however, took another view of the situation facing American labor. In a speech prepared for delivery in Detroit, the Massachusetts senator charged the nation's economic "health is obviously down—and we had better call for a new doctor."

in the college division Sept. 14. Miss Judy Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wells, 1817 N. Dwight, left the latter part of last week to enroll for the fall term at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and to attend rush week activities on campus.

Monthly meeting of Gray County Singing will be held at 2 p.m. today in Church of God, corner of Reid and Campbell. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will not meet Monday evening due to the holiday, according to Mrs. Earl Barnett, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wright, Roger and Diane, of Oklahoma City, Okla., are holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Vanderberg, 1125 Charles.

Austin P.T.A. will have a called executive board meeting Thursday 9:30 a.m. in the school cafeteria, morning cup of coffee.

according to Mrs. G. M. Martin, unit president. All members are urged to be present. Unit A-1 of the Beauty Association will meet at 8 p.m. Sept. 12, in the Pampa Hotel. A report from state headquarters on fashions will be on the agenda.

SHOOT BARKEEP, PATRON

PARIS (UPI) — Police today sought terrorists who shot and killed the proprietor and a lone customer at a quiet suburban Paris cafe.

The gunmen were believed to have been Algerian Nationalists, who have been relatively quiet recently in metropolitan France. The victims of Sunday's shooting were both Frenchmen, Francois Delville, 54, proprietor of the Cafe des Sports, and Charles Prioux, 30, who was enjoying a Sunday morning cup of coffee.

The fatality occurred in Sundown at the intersection of Farm Roads 300 and Jimmy Lopez, 13, of Hedley in the Panhandle, died Sunday from injuries received Saturday when he fell from the bumper of a car and was run over by another automobile on U.S. Highway 287 in Hedley.

A two-year-old Victoria boy, Terry Heller, died Sunday when a house trailer broke loose and collided with another vehicle on State Highway 35 about one mile east of Tivoli, Tex.

The violent death toll through Sunday included four drownings and 11 miscellaneous fatalities.

A prominent Lindale, Tex., businessman, Leon (Punk) York, 48, burned to death in a fire that swept his home in Lindale Saturday night. York was the organizer of the Lindale State Bank.

Long Dies

Earl, like his brother Huey, preferred to stomp the villages and the crossroads communities in the blazing Louisiana sun rather than spend campaign money on television.

Long never recovered from the ravages of the wild summer of 1959, when he spent most of the month of June in and out of mental wards and became known to an amused world as "the crazy governor."

It all began when he ran a foul of segregationist forces in the Louisiana Legislature in May 1959. Long has never been a staunch segregationist, nor was Huey. His stand brought upon Earl the wrath of many of the legislators. Late in May, he rocked the state when he broke down in front of the Legislature. With nuns sitting shocked in the gallery, Earl screamed off-color jokes and hurled curses and personal insults at men who had been his friends the day before. He came back the next day intending to apologize, but repeated his performance.

On May 30, his wife Blanche had him taken from the mansion where she had held him despite his screams and hairbrushes he hurled through the windows, and shipped off to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, Tex. He was bound and drugged for the flight.

Hurricane

(Continued From Page 1) as the hurricane moves north of Puerto Rico, the south and southwestern sections of the island will be unaffected but there will be rough seas along the western coastal regions.

Hurricane winds extended outward 75 miles from the storm's center toward the northeast and 40 miles to the southwest. Gales were howling for 175 miles to the northeast and 100 miles to the southwest. Shipping in the storm's path was urged to use "extreme caution."

On its jaunt up the Atlantic, Donna swept by a long string of islands that includes Antigua where the U.S. Air Force maintains a missile tracking station. It was reported undamaged by the blow.

San Juan, capital of Puerto Rico, was reported to be a phantom city Sunday night with a few cars rushing about as advance preparations were made.

Small tourist groups huddled together in the big San Juan hotels to await the thrill of seeing a tropical hurricane at close hand. But the poor of La Perla and El Cano Martin slums turned their backs on the advancing storm and made their way toward school houses that have been set up as shelters.

Lodge Slates 'Conter Flight To Coney Island

NEW YORK (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge resumes his campaign today as Republican candidate for vice president with a helicopter tour of Coney Island and other New York City area beaches.

His Labor Day schedule calls for his appearance this morning at a breakfast meeting at the Hotel Roosevelt where he will discuss international problems, including American relations with Israel.

Lodge, who opened his campaign Saturday with a seven-hour tour of the Catskill Mountain resorts, said he regards campaigning as "great fun," and was looking forward to his trip to the beaches, where he will meet thousands of people enjoying the holiday.

The vice presidential candidate will be accompanied by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on the trip along Long Island's waterfront.

At noon, Lodge and his party were to take off in a helicopter from Manhattan's heliport for Jones Beach, where he will spend an hour. This will be followed by an hour's visit to Rockaway Beach from there Lodge will fly to the popular Coney Island amusement center.

Before leaving for the beaches, Rockefeller was slated to review an AFL-CIO Labor Day parade at New York City's public library on Fifth Avenue, and Lodge may go there with him. Rockefeller was at Lodge's side throughout the trip into the Catskills.

LONDON (UPI)—A letter writer to the Sunday Pictorial complained Sunday that the short skirts worn by British girls have driven him to standing in subway.

Every time he sits opposite a young girl, he said, he has to choose between getting a sore neck from looking to one side or feeling silly from closing his eyes.

Anti-American Sentiment In Mexico Is On Decline

By JAIME PLENN
United Press International
MEXICO CITY (UPI) — U. S. businessmen here believe anti-American sentiment in Mexico is at its lowest ebb, despite anti-American gestures during recent street demonstrations and a strong pro-Cuba current here.

The "U.S. Pro-Mexico Committee" has put its official seal on the generally friendly feeling toward Americans, with the implication that efforts to perpetuate hostile attitudes are showing more failures than successes.

The committee is an organization of more than 100 top industrial, financial and business firms with U.S. connections, formed to promote good relations between the two countries.

In a recent letter, Byron Hopps, Mexican-born president of the group, pointed out that the committee members were for the most part satisfied with their position with relation to Mexican private and official groups, and saw no reason for alarm among tourists or prospective investors.

Like programs of the U.S. Embassy and other groups, the committee's work is a day-to-day antidote to hate-U.S. poison spread by communists, nazis, fascists, radical Mexican nationalists, Arab nationalists, and an assortment of representatives of countries competing for Mexican foreign trade.

The Mexican communists are quite frank and outspoken about their feelings toward the United States. Typical of their "line" were the statements made by world-famed mural painter David Alfaro Siqueiros, who also is a leading communist, when he was arrested in connection with recent street demonstrations.

Siqueiros denied he had any part in them, although he had stated at a press conference two days before that a "Free Political Prisoners Committee" he heads had planned agitation for a couple of months ahead.

"The F.B.I. framed me," Siqueiros told the examining judge during a preliminary hearing before he was ordered to trial (equivalent to a U.S. indictment).

Then he added: "Our committee should not petition our government, but we should appeal to the U.S. Embassy."

It was his way of repeating what the communists have been charging for several years — that the Mexican government is controlled by Washington.

The government, of course, and most officials are very careful to avoid saying or doing anything that would give support to the communist contentions, and sometimes they lean over backwards to a point that puts them in an ostensible "anti-U.S." position.

Less overt about their needling of Uncle Sam are other groups.

The Soviet embassy and those of satellite Czechoslovakia and Poland carry on their propaganda work in a way to avoid betraying their hands, but their collaboration with the Cuban embassy here in many respects is well known. And the current burden of such activities is to show up the United States as "an economic aggressor" against Cuba.

Be follows in some of the more subtle and clandestine propaganda activities against the United States are Germans formed into neo-Nazi groups, collaborating with Arab nationalist supporters, and Spanish Falangists. The former two follow anti-Israel lines, which become generalized into anti-Jewish, and by the peculiar warped mental processes inherited from Adolf Hitler, these become anti-U.S. since the hocus-coccus is to make "Jew" and "American" synonymous, Mexico

(has officially frowned on anti-semitism.)

Motives are often more than ideological. They may stem from business ambitions. The long-time favored position of the United States with respect to Mexico's economy has been under assault by competitors from Germany, Italy, France, England, Belgium, Japan and other countries. Legitimate trade enterprise sometimes takes on the appearance of being U.S. sales, but in other cases the competitors make direct appeals to latent anti-U.S. prejudices carryovers from historical conflicts of the last 100 years or more.

Wreck Victim's Injuries Painted

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (UPI) — Traffic officer Lyle Dougherty said he has seen some unusual accidents in his time, but the one with Harold Herbert lying beside his damaged car, covered from head to foot with white paint, tops them all.

Dougherty said he arrived Saturday night to find Herbert, 27, of Port Credit lying injured next to his car with paint from head to toe.

On Dougherty's report it reads: Herbert lost control of his car, which hurdled two driveways, hit a concrete culvert of a third. In the process Herbert was thrown out, his trunk flew open, a gallon of paint catapulted out of the trunk, the lid came off and the can landed on Herbert's head.

Herbert came out of the encounter with a thorough paint job, a severe head cut and a broken ankle.

ENGAGED

BETROTHED

Altrusan To Attend Meeting In Austin

Dear Abby... Takes More Than Age To Make A Man
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a man by the laws of nature as well as the laws of the land. I am self-supporting, six feet tall, and celebrated my 21st birthday almost a year ago. But this doesn't mean anything to my parents. They still try to live my life and tell me what to do. Their biggest complaint is my recent involvement with a married woman who is divorcing her husband because of me. (HER idea, not MINE.)

I don't live by all the rules in their book, but I am of legal age and am willing to accept the consequences. How can I impress on my parents that a man of 21 can do as he pleases?

DEAR ABBY: I was over at my sister's house for supper last night and her husband gave their little boy the dickens for eating fresh fruit from the ice box without washing it first. I didn't want to say anything at the time, but I used to eat plums and apples right off the trees many years ago and I never died. How come?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR: Years ago fruit farmers (and grocers) did not use insect sprays as profusely as they do today. The fruit should be washed BEFORE it is put in the "ice box". Mamma should have caught the dickens.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument once and for all. I was taught that teen-agers did not rush to answer the telephone when elders were around. My wife's teenaged nieces and nephews always answer the phone in my home even if we are in the same room. When we are visiting their home, they literally race for the phone when it rings, elbowing each other out of the way. I say it is bad manners and should not be tolerated. I am told all teen-agers behave this way and it is perfectly all right.

AN ELDER: DEAR ELDER: A guest (of any age) should not answer the telephone unless asked to do so. Teen-agers should certainly have the right to answer the phone in their own homes (it's usually for them anyway).

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNCERTAIN": If you want to know what kind of woman your girl friend will probably develop into—take a good look at her mother.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Church Women Plan Meeting

The United Church Women of Pampa will have their first meeting of the year Friday, Sept. 9 at 2:30 in St. Paul Methodist Church.

John Robertson of Texas Migrant Commission will be guest speaker. He is currently in charge of migrant program of the Texas Council of Churches in Lubbock and Hereford areas.

Mrs. Joe Autry, United Church Women president, extends an invitation to all women in Pampa to attend the program. A nursery will be provided and refreshments will be served. Women attending are asked to bring items suitable for hygiene

Camp-Out Highlight Of Family Reunion

GROOM (Spl) — The children of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Fields met at the Naylor Ranch near Miami Saturday for a family reunion and picnic followed by an overnight camp-out.

On Sunday, the family was served dinner prepared by Lewis Fields.

Attending the reunion were the following families: Messrs. and Meses. Truett Fields of Groom; M. F. Fields and children of Amarillo; W. B. Tinsley of Irving; Dick Tinsley of Houston; R. F. Fields; Billy Fields and family of Groom; Arletus Ruthardt of Canyon; Clive and Cline of Panhandle; Ray Moseley and Fred of McCamey; Robert Wagoner and Elaine of Hereford; Charley Fields and Charles Donald of Groom; Tom Fields and children of Amarillo; Henry Fields of Claude; Naylor Fields of Amarillo; Fred Stubblefield of Miami.

Mrs. Jack P. Foster, District Nine vice governor of Altrusa Club, Inc. will be in Austin Sept. 7-8 to attend a conference on aging in a special session called by Governor Price Daniels. Community leaders from all over the state of Texas will meet in a first session on Sept. 7 at 10 a.m. in the House of Representatives, Austin, to discuss problems of aging with reference to vocation, medical aids, proposed increases in social security, and housing. At the invitation of the governor, Mrs. Foster is attending the conference as a representative of Altrusa Club. Prior to the conference, Mr. and Mrs. Foster will be in Dallas to enroll their daughter, Sue, in Southern Methodist University for the fall term.

Bridge Clubs Meet For Play Sessions

CANADIAN (Sp)—Delta Deck bridge club met with Mrs. Charles Wright recently.

Guests for the evening were Mines, Tex Hill, Bob Tipps, and Dick H. Barton. Members attending were Mmes. Bill Jackson, Quentin Isaacs, Lawrence Teague and Dorsey Tubb.

In the bridge games Mrs. Hill tallied high score and Mrs. Tipps low.

Mrs. Claude Givhan was hostess to the '37 Bridge Club in her home recently.

Mmes. Pack Gwaltney and Orla Curritt were guests for the evening. Members present were Mmes. Rhea Wilson, Dub Adams, Johnnie Morris, Janet Fry, George Hand and Charles Cook.

Guest high was won by Mrs. Gwaltney, member high by Mrs. Wilson and low by Mrs. Adams.

Following luncheon at E. J.'s Cafe, the Anonymous Club met in the home of Mrs. E. S. F. Brahmard for bridge with Mrs. French Arrington as hostess.

Guest for the afternoon was Mrs. Ken Johnson of Mesa, Ariz. and members attending were Mmes. Jack Osborne of Pampa, Vera Jones of Amarillo, Wiley Wright, Cap Kelley, W. L. Campbell, Frank Chambers, E. S. F. Brainard, and the hostess.

In the bridge games, Mrs. Jones tallied high score for the afternoon, Mrs. Johnson second high and cut prize was drawn by Mrs. Osborne.

WELL-SEASONED LIVER

Here's a tasty way to prepare liver: Dip sliced liver (1 pound) in French dressing then dredge in 2 1/2 cup enriched flour in which 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper have been mixed. Cook liver slowly in lard for drippings until well browned.

Entering Contests Is Next Best Thing To Having Money Tree In Backyard

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Garner has discovered the next best thing to a money tree.

During the last five years, the Indianapolis grandmother has averaged contest winnings of $5,000 a year.

"But I'd hate to depend on contest winnings for my next meal," she said in an interview. To pay for the next meal and such, she works for the State Highway Department.

"I enter contests—about 500 a year—mostly for the fun of it," she said.

And she proves that she means that by giving away many of her prizes. Mrs. Garner estimates that of the last 1,000 prizes, she's kept only 10 for herself.

Mrs. Francis Eastbourn, of Emporia, Kan., is another female with winning ways. She's been entering contests for more than 50 years, starting out the academic way—spelling bees.

"You might say, for publication," she said, "that my winnings have averaged roughly $1,000 a year over the last quarter century."

During the same interview—which was like a round-table discussion—Jay Wrinkle, of Knoxville, Tenn., was needed by the winsome women into telling about his contest winnings.

The bachelor and president of the National Contesters Association, a club of winners, said that during the last year he's won colored television sets, black and white TV sets, sewing machines, washing machines, sweepers. That's right—all plural.

Wrinkle's winnings would make some wife happy, but right now the winner from the Southland has no romantic notions. "Contests leave little time for romance," he said.

Like other big-time winners, Wrinkle enters about 500 contests a year when he's not busy purchasing zinc for a Tennessee firm. His winnings average $3,000 a year.

"Such contest winnings are the exception," he said. "Most of our members don't bat that kind of average in 30 years."

Wrinkle is an English major from the University of Tennessee. "But knowing about English is somewhat of a hindrance rather than a help," he said.

But that's just one man's opinion. Wrinkle said the membership list of the Contesters Association includes many English teachers.

Just about everybody's favorite sundae the year around is vanilla ice cream richly laden with hot fudge sauce. To make a lustrous dark chocolatey sauce the quick and easy way, melt a six ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces (1 cup) in a small can of evaporated milk (2-3 cup) over very low heat, then stir to blend. This hot fudge sauce is velvety smooth and of just-right consistency.

Grandmother Substitutes For Honoree At Fete

LEFORS (Sp) Mrs. Ralph Stout of Kilgeen was honored with a baby shower Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bud Means.

Prior to the party, Mrs. Stout was taken to the hospital for artery surgery, so refreshments, gifts and a corsage of baby-socks was taken to the honoree in the hospital.

Mrs. L. G. Pierce substituted as honoree for her daughter at the party, which at the last minute was called a "Grandmother's Shower."

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink and blue carnations with white Daisies. Mrs. Jim Mercer and Mrs. Means baked the cake, which was inscribed "Ralph and Chris' Boy or Girl" which was served with tea and coffee.

Among the 30 guests attending or sending gifts were Mrs. Norbet Nubey of Louisiana; Mrs. George Cross and Mrs. B. B. Brummett of Pampa, Mrs. B. W. Wilson, Mrs. E. W. Connell and Mrs. Elmer Hill.

For a satiny shine on summer fruit pies, brush the top crust with undiluted evaporated milk before baking.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wendell L. Willkie accepted a Republican presidential nomination way back there before the atomic era and bawled in defiant challenge to FDR:

"I wanna meet the CHAMP."
He met him.

That was in 1940. For years before and after in presidential campaigns, the nominee of the 'Outs had to meet the nominee of the 'Ins who was, of course, the President of the United States. As the incumbent President seeking re-election, the nominee of the 'Ins was, indeed, the CHAMP until he got licked. More often than not the champ prevailed over the challenger.

It has been only eight years since U.S. voters last were offered a choice between major party presidential candidates, neither of whom was a president seeking re-election. That was in 1952. The last previous time was in 1928 when President Calvin Coolidge with which to weight the edge "did not choose to run."

The 1928 contestants were Republican Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce in Coolidge's Cabinet, and Alfred E. Smith, Democratic governor of New York. Hoover won that one but lost four years later to another Democratic governor of New York, FDR.

Modern American political history suggests that an incumbent president seeking re-election enjoys a real advantage over the challenger who seeks to put him out. Roosevelt's 1932 triumph over Hoover was an exception.

After 1932, the president in office—the champ—licked the challenger in each succeeding election through 1948. The most recent presidential election—1952—when neither candidate was in the White House, was affected by very special circumstances. The

Travel Curbs To W. Berlin Eased A Bit

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communists relaxed their restrictions on travel to Berlin at midnight Sunday night but Western observers said the Red regime had shown it is posing the greatest threat since the blockade of 1948.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt in a "fireside speech" Sunday night, told the West that more trouble was coming and said the Allies were being "led around by the nose" by Communist leaders trying to "lenderize" them into accepting a "rotten compromise" on Berlin.

The Communists imposed travel restrictions five days ago to try to prevent refugees from East Germany and persons expelled from the Communist zone from holding a mass rally in West Berlin to call for the return of one-time German land now held by Poland.

The Allied answer was a protest to the Soviet commander—who rejected the protest. West Berliners were dismayed by what they considered a lack of unity and purpose in the Western stand; Brandt himself saw the Red moves as a test of Allied determination.

During the five days the East Germans halted travel of the refugee groups to Berlin Western sources estimated they turned back 1,000 trying to attend the rally. Brandt solved part of the problem by organizing a "baby airlift" by commercial airlines.

Wants To Be Girl Behind The Girl, Etc.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Patricia Ann McRaney wants to be Miss America—but she knows what it's like to be the girl behind the girl behind the girl.

The Mississippi miss is following in two pretty sets of footsteps—current Miss America Lynda Lee Mead and the 1959 Miss America Mary Ann Mobley, both home state and schoolmates at home state and schoolmates at the University of Mississippi.

Miss McRaney was one of 25 "day early" arrivals Sunday for the Miss America pageant which officially opens today with registration of the contestants from all the 50 states, New York City, Chicago, Washington, D.C., and Canada.

The pageant gets down to business later today with a long evening rehearsal for the show that will be put on by the contestants during the four nights of judging that begins Wednesday.

The prize to the pretty and talented girl who succeeds Miss Mead as Miss America is a $10,000 scholarship and the possibility of receiving as much as $80,000 in fees for appearances and modeling. Another $25,000 in scholarships is up for grabs among those who only come close.

TOO JIGGLY FOR FROSH

CHICAGO (UPI)—Joe Palopoli, dean of the Chicago Barber College located in the skid row district, says that when imbibers come in hoping for a free haircut from freshmen, he turns them away.

"Some of (the drinkers) jiggle so much that a new student might cut a throat or something," Palopoli explained.

Borrow, But Don't Pay Back

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Home-buying Americans are borrowing more and paying it back more slowly than ever before.

As house prices and interest rates have risen in the past few years, down payments have failed to keep up and repayment periods have stretched out. Consequently today's home buyer needs less money to buy a house and can take longer to pay off what he borrows.

Terms usually are most liberal on mortgages backed by the government. On these, downpayments are now at a record low. Terms have been liberalized from time to time in the past few years when the government wanted to bring more home buyers into the market to stimulate home construction. One result may be that the government has nearly exhausted the possibilities of this kind of action.

With interest rates higher and amortization periods longer, the home-owner builds up his equity or investment in the house less quickly. In the first few years amortization may account for less than one-fourth of monthly payments. This is significant nowadays, when many families, especially younger couples, consider their payments for their homes and insurance as their only savings and loan association first mortgage jumped from $12,928 to $15,782. Downpayments went up, too, but less rapidly, from $4,793 in 1959 the price of the average house bought with a conventional mortgage jumped from $12,928 to $15,782. Downpayments went up, too, but less rapidly, from $4,793 in 1959 the price of the average

Figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Board make the trends clear: Between 1955 and 1959 the price of the average as a per cent of price fell relative downpayments has been sharpest. For new housing bought with FHA-insured loans, downpayments dropped by nearly one-half, from 15.1 per cent of price to 7.7 per cent.

SNAP SATELLITE—Artist's drawing shows how two atomic generating units might be used to provide electrical energy for a space satellite. Called SNAP 1-A (for System for Nuclear Auxiliary Power), the unit creates electrical current from the heat of an atomic waste material, Cerium-144. It would have the advantage of having no moving parts, being less bulky than solar cells and be able to operate whether it was facing the sun or not. A prototype generator, built by the Martin Company in Baltimore for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, is undergoing electrical checks now.

Farm Marketing Labor Costs On Rise Since 1959

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor costs for the marketing of U.S. farm-produced foods in 1959 reached a record high of $20.5 billion. This paid for the marketing of a lot of products and a lot of services.

The labor bill last year was $700 million more than in 1958. This increase was about the same as in 1958, and was less than the rise in either 1957 or 1956. The total bill contrasts with $4.6 billion spent in 1929 for labor engaged in marketing farm food products.

Labor costs include wages and salaries paid to employees and imputed payments to proprietors and family workers not receiving stated remuneration. Also included are supplements to wages and salaries paid by employers, such as social insurance taxes, payments to private pension and welfare funds, and compensation for injuries.

The Agriculture Department reports that in comparing labor costs of 1959 with other years that there were only a few more marketing workers last year than in 1958 or 1959.

During the past four years, the increase in labor costs has gone mainly for higher wages, salaries, and fringe benefits.

Last year food marketing workers handled more than $58 billion worth of food—not counting exports and sales to the armed forces. This was nearly a half billion more than a year earlier and $3.5 billion more than in 1956.

The labor force has done this by steadily increasing output as the volume of marketed foods has risen.

The department said greater productivity has been the chief reason why per unit costs have not been higher. It has also offset some of the other factors that otherwise would have increased marketing costs.

For example, down through the years, the work week has been shortened. Some food that formerly sold at the farm has been shifted to marketing channels. Also, a larger proportion of food now is sold in prepared form or as restaurant meals.

There has been a growing number of non-production workers in food manufacturing companies—people involved in advertising and promotion work, selling, research, and product development. And there are those engaged in executive, legal, accounting, professional, and technical activities.

These, too, are a part of the marketing labor force, though they do not contribute directly to physical output.

Because the number of people behind the scenes has increased by about a third in the last 10 years, it has taken a sizable increase in productivity to keep the labor bill within reason.

Quotes In News

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Patricia Ann McRaney, commenting on the fact that her two predecessors as Miss Mississippi won the Miss America crowns in 1959 and 1960.

"I entered the Miss Mississippi pageant knowing I'd be the girl going after the other two. I'm sort of used to this pressure."

NEW YORK — Mrs. Fanny Taylor, 92, disclosing that President Eisenhower enclosed an autographed photo of himself in a letter he sent her inviting her to visit the White House.

"In his letter he excused himself for the fact a gentleman was sending a lady a photograph."

HOLLYWOOD — Tony Curtis, threatening to punch producer David Susskind in the nose because of Susskind's criticisms, for which Curtis has been a prime target:

"I will prove him wrong. Maybe Susskind blasts me hoping I will prove him wrong by working in a movie for him. But even a no-talent guy like me has some standards."

WASHINGTON — One of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's favorite get-well letters, a message from 7-year-old Julie Witdrod of Downers Grove, Ill.:

"Daddy likes you. Mommy likes you. I like you. We think you can win. I am going to work for you too but I can't vote. My sister can vote. She just had twins."

Candidate Shares Plane With Airman

DETROIT (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy provided space on his chartered campaign jetliner today for the emergency flight home of a serviceman notified his father was dying in Oklahoma.

The Democratic presidential candidate gave a free airborne lift to Airman IC Lloyd D. Sheets, 25, and his wife, Shirley, 24, Hobart, Okla., on Kennedy's flight here from Anchorage, Alaska. The senator's staff also radioed ahead for a reservation for him on the first available flight out of Detroit for his continued trip home.

Sheets told newsmen his father, Wilbur A. Sheets, a retired farmer, was hospitalized in Lawton, Okla. He said his father, a heart patient, had been ill since 1952.

AMBULANCE "SPEEDING"—NEW YORK (UPI)—An ambulance driver answering an emergency call was stopped for speeding and given a ticket Sunday night, allegedly delaying the ambulance about 15 minutes.

The ambulance was rushing to pick up a woman injured in a fight, but her only injuries were a split lip and bruises.

and his condition became serious enough to require surgery three days ago.

Mississippi Demo Predicts Nixon Victory

TUPELO, Miss (UPI)—Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin, head of a state "volunteers for Nixon" group, said today, "For the first time, I believe the Republican presidential nominee will win Mississippi group was announced in Washington Sunday by Charles E. Rhyne, national chairman of the volunteers for Nixon."

In Jackson, state GOP Chairman Wirt Yerger Jr. said the Tupelo Democrat's selection "will be significant."

Asked if he thought Lumpkin's selection was to influence the traditionally Democratic Northeast Mississippi area, Yerger said, "He was chosen, I imagine, because of his leadership, ability and popularity over the state."

Lumpkin said the organization is for "independent Democrats in Mississippi who cannot vote the socialist and national welfare state ticket as proposed by the National Democratic party."

He said the volunteers and regular GOP in the state will "coordinate efforts but work out of separate organizations."

The city attorney of Tupelo and former House speaker said a vote for the Democrats "would give and lie to everything that we have told our sons and daughters that America stands for."

Lumpkin organized a "citizens for Eisenhower" group in the 1952 presidential race and also supported Eisenhower in 1956. As lieutenant governor, he supported the Dixiecrat bolt from the Democratic party in 1948.

36,900,000 kilowatts of nuclear capability, representing about 5 per cent of the total investor-owned capability in service.

But there still is no weakening of confidence that atomic energy will play a major role in supplying the nation's power requirements over the longer term.

The electric companies now are building 14 nuclear power plants. Three such plants are in operation supplying power to utility customers; three more are scheduled for operation this year. By the end of this year total nuclear-fueled power capacity should be about 490,000 kilowatts.

The experts say that economical atomic plants are most feasible in areas where costs of fossil fuels are high. They note that costs for nuclear power plants planned for service in 1960-64 are expected to range from $300 to $400 per kilowatt, compared with costs for convention plants of from $115 to $180 per kilowatt, depending on location.

Five of the 14 projects underway are being financed entirely by the sponsoring companies. Seven others are being built with government assistance in research and development and through waiver of fuel charges.

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Electric utility companies have a whopping $650 million invested in nuclear power development, but in view of the burgeoning power needs of the nation in the next 20 years, atomic reactors are expected to only supplement rather than replace conventional methods of generating power.
