State Sets Murder Pace

Black Eye For Texas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a nation where one murder is committed every hour, Texas sets the pace for wanton killing, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

During 1959, the FBI said, there were an estimated 915 murders in Texas—almost twice as many as the next ranking state of California.

The city of Houston remains as the "murder capital" of the state.

Some 134 persons were killed in Houston last year.

The FBI's uniform crime report shows there were 874 rapes, 2,910 armed robberies, 10,168 aggravated assaults, 46,568 burglaries, 20,224 thefts over $50 and 15,926 auto thefts in Texas last year.

On a national scale, the FBI said, crime increased 69 per cent last year and crime continues to outpace population growth four to one. The FBI said there were three serious crimes every minute during 1959.

The FBI estimated the following crime totals for Texas' major cities:

Amarillo—23 murders, 25 rapes, 49 robberies, 233 aggravated assaults, 372 burglaries, 741 thefts, 317 auto thefts.

Austin—14 murders, 18 rapes, 58 robberies, 435 assaults, 1,050 burglaries, 289 auto thefts.

Beaumont-Port Arthur—40 murders, 11 rapes, 55 robberies, 336 assaults, 1,002 burglaries, 365 thefts, 289 auto thefts.

Corpus Christi—10 murders, 21 rapes, 105 robberies, 416 assaults, 1,438 burglaries, 594 thefts, 487 auto thefts.

Dallas—115 murders, 65 rapes, 421 robberies, 966 assaults, 5,601 burglaries, 1,858 thefts, 2,398 auto thefts.

El Paso—24 murders, 26 rapes, 106 robberies, 199 assaults, 1,852 burglaries, 782 thefts, 1,277 auto thefts.

Fort Worth—58 murders, 34 rapes, 263 robberies, 189 assaults, 3,412 burglaries, 815 thefts, 1,128 auto thefts.

Galveston—17 murders, 34 rapes, 89 robberies, 466 assaults, 1,181 burglaries, 791 thefts, 102 auto thefts.

Laredo—5 murders, 22 rapes, 18 robberies, 139 assaults, 385 bur-

Dems, GOP Won't Let Issue Rest

Controversy On Religion Grows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans and Democrats indignantly accused one another today of playing on prejudice by deliberately injecting the religious issue into the presidential campaign.

Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson called on GOP presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon to "personally repudiate" those responsible for "carrying on a campaign of religious bigotry." Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton charged the Democrats were keeping the issue of Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy's Catholic faith "inflamed" to gain a political advantage.

There were these other developments in the raging controversy:

—Dr. Norman Vincent Peale severed all relations with a group of 150 Protestant clergymen and said he had no part in the preparation of a statement challenging the ability of a Catholic to serve as president.

—Morton disavowed any official GOP connection with a Texas-for-Nixon organization, which was reported to be sponsoring broadcasts asserting Kennedy was nominated because his "Catholic friends gave him the nomination."

—GOP Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona issued a statement calling on Jackson to advise Kennedy to keep silent on the religious issue. He said he couldn't recall a speech in which Kennedy had not mentioned it.

In a statement released here by the Democratic National Committee, Jackson said Nixon should "publicly disavow the support of Carr Collins (head of a Texas group), Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom."

"Although Dr. Peale has now resigned from the group, neither he nor any of his associates have indicated who wrote its statement attacking Sen. Kennedy on religious grounds."

Morton accused the Democrats of keeping the religious issue alive "for the purpose of exploiting it for their own political advantage," he told a news conference Thursday.

The newly formed religious freedom group announced Thursday that Dr. Peale had withdrawn from its activities and actually played a "relatively minor role" and "had no part in formulating" the controversial statement.

The Air Force declined to speculate on the 300-pound capsule's fate, saying only that it was made to float at least 48 hours.

Last reception of the capsule's light beacon and radio homing signal was made at noon Thursday after surging seas earlier prevented a circling amphibious plane from landing and plucking it from the water.

Loss of contact with the capsule loaded with instruments was a bitter blow to the Air Force which had hoped to snag it for the third straight recovery of a Discoverer capsule.

The capsule's ejection Wednesday from orbiting Discoverer XV was successful, but a waiting flotilla of ships and planes near here failed to sight it parachuting to earth and it was feared lost.

Four hours later it was located floating near Christmas Island, more than 1,000 miles from its expected impact area near here.

Dumas Resident Dies In Wreck

AMARILLO (UPI)—Russell B. Miller, 29, of Dumas, Tex., was killed when his car struck the rear of a semi-trailer truck today, 19 miles north of Amarillo on U.S. 287.

The driver of the truck, George H. Dixon of Lubbock, was not injured.

Adolph Coors Mystery Cleared Up Accidentally

By WILLIAM JOHNSTON
United Press International.

DENVER (UPI)—Edward Lee Greene, 30, drives a pizza pie delivery truck for $100 a week plus commissions, and he's bargain-conscious.

He found one in a pawn shop—a .25-caliber automatic pistol. Last Sunday he decided to try it out.

He drove 35 miles southwest of Denver into the mountains, and ventured along a little-used road until he spotted a trash dump. It looked like a safe spot for target practice.

"I went around the dump," Green said Thursday, "and saw the steep hill going down through the timber."

"I hadn't walked more than 500 or 600 feet when I saw these two brown oxford shoes, all torn up and chuffed on, sitting about four feet apart on the ground."

"Then I saw the trousers. They were dark gray flannel, torn in strips. . . there was a dark blue sock there, too. There were spider webs in the shoes."

"I kicked the pants and heard a jingle. I put my hand in the pocket and found 43 cents in change and that silver penknife with 'A C III' engraved on it."

"I knew then what it was. I had a creepy feeling—kinda made the hair stand up on the back of my head.

"They've been looking for him for more than seven months. And all of a sudden it was him—Ad Coors."

Ed Greene had come upon the piece where the body of 44-year-old Adolph Coors III, had been left.

Ad Coors was the eldest son of a multi-millionaire Golden, Colo., brewer. He was tall, lean and strong, but a quiet, gentle man who preferred country living with his wife, Mary, and their four children to the ostentatious luxury his wealth might have provided.

Coors almost surely was the victim of a kidnap plot which went wrong from the moment he was accosted on a road near his home. He was tall, lean and strong, but a quiet, gentle man who preferred country living with his wife, Mary, and their four children to the ostentatious luxury his wealth might have provided.

Commie Missions Ordered To Leave

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Col. Joseph Mobutu consolidated his military rule of the Congo today, but the Soviet embassy said it would ignore his statement that the Soviet and other communist diplomatic missions should leave by nightfall.

An embassy spokesman told United Press International that "we are not accredited to Col. Mobutu. We are officially accredited to the Congolese Republic and its chief of state Mr. Joseph Kasavubu."

"Col. Mobutu, in any case," the spokesman added, "has not notified us officially of any statement which he might have made concerning the embassy."

Mobutu told a news conference Wednesday night that the army was seizing power and "neutralizing" the activities of President Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba until the end of the year. He added parliament also was being taken over, and he gave the Soviet, Czech and any other Communist bloc diplomats 48 hours to get out.

This afternoon Mobutu was reported ready to throw a troop cordon around both the Soviet and Czech embassies. But at 2 p.m. there were no troops nor any signs of unusual activity outside or inside the embassies.

Armed Congolese soldiers shut off the parliament building this morning and prevented members of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate from entering to hold a session.

Lumumba, who was saved by United Nations troops from attempts by angry Congolese soldiers to kill him, was still in the city under guard today.

(A Moscow Radio home service broadcast early this morning said Lumumba had arrested Mobutu but this appeared to be either propaganda for Russian consumption or slow reporting of a claim by Lumumba Thursday which later proved false.)

The fiery premier seemed to have overplayed his hand in his power struggle with President Joseph Kasavubu, but the oratorical talents of the former beer salesman were such that no one was counting him out of the picture yet.

This newly independent country, bankrupt and near anarchy, still was ripe for new power plays unless Mobutu could strengthen his regime quickly with popular support.

When Mobutu announced seizure of power Wednesday night he issued orders that Communist embassies be closed and their diplomats leave the country within 48 hours. The embassies operated normally Thursday but Thursday night Mobutu repeated his ultimatum.

Lumumba owed his life to the U.N. force which he had tried to oust from the country.

Four Killed When Auto Rams Truck

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — A molasses-laden semi-trailer truck collided with an automobile in South Dallas early today, killing four persons and injuring a fifth.

The dead were Darrell Hoffman, 25; Mrs. Isabel Iva Eddy, 22 and John Waugus, all of Dallas and a woman, who was not immediately identified.

The impact of the crash tossed the blue 1952 model car more than 300 feet from the point of impact. The truck ended up on its back 405 feet away.

A flow of sticky molasses flooded gutters.

The car was a mass of mashed metal and debris littered the path of both vehicles. A small white cowboy hat was all that remained in the back seat of the car.

Police said it appeared that the car failed to stop at the intersection, and smashed into the truck, with a sign, Apache (Okla.) Farmers Co-Op, on its side. The truck driver, Kenneth Hardy, 18, of Amber, Okla., told police he had no time to stop.

Fireman had a tough time cleaning the syrup off the street and washing away gasoline spilled by the truck.

Race Car Flips, Driver Shaken

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, (Utah) (UPI)—The Utah highway patrol said England's Donald Campbell overturned in his $4.5 million Bluebird racer and was slightly injured this morning.

Campbell, according to trooper Howard Cooper, was "battered up" but suffered apparently minor injuries. The trooper said the racing car was badly damaged.

The accident happened on the return run of one of Campbell's tests. He planned to hit 300 miles an hour today but it was not immediately known at what speed the car lost control.

Ethel Ran On Regular Poops Out

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (UPI)—Dangerously high tides and heavy rains today slowed cleanup operations along the Gulf Coast where thousands of weary residents began digging out in the wake of Hurricane Ethel.

The second tropical storm to strike the U.S. mainland in a week left widespread property damage, flooded highways and power failures.

Only one fatality was indirectly caused by the storm. Juste Savoie, 68, retired engineer, suffered a fatal heart attack while securing windows at his New Orleans home Thursday.

Still fresh in the minds of many was the 1957 killer — Hurricane Audrey—which claimed 430 lives. This time, some 50,000 coastal dwellers paid heed to weather

Capsule Eludes Searching Party

HONOLULU (UPI)—The foundation, lost-again capsule ejected Wednesday from the Discoverer XV satellite has disappeared in stormy seas in the Pacific, leaving little chance for its recovery.

A small search party of three airplanes and a ship combed the turbulent area around Christmas Island today, but chances were it might already have sunk.

The Air Force declined to speculate on the 300-pound capsule's fate, saying only that it was made to float at least 48 hours.

Special U.N. Meeting Seen Over Russia

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Russia's campaign to discredit United Nations peace efforts in the Congo appeared likely today to force an emergency meeting of the General Assembly on the eve of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's arrival.

Diplomatic sources said such a move would boomerang against the Russians in view of the support of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld by the majority of Afro-Asian, Latin American and Western nations.

The Security Council continued its "crisis" debate with opposing resolutions from the United States and Russia before it.

Diplomats predicted that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin would employ Russia's 99th veto to kill the U.S. proposal endorsing Hammarskjöld's handling of the confused Congo crisis.

A Russian counter-proposal—in effect a motion of non-confidence in Hammarskjöld — was sure of only Russian and Polish votes in the 11-nation council, they said.

A Soviet veto in the vote expected before adjournment tonight would open the way to put the issue before a special session of all members of the world organization.

Nixon On Farm — Kennedy At Factory

Candidates Stump In Earnest

By United Press International

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon tackled the farm problem in a major speech in the Midwest today when his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, stumped through industrial Pennsylvania.

Nixon outlined a farm program aimed at eliminating costly surpluses in a speech at the annual plowing contest in Guthrie Center, Iowa. He promised to disclose other features of his farm program in a speech in North Dakota next week.

Kennedy continued to stump through the Quaker State by car and foot. He lashed out at the Republicans for supporting medical aid plans for the aged which he said would force the elderly to declare themselves paupers before becoming eligible for help.

While the two candidates campaigned far and wide in the traditional pattern of presidential stumping, the issue of Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion flared anew on other political fronts.

The two national party chairmen traded accusations, Democratic Chairman Henry M. Jackson called on the Republicans to "publicly repudiate" statements attributed to Nixon backers attacking Kennedy's Catholic faith.

GOP Chairman Thurston B. Morton, in turn, charged the Democrats with deliberately keeping "the religious issue inflamed" in an effort to exploit it for political advantage.

In other developments, Democratic vice presidential candidate Lyndon B. Johnson told a Las Vegas, Nev., audience Thursday the Republicans were two-faced—trying one minute to appear liberal and the next minute appealing to the conservative vote.

Johnson's opposite number, GOP vice-presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, chided Kennedy on the issue of experience. He told a crowd in Chicago this was no time for "on-the-job training in the White House."

GOP Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York wound up a barnstorming tour of California in behalf of the Nixon-Lodge ticket and headed for home to be on hand for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's U.N. visit next week.

Nixon unveiled his farm proposals after another whirlwind day of campaigning which took him Thursday to St. Louis, Roanoke, Va. and Omaha.

At St. Louis, Nixon told a convention of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) that he would not imitate Kennedy in promising to be "100 per cent" for everything labor wanted. He said he intended to be the kind of president that works for "all that people, not set one group against another."

Kennedy was pleased with the results of his motorcade campaigning in New Jersey and Pennsylvania Thursday. He drew enthusiastic crowds and clutching women at most of his stops.

President Gets Physical Check

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, after a night in the hospital to get his annual physical checkup, prepared to fly to his Camp David retreat today to write his United Nations speech.

The Chief Executive entered Walter Reed Army Medical Center early Thursday evening for what probably will be his last complete examination as President.

President Harry S. Truman admitted today he was "tempted" by Missouri Democratic leaders' request he run for the Senate to fill the seat left vacant by the death Tuesday of Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., but that his rejection of the bid was "certainly irrevocable."

"I wouldn't haggle over it," he said. "If I wanted it, I'd take it."

But he said it would be a disservice to the people of Missouri "if I went to the Senate at 77 years of age."

He also said he would refuse a draft.

He agreed that he was in better physical condition than many younger men, but said he thought Missouri's Democratic candidate for the office should be able to complete the two remaining years of Hennings' term and run for the

Senate Bid 'Tempted' HST, But He Refused

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman admitted today he was "tempted" by Missouri Democratic leaders' request he run for the Senate to fill the seat left vacant by the death Tuesday of Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., but that his rejection of the bid was "certainly irrevocable."

"I wouldn't haggle over it," he said. "If I wanted it, I'd take it."

But he said it would be a disservice to the people of Missouri "if I went to the Senate at 77 years of age."

He also said he would refuse a draft.

He agreed that he was in better physical condition than many younger men, but said he thought Missouri's Democratic candidate for the office should be able to complete the two remaining years of Hennings' term and run for the succeeding six year term.

"Maybe I'm getting lazy in my old age," he said. "But I just don't want to spend the considerable time it takes to get acquainted with all the bills before the Senate, although I would be able to do it."

He said key considerations in his refusal of the offer were his family and his program of delivering lectures to college students on the presidency.

Truman said he was asked to accept the nomination Thursday by current candidate for Missouri governor, Atty. Gen. John Dalton, but that he told Dalton he thought outgoing Gov. James T. Blair should be the candidate and that Blair was "eminently qualified."

'Blitz War' Believed Planned By East Against West Germany

BONN (UPI)—A Bonn government spokesman has charged that Communist East Germany is preparing a "blitz war" against West Germany.

The spokesman, Hans Krueger, said the information was obtained from documents brought to West Germany by a political officer who defected from the Communist zone.

Krueger said one of the pamphlets, apparently printed in preparation for the occupation of West Germany, was a notice to the citizens of Kiel on the north German coast. It said in part:

"The last pockets of resistance in the city have been wiped out. The city is in the hands of the troops of the National Peoples Army of the German Democratic Republic."

Krueger identified the defector as Capt. Guenther Malikovski who fled to West Germany in mid-August with his wife and two children.

The spokesman said the officer brought with him pamphlets and tape recordings which, he said, proved his statement.

"Malikovski secured the documents and fled at the highest personal danger," Krueger said. "He saw that the Soviet zone army had changed from a policy of defense to preparation for a blitz war against the Federal Republic."

China Is History's Enduring Dictatorship

DANGER OF RED CHINA

Part III: Brave New World

China is the homeland of civilization's most enduring dictatorship — the very Alpha and Omega of despotism. Its hand of oppression reaches back from the Atomic Age and touches the ancient patriarchs who walked in the pre-dawn twilight of history. Its allegiance of totalitarian doctrine outlines the Pyramids, the Code of Hammurabi, or the Laws of Moses. And when Mao Tse-tung's triumphant army marched into the Forbidden City of Peiping on February 3, 1949, five-thousand years of dignified but tortured Chinese looked down with profound silence.

The communists are thus not the first masters of China, but they may well be the last. The degree of regimentation and repression of the people, planned or already afoot, is one of the truly revolutionary developments in all of man's experience. For life in China today seeks nothing less than the destruction, in large measure, of a part of human instinct itself. Indeed, the image which this land has presented in the past few years calls to mind a passage from Aldous Huxley's book of the 1930s.

Brave New World:

"People are happy; they get what they want, and they never want what they can't get. They're well off; they're safe; they're never ill; they're not afraid of death; they're blissfully ignorant of passion and old age; they're plagued with no mothers or fathers; they've got no wives, or children, or lovers to feel strongly about; they're so conditioned that they practically can't help behaving as they ought to behave. . . ."

None of this, of course, has quite come true for China today. But as one sees more and more of the incredible upheavals within Chinese society, the picture which Huxley has painted appears less and less imaginary. The people who live under the Peiping regime are not only subjected to the familiar naked power of a police state. Something new, a more positive factor, has been added. The people cannot merely endure, they must appreciate; they cannot simply parrot communist doctrine, they must actively enshrine it; they cannot even hope to die, but must publicly and convincingly expound the glories of life in the mass.

What are the outlines of this life? Pack five thousand families onto a 10,000-acre farm. Work them ruthlessly for an annual salary of about $35. Place their children in remote nursery centers. Shuttle them about ceaselessly without regard to separations of husband and wife. Brainwash them daily in small "study groups." Drill them incessantly under full military discipline. Feed them at a common trough in gigantic mess halls.

Develop an extreme emotional insecurity with an intolerance for and hatred of all other social and political beliefs. The result is roughly equivalent to commune life.

Four hundred million Chinese—three of every four rural dwellers—live in such a nightmare every day. And the movement is aiming toward the eventual envelopment of the entire population. It is more than the physical terror of a Stalin or a Hitler. It is a purge of the mind and the past, a systematic blotting out of virtually all loyalties except those to the regime. Patriotic songs, street corner skits, fanatic slogans, and official ideology all penetrate to the most remote homes with all the endless pitter-patter of a carnival huckster.

More than half a billion people are neatly divided into "voluntary" study groups containing no more than a dozen members. Here the Psychology of the Herd is employed with insidious efficiency. Silence is impossible. Regular meetings require not only a thorough understanding of official doctrine, but an application of this doctrine calculated to discredit one's own ideas in light of the orthodox version. A crusading fervor combines with an understandable urge to belong and produces an irresistible and positive conformity unprecedented in human experience.

China, when the communists took over in 1949, had but one trump card: the most abundant population in the world. Mao and his followers have played that card with all their might and at every conceivable opportunity. The people were China's only natural resource, and they have been refined and molded far beyond the limits of reality. For all its horrible achievement, there is a sort of permanent danger of failure bound up with the entire process. As Winston Churchill once said in relation to another power, "Dictators ride to and from upon tigers they dare not dismount. And the tigers are getting hungry." The stress of China's mental as well as physical diet may keep the tigers hungry for many years to come.

Visitors to the nation's capital from the Panhandle last week included B. R. Barfield from Amarillo who was in Washington on business; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Culen, also from Amarillo, who with their children, Ray, Jr. and Deborah, were vacationing in the area. We appreciated seeing and visiting with them.

Defection Of Code Clerks Draws Demand For Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators have summoned U.S. intelligence officials to the opening of a sweeping inquiry into the defection of two American code clerks to Russia.

A House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. Paul J. Kilday, D-Tex., wants to find out whether the turncoats carried valuable secrets to Moscow and if the National Security Agency checked their backgrounds thoroughly before hiring them.

The first hearing was called behind closed doors. Later sessions may be open. The witness list included about a dozen high intelligence officials of the Defense Department and Central Intelligence Agency and security and personnel officers of NSA.

Kilday promised a "full, complete and objective hearing."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities opens another investigation, Friday into the defection of the code clerks—Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, of Eureka, Calif., and William H. Martin, 29, of Ebensburg, Wash.

Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., has said the long-time bachelor friends were known to their acquaintances as "sex deviates."

He termed one of the men a "notorious homosexual."

Defense Department said Mitchell admitted he engaged in "abnormal" practices in his teens.

Martin and Mitchell disappeared June 24 after telling friends they were going to the West Coast on a vacation. They turned up Sept. 6 at a Moscow news conference where they charged U.S. policies were leading to war and announced they had been granted Soviet citizenship.

U.S. mushroom yields have increased from about one pound to two pounds per square foot of the bed space in the last 25 years.

Dear Abby...

Brilliance Should Extend To Glassware

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My brother is married to a woman who has graduated from college and people call her "brilliant". She reads every best seller that comes along. But believe me when I say no one in the family will accept a second invitation to her home because she is such a careless housekeeper.

We ate there once and the silverware was incrustated with dirt and the glasses and dishes were filthy. She puts raw fruit and vegetables on the table without washing them. I once saw bugs crawling around on my salad. We have nothing against her, but we can't eat there. We've run out of excuses. Is it possible to come right out with the truth in a case like this and keep her friendship?

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If you tell her the truth, you may lose her friendship. It's time someone took a bug out of the salad and put it in your brother's ear.

DEAR ABBY: I know a girl isn't supposed to let a fellow kiss her on the first date, but when is it proper to let all the stops out?

JANE

DEAR JANE: After the organ plays "The Wedding March".

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with another girl. We usually go out for lunch together. She makes as much as I do, but I always end up paying the bill. She uses the old excuse, "I left my money in my other purse". How can I put a stop to this without appearing cheap?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: If you hold still for that line more than twice you must have left your brains in your other head. When her money's in her "other purse", tell her you'll "lend" her hunch money. And if that doesn't do it — find a new lunch mate.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is in the service. He is stationed near enough to home so that he gets home once in a while. When he is

Romantic Evening Look Straight From Paris

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise
Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The fashion photographs which have arrived from Paris show that the counteries have split the evening look right down the center. As a result, you can be feminine and romantic or a slinky femme fatale.

If you choose to float and be fragile, you may do so in lace or chiffon or satin. You may wear a sheath dress with dipping, ruffled, bordered hem in a fashion borrowed from the devastating costumes worn by Spanish flamenco dancers.

Or, you may wear pale gray satin with a hamlie bordered in sable. (If this proves rough on the budget, be patient and wait a bit. There will be copies in this country at reasonable prices.) This Anna Karenina look is wistful as well as fragile and guaranteed to get you lots of the right kind of attention.

But if you're going to slink, be prepared to slink standing. Because tubes from Paris have room inside these beaded, glittering evening for one tall, willowy girl. She should be encased in a no-nonsense bra and girdle.

She should also be prepared to lean, stand, nince and glide but never to sit down. There just isn't room and besides, it would be hard on the beads. (She'll just have to walk to and from the party.)

For girls who can take their beading or leave it, some Paris houses have concocted removable beaded tops for full-length evening gowns.

French fashions for after dark are both romantic and beautiful. The emphasis is where it should be: on fragile femininity. Formal dinner gown in red Lyon lace (left) is by Lanvin-Castillo. It has low portrait neckline edged in double ruffle. Ball gown in the grand manner (center) is done in Calais cocoa-colored lace and net. This is a Carven design. The bodice and double back panier are both done in white lace on a brown ground. A new lace made its appearance this season in the French collections. It's a mohair wool lace from Calais. It has a light, fluffy appearance. Jacques Griffe has used it for a beautiful costume suit in cocoa over beige. Jacket and hem of this late day costume are bound in matching satin.

Christian Science Topic Announced

How freedom from the bondage of sickness and sin can be gained through wholly spiritual means will be emphasized at Christian Science churches Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" will include Luke's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the woman "which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years" (Ch. 13).

One of the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (228:20): "If we follow the command of our Master, 'Take no thought for your life,' we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure, or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dictate its terms, and form and control it with Truth."

The Golden Text is from John (8:83): "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alan C. Poole of Hemphill, Noyes & Co. says that his technical studies appear no more favorable than the fundamentals and he concludes that the 600 level in the Dow-Jones Industrials will be penetrated before the end of the year and possibly sooner.

He believes there are enough chartists and Dow theorists still around Wall Street so that such a penetration could create a considerable wave of selling.

Obviously sound, long term investments may be held, he says, but the time has come when portfolio holdings should be carefully reviewed to eliminate speculations and emphasis placed on good, sound values.

Moody's Service says to switch out of American Motors because 1961 earnings, they believe, are likely to dip below 1960 results. It also advises sale of Granite City Steel, which seems "fully priced".

Separation Of Church, State Is Big Issue

Could a Catholic president uphold the separation of church and state in America without violating the teachings of his church?

That question has become the storm center of the "religious issue" in the U.S. Political campaign.

Sen. John F. Kennedy said in Houston this week — as he has said repeatedly — that the answer is yes. There are many religious scholars — both Catholic and Protestant — who agree with him.

On the other hand, there are a substantial number of people, including some well-known Protestant clergymen, who contend that the answer is no.

The fair-minded citizen is apt to get confused in this debate because both sides quote copiously from official Catholic documents.

Last week, for example, a group of some 150 Protestant clergymen and laymen met in Washington, under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, and issued a statement asserting that:

"The Roman Catholic Church has specifically repudiated on many occasions the principle sacred to us that every man shall be free to follow the dictates of his conscience in religious matters."

A spokesman for the Peale group, the Rev. Dr. Harold J. Ockenga of the Park Street Congregational Church in Boston, cited in support of this assertion the encyclical "Quanta Cura" issued by Pope Pius IX in 1864, and a papal encyclical entitled "Immortale Dei" issued by Pope Leo XIII in 1885.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

VERNON E. WILLARD
Pastor of the Harrah Methodist Church

The Bible speaks of Jesus in a beautiful way as the WONDERFUL SHEPHERD. John speaks of Jesus as the GOOD SHEPHERD. "I am the good shepherd, the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." Luke sees Jesus as the SEEKING SHEPHERD. "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." Isaiah reveals Jesus upon Himself for our sake. "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon Him, and with His stripes we are healed."

In the Twenty Third Psalm David speaks of Jesus as the PROVIDING SHEPHERD. "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." He gives that which we need and that which satisfies.

If we turn to Jesus we shall not want for SALVATION. "He restoreth my soul." He makes us children of God and puts back into the heart all that sin has taken out. Jesus gives faith, hope, love, peace, contentment, and purity. Life abundant and everlasting.

We shall not want for FRIENDS. David said he had never seen the righteous forsaken nor His seed begging bread. Follow Jesus and you will have friends that will stand by you all the way.

Finally, we shall not want for a HOME. For, "we shall dwell in the House of the Lord forever." "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house made with hands, eternal in the heavens." Your need will be met if you follow the PROVIDING SHERHERD. The way grows better every day.

Sports Slivers

By Ed Hayes Wilson

Tonight Coach Babe Curfman aims for several things, a win over Ysleta's Indians, naturally, the main objective. But he has in mind for the Harvesters to control the ball more, thus permitting them to run more plays.

Last week against Big Spring, the Harvesters only chugged off 48 plays, eight of which were passes, and, as Curfman said, "You don't win 'em running the ball so few times."

Some 60 to 70 plays from scrimmage are needed if a team expects to win, Curfman pointed out, and "that's what we will attempt to accomplish tonight."

The coach also is seeking to eliminate the old bug-a-boo — pass interception. This was a major issue in the PHS loss last week, when three of Roy Don Stephens' aerials fell into the wrong hands, and Curfman doesn't want a repeat performance in this clash with the Indians.

Stephens was far less to blame for the abrupt losses of the ball than were his intended receivers. He fired the ball where they were supposed to be, which is his job, but for the most part, PHS receivers were off course, having cut at the wrong time.

However, Stephens exhibited one fault: His trajectory was too flat, and passes that may have reached Harvester hands were grabbed or batted away by the alert Steer defenders.

"We worked Roy on that this week when we could. As you know he has been limping after he re-injured his knee Tuesday, but we got him into action for pass practice. He is improving on his trajectories and we believe if he can play, he'll show the fans some fine passing when the situation calls for it," said Curfman.

Steve Dobbin also entered the picture this week. He is the team's most dependable ground-gainer. However, Steve has one fault that Curfman wants cleared: learning to cut properly in following his interference.

Curfman pointed out that Dobbin is a "whale of a back," but that "Steve would be much better if he cut properly."

The coaching staff put much stress on this weakness in training this week, and Curfman reported "he is learning rapidly."

And that bodes ill for Harvester opponents, for Dobbin, though not quite as big as most fullbacks, plows through with the best of them.

It's over and done, but we hope the attendance for this clash tonight is at least double that of the opening game.

It is understandable that the weather kept some people away from Harvester Stadium last Friday, but staying away didn't help the morale of the team one bit.

And the kids need people out there. It isn't funny to look up at empty stands when you're playing in a home; you get the idea that people just don't give a darn and you wonder if the effort is worth the while.

The Harvesters are one of the most hustling teams we've ever watched, and we mean that sincerely.

We've seen teams in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Florida and Pennsylvania, high schools and colleges alike, and not one of them show more spirit, more will to win, than do the fellows now wearing the Harvester uniform.

Harvesters To Face Massive Ysleta At Stadium Tonight

Tonnage, Quarterback Change Worries Babe

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Sportswriter

Bustling action on area gridiron is in store tonight when high schoolers of the section of the Panhandle, served by the Pampa Daily News square-off.

Several of the team sport unbeaten records, but each will be in grave danger in these contests that probably will be highlighted by the Canadian at Shamrock slam-bang.

Canadian, rudely dumped by White Deer in the mud and slop last week, wants this one in the worst sort of way. Shamrock, on the other hand, was supposed to be so-so team but finds itself yet to be trounced following scrambles with McLean and Lefors, both of which it easily bested.

Canadian oiled its passing attack for this one, and seeks only a dry field to unleash it. Shamrock, which has flipped the ball a number of times in its games to date, still has Bill McBride, a slashing fullback, to carry the load if its air attack doesn't jell.

White Deer's Bucks, with sharpened horns they weren't supposed to have for attack, takes on Lefors (1-1) on the first named field. The stomping Bucks revealed ground power in their stampe of Canadian, and will rule favorite in this one.

Lefors' charged past Panhandle in its opener, 26-0, but ran in to a tartar in the Irish.

Miami's Warriors, unbeaten in two tries, and with 82 points to the opponents 12, goes against Mobeette in an eight-man clash.

Warrior Coach Bill Hines, although apparently not too worried about Mobeette, nevertheless put his charges through strenuous works this week in preparation for the tussle.

The Warriors brushed past Booker, 34-12, and Lakeview, 28-0, in its two tests up to now.

Winless Groom, possibly facing an unhappy season, goes against McLean in a game that McLean hopes to take down.

The Tigers of Coach Cliff Bradshaw rebounded from their opening game loss to knock off Wheeler last Friday night, 13-0.

Wheeler, also winless, goes out of state to attempt to gain the right side of the ledger, when it visits Erick, Okla.

The Mustangs want this one badly, since Coach Louis Boynton has told them all week that a win at this time could put a different light on future games.—E.H.W.

The Pampa High School Harvesters face a huge task when they take the field at 7:30 o'clock tonight against Ysleta's Indians and it comes in the form of a couple of guys named John.

These Johns are the Indian's big tackles, John Cavander, 210, and John Folmer, 205, who will bulwark the defensive line for Coach Red Coats outfit. They were a big factor in Ysleta's 8-6 victory over Roswell, N.M. last week, and a promise to be a pestilence to the PHS men on the Harvester Stadium sod tonight.

The Harvesters, meantime, have labored long and hard for this one. The squad, excepting Roy Don Stephens, first string quarterback, is in good shape. But Stephens said yesterday that his knee was still giving him trouble yet "I want to play. I think I'll be ready to go."

Coach Curfman this morning was of the same opinion. He said he believed that Roy Don will be able to start, and possibly play much of the contest. However, if the scrappy Stephens doesn't make it, Mike Stewart will step in for him.

There will be two changes in the Harvester starting eleven: Randy Matson, the long, tall sophomore, will be at strong end, and Bob Followell gets the call at wide end, replacing Roy Dyer and Corky Godfrey, both of whom are slated to see much action.

Curfman is still impressed with the hustle the team has shown despite the 14-6 opening loss to Big Spring last Friday.

"Sometimes a young team will be 'down' after a loss such as the one to Big Spring. But not these kids. They've been up every day we've trained this week. They'll be outweighed tonight, but they won't be out-fought," he said.

The weight problem for the Harvesters is a massive beef curtain. Here is the way the Indians average out from end to end: 1,325 pounds overall, or 185-plus per man. The backs average 167½ for 870 pounds overall.

Word from the "Border City" is that Coach Coats will start Jim Davenport (175) at quarterback in place of Andy Telles. This move may be for passing accuracy, since it is known that Davenport fires his shots to the mark much more frequently than does Telles.

Quarterback Club President Sharon Haralson said today the club will again form the welcoming line when the Harvesters return to the field tonight following pre-game practice.

He urged that all members be at Harvester Stadium at 7 o'clock so that arrangements to greet the team may be made in "ample time for us to be properly aligned."

Curfman, on hearing this morning of the quarterback change by Coach Coats, showed concern.

"Guess they're going to throw it around," was the way he put it.

And this could be the pattern of the game, although Curfman is expected to depend on Steve Dobbin (68 yards in 11 tries last week) when first down yardage is needed.

"Dobbin is a fine ball carrier. He's learning to cut behind his interference properly and could be the 'big stick' for us tonight," Curfman pointed out.

The teams will lineup in this fashion tonight:

CARRY HARVESTER HOPES THIS YEAR — Pampa High School's Harvester football fortunes hinge on the play of these youths this season. PHS, a loser first out, constantly will face a weight disadvantage, but speed and spirit are the hope of the players and the coaching staff for a winning season. This is the crew that Coach Babe Curfman has tagged as the most "aggressive, spirited team I've ever put on the field." He has hopes of the youths proving this tonight when they face bulky Ysleta in Harvester Stadium. (Daily News Photo)

Yanks, Orioles Open 'Must' Series Tonight

By MILTON RICHMAN

They separated the "men" from the "boys" tonight and the odds-makers are stringing along with the men who have always won the big ones in the past.

That means the pressure-tested New York Yankees will be 7-5 favorites to beat the battling young Baltimore Orioles tonight in the opener of a four-game series that could decide the American League pennant winner.

Whitey Ford, the 31-year-old southpaw who still rates as Casey Stengel's blue chip pitcher even though he hasn't been especially impressive of late, will start for the Yankees against Steve Barber, a 21-year-old fire-balling left-hander, who only last season was in a Class D baseball kindergarten.

If the Yankees do, it will dash the pennant hopes of the Orioles, who finished sixth last year and began the current season as 20-1 longshots.

Southern California, led by the rough, tough McKeever twins, and Oregon State collide at the Los Angeles Coliseum tonight in the first major head-knocking of the 1960 college football season.

The powerful Trojans, only team to beat Washington's Rose Bowl champions last season, are 18-point favorites to win their opening game for new head coach John McKay.

Southern California and Washington are co-favorites for the Pacific Coast Big Five Conference race. Washington, sparked by brilliant quarterback Bob Schlorer, entertains College of the Pacific in its opener Saturday.

In addition to Washington, four other bowl champions swing into action Saturday. They are Mississippi (Sugar), Georgia (Orange), Arkansas (Gator) and Penn State (Liberty). Syracuse, the defending national champ and Cotton Bowl king, opens its season next week against Boston University.

Ole Miss is an 18-point favorite to whip Houston in a night game at Houston.

Odessa High and Dallas Samueli set a winning pace for schoolboy football's Top 10-rated teams Thursday night as the third week of play got under way.

Odessa's seventh-rated Broncs had trouble, but managed to gain a 22-18 decision over the Lubbock High Westerners. They edged Amarillo High 9-8 last week.

Samueli's Spartans, ranked No. 10 in Class AAAA, turned in a 21-6 verdict over Dallas Sunset in a cross-town battle that does not count in the district standings. The Spartans beat Beaumont South Park 19-0 last week.

These two contests, plus a handful of others, set the stage for a power-packed program Friday night that includes such Top 10 matches as Port Arthur at Baytown, Abilene at Sweetwater and Breckenridge at Wichita Falls.

There were two games played that count in district standings in 1-AAAA where El Paso High downed El Paso Jefferson 28-6 and El Paso Austin defeated El Paso Tech 23-6.

with Irving, nor third-rated Brownwood with Kilten. But, fourth-ranked Kilgore has a toughie in Texarkana, as has seventh-rated Littlefield with Seminole and ninth-ranked El Campo with Deer Park.

In the AA and A divisions, things may get tough for the highly-rated teams, too.

Except for Olney, the No. 1 favorite in AA. The Cubs are idle. But, Class A's favorite, Stinnett, must take on potent Dalhart. Crowell meets winless but rugged Quahan, New London plays Kilmer, San Augustine tackles Kirbyville and Alto meets Rusk in games against strong AA rivals.

In AA, Denver City tackles AAA Kermit, while Seymour plays defaulted champion Stamford. Brady faces rugged Winters and Gatesville meets high-scoring Hamilton in all-AA battles.

Companies, Communities Can Do A Job

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — You and your community or your company can work out a practical way to save your lives if an H-bomb raid ever came.

Some businesses already have made these plans. One is the Stanford Research Institute, at Palo Alto, Calif.

The Institute and its 4,000 to 5,000 employees are in the San Francisco Bay region. In the overall area are key air fields, a missile plant, strategic oil refineries, a major U.S. city.

If the Russians attacked in force, it's estimated that without protection a fourth of the Institute's employees and their families would be killed by blast, virtually all the rest by fallout.

This assumes five million ton H-bomb strikes, and a total fallout 40 to 70 times more than is needed to kill a man.

To meet this treat, Institute men have converted the basement of Building No. 1 into a 30,000 square foot shelter for 3,000 men, women and children. Building plans include a basement to shelter 2,000 more.

These basements can take blasts of five pounds per square inch. They would give blast protection from a five million ton H-bomb five miles away. The expected 25,000 roentgen fallout would be cut to a mere 100.

Thirteen inches of concrete in the roof and two floors above the basement give fallout protection. The basement floor, 15 feet below grade, is shielded by the surrounding earth from radiation on the ground.

An example of how a community can act is found in Burbank, Calif., where Civil Defense men are set to push vigorously a plan to get the citizens of each neighborhood in the city to buy and put underground a 100-man "neighborhood" shelter.

Neighborhoods would be organized into "shelter districts." They'd finance the shelters with "Shelter Bonds" in the same way Sewer District bond themselves to pay for sewers over the years. A bill to allow this will be submitted to the California State Legislature in January. These shelters, like giant half sections of steel pipe, would be 25 by 48 feet, made of corrugated steel and braced and buried under three feet of earth. They would be equipped with emergency power, chemical sanitation facilities, air blowers, cement floors, emergency food, first aid supplies and a safety entrance.

They would be fallout proof. They have blast protection sufficient to assure survival at about one mile from the surface detonation of a million ton H-bomb. Cost of the currently-planned shelter is $18,000. The estimated cost in quantity is $14,000.

Burbank is about ready to let bids for the first local model shelter and expects it to be ready in late January.

At the Stanford Institute, each family has been assigned an area in one of the basement's five major wings and corridors.

A 14-day minimum-diet dry ration for 3,000 people has been stored in Building No. 1. Water would be available from an emergency well.

Several doctors and their families have been invited to join in the Institute's shelter plan to provide medical services. The Institute will lay in emergency medical supplies.

Toilets have been installed underground. A motor generator has been put in and two weeks of fuel stored to provide power for communications, lighting, sewage disposal and for pumping water.

The basement is provided with shortwave transceivers which could send and receive information about the attack. There would be standby emergency communications with the sheriff, police,

Postmen Deliver Acreage Cards

Rural mail carriers are now delivering 1960 acreage survey cards. Postmaster O. K. Gaylor, said. The U. S. Post Office and the Agriculture Department join to make this yearly survey, and it is the basis of official estimates for Texas acreage of crops harvested in 1960.

The postmaster urged that all those receiving a card fill it out and return it to his mailbox. Carriers on this project are: I. E. Byars, RR1; C. W. Coffin, RR2; and Vernon T. Alexander, Star Route 2.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS THE 100-person underground blast and fallout shelter which Burbank, Calif., is proposing for its "neighborhood" approach to civil defense. Shelter was designed by U.S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory in San Francisco. Model is at Camp Parks, Calif.

Red Cross and the Military Amateur Radio net. Radiation measuring instruments are stored.

Staff members have been assigned the jobs they'll have after the bomb hits. One is responsible for rationing food and water, others for public health, communications, fuel and power, sanitation.

One man is to measure radiation, detect radiation leaks and determine when it's okay to leave the shelter.

A handbook has been issued, telling the staff members and their families what to do now and

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Republican convention in Chicago this summer not only chose a presidential candidate but served to mark a new communications era, according to a former State Department official.

Roderic L. O'Connor, now president of Eidophor, Inc., said the use of a television projector to throw images from one end of the vast Chicago International Amphitheater to the other gave a big boost to the large screen, closed-circuit television business.

O'Connor told United Press International he sees the day when every large public room will be equipped with a closed-circuit TV system to amplify the image, just as they today are equipped with a public address system to amplify sound.

The two Eidophor projectors at the Chicago convention were set up in the mezzanine opposite the speakers' rostrum and projected close-ups on two huge screens 220 smoke-filled feet away, the farthest distance a TV picture ever has been projected.

This was made possible by a unique design of the Eidophor projector which uses an extremely bright independent source of light for projection, instead of reflecting the image off a television picture tube as in other projectors, O'Connor noted.

Large screen, closed-circuit TV made great strides in the 1950's, and now the next big step will be in color, according to O'Connor.

There are only two such systems in the world, O'Connor said. Philips of Holland has one which is compatible with present systems but it is limited to a 9x12 foot screen. Eidophor's color system employs a huge screen but is non-compatible and can only

Not blaze-bright, but a quiet afterglow effect that gleams through browns, grays, olives and blues, patterned or plain. ### Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The headlines say: Laos crisis worsening.

It means that in another of the faraway places into which the United States has poured material and money the friction between pro-Western, pro-Communist and neutralist forces has touched off another political brush fire dangerous to a much larger area than its own immediate vicinity. Laos, threatened now with civil war, is a tiny landlocked kingdom in what used to be French Indo-China.

The names of its cities and its leaders fall with an unfamiliar ring on Western ears.

Its administrative capital is Vientiane. Its royal capital is Luang Prabang. Its neutralist premier is Souvanna Phouma. Jungle chieftain of the Communist Pathet Lao is Prince Souphanou-Vong, a half-brother of the premier. Leading the fight against the Reds is Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

These are names as unlikely as the fact that to the average American they should suddenly become of real concern.

But as the average American struggles through a suddenly intensive course in world geography he has one thing in common with the sarong-clad peasant in the dusty streets of Vientiane. Until a short time ago, the peasant had never heard of him either.

Even now, as world events swirl about him, he has little real interest.

UPI correspondent Arthur Dommen covered last month's overturn of the pro-Western Laotian government and in a letter to New York headquarters wrote: "A crisis in Laos, bound to cause a disturbance in the order of a tidal wave outside the country, hardly produces a ripple here. Such a very small number of educated, politically conscious persons in the capital are involved in what's going on that one can say practically that Laos sleeps peacefully through cabinet and even coups d'etat."

But as civil war threatens Laos, its strategic position makes the final outcome one of vital importance.

On the north and east lie Com-

5,329,000 Texans Eligible To Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau estimated today that 5,329,000 Texans, including 106,974,000 Americans, will be old enough to vote in the presidential elections.

The estimates are based on projections of age data from the 1950 census, and birth, death and migration statistics since then, and Communist China and Communist North Vietnam. On the south is Cambodia and to the west Thailand.

Premier Souvanna Phouma is a neutralist who has shown no stomach for measures which would prevent Communist infiltration and ultimate take-over.

Reports trickling out of the Laotian jungle say Gen. Phoumi Nosavan is battling Communist guerrillas but with little or no support from the government. Meanwhile, Thailand hints it might send its own troops into Laos if it appears the Reds are gaining an upper hand.

The United States, a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pledged to Laos' defense, has warned Red China there should be no outside interference. But for the moment there is only agreement on this, in tiny Laos anything can happen.

Fire In Engine

Firemen answered a call at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Frost and Kingsmill. The blaze, in an auto belonging to Gary Laymore, was caused by a short in the battery carriage.

O. Henry, famous short story writer whose real name was William Sydney Porter, is buried in Asheville, N.C.
