'Throw Away Your Rocking Chair'

So, you wanna live a long, long time, huh? Well, throw away your rocking chair and forget your aches and pains and for on and live, live, live! That's the advice of Mrs. Laura B. S. Cox, a "part-time Muleshoe-ite." She ought to know what she's talking about; come December and she'll be 89 and still drives "the girls" to the farm club meeting every month when she's "back home" in Missouri. "They give me all sorts of excuses why they can't go to club. You see, I'm chauffeur for the 'girls' and so I have to go by and pick them up each time. Well, they tell me they got an ache here and an ache there, and so I say, "Oh, forget your aches and pains, come on and go and live." So they do and they keep on living even if they do have pains." And she added this advice to her stay-young recipe: "Get rid of that rocking chair. A good rocking chair has killed many an old person who just let the chair gobble him (or her) up. Rocking chairs should be for young mothers to use to rock their babies in -- not for old folks to use to sit around in and groan and feel sorry for themselves. I'll sure kill 'em. If you're gonna live, then you gotta live. That's all there is to it. Live, man, live!

"I got rid of my rocking chairs a long time ago. Those things are death traps. I'm afraid of them!" She thinks hardships "condition" a fellow for living. "Take the people who came here back in the 'teens' -- some even as early as nought-eight. They had it rough. Real rough. And they stayed on their land and they starved and they didn't make any money. May be that was good, because they were too poor to get out of the country. "And now some of the second and third generation farmers are here and they have money and they think they've done it all by themselves.

Foie! I know better. I knew their parents. And I know the hardships the old folk endured back there in 1908 or 1911 or 1915/ Sure they make money. Now, but it's just their good fortune to have been born to parents who endured those hardships. " And she recalled the farmer in those early days of sandstorms, drouth, sandstorms and more drouths. And she said: "There was this man I recall. He nearly starved to death. He was poor, awfully poor. He had it rough, and he nearly starved to death, literally. He got sick just from not having enough to eat. And he nearly died. But he stayed on the farm.

"Now his son likes to think of himself as self-made! Now that's a laugh! Mrs. Cox knows about such things because she's been coming here since 1908. She calls Muleshoe her "part-home", and she claims another spot, Excelsior Springs, Mo., as her home, too. But she spends the "growing season" in Muleshoe out on her farm five miles north and one mile east of Muleshoe. "Those first times I was here," she recalled, "this was only cow-chip country. And it would still be cow country if it hadn't been for those old-timers with guts who lived in See Rocking on P.2

Combines Roll, Prospects Bright Despite Wet Autumn

Combines rolled again this past week shelling out a bumper crop of sorghum, but by Friday, a combine ride was about as chilly as a ride in Santa's sleigh. That was the big farm question of the week -- dry weather to permit the combines to crank up. Early morning chilliness with accompanying dampness, kept the combine activity confined to the latter part of the day, however. The dryer weather by mid-week also permitted harvest of a "big, big" tomato crop to continue. Many of the tomatoes, says County Agent J. K. Adams are going to Bailey County as ripe tomatoes, bringing $30 per ton. But the fresh market is still holding out at five and six cents per pound. And there's the return to corn, sweeping west Texas this year boosted by the big increase in feedlot activity. The county agent says there's 20,000 acres of corn within a 20-mile radius of Muleshoe which is "rapidly drying in the ear." He said experts are checking daily to see which fields are suitable for harvest to fill corn contracts with Texas Sesame Co. in charge. That type of corn, incidentally, is going into the corn chip market. The outlook for wheat and volunteer rye is good. Says the agent: "Both are showing considerable promise for more grazing than any time in recent years."

SHADES OF '22--Dr. B. O. McDaniel scans his 1922 "Ole Miss" yearbook and looks longingly at the page (inset) that showed him (with two of his buddies) when he weighed a mere 140 pounds. He was winding up eight years of ball-playing that year. (Journal Photo)

Tour Planned
A morning tour of outstanding crop demonstrations and soil and water conservation work in the Muleshoe and West Camp area is set for Friday Oct. 7 from 9 to 12, County Agent J. K. Adams announced.

Business men and farmers are urged to gather on the west side of the courthouse square not later than 9 a.m. Friday for this tour that will be conducted by Extension Service and SCS personnel.

High point of the tour will be a contest to see which tour member can pick the winner or highest producing grain sorghum in an outstanding demonstration. Ties will be eliminated as each contestant will also estimate actual pounds produced per acre. First National Bank will award a $25 hat to the winner.

School for Adults To Start Tuesday

Adult education classes in three subjects will open this week, Ralph Stevenson, director of special programs for Muleshoe school system, announced Friday. The class schedule was announced after a sign-up session was held recently. Subjects will include Spanish and typewriting. The sessions will be held at the public high school, Stevenson said. Two classes in Spanish have been organized. One will meet from 7 until 9 p.m. each Tuesday, beginning this Tuesday. The other class in Spanish will meet at the same hours on Thursday, starting next Thursday. A class in typewriting will meet from 7 until 8:15 p.m. four evenings a week, beginning Monday evening. "Room for more participants in each one of these classes is available," Stevenson said, "and those interested in enrolling who were unable to attend the original enrollment classes, may enroll by attending to the next session."

Benedict To Head Chamber

Vic Benedict, a Muleshoe insurance agent, has been named president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, it was announced Saturday by the nominating committee which had just completed checking mail-in ballots. Other nominee was D. B. Lancaster. Robert Hooten will be vice-president next year; other nominee was Franklin Mann. Jim See Benedict, P.2

First Corn Hits Market

The first load of yellow corn reported in the Muleshoe area this year was delivered by Kenneth Briscoe last Thursday afternoon. Briscoe's corn was harvested by Royce Turner using a picker-sheller. Texas Sesame Division received the corn in Muleshoe and said the moisture content was 24.50 and the corn was good quality. Briscoe said he anticipated a yield in excess of 100 bushels per acre.

Guess What! That Onery, Sticky Goathead Now Has an Enemy

Those pesky little goatheads which put out steel-like spears that will imbed themselves in human flesh with practically no coaxing at all, have an enemy. Which, within itself, is news in this country where goatheads will grow and prosper on even the poorest soil. Comes now a foreign weevil that has a taste for roughness. The little insects have been galloping across West Texas gobbling up 70 percent of the seed in "host" plants. That's the word of scientists at the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center near Bushland. Now folks around here are wanting to know where they can find a few thousand of these weevils. They happen to know where a bumper crop of goat-heads is growing. Fortunately, the insect attacks only goatheads or puncture vines, a weed which rots moisture from crops and produces a thorny seed feared by barefoot children or bare-handed anybody who has to work in the soil. Mules Scalp Indians

Muleshoe Mules scampered all over the field Friday night, like coils in a pasture, to smother Morton Indians 67-8 in the year's biggest spree for the Mules. Just about everybody who got hold of the ball managed to get across the goal line with the oval, and scoring was done in every quarter. Andy Stovall got his educa-

Original 'Wrong-Way' Ball Player Still Loves the Game

"It was back in Oxford (Miss.) high school and I think the year was 1918. Anyway, the quarterback tossed me this pass and I picked me out in the near goals and started in that general direction. Only trouble was that it was the wrong goal. That's how Dr. B. O. McDaniel, Muleshoe physician, became the original "wrong way" ball carrier. The writer, William Faulkner, picked up the story and made quite a production of it in one of his books. Fortunately, for good old Oxford High, somebody on the Oxford team tackled Dr. Mac before he could reach the goal. That tackle, incidentally, was Faulkner's brother, and being tackled by one of his own players got so irritated Dr. Mac that he broke Faulkner's nose in the play. For Dr. Mac, football was a "participation sport" entirely, and he quite frankly admits, that the game, as a spectator sport, "is not too interesting. I'd much rather be in there playing myself," he explains. Still he's "strong for football for youths because it is good training - teaches them to think quickly and to make decisions." Incidentally, during the eight years he played football (four in Oxford High and four in "Ole Miss" which also is at Oxford) he played on the line - end, tackle, times like that - and at the time I weighed only 140 pounds. Besides football, he was on track teams at Oxford and Mississippi, and he played on the basketball team at Ole Miss. He remembers many of these college games and "I loved every minute of my college career. We played such teams as Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi A&M - all good teams). He says the game itself was See Dr. Mac, P.2

New directors named were Eddie Faust, Don Harmon, Bob Jones and Buddy Feiler. Other nominees had been Max King and the Rev. J. Frank Peery. The ballots were mailed out several weeks ago to all members, and were to be returned by Sept. 26.

Bob Janca, manager of the chamber, said all the new officers will take their seats officially when the annual banquet is held Jan. 30 next year. Outgoing directors are Earl Richards, Stan Barrett, Horace Huton and Boone Allison. Holdovers include: D. B. Lancaster, Franklin Mann, Jacques Baker, M. D. Goathead here says goathead weevils were brought to Texas in 1962 by Entomologist Norris Daniels and Agronomist Dr. Allen Wise, Texas A&M University scientist at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Center here.

In the last five years, they say the weevils have multiplied millions of times. However, the researchers doubt if the insects will completely eradicate goatheads. "We've never found more than 70 percent of the seed infested," Wise said.

Seeds unharmed by the weevil may have the potential to maintain or increase the goathead population, but Wise believes the 70 percent destruction of productive seed could cause an important reduction of the weeds.

Daniels said the weevils originated in India and were brought to California by USDA scientists in 1961.

After reading about the project in a scientific journal, the pair asked the California researchers to send them some of the weevils for tests in Texas. They promptly received 250 of the goathead seed-predators.

The Elmer Davis family have just returned from the Gulf Coast. Miss Janie Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crane, is enjoying her freshman year at Eastern New Mexico University.

Reports of the Democratic Convention in Austin last week come from local representatives and their wives. It was a most successful trip, they say. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnert from Las Cruces, N.M. are visiting here with their son and family, the Carl Barnerts and other friends in the area.

Balleboro and Stegall farmers will elect a member to the Blackwater Soil Conservation district supervisors next Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Balleboro gin. Carl Pollard, Stegall, has filled the unexpired term of Dan Dorsey. A short tour will be held after the election.

"not too different from today's brand of football," but he added that they "play lots more of it now than we did back in the 'teens and early '20's. Today's schedules are much more crowded and more boys play football today."

For Dr. Mac, it was football and medicine. "Just never did get around to hobbies," he explained, "unless you call medicine and football hobbies. I loved both of them."

He graduated from Ole Miss in 1922 and then went to Northwestern University, Chicago, where he received his degree in medicine. Then it was internship. And it was while there that he met the woman who became his wife a few months later. "Kinda rough, moneywise," he chuckles, "because I was interning and didn't make any money, and she was training for a nurse and didn't make anything either, but we married and we were glad of it."

But there are no sons to run for touchdowns, either right way or wrong way. Because both the McDaniel off-spring turned out to be girls. Both are married. But maybe someday there'll be to be grandsons who will carry on the McDaniel football tradition.

And he concludes: "Football is good stuff for young-uns. It teaches them how to out-figure their competition. You need that these days."

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Wallace are visiting in the R. L. Matthews home.

Vic Benedict has just returned from a trip he won to San Francisco, Calif. with the Southwestern Life Insurance. The convention was a week-long meeting.

shabby little frame houses or even adobe huts, and now today their sons live in nice brick homes, and some of them think they are self-made! Or am I repeating myself?"

She remembers how it got its start, this country around Muleshoe. She tells it like this: "There was this land company speller who sold a bunch of Nebraska folk on the wonders of the country around here."

"Seems sudan grass was flourishing around Clovis. So, he organized an excursion on the train and they went to Clovis and they saw this wonderful sudan grass. And the speller told them they could make $105 an acre growing that stuff for seed. It sure looked good. My father was one of them who came. He was Jacob W. Stoner from Cowgill, Mo., and he bought some land near what is now Muleshoe because he figured the land was good even if it just had water and was worth a gamble."

"Well, that was in 1908. And the folk from the north and the like moved onto their dry little farms, and it turned dryer and dryer and it didn't rain and it didn't rain, and they stayed on the land anyway and almost starved. They didn't have money enough to move away, so they kept on farming and hoping for a rain and once in a very great while they got a rain."

Mrs. Cox herself came out here in 1913 and the Santa Fe had pushed its grades out of the sand and was laying tracks for its first trains. "And by 1914, the next time I came out, the tracks were laid and the Santa Fe was running skinny little trains across the cow-chip country, and civilization had arrived."

"There was this fellow who tried to grow potatoes," she chuckled. "He planted them but they didn't come up. So one day my father was on his farm so he said to my dad, 'let's go out and see how those spuds are doing; they never have come up.' Well, sir, they dug down basketball in the basement. The game can't start until the youngsters perform two rituals petrified wood! Well, that's First the boys strip down to the way these potatoes looked, what they call the "tail pants." Warranty Goes With New Fords

Robert Hooten has announced that all purchasers of 1967 model Ford cars and light trucks will receive a 24-month or 24,000 mile basic warranty along with a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty on the power train components, which include the engine, transmission, drive line and rear axle.

The new warranty, Hooten said, is the best the industry has to offer and will be an important factor in backing up the superior performance which customers have come to expect from Ford cars and trucks.

The 24,000-mile warranty was pioneered by Ford Motor Company on the Lincoln Continental and was later extended to the entire vehicle line.

"Extension of this warranty on the power train components for 1967," Hooten said, "is possible because of continued progress toward quality and reliability goals that year after year have enabled Ford dealers to be the leader in providing products requiring less and less maintenance."

Terms of the new warranty provide that for 24 months or 24,000 miles on the entire vehicle, whichever comes first, and for 5 years or 50,000 miles on the power train, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by authorized dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials.

Tires and tubes are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire people. Owners will remain responsible for normal power train and other maintenance operations, such as wheel, brake and clutch adjustments and engine tune-ups, and for routine replacement of such items as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, and brake and clutch linings. To maintain the power train warranty protection the owner need only present evidence to a Ford Dealer and obtain his certification, once every twelve months, that the minimum services required every six months or 6,000 miles have been performed.

This means that the engine oil and oil filter have been replaced and the carburetor air cleaner and filter, crankcase oil filter breather cap, auto-establis will help stabilize farm income, even though cotton production should happen to be cut by an early freeze."

Incidentally, the average (normal) date for a killing frost in the immediate Muleshoe area is Oct. 28.

However, unusually cool weather this month, with temperatures already dipping into the 40's might be an indication of an earlier-than-usual frost.

70 percent of the bolls are open. Cotton specialists warn against too much eagerness in getting the leaves off the cotton. However, most Bailey county cotton is well along toward maturity, and if the killing frost date is normal, a clutch freeze would not be disastrous to the farmer.

He pointed out that a relatively new measuring stick, the micronaire - is now a factor in figuring cotton's value. "Now that cotton is sold, he said, "with a loss when the micronaire is too low, serious cuts in price result. It recalls they bought the land in December, 1906, and one square section of land is still in the family. It came into Mrs. Cox's hands in 1912 as a gift from her father."

She says she has had "very few" tenants on her farm here, one couple staying with her for 26 years. The J. W. Caseys have been on the farm now for six years.

He said the unusually heavy autumn rains have caused some washing and the creation of fields, bare of vegetation. He said erosion is in evidence in following 10 to 15 inches of rain which has fallen throughout the area since the fall down-pours started Aug. 23.

He said the "fairly strong price of grain sorghum and veg-

STEEL BUILDERS—Lomie Bass, seated, president of B&C Builders, Inc. and Allen T. Webb, Jr., engineer, are ready to help you plan that steel building to meet your needs. They offer expert service in the construction field and no job is too large or too small.

No Job Too Large or Too Small for B & C Builders

Need a new steel building—any size, anywhere? Lomie Bass, president of B and C Builders, Inc. of Muleshoe says "No Job is too large or too small."

This firm has recently completed a 47,200 foot building for Fin-Tex Engineering Company at Breckenridge and are now erecting a 90,650 foot structure for Hancock Manufacturing Company in Lubbock. They will erect a 51,000 square foot building in Fort Worth which will house the R. L. Smith Manufacturing Company. In the small building line, the B & C Builders have recently built a 13 by 32 foot car port for Alex Williams here in Muleshoe. They have erected numerous other buildings, both large and small, here and throughout Texas and New Mex.

B&C Builders are dealers for Inland Steel Products Co., pre-engineered buildings, roof deck, floor deck, wall panels, bar joist and struts systems. They sell steel to contractors in this area as well as using it themselves.

B&C Builders does a turnkey job. They design buildings, do the drafting, engineering and construction work and produce a building complete in every detail.

Mr. Bass has been in business in Muleshoe since 1956 and is well known throughout this area as a contractor. He keeps abreast with new developments in the building industry and adopts whatever ideas he thinks will improve his construction work.

The home office of this organization is located at 217 E. Ave. B, and the phone number is 272-3078. They also have offices in Clovis and Lubbock. Business men and farmers are more and more coming to recognize the value of steel as a construction material because of its longer lasting quality and its clean appearance. There are no termites in a steel building such as there might be in a wooden structure and the new types of steel are rust-resisting and need no upkeep. Then the most important feature is that it is fire-proof and offers security against loss.

If you are planning to build any type of structure, a visit or call to Bass at B&C Builders will be of great benefit to you. Let Bass explain to you the advantages and economy of using steel in place of wood or cement blocks.

There is no obligation for estimates.

LIBRARY News

By Anne Camp Librarian

New fall books are being ordered and received almost daily. We have tried to order as many of the best-sellers as we can. Also, we are trying to include, on our orders many of the new non-fiction books as well as the top-fiction. In ordering we take into consideration the requests turned in to us, as well as the needs of the library. If any one has a book-request, we would like to hear from them soon, so that every effort to get that certain book may be made.

Already received this week are several much requested books.

One of the 10-best sellers is "Two Under the Indian Sun" by Jon and Rumer Godden - This is a new book of the month selection, and is the poignant account of two small girls and five years they spent in Bengal, India, the reader will be able to see, and feel the India of that day, through the vivid descriptions of those two. A thoroughly enjoyable book for any age.

"The Time Between the Wars" by Johnathan Daniels - the much talked about; much written about book of this year; from the Mainstream of America Series "World Records" by Norris and Ross McWhirter; this is the new Guinness Book of World Records revised and brought up to date. Settlement arguments, have the time of your live with this book that contains thousands of records to name a few; Sports of all kinds, highest priced coinlity and its clean appearance. There are no termites in a steel building such as there might be in a wooden structure and the new types of steel are rust-resisting and need no upkeep. Then the most important feature is that it is fire-proof and offers security against loss.

If you are planning to build any type of structure, a visit or call to Bass at B&C Builders will be of great benefit to you. Let Bass explain to you the advantages and economy of using steel in place of wood or cement blocks.

Then a few minutes later, after holding Morton practically yardless, the Mules scored again, Young romping off from around mid-stripe for the tally marker.

Came the second quarter, and the goal-happy Mules whammed up a lot of additional tallies, bringing the score to 39-0 by the time the teams went to the mid-time talk-it-over session. The first in the quarter came after a series of good punts, Stovall sneaking through for the counter to bring the score to 26-0. Then Larry Calvert, a sophomore, sprinted 48 yards for the 6 pointer to bring the score to 32-0, and a short time later, Young sprinted from mid-field and Stovall kicked the extra point to bring the score to 39-0.

The third quarter, with just about everybody on the squad getting a chance, the Mules managed to ring up only one TD, Stovall getting the cross-over honors and then kicking the extra point to push the count to 46-0.

Morton got its only touchdown of the evening in the final period. Jimmy Waters made the largest airship; heaviest bell; highest, lowest, fastest, slowest, this book has all the answers.

"All the King's Men" by Robert Penn Warren - Pulitzer Prize novel to add to young adult collection.

"The Running Back" by Tex Maule; a story of professional football. The Search for Amelia Earhart by Fred Goerner; the full story of a struggle begun in 1960 to unlock the secrets of a fantastic thirty-year-old mystery.

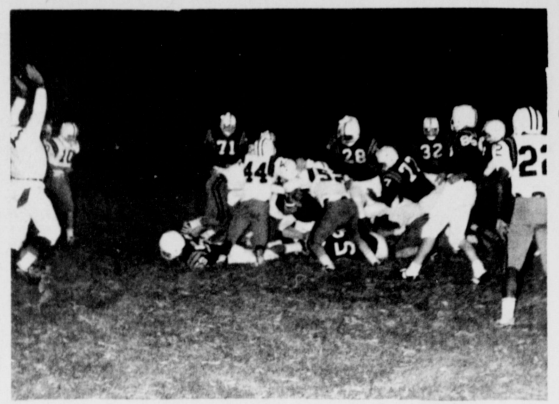

"House Harry" by Noel B. Gerson; a biography of Washington's great cavalryman, General Henry Lee. This is the story of a life which is triumphant enough for half a dozen men. Governor of Virginia, Major General of the Army, elected to the House of Representatives, and at Washington's death he spoke the funeral oration which contained the famous line: "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." Light-Horse Harry is a fascinating history of a soldier, patriot, leader, and father of an immortal son, Robert E. Lee.

The American Medical Association donated "Today's Health-Guide," a manual of health information and guidance for today's American family; this is not a "doctor book, in the old fashioned sense or an encyclopedia." It is an effort to select the most up to date health information, preventive medical services, treatment of illness and adequate meeting of emergencies. An adequate and authoritative reference.

I have always heard the remark said jokingly - "This book's not lost, it's just over due at the library 30 years." I'm beginning to feel there is more truth than jest in this, as we have received two books recently that were checked out of the library quite a few years ago. One a girl had found tucked away, when they were packing to move away from Muleshoe; another had found its way to the high school library, and was returned by the school librarian. It all goes to show, people, most people, are honest, and return public property, if they are just given enough time.

Emphasis this month has been put on re-building the Memorial Fund. Many books will be ordered with these funds. We have been pleased with the response made to the appeal of the library board for donations to this fund. Easy to fill in blanks may be obtained at the desk at the library, these also have an addressed envelope enclosed, making it easier to send in a donation, not necessary to use this, but more convenient.

Story hour for pre-school children will start again Wed. Oct. 5, 10 to 11 a.m. All children of this age are invited.

Andy Stovall, senior quarterback, sneaks over from the two-yard line in Friday night's win over Morton.

FOOD ADVICE—25 YEARS AGO

Farm families in Bailey county are being urged to check up on their supplies of canned foods to make certain they have enough to last until next spring, Miss Eunice Florence, Home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, said today. "Each family should consider the number of days in the non-growing season of garden stuff, if they do not have at least one quart of canned green vegetables, not including pickles, for each day of the non-growing season, they should immediately plant a frame garden."

Hi-Plains Happenings

Members of the Panhandle District Dental Society were urged in Hereford Monday to keep themselves informed because "they are facing the greatest challenge of any profession."

Dr. John M. Nabers of Wichita Falls, clinician for the fall meeting of the society, told the 51 dentists and 15 assistants present that improvements in their field are progressing so rapidly that "if you dropped out for even five years, it would be impossible to catch up."

Hereford Brand

Bob Waide, who lives seven miles northwest of Earth delivered the first load of cotton grown in the Earth area to the Campbell Cotton Gin in the Dodd community at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The load weighed 1890 pounds and turned out a bale weighing 475 pounds with 630 pounds of seed.

Waide was paid the premium price of 21 cents per pound for his cotton, plus receiving the ginning and wrapping free. He was also paid at the rate of $70 per ton for the seed.

Earth News-Sun

It was old home time and it was fun, if rather exhausting at Homecoming, 1966, Olton style.

Festivities got underway Thursday night with the big bonfire pep rally and crowning of Miss Flame.

Robbie Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Langford, was announced as Miss Flame. She represented the junior class.

Each high school class had a candidate for the honor, with winner determined by the number of loads of wood contributed to the bonfire by each class.

Other candidates were Emma Porio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Brigrance, senior class; Letha Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Estes, sophomore and Jan Scruggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scruggs, freshman class.

Olton Enterprise

A long-talked updating of the 35-year-old Moore county Court house got some detailed planning Monday in a county commissioners court meeting, with the possibility of a decision next Monday on a bond issue of perhaps $180,000 to finance the new project.

If a bond issue is called, it might be voted on as early as the Nov. 8 election date, date of the Texas General elections, a timing that would save much of the cost of the bond election.

Major item in the updating of the courthouse, that was completed in 1931, would be a modern heating and air conditioning system that was estimated at $75,000 by James Rittenberry, Amarillo architect who gave commissioners the $180,000 cost estimate covering a number of improvements they had outlined in an earlier meeting with the architect.

Moore County News-Dumas

An estimated 8,000 persons came through the gates Thursday, Friday and Saturday to share in events of the 13th annual Floyd County Fair. Neighboring counties were invited to participate on a full scale for the first time.

Fair officials were pleased with the fair and termed it "a success" in most respects. The gate was among the largest ever enjoyed by a local fair.

Although a majority of entries in most events came from the Lockney area, visitors were evident. "We had exceptionally good help in Motley County and that county was well represented," C. L. Henderson, president of the fair association said.

Wayland Raises Teachers' Pay

PLAINVIEW—The Wayland Baptist College faculty salary scale, on the increase during recent years, recently was given a further boost.

A salary supplement of more than $15,000 presented on the first day of classes in the fall semester raised Wayland's teacher pay to an average of more than $7,500 for nine months' work. The supplement amounted to an approximately 5 per cent salary raise, as compared to the 7.3 per cent hike on a national basis for colleges in 1966.

Dr. Roy McClung, president of Wayland College, said Wayland's average faculty salary scale has increased $3,000 over the past six years, mounting to a figure at the beginning of the present semester believed to be second only to the Houston Baptist College among the nine Baptist colleges in Texas.

The supplement, approved in June by the executive committee of the board of trustees, was the first income from the $2 million dollar S.F. Flores estate bequeathed to Wayland in 1959.

President McClung earlier in the year had revealed to the college personnel possibility of the pay supplement.

Texas Getting 60 New Museums in 50 Counties

Would you believe that Texas— which had a national-breaking record of 243 museums—has 60 new museums a building?

Spurred by the historical renaissance nurtured by growing pride of counties and communities in their own local heritage, museums are springing up like wild flowers in spring. From tip to stern and the width and breadth of Texas, 57 counties --many of which already have museums-- soon will have new museums to tell the story of Texas history in depth.

In some, the plans are just the gleam of an idea in the eyes of history buffs. Others are searching for a building to house collections. Buildings are being constructed; historic homes restored. Some are nearly ready to open their doors, others are starting to collect.

Here's where the Texas State Historical Survey Committee arrives on the scene. Most of the new museums are small, and their staffs have no place to turn for professional guidance. Large museums at best can offer suggestions only by correspondence or telephone. Hence TSHSC—with the Smithsonian Institute as its sponsor—will conduct its first official Texas Institute for Small Museums at Woodville Sept. 30 and Oct. 1-2. Anyone interested in museum development and operation may attend; 200 already have registered.

This is the first institute of this type that the Smithsonian has cosponsored with a state. Frank Taylor, director of the Smithsonian's U.S. National Museum, will head the faculty. Gov. John Connally will give an address at the session on Oct. 1.

Watermelon pickle is particularly attractive when the rind is cut in diamond shapes.

25 Years Ago

The Bailey County Singing Convention will be held Sunday at the Circleback school building. This will be an all-day meeting and everyone is asked to bring a basket dinner.

Norma Elrod was one of the winners in art exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair. Her exhibit of oil paintings won second place; portrait paintings second; painting of animal life, first and landscape painting, second.

Plans are being drawn up this week for a new hospital for Muleshoe. These will be completed within the next three or four days and construction work is expected to get underway by the latter part of Oct.

Dr. L. T. Green, Jr. announced. He is building the new hospital and he states that it would be completed and ready for occupancy by the middle of January. The building will cost approximately $20,000. Dr. Green who has recently returned to Muleshoe from a tour of service with the U. S. Army, is now temporarily located at the Dameron Drug Store, where he will have his office, until the hospital is completed. He also stated that the hospital would be an open-staff hospital.

To Mrs. Otis Freeman goes the honor of being the mother of the first baby born in the new Amberst Co-operative hospital.

Yields of Wheat Rocket to New Peak at Halfway

HALFWAY-- Loyd Langford, Associate Agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, reported that wheat yields for the 1965-66 crop were the highest in five years of research at the High Plains Research Foundation.

The mean yield of all twelve varieties in the test was approximately 15 bushels higher than in the 1964-65 season. This high yield can be attributed partially to more timely rainfall. The wheat variety with the highest yield of 87.3 bushels per acre was the Warrior variety. This yield was not significantly higher than Tascosa with 80 bushels; Scout, 79.4 bushels; Otawa, 79.4 bushels and Bison, 74.8 bushels.

Yields of other varieties in the test of twelve were Comanche, 66.9 bushels; Apache, 66.6 bushels; Concho, 66.5 bushels; and Improved Triumph, 63.4 bushels.

Most wheat grown on the High Plains of Texas is marketed for baking; therefore, the baking score is of high importance. The baking score of the wheat varieties in 1966 showing very good, good, and good minus were in order as follows: Tascosa, Tascosa (New Mexico selection), Bison, Cheyenne, Warrior, and Comanche. The test of protein, milling, and baking quality analyses were conducted by Mr. S.N. Vilm, Chief Chemist, Producers Grain Corporation, Amarillo, Texas.

The five-year average wheat yields at the Foundation were as follows: Tascosa, 59.8 bushels; Bison, 55.7 bushels; Improved Triumph, 51.5 bushels; and Comanche, 50.4 bushels. Other varieties have not been in every test during the past five years.

The twelve varieties in the 1965-66 test were planted on

Homemakers Face the Future With Warm Courage, High Hope

By Glenda Calhoun "America's Future Homemakers face the future with warm courage and high hopes." This quotation from FHA's creed helps girls to understand and pursue in the path of homemaking. Goals of higher standards have been set by the FHA's in Muleshoe High. New goals set at intervals during the year keep the girls busy, striving to do better always. This year's goals will certainly test even the best young homemaker.

The Rose and Rosebud Chapters of FHA will jointly plan and finance landscaping of the outdoor patio by the Homemaking Department. This week members of the FHA picked up and cleaned up trash in the area where the new patio will materialize. The clean-up will be finished before the chapters plan details for the landscaping of the patio.

New Program Orientate Parents

Mr. Milton Oyer, principal of Richard Hills Elementary School, announced that a new type program is being initiated in Mrs. Willoughby's second grade Developmental Room. Mrs. Boyd Magby, room chairman, has helped organize the parents in the pilot program. First, the parents will observe for one half day, and later they will serve as teachers' aides under Mrs. Willoughby's supervision. The value of this program will be two-fold, parents will become better acquainted with the materials, equipment and methods used, and more individual help can be given to each child. It is hoped that this parent-teacher cooperation will be beneficial in helping the child make great progress.

The patio improvement landscaping program is a part of the Student Council's overall plan to beautify the MHS campus. October finds the girls striving for "Good Health and Family Relations." During the month an activity period assembly will be held for the installation of the incoming Rosebud officers. Each girl participating will be assigned in red and white, the chapter colors. November will be a "Leisure Time and Construction Time." A style show in which the girls will model garments that they have tailored, will be held in this month. Also the chapters start selling cookbooks and Stanley Products around the first of this month. Helping "Neighbors Near and Far" will be December's goal of the month. The annual Christmas Card party will sponsor the sending of cards to people in need all over the world and to the Senior Citizens of Muleshoe. Officers and the State choir will also attend the meeting. Girls that have their State degrees in and have been notified by State officers will go and receive their degrees at the meeting.

February sets the scene for the traditional Sweetheart banquet, presented by both of the FHA chapters. The goal, "Leisure Time and Constructive Time" will be encouraging each girl to make the banquet a success.

Annual Sales For MULETRAIN Begin

Subscriptions for the 1966 MULETRAIN (high school yearbook) will go on sale Tuesday of next week, Carol Haire, subscription manager, announced. The sales will run from October 5 through December 1. Again this year, the sale price of the annuals will be $5.00, or a student may make a deposit of $2.50 and pay the balance when he receives his annual. Last year's sales totaled 500 annuals. It is the goal to reach 600 this year.

Choir Performance Set For October 17

By Donna Donaldson Mr. Leasel Richardson's All Girl Choir is preparing their first performance Oct. 17 for the Fine Arts Boosters. Songs to be sung are "O'! Ma River," "Let Us Break Bread Together," "Short'nin Bread" and "Finlandia." The all-girl choir will be wearing new formal dresses which are made of black tulle and white satin. The dresses will be styled with an empire waist line. Some of the girls will be in the Muleshoe high school production of "The Sound of Music." These girls plan to be nuns: Winn Watson, Becky Gulley, Rita Black, Jeanie Martin, Norene Green, Diane Crawford, Jan Creamer, Yondale Bleeker, Judy Anderson, Nancy Hopper and Donna Donaldson. Saturday there will be a stage party at the County Club. This money is to be placed in the "Sound of Music" only. We want to thank the mothers for making this party possible.

Trio Attended District Meeting

By Benny Bruns Dean Black, Keunth Wilhite and Clifford Black attended the Littlefield district meeting Sept. 21. The convention was termed a success and the boys obtained much information that would benefit the home club. While at the convention, Dean Black was elected district Sentinel.

Band Wins Third

By Marsha Blackman The Mighty M Band is pleased to report that it placed third in the Lubbock Fair parade held last Monday. The band won $25 for its efforts. This money is to be placed in the travel fund for a trip to either Corpus Christi to the Buccaneer Music Festival, or to Enid, Oklahoma, to the Tri-State Music Festival. Placing first in the parade was Levelland, and second was Seminole.

Many of the band members went to see the "Ennessee Ernie Ford show" at the Fair. All reported that it was an excellent presentation. The band is preparing for the contest show for the U.I.L. Marching Contest to be held in October. The show consists of such tunes as "Consider Yourself" and "Pass Me By" - both of which are from well-known musicals and shows. The band hopes to win a first division at the contest and is working hard to achieve this goal. If a first division is won, the band has a chance at that coveted Sweepstakes award.

CHEERLEADER TRIANGLE- Cheerleaders for Muleshoe's football team and other school activities are Brenda Ellis and 'Vickie Henexson', shown on the ground; Suzan Camp and Debbie Bryant, standing and head cheerleader, Jeannie King, top.

Hard Work Key to Top Notch Squad

By Debbie Bryant Few people ever realize how much time and effort a cheerleader must give to cheerleading. Many hours of hard work prove to be the key to having a top notch cheerleading squad. Cheerleaders have the tremendous task of building and maintaining school spirit. They must always be in there backing the team and encouraging others to join them. Varsity cheerleaders for MHS this year are Jeannie King, head cheerleader; Debbie Bryant, senior; Suzan Camp, junior; Brenda Ellis, junior; Vicky Henexson, sophomore; and Connie Julian, sophomore. B-Team cheerleaders are Karen St. Clair, head cheerleader; Debra Hayes, Pam Swint, Ann Douglas, and Janet Ellis, all freshmen. Harriet Glaze is the Mule mascot this year. Preparation for the 1966-67 school year began in June. Cheerleading practices were held two and three times each week. In August both varsity and B-team squads attended cheerleading camp at Southern Methodist University in Dallas for one week. There many hours were spent learning new stunts and other things that would boost the spirit at MHS. To open the season a traditional parade and bonfire were held Thursday night preceding the first football game with Dimmitt. The varsity cheerleaders presented the "Mighty Mules" with a good-luck plaque at the first pep rally. Pep rallies are held each

Friday afternoon preceding a football game, and this year will be held for each district game. This year the MHS cheerleaders have put forth great effort in backing the "Mighty Mules." They have been aided by the "Mighty M Band", members of the Spirit Club, the student body, and the hometown fans. Everyone is urged to join the cheerleaders and student body in backing not only the football and basketball teams, but each and every activity sponsored by Muleshoe High School.

Junior Class Slaves Elected

The junior class elected slaves to be sold October 17. They are Stan Johnson, Alvin Walker, Sharon Hutton and Suzan Camp. The Lions Club sponsored the pancake supper before the football game this Friday. Students of the class sold tickets at 75 cents. Contact the junior girls if you wish to buy mums for the home games before Wednesday afternoon of that week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Wagon of Muleshoe. Rhonda's home town is Muleshoe. She attended Junior High and High School here, so she really feels at home. During the summer, Rhonda is a life guard and also teaches swimming lessons. Rhonda is a "good steady teacher" and believes in a quiet orderly class. She wants to try to make learning interesting and enjoyable for each student. Miss Wagon enjoys being a P.E. and health teacher and every girl loves her. Everyone tries to do her best in physical education and health. Rhonda can't really say if she is a good teacher or not, so the Muleshoe Junior High is saying it for her.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently knows about as much about astronomy as he does about farming, his letter this week indicates. We don't have time to straighten him out.

Dear Editor:

I was sitting on my front porch out here on this Johnson grass farm enjoying a moonlit summer night last week, to be exact it was Tuesday night, and I remembered reading earlier in the day in a newspaper I'd found the day before that the U.S. satellite in the latest moon shot was having a little trouble with its cameras, plus the fact the orbit around the moon wasn't at exactly the level the scientists wanted. Sometimes it was too close, other times too far away.

Then I glanced up at the moon. No wonder they're having trouble. It was just a half a moon.

You'd think, with all the brains they've got and all the money, somebody would have thought to look at a calendar and say, "Whoa, we can't make a perfect orbit around half a moon."

It's simple. Cut an apple in half, then try to draw a circle around it. Anybody can tell you one edge of the circle will be closer to the round side than the flat side. You mean to say those scientists have gotten so bogged down in figures and calculations and formulas and paper work they haven't looked up and noticed what shape the moon gets into occasionally?

Moreover, have they thought about the problem they're having when they actually try to land a man on it? What do they think will happen if they land him there during a quarter-moon? If he lands on the inside curve, you know he is going to slide.

If I was an astronaut, the first thing I'd do is get me a calendar and explain to the scientists that it's printed right there: on such and such date, the moon will be a quarter-moon; a little later, a half-moon; and finally it'll be round. Then the time to send me up.

If the space scientists don't subscribe to The Journal, I suggest you clip this letter out and send it to them, before they make any more busts.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Historical Society Discussion Underway, Object - Co. Museum

Discussion is underway, with the objective of making the historic Muleshoe Ranch Cookhouse into a Bailey County museum, according to Bailey County Historical Survey Committee, Chairman, Cecil Davis.

Chairman Davis announced that he hopes to attend the small museum discussion convention of the Texas Historical Survey Committee held in Woodville Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 and 2.

Announcement of planning for Bailey County's 50th anniversary in August, 1968 was given, with Davis suggesting that preliminary ideas and suggestions be collected by the committee. Among plans for the county celebration will be a marker placed on the Bailey County Court house square, commemorating the first offices of the county.

At the October meeting, a membership roll will be completed and a yearly membership fee will be set, Davis announced.

Attending the meeting September 26, were Davis, Judge Williams, M. H. Lane, Mrs. Major Woods, Mrs. O. N. Jennings, H. H. Carlyle, Mrs. Horace Blackburn and Gil Lamb, a guest.

In other business at the meeting, Judge Williams announced that the Bailey County Commissioner's Court had appropriated $200 to the local historical society in the 1967-68 county budget. The appropriation of the committee was given to the court for their appropriation.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Winning The Reward

Edwards flew into a rage when he found the hub caps missing from his car. Shaking his fist, he muttered:

"Why, I'd give $100 to know who stole those hub caps!"

The man next door, hearing these words, took them literally. He did a little quiet sleuthing and, sure enough, discovered the culprit. But when he claimed a $100 reward, Edwards refused to pay off.

And in a court test, the judge sided with Edwards. His angry exclamation, said the judge, was obviously just a way of letting off steam, not a serious offer of a reward.

The legal obligation to pay a reward is based not on the ethics of gratitude but on the principles of contract law. There must be an offer, seriously meant. And there must also be a performance that fits the terms called for in the offer.

Thus, a reward offered for locating a robber "and" his loot is not earned by one who locates the robber - but not the loot.

Nevertheless, to encourage the catching of criminals, the law usually gives the claimant the benefit of the doubt.

For example:

An alert citizen led police to the hideout of a fugitive killer. But their effort to arrest him resulted in a gun fight in which the fugitive was slain. In these circumstances, was the citizen entitled to a reward offered for the man's arrest?

A court said "Yes" in the offer - because for all practical purposes - he had done the job for which the reward was offered.

In everyone eligible for a reward that is offered to the general public? No. As a matter of public policy, certain individuals may be disqualified even if the reward offer doesn't say so.

For instance, a policeman who does no more than his duty cannot ordinarily claim a reward offered by the victim of a crime. Otherwise, the police might be tempted to give better service to people willing to offer rewards.

Nor may a reward be claimed by someone who was himself involved in the crime. Thus, a man who helped to find a pair of stolen shoes was denied a reward when it turned out that he had also helped to steal them.

As one judge put it:

"No man shall be permitted to profit by his own iniquity."
