SPEAKER SAYS LEVY IS JUST AND EQUITABLE

Two More Projects to Start in Area

"Dear"—He Lives

PRESIDENT WORKING ON REVENUE MESSAGE OF TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP)—Increasing talk of a tax on undistributed corporation profits was heard today above the clamor of a growing congressional dispute over President Roosevelt's million-dollar revenue estimates. Adding his voice to those of administration leaders in the senate, Speaker Byrns endorsed such a profit levy as "just and equitable." He reported that many members of the house ways and means committee, which will draft the tax bill, were in agreement with him.

Amendment Needed
Meanwhile, Senator Byrd, (D., Va.), a critic of some of the new deal's spending, expressed approval of the tax program but called for a constitutional amendment to make federal, state, and municipal bonds subject to taxation.

Despite some hints of opposition to a program of such size in a campaign year, Secretary Morgenthau expressed confidence in the outlook when asked what would be done if the full program is not adopted.

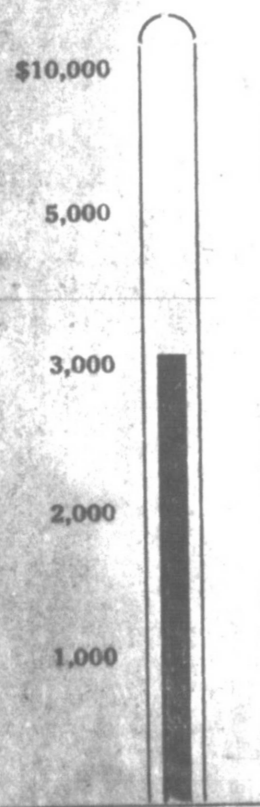

There is no doubt about it, he replied. "We'll get it." Aside from the tax on undistributed corporate profits, no one method of applying the next taxes apparently had official or semi-official approval. Many individual members of congress had their own ideas of what should be done. Generally these ideas were similar to those they have been backing for years.

It remained for the ways and means committee to receive, sort over and select from these proposals those that seem most profitable, obtain estimates of their yield from the treasury and then come to a final decision.

Message on Tuesday
This process was scheduled to begin next week after the receipt of President Roosevelt's message—scheduled for delivery Tuesday—calling for an increased permanent annual yield of $620,000,000, plus $300,000,000 to replace revenue lost through the invalidation of

NEW PROGRAM TUESDAY WILL BE GALA ONE

Panhandle Official Of Lions To Be Speaker

One of the most unusual radio programs of the year will be a gala meeting Tuesday evening by the Pampa post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The broadcast will be the fifth annual "Hello America" hour of the national V. F. W.—a unique presentation of the purposes and activities of the overseas veterans organization emanating from Washington, D. C. Addresses by speakers will be interspersed by popular and patriotic musical selections by famous bands and orchestra, and the program will culminate in an impressive initiation ceremony in which the commander-in-chief of the V. F. W. speaking from Washington, will administer the oath of obligation to approximately 25,000 recruits assembled in V. F. W. post meetings in thousands of cities and towns throughout the country. Pampa Post No. 1657 has planned an elaborate program to precede the broadcast according to command. D. M. Smith, all members invited to attend the open meeting in the basement of the First Baptist church at 8:30 p. m. A group of new members, recruited by post 1657, in anticipation of the radio initiation, will be the guests of honor. The program will include an address by Ralph Randel, district governor of Lions International and interesting variety program, followed by an army type dinner. Then at 10:30 p. m. the meeting will tune on the coast-to-coast blue network of the National Broadcasting company, which will broadcast the "Hello America" hour over more than 30 of its stations. The United States marine band, one of the most famous musical units in the country, will open the program with appropriate military selections. Mrs. Winifred D. Toussaint, national president of the V. F. W. auxiliary, will speak on the child care program of her organization, with special reference to the V. F. W. national home for war orphans, Easton Rapids, Mich. Senator James F. Byrnes, of South

New Evidence On Sabotage Has Been Unearthed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)—On the basis of new evidence involving a mysterious affidavit — the United States will launch before the German-American mixed claims commission on May 12 an attempt to reopen the famous Black Tom and Kingsland world war "sabotage" cases.

The commission was revealed tonight to have set the mid-May date for hearing arguments on the American petition to lift the lid on more on the explosion cases, involving claims totalling $40,000,000.

At that time, representatives of this government will seek to put forward what was authoritatively described as evidence concerning upon an affidavit made by James Larkin, Irish labor leader.

If the commission rules favorably to the United States, the "sabotage" cases will be reopened for submission of the new evidence.

Texas Business Still Improving

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)—Continued improvement in Texas business conditions during the week ended Wednesday was noted today in the commerce department's weekly business survey.

Dallas merchants were reported more optimistic with improved weather, with most stores reporting increases over the same week last year. Bank clearings were 14 per cent below the previous week and slightly under the 1934 period. Dallas has Texas cities in building permits with a total of $348,000. Oil well drilling permits during the week were 393, about double the weekly average and a new high for the present year.

Houston retail sales ranged from eight per cent to 50 per cent over the previous week with improvement noted in all wholesale lines. Building permits of $343,800 were 27 per cent higher than last week.

Hauptmann Case "Still on Paper"

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 29. (AP)—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf's report that persons representing themselves as agents of Governor Harold G. Hoffman, had approached state troopers with "promises and threats" drew a sharp denial of such knowledge from the governor today.

The governor caustically described the Lindbergh kidnap investigation as the "most bungled case in police history."

His opinion, which is shared by thousands of people, the governor wrote to Schwarzkopf, "is that the Lindbergh kidnaping, murder and extortion of $50,000 was not a "one man job."

Battle Is Raging Now In Ethiopia

ROME, Feb. 29. (AP)—While fascist sentries occupied Amba Alaji, erasing the sting of a bitter defeat of 40 years ago, Italian soldiers and Ethiopian warriors of Ras Kassa clashed today in the Tembien section of the northern front.

Reports of the battle came to Rome from Marshal Pietro Badoglio, head of Il Duce's Ethiopian army. His communique read:

"While troops of the first army corps reached Amba Alaji, troops of the third army corps and those of the Eritrean army corps attacked from the north and south the forces of Ras Kassa.

From dawn yesterday, Feb. 28, a big battle is raging."

Hornets' Nest Asthma Cure?

JACKSON, Ga., Feb. 29. (AP)—Somewhere between Jackson, Ga., and Penelope, Texas, a hornets' nest is riding in the mails — in the belief that it will aid a man suffering from asthma.

There is superstitious belief here that if a hornet's nest is set on fire and the smoke inhaled by the victim, the asthma will be relieved.

Just how the nest was obtained was not disclosed.

The package was consigned by Jennie Hightwer to her friend, Willie Newton at Penelope.

LeFors Kiwanians Urge Library for Whole of County

Several members of the LeFors Kiwanis club visited the Pampa club Friday and furnished the program.

Lloyd Jones played a "saw solo" and Jack Foster gave a reading.

The LeFors club asked the co-operation of the Pampa club in securing a county library. Members pointed out that the smaller towns and rural communities had very little available literature, but with a county library they could have access to numerous books.

A committee composed of Lance Webb, N. P. Willis, W. B. Weatherford and Ben Reno was appointed to cooperate with the LeFors club in furthering the project.

The visitors included T. C. Pike, A. Platt, P. Hill, Lloyd Jones, Jack Foster, R. E. Page, and B. E. Ford.

STRANGE CASE OF JULIA CRAIG

Chapter XXIV
Payson brought Julia back to the apartment, then telephoned Smith Garland that she would not appear.

"Was he angry?" Julia asked when Payson had finished.

"Not Smith Garland. He said he'd get a lot of pleasure out of telling them they wouldn't see Nadine White tonight.

Julia smiled. "He's a peach, Tom."

Payson took up his hat. His eyes were troubled. "Julia — you're not falling for Smith, are you?"

"I'm not falling for anybody," Julia told him.

"But when Payson had left the apartment Amy gazed differently. Payson was miles off, wasn't he, Julia?"

"What do you mean?"

"I mean you still like Peter Kemp."

"I never said I liked him at all," said Julia, taking up a cigarette.

Next afternoon, she received a frantic telephone call from Kemp.

"I must come right over," he told her. "It's important."

"Yes, Peter."

It seemed to her that she had hardly replaced the receiver when she heard Kemp's ring.

"How ever did you get here so quickly from the office, Peter?"

He smiled quickly, and hurried into the room. "I didn't come from the office. I'm not with Woodford and Brooks now, Julia."

"You mean you've quit?"

"No, indeed. Of course, Julia. I'm going to be working against Woodford in this business. And I never liked him anyhow."

"But, Peter! You mean you've given up your place there to help me? Oh, Peter, I wish you hadn't done that! And it's so unnecessary."

"He looked at her oddly. "Don't worry," he asked. "I'm afraid you're really in a spot, Julia."

"I mean that things are happening pretty fast against you. Buchen has been talking with Tony Latta, and he's firing. Latta's sore at you for turning out on him, so we can expect anything there. I have it straight that you and Payson figured in an altercation on Latta's gambling ship."

"But it was Latta's fault, Peter! I don't see how—"

"Buchen could drag that out of you so it would appear plenty incriminating in court, Julia. The fact that you sang on a gambling ship would work against you with most juries."

Julia sat down, staring at him unbelievably. "You talk as if I were going to be accused of murdering Royal Nesbitt."

"I'm afraid you are, Julia. He stopped a moment, looking down at her curiously. "They're going to question Payson, too. Buchen knows that Payson was the man who tried to help you on Evergreen Island, and that he was the one who tried to break into the radio room of Woodford's yacht. And he knows Payson is behind the White Club."

Julia drew a quick breath. "But — but how can they say I killed Nesbitt?"

"You mean the motive?" Kemp frowned. "I don't know yet what Buchen will use. It may be that you wanted to escape from the yacht. He can prove you wanted to get away. He might build it up that you got into an argument with Nesbitt. I can't pretend that the blow was a man's not a woman's — because Nesbitt was stunned, then died by drowning." Kemp paced across to the table. "Or Buchen may build up some laugh. He's good at that."

"But — how could he?"

"You've never heard Buchen in action. And didn't you tell him that Nesbitt had been coming to your apartment long before you ever saw him on Woodford's cruise?"

Julia was silent, slowly realizing that it could be true. Buchen could make it bad for her. Perhaps he himself believed that she had killed Nesbitt — and in his belief could convince the jury.

"But no," Julia cried, half in anger to her thoughts. "They can't, Peter! They can't do anything to me. Cause I didn't do it!"

Kemp studied her a moment, then walked across the room and knelt down beside her chair. "Look here, Julia. I've got to get you out of this. But if I do manage it you have to tell me the truth. Don't you see? In order to be prepared for Buchen I have to know what really happened. You don't have to lie to me, Julia."

Suddenly Julia realized what he meant. Suddenly she realized that Peter Kemp believed she had killed Royal Nesbitt!

"Peter . . . Peter, you think that I—"

"I want you to tell me the truth, Julia."

"You suspect that I really may have killed him, and yet you'd help me?"

"You had good reason," Peter said. "I'm sure of that."

Slowly she regarded his eager young face, serious now with the weight of her troubles. "But you're not that kind of a lawyer, are you? You don't believe in it — why would you do it for me?"

"Because I love you, Julia. Isn't that reason enough? I don't care what happens to me after this is over — but they mustn't hurt you."

"Oh, Peter!" Suddenly her arms had slid round his neck and she was sobbing. "I—I didn't think there was anyone in the world like you." She straightened, fumbling for her handkerchief. "But I didn't do it. I really didn't!"

He looked at her for several seconds without speaking, and she said, "Can't you believe me, Peter?"

Kemp nodded slowly. "Yes . . . I do believe you." He stood up, rubbed a palm wearily across his forehead. Then he laughed shakily. "That doesn't make it easier for us, Julia — but it does tell me this. They— Woodford and the rest of his party on that yacht — know who did it. One of them is guilty, and they've banded together to make you take the rap. You don't belong to the crowd, so you're it."

"But I'm sure of one of them, Peter. I'd gamble my life that Cintra Lee had nothing to do with it."

Kemp sat down, folding his hands together until the knuckles were white. "Who would you pick, then, from the others? Woodford, Nash or the widow?"

"I don't know," Julia answered slowly. "I can't believe—"

"You've got to believe one of them did it, and you feel sure that Cintra Lee didn't. Which of the others? It had to be one of them, or one of the crew. The crew had no reason to kill Nesbitt that we know of."

"Peter, I . . . I'm almost sure that the wound Nash gave Nesbitt wasn't an accident. And the night before, when Payson was in the lodge, Nash and Royal came to blows." She stopped, looked at Peter helplessly. "But I can't believe Nash would want to kill him for just that."

Kemp stood up suddenly and reached for his hat. "There's only one chance for us, Julia. I'm going to see Woodford and try to bluff him. He knows the answer."

"You're going now?" Kemp nodded, and Julia added quickly. "I'll go with you."

He hesitated a moment. "I don't like the idea — but it might help. Come on, Julia."

Within half an hour they stood before the door of Woodford's downtown apartment. It was the Japanese, who opened for them, and his usually impassive face showed his recognition of Julia. He would have shut the door quickly if Peter hadn't dashingly moved first. Taking Julia firmly by the wrist, the young attorney barged into the hall. They had gone only a few steps when they came face to face with Woodford.

"What's the meaning of this?" he said icily. "Breaking into my apartment without ceremony, and—"

"I'll get to the point, Woodford, without ceremony, too. I want to know who killed Nesbitt."

Woodford's face twisted in surprised anger. "I don't know what you're talking about!"

Kemp stepped closer to Woodford. "Would it interest you to know that Miss Craig and I have just spent the last hour in your office? Miss Craig was kind enough to help me find your private files—"

"Why, you—"

"Easy, Woodford," Kemp said, drawing Julia behind him. "There's nothing you can do now. I've enough evidence in a safety deposit box downtown to keep you explaining yourself for a long time. The McLaughlin estate, for instance— and that Conley will — and your representation of the Zodiac Hotel trustees."

The older man whitened. "What the devil do you want, Kemp?" he asked huskily.

"I want you to stop shielding the murderer of Nesbitt. Or did you yourself do it?"

Local Race Track Layout Is Highly Praised

OFFICIAL OF ASSOCIATION IS VISITOR IN CITY

CITY COMMISSION IS GIVEN ADVICE ON PLANT

Officials of the Texas Racing association who viewed the Pampa municipal race track Saturday saw in the grounds the possibility of one of the finest racing layouts in the southwest.

One of the visitors was J. E. Hill, secretary-treasurer of the association, of San Antonio. His father, W. H. Hill, accompanied him.

E. Hill examined the blueprints of the local plant, now more than half completed, and made valuable suggestions. He met with the city commission to discuss the track, securing of horses, and other details of track building and management.

Mr. Hill came here by invitation of Gilmore N. Nunn, member of the executive committee of the racing association, and to confer with the local man. Membership in the association will save the local track at least $500 a year through unit purchasing, will make possible a high quality of racing, and will advertise the track throughout the state.

Other member tracks are at Kingsville, Seguin, Rusk, Amarillo, Midland, Graham, Panhandle, and Pampa.

Tentative dates of the first Pampa racing meet are July 8 to 18, inclusive. The Amarillo meet will be from May 6 to 16.

Well paced by Jockey H. Hudley, the gelding permitted Reaping and Money Getter to race themselves out in the early part of the mile and a sixteenth run, and then swept around the field to win going away.

HOLDOUTS GIVE HEADACHE TO MAGNATES IN BASEBALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Major league club owners enter the month of March with the biggest holdout headache they have experienced in at least four years.

Where only a handful of athletes remained to be brought to terms at this time a year ago, a recount today revealed approximately 50 unsigned players.

The total has been reduced by scarcely a dozen within the last fortnight.

Many of the best known performers still have salary grievances. Aside from the holdout of the Dean brothers, the most serious case to develop this week involves Hank Leiber, slugging outfielder of the New York Giants. Hank's threat to quit if he doesn't win a substantial compromise is not taken seriously by club officials, but it adds a sturdy note to the general overture of dissatisfaction.

Even if the magnates go no more than half way with their recalcitrant hired hands it appears likely to cost them an aggregate of $100,000 extra to get all needed signatures on the dotted line.

In addition to many pitchers, the hold-outs include: Catchers—Ernie Lombardi of the Reds and Bill Dickey of the Yankees.

First basemen—Zete Bonura of the White Sox and Hank Greenberg of the Tigers.

Second basemen—Buddy Myer of the Senators and Minter Hayes, White Sox.

Shortstop—Luke Appling of the White Sox.

Third basemen—Harland Clift of the Browns and Pinky Higgins, Athletics.

Outfielders—Paul Waner of the Pirates, Wally Berger of the Boston Braves, Hank Leiber of the Giants, Babe Herman of the Reds, and Ben Chapman of the Yankees.

Uvalde, Texas, is the headquarters for investigations by Australian government representatives seeking insects to combat the cocklebur in their country.

FRONTIER AGES WILL COMPETE IN BIG MEET

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL CLASH IN LAREDO EVENT

LAREDO, Feb. 29 (AP)—Eleven universities and colleges and 20 high schools, athletic clubs and military organizations from Texas and northern Mexico will compete here Monday in the fourth annual international frontier track and field Olympics.

More than 200 participants have entered.

The University of Texas already has two legs on the frontier championship and Donna high school of the lower Rio Grande valley is far ahead in points scored in the high school division during the last three meets.

Colleges entered in the senior division include the University of Texas, East Texas State Teachers college, University of Nuevo Leon, Howard Payne university, South-west Texas State Teachers college, Rice Institute, University of Texas, Texas Christian university, North Texas State Teachers college, St. Edward's university and Abilene Christian college.

Entrants in the high school division include Moorberry, Stockdale, Thomas Edison, Alamo Heights Sidney Lanier, Brackenridge and Thomas Jefferson schools of San Antonio, Rio Hondo, Brownsville, Sinton, Weslaco, Kennedy, Donna, Villadama, Nuevo Leon, Laredo and Ursuline convent.

ROOKIES VS. REGULARS BRAIDENTON Fla., Feb. 29 (AP)—What they do in practice is one thing and what they do in a game another, so manager Frank Frisch intends to find out.

To give his Rookies a chance to perform under a mild kind of fire, he's sending them against his regulars in a six-inning game tomorrow.

Coach Cecil Grigg of Rice Institute will have an unknown quantity. He will have "six or eight boys who say they have played baseball."

Mike Seale, football and basketball star from San Antonio, hurled good ball in high school days. "Big Jaw" McCauley, the football star, will seek an outfield berth. He reputedly is a heavy hitter. Two other prospects are Sam Mays, football captain last year, and Harris Lodge, court star.

Baylor has been named as a threat but just what Coach Morley Jennings has will not be known until practice starts Monday. The Bruins turned out a good club last season.

Although Carey led at the half, 11 to 8, only two field goals were registered by the victors, one going to Foust and the other to Redwine. The Cardinals had the advantage at the end of the third period, 23 to 16. Gresham, Carey center, was forced from the game in the final stanza.

Lubbock's Sam West to Report To Browns Soon

LUBBOCK, Feb. 29. (AP)—Sam West, centerfielder for the St. Louis Browns and for the last nine years an outfielding American League outer gardener, will leave his home here tomorrow for West Palm Beach where he will meet L. C. McEvoy, business manager of the St. Louis club to discuss terms for the coming year. West thus far has not signed his 1936 contract.

West hit .300 or better for the last eight years of his major league experience and two other years, in addition to 1935 led all the regular outfielders on the defense.

ISSUE ULTIMATUM
CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (AP)—The Western conference faculty committee today voted unanimously to suspend the University of Wisconsin from membership beginning July 1, unless changes are made meanwhile to bring athletics under the control of the faculty.

Region 7—Taft 37; LaFeria 33.
Region 8—El Paso 29; Fort Stockton 27.

(By The Associated Press)
Crack high school basketball teams from all parts of Texas battled Saturday night for regional titles and a chance to compete in the state championship tournament at Austin next week.

Of the 1,500 interscholastic league teams competing this year, only 16 remained in the running for the state championship. Saturday night's final regional matches were intended to trim the contenders to eight.

Teams from 32 state districts went into the regional play-offs and preliminary rounds of play eliminated all but the following:
Region 1—at Canyon: Pampa and Carey advanced through a double elimination tournament to the final game Saturday night. Pampa won from Friona in a day game, 32 to 31.
Region 2—at Abilene: Crews and Forsan became the finalists in this region. Crews defeated Milburn, 38 to 18. Forsan defeated O'Brien, 36 to 10.

Region 3—at Denton: Waco and Dallas Tech were paired in the deciding game for the regional championship. Waco ousted the Denton Broncos, 13 to 11. Denton won the state championship last year. Dallas Tech trimmed Nocona, 26 to 12.

Region 4—at Longview: Gober and Cushing disposed of two other small-town teams to reach the regional final game. Gober won from Hughes Springs, 40 to 22; while Cushing defeated Gilmer, 31 to 29. Gilmer was substituting in the regional play-off for Kilgore, a district winner. Kilgore, because of a meningitis quarantine, was unable to play.

Region 5—at Huntsville: Colmesnell won from Bryan, 28 to 21 to gain the finals. Jeff Davis (Houston) defeated French (Beaumont) 37 to 15, in the other semi-final.

Region 6—at San Marcos: Austin and Del Rio emerged victorious in preliminary games and were matched for the regional championship Saturday night. Austin easily won from Brackenridge (San Antonio) 32 to 15. Del Rio had more trouble defeating Lagrange, 28 to 18.
Region 7—at Kingsville: Laferia,

Experienced Men On Mustang List For Spring Ball

DALLAS, Feb. 29. (AP)—Seven seniors and ten juniors, remnants of last year's Rose bowl team that lost to Stanford, will be listed in the 45 candidates to report for spring football training tomorrow at Southern Methodist university.

Sophomores, some of them due to fill big gaps in the Mustang line-up next fall, will complete the roster. Head Coach Matty Bell will have Charlie Trigg, new line coach; Roswell Higginbotham, new varsity baseball and freshman football coach and Harry Shuford, new varsity backfield coach, to aid him in spring training.

Seventeen seniors, including all-America Bobby Wilson, Truman Spain and J. C. (Iron Man) Wetsel, will be missing.
But three varsity veterans, co-captains Johnny Sprague, blocking back and Paschal Scottino, great guard, and Bob Finley, halfback, will return.

Squadmen and some fine sophomores, developed last season by Freshman Coach Trigg, will fill out Bell's 1936 team.
"We'll be lucky to win half our games next season," he moaned. "Texas A. and M., Texas Christian and Arkansas appear to have too much strength for the other teams."

CIRCUIT IS COMPLETED
LONGVIEW, Feb. 29. (AP)—Marshall and Kilgore will be taken into the East Texas Baseball league at a meeting called here for tomorrow by J. Walter Morris, league president. The addition of Marshall and Kilgore will make it an eight-team circuit.

MOODY CLUB WINS
AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—The Moody club of Galveston defeated the Stewart Independents of Ft. Worth 32 to 19, here tonight for the women's basketball championship of the Texas amateur athletic federation.

CAREY

dinals, 25 to 18. Yesterday morning Friona hit the come-back trail but lost, 33 to 22, to the Harvesters.

In between, Carey defeated the Abernathy Antelopes and Friona administered more of the same medicine to send the usually finalist district 4 representative home with two consecutive losses. That drew the Harvesters against Carey in the final tilt.

Stokes Green Spurts.
Stokes Green went on his greatest scoring spree of the season when he looped 23 points against Friona. The big fellow was unstoppable and his teammates fed him the ball unselfishly. Hartman made 7 points and Strickland looped 3 goals before leaving the game on personals.

Friona's great forward, Brookfield, made 11 of his team's points besides playing a stellar floor game. Gower, center, managed for eight points.

Never Had Lead.
Pampa failed to see the lead in the night game with Carey. In fact, the Harvesters missed the backboard as often as they connected.

They couldn't get the ball in for a set-up and passed into the hands of Carey players repeatedly.

Big Moose Hartman left the game on personals early in the second quarter and Strickland followed him in the third stanza. The Harvesters missed enough free shots to have won the game. Green saw five out of his six charity tosses go wide. Strickland missed his three attempts.

Green and Jones divided scoring honors with five points each. Foust, one of the most unusual players in the state, led Carey's attack with 11 points, ably assisted by Redwin, fellow forward, with eight. Foust shoots from any or all angles with unusual accuracy and is hard to guard without fouling.

Small But Fast.
The Carey team, with the exception of Gresham, center, is comparatively small yet on Friday night the little fellows out-played the Harvesters at their own game of taking the ball off the backboard.

Friona overtook the Harvesters in the last two minutes of play in the Saturday morning tussle and it looked bad for the Mitchellmen until a long one hit the basket. Then the boys from Pampa took the ball and stuck to it like glue for the rest of the period to eke out the one-point victory over an inspired Friona team.

Green and Hartman returned to form in the battle, each making 12 points. Gower, Friona center, connected for the same number. Brookfield continued to shine with five field goals to his credit.

The Harvesters led at the end of the first quarter, 11 to 9. The half saw Pampa in front, 22 to 14. The 27 to 21 lead at the end of the third stanza dwindled in the closing minutes of the game as Brookfield and Gower started hitting the hoop from all angles.

Settle Power Beliefs

EL PASO, Feb. 29. (AP)—A reconciliation remained in sight as the El Paso Electric power strike continued to more than score of communities in the Mesilla valley of Texas, New Mexico.

Joseph S. Myers, conciliator of the labor department, after twenty-four hours of activity, admitted he had been unable to make progress toward a solution of the problem.

During the day the company strengthened its position in its determined effort to operate its plants and maintain service with maximum labor, taking additional precautions against possible deprecations during the night.

A reward of $100 was offered for information leading to arrest and conviction of any persons damaging property. Power line guards also were increased.

It costs us more to build a car like this

FORD QUALITY goes far below the surface. It is built into every part of the car—in those things you see and those that are hidden. We say it with assurance—because it has been the experience of so many millions of drivers—that many months after your first ride you will still be saying—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

The Ford Motor Company is not content with ordinary specifications for materials. Its own standards of quality for many important parts are considerably higher than usually accepted standards.

Ford valves are an example of this extra value. They are made of a nickel-chrome alloy-steel that contains 13% chromium, 13% nickel and 2% silicon. This unusually high alloy content increases resistance to heat—insures more efficient, economical performance and longer life.

Intake valves, as well as exhaust valves, are made of this more expensive steel in the Ford V-8. It is one of several good reasons why the Ford engine is singularly free of valve troubles.

It costs us more to build a car like this—yet the price of the Ford V-8 remains low. Ford manufacturing methods save many dollars for Ford owners—and bring fine-car quality within the reach of every one who drives.

It Takes 25 Operations to Finish One Ford Valve.—Each Ford V-8 valve stem is ground five times for greater accuracy and smoothness. Amplifying gages check the stem for roundness within two thousandths of an inch. Similar gages check diameter. Measurements are made in specially built rooms with temperature-control. The exhaust valve seats are shrunk in liquid oxygen before they are pressed into the block.

VISION ILLS ARE OUTLINED BY OFFICIALS

MEXICAN WOMEN DO NOT TAKE NAMES OF HUSBANDS

AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—District supervisors of the old age assistance commission today related to Director Orville S. Carpenter the sides and ends of their difficulties in administering the new act.

Border district representatives told their chief trouble arose from Mexican women not taking the names of their husbands.

Just an old Spanish custom, explained one supervisor from the border.

Widespread difficulties accompanied proof of naturalization, supervisors said numerous applicants took out first papers years ago but failed to complete the process.

While naturalized citizens perfected application, Carpenter reluctantly believed he would have to deny a pension to an aged woman who lived all of her life in Texas until 15 months ago when she moved to New Mexico.

Dialing In On KPDN By The Radio Reporter

We dropped in on the broadcast boys again yesterday for the purpose of getting Bob Mack to set us straight on the term "High Fidelity". It seems this term is the talk of the town and frankly we're pretty well stumped as to its meaning.

Not being able to clarify our numerous questions, we decided to start in from its source and ferret it out.

Bob turned us over to Herman Kreiger, chief engineer of KPDN, to whom we put the question—"Just what is high fidelity, and what does it mean to those of us on the listening end?"

"Fidelity to begin with," Herman countered, "is exactly what the term implies; that is, we transmit to a listener's loudspeaker, tones, overtones, and other audible sounds of all variety, in as pure a state as they were when first produced in the studios of KPDN."

"Naturally," Herman added, "that answers your question in only a general and broad manner. To be more specific, the fidelity of a radio station is the degree to which the transmitter accurately reproduces this variety of signals which range from voice, sound, music and so on.

"This means the faithfulness with which the various audio-notes, (audible sounds) originating in the studio are sent to the listener's receiver.

"Accepting this as an explanation of fidelity," he continued, "as might be expected, a high fidelity radio station, of which there are only six more in America of a type like KPDN, is one which has an extra high degree of faithfulness of reproduction when compared with most of the standard broadcast stations now on the air."

At this point we were surprised to learn that KPDN's transmission would even excel that of the national high degree of faithfulness of reproduction when compared with most of the standard broadcast stations now on the air.

"Since it is not practical to transmit sound over long line wires beyond 5,000 cycles per second, it is evident that even chain broadcasting, which we mortals consider excellent, does not even approach the practical limits of high fidelity, or 10,000 cycles per second."

"What are cycles anyway?" Herman's answer we thought was rather graphic.

"Cycles in reality are a degree of pitch, such as we associate with musical notes. For example, the top notes of a piccolo are as high up the scale as 5,000 cycles while the lower notes of a bass viol are as low as 38 cycles; or reverberations per second, the human voice, for instance, has a pitch defined in cycles at about Middle C on the piano keyboard. A man's speaking voice is therefore classed as an average of 128 cycles, while the average woman's speaking voice ranges as high as 256 cycles, which is exactly the Middle C note just mentioned.

From all this it is evident the higher the note, the more difficult it is to reproduce and transmit, when a standard radio station is being considered; but, high fidelity equipment because of its high cycle characteristics, makes it as easy to broadcast the shrill notes of a piccolo as the low notes of a bass viol."

"In a further discussion of cycles, Herman brought out an interesting point which was new to yours truly. That there is a point where the sense of feeling begins to take precedence over the sense of hearing. That point happens to be 16 cycles per second, or about two notes to the left and off of the bass side of the piano's keyboard."

We were prompted to ask the question, "Why aren't all stations high fidelity?" "High fidelity is still very new, and the equipment needed to produce it is very costly," therefore many stations now operating cannot afford to scrap lot of thought could be put on the answers.

One young man would go so far as to resurrect the whipping post and have a day in which all traffic violators would receive a certain number of "lashes." Have a special set of laws drawn up for taxi drivers and laundry and cleaning truck drivers and make them obey," was the advice of a ward school girl as a solution.

"Place a conspicuous windshield sticker on the car of each violator, starting the offense, and require it to remain for 30 days for the first offense and take the license away on the second offense," urged another ward school pupil.

"I would build a pen in a public place and put violators in it, each wearing a sign 'I tried to kill a man';" "Publish in the Pampa Daily NEWS the name of every traffic violator," put 75 per cent of the taxi drivers in jail," were some of the far-fetched ideas but ones that might get the job done.

there will be little or no relief afforded. Taxation is absorbing a large portion of our incomes, yet the revenue produced is still insufficient to meet the expenditures.

No government can successfully operate where it spends more than it earns. Useless bureaus and overlapping agencies burden us with their inactivity at a staggering and ever increasing cost.

"Political patronage has increased the public payroll to the extent of millions of dollars annually. A holiday must be declared in politics, and we must settle down to a well defined course of thrift and economy. More than ever, our economic salvation rests upon our ability to lay aside trivial differences, and personal vanities, and to settle down to fundamental common sense to the administration of our affairs."

"The problem of taxation is a subject of such unlimited dimensions that a brief and hasty conclusion on any phase thereof will often, and more than likely prove impractical. Now, as ever, the views maintained are so varied and divergent that a survey of the old age pension inevitably finds himself entangled in a mesh of a thousand conflicting interests, each of which seeks to shift the burden to the other. We must accept the realities of this issue and meet the problem fairly and squarely. The increase in taxation is thinkable at this time."

"No new levies should be advanced save those made mandatory by recent constitutional amendment and legislative enactment providing for the payment of the old age pension. Adequate and immediate provision should be made for the payment of the old age pension. The actual budgetary needs of the state government must be met. But all other expenses incident to government not fundamentally imperative must be eliminated with dispatch."

"Nor should one's attitude in this particular suffer change until such a time as, to the extent of our homes and the necessities of life, the ad valorem tax be totally abolished. With this accomplished, let us make an exhaustive and thorough study of the multiple problems presented in the redistribution and equalization of taxation to the end that a measure of justice and equity may be accorded to all."

"Of our natural resources, the gas problem most vitally affects this area. I am for the unqualified, positive and absolute conservation of this great natural resource. For years have passed since our first gas conservation law was enacted, yet since this time, the amount of gas wasted represents enough to supply all of the present domestic consumers of Texas for a period of 50 years."

"It is the high time that the people of Texas cannot remedy such a deplorable situation. This vast natural resource must be conserved, gas wastage must end, and it will when knowledge of the real facts are brought to the attention of our people. It is high time that the public and not the conflicting interests, be represented in this matter."

"To this accomplishment of the above and my program in full, I will extend my efforts. I intend to make no false promises, present no policies, or belaud or straddle any of the issues. I will strive to simply state the facts, meet the problems and decide the questions to the end that the common will of the people will prevail. I take it that all prospective legislation, without regard to stimulus or objective, should be determined and controlled in the light of unquestioned progress and the common economy of our people.

Any proposed legislation, however valid it may be, that does not conserve and defend the inherent rights of freedom does not deserve, nor will I receive, my consideration.

"I shall strive honestly and industriously to interpret the will of the people, defending it at all times against the hazards and conditions of the day."

New "Gold" Suit Filed by Road

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (AP)—A new "gold clause" suit was filed in the Supreme Court today as it prepared to push through a decision of the disputes toward a final decision.

The gold litigation was an appeal by the trustees of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company from a lower court decision that the carrier had to pay $2 on a $25 coupon payable in gold or the equivalent value of Dutch guilders.

Santa Fe Is Being Asked to Beautify Station

Beautification of the local Santa Fe station grounds is being sought by the Pampa Garden Club.

Correspondence concerning this project has been under way for several months. Some encouragement has been given by Santa Fe officials at Amarillo.

The Pampa women are pointing out that this is one of the largest shipping points in the southwest without improved station grounds. Citizens generally are being urged to request the improvement.

official announcement, there was not even a rumor that Okada still lived.

"Body" Was Buried Physicians testified to his death, a coroner's inquest returned a verdict of his death, "his body" was buried with impressive funeral services. But the body which was buried was that of Colonel Matsuo.

With characteristic Japanese meticulousness, the war office last night officially cancelled its announcement of Okada's passing.

In the meantime, thinking that they had succeeded in their effort to "liquidate" the head of a government they believed inimical to the interests of the empire, the rebels capitulated to an imperial order that they stack their arms and quit the buildings in which they had barricaded themselves.

Rebels Disarmed A government communique announced that the rebellion was ended yesterday afternoon with the complete disarming of enlisted men among the rebel group and the arrest of at least 15 officers.

The government claimed the troops surrendered without the firing of a shot and that there had been no bloodshed since Wednesday.

The resistance of the enlisted men collapsed when two airplanes, flying over their stronghold, dropped notices issued in the name of Emperor Hirohito, whom they worship as a god. The notice said:

"By imperial command, you have been ordered to return to your barracks. If you disobey this order, you must be regarded as traitors. You may consider what you have been doing is right, but if you come to see the error of your ways, there is no use in continuing resistance. It is not too late to cease your resistance even now.

"If you return now, your offenses will be forgiven. Your fathers, brothers, and the whole nation are praying for you to return immediately to your own barracks."

Rumors were heard that some of the officers, dishonored by their rebellion, had committed harakiri—the honorable Japanese suicide of disembowelment—but there was no immediate official statement concerning the rumor.

Loyal troops guarded the spot where the rebels had held out and Tokyo remained under martial law, making personal investigations of many reported incidents impossible.

How It Happened TOKYO, March 1 (Sunday) (AP)—The story of how Premier Kei-suke Okada remained hidden for 9 1/2 days during the Jap revolt still was an official secret today but some persons who saw him after his reappearance said they believed he hid in the maid servants' quarters at his officials residence.

Newspapers were forbidden to publish anything about what the premier was doing between the time of the outbreak of the revolt Wednesday morning—when he was supposed to have been shot down—and the revelation Saturday that he still was alive.

The consensus of persons who saw him at the palace yesterday was that he lay in hiding in the quarters of the maid servants after the assassin called out Col. Denzo Matsuo, the premier's brother-in-law, and killed him, believing him to be Okada.

honor the memory of General Sam Houston, whose military genius contributed so much to the independence of a free and whose political wisdom guided the new nation.

Four days later, on March 6, Governor Alfred D. McAllister, with thousands present and multiple thousands of spectators, will pay their tribute to the 187 men who, on that day in 1836 died within the walls of the Alamo mission in San Antonio before the onslaught of 6,000 Mexican troops.

Spending Millions From these ceremonies, spreading through Texas, the celebration of Texas independence will radiate and continue through virtually all of the year, centering in a Centennial exposition at El Paso beginning in June. For the observance, the state and federal governments have appropriated millions of dollars.

Governor LaFollette, in Texas for a students conference on government, accepted an invitation to participate in the independence memorials. He and Governor Allred planned to motor to Brenham Sunday and visit old Washington briefly Sunday afternoon, returning to Brenham for the night.

Governor McAllister's connection with the ceremonies was closer. For Houston before coming to Texas was both a governor and a United States senator of Tennessee. His address at Houston's grave in Huntsville was a programmed headlight of the day, which also was Houston's birthday.

Former Representative Joseph Watson Bailey of Dallas was expected to deliver a speech conveying the "steamboat house" in Huntsville where Houston died, to the state on behalf of J. E. Josey of Houston, who made preservation of the historic building possible. Governor Allred was to accept the gift.

Three Convicted Of Mail Fraud

DALLAS, Feb. 29. (AP)—Fines and prison sentences were given three officials of the Pro-Klines company, and the bankrupt Securities Service corporation by Federal Judge William H. Atwell here today. They were convicted Thursday on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy.

James A. Dorsey, president of the defunct company, was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $5,000 in the securities case, and was given eighteen months and a $5,000 fine in the El Oro Mines case. The sentences will run concurrently.

Victor Pick, statistician of the company, was given eighteen months in prison and a $3,000 fine in the securities case, and a year and a day in the mines indictment. The same prison sentences were given Zell K. Roe, a former vice-president of the company.

Both men's sentences will run concurrently.

M. A. Taylor, divisional manager of the marketing division of the Phillips Petroleum company, and J. W. Whitley, assistant manager of Amarillo, were Pampa visitors Friday.

Watson Bailey of Dallas was expected to deliver a speech conveying the "steamboat house" in Huntsville where Houston died, to the state on behalf of J. E. Josey of Houston, who made preservation of the historic building possible. Governor Allred was to accept the gift.

THE SECRET OF POISE: God's our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear.—Psalms 46:1, 2

Value and Need of County Library

The value of any public enterprise should be reckoned in proportion to its need. If this premise be true, then, Gray county, as well as many other Texas counties, would decidedly profit by the creation and maintenance of a county library system, its value to the county would be incalculable because the need is so serious. With such limited public library facilities as are maintained in this county at present a pathetic situation exists. It requires no vast amount of intelligence to recognize that less than one book to every two persons in the county constitutes an inadequate literary opportunity for the citizens of the county.

It should be a sobering fact to every intelligent and aspiring citizen of this state to realize that our state ranks among the best in material things, natural resources and production, but that it ranks low in respect to education, cultural means, public health, public order, and many of the more enduring values. The county library greatly reinforces the educational system of the county and carries it into the adult field where it is needed desperately today with the increasing complexities of our modern civilization and demand for sound citizenship. During an effort to establish county library systems in each county in North Carolina, the governor, O. Max Gardner, stated: "I regard the citizens' library movement to provide a good county-wide library service for every county as one of the most profoundly important and far-reaching developments in public education in this state since the introduction of the compulsory school law."

Further enforcing a sense of our need for adequate public library facilities is a statement from Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior: "An intelligent government and an intelligent citizenship do not grow spontaneously. They must be fashioned by carefully fabricated, highly tempered intellectual tools. An unwise economy that will cut at the roots of our American system of free schools and libraries may prove to be a fatal economy. To be great and free, America must be educated."

We face the reality of changed educational methods by which students are taught to do research work and constructive thinking. They are taught to search for truth with an open mind wherever truth is to be found. This means that they must have access to the abundance of literature in the form of books which is flowing from the minds and pens of specialists in every field of modern endeavor. Free access to the necessary books is a decided aid to educators in their effort to teach those who come to them for instruction. It is an invaluable aid in preparing the individual for life. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt expresses her views on the subject in these words: "There is no question in my mind but that the public library is essential to the growth of the people in any community. Unless one can read and find the answers to the numerous questions which come up in everyday life, the opportunity for mental growth is necessarily denied. Therefore, I feel wherever possible there should be a good public library in every community." That is exactly the purpose to establish a county library system in this state. Each system library units would be placed in communities throughout the county thus making immediately available to all the citizens whether rural or urban.

Every affords material on every industry and can be found in any locality thus aiding the workers to equip themselves to do their work more efficiently. It affords wholesome recreational material which is essential for mental recreation. It is a powerful source of information and choice of a career among the young life. By the presence of a good library the dull and monotonous and vicious literature is decreased and noble emotions and ideas replace dangerous or harmful ones. As Warden Lewis E. Larwe emphasizes this point, "A library is everyman's university. A good book is man's best friend. I have observed many whose anti-social viewpoint was completely changed through proper reading material." Contributions for the library are accepted by the Pampa Kiwanis Club.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—A judge of one of Texas' highest courts told a story to illustrate how it sometimes is necessary to cut red tape.

He was talking about the validity of 150 laws missing from the official copy of the penal code through the errors of a binder.

"I am reminded of an Uncle Remus story," the judge said. "At the climax, Uncle Remus told the little boy, his listener:

"And so dat rabbit jes clumb right up dat tree."

"But Uncle Remus, the little boy protested, 'you know a rabbit can't climb a tree.'"

"Shut yo' mouf, honey! Uncle Remus replied; 'a dog was after dat rabbit and he had to climb a tree.'"

Sometimes, said the judge, regardless of technicalities, courts have to climb a tree.

Governor Allred informed John Wallace, control board member, he wanted action on plans to re-roof the mansion and re-turinish the governor's reception room on the second floor of the capitol.

The telephone Wallace after a heavy rain which caused him to place slabs under leaks and take refuge in dry parts of the executive living quarters. He also was agitated at having to receive a state rural planning committee in the dilapidated reception room.

"I don't want it done after the Centennial," he told Wallace's secretary.

Wallace later advised the governor the contract for the new roof had been let January 24, but bad weather had delayed the work. The reception room re-doing will begin when it is known how much of the $7,500 legislative appropriation for the joint project will remain after the mansion is repaired.

"Are you sure, Governor, that you didn't veto those items?" a press correspondent asked, recalling a former governor had vetoed some things he later forgot.

"Yes, sir, absolutely sure," Allred said.

Resolutions of the democratic executive committee recently endorsed the administration of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner, as well as that of Governor Allred but did not mention their reelection.

The peculiar position of the committee later was explained by Byron Black of Marshall, chairman.

Scotti Helped Sell Opera at 'Met' Years Ago

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (AP)—The death of Antonio Scotti thins to a scattered few the old guard of the Metropolitan opera—the artists who "sold" grand opera to the American public.

Scotti, baritone who attained the status of a matinee idol in the hearts of music lovers, was one of the "last" voices.

Enrico Caruso was his close friend and colleague. Marcella Sembrich, who died in New York last year, made her debut with Scotti at the "Met" in 1899. Geraldine Farrar long ago retired from the operatic stage and is living a rural life in Connecticut.

Scotti worked out a pattern for his career and closely adhered to it. He feared singing after his voice had lost its quality. He wanted the public to remember him as he was in his best. So in 1932 he announced he would retire shortly because he felt that an artist should go with his powers intact.

He sang his swan song at the Metropolitan the night of January 20, 1933. It marked 33 years of continuous appearances at the "Met." Scotti took the role of Chin-Pan in "The Orange" a tragedy of San Francisco's Chinatown. Critics commented that his voice had never been better; the audience gave him a big ovation.

Scotti never sang again. And the following year, he sailed for Naples, the city of his birth and death. He had lost most of his fortune, he said when he embarked for his native land, but guessed he had enough left "to take care of the needs of an old artist."

The PEOPLES COLUMN

IDAHO. I have traveled this country over for nearly thirty years. Trying to find a place to spend my declining years.

I have traveled from British Columbia even into Old Mexico. But have found no place that equals dear old IDAHO.

Beautiful rivers and mountains, their peaks covered with snow—There is no place like ours, up north in IDAHO.

Fertile bench land and valleys where crops in abundance grow; I am speaking of the Boundary country, up north in IDAHO.

No earthquakes, no droughts, or dust-storms, no snow, no blizzards in northern IDAHO.

It's a sunny, salubrious climate; the death rate is very low; No poisonous insects or reptiles in this part of IDAHO.

When you've traveled the U. S. over and there seems no place to go, just look on the map and you'll see it. Bonners Ferry in IDAHO.

It's true the depression's not over, but you will "make it" if you try; That's why I came to this country and will stay here till I die.

Wholesale Liquor Dealers Organize

DALLAS, Feb. 29.—Completion of the organization of the Texas Wholesale Liquor Dealers association was announced here Saturday by Lewis C. Spence, president, following his return from a directors' meeting at Austin.

The organization comprises wholesale druggists, wholesale grocers and other holders of State permits for the wholesaling of wines and liquors. The board named William C. Edwards of Dallas as executive secretary and Upchurch & Hooper of Austin as general counsel. Mr. Spence said, and a headquarters office will be opened in Austin March 2.

Officers of the association conferred in Austin the past week with Judge E. B. Benson, chairman of the State Liquor Board, and Charles Miller, Liquor Administrator, and promised the organization's full and active support and co-operation in the enforcement of the State liquor laws, a pledge and sought an appreciative response from the officials. Mr. Spence said. Application is being made for a State charter as a non-political and non-profit association and all wholesale liquor and wine dealers not included in the charter membership will be invited to join.

Prof. H. E. Wilcox, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, has been made an honorary member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain for his work in Egyptology.

Admiral Byrd Becomes a Ranger

AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—The Texas civil judicial council has recommended passage of a law to permit nomination of candidates for judicial office by convention instead of through the primary election system.

In a report to Governor Allred and the supreme court, the council also recommended establishment of the state bar as an administrative branch of the judicial department and limitation of reversals by the appellate courts to errors of substance and merit with appeals courts to have authority to make certain corrections in record and procedure.

Committees of the council and the state bar association met with justices of the supreme court and confer on revisions of rules in civil case trials and restoration of the rule making power to the supreme court.

M. N. Chrestman of Dallas, chairman, Judge James W. McClendon of Austin and Judge W. P. Leslie of Eastland represented the council. Bar association representatives included President Henry P. Burney of San Antonio, Judge Royall R. Watkins of Dallas, Ireland Graves of Rustin, C. T. Duff of Beaumont, Neal Walsh of El Paso, Angus Wynne of Longview, J. L. Shepherd of Houston, Ike S. Kampman of San Antonio, Judge Allan Montgomery of Wichita Falls and Ernest May of Fort Worth.

"many of which are laboring with overloaded dockets." The system lacks mobility as to district courts, the council stated. "No one can question but that there are sufficient district judges to do the work and to bring all dockets up to date, if proper facilities were made in the law regulating the transfer of judges to the points of need," the report stated. "This is a problem requiring serious thought but it can be solved with the aid of the legislature and co-operation of the executive department."

The council's survey disclosed 58.9 per cent of the cases pending were filed in the ten larger counties while 66.6 per cent were pending in the 19 most populous counties. A total of 54,297 cases was pending in district courts on Jan. 1, 1935, while 47,904 cases were disposed of in 1934.

Statistics showed that 18,784 or 39.5 per cent of the cases disposed of in 1934 were divorce cases, 55.9 per cent of which were filed in the 19 most populous counties.

The council suggested that more strict laws be enacted governing institution of suits under pauper's oaths.

The committee on organization and administration recommended: 1. Increasing membership of the supreme court with appellate courts authorized to call members of inferior courts to assist. 2. That collection of costs be made more certain. 3. That litigants be required to pay a larger proportion of the judicial system. 4. That evasion of payment of court costs be made more difficult. 5. That juries be reduced to six members in all civil cases and in all criminal cases except those in which the death sentence is demanded. 6. Appointment of district clerks by the courts.

PERMIT IS CANCELED AUSTIN, Feb. 29. (AP)—The liquor control board has canceled wine and beer permit issued to the St. Regis bar and the Sazerac Drug company of Dallas. The board said the cancellations were ordered for violations of the liquor law. There were no protests, an official said.

Border patrol inspectors of the San Antonio, Tex., district made 360 arrests, seized 74 automobiles and 31 boats with contraband, took 357 animals and 5,884 quarts of liquors after illegal crossings in 1935.

Rehabilitation Of Convicts to Begin This Week

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 29. (AP)—The state of Texas this week will begin its first scientific effort to rehabilitation of its more than 6,000 convicts through classification and segregation.

Two experienced criminologists and a part time psychiatrist will endeavor to so place the convicts in the state's far flung prison system that the number of repeaters will be materially reduced and the steady increase in the prison population will be checked. The work will be financed with Rockefeller Foundation funds allocated to the University of Texas for sociological experimentation and research. Although many other states have had classification systems in operation for years, the Texas legislature has never seen fit to appropriate money for the purpose.

Frank Loveland Jr., former director of the division of investigation and research of the Massachusetts department of correction, will be in charge of the work. He will be assisted by Carl Basland and a part time psychiatrist not yet named.

The prison system receives an average of about 250 convicts each month, and the classification experts will make a thorough study of each case. The newcomers will be given psychological, vocational and aptitude tests and efforts will be made to give them treatment in keeping with their character, and tasks for which they are fitted. Their case histories will be added to from time to time in the light of the convict's prison behavior.

School Enrollment At Record

The Brownfield schools have reached a record enrollment this year not approached in previous years. A check of the list for the last month shows an enrollment of 1,021 pupils. Of this number, 288 are in high school.

Air mail traffic from Great Britain increased 54 per cent during 1935.

Engineers and farmers are the most "masculine men" a psychological survey at Stanford University showed.

FAT STOCK SHOW AT GROOM TOPS TERRITORIAL WEEK PROGRAM

PREMIUMS TO BE DOUBLED FOR WINNERS

WPA PROJECTS STILL BIG NEWS OVER THIS AREA

Intent upon making the Groom Fat Stock Show, March 6 and 7, the best ever held directors of the show have voted to double last year's premium list.

During the two days, Groom business men will be hosts to hundreds of visitors. A free barbecue will be served at noon on the first day of the show as one of the many attractions of the two days continuous entertainment.

M. P. Leaning, Carson county agent, is superintendent of the show. He reported that there will be nearly 50 calves in the baby beef class this year. There were 36 calves entered here last year.

The show is open to all 4-H club boys and Vocational Agriculture students in Texas. There will be $151 in cash premiums for the calves.

March 1 will mark the tenth year of publication of the Panhandle Herald, with David M. Warren as publisher. Wrote Mr. Warren in The Herald this week:

"During the life of The Herald, which will be 49 years old July 22, few persons have been associated with the publication ten consecutive years. The present owner has been associated with it ten years, and has spent more than six years as its active manager."

March 1, 1926, was a red letter day in the life of this editor, for it marked the day that he ceased to be an employe and became a part owner of a business institution.

"Having spent the eight previous years with the Amarillo Daily News, it was a radical change to leave a position with a regular pay check every week and to depend on one's ability to make enough money to pay all the salaries and debts first—then, if there was any money left, to draw some salary."

Actual work of digging Spearman's $17,500 swimming pool was begun recently. City officials were unable to estimate the length of time it would take to complete the WPA project.

Plans for the swimming pool to be 60 by 120 feet. Construction also includes 14 private dressing rooms for ladies and 14 for men. Each room will be equipped with a shower, and the pool will be built for simple room for special features required by the specification board. The pool will be run under strict rules, each individual swimmer being required to take a shower before entering the pool.

Forty men have started the excavation work on Perryton's $16,000 swimming pool, a WPA project. The pool will be located on the central portion of the east line of the City park, in the south part of Perryton. According to the plans and specifications, drawn of the city park at the time the local Sorosis club started its beautification of the park, several years ago, by planting trees and shrubs, the pool will be located on the site originally designated for the auditorium.

Plans call for a pool proper 60x100 feet, with a depth ranging from 2 1/2 to 9 1/2 feet. Adjoining the main pool on the north will be a wading pool, 15x80, from 12 to 16 inches in depth.

Plans are completed for "open house" to be held at the Perryton CCC camp Sunday afternoon, according to Lt. R. E. Richardson, commandant.

D. E. Astry, camp superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service, has announced that all from his department will aid in showing visitors through the camp that day. The landscaping of the grounds includes rock gardens, four being completed. All walks through the gardens are completed. Caliche has been placed on the walks and driveways. A large white star at the base of the flag adds much to the appearance of the gardens. Later on flowers and trees will be growing.

A two-county demonstration of the various methods of terracing will be held on the farm of A. T. Swepton in the Hillcrest community and Lee Rushing in Fairview community Wednesday, March 11. County Agent D. F. Bredthauer has announced.

Farmers of both Motley county and Floyd county will attend the demonstration which will be under the supervision of M. R. Bentley of College Station. The demonstration is slated to get under way at 9 o'clock the morning of March 11 and continue throughout the day.

Boy Scouts in the Canadian district might well mark the road in Hemphill county leading to the site of the Buffalo Wallow battle ground, so that tourists coming to Texas this summer for the Centennial may see one of the historic landmarks in this territory. Such was the suggestion made by L. L. McColm, Pampa, chairman of the area court of honor, during the court of honor held at city hall for the Higgins and Canadian Boy Scouts in the Canadian district.

H. V. Hennen has submitted his resignation as secretary of the Herford Chamber of Commerce, to become effective March 1.

Mr. Hennen resigned, he announced, in order to make the race for the office of county judge and ex-officio county school superintendent. However, he said he would continue to work with the Chamber of Commerce until his place is filled and the new secretary broken in on the work.

Emergency funds for listing wheat land to protect the crop from wind erosion began flowing into Deaf Smith last week. No estimate of the amount received was available, but numerous farmers were known to have received grants on applications filed the week before.

The grants consisted of 15 cents an acre for solid listing and five cents an acre for strip listing. Not more than 50 per cent of the land could be solid listed, according to the applications. Only land on which wheat was growing and was subject to erosion was cared for by the grant, the Rural Resettlement Division asserting that its only aim was to protect as much of the crop as possible.

Candidates for the 1936 Wellington high school football team have started a rigid spring training schedule in preparation for the grid season next fall. Twenty-eight boys went out for the first season, and seven of the number were lettermen on the team last season.

Coach Joe Coleman reported that most of the boys were in good physical condition.

A. L. Sullivan, rural supervisor, established an office last week in the basement of the Roberts county courthouse. Under the supervision of the Dallas office of the Rural Resettlement Administration, the Miami office will be headquarters for the RRA activities in Roberts, Gray, and Hemphill counties. Mr. Sullivan is assisted by Miss Lois Tubb, of Canadian.

There are about 70 completed and pending applications in these three counties at this time. Hemphill has 54, Gray 12 and Roberts four. More applications are being taken daily.

Official membership in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce organization has been made by the Jaycees of Borger.

Papers officially signifying participation in the national body were signed at a special meeting honoring representatives of the United States organization and the Texas president, Victor Bouldin.

A number of Borger members are planning attendance at the regional convention to be held March 12 and 13 at Topeka.

The beginning of a museum is now on exhibit in the library room in the basement of the administration building of Clarendon college. The time of opening is 10 a. m. Monday.

The hundreds who will be there Monday for the Independence day celebration will have the first opportunity of seeing the exhibit. There is no admission charge.

This exhibit was begun by the ladies of the Les Beaux Arts club, in which they have been assisted by members of the other ladies clubs of Clarendon. A number of ladies as individuals helped with the idea of starting a museum movement here that will be a credit to any section.

Donley county school children will celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence of Texas at Old Washington on the Brazos river Monday. The rural school program of song will start promptly at 10:30 at the First Methodist church in Clarendon. The high school program of music will start at the same hour at the Clarendon Junior college. Immediately after these programs at 12:15 the school children, officials and patrons will parade through down town Clarendon.

The school exhibits, which will be found in the display windows of Clarendon stores, will portray to the public the history of Texas in miniature from the early Texas Indians through the present administration of Governor Jimmie Allred. The history of the twenty largest cities in Texas may be studied. The history of the cowboy in West Texas may be secured by viewing the different exhibits of the ranches of the Panhandle. The children will be dressed as cowboys to carry out the theme "Donley County the Cowboy county of Texas For the Centennial."

Recently the suit brought by John A. Cook, district attorney of the 96th judicial district of Titus county, who represented the State of Texas, Plaintiffs, against the state highway department, Security Trust company, Lipscomb county, and 21 other counties of the State of Texas involving $2,188,000 in bonds, was called for hearing, Precinct No. 4 of Lipscomb county was made partly defendant in this case, involving $74,000 in bonds. The district attorney of Titus county, brought the suit to recover the bonds from the counties, and attacked the constitutionality of the Bond Assumption law, which if correct would mean that Precinct No. 4, Lipscomb county, would lose $74,000 in bonds held by it and that the other 21 counties in the suit would lose more than $2,000,000 in bonds and further that the entire bond assumption law of the State of Texas where the State has assumed the bonded indebtedness of all amounts owed by the counties throughout the state for the construction of designated highways would be repudiated and that the local tax payers would necessarily have to pay for the construction of all these roads.

North Carolina took no part in two presidential elections, the first term of George Washington as president of the United States and of Jefferson Davis as President of the Confederate states.

COMEDIAN HAS ROLE OF MILKMAN IN THIS FILM

A hurricane of laughter blew through town yesterday with the opening of Harold Lloyd's new Paramount farce, "The Milky Way," at La Nora theater.

Some time during his life every man dreams of doing the wild things that Lloyd does in this comedy. Every woman, too, has hoped that the man of her choice would prove a hero in a crisis when a sully, clever with his dukes, starts out to make the object of her affections the object of his objections.

Lloyd is seen as a humorless, shy, ineffectual boob of a milkman whose only aim in life is to deliver more milk bottles to more customers. When a drunken fight champion takes a swing at the milkman, an adept at ducking, and knocks himself out (how it happens is the funniest thing that has been seen in many a moon), the milk-bottle boy takes the credit for the victory and is launched as a contender for the middleweight championship.

There is not a single moment in the picture without its generous quota of laughs. The gags flash past the screen like comets. Once the milkman wins confidence in himself, he challenges any fighter to hit him, and keeps ducking with both hands in his pockets.

Lloyd, sidesteps, paws with his feet, pedals and pirouettes, whips and darts hither and yon, as though he were a stage dancer. Adolphe Menjou does a particularly fine piece of acting as the fighter promoter who takes the milkman in hand, and makes a pugilist-dancer out of him. William Gargan and Lionel Stander, as drunken fighting bucks, try their utmost to land hefty rights and lefts on the prize fighter of the afternoon. Verree Teasdale, Helen Mack and Dorothy Wilson give good performances.

NEW DISH FROM LEFT-OVERS MAY BE BETTER THAN FIRST

Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women T. S. C. W. DENTON, Feb. 29.—Every practical housekeeper sometimes opens her refrigerator to an array of left-overs too good to throw away and yet not tempting enough to be served.

Leftover HAM: Fried sandwich—chop ham fine. Add a little pickle and moisten with mayonnaise. Spread between thin slices of bread. Mix one beaten egg with 1-2 cup milk. Dip sandwiches in it and dry on both sides.

Leftover CHICKEN: Creamed chicken—Cut chicken in small pieces. Mix 1-2 cups with 1 cup white sauce. Serve hot on toast.

Leftover VEGETABLES: Soups—Cook vegetables with small amount of water. Press through a sieve and add an equal quantity of thin white sauce. Heat and season to taste.

Macaroni and cheese: 2 T butter, 1 small onion, chopped; 1-4 cup green pepper, chopped; 1 t salt; 2 cups cooked tomatoes; 1-2 cups cooked corn; 1 cup boiled rice; 1-8 t pepper. Melt butter, add onion and green pepper and cook until onion is brown. Add tomatoes, corn, rice, salt, and pepper. Mix well and heat. Any cooked vegetables such as peas, string beans, lima beans, or carrots may be used instead of corn.

Remember the Alamo' Rings as Centennial Opens

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 29. (AP)—The defense of the Alamo and other valorous deeds of pioneer Texans will be commemorated at a centennial celebration beginning March 2 and culminating in a world's fair at Dallas this summer.

Honor Houston Four days later, the state will honor the 181 defenders of the Alamo, massive mansion-fortress at San Antonio, who died to the last man after an 11-day siege by a Mexican army.

Years later, when Texas seceded from the union to join the confederacy, Houston was governor. He resigned, however rather than to fight against the United States.

Baptists Plan Ceremony The day before, on Sunday, March 1, Baptists of Texas have asked members of the denomination all over the nation to join in a religious celebration of Houston's birthday.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS Roberts Addition. S. D. Dodd, pastor. Sunday school, 10 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. Children's service, 6 p. m.; Mrs. S. D. Dodd, teacher. Preaching, 7 p. m. Prayer service Wednesday evening at 7. Young people's service Friday evening.

LOCAL THEATER PROGRAMS The Pampa theater program for this week follows: LA NORA THEATER. Today, Monday and Tuesday, Harold Lloyd and Adolphe Menjou in "The Milky Way."

REX THEATER. Today, Monday and Tuesday, Larry Crabbe and Katherine DeMille in "Drift Fence." Wednesday and Thursday, Patricia Ellis and Warren Hull in "Freshman Love." Friday and Saturday, Ken Maynard in "Lawless Rider."

STATE THEATER. Today and Monday, Dick Powell and Marion Davies in "Page Miss Glory." Tuesday and Wednesday, Carole Lombard in "Hands Across the Table." Thursday, Ann Harding and Herbert Marshall in "The Flame Within." Friday and Saturday, Zane Grey's "Wanderers of Waste Land."

Each Tonga islander is taxed $10 a year to provide medical and dental care for himself and family.

Revival Speaker

Clarence C. Morgan, minister of the Church of Christ at Lamesa, will begin a revival at Central Church of Christ here tomorrow evening. Services are to be conducted at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily at the church, 500 N. Somerville. Duration of the revival will depend upon interest shown. It was announced by Paul A. Thompson, minister, who invited the public to hear the visiting speaker and recommended him as successful pastor and evangelist.

Supper Adds $75 To School Funds

A record crowd attended the benefit supper sponsored by Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association at the school Friday evening, and added $75.50 to the fund for school band uniforms and a motion picture machine.
