

PANHANDLE OIL INCREASE IS ASKED

We like to window shop around Christmas time...

Personally, we come from the old school that clings to the idea that Christmas just isn't Christmas if you can't have a Christmas tree in the living room...

Then, too, about this time every year we meet up with someone who—and all due respect to their opinion in the matter—believes that it is not right to make little children believe in Santa Claus...

He says it is wrong to imbue a child's mind with the Santa Claus myth and then shake his faith a few years later by breaking the news that there is no Santa Claus...

We shall call to the attention of this well-meaning person the old, old editorial that appeared in the New York Sun early in the century, titled "Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus..."

FLASH! "Dear Folk: I got your wireless message asking what I was doing for Christmas..."

There you are folks... a letter direct from Old Santa Claus, himself, telling you what HE wants for Christmas...

Speaking of Christmas and window shopping... Another tradition has been shattered...

And while we are on the subject of holidays and such... New York night clubs are announcing a "slight increase in prices for the night..."

In the Christmas vein: "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men..."

We are convinced now more than ever that you can't depend on the Panhandle weatherman for a nickel's worth...

When we get that column Wednesday afternoon everything was jake...

Such is the life of a fellow who is foolish enough to attempt to make weather references 24 hours in advance of publication...

Anyway, how did you like all that snow and Yuletide atmosphere? ... Anyhow, the sun is back today.

It doesn't pay to be a yes man. An Indian is prosecuting his neighbor for failing to return a lawn mower, snow shovel, two chairs, two tubs, a spade, and a trap.

Snow Falls On Plains As Cold Wave Moves In

The first appreciable snowfall of winter followed a fog into the Panhandle of Texas last night and gave North Plains folk a sample of Christmas weather.

The snow began falling late yesterday afternoon and, blown in on the north wind, by 8 p. m. had blanketed the ground, caused streets to be slippery, and slowed traffic down to a crawl.

The Daily NEWS snowfall gauge showed that .02 inch of snow fell in Pampa in a three-hour period.

The lowest temperature in the past 24 hours was 24 degrees at 8 o'clock today. Last night, the lowest figure here was 27.

But the sun came out again today, melted the snow and by noon had pushed the thermometer back up to 40 degrees.

Despite the hazardous conditions of streets and highways last night and this morning, no major traffic accidents were reported to police.

A few bent fenders and some narrow escapes from crashes, due to slippery pavements, were all that police had to report today.

Last night's snowfall and cold were general over the North Plains. A sharp cold wave rushed through Texas toward the Gulf coast today, bringing light snow flurries to the Panhandle plains and causing temperatures to drop sharply as it advanced.

Sub-freezing weather was general over Northwest Texas last night. Amarillo and Lubbock reported low readings of 26. A mercury was down to 27 at Borger and 35 at San Angelo. Dallas recorded 40, Abilene 36.

The temperature started rising rapidly in the Panhandle this morning as the northern rushed deeper into the state.

Amarillo reported up to half an inch of snow which did not extend as far south as Lubbock. The sky was clear in that part of the state.

Borger said the norther hit here late yesterday, dropping the temperature to freezing overnight and on down to 27 this morning.

The forecast for East Texas was colder weather in the south and east portions tonight, while west Texas was in line for lower temperatures in the southwest portion. Rising temperatures were expected in the northern part of the state.

Prizes in each district will be $10, $5, and $2.50 with a grand prize of $20 for the best decorated home in the city.

The judges will grade the decorations on originality, theme and appearance from the street.

SANTA FE BOX IS OVERLOADED

Don't overload the west mail box on the Santa Fe station platform, Postmaster C. H. Walker today begged Pampanos. Mail will be dispatched from the postoffice up until 9 p. m. every night, the postmaster says.

During the past week, the box at the station has been jammed full of letters and some placed on top. Many of those left on the box have blown away, postal officials have learned.

Pampanos have also been guilty of placing letters for both east and west plains in the box instead of walking to the east end of the platform when it became necessary to mail at the station. This practice causes inconvenience to the train mailmen and also delay in arrival of the mail at its destination.

"Use the postoffice as your mailing headquarters up to 9 o'clock at night," Postmaster Walker urged. Windows at the local office will remain open until 6 o'clock tomorrow evening so that Pampanos can mail letters and parcels and secure stamps. The office customarily closes at 1 p. m. on Saturday.

Mail early, is the plea of postal officials.

10,000-BARREL HIKE SOUGHT BY OPERATORS

AUSTIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Mines today estimated demand for Texas oil in January at 1,176,000 barrels daily. Its estimate for December was 1,145,200 barrels.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad commission, read the estimate at the monthly statewide oil and gas production hearing at which evidence on which to base an allowable for January was received.

Asserting that actual production for several months had exceeded the bureau's estimates of market demand and refineries had been drawing on storage to meet their needs, Thompson commented it looked as if "democratic prosperity was greater than the bureau's figures."

E. V. Cottingham, commission engineer, reported that in the last 30 days average bottomhole pressure in the big East Texas field decreased 4.59 pounds per square inch, or 34 pounds for each 1,000,000 barrels of oil produced. He said the drop was "not excessive." Daily average production for the period was 443,873 barrels.

The commission released figures purporting to show the total crude stored in Texas Nov. 1 was 102,490,582 barrels, of which due to amounts in pipelines, lease working tanks and otherwise not useable, only 78,881,921 barrels was available for refineries. This, a statement said, would supply refineries with oil for only 81 days.

"Since January, 1936," it said, "Monthly imports have shown an increase of 1,300,000 barrels, exports have increased 5,400,000 barrels, runs to stills increased 2,400,000, and total storage has decreased 5,500,000."

Lake-Building Campaign On Plains To Be Urged

Lake-building in the Panhandle will be urged at a meeting in Amarillo tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when representatives of cities in the Panhandle and a portion of New Mexico meet to discuss water conservation.

Many Pampa residents, interested in a lake in this area, will attend the meeting. Yesterday a nominating committee was appointed to name officers and directors for a permanent organization.

The nominating committee is composed of W. A. Warren, Canyon; W. L. Helton, Canadian; W. H. Patrick, Clarendon; Carl Hinton, Amarillo; Mel Stewart, Hereford; K. C. Lea, Clovis, and Wilson Cowan, Dalhart. It will be the duty of this committee to nominate officers and directors for a permanent organization.

A special committee, headed by John McCarty, was appointed at the initial meeting of enthusiasts for a region-wide water conservation and flood control program on Dec. 8. Arrangements for Saturday's meeting were made by this group. Serving with McCarty are H. V. Hennen, Hereford; Noel McDade, Dumas; B. C. McCasland, Tulla; J. S. Wynne, Pampa, and Helton, Cowan and Lea. Members of this committee will meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Amarillo hotel, with the general session opening an hour later. Originally the meeting was slated for Saturday afternoon, but due to many requests for a change in time to allow delegates to attend the Amarillo-Port Worth football game, the affair was moved into the morning hours.

STRONG PERRYTON BASKETBALL TEAM WILL PLAY HARVESTERS TONIGHT

VISITORS ARE FAVORED OVER PAMPA QUINT

HARVESTERS WILLING BUT KNOW LITTLE ABOUT GAME

Coach Odus Mitchell sent his Harvester basketball team through grueling three-hour practice yesterday afternoon in basketball fundamentals, in preparation for the game tonight with Perryton's unbeaten Rangers at the high school gym. The game will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Stinging from the defeat inflicted by White Deer's Bucks Wednesday night, the Harvesters practiced with a will. Coach Mitchell's instruction yesterday indicated that the boys were ignorant of the basic principles of basketball offense and defense.

Yesterday, he took time off to teach the four new members of the team how to pivot, elude guards, hold position, and other necessary details of play that proved disastrous Wednesday night. Albert Ayr, only member of the last spring's championship team, hopes that he will be "on" tonight. In the Wednesday evening debacle, he missed enough long shots, short shots and threw the ball away enough times to win the game.

The Rangers last week won their own invitation tournament. One of the teams they swamped was Condon's which smothered White Deer. Perryton will be striving for its first victory in three years over the Harvesters, and the dope favors the Rangers.

GAMES TO BE HEARD OVER CITY STATION

Semi-final games in the Texas Inter-scholastic League football championship, to be played Saturday at Amarillo and Kerrville at 2 o'clock, will be broadcast from the two cities over the largest intra-state hook-up ever attempted. Again as last Saturday, when the quarter-finals, played in four widely separated cities, were broadcast all over the state, Magnolia Petroleum company will be the sponsor, and has planned a hook-up of 15 stations that will bring the play-by-play report of the games to interested listeners in every section. The entire state will be covered, from Amarillo to Houston, and from Wichita Falls to Weslaco.

The clash between the two amazingly powerful North Texas teams, the North Side, Fort Worth Steers and the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, will be heard by listeners all over the state through the following stations: KPDM, PAMPA, KGNC, Amarillo; KTAT, Fort Worth and KFJZ, Fort Worth; KRLD, Dallas; KGKL, San Angelo; KGO, Wichita Falls; KPYO, Lubbock; KRBC, Abilene; KRTSA, San Antonio; KNOW, Austin, and KTRH, Houston.

While Kerrville's Tivy High Antlers and Port Arthur's Yellow Jackets, representing South Texas' best, battle at Kerrville, fans may follow the game through WACO, Waco; KPFI, Corpus Christi and KRGV, Weslaco.

When the winners of these two games play the final game for the state championship next week, Magnolia will broadcast the game for the entire state to hear.

Kearns Sets Out To Make Detroit Fighting Center

DETROIT, Dec. 18 (AP)—Jack (Doc) Kearns, full of talk of champions and big gates, sought the serum today that would revive Detroit as a fight town and make it a center of the national boxing business.

The former manager of Jack Dempsey, expounding a policy of "using all champions," has turned promoter in his own right—the first time in his many turbulent years in the game.

With the announced purpose of "outdriving any other city," Kearns has set up shop with James D. Norris, owner of Olympia Stadium, on an agreement whereby he will stage shows in the stadium.

As a fight town since pre-depression days, Detroit has lost caste in that respect despite its claim on the bomber Joe Louis, a home town.

Kearns said he will bargain for Louis to meet the winner of next June's heavyweight championship fight between champion Jimmy Braddock and Max Schmeling.

He said he will offer $50,000 for a third fight between Barney Ross, welterweight king, and Jimmy McLarin.

A Louis-Schmeling fight in the summer—Detroit'd outdrive any other city in the world," he said. "We'll use all champions here. In fact, I want to get the next heavyweight champion."

DALLAS, Dec. 18. (P)—Jack Chevigny, retiring as head football coach and athletic director of the University of Texas, told a banquet crowd at Nacogdoches "the situation created the past grid season by accusations the Longhorns played 'dirty' football needs no defense."

Youthful Chevigny, backed up by his captain, Clint Small, played Longhorn critics with fiery words.

"Any malicious enemy who expects to mislead a team and the fans is going to pay it back a thousand times over," quoth Chevigny.

He continued "Our performance on the football field the past season is our best defense."

Small reminded the gathering "If we had not respected Jack Chevigny and his principles, we would never have petitioned the university athletic council to keep him as athletic director and coach." Small said "Football is a hard, rough game, with lots of bodily contact, and we played the game hard and clean all season long."

Lettermen of the Texas conference, picking their annual mythical all-conference team, chose Wedeman (Howard Payne) and Dunlap (McMurry), ends; Cole (Trinity) and Stockton (McMurry), tackles; Fletcher (Howard Payne) and Simmons (Southwestern), guards; Harper (Austin college), center; Howard (Daniel Baker) quarterback; Anthony (McMurry) and Harris (Austin), halfbacks and Pruitt (Austin) fullback.

Ray (Buzz) Buivid, the Marquette all-America halfback who faces Sammy Bough of Texas Christian in the Dallas Cotton Bowl game New Year's day, is a senior in the college of business administration who has petitioned the university athletic council to keep him as athletic director and coach.

Supt. CRYER IS SPEAKER AT GRID BANQUET

McLEAN, Dec. 18.—Supt. C. A. Cryer of the McLean schools performed a Herculean task last night when he made two speeches at a banquet honoring the McLean Tiger football squad, their fathers and a group of fans. More than 140 attended the dinner in the basement of the First Presbyterian church.

W. J. Wharton acted as toastmaster. Snow, which made driving dangerous, kept Coach Blair Cherry of the Amarillo Sandies from attending and making the address of the evening. Supt. Cryer rose to the occasion and spoke for 45 minutes.

Previously, Supt. Cryer had made his own speech of welcome to the present and his congratulations to the players.

Dr. B. B. Batson represented the fans on the floor. Orville Williams and Captain Roy Laswell spoke for the Tigers.

Coach Bill Allen, after speaking highly of his 1936 squad and predicting another great team for next year, introduced the following boys eligible for letters:

Captain Laswell, Dan Hiel, George Watson, Junior Braxton, Joe Billy Bogan, Ray Humphries, "Windy" Finley, "Dub" Smith, Clyde Dwight, D. V. Nicholson, Merle Bogan, Frank Wingo, Harry Barnes, Albert Overton, Ferris Hess and Orville Williams.

Only five of the lettermen will be lost from the squad next year. They will be Laswell, Finley, Smith, Dwight and Williams.

Lettermen last night named C. V. Nicholson, end, and Junior Braxton, halfback, co-captains of the 1937 team.

Coach Allen announced that the two McLean basketball teams would play in Shamrock on Friday night.

PLAQUES OF IMMORTALS IN BASEBALL TO BE INSTALLED

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—While preparations are under way to install plaques of the players first selected as baseball's immortals in the diamond hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., baseball writers throughout the country are facing the duty of selecting another group of stars to be included.

They had little difficulty on the first ballot last year picking Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Honus Wagner, Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson. The bronze plaques for these five, each showing the player's head in relief and giving a terse summary of his achievements, were turned over yesterday to Alex Deland, secretary of the Cooperstown memorial committee.

A brief survey of the long list of half-forgotten or entirely obscure names in the record books reveals what a tough job is ahead.

The members of the baseball writers' board are now busy selecting ten "immortals" no longer active who have played since 1900. A 75 per cent vote is required for selection.

HOUSTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Rice Owls and the Drake Bulldogs were all square today in their two-game basketball series as a result of a 39 to 26 Rice victory last night. Surpassed in goal shooting from the floor, the Owls dropped 14 free shots to clinch the verdict.

They bring up the question of whether they should be included now or left for another year, which will take in the earlier period of baseball. Out of some 3,000 or 4,000 names, perhaps 50 stand out from the pages of the books as stars whose performances are well known even to those who never saw them play. Some of these have been active so recently that it's impossible to get the perspective of time on their performance.

Rogers Hornsby, for example, appears to be a candidate for selection and probably will be disqualified on the ground that he still is "active." Yet it seems certain he will be recognized as one of the great hitters of all time.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Five persons died at dawn today in a west side rooming house fire. Four were burned to death inside the four-story brownstone building on west 73rd-st. and one man jumped to his death from a third-floor window when the fire cut off his escape.

The man who jumped to his death was August Frank, 43. The screams of the roomers aroused Chester Borah, the house detective of the Riverside Plaza hotel, three doors away, and he turned in an alarm.

Four radio car policemen, the first to arrive, went as far up in the burning building as the third floor, then were driven back, unable to locate all occupants of the blazing structure.

The fire started from an undetermined cause in the room of William Hoffman, third floor rear. Hoffman, awakened by the flames, reached the street safely.

Four perished on the top floor when overcome by smoke. They were Elinor Puffield, 32, and her eight weeks old son Henry, Jr., Nancy Green, 25, a sales clerk and her sister Margaret, a bookkeeper.

Knockout of LOUIS CALLED BIGGEST UPSET

MAJOR SHOCKS ALSO PROVIDED BY FOOTBALL

(Note: this is the fifth of a series of stories analyzing results of the sixth annual Associated Press Press sports poll.... It covers replies to the query: "What were the most surprising results in 1936 competition?")

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—The biggest shock of the year, in any sport, to America's newspaper commentators, was the knockout of Joe Louis by the comeback hero of 1936, Max Schmeling.

No less surprised than was the Brown Bomber himself when he absorbed the first of a succession of lethal right-hand punches, the experts rated Joe's first and only fistic setback well beyond any other "dope spilling" episode in the year's athletic roundup.

College football, as usual, furnished a wider range of surprising results than any other sport, topped by Minnesota's first defeat in four years, but observers have become hardened to gridiron upsets.

Northwestern's triumph over the mighty Gophers, however, ranked only a few points above Duquesne's conquest of Pittsburgh in the Associated Press poll.

Major league baseball's biggest surprise was the surge of the New York Giants from second division depths in July to pennant heights in September.

Tulsa's triumph of the poll, showing the year's major sports surprises: 1. Knockout of Joe Louis by Max Schmeling—111. 2. Football defeat of Minnesota by Northwestern—58. 3. Football defeat of Pittsburgh by Duquesne—54. 4. National league pennant victory by New York Giants—38. 5. Football victory of N. Y. U. over Fordham—35. 6. Tony Manero's victory in U. S. open air championship—29. 7. Alice Marble's triumph over Helen Jacobs for U. S. tennis title. 8. Football defeat of Duquesne by West Virginia Wesleyan—12. 9 and 10. Argentina's polo victory over the United States and Bold Venture's victory over Brevity in the Kentucky Derby—8.

Scattered points: Six each for Washington's rowing sweep of intercollegiate regatta and Yale's uphill football win over Princeton; five each for Harvard's football tie with Princeton and American tennis showing by White Sox; four each for collapse of Boston Red Sox in American league and good showing by American girl swimmers in the Olympics, despite loss of Eleanor Holm Jarrett.

GUERRILLAS, COACHES, PARENTS ENJOY TURKEY AND TRIMMINGS

MEMBERS OF PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL GUERRILLA FOOTBALL TEAM WERE NOT FORGOTTEN THIS YEAR. LAST NIGHT MOTHERS ENTERTAINED THEIR SONS AND HUSBANDS WITH A TURKEY DINNER IN THE HIGH SCHOOL CAFETERIA. ROY LEE JONES, HARVESTER TACKLE, ACTED AS TOASTMASTER.

TURKEY AND dressing, potatoes, cranberry sauce, salad, peas, three kinds of relish and cherry pie and ice cream vanished with unbelievable rapidity as the future Harvesters "have too" and "dug in."

"I didn't know that bunch of boys had such initiative until I saw them eat," declared Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters. "After watching them eat, I figure we will have a pretty fair ball club next fall," he said.

J. C. Prejean, Harvester line coach, spoke particularly to the mothers, telling them that if their boys eat like that during the winter, his line should be composed of giants next season.

Called on for a speech at a Montreal baseball meeting, the rabbit delivered—in French—Arthur Donovan, the New York referee, got $500 plus expenses for less than two minutes' work in the Louis-Simms fight.

EDDIE COLLINS' SON, PAUL, WILL BE ORDAINED AN EPISCOPAL MINISTER AT HAYS, KAS., SUNDAY.

At a banquet for Ace Parker at Portsmouth, Va., the other night, a speaker from Norfolk said: "It is a pleasure for me to participate in this testimonial. Over in Norfolk we seldom have an opportunity to do anything like this. We send out a letter to the University of Virginia and never hear from them again...."

When the Brooklyn Football Dodgers shelled the St. Louis Terriers 100 to 0, the Oklahoma City Oklahoman captioned the story: "And please don't ask us who pitched."

One reason the Schmeling-Bradock fight will not go to Berlin is because Mike Jacobs, one of the promoters, will never consent. Mike still is trying to get some of the Louis-Schmeling fight film money out of Germany. "And," asks Mike (who is not Arvan) "how do I know they'd let me into the country to promote the bout." Johnny Ricko says he spotted Joe Louis' weakness Monday night. Oh yeah?.... Andy Gustafson, Dartmouth backfield star, says Clint Frank of Yale is the finest back he's seen in ten years.

Jack Chevigny's job at Texas may go to Blair Cherry, Amarillo High coach. Kansas also is flirting with Cherry.... Your agent now signs off for a vacation. See you next year. Git along little dogie.

SQUARE IN SERIES HOUSTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Rice Owls and the Drake Bulldogs were all square today in their two-game basketball series as a result of a 39 to 26 Rice victory last night. Surpassed in goal shooting from the floor, the Owls dropped 14 free shots to clinch the verdict.

HOUSTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Rice Owls and the Drake Bulldogs were all square today in their two-game basketball series as a result of a 39 to 26 Rice victory last night. Surpassed in goal shooting from the floor, the Owls dropped 14 free shots to clinch the verdict.

They bring up the question of whether they should be included now or left for another year, which will take in the earlier period of baseball. Out of some 3,000 or 4,000 names, perhaps 50 stand out from the pages of the books as stars whose performances are well known even to those who never saw them play. Some of these have been active so recently that it's impossible to get the perspective of time on their performance.

Rogers Hornsby, for example, appears to be a candidate for selection and probably will be disqualified on the ground that he still is "active." Yet it seems certain he will be recognized as one of the great hitters of all time.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Five persons died at dawn today in a west side rooming house fire. Four were burned to death inside the four-story brownstone building on west 73rd-st. and one man jumped to his death from a third-floor window when the fire cut off his escape.

The man who jumped to his death was August Frank, 43. The screams of the roomers aroused Chester Borah, the house detective of the Riverside Plaza hotel, three doors away, and he turned in an alarm.

Four radio car policemen, the first to arrive, went as far up in the burning building as the third floor, then were driven back, unable to locate all occupants of the blazing structure.

The fire started from an undetermined cause in the room of William Hoffman, third floor rear. Hoffman, awakened by the flames, reached the street safely.

Four perished on the top floor when overcome by smoke. They were Elinor Puffield, 32, and her eight weeks old son Henry, Jr., Nancy Green, 25, a sales clerk and her sister Margaret, a bookkeeper.

15,000 Expected To Watch Sandies Play On Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Dec. 18 (AP)—Two games expected to be jammed with sensations will throw the Texas Inter-scholastic league football race into its final round Saturday.

On widely-separated gridirons Amarillo's mighty Golden Sandstorm meets the North Side (Fort Worth) defensive wonders and Kerrville's Ironmen clash with the powerful Port Arthur Yellow Jackets.

A crowd of 15,000 is due at Amarillo as the Sandies face a rugged, fighting team that has held eleven opponents to thirteen points.

Five thousand are expected to jam the stadium at Kerrville.

An Amarillo victory is freely predicted but the critics place the Antler-Jacket battle in the category of a tossup with Port Arthur carrying a slight edge—if any—due to more reserve power.

Three of the teams are undefeated and untied and the other has lost but one game—that to the great Amarillo Sandies.

North Side and Kerrville are experiencing their first unblemished season. It's old stuff for the Golden Sandies, Port Arthur seldom loses one. The Yellow Jackets have a record in the past four seasons of winning 41, losing four and tying two.

Prominent all-state contenders will be seen in action in all four games, featuring Wildhorse Myles of Amarillo, Marion Pugh of North Side, Roy Holbrook of Kerrville and Marland Jeffrey of Port Arthur.

BEAUPRE WHIPS BURMAN.

DALLAS, Dec. 18 (P)—Tom Beaupre, Dallas butcher boy, was a notch higher on the heavyweight fistic ladder today as a result of a unanimous 10-round decision last night over Clarence (Red) Burman of New York. Burman, protégé of Jack Dempsey, weighed 182½, Beaupre 195.

TROJANS BEAT MUSTANGS

DALLAS, Dec. 18 (P)—The touring basketball team of the University of Southern California rallied in the final minute last night to defeat Southern Methodist, 33 to 30. After the Mustangs scored the first three points the lead alternated frequently but neither team held an advantage of more than two points until the last minute. Clem Ruh, Trojan substitute, paced the winners with 14 points.

About 250,000 Jews and non-Aryans still live in Berlin despite the drive of Nazis to "Aryanize the German capital completely."

FORMER KING PERMITS PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN

ENZESFELD, Austria, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor terminated his voluntary seclusion today to pose for a battery of photographers on the grounds of Baron Eugene de Rothschild's Austrian castle.

Hatless and in a serious mood, the former British ruler walked alone to the courtyard where 17 cameramen awaited him. He appeared fatigued.

"Gentlemen, how do you want me?" he greeted the photographers. "Shall I sit or stand?"

A flood of replies and subsequent questions followed his remarks as the business of making pictures of the abdicated monarch began.

Three minutes later the photographers, clutching their plates, began a 500-yard sprint to automobiles and motorcycles to carry them the 23 miles to Vienna.

The Duke replied to only one direct statement made by a British photographer who said: "We wish your highness every happiness."

"I wish you luck also," the British prince responded. "I am sorry. The activities of the former king were not disclosed prior to his appearance before the cameramen."

BLACK CAT
CHERAW, S. C., Dec. 18 (AP)—The superstitious had a name for it, but the doctor called it heart failure. John Arthur McManus was running in his yard when a black cat came from under the house and attempted to cross his path. McManus stopped to kick at the cat. Then he dropped dead.

GIFTS

"The gift derives its value from the rank of the giver," someone wrote long ago—a falsehood. "In giving," another old pronouncement goes, "a man receives more than he gives and the more in proportion to the value of the thing given;" and that, while true in so far as it repeats the ancient saying that 'tis more blessed to give than to receive, is, in its remainder, transparently unworthy. For was there not the widow who cast into the treasury at the temple at Jerusalem more than all they that were casting into the treasury a farthing—all her living? By the teaching accounted Divine, the teaching commemorated and acclaimed on Christmas Day, hers was the greatest gift of all.

Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "The gift, to be true, must be the flowing of the giver unto me, correspondent to my flowing unto him." That is said to reach the heights of clean thinking. "For the gift without the giver is bare."

Quite obviously, if profit there may also be loss if minds a bit too sharp pursue thought upon gifts and giving too eagerly. The ancient error of looking the gift-horse in the mouth is one pitfall. Doubtless gift-givers did that to see how old the horses were and why the givers were giving them away. All the analyses of giving demand, as a duty, discreet restraint.

Away with the thought, too, that Christmas giving is a game of trading blind. Gifts and giving have been a simulant of thought among the poets and the thinkers since the beginning of literature. A modern writer who appropriates philosophy as his particular dish declares that a death in the family is a "provocation to philosophy." Little less than that is a gift, whether from a member of the family or from someone else.

THE BENEVOLENT SEASON

During the Christmas season, citizens of Pampa are called on to give generously to charity.

The Christmas spirit which prompts such generous activities is said to bring more happiness to the giver than to those who receive. But this does not mean that gifts should be planned to please the giver with little reference to the needs and hopes of the beneficiary.

Children look to their parents first for gifts at Christmas. For this reason it is usually best to give to needy children through their parents. It is well to remember that families in need on Christmas are likely to be in more dire need on other days of the year. For these families the gift that would be more appreciated and beneficial would be employment for the breadwinners, medical care for the sick and institutional care for those needing it.

A Christmas dinner is always a source of cheer, but if it is not backed up by some more permanent relief or effort at rehabilitation it proves to be short-lived comfort.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Your correspondent covered the convention of the National Restaurant Association in Washington—after a fashion.

The scheduled speech of Mr. John E. Ebersole on "New Ideas for the Restaurateur" sounded as if it might have possibilities. Mr. Ebersole had about completed a 15,000-mile trailer trip on which the Ebersole family ate its way around the country, picking up new ideas in other people's restaurants, Mr. Ebersole himself being proprietor of a tea-room in New York state.

Mr. Ebersole, who tends toward resembling the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, told about the lady out in Des Moines who gives away a free movie ticket with every dollar dinner and does a huge business. And about the restaurant in Minnesota which is built over a trout stream.

He told how he himself provided special chairs, bibs and menus for children, and "topped it off with a small gift for each one who eats his vegetables." He also provides a bowl of cheese and crackers free for customers. This costs Mr. Ebersole only four-tenths of a cent per person, but makes him seem a big-hearted fellow indeed.

There were other new ideas, but the big one was revealed when Mr. Ebersole finished his speech and announced that he had a new kind of food for his audience to try.

A boy brought a tray of canapes which had been prepared by the chef. About 45 gents leaped forward—"climbed all over each other," Mr. Ebersole remarked later with grim satisfaction—and began to munch.

"I have an announcement to make," Mr. Ebersole boomed at that point. "You are all eating rattlesnake meat!" Reactions were varied, but instantaneous. Some spat that which was in their mouths right out on the floor. Others tried, but found they were too late. A very few remained calm and agreed it tasted something like dark chicken meat. A restaurant man from Baltimore became ill and had to be put to bed for a couple of hours.

Meanwhile, it was being bruited about that the NRA banquet would be the "finest meal ever served." Chef Nicholas Marchitelli of the Mayflower, who prepared it, has fed most of our presidents and other statesmen in the last few years.

The restaurateurs successively ate a couple of honey-dew melons and hot-house grapes topped with zabaglione; crabflake gumbo soup Louisianaise—made of crab bouillon and white meat, rice, celery, tomatoes, okra, white wine and spices; then there was broiled heart of filet mignon on Smithfield ham with bordelaise sauce (smother and slightly brown chopped shallots in butter, add a good burgundy wine, add a brown sauce made with marrow bone, add chopped marrow, chives, salt, red pepper and fresh-ground black pepper); and crepes provencale (mushrooms in a sauce of olive oil, chives, shallots and bread crumbs); new peas in sweet butter, Idaho potatoes O'Brien au gratin.

And then fresh lemon sherbet with creme de menthe, chilled tomato farsis Santa Maria (tomato stuffed with fresh fruit, with bar le duc dressing and unsweetened whipped cream decorated with sliced orange and English walnuts); saltines, cream cheese and guava jelly, and an agnogn pistachio meringue with a cherry sherbet top. Plus demitasse.

Bernard Shaw says Edward renounced his throne "not because of his intention to marry Mrs. Simpson, but simply because he hated his job." About 'arf n' 'arf, we'd say.

BACK FROM THE SUNNY SOUTH

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER.
NEW YORK—As New York spins dizzily into the holly and mistletoe, your oracle takes a deep breath, dons his swami robes, and makes these predictions for 1937:

Max Schmeling will defeat Jimmy Braddock and win the heavyweight title.

Ernest Hemingway, becoming careless, will tumble overboard on one of these deep-sea fishing expeditions and be swallowed by a whale.

Frank Buck will take another jaunt to the Malayan jungles, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson will take one to Africa (to shoot Johnny Weissmuller).

There will be 116 novels published about the Civil war, but none of them will be another "Gone With the Wind."

Jimmy Durante will unload his "schizzola" on the lots of Hollywood for three pictures.

West To Come East. Mae West, no dilettante, will invade Broadway as an actress-author-producer. And nine evening shows, as formerly, at that tiny 45th street restaurant known as "Frankie and Johnnie's."

A whole day will pass without there being more than 500 pictures of the Dionne quintins in the local papers.

Colonel Lindbergh, setting a precedent, will announce to the press his destination on mystery flights, thereby eliminating much anxiety.

Development of bunions is so gradual that the condition may make marked progress before the sufferer notices the inward bend of his big toe and the enlargement of the bony and soft tissue structures at its "root." Therefore it is wise to be "too content."

Parents should make a point of inspecting their children's feet for evidences of this and other deformities. If the big toe is beginning to turn inward, all the footwear should be inspected. If the shoes and socks do not fit properly, they should be discarded. Corrective measures should be started at once.

In the early stages of the condition, this simple exercise may prove very helpful:

Grasp the four small toes with one hand. Hold the big toe with the other hand and carefully rotate it 20 or 30 times. Repeat once or twice daily.

This exercise should loosen any adhesions that may have formed and stretch any contracted muscles which might tend to keep the toe turned inward.

Other attempts can be made to "straighten the big toe" by strapping and by using a variety of pads and rubber cushions. These should be chosen and applied by physicians expert in treating this condition. Unskilled attempts are more likely to do some damage to the other toes than to straighten the big one.

One clever mechanism for keeping the toe in proper position is the "toe-post." It consists of a special little compartment for the big toe. The toe-post may be fitted into ordinary shoes, or, better yet, the shoes can be made with built-in "posts." Of course, the patient must wear divided socks if he is undertaking this type of treatment.

In the more advanced forms, bunions can be corrected only by surgical treatment. This is indicated when the toe is bent very much out of line and when there is a marked bone growth and excessive thickening of the surrounding soft tissues. In such an operation, the affected joint is reconstructed by cutting away the excess tissues.

Talks to parents

By Brooke Peters Church

"We are such a happy household and so content to be together, that we make little social effort. When we are all at home playing games and reading and chatting we feel no need for friends. Even the children make few outside contacts."

Yes, the Browns were a happy family—the envy of their friends and neighbors, whose children loved to go out or have their friends in, and whose homes rang with the noise of arguments and even quarrels much of the time.

But there is such a thing as being too happy and contented alone, too united and peaceful. Life is hot like that. Life is a struggle for the ability to adjust to struggle and fit a child to meet it and cope with it successfully. If children are satisfied to live within the four walls of a home, asking nothing from the world outside and giving it nothing in return, life is a struggle for the future is inadequate. They are living in a fool's paradise, and when they must take their places and earn their livings in the real world, they are apt to be shocked and feel at a loss.

They cannot make friends, are sensitive and frequently critical. Often parents do not realize the dangers of too exclusive a home life. Children should have friends coming in and out, they themselves should visit and play with other children. Instead of taking pleasure in their being always at home, the parents should encourage them to go out on their own and mix with other children.

Even a certain amount of argument and quarrel among members of a family need not be a bad thing. It teaches children to hold their own and shows them the necessity for give and take. It can be made into a valuable training in the art of keeping one's temper.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS.

HOLLYWOOD—"In this corner la-deez and gentlemen, we have Katherine 'Battling' deMille, and battled but unscarred veteran of clashes with Wallace Beery, John Miljan, and George Raft.

"And here, folks, is Barbara (Kid) Stanwyck, first woman to challenge Miss deMille in her still brief career of screen fistcuffs, during which she's already garnered six amazing laurels! All set now, ladies—go to it, and no holds barred!"

That is how the call-sheet might have read, but instead it merely stated that Miss Stanwyck and Miss deMille would be needed on the "Banjo on My Knee" set at 9 a. m.

They Look Mad. "They were there, and it was a real scrap, with excellent kicking, hair-pulling, scratching, slapping, punching and clenching of teeth. All this after a timid beginning, of course, for the girls didn't really hold any grudges. To watch them at work, however, once they got started—was like witnessing a death clash between mortal enemies. They had been warned to be careful—and at lunch, after each had visited the studio first aid station for a check-up on damages, they talked it over amiably enough.

The high point in screen fistcuffs remains (in legend, at least) that scrap between Farnum and Santucci in the early version of "The Spoilers." Even with some effects, Gary Cooper and the late William (Stage) Cooper were not credited with surpassing it in the talking version—but that may be because movie legends are hard to down. As for the championship in the feminine screen fight division, it may be that the Stanwyck-deMille battle will serve.

And there have been some pretty good movie fights involving the alleged weaker sex. One of the best was that of Edna May Oliver and Blanche Yurka in "A Tale of Two Cities." Doubtless there were the Stanwyck-deMille battle will serve.

And there have been some pretty good movie fights involving the alleged weaker sex. One of the best was that of Edna May Oliver and Blanche Yurka in "A Tale of Two Cities." Doubtless there were the Stanwyck-deMille battle will serve.

Remember that tussle of Bessie Love's with Mary Moran in the first "Broadway Melody." And Marie Dressler's knock-down-and-drag-out with Marjorie Rameau in "Min and Bill" and the Jean Harlow-Dorothy Burgess match in "Hold Your Man." They were pretty good, too.

But women cannot equal men as screen fighters, no matter how ferociously they tackle the assignment. In one respect at least: men can supply their own combative grunts and growls, but women have to have their screams "dubbed in" later. In combat their voices go too high.

Q. When were needles first made? F. R. B.

A. Stone needles have been found among the relics of the Stone Age. It is believed that the Chinese were the first to use steel needles and that the others of the household as they padded in and out of the yard that seemed to be their particular enclosure. Curls of smoke rose from the chimneys in that part. Evidently fires had not yet been started in the front rooms. Guests at Truman's house were expected to get up very early. Bob decided to get inside and look around. Maybe Betty—

Seen in the cold daylight, the living quarters of the hacienda lacked what would have been the fire-light and candle had given them. Huge hand-hewn wooden rafters spanned the ceilings, and the gray walls were ornamented with bronze sconces holding candles. In little niches here and there were some really fine examples of Spanish religious figures which the early friars put in their churches. Tanned skins and excellent Indian blankets covered the floors. Bob examined the furniture closely, remembering how inconspicuous and well-seemingly the night before, and found that it, too, was hand-made from peeled poles. The seats and backs of the chairs and couches were tanned rawhide, fastened in place by narrow thongs.

"Oh you!" she exclaimed with a little laugh. "Merry Christmas! I was just wondering if anyone would be up so I could say it." "Can you spare me a few minutes now? This may be Christmas, but those evergreens look about as cheerful in here as they would on a tomb. Come on in and talk to me."

He led her to a window seat and pushed a cushion, made of an Indian saddle blanket, behind her. "Now this is better." He looked at her admiringly. "I've been wondering about what you said last night. Not much chance to talk with the wind whistling down your neck and your feet freezing. If you could be a little more explicit maybe I can get a better lineup on the situation. You see, all this has happened so unexpectedly; my mind was doing a flip-flop last night and maybe I did get it straightened out. I'm really anxious to help you if I can."

"I'm sure you are," she answered. "I've been wondering about you, too. You said last night you aren't here as a guest."

"Just an honest tire salesman, trying to get along," he explained, and went on to tell about Ramon Vasquez picking him up on the canyon road.

Betty smiled, then sobered as she moved nearer and lowered her voice. "As I told you last night, I got this job through an agency in Santa Fe. I was a stranger then and had to get something to do. You see, I brought a friend out for her health, and we had only been there a few days when she died."

A shadow passed over the girl's face. "I didn't have much money left. That's why I was glad to come here. But now—well, I must get

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY

REGIN HERE TODAY

Bob Graham, tire salesman, driving over a desert road in New Mexico during a snow storm, is halted by an accident to his car. Two strangers, Ramon Vasquez and Angelique Abeyta, invite him to go with them. Ramon and Angelique are on their way to the de Forest hacienda, Thunder Mesa, for a Christmas party.

They reach the hacienda and are welcomed by Pearl John de Forest, youngest of three brothers. Pearl Sam is the oldest and Pearl Pierre next. Bob wonders about these curious names. Other members of the household are Tante Josephine, old and an invalid; Betty Welch Shaw, archaeologist. Bob senses something strange about the place. Alone in his room, he is startled to hear a noise at the window. He opens it and finds Betty Welch outside. She says, "Can you take me away with you? I'm afraid!"

CHAPTER III.
Christmas dawned, dark and lowering. The family breakfast, breakfast, since trays were sent to each room. Bob tried to talk to the stout Mexican who brought his, but the man either could not or would not answer his questions. However, the meal was well served and hot, when Betty Welch came in with her soft, shuffling steps. Bob felt more optimistic.

Perhaps his misgivings of the night before were all unfounded. Living up here, all alone on the mesa, was enough to make any family seem a bit strange. Certainly nothing had been left undone to make Bob himself comfortable. He liked his young host, Pearl John. "Put him any place where he had half a chance," Bob thought, "and he'd prove a pretty good egg."

Bob arose and dressed, deciding to have a look around the place, even if the others of the household were not yet stirring. Perhaps Betty Welch would be up and he could talk to her. Bob whistled softly as he brushed his hair. There was a girl he'd like to know better! None of the fur and claws about her that there was about Angelique.

The snow had stopped falling when he went outside, but the clouds hung so low they gave the effect of a dark curtain. Bob shivered, though he did not feel especially cold.

"Rummy place," he muttered as he looked off at the bare rock-covered hills. Only a few huro rocks broke the flat expanse. Why in the world should anyone want to build a house up here, he wondered.

The house was adobe, very large, and seemed to hunch menacingly against the gloom, as if several Spanish-type buildings and several courtyards, all of which were enclosed in high adobe walls, with innumerable verandas connecting the rooms. Servants' quarters and kitchens seemed to take up the back portion. He could hear the soft voices of the Mexican servants as they padded in and out of the yard that seemed to be their particular enclosure. Curls of smoke rose from the chimneys in that part. Evidently fires had not yet been started in the front rooms. Guests at Truman's house were expected to get up very early. Bob decided to get inside and look around. Maybe Betty—

"Well, there are probably a lot of nuts in this world, only you don't usually see 'em bunched up, as they are here. Come on. Get your coat and let's go outside. A brisk walk in the snow will blow the vapors out of our brains. I'd like to take a look at that road we came up last night."

The walk toward the mesa's edge did set their blood tingling, and brought a becoming flush to Betty's cheeks that was not lost on her companion.

"If worst comes to worst, you know," he told her, "we could hoof it down this trail I suppose and—"

"Beck, go back," ordered a gruff voice. They turned, startled, to face the Indian who had met Ramon's party the night before. Now he stepped directly before them. "Not allow anyone this way." He said it as though he meant it.

"But why?" began Bob.

"Danger! Go back." The man pointed sternly toward the house. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

SMALL CROWD ENJOYS LANORA BENEFIT SHOW

Although inclement weather kept the crowd away from the Lanora theater's midnight benefit show last night, the performers were there and went through their stage numbers in true trouper style before a small audience.

In addition to a full movie program, a stage show, for which Mel Marshall, radio station KPDM production manager, acted as master of ceremonies, was presented.

The vaudeville acts, which were roundly applauded, included the Rhythmettes with Inez Hawkins, Mary Helen Gilstrap, Jean Gillespie and Gene Finkbeiner; Jasper Sargent, magician; Accordion Trio, Art Nezzi, Ernestine Holmes and Mrs. Guthrie; and Cecil Hunter, who presented his Elmer Goofer Hoskins monologue.

The program was a good one and the entertainers did themselves proud in spite of the weather man who kept the patrons away.

Officials of the Relief Fund today praised the performers for their loyalty in coming out and doing their part to put the show over.

The interest of the class has developed in the matter of the Second Coming of Christ. The study then Sunday will not be around the fact that He came once, but what the Bible says about His return. The Old Testament prophesied He would come. The celebration of the season attests the fact. The New Testament says He will come again. Always a welcome.—Class Officers.

If you are a return passenger on a Skyliner of Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., after being accompanied and served in the cabin on your going trip by a very charming hostess named Stuecken, and you find that a Miss Stuecken is also on the return plane, do not become disturbed at the thought that TWA is overworking this charming little lady. A closer inspection of the crew name plates on the forward wall of the cabin will reveal different initials despite the identical appearance of these two ladies. For, Margaret and Marjorie are the only twin air line hostesses in the world. And if you find the first officers on the going and return plane also are identical in appearance, just take closer notice of the initials and relax. For the two Williams boys, Merrill and Maurice, also are twins. Marjorie and Margaret Stuecken are registered nurses, a pre-requisite for position as air hostess, both being graduates of the Washington Park Memorial hospital in Chicago. This requirement on the part of hostess applicants has been established by TWA because of the company's belief that such training develops discipline and the intelligence necessary for this highly specialized work. Upon graduation they followed parallel careers, both practicing nursing at the Women's and Children's hospital of Chicago. Upon the decision of one to become an air hostess they both made application was very well attended, and the Brotherhood enjoyed having Rev. Robert Lawrence, pastor First Baptist church, Rev. C. C. Wofford, and Rev. Bonnard, all from LeFors, Wofford and Lawrence brought splendid messages. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend all of the services. The pastor will be in the pulpit both services Sunday.

airline company in 1933. As first officers on the TWA Skyliners, they have been a source of mistaken identity since their first flight. Even after three years with the company considerable difficulty is experienced among the personnel in telling one from the other. Both pilots are graduates of the Army training schools at March Field, California, and Kelly Field, Texas. During the following year (1931) they were on active duty at Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif. At the termination of this service they both made application to Transcontinental & Western Air and were enrolled in the co-pilot's school at the company's main base at Kansas City. Upon completion of this course they both became first officers on the company's transcontinental route where they have been flying since.

Meeting place will be at the Amarillo American Legion hall, beginning at 1 o'clock. Representatives from every post in the district will be present to discuss problems confronting them and to hear reports.

'BUY AT HOME' MOVE IS URGED BY LEGION

Pampa American Legion members at their regular meeting Wednesday took initial steps to launch a "buy-at-home" movement.

Legionnaires attending the session signed pledges to buy at home and to take part in the movement. Commander Charlie Mausel said the project resulted from comments on the subject contained in the Topics column in yesterday's Pampa Daily News.

"The content of the column comment was heartily endorsed by the Legion," he said. "We feel that everybody owes it to his home town merchant to make purchases at home."

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT THAT WILL BE ENJOYED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

It's plain to be seen what is causing the big smile on Annette's face. She has consulted the calendar, and the big circle around the "25" shows that the quintuplets have just one more week to wait until Santa Claus starts making his rounds. Even now, he must be checking over his list of good little boys and girls, to make sure they all get presents.

Britain's Favorite Moves Nearer to Throne

Closer moves the day when another Queen Elizabeth may rule Britain. With the Duke of York in the role of King, pretty, popular little Princess Elizabeth becomes the heir presumptive to the throne. Here she is shown in an exclusive, new portrait, fondling her pet dog—a child who already has captivated the hearts of millions of her future subjects.

George VI And His Queen

During the long period when the British newspapers kept silent about King Edward's romance with Mrs. Wallis Simpson, the smiling features of the Duchess of York and Queen are pictured in a new and exclusive portrait.

Here's the first photograph ever taken of William Donner Roosevelt, the 4-year-old son of Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt and Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President. Seated on his mother's lap, Billy made the occasion a boost for the President's birthday balls to be staged throughout the country on January 30 to aid infantile paralysis sufferers. He had bought the first ticket to the affair in Philadelphia, where this picture was taken. Billy's parents were divorced July 18, 1925, and his father subsequently married Miss Ruth Googins of Fort Worth, Texas.

Restoration of Otto to the Hapsburg throne is believed to have been discussed recently by Mussolini and Austrian monarchists. Princess Maria, 21, is the only unmarried daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

Crash Perils Plan for Army Super-Bomber Fleet

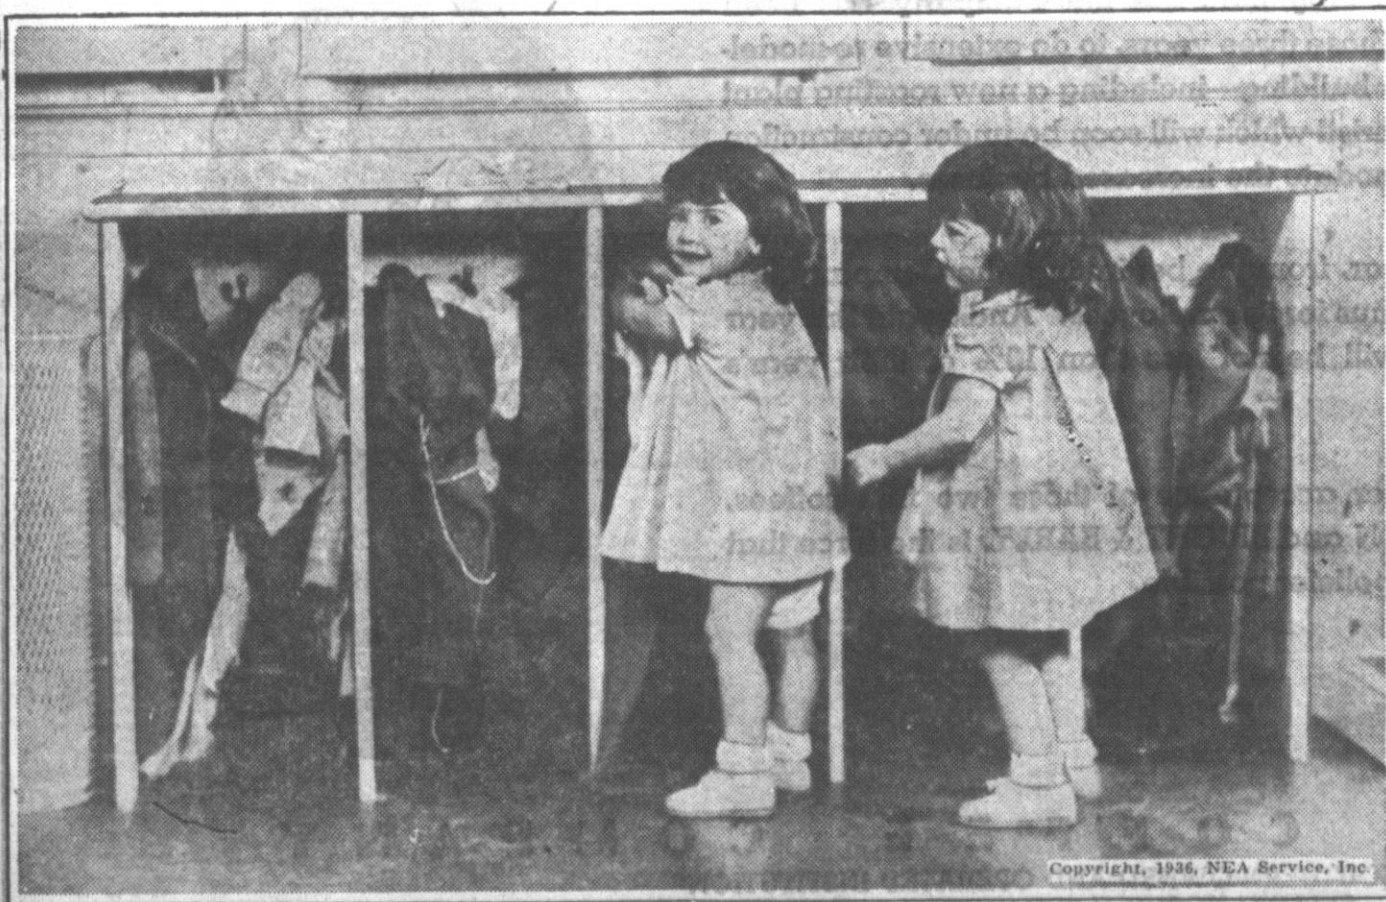

When this 16-ton "Flying Fortress" nosed over in landing after a test flight in Seattle, Wash., the U. S. Army program calling for construction of 13 of the enormous bombers appeared to be threatened. Nose of the craft was caved in and the four propellers were damaged because, preliminary investigation indicated, brakes were locked when the wheels touched ground. Pilots of two-motored bombing planes now in use believe the "Flying Fortress" is too bulky and complicated.

SANTA SITS FOR 1936 PORTRAIT

Pausing at a Montgomery Ward store on his pre-Christmas round of the toy shops, Santa Claus takes time out for little Mary Lou Stenstrom to sketch his portrait. Mary Lou is working at a special children's desk designed by Montgomery Ward. It is made of cardboard but is strong enough to hold a man and comes supplied with a drawing board and paints for young artists.

Each Quin Knows Her Symbol; Hooks Are There

And here is another row of cupboards not at all like Mother Hubbard's. Each quin has a place for her clothes, marked off by symbols which the children can identify, though they could not be able to read their names. "A place for everything, and everything in its place," is the motto at the Dionne nursery, and the quins are already adept at keeping things orderly and clean.

Quits to Create Job for Another

John Schwalm, 50, above, has quit his WPA watchman's job to go into retirement for the winter in his trailer in Evansville, Ind. A bachelor, he has enough money for food and fuel and his only luxury, smoking. Besides, Schwalm thinks someone else—with a family to support—ought to have a chance at the job. Said Schwalm's boss: "That fellow ought to have a medal."

Michigan Girl Slays Best Friend on 'Impulse'

An impulse to "kill somebody," declared Hope Morgan, 25, drove her to slay her best friend, Bessie Giltner, 25, right, in East Lansing, Mich., as the two girls addressed invitations to Miss Giltner's wedding. Miss Morgan, shown at left leaving police headquarters with a detective, calmly told of her "homicidal fixation," and asked to be sent to an asylum for the insane. She admitted firing four shots into Miss Giltner's chest. Facing a murder charge, Miss Morgan also may be examined by a sanity commission, officials said, Miss Giltner's father is Dean W. C. Giltner of Michigan State College.

ALLRED RETURNS WITH 9-POINT TEXAS BUCK

AUSTIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—Gov. Allred returned to his office Thursday after a hunt with friends in Southeast Texas on which he shot a nine-point buck.

He said he had no appointments to announce. Appointments of a state highway commission, a member of the board of insurance commissioners and members of the prison and game commissions have been expected at any time.

Asserting there was "lots of time to think about that," he declined to express his attitude toward proposed legislation to liberalize the liquor laws to permit sale of spirituous liquor by the drink.

With reference to further changes in the old age assistance law, he said the present plan "ought to be given a good trial."

Until after Christmas, he planned to remain in Austin, entertaining members of his own and Mrs. Allred's families at the mansion. He will go to El Paso for a Sun carnival New Year's Day, meeting Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico and the governor of Chihuahua, Mexico.

The deer hunt was on the ranches of J. M. West and Dolph Briscoe, other members of the party including Justices Richard Critz and John H. Sharp of the Supreme Court, Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, and Associate Justice J. H. Baugh of the Austin court of civil appeals.

Drouth Resisting Wheat Discovered

EDMONTON, Alta., Dec. 18 (AP)—Development of a drouth-resisting wheat, hardy enough to withstand permanent wilting and other ravages of a severe heat wave was announced today by the University of Alberta.

The new wheat strain, the announcement said, also has good milling and cereal qualities.

Dr. K. N. Neatby, botanist in the field crops department of the university, who issued the announcement, said the wheat was developed by Dr. O. S. Aamodt, his predecessor at the university. He said it had been named "caneus," after varieties of Canada and United States wheat.

Dr. Aamodt began his experiments by making growing tests, introducing outside strains and blending varieties. A Russian and Siberian wheat, resistant to drouth, was obtained, but although its drouth resisting qualities were high its other qualities were low, Dr. Neatby said.

Later Dr. Aamodt blended high quality Canadian wheat with the new variety. This caneus was obtained.

'BARBAROUS' WIFE. MEDIA, Pa., Dec. 18 (AP)—Edwin A. Hoffman, Jr., seeking a divorce on grounds of "cruel and barbarous treatment," testified his wife put cigar butts in his morning cup of coffee as part of a "campaign to humiliate me."

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—The friendship between Gov. Allred and his secretary, Edward Clark, is very close, although their acquaintance began casually not very long ago. During one of his campaigns, Allred spoke at San Augustine and, being in need of someone to introduce him accepted the offer of the county attorney. The latter was Clark.

After being elected attorney general, Allred wanted to name an assistant from far East Texas. Various names were suggested, but he finally said he "rather liked that big fat boy at San Augustine" and would appoint him.

Clark became an assistant attorney general and the friendship grew. He made Allred's first secretary when Allred was elected governor, and recently was appointed secretary of state, effective in January.

The state had another reminder the other day that it's 50-year-old Capitol should always be guarded against its greatest enemy—fire.

A small blaze broke out in the basement in records of the oil tax division of the comptroller's department. Apparently it started, as have others, from a carelessly dropped cigar.

The blaze was quickly extinguished by a watchman after smoke coming from the record room and penetrated to the second floor.

The board of control has taken about all the precautions it can, except for complete fire-proofing of the building, which would cost an enormous amount.

Fire-proofing would entail removing of most of the wooden partitions and some floors. It has been considered, but rejected as impracticable.

If there are any "goings-on" in the second-floor reception room of Gov. Allred, Lon Smith, member of the railroad commission, is likely to know about them.

He has an excellent view through the windows of the room from his office. The reception room and the office are at the points of a slight U in the statehouse.

"Yep," said Smith recently, "I couldn't miss a thing if I wanted to see it unless they pulled down the window shades."

The second floor reception room has proved very popular with the governor and his many visitors. The result is that the downstairs office, used for business by governors for many years, virtually has been turned over to Secretary Clark.

There are three parts to the second-floor suite, including the big entrance chamber, recently refurbished at a cost of several thousand dollars, where visitors may await turns to see the chief executive. It is quiet and comfortable.

AUSTIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—Dissension between members of the Railroad Commission continues. On one side is Lon Smith; on the other are Chairman Ernest O. Thompson and C. V. Terrell.

The latest evidence of disagreement was a public charge by Smith that the commission majority summarily "executed" several employees he appointed. Thompson and Terrell said the men were let out in the regular course of business.

In the recent primaries and general election, Smith bitterly opposed the re-election of Thompson.

Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston, whom many believe will be a candidate for attorney general two years hence, wants another Centennial celebration.

He would have Texas celebrate in 1945 the 100th anniversary of its entrance into the federal union. The observance, he thinks, should be along lines of the current celebration of the separation from Mexico.

"Texas has derived enormous benefits from the present Centennial," he said. "The publicity it received throughout the country was of inestimable value, not to speak of the immediate, practical stimulus to business."

Comment about the capital on the King Edward-Mrs. Simpson affair and the former's abdication was varied. Some thought the monarch had blundered; others that he probably knew what he was doing and chose his course deliberately.

Governor Allred said: "I have a profound feeling of pity for him. He appeared to be a very strong young man with all sorts of promise and it is too bad he stepped out."

C. V. Terrell, member of the Railroad Commission, said it appeared there was no pressing need for haste, and the king should have "married the woman and then asked the government what it was going to do about it."

Members of the highway patrol have been making speeches on safety before public schools and institutions of higher learning. Officials of the public safety department say the program is getting results.

First Sergeant George Schauer recently addressed 7,000 Waco school children and students of Baylor university in assembly. It is estimated department representatives have talked to approximately 75,000 students in the past year.

An official said the department hoped "to reach young folks and inculcate proper safety ideals before they learn bad habits."

Governor Allred received some first prize broilers from the National Poultry show in Houston and they will be on the executive dinner table at the mansion during the holidays.

The fowls were Brazoria county products and were sent by the Angleton Lions club.

The governor also received another beautiful cane, a gift from B. B. Monzingo, manager of the Eastman prison farm. It was made in the prison of native Texas walnut.

At New Orleans he was given a cane made of leather with a handle of silver. He has a collection of 12 or more walking sticks.

The discovery that mosquitoes carry germs of malaria was made by Sir Ronald Ross in India.

Bank Night Taken To Court Again

AUSTIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore has granted a temporary injunction restraining the Knickerbocker club of El Paso from selling bank night guarantees and set trail of a suit by the attorney general's department for February 1.

The suit was filed at request of the insurance department which held if the guarantees were legal establishments selling them should be subject to regulations to make sure they were financially solvent and responsible.

The Court of Civil Appeals here held recently that bank nights could be operated legally, but the Supreme Court and Criminal Appeals Court have not passed on the question.

STONE STILL ILL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Justice Harlan Stone will not participate in the Supreme Court decision on constitutional validity of the Washington state minimum wage law for women.

It became known today as arguments were resumed. The Justice, ill with dysentery since Oct. 13, plans a trip south with Mrs. Stone as soon as he can travel. He was reported improving rapidly. He has not taken part in any opinions delivered this term.

H. R. Nowisinger, extension horticulturist at North Carolina State college, says the problem of apple growers in the state is to produce enough fruit to supply the demand.

ELEGANT GIFTS BEING PURCHASED THIS YEAR

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—A distinct upswing in elegant gifts, at elegant prices, sets this Christmas season apart from its recent predecessors, dealers in luxury goods said today.

The very rich are again buying the kind of presents Santa Claus used to leave in gilt-edged homes before the depression. They cited such samples as these:

Handkerchiefs—For men, hand-loomed linen, at $15; for ladies, there is one at $75, but the store will order better ones ranging up to $200.

Shirts—One shop regards its $35 number, in broadened silk, as a nice gift. For a millionaire who has been very good, you may add a hand-made tie, at $7.50, or a pair of socks, $4.50 to $9.50. (The $4.50 ones are cotton.)

Ten Greatest News Stories of 1936 Are Selected

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (AP)—The abdication of Edward VIII of England was the biggest news story of 1936, in the view of A. J. Richards, editor of Paramount Newsreels.

In conjunction with theater operators who watched the audience reaction, Richards selected the ten subjects considered most important from the newsmen's standpoint. They were: (1) Edward VIII's ab-dication; (2) scenes showing the landslide re-election of President Roosevelt; (3) civil war in Spain; (4) death of King George V, of England; (5) execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann; (6) payment of the soldiers' bonus; (7) floods in Pennsylvania; (8) re-occupation of the Rhineland by German troops; (9) signing of the social security act; (10) entry of the Italians into Addis Ababa.

GREATEST GRAPEFRUIT CROP. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 18 (AP)—Nature's generosity this year left Florida with a headache which citrus growers are trying hard to cure. Plenty of sunshine, the right amount of moisture and dry spells at just the proper time have given the state its greatest grapefruit crop. The estimated 27,523,000 boxes was an increase of approximately 9,000,000 boxes over last season.

The New Deal at the Duncan Coffee Company marches on, in step with the momentous times in which we live.

The human element in any problem comes first with Duncan. Three years ago, in the unemployment crisis that rocked the nation, and in the face of economists' opposition, the company discarded a series of machines and replaced them with human labor. Public approval, expressed in increased sales of Duncan coffees, was so marked that in spite of increased payrolls, no increase of prices to the consumer for his coffee was necessary.

The number of the Company's employees has been steadily increased, and will continue to be increased as the volume of sales requires. Yet... there has been no increase in the hours of each person's labor nor has there been any decrease in their wages. Not only that, but the Company has been required, in those three years, to do extensive re-modeling and new building—including a new roasting plant at Corpus Christi which will soon be under construction—to accommodate the increased business.

Each year, from the beginning, the Company has earned a bonus for its employees. And again this year the bonus will be not less than 10% of their year's earnings.

Consumer acceptance of those two fine coffees, ADMIRATION and BRIGHT & EARLY, is the force that makes such policies possible.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What was the immediate result of Gen. Johnston's appointment? B. L.

A. Gen. Felix Huston, charging his removal to trickery, challenged Johnston to a duel, which was fought Feb. 7, 1837, at Chalk Bluff on the Lavaca river. Gen. Johnston being severely wounded. They made friends and Huston named a son for Johnston. Huston remained in Texas for several years and commanded in the 1840 battle of Plum Creek, returning soon afterward to Mississippi. He died near Natchez in 1857.

Q. Did Gen. Houston come to Texas with a view to becoming a citizen? O. H.

A. Although reports had been circulated while he was with the Cherokees that he planned an expedition for the conquest of Texas, he came in 1832 with no other plan than to attempt, at the request of President Jackson, to persuade the Comanches to stop their raids across the United States border. He liked Texas, became interested in its struggles and decided to cast his fortunes with those of the new country.

Q. On what island of the Texas coast was Cabena de Vaca shipwrecked? R. W.

A. It is not definitely known, but is believed to have been Matagorda Island.

Q. Why was de Vaca's life spared so long by the Indians? R. W.

A. He was able to live for six years with the cannibalistic Indians because they believed him to be a child of the sun and a medicine man of supreme powers.

Q. By what name was the territory that is now called Texas first known to Spaniards? D. S. D.

A. Maps dated prior to 1722 gave it the name Nuevas Filipinas, the New Philippines.

NEW DEAL.
 GREENVILLE, S. C.—Rural School Supervisor George D. Brown discovered 22 pupils of Glensy Mountain high school, up in the mountains had never been in a barber shop, seen a movie, or heard a radio.

So nine local schools have invited the 22 to come to town for free haircuts, a turkey dinner and a movie radio party.

COSTS
 Since the United States Supreme Court upheld the New York state unemployment insurance act financial minds believe that the social security act will be declared constitutional. Mathematicians have calculated the security act 1936 costs per share on railroads. Here's the way the figures run:

Atchison, 27c; Baltimore & Ohio, 25c; Chesapeake & Ohio, 5c; Erie, 24c; Great Northern, 13c; Missouri Pacific, 45c; New York Central 31c; New Haven 31c; Nickel Plate, 43c; Norfolk & Western, 21c; Northern Pacific, 12c; Pennsylvania, 14c; Southern Pacific, 16c; Southern Railway, 33c; and Union Pacific, 13c.

Based on federal social security rules the 1937 costs are to be double.

DENIED
 For some months there have been rumors current that Columbia Pictures was to merge. The stories disclose with whom but most every picture producing outfit was mentioned. The latest of such gossip came out of Hollywood. Since it came from there the trade accepted it as gospel.

Your correspondent checked the story. It may now be said officially, that there is no truth in the report. Columbia Pictures' officials aren't anxious to merge with any other organization.

TROUBLE
 Automobile manufacturing executives are optimistic concerning the industry's 1937 outlook. All feel that sales will better those of 1936. Yet the shares of automobile companies do not act well marketwise. In fact, informed interests are urging friends not to buy.

What's the explanation? Labor difficulties are expected to come in a big way. "And when they do come, strikes will not be settled quickly."

Thus far the industry has been hurt by labor trouble in plants of accessory companies. Employees of auto makers may learn that it is easy to organize and win. They are expected to try it. That doesn't make the prospect attractive.

WILD
 While earnings for Trucon Steel show betterment that doesn't account for the shares' recent spectacular advance in price. It spurted from below $12 to over $26 within two weeks. But there is a reason. Republic Steel owns about 93 per cent of the outstanding common shares and 91 per cent of the preferred. With the floating supply of stock so limited it is easy to understand why the price movements are so wild.

AM. SET
 Tire trade insiders report that full 1936 sales will run about five and one-half per cent ahead of 1935. The 1937 prospects call for as much of an increase over that of 1936. It was also intimated that prices are due to be lifted on or immediately after January 1st. Price advances will run from five to ten per cent.

The industry's costs have been offset by recent price advances. A sizeable inventory of finished tires is being built up in anticipation of possible labor difficulties. On the whole, costs and labor will not be earnings obstacles during next year.

LIBERAL
 Recent sluggish price action of the Western Union shares is attributed to several reasons. Some say it is because of foreign liquidation. Others say it is due to tax selling. The majority of trading circles attribute it to the recent disappointing dividend declaration of only 75 cents a share.

Your correspondent believes that regardless of the stock's market action important holdings aren't being disturbed. Earnings are improving. For this year a net of about $6 a share is expected. It is also expected that since the outlook is favorable directors will be more liberal payers in 1937.

CEMENT
 The recent cement price slash will not spread from the Atlantic coast. The inside story is that rates were reduced to cut into the sales volume of foreign manufacturers. The present rates are low enough to reduce the profit margins of importers. Current cement price schedules will hold since the trade's purpose has been accomplished.

FIVE KILLED FOR REVENGE IN ONE NIGHT

MAN CLAIMS HE WAS PERSECUTED IN CHARGES

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18 (AP)—District Attorney Andrew T. Park said today gray-haired Martin Sullivan, veteran patrolman of suburban Duquesne, confessed killing five persons—three of them women—for "revenge."

Park said the 65-year old officer told him of stalking from house to house last night through dark yards and streets, firing shots from his service pistol and one-time friends and neighbors.

The district attorney said "It was simply a case of revenge" after Sullivan had been charged with mistreating a 12-year-old girl and ordered held for trial.

"Never at any time did he deny any of the killings," Park said. "The man claimed he was being framed and felt that people were persecuting him. So he decided to square accounts."

The slain last night were: Mrs. Laura Bacon, 53-year old social worker. Mrs. Mary Vukelja, 49, mother of the 12-year old girl. Milan Vukelja, 19, her son. Joseph Benda, 53. Mrs. Helen Benda, 45.

Park continued: "He wanted revenge on Mrs. Vukelja for prosecuting him on charges he claimed were false. "He claimed that Mrs. Benda had told Mrs. Vukelja of relations between him and the little girl. Sullivan claims those stories are untrue. So he was angry at Mrs. Benda. "The parents of the little girl had consulted with Mrs. Bacon, the social worker, and had taken her advice about what action should be taken against Sullivan. For that reason he was angry at Mrs. Bacon." Constable Thomas L. Gallagher said he started for jail with Sullivan after the hearing last night on charges of mistreating the girl. Enroute to jail, he asked permission to stop at his home. Half an hour later, Gallagher said, he returned. They started again for jail. Gallagher said Sullivan stopped "to see a friend for a minute." The "friend" was Mrs. Laura Bacon, 53-year old social worker who had made information on which the mis-treatment charges had been based.

Fauntleroy Picture Is Called Perfect

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18. (AP)—The solid gold medal given annually by the motion picture committee of the League of Nations, rested today on the desk of David O. Selznick, head of International pictures.

It was awarded the film "Little Lord Fauntleroy" which he produced. This year was the first time the medal has been won by an American company.

Unofficially representing the 52 nations of the league, F. E. Evans, British consul in Los Angeles, presented the award to Selznick at a luncheon yesterday.

"It was adjudged a perfect picture," he said.

Iowa State college researchers say a pig apparently puts on as much weight when fed "hard" corn as when it is fed "soft" corn.

International Sunday School Lesson

Devotional Reading: John 15:12-17
BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

It is some years now since Henry Drummond gave to the world his great exposition of Paul's eulogy of love in the 13th chapter of I Corinthians, under the title, "The Greatest Thing in the World."

That title was well chosen, for love is indeed just that. Here in our lesson it is called the supreme gift, and there is real significance in this title. Love is, first of all, a gift.

Years ago, a skeptical young critic whose own attitude was one of kindness and goodness, but who was in a mood to find faults in current religion, said to me as he quoted lines from Leigh Hunt's poem, "Abou ben Adhem": "Christianity starts with love to God, a very illogical procedure." I think he quoted also the words of John, "If a man love not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God, whom he hath not seen?"

My reply to him was that whatever might be the defects in current Christianity, true Christianity started neither with love to God, nor with love to man, but with the love of God.

If love is indeed a fact, it is in the universe. It was there before we came into the world. God is love, and love is God's gift to man.

Love is like the sun that shines upon us; it is like the air we breathe. It is not something that we create, but it is something that we take and receive.

This distinction may seem merely one of words and theory, but it really is important, because it has to do with the essential character and supremacy of love. It means little for a man to love his neighbor as himself, if he has no real love for himself. If a man is a drunkard, or a sneak, or a thief, or if, without being any of these things, he is a weakling, it does not mean very much that he should love his neighbor as himself.

But when a man has discovered the love of God, when, with all his being, he has turned to God, and has returned that love with all his heart and soul and mind and strength, to love his neighbor as himself becomes the greatest thing that he could possibly do.

So it is that the writer here in I John sets the matter forth logically, and in its true foundation.

We ought to love one another because love is of God. If God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

The man who lives in the sunshine and cares nothing whether other people live in dark, gloomy, and unsightly hovels is a poor specimen of humanity. God's sunshine has done very little for him, yet that is almost an exact illustration of the situation of a loveless man.

Love is not a matter of mere sentiment, or a kindly feeling. When it really lays hold of a man's life, it becomes the determining motive of all that he thinks and says and does.

It enlarges his life, and gives him a new conception of his world and his fellow man. This is suggested in the current lesson by the power of love to cast out fear.

Do we need any commentary on that? If so, we should find it in the lives of those who have particularly manifested the glory of love.

Think, if you will, of the men and the women who have loved their fellow men. Are not their lives the lives that most truly tell of strength and courage? They have lived above fear, as the have lived above selfishness and meanness.
