First Panda to See America

Reputed to be the only one of its kind brought to America alive, this giant Panda, shown with its captor, Mrs. William Harkness of New York, gets a first view of its new homeland upon arrival in San Francisco. Mrs. Harkness captured the rare eight-pound specimen on a dangerous trip into bandit-infested western China. When fully grown, the Panda will weigh 300 pounds, but now it is being fed from a bottle. Its home will be in the Bronx, N. Y., zoo.

Five New BCD Directors Are Named

NEW GROUP TO TAKE OFFICE ON JANUARY 1

15 DIRECTORS WILL ELECT OFFICERS NEXT MONTH

Five new directors of the Board of City Development, each to serve for three years, were named at a meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon.

New directors are James E. Lyons, Dan Grubbs, Ed. Bissett, Reno Stinson and W. P. Lusby.

Retiring directors are John Roby, J. S. Wynne, Gilmore N. Nunn, B. W. Rose and R. G. Allen.

Holdover directors are T. F. Smalling, J. W. Garman, J. M. Collins, Charles Burton, Guy McTaggart, M. W. Jones, L. L. McCool, Tom Oldridge, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., and Fred Cullum.

The 15 directors will meet early in January when they will elect officers for 1937 and name an advisory board.

Christmas Shopper Apparently Still 'Trying Out Truck'

Police and county authorities today were asked to be on the lookout for a man who yesterday took a used truck from Cullum & Son to "try it out" and has not been seen since.

Fred Cullum, owner of the garage, said today the man came to the garage and talked up a deal with one of the salesmen. "Maybe he's doing a little Christmas shopping and he figured we were Santa Claus," Cullum said today.

CONGRESS MAY PROVIDE FOR CROP CONTROL

'SOMETHING BETTER THAN AAA' IS PROMISED

(Editor's Note: Agriculture's ills, a problem with which many legislators have wrestled, again will confront lawmakers of the 75th congress convening in January. In the fourth of a series of stories by staff writers making special studies of the winter's legislative tasks, the Washington bureau of the Associated Press discusses the farm situation.)

BY EDWIN B. HAASKINSON WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The nation's farmers are looking to the new congress principally for one thing—assurance of a steady income in good years and bad.

That is an old problem for both the lawmakers and the farmers. Some thought they had a solution in the agricultural adjustment administration plan of crop control by the AAA held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court early this year.

A soil conservation plan providing incidentally for control of crops, followed. Many farm leaders doubt this is an adequate solution. Several organizations have petitioned Secretary Wallace for a return to direct crop control.

Wallace has informed them that "something better than the old AAA" can and will be devised. All possibilities for a new program, he said, are being investigated, but details of what specific suggestions he may make to Congress have been revealed.

In bumper years prices decline and the market is surfeited with unwanted produce. In bad years when droughts, floods, insects and other hazards of nature are rampant the crops are destroyed.

E. R. Tolley, chief of the AAA, claims "nothing less than direct and effective production control for specific commodities" will prevent the surplus production of bumper years.

To offset the natural disaster which regularly strike the farmer, Secretary Wallace and a special committee have devised an all-risk crop insurance plan at the request of the President. It will be submitted to Congress. It is expected to be limited to wheat in the first year.

Wallace favors payment of both premiums and losses in wheat, under a system that would store grain from "fat" years for use in "lean" years. Several congressmen also have crop insurance plans which vary widely from that favored by the secretary.

Another agricultural problem which may produce legislation is farm tenancy. Since billions of dollars would be needed to finance all tenants as independent farmers, the secretary is known to favor a modest experiment in this field with broad activity to improve landlord-tenant relationships.

DEAD STREWN BATTLEFIELDS REDDEN SPAIN

Christmas Scene Includes Starvation, Blood, Ruin, and Constant Fighting.

(By The Associated Press.) MADRID, Dec. 24 (AP)—Death, blood and nation-wide misery were the Christmas presents forced on Spain today by the grim gods of war.

While all other Christian lands throughout the world were thanking God for the blessings of peace, grieving Spain counted her dead, her maimed, and her starving inhabitants.

Religious leaders, including the aged and ill Pope Pius XI in Rome, pleaded for an end to the brother-against-brother slaughter in a land once known for its care-free contentment.

Their pleas were answered by the exhortations of war leaders to kill the enemy and get peace by force. Church bells over the world pealed the joy of Christians on the anniversary of the birth of the greatest pacifist: shot, shell and shrapnel were Spain's echoes.

Here were many battlefields strewn with hundreds of bodies. Here were only wrecked buildings in beautiful Madrid's squares.

Peace on earth was not for Madrilenos. Their war leaders issued Dec. 24 commands for the troops on the front to fight off any Christian sentimentalism which might cause them to relax efforts to kill off their countrymen insisting on a different form of government.

Fascist insurgents shelled the center of Madrid again and their warplanes bombed the government positions in Romanillos, Las Rozas and Majadahonda, north and south of the Escorial road which is northwest of Madrid.

In some Sierra and the Guadalupe areas opposing artillery batteries hammered away at each other all morning.

The government's day before Christmas proclamation was that its men launched a counter-attack and advanced six miles in the Basque section, carrying off a number of rifles, machine guns, and ammunition as their prizes.

WITH FASCISTS on MADRID FRONT, Dec. 24 (AP)—General Francisco Franco, supreme Spanish Fascist commander, sent to the front lines today 38 cases of champagne given him as a gift.

His donation was received while huge truckloads of presents and wine were brought up to the front for distribution to his men on twelfth night, Jan. 6, according to the Spanish tradition, instead of on Christmas Eve.

Fascist leaders announced large gift contributions from abroad, asserting 400 truckloads were given by Portuguese sympathizers.

Franco's troops, meanwhile, stood in the gates, hoping for an official Christmas truce, while their commanders prepared to attack Madrid after the holiday.

The massing of reinforcements for a renewed assault seemed about completed.

Tom Cook left yesterday for Graham where he will attend the funeral of a nephew. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell.

BATISTA STILL HOLDS NATION IN TIGHT GRIP

MILITARY DICTATORSHIP OPPOSED BY GOMEZ

By EDMUND A. CHESTER HAVANA, Dec. 24 (AP)—Federico Laredo Bru became Cuba's tenth president within four years today as supporters of Col. Fulgencio Batista, the republic's "strong man," forced out President Miguel Mariano Gomez.

Gomez, who accused the army of working to establish a "fascist military dictatorship," was removed from office by impeachment, the first ousted president in the nation's frequently fiery history.

He was ejected by a 22 to 12 vote of the Cuban Senate, sitting as a jury to hear the impeachment charges, after a debate lasting into the early morning hours.

Laredo Bru, as vice president, succeeded automatically when the guilty verdict was brought in against Gomez.

The before dawn climax of the struggle was precisely what the whole capital expected. As a result, sparse crowds accepted the news with an apparent lack of interest.

Immediately after the dismissal, which Gomez expected and prepared for, the retiring president issued a bristling statement denouncing army leaders and charging they sought to abrogate civil authority to themselves.

His accusations reflected the issue on which his defense staked vindication: That a verdict against the executive would throw Cuba into a military dictatorship.

He was impeached after he had opposed nine cents a day sugar bill to finance an army-sponsored program of rural education.

His opposition brought into the open his smouldering fight with Col. Fulgencio Batista, "strong man" head of the army, who has been the power behind Cuba's government since 1933.

CATTLE RUSTLING IS REPORTED IN SECTION

Cattle thieves in the Panhandle are making it tough on legitimate stock buyers.

Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey today warned buyers that they must abide by the state law which requires all haulers to carry a bill of sale to show that their cattle cargo is not stolen property.

Deputy Lindsey said today that because of the wave of cattle stealing through the state, a bill of sale is a close check is being kept on all cattle trucks.

One man was being detained here today while the sheriff's office makes a check to determine if the claimed purchase is a legitimate one.

The man, a farmer, said he neglected to obtain a bill of sale for cattle purchased near LeFors.

1,500 KIDDIES ATTEND LANORA THEATER PARTY

Upwards of 1,500 children were guests of the Lions club, Pampa Daily News and the Lanora Theater at the annual Christmas party and entertainment in the Lanora this forenoon.

The boys and girls enjoyed five reels of motion picture shorts, met old Santa Claus and each of them received a gift of candy, oranges, apples and nuts.

The street in front of the theater was crowded long before the doors opened at 10 a. m.

The crowd was handled through special supervision arranged by the sponsors of the party, Edwin Leach was chairman of the Lions club committee which arranged for the gifts to the children.

Carl Benfield coming back from Wellington last night with more than a score of ducks, brought down by Carl, his host, "Butch" Barber, formerly of Pampa, now of Wellington, and two other guys.

SHOPLIFTER IS JAILED HERE

GLOVES AND JACKET TAKEN; MAN IS FINED $50

A shoplifter, apparently selecting gifts for his girl friends, was arrested yesterday afternoon after he had taken nine pairs of women's kid gloves and a suede jacket from the Montgomery Ward store.

He was Ray Howell, of points in Nebraska and Iowa, who admitted his guilt when arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. F. Young this morning.

Howell pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs. He was arrested by Special Officer Jesse Hatcher, on duty in the store. He was unable to pay the fine and was jailed.

An unusually heavy wave of shoplifting has been surging through Pampa stores this Christmas season, officers reported today. Approximately a score of merchandise thieves have been stopped in efforts to make away with goods during the past two weeks.

NO SNOW IN PANHANDLE CHRISTMAS PREDICTED

There will be no snow in the Panhandle for Christmas, according to official weather forecasts. Of course, he has been known to be wrong.

However, after using all the gadgets and stuff that weathermen use to find out what's going to happen tomorrow, the forecaster gives a definite "no" insofar as snow is concerned.

The only show residents of Gray county will see tomorrow, then, will be at the movie shows, on Christmas cards and the artificial kind which they put around the Christmas trees.

His only information is a guess that a cold wave is almost sure to follow this warm spell with which the Panhandle of Texas has been endowed for the last few weeks.

THREE COUPLES WILL WED CHRISTMAS DAY

Cupid went Christmasy on Christmas Eve and aimed his love darts at three Gray county couples who plan to wed on Christmas Day, according to information from the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut.

Marriage licenses were issued to Holden Lee and June Gibson, Jack Minstree and Rachel Williamson, and to Frank H. Hunt and Flo Snodgrass.

FDR'S Christmas Program Is Full

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—The White House holiday program was so full today that President Roosevelt had to advance part of the family's traditional Christmas, even of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

He read an installment of the oft-told story about Tiny Tim and Old Scrooge last night, while children and adults listened carefully.

The safety of a big show of young people, however, was a word, that Franklin, Jr., ill in a Boston hospital, would be unable to come home for Christmas.

His sister, Anna, Mrs. John Boettiger, will be the only other missing member of the four generation family. She and her husband have just moved to Seattle.

After lighting the community Christmas tree in Lafayette Park, across the street from the executive mansion, the President will give his Yuletide greetings to the nation at 4 p. m., central standard time.

The White House Christmas, like that in many American homes, will open with the dash of wide-awake youngsters to rush their sleeping elders. All will gather in the President's chamber to open their bulging stockings.

Gifts will go to church at 11 a. m., and the adults will receive their gifts in the afternoon.

WPA PROJECTS CLOSED DOWN FOR CHRISTMAS

All Gray county WPA projects were closed down today until after Christmas.

Mrs. Buena Birchfield, sewing room supervisor, said this project has been closed since Tuesday because of a lack of funds and that no work has been received when it will be reopened.

Other projects were observing the usual Christmas shutdown and they are fabled to reopen again after the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Klinger were to leave this afternoon for Slaton to visit her parents over Christmas.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGER A Christmas spirit that was real because it had to do with worship of the meekly and lowly Nazarene and with the giving and sharing of gifts, hovered like the bright blue bird of happiness over a group of pals (so they call each other) at the B&W Christmas meeting Tuesday night.

At the Christmas meeting Tuesday night, Lela Dodge told a touching story of a hunchback shepherd boy, alone on a Palestine hill, who was visited by the Perfect Man on His last birthday before Golgotha.

With tears still wet on their faces, they were in a mood to exclaim over the gifts given by their pals—Lottie, Frances, Grace, Mabel, Marie, Christine, Mary Lou, Gladys, Lillian, Lola, Hazel, Velma, Mildred, Clara Lee, Cree, Gertie, Kashryn, Ruth, Adelon, Marian, and Viola. Real pals!

SIX KILLED IN BRANIFF LINE PLANE CRASH

NEWS CAMERAMEN OF DALLAS ATTACKED AT WRECKAGE

DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—A falling right engine after "interference" from two other planes in an attempted landing was advanced today by Braniff Airline officials as a possible explanation for the crash of their twin-engine ship which killed six occupants yesterday.

Victims of the test flight were officials and employees of the airline.

"Theory on cause of accident, after preliminary investigation, is that plane approached field for landing, was forced to go around due to interference by two other planes," read a telegram by Braniff officials to the Department of Commerce at Washington.

The Lockheed Electra ship fell and burst into flames in a corn field less than half a mile from Love field, Dallas' municipal airport.

The victims were Don Walbridge, 38, operations manager; Sterling Perry, 37, maintenance superintendent; T. C. Brantiff, 32, crew chief, and Pascal Florence, 30, Hubert Daane, 25, and Fred Sleeper, 28, mechanics.

The charred bodies were removed after firemen used chemicals to quench the blaze. Identification was difficult.

John B. Jaynes, Department of Commerce inspector at Fort Worth, questioned several witnesses yesterday. He planned to return today to continue his investigation.

Traffic Manager Charles E. Beard, Stuart Bailey, assistant to manager, and L. A. Luckey, assistant operations manager, all of the Oklahoma City Braniff offices, arrived to assist in the investigation.

Joe Mason, cement worker, witnessed the crash from a nearby building project. He ran to the burning wreckage in time to hear a man pleading:

"My God, Mister, please pull me out—I'm burning to death."

"I grabbed his belt and tugged," Mason said, "but he was caught at the knees. I heard another man back in the cabin groaning. Four of the men must have been killed instantly."

A gas tank explosion which burned Mason's hands forced him to retreat.

Frank Grost, salesman who was fishing on Bachman's lake, said he thought the ship was going to fall.

40-Year Resident Of Miami Passes

George Monroe Moon, 78, a resident of Miami for 40 years, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family home in Miami. Mr. Moon was one of Miami's first merchants. He operated a grocery store but several years ago retired from active business.

Mr. Moon is survived by his wife. Funeral services were set for 3 o'clock this afternoon at the family home with the Rev. Joe Boyd, pastor of the Paducah Methodist church, reading services. Burial was to be in Miami cemetery, with the Miami Masonic lodge officiating, under direction of Pampa Mortuary.

Pallbearers named were W. W. Davis, W. L. Russell, M. M. Craig, Jr., John Cantrell, J. K. McKenzie, and Harry Craig.

SALARY HIKE

In line with announcements made recently by several other oil companies, the Shell Petroleum company yesterday announced a five per cent increase in salary, effective the first of the year, for all employees.

TEX'S TOPICS

It is Christmas Eve... the night before Christmas when, all through the house—not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

Soon comes the hour when we commemorate the birth of the Christ Child. So, it is time to surrender yourself to the spirit of Christmas.

Let the joy of the yuletide thrill you—let its peace steal softly across your heart. Open your ears to the magic of its message and open your eyes to the miracles it accomplishes.

Why not read again Dickens' Christmas Carol, the best known and the most inspiring of all the Christmas stories. . . And don't feel ashamed, if at the end, as 'Tiny Tim' whispers, "God bless us, every one," you find your eyes wet with tears.

Then, too—open the Book of Books, and let Luke tell you about that first Christmas—of the long journey to Bethlehem, of the birth in the humble manger, of the shepherds keeping watch over their flocks.

Listen to the heavenly music that was heard upon the hills, to the thrilling words of the angel, "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all the people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

Bow your heads and give thanks for the Prince of Peace who came, saying with angels, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Let Matthew tell you of the coming of the Wise Men from the East, with their gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh, which they presented to the Christ Child.

Then, with the Spirit of Christmas in your heart, go forth and help make Christmas a brighter and happier day for others. Assuredly, you cannot go wrong with this Christmas program.

And—speaking of Christmas. . . Do you know that Christmas is not nearly so old as the month in which it falls. . . December was the last month in that old ten-month calendar of ancient Rome.

The name comes from a Latin word, "Decem," meaning "ten. . . In the beginning the month was known as Decembris, but during the many centuries that followed the name was changed so that it now comes to us in its present form.

The old Saxons, recognizing December as the beginning of winter, called it Winter-Monath (winter month). . . They also called it Heligh-Monath (holy month) because of the fact that Christmas fell on one of its days.

What does Christmas really mean to you? . . . The first meaning of Christmas is that of generosity, inspired by the great gift of God to mankind. . . The selfish sway of the world is broken at least for a time, and the Christ spirit is born in our hearts.

Sometimes the exchange of presents is carried too far and becomes a burden instead of a pleasure; but anything that makes the world unselfish is beautiful and good.

In Denmark Christmas morning they "blow in the Jul" at dawn from church towers, playing Christmas hymns to the four points of the compass.

And do you know that: The largest Christmas pudding ever made was that which was boiled for 14 days in a brewing copper for "nine host" of the Red Lion, Southwark, in 1718. . . It weighed more than 1,000 pounds.

On this Christmas Eve of 1936 we are far from old haunts and family ties of other years. . . Still we are happy, within, in the thoughts that go back to loved ones in other places.

It is good to know, too, that here are newly acquired friends who have been good and fine, making this holiday time a happy one. . . We hope that this space has not been too dull in the rush of things, and that the season opens your hearts to full forgiveness for any straying from the bounds of reason.

We shall try to perform the service that is expected and to make as few mistakes as possible as we go along endeavoring to "live in the house by the side of the road and be a friend to man."

And, now, we shall pause to wish for you and yours a joyous and fruitful holiday season and a very Merry Christmas!

Radio Broadcast Precedes Treble Clef Club's Party

Christmas Songs and Gift Exchange Are On Program

A broadcast of Christmas music from station KPND preceded the annual Christmas party of Treble Clef club yesterday afternoon.

Seasonal decorations beautified the rooms, with the Christmas tree as a central ornament.

The program opened with a song, Star of Bethlehem, by the club chorists. Harry Hogue, Garman, Egan, Irwin, E. W. Voss, and J. C. McWilliams formed a sextet to sing Beautiful Star.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Tom Rose, Clifford Braly, W. F. Dean, Ed Donnell, Seth Horn, Ray Huling, John House, W. A. Bratton, Harry Lyman, L. N. McCullough, Farris Oden, Walter F. O. Stein, Walter Wanner, and those on program.

New Make-up for 'Fascinating 40' Shows Serenity

By ADELAIDE KERR NEW YORK (AP)—A new "fascinating forty" make-up has made its debut among smart moderns here.

It is designed to enhance the beauty and charm of the woman who is 40 and takes its cue from streams who have made their greatest conquests after they have passed their youth.

The new make-up really begins with the treatment of the skin and prevention of the dryness which often complicates the beauty problem of the woman over 40. It is based on four points:

Fried Food Out

1. A diet which favors fruits, vegetables and fresh fried meats and virtually banishes fried foods and rich desserts.

2. Plenty of rest—at least eight hours' sleep a night and a half hour's complete repose in a darkened room some time between luncheon and dinner.

3. A liberal use of oil creams to counteract dryness of the skin.

4. A careful use of astringents to firm and tighten the skin and keep it from sagging.

The following beauty treatment is suggested for daily use before making up:

Cleanse the face thoroughly with a cleansing cream which contains a liberal allowance of oil of sweet almonds. Remove the cream with cleansing tissues. Cover the face again with cream and allow it to remain during a warm bath whose vapors help it to penetrate. Smooth it gently into the skin, then dash cold water over the face for several minutes and remove the cream with cleansing tissues. Wipe the face carefully with a morsel of cotton dipped into a mild astringent and then smooth on the foundation for make-up.

Smooth in foundation

For this reason women prefer a liquid, either a light cream. Either, however, should be of a texture which will smooth into the skin and not stand out on it.

The new "fascinating forty" make-up is then applied. A cream rouge, preferably one which contains is worked on over the cheek bones. Only enough to give a healthy color to the face should be used and this should diminish to none at all near the ear line. Powder of a creamy rose tone, never lighter than the skin, is applied liberally to face and neck and then brushed with a camel's hair brush until all the loose particles have disappeared.

One eyebrow brush removes all trace of powder from the brows and lashes and another brushes the lashes with an oily ointment which gives a slight luster but keeps them from looking "made up." A lipstick (not too brilliant) outlines the natural curves of the mouth. All the make-up should be used conservatively, to avoid a painted look.

Beauticians agree on these rules for the effectiveness of the "fascinating forty" make-up: Keep it natural looking and avoid exotic effects. Concentrate on creating an effect of smooth serenity rather than trying to hide lines with make-up.

A LOFTY IDEA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24 (AP)—For eight years Capt. Lawrence J. Chiappino, airline pilot, has spent Christmas eve flying between here and Albuquerque, N. M. Consequently the Chiappino Christmas celebrations were disrupted.

But this year Papa Chiappino had an idea. When his plane starts east Thursday night, aboard will be Mrs. Chiappino, Barbara, 7; Larry, 2. At the proper moment Papa will emerge from the pilot's cabin wearing whiskers and wig to distribute gifts among his family.

Buffet Supper Is Perfect End for Merry Christmas

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Christmas night supper in the home where there are holiday guests can be made almost as delightful as the Christmas dinner.

The hostess, seeking to tempt turkey-jaded appetites, may easily prepare foods quite different from those she served at the noon meal.

A salad platter of crisp vegetables or fish... a tray of relishes, assorted cheeses and a variety of wafers... a Welsh rabbit and a bowl of fruit—all of these combinations are a pleasing deviation from the usual pickup of holiday dinner leftovers.

Coffee, tea, chocolate or cider may complete the menu.

The kitchen is often a cozy gathering place—especially if the guests help to make their own sandwiches from an assortment of filling and breads conveniently placed about.

Fillings Are Suggested

From the following list of fillings you may find several which will fit into your menu:

Minced ham and pickle relish, liver-wurst mixed with cream, sliced cold, hot or Boston brown breads.

Swiss cheese and slices of dill pickle, minced onions blended with French dressing, sliced tomatoes and lettuce, cheese and dates, orange marmalade and cream cheese, scrambled eggs and broiled bacon bits.

Any of these mixtures may be spread on hot buttered toast or crackers. Or they may be used as fillings for bread or toast sandwiches.

Steamed and home-baked breads are especially good made into sandwiches. Among them are nut, date, prune, raisin, fig, orange, banana-cold, bran or Boston brown breads.

Since all of them will remain moist for several days they may be made a day before being used.

Buffet Suppers Popular

The hostess may prefer a buffet supper with foods previously prepared.

In that case she may plan jellied fish or fruit salad molds, a gaily-garnished baked ham, trays of relishes, a variety of piquant sandwiches, tiny cheesed biscuits or small hot rolls, a sherbet and a plentiful supply of Christmas cakes, cookies and confections.

Since informality is always linked with Yuletide festivities the more informal the supper is the better. So bowls and trays of foods may be placed on a table or a buffet in the dining room, or on tables in the various other rooms where the guests can help themselves.

Dishes of cracked nuts, figs, raisins, dates (stuffed or plain), salted nuts, candied fruit peels, cookies, sliced fruit and pound cakes, assorted fruits and doughnuts will also prove popular.

AILEY, Ga. (AP)—Congressman Hugh Peterson planned a squid dinner for Christmas, but it's going to be 'possum instead.

When he went to get the squabs he found the 'possum-looking guilty—but no pigeons in the roost.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

WABASH, Ind. (AP)—John Lockwood wondered when a truck delivered a ton of coal to his general store. Now he understands. It was a Christmas gift from members of the hot stove league who gather nightly in his store. They explained they thought it was only fair to furnish some of the heat they absorb during the course of a winter.

CHOIR TO SING MIDNIGHT MASS THIS EVENING

Annual Service To Be Held in Catholic Church

Music at the midnight mass in Holy Souls Catholic church tonight will include presentation by the choir of Lardelli's Christmas mass. All songs for the service will be ensemble numbers by the choir members, with Bill Halley as organist.

Proceeding the mass, Miss Helen Poolas will play Christmas carols on her violin, accompanied by Mrs. W. Finkbeiner, and the choir will sing a carol, Holy Night.

The Rev. Joseph Wonderly, pastor, will conduct the mass, to which the public is invited. The church has been decorated for Christmas, with the traditional crib arranged.

NEW HOUSING PROGRAM FOR LOW PAY GROUPS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. (AP)—With the dual aims of prodding the construction industry and providing homes for low income groups, plans for a new housing program are being charted by administration experts.

The program calls for a long-range plan of government subsidies to enable states and communities to provide low rent housing.

Similar in many respects to a plan advanced by Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.) in the last Congress, present proposals call for government grants and loans to local groups.

Housing officials said today they considered present machinery inadequate to provide low cost housing on an extensive scale.

Consideration also is being given to changing existing federal housing activities.

Among these, officials said, are suggestions for amending the federal housing act to extend the government guarantee of insured mortgages which expires July 1 and to increase the percentage of federal housing insurance which the federal housing administration may grant.

The animals of Colombia include the peccary, tapir, sloth, armadillo, nutria, porcupine and opossum.

ARRIVE FROM COLLEGE

Stokes Green, J. R. Green and Bill Haner arrived yesterday to spend the Christmas holidays in Pampa. J. R. and Bill, Rice Institute freshmen, are visiting in the home of Bill's parents. Stokes is visiting in the home of Archer Pulliam. Stokes and his friend Moose Hartman attended Schreiner Institute at Kerville. Both played on the football team. Moose is visiting his mother at Cleburne. J. R. was captain of the Rice Institute freshman football team on which Bill also played. The four boys attended Pampa high school last year.

An increase in gold imports and decrease in silver imports were reported by the commerce department for the week ending November 6.

PUBLIC INVITED TO SERVICE OF CHRISTMAS EVE

Episcopal Church To Conduct Worship At 11:30

A Christmas eve service beginning at 11:30 this evening is scheduled at St. Matthew's Episcopal church. The Rev. R. J. Snell, minister, invites the public to join in this annual worship.

Carols led by the choir, with Mrs. Frank Perry as organist, will open the service, and the minister will conduct holy communion.

ON THE EVE OF CHRISTMAS

It is related in an old tale that out of the East came three men to pay splendid homage to the Savior. Some say these were three of the Magi, but another legend says these were three mighty kings.

The first of the three kings was Melchior, King of Nubia, whose gift was gold; the second, Balthazar, King of Chaldea, who offered incense; and the third was Jasper, King of Tarshish, a man of giant stature and 'a black Ethiopian' whose gift was myrrh.

For the gift of gold was in testimony of His royalty as King of the Jews; the incense was a token of His divinity; but the offering of myrrh alluded to the sorrows which in the humiliating condition of a man the Redeemer vouchsafed to take upon Him.

The legend says these three kings rode before a gaily caparisoned train of mules, camels and horses loaded with rich treasure, and guarded by a mighty retinue of warders, glittering with gold and gems, and armed with bright weapons of Damascus steel.

For they had heard that He was born who was to be Saviour of the World and the King of Kings. And each of these three kings left his throne that he might hasten to the tiny town of Bethlehem in Judea, there to lay gifts at His feet and worship. To them was given a bright star to guide them, and when they came to Bethlehem they sought out the place where He lay and knelt before Him.

And while the time-colored manuscripts are strangely silent on the point, theirs must have been an exaltation of spirit and a curious feeling of reverence as these grim rulers of many bowed their stiff necks in homage before the humble Child.

Then when their mission was ended back to Tarshish and Chaldea and Nubia went the three, and each again ascended his throne there to meditate on what he had witnessed. For they had been privileged to see a wonder that was to encircle the world, bringing to troubled mankind a new hope, and a spirit of charity and humility and fair dealing.

And perhaps they glimpsed dimly that we today would still follow the custom they established and that we would bear each other gifts in commemoration of their pilgrimage long ago. And that in so doing we would reawaken and rekindle within ourselves the loyalty they paid the Child at Bethlehem.

Now the origins of this story are lost in the mists of time, and we shall never know whether the three who came out of the East were the Magi or the three Kings. But today in Cologne Cathedral occasionally the heavy doors of a chapel are opened, the lamps are lighted illuminating a dazzling wealth of gilded and jeweled sculpture and a magnificent reliquary enriched with gems and enamels where sleep the three Kings, whom many believe once looked upon the Savior.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Elections, national and local, have come and gone—the Duke of Windsor has deserted his throne for Mrs. Simpson—the Spanish revolution still continues to spill blood and China bids fair to join the ranks of the nations torn by internal strife. All these national and international events have been on the front pages of every newspaper in the world for months, but through all the tragedy and comedy comes Christmas—the greatest event of all backed by that greatest of all emotions, human kindness.

Reaching back through 2,000 years, the commemoration of the birth of Christ in a lowly stable at Bethlehem is not a new story, yet every year great preparation is made throughout the Christian world to do good toward our fellowman during the Yuletide season.

So it is this year as in the past.

Pampa has bedecked itself in its best holiday dress and faces Christmas and a new year with renewed courage. The shackles of a major depression have been thrown off and merchant and customer alike have a two-fold cause for rejoicing. Prosperity has returned!

But a note of tragedy sounds a discord in this happy picture.

Amid our renewed prosperity is found actual want! And it is here that human kindness should and will play its major role. If ever there was a time when a man and his family need a pat on the back and a word of cheer it is during the Christmas season.

Actual charity, no matter how badly it may be needed, isn't solicited by the man who has weathered the depression by "the skin of his teeth." What he craves is the chance to do something worthwhile again—to make for himself a place in the society of his fellowmen. Maybe we can't give him the job he so nobly seeks, but we can give a share of encouragement and understanding—the Christmas spirit.

JOBS FOR ALL AGES

Recent discussion about the problem of finding jobs for men over 40, against whom many employers are said to be discriminating, bring to light an interesting experiment of Henry Ford's not generally known.

Some years ago when Henry Ford established a plant in Ypsilanti, Mich., he had a survey made of all age-groups in the community, showing the percentage of the population between 20 and 30, 30 and 40, 40 and 50, and so on. Then when he started hiring workers, he "tried to reproduce in his plant an exact cross-section of the age distribution of the town." That is, he hired men in proportion to the number of people of their age living round about. He carried the plan out so thoroughly that he even employed men as old as 70.

And the result? Mr. Ford has pronounced himself satisfied. It was socially fair, and he didn't think the factory was handicapped or cheated. It was, of course, a fine service to the community.

The present tendency is to freeze out the older groups entirely from the ranks of industry, establishing a maximum age limit as low as 50 or 40, altho the new social security plan doesn't apply until the age of 65. This practice is obviously unfair to the individuals affected and absurd from the viewpoint of community welfare.

GREETINGS!

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — It long has been a legend that not even Broadway can show as many comedies, tragedies, dramas as Grand Central terminal, that cathedral-like abyss into which millions disappear only to bob up again miles away on speeding trains, headed for Sandusky, Boise, Morgan City and perhaps a thousand other communities scattered over the mountains and prairies.

Let's see for ourselves—let's enter from the Roosevelt hotel approach and walk that quarter mile around through a tunnel lined with news shops, tea gardens, pants presses, cafes, ticket agents, book stores. Let's emerge suddenly into the vast terminal itself, with its adverse ceiling, black as pitch, with only one diamond-like gleam of sky showing the way to the etched immensity of a winged Pegasus.

This expanse of floor here covers an acre, and 2,000 people are streaming towards the street exits and the trains.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

Edited by DR. JACCO CALZOSTINI For the New York Academy of Medicine

FEAR AND FATIGUE
Fatigue, especially the chronic variety, tends to distort one's judgment and to "blow one's fears to large dimensions."

Everyone knows from common experience that he is more worrisome at the end of the day, and more cheerful and hopeful in the morning.

Perhaps much of this difference in attitude can be put down to the favorable psychologic effects of daylight. However, it is also likely that fatigue gathered during the day contributes to one's over-reactions at night.

Fatigue is not necessarily and invariably the by-product of work, muscular or mental. A person who does but little work may be fatigued. He is quite likely to be fatigued when he isn't getting enough food, or when his personal hygiene isn't all that should be.

Not enough rest is a common cause of chronic fatigue. Another is the burden imposed on the constitution by chronic infectious processes, by so-called foci of infection, such as abscessed teeth, diseased tonsils and sinus infections.

Given a healthy constitution and good mental hygiene, the likelihood of unreasonable fears developing is greatly reduced. When it comes to "weighing the risks involved" and "thanking the matter through," the individual obviously is affected by the state of his physical vigor. It's like playing chess. Before moving he must consider the remote as well as the immediate consequences likely to result. Naturally, such a study of all the elements concerned is best accomplished when the individual's senses are keen and when he has enough energy available for the task.

If he is fatigued, he probably lacks the strength required. He does not see things as he normally would.

er touches his hat to a priest, stenographers, cashiers, bookkeepers, insurance salesmen hurry past each other to the lanes that will take them out of the city.

Ringing this unbelievable arena are a hundred new shops with enticing wares. In one place, "invisible weaving" will remedy that torn trousers' leg while you wait. If a corn on your third toe is acting up, a chiropodist is handy to scrape it off.

Ex-Mayor Walker and present Mayor LaGuardia pass within arm's length of one another but are prevented from speaking by a rushing crowd. that Shirley (Freddie, Jane, Sybil, et al) is not a midget, but in the Orient some of the fans find it difficult to believe. It was the same way with Jackie Cooper, who has finally downed the rumor most logically by growing into strapping young manhood. Jackie Coogan, before Cooper, followed the same course.

Simon Simon, who is not a midget, is sometimes accused of being an American girl who took the French name and background because she couldn't make the grade. If it happened to be true, Simone is my candidate for the Academy award for distinguished performance of a difficult role.

Recently, in a Culver City restaurant whose walls are plastered with portraits and stills of movie celebrities, I thought I had the answer and a story. The girl in that group of players in some forgotten film was unmistakably Simone—until you looked very closely and learned that in this instance Simone was pronounced Myrna Loy.

No Hunting Allowed
Henry Hathaway would forbid buffalo hunting on the "Souls at Sea" location even if Catalina Island authorities permitted it.

The director brought out 10 of them from Yellowstone in 1926 for added scenes on "The Thundering Herd," and when the picture was finished the company sent them to the island. The herd now numbers 50, says Gary Cooper.

Hathaway, who had forgotten about them until Cooper reminded him, felt such a personal interest that he posted a "no buffalo-hunting" sign on the daily call sheet.

Which was a nice sentiment, however unnecessary.

Talks to parents

By Brooke Peters Church

In this day of excessive manicuring, everyone's attention is naturally drawn to the hands. One notices them if they are not made up, because then they are exceptional, and of course one's eyes are attracted to them if they are tended and cared for and emphasized by enamelled nails. But the hand's formation is a clue to character.

Whether one uses or can use one's hands, and how, has a great deal to do with one's mental development. The smooth, flabby hand of which many women are so proud often betrays a personality only partially developed. The really beautiful hand is fully developed, muscular and thin.

Long tapering fingers do not necessarily mean artistic ability. The artist's hand is apt to be broad and thick in the palm from muscular development, and is always extraordinarily strong.

The earlier in life that hand training is started, the better. The very little child should be encouraged to use his hands when he plays. He should be given fewer mechanical toys that run themselves, and more toys that require constructive ability. As he grows older, blocks, pencils and paper, hammer, saw, nails and lumber, needles and thread and scissors should become part of his equipment and care should be taken that he use all of these tools and becomes skilled in their use.

Girls and boys should be taught to value and care for their hands, not from the standpoint of beauty but of perfection as tools. If they are trained to function perfectly, real beauty will almost certainly follow, and surely the owner of these exquisite instruments will be a more rounded and complete person than the pampered darling whose hands are "beautiful but dumb."

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What proportion of the prison population eventually returns to the world? C. R.
A. About 92 per cent. Only eight per cent die in prison or serve out the full natural life sentence.

Q. How much older than Peggy Eaton was John Randolph? J. W. Z.
A. He was about 22 years older. Randolph was born in 1773 and Margaret O'Neill, who became Mrs. Eaton, in 1796.

Q. Please give a biography of Ambassador Jusserand. H. L. A.
A. Jean Adrien Antoine Jules Jusserand was born at Lyon, France, in 1855. He was educated at Lyon and Paris, and entered the foreign office in 1876. He was councillor of the French embassy at London from 1887 to 1890 and Minister to Denmark from 1892 to 1902, when he was appointed French ambassador to the United States. In this post he served more than 20 years. He died in 1932.

Q. Are most people out of work or on relief in the middle-aged class? R. T.
A. A WPA study of workers on relief in 79 cities in 1934 showed that persons who had been out of work a long time were largely past 45 and 50. The ones who had been unemployed only a year or two were generally in the class under 40 years. The same conditions continue to be shown in cities where the survey has been maintained.

Q. How many tourists visit Hawaii in a year? P. D.
A. Last year, about 20,000 tourists visited Hawaii.

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY

Chapter VIII

Pearl John's announcement came like a thunderbolt. For a minute, the usually self-sufficient Professor Shaw seemed at a loss for a reply. Finally he said slowly:

"No, Pearl John, I have not forgotten that the knife was on the desk in my room. I stepped out for a minute to get a towel to wipe off the lens of the microscope, and when I came back, the article was gone. I supposed that Pearl Sam had taken it to put it back in the safe, and I went in search of him to tell him I was not yet through with my examination. He was nowhere to be found. Shortly afterward, we were served dinner in our room for the party guests had begun to arrive."

"Okay," was Pearl John's short reply. Then he added, as the professor started out of the door. "My brother and I have talked this over. Professor Shaw, and we wish you to omit any further scientific activities until this thing is cleared up."

"Certainly." The archeologist bowed and took his departure.

"That bird's as guilty as hell," exclaimed Ramon, turning to Pearl John. "All you need to do is tell the sheriff of the conversation and the case is as good as over." Pearl John smiled at his own remark. "Maybe," he said, "but I'm not sure of that as you are. There are a good many things we cannot yet understand. Pearl Pierre thinks it would be more fitting if all 50. The ones who had been unemployed only a year or two were generally in the class under 40 years. The same conditions continue to be shown in cities where the survey has been maintained."

get away from here, Ramon, quick—today!"
"There, there, dear," he slipped an arm about her shaking shoulders. Just as soon as the officers came from town, he will have to leave right away. Until then, you've got me, you know—and Bob, too."

The girl managed a smile at the thought of two men to lean on, but her white face told that the strain she was under was very real, and Bob felt a wave of pity for her. After all, she was young and appealing, and it was a rotten mess for anyone, especially a girl.

True to his word, after lunch Ramon did have a long talk with Pearl Pierre in his office, but when Bob asked about it, he only growled and shook his head.

Toward evening Pearl Pierre sent word for the whole family to gather in the family chapel for a short service in honor of the dead. The body of Pearl Sam had been placed on a low couch before the altar. Bob waited until he had been alone with Pearl Pierre and followed into the dimly lighted chapel room.

It was not unlike other small chapels he had seen in Spanish houses in New Mexico, but this was the first he had ever entered and under such strange circumstances. Instinctively, each pair of eyes turned toward the altar and a sudden hush came over the room.

The couch which should have held Pearl Sam's body was empty!

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

What's the outlook for the steel industry? Insiders say that operations will run high for the balance of the month. January is usually one of seasonal decline. This is not expected to be so in 1937. Around the middle of January rail orders are expected in volume. They are expected to be so large that they will take up the slack usually witnessed in February. Steel trade insiders don't see any let-up of favorable operations over the next eight to ten weeks.

BETTER. Commission houses are again receiving inquiries on Texas & Pacific Railway. The shares recently moved to a new high for the year. Buying is based on the knowledge that revenue improvements continue at a better rate than had been anticipated. This due to the increased handling of crude and refined petroleum reflecting the prosperous condition of the oil industry. Texas & Pacific is one of the few carriers which covered fixed charges all thru the depression years. Income for 1936 should better $1.50 a common share.

UNSEASONED. National Bond & Investment is a newcomer to the big board. The company is placed in the group dominated by Commercial Investment Trust and Commercial Credit. National Bond is primarily engaged in the financing of wholesaling of automobiles. Its capitalization consists of 100,000 shares of preferred and 200,000 shares of common. Net profit for 1936 is estimated at close to $3.50 a share. But being somewhat unseasoned in the trading market, security buyers aren't taking positions.

FACTS. 1937 building seen restricted because costs top those of 1929. Since 1933 China has purchased 399 planes and 264 airplane engines from American aircraft manufacturers—112 planes and 157 engines taken this year. Continental Can to build a manufacturing plant at Tampa, Fla.—will cover 45 acres having 70,000 square feet of floor space and will cost about $500,000. Chicago Board of Trade admitted 87 new members this year—20 below age of 30 and three above the 70-year mark. The annual capacity output of all steel mills in this country is estimated at 71,000,000 tons of 2,240 pounds each—trade doesn't expect 100 per cent capacity to be reached even during 1937. United States automobile manufacturers almost monopolize the sales market of South America. The Bureau of Agriculture sees larger orange crops over the next five years. The 1936 population

Q. What part did Kenneth L. Anderson, for whom Anderson county and the town of Anderson were named, have in Texas history? B. S. A. He came to Texas in 1837 and settled at San Augustine. He was a collector of customs, district attorney, member and speaker of Congress, vice-president and candidate for president at time of his death. He practiced law at Nacogdoches with Thomas J. Rusk and J. Pinckney Henderson.

Q. When did Gen. Arlan Woll invade Texas and with what result? P. R. A. With a force of about 1,200 to 1,500 Mexicans, Gen. Woll, a Frenchman in the Mexican service, surprised Texans by marching into San Antonio about daybreak on Sept. 11, 1842, where he was encountered by a small armed force of civilians who were expecting a band of robbers. Under a Texas surrender and Woll took 53 prisoners, including officers of the district court, then in session, and had them marched in chains to the fortified prison in Perote, Mexico.

Q. For whom was the town of Chapel Hill named? R. H. A. For Robert Wooding Chapel who was born in Halifax county, Va., May 14, 1782, and located in Washington county about 1840 and established the town. The postoffice department dropped the "p" from the name.

Q. The law of April 6, 1830, was passed by Mexico to keep Texas under better control. What were its provisions? S. R. B. A. It attempted to provide for (a) military occupation of Texas; (b) imposition of customs duties; (c) exclusion of slavery; (d) prohibition of further immigration from the United States. These were mainly the provisions to which the colonists objected.

"TEXAS EMPIRE BUILDERS OF '36" Every man, woman and child in Texas should know the principal events of the momentous period of Texas history from March 1 to April 21, 1836—events that changed the shape and the destiny of the United States.

The facts essential to this understanding are briefly set forth in a 32 page booklet entitled "Texas Empire Builders of '36," telling of the stirring days which all Texans, native and adopted, are celebrating in 1936.

The booklet will be mailed postpaid for 10 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Tex.

FIRST STATE CHAMP GRID GAME TO BE PLAYED PANHANDLE SATURDAY

KERRVILLE TO PLAY SANDIES AT AMARILLO

BOTH CLUBS UNBEATEN AND UNTIED; PLAINS TEAM FAVORED

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT. DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—Headed north with intentions of breaking up a violation of football's "anti-trust" laws, Kerrville's little band of "Iron Men" today moved to...

Not for 15 years has a South Texas team won a title and Tivy's Antlers, idols of a student body of 240, intend to do something about that...

Usually a running team, Amarillo is expected to repeat its aerial dose against Kerrville and its husky forward wall. In contrast, Kerrville, not much at passing, will make its offensive threats from a single-wing back formation with slippery Roy Holbrook, South Texas prize running back, the spearhead.

Seats were fast disappearing today and Amarillo officials predicted a complete sellout of some 17,000 tickets before game-time.

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF. DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—Football's final for the Texas Interscholastic League's seventeenth season will be played Saturday at Butler Field, Amarillo, the first time a state championship game has gone to the Panhandle.

Amarillo's mighty Golden Tide will roll against Kerrville's iron men in one of the most colorful schoolboy football games in Texas.

The Golden Sandies reached the finals last week by defeating North Side of Fort Worth, 20-12. Kerrville, surprise team of the race, took out Port Arthur 20-7.

Amarillo will be driving for a third straight championship which would tie the record made by Waco in 1925, 1926 and 1927. Kerrville never before got outside its district.

Pasadena Tilt May Be Battle Between Lines

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 24 (AP)—The rumbling uproar you may hear on the afternoon of New Year's day will be nothing more than a terrific collision between the front line troops of Pittsburgh and Washington in Pasadena's famed football arena, the Rose Bowl.

The commotion should be tremendous, the havoc dreadful, and judging by the sounds emanating from the respective training camps of Pitt and Washington, the results spectacular.

Dr. Jock Sutherland, rated one of the best guards in Pitt history in his playing days, has since taken especial pains to fashion good, solid forward walls. On the whole he has two 180-pounders, Fabian Hoffman and Bill Daddio, sophomores. Hoffman was good enough to beat out a regular, and Daddio made Ohio State and Nebraska owe him yardage.

Verrill Daniell, 197, at right tackle, and Tony Mattsi, 212, both built close to the ground as are most of Sutherland's Panthers, merited all-American mention. Dante Dale Tezze, Bill Glassford, Albin Lezowski and another youngster or two scale around 190 in a friendly fight to occupy the guard positions.

The weakest point in the line is at center, which caused Sutherland to make over Henry Adams from a sub end in 1935. Adams weighs around 188.

Coach Jimmy Phelan has one of the best all-time fluky lines, starting with a crack pair of ends in Frank Peters and Dick Johnson, who scale 184 and 172, and two of the best tackles on the west coast in Vic Markov, 205, and Chuck Bond, 210.

Phelan has a nationally-noted guard in 200-pound Max Starevich, and Steve Slivinski, 194, fills the center berth capably. John Wistrak, 200-pound center, gained all-coast conference recognition in many quarters.

With the Jim Braddock-Max Schmeling hullabaloo apparently quieted for the time being by Der Maxie's quick trans-Atlantic trip, attention is centered on the proposed Louis-Pastor bout next month.

The rival promoters, Mike Jacobs and Madison Square Garden's Jimmy Johnson, whose differences are holding up the negotiations, were scheduled for another conference today. Jacobs is insisting on an option on Pastor's services for three years if he should beat Louis, and the Garden is insistent against such a demand.

Harvesters' Scoring Slump Continues As Groom Wins

The Harvesters continued in their offensive slump but regained a little defensive form last night in losing a 20 to 10 game to the Groom Tigers in Groom. The Harvesters were without Noblitt, star center, who was working and unable to make the trip.

Tigers Capture 20-10 Game on Tigers Court

Coach Odus Mitchell announced today that workouts would be held at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday and Monday when the offense will be changed. On Tuesday night he will take the team to Perryton for a return game. It was against the Rangers here last week that the Harvesters showed their best form.

While the Harvesters were stopping Wilson, hot-shot of the game here Tuesday night, won by Groom 30 to 20. Townsend, the other forward, broke loose to score 14 of his team's points.

Only three field goals were registered by the Mitchellmen. Albert Ayer, defensive star of the game, missed eight consecutive free shots.

The team, green to begin with, started out by being able to make baskets. Then came the usual slump of a new aggregation of players. That period usually lasts a couple of weeks and then the going gets smoother.

By next week Coach Mitchell should have his quintet on the up again. Starters last night were Dewey and Cox, forwards, Reynolds, center, Ayer and Heiskell, guards. Enoch and Kilgore were substitutes.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY SCOTTY RESTON. (FINCH-HITTING FOR EDDIE BRIETS.) NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—A wreath lies this Christmas Eve on the grave of W. L. (Young) Stripling, and on the wreath a card, which reads: "In fond memory of days spent together in loving friendship."

Christmas Note: Three days on this column and what do we get? A bird, from some malicious pail... Princeton has at last taken revenge for that 26-23 football defeat at the hands of Yale...

President Braniff said at Oklahoma City the incident was "the funniest thing in the world from our policies." All of the victims were married. Funeral services will be held today for Florence with burial at Rockwall, home of his parents. Walbridge was survived also by three children and Chambers by one. Daane was married last June. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Daane of Grand Rapids, Mich., said the body would be brought there for burial.

Wise old Dame Nature seldom puts the heart of a killer in one of those giants. Willard had no great liking for the brutal business of boxing. His heart was never really in the game. The same thing is true of Torrance. They made a fighter out of him. What he knew about the ring game had to be drilled into him. He would have much preferred to rule as the football coach.

Mike Jacobs paid something like $2,500 for Torrance's signature. He painted a brilliant picture for the former L. S. U. athlete and Torrance hopped on the bandwagon. Jack has passed up many tempting wrestling offers to seek boxing honors. The wrestling game simply did not appeal to him.

The forward pass interference rule has caused widespread debate because of the part it has played in deciding games, said Schommer. "It's a good, fair rule and it emphasizes, more than does any other regulation, the need for officials to know their business."

"The reason referees last longer in football is because calling such decisions as interferences on passes falls on the umpires and field judges. Those officials are men who should have plenty of courage and should have played basketball as well as football. In a basketball game the officials constantly are ruling on the football type of pass interference play."

"The official must know whether the ball or man is being played by the defending players. He should be able to see if the intended receiver has been given an elbow in the chest, hand in the face, bump by the hips or stomach—and those things happen in fractions of seconds. If the official knows what he is doing and calls them right there will be fewer protests by irate coaches and fans."

It was just like Dizzy Dean to drum up a little noise during the intersectional high school football game between Turtle Creek, Pa., High and Florida Military Academy in St. Petersburg. Dean, given the job as honorary referee, cut in on the drum major, and is shown here strutting his stuff along with two sponsors of the game, Jane Piper, left, of Tyrone, Pa., and Virginia Loughnot, of Detroit.

broadcast the Pope's Christmas speech, informed sources said. Germany was the only large nation with which the Vatican has diplomatic relations which failed to re-transmit the speech.

Several days ago, Vatican diplomats asked several governments to arrange for the re-broadcast. However, Vatican sources said Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the reich's foreign minister, told the papal nuncio, Monsignor Orsenigo, this could not be done in Germany.

In Alabama, giving a bad check in payment for an open account or an old debt is not a law violation.

Speed Is Necessity It is pretty generally conceded that Jack Dempsey was just about the perfect piece of fighting machinery that torrid July afternoon in Tokyo when he battered the giant Willard to the canvas. Yet Dempsey weighed less than 100 pounds against the 245 Willard scaled.

Dempsey pretty well demonstrated that a boxer in the 200-pound class is big enough to whip any man. When a fighter goes beyond the 200-pound mark he sacrifices speed. And speed is paramount in the fight game—speed as well as speed in punching. Big, bulging muscles very often make a fighter formidable, but, as in the case of Carnera, they are much more conducive to effective punching. The giant Primo simply could not deliver his blows with the snap that made them damaging. Primo pushed, rather than snapped, his punches.

Unless all signs are misleading, Torrance is likely to be just the type of puncher agile athlete for his size. "For his size" might be enough to get him by against individuals of equal bulk, but it won't do when he steps out against a 200-pounder with far greater speed.

He Wants The Money It is doubtful the genial Torrance is really interested in fighting for any purpose other than to earn some quick money. If he has the temperament that goes to make up a successful fighter, he has failed to show it in the past.

Mike Jacobs paid something like $2,500 for Torrance's signature. He painted a brilliant picture for the former L. S. U. athlete and Torrance hopped on the bandwagon. Jack has passed up many tempting wrestling offers to seek boxing honors. The wrestling game simply did not appeal to him.

Enforcement of Grid Rules Is Game's Need BY EARL HILLIGAN. CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—John J. Schommer, dean of Western conference football officials, believes courageous enforcement, rather than change, is the principal need of football rules today.

Schommer, a brilliant end at the University of Chicago under Amos Alonzo Stagg during the days of the great Wally Steffen and Walter Eckersall and for 27 years a football official, foresees much discussion on grid rules when football coaches meet in New York Dec. 28. The coaches have a committee which can make recommendations to the rules committee meeting held early in 1937.

"The forward pass interference rule has caused widespread debate because of the part it has played in deciding games, said Schommer. "It's a good, fair rule and it emphasizes, more than does any other regulation, the need for officials to know their business."

"The reason referees last longer in football is because calling such decisions as interferences on passes falls on the umpires and field judges. Those officials are men who should have plenty of courage and should have played basketball as well as football. In a basketball game the officials constantly are ruling on the football type of pass interference play."

It was just like Dizzy Dean to drum up a little noise during the intersectional high school football game between Turtle Creek, Pa., High and Florida Military Academy in St. Petersburg. Dean, given the job as honorary referee, cut in on the drum major, and is shown here strutting his stuff along with two sponsors of the game, Jane Piper, left, of Tyrone, Pa., and Virginia Loughnot, of Detroit.

Enforcement of Grid Rules Is Game's Need BY EARL HILLIGAN. CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—John J. Schommer, dean of Western conference football officials, believes courageous enforcement, rather than change, is the principal need of football rules today.

broadcast the Pope's Christmas speech, informed sources said. Germany was the only large nation with which the Vatican has diplomatic relations which failed to re-transmit the speech.

Several days ago, Vatican diplomats asked several governments to arrange for the re-broadcast. However, Vatican sources said Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the reich's foreign minister, told the papal nuncio, Monsignor Orsenigo, this could not be done in Germany.

In Alabama, giving a bad check in payment for an open account or an old debt is not a law violation.

Speed Is Necessity It is pretty generally conceded that Jack Dempsey was just about the perfect piece of fighting machinery that torrid July afternoon in Tokyo when he battered the giant Willard to the canvas. Yet Dempsey weighed less than 100 pounds against the 245 Willard scaled.

Dempsey pretty well demonstrated that a boxer in the 200-pound class is big enough to whip any man. When a fighter goes beyond the 200-pound mark he sacrifices speed. And speed is paramount in the fight game—speed as well as speed in punching. Big, bulging muscles very often make a fighter formidable, but, as in the case of Carnera, they are much more conducive to effective punching. The giant Primo simply could not deliver his blows with the snap that made them damaging. Primo pushed, rather than snapped, his punches.

Unless all signs are misleading, Torrance is likely to be just the type of puncher agile athlete for his size. "For his size" might be enough to get him by against individuals of equal bulk, but it won't do when he steps out against a 200-pounder with far greater speed.

He Wants The Money It is doubtful the genial Torrance is really interested in fighting for any purpose other than to earn some quick money. If he has the temperament that goes to make up a successful fighter, he has failed to show it in the past.

Mike Jacobs paid something like $2,500 for Torrance's signature. He painted a brilliant picture for the former L. S. U. athlete and Torrance hopped on the bandwagon. Jack has passed up many tempting wrestling offers to seek boxing honors. The wrestling game simply did not appeal to him.

Wise old Dame Nature seldom puts the heart of a killer in one of those giants. Willard had no great liking for the brutal business of boxing. His heart was never really in the game. The same thing is true of Torrance. They made a fighter out of him. What he knew about the ring game had to be drilled into him. He would have much preferred to rule as the football coach.
