Sentimental Gift Goes With New Leinsdorf Record

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—RCA Victor is doing a handsome thing with the first recording of the Boston Symphony with its new music director, Erich Leinsdorf, conducting.

With it goes a free record, of the Boston Symphony under Leinsdorf's predecessors, Charles Munch, Serge Koussevitzky, Pierre Monteux and Karl Muck. Leinsdorf's recording is of Bartok's Concerto for Orchestra. You're inclined to say he does it well until you remember this conductor does everything well, from the classical to the modern, from the big symphony to the big opera. Just the same he has deep and commanding knowledge of Bartok's individual qualities which are reflected in the performance.

The free record will have sentimental appeal to all those who have affection for this orchestra and these number almost every American who listens to music. Technically all the recordings have been outdated but you can hear plainly that it is the orchestra in various periods of its life (2643).

On one side of Otto Klemperer's new record is Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration" composed when he was 25 and on the other is Strauss' "Metamorphosen" composed when he was 81. Klemperer's orchestra was the Philharmonia of London and with this splendid instrument, he gave each piece its full due without striving to relate one to another.

Nor could he even if he had tried. "Metamorphosen" is a mending thought without structure and with little substance, as though the old man was using his creative faculties absent-mindedly. "Death and Transfiguration" is supercharged with metaphysics as well as sardonic sentimentality. It is precisely cut to a story-pattern, the Strauss of the tone-poems

Shostakovich's 5th Symphony, which is one of his most pleasantly engrossing from a listener's viewpoint, has been given two new and excellent recordings, one by the Vienna Philharmonic under Constanti Silvestri (Angel-35760); the other by L'Orchestre de la Suisse Romande under Istvan Kertesz (London-6327). It's hard to choose between them but this reviewer would choose the Kertesz one because that conductor was less careful and more venturesome.

walkout was ordered for this week but the time was not announced.

Nursing Care Techniques Outlined By Foundation

Dependency needs of nursing home patients are too great for a family alone to handle, according to Top O' Texas Foundation officials who issued a statement today in connection with the campaign to raise $300,000 for a Pampa nursing home.

The statement by the nursing home campaign officials follows: "To anyone who has not had firsthand experience in being around the very old or the chronically ill, there is a good chance that their performance in everyday living will be taken for granted."

"In general, nursing care techniques fall into five major categories. In each category the burden on the family if he is being cared for at the patient's own home, is often too severe to be best for either the patient or his family."

"The first category includes: feeding and dressing; care of hair and shaving; bathing and back rubs; posture, position and exercise; toileting and personal hygiene; recreation and relaxation.

"When one realizes the proportion of old people and chronically ill that are dependent upon others for assistance, he is better able to see the tremendous need for Nursing Homes.

"The second category includes activities which relate to the physiological and psychological needs of the patient to his or her health problem (e.g., enemas, oral medication, hypodermic or intramuscular injections and dressings).

"The third category includes medical treatments or procedures (e.g., collection of specimens, physical examinations, diagnostic measures, etc.)

"(The second and third category require a physician's written order and are usually delegated by the physician to a nurse.)

"(In a study of Nursing Homes by the U. S. Public Health Service in 13 states, approximately 15 per cent of the patients had not been seen by a physician for six months or more. Less than one-half had seen a physician in one month.)

"The fourth category includes activities concerned with teaching the patient self-care measures. This is a major component of nursing care of patients in nursing homes and is very time-consuming when attempted, if at all, by a member of the patient's family at his home.

"The fifth and last category includes such activities as observing and evaluating signs and symptoms of the patient's psychological and physiological responses.

"Although this category is a consistent process associated with activities in the other four, it requires separate emphasis and identification. Where there is known lack of medical supervision in the patient's own home, it becomes especially important for the patient to enter a nursing home."

Canine Underground Poses Problems To Harried Dog Warden

The job of the city dog warden is a difficult one.

Warden Buster Collins gets up early in the morning to work at it.

For instance, he was out in North Pampa in the Mary Ellen and Charles streets district between 6:30 a.m. and 7 a.m. today. There were dogs here and there and everywhere, he said.

But, he landed only one of them—a friendly coon dog.

The reason he only caught one, Collins figured, was that someone discovered his caged wagon on the street and the "underground" went into operation.

"You could hear men, women and boys calling their dogs all over the place," Collins said. "By the time I could get there, all dogs but this one apparently had been tucked away in their yards."

Buster says his lone captive apparently got loose. He was wearing a collar with a broken chain.

Midnight Ride Speakers Slated For Amarillo

AMARILLO (Sp) — Two of America's most outspoken anti-communist leaders have joined forces on a coast-to-coast speaking tour, and Amarillo will be one of the 27 major cities included in the five-week junket, extending from February 27 through April 3, to be called "Operation: Midnight Ride."

Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, Dallas, against whom a Federal grand jury in Mississippi recently refused to return an indictment in the Oxford, Miss., incident, and evangelist Billy James Hargis, Tulsa, director of the Christian Crusade anti-communist organization, will speak in Amarillo on Thursday, March 25, at the City Auditorium presenting a two-hour program which will start at 7:30 p.m.

General Walker will speak on the workings of communism on the international scene, while Rev. Hargis will deal with "Communism Internally." Admission will be $1 offering at the door, and local committees have been formed to publicize and promote attendance at the meeting.

In a joint statement, the two speakers declared, "Inspired by the midnight ride of Paul Revere in 1775, we are taking this means to warn the American people of the dangers from within and from without, in time for the Nation to shake itself from its lethargy. The liberal brainwashing we have had for more than 30 years has finally softened the American people until the will to resist is almost a thing of the past. If we are to survive, there must be a sharp awakening immediately."

"WHERE'S CHLOE?"—Fellow logging the plants might be wading through a moss-festooned bayou. Again, he might have just stepped off an ice floe. What he is doing is walking through deep, rich loam in order to plant those bushes at a flower and garden show in Chicago's new McCormick Place exhibition hall.

Space Project May Be Delayed For Two Years

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR. CAFE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The first U. S. attempts to link up two objects in orbit—a critical step toward development of manned space stations—probably will be delayed until 1965, it was indicated today.

This is a key goal that the Soviet Union came without four miles of achieving last August.

Jerome B. Hammack and Walter J. Kapryan of the federal space agency said today that attempts to "rendezvous" a manned space capsule and an unmanned target object in orbit "should begin with about the fifth flight" in Project Gemini, American's newest man-in-space program.

Hammack and Kapryan presented their paper today before the opening session of a three-day space flight testing conference sponsored by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

The Gemini capsules will carry two-man teams of U. S. astronauts into orbit. The first manned flights in the new program are not expected until the middle of 1964, and the fifth flight could not come before 1965.

As planned now, the "rendezvous" attempt will involve launching an unmanned Agena-D upper stage into orbit aboard an Atlas rocket, and then sending the two-man Gemini team into space about 24 hours later to try to link up with it.

Eventually, the United States hopes to put huge space stations in orbit around earth to accommodate perhaps as many as 20 men. This cannot be accomplished until the technique of hooking pieces of gear together in building-block fashion in space has been proven.

Russia indicated it was working toward such a manned space station when it sent cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich within four miles of each other aboard their spaceships in orbit last summer.

CHARGE MILITARY BUILDUP
TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China charged today that the United States "is making a deal" with India to turn that nation into a Western military base.

The Communist Peking Radio, monitored here, charged that U.S. arms aid to India after the invasion by China is aimed at securing "maximum control of India at a minimum price."

Appreciation Of Art Is Topic For TC Meeting

Mrs. Paul Harbaugh introduced the program on the "History Of Art" at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Club held in the home of Mrs. Roy McKernan, 1305 Charles.

She began by saying "We feel that the enjoyment of art comes first and easily and we emphasize the implications of the word enjoyment. When you see a picture and take pleasure in its contemplation, enjoyment results. When we see a painting in terms of age, the atmosphere, the circumstances which produced it, then we are coming closer to a true appreciation and our experience is bound to be a richer one."

Mrs. Joe Gordon showed illustrations from the collection of paintings, sculptures and other works of art in America's National Gallery in Washington, D. C. Slides were shown dating from 1100 to contemporary times.

She pointed out how in the 12th century paintings had no form; were stiff and flat. "Later a sense of life showed in the pictures. The Italian Renaissance represented nature more convincingly and harmoniously. Portraiture, which the Middle Ages neglected, was reborn in the 15th Century. In the 17th century, artists experimented in painting emotion. Realistic art grew popular after the mid-nineteenth century."

"Renoir," Mrs. Gordon said, "represents the gay atmosphere which makes impressionist pictures so popular today. The modern way of looking at a painting has affected our whole view of art and we approach even the old masters with a new interest in the way they solved the problems of color and composition."

In concluding, Mrs. Gordon said, "Artists tell us how men have seen the world at different times. But their works are not merely historical documents, they can also be enjoyed independently for they are among man's greatest spiritual achievements."

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mmes. F. M. Culbertson, W. R. Campbell, L. F. Branson, Raymond Harrah, G. M. Hicks, V. J. Jamieson, R. H. Sanford, R. W. Stowers, Jack Stroup, David Tucker and a guest, Mrs. Herbert Putnam of Pueblo, Colo.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. H. E. Stanfield, Mrs. Jim O'Connor was welcomed as a new inactive member.

Mrs. Tom Rose reminded members that the Top Of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will convene for its third annual convention on April 2-3 in Holliday West Inn, Amarillo.

Mrs. Jack Foster announced that Carver High school had chosen "Our Rights and Our Responsibilities" as the subject for the annual essay contest sponsored by Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. Bill Roots reported that a water color, painted by Kay Hubbard, a senior in Pampa High School, had been selected as an entry for the Hallmark Contest at the district meeting.

Special guests were Nu Phi Muses, Carolyn Johnson, Ann Chambers, Lou Ann Blakemore, Marcia Stout, Linda Smith, Donna Johnson, Evelyn Edwards, Linda Moore and Phyllis Taylor. Miss Ann LeBlanc was welcomed as a transferee from Shamrock.

Door prize was won by Mrs. Raymond Williams.

Refreshments of ribbon sandwiches and dip were served from a table centered with a large Shamrock surrounded by Ivy.

Hostesses were Mmes. John Langford, Doug McBride, Harold Lewis, assisted by Mmes. Haldane Suttle, John Conway and Bob Rogers.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Suttle, president, it was announced a Couples Covered Dish Supper will be held March 23 at 7 p.m. in the Little Red School House.

Dear Abby....
While Kneeling Pray For Better Sense

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been officially engaged (with a two-carat ring) to the same girl three times. Each time she has given me the ring back and says she's changed her mind. She never has a reason. She just changes her mind. I have literally gotten down on my hands and knees and BEGGED her to marry me. I don't want to be put off any longer. She's not a child. She's 24 and I am 25. I am crazy about this girl and want to know how I can get her to marry me tomorrow.

room at school bought herself a dime-store ring and is telling everyone that her "boy friend" gave it to her. She says she can't tell us his name, but he goes to another school. Abby, she doesn't have a boy friend because no one is always alone. She doesn't even have a girl friend. How can we prove she is lying?

HATES LIARS

DEAR HATES: It's easier to hate than to understand. The girl is lonely. And she's ashamed that she has neither girl friends nor a boy friend. Be kind to her. She needs it.

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: You can't. It takes three days for a blood test in your state. Furthermore, any fellow who has to get down on his hands and knees and BEG a girl to marry him should pray for better sense while he's in that position.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby for a personal-reply enclosure self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's Booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3965, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Manners Make Friends

DEAR ABBY: Judging from the phone calls he gets, a married man in our office apparently has a girl friend. She calls the office and leaves her number for him to call back. Yesterday the man's wife called and said she suspected a woman was making contact with her husband at the office, and she asked if there had been any numbers left for him to call. The girl who answered the phone lied for the man and said no. I think she was wrong to protect a dirty, rotten home-wrecker. I have that number and am ready to call the wife and give it to her. My husband told me to keep my nose out of it. Should I?

HATES CHEATERS

DEAR HATES: Yes. Your husband is right.

DEAR ABBY: A girl in our

The Almanac

By United-Press International
Today is Tuesday, March 19, the 78th day of the year with 287 to follow in 1963. The fabled swallows of Capistrano usually return to the old mission in California on this day.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:
In 1917, labor scored an important victory as the U.S. Supreme Court ruled constitutional an act that provided for an eight-hour working day on the railroads.

In 1920, the United States rejected the Versailles Treaty which set up the League of Nations.

In 1942, all men in the United States between the ages of 45 and 64 were ordered to register with Selective Service for non-military duty.

In 1962, Argentine President Frondizi took over control of several provinces to prevent Peronists from assuming power in areas where they scored election victories.

Keene, Texas, a town founded by Seventh Day Adventists in 1890, is said to be the only community in the United States where the post office is open on Sunday.

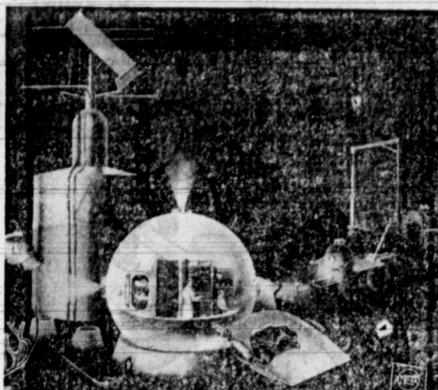

Heavy seas battering Coast Guard cutter Pontchartrain on weather station in the Atlantic conceal an underwater world with vast treasure and potentials for mankind.

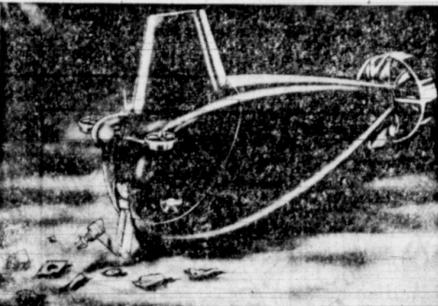

'Inner Space' - Seas' Vital Secret Realm

Exploration of the underwater world is equal in importance to the present all-out probing of space. So say oceanographers, who envision a vast trove of food, minerals and new technologies ready for the tapping in, and beneath, the earth's seas. Not overlooked is the necessity for developing new underwater military skills. Some of the new developments and fields of investigation, under way or being considered, are illustrated here with photos from the periodical, Undersea Technology.

Nuclear reactor, left, crew quarters, center, research vehicle, right, could form nucleus of undersea community.

Two-man, 10-ton undersea research vehicle will someday permit Navy oceanographic research of ocean's floor.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The British Embassy said Monday that Ambassador Sir David Ormsby-Fore's lost gasoline credit card had been used by someone to charge at least $150 worth of gas, oil, tires and auto repairs.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTERETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "false odor breath." Get PASTERETH at drug counters everywhere.

APPROVES CHARTER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House approved and sent to the Senate Monday legislation to charter the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

House passage came by voice vote after Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, got assurance that the foundation would stay out of politics. Under the charter the foundation would solicit private contributions for charitable and educational work.

Pampa To Play Hereford Today

The Pampa Harvesters will try to even their baseball record at Hereford Whitefaces at Optimist Park at 4 p.m. today.

Last Saturday's 12-inning marathon loss to Dumas, 5-3, caused several changes in the Pampa lineup due to minor injuries. Second baseman Ricky Stewart received a minor spike wound, which will keep him out of action, except for possible pinchhitting duties, reported coach Ray Howard. It is hoped that Stewart will be recovered in time for Friday's rematch at Hereford.

Vann To Start

Kyle Vann will be the probable second-base replacement, with Jerry Glover possibly seeing some action at the spot also. Glover is expected to have to fill in at first base however, as Steve Molberg jammed his thumb, and was unable to swing a bat comfortably yesterday. Howard said that Ricky Maynard may see first base action instead.

Stewart's leadoff ability will be missed in the batting however, as the little-second sacker has reached base successfully five times in 10 appearances at the plate, getting two hits and drawing three bases on balls. Vann, who has a .300 batting average, will take his leadoff spot.

Figures after two practice games with Berger and the 12-inning 5-3 loss to Dumas show All-District returnee Glover as both the batting and fielding star. In seven official at-bats, Jerry has connected for four hits, three of them long doubles, and has driven in four runs. Dumas, in the 12th inning, walked Glover rather than pitch to the all-round Harvester ace. In the pitching department, Glover has hurled 15 innings, given up 11 hits, walked six and hit two batters, but has struck out 16 and given up only four earned runs, all of them picked up by Dumas as Glover went the route a game at a time.

Weather Important

Howard said that today's starting pitcher will depend strictly on the weather. "If the wind is blowing to help a right-hander's curve, we'll probably start Jim Arthur," said the Harvester diamond mentor. "If it is blowing the other way, we'll either start Lefty Garrison or Carl Harnsberger, with Harnsberger the best bet. Although he is a righty, Carl is a sidearmer, and his curve breaks in the opposite direction from a regular right-hander's curve. If the wind is strong and variable, I may start relief pitcher Dee Wright as he has the best control, and the wind could make for a lot of walks."

Hereford went down to a 24-1 crushing at the hands of visiting Tascosa last Friday, with the Rebels scoring in every inning, to hand the Whitefaces their second loss in two starts. Hereford was scheduled to play Plainview Saturday, but the game was postponed because of the weather.

Six Pitchers

Hereford used six pitchers in the game, with Mike Ranspot, the starter, getting the loss, Tascosa collected three home runs in the game as Ranspot was relieved in the third inning by Watts, with Bybee taking over in the same inning, Ramirez in the fifth, Kendrick in the sixth and Cain in the seventh. Since none of the Whiteface hurlers went more than two innings, anyone of them could be called upon to pitch the game.

Butts' Attorneys Demand Post Story Retraction

ATLANTA (UPI)—An attorney for former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts Monday night demanded that the Saturday Evening Post retract and correct an article entitled "The Story of a Football Fix" in its current publication.

The lawyer, William H. Schroder Jr., also requested the magazine in a telegram to print an editorial specifically repudiating the article which accuses Butts and Alabama football coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of conspiring to rig the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game.

Schroder said, however, that he will file a libel suit, probably for $10 million, against the Post regardless of any subsequent action in the matter by the magazine. He said the telegram was a formality required by Georgia law as a basis for seeking punitive action.

Sept. 22 game which Alabama won 35-0.

Burnett said Monday he was motivated only by "an impulsive desire that the truth be known" when he revealed the alleged telephone conversation, and he felt the "truth will be eventually told in full" after an investigation.

Investigations Under Way

A number of investigations were under way. Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook began a probe Monday, the FBI said it has made "preliminary inquiries"; and a spokesman said the Senate Racetrack subcommittee would look into the matter.

Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) also was conducting an investigation. The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) said it was awaiting word from Moore.

"We have been in close communication with the commissioner of the SEC, who had the report under investigation for some time," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA. "For the present, we have no further comment to make."

Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers said the Post article "is not sufficient to warrant an investigation" by his office.

Wildcats 2nd In Amarillo Track Meet

Carver High School of Pampa finished second in the Carver Relays at Amarillo this weekend reported track coach Joe Snell.

Host Amarillo Carver won the meet, with the Wildcats second, beating Levelland by a quarter of a point. Amarillo finished on top with 126 points, Pampa had 78 1/2, and Levelland 78 1/2 points to top the 16-team field.

James Tucker and Jesse Washington led the way for the locals as Tucker won the broad jump with a leap of 18'4" and was second in the high hurdles, clocked in 17.1. Tucker also ran a leg on the fourth-place mile relay team. Washington was second in the mile in 5:34.7, third in the pole vault, fourth in the high hurdles, and fifth in the high jump.

Tommy Murray also picked up a major share of points with a 10.1 in the 100-yard dash for second, ran on the 440 relay team, which finished fourth, and was fifth in the 220-yard dash. James Mathis won the low hurdles in 23.0, and was second in the shot with 41'6".

Jerry Holt, Charlie Walker and James Mathis rounded out the sprint relay team and Ronald Woods, Curtis Eastman and Ronald Dumm the mile relays. Dumm also placed fourth in the mile and Eastman fourth in the low hurdles.

Other Carver point-getters were Tim Woods, sixth in the 440; Walker, sixth in the 220; and Jimmy Brown and Robert Melton, third and fourth in the high jump.

Quotes Insurance Man

Both Butts, who resigned last month to end a 25-year era at Georgia, and Bryant have denied the allegation in the March 23rd edition of the Post. The article said George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance man, through some communications break, was cut into a long distance telephone conversation between Butts and Bryant last Sept. 14. Burnett, according to the article, said he heard Butts giving Bryant Georgia's offensive plays and other strategy for the

Friars Take On Miami U

NEW YORK (UPI) — Powerful Providence College makes its fifth straight appearance in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament tonight against Miami of Florida in a quarter-final game at Madison Square Garden.

In the opening quarter-final contest, fast-breaking Marquette upset St. Louis, both Miami and St. Louis were shaky first round survivors, making second-seeded Providence and third-seeded Marquette the favorites to advance into Thursday's semi-finals.

Providence, which won the NIT title in 1961 but was knocked out in the first round last year, carries a 12-game winning streak against sun-tanned Miami. The Friars from Rhode Island will be seeking to avenge a regular season loss to the Hurricanes.

Tonight's winners will meet on Thursday night and flu-ridden Canisius will take on red-hot Villanova in semi-final round games. The final will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. EST and will be nationally televised.

At Buffalo, N. Y., four Canisius starters — Bill O'Connor, Tom Chester, Tony Gennari and Tim O'Mara — have been bedded with the flu. Coach Bob Mackinnon cancelled Monday's practice and ordered the players to rest.

Baseball Meeting Set At Hedley

MOBEETIE (Sp) — A district meeting to make up this season's baseball schedule will be held at Hedley at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, reported coach Paul Morris.

The four diamond teams, Mobeeite, Hedley, Quail and Sannorwood, will play a home-and-home series making six district games for each team.

Boyer Unanimous All-District 1-3A

PERRYTON (Sp) — Don Boyer of Perryton and Larry Lewis of Phillips were the only unanimous choices on the All-District 1-AAA basketball team.

Rounding out the starting five were 6-5 Kelly Baker and 6-4 Robbie Robinette of Dumas and 6-2 Dwight McGee of Hereford.

With the addition of 6-6 Boyer, the all-district team is probably one of the tallest in the state, with the exception of 5-9 sophomore Lewis.

Boyer spearheaded the Ranger attack at his post position, and finished first in the district scoring race with 173 points. He was the big gun in leading Perryton, in their first year in Triple-A to wins over co-champs Dumas and Hereford. He was outstanding in rebounding and in defense, holding the high-scoring Baker to his season scoring lows in their two meetings.

Tiny Lewis, the only non-senior on the starting quintet, was a sensation in his first year of high school play, finishing second in district scoring with 157 points with his deadly driving and outside sharpshooting.

Baker, an All-State selection last year, and third in district scoring with 138 points, led the defending state champs to a district playoff win over Hereford, but the Demons were knocked off in regional play this year.

Robinette, an all-around athlete, was right behind Baker in scoring with 125 points.

Making the second team were Jim Haney, 6-2, junior; and Ronnie Welty, 6-0, senior; both of Hereford; Mike Wendele, Dumas, 5-3, senior; Vic Hines, Levelland, 5-11, senior; and Larry Wood, Littlefield, 5-10, senior.

Perryton's playmaker, six-foot Roger Wright, made honorable mention; as did Danny Dawson of Phillips; Bruce Thompson of Littlefield; Butch Harrell of Levelland and Kenneth Bynum of Phillips.

Skins Get Sample

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Redskins, seeking to plug their porous secondary, today acquired defensive halfback Johnny Sample from the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed high draft choice.

Sample, a five-year veteran of the National Football League, originally played for the Baltimore Colts and went to the Steelers in 1961. The six-one, 205-pounder was injured most of last season but at one time was rated one of the finest wingbacks in the NFL.

"The secondary was a trouble spot for us last year," Redskins Coach Bill McPeak said. "I thought Sample was the best defensive back in the league with the Colts in 1961 and he should help us plenty."

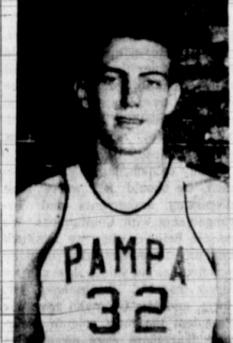

Nats-Royals NBA Starters

By United Press International

The National Basketball Association's post-season playoff opens in Syracuse, N.Y., tonight with the Syracuse Nationals facing the Cincinnati Royals in the first game of the Eastern Division's opening round.

The Nationals were favored to take the series despite the fact that the Royals won the teams' regular-season series, 7-5.

The Western Division playoffs start in St. Louis Wednesday night with the St. Louis Hawks playing the Detroit Pistons. The Eastern Division winner goes on to play the defending champion Boston Celtics while the Western Division victor faces the Los Angeles Lakers.

TO BE HONORED

Charlie Price, 6'2 1/2" junior, will be among the 10 Pampa High lettermen to be honored at the annual basketball banquet March 28. Charlie was the number-one reliever for the big men, taking over when the center or forwards ran into foul trouble or needed a rest. Charlie saw plenty of action, and was outstanding as a rebounder and defenser. He is slated for a starting forward spot next season.

Detroit Hot To Bag '68 Olympic Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit expressed confidence today that a "total effort" in money and manpower will convince the International Olympic Committee that the 1968 summer games should be held in Detroit.

Detroit won designation as the United States candidate from members of the U.S. Olympic Committee Board of Directors Monday but must still be approved by the international committee, which also will study bids from Mexico City, Buenos Aires, Lausanne, and Lyons, France.

Last Held In 1932

The Olympics have not been staged in the United States since 1932 when they were held in Los Angeles — one of the four cities which competed with Detroit Monday for the honor of being named the U.S. candidate for 1968. The IOC adopted a rule in 1950 that only one city from a country may bid for an Olympiad — and it must have the approval of its National Olympic Committee.

Informed sources say the IOC is inclined to select a non-United States city as the site for the 1968 Olympics but Gov. Romney and Mayor Cavanagh believe Detroit will make the best presentation to the IOC when it meets in Nairobi, Kenya, next October. "No U.S. city is better known through the world than Detroit,"

Sonny Must See Doctor

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — If Sonny Liston uses his knee as a reason for a second postponement of his heavyweight title fight with Floyd Patterson, he'd better be ready to sit still for an examination by a Miami Beach Boxing Commission doctor.

Commission Chairman Fred Aaronson said Monday he would not accept the examination of doctors in Chicago, where Liston went Sunday after apparently breaking up his training camp here.

"We have the right to examine the fighter, and under the contract we have the right to name the time and place for that examination," said Aaronson, whose commission contracted for the fight with the promoters and the fighters.

Representatives of champion Liston, ex-champion Patterson and Championship Sports, Inc., the promoting organization, are due to meet Wednesday to talk over the next step. No place or time has been set, however.

The fight first had been scheduled for April 4 at the Miami Beach Convention Hall, then was moved to April 10 because of Liston's trouble with his right knee, which he sprained posing with a golf club for a photographer.

The knee apparently buckled under the 225-pound-plus champion while he was working out last week.

While the hoopla over the fight went on, Patterson kept on training at his camp, set up at Tropical Park racetrack in Miami. He said he had signed up to fight Liston at Miami Beach and planned to keep it that way.

"Under the terms of the contract, I have the right to name the fight site. I've said it would be Miami Beach and I am prepared to wait for Liston here. This is as good a fight town as any," said the ex-champ.

He also pointed out that under the return contract he could get up to $1 million of Liston's future purses if Liston fought anyone else ahead of Patterson.

Borger Tennis Team Here

The Pampa High tennis team will host Borger today at 3 p.m. in their first home match. The Harvester netters won their first two matches and placed in the Phillips Tournament this week end. Action will be at the high school tennis courts with two boys singles matches, one boys doubles and one girls doubles and a girls singles tilt.

Borger finished fourth behind Pampa in this weekend Phillips Invitation Tennis Tournament.

Probable starting boys doubles team for Borger will be Marion Baxter and Ronnie Whittington. Sharon Howell and Gayla Jones, who won the girls consolation at Phillips will be the girls doubles team.

Mike Markee will probably face Thomas in singles, with Bess Stephens in girls singles. Bobo Harris of Borger will face Eugene Eads in B singles, with Bob Abel and Terry Kiewer, who won boys B doubles at Phillips, representing Borger, if Pampa has a B doubles team set for today.

The match was originally scheduled for yesterday, but was postponed because of bad weather and high winds.

Immortals Honored

BOSTON (UPI) — Ty Cobb, Joe DiMaggio and Babe Ruth were named today as the glittering outfield on an all-time American League all-star baseball team picked by the Academy of Sports Editors.

Also picked for the glamor squad by vote of 100 of the nation's leading sports editors were: Lou Gehrig 1b, Eddie Collins 2b, Jimmy Collins 3b, Joe Cronin ss, Mickey Cochrane catcher and Walter Johnson pitcher.

Thus all nine players picked by the editors were members of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Grapefruit League

By TIM MORIARTY
UPI Sports Writer

Pity the poor Los Angeles Dodgers.

They started the spring worrying about Sandy Koufax' sore left index finger. Now they're concerned about Tommy Davis' play around third base, which is beginning to stick out like a sore thumb.

Koufax again served notice that he has fully recovered from the circulatory trouble that sidelined him after mid-season last year by piling up 13 strikeouts in seven innings against the Chicago White Sox Monday at Sarasota, Fla.

Davis, though, hardly looked like a Pie Traynor or a Billy Cox. The All-Star left fielder, who is being tested at third base, set up three unearned runs with a wild throw in the third inning that led to a 5-4 victory for the White Sox.

A solo homer in the sixth inning by Deacon Jones provided the White Sox with their winning margin. It was the only earned run they collected off Koufax, who now has looked sharp in three straight spring tuneups.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston may be forced to switch Davis back to his normal outfield post if his erratic fielding starts to affect his hitting. Tommy won the NL batting title last season with a .346 average.

Casey Stengel, who should have such problems, enjoyed one of his rare days in the Florida sun Monday when he watched his New York Mets blank his old New York Yankees, 1-0, behind the combined five-hit pitching of Roger Craig and Al Jackson at St. Petersburg.

The Mets, held scoreless by Ralph Terry over the first six innings, pushed across the game's only run off Hal Reniff in the seventh on a hit batsman, an error by Tony Kubek and a single by Larry Burright.

Catcher John Orsino, obtained from the San Francisco Giants in an off-season deal, hit three consecutive home runs off lefty Jim O'Toole to give the unbeaten Baltimore Orioles their ninth straight victory — a 4-3 decision over the Cincinnati Reds at Tampa.

Why Not Teach Facts Of IRS Life In Schools?

A young man we know has struck up a nodding acquaintance with the Internal Revenue Service and the ubiquitous Form 1040. He is not pleased with what he has found.

Why, he asks, should you pay a higher percentage of your income just because you make more? He is of the opinion that this is similar to charging you for a can of beans or loaf of bread according to how much money you earn.

This fellow, obviously, is not going to fall into step comfortably with whatever version of the New Frontier is extant when his time comes to join the ranks. Already he has begun to suspect.

It might be well for high schools to introduce students to Form 1040, with, by, for and in spite of which they will spend their adult lives. We recommend it as a study in mathematics, semantics and advanced lunacy.

The high school student is accustomed to — if not precisely aware of — the purposes to which public money is put. The income tax will give him an idea of where it comes from. We rather think more students would be shocked, horrified and amazed if, as a classroom project, they undertook to complete a long form 1040, manufacturing the necessary supporting documentation, filling out the auxiliary forms (for a partnership, for capital gains, for a corporation, etc.) and submitting them to a genuine IRS agent, who might be borrowed from Mr. Kaplan for the project.

We should like to see the IRS man "audit" these forms, requiring the students to justify their returns just as he might do if they were bona fides. This might be an excellent lesson to young men and women: a lesson in government as it exists, as it is practiced, as it lives and breathes—down your neck. Not something from the social science book, the government class, the history book, but actual, factual, down at the federal-building government.

It would not be conducive to New Frontierism and Mr. Kaplan would look at it and not find it good.

Some years ago we read about a teacher who explained the graduated income tax and the government welfare program to her class this way:

We know, she said, that some of you earn higher grades than others, but everyone needs a grade of 75 to pass.

So, we will take 25 per cent off the grades of anybody earning 100; 20 per cent off the grades of anyone earning 90 and 15 per cent off the grades of anyone earning a grade of 80 to 90.

We will take these forfeited grade points and give them to students who need them in order to make 75 and pass the course.

You say this is obviously unfair, students? Why, that is the practice of government—under which you live and which, presently, you will be called upon to support and perpetuate. This theory holds that the more you earn, the more you must sacrifice to those who can't, won't or don't earn whatever is determined to be a "passing grade" or "decent standard of living"—which is to put the same idea in different terms. Her students got the point.

Know This Man?

One of the most remarkable books to come along recently is Catch-22, which is beyond description. "Hilarious" and "outrageous" and "wild, moving and shocking" are some of the adjectives the reviewers used.

Whatever else the author, Joseph Heller, might be, he is a master at devastating portraiture. For example:

"Major Major's father was a long limbed farmer, a God-fearing rugged individualist who held that federal aid to anyone but farmers was creeping socialism. . . . His specialty was alfalfa, and he made a good thing out of not growing any. The government paid him well for every bushel of alfalfa he did not grow. The more money the government gave him, and he spent every penny he didn't earn on new land to increase the amount of alfalfa he did not produce. Major Major's father worked without rest at not growing alfalfa. . . . and soon he was not growing more alfalfa than any other man in the county. . . . "As ye sow, so shall ye reap," he counseled one and all, and everyone said, "Amen."

"Major Major's father was an outspoken champion of economy in government, provided it did not interfere with the sacred duty of government to pay farmers as much as they could get for all the alfalfa they produced that no one else wanted or for not producing any alfalfa at all. He was a proud and independent man who was opposed to unemployment insurance. . . . You get the picture.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Because St. Patrick's Day fell on Sunday this year, the Sons and Daughters of Old Erin have been celebrating the feast day of this great man over the week end. New York had its annual big parade up Fifth Avenue last Saturday but even today the Irish continue their celebrations elsewhere. You will hear Irish names in every place and clime, for all through the ages many have left the Emerald Isle and been in the vanguard of freedom. Wherever they scattered they left an heroic impress on the pages of history, especially in North and South America.

Bernard O'Higgins fought for the independence of Chile and was its first President. In our own country George Washington had eleven generals of Irish descent. The pass-word of the Revolution of 1776 was "S. Patrick". Other important names on the long roll call of honor include Charles Carroll, Commodore John Barry, father of the American Navy; Robert Morris, who pledged his fortune to finance the American Revolution; Robert Fulton, Cyrus McCormick, Victor Herbert, John Holland and thousands of other greats, including eight Presidents of the United States who had Irish blood.

While passing the Mint Museum in Charlotte, N. C., the other day we were reminded that gold mining once flourished in the south, especially in the Carolinas, Georgia and Virginia. In the good old days gold was coined in the United States Mints in Charlotte and Dahlonega, Ga. But there always comes a day in the gold and silver mine industry when the metal content of the ore body becomes commercially exhausted and the mines are closed. Country Editor Speaking: The cynic is one who never sees any good quality in man but always finds the bad ones. Social times have certainly changed since the plush era of the Harrimans, Lorillards and the Bakers in Tuxedo Park N. Y., the old Republican stronghold before the financial panic of 1929. Now the Tuxedo Club allows Democrats to use the premises for dancing, something unheard of in the golden age.

Italy forces many industries and banks to hire more employees than are necessary for efficient operation. This is one of the ways the government fights Communism and its high unemployment rate. The funeral blacks and other dark shades that have characterized men's summer suits for the past five years will be replaced this coming season with bright, gay colors. The United States will redeem charred fragments of American money that can be identified, but ashes are worthless for redemption purposes.

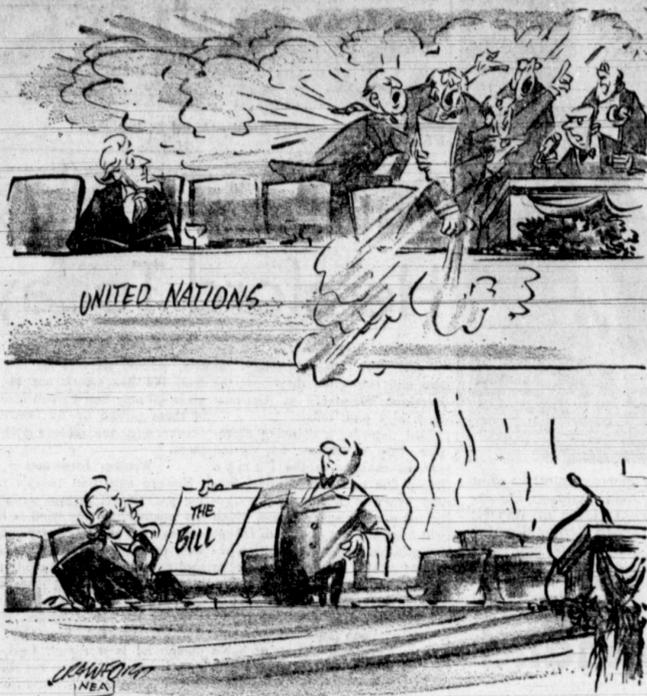

"A kind of scientific priesthood has grown up in recent years," said Martin Golland, president of the Southwest Research Institute, in addressing the annual banquet of the USAF Aerospace School of Medicine. "The goals some proclaim are laudatory but they also have a mechanical ring," he continued. "Every technical triumph in space should be accompanied by a humbleness which realizes the humanistic limits of science." Golland concluded with, "This generation of ours, with its spiritual and material heritage, is the legacy of Columbus' voyage and the future, through us, will determine the legacy of space exploration." "West of Washington" is an interesting major work of fiction by Holmes Alexander, the distinguished Washington correspondent of the McNaught Syndicate. The story is set in today's society and the newspaper world of the National Capital. Allen Drury reports on it that it constantly intrigues the reader to learn what will come next. And we will say "Amen" to Drury's review.

Slightly different from the procedural rules of our Congress are those of Britain's House of Commons. There debate can at any time be halted by the appearance of the King's Messenger, known as the "Black Rod," who, wearing tight, knobby loudly and summons the members of Parliament to the House of Lords—ready or not.

MOVING POPULATION

Spring, or Something Is Just Around the Corner

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

For the past couple of weeks my mail has indicated a tremendous unrest. People who have had their roots down in a state for a decade or more are planning to move to another state, to another town, into an entirely new environment. Unfortunately, most of those who are planning such moves are giving only a little rational thought to the subject and this shows in their letters. For instance, Californians know their state has the highest taxes, per capita, in the country. From this, they reason, they intend to move, knowing that all of the other states have lower taxes, per capita. They do not, however, take the time to find out which states have the lowest taxes and the fewest impositions into the private lives of the people. We believe it would be worthwhile to give a little thought to this and to write to state governments for as much information as they can be obtained.

We have noticed a few pertinent facts about the moving population. In 1929, the regular moving companies were moving more people out of California than into California, while the population was steadily increasing. This indicates that those who were moving had acquired personal property in the form of furniture and other belongings, while those who were moving in to the state, were hauling their belongings in their car or a trailer. In 1962 state income from sales taxes fell off by 40 million dollars, indicating that the total retail sales were down by 25 times that much. These figures, in turn, indicate that those who moved out were responsible citizens who were good customers while the greater population moving in fell into a much lower buying category.

In 1960 a great many of the vans moved furniture into Arizona, Utah, Nevada and Colorado. A greater flow of movement is now directed towards certain sections of the South and I believe it is important to note this fact. Politically, the families which have pulled up their roots are not easily categorized because most of them are non-joiners. They are not headed for other densely populated areas or sections of the country where government subsidized defense plants predominate. The most logical surmise we can make is that these families are made up of individuals who are fed up with the conditions in which they have been living and are intent upon finding a different way of life which they believe will be better. This population movement confuses politicians. They see a steadily growing population and can't figure out why the returns from sales taxes are down. They know the population is increasing but it is not climbing at a rate which equals the business failures and tract type house repossessions. National political figures who never do know what is going on until much later, can't understand any of it, so they decide to tax less and spend and waste more to provide a panacea for that which they do not understand in the first place. It is unfortunate that the government of the states into which so many families are moving are also lacking in understanding. They view the increase in population in their states and immediately build plans to increase the looting and snooping from which the families have fled. In a matter of just one or two years, the new families get ready to move again. To put it another way, a good many solid citizens have become less solid and they have acquired an unusual wariness. When they see the signs of increasing taxes, more gasoline taxes, higher taxes on their smoking materials, more taxes for government owned and controlled schools, they just don't bother to tell the governor or the Legislators or the officials of the county or city or town, they just pick up their possessions and move. You can save some trouble by obtaining all the information you can about any area into which you plan to move first.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

If any are in doubt that Secretary General U Thant of U.N. made his peace with the Kremlin before the latter supported him for his present job, let them note how U Thant is performing. First, his pressure upon our government to make a dangerous compromise over the issue of on-the-ground inspection of the Cuban situation. Second, his recent speech at John Hopkins University stating that he not only had there been a compromise in Cuba but that there should be another one in the Berlin matter. Third, urging the West to recognize Khrushchev as a man of peace and good will with whom we should compromise. If U Thant succeeds in selling that idea to the American people it will be Khrushchev's greatest victory.

Please remember ladies and gentlemen, that it took over two months and 165 ships to build up the missile situation in Cuba and that Russia claims to have removed all this in two weeks and with the use of only seven or eight ships. Of course, it has not been done and we have been dangerously deceived.

Even though some of the missiles are out, the planes, the submarines and their bases remain. The center for Soviet propaganda remains. Russia issues three to four billion pieces of literature annually. Much of this is being distributed from Cuba. The Chinese Communists had no missiles or submarines, yet they took China largely by means of propaganda emanating from the Province of Yenan.

If we fail to enforce the Monroe Doctrine and allow the Communist base to function in Cuba it will be a major defeat for the West. We won great prestige by the blockade of Cuba, but the world will soon see what a great victory the Communists have won if we permit them to continue functioning in Cuba.

Communism is not strong. Its people are hungry everywhere. It is riddled with graft, incompetence, mismanagement, embezzlement and crime. If we would be firm rather than yielding, hard rather than soft, and refuse to be deceived by false promises and refuse to continue aiding Communist countries, the whole system would collapse.

In my opinion, ladies and gentlemen, we should not waste time discussing agreements and arrangements with Communists. We cannot believe what we are told and any agreement that may be reached has no value. How can we forget that Mr. Khrushchev, Mr. Zorin, and Mr. Gromyko gave our President the most solemn assurance that there were no missiles in Cuba, at the very time the most strenuous effort was being made to place these weapons on their pads in Cuba, ready to wipe out our principal cities. In the face of this indisputable fact, no American from our President down should give any credence to any representation the Communists make. To continue seeking understandings and agreements with governments that have been caught again and again in falsehood and deception is not only to be irresponsible, but to run grave and unnecessary risks and to trifle with the safety of our country.

Truth About Africa Forgotten in U. S.

By ED DELANEY

The truth about Katanga and its president, Moise Tshombe, was purposely distorted by a cozy clique of pro-Congo and pro-U.N. collaborators in our State campaign of calumny against Michel Struelens, chief of the Katanga Information Service in this country and contrived to have his visa cancelled because he was successful in getting truths to the American people, which contradicted falsehoods emanating from U.N. and State Department sources. Fortunately Struelens is under subpoena of a Senate committee that is investigating the devious doings of the State Department in this connection. He cannot be deported until the senators have their full report.

The truth about other parts of Africa has been perverted by certain of President Kennedy's galaxy of gallivanting emissaries. Not the least of these is G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, who has the label Assistant Secretary of State for African affairs.

Early in the drive toward the nebulous New Frontier, "Soapy" made a trek into Africa, denouncing "colonialism"—except of course Soviet colonialism, and goading the 1 per cent of his listeners who could understand English, to strive for "self-determination." He fanned the tent embers of racial animosity and if he did not coin the phrase "Africa for the Africans" he adopted it as his own. Emphasis on that, he and other State Department hirelings contend, will gain and retain the votes of Afro-Americans in the industrial centers of this country when the Kennedy brothers are up for endorsement or rejection at the next general election.

But in Soapy's muddled thinking he forgot to remember that there are some millions of white Africans. They vehemently endorse that policy of "Africa for the Africans"—white or black. The ancestors of the white Africans were the Dutch pioneers, French Huguenots and other Europeans who settled in what is now Capetown, South Africa and eventually pushed northward as far as what is now Rhodesia. Their arrival in Africa was shortly after others from Holland and western Europe sailed into the place they named New Amsterdam. The name was changed later to New York.

Many direct descendants of those who founded New Amsterdam more than 300 years ago, are listed today in the phone books of Manhattan, Brooklyn, and the Bronx, or are scattered throughout this country. They and the descendants of millions of others who arrived in this country during the 200 or more following years would resent being called anything but Americans—although they are not the original-Americans. Exactly the same with the descendants of pioneers who landed at what they called the Cape of Good Hope, on the southern tip of Africa, over 300 years ago. They call themselves Africans, but they are white Africans.

By hard labor, initiative, ingenuity and adherence to the Christian heritage of their forefathers they developed the industrial miracle which is now the Republic of South Africa. It takes more than one-third of all America's exports to Africa. It attracts more American capital than any other part of Africa. It produces 66 per cent of the world's free gold supply, has the largest network of electrical railroads, apart from Europe and the United States and produces more than double the electrical power that is generated in all the other African states combined. The per capita income of its people, black and white, is three times as high as the average of all Africa. The Republic of South Africa, unlike the many mendicant states on that continent, never received any foreign aid funds from the United States and does not owe us a dollar. Moreover its entire external debts could be paid in four months from its own resources and revenues. The debts being piled up daily by the present Washington administration cannot be paid in a century. There is in that African republic a striking contrast to the plight into which prodigal political spending has plunged this country.

Just as West Berlin is the show window of free enterprise and anti-communism on the fringe of the Iron Curtain, so the Republic of South Africa is striking proof of the successful efforts of white Africans to bring development and progress to that part of what has been called the Dark Continent. Being mindful of Soapy Williams' urging, they intend to keep Africa for the Africans—black and white.

Alliance For Progress Gait Geared To Latins' Advance

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Alliance for Progress has been getting a bad press.

Chagrin over developments in Cuba is partly responsible. Also, the unpopularity of foreign aid as a whole rubs off on the special programs to aid Latin America.

There is disappointment that the Alliance in its less than two years of existence has not performed miracles, like saving Cuba.

The fact that the plan was oversold at the beginning is responsible for building too high hopes.

Organization of American States has just released a first report on its planning operations for the Alliance in 1962, and it does not reveal great progress.

A score or more of Latin-American, international alphabetical agencies have held conference after conference. Only six countries have completed their development plans, though more are due shortly.

Former Presidents Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil and Alberto Lleras Camarago of Colombia now are trying to simplify the Alliance bureaucracy. But they haven't come up with a plan yet.

OAS has spent $4 million and allocated the other $2 million of a special U.S. appropriation for planning.

OAS wants more. But this will require a new appropriation by the U.S. Congress, and there may be some opposition to that.

Actually, Teodoro Moscoso of Puerto Rico, who is U.S. coordinator for the Alliance in the State Department, says that the whole program will require little if any more money to run next year than it is costing this year. This is about $600 million for loans and $1 million for grants.

The Alliance is not all just a foreign aid giveaway. Total U.S. assistance for Latin America in the year and a half ending last Dec. 31 was $1.5 billion, of which $1.2 billion was loans and $300 million grants.

million. Inter-American Bank $321 million. Food for Peace $228 million. Peace Corps $12 million.

Moscoso believes that the 10-year Alliance program can be carried out on the original plan. This was for $20 billion in U.S. government and private financing, with four times that much, or $80 billion, coming from the Latin Americans.

The Private Business Co-ordinating Committee headed by J. Peter Grace of New York recently criticized the Alliance for moving too slowly. Grace said $2.5 billion a year should be going to Latin America from government and private sources, instead of the $1 billion supplied last year.

Moscoso's position is that Latin America cannot absorb outside capital that rapidly now. He believes it will take several years of training technicians before Latin America is ready for wide-scale industrial investment.

Latin America now has 50,000 technicians to serve 207 million people, as compared to 1.1 million engineers in the U.S.—still not enough for its 180 million people.

When Latin America has raised its technical proficiency, then there may be need for a more rapid investment rate.

Educationally, says Moscoso, Latin America is moving. Nearly 17,000 schoolrooms are being built this year. Fifty U.S. universities are working with as many Latin-American universities on student and faculty exchange programs.

One of the principal criticisms of the Alliance is that Latin-American countries aren't doing their part in reforms which were to be a condition to receiving aid. Tax reform and land reform, urban and rural slum elimination are admittedly moving slowly, as in every country.

For purposes of comparison, it is pointed out that it took 30 years to clean out the worst slums of Washington, southeast of the Capitol. The job isn't done yet. And there is no great rush to reform taxes in the U.S. Congress, either, to set a good example for Latin

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
UPI Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It's a sad thing to see a favorite star become outdated and a relic before one's eyes, and Monday night's CBS-TV special, "Arthur Godfrey Loves Animals," is a case in point.

Once upon a time, Godfrey held such enormous sway that it was his voice and Edward R. Murrow's which were assigned the privilege of telling us on radio about an enemy attack, in case one came. Their voices were the best-known in the country.

For years, professional intellectuals needed Godfrey as being primarily a salesman, and the best one, on the air. But the fact is that he also led the way for spoofing commercials and informal ease on radio, and later television. His relaxing radio shows have shortened and brightened many driving hours for this writer on cross-country trips. And here is no question that Godfrey was the greatest daytime star of his day, and probably ever.

Audiences Not Hiccup

It is hard to reconcile this once-imposing fame with the three Godfrey specials for CBS-TV this season. The first was about Hollywood, the second about the sounds of New York, and Monday night's — with its incredible title — is self-explanatory. But all three had a common denominator: A total disregard for the fact that audiences are not as immature and glib as a generation ago.

This was the substance of Monday night's hour: Godfrey singing to a dog, Pictures of animals at Godfrey's Virginia farm (the show's only non-cute moments), Godfrey winging and dancing with Shari Lewis. Godfrey being unconvincingly a pal to some boys while watching sea lions and porpoises at Marineland of the Pacific. Mel Blanc doing some of his animal cartoon characters, Bugs Bunny and Porky Pig among them. And an interminably long and embarrassingly bad skit about a horse player (Paul Lynde).

It was determined folksiness, forced every inch of the way. What is unbelievable is Godfrey acting the professional hick. He is no such thing, and he is not kidding anybody. He is quite a sophisticated fellow, and his attempts at down-to-earth hearty laughter smacked of anything but spontaneity Monday night.

Godfrey Not With It
Times change. But Godfrey is not with it. Even "The Beverly Hillbillies" is done with more polish than the cornball stuff of yore. Audiences everywhere are more and more linked by closer ties to means of communication and transportation, most of them centering in urban areas.

Except for Miss Lewis the hour was a wreck. The idea founded on the star's overconfidence with his audience, in addition, even when Godfrey hits it off nowadays, his main appeal is that of an old shoe, always around and nothing special about it except comfort. It's wrong and unfair to throw him into a special and expect something unusual. It is against the grain of his approach. Either get him on all the time, or forget it. Don't waste his time, or ours.

Supreme Court Stops County Unit Voting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today struck down Georgia's county unit voting system, which city dwellers have said throttles their political strength in favor of rural voters.

The 8 to 1 ruling was announced by Justice William O. Douglas. Justice John M. Harlan dissented. Douglas said the only conception of political equality under the historical U. S. standards is "one person, one vote."

The county unit system was not used in Georgia's 1962 elections, in which racial moderate Carl Sanders was elected governor over segregationist Marvin Griffin. The case was on appeal at that time. Sanders would also have won if the unit system had been in effect.

The court did not take up today "basic ground rules" for implementing its Tennessee decision of last term. That decision opened the doors of federal courts to voter complaints about unfairness in apportionment of state legislatures.

Justices Potter Stewart and Tom C. Clark, in a separate statement, said "this case, on the contrary, involved statewide elections of United States senator and of state executive and judicial officers responsible to a statewide constituency."

Texas produces about 80 per cent of the nation's sulphur.
